NY Rioters Open Brooklyn Front

Another Shot as Violence Mounts

By GARY P. GATES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police fought young Negroes in the streets and critically wounded a suspected looter in a racially troubled Brooklyn neighborhood early today when violence, spawned in Harlem, flared on a second front.

On the fourth straight night of disorders in the nation's largest city, the focus switched from Harlem to Brooklyn's pre-dominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant district where 200 helmeted riot police, firing in the air and swinging nightclubs, battled hundreds of roving youths Tuesday night and early today.

President Johnson announced Tuesday that he was ordering federal agents into Harlem to investigate the situation. He said citizens "have a right to protection of life and limb" whether in the rural South or on a big city street. The announcement coincided with reports that Communists and other extremists were taking a hand in inciting the trouble.

Schedules TV Address Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who rushed home from a vacation in Spain Tuesday to take personal command during the city's crisis, scheduled a city-wide television address tonight to discuss the foment.

The Brooklyn shooting occurred during a series of stealthy lootings which continued almost until dawn in contrast to the riotous streetfighting earlier in the night. The victim, Harry Britton, 36, was wounded in the side when about a half-dozen police opened fire on a group of suspects they were pursuing.

A second Negro was shot by a policeman in the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn early today during an attempted burglary — an incident apparently unrelated to the disorders and looting in the adjacent Bedford-Stuyvesant area.

Off-duty Patrolman James Barrentine, 24, was en route home in the early hours when he heard glass breaking. He discovered a man inside a shoe store removing shoes from a counter.

Barrentine said he challenged the man and then shot him once in the stomach when the victim rushed at him. The wounded man, William McDowell, 24, was in critical condition in Kings County Hospital.

More than 10 persons, three of them police, were injured in the street disorders which began when police moved to break up bands of Negroes who had broken windows and attempted to loot 30 or more business places in the dilapidated tenement-commercial district of Brooklyn.

Police made 35 to 40 arrests. Harlem Quiet

Harlem, where riotous street fighting, vandalism and looting had occurred on three previous nights, was relatively quiet Tuesday night.

Though only a few isolated lootings were reported, police early today seized a teen-aged boy who was carrying about 150 mimeographed circulars explaining how to make "Molotov cocktails," make shift fire bombs fashioned from gasoline-filled bottles. The pamphlet read: "Bulletin No. 1, July 1964. Harlem freedom fighters: How to make a Molotov cocktail."

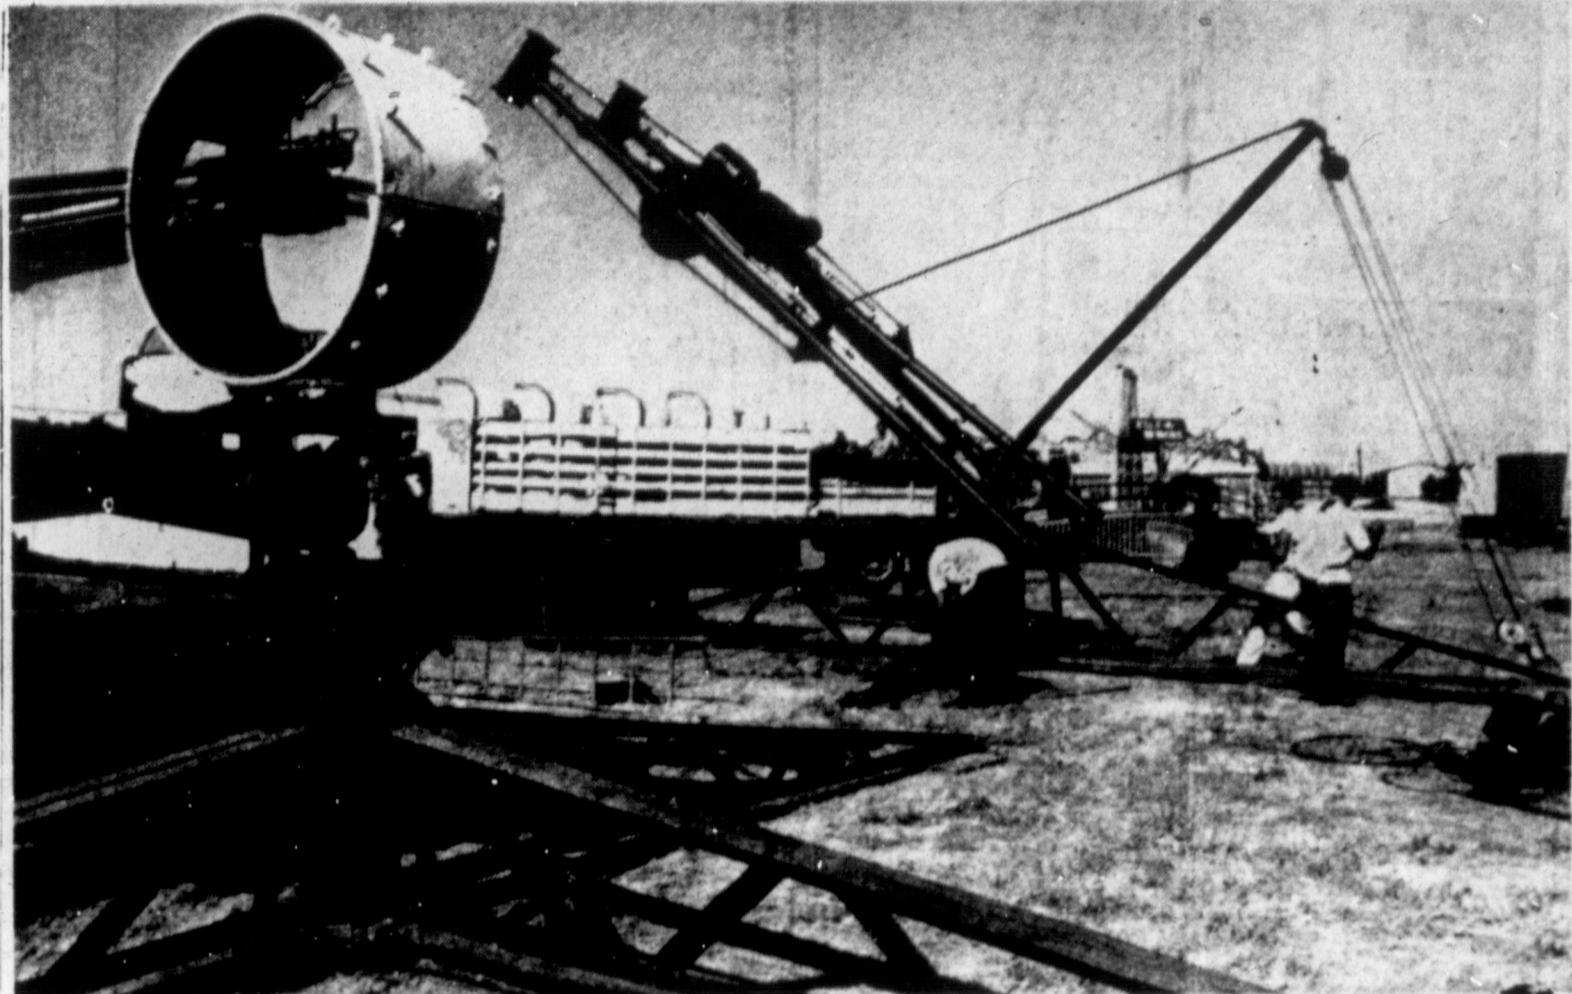

The youth said he obtained the leaflets "from a stranger."

Police suddenly sealed off a big section of Harlem, America's largest Negro community, late Tuesday night when crowds began to gather as they had on the previous nights when violence erupted. No major incidents occurred, but a policeman was hit in the face by a rock and a detective was struck in the chest with a bottle dropped from a rooftop.

Blames Radicals Acting Mayor Paul R. Screvane Tuesday blamed the Communists and "other more radical groups" for inciting the Harlem rioting—the worst in more than 20 years. He said that official police reports and "people outside the department" indicated that known Communists were inflaming the situation.

American and Vietnamese military authorities threw this formerly top-secret airbase north of Saigon open to newsmen today for the first time since it was built more than two years ago.

SETTING UP THE FAIR — Workmen were busy setting up the midway, carnival rides and circus bigtop for the first annual Top O' Texas Community Fair which opens at 6 p.m. today at the corner of Gwendolen and Hobart. Opening night attendance is expected to total more than 10,000 persons. Circus performances will be held at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. today through Friday. (Daily News Staff Photo) Two additional performances at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. have been added on Saturday. On Sunday only two performances at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. will be held. If this year's Fair is a success the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce plans to make it an annual event.

GOP's Hit War On Poverty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate begins debate today on President Johnson's $962.5 million "war on poverty" program in an air of pre-campaign fervor.

Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., the GOP presidential nominee, and Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., issued a blistering report attacking the bill as a cynical effort by Democrats to win votes with a "grab bag" of discredited New Deal welfare schemes.

Despite the signs of conflict ahead, its backers hoped to push the bill to Senate passage this week.

As the Senate took up the anti-poverty measure, House leaders pushed the President's multi-million dollar proposal to raise living standards in the 10-state Appalachia region.

A House public works subcommittee was expected to approve today a revised bill, embracing a 5-year, $1 billion program, with the full committee considering it Thursday.

The anti-poverty bill is a "must" on Johnson's legislative program and is the Chief Executive's own proposal. Unlike many inherited measures from the late President John F. Kennedy, Johnson outlined an "unconditional war on poverty in America" in his own State of the Union message last January.

It would authorize creation of three youth programs, including a 40,000-member youth corps for girls and boys aged 16 through 21 patterned from the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) of the 1930's.

