Philly 'Jungle' Stays Under Guard

Losses in Rioting Run into Millions

By GENE HARRIS

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A weekend of Negro rioting, plundering and bloodshed waned into sporadic outbreaks of vandalism and looting today.

Mayor James H. J. Tate declared the situation under control but kept in force a 24-hour curfew and a guard of 1,500 policemen in the ravaged Negro area in North Philadelphia known as the "jungle."

A total of 348 persons were injured, seven of them in brief skirmishes with police Sunday night. More than 100 of the injured were policemen. The mayor said "damage costs" would amount to several million dollars, including overtime pay for 3,000 patrolmen.

The number arrested by police during the three days of conflict totaled 369 men, women and teen-agers. A special court was set up at City Hall to dispose of the charges against them. A total of 197 cases had been disposed of before Judge Vincent A. Carroll adjourned court shortly before midnight until this morning. Most of the defendants were held in jail.

Patrol Troubled Area

Patrolmen armed with riot clubs patrolled the six-square-mile area constantly. Some rode in buses as complete squads ready to rush into various sections where trouble developed. Other police cruised the area in patrol cars while hundreds pounded beats abbreviated to a few hundred feet.

The tightened surveillance wasn't enough, however, to control the situation completely.

Bands of Negroes, many of them teen-agers, continued vandalizing and looting in sudden strikes, smashing windows and stealing merchandise, then fleeing through slum area streets before police could arrive.

Most of the new outbreaks occurred on the northern fringe of the devastated area. A state liquor store was looted of its contents when police rushed to a grocery several blocks away to capture two boys emerging with supplies of foodstuffs. A few minutes later, a gang of Negroes on rooftops showered police with a barrage of bottles, rocks and bricks.

Other Vandalism

There were scattered acts of vandalism and looting in other sections of the city. Six store windows were broken in a Negro area of West Philadelphia. A large show window in a center-city clothing store was smashed, a metal trash basket was hurled through a downtown shoe store window, and more than 14 stores in an area south of the embattled region were looted.

Bud Outlaw, a Negro newsman, was trapped in a telephone booth by a dozen teen-agers brandishing knives and threatening to kill him. "I forced my way through the door and ran," Outlaw said. "I don't know how I got away with it."

But the disturbances were mild compared to the rampages which wracked the area during the past three days, leaving commercial sections a shambles. Columbia Avenue, the main street of the rioting, was covered with glass from the shattered store windows.

While city officials were trying to restore normalcy, a wave of protests arose over the way police were instructed to handle the rioters. About 70 white merchants, whose shops were smashed and plundered by the unruly bands of hoodlums, marched on City Hall to demand additional protection. A spokesman charged police were "too slow" in responding to looting reports.

Merchants Complain

Other merchants complained that some patrolmen stood by and watched Negroes carrying merchandise through smashed doors and windows. Police were hopelessly outnumbered and feared the use of guns might turn the situation into a shooting war, authorities said.

A controversy boiled over whether there was a standing order forbidding police to use their pistols, regardless of the circumstances. Numerous patrolmen and sergeants complained they were ordered not

Negroes Quietly Enter Schools in Mississippi City

BILOXI, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi desegregated its first public schools today in an atmosphere of resignation after years of resistance.

Sixteen Negroes were accepted in four elementary schools in this historic coastal city, where stately, moss covered oaks bend to the blast of low-flying jet planes at a nearby Air Force base, and by 10 a.m. CST, 16 were in first grade classes.

There were no incidents. It was in sharp contrast to the rioting that claimed two lives when Negro James Meredith enrolled at the University of Mississippi at Oxford on Sept. 30, 1962.

Seventeen Negroes had registered for classes at Biloxi, one of four Mississippi cities ordered by the courts to make a start toward desegregation this fall. One was rejected, however, when it was learned that the child's parents live outside the state.

White parents sat in their cars in the vicinity of the four Biloxi schools long after their children had entered but there was no attempt to interfere when the Negro youngsters appeared and walked shyly holding their parent's hands into the schools.

At one of the schools, a white man had stood since early morning awaiting the arrival of the Negroes. After they disappeared inside, the man told a reporter: "Yeah, I saw them go in." Then he turned and walked away.

Seven Negroes entered Gorden, three others began classes at Lopez elementary and four entered Duke, an old two-story building surrounded by ancient oaks.

The mother of one of the small Negroes entering Duke later told a reporter: "Everything is OK, but it ain't over yet."

The Negro children, all admitted to the first grade only, walked into the school yard holding hands with their parents.

A large number of police officers and plainclothesmen were on the scene at each Biloxi school and the Justice Department had two men on the scene as observers.

In contrast to racial violence that has swept other sections of the state, a peaceful transition was indicated on the school front here.

Viet Infiltrators Kill US Pilot on Edge of Airfield

Four Other Americans Reported Wounded by Communist Guerrillas

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — A U. S. military spokesman said today that an American Air Force captain was killed when Communist guerrillas fired on his plane near the edge of Bien Hoa Air Base.

The spokesman also disclosed that four other Americans have been wounded by Communist mines and gunfire in South Viet Nam.

The slain Air Force captain was identified as Richard Dean Goss, of Seattle, Wash.

The spokesman said Goss was killed along with a Vietnamese student pilot Saturday while practicing night landings at the American Bien Hoa base, 15 miles north of here. U. S. jet bombers are stationed at the bases.

He said their fighter-bomber was fired on from the ground immediately before it crashed 200 yards from the end of the runway.

The spokesman said an investigation was still going on to determine whether the enemy ground fire was the actual cause of the crash.

The captain was the 27th American to die in South Viet Nam since Jan. 1, 1961. Of these 188 have been killed in combat action.

Two other Americans — an American officer and an enlisted man — were wounded when their jeep struck a Communist mine Sunday 20 miles north of Saigon on highway 10.

Their condition was described as "not serious" but they were taken to the U. S. Navy hospital in Saigon for further treatment.

A U. S. Special Forces officer was wounded Sunday morning when two companies of Communist Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed a government patrol near the Cambodian border, 90 miles west of Saigon.

He was said to be in fair condition at Saigon Navy hospital. Nineteen Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed, wounded or missing in the same engagement, but two other American advisers with them escaped injury.

Patman Says CIA Contributed to Doubtful Fund

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said today that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) contributed money to a foundation under investigation by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Patman told a hearing of a House small business subcommittee he heads that he was breaking a "confidence" because he felt he had been "trifled with" by the CIA.

The Texas Democrat said the foundation receiving the money was the J. M. Kaplan Fund of New York City. The IRS has been investigating the fund for several years to determine whether it should retain its tax exempt status.

The Patman subcommittee has been looking into the tax exempt status of foundations and whether some of them are taking advantage of it.

Patman's disclosures produced some embarrassment among the IRS witnesses, Acting Commissioner Bertrand M. Harding and Mitchell Rogovin, assistant to the commissioner.

The two men repeatedly told Patman that it would be best if the chairman put his questions to CIA representatives in a closed session.

On Aug. 10 Rogovin and Harding appeared before the subcommittee in connection with the Kaplan fund. Patman had charged that financier J. M. Kaplan had used the foundation to build his business empire.

At one point during that session Rogovin, when asked a question, walked to the subcommittee stand and spoke privately with Patman. That discussion, it became apparent today, served to inform Patman of CIA's involvement with the Kaplan fund.

Johnson Definitely Against GOP Senator

JOHNSON CITY (UPI) — President Johnson made one thing especially clear during his birthday party in Stone wall this weekend: He does not want another Republican senator elected in Texas.

At the same time, it was apparent that the Democratic chief executive was concerned about gains the GOP has already made in his native state. Johnson made two statements before the 4,000 Democrats attending the gathering which showed his position.

First he rejected Republican criticism of Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

ough, D-Tex., by declaring "I don't think that Texas has had a Senator that has voted for the people more than Ralph Yarborough," apparently including his own Senate record.

