Major Outpost Of Viet Cong Blasted by Jets

Headquarters of Guerrillas Reported Left in Fiery Ruin

SAIGON (UPI) — Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers, made a "spectacularly successful" attack on a major Communist headquarters Tuesday, a U. S. military spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said 10 government Skyraiders, four piloted by U. S. Air Force officers, left the Viet Cong installation "in blazing ruins."

The raid was directed against the reputed headquarters of the Viet Cong's infamous Mekong River battalion. It is located 77 miles south of Saigon near the mouth of Co Chien River.

Vietnamese military sources said the raid "devastated" a guerrilla supply depot. The base was said to be the headquarters for all Viet Cong activity in the populous Vinh Binh and Kien Hoa provinces.

Reports of the successful government raid followed a three-day battle around Hoa My in which, according to U. S. military advisers, an estimated 280 guerrillas were killed by government troops.

In Saigon today workmen quietly removed a granite monument to the late President John F. Kennedy before dawn. Catholics had objected to the one-ton monument because it signified renaming "Our Lady of Peace" square for the late American President.

Turkey Returns Air Force Units To Allied Control

PARIS (UPI) — Turkey has returned Air Force units withdrawn during the Cyprus crisis to Allied command, it was announced today.

A spokesman at Allied headquarters here said the Turkish government has notified U. S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, Allied supreme commander in Europe, that units withdrawn from his command Aug. 10 were being returned today.

The spokesman said this meant that all Turkish air force units have been reincorporated in the forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The strength of the units involved is a military secret.

Jazzy Ceremony To Unite Couple In Merry England

GROTON, England (UPI) — Jennifer Piper, 20, and Charles Patridge, 22, who met at a jazz ball four years ago, said today they will be married Sunday in a ceremony featuring jazz music played by a trio in the 500-year-old Anglican Paris Church here.

Rev. Brian Bird, 60, an expert on Dixieland jazz, will marry the couple and the Bishop of Colchester, Rt. Rev. Frederick Narborough, 68, who plays the drums in a jazz band at a local pub, will give the blessing.

Olympic Viewing Likely

By AL ROSSITER JR.
CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — America passed its first obstacle today in a tough mission to station a Syncom communications satellite in orbit to provide ocean-spanning telecasts of October's Olympics from Japan.

From its planned hanging orbit over the Pacific, Syncom could also give the United States emergency communications with hard-to-reach Asian trouble spots.

A new model Delta rocket, packing twice its usual punch, sent the switchboard satellite into a preliminary yo-yo orbit expected to range from 695 miles to 23,675 miles above earth.

"As far as we know, it went where we aimed it," said launch director Robert H. Gray. He said he was "delighted" with the rocket's performance but added that precise readings on the initial orbit may not be known for several hours because of a lack of immediate tracking data.

The next crucial step comes about 12:15 p.m. EDT Thursday when on its third swing from earth, a rocket aboard the satellite itself will kick it into a circular 23,300-mile-high path above the Equator.

Syncom's booster, a gleaming white vehicle with solid rockets strapped to its first stage to give it an extra kick, roared aloft at 8:15 a.m. EDT today amid a great gust of white smoke and brilliant flame.

Its solid fuel motor, used for the first time, was discarded over the Atlantic 70 seconds after lift off, and the sophisticated spacecraft sped into the preliminary looping orbit.

The shot, one of America's most difficult orbital ventures, is expected to place Syncom-3 in the world's first stationary orbit. Its final success will not be known until after 10 days of maneuvering to place the satellite on station above the area where the equator crosses the international dateline.

At its precise 22,300-mile altitude, the satellite's speed will match earth's rotation and the craft will appear motionless — ready to relay the Olympics across the Pacific from Oct. 10 to Oct. 24.

'Vigorous' Enforcement Asked

Platform Writers Tackle Rights Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic platform writers plunged into the turbulent issue of civil rights today with a Negro leader denouncing the Republican platform as "squeamish."

Calling on Democrats to pledge vigorous enforcement of the new civil rights law, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins said it would be "tragic" to dash the high hopes aroused among Negroes by passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The issue of civil rights drew principal attention at today's third and last day of Washington hearings by the platform committee. Farm problems also were highlighted. The committee moves Thursday to Atlantic City for two more days of sessions preceding the opening there Monday of the Democratic National Convention.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the Rev. Martin Luther King, CORE leader James Farmer and other Negro leaders were scheduled to testify later today to urge a strong civil rights plank.

In prepared remarks, Wilkins lashed out at the opposition of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater to the civil rights bill, enacted this summer by Congress and Goldwater's insistence that racial matters must be resolved by the States and in the hearts and minds of men.

The presentation was scheduled for shortly before noon EDT.

Wilkins said the Republican presidential nominee had been reelected by the votes of 130 Republicans in Congress who support the civil rights bill.

Scores Mob Action.

Wilkins said Negro riots which have shaken several cities "cannot be condoned." The overwhelming majority of Negro residents in affected areas, Wilkins said, had flatly condemned what he labeled "the participation of small fringe elements in mob action."

"But violence, though condemned, must still be understood," Wilkins said. He said there was a relationship between riots in Harlem and passage of the civil rights bill.

In many cases in many areas, he said, public authorities "are determined to continue to employ the full armory of governmental power to repress and suppress all forms of demonstrations and protests against segregation and discrimination."

President Johnson Tuesday condemned rioting — in the same breath as "night riders." He said everyone is hurt by "disorders and disobedience and disrespect for the decency of society."

Wilkins said civil rights laws are not self implementing and said they would be crippled through lack of enforcement, lack of funds or lack of sufficient and competent personnel.

It was at this point in his testimony to the platform committee that he labeled the GOP civil rights platform language as "squeamish circumlocution," and urged the Democrats to pledge vigorous enforcement.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Radio Congo today reported the death of Pierre Mulele, one of two Communist Chinese-trained rebel leaders whose forces have taken control of wild areas of the Congo.

The radio broadcast gave few details, but reports circulated that Mulele was killed by troops of the Congolese national army who have been trying to quash his Communist-inspired rebellion.

hings rather than sit in as "observers," without voice or vote.

The regular organization's credentials have been challenged by a predominantly Negro group, the "Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party," which charges the traditional party does not represent the state because it has excluded Negroes from membership and give support to GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater.

The credentials panel will attempt to untangle the dispute at its Saturday session and report to the full convention when it convenes Monday.

Bailey said the two regular organization representatives to the credentials committee, state Sen. E. K. Collins of Laurel and Douglas C. Wynn of Greenville, would be allowed to attend the meeting but would not be officially seated or allowed to vote.

G. C. Cortright of Rolling Fork and Ben C. Callon of Natchez, the two regular party delegates to the platform committee, said they would remain on hand in Washington and follow the group to Atlantic City when it shifts operations there tonight.

The financial statements were made public a few blocks from the White House at the auditors' office after White House Press Secretary George E. Reedy told reporters that it had been decided to release the information.

The White House announcement followed a Life magazine article earlier this week which estimated the first family's personal wealth at $14 million.

The estimate, it was said, was based on figures gathered over the past six months and that part of the $14 million is "now placed in funds and foundations in which the Johnsons have no direct beneficial interest."

Johnson, Reedy said, has entered into trust agreements, similar to Mrs. Johnson's with 'key provisions the same. Reedy also said there were trust agreements entered into in 1955 for the Johnson daughters, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines.

Reedy described Haskins and Sells as "one of the largest, most prominent firms of certified public accountants in the country."

"This firm has never done any other work for the President or Mrs. Johnson or any member of the Johnson family," Reedy said.

The press spokesman declined to answer any detailed questions about the report, saying he would let it "speak for itself."

NET WORTH DISAGREES WITH MAGAZINE ARTICLE

LBJ Makes Public Financial Statement of Family

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today made public financial statements listing his family's net worth at $3,464,098.

The figures were provided to newsmen by the certified public accounting firm of Haskins & Sells which made an audit of the family's finances under instructions given them by the President last July 7.

The $3,464,098 net capital included $378,081 for the President, $2,126,298 for Mrs. Johnson $490,141 for their 20-year-old daughter Lynda Bird, and $489,878 for their 17-year-old daughter Luci Baines.

The less-than-$3.5 million figure was far below some earlier published estimates of the first family's worth.

The audit was given newsmen at Haskins & Sells' office here but it said the accounting was done in the company's main office in New York City by its executive officer, Everett Shifflett.

The family's principal financial assets were listed as being in capital stock of the Texas Broadcasting Corp., and in ranch properties and other real estate.

The family's capital was figured at $737,730 for Jan. 1, 1954, and $3,464,098 for July 31, 1964 — a gain of $2,746,368 over that 10-year, seven-month period.

During seven years of that period, Johnson was Senate Democratic leader, vice president and since Nov. 22 of last year — President.

The capital stock investment of the broadcasting corporation, which has been held in trust for Mrs. Johnson and the two daughters since the family entered the White House, was carried in the financial statements at $2,470,690.

Investments in ranch properties and other real estate were carried at $525,791.

The broadcasting corporation stock figures were said to represent the cost of the shares when issued to Mrs. Johnson between 1943 and 1947, plus accumulated earnings applicable as of last June 30.

The ranch properties and other real estate were listed at cost less allowance for depreciation of improvements.

The amounts at which these investments in the broadcasting corporation and in ranch properties and other real estate are carried are not intended to indicate the values that might be realized if the investments were sold," the Auditors said.

