NATO Is Pledged To Disarm

PARIS (UPI)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) foreign ministers wound up a three-day winter meeting today with a pledge to work for disarmament and to avoid the spread of nuclear weapons.

In a communique, the NATO council members said they would continue studying the problems facing the alliance, which remained intact but tense with disagreement over nuclear strategy for the defense of the West.

Saying the 15 nations would continue working for a disarmament agreement, the communique added:

"In this connection, they stressed the importance of avoiding dissemination of nuclear weapons."

The communique said the ministers instructed the permanent NATO council to continue the studies begun in Ottawa in 1963 on problems connected with NATO strategy, force goals and available forces.

It added that the permanent council also was instructed to continue studies on the state of the alliance "and the purposes and objectives commonly accepted by all members" and to keep the ministers informed.

It also said the ministers reaffirmed their determination to continue their efforts to find a peaceful solution to East-West issues.

"In particular," it said, "they continue to attach great importance to making progress towards meeting the legitimate aspirations of the German people to reunification on the basis of their right to self-determination."

Repeat Defense Pledge

The ministers once again repeated their Dec. 16, 1958, pledge to defend West Berlin.

The communique indicated the alliance had averted an explosive showdown over conflicting nuclear policies. But it was evident the conference had failed to budge French President Charles de Gaulle from his opposition to U.S. leadership of the defense of Europe.

It appeared U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in two meetings with de Gaulle, had little success in his attempts to dispel the French feeling the Americans are seeking to isolate France in the Western Alliance.

The talks made it clear, however, that despite any political differences the alliance has retained its military strength.

Economic Development

The communique went on to say that the ministers reaffirmed the need for speeding up economic development in Greece and Turkey. It announced that they established a procedure, which was not spelled out, aimed at "contributing to the solution of the special defense problems of Greece and Turkey."

It said the council also renewed the "watchdog" assignment given to NATO Secretary General Manlio Brosio to help solve the Cyprus crisis.

Connally Asks Budget Increase For Biennium Of $400 Million

SYSTEM UNCONSTITUTIONAL

High Court Asks For Redistricting

HOUSTON (UPI)—A federal court Wednesday gave the state of Texas until next Aug. 2 to draw a new set of state legislative districts, ruling the present system unconstitutional.

Gov. John Connally and other state leaders took the decision calmly and said they would get to work on setting up new districts.

The grounds for the ruling, as in many other redistricting rulings by federal courts recently, was that the present setup does not give a fair share of the seats in the state legislature to heavily populated city areas, putting an unfair amount of power in the hands of a smaller number of people who live in country districts.

Gov. John Connally, one of the defendants in the suit, said "I will recommend to the next session of the Texas Legislature that they redistrict legislatively. I have every hope and confidence that they will do so."

The governor's office quashed a rumor Tuesday that Connally would give the job to a special commission rather than the legislature.

The three-judge court refused Wednesday to give guidelines for future reapportionment, but said the state could seek help on Aug. 2 if the job had not been done by then.

The suit to throw out the present districts was brought by a group of moderate-liberal state legislators and Democratic leaders.

"I think this is all right," Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said about the decision. "The thing for the legislature to do, as I see it, is to do the best they can and hope they can have an acceptable plan worked out by that time."

The legislature opens Jan. 12 and runs in regular session through May. That would give the lawmakers an additional two months and 12 days for a special session on reapportionment if necessary.

Omaha Mayor Hit By Bribery Charge

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—James Dworak, mayor of this metropolitan city for the past three years, stood indicted with four other men today on charges of soliciting bribes to pave the way for a million-dollar apartment project.

The grand jury action against the 39-year-old mayor Wednesday left public officials and citizens shocked and ashamed.

The charges were brought by John B. Coleman, a Chicago builder-investor, who said Dworak agreed to pocket a $25,000 "campaign contribution" in exchange for a promise not to veto a rezoning action for a $1 million townhouse apartment project.

The allegations were published last September in the Omaha World-Herald.

"I cannot and will not do business with grafters," Coleman said in explaining why he offered the money and then made his charges public. "With the advice of responsible people in Omaha I decided to stay and expose this corruption."

The other four men indicted, who along with Dworak denied any wrongdoing, were city Councilmen Ernest Adams and Stephen Novak; former city planning board member C. R. (Barney) Buttner; and contractor Ronald Abboud. All five were released on $2,500 bond.

Dworak, father of five children, said after the indictments were returned that it was "a wonderful day" because "this fight is finally out in the open."

"Today concludes the secret (grand jury) hearings and the secret World-Herald witnesses, including the secret son-in-law of that newspaper's columnist, a man who hides in Chicago and refuses to testify in public," Dworak said.

Christmas Leave Possible for Duke

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Duke of Windsor, who had four inches of artificial artery installed in his abdomen Wednesday, was expected to be up and walking around today. He snapped back from the operation feeling well enough to give his American nurse an "Enry Higgins type speech lesson."

There is "an outside chance" the former British king may be ready to leave the hospital by Christmas, said his surgeon, Dr. Michael De Bakey today.

De Bakey replaced four inches of the Duke's main abdominal artery with a dacron tube in a successful 67-minute operation.

IT'S COLD OUTSIDE — Loretta Henry, with fur collar pulled up and teeth chattering, confirms the icy truth as she observes a thermometer at City Hall this morning. It registered right around zero. The forecasters say it'll be even colder tonight with an expected 5 below reading. Miss Henry lives at 705 N. Nelson.

PAMPA COLDEST SPOT IN STATE

Temperatures May Drop to 5 Below

Snow-chilled arctic air dropped the temperature to the zero mark in Pampa early today and the weatherman says it will be even colder tonight when the mercury is expected to plunge to 5 below.

The temperature here hit its zero low at daybreak today, giving Pampa the dubious honor of being the coldest spot in Texas.

The cold front moved in late yesterday afternoon when the mercury fell nearly 40 degrees within a few hours and kept on going down through the night.

Shortly before noon today the Pampa reading was 9 above zero. This afternoon's high was expected to be in the teens. Thermometer readings then were expected to start falling again at sundown.

The forecasters said Pampa and vicinity will continue to be very cold thru tonight and Friday. Tonight's low is expected to be 5 below. Tomorrow's high will be near 20.

Dalhart, usually the coldest point in the Panhandle, recorded a 2 degree overnight low.

A city police officer here said five minutes in the frigid air today was like breathing razors-blades.

The Panhandle joined almost all other western states on the cold wave warning list of the weather bureau.

Bitter cold drove temperatures more than 35 degrees below zero in the mountains of Montana.

The massive storm, which rode down from Canada last weekend, had already claimed at least seven lives. Sixteen persons were injured, two of them seriously when a bus skidded out of control on an ice-glazed highway near North Bend, Wash., last night.

Shortly after midnight the temperature sunk to 35 below zero at Butte, Mont.

The biting arctic air tugged the temperature down to an unofficial low of 59 below zero in the northern Rockies.

The statewide weather forecast called for continued cold over the northern half of the state and cold wave warnings for southeastern, southeastern and southwestern Texas.

Dr. Syper Rites Set For Friday

Funeral services for Dr. Smith B. Syper, Pampa dentist who died suddenly at his home early Wednesday, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in First Baptist Church. Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. William E. West, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home until the hour of the services. The casket will not be opened at the church rites.

Members of the family have requested that any memorials be sent to the Bob Syper Key Club Memorial Fund in care of the Pampa Key Club, Pampa High School.

Active pallbearers at tomorrow's funeral rites will be Dr. Felix Vendrell, Dudley Steele, Jimmy Thompson, Dr. Raymond Hampton, Dr. W. B. Adair, Dr. Harbord Cox, J. C. Hopkins and Jack Reed.

Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Pampa Kiwanis Clubs and 1963-64 members of the High School Key Club.

New Russian Orbit Try Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U.S. space authority has predicted that the Russians soon will try to keep men in orbit for 10 to 15 days as a prelude to moon landings and interplanetary flights.

The forecast was made by Dr. Eugene B. Konecni of the National Aeronautics and Space Council in a lunch talk to the National Space Club.

Definite dates for Pampa's annual Junior Livestock Show were set for March 8, 9 and 10 at a meeting of the Agricultural and Livestock Committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon in the Richon Cafe.

The committee also announced that Robert Totusek, Oklahoma State University, will judge calves and L. M. Hargrave, Texas Tech, will judge pigs entered in the show.

All judging will take place on Monday and Tuesday and the livestock sale has been set for Wednesday. Sifting of the livestock will be on Sunday before the show.

Livestock show committees were named as follows:

Building and Grounds—Clyde Organ, chairman; Paul Bowers, Bill Green, Jake Osborne and Lee Jackson.

Weighing and Records—Ralph Thomas, chairman; Ted Alexander and Arthur Rankin.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The cigarette industry Wednesday presented a detailed self-policing advertising code designed mainly to stop young people from smoking.

First reaction described the code as "stiff," although not as tough as the government had suggested.

It is designed to stop any advertising appeal, in any medium, that might encourage young people to start smoking. To that end, testimonials or endorsements by athletes or celebrities are banned if they would appeal especially to the young.

The code sites categorically that no advertising may be used that would appeal to people under 21, nor may a radio or television spot commercial be used immediately before or after programs designed to appeal to minors.

It also bars cigarette advertising in comic books, school and college publications.

Another stipulation is "cigarette advertising shall not represent that cigarette smoking is essential to social prominence, distinction, success or sexual attraction."

Interpreter of the rules is former New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner. Nine major tobacco companies, manufacturing all but a small fraction of the cigarettes marketed in this country, support the code.

Advertising companies are expected to alter their campaigns to comply with the rules which become effective Jan. 1. Meyner has authority to fine the companies up to $100,000 for violations.

No Tax Increases Seen In New Budget

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally today asked the 59th Legislature to increase state spending by nearly $400-million for the next biennium, placing major stress on increased funds for public and higher education.

Connally's budget for all state spending for the 1966-67 biennium amounts to $3,643,023,853, as compared with the current level of spending of $3,245,132,030. This represents an increase of 12 per cent in recommended spending for the new budget.

Because of an expected surplus of nearly $96 million in the general revenue fund at the end of the current fiscal year, Connally said this increased spending can be accomplished without any increase in taxes.

The new budget calls for a total of $619,394,096 for the general revenue fund, including a prior allocation of $20 million from the omnibus tax fund for college and university building needs. The current appropriations bill contains $478,406,516 in the general revenue fund.

Education Costs Up

Of the recommended increase of $398.7 million in overall spending, Connally's proposals for public and higher education spending are up $254.7 million over current spending.

On the educational level, he calls for the creation of a coordinating board to run the state's higher educational institutions. If such a board is not created by the legislature, Connally suggests only sufficient funds be appropriated "to accommodate enrollment increases" in colleges and universities.

"If the people of Texas are to devote a substantially higher portion of the taxes they pay to support our colleges, universities and other agencies of higher education," he said, "they are entitled to assurance that the funds shall not be dissipated in expensive educational luxuries, low quality programs and proliferated degree offerings initiated to bolster institutional pride."

"Coordination, the concentration of available resources on the smallest number of essential degree programs, offers our only hope for excellence," Connally said.

Control Required

"No institution—large or small, graduate or undergraduate—should be exempt from direction or control required to provide this necessary guarantee. Economical utilization of available resources is essential."

U.S. Britain Plan New Talks

PARIS (UPI)—The Western nuclear powers plan an approach to Russia early in the new year for an agreed ban on the spread of nuclear weapons, diplomatic sources said today.

The United States and Britain, in particular, are increasingly perturbed by the proliferation.

Both nuclear powers were a prospect of gradual nuclear said to be anxious to halt the spread of nuclear weapons and hopeful of enlisting Russian cooperation in a pact to accomplish this.

Ben Casey To Debut In Sunday Comics

Ben Casey, that angry able young neurosurgeon of County General Hospital, will make his full color debut in the color comic section of the Pampa News on December 28. ### Forecaster Has Advice on How To Be A Prophet

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Sp) — Hugo Gernsback, the pioneer science-fiction publisher who for 57 years has been forecasting inventions before their time, this week disclosed the seven necessary attributes to becoming a scientific prophet. The advice appears in Mr. Gernsback's "Forecast, 1965," the latest annual edition of his unique Christmas card.

According to Gernsback, a prophet must: (1) Read everything in sight, (2) Have a foundation in physics, science, electricity and electronics, (3) Know other languages, particularly German and French, (4) Question everything — take nothing for granted, (5) Continuously do research, (6) Write all ideas down, (7) Never let his curiosity flag.

Gernsback recalls that he first described "The Telephot" in 1911 — 53 years before the American Telephone and Telegraph Company unveiled its new "Picturephone" at the 1964 New York World's Fair.