Tone of Contempt
Then, in a tone of contempt, he noted "We have one Republican Senator from Texas already," Sen. John Tower. It was the first time he had spoken publicly against Tower, who filled Johnson's seat in the Senate after the 1960 election since ascending to the presidency.

Republicans have indicated they will go all out to elect Houston oil man George Bush, the son of former Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., over Yarborough in November.

One of the GOP's strongest points will be an attack on the Yarborough-Johnson relationship.

Apparently anticipating this, Johnson made a point to declare all past differences with the Senior Texas Senator dissolved.

Congress Meets to Tackle Big Backlog

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress reconvened today in a post-convention session to tackle a backlog of legislation blocking the way to its election year adjournment.

Scheduled as the first order of business in the Senate was a House-passed bill to expand Social Security coverage which will be the springboard for a fight over medical care for the aged. Some House and Senate leaders have indicated it may take three to four weeks before the legislative calendar can be cleared.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., the Democratic vice presidential candidate, was on hand to help shepherd the administration program to a vote. In the House, the Republican vice presidential nominee, Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., was present. But both President Johnson and the GOP presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater, were on pre-campaign vacations.

Among the issues still to be decided by the lawmakers were the medicare bill, foreign aid, and one portion of President Johnson's overall anti-poverty program.

Although both Johnson and GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater were on pre-campaign vacations and were not on hand as Congress got back to work, the session was expected to have political overtones.

Both Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey and Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., the two vice presidential nominees, returned to Washington for the resumption of Congress.

In addition, 35 of the 100 Senate seats and all the House seats are at stake in the November election, giving many members a campaign interest in the final legislative action. Congressional leaders had hoped to finish their work before the Democratic convention, but the issue of legislative reapportionment stalled the drive.

It is also expected to be a possible stumbling block to a quick cleanup of the post-convention session.

Would Postpone Effect
The reapportionment dispute revolves around a bipartisan compromise proposal in the Senate aimed at postponing the effect of the recent Supreme Court order that state legislatures be districted on the basis of population only.

The proposal has been introduced as a rider to the administration's $3.3 billion foreign aid program, which has already been approved by the House. Senate liberals are pledged to oppose the reapportionment amendment, blocking final approval of the aid program.

To add to the tangle, the House has passed a stiffer reapportionment bill which would take the matter out of the jurisdiction of federal courts.

Other measures still pending are a $455 million increase in the administration's area redevelopment program and an added authorization for the accelerated public works program.

The Senate has already approved the additional funds for the redevelopment program, but the measure is reported to be in trouble in the House. Neither House has acted on the public works bill.

He said this week will be critical—that the sleeping sickness epidemic has reached a "plateau" and will either grow worse as fresh waves of mosquitoes go to work, or dwindle as mosquito-killing actions take effect.

Launching of Titan Delayed in Florida

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Tracking difficulties caused a delay today in the first launching of a mighty Air Force Titan-3A rocket, newest star in the military space program.

Launch time for the 124-foot rocket, which was to orbit 3,750 pounds of lead, was originally set at 11 a.m. EST but more than an hour later, a one-hour hold was called while scientists tried to iron out the tracking problem.

The countdown, which once had reached T-3 seconds, was recycled and halted again at T-9 seconds, when the one-hour hold was called.

The Titan-3A is the forerunner of a more powerful Titan-3C model scheduled to orbit a manned laboratory in 1968 and eight communications satellites at a time in 1966. Titan-3's may also be used later to orbit satellite inspectors, space station ferry ships and rescue craft.

Unlike maiden flights for most big rockets, today's Titan-3A mission was a full scale orbital shot testing the entire system. The dummy payload, however, carried no instruments.

The 9,000-pound third stage-payload combination was programmed to complete one sweep around the globe before sending the payload into a separate orbit.

One of the most vital phases of the shot is the performance of the new third stage, called a space switch engine because of its versatility, and its sophisticated guidance system.

It is the third stage that gives the Titan-3 the ability to handle a wide variety of manned and unmanned missions. It can stop and start several times in space, change orbits or kick probes toward the moon and planets.

Rare Quadruplet Calves Born to Cow Near Pampa

A rare case of quadruplet calves was reported born to a 2-year-old cow owned by a Pampa rancher yesterday.

The cow was owned by Frank (Buster) Carter Jr., 15 miles north of Pampa.

The calves were discovered by David Richardson, Carter's ranch foreman about 10 a.m. Sunday.

Richardson first found three of the calves lying dead in a pasture and thought that three different cows had had one calf each and each calf died during birth.

He summoned Veterinarian Kenneth Royce to determine what might be causing the calves to be still born.

It was then found that the calves were born of the same mother and that she had quadruplets instead of triplets. One of the four calves was born alive and apparently will grow to be a normal, healthy animal, Dr. Royce said.

The odds for quadruplets are about 1 in 748,855, said Dr. Royce.

Houston 'Sweating Out' New Batch of Mosquitoes

HOUSTON (UPI) — Houston today sweated out the start of a "make-or-break" period in its war against an encephalitis epidemic—waiting for what could be a new wave of disease-bearing mosquitoes to hatch.

At Tulla, in West Texas, the death of Peri Hoyer, one-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hoyer, was blamed on sleeping sickness. It was the second death from encephalitis in West Texas.

Rain proved an ally of the mosquitoes in the outbreak of the disease, which has been blamed for 19 deaths, three of them confirmed, and infected more than 400.

Daily rains hurt anti-mosquito spraying efforts Aug. 22-26. The incubation period for mosquito eggs laid during that period, about 7-10 days, is coming to an end.

"New mosquitoes are about due from the rains," said Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health officer, Sunday.

He said this week will be critical—that the sleeping sickness epidemic has reached a "plateau" and will either grow worse as fresh waves of mosquitoes go to work, or dwindle as mosquito-killing actions take effect.

Mrs. DA Never Has Dull Moment

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — She's Mrs. District Attorney, one of the few women in the United States serving as prosecutors.

"I frequently hear that this is no job for a woman," said Mrs. Leonard Kremen, of Salem, Ore. She is chief prosecutor for Salem, the capital city, and its county, Marion, with a total population of about 140,000, she said. She is the first woman elected to the job in Oregon.

"I'm not a feminist," she said, "but I believe women should be treated as human beings, not discriminated against. There should be more of them in the halls of justice. I think we should have a woman on the U.S. Supreme Court bench."

Mrs. Kremen, a tall, dark-haired woman in her 50's, said she believes juries accept her as they do any other lawyer when she is prosecuting a case. "Mostly," she said, "it's a matter of how you present your evidence. Not whether you're a man or woman."

Hattie Kremen said that it's an "easy generality" for the public to say that women are more emotional, say in a courtroom, than men.

"I find that women on juries, as lawyers, in business, are just as practical as any man," said the lady DA.

Mrs. Kremen, the wife of a Salem retail store executive, has prosecuted an assortment of cases as wide as those of any of her male counterparts on television—murder, rape, divorce where collusion might be a factor, narcotics traffic. She or one of her staff steps in, she said, to investigate alongside the police when there are indications crime has been done.

I talked with Mrs. Kremen while she was in New York for a meeting of the National Association of District Attorneys. Her approach to her job is not one of "conviction above all," she said. "My idea is to try to determine whether this person can be salvaged, can be returned to society."

Some of the work is grinding, she said, but there's never a dull moment.

Said prosecutor Hattie Kremen: "I believe I could now throw out the law books and install a psychiatrist's couch. I've given that much advice."

Political Columnist Seeks Answer for Stinky Politics

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Though I am supposed to solve political problems, I have one which I have wrestled with for some time and need help. It pertains to skunks.

Two of my grandsons want to adopt skunks. I told them that I would go along with them. Confidentially, I even encouraged them. When I was young, I used to trap skunks (some people say I still do). A good de-scented skunk, regardless of his politics, is not too bad to have around the house. However, Mrs. Pearson objects. She says she will not tolerate skunks in our home. Since my grandsons are visiting us this summer, and I did promise them some skunks, what is your advice?