This meant that the accounting was not set forth in terms of current market values.

The financial statements were made public a few blocks from the White House at the auditors' office after White House Press Secretary George E. Reedy told reporters that it had been decided to release the information.

The White House announcement followed a Life magazine article earlier this week which estimated the first family's personal wealth at $14 million.

The estimate, it was said, was based on figures gathered over the past six months and that part of the $14 million is "now placed in funds and foundations in which the Johnsons have no direct beneficial interest."

Johnson, Reedy said, has entered into trust agreements, similar to Mrs. Johnson's with 'key provisions the same. Reedy

Reedy described Haskins and Sells as "one of the largest, most prominent firms of certified public accountants in the country."

"This firm has never done any other work for the President or Mrs. Johnson or any member of the Johnson family," Reedy said.

The press spokesman declined to answer any detailed questions about the report, saying he would let it "speak for itself."

Life magazine said in its article earlier this week that A.

W. Moursund, principal trustee of the president's financial interests, estimated Johnson's wealth as being $4 million.

While the magazine did not explain the difference in the $14 million and $4 million figures, it said that "basic to any financial appraisal is how the worth of the holdings is measured — by 'book' value (the way it appears on the books for accounting purposes) or by 'market' value (current resale value)."

Following the Life magazine report, Republican vice presidential nominee William E. Miller said Johnson should make a full public accounting of his financial holdings.

WATER SAFETY — Swimming proved to be a favorite item on the girl's agenda at the Canadian camp. Pampa girls shown enjoying the water are Karen Jordan, Glenna Hudgins, Patsy Holloway, Marsha Crouch, Julie Hofsess, Mimi Miller, Cindy Gill and Martha Colville.

Pope Paul Decries Adolescent 'Folly'

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI says he is heart sick about the "existentialist extravagances" of many teen-agers today. The Pope's remarks were addressed to an encampment of senior Italian boy scouts. They were printed Monday in the Vatican newspaper "Osservatore Romano."

The pontiff singled out Britain's "Mods," "Rockers" and "Teddy Boys," whose rioting at British seaside resorts this summer has inflamed British opinion. But he said there were other adolescents as well who indulge in "wilful folly."

The Pope suggested that "youngsters who walk the straight and bitter path" may seem like ugly ducklings but "are true youths in the fullness of their consciences and powers."

Pope Paul said, "we will confide to you, dearest youngsters, that one of the bitterest impressions that comes to us from observing the outlook of contemporary life is that of the image of so many sad, emaciated, tired, boastful faces of youngsters represented as typical of this generation."

House Approves Compromise Measure on Restriction of Beef Imports

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House approved Tuesday a compromise plan to restrict beef imports which critics charge is so lacking in teeth that it may never be implemented.

The roll call vote was 232-149. The measure now goes to the Senate for its final endorsement.

The legislation proposes a flexible quota system that would give the President considerable discretion in determining whether quotas should be established.

It is a modification of a much tougher Senate-passed bill which would have held beef, veal, mutton and lamb imports to the average in the years 1959-1963. The present compromise was worked out by a House-Senate conference group.

The current plan also uses the same five-year average as a base figure, but it allows for additional imports before the quotas would be set up.

The compromise also would give the President the right to suspend quotas if "required by overriding economic or national security interests."

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., a member of the conference committee, said the Senate bill "has had most of its teeth extracted by the compromise."

"Under this system, the likelihood of a quota ever being brought into existence is far-fetched," he added.

Byrnes said the discretionary power to be given the President "points out how unlikely" such a quota would be.

The plan was defended by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., also a conference committee member and chairman of the House Ways & Means Committee. Mills said the proposal would provide price stability for the producer without setting in motion a big price increase for the consumer.

The Texas Department of Public Safety was established in 1935.

5 Pampa Youths Hurt in Wreck On Farm Road

Five Pampa youngsters were admitted to Highland General Hospital late last night after the car in which they were riding missed a curve and slammed into an embankment.

The accident occurred at 10 p.m., 3 1/2 miles southwest of Pampa on Farm Road 2300.

Injured were Danny F. Walker, 18, of 2314 Duncan; Jerry W. Wright, 20, of 825 W. Kingsmill; Jerry Matheny, 17, of 2430 Navajo; Jerry Parker, 17, of 2236 Dwight and Dean Ruff, 18, 1825 Duncan.

Parker was treated and released from the hospital last night and Wright was released this morning.

Ruff, Matheny and Walker were admitted and are listed in satisfactory condition.

According to Highway Patrolman Vernon Cawthon and Paul Geiser, the auto driven by Walker failed to negotiate a curve and rammed into the embankment.

Geiser said the auto didn't overturn, but was heavily damaged.

platform hearings, Johnson administration officials have appeared to declare, in essence, "you've never had it so good" on the cold war and the domestic fronts.

For instance, Dillon told the platform committee Tuesday that the economy is so booming that Congress could eliminate excise taxes next year.

He said that with the Democrats in the White House the nation has reached the highest economic peak in modern day history.

As the platform committee held its last hearing before shifting to Atlantic City, N.J., there were growing signs that the party document would take dead aim on Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater.

Key Democratic strategists predicted that the Democratic platform would include a denunciation of political extremist groups, a move the Republicans shied away from. Further, it was believed that the platform would include a strong endorsement of the civil rights bill passed by congress this year. Goldwater voted against the measure.

Meet Thursday

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI)—Texas Gov. John Connally planned to say "adios" to Mexico and return to Austin today after his four-day sweep through the Mexican states that border Texas.

His last stop was Monterrey, the busy, industrial capital of Nuevo Leon. That state's governor, Eduardo Livas, escorted him on a tour of Monterrey, but the reception Connally got was less flamboyant than the ones accorded him Saturday in Chihuahua, Sunday in Saltillo and Monday in Ciudad Victoria.

Monthly membership meetings of the organization will be resumed in September, on the fourth Monday of each month.

Keating Facing Tough Prospects

NEW YORK (UPI)—White-maned Republican Kenneth B. Keating is a candidate for a second term in the U. S. Senate.

But to win re-election he may have to overcome formidable opposition from:
—Bronx Republican Rep. Paul A. Fino, who announced Tuesday that he will oppose Keating for the GOP nomination.

—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, who said she is giving "more thought" to running for Keating's seat on the Conservative party ticket, a move which would cost Keating some Republican votes.

—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who is expected to resign in a few days, possibly Thursday, and announce as a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Keating's Senate seat promises to be the most fought-over in the nation.

PREMIER ENDS VISIT

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev returned here Tuesday from his two week tour of farm country in South Russia and Central Asia, Tass reported.

During the tour he visited industrial plants and state and collective farms in the Rostov region, Krasnodar territory, the Caucasus, the Atar and Bashkiria autonomous republics and Kirghizia.

Fear of Teacher Leads Youth to Suicide Attempt

MOSCOW (UPI) — Misha Buzerov, a schoolboy in the Volga village of Senkino, had such a tough geography teacher that he tried to hang himself. An aunt rescued him but the teacher was acquitted of any wrongdoing.

The newspaper Teachers' Gazette told the story Tuesday. The teacher in question was Nikita C. Tudyarov. He "beats his pupils, boxes their ears, and pulls their hair," it said. "They cannot complain because his wife is principal."

Misha got in trouble because he left his textbook home and told Tudyarov as an excuse: "I have a hangover."

Tudyarov demanded the details. Did the Buzerov family give its children vodka? He pulled a piece of paper from his pocket and said it showed he was a member of the voluntary "assistant police" force.

Misha protested that his remark had been a joke, but the teacher told him "now you know I can arrest you. Go home and get your textbook."

Misha left the class and told a friend: "I better hang myself because Tudyarov will never let me alone." But he was found, cut down, and revived. Angry relatives filed charges against Tudyarov.

In court, the teacher denied the entire story. Teachers Gazette said children present for the trial "listened to lies of one who taught them to tell the truth at school."

The newspaper said something must be done about Tudyarov because he was acquitted by the village court and later given a promotion. The Buzerov family, it said, left town.

Much more than the composition of the legislatures of the 50 states is involved in the Supreme Court's one-man-one-vote ruling which now is being disputed in Congress.

The one-man-one-vote rule would apply equally to the election and allotment of presidential electors among presidential candidates. Any citizen could file suit in federal court demanding for himself or others common justice in conformity with the Supreme Court's one-man-one-vote. It is a wonder that some common man has not already done just that because the little guy who files the suit surely will reap some fame for himself and a foot note niche in U.S. history.

The citizen presumably would win. And the present system of allotting each state's electoral votes on a winner-take-all basis would be sunk without a trace.

Trying For Reform
The importance of this is that some members of Congress have been trying for years to reform the electoral college. Their proposal would cut racial, labor and religious pressure groups down to a size commensurate with their numbers. It would deprive big American cities of their present overwhelming influence in shaping presidential platforms, in the selection of presidential candidates and in the election of presidents.

As things now stand, a popular vote majority of one in New York state is sufficient to give the winner all 43 of New York's electoral votes. Racial, labor and religious pressure groups tend to concentrate in the great cities. New York has been described as an area typical of bloc vote control. There is a great bloc or pressure group concentration in three great New York cities, New York City, Buffalo and Rochester. One, two or more such concentrations largely determine the presidential vote in 11 other states. They are:

California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Missouri, Wisconsin, Maryland and Minnesota.