In addition to camps for impoverished youths, it calls for federal grants and loans up to 90 per cent of the cost for community projects aimed at eliminating pockets of poverty, and assistance to small businessmen and farmers.

SUMMARY GIVEN ON POVERTY MEASURE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The poverty bill:

Status: Senate opens debate today. House Rules Committee considering measure approved by Education and Labor Committee on May 26 by vote of 19 to 12.

Major provisions: Would offer new skills and environments to underprivileged youths, finance local anti-poverty projects, recruit a domestic job corps, establish a volunteer corps of experts to carry out projects, and provide loans and grants to small farmers and businessmen in poverty areas.

These Cats Are Really Hip — to Tune of $434,000

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Helicat and Brownie may not be the healthiest teen-aged cats in the world, but they probably are the wealthiest — with $434,000 between them.

Superior Judge Bonshall noon Tuesday approved final distribution of the estate of Dr. William Grier of La Jolla, Calif., who died June 2, 1963. Grier left $435,000 in his estate when he died in his 80s without any family. He specified that the money be used for the care of four cats. Two cats, however, died before Grier did.

Brownie, a brindle male, is 15 years old. Helicat, a black male, is 14.

Grier's will stipulated that after the cats die the estate goes to his alma mater, George Washington University in Washington.

Communists Blamed For New York Riots

NEW YORK (UPI) — Communists and "other more radical groups" have been instigating riots which have rocked Harlem and sections of Brooklyn this week, Acting Mayor Paul R. Screvane charged Tuesday.

Screvane said his charges were based on official reports as well as information from "people outside of the police department." He did not elaborate on the latter sources.

The official said some of the rallies held before and after the outbreak of rioting Saturday night were "called by known Communists, and I don't have any doubt about that." He spoke to reporters at city hall.

Screvane emphasized his belief that "the rank-and-file persons living in the Harlem community" have not taken part in the disturbances which have resulted in at least one death, scores of injuries, damage to

Ex-Governor Hits LBJ on Troop Use

HOUSTON (UPI) — Former Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett said Tuesday that current racial strife in Harlem may show Northern residents "what we in the South are up against."

Speaking to a meeting of the Citizens Council of America, Barnett criticized President Johnson for sending troops to Southern cities but not to Harlem to quell the disturbance there.

Johnson ignored the advice of law enforcement men who know best, Barnett said, when he refused to call in federal troops to put down the New York riots.

The former governor also assailed the new civil rights bill as "vicious and tyrannical" and told the crowd to organize and defeat integration.

When organized white groups show their voting potential, politicians will listen, he said. He was interrupted frequently by cheers and shouts of "Tear 'em up Ross."

nearly 100 stores and more than 150 arrests.

"They're as frightened as people who live outside of the community," he said of the Harlem residents.

Screvane also blamed the riots on "a lot of young kids who have nothing better to do and get great fun and delight out of throwing a bottle or a stone at policemen or anyone else."

"And of course you always have a certain percentage of people who are pickpockets and thieves and burglars, who take these opportunities to break store windows and grab handfuls of merchandise and they become looters," he added.

Viet Commandos Drop in North

BIEN HOA AIRBASE, Viet Nam (UPI) — The commander of the Vietnamese air force officially disclosed today that South Viet Nam is parachuting commandos into Communist North Viet Nam.

Air Commodore Nguyen Cao Ky further revealed that the Vietnamese air force is undergoing training for a "special mission" which he said would include attack, support and paradrop missions of a larger scale "outside Viet Nam."

The disclosures were accompanied by the first official American admission that U.S. officers are piloting Vietnamese air force planes on combat missions against the Viet Cong Communists, who are now waging bitter guerrilla war against the Vietnamese government in the south.

American and Vietnamese military authorities threw this formerly top-secret airbase north of Saigon open to newsmen today for the first time since it was built more than two years ago.

Venezuela Proposals Would Isolate Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Venezuela's demand for stern, hemispheric sanctions against the Cuban regime of Fidel Castro received an encouraging boost today even though it has undergone five months of compromise.

Three members of the 20-nation Organization of American States (OAS) opened a meeting of OAS foreign ministers Tuesday by proposing a new list of sanctions designed to complete the hemispheric isolation of Cuba.

The latest proposals call for a mandatory, collective suspension of all diplomatic, trade, shipping, transportation and communications ties with the Caribbean island.

These sanctions were the same ones Venezuela requested last February after an OAS investigating committee substantiated its charges of Cuban aggression during the 1963 Venezuelan election campaigns. And they were considerably stronger than the compromise, optional sanctions the ministers expected to encounter at their meeting.

Colombia, one of the nations which helped draw up the compromise proposals, led the three-nation group that presented the stronger versions Tuesday at the last session of the opening - day meetings. The other two nations in the group were Costa Rica and Panama.

Latin America and U.S. sources said the mandatory sanctions already had the approval of at least 11 nations, including the United States, and from two to five more were considering giving them their support.

Since Venezuela is ineligible to vote in the meeting because it requested sanctions, a total of 13 votes is necessary to meet the necessary two-thirds majority. The sanctions were being considered under terms of the Rio treaty, the inter-American mutual defense pact.

DROP DAMAGE SUIT

MONAHANS, Tex. (UPI) — A $600,000 damage suit against city officials was dismissed Tuesday on petition of the defendants and the plaintiff, former police chief John Ashcraft.

Ashcraft filed suit last May after city manager Walter Harwell fired him. He asked that Harwell, the mayor and the city council be ordered to either reinstate him without loss of pay or pay him $600,000 damages.

Area Scouts to Return From Trip Sunday Afternoon

A total of 120 area Boy Scouts, including 30 from Pampa, will depart tomorrow from Valley Forge, Pa., and the National Boy Scout Jamboree for the trip home.

On their way to Pennsylvania, the Scouts visited New York and the World's Fair and then journeyed to Washington where they visited several historic sites around the nation's capital.

They arrived in Valley Forge July 17 and joined some 53,000 other Scouts from over the world for the week-long encampment.

The Scouts camped on the same grounds where Gen. George Washington spent the winter of 1777-78.

The busload of Scouts are to arrive in Pampa sometime Sunday afternoon. Time of arrival will be announced later.

The Adobe Walls Council takes in 15 counties in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles.

IVY NO MENACE TO SCOUTS AT JAMBOREE

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (UPI) —Poison ivy isn't a scourge among the 53,124 Boy Scouts at the jamboree here this week, but an invasion of June bugs has the boys sleeping with cotton balls in their ears.

Dr. William H. Smith, national director of health and safety for the Boy Scouts of America, said Tuesday there had not been one case of poison ivy at this historic encampment. At the 1950 jamboree, also held here, 18,000 Scouts were treated for poison ivy.

The June bug invasion had nothing but discomfort for the youths who sleep in tents here. The bugs climbed into the cavities of ears until an emergency shipment of 250,000 cotton balls was received from the Johnson & Johnson Co., New Brunswick, N.J.

The Army evacuation hospital set up here to treat any ills that strike the Scouts from 50 states and 42 foreign countries during their stay handles 65 to 75 cases a day, mostly minor cuts and bruises, Smith said. Public health authorities, Scout officials and volunteer Scout doctors serve 31 sectional health lodges scattered over the 1,900-acre encampment. Three first-aid stations also have been set up and are manned by volunteers from nearby communities.

TONS OF MONEY—After two robberies, one netting burglars $12,000, Frederick C. Roth decided to move his $1 million coin collection from a secluded farmhouse near Cleveland. He found a Cleveland bank with a vault big enough to house the collection and hired Brink's to move it. The largest Brink's truck in the area had to make two trips to move the 15 tons of coins. To get them out of the third floor of the farmhouse a chute (left) composed of boards and a ladder was devised and boxes of coins were slid down the chute. Roth, a retired businessman turned coin dealer, displays one of the boxes of coins (right). The ones behind him—and many more—are all filled with coins.

Residents Lack Knowledge of Water Conservation

EDITORS — The plains of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico bloom now, thanks to an underground reservoir of water. What could happen if it runs dry—and it is an increasing danger—is a grim worry. Here is how experts are trying to prevent the area from going dry.

By JAMES M. SHEVIS
LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — "It appears that in this decade, America will have a man on the moon... but we do not know enough about our water supplies to make intelligent decisions about their use and preservation."

The speaker was Judge O.F. Dent of Austin, a member of the Texas Water Commission. He was addressing the second annual West Texas Water Conference in Lubbock last February. He was talking about the rich High Plains of Texas — the most extensively irrigated garden spot in the world, where a water shortage threatens a return to the desert by the end of the century.

The plains with an abundance of underground water. But vast quantities have been withdrawn for irrigation purposes—enough, in fact, to cover the High Plains with nine feet of water. With only a fraction of an inch of the area's annual rainfall seeping back to replenish the underground reservoir, men like Dent are calling for more research "to give us the answers we must have if this water-short area is to survive into tomorrow."

More Work Ahead
Something is being done about the problem. Water experts say more could and must be done.

The day after Dent spoke, for example, the conference voted to create the West Texas Water Institute "to review and strengthen existing research programs and to plan new research on water" in the High Plains.

The alacrity with which it was organized indicates a growing awareness of a situation that threatens to undermine one of the richest agricultural economies on earth.

The key to the problem lies in more efficient use of rainfall, improved irrigation techniques, and general soil and water conservation.

"We could do a much better job of using the rainfall," says Dave Sherrill, area irrigation specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock.

Although only about .1 of an inch of rain each year finds its way into the underground reservoir, Sherrill estimates 1.4 million acre-feet of water annually collects in the thousands of saucer-like lakes that dot the High Plains.

