Report Says Viet War May Spread

US Stages Massive 'Copter Operation

SAIGON (UPI)—A swarm of 137 U.S. helicopters lifted more than 1,000 Vietnamese troops into battle in a jungle east of Saigon Saturday in the biggest such operation of the war. The Red infested area was blasted beforehand by 60 American jet bombers.

But the massive operation brought only frustration. An American military spokesman said that by nightfall the government troops thrashing in the dense jungle had failed to make contact with any Communist troops—or find even a single suspected Communist.

The helicopter assault was staged in the same general vicinity that was blasted by massive American jet bomber strikes of the two previous days.

The American helicopters loaded with South Vietnamese government troops whirled out of the skies shortly after dawn and dropped into a small jungle clearing 45 miles east southeast of the capital.

Prior to the helicopter operation, a force of three-score American bombers blasted the jungles surrounding the landing zone to clear the area of a suspected Communist troop concentration.

In Washington, a white paper issued by the U.S. State Department, said that Communist infiltration into South Viet Nam has increased to a new high. The document, citing grounds for the recent U.S. air strikes against North Viet Nam indicted Communist China and North Viet Nam as the fomenters of the war in South Viet Nam.

The U.S. spokesman had disclosed earlier that the U.S. Air Force had blasted the region with 59 B57 jet bombers even before Saturday's supporting airstrikes.

He said that even though the ground troops failed to make contact with any Communist guerrillas, 30 more bombing runs were made in the region by an undisclosed number of the B57 twin-jet light bombers.

Prior to Saturday's helicopter assault, the largest helicopter operation was the H-15-craft operation "Brushfire," which also left American military men disappointed.

U.S. military sources have pointed out that considering the cost of such massive helicopter operations, the Viet Cong guerrillas usually come out the winners. The expense of Saturday's operation was estimated at more than $100,000.

While the jungle operation was waged Gen. Hunter Harris, commander-in-chief of the U.S. Air Force in the Pacific, conferred with Maj.-Gen. Tran Van Minh, who was named acting commander of the Vietnam ese armed forces to succeed ousted strongman Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Harris arrived in Saigon Friday to discuss the increasing role of airpower in the battle against the Communists in Viet Nam.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad cancelled an appearance Saturday at the heavily guarded convention of his faithful where heavyweight champion Cassius Clay put on a display of boxing. Muhammad's son said the "messenger" was "not interested in sports and play."

The son, Emmanuel Muhammad, denied that his father had been scheduled to appear. The official program of the Muslim convention said "messenger Muhammad" would make two appearances.

"You don't know the precepts of our religion," Emmanuel said. "We don't go for sports and play."

As Emmanuel made the announcement to reporters outside the Muhammad mansion, Clay was staging a boxing exhibition before the Muslim faithful at the Chicago Coliseum. The exhibition had been part of the scheduled program.

It had been reported that Muhammad was passing up Saturday's session of the "three-day convention because he had come down with a bronchial condition and asthma. But Emmanuel said, "He is all right."

Chicago police, Muhammad's Fruit of Islam guards and even the FBI have imposed maximum security precautions to help guard the wispy racist leader in the face of threats that he would be killed this weekend in retaliation for the Sunday slaying of his arch rival Black Nationalist Malcolm X.

Malcolm himself was buried Saturday in New York after one of the most heavily guarded funeral services in the city's history.

Hundreds of his Negro followers followed the casket to the store we have it, Lewis Hdwe. Adv.

White Paper States Reds Building Forces

By NORMAN RUNNION

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States charged Saturday that North Vietnamese aggression is now so massive that American-led defensive warfare no longer can be confined to South Viet Nam alone.

A State Department "white paper" sent today to the United Nations Security Council estimated hard core Viet Cong guerrilla forces at 35,000 with another 60,000 "part-time" supporters.

Equipped with new and more powerful weapons of largely Chinese Communist manufacture, the document said, these Hanoi-directed, supplied and trained guerrillas have stepped up the pace of aggression so that the threat to South Viet Nam "has now become acute."

Both the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments had hoped, the paper said, that the danger could be met within South Viet Nam itself and that any widening of the conflict could be avoided.

"The leaders in Hanoi chose to respond with greater violence," the paper said. "They apparently interpreted restraint as indicating lack of will. Their efforts were pressed with greater vigor and armed attacks and incidents of terror multiplied.

Then, going beyond the original White House explanation that this month's aerial assaults on North Vietnamese targets were retaliatory for specific attacks such as the one on U.S. forces at Pleiku, the document gave this as the reason the war has entered a new phase:

"Clearly the restraint of the past was not providing adequately for the defense of South Viet Nam against Hanoi's open aggression."

It added that "until the regime in Hanoi decides to halt its intervention in the south, or until effective steps are taken to maintain peace and security in the area, the governments of South Viet Nam and the United States will continue necessary

UP, UP, UP — Pampa youths were found outdoors in force Saturday taking advantage of the shirtsleeve weather. A favorite pastime for the youths of yesteryear, kite flying, changed forms to keep pace with the times but still proves to be a favorite outdoor activity for young boys. Seven-year-old Tommy Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas 1136 Seneca, is shown putting an all-plastic kite into the air. It is built to resemble a modified modern airplane.

West Gulf Longshoremen Agree To Terms; End to Strike Seen

By WILLIAM CLAYTON
GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI)—Union and management bargainers agreed Saturday in the 48th day of the dock strike, on a contract that gives west Gulf Coast longshoremen substantial benefits and could bring the tie-up to an end.

The settlement by the shipping companies' negotiating committee and the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) negotiating subcommittee must be approved by the full union committee. Then it must go to the union's rank and file for what is expected to be automatic endorsement. That could take a few days.

The contract covers west Gulf deep sea longshoremen—and warehousemen clerks and checks still must negotiate a contract covering their particular issues, a step anticipated to be brief.

ILA International Vice President W. H. Hopkins announced the agreement at 5:15 CST.

Pattern Agreement
The south Atlantic district of the ILA, only other major unresolved area, in the multi-billion dollar dock strike that once involved all Atlantic and Gulf ports was expected to use the Muhammad's son said the west Gulf agreement as a pattern for a quick contract settlement there.

The west Gulf contract gives longshoremen 80 cents in wage raise and fringe benefits over four years, keeps the union's control of hiring (except for work gang foremen, who will be named by management) and guarantees for the first time in some 40 years that west Gulf longshoremen's work gangs have a minimum size.

The dockers' pay raise is retroactive to the expiration of the last contract, Oct. 1.

The contract grants management a change in working rules so that if a ship fails to arrive, shippers can transfer work gangs to another ship. The previous contract had management's paying longshoremen a certain amount and shippers could not transfer a work gang to another ship.

ILA President Thomas Gleason said the contract "establishes the principal of gang size and makes good inroads against mechanization and automation. It's seniority clause will protect the older men in the industry and stabilize the work. I believe at the end of this contract period, we will have a guaranteed annual wage."

"I am very happy with the attitude of the rank and file here—and the way they fought it out. This contract will pull this district into line with other areas."

The Harvesters led by three at the end of the first period, led by one at halftime, saw the score tied after three quarters and then couldn't contain the taller Tigers in the final eight minutes.

El Paso sank 26 of 47 field goal tries for 55 per cent while the Harvesters connected on 19 of 38 from the field for an even 50 per cent.

Ron Curles paced the Harvester scoring with 28 points and Ropes Roper scored 13.

The Tigers were led by 5'11" Kenny John with 22. El Paso's 5'6" Frank Chavira scored 15.

NEW FUNERAL HOME TO OPEN

Duenkel-Carmichael Dissolve Partnership

Dissolution of a 28-year partnership was announced today by Paul Carmichael and Charles Duenkel, former partners in the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Duenkel announced the purchase of the present funeral home, burial association and Gray County Life Insurance Co. to be known as Duenkel Funeral Home.

At the same time, Carmichael announced the opening of a new funeral home in Pampa to be known as Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors. Partner with Carmichael in the funeral home is Herman Whitley, former employe of the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Duenkel said his funeral home will continue to operate in the present temporary headquarters at 600 W. Browning until repairs and remodeling is completed at 300 W. Browning, the site of the former Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

in addition to Paul Carmichael and Whitley.

The Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home burned Dec. 23.

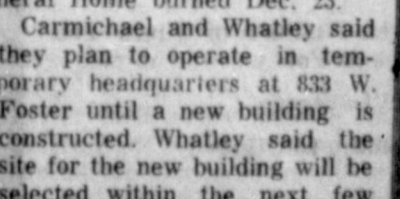

Carmichael and Whitley said they plan to operate in temporary headquarters at 833 W. Foster until a new building is constructed. Whitley said the site for the new building will be selected within the next few days.

Both firms said they plan to operate ambulance services. Duenkel said that his two sons, Charles A. and Eddie, will be associated with him in the Duenkel Funeral Home and other members of the staff will be announced later.

Employees of the Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors will be Bob Carmichael, Harrison Dismukes and G. F. Richmond.

RIDERS ARRIVE IN HOSTON — Some 2,500 trail riders from Louisiana to Central Texas hills began arriving in Houston, Tex., to take part in the opening day parade of the Houston Livestock show and Rodeo. Some of the riders have come several hundred miles by horseback and wagon. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

"No, Mr. President"
It seems reasonable enough, Congress, debating a proposed new law, has doubts about its constitutionality. Why not simply ask the Supreme Court for an advisory opinion? Sooner or later, the Court (sitting only a block away) will have to decide the question anyhow. Why wait for a long, drawn-out test case? Why put a law on the books, and enforce it, only to find out years later that it was unconstitutional all the time?

But the Court would refuse to give Congress an advisory opinion. It would also refuse to advise the President, if he wanted to know—for instance—whether he had the power to issue a sweeping new executive order. Both Congress and the President would have to take their chances, without any guidance from the Supreme Court.

The Court's hands-off policy dates back to a famous exchange of letters in the summer of 1793, between the nation's first President and the nation's first Chief Justice. George Washington, trying to stay neutral between warring France and England, wanted an advisory opinion on 29 points of international law. But John Jay, speaking for the Court, sent a polite reply that amounted to "No, Mr. President." And ever since, the Court has insisted that its job is to decide cases, not to give advice.

This reluctance has been criticized. No doubt it would be useful to know, right away, if a proposed law would be unconstitutional. Delay in finding out can cause major complications. Thus, by the time the Court threw out the National Industrial Recovery Act in 1935, more than 1,000 government agencies were already set up and hard at work.

But the advisory opinion has perils. It could put the Court too close to the legislative or executive process, too close to politics. It could blur the lines of separation between the three branches of government.

Perhaps more important, an advisory opinion is only a theoretical answer to a theoretical question. If it is formed without the sharpening, clarifying effect of an actual conflict. It is formed without the clash of argument between parties having a personal stake in the outcome. It is not the law's way of reaching a decision.

In a few states, the courts do give advisory opinions to the local legislature or governor. But even there they do it sparingly, in only a few special situations. Most legal authorities feel that, as a matter of general policy, John Jay's "No, Mr. President" was the wisest answer.

D. W. BOND JR.
... promoted by Cabot

Bond Promoted; Stinson Retires

Promotion of D. W. Bond Jr. to industrial relations director of Cabot Corporation's Western Division was announced Saturday by E. L. Green Jr., vice president and general manager of Cabot's Western Region.

The promotion becomes effective tomorrow and Bond will succeed Reno Stinson who is retiring after 39 years with the company.

Bond came to Cabot at Ville Platte, La., as a control tester after graduating from Louisiana State University in 1950 with a B.S. Degree in chemical engineering. He held positions of laboratory supervisor, junior engineer, plant engineer, and superintendent of manufacturing and processing before transferring to Pampa as personnel director in November 1959.

For the past four years Bond has handled all Western Region union negotiations. In addition he is in charge of company policy as related to employees, salary, wage, and benefit administration, employee training and development programs, safety programs, scholarship and endowment programs, and mediums of communication.

A deacon in the First Presbyterian Church, president of the Panhandle Personnel Association, and a director of the Pampa Club, Bond is also a member of Top O' Texas Masonic Lodge No. 1381. The Bonds live at 2334 Mary Ellen. They have three children: Daniel, Greig, and Suzanne, ages 13, 10 and 9.

County Certified Brucellosis Free

State Representative Grainger McIlhenny notified Foster Whaley, Gray County agent, by telephone late Friday that Gray County had been approved by both the Texas Animal Health Commission and Doctor John Wilbur, federal representative in Austin, of the agricultural research service, as a modified brucellosis free county.

Whaley said McIlhenny was very instrumental in obtaining an early certification for the county.

The early certification will worth many hundreds of dollars to those people that will be marketing unvaccinated heifers off wheat pasture as well as any breeding stock being sold out of county or state.

McIlhenny said a letter is in route to the county agents of office declaring the certification. Whaley advises anyone that will be marketing breeding cattle and unvaccinated heifers out of county or state to come by his office and pick up a copy of Wilbur's letter.

County GOP to Meet Monday

Harry Harry, chemical engineer for Wesco Chemical Co., Borger, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Gray County Republican Club at 7 p.m. Monday in the Hospitality Room of the First National Bank.

On the business agenda will be an important vote on changes in the Gray County Republican Club's constitution.

White Paper

One such move revealed Friday by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is that the United States will help South Viet Nam add about 100,000 troops to its army and also would send a "few hundred" more U.S. advisers to the area. The document, called "aggression from the north" was sent to the U.N. Security Council to back up U.S. contentions that North Viet Nam is totally responsible for directing the war and subversion in the south. U.S. policy is that there can be no negotiations until North Vietnamese Premier Ho Chi Minh calls a halt.

In summary, this is what the report was about: "The evidence shows that the hard core of the Communist forces attacking South Viet Nam were trained in the north and ordered in to the south by Hanoi. It shows that the key leadership of the Viet Cong, the officers and much of the cadre, many of the technicians, political organizers and propagandists have come from the north and operated under Hanoi's direction.

County Commissioners Slate Monday Meet

County Judge Bill Craig said no specific business is slated to be taken up tomorrow as county commissioners hold their regular semi-monthly meeting. Craig said the only business slated for the meeting is payment of routine bills. The commissioners will meet at 10 a.m. in the county court room.

"Entries are down somewhat this year because teachers are involved in a school-wide evaluation program which has taken time and also the flu epidemic has prevented completion of a number of projects."

The projects will be judged Friday morning.

Mrs. Ledbetter said that problems solving types of projects are encouraged rather than a simply constructed model of something.

Entries have been made in the primary, intermediate, junior and senior high school divisions.

City Post Office To Receive Award

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Pampa and its postal employees have been selected to receive the Postmaster General's "Citation for Excellence" for outstanding maintenance and care of its postal facility, Congressman Walter Rogers announced Saturday.

Congressman Rogers said he was advised by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski that the citation is awarded on the recommendation of the Assistant Postmaster General for Facilities. Only those communities whose postal facilities have received superior ratings in rigid inspections by regional postal officials are eligible for the citation.

The evaluation takes into consideration such factors as unusually attractive grounds, clean and bright lobbies, well-kept walls and other physical surroundings, removal of hazards to safety and a wide range of similar efforts which reflect a well-run post office.

"Gronouski has advised me," Congressman Rogers said, "that Pampa will be cited for maintaining its postal facility in such a superior manner that it provides a clean, attractive and pleasant place in which the public may conduct its postal business."

Open House Set At All Pampa Public Schools

Visitation and open house at Pampa's 11 public schools throughout next week will mark the local observance of Texas Public Schools Week, Monday through Friday.

Parents of school children have been urged to visit their children's school and classrooms anytime during regular school hours next week.

Other activities include a Teacher Appreciation Banquet at Sam Houston School Friday and a stag dinner Wednesday at Pampa Junior High.

The Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Club will each be hosted at a school for their regular weekly luncheons and meetings.

PIF Directors to Get Financial Report

A report on the financial status of the Pampa Industrial Foundation will be given Tuesday at a meeting of the directors in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Frank Culberson, president, said several other items of business may also be brought up. The meeting is set for 10 a.m.

Pampa Police Probe Thefts

A radio and sweater valued at $60 were reported missing yesterday following a break-in at the home of Billy Swaner, 221 N. Somerville.

Police Sgt. George Wallace said the home was entered by prying open a window.

Police were also probing the theft of four hubcaps from an auto owned by Ed. W. Grange, 1230 E. Harvester, Friday night. Grange reported the incident Saturday and said the theft occurred while the car was parked in his driveway. The hubcaps were valued at $25.

Betty Kirlin, 2001 Mary Ellen, reported that someone had stolen an electric blender and bowling bag from her auto. She said she was not sure when the theft occurred. The blender was valued at $49.95 and the bag at $11.95.

