

The Laetrile Story

(Editor's Note: This series is a result of six months of intensive investigation. In this report neither the writers nor this newspaper make any claims for Laetrile as a cancer drug. This is a report of the claims by both sides in a controversy that has quietly smoldered for more than 10 years. The News considers it important enough to be brought into the open for the first time in a documented newspaper series. Technical and medical questions should be directed to The McNaughton Foundation, 2015 Drummond Street, Montreal, Canada, to medical associations and to local chapters of The American Cancer Society.)

PART V—The 1953 REPORT
By: JIM DEAN and
FRANK MARTINEZ

Newspapers, Inc.)

Cancer chemotherapy, the practice of treating cancer victims with chemical agents, has gained some measure of respectability in medical circles in the last decade, but basically, it is still a "last resort" technique.

Cancer cases generally are relegated to the surgeon and the radiologist by medicine's orthodoxy.

This established viewpoint has precluded the use of chemotherapy as initial therapy on cancer patients. Over the years, some doctors and scientists have argued for chemotherapy, and the resulting controversy has at times been a bitter one within the closed circle of medicine.

At times the dispute flared into the open to capture headlines in newspapers and magazines. But surgery and radiation have continued to hold the established position.

The use of chemistry, for the most part, has been sanctioned only in cases which have been declared hopeless after surgery and radiation.

The "doomed" patient is then "approved for experimentation" with chemical agents. The patient's body often is so deteriorated that even if the cancer cells are affected by chemistry, the vital organs of the body are not long able to sustain life.

This is chemotherapy's status in 1964.

In 1952, it was scorned, rated only slightly above quackery. It was in such an atmosphere that Laetrile entered medicine's arena, and the two men who were to write medicine's judgment of this agent were a surgeon and a radiologist.

The 1953 report by the Cancer Commission of the California Medical Association was published in the April issue of "California Medicine," official publication of the California Medical Association. It bears no author's name. It is identified as "A report by the Cancer Commission of the California Medical Association."

Prior to the publication of this report the chairman of the commission called a press conference in Los Angeles on March 23.

Several metropolitan California newspapers reported the press conference results. In none of the articles was any indication that the reporters had contacted the proponents of Laetrile for their side of the story.

A medical writer for a San Francisco newspaper admitted to Freedom Newspaper investigators in March 1964 that his "expose" of Laetrile published in 1953 was based solely on the Cancer Commission's report and that he had done no independent investigation beyond a phone call to the San Francisco chemist who discovered Laetrile.

The effect of the report was to discourage further investigation of Laetrile by independent physicians. Though admittedly harmless, Laetrile was out of favor with California medicine's political court.

Nine physicians formed the committee which ruled against this harmless chemical agent. Five were surgeons, two were radiologists, one was (See LAETRILE, Page 3)

Council Okays $175 Refund on City Fine

Pampa's City Commission today approved the refunding of $175 of a $200 fine assessed last month in Corporation Court.

The refund was at the request of City Judge John Warner who on Sept. 22 had fined Robert E. Ruff, 22, Pampa, on a charge of simple assault.

It developed that state law provided a maximum fine of only $25 in simple assault cases. City ordinances, it was explained, in most cases of this type provide a maximum fine of $200.

The court inadvertently imposed the $200 fine in the Ruff case. When the matter was called to the judge's attention he asked the city commission to approve the $175 refund.

"I just made an honest mistake," Judge Warner said, "and as soon as it was discovered I rectified it."

In other business in today's session of the commission:

Authorization was given to the city manager to advertise for bids for material and equipment needed in replacing deteriorating concrete sewer lines with vitrified clay sewer pipe.

Materials and equipment needed include: one back-hoe with tractor and front end loader, one trenching machine, one air compressor, one pneumatic air tamping machine, two pneumatic air spades, one 3-inch portable water pump, two three-quarter ton pickups, one two and a half ton truck with oil field type bed and winch, approximately 20,000 feet of 8-inch vitrified clay pipe, approximately 7,200 feet of 4-inch vitrified clay pipe, and the necessary vitrified clay tile fittings, manhole bricks, manhole rings, covers and steps.

Action was postponed for one week on a request by the city manager to advertise for bids for two billing machines in the city water department. Approximate cost of the two machines would be $8,000.

September bills totaling $20,577.49 and library bills amounting to $197.79 were approved for payment.

Eisenhower to Stump in Texas For Goldwater

United Press International

President Johnson will be campaigning in Texas next weekend. Later this month, former President Eisenhower, another native Texan, will be in the state to stump for Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Johnson's trip will include his first visit to Dallas since last November, when President Kennedy was shot to death there and Johnson stepped into the job.

The White House said Monday that Johnson will speak to a $250-a-plate, money-raising dinner next Monday night in Dallas Memorial Auditorium, after visits to Laredo and Corpus Christi Sunday, and San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth Monday.

Eisenhower is going to appear Oct. 22 in San Antonio. The Texans for Goldwater group reported Monday that Barry Goldwater Jr. and the two daughters of GOP vice presidential candidate William Miller will be in Texas Saturday.

Harris County GOP chairman Charles Haden and Gaston Jones, Republican state committeeman, were talking about an election poll printed by the (See EISENHOWER, Page 3)

State Asks Probe on Escaper

AUSTIN (UPI)—Leslie Douglas Ashley, female impersonator and accused sex-party murderer, could celebrate a week's freedom today, while his escape from the state mental hospital in San Antonio sparked demands for an investigation.

State Sen. Criss Cole of Houston said the state Senate should look into the escape. The State Department of Public Safety said it was already investigating the way the escape was handled. Houston Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe asked Gov. John Connally to order an investigation.

There were no new clues in the hunt for Ashley, who is believed to be with a woman who was a former mental patient at the same mental hospital.

Cole said "it is inconceivable to me how anyone from the state hospital could be placed in a position to escape when there were charges pending against him as serious as the ones pending against Ashley."

Cole said there was either wrongdoing or "such gross negligence in operating the maximum security ward that some action should be taken."

Ashley said before disappearing after his escape that one of the hospital workers had let him out. The hospital authorities were investigating.

The Department of Public Safety said it was looking into the way San Antonio police handled the escape as a routine matter. The escape was not made public for two days until the Harris County sheriff's office in Houston got notice of it through the mail.

Farm-City Week Proclaimed by Mayor in Pampa

Mayor H. R. Thompson today signed a proclamation setting aside Nov. 20 - 26 as Farm-City Week in Pampa.

The mayor asked civic clubs and other community organizations, where possible, to observe the week with fitting programs.

The mayor stated: "The prosperity and well-being of this community are dependent upon cooperation between the two great elements of our society: farmers and urban people."

"The complexities of their individual problems and the divergence of their activities have led to a widening gulf of misunderstanding, and this gulf of misunderstanding must be eliminated, and each group must understand the other if our American way of life is to endure."

"Farm - City Week provides an unparalleled opportunity for farm and city people to become re-acquainted."

The mayor said he was urging all citizens to participate to the limit of their capability in joint visits, civic and social events attendant to a successful Farm - City Week in Pampa.

Teen-agers Still Held on Threat

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI)—Two Casper teen-agers remained in jail here today in lieu of $25,000 bond, charged with threatening the life of President Lyndon Johnson.

A preliminary hearing was scheduled for next Tuesday for Larry Rush, 17, and Roy Edward Smith, 16, who were arrested by local police late Sunday at Natrona County Hospital. The arrests came after a nurse allegedly heard them make the threat while they talked with a friend who was in the hospital.

Three Orbit Earth 16 Times in Day

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today brought its three-man space ship safely back to earth.

The pilot and his two passengers were reported "feeling fine."

The space bus called Voskhod (Sunrise) orbited the earth 16 times in 24 hours and 17 minutes, traveling 437,500 miles.

Then, on orders from the ground the biggest of all space vehicles came back to earth at 10:47 a.m. (3:47 a.m. EDT).

It landed "at the pre-assigned area after successfully accomplishing the set program of scientific exploration," said Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

Tass did not say where Voskhod was launched or where it landed. But it said it was designed to stay up 24 hours, although other sources indicated the space journey may have been planned for a longer period.

Race For Moon
The feat of the three Soviet spacemen — pilot commander Col. Vladimir Komarov, 37, scientist Konstantin Feoktistov 38, and space surgeon Boris Yegorov, 27—raised speculation that Russia is ahead of the United States in the race for the moon.

James E. Webb, chief of the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said in Washington Monday that the United States is "in a period of catching up." But he said the American Saturn V rocket "is designed to overcome that lead."

The three Voskhod riders made their trip without the usual masked, pressurized space suits. Instead they wore regular wool suits and jackets and no masks, Tass said.

Although there was no Soviet confirmation, the West German Institute for Satellite and Space Research at Bochum, Germany, said the craft was launched from the Aral Sea region in the Kazakh Republic more than 1,000 miles south of Moscow. The Bochum Institute said the ship also came back to earth in the same place.)

Short Trip
Radio Moscow said this was the shortest Soviet space journey since the 1961 flight of Gherman Titov, the second Russian cosmonaut to go into orbit, who traveled 435,000 miles. All other Soviet cosmonauts have flown well over one million miles. The only American astronaut to travel farther than Titov so far is Gordon Cooper, who flew 575,000 miles 17 months ago.

Tass indicated that the men rode their space ship down to the ground.

It said an aircraft pilot first sighted the space ship descending through the clouds after the 16th orbit was completed.

Tass said, "At 10:57, 10 minutes after the landing, the (search) pilots reported: 'The object is visible on the ground, clearly visible, and the three cosmonauts are beside it. They are walking about, walking briskly.'"

Say Landing Premature
(But the West German Institute for Satellite and Space Research at Bochum, Germany, said the landing may have been premature.)

(Institute Director Heinz Kaminski told reporters, "I believe that the Sunrise was intended to circle the earth for

Colonel Reports Captors Polite And Considerate

CARACAS (UPI)—U.S. Air Force Lt.-Col. Michael Smolen, 45, of Chandler, Ariz., released by Communist kidnapers after four days of captivity, described them today as "polite and considerate." He said he had been "relatively well treated."

Smolen, deputy chief of the U.S. mission here, was released late Monday night in Caracas' Florida district after one of his captors told him, "We've obtained all the propaganda value from you we wanted."

At a news conference shortly after his release, Smolen said he had not been moved during his 87 hours in captivity, contradicting a Caracas police claim they had raided an apartment where he was held early Monday only 15 minutes before he had been whisked away.

Smolen also discredited a report he had been kidnaped in retaliation for the scheduled execution of a Viet Cong terrorist in Saigon, and that he would be killed if the execution was carried out.

He said his captors at no time spoke of any connection with the Viet Nam case, nor did they at any time indicate his life was in jeopardy for any reason. He said throughout they spoke of his kidnaping as a stunt aimed to attract attention to their efforts to topple the Caracas government.

Two Residents in Critical Condition After Auto Wreck

Two Pampa residents are listed in critical condition today in a Mangum, Okla., hospital suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident near Willow, Okla., Sunday.

Rube Shumate, manager of Furr's Super Market, and Kenny Crisp of Pampa were in a pickup that collided with another vehicle about 4 miles east of Willow.

The accident occurred about 8:30 Sunday night.

Shumate and Crisp had been in Willow visiting Shumate's father.