Thousands of Lakes
There are an estimated 37,000 of these "playa" lakes covering more than one million acres. Geologists believe they were created in the distant past when a swarm of meteors struck the earth with atomic force. Flat-bottomed, the lakes range in size from 25 to 250 acres, with depths up to 10 feet.

Because of the high rate of evaporation on the High Plains during the months of July, August and September, as much as 90 per cent of this previous lake water is lost. If this water could be used for irrigation, obviously the economy would be greatly prolonged.

"With our water table dropping every year, this lake water offers an opportunity to conserve a big portion of our underground water," says Sherrill. Some experiments have been tried with chemical films on top of the water to reduce evaporation. But on the High Plains, winds tend to blow the film away and break it up.

Water Returned
Greater success has accompanied attempts to put the water back into the underground reservoir for later use. In the late decade, many farmers have converted their irrigation wells into "recharge" wells by inserting a system of additional pipes connected to an intake in the lake. The lake water either is pumped or allowed to flow into the well by gravity, down into the water-bearing sands.

"We've had a lot of experience with these recharge wells," says Sherrill. "But we've had a lot of problems, too. Because the water is very muddy, silt often drains into the well, clogs up the aquifer, and ruins the well."

"They haven't proved economical," says Sherrill. "Recharge wells are on the decline." A 1963 survey of 42 High Plains counties showed 179 recharge wells were in use. This year, there are only 164.

Sherrill favors a more direct use of the lake water — pumping it directly onto the crops. Statistics show more and more farmers agree with him. The number of centrifugal pumps—the most efficient to use in this method—jumped from 2,674 in 1963 to 3,163 this year. They're far less expensive to install and operate than recharge wells.

May Be Solution
Either way, increase use of lake water looms as a major solution to the High Plains water problem.

Improved irrigation practices and greater conservation of the area answers to prolonging the area's economy.

Today, 11,743 miles of underground pipe lace almost half of the 5.5 million irrigated acres on the High Plains. Use of the pipe, steadily increasing, greatly eliminates ditch losses to evaporation.

Preliminary results on sub-irrigation testing at the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock are highly encouraging. A new technique in delivering water to field crops, sub-irrigation is several years away yet. But researchers already have found cotton requires 42 per cent less water when irrigated with perforated plastic pipe just below the ground.

Farmers also are learning to stretch the water supply through proper timing of irrigation, use of organic material to increase the water-holding capacity of the soil, plowing shorter rows and putting up borders in their fields.

Faith in Future
Irrigationists, including Sherrill, also have great faith in the promise of technological advances in the future.

"By the time we can no longer use the underground water as a practical source of supply," says Sherrill, "a way may be found to use nuclear energy to pump water from the ocean."

"We've found a way to orbit a man around the earth. We should be able to find a way to desalt the ocean."

Indeed, sea water conversion plants already have been set up. Scientists have come up with hybrid plants that produce greater yields with less water. And one prominent hydrologist even has a theory of "manufacturing" water by extracting hydrogen from the sea and oxygen from the air and combining the two elements.

Grim as it is, the High Plains water problem may yet be solved.

Few Recall Attempt On Life of Top Nazi

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
At approximately 12:40 p.m. on July 20, 1944, Claus Count Schenk von Stauffenberg, a German general staff colonel, excused himself from a briefing in Adolf Hitler's East Prussian "wolf's lair," ostensibly to make a telephone call.

At 12:42 the bomb which Von Stauffenberg had planted close to Hitler's knee exploded. It killed four persons but Hitler escaped with only an injury to his right hand.

It is an anniversary seldom recalled outside West Germany, and its significance is known to a surprising few even there. Among Germans up to 20 years of age, a recent survey showed that only 46.7 per cent knew the special significance of July 20.

Pays Tribute
Two years after that attempt that failed, Winston Churchill paid special tribute in the British House of Commons to the German resistance movement. "In Germany," he said, "there lived an opposition... which belongs to the noblest and greatest that has ever been produced in the political history of any people... we hope for the time in which this heroic chapter of German domestic history will find its just valuation."

On this anniversary 20 years after, West German President Heinrich Lübke called upon young Germans to "learn more about the devotion and the willingness to sacrifice themselves that marked the men and women who rose against Hitler."

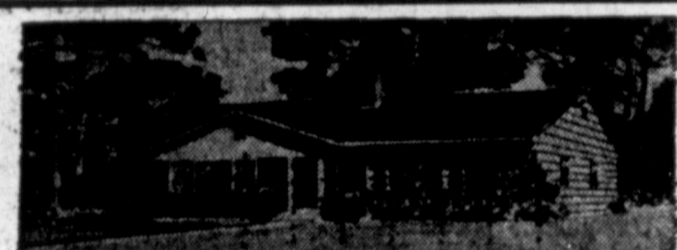

Lübke's call reflected first a fear among responsible Germans that a dynamic German people, rich in material things, might succumb again to nationalism and the spiritual bankruptcy of another Hitler.

Continue Soul Searching
In the West Germany of today there is a continuing soul-searching as the Germans seek their individual responsibility for Hitlerism and ways to prevent its return.

There are those who regret the passage of the Hitler days. It shows occasionally in Germany's new army despite the fact that it was in the highest echelons of the army that rose the determination to rid the nation of Hitler.

It shows in occasional, but strictly limited, outbursts of anti-semitism. And it shows also in isolated demands for the return of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland or the lost eastern territories.

But overriding these are the emotions of the young German who wondered aloud to this correspondent, "maybe we got rich too soon."

Lovely Home Reflects Goldwater Character

EDITOR'S NOTE:
This is the third of five dispatches on the life of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee. Today's dispatch tells about his home, his hobbies, and other details of his personal life.

By LOWRY BOWMAN
A man's home can be his mirror as well as his cage. A red sandstone home in Arizona's Paradise Valley reflects Barry Goldwater, the man who built it.

A motor operated automatically by a photo-electric cell runs up the U.S. flag each morning on a towering pole before the house and lowers it automatically at dusk. A VHF radio in the study is tuned to the Phoenix Airport control tower. An elaborate darkroom is constantly in use when Goldwater the photographer is at home. A movie screen is lowered automatically from a recess in the ceiling.

The 140 tons of sandstone in the home could be had almost for the taking from the Navajo Indian reservation 300 miles away where Goldwater first noticed it as a boy. But it cost him about $19 a ton to have it trucked to the building site.

Shows Indian Culture
Navajo and Hopi Indians would be at home there. Their culture is inscribed everywhere throughout the house.

The house itself is built in the shape of an arrow. Its name is Be Nun I Kin, Navajo for "house on the hill."

Its owner is an enthusiastic out-door man, photographer, historian, explorer, gadgeteer, photographer, writer, flier, collector, family man, U.S. senator and now, presidential candidate. He also is a student of Indian lore, a merchant, athlete and Air Force reserve major general.

One of the main features of the Goldwater Department store in Phoenix shortly after World War II was a huge, map-like device. A customer could select which scenic view of Arizona he would like to see, push a button, and have his choice of scenery displayed. All the photographs were taken by the president of the store, Barry Goldwater.

Established Photographer
Goldwater's reputation as a photographer of Arizona's natural scenery was well established long before his political reputation bloomed. His pictures at one time were a regular feature of several southwestern magazines.

He's a dancer of a different sort than the ballroom variety. He and some other Arizona businessmen are members of the "Smoki," a group which has learned the ritual dances of the Navajo and Hopi and perform them once a year for the benefit of the Indian museum at Prescott.

His political status is of less interest to hundreds of ham radio operators over the world than is his status as ham operator K7 UGA.

Goldwater is one of the few modern-day explorers of this continent with a genuine geographical discovery to his credit. In 1951, while flying over remote areas of Arizona in his private plane, he discovered what seemed to be a natural bridge in Nankowep Canyon.

Discovery Confirmed
It was three years before he could actually confirm his find. Morning flights revealed its presence clearly, but a trick of the sun in the afternoon made it invisible from the air. A helicopter flight and a subsequent 2,000-foot climb which Goldwater described as the roughest he ever made finally confirmed the presence of the bridge in 1954.

Writing about it later for a magazine Arizona Highways Goldwater waxed lyrical at the sense of peace and accomplishment he felt.

He spoke of "the redness of that sheer rock" and rejoiced that no other white man had yet dropped there the litter of civilization to disturb "the cool calmness of this bit of God's handiwork."

Goldwater is a self-taught musician, Dixieland style, on the mandolin, clarinet and saxophone. He is an authority on the lore and culture of the southwestern Indians. He is an associate member of the Royal Photographic Society of London, and his pictures have been exhibited over the world.

Rode Colorado River
In addition to his recent books on politics, such as "Conscience of a Conservative," and "Why Not Victory?" he also has written several lesser-known works on the natural history of Arizona. He owns the world's leading collection of Hopi Indian "Kochina" dolls, and he is one of the few men who have made the dangerous 700-mile flatboat ride down the Colorado River.

His river trip, lasting six weeks, took place in 1940 when Goldwater was 31. It was a rough one.

Goldwater was one of a group of nine which made the trip to take scientific samplings of minerals and wildlife along the route. He wrote a day-by-day journal of the trip and its hardships and reported that the dangerous Colorado rapids constituted more of a psychological than a physical danger.

He advised followers along the hazardous route to forget the "halo of awesomeness" around the rapids, ignore the noise and look on them as "nothing but a physical problem that can be easily overcome."

Goldwater was an outstanding athlete as a youth, but he has little time now for more than an occasional game of golf. He was captain of the swimming team at Staunton Military Academy and also spent a few seasons playing semi-pro basketball.