Downtown Kiwanis Hosts Ladies Day Lunch

Ladies Day was observed when wives of members were guests at the Friday luncheon of the Downtown Kiwanis Club in First Methodist Church.

The Borger Trio, comprised of Anita Rentfrow, Anna Bellingham and Grace Wendell entertained with a musical program introduced by Boyd Taylor.

The club will meet for lunch next Friday at the Austin Elementary School, joining in the city-wide observance of Texas Public School Week.

Slate Light for Pampa Councilmen Tuesday

Only one item of business appears on the agenda for Tuesday's meeting of the city commission.

The lone piece of business is listed as second reading of an ordinance granting an easement to Ray Duncan for six inches of sidewalk space to permit construction of a stone front on one of his buildings in the 100-block of E. Kingsmill.

Uncle Sam's Job Corps Hopes To Help Our Poverty Children

By MARGARET A. KILGORE THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — "Pug" Perryman, of Baltimore, could see the handwriting on the wall. He was going to be kicked out of school for truancy, so he decided to join the Job Corps.

Sixteen-year-old Henry Lee Epps, of Baltimore, decided to join because, "My Grandma read about it and told me I should join. I want to be an electrician and this seemed the best way to do it."

These youths gave typical reasons for their decisions to join President Johnson's "war on poverty" which includes a national voluntary program that will give poor youngsters a new chance to help themselves.

Henry Lee is a tall, well-mannered Negro who, like his companions, was dressed in navy issues, blue bell-bottom dungarees and a tan shirt.

Pug, who says he needed a nickname because his real name is "Harvey," is an average-looking white teen-ager. One of his arms probably always will carry his nickname. He inscribed it there some years ago with a knife.

The boys talked with news reporters at the Catocin Mountain Job Corps Center which is only a mile from the plush residential retreat, Camp David, in northwestern Maryland. The two youths were part of the first contingent of 10 boys who have been in training since early January at the reconverted Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) camp of the 1930's.

The camp will house and train 100 boys. And because it is a model for camps still to be established, it also is quite plush. No teen-ager or an adult, for that matter, would mind being housed in the comfortable aluminum and wood dormitory with each bedroom containing twin beds, metal lockers, a reading table and chairs.

A linoleum-floored recreation room is used by the boys to study, watch movies or play phonograph records. A rendition of "The Jerk" blared out as the reporters passed through the room.

A typical day goes like this: 6:30 a.m., arise, dress and make beds; 7:30 a.m., breakfast; 7:30 a.m. - 8 a.m., special work details such as latrine duty, sweeping, polishing floors; 8 a.m., classes begin on a rotating schedule alternating work and study; 12 p.m., lunch; 1-4 p.m., schedule resumes; 4-5 p.m., recreation; 5-5:30 p.m., dinner.

Evenings are free. The corpsmen are paid a total of $105 per month per man over a two year period, with a portion of it to be sent home to parents or banked. In addition, the boys are given a clothing allowance.

What's wrong with the program? Some may criticize it as being "too soft" a life for which the taxpayers are picking up the bill.

Wray Smith, associate director of the Job Corps in the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, defends it.

"This camp must work if the program is to survive," he said. He and other members of the staff are fearful that, as with many government projects, the program could get too bound up in politics and bureaucracy to be useful.

Smith also answered the fears of townspeople, some of whom worry about having the camps so close.

"We're dealing with poor kids facing hard times," Smith said. "We're not dealing here with juvenile delinquents who have been in and out of reform schools all their lives. We're not prepared to cope with that now. What we're trying to do is offer a last chance to kids who are smart enough to realize that if you want to survive in this day and age, you must have some something to offer."

Another portion of the program is concerned with finding the youths jobs after they are trained. How much is it costing the government to operate this camp?

"I don't know," Warner

Cheeks, of Frederick, Md., an instructor, replied. "Because the camp has been an experiment, we're just spending money, with no fixed budget."

Happy is the family...

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service says that at least two million Americans have diabetes and don't know it.

The agency said the number of persons tested for diabetes needs to be increased sharply and testing programs should be overhauled to focus on groups more likely to have the disease.

Officials estimated that besides the undetected cases,
there are about two million
Americans with known cases of the disease.

PBS CHOIR — Pampa's A Cappella Choir has been chosen to present a concert and help lead a clinic session at the Southwestern Regional Music Educators National Conference in Oklahoma City today. Under the direction of Hugh Sanders the Pampa choir is the only Texas high school choir performing.

Pampa A Cappella Choir to Present Concert Today

Chosen from 25 other Texas high school choirs, the Pampa High School A Cappella Choir will present a concert and help lead a clinic session at the Southwestern Regional Music Educators National Conference in Oklahoma City, at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

The clinic will be led by Miss Sadie Lafferty of the University of Denver.

Choir members, under the direction of Hugh Sanders, will be the only Texas choir performing except for the University of Texas choir.

After the conference, the choir will present concerts at Putnam City High School in Oklahoma City and Weatherford on Monday. They will return late that night.

The choir's repertoire consists of the following numbers: "The Last Words of David," "Plorate Filii Israel," "Hodie Nobis Caerorum Rex," commissioned for the choir by Dr. Houston Bright of West Texas State University. Also "Ya Viene la Vieja," "Hacia Belen va un Borrico," "A Jubilant Song," "Ode et Amo," and "Miser Catulle" from "Catalle Carmina," "Shenandoah," "John Henry," "Venezuela," "Live A Humble," "Amen," "Water Boy," and a medley of songs from musicals performed by the choir — "Oklahoma," "Carousel," "Where's Charley," "Music Man," and "South Pacific."

UP PRICES
NEW YORK (UPI)—American Can Co. announced price increase of five per cent on bakery cartons, trays and boards manufacturers buys Marathan unit. Foil laminated products were excluded from the increase.

The company said the boost reflected higher freight rates, materials and warehousing costs, and wages.

PHILIP IN MALAYSIA
KUCHING, Sarawak (UPI)—Prince Philip, husband of Britain's Queen Elizabeth, arrived in Malaysian Borneo Saturday in a plane escorted by Javelin fighters. The road from the airport was lined and patrolled by a police field force. Sunday the prince is scheduled to visit Malaysian and British security forces in forward positions along the tense border with Indonesia.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

Non-fiction
"King of Squaw Mountain" — Hal Borland; Wapiti Pete, the king of Squaw Mountain, will take his place among the memorable animals of literature. He is an American elk who becomes a leader and a legend in the Wind River country of Wyoming.
"The Horse Knows The Way" — John O'Hara; a collection of short stories by the well known author of "Cape Cod Lighter".
"Forever Old, Forever New" — Emily Kimbrough; the author and three of her friends learned in no time to live as the people do during their stay in Greece. Here is an account of their experiences in the land of Homer.
"A Gentleman of Broadway" — Edwin Palmer Hoyt; the man behind the famed Damon Runyon by Oline, the man who came to New York in 1911, a virtual unknown, and within a few years wrote his way to the top is the subject of this biography.

"An American Family" — Ishbel Ross; this is a striking book about a family whose continuous contributions to American life over a span of years may surpass the achievements of the Adamsses, Roosevelts, and the Kennedys.
"A Book of Comfort" — Elizabeth Goudge; a distinguished novelist has gathered together the fruits of a very personal search for the literature of the world most able to help in meeting the challenges of life.
"The Collected Stories of Ellen Glasgow" — Richard K. Meeker; editor; collected here for the first time is the complete short fiction of one of America's leading women novelists.

"If Morning Ever Comes" — Anne Tyler; Ben Joe Hawkes impulsively leaves his law studies at Columbia University to visit his home in North Carolina, only to find his household of women making their way without him.
"The Lost Colony" — Edison Marshall; The English colonists who settled Roanoke Island in 1585 are the subject of this novel; the author begins the narrative in England, carries it through the voyage to America, through the first months of settlement, and finally offers an explanation of what happened to Sir Walter Raleigh's colony.

Mystery
"The Case Of The Horrified Heirs" — Erie Stanley Gardner; the lives of an ailing, wealthy widow and a beautiful young grass widow of less abundant means are suddenly and frighteningly entangled. The question is, would their demise be, also?
Science Fiction
"Exit Humanity" — L. S. Brett; men were used to the planet they had known for so long; then came an alien, presenting an impossible choice; only men of the highest courage and the greatest integrity could hope to survive in the raw, searing savagery of the unknown.

ANNOUNCE ELECTION
NEW YORK (UPI)—General Signal Corp. announced the election of Harold A. Strickland Jr., as president to succeed P. W. Smith, who is retiring.
Strickland joined the company last April as executive vice president.

The thugs were a well-organized confederacy of professional assassins who traveled in gangs through India, wormed their way into the confidence of far-landers and, when the opportunity occurred, strangled them with nooses and then plundered and buried them. They had their own jargon and secret signs by which they recognized each other.

TEMPERATURE DROPS
LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth's temperature was "settling down", a Buckingham Palace spokesman reported. The queen canceled out on a cocktail party Thursday night because of the slight indisposition.

PICKS TOP MAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—American Bank Note Co. Friday announced the election of William R. Barrett as president to succeed J. W. Frederic Colclough, who continues as chairman and chief executive officer.
Barrett formerly was first vice president.

Resistant Hybrid Best Method for Combating Smut

COLLEGE STATION (Sp) — Grain sorghum producers can best wage an effective war against head smut by growing resistant hybrids.

Among the newest resistant hybrids released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station for certified seed production are RS 62, RS 626 and RS 671. These, however, are but a few of the resistant hybrids available to farmers from commercial seed producers, report Wendell Horne, plant pathologist, and Ben Spears, agronomist, both with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Hybrids RS 625 and RS 626 are similar in appearance and performance to RS 606 and RS 610 respectively, except that they are resistant to head smut. Hybrid RS 671, however, matures somewhat later and should be grown only under irrigation. Having a maturity similar to Texas 660, it is five to six days earlier than late commercial hybrids.

Reports on the yield, standability, head smut resistance and relative maturity of these and other hybrids in performance tests conducted by the Experiment Station are published each year in late December or early January. Copies of these reports will be available at any county Extension office.

Sorghum grown from clean seed planted on infested soil may be attacked by smut fungus since it is carried in the soil. Planting treated seed eliminates spread of the disease on seed. Therefore, it is the soil-borne spores, which are able to remain viable in the soil for many years, that are responsible for infection.

sion and distribute livestock grazing. R. W. Aams completed a dam and three diversion terraces on his ranch south of Kellerville. The diversions were constructed to protect gullies and eroded areas so they can be effectively established to native grass.

Bob Pool laid out an irrigation system on his farm south of Pampa. Sam Bowers plans to layout an irrigation system on his farm east of Pampa. Irrigation has increased thirty percent in the past three years in Gray County. Irrigation has served as a crop insurance to many landowners during drought periods. Free assistance is available through your Soil Conservation District in planning and laying out irrigation systems. For further information contact your SCD Supervisor or the local Soil Conservation Service.

Dust Storm Causes $20,000 Damage

AMARILLO (UPI)—A conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service said Thursday that 20,000 acres of the Texas Panhandle were damaged by last Tuesday's dust storm.

Virgie L. Cunningham said winds up to 60 miles an hour whipped the soil from land in Dallam, Hartley, Moore and Sherman counties.

The winds carried a mixture of dust and snow particles. The sky darkened and visibility was cut to less than 1,000 feet. The paint, chrome and windshields of automobiles were damaged.

Some farmers said a lot of their wheat was blown from the ground or covered by the dust, although much of the damaged land was in plowed but unplanted fields.

One farmer, Bobby Williams, said he lost 300 acres of wheat.

BERNHARDT ILL. THE HAGUE, Netherlands (UPI)—A court spokesman announced Saturday that Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands is suffering from a muscular inflammation and has been ordered to stay in bed for a few days at Soestdick Palace.

FIELD DAY — Shown above are Lynn Futch, Pampa field secretary of the Canadian PCA and Gene Snell, manager, Hoover Oil Co., at the recent Field Day held at the Bushland Experiment Station. 95 Gray County farmers and businessmen attended the special day held exclusively for Gray and surrounding county farmers.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent

We have supplied several farmers with mailing cartons and soil testing information sheets recently. Now is an excellent time to send in a soil sample. Last week's storm will probably be more beneficial to the prospective wheat crop than harmful. It should set the wheat back enough to keep it from pulling out too much subsoil moisture too soon. The unseasonably warm weather that preceded the storm had the wheat growing too fast. Sometimes when this happens a severe late freeze will ruin wheat.

The storm has not improved the wheat grazing situation. Many old timers say this has been one of the finest wheat pasture years they have ever witnessed. We haven't had abundant growth but a continuous, steady growth right on through January and February. Ninety percent of the time wheat pasture is knocked out by severe cold weather in late January or February. We have had some of our best new wheat growth in late January and February this year.

Ralph Thomas has recently mailed the 1965 catalogue on the Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Show and Sale. If you would like to have a copy, call the Chamber of Commerce. Nineteen breeders have entered a total of 63 lots of cattle. Six of these are heifers, the rest bulls.

Norris Daniels, entomologist, Bushland Experiment Station, recently concluded that chemical control of brown wheat mite is not recommended for dryland wheat unless mite population exceeds 2400 per foot of planted row. Mr. Daniels didn't say anything about how to get a count on them. It sure wouldn't do for me to try and count 'em. I never could get the same number twice in trying to count a hundred head of calves.

Good news came our way this week from one of our Entomologists (bug specialist). He sent us a map of the United States showing the potential grasshopper population for the coming summer. It shows us to be in very lightly infested area for spring and summer 1965. Counts are made by experts in late summer and fall. Very accurate prediction can be made from these insect surveys.

There are several on the list to use the Soil Conservation District Carry-all. Each farmer is asked to finish with the carry all just as soon as possible after he gets the rig. A back-log is building up. Cost is $9.00 per day for the first day and $6.00 per day each day thereafter based on the time the machine is out. Allowance is considered for bad weather.

Also a list is building up on the 4-H Club Boys' grass drill. It is time to seed native grass. Call our Secretary for help on either of the above.

Cattle population stands at 107 million head according to the USDA annual livestock inventory count. This is less than one-fourth percent more than was reported for January, 1964. Do not look for any wide fluctuation in cattle prices in 1965.

Eighty-five calves and 207 pigs have been entered in the Top O' Texas Junior Livestock Show scheduled for March 7 to 16th. This compares with 82 calves and 159 swine entered in last year's event.

The Gray County show will be held on Saturday, March 6th. The Lions Club is the sponsor. Dr. N. L. Nicholl has done an excellent job of rotating the trophies that will be given in this show. They have been displayed at each of the local banks and other businesses. They were displayed at the Lions Club during their regular Thursday meetings.

Story of Soil Conservation in Gray County Told by Official

By STAN FRIEND
SCS Supervisor

The Gray County Soil Conservation District is a non-profit organization initiated in 1948 by local landowners to conserve our natural resources. Since this District was organized, there has been 140,000 acres of range seeding, 237,767 acres of brush controlled, 150 miles of terracing, 375 ponds constructed, 127 areas of waterways constructed, 250 acres of tree planting, 210 fish ponds stocked, 19 erosion control structures installed, 35 miles of irrigation pipeline installed, 17 sprinkler and 34 surface irrigation systems installed, 1,055 acres of irrigation land leveling, 770 acres of wildlife habitat development, and development of 315 livestock water facilities.

This work has been possible in Gray County through free technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service, an organization unit of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This work has cost local landowners several thousands dollars to conserve land and water resources for future generations. Without Federal Technical and Cost-Share assistance, most of this work would have been prohibited because of the total expense involved.

The 1966 budget submitted to Congress called for a $20,000,000 cut in funds to hire personnel to help Soil Conservation Districts. It was recommended that this cut be made up by charging farmers and Soil Conservation Districts for Soil Conservation assistance. If this proposal carries, it could mean the loss of one man per Soil Conservation District because Districts do not have the money to make up the difference. The 1966 budget also proposes a $100,000,000 cut in ACP Conservation cost-share practices.

The importance of Soil Conserva-tion work should be carefully evaluated by all citizens. Largely through misinformation, many people feel that the nation is carrying farmers and ranchers at the tax-payers expense. This is not true. A careful study will show that a strong agricultural economy is essential to a strong national economy.

Landowners make up 8 percent of the population, 40 percent is in agribusiness, such as marketing, transportation, and processing and 52 percent of the population is connected indirectly with agriculture. They are indirectly connected because their customers make their living from agriculture.

Many people that complain about costly farm programs do not know that a large percentage of the money is spent for their benefit rather than the farmers. Consider who benefits from meat and food inspection, school lunch programs, and surplus food for welfare. Yet much of this is hidden in the U. S. Department of Agriculture budget.

