Olympic Star Arrives Today

Randy Matson, former Pampa High track star who won the silver medal in shotputting at the 1964 Olympics, was scheduled to arrive back in Pampa this evening, weather permitting.

FHS athletic director Weldon Trice reported that Randy's plane will arrive at Amarillo Air Terminal at 4:41 p.m. Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan will head a three-car police

Top O' Texas Blanketed by Heavy Fog

The Pampa area was enveloped early today with one-block visibility fog that held the city in its grip until nearly 11 a.m. The Weather Bureau said the thick fog spread over most of the northern area of Texas. The sun finally broke through and the afternoon was sunny and mild. Low temperature in Pampa this morning was 42 degrees.

The lowest temperature reported during the night was 37 in Dalhart. The low down state at Corpus Christi was 68.

Yesterday's high was in the mid-70s in Pampa and about the same high was expected this afternoon. The local forecast calls for clearing and cooler through tonight with a low tomorrow morning in the mid-30s. Gradual warming is expected tomorrow to send the mercury into the mid-80s during the afternoon.

County and city police said no accidents had been reported due to the fog in the Pampa area.

Record Predicted In Ticket-Splits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pollster Louis Harris believes that next week's election is likely to see a record amount of ticket-splitting. Reporting in the Washington Post, Harris said Tuesday that 18 per cent of all voters interviewed said they intended to vote for different party candidates for president and Congress. One of every four said he also will vote for a Republican for Congress, Harris said.

He said those polled indicated Democratic Senate and House candidates had the same edge as in 1960 over the Republicans—55 to 45 per cent.

Harris said not all ticket-splitting will be among supporters of President Johnson.

UNITED FUND CHECK — Two representatives of the Pampa Classroom Teachers Association presented the Pampa-Lefors United Fund drive yesterday a check for $2,500. The check was the largest amount ever raised by the association for the drive. Shown presenting Hugh Peoples, general drive chairman, with the check is Mrs. Doris Price, teacher at Stephen F. Austin. Looking on is Howard Anderson, teacher at Woodrow Wilson school. The annual appeal has raised $42,261.26 as of today toward the $70,000 goal.

Price Demands Explanation by Walter Rogers

Bob Price, Republican candidate for Congress in the 18th District, today sent a telegram to Rep. Walter Rogers' Washington office demanding to know why Rogers' administrative assistant, John Masterman, is being used in a purely partisan capacity on your campaign staff.

Rogers, a Democrat, is the current congressional representative from the 18th District, and is seeking re-election to the office. Price is his opponent in the Nov. 3 election.

The telegram sent by Price to Rogers reads as follows:

"Dear Sir:
"On behalf of the taxpayers of this district I demand to know why an employee of this district, your administrative assistant, Mr. John Masterman, is being used in a purely partisan capacity on your campaign staff. I realize that the Hatch Act does not apply to congressional employees. However, every member of Congress, the body that passed the law, certainly should be expected to abide by the spirit of the law as clearly intended. The

Lucky Day for LBJ, U.F. Total Says Plane Stowaway $42 Thousand

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—It was said Rudolph Gordon, a lucky day for both himself and President Johnson.

"I'm on his wave length," said Gordon. "I'm going to tell Johnson how to win by extra-sensory perception."

Gordon, 30, of Boston's Back Bay area, sat among three Secret Service agents as he explained how he stowed away Tuesday aboard the press plane accompanying Johnson here for a campaign appearance.

Wearing gold-rimmed glasses and an Ivy League suit, Gordon, who recently has been under a psychiatrist's care, said he boarded the reporters' bus in downtown Boston, rode with them to the airport and bounded onto the plane. "He was found out by Ray Zook, a member of the White House transportation office, shortly after takeoff."

Gordon gave his name alternately as "Chief Osceola of the Seminoles" and Gordon Dubois, advertising salesman for Boston radio station WBCN-FM. His true identity was not discovered until the plane landed here.

To the three Secret Service agents on the plane, Gordon said: "It's (the flight) a gimmick and I pulled it and I'm really at your mercy. I got on the press plane because I'm in the radio and that's sort of the same as the press."

(In Boston, Mrs. Mitchell Hastings, wife of the radio station president, said a man known as Gordon Dubois had been hired about a month ago to sell advertising.)

C-123 Fell in Disputed Area, Newsmen Find

Region in Which Plane Went Down Contested by Two Nations

ON THE VIETNAMESE-CAMBODIAN BORDER (UPI)—On-the-spot investigation by newsmen today disclosed that a U.S. military transport plane shot down by Cambodians Saturday crashed in disputed territory.

U.S. military men on the scene said they could not tell whether the plane, in which eight Americans died, was shot down while in Cambodian airspace, as Cambodia charges. Lt. Col. Irving R. Wendt of Adrian, Mich., said:

"It's possible our planes crossed the border." He added that the region in which the C-123 cargo plane went down is "contested" by both South Vietnam and Cambodia.

Wendt, deputy senior advisor to the Vietnamese army's 23rd Division, said there were indications that the anti-aircraft fire which brought the plane down came from the Cambodian fortress of Le Rolland.

U.S. Army maps do not show the exact whereabouts of the whereabouts of the frontier in the region of the crash and bear the notation "boundary alignment indefinite." In Saigon U.S. authorities have said the plane went down on Vietnamese soil.

According to the boundary claimed by the Vietnamese government, the wreckage of the plane was some 150 to 200 yards short of the frontier, inside Vietnamese territory.

The Vietnamese claim that the Dak Dong River forms the boundary between the two countries in the area. The Cambodians, on the other hand, claimed Tuesday that the plane's wreckage remained on Cambodian soil as "irrefutable" evidence that the American craft violated Cambodian airspace.

Closed Door Meeting

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW (UPI)—The new Soviet leaders today held lengthy meetings with emissaries of the West's largest Communist parties in an effort to calm a surge of discontent in Red circles abroad over the abrupt ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Reliable sources said the Russians held closed door meetings throughout the day with officials of the Italian and French Communist parties as well as other delegations of foreign comrades concerned over the way Khrushchev was kicked out.

Sites of the meetings — which involved the smaller Danish, Austrian and Indian parties as well as the French and Italians — were not disclosed. But diplomatic observers said they apparently were taking place in the somber Soviet Communist headquarters building and in the Kremlin.

Three officials of the 1.6 million-member Italian Communist party arrived Tuesday night for conferences with chief aides of Soviet Communist chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. The Italians followed French, Danish, and Indian Communist delegations here.

In London, East European diplomats were predicting that further shifts in the Kremlin hierarchy were likely, possibly involving the party's top ideologist, Mikhail Suslov. The diplomats said Suslov, No. 4 man in the hierarchy, still is suspect in the eyes of some foreign Communist leaders because of his past links with Stalinism.

(They indicated his leading role in the dismissal of Khrushchev has been one of the main factors in the anxiety expressed by foreign Communists.)

Suslov, however, was on hand to greet the Italian delegation at Moscow's airport Tuesday. He was reported to have broken off a convalescent rest in order to do so.

Khrushchev himself was said to be at a rest home in the Moscow area. His son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, was reported to have taken up his new post as deputy editor of Kazakhstanskaya Pravda in the remote central Asian republic of Kazakhstan.

Senator to Visit In Pampa Friday

U. S. Senator John Tower will arrive in Pampa late tomorrow night in preparation for a one-day campaign swing through the Panhandle for GOP candidates on Friday.

Tower will speak at an 8 a.m. breakfast in the Coronado Friday and then journey to Borger, Dumas, Perryton and Amarillo. Following the Friday morning breakfast, Tower will hold a brief press conference in the Coronado Inn.

The senator will leave Pampa for Dallas where he plans to campaign Saturday for the election of Congressman Bruce Alger.

Election Day Comes Early At Schools

Students at Pampa High School will go through the regular mechanics of voting Friday during a mock presidential election scheduled throughout the school.

Superintendent of Schools Jack Edmondson said the election has been patterned after the general election including the requirement of a poll tax for voting.

Edmondson said in order to be eligible to vote the students had to purchase a school poll tax, which sold for 5 cents. Sophomore, junior and senior classes have been divided into precincts and election judges and officials have been appointed through school government classes to make the election more realistic, said Edmondson.

The students will vote on a sample duplicate of the regular ballot and will cast their vote in regular voting booths.

Mock elections in the government and history classes at Robert E. Lee Junior High and Pampa Junior High schools are also scheduled Friday.

Edmondson stressed that the election is being held for the purpose of instructing the students in the mechanics of election procedures and to stress upon them the importance of voting.

He said the election is definitely not a straw vote.

Nine Killed in Crash of Plane

EL CENTRO, Calif. (UPI)—A Navy Day celebration turned into a fiery hell Tuesday when a low-flying jet bomber crashed in flames into several buildings at this naval air facility. Nine persons were killed and at least 22 others injured.

Six of the injuries were critical and nine were reported serious. The remainder were given first aid at the scene, but were not hospitalized. At least five of the most seriously hurt were flown to the San Diego Navy Hospital.

The dead included the three-man crew aboard the twin-engine Douglas A3D Skywarrior bomber.

WOUNDED IN VIET NAM RESCUED IN VIET NAM

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—An American soldier wounded in an ambush Tuesday near the Cambodian border and left behind has been rescued by a relief force and taken by helicopter to a U. S. hospital in Saigon, an American military spokesman said today.

One American was killed in the same ambush and one other was wounded but not left behind. Two Vietnamese soldiers also were wounded.

Area Employees of Texaco Due Honors

Seventy-nine Texaco employees and their wives from Skellytown and Lefors area, Pampa District, Dallas Division, domestic producing department (East) will be honored with a safety award dinner at Coronado Inn at 7 p.m. Thursday.

