SKY PATTERNS — A special crew of high altitude painters is painting a city water-tower at the intersection of Montagu and Ward-Sts. CAB Probes Plane Crash That Killed 39 in Smoky Mountains

NEWPORT, Tenn. (UPI) — A four-engine Aerialist Viscount apparently erupted into flames in flight Thursday night and plunged its 39 occupants to their deaths in the rugged foothills of the Great Smoky Mountains.

National Guardsmen cordoned off the area while FBI agents and a 12-man team from the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) investigated the possibility of "any federal violation" including a bombing — in the crash.

United Flight 823 from Philadelphia to Huntsville, Ala., crashed into a hillside and burst into flames. Eyewitnesses gave conflicting reports, some said they saw the plane apparently explode in the air, tumbling bodies through the sky while others said they saw the plane, its bottom afire, crash into a hillside and burst into flames.

Aerialist Slips, Falls 40 Feet to Her Death

CHEEKTOGAWA, N.Y. (UPI) — A woman aerialist lost her balance on a high platform and fell to her death Thursday night in a horror-filled climax of a death-defying act she staged with her husband.

There was no net. As the 34-year-old aerialist fell, her body struck a guide wire about 30 feet up but it did not break her fall.

Physicians from the audience worked feverishly to save her but it was to no avail. Doctors at St. Joseph Intercommunity Hospital said she died of a broken neck.

Dear Abby....

You Were Wrong!
It Turned Out Lucky

By ABIGAIL VAN SUREN

DEAR ABBY: I took my four-year-old son and five-month-old daughter downtown to pay some bills. I parked on the street in a shady spot and rolled down the window to keep fresh air in the car. Then I placed the baby on the seat so she couldn't roll off and hurt herself. I left the car unlocked, expecting to be gone only five minutes. I was gone about 15. When I got back, I saw a woman standing beside my car. When I started to get in, she began to lambaste me. Didn't I know about kidnapers? How dare I leave that baby alone? She also pointed out that I had left the keys in the ignition. When she had her say, her friend showed up with a policeman! They had reported me. I know this might have looked bad, but I am a good mother and resent others butting into my business. What is your opinion?

A GOOD MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: The observant woman did you a favor and help yourself. Start over again! Ask your doctor to give you something to discourage your appetite. Then find a picture of a beautifully proportioned man in bathing trunks and tape it on your refrigerator. Once you make up your mind to do it, dieting is a cinch. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: Is it abnormal for a young married couple to want to furnish their own home? My husband and I were married a year ago, and we decided to start out with bare rooms and buy good pieces of furniture one at a time as we could afford them. Our relatives won't let us. I don't want to sound ungrateful, but we have the worst looking collection of unmatched furniture you ever saw. Rugs, lamps, chairs, tables and even pictures relatives thought would fill up the place. We had to act pleased when they gave us these things, but we would rather be without anything than a home cluttered with cast-off monstrosities. How can we tell them?

WILLING TO WAIT
DEAR WILLING: You poor kid! Stuck with a houseful of unmatched furniture instead of nothing! If you really prefer an unfurnished home, start returning the "monstrosities" one by one.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIVING MODERN": Lots of luck, but it might be wise to remember that God has no double standard.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Pampa Pound Pirates Meet

The Pampa Pound Pirates, affiliate of Take Off Pounds Sensibly, met recently in the Citizens Bank Hospitality Room. Seven members were present and two new members were accepted.

Mrs. Leon Brown received the weekly honor for having lost the most weight. It was reported that the club had lost eight pounds and gained one.

A night party was discussed for members and new prospects. The time and place to be announced later.

The group voted to give the July queen an extra gift of a new hair style at the beauty salon of her choosing.

The club meets each Monday at 1 p.m. in the Citizens Bank Hospitality Room and Ladies interested in losing weight are urged to attend.

Political Convention Party Can Be Fun

Whether you're rooting for Lyndon Barry, Bill Nelson, Dick Cabot, or whomever, July and August are sure to be exciting months as both political conventions meet to choose their presidential candidates. The Society of American Florists suggests that you make an informal party out of it in front of your television sets.

