KINGSMILL REFINERY WINS 4-YEAR RECORD

Employees of the Kingsmill plant of the Panhandle Refining company were awarded a silver cup for four year safety record at banquet held at Schneider hotel, Friday evening, April 16.

The Panhandle Refining company of Wichita Falls, Texas, one of the pioneer oil companies of the North Plains, has been operating the refinery at Kingsmill since March, 1932, and since then with a payroll of 16 men a total of 111,590 hours has been completed without a lost time accident.

Earl St. Clair, safety division manager, said that this was equivalent to one man working eight hours per day for 64 years.

W. F. Sims, general manager, awarded the cup and safety flag to R. W. Jacobs, local superintendent, as appreciation of the company for remarkable performance of the refinery personnel.

G. W. Reed, vice-president of the company, and C. Bortand, head of the transportation division, gave

RUSSIA HAS TROUBLE FINDING WAR STEEL

MOSCOW, April 17 (AP)—Soviet Russia's purchases of materials for warships ran into difficulties today because, she learned, some steel manufacturers are too busy filling domestic orders to bother with foreign ones.

Nikolai Bogomoloff, Soviet trade delegate to Great Britain, returned to Moscow with the news that British firms are "swamped" handling huge orders for that nation's rearmament program.

United States circles here heard that Amtorg, Russian trading corporation, was unable to renew a steel order with one company in the United States because of heavy domestic demands. The company was said to have offered a premium to be released from delivering a premium.

The Soviet commissariat of defense declined to comment on a state department announcement in Washington that two American firms had asked permission to fill Russian orders for battleship materials.

SIBLEY FLAYS 'SITDOWNS' IN PRESS SPEECH

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Harper Sibley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, vigorously opposed sit-down strikes in an address today before the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"The right to strike," Sibley declared, "so long as it does not endanger the public interest or impose upon others intolerable hardships, is fundamental. The right of the possession of property by its owners, free of trespassers, is equally fundamental."

Joseph P. Kennedy discussed his new duties as chairman of the maritime commission, emphasized the necessity for elevating standard of government service by attracting brains to government positions; He also asserted the country had arrived at a new phase in federal activities.

"The trend toward centralization in government has become a tide, the explanation of which is interwoven with the analysis of the kind of society we have developed," Kennedy said.

The editors in their final session also elected new officers and passed resolutions placing the society on

Shoplifter Takes 6 Pairs Overalls

When pursued by a merchant, from whose store you have taken six pairs of boys overalls without the quaint custom of paying for them, he is nonchalant.

That evidently was the theory of the shoplifter who Saturday night took six pairs of overalls from Levine's and then did walk, not run, to the nearest exit, and sauntered eastward to North Ballard, to be halted in front of the Adams hotel by Night Watchman Roy Albin and Harry Lipsky, Levine manager, who recovered the merchandise.

Lipsky saw the man take the merchandise from the store and started in pursuit. When apprehended, the shoplifter calmly claimed that he had "bought" the overalls.

PAMPANS LOSE 12 TO 4 GAME TO NEGRO NINE

With Manager Fred Brickell, Catcher Floyd Lisle and Second-baseman Al Summers out of the lineup because of injuries, the Pampans unnamed baseball nine lost a 12 to 4 game to the Homestead Grays, negro team, last night at Road Runner park.

Manager Brickell had to have a toenail removed yesterday afternoon and was unable to play. He was struck on the toe by a foul ball on Friday night. Lisle was out with a hip injury and Summers' broken nose kept him on the bench.

The Grays made 12 hits for 12 runs with sensational base running and stealing. The boys from Pennsylvania stole six bases and stretched out doublets, Leonard and Carlisle led the batting parade with three triples each, two singles and a double. Brown picked off a pair of doubles.

Lisle left up to Herschel McNabb of the Pampans to show the field in hitting. The little center-fielder paraded four out of four and walked once for a perfect night at the plate. One of his blows was a screaming double against the centerfield fence. Beason was next in line with a double and single.

McLary had a great day in the field with six assists and four putouts but at the plate he was unable to solve Kincannon's sidarm slants. McNabb pulled a spectacular play when he took a fly in center field and threw on a line to the plate to cut down Jackson for a double killing in the ninth.

Kincannon went the route for the Grays, allowing 10 hits, and fanning nine, but walking five. Barham started for the locals but was nipped for six runs and four walks in the first inning before being relieved by Braly who held the visitors to two runs and four hits in five innings. Mays finished the game and hurled two-hit ball until the ninth when the Grays got three runs on three hits, a walk and an error.

Pampa will meet the Phillips 66 Oilers at Whittenburg here next Sunday afternoon. By that time new material will be here.