He suggests a new idea for soft-landing rockets on the moon using large 20 to 30 foot sturdy polystyrene or other plastic balloon-like spheres, equipped with retro-rockets. "The retro-rockets can provide a soft landing, while gas-filled balloons will cushion the delicate instruments contained in the central body," Gernsback asserts.

Gernsback foresees a 3,000-mile-per-hour, 1,000-passenger supersonic boomless plane in the year 1999. And by the year 2022, he predicts that injections of a multipurpose hormone will stop facial hair growth and eliminate the need for daily shaves.

Among the forecasts he has made since 1906 are radar, television, blood transfusions and a host of other ideas and inventions that have established his reputation as perhaps the foremost leader in scientific forecasting.

Sooner Teacher Pay Below Normal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A National Education Association (NEA) committee in an extraordinary report says that "sub-minimal" conditions exist in Oklahoma public schools and teacher salaries are non-competitive.

The report was issued Tuesday by the NEA's National Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities following a three-day investigation of Oklahoma schools. The report caught Oklahoma Education Association (OEA) officials by surprise.

The committee said it was sufficiently alarmed about the quality of Oklahoma public education that it was putting out an interim report instead of withholding its findings until March 1, when it plans to issue a full report.

The committee report said "sub-minimal" conditions in Oklahoma schools include a salary schedule that is "non-competitive" and "gross deficiencies in physical conditions of buildings, maintenance, health and safety standards, textbooks, teaching aids, libraries, special education, counseling, teacher load and other provisions basic to an effective educational program."

Ferman Phillips, executive secretary of the OEA, said the timing of the NEA committee's report surprised him.

"We expected a report to come about the 1st of March," Phillips said. "Evidently they saw more than they expected to see or heard more than they expected to hear."

Half Calf, Half Deer Is Found

NICKERSON, Kan. (UPI)—Folks in and around Nickerson have a case of the snickers today and it's all over the scraggly little calf that's half registered Charolais cow and half deer.

Well, at least that's what Gene McKee said and he's the owner. He blames the birth of the unique, five-month-old half-charolais calf on a playboy buck.

Dr. Bruce C. Dettler, the Nickerson community veterinarian, thought the McKees were "putting him on."

The two animals are related similar to the jackass and the horse. Dr. Dettler said, and mating a deer and a cow is possible, but "pretty unlikely."

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Wildcat picket lines today turned away hundreds of space construction workers and brought major work to a standstill on the huge $750 million Merritt Island moonport.

Pickets were also set up at the main entrances to the nearby Patrick Air Force Base headquarters of the Atlantic Missile Testing Range, and construction work on a $1 million laboratory at the base was stopped.

The pickets, members of Carpenters Union Local 1685, gathered at all major entrances to the sprawling project Apollo spaceport on Merritt Island, but there were no pickets at entrances to the main missile center at Cape Kennedy itself. The walkout was in protest of non-union labor used on one project.

Traffic was backed up for more than two miles at one key entrance to the moonport on Route A1A and traffic jams were reported at other entrances.

At least 300 iron workers did not show up at the jobs on the huge 52-story Saturn-5 moon rocket assembly building and a spokesman for the American Bridge Co. said work had apparently stopped for the day.

The $100 million building is about half finished.

Today's tieup was the fourth major labor stoppage of the year at the sprawling spaceport that will be the base for America's manned lunar landing program. Earlier stoppages were halted by court order.

Cash, Merchandise Taken in Burglary

Between $350-$500 in damage and stolen merchandise was reported today following a break-in Wednesday night of the Holmes Tire Co., two miles east of Pampa on U. S. 60.

Clarence Holmes, owner, said he discovered the burglary when he opened for business at 6 a.m. today.

Entry to the tin building was gained by cutting through a rear canvas door.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said the thief made off with seven tires, six tubes, several cans of motor oil and radiator solvent.

Between $35 and $50 in cash was reported taken from filing cabinets and a Coke machine.

Today's tieup was the fourth major labor stoppage of the year at the sprawling spaceport that will be the base for America's manned lunar landing program. Earlier stoppages were halted by court order.

Survivors include two sons, Howard Moore of Skellytown and Sam Moore, of White Deer, and one sister, Mrs. J. T. Robertson of Roswell, N.M.

James N. Cooper Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home for James N. Cooper, 83, of Carlsbad, N. M. Mr. Cooper died early this morning in a Clovis, N. M. hospital.

Mr. Cooper was a farmer in the Pampa area in the 1920s, moving to Miami in 1934. He moved to California from Miami in 1944 and returned and moved to Carlsbad, N.M. six years ago.

Survivors include six daughters, Mrs. Clarence Gist of El Paso; Mrs. Julian Hallett of Manteca, Calif.; Mrs. C. L. Helbert of Skellytown, Mrs. S. I. Phillips, Mrs. Paul Edwards and Mrs. O. H. Ernst, all of Pampa; five sons, L. L. Cooper and Clarence Cooper, both of Carlsbad, N. M.; S. M. Cooper of El Paso, Clyde Cooper and Johnny Cooper, both of Los Angeles, Calif.; 34 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

Cash, Merchandise Taken in Burglary

Between $350-$500 in damage and stolen merchandise was reported today following a break-in Wednesday night of the Holmes Tire Co., two miles east of Pampa on U. S. 60.

Clarence Holmes, owner, said he discovered the burglary when he opened for business at 6 a.m. today.

Entry to the tin building was gained by cutting through a rear canvas door.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said the thief made off with seven tires, six tubes, several cans of motor oil and radiator solvent.

Between $35 and $50 in cash was reported taken from filing cabinets and a Coke machine.

Rotary Club Hears Pampa A Cappella

The Pampa High School, A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Hugh Sanders, presented Christmas hymns and carols before the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Preceding the program, the students were the luncheon guests of Rotarians.

Jack Edmondson introduced the group.

U.S. Production Hits Monthly High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. production rebounded to new highs in November after settlement of strikes in the automobile industry, the government reported Wednesday.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production rose in November to 134.9 per cent of the 1957-59 average. It had dropped sharply to 131.7

in October. The September index was 134.0.

Output in the auto industry recovered three-fourths of its October losses, although the board said production was still affected "to some extent" by strikes which continued into November.

Later in the month, auto assemblies rose to record rates,

There is a tradition in the Shenandoah Valley that only young courting couples can stir the boiling apple butter.

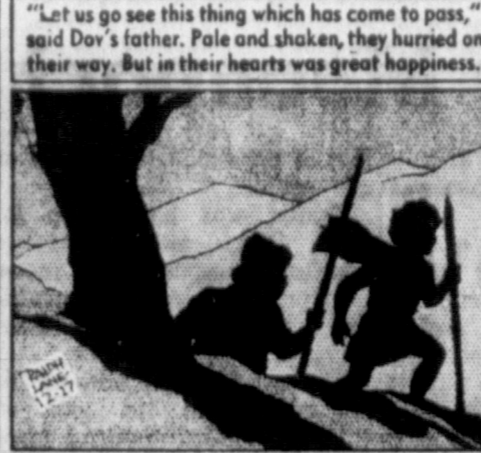

the board said. If the auto industry meets its December schedules, assemblies will be about 5 per cent above what they were before the strikes and 12 per cent higher than a year ago.

Most other industries scored gains in November. The board singled out higher production of television sets, furniture, and some other consumer goods.

The First Christmas

And the voice continued: "And this shall be a sign unto you; ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

"Let us go see this thing which has come to pass," said Dor's father. Pale and shaken, they hurried on their way. But in their hearts was great happiness.

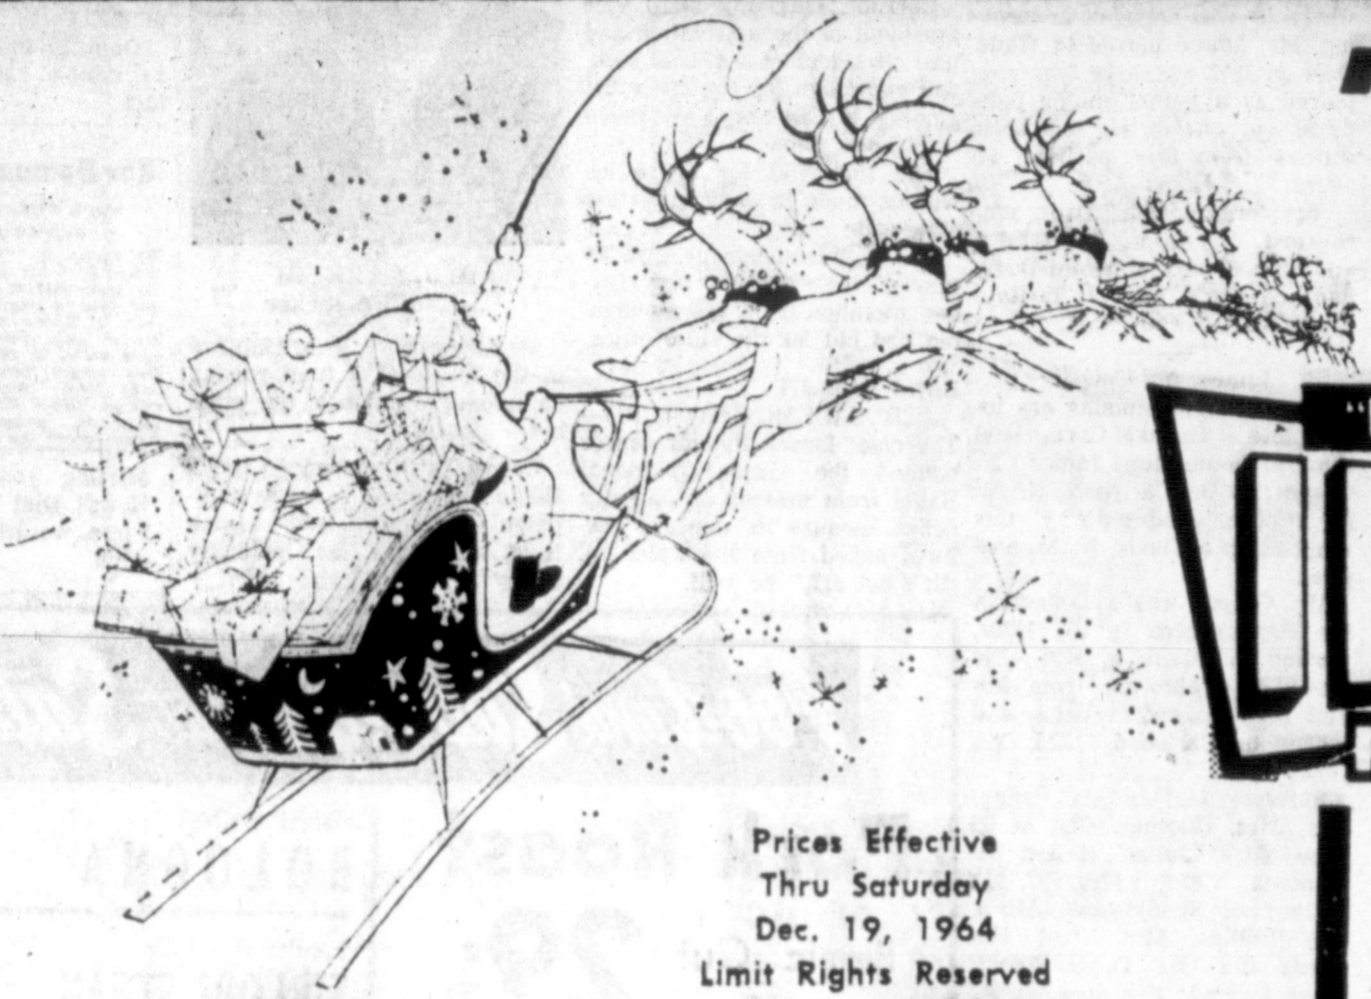

Mary saw them, standing by the stable door. "Come in," she said, and her voice was soft and tender. "He is here."

17,000 Mexican Children Won't Forget Christmas Thanks To Former Shine Boy

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — A party for over 17,000 Mexican children from families as poor as his own. The party will cost more than $75,000. The party-giver is John Alessio, whose father was a penniless Italian immigrant. The army of children assembled before the sun is up each year will receive, by midday, a bag of food, a box of toys and a stockingful of candy.

After the holidays, the children will go back to the eight schools in Tijuana which Alessio built (with a ninth school nearing completion) at a cost of from $50,000 to $75,000 each. Each is a functional building of six rooms. The town supplies the teachers. "I'm just trying to give these youngsters the education my father would like to have given me and my six brothers," says Alessio.

