FDR 'LICKED' ON BILL, PREDICTS McCARRAN MERCHANTS, CLUBS INVITED TO ENTER FLOATS IN FIESTA

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN WINNERS ON JUNE 3-4

5 MERCHANTS AND 4 CLUBS ALREADY SIGNED UP

An appeal to all Pampa organizations and merchants to enter floats in the Top O' Texas parade was issued last night by Charlie Maisel and Claude Motley, co-chairmen in charge of the street parade for the two fiesta days on June 3 and 4.

"We are planning on having two of the biggest parades in the history of Pampa celebrations," Mr. Maisel said. "What we are anxious to get now, is the cooperation of as many organizations as possible in putting floats or marching units in the parades."

Five Pampa merchants already have signified intentions of entering floats, the parade committeemen stated, and others are expected to enter within the next few days.

"We would like to know just as soon as possible how many local entered floats we can expect to have," Mr. Motley stated.

Any organization or business firm wishing to know further details of the parade are urged to contact Mr. Maisel or Mr. Motley.

Luncheon Clubs Act
The Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and Junior Chamber of Commerce organizations also have announced that they will have floats in the parade.

BUS SERVICE TO DUMAS AND SUNRAY ANNOUNCED

Panhandle Trailways has been granted authority by the Railroad Commission of Texas to operate a motor bus service from Pampa and other Panhandle points to Dumas and Sunray, according to an announcement made today by W. J. Sturgeon, local agent for the bus line. Operations will begin May 20. Present plans call for two daily schedules to leave Pampa at 7:40 a. m. and 7 p. m., and to arrive in Pampa on the return trip at 9:30 a. m. and 4:15 p. m.

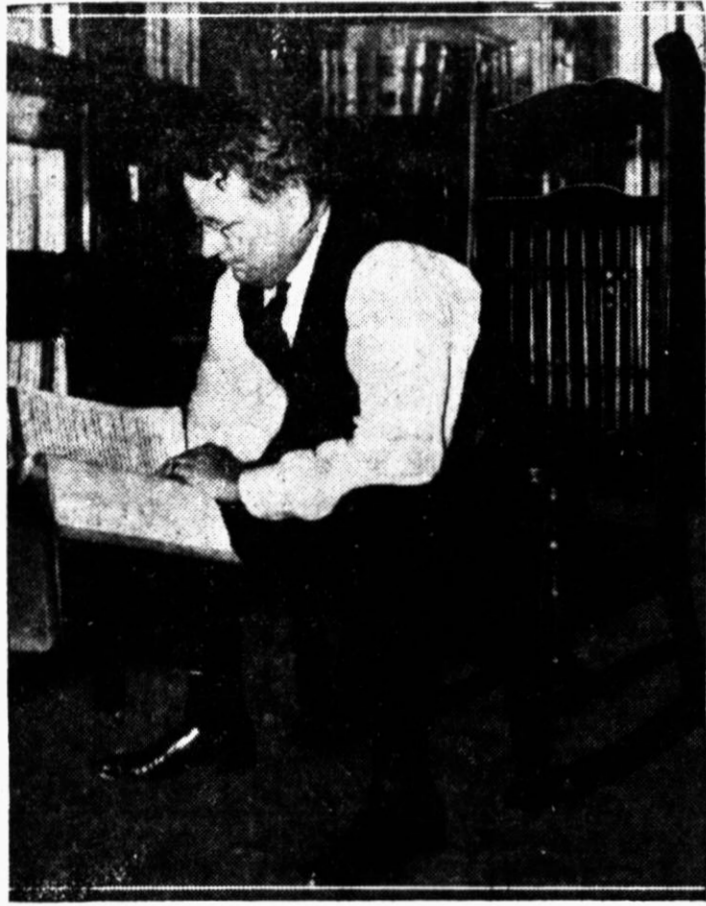

The Panhandle Trailways have extensive bus operations in the Panhandle, western Oklahoma and southern Kansas, and expect the new Dumas-Sunray line to become an important link in their system, due to the recent industrial developments in that area, and its apparently certain further development in oil and carbon black.

I Heard...

Bill Hallmark being called a "big bully" after he had crashed into Left Fowler during a softball game Friday night. The outcome was that Lefty received a knocked-down shoulder. The big lefthander came up smiling and told Bill he couldn't do it again.

The Pampa Harvesters and the Panhandle Panthers will meet on the gridiron here on October 1.

McCraw Sitting in Jim Hogg Chair

Here is the latest informal photograph of Attorney General William McCraw, of Texas, who will be one of the principal speakers at opening ceremonies for the Top O' Texas Fiesta here on June 3. The attorney general is shown here poring over his books, seated in a wide-armed arm-chair that holds a particular significance to him. The chair is one of a duo known as "The Twins," a name bestowed by the great James Stephen Hogg, who used them in his office while attorney general. McCraw, a bit superstitious, always sits in the Jim Hogg chair before leaving his office on a case before the U. S. Supreme Court.

McCraw To Be Top O' Texas Fiesta Speaker

Attorney General William McCraw, of Texas, will be one of the principal speakers at the opening ceremonies of the Top O' Texas Fiesta here on the forenoon of June 3. It was announced Saturday night by County Judge Sherman White, chairman of the fiesta speakers' committee.

Mr. McCraw today was in the national news limelight as the announcement came from Austin that, with more than $5,000,000 at stake, the Texas attorney general will leave for Washington day after tomorrow for his seventh, and possibly most important, appearance before the United States Supreme Court.

This week he will represent Texas before the Supreme Court for the fourth time in the state's action looking to ultimate collection of inheritance taxes on the multimillion dollar estate of the late E. H. R. Green.

The Green case, in which the Court has been asked to decide the legal residence of Colonel Green at the time of his death, has received nationwide mention in the press within the past few weeks.

At the last appearance of Texas attorneys, the court accepted the state's bill of complaint in the case, and this week Attorney General McCraw will make the necessary formal motion that a master be named to take evidence on the controlling question of legal domicile which the Court has been trying to decide.

Mr. McCraw's prominence in the national limelight now is abetted by his role of a principal in the Green case.

In addition to Mr. McCraw's members of the speakers committee are endeavoring to bring other widely known personages to Pampa for the opening fiesta ceremonies.

COUNTY FARM AGENT'S OFFICE IN COURTHOUSE

Office of the Gray county farm agent was moved Saturday from the basement of the postoffice building to the second floor of the county courthouse.

Ralph Thomas, county agent, stated last night that the moving had been completed and the office will be open for business Monday morning.

The farm agent's office has been installed in the office formerly occupied by county commissioners, and more recently used as headquarters for the WPA tax survey project. The tax survey project workers have moved to the third floor in the office occupied until last week by the county home demonstration agent. The home demonstration office now is on the first floor of the county building.

13 Juniors, Pig, 'Houn Dawg,' 7 Guns To Appear First Time In Thriller

Thirteen junior class members, a pig and seven guns, none of whom has ever appeared in a high school play, will be in the cast of "Moonshine and Honeysuckle," hillbilly comedy which the juniors will present tomorrow and Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. Kenneth Carman is directing.

The pig will be heard but not seen, but a real pig will furnish the off-stage squeal. A "houn dawg" will make his appearance in the cabin yard which is the setting for the play, and the voice of a whip-poor-will has its part in the plot. The guns will be seen and heard in this drama of feuding families in the Kentucky mountains. Authentic old firearms have been unearthed by the properties committee to add realism.

While the cast is inexperienced, Mr. Carman is pleased with the way they are working to give a good show. Howard Buckingham Jr., in his bit as the Jewish peddler furnishes fun romancing with the old maid, Piney. Bernice Adcock plays Piney. Another comic pair is Elmer Watkins and John Henry Nelson as Pink Freeze, village half-wit, and Pa Betts, who chews tobacco constantly.

Chester Hunkapillar adds a note of incongruous dignity as "the judge" who presides for the trial of Peg-Leg Gaddis, charged with disturbing public worship by riding a horse into church. Norman Cox, in the role of Gaddis, wears a real peg leg.

Dan Buzzard and Don Taylor as Clem Betts and Buck Gaddis, appear as rivals for the affections of Annie Bevins, played by Jeanette Cole. The triangle is straightened by the aid of Cracker Gaddis (Yvonne Hendrix). A character role is that of Mattie Brown, who plays the old mountain woman, Ma Betts.

Junior class members are in charge of ticket sales and will use proceeds to finance the annual junior-senior banquet.

$4,000 Turned In, But Drive By C-C Lags

Preliminary reports on the Pampa chamber of commerce membership campaign now under way are encouraging, but there are not enough of them, Tom Aldridge, finance director, said Saturday.

Reports indicate that little work has been done since the opening day of the campaign.

The membership investments stand around $4,000 now, $3,000 of which was secured the first day.

Workers will be urged to complete their work if at all possible this week.

In the meanwhile, activity will be started in the oil and gas and the old timers and large property owners groups. The former met Friday and planned a mail campaign to contact all oil companies, supply houses, carbon black companies, refineries, and other industrial concerns doing business in Pampa and the surrounding territory. E. J. Dunigan, Ed Bissett, Lynn Boyd, J. W. Garman, Dan J. Gribbin, M. W. Jones, and John R. Roby compose the committee in charge.

Old Timers Meet
The old timers and large property owners group, headed by M. A. Graham, a former HCD president, met with a group at a luncheon at the Schneider Hotel yesterday and made plans for contacting the old timers and large property owners to solicit an investment for the chamber program.

24 Intentions To Drill Filed In Last Week

Twenty-four first intentions to drill were filed with the local office of the Texas Railroad commission last week to keep drilling activity at a peak in the Panhandle oilfield. It was the second biggest week for locations this year and followed registering of 22 locations the previous week.

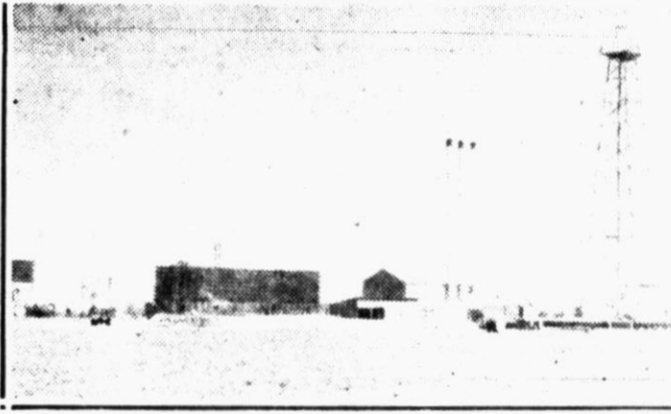

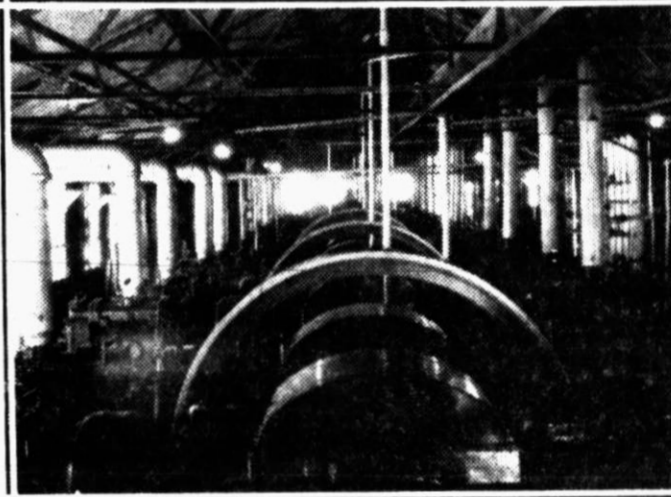

Hutchinson county came back strong after three weeks of letting. Gray county lead the way by registering 10 of the new locations. The area just northwest of Slinnetts was particularly active with six locations.

Gray county reported six new tests, followed by Moore with five, Carson with two and Wheeler with one.

Phillips Petroleum company reported eight of the new locations, five in Hutchinson and three in Moore counties.

Interesting Views of Gasoline Plant

Photos by Fletcher of The NEWS

One of the early industries of oilfield history of the Pampa area was the Portland Gasoline company, manufacturing natural gasoline with residue gas being used for carbon black. The plant, erected at a cost of nearly a half million dollars in 1929, is located about six miles west of Pampa on Highway 209. Ray Hagan is plant manager, and K. W. Bunch plant superintendent. Capacity of the plant is 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Approximately 21,000,000 cubic feet of residue is supplied to the Columbia Carbon company, Kingsmill plant. Eighteen men are employed and 10 of them have been with the company since its first day of operation. Most of the men reside at the plant camp with the rest living in Pampa.

