Bolstered US Forces Set for 'Any Action'

FBI Expecting Arrests at Any Time in Slayings

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—The FBI, with arrests expected "at any time," dodged comment today on a report that an informer had named five persons, including a Baptist minister, as the slayers of three civil rights workers.

Negro comedian Dick Gregory said in Honolulu Wednesday night that, in response to a $25,000 reward offer, he had received a letter pinpointing the spot where the bodies of the victims were buried and naming the men responsible for the killings. Gregory said he gave the letter to the FBI three weeks ago.

FBI agents found the bodies of the youths, missing since June 21, under 23 feet of clay at a pond dam on a farm near Philadelphia, Miss., Tuesday evening.

The FBI in Jackson and Washington had "no comment" on Gregory's statement. Agents also refused to say whether arrests were imminent, as reported by reliable sources.

Has Tape Recording
Gregory said he also had a tape recording in which the informer identifies the killers and "mentions that they (the civil rights workers) were shot." Reports said that an official autopsy, expected to be made public today, would show that the workers were shot.

Mureen Murphy, 22, who said she was a co-worker with the victims, said in Los Angeles that she was with Gregory when he received the letter. She said it came from a man in Washington, D.C.

FBI agents, working around the clock in shifts to break the case, hauled possible evidence from the red clay dam site in 20-gallon cans for relay to the FBI lab in Washington.

Area Still Blocked
At one point late Wednesday, the FBI advised the state highway patrol that roadblocks would not be needed any longer in the area, but this was countermanded later and agents returned to the tedious effort of sifting evidence at the scene.

Earth from the spot where the bodies were found was shoveled onto a wire screen which caught every scrap of foreign objects. Agents were searching among other things for insignificant articles such as a particular kind of cigarette butt or a shirt button that might have been dropped by someone burying the bodies.

"I wish I could have a psychiatrist examine whoever did this right now and see what they're thinking now that we've got the bodies," an agent said at the search area. "I sure am glad to find these people but I'll bet it's not a relief for some around here."

Shooting Indicated
The bodies of the civil rights workers—Andrew Goodman, 20, of New York; Michael Schwerner, 24, of Brooklyn, N.Y.; and Negro James Chaney, 21, of Meridian, Miss.—were removed in plastic bags to the University of Mississippi medical center in Jackson for thorough examination.

The autopsy indicated each man had been shot in the body but had not been mutilated, according to published reports here.

The three were part of a task force of volunteers and professional civil rights staff members spending the summer on a "Mississippi project" of Negro voter registration and "freedom training."

Hope Fades For 5 Miners
CHAMPAGNOLE, France (UPI)—Rescue workers today virtually abandoned hope of finding alive any of five miners buried deep inside Mount Rivel by a cave-in July 27.

"The last chances of finding any survivors are now slipping away," Mayor Andre Socie of Champagnole told reporters after two probing operations failed to locate the missing men.

Nine of 14 men who were buried in the Mount Rivel chalk mine were brought up safely Tuesday. But their comrades have been missing ever since the original cave-in.

Johnson Pushing Medicare Action
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson dispatched top administration spokesmen to the Senate today to open a drive for action this election year on his program of health care for the elderly financed through Social Security.

Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, was the opening witness before the Senate Finance Committee as hearings began on the bitterly contested Medicare issue.

Doggone TV Has Odd Quirk

SHERMAN (UPI) — Earl Ellington, 37, was more impressed than ever today by the marvels of modern electronics.

He found out Wednesday that it was his dog, Buck, who had been turning on his television set each day while he was at work.

It seems the dog stood in front of the remote-controlled set and shook his head, causing his vaccination tags to jangle together and trigger the on-off switch.

4 Persons Hurt In Two Separate Auto Accidents

Two separate automobile accidents near Pampa last night sent four persons to Highland General Hospital in good condition.

The first accident occurred about 8:30 p.m. on State Highway 152, 4 1/2 miles west of Pampa.

Injured were Michael Clark, 20, of 101 Terry Rd., and Vernon S. Epperson, 16, of Route 2. According to Highway Patrolmen Paul Geiser and Stanley Schneider, who investigated the accident, Epperson was driving a tractor west on 152 when an auto driven by Clark rammed into the rear end.

Both the tractor and car were heavily damaged. Clark was dismissed from the hospital this morning.

A one-car turnover at 1 a.m. today, sent two McLean residents to Highland General Hospital.

Listed in good condition at the hospital are 17-year-old David Seaney and 19-year-old Ronald A. Brown.

Patrolmen said Brown apparently lost control of his car. The car struck an embankment and overturned. It was totally demolished.

Dien Bien Phu Hero Thought Leading Reds
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The man believed to be the architect of Communist North Vietnam's military operations against the United States is one of the world's top authorities on guerrilla warfare.

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, commander of the North Vietnamese armed forces and the victor of Dien Bien Phu, drove the French out of Indochina and is determined to do the same to the United States.

Renewed Attack by Viets Held Unlikely

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY
WASHINGTON (UPI) — American forces in Southeast Asia, bolstered by the addition of still more guns, planes and ships, stood poised today to repel any further Communist aggression.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said Wednesday night he did not believe the Red North Vietnamese would launch another of their sneak attacks on U.S. vessels but "if they do, we certainly will respond as we did in the last 72 hours."

As for the possible intervention of Red China or the Soviet Union, McNamara said, "we are prepared for any action they may take."

The Pentagon chief said the air strikes against Communist torpedo boat bases, gun emplacements and an oil depot along 100 miles of the North Vietnamese coast early Wednesday were "highly successful."

McNamara said the strike was a success not only from the military viewpoint, but because it made "unmistakably clear" to North Viet Nam the United States' determination to repel unprovoked attacks on American ships.

He said that reconnaissance photographs, taken after the raids, showed that 25 of North Viet Nam's 40 to 50 torpedo boats and almost 10 per cent of its oil supply were damaged or destroyed by U.S. fighter-bombers.

Some Communist anti-aircraft installations near the North Viet Nam targets also were damaged or destroyed during the raids, he said.

Two U.S. planes were downed but one of the two missing pilots was believed to have landed in North Vietnamese territory and been captured, he said. A third U.S. plane was damaged during the strikes, but returned safely.

The Navy said the two planes shot down were hit by regular anti-aircraft fire rather than anti-aircraft missiles. The Skyraider attack craft and a jet-propelled Skyhawk attack bomber.

North Viet Nam claimed that five U.S. planes were shot down and three more damaged in the raids.

Most of the damage was inflicted by rocket fire from planes of the aircraft carriers Constellation and Ticonderoga, McNamara said the destroyers Maddox and C. Turner Joy, the two U.S. warships attacked twice by the North Vietnamese PT-boats, were still on patrol in the Gulf of Tonkin. There are no plans at present to increase this patrol, he said.