The farmer has been the "goat" in many articles appearing in national magazines and large newspapers. All this bad publicity has created a false image of farming and the American farmer and rancher. This is especially unfortunate since a great many members of Congress represent people who have little information about the real farm situation.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A funny thing happened to Mrs. Aiko Hormann when she came to this country from Japan to study home economics.

She wound up developing a new system for electronic om-e new system for elect.onic computers.

I suppose you would need a computer to figure out the odds on something like that happen- ing. And even then you proba- bly wouldn't bet on it. It was because the course at Southeast Missouri State College was taught in English, which she had too much difficulty under- standing.

So she switched her major to mathematics, where language was less of a problem. And that was how she became a computer expert for the Sys- tems Development Corp. of Santa Monica, Calif.

I encountered Mrs. Hormann, a tiny, attractive young woman, at the Naval Research Office here where she was explaining the work she is doing under a Navy contract.

Calls System Gaku
She calls her system "Gaku," a Japanese term denoting learning. As best I could make out, it is intended to raise the IQ level of computers from that of "idiot slave" to that of "in- telligent servant."

With "Gaku," a computer is supposed to draw on its own past experience to help solve problems, rather than merely following instructions.

To do this, the "mechanism coordinator" connects to the "task analyzer," which con- nects to the "executor moni- tor," which connects to the "consequence generator." Or something like that.

Mrs. Hormann now speaks English very well, but I regret to say I didn't get a very clear picture of how "Gaku" works.

Anyway, when Mrs. Hormann got up to explain the thing, she ran into a problem of her own. The screen on which she planned to illustrate certain points with slide, was located directly above the blackboard on which she planned to draw some diagrams.

Covered Board
If she pulled down the screen, it would cover the blackboard. And Mrs. Hormann wanted to have both on view at the same time.

I suggested to Mrs. Hormann that she run the problem through a computer to see if it could come up with a solution. Mrs. Hormann gave me a weak smile.

What I didn't suggest was that if Mrs. Hormann went back to college and finished that home economics course, it might help her cope with problems of this sort.

I was afraid that Mrs. Hor- mann might impale me with the stick she was using for a pointer.

As it turned out, she had to use the screen and blackboard at different times. Which may be why I didn't get a clear pic- ture of how "Gaku" works.

On the other hand it may be that nobody can speak English well enough for me to under- stand computers.

El Paso Wins Way to State Playoffs, 65-62

Tigers Stall Out Final Minutes, Hit Free Tries

EL PASO — Tall and towering El Paso High came from behind in the last quarter and then held off a Pampa rush in the final minute to take a 65-62 win over the Pampa Harvesters and the right to enter the state 4-A playoffs in Austin next week.

The deadly-shooting game saw the lead change hands 19 times and the score tied five times in the first three quarters, before 67" Richard Crockett scored to open the fourth quarter, giving the Tigers a lead they never lost again. El Paso moved the margin to eight points and then stalled out the last four minutes, making eight free throws in the closing time to clinch the win, giving them their 24th win in 28 starts, while the Cinderella Harvesters closed out their season with 26 wins in 31 outings.

Both sides shot fantastically from the floor, Pampa hitting 50 percent and El Paso 55 percent. The Harvesters took the free throw honors by a wide margin, hitting 24 of 32 while the Tigers made 13 of 21, but El Paso canned 26 of 47 field goal attempts to Pampa's 19 of 39 as their rebounding domination gave them more chances from the floor.

Despite the presence of their two 6-7 players, their rebounding lead of 28 to 22, as well as their crucial scoring was done by 5-11 Kenny John, who proved why he was the most valuable player in district 1-4A as he hit 22 points after being shut out in the first quarter, backed by the "midget" of the quarterfinals playoff, 5-6 Frank Chavira, who hit 15, as the pair offset a magnificent performance by Ron Curlee with 28 points.

Following a six-point opening lead by Pampa, neither team ever led by more than six points until the final period, as the score went back and forth constantly, Pampa taking the lead 12 times and El Paso 10. Curlee hit the first nine Pampa points to give the Harvesters a 9-3 lead before the Tigers grabbed the boards and three quick buckets to tie it up midway in the period. With five minutes to go, Crockett got his third foul, but 6-3 Randy Squires came on to hold his own as each team swapped a one-point lead back and forth until McWilliams and Curlee hit two long shots in the closing seconds for an 18-15 Pampa lead at the quarter.

John and Chavira roared back to put the Tigers in front by 21-18, EP's biggest lead until the final canto, but Roper and McDaniel matched buckets with John to swap the lead again until Roper hit a rebound with nine seconds left to keep Pampa in a 33-32 halftime bulge. Both sides missed several big chances in the frame as Chavira got his third personal foul and a technical, added on, but the Harvesters could hit only one of the three bonus shots, while John missed a free throw just before the buzzer that could have tied it up.

Each team took turns hitting two points in the third stanza until Curlee made four straight points to spark Pampa to six points once more, 45-39, but tiny Chavira and an El Paso press closed it up again, Chavira stealing the ball with 10 seconds to go, hitting at the buzzer to tie the score at 47-47.

El Paso got the tip for the first time and Crockett scored. Curlee hit his 10th straight free throw, but missed the eleventh, and John rebounded for a 51-48 lead. Giant Crockett stole the ball and Tom Paul scored for five. Lanny Lewis hit a pair of charities to cut it back to three, but John hit again, and then slowed the game down. John added a free throw for a 56-50 lead after the Harvesters missed two layup chances, and with 3:36 to go, the Tigers grabbed off a bad Pampa pass and went into a stall.

With 2:41 left, John was fouled while dribbling out the clock and went to the line. He missed the one-pointer, but Crockett grabbed the rebound and stuffed it in for an apparently insurmountable 58-50 lead.

The game then turned into a contest of fouls as the two teams paraded back and forth to the free throw line, with El Paso running out the clock. The Tigers held an apparent cinch 63-54 lead with just over a minute to go, but Curlee suddenly went wild, stealing the ball in a Pampa press, as he and Mac McWilliams hit buckets and Lewis two more free throws to slice it to 63-60 with 40 seconds left.

John came through with two more charities as the Harvesters tried to steal the ball and fouled, and put the Tigers back into a five-point lead with 33 seconds left, offsetting Curlee's final basket.

Snead Puts Seniors In 4-Way Tie

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Sam Snead warmed up with the weather Saturday and fired a 68 to move into a four-way tie with Chick Harbert, Henry Ransom and Labron Harris at 139 halfway through the annual Seniors Golf Championship.

Snead, the 53-year-old defending champion in the $40,000 tournament, had trouble with his putting going out but he found the range coming in and had a 35-33.

Friday's chilly, blustery weather gave way to a windless, sunny day in the 70s, and it improved the game of many of the big field of close to 400 old pros.

Harbert, a long ball hitter playing in his first Seniors, went out with a 35 but came in with a 31 after making an eagle on the 14th hole by sinking a 60-foot putt.

Ransom, Texas A&M golf coach who started the round, in second place with a 70, fired a 34-35-69 and said: "I just kept the ball in play and didn't miss but one green."

Harris Moved Up Harris, 56, golf coach at Oklahoma State, moved up from fifth place by carding seven birdies—four of them in a row—and two bogeys for a pair of 33s.

Harbert, 50, the lanky executive director of the Miami-based General Development Corp. who won the PGA championship in 1954, eagled the 14th hole by placing a two-wood shot on the back of the long, sloping green.

SMU In Lead

DALLAS (UPI)—Strong second-half shooting by sophomores Bob Begert and Charles Beasley overcame a spirited Baylor rally Saturday night to give Southern Methodist an 80-70 victory that kept the Mustangs leading to the Southwest Conference title race.

The victory gave SMU a 9-3 record and left them one game ahead of Texas, which beat Texas A&M 86-71, with just two games to play. Both teams trail Texas Tech's 10-2 record but an ineligible player forfeited Tech's championship and NCAA payoff chance.

Beasley led both clubs in scoring with 22, with 10 of them coming in the second half. Begert collected 11 of his 15 points after the intermission to spark the Mustang victory.

Matson Breaks SWC Shot, Discus Marks Throws All-Time Longest Series

By LANNY PRESSWOOD Texas A&M "Battalion" COLLEGE STATION — Randy Matson of Texas A&M broke the Southwest Conference shot put and discus records yesterday in a dual meet with Baylor, his first meet as a college upperclassman.

The meet had originally been postponed due to bad weather, but was rescheduled yesterday morning.

Matson threw the shot six times and broke the Southwest Conference record every time, going over 66 feet four times and breaking his own individual record twice.

His consecutive throws were 65' 7/4", 66' 8", 66' 5/4", 64' 11", 66' 8 1/2" and 66' 3/4". His previous highs had been 66' 3/4" in placing second in the Olympics, and 66' 2 1/4" in an indoor meet in Dallas earlier this month. It is believed that his series of throws is the longest ever recorded in one series by anyone. His longest throw was only 13 1/2 inches shy of the world's record.

Matson smashed the Southwest Conference record to shreds with every throw. The varsity

Harvester Wins Mile In 4:31.6

FORT STOCKTON — Mark Westbrook ran off and left the rest of the competition in the mile run to account for 10 of Pampa's 11 points in the Comanche Relays yesterday, first track meet of the high school season.

Favored Odessa Permian won the meet with 74 points, followed by Midland with 55, Monahans 50, Lubbock Monterey 48 and Odessa 40.

Westy took the lead at the opening gun and held it until the last 220, when a Midland runner passed him momentarily. The slim senior then turned on the heat and outran him by over 15 yards to clock a 4:31.6.

Pampa's other point was picked up by Randy Johnston, sixth in the high hurdles Johnston had fourth place clinched until he stumbled and fell at the last hurdle. Johnston had won his preliminary heat in 15.2.

Waylon "Bones" Bullard had clocked at 15.4 in his prelim, tying for the sixth best time. Coach Norman Phillips found he was as unlucky as Terry Culley as he lost the flip for the finals chance.

Carl "Swede" Johnson threw his best ever in the discus, 148' 1.16", finishing seventh.

HEYMAN FINED

NEW YORK (UPI)—Art Heyman received his second fine in a month from the New York Knickerbockers for conduct detrimental to the club. The 6-foot-5 Heyman, the Knicks first draft pick two years ago, was fined $200 yesterday and $100 earlier this year.

Matson also broke the Conference discus record with his all-time best throw, 189' 1/2". The old record had been 177' 10", set by Roberts in 1963. Randy also had a throw of 199' 1", but was scratched on the heave due to a footfault.

M'western Wins

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Midwestern gained the upper hand in a best-two-of-three playoff for a spot in the NAIA championship basketball tournament with a 75-73 victory Saturday night over Pan American.

Midwestern used a delay game tactic to wear down Pan Am and capitalized on free throws to capture the important conflict.

The two teams were tied at the half, 38-38, but Midwestern pulled away to a 52-44 lead in the opening minutes of the second period.

All-American candidate Mitch Edwards hit 6 straight points to even the game again, and it stayed close until the final gun. The second game of the playoff will be Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Edinburg. If a third game is necessary it will be played Tuesday night in Edinburg.

Foster Runs 9.6

DALLAS (UPI)—With a wind helping, Billy Foster of Southern Methodist University won the 100 yard dash Saturday in 9.6 seconds as the Ponies took first in a triangular track and field meet.

SMU scored 72 points, Arlington State was second with 67 and Texas Christian had 40.

The Ponies won 9 of the 14 events, with Dale Hager a double winner in the one-mile and three-mile run. Harold Magers of SMU took first in both the shot and discus.

Pampa Cards 936, Fifth at Andrews

ANDREWS—The Pampa High golf team carded a 936 total after 54 holes here yesterday to finish in fifth place in the Andrews Invitational Golf Meet, after holding second place through the first 36 holes of play.

Tascosa of Amarillo won the meet with a blazing 903 total, followed by Andrews with 925, Lubbock Monterey with 931, Odessa Permian with 933 and the Harvesters with 936.

Tascosa grabbed the opening lead and held it all the way, with a 291 opening round Friday morning and a 308 that afternoon, finishing with a 304 Saturday.

The Harvesters had grabbed a big second-place margin with a 302 opening round, fell back to 320 that afternoon, but still held second over Monterey by one stroke. Pampa shot a steady 314 yesterday, but Andrews came from far behind with a tremendous 289.

Pampa's Richard Ellis finished in third place in the fight for individual medalist honors behind two Tascosans, Buddy Hamilton and Richard Ellis deadlocked for the honor with 2 each, and Hamilton birdied the second hole of a sudden-death playoff to win the medal. Ellis was the first-round leader

Major League Roundup

By FRED MCMANE
UPI Sports Writer

It's no secret that the success of the New York Yankees this season rests greatly on the recovered left arm of Whitey Ford, but there's another left arm in the league which could figure even more in the pennant race.

This one belongs to Mike McCormick of the Baltimore Orioles and the 25-year-old southpaw believes he can make it back to the big leagues this season after being shunted to the minors in 1964.

McCormick is one of 21 pitchers in the Orioles' camp this spring and if he could regain the form which gave him the average title in 1960, he would be a welcome asset to the Orioles' starting rotation.

Spahn Unsigned

There's another lefthander who is being counted upon heavily by his club this season, that is if he ever agrees to a contract. The player is Warren Spahn, pitching coach of the New York Mets, and the former Milwaukee Brave ace still remains unsigned after a conference with Mets' Vice President Johnny Murphy on Friday.

Six other Mets players also are listed as holdouts with the official opening of their spring camp only two days off.

Several other teams are having contract troubles, too. The Cleveland Indians launched their spring training program Friday with 41 players participating in workouts, but missing from the drills were pitchers Gary Bell and Bud Daley. Both men are unhappy over their contracts and Daley has threatened to quit baseball unless his contract is bettered.

Outfielder Vic Davavillo was also absent from the workouts, but not because of contract troubles. Davavillo lives in Venezuela during the off-season and is having visa difficulties.

Four Phils Missing

The Philadelphia Phillies, with four key players still unsigned, went through drills for the second straight day but cold weather forced postponement of the workout after two hours.

SWC Roundup

TUBBOCK (UPI)-The Texas Tech Red Raiders, cut from championship consideration because of an ineligible player, overcame a final desperate drive by Texas Christian Friday night and whipped the Frogs 93-91.

Dub Malaise sank a jump shot with 23 seconds left in the contest to overcome a rally by the Frogs, who had been as far as 13 points behind.

It was the first game for Tech since the Raiders withdrew from the title chase. The Raiders hope for the Southwest Conference crown and a NCAA playoff berth were shattered when it was discovered that star forward Norman Reuther was ineligible.

Reuther needed to pass 20 hours of courses during the last two semesters and he had passed only 19.

Tech fans were urged to "show 40 minutes of loyalty to the raiders." They did.

They needed little encouragement, however, to stay on their feet. TCU scored 10 consecutive points late in the game to turn an 81-73 deficit into an 83-81 lead.

The lead see-sawed back and forth until TCU had a one point lead with less than a minute left. But Malaise hit the jump shot and then Bobby Meales hit a free shot after the raiders had retained possession.

Rich Sauer carried most of the Frog load, scoring 32 points. Malaise and Harold Denney both scored 20 points for Tech.

Reuther sat on the bench in street clothes and watched his teammates win. "There's a tremendous amount of pride out there,"

But TCU was playing without one of its top scorers too. Wayne Kreis was taken off the squad earlier this week for playing poker for money in a dorm.

TEXAS OUTDOORS

By JAMES DAVIS
UPI Outdoors Writer

Be it ever so humble, there's no port like home-so say boosters of the Texas navy.

Seven Galveston men traveled to Austin Wednesday to discuss with Gov. John Connally a plan to give the navy a home on the Galveston waterfront very near the point where the Independence, the Austin and other vessels of the original Texas navy anchored in the period 1835-45.

Edwin Hunter, president of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce and publisher of the Galveston News-Tribune, and other chamber officials met with Connally to present their plan. They said he seemed "apparently enthused."

The Texas navy operated in the Gulf of Mexico during the Texas revolution and during the days of the Republic of Texas. When Texas became a state, it donated all vessels to the U.S. Navy, but the organization was reactivated by the state in 1958 on an honorary basis-but with out a headquarters.

"We propose the creation of what we confidently feel can be one of Texas' great historic assets, one of its first-magnitude tourist attractions and one of the most colorful and useful educational devices for our children," Hunter told the governor.

"It would be at no cost to the state," said Ivan Elmer, manager of the Galveston chamber. He said a Marina development owner, R. E. Smith of Houston, has offered land and a headquarters building for free, and other possible sites are under consideration including the Texas Maritime Academy.