Court Told Racists 'Asked for Trouble'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Alabama prosecutor told the Supreme Court today that a bi-racial group deliberately "invited trouble" by taking seats at a traditionally all white lunch counter in a Montgomery bus terminal.

Assistant State Atty. Gen. Leslie Hall defended convictions of the seven "freedom riders" and four top aides of the Rev. Martin Luther King on grounds that their action was designed to touch off a breach of the peace.

Hall said a "hue and cry" rose from a hostile crowd of whites who were gathered at the terminal where the arrests occurred. Police officers were "fearful that a riot might take place," he said.

This was enough, he said, to charge the group with disturbing the peace and unlawful assembly.

"Under the existing circumstances, they invited trouble."

Shooting Victim Showing Signs Of Improvement

Attendees at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo said today that Albert E. Branscum of Pampa is showing marked improvement, however, is still listed as in critical condition. Branscum has been listed in "extremely" critical condition until yesterday.

The 35-year-old truck driver is suffering from two gunshot wounds in the head.

Authorities accused Branscum of shooting to death his 29-year-old wife last Thursday morning and then turning the gun on himself.

Campaign Hits Third of Goal

The 1964-65 Pampa - Lefors United Fund campaign drive to raise $70,000 neared the one-third mark today with the announcement that $22,404.67 in pledges and cash had been turned in to the United Fund office.

The new figure is an increase of $590.07 over last week's final report.

Hugh Peoples, chairman of the general gifts division, said that there would be an important meeting of his majors and captains tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn. At that time prospect cards will be worked out on a general basis. Peoples urged that all those concerned please attend the meeting. Forty-three are expected.

The Classroom Teachers Association met last night in the cafeteria of Woodrow Wilson school and formed two committees to contact all teachers and workers in the school system for the fund drive. Austin Ruddick is president of the association.

Six-member agencies will be supported by this year's United Fund campaign. They are the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Milk Fund, Welfare Index, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Nigeria Denies Meredith Charge Of Disinterest

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — A Nigerian education official Monday denied a charge by American Negro James Meredith that a fellowship at the University of Ibadan was not materializing as promised.

S. O. Awokoya, secretary of the federal education ministry, said Meredith's fellowship was "unique and without precedent" inasmuch as such assistance usually was given only to Nigerian students. He said the conditions had to be worked out carefully.

"An agreement has been reached and communicated to the vice chancellor of Ibadan University," Awokoya said. He said the government would pay for Meredith's living expenses and housing.

Meredith said Sunday night that "no official of the Nigerian government, high or low, has even given me the courtesy of discussing this matter."

"There has been no fellowship to date and I have increasingly become with undesirable experiences in my efforts to finalize the matter," he said.

Meredith, whose arrival at the University of Mississippi two years ago sparked riots in which two persons were killed, also complained about local press coverage of his stay here.

"Each report I have seen has stressed the untrue point that I was expelled from school in the United States," he said. "I have never been expelled from any school anywhere..."

Highway Patrol Investigates 17 Accidents in Gray

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 17 rural traffic accidents in Gray County during the month of September, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for 15 persons injured and an estimated property damage in the amount of $10,605.

The rural traffic accident summary for Gray County from January through September shows a total of 143 crashes resulting in three persons killed, 109 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $99,200.

"Accidents go up when the sun goes down" is not just a mere slogan but the truth. Why? Because darkness hides danger. That is the reason traffic accidents increase during October's shorter days and longer nights. The sergeant stated, "Sixty percent of all Texas rural traffic deaths occurred during the hours of darkness last year."

King Charges Churches Still 'too Segregated'

By United Press International
 Dr. Martin Luther King said in St. Louis Monday that "the most segregated school of the week is Sunday school."

But King told the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church that progress is being made in the church on civil rights.

"We can't sit by the wayside," King said. "We have a long long way to go before we reach the promised land. The church must take prime responsibility for both civil rights progress or its failure to move faster. The most segregated school of the week in Sunday school, but thank God, we are beginning to move."

King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Council and one of the foremost leaders in the civil rights fight, said he believes that non-violence is the most potent weapon in the struggle for civil rights and that "violence is improper and immoral."

A similar system will be adopted for the Navy's Fleet Post Office addresses, FPO numbers, later.

High School Drama Captures Audience

By PEGGY ORMSON
Daily News Women's Editor

Pampa High School drama students, under the direction of Mrs. Don Myers, held the complete attention of the audience in Pampa High School Auditorium last night as they presented Thornton Wilder's three-act play, "The Skin of Our Teeth."

The play, satirizing the unchangeable nature of mankind since Adam and Eve, led the Antrobus family and their maid, Lily Sabina, through fire, flood, pestilence, seven-year locusts, the ice-age black-box wars and depressions and all the ills that flesh is heir to, which the group survived only by the skin of their teeth.

The Antrobus family, a typical American family, was alternately bewitched, befuddled and becalmed.

An outstanding performance was given by Patsy Lou Holloway, portraying the leading role of the flirtatious maid, Lily Sabina, who set the stage for the play within a play.

Harold Thompson, portraying the sometimes stupid son of the Antrobuses, Henry, gave a near professional performance.

Other members of the cast, who held the audience spellbound with good dramatic acting and clear diction were Pat Spears and Rita Scholl, Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus and Carol Ask as the daughter, Gladys.

Danny Turner as the announcer, Kenneth Baxter as the telegraph boy and Pam King as the fortune teller, added much to the play in supporting roles.

Last performance of "The Skin of Our Teeth" will be presented at 8 p.m. today in Pampa High School Auditorium.

Price Criticizes Experience of Demo Opponent

AMARILLO (Spl) — Bob Price, Republican candidate for Congress, speaking before the Amarillo Republican Women's Club Tasting Tea in Amarillo yesterday, said:

"Our Congressman for the past 14 years would have you believe you would be losing a great deal to deny use of his experience. What experience?"

"Fourteen years of the wrong kind of experience is no qualification for the high office of representative. When the majority of our citizens oppose an increasing national debt ceiling, sale of wheat to Communist countries, and irresponsible public works programs under federal control, our congressman should have voted against them — but he didn't."

Price concentrated his campaign efforts on expansion of his plans for a "full-time Panhandle citizen representative in Washington." He charged his opponent with neglect, absenteeism, and voting against the will of the people he represents.

Today Price was campaigning in Ochiltree County. He attended coffees in Perryton and Farnsworth, and tonight was scheduled to attend an American Legion supper in Perryton.

Negro Fined for Carrying Pistol

A 35-year-old Negro youth arrested Sunday by Pampa police, was fined $100 and court costs yesterday after he pleaded guilty to charges of unlawful carrying of firearms.

Artius C. Johnson, 845 S. Gray, was arrested at 9:40 p.m. Sunday by patrolman Roger C. Scott with a loaded .22 pistol in his possession.

He was brought before County Judge William J. Craig yesterday.

Final Witness Due in Trial Of Sooner Judge

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (UPI) — The prosecution, which failed Monday to get admitted as evidence a startling bribe account, today planned to call its final witness in the tax evasion case against Oklahoma Supreme Court Justice Earl Welch.

Oklahoma City promoter Hugh A. Carroll took the witness stand on the first day of the second week of the trial and told of paying $150,000 to Justice Nelson S. Corn to influence a Supreme Court decision in 1957.

Carroll said he paid $125,000 of the bribe to Corn in front of the state capitol building as the two sat in a car. The first payment of $25,000 came the day before the court handed down a decision favoring Carroll's Selected Investments Corp., the witness testified.

But after Carroll's account, made with the jury outside the courtroom, U.S. Dist. Judge Harper said he was forced to rule that Carroll's testimony was inadmissible.

Chief prosecutor Don Hanson said the government would wind up its case with the testimony of the expert witness, who was expected to be under direct examination for at least two hours.

Special agent Edward Kaszubowski of the Internal Revenue Service was still testifying when the court recessed Monday. His cross-examination by defense attorney V.P. Crowe was to open the seventh day of the trial.

GOPs Planning Police of Polls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The GOP National Committee is taking steps to prevent a repetition next month of alleged vote frauds that some Republicans believe cost Richard M. Nixon the 1960 presidential election.

Republican National Chairman Dean Burch announced Monday a nationwide watchdog campaign for policing the polls on Nov. 3 and checking on voter registration lists.

Burch, in announcing the "ballot security program," said millions of Americans still believe that GOP candidate Nixon was deprived of the presidency in 1960 by "widespread vote frauds in key states."

"The evidence of such fraud was indisputable," Burch said. "We are going to see that such chicanery doesn't happen again."

He said the GOP program would involve trained observers posted in every state, county and precinct.

Before Nov. 3, they will check voting lists by door-to-door canvassing to eliminate "lombstone" voters.

On Election Day, they will observe actual balloting and vote tabulations and will be ready to call in law enforcement officers to settle cases on the scene and to prevent voter intimidation.

Harlington Wood Jr., a Springfield, Ill., lawyer and former U.S. attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, was named program director.

Ike Re-elected In English Union

DENVER (UPI) — Former President Eisenhower yesterday was re-elected national chairman of the English Speaking Union of the United States.

The group, which opened its four-day annual meeting here, named Gen. Lauris Norstad, former supreme commander of NATO forces, to its national board of directors.

Neither official was present. The ESU is an organization dedicated to "promoting understanding and friendship between the people of the United States and the people of the (British) commonwealth."

Furniture Dollies Stolen From Store

Theft of two furniture dollies were among incidents under investigation today by Pampa police.

Charles Lockhart, 2232 N. Wells, reported to police yesterday someone stole the dollies from the rear of Joe Hawkins Appliance, 854 W. Foster.

Lockhart said the dollies valued at $50 each, were taken sometime late Friday night.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Know What It Costs
To Borrow

There are many factors that a person about to make a personal loan from a bank or finance company should understand. These are important in deciding whether the loan is on reasonable terms and worthwhile.

First, what will the loan cost? Cost includes not only the interest but any "extras" such as closing costs and credit investigation or service charges. Is credit life insurance required? Are such costs added to the loan or paid in advance? Is the interest and — or such charges deducted from the amount borrowed and only the net amount paid over?

Does the lender require collateral or co-signers? If so, what can the borrower do to meet the requirements? Collateral or co-signers may enable one to borrow on more favorable terms.

When does the borrower get his money? Must he apply and then wait?

What about repayment? Is it by installments, or all at once at the end of the loan period? Can there be prepayment? What about renewals or extensions of the loan? What penalties if the borrower is late in making payment?

Few borrowers stop to realize that when loans are repaid in installments the quoted interest of 6 per cent, for example, may be misleading. The true interest could be approximately 12 per cent, which might make the borrower reconsider.

The reason for this is simple: If you borrow $100 to be repaid in 12 monthly installments, on the average you have the use of only $50 for the year. Interest of 6 per cent computed on the entire $100, as is customary in some lending agencies, is actually 12 per cent on the $50 you had use of.

Likewise, a 1 1/2 per cent a month carrying charge on a more account doesn't seem high — but that is 18 per cent a year, which is mighty steep interest.

Rather than charging or financing something involving a carrying charge, it may be far cheaper to borrow the money on an ordinary loan and pay for the purchase. For example, $100 borrowed for 6 months and repaid at the end of the term, at 6 per cent simple interest, costs only $3.00.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Legion, Auxiliary to Convene

AMARILLO (Spl) — Legionaires and auxiliary members from the 18th Congressional District will convene here on Saturday and Sunday for their annual fall convention of the American Legion, Grant Hanna, District Commander, has announced.