As of June 30, these groups had worked in excess of 625,000 man-hours without an industrial injury.

S. R. Lenning, District superintendent, will present the safety awards to H. E. Peeples, foreman (field) for the Skellytown group, and G. B. Hogan, foreman (field) for the Lefors group.

Out-of-town guest will be E. E. Callaway, division supervisor of employe relations, Dallas.

Communists Demand 'Full Story' on Khrushchev Ouster

MOSCOW (UPI) — Foreign Communist delegations are demanding the "full story" behind the ouster of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, Eastern party sources said Tuesday. But veteran Western observers said there was no chance he would be restored to power.

In London, East European diplomats predicted further shifts in the Kremlin hierarchy, probably involving party chief theoretician Mikhail Suslov whose denunciation led to the ouster. They said his action smacked of Stalin-like tactics.

Communist sources said the delegations coming to Moscow have not accepted the Kremlin's explanations of Khrushchev's "retirement" and are demanding the full story in closed door sessions with Kremlin officials.

They said Leonid I. Brezhnev, who took the Soviet Communist party leadership from Khrushchev 13 days ago, personally has taken control of the Kremlin effort to end the discontent festering in the Communist world.

French, Danish, Indian and other delegations have met with "very polite" Soviet Communist Central Committee supporters of Brezhnev, the reports said.

The Italian delegation, representing the largest and most influential Communist party in the West, arrived Tuesday night on a similar errand.

Other delegations are to follow in an outpouring of public discontent among the once docile foreign parties. They said Brezhnev—who has explained the events to Polish leader Wladyslaw Gomulka—is to talk personally with most of the visitors.

Soviet sources said the Kremlin is confident it will soothe the discontent.

Texas' Rebel Air Force Taken Seriously

MERCEDES, Tex. (UPI) — The commander of the "Confederate Air Force" (CAF) was flabbergasted today to learn that some people in Europe take his outfit seriously.

A newspaper in Denmark published a story to the effect that the rebels were ready with an air force should the South rise again. But the United Nations can relax.

Col. Bill Drawe of Mercedes, Tex., CAF commander, said he made trans-Atlantic telephone calls and sent an air mail letter to straighten out the misunderstanding.

The Confederate Air Force, located in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas, is a group that collects outmoded planes, most of them of World War II vintage. Everybody's a colonel in it, naturally.

Last week, the CAF initiated a new colonel, Andreas W. Anderson, a pilot for the Scandinavian Air Service (SAS), who was trained at Del Rio, Hondo and Mineral Wells, Tex., during the Korean war.

Anderson took the rebel "oath" and immediately announced that he was from "South Copenhagen."

His job in the CAF is to help locate old foreign fighter planes overseas.

In an interview with a Danish newspaper reporter, Anderson apparently gave the tongue-in-cheek rebel jargon that is standard for CAF members.

The reporter took him seriously.

"The Yankees are our sworn enemies and we must fight them all," Anderson was quoted.

"We are always careful to avoid anything like that. We always let the reporters know we are kidding," Drawe said.

On Tuesday Ballot

Water Districts in Amendment Measure

By DAVID ANDERSON
AUSTIN (UPI)—Texans who want to create new water conservation or reclamation districts long ago made an important discovery: The easiest way to do it is to get the home-town legislator to sneak a special bill through the legislature.

The last legislature created over 20 districts this way, virtually all of them by uncontested "local bills" that attract hardly any attention.

As J. E. Sturrock, general manager of the Texas Water Conservation Association (TWCA), notes, "sometimes even the authors don't know what's in these bills."

More Difficult

Constitutional Amendment No. 2 on this year's ballot is designed to make it a little more difficult to create water districts with special legislation.

It is one of three proposed changes in the Texas Constitution. The others would extend the federal Kerr-Mills program of medical aid to aged Texans and prevent transfers of principal from the permanent school fund to the available school fund.

The water district proposal would require a legislator to publish notice of his intention to introduce a bill creating a conservation or reclamation district.

This notice would have to be printed in a newspaper 30 to 90 days before introduction of the bill, and a copy of the bill would have to be sent to the governor.

Panel Would Study

The governor would forward it to the Texas Water Commission for study. This requirement is designed to assure that the bills are correct; in the past some bills have created districts with overlapping or erroneous boundaries.

The legislature could not act on the proposal until the water commission had reported its findings to the governor.

Although the amendment would make more work for the already busy Texas Water Commission, the commissioners do not oppose it. Commissioner H. A. Beckwith said the commission has not formally taken a stand, primarily because it has been too busy trying to come up with the state wide water plan asked by Gov. John Connally.

Connally also has taken no stand on the water amendment.

CORONADO CENTER CONOCO — Shown above is the Coronado Conoco service station which will hold its grand opening tomorrow with ribbon cutting ceremonies scheduled for 11:30 a.m. According to company officials, the new building design incorporated in the station was created to provide faster and more efficient service to the motoring public.

Benjamin Kubelsky is the real name of Jack Benny.

Saint Francis Xavier Cabrini was canonized in 1946.

LARGE THIRST
SPALDING, England (UPI)—Pub regular Jack East received a four and one-half gallon cask of free beer from the Pigeon Inn her to mark his 65 years of patronage.

Landlord Frank Tohill estimates that East, whose capacity has shrunk from 20 to 12 pints a day with the years, has spent $39,200 on beer in his lifetime.

Polo is played, on the same principle as hockey or association football, with four players on each side, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

New Service Station Will Open Tomorrow

Continental Oil Company announces the grand opening of their new service station in Coronado Center with a ribbon cutting ceremony tomorrow at 11:30 a.m.

Scheduled to do the grand opening honors is Pampa Mayor H. Raeburn Thompson with Chamber of Commerce officials and businessmen, as well as the general public expected to be in attendance.

The new station will be known as Coronado Center Conoco and will be operated by Wallace Jouett. Jouett is a longtime Pampa resident and is well known in the service station business.

Coronado Conoco's grand opening celebration will be a three-day affair, beginning tomorrow and continuing through Saturday. There will be free gifts for all as well as a number of major free prizes to be given away.

In the city for the festivities this week are J. D. Newell, division manager and Jack E. Stalsby, division sales manager, both from Conoco's marketing office in Lubbock. Newell stated that the new building design incorporated in Coronado Center Conoco was created to provide faster and more efficient service to the motoring public.

Conoco is represented in the Pampa area by Norman Massey, commissioned agent and Harold L. Teeters, district sales representative.

As an added attraction to the opening, "The Dixieland Band," a five-piece group made up of students from Pampa High School will present a free jazz concert on the Center's parking lot Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The musicians are Doug Scaggs, David Robertson, Marshall Gardner, Charles Graham and George Shelton.

Foreign News Commentary

By PETER KNOX
LONDON (UPI)—The decision of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government to cancel proposed Anglo-Spanish naval exercises threatens to embitter relations between the two countries.

Official sources here remained silent on the reasons behind the decision. But well-qualified political sources said it clearly reflected Labor's well-known hostility to the government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Wilson and other labor spokesmen made it plain in the past that they did not believe Britain should have any close military or naval ties with Franco Spain.

The Labor attitude can be traced back to the party's policy in the 1936-39 Spanish Civil War when it sympathized with the Republican cause.

Gibraltar A Problem
Diplomatic sources said that now that Labor is in power again after 13 years, its strong anti-Franco bias is likely to throw a new strain on Anglo-Spanish relations. These already are troubled by the Gibraltar problem.

The row over the naval maneuvers was seen by these sources as potentially the first move in a series of exchanges that could bring Anglo-Spanish relations to a new low. Certainly, Spanish claims to Gibraltar are likely to be pressed.

Newspapers here are discussing the possibility that the Wilson government will take a "tough" line with Spain, and not soft-pedal its anti-Franco feelings in the interests of commercial relations.

Amarillo Artists To Show Work in Perryton Library

PERRYTON (Sp) — Two Amarillo artists, D'Alton B. Myers and Dorice Myers, will present a joint exhibit at Perry Memorial Library here during November, one of a series sponsored by the Sorosis Club. The paintings of this couple reflect the color of their many travels. An exhibit in Amarillo last December on the theme "European Impressions," followed a seven-month tour of Europe. They have spent several periods of six months or more in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, and returned this month from a summer's work there. A collection of their scenes from Mexico was exhibited at the Blue Door Gallery in Taos.

The couple received a joint award in sculpture in the fourth annual Legal Secretary's Invitational, and Mrs. Myers has received a citation of merit and honorable mention from the Texas Fine Arts Association and citations of merit at the Tri-State Fair. Started as a retirement hobby ten years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Myers have studied extensively and worked tirelessly to perfect their style and technique. He prefers landscapes and still life and she likes figure drawings and character studies. On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 1, between 3 and 5 p.m., the exhibit will open with a tea in the Club Room at the Perry Memorial Library honoring the artists. The public is invited to attend and visit with Mr. and Mrs. Myers and view the paintings.

Walter Rogers Reports

Excise Tax to Pose Top Congress Topic

The excise tax on each new passenger car manufactured in the United States today averages $225. In a year in which 7.5 million new cars are manufactured, this single revenue source swells the receipts to the federal treasury by $1.7 billion. This is only one example of the substantial revenues generated by federal excise taxes, and the subject is one sure to be a major topic for congressional attention in the first session of the 89th Congress convening in January.

President Johnson has announced his commitment to seek a reduction in excise taxes as a further spur to economic strength generated by this year's cut in personal and corporate income taxes.