School Playoff Berths Fought for

Dallas Jefferson, Kingsville, Waxahachie and West Orange were assured of berths in the state high school basketball tournament Friday while 15 other berths will be decided Saturday.

Jefferson beat Highland Park 53-47 and Kingsville defeated San Antonio Brackenridge 65-57 for two of the Class AAAA berths Friday night. Waxahachie beat Mineral Wells 63-57 and West Orange edged Wharton 57-55 for two of the Class AAA spots in the tourney which opens next Thursday in Austin.

El Paso hosted Pampa and Beaumont French hosted Houston Jones last night in the other two Class AAAA regional games, while Brownwood met Seminole at Lubbock yesterday and San Marcos tackled

San Antonio Marshall at Seguin last night in the other Class AAA games.

Brownwood slipped past Dumas 40-38 and Seminole whipped Levelland 48-43 Friday in first round games of regional play at Lubbock.

Regional tournaments were under way yesterday in classes AA, A and B with first-round games in the Class B tourneys having been played Friday night.

Defending Class B champion McAdoo, the only 1964 titlist to survive district play, took another step toward defense of its crown when it beat Bledsoe 44-36 in first round action in Region I at Canyon.

Australia in the Rome Olympics in 1960 and later spent four years at Lamar Tech in the amount, was the first Texas collegian to better that 7-foot level in the high jump when he cleared 7-1 in the Border Olympics at Laredo in 1962.

Ridgway was signed as one of the many candidates expected to try and solve a desperate kicking problem for the Cowboys. He had played Australian type football in his native Melbourne, but had not competed since.

Cowboy coach Tom Landry, after watching Ridgway kick 60 yard field goals via the new kick method Friday, remarked: "I don't care if he can't make his boomerang come back, he's no wallaby (a small kangaroo), but he has tremendous strength in those legs and remarkable accuracy."

He kicked six perfect field goals from the 45-yard line, then switched from his track shoes to low cut football cleats and began to punt 60 and 70 yards.

On the last try of his exhibition drop kick carried 83 yards but fizzled when it hit the crossbar, Landry said.

All-Star Gals Game Features YCC Bill

Two groups of lovely and talented girls will provide something new in the way of basketball for local fans Tuesday night when the YCC League All-Star girls cage team takes on the Amarillo AAU girls champions in the first game of a double-header at the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

The second game pits two old rivals in boys action as Richard Drug takes on the Pampa Newsboys.

The first game was originally slated to pit the local stars against a team composed of outstanding senior girl cagers from the Top O' Texas area.

A check by coach Don Hunt of Groom and coach Ronnie Mills of White Deer disclosed that the high school girls could not play without risking their eligibility in other school activities, even though their basketball days were over.

In the Amarillo AAU champs, however, the local gals have found an even tougher opponent. Rolling up a 10-3 record, the Amarillo gals won the right to the state AAU tournament in Houston next month, and this will be their last game before the state competition.

Amarillo is led by a former Mangum, Oklahoma all-state 6-1 Helen Johnson, and by Leona Price, all-around gal athlete who sports a 15 point scoring average.

The local lassies are composed chiefly from members of the champion La Bonita team, which finished with an 8-1 record, and from members of the second-place Panhandle Angels. Almost every member of the team was an all-district selection in her high school cage days, and boasts height and scoring ability.

Tallest of the team is Pokie Cade, 5-11 White Deer all-state, sporting a 15.1 league scoring average. Top average is carried by Pat Nolan, 5-7 Lefors-ex, and wife of Lee coach Tex Nolan, a 19.9 shooting mark.

Wanda Johnson, 5-8 Panhandle star last year, has a 19.3 average, and is backed by long-time teammate Barbara Hager, 5-7, with an 18.4 mark. Joyce Swope, 5-9 Darrouzett star, has a 12.8 shooting average and Carol Crawford of Panhandle has a 10.4 scoring mark. Dorothy Moring, lovely 5-7 Smyer-ex, shoots at 6.5 and is the play-maker.

Although the all-stars could start a team with a scoring average of 85.5, the local guards could keep anyone down, as they boast height and experience.

Janice Cates of Lefors is 5-8, Sharon Clark of Lefors 5-4, Anna Lee Barton of Booker 5-5, Dixie Richardson of Shamrock is the "big gal" at 5-9, Ruth Blumer of Moreland, Okla., is 5-7 and Sherri Bradshaw of Briscoe 5-6, with Mary Hebbard of Panhandle 5-8 and ballhandler Jan Seymore of Stinnett the "midget" at 5-0.

The first game will be at 7:30, the second at 8:45.

The second game will be a revenge affair, as Richard Drug, combined with the White Deer-Skellytown coaches, nipped the Pampa Newsboys last week, 71-64.

Leading the WD-Richard win was 6-1 Ronnie Mills, White Deer girls cage coach and former pro athlete, backed by Arlen Kaiser, Skellytown junior high coach, who hit 10 of 10 free throws against the Newsboys for the winning margin.

Big man on the boards for Richard, who swept undefeated through the YCC League, is 6-5 Gene Williams. High scorer for the Druggists is Roy "Gunner" Pool, who missed last week's fracas. Setting the Druggist scoring up is former Pampa High star James Lee.

Heading the squad looking for revenge will be 6-1 White Deer all-state and Clarendon JC star

Top O' Texas Wildlife

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

There is a good percentage of quail on the range compared to the beginning of the hunting season last November. There weren't many quail then, and there are far less found now in most parts of the Panhandle. It was in 1952 when the great drought began and then the bobwhite almost disappeared from the Panhandle. Indeed it was a drought, and it was noticed more because the Panhandle was flooded in 1950 with heavy rains. Since the great drought was finished with adequate rainfall, the bird population has fluctuated according to the annual rainfall during the summer nesting period.

Then came irrigation in abundance to the top part of Texas. Last summer wasn't heralded as one of the driest in history for some reason. Maybe it was because of irrigation. Nevertheless, it is the consensus of opinion among hunters that there are far less numbers of bobwhites in this part of the state than there were in 1952. In fact, it seems to me there are just about half the numbers in Roberts, Hutchinson and Moore Counties this winter that there were in January and February of 1952.

It is very difficult to calculate the numbers of bobwhites in any county. It is nearly impossible. Comparing numbers from year to year is not so difficult. Consider the lack of quail at this time in the aforementioned counties and then consider the flow of the Canadian through the years. There is a very accurate record of the amount of flow in acre feet. In 1941, the number recorded was just a bit under 2,000,000 acre feet, which is the largest tabulated during the last 26 years. Then, in 1952 the amount of water that came down the river was something like 66,000 acre feet. However, the amount that trickled down the river bed last year was almost half as much as was the record low in 1952. Last year there was recorded less than 35,000 acre feet.

It is an interesting parallel, the heavy quail population in 1950 and 1951 and the heavy rains all through the year. If you will recall, it was then the highway west of Pampa to Berger was covered with one large lake, the traffic was routed south on section line roads detouring the lake, and the road bed finally raised several feet.

Now there is practically no water in this dry lake bed. Quail are just about as scarce as is water in the ponds at this time. All is not lost. Remember the old adage, one extreme follows another. Chances are 26 to 1 there will be more rainfall this summer, according to the records, and, by the same token,

Gillman at WT Clinic

CANYON — Sid Gillman, head coach of the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League, will be the principal lecturer at the third annual West Texas State Coaching Clinic scheduled for March 12 and 13 at the Buffalo Fieldhouse on the WTSU campus.

Gillman has just finished his thirtieth season of coaching, twenty of which he has been a head coach. He held the head coaching positions at Miami of Ohio, Cincinnati and Los Angeles of the National Football League before taking over the Chargers five years ago. Gillman also served Ohio State, Denison, Miami and West Point as an assistant.

Some of Gillman's proteges are Ara Parseghian (Notre Dame), Paul Dietzel (Army), Nate Harlan (Saint Thomas), John Purdy (Indiana), Bones Taylor (Houston Oilers), Norm Van Brocklin (Minnesota Vikings) and Al Davis (Oakland Raiders).

Gillman's overall win-loss record is one of the best — 155 wins, 78 losses and four ties for a winning percentage of .665.

He's won five divisional championships and one league title in pro football.

In his 20 years as head coach, the 53-year old coach has had just three losing seasons at Miami, Sid won-31, lost six and tied one in four years; he finished a six-year tour at Cincinnati with a 50-13-1 record. His record with Los Angeles of the National Football League was 28-32-1, but he gave the Rams their only divisional title in the past 14 seasons. Gillman has won the divisional title every year but one with the Chargers and won the League's championship in 1963. His record with the Chargers is 46-27-1.

As might be expected, Gillman's lectures are titled "The Passing Game" and "The Charger Offense."

The clinic will start Friday morning, March 12, and wind up with the annual Varsity Alumni game Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. Several door prizes will be given and a barbecue sponsored by two local sporting goods companies will highlight the hours.

De Gaulle, Non-Filipacchi, Oui

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
PARIS (NEA) — Charles de Gaulle may be deciding the future of France, but the young people who will live in that future are considerably more interested in the opinions of Daniel Filipacchi.

Filipacchi, appropriately tall, dark and handsome, might be called the Hugh Hefner of France, having built a publishing empire — without the bunnies — which caters specifically to the under-20 set.

His gimmick is not sex, but jazz. Three years ago, Filipacchi, owner of Europe's largest jazz record library and conductor of a daily jazz show on radio, was made very much aware through his fan mail that France had no publications of interest to young adults.

So he produced the monthly "Sablé Les Copains" — "Hiya, Pals," in English — which now has a circulation of more than a million.

The glossy magazine publishes interviews with young

France's singing idols, lists the monthly record hits and cleverly sandwiches in some slightly more serious reading matter.

The result: For hundreds of thousands of youngsters born after 1940, Filipacchi is something of an elder brother whom they greatly respect. When the young publisher offers an opinion, teen-agers listen.

He thinks, for example, that youngsters today are less complicated than they were in his generation, which grew up with vivid memories of World War II. Despite outbreaks of youthful violence on the streets of Paris and elsewhere, Filipacchi believes today's young people are much tamer than they were when he was younger.

When a pop singer's fans go wild and only riot squads can contain them, this he dismisses as "childish pranks" which are slowly coming to an end.

Daniel Filipacchi is considered the most colorful, dynamic editor in France today — probably one of the richest, too. He's now publishing seven magazines, including "Hiya, Pals." All appeal primarily to young people. Newest publication is "Mademoiselle Age Tendre," a magazine strictly for girls.

The second issue sold 400,000 copies and sales are climbing steadily.

He was introduced to the publishing industry and the French Resistance at the same time when, during the war, he was apprenticed to a printer who was an active member of the underground. His introduction to jazz was even earlier since his father was an avid collector of American jazz recordings.

His readers, Filipacchi has found, cling to the magazines even after they pass the age-20 mark. The older young people remain interested in the current idols — Johnny Halliday, Sylvie Vartan and Steve McQueen. The James Dean cultists are still active.

Filipacchi, for one, isn't at all worried about France's young people. "And if any po-liticalian would take the trouble to find out about the younger generation," he adds, "he would not worry, either."

JOIN FORCES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's atomic and medical forces have joined to wage war against that scourge of mankind, the common cold.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced Thursday that with the National Institutes of Health (NIH) it has completed a new research facility in which the viruses blamed for respiratory ills will be spun at high speeds.

ARRIVES IN LONDON

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, mother of the late President, arrived by plane Thursday from Paris to attend the opening of an exhibition of her son's library and effects.

Students Prepare Entries for Science Fair

Pampa science students, first grade through high school, are putting the finishing touches on their Science Fair entries this week in preparation for the 8th annual local fair which will be held in the girls' gym at Pampa Senior High School Friday and Saturday.

Keeping pace in a scientific age, 274 students participating in the event are separated into four sections for judging and will be competing for a place in the regional science fair to be held in Amarillo during April. Twenty-three entries are registered from the primary grades, 147 entries have been submitted from the intermediate grades, 78 entries are ready from junior high school students and 26 projects will be entered from Pampa Senior High School.

Mrs. Elaine Ledbetter, head of Pampa High School Science Department, founder of the fair, said projects of problem solving types are being encouraged for the fair rather than simply a model something. Judging here will follow the same pattern of judging at regional and national fairs.

Thirty points are available for creative ability with another 30 points for scientific thought and methods. Ten points are available for thoroughness, skill, clarity and dramatic presentation making a possible 100 points.

Since the inception of the Science Fair in 1958 more than 2,000 youths have participated and nine Pampans have reached competition at the national level.

WINNER — Avril Doucette, senior at Pampa High School and a national competitor from last year, prepares this year's entry, top left photo, in hopes of again going to the national meet. She has been a consistent winner in fairs since grade school and has selected "Antibiotic Effect of Texas Panhandle Soil Algae" for her entry this year.

NOT INTERESTED — Steven Spidell, a junior at Pampa High School, enlisted the aid of his Cocker Spaniel for a project and the long-haired cocker seems a little reluctant to participate, lower left photo. Steven has chosen to demonstrate nutrition in his project titled "The Effect of Six Brands of Dog Food on a Cocker Spaniel." Interest shown by the dog seems limited to the treats possible from "dog candy".

HOT — Susie Stowers, a sixth grader at Stephen F. Austin, adjusts equipment used for her project, center photo. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stowers and has selected "Solar Energy" for the competition next week.

CULTURES — Debbie Veale, a seventh grader at Robert E. Lee Junior High School, arranges lighting in her project, top right photo. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Veale and will show the effects of colored lighting on cultures of paramecium for her Science Fair entry.

COCOONS — First graders at Travis Elementary School will enter a class project covering the development of caterpillars and moths. Nick Williams seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams moves items in the cocoon house, lower right photo. The project started last fall and is due to be climaxed during the coming week when the cocoons will break open and moths appear.

PROBABLY THE MOST overworked household gadget in Pampa the last three or four days has been the dust mop. The Tuesday and Wednesday silt blanket from that frigid norther with its accompanying duster and high winds kept Pampa housewives and-or their maids on the house cleaning circuit all through the weekend. The dust was so fine it filtered through everywhere. One might call the coffee given a week ago Saturday at the Pampa Club a mother-daughter affair. The hostesses were Mrs. Frank (Pebble) Carter and mother, Mrs. George Casey, and Mrs. Arthur (Ruth Ann) Holland and mother, Mrs. Pearl Mitchell. Many spring fashions were in evidence at the coffee which had a George Washington and cherry tree motif. A few of those with the spring-look were Mrs. David (Mary Beth) Fatheree in a pink silk dress with matching pink sailor hat, Mrs. George (Fannie) Cree lovely in a suit and hat in the new Spanish green, Mrs. Joe (Joy) Cree in a yellow silk dress setting off her dark tresses, Mrs. Wiley (Jane) Reynolds wearing an unusual blue and green lace knit, Mrs. Tom (Harlene) Rose in a bright green silk dress, Mrs. Bob (Marty) Price wearing a turquoise knit suit with bead trim and Mrs. Joe (Bobby) Reid in a white silk nubby-textured suit with the new short sleeves. Members of the house party, wearing unique corsages fashioned of artificial cherries were Mrs. B. (Roberta) Baldrige, Mrs. Clyde (Laura) Fatheree, Mrs. Fletcher (Charlotte) Kennedy, Mrs. Buster (Helen) Carter, Mrs. George (Jean) Casey Jr., Mrs. M. C. (Dottie) Overton, Mrs. Malcolm (Clementine) Brown, Mrs. W. D. (Margaret) McIntyre and Mrs. Dave (Betty) Finkelstein.

IN SPITE OF the dust storm and the broadcasting of the Harvester-Haltom City basketball game last Monday night's performance of "Hello Dolly" was very well attended. Mollie Lee Beresford, star of the production, was introduced by Mrs. Lynn (Edwina) Boyd. Adding to the evening's excitement was the announcing of the basketball game score during the intermission. A few of those who enjoyed the program were John and Louise McCrery, Tom and Melba Wade, Aubrey and Margaret Steele, Roy and Margaret Sparkman, Dr. Hardy and Teed Hicks, Roy and Jimmie Bourland, John and Edith Rankin, Arthur and Nell Rankin, the B. J. Diehls from Lefors, Mrs. Rufe (Viola) Jordan, Mrs. Gladys Harvey, Mrs. Iva Lee Upham, Mrs. W. R. (Jenkie) Campbell, Mrs. Lillian Snow, Dorothy and Arthur Teed, Floyd and Laura Imel and Lucille and Jimmie Massa, accompanied by Mrs. Alan H. (Ruby) Anderson of Baird, Lucille's sister who is visiting in the Massa home. Henry and Sally Butler spent last weekend in Wichita Falls visiting with friends and attending the golden wedding anniversary of long-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Huff Sr. of Olney. The event, hosted by the Huff's son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Deets, was held in the Marchman Hotel in Wichita Falls. The honored couple are frequent Pampa visitors.