Even now, at 55, he looks as much like a stunted golf professional as he does a leading political figure.

Tomorrow: He becomes "Mr. Conservative."

Belli Files Suit Against Bar Chief
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Melvin Belli, former lawyer for convicted killer Jack Ruby, has filed a $5 million libel and slander suit against Walter E. Craig, president of the American Bar Association.

Belli charged in the suit that Craig and 20 other co-defendants made false and defamatory statements about his conduct during Ruby's murder trial in Dallas for the shooting of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Ruby was found guilty and sentenced to death in the electric chair. His current lawyers have appealed the sentence.

Belli was chief attorney for Ruby from before the start of the trial until a few days after it ended, when he was fired by the Ruby family because of statements about Dallas and the court that convicted the former night club owner.

Ten College Girls Winging Their Way To Faraway Places In New Project

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Ten college girls are winging their way to faraway places these days in an unusual project by the airlines to cope with a persistent shortage of stewardesses.

The 10, having just completed a standard four-week training course for stewardesses, are flying European, Middle East and Far East routes until time for school to resume in the fall.

Then, it is the hope of the airlines who hired them, that they will return to the campus to tell their classmates about their travels, the sights they have seen, the people they've met—and subtly convince their collegians a stewardess career is for them too.

The idea of recruiting college girls for the summer belongs to Pan American World Airways, which believes the project is unique among airborne carriers.

Pan Am initiated the program last year with Margaret Allen, a blue-eyed blonde from Michigan State University, who worked as stewardess for the summer while she caught up on shopping and saw the sights in Hong Kong, Amsterdam, Vienna, Paris, Rome and Istanbul. After graduation from Michigan State, she returned to the airlines.

Next summer, Pan Am hopes to triple the number of its coed-stewardesses, said Ray Mann, in charge of recruitment.

"All the airlines complain of stewardess shortages," said Mann in an interview at his office at John F. Kennedy Airport. "We train about 400 a year, but we also lose 67 per cent each year to marriage."

I visited the 10 trainees the day before their graduation. One of their final oral tests was serving a full meal with all the trimmings in a Boeing 707 "mockup," a grounded reproduction of the big jet's cabin right down to the "no smoking, fasten your seat belts" signs. "Passengers," including several airlines executives, worked through cocktails, caviar, lobster, filet of beef, wine with cheeses, cherries jubilee and coffee.

The girl in the galley—chef for the day—did a good job. She was Ariel Davidson Vinal 21, of Miami, Fla., studying at the University of Washington.

All 10 trainees are seniors and the airline hopes all will return as permanent members of the cabin crew after school, although there is no requirement that they must in order to participate in the summer program.

The others are: Joan Seaton Callahan, 20, of Rosolyn, N.Y., attending the University of Delaware; Heidi Susan Winkler, 21, of Whittingham, Vt., of Middlebury College; Ellen Patricia Gannon, 20, of Chicago, Northwestern University;

Take It From Kathy

By KATHY PETERSON
TOO HARSH OR FAIR?

Dear Kathy: I am 15 and a high school sophomore. This afternoon my mother took the phone from me and hung it up saying: "I've had enough of your talking on the telephone." I had been talking to a boy for only 10 minutes. When he called back to find out why I had hung up on him in the middle of a sentence my mother told him never to call again. Isn't there such a thing as parents being too strict?

N.G.L.
Dear N. G. L.: It pays to use a little courtesy, common sense and politeness even when "giving orders." Your mother might have been too abrupt, but not necessarily too strict. Could she have asked you too many times to do something just before that call? Was someone else waiting to use the phone? Had your telephone time been restricted as a punishment? You'll have to supply the rest of the facts... but remember while you judge that parents DO have the right to make the rules.

Classmates Honor Two Lefors Girls

LEFORS (Spl) — Debra Torres and Connie Bivins were honored with a farewell party recently in the home of Mrs. J. M. McPherson. Hostesses for the occasion were Jan McPherson and Connie Teel, third grade classmates of the girls.

Both girls received money trees from their classmates who attended the event.

The group enjoyed a buffet luncheon. Each lady brought her favorite new recipe. Mrs. George Crumrine won with a surprise dish, sour-kraut salad.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mmes. Jack Prather, Jack Howard, O. O. Bishop, Earl Tennant, Bruce Head, Earl Casey, and granddaughter, Sharon Casey, Don Levine, Eddy Brumbaker of Eureka, Kan., Lawrence Bell, Midland and George Crumrine.

Rosy Cheeks Are Easy To Come By

ROSY CHEEKS — Rouge again is an important part of making-up for women of all ages. A new creamy rouge smooths on easily and is lightly tinted to simulate cheek tones.

VARIATION ON THEME

This lunch main dish is a variation of the chipped beef in cream sauce recipe standard in many a household. Combine 2 cans (11 oz.) of condensed cheddar cheese soup and 2 cups of milk in a medium-sized saucepan. Cook over low heat to the boiling point, stirring frequently. Stir in two packages (3½ oz. each) of dried beef, shredded.

FLUTTERY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The newest flutter in the false eyelash field comes from a London manufacturer's new design. The maker (Eylure) has introduced ready-trimmed, pre-shaped lashes tailored for left and right eyes.

Serve as topping for 12 buttered and toasted shredded wheat biscuits. Yield, 6 servings.

The Doctor Says

RNA LACK PLAYS IMPORTANT PART IN ABILITY TO RECALL
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Why is it that I can read an article or listen to a speech and understand it perfectly at the time but later can't remember any of it? Is it lack of attention or do I need some kind of vitamin or mineral?

A—Lack of total concentration and fatigue undoubtedly play a part in some examples of poor recall. It is now believed that ribonucleic acid (RNA) also plays an important part in our memory. This chemical is manufactured by the body, but in elderly persons a deficiency may develop. This, coupled with hardening of the cerebral arteries, would account for the increased trouble older persons have in this respect.

Dr. D. E. Cameron in Montreal has tried giving injections of RNA in the veins of aged patients over a period of two weeks. He found a definite improvement in memory as a result. Giving RNA by mouth also caused some improvement but not as much as when the chemical was injected. This treatment is still considered experimental.

Q—Is trichomoniasis a venereal disease? What can be done for it?

A—Since trichomoniasis is commonly transmitted by sexual contact it is technically a venereal disease, but many persons harbor the germ without showing any symptoms. Furthermore it is not a serious health problem and does not endanger the offspring as in the case with other sexually transmitted infections. Trichomoniasis is the cause of the white vaginal discharge known as leukorrhea.

This was extremely hard to get rid of until the advent of metronidazole (Flagyl). It is important for both husband and wife to take the drug at the same time if reinfection is to be prevented.

Q—My brother died of a melanoma following removal of a large brown mole from his shoulder. Now his 9-year-old daughter has a similar mole on her shoulder. I have heard that if the mole is removed before she reaches puberty there is no danger. Is this true?

A—It is impossible to predict from the appearance of a brown mole on a child whether it will ever become malignant. Since most of them will not if they are left alone, it is better not to remove them at any age unless there is evidence that they are malignant or they are in a location that is subject to constant irritation as from a shoulder strap, collar or belt. In any case it is usually better to delay the decision about removing a mole until after puberty.

In an adult a brown mole should be carefully examined by the family doctor at regular intervals of about 12 months. Fringe benefits in fall and winter party dresses glitter. Instead of wool fringe, there's fringe made of rhinestones or jet bugle beads. It circles hems, sleeves and decorates necklines, providing plenty of sparkle.

Dear Abby... Energy Wasted On Three Times Seven

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's "baby" sister (some baby, she is 44!) is getting married again for the fourth time. She lost one husband at Pearl Harbor and two in the divorce court. She is planning a big church wedding. Her excuse is that Calvin (her fiance) has never been married before and HE deserves a lovely wedding. The truth of the matter is that all of hers were hurry-up affairs and SHE wants a lovely wedding. Besides, Calvin's people resent his marrying a divorcee and I hear they aren't even coming to the wedding. And you can just imagine how all our relatives feel about having to buy a FOURTH wedding present for the same person! How can I stop her? She doesn't listen to anybody?

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SIS: If she doesn't listen to anybody, she is not about to listen to me. Stop wasting your energy. She is three times seven (doubled!) and doesn't want your advice or mine.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm crazy, but you are the only person I can ask. Is over-weight hereditary? I am going with a girl who is a little on the heavy side. Her mother is so fat she has to go through the door sideways. And her grandmother is so enormous she has to be helped up out of chairs. I like this girl very much, Abby, and the thought of marriage has crossed my mind, but if she is going to turn out like her mother and grandmother, I don't know how happy I would be with her later on. What do you think?

SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR SECOND: "Over-weight" is not hereditary. But the tendency toward obesity is. Perhaps a thyroid deficiency or disorder runs in your girl's family. If you are considering marriage, you have a right to ask.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman keeping company with a man who is separated from his wife, but not divorced. He has three children to support so he never has any money.

He seldom takes me out, but he goes into a rage if I accept an invitation to go out with someone else. Don't you think he is a selfish person to take that attitude? I enjoy going places, but never make plans that will interfere with our date nights. I see no marriage in our future and, therefore, don't see why I should give up all my friends. Am I wrong?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: You are not wrong. The man is selfish, but you are foolish to continue seeing him, feeling the way you do. Lose him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LAURA AND TEX: Your boy friend should use the rocks in his head to fill in the holes in yours! Phony names and phony ages would only make for a phony marriage.

Ex-Mayor's Trial Moves Slowly as One Juror Picked

HOUSTON (UPI)—The trial of a former suburban mayor, accused of masterminding the torture-robbery of a wealthy couple, crawled into its third day today with 11 seats still vacant in the jury box.

