Senate GOP to Keep Baker Case Alive Platform Committee Asked to Condemn It

Legislators Charge Evidence 'Cover-Up'

By STEVEN GERSTEL
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republicans, charging "concealment and cover-up of evidence," have given notice they do not intend to let the controversial Robert G. (Bobby) Baker affair die during this year's election campaign.
The Republicans issued their charges in a minority report Wednesday as the Democratic-dominated rules committee wound up its seven-month inquiry into the outside business affairs of the former Senate employe.
Terming Baker an "opportunist," the committee conceded that his business dealings while he was secretary to Senate Democrats involved "gross improprieties" and conflicted with his official duties.
A majority report insisted, however, that the panel had no legal right to determine whether Baker actually had violated conflict of interest laws. It said

Public Hearing On School Budget Set for Aug. 20

The 1964-65 budget hearing was set for Thursday, Aug. 20, by the Pampa school board at its regular monthly meeting this forenoon. The public hearing will be at 7:30 p.m. in the school board meeting room at Pampa Junior High School.

Further consideration was given a student accident insurance program for the 1964-65 school term. Pampa insurance agents Joe Fischer, Kay Fancher and Lee Fraser, who represented the Pampa schools insurance association and J. N. Foster and Ott Shewmaker discussed the possibility of instituting the program with the start of the fall term. Under terms of the proposals, students would not be required to have the insurance. The board tabled final action until the next regular meeting on Aug. 13.

On motion of John Gikas, the board voted to request competitive bids from milk suppliers for the coming school year. In making the motion, Gikas said the board could possibly save taxpayers money by requiring yearly bids for milk. In past years the milk has been purchased from suppliers on a rotating basis.

Use of school facilities by private groups was discussed and the board approved the following rental fees:
Classroom rental during school hours — Pampa adult groups for non-school activity: $3 minimum plus $1 an hour over 3 hours. Non-school hours: $3 minimum plus $1 an hour over 3 hours plus $5 janitor fee.

Gymnasiums (excluding field house) — Non-school hours: $10 rental plus minimum $5 janitor fee.
Auditoriums — Secondary schools, $25 rental plus $7.50 janitor fee.
Field house — Same as auditorium rental.

Cafeteria — Banquets: price of meal plus janitor fee. Minimum of $10 plus $10 per 100 persons served. Non-banquet: rental when available same as gymnasiums. School facilities shall not be rented to individuals for personal gain.

Business Manager Homer Craig said that 98.5 per cent of the entire school tax roll had been collected as of July 1. This included 96.4 per cent of current and 2.1 per cent of delinquent taxes, Craig stated.
On motion of Creel Grady, the board voted approval of an $8 per month across the board pay increase to school custodians and their helpers.

In other business, the board voted to increase tuition of ineligible and non-resident students from $20 to $40 a month. Payment of bills and invoices in the amount of $10,075.90 was approved.

CONVENTION BOUND — Area Republicans and Barry Goldwater backers massed at the Santa Fe station in Pampa this morning to give Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fatheree a rousing send-off as they headed for the GOP convention in San Francisco. Mrs. Fatheree is a convention delegate from the 18th Congressional District. Well-wishers presented Mrs. Fatheree with a bouquet of roses, a bottle of AuH2O, and a suitcase covered with Goldwater stickers. Other Pampans who will attend the convention are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Price. They plan to leave Sunday.

Historic Cotton Exchange Bows Out to Controls

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The historic New Orleans Cotton Exchange ended 93 years of trading today with a minute of silence on exchange floors around the country, the sharp rap of a clerk's gavel, and a blast at the federal government.

To other times, generations of men in white tropical suits and long Havana cigars, it would hardly have seemed possible. But the exchange, already shrunk by outside economic forces, says its function has been entirely taken over by government programs.

"We cede our role in the market place to the secretary of agriculture, the cooperatives, and history," said exchange President C. Layton Merritt. Commodity exchanges throughout the country observed a minute of silence at noon to commemorate the passing of the cotton exchange. When that minute was over, the exchange clerk struck his gavel, ending trading.

The exchange will remain in being in hopes that government controls on cotton prices, blamed for the demise, will be relaxed.

Merritt said the minute of silence is intended to focus national attention "on the destruction of our exchange by those who never have understood the problem they seek to correct."
An advertisement by the exchange asking "Where are we headed now, Mr. President?" was to appear today in leading newspapers throughout the nation.

"Under your administration's unique substitute for the free enterprise system, cotton is the first to fall," the ad addresses itself to President Lyndon Johnson. "Will the cotton manufacturing industry follow next, or will it be wheat, corn, beans and all the rest?"

Russia's Latest UN Peace Plan Rejected by U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union's latest proposal for a United Nations peace-keeping force is unacceptable to the United States in its present form, administration officials said today.
While concluding this, officials differed in their assessment of the motives behind the Russian plan and the method in which the administration should handle it.

Some officials felt the suggestion represented a sincere bid by the Kremlin for broad negotiations on this subject which might lead to a compromise solution.
Other State Department officers were inclined to view the long Russian suggestion, unveiled earlier this week, as nothing more than a tactical maneuver designed to place the Soviet Union in a better debating position when the U.N. General Assembly meets this fall.

Police Put Down Racial Disorders

By United Press International
A 30-man police force kept a crowd of angry whites away from eight Negroes leaving a newly integrated movie house at Tuscaloosa, Ala., Wednesday night.

The Negroes were whisked away in taxicabs as the whites, estimated at 200, yelled threats and booted.

Five restaurants earlier refused services to Negroes in Tuscaloosa. A anti-integration pickets paraded outside the establishments.

At Columbia, Tenn., a former sheriff and segregationist candidate for Congress, said Wednesday night a Negro drove up beside his car and shot him in the arm.

The candidate, Flo Fleming, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at Maury County Hospital. Fleming said that if elected to Congress he would do everything possible to "have the civil rights bill amended out of existence."

In Washington, Rep. Donlon W. Edwards, D-Calif., said Wednesday he believed the explosion that ripped the front end of a civil rights house in McComb, Miss., was meant for him.

When Does Girl Become a 'Gal'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — In town today are Goldwater gals and Goldwater girls — and there's a difference.
The gals wear gold felt western style skirts with a fringe, white blouses and white hats. The girls are dressed in blue skirts, white blouses and red sashes.

But more to the point, the Goldwater Committee for President explained that: "Gals are 21 and over." "Girls are younger — 18 to 21."

Man is Swept Over Waterfall, Drowns

SILVERTON, Colo. (UPI) — Hampton Kent Snell, 34, of Austin, Tex., was swept over a waterfall and drowned Wednesday while trying to rescue his wife and son.
Snell was climbing rocks near Beark Creek Falls when his son, Chris, 6, fell into the river. Mrs. Snell, 32, fell in trying to rescue the boy and Snell jumped in to save them.

Snell was swept over the 25-foot falls, apparently struck his head on a rock, and was too dazed to climb out when he landed in the pool below and drowned. Mrs. Snell and the boy made it safely to the bank.

Dry Spell Steps Up Water Usage

Water consumption in Pampa reached the second highest total in history yesterday as water department officials said 7,620,000 gallons were used.
The only day to top yesterday's consumption was a hot summer day in 1955 when a little more than 8 million gallons were pumped.

Ironically, yesterday's total came with the prospect of thundershowers.

The showers missed Pampa, however. Hit-and-skip showers were reported at various points over the Panhandle.

Spearman got 1.59 inches of rain during a severe thunderstorm that spawned a small twister around 3:30 p.m.

The twister dipped to the ground briefly, demolishing a barn.
Dalhart received .55 inches and had the overnight low temperature in the state, 65 degrees.

The rest of the state was hot and dry.

Goldwater Says GOP Will 'Heal Its Wounds' and Win

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, supremely confident the Republicans will hand him their presidential nomination next week, today predicted a GOP election sweep next November — from court house to the White House.

Although he conceded that "we have a tough job ahead of us," the Arizona senator said the Republicans would heal their convention wounds and unite to win a resounding victory over President Johnson.

Goldwater, odds-on favorite to take the GOP nomination from Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, made the remarks in a statement issued by his headquarters here while he was flying to this convention city.

The senator planned to deliver it at San Francisco International Airport where his backers planned a colorful greeting calculated to outdo the welcome accorded to Scranton there Wednesday.

The statement, exuding confidence, said Goldwater was confident a unified Republican party would leave here late next week to "beat Lyndon Baines Johnson and win the presidency of the United States."

"I also know that this is going to be a Republican year all across the country from state house to court house and from Congress to the White House," Goldwater declared.