Why did he choose the sprawling, dusty border town of Tijuana? "Tijuana was mighty good to me," John Alessio explains. "When the coal dust got to my father's lungs and we had to bring him out to California, among my shoe-shine customers was an executive of the bank of Italy who seemed inclined to give a poor Italian kid a break. "His name is C. Arnholt Smith. Now he is president of the United States National Bank in San Diego, and he's still my friend. "He got me a job as messenger for a Tijuana bank, the Banco del Pacifico. The president of that bank lived in San Diego and drove to and from Tijuana every day. You don't forget a country where the head of a bank will pick up a messenger boy in his car and give him a lift every day to and from work. "I didn't know a word of Spanish then, but I learned it and I did my best to learn banking too. Fourteen years later I found myself manager of that bank. Next I was financial advisor to the governor of lower California. "Then I had opportunity to borrow enough money to acquire the Caliente Race Track.

U.S. Contribution Costly in Viet Nam

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Figures alone cannot give the whole picture of United States involvement in the war in South Viet Nam, but they are impressive.

In the last year, the U. S. financial contribution has been running at around $600 million or better than $1.5 million per day.

In South Viet Nam, there are about 22,000 American advisers, to work with Vietnamese forces totalling 615,000, military, paramilitary and police. This breaks down to one American for every 28 Vietnamese involved in any way with the nation's defense.

Those were the figures as of last week, prior to the announcement that the United States now would give "additional military and economic assistance" to help cut off the flow of men and material from the Communist regime to the north and to bolster the South Vietnamese own military and economic programs.

There was, therefore, no suggestion that the United States contemplated pulling out of its commitment to South-Viet Nam, in fact intended to expand it.

The role of the Americans would continue to be what it has been in the past, to "ad-

Governor Gets New Park Pack

AUSTIN (UPI)—A proposal to spend $11 million annually to set up a statewide water recreation program under the State Parks and Wildlife Commission was presented yesterday to Gov. John Connally.

The plan was developed by the nine-member statewide water recreation committee headed by Marvin Watson of Dainfield. The committee was set up by the legislature last year on request of Connally.

The proposals, if carried out, would considerably extend the authority of the present three-man Parks and Wildlife Commission, Watson agreed.

Among other things, the report suggested bringing the Gulf-Coast beaches into the statewide recreation plan under the Parks and Wildlife Commission. It also recommended extension of commission authority over every county in the state.

The Parks and Wildlife Commission currently has authority over only about half the counties of Texas to regulate such things and hunting, fishing and recreational programs.

The committee said operation and maintenance costs of recreation areas "should be borne in large part by users of recreation facilities through a schedule of reasonable and uniform fees."

It further recommended that every owner of a boat to be operated on inland waters should be required to register the boat and obtain a license. The committee suggested a plan be considered for a boat operator's licensing program, although it did not specifically recommend such a license.

Mayfair Mafia In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The Mayfair Mafia has invaded Hollywood en masse to make a movie with hardly an American in sight.

This particular Mafia is made up of scores of British actors starring in "King Rat." Most of them are young, extraordinarily talented and inclined to kicking the gong around the Sunset Strip.

Head master of the invaders is John Mills, father of Hayley, and a distinguished actor in his own right.

Says he: "I think it's marvelous that our young chaps are doing so well, and there's not a swollen head among them."

The young British chaps in "King Rat" include Tom Courtenay, James Fox, James Donald, Gerald Simm, John Ronane, John Standing, Jack Mervale, Reg Lye, Douglas Watson, Alan Webb, Denholm Elliott, Hamilton Dyce, Jeff Bayldon and Leonard Rossiter. There are others.

After a day's shooting on the prisoner of war set in the broiling San Fernando Valley, the English colony moves to Mills' rented home for gin and bitters or other odd drinks, and to director Bryan Forbes' diggings for an Anglo-Saxon version of a blowout.

Mills is an engaging, thoroughly English Englishman with charm to spare. And there's a ring of pride-of-empire about him when he speaks of the amazing success of British players.

The above mentioned actors are still comers, challenging the Peter O'Toole, Albert Finney, Peter Sellers, Richard Burton, Richard Harris and all the rest. Mills' own daughter Hayley is as big at the boxoffice as most American actresses, and Julie Andrews is on the brink of becoming a superstar of the Doris Day variety.

There was a time recently when English movies were a joke and English actors were limited to playing butlers or C. Aubrey Smith roles.

But even such as Lawrence Harvey, Peter Ustinov, Hermione Gingold, Hermione Baddeley, Samantha Eggars and Juliet Mills, John's other daughter, are snaring roles that once went to American actors.

TEEN-AGE TIDE RISES—Look for a big increase in teenage problems during the next decade. Reason: As Newschart shows, there are going to be a lot more teenagers around. This year, 3,700,000 of them will celebrate their 17th birthdays. That's nearly a million more than in 1963. After 1966, each year's crop of seventeens will be bigger than the one before, reaching 4,000,000 or more by 1974. It all means multiplied headaches for parents, educators and sociologists. Data are from Population Reference Bureau.

Over 10,000 deaths from the average age of Nobel prize winners in science is 40 years.

Uncertainty Creeping Into Advertising Game

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The advertising game, which for many years was the most dogmatic of all professions, give or take baseball umpiring, appears to have entered an era of creeping uncertainty.

Copywriters no longer seem as sure of themselves as they once were, particularly on television. Judging from some being aired, a sizable part of Madison Avenue is beset by nagging little doubts.

I haven't done any research on this, but I believe the record will show that the decline of sponsor omniscience began about the time that one of the home permanent advertisers began asking "Which twin has the Toni?"

Doubt Enters Scene

It is true that in these commercials the toned twin was eventually identified. But an element of doubt had been injected. For a brief moment, viewers were left hanging on a question mark. Which was a new experience for most of us.

We couldn't tell which twin had the Toni and we weren't sure that the sponsor knew either. Even after he pointed her out, some doubt persisted. We still were not entirely convinced that he had pointed to the right one.

That tiny crack in sponsor self assurance opened a gap to a flood of other questions. It wasn't long, for instance, before a hair coloring advertiser began asking, "Does she or doesn't she?"

This time, the sponsor admitted that he was as much in the dark as the viewers. He told us we would have to get this information from her hairdresser.

His bewilderment was nothing, however, compared to that of a cigar advertiser who has been agonizing for months over whether a gentleman should offer a tiparillo to a lady. Sel-dorm have I seen anyone so torn by indecision.

No Decision Reached

At times, the sponsor seems almost on the brink of forming an opinion. But when the moment of truth arrives, he backs away and evades the issue.

Obviously, he has lost all confidence in his ability to think things through to a proper conclusion. I fear that by the time this series ends he will be a complete neurotic.

By all odds, however, the most striking example of a sponsor not knowing what to believe is provided by another hair coloring advertiser. This one has his models say, "If I have but one life, let me live it as a blonde."

Not that big "if" is the sponsor suggesting that we may have more than one life? Is he hedging against the possibility that the theory of reincarnation will prove valid?

Does he think that in the next life everyone will be a brunette? Does she feel that... zounds! Now they've got me doing it!

Candied Popcorn Christmas Trees Are Colorful Christmas Chomping Treats

CANDIED TREES are made of popcorn for Christmas.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Captain John Smith learned from the Indians how to grow corn and how to pop it by mixing the kernels with heated sand brought from the river or by placing the kernels in a cavity of hollowed-out soapstone and then heating the stone. But there is no record that the Pilgrims ever made delightful little candied popcorn trees to add gaiety and charm to their Christmas, the way we do today.

CANDIED POPCORN TREES
 1/4 cup corn oil
 1/2 cup popcorn
 1/2 cup light or dark corn syrup
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla (optional)
 Heat corn oil in a 4-quart kettle for 3 minutes. Add popcorn. Cover, leaving small air space at edge of cover. Shake frequently over medium heat until popping stops. Turn popcorn into a large bowl; pick out any unpopped kernels. Mix together in a heavy saucepan corn syrup, sugar and salt and bring to a boil. Cook 2 minutes over medium heat, stirring constantly. Stir in vanilla, if used. Pour over popped corn in large bowl and stir until corn is evenly coated with mixture. Spread margarine on hands and press popcorn mixture into tree-shaped cookie cutters or triangle molds using as little as possible. When cool, turn out of cutter. Decorate with tinted Confectioners' Frosting. Insert wooden skewers for tree trunks. Confectioners' Frosting: Blend 2 tablespoons warm water into 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Add a few drops more water, if necessary, for desired consistency. Tint small amounts of frosting with desired colors.

Vegetable Combos

Mixed vegetables in butter sauce and carrot chunks in butter sauce are new boil-in-bag freezer items. The same manufacturer also has added whole mushrooms in butter sauce, which cook in 10 minutes in a frying pan. Removed from their pouch while frozen, the mushrooms and sauce should be cooked, covered, over high heat for 5 minutes, and uncovered for 5 more.

Sweeten Holidays With Hard Candy

Sweeten your holiday season with hard candy you make yourself.

Color it bright or light and pour it on sticks for lollipops or in fancy molds for lolly-drops. Make some lollipops small, to trim a table tree for a centerpiece (and after-dinner delights) at a Christmas party. Make some cookie-size and hang them in a window where the light shining through will turn them into candy jewels. Perch giant lollipops on gaily ribboned dowel sticks, or tiny ones on colored-party picks, and turn lolly-drops into table or tree decorations.

You can make the hard candy in various flavors and colors. The red taste cinnamon-spicy, the green are as fresh as candy mints and the yellow ones taste lemony and tart. All you do is boil sugar, water and corn syrup, add flavoring and coloring—and pour. For drops and pops, just pour candy from a spoon and it will form itself into rounds. To make stars and scallops and fancy shapes, pour candy into cookie cutters or small metal molds.

Here are directions for making drops, pops and shapes:

LOLLI-DROPS
 2 cups granulated sugar
 1 cup light corn syrup
 1/2 cup water
 1/4 teaspoon oil-type flavoring or 1/2 teaspoons extract type
 1/2 teaspoon food color
GOOD FLAVOR-COLOR COMBINATIONS
 Oil of cinnamon with red food color
 Peppermint extract with green food color
 Lemon extract with yellow food color

Assembling things like lollipop sticks, molds, etc. should be done in advance because once candy is pouring hot you'll have to work fast. Have everything ready (see Lolly Pops below) before cooking.

Boiling: In a straight-sided one and one-half or two quart saucepan mix sugar, corn syrup and water with a wooden spoon. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved completely. Then, without stirring, boil until temperature reaches 300 F. on candy thermometer or until a small amount dropped into very cold water separates into hard, brittle threads. Remember: 300 F. is hot. Be very careful handling the pan.

Flavoring: Cool the mixture on a trivet or other heatproof surface one minute. Add flavoring and coloring; stir just enough to mix. As soon as most of the bubbles which form are gone, pour into prepared molds or into lollipop shapes, following directions below. If candy hardens in pan while you're working, return to heat. Yield: about one pound.

LOLLI POPS

For fancy shapes you need: cookie cutters or small metal molds—don't use plastic. Dip cutters or molds in cooking oil, drain; place on oiled foil or cookie sheet.

For lollipops you need: wooden pop sticks or skewers, bright wooden party picks or dowel sticks—plus a large sheet of oiled aluminum foil.

For swirls add: toothpicks (for swirling), food colors to dip picks in.

To hang candies, add: gift cord or thread (color-matched to candy) or licorice laces. The laces are easy to apply to simple rounds or swirls or drops.

To make lollipops, place sticks on oiled foil and pour candy from tip of a wooden-handled spoon onto ends of sticks. Stick dozens of tiny pops in a Styrofoam ball to make a gay sunburst for holiday snacking.

For fancy shapes, oil cookie cutters and place on oiled foil; pour in candy and let set until hard and cool, then remove mold.

For fancy-shaped lollipops, let candy set in molds about a minute, till it holds shape when removed but is not quite set. Press in a lollipop stick; fill in press-in point with a drop of hot candy. To make giant lollipops, use oiled eight-inch cake pan, pour in thin layer of candy; when partially set, invert pan over a sheet of oiled foil. Remove pan; quickly press in a dowel stick.

To make swirls, work as soon as candy is poured. Quickly dip a wooden toothpick into food color and swirl the toothpick through the hot candy. It's easier to swirl large rounds because they take longer to cool.

For a summer treat, try lemon sherbet with chilled canned apple sauce.

Cooked Ham Aids Hostess Delayed by Holiday Shopping

Last minute holiday shopping keep you downtown too long? You can still prepare a tempting buffet for your dinner guests.