The interesting picture, upper, shows exhaust from the compressors rising from pits with a cooling tower in the rear.

Middle picture is a view of the compressor room showing the 11 double-action compressors. Eight of them are 165 h. p. Bessemer with the other three 180 h. p. Clarks.

Below is seen a view of the plant showing the absorbers, water cooling tower, boiler house with its three large stacks, and through the well derricks the camp. The derrick is on the Joe Gayden No. 3 McKinney drilling well.

115 SENIORS TO GRADUATE

One hundred and fifteen Pampa High school seniors will receive diplomas at graduation exercises to be held Thursday night, May 27, in the school auditorium.

Dr. E. E. Dale, head of the history department of Oklahoma University, will deliver the commencement address.

Senior vespers services will be held in the school auditorium next Sunday night, with the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of First Baptist church, preaching the baccalaureate sermon.

This year's graduating class is smaller than usual, school officials said. Class officers are Mickey Ledrick, president, Pauline Gregory, vice president, and Ruth Clay, secretary-treasurer. There are 69 girls and 46 boys in the senior High school graduating class.

Gwendolyn Underwood will be valedictorian and Margaret Tignor will be salutatorian at the commencement exercises.

Junior high school graduation exercises will be held in the school auditorium on the night of Wednesday, May 26.

All schools in Pampa will close on May 26 with pupils returning the following day for report cards. Clos-

ISSUES DRAWN FOR HISTORIC SENATE FIGHT

RETIREMENTS OF 'OLD' MEN OF COURT HINTED

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—The administration's "no compromise" edict on the Roosevelt court bill was the signal today for opposing forces to square away for a Senate battle that may go down as one of the historic debates of all time, or may suddenly be dissolved by a surprise development.

Leaders of the opposition quickly accepted the challenge of administration leaders who declared that "the battle will go on" for the bill submitted by President Roosevelt more than three months ago.

The unyielding "die-hard" among the opponents expressed gratification that the issue would be drawn on the unmodified bill. But from a moderate who had hoped for a compromise settlement, came a defiant statement that they might withdraw their offers and "click" the administration on a "straight-out-vote."

This warning was issued by Senator McCarran (D. Nev.), who recently swung the balance of the Senate Judiciary committee a unit

BABY RUN OVER BY CAR, SLIGHTLY HURT

The day of miracles has not passed, young James E. Luedek, 2 1/2-month-old, would probably say if he were old enough to express himself.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Luedek, of 527 South Commercial St., can say it for him as he lies only slightly injured in Worley hospital after the front wheel of a car passed over his abdomen just below the ribs yesterday morning about 11:30 o'clock.

Attending physicians issued a bulletin last night following thorough examination and hours of watchfulness that the child had suffered no internal injuries and that no bones were broken.

It is believed the baby fell asleep on the running board of a car owned by William Lewis. Mr. Lewis backed from the driveway, not aware that the child was near. When the car turned on to the street, the child fell from the running board and a front wheel passed over him.

He was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Marks on the child's clothes showed tire marks.

CREDIT ASSOCIATION WILL BANQUET MAY 24

The Pampa Credit association will celebrate its second birthday with a banquet in the basement of the First Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. May 24. Tickets for the banquet will be 75 cents a plate.

Charles T. Lux of Austin, manager of the Retail Merchants association of that city, and H. S. Wilbur of Canadian, vice-president of the Southwest National Bank, will be principal speakers. Mr. Lux will talk on "Value of a Credit Association to a Community." The address by Mr. Wilbur will be "The Credit Trend."

Travis C. Lively, president of the Pampa association, will preside and introduce visitors and speakers.

Four new directors to replace those retiring will be elected at a brief business session, during which the secretary, Walter J. Daugherty, will make the annual report.

Music will be furnished by Winston Savage and the high school orchestra.

Pampa merchants are urged to make reservations immediately, using the coupon on their service bulletin.

PRODUCTION OF OIL IN MARCH SETS RECORD

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The Bureau of Mines said today the daily average production of crude petroleum in March set a new all-time record of 3,442,700 barrels, an increase of 115,100 barrels over the daily average in February, the previous record month. The month's total production was 106,724,000 barrels, another record. January this year produced 98,867,000, the previous record.

The Bureau said the large March gain was well distributed, several states establishing new records. All major Texas districts showed higher production and the daily average for the state rose to 1,404,900 barrels, about 5,000 higher than the February average.

Oklahoma reported an average of 650,800 barrels, the highest since 1930.

The Bureau said 1,815 wells were completed during the month as compared with 1,366 in February and 1,308 a year ago.

The demand for crude petroleum showed little change over February, and the increase in production and imports raised the net additions to storage of 7,524,000 barrels, compared with 3,213,000 in February.

The Bureau said the yield of gasoline was 44.5 per cent as compared with 45 per cent in February and 42.6 per cent in March, 1936.

The indicated domestic demand for motor fuel in March was 40,561,000 barrels, or 13 per cent higher than a year ago. Stocks continued to decline, reaching what the Bureau said probably will be the low point of the year, 16,724,000 barrels.

The average production of natural gasoline in March was 5,295,000 gallons as compared with an average of 5,347,000 in February, the Bureau reported. Production in March, 1936, was 4,577,000 gallons.

The Seminole, Okla., field was cited as an exception in the general decline in this product.

Stocks of natural gasoline were reported showing the usual seasonal increase, with stocks at plants and terminals 84,504,000 gallons on March 31, a gain of about 15,000,000. Stocks at refineries increased about 6,000,000 gallons to 117,054,000.

OAKLAND BAY BRIDGE MOVIE TO BE SHOWN

The public is invited to see a sound motion picture showing construction of the Oakland bay bridge which will be presented in city auditorium Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. The picture is being brought here by the Panhandle chapter, American Petroleum Institute, through cooperation of the Oilwell Supply, International Supply and Bridgeport Machine shop.

The picture was taken by the American Steel and Wire company and will be shown by H. A. Binford, company representative.

Early hour of showing the picture was set so that it would not interfere with a baseball game at 8:30 o'clock. It will require only 45 minutes to show the picture. Reading of minutes of the last meeting and entertainment features will be dispensed with.

Chairman C. E. Sturdevant of the A. P. I. urges members to see the picture. He also wants the public to attend. No admission charge will be made.

Many Pampanas saw the picture at the A. P. I. convention in Tulsa two months ago and they claim it is one of the most interesting and instructive pictures they had ever witnessed. Threading of the huge cables, tunneling, setting of the pier, staccato bark of riveting machines and men like spiders on the huge bridge make the picture thrilling.

STANDARD OIL ATTACKS TAX ON PROFITS

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) in its annual report for 1936 today launched an attack on the federal surtax of undistributed profits charging it injects "another element of pure guess-work" into tax structure.

Net income for 1936 was $97,774,583 or $3.73 a common share, compared with $63,863,192 or $2.43 a share in 1935.

Taxation, generally, the report said, "continues with increasing emphasis to provide a major uncertainty in business management."

The profits surtax, the report declared, put "heavy penalties" on the poor guesser in the matter of dividend determination.

Simplification of the federal revenue laws "is in the long run just as important to the government's revenues as it is to the corporate taxpayer," the report said.

If the surtax continues to operate on its present basis, it added, "corporate earnings will bear an excessive and a larger share of the tax burden than any other kind of income."

The company, a holding corporation, with domestic and foreign subsidiaries, reported increased worldwide demand for petroleum products.

Gross production by domestic and foreign subsidiaries totaled 200,356,032 barrels in 1936, a gain of 6.64 per cent.

Domestic production averaged 196,679 barrels a day, a rise of $6.69 per cent. This, the report said, was much below the capacity of the wells. Foreign production averaged 377,137 barrels daily, an increase of 3.20 per cent.

ROESER CONCERNED
DALLAS, May 15 (AP)—Charles P. Roeser, president of the Independent Petroleum association of America, said today "a serious situation" exists in the increase of petroleum stocks. He expressed the hope that regulatory bodies, in setting June allowable, will "keep them down at least as low as the recommendations of the Bureau of Mines, so as to endeavor, during that 30-day period, to bring production down to consumptive demand."

What is "The Low-Price Field"?

YOU hear a lot about "the low-price field" these days.

A good many cars claim to be in it.

So whenever the low-price field is mentioned,

remember:

Until Ford came, no average American could own a car.

Today all Ford prices are still low—with the prices of the 60-horsepower Ford V-8 $30 to $60 lower than the prices of any other car of comparable size.

But with Ford, "low price" doesn't merely mean low figures on the price tag. It means much more than that.

It means low prices and low costs all the car's long life. Low prices for service—for parts—and, above all, for operation.

Both Ford V-8 engine sizes are economical to operate. The 85-horsepower gives greater gasoline mileage this year than ever, and the 60-horsepower delivers the highest mileage in Ford history.

Private owners, cab companies, fleet operators all report that the "60" averages from 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Check and see how much Ford saves you.

ROBINSON AND GEORGE BRENT IN NEW FILMS

Miss Pampa, 1937, will be chosen at the LaNora theater Tuesday night when "Tomorrow's Headlines" with Lee Tracy will be on the screen.

Comedies will feature the week's program at the LaNora. Today and Monday, Laurel and Hardy will appear in "Way Out West." Charlie Ruggles and Alice Brady will star in a production on Thursday, and Patsy Kelly will hold forth on Friday and Saturday.

Today's attraction at the Rex will be "Mountain Justice" with George Brent. Eleanor Powell and James Stewart will return in "Born to Dance" at the State today, through Tuesday.

Edward G. Robinson will take the leading role in "Thunder in the City" headline attraction at the Crown.

AT THE LA NORA.

Placerrita Canyon, world famous as one of the early places where gold was first discovered in California, served as the locale for Laurel and Hardy to cut up their funny capers in the latest Hal Roach M-G-M feature comedy, "Way Out West," coming today to the LaNora theater.

Placerrita canyon, near Newhall, has long been identified with the wild and woolly west both in the glamorous history of California and in motion pictures. In fact, permanent motion picture sets are maintained there. Dashing cowboys, pistol fire and all the trimmings of horse operas are so much meant. Arrangements had to be made with the oil company to discontinue work until the scenes were filmed.

In "Way Out West," Placerrita canyon becomes "Brushwood Gulch"

Laurel and Hardy in LaNora Film

Laurel and Hardy are the comedy stars in "Way Out West," which will show today and Monday at the LaNora theater.

will come to the LaNora theater for four days, starting May 23. Above are shown Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald, co-stars.

and much of the exciting action and rib-tickling comedy which surrounds Laurel and Hardy is centered there. Day and night sequences were picture-perfect and realistically add to the excellent physical mounting that has been given the picture.

Topping even their triumphs in "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie," Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, America's favorite singing stars, coming to the LaNora theater starting four days May 23 in "Maytime." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's lavish adaptation of the Rida Johnson Young opera which was one of the memorable hits of the New York stage.

Directed by Robert Z. Leonard, the man who gave filmgoers "The Great Ziegfeld" with a wide variety of songs by Sigmund Romberg and Herbert Stothart, and with a brilliant supporting cast headed by John Barrymore in his first appearance since "Romeo and Juliet"—the new M-G-M musical opens as one of the outstanding sensations of the new movie season.

The famous song hit of the original play, "Sweetheart, Will You Remember?" was retained for the film version. Most elaborate set is the court of Louis Napoleon in 1865. There are opera houses, great parks, forests, streets of Paris, lavish hotel suites, an entire section of the Latin quarter of Paris, an apple orchard in full bloom and numerous other colorful sets. Six stages were utilized over to the creation of these settings, among the most elaborate ever attempted in Hollywood.

Father Charged With Statutory Offense Here

County Attorney J. W. Gordon stated last night that a complaint will be filed Monday against a 43-year-old Pampa man, charged with a statutory offense against his 11-year-old step-daughter.

The man is in Gray county jail following his arrest Friday night by Sheriff Earl Talley.

The county prosecutor said the man's arrest was caused by neighbors who reported to the sheriff's office a story told to them by the girl's older sister.

Mme. Therese Feltner was the first woman to fly in an airplane, ascending at Turin, Italy, in 1908.

AT THE REX.

The fanaticism and intolerance of certain dwellers in remote hill-countries of the United States are revealed in "Mountain Justice," the First National melo-drama which will be the feature attraction at the Rex theater, beginning today.