The Arizona senator sought to heal the breach with supporters of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, his only major rival. He said:

"I know that we are going to come out of this convention united and fighting—not with each other, but with the Johnson administration and its failing foreign policy, its phony fiscal policy and its attempt to spend its way to political power rather than letting this free nation get on with the work of building real jobs to meet the real needs of our people."

"United we will win."

Goldwater, who was due here about 1:20 p.m., PDT, brushed aside popularity polls reporting that President Johnson would have the November election "in his hip pocket."

"Polls do not win elections," he asserted. "People do. There is only one poll that counts—the one that opens on election day for the voters."

Lutherans Approve Civil Disobedience

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Lutheran Church in America (LCA) today approved of civil disobedience as a means of obtaining racial justice.

The action came as delegates approved a seven-point statement on race relations on the last day of the second biennial LCA convention.

Senators Yarborough and Thurmond Engage in Wrestling Bout

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sens. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., wrestled each other to the floor today outside a Senate hearing room.

What began as a playful tugging match turned somewhat more serious as the two grappled to the marble floor of the new Senate office building.

Yarborough was playfully trying to pull Thurmond toward a Senate Commerce Committee hearing room where the committee was prepared to approve the nomination of Leroy Collins as head of the newly created Civil Rights Law Media Agency.

Thurmond had boycotted two previous sessions, thus postponing the approval of Collins for lack of a quorum, and resisted Yarborough.

Thurmond was standing outside the room when Yarborough, a committee member like Thurmond, stroled up. "Come on in, Strom," said

Yarborough, and shook Thurmond's hand. At the same time, he playfully pulled Thurmond toward the hearing room.

Thurmond reacted by pulling Yarborough away from the door.

"I'll make an agreement with you, Ralph," Thurmond said. "If I can keep you out, you won't go in, and if you can drag me in, I'll stay there."

Several reporters and Senate staff workers viewed the tussle. Word was passed into the committee room and Magnuson came out to break it up.

At first, after Thurmond challenged him to a match to see who could hold the other, Yarborough took the whole thing as a joke and shrugged off the challenge.

But Thurmond pressed the issue and Yarborough became more serious. They then took off their jackets.

Thurmond forced Yarborough to the floor and held him there several minutes. He let Yarborough up and the two scuffled some more, shoulder to shoulder. Thurmond then threw Yarborough to the floor again, the Texas senator's head narrowly missing the hard marble surface.

Yarborough remained pinned to the floor for five minutes, occasionally struggling to try to free himself. Thurmond said repeatedly, "Tell me to release you, Ralph, and I will."

Yarborough refused to answer and grimaced occasionally. An aide to Thurmond quietly tried to break up the encounter but Thurmond refused to respond to the aide's warnings that the affair would be publicized.

Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, was a late arrival at the session. He seemed amazed at the goings on and seriously told both men that they were risking heart attacks.

"I'll release him if he wants to be released," Thurmond said.
Yarborough said he was waiting (See SENATORS, Page 3)

Directors to Get College Report

A report on the request for a junior college district in Pampa will be given directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce when they meet in the Pampa Hotel at noon Monday.

The Junior College Committee of the Chamber presented an oral request before the State Board of Education in Austin Monday for a junior college district in Pampa.

Creation of the district would pave the way for a county wide election to determine if the voters want a college here.

The results of the request will not be known until a committee appointed by the board investigates the need for a college here.

Part of the investigation will consist of a public hearing to be held in Pampa.

Ohio Delegates May Be Released

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Gov. James A. Rhodes announced today he is "seriously considering" releasing Ohio's 38 delegates to the Republican National Convention. The delegation is presently pledged to him as a favorite son candidate.

Rhodes' release of the delegates would mean that Sen. Barry Goldwater's vote total on the first ballot at the GOP convention could be increased by some 35 to 40 Ohio votes.

KILLED IN CRASH

DALLAS (UPI)—Two automobiles collided head-on early today on the South Central Expressway, killing one person and injuring three others. Killed was Robert Rogers, 30. His death was the 47th traffic fatality of the year in Dallas.

Half of Cotton Applications Come From Texas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department has received 10,189 applications under the export acreage provisions of the 1964 cotton program, about half from Texas.

The applications represent 87,737 acres. Texas reported the largest number of applicants with 5,704 and the most acreage with 41,402.

California was second with 1,838 applicants representing 39,533 acres. California export acreage represented 2.6 percent of the state allotment, by far the largest percentage reported.

The new law provides for export market acreage in addition to the effective farm allotment, when this additional acreage will not interfere with reducing the carryover by at least one million bales a year.

For 1964, the export acreage was set at 5 percent of the effective allotment. The export acreage production must be exported, and neither support price nor export payments will be available for this cotton.

ing for his "second wind." Magnuson then opened the door and came outside.

"Come on, let's break this up," he said sternly.

"We're just good friends," Thurmond answered. "We have a mutual agreement."

Thurmond then released Yarborough.

Thurmond subsequently went into the hearing room after seeing a quorum was present without him. After the session, Thurmond and Yarborough appeared together in the hall and appeared amiable.

Yarborough, who supports a relatively large punch, weighs about 190 pounds. Thurmond seemed about 10 or 15 pounds lighter but in considerably trimmer shape and obviously proud of it.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

CABIN CREEK, Colo. (UPI)—Clarence Alvin Fish, 54, of Eldorado, Tex., was run over and killed by a wheat combine Wednesday in a field 10 miles north of Cabin Creek. Fish, working with a combine crew from Eldorado, had crawled under the machine to start the engine.

Ike Is Employed By ABC to Help T-V Newscasters

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is keeping silent on his choice for the GOP presidential nomination, will do a lot of talking on television when the Republican convention opens next week.

Eisenhower has been hired by the American Broadcasting Company as a "consultant" to comment on top news developments throughout the five days of the convention.

Millions of viewers will see him holding informal chats with his former press secretary, James C. Hagerty, now vice president of corporate relations for American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc., and William H. Lawrence, the political editor of ABC news.

Eisenhower wants no part of the label "commentator" to describe his role and ABC officials are shying away from calling it that.

He will be broadcasting from a specially built studio 25 paces down the corridor from his gold and white presidential suite on the sixth floor of the St. Francis Hotel in downtown San Francisco.

The walnut paneled studio will be equipped with a large screen, television monitors showing Eisenhower what is happening at three different convention places at once, teletypes and an adjoining news room.

He will be addressed as "general" and will be cut in on camera from time to time for his "spontaneous comments."

"Now you just know half the time I'll be calling him Mr. President," said Hagerty.

He added that his former boss is "looking forward" to his broadcasting stint and, as it stands now, "we'll be playing it by ear."

Eisenhower's salary for his appearances was rumored to be $200,000, but ABC sources say it is closer to $50,000.

Cotton Planting Down Slightly Over 1963 Crop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reported today farmers have planted 14,754,000 acres of cotton this year, down .6 per cent from last year.

Estimated planted acreage in Texas for 1964 was 6,175,000, down from last year's 6,225,000. The department is forbidden by law to make a cotton production estimate until later in the season. But if yields average 500 pounds of lint per planted acre—a bale an acre—the planted acreage would produce about 14,754,000 bales.

Last year farmers produced 15,327,000 bales from 14,843,000 acres planted. Of this, 14,212,000 acres were harvested.

Yields last year averaged 494 pounds per planted acre. Five year averages were 418 pounds. Yields per harvested acre last year were 516 pounds per acre.

In Oklahoma 1964 acreage was 620,000, same as last year; in New Mexico 196,000, down from 204,000 last year; in Louisiana 535,000, unchanged from last year and in Arkansas 1,270,000 up slightly from 1,269,000 last year.

Included in today's estimates were 109,800 acres planted to extra-long staple American-Egyptian cotton. Growers planted 143,800 acres of the long staple cotton last year.

Texas had 39,000 acres of American-Egyptian cotton planted; New Mexico 22,000; Arizona 48,000; and California 800.

The board said although cool weather during March and April delayed planting in South Texas, May and June weather was favorable and the crop has made good progress. In Northwest Texas, late May rains restored surface soil moisture and planting moved forward rapidly. The crop was making good progress in late June.

UPI STAFFER INJURED
SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Steve Smilanich, intermountain sports editor for United Press International, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Latter Day Saint's Hospital where he was treated for serious burns.

A fluid Smilanich was using to ignite barbecue charcoal exploded Wednesday night and set fire to his clothing. He was burned seriously on the back, arms and back of his head.

Quint's Parents Expecting Again

ABERDEEN, S.D. (UPI) — The quint's—James Andrew, Mary Margaret, Mary Ann, Mary Catherine and Mary Magdalene—were born at St. Luke's Hospital Sept. 14, 1963. A spokesman for the Fischers refused to confirm or deny the report of Mrs. Fischer's pregnancy.