Only one juror, Kenneth L. Prather, had been agreed on by prosecution and defense attorneys Tuesday, after questioning 19 prospects.

That left 137 prospects on the jury panel to hear the case of Sam Hoover, former mayor of suburban Pasadena.

Hoover, a bald and bespectacled trial lawyer, is accused of masterminding the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Mair J. Schepps and their child's governess.

Glynis Remembers Ring-a-Ding Gramp

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Ring-a-ding-ding" is Sinatra hip talk for a swinging soiree, but to Glynis Johns the expression brings memories of her great-grandfather who was a ring-a-ding-dinger before Sinatra was born.

Great-grandfather's last name was Payne. Glynis doesn't recall his given name and he was founder of a musical company in Australia that specialized in bell-ringing.

Today he would have been a regular on the Ed Sullivan show.

But in those days they toured Australia, New Zealand and South Africa thrilling farm families with the ring-a-ding-ding jazz.

Grandmother Was Talented
Glynis said her grandmother was also an accomplished musician: "The first woman violinist in Australia. She inherited the show from my great-grandfather, and after she married my grandfather, whose name was Steele, they named the troupe the Steele-Payne Bell-ringers."

The troupe prospered with aunts, uncles, cousins and everybody else in the family getting into the act. It thrived for still another generation when Glynis' mother and father took over.

"When I was three weeks old I was carried on stage during one performance," says Glynis, who apparently suffered no ill effects from her proximity to hundreds of clanging, banging, pealing, ringing, jingling bells.

To this day she denies having a ringing in her ears.

Perhaps that's because the Steele-Payne bell-ringers expired when Glynis was a lass of 5.

Anxious To Return
"My grandmother was growing old and my father, famed British actor Mervyn Johns was anxious to get back to the London stage," Glynis explained during a lunch break of "Erasmus With Freckles."

Born on tour in South Africa.

Glynis has a British lilt to her cracked voice. And on this particular day in the 20th-Fox commissary she was wearing a kookie flowered hat. From time to time she'd tilt her head almost as if she were hearing bells.

Barry Candidacy, Violence Linked By Soviet Press

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet press has linked the racial violence in Harlem with the candidacy of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The government newspaper Izvestia said Tuesday that American Negroes regard Goldwater's nomination as a "counterattack by the racists."

"They understand intuitively, if not intellectually, that the United Front of the extreme right and racist elements working through underground organizations as well as through semi-respectable public agencies is growing malignantly," it added.

Western observers expected the Soviets to continue to exploit racial troubles in the United States for propaganda purposes. The rioting in Harlem has been given the fullest coverage.

"Harlem is drenched in blood," Izvestia said. "The malicious shots in Harlem were only a spark that set off the social dynamite which has accumulated aplenty in the Negro ghetto."

"The truncheons of the swaggering New York policemen failed to keep the Negroes off the streets," it said. Negroes, it said, were referring to the police force of Commissioner Michael J. Murphy as "Murphy's Gestapo."

"And Murphy's Gestapo regards every Negro as a potential criminal," the newspaper added. Its correspondent reported from New York that "the streets of Harlem were full of people, and I saw that every one of those faces was a mask of hatred of the police."

APPROVES CONTRACT
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy approved Tuesday a $31,375,208 contract for CH53A helicopters from Sikorsky division of United Aircraft Corp., Stratford, Conn.

House Rejects Hospital Names

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Tuesday snuffed out prospects that three veterans hospitals would be named this year for former Speaker Sam Rayburn and two late chairmen of the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

The House bypassed measures to name the hospital at Bonham after the late speaker; a hospital at Bedford, Mass., after the late Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, R-Mass., and one at Jackson, Miss., after the late Rep. John E. Rankin, D-Miss.

Ordinarily, the Veterans Administration does not name its hospitals for individuals and congressional approval is necessary to get hospitals named. Veterans committee chairman Olin Teague, D-Tex., asked that all three of the bills be stricken from the calendar containing non-controversial measures passed by voice vote. The House agreed.

Liberal House members had planned to object to approval of the Rankin proposal. Teague served notice that if that was done he would move to strike all three of the bills from the calendar.

Salesmanship Course to Be Offered Here

Better understanding of the customer as a human being will be emphasized in the four-day salesmanship course to be conducted in Pampa starting Monday. Meetings are scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. in the Lovett Memorial Library.

The four sessions will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Frances Bowden, supervisory and management training specialist from the University of Texas. Mrs. Bowden regularly conducts similar programs throughout Texas and has had broad experience in personnel administration, training in retail and service fields, and retail merchandising. "Through a practical exposure to sales situations," said Mrs. Bowden, "salespersons will better understand themselves and be oriented to the needs, problems, and viewpoints of their customers." Development of sound selling techniques can mean the difference between faltering and steady profit curves, she said.

Reservations can be made and additional information obtained at the Chamber of Commerce. There will be a registration fee of $3 per person to cover cost of materials used in the course. The course is sponsored by the merchants activities committee of the Chamber.

Bobby Kennedy to Appear Before Immigration Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was to testify before a House judiciary subcommittee considering a bill which would change the current immigration laws to eliminate the current fixed immigration quotas. The measure was first submitted to Congress about a year ago by the late President John F. Kennedy. It would base acceptability of immigrants almost solely on the advantages they would bring to this country and their relationship to persons already living here.

Soviets Break up Anti-Communist Religious Group

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet authorities have smashed an anti-Communist religious sect called the True Orthodox Wandering Christians, it was reported Tuesday.

Leaders of the sect have been sent to Siberia for forced labor, the Communist newspaper Literary Gazette said.

According to the Gazette, sect members lived by day in hidden basements and came out by night to worship Christ and spread anti-Communist literature.

"They do not recognize Soviet power but call it the power of the anti-Christ, they do not have passports (which everyone in Russia must carry)," the newspaper said, "and they do not apply for welfare services."

The Gazette did not give any figures for membership in the sect. But it said the religion has recruited dozens of young persons.

The newspaper identified one of the members as a man named Alexei, who allegedly dodged army service during World War II by fleeing into the forests of Russia. "He came across long-bearded peasants who invited him to share their food," it said.

Washington Window

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
The time has come for Sen. Barry M. Goldwater to escape from the semantics jungle into which he apparently wandered on purpose immediately upon becoming the Republican presidential nominee.

Semantics is a four dollar word embracing the study of meanings; the study, for example, of what is the meaning of the word extremism and of the word moderation.

In his acceptance speech last week before the Republican National Convention, Goldwater used those two words in a passage that delighted his enemies, appalled his fair weather friends and obtained from fair weather friend and all weather foe demands for explanation, clarification or disavowal.

At any stage of a presidential campaign, the candidate of the out-party should be on the offensive and the candidate of the in-party should be on the defensive. That is the way it should be but not the way it is. Republican Goldwater is on the defensive. He must get off the defensive, come out slugging accurately and put President Johnson in the defensive role, or proud Barry M. Goldwater may be as badly beaten in 1964 as Alf M. Landon was in 1936.

What Goldwater must do to put his campaign special on the fast track is to seize the campaign initiative. The senator is lucky. The time and place and golden opportunity for the initiative are here and now. They are in the United States Senate where administration bills coming up invite Goldwater to make big conservative medicine.

The issues to be raised in the Senate between now and the Aug. 24 meeting of the Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City are largely in the domestic field where Goldwater is strongest. Strongest, that is, on evidence that conservative opposition is most numerous, best organized, most enthusiastic and least vulnerable to indictment on charges of extremism in the general area of domestic affairs.

This conservative point of view represents the accumulated and frustrated conservative opposition to the New Deal, the Fair Deal, the New Frontier and to LBJ's professional New Dealism.

First up in the Senate will be LBJ's billion dollar war-on-poverty proposal. Conservatives or any group of political outs would have to be suspicious of any in administration's election year proposal to spend $1 billion of tax money at the local level. The validity of Goldwater's claim to the American conservative leadership will depend somewhat on how he organizes and conducts the effort to keep that $1 billion out of President Johnson's hands.

Coming up, also, is the foreign aid authorization. That invites another first rank Goldwater performance. He will not be alone. And if the senator minds his language he will be able to support vast economies in foreign aid without inviting another concerted attack on his foreign policies and his fitness to represent the United States in that field.

When Goldwater told the San Francisco convention that extremism in defense of liberty was no vice, he was asking for trouble. He got it. He got trouble despite the reasonable assumption that he was talking not about the John Birch Society but about Patrick Henry.

Semantics again! What did he mean?

Workers Search
For 3 Lost in Street Cave-in

AKRON, Ohio, (UPI) — Workers probed into a 40-foot deep hole early today in a search for the bodies of three persons who were believed killed when a section of a city street caved in.

The cave-in, which followed heavy rains late Tuesday, resulted from the collapse of a storm sewer about 35 feet below the street.

A sports car carrying three persons plunged into the hole and two of those believed killed were trying to rescue them.

Police officer Ronald Rotruck rescued the driver, Mrs. Velma Schidler, 47, and Janet Lewis, 13, a passenger. He returned to try to save Mrs. Schidler's daughter, Claudia, 10.

A fireman managed to grasp Rotruck, but then a sudden gush of water swept the policeman and the girl down the storm sewer.

DeGaulle Will Renew Campaign
On Neutralism

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle will renew his campaign for the neutralization of Southeast Asia when he gives his twice-yearly news conference on Thursday, French government sources said today.

They said he also will urge patient progress toward a politically united Europe. De Gaulle, who has developed a habit of giving a news conference every six months, held his last one Jan. 31.

Government sources said the French president again will put in a strong plug for the unification of embattled Viet Nam and its neutralization, along with Laos and Cambodia, by agreement with Communist China.