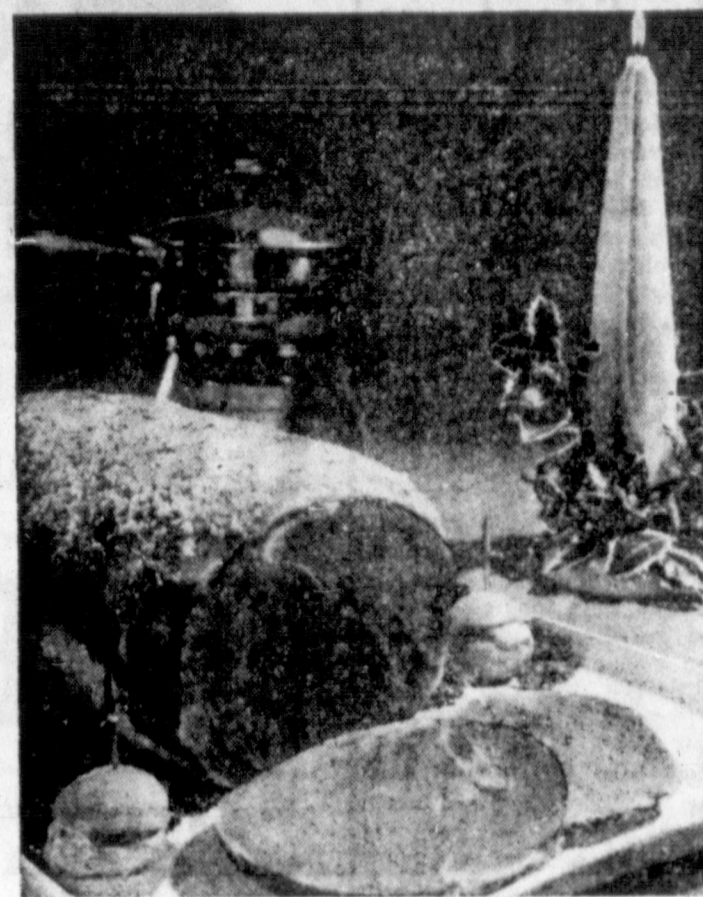

For that special entree, serve a fully cooked ham which goes from wrapper to platter in one easy step. With the selection of a ham that is brown sugar cured and hardwood smoked, you and your guests are assured of the finest in meat. And a fully cooked ham means no further preparation for you, for it can be served without heating.

The "hostess" ham has the advantages of no bone, no skin and no excess fat. It's all delicious meat from one end to the other. And you can slice it from end to end too. Carving there's no bone to interfere with easy slicing. Either slice the ham before or after taking it to the buffet table.

A simple glaze for that special entree is made by combining 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1/4 cup dark corn syrup, and 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar. Cut the top surface of the ham into a diamond pattern with tip of sharp knife. Spread top of the ham with glaze. Sprinkle with more brown sugar.

To garnish the ham, prepare stuffed apricots early in the morning before shopping. Crushed ginger snaps are the surprise ingredient mixed with the cream cheese filling. Creamed potatoes and peas remain warm in the chafing dish. A gelatin salad mold prepared ahead of time and some hard rolls complete your easy-to-prepare buffet.

STUFFED APRICOTS
 Yield: 12 stuffed apricots
 1 pound can apricot halves
 3 ounce package cream cheese
 2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
 2 teaspoons lime juice
 1/2 cup crushed ginger snaps
 Drain apricots. Blend together cream cheese, sour cream, lime juice, and ginger snaps. Spoon some of cream cheese mixture into each apricot half. Place apricot halves together sandwich-style with filling in the middle. Secure with colorful picks. Place stuffed apricots in a sprigs of parsley around a hostess ham for garnish.

Peach Chutney Is Holiday Time-saver

Time is the precious ingredient we all have too little of during the holidays. Here, because you can prepare it well in advance, is a dish to save you time—and the resulting blend of fruits and spices is a perfect complement to the Christmas turkey. The dish is Peach Chutney.

PEACH CHUTNEY

(Makes 3 pints)
 8 large peaches, peeled, sliced
 2-3 cup almonds, blanched and -plit
 7 sweet red peppers, seeded and chopped
 3 medium-size onions, peeled and chopped
 Peel and pulp of 1 orange, chopped
 1 clove garlic, peeled and chopped
 4 ounces candied ginger, chopped
 1 cup seedless raisins

1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon powdered ginger
 1-2 cups granulated sugar
 1 1/4 cups cider vinegar
 Measure and prepare the above ingredients, leaving the peaches until last. Moisten the sugar with 1 1/4 cups vinegar, bring to a boil and cook for 5 minutes. Skim well, add the peaches and cook for 10 minutes, skimming again. Then add the peppers, onions, garlic, ginger, salt, raisins and orange and lemon peel and pulp, and cook for 30 minutes, stirring frequently and skimming as necessary. Add the almonds, powdered ginger and another 1/2 cup vinegar and continue cooking 1/2 hour, watching carefully and stirring frequently to prevent sticking. In the meantime sterilize 3 pint-size jars.

When the chutney is done, pour immediately into the well-drained jars, adjust the rubbers and seal tight.

Diamond Sales Picking Up During Yule

By JESSE BOGUE
NEW YORK (UPI)—Sales of diamonds in the United States have been good this holiday season, said C. D. Kaufman, but for the past year or two they have been flourishing even more in nations overseas.

Kaufman is president of Kay Jewelry Stores, Inc., which owns or operates more than 140 retail outlets across the nation. "Whenever there are signs of currency weakening, or internal economic trouble," Kaufman said in an interview here, "you're likely to find an increased demand for diamonds. They're a hedge against inflation."

"For example, I just returned recently from Italy. As part of the trip there, I visited a little city of about 14,000 population, north of Rome and I dropped into a jewelry store and introduced myself.

Used As Investment
"The proprietor could speak a little English, and he told me that even in that little city he had hardly been able to keep up with the demand for diamonds. People were buying them because they were apprehensive about the value of their money, and wanted something that would be valuable no matter what happened." In India, Brazil and Argentina there has been a demand for diamonds above the average in recent years, he said; it became particularly noticeable in India during the period surrounding the last illness and then the death of the late Premier Nehru.

But, healthy rates of diamond sales in this country do not reflect any inflationary fears so far as he can determine, Kaufman said.

"There are sectional differences in preferences for diamonds," he said. "Generally in the Southwest, purchasers seem to judge them by size. In New England, New York and along the Eastern Seaboard, they are more interested in the color than in the perfection or size of the stone."

White, Blue Popular
The fine white or blue diamonds are the most desirable from the viewpoint of color, Kaufman said. "If you are selecting a diamond, the best place to test the color is under a natural north light," he continued. "If you try to judge it by artificial light, it will pick up other color tints; it even will pick them up from sunlight."

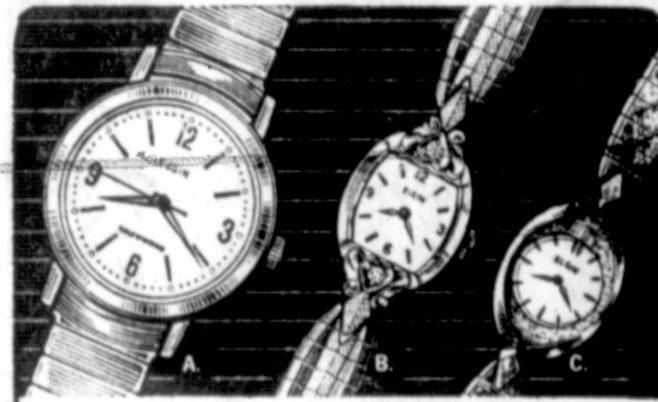

In dollar volume, he said, diamonds represent the largest selling item in the Kay stores. "We do about 24 per cent of our annual business in December," he said, "and I'd guess that we did about 15 per cent of it in the ten days before Christmas."

A nationwide system of microwave stations stretching across the country is now being operated by the Western Union Telegraph Co. The $80 million network covers 7,500 miles and can handle all types of record and voice communication. Western Union expects microwave to take over 75 per cent of the interstate circuits now going over wire. The Newsmap shows the coast-to-coast connections.

Importers, Exporters Scramble to Beat Deadline

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York shippers reported the heaviest traffic in years on the East coast as exporters and importers scrambled to beat the Saturday midnight deadline for an East and Gulf Coast strike by longshoremen.

"We've been working around the clock for the past month and the pressure is at its peak now," said a spokesman for the American Export Isbrandtsen Lines.

"Exporters are exporting like crazy and importers are trying to build up their inventories as quickly as they can," said a United States Line executive.

"All ships have been full for a month."

Longshoremen in ports from Maine to Texas will be free to resume their walkout at 12:10 a.m. EST Sunday if no agreement is reached with shippers. They struck last September but President Lyndon B. Johnson invoked the Taft-Hartley emergency provision for an 80-day no-strike period.

SEEK MOTORCYCLE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Venice division police today were searching for policeman K. W. Strange's motorcycle.

Strange reported Tuesday that someone sawed the lock off his garage and took the vehicle. Officers later found the bike's radio equipment and saddlebags in a canal.

SPECIAL TV SHOW

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first program in a television series dramatizing the work of the United Nations will be shown Sunday at the State Department for government officials, diplomats and newsmen.

Secretary of State and Mrs. Dean Rusk will be host for the special showing of the telecast. "Carol for another Christmas."

NEIGHBORS COLLIDE

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Edward Flaherty, 40, was killed Tuesday in a two-car collision in nearby Monroeville, about four miles from his Murrysville home.

The driver of the other car was his next door neighbor, Ralph Thomas, 48. Thomas was treated for minor injuries and released.

DALLAS (UPI) — The post office showed businessmen Tuesday how to reverse the principle of the mail chute, using conveyor belts to deliver the mail to every office in a 34-story building in just 15 minutes.

Postmaster General John Gronouski unveiled the system and nicknamed it "VIM" — for Vertical Improved Mail — as a partner for the zip code now meeting its first Christmas season test.

All-Time High Budget Asked by Mexico President

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Mexican finance minister Antonio Ortiz Mena submitted his 1965 budget, calling for expenditures of $2.96 billion—the highest in Mexico's history.

National income was calculated to be higher than expenses, thus giving Ortiz Mena a slight budgetary surplus. He said income had been estimated conservatively, "to prevent disagreeable surprises caused by unforeseen contingencies."

The 1965 budget was more than double the 1964 figure, but this great increase was due to the fact that, for the first time in history, the calculated expenditures included the cost of running government-owned agencies and companies. These costs were estimated for 1965 at slightly over one and a half billion dollars.

Ted Tells Kids No Piggyback Ride

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., settled down today to sunning away his hospital pallor during the Christmas holidays, and explaining to his two children why he can't give them piggyback rides.

"I'm afraid you'll have to wait awhile for that," Kennedy chuckled to 3-year-old Edward Jr. Wednesday when the boy greeted his arriving father at the door of the Kennedy family airplane. Junior had asked for stairs to the ground.

As he drove off in a convertible to Palm Beach, Kennedy was also having trouble explaining to the youngsters why he wasn't likely to get a sled for Christmas — "there's no snow down here. Maybe when we get back home."

It's The Law In Texas

ABSTRACTS While driving around a lake, John and Mary saw a "For Sale" sign on a piece of lake property which they thought they could afford to buy.

They made inquiry of the owner and agreed on a price. They inquired about title and the owner assured them that he would give them an "Abstract." They took the abstract, which was a fat book of papers, and the deed, filed the deed at the courthouse and thought no more about it, assuming, as many people do, that an "abstract" is an assurance of good title.

Some year later they went to sell to a buyer who was better informed. He insisted that either the abstract be examined and an opinion given by an attorney that the title was good or that the seller must provide title insurance. When they sought an opinion as to whether the abstract showed good title, they were dismayed to find that the title was not in good order, and that there would have to be a quiet-title lawsuit to dispose of some flaws in the title before the buyer would accept it. Neither would a title insurance company write a policy of insurance for them without legal action to clear up the title.

John and Mary were astounded to learn that they were wrong in assuming that an "abstract" was an assurance of good title. An abstract is merely a record of every document which has ever been filed of record at the courthouse affecting the title to a particular piece of property. It may show good title or bad title, or no title at all. It is only a bundle of papers, as John and Mary discovered, which summarizes the state of the title. Its possession does not in any way assure good title.

Thus while one may be able to get possession and peacefully occupy a property with an unsalable title, difficulties will arise when the property is to be sold or mortgaged. To do so is only to postpone and perhaps increase the trouble and expense of clearing the title. It makes good sense to correct any title defects when you buy property.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Albert To Leave Oklahoma Hospital

MCALISTER, Okla. (UPI)—House Majority Leader Carl Albert, D-Okla., will be released from the hospital this week, doctors said today.