Unless you're terribly partisan, invite small groups in on the evenings of both conventions. Otherwise, you have a group in during the convention of your party choice and team up with a friend of the opposite inclination so that she will have the group for that convention.

Since all eyes will be focused on the TV set, don't plan on an elaborate dinner. Plan a buffet with political names such as "Political Ham," "Congressional Corn with Red Herring," "French Fries a la Filibuster," and "Debate-nut Bread." Afterwards, serve "Baby (candy) Kisses" and Espresso coffee.

As the evening draws on, you might want to serve heaping bowls of popcorn along with liquid refreshments.

Requirement Change For Engagement and Wedding Photographs

Starting Monday, July 13, all pictures for engagement announcements should be two inches wide by three inches deep (billfold size). Wedding pictures should be five inches wide by seven inches deep. Deadline for pictures and story information is 3 p.m. Wednesday preceding the Sunday paper in which they are to appear.

Summer Is the Time for Flower And Basket Wizardry Arrangements

Baskets and flowers are unbeatable summer partners, suggests the Society of American Florists. And, because it's easy to make any basket watertight, there is no limit to the size, shape, or weave of baskets that can be used as flower containers.

Interesting and unusual baskets are being imported from all over the world, and most of them bear low price tags. These hand-made creations should spark your imagination to think of clever ways to use them in your house as flower containers.

For baskets that don't have individual liners, use glass jars, tin cans, or plastic containers and add water to keep flowers fresh. You can use crushed chicken wire to hold the flowers securely.

If the basket is shallow or of an unusual shape, cover the sides and bottom with heavy-duty aluminum foil and use a needle holder in the bottom of the basket. Or, you can use a foam flower holder in such baskets. Simply saturate a block of this sponge-like material with water, cover its sides, bottom and top with aluminum foil, place in the basket, and insert flower stems into the holder. This commercial product is available at your retail florist.

By using those tricks of the trade, you can use almost any shape and weave of basket you can find. The rough textures and weaves of baskets are in keeping with the informality of summer living.

Large baskets that normally hold magazines are wonderful for large displays of green foliage such as magnolia leaves, rhododendron, and others. Or empty your sewing basket and arrange in it a grouping of gladioli, bells of Ireland, and asters.

A small basket - purse makes an extra special gift when it's filled with daisies or snapdragons.

House Plants May Be Grown in Water

Most house plants may be grown in water if careful attention is paid to aerating the water, adding fertilizers, regulating acidity, and changing the solution every two or three weeks, says the Society of American Florists.

A few pieces of charcoal will help to keep the water fresh. If green algae form on the roots, wash the roots and change the water, SAF advises.

WTCC Directors Denounce Johnson's War on Poverty

LUBBOCK (UPI)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which represents more than half the counties in Texas, Thursday denounced President Johnson's "war on poverty."

Chamber executive vice president Jack G. Springer said, "we can't see how you can cut taxes and practice economy and continually add costly new programs such as these."

"Our contention is that the problems these bills propose to solve could better be solved by the individual community, county or state."

The statement came at the close of a two-day directors meeting Thursday. The group also discussed the beef imports problem but took no action.

During its meeting, the chamber heard Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges plead for "compliance with the spirit and letter" of the new civil rights bill. The chamber had officially opposed the bill when it was before Congress.

Police Investigate Theft of Car Radio

Theft of a car radio and two hub caps from the Mauldin Motor Company, 737 W. Brown, was being investigated today by police.

Bill Deaton, an employe of the motor company, said the radio and caps were taken from a 1958 model Dodge.

He said the theft apparently occurred sometime Wednesday night.

DON H. BRINSON ... named band director

Brinson Named To Direct Bands

Don H. Brinson has been appointed band director at Pampa Junior High School according to an announcement today by Supt. of Schools Jack Edmondson. Brinson replaces Homer Krueger, who resigned to accept a teaching fellowship and work on his master's degree at the University of Kansas.