PAMPA CITY PANHELLENIC members Mrs. E. L. (Betty) Henderson, Mrs. Jim (Dorothy) Chase and Mrs. George (Frances) Cree Jr. will meet Mrs. Ernestine Watson Lockhart of Lubbock when she arrives in town tomorrow at the home of Dr. Ed and Sandy Williams. Mrs. Watson will be the featured speaker for Monday night's meeting of the group to be held in the home of Mrs. Robert (Claudine) Vail. Delta Delta Delta Sorority members are serving as hospitality chairmen for the meeting. Mrs. Lockhart will be accompanied to Pampa by Mrs. R. S. Williams, mother of Dr. Ed Williams. The Williams and Lockharts are friends of long-standing. Seen at the Coronado Inn last Sunday as dinner guests of L. S. and Ruby Wiley were Clyde and Hazel Rodecope, Doris and Houston Price, Roy and Mildred Sullivan, J. E. and Esther Gibson and L. B. and Laura Penick. Following dinner the group enjoyed an afternoon of visiting in the Riley home.

HEARD A LOT of nice comments about the afternoon tea last Sunday of the Historical Society. Seen in attendance were Mrs. Fred Cary, Mrs. Joe Weaver, Mrs. A. D. Hills, Mrs. S. C. Evans, Mrs. Walter Purviance, Mrs. George Walstad and Miss Eloise Lane. Another lovely coffee-bridge was given a week ago Saturday in Coronado Inn's Starlight Room by a group of teacher-friends. Hostesses were Miss Inez Clubb, Mrs. Paul (Mary) Keim, Mrs. McHenry (Alta) Lane, Mrs. Glen (Emma) Larson, Mrs. Otto (Willie Mae) Mangold, Mrs. James (Hazel) Poole and Mrs. Essie Mae Walters. Seen playing bridge were Mrs. Travis C. (Elaine) Lively Jr., Mrs. Bob (Albertine) Triplehorn, Mrs. Maude Schulkey, Mrs. Arthur (Jeanette) Aftergut, Mrs. Ben (Jean) Martin of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Paul (Lanell) Payne, Mrs. J. R. (Kay) Schuneman and Mrs. E. E. (Lois) Shelhamer. Lee and Irene Harrah spent the past week in Dallas visiting grandchildren while daughter Joyce and husband were away on business. Claudia and Howard Greenlee were getting a jump on their spring yard work. It was so spring-like last Sunday they were out working flower bulb beds. And if you are interested in exotic flower growing, ask Mrs. W. L. (Audrey) Campbell about her greenhouse in which she is growing orchids.

MILO Carlson will demonstrate the latest techniques in the construction of agate and petrified wood table tops for Canadian River Gem and Mineral Club members when the group meets Tuesday evening in the Gold Room of Panhandle Bank and Trust in Berger. Carlson will show the various steps used in embedding stones in clear plastic and will answer viewers' questions regarding the process. Mrs. Pete (Anne) Lewis of Oxnard, Calif., is visiting with friends while spending a few days in the home of her parents, James O. and Jackie Evans. Husband Pete, son of James and Bessie Lewis, will join Anne for a Pampa visit. Doil and Vonita Douthit were given a housewarming party in their new home at 1922 Grape by a group of friends last week. Helping the Douthits enjoy the home, purchased from the Bob Williams who have moved to Abilene, were Mrs. Leo (Linda) Scott, Wayne and Belva Harris, Lois and Charles Harris, Houston and Lois Branch, Roland and Fran Bowden, Jack and Nita Williams, Virgie and Patsy Poole, Darla and Bobby Seitz, Jimmy and Peggy King, Adney and John Parker, Guy and Jessie Lee Caskey, Orion and Carol Estes, Gene and Katy Butler, Lyle and Doris Gage, Ernest and Vivian Morrell, Ott and Lenice Shewmaker, Juanita McLaughlin and Joe and Peggy Martin.

MRS. RUFÉ (VIOLA) JORDAN attended a meeting recently in Austin for the purpose of finding out what could be done in Pampa and surrounding area for mentally retarded children. Viola will supervise the fact gathering and plan building whereby a committee might find what is needed, what is now furnished and where to find the help to fill the needs of these children in our area. Highland General Hospital Auxiliary met Friday morning in Lovett Memorial Library and elected to serve as officers for the coming year Mrs. A. D. (Olive) Hills, president; Mrs. Jack (Joan) Osborne, first vice president; Mrs. Joe (Norma) Autry, second vice president; Mrs. E. M. (Sue) Keller Jr., third vice president; Mrs. W. E. (Norma) Holler, treasurer; Mrs. Irene Osborne, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. E. (Barbara) Dobbin, recording secretary; Mrs. S. M. (Bernice) Goodlett, historian; Mrs. Jack (Adriene) Foster, parliamentary, and Mrs. Homer (Mary) Johnson, Mrs. George (Frances) Cree Jr., and Mrs. Julian (Katie) Key, advisory members.

Wedding Vows Are Exchanged in San Antonio by Pampans' Granddaughter

Mrs. Jesse Andrew Renfrow III
... nee Karen Anne Everling

Miss Karen Anne Everling, daughter of Mrs. Jenny Lind Everling of San Antonio, a granddaught of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Myatt, 601 N. Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Whitsell, 1812 N. Faulkner, became the bride of Jesse Andrew Renfrow III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Renfrow of San Antonio, at 8 p.m. Feb. 12.

Rev. Robert F. Wideman solemnized the exchange of vows in the chapel of Trinity Baptist Church of San Antonio.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Ed Myatt of 2121 Charles, the bride was gownned in a white peau de soie chapel-length gown featuring a high rise empire waistline and a redingote effect that parted to reveal a panel of re-embroidered alencon lace. The bodice was designed with scooped neckline and long tapering sleeves. Tiny buttons fastened the back of the gown above a flowing cathedral train. The bride's veil of silk illusion was caught with a small pillbox coil of seed pearls and lace, topped by one crushed rose. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Sberian Renfrow of Waco, sister of the bridegroom, attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Alana Crites, Miss Beth Mueller, Miss Judy Reed and Miss Donna Overall, all of San Antonio.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Louis Pisan of Lubbock, while groomsmen were Beatty Spears and Bobby Granberry, both of Lubbock, Kent Kottler, Paul Alsbury and Johnny Everling, all of San Antonio.

Immediately following the exchange of vows a reception was held in the River Room of El Tropicana Motor Hotel in San Antonio.

Following a wedding trip to Denver, Colo., the couple will make their home in San Antonio. The bride is a 1964 graduate of San Antonio High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of San Antonio High School, attended Trinity University. He is presently serving with the U.S. Air Force and attending an electronics school in Denver, Colo.

4-H Girls Given Course in Foods

Eight 4-H girls met recently at Southwestern Public Service Company for a weekly meeting of the Unit I Foods course.

Adult leader, Mrs. Mildred Prince discussed the 4-H Favorite Foods Show to be held at the Court House Annex on March 20.

Junior leader, Cathy Wilkie discussed the "Food for Fitness Guide" and the importance of knowing the nutritive value of their product for the Favorite Food Show.

For lunch, the girls prepared meat salad, pizza, drop biscuits and cocoa.

Present were Viola Parsley, Kathy Parsley, Susan Higginbotham, Angela Winegert, Brenda Richter, Cindy Richter, Sharon Newman, Diane Nickel; Junior leaders, Cathy Wilkie and Phyllis Atwood, and adult leader, Mrs. Mildred Prince.

Don't throw away old handbags. Large ones make good first aid, sewing or "what-not" kits.

Colored bed sheets make attractive summer bedspreads. Dress them up with an easy to iron on applique.

A bedside service station that attaches to side of crib holds powder, oil, diapers and cushion for diaper pin safety. The nursery helper also can be used in car, plane or train.

The problem of what to do with the telephone directories is solved with a storage case in library binding. The twin compartment case has the words "Telephone Books" embossed in gold on the cover.

Lavanda Lois Hubbard and Kenneth Hershel Mankins Exchange Double-Ring Vows in White Deer Church

White Deer First Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Lavanda Lois Hubbard and Kenneth Hershel Mankins at 7 p.m. Feb. 20. Double-ring vows were performed by Rev. Howard Lyons of Amarillo amid a setting of seven branched candelabra entwined with garlands of lemon leaves and urns of white gladioli. A white aisle cloth led to

Mrs. Kenneth Hershel Mankins ... nee Lavanda Lois Hubbard

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hubbard of White Deer. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mankins of Floydada are the parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Don Vance, organist, presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. John Garcia as she sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A simplicity gown of satin was worn by the bride for her wedding. The fitted bodice was designed with a rounded neckline and long petal point sleeves. A controlled bell-shaped skirt, accented with back bustle and bow, flowed into a chapel-length train. Her elbow-length veil of French silk illusion fell from a coil of white satin rose petals tipped with aurora borealis crystals and pearls. The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Carrying a white prayer Bible topped with a cascade bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid, the bride was given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I avowal." As the bride approached the altar, she presented her mother with a long-stemmed white rose and following the exchange of vows she presented a rose to the bridegroom's mother.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Harry Havenhill of Canyon, matron of honor; Miss Cindy Hubbard, bride's sister, maid of honor, and Miss Sandy Conner of Jacksboro, bridesmaid. They were dressed identically in gowns of pink peau de soie with scooped necklines, fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts. Matching headpieces designed with hand-rolled pink roses and scalloped veils of fresh pink illusion accented their costumes. The attendants carried cascade bouquets of Linda pink carnations and lemon leaves.

Robert Messengale of Littlefield served the bridegroom as best man while Jerry Gee of Amherst and Norman Ferguson of Floydada served as groomsmen. Seating the wedding guests were ushers Larry Mankins and Bruce Mankins of Floydada, brothers of the bridegroom. Keith Thomas of Floydada, bridegroom's brother-in-law, and Eddie Parks of Lubbock.

Miss Tina Rhoads, dressed identically to the bridal attendants and carrying a basket of pink rose petals, attended as flower girl. Master Terry Rhoads, ring bearer, was attired in a black suit and carried the rings on a white lace and satin heart-shaped pillow. Lighting the cathedral tapers were David Hodges and Kevin Kelp.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hubbard chose a pink three-piece knit suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Mankins selected a beige and brown three-piece wool suit with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

Twentieth Century Culture Club Enjoys Annual Dinner in Mrs. Donaldson's Home

Tuesday afternoon Twentieth Century Culture Club enjoyed its annual covered dish luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. R. Donaldson. Co-hostesses were Mrs. L. J. Zachry and Mrs. A. L. Wagner. The luncheon featured dishes prepared by Mrs. R. E. Dobbins and Mrs. Otto Specht, who also brought the program on "Specialties of the House". These dishes were clam chowder from Mrs. Dobbins' kitchen and from Mrs. Specht's kitchen came the meat dish, rouladen, and the dessert, hazel nut cake and a four fruit torte.

Following the luncheon, the president, Mrs. N. D. Steele, led the club collect and presided over the business. After welcoming a guest, Mrs. B. Mitchell of Omaha, Neb., a past president of the club, Mrs. Steele called for the roll call and the reading of the minutes. Reports were heard from members and committees and the program was introduced.

Mrs. Dobbins came to Texas from Maine and her part of the program was about food and cooking in Maine. The speaker began by stating, "The food in Maine is, for the most part, rather plain and simple, but quite hearty because a great many people do fairly heavy out-of-door work and need the good hearty foods. Boston baked beans are a staple there and are served one or more times a week. Saturday night beans are sometimes reheated for Sunday morning breakfast. Molasses and salt pork are used a great deal in Maine. The molasses is used a lot in making molasses cookies and doughnuts and gingerbread. The fat from the salt pork is used in such things as bases for fish and ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church. Covered with a floor-length cloth of white net and satin, the bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white roses and fift mums in a tall cherub vase with side candelabra. Miss Karen Castleberry of Shamrock presided at the crystal punch bowl and Miss Jeanie Gundrum of Colorado City served the three-tiered white wedding cake. Attending the guest register was Mrs. Keith Thomas of Floydada, bridegroom's sister. Background piano music was provided by Mrs. Don Vance. Each guest received a miniature pink net bag filled with rice.

As the couple departed on a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico the bride wore a camellia pink three-piece knit ensemble complimented by matching accessories and wore the orchid lifted from the bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home in Canyon.

The new Mrs. Mankins, a 1962 graduate of White Deer High School, received a basic business degree from West Texas State University. She is now employed as a secretary at Elkins Insurance Co. of Amarillo. The bridegroom, a 1961 graduate of Floydada High School, is a senior at West Texas State University majoring in marketing.

The bridegroom's parents honored the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner held in Harvester Pit Barbecue in Pampa the evening preceding the wedding ceremony.

Kim Moore Marks Birthday at Party

Kim Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Moore, 625 N. Meadows, H. M. Killough, Har-

Wells, celebrated her fourth birthday with a party Feb. 17 in the home of her parents. Ice cream, punch, favors and birthday cake with a circus motif were served to the guests. Helping mark the occasion were Sonja Glover, Gabrielle Jo Ormson, Jamie Lowe, Cindy and Greg Trollinger, Debbie, Karen and Sherry Killough, Ricky and Terry Moore and Mmes. Gayle

Mrs. Floyd Otis Is Honored at Shower

CANADIAN (Spl) — Mrs. Floyd Otis Jr. was honored with a stork shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Whitsitt. Mrs. Dub Morrow was co-hostess.

The honoree was presented a corsage fashioned from baby socks.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations. Refreshments of individual cakes iced in pink and green and topped with tiny storks, lime sherbert punch and mints were served.

Those attending were Meses. Danny Urschel, Lester Urschel, George Morrow, Al Monroe, Harrison Parish, Floyd Otis, John Whitsitt and Dub Morrow.

'Uncle Sam's Postal Service' Program Is Presented for Twentieth Century Club

Twentieth Century Club met in the home of Mrs. Bob Andis, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. David Tucker led the club members as they stood and pledged allegiance to the American and Texas flags, and also repeated the club collect.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Bill Roots.

Mrs. Tucker introduced the program of the day, "Public Service", with the statement, "The Post Office touches the life of every individual every day."

Mrs. Tucker then presented Mrs. Bob Sanford who gave the program on "Uncle Sam's Postal Service." Mrs. Sanford began with a quote from the Greek historian Heroditus, who said "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

Mrs. Sanford continued with "Postal systems were used in France and England by government officials and the royal family as early as 1464. In the U.S. the first postal system was used in 1639. Ben Franklin was appointed head of the American Postal System in 1775, and to him goes much credit for establishing a sound postal system. His salary was $1,000 a year. The postage rate at this time was six cents a letter for one sheet and doubled for each extra page. The distance also was considered.

"Those of you who collect stamps know that postage stamps are a picture of the glories of a nation. They depict in miniature its famous men and women, great events in history, industries and organizations and natural wonders.

"Probably the best known and most glamorous service of the Postal System was the famous Pony Express.

"Such services as registered mail, money orders, free mail delivery and street letter boxes for depositing mail are about 100 years old.

"Many more changes in our mail system are needed and are taking place now. Since 1944 mail volume has more than doubled and revenue is four times greater. The Post Office Department wants to take care of this increase in mail volume without increase in cost. The ZIP Code is one way of doing this as it cuts down on the handling of mail. It reduces the number of steps required to move a letter from the sender to the addressee, thereby expediting VOWS EXCHANGED — Miss Carol Jean Shelton and Ronald E. McCain exchanged double-ring vows at 2 p.m. Feb. 6 in the Amarillo home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Browder, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom. Rev. Sidney Cox read the vows before a scene appointed with baskets of white gladioli. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clovis E. Shelton, 702 N. Christy, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCain, 714 N. Christy. Attending the couple was Miss Sharon Rothermel and Richard Dorman. The new Mrs. McCain is a 1964 graduate of Pampa High School and her husband is attending Pampa High School and employed at Furr Food Store. The newlyweds are making their home at 428 N. Ballard.

the mail to its destination." Mrs. Sanford concluded the program with some interesting information about our magnificent local post office building, which was dedicated August 8, 1934. "Even today when archi-

Senior Girls Have Party in Canadian

CANADIAN (Spl) — A group of senior girls gave a party recently for members of the senior class and dates. The affair was held in the Parish Hall of the Sacred Heart Church.

The decorations and refreshments carried out the Valentine theme. Red and white crepe paper streamers were stretched from each light to the center light fixture. The walls were decorated with red paper hearts.