These 11 states plus New York represent 260 electoral votes, just eight shy of enough to win the White House this year. Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and others propose to reduce electoral college inequalities by means of a constitutional amendment.

Presidential Districts
It would provide for election to the electoral college from presidential districts in each state, these conforming roughly to existing congressional districts and in the identical number. Each state also would choose two electors at large. Thus each state would have in the electoral college then as now as many votes as it had representatives and senators in Congress.

If that system had been in effect in 1960, Richard M. Nixon would have been elected with an electoral vote of 282, according to calculations of the American Good Government Society of Washington, D.C. John F. Kennedy in 1960 won all 148 electoral votes of New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Texas and Michigan. Under the proposed system, it is calculated that Nixon would have won in New York 19, Pennsylvania 15, Illinois 14, Texas 8, and Michigan, 10. He also would have shared the electoral vote in several other states. Kennedy would have gained at Nixon's expense in an even dozen states, but it would not have been enough.

The Mundt-Morton system would help the Republican party and hurt the Democratic party, which is strong in the great urban centers. But that is of no matter if the winner-take-all system is, in fact, unconstitutional. Some little guy should bring suit.

Foreign Commentary

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Out of the recent world crises come new signs that the Soviet Union feels its future lies with the "haves" of the West.

The feeling in diplomatic quarters here is that Moscow is awaiting the outcome of the U.S. presidential election to make new moves toward co-existence.

This assessment is based on three major developments in the past week or two.

Remains Aloof
The most telling single event has been Moscow's aloofness from the Southeast Asian crisis and the retaliatory American bombing raid in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Russia's response to Peking's outcry against "American aggression" has been little more than what was described by political observers here as a "yawn."

The Kremlin has steered clear of any pledge to come to Red China's aid. Pro-Peking diplomats here have termed it an "outright betrayal of the Communist cause by the Soviet and a tacit admission that the mutual assistance pact with Red China is a dead letter.

The second significant development has been the marked reserve with which the Kremlin has reacted to the Cyprus crisis.

The Cyprus flareup and President Makarios' appeal for Soviet arms provided the Kremlin with a tailor made opportunity to use the crisis and to exploit allied differences for a dig at NATO.

Avoid Intervention
To all appearances to date the Russians have steered clear of intervention. Ostensibly on Moscow's instruction, the Soviet envoy in London publicly announced on the occasion that the Kremlin wants to be friends with the United States. While speaking of his support for the Greek Cypriots Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has left Russia free of actual aid commitments.

Finally, after long hesitations, Khrushchev decided to call a conference of Communist parties later this year to tackle the festering Sino-Soviet conflict. In present circumstances such a conference seems certain to seal the break with Red China.

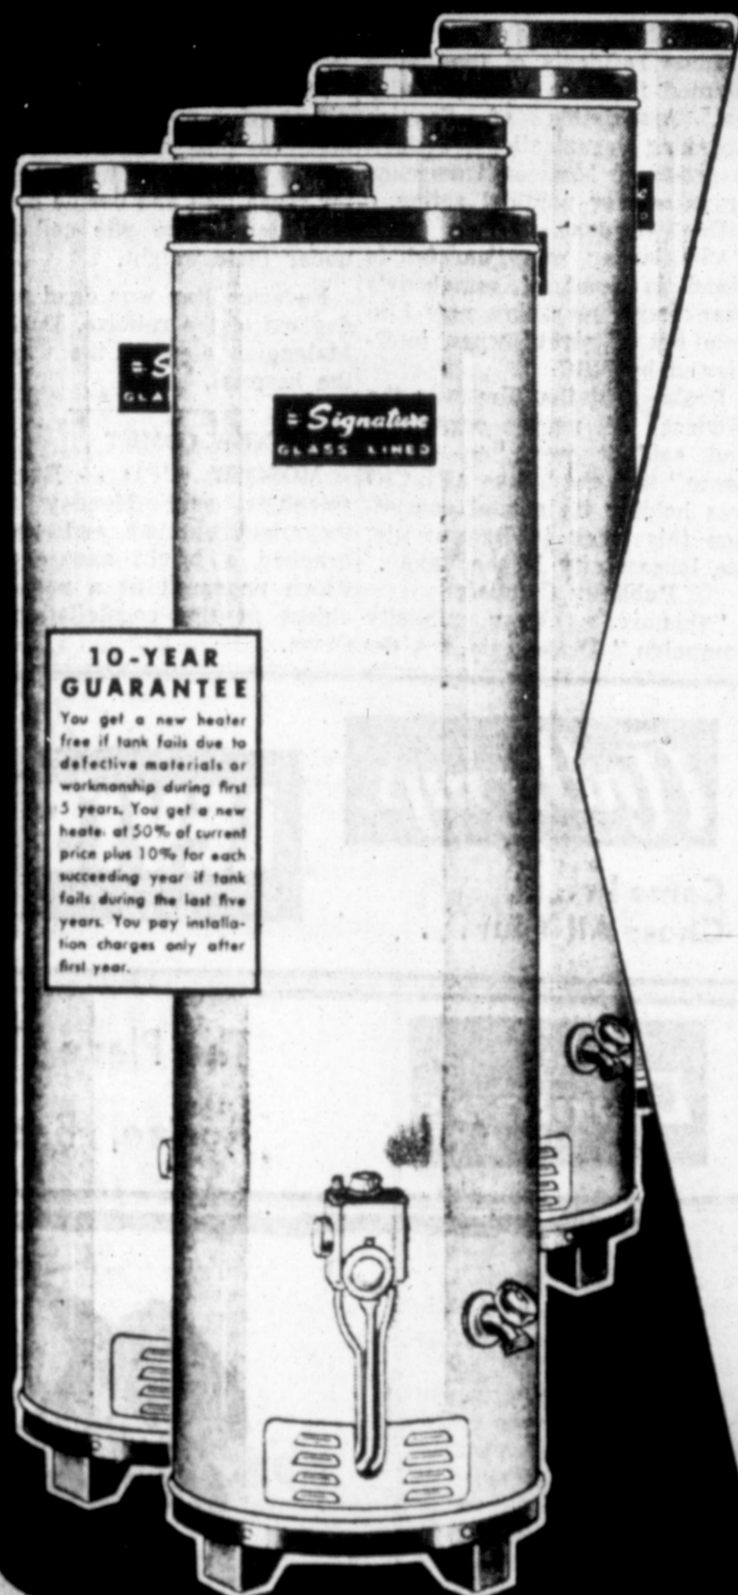

Diplomats here consider the move a clear indication that Khrushchev has abandoned hope for an understanding with Peking for a long time to come. Red China's policy has, in turn, left little doubt that she is determined to push for big power status and the nuclear bomb, prospects that alarm the Soviet.

This is why Communist affairs experts here believe that Russia has already decided to split with Red China politically as well as ideologically.

Tourists Swarm to Jersey For Preview of Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Tourists flocking to this resort capital are previewing what all Americans will see on their television screens next week.

They are being treated to such facts as the respective heights of President Johnson and Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island.

This salient bit of information is being passed out by guides inside the Convention Hall, which is being readied for the opening Monday of the Democratic National Convention.

"The podium at the far end of the hall," goes the guide's spiel, "has a unique feature in that it contains an elevator. Due to the fact that President Johnson is 6 feet 4 inches, and Sen. Pastore of Rhode Island, who will deliver the keynote address, is 5 feet 3 inches, the elevator was put in so they will appear the same height."

Walter Rogers Reports: Amarilloans Cheer Hospital Approval

Amarillo residents, civilian and military, are cheering news that a new hospital for Amarillo Air Force Base is among 10 projects approved in the military construction appropriations bill.

The bill includes a total of $7,927,000 for work at AAFB in the fiscal year which began July 1, and the hospital — to cost an estimated $3.7 million — is the largest single item in the bill.

The need for new, permanent medical facilities at the base was well recognized and supported by civilians in the City of Amarillo as well as by the Air Force authorities at the base.

The new, 110-bed hospital will fit well with medical center development plans in Amarillo and will replace the outmoded, inadequate, wooden hospital built at AAFB in 1943 as a wartime expedient.

The new hospital will mean not only that AAFB personnel and their dependents will receive quality medical care in an up-to-date, properly equipped hospital, it is further evidence that the permanency of Amarillo Air Force Base is more than a paper designation. The Defense Department, the Air Force, the Bureau of the Budget, the House and Senate armed services and appropriations committee, and the House and Senate themselves all had to agree on the need for the new hospital before its approval could be obtained.

Among other construction projects approved for Amarillo Air Force Base in the military construction appropriations bill were these:

Alteration of 36 armen dormitories to modernize facilities and appearance; upgrading three buildings for dining hall facilities serving 3,750 airmen; building a 300-seat base chapel and annex for base religious services.

Excellent community relations which exist between military personnel at the base and civilians in Amarillo could well serve as a model for other communities in the United States. The base is a thriving community all in itself; military and civilian personnel in all categories total approximately 16,000. Approximately 16,000 dependents of base personnel live in the Amarillo area.

Graduates of schools in the Technical Training Center at the base are serving their country all over the world. We all know of the vital role played by the Strategic Air Command, of which the 4128th Strategic Wing at Amarillo Air Force Base is an important component. All of the Panhandle are proud of Amarillo Air Force Base and of the men and units assigned there.