Strong sentiment exists in Congress for a cut in excise taxes. I am among many members of the House of Representatives who long have advocated a substantial reduction — a complete elimination, if proven feasible — of federal excises. They are imposed on a relatively large number of selected products, services, and occupations. They are the "hidden" taxes in the federal revenue picture. Not many Americans are aware of the extent of excise taxation — that excise receipts will total an estimated $14.4 billion this fiscal year. Each year, excises represent between one-sixth and one-seventh of total Federal tax collections.

The ground has already been prepared for further congressional action on excise taxes; the House ways and means committee, which initiates tax legislation, held hearings earlier this year and it seems certain that they will be resumed. A proposal for reducing excises is likely to emerge. Extensive use was made of a wide range of excises during World War I, but most of these were repealed during the following decade. Most of the present manufacturers' excises were revived during the 1930's as a depression tax measure adopted in lieu of a general manufacturers' sales tax. Under the impetus of World War II revenue requirements, the rates of most existing excises were substantially increased and the present retailers' excises were introduced, along with taxes on transportation of persons and property. Congress was giving serious consideration to extensive legislation revising and reducing excises in 1950 when hostilities broke out in Korea.

Accordingly, World War II excises were continued, and, in some cases, increased. Some reductions occurred in 1954, 1958 and 1962; some increases came in 1956 to finance an expanded program of highway construction. Through all these years, the proper role of excises in the federal revenue system has been the subject of continuing controversy.

The income tax reduction enacted earlier this year was designed to provide an economic stimulus by freeing capital in the so-called "private sector" of the economy. Consumer spending and capital investment both have shown major increases as a result of an income tax cut. Similar results are envisioned for a reduction in the excise tax burden.

The continuing high rate of business activity in Texas reflects the impact of reduced personal and corporate income taxes. According to figures issued recently by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, the seasonally adjusted index of Texas business activity showed a 3 per cent rise in July to a new high of 152.2 per cent of the 1957-59 base value. Amarillo, with an increase of 21 per cent from July, 1963, to July, 1964, showed the largest annual gain in business activity of any major Texas city.

Most revealing for indicating the effect of the tax cut were figures relating to increased retail sales. Preliminary estimates from the Bureau of Business Research showed a 2 per cent rise in dollar sales in Texas from June to July, 1964, in a

Russia, 8 Others Risk Losing Vote

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Soviet Union and eight other countries risk losing their vote in the United Nations General Assembly for non-payment of assessments, the annual report of assembly committee on contributions showed Tuesday.

The countries are: Soviet Union; Ukraine; Hungary; Romania; Poland; Byelorussia; Czechoslovakia; Yemen; Paraguay. Article 19 of the U.N. charter provides that any country owing the equivalent of two years' assessments loses its vote, unless it pays in enough to bring the arrearage below the cut-off figure.

period when a small decline normally is registered. Texas retail sales in July were up 8 per cent from the volume in July, 1963.

It is clear that the reduction in the tax burden borne by American citizens is at work carrying the economy to record high levels.

Recent visitors in the Nation's Capital were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sparks from Canadian. Walter Rogers, Member of Congress 18th District of Texas

Texas Youth Groups Will Aid in CROP

Texas young people of various youth organizations working together in their communities will be among thousands of CROP workers in the state this month as they call from door to door in their communities seeking "treats" for needy people abroad.

CROP is the Community Resources Program of Church World Service and collects food, fiber and cash in communities throughout the United States for the world relief programs of the churches. It is becoming much a symbol of Halloween to the young people of Texas as the traditional "trick or treats", black cats, pumpkins, and the rest.

The youth will join other CROP workers in the state who are seeking contributions of grain, cotton, rice, livestock and cash for the overseas programs. Together they will help to provide a meal a day of rice for a Child Feeding Program in Hong King where 18,000 children, who have come to the British Crown Colony from Communist China, otherwise do not receive as much as one full meal a day. A gift of $4 will provide enough rice for a meal a day for one child for a year.

They will help to provide emergency assistance for people left homeless by natural disasters of which there were 14 in 1963.

Wheat Growers Plan Amarillo Parley

A meeting of vital importance to wheat growers and to every one whose business is concerned with wheat production will be held in the Holiday Inn, West, in Amarillo Friday.

It is the annual session of the Texas Wheat Growers Assn., announced by President Leo Witowski of Hereford.

Directors will meet at 9:30. But the main session of interest to growers and others concerned with the industry will open at 1:30 p.m.

There will be three principal speakers:

Ed Jaenke, Washington, assistant administrator of the ASCS, and vice president of the Commodity Credit Corp., the US agency responsible for management of government-owned farm commodities.

Ken Kendrick, long-time Sherman county, Tex. wheat grower and agriculture leader who is now executive secretary of the National Assn. of Wheat Growers with headquarters in Washington.

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa will point out how rural interests are losing their power and influence in the US that have followed deaths, resignations and appointments.

mainly to people moving from farms and ranches to the cities. He will emphasize how important it is for rural interests to figure out a way to meet this problem.

Witowski stated that prior to the current Congressional session, the ratio of Congressmen (House members) representing rural interests to those from place in September when a rural interest had been 4 to 6. It was the over 20 million bushels were down to 3-7 when this session opened and is now estimated at 2-8 as a result of replacements bringing US wheat stocks down

If the US Supreme Court's one man - one vote ruling isn't set aside, or modified, by congressional action the rural vs. city power is expected to drop to a 1-9 ratio.

An interesting sidelight, Witowski said, will be details on the largest wheat sale ever recorded in a single day. It took place in September when a little over 20 million bushels were sold in one day. Sales like this are rapidly bringing US wheat stocks down

Pampa Little Theater Presents 'Doctor's Orders'

Pampa Little Theater's production of "Doctor Orders" has reached the final stages of readiness and is scheduled to open at 8 p.m. Nov. 5 with four night performances to follow, plus a Sunday matinee.

Ten members of the theater group team up to present the current production which is being directed by Curtis Prescott. The play being presented in a theater in the round style, has been in rehearsal for the past four weeks and dress rehearsals are slated to start next week.

The three-act play is centered around the theft of $5,000 from the Madden Department Store which produces a laugh-provoking comedy. Marie Jones as Lettie Madden, spinster and major stockholder in the store, teams up with Rita Norris played by Glennette Dawkins as the leading actresses, Jim Douthit as Adolf Madden, store manager, and Curtis Prescott as Steve Harmon, a young lawyer share the spotlight among the male actors in the production.

Supporting roles are played by Ruth Lawley, Agatha Madden; Pat Pitmon, Mamie Collins; Jean Matheny, Julia Madden; Jeannie Sells, Sara Arnold; Fran Kinnett, Cora Kent; Winton Rowntree, Jerome Judson and Danny Kinnett plays Dr. Reynolds and a detective.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased from theatre members or by phoning MO 9-9051 after 7 p.m.

OH BOY! — Glennette Dawkins as Rita Norris and Curtis Prescott, portraying Steve Harmon, enter into this enjoyable clinch, upper left photo, during the second act of the Pampa Little Theater's production of "Doctor Orders." Rita is accused of stealing $5,000 from the Madden Department Store and is being defended in the case by the young lawyer, Steve Harmon. During the performance he falls for the youthful defendant and an engagement is announced.

BACKSTAGE — Ruth Lawley, who plays the part of Agatha Madden, helps apply makeup, top right photo, to Fran Kinnett who fills the role of Cora Kent. Cast members help one another apply the makeup and join in the task of arranging props. Lighting, prompting and cleanup work is all handled by the players in the production.

WHAM — Danny Kinnett, playing Doctor Reynolds, has just finished analyzing Mamie Collins who is played by Pat Pitmon, center photo. Mamie finds analysis all part of a game and grabs the small mallet to change the tables and play the same games with the serious doctor. The doctor says that Mamie is a neuropathic infantile type, plus a few other things which the good doctor doesn't describe.

DON'T SHOOT — Adolf Madden played by Jim Douthit, lower left photo, looks down the barrel of a revolver held by Marie Jones as Lettie Madden, Lettie is Adolf's sister and she has found out a few unexplainable facts about the department store manager. This scene occurs during the final act of the upcoming production and provides a fitting climax to the riotous performances.

OUCH — Glennette Dawkins, playing the part of Rita Norris, lays a roundhouse slap to the side of Jean Matheny's face as she portrays Julia Madden in the lower right photo. Julia has accused Rita of stealing the $5,000 missing from the Madden Department Store. The money was put in a shoe box and came up missing shortly after Rita emptied the safe to make a bank deposit. Julia is also upset because she is after her fiancé.

Christmas Ideas Program Shared at County-Wide Meeting of HD Clubs

Gray County Home Demonstration Clubs had a county-wide meeting recently with seven clubs participating in a Christmas ideas program. Club members brought articles and ideas for Christmas for different ones in the family, such as Christmas for dad, mother, the teen-ager, little children, the kitchen, for shut-ins and also Christmas decorations.

A member from each club explained the different items displayed by each club. Following was a 'get-acquainted' hour.

Next on the program was a luncheon made up of salads of all kinds and descriptions brought by members. After tasting the salads, recipes were exchanged.

Attending were Mmes. J. Lloyd Laramore, N. A. Briden, V. Smith, Lee Kingham, Lester Reynolds, N. B. Cude, Frank

Canadian P-TA Officers Will Be Installed

CANADIAN (Spl) — P-TA executive board met in the home of Mrs. Keith Rudy recently to plan the first P-TA meeting for the year and installation of officers.

A musical program will follow the installation and a nursery for small children will be provided.