This thrilling picture, which is not alone a dramatic sociological document, but a tender romance, co-stars Josephine Hutchinson and George Brent, and was directed by that acknowledged master of realism, Michael Curtiz.

Miss Hutchinson portrays Ruth Harkins, a young mountaineer girl who has a taste of life and education in the "outside," and returns to her hamlet eager to bring health and education to at least the children of the backwoods. Her one sympathizer and aide in this is Guy Kibbee, a genial old physician.

Her worst enemy and opponent is her own father, played by Robert Barrat, a bitter fanatic who hates everything taught by "furriners."

He doesn't hesitate to enforce his hold upon his two daughters—little Marcia Mae Jones is the younger one—by lashings with a bullwhip.

AT THE STATE.

"Born to Dance," which comes to the State theater today, is hailed as the season's most lavish pot-pourri of music and dancing. Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer the vehicle presents the dynamic Eleanor Powell as its star and just about runs the entire gamut of rhythm.

In all there are more than 250 dancers and more than 200 instrumentalists and singers in this new production, with a nautical background with music and lyrics by Cole Porter, for several seasons Broadway's number one tuneser and lyricist.

Miss Powell, whose versatility and appealing personality won her stardom in a single picture, "Broadway Melody of 1936," introduces fourteen varieties of dance steps. In one number she does a medley of six different types of dancing in as many minutes. She even leads a 75-piece band with taps and makes her twinkling toes compete with the drummer's most expert rolls and beats.

WAR ADMIRAL OUTRUNS POMPOON TO WIN $50,000 PREAKNESS BY A HEAD

Two Softball Leagues, Both City And Industrial, Organized Here

PHOTOS SHOW MAN O' WAR'S SON LEADING

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP)—Samuel Riddle's War Admiral strengthened his claim to the three-year old turf title today as he thrashed back the game stretch challenge of J. H. Loucheim's Pompoon to win the $50,000 Preakness.

With between 40,000 and 45,000 spectators on their feet, the two horses came to the finish line of the mile and three-sixteenths test separated by the narrow margin of a head to furnish one of the most exciting climaxes in the 47 years of the Pimlico classic and duplicate their order of finish in the Kentucky Derby.

War Admiral, diminutive son of Man O' War, had no easy time as he did in the derby, in which he beat Pompoon by a length and a half. Today he was driving all thru the stretch but proved himself a true champion by running the distance in 1:58 2-5.

Hold the Phone!

No, it's not a woman in disguise, it's Doc Talley, famous character of the House of David baseball club which will meet the Pampa Oilers here Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock. Talley has been with the team more than 20 years and is the originator of the famous "pepper game" which will be presented by the Davids. Talley has never had his hair cut. Although "getting up in years" the veteran still takes his turn on the mound. He will present John Tucker, great first baseman, George Anderson, a long-haired third baseman, Lefty Deck, who puts a baseball in his mouth, and a host of other stars. On Monday and Wednesday night, the colorful Hawaiian All Stars will be here for games.

'WILD BILL' CUMMINGS CRACKS SPEED RECORDS
INDIANAPOLIS, May 15 (AP)—"Wild Bill" Cummings, a grinning homelown boy with a heavy foot, left broken speedway records in his wake today as he won the pole position for the 500-mile automobile race here May 31.

Cummings, one of the 11 drivers to qualify today for the race, broke the all-time official speedway record for one lap when he wheeled his four-cylinder front drive creation around the track on the last lap of the 25-mile qualifying sprint at 123.139 miles an hour.

That gave him a qualifying speed of 123.445 miles an hour for the full 25 miles—also an all-time speedway record.

The speedway record for qualifying was broken twice during the day. About an hour preceding Cummings' run Wilbur Shaw, another Indianapolis driver, turned the 25 miles in 122.751 miles an hour.

The previous one-lap record at the speedway was set in 1928 by Leon Duray. It was 124.018 miles an hour. Duray also held the old qualifying record of 122.091 miles an hour.

HAWAIIANS TO PLAY IN CITY MONDAY NIGHT

Color will be available for Pampa baseball fans this week when Buck Lal and his Hawaiian All Stars and Doc Talley and his House of David bearded beauties display their wares against the Pampa Oilers. The Hawaiians will be here on Monday and Wednesday nights with the Davids appearing on Tuesday night. Games will be called at 8:15 p. m. each night at Road Runner park with admission 40 cents for adults.

Other members of the team played sparkling ball in the islands during the winter. Lal looked them all over with his experienced eye and took the best. In Kay Kahuhu, the veteran Chinese believes he has one of the greatest outfielders of all time. Kahuhu is known in his native Hawaii as "Ia" which means "fast." He is a veteran but his speed has not diminished.

JAYCEE SOFTBALLERS TO ADVERTISE FIESTA

Wearing big hats, cowboy boots and "back paddlers" telling about the Fiesta, the Pampans will swoop down on Borger in a big way. All who can make the trip are asked to meet at the city hall at 12:30 o'clock. Borger will play a return game here, date to be decided later.

Norway's climate is mild and moist on the west coast, but cold and dry in the interior and in the north and east sections.

18 TEAMS IN AREA SIGN UP FOR SCHEDULE

Two softball leagues were organized at a meeting of the Pampa Softball association Friday night in the city hall. The Industrial league will be comprised of eight teams with 10 in the City league. ### REYNOLDS SMITH WINS STATE AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

HOUSTON, May 15 (AP)—Reynolds Smith, 24-year-old Walker Cup player from Dallas, won the Texas Amateur golf championship on the River Oaks course today by beating young Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth, 10 and 9.

It was Smith's second title. He won it the first time in 1934, the same year he went to the semi-finals in the National Amateur. Coffey, 20-year-old University of Texas freshman, was playing in his first state tournament.

The favorite because of his excellent career on the links and his decisive wins over Defending Champion Don Suchmacher and former titlist Harry Todd in the quarter and semi-finals, Smith was never behind.

Except for putter trouble on the first 18, Smith played exceptionally fine golf all day. Coffey, a game little fighter, turned in a fair game on the first 18 but failed to win a hole on the last nine. Smith was four up on him midway and took six and halved three of the last nine.

Smith was three over par on the first 18 but went two under on the last nine.

Coffey had trouble all the way around. He was in traps or the woods nearly a dozen times. Several times he saved holes with his fine recovery shots.

Lee Brandt Jr. of San Antonio defeated Milton Ward of Corpus Christi, 5 and 4, to win the first flight.

Gene Darby of Edinburg beat D. Lehman of Fort Worth, 1 up, for the championship consolation title.

RED SOX SIGN FINLEY
DALLAS, May 15 (AP)—Bob Finley, Southern Methodist University's 200 pound baseball captain and catcher, who also helped make Mustang football history, said today he had signed a contract with Boston Red Sox, and would report about June 4.

Finley, who hails from Corsicana, boasts a batting average of .350 for the southwest conference season.

BOBBY KAMRATH WINS SOUTHWEST NET TITLE

HOUSTON, May 15 (AP)—Bobby Kamrath, junior University of Texas student from Austin, captured the Southwest Conference tennis championship today.

Kamrath walloped one of his team mates, Lindsey Franklin, in the finals, 6-4, 6-0, 6-0. Franklin put up a stubborn fight in the first set, but turned in a very indifferent brand of play in the final two sets, dropping 14 consecutive games.

Following the singles final, Kamrath and Franklin joined hands in giving the University of Texas a clean sweep on the courts. They turned back Rice Institute's lanky doubles team of Max Campbell and Tom Ryall, 8-6, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2. The Longhorns already had won team honors by winning all of their dual meets with conference foes.

In the morning Campbell and Ryall had qualified for the finals by defeating Weller and Dulinig, 6-1, 6-8, 6-2, 6-3.

Longhorns Win Southwest Track-Field Meet 6th Time

BY RAY NEUMANN.

AUSTIN, May 15 (AP)—The University of Texas today triumphed in a sixth consecutive time in the annual Southwest conference track and field meet, successfully withstanding the threat of Rice Institute's great crop of sprinters and hurdlers.

The Longhorns, featuring well-balanced power, totaled 66 points to the Owls' 52, with Texas A. & M. scoring 24, Arkansas 14, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, eight each, and Baylor four.

High point honors went to Jack Patterson, Rice's timber-topper, who won both hurdle events and shaved 1/10 second off the old mark of 14.6 in the highs, set by Harlan of A. & M. in 1931. The wins netted him 10 points.

H. V. Reeves Jr. of Texas won the century in 9.7, finished second in the 220-yard dash and anchored the record-breaking 440-yard relay team for second honors, his performances giving him 9 1/2 points.

A number scored seven each, including Willard Moser, Paul Sanders and E. Y. Steakley of Rice, Doc O'Neill of Southern Methodist and Nelson Hall of Texas.

Besides the high hurdles, old records were smashed in the quarter-mile relay, won by Texas, the high jump, the quarter-mile and the javelin throw.

Texas' quarter-mile quartet of Graves, Atchison, Ramsdell and Reeves ripped around the oval in 41.6 seconds as compared with the old mark of 41.8 set two years ago by another Longhorn combination of Pickett, Austin, Grunelsen and Walander.

Paul Sanders, Rice's winged-footed sophomore, of Oklahoma City sped the quarter mile in 48 seconds, taking nearly a full second off the old mark of 48.8 set by Cox of Texas five years ago.

Dos O'Neill of Southern Methodist hurled the javelin 208 feet, one-half inch for a new entry in the record files. Skripka of A. & M. held the former mark of 197 feet, 3 1/2 inches, established in 1935.

In the high jump, lean Jack Vickrey of Texas, making his final appearance on his home field, outscored his previous mark nearly three inches by leaping 6 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Rice's quarter-mile relay team ran without the services of Jack Ellington who pulled a muscle in the 100-yard dash. He was replaced by Bert Carr.

The Owl mile relay combination came within three-tenths of a second of the conference record and marked up the first loss for Texas in that event in many years. Carr, Moser, Sanders and Steakley were clocked in 3:19.2.

Dave Welchert, Rice's stellar pole vaulter, failed to better his own record of 13 feet, 10 1/8 inches, set last year. The best he could do was 13 feet, 6 inches.

Co-capt. Remus Thomas of Texas brought the crowd to its feet when he won the grueling mile from Calvin Bell of Rice by a couple of strides, trailing Bell at the turn, Thomas pushed ahead in the stretch.

Pampa Junior high and Buchanan of Amarillo registered in second place with 24 points each. Central and Sam Houston of Amarillo took fourth and fifth positions, respectively.

Borger's one-man track team scored 20 points with four first places, two in the track and two in the field divisions. Jack Wear of Pampa gave his team 10 1/2 points with three second places and a leg in the winning relay. Clemmons of Pampa tied for first place in the high jump and Bill Dunaway added other points.

Event winners: 50-yard dash: Raber, Borger; Rutledge, Buchanan; Baker, Sam Houston; Jones, Central. Time, 5.8 seconds.

OIL PRODUCTION HIGH TULSA, Okla., May 15 (AP)—Kansas hit a new all-time high in the production of crude oil the past week, producing 198,475 barrels daily, 12,250 more barrels daily than the week before, the Tulsa World reports. Oklahoma production was 690,650 barrels daily, a gain of 15,500 daily over the previous week.

CHAMBERS ANNOUNCES PLAN TO PROMOTE WRESTLING HERE

Wrestling is scheduled to return to Pampa within the next six weeks. Yesterday Cliff Chambers was a visitor in Pampa. He contracted to secure a lot 100 by 150 feet within five blocks of downtown Pampa where he will construct a building 90 by 120 feet in which to conduct wrestling and other athletic competition, he said. The building will be moved from Brownwood, according to Chambers.

Chambers said he would act as promoter with Pat Harrison of Pampa as matchmaker for wrestling.

"We expect to have the building moved to Pampa within a month and re-constructed in time to open wrestling in about six weeks," Chambers said.

The former well known wrestler was still using a cane following injuries received in a match in California where he won the middle-weight title of the Pacific coast. Chambers appeared several times in Amarillo.

WOMEN GOLFERS WILL PLAY HERE TOMORROW

A group of women golfers from Amarillo will be guests at an 18-hole match over the Pampa Country club course tomorrow. Play on the first nine holes will be at 10 o'clock. Following luncheon at the Schneider hotel, the final nine holes will be played.

At least 12 Amarillo women will make the trip in an effort to make it two matches in a row over the Pampa women who lost in games played at the Amarillo Country club.

Local women will play their regular handicap matches for two prizes.