The Aberdeen American-News said Tuesday that Mrs. Fischer has said no formal announcement would be made, but that "everybody knows it anyway."

SEEK STOLEN GOODS

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Police today sought thieves who stole more than $13,000 worth of furs and jewels from the motel room of singer Della Reese.

Miss Reese, here for a week's engagement at a downtown night-club, told officers she discovered the theft when she returned to her room early Monday.

She said the burglars took three coats valued at $7,500 and jewelry worth at least $5,500.

HORRIBLE EXAMPLE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Nadine Roland's case may be valuable in driver instruction—as a horrible example.

The 23-year-old Oxnard, Calif. beautician was cited for speeding July 4th in four communities within a four-hour period and topped it off by being arrested here for making an illegal U-turn and driving 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. She was booked and jailed, but freed on $200 bond to await trial.

Myrtle The Elephant Goes Back to Owner

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI)—Myrtle the fan-dancing elephant plodded out of her circus home and into the startled rush-hour traffic.

She was backed up by the full majesty of the law—in the form of a court order, a determined Indian animal trainer, a fed-up lady trapeze artist with a nightstick, and a knot of policemen with a dog.

The curious little band trooped through the traffic for six miles to the circle C ranch. Myrtle stopped twice at gas stations to fill up—with water.

And in a playful moment, she gave one of her police escorts a free shower.

Otherwise, the whole trip was quiet, the climax of a story that started 17 years ago in India with a young man who dreamed of becoming another "Sabu" and wound up as something of a "big top lawyer."

wami Arumi Singh, 38, who came to America with the B.C. Davenport circus in 1947, he said, because he was told he could be another movie star, like "Sabu the elephant boy."

But all he got out of it was a $3-a-day job and loneliness. He had to leave his family in Venezuela when they toured there because he didn't have enough money to buy them return tickets.

Monday night he got fed up and left. But Tuesday he was back to get Myrtle. The circus gave him ownership of the elephant in 1956 in place of back pay.

Myrtle, fighting a three-ton weight problem, can clasp a fan in her trunk and do a two-step called the "Sally Rand fan dance." She can also do a ponderous twist.

When the circus refused to hand the elephant over, Singh trooped down to the Shawnee county sheriff's office with the papers showing he owned her. The sheriff's deputy who returned with him made no impression, so Singh went to Shawnee county district court and obtained a court order enabling him to retrieve his elephant.

And back to the circus he went, with a writ of replevin, five policemen, one police dog, and Pat Wyatt, a trapeze artist who also quit because of the pay.

"I got tired of working for $2 or $3 a day," she said.

This time there was no trouble, and the group started out on their 90 minute trek, with traffic snarling around them and motorists gawking and honking.

Miss Wyatt borrowed a policeman's nightstick to guide Myrtle along.

Now Singh is looking for any "elephant wanted" ads so he can earn money to get his family back from Venezuela. And maybe even still become a movie star.

"I did not lose hope," he says.

JEALOUS WIVES

SHEFFIELD, England (UPI)—Dolores Radford, 24, back from four years as a children's nurse in New York and Los Angeles, said she wouldn't recommend it to others because "American wives are awfully jealous."

"If you start talking to the man of the house more than the woman, you get venomous looks. It is almost as fatal to joke with the men," she said.

Florence MacMichael, Mrs. Kirkwood on "Mister Ed," teaches drama in Sierra Madre, Calif., where she makes her home.

San Francisco Holds Lots of Temptations

By HARRY FERGUSON
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There is a four-hour period between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. when the saloons here closed down. It is a strange interlude in the normal life of the city, and at 2:30 a.m. yesterday a man stood beside the Spanish-American War monument in Union Square and nominated William McKinley for president.

One of the charms of San Francisco is that nobody heckled the speaker or reminded him McKinley was dead. After all, the small but attentive audience had nothing better to do until 6 a.m.

It is difficult to see how the Republican National Convention ever will be able to assemble a quorum in the Cow Palace, which is six and a half miles from the center of the city. The streets of downtown San Francisco are enchanted lanes strewn with the roses of temptation. Or, if you prefer to cut out the poetry, the town has 1,200 saloons. Confronted with a choice of listening to a political speech in the Cow Palace or dipping into the downtown fleshpots, many a delegate is going to play hookey at least once.

Another vital statistic on the way of life in San Francisco is that there are 1,205 off-sale liquor licenses in effect. That means places where you can buy a bottle and carry it away. Liquor is for sale at newsstands, drug stores, grocery stores, shoeshine parlors and hotel lobbies.

Forty-eight counties in California produce wine on a total of 477,000 vineyard acres. The restaurants already are filled with delegates who are learning to look fondly upon the abalone steaks when they are hot and white wine when it is cold.

One of the features of any political convention is the caucus. This is a gathering of delegates to discuss in private whether they still stick with their favorite son past the first ballot or plump immediately for Goldwater. There is no rule as to when or where a caucus shall be held, and there is a definite trend here to hold them after midnight in such places as Bimbo's 365 club.

Several caucuses were in progress at Bimbo's the other night when Miss Rosalie Kephart and Miss Mernon Pender made their entrance with escorts. The girls are models and, in their official capacity, naturally keep up with the latest trends in haute couture.

The latest trend is the evening dress with the transparent top and Miss Kephart and Miss Pender were definitely in style. In other words, there was just this transparent material and then them. A silence descended on the delegates in caucus assembled and then one of them spoke for all: "You see the damndest things in this town, don't you?"

Sombody, in his infinite wisdom, has ruled that no alcoholic beverages can be sold on the premises of the Cow Palace. This may have averted the worst disaster in the Republican party since Alf Landon carried only Maine and Vermont when he ran against Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936.

Primary Election Official Indicted

LUFKIN, Tex. (UPI)—An Angeline county election official was accused of deliberately falsifying ballots in the June 6 Democratic primary election by the county grand jury.

The official was not identified, presumably pending his arrest.

Six felony indictments against the official were returned by the grand jury, in response to complaints by Sheriff Leon Jones, who is contesting nine votes in his defeat for the Democratic nomination by Burl McBride. Jones lost by one vote out of a total 12,000 cast.

Two voters, Ernest Bartlett Jr. and Mrs. Kirby Lowery Jr., testified their ballots had been changed by someone after they were cast.

Bartlett said erasures had been made in his ballot, and new marks made, to change his vote from Jones to McBride. Dist. Judge Jack Pierce had the ballot and stub brought into court.

New Teen Cookbook 'Teena In Kitchen'

TEEN COOKS who enjoy entertaining their friends will welcome the recipe for Mocha Squares. It is one of more than 40 reputation-building recipes contained in a new "Teena in the Kitchen" cookbook now available from Imperial Sugar Company. Miss Janice Ray Butcher, right, is shown serving Mocha Squares to Len Mills, left, and Carla Goodman of Rosemead, Calif.

Young ladies from 12 to 20 are giving more parties these days than ever before. Along with the planning, always comes the question of what to serve.

Last summer 300,000 youngsters received copies of "My First Cookbook" from Imperial Sugar Company. This was an excellent response and the incoming mail alone filled a room. Encouraged by such response, we quickly developed a new cookbook especially for teenagers — it's called "Teena in the Kitchen".

Over 40 recipes for teen cooks' own specialties have been collected into a new "Teena in the Kitchen" cookbook. For the young woman who wants to surprise the family or entertain her friends, it offers many delicious food ideas.

More than sweets alone, the recipes range from cakes and frostings, breads, candies, cookies, desserts and sauces, main dishes, pies, to snacks. "Teena in the Kitchen with her Friends' Best Recipes" also features practical cooking hints and pointers on party-giving.

Anyone who wants to be creative about food will want to receive "Teena in the Kitchen".

A copy may be obtained by sending the red "pure cane" block from an empty bag or carton of Imperial Sugar to: Imperial Sugar, Department P, Sugar Land, Texas.

One unusually tempting cookie recipe from "Teena in the Kitchen" is called "Mocha Squares." The bars are covered with a simple browned butter frosting then garnished with walnut halves. Try them while waiting for your copy of the cookbook.

MOCHA SQUARES
3 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate
2 tablespoons instant coffee powder
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup soft shortening
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
2 cups Imperial Granulated Sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 eggs
1 1/2 cups chopped walnuts
Walnut halves

FIRST: Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease and flour the bottom of 13" x 9" x 2" pan. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler; stir in instant coffee; set aside to cool.

SECOND: Sift together cake flour, baking powder, and salt. In mixing bowl, cream shortening and butter. Gradually add Imperial Granulated Sugar. Beat till fluffy. Add vanilla and eggs; beat well. Blend in coffee mixture, sifted ingredients and chopped walnuts; stir well.

THIRD: Spread in prepared pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 35 to 40 minutes. Cool. Spread with Browned Butter Frosting and mark off squares. Place walnut half in center of each. When frosting is set, cut into squares. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen.