When the end of a Congress nears, it is impossible to predict from one hour to the next what new development will occur affecting vital legislation. It is therefore extremely difficult to be certain of being able to meet long-standing commitments out of Washington. It was with regret that I and my two colleagues on the House and Senate themselves all had to agree on the need for the new hospital before its approval could be obtained.

Morris, Chenoweth and I have long urged the enactment of legislation to correct problems forced on the American cattle industry by a continuing, excessively high level of beef and meat imports. With the prospect that corrective legislation could be brought before the House, we dared not leave the capital.

The inspection will be rescheduled at an early date. While I may not be able to attend, I would urge all Panhandle-area residents interested in legislative re-appointment problems to attend a meeting sponsored by the Texas Legislative Council at 9 a.m. Thursday in the 99th District Court at Lubbock. This is the fifth of a series of hearings being held by the Legislative Council in Texas cities.

RECENT VISITORS: Bill Nelson of Amarillo, with Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Harp of Abernathy; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herring, their children Ralph, Joyce, and Stanley, and his mother, Mrs. W. Herring; Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Vandell of Amarillo, with children Kerry and Craig.

Sincerely,
Your Congressman,
Walter Rogers

CALL FOR STRIKE
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — The Casco Union Federation called Tuesday for a "national general strike" to protest "unfair" laws and support demands for the release of imprisoned union leader, Miguel Soto.

The strike call, supported largely by disgruntled taxi drivers, is aimed at recent laws increasing the price of gasoline 5 cents a gallon and authorizing police to lift the licenses of drivers who break the law.

Valley Residents Irked Over Broadcast Showing 'Bad Side'

WESLACO, Tex. (UPI)—Residents of the Rio Grande Valley were irked at the National Broadcasting Company today because of a program they said only looked at the bad side.

The Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce's executive committee specifically objected to a 10-minute film aired last weekend on NBC's "Sunday" show.

Jack Drake, executive vice president of the chamber, called the film "irresponsible reporting," and demanded equal time.

The film in question showed crumbling bridges, hungry children, and at one point a barge used as a ferry across the Rio Grande to Mexico.

Showed Only Bad
The chamber said the film showed only the bad sections of the valley, not any of the good.

Some residents of the valley blamed the film on the Political Association of Spanish Speaking Organizations (PASO), a group of Mexican-Americans organized for political action. One resident said a local PASO leader was "careful to stand in front of somebody's shack with his shiny new Lincoln out of sight" when interviewed by NBC.

Drake said the film was the product of union organizers and said it was "no coincidence" that the Texas AFL-CIO was holding its annual convention this week in Brownsville, the largest city in the valley.

Publicity Campaign
"This is a clever publicity campaign," Drake said. "A derogatory campaign directed to convince people there must be organized labor here."

Labor organizers have struggled for years to set up strong union system in the valley and the NBC show referred to the fact that state labor leaders were meeting in Brownsville.

Drake said the film showed crumbling buildings in Roma, Tex., which have been abandoned since "a Hollywood outfit used them in filming 'Viva Zapata'."

Drake said NBC should bear the cost of a film covering the nice side of the valley but the chamber "would be glad to advise them." The valley, he said, has "many beautiful homes, a four year college, a climate second to none and thousands of tourists who pass through on their way to Mexico."

BURIED ALIVE
MANILA (UPI)—Two Filipino scavengers were buried alive under a pile of rubbish here Monday when they were looking for scrap iron and usable household items. The pile collapsed under their weight.

Federico Paa was dead when dug out of the rubbish. Enrique Malangan died on the way to the hospital.

SPOT NEW COMET
MOSCOW (UPI) — Russian scientists said Monday that they had spotted and photographed a bright new comet, which appeared as a nebulous object in the constellation of Orion.

US Asks Court to Revoke Estes' Bail

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—The U.S. government Tuesday asked federal district court to revoke Billie Sol Estes' $100,000 bond so the bankrupt farm financier can begin serving his 15-year prison sentence for fraud.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Fred Morton said in his motion filed with federal district court in El Paso that the move was based on the confirmation of the 15-year federal sentence by the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals.

The 15-year sentence was for Estes' dealings in millions of dollars worth of fertilizer tanks which did not exist. He also is under an eight-year state sentence for fraud.

The state court sentence, imposed in Tyler in 1962, is under appeal, too. Estes is free on $30,000 appeals bond on the state conviction.

Lives in Abilene
Estes, 39, lives in Abilene, Tex., in a rambling house with a Cadillac in the driveway. He recently gave his name to an import-export business with headquarters in an El Paso pawnshop. A New York newspaper reported this week that he intends to serve as an adviser to a firm friends plan to incorporate as Billie Sol Estes Enterprises, Inc.

That company reportedly would operate a chain of gift shops, motels and facsimile wild west towns bearing Estes' name, but would pay Estes nothing, since a long line of creditors, including the Internal Revenue Service, would have claim to his money. The date for a hearing on Morton's motion was not set Tuesday. It will be heard either by Federal Dist. Judge D. W. Suttle Sr. or by Federal Dist. Judge R. Ewing Thomason, who presided at the federal trial and sentenced Estes.

Notice Sent Lawyers
In filing the motion, Morton was acting for U.S. Atty. Ernest Morgan of San Antonio. Notice of the motion was mailed to Estes' lawyers John and Hume Cofer of Austin, John Dennison of Pecos, Tex., and Jack T. Niland of El Paso. The defense was expected to fight the motion.

Estes' bonds were signed by his father, John L. Estes of Clyde, Tex.; a brother, Dr. John L. Estes, an Abilene dentist, and an uncle, Dr. Sol B. Estes, an Abilene physician. The fraud of which Estes was convicted was the sale of chattel mortgages on nonexistent anhydrous ammonia tanks. About $25 million was involved, and Estes has not yet faced trial on many charges.

Estes' operation first was uncovered in 1961 and spurred a congressional inquiry. Since that time, Estes has spent three days in jail.

TO IMPORT GUNS
CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—The interior (police) ministry will import .38-caliber revolvers from the United States for the protection of bank officials.

'Dial-A-Satellite' New Service for Capital Residents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Smithsonian Institution Tuesday started a "dial-a-satellite" service for residents of the Washington area. Dial 361-5060 and a recorded voice (male, baritone) supplies information on satellites visible within a 100-mile radius of the capital plus a brief "in-orbit" scoreboard.

The satellite report for Tuesday said 452 man-made objects, including Russia's most recently launched spacecraft, Cosmos 37, are now moving about in space. The information is provided by the Smithsonian's astrophysical observatory at Cambridge, Mass., which performs a similar telephone service for the Boston area.

Airliner to Be Crashed in Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The (FAA) and Flight Safety Foundation Aviation Agency Tuesday will stage the second of their crash "spectaculars" in Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 1 — The deliberate destruction of an airliner to test new safety devices. The first test, held April 24 on a desert near Phoenix, involved a flight-near DC7 that was sent hurtling down a runway into a series of specially designed obstacles.

The Sept. 1 experiment will use a four-engine Constellation which once flew for Trans World Airlines. Like the DC7, it will be crammed with instruments to record impact stresses, life-like dummies sitting in typical and experimental airliner seats, plus various devices aimed at improving the chances of surviving a crash.

FAA officials indicated the test may be even more spectacular and significant than the first — in which the DC7 was almost totally damaged. The Constellation will roll down the runway at about 120 miles an hour onto a ramp, thus becoming airborne for a few seconds before it plunges back to the ground and into a series of barriers.

Carla Jo Combs Marks Birthday

Miss Carla Jo Combs was honored recently with a birthday party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Combs, 2905 Rosewood.

Refreshments of purple punch and birthday cake decorated in white and purple with eight candles, were served. Party favors included horns, hats, balloons and bubble gum.

Guests attending were the honoree's brother, Bill Combs, her cousin, Byron Wariner, two uncles, Arnold and Jerry Wariner of Lefors, and grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Wariner, Lefors, and about 20 neighborhood friends.

Miss Combs will be a third grade student at William B. Travis this fall.

An occasional chair that leads a double life boasts a "swing-away" hostess table. The table top swivels out from under the chair and slim brass folding legs are lowered to form a table.

Mrs. Ramsay Has Bethany SS Class

Mrs. Lida Ramsay entertained Bethany Sunday School Class with a watermelon supper Friday night on the patio of her home.

Mrs. Rachel Hutto gave the 23rd Psalm and led the group in prayer.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Jay Evans, and A. N. Thorne; R. W. Tucker and Mmes. Mabel Winter, Cora Patterson, Lizzie Henry, Myrtle McDaniel, Rachel Hutto, Lula Stevens, Doshia Anderson, Winnie Young, Gussie Archibald, Jessie McKinney, Lula Greene, Pearl Gamage, Ovia Davis, Mabel Wolfe and Lida Ramsay; Misses Edna King and Ruth Ramsay, and Ronnie Wolfe, Steve Wolfe and Brett Hall.

UTILITY OPERATOR — Today's subject of a picture feature series of Pampa's working women and girls is Miss Margaret Gerik, utility operator at Marie Foundations. Miss Gerik, who began work the first day of training operations for the Pampa factory, is being trained in several different operations at the factory. According to Dale Greenhouse, plant manager, she is an outstanding operator and representative of the high type of employees the company has found in the Pampa area. Miss Gerik, 17, is a 1964 graduate of Pampa High School. She makes her home with her mother, Mrs. Elsie Gerik, at 317 N. Rider and enjoys swimming and horseback riding.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING TIPS

For the benefit of gardeners who like to follow the moon signs in garden work, this column will include information on that subject each week. Pruning, rooting, and transplanting may be done on Aug. 23, 24, 27, 28 and 29. Some of our most successful gardeners follow the moon signs so there must be "something to it."