DREW PEARSON
DEAR MR. PEARSON: A promise is a promise. Get the grandsons the skunks. They make wonderful pets! But be sure they're deodorized—otherwise I predict your life won't be worth a scent!

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and I hope that you won't think my problem is too silly to answer. You see, my parents do not allow me to date a boy unless he is the same faith as I am. You can't always tell by their looks, or even by their names, and I don't think it is very nice to come right out and ask a person what church he belongs to. Yet there would be no sense in starting to like a boy who doesn't go to my church because, if he liked me, I couldn't date him anyway. So how can I find out what religion a boy is without coming right out and asking him?

PHILADELPHIA
DEAR PHILADELPHIA: There is nothing wrong with "coming right out and asking him." In fact, that's the best way to get an honest answer to a serious question.

DEAR ABBY: I am the youngest of six children. And to make matters worse I was a "change of life" baby, and it was almost like being an only child. My mother was 51 years old when I was born. Well, whenever my mother introduces me to any of her friends, she says, "... and this is my baby." I am 36 years old. Abby, and this is pretty embarrassing. Should I correct my mother?

"A 200-pound baby"
DEAR ABBY: Your mother is lucky to have a 36-year-old "baby," and you are even luckier to have an 87-year-old mother. I don't recommend correcting one's mother — at any age.

CLAIROIL KID ON LAKE CALHOUN: No woman who has been "39" for the past ten years has the right to call a car dealer a crook because he set the speedometer back.

Tip for Making Better Coffee

To make the best cup of coffee in town, try this inexpensive filter trick with percolator and drip coffee makers. Cut a circle the size of your coffee basket from a Kleenex paper towel. Place one paper towel filter in the coffee basket before adding the grounds. To save time, cut several filters at the same time. Coffee will be clear and delicious.

White Sox and Yankees Gain Ground on Orioles

By United Press International
"If Moose gives us the muscle, we can win."
It was July 15 and the Chicago White Sox were in third place in the American League when General Manager Ed Short made that comment after obtaining Bill Skowron in a waiver deal with the Washington Senators.

White Sox go on to win the pennant they may look back on the homer Skowron hit Sunday, Aug. 30, as their most important single hit of the season.
The blow came off Robin Roberts and snapped a scoreless tie in the fifth inning of the White Sox' clutch 3-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. By going on to win the game, they remained only a half game out of first place.
When the 33-year-old Skowron joined the White Sox he was hitting .271 with 13 homers and 41 runs batted in. Since then he's raised his average to .285.

has hit two key homers and driven in 25 runs.
Add Two Runs
The White Sox added two runs in the ninth inning after they had to bring in relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm to save the lead in the eighth. The win was Joel Horlen's 10th of the season and the loss Roberts' sixth.
The New York Yankees crept to within three games of the lead with a 9-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox, the Minnesota Twins shaded the Washington Senators 5-4, the Los Angeles Angels nipped the Detroit Tigers 5-4 and the Cleveland Indians topped the Kansas City Athletics 6-5 after a 9-3 defeat.

Nichols Falters but Still Defeats Palmer

By ED SAINSBURY
BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI)—Lessons from a pro, confidence and educated golf won pro golfer's biggest paycheck in seven years for Bobby Nichols, and he planned today to use the $35,000 to educate his children.
Nichols stood off a shaky challenge Sunday by golf's most prominent challenger, Arnold Palmer, and while he couldn't beat par, he beat Palmer and the rest of the field for the top prize in golf's richest tournament, the $200,000 Carling Open.
Nichols surged into contention Saturday with a 66, the second best round of the four-day 72-hole event on the par 70 Oakland Hills course. But he could fire no better than 72 in the final round. It gave him a two-under-par total of 278.

Two Beat Par
They were the only two of the 78-player field who could improve on par of 280 for four rounds.
"I played with Ben Hogan in practice," Nichols confessed, "and I tried to watch him. I learned a lot, and it helped me in the tournament."
Then when I won the PGA, it gave me confidence, and you have to have confidence to win. You get the confidence you're going to play better, and you do.
"I just tried to hit the greens and make pars to hold the lead," he added. "I figured I'd have to win or lose on the last four holes."
"With guys like Palmer and (Gary) Player behind you, you can't let up. I think I made my greatest shot of the tournament with a five iron within 12 feet of the pin on the 18th and got a par."
Palmer Applies Pressure
Palmer also made what he described as his "greatest shot ever" in a tournament when it was important, "a cut six iron which hit the pin on the 18th green and dropped six feet away. He made the putt for a birdie to put the pressure on Nichols to finish with pars for the top prize. Palmer's second money was $17,000.

Homers Help Yanks
Homers by Johnny Blanchard and Hector Lopez paced a nine-hit attack that enabled rookie Mel Stottlemyre to score his fourth victory. It was the third straight win for the Yankees, who picked up a full game on both the Orioles and White Sox over the weekend.
Tony Oliva's 28th homer snapped a 4-4 tie in the eighth inning and gave relief pitcher Jim Perry his third victory for the Twins. Don Mincher also homered for the Twins while Don Lock connected for the Senators. Allen Koch suffered his ninth setback for the Senators.
Ken McBride went six innings to score his first victory since June 11 and his third of the season behind a Los Angeles attack that included homers by Jim Fregosi and Willie Smith. Dave Wickersham, a 16-game winner, failed to retire a batter in the first inning and was tagged with his 10th loss.
Jim Gentile drove in five runs with two homers and a single and Nelson Mathews also hit two homers as the Athletics snapped a six-game losing streak in their opener with the Indians. Cleveland won the nightcap on Max Alvis' two-run ninth-inning single.

Mantle Tops Ruth
NEW YORK (UPI)—Mickey Mantle tops Babe Ruth today in at least one respect.
Mantle struck out Sunday for the 1,331st time in his major league career, surpassing Ruth's all-time major league mark of 1,330. Mantle is playing his 14th season while Ruth played 22.

White Deer Grigger Better
AMARILLO — Roger Simmons, White Deer sophomore lineman who collapsed during a light practice Thursday, was a conscious yesterday and resting well in Northwest Texas Hospital.
Doctors have diagnosed the boy's trouble as a ruptured blood vessel in the brain.
He revived at the practice field and was kept in bed at home until Saturday morning, when his condition worsened. He was then transferred to the Amarillo hospital, where his condition was described as poor at that time.
Young Simmons had been treated for a cold since Tuesday. He is the son of White Deer assistant coach Roy Simmons.

Sandy Koufax

Koufax Sidelined By Doctor

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dodger pitcher Sandy Koufax apparently will sit out the last month of the baseball season for treatment and rest of his sore left elbow.
Team physician Dr. Robert Kerlan, who was to examine Koufax' elbow today, said Sunday, "I would say it's doubtful he will pitch again this season."
E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, Dodger general manager, said there "was no sense" having the ailing record star, who is one victory shy of becoming a 20-game winner this year, travel with the team on the current road trip.
"I told him to come home. I want to find out what's wrong," said Bavasi, who said he talked with Koufax by telephone before the Dodger-Cardinal game Sunday in St. Louis.
Koufax told manager Walter Alston before Sunday's game that the arm felt worse than ever.
Koufax appeared to be heading for a season as successful as last year's when he won 28 games and grabbed off most of the post-season honors. His worst record was 19-5, his earned run average 1.74, his strikeout total a major league-leading 223. He hurled the third no-hitter of his career this season against the Phillies.

Meredith's Injury May Mean Trade

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys find out today how seriously they must consider going into the trade market for a proven journeyman National Football League quarterback.
The medics will take another look at signal caller Don Meredith's injured knee. If it isn't swollen, the club's only experienced quarterback may be able to play Sept. 12 when the Cowboys open the season against the St. Louis Cardinals. If it is swollen, his absence may be of much longer duration.
Either unproven sophomore Sonny Gibbs or rookie John Jacobs will be the starter next Saturday night at New Orleans when the Cowboys close the exhibition season against the Chicago Bears with Meredith certain to be on the sidelines throughout.
Meredith was hurt on a blind-side tackle by Green Bay's Ray Nitschke in the third quarter of last Saturday night's 35-3 loss to the Packers.