Albert had a mild case of pneumonia when he entered the hospital with a 104-degree temperature Sunday, but doctors said he has recovered from the illness.

Electric Chair

NOTTINGHAM, Eng. (UPI)—The coroner said Wednesday that bachelor Arthur Swift, a 64-year-old tradesman, rigged wires to a living room settee and committed suicide in a homemade electric chair.

Grasshoppers can leap 10 times as high as they are long

Bohemian Set Safe in Bikini

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Fort Worth's bohemian set still can get cheesecake with their coffee. The waitresses at The Cellar, a basement bards-and-poetry coffeehouse, will be able to carry on—for the time being at least—in their bras and panties.

A jury of three men and three women deadlocked Wednesday on whether the bikini-sized work clothes constitute indecent exposure.

City Judge Don E. Leonard declared a mistrial in the case of Mrs. Mary Hardesty, first of the 14 waitresses at The Cellar to get her day in court.

Nat Cole Suffering From Lung Tumor

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Nat King Cole, whose velvet voice has kept him high atop the world's hit parade for two decades, is undergoing cobalt treatments for a presumably cancerous "lung tumor."

Although there was no official confirmation the tumor was malignant, a spokesman for St. John's Hospital Wednesday indicated cobalt treatments are given.

Cattle Saved

CREEDE, Colo. (UPI)—A helicopter was used to save 13 trapped and starving cattle from snow-packed mountainous terrain 10,000-feet above sea level Wednesday.

Captain Cook reported finding jade in North America.

The bites of a copperhead rarely is fatal. Diamonds of poor quality have been found in Nevada.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, our drug called ODRINEX. You must lose ugly fat in 7 days or your money back. No strenuous exercises, laxatives, massage or taking of so-called retarding candies, crackers or cookies or chewing gum ODRINEX is a tiny tablet and easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you still enjoy your meals, still eat the foods you like, but you simply don't have the urge for extra portions, because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food. # Space Program Flops In 1964

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—For the United States, space program, 1964 was a year of defeat, disaster and death, a year of crippled astronauts and crinkled test chambers, of problems that mysteriously hung onto rockets and of payloads that mysteriously did not.

As the year ends, it still remains true that nothing short of a miracle can overcome the estimated two to six year lead the Soviet Union has built up in manned conquest of space. By an optimistic schedule, 1965 could see the U.S. send as many as eight astronauts on orbital flights logging more than 600 hours — 12 times that of all American manned flights combined to this point.

Trainees Increase
In 1965, too, the U.S. will add full-fledged scientists to its astronaut team for the first time. This will bring the space trainee pool to perhaps 40 members or more.

The schedule calls for four Project Gemini shots. But prospects are that only two or at best three, will get off the ground.

The project — to launch two astronauts into orbit aboard the same capsule — fell 15 months behind schedule in 1964. By the year's end, the U.S. program has run up a string of 19 months without a manned space flight.

These were the other developments — and non-developments — of a bleak space year in the U.S.

The Soviet Union took advantage of the U.S. lull to increase its lead in manned conquest of space. Russia's new Voskhod spaceship carried three cosmonauts into orbit, a feat the United States cannot hope to match until early 1967.

—America successfully test-fired three more Saturn-1 rockets, forerunners of the Saturn-5 super-boosters that will lift three astronauts to the moon. But Russia countered by launching its Voskhod ship with a giant rocket estimated to be twice as powerful as Saturn-1.

—The nation's only military manned space program, an Air Force proposal to send two astronauts into orbit aboard a "Manned Orbital Laboratory" (MOL) appeared headed for death, possibly in a compromise between the civilian space agency and the Department of Defense.

Biggest disappointment for the second year running was Gemini, the project that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) bought at an original price of $800 million to launch two-man teams of astronauts into orbit around earth starting in late 1963.

By the end of 1964, Gemini's price tag had soared to $1.1 billion — and had lifted no one off the ground. Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom and John Young, selected last April for the first three-orbit flight, were left to run make-believe missions until March, 1965, at the earliest.

Simple Shot
Instead of the program's planned three flights this year, it had made only one by early December — a comparatively simple shot that sent an unmanned capsule on a one-way trip into orbit in spring.

The space agency, stung by increasing criticism and a certainty that Congress would ask for some explanations in 1965, ordered up a curtain of secrecy — a policy that NASA spokesmen saying "everything is proceeding nicely" despite the painfully apparent delays.

Gale Force Winds Hit Eastern Colorado

DENVER (UPI)—Gale-force winds smashed through parts of eastern Colorado Tuesday causing several thousands of dollars in damage and keeping hundreds of children from school.

Winds gusting up to 95 miles per hour hit the Denver area, blocking streets with fallen trees and injuring several motorists when large limbs and signs smashed into their cars.

PRESIDENTIAL PHONE

CHICAGO (UPI)—It was not until 1929 that the president of the United States had a phone on his White House desk. Prior to the time of President Herbert Hoover, the chief executive used a booth outside his executive office, according to the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

The year also gave the U.S. program almost as much trouble with its men as with its machinery.

On Feb. 3, 14 new trainees, highly educated and all veteran jet pilots, joined the astronaut ranks. From these are expected to come at least two of the first three Americans to set foot on the moon — around 1970, space planners hope.

But that subtle thing called "attrition" began taking its toll. In January, senior astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. became the first to leave the astronaut team. The man who soared three times around earth on Feb. 20, 1962, resigned to go after the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator from his native Ohio.

Disaster haunted John Glenn. A fall in a bathroom in late February injured his inner ear, left him bedridden for weeks and spelled an end to his political career virtually before it started.

As the year closed, Glenn was back on his feet — no longer an astronaut, or even a Marine, but a director of a soft-drink bottling company.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Communications One Top Peace Weapon

One of the greatest weapons for peace is mankind's developing ability to communicate swiftly and accurately by telephone, telegraph, television and radio. Just as next-door neighbors must be able to communicate with each other in order to understand each other, so must the peoples of the world. In the dramatic advances now taking place in world-wide communications systems lies one of our best hopes for future progress and understanding.

Through the efforts of American private enterprise we are taking the lead in linking the world more closely together. Our scientific genius made possible the communications satellites now circling in space, providing reliable transoceanic relays for communications signals of every type. But as public attention has focused on the "Comsat" program, Americans have led similarly impressive developments in undersea cable communications.

Not until eight years ago was it possible for Americans to speak directly by telephone to persons in England. In 1927, the Bell System had introduced radio-telephone service between New York and London but weather and atmospheric conditions occasionally barred intelligible transmissions. In 1956, the Bell System completed a submarine telephone cable across the Atlantic, and the cable made telephone calls between the United States and Great Britain as clear as those from across the street. Cables were laid later to Alaska, to Hawaii, to France, to Bermuda, to Puerto Rico. Recently a cable link was completed between this country and Japan.

That first transatlantic telephone cable had a capacity to carry 48 telephone conversations at once. As it was being laid, Bell was perfecting a new design, one providing 128 conversations. This is the type now being laid. Relatively light and easily handled, the one-and-a-quarter inch cable contains a core of steel wires for strength and a coaxial conductor covered by a black plastic jacket.

So great is the demand for improved international communications, Bell commissioned construction of a new ship to lay the new cable. Last year the "C. S. Long Lines" went to sea for the first time. It was my privilege to inspect the "C. S. Long Lines" recently at the Port of Baltimore, Md., just before she sailed to begin laying telephone cable between Florida and St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. The ship is designed from keel to mast to perform its assignment; it is functional, but truly beautiful to see. The "Long Lines" is 511 feet long, displaces 17,000 tons, cruises at 15 knots with a range of 10,000 miles, and can carry more than 1,800 miles of the new cable and 116 amplifiers or repeaters. In future years you will be hearing a great deal about the accomplishments of the "C. S. Long Lines," operated by the Long Lines Department of American Telephone & Telegraph Company, and its highly skilled crew. With overseas telephone calls increasing at the rate of 15 percent a year, there is no end to the work ahead.

Meanwhile, Bell scientists are perfecting other remarkable communications products. Undersea transistORIZED cable now being developed will provide capacity not only for 720 simultaneous voice transmissions but also for television signals. Our imagination also is challenged by experiments to develop high-speed data transmission at rates close to one-and-a-half million words per minute — a rate so fast that the King James Version of the Holy Bible could be transmitted in less than one minute. Western Electric Company scientists estimate that by 1969 fully 81 percent of com-

American Cancer Society Inaugurates Memorial Fund

In response to numerous requests from families and individuals, the American Cancer Society has inaugurated a memorial fund to which families and friends of cancer victims may contribute, according to Sam Begert, memorial chairman of the Gray County Unit.

"The memorial fund has been established because so many families and individuals have sought a way to commemorate a loved one who has died of cancer," Begert said. "Contributions made in memory of a friend or a member of the family are acknowledged by the American Cancer Society, and a memorial card is sent to the family stating that a memorial has been received and giving the name of the donor. These contributions may be in any amount," Begert said. "Memorial funds are used to support the Society's threefold attack on cancer through research, education, and service." "Although the major source of funds for this program comes from the Society's annual April crusade, memorial funds received throughout the year are becoming of increasing importance to the society as more families and individuals become aware that they can contribute in the name of a loved one to the ultimate victory over this dread disease," Begert said. "The American Cancer Society is deeply grateful to individuals and families throughout the county who are using this practical means of assisting the Society to carry on the fight against cancer."

Worker Freed After Cave-In

WYTHEVILLE, Va. (UPI) — A 30-foot clay bank caved in on four men at a construction site Wednesday, but fellow workers freed them in less than 40 minutes. None of the four was reported seriously injured, although one was buried under four feet of dirt. The others were buried up to their chests.

The cave-in happened when the four were in the rear of a foundation dugout for an Inter-mountain Telephone Co. building. A fifth man was injured when struck by a shovel during rescue digging.

Business Highlights

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Bargainers for the "big 11" steel firms and the United Steelworkers Union resumed contract negotiations Wednesday in an atmosphere of cautious optimism. J. Warren Shaver, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.'s bargaining team and his union counterpart James Griffin, expressed guarded hope talks would continue to proceed on an amiable level. "The meeting (Tuesday) went fine," Shaver said, adding he was "hopeful" contract agreement could be reached.

NEW YORK — Consolidated Edison Co. proposed a two-for-one stock split, subject to a vote by shareholders on Jan. 25. Chairman Harland Forbes said the split shares will be placed on a 45-cent quarterly dividend basis, compared with an 82½ cent rate on the present stock.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOME
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Since 1958, Mohammed Ayub Khan has ruled Pakistan, first under martial law and since 1962 under a system of "basic democracies."

The "basic democracies" were devised by Ayub, a former commander-in-chief of the Pakistani army, to replace the parliamentary system.

In effect, it strongly resembles French President Charles de Gaulle's Fifth Republic.

These electors are expected to vote on Jan. 2, and what "walk-away" victory for Ayub now may be something less than that.

The reason is a 71-year-old spinster who is the sister of the revered Mohammad Ali Jinnah, founder of Pakistan.

She is Fatima Jinnah around whom Ayub's heretofore scattered opposition has found an emotional rallying point.

The plank of her campaign is a return to parliamentary rule. Ayub has ridiculed her both as an amateur politician and as a tool of his enemies, but his tactics so far only have enhanced the crowds she has been able to draw.

Ayub, on the other hand, has campaigned on his record of stability, a quality notably lacking in Pakistani politics prior to his bloodless coup in 1958.

He has expanded industry, instituted land reform and done much for reduction.

But, equally, he has not hesitated to jail rival politicians and to close down newspapers opposed to his policies.

And just as he misjudged Fatima Jinnah's appeal, so he seems to have misjudged other factors.

The regime has been plagued by strikes among university students demanding greater freedom for student political organizations. A number of students have been killed and students and professors severely manhandled.

The tough treatment is said to have cost Ayub votes.

Closer to home for the United States is the anti-U.S. tone of the campaign.

For different reasons, both sides have seen fit to deny any pro-American sentiments. A member of Ayub's ruling Pakistan Moslem League even declared loss of American friendship "good riddance."

This, despite the fact that U.S. aid to Pakistan in 1964 amounted to more than $400 million and that Pakistan's economy is dependent upon a continuation of that aid.

Wreath Decorates Christmas Dinner Table, Not the Window

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Christmas wreaths are for windows, of course. But why not grace the festive dinner with one, too?