BROWNED BUTTER FROSTING
Slowly heat 1/4 cup butter in small saucepan till light brown and bubbly. (Do not scorch.) Beat in 3 cups sifted Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar, 3 tablespoons cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Wash grease-stained walls thoroughly and apply liquid wax when the wall is dry to prevent grease from showing through.

Bologna Kabobs: 'In' With Teens

Teen-agers report barbecue parties during the summer are "in"; indoor meals are "out." Judging from the teen-age set we know, bologna kabobs are very much "in."

ZIPPY BARBECUE SAUCE
(2 cups)
1/4 c. chopped celery
1/4 c. chopped onion
2 T. salad oil
1 c. (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
1/4 c. water
2 t. prepared mustard
1 t. horseradish
1 t. honey
1 t. lemon juice

In saucepan, cook celery and onion in oil until tender. Add remaining ingredients; simmer about 10 minutes, stirring now and then.

OUTDOOR COOKING BOLOGNA KABOBS
(4 servings)
Prepare sauce as above to use on following:

"IN" WITH TEENS: bologna kabobs.

kabobs on grill about 5 inches above glowing coals. Cook 15 minutes, turning often. Cook about 15 minutes longer or until desired doneness, brushing with sauce and turning frequently. Heat remaining sauce and serve with kabobs.

Wrap each cube bologna with 1/2 slice bacon. Make 4 kabobs by alternating on each skewer: 4 cubes bologna, 4 pieces green pepper, and 2 onions. Place

Grape Hollandise For Fish Steaks

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Advanced grape technology makes possible the increase in size of the modern Thompson seedless grapes just now arriving in our markets.

These fragrant and sweet golden-green grapes from California vineyards are delicious eaten out-of-hand and also can be used as ingredients in many gourmet dishes.

BROILED FISH STEAKS WITH GRAPE HOLLANDAISE SAUCE
(4 servings)

4 fish steaks (salmon, halibut or sword fish) cut 3/4-inch thick
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Grape Hollandaise Sauce
Wipe fish with a damp cloth. Combine salt and black pepper and rub over both sides of fish. Blend lemon juice with melted butter or margarine and brush over both sides of fish. Arrange on an oiled, foil-covered broiler rack. Turn up edges to hold in juices. Place under a preheated broiler 4 inches from the source of heat. Broil 10 to 16 minutes or until fish is flaky, turning and brushing once with lemon butter. Serve with Grape Hollandaise Sauce.

GRAPE HOLLANDAISE SAUCE
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
2 large egg yolks, beaten lightly
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
Dash cayenne
Dash salt
1/4 cup Thompson Seedless grapes
Divide butter or margarine into two parts. Place one part in the top of a double boiler. Add egg yolks and lemon juice. Place over hot water (not boiling) and beat constantly with a wire whisk until butter has melted. Add the remaining piece of butter and mix until melted. Stir and cook until thickened. (The water in the lower part of the double boiler must not boil.) Remove sauce from heat. Stir in cayenne, salt and grapes. Serve at once over fish steaks. If margarine is used omit salt.

Sugar By Other Name Still Sugar

Q — I get confused by the various names used on cartons of sugar on my supermarket shelves. Will you please explain what they actually mean? — Miss C.Z.

A — As a rule, you will find five or six different types of sugar available. Each type has a particular use.
Granulated sugar. This white sugar finds all-purpose use in most cooking and at the table. Superfine, verifine, or fancifine sugar. This specially screened, uniformly fine-granulated sugar dissolves quickly and is designed for special use in drinks, in cakes, and other uses where quick dispersion through a mixture is desirable.

Confectioners' sugar. Confectioners' sugar usually contains a small amount of cornstarch to prevent caking. It is granulated sugar, crushed and screened to the fineness desired for uncooked frostings. It is also used in icings, uncooked candies and for dusting pastries, doughnuts and such.
Brown sugar. This product contains varying quantities of molasses, which impart the characteristic color and flavor. Light brown sugar is mild in flavor and is used in baked goods, frostings, toppings and candy. Dark brown sugar has a more intense flavor and color that may be desirable in gingerbread, baked beans, glazed ham and other full-flavored foods.
Sugar tablets or cubes. Tablets or cubes are premeasured and ready to use in hot beverages. They cost more than granulated sugar.

Times have changed. The '20s flapper (left) wore a dark, protective wool suit, avoided the water and tried to stay as pale as possible. A peckaboo tan was considered smart and racy, but where did she get it? There is no question about where the wearer of the modified bikini (right) will tan. However, she avoids painful, aging sunburn by smooching on a sun-screening lotion. She can select it in three levels of sun-screening strength for a light, medium or dark tan. The bathing suits are by Catalina.

Lotions Check Burning

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As you tingle, smart and chill from a bad sunburn, take solace in the fact that your sun worshipping has ancient roots. It dates, in fact, from ancient Egypt where a principal deity was Ra, the sun god.

As much as we worship the sun and the feeling of well-being it can bring, remember that the sun is a sly trickster that needs constant minding.

Fortunately, some caution and proper use of lotions with special sunscreens and moisturizers cut down considerably on possible burning.

One firm (Jacqueline Cochran) offers a suntan lotion for three different levels of tanning—light, medium or dark—depending upon the amount of screening agent in the lotion.

To get the most from your suntan lotion, apply it at least once an hour during exposure. Repeat after each swim or if you perspire freely.

Your approach to acquiring a tan is as important as the lotion you use. Here are some sunning rules:

Sun only a few minutes a day each day for the first week you begin your outdoor activity.

Play it safe. Sun before 10 a.m. or after 4 p.m. when the burning rays are less strong. Find a cool spot during midday.

The fairer your skin, the shorter your exposure time should be.

Use lip pomade, wear sun glasses and cover your head with a scarf or hat.

If you do stay out for long periods, after a short time slip into a terry or cotton beach shift, slacks and long-sleeved blouse or jacket for additional protection.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Receives Citations and Loving Cup

Ladies Auxiliary to Pampa Post 1657, Veterans of Foreign Wars, met Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

The meeting, conducted by Mrs. Tony Smith, president, was opened with the color bearers securing and presenting the colors. Mrs. Carl Wright, patriotic instructor, gave her charge and members saluted and gave the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Leslie Henderson, chaplain, offered the opening prayer and gave the chaplain's report. A motion was approved to make a contribution to the Department of Texas Presidents special project for the year. The project this year is the have sacred music piped to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Memorial Chapel at Austin.

Mrs. Emmett Gee, past secretary of the local Auxiliary, received a gift of appreciation from Priscilla Webb, Department of Texas secretary, for having the best reports from District Nine. Pampa Auxiliary received a gold loving cup for meeting all honor roll requirements and citations were received for meeting the membership quota and for community service projects.

Mrs. O. F. Kreimeyer, past president, was awarded a personal citation for submitting a scrapbook on community service and projects, one of five such citations awarded in the state. Pampa VFW Post No. 1657 also won an award on community service.

Mrs. Lloyd Laramore and Mrs. Kreimeyer reported on the VFW State Convention which was held in Dallas in June. Meeting closed with the retiring of the colors.

Mmes. Jesse Beard, George Benham, K. O. Butler, Jess Hatcher, Leslie Henderson, Nora Houston, May Muse, Vernon Stuckey, Carl M. Wright, Frank Yates, Kreimeyer, Laramore and Smith attended.

July 21, 7:30 p.m. is the date for the next meeting to be held at the VFW Hall.

POLLY'S POINTERS

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—Upon completing arrangements to move to a new location, I contact a fast-service printer for name and address stickers. I have them printed with the new address and send one or two with a note to all who should have them. They can paste this over the old address in their address books or files. It is much easier, quicker and neater than having to cross out and write in the new information.

—A. S. G.

DEAR POLLY—As I really enjoy all the helpful hints I felt that my mother who lives in Michigan and my sister who lives in Nebraska would also find the column helpful. I cut out the columns and send them to both mom and sis once a week. They, too, really enjoy them and join me in thanking you. Maybe some other readers will do the same thing after reading this letter if they have folks and friends living elsewhere.

—MRS. V. M. M.

Thank you Mrs. V. M. M. We do like to circulate. Quite a few readers say they do this round robin sort of thing with the column.

—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Summer vacations are upon us, so perhaps this will help those taking small children on long car trips. I take my television trays off their stands and put one for each child in the car. The tray serves as a desk and keeps crayon, books and so on from falling to the floor each time a corner is turned or a sudden stop is made. They are also wonderful for catching cookie and cracker crumbs.

—MAXINE

DEAR POLLY—One of the handiest things for holding a quantity of crack filler when patching walls is a saucepan lid. The knob makes it easy to hold and turns the shallow dish-like cover into a palette.