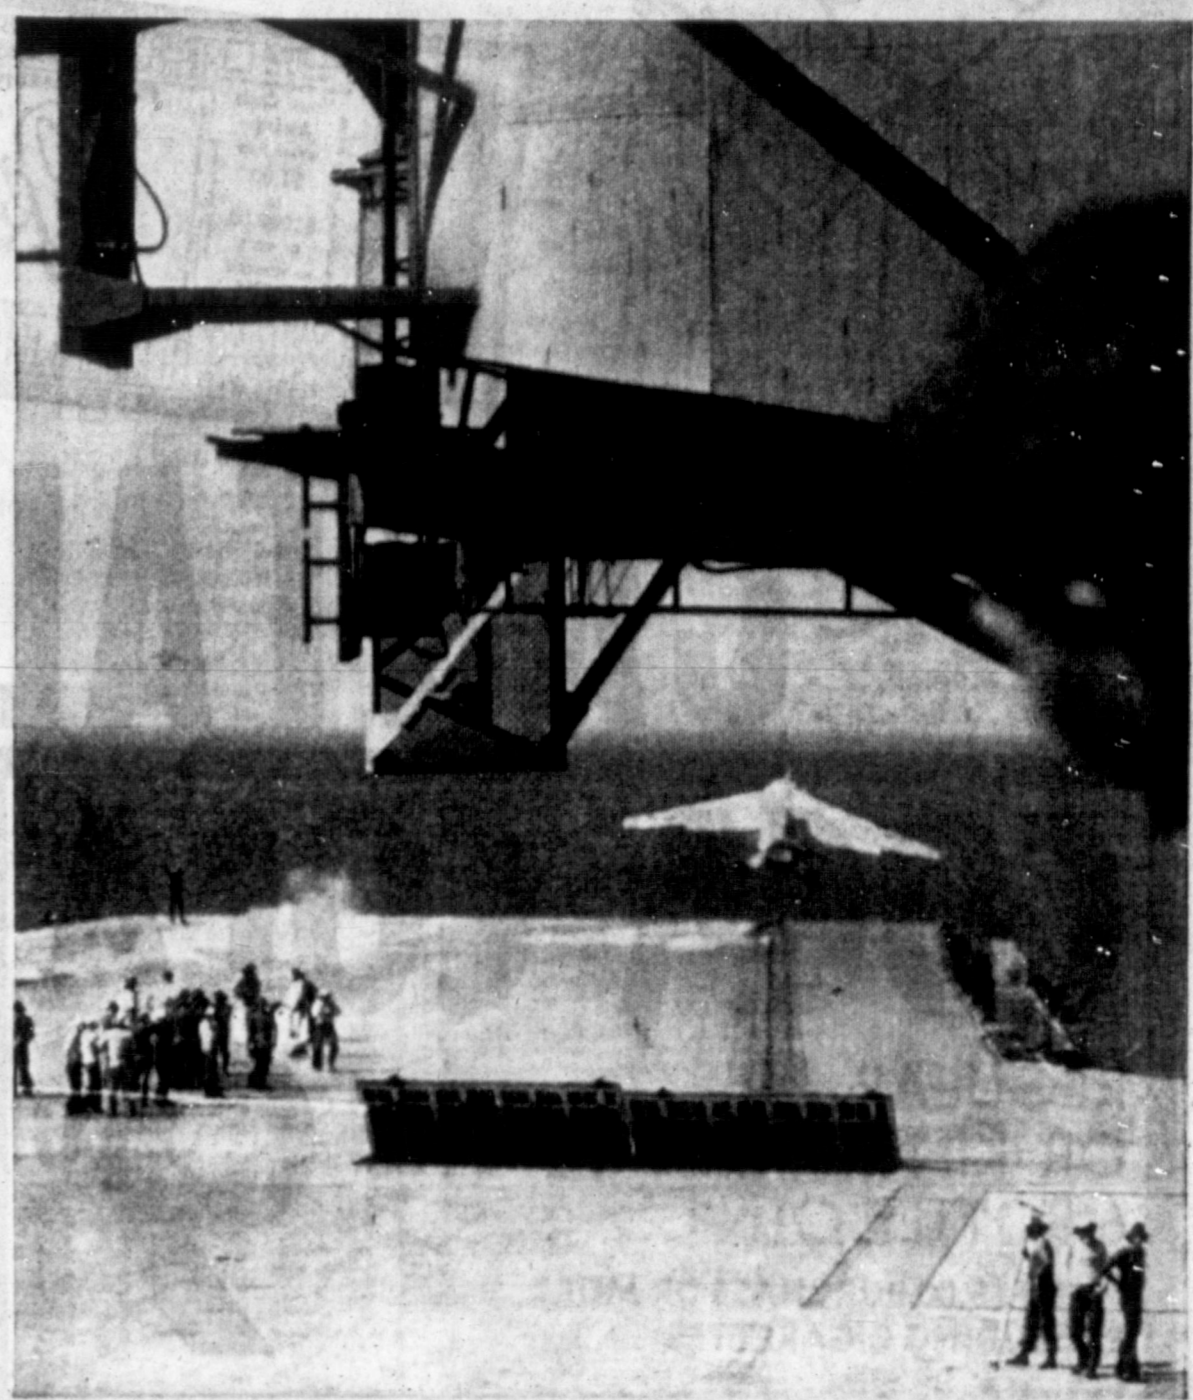

McNamara said the dispatch of U.S. reinforcements to the area was "purely precautionary," although the units were powerful enough to handle all any crisis.

McNamara said the United States would not bomb cities in North Viet Nam except as a last resort. "Our response will be firm, limited and relative to the aggression," he added.

Poverty Issue Near Showdown
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's anti-poverty bill, heavily lubricated to silence a potentially dangerous states' rights squeak, rolled today toward a House showdown.

Although the battle still was far from over, managers of the President's top-priority bill felt the odds had tipped slightly in favor of approval for the legislation Friday.

But the best sign that they were still scrambling for every vote was the decision of House Democratic leaders to hold off voting on the $962.5 million measure until after today's Tennessee primary. They hope to get six or more votes from that nine-member delegation.

IN VIET NAM BATTLE — A Navy fighter plane lifts off the flight deck of the U.S. carrier Constellation, yesterday in the thick of a battle off North Viet Nam. The Constellation, aided by sister carrier Ticonderoga, launched 64 planes on missions to attack North Vietnamese PT boats and maintenance installations. ATOMIC SUBS SET AT SECRET SPOTS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Eight U.S. submarines, including three nuclear-powered ones, were poised for action today at secret locations in the Western Pacific, according to Rear Adm. Eugene B. Fluckey.

Fluckey, new commander of the Pacific Fleet submarine force, said Wednesday at a news conference aboard the submarine Tender Nereus docked here that the Western Pacific submarine force is "ready if needed."

Russia 'Tough Talk' Hides Embarrassment

MOSCOW (UPI)—A stern Soviet warning that further action by the United States against North Viet Nam could lead to "broad armed conflict" was viewed by diplomatic sources today as tough talk to cover up Kremlin embarrassment over the crisis and hopes for peace.

The sources said the Soviets feel they have nothing to gain in a clash in Southeast Asia, where Communist China controls the local Communist parties, and a great deal to lose in their efforts to ease cold war tensions with the United States.

The warnings of general war, they said, went hand in hand with hopes that there is no further action in the U.S.-Vietnamese crisis.

Soviet calmness over the crisis was underlined by the fact that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was out of Moscow on a trip and that many of his chief aides were vacationing—yet none appeared to be making plans to come back to the capital.

U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler left today for a vacation in West Germany, which he had arranged before the crisis came up.

Soviet reaction to the U.S. retaliatory attacks Wednesday was cautious in the early hours with only factual reports of President Johnson's speech and no comment. By Wednesday night, however, Soviet propaganda outlets were broadcasting a harsh warning.

It called the U.S. bombing of North Vietnamese bases "an aggressive act."

"Such actions, further rash steps or provocations in that area, could cause events capable of converting the incidents that took place there into a broad armed conflict with all the ensuing dangerous consequences," the statement added.

Two Missing Pilots Identified by U.S.
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department has identified the two Navy pilots missing in the air strike against North Vietnamese naval bases and said one of them may have been captured by the Communists.

The pilots both flying from the carrier Constellation, were Lt. (j.g.) Everett Alvarez Jr., 26, husband of Tanger Alvarez of 1203 Madrona Ave., San Jose, Calif., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Alvarez of 2168 Bohannon Drive, Santa Clara, Calif., and Lt. (j.g.) Richard C. Sather, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Sather of 338 West McKinley, Pomona, Calif.

Crisis Still Issue, Republicans Insist

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's "fight-if-we-must" action has dampened but not smothered the Vietnamese crisis as a 1964 campaign issue, key Republicans said today.

Minority party members in Congress made it clear they had "no choice" but to unite behind the President in replying to Communist aggression with retaliatory attacks on North Vietnamese coastal installations.

But there was a strong "at this time" qualification in their comments on whether the war in Viet Nam was entering a political sidetrack.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., said he backed Johnson's action, but that it did not take the Viet Nam issue out of the presidential election campaign.

"Viet Nam is going to be discussed," he said. "We have been maintaining right along that the administration hasn't been doing enough to win the war."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in town for discussions with presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and other Republican leaders, told a reporter:

"It's too early to take Viet Nam out of the campaign. I hope the President's action presages more decisive moves, but what has happened is only part of the problem. The major problem is guerrilla war — on that we need a plan."

While Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., the GOP vice presidential nominee, agreed that the President's stern action had removed Southeast Asia as an issue "as of now," he suggested the situation might be different by October or November.

Crisis at A Glance

American forces in Southeast Asia bolstered by more guns, planes and ships.

Congress prepared to back President Johnson with formal declaration of U.S. determination to respond to any further attacks.

South Viet Nam and its U.S. Allies prepared for any North Vietnamese reaction.

Top State Department officials in slight disagreement on what prompted attacks by North Viet Nam. Some contend it was part of an effort to force United States into new international conference on Viet Nam; Secretary of State Rusk disagrees.

Soviet-American dispute over Vietnamese participation threatens to delay United Nations debate on the Southeast Asia crisis.

Norwegian Ambassador Sivert Nielson, president of the Security Council for August, made it clear there would be no meeting of the council today.

President Johnson meets at White House with U.N. Secretary General Thant. Southeast Asia crisis expected to be leading topic of discussion.

Peking People's Daily, official newspaper of the Chinese Communist party, criticizes U.S. counterattack but indicates that any military action against the United States would be up to the North Vietnamese.

Leading Republicans emphasize they had "no choice" but to unite behind Johnson's decision to stage retaliatory attacks on North Vietnamese coast installation.

Moscow: Stern Soviet warning that further action by the United States against North Viet Nam could lead to "broad armed conflict" interpreted as nothing more than tough talk.

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, commander of the North Vietnamese armed forces and victor over the French at Dien Bien Phu 10 years ago, believed to be architect of military operations against United States.

Nine Injured in High Winds on Texas Gulf Coast

By United Press International
Storms packing winds up to 103 miles an hour slammed up the upper Gulf Coast of Texas Wednesday night, injuring nine persons, flooding roads and churning up tidal waters that battered small craft.

The turbulent night followed the hottest day of the year in many parts of Texas, with Wichita Falls recording a high of 110 degrees.