Registration will open at the Herring Hotel Saturday at 1 p.m. There will be a conducted tour of Amarillo Air Force Base at 3 p.m.

That evening the Legion and Auxiliary will enjoy a banquet in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel, followed by a dance at 9 p.m. at the NCO Club at the Amarillo Air Force Base.

On Sunday at 8 a.m. registration will be resumed in the Herring Hotel Lobby.

The joint session of the Legion and Auxiliary will convene at 9:30 a.m. with Commander Hanna calling the meeting to order. The Laetrile Story a professor of medicine at a state university and one was a pathologist. Not one of the physicians had any personal experience with the use of Laetrile.

Dr. Ian MacDonald, a Los Angeles surgeon, was chairman and Dr. Henry Garland, a San Francisco radiologist, was secretary of the commission.

Both Dr. MacDonald and Dr. Garland are men of outstanding positions in medicine. Dr. MacDonald is clinical professor of surgery at the University of Southern California, senior attending surgeon in tumor surgery at Los Angeles County Hospital and is staff member or consultant for four other hospitals. He is nationally recognized as a cancer authority. He has been associated with the American Cancer Society since 1960, having served as president of the California division from 1962 to 1964 and received that organization's distinguished service award in 1961. He was born April 9, 1903 in Calgary, Canada, received his master in Surgery degree at McGill University in Montreal in 1928, came to the United States in 1932 and was naturalized in 1941. He has been in private practice in Los Angeles since 1943. He is listed in Who's Who.

Dr. Garland is an internationally famous radiologist. Born in Dublin, Ireland, March 30, 1903, he received his medical training at University College, Dublin. Since 1929, he has been associated with Stanford University Medical School, serving presently as clinical professor of radiology and serves two hospitals in San Francisco as radiologist and is consultant on radiology at Armed Forces Institute of Pathology in Washington, D. C. He is former president of the American College of Radiology, former president of the Radiological Society of North America and former president of the California Academy of Medicine. He was founding member of the Pacific Roentgen Society and its honorary secretary from 1933 to the present, and was honorary secretary of the California Medical Assn. from 1946 to 1950. He authored a book, "Diseases of the Chest" in 1957. He also is listed in Who's Who.

These two men wrote the actual report which concluded:

"No satisfactory evidence has been produced to indicate any significant cytotoxic (lethal) effect of Laetrile on the cancer cell."

"The commission has collected information concerning 44 patients treated with Laetrile, all of whom either have active disease or are dead of their disease, with one exception. Of those alive with disease, no patient has been found with objective evidence of control of cancer under treatment with Laetrile alone."

The report does not state where the patients were being treated or by whom or for how long. It does not state the condition of the patients at the time Laetrile treatment was started, nor does it state how much of the chemical was injected.

It wasn't until 10 years later that more detailed information was made public.

The documents in the state health department records of the Cancer Advisory Council's report revealed that none of the patients included in the 1963 study had received as much as three grams of the drug. Dosage records were listed for only 15 of the 44 patients.

Five of the patients had received only one injection, five had received only two.

The largest amount of Laetrile listed for any patient included in the 1963 report was 2 grams, 278 milligrams in 12 injections from September 26, 1962 to December 15, 1962.

One of the leading authorities on Laetrile, a physician, testified in a court hearing in Montreal, Canada in June, 1964 that experience has established a dosage of 30 grams as "basic treatment." Laetrile's proponents say the 1963 report "wrote off" Laetrile before it had a chance to prove itself in clinical tests.

Unquestionably the 1963 report was detrimental to continued experimental work with Laetrile in the United States and served as the basis for subsequent ban of the drug by California law.

Besides the incomplete charts and tables published in California Medicine, the report contained a number of statements subsequently discovered or challenged by information in the 1963 report by the state appointed Cancer Advisory Council.

One puzzling part of the 1963 report is the information dealing with autopsies. The report states:

"Adequate information in the instance of six autopsies of patients treated for cancer with Laetrile was obtainable for review . . ."

"This material was sent to three consultants Louisa E. Keasbey, M.D., John W. Budd, M.D., and J. L. Zundel, M.D."

"The unanimous opinion of these consultants was that in no instance could any recognizable effect of a chemotherapeutic agent be observed in the histology (microscopic evidence) of these various neoplasms. (Cancer tissue)."

However, the 1963 report by the Cancer Advisory Council includes actual reprints of the autopsy findings, and the language of the reports is considerably different.

Dr. Zundel, referring to case number one states: "These slides show adenocarcinoma (a form of cancer) with areas of focal necrosis (dead cells). The necrosis is not limited to the central areas of islands of tumor cells, and this might represent a chemical effect."

In case number three, he wrote: " . . . There appears to be more degeneration in the tumor cells in the lymph node. I would consider this as a possible result of chemical agent."

In his summary, he stated: "No effects in my estimation were seen in most of the cases. However two cases both of which were adenocarcinoma . . . showed moderate changes exhibited by focal necrosis which was not central in location, and which might be considered as chemotherapeutic toxic cellular changes."

The report of Dr. John W. Budd said of case number one:

" . . . Spontaneous changes could produce all the evidence of degeneration seen here but an interpretation of chemotherapeutic effect might be entertained."

Neither the 1963 or 1963 report gives any information about the length of treatment or amount of Laetrile given patient number one.

In the case of patient number three in the autopsy data, the 1963 report reveals that the patient received a total of 800 milligrams of Laetrile in 1962.

Of the six autopsies for which the 1963 report states there was "adequate information," the amount of Laetrile administered is reported in only three.

Another puzzling part of the 1963 report deals with chemical analyses of Laetrile samples.

The report in California Medicine states that samples of Laetrile were submitted to the chemical laboratory of the American Medical Association and to John W. Mehl, M.D., professor of biochemistry at the University of Southern California.

Dr. Mehl in an "inconclusive study" was quoted in the 1963 report that he was unable to break down the material to release cyanide and stated that the results of his tests "do not support the claims made for Laetrile." The date of his paper was March 11, 1963.

Not quoted in the 1963 California Medicine report were the American Medical Association's chemical laboratory findings compiled two months earlier on Jan. 14, 1963. This laboratory reported that it had been successful in releasing cyanide in tests with Laetrile.

But it was not until 10 years later that this became public knowledge in the 1963 report of the Cancer Advisory Council. The documents in this report also revealed that the California Department of Public Health Food and Drug Laboratory had achieved successful evolution of hydrocyanic acid from Laetrile.

The report states that the state food and drug laboratory, and the AMA laboratory used emulsin which contains glucosidase to hydrolyze Laetrile with the production of hydrocyanic acid.

Despite the subsequent information which contradicts the reported 1963 findings, the report of the Cancer Commission of the California Medical Association continues to be quoted by the American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute when these groups are questioned about Laetrile.

Washington Window

National Window
By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
This essay was typed on a handsome portable machine that bears the well known American trade name, Remington. Moreover, this mill was a gift to me from my Washington, D.C., colleagues.
It bears the Name REMINGTON spelled out in raised script. But on the hind side of the typewriter in small letters unlikely to attract much attention is the legend: "Manufactured in the United Kingdom."
That was a shocker for me because it had been my impression that American mechanical genius had devised such wonders as the personal typing machine and that American merchandizing genius was supplying such wonders to one and all, overseas and at home. Then I remembered that some Italian geni had moved in on the U.S. typewriter industry several years ago and, so far as I ever heard, had made away with it.
More Of Same
But there is more of the same. For 20 years I have worn on my wrist a Swiss watch, a good and beautiful timepiece. The time came for replacement and I remembered from my youth the fame of certain articles of commerce often far beyond hope of possession for a short-grass country boy. There were, for example, the Barlow knife, and the Hamilton watch.

The Hamilton watch! Every prairie kid in a railroad town aspired to one. The word around was that the engine crew of the once-a-day local on the Mopac Central Branch timed their train with Hamiltons. Not only the engine crew, but the conductor and brakeman as well. Railroad time was the ultimate standard of precision in western Kansas.
Of fresher memory was the fact that the American way of life depends in large measure on its watch industry. The delicate mechanics of manufacturing these little time machines requires precise skills and tools essential to national defense. U.S. watchmakers in World War II helped produce the tiny and delicately adjusted proximity artillery fuse.
I wear my new Hamilton, but not so proudly as I might. It says HAMILTON just under the figure 12. But below the 6 in very small print is the word: Swiss!

Finds Other Makes
Last week I bought a Seth Thomas desk clock, a beautiful model. Seth Thomas is part of the American legend. But my desk clock was made in Germany. I have been examining other articles in my home. My travel clock, a folding number, is an Ingraham; "Made in Japan."
A handsome 10-gallon hat purchased in Dallas, Tex., is the image of the famous Stetson. Inside, my hat claims Qualita Superiore and describes itself as a Borsalino, made in Italy. Ditto a Stetson look-alike bought in San Francisco. LBJ had better look under his hat band.
My cigarette lighter appears to be a Pennsylvania product. It was made in Austria.
All of these are good products. My British typewriter is as good as any I ever owned. My watch and clocks keep good time. My lighter lights.
What I'd like to know is what has become of the American guys and dolls who used to make these articles now imported from overseas? Maybe they got other and better jobs. Then, again, maybe they didn't.

NEW YORK: An iron ore deposit which is estimated could produce nearly one billion tons of recoverable ore has been discovered in Alaska by the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana).
Officials of the oil company said the strike could rank in terms of tonnage, as one of the top seven or eight iron ore discoveries ever made anywhere. The announcement indicated that development of the ore body would be slowed by the present lack of demand on the West Coast.

NEW YORK — A $44 million merger of Texas Industries, Inc. and Colonial Sand & Stone Co., Inc. was approved in principle by the two firm's board of directors. Terms of the merger provide that Texas Industries will be the surviving company. Texas Industries will exchange 775 of a share of its common stock for each share of Colonial.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)— Curtis Publishing Co. has suspended, on full salary, the two top executives who led the revolt against Chairman Matthew J. Culligan. And it is reported that the other rebels have been warned to fall in line under Culligan's leadership.

The United States has a total of 56,704,500 homes, of which ...

... 51,733,200 have one or more television sets. This amounts to ...

... 91 per cent of all American homes, including Hawaii but not Alaska.

BIG SMALL SCREEN—In its annual September survey of television homes, the American Research Bureau reports that the total increased by 1,300,100 during the past year. Chart above shows proportion of television homes in this country. California leads every state with an estimated 5,278,900 homes with television.

Creep Feeding Is Not Advised For County Cattlemen

If you're thinking about initiating a creep feeding program for your beef cattle operation, carefully consider the advantages as well as limitations and fit them to your individual operation, advises Foster Whaley, county agricultural agent.

Calves which are to be creep fed should receive enough feed to fatten them by weaning time. Fat calves are being purchased today for direct slaughter. Feeder buyers do not prefer to purchase fat calves for feedlots; thus this limitation should be considered prior to creep feeding — approximately 900 pounds of feed are required to produce a 100-pound increase in calf weight, Whaley explains.