The serving table was covered with a red cloth and a red candelabra formed the centerpiece. Refreshments of Valentine cookies, cake, heart shaped sandwiches, Valentine candies and chips and dips were served. Hostesses were Janis Wilson, Joyce Thorne, Cathy Smith, Mary Rutledge, Mary Crowell, Mary Ann Ortega, Nita Gibbons, Sheila Foster and Sue Lynn George.

Among the parents and teachers attending were Messrs. and Meses. Hugh Wilson, Frank Ortega, R. E. George, R. T. Smith and John Ramp; Meses. Woodrow Gibbons, Erbin Crowell and Marian Karr.

Home Makers Club Meets in Skellytown
SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Skellytown Home Makers Club met recently with Mrs. Gertrude Huckins and Mrs. Kenneth Fanning as hostesses.

Mrs. R. C. Heaton, club president, held a short business meeting.

The members each brought gifts for the bingo game, the proceeds going to a charity.

The next meeting will be March 2, in the home of Mrs. Oscar Gould at which time a lesson on knitting will be given.

Refreshments were served to Meses. John Nichols, R. C. Heaton, Oscar Gould, Floyd McCoy, W. S. Berry, Clarence Hoskins, Jack Houston, E. E. Crawford, John Simmons, Kenneth Fanning, Melvin Neill, one new member, Mrs. Mary Cowart, and three visitors, Meses. Fred Powell, Leroy Snodgrass, and G. E. Huckins.

The enameled sections of a stove may crack if it is washed when hot.

FUGATE-MORRIS — Mr. and Mrs. Archie Fugate of Le-fors announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janie Lou, to William F. Morris Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ace L. Bilyeu of Wichita Falls. Rev. Burgin Watkins of Childress will perform the ceremony March 6 in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Mrs. Hills Gives 'Juvenile Delinquency' Program at Civic Culture Club Meeting

Civic Culture Club met Tuesday in the Hospitality Room of Citizen's Bank with Mrs. W. C. Scott as hostess. Three visitors, Meses. J. W. Duke, Ray Barnard, and E. W. Voss and seven members were present.

The program, "Children of the Mist" was presented by Mrs. A. D. Hills.

"What does juvenile delinquency mean?" Mrs. Hills began. "Juvenile Delinquency is any behavior which a given community at a given time considers in conflict with its best interest whether or not the offender has been brought to court."

"The term juvenile delinquency is not a descriptive term. What it includes is all the trouble that people get into before they reach their legal majority. A child is usually officially considered a juvenile delinquent when she or he does anything to bring him to the attention of the law."

"Juvenile delinquency, as is the case with adult offenders, must be considered individually. Perhaps the term itself ought to be discarded. Its like calling arsonists, embezzlers, murderers and parking law violators, all criminals."

"Juvenile delinquency covers different things in different communities. It includes the simple truant, the child whose parents cannot control him, the loiterer and the boy who hitches a ride on the back of a bus-as well murder, theft and sex crimes. It is the age of the offender and not the seriousness of the offense which gives him the label juvenile delinquent."

The speaker continued "Youthful criminals are made, not born. It is impossible to type the child who will become a J. D. Sociologists, psychiatrists and law enforcement officials have come up with countless theories, many of which have had to be discarded in the cold light of reasoning."

The thinking of the experts today is generally along these lines: The major differences between the normal and the delinquent child are to be found not in physical appearance, health, intelligence or basic competency, but in the immaturity, in instability, and frustration that produces in them a maladjustment to home, school or society. Juvenile delinquency is every where and has been as long as there have been children. Twenty five hundred years ago Socrates is quoted as having said:

"Children now love luxury. They have bad manners, contempt for authority. They show disrespect for elders and love chatter in place of exercise. Children are now tyrants, not servants of their house holds."

Mrs. Hills concluded, "It must be remembered that less than three per cent of all children between ages of 10 and 17 come before the courts. It is this three per cent that should concern us as civic minded people. We must be concerned with the welfare of children and the peace of the community. We must participate both directly and indirectly in efforts to deal with and reduce delinquency."

The next meeting will be March 9 in the Hospitality Room of Citizen's Bank with Mrs. C. F. Pennington as hostess.

Dear Abby... Be Good Scouts and Act Like 'Santa's Helpers'

DEAR ABBY: There is this old lady in our neighborhood who lives alone. Every year she goes all out with Christmas decorations. She has a big wreath in every window, and in the big picture window she has a huge Christmas tree with little tiny red and green lights that blink off and on. Then, on her porch, she has a life-sized Santa Claus. It looks real nice around Christmas, but here it is almost March and she hasn't taken it down yet. Is there some way we can tell her? We thought of writing an anonymous letter to her, but our mothers said absolutely not. How can two 12-year-old boys tell a grown lady to take in her Christmas decorations because people laugh when they go by?

DEAR M. AND J.: Perhaps the lady is not well. Or maybe she has no one to help her take down the decorations. Why don't you call on her and offer to do the job? If you are Boy Scouts, it could be your good deed for the day. If you aren't Boy Scouts, be good scouts and offer anyway.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a doctor who says to a husband, who came to him seeking his advice on how to get along with a wife while she is going through her menopause, "Why do you think I am on my third wife? There is absolutely nothing you can do, so you might as well forget it." Don't you think that husband should find himself another doctor? WAITING FOR YOUR REPLY DEAR ABBY: Yes, and if he finds one with two couches, he should invite that doctor to be his guest.

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a question rather than a problem. It arose from the following situation: Recently a friend of ours passed away. My wife and I, who are Roman Catholics, went to the funeral parlor to pay our respects. My wife knelt in front of the casket and said a prayer. I maintain that, because the deceased was Protestant, my wife should not have knelt. We've asked several people their opinions, and you would be surprised at some of the answers we have heard from both Catholics and Protestants. Last year, when I attended a Bar Mitzvah, I wore a cap and prayer shawl. I would certainly not have prayed in a Catholic manner while attending a Jewish service. What is your opinion?

HD Clubs Hear Talk Concerning Birth Defects

The Home Demonstration Clubs of Gray County met at the Courthouse Annex recently to view a film on birth defects. Clyde Carruth showed the film, "Stranger to the World," and Mrs. Jack P. Foster spoke on birth defects. Mrs. Foster stated, "Birth defects might possibly be misnamed as some things called that weren't necessarily caused during birth, but rather happened during the nine months before."

"Some 250 thousand babies are born every year with some kind of birth defect, 25,000 per year in the four states surrounding Texas. In fact it seems, that the miracle is when a normal baby is born."

Attending were members Mrs. J. Lloyd Laramore, A. M. Nash, V. Smith, Lee Kingham, J. L. Carlton, W. G. Kinzer, Roy Tinsley, K. L. Elshimer, Marvin Rowan, E. B. Jackson, T. G. Groves, Nolan Cole, A. P. Combes, N. A. Briden, Boyd Brown, C. B. Rogers, Jack Howard, Joe Massengale, Lee Jackson, N. L. Welton, Roy Frazier, G. B. Hogan, Roy Kilgore, and guests, Mrs. Jack P. Foster, Clyde Carruth and Eddie Keller.

Bandanas go into evening for fall. For dressy occasions, the head coverings are studied with rhinestones or made of sparkling metallic cloth.

Verna Sanderson and Charles McCloud Are Married in Skellytown Home Rites

Mrs. Charles McCloud, nee Verna Sanderson

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — A wedding at 2 p.m. Feb. 20 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McCloud united in marriage, Miss Verna Lee Sanderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sanderson of Sayre, Okla., and Charles McCloud, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McCloud of Skellytown.

The Rev. Bill Penland, minister of First Baptist Church, read the single-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. McCloud, was attired in a two piece white suit with three quarter-length sleeves and a fur collar. She carried a cascading bouquet of blue and white carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Thomas Gerik of Pampa served the bride as matron of honor, wearing a blue sheath dress and white carnation corsage.

Thomas Gerik, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. McCloud chose a red silk one piece dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room of the home. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink and centered with a bouquet of white tulips in a green bowl.

Mrs. Barbara Daniels of Pampa served the wedding cake and Mrs. Elsie Gerik, aunt of the bridegroom, poured the punch. The couple are making their home in Pampa. The new Mrs. McCloud graduated from Sayre High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of White Deer High School, served with the Navy. He is now employed with Atlas Tank Corp. in Pampa.

Program on Famous Texas Women Given By Mrs. White for Varietas Study Club

Varietas Study Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. L. Campbell with Mrs. W. A. Wagoner as co-hostess. Mrs. R. W. Lane, president, presided.

A letter of appreciation from Mrs. Dorothy McMurray was read expressing thanks for a donation to the Nurse's Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. J. E. Kirchman, program leader, presented Mrs. Sherman White who gave the program, "Famous Texas Women."

In her opening remarks, Mrs. White mentioned first Ada Menken, a Texas Tempress, born June 15, 1835 in Memphis, Tenn. "She, with her mother and stepfather moved to Nacogdoches where her father had a clothing store on main street where the present Commercial National Bank now stands. Ada attended public school and then the University of Nacogdoches. A traveling opera troupe weaned her away from East Texas. She watched one, Alexander Issaca Menken, perform behind flickering gas lights and was never the same. She probably married Menken to get on the stage. Ada played Shakespeare and proved a fairly capable Ophelia. She became the most publicized actress in America, took 20 curtain calls and was the most photographed woman of 1860. In 1863 her collection of poems was published and a new talent recognized. Ada Menken died in August, 1868, and there is no knowing in her lifetime how much was true and how much was gossip. But this much is certain that Ada Menken was Texas' most glamorous envoy to the courts of Europe. The campus of Nacogdoches and University supplied the most lionized female of her time," the speaker stated.

Mrs. White continued, "Oveta Culp Hobby was born at Killen in 1891. She married William P. Hobby, who was publisher of the Houston Post and former governor of Texas. She was the first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the U.S. government. During World War Two, Mrs. Hobby organized and directed the Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps, later known as the WAC. She proved so energetic that the WAC's were able to fill 239 types of noncombatant military jobs. For her work during the war she became the first woman to earn the Distinguished Service Award."

Mrs. White then told of the life of Marian Amanda Ferguson. "She was a native Texan born in Bell County in 1865 and was reared on a farm. She could trace her ancestors to the illustrious Wallaces of Scotland and was wed to James E. Ferguson on Jan. 31, 1889. Texas was one of the last states to acknowledge woman suffrage and the first to elect a woman governor. In 1925 Marian Ferguson was elected governor of Texas and gave as her main reason for wanting this position a desire to clear away the political hatred that draped about the honorable name of Ferguson. Marian Ferguson will always rank as one of the outstanding women of her time. A strong woman whose name and deeds will be written large in the history of the achievements of women. The reign of the Fergusons, — 'Ma and Pa', is certainly without parallel in all Texas political history."

"Loula Grace Erdman is Missourian by birth but a Texan by adoption," Mrs. White continued. "She came directly from the University of Wisconsin to teach first in the public school in Amarillo. She now teaches creative writing at West Texas State University. Some of her books are 'Many a Voyage', 'Edge of Time' and 'Three at the Wedding'. Her latest book is 'Things were Different Then!'"

"Another famous woman of Texas," Mrs. White stated, "was Ann McLaughlin Hardwick. She was a member of the first graduating class of the Sam Houston Normal College after having won a scholarship and was one of two honor students. Her future husband, Percy V. Pennybacker, was in this class and they were married in 1884 and taught together. Mrs. Pennybacker was such a success as a history teacher that she was persuaded to write a history of Texas. This was an immediate success and was adopted as a textbook in all of the Texas schools. She joined the American History Club and at the second Texas Federation Convention she was elected president. In 1916 she was appointed to serve as a delegate to the Pan American Scientific Congress. When she died in Feb., 1936, Mrs. Thomas G. Winters said of her 'a gallant soul has gone to new achievements in another world.'"

Mrs. White mentioned Blanche Scott Rutherford who was a grammar school teacher for thirty years. "She lives at Plainview, Texas. 'One Corner of Heaven', by Mrs. Ruthertord, has more than just the ordinary interest. It is the history of people developing a new country, its community life with its hardships and good times. It is the history of the community with vision that has made the plains of Texas rich in heritage and outstanding in Texas economy."

Mrs. White concluded with remarks about Claudia Alta Taylor. "She was born in the northeast corner of Texas, three days before Christmas, 1912, in a big brick house that had been built by slaves in 1840. Claudia's father, Thomas Jefferson Taylor, was the prosperous owner of a general store and her mother died before her daughter's sixth birthday. The mother is unforgettable, a true original who believed in integration long before its time and who fought for women's suffrage but died without the right to vote. Claudia's aunt Effie from Alabama came to Texas to take care of the little girl who long before the family cook and maid-of-all work had said of the two-year-old Claudia, 'She's as purty as a Lady bird.' She is remembered by her classmates at St. Mary's Episcopal School for Girls in Dallas and at the University of Texas in Austin as a warm but somewhat retiring person. In 1934, she met Lyndon Johnson in the office of a friend in Austin. After a whirlwind courtship, they were married in (See VARIETAS, Page 22)

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Johnson, 318 N. Faulkner, announce the marriage of their daughter, Cathy Elaine to Burt C. Scott Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt C. Scott Sr. of Thomas, Okla. The wedding ceremony was performed at Barret Baptist Church on Feb. 12. The couple is at home at 1002 E. Francis.

deff. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwartz of Gloversville, N.Y., and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ernest J. Richard of Norwich, Conn. Miss Schwartz, a graduate of Gloversville High School, has been employed as a stenographer in the public school system there. Truesdell, a graduate of Berea College, Ky., is managing editor of the Covington, Va., Virginian. He is a former member of the Pampa Daily News editorial staff.

The couple plans an April wedding to be performed in Canadian.

Gray County 4-H Food Groups Plan To Enter Contest

Gray County 4-H Food Groups are making ready for the first county foods contest to be held March 20 in the Court House Annex.

A committee of adult leaders, made up of Mrs. Derrell Hogsett and Mrs. Thelma Bray, of Pampa, and Mrs. George Saunders of McLean, are making plans for the Favorite Food Show.

The committee has asked that 4-H members planning to enter the contest turn in a menu and recipe of the food they plan to enter to the County Extension office by 5 p.m. March 12. This will make it possible for the judges to judge this part of the contest early.

A complete schedule of events for March 20, will be mailed to each contestant after the menus and recipes are received.

Mrs. Channell, assistant county home demonstration agent, said a large turn out is expected for the Favorite Food Show. All 4-H food leaders are being asked to encourage the girls they work with to enter.

Mrs. Barber's Home Is Meeting Place of Twentieth Century Forum Club Members

Twentieth Century Forum met in regular session Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. Holt Barber at 2310 Aspen.

The social hour was held prior to the meeting, after which Mrs. Arthur M. Teed, president, presided over the business session.

The program chairman, Mrs. Aubrey Steele introduced Mrs. E. J. Dunigan and Mrs. Russell Holloway, who were in charge of the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Dunigan chose for her subject the life of Mrs. Robert Kleberg, stating "Mrs. Kleberg was born Philippine Sophie Caroline Louise Rosalie von Roeder in Oldenburg, a state in the German Empire. Rosalie was born in the old monastery and was provided with the best of private tutors and the best advantages in music. Her father had purchased the monastery from the monks and made it into a home."

"Just as Rosalie reached her 18th birthday, family trouble began. Through some fraud her father lost title to his home. The court process cost him most of his possessions and they were faced with a great change in their way of life. She was offered a home with a wealthy aunt but chose to live with her family on a small farm."

"When Rosalie was courted and won by a young lawyer, Robert Kleberg, she shared his hopes and dreams for a home in Texas and their dream came true. The first house in Texas which Rosalie claimed for a home was a log cabin bare of both plank floor and plank ceiling. It was located about 10 miles from San Felipe De Austin and served as a shelter in time of wind, rain and sun. Her children came rapidly, seven in all. Robert built a better home but it was a far cry from her home in Germany. Her husband advanced in his profession day by day, busy with state affairs and farming."

"Prosperity always follows wise endeavor and Rosalie and her husband met their just reward. They saw real advantages come into Texas. Their finances grew as the state grew and they could see no real trouble ahead for them ever again in all the world."

"Rosalie von Roeder Kleberg lived to be 94 years of age, passing away at her ranch home in 1907. Summing it all up this life of our gentle Rosalie, born beyond the sea in a land of thrifty people, leaving wealth behind to cross the sea with her husband to come to the wilds of Texas, we find the solemn glory of a life well lived, a simple, every day Texas life lived to the sweetest and fullest, and best," Mrs. Dunigan concluded.