Damage was heavy from the Louisiana border west to Houston, but heaviest at Sabine Pass, where a twister dipped down over the Keith Lake section. It flattened one house, damaged others and swept a small foreign car off the road.

Slightly cooler weather was predicted for the Panhandle Friday, but the only other relief from the heat was expected to be temporary and of a local nature, from the scattered showers.

For many places, Wednesday was the hottest day in years. At least 31 Texas cities recorded 100-plus temperatures. At Fort Worth, the 106 was the hottest since July 30, 1957. Henderson's 106 was the hottest since July 12, 1925 and 108 at Tyler made Wednesday the hottest day since July 25, 1954.

Every Film a Risk, Says Gregory Peck

(EDITORS NOTE: Vernon Scott is on vacation. Today's guest writer is actor Gregory Peck who minimizes the ham in-ham actors)

By GREGORY PECK
Written For UPI
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Gary Cooper once told me that an actor is lucky if he gets two good movies out of every five he makes. In my observation Cooper's odds were, if anything, on the short side.

I took 19 years, 34 pictures and five nominations before I got to "A Man Called Horse" which brought me an Oscar. Still, I was fortunate to have so many shots at it, when one considers that only 36 "best actor" awards have been voted since the Motion Picture Academy opened for business in 1928.

Among those 34 films, it must be admitted, are some I'd rather forget. But one of the first things an actor must learn is to take his brickbats from the critics and public as philosophically as his nature will allow. Every film is a risk, artistically and financially, and none of us is bomb-proof.

While granting that humility is hardly a mark of the actor's trade, I submit that he does not entirely deserve the exaggerated ego-portrait that has long been drawn of him.

With very few exceptions among the long-lasting stars I have known, none worries about his billing, or scene-stealing, or which side looks toward the camera. He worries about finding good pictures. Since a movie is made by hundreds of interdependent people, the actor who can choose looks for the best potential combination of talents. And because the cinema is the director's medium, the actor's first consideration—after the story, of course—is the choice of director.

Over the years, I've had the opportunity of working with many of the best directors—Wyler, Hitchcock, Kazan, Huston, Vidal—but I was in Hollywood for nearly twenty years before I had the chance to work with Fred Zinnemann. He is known to actors as a dedicated seeker of perfection, and when he asked me to join him in making "Behold A Pale Horse", I spent little time in agreeing.

There was a time when a "star" might have taken a long second-look at the offer. The part was that of an aging former guerrilla fighter, impoverished, unshaven and unsure of his courage. Yet anyone who remembers Montgomery Clift in "The Search," Marlon Brando in "The Men," Gary Cooper in "High Noon" or dozens of other characters from Zinnemann films; knows what he can do to bring about a true characterization.

Mindzenty to Go to Vatican

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — A high Vatican source said today that Hungarian Primate Josef Cardinal Mindszenty will leave the U.S. legation in Budapest to come to Rome "sometime this fall—probably in October."

The cardinal has been living in the U.S. legation in Budapest since 1956 when he sought political asylum after Soviet tanks crushed the Hungarian freedom revolt.

Negotiations to obtain his freedom have been under way for some time.

The Vatican source said that "the question of Vatican-Hungarian relations dealing with Catholics in that country is nearing solution."

MARRIES AGAIN

LONDON (UPI)—Mrs. Thora Glasfurd, a 41-year-old widow who spent five years as a novice nun after her first husband died, remarried Wednesday.

Mrs. Glasfurd said she left the convent without taking final vows and then met her new husband, opera House manager Arthur Tolson.

Pecos Cantaloupe Growers Foresee Bumper Crop

PECOS, Tex. (UPI)—Cantaloupe growers in the Pecos area neared the end of the mid-summer harvest this week and predicted another bumper crop of sweet-smelling, sweet-tasting melons. The world-famous Pecos cantaloupe is expected to put more than $1 million into the local economy.

M. L. Todd Co., the oldest packer in the area, expected 20 crates an acre—one of the highest yields in recent years.

Overall production was expected to average about 175 crates an acre on some 1,500 acres. Harvest operations began around July 1 and will end about the middle of this month.

The four major packers in the area were knee-deep in the tasty melons this week, busily loading the crates into refrigerated trucks for shipment throughout the world.

Don Vison, a Todd salesman, said most of the shipments in this country will go to Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and the Midwest. He said California, with direct coast-to-coast rail connections, had the lion's share of northern markets.

Pecos cantaloupes came into prominence in the early 20s, when the Texas & Pacific Railroad began serving them on dining cars. Their fame spread to big hotels and exclusive restaurants throughout the world.

Pecos melons gained added prominence early this year when congressional investigators preparing a report on the far-flung activities of bankrupt farm tycoon Billie Sol Estes learned of his 70 to 100-name "cantaloupe list."

Estes, who lived in Pecos before he was convicted of swindling, gave crates of Pecos can-taloupes in 1961 to the late President Kennedy, then Vice-President Johnson. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., Jack Cox, of Houston, unsuccessful Republican candidate for the Texas governorship in 1962, and many others.

Though Finland's population numbers only 4.5 million persons, they support 225 newspapers, National Geographic says.

Texas Engineers Confer on Bridge Project in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Two engineers representing Cameron County, Texas, met today with a Mexican government engineering team to iron out technical obstacles delaying construction of a new bridge across the Rio Grande between Brownsville, Tex., and Matamoros, Mexico.

Frank Neuman, partner in the Houston engineering firm of Lockwood, Andrews and Neuman, said before entering the closed-door session, that the proposed span would replace the present "gateway" bridge.

The meeting might last all day, Neuman said, and if successful, would probably be followed by another international meeting at Brownsville or Matamoros to set dates for bids and construction dates and Neuman was accompanied by Pat Clark, the firm's chief bridge engineer, who has been retained by Cameron County as a consultant in the matter, in association with the firm's Corpus Christi office director, H.C. Innes.

The two Texas engineers met with Fernando Espinosa, Vice-Guerrero Gama and Gaston del Rio of the Mexican government Public Works Ministry.

"We are picking up where we left off about 18 months ago," Neuman declared, and in the meantime the Mexican responsibility in the project has moved to another department.

He expressed optimism about the outcome of renewed negotiations and characterized the differences as "slight."

The negotiation renewal was decided upon after Neuman arrived here as a delegate of the American Society of Civil Engineers to the annual National Mexican Engineering Association convention, currently under way, he said.

HOTEL DESIGNATED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic national convention committee designated the Haddon Hall Hotel as the official quarters for the Texas delegation to the party's convention starting Aug. 24 at Atlantic City, N.J.

ferred here as a delegate of the American Society of Civil Engineers to the annual National Mexican Engineering Association convention, currently under way, he said.

Hospital Unit to Be Dedicated

CANADIAN (Sp) — Mrs. Mary Louther, manager of the Hemphill County Memorial Hospital, has announced that the new hospital wing will be dedicated at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The program will be followed by open house and the entire hospital will be open for inspection.

The nursing staff will demonstrate the use of the new equipment and conduct a tour of inspection.

The new wing contains 11 private rooms, all fully equipped, storage space and equipment room.

The baby blue whale doubles its birth length of 24 feet in seven months.

New Version of Famous Cord Auto Due

By FREDERICK LANKARD
TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—In 1937 a classic automobile—the Cord—went out of production.

This weekend the 1964 version of the streamlined machine with the silver supercharger pipes sweeping out of the engine hood will be unveiled by Glenn Pray, a former Tulsa school teacher and owner of the Cord Automobile Co.

Pray's plunge into the world of auto manufacturing began in 1960 with his purchase of the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Co., of Auburn, Ind., a firm Pray described as a victim of the depression.

The transaction brought 600,000 pounds of spare parts and rights to some of the grandest names in motoring to an old canning company plant in Broken Arrow, Okla.

Under its new owner, the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Co., flourished as a restoration center for the old autos. Pray then organized the Cord Automobile Co. and started work on the new Cord, known as the Sportsman 8-10 model.

Scaled Down

Saturday's public unveiling at the Tulsa assembly center will reveal a car styled after a 1936 mint model of the Cord, but reduced to 8-10 the original size. Representatives of the major auto manufacturers were reported planning to attend the showing.

A press preview of the new machine was scheduled for today, and Pray said the car will go to the New York World's Fair after the Tulsa display.

The new car is made of expanded Royalite, a plastic substance produced by the U.S. Rubber Co. The two-passenger Sportsman convertible weighs in at 2,100 pounds. It has a front end driving unit, a six-cylinder air-cooled engine and a 100-inch wheel base instead of the 125-inch base of the original model.

Although the first Sportsman was made by hand, Pray indicated the first assembly-line production is scheduled for the first of 1965. He estimated 2,000 Cords—to sell for $4,000 and up—will be produced the first year.

Prestige Car
Pray described the new Cord as "a prestige car for those who can afford it."

Orders for the Cord, whose body styling will remain unchanged from year to year, are already coming in and Pray said present facilities could eventually allow production of 10,000 of the cars annually.

Thirty years ago the Cord was far ahead of its time in both engineering and styling. Today, Glenn Pray is putting them back on the road.