No cooking is involved and it can be made in advance to save last minute fuss. At serving time, all you have to do is to dip the mold into a bowl of warm water to the depth of its contents and run a small paring knife around the rim. Invert on a serving platter and shake. If it does not unroll readily, repeat the procedure. Once the mold is on the platter, garnish with cherries and bits of green angelica to simulate Yuletide berries and leaves.

WREATH is not for the window; it's for the table. Beat together egg yolks and milk; stir into gelatin mixture. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and gelatin is dissolved, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in rum flavoring and nutmeg. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 1/4 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Whip 1 cup heavy cream; fold in. Turn into a 5-cup mold; chill until firm. When ready to serve, unmold on serving platter. To make "wreath," top mold with spoonful of whipped cream and garnish with halved maraschino cherries and Angelica "holly leaves."

EGGNOG WREATH
(Six to eight servings)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar, divided
2 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons rum flavoring
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup heavy cream
Angelica
Maraschino cherries

Students Feted By Mrs. Yoder

Piano students of Mrs. Fidelia Yoder met in two groups on last Thursday and Friday evenings in her home at 1215 Williston for Christmas workshop parties.

On Thursday evening the younger students met with Mrs. D. W. Bond and Mrs. Royce Laycock as hostesses. For their musical activity, the students played a Christmas carol while the group sang thus giving them an opportunity to have experience as accompanists.

Pupils present were Phoebe Skelly, Cindy Deering, Geneva Davis, Suzanne Bond, Gail Duncan, Randy Land, Lisa Laycock, Charlotte Bankston, Anita Williams, Becky Thompson, Wayne and Sharon Bruce, Jean Fischer, Steve McDaniel, Gayla Cockburn, Tad Hoepfner and Connie McBroom.

Parents present included Mrs. Glen Deering, Mrs. Zebbie Land, Mrs. Leo Bankston, Mrs. Theo Williams, Mrs. Lowell McBroom of Panhandle, and Clarence Coffin, A. B. Cockburn, Jack Davis and the hostesses, who served refreshments of Christmas cookies and punch at the close of the party.

On Friday a group of junior and senior high students met for a similar event. Mrs. Jimmy Terry and Mrs. John Adams were hostesses for this group. These students played some of the solos that they have been working on for the group.

Students present were Joyce Fischer, Brenda Terry, Linda Adams, Janie Murphy, Gail Wilson and guest, Rickie Land, Debbie Ferrel, Daniel Bond, Kay Upshaw, and Gail Green. Mrs. Thurman Upshaw was a guest also. After the musical program the hostesses served Christmas punch and cookies.

On both evenings, the students brought toys or games, which they exchanged for the evening.

and which were later taken to the fire department for distribution to the under-privileged children of Pampa.

Dear Abby... Face Lifting Doesn't Always Give Needed Lift

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me the truth about face lifting. I am 45 and at one time I was considered a real beauty. I still have a slim figure, beautiful eyes and lovely hair, but my face has "gone to pot." I have wrinkles and my jaws droop. I've seen movie stars who are older than I, and they don't have a wrinkle on their faces. Something is wrong somewhere. How long does a face lifting job last? I've heard it has to be done over every four or five years. I wouldn't mind the pain or the expense. It would be worth every bit of it if I could look like I did ten years ago. Be honest with me, Abby. Don't tell me to grow old gracefully. You know how vain women are.

NO NAME, PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: The most obvious "truth" about face lifting is that no reputable plastic surgeon can guarantee the patient that he (or she) will be satisfied with the results, which range all the way from highly successful to "why - didn't - I - leave - well - enough - alone?" You can't always believe your eyes. Many actresses who are older than you and "don't have a wrinkle" can thank skilled cameramen and expert make-up artists. If you are interested in plastic surgery, go to a specialist in this field and he will provide you with all the answers.

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman who rides to work with me every morning. She does pitch in to help pay for the gas, but I want to know if this gives her the right to change the radio station I am listening to? And how about if she wants the window open or closed? Don't you think she should ask me before going ahead and changing things to suit her convenience and comfort? I have had plenty of days ruined by this kind of a beginning. What do you suggest?

Christmas Party Enjoyed by Class

Members of Friendship Class of First Methodist Church met for the annual Christmas Friday evening in the Church Parlor with Group Two serving as hostesses.

Amid a Christmas theme carried out in pink and white, the group enjoyed a musical Christmas program presented by Mrs. Winton Ed Roundtree and Mrs. Marion Ragain. Mrs. George Mack read "Beautiful Dreams, Gods and Mans."

Following a gift exchange, Mrs. Harry Vanderpool dismissed the four guests and 37 members present with prayer.

Pampans Hit Road, Play PD

The hot-handed Pampa Harvesters, tied for the top in 3-4A with a 2-0 mark, have been merrily upsetting the best around in compiling a 9-2 season record. The Big Green hits the road tomorrow night for its first away loop game, against an up-and-down team that could be very UP for this game.

On paper the Harvesters should rank as big favorites over Palo Duro. However, on paper the Harvesters should be about 6-5 in play, and are getting warier of the underdogs than they are of the favorites.

The Dons stand 4-5 on the season, having dropped their first two district contests, but stunned the people with a 60-51 upset of the previously unbeaten Tascosa Rebels Tuesday night.

Accuracy at the free throw line, and a tremendous defense which held high-scoring Bill Bogan to only seven points were the key to PD's win over Tascosa, plus the sharp shooting of Tommy Cook and Mike Echols.

The Harvesters will be hoping to exploit the Dons' weakness, shooting from the floor, as Pampa has displayed a fantastic shooting average through the season, hitting from 42 to 60 percent of their shots per game. Canning 51 percent Tuesday night, plus their usual accuracy at the foul line led to their 67-44 victory, over Borger.

Hurlbut Hired For Ag Staff

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Jack Hurlbut, a 23-year-old Houstonian who played football at Alabama, signed on Wednesday as the fourth man on coach Gene Stallings' football staff at Texas A&M.

"I feel that Jack will be a great asset to our staff," Stallings said. "He is a native Texan and he played offensive quarterback and defensive halfback, giving him all-round background for coaching, too. I'm sure he'll do an outstanding job recruiting."

Hurlbut went to Aldine High School and to Rice University for his freshman year. He then transferred to Alabama, where he earned two varsity football letters.

He graduated last spring and coached junior varsity and swimming at Ball High in Galveston this fall.

"This is the best thing that has ever happened to me," Hurlbut said.

Tuesday, Stallings announced hiring Don Watson and Loyd Taylor, three-year lettermen who played with him and the great John David Crow in A&M's days under coach Paul Bryant. Stallings also retained Elmer Smith, an assistant coach at A&M for the past 11 years.

Lou Saban Gets Raise

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Win or lose, Lou Saban is going to get a fatter salary in 1965.

Ralph C. Wilson Jr. of Detroit, owner-president of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, spelled this out clearly Wednesday.

"I think Lou is in line for a raise," he said. "I will meet with him sometime after the season is over. It is more or less on the basis of a handshake."

Wilson said Saban, 42-year-old head coach of the Bills, was hired on a year to year agreement because "I'm against long-term contracts." He told Saban before the season he could have the job for as long as he wanted and Saban responded with 11 victories in 13 games this year.

But Saban's biggest test is coming up Sunday afternoon in Fenway Park against the Boston Patriots for the Eastern Division title. The Bills must win or tie Boston to dethrone the Patriots and meet the San Diego Chargers Dec. 26 for the AFL championship.

Saban, who reportedly receives between $18,000 and $20,000 annually, just grinned when told about Wilson's vote of confidence. He was too preoccupied with devising ways to beat the Patriots and scurried away to put the Bills through a two-hour workout on a chilly, wind-swept field at War Memorial Stadium.

Parilli Leads AFL All-Star Eleven

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vito (Babe) Parilli of the Boston Patriots earned his first All-Star berth in 11 years as a pro quarterback today when he was named to head the 1964 American Football League All-Star squad by United Press International.

Parilli was one of seven first-time All-Stars—six of them on the defensive platoon—selected to the 1964 team. The team was determined by a vote of 24 writers (three from each AFL city) who covered the season regularly.

Offensive line stars Jim Otto of the Oakland Raiders and Ron Mix of the San Diego Chargers were selected on the No. 1 unit for the fifth consecutive year, and outside linebacker Larry Grantham was chosen for the fourth successive season.

The Buffalo Bills and San Diego each placed five men on the All-Star squad, which had at least one representative from every team. Boston had four players on the first team and New York, Oakland and Kansas City each had two.

Leads In Passing
Parilli, the one-time Kentucky All-American, led the AFL in passing yardage going into the final showdown game with Buffalo Sunday for the Eastern Division title. Parilli has passed for 3,147 yards and tossed for more touchdowns (29) than any other quarterback in the league.

Completing the backfield with Parilli were running backs Keith Lincoln of San Diego and Cookie Gilchrist of Buffalo, the AFL's leading rusher. Lance Alworth of the Chargers and Charley Hennigan of the Houston Oilers were selected as flanker and split end, respectively and Kansas City's Fred Arbanas was tabbed as the tight end.

Lincoln, Alworth and Arbanas are repeaters from last year. It marked the third time in four seasons Hennigan has been chosen and the second time in three years for Gilchrist, a second-teamer in 1963.

The entire offensive line, consisting of Mix and Buffalo's Stew Barber at tackle; Billy Shaw of the Bills and the Pats' Billy Neighbors at guard and Otto at center, remained intact from last year.

New Faces On Defense
However, the defensive alignment underwent a thorough shakeup, particularly in the secondary where Oakland's Fred

Williamson was the only hold-over from last season.

Dainard Paulson of New York, Ron Hall of Boston and Willie Brown of Denver — the AFL's three leading pass interceptors—made the All-Star defensive backfield for the first time as did Boston's Nick Bunniconti at middle linebacker, Mike Stratton of the Bills at outside linebacker and Kansas City's Bobby Bell at end.

Tom Sestak, the Bills' 200-pound defensive tackle, was the most popular selection with 22 of a possible 24 votes. He teamed with two San Diego heavyweights—end Earl Faison and tackle Ernie Ladd — to complete the defensive line. Faison has been an All-Star three of the last four years, Sestak for two straight seasons and Ladd was a member of the 1961 squad.

Trailing Sestak in the popular vote were Gilchrist, Shaw and Mix with 20 votes apiece. Parilli received 15 votes, eight more than runnerup Len Dawson.

Burris Promoted

DENVER (UPI) — Jim Burris, 42, Texas baseball league president, was named new general manager of the Denver Bears of the Pacific Coast League Wednesday.

Burris is expected to continue as head of the Texas League until its annual meeting in Amarillo, Tex., Jan. 16.

Another Import Wins for Duke

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer
Duke Coach Vic Bubas has another import to carry on in the tradition of Art Heyman and Jeff Mullins.

Steve Vacendak, a 6-foot-1 playmaker from Scranton, Pa., who averaged 5.5 points a game last season in the shadow of Mullins, led Duke to its fourth win in five starts Wednesday night with 23 points as the sixth-ranked Blue Devils edged Clemson 80-79.

Vacendak scored the last 10 points for the Blue Devils of Durham, N. C., to climax a Duke surge from a 48-40 half-time deficit. His final two points in the last minute came on free throws for an 80-77 Duke lead.

Duke won the game from the foul line, sinking 16 of 27 free throws, including seven by Vacendak. Clemson hit nine of 13 foul attempts.

Lions Win Fifth
Penn State, ranked 14th, rolled to its fifth consecutive triumph after an opening game loss to Maryland by downsing Temple 73-63. The Nittany Lions built a 53-37 lead early in the second half, but the Owls closed to within six points at 65-59 with 2:03 remaining. Two clutch baskets by Jim Reed clinched it for Penn State.

In the other half of a Palcatra doubleheader at Philadelphia, visiting Seattle recovered from a six point deficit to edge LaSalle 76-74 on Charlie Williams' jump shot with three seconds to play.

Houston ousted Auburn from the unbeaten ranks with a 50-48 victory and Texas A&M beat Rice 69-60 in a Bluebonnet Classic twinbill.

Louisville extended Syracuse's losing streak to five games by beating the Orangemen 67-62. Eddie Creamer, with 20 points, and John Reuther, 19, scored more than half of the Cardinal points.

Loyola Squeezes By
Dan Connaughton's two foul shots with three seconds to go enabled Loyola of Chicago to squeak past North Dakota State 84-83. Lee Grim's two charity tosses had put N. D. State temporarily in front with 48 seconds left.

The first round of the Christmas Collegiate tourney hosted by the Quantico Marines stopped Penn Military 89-57; Frederick College nipped Alfred 96-92; Slippery Rock beat Franklin (Ohio) 76-71; and Philadelphia Textile defeated Findlay College 94-72. Quantico has won this tourney nine times in the last 10 years.