Outdoor shrubs in great variety are easily rooted from cuttings inserted this month. The cuttings should be prepared from half-ripened shoots — not those that are so soft that they wilt easily. Such cuttings may be rooted under inverted glass jars outdoors. The atmosphere about them must be humid, and shade from direct sun must be provided. Very little ventilation should be given until the cuttings have rooted.

Pinching back of the late flowering mums should be stopped now. Mums that are pinched back systematically will develop into broad spreading bushes, bearing many strong, flowering stems. If this summer pruning is neglected, the plants will assume a spindly habit of growth, sprawling out over the garden in an ungainly fashion. Chrysanthemums are in need of a liberal supply of moisture now as they are preparing for their brilliant fall show.

The pendant is the jewelry industry pet in necklaces for fall. Pendants range from tailored ones styled to be paired with knits and suits to big, bold beauties to accent or disguise low-cut after dark clothes.

Dear Abby....

Check Integrity; Her Actions Not Commendable

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: An extremely attractive woman and I have been seeing each other exclusively for the past year. I am in my early 40's and she is in her early 30's. She has recently begun to pressure me for a marriage date. She told me that she was a widow, but I learned quite accidentally that she has had three husbands. Her first she divorced. When I confronted her with these facts, she readily admitted they were true. When I asked her why she didn't volunteer the truth about herself in the first place, she said that she had been "counseled" not to. What kind of a "counselor" would advise a woman to withhold such pertinent information from the man she intended to marry?

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: One without integrity, obviously. But it's the WOMAN you are interested in, not the counselor. And any woman who would accept the counsel of deception is no better than her counselor. What else do you want to know?

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-year-old daughter who rushes outside when she hears someone honk a horn. I tell her it is not right, that if a boy wants to see her, he should come to the door. She says I am old-fashioned, and that if she had a date with a boy then she would expect him to come to the door. But if he just happens to be driving by and wants to see if she's home, there is nothing wrong with honking his horn. All this horn honking and her running outside is getting to be too much for me. Maybe if you told her, Abby, she would listen. Or am I old-fashioned?

GIVE UP DEAR GIVE: You are not old-fashioned. A boy who respects a girl will not "honk" his horn outside her home. And any girl who runs outside at the sound of a "honk" is a silly goose.

DEAR ABBY: So many of our friends and relatives have been dying off lately, my husband and I decided to go over our wills. They originally stated that our estates would be divided among our children, and they would all share and share alike. We have changed them. Our eldest daughter has given us more attention and respect than any of the others. We also have a son who has never gone out of his way to show us any consideration. They will all get what we think they deserve. Nuts to this share and share alike business.

Column One

By KARL O'QUINN

The current issue of Saga magazine features an article on Lew Jenkins, the Texan who won the lightweight championship in 1940 with a knockout of Lou Ambers.

Now just 40 years old, Jenkins seems to have lived enough for two people. As champion he lived high and fought poorly, losing his title to Sammy Angott in December, 1941.

He says today, "All I ever wanted was to have a good time and I did." His good times consisted of wine, women, fast cars and motorcycles, several of which he cracked up.

He was known to fight with broken bones sustained in wrecks.

He was in the Army before beginning a serious ring career, then was with the Coast Guard during World War II and in the Army again for the Korean War.

Now, says Arnold Hano, author of the article, Jenkins would be unrecognizable to the people who knew him "when." He is retired from the Army after 20 years service and is the groundskeeper of a golf course in Concord, Calif.

Tomorrow night Jacky Lee plays his first game as a Denver Bronco and, as a Hollywood script writer might schedule it, against his old team, the Houston Oilers.

The duel between Lee and Blanda should make the entire AFL season interesting, and the game tomorrow night may turn out to be one of those that people never forget.

Football season opens in Texas two weeks from Friday, when all schools except Class AAAA can open their schedules. Pampa High and the other biggies open a week later.

The news will cover as many area games as possible, but will concentrate on the Harvesters.

There will be a pre-season article on each area team.

During the season, I will rank high school teams statewide and attempt to give a general picture of what the football situation is around the state.

The college season opens Sept. 12 with three games. Pittsburgh and UCLA play the year's first game that afternoon and Houston hosts Trinity that night. Furman and Mississippi College play the other game.

Both pro leagues have games Sept. 12, too, so in just a little over three weeks the football season will be in full swing.

I think the weather man has had football fever the past few days, too.

Money Winners Retain Positions

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Since most of the top money winners on the pro tour took a breather last week, there was very little change in the professional golfers' money-winning standings.

Of the top 10 golfers, only Ken Venturi and Bobby Nichols participated in the St. Paul Open, the only PGA tournament last week.

Nichols tied for second place in the tournament with four other golfers and took home $2,500. The check increased his 1964 cumulative earnings to $36,067, but he remained in 10th place in the standings.

Venturi, winner of the U.S. Open, carded a 72-hole total of 279 which was good enough for a seventh place tie and $775. He remained in seventh place in the standings, $69.86 behind Juan Rodriguez.

Jack Nicklaus still leads the field with $97,217, followed by Arnold Palmer ($90,443), Tony Dema ($68,738), Billy Casper, Jr. ($64,886), Gary Player ($52,448), Rodriguez ($46,610), Venturi ($46,340), Mason Rudolph ($39,612), Mike Souchak ($37,414), and Nichols.

White Deer Young Team, Still Tabbed as Favorite

By KARL O'QUINN

Daily News Sports Editor Colie Huffman, who began his sixth season as football coach at White Deer Monday, wishes to thank his fellow District 2-A coaches for making his Bucks the pre-season choice to win the championship.

In view of the fact that he has just four starters and eight lettermen returning from a team that won only three games last year, however, he is a little mystified as to how they could do it to him.

Huffman regards the district as a balanced one, but points out that defending champion Wellington, Memphis and McLean all have more experience than White Deer. He feels Clarendon will be stronger in its first season of integration, also.

Perhaps the coaches of the district are a little farsighted. There are four seniors on the entire squad and 14 sophomores on Huffman's early three-deep chart.

Thus it would appear the Bucks are a year away. But don't count them short.

Six of Huffman's lettermen are in the line and another line-man would have lettered last year if he hadn't broken his hand and been forcibly removed from action. Experienced lines make for low-scoring games, and if you can't score on a team, you can't beat it.

Tackle is a particularly strong position, with senior James Wheeler and junior Danny Lane competing for the quick-side tackle slot and Charles Smith, a starter last year, heading the list at strong-side tackle. All are lettermen.

Juniors Monte Hawpe and Troyce Phillips hold down the end positions as practice opens. Hawpe lettered and Phillips is the boy who broke his hand.

Senior Larry Simmons, another letterman, owns the quick-side guard position at the present, but two sophomores, Gary Smith and Kenneth Carter, are in contention for the other guard slot.

Letterman Don Williams is listed behind junior Larry Bates in the early figuring at center.

All of Huffman's strength is not in the line, however. An indication of this is his listing of senior Roy Armstrong, who started last season, behind sophomore Vernon Marlar at halfback.

Fullback Eddie Kleibrink, who was converted from a tackle last season, provides power up the middle.

Quarterback and wingback are question marks. Sophomore Gary Stewart, junior Phil Hart and sophomore Luman will battle for the man-under position, with Stewart given an early edge.

Passing is an unknown quantity so far, due to inexperience. Sophomores Stephen Thomas and Randy Elliott are running 1-2 at wingback, with Dan Horne, who did not play last year as a freshman, backing them up.

The Bucks will be moving into 2-A from 1-AA, where they competed the past two years with

Ashe Selected

NEW YORK (UPI)—A tennis milestone was reached Tuesday when Arthur Ashe became the first Negro to be named to a United States Davis Cup challenge round team.

Ashe, a 21-year-old native of Richmond, Va., who previously won berths on U.S. cup squads for preliminary round matches, joined six other players on the preliminary team for the challenge round at Cleveland, Sept. 25-27.

The meeting is open to any teams or individuals interested in competing in the league during the fall season.

Team captains should attend.

less than pleasant results. White Deer won the state Class A championship in 1958 under Otis Holladay, now at Pampa. Huffman had three fine years in Class A—8-2, 9-1 and 7-2-1, before stepping up with the bigger schools and dropping to 5-5 and 3-7 for the past two seasons.

Huffman is glad to be back in Class A and, despite his calculated pessimism, says "We'll play with 'em."

The White Deer boss was so swayed by Darrell Royal at a coaching clinic several seasons ago he adopted the famed flip-flop pattern for his linemen. Huffman points out that he does not copy the Texas offense, but "the flip-flop line cuts the number of plays you have to learn in half."

In this style of formation, the strong-side linemen will play either the right or left side of the line, depending upon where the wingback is stationed. Huffman terms his wingbackless side the "quick side" rather than the weak side, as Royal does.

Huffman has been pleased by the enthusiasm of his charges in the first workouts of the season. He plans two-a-day workouts until next week and will probably have his first contact work tomorrow or Friday.