Edmondson said that in addition to the junior high directorship, Brinson will also handle the band duties at Baker and Lamar elementary schools.

Brinson is a graduate of DeLeon, Tex., high school, attended Texas Christian University for one year, before transferring to West Texas State where he received his Bachelor of Music Education degree in 1962. He was the drum major for the West Texas State band his senior year.

Immediately following graduation, Brinson served on active duty in the army for two years with the 1st Infantry Division as a first lieutenant. He was in Europe for seven months part of which time was in West Berlin.

Brinson is married and is the father of a two year old son. He was a member of the Pampa school system for four years.

Rogers Addresses Noon Kiwanis Club

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa addressed the Downtown Kiwanis Club at noon today during its regular weekly meeting in First Methodist Church.

Rogers is Democratic candidate for re-election as 18th District Congressman. Introduced at today's meeting was Bill Hayes, Republican candidate for Congressman-at-Large.

Hayes met with supporters at 2 p. m. this afternoon and will journey to Borger tonight for a meeting with some 35 GOP workers.

Man Injured in Car-Train Crash

A car-train collision yesterday afternoon five miles west of Pampa sent a 59-year-old Pampa resident to the hospital and demolished his late model auto.

Listed in good condition at Worley Hospital is Clyde Edmondson, 1345 Dupcan.

Edmondson, a gauger for the Magnolia Pipe Line Co., apparently didn't see the westbound Sante Fe Freight Train. It rammed into the rear of his auto as he drove over the tracks. Edmondson was thrown clear of the wreckage.

The engineer said he was traveling about 15 miles an hour.

Goldwater

(Continued From Page 1) misinformation and lies" said today he favored a campaign document that would help bring victory at the polls and guide GOP officeholders from the president on down.

Goldwater spared Scranton and fired instead at President Johnson's conduct of foreign policy. He criticized the platform hearings and the forthcoming convention keynote address by Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield for not stressing the dangers of communism.

"The administration pretends that communism has so changed that we now can accommodate it," he said. "Our party cannot go the final and fatal step and pretend that it doesn't even exist."

"Freedom, which under Dwight Eisenhower was a great crusade, has become under this administration, a wholly negotiable stack of chips in a game of political expediency," Goldwater said.

Goldwater, who flew into the convention city Thursday, was the big attraction as the platform committee completed its hearings. He appeared after the 13-member executive committee worked through the night on drafts of proposed planks on foreign and national affairs.

In contrast to his rivals in the party, Goldwater barely touched on the subject of civil rights and never mentioned the question of extremist organizations.

War Vet Repudiates Murder Confession

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—A hard-drinking Korean War veteran who claimed he stalked and killed heiress Carol Thompson in a $1 million "murder for hire" plot has repudiated his confession, it was learned today.

Dick W. C. Anderson, in a lengthy, unsigned, handwritten statement, said he killed the 34-year-old mother during a daylight robbery in her fashionable St. Paul home, and not as part of a murder plot.

SNOGGING IN GRAVEYARD

MAULDEN, England (UPI)—Village rector the Rev. Peter Oakley said today he had banned Boy Scout dances because many of the couples ended up in "snogging sessions" in the church graveyard.

ST. LOUIS BLUES

WILLIAM CHRISTOPHER (W.C.) HANDY, the American Negro composer who established the popularity of the blues, was a school teacher in his youth. Though he went blind at 30 he conducted his own orchestra from 1903 to 1921. He wrote "Memphis Blues" in 1911 as an election campaign song for the mayor, Edward H. "Boss" Crump of Memphis. In 1914 he wrote "St. Louis Blues," introducing the "blue" lowered seventh, which became a characteristic of the blues.

Police Hunt Pair In Check Thefts

Pampa police were searching today for two youngsters who apparently stole two checks from a mail box and tried to cash them.