Despite firm U.S. opposition, the sources said, De Gaulle will make it clear that more than ever he is convinced this is the only way to end the fighting in what was once French Indochina.

Romano Blasts Demote Orioles

By United Press International
The Baltimore Orioles are black and blue all over today because Johnny Romano is back in the pink.

An American League All-Star in 1961 and 1962, Romano has been plagued by injuries for the last year and a half so that he lost his regular job behind the plate for the Cleveland Indians and has been switched around from catcher to first base to the outfield.

And the fact is that the rugged, sometimes defiant native of Hoboken, N.J., is a ball player who'd rather fight than switch.

Back in good health and ready to reclaim his regular job, Romano came out fighting Tuesday night with five hits, including three homers, and five runs batted in to lead the Indians to a 4-2 and 8-5 victories over the Orioles. The stunning double defeat — climaxed when the Indians scored eight runs in the eighth inning of the second game — dropped the Orioles into second-place, five points behind the New York Yankees.

Supplies Heavy Hitting
Romano, who caught the first game for the Indians, homered in the fourth inning and then connected for a game-winning two-run round tripper in the eighth. Playing left field in the nightcap, he touched off the eighth-inning, eight-run outburst with his third homer of the night and singled home the seventh run of the frame.

Lee Stange went eight innings to receive credit for his fourth victory in the opener and relief pitcher Gary Bell won his fifth in the nightcap.

The Yankees moved back into first place with a 7-1 triumph over the Washington Senators, the Los Angeles Angels swept the Chicago White Sox 2-0 and 3-2 and dropped them into third place, the Boston Red Sox downed the Detroit Tigers 7-5 and the Kansas City Athletics nipped the Minnesota Twins 5-4 in other AL games.

Bouton Wins Ninth
Tom Tresh drove in three runs with two homers and a double and Jim Bouton pitched a four-hitter to win his ninth game for the Yankees. Chuck Hinton's homer produced the Senators' run.

Felix Torres drove in both Angel runs in the first game with a homer and a single and Vic Power's two-run seventh-inning single brought Los Angeles from behind to complete the sweep and give the Angels eight wins in their last nine games. Bo Belinsky and Bob Lee combined in a seven-inning first game and Aubrey Gatewood earned the win in the second game with 5 1-3 innings of shutout relief pitching.

Dick Stuart hit his 24th homer of the season with two aboard in the seventh inning to raise his major league leading RBI total to 82 and give the Red Sox Bill Monbouquette his sixth victory. It was a battle of homers with Felix Mantilla and Frank Malzone also connecting for the Red Sox and Norm Cash and George Thomas hitting two each for the Tigers.

Rocky Colavito's two-run seventh-inning double enabled relief pitcher Wes Stock to register his fifth triumph for the Athletics and deal the Twins' 10-game winner Camilo Pascual his eighth defeat.

Buddy Rawls

Rawls Takes Graham Post

Buddy Gene Rawls has been named head track coach and assistant football coach at Graham High School.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Rawls, 613 N. Wells, Pampa. While at Pampa High School Rawls was elected to the National Honor Society and was the recipient of the Fighting Heart Award for his senior year of football.

Rawls, 22, is married and has two children.

He will be backfield coach in football and teach science in addition to his track duties.

Phils Pad Lead As Giants Lose

By United Press International
The Philadelphia Phillies appeared to be throwing money down the drain in 1960 when they acquired Jack Baldschun for $20,000 in the 1960 major league player draft.

The red-haired relief pitcher from Greenville, Ohio, had kicked around in the Cincinnati Reds' farm system for five years — hitting such minor league way-stations as Thibodaux, Wausau, Savannah, Visalia and Topeka without causing much of a stir.

However, after Baldschun posted a 12-9 record at Columbia, S.C., in 1960, the Phillies decided to grab him.

It was one of their better buys.

Using a screwball as his best pitch, Baldschun was 5-3 in his rookie year in 1961, 12-7 in 1962, 11-7 last year and currently is helping write a new "Philadelphia Story" for the upstart Phillies.

Reopen Lead
Baldschun enabled the Phillies to re-open a one-game lead over the San Francisco Giants in the National League race Tuesday night when he pitched hitless ball over the final 12-3 innings to preserve a 6-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Although his record is a deceiving 3-4, lean Jack has saved five of the nine victories the scrambling Phillies have scored thus far this month.

His latest effort was a typically strong mop-up operation.

Taking over for Art Mahaffey in the eighth inning with the bases loaded, one out and the Phils leading 4-2, Baldschun got Hank Aaron to hit into a force-out at home and retired Joe Torre on a tap in front of the plate. He set the Braves down in order in the ninth to wrap up Mahaffey's ninth victory in 13 decisions.

Wine, Taylor Homer
Bobby Wine and Tony Taylor homered off Wade Blasingame (2-2) to help the Phillies fashion a 3-0 lead and Wine singled home the decisive run in the eighth.

In other NL action the Cubs edged the Giants 2-1, the Mets downed the Reds 4-2, the Pirates outslugged the Cardinals 8-4, and the Colts blanked the Dodgers 1-0.

Bob Buhl gained his 12th victory for the Cubs on the strength of Billy Williams' two-run, sixth-inning homer and the airtight late-inning relief pitching of Bobby Shantz and Don Elston. The Giants filled the bases with one out in the ninth but Elston retired the side by getting Jim Davenport on a pop fly and Chuck Hiller on a fly to Williams.

Nails Down Win
Bill Wakefield nailed down the Mets' victory with 5 1-3 innings of shutout relief pitching that dealt Joey Jay his sixth straight loss and eighth of the season. Larry Elliot and Jesse Gonder hit homers for the Mets.

The Pirates climbed past the Braves into fourth place with Jerry Lynch's grand slam homer capping a five-run rally in the fifth inning. Joe Gibbon received credit for his seventh win against three defeats although chased by Mike Shannon's three-run homer in the eighth. Ray Sadecki suffered his eighth setback for the Cardinals.

Al Spangler's lead-off homer for the Colts in the eighth-inning enabled Bob Bruce to best Don Drysdale in a brilliant pitching battle and earn his 11th win compared to four setbacks. It was the ninth loss of the season for Drysdale, who has scored 12 victories.

Commission Not Through With '22's

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
UPI Outdoor Writer

The state Parks and Wildlife Commission's quick rejection of the 22-caliber rimfire rifle as a legal weapon for deer hunting caused a lot of hunters to sigh with relief.

At the same time, however, the commission put itself in the position of an instigator, not a coordinator, of changes in long-established hunting standards.

A source within the commission's inner structure said the three-man panel had every intention of relaxing the rules on the 22-caliber gun, despite a flurry of protests of regional meetings held in each of the 152 counties under commission authority.

"But the hunters and the press scared them off," said the source.

Proposal Draws Blast
He referred to a rash of newspaper articles in papers around the state condemning the proposal, which would have made the tiny-bore rifle a legal weapon for hunting deer, desert big horn sheep, antelope, elk and aoudad sheep.

Following the articles, hundreds of letters poured into the commission. Letters from hunters, ranchers, animal lovers and conservationists all opposed the change.

No one came forward to speak for the proposal. In fact, the commission's hearing last week was short on standing room after persons from all over the state came to speak against the change.

Mostly Harmonious
For the most part, the meeting was harmonious. A proposal to legalize varmint hunting with night lights drew solid opposition; enough one would think, to make the commission reluctant to approve the change.

Hunters and outdoorsmen who oppose abrupt changes in laws regulating the taking of game would do well, however, to watch the commission closely between now and its October quarterly meeting.

Its members can act with amazing swiftness.

WINNER'S CIRCLE — Master Domino, owned by Bill Deaton of Pampa is shown in the winner's circle at La Mesa Park in Raton, N.M., after he had tied the track record of 19.9 for 400 yards.

Pampa Horse Ties Record

Bill Deaton's Master Domino tied the La Mesa Park track record for 400 yards last week-end with a time of 19.9.

The Pampa-based two-year-old is a paid entrant in Friday's trials for the $50,000 New Mexico Futurity, scheduled for Aug. 2.

Jockey Willie Lovell booted Master Domino home four lengths in front of Mr. Rip on his way to the record.

The time of 19.9 is an American Quarter Horse Association record for two-year-old colts and two-year-old geldings, according to the Amarillo office of the AQHA.

The time also ties the La Mesa Park mark for three- and four-year-old horses.

Williams Finds La Marque Unafraid

LA MARQUE, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas League (not the professional one, but the youngster's league in La Marque) has no policy that lets a kid get kicked out if he is too good.

In Robert Williams' case, there-by hangs a tale.

This youngster was too good for the T-shirt league in Galveston.

Parents of other players petitioned him out of the league. He moved to La Marque, where his talents are more welcome, and he has been going great guns for the First Christian Senators, a church sponsored team that considers his presence a shot in the arm.

Robert became a pitcher with out a league in June. He took the mound one Friday night for his Little League team, the Cubs, against the Dodgers. By the second inning, opponents and many of the parental observers had concluded he was too much.

Team Starts Leaving

After Robert threw a couple of warm up pitches over the plate in the second inning, the opposing team started to leave.

Their manager said the team members did not want to bat against the young fireballer.

The Cubs' manager pulled Robert to shortstop. He hit a triple, stole home, smashed a bases-loaded home run and otherwise led his team to an 11-1 defeat of the Dodgers.

Mothers of the opposing players came up with a petition. Their sons would not bat if Robert pitched any more. Robert withdrew from the league.

Before long, his father, Air Force Capt. Robert Williams, had to leave for Germany on reassignment. He and his wife took Robert to the boy's grandmother's home in La Marque, where he will remain until the rest of the family joins Williams in Germany.