Davis Reject Wins Tourney

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Gene Scott produced a few red faces among members of the U.S. Davis Cup selection committee when he won the Meadow Club tennis tournament final tuneup for the National Singles at Forest Hills.
The former Yale hockey captain from St. James, N.Y., followed up his upset victory over top-seeded Dennis Ralston in the semifinals by outlasting Chuck Pasarell of Puerto Rico, 10-8, 7-5, 3-6, 4-6, 6-4, Sunday in the championship match.
Ralston and Pasarell are members of the American team which will defend the Davis Cup against Australia at Cleveland, Sept. 25-27, but Scott was ignored by the selection committee.
However, Scott may yet gain a berth on the U.S. team.
"It's not too late to add another player if someone does exceptionally well at Forest Hills," said Vic Seixas, captain of the team, who watched Scott's two weekend victories.

Phillies Survive Four-Loss Week

By United Press International
"The week that was" is over for the Philadelphia Phillies — and happy they are that it's history—but the king-sized hangovers are being nursed by the Cincinnati Reds and San Francisco Giants.
How long does it take to get over a hangover? Well, it could be over in 24 hours for the Phillies but it could last all winter for the Reds and Giants. Because it was a week in which the Phillies gave the other two contenders a golden opportunity to make up important ground but in which the Reds and Giants failed to make a strong move.
In the last seven days, the Phillies won only three of seven games but the Reds did no better than win four of seven and the Giants won only three of their seven games. And so the Phillies' National League lead remains a tidy 5½ games and 1-1-m.e. the strongest ally a team can have in a pennant countdown—is more and more on their side.

started for the Phillies with a league-leading earned run average of 1.65, was routed in 1 1/3 innings and suffered his seventh loss against 14 victories.
The Reds' chance to make hay out of the Phillies' loss disintegrated when Joe Gaines' four runs batted in paced Bob Bruce to his 13th win for Houston in the first game of the doubleheader at Cincinnati. The Reds committed six errors and fell behind 6-0 in the second game but rallied to win it on Frank Robinson's ninth-inning double.
Giants Rally
Jim Davenport's two-run single and a run-scoring single by Orlando Cepeda enabled the Giants to rally for four runs in the eighth inning and win their opener in Milwaukee. But the Braves rebounded in the nightcap as Rico Carty banged out five straight hits and Hank Aaron hit a three-run homer to lead Tony Cloninger to his 14th win.
The St. Louis Cardinals drubbed the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 7-3 in other NL action.
Curt Simmons pitched a four-hitter to win his 14th game for the Cardinals, whose eight-hit attack was led by two hits each by Dick Groat and Ken Boyer. Larry Miller was tagged for five hits and two runs in 5 2/3 innings to suffer his sixth loss.
Billy Williams' 28th homer, a two-run shot in the third inning, paced the Cubs to their 11th win in 18 games with the Mets. Larry Jackson yielded nine hits but pitched out of numerous jams to score his 17th win against 10 losses.

PANHANDLE — Advance

Homes of Amarillo edged Weathered Humble 4-2 yesterday to win the Panhandle Softball Tournament.
Advance had beaten Panhandle Packing of Pampa 9-3 in the semifinals.
Delbert Daniels gave up three runs in the fourth inning of the final game to provide the Amarilloans with their winning margin.
C. E. Cantrell tripled and Jerry Wright doubled in the fifth to drive in Pampa's two runs.
Bill Fridell was the winning pitcher, although he needed help in the sixth inning from Bob Daniels.
Delbert Daniels was the loser. Bob Daniels struck out 14 in beating the Packers in the second round game. Raymond McKinney gave up 10 hits in a losing cause but fielding lapses behind him helped Advance to its winning margin.
Weathered advanced to the finals with a 5-4 decision over the Amarillo Merchants and a 7-1 victory over Everybody's Loan Co. of Amarillo.
Delbert Daniels won both games. He gave up seven hits and walked five in the Merchants game to keep the issue in doubt until the sixth, when Doug Burress scored the winning run for Humble on a wild pitch. Errors hurt the Pampa Industrial League champions also.
Burress and Merle Terrell each had two hits in the game. Daniels gave up just three hits to Everybody's as he had the game well under control from the beginning.
Roy Don Stephens' double sparked a five-run first inning for Humble to decide the game early.
Jerry Wright got three hits in four at bats, including a double which drove in two more runs in the fourth.
Panhandle Packing won its first round game with an easy 10-0 decision over Mesa Homes of Amarillo. Raymond McKinney struck out 11 men in victory.

Martz Edges Max Hickey

AMARILLO — Skip Martz, Caprock High School golf coach, avenged a defeat by Max Hickey of Pampa by beating Hickey in the first Lake Stockton Invitational Tournament yesterday.
Hickey had beaten Martz, and the rest of the field, in the Parnell tournament the week previous.
Both Martz and Hickey had a score of 147 after 36 holes of medal play. The pair tied on the first hole of a playoff but Martz took the second hole with a par four to Hickey's five.
Besides the Parnell tourney, Hickey won the Friona Country Club Tournament last month. He finished second to John Farquhar in last year's Top O' Texas tournament at the Pampa Country Club and will be back for another try at the title in this year's edition of the affair which begins Friday.

The Right to Go Out of Business

There are occasional legal issues which transcend the personalities and party affiliations of the litigants and take on national significance because a basic constitutional right is at stake. An appellate court reversal of a National Labor Relations Board ruling is a case in point. After six years of what purported to be investigations, hearings, and procedural pursuits, the NLRB charged a Darlington, South Carolina mill with illegally closing down in 1956, the day after it lost a representation election to a textile union. In accusing the mill of suspending operations to avoid bargaining with the union, the NLRB also ruled that the parent company must provide jobs for the 500 workers or compensate them until they found other employment. Now nearly a decade later, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, by a three to two vote, reversed the NLRB and held that an employer has the right to go out of business for any reason. Reacting sharply to this decision, the U.S. Government has taken the case to the United States Supreme Court where, sometime within the next few months, it will be argued before the Warren tribunal. Things are in a shocking state when the owners of a business prefer to "go out of business" in preference to contending with a union. But the most shocking sequel to this situation is the fact that the owners have to go all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court to establish their "right to go out of business" without paying exorbitant punitive damages. And in this instance the issue is still in doubt; the company can still lose. Fortunately the company in this case is big enough, prosperous enough, and courageous enough to use every legal recourse available in an effort to establish its right to discontinue operations at one of its mills. The alarming thing is that it should have to spend one dime or one minute to determine that right. We who oppose federal control should direct further scrutiny at those sections of the Taft-Hartley Act which permit an interpretation such as the one arrived at by the NLRB. Here is another case of "government by bureaucratic decree." If we believe in our inherent right to establish a legitimate business — regardless of our purpose — we must safeguard our right to discontinue that business, regardless of our reasons. It might be well to insist that the Taft-Hartley Act be amended to clearly define and protect that right.

Happy Waiting

For the 12th year the Institute of Judicial Administration of New York University has taken the pulse of the nation's judicial system. Diagnosis: Hardening of the legal arteries. Prognosis: Still critical but improving. The statistics show that it takes an average of 17.6 months for a personal injury case to reach jury trial from the date on which a defendant files an answer to a complaint. Last year it was 18.6 months. The annual survey is devoted to personal injury cases because they account for a substantial amount of litigation. Courts may be up to schedule in other areas, such as criminal or commercial calendars. Not all the delays are to be blamed on the courts. Time has elapsed from the date of an injury to the institution of a suit, and more time to the filing of an answer to the complaint. Even after a case is on the docket, "the law's delay" is often lawyers' delay. Many trial adjournments are caused by counsel who have not prepared their cases in time. At any rate, out of 107 principal courts of general jurisdiction throughout the United States, 14 courts, or 13.1 per cent, reported delays of more than 30 months. In general, legal congestion paralleled population congestion. Far and away the national leader again was the Circuit Court of Cook County, Ill. (Chicago), with an average delay of 57.6 months. (It was 68 months in 1963.) At the other end of the scale was the District Court of Yellowstone County, Mont. (Billings), with a wait of only 1.7 months.