Elmer Fisher, manager of the IGA Food Liner, told police the youngsters, 12 and 14 years of age, tried to cash a check made out to the First National Bank at his store yesterday afternoon. He said when he picked up the telephone to call the bank the youths ran out of the store.

Calvin Lacy, who signed the checks, told police he mailed the one to the bank and another to a Dallas Credit Union early yesterday morning.

Shipping Embargo Will Be Invoked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 20-nation inter-American community is preparing to invoke a trade and shipping embargo of Communist Cuba and call on other nations of the free world to follow its example, authoritative sources said today.

The U. S. government and Latin American diplomatic sources said the collective, mandatory action will be approved by at least 15 and possibly as many as 18 of the nations at a meeting of their foreign ministers, beginning here July 21.

A minimum of 14 votes is necessary to invoke the sanctions under terms of the Rio Treaty, the inter-American mutual defense pact.

Pastor Claims Church Needs 'Face Lifting'

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

There are two sides to the story of "extravagance" in church buildings, says the Rev. Dr. Bryant M. Kirkland, pastor of New York's famed Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Kirkland speaks with some feeling on this subject. His church, which is spending $850,000 on an architectural face-lifting, was cited in an article published recently by the Christian Century magazine as a horrible example of "profligate and irresponsible expenditures by churches."

The Christian Century article was written by Dr. Clyde H. Reid, professor of practical theology at Union Theological Seminary, New York. He said that heavy outlays by churches for statues, stones, carpets and organs is "a sin against hungering humanity" and "alien to the spirit of Christ, who was concerned not with the paraphernalia of religion but with truth."

Dr. Kirkland told UPI he agrees with Prof. Reid that "in the strict moral sense, there has been too much spent" on houses of worship in recent years.

But he said urban churches such as Fifth Avenue Presbyterian are "caught on the horns of a dilemma" for which the Christian Century article "offers no solution."

In order to attract worshippers in this day and age, he said, a big downtown church must keep itself looking spruce and satisfy at least some of the public's demand for such material comforts as air-conditioning, pew cushions, and expensive amplification systems.

He acknowledged that there are some deeply committed Christians in every congregation who would gladly worship in the simplest and most austere surroundings in order to spare every possible dollar for the church's mission.

But, he pointed out, that mission is not only to the "heathen" of distant lands but also to the millions right here in America who have never had a real encounter with the Saving Person whose love the church proclaims.

"Would anyone seriously suggest that healthy downtown churches be closed, sold out, stripped down and rebuilt as simple Quaker meeting houses?" he asked. "Does anyone really wish to see an inter-city church slowly succumb to pigeons and the bats, as its once-grand old sanctuary decays like a human derelict?"

Dr. Kirkland concluded that the moral judgment voiced by Prof. Reid applies not only to ministers and church boards but to "all of us" who live in an increasingly complex urban environment, talking wistfully of simplicity but clinging jealously to our creature comforts.

Foreign Commentary

When the left-wing Italian Socialists of Pietro Nenni joined the Christian Democrats in a center-left government last December the important thing about it was that an important segment of Italian political life was returning to government after being out of it for 15 years.

It lent hope that the cooperation between two previously irreconcilable forces might, at least give stability to Italian governments which since World War II had undergone 24 separate crises.

Further, it represented a break in the close ties between the Nenni Socialists and the Communists whose control of labor frequently had led to crippling strikes and whose voting strength remained a constant threat to Italy's links with the West.

From the beginning it was recognized that the danger to the new government would come from the sharply divergent interests within the coalition — the Christian Democrats on the one hand fearful of mounting inflation and seeking to curb wages and imports, and the Socialists on the other pressing for new wage increases and costly government reforms which only would add to inflation.

The issue which finally brought about the downfall of Premier Aldo Moro's government was a comparatively minor one but behind it were the boiling antagonisms building up on both right and left, and, for Moro, six months of frustration.

With the Socialists abstaining and some of his own Christian Democrats deserting him, Moro lost a bill which would have provided $238,000 in additional aid to private schools, most of them Roman Catholic.

