UNITED FUND — Two United Fund banners were unfurled over Cuyler St. yesterday afternoon in an effort to remind local residents of the current fund drive. John Brewer, left, a member of the U.F. publicity committee, and Jay Leath, a district Boy Scout executive, pull the ropes on the ground to put the banner into place. Attaching the hooks to the cable is Gene Dougherty, an employe of Southwestern Public Service which helped put the signs saying "Give the United Way" into place.

Sailor's Letter Gives Facts on Tonkin Fight

DUBUQUE, Iowa (UPI)—The nation learned more about a recent naval incident in the Tonkin Gulf from a letter an Iowa sailor wrote to his mother than from the Defense Department. The Pentagon later confirmed part of what the Navy man wrote.

The sailor, Fireman James J. Kress, wrote to his mother about the third incident involving U.S. destroyers and torpedo boats from the Viet Nam mainland. He is the son of Mrs. Joseph Kress.

Kress said the crew of the USS Edwards was called to general quarters (battle stations) on Sept. 18 "and we stayed there from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m."

"We picked up about seven contacts on the radar screen," Kress wrote. "The Edwards blew two of them out of the water for certain and shot up another one. I don't know if the (USS) Morton destroyed any or not."

"One of them boats like to get us (sic). It was trying to sneak up on our rear. It came within 2,000 yards before we blew it up."

He said the crew later was asked to sign statements that they had seen PT boats.

Court Orders Dockworkers Back to Job

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sixty thousand longshoremen from Maine to Texas have been ordered back to work by a federal court, but it appeared today full activity at East and Gulf Coast ports would be delayed until Saturday.

Pickets remained at piers in New York and other affected ports and passengers boarding luxury liners had to handle their own baggage for the second consecutive day. Two liners were to leave New York during the day.

Union spokesmen in Philadelphia and Baltimore also said their men probably would not be back on the job before tonight or Saturday.

The strike was the sixth by the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) to be interrupted by the "cooling-off" provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

A restraining order suspending the strike for 10 days was signed Thursday night by federal district court Judge Frederick van Pelt Bryan after President Johnson declared the walkout, "if permitted to continue, will imperil the national health and safety." That was the finding of a fact-finding panel Johnson had appointed Wednesday, a few hours before the strike started.

A subsequent court order extending the strike ban to 80 days was expected.

ILA President Thomas Gleason promised to send the longshoremen—who load and unload cargo and passenger ships—back to work after a meeting this morning.

"The men went out together and they will have to go back to work together," Gleason said Thursday night, dismissing the possibility that the workers could have resumed their jobs immediately.

Death Sentence Given in Torture Death of Child

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Clifford D. Carroll took it with a shrug: the closest he came to showing emotion was when he bit lightly on his lip.

The news was bad for the 22-year-old Carroll. It took just over five hours for the jury to decide.

Carroll, the jury said, was guilty of torturing 3-year-old Paula Jean Bowman until she died. For his part, he must die in the electric chair.

It was the first death penalty returned by a jury in Tarrant County in four years and only the second time since Dist. Atty. Doug Crouch took over 6 years ago that a man had been sentenced to die.

The girl's mother, Doris Jean Bowman, 25, had been tried earlier on the same charges and given 50 years in prison. She came back to testify against Carroll and told the nine men and three women who decided his fate that Carroll ordered the torture.

Plane With 80 Missing

PARIS (UPI)—A DC6 airliner with 80 persons aboard is missing between Palma, Majorca, and Port Etienne, Mauretania, it was announced tonight.

The disclosure was made by the airline, the Union Transport Aeronautiques (UTA).

The company said the airliner, carrying 73 passengers and a crew of seven, left Paris Thursday night and after a stop at Marseilles took off from Palma this morning.

It was scheduled to reach Port Etienne, on the West African coast near the borders of Mauretania and Rio de Oro at mid-morning but did not arrive.

(Spanish civil aviation authorities in Madrid said a search had been launched for the missing French airliner.)

Pampans To Attend City Meet

A delegation of 10 Pampa city officials will leave during the weekend for Dallas where they will attend the 52nd annual conference of the Texas Municipal League.

Approximately 2,500 delegates, including Texas mayors, councilmen, city managers and heads of city departments are expected to attend the three-day meeting which opens Sunday and runs through Tuesday in the Statler Hilton hotel.

Attending from Pampa will be City Manager Harold Schmitzer, City Commissioners M. McDaniel, L. P. Fort, Leon Holmes and Jim Nation; Police Chief Jim Conner, Fire Chief Ernest Winborne, Public Works Director R. B. Cooke, City Attorney Bob Gordon and City Secretary S. M. Chittenden.

Dallas Times Herald Executive Editor Felix McKnight will discuss press and city relations and Mayor F. V. Wallace of Amarillo will describe his city's public information program.

More than 50 speakers will deal with problems peculiar to actual municipal operations.

The Pampa delegation is expected to return late Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Tuesday's regular city commission meeting has been set over until 8:30 a.m. Friday because of the city officials' attendance at the conference.

Mason Receives Suspended Term

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—Dist. Judge Leo Brewster today handed 26-year-old Ronney Mason a two-year probation sentence for threatening to kill thousands by dynamiting his hometown's nine schools, hospital and courthouse if he didn't get a quarter-million-dollar ransom.

Mason, a shy Sweetwater, Tex., choir singer, could have received a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison and a $5,000 fine or both.

Mason was convicted Thursday, but Brewster waited until today to pass sentence.

Mason and his lawyer, Ed Ponder of Sweetwater, asked Brewster to be lenient in his sentence.

Brewster agreed to the light sentence, saying "I think I know the pressure you are under."

Mason was found guilty of mailing a letter Oct. 23, 1963 to Wilson Guest, president of the Sweetwater National Bank, asking for $250,000. The note said that if the money was not delivered, bombs hidden in the buildings could be set off electronically and would kill 4,300 persons.

The buildings were searched and there were no bombs.

Mason was arrested a week later in Guest's office. He spent seven weeks in a Dallas mental hospital after his arrest by the FBI. At the trial, he admitted writing the letter and pleaded innocent on grounds of insanity.

The all-male jury took seven and a half hours to reach a unanimous verdict. Assistant U.S. Atty. Bob Travis, who helped prosecute for the government, said he was pleased at the outcome.

The jury heard testimony by a psychiatrist who figured in the Jack Ruby trial. Dr. John Holbrook of Dallas testified that Mason suffered paranoid schizophrenia when he attempted the extortion plot. Holbrook had testified in the Ruby trial that Lee Harvey Oswald's convicted killer was sane.