Generally speaking it takes a 28 cent calf to have a break-even operation of creep feeding. Since we are well below $28.00 per cwt on calves this makes creep feeding a very questionable item. Heavy stocker calves draws a strong price penalty.

Creep feeding adds some weight and finish and allows calves to grow more uniformly in size and condition. At weaning time less shrinkage results due to the improved over - all condition of the calves.

Furthermore, a creep feeding program does not exclusively benefit calves. Mother cows will lose less weight during nursing periods and thus stay in better condition. Creep feeding may have a place in emergency conditions or in periods of stress, such as the drought experienced in most areas of the state this year.

Top quality calves with possibilities for future breeding purposes will receive an added boost if creep fed. However, producers should consider a ration for growth and development instead of fattening since this will have adverse effects on the future breeding ability of these calves. Milk production, longevity and reproductive ability are affected.

Creep feeding has its greatest advantage in east and south Texas for the Houston slaughter calf market.

REAL HIP CAT — Mrs. James Keough of 1325 N. Hobart, left, and Mrs. J. G. Speegle of 419 N. Sumner team up to hold this 41½-pound catfish caught Saturday at Fort Cobb Lake in Oklahoma. Red Nims of Borger was credited with the trot-line catch, but the womenfolk ended up with the prize.

Construction Started On Borger Installation

BORGER (Sp.) — Work has started here on a $180,000 office - warehouse - and-equipment installation for a new firm, Chemical Industries, Inc., distributor of commercial industrial chemicals.

The warehouse here is being constructed by Pantex Co. of Pampa. The $65,000 building will be erected at Borger Industrial Park just south of the city and is the first in this development.

General Manager Glenn W. Cochran said the company at present is leasing three warehouses in Borger: one in Amarillo and one in Pampa. Other warehouses will be set up shortly in Liberal and Hugoton, Kansas.

COMING TO TOP O' TEXAS — Fred L. Plummer, executive director of the American Welding Society, currently on a fall tour of Southern and Western United States, including Hawaii, will meet with officers of the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle Section of the American Welding Society at Supten's Restaurant in Borger at 6 p.m. Oct. 21. He will speak on "Welded Structures-Unlimited" for the local A.W.S. section. Members and prospective members of the Panhandle Section, and others in the Panhandle area interested in welding, are invited.

Chemical Industries' home office will be in front of the 20,000 - square - foot warehouse. Completion date is December 1.

Among the equipment installations in the warehouse will be a $55,000 turbulator to clean bundle exchangers from refineries, as part of the customized cleaning services planned. There will be three portable C.I.P. Customized cleaning units valued at a total $20,000, which can be moved into the customer's plant, Cochran said.

Chemical Industries will represent more than 25 prestige suppliers, including such firms as Jefferson, DuPont and Monsanto. Ample local stocks will be maintained, and delivery will be made in Chemical Industries' vehicles.

A large portion of the chemicals sold will be to the petroleum industry of the area. Sales will be both in carload and less-than-carload quantities, Cochran said.

However, the company will also be serving firms dealing in beverage and food processing, agriculture, cattle, plastics, feed additives, municipal water treatment and other lines.

Notes from the foreign news
cables:

Red China And United Nations:
Red China will make its annual bid to win a seat in the United Nations when the General Assembly convenes in New York on Nov. 10. Some day it may make it. But not this year. The battle to keep Peking out of the U.N. may be a lot closer than has been anticipated. But observers feel it still will fall short. It will be closer because the Red Chinese have been making rapid diplomatic headway among France's former colonies in Africa. The Congo Republic, whose capital is Brazzaville, and the Central African Republic both have established diplomatic ties with Peking. Senegal has cut its links with the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa. And five other African nations — Cameroon, Gabon, Niger, Chad and Dahomey — are reported considering Peking's diplomatic overtures. Cameroon is believed to be the key. If it goes over to the Communist Chinese, the others are expected to follow. If this happens, then Red China will be recognized by more nations in Africa than Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime. That still won't be enough, for most of the rest of the world still backs Chiang.

Britain And The MLF:
There is growing informed speculation in London that Britain will have little choice but to join the American projected mixed-manned Polaris nuclear surface force, when the time comes. If the United States decides to go ahead with the MLF, as it is called, Britain will follow no matter which party wins this week's parliamentary selection. Only West Germany seems enthusiastic about such a force at this time. But the prospect of an American German nuclear arrangement of any kind is rated sufficiently alarming in London to prompt any British government to join up promptly — no matter with what misgivings.

De Gaulle As "anuidate":
All indications reaching Paris are that President Charles de Gaulle has stood up far better than expected to the rigors of his exhausting South American tour of 10 countries in 26 days. If he returns home by the end of this week in good physical shape, there will be no remaining doubts that he will run for a second term in December, 1965.

Romania As Mediator:
Romanian Premier Ion Maurer is winding up his second visit to Red China in seven months with new prestige for his country's independent line between Moscow and Peking in their bitter ideological fight. Observers in Hong Kong — the British China coast colony that serves as a diplomatic listening post on events inside the Communist mainland — feel Maurer has been trying to mediate the fight between the two Marxist giants and at the same time step up economic cooperation between Peking and Bucharest.

BACK SACK
WANSFORD, England (UPI) — Four provincial governors from Thailand felt quite at home in a 15th century English hotel here. They momentarily mistook a four-poster bed for a howdah — or elephant chair.

LIGHTING THE SKY—The new 150-foot-high control tower at New York City's LaGuardia Airport cost $1.6 million and reportedly is the last word in airport design.

Homemaker Stamp to Salute US Womankind

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski today announced the design of the 5-cent Homemaker commemorative postage stamp to be issued Oct. 26, according to O. K. Gaylor, Pampa postmaster.

The stamp, which salutes the role of American womankind in making a home, will have a first day ceremony in Honolulu, Hawaii, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the National Extension Homemakers Council.

The stamp also is a tribute to the 50th anniversary of passage of the Smith-Lever Act, legislation that opened the way to improved homelife throughout America by providing home economics experts to advise women on better ways to feed and clothe their families. The National Extension Homemakers Council is made up of nearly 700,000 women who serve as local leaders, assisting some 4,000 United States Department of Agriculture home demonstration agents.

The colorful 5-cent stamp recaptures a bit of homespun Americana, for it simulates the needlework of the sampler, on which women of another era cross-stitched mottoes and designs in bright colors.

Shown on the horizontal stamp is a farm scene in which husband, wife and small son stand beside their home, watching their cows grazing peacefully. A tame deer watches from the background, and before the house is a small pond in which ducks paddle.

As in the tradition of the early American sampler, the woman, not Nature, decided what colors are to go where. There is a purple tree and a red woman and a purple man, and so on, and the result is both quaint and whimsical.

Above the farmhouse hovers a purple eagle, wings spread, and claws clutching two American flags. Upper left appears "U. S." in purple. To the right is "5 cents" in red. "Homemakers" in purple appears at the bottom of the stamp, and the sampler decorative border, vertical left and right appears in green.

The red, green and purple stamp is printed on white paper on which had previously been printed a crosshatch of yellow to simulate linen. The yellow was applied by dry offset from deep etched plates, this becoming the first time that the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has combined offset with intaglio in stamp production. This method was used in 1943-44 by the American Banknote Company to produce the Overrun Countries series.

Norman Todhunter, a member of the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee and a New York advertising agency art director, donated the design of the Homemaker stamp. Richard M. Bower engraved the vignette, eagle and ornaments. Denomination and lettering are by Howard F. Sharpless. Print order for the Giori press is 120 million.

Some Rate Color Over Communism

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
WILTON HOUSE, Sussex, England — In the unlikely setting of a country manor house in the rolling hills of Sussex, now yellow-green in the early fall, two Asians and two Africans discussed whether the color of men's skins eventually would divide the world.

The question arose because Red China has launched just such a campaign now that its split with the Soviet Union has shed the trappings of an ideological dispute and emerged as an open struggle for world power.

It should be emphasized that this was not soap-box oratory but rather a discussion among men whose positions in government or elsewhere made it possible for them both to assess or mould public opinion within their own countries.

Among the four from Nigeria, Uganda, Pakistan and Malaysia there was agreement that in a simple choice of communism, the Chinese stood the better chance of success among colored nations.

Color More Important
In the Nigerian view, color ranked above communism as a world problem.

"There is no use even being it to communism," he said, "because many don't even know what communism is."

And he asked bluntly: "If Red China is a threat, what is the West going to do?"

The discussion ranged beyond color. For, while it is a fact that most of the new nations are brown, yellow or black, their frustrations arise from a belief that the wealthy Western nations exploit them for their raw materials and their own impatience to bridge a gap of centuries in their industrial development.

And this Red China seeks to exploit.

The discussion arose as part of the Wilton Park conferences held on this ancient estate whose land titles go back to William the Conqueror. The objective of the conferences, sponsored by the British Foreign Office with some outside support from the Ford Foundation, is greater understanding of world events.

Rightly or wrongly, the underdeveloped nations have accepted wholeheartedly the Soviet charge that GATT the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade is a rich man's club. Echoed by Pakistan, "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. It was not exactly a new concept but it was echoed in more concrete terms by the Pakistanis.

The fall in the price of raw materials, he maintained, has cost the underdeveloped nations more than all they have received in loans and that, unless world raw material prices are stabilized, "you will have Cubas all over the place."

The Africans saw little danger in the world population explosion but exhibited a dreamlike quality in how their own peoples should be fed.

It is this attitude which refuses to accept step-by-step developments and which leads them to demand industry and mechanization before being able to manage the tools.

But there is nothing dreamlike in the implicitly threat that if communism takes over the new nations, it will be because the West failed to meet what they believe is its responsibilities.

New Orbit Puts Russians Ahead

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
HOUSTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union now leads the United States by anywhere from 2 to 6 years in the manned conquest of space.

And from the American point of view, it could — and probably will — get worse before it gets better.

For all its billions of dollars, the U. S. space program can count precious few victories where manned flight is concerned. It started three years ago when cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin beat astronaut Alan Shepard into space by 23 days.

It continued today when the Russians orbited the world's first multi-manned space ship four months ahead of America's plans to do the same thing.

— Grounded Till February
The next U. S. representatives in space will be astronauts Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom and John Young, who will pilot a two-seater Gemini capsule three times around the earth after a blastoff from Cape Kennedy.

Grissom and Young, however, are grounded at least until next February. Their space transportation, originally scheduled for completion a year ago, is still in the assembly stage.

A closer look at the latest Soviet accomplishment indicated a "gap" of considerably more than four months between the two programs for manned mastery of the cosmos.

Carries Doctor
The Russian ship, a new model "Vostok," carries three men — pilot-commander Vladimir M. Komarov, and two passengers, scientist Boris Egorov and a doctor named Konstantin Feoktistov.

America's first three-man spaceship, an earth-orbiting model of the Apollo moon capsule is at least two years away from the launching pad. The Saturn-1B rocket that will boost it has yet to fly. The day when passengers will ride in U. S. space capsules is even further away.

The best that the scientific community has wrangled from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is a promise to study the matter of carrying along full-fledged scientists.

Church Founded In 1874 Planning 90th Anniversary

CENTER POINT, Tex. (SpI) — The First Baptist Church of Center Point, which was organized Oct. 15, 1874, will observe its 90th anniversary with a homecoming Sunday. All former members and pastors are invited to attend beginning with Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. morning worship at 10:30 a.m. dinner at noon, and concluding with a period of gospel singing from 3:00 to 4 p.m.