Officers to be installed are Mrs. Rudy, president; Mrs. Earnie Davis, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Bucher, second vice president; Mrs. Jim Robinson, third vice president; Mrs. Jim Pitts, treasurer, and Mrs. Vernie Farrington, secretary.

Those present at the board meeting were Mmes. Rudy, Pitts, Warren Harrington, Lawrence Pundt, Davis, Robinson, Bucher and Supt. Woodie Beene.

Child's Room Reflects Age

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A man's home is his castle, and a child's fortress is the room or corner where he can express his likes and current enthusiasms. A youngster's room is a vivid reflection of his age.

Space is at a premium in most homes, but a healthy boy or girl can pack an amazing amount of "current interests" into a little bit of floor space!

Addition of a bulletin board provides wonderful visual education for the mother trying to fathom the thinking of her offspring.

We don't have to be mind-readers to guess what subjects send our 8-year-old into ecstasies. Her bulletin board full of penciled lists of all the horse names she can find or remember, from Old Bones to Flicka, Misty and Fury. Crayon drawings are of horses. Colored photos clipped from magazines are, too.

One of my first inklings that horses were being replaced by people in the affections of our older daughter were the changing pictures on her bulletin board. As she grows into teen years, horse pictures are being supplanted by pictures of classmates — boys and girls — and penciled reminders not to eat candy and to buy shampoo and hand cream. What a change of thinking in three years!

I have no doubt that this year the big thing in her room decor will be high school pictures, mementos and current fads.

I sensed the wheels turning when I showed her picture with this article.

"Very tough" was her judgment. In case this bit of slang hasn't hit your territory, "tough" is considered highest praise.

This is, in many areas, the time of year when school class pictures are taken. Those of us swinging with the teen years are familiar with the sequence.

The high-pitched moans on how awful, how icky she looked for the picture give way to lower howls of thinly disguised pleasure when the proofs come in.

Ordering prints requires an IBM computer to figure how many of what size — wallet, post card or enlargement in color or black and white — will be required when picture-trading time comes up.

"Betty gave me a big picture last year but I'm going to get wallet-size for her anyhow, because she thinks she's so smart — just because she thinks Scott is looking at her!"

The picture with the article suggests something to do with the pictures exchanged besides cramming them in wallets or desk drawers.

Photos can be pasted on wood blocks for bookends or mounted on cardboard and pinned to a bulletin board (shove a long pin through a smooth cork and glue cork end to cardboard; pin goes into board). Curtain clips can be used to clip a row of pictures to a café rod.

For the light of your life, rubber cement his picture to the lampshade.

Dear Abby...

Golfing Blonde Swung And Missed Par by $500

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a golf pro for the past six months and he has been giving me golf lessons free of charge. On our third date he asked me to marry him, but said that due to some financial reasons he would have to postpone marrying me for about a year. Hoping to hasten the marriage, I let him have about $500. I just found out that he has been dating another girl and giving her golf lessons for nothing. Now I realize that he was only using me, but I must admit he improved my golf game a lot. I have too much pride to tell our club president, but I would like to get my money back. How?

DUMB BLONDE
DEAR BLONDE: Forget your pride and tell the club president that his golf pro is under par in more ways than one. And don't get so patsy-waisy with professional swingers again unless you can remember to keep your head down and your eye on your purse!

DEAR ABBY: In your reply to "WORN OUT," the mother of 10 who was expecting her 11th, you say, "If it is not contrary to your religion, call your Planned Parenthood Center."

To my knowledge, the Planned Parenthood program is not contrary to any religion. If the woman is a Roman Catholic, her local Planned Parenthood group will give her complete instruction in birth control, as approved by her church.

Sincerely,
MRS. R. F. C.

DEAR MRS. R. F. C.: You are 100 per cent correct, and I thank you for pointing out this important distinction. And while we are on the subject, the Planned Parenthood organization is dedicated to all phases of family planning. They will also help couples who want children, but appear unable to have them.

DEAR ABBY: I guess most of all I just want to get this problem off my chest. My darling mother should and would love to own a pretty wedding ring that she can be proud of. My Dad has given her two cheap sets that she wore completely through on the underside. She's now wearing her mother's plain gold band to show she's married. My father is far from rich, but he could well afford to buy mother a nice wedding ring with a few chip diamonds in it. Mother deserves the ring and she wants one, but she doesn't want to ask him for it. Would it be all right for me (her married daughter) to buy her one? BIG D FAN

DEAR FAN: If you don't know your father well enough to say, "Look, Dad, Mother wants a nice wedding band, so let's shop for one," then you should get better acquainted with your father. A wedding ring is more than a piece of jewelry, and it's a husband's privilege (and no one else's) to provide his wife with one.

Woman's Club Meets With Mrs. Waters

A short business session was conducted by Mrs. George Henderson Jr. The Royal Service program, "Worship and the Missionary Task," was given by Mrs. Hugh Shotwell assisted by Mmes. Tarpley, Ross Buzzard and Henderson. Closing prayer was given by Mrs. Lida Ramsey. Seven members were present. The next meeting on Oct. 28 will be in the home of Mrs. Ross Buzzard, 2429 Christine.

DARLENE ELLIOTT CIRCLE met in the home of Mrs. E. S. Cantrell. The prayer calendar was read by Mrs. C. F. Pennington, followed by prayer by Mrs. Charlie Miller. The business session was conducted by Mrs. Wes Langham. The mission study book, "Frontiers of Advance," was taught by Mrs. Lee Moore. Mrs. C. V. Forsman closed with a prayer. Nine members and one new member, Mrs. Roberta Woods, were present. The next meeting on Oct. 28 will be in the home of Mrs. Lee Moore, 915 Duncan.

JACKIE SHAW CIRCLE met in the home of Mrs. Ophelia Morris. The prayer calendar was read, followed by prayer by Mrs. J. A. Hopkins. The business session was conducted by Mrs. Morris. The program was presented by Mrs. E. E. Brown who gave a report on Lebanon which Mrs. Brown had heard at the District 10 Convention. Closing prayer was given by Mrs. Roy Taylor. Seven members were present. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. E. E. Brown, 1123 Mary Ellen.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

Now that outdoor chrysanthemums are at the height of beauty, it is a good time to visit friends and neighbors gardens where they are grown in order to become acquainted with the best and most useful varieties.

After seeing some of the newer and better mums, a person can't help but be overcome with the striking beauty and the effect just a few plants can have in a garden. Since the chrysanthemums are hardly for our area, more park plantings are hoped for and Pampanis are asked to help in this promotion.

Pampanis and neighboring communities are also being encouraged to plant trees that have beautiful foliage in the fall. While driving around the city the colorful foliage is breathtakingly beautiful, such as the cottonwood in front of the Clinton Evans home, at 1701 N. Russell, the ash tree in front of the H. H. Boynton home at 1035 S. Hobart and the two ash trees in front of the Jimmy McCunes at 811 N. Frost. Also in full color at the Boynton home are the black walnut tree, the redbud, the hawthorne and Virginia creeper vine. There are also many beautiful golden locust trees. The moraine locust in the home of Mrs. Orvil Batson. Mrs. Carroll Ray opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. John Gikas read the prayer calendar, followed by prayer by Mrs. G. E. Groninger for the missionaries. The Bible study, "How All Things Came to Be," was taught by Mrs. G. L. Wilson. Closing prayer was given by Mrs. N. B. Smith. Eleven members, one new member, Mrs. John Perkins, and one visitor, Mrs. C. E. Powell, were present. The next meeting on Oct. 28 will be in the home of Mrs. Doshia Anderson at 310 N. West.

The Walter Spoonmores have surrounded their pyracanthas with a sheer netting to keep the birds away. This should be an effective way to keep the berries from disappearing so fast.

A lot of work was accomplished Thursday morning when Top O' Texas Garden Club members and park department employees combined forces. Working at Perryton Parkway were Mrs. Kenneth Osborn, Mrs. Joe Rutledge, Mrs. Fred Hinkley, Carl Wright, park superintendent and others. Anyone who would like to be of service in helping to beautify Pampa come out to Perryton Parkway Thursday morning at 8:30 a.m. Lilies and iris will be divided and planted at that time.

does well in Pampa and does not have the beans which can be a nuisance. A shrub which turns golden in the fall is the dwarf pomegranate.

Rev. Harry Vanderpool of the First Methodist Church in a most inspiring sermon recently entitled "Trees and You and Me," referred to trees as the Lords of the landscape and mentioned having seen a tree eight feet in diameter on the W. R. Campbell ranch. This tree should have a special award for having lived so long and grown so large in the Pampania area which is not noted for its abundance and size of trees.

Quoting from a recent publication of the "Progressive Farmer," "Once again October brings us beauty — beauty so varied and so all-embracing as to make us say with Edna St. Vincent Millay — Lord, I do fear Thou'st made the world too beautiful this year."

A friend called and mentioned a pyracantha hedge in full beauty around a home in White Deer located about a block or two south of the highway. Drive by to see it.

Relationships in family life, in daily work and towards non-Christians were discussed.

Mrs. J. B. McCrery, president of the Women's Association, visited each circle to explain a reorganizational plan for 1965 when an inclusive group for all women of the church will provide channels for service and fellowship.

Pampa African Violet Society members left early Saturday morning before 6:30 to set up their exhibit for the Amarillo Council of Garden Clubs Flower Show. Going were Mrs. Lee Moore, Mrs. Norman Walberg, Mrs. Holly Gray and Mrs. V. N. Osborn. Serving as hostesses during the show were the above mentioned women and Mrs. C. C. Matheny and Miss Mary McKamy.

This Week's Gardening Tips
Water, water, water everything, unless abundant rains come down.