Tomorrow: According to Pray the next step is the Auburn automobile Co.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—Three houses were buried in a cave-in Monday at a gold mine about 50 miles southwest of here.

Reports from the site said six persons died in the incident, an unidentified white miner, his wife and three children as well as an African colored servant who was sleeping in an out-house.

COTTON ACREAGE OFF LUBBOCK (UPI)—The 1964 South Plains cotton crop will total 1,958,000 bales, the Lubbock Cotton Exchange estimated over the weekend. Output per acre will be slightly below last year, the exchange said.

Grilled Sandwiches Are Great

Can you think of anything better than a hefty hot hoagy... topped with a cheese sauce? It's an experience in sandwich pleasure!

Canned condensed Cheddar cheese soup is the secret of this sandwich's success. Rich in cheese flavor, you give the soup sauce a touch of garlic powder and oregano. This tops the meat, tomatoes, and onion which have been arranged on rolls. Then... under the broiler for a few minutes to heat and brown. Served with chopped hot cherry peppers on top, this Hot Cheese Hoagy is a treat worth repeating.

Plan some accompanying celery, carrot sticks, and radishes for crunch... and fresh fruit for dessert. A great meal...

and there's no time like the present! August is Sandwich Month!

HOT CHEESE HOAGY
1 package (10 ounces) brown and serve French rolls
1/2 pound thinly sliced hard salami
1/2 cup thinly sliced onion
1 medium tomato, thinly sliced
1 can (11 ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed
Chopped hot cherry peppers

Prepare rolls as directed on package; split and toast. Arrange salami on rolls. Top with onion and tomato. Combine soup, garlic, and oregano. Spread evenly over surface; cover edges completely. Broil about 4 inches from heat about 8 minutes. Garnish with peppers. Makes 4 servings.

Brazil Nut Torte Sumptuous Dessert

by GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
We went to a very gala supper recently and discovered this Brazil Nut Torte. Not exactly the dish for a calorie-counter, but for those who crave luscious desserts, this is an answer to their prayer. Very easy to make, we discovered from our hosts.

BRAZIL NUT TORTE
1 package angel food cake mix
1 teaspoon brandy flavoring
1 1/2 cups ground Brazil nuts
Prepare and bake cake according to package directions, adding brandy flavoring after the egg whites are beaten and folding in ground Brazil nuts after the flour. Cut in three layers; fill and frost with Mocha Cream. Garnish with sliced or coarsely chopped Brazil nuts. Chill several hours or overnight.

MOCHA CREAM
2 cups (12-ounce package) semisweet chocolate pieces
32 marshmallows (1/2 lb.)

Exotic Ice Cream Dessert

by GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Collectors of exotic ice cream dessert recipes will welcome this combination of fresh peaches, lemon or pineapple juice, vanilla ice cream and raspberry sherbet plus apricot puree and whipped cream.

Brian Daly, the young, Dublin-born and educated director of New York's Rainbow Room, served it to us. It fit delightfully into the mood created by the regal restaurant 65 stories above the bustling city streets.

COUPE SAHARA
(6 Servings)
3 large fresh, firm, ripe peaches
6 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon instant coffee
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Melt chocolate and marshmallows with milk and instant coffee in double boiler over hot water. Chill until thoroughly cool but not stiff. Fold in whipped cream. If necessary, chill until spreading consistency.

NOTE: Brazil nut shells are easy to crack if you first put the nuts in refrigerator for several hours or overnight.

Recipe Given

peaches
1 tablespoon lemon or pineapple juice
1/2 cup sugar
3/4 cup water
6 large scoops vanilla ice cream
6 small scoops raspberry sherbet
6 teaspoons apricot puree or marmalade
Heavy cream, whipped
Wash peaches, dip into boiling water and then into cold water. Remove skins and cut peaches in half, removing pits. Dip the halves in lemon or pineapple juice to prevent discoloration. Combine sugar and water in a 1-quart saucepan. Stir and cook until sugar is dissolved. Bring to boiling point and add peach halves. Cover and cook 12 to 15 minutes or until peaches are tender. Cool in the syrup, then chill. Just before serving, place a scoop of vanilla ice cream into a stemmed sherbet glass. Top with a poached peach, a small scoop raspberry sherbet and apricot puree or marmalade. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Food Buying Guide

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fruits and vegetables abound as summer harvest continues. There is plenty of meat for outdoor and indoor cooking this weekend, as well.

Beef cuts still lead the parade in red meat buys, and beef roasts are particularly good buys. Pork loin roasts and broiler-fryers are in plentiful supply. Canned pink salmon, fish sticks and fish portions, along with eggs, complete the best-buy picture in protein foods.

Vegetable bins are filled with plenty of green beans, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions (both green and dry), potatoes, squash, and tomatoes. Fresh cabbage and fresh sweet corn are especially abundant. Plums are tops in fruit offerings this week. There are, also, plenty of bananas, canteloupes, lemons, nectarines, and peaches this week.

NUTRINOTE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Serve one dark green or deep yellow vegetable at least every other day, suggests nutritionists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

GOOD BACON

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—In selecting bacon, the first thing to remember is that it must have fat to be good, food specialists at the University of Nebraska report.

Too much lean gives a coarse and tough product which lacks typical bacon flavor and texture.

Read The News Classified Ads

ON THE RISE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Temperature is important in baking with yeast. Yeast likes warm surroundings. Active dry yeast or compressed yeast dissolves more quickly in warm water—105 to 115 degrees Fahrenheit. Test the warmth of the water as you would test milk for a baby's bottle—a drop of the water placed on the inner side of the wrist should feel warm, not hot.

New Version of Famous Cord Auto Due

By FREDERICK LANKARD
TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—In 1937 a classic automobile—the Cord—went out of production.

This weekend the 1964 version of the streamlined machine with the silver supercharger pipes sweeping out of the engine hood will be unveiled by Glenn Pray, a former Tulsa school teacher and owner of the Cord Automobile Co.

Pray's plunge into the world of auto manufacturing began in 1960 with his purchase of the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Co., of Auburn, Ind., a firm Pray described as a victim of the depression.

The transaction brought 600,000 pounds of spare parts and rights to some of the grandest names in motoring to an old canning company plant in Broken Arrow, Okla.

Under its new owner, the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Co., flourished as a restoration center for the old autos. Pray then organized the Cord Automobile Co. and started work on the new Cord, known as the Sportsman 8-10 model.

Scaled Down
Saturday's public unveiling at the Tulsa assembly center will reveal a car styled after a 1936 model of the Cord, but reduced to 8-10 the original size. Representatives of the major auto manufacturers were reported planning to attend the showing.

A press preview of the new machine was scheduled for today, and Pray said the car will go to the New York World's Fair after the Tulsa display.

The new car is made of expanded Royalite, a plastic substance produced by the U.S. Rubber Co. The two-passenger Sportsman convertible weighs in at 2,100 pounds. It has a front end driving unit, a six-cylinder air-cooled engine and a 100-inch wheel base instead of the 125-inch base of the original model.

Although the first Sportsman was made by hand, Pray indicated the first assembly-line production is scheduled for the first of 1965. He estimated 2,000 Cords—to sell from $4,000 and up—will be produced the first year.

Prestige Car
Pray described the new Cord as "a prestige car for those who can afford it." Orders for the Cord, whose body styling will remain unchanged from year to year, are already coming in and Pray said present facilities could eventually allow production of 10,000 of the cars annually. Thirty years ago the Cord was far ahead of its time in both engineering and styling. Today, Glenn Pray is putting them back on the road.

Tomorrow: According to Pray the next step is the Auburn automobile Co.

COTTON ACREAGE OFF LUBBOCK (UPI)—The 1964 South Plains cotton crop will total 1,958,000 bales, the Lubbock Cotton Exchange estimated over the weekend. Output per acre will be slightly below last year, the exchange said.

CAVE-IN KILLS SIX JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—Three houses were buried in a cave-in Monday at a gold mine about 50 miles southwest of here.

Reports from the site said six persons died in the incident, an unidentified white miner, his wife and three children as well as an African colored servant who was sleeping in an out-house.

6TH YEAR THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1964

Grilled Sandwiches Are Great

Can you think of anything better than a hefty hot hoagy... topped with a cheese sauce? It's an experience in sandwich pleasure!

Canned condensed Cheddar cheese soup is the secret of this sandwich's success. Rich in cheese flavor, you give the soup sauce a touch of garlic powder and oregano. This tops the meat, tomatoes, and onion which have been arranged on rolls. Then... under the broiler for a few minutes to heat and brown. Served with chopped hot cherry peppers on top, this Hot Cheese Hoagy is a treat worth repeating.

Plan some accompanying celery, carrot sticks, and radishes for crunch... and fresh fruit for dessert. A great meal...

and there's no time like the present! August is Sandwich Month!

HOT CHEESE HOAGY
1 package (10 ounces) brown and serve French rolls
1/2 pound thinly sliced hard salami
1/2 cup thinly sliced onion
1 medium tomato, thinly sliced
1 can (11 ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/2 teaspoon oregano, crushed
Chopped hot cherry peppers

Prepare rolls as directed on package; split and toast. Arrange salami on rolls. Top with onion and tomato. Combine soup, garlic, and oregano. Spread evenly over surface; cover edges completely. Broil about 4 inches from heat about 8 minutes. Garnish with peppers. Makes 4 servings.