The opposition brought to gether strange political bedfellows, and Neo-Fascists on the left in belounging demands for Moro's resignation.

Moro surprised them by doing just that.

The issue was not important enough to have forced Moro's resignation.

Some said that Moro simply had had enough.

Others held that his action was a political maneuver through which he intended to emerge stronger than ever.

Both leaders continue to believe in the value of their coalition.

Neither seeks the alternative which would be a national election possibly expensive to both.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Many parents are concerned with preparing their children for learning to read. What kind of experiences are helpful? How much should a parent attempt to teach a child?

Learning to read is a complicated process. Words have real meaning when they are describing something with which a child is familiar. A child who was brought up on a farm would have great difficulty understanding the word fire escape or elevator. In the same way, a child raised in the city would have difficulty with words like silo and herd.

This problem is an important area in which parents can be particularly helpful. Children need experiences to which they can refer when learning to read. These can be obtained in many ways, and they do not necessarily involve extensive expenditures of money.

The most common experiences which parents can supply for their children are trips to museums, zoos, parks, beaches, resorts, etc. Family vacation trips to resorts and places of educational interest are generally taken whenever possible.

What other activities are possible? It is important to read stories to a child. While reading, a parent should show him the pictures in the book as they fit into the story. Children should be allowed to browse through magazines or other picture type materials whenever possible. Naturally they should not be given materials before their parents have completed reading them.

Australia has an average of only 3.6 persons per square mile; India has 349.

Church Radio Hams Run Clergy Network

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI) — Catholic priests in New Mexico's far-flung parishes take a coffee break each morning... by shortwave radio.

Church fathers as far apart as 500 miles gossip and discuss common church problems through use of the "clergy network," a chain of 16 "ham" priests.

The clerical radio hams got their start when Father Elmer Neimeyer, formerly in Albuquerque, talked another priest into building a radio set. The two priests began an early morning get-together by radio, and soon other priests throughout the state were interested.

The "network" now includes 16 members who speak to each other daily in a roundtable discussion. The two farthest points are at Tobacco on the Navajo Apache Indian Reservation in the northwest corner of the state and at Roswell in the southeast corner.

Midway in the network is Father James Rabbit at Santa Fe. A priest of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church, Father Rabbit also is the U. S. Military Affiliate Radio Service officer for New Mexico. He built a teletype machine with surplus materials and, at other times, spearheads the clergy network.

What are the topics discussed on the clergy network? In one day's run, it might include these items: an account of Father Robert Garcia of Penasco who is taking flying lessons; words of wisdom to Father Frank Hatton of Santa Fe or Father Art Tafoya of Albuquerque on how to improve their skiing techniques; the discussion of Father Andrew Starichek's latest fishing exploits around his parish at Taos; and a question and answer period directed at Father Arthur Austus's competitive Civil Air Patrol activities at Via Nueva.

The network is used primarily to pass on the much-needed information from parish to parish that is so hard to come by in New Mexico's remote areas. New methods of teaching and other data are the coffee break meat of the clergy network — a modern mission in the nation's oldest area.

Here's How to Figure What Makes Platform

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Just as it is now possible to name the winner of an election before the polls close, so it is possible to describe a political platform before it is built. You can simply take a sampling of key clichés from the Goldwater and Scranton orators, allow an adjustment for Henry Cabot Lodge's views on Viet Nam, put Richard Nixon in the undecided column, and push a button.

The big question before the Republican National Convention is what kind of platform will emerge from the current testimony and speeches at meetings of the resolutions committee. After the civil rights plank is

SERMON TOPIC SET

"Word From The Lord" will be preached at the sermon at the First Christian Church by Rev. Glyn B. Aditt at the 10:50 morning worship hour. The evening service begins at 7 p.m. Youth groups meet at 6 p.m. The Board of Elders and the Official Board will meet Wednesday evening, July 15, for their regular monthly meetings.

sawed and re-sawed, will Goldwater be so choked by sawdust that he will remain silent on the subject? Does Scranton really think they are building a platform or just hammering nails into his coffin? Will Dwight D. Eisenhower continue to let the chips fall where they may?