Order pansies and violets now from Alton Farms, Box 295, Jenks, Okla., or buy these plants from local dealers if possible. The pansy is a most charming little plant and worth the small amount of time required in planting.

Clean up all garden waste. Burn diseased foliage. Place in compost heap clean grass cuttings, dead leaves and plant tops. Drain and store hose before first heavy frost, collect, clean and store all tools and equipment.

Use a grease solvent to remove stubborn chocolate stains.

Love and Strength Aid Mental Health Desire
By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I shock, but remember that you are not responsible for your son's illness.

You are responsible for eliminating from yourself all feelings which obscure his present need for your support of his desire for health.

I shock, but remember that you are not responsible for your son's illness.

You are responsible for eliminating from yourself all feelings which obscure his present need for your support of his desire for health.

ANSWER: The chances of recovery from schizophrenia when proper treatment is administered is 80 per cent, according to the National Association of Mental Health. Out of every 10 patients in today's mental hospitals, seven either partially or totally recover from their illness.

Please check these statistics with your local mental health organization. Talk to your son's psychiatrist. Then get behind your son's desire for health with all your love and strength.

As it is now, it sounds as though that strength and love were losing their power to your angry desire to obstruct his wife.

You yourself say that she wants to be "rid" of him. Surely you can't want this gifted and sensitive son of yours to go on trying to sustain the strains of life with a woman who wants to be "rid" of him! The promise of recovery offered him by a state hospital's modern treatment methods is infinitely to be preferred to day-in, day-out association with such a woman.

Mentally ill people do not get well in the environment of hate. They are too uncertain of their own value to be able to withstand its constant and assassinating suggestions of their worthlessness. In contact with it, the mentally sick person becomes sicker and sicker.

By JEFF COHANE

IT LOOKS as if the University of Houston is going to have to put in an agriculture course! Good friend Melvin Brown, defensive coach of the UH Cougars, came up to visit this week and see some of the fine ball players in the Top O' Texas area. . . but three of the first four boys he saw and wanted were interested in majoring in Agriculture in college!

Mel says that if the Panhandle continues to produce such fine football players of the type Houston needs, the Cougars may very well have to go Aggie!

Seriously, Brown brings the message that as far as UH is concerned, boys from this area definitely seem to produce the finest college football players. "They all have tremendous desire and they're tough as nails and that's what we want in college ballplayers. All the boys out here seem to be real big and growing bigger too, it's fantastic!"

Brown and head coach Bill Yeoman have good reason to be enthused about players from this area, as three of them are standouts on this year's undefeated freshman team, quarterback Kenny Herbert of Pampa, end Phil Woodring of Lefors and linebacker Dwight Clifton of Dalhart. Herbert, rated one of the finest leaders Houston has ever had by his coaches, is expected to see plenty of varsity action next season, while "headhunter" Woodring and Clifton are both defensive standouts also slated for quick promotion in the varsity chain.

Among the Top O' Texas boys the Houston coach has expressed interest in are Dickie Crockett and Eddie Jay Windom of McLean, Dunk Porter and Jim Jamison of Wheeler, Eddie Kleibrink of White Deer and Jim Arthur of Pampa. A few coaches have also recommended Ben Rutz and Bill Hughes of Booker, Jim Odom of Memphis and Joe Rudy of Wellington.

Coach Brown has already visited Plainview to approve Tom Sawyer and also showed interest in Lonnie Whitfield and Jerry James. He left this morning to visit friendly enemy John Shields of the Borger News-Herald and get the poop on David Dillingham and other good boys from Borger, Phillips and Dumas.

The likeable Cougar scout also plans to hit Amarillo to see Ricky Hickman of Caprock, Don Shanklin of Carver, Mike Sullivan and Bill Walton of Palo Duro, Richard Ross of Tascosa, etc., etc.

Coach Brown tried to shanghai me back to see the UH frosh play North Texas tomorrow night, but the lack of a flight back to Amarillo which would get me home Friday morning and the return of Randy Matson this evening nullified those plans. The Cougars will play at Arlington State on a Thursday night later this season however, and the Ol' Swami plans to be there.

White Deer Tangles With Tough Rockets

WHITE DEER — Colie Huffman is still taking 'em one at a time.

The rotund and popular coach of the White Deer Bucks, despite being on top of the district heap, looks ahead each week to nothing but Friday night's game, and in a district where every game is tooth and nail, you can see why.

"This will be the hardest game we play and the toughest team we have faced up to this time," the Round Man said of Wellington. "There is no such thing as an easy game in this district and Wellington, last year's champ, is one of the finest teams in this conference."

In order to win, we'll have to play a superior game, put out our finest team effort, and most of all, we can't afford to make a single mistake or Wellington will capitalize on it."

Huffman returned to his usual cheerful outlook as he admitted to a fine team effort in last week's win over Clarendon.

"Crying Colie" was lavish with praise of the team and assistants Ronnie Mills and Jackie Moss for the win. Getting the highest rating for offensive play was big sophomore Vernon Marlar, on defense it was Gary Smith. Burl Pipes also rated his highest offensive effort of the season and Calvin Luman was another defensive standout.

Huffman pointed out that Gary Smith and brother Charles had gotten either highest offensive or defensive rating for the Bucks eight times this season.

"Clarendon was real ready to play and had a great deal of incentive to win," reviewed Colie, "we were fortunate enough to get a good punt return to put us over the hump. We were very glad to win, but we couldn't have done it without the rushing of the linemen and the play of the defensive secondary. We need another effort like that this week."

Oregon State Coach Honored

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Len Casanova had two special reasons for wanting to beat Washington.

When he took over as football coach at Oregon in 1951, Washington clobbered his Webfoots, 63-6. The next year it was almost as bad — 49-0. In fact, Casanova's record against the Huskies is 10 defeats, three victories and one tie.

One of those three victories came last Saturday at Seattle, Oregon winning 7-0, on a little-used tackle eligible play—one of the few Casanova was sent in from the bench.

It was the 10th straight win for Oregon over two seasons—tying a school record—and it vaulted the Webfoots into the top 10 in the United Press International coaches' poll for the first time since 1957—the last season that Oregon went to the Rose Bowl.

As a result, Casanova, who is president of the American Football Coaches Association, today was named coach of the week by UPI.

"I have to be amazed, I'll admit that," Casanova commented about Oregon's flawless 6-0 record that also included wins over Penn State and Pittsburgh. "I've been particularly amazed at our defense."

The Webfoot defensive crew, called "Casey's Commandos" after linebacker Tim Casey, has intercepted 15 rival passes and recovered 16 opponents' fumbles so far. But the real reason Oregon is riding high is quarterbacking Bob Berry.

"His leadership and ability is the key," Casanova said. "He's come through tremendously as a performer and team leader."

NBA Expands

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The National Basketball Association will expand to 10 teams for the 1965-66 season, President Walter Kennedy announced today.

"We have received formal applications from San Diego, Dallas, Kansas City, Cleveland, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Houston," said Kennedy, "and they all have good places in which to play." Other cities also are being considered.

Kennedy said the league was committed to increase to 10 teams and that next year would be the time. Currently it is playing with nine.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International
Texas A&M Coach Hank Foldberg said Tuesday he was happy about how his men moved the ball against Baylor last Saturday. But he had misgivings about the way they will operate against Arkansas.

"The Razorbacks have a good defensive team," Foldberg said. "It's one that has held the foes to an average of 107 yards rushing and 99 passing, and we'll have to be at our best to move the football against them."

Blocking Trouble

In Fayetteville, Arkansas coach Frank Broyles was not available for comment Tuesday on his team's progress, but the Razorbacks appeared troubled about their blocking, which was not especially strong last week-end against Wichita.

The Razorback defense had a closed-door session Monday, and Tuesday's workout was a lesson in blocking with some agility drills thrown in.

Five members of the injured-ridden Texas Longhorns missed Tuesday's workout, and a sixth was hurt during the session. Ken Gainer, who had been out for a month with a bad knee, injured the knee again.

The Longhorns worked on SMU's defense, running plays against it.

"Good Game"

Southern Methodist had a workout that stressed both offense and defense. After it was over, coach Hayden Fry said, "SMU's due for a good game... and it will take a good game to beat Texas."

The Baylor Bears injury list dwindled a little, but four players are still sitting out workouts in the dressing room.

Tackle Dwight Hood and flanker Paul Becton were out with leg injuries and Ramsey Muniz and Clint Mitchell were downed by flu. End Jack Eisenhart and center Ernest Erickson managed to make practice. They worked out without pads.

Texas Christian had a hard two-hour workout in preparation for Saturday at Baylor. The Horned Frogs are trying to tack another victory onto their two-game winning streak.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders had a look at Rice offense and defense patterns in their workout Tuesday, and coach J. T. King said he thought his men did well running against Owl defense patterns.

Ayers Hurt
Rice staged a similar pageant in Houston, with redshirt L. V. Benningfield starring in the role of Raider ace Donny Anderson.

Howard Ayers, Owl starting left end, was out with an injured shoulder. The team doctor said Ayers would miss the week's workouts but probably would be able to play against Tech.

Stratford Can Clinch District Title Friday

By United Press International
Stratford and Big Lake are in a position to clinch ties for their district titles this week on a Texas schoolboy football Class A schedule amply dotted with key district games.

Stratford, in fact, can assure itself of a berth in the playoffs by beating Sunray in District 1, since its lone remaining game would be against Panhandle, which already has lost two district games.

Big Lake, which defeated Ozona in a showdown last week can assure itself of a tie for the District 8 crown by beating Menard, but the final team on the schedule—Sonora—has lost only one game and could move into the playoff picture if it gets by Ozona this week.