Braddock to Fight Louis in Chicago, So Claim Experts

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Few along Broadway could make any more out of the jumbled heavyweight situation today than they could before Judge Guy L. Fike announced his long-awaited decision in Newark yesterday.

It now is pretty well established that champion James J. Braddock will fight Joe Louis in Chicago, June 22, but beyond that one guess is as good as another.

The German challenger, Max Schmeling, who once again finds himself on the outside looking in, occupies one of the key positions. The New York state athletic commission is firmly ensconced in another.

Whether the disappointed Schmeling, faithfully training for the phantom June 3 title bout with Braddock, will be content to stick around for a fight with the Chicago winner, dash into the courts or take a few easy money bouts with Bob Pastor, John Henry Lewis, et al, and return to Germany in disgust, remains to be seen.

The state athletic commission is marking time until five days before June 3. Then, if Braddock doesn't appear and satisfy the commission he is ready to fight Max, it probably will suspend him. Also, Louis is likely to be threatened with a similar punishment if he goes through with the Chicago fight.

LEGISLATURE WILL ADJOURN ON SATURDAY

AUSTIN, May 15 (AP)—A roar of ayes in the senate today settled the question when the next general session of the legislature would end.

Over protests that had dwindled almost to the vanishing point, the upper legislative branch voted viva voce to quit work May 22, adopting a resolution previously passed by the house of representatives.

Chief arguments against fixing a definite date for sine die adjournment, which requires consent of both houses, were that work on the big "money" bills, making appropriations for the next two years, might not be completed, but those taking an opposite view asserted sufficient time remained if the legislators buckled down to business.

As evidence that the senate meant business, it immediately passed the important bill to tighten enforcement of liquor laws, over stern opposition from a small minority, and other bill to reduce the legal maximum of hours for employing women.

Just before smashing the liquor bill through to final passage, the majority rejected an amendment which would have made it a felony punishable by a penitentiary sentence to possess liquor in dry territory except on prescription of a physician. Many other amendments, mostly of a corrective nature, will necessitate a conference committee to adjust differences with the house, which passed the bill recently.

Hours of women would be reduced from a maximum of nine daily and 54 per week to eight and 48, respectively, under the bill on that subject approved, 50 to 9, despite charges it would cripple small employers and react on the employed themselves through necessary curtailment of working opportunities.

The law would not apply in towns of less than 2,000 population, nor in rural areas, and domestic help, stenographers and secretaries would be among certain classes excepted.

"Under this bill, you would arrest people for giving women an opportunity to make a living," said Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, one of its sharpest critics. A violation would be a misdemeanor.

With the matter of this session's adjournment decided definitely, interest was intensified in the deadlock between Governor James V. Allred and a group in the senate, some claim it is a minority, others a majority—over what should be done with a bill to repeal the race betting law already passed by the house.

The governor reiterated with emphasis that there would be another session called immediately an adjournment of the urgent one if the senate refused as it has done for many weeks to vote directly one way or the other on the repeal bill.

GREEN-LEWIS FIGHT TO BE HEARD IN TEXAS

TYLER, May 15 (AP)—The clash between William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization will echo in the Texas State Federation of Labor convention here when the gavel sounds Monday morning.

All delegates who cannot swear allegiance to the A. F. of L. will be unseated, President W. B. Arnold of San Antonio said.

Arnold said he did not expect any trouble but he is determined no CIO delegates will be given recognition.

"My intention is to have every delegate rise to his feet at the opening of the session and swear allegiance to the American Federation of Labor," he said.

"Those who cannot and are not willing will have to leave the hall." "We have no room for CIO members in the A. F. of L. and especially the Texas State Federation of Labor," he said.

Arnold said he is voluntarily stepping down from the post of president at this convention. There are two candidates for the job, Harry Carroll, San Antonio, of the painters' union and A. S. McBride of Houston, bricklayer.

NEW LONDON'S SHAW STATES HIS POSITION

HENDERSON, May 15 (AP)—W. C. Shaw, who yesterday was relieved of the superintendency of the London independent school district where an explosion in March claimed the lives of several hundred students and teachers, today issued a statement to express "my feelings and position in regard to my dismissal."

"Immediately after the great disaster of March 18 that brought incalculable sorrow and grief to our community, of which I had my share, I reluctantly continued my services after appeals from the board of trustees, representatives of the oil companies operating in the district, and friends," he said, the statement being addressed to the patrons, teachers and pupils of the London school.

"After undertaking this job of rebuilding a school which was the pride of my life, and feeling that I was no more responsible for what happened on that fateful afternoon than any member of the board, and others who claimed to know better than I the danger of gas and its explosive character, I did not propose to resign, and by so doing assume the whole responsibility of this disaster, and especially while under fire.

"This is not an appeal for sympathy for I feel that the whole civilized world has heaped its bountiful sympathy upon us all. But I would appeal to the patrons, teachers who will be permitted to continue their services, and the pupils who have been spared, to rally to the authorities of the school and help it be a bigger, better and safer school than ever before. To any ill feeling that may exist I would ask for that grace of the great Teacher when he said: 'Father, forgive them for they know not what they do.'

"With my best wishes and thanks for the splendid spirit of helpfulness you have shown me in the past, I am, sincerely yours, W. C. Shaw."

FIESTA FEVER

The Top O' Texas Fiesta fever is spreading like wildfire over the Top O' Texas. In every city, town and hamlet in a wide circle around Pampa they are talking about it and planning to attend.

Through the countryside are going the messengers from the Pampa Chamber of Commerce with the broadsides to tell the world that here on June 3 and 4 are going to be celebrated two of the year's biggest North Texas holidays.

Committeemen, here at home, are hard at work on plans for the two-day fiesta. Many details are being worked out to supply visitors on those two days with plenty of entertainment, both afternoon and night.

One of the West's top rodeos will provide thrills for thousands for two days at the Fairgrounds Park. There will be mammoth street pageants on both days, old-time dances, the Top O' Texas marble tournament, pioneer reunion, a midway of rides for the children, concessions for both old and young, and a host of other entertaining features still in the making.

Pampa will be the Top O' Texas mecca on these two days early in June. Everywhere folk are making plans to come to Pampa.

The Chamber of Commerce and the city as a whole will play host on these two days to visitors from surrounding cities, towns and rural communities.

Every Fiesta feature is being constructed on the basis of its attractiveness to out-of-town visitors.

Pampa invites the world to come here and make merry at the Fiesta. June 3 and 4 will go down in Top O' Texas history as a pair of holidays long to be remembered.

Pampa urges everyone to consider these two days as a part of their vacation this year. Make arrangements now, to take time out on June 3 and 4—for two full days of fun and entertainment in Pampa, the friendly city.

COURTS AND DRUNKEN DRIVERS

The drunken auto driver is one of the most vexing problems the police and courts of Gray, or any county face these days. True it's the same problem every policeman and jurist in the nation faces. For the drunk driver requires them to treat as a criminal a man who is not, ordinarily, a criminal at all.

He usually is a married man, with a steady job and some standing in his own circle; if he is sentenced to a month or so in jail for driving while drunk, as the law provides, he is apt to lose his job and his family is certain to suffer.

For this reason, paroles and suspended sentences are handed out or the charges reduced from drunk driving to reckless driving, in many cases. In many cities it is the policy to give the offender a stiff fine, scare him and let him go.

It can be argued that such a policy is a great mistake. The drunk driver and his family may suffer unduly if the letter of the law is followed—but society as a whole suffers unduly if drunks drive cars.

After all, no one compels any man to get stiff and then sit behind a steering wheel. And the man who does so is as great a menace, for the moment, as a maniac with a meat ax.

POLITICS OVERSTEPS LIMIT IN APPOINTMENTS

If anything ought to be obvious in Washington these days, it is the fact that we have got far beyond the point where we can safely let party politics have a hand in the naming of government servants.

That worked fairly well during our early history, when the federal government's machine was relatively small and affected only a few people. But to go on with it in an era when the government is doing things which affect every individual in the country is sheer madness.

An illuminating case in point is the trouble which is now besetting the Social Security Board.

Rodney Dutcher pointed out the other day that the Senate voted into an appropriation bill a harmless-looking little rider requiring that all of the Social Security Board's appointees who receive more than $5000 a year must be confirmed by the Senate.

Now the Social Security Board is going to have to administer the most tremendous insurance scheme ever conjured into being. Upwards of 26,000,000 Americans are contributing to the fund which it is to care for and disburse. It will need a considerable corps of lawyers, economists, insurance experts and executives, and it is to the interest of the entire country that these people be chosen on a basis of pure merit.

Practically all of these experts will fall in the more-than-a-year class. And what the Senate is trying to do is remove them from the merit system and make political patronage out of their appointment.

It would be hard to think of a more completely indefensible bit of political chicanery than this.

To the credit of the House of Representatives, it has voted to put all Social Security Board appointees—experts, lawyers and all—under straight civil service rules. The disputed bill is now in conference; and Dutcher Mention here yesterday that we were searching for a ten-gallon hat and so far had been able to find only an 8-gallon chapeau, brought quick response from the very genial H. L. reports that the Senate conferees, who are resisting this effort to establish the merit system, include such eminent statesmen as Senators Glass of Virginia, Byrnes of South Carolina, Russell of Georgia, Adams of Colorado and Steiwer of Oregon.

How is a stand like that to be defended on any national basis? The answer is clear: It isn't. We could endure that sort of thing 50 years ago, when government employees were comparatively few; we can't possibly endure it now, when they are many and have responsibilities which affect the lives of all of us.

We have heard a good deal of loose talk lately about the destruction of the American form of government. It ought to be pointed out that in the long run no surer way of destroying it could be devised than to give it ever-increasing duties—and compel it to meet them with staffs of "experts" chosen by party hacks for political advantage.

Not Bothering to Look Up the Number

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Maxwell Anderson is being permitted all the ice cream he cares to eat these days—his tonsils have just been yanked.

There was an exciting moment in Burgess Meredith's dressing room the other Saturday matinee. . . A surprise gift, from some admirer, had just been delivered by a drayman. . . That's how large it was. "Don't open it until you read instructions" . . . But Meredith eagerly tore the wrappings away—and clapped them back on just in time to forestall an hilarious interlude. . . The gift was a beehive, well tenanted by a swarm of the genuine article. . . Now they're on his 40-acre farm. . . One of the things about actor Meredith that amuses people is his confessed antics with a toothbrush. . . For instance, he kills time by putting paste on the brush, brushing up a thick foam, and then acting before the mirror, while the suds run out.

There's a luggage factory in New York which makes trunks only for actors. . . And near it is a little leather shop dealing chiefly in wallets. . . You can get billfolds made from everything from alligator and ostrich hide to heavy, durable wax paper. . . Another shop (so I'm told) which catches the eye of visitors is one in 6th avenue which has for sale radio sets. . . But the fellow who told me said he didn't make any purchases. . . "Why?" People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

The family was moving out of the house and three boys were called in to clean out "junk" that had been accumulating in the attic and under the floor for several years. The boys jumped at the chance because they knew the owner would discard most of the stuff when he saw it, and when it was over they had a pile of coat-hangers, an old portable phonograph, a beer capper and a hundred or so bottles, abandoned when prohibition went out, a banjo case, a portable ice box, a pair of football shoes, size 12, books, fishing tackle, fishing poles (too short), a washing machine (out of order), all of which they thought should provide for one the last down payment on a tennis racket that is still at the store; and for another should make a payment on a season swimming ticket, and for the third should buy a pair of white pants, and so they took the stuff to the second-hand stores and the pawn shops but by early afternoon all had said "No!" and the boys sat down on the curb surrounded by the junk, and tried to think of some way they might earn a few dollars, or of some place they hadn't been to apply for a job, to earn the few dollars they needed. And at the same time scores of other boys were eager trying to get jobs that would pay them enough to buy swimming tickets, go on Scout camping trips. So this is a plea to you people who might give boys jobs doing anything a boy can do, and if you do have such jobs, let this writer know and young but willing hands and hearts and feet will race to do them.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Claudette Colbert will, and so will Joan Crawford and Joan Blondell and—certainly—Marlene Dietrich.

But Kay Francis won't, and neither will Jean Muir nor Frances Farmer nor Marsha Hunt. Will and won't what? Delight the still cameramen with shots of themselves in bathing suits, playsuits and other more or less revealing sports wear.

Sports poses are the modern equivalent of what lensmen still term categorically "leg art." Pictures of this type, provided the subjects are attractive, still are easiest to get published. Ordinarily leg art does not become an issue with a movie girl until she has reached stardom or is pretty close. Then she says "yes" or "no" and what she says goes.