Mason remains under psychiatric care. In his admission, he said he wrote the letter because he wanted to be an FBI man

Missing Records Become Redhot Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A State Department order on Aug. 28 for destruction of some security risk records is turning into one of the hot issues of the presidential campaign.

Copies of the State Department letter now in the hands of lawmakers show that local field office security agents were directed to burn some of the records and forward others to headquarters.

The Aug. 28 letter was sent out as a supplement to a directive of Aug. 6 outlining housekeeping details in the State Department's reorganization of its security field operation.

Republican vice presidential nominee William F. Miller charged Tuesday that the records were being destroyed because the administration "may not want the Goldwater administration to learn next January what is in those files."

The State Department confirmed after Miller's speech that some local records were being destroyed, but only to increase efficiency. It said all records involved were duplicated in a master file maintained permanently in Washington.

Plunge of Woman From Tower Kills Second in France

PARIS (UPI)—A woman plunged from the platform between the two towers of Notre Dame Cathedral today, hitting another woman on the ground outside the main cathedral doors.

Both women were rushed unconscious to the Hotel Dieu, the main Paris hospital across the square. The young woman who had been standing on the ground died shortly after being admitted to the hospital.

Police tentatively identified her as a young English tourist, Veronica McConnell, 24. She was a member of a group of American and English tourists.

The other woman, believed to be French, was not immediately identified. Her condition was said to be grave.

Hilda's Winds Hit 150 mph at Center

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Tens of thousands of people fled the Louisiana Gulf Coast in cars, trucks, buses and jeeps today and left entire towns abandoned to the approaching 150-mile-an-hour fury of Hurricane Hilda.

An estimated 100,000 persons had left or were leaving their homes in the parishes (counties) of the Cajun country. Hundreds were moving inland from the East Texas Gulf Coast as the 400-mile-wide monster

The weather bureau agreed. It said occupants of low-lying coast areas were strongly urged to get out fast—before oncoming tides cover the roads with water and leave them trapped.

Distress Messages

Two Coast Guard cutters were plowing through the gulf full steam, in response to a message received by two ham operators.

They said they heard a distress call from a ship 348 miles south of New Orleans that said the ship was sinking.

The Coast Guard in New Orleans said the ship may be the (See STORM, Page 3)

Last Attempt on Medicare Fails In Joint Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A last attempt to work out a House-Senate agreement on President Johnson's health care bill apparently failed today, carrying to defeat with it a proposed increase in Social Security benefits.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., announced that a Senate-House conference committee, after meeting for the eighth time, was unable to reach agreement.

Mills said no further meetings were scheduled.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a key architect of a compromise administration "medicare" plan, indicated that the bill was dead.

"This means the President will have to go to the people and ask for a mandate on this issue in November," Gore said.

Both the House and Senate approved increases in cash benefits for Social Security beneficiaries. But only the Senate bill provided for Johnson's health care program for the aged.

Loss of the medicare bill was not unexpected. Defeat of the Social Security increase was a surprise.

The deadlock tightened earlier this week when the Senate insisted on inclusion of the medicare plan in the compromise bill. The House opposed it.

The 10-day battle has been waged behind the closed doors of a conference committee appointed to draft a compromise between House and Senate Social Security bills.

Both measures would increase Social Security cash benefits but only the Senate bill contained the President's "medicare" plan. It proposes health care for the aged financed by increasing Social Security taxes.

So far, the Senate conferees have voted for their bill. The House delegation has been equally adamant against health care.

Dear Abby....

Dancing Ability not Proof of Husband's Love

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby: My Julius is the only man in our crowd who doesn't dance. He never learned, and he won't even try. He just says he doesn't have any rhythm. I told him I didn't care whether he had rhythm or not, I only wanted him to get out on the dance floor and walk around with me so I wouldn't have to sit and watch everyone else dance. Nothing can bug me. He's not old. He is 42. He says I knew he wasn't Gene Kelly when I married him. Don't you think if he really loved me he would try?

JULIUS'S WIFE
Dear Wife: His "love" for you has nothing to do with his refusal to dance. Get off his back and you might have a better chance of getting him on his feet.

Dear Abby: I am 18 years old and am considered responsible and well-behaved by everyone but my mother. She doesn't trust me where boys are concerned. She says that I am too young to have anything to do with boys. I have been asked for dates by several nice boys, but I have had to refuse very one of them because of my mother's strictness. My father is no help because he does not believe in taking sides. Can you help me?

BABIED
Dear Mother: Your mother should be talked to by someone whose judgment she respects. In my opinion if you are considered a well-behaved, responsible girl, you should certainly be allowed to date. Girls who have been denied the experiences of dating go wild when they get their first taste of freedom. Your mother may mean well, but she is doing you far more harm than good.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who picks on his 16-year-old son so much that the boy would rather be a nymphet than go home? That's my problem. He is a good boy, Abby, and he's never given us any trouble, but his father is constantly picking on him for something. I think I know why, too. My husband is bald and our son has a beautiful head of blond wavy hair. The boy goes to the barber shop every week without fail, and keeps his hair washed and combed at all times. I just know that every time my husband looks at the boy he gets mad because he is so envious. Our son is a good student and he wanted to go to college. But now he can't wait to join the service to get away from his father. What should I do?

HIS MOTHER
Dear Mother: Wait until your husband is in a good mood and then have a heart-to-heart talk with him. Don't attempt to reform him overnight with your amateur analysis (you could be wrong), but do prevail upon him to exercise a little more patience with the boy.

Remove the shine from navy blue materials by sponging them with undiluted vinegar.

POLLY'S POINTERS

By POLLY CRAMER

'Eat It Up, Wear It Out, Make It Do or Do Without'

DEAR POLLY - I practice Calvin Coolidge's philosophy of "Eat it up, wear it out, make it do or do without." When I make new ruffled curtains I always make an extra yard or two of ruffling to save for "splicing" when the ruffles wear out in spots due to exposure to sunlight and weather. Also when I buy new criss-cross ruffled curtains, I rip off the top ruffles of the curtain that will be underneath when they are crossed over and then this curtain only has a casing for the rod at the top. This gives me yards of ruffling for renewing worn parts and also makes less bulk at the top of the window. It adds years to the wear of curtains. Of course, the latter hint can only be done if each curtain reaches across the entire width of the window.

-THRIFTY
GIRLS - Thrifty's letter was very aptly signed as everyone who has ever had ruffled curtains will agree that the ruffles are always the first part to wear out.