Brazil Nut Torte Sumptuous Dessert

by GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
We went to a very gala supper recently and discovered this Brazil Nut Torte. Not exactly the dish for a calorie-counter, but for those who crave luscious desserts, this is an answer to their prayer. Very easy to make, we discovered from our hosts.

BRAZIL NUT TORTE
1 package angel food cake mix
1 teaspoon brandy flavoring
1 1/2 cups ground Brazil nuts
Prepare and bake cake according to package directions, adding brandy flavoring after the egg whites are beaten and folding in ground Brazil nuts after the flour. Cut in three layers; fill and frost with Mocha Cream. Garnish with sliced or coarsely chopped Brazil nuts. Chill several hours or overnight.

MOCHA CREAM
2 cups (12-ounce package) semisweet chocolate pieces
32 marshmallows (1/2-lb.)

Exotic Ice Cream Dessert Recipe Given

by GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Collectors of exotic ice cream dessert recipes will welcome this combination of fresh peaches, lemon or pineapple juice, vanilla ice cream and raspberry sherbet plus apricot puree and whipped cream.

Brian Daly, the young, Dublin-born and educated director of New York's Rainbow Room, served it to us. It fit delightfully into the mood created by the regal restaurant 65 stories above the bustling city streets.

COUPE SAHARA
(6 Servings)
3 large fresh, firm, ripe peaches
1 tablespoon lemon or pineapple juice
1/2 cup sugar
3/4 cup water
6 large scoops vanilla ice cream
6 small scoops raspberry sherbet
6 teaspoons apricot puree or marmalade
Heavy cream, whipped

Wash peaches, dip into boiling water and then into cold water. Remove skins and cut peaches in half, removing pits. Dip the halves in lemon or pineapple juice to prevent discoloration. Combine sugar and water in a 1-quart saucepan. Stir and cook until sugar is dissolved. Bring to boiling point and add peach halves. Cover and cook 12 to 15 minutes or until peaches are tender. Cool in the syrup, then chill. Just before serving, place a scoop of vanilla ice cream into a stemmed sherbet glass. Top with a poached peach, a small scoop raspberry sherbet and apricot puree or marmalade. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Food Buying Guide

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fruits and vegetables abound as summer harvest continues. There is plenty of meat for outdoor and indoor cooking this weekend, as well.

Beef cuts still lead the parade in red meat buys, and beef roasts are particularly good buys. Pork loin roasts and broiler-fryers are in plentiful supply. Canned pink salmon, fish sticks and fish portions, along with eggs, complete the best-buy picture in protein foods.

Vegetable bins are filled with plenty of green beans, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions (both green and dry), potatoes, squash, and tomatoes. Fresh cabbage and fresh sweet corn are especially abundant. Plums are tops in fruit offerings this week. There are, also, plenty of bananas, canteloupes, lemons, nectarines, and peaches this week.

NUTRINOTE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Serve one dark green or deep yellow vegetables at least every other day, suggests nutritionists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

GOOD BACON

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—In selecting bacon, the first thing to remember is that it must have fat to be good, food specialists at the University of Nebraska report.

Too much lean gives a coarse and tough product which lacks typical bacon flavor and texture.

Read The News Classified Ads

ON THE RISE
NEW YORK (UPI)—Temperature is important in baking with yeast. Yeast likes warm surroundings. Active dry yeast or compressed yeast dissolves more quickly in warm water—105 to 115 degrees Fahrenheit. Test the warmth of the water as you would test milk for a baby's bottle—a drop of the water pricked on the inner side of the wrist should feel warm, not hot.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The missing link in the current Southeast Asia crisis is the role to be undertaken by Red China.

Whether the crisis is to be escalated into what President Johnson has called a "wider war" will be determined largely by Peking's reaction.

Thus far Peking Radio has been remarkably silent, confining itself to broadcasts of North Vietnamese charges and communique.

There can be no doubt that the attack by PT boats of Communist North Viet Nam on U.S. destroyers was carried out with the knowledge of the Communist Chinese and probably at their prompting.

The PT boats which make up the whole of the North Vietnamese naval force could not hope to challenge the might of the U.S. 7th Fleet. What, then, motivated these attacks?

Suggests Three Possibilities
Three possibilities are suggested, one military and the other two political.

—U.S. and South Vietnamese attempts to shut off Communist supply lines are taking a toll and the Reds now feel they must retaliate.

—The Red Chinese are employing Ho Chi Minh, the Communist boss of North Viet Nam who increasingly is becoming a puppet of Peking, to demonstrate their complete independence from Moscow.

—The Red Chinese and the North Vietnamese banked on political differences within the United States, highlighted by racial strife, to prevent Washington from acting firmly against what obviously is an act of war.

As to the latter, President Johnson already has given the answer in the attack on the Red PT boats' nesting places along the North Vietnamese coast.

Johnson also has made it clear that for the moment U.S. action will be "limited and fitting."

"... We still seek no wider war," he said.

The question now is whether the Chinese do.

Power Struggle
There can be little doubt that the power struggle with world communism is a factor in the crisis. China is on the verge of being read out of international communism at a session of world Communist leaders called by Nikita Khrushchev. The Chinese have indicated they will boycott the meeting.

This could be a supreme gesture of contempt by Peking for Moscow, which last week admitted it could do little to influence the situation in Southeast Asia.

It also could be an attempt by Peking to take the initiative away from Moscow and force the Russians into an action they do not want.

The chief danger seems to lie in the possibility that in an attempt to prove itself against Moscow, Peking may be tempted to go too far in challenging the United States.

Penn's Name Nixed For English Pub

RICKMANSWORTH, England (UPI) — A brewery said Wednesday it had abandoned its plan to give William Penn's name to a pub in Rickmansworth, the home of his ancestors, because he was a teetotaler.

"It would not be quite the thing to call the pub after a man who never touched a drop in his life," a brewery spokesman said. The pub will be called The Keystone, in honor of the state Penn founded, he said.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara expressing his belief that the North Vietnamese would not launch another sneak attack on U.S. vessels:

"(But) if they do, we certainly will respond as we did in the last 72 hours."

WASHINGTON — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, commenting on whether U.S. policy in Southeast Asia would be an issue in the 1964 presidential election:

"It's too early to take Viet Nam out of the campaign. I hope the President's action presages more decisive moves, but what has happened is only part of the problem. The major problem is guerrilla war — on that we need a plan."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., a sharp critic of the administration's Viet Nam policy, contending that the United States shares responsibility with the Communists for the current crisis:

"For 10 years, the role of the United States in South Viet Nam has been that of a provocateur, every bit as much as North Viet Nam has been a provocateur."

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. — A Mississippi farmer, theorizing on who murdered the three civil rights workers whose bodies were found in a dam:

"I think it was those integration groups that got rid of them. They couldn't let them live after they disappeared for fear everyone would find out it was a hoax."

NAME OIL EXECUTIVE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Standard Oil Co. (N.J.) announced the appointment of Fred D. Dennstedt as coordinator of worldwide refining activities. He succeeds Dr. J. G. Burks Jr., who retires July 31 after 40 years with the company.

Murdered Woman Has Big Estate

HOUSTON (UPI)— Court records showed Wednesday Mrs. Mabel Williams, 65-year-old innkeeper strangled and robbed at her tavern July 6, had an estate of $120,000.

The estate, probate court records showed, had $21,425 in real estate, $97,460 cash and $1,700 in insurance and other property. Mrs. Williams left equal shares to her sisters, Mattie Doss of Waco, Ruth Fowler of Houston and Annie Rasner of Dallas, and a brother, John Southwell of Oklahoma City.

Multiple sclerosis is a chronic, disabling and progressive disease of man's central nervous system. Its prevention and cure remain unknown.

Miss White Deer To Enter Contest For Wheatheart

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Miss Karen Slavens of Skellytown was crowned Miss White Deer of 1964 July 25 at the high school auditorium with Miss Carolanne Sugar as first runner up and Miss Margaret Grange, second runner-up.

The contest is sponsored annually by the local Jayces Club. Karen, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Slavens of Skellytown, is a junior at White Deer High School and is interested in dramatics and interior design.

Weldon Bates of Skellytown was master of ceremonies. During the interval for costume changes, the audience was entertained by local talent. Other contestants for the Miss White Deer title in the finals were Misses Sharon Moss and Rita McAllister of Skellytown and Miss Linda Davis of White Deer.

Miss Slavens will make her first public appearance in the White Deer Rodeo parade Aug. 8. She will represent White Deer at the annual Miss Wheatheart contest in Perryton Aug. 22.

Winner of this contest will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Canadian National Exposition and Fair in Canada in September.