Newcomers Rarely Object Big stars permit bathing suit pictures more rarely than newcomers or "stock" girls. They have less time for one thing. For another, they don't need the publicity so badly.

Colbert will, and Crawford and Blondell, and Carole Lombard, and Bette Davis, and many others—but always with reservations. They don't like to reach stardom or to prey on outfits they normally wear at play. When Lombard plays tennis in shorts, it's all right if the photographer happens by. But she was very particular about the distribution of the six negatives she permit-

THE YOUNGSTER'S PET.

Children should have pets—preferably dogs or cats. Other animals will do in a pinch, but these serve best.

The boy and his dog can attain a friendship hard to match. So may the girl and her kitten. Birds, rabbits, horses, etc., do not allow that degree of intimate association desirable. Some are too small and too delicate. Others, like the horse, are too large, costly and exacting in the care they require.

First, one need little fear that the children will contract diseases from the pet dog or cat. It is possible for these animals to convey disease germs and parasites. But so may human friends and household visitors. Then to be safe, one may have the animal examined by a veterinarian before bringing it into the house.

What is to be gained by providing children with pets? The gain is mostly psychologic. The child has an object for his affection, a living thing for which it may care, a smaller, feebler creature, subject to its rule.

The pet animal invariably offers many concrete opportunities where-with to train the child in desirable patterns of behavior. As the relation of the child to its parents affords it a foretaste of authority, so its relation to its pets can pattern its behavior toward those over whom it may be placed in later life.

It is not an empty phrase that "only a mean man will kick a dog." It is more than likely that when he was a boy this man had no dog, or, having one, was not properly trained in caring for it.

Most children will deal with their pets gently and affectionately. Those who are cruel, are either thoughtlessly so, or abuse the animal in lieu of those against whom they are resentful, but whom they cannot touch. A persistently cruel child requires the services of a mental specialist.

Not the least of the benefits of pets is that the children have ready to hand "playmates" at times when others are not available. And an alert parent can find in the behavior of the pet "object lessons" in feeding, exercise, rest and cleanliness which, with proper subtlety, may be taught to the youngster.

Adults, too, can profit by having pets, and for the same reason.

ted of her in that costume from "Swing High, Swing Low"—and that was from a movie. The beginner usually will frolic on the beach or pose beside a swimming pool as readily as she will pose meeting a celebrity, dedicating a park shrub, or directing traffic during a safety campaign.

Not so Jane Bryan, nor Frances Farmer, nor Marsha Hunt. Jane Bryan made one set of bathing suit pictures, but won't any more. (Flash! She's relented!) Frances Farmer never would. Marsha Hunt posed once, but it was in her movie costume for "College Holiday." All of them consider "leg art" undignified. (Marlene Dietrich, never labeled that, obviously doesn't.)

Roles Dictate Policy Sometimes a girl's type, or the role she plays, dictates her policy. Olivia de Havilland, who used to pose in swimming suits, won't any more. (Flash! She, too, has relented!) Janet Gaynor will pose at the beach, but anything "sexy" is taboo. Janet's role is sweet little girl.

Comes the Next World War!

For nearly a year Spain has been torn by the most savage war in modern history. True to a tradition of cruelty inherited from Goths and Vandals and dark-skinned Moors, the Spaniards of today are showing how terrible war can be. The skirts of women, the swaddling clothes of infants, the cloth of priests have ceased to be passports to protection. The class of non-combatant no longer exists.

The forces of Fascism and of Communism are embattled. Age-old hatreds of class and religion have risen screaming above a thin veneer of civilization. The whole world waits on the outcome, for every nation, every individual is concerned.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK.

"There is something in the air." Just to watch a group of seniors as they walk about the streets of our cities gives us a feeling of enthusiasm that makes us want to get a new hold on life. The one thing about a high school graduate that makes the future take on most hopeful aspects is the calm confidence in what he is going to accomplish. This "graduating" feeling is something we should hold onto so long as possible. Where there is such confidential hope there is always a possibility for its maturity. There is, however, one word of caution for us who take this excessively optimistic view of our future. We should not become too easily discouraged if we have a bit of difficulty in translating our dreams into reality. The young painter feels that he is going to surpass in art all the works of the masters. The budding statesman intends to out-do the noblest patriots. The young writer sees nothing in the classics to rival his own contemplated publications. And so it goes. We these aspirations are wholesome for the person who may possess them, and we would not discourage the entertainment of such; but it should ever be remembered by those who indulge in such dreams that it will take constant effort on their part to give material and concrete expression to the heart's aspirations.

BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTON

James T. Farrell conducts another excursion into that dreary, hopeless, almost sub-human world which he knows so well, in a new book of short stories, "Can All This Grandeur Perish?" (Vanguard; $2.50).

The stories are not up to the "stud Lonigan" level. A few of them—sounded, in fact, never found in Mr. Farrell's novels. One or two others seem almost too slight to be worthy of his talent. Yet, taken all together, they make an impressive book. They deal with the people of Chicago's tenements and cramped, backstreet apartment houses—with raw neighborhood bullies, with young married couples yearning confusedly for "a break," with pathetic high school youngsters in love, with small-time ward hucklers, with rootless and aimless youth who can neither understand nor cope with the complexities of modern urban life.

And Mr. Farrell, in truth, seems to be dealing with a lost generation. Not the one that was "lost" through war or depression, but with a natural, lost group that is produced, year after year, by our great cities.

These people, as Mr. Farrell sees them, grow up in a society which offers them no standard except the single one of financial success. Their world is almost unlivable without money—yet money is progressively harder to come by. So they are lost, unhappy without knowing why, groping blindly for the unattainable in a world that is too much for them.

Naturally, his stories are not light reading. They will depress you and occasionally shock you. But they will give you something that ordinary stories never give.

TAW SHOOTERS MUST SEND IN ENTRY BLANKS

All boys and girls who expect to compete in the Top O' Texas marble tournament must fill out entry blanks, according to Chairman Paul D. Hill of the tournament committee of the American Legion which with the NEWS is sponsoring the contest.

This requirement applies not only to children who attend Pampa schools but those who attend other schools in the Panhandle. Boys and girls under 15 years of age are eligible to compete.

That hundreds of local children will enter the contests was indicated by teachers in charge of the play-off at the five ward schools in the city. Pupils of those schools will pay the entry fee of 10 cents and hand their entry blanks to the school directors. Pupils of schools outside of Pampa need not pay the entry fee but must send in entry blanks.

Play will begin in all local schools this week. Finals, when champions of Pampa schools and of schools in other Panhandle counties will compete, will be held during the Top O' Texas Fiesta, June 3 and 4.

The champion and runner-up will receive free trips to the Pan American celebration in Dallas. The school which has the most entries will receive a loving cup.

PRIZES

In the City Hall Friday night parade plans were outlined which indicate that parade committees already have a well-organized plan for the two-day pageants.

A number of Top O' Texas cities are expected to enter floats in the parade.

The parade committee also issued an appeal to persons with horses to enter them in the pageants on both days. Wagons and buggies also are wanted.

Another unit of the parade will be men and women in old-time costumes. Mr. Maisel stated that the committee will furnish the labor to make the costumes if persons will supply the material for the particular costume they wish to wear.

"We are desirous of getting as many persons as is possible to parade in the old-time dress of pioneer days before and during the fiesta," Mr. Maisel said.

Mr. Motley stated that invitations have been sent to 25 high school bands in the area. Acceptances already have been received from the bands at LeFors, Shamrock, McLean, and Wheeler.

Prizes To Be Awarded

Prizes will be awarded to the firms or organizations entering the most attractive or most original floats in the parades. Cups will also be awarded to the winners in the school band parade competition. Pampa schools, although marching in the parade, will not be eligible to compete for the cups.

The parade on June 3 will be in the form of a historical parade of progress while on the second day, June 4, it will have a section devoted to industrial progress.

All oil companies are being contacted and are being urged to place floats in the second day parade, particularly.

There will be a circus atmosphere at the Firgrounds park at fiesta time in the Top O' Texas capital.

There will be a midway with thrill rides for the children. Concession booths will line the midway. In the rodeo arena there will be plenty of fun and thrills in addition to the main rodeo performances each afternoon and night.

Best Clowns Sighted

One of the best rodeo clowns in the business will be there to produce the laughs with his educated donkey and bucking automobile. The Flying Clouds, six boys and girls, who will furnish a specialty act of Roman riding, high-jumping, trick and fancy riding, already have signed to appear at the Pampa Fiesta.

The Flying Clouds present a finale, "The End of the Trail," in pantomime that is said to be unequalled for dramatic realism.

Earl Isley, daring young man from behind the haberdashery counter, was the first Junior chamber of commerce member to accept the Fiesta publicity committee's offer of $50 to ride the first wild steer out of the pen at the opening rodeo performance on the afternoon of June 3.

"It'll be soft pickings for me," was Isley's only comment Saturday night.

"That's what he thinks," was all Clarence Kennedy, chairman of the publicity committee, had to say.

Aldridge pointed out Saturday. Three divisions headed by James E. Lyons, Farris Oden, and Shelby Gantz are pitted against the other three divisions, headed by Frank Cuberson, Guy E. McTaggart and Sherman White, in the merchants and professional men's group. The Pampa chamber of commerce will award a dinner to all workers when the campaign is finished; however the winning division workers will be fed chicken and the losers will eat beans. Aldridge has announced. At present only $47.50 separates the two divisions, the Lyons-Oden-Gantz workers holding this slight lead.

Claude Motley, manager of the LaNora, also stated last night that an extra attraction at the beauty contest Thursday night will be the first public appearance of KPDM's mystery pianist.

The handsome young man, who walked into the radio studios two weeks ago and asked if he might practice on one of the studio pianos, readily was recognized as a talented musician by Monte Rosenwald, station program director, and was put on the air.

Little is known of the pianist's history and he prefers to say nothing of his past. When he appears in the studios for his programs twice daily, the mystery pianist wears a mask.

He will appear, masked, on the LaNora's stage Tuesday night and play several piano numbers.

Mr. Motley stated last night that names of the competing beauties are being withheld at request of some of the entrants.

COURT

the proposal for six new Supreme Court justices by announcing his opposition, but who had been fighting for a compromise of two.

"Perhaps those of us who have been inclined to interpose compromise with the hope that we might go on with the legitimate business of the Congress and the country will now be inclined to withdraw our proposals," McCarran said in a statement.

"This, it appears from reports emanating from yesterday's White House conferences, would be more in keeping with the attitude of the other side.

"Liked," Says McCarran

"If, as it appears, that is to be no willingness to compromise it might be the attitude of those who are against the administration plan to offer no compromise, but instead to bring the issue to a straight-out vote—and we've got them licked."

The more unyielding of the foes—such as Senator Wheeler (D. Mont.)—had a different reaction. They expressed hope the President would "stand pat on no compromise," contending it would mean certain defeat for the bill. Privately, they expressed anxiety that a compromise might be negotiated.

While they prepared for the first showdown vote on the bill in the Senate Judiciary committee Tuesday, both sides watched anxiously for outside developments that might suddenly change the entire course of the battle.

High Court Watched

Their eyes were centered on the Supreme Court itself—for a decision on the constitutionality of the social security act, or for any indication of retirement. Either development, they said, might have a decisive influence on the outcome of the contest.

There were hints, in some high quarters, that Justice Van Devanter would soon announce his retirement without waiting for the outcome of the conflict.

Some of the court bill opponents said, however, that they felt certain there would be no retirements as long as the bill is pending. On the other hand, they added, there were indications that if the President would withdraw the court bill, three retirements would follow quickly.

In addition to Van Devanter, they said, Justices Brandeis and Sutherland would drop out of the court. All three of these Justices are now past 75 years of age. Brandeis has been one of the "liberals," but the other two have voted consistently with the "conservative" group.

Barring some such outside development, congressional leaders forecast that the court battle would keep Congress in session all summer. Such a forecast came from Democratic Leader Rayburn (D. Tex.), of the House, one of those who conferred with the uncompromising President upon his return yesterday.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Dunsforth announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Tavia, and Bernard W. Wienbroer, son of Mrs. Effie T. Wienbroer of Trinidad, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of Canadian high school and of Baylor University, Waco. For the past two years she has been principal of the grade school at Miami.

Mr. Wienbroer is with the soil conservation service at Clayton, N. M., where the couple will reside after a trip to Florida. He is a graduate of high school at Trinidad and of the University of Chicago. Before this year he was high school principal at Telluride, Colo.