Elsewhere, Rutgers beat Columbia 101-89; Brown trounced Yale 68-54; Navy sank Delaware 92-49; Army clobbered Canisius 93-65; Oklahoma upended Texas Tech 85-79; Baylor topped North Texas 86-81; and Colorado clipped Wyoming 68-63.

Austin OK'd From Disease

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (UPI)—Doctors decided it would be safe to hold a high school basketball tournament today at Stephen F. Austin despite a case of "bacterial meningitis" contracted at the school.

Ken Bechtold, Stephen A. Austin athletic trainer, was taken to City Memorial Hospital for treatment of the disease.

Doctors said Bechtold was recovering "nicely."

Games with LeTourneau College and Northeast Louisiana were canceled this week because the basketball team at the school was undergoing treatment in case they were exposed to the disease.

SWC Roundup

Texas A&M put down Rice 69-60 in the Bluebonnet Basketball Classic in Houston Wednesday night, and the two other Southwest Conference hoop squads that saw action split games against non-conference opponents.

Baylor finally edged out North Texas State 86-81 after a close tug-of-war in Denton, but the hot-shooting Sooners of Oklahoma beat Texas Tech 85-79.

Tight Defense
In the first game of the Bluebonnet Classic, Houston unveiled a tight defense and choked off Auburn, 50-48.

A&M took charge midway in the first half against Rice after a shaky start and opened up a 26-21 lead at the midpoint.

Four of the Aggies scored in double figures—Ken Norman leading with 18, followed by John Beasley with 16, Dick Stringfellow with 11 and Eddie Dominguez with 10. Rice's six-foot-four forward Doug Kendrick led all scorers with 19.

Rice made a game of it early in the second half, narrowing the score to a three-point margin, but the Aggies scored two quick ones on field goals by Dominguez, and at one point owned a 14-point lead.

Rice takes on Auburn in today's Bluebonnet action, with A&M going against Houston.

Oklahoma hit 50 per cent of its field goal shots to upset Tech, scrambling back from a 48-44 halftime deficit on the strong shooting of Mike Rooney and Bill Whitlock to take the lead at 76-74 with 4:27 left. The Sooners led the rest of the way.

Texas Tech, which hit 39 per cent from the field, remained in the game by hitting 27 of 36 free throws. Earl Denney of Texas Tech led all scorers with 26 points.

Rooney paced Oklahoma with 21 points, and Whitlock had 20. Oklahoma is now 3-2 for the year. Texas Tech is 2-3.

Seesaw Game

Baylor and North Texas traded the lead 17 times before the unbeaten Bears grabbed the lead in the final four minutes.

With the contest tied at 69-69, Tommy Hatfield's jump shot and Darrell Hardy's tip-in gave the Bears a four-point lead game.

The Eagles built a 41-37 lead at the half, but Ed Hornes' lay-up and a free throw put Baylor back ahead at the start of the second. The teams traded the lead nine times in the final 18 minutes. The score was tied 18 times during the game and neither team ever led by more than five points.

Eagle center Willie Davis led scoring at 29, followed by teammate Ron Miller with 19. Spencer Carlson with 15 and Winslow Moore with 14 led the Bears.

The victory was Baylor's fifth straight. North Texas has suffered three losses in seven outings. Both teams shot 39.5 per cent from the floor.

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

THE JUVENILE basketball coach of Wheeler, Bill Harle, and his quarter-pint sidekick, football coach J. T. Hill, have challenged the Pampa Newsboys to a basketball game!

Seems the Wheeler wiseguys read about the Newsboys' slate of games with the Borger News-Herald staff, and challenged us to a contest against the coaches and teachers of Wheeler, including themselves, Tooter Helton, Richard Gaines, etc.

Told me played for charity, Hill suggested the athletic fund as his favorite charity. Hill, a much better diplomat, said it should be saved for a special athletic fund for buying sport-writers coffee! (Hmm, think I'll let him score a point or two for that).

The nicest thing about playing those Vega expatriates is that in J. T. and Tooter, Chico Ramirez and I can finally find someone our own size to play! If Harle gives us any trouble, we'll have svelte Ray Rodgers, the man mountain, fight him for the boards a few times!

The game will have to await the beginning of the new year, as Bill Trelloggen and the Ol' Swami both plan to take a short Christmas-type vacation. That makes three games in January, plus any other suckers (or challengers) who come along, so we'll be busy as a clerk at a department store exchange window!

Hardin will learn officially of his status at a news conference called by the academy for 3 p.m. EST today.

Hardin, 37, has been head coach at Navy since 1959 and his teams suffered only one losing log in that tenure — this past season when the Midshipmen won three games, lost six and tied one. In addition, Hardin-coached teams scored an unprecedented five straight victories over arch-rival Army before losing in 1964. His overall record was 38-20-2.

Hardin still has four years to go on a five-year contract under which he earns $18,000 a year. At the time he signed the new contract last year, he also was named as aide to E. E. Rip Miller, the assistant athletic director at Navy.

A COUPLE of quick predictions: GALENA PARK ST. GAL, go on a five-year contract — not only do I gotta stick with my old district, but Houston coach Melvin Brown says GP is simply loaded. TULSA 28, MISSISSIPPI 14. Pickin' the upset. I think Jerry Rhome is that good.

Miami Cage Tournament In First Round of Play

Sugar Bowl To Feature Wild-Running Backfield

GARY LISTER
...Miami scorer

Action began this morning in the annual Miami Invitational Basketball Tournament, with Hedley and Allison rated co-favorites in the boys division and Briscoe rated the top team in girls play.

Action started at 11:30 this morning with Allison vs. Mobeetie girls, followed by Allison-Mobeetie boys; Panhandle-Briscoe girls and Panhandle-Briscoe boys.

This evening's round sends Hedley against Canadian girls at 5:50, boys at 7:10. At 8:30, Miami gals hosts McLean, with the boys closing at 9:50.

Consolation bracket action for losers starts tomorrow at 11:30, winners bracket at 5:50. Consolation finals and third place girls competition will kick off Saturday afternoon at 12:50, third place boys and finals begin at 5:50 that night.

Host coach Lawrence Overcast rates Hedley and Allison as the top boys teams in the tournament this year. Hedley, with a 15-1 record, just came off the honors in the Silverton Tournament, and beat another strong team in this tournament, Briscoe twice. A tall and veteran crew, Hedley features 6-4 Pat Chessir. Allison also has only one loss, an overtime one-pointer in their opening game, after which they have won four straight. They return four starters from last year's regional contenders.

Panhandle is rated the top threat, with the Panthers actually picked as the top team should 6-4 Leon Choate, sidelined with an ankle injury, be back to play. Host Miami could be a dark horse.

In gals play, the nod would have to go to the tall and veteran Briscoe girls, led by marvelous Mickie Fulks, their great scorer. Hedley will be the top threat, followed by the youthful but upcoming Panhandle sextet, tall McLean and Canadian, which Overcast rates as a team with far more winning potential than has been shown yet. Defending champion Miami could be in there "if we come alive," admitted the tall Miami mentor.

Mel Renfro May Play Offense for Cowboys

DALLAS (UPI) — When Mel Renfro signed to play professional football for the Dallas Cowboys, coach Tom Landry's big problem was where to play the gifted Oregon speedster.

"He could play running back or flanker," Landry mused. "And he would make a fine safety or cornerback."

Renfro opened the season at weak safety, then moved to the strong side when third-year man Mike Gaechter injured an elbow in the fourth game of the season. After watching the rookie operate there for a few weeks, Landry commented: "He's playing the position like he's been there all his life. He makes mistakes like all rookies, but he's got that tremendous speed that makes up for it if he commits himself too fast."

in interceptions in his rookie year with seven thefts for 110 yards and a touchdown. Mel also gained more yards on kickoff returns and punt returns than any other National Football League player.

Injuries Can't Stop St. Louis Basketball

By United Press International
The injuries to Bob Pettit and Richie Guerin haven't been entirely bad for the St. Louis Hawks — they've given Coach Harry Gallatin a chance to test his bench strength and the test is proving positive.

The Hawks got fine scoring efforts from Zelmo Beaty, Charley Vaughn and Bill Bridges Wednesday night to down the New York Knickerbockers 117-103, and this trio has suddenly given the Hawks new hope for the future.

Beaty, a 6-foot-9 center, netted a pair of key baskets early in the fourth period to break open a close battle and lift the Hawks to a comfortable lead. He tallied 22 points in the contest while Vaughn and Bridges added 19 each. Jim Barnes and Len Chappell shared New York scoring honors with 20 points apiece.

The Hawks were unable to pick up any ground on the Los Angeles Lakers, however, as the Lakers scored a 126-120 overtime victory over the Detroit Pistons.

Detroit came from four points behind with only four seconds remaining to knot the score 111-111 in regulation time, but Jerry West and Elgin Baylor got the Lakers a quick lead in the overtime period and Los Angeles held it to win. West topped the Lakers with 39 points while player-coach Dave Debusschere was high for the Pistons with 31.

The Baltimore Bullets unleashed the NBA's highest point total of the season as they routed the Philadelphia 76ers 140-120. The Bullets broke the game open in the first period with 47 points and led by as many as 30 points on three occasions in the fourth period. Walt Belamy with 37 points and Bailey Howell with 30 paced the Baltimore attack. Paul Neumann led the 76ers with 21 points.

The Boston Celtics had some trouble with the San Francisco Warriors, but the Celts held on to squeak out a 107-106 victory for their seventh straight win. Eight Boston free throws in the final three minutes proved the difference in the game with Sam Jones converting five of the decisive charity tosses. Jones emerged Boston's high scorer with 32 points, outscoring big Wilt Chamberlain who netted 31 for the Warriors.

TV Sellout For Cleveland

NEW YORK (UPI) — The largest audience in the world ever to see or hear a National Football League championship game will be tuned in to Cleveland's Municipal Stadium on Dec. 27 for the title clash between the hometown Browns and the Baltimore Colts.

"The TV broadcast will reach 98.1 per cent of the television homes in the U. S. and the remainder in outlying areas will have radio coverage," NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced Wednesday.

The Columbia Broadcasting System will handle both the TV and the radio coverage of the championship game, which is expected to draw a live capacity audience of more than 80,000. In addition to the continental United States, the game will be broadcast in one form or both to Canada, Hawaii, Alaska and around the world.

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — Gil Hodges did a lot of thinking before he put through that call to Green Bay, Wisconsin.

"I wasn't sure how he'd take it," Hodges said. "He took it wonderfully."

The Washington manager was talking about the telephone call he made to welcome big Frank Howard to the Senators following the recent seven-player deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"Frank was very enthused about coming to us," Hodges said. "His attitude was excellent. We talked for awhile and he said, 'You know me, Gilly, I'll give you 100 per cent.'"

Hodges is sure the huge, 28-year-old slugger will, even though he threatened to quit baseball and reported late to the Dodgers last spring.

"I don't consider Frank a problem; I consider him an asset," said Hodges. "He told me he feels like he's going to have a good year and I feel the same way."

Hodges doesn't think he can transform Howard into Ty Cobb overnight.

"I'm no cure-all," he laughed, "but I do have a few ideas about Frank's hitting. The Dodgers left him on his own, so to speak. He's always had some trouble waiting on the ball. I haven't seen him in awhile because he's been in the other league, but I'm anxious to watch him at the plate and see how he reacts."

When Hodges gathers his Washington players for spring training two months from now, there will be 10 former Dodgers on his roster, including Howard. The Dodger organization always has liked Hodges since the days he played first base for them and it has been said they go out of their way to help them too. We gave them "They're not helping me because they like me," Gil laughed. "Don't forget we helped them too. We gave them players like Claude Osteen and John Kennedy."

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Sugar Bowl viewers on New Year's Day will see one of college football's wildest running backfields when Syracuse tackles Louisiana State University in New Orleans.

Halfback Floyd Little, fullback Jim Nance, and quarterback Walley Mahle head the lineup that carried Syracuse to the top nationally this season in ground gaining, and it is this type of grinding attack that Syracuse is expected to use as compared to LSU's more rounded.

best running combo in college. Little and Nance, perhaps the best running combo in college football since Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard played for Army 20 years ago, garnered 1,779 of Syracuse's 2,510 yards rushing this year, the most productive two-man total in Orange history.

Head coach Ben Schwartzwalder knows that LSU will be primed to stop Little and Nance, and this creates a problem.

Crimmins Quits

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI) — Bernie Crimmins, pre-war All-America lineman at Notre Dame, is stepping down from a football coaching career that has taken him to his alma mater and two Big Ten teams. Crimmins announced Wednesday he was resigning Jan. 1 as Purdue assistant coach to enter business in the Lafayette area.