Important district tilts on this week's schedule include Idalou at Lorenzo and Ralls at Petersburg in 4-A, Seagraves at Plains in 5-A, Albany vs. Baird in 10-A, Wylie vs. Frisco in 15-A, Hallsville at White Oak in 19-A, San Augustine at Timpan in 20-A, Elkhart at Grapeland in 21-A, Rosebud vs. Buffalo in 22-A, Hubbard vs. Lorena in 23-A, Schulenburg vs. Smithville in 25-A, and Rio Hondo at Sharyland in 32-A.

Rosebud and Wylie are among the 10 undefeated teams left in the division, although Rosebud has been tied twice. Coahoma, Clifton, Wylie, Bremond, Hull-Daisetta and Three Rivers are unbeaten and untied, while Rosebud, Woodsboro, and Academy have been tied twice and James Bowie once without defeat.

Coahoma plays Rotan, Clifton meets Itasca, James Bowie is at Talco, Bremond meets Fairfield, Academy plays Granger, Hull-Daisetta faces Tarkington, Three Rivers plays Stockdale and Woodsboro meets Orange Grove without too much threat to their records.

The schedule by districts (all games Friday and all games district unless otherwise noted):

- CLASS A
1—Gruber at Claude, Stratford at Sunray.
2—Canadian at Memphis, McLean at Clarendon, White Deer at Wellington.
3—Springlake at Hale Center, Silverton at Farwell, Sudduth at Kress.
4—Spur at Crosbyton, Idalou at Lorenzo, Ralls at Petersburg.
5—Tahoka at O'Donnell, Seagraves at Plains, Stanton at Wink.
6—Coahoma at Rotan, Merzel at Roscoe, Roby at Jim Ned, SATURDAY — Abilene, Wylie at Abilene.
7—Clint at Cavett, Van Horn at Fabens.
8—Clarendon at Big Lake, Eldorado at Rankin, Junction at Itasca, Ozona at Sonora.
9—Early at Rochelle, Burnet at Marble Falls, Santa Anna at Goldthwaite.
10—Baird at Albany, Clyde at Cross Plains, Ranger at DeLeon.
11—Crowell at Knox City, Henrieville at Holiday, Padouah at Munday.
12—Bord at Keller, Millspaw at Springtown.
13—Joshua at Alvarado, Itasca at Clifton, Glen Rose at Whitney.
14—Farris at Cedar Hill, De Soto at Midland.
15—Farmersville at Celina, Frisco at Wylie, Pilot Point at Princeton.
16—Fannindel at Honey Grove, Wolfe City at Whitesboro.
17—Bogata at Queen City, James Bowie at Hughes Springs, Talco at Jefferson.

Bad News Good

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jim (Bad News) Barnes, the No. 1 draft pick in the National Basketball Association this year, signed a contract Tuesday with the New York Knickerbockers.

The six-foot-eight, 240 pound center and forward was a standout in college for Texas Western, where he averaged 29.1 points and 19.2 rebounds per game during his senior year. He also was a member of the U.S. Olympic basketball team which captured the gold medal at Tokyo.

MRS. ANNE WALTERS, Englewood, Colo., a car owner who tried a sample of Skelly's additive, Kootane, reports: "After Kootane, our car started faster, particularly on cold mornings. It had greater pick-up, and ran much more smoothly." (from Kootane Report #6)

What results can you get with Kootane? It's easy to find out. Just try 3 tankfuls of Skelly Kootane Gasoline, in your car, in your kind of driving!

Shocks At Shorthorns Tomorrow

The Pampa Shockers, seeking to even their 3-4 record, take to the road tomorrow to visit the Caprock Shorthorns at 4 p.m.

"We don't know too much about 'em," admitted Shocker coach Don Myers of the first foe in Amarillo this season. "Their record is poorer than ours, they've only won one game."

In their last outing against the Monterey Lancers, the 'Horns dropped a 32-8 decision. Their win this season has been over Canyon, they are winless in district play. Their chief scoring threats are Clarence Vaughn and Mike Tanner.

The Shocker coach was pleased to report no new injuries, for a change, to his crippled squad. "We may get to use Larry Keyser this week," he reported, "the rest of the injured are still out."

Commenting on the Shockers' loss to unbeaten Monterey last game, when the locals had the undefeated Lancers down 8-6 in the final minute of the game, only to have the visitors pull it out of the fire, he said "We were real disappointed. We had Monterey beaten until those last seconds. The kids took the loss real hard. . . they'll get after 'ol Caprock this week."

Myers and assistant Norm Phillips praised the defensive play of Bull Heiskell. Glen Lewis, Big Daddy Cary and Bobby Holt. "Offensively, they keyed on Heiskell, wouldn't let him move, but that is why our outside plays were opening up. We were fighting for that extra yardage and they were tackling the ball, that's why we were fumbling. We were pretty well pleased with the team effort. They wanted to win and they gave it all they had. We're just gonna have to try to score more than one touchdown a game to win very many."

AAU Offers NCAA Truce

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jay-Ehret Mahoney, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, waved a flag of truce today and asked the NCAA to rejoin his group so that all could work toward the improvement of athletics in United States.

Mahoney, just returned from Tokyo, where he watched American athletes score smashing triumphs in the Olympic Games, said the results proved that the American way of handling athletes, as administered by the AAU, was proved to be the best.

"We don't have to worry about the government-subsidized athlete, such as they have in Russia," he said. "We proved that our way is the best. I would be against government subsidization."

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Constitution vs. The Great Society

The constitutional debate in the Presidential campaign is pregnant with bitter controversy. In the foreground of current dialogues on the Supreme Court and federal-state relations loom such "gut" issues as religion, race, welfare, crime, Communism and smut.

The constitutional wrangle assumes such vast proportions because it embodies the basic philosophies of the two parties and the Presidential candidates.

By denouncing the growth of the federal government and recent decisions of the Supreme Court, the Republican party strikes at the roots of recent trends in American politics. The Democrats, satisfied that current constitutional doctrine represents a broad public consensus, would continue to pursue national policies they say will create a "Great Society."

In addition to its general warning against "the mounting assault of expanding centralized power," the Republican platform, singled out two recent Supreme Court decisions for reversal — the 1963 ruling against prayers in public schools and the 1964 order for equal population in state legislative districts.

Republican Presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has called these two decisions, "leading examples" of the current Supreme Court's lack of faith in "the constitutional tradition of limited government." He has also accused the Court of showing, in recent decisions, "obssessive concern for the rights of the criminal defendant."

Criticism of what Goldwater called the "raw and naked power" of the Supreme Court can be expected to find a sympathetic ear among those who reject other controversial decisions by the Court.

No supreme court ruling in recent history has provoked such vehement anti-Court sentiment as the 1954 school desegregation decision aroused among white Southerners, on whom Goldwater strategists rely for a winning margin. Goldwater's vote against the Civil Rights Act of 1964 on the ground that its public accommodations and its fair employment sections are unconstitutional would also appeal to Southerners and to those in other regions who oppose the direction, pace and methods of the civil rights movement.

Among conservatives a residue of anti-Court feeling also remains from recent decisions on civil liberties, particularly as they affect law enforcement, Communists and obscene publications.

Goldwater has indicated that, as President, his judicial appointments would "consider the need to redress constitutional interpretation in favor of the public."

The general Democratic reaction to Republican efforts to raise constitutional issues has been to treat them as though they had already been decided, and the decisions accepted by the great majority of the people.

But even before the Republican convention President Johnson had warned against "phantom fears," that the federal government has become a major menace to individual liberty.

In response to Goldwater's criticisms of the Supreme Court, President Johnson Sept. 12 said he felt there is "nothing to be gained by involving another independent branch of government in a political campaign."

The Democratic National Committee released a Sept. 15 statement by House Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler which accused Goldwater of using "The United States Supreme Court as a political football. The Court is defenseless, since it quite properly must stay outside of the arena of political debate. It is thus a natural target for someone like Senator Goldwater."

The essential difference between the two parties on the issue of federal-state relations is implicit in the preambles of their platforms. While the Democratic platform opens with the statement, "America is one Nation, One People," the Republican platform protests, "Year after year freedom, diversity and individual, local and state responsibility have given way to regimentation, conformity and subservience to central power."

Both platforms extol individual freedom. But while the Republicans warn that government is enslaving the individual, the Democrats insist that government must help the individual to increase his freedom. "Our task," the Democrats maintain, "is to make the national purpose serve the human purpose; that every person shall have the opportunity to become all that he or she is capable of becoming."

Asking the government to help us regain lost individual liberty is like asking the hangman to cure our headache.

Who Cares?

"But who cares?" asks an editorial in the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette with respect to dishonesty and corruption in the very highest places of the government.

Written by W. L. White, famous editor — son of the illustrious William Allen White, the editorial gives the presidents of Mr. White's lifetime Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Franklin Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy — a grade of A plus for personal honesty.

No one made a thin dime out of public office although Harding, who died owning only his stock in Marion (Ohio) Star, was corrupt in a way because he didn't seem to mind if his friends played with the cash register.

Then Mr. White addresses himself to Lyndon Johnson. A poor man when he first ran for Congress, Johnson has parlayed his political career into a fortune estimated "as low as $9 million by the Washington Star and as high as $14 million, according to Life Magazine."

Mr. White writes: "The important thing, however, is that most if not all of this fortune seems to have been made not only while Lyndon Johnson was a public servant, but because he was a public servant."

He adds: "If a man uses public office to get financial favors for himself then by and definition, this is corruption. And on this definition he is the most corrupt man to have entered the White House in my time."

Mr. White admits that "he cares."

But, anybody else care?