Platforms are built out of words and phrases and, thanks to the miracles of scientific sampling, your correspondent can tell you all about it. The phrase that will appear most often in the platform is "without fear or favor." It got off to a flying start early Wednesday when Gov. George Romney of Michigan used it twice in a speech to the platform committee. Other speakers picked it up and by sundown it was a clear winner.

There was a fairly tight race for second place, but "free enterprise" won by a nose over "balanced budget." What made it so close was that the National Association of Manufacturers was backing both horses, and George Romney, president of the AFL-CIO who was one of the principal speakers of the day, didn't seem to care for either entry and devoted his time to plugging "minimum wage."

One that is running rather far back but is bound to get into the platform is "just and enduring peace." "Communist conspiracy" can't miss and "forward looking program" has some strength. The years have taken their toll of the old timer "brotherhood of man," and it no longer is in contention, although its grandson, "family of nations," has a fighting chance.

So far as people are concerned, Abraham Lincoln is a sure winner although he is likely to be included in the platform as "the Grand Old Party of Abraham Lincoln." Dwight D. Eisenhower can't miss, but two other Republican presidents definitely are out — Ulysses S. Grant and Warren G. Harding. Theodore Roosevelt was mentioned twice in speeches Wednesday, but William Howard Taft, William McKinley and Calvin Coolidge as of now are gone with the wind.

Almost everybody except professional politicians are cynical about platforms, but there was a mild shock Wednesday when George Romney opened a statement by saying "in recent years party platforms have fallen into disrepute."

Better watch your step, George. Candor will get you nowhere.

CHEAP ROLLS-ROYCE

WIDNES, England (UPI) — Town council members charged today that the city government squandered public money by selling the city's 10-year-old Rolls-Royce limousine to a laboratory worker for only $75.

These public spirited firms are making these weekly messages possible — and join with the ministers of Pampa in hoping that each message will be an inspiration to everyone.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

REV. HENRY VANDERPOOL
FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

This modern age in which we live leaves me breathless at times. For instance, the other day in the city where we were then living, I was called to the hospital early in the morning. When I reached my office much later, a little after ten o'clock in fact, I was reminded that I had been scheduled to bring the daily devotional message over the local radio station at nine o'clock that same morning. Well, that hour had already come and gone. It was too late to do anything about it. I worried for a moment or so about the matter, and then the phone rang. It was a friend thanking me for the message I had brought over the radio an hour before.

I was puzzled for awhile until it dawned on me that I was saved by a tape recorder that day. A few weeks before I had put a little radio message one tape, the people at the station had kept it, and when I failed to show up for the broadcast that morning, they used the recording which I had made. The folks at home were none the wiser, and I learned through this experience that the impossible is made possible by the technical advances we have made in the past half century. Truly in this age one can be in two places at the same time.

This is as it should be for those who claim to be followers of Christ. Our bodies, of course, must be here on earth. But there is something within a man which is not content to dwell on earth. His spirit is ever reaching toward heaven.

Long years ago man devised a means to satisfy this discontent which his spirit feels amid the noise and confusion of life on earth. He began to worship. Worship, he found, brought him real contentment. Worship lifts man up into the presence of Almighty God. At the same time, it keeps a man's feet on the ground, for worship must result in service to his fellow earth creatures, or it isn't worship in the truest sense.

Worship is the only thing I know that can meet man's deepest need. For this reason, worship is not an elective, but a requirement; not a luxury, but a necessity. If you give this serious thought, you will find your way to the church of your choice this Sunday to worship, and then to go out into the world to serve.

Column One

By KARL O'QUINN

That's quite a series going on in Houston now between the Colt 45s and Los Angeles. The Colts are naturally putting their best arms forward. Ken Johnson (7-7) was the choice last night. Tonight it's All-Star Turk Farrell (10-3) and tomorrow night it will be Bob Bruce (9-4). The Bums started rookie Larry Miller last night but the next two hurlers are Sandy Koufax (12-4) and Don Drysdale (11-7). That makes three All-Star pitchers — Farrell, Koufax and Drysdale — on the Colt Stadium mound in two nights. The most amazing thing about the series, though, is that the lowly Colts are battling the World Champion Dodgers for eighth place.