Problems of Handicapped Require Greater Understanding by Society

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
 NEW YORK (UPI) — The handicapped and society gradually are learning to live together—but there is room for improvement.
 Dr. Isabel P. Robinault, who spends her life trying to make living easier for cerebral palsy sufferers, made this point in an interview.
 She tolerates "sick jokes" least of all—jokes that make those with handicaps the butt of humor.
 "We need jokes," she said, "but not at the expense of those who look or act different because of a handicap."
 "Suck jokes are in poor taste, show bad manners and ignorance."
 The ignorance, according to Dr. Robinault, is less than it used to be. More and more persons, through voluntary work in hospitals and health organizations, are learning the nature of handicaps that have been subjected to ridicule by the thoughtless.
 Dr. Robinault, a member of the Services Advisory Committee of United Cerebral Palsy Associations (UCPA) and director of professional education at the Institute for Crippled and Disabled in New York, said greater understanding of the problems of the handicapped is vital.
 "For the first time in history," she said, "we have a generation of handicapped who will live to a ripe old age because of the medical conquest of many childhood diseases."
 "This is a life-span that no one foresaw. The added years have created problems that are multiplying even as more is being learned about the treatment and care of handicapping conditions."

Dear Abby... Forget Topless, Mom; Worry About Bottomless

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When I first heard about the topless bathing suits for women I thought it was just a lot of talk. But yesterday I was shopping in one of our finest department stores, and I actually SAW one for sale! Is it possible that our American women would even consider wearing a topless swim suit in public? If so, we have indeed reached the lowest point in our so-called civilization. Even lower than the decadence which preceded the fall of the Roman Empire. Have we become so numb to indecency that nothing is sacred any more? We are at the same time striving for world peace. Who cares if Khrushchev pushes the button? What's left to save?

MOTHER OF GIRLS

DEAR MOTHER: The bottoms.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law has five grandchildren, two of which are my children. Ever since I can recall, on the mornings of their birthdays she would give me some cash and ask me if I minded buying them a present from her. She said it was hard for her to get around etc., etc. I have always bought the gifts and said nothing. The last time she asked me if I minded, I said, "Yes, I DO mind," and I told her why. Abby, I have driven from one end of this town to the other while she personally shopped for birthday gifts for her other grandchildren — her daughter's children — and if she can ask ME to drive her around while she shops for THEM, she can ask her daughter to drive her around while she shops for MINE. She told my husband, and he is furious with me. Was I wrong?

STANDING ALONE

DEAR STANDING: You were justified in feeling that you were not being treated fairly, but you'd have been wise to have said nothing. The daughter versus the daughter-in-law competition is as old as the marriage law, and you won't win that battle in one round.

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy in my neighborhood who used to like me, but he hasn't paid any attention to me for a whole year. Would it be all right if I called him up and asked him what I did to make him mad at me? I have asked all the kids he is friendly with if they know why he hardly ever says "hi" to me, and they say they don't know. Maybe if I could talk to him I could get him interested in me again. I am 15 and so is he.

HUNG UP ON HIM

DEAR HUNG UP: Don't call him. And unless you want to kill any future interest he may have in you, don't ask his friends any questions about him. Forward females finish last.

DEAR ABBY: I read your

Stars, Packers Paired in Finals

By KARL O'QUINN
Daily News Sports Editor

The Pampa All-Stars and Panhandle Packing moved into Friday's consolation finals of the Top O' Texas Softball Tournament with victories over fellow Industrial Softball League foes last night.

The All-Stars ran up the tournament's highest score in beating Miami 22-4 and the Packers topped Cabot 10-5.

Tonight's semi-finals in the winners-bracket find Weathered Humble taking on Advance Homes of Amarillo at 7 and favored Rosel Peritorators of Liberal, Kan., playing Everybody's Loan Service of Amarillo at 9. Both games are in Optimist Park.

The All-Stars jumped on Miami starter Larry Rider for five runs in the first inning and scored at least two in each succeeding frame to run away with the first game and eliminate Miami.

Four errors and two hits accounted for the Stars' burst in the opening frame. In all, the Miamians committed eight errors.

Roy Hunter hit a home run and two doubles and Harold Deering a home run and two singles to lead the 14-hit Star attack. Charlie Vaughan was close behind with a home run and triple in four tries.

"Doyle Smith" tripled and singled in three at bats to collect two of Miami's five hits off Vaughan.

Howard Morris of Miami and Jim Enloe of the All-Stars also doubled.

Vaughan struck out four and walked one in winning the decision. Rider was relieved in the fourth by Denny Bowerman but got the loss.

Cabot-Packers

Panhandle Packing spotted Cabot a one-run lead in the top of the first but went ahead to stay in the bottom of the inning with five runs.

The Packers used five Cabot errors and three of their own hits to produce the lead. Ronnie Chase doubled after third baseman Marlin Mills had dropped a foul pop fly. Pitcher James Shew overthrew first base in trying to throw out Jerry Thomas and Chase scored while Thomas went to third. Bobby Seitz singled to score him and went to second on an error by the short-stop. A first baseman's error scored Seitz and put Jack Wood on second. Nelson Kitchens made a fine running catch of Gene Brown's foul for the first out but John Perry beat out an infield single. He stole second and scored on an error by the center fielder after Cotton Hargrove had grounded out. Pitcher Raymond McKinney bunted foul on a third strike to end the inning.

Joe Skinner and Kitchens doubled and Harold Reed singled in the third inning to score two runs and make the first 5-3. Skinner had scored in the first on two errors and two groundouts.

A home run by McKinney and doubles by Chase and Seitz gave Panhandle its winning runs in the fourth.

Cabot scored two runs in the seventh but it was too far back by then to make a serious threat.

McKinney was the winning pitcher, Shew the losing.

Chance Threat To ERA Record

By United Press International

The figure is 1.63 and it means that Dean Chance is threatening to wipe one of the most remarkable records of the lively ball era off the American League books.

That 1.63 is Chance's earned run average for the Los Angeles Angels and if he maintains it he'll surpass the mark of 1.64 established by Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees in 1943.

And, for what it matters to the historians of baseball's dead ball era, it will challenge the finest earned run marks compiled by such greats as Walter Johnson, Lefty Grove, Bob Feller, Hal Newhouse and Whitey Ford.

Chance, a 23-year-old right hander who once was famous because he traveled around with Bo Belinsky, reduced his season ERA to a new low Wednesday night when he pitched six scoreless innings in the Angels' 1-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The win was the seventh in a row for Chance and raised his won-lost record to 12-5.

Worked Hard

Chance had to work hard all the way against rookie sensation Wally Bunker and Manager Bill Rigney replaced him in the seventh with Bob Lee, who struck out four and allowed only one hit over the last three innings. The Los Angeles victory prevented the Orioles from taking over first place from the Yankees, who suffered a 10-1 drubbing at the hands of the Kansas City Athletics.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Detroit Tigers beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1 in 13 innings, the Minnesota Twins clubbed the Boston Red Sox 6-1, and the Cleveland Indians routed the Washington Senators 9-0.

In the National League, Philadelphia defeated Houston 4-1 and 2-1, San Francisco beat New York 4-1, Pittsburgh shaded Los Angeles 4-3, St. Louis topped Chicago 4-2, and Milwaukee downed Cincinnati 6-3.

Lennie Green doubled with one out in the third inning and scored on Jim Fregosi's single to give the Angels the only run of the game. Chance, who struck out three, has now allowed the astonishing total of only 31 earned runs in 171 innings. The best marks ever compiled by some of the other AL greats of the lively ball era include 1.81 for Newhouse, 2.05 for Grove, 2.10 for Feller and 2.01 for Ford.

Colavito Homers

Rocky Colavito had a homer, two doubles and a single and Nelson Mathews a grand slam homer as the Athletics beat the Yankees for the sixth time in 11 meetings. Orlando Pena pitched a seven-hitter behind a 10-hit barrage to win his ninth game while Al Downing suffered his fourth defeat.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 38th homer and his teammates added two more to give the Twins a season total of 169 in 108 games as they paved the way for Camilo Pascual to win his 11th game with a three-hitter. Earl Wilson was dealt his seventh loss against 11 wins for the Red Sox.

The Tigers scored their second straight victory over the White Sox when Dick McAuliffe homered with Don Wert on base in the 13th inning. Julio Navarro, who shut out the White Sox for the final three innings, won his first game and 14-game winner Juan Pizarro lost his sixth decision.

Leon Wagner and Joe Azcue drove in three runs each and Chico Salmon hit a two-run homer to lead a 12-hit Cleveland attack that brought Lee Stange his fifth win against 11 losses. Gary Bell protected Stange's victory with 2-3-3 innings of two-hit relief.

South Cage Victor, Looking for Sweep

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The South, with a second straight upset basketball victory over the North in the annual coaching school all-star competition, looked ahead today to tonight's climactic football game for their first "sweep" in 11 years.

The Rebels turned on their taller North rivals with a vengeance in the second half Wednesday night to wipe out a 10-point deficit and win going away 82-76 with a host of stars helping produce one of the biggest record-shattering nights in the coaching school's history.

Now, their grid counterparts have got to keep another upset from happening at TCU Stadium tonight when the underdog North tries to win for the 17th time against 10 losses and three ties. The South has won only once in the last decade at football.