Shaping Up the Folks in Peyton Place
NEW YORK (NEA) — WE ARE a little startled to be saying this. But to our way of thinking, the new television serial "Peyton Place" is just about the best show of this season—or any other, for that matter.

We probably would not have felt that way a year ago. On the other hand, we were not writing this column a year ago and had not yet heard from the many experts who know what people are interested in.

But having been instructed in this science, we can now see that "Peyton Place" fills almost every requirement.

—It tells a story but never draws a conclusion. It does not ask that you bring anything to it, and it does not suggest that you take anything from it. It is never excellent, so it does not have to pay the price of occasionally missing its mark. It aims for neither wit nor warmth, but only for passion.

It is, in scientific terms, about people and not about ideas.

There appears, however, to be one small flaw in this otherwise perfect work.

While people may be interested to see that the people of Peyton Place are not interested in what people are interested in.

This is a minor problem, of course, and can be easily fixed without sacrificing mediocrity or letting any ideas interfere with the wonderfully simple story line.

To begin with, George Anderson who seems to have an average of 11.2 years of education and a family of 3.3 members. In the nearly two months since George first appeared, he has not once mentioned Viet Nam, General De Gaulle or the Berlin Wall. All he ever seems to talk about is his suspicion that his wife is having an affair with another man.

George Anderson's daughter, Betty, is a typical teen-ager. However, we have not once heard her talk about clothes, face care or The Beatles' latest hit. She spends all her time moping over the fact that she is pregnant.

The father of the child is Rod Harrington, son of the richest man in town and obviously the product of a privileged upbringing and the finer things of life. In real life, if we know what people are interested in (and we most certainly do) Rod would long ago have said:

"Say, dad, this three-man Russian space flight has me worried. How does it make the United States look in the eyes of the uncommitted nations?"

But instead, the wooden fellow does nothing but moon over Allison MacKenzie, illegitimate daughter of Constance MacKenzie, who worries all the time about whether or not she is frigid instead of being interested in the interesting news that Debbie Reynolds and Elizabeth Taylor have reconciled.

And Constance MacKenzie's beau, young Dr. Rossi—well, he hasn't mentioned Queen Elizabeth's visit to Canada or "Newsweek's" exclusive interview with Leopold Stokowski.

We simply cannot believe that these people in Peyton Place are so engrossed in their own destinies that they never notice the really important and interesting things, but fritter their time away trying amateurishly to make some order out of chaos.

Backstage Washington
Burgeoning KGB, Strategic in Forcing Khrushchev Retirement, Also Strategic in Russian Power Politics, CIA Reports Indicate

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The strategic role of the KGB, the Soviet secret police, in the forced "retirement" of Khrushchev spotlights the growing power of this worldwide Communist organization and the men who control its covert operations.

Headed by Vladimir Senichastgy, a virtual unknown, the powerful 500,000-man secret police force operates under direct orders from Mikhail Suslov, the Soviet Communist Party's chief ideologist, and Nikolai Podgorny, head of the party's internal security commission.

This Suslov-Podgorny control over the KGB gives the two Communist leaders temporary balance-of-power over Leonid Brezhnev, first secretary of the Party, who has the public place of honor in the Kremlin's new ruling cabal.

The two leaders' power includes authority over key Soviet military units, all Communist parties abroad, Russia's internal police force, Russian diplomats abroad, and the vast international Communist espionage and intelligence network.

According to one U.S. intelligence estimate, the KGB now has agents operating in every major Western country; several hundred have been placed in strategic positions in these governments, including the U.S.

Since early 1961, the KGB has sent into the West more than 200 deadly trained assassins, equipped with weapons that few people have ever heard of or seen.

GROWING LIKE TOPY — The octopus-like KGB, which was temporarily curbed after Stalin's death, has been growing and extending its deadly power ever since Khrushchev cracked down on Marshal Zhukov in the late 1950s when the latter was Minister of Defense.

In forcing the popular Marshal Zhukov to retire, Khrushchev permitted the KGB to extend its power over the GRU (Soviet military intelligence-espionage organization), because he feared the GRU was being used to train persons to assassinate him.

This unpublished story is detailed in a national intelligence estimate, kept tightly locked in the Central Intelligence Agency's files, as follows:

"During the year that he was chief of the GRU, beginning in October 1956, Colonel General Sergey Matveyevich Shtemenko established a sabotage-diversionist school near Tula or Tambov, with an enrollment of 200 specialists who would eventually be assigned to worldwide sabotage groups.

"The school was created on Shtemenko's initiative, although with the concurrence of Marshal Zhukov, then minister of defense, but without the knowledge of Khrushchev. Later, fearing that Zhukov planned to use these specialists against him, Khrushchev had Zhukov retired from active duty and Shtemenko demoted to the position of deputy commander of a military district. Officially Shtemenko was censured by the political apparatus for having conspired with Zhukov to establish the school without the permission of the Central Committee.

"At the time of its formation, the school reportedly was closely affiliated with, if not subordinated to, the GRU operations. Despite Shtemenko's ouster, the school has continued to operate and is now under the KGB,

National Outlook
Slow-Down in the Acceleration Program

About two years ago Congress passed the Public Works Acceleration Act which authorized the provision of federal funds for construction projects in areas of substantial and persistent unemployment. The Act was intended to make new jobs quickly in such areas, but only as long as their unemployment problems continued.

It now appears that the agency administering the Act has, contrary to the intentions of Congress, continued to commit public funds to projects in areas for many months after they ceased to qualify as places of substantial and persistent unemployment. This is revealed in a report by the Comptroller General of the United States.

The Comptroller General is a watchdog, appointed to see that the funds appropriated by Congress are spent in accord with its wishes.

Flagrant Case — The amount provided in the Detroit area is the most flagrant case in point. Through April 1, 1964, more accelerated public works funds had been committed in that area than in 47 of the 50 states of the union.

Actually, Detroit had recovered from its unemployment problem before the program was even started. By September, 1962, the recovery of the automobile industry had reduced unemployment in Detroit to levels comparable with those in the nation at large. There hardly seems to have been any case for giving this area special assistance at the expense of taxpayers all over the country.

The steps in the process by which the improvement in employment in Detroit has gradually come to official notice make an interesting case history. The Michigan Employment Security Commission was expressing its satisfaction with the improvement in late 1962. In July, 1963, the Secretary of Labor removed the Detroit area from his official list of places burdened with severe unemployment.

In August 1963, the Area Redevelopment Administration announced its intention of terminating the area's designation as a "redevelopment area"—which designation made it eligible for assistance — probably in February 1964. Then on February 20, 1964 the termination finally went into effect.

Facts Ignored — But lo, on that very same day the municipality of Detroit — as distinguished from the Detroit labor market area — was designated as a new redevelopment area. The same steps are now being gone through to get this off the list and (hopefully) the whole process will come to an end in January, 1965. Meanwhile public funds continue to be spent on accelerated public works in Detroit.

What is happening is not so much an acceleration of public works as slow-down in administrative recognition of facts.

The Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

EDITOR'S NOTE — a letter to the Clearing House has been received with a donation to a legal fund for the defense in the Chewing - Stark case. (The three persons charged with littering as an aftermath of distributing anti-Communist literature) If the writer will send us his or her name and address we will be glad to publish the letter.

Editor: What does Johnson and his hand-picked running-mate offer us? Well, LBJ has given us Estes, Baker and Jenkins for one thing. For another he gave us an object lesson in the 1948 election. That is, keep recounting until you get enough votes to win. He was also generous enough to let Austin have one TV Station. (Lady Bird feathered her nest there, to speak). However, if integrity is important, these things can be overlooked.

The man can be judged on the things he has done for his country. He gave us the Civil Rights bill, which has infinite arm-twisting possibilities since using flexible rules. He is also the hero of Tiomkin Gulf. He was so proud of that he scheduled it for prim TV time. Too bad about that plot, though. A little more secrecy might have prevented that.

He wants us to be well informed so he gave us a "non-political" speech to catch us up on the world situation. Then he made sure the FCC and the networks "understood" that equal time for the opposition would not be necessary. He is a man for setting records also, he has scored a new high in government expenditure.

Now, if principles are important to us we know we can rely upon Humphrey. He has principles. This is important to keep in mind, with Johnson's heart attack record, you know. HHHH is a founder, and present member of ADA. This upstanding organization advocates those fine "Great Society" principles we all admire. Recognition of Red China, surrender of our country to the U.N., and "Liberalization" of our attitude toward communism are only a few of these.

So we are confronted with the thought that whichever one of these makes it through the term, there will always be a "reasonable" man in office. Of course, though, the reasonableness in this case is defined by ADA, CORE and COPE, along with other of the curious crew organizations. But that is what the country wants. Isn't it?

Your guest editorial Sunday, "Who's the Extremist?" was interesting. A look at the two other co-founders of Hubert Humphrey's organization, Americans for Democratic Action, is given by Frank L. Kluckhohn in his book, "America: Listen!"

Kluckhohn was an adviser to the first U. S. Sec'y. of Defense and has been a ranking officer in the State Dept. He was Washington, foreign, and White House correspondent for the New York Times for 20 years and is a friend of President Kennedy's family.

In "America: Listen!" he writes, "James Wechsler, one of the three founders of ADA, was once a self-admitted official of the Young Communist League."

Kluckhohn confesses amazement "that this organization can exist and wield such influence without most Americans being aware of it," and continues with, "Another of the original founders of ADA, Joseph L. Rauh Jr., an attorney, defended Wm. W. Remington of the Commerce Dept., while the 'ADA World,' the organization's publication, proclaimed Remington's 'innocence'. Remington was upheld on appeal to the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa. for lying about his Communist activities and associations."