Score by innings:
 Grays 704 100 03-12 12 0
 Pampa 100 300 00-4 10 5

INDIANS NOSE OUT OILERS
 OKLAHOMA CITY, April 17 (AP)—Oklahoma City's Indians squared accounts with the Tulsa Oilers tonight, pushing across a lone run in the seventh to break a 3 to 3 deadlock and beat the 1936 Texas League champions, 4 to 3.

The number of horses and mules on the farms of the United States continued to decline during 1936.

3RD CHILD OF FAMILY DIES OF SAME DISEASE

AMARILLO, Apr. 17 (AP)—Mary Edith Tidwell, 15, of Pampa, the third member of the same family to die of septic sore throat in less than six months, died in an Amarillo hospital at 8 o'clock tonight. Funeral services will be held in Pampa Monday.

Mary Edith is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Tidwell of 1037 Schneider street, long-time residents of Pampa; a sister, Mrs. Bessie Lee Howard; Billy Eugene Tidwell, Clyde Love Tidwell and Bobbie Earle Tidwell.

The two other members of the Tidwell family who died of the same disease were Roy Allen, 5, and Claude York, 6, twin of Clyde Love. Funeral arrangements will be in charge of Dueneck-Carmichael funeral home. Services will be held Monday afternoon at Harrah Methodist church.

Monks Arrested in Madrid Conspiracy

MADRID, Apr. 17 (AP)—Several men whom the Madrid defense junta asserted were monks financed by religious organizations in Italy were arrested here today and accused of conspiring with the Falangists to turn the city over to General Francisco Franco.

Agents of the junta's public security section made two raids. They seized a reputed "Fifth Column" outpost within signal distance of the insurgent lines on the city's outskirts and uncovered what they called the largest spy ring found in the capital since the war started. Shells fell along the Gran Via as insurgent artillery pounded the center of Madrid in one of the most severe bombardments in months. Explosives tore gaping new holes in buildings on the city's principal business streets. Quick estimates placed casualties at about a dozen killed and 60 wounded.

After a noon lull Madridenos, who have come almost to ignore the cannonading, were caught in another burst of missiles and dodged from doorway to doorway to find safety. On the siege front, however, there were no important changes. Government troops, communiques said, maintained their positions dominating the Manzanares river "corridor" between the main Franco forces in Casa de Campo park and 3,000 isolated insurgents in University City.

HEAVY BATTLE OUTSTANDING TRACK EVENT

DARROUZETT WINS BUT DECISION IS QUESTIONED

The Wheeler Mustang football squad, also coached by Bob Clark, won its first district football title last year.

Ford, Wheeler's giant field man, was high in individual scoring with three first places for a total of 15 points.

The relay was the outstanding feature of the meet. It was won by Darrouzett with Pampa two yards back.

No records were broken on the wind-swept track. The old mark, 2:49.4, was the shot put.

Final standing of competing schools was: Wheeler, 25 1/2; Pampa, 17 1/2; Follett, 17; Darrouzett, 17; Mobette, 17; Miami, 11; Gruver, 8; Booker, 7; Spearman, 6; Lella Lake, 5; Berger, 5; Clarendon, 5; Stinnett, 5; Shamrock, 3; Briscoe, 3; LEFors, 2.

The summary of events: 100-yard dash—Bally, Mobette; Patterson, Mobette, Duke, Darrouzett; Coley, Spearman. Time 10.3 seconds.

Major League Season Will Open On Monday, Tuesday

By ALAN GOULD. NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The familiar sound of the drum beats and the old war cry of the clans and the crowd, draws closer for 1937 in the major panorama of American sports.

Baseball's big leagues, hopeful of a favorable nod from the weather gods and profitable results from this spring's extraordinary buildup, start the championship season Monday and Tuesday.

Notwithstanding some concession to modern times, with the American league this year following the National league's example in permitting night games, tradition still holds sway in America's national game.

The playing trend is toward the "good old days" of pitching battles. President Roosevelt will throw out the first ball Monday for the American league's season opener in Washington.

Meantime, the Boston Bees and the Philadelphia Nationals will celebrate patriot's day by playing two games in Boston. This novelty will be followed on Tuesday by a national game, and rounding out the getaway festivities.

Yanks vs. Sigs. If there's a fair break in the weather, close to 250,000 fans may witness the double barrelled openings. The world champion Yankees are starting in Washington on Tuesday in their home ballpark.

Marking off the customary percentage for "breaks" or "form reversals," which have become the rule rather than the exception in baseball in recent years, our eagle-eyed experts look forward to five-club races in each league.

There is one striking difference to be noted, however, after exhaustive study of reports from the spring training fronts as well as expressed views in the Associated Press poll.

The newspaper railbirds believe the National league's dog-fight will, as formerly, involve the champion. They figure the super-heated struggle in the American league will be strictly confined to second place.