Huffman and his assistants, Jackie Moss, line; Ronnie Mills, backfield; and Roy Simmons, freshmen, have until Sept. 4 to mold their young team into a functioning unit. The season opens in earnest that night when Boys Ranch, one of two Class AA opponents for the Bucks, invades the former grazing grounds of the white deer.

Chance Wins Again; Yankees Lose Ground

Next to Bill Veck, who hates the Yankees, and Hank Bauer, who insists he has the pennant formula, Los Angeles Angels pitching coach Marv Grissom must be the most satisfied man in baseball today.

Grissom, the former relief ace for the New York Giants, is the teacher who has patiently nurtured and developed the hottest pitcher in the big leagues, 22-year-old Dean Chance.

Chance hurled his second straight two-hit shutout Tuesday night, 1-0 over the Detroit Tigers in the first game of a doubleheader, to record his ninth consecutive victory and lower his major league-leading earned run average to 1.60.

The victory was the 14th for Chance against five losses and his eighth shutout of the season.

Homer Wins Game

Vic Power's third home run off loser Hank Aguirre, who allowed but three hits, won the opener. Mickey Lolich, on a one-day pass from Air National Guard summer camp, gave up three first inning singles to the Angels, then pitched hitless ball the rest of the way to give Detroit a 1-0 verdict in the nightcap. Gates Brown singled home the only run off loser Fred Newman.

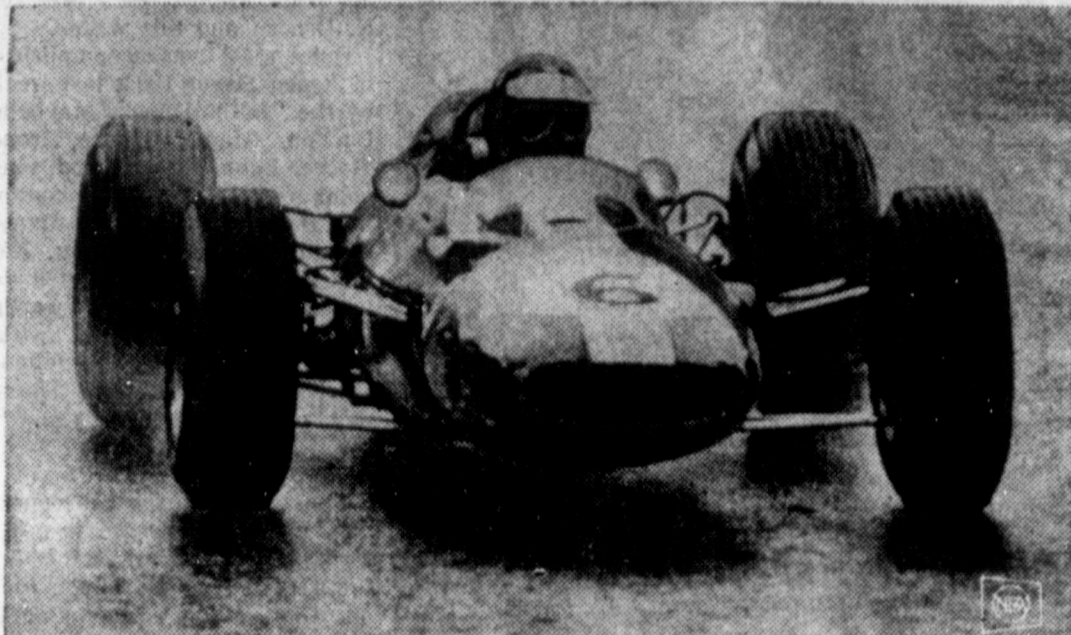

Veck ("I've been a Yankee hater from way back") Tuesday predicted "the end of the Yankee dynasty" is coming, then saw third-place New York blow a three-run lead in the eighth inning and lose their second straight to the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 10 innings.

Bauer, manager of the league-leading Orioles, predicted after Baltimore's 5-2 win over Boston, that if his team could win 26 of its remaining 43 games (.605 percentage) they could take the pennant.

In other AL games, Kansas City blitzed Cleveland 13-9 in the first game of a doubleheader, then lost 5-1 to the Indians, and Minnesota topped Washington 6-1.

Cubs Edge Phillies; Cincy Blanks Giants

Baseball doesn't owe Joey Amalfitano a penny but the 30-year-old Chicago Cubs handymen feels he owes something to the game.

Joey probably has collected more money from baseball than 90 per cent of its players and has had more spent on him than 95 per cent of the athletes.

He signed for a $54,000 bonus with the New York Giants in 1954, the year they won the World Series and collected a full share (about $11,000) for coming to bat exactly five times during the season. His first year in baseball he realized about $70,000. After a second year with the Giants (22 at bats) under the bonus rule he was shuttled to the minors, later drafted by the Giants for $25,000 then sold to Houston for $125,000.

Now he wants to return dividends, and the Cubs got an installment Tuesday night when he homered in the eighth inning against the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies, then doubled home two runs in the 16th inning to give Chicago a 4-3 triumph.

Boozar Takes Loss Amalfitano's double followed a two-out single by Andre Rodgers off loser John Booser and a walk to pinchhitter Dick Bertell. Clay Dalrymple homered in the last of the 16th off Ernie Broglio but the Phils could not produce another run. Fred Burdette was the winner. The Phils tied the score in the ninth on Tony Taylor's second run-scoring single.

The loss did not cut into the Phillies' five game bulge over second place San Francisco. The Giants lost to Cincinnati 1-0. In other National League games, St. Louis moved into fourth place by whipping Houston 5-2 while Pittsburgh was losing to the New York Mets 7-3. Milwaukee beat Los Angeles 3-1.

Sadecki Wins 15th Ray Sadecki received hitless relief pitching from Barney Schultz over the final 2 1/3 innings to post his 15th victory for the Cardinals. Sadecki also tripled and scored the winning run in the seventh on a single by Lou Brock. Tim McCarver homered for the Cardinals off Houston loser Don Larsen.

Jim O'Toole blanked the Giants on four hits and was handed an unearned, disputed run in the eighth inning to outduel Bob Bolin. A walk and a single began the Reds' eighth, and Vada Pinson was safe when shortstop Jose Pagan dropped his pop fly.

Frank Robinson then hit a double play ball to second and Pagan made the force out but threw wildly to first and the run scored. Giant Manager Al Dark protested Pinson interfered with Pagan's throw. Dark was tossed out of the game and the run remained.

Christopher Leads Mets Joe Christopher slugged a home run, two triples and a double against the Pirates to jump into fifth place among the NL's leading hitters with a .315 average. The 29-year-old Mets outfielder has hit at least one double in his last six games. He tied the league record with five consecutive extra base hits, starting with a double in his last at bat the previous night. Al Jackson was the winner and Joe Gibbon took the loss.

Ed Bailey drilled a bases-loaded single in the sixth inning to score two runs and end a scoreless pitching duel between the Dodgers' Don Drysdale (13-13) and Denny Lemaster (13-8) of the Braves, who went the route yielding four singles. Hank Aaron singled home the other Milwaukee tally in the seventh. John Roseboro's seventh inning hit drove in the only Los Angeles score.

homer to tie the score at 3-3 and Mike Hershberger followed in the 10th inning with a two-out single off Downing after singles by Al Weis and Pete Ward to win the game for reliever Gary Peters.

The triumph kept the White Sox 1 1/2 games behind Baltimore and dropped the Yankees four games off the pace.

Robin Roberts, with relief help from Dick Hall, won his 11th in 16 decisions for the Orioles, who bunched four of their nine hits in the fourth inning to score three times. Norm Siebern had two doubles and drove in two runs and Boog Powell also slugged a double for two runs in Baltimore's attack.

Twins Set Record The Minnesota Twins set a major league home run record when they hit consecutive home runs (by Don Mincher and Bob Allison) for the 14th time this season, breaking the old Yankee record first set in 1960 and duplicated by New York in 1961.

Mincher had two home runs in support of Camilo Pascual, who increased his record to 13-9 against the league and 11-1 against the expansion Senators. It was his 12th complete game. Roy Sievers hit his first home run for the Senators as a pinch-hitter.

Rookie Luis Tiant allowed Kansas City only six hits and fanned 12 in the nightcap to post his sixth victory against two losses for Cleveland. Fred Whitfield and Tito Francona homered for the Indians. The Athletics came from six runs down in the first game on a 16-hit attack against six Cleveland hurlers. Jim Gentile hit the only A's homer and Billy Moran connected for the Indians.

WOODSON SUCCESSFUL Warren Woodson, football coach at New Mexico State, has a career record of 211 wins, 99 defeats and 19 ties in 32 years.

Clark Expected To Regain Lead

VIENNA (UPI)—Defending world champion racing driver Jim Clark of Britain is favored to regain the lead in the current standings in the Austrian Grand Prix at Zeltweg Sunday.

Clark, racing for Lotus, presently is runner-up with 30 points to compatriot Graham Hill (BRM), who has collected 32 points in the six previous world championship races this year.

But Hill is unlikely to compete in the Zeltweg event because he broke a vertebra in a serious training accident on the Snetterton track near Norwich, England, last week.

With the exception of Hill, all the world's top drivers will compete in the Zeltweg event—the first world championship race ever held in Austria.

Belinsky Gets Wish For Trip to Islands

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Bob Belinsky, who earlier in the season said he wanted to go to Hawaii to escape the tension of being a major league pitcher, today had 72 hours in which to decide if he wants to play in the island paradise.