Dr. W. B. Tolar of Baylor University's religion department will be the guest speaker in the morning worship service. Allan Cox, music director, will be in charge of all music in the day's program. The present pastor, N. A. Mills, has been serving the church for the last six years.

Downtown Group Hears Report on Parking Meters

Members of the Downtown Business Association of Pampa heard a report on the recent parking meter recommendation presented the Pampa City Commission last week during their regular meeting yesterday.

B. M. Behrman, chairman of the highway committee, presented a report on the committee's operations.

The DBA also discussed upcoming newspaper advertising campaigns and promotions.

Appeal Made for Hospital Patients

Area Red Cross offices have issued an appeal for several items to be distributed to patients at Amarillo Air Force Base hospital.

Persons wishing to donate old comic books, paperback books, crossword puzzles and small prizes for parties are asked to leave items at their local Red Cross office.

Christmas gifts for patients also will be accepted. The Red Cross suggests shaving needs, stretch socks, handkerchiefs, toilet articles, ball-point pens, books — and games.

PLANES ALERTED

AQABA, Jordan (UPI)—King Hussein stopped watching a water skiing carnival at Oqaba briefly Monday to order Jordanian fighter planes into the air because of two Israeli fighters.

Hussein was among more than 2,000 spectators at the carnival when the two Mirage-type Israeli planes appeared offshore.

Hussein ordered a nearby air base to send up fighters to intercept the Israeli planes if they entered Jordanian air space. But they disappeared from sight as the Jordanian planes took off.

Dear Abby....

Money Doesn't Buy Immunity From Decency

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a very good provider, but he has made money his god. He thinks he can do no wrong as long as he isn't taking the bread out of his family's mouth. I caught him with another woman, and he said, "So what? I've never spent a dollar on her. She pays for everything!" When he drinks, he thinks it is all right because he has an expense account and can drink on company money. He has never denied me anything I wanted, I will say that for him. But I wish I could get it through his head that I would rather have more of HIM and less of his money.

BIG SHOT'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Since he has never denied you anything, ask him for one more personal favor. Ask him to lay out $25 an hour for an explanation of why he thinks a fat bank account buys him immunity from decent behavior. In this way his "god" could really help him.

DEAR ABBY: When a fellow asks a girl for a date, is it all right for the girl to ask him where they are going? Also when a girl and her date go to different schools and their schools play each other in basketball or football, whose side do they sit on? Please put your answers in the paper as I am having a big argument with somebody over the answers.

O. O.
DEAR O. O.: Yes, it is proper for a girl to ask the boy where they are going. How else would she know whether to dress for a movie or a weiner roast? They sit on the boy's side. He's the host — unless, of course, she has come up with the tickets.

DEAR ABBY: I notice that Sausage Creamed Potatoes Gravy Mixed Vegetables Pickles Hot Biscuits Milk Plain or Chocolate Milk

you, too, have heard from "IN LOVE," who says she is in love with her doctor. She states that her doctor has no such feelings for her, and she is so right! I am her doctor. Please tell "IN LOVE" to quit sending me those birthday cards, and other messages, which she addresses to me at one of the hospitals where I visit. I have no mail privileges there, and the stuff is simply readdressed and sent to my home or office. I have one heck of a time explaining that it is from "one of those nuts." (Anyway, how did she learn my birth date?) In short, I don't want any mail I have to worry about. Sign me,

EMBARRASSED IN CINCINNATI

DEAR ABBY: How can you tell someone that he eats like it is his last meal on earth? Abby, I am so embarrassed when we have company, or when we are invited to someone's house for a meal. The noise that is made by that man when he is chewing and swallowing is just terrible. He sounds like an animal. I can't tell him because he is my father.

EMBARRASSED
DEAR EMBARRASSED: You are right. You can't. But your mother can. Why don't you tell her to tell him? It is a perfectly legitimate complaint.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 89700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Several visitors and occasional comers were at the Center this week. Among them was little Miss Patricia Dianne Jackson of Amarillo about five years old, who seemed to enjoy herself. Miss Jackson is spending the week with her grandmother, Mrs. C. W. Thompson; A. E. Ellison from Twilight Acres; A. E. Butler; Mrs. Lela Williams and Mrs. Birdie McKinney.

A dinner guest Tuesday of Mrs. Mollie Hethcock was her cousin, Mrs. Myrtle Bell of Amarillo.

A guest this week of Mrs. Pearl Erwin, and a guest at the Center was, Mrs. R. E. Williams of Decatur, sister-in-law of Mrs. Erwin, and a former resident of the Panhandle. Mrs. Williams late husband will be remembered as one of the early county judges of Gray county, when Lefors was the county seat. The Williams came here in 1905, when the population of Pampa was only 50 people, with 10 children enrolled in school. No churches at that time, but a Union Sunday School met in the school house. The Baptist church was the first church to organize in town of which Mrs. Williams was a charter member. It is interesting to talk to the early settlers.

Mrs. Maggie Deal visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. Floy Posey, and a niece, Mrs. Oneta Paul in Amarillo, one day last week.

A freckle-faced miss invites a playmate over . . . Dad tracks down a hard-to-find gadget for the workshop . . . Mom gets a recipe from a friend. Whatever the need, people take it for granted their phone will work. What else that you use so often is so dependable?

Making telephones so reliable takes complex equipment, technical improvements and, above all, carefully trained telephone people.

Monterey Boasts Finest Pass Receiver In Loop

"Our pass defense will get its stiffest test of the year," warned Pampa assistant coach Norm Phillips, "but if it passes the test, I believe we can stop Monterey."

Phillips, compiling a scouting report on this Friday night's football for in Lubbock, reported the Plainsmen as having by far the best passing attack of any district 3-AAAA team the Harvesters had run into.

Following last week's Tascosa game, the Plainsmen now sport the loop's top passer and the number one and two pass receivers.

Quarterback Randy Bowlin, 150, beat out last year's number-one man — under, Ricky Canup, also rated a fine passer, for the top spot this season. Completing a fantastic nine of 19 for 180 yards last weekend, Bowlin shot up to the district lead.

Chief reason for his passing wizardry, explains Phillips, is left end Chris Key, 180, who the Tall coach says, is "one of the finest pass receivers I've seen in a long time." The speedy, elusive Key gathered in six passes for 149 yards and a touchdown, and also intercepted a Tascosa pass and brought it back 60 yards for another touchdown. Key shoots up to the district lead with 191 yards in completions, passing the previous leader, teammate Vic Condrey. Wingback Condrey, 185, has a snatched six passes for 94 yards in loop play. "Key is not as fast as some we've seen, like May," explains Phillips, "but he has all the moves. He's strong and makes catches when he's covered. He's hard to stop."

Phillips, observed that the Plainsmen seemed real fired up against Tascosa, they played tough and they played a real good game. "They have good pursuit and they hustle. They had trouble moving that ball against Tascosa's big line, so they went to the air, but they can go on the ground, especially fullback Rusty Spradling, 195, a good hard runner, and halfback Tim Horn, 165, a fast, shifty boy.

"They weigh about the same as we do, offensive line averages 186, backfield 169, and the defense averages 174. They have a couple of real fine linemen, returning starters from last year, Danny Dutton and Robert Junell. Dutton, 206, plays right tackle on offense and right tackle

Defensively, the Plainsmen line up in front with Grigg, Junell, Mark Rice 175, Dutton. Linebackers are Tate, Winfred Arp 175, Jack Buffington 185. Cornermen are Byron Price 170 and Rusty Andrews 165. Halfbacks are Rodney McLeod 150 and Horn.

"They mix up their plays real well," summed up Phillips. "They have a good running attack, and a fine passing attack. We're going to have to defense 'em real tough."

Yank Swimmers Sweep Olympic Stroke Medals

TOKYO (UPI) — Jed Graef, a 22-year-old Princeton student from Verona, N.J., tonight led the United States to a 1-2-3 sweep of all the medals in the 200 meter Olympic backstroke tonight as Americans added five more medals to their lead over Russia.

Graef, setting a world record of 2 minutes, 10.3 seconds, nosed out Gary Dilley of Huntington, Ind., and Bob Bennett of Long Beach, Calif., splashed in third to give the U.S. its first sweep of an Olympic event this year.

Two American girls added medals by finishing second and third behind Australia's incomparable 27-year-old Dawn Fraser, who won the women's 1000 meter free style for the third time since her debut in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne.

Miss Fraser, known affectionately as "granda," scored a length-of-a-wrist victory over 15-year-old Sharon Stouder of Glendora, Calif., clipping five-tenths off her Olympic record with a clocking of 59.5. Miss Stouder was timed in 59.9.

The bronze medal went to Kathy Ellis, 17-year-old Indianapolis schoolgirl, clocked in 1:00.8.

Russia gained only one medal during the day, bringing its total to four while the U.S. now has 10.

Russia's Vladimir Kapunov won a silver medal for finishing behind Poland's Waldemar Bazranowski in the lightweight freestyle.

Graef beat Dilley to the finish by only inches, wiping out the old world record of 2:10.9 set by Tom Stock of the U.S. in 1962. It also smashed Graef's Olympic mark of 2:13.7 set in the semi-finals Monday night.

Those five swimming medals climaxed a day in which U.S. forces scored impressively in men's springboard diving, basketball, rowing and boxing.

Frank Gorman of Queens Village, N.Y., 26-year-old naval lieutenant, and two other Americans gained a 1-2-3 lead at the end of seven compulsory dives in the men's springboard event.

Earlier, the eight-oared crew from Philadelphia's Vesper Boat Club and a U.S. four-oared crew without coxswain made up of rowers from the West Coast qualified for the finals by winning "second chance" heats.

U.S. Whips Peru

The U.S. basketball team whipped Peru, 60-45, for its 41st Olympic triumph and third this year with Jerry Shipp of the Phillips Oilers leading the way on 18 points.

The Russians, leading threat to American basketball supremacy, also continued unbeaten by routing Hungary, 84-42.

American swimmers bagged an Olympic record when Steve Clark of Santa Clara, Calif., Larry Schulhof of Muncie, Ind., Mike Austin of Rochester, N.Y., and Gary Allman of San Jose, Calif., won their heat in the men's 400 meter free style relay in 3:38.8.

That broke the mark of 3:40.6 set by Australia in an earlier trial.

Middleweight boxer Tony Gibson of Spokane knocked out Yot Thiancharoen of Thailand at 57 seconds of the second and Charles Brown of Cincinnati scored a unanimous decision over John Hope of Australia in the featherweight division.

Preliminaries Scheduled

Most of the third day of competition was devoted to preliminaries with three gold medals decided tonight in lightweight weightlifting, women's 100 meter free style swim and men's 200 meter backstroke.

Another 18 gold medals will be decided Wednesday, eight of them in free style wrestling.

HARVESTER OF THE WEEK — Big Red Griffith was honored as Fighting Harvester of the Week for the second straight game. Big Red shone both ways against Caprock being in on 18 tackles and sparking the defense, and offensively scoring the winning touchdown, as well as setting up two other tallies with his savage blocking.