Despite the bad breaks that have hit them prior to the start of the season and which actually may be warning signals of disaster ahead—including holdout trouble climaxed by Charley Ruffing, the club's only pitcher, who pitched in 1936.

On the National league side, the St. Louis Cardinals got the celebrated "Gas House Gang" in a field embracing not only the astute equipment well organized Giants, but the revamped Chicago Cubs.

TEXAN HOLDS SPOTLIGHT IN KANSAS MEET

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 17 (AP)—A national intercollegiate record was shattered, four other meet records were broken, the great Glenn Cunningham met defeat at his pet distance, and the University of Indiana ran a hog wild in the relay events as midwestern and southwestern track and field acts wrote another vivid chapter in Kansas relay history today.

A half length behind, after leading all the way, was Hee fly, the Three D's stock farm's Kentucky derby hope. Mrs. V. Wyse's East Port finished in the show spot two lengths back of the winner.

The winner's time of 1:50.4-5 for the mile and an eighth, was only one-fifth of a second slower than the track record established by Navanoid last fall in the Waggoner memorial handicap.

Ported to the outside of the barrier by its usual fractious behaviour, Hee fly, with Jockey George Woolf up, broke away fast and grabbed a two length lead before the field of eight rounded the first turn.

Not until he headed into the stretch did Mars Shield, the Milky-way's only contender, make its great bid. It moved past Eastport, challenged Hee fly, and came down to the last sixteenth neck-and-neck with the Texas prize.

With Robertson bearing down, the filly pulled away and won going away. It paid $6.70, $3.50 and $2.90. Hee fly returned $3.20 and $2.80 and Eastport's show price was $3.30.

MARS SHIELD BEATS HEELFLY TO WIN $15,000 TEXAS DERBY

ARLINGTON DOWNS, April 17 (AP)—Mars Shield, best Milky Ways farm's filly, responded to brilliant urging in the stretch by Jockey Alfred Robertson to win the $15,000 Texas derby before 25,000 fans here today.

Negro League Champs Beat Pampans In 7 to 2 Battle

Power at the plate, sensational base running and a sparkling defense combined to give the Homestead Grays of Pennsylvania, negro National League champions, a 7 to 2 victory over Pampa Friday night at Road Runner park.

A home run by Brown, a pitcher who patrols the outfield when not on the mound, with two mates on base in the first inning sent the Grays into a lead.

Although picked for nine hits, Harvey Hutton hurled good ball for six innings. Carl Stewart relieved and allowed four hits. Hutton fanned three.

Parker, a giant fastballer, went the distance for the Grays. He allowed only six hits but walked six. With the bases full in the fourth, a Beason to Sain to Cox double pulled the locals out of a hole.

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Weary of Wisconsin's north woods, James J. Braddock returned to Chicago today to await selection for a permanent training camp for his scheduled titular battle with Joe Louis here in June.

The world's heavyweight champion made hurried arrangements to do road work and gymnastic chores pending arrival of his manager, Joe Gould, from New York, Tuesday.

Gould favors Golfer club, 60 miles from Chicago. Braddock plans to start road work tomorrow, and figures on starting his gymnastic routine Monday.

EAST TEXAS LOOP TO OPEN ON WEDNESDAY

KILGORE, April 17 (AP)—The East Texas baseball league, scattered in oil and piney woods cities from Texarkana to Palestine, was ready today for the opening Wednesday of the 1937 season.

Opening games are scheduled as follows: Hedderson at Kilgore; Marshall at Texarkana; Longview at Tyler and Jacksonville at Palestine.

Managers of the Class C circuit, from 24-year old Tommy Robello at Jacksonville to veteran Alabama Jones at Marshall, were generally optimistic for a good year.

WHO'S OUT FRONT? MAYBE you like to amble when you travel. Maybe you like to cover ground and get there now. Either way, this summer it'll be good to know you can take the lead if you want it—and that's the certain knowledge that's yours if you travel in this bellwether Buick car!

Who's out front for power this year? It's Buick again—put there by its great-powered valve-in-head straight-eight engine, ablest engine of its size anywhere in the world. Who's out front for steady restful going? It's Buick again—with its close-to-the-pavement balance, its built-in "road sense" and stability, its swayless even-keeled sailing even on the sharp turns. Who's out front for thrift with thrilling pace? It's Buick again—here's a carburetor patterned after airplane practice that thriftily gets the most out of gas—from valve-port to tail-pipe, this car's engineered to give you more power from each unit of fuel!

Who's out front for style? Your own excited eye tells you—it's Buick again. And when it comes to stand-out value, you've only got to match this great eight with the others to see why Buick's handsome nose is the place to put your money!

Who's out front? You will be this summer if you step in to see the nearest Buick dealer now and get a first-hand eye of this great car. It's smart to get your order in early—then you'll surely be out front behind a Buick wheel when the first warm day comes.