—ANNA

DEAR POLLY—In times of death or sudden illness, friends often wonder what they can do to help. Mine is a list of some of the things our wonderful friends did when we suffered a sudden loss.

One drove me to town for some necessary shopping. Another stayed at our home to be with the children and take any phone calls that came. Still another raked the falling leaves and tidied up the yard. A friend who is not too well herself asked to do our extra linens in her washer-dryer. Another pressed clothes, cleaned and shined the family's shoes. Of course, there were the many, many welcome gifts of food, all prepared and ready to serve.

RUTH MILLETT

"When you have just moved into a new town and neighbors whom you have met on the street or at church casually say, 'Why don't you drop by sometime?' do they really mean it?" a reader asks.

She and her husband have moved to a new town, in a new section of the country. They have met a number of couples they would like to get to know—but in each case the invitation extended is, "Come and see us sometime"—or something else just as vague.

"Do they really mean they want us to call?" she asks. "If they do—then we'd like to call. But we don't want to seem to be trying to push our way in where we may not be wanted."

This reader's puzzlement over what is really meant by the vague "come by and see us sometime" ought to make us take stock of that meaningless phrase.

Actually, it doesn't mean anything at all, does it? It's just our lazy way of avoiding the effort that follows a real invitation to hospitality. And yet it eases our consciences. After all, we tell ourselves, we were cordial. We asked them to come by "sometime."

Yet we don't really expect the invitation to be accepted. The person who receives it at least suspects we may not mean it to be taken seriously.

So why don't we drop it once and for all? If we want to get to know a couple we've just met, let's quit stalling with vague invitations and make our invitations definite.

If we don't care if we never see them again, let's just drop the "come over sometime" routine.

It's extremely discourteous to leave people wondering whether you really meant your invitation and want them to accept it.

because they can't get the man they want, and will settle for none other. Others have families to support. There is probably not one unmarried woman who hasn't turned down at least one chance to marry. Why, then, do so many married women who are married to beasts get a smug satisfaction out of calling their unmarried friends "old maids"? I would like your comments, please.

—MARIE

DEAR MARIE: The term "old maid" is not always intended as a slur. It can be used with gentleness and understanding. And self-sufficient women, unmarried by choice, probably couldn't care less. But I agree with you—when its connotations are cruel, those using the term should be ashamed of themselves.

Rose Society Has Guest Speaker

Pampa Rose Society met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, 2208 Aspen with the president, Cecil Collum, presiding.

Mrs. Thelma Bray, guest speaker, presented an interesting talk, entitled "Arranging Roses for Exhibits," using roses from member's gardens to illustrate and classify roses as to kind and color for show. She also pointed out the requirements for entry in a rose show and touched on the subject of flower arranging. Mrs. Glenn Radcliff gave "This Month In Our Rose Garden."

Welcomed as new members were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walker.

Coffee and cake was served during the social hour with Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Adair assisting with hosts duties.

Next regular meeting of the Society will be at 7:30 p.m., June 21 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Boynton.

Take It From Kathy Lose Yourself In Your Work

By KATHY PETERSON

Dear Kathy: My boy friend and I broke up about a month ago. He is dating other girls and it breaks my heart to see them together. I've tried dating other boys but I just don't feel the same about them. It's serious to say you're in love and I don't believe I am. Fifteen is an early age to think seriously but I can't forget him no matter how hard I try.—Can it be love? —Broken-hearted.

Dear Broken-hearted: Throughout our lives, whenever we lose something familiar or leave a familiar place, we feel regret. Separating from people we're fond of is a bigger emotional tug. You'd be less than human if you weren't sad but don't mistake loneliness for love.

Purposely plan to keep yourself so busy that you haven't time for anything except looking forward to what comes next. It's the only way I know to make yesterday's love just one of a stream of memories rather than today's heartbreak.

There's always a chance he'll get lonesome for you, but don't keep hoping or you'll hang onto that broken heart for a long, long time.

Requirement Change For Engagement and Wedding Photographs
Starting Monday, July 13, all pictures for engagement announcements should be two inches wide by three inches deep (billfold size). Wedding pictures should be five inches wide by seven inches deep. ## Chevrolet dealers sell more cars than anybody Because they sell great cars

Chevrolet Impala Sport Coupe

Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Chevy II Nova Sport Coupe

Corvair Monza Club Coupe

Chevrolet has brought a whole new kind of excitement to everyday driving this year. It's a fifty-yard-line, ten-rows-up kind of excitement.

And whether you're cushioned in the bucket seat of a luxurious Chevrolet Impala Super Sport or behind the wheel of the surprisingly roomy Chevelle, you'll feel it.

Whether you're gobbling up a hill in a thrifty Chevy II or making tracks on a sandy beach with the rear-engined Corvair, you'll feel it. Whether you're just looking at a Corvette or kicking CHEVROLET up some dust with one, you'll feel it.

Altogether you've got five different kinds of cars and up to 45 different models to choose from. And each one is looking even more attractive as the '64 car-year closes out.

You couldn't pick a better time to build on the model you like either, for behind each one is a list of special Chevrolet options as long as your arm.

So stop in at your Chevrolet dealer's now and see what all the excitement is about. Get behind the wheel of America's most popular car. Or all five wheels. And don't be surprised if you see your neighbor doing the same thing.

Dear Abby.... Tipping Custom Runs In Vicious Circle

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband positively refuses to tip anyone unless (as he puts it) they have "earned a reward" for doing something special for him. He says waiters are paid to serve customers, doormen are paid to open doors, taxi drivers are paid to drive, and barbers are paid to cut hair, and he's sick of all these people with their hands out. When we leave a restaurant, if looks could kill we'd both be dead. I get terribly embarrassed, but it doesn't seem to bother my husband a bit. How can I get it through his head that "tipping" is an accepted custom, and people who do not tip are considered strange?

the system is changed, why punish the working folks?

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged man in love with a woman a few years my junior. We are both mature people, we both have had a previous marriage. She and I are completely congenial. I like the same things, have similar educational backgrounds and can talk for hours without running out of conversation. I love her deeply, but she says she only "likes" me, she doesn't love me—and so no marriage. All I can do is hope and wait, but she says I'm wasting my time, that she knows her feelings for me won't change.

NON-TIPPER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Many jobs (bellboys, waiters, doormen, hairdressers, manicurists) are considered attractive only because of the "tips" that go with them. And the salaries paid take "tips" into account. So in many cases, a tip is more than a fringe benefit. It is bread and butter. Granted, no establishment should expect the customers to pay their help, but until

UP AGAINST A STONE WALL
DEAR UP AGAINST: Believe her. Her answer might change, but her feelings are not likely to. Then you could have a wife who "likes" but does not "love" you. That would be dandy if it's only companionship you're both looking for—but don't expect more.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is proper to refer to a single woman who has never been married as an "old maid"? I have a dear friend who has never married. She is attractive, popular, self-supporting and nobody's fool, and I am outraged every time I hear someone call her an "old maid." Some women turn down chances to marry

Column One

By KARL O'QUINN

Roy Emerson, who has beaten all the world's best amateur tennis players, has now beaten the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia and is ready to allow the group to reinstate him.

Emerson, Fred Stolle, Marty Mulligan and Ken Fletcher were suspended from the LTAA and not allowed to represent the country in international competition for one year because they began playing abroad before the March 31 deadline.

But Emerson and Stolle met in the finals of the Wimbledon tournament just completed and the Australian tennis wheels have decided they will forgive them.

Cup A Factor

The fact that Australia lost the Davis Cup to the United States last year may have something to do with the reinstatement. Without Emerson and company the Aussies would not be likely to even get to the challenge round, much less win the cup back.

Expediency is apparently more important than authority in Australia, as it is most other places.

It is pleasing to me to see the LTAA get its lumps. The group has been rough on its athletes before.

When it suspended Margaret Smith for the same reason a couple of years ago, the suspension was just the beginning.

The LTAA instructed other Australian girls not to fraternize with her and asked tournament directors in foreign countries not to give her money for her expenses, thus making it impossible for her to make the tour.

Fortunately, the tournament officials politely told the LTAA where to go and paid her expenses anyway.

I say, Roy, good show.

The International Lawn Tennis Federation has turned down a proposal for open tennis.

This is typical of the absurd antics of the group, which condones paying so much expense money to an amateur he can't afford to turn pro but will not allow him to play against a pro.

COLTS RECALL HARDY

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Carroll Hardy, 31-year old outfielder who batted .316 at Oklahoma City in 1963, was recalled today by the Houston Colts. A former football player at the University of Colorado, Hardy is expected to break into the Colts' outfield.