The third co-founder of ADA is their friend, who has been tapped to fill the highest vacant office in the government of the U. S., Hubert H. Humphrey.

Editor:

It is proverbial that "who ever lies with dogs is apt to get up with fleas on him" (meaning, of course, that both are likely to have something in common). This dictum of observation should not be ignored by editors, candidates or voters in the present political campaign. They should remember that it is only the stupid, the venal and the cowardly that condone and support indecency and dishonor in public office.

In this country (unlike in Rome) it is not enough that "Caesar's wife should be above suspicion," but that neither he nor any of his intimates should be suspect. Otherwise an election could be but little more than a communist counting of proletarian noses.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Presidential Issues

From Business Standpoint

BY SAM CAMPBELL

General Eisenhower says the two presidential candidates are not bringing out the issue clearly. From a strictly business standpoint, just the opposite is true. Not since 1932 has the business issue been presented so basically and so clearly.

Although Senator Goldwater has the reputation for giving straight answers in short words that anybody can understand, President Johnson has been no less candid.

How for instance can anything be clearer than the President's statement on national solvency and taxation: "We are going to try to take all of the money that we think is unnecessarily being spent and take it from the 'haves' and give it to the 'have nots' that need it so much."

32 One-Syllable Words
This statement was made on Jan. 15, 1964, and subsequently was recorded in the Congressional Record, Page 2227. I personally looked it up to be sure the quotation is accurate and in context. You can find it in the library.

The President's statement contains 36 words. Of these, 32 are words of one syllable, and three are words of two syllables. Any schoolchild — with perhaps a little help on the hard word "unnecessarily" — can read the statement and tell what it means. It is hardly conceivable that General Eisenhower would not know what the statement means if he has read it.

You may wonder whether you are a "have" from whom money is to be taken or a "have not" to whom money is to be given. President Johnson is completely frank on who shall decide this. The President said, "WE are going to try to take all of the money that WE THINK is unnecessarily being spent..."

Therefore, if you had any notion that you would be able to walk up to a U.S. pay window and say "I am a 'have not', give me some money," you can forget it because the President flatly says it isn't going to be that way.

In event you fall into the "have" class, you may be under the impression that the "take" will skip you because you are a workman and truly earned what you have. The President, however, gives you no such assurance. Five-sixths of the total revenue from the personal income tax comes from taxpayers, in the lowest bracket. This is not likely to be altered as long as federal expenditures are at the $100 billion level.

Senator Goldwater is equally forthright on the "have" and "have not" question. His proposal is to reduce the personal income tax over a five-year period during which government expenditures would be scaled down. This is designed to put more money in the pockets of the "have nots" and also would help the "haves". The Goldwater program does not require anybody in Washington to sort out people into two different groups.

From a dollars-and-cents standpoint, the two candidates do offer a definite choice.

IRS Advises on Sick Pay Change

Taxpayers were reminded today of the changes that the 1964 tax law made in the provisions on sick pay.

Richard V. White, administrative officer in the Pampa office of Internal Revenue said the new provisions apply to all sick pay attributable to periods of absence beginning after 1963, as a result of illness or injury.

Employees who receive more than 75 per cent of their regular weekly rate of pay while absent from work because of illness or injury must wait 30 calendar days before sick pay is excludable from their taxable income. Then up to $100 a week may be excluded.

Employees receiving no more than 75 per cent of their regular weekly wage while absent have no waiting period if they are hospitalized at least one day during such absence. If the taxpayer is not hospitalized, the waiting period is seven calendar days. The maximum that may be excluded is $76 a week for the first 30 days, thereafter the maximum is $100 a week.

When a period of absence due to an injury or illness began in 1963 and sick pay was subsequently received in 1964, the provisions of the old law will apply to the sick pay for the 1963 period, White said. These provisions state that up to $100 a week can be excluded when an employee is hospitalized or

Joe Kilgore to Move to Austin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., said today he will move to Austin, Tex. He plans to practice law there.

The lawmaker, who is not seeking re-election, said he will move to Texas capital city in the near future. He said he will have an announcement later as to who his law associates will be.

Kilgore, of McAllen, said he hopes to be able to complete the move next week, but that will depend on whether he can get the moving company that soon.

There is no exclusion until after a seven-day waiting period when ill and no hospitalization is required.

Hayes Outlines 9-Point Program Of Improvements

Bill Hayes, Congressman - at large candidate, announced recently at a coffee in the Pampa area a nine-point program of improvements for Texas, which he said he would incorporate into proposed laws next year and during his two year term if elected.

Hayes' nine - point program is as follows:

1. Better regulations of a and limitations on foreign imports of oil, cattle, lumber and other products vital to our people.

2. A direct tax credit from your income tax balance for each son and daughter in college. (Tax credit on the balance rather than a straight deduction).

3. Instead of the Medicare attached to Social Security, he proposed immediately an additional allowance from $1,200 per year to $2,400 that a person on Social Security is allowed to earn under our free enterprise system, without penalty, to help our senior citizens live in dignity.

4. An increase in pay for enlisted personnel of our armed forces and the lower pay grades of civil service personnel as opposed to Pool's fight for his own $7,500 per year pay increase and big increases for other top echelon politicians. This program could largely be paid for by cutting off all foreign aid spending to communist dominated countries.

5. We must maintain a strong military posture in order to insure peace throughout the world. It is therefore imperative that we immediately develop new weapons systems, including manned bombers and especially an effective anti - missile system.

6. Because the farmers of America are an important part of the back bone of our nation, we should take steps to assure them unhampered progress toward a better standard of living.

7. A strong water conservation program.

8. Work to keep the U.S. dollar strong and valuable and a gradual reduction of our National Debt.

9. To oppose Communism and Socialism at all levels of government.

Election Ballots Ordered Held

LAREDO (UPI)—Dist. Judge E. J. Kazen today ordered the Nov. 3 general election ballots in Webb County impounded upon request of Dist. Atty. Oscar M. Laurel. Officials of the Republican party had asked for the safeguarding of ballots to insure a fair election.

It was the seventh consecutive year that the GOP had gotten ballots in Webb County impounded by court order.

New Attempt Launched to Save Killers

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI)— Another attempt to save GI killers James Douglas Latham and George Ronald York from the gallows was launched Tuesday in Federal District Court.

An attorney acting in behalf of the American Civil Liberties Union filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to free the pair, confessed slayers of seven persons in a cross-country crime spree from Florida to Colorado.

Earlier appeals from their conviction and the death sentence for the slaying of Otto Ziegler, a western Kansas railroad man, had been rejected by courts at all levels, including the Kansas and United States Supreme Courts.

Latham, now 21, and York, 20, are in death row at the state penitentiary in Lansing, awaiting the setting of a new date for their execution.

Roy Cook, Kansas City, Kan., attorney who has represented the pair through the later phases of their case, said he promised relatives of York, in Jacksonville, Fla., and of Latham, in Mauriceville, Tex., that he would "do all he could for them," but that today's action was in behalf of the civil liberties union.

Latham and York admitted that they killed seven persons whom they met in their journeys through Florida, Tennessee, Illinois, Kansas and Colorado after they escaped in May of 1962, from an Army stockade at Ft. Hood, Tex.

TEN ESCAPE

NORTHEIM, Germany (UPI)—Ten persons, aged 17 to 23, escaped without incident across the mine-infested German border into West Germany last weekend. West German customs officials reported Monday.

TOLL RISE

MANILA (UPI)— Casualty estimates in the sinking Sunday of an inter-island motor launch rose to 25 Monday as more bodies were recovered by air and sea searchers.

The launch Sitti Bulkiya sank in rough weather off Lugus Tapul Island. Seven passengers and crew still were missing.

I AM HAPPY TO JOIN THE CITIZENS OF NORTHERN TEXAS IN HEARTY TRIBUTE TO RALPH YARBOROUGH. AS I TOLD MY FRIENDS IN STONEWALL TWO WEEKS AGO, TEXAS HAS NOT HAD A BETTER CHAMPION OF THE PEOPLE THAN R A L P H YARBOROUGH. HE FULLY DESERVES A TERM OF SIX YEARS IN THE U.S. SENATE AND I AM HOPEFUL THAT ALL THE GOOD DEMOCRATS AND GOOD AMERICANS IN T E X A S WHO LOOK TO A BRIGHT FUTURE WILL SEND HIM AS WELL AS OUR PRESIDENTIAL TICKET TO WASHINGTON IN NOVEMBER —

— LYNDON B JOHNSON

EXCERPT FROM THE SPEECH OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON AT STONEWALL—Aug. 29, '64

"If I can have a few more words, I want to take this chance to tell you how proud I am and how grateful I am for steadfast, courageous support that I have received from Senator Yarborough and his wife, Opal Yarborough. You have heard and you have read that Senator Yarborough and I have had differences at times. I have read a good deal more about them and I have heard a good deal more about them than I was ever aware of. But I do want to say this, that I don't think that Texas has had a Senator during my lifetime whose record I am more familiar with than I am with Senator Yarborough's. And I don't think Texas has had a Senator that voted for the people more than Senator Yarborough has voted for them. And no member of the United States Senate has stood up and fought for me or fought for the people more since I became President than Ralph Yarborough. He is the Democratic nominee of the good Democrats of this State for the six year assignment of United States Senator. We have one Republican Senator from Texas already, and I am hopeful that all of you who claim to be Democrats, all of you who pretend to be Democrats, all of you who want to be Democrats, all of you who are really good Americans will go out, come election day, and send to Washington to help Hubert Humphrey and me in the program for all the people of this Nation, Ralph Yarborough."