A search for charter members has revealed six: Mmes. O. E. Palmer, W. A. Gray, R. K. Douglas, W. G. Irving and Claude Lard, and Principal J. A. Meek. Any others who still reside here are asked to notify Mrs. H. E. Symmond, and are cordially invited to attend the program.

Appointment of committee chairmen for next year, and installation of new officers headed by Mrs. L. H. Anderson, will be chief business of the day.

Church Building Project Is Topic

For the radio program of the Ministerial Alliance hour this afternoon, Holy Souls Catholic church will be in charge and the Rev. Joseph Wondery, pastor, will speak on "The Purpose of Parochial Schools." This program, a weekly broadcast from station KFDN starting at 2 p. m. Sunday, is in charge of a different church each week.

Work on a parochial school building for Holy Souls church started here last week, and the foundation was poured Friday. Preliminary work is to be completed next week, and the brick work begun soon.

An explanation of the church's motive in building such schools is to be given by Father Wondery this afternoon. "The parochial school is founded up on our religion, and the project here is in no sense a criticism of the public schools," he stated in announcing the subject.

HOT TIMES COMING IN OLD TOWN INSPIRE CRISP AND CRUMPLE-PROOF WARDROBE

By MARIAN YOUNG NEA Service Correspondent

NEW YORK — Black and navy sheers, combined in interesting manner with beautiful prints, make the most attractive dresses for the office and hot days in town. Dark frocks which do not soil easily or crumple all too soon when the weather is all too hot, enlivened by touches of color, are the backbone of any well-planned wardrobe.

Next to dark sheers, smart women who stay in town all summer like prints, preferably with dark backgrounds. They do not buy sleeveless dresses for the street. They realize that white shoes and melting asphalt do not go together. They know that a crisp white blouse, when combined with white gloves and perhaps a white flower are the individual touches which make for a cool appearance.

Redingote or Chiffon Dress and Silk Coat Do plan a warm weather wardrobe with the same care you exercise along in September when fall creations begin to catch your eye.

How about a redingote consisting of print dress and a full-length dark silk coat that can be worn over other dresses? Or a cape outfit in navy chiffon with a cluster of lilies-of-the-valley pinned at your throat? Let good taste be your guide. It will tell you that brimmed hats shade the eyes and keep you cooler, but that huge, droopy brims are for gardens, resorts and county—not the city. If you are tempted by cotton washables, pick fairly dark ones.

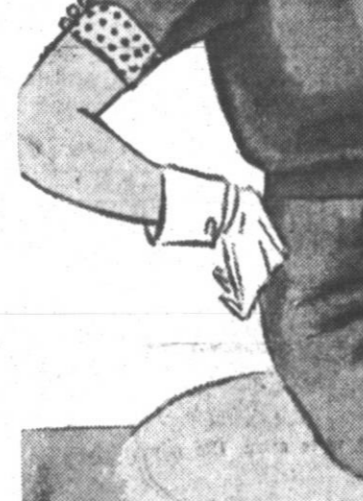

Open-air accessories are just as practical as they are fashionable and fun to wear. Sandals with open toes and heels, crownless hats and fingerless gloves are to the fore. Burgundy is an accent color favorite, especially for navy. Nothing looks cooler than if you look cool, you're likely to feel cool than a navy sheer frock with spotted white pique collar and white fabric gloves. Burgundy patent sandals and purse, navy hat with white and burgundy band. If you want to be a bit more original, substitute bright yellow ones.

Especially pretty is a beige silk frock with beige and navy polka dot collar and cuffs and navy lacings up the front of the trim bodice. The skirt is split from waist to hem and filled in with matching polka dot material—navy dots on beige. Another equally attractive inexpensive model includes a dress with navy sheer skirt, print bodice in burgundy, green, tan and lighter blue floral stripes and a hip-length cape, lined with the print. This is an all-occasion creation—one of those items you wear and wear and of which you never grow weary.

The afternoon dress in a town wardrobe can be of lace, cable net, mouseline or any other summer sheer. If all of your street dresses are black or navy, how about white or slate blue or creamy beige for afternoon? It's a season of elegance and greater formality, regardless of the weather, and more and more women are dressing for tea instead of going on in street clothes.

A trim, inexpensive summer dress (left) of beige is laced up the front with navy ribbon and finished with print (blue dots on beige) collar and cuffs. The skirt is filled in with print material to match. The cape model (right) is navy sheer with a print

YEAR ENDS AT CHILD STUDY CLUB PROGRAM

Tea For Guests And Members Is Final Event

A guest speaker addressed guests and members of Child Study club at a program tea which closed the club season Thursday afternoon. Mmes. W. C. Hutchinson, W. A. Breining, Harlan Yoder, and Tom Darby were hostesses at city club room.

Doyle F. Osborne, head of the high school history department, was the speaker. He discussed the supreme court and the changes proposed for it by President Roosevelt. Taking a neutral position, he spoke of the court's history, emphasizing that writers of the constitution were fresh from England, where the judiciary was the weak branch of the government, and probably could not picture a court which would declare unconstitutional acts of representatives of the people.

He cited cases where the court has been biased, and also times when congress had asserted its power over the court. Present conditions call for new legislation, the speaker said, mentioning such social legislation as the still-pending child labor amendment.

In keeping with the program theme, favors were miniature scrolls of the United States constitution tied with red, white and blue ribbon. A large American flag was a part of the room decorations.

Mrs. N. F. Maddux, president, and Mrs. Hutchinson, president-elect, poured tea at a table centered with sweet peas, roses, and carnations in a crystal bowl flanked with pink tapers in crystal holders. Pink carnations and other flowers were in bouquets about the room. Mrs. Yoder played piano solos while tea was served.

Guests of the members for this program were Mmes. Raeburn Thompson, Nellie Richey, Tom Henry, Ishmael Hill, H. Morrow, J. C. Richards, B. O. Heskew, T. B. Rogers, H. F. Barnhart, Jim White, F. S. Stallings, J. M. Saunders, and J. B. Spivey.

Members present were Mmes. S. C. Evans, Lee Harrah, Herman Jones, T. C. Lively, Luther Pierson, Roy Tinsley, Sherman White, J. C. Volmert, Earl Eaton, H. T. Hampton, T. B. Parker, and members of the house party.

Mullen to Speak Through Week at Skelly Revival

The revival which began last Sunday at the Community church, Skellytown, has been drawing large crowds and a number have united with the church. The preaching is being done by John S. Mullen, minister of the First Christian church of Pampa, who has been delivering practical and impressive messages.

His subject Thursday night—one of the best of the series—was: "The Church—Important or Impertinent?" his subject Friday night was "The Faith That Makes Faithful."

Howard House, associate minister of the First Christian church, Pampa, is assisting in the music by giving a ten-minute program every evening on his vibraphone preceded by congregational singing, and by drawing each evening a crayon picture illustrating one of the great hymns of the church. These pictures are being given each evening to the one who has been instrumental in bringing to the service that evening the largest delegation of people who have not attended the revival up to that time.

The revival will continue through the coming week and will close Sunday night, May 23. Mr. Mullen will preach on the following subjects during the coming week: "Tonight—'The Biggest Question a Man Faces,'" Monday night—"The Loving Father," Tuesday night—"A Voice from Heaven," Wednesday night—"A Voice from Hell," Thursday night—"Living With the Dogs," Friday night—"The Hour of Decision."

M. E. Revival to Close Tonight After Two Weeks

In the revival meeting at the First Methodist church, Friday was designated as family night and there was a large congregation consisting of family groups sitting together. There was one couple present that had been married 47 years and family of six present.

Able Musician

Something of a prodigy in musical versatility is Margaret Ellen Burton, above, whose latest accomplishment was winning honor rating in the state piano contests at Fort Worth late last month. Judges complimented her tone control in playing required numbers. She has studied piano only 14 months, is a pupil of Madeline Tarpoley Rowntree. In the North Texas school band and orchestra contests here last month, Margaret received highly superior ratings both in flute and violin solos. She learned to play the flute this year, has played the violin about a year and a half. She is a sixth grade student at E. M. Baker school, a member of the Baker band, the 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burton.

GARDEN SCENE IS BUILT FOR ANNUAL DINNER

Places For 350 Are Laid at Student Banquet

Through a flower-covered gateway, high school seniors, juniors and faculty members entered a garden scene last evening for the annual banquet at which graduating students were entertained by the junior class. Shell-lit programs at the tables announced that "Spring is here!" and the banquet theme was built around that suggestion.

A garden had been built in the high school gymnasium, fenced with white railings twined with flowering vines. In the center of the room was a Maypole walled with pastel colored streamers, which spread at the top to form a canopy. Tables were centered with tiny Maypoles or bouquets of garden flowers. Miniature May baskets were favors.

Guests were received in a lounge arranged on the gymnasium stage, as they entered through the west door. About 350 persons attended this premier social event of the commencement season.

Burton Reynolds, president of the host class, welcomed the guests, and Mickey Ledrick responded for the seniors after an invocation by Principal L. L. Stone and Elaine Murphy. An Irish jig by three small girls, Joan Sawyer, Catherine Myers, and Zita Kennedy, opened the program. The school quartet, Ethel Wilder, Colleen McMahon, Charles Hickman, and Gene Pinkbeiner, sang a popular tune, "Love Came Calling," and Betty Sue Price and Elaine Murphy sang "Trust in Me." A springtime skit was presented by Jean Gillispie and Earl Rice.

Don Taylor acted as toastmaster and introduced guests. They included Mrs. E. B. Fisher and high school faculty members. The banquet was arranged under direction of junior class sponsors, Misses Anne Louise Jones, Gracie Fern Latimer, Alice Short, Messrs. Ernest Cabe, Winston Savage, J. C. Prebean, and E. R. Brazier, assisted by members of the class, other students and teachers.

Dinner, prepared under Mrs. J. J. Patton's direction, was served by girls of the Homemakers club, who wore ruffled aprons and caps in varied patterns matching the colors on the Maypoles.

Dinner to Mark Close of Season For Treble Clef

A membership dinner for Treble Clef club will close its season Wednesday evening. The dinner will start at 8 o'clock at Schneider hotel. A program of music is being arranged.

Honorary and associate members are being invited with the active members. Reservations are to be made to Mrs. Bob McCoy, president, by Tuesday.

Pampa Students To Get Degrees

CANYON, May 15 (AP)—More than 200 people will be granted degrees by the West Texas State Teachers college this year. Of this number 103 will don their gowns and mortar boards on May 31 when Professor S. H. Condor, sponsor of the class, will deliver the commencement address.

Orville Cunningham of McLean is president of the outgoing class with Ezell Champion of Memphis and Kathryn Robinson of Canyon sharing his responsibilities in the offices of vice president and secretary.

The average age of the class is 30.7 years. Most of the members of the class come from within a radius of 150 miles of Canyon but a few give their home addresses at distances of 300 miles or more. Three are from New Mexico and three from Oklahoma. Seventy-eight members of the class will enter their first positions after their graduation. One member of the class has taught more than 15 years. Not all of the graduates will go into the teaching field. Some of them already have jobs in the oil field laboratories, some will enter the newspaper field, a number are home-makers who have been adding to their education in order to become better citizens of their community, and still others will go into business.

MRS. FISHER IS CHOSEN GARDEN CLUB PRESIDENT

Garden Tour To Be Conducted Next Month

Mrs. R. B. Fisher was elected president of the Garden club for next year, after the resignation of Mrs. Lee Waggoner, president-elect. She and other new officers will take their posts next September. She was chosen at a meeting of the club Friday morning in city club room.

Plans for the annual June breakfast and garden tour were launched Friday, and a committee will announce definite arrangements soon. Mrs. Waggoner is chairman of the breakfast committee.

Mrs. Arthur Teed was leader of the program Friday, discussing what to be done in the garden in May. An interesting talk on flower nomenclature was given by Mrs. Ewing Leech.

Mrs. Edward Damon, president, completed a series of reports on her trip to the state garden club convention in Dallas several weeks ago. Members asked for a detailed story of the convention and the flower show school held in connection with it, and Mrs. Damon gave it in short talks at three meetings.

Club Breakfast Honors Mothers

A breakfast honoring mothers and "adopted mothers" of members was given by Business and Professional Women's club last Sunday morning at the Schneider hotel, an annual occasion in the club.

The table was centered with a lovely hydrangea plant which was presented after the breakfast to Mrs. V. E. Pather, club mother. Bouquets of iris completed the table decoration, and a small potted cactus was a favor at each plate.