-POLLY
DEAR POLLY - I always get something from each column to add to my growing collection of "Homemaking Hints." Beside me now is a raveled nylon stocking with which I hope to repair a small hole in a wool suit. My own pointer is for making a pin cushion for bobby pins. Pour enough liquid glue or household cement into the bottom of a plastic mug so it is well covered with the glue. Place a loose plastic type scouring pad in the cup on top of the glue. Let this dry and stand the bobby pins upright in the mug. They will always stay in place and right at your fingertips when you set your hair.

-GRACE
DEAR POLLY - I discovered a way to make the popular wraparound skirts without going to the expense of buying a new pattern. Use your favorite skirt pattern and simply cut out two back pieces. After you sew on the belt or waistband, which will tie in the front, put a buttonhole where one of the back pieces joins the front piece (to run the belt through as it goes from back to front). To finish the skirt, hide one or two snap fasteners under the back flap. They will hold it in place.

-DONNA
DEAR POLLY - My hint is for the person who has trouble controlling the intake of salt as prescribed in a diet. I filled a pepper shaker with salt and placed it beside my husband's plate. Less salt comes through the smaller holes.

-MRS. E.B.
GIRLS - There is a certain psychological satisfaction in shaking salt over food whether or not much comes out.

Highland Girl Scout Neighborhood Has Field Day at Camp Mel Davis

Senior Girl Scout Troop Five sponsored a field day at Camp Mel Davis for Highland Neighborhood.

One hundred and thirty girls and adults attended the full day of outdoor activities.

Mrs. John Holt Jr. and Mrs. V. C. Moore welcomed the girls to camp and introduced the troop president, Linda Moore, who in turn introduced the rest of the girls of the troop who would take part in the day's activities.

An opening flag ceremony started the day's activities followed by a song session.

The girls were then divided into two groups where they were given instructions and lectures. Prudence Skelly gave a lecture on insects and rodents found in this area of the country; Nancy Holt gave training on how to tie the knots and how these knots are used in lashing.

Barbara Holt gave a lecture on birds found in this part of the country and Linda Moore gave instructions on how to build a basic A fire and the different uses of fires.

The girls gathered in groups and ate sack lunches. Cookies were served by the Senior girls.

Becky and Margaret Brewer and Linda Moore led the girls in another song session during a rest period.

Following rest period, the entire camp took off on a hike to inspect the camp. The hike began with a tour through the lodge, around the camp and down to the river. Many of the girls were looking to see if they could see the birds and insects they had been told about earlier in the day.

On returning to camp the girls were entertained with a coko break followed by a game session led by Margaret Brewer. The girls played games and ran relay races.

The girls gathered around in a large horse shoe and as they stood at attention for the lowering of the flag, everyone sang Taps, to close the day.

STOP FOR SCHOOL BUSES

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What may persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fine up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the payment or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by yellow lines placed to one side of the center line on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the roadway.

Pampa police are searching for the thief who broke into a Pampa residence sometime between Wednesday and early this morning and made off with $60 in cash.

The burglary was reported about 7:30 this morning by J. W. Crisler, 422 N. Cuyler.

Crisler told police that he had placed $45 in cash in a container in a bedroom last Wednesday and when he went back to get it this morning it was gone.

He said in addition to this money, $15 in silver dollars was taken from another room.

The house was apparently entered, according to police, through a rear window.

Cameron, La., with memories of the 500 killed when Hurricane Audrey slashed inland by surprise one night in 1957, was all but a Ghost town by Thursday night.

Only Sheriff Claude Eagleson and about 30 assistants were left in town, and he said they would leave soon, too. The prisoners in the county jail were hauled away to the lockup in nearby Calcasieu Parish, and even the animals were the object of evacuation maneuvers.

Gather Up Animals

The Calcasieu Parish Humane Society sent in trucks that gathered up animals left behind by fleeing residents.

Evacuations were reported underway in Plaquemine, La Fourche, Iberia, St. Mary, Jefferson, and Cameron parishes (counties). The entire west end of Jefferson County joined the exodus from the city of Franklin.

In St. Charles Parish, between New Orleans and Baton Rouge, there were no evacuations, but parish authorities asked the state civil defense command for sandbags to use against a possible rise by the Mississippi over the levee.

The weather bureau said tides were rising from Galveston, Tex., to Mobile this morning, and could possibly rise 12 to 15 feet above normal just east of the eye when the hurricane passed over the coast.

"Precautions for protection of life and property should proceed rapidly," the weather bureau warned.

An estimated 562,000 private dwellings in the U.S. were hit by fires during 1962.

Dim Pictures Complete Search for Thresher

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The pictures are dim and shadowy, like scenes from another world. But there is no doubt about what they mean—the long search for Thresher is over.

The Navy announced Thursday that the wreckage of the ill-fated nuclear submarine had been found and photographed in North Atlantic waters a mile and a half deep some 220 miles east of Cape Cod.

The debris littered the ocean floor near where Thresher took her fatal plunge to the depths on April 10, 1963, carrying 129 men to their deaths in the worst peacetime submarine disaster in history.

There is no chance of recovering any of the bodies of the men who perished because of the vast depth at which the submarine lies — about 8,400 feet — or approximately seven times the height of the Empire State Building.

Thus ended one of the most intensive searches in the annals of the Navy. But the discovery of the wreckage is only one chapter in Thresher's tragic story.

Even in death the great submarine continues to haunt the Navy. What happened on her final dive? Why did it happen? The Navy said the discovery of Thresher was made by the deep-diving bathyscap Trieste II which photographed four shattered sections of the sub. These included a piece of superstructure bearing the faintly legible numbers "59." Thresher's Navy identification number was 593.

The pictures were taken during the summer but not made public until they could be evaluated.

The search was the second conducted for Thresher. Last year the bathyscap Trieste I found bits and pieces of the 4,300-ton submarine, but the search was called off in September.

TYLER, Tex. (UPI) — The Republican presidential candidate may be a jet-plane candidate, but the party's traditional symbol can't keep up.

However, they feel that the index is a neutral one, since the ratio of sales to purchases and volume have been moving sideways.

'Wait' Arouses Negative Reaction in Fast World

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
In our perpetually-busy, tight-lipped world, few words arouse more negative reactions than "wait."

None of us likes to wait. We want to get on with it... to see results NOW.

This impatience is characteristic of our age, and few people think of it as a moral defect.

But if sin is defined as that which separates men from God, the Bible plainly brands impatience a sin. And it teaches, conversely, that those who would know God must be prepared to wait.