An Odd Omission

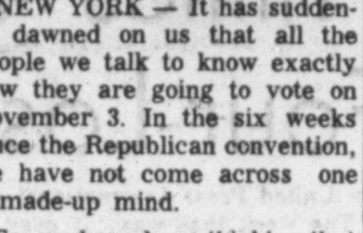

A study of school history textbooks in California last March, recently reported on by the National Education Assn., perhaps casts some light from a slightly different angle on the so-called "white backlash" against Negro integration efforts. Historians from the University of California examined seven American history books widely used in that state and around the country with special regard to their handling of the Negro. They found: In one book, there was no account of slavery in the colonial period, although the first Negro had been forcibly brought to this country as early as 1619. In another book, there was not a single mention of the Negro following the Civil War. In a third, Negroes who number 20 million today, were not mentioned in any connection whatsoever. In all the books, Negroes were virtually excluded. As the historians pointed out, they did not "exist" as far as the authors or publishers, rather — were concerned. The historians attributed this to "the deference of textbook publishers to the special sensitivities of the southern market." But these texts are nationally used.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Ironic, isn't it... if I'm elected, my kid brother can suit SENIORITY on ME!"

Cannel At Bay

NEW YORK — It has suddenly dawned on us that all the people we talk to know exactly how they are going to vote on November 3. In the six weeks since the Republican convention, we have not come across one unmade-up mind. So, we have been thinking that it might be a good idea to call off the election campaign completely this year and use the money for something more profitable instead, like maybe moving Cyprus to the World's Fair or vice versa. And quite naturally, we mentioned our thoughts about the campaign to Max Rosey. (Sooner or later, we mention all our thoughts to Max Rosey. In our opinion, Mr. Rosey is truly a man for all seasons, except mid-winter when it is too cold to loiter on Broadway.) And as this is the political season, Mr. Rosey is the national campaign manager for Henry B. Krajewski, erstwhile pig farmer from Seacucus, N. J., and three-time presidential candidate on the Poor Man's Party ticket.

"Call off the campaign?" Mr. Rosey asked in obvious astonishment. "I have never heard of anything so politically uncalculated." "Uncalculated?" we asked, trying to visualize the word. "Certainly," he explained. "If you did not have an election campaign, how would the people know how to vote?" "Everybody seems to know already," we said. "Which everybody?" he asked. "Everybody you talk to." "Well, that is your whole trouble," he said. "Everybody is not the people. Everybody is who you talk to. The people are somebody else. Nobody talks to the people except political candidates." "That's nonsense," we said. "You think so?" he asked. "Then tell me something. You ever know any people who voted for my candidate, Henry B. Krajewski, erstwhile pig farmer of Seacucus, N.J.?" "No," we said. "Then how come he got 10,000 votes in 1956?" Mr. Rosey demanded. "And tell me something else. Did you ever see a movie called 'Ben Hur'?" "No," we said. "So did I," he said. "So how come it won an Academy Award? Explain that. Well you can't because it's not what me and you say. It's what the people say. And they can't say anything till they hear what the candidates say about Bobby Baker and Irving Renewal." "Irving Renewal?" we asked, the name having a familiar ring. "Certainly," he said. "It's the personalities that count with the people just as much as the issues. That is why you positively cannot disperse with the campaign. And I do not mind telling you that I would like to see the personalities before I make up my mind." "Make up your mind?" we repeated. "What about your own candidate, Mr. Krajewski?" "Who, HBK?" Mr. Rosey said. "I have known him many years and I can tell you absolutely that he never makes up his mind until the campaign is over."

The Nation's Press

DISSERVICE TO WORKERS (Christian Economics) — When the electrical workers secured the 25-hour work week and a wage rate of nearly $5 an hour in July, 1962, it was expected that a great many new jobs would be available for electricians. Expectations in that respect have not been realized and now there is talk of a slowdown in construction based on excessive costs. Already there is talk of returning to the 35-hour work week and a pay scale of $3.50 per hour. That would certainly promote construction activity. Men must learn not to price themselves out of the market, and that the way to create more jobs is to sell more of their services. If building costs were lowered there would be more building and more jobs. A man who earns $5 an hour cannot sell much of his product to a man who earns only $2.50 an hour. One may be selfish and succeed in getting his wage scale upped only to find that he has destroyed his job.

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Democrat campaign chiefs are breathing a lot easier over the dynamite-loaded Bobby Baker case — at least for the time being! Reason for their relief, temporary though it may be, is the reassuring word they got from Clifton Carter, closest political lieutenant of President Johnson. At a private conference in a hotel in Atlantic City, the rangy Texan told them: Neither President Johnson nor any of his White House aides involved in the Baker affair have anything to fear from the Justice Department's months-long investigation of the one-time Senate Democratic Secretary's free-wheeling and highly lucrative business operations. In other words, there will be no politically explosive prosecutions during the fall election battle. Attorney General Robert Kennedy, who has announced for the Democratic senatorial nomination in New York and is preparing to quit the Cabinet next week, gave this comforting news to the President before the national convention opened. Kennedy told the President this decision was based on the findings of the Criminal Division of the Justice Department. For months, the division pored over FBI reports and the headline-making disclosures of the prolonged investigation conducted by the Senate Rules Committee. Purpose of this detailed study was to determine whether legal action against Baker, Walter Jenkins, administrative assistant of the President, and others was warranted. Assistant Attorney General Herbert Miller, head of the Criminal Division, submitted his report directly to Kennedy. In talking to the Democratic leaders, Carter did not indicate exactly what Miller had recommended. But the definite implication was that prosecutions had not been proposed. Of course, it's possible this might have been urged and was overruled by Kennedy. But there was no hint of that in Carter's remarks.

National Outlook

Oh, What A Tangled Web President Johnson has, on several occasions, emphasized his desire to reduce the number of federal employees. In March, the President notified the Congress... that I have established new employment ceilings for most federal agencies well below those contained in my 1965 budget estimate. These reductions will cut total federal civilian employment by 6,526 below the budget estimate for the current fiscal year. At a news conference on July 18 he reported that federal civilian employment on June 30 was "down 43,700 from the revision carried in the budget last January."

PAUL SCOTT

TAKING NO CHANCES — Latest development in President Johnson's firm personal control of his campaign is clamping a muzzle on administration orators. As this column revealed last week, the President is keeping the reins of his campaign directly in his own hands and, in effect, proposing to be both the candidate and the campaign manager. For that purpose, administration officials are being notified they must submit for White House approval all speeches and statements relating to the campaign. A "censorship office" is being set up to handle this job. Who will be in charge of it is still undetermined. Likely choice is former Assistant Secretary of State Fred Dutton, who recently shifted to the Democratic National Committee as chief of its research and planning division. Dutton is highly regarded by the President, and has considerable campaign experience. Graphically illustrative of the President's all-pervasive intervention in campaign affairs was his personal selection of the nominators and seconders at the convention in Atlantic City. He chose every one of them both for himself and his running mate. That's the way Senator Edmund Muskie, Maine, got the sad news that he had been ruled out of the vice presidential picture. Muskie was an ardent hopeful. But his aspirations were shattered on Tuesday, when the President phoned and "asked" him to be one of the vice presidential seconders — thus spelling fiasco to Muskie's fond dream. Zeb — Don't you think I stand a good chance of making a fortune out of that mine? Zeke — Out of it, yes. In it, no.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Salesman Sells 3 Things: Product, Firm, Himself