Christine Cecil spoke the club's welcome to mothers. Mrs. Walter F. G. Stein played a piano solo; Mrs. Roy West entertained with a whistling solo, and Mrs. Alex Schneider sang a solo.

Guests of the club were Mmes. Frances Murray, Alex Schneider, Sr., Frank Keim, Lizzie Ishelman, Nina Robinson, Weldon Wilson, George Ward, Emma Ford, Tom Rose, Anna Brooks, Sam McCullough, Stein, West, and Stella Bastin; Misses Bess Mason and Marie Carter. Club members present were Lillian Jordan, Ruth Walstead, Mabel Gee, Gerline Arnold, Gladys Robinson, Iva Ekers, Katie Beverly, Mildred Overall, Brock Brock, De Polson, Mrs. Cecil and Mrs. Schneider.

BELTS FOR THE SLENDER

KNOW-IT-ALL SCARFS. NEW YORK (AP)—You can learn a lot from scarfs these days. On some of them are sprawled the name of almost every large city in the world. Others tell all about the best-known cocktail bars in New York.

Prize Winners in Poster Contest To Be Selected

Poppy posters made by students in Pampa schools in the annual contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary will be judged tomorrow evening preceding an Auxiliary meeting at the Legion hut. Mrs. John Andrews, Ralph Thomas, and Ramon Wilson will be the judges.

Judging will be at 7:15, and results will be announced at the social and regular meeting which begins at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Katie Vincent will preside for the business session. Cash prizes will be awarded the three winning posters, and the top winner will be entered in a state contest.

Poppy day will be observed in Pampa this year on Saturday, May 29. Mrs. Heskew, chairman of the poppy committee of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced extensive preparations for the observance of the day are being made by the Auxiliary women. Memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the World War dead and to raise funds for the welfare of the disabled and needy families of the dead and disabled, will be distributed throughout the city. Organization of corps of "poppy girls" to offer the flowers to everyone on the streets during the day and to receive contributions for the Legion and Auxiliary welfare funds. The flowers have been ordered from Texas hospitals, where they have been made by disabled veterans.

Poppy day is the day of personal tribute to the men who gave their lives in the nation's defense," explained Mrs. Heskew. "On that day everyone can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices of those who lost their lives in the war. The poppy is their flower, made in their memory by their disabled comrades."

"The American Legion Auxiliary will ask no set price for its poppies. We want everyone to wear a poppy and to contribute as he is able for the flower. All contributions will be used for the work of the Legion and Auxiliary among the men who lost health and strength in the war, and among the children whose fathers are dead or disabled. The bulk of the money will be expended right here in Pampa for the work our unit is constantly doing among needy families of veterans here."

MODERN MENUS

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer

Ice cream without effort is a cooling thought for these early summer days. That's where the modern automatic refrigerators play their part. Whether your refrigerator is electric or gas operated, be sure to follow directions of the manufacturer when you make ices and creams and mousses. The manufacturer knows best just what his product can do.

The best general rules for making frozen desserts in automatic refrigerators are these: Follow directions given in recipes carefully, chill the mixture before freezing, measure carefully, do not have mixture too sweet—usually 1-4 cup sugar to 1 cup liquid is the correct amount—do not open and close the refrigerator door often, do not try to freeze trays of water at the same time with desserts, do not whip cream too stiff, mash and run fruits through sieve to remove any large pieces. The length of time required for freezing depends on many factors and therefore no definite time can be given individual recipes. The approximate freezing time for a tray serving 6 persons is 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 hours.

Grapefruit Frozen Pudding
Two egg yolks, 1 can sweetened condensed milk, 1-3 cup lemon juice, 1-4 cup grapefruit juice, 1 cup grapefruit pulp, 2 egg whites beaten stiff. Beat egg yolks until light. Add condensed milk, lemon juice, grapefruit juice and pulp cut in very small pieces. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in freezing tray and freeze 2 to 3 hours.

Chocolate Mint Ice Cream
(4 to 6 servings)
Two squares unsweetened chocolate, 1-2 cup water, 1-4 cup milk, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, few drops essence of peppermint, 1 cup cream, whipped.

Combine chocolate and water in top of double boiler and heat until melted. Add milk, salt and sugar. When sugar is dissolved, remove from fire and cool. Add vanilla and peppermint. Fold slowly into whipped cream. Pour into freezing tray and freeze 2 to 3 hours.

Lemon Sherbet
(4 to 6 servings)
Twenty marshmallows, 1 cup water, 1-3 cup lemon juice, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 egg whites, beaten stiff.

Place marshmallows and water in top of double boiler. When marshmallows have melted, cool. Add lemon juice, then 1 teaspoon sugar. Pour into freezing tray and freeze to mush. Combine remaining 1 teaspoon sugar, salt, and stiffly beaten egg whites. Stir the partly frozen sherbet into this mixture. Return to freezing tray and stir again when mixture has frozen back to mush. Freezing time from 2 to 3 hours.

FLAPPER FANNY

"Fanny, do you believe in dreams?"
"Not if it's that favorite one of yours about my giving you a dollar."

AFRAID to Love

By MARCH WHITE

Chapter XXII
As Joan sped the four short blocks to Mr. Henry's white cottage, the stars gleamed brightly in a cloudless sky, lighting the path before her. There was a glad song in her heart, and for the first time in ten years, a bright hope for the future.

If Mr. Henry would believe her! Somehow she felt that he would. She would stand up before him, honest and unafraid, and tell him everything. She would make him believe in her father as she believed in him.

What was it Dorothy had said to her? "If you believe in someone so truly—so positively—you must be able to impress your certainty upon others."

Dorothy was right. She had been a coward all these years. She should have made people believe in her from the moment she was born. She would make the whole world believe her father was innocent. It might be difficult, at times. But it was such a little chance to take, to gain so much.

No more would she cringe in terror every time she passed the face on the street that bore a familiar resemblance. No longer would she tremble when the name of her native state was mentioned. No further need she deny and protest and evade.

She breathed a silent prayer for having found a friend like Dorothy. Dorothy, who was so strong, and sure, and loyal. Dorothy, who had first believed in her and then taught her that others might believe in her. Dorothy, who opened the gateway to a future of happiness.

Ahead of her, the little white house stood out brightly in the moonlight. She saw a light in the front windows—in the living room, that would be Mr. Henry's still up, therefore, reading, or smoking one last cigar before retiring.

At the Inn, the steeple clock began to strike the midnight hour, and she hastened her steps. At any moment now, that light in the living room might be dimmed, to reappear again upstairs. In that event, she would have to postpone her mission until the morning.

She dreaded that. There was still the chance that Sybil might tell the story first. That would paint quite a different picture. Joan would be on the defensive then, admitting, apologizing, justifying. Mr. Henry's eyes would be stern with disappointment because she had been a coward.

In her mind, she framed the words she must speak.

"Mr. Henry, I must tell you something about my past. . . . No, that was too melodramatic in its sound."

"—Mr. Henry, for 10 years I have been living under a cloud. I don't want to be married with that cloud hanging over me. May I tell you about it and ask your advice?"

Suppose his first advice would be the same as her first inclination—to disappear out of Bob's life? That would be the worst he could do to her, yet hadn't she faced that already?

Even the worst would be better than this continual uncertainty and dread.

But he wouldn't advise that. He would believe her. He must!

At last she was at the house, running up the steps of the porch. Her heart pounded with thunderous quickened beats, and she stood still a moment to catch one long, strengthening breath. She assured herself that there was no need for fear now. But she was afraid. For no reason.

assurance from the simple sound. She squared her shoulders and walked across the porch, enjoying the noise her steps made. How foolish, to have felt so fearful!

She pressed the bell quickly, and listened as it echoed and re-echoed through the silent house. There was no answering note.

Perhaps Mr. Henry had dozed for the moment. Abraham, she recalled, went out on Thursday evenings.

She rang the bell again, longer this time. Still within the house silence reigned. Surely the sound must have awakened Mr. Henry; his hearing was exceptionally keen.

For the third time, she rang the bell, holding her finger on the button. Soon the sound would awaken the entire neighborhood, she thought.

Mr. Henry must certainly have heard it, if he were inside.

She started. Perhaps he was not home yet; perhaps he was still down at the Inn, sipping another brandy and soda in solitude. Why hadn't she thought to phone there first and learn if he had left?

It was not too late, then. She might still catch him at the Inn. Or she could wait. She could sit right here on the doorstep and wait for him. She wasn't cold any longer.

The light in the living room disturbed her, however. If Mr. Henry had not come home, why should it be lit?

She walked over to the large window and tried to peer through the shade. It was unusual to see the shades drawn in Mr. Henry's house. One could always look into it, to see him sitting by the fireside. He liked the shades up, he said. So the light in the window could shine out.

She knelt down on the floor of the porch, trying to see into the room through the half-inch space below the shade. She peered intently, trying to accustom her eyes to the shadows along the floor. Slowly things took form—she saw the carpet, the legs of the secretary, an easy chair.

There were two large, black-shod feet. Mr. Henry was at home then!

She stood up quickly. Perhaps he had taken sick, all alone in the house. Perhaps he had had one brandy too much.

She went back and tried the door. It was unlatched. Without hesitating, she went inside, shutting it behind her. She walked across the hall into the living room.

"Mr. Henry!" she called softly. She saw him sitting at his desk, staring dully at her. His head rested on the back of his chair, as if he were too tired to hold it erect. Something in his attitude frightened her.

"Mr. Henry!" she called again. Still he did not move.

He is intoxicated, she thought, and wondered what to do about it. There would be no point in talking to him tonight. She felt vaguely disappointed. She had never thought of him like this. She was sorry to have intruded. Perhaps Mr. Henry had his secrets, too.

But why did he sit there so stonily, staring at her in that vacant, frightening way?

Was he ill? A sudden stroke . . . a shock.

She rushed over to his side, felt his hand quickly. And then, in a flash, she knew the reason for the wild fear that had engulfed her a few moments before. She caught her breath, trying to bring back some semblance of life. And as she did so, she glanced behind him. The hilt of a knife protruded from between his shoulders; the back of the chair was stained a dull, deep red.

"Mr. Henry!" she cried in a hoarse, rasping whisper. "Mr. Henry!"

Continues Talks

The Rev. C. L. Stewart, above, will continue through next week revival services at Full Gospel Temple. Record crowds have attended the meetings since last Sunday to hear the sermons and also the special music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Stewart. The evangelist will speak this morning at 11 o'clock service and this evening at 7:45. The Rev. H. E. Comstock, pastor, invites the public to "come early if you want a seat, as the church will be packed by the time services begin."

Girl Scout News

Flowers were planted at the Little House Friday by Girl Scouts of the Horace Mann troop, who also cleaned house at the meeting place.

The entire troop has passed tenderfoot tests, and work on second class tests will start soon. Program plans for the next meeting were made by the court of honor, which includes troop and patrol leaders.

Adult leaders present were Mrs. E. L. Emerson and J. K. Longacre.

Junior Follies To Be Presented

The seventh annual presentation of the Junior Follies, by pupils of the Vincent Studio of Dancing and Expression, is scheduled for the evening of May 28 at high school auditorium. It is announced by Kathryn Vincent Steele, director. Tickets will go on sale Monday.

Students are rehearsing now for this anniversary recital. Some of the leading dancers appeared in programs here last week. Mary Bellamy was a guest soloist at the Lions club meeting with a hoop dance, and Virginia McNaughton accompanied the Woodrow Wilson school band to Canyon to do a specialty cowboy dance. Several students will appear in vaudeville acts during the contest to select Miss Pampa at LaNora theater Tuesday.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

"But, Ted, you look wonderful in the suit. It isn't purple at all. It's the touch of blue that their most expensive boys' suits had, and I did hope you'd like it, for once."

Ted looked at himself in the mirror. "It is purple. I don't care what the man said. I feel like a monkey in it."

"Well, then," sighed his mother, "we won't keep it. You'll have to get out early and go to town with me tomorrow. I declare I can't get you to wear one blessed thing that's a bit different."

Ted took off the offending garments and got into his tan sweater and brown pants. His mother remembered a similar struggle to get him to wear brown, but he wore it contentedly enough when he discovered that his crony Art Smith, had a new brown suit, too.

Ted would not wear first anything that came in style. He always had to see somebody else with it on. It was the history of almost everything she had ever bought for him.