Crimmins was a guard for the Irish in 1941 and returned there as assistant coach under Frank Leahy in 1946 following Navy service. He was named head coach at Indiana in 1952, returned to Notre Dame in 1957 as assistant to head coach Terry Brennan, and moved to Purdue in 1959.

ground, we'll just have to go in the air," said Schwartzwalder, in his 16th season at the Orange helm.

Syracuse has not been a passing team in years, and Mahle, a senior from Waterford, Pa., who has been effective as a runner in his three years as starting quarterback, is about as accurate in the air as a bent arrow, although he does have his good days. Mahle led the team in rushing last year and this season ranked third behind Nance and Little.

If Syracuse's ground game stalls, and Schwartzwalder admits this is a possibility against LSU, "We'll probably have to throw more on them."

This is where second-string quarterback Rich King of Randomville, N. Y., comes in, just as he has done effectively on most occasions all year.

King is the passer, but his services generally have not been required because of the success of the Orange ground game.

Schwartzwalder may solve the problem by moving Mahle to one of the halfback slots to take advantage of his running ability while at the same time playing King for most of the game at quarterback.

DEC. 15 AT 10:34 A.M. ANHEUSER-BUSCH ROLLED OUT ITS 10,000,000th BARREL OF BEER THIS YEAR!

Never before in history has a single brewer produced ten million barrels of beer in one year. To Anheuser-Busch, of course, this industry record is a tremendous source of satisfaction. But this record is far more than that. It is a clear indication of the successful cooperation of American management and labor... of the continued growth of America's prosperity... of the ability of good products to win ever-increasing acceptance in the marketplace.

Anheuser-Busch beer is produced for enjoyment and refreshment. But ten million barrels of beer produces other things: employment for thousands of people who work in our breweries... income for farmers and for folks who work in the paper, metal, plastic, and glass industries... and funds for federal and state taxes to improve schools, build roads and fight poverty.

This year alone, for example, the beers brewed by Anheuser-Busch will provide more than $90 million in federal taxes and more than $45 million in state taxes.

When that ten millionth barrel rolled off the production line, we stopped and drank a toast to the millions of people who enjoy our fine beers. Thanks... ten million of them!

How to Get Rich Via Taxpayers

We knew it. Someone was bound to do it. And that someone turned out to be E. Joseph Cossman, who has written a book entitled, "Get Up to $50,000 in Free Government Services Every Year."

Life with government help." 10. "Uncle Sam's bargain store. A treasure of information. . . from government publications. . .

- 1. "Uncle Sam as your business partner. Starting your own business with government help." 2. "Uncle Sam as your business adviser. Running your own business with government help."

There is only one bright note we can see in this particular book. If enough people "take advantage" of the government goodies as itemized by Cossman, the tax burden will become so high and prices will rise so astronomically, that the whole house of cards will come tumbling down and then we can start over.

Have Faith in Faith

What's wrong with faith — simple, old-fashioned faith? Is it illegal? Immoral? Fattening? Socially unacceptable? You might think so, the way so many of us are scoring it at a time when it was never needed more.

Without faith, there would be no religion. Or any happy family life, or pleasant business relations. Faith is the magic ingredient in resolving differences of opinion between people and between nations.

BERRY'S WORLD

... However, at this moment, the situation here in Viet Nam doesn't seem very complex at all!

Around the World

By ROBERT MORRIS Martyrs Ignored

Before Dr. Paul Carson went to his heroic death in Lumumba Square in far-off Stanleyville, he said that more people were dying in this century for witness to Christ than had died in the early centuries which are accepted as the age of martyrs.

Today, the forces of Communism, particularly in Asia and Africa, are slaughtering millions of human beings. In occupied China alone, more than 30 million sons of God have been executed.

Yet it is only now and then that this relentless trend can be brought to the senses of the world for scrutiny and even fleeting condemnation. Such a development occurred last week when some of our most powerful news media, propelled by the fact that their own correspondents were actually among the victims and spectators of the in-famous crimes, drew the curtains from Communist bestiality, this time in Africa.

What perspective! Gbenye and Gizenga, the cruel butchers of Stanleyville, up until a year ago were subsidized and supported by us as leaders of a coalition government that our State Department had moulded and for which the United Nations literally went to war.

Breznev, Mao and the whole Communist world cried "imperialism!" So did Sukarno, Ben Bella, Nasser, Nkrumah and the Soviet-oriented leaders of new African states that our State Department has shaped and subsidized over the last decade.

No minority, either, were the forces that called for our diplomatic scalp, and consigned us to political damnation. Their voices make up a clear majority in the councils of the world. U Thant, the chosen spokesman for the conscience of the world, uttered no significant word of censure, either for the unspeakable crimes or the non-sequiturs of the protesting nations.

Meanwhile, diplomats of the world met to keep the peace, and went about their business of selecting a new President of the UN General Assembly. While the blood was still running in Stanleyville and while missionary flesh was being digested in Lumumba Square, the champions of the four freedoms chose as their new President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana—the Ghana of Kwame Nkrumah who rates, perhaps, as the cruelest of the emerging despots. And the vote was unanimous.

Yet, even as men and women are dying for witness to Christ, and in the face of this travesty at the UN, leaders of our great educational institutions, our churches and business associations are strangely silent. Perhaps they know that the incipient indignation will die down once again, as it has died or been put down in the past. Perhaps they know, too, that those voices that become too indignant have not fared well in the past. Perhaps the real indignation is being reserved for those who react too strongly against the wantonness of the emerging new world.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Many Say 'Public Interest' But Who'll Define Phrase?

By SAM CAMPBELL

Howard Hughes owns 78 percent of the stock of Trans World Airlines. He borrowed some money and assigned control to persons designated by the leaders. Now according to what you read in the papers, he is prepared to pay what he owes, maybe he already has paid, and he wants his company back.

So far so good. But it happens that the TWA management doesn't want to surrender control of the airline, and it claims reasons for so doing. Again, so far so good.

Case In Court So the dispute winds up in court. It goes to the Court of Appeals. The court rules against Hughes.

For the third time, so far so good—at least, from the standpoint of the TWA managers if not from Hughes'. Why should you and I care? It's only a half billion or so. He has plenty more.

The bug in the saucer pertains to the basis for the appeals court's ruling. In a unanimous opinion, the court held—according to United Press International—that when the Civil Aeronautics Board had decided previously in favor of Hughes the board had failed to take into consideration the "public interest."

What Does It Mean? That phrase "public interest," precisely what does it mean? On the surface, it seems to mean this: that two parties come to grips in a court of law; each has a stake in the outcome; but in addition to the two parties in the case, there is an unnamed third party called "the public" which also has something to gain or something to lose in the lawsuit.

herewith challenged to define the phrase. If anyone, ANYONE, from Earl Warren on down to the rest of us peons, can define "public interest" I'll print his answer right here in this space free of charge. This is the first offer. Same will be renewed from time to time.

The Nation's Press

LET US BE FIRST Hartwell (Ga.) Sun

The South has been threatened with reprisal for its bolt from the solid Democratic column which has become almost a matter of proper course. I would hope that if President Johnson plans to level the federal fist on the South that he chose Georgia as his starting place. Nothing would do Georgia more good than to become a victim of a complete absence of federal handouts.

I would say that Georgia would continue to move forward. I would say that every county and municipality would still find a way to pave roads, build water and sewage systems, build schools and libraries. Perhaps if Georgia was off the "take," government intervention would cease in Georgia and the state could set an example to the nation.

What would we do should such a "catastrophe" occur? We would fall back on our resourcefulness, our ability, our brains and our hard work. We would stand tall among the states for we would in reality, be simply gaining our freedom.

GO WEST. . . (California Feature Service)

A number of federal employment service officials are delighted with the results of a "new" experiment in alleviating unemployment. The immediate cause of their joy is the apparent success of a project designed to move unemployed Appalachian coal miners out to Montana copper mines, where jobs are plentiful.

Since when is moving people to areas where there are greater opportunities for a better life "new"? We thought that was old stuff to the Pilgrim fathers, and to the later pioneers who moved the American empire along its western course to the golden promise of California.

WASHINGTON:

Mao Still Has Dislike For Soviets

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — I think the quarrel between the Soviet Union and Red China will get worse as time goes on, regardless of whatever patchwork is attempted by Brezhnev and Mao.

I base this belief on my experiences two decades ago when, as a U. S. Army liaison officer, I spent nine months in the caves at Yenan, North China, then headquarters for Mao Tse-tung and his top lieutenants.

Mao and his men were out of power and operating their top war-government headquarters from that backwater area of North China. Mao's forces had not yet shown evidence of ability to stand up to the Nationalist Chinese or the Japanese in sustained combat. They considered themselves lucky if they could go into battle with 15 rounds of ammunition per soldier.

Mao needed Soviet co-operation desperately. Mao's Chinese were out-and-out Marxist Communists. But even so, Mao made it clear that he lost no love on the rulers of Soviet Russia.

He left no doubt in anyone's mind that he believed he knew more about the organization and theory of communism than any of Russia's then-current leaders, including Stalin.

He considered himself the intellectual successor to Karl Marx. He tended to look down on Soviet concepts, Soviet leadership and Soviet foreign policy.

Trend to Liberalism Is Obvious

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A little-noted meeting that took place recently in Chicago offers an important gauge of change among the country's state legislators.

The gathering bore the lofty title of the 17th biennial General Assembly of the States. Under the wing of the Council of State Governments, state lawmakers and other legislative officials from the 50 states came together to consider common state problems and related matters.

Two years ago, assembled in the same city, a similar group of legislators approved three U.S. constitutional amendments which, if taken seriously, could have revolutionized the structure of American government.

One proposal would have established a Court of the Union, composed of the 50 state chief justices and rated superior to the U.S. Supreme Court in certain important federal-state matters.

A second would have greatly eased the process by which states could initiate amendments to the federal Constitution. This process presently is so cumbersome it is never used.

A third would have barred the federal courts from taking any hand in state legislative reapportionment.

Only five state legislatures finally approved the Court of the Union idea. But more than a dozen stamped their endorsement on the other propositions.

This December the General Assembly of the States, though loaded as before with arch-conservatives, avoided like the plague these particular proposals or any semblance to them.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK J. MARKEY

The nation must have a colossal headache because Americans spent $350 million for 16 billion aspirin tablets last year. And rather than consult physicians they spent another $33 million pain relievers for arthritis and rheumatism, and another $30 million on analgesics.

Uncle Sam is really scratching for silver. He's now willing to finance 75 per cent of the cost of exploration for the precious metal that goes into the making of our nickels, dimes, quarters, half-dollars and silver dollars.

Today's smile: Stories about Calvin Coolidge still evoke chuckles and we liked the one about Cal presiding over the Senate as vice-president when one irate Senator told another to go to Ha-ha.

The offended solon appealed to Cal, who casually picked up the rule book and said: "There's nothing in here that says you've got to go."

Selling the basis for all American business, is now causing management a few worries because of the inability of industry to attract young people who will make a career of being a salesman.

Thoughts while shaving: We wonder, when LBJ's anti-poverty program gets under way and thousands of youths are enrolled in the various projects, if they will be listed as gainfully employed. That would be one way of brightening the nation's job picture.

This did not mean they chose to ignore the controversial reapportionment issue. They passed a resolution on the subject, but its tone is positively amazing when set beside the famous amendments of 1962.

The 1964 resolution expressed support for a constitutional amendment which would permit the states, in redistricting, to consider factors other than population in the make-up of at least one house of a legislature—provided the voters of the state approve this arrangement in a referendum test.

Stock In Communications Satellite Company on Rise

POSITIVE REPORT

LONDON (UPI) — The International League for the Protection of Horses has a positive report for the latest full calendar year.

The league said only 5,800 horses were slaughtered in England and Wales last year for human consumption, compared with 16,720 in 1957.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The price of stock in the Communications Satellite Corp. (Comsat) has been going up and up, but at $20 a share (it reached a high of $70.75 Monday, the first time since the company's inception that investors get any return on their money, a company spokesman said today. Six months ago, when Comsat first went on sale to the public, the corporation may operate at a loss for several years after commencement of full system operations.

It is anticipated that the system will not be in full operation before the latter part of 1967. Since then, although Comsat has gone forward with its plans for setting up the world's first commercial system of communications satellites, nothing has happened to change this basic assessment of the earnings outlook, the spokesman said. Some of the more important developments since June include:

The first synthetic rubies were made in 1895.

neys to give them more time to prepare their case. Otepka is charged with giving secret personnel information to the Senate internal security subcommittee in defiance of regulations.