The Los Angeles Angels Tuesday reinstated their southpaw hurler after having suspended him last Friday following a hotel battle with a sports writer.

And General Manager Fred Hancy, after returning Belinsky to active status, immediately optioned him to the Angels' farm club in Hawaii.

Old Men of Chicago Bears Fashion Powerful Platoon

By MURRAY OLDERMAN, Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
CHICAGO — When Lou Creekmur was an old tackle near the end of the line with the Detroit Lions, he turned philosopher for Bill George, who was then a young guy with the Chicago Bears.

"Remember this, Bill, when you get to be my age," advised Creekmur. "As long as you're winning, you're an old pro. When you lose, you're just plain old."

The subject now pertains because George is a 33-year-old middle linebacker for the championship Chicago Bears, which makes him an old pro.

But last spring he was feeling just plain old because he didn't think the Bears appreciated his worth, and he was technically a free agent because he had played out the option on his contract. That's when he ran into Allie Sherman, the coach of the New York Giants, who is also a philosopher of sorts.

"You know," said Bill, "I wouldn't mind playing for you, Allie."

"Tell me," asked Allie, "how old are you, Bill?"

George informed him that on his next birthday in October he would be 34.

"I'm afraid," Sherman shook his head, "you're not old enough for us yet."

A guy wasn't old enough to play quarterback for the Giants until he lost all his hair. Their starting line-ups on offense and defense last year had eight men over 30, with three other antiquarians in spot roles. Considering their success, they had the franchise on growing old gracefully.

So George signed again with the Bears, and that doesn't exactly make him a loser, either.

Because the starting platoons that the Bears put in Soldier Field against the College All-Stars the other week had 11 men who were over 30 years old (and for at least half the game played like it, too).

Is this age fetish a dangerous thing? "You can't beat that experience," George Allen shook his head. George is the defensive genius in residence of the Bears and when he plots his checks to nullify the circles on a restaurant table cloth, he relies on three graybeards in his forward wall to rush the passer (Doug Atkins, Stan Jones and Earl Leggett), and a complete set of old-timers as his linebackers (George, flanked by Larry Morris and Joe Fortunato).

Since George Halas, the head coach, is a sprightly 69, no one feels out of place. It was mentioned to Papa Bear that the new 40-man player limit could ease worries by providing the veterans with a breathing spell in case their exertions got too much for them.

"You know," he said, "that's a good observation. We have those three linebackers, and with the new limit we can keep five. Roger Leclerc is coming along and rookie Mike Reilly looks like a good one."

How do you tell when the decrepitude of age tilts the experience factor?

Charley Winner, the defensive coach of the Baltimore Colts, has an answer for that. Charley wants to get Gino Marchetti, who is 37, to forget he ever retired because he would fill the Colts' greatest need — a pass rush. "Last year," said Charley, "they were still putting two and three men on Gino to block him out. When they get down to one, I'll know he's had it."

Better diet and better conditioning have advanced the average player's age. Jimmy Orr is so slight the other Colts call him "Peanuts" but he has existed as a split receiver for seven seasons, although he'll never play at more than 175 pounds. "I did some isometric exercises last spring to build myself up," said Jimmy, "but had to stop 'em — they began interfering with my golf swing."

HARVESTERS WON STATE
Pampa has won four state basketball championships and finished second another time. The Harvesters beat Austin 61-47 in 1953 and Crosier Tech (Dallas) 47-44 in 1954. They lost to Port Arthur 67-51 in 1957, then beat Port Arthur 48-47 in 1958 and Jefferson (Dallas) 65-52 in 1959.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

A Financial Drain and Disgrace

In 1945 when the world had taken its cruelest battering in all history, every man's heart cried out for everlasting peace. It is any wonder then, that the United Nations was welcomed with open arms by men of good will everywhere?

But what a shocking disappointment this organization has been — especially to those who have studied the deceitful workings of such branches of the UN as UNESCO, UNICEF and others.

Even to those who take only a surface look at the UN, all confidence in the organization as a keeper of the peace should have long since vanished. Its most recent adventure in barbarism — the intervention in the interval affairs of the Congo — was not only contrary to its claim of being the world's Peace- Keeper, but was in direct violation of its own charter.

It was bad enough observing the slaughter of innocent civilians in the Congo by the blue-helmeted UN troops there, but even worse was the depth to which our own country sunk in officially endorsing such action.

This double standard in our foreign policy strains the credibility of every thinking American. Throughout our history, we have adhered to a strict policy of non-intervention in the internal affairs of other nations. We even use this policy as a quasi-reason for inaction against the Red-monster Castro in Cuba. Yet we were not beneath lending moral and material support to the UN move to crush Katanga for its decision to secede from the rest of the Congo. Whatever Moise Tshombe's reasons were; whether he was sincere, or whether he was a villain, as propagandized by the U. S. State Department — it was none of our official business. Because of our complicity in the Congo action by the UN, Senator Thomas Dodd of Connecticut was moved to remark that it looked to him as if the world body were determining our foreign policy for us.

The Congo action was costly, not only in human life and property — and in the degradation of the United States in the eyes of the Free World — but also financially. According to the UN itself, the monetary cost of its Congo operation was so great that the organization is now threatened with financial bankruptcy. This, even after the decision in late 1962 to bleed $100 million from American taxpayers for UN bonds.

Now, it seems that if the Soviet Union and other delinquents fail to ante up on their past due assessments to the peace-keeping organization, they are threatened with loss of their individual votes in the General Assembly.

With customary bombast, the Soviets have told the rest of the UN where to go if it doesn't like it. And, as is customary, it appears as if the American taxpayers are again going to be stuck where it hurts — in the pocketbook — to avoid incurring further wrath on the part of the U.S.S.R.

We have a notion most Americans are getting more than a little fed up with this nonsense. If continued membership in the UN were left up to the people, in a general election, it is a distinct possibility that U Thant's gang might have to try to struggle along without us. How long this could be done without your hard-earned dollars is problematic. However, we'd like to make a bet the UN building in New York would be filled with cobwebs in a remarkably short time — with the world none the worse for its demise. If the utility of further membership in the UN is apparent to you, why not let your Congressman and Senator know in a letter — tonight!

Character

One thing is certain. You are not born with character. You either acquire it thru self-discipline and self-denial, or you never obtain it.

Bar This Kind of 'Pillow Talk'

A chemistry professor — a toponch one, incidentally — has come up with the idea that people should be taught things while they sleep.

There is so much to learn these days, he says, that we can't afford to waste the time we spend sleeping.

He believes it is possible to develop methods of utilizing the subconscious and thus make learning a 24-hour, around-the-clock, never-a-second-wasted project.

The professor. But some of us want to be left alone when we hit the hay and not have the old noggin stuffed with knowledge we don't even know is going into it.

Aside from the old-fashioned belief that a guy deserves a little rest from trying to cope with what confuses him when he's awake, it would be doggone disconcerting to go to sleep knowing that the privacy of your dreams is going to be invaded by some character who probably ought to be asleep himself instead of poking into your subconscious mind.

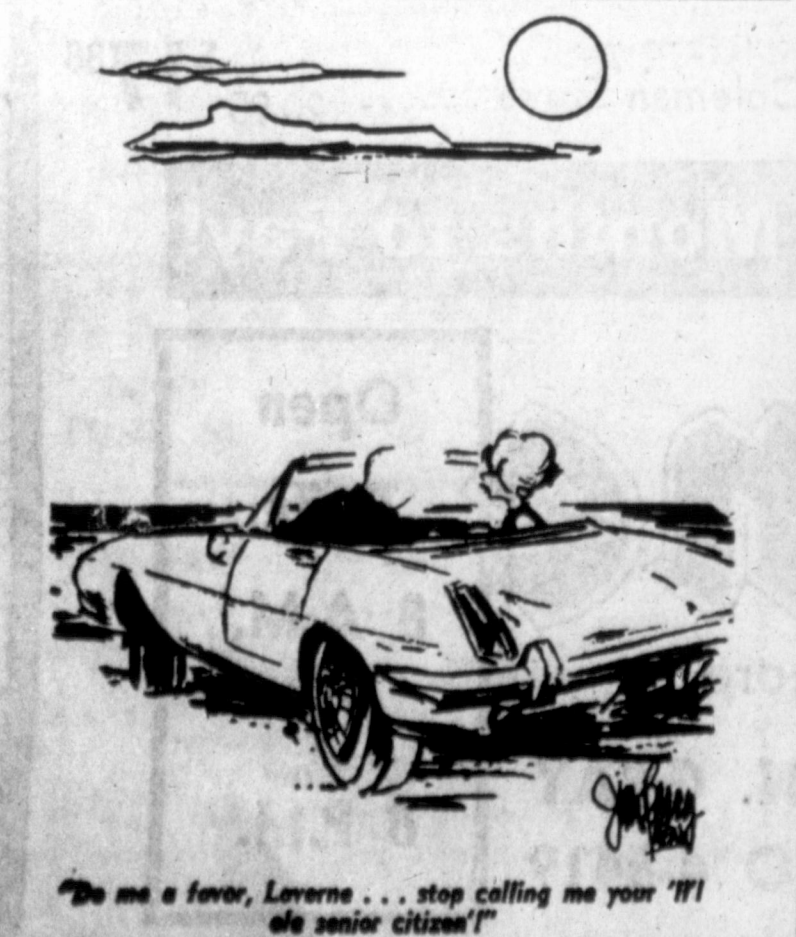

We don't know whether such carryings-on would be illegal, improper or unnatural. But we do have the distinct feeling they would be unnerving.