Opening eyes to Novelty

The next day they took back the "purple" suit, which was not purple at all, but merely a blue with a bluer stripe, and bought instead a conventional gray.

On Sunday Art came in, in his new spring clothes, and there, lo and behold, was the very same suit they had returned, or it's twin.

"I wish I'd kept that suit," said Ted later. "It looks swell on Art. Why didn't you tell me it was all right, mom?"

"I told you, you stubborn boy! I did, but you haven't thanked a mouse. You won't start anything, you like to follow other people."

"Well, I don't like being queer. I hate to be laughed at. That's why."

"Art doesn't feel that way. He thinks just because he wears things, that makes it all right. He feels that way about a lot of things. For instance, he said he'd be drummer in the orchestra, when four of you boys turned it down. Now you're all jealous of him, because he's made it the best thing you've got. You said you wouldn't have a little dog, too, because boys ought to have great big dogs. So your father got you Hector. Then Art rescued that little terrier, and suddenly you took such a notion for a terrier we had to buy you Toto."

Needs Confidence

Ted said nothing. He knew it was all true.

"I don't expect you to make a leader or think you can't make a mistake," went on his mother, "but, Ted, I do wish you had a mind of your own and could hold your chin up. Are you always going to be a follower, and a second rater, waiting for someone else to do things first?"

"No, I'm not!" flared Ted. Next time I'll buy a green suit, or any old thing, and make 'em like it. I guess I've been kind of funny, haven't I?"

His mother smiled encouragingly. She knew this sudden burst of courage would not last, but now his eyes were open, the boy might discover some latent confidence in himself!

that would grow into a real power. She hoped so, anyway.

It is, of course, inferiority. Inferiority can never be entirely cured, but sometimes an object lesson like this will open a youth's eyes to the thing he has to fight and that no one else can fight for him.

Proposed Measure Gives President Authority Of Dictator During War

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—It has become more fashionable to warn against dictatorship and Fascism in this country since the bombardment massacres in the Basque country began. Senator Borah of Idaho, although his words are heeded more in other nations than in the United States, has delivered an especially powerful denunciation of Fascist ruthlessness.

Another warning of a sort, receiving an increasing amount of attention here, is the Sheppard-Hill bill which purports to take "the profits out of war." After much study, most experts have concluded that it's impossible to eliminate war profits, but the Sheppard-Hill bill has been making progress in Congress despite objections that its sole effect would be to throw the United States under a rigid military dictatorship in the event of war.

Dictatorship, repression and suspension of civil liberties have come to be regarded as inevitable when a nation gets into a war where its national existence is threatened. The Sheppard-Hill bill, however, has raised a number of questions:

- 1. Whether our national safety is ever likely to be threatened by a foreign foe to the extent that a framework for dictatorship should now be prepared, or whether Congress should be left free to legislate according to circumstances.
- 2. Whether the War Department, supporting the bill as a pathway for its industrial mobilization plan, is basing its war plans on anticipation of another overseas war rather than a defense war in which America's geographical isolation would make invasion most unlikely.
- 3. Whether existence of such an act would be an invitation for some future President of dictatorial bent to foment an inconsequential war as a pretext for jamming a war declaration through Congress which would give him unprecedented power over American life.
- 4. Whether, under the yoke for war purposes, the country could depend upon those in power to get out from under it at any time subsequently.

Over to President

The Senate military affairs committee, urged on by the American Legion, has favorably reported the bill and sent it to the finance committee. Originally the bill would have turned the country over to the President and the war department upon declaration of war or even upon congressional declaration of an emergency due to war's imminence. It would have permitted the President to draft all men between the ages of 21 and 31 into the military service and to draft industry, labor and materials at any time Congress declared a "national emergency" whether or not war clouds loomed. These "emergency" provisions have been eliminated by both the Senate and House military affairs committees.

- The Senate bill now provides in case of declaration of war:
  1. Presidential power to freeze prices, rents, other rates and according to army officers—wages.
  2. Presidential power to change prices.
  3. Control of material resources, industrial organizations and public services—and, by implication, labor.
  4. Power to require registration of and to draft persons engaged in management or control of any industrial establishment.
  5. For licensing of any designated type of business, making it unlawful to operate without a license.
  6. Power to determine priority in which orders shall be filled.
  7. A fine of $100,000 and/or a year in prison for any violation of the act.
  8. A 95 per cent tax on all income above the previous three-year average, with adjustments for capital expenditures for war purposes. (The 95 per cent tax offers an incentive to manufacturers to engage in war boom trade, so they may later realize actual war profits.)

The House committee has knocked out some of the pretense as to elimination of war profits by discarding the 95 per cent tax provision and providing that the treasury shall return 30 days after declaration of war, work out a "system of taxation which, without preventing a fair normal return to labor, management and invested capital, shall return to be fixed by Congress, shall absorb all surplus profits above such return." This appears to mean congressional fixing of wages. The question of war profits is left to executive discretion. The House committee also voted to exempt newspapers and magazines from the licensing provisions. Control over the press, however, could be exerted through the government's power to control all supplies.

Domestic Dictatorship. Whether or not the Sheppard-Hill bill passes, experts agree that American participation in a general war will mean a domestic dictatorship and that large war profits can't be eliminated. The present issue is as to whether it's wise to pass such a law now and whether the law should be permitted to go under its title as "a bill to prevent profiteering in time of war and to equalize the burdens of war and thus provide for the national defense, and promote peace." (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

On Capitol Hill

By HARRELL E. LEE

AUSTIN, May 14 (AP)—Alignment of the legislators on Gov. Allred's veto of a bill to exempt merchant-owned trucks from contract carrier restrictions provided another illustration that politics makes strange bedfellows.

Sen. Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, active in thwarting the governor's efforts to obtain a direct vote on racing repeal, led the successful fight to sustain Allred's veto of the truck bill. Many of the governor's close friends among the lawmakers voted to override the veto.

When advocates of overriding mustered only 18 Senate votes whereas they needed 20 or 21. It made Allred's batting average "three out of three."

Attempts to overturn his veto of a proposed enabling act for the pardon board constitutional amendment got nowhere in the Senate and therefore did not reach the House. The motion to overturn disapproval of the Harris county tax remission bill had one vote to spare in the Senate but failed by a wide margin in the House. The like motion on the truck bill sailed through the House by a majority of nearly 4 to 1 to meet defeat in the Senate. No effort was made to override several other vetoes by the chief executive.

The House approval of salary raises of 20 and 25 per cent for district and higher court judges "backed" against those seeking to hold other state pay increases to a smaller percentage.

The House majority took the position on the eleventh-hour appropriation bill that attendants, cooks and other small-salaried employees at the state institutions for the unfortunate were entitled to at least as large a raise as the judges.

Many said they did not favor the pay hikes for the judges but since most of the House members did it was nothing but fair to raise employees in the low salary brackets at least an equal percentage.

Rep. E. H. Thornton of Galveston has been mentioned as a probable candidate for the State Senate next year in event Thomas Pefferon, Hubbrook, white-haired dean of the upper chamber, should decide to retire.

Thornton in his twenties is generally regarded as one of the hardest workers in the House. Although this is only his second term, his knowledge of parliamentary procedure is highly respected.

SAFE AND SANE DRIVING

BY THE NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

36,400 LOST THEIR LIVES IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS LAST YEAR.

THE COST IS TOO HIGH. More persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents in our country last year than ever before—36,400 others their lives. More than 1,250,000 others were injured.

One out of every 100 Americans, this means, was injured. And at the same rate, one out of every 20 who are alive today will either be killed or injured in an automobile accident within five years.

What a price to pay for indifference, thoughtlessness and carelessness! Yet the future is brighter than cold figures seem to indicate. More and more states are passing effective drivers' license laws. More cities and towns are beginning to organize their police and court facilities to battle with accident causes.

More citizen groups and private individuals are awake to the fact that traffic accidents vitally concern them and the lives of their families. Traffic accidents can be controlled. Individual cities and towns are making enviable records in accident reduction. And every driver can help in bringing this annual toll of human waste and human misery down.

If the giant meteorite that struck a sparsely settled area of Siberia in 1908 had fallen but six hours later, many lives would have been lost. By that time, the earth would have turned so that a fall would have taken place in a thickly populated section of Norway or Sweden.

The progeny of a single bacterium, within one week could crowd the human population of the earth, if favorable conditions for bacterial reproduction were maintained.

COST OF SYPHILIS TREATMENTS TO AVERAGE PATIENT ESTIMATED

Treatment for syphilis and their cost are discussed in this, the fifth of a series of six articles presented by NEA-Pampa Daily NEWS in the nationwide drive against so-called "venereal" diseases.

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M. D. Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association

The modern treatment of syphilis, after the diagnosis is made, involves the use of many different remedies according to the special values of these remedies under different circumstances and in different people.

From time to time, the doctor makes additional Wassermann and Kahn tests to determine whether or not he is making any progress against the disease.

The treatment involves particularly the use of mercury, of iodides, of arsenical drugs like "606" or arsenphenamine, of which there are now several varieties.

It involves also the use of bismuth preparations which have recently come into wide application for this disease, and quite recently the application of heat by the use of some of the newer cabinets or electrical heating devices.

Some of these drugs are given by injection directly into the veins after suitable preparation; others are given by injection into the muscles, and some of the forms of mercury are still administered by rubbing them into the skin.

Most important of all is recognition by the patient of the fact that the treatment of syphilis extends over two to three years in the majority of cases, and that it must be continued for this length of time if the patient is to have a complete cure.

Most of the symptoms may disappear after the first few treatments with the modern methods, so that the person can go back to work and carry on most of his ordinary activities. He should not, however, be misled by the fact that the improvement has taken place so promptly.

Most experts in the treatment of syphilis will want to give from 20 to 30 injections of arsenic mixture, and perhaps double this number of treatments with bismuth and mercury. There will be rest periods between the periods of treatments so as to be able to determine its effects.

Not counting the loss of time from work, the actual cost of treating any one for syphilis, over the period of two or three years usually required for the purpose, will average 75 to 100 dollars.

If the patient is to have special individual attention and some of the newer important drugs that have been developed; if moreover he has frequent Wassermann and Kahn tests of his blood and spinal fluid, the cost may be somewhat greater.

NEXT: Proof that syphilis can be wiped out of existence.

Adobe Walls Scouts

TROOP 21.
Troop 21 is proud to report its attendance is picking up. The troop has gained five new members in the last week. The boys have made a permanent camp for their summer camping under the supervision of Mr. Bradley and Mr. G. J. Sturgeon, Scoutmaster. The boys are going to try to make up a band. Parents and friends of troop 21 are invited to attend any of our meetings. Our meetings are held every Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

TROOP 80.
Due to the fact that many members of Boy Scout troop 80 were informed where the meeting was to be held, attendance was low Thursday night. The troop could not meet in the First Methodist church as usual on account of a revival meeting being held there. The troop met at the Magnolia ball diamond where a game of softball was played and then went to the city park where the meeting was held and games played. It was the second straight time the troop was unable to meet at the church.

Keeton Rhoades was elected associate senior patrol leader. Board of Review will not be held until Monday night, May 31, one week from tomorrow night. At the troop meeting Thursday night, it was understood that the Board of Review will be held tomorrow night. The Board always meets the last Monday night in the month.

Next Thursday night the troop will meet in the Scout room of the church as usual, unless otherwise notified. In order to become eligible to go on camping trips, members must come up before the Board of Review and the Court of Honor. Boys will not be allowed to go, even though they pass a merit badge or an advancement just before the trip—they must come up before the Board and the Court.

The troop's summer camping trip will begin August 1 and last until August 15. It will be across the Continental Divide in Colorado, and members who plan to go should start saving up money.

Members present Monday night, by patrols:
Razorback—Billy Mounts, Jack Baker, Max Brewer, Bert Isbell, Jimmy Shofner.

Wildcat—L. V. and Kent McDonald.

Buffalo—R. G. Candier, Ira Van Houten, Bobby Frailey, Dee Ford, Calvin Shaw.

Thunder Bird—June Roland, Jas. Van Houten, John Rogers.

Dan Beard—Jack Crout, Max Roland, Archie Brown, Ed Terrell, Edward Wilkins.

Flaming Arrow—Doyle Auld's, Walter Word, Omer Harrell, Doug Keyser, Keeton Rhoades, Junior Foster.

(Personal note to Billy Ray from scoutmaster: Didn't we say we liked your looks? Hope you are present next Thursday night. The same thing goes for Junior Kurtz, Wendall La Casse, J. L. Burba, June Roland.)