By SAM CAMPBELL
The human being is a natural salesman. Take the young lady who has her heart set on that certain fellow. She considers the pre-approach — the perfume, the color of her dress, the saucy hairdo; and the approach — that glistening smile; and the close — a low emotional murmur. But when that same woman in later years, stands behind the counter of the local department store, what kind of sales-woman has she become by then? Of course, you don't expect the same degree of intensity. Nevertheless, the same principles are involved. The good sales person has an attractive appearance; he or she has a smile that says "welcome" to the customer; further, the good salesman endeavors to invoke the customer's emotional interest in the product. To give businessmen a kind of a picture of how typical sales people measure up to what the full potential of salesmen can be, this reporter visited a number of stores this past weekend. Theoretically, when anybody asked, I was shopping for an air conditioner, but my real purpose was to make conscious mental notes of how a prospective customer is received by modern sales personnel. First stop was at a store that is known to be successful. Outside it has elaborate landscaping and inside an enticing array of merchandise. Standing in the doorway of one department was a well-groomed gentleman. His eye caught mine. He nodded with a smile and asked if he could be of service. I told him I was looking for an air conditioner. He asked several questions as to what kind-I was after. It turned out that he didn't handle that type. He checked with another department in the store; it didn't have the right kind either. He then referred to the telephone book to find out for me where I might be able to solve my air conditioning problem. There was a salesman. Contrary to what you might suppose, he did make a "sale" with me. First, he sold the idea that he was a pleasant, helpful person with whom to do business. Second, he sold his company as a place where you can expect to find pleasant, helpful sales people like himself. By contrast, I strolled through several other departments without so much as a nod from any of the clerks until I got to the perfume department, where once again I was given effusive attention. This was a bit embarrassing because I couldn't very well say I was looking for an air conditioner in a perfume department. Yet some years back I had bought my wife a tiny $25 bottle of perfume and the thought occurred that she would be pleased if I did so again. Next store visited had surroundings and display that were equal in every way to those of the first. Yet this second store was known to be losing money. The two clerks nearest the door were engrossed in conversation when I entered. I did a slow U through the perfume department. A third clerk was exclaiming to a fourth "She just got married". When I left some minutes later, the first two clerks still had their heads together. Not a single person had noted the presence of what might have been a potential customer. Maybe everybody in the department is clairvoyant, but the sales reports of their company don't so indicate. Additional visits were made in Orange, Anaheim, and Garden Grove. Tomorrow's column will relate those experiences.

Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed. "REPENTANCE?" Editor: When the big White House Cowboy made his famous statement that the government was going to take from the haves and give it to the have nots a bunch of people screamed that it sounded like pure socialism. But my philosopher uncle Zack Doubtitt claimed he detected a note of repentance in the L.B.J. statement. Uncle Zack said that it sounded to him like the Cadillac cowboy was getting ready to share some of his fourteen million dollars with the have nots, and that he and Lady Bird might even get generous enough to let the capitol city of Austin have two TV stations. He said that if L.B.J. had been that free-hearted a few years ago he might have shared some of the votes that came from people resting in cemeteries in Jim Wells county where they had the famous box thirteen miscoum.

Question Box

QUESTION: "How can a group which has no wealth and creates none have a successful war on poverty?" Answer: It cannot. Only those who create wealth can be successful in helping to reduce poverty. Thus, every man or woman who works and produces wealth is helping to reduce poverty. Every man who saves and puts his wealth into tools which enable workers to produce more of the comforts of life and thus earn more is helping to reduce poverty. Undoubtedly, the administration merely wants a popular slogan. Every rational man is against poverty. But if the administration can make the public believe that only they have some means of reducing poverty then they will get the votes. We believe it is nothing but a stupendous humbug. And if the people fall for it, it is evidence that many, many people are gullible and believe only what they would like to believe is true instead of what really is true or fact. Instead of the government reducing poverty by their "war" they are only increasing it. But the demagogic men like Johnson and his followers will promise anything in order to get votes and keep themselves in power. It makes little difference to them if they increase poverty if in so doing they keep power in their own hands. It is hard to conceive that they are so stupid that they cannot see what they are doing. We can only conclude they are hypocrites as we cannot see how they are so stupid as to believe that the state instead of protecting private property is actually keeping wealth from being created. When the state claims to protect property when it couldn't even protect the life of Kennedy, which was the principal property he had, it is evidence how inefficient government is in respecting private property. If it cannot respect private property it cannot have a successful "war" against property.

Wit and Whimsy

Harry — I expect a lot of dirty work when I start my new business. Larry — Treachery, eh? Harry — No, I'm opening a laundry. A newly developed electronic computer is so human it blames its mistakes on others. Severity of demeanor in women is a species of decoration and paint which they add to their beauty. Eternity is in love with the productions of time. (A your town) Speaker — One of our ministerial friends was telling about making a pastoral call on a parishioner who had been confined to his bed for several weeks. As he was about to leave the minister asked if he should offer prayer. Patient — Oh, I guess you needn't mind, I don't think I'm that sick. There is no fool like an old fool. You just can't beat experience. Profanity is the effort of a feeble mind to express itself forcibly.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself; no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Right to Go Out of Business

There are occasional legal issues which transcend the personalities and party affiliations of the litigants and take on national significance because a basic constitutional right is at stake. An appellate court reversal of a National Labor Relations Board ruling is a case in point.

After six years of what purported to be investigations, hearings, and procedural pursuits, the NLRB charged a Darlington, South Carolina mill with illegally closing down in 1956, the day after it lost a representation election to a textile union. In accusing the mill of suspending operations to avoid bargaining with the union, the NLRB also ruled that the parent company must provide jobs for the 500 workers or compensate them until they found other employment.

Now nearly a decade later, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, by a three to two vote, reversed the NLRB and held that an employer has the right to go out of business for any reason. Reacting sharply to this decision, the U.S. Government has taken the case to the United States Supreme Court where, sometime within the next few months, it will be argued before the Warren tribunal.

Happy Waiting

For the 12th year the Institute of Judicial Administration of New York University has taken the pulse of the nation's judicial system.

Diagnosis: Hardening of the legal arteries. Prognosis: Still critical but improving.

The statistics show that it takes an average of 17.6 months for a personal injury case to reach jury trial from the date on which a defendant files an answer to a complaint. Last year it was 18.6 months.

The annual survey is devoted to personal injury cases because they account for a substantial amount of litigation. Courts may be up to schedule in other areas, such as criminal or commercial calendars.

Not all the delays are to be blamed on the courts. Time has elapsed from the date of an injury to the institution of a suit.

An Odd Omission

A study of school history textbooks in California last March, recently reported on by the National Education Assn., perhaps casts some light from a slightly different angle on the so-called "white backlash" against Negro integration efforts.

Historians from the University of California examined seven American history books widely used in that state and around the country with special regard to their handling of the Negro. They found:

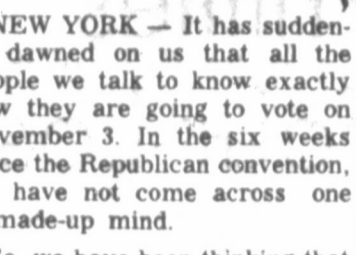

In one book, there was no account of slavery in the colonial period, although the first Negro had been forcibly brought to this country as early as 1619.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Ironic, isn't it... if I'm elected, my kid brother can sell SENIORITY on ME!"

Cannel At Bay
By Ward Cannel

NEW YORK — It has suddenly dawned on us that all the people we talk to know exactly how they are going to vote on November 3. In the six weeks since the Republican convention, we have not come across one unmade-up mind.

So, we have been thinking that it might be a good idea to call off the election campaign completely this year and use the money for something more profitable instead, like maybe moving Cyprus to the World's Fair or vice versa.

And quite naturally, we mentioned our thoughts about the campaign to Max Rosey, (Sooner or later, we mention all our thoughts to Max Rosey. In our opinion, Mr. Rosey is truly a man for all seasons, except mid-winter when it is too cold to loiter on Broadway.)