The second speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Holloway, chose Alice Merriott's book, "Hell on Horses and Women." Mrs. Holloway gave briefly the life of Mrs. Merriott, saying "I became intrigued with her books and have chosen to give a few stories from 'Hell on Horses and Women,' which depicts the role of women today in the cattle business — as you know the world of the west has been, from the beginning a man's world, but there are homes and wives and children there also. Women were nice to have around, and they came in handy at cooking and washing and taking care of the place when a man was away from home, but women were a secondary interest to the men of the western frontier. The stories in this book are true. It is largely a book of successes and good times."

Mrs. Holloway chose three stories from the book to bring to those present, the first "Give Us This Day," was the story of a young wife and mother left alone to care for the home while her husband was away earning a living. "Merry Christmas" was the story of life on a ranch and the coming of the mail and its importance in the daily life of a ranch family. The final story was "Roundup." This story showed the amount of work to be done by the women on roundup day. "The day began when the alarm clock went off at ten minutes of three. It was exciting to watch them gather their reins, mount and prepare to move. Roundup was a meeting time for all the families in the area. Each helping the other with their cattle. The women folk getting together the food," the speaker stated.

Mrs. Holloway said, "By now

Heat Study Says Wood Splash Tops Are the Best

Why do so many homeowners insist on wood window sash? The answer might be found in the results of a heat transfer study published recently.

According to the heating engineers who conducted the tests, a wood window with a single thickness of glass reduced heat loss or heat gain as much as 22 per cent when compared with the same size window made with other sash materials. Wood sash showed an even greater advantage when double-glazed windows were used. With double-glazing, the heat loss was 37 per cent less for wood units than for metal sash.

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Taxpayers' Cash Goes to Radicals

When the anti-poverty bill was passed in Congress, conservative members of Congress warned that many of the projects provided for in the legislation would serve as a wedge for radicalism in communities across the nation.

Opponents of the bill were convinced that labor camps and anti-poverty training centers would provide an ideal haven for those individuals who wanted to disrupt American society rather than raise living standards for poor people.

Confirmation of these fears was available almost before the ink was dry on the law signed by President Johnson. It came in the form of a charge by Deputy Mayor Screven of New York City that Mobilization for Youth, the original model for an anti-poverty action program, was under communist influence. The New York Daily News asserted that printed materials used by rioters in Harlem and Brooklyn had been mimeographed on machines belonging to Mobilization for Youth. Later, it was learned that the FBI had uncovered the fact that nine members of the Mobilization for Youth organization had been members of the Communist Party or Communist front members in the past.

This information was all the more revealing in view of the fact that New York newspapers disclosed that Mobilization for Youth officials had supported a rent strike in New York and attempted to participate in various forms of direct action social protest.

Now it is bad enough when strictly private organizations, without a cent of taxpayer-provided funds, get into the business of urging citizens not to pay rent or other bills for which they are obligated. But Mobilization for Youth is an organization that has had federal financial assistance because it was originally designed by the late President Kennedy as a pilot project in anti-poverty action. It is a sample of what will be imposed on other communities under the legislation sought and obtained by President Johnson.

If the administration had admitted that federal funds would be used to pay for an organization supporting rent strikes, one can be sure that the anti-poverty bill would never have received congressional approval. It is outrageous that the taxpayers should be tricked into providing funds to subsidize wild, irresponsible, virtually criminal projects for social revolution.

Exposure of these facts concerning Mobilization for Youth almost certainly will have effects far beyond the limits of New York City. As Rep. William Miller made clear, the matter of communist infiltration into a private but taxpayer-assisted organization in the nation's largest city is "very much a campaign issue."

The issue is whether the administration is going to extend its tolerance of leftwingers to the point where they may operate with federal funds. It should be born in mind that there has been a definite trend in this direction the last 3 1/2 years.

Advocates of leftwing causes have had the gentlest of handling from the Internal Revenue Service. There is the case of the organizations attempting to create a virtual revolution in the state of Mississippi. They never miss an opportunity to demand that their agents be given a shield of U.S. marshals.

Heretofore, however, the administration assistance to radical groups has been of an indirect character. In the case of Mobilization for Youth, federal funds are directly aiding an organization, at least some of whose members fomented discord in the city in which it operates.

If the nation is to have revolutionary action groups, that masquerade as anti-poverty centers, and at the same time benefit from taxpayer contributions, then the time to know about it would be before any presidential election when the voters could register their feelings about such an extraordinary development. Certainly, the Mobilization for Youth link to rent strikes should ring an alarm bell for responsible citizens in all parts of this country.

Sharing the Blame

When free America is finally washed down the drain in favor of a regimented and collectivized America (it is closer than you think), the press will have to share the blame. In fact, the American press is probably more to blame for the state socialist trend that set in many years ago than the politicians are. An informed public is a public on guard against usurpation of its rights by government.

But, since the early days of the New Deal, a majority of the newspaper and the national magazines have fed the public nothing but misinformation. Every new step the government has taken into state socialism has been lauded in most of the press as another bold step forward into the wonderful world of "The Great Society."

Recently we looked over a page of editorials from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. This page was an excellent example of the press misinforming the public. One editorial is entitled "Why Halfway on Gold?" It advises the government to go all the way, and eliminate gold altogether from our monetary system. This would free all our gold, the editor reasons, so we could pay it to other nations when they present the dollars we gave them in the first place and demand gold in exchange.

The editor states that most of the world has found a better base for domestic money than gold and he intimates that it is high time we did. He also hopes the world will one day find a better base for international exchange than gold. Politicians' promises, perhaps?

In another editorial entitled "First Save the UN," the editor urges President Johnson to do whatever is necessary to keep the U.N. going, even to appeasing the Russians in their refusal to pay up on dues and assessments.

This is just one newspaper. There are many hundreds like it putting out the same line of misinformation to the public. Yes, to the press will go the greatest share of the blame for the downfall of a once proud and free land.

Hitting Below the Bumper

As if it weren't enough that they're building machines to take over people's jobs, they've now come up with one that is a real rat funk.

A newly patented parking meter, reports Science Service, automatically turns back to zero on a car pulls out of the parking space so that nobody else can reload on the unused time.

It cuts by sending out ultrasonic waves every so often. If they are not reflected back by a car in front of it, the meter flips back to zero.

This is not the only sneaky thing this machine is capable of. When a vehicle's parking time is up, it screams for a cop. It does the same if someone tampers with it. All it does not do is sneer.

On the plus side, however, the meter will send out a signal to let cruising drivers know when a parking space is available. Thanks a lot.

The American Way

Only One Solution For The Gold Problem
By HARRY BROWNE

Much discussion of the most pessimistic nature these days concerns the "outflow of gold" situation. Foreign claims on the national gold stock in Fort Knox are more than enough to exhaust it.

To understand this problem, and to suggest a solution, requires an understanding of what money is.

Individuals accept payment from other individuals in exchange for services rendered. Since exchanges must be voluntary, you would never accept payment from anyone for your services unless you considered what you receive to be useful to you.

Since barter (trading products and services without a money system) is very cumbersome, a money system is necessary to facilitate exchange. Centuries ago, individuals decided that gold and silver had inherent values that made them ideal as exchange media. In other words, the individual decided that he could always exchange gold for something else — so he willingly accepted it as payment for services, rather than demanding a product he desired.

Reason For Substitutes

To facilitate exchange still further, a system of "money substitutes" was devised. These are pieces of paper that act as receipts for gold or silver. The gold is stored somewhere and the individual uses the receipt as a medium of exchange and pays for goods and services with that receipt.

Obviously, the receipt is only worthwhile if it is backed by a set amount of gold or silver on storage somewhere.

The "dollars" we carry in our pockets are supposed to be receipts. Our political government has declared itself to be the only storage agency for our gold. And it has established that each dollar receipt is supposed to be worth 1/35 of an ounce of gold.

As long as every dollar is backed by the appropriate amount of gold, there can be no problem. If individuals prefer to exchange their dollars for gold, there will always be enough gold to pay them off.

But, unfortunately, the politicians long ago decided it was to their advantage to go into the counterfeiting business. And they issued far more receipts (dollars) than there was gold to back them up. Now they are in the fearful position of not having enough gold to pay off all the receipts.

Receipts Disclaimed
As a result, it was necessary — first of all — to tell Americans that they can't turn in their dollars for gold. This, of course, is an amazing irony. After all, the dollars only have value as receipts for real money (gold or silver).

But even that coercive step hasn't helped. For foreigners hold more than enough dollars to wipe out the gold supply by turning in their receipts and demanding their gold.

This means that every "dollar" in circulation in America is, in effect, worthless — and will be obviously so as soon as the gold is gone.

We must have a system in which every receipt is backed 100 percent by gold or silver. Anything less than that means the kind of chaos we are experiencing today.

So further tinkering, taxes and restrictions will not cure the gold problem. The cure is to rescue our money system from the political government that uses inflation as a tool to promote its own power.

The United Press International Today is Sunday, Feb. 28, the 57th day of 1965 with 306 to follow. The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

President and Staff Expect Fighting In Viet Nam To Expand — But Remain Controlled

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson and his top lieutenants anticipate that the tortuous war in Viet Nam "will grow" but "remain controlled."

That is, "new confrontations" in the form of Communist attacks and retaliatory air strikes are deemed virtually certain. At the same time, both sides will avoid a major conflict on the ground or the use of nuclear weapons.

That's what the President and Secretaries Rusk and McNamara are telling congressional and other authorities in unannounced briefings and meetings. They voiced this outlook to French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville in his discussions here last week.

In these backstage talks, it was made clear the administration is willing to negotiate a political settlement of the protracted Viet Nam conflict. But it was contended that is not feasible at this time for two principal reasons:

—The terms demanded by Moscow and Peking are considered "too high."

—South Viet Nam and the U.S. have strong views on the imperative need to "improve the military situation" before sitting down at a conference table.

In his talks with Couve de Murville, the President stressed two points — willingness to negotiate, and the Reds' unacceptable terms.

On the first, the President explained that, while he is prepared to negotiate, public opinion in the U.S. is heavily against that until the military situation in South Viet Nam is more favorable.

On the second point, the President stated the Kremlin has been sounded out on a regional settlement in Southeast Asia, but this was rejected on the ground the Soviet is interested only in undertaking an over-all Asian agreement. To the U.S., that's not practical at present.

As regards the Chinese, the President said the U.S. doesn't know where they really stand, as communications with them are "extremely limited."

"CONTROLLED" WAR — At a White House briefing for members of Congress arranged by the President, Secretary Rusk expounded on the so-called "controlled war" in Viet Nam.

According to the State Department chief's account, "Both sides are seeking to improve their military positions and appear intent on keeping the conflict carefully controlled during these probing operations."

"That's why I believe the war will grow," he added, "before there can be a negotiated settlement."

"Is there any likelihood of negotiations in the near future?" asked a lawmaker.

"The initiative is up to Moscow and Peking," replied Rusk. "We are fully aware we are willing to sit down and talk things over. The next move is up to them. In the meanwhile, we are doing everything we can to improve the military situation in South Viet Nam."

THE NECESSARY HEAT (?) — Defense Secretary McNamara was more explicit in his meetings with Foreign Minister Couve de Murville.

"We believe it will take several or more air strikes against North Vietnamese installations," McNamara said, "before the Communists are ready to negotiate on acceptable terms."

This premise was bluntly challenged by the French diplomat. He noted that the recent air strikes had no conciliatory effect on the Reds.

"They had a very salutary effect on the over-all situation," argued McNamara. "They helped immensely to stabilize the South Vietnamese government and to improve the military morale there."

Within 24 hours after this claim, the latest coup-on-coup erupted.

At De Murville's next meeting with McNamara, he pointedly asked about the "stable government" pronouncement. The Pentagon chief made no reply, and De Murville tactfully did not press the matter.

TWISTING THEIR ARMS — One of the most significant backstage briefings took place in Vice President Humphrey's office near the floor of the Senate.

Humphrey, convened this meeting at the express request of the President. Present was a group of Democratic senators who have been publicly urging negotiations to end the Viet Nam fighting.

They included Senators Frank Church, Idaho; Gale McGee, Wyo.; George McGovern, S. D.; Eugene McCarthy, Minn.; Stuart Symington, Mo.

Also on hand was McGeorge Bundy, special foreign affairs adviser to the President who was recently in South Viet Nam. He told the senators their advocacy of negotiations was "embarrassing" the President and hampering his dealing with this highly explosive situation.

"It's eminently inadvisable to attempt negotiations," contended Bundy, "until the South Viet Nam government is in a stronger military position and can take the lead in such discussions."

Wit and Whimsy

The reformer accosted a man who had just stepped out of a bar.

Reformer — My friend, I hope you will forgive me, but I notice you have been drinking. Do you ever stop to consider the terrible cost of it all? Do you even know how many drinks you have a day?

Drinker (good-naturedly) — Sure. About ten.

Reformer — And what do they cost you?

Drinker — Seventy-five cents.

Reformer — Why, my friend, that's $7.50 a day. How long have you been drinking?

Drinker — About thirty years.

Reformer — Seven dollars and fifty cents a day for thirty years. Why, that's a tremendous amount of money.

Drinker — Certainly is.

Reformer — Do you see that office building across the street? Do you realize, my friend, that if you had never touched liquor you could own that fine building today.

Drinker — Don't you ever drink?

Reformer — I am proud to say I have never touched a drop.

Drinker — And do you own that building?

Reformer — Of course not.

Drinker (offering his hand) — Well, meet the owner.

Tom — What does an elephant do on the freeway?

Tim — Somewhere between 3 and 4 miles an hour.

to-day and week-to-week affair," said Bundy. "We are playing it by ear and watching each day's developments. There may have to be additional air strikes."

"What happens if North Viet Nam tries to improve its military position by sending a large number of regular ground forces into South Viet Nam?" asked a senator.

"We don't expect that to happen," declared Bundy flatly.

"Why not?"

"That's our considered judgment," was the answer.

Later, Senators Church and McGovern told other senators that Bundy's pronouncements had convinced them "We are on the right track in advocating negotiations."

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Taxes and Bureaucracy Not Components of Government

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of five articles in which the business editor sets forth a method other than taxes for the financing of government. The series is titled "Government Without Taxation").

By SAM CAMPBELL
Business Editor

"A long habit of not thinking a thing wrong," wrote Tom Paine, "gives it a superficial appearance of being right, and raises at first a formidable outcry in defense of custom."

No doubt habit or custom attaches many Americans to the idea of taxation as the chief means for the raising of governmental revenue. They accept taxation because it never has occurred to them that other revenue means are available. However, literally hundreds of conversations and interviews persuade this writer that the reliance on taxation originates from a more nearly rational point of view.

The Rational
This rationalization was stated in the previous installment of this series as follows: "We need law and order; therefore we need bureaucracy to establish rules; therefore we need taxation to raise the money to pay the bureaucracy."

Thus, the logical chain becomes "tax-bureaucracy-law and order." The first two links in that equation are regarded as essential to the end result, and the whole chain is commonly thought of as "government." The mission of these articles is to suggest that a more careful engineering can develop means to law and order more nearly in accord with the object sought.

The logical sequence to be presented can be labeled "revenue-accountability-government." The term "government" in this substitute equation is the same as "law and order." The word "accountability" refers to the means by which the citizen or resident of a country holds responsible those who perform the governing services.

Obviously so complex a matter can not be fully stated in a sentence or two, but it is expected that the subject will become completely clear when the substitute formula is applied to an actual situation in the final portion of this series Sunday.

Unable To Perform

For the time being, it is necessary to give reasons that taxes and bureaucracy are not components of government. Briefly, these links in the chain are false because they do not, as is supposed, lead to the desired result, namely, law and order. Taxes, for instance, create a resistance to establish authority. They penalize honest men, provide a motive for cheating, and give the crook an advantage in the marketplace.

Likewise, the bureaucracy is unable to perform that which it was established to do. The members are not directly accountable to the clientele they serve, but rather to a third party — an elected board, the chief qualification of which is knowing how to get elected again.

Inflicted, Frustrated

The upshot of it all is a vast interlocking system, swept by conflicting personal motivations, frustrated by its own rules, non-creative, making robots of its own personnel, immobile as a sponge, and powerless except to preserve itself at the expense of those that it was intended to serve.

To expect such a mechanism to produce law and order is to hope that a chain gang from Georgia can produce victory in

matter of fact

Caumet was the name given to the peace pipe of the American Indians by the French in Canada. It was 2 1/2 feet long and in the west bowl was made of red pipestone. The stem of reed was decorated with eagles' quills or women's hair. Native tobacco mixed with willow bark or sumac leaves was smoked.

a foot race at Yale. To call such a system by the name of "government" is to contend that government and mis-government are one and the same thing.