"Be still before the Lord, and wait patiently for Him," says the 37th Psalm. "Fret not yourself; it tends only to evil... but those who wait for the Lord shall possess the land."

The book of Lamentations offers similar counsel: "The Lord is good to those who wait for Him, to the soul that seeks Him. It is good that one should wait quietly for the salvation of the Lord."

The prophet Isaiah put the same thought into poetic words which the late President John

F. Kennedy loved to quote: "They who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint."

In Biblical usage, waiting is a form of faith. To "wait for the Lord" is to rely upon His hidden hand to uphold you, even when everything seems to be going wrong. It is to be confident that He will act, in His own time and His own way, to answer the prayers of His people.

The Old Testament prophets and psalmists knew from firsthand experience that God's ways are often inscrutable, and that His timing can put a severe strain on faith.

That is why they depicted patience as the pathway to knowledge of God.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Rev. C. C. Campbell
St. Mark Methodist Church

Text: "Knowing, brethren beloved of God, your election."

1 Thess. 1:4.

November will be a most important month to the American people. The choosing of a President of the United States is always significant; but many believe that the choice made on that day will be of unusual significance to the world. Is it not an hour to consider what we may call the divine election, or, the higher politics? Our subject, therefore, embraces three steps.

I. First, the Candidacy. Upon what is it based? What are the issues? In the campaign drawing to a close there has been a free discussion of vital, living issues. Yet they are not one with more essential than the issues involved in the divine election. What are these? What are all of us candidates for, whether we will or not? What are the issues of human life which refuse to be ignored? Just these: Righteousness, peace, joy, hope, eternal life. There are some of the age-long issues upon which the candidacy of each life is based. Every soul has been divinely nominated for office in these finer regions.

II. Second, the Voters. Now every candidate must submit his cause to the voters. Nor is it otherwise in Paul's divine election. Who, then, are the voters? They are two, and the first is God. Every candidate for office in the higher realms should remember this: the good God has already voted for you. God is so profoundly interested in your soul's election to the office of noble living here and to boundless felicity hereafter, that he hath sent his only begotten Son to declare this truth throughout the length and breadth of the world. The other voter in the divine election is you yourself without embarrassment, but with deep satisfaction.

III. Third, the Inauguration. In the largest sense, the choice of the voters in November will not have been fully realized until he is inaugurated. A similar principle holds in the divine election also. Although your candidacy be based upon the highest truths, and although God votes for you and you vote for yourself, such is the majesty of the high office to which you are chosen that you will not exhaust its honors and meaning in this world. You will have to be inducted into the happier climes of immortality before the entire significance of your election is fully appreciated. Should not one be careful to vote right for destiny?

Lee, PJH Take Wins

WHEELER — The Lee Junior High Rebels came from behind to pull out a 14-12 victory over the Wheeler Colts yesterday, the 9th grade's first victory of the season and Wheeler B's first defeat.

Dickie Henley was the man for Pampa as he scored two second half touchdowns and ran over the winning conversion after the Colts had taken a 12-0 third - quarter lead.

Bobby Ware heaved a pass to Frankie Rogers in the second quarter, good for 35 yards and a touchdown. Mike Burnett smeared a conversion run attempt.

In the third quarter, Ware to Rogers on the identical play from the identical spot produced another touchdown aerial. Another conversion run was stopped by Chris Kenney.

Late in the third quarter, Henley went on sweep right from the Wheeler 23, and Bobby Wilson, Wendell Watson and Larry Turcotte escorted him to the goal line. Henley then went around the left side for the conversion.

Early in the fourth quarter, Henley again went sweep right from the Colt 18 and the same trio cleared the way to touchdown with smashing blocks. Henley's conversion run was piled up.

Wheeler got nowhere and Pampa took over, the Rebels controlling the ball for the last 7:31 of the ball game, with Henley, Watson and David Schaub eating up the clock and moving to the Wheeler six - inch line before time ran out.

Defensive and line standouts for the Rebels were Scott Feagan, Davey Stewart, Carl Lang, D. D. Lofton and Steve Summers.

Lee had 198 yards rushing in 47 carries and completed one out of one in the air for 23 yards. Wheeler had 140 yards rushing in 70 carries, with Tom Smith the workhorse, and completed two of 10 passes for 70 yards.

AMARILLO — The Pampa Reapers set up Danny Stokes and Lonzo Gomez for three quick touchdowns yesterday and then coasted to an 18-6 victory over Highland Park of Amarillo for the 9th graders' first victory of the season.

Stokes and Gomez were literally unstoppable as both saw only brief action. Stokes opened the game with a 50-yard touchdown run which was nullified by a penalty, then Gomez went 40 yards up the middle for the score.

In the second quarter, Stokes went around right end for a 55-yard TD, and then Gomez went 40 yards up the middle for the final tally, another 40-yard run by him being called back.

The Reapers cleared the bench for the second half and the reserves played the hosts on even terms until Highland Park finally drove for a score early in the fourth quarter.

On the last play of the game, the varsity went back in and Stokes ran from midfield to the Amarillo two before time ran out.

Shockers Outlast Amarillo, 22-20

By JEFF CORANE
News Sports Editor

The Pampa Shockers converted three Amarillo fumbles into touchdowns in the first half, and then held off a fourth - quarter Yannigan rally to pull out a 22-20 victory last night in their last home outing in several weeks.

Despite five starters being out with injuries, the Shockers tore up the Yannigans the first half, mainly due to a tremendous defensive led by Glen Lewis, James Matney and Skeeter Ginn. Lewis, making nine tackles, and Big Matt crashed constantly, harassing the passer, stopping runners for a loss and causing fumbles, while Ginn knocked off any runners that got through, as well as intercepting two passes. The trio got plenty of help, especially from Monk McDonald, Jan Farley, Big Daddy Cary and Billy Scribner.

Meanwhile Ted Heiskell, quarterback Larry Stephens and Rowdy Rowden piled for three quick TDs, two in the opening minutes to apparently wrap up the game.

On the first series of downs, Heiskell and Matney recovered a fumble on the Shocker 48, and on the first play, Rowden broke over left tackle and into the clear for a touchdown with 2:05 gone in the game. Little Sherman Mitchell ran the conversion.

Again Amarillo fumbled, and Cary recovered on the Y an 40. Heiskell, Stevens and Mitchell moved the ball to the four in four plays, Stevens' 18 - yard keeper the big gainer, and Larry then dove for the score be-

White Deer Spirits High for Panhandle

WHITE DEER—Refreshed by a week off, but still on the battered side, coach Colie Huffman's White Deer Bucks get set tonight for their traditional battle with neighboring Panhandle, a long-time rivalry that has been fought to the death every year regardless of class or district affiliation.