Gets Welcome

In La Marque, about 15 miles from Galveston, Robert turned to baseball again. He was welcomed on the Senators and promptly pitched them to their first victory of the season, helped bat them to a second, and pitched them to a third. He cannot under league rules pitch more than six innings a week (the teams play six-inning games). So he will pitch in one game, field in another, and pitch again the next.

"He's a fine boy," league manager Jack Poole said.

"He is one of the most remarkable 12-year-old pitchers I have ever seen," umpire Marcus Junemann said. "Not only does he throw an extremely fast ball, but he has unusually accurate control."

Williams Winner by Knockout

HOUSTON (UPI)—Nobody puts the evil eye on Big Cat Williams.

But Williams, the fourth-ranked heavyweight, put some evil fists on Sonny Banks of Detroit Tuesday night, pounding out a technical knockout in six rounds.

Banks had hypnotist Jimmy Grippo in his corner to aid him, but that didn't keep Williams, whose real first name is Cleveland, from running his string of knockouts to 50, more than any other heavyweight.

The stylish Houston fighter has been trying to land a match with Cassius Clay or Floyd Patterson, but so far has had no luck.

Williams decked Banks for nine-counts in the fifth and sixth rounds. The referee ended the bout, scheduled to go 10 rounds, after the sixth.

Williams weighed in at 217 and Banks at 195. It was the 60th ring victory for Williams, against five defeats, two at the hands of Sonny Liston.

Williams delivered repeated lefts to Banks' head in the sixth, then dropped him with a right to the body, a left to the head, and two jackhammer rights to the head.

Crum Advances, McIntire Loses

CHICAGO (UPI) — Medalist Maureen Crum and two of the runners-up for qualifying honors were in the second round of the Women's Western Amateur golf championship today, but two-time winner Barbara McIntire was on the sidelines.

Miss McIntire, the defending champion who also won the title in 1958, was eliminated one up by a 24-year-old blonde from Portsmouth, Ohio, Lida F. Matthews, who shook off the pressure to sink a three-foot par on the 18th green to win.

The tournament was the first major competition for Miss Matthews, who was a New York secretary last winter and never has won a major prize. But she never trailed Miss McIntire, one of the three who shared runner-up honors, in qualifying, and after nine holes she held a three-up lead.

Pampa Americans Win, Muleshoe Edges Fritch

By KARL O'QUINN
Daily News Sports Editor

Pampa American League bumped Fritch American League 15-2 in a first round Babe Ruth tournament game and Muleshoe eliminated the Fritch Nationals 9-8 in a losers bracket game last night.

In Plainview, the National League edged the American 11-10 in a game between two Plainview clubs.

Tournament favorite Dumas plays Canyon National League this afternoon at 5 and Pampa American League plays Plainview National at 8. Both are second round winners bracket games.

Pampa Romps

In a game delayed more than an hour by wet grounds, Pampa scored eight runs in the first inning and went on to an easy victory over Fritch American League, which is really Stinnett in Fritch's clothing.

Ronnie Sanders singled to open Pampa's half of the first and Rick Foster was safe on an error by the second baseman. Gary Molberg got on on the shortstop's error and Steve Williams and Lawrence Jones walked to drive in two runs. Shortstop errors put Gary Hyatt, Dickie Henley and Steve Oler on base in succession and scored four more runs. An infield out and still another error by the shortstop scored the last two runs.

A walk to Danny Chisum, a stolen base and an error by the Pampa third baseman gave Fritch one run in the second but Pampa got it back in the third on a double by Henley and a single by Sanders.

Three Pampans added single runs in the fourth and fifth and four in the sixth to far outdistance the one run Fritch scored in the sixth.

Henley went the distance to pick up the decision for Pampa. He gave up six hits and struck out nine. Fritch threatened in just three innings.

Gerald Harris gave up nine hits but walked five and was hurt by six of his teammates' errors.

Don Safford doubled and singled in four at bats to lead Fritch hitters.

Steve Williams did the same for Pampa and Henley also doubled. Sanders was two for three and Gary Molberg two for four for the winners.

Muleshoe-Fritch

The lead changed hands four times in the second game of the night before Muleshoe could pull it out with a last-inning counter-rally.

Louis Trevino was safe on a fielder's choice and scored on Bill Souther's triple to put Fritch ahead in the top of the first inning but Muleshoe came back with two in the bottom of the frame to take the lead.

three and Larry Draper and Larry Summers two for four for Fritch.

Alvin Davis was two for four for the winners. Ransom Jones and Butch Green doubled.

Weldon Stephenson was safe on an error and Alvin Davis walked to get Muleshoe started. Ronnie Kemp's single scored both of them.

Fritch regained the lead in the top of the third. Kenny West and Cary Barrow singled, Armand Villacas walked, and Larry Draper and Larry Summers singled to score three runs.

Muleshoe cut the lead to 4-3 with a single run in the bottom of the inning. Billy Darnell scored it on an error, an infield out and a single by Paul Swint.

Muleshoe moved into a short-lived lead in the sixth with two runs on a walk to Butch Green, a fielder's choice on Darnell and singles by Stephenson and Davis.

Fritch used singles by Barrow, Summers and Louis Trevino, sandwiched around walks to Steve Kuykendall and Henry Weaver, to score four runs and move in front again in the top of the seventh.

Back came Muleshoe in the bottom of the frame, however, with clutch hitting to spare. Charles Morrow and Gary Mathews walked to open the inning. Ransom Jones and Butch Green doubled to tie the game and Weldon Stephenson sent home Green with a single to win it.

Stephenson also won the pitching decision. He relieved starter Butch Green in the sixth and survived the Fritch uprising long enough to get to work with his bat.

Henry Weaver, the third Fritch hurler, took the loss.

Bill Souther of Fritch was the game's most potent hitter with a double and a triple in five at bats. Cary Barrow was two for

South Has Big Stars

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Touchdown-starved South High School All-Stars will have some of their most potent scoring ammunition in history when they play the North in the annual Texas High School Coaches Association game Aug. 6.

The game in Texas Christian University's Amon Carter stadium will climax the 32nd annual coaching school of the Association.

The North dominates the prep all-star series, 8-1-1, but if ever the South were to rise again, this could be the year.

Leading the Southern schoolboys are stars Warren McVea of San Antonio Brackenridge and Linus Baer of San Antonio Lee.

Between them, these two standouts scored 80 touchdowns last season. Baer, a stronger all-round player, carried for 1,344 yards and McVea, who just announced he will play for the University of Houston, made 1,337 yards in 127 carries last season.

McVea is tabbed for duties at end on the South squad coached by Jim Acree of class AAA state champion Corsicana, which appears to portend a heavy passing attack by the Southerners.

Acree will have some good choices for his backfield, including Jimmy Bailey of Conroe, Danny Bigbie of New London, Charles Wilson of Port Arthur, Ronny Menn of Rockdale and quarterbacks Ronnie Ehrig of Gonzales and Ines Perez of Corpus Christi Miller.

Baerly outdid even McVea and Baer in his ground gains, rushing for 1,628 yards last season.

Acree's interior linemen, picked from 13 prep stalwarts, will average 213 pounds per man. Anchoring the South line with weight will be 240-pound Calvin Powitsky of Pasadena, and heavies Ralph Cooper of Houston Reagan and Jack Herrington of Houston Austin.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Lone Star blanked One Bull 13-0, Etal beat Cabot 9-1, Your Laundry whacked Coronado Inn 18-4 and Rotary whitewashed Hardin-Roth 15-0 in games last night and Monday.

Mike Jones shut out One Bull with four hits to gain credit for the win. Bradshaw was the loser.

Brewer relieved Jones in the fourth and also went three for four at the plate. Jones was two for three and Edmondson three for four for Lone Star.

Clifford Gage struck out 11 batters and gave up three hits in winning for Etal.

Billy Cowles and Johnny Carter also struck out 11 men between them but walked nine and gave up eight hits. Cowles was the loser.

Gage hit a home run and a single in his two at bats. Danny Kitchens was also two for two for Etal.

Steve Scott hit a three-run home run in the second inning to get Your Laundry moving. The Laundrymen scored ten runs in the first three frames to ice the game early.

Jimmy Jones gave up 19 hits in losing for Coronado Inn. Ricky Harris struck out 15 and allowed four hits in victory.

Randy Roper pitched no-hit ball for four innings and hit two singles and a grand slam homer to drive Rotary to victory over Hardin-Roth. Medley gave up a hit in the fifth inning for Rotary, however.

Dalton was the losing pitcher. McCathern picked up Hardin-Roth's only hit, a single. Haynes was three for four for Rotary.

ROUNDING THIRD — Pampa American League pitcher Dickie Henley rounds third on his way to another run in the third inning of the Babe Ruth District Tournament game last night. Pampa beat Fritch American League 15-2.

Public Courts Due Lighting

City and school officials are planning better lighting for Pampa's public tennis courts so they can be used during nighttime hours.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer told members of the city commission yesterday he had discussed proposals with Jack Edmondson, school superintendent, for lighting the four double courts at Pampa Senior High School.

The courts there recently have been paved. Schmitzer said, but need lighting equipment if they are to be used at night.

Plans also call for working out an arrangement for better lighting of city courts in Central Park and at the courts on Hobart St., Schmitzer said.

Commissioners authorized the city manager to enter into further planning with officials of Southwestern Public Service Co. and the schools.

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Hear This

With minor exceptions there isn't a small city or town in America, and ours is definitely included, that wouldn't like to have some new industry moving in.

Unfortunately, there has been a trend of late in the other direction. This has been especially true of manmade fiber plants which have expanded rapidly and outgrown the labor market of the communities in which they began.