Top O' Texas Wildlife

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

A few miles northwest of Sanford the barren, silent old Canadian River bed isn't seen any more. You can tell that the river bottom is still there only by the branches of the salt cedars as they wave to you amid the ruffle of the murky, shallow waters. They are covered up with a blanket of water. The other day there were whitecaps and today they are redcaps.

The closure is started. Soon the waters will hide more of the upstream river bed. Then, a few weeks hence, if you should find yourself in the center of the lake, probably you can look as far upstream as you can and see only the capping waves of Lake Meredith.

Slowly are the waters backing up from the damsite. Each day the closure is gaining in height. Soon the waters will be so deep that they will seem to catch up with the workers who are filling the gap in the dam, which is referred to as the closure. The waters will never go so high as to overflow the closure fill because they will be diverted through the mammoth tunnel on the south reaches of the impoundment and will flow downstream if there is a big rise on the river.

The workers are now employing flood lights and are working night and day to fill the gap in the dam. They have huge stockpiles of earth close by. Other fill material is located near. The long hauls are over and now it is just a short distance, comparatively, that the more than 60-cubic-yard machines move the damp earth for the final fill.

A few weeks ago I advised a viewer of the construction to come to the north vista point to observe. Then a viewer could get an idea of the enormity of the project while observing the machines and people, which appeared as ants, constructing the walls and other parts of the spillway and flood control works. Looking at the towering structure made one wonder if man could perform such a majestic display of skill and engineering science. One observed in awe.

Really, what most are interested in is the lake and all it implies. Now, my advice is to skip the splendor of the engineering feats, mountains of earth skillfully placed, concrete structure of noble stature, and take a look at the red waters that are on the upstream side of the dam. This is Marborough country.

Go to the Sanford - Fritch vista point and take a gander. I did and no ganders were seen but there were a few pintails, five or six. After a more careful scrutiny, there were more ducks and then more. Finally, it was discovered that the tree tops (brush tops) were loaded with our migratory friends. A few more weeks and there will be some geese, as well as ganders, making themselves at

Confident Cards Can Cop Series With Win

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals, transformed from underdogs to favorites by one magic swing of Tim McCarver's bat, returned home today confident they will crush the Yankees and make St. Louis the first National League team in history to win seven world championships.

This was a day off for travel in the World Series. The classic, in which the Cardinals now lead the Yankees by three games to two and need only one more win to wrap up the title, resumes here Wednesday.

With the Cards on top, and the sixth and seventh (if necessary) games both scheduled in the Cards' home ball yard. Oddsmakers who have steadily made the Yankees the series favorites ever since it began switched today and named St. Louis the 11-5 pick.

Strengthen Record

If the oddsmakers are right at last, then St. Louis will strengthen its tradition as the most successful National League club in World Series. At present the Cardinals are the only NL team to win six world championships, one more than the San Francisco (formerly New York) Giants.

"It has to look good from here," admitted Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane as he led his men home by plane immediately after Monday's 5-2 conquest of the Yankees in New York.

That went into the books today as one of the most dramatic games in series history, a contest that first saw Tom Tresh save New York from defeat in the ninth inning by hammering a two-run home run with two out — only to see McCarver top that with his three-run homer in the top half of the 10th to win it for the Cardinals.

The Cards, having won two straight games in enemy country after trailing 2-1 in the series, came home with their spirits higher than ever, convinced by this comeback as well as their amazing National League pennant victory that they are a "team of destiny."

Plan Workouts

The series leaders planned to work out at Busch Stadium today, while the Yankees remained at home in New York where they planned to drill in Yankee Stadium.

When the series resumes Wednesday, it will be southpaw Curt Simmons on the mound for the Cardinals and probably righthander Jim Bouton for the Yankees. They were the third game rivals in New York and Bouton got a 2-1 victory on Mickey Mantle's ninth-inning homer off relief pitcher Barr Schultze.

There's just a chance the Yankees would switch to Whitey Ford, if Ford's damaged heel improved unexpectedly. Although the Cards now are favored to win the series, the Yankees remain slight choices to win the sixth game — by 6-5 odds if Bouton hurls, 13-10 if Ford goes.

"We can win it out there," insisted Yankee manager Yogi Berra in New York, with a look in his eye that dared you to suggest he may be whistling past a graveyard.

Gas House Gang Types Lead 5-2 Key Triumph

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Gibson and Tim McCarver, a pair of throwbacks to the old Gas House Gang days, supplied the pitching and hitting power Monday when the St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Yankees, 5-2, and gained a 3-2 game lead in the World Series.

Most dramatic of the five games of the 1964 classic so far, the 10-inning struggle was won by the Cardinals when the 22-year-old McCarver hit a three-run homer to snap a 2-2 tie in the 10th. The Yankees, only out away from defeat in the ninth, had tied the score on Tom Tresh's two-run homer.

Gibson, a former Harlem Globetrotter basketball player with a low boiling point, struck out 13 batters in his six-hitter — only two strikeouts short of the single-game mark set by Los Angeles Dodger lefthander Sandy Koufax in the 1963 series against New York.

Ninth Inning Trouble

Throwing blazing fast balls and sliders with only occasional change-ups, Gibson fanned Clete Boyer and pitcher Mel Stottlemyre to get out of a second-inning jam and didn't encounter trouble again until Tresh's ninth-inning homer electrified the crowd of 65,833.

Mickey Mantle opened the ninth by reaching first safely on shortstop Dick Groat's error. Gibson struck out Elston Howard and retired Joe Pepitone on a savage liner back to the mound which he knocked down and recovered in time for the play at first base.

But then Tresh, the most effective Yankee hitter during this series, hit the first pitch into the right field bleachers to tie the score.

Cards Bounce Back

The Cardinals, who won the National League pennant in cliffhanger fashion, came right back to win in the 10th. Bill White walked and moved to second when Ken Boyer bunted safely toward second. White was trapped off second by Howard but made third safely for a stolen base.

White had to hold third as Groat hit into a force play at second but then came McCarver to tee off on relief pitcher Pete Mikkelsen's 3 and 2 pitch and drive it well into the lower right field stands for the game-winning blow.

Gibson started the Cardinals two-run fifth inning rally against Stottlemyre with a one-out single and both he and Curt Flood were safe when second baseman Bobby Richardson fumbled Flood's grounder. Lou Brock singled home one run and the other scored when White hit into a force out with the Yankees narrowly missing the inning-ending double play at first.

Mobeetie Hornets Travel To Play Booker B Team

MOBEETIE—Mobeetie coach Cecil Reynolds admitted that the Hornets would be playing a completely unknown quantity Saturday night when they visit Booker B.

"I really don't know anything about their B team," admitted Reynolds. "I don't even know if they've played a game yet or not. We had an open date and we wanted to stay in shape for district, so we scheduled this one."

"I'll bet on one thing though, that they have speed. Booker always does. These are probably some of the Kiowa reserves, and they did pretty well playing the second half against Groom, scored a touchdown on them, so they'll be tough. After a hard week of work, we ought to be ready... and tough too."

Reynolds indicated displeasure with the Hornets' performance in a lopsided loss to Estelina last week. "There isn't much I can say about that game. If we can come back, we'll still be in the district race, but we have a lot of work ahead of us."

Standout player of the week against Estelina was the "mighty mite," Little Joe Kelley. The quarter-pint halfback played his finest ball game, had we would have flat got both offensively and defensively.

JOE KELLEY... mighty mite

Bufs Back Here, Host MS Tigers

CANYON—Sporting a two-game winning streak, West Texas opens its second three-game home stand of the season Saturday against Memphis State.

Last Saturday's 21-13 win over stubborn North Texas State brought the Buffaloes' record to 2-2, but, more important, it established that fullback Russell Mundy has returned to top form. Huge Russell carried 19 times against the Eagles for 103 yards, including a 26-yard ramble that scored what proved to be the winning touchdown. Mundy's season per carry average jumped to 4.46 on 223 yards in 50 trips.

Memphis State comes into the clash with a 1-2 record, having been upset last Saturday by unbeaten Southern Mississippi, 20-14. The pre-season dopsters had predicted great things for the Tigers, but Ole Miss snapped their 17-game unbeaten streak, 30-0, on opening day, holding the Tigers to a minus seven yards rushing. After taking a week off to lick their wounds, they blanketed Tampa 13-0 before last week's loss.

Memphis is primarily a running team and have gone to the air only when long yardage was needed, however, they've thrown more than usual this year. Despite their 1-2 record the Tigers cannot be taken lightly. Their line, anchored by All-American candidate Harry Schuh, is huge and mobile. They have no less than 11 backfield lettermen, including quarterbacks Olie Cordill and Billy Fletcher. Cordill's 39.6 punting average is among the nation's best.

Memphis State defeated West Texas State, 29-14, last year in the first meeting between the two universities. The Bufs stayed within striking distance until midway in the fourth period, despite being riddled with injuries. The 165 yards the West Texans gained on the ground in that contest was more than any of the Tennesseans' nine other 1963 opponents managed. As a matter of fact, only one other team made more than 93 yards rushing last year against the powerful Tigers.

WTSU played without senior linebacker Charley Daves and sophomore defensive back Ronnie Mankin against North Texas State, but still did an adequate defensive job, holding the Eagles to but 74 yards rushing and seven pass completions in 20 throws. Neither Daves nor Mankin is expected to return this week.

Defensive backs Gene Browning and Dave Shellbarger each picked off enemy aerials and returned them for long yardage. The Buff secondary has permitted only 11 completions in 39 attempts since the Arizona State loss and the defensive unit has held inside its ten yard line five times this year.

The Buffaloes will probably play a more reckless defense against the Tigers than they've used previously in order to stop the Memphis ball-control game which has produced 34 victories and a tie in the last 42 games.

THE IMPOSSIBLE has happened! After two years of struggling in the cellar, Ray Howard has taken the lead among the experts! A fantastic 19 of 21 correct picks last week, including all 11 high school games correctly, and catching everyone in town on the Tulsa-Houston upset (which he picked just to heckle me) puts Ray two games ahead of perennial leader Lucky Holladay, with the rest of us straggling behind. I think the man is determined not to come across with another steak dinner this season! Right now Ray is hitting at a .721 clip, but it can't last... as soon as Texas Tech finds its level, so will Howard.

A MUSCULAR young individual showed up in the press box Friday night and disturbed us poor working stiff's no end as he threatened his former mates, especially his brother, with mayhem if they didn't stop Caprock on every play. Said character, who was thinking of smuggling himself into the game, was Ricky Goodwin, Pampa's all-district line-backer of last year, out of OU.

Ricky, up to 195 pounds and still growing, apologized for not showing up the last time he was home, but explained it as other interests, mainly female. Same interest apparently kept him from showing up at the office next day. Oh well, when they'd rather see girls than their old baseball coach, whaddya gonna do?

The hard-hitting tackle and sure-handed flycatcher reported lots of work among the OU frosh, but no football games as yet. Ricky confirmed Don McCool's report that the OU and OSU frosh will play each other on a Monday next month at Norman (I wish one of these lazy characters would make sure of the date) so the Ol' Swami, Bill Treloggen and Terry Bromlow will head down there to see some of the old gang buck heads. Rick reports that the Sooners are trying him at defensive center and line-backer, which gives him a little trouble because of his comparative lack of size. Bob Patton of McLean was out for the early weeks with an injury, but is back in action and working at fullback, reports Goodwin.