Huffman felt there was no disgrace in the Bucks' 27-7 loss to Sanford-Fritch in their last outing, which broke WD's two-straight winning streak. "We played real well," the Round Man opined, "we made two mistakes early in the game that cost us two touchdowns and that was the difference."

"People don't realize it, but we started five sophomores in that game. They're good boys, but sophomores make mistakes due to inexperience. They'll get over it."

"Injury-wise, we were hurt before the season started and we have a couple more added on. Soph fullback Calvin Martin and coach Roy Simmons' boy are both out for the season. Captain James Wheeler suffered a neck injury in the first quarter of the SF game, and will be out this week as well. Either Eddie Kleibrink or Danny Lane will move into his spot, with Vernon Marlar shifting to fullback if Kleibrink switches."

"Halfback Roy Armstrong pulled a muscle in practice Tuesday and is hobbling around...he'll be a question mark. I'd say our standouts last game were Charles Smith and Marlar for all-around play."

Reviewing Panhandle, Huffman said flatly "They are a much improved ball club over last year and the first two games of this year. They are powerful, they run real well, and they will strike you severely. They don't mind hitting. "Sure, they'll be up for the game...it's always tough when Panhandle plays White Deer. Our kids are up, they've got their minds made up to play a little ball...it will be an interesting game."

HOSTS OLD PALS — Jocko Neslage, former Pampa grader, will entertain some old rivals and neighbors Saturday night when his New Mexico Military Institute squad hosts West Texas' B team at Roswell.

KICKING OFF — Jimmy "Gunner" Brown will put his toe to the ball tonight in Dick Bivins Stadium, Amarillo, as the Harvesters leave home for the first time this season, clashing with undefeated Tascosa.

Benchwarmer Carries Reds to 'Must' Win

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

"Don't wake me up," said Jim Coker and there was no objection from the Cincinnati Reds who had just seen a dream walking.

It was moments after Cincinnati beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 in a "must game" Thursday night and the Reds knew to a man that they owed the victory to the 28-year-old reserve catcher from Throckmorton, Tex.

"I want to shake your hand," was the tribute Acting Manager Dick Sisler paid Coker—a tribute that came from the heart because the Coker-made triumph meant that the Reds had sliced the idle first-place St. Louis Cardinals' lead to a half-game and still retained an excellent chance to win or tie for the National League pennant.

Playing only because regular catcher Johnny Edwards is sidelined with sore hands, Coker gave the Reds the lead with a sixth-inning homer and then saved the victory when he cut down Bill Virdon, trying to steal the potential tying run at second base, in the eighth.

Must Catch Cards

Now the Reds face the problem of making up a half-game against a Cardinal team that closes its season with three games against the last-place New York Mets. Both the Reds' games are against the Phillies — one Friday night and the other Sunday afternoon — and Sisler said it all Thursday night when he thundered, "Our job is to win two games and that's exactly what we're going to do. The rest is up to the Cardinals."

The San Francisco Giants defeated the Houston Colts 6-3, the Milwaukee Braves downed the Mets 7-3 and the Chicago Cubs shaded the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 in other NL games.

In the American League, Detroit delayed the New York pennant-clinching with a 4-2 and 5-2 sweep, Boston defeated Cleveland 4-2, Baltimore blanked Washington 2-0 and Kansas City edged out Minnesota 5-4.

Harvesters Play Thrashers At Tascosa Rebs At Booker Saturday

A current wave of flu has hit three Harvester starters on the eve of tonight's crucial game against the Tascosa Rebels in Amarillo's Dick Bivins Stadium.

Fullback Red Griffith, tailback San Williams and guard Myron Scribner have all been bothered by the bug this week. All three are expected to play, reported coach Otis Holladay, but all will be weakened by the virus.

Probable starting lineups:
PAMPA
LE Rickey Marynard 185
LT Phil Kleamer 220
LG Myron Scribner 195
C Jim Arthur 185
RG Jerry Goodwin 185
RT Carl Johnson 195
RE Terry Criss 180
QB Phil Smith 160
LHB Joey Roden 140
RHB Jerry Garrison 160
FB Keith Griffith 170

The defensive line, however, will be hurt by the loss of Trigger Evans, who turned an ankle last Friday. Evans' place at defensive center will probably be taken by offensive end Rick Maynard. Tackle Jim Brumley is also doubtful for tonight, also with a turned ankle. Carl Johnson, the Big Swede, is still bothered by a weak ankle, but the all - district candidate is expected back at his offensive tackle post.

Physically we're hurting, but mentally we're ready," summed up Holladay. "We've got a chance to win if the kids get out there and keep hitting, and make an effort to correct the mistakes of last week. Tascosa has a fine team, they have as good personnel as Palo Duro. We haven't seen them as quite as aggressive, but they're not rated so highly for nothing."

Probable starting lineups:
TASCOSA

Mobeetie Opens Loop Play Against Morse

MOBEETIE — I'm not totally disappointed," said Mobeetie football coach Cecil Reynolds following the Hornets' 44-12 defeat at the hands of Wheeler B in last Saturday night's Homecoming.

"I couldn't expect too much against 12 boys off Wheeler's varsity team," said Reynolds. "They played a real tough game against Canadian and didn't substitute too much, and a lot of the subs played against us."

"I was pretty well pleased with my boys. About half of them had never had any football experience to speak of... all my freshmen and a couple of the sophomores."

"We came out in pretty good shape physically. We lost Wayne Strubling with a broken finger, he'll be out tonight, but back next week. Jerry Rector was voted Player of the Week... he did a fine job both offensively and defensively. Guard Bradley Trout headed up the line."

Mobeetie opens district play tonight as they host Morse, whom they beat badly last year. "Morse is improved over last year," reported Reynolds, "they Probable starting line will have Bobby Adams RE, Windsor RT, Wright RG, David Taylor C, Jarrard LG, Woody Leonard LT, Teddy Bird LE.

The Kiowas lost their opener this year to Class AA Spearman, 36-12, but have beaten Shattuck Okla., 46-12, and Perryton "B" 50-28.

Booker has been a track power for the past several years and won the Class B state championship last year. Four members of relay teams which took first on the state level are playing football. They are end-halfback Larry Troser, and backs Jim Meier, Shayne Slovacek (state 440-yard dash champion) and Bill Hughes.

Hughes is averaging nine yards per carry this season, Meier six and Slovacek four. Meier has caught five passes for 124 yards. The other regular back is Rex Hoover (miler on the track team), 150-pound fullback.