Pork Barrels and Invasion

Whatever tears are being shed for Mississippians under the harassment of a modern army of carpetbaggers should be moderated somewhat by the fact that Mississippians invited the invaders and continues to help finance them.

The invitation came by way of the countless pork-barrel projects which Mississippians joyously feasted on in the past and which built the federal power to such overwhelming proportions.

What's A Little Kiss?

According to the National Labor Relations Board, all is fair in love and war.

The August NLRB recently struggled with a ponderous question and came up with a ruling that occasional osculation during office hours is no cause for discharge.

The tax-financed board, according to United Press International ruled: (a) it would be unfair to fire the male partner without letting the female go too; and (b) firing is too severe a punishment in view of the little time lost.

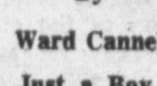

One of our office wags wonders if the NLRB had a timer on the amorous couple.

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

Just a Boy and His Dog We have this new little dog named Walter or Ralph, who puts great stock in a particular tree across the street where, a couple of night ago, a tidy young fellow was standing around in a $9 shirt.

"Partly," we said, it being our rule never to hold strong convictions when out alone in public, especially after sundown.

"Well," the fellow said, "I can get you papers."

"Papers?" we inquired. "Dog papers. Pedigrees, $45 and up depending," he said, handing us a card for a shop called Ikons and Things.

And with that he went away, and we went home to write a hasty letter to the American Kennel Club, which is pledged to guarding the sanctity of dog pedigrees.

Now, a lot of people get quite angry at a serious consideration of dog papers, seeing in pedigrees the danger of reverence for prestige and other false standards at the expense of living a productive life and being a worthwhile member of society.

This, we think, is very sloppy reasoning. Dog papers rightly understood, have no connection with false prestige. On the contrary, they can be the foundation of a healthy society and a productive life in it.

A dog pedigree is like a beach permit: useful only in a certain season and place, and mentioned only in obituaries of the grossest kinds of people. But even with a pedigree, a dog is seldom allowed on the beach, making dog papers the most inherently useless documents available.

In that regard, they are excellent for use in the nursery. A child who practices on a dog pedigree will grow up to value the true certificates by which a man measures his real worth.

Salinger Would Expect Tough Campaign, Not Pushover; Margin over Murphy Halved

PAUL SCOTT

SAN FRANCISCO — Pierre Salinger, portly former White House press secretary, is in for the surprise of his life if he thinks he has a push-over in the California senatorial race.

George Murphy, one-time movie star turned businessman, already is busily giving Salinger the hottest fight of his sudden and meteoric political career—and the battle is just getting underway.

Also Salinger is carefully re-sorting to speech and other mannerisms of the late President. Friends say Salinger studied movie shots of Kennedy's campaigning to get pointers on his speaking style and tactics before various sized crowds.

General Eisenhower is displaying special interest in Murphy's campaign.

"You are really my senator," the former President said. "Mrs. Eisenhower and I spend about half the year in California, so I feel I have both a party and personal interest in your race. I will do everything I can to help you, and will go out of my way to do so."

For both candidates this is their first try for public office. While Murphy has been an active Republican Party worker for more than 25 years, he is setting the tone of his campaign as an independent to attract Democratic voters.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: (a) Why do deficit budgets cause inflation?

ANSWER: a. We presume the writer is speaking of federal government deficits. Deficits tend to cause inflation because they indicate spending in excess of income.

b. The current percentage of inflation is estimated at approximately 2 1/2% annually.

c. While it is not always possible to predict the exact effect of any specific condition, it is safe to say that a balanced budget would tend to reduce or eliminate the inflation and stabilize the economy.

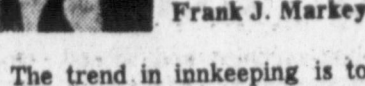

d. If a surplus were used to reduce the debt, it would have a tendency to bring on deflation; this again is contingent on other factors not being changed.

e. Such a remote possibility as a $5 billion budget surplus should have an effect of helping restore the confidence in the dollar, particularly if it seemed to reflect a change in federal fiscal policy on more than a single year's basis.

f. This should improve the entire nation's economy and improve the well being of all.

The trend in innkeeping is to motels. There are now 64,000 in the country, which accommodate 2.5 million guests each night and gross $3.5 billion annually.

Today's smile: A drunk finally found the keyhole and lurched into his house, where he stumbled around looking for the light switch.

A physician friend advises against jumping out of bed when your alarm clock sounds off in the morning.

Thoughts while shaving: The political term, "Climb on the bandwagon," meaning the trend to switch votes to a winning candidate, originated in the Presidential campaign of 1840.

Incidentally, the term "vote" comes from the Latin word meaning "prayer" or "wish."

There are always dissenters. When the U.S. adopted standard time in 1883, it was readily accepted by railroads, industry, schools and farmers.

Country Editor speaking: "Some guys are bent with toil, and others get crooked trying to avoid it."

Editor: The Liberals of both parties are screaming to high heaven about how terrible the John Birch Society is.

Because the John Birchers were among the first to discover treason in high places in our government, and first to do something about it, the Liberals are trying to smear these good people.

Let the people of the world see that the real image of America still lives.

LET THE SOUTH ALONE Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader

While hundreds of civil rights extremists in the North, many of whom live in the New York City area, were mapping strategy for causing "a long, hot summer of discontent" in Mississippi, an 18-year-old Mississippi Negro was arriving in New York City.

Not long after his arrival, he came across a Negro gang savagely beating a 16-year-old white boy in a subway station.

Afterward he said, "I'm scared of my life here in New York. It's safer in Mississippi."

The time has come for the North to face up to the fact that the racial issue is a national problem, not simply a Southern one.

Of course the South has racial problems, but so do we, and we can't solve ours simply by sending hordes of agitators and do-gooders down to Mississippi to cause trouble there.

During the physical examination the doctor noticed the patient's hands were shaking.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Science, Technology Transform US Living

Science and technology have completely transformed life in the United States in the past 100 years. They have helped us achieve the highest living standard in the world. As we all recognize, the pace of development in science and technology continues to be breathtakingly swift.

In the past 100 years, the farm population required to feed the nation has decreased from 8 out of 10 to less than one out of 10, due largely to mechanization and improved production techniques. In that period, the average life span of Americans has increased from 40 years to 70 years because of medical advances in the prevention and cure of disease and gains in nutrition and sanitation.

Of all the food products available to the housewife today, 66 per cent did not exist 10 years ago. Of all the drugs now on the market, 45 per cent were unknown five years ago.

More than 5,000 companies today are engaged in missile-aerospace research or production—a program that has led to the development of more than 3,000 new products or techniques in private enterprise.

Scientific progress today not only is an essential factor in determining the character of tomorrow's civilization, it is vital in insuring the safety and security of the United States and free world. For that reason the United States government is deeply involved in research and development programs. In 1940, American taxpayers spent $74 million for scientific activities directed by the federal government. In the current fiscal year, research and development expenditures will exceed $15 billion. Most of this money is being spent by three agencies heavily engaged in matters directly related to national security. In fiscal year 1963, the research and development obligations of these three agencies were as follows: Department of Defense $7.7 billion, National Aeronautics and Space Administration $3.7 billion, Atomic Energy Commission $1.5 billion. Of all Federal funds spent in research and development, 75 per cent is spent in industry, 8 per cent in colleges and universities, 15 per cent within the Government itself.

According to the National Science Foundation, about 2.7 million Americans are working in science and technology—36 per cent of the civilian labor force.

A fundamental constitutional responsibility of the Congress is appropriating funds wisely. If Congress is to appropriate wisely in scientific fields, it must have a sound understanding of what is to be accomplished and what the nation's research priorities should be. Because of the constitutional obligation, only Congress can make these decisions. It is a job that cannot be delegated to experts not directly responsible to the electorate, although Congress must depend on the sage counsel of scientists, men in industry and in the government's executive branch, and other citizens who are well qualified to offer advice. Because federal budget projections indicate that our defense responsibilities will require increasing, not decreasing, expenditures in science and technology, I have been pleased that several important steps have been taken in the 88th Congress to enable members of the House and Senate to serve more effectively in this regard. Congress must be prepared to make sound decisions, mindful of the need to effect all possible economies.

I very much enjoy my associations with men and women of the scientific community. They are indeed dedicated citizens. I was greatly privileged to be invited to address, on July 18, the Amari'lo Chapter of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, meeting in Amarillo.

We must never overlook the past accomplishments of lone scientists in their laboratories pursuing objectives in basic research—seeking entirely new processes and data without known applications. Michael Faraday in the last century developed the magnetic induction coil during this kind of inquiry, and I'm sure you can recall a number of other similar milestones in science. The magnetic induction coil led to the foundation of our whole electrical industry. Someone asked Faraday what possible use the little device was. "Well, what use is a newborn baby?" asked Faraday.

Recent visitors: Mrs. Kenneth Kendrick, with her daughter Osa Kay and their friend Royceanna Lasley, of Stratford; Ann Collard and Sheila Chisholm of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. James C. Wilson, with their sons Cliff and David, with Amarillo. Walter Rogers, Member of Congress 18th District of Texas

Foreign Student Visits Becoming Popular for LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The annual foreign student scramble may soon rank right up there with the Easter egg roll as a White House tradition. President Johnson and his family were jostled Monday night by a pushing, shoving crowd of eager foreign students during a ceremony on the south lawn of the Executive Mansion. A group of foreign students also mobbed the late President John F. Kennedy last year during a similar ceremony in the White House rose garden. Kennedy lost his tie clip in the melee, which gave the Secret Service and White House aides a few bad moments.