And as this is the political season, Mr. Rosey is the national campaign manager for Henry B. Krajewski, erstwhile pig farmer from Secaucus, N. J., and three-time presidential candidate on the Poor Man's Party ticket.

"Call off the campaign?" Mr. Rosey asked in obvious astonishment. "I have never heard of anything so politically uncalculated."

"Uncalculated?" we asked, trying to visualize the word.

"Certainly," he explained. "If you did not have an election campaign, how would the people know how to vote?"

"Everybody seems to know already," we said.

"Which everybody?" he asked.

"Everybody you talk to?"

"Well, that is your whole trouble," he said. "Everybody is not the people. Everybody is who you talk to. The people are somebody else. Nobody talks to the people except political candidates."

"That's nonsense," we said. "You think so?" he asked. "Then tell me something. You ever know any people who voted for my candidate, Henry B. Krajewski, erstwhile pig farmer of Secaucus, N. J.?"

"No," we said.

"Then how come he got 10,000 votes in 1956?" Mr. Rosey demanded. "And tell me something else. Did you ever see a movie called 'Ben Hur'?"

"No," we said.

"So did I," he said. "So how come it won an Academy Award? Explain that. Well you can't because it's not what me and you say. It's what the people say. And they can't say anything till they hear what the candidates say about Bobby Baker and Irving Renewal."

"Irving Renewal?" we asked, the name having a familiar ring.

"Certainly," he said. "It's the personalities that count with the people just as much as the issues. That is why you positively cannot disperse with the campaign. And I do not mind telling you that I would like to see the personalities before I make up my mind."

"Make up your mind?" we repeated. "What about your own candidate, Mr. Krajewski?"

Out of the Shadow

Backstage Washington
No Politically Explosive Prosecutions from Baker Probe During Elections, Johnson Hears from Robert Kennedy

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Democrat campaign chiefs are breathing a lot easier over the dynamite-loaded Bobby Baker case — at least for the time being!

Reason for their relief, temporary though it may be, is the reassuring word they got from Clifton Carter, closest political lieutenant of President Johnson. At a private conference in a hotel in Atlantic City, the rangy Texan told them:

Neither President Johnson nor any of his White House aides involved in the Baker affair have anything to fear from the Justice Department's months-long investigation of the one-time Senate Democratic Secretary's free-wheeling and highly lucrative business operations.

In other words, there will be no politically explosive prosecutions during the fall election battle.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy, who has announced for the Democratic senatorial nomination in New York and is preparing to quit the Cabinet next week, gave this comforting news to the President before the national convention opened.

Kennedy told the President this decision was based on the findings of the Criminal Division of the Justice Department.

For months, the division pored over FBI reports and the headline-making disclosures of the prolonged investigation conducted by the Senate Rules Committee. Purpose of this detailed study was to determine whether legal action against Baker, Walter Jenkins, administrative assistant of the President, and others was warranted.

Assistant Attorney General Herbert Miller, head of the Criminal Division, submitted his report directly to Kennedy.

In talking to the Democratic leaders, Carter did not indicate exactly what Miller had recommended. But the definite implication was that prosecutions had not been proposed.

Of course, it's possible this might have been urged and was overruled by Kennedy. But there was no hint of that in Carter's remarks.

TEMPORARY BREATHING SPELL — The Democrats' relief may be short-lived.

Senator John Williams, R-Del., the "one-man investigating committee" who precipitated the sensational Baker expose, is preparing to hurl new charges in a series of Senate speeches.

He will particularly demand that Jenkins be summoned before the Rules Committee for thorough grilling on a number of matters that will be spelled out by Williams. During the committee's probe, Jenkins submitted a statement but dodged testifying in person. Republican committeemen sought to subpoena him, but were blocked by the Democratic majority.

Senator Barry Goldwater and other Republican candidates are bearing down strong in their campaigning on the Baker, Billie Sol Estes and other cases. Democratic strategists admittedly are worried about that.

Particularly, they were concerned about the possibility of prosecutions during the election battle. This would be a political blockbuster. But Carter's backstage tip indicates there will be none.

This, in itself, will probably be the subject of Republican castigation. They are certain to make the most of everything they can put their hands on.

Senator Williams is working closely with Ralph Hill, former vending machine partner of Baker, who has subpoenaed Jenkins in a $400,000 damage suit against the one-time Senate Democratic secretary.

Hill's attorneys have asked the court to require Attorney General Kennedy, Jenkins and Baker to submit to pre-trial depositions and answer a long list of questions. These proceedings could be as explosive as Hill's suit.

TAKING NO CHANCES — Latest development in President Johnson's firm personal control of his campaign is clamping a muzzle on administration orators.

As this column revealed last week, the President is keeping over FBI reports and the headline-making disclosures of the prolonged investigation conducted by the Senate Rules Committee.

For that purpose, administration officials are being notified they must submit for White House approval all speeches and statements relating to the campaign.

A "censorship office" is being set up to handle this job. Who will be in charge of it is still undetermined. Likely choice is former Assistant Secretary of State Fred Dutton, who recently shifted to the Democratic National Committee as chief of its research and planning division.

Dutton is highly regarded by the President, and has considerable campaign experience.

Graphically illustrative of the President's all-pervasive intervention in campaign affairs was his personal selection of the nominators and seconders at the convention in Atlantic City. He chose every one of them both for himself and his running mate.

That's the way Senator Edmund Muskie, Maine, got the sad news that he had been ruled out of the vice presidential picture.

Muskie was an ardent hopeful. But his aspirations were shattered on Tuesday, when the President phoned and "asked" him to be one of the vice presidential seconders — thus spelling fiasco for Muskie's fond dream.

Zeb — Don't you think I stand a good chance of making a fortune out of that mine?
Zeke — Out of it, yes. In it, no.

Salesman Sells 3 Things: Product, Firm, Himself

By SAM CAMPBELL
The human being is a natural salesman. Take the young lady who has her heart set on that certain fellow.

She considers the pre-approach — the perfume, the color of her dress, the saucy hairdo; and the approach — that glistering smile; and the close—a low emotional murmur.

But when that same woman in later years, stands behind the counter of the local department store, what kind of sales-woman has she become by then?

Of course, you don't expect the same degree of intensity. Nevertheless, the same principles are involved. The good sales person has an attractive appearance; he or she has a smile that says "welcome" to the customer; further, the good salesman endeavors to invoke the customer's emotional interest in the product.

To give businessmen a kind of a picture of how typical sales people measure up to what the full potential of salesmen can be, this reporter visited a number of stores this past weekend. Theoretically, when anybody asked, I was shopping for an air conditioner, but my real purpose was to make conscious mental notes of how a prospective customer is received by modern sales personnel.

First stop was at a store that is known to be successful. Outside it has elaborate landscaping and inside an enticing array of merchandise.

Standing in the doorway of one department was a well-groomed gentleman. His eye caught mine. He nodded with a smile and asked if he could be of service. I told him I was looking for an air conditioner.

He asked several questions as to what kind I was after. It turned out that he didn't handle that type. He checked with another department in the store; it didn't have the right kind either. He then referred to the telephone book to find out for me where I might be able to solve my air conditioning problem.

There was a salesman contrary to what you might suppose, he did make a "sale" with me. First, he sold the idea that he was a pleasant, helpful person with whom to do business. Second, he sold his company as

If it cannot respect private property it cannot have a successful "war" against poverty.

"REPENTANCE?"

Editor:

When the big White House Cowboy made his famous statement that the government was going to take from the haves and give it to the have nots a bunch of people screamed that it sounded like pure socialism. But my philosopher uncle Zack Doubt claimed he detected a note of repentance in the L.B.J. statement.

Uncle Zack said that it sounded to him like the Cadillac cowboy was getting ready to share some of his fourteen million dollars with the have nots, and that he and Lady Bird might even get generous enough to let the capitol city of Austin have two TV stations.