Kiowa coach Ray Robinson gave serious consideration to moving 6-3, 205-pound center Ben Rutz, a three-time all-district selection, to fullback this year. Hoover and the other backs have come through, so Robinson changed his mind.

"Our line, which averages 189 pounds per man, has been doing a solid job this season," says Robinson.

They Did It On Porpoise

It was just one of those interesting, science-can-be-fun type of stories that usually run somewhere in the back pages. But the report of how Keiki the porpoise was released into the sea off Hawaii and then called back repeatedly by an electronic "dog whistle" may in the run prove to have been more significant than the crisis smogging on the front page that same day.

Keiki was the brightest in a class of these very bright mammals being trained at Hawaii's Oceanic Institute to respond to an electronic recall signal. Keiki passed the tests in a tank first, then a lagoon and finally the great open sea itself. "This is a significant feat," said Dr. Kenneth Norris, the institute's vice president. "A vast wet world of research is open to us with an animal like this who will roam the Pacific, then return to us. The possibilities are unlimited."

Because their remote ancestors spent some time on land, the porpoises (or dolphins), and their cousins the whales, have the most highly evolved brains known, next to man. Some say they're even smarter than men. It is believed they have a definite language. Scientists at Sperry-Rand are feeding porpoise noises into a computer in an attempt to find meaningful patterns.

But even if men find they cannot learn to communicate directly with porpoises, the possibilities are still well-nigh unlimited. Some of them include using porpoises to lead fishermen to areas where fish are schooling, or to carry instruments to investigate the characteristics of different levels of the ocean.

If we can teach falcons to hunt and dogs to herd sheep, the idea of forming a working partnership with these playful and cooperative creatures is far from being as fantastic as it may sound.

Already one porpoise has become a movie and television celebrity. That's more than most of us humans have done.

So, What Else Is New?

It is getting harder by the minute to maintain the status of a well-informed citizen. There is too much to be informed about.

First, there are all the things about all the other candidates. If a citizen doesn't know this, how can he vote in intelligent confusion?

He must also have at least a vague idea of what gives all these crises around the world. Otherwise, how can he know what to worry about?

He certainly wants to be informed on the day-to-day progress of the pennant races in the big leagues and of the way things are going in the new football season. Else what is there to talk about with strangers?

As a taxpayer, he naturally is interested in all these bills Congress is considering as new ways to spend his money.

Then, there are these exciting, glorious, hilarious new television programs. Uninformed in this cultural area, you're socially dead.

And there are, of course, the constant strike threats, the development of new hurricanes, the Beatles and the new diets. The average citizen is so busy trying to keep up with all this information that it's almost impossible for him to find time to get into a good political argument or even to tell the football coach how to win a ball game. (Especially if he tries to give an occasional thought to his own business.)

Things are really rough on the old noggin. No wonder the psychiatrists are living better and enjoying it more.

What'll They Do Next?

We heard the other day of a fellow who must be a real nut. This character drove the back roads on his vacation and some days didn't travel more than 100 miles.

He even got out of the car now and then and took time to walk a while when he found something that was especially interesting.

He claimed he enjoyed it and that he came back to work feeling better than when he left.

Well, it takes all kinds. And if some showoff wants to make a big thing out of seeing something interesting on his vacation instead of staying out there on the turpicks where any real vacationer belongs, it's a free country and who's to stop him? Makes you wonder, though.

But, if you want to take care of yourself — that's Americanism.

CAPITOL EYE:

Dems Hope To Smash GOP Hard

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—From both parties, here is an organizer's eye-view of the Johnson-Goldwater campaign as it stands today:

Key Democrats in the President's circle, scanning incredibly favorable public opinion polls from many sources, insist that their party workers are not generally suffering overconfidence and complacency. Says one:

"Here and there it's a little hard to get muscled up, but mostly there's no problem yet. One reason is that some of the polls are so fantastic our own people just don't believe them." Seasoned Democratic organizers are not, however, taking any chances on overconfidence. They are playing the game of goals — hard, specific goals.

THEY ARE TELLING ALL PARTY HANDS the 1964 objective must be not simply to elect Lyndon Johnson over Sen. Barry Goldwater, but to accomplish it with such smashing force that the party picks up 20 or more House seats and at least holds its 67-33 Senate ratio. The idea, obviously, is to give the President a good deal more walking-around room than he now has in the House when he tries to press important legislation.

He and the late John F. Kennedy both were sorely handicapped by the 1960 loss of 21 House seats to the GOP. Further major slippage was, of course, averted in 1962.

DEMOCRATS ARE FAR FROM TOTALLY HAPPY with the 1964 registration effort to date. Yet they believe, with some reason, that this season's undertakings considerably surpass those of prior election years.

As they turn to the grinding labor of canvassing voters, some of these leaders look with frank admiration on the Goldwater managers' own "game of goals" — the ambitious attempt to get specific vote quotas for the Republicans in all 185,000 U.S. precincts.

Despite Democratic skepticism that the GOP can dredge up the manpower to make the project work in the short time ahead, Republican specialists are plunging on with energy and optimism.

SEPT. 28 IS THE DEADLINE fixed for submission of all quotas — with about half still undetermined. Yet these goals already are set for the 12,000-odd precincts in Los Angeles, and dedicated Goldwater partisans who did so much to nominate him this summer are hard at their canvassing chores.

California with its 40 electoral votes is one of four big states Goldwater rates as essential to a November victory.

Republicans have a roving task force of a dozen men helping state and county leaders gear up under the vote quota project. Two others are about to begin special assignment in New Jersey, where money, manpower and morale have been short.

REPUBLICAN MANAGERS CONCEDE that manpower needs are huge. They talk in terms of two million workers to handle the precinct canvassing campaign. They expect to find most recruits among the citizens' and women's groups and the Young Republicans.

The aim is to pull many of these off the literature kick — stuffing envelopes and licking stamps — and toss them into the front lines. Some Democrats contend it would take a year to shape up a country-wide volunteer army for effective precinct labors.

GOP spokesmen certainly make no pretense that everything is rosy, either with the quota project or anything else. Top men encounter persistent bitterness among moderates crushed in the spring campaign. And Republicans read the polls, too.

Some GOP leaders nevertheless say they find a "mysterious something" in the air, which, hopefully, will confound or reverse the polls by Nov. 3. Democrats, watching their rivals, think they already are using "desperation tactics" of the sort employed by men who, late in the game, believe the battle is lost.