"It looks like they're trying to make an All-Pro quarterback out of me," Don Meredith said recently of the trades made by the Dallas Cowboys in the off season. The Dallas NFL entry obtained ex-Rice great Buddy Dial and former Sooner Tommy McDonald, two of the league's top receivers. If that doesn't make an All-Pro passer out of Meredith nothing will.

I receive reports of Little League and Babe Ruth games on a form which has a space at the bottom for comments from the scorer. On a recent report of a 19-0 runaway, the reporter wrote in this space, "Good ball game."

Nothing like being with a winner. Most of the mail coming into the office now is about football. There has already been one game and the College All-Star tilt is coming up soon. The pros start practicing this week. The Texas High School season opens nine weeks from today. It's getting close to that time of year, and I'm ready. Baseball season is too long, anyway.

Bunker Winner, Orioles Sweep

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD UPI Sports Writer

One and one is adding up to a pennant for the Baltimore Orioles unless a formula is devised to stop their one-run tangent. The Orioles lengthened their American League lead over the second-place Yankees to 3½ games Thursday night by sweeping a pair of one-run decisions from the Cleveland Indians, 4-3 and 2-1. The results left Baltimore with a fantastic 21 victories against only two losses in contests decided by a single tally this season. Boog Powell powered his 22nd and 23rd home runs to account for all the Baltimore runs in the opener while 19-year-old rookie Wally Bunker three-hit the Indians. Rookie Sam Bowers blasted a ninth-inning round tripper to win the nightcap. Bunker's victory was his ninth against two losses. Two of the hits off him were homers by Leon Wagner and rookie Bob Chance. The Orioles trailed 1-0 in the eighth inning of the second game when pinchhitter Bob Johnson doubled off loser Sam McDowell to score Norm Siebern. Reliever Harvey Had-dix was the winner. The Yankees rallied to trip the Senators 6-5, the Tigers topped the Red Sox 4-3, the Twins defeated the A's 2-1 and the Angels blanked the White Sox 3-0 in other American League games. In the National League, the Giants belted the Cubs 9-4, the Mets upset the Cardinals, 4-3, the Phillies tripped the Reds 4-3, the Braves beat the Pirates 11-6 and the Colts stopped the Dodgers 6-5. The Yankees used three walks and singles by Joe Pepitone and Cleve Boyer to break a 3-3 tie with three runs in the eighth inning off loser Claude Osteen. Al Downing (5-2), with relief help from Pete Mikkel-sen, was the winner. Don Lock hit his 12th homer for the Sena-tors. Wickersham Wins 12th The Tigers' Dave Wickersham registered his 12th victory — high in the AL — on a yield of eight hits before being relieved by Larry Sherry with two out in the ninth. Lee Thomas touched Wickersham for two homers, accounting for all the Red Sox runs.

AL All-Star Squad Named

American League All-Star manager Walden Hayes, who piloted Kist to a three-game victory in the Babe Ruth League season just completed, has announced the membership of his team. The American Leaguers will take part in the district tournament which starts here July 20. Hayes picked six of his own players to head the squad — Billy Davis, Rick Foster, Lawrence Jones, Teddy Phillips, Steve Summers and Steve Williams.

He chose four from last-place Pampa Hardware, three from Ideal and two from Lions. The latter two teams tied for second in the final standings. Alfred Brown, Gary Hyatt, Gary Molberg and Ronnie Sanders represent Pampa Hardware. Larry Keyser, Johnny Marsh and Steve Oler are the Ideal players. Dickie Henley and Shelton Moore represent the Lions. Dale Hayes of Kist and Wayne Jones of Pampa Hardware will assist Walden Hayes as coaches. Batboys are Steve Hayes and Bobby Burns of Kist.