Colts Try Umberger

The Pampa Colts close out their first half of play in the Tri-State League tonight against the Umberger Blackhawks in Optimist Park at 8:15.

The visitors took a 13-2 win over Pampa in Umberger early in the season, and have since moved into a position to tie Borger and Amarillo for the first half title if they beat Pampa tonight and Borger loses its last first half game.

The Colts stand 5-4 in first half play and 1-3 in the second half.

Bobby Price, who received the losing decision against Umberger in the first game, will start for Pampa tonight. His record is 2-2.

Tourney Field Pared Down

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Three California golfers, including medalist Ron Cerrudo were among the 32 survivors who took off in today's second round of the 61st annual Trans-Mississippi Amateur Golf Tournament at Broadmoor Golf Club.

The 19-year-old Cerrudo still appeared to be the man to beat after he powered his way past Dallas Peters of Champaign, Ill., 5 and 3.

Jim Weichers of Menlo Park downed Fred Mueller of Norfolk, Md., 2 and 1 and Bob Smith of Sacramento disposed of Jack Harden Jr. of El Paso, Tex., 2-up.

Queens Slam Claude Team

The Surplus City Queens outscored Claude 26-15 in a Golden Spread League game Tuesday night.

Mary Lou Gilreath allowed eight hits in pitching the Queens to the win and also collected six hits in six at bats.

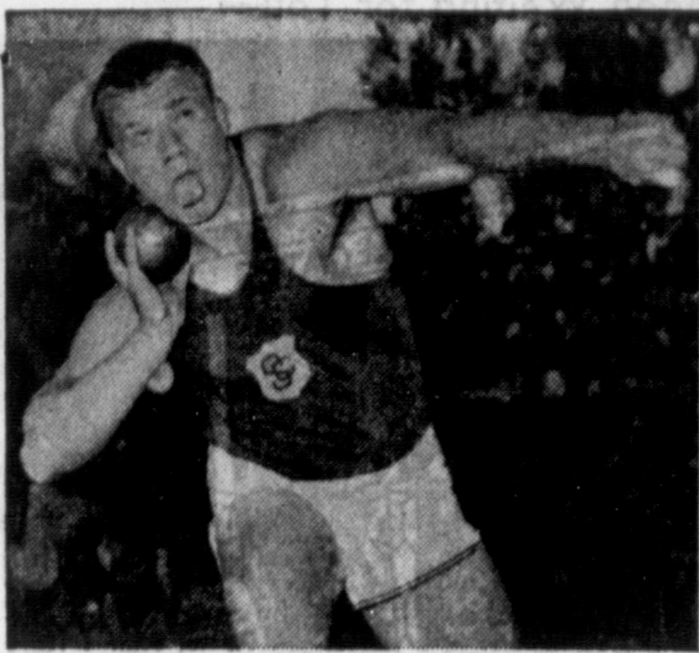

Walling and Little hit two home runs each and accounted for nine hits between them in the free-swinging contest.

Reed and Peg Kastein also slammed homers.

Ruth Blumer and Reed were four for five for the night.

Skellytown Loses

In other Golden Spread action last week Panhandle ripped Skellytown 21-3.

LONG TECHNIQUE—Dallas Long's shot putting technique, which enabled him to set the world record, seems to involve his tongue as much as his muscles.

Buhl Wins Tenth Defeats Giants

By CURT BLOCK
UPI Sports Writer

Bob Buhl has picked up two new partners but it looks like the old act.

The 35-year-old righthander, along with Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette, formed a trio that led the Milwaukee Braves to the top of the National League in the mid '50's.

Although the Cubs are not threatening the National League leaders, Buhl won his 10th game of the year Wednesday blanking the Giants, 2-0, to join teammates Dick Ellsworth and Larry Jackson on a 10-game win plateau that gives the Cubs a distinction no other major league team has achieved.

The threesome, Jackson (11-5), Ellsworth (10-8) and Buhl (10-3), have accounted for 31 of Chicago's 37 victories and could become the first trio of 20-game winners from a single team in the National League since Eppa Rixey, Pete Donahue and Dolph Luque turned the trick for the 1923 Cincinnati Reds.

Buhl blanked San Francisco on four hits while Billy Williams, who hit a home run in Tuesday's All-Star game, clouted his 20th of the regular season in addition to a single and a double.

In the nightcap of a rare weekday doubleheader at Wrigley Field, Willie Mays belted his 24th four-bagger as the Giants snapped a four-game losing streak with a 7-3 triumph in a game called after seven innings because of darkness.

Rookie righthander Ron Herbel picked up his seventh win in 11 decisions while Ernie Broglio, the first of six Chicago hurlers, lost his fourth straight since being obtained from St. Louis. He is 3-9 overall.

In the only other major league game, Pittsburgh stopped Cincinnati 9-1. St. Louis had a scheduled game at Philadelphia rained out. All American League clubs had the day off.

Pittsburgh outfielders Manny

Mota, Willie Stargell and Roberto Clemente each drove in three runs to lead a 12-hit Pirate attack. Mota and Stargell homered while Clemente boosted his league-leading average to .350 with three hits.

Bob Vale and Al McBean allowed just four hits as the Pirates edged past Cincinnati into third place by one percentage point. Vale was forced to leave the game when he developed a blister on his pitching hand.

Rebs Rained Out

The game between Dumas and the Pampa Rebels, scheduled for Dumas last night, was postponed because of rain.

Olympic Trial Begins Today

HANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—The so-called "weaker sex"—in this case most of them are more on the amazon build—open their campaign for gold medals and the glory road to Tokyo today in the National Women's AAU track and field meet.

It's a three-day affair, run mornings and evenings to escape the 100-degree heat in this valley town during the afternoons.

Tonight's program deals with qualifying competition in the girls 18-and-under division—where some of the champions of the immediate future will be performing. The finals in the senior division are set for Saturday.

The aims this year are:

- Make the United States team for the competition against Russia July 25-26 in Los Angeles (the first two places in each event in this meet will be named).
- Then finish one-two-three in the Olympic trials in New York next week and have a time good enough to meet the Olympic standards.

Attempt at Muzzling Of Dean is Reported

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (UPI)—Sportscaster Dizzy Dean expressed "complete surprise" Wednesday night at a report his sponsor has ordered him to stop praising Mississippi on nationally televised baseball games.

"This is all news to me. I don't know a thing about it," said Dean.

The St. Louis Brewing Company, which sponsors Dean's baseball telecasts declined to comment.

Sports Editor Herb Phillips of the Mississippi Press Register reported Wednesday that the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) had threatened a national boycott against the brewing company if Dean didn't quit talking about the "good folks" in Mississippi.

Phillips' story quoted a brewing company employe as saying the CORE directive demanded that "you either refrain Mr. Dean from the discussions of anything favorable to do with Mississippi or Mississippians or you have him chastise his home state and its racial bigots and politicians who have legalized murder and urged rebellion against our laws and Constitution."

Phillips wrote he was told by the brewing company spokesman that the firm had decided to comply with the CORE demand.

Dean said he first heard of the matter when UPI contacted him at his home in Wiggins, Miss., Wednesday night. He said he had been on the golf course most of the afternoon.

Lema Leader Of Yank Golfers

ST. ANDREW'S Scotland (UPI)—The eight-man American contingent to the 1964 British Open golf championship "brezed" through a lesson in Highland golfing techniques during the tournament's first round.

Winds from 20 to 40 miles-per-hour, with gusts up to 60 m.p.h., laced the course Wednesday as the field of 120 professional and amateur golfers struggled to keep scores from skyrocketing.

Champagne Tony Lema led the Americans with a one-over-par 73, which was two strokes off the first-round pace set by Ireland's Christy O'Connor and French Canadian star Jean Garraide, each of whom turned in a one-under-par 71. Harry Weetman of England and Bruce Devlin of Australia managed to "muddle through" with even par 72's on the famed St. Andrew's links.

Lema, who posted a 37-36-73 round, shares his berth at 73 with Ireland's Hugh Boyle, Spain's Angel Miguel and England's Bernard Hunt and Max Faulkner.

1963 runnerup Phil Rodgers was the next American behind Lema with a 39-35-74 tally, followed by Doug Ford, who shot a 36-39-75 round. Favored Jack Nicklaus turned a 38-38-76 score and said he was "lucky" to have that in view of the weather conditions.

Bill Johnston 38-39-77, Johnny Bulla 40-38-78, Doug Sanders 39-39-78, and amateur Deane Beman 40-42-82 brought up the rear of the Yankee contingent.

The field of 120 faces a drastic cut to the low 45 players after today's round and the weatherman has offered little hope of respite from the poor golfing conditions to comfort those with astronomical first round scores.