New and Worsening Problems in Africa, Asia and South America Outlined in CIA Reports to White House

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson and his political speech writers apparently aren't reading or don't believe the confidential reports on the worsening world conditions that the Central Intelligence Agency is sending to the White House.

While the President is exposing the nation's voters to a rosy glow of optimism in his campaign speeches, CIA Director John McConne is flooding the House with reports about the growth of socialist, neutralist, and pro-Communist governments in Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

McConne, who is finding it harder and harder to privately brief President Johnson as he did the late President Kennedy, is sending these "warnings" through the regular channels and his aides say that he has no idea whether they are getting to the President.

Prepared by the CIA's Board of National Estimates for McConne's transmission to the President and members of the National Security Council, one of these estimates warned:

"Many new nations have adopted strongly socialist methods; some have held to constitutional methods with only great difficulty and others have abandoned them; some have thrown out bloody dictators and some have acquired them. Most profess some form of neutralism."

This CIA estimate stressed, "The new European attitudes have given a somewhat greater respectability to the Communist states of Eastern Europe and to the Marxist parties of the West."

It pointed out that, "There has been a realization that it was not necessary to nationalize industry and finance in order to achieve the objectives of socialism, and that much the same ends could be achieved through welfare programs and through proper use of the mechanisms of modern fiscal and monetary systems."

GROWING DISORDER — Another CIA estimate, discussed in an earlier column, bluntly told of the growing disunity, and disorder in the Western world, stating:

"Revolution and disorder in the southern two-thirds of the world have been intensifying. . . . In four major areas, Latin America, Africa, the Near East, and Southeast Asia, indigenous political forces — in some cases with the assistance and encouragement of other powers — were overthrowing governments, forming political alignments, and impinging to a degree hitherto unknown upon the concerns and even vital interests of their more powerful northern neighbors. . . . The drift (in Africa) seems to be toward political and social chaos."

The country-by-country analysis of CIA Director McConne and his intelligence experts tells of the growing troubles facing pro-U.S. governments throughout the world as well as the newly emerging nations.

The monarchies in Jordan, Saudi Arabia, and Libya are making, in varying degrees, some efforts to modernize," the CIA analysis states, "but even in the case of the most energetic of these, namely Jordan, there is serious doubt that the monarchy itself will not in time be swept away by the forces it is releasing and encouraging."

According to these CIA experts' findings, "Many situations such as those in Algeria, the Congo, and the Horn of Africa are very fragile" and could explode at any time.

"Nkrumah is an unstable man who has created and will create considerable instability in West Africa," the intelligence experts report. "Even nations led by mature and able leaders, such as Nigeria and Senegal, have deep divisions."

INSTRUMENTS OF REVOLT — The royal regimes of Iran and Afghanistan have become, at their rulers' initiatives, instruments of revolution.

"The more dramatic case is that of Iran, where the Shah has turned against both the upper and middle classes, made common cause with the peasants, and begun large-scale land and political reform," another CIA estimate reveals.

It contends, "His (the Shah's) efforts seem to have flagged in recent months, but there is no sign of his turning back. Indeed, the Shah is so committed that he can turn back only with considerable risk; if he fails or falters, his regime may go down with his program."

"The situation in Afghanistan also represents a small tinder box."

The CIA estimate states, "The royal initiative has been less dramatic and more deliberate in Afghanistan. Steps toward more rapid modernization and toward political reform are being taken cautiously and there are a number of difficulties to be surmounted. As the pace of change accelerates so will the pressures for its continuance; it is still too early to determine whether the King will have the courage to go ahead when the going gets harder."

Another CIA estimate notes, "Egypt and Indonesia have very substantially improved their military capabilities through the acquisition of large amounts of Soviet arms."

COMING EVENTS — Workers are scheduled to begin construction this week at the Capitol to prepare the stands for the inauguration of the next President of the U.S. The work is about two weeks behind schedule because of the protracted session of Congress. . . . The Inaugural Committee is considering something new — a square dance in addition to the regular Inaugural ball. Those who like the idea, can write to the Inaugural Committee, Washington, D.C., and tell them so.

EDITOR: Just how much is a billion dollars? If John Doe should give his nagging spendthrift wife a million dollars, then send her away stipulating she not return until she has spent the million at the rate of $1000 per day, she would return broke and nagging in three years.

However, if the exasperated Doe had the dough, he would send his wife away with a billion dollars. Spending at the same rate, this time she would be gone for 3000 years!

This illustrates the magnitude of a billion. It gives this writer a tiny semblance of comprehension of $100 billion federal budgets. Furthermore, if the hypothetical Mrs. Doe's spending was wasteful and reckless, could not the same be said of some of the buffoons who are spending our tax money at the rate of $8 billion dollars per month?

This should be of paramount concern to every American for we are now paying $1 billion dollars per month interest on our colossal debt — the amount which took Mrs. Doe 3000 years to spend. The President has recognized this concern by switching off the unused White House lights. This is a 100-watt approach to a billion kilowatt problem but it is good to know that conservation of the taxpayers' money still has a flicking chance in Washington.

In the coming weeks the taxpayers should read what the candidates have to offer by candlelight, if necessary.

JOHNSON'S LAWYER 'TAKES THE FIFTH'

Chicago Tribune

Capitol Vending Company, which has filed a $300,000 suit for damages against President Johnson's protegee, Bobby Baker, secretary to the Senate Democratic majority was refused permission Tuesday to subpoena three high officials of the Johnson administration.

The officials, all known to possess substantial information about the manipulations which brought Baker a fortune of more than 2 million dollars while he was on a salary of $19,600 a year, were Walter W. Jenkins, assistant to President Johnson; Nicholas de B. Katzenbach, acting attorney general, and James E. Webb, administrator of the government Space agency.

Katzenbach successfully argued before Judge Alexander Holtzoff in federal District court at Washington that, under a plea of executive privilege, he and his government associates were entitled to withhold information about the Baker case.

The court turned down the contention of counsel for Capitol Vending that the justice department, through Katzenbach, must show that it had specific authority from the President to exercise executive privilege. Here we have the remarkable spectacle of the chief law of-

Judge — But why do you want a divorce merely because your husband threw your dress out of the window?
Woman — Because I was still in it.

The Allens decided to take a house in the suburbs — and shortly after their arrival there an old friend came to call on them. As he approached the house a dog of generous proportions, sprang from the porch, and ran toward him, barking fiercely. The caller was about to retrace his steps when the cheery voice of Mrs. Allen rang out:

Mrs. Allen — Why, how do you do, Mr. Fisher! Come right in. Don't mind the dog.
Mr. Fisher — But won't he bite?
Mrs. Allen — That's just what I want to find out. We just bought him this morning.