But mere criticism is not enough. Anybody can criticize. The real job is to present a design for government in its true sense — a plan through which those heroic and selfless individuals now struggling in vain to administer a contradictory mechanism can attain the satisfaction that comes only with accomplishment.

Surfboarding is a fast-growing sport at Miami Beach this year, but because so many devotees are not expert at it authorities have restricted them to one small section of the beach. It's a safety measure to avoid injuring swimmers... We've noticed while driving on Connecticut's Merritt Parkway that small trees planted in rows on center strips make the highway safer by shielding drivers' eyes from the headlights of oncoming cars. It's a safety measure that should be adopted on all superhighways... Anatole France, the great French novelist, once wrote: "Fashions change, but pearls endure forever." Any woman will agree.

Today's smile: A politician, noted for his windy speeches, consulted his physician and complained: "I suffer from insomnia, and I've tried every known remedy to cure it. Can you prescribe something for me?" The medico suggested: "Try talking to yourself."

The first world's champion miler was Charles Lawes of England, who covered the distance in 4 minutes, 56 seconds, back in 1864. During the intervening century that mark was broken many times. The current title holder is Peter Snell of New Zealand, who ran the distance last year in 3 minutes, 54.4 seconds, more than a minute faster than Lawes.

Thoughts while shaving: In Mr. Pickwick's merris England it was the custom in country alehouses to mark upon a slate the number of pints and quarts charged to customers' accounts, the forerunner of today's credit card business. When the numbers grew large the pubkeeper reminded his patrons of their obligations by saying, "Mind your P's and Q's, Did you know the great causes of job absenteeism are the common cold and sunburn? About one-fifth of the nation's cash income is earned by husbands in the age group of 35 to 44. Last year it totaled more than $80 billion... Although 70 per cent of the earth's surface is covered by oceans, there are millions of persons who have never seen one... Idaho is the only state over which no foreign flag has ever flown... The Republicans thought they were promoting a new idea when they adopted the campaign slogan "a chicken in every pot" back in 1928, but it was strictly old hat. In 1589 Henry IV of France used the same slogan when he told his subjects he planned to make France so prosperous "every peasant will have a chicken in his pot on Sunday"... Paper money was printed in China as early as 950 A.D. and in 1068 history records Chinese cops were chasing counterfeiters... After more than 35 years in the arena Clyde Beatty remains the best-known lion trainer of them all. But Alfred Schneider had the biggest lion act of all time during the 20's. He kept as many as 40 of the big cats under his whip... The shortest railroad in the world is at Vatican City in Rome, which runs for six-tenths of a mile. A complete run takes a little more than a minute... The Poughkeepsie (N.Y.) JOURNAL reported on its women's page: "All wore ballerina length gowns featuring pink taffets undershirts." Really?

Country Editor speaking: "Most successful men have wives who tell them what to do, and secretaries who do it for them."

A thought for the day—British author Edmund Burke once said: "He that wrestles with us strengthens our nerves and sharpens our skill. Our antagonist is our helper."

Here's a Sneak Peek at Television's New Season

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK (NEA) — What you will be seeing on television next season is now being determined, as the annual Madison Avenue shopping spree for television series gets under way. This is a frenzied-ritual which makes the average person's Christmas shopping seem as peaceful as a tranquilized lamb. Nearly 100 pilots are up for grabs. Some look very hopeful. Some look as if they should never have been made. Among the former is Get Smart, a hilarious James Bond spoof with Don Adams (House Detective Glick on The Bill Dana Show) as a secret agent whose telephone (hidden in the sole of his shoe) is apt to ring loudly and constantly while he is attending a formal symphony concert.

Among the latter is The Good Old Days, the Flintstones come to life with Darryl Hickman, a good actor, wasted in a supposedly comic study of a young caveman bachelor.

Situation comedies are in the greatest abundance. And most of them have gimmicks of the Bewitched type.

NBC has already announced that I Dream of Jeannie is set. In this, Larry Hagman (Mary Martin's son) plays an astronaut who releases a genie named Jeannie (Barbara Eden) from a bottle. She is eternally grateful, and a mind reader who anticipates his every little wish for a kiss. This show may set men to dreaming the way Bewitched makes a woman think what fun a little power can be. Also possibilities for NBC: My Mother, the Car, with Jerry Van Dyke the owner of an antique car, the reincarnation of his mother; George Gobel, in The Willies, as a hotel owner who discovers two ghosts from the Revolutionary War.

The spirits are Kathy Browne, whose blood has obviously not yet cooled, and Hans Conried as a man "cut down in the prime of life just because I had the white eyes on Bunker Hill." ABC is offering Thompson's Ghost, with Bert Lahr as a slightly befuddled ghost who can't always make it through the wall. (Shades of the role Marion Loren plays on Bewitched.)

Also in the comedy-fantasy category, but purely by accident, is Hercules, a Joe Levine production with Gordon Scott, an ex-Tarzan, as the muscle bound hero.

A sampling of one film, shown to advertising men and the press, had a beautiful young blond (a man; in this kind of show beautiful young blonds are always male, and exotic brunettes are the females), saying with great sincerity to Hercules, "I cannot stand idly by while you meet the monster tomorrow."

If this show continues to take itself seriously, it could be the comic highlight of the season. CBS appears to be offering five comedy-fantasy pilots for sale. But it is very hard to make a definite statement about CBS shows, because they drop a cone of silence (a gimmick used in Get Smart) around what they are doing, and send members of the press to the underground for information.

Secret agent OOCBS reports Heaven Hele U's, with Barr Nelson and Joanna Moore: Who Goes There? about a family whose portrait of General Custer and his Indian servant come to life: Dream Wife, with Shirley Jones and Donald May: You're Only Young Twice, with Ed Wynn and Ethel Waters; and The Smothers Brothers, with one brother a businessman and the other an angel.

Westerns are coming back, at least to the pilot stage, if not the purchase stage. NBC has Laredo, a color show with Neville Brand, Peter Brown and William Smith. CBS has The Wild West, a James Bond spoof, they say, with Robert Conrad and Ross Martin.

ABC has a Man Called Shenandoah, with Robert Horton as an amnesiac, The Big Valley with Barbara Stanwyck, Richard Long and Peter Breck, and The Legend of Jesse James with Chris Jones as Jesse and Allen Case (who used to be The Deputy) as Frank James.

ABC has two soaps, The Girl From Peyton Place and The Long Hot Summer. CBS has a serious ghost story in The Haunted, and NBC has one in The Ghostbreaker with Kerwin Mathews and Diana van der Vlis.

Several pilots are Bond-ed. I Spy, a color show set for NBC, stars Robert Culp as a tennis star who is a secret agent, and Bill Cosby as his assistant. Honey West stars Anne Francis as a female Bond, with John Ericson as "her man Friday" and Selena Mead has Polly Bergen as the resourceful Washington widow who works for the Q branch of secret service.

Drama is present, but not in any great profusion. ABC has announced The FBI Story for Sunday viewing from 8 to 9. They also have an anthology, Moment of Decision, and Will Banner, with Steve Forrest as a small town sheriff, and Lola Albright in a continuing role.

CBS has The Trials of O'Brien, with Peter Falk as an attorney, Coronet Blue, about a 19 year-old amnesiac searching, searching, forever searching, and The Quest, a series with stories of varying lengths. NBC's dramas are Guilty or Not Guilty, with Robert Ryan, and The Mayor, with Robert Colbert and Chad Everett.

Which of these get on the air will not really be known for several months, although tentative schedules are near completion.

Last year, for instance, CBS announced a lineup, just like a baseball manager bringing in a left-handed pitcher to face a left-handed batter.

Then they made a few fast switches after the other networks had set their schedules, just like a rival manager removing that left-handed batter for a right-handed pinch-hitter.

But then, CBS does own the Yankees.

PILOTS, PILOTS, PILOTS: Network executives are sifting through more than 100 television pilots. Only a few will reach the home tube.

Youngsters Learning To Read Music Easily

NEW YORK (NEA) — In the rapidly dimming past, children under orders from parents would learn that the letters of the word "face" were also the musical notes represented by spaces on a treble clef.

To learn the notes represented by the five lines of the treble, you had to remember the sentence Every Good "Boy Does Fine."

Today, thanks to a vivacious blonde named Madeleine Carabocone, youngsters need only a lively imagination to learn to read music.

Mrs. Carabocone, aware that the tediousness of learning music gives most youngsters a learning block, decided, when it came time to teach her own children, to turn the chore into a game.

Sun Announces New FPO Director

PHILADELPHIA Pa. - Senior Vice President Jno. G. Pew today announced appointment of J. Dwayne Taylor as director of foreign production operations for Sun Oil Company.

Taylor, who has been assistant director, succeeds the late Ted C. Stauffer.

He came to Sun's general offices in Philadelphia in 1960 after geological service in the Southwest and in Venezuela. He first was assistant to the director of Foreign Operations, and in 1961 became assistant director.

Stauffer, whom he succeeds, died unexpectedly on February 6 in Perth, Australia, shortly after arrival for business conferences. A former manager of Sun's Central (now Eastern) Division at Evansville, Ind., a d later administrative assistant in Philadelphia, Mr. Stauffer had been manager of Sun's Foreign Production Operations Department since it was formed in 1956. Under him the Company's search for oil outside of North America expanded around the world into numerous countries on four continents.

NORMAN G. BROOKS
... new appointment

Railway Names Brooks to Post

The appointment of Norman G. Brooks to the position of Land and Tax Commissioner of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway Company, Fort Worth, was announced by Ellis L. Simmons, Vice President. Brooks succeeds L. G. Key who was promoted to General Land Agent for the Burlington Lines with headquarters in Chicago.

A native of Wylie Brooks attended elementary and high schools there and entered F.W.D. service in May 1949 after receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in commerce at Texas Christian University. He served in the Freight Traffic Department at Abilene and Fort Worth until January 1, 1961, when he was promoted to Chief Clerk, Land and Tax Commissioner, which position he held until his recent appointment.

Brooks is an elder in Boulevard Christian Church and served as its choir director for 7 1/2 years. He is also a member of the "Burlington Five," a vocal group sponsored by the railroad. He and his wife and two children live at 4709 Ira in Haltom City.

At the same time it was announced that Macy K. Orman was appointed Agricultural and Tax Agent of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway Company, Fort Worth. Orman is a native of Floyd County, Texas, and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural education from Texas A&M, and a Master of Science degree from Texas Technological College at Lubbock. Following his graduation from A&M, he taught vocational agriculture for a year, then entered military service, after which he received his Master's degree and became Assistant County Agricultural Agent in Hale County with headquarters in Plainview.

Orman has held the position of Agricultural Agent of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway Company since August 1955. He and his wife and two children live at 4108 Trail Lake Drive, Fort Worth.

Phillips Budget for '65 $175-Million

Phillips Petroleum Company's estimated capital expenditure budget for 1965 is $175 million, according to Stanley Leeler, president, and W. W. Keeler, chairman of the executive committee.

This total does not include an estimated $57 million scheduled for the recently announced Puerto Rican project.

"Of the $175 million total, approximately $127 million, or about 73 per cent of the estimated budget, will be spent on projects in the United States," the officials stated. "These estimated capital expenditures for 1965 indicate that although expanding broadly outside the United States, as well as proceeding with the recently announced Puerto Rican venture, Phillips has been and will continue to place primary emphasis on expansion in the United States," they said.

Cities Service Choses Chitwood

BARTLESVILLE - Robert H. Chitwood of Bartlesville has been named manager of Cities Service Oil Co.'s Crude Oil Supply Division, according to Gerald McGrew, vice president of supply and transportation.

As manager, Chitwood will direct all purchases and sales of crude oil, oil movements and division order activities.

Chitwood brings to the job a wide experience in the field of oil purchasing and logistics. He has served under McGrew for the past seven years as assistant manager of crude oil supply. He coordinated all oil movements in the division from 1954 to 1958, after completing the company's Graduate Training Program.

He is a graduate of Oklahoma State University, with a degree in business administration.

The new manager is a member of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. and the Bartlesville Chamber of Commerce. He was on the directorate of the Washington County Red Cross Chapter and is a past vestryman of the St. Lukes Episcopal Church in Bartlesville.

Chitwood will continue to maintain his office in Bartlesville.

Mrs. Ralph Converse, Red Cross First Aid Instructor, will complete her second standard class with the following receiving their standard first aid cards: Mrs. O. C. Cox, Mrs. Floyd Scott, Mrs. James Silcott, Mrs. Marquette Joiner, Mrs. Leon H. Richter, Mrs. Murray Chumley, Mrs. Jimmie Parson, Mrs. Charles Davis, Ms. S. T. Friend, Mrs. T. M. Whitely, Mrs. W. W. Gregory advanced first aid class Tuesday. Mrs. Converse will begin an advanced first aid class Tuesday at the First Christian Church from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Persons who have completed their standard first aid may take the class work. There will be no charge for the advanced course.

A new Red Cross film is available for any group in Pampa during the month of March which is designated as "Red Cross Month." The film "Symbol of Humanity" is a 16 mm sound with music. It is a black and white-21 minutes and tells the Red Cross story in a changing world. Civic clubs and study clubs as well as school groups can use the film by letting the Red Cross office know a week in advance.

The national convention will be held May 10-12 in Detroit this year and it promises to be one of the best conventions held in years. If Pampans plan to be in Detroit during these dates, contact the Red Cross office and visit the convention headquarters at Cobo Hall.

Girl Scout Troop 14 gave a bake sale to pay for their first aid textbooks. Mrs. A. E. McLenna, leader, reported a successful sale and each girl is working with Mrs. Fred Martin, Red Cross first aid instructor to learn how to prevent accidents.

Did you know that Celanese Corporation of America is carrying on a very interesting and informative safety program in their plant? Roscoe Mounce, first aid chairman for the Red Cross board told us of the plant program. Celanese has five first aid instructors and two instructors in medical care program.

The are Jim King, Frank Converse, Roscoe Mounce, W. C. Puryear, and Bob Regan. Jim King is the commentator for the safety classes. The first class was on artificial respiration using the Resus-ann doll. Other safety sessions during the year will be on home accidents, water safety accidents, plant safety and medical self help classes. These safety meetings are promoted through the Red Cross instructors and medical self help instructors.

The Pampa convalescence home invited the Gray Ladies to serve as hostess to guests at the open-house Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Louise Sewell, chairman, Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier, Mrs. W. J. Ladd, Mrs. Ruth Gilliland, rs. Fred Ammeter, and Mrs. A. D. Hys. The Gray Ladies served punch and cookies to the guests and visited with the patients.

Mrs. Majorie Penn, RN and school nurse for the Lefors school district has completed a class in care of the sick and injured. Girls who received their home nursing pins and cards were: Terri Bryant, Candy Cox, Vicky Ferguson, Larry Sue Glick, Janice James, Helen Sheu, Nancy Sims, Sue Thacker, Linda Tillman, Linda Loyd, all from Lefors.

Last call for swimmers who want to become Water Safety Instructors! Mrs. Jo Cox, water safety instructor trainer for the American Red Cross will be in Pampa at the Youth Center at 7 p.m. to begin the WSI class, March 1.

Instructors who have let their authorization lapse may take the course and persons who have a current senior life saving card and who are 18 years old may enter the class. Thursday evening an invitation to all current WSI for Gray County is given for them to come to the class and their authorization card will be renewed. Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the group, states Mrs. Don George, Water Safety Instructor.

Would you like to have your membership card for the Red Cross? If you gave through the R.C. call at our R.C. office, basement of the City Hall and get your card. How to give Mouth to Mouth resuscitation is shown on the card and who knows, it could help you save a life!

Mrs. V. J. Drew, chairman of Volunteers on the Red Cross Board talked at the Newcomers Club Thursday morning for the Red Cross. She explained the need for typists in the Red Cross office, how to become a Gray Lady and other volunteer services persons could give to the Red Cross. This information by the Merchants Hostess Service is given a sheet greeting the Newcomers to Pampa and the Red Cross. This information sheet tells them of the work of Red Cross in Pampa.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Goodbody & Co. says the Dow Jones industrial average has broken out of its brief trading range in the 880's and seems to be preparing for an assault on its all-time high of 906.

The firm says the improving prospects for business and for the consumer during the second quarter and second half of this year offer a sound basis for the current market strength.

Standard & Poor's says the uncertainties of the South Viet Nam situation are likely to remain a restraining influence at least for a time. The firm recommends a cautious investment policy for the present.

STORM ACCIDENTS
MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—One person was killed and 10 were injured Saturday in a chain-reaction collisions involving 36 automobiles and a bus in a snowstorm on the Munich-Nuernberg autobahn, police reported.

In neighboring Austria, heavy snowstorms brought road traffic to a standstill in many sections and police said 14 cars crashed into each other on the super-highway near Linz.