The 45 who survive the cut today will play the concluding 36 holes on Friday. The weatherman has not as yet made any prediction concerning the expected conditions for Friday, but the hopes and fears of 45 tired golfers rest with him today.

Freddy Harper struck out 10 and gave up three hits to receive credit for the win.

Tommy Hawkins, the loser, pitched a seven-hitter and also hit two home runs, one of them a grand slam, to account for all his team's runs but one.

Joining Hawkins at two for three were Etal's Chuck Sexton and Mickey Sims.

One Bull scored in each of the first four innings and hurler Jerome Bradshaw gave up just two hits to Hardin - Roth to get the victory. He was relieved by Wilborn.

Beck was the loser.

Steve Bentley was three for three for One Bull.

Lone Star scored six runs in the second inning and kept even with Hoover's rallying the rest of the way to win.

Brewer was the winner, Edgar the loser.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Luxury Can Undo Us

In the 6th century before Christ there probably existed the world's wealthiest city. It was a Greek city named Sybaris and it was located at the southern tip of Italy. At least, the luxury available in Sybaris provided a word which since that time has come to indicate the positive acme of complete hedonism, or a love of pleasure for pleasure's sake. In the 20th century, a taste for luxury living has invaded certain segments of the United States and thus the catastrophe that befell the Sybarites should be of unique interest. Recent excavations in the valley of the Crati river, using proton magnetometers as devices to find under-soil artifacts, have finally located the original site of Sybaris and, in all likelihood, before long archeologists will be in a position to tell us more about the details of life among the voluptuaries of 2,600 years ago. Naturally, any center of luxury became at once the joy of its own occupants and the source of jealousy and hatred among other peoples. Thus it was, if one may believe Herodotus, that the Sybarites were constantly called upon to defeat various and sundry attacks upon their walls. This they were able to do and the city continued to enjoy its own pleasures and survived all forays against it. But finally, in nearby Crotona a secret weapon was devised. And in 510 B. C. the city of Sybaris was carried by storm. The citizens of Crotona used the luxury of the Sybarites to their own undoing. It seems that one of the great pleasures of the Sybarites was the parade. And the handsome stallions and equine stock owned by the townsmen not only marched on parade to the rhythm of various musical instruments, but had been taught to keep time to the music. They actually danced, in these parades, and the high-stepping horses enchanted the spectators and their riders. So the residents of Crotona obtained copies of the same instruments used in Sybaris. And they formed their own musical organization and included it in the battle array when they moved against the city of Sybaris.

As the mounted troops of Sybaris rushed forth from the city in defense of their homes, the invading orchestra struck up a parade melody. And the horses, instead of obeying the commands of their military riders, halted their charge and proceeded to dance to the accented rhythms. The defenders were unable to control their mounts and advancing infantry slew the riders, opened the way to the city and sacked it. Sybaris vanished from the face of the earth and, until this year, its exact location had not been known. Luxury-loving Americans are in line to follow the example set by the luxury-loving Sybarites. For the luxury of private Americans has been equalled or surpassed by the love of luxury among government personnel. Probably, in our case, however, the enemy's secret weapon won't be dancing horses. In all likelihood, we'll just become so fat, happy and luxury-loving that any tough-minded, well-conditioned aggressor will easily overthrow us.

Later On Lovely, Right Now—Ugh!

Another miracle of modern science is hitting the market. It's the gadget that enables you to pick up the phone, dial a number and see the person who answers. Fear has been voiced that this will be embarrassing to ladies who may be performing their housewifely duties with their hair in curlers. —Embarrassing? How naive can you be? —Why should it embarrass a lady to be seen on the phone in hair curlers when she's not only willing but apparently proud to be seen in them on the street, in the store and practically everywhere but a formal party? —The average woman goes through the day equipped with more of these spiral gadgets than an electronic computer. She looks like something out of space. —We have a friend who swears that one such lady he passed on the street was bringing in signals from one of our communication satellites 600 miles off in orbit. Why do the ladies affect these contraptions? To look nice later on. Otherwise, they'd be simply a "sight." A mere man can't help but wonder if it hasn't occurred to them that if they'd be a "sight" otherwise, what do they think they are all the time they're wired up for "later on"? What's so much bigger about "later on" than right now in the store or on the street? But forget it, fellas. Try to make something out of it and the ladies may ask why we men go around the house over the week-end looking like something dredged up out of skid row. And that reminds us. Maybe we'd better go shave before we go out tonight. Or we'll simply be a sight.

They're Kidding

New integrated circuits developed for use in computers and guidance systems can make decisions in five billionths of a second. —This is fast, all right. But it can't match the speed with which a teen-age girl can squeal at the sight or sound of a Beagle.

Sort of reassuring, isn't it? Wonderful as it is, science still can't beat old mother nature. —Sort of reassuring, isn't it?

Now Testing New Suitcase Power Bomb

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Underground nuclear testing has progressed so rapidly in the United States and Russia that "within a few years" it should be possible to develop a Hiroshima magnitude nuclear weapon that could be carried in a suitcase. It now seems likely, in fact, that the suitcase bombs could be made much more powerful than the Hiroshima model. Some scientists speculate in terms of very powerful suitcase bombs indeed. These bombs could be smuggled into the United States by agents. They could be placed in strategic locations — in or near the Pentagon, the White House, key defense industries, and at strategic locations in big cities such as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Dallas. These bombs could be wired with a timer mechanism set to go off in hours, days, weeks or years. Timer techniques are now theoretically so precise that bombs set for 10 years hence would go off within 20 to 30 minutes of the time they were set for. Or these bombs could be rigged so they could be set to blow on coded signal from ships 2,000 miles away. Because such suitcase bombs could be planted close to their targets and would not have the inherent inaccuracies of intercontinental ballistic missiles, these small weapons (even Hiroshima magnitude) could do as much damage to key targets as would the much larger Minuteman missiles fired from thousands of miles away. The development of underground testing in both the United States and the Soviet Union has progressed much faster than even its most ardent advocates would have predicted two years ago. Reports received by the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency indicate the Russians have an active, well-developed program of underground testing. If the treaty between the United States and the Soviet Union to ban nuclear testing in the atmosphere (since signed by many nations) was intended to slow the nuclear arms race between the two countries, it has not succeeded. It now appears that nuclear weapon development in the United States and Russia will push ahead at a more rapid rate than before the treaty was signed. It is now feasible to test nuclear weapons larger than the Minuteman and Polaris underground. Within the next six years or so it should be possible to test weapons underground that are comparable in size to the Atlas ICBM. It is possible to interpret mathematically how test results would apply to weapons somewhat larger than are actually tested. If this "extrapolation" is not carried too far, this can be done with a reasonable amount of accuracy. With this in mind, it is now likely that by 1970 the United States and Russia should be able to run tests that would give relatively accurate information on five and 10-megaton warheads and bombs. This new rash of testing will mean much more effective ICBMs and tactical battlefield nuclear weapons. It could mean, for example, that a Minuteman ICBM containing the same amount of fissionable nuclear material as today's weapons would have twice, three times or even five times the bang. Theoretically, the Minuteman's power could be multiplied 1,000 times. But practically, that's not around the corner.

The Nations Press

OUTMODED INDEX (Chicago Tribune) Critics of Johnson administration farm policies are complaining that the farmer now gets only 37 cents of each dollar the consumer spends for food that goes into the weekly market basket. That's the lowest share farmers have received since 1934, when they got only 34 cents. Perhaps the critics are overlooking the administration's policy of paying farmers for not growing food and offering them grants and loans to encourage them to go into such recreation projects as golf courses, fish ponds, picnic grounds, and hunting preserves. Secretary of Agriculture Freeman forecast recently that within 20 years recreation would be the No. 1 dollar earner for farmers. The other day, for example, Sen. Douglas announced a $63,000 loan by the Farmers Home Administration to the Menard Golf association, a nonprofit group near Petersburg, Ill., for the development of a recreation area. Maybe the market basket as an index of farmers' economic well-being is outmoded and should be revised to include the golf bag, the tackle box, the picnic basket, and the game pouch. DO IT YOURSELF! The Freeman I make this suggestion to young men: When you find something to criticize in business, don't go to Congress to have it corrected. Don't bother to write to the editor of your newspaper. Go to the offender and tell him how to eliminate the cause of your criticism. If he doesn't put you on his payroll, and you still think something should be done, see if you can't figure out a way to get into business with your idea. That's how most good things get started, and that's how money is made — by doing something better than the other man.