A record crowd of more than 30,000 looms for the football game in keeping with the trend that saw a new basketball mark of around 7,200 set in TCU's Daniel-Meyer Coliseum Wednesday night.

The tremendous rebounding of 6-5 1/2 Mickey McCarty of Pasadena and the shooting of McCarty, Larry Miller of San Antonio Lee and Jimmie Dale Lenox provided the South its victory impetus.

McCarty hauled down 17 rebounds and led the South in scoring with 19 points, while Miller and Lenox got 18 each.

They still had to play second fiddle in the scoring, however, to the North's Billy Arnold of Haltom City, who set a few records of his own with a 26-point performance that included 11 field goals en route to earning the outstanding player award.

Commissioner Frick to Resign

BOSTON (UPI)—The Major League Council has requested a hurry up meeting in Chicago for Monday to lay ground work on procedure to select a baseball commissioner to replace Ford Frick who informed the 20 major league teams that he is resigning.

Frick told Presidents Warren Giles of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American League Wednesday that he will leave the post when his present term expires Sept. 21, 1965.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Cutting Down Poverty

We can be thankful for one thing, at least. In his campaign against poverty, President Johnson appears to be fully aware of the fact that what a man really requires is a job and not a handout. The problem seems to be to find the jobs. But that's a relatively easy thing to do. Economists have known the answer to the job problem for years. Technically, there is no such thing as unemployment. What appears on charts and in statistical columns as unemployment is merely "disemployment." Everyone able to work could find a job, if he were willing to accept the job available for him at the wage rate the job can provide. We are not talking about persons who are not capable of being employed. There are some of these, of course. Those who are permanently impaired in health or limbs are not employable for reasons beyond anyone's power to control. When this happens, jobs are no solution. Such persons must have a helping hand from family, friends or from charitable organizations.

Fortunately, however, the numbers of persons thus unable to hold a job provide only a very minor statistic. And work being done in many areas which can rehabilitate a handicapped person and make him entirely competent to hold down a job, is inspiring. But the problem of job hunting for the great number of unemployed is first of all a psychological problem relating to their own deep commitment either to find work or to avoid it. There are thousands of men who turn down jobs every day because the job they want isn't available and the job they can get they would prefer to avoid. Thus, what is evident is not "unemployment" but willful disemployment, for cause.

And there's a curious commentary on that. Statistics show that there is a great deal of unemployment among city youths between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one. And in the same cities with them are many jobs going "begging." Reason? One of the big ones is the laws which prohibit child labor; or which make the matter of getting a job for a young man or young woman so hemmed in with red-tape that a lot of the young people feel it is hardly worth trying. The jobs of which we speak do not require technical skill, a college degree or even a high school diploma.

True, some of them don't pay huge sums of money. But they can be found and the bigger the city, the more likely it is that many jobs of that kind will be available, if the young man or woman will go looking for it. Of course, the scare talk, inspired by labor bosses in our various unions, is that machines are putting people out of work. The fact is to the contrary. Machines do not cause unemployment, but they do stimulate disemployment. They tend to encourage a shift in employment from certain kinds of work to other kinds of work.

But there are thousands of jobs which are not going to be affected by automation and there are thousands of men who, with no more than a brief period of training right on the job, can fit themselves for this type of work if they will. Some of these jobs pay well, too. For instance, there is always a shortage of good cooks, fry-cooks, bakers, chefs. There is a shortage of service personnel in almost every hotel and resort area. As a matter of fact, so serious is this lack in this country that campaigns are conducted to entice people from other countries to come over to America to fill posts of this kind.

And then there are all kinds of selling jobs open to anyone who will work and is not afraid of people. We recall, during the midst of our "great depression," seeing at least a full column of "help wanted" ads in the Los Angeles Times every day, when conditions were supposed to be at their very worst. There are jobs, too, which require a very small investment and at the same time offer an opportunity for a young man or woman to actually become independent. There are doughnut machines, knitting machines, popcorn machines, most of which can be purchased on terms permitting a person to become self-employed. And parking lots are always looking for lads who can drive cars carefully and park them without nicking fenders, and filling stations want attendants. From the standpoint of licking poverty, there are several things to be done. First, we could get the government to stop taxing us so that it could spend huge salaries on people who, were they not employed in government, might actually go out and set up businesses. Then we could repeal the laws which make it difficult and sometimes impossible for young people to find work or, rather, to accept a job when it is available.

And finally, we can begin to understand that there are more jobs than have ever been done; that there will never really be unemployment until we run out of vision, natural resources and human energy. Since the supply of these things appears to be fairly constant, what we can do immediately is this. Accept the job that is available, even if it isn't the ideal employment you want. Continue looking for a better job when you have one you don't really want. And meanwhile, stop accepting government handouts for unemployment relief, which only add to the burden of jobs established businesses could make available.

Eloquent Actions

When people favor taxation for their pet projects, they are actually criticizing private enterprise.

The Right to Coerce

Recently the NLRB has been considering two cases whose eventual outcomes will tell us a lot about how individual freedom is faring in the country today. Both cases involve fines levied by unions upon their members. Several weeks ago, the Board decided to allow a union to fine its members, who worked on a piece work basis, when they produced more than union rules allowed. Later, the Board took up a case in which a union fined employees who stayed on the job during a strike.

In each case, the union contends that this is an "internal affair" and consequently none of the Government's business. But there is obviously more at stake than that. In both cases there is a union shop contract. Under such a contract, every employee must join the union to hold his job. He has no choice. But the Federal laws, recognizing that he would be at the mercy of a union in such a situation, contains language prohibiting unions from "coercing" him should he exercise his right to "refrain from concerted activity" ordered by his union. If an individual American is to be considered free, one of two situations must prevail. Either he must be free to stay out of a union altogether if he chooses, or he must be free to act as he chooses as a member of it. When a membership is voluntary, the right of a union to set its rules is hardly questioned. A member who disagrees can resign or be expelled without its costing him his living. But to force him to join and then force him to follow courses of conduct not of his choosing makes him something far less than free.

'Backlash' Is For Real In Chicago

By Bruce Blossat
CHICAGO (NEA) — "I'm voting Republican for president and so are three others in my family." The words, uttered by a normally Democratic civil servant, were those of a Polish-American deeply upset by the influx of Negroes into his area of this city. They are pure "backlash." And they reflect a sentiment that seems to be flowing in particularly great volume since the Republican convention in San Francisco.

As of today, the white backlash is very real in Chicago, and it looks big. Reports of it are engulfing a variety of political headquarters. They come from city sectors inhabited by citizens of Polish, Italian, German, Ukrainian and Lithuanian descent. With the towers of Chicago's loop rising just a few miles away, this reporter sat in the office of a prominent Polish-American politician and lawyer—anonymous here—and heard him discuss his sentiments candidly. He describes the Polish-Americans he sees in great numbers as shocked by heavy Negro incursions. Their present mood, obviously, is one of political revolt.

But he does not think the Democrats have yet completely lost most of these people for November. Such depends, he says, on what sort of civil rights plank the Democrats hammer into their platform at Atlantic City, how well they explain the oft-misconstrued 1964 civil rights law, what President Johnson does in the months ahead, and how the Negroes behave in the public streets. In Chicago, as in Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia and other northern industrial centers, the real core of national minorities' distress over racial change is in the housing field. The threat these people feel is far more to their homes than to their jobs. To them, the home is the vital symbol of all they have gained in America.

The lawyer-politician, interrupting his comments now and then to chatter in Polish over the telephone, says: "They see themselves losing all they have built. Poles, more than most people, own their own homes. When they came to this country they used the first thousand dollars they saved to buy a home, often taking second and even third mortgages. Then they worked night and day to pay off those mortgages." To these folks the Negro influx spells just one thing—decline. They believe firmly that they have eyeball evidence of it. They are convinced that Negroes let their properties run down, never painting or repairing or otherwise caring for them.

There is a bitter joke going the rounds of Chicago's Polish-American areas. This is it: "A modern-day Paul Revere is with us. He's riding up and down Milwaukee Avenue shouting, 'The Negroes Are Coming!'" The problem hits the national minorities in many ways. They have no wish to move. They cherish their homes, their costly churches, their long-time neighbors, their familiar shopping streets. Beyond this, moving usually means to them a drastic economic setback. It means going from a mortgage-free home, one often modernized inside, to a new place twice as costly that may saddle them with debt for the rest of their lives.

Their response to this prospect is: "Why should we have to go into debt again when we have worked so hard and long to get clear of it?" This, says the Polish lawyer-politician, is just "too much all at one time for these people to comprehend."

And that is why many are preparing to vote for Sen. Barry Goldwater as the only protest they know how to make. There's no doubt about it. You will read that Europe is worrying about Goldwater, Khrushchev wonders about Goldwater and that the leaders of other governments will be wondering if Santa Claus will continue to support which government with what sums stolen from the American people. Even if you don't read about it, those same people and same governments will also be wondering what Johnson might do about the goodies, too. In fact, they began worrying just as soon as

Socialist Conglomerate Now Has a Brand New Scapegoat

By GEORGE BOARDMAN
Well, the dullest elephant joke of the year is over and the socialist conglomerate has a scapegoat—the admitted conservative political leader—who will be blamed for the idiocies of the socialists. With the most obviously socialist of both political parties in full charge of government, a good many aspects of the national economy have been going from bad to worse, propaganda to the contrary notwithstanding, and the bosses were in trouble, right up to their ears. From now on, the so-called conservative candidate for the post of top ruler will be blamed for everything from street riots to the worsening economic situation and you can bet on that.