LOOKS LIKE Jocko Neslage won't be the only ex-Harvester at a service academy next year. Buster Collins reports that son Kenny, former PHS and Rebel shortstop, has passed his exams at prep school at Fort Belvoir, Va. and will attend West Point next September.

A BIT OF trouble that I saw coming as early as last year has started cropping up. It's the fact that several of "my schools" are in the same district now and whichever way I go, I'm in trouble. Last year we could root for White Deer unopposed in district play, try to stay neutral between Lefors, McLean and Canadian; (with great difficulty as Lefors always figured I was private property, while Eddie Jay Winadom always threatened me with physical violence when I picked against the Tigers); and sweat out Miami vs. Wheeler (not very successfully as the Mustangs tried to throw me in the shower after the Miami football game, and Mendall Hunter called me up to gloat at 4 a.m. after a basketball win).

This year it looks even rougher. Miami, which has always considered me a native son, and Lefors (whose athletes spend half their lives in my office) are in the same district, as are Wheeler and Groom, which also has strong feelings. Replacing Lefors in A is White Deer, moving down, another community whose coaches and athletes are close personal friends and who feel I better root for them if I know what is good for me. Looks like there isn't much way out except to go prepare myself for a showering worse than the Shocker basketball to me gave me last year or maybe a lynch mob. Milo O'Loughlin called up to find out if I was joining the other Miami letter-winners at Homecoming. I explained that Pampa had a game that night, but that I would make the Lefors-Miami game. Afterwards I realized that it was at Lefors. I hope the Pirates don't believe in lynch law!

LOOKS LIKE Cliff Daniels has conned me into something, namely attending tonight's Pampa Quarterback Club meeting. Frankly, I have avoided Q-Club meetings as much as possible, not because I don't believe in them, but because I cannot attend as a private citizen and Pampa fan. Every time I have attended a meeting, people have cornered me as a sportswriter and asked my professional opinion, especially on subjects that I feel about as an individual, not that I want to write about in my business.

Cliff, a good friend and fellow Pampa Rebel coach, kinda put me on the spot for this one, asking as a personal favor that I attend. I hope people will let me root for Pampa as an individual, because as a sportswriter, I am supposed to be "neutral."

UNHAPPIEST person in the world last Friday night was fellow scribe Tommy Bryant of Amarillo. The wild game caused Tommy to tear up the story he had written four different times as each team came from behind. We warned Tommy the last time not to write that King's field goal had won the game. Pampa was going "to throw the bomb." Tommy looked up indignantly as Griffith scored with the short pass, said "some bomb" and then found to his disgust that he didn't have enough copy paper left to write the story on! Hate to do it to ya, fellas, but we needed that win!

LONGHORNS—Ohio State vaulted into second place and the University of Texas Longhorns solidified their long hold on the top spot today in the United Press International major college football ratings.

The Longhorns and third-ranked Alabama were the only teams in the top 10 to maintain their positions from the previous week's ratings by the 35 coaches on the UPI rating board.

Notre Dame exchanged places with Michigan, moving up to fourth while the Wolverines slipped to fifth. Nebraska advanced from eighth to sixth and Syracuse, the only team with a defeat in the first 10, jumped from 10th to seventh. Both Nebraska and Syracuse are averaging more than 31 points scored per game as is Notre Dame.

The eighth, ninth, and 10th spots were filled by newcomers to the top 10—Georgia Tech, Florida and Arkansas, respectively.

Longhorns Hold First In Ratings

The trio filled places vacated by Illinois, which dropped from second to 14th, Kentucky and UCLA, which fell completely out of the ratings. Mississippi, ranked 14th last week, failed to receive a single vote for the first time since Nov. 12, 1956.

Louisiana State led the second 10 for the second straight week followed closely by surprising Florida State, which clobbered Kentucky 48-6 Saturday and knocked the Wildcats out of seventh place.

Southern California moved up two places to 13th ahead of 14th-ranked Illinois. Five unbeaten teams—Arizona State, No. 15; Oregon, No. 16; Iowa, No. 17; and Wyoming and Duke, tied for 18th—filled the following spots and once-beaten Oregon State was 20th.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International
The University of Texas is No. 1 college football team in the country, but Coach Darrell Royal played the grim oracles Monday and issued dire utterings about next Saturday and Arkansas.

"I feel quite sure they've improved a lot," Royal said. Arkansas finished 5-5 last season. "It will be a tremendous football game."

In Fayetteville Monday, the Razorbacks worked out an hour indoors because it was raining, but coach Frank Broyles said he didn't think that losing a day of full workouts would hurt Arkansas in preparations for the Texas game.

He would not comment on the Texas game except to say, "They're No. 1."

Backs Hurt

The TCU football team ran through a one-hour workout Monday in Fort Worth after watching films of the havoc Texas Tech wreaked upon them Saturday night. Top running backs Jim Fauver and Larry Bulaich were taking their ease with the crutch squad. Fauver sprained an ankle and Bulaich suffered a shoulder separation against Tech. Both are expected to be able to play against Texas A&M this weekend.

In College Station, coach Hank Fouldberg ran his anemic Aggie squad through a limbering-up drill Monday. He spent the rest of the day plotting offense and defense for the TCU game. The Aggies are winless this season.

In Lubbock Monday, Texas Tech worked out under the lights, getting ready for Saturday night's meeting in Waco with Baylor. The Red Raiders watched movies of their romp over TCU and then worked on Baylor offensive and defensive patterns.

Coach Hayden Fry ran the Southern Methodist Mustangs through a light workout for their conference opener Saturday night against Rice. Fry said quarterback Danny Thomas was doing well despite a leg injury and will see limited action against Rice.

Bears Dedicated

In Waco, the Baylor Bears worked out lightly and totaled up the casualty list. Ramsey Muniz's knee was hurt in the year's first game and he will be out of action against Tech. Co-Captains Bobby Maples (game leg) and James Rust (bruised knee) also are expected to be sidelined Saturday.

The Rice Owls watched films of Saturday's loss to Stanford and ran a brisk workout in shorts. Coach Jess Neely said he doubted whether tailback Gene Fleming can start Saturday.

WIND UP EXHIBITIONS

SCRANTON, Pa. (UPI)—The Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association wind up their exhibition season here Tuesday night against the Boston Celtics. The 76ers open the NBA campaign Friday night at Philadelphia's Convention Hall against the Detroit Pistons.

Booker Entertains Miami Homecoming

MIAMI — It's literally a case of "out of the frying pan and into the fire" for the Miami Warriors this weekend as Old Warriors gather together for the Homecoming Game... against undefeated Booker.

The Warriors come off another undefeated team, having just lost their district opener to Darrouzett, and now must face the chief threat to Wheeler's title, the fastest team in the state, which rambled at will over a good Groom team in their opener last week.

Overcast admitted the Warriors will be on the short end of the odds, but guaranteed a 100 percent performance in any case.

"I'm real proud of the team against Darrouzett. When you open up with a 100-yard kickoff return and merely get the other team fired up, there isn't much you can do! I'll say one thing though, we hit them as hard as we've ever hit a body... the only trouble was we had to try to catch them first!"

"They had a well-balanced attack - quickness, size, well-drilled in fundamentals, their fullback Meier just ran over us like a bulldozer. Quarterback Dana Dukes and his little brother Darrell are both real talented, and Clinton Hanshu is as good an end as I've seen."

"We gave 100 percent effort, but it just wasn't enough to match their talent. Tom Gant-ham did a tremendous defensive job, Ken Gill was a stand-out both ways and Lloyd Seitz was the fastest runner on the field... he made the 100-yarder, had another long one called back and ran well all night."

"All I can say about Booker is... we'll show up and we won't have to apologize for it. I know we'll be outmanned and outgunned, but we'll be there, and giving 100 percent."

Anderson Takes Rushing Lead

DALLAS (UPI)—Texas Tech's Donny Anderson wrestled the Southwest Conference rushing leadership away from Texas Christian's Jim Fauver in a head-to-head duel last week, while Texas Aggie Dan McMillan clung to the passing lead, the fastest runner on the yard touchdown run, galloped for 164 yards—best by a conference back since Texas Longhorn Jimmy Saxton's 173 against Southern Methodist in

Would you make these 5 common mistakes in investing?

- Mistake #1: Shoot for the moon. The down-to-earth investor takes a practical view of what he hopes his investment will achieve. His goal may be a second income or growth in the value of his stock as the years fly by. Perhaps he invests for the protection of principal and relative stability of income that bonds often offer. One of the most important first steps you can take is to fix your goal clearly in mind.
- Mistake #2: Invest every cent you can lay your hands on. A wise investment program can brighten your financial future, but of course first things come first. Today's living expenses and a reserve for emergencies have first call on your money. Generally speaking, it's a good rule to consider investing only funds that you don't expect to need in the near future.
- Mistake #3: Put your money on a "can't miss" stock. There's no such thing. It's true that many stocks have grown in value over the years, and more than 500 stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange have paid cash dividends for 25 years or more. But it's a wise investor who considers that stock prices change, for many reasons. Dividends can change, and at times companies may even stop paying them. That's why your cool evaluation of both the risks and rewards can be so important.
- Mistake #4: Leap before you look. If you've worked up a good head of steam about a stock, ease up. Before you invest your money, invest your time in getting facts. One good place to look for information is in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Ask about a company's earnings, dividends, plans that it has announced—and for an opinion about its competitive position and its prospects. Then see what you think. Facts and judgment are the best cure for a heady urge to plunge.
- Mistake #5: Tell yourself any brokerage firm will do. The fact is, you should give thoughtful consideration to your selection. Make sure you feel comfortable with the firm and have confidence in it. Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange have their own characteristics but all are expected to follow Exchange regulations. And Registered Representatives had to meet Exchange requirements for knowledge of their business when they became brokers in Member Firms. They're not infallible. Who is? But they can help you reach important investment decisions and will welcome you.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

What Sort of Peace?

It is to be assumed that all the people in this country — Republicans, Democrats or Independents — want peace. It is therefore not a partisan matter. But since one of the main planks of the Democratic Party platform on which the administration is running for re-election is the "peace plan," it is fair to raise the question as to what sort of peace they are talking about. In fact, in various parts of the world since the end of the Second World War, it would have been, and would still be, fair to ask the question, where is this peace?

In the first place, perhaps, it should be pointed out that any nation can have peace that it wants it — by submitting, by giving in to the opposition. But what sort of peace? We could stop the cold war tomorrow if we wanted to. Then, instead of spending fifty billion dollars a year for defense, we could cut everybody's taxes fifty percent. Of course, we would soon be taken over by the Communists and we would be living under Communism, but we would have peace. But here again, what sort of peace?

Are we to abandon all that foolishness of demanding either liberty or death, and simply demand peace at any price? If so, we no longer deserve to be a free people. But isn't that about the point we've reached?

We achieved peace in Korea by allowing the communists a privileged sanctuary, precisely as we now are doing in South East Asia. We preserved peace in the Caribbean by scrapping the Monroe Doctrine — by allowing Fidel Castro to stay in power and turn once — free Cuba into the Soviet Union's first Latin satellite.