Oswald's Ability as Marksman Proven

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a series of special articles dealing with rumors about President John F. Kennedy's assassination and how the Warren Commission dealt with them.

By MERRIMAN SMITH WASHINGTON (UPI)—After the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, many Americans questioned whether an oddball like Lee Harvey Oswald was sufficiently skilled with a rifle to have done the ghastly job.

There were rumors he could not have possibly fired three shots with such accuracy in a space of a few seconds; that a second rifle was found on the roof of the Texas School Depository Building from which the lethal gunfire came.

Most of these rumors started before the public knew much about Oswald. The Warren Commission report, however, has answered most of the rumors about the killer, his marksmanship and his weapons.

Numerous experts on weapons, ammunition, ballistics and marksmanship, plus extensive tests of the murder rifle with duplicate ammunition and Oswald's record in the U.S. Marine Corps, produced this answer: "Easy" Shots

From the standpoint of a trained shooter which Oswald was, the two shots (a third missed) that killed Kennedy and wounded Gov. John Connally of Texas were "easy" to use a word from the expert testimony. The President's open car was moving at 11.2 miles per hour, going away in a straight line from the assassin's station on the sixth floor of the building. By scientific examination and timing of amateur movie film made of the incident, it was determined that Kennedy was 265.3 feet from the rifle when the second shot hit his head.

The facts of the matter as developed by the commission: The assassination weapon was a 6.5 millimeter Mannlicher-Carcano Italian military rifle model 91-38, re-barreled from its original caliber of 7.35 millimeters.

The American gun market after World War II was flooded with weapons of this type. For the most part, they are shoddy and somewhat beat up, hence the re-barreling job in this case.

Mail Order Gun Ordering under the alias of A. Hidell, an alias he used frequently, Oswald purchased the gun by mail from Klein's Sporting Goods Co. of Chicago, paying $21.45 and ordered it shipped to a Dallas postoffice box which he rented in his own name. The total charge included $19.95 for the rifle and a cheap four-power telescopic sight, plus $1.50 for shipping handling. Without the scope the weapon would have cost $12.78. (A new American-made rifle of comparable caliber would cost from $50 to $100 with another $25 to $40 for the scope.)

In the same general period, early 1963, Oswald also bought by mail a .38 special Smith & Wesson victory model revolver from Seaport-Traders Inc., of Los Angeles, for $29.95. This was the weapon with which he killed Dallas police officer J.D. Tippit who tried to arrest him in a suburb shortly after the Kennedy assassination.

Oswald used four revolver bullets in Tippit during the attempted arrest.

Competent Marksman As for his skill with a rifle, the commission pointed out at some length that Oswald spent nearly three years in the Marines. Training with the M-1 rifle at San Diego in December, 1956, the young Marine fired a score of 212 — two points over the score necessary for qualification as a sharpshooter.

The Marines rate their riflemen in three grades — marksman, sharpshooter and expert. Three years later, shortly before Oswald left the Marines on a dependency discharge, his firing score had dropped somewhat. Nevertheless, in those three years, he was drilled constantly in handling of weapons.

On the question of ability, expert witnesses also pointed out that use of the scope was a substantial aid in rapid, accurate firing. Also, there was physical evidence that Oswald packed the rifle on some packing cases stacked by the window of the book depository, giving the rifle a much more solid base than if he had attempted an off-hand, stand-up shot.

Conducts Exact Tests The commission dealt with a rumor that Oswald could not have fired three shots from the Mannlicher-Carcano in 5 1/2 seconds.

"According to expert witnesses, exacting tests conducted that the first loaded shell was already in the chamber ready for firing; Oswald had only to pull the trigger to fire the first shot and to work the bolt twice in order to fire the second and third shots. They testified that if the second shot missed, Oswald had between 4.8 and 5.6 seconds to fire the three shots. If either the first or third shot missed, Oswald had in excess of seven seconds to fire the three shots."

There was some confusion shortly after the assassination about the type of weapon found on the sixth floor of the Depository Building. A deputy constable who discovered the rifle after Oswald fled identified it as a 7.65 Mauser, a German bolt-action weapon.

The constable, Seymour Weitzman, did not pick up the rifle to examine it at close range because he did not want to interfere with fingerprint experts on the way to the scene.

Easily Confused His mistake was quite understandable since it would take someone quite familiar with foreign rifles to tell at a glance the difference between a Mauser 7.65 and a Mannlicher-Carcano 6.5. In any case, Dallas police laboratory experts were on hand shortly and correctly identified the rifle.

Although accurately labeled within a short time, the Mauser version was made public quickly and repeated by other law enforcement officials before the gun was checked out by experts. Then came the announcement that the gun in truth was a Mannlicher-Carcano.

And then, too, came rumors that two weapons were involved. The second weapon was reported variously to have been found on either the roof of the building or an adjacent overpass.

"No second rifle was found in either of these places or in any other place," the commission said. "The shots that struck President Kennedy and Governor Connally came from the rifle found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository."

Mexico Questions Efforts to Get Visas From Cuba

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—More than a score of Cuban exiles and two Americans have been under questioning here in connection with a New York investigation of a plan for allegedly obtaining visas for Cubans to leave Havana, officials said.

The two Americans have been identified as Wendell Rolason and Anthony Farines, described as associates in the "Inter-American Affairs Commission" of Miami, Fla.

The two U.S. residents left their hotel here last Wednesday accompanied by federal agents, and were reported still being questioned Sunday.

Two investigators from the New York state attorney general's office—Barnet Levy and Sphen Mindell—were also reported here to obtain information on the Cuban travel plan.

Under the plan, it was said here, relatives in the U.S. of Cubans trying to leave their country have paid a New York travel agency large sums of money to obtain passports and visas, which have not been delivered.

Mexican authorities here said also that another investigation here is being made, with alleged spread of counterfeit dollars, presumably by anti-Castro exiles in Mexico, Central America and the United States.

Shockers (Continued From Page 7) feet and broke loose for 24 yards to the Pampa 31. Warren continued running and led the Yans to sighting distance of the goal, where fullback Brad Smith went over from the eight. Rowden intercepted a conversion pass that literally clinched the win.

The ever-dangerous Yans came right back as they recovered a fumble kickoff return on the Pampa 42.

A penalty, then Warren ran it down to the nine. Three plays later, Smith went over from the one. Warren ran the conversion.

Heiskell and Stephens then set up the last four minutes of the game, holding the ball until the final 28 seconds.