The candidate, his cohorts and supporters should not be held blameless, of course, since they have advanced the cause of socialism, conservatively. On the other hand, they will be blamed for many things over which they have had little, if any, control. A good example of what I refer to is the socialist power and water bill which was co-authored by Sen. Hayden and Goldwater within recent months. The effects of this bit of socialism will not begin to be felt until next year. The candidate, himself, can hardly be blamed for the fact that the Federal Reserve 11 bill is being less than cordially accepted by the public at large and that this situation may result in other odd conditions which may have a profound effect upon the economy before long.

Please do not misunderstand me—I am not making a case for Sen. Goldwater who is, in my book, a conservative socialist. As I have mentioned several times before, I will never again sanction the right of any human being to rule over me or to represent me in any way in government and you can depend upon that. My outlook, however, does not alter my ability to recognize the direction which will be taken by the socialists presently in power—they've felt the need of a real solid scapegoat for some time.

Without a little opposition to the wildest of the socialist economic idiocies, the socialist conglomerate sometimes finds itself in big trouble. With the conservative socialist strength at an ebb for a good many years a few of the wilder schemes have been enacted into law before the socialist conglomerate was quite ready and this has put them in a tough spot from time to time—they seriously needed some tough opposition to hold the line just a little.

There's no doubt about it. You will read that Europe is worrying about Goldwater, Khrushchev wonders about Goldwater and that the leaders of other governments will be wondering if Santa Claus will continue to support which government with what sums stolen from the American people. Even if you don't read about it, those same people and same governments will also be wondering what Johnson might do about the goodies, too. In fact, they began worrying just as soon as

Wit and Whimsy

A poorly dressed man was standing in front of a vacant store building, and from here a woman noticed that several people stopped, in passing, and gave him some money. It was a scene that touched her deeply. She wrote on a piece of paper, "Take Courage," placed the paper in an envelope with a two-dollar bill and tossed it to the man. Several days later, when she was returning from an out of town visit, she was accosted by the man, who said: "Man—Here's your $52, lady. 'Take Courage' won at twenty-six to one." It is not the water without the ship that sinks it, but the water within it. Precocious, four-year-old Janie insisted upon joining her mother's bridge party for a few minutes' visit. She perched herself on the arm of a chair and proceeded to examine each and every card receiver who received increases in pay and I mentioned the political implications when the bills were passed and still another may pass before November. In any event, the next few months will provide a little fun for those who enjoy masochism and some interest for those who always like to see odds on favorite whipped. Personally, I will refuse to take sides because I refuse to sanction the system and realize that government is the enemy of freedom. Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom. The quickest way to acquire self-confidence is to do exactly what you are afraid to do. Literature falls into decay only as men become more and more corrupt.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

The Air Force's B-38 Hustler is so elusive that test engineers hung a space-age version of a "cowbell" on the supersonic aircraft to detect it on radar screens during simulated bomb runs. The need for the electronic "cowbell" became evident early in the program. The nation's best radar operators knew to the second its course and altitude, but couldn't spot and track the plane. The radar beacon made detection easier during training and the radar unit found the bomber could drop its load "right in the pickle barrel." B-58 high altitude bombing is like shooting out a car's taillight a mile away with a rifle while riding in another car traveling at 10 mph. Today's smile: A friend, just returned from a New England vacation, told us about a sign he saw on an antique shop there: "If You Think We Sell Junk, Come In and Price It."

Wayne Hanley of the Massachusetts Audubon Society tells us many birds consume half their weight in food every day and young birds often consume more than their weight a day. An insurance company survey determined that half of all U.S. women in their early 70's are widows, while only one in six of their male counterparts is a widower. And a lawyer friend tells us that those widows, through stock ownership, control most of the big corporations in this country. Thoughts while shaving: Don't be surprised if Uncle Sam installs automation in the income tax offices in the near future. Norway is already experimenting with the idea. When it happens here Uncle will scan your return immediately upon receipt and if it's not okay you'll hear about it in 24 hours. He may be a little slower on the refunds though. All is not well in Blighty and Lord Home should do something about it, quick. We just learned an English sausage maker is importing casings for his wares. The first thing you know the minions of what's left of the Queen's realm will be eating Yankee hot dogs—with mustard yet! The most heavily endowed school in the world is Harvard University with $393 million. Yale is far behind with $252 million. Massachusetts Institute of Technology ranks third with only $119 million. The Army is now using electric-eye shooting gadgets, like those in amusement arcades, to record "kills" by tanks in war games. We saw a flight trainer a few years ago that used the same kind of electric-eye gun to record the tail gunner's score of hits and misses. The millennium has arrived. A world traveler friend tells us Arab tribesmen and nomads now prefer American-made tents to the colorful shelters that have intrigued us for years in the pages of the NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC magazine. The Denver (Colo.) POST headlined: "Sen. Dominick's Seat is Settled; His Office Not." He can at least sit down while he's waiting. Country Editor speaking: "Ours is no longer a government of checks and balances, but a government of checks and deficits."

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

For some reason we have never been able to fathom, the suffering of hay fever is carried on with a particular awesome ritual, the outsider calling it a sign, the great emotional disturbance and the sneezer defending it as the mark of high intelligence and creativity. But in either case, there is an unspoken agreement between the two sides that an allergy to ragweed pollen springs from the fountain of the basic personality.

No other chronic ailment is accorded this stature, not even love. No matter how sublime, a kiss is just a kiss whereas a sneeze in season comes from the soul. And so, as the ragweed pollenation is due to begin on or about August 15, we have done considerable research to settle this matter once and for all, conferring with leading allergists and medical libraries from New York to Boston. Our findings are set out in simple question-and-answer form to avoid any confusion in explaining the true situation. Q—Is hay fever an emotional ailment brought on by the conflicts and frustrations of life, or is it a mark of genius? A—Recent experiments using hypnosis on allergy sufferers show that suggestion can frequently reduce the symptoms or stop them completely during the trance. Q—Then hay fever is brought on by conflicts and other emotional disturbances? A—On the other hand, hypnotic suggestion can also reduce the symptoms of typhoid fever. Q—Then hay fever can indeed be a sign of creative intelligence? A—Curiously, on August 15—the traditional opening day of the ragweed season—many doctors find their offices full of hay fever patients even if there is no pollen in the air. Q—So, hay fever has an emotional origin? A—On the other hand, if the early summer has been rainy and the ragweed pollinates on August 11, say, hay fever patients will crowd the doctors' offices. Q—Good grief. Will you answer the question? A—On the other hand, a hay fever attack can be induced in an allergic individual under hypnosis by giving him a neutral substance and telling him it is ragweed pollen. Q—Good heavens, will you answer the question? A—On the other hand, he will have an attack if you give him ragweed pollen but tell him it is something else. Kindly take your hand off my lapel. Q—Then answer by question. I cannot stand these alternatives. A—I will answer as soon as you stop threatening me. Q—All right. Dow answer. Is hay fever a disease of the body or is it a mark of genius? A—It's dot that siple. Hay fever affects the dose add luggs which are both organs that respond to such things as fear. . . take your hadd off by deck. Q—Answer. A—Gedius.

The Nation's Press

ON STATES' RIGHTS (California Feature Service)
Two Republican California congressmen, Reps. John F. Baldwin of Martinez and Don Clausen of Crescent City, are in the forefront of a coalition effort to speed through Congress a constitutional amendment that would set aside the Supreme Court's historic and crucial ruling on the apportionment of state legislatures. Pointing out that there is very sound reason in many states, especially California, for a legislative balance of some sort at least between population and geography, the congressmen are working with their equally concerned colleagues on a measure that would spell out state sovereignty in the matter of its own government; and spell it out so clearly that no future court could twist the Constitution's meaning as has the present one. If the will of the people has not been made clear to the court by the many reapportionment elections held across the nation during the years, then an A-B-C-D clarification in the Constitution itself seems the only way. At least it will give the people of the 50 states the right of decision, which is properly theirs and not the Court's.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)
QUESTION: "Is there any individual who more exalts himself more than the person who is so absolutely sure that he knows how others should be educated and is willing to send his agents to initiate force if necessary to compel others to pay for his services?"
ANSWER: It is hard to think of anyone who exalts himself more than a man who is so absolutely sure that he knows how others should be educated and will not even answer questions about his beliefs for many times more than he is being paid, or for the sake of truth. Certainly these people have exalted themselves to such an extent that they have become abused. As the great teacher said, Whoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that humble himself shall be exalted." When a man comes to the point where he is willing to initiate force to make others pay for the services he renders, even if those persons do not want to use them or pay for them, then that man certainly has exalted himself to a very high degree.