The peace won in Cuba, incidentally, cost hundreds of millions of dollars in American investments in a country that by the late 1950's was moving into a new era of prosperity and firm economic cooperation with the Good Neighbor to the North. France achieved peace in Algeria by abandoning the fruits of 100 years of civilizing effort, by losing farms and stores and industrial installations built through saving and sacrifice. By accepting peace in North Africa as defined by the Communists, that strategic region has been lost to the West. For what, one may now wonder, did American soldiers die in North Africa if it was to be abandoned less than 20 years later?

In Laos, peace was achieved under the formula of Under Secretary of State Averell Harriman, who proposed neutralization of that Southeast Asian country. But the cost added up to depriving the cause of freedom of another bulwark.

On the homefront, peace could be achieved in the big cities of the nation — those troubled with street violence this summer past — by giving in to all the demands of agitators. In Philadelphia, in fact, police authorities, at the beginning of that city's terrible riots, were under orders to preserve the peace by not making arrests. Looters were not molested. Finally, the police were compelled to take action.

This is a lesson the United States and all free countries must learn. There is no real peace without strength and freedom. Peace that is devoid of dignity is an empty thing. If a country seeks peace at any price, it in time will discover that what it gets is the peace of the grave. It should be remembered that Neville Chamberlain, the British prime minister who appeased Hitler, told the people of England that he had achieved "peace in our time." Within two years, fire bombs were falling on British cities.

Yes, we all want peace. But there is only one sure road to peace, and that is to be the strongest, most resolute nation on earth. This is a truth derived from universal experience. The parent who is firm brings up children who are respectful of proper authority. The businessman who refuses to be intimidated is best able to prevent good goods and agitators from disrupting his business. Municipal authorities that insist on law and order provide the best places to live and the most suitable environment for industry. And the nation that stands up for its rights, though risk is involved, is most likely to meet the test of survival in a harsh world.

Unhappily, the lessons of life are ignored by many liberals. We have a new breed of professional peace-monger in the United States. These individuals often urge overnight disarmament and withdrawal from positions of strength. Their phony peace propaganda must be countered by an alert citizenry that time and again hammers home the truth that our national goal is not peace alone, but peace and freedom — peace through strength with dignity and national security.

How Green Is Our Crater?

News comes from Germany that two inventors — Eugen Harsanyi, an Argentine farmer, and Karl Oepen, a West German locksmith — recently tested some "machine-made" grass on a critical group of cows and pigs in Cologne. The animals ate it up.

The inventors say that their apparatus, which they spent two years developing, can grow 10 inches of grass in eight days. All it needs is seeds, special nutritive solutions, electricity and water. Their smallest-size grass-grower replaces one acre of pastureland, they assert.

Why Men Take Risks

To many people, "oil" and "Texas" are almost synonymous words. There's logic in that — the state has produced 36.3 per cent of all this nation's crude.

Another statistic is in order. Last year, oilmen spent $714 million drilling wells in Texas. And dry and worthless holes accounted for $262 million of that sum.

This fact caused the Dallas Morning News to say: "How can any industry risk such great losses? The only possible answer to this question is, of course, that this can be done only if the risk is recognized by government and some offsetting provision made to keep the industry from going broke. 'Depletion allowance' is the name of the offsetting provision which Congress has given

Right now there is only laboratory interest in hydroponic (soil-less) farming, but our crowded, land-short, but still meat-hungry, descendants may well look back and bless the work of men like Harsanyi and Oepen.

And even if things don't get as bad, population-wise, as the statistics promise, if the day ever comes when the cow jumps over the moon (courtesy of a Saturn rocket or its successor), it will be because there's a grass-growing machine waiting for it in a pressurized stable at Lunar City.

The News adds that the allowance is "essential to survival of the oil industry." That is a strong statement, but the figures back it up. The allowance recognizes that men will accept heavy risks only if there are adequate incentives.

National Outlook

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

THE ROLE OF THE SOUTH

Never before in the modern history of the South have the two major parties in the nation fought so hard for the votes of people in this region. Heretofore, Southerners have been neglected because it was assumed that the voters south of the Mason-Dixon Line were captives of one party and would not consider alternative political action.

But this year it is different — and in a big way. It is clearly recognized in the two political headquarters that the South is no one's captive any more. At long last, after many years of exceedingly gradual political awakening, Southerners have come alive to the importance of being independent in their political behavior. As a result of the belated great awakening, the South is being assiduously courted.

Even Sen. Hubert Horatio Humphrey, whose political history is one of total opposition to all that Southerners believe, realized the necessity of going into Dixie and seeking to win friends and influence people. He had his helpers on the local scene, to be sure, for the court-house rings in many places in this region are eager for a continued flow of patronage and other political pottage from Washington. They are deeply alarmed at the conservative movement mushrooming in this region, a movement that signifies the end of an era for those who betray their own people by making a political alliance with the forces of super-statism in America.

It is well that Southerners befooled to Sen. Humphrey and others of a similar persuasion, for there are still many people in the region who don't fully comprehend the blueprint for America that is in the mind of the Humphreys of this nation. However, Sen. Humphrey is very cagey in his political speeches, and he does not expose potential Southern voters to the full dimensions of his activities, neither Moscow nor Washington authorities have the "guts" to tell the full ominous story of what is taking place.

While the two governments have publicly traded strong notes protesting the other's spy activities, neither Moscow nor Washington authorities have the "guts" to tell the full ominous story of what is taking place. Instead of four incidents involving Americans, there have been more than 40 during the past year with nearly half of these occurring in Siberia near the Soviet-China border.

The big mystery in this "spy-on-spy" affair is why President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev and their aides have tacitly tried to keep the lid on the Russians' shocking treatment of U.S. embassy personnel.

The most recent lurid incident in Siberia, where Soviet secret police forcibly entered the hotel rooms of U.S. and British embassy personnel and pushed them around, would never have been published except for a leak to a newspaper in London.

Once the initial details of this strong-arming were in the open, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy, chief foreign policymaker in the White House, hurriedly held a series of backstage conferences and decided to release information about the Siberia incident and make an official protest through diplomatic channels.

On the recommendation of Deputy Undersecretary of State Llewellyn Thompson, the department's chief expert on Russia, the two presidential advisers decided that only a bare minimum of details should be released to the American public to avoid creating an emotional anti-Soviet wave in the U.S.

STRANGE GOINGS-ON — Deputy Undersecretary Thompson, a former ambassador to Moscow, even suggested that Secretary Rusk temporarily restrict the activities of U.S. military attaches and other personnel to avoid further incidents before the presidential election. This extraordinary proposal, now under consideration by Rusk, is being actively opposed by Defense Department intelligence authorities. They are stressing that the only "sure" way the U.S. has of ascertaining first-hand what transpires in certain sections of the Soviet police state is to have military attaches there.

Siberian 'Spy' Reports Only Part of Story Of Harassment of U.S. Embassy Personnel

WASHINGTON — The State Department and the Kremlin are "managing the news" about the harassment and manhandling of U.S. embassy personnel traveling outside of Moscow.

While the two governments have publicly traded strong notes protesting the other's spy activities, neither Moscow nor Washington authorities have the "guts" to tell the full ominous story of what is taking place. Instead of four incidents involving Americans, there have been more than 40 during the past year with nearly half of these occurring in Siberia near the Soviet-China border.

Editor: As this Presidential election comes to the fore, I am reminded of three brief expressions from the pages of American History — old and new. "Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty, or give me death!" —Patrick Henry, March 23, 1775.

"Sir, I would rather be right than President." —Henry Clay, 1848.

"I would rather be dead than Red." —Freedom Patriots, 1945 - ?.

The year of the Presidential election finds our precious freedoms in grave jeopardy. The man to guide us through the perilous seas of our day must have a fixed star of golden values to reckon by. These brief lines from history are sightings to keep us on our goal.

I honestly can't imagine Lyndon Johnson saying any one of these without qualification. These few words from the pages of our American History could easily and without reservation be said by Barry Goldwater, the man I know who can guide us through these rough seas of troubled waters. The Nation's Press

IT'S IN THE CARDS From the Dallas News BASEBALL CARDS are a very serious business for small boys, but not, ordinarily, for many other people. However, these are extraordinary times and a recent ruling by a Federal Trade Commission examiner on the cards vitally concerns all American business and all those who depend on it. The FTC ruling on baseball cards is an alarming example of trade regulation run amok.

The ruling was in the case of a Brooklyn bubble gum manufacturer which has enjoyed success selling gum by packaging it with a card bearing the picture of a major league baseball player. The firm offers players $5 to sign an exclusive contract for picture rights for five years, plus $125 for each year their pictures are used.

NOW BASEBALL cards have been around for a long time, but in recent years the firm, Topps, by showing a lot of the old hustle, has managed to sign up most of the major leaguers. This success led to charges by the less successful that Topps was using improper methods of securing picture rights. The FTC was called in to investigate. After five years of investigation, two years of pretrial testimony and an 8-week trial, the FTC examiner cleared the firm of using any practices that were unfair or improper in signing up players. Furthermore, he acknowledged that the company's success in getting contracts with the players might well be due to the lack of interest, enterprise and alertness on the part of its competitors. Despite these findings, the FTC examiner solemnly concluded that Topps has built up a monopoly and issued an order that would prevent it from signing any professional player to a contract of more than two years. This strange ruling the examiner explained with even stranger logic. By his lights, the firm's contract and the offer that led to each signing were not unfair. However, the sum total, because the firm got so many of the players to sign, was unfair. "If, in the course of time, what has once been equal becomes unequal, remedial measures may become appropriate," he declared.

WHAT THE FTC man has done, actually, is to penalize a company, not because it has competed unfairly or illegally, but because it has competed too well. Because the firm's competitors have not worked hard, its own work is being restricted. The philosophy that lies behind this ruling is, unfortunately, far too popular among bureaucrats who enjoy tinkering with both society and the economy: Because some show no enterprise, penalize those who do; because some do not want to excel, restrict those who do; because some have not developed special skills, hamper those who have; because some prefer to be handed the security of dependence, cripple and harass those who prefer to find their own.

It is a philosophy aimed at achieving equality at a level of uniform mediocrity, with no higher standard than the lowest common denominator. If is a philosophy that offers no incentive, no freedom, no hope. Two million, slightly more than one million voters would have to split their tickets to elect Keating. Nothing like that has ever happened in this state on such a scale. Another idea, often only fudgily articulated, is that it is a mistake ever to underestimate the resourcefulness of a Kennedy. Kennedy's managers, and the candidate himself, know their problems full well. They are hard at new approaches to the difficult matters of identifying him better with New York and casting off the damaging image some have of him as a power-hungry young man eager to hitch the New York wagon to his personal star.

To the crucial Jewish voters, many of whom originally disapproved the late John F. Kennedy but greatly liked his administration, Bob Kennedy's advocates may pose this: "If you approved the late president's administration, how can you now wish to penalize Robert Kennedy, who was at his brother's shoulder, deeply involved in the decisions you liked?" The effectiveness of such approaches as this might be decisive in this most significant of all 1964 U. S. Senate races.

fact Nellie Bly, the pen name of Elizabeth Cochrane, was a U.S. newspaperwoman who made an around-the-world race against a theoretical record, that of Phineas Fogg, hero of Jules Verne's "Around the World in Eighty Days." By using ships, trains, sampans, horses and burros, she completed her trip in 72 days, 6 hours, 11 minutes and 14 seconds. The trip was made in 1889.