Please go away, professor, and let a tired man sleep. If a real beat guy can't relax then, when can he?

VIET NAM REPORT

'We Can Win War and Lose The Country'

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — We can win the military war in South Viet Nam and lose the country.

That is the conviction I have brought back with me after an intensive tour of the war-torn land which included 120 interviews with tough fighting Viet Cong, Vietnamese, American military and political officers, and village and hamlet chiefs.

I spent two weeks getting these firsthand views in critical areas of the country.

The crucial problem is this: I've gone into hamlet after hamlet and asked where the young men are. I've been told they're with the Viet Cong.

The Viet Cong strategy is to take over the countryside and isolate the cities. In major areas south of Saigon they have already done this.

The South Viet Nam government controls the provincial and district capitals and narrow strips along major highways. The government can clear main roads every morning. The Communists come back at night.

In the hamlets, where most of the people of South Viet Nam live, the Communists have almost a monopoly on propaganda and politics. In that vacuum, the Red propaganda line wins.

Government political parties have little membership outside of Saigon and a few major cities. In many parts of the south, local officials have no real contact with the people except to collect taxes or round up conscripts for the army.

The ruling South Viet Nam government group in Saigon is military. All provinces are divided into districts, which are headed by military officers. Most of South Viet Nam's people are farmers. They are suspicious of military men.

Village and hamlet government is weak. By a highly selective process of killing or intimidating the small number of effective-village and hamlet chiefs, the Viet Cong have made local government even weaker.

In districts I visited where local officials are weak, corrupt or indifferent, farmers don't cooperate with the government and local militiamen won't fight. These districts are wide-spread.

In other districts I've seen where the Saigon government has sent in strong, graft-busting officials, the citizens sabotage the Communists and the local militiamen fight. But there are few of these districts.

The importance of men and arms brought down from North Viet Nam for use in the war in the south has been seriously underestimated by U.S. military authorities.

Because of the importance of this traffic, the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam naval facilities (which came while I was traveling on the remote Viet Nam-Cambodia border) had an excellent effect on the Vietnamese. It showed that the U.S. meant business. Many Vietnamese had begun to doubt our determination. The U.S. action was dramatic and positive. But the war still has to be won in the south. We're not winning.

The situation is far from hopeless. High and low Vietnamese officials, army officers and private citizens — speaking with amazing candor — have outlined at length for me the mistakes they and their colleagues are making, why these mistakes are being made and what they propose to do about them.

They were harsher on themselves than any people I've ever talked to.

The Padang of the South Shan states deform the necks of their women by making them wear — from early childhood onwards — high metal collars whose length is gradually increased; this eventually produces such elongation and dislocation of the neck that if the collars were removed the wearers would not be able to hold up their heads.

Nowhere to Go but Down

Question Box

QUESTION: "Is one man harming or injuring another harmful to all?"

ANSWER: It most certainly is. Just as the gain of one in producing wealth is the gain of all, so the loss of one in producing wealth is the loss of all.

Of course men will have losses but if it is due to their own judgment then other people may learn and perhaps the individual himself will learn from his own error and thus it would not be a loss.

When one man initiates force against another to take from him and thus injure or harm him, either his reputation or his material well being, or misguide him as to what is universally right and good, then the harm done is harm and injury to all.

So man is naturally interested, if we want to have a peaceful and harmonious society, that no one harms another. As an illustration of the harm of one being the harm of another is labor unions which combine to prevent any individual from having the right to make an individual contract as to what wages he believes he is worth and for which he is willing to work. To prevent any individual from getting a job and learning the hardest job he is capable of doing is to harm everyone because it reduces production. Anything which reduces production is harmful to all.

This is true because what is not produced cannot be distributed and wealth has to be distributed to benefit its owner. And again the more tools, the more competition in getting workers to use them and the more competition for buyers.

The same thing applies to protective tariffs and immigration restrictions because it interferes with man's natural right to make a contract. Anything which interferes with this right has a tendency to retard that individual from having the full use of his faculties. If anything interferes with the full use of man's capabilities it is harmful to all.

Henry Carey, British dramatist and composer, best remembered for his song "Sally in Our Alley," tried something back in 1734 no Broadway producer or playwright would tackle today. He successfully spoofed the then current London stage with a burlesque entitled "Chrononhotologos," which he characterized as "the most tragical tragedy that was ever tragedized." And, if the title wasn't enough to arouse public curiosity and make his work remembered, he gave his characters such names as "Aldiborontophosephorion."

We'd love to read VARIETY's review of that one if it was produced today. Maybe someone like David Merrick will try it!

Thoughts while shaving: The latest in hirsute adornments in Paris are false mustaches for men. They come in four colors and sell for about $6. We wondered if a gal removed her wig and her boy friend took off his mustache if they'd recognize each other. . . . We always thought Howard Johnson had cornered the ice cream market with his 28 flavors until we heard there's a place in Chesterton, Indiana, that serves 200 different flavors. A friend, visiting there, asked for a plate of "black" ice cream and was promptly served a licorice flavored concoction. . . . And, one of our Louisiana readers, who collects such oddities, sent us a batch of unusual names. They include: Penny Ransome, Charity Grant, Dewey Valle, Ida Clare, Moody Fellows, E. R. Such, and Bucksot B. Lien. . . . Never knew until recently the reason there are no skyscrapers in Washington, D.C. Congress once enacted a building regulation that limits the height to 12 stories so that the 556-foot Washington Monument will always be the capital's tallest structure.

When the nuclear submarine "Sedragon" surfaced at the North Pole in August 1960 the crew organized a baseball game, perhaps the first and only game of its kind ever played in that region. Because of Polar time differences, when a batter clouted a home run it would land either the next day, Automation has hit sport fishing and anglers no longer have to sit around and wait for them to nibble. An electronic transistorized fish call is now available. Just drop it over the side of the boat and it emits sound waves that attract fish directly to the source. Sportsmen say it doesn't give fishermen an unfair advantage of the fish any more than a duck call helps a poor shot.

Wit and Whimsy

A modern home is one in which a switch controls everything except the children.

We must not take up arms for vain prospects of grandeur, nor the allurements of conquest.

The child was out visiting with her mother. The stay was lengthy and the little girl became restless.

Little Girl (interrupted) — Mother—

Mother — Mary, it's rude to interrupt while I am speaking; you should wait until I finish.

Little Girl — But, you don't finish.

Mr. Dealer — What kind of coal do you wish, mum? Mrs. Newlywed — Dear me, I am so inexperienced in these things. Are there various kinds? Mr. Dealer — Oh, yes. We have egg coal, chestnut— Mrs. Newlywed — I think I'll take egg coal. We have eggs oftener than we have chestnuts.

MOST OF US DO NOT NEED TO BE LED INTO TEMPTATIONS — WE CAN FIND OUR OWN WAY.

Stranger: Say I need help. Do you have a criminal lawyer in this town? Native: Wal, we're pretty sure we have, but we can't prove it.

Joseph: That girl across the hall has a singular voice. Ralph: Thank heaven it isn't plural.

Bookie: Does your sweetie dress like a show gal? Rookie: I don't know — I never saw her dress.

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

"Candy" is Proof You Can't Judge Book by Its Contents

NEW YORK — Having been badly disappointed so many times, we do not generally bother with the novels on the best-sellers list. But "Candy" by Terry Southern and Mason Hoffenberg struck us as a worthwhile exception, being almost completely pornographic according to several eminent writers who were quoted on the back cover of the dust jacket.

They did not actually say that "Candy" is "almost completely pornographic." They said it was a "work of brilliance and solid worth" and that after it "sex in America would never be the same." But, they said, as things "a satire on pornography, it might be mistaken for pornography."

So we forked out $5 and hoped for the best because pornography, even mistakable pornography, is very hard to find nowadays. Despite all the current furor and public debate over this kind of literature, neither the prosecution nor the defense ever seems to mention any titles you can either buy or write away for.

We have spent a great deal of time in this pursuit as we are convinced there must be something at the bottom of this pornography dispute. But all we have got for our trouble is a whole lot of books in languages we cannot read and a copy of James Joyce's "Ulysses" which we bought in the dead of night from a high school boy in Austin, Texas, in the mistaken belief that it was banned.

There is no point to believing the ads for best-selling novels, either. A woman's unbridled passion set against a background of desperate politics or high danger, we have found, always seems to be 17 pages of middle-age infidelity at the Interstate Commerce Commission or on top of Mt. Everest, depending on whether the book was published during a political scandal or an Olympic year.

Well, we have read the book and still do not know if it is pornography. It is the story of a young lady's search for a man who needs her and she fares on this quest. She fares either well or badly, depending on what you think is proper fare. But in either case, she fares so continuously that we had to give up the book in complete boredom.

As to whether it is the kind of great satire after which sex in America will never be the same, we cannot say, either, as we did not know what sex in America was like before.

All we can tell for sure is that we got four good laughs out of the book. That averages out to $1.25 per laugh and is quite expensive compared with "Harper's Bazaar," which costs only 75 cents and is three times as funny and sexy.

Well, you say, that is what the fellow gets for judging a book by its cover. And you will be absolutely right. But there seems to be no other way. You simply cannot judge literature nowadays by its content.