He said that if L.B.J. had been that free-hearted a few years ago he might have shared some of the votes that came from people resting in cemeteries in Jim Wells county where they had the famous box thirteen miscout.

Uncle Zack said he had nothing against cemetery residents voting, but that it did seem kind of unfair that they voted a one hundred per cent for L.B.J. and left poor old Governor Coke Stevenson completely out when everyone knew that the governor had been paying the preacher just as regular as had L.B.J.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will see future answers)

QUESTION: "How can a group which has no wealth and creates none have a successful war on poverty?"

ANSWER: It cannot. Only those who create wealth can be successful in helping to reduce poverty. Thus, every man or woman who works and produces wealth is helping to reduce poverty. Every man who saves and puts his wealth into tools which enable workers to produce more of the comforts of life and thus earn more is helping to reduce poverty.

Undoubtedly, the administration merely wants a popular slogan. Every rational man is against poverty. But if the administration can make the public believe that only they have some means of reducing poverty, then they will get the votes. We believe it is nothing but a stupendous humbug. And if the people fall for it, it is evidence that many, many people are gullible and believe only what they would like to believe is true instead of what really is true or fact.

Instead of the government reducing poverty by their "war" they are only increasing it. But the demagogic men like Johnson and his followers will promise anything in order to get votes and keep themselves in power. It makes little difference to them if they increase poverty if in so doing they keep power in their own hands. It is hard to conceive that they are so stupid that they cannot see what they are doing. We can only conclude they are hypocrites as we cannot see how they are so stupid as to believe that the state instead of protecting private property is actually keeping wealth from being created.

When the state claims to protect property when it couldn't even protect the life of Kennedy, which was the principal property he had; it is evidence how inefficient government is in respecting private property.

If it cannot respect private property it cannot have a successful "war" against poverty.

Vogue Takes Special Care of Wardrobe

DRIVE UP — Vogue Cleaners, 1542 N. Hobart, is one place in Pampa that has drive up window and night depository for your cleaning needs. The drive up window on the left front of the building above, is a real convenient idea. For those who cannot get by during regular open hours, the night deposit drop is indeed most convenient. Vogue Cleaners is literally open 24 hours a day.

Vogue Cleaners, 1542 N. Hobart, who take special pride in professional care for your clothes, will give your garments that like - new "look" for your better dressed appearance.

Plan now to store your light summer sportswear, suits and more formal garments in Vogue Cleaner's convenient storage. Then you can be sure your clothes are spotted carefully, cleaned expertly, and stored safely - in an insured, fire - proof vault, smartly finished and ready for you next Spring or Summer.

Vogue's storage plan works for you in Winter, too: you have your closet space free for your winter clothing - no jamming because of summer wear. And no worry about moth or other insect damage.

Vogue Cleaners take pride in their knowledge of professional care for all newest fabrics, improved cleaning methods, and use their knowledge to clean garments more thoroughly - to give you a more pleasing appearance.

AUTHORIZED DEALER — Bill Thompson, 213 N. Faulkner, is the authorized franchised dealer for Royal typewriters in Pampa and vicinity. Bill has been active in typewriter sales and service, with six years of special training, for 28 years. The past 20 years has been in Pampa. Bill spent 14 years as an office machine serviceman for a local concern, later became owner of Pampa Typewriter Co. and has gone on from there to become an exclusive salesman for Royal typewriters and their famous line of Roy-Type supplies. Bill would like to remind everyone of the high quality you receive as well as low cost, when you buy the name Royal in a typewriter, whether it be a manual or electric typewriter.

McLendon Firm Plans Expansion

DALLAS (UPI)— The McLendon Corp., which already owns radio stations in seven cities and 20 movie theaters in three states, plans a $5 million expansion in both its motion picture interests and radio.

Barton R. McLendon, chairman of the board, and Gordon B. McLendon, president, said the expansion will include construction of a 2,000-car drive-in theater in Dallas.

The drive-in, covering 28 acres, will have screens at both ends. The McLendons also are planning to build a 1,000-seat indoor theater in the Park Forest Shopping Center in Dallas. They are building a 1,000-car drive-in theater in Buffalo, N.Y., and negotiating to build two more drive-ins in Dallas and one in Fort Worth. They have bought KAFE-FM in San Francisco, which, they said, is the most powerful station in that city.

The McLendons said they are in process of buying an FM station in Chicago. Because negotiations are incomplete, they declined to disclose the call letters.

The corporation now owns and operates through its Tri-State Theater subsidiary, 18 movie houses in Dallas, one in Louisiana and one in Oklahoma.

RED-ANNIVERSARY

MOSCOW (UPI) — Pravda said Saturday the international Communist movement is "the most influential political force of our time." It accused Communist China of having "openly broken with the main conclusions of the movement." The newspaper was commenting on the 100th anniversary of the First Communist International.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International
NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. — GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater commenting on the nomination of Sen. Hubert Humphrey as Democratic vice presidential candidate: "I welcome Hubert to the Democratic ticket and thank Lyndon for drawing the differences between us so sharply."

ATLANTIC CITY — Sen. Humphrey, lambasting the conservatives during his acceptance speech: "Those who have kidnaped the Republican party have made it this year not a party of nostalgia and sentiment, but one of stridency, of unrestrained passion, of extreme and racial language."

ATLANTIC CITY — Tom Harper, chairman of the Arkansas delegation to the Democratic convention, explaining a possible reason for the 16-minute ovation which met Robert F. Kennedy when he mounted the podium: "It was sort of like Jack's shadow up there."

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Dade County Manager Irving McNary, in an afterthought to a long list of damages resulting from the 120-mile an hour lashing of Hurricane Cleo: "But not a single bird or animal in the Key Biscayne Zoo was injured."

The addition of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey to the Democratic presidential ticket creates political issues that Sen. Barry Goldwater can exploit and make his legions happy. On this one he will not be required to explain himself in a series of second thoughts and modified expressions of sentiment.

The issue is created because Humphrey is practically the symbol of political liberalism. He was a founder of the lefty Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). Political liberalism and ADA are dragons Barry Goldwater was nominated to slay. The political liberalism of the eastern leadership of the Republican party was the issue that won the presidential nomination for Goldwater. The senator and his followers are conservatives.

They regard Humphrey as a dangerous radical and they do not use the word dangerous lightly. Goldwater's most eloquent and consistent pre-convention support came from the hard - nosed conservative magazine "National Review." James Burnham wrote, and the magazine published, an analysis of Americans for Democratic action. Burnham wrote: Welfare State "First and foremost the ADA program calls for the total welfare state. Most ADAeps say that what they want is not socialism but a planned, democratic, mixed economy. "ADA never has declared for nationalization of all means of production and therefore is not socialist in the 100 per cent classical sense. But neither is any Socialist party anywhere at the present time. Arthur Schlesinger in the ADA World (a publication) located ADA within the same movement as the Democratic Socialists and leftists of Europe." Humphrey, then, is a socialist, in the eyes of Goldwater conservatives, committed on every issue to government control, planning, financing or takeover. ADA is critical of indirect or representative democracy as practiced in the United States and favors steps toward direct or popular vote democracy.

All of this is anathema to the conservatives. They hate it. Humphrey's nomination will fire them to new enthusiasm and harder work. They would have counted the nomination of Robert F. Kennedy a better break for Goldwater but gladly will settle for the ADA senator.

WORLD'S LARGEST CAR INSURER!
Largest in Texas Too!
State Farm now insures more Texans' cars than any other company (over 300,000 of them!). It's easy to reason why. Texas policyholders have historically saved with State Farm (more than $40,000,000 over the past 25 years on an annual 6 month policy). And, eligible policyholders are currently enjoying a 25% dividend. Special discount savings like the 2 Car (or more) and Working Farmer discounts, plus Home-town Service coast-to-coast make State Farm's "good deal" on car insurance even better. Why not check with your State Farm agent for details.