With two cars in every garage, here is timely relief and a pleasant treat for all starving Americans everywhere. Mule stew in every pot! The recipe for mule stew a la Texas follows: Take one medium-sized Texas jackass from the vicinity of the White House. Remove the skin so as not to obliterate the George Parr and Bobby Baker "Bar-Nothing" brands on the hide. After hide is removed, scour the meat thoroughly to remove veneer of sincerity. Season with a grain of salt. Place the carcass in a large vat until the first Tuesday in November. Strain through a ballot box. Throw away the mule and serve the Gold Water. Serves 180 million people. We are indebted to a renowned chef of El Paso for this suggested Texas delicacy. Enjoy yourselves everybody, and partake freely. Dillon A. ## Wit and Whimsy Son — Dad, I've decided on my career. I'm going to be a detective. Already I'm practicing the art of deduction. Let me give you a demonstration. See that pile of ashes out there in the back yard? From that evidence, I deduce that we have heated this house with coal! Dad — Splendid! Splendid! Now suppose you go out and sift the evidence! Nurse — So the operation was performed right in the nick of time. Dr. Quack — Oh yes. In another hour he would have recovered!

I've Been Waiting for You—

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER Khrushchev is again castigating "inept farmhands" and depicting chaos as he pleads for experts to do their duty. Farm production is lagging, the people are hungry, and the nation's scarce reserves must be used to import wheat. Khrushchev had much to say about incompetent leaders who ruined collective farms and the necessity for paying Soviet Commissars in proportion to output. This is, of course, a principle of the free market. It is not Marxism. It is one more evidence of the failure of the latter and the vindication of the former. Another strong evidence of the failure of Marxism is the decision recently made in Hungary to take the non-Marxist step of resorting to the use of interest charges on both the fixed and working capital of industrial enterprises. Experience has shown that Commissars are not only careless but greedy about hoarding raw material if there is no charge for so doing. The same is true regarding their demands for more expensive equipment and larger factories. Now that they must pay interest on the capital equipment under their charge and the stocks of raw materials they maintain on hand, it is expected that they will strive to be more economical of both and to step up production in keeping with the capitalist costs involved. Beginning this year Hungarian factories will pay 5 per cent interest on the gross value of the means of production, that is, buildings, equipment, stocks of raw materials, tools, goods in process, and finished goods. When these items are interest free, as they have been heretofore in Communist economies, they are hoarded and used wastefully. Since interest on the tools and raw materials one uses in production are a proper charge against the cost of production, if this factor be not included, the cost of production is unrealistic. That is one of the important reasons why government-operated enterprises in all lands including our own almost invariably operate at a loss. Apparently the light begins to dawn in Communist lands and some Socialist principles at least are being abandoned in favor of the more orthodox methods that have proved so successful. This is good news. It just might catch on and sweep away the Socialist nightmare that has so long prevented so large a portion of the earth's people from achieving the better living which all of us so earnestly desire. Socialism, based as it is, on coveting and stealing the production of others, violates the moral law of God and inevitably brings hardship upon mankind. Good moral law is also a good economic law. The Ten Commandments are the basis of freedom, free Government, and a productive economy that leads to abundance.

CAPITOL EYE:

Scranton Is Planning to Play Rough

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — A decision to hammer Sen. Barry Goldwater hard, without letup from now until balloting time, is one of the key results of a big parley involving Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton and many of his high level backers. The governor's slashing television assault on Goldwater, unmatched in its severity, is seen as the first fruit of this reportedly unanimous decision. As one major participant in the Scranton strategy session puts it: "We all agreed that what Bill has to do is to scare the party, to argue that with Goldwater the presidential nominee the Republicans would be on a collision course with disaster." This source believes Scranton struck just the right hard note in a recent telecast. He adds: "If we can have more and more of that, then some of these delegates leaning toward Goldwater may start to wriggle." Up until the big parley at the governor's mansion in Indian-town Gap, Pa., he had been alternating between a hard and a soft line toward the senator. The root of this inconsistency, it is said, lay not in Scranton's concern for the party unity should Goldwater win at S. a. Francisco. He has feared simply that slamming the senator might not be the best way to lure Goldwater leakers into his own delegate camp. That fear finally was pushed aside by the general judgment that rough treatment was the only course that held hope of shaking Goldwater out of his strong hold. Scranton forces obviously will not be unhappy if this tactic gobs the senator into an angry reply. They are frustrated by his inaccessibility and his paucity of public comment. At the Indian-town Gap session, Scranton himself evidently took firm command of a far-ranging discussion. Participants who up to now have been laboring for Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller were pleased at seeing loose organizational ends drawn together. Rockefeller spoke up forcefully at several points, but was carefully deferential to Scranton throughout. Two of his chief aides, George Hinman and John Wells, were present. Maxwell Rabb and Paul Grindle spoke for the Lodge forces. It was agreed that the now-retired Lodge should stress why Scranton ought to be nominated. Despite reports of concern on this point, there was no expression at the meeting of fear of a spotlighted Lodge — still leading opinion polls — might upstage the less well known Scranton. Nearly every conferee, and the roster included all top Pennsylvania Republicans, former Defense Secretary Thomas Gates, Representatives Ellsworth of Kansas and MacGregor of Minnesota, and many others, had a chance to speak. It was agreed the governor should remind delegates and voters constantly of new polls showing Goldwater in trailing position against both Scranton and President Johnson. Though it is plain enough the governor must have somebody counting delegates, this reporter's informant insists that head-counting played no part at all in the conference at Indian-town Gap. Says he: "When you're in the governor's uphill position you don't spend much time counting at sessions like that. You're trying to see where you can do yourself some good in a big way."

By Frank J. Markey
This year marks the second time the whole nation votes for a President on the same day, Tuesday, November 3rd. Up to 1957 Maine's Election Day came two months before the rest of the country. Originally, the States set their own election-days and Maine voted in September because November was a bad month to be traversing the northern backwoods. That's how we got the slogan "As Maine Goes, So Goes the Nation," but that only proved to be a Republican weathervane because the Pine Tree State generally voted for the GOP candidates. That slogan has been inaccurate since 1932. Today's smile: A Congressman talked for an hour on the perils of atomic fallout and when he had finished one of his colleagues observed: "We have listened patiently to him for a long period and he never once mentioned man's oldest fallout problem — baldness." Never knew until now four pairs of our Presidents were related: John Quincy Adams was the son of John Adams, our second president, Benjamin Harrison was a grandson of William Henry Harrison (Old Tippecanoe), James Madison and Zachary Taylor were second cousins, and Franklin D. Roosevelt was a fifth cousin of the redoubtable Teddy. . . . You may have your own favorite, but Yogi Berra is probably the most valuable player in the history of baseball. The New York Yankees star played on 10 world's series, scored the most runs (41), most runs-batted-in (39), got the most hits (71), and reached the most total bases (117). Know of anyone else with such a record? Thoughts while shaving: We read a prediction recently that the movie version of "My Fair Lady" will out-gross the stage version, which totaled $66 million during its six-and-one-half years on Broadway and the road. That's a lot of money and if the prediction holds true the famous musical will set a record that may never be equalled of grossing better than $100 million. To date Hollywood's most successful film has been "Gone With the Wind," produced in 1939 and in the past 25 years has garnered $41 million here and abroad. . . . A Massachusetts firm specializes in inventing games for industry. They've created games for banks, food firms, insurance companies and a score of other business enterprises, all of which have been used successfully as selling tools. The creators say any product or service can be introduced to potential customers in game form. . . . Driving through Missouri recently we came upon a road sign instructing us to "Drive Carefully For The Next Mile." We wondered how we should drive afterward. . . . A new term in public relations is "opinion engineering" and PR practitioners for both major parties are currently engaged in it. It's the ancient art of selling a new concept to the public or creating a mood that will result in acceptance of a radically new product. Despite its fancy name the practitioners are still press agents. . . . The Denver (Colorado) POST headlined: "Food Mistaken For Patient." We don't think there's the slightest resemblance. Country Editor speaking: "They keep telling us women are smarter than men, but did you ever see a man wearing a shirt that buttoned in the back?"

Question Box

Question: "I have a couple of questions. First, why don't conservatives buy large city newspapers and put in conservative staffs to get around the paper curtain?" Second, what has become of those two women, Mrs. Sumra and Mrs. Seagraves, I believe, who went to court to test the constitutionality of teaching humanism in the schools?" —F.V.W.
Answer: First: We suspect the market has a part in deciding who will invest in newspapers, just as in other business enterprises. As to conservative ownership of large city newspapers, there are several which appear to fit the definition of conservative. The New York News and Chicago Tribune are two of the largest papers in the nation and they would generally be considered conservative. The Indianapolis and Phoenix papers are published by Eugene Pulliam, and his papers are regarded as conservative. There probably are others. Second: Mrs. Sumra and Mrs. Seagraves still are campaigning for elimination of tax-supported schools. They have contended, and have legal opinions to back them, that schools cannot teach evolution as a fact, but can teach it as a theory. We hadn't heard of their having taken it to court, yet.