SET FOR PHYSICAL NEW YORK (UPI) — Pitcher Bill Wakefield of the New York Mets is scheduled to take his pre-induction service physical examination today and then fly back to New York to rejoin the club in time for its game with the St. Louis Cardinals.

LOT OF BUNK(ER)—Wally Bunker, Oriole pitching sensation, wears a Colonial hat and wig presented to him when the mayor of Baltimore proclaimed the mound at Memorial Stadium Bunker Hill whenever Wally works from there.

Newsmen Eyeing Champagne Tony

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY UPI Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Tony Lema fired his second straight four-under-par 68 today to hold the lead in the British Open golf championship at the end of the third round with a total of 209 — seven strokes ahead of record — tying Jack Nicklaus. Nicklaus, at last finding his touch on the famed old course of St. Andrews, equalled the course record with a six-under-par 66 in the third round to take over second place with a 216 total. The fourth round also was scheduled today, and Nicklaus was just starting out on his fourth circuit when Lema completed his third. Lema concluded his third round by rattling in a 20-foot putt for a birdie three. He had been two strokes over par after the first five holes. But as he went to the sixth hole he heard that Nicklaus had just concluded the first nine in a sizzling 32. Lema immediately banged out five successive threes from the seventh through the 11th holes. He had four birdies on the last nine alone, a total of six in the round.

of England. Defending champion Bob Charles was at 219. Nicklaus started the day nine strokes behind Lema, who had a 36-hole score of 141. As play started Weetman was second behind Lema with a 143, followed by O'Connor and Devlin with 144's and Jean Garaalde of France with 145. All still were on the course. The original field of 120 golfers in the tournament was cut to the low 45 after Thursday's round for the 36-hole final. The 8500 pounds of prize money ($23,500) will be distributed tonight, barring the need for a playoff Saturday. Five of the Americans competing in the tournament survived Thursday's cut and will go on to today's finals.

Dallas Cowboys

Youngest Team

DALLAS (UPI)— If experience is really the best teacher, the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League have barely enrolled in school. The Cowboys, averaging out their experience, are tied for last with the Minnesota Vikings when it comes to battle time spent on the professional turf. Both teams' average experience per player is 3.2 years, compared with the league average of 4.3 years.

Colts Top Umbarger 11-0

By KARL O'QUINN Daily News Sports Editor

Bobby Black stunned the Umbarger Blackhaws with a two-hit shutout and his teammates ran wild on the basepaths to smother the Tri-State League visitors 11-0 last night. Only twice did Price face as many as five batters in an inning and no Blackhawk ever got as far as third. The win pushes Price's record to 3-2 and was his finest effort of the year. The Colts threatened in the second when Jerry Glover doubled and stole third but couldn't score. Royce Harnsberger scored the winning run the next inning. He was safe on an error by the shortstop, moved to third on Merle Terrell's single, and scored on Roy Stephens' fielder's choice, on which Stephens both scored and Terrell stole second. Mike Stewart singled and Gregory also stole home. About this time the Blackhaws were throwing the ball around the infield with wild abandon attempting to catch a runner somewhere, but each time the ball got to the base just slightly behind a Colt.

Terrell was safe on third base — man Jim Glenn's wild throw to first. It was so wild both Clark and Harnsberger scored and Terrell went to third. Kenney Hebert singled to lead off the fifth inning and stole second. He went to third on Glover's fly to center field and stole home when Larry Gregory, who had walked, stole second. Mike Stewart singled and Gregory also stole home. About this time the Blackhaws were throwing the ball around the infield with wild abandon attempting to catch a runner somewhere, but each time the ball got to the base just slightly behind a Colt.

The Colts closed out the scoring with four more in the sixth, enough to end the game on the ten-run rule. Price was safe on another error by the shortstop and came home on Roy Stephens' triple. Hebert walked and Stephens stole home. Hebert stole second and third and loaded home on Gregory's home run to left center field.

In Texas... after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living. Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.