ROAD WORKERS TO ARGUE FOR HIGHWAY 209

Intent on getting state aid for the construction of a highway connecting Pampa, Borger, and Dumas, and the designation of the Stinnett-Dumas road as a part of that highway a group of citizens representing Gray, Carson, Moore, and Hutchinson counties, will appear tomorrow before the Texas Highway commission in Austin.

The group will include: J. M. Collins, County Judge; Sherman White, Reno Stinson, ECD Secretary; Garnet Reeves, of Pampa; Judge J. C. Jackson and two Carson county commissioners, Panhandle; Judge Noel McDade and two Moore county commissioners, Dumas; Judge Norman Coffey, Stinnett; Homer Pruitt, Borger chamber of commerce secretary; Fritz Thompson, Borger, and Cy Clayton, Borger.

Saturday, it was announced that Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the Texas Highway commission, and Harry Hines, commissioner, would hold an all-Panhandle meeting in Amarillo on Thursday, May 6. Chairman Bobbitt was invited to come to Pampa when the West Texas County Judges met at Lubbock, on March 19.

A night banquet, to which county officials of the Panhandle-Plains will be invited, followed by a tour the next day of this area, discussion of road plans that are sponsored by the various counties, is the tentative program of the visit of Chairman Bobbitt and Commissioner Hines.

In the latter role she learned to build fences, ride after stock, grease windmills, mark and brand stock, and do other ranch chores, but she says it has been a

PLAINVIEW DAIRY SHOW TO BEGIN ON THURSDAY

PLAINVIEW, April 17 (AP)—Homecoming plans are complete for the tenth annual Panhandle Plains Dairy show here April 21 and 24 when pioneers in the movement to promote development and dairying in this section will be honored.

Special invitations have been sent charter members of the Dairy show association formed in December, 1927, and the response indicates most of them will be present.

Improved crop and range conditions in West Texas this year, and a high interest among exhibitors appear to guarantee especially well-fitted animals. Featuring education exhibits and demonstrations, the 1937 show is designed to appeal to the individual as well as the commercial dairyman.

Cash awards totaling $2,500 will be offered exhibitors in the seven departments. Additional premiums are available for the dairy products department designed particularly for club women and girls in the territory.

More than 300 entries in the Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein-Friesian, and milking shorthorn divisions of the dairy cattle class are expected.

SOONER EXECUTIONER SCOFFS AT 'HUMANIZING'

McALESTER, Okla., Apr. 17 (AP)—Rick Owen, grizzled Oklahoma penitentiary executioner, who has sent 54 men to their deaths, scoffed today at the idea of sparing the feelings of prison guards by "humanizing" executions, declaring "It never bothered me."

Commenting on a Cook county, Ill., method of "humanizing" executions, the executioner declared he couldn't understand why the feelings of the guards has to be protected.

"An execution is just another job of work for the right man," he said, "because somebody has to do it anyway. If it bothers a man he has no right on the job."

With four exceptions, Owens has performed every execution in Oklahoma since statehood, in 1907, and was present when those four prisoners were put to death.

HEPBURN ASKS WORKERS TO FORGET U. S. UNION

TORONTO, Ont., Apr. 17 (AP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn urged 3,700 General Motors strikers at Oshawa, Ont., tonight to forget about the United Automobile Workers of America and to send a workers' committee to his office to make peace with the company.

This message to the workers, who walked out April 9 when the company refused to recognize the John L. Lewis union as their collective bargaining agent, followed the collapse of Hepburn's second effort to arrange a settlement between the company and union officials.

Hepburn blamed the failure of his conciliation efforts on Homer Martin, U. S. W. president, and Hugh Thompson, union organizer in charge of the strike, alleging a "straight doublecross."

"I have declared in no uncertain terms that there is no room in this country for John L. Lewis' hirelings," Hepburn told reporters. "I am calling upon the workers to end this economic loss by organizing and sending to this office men who truly represent them."

Marton, who remained at Oshawa, sent two Canadians to represent the union at today's conference. They were C. H. Millar, president of the Oshawa local, and J. L. Co-

APPROPRIATION BILLS WILL ENGAGE SOLONS

AUSTIN, Apr. 17 (AP)—All major appropriation bills probably will be ready for consideration by the Legislature next week and with those proposing new revenue, now resting in the Senate, will form the chief business before the law-makers.

In the house, the judiciary appropriation bill has been reported from committee, and the education, departmental and eleemosynary measures, as well as the rural aid, are in sub-committees which have about completed their work. All except the education and rural aid bills have been reported in the Senate.

It is the view of the chairman of both house and Senate committees which prepared the bills, Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown and Senator John S. Redditt of Lufkin, that no serious controversies are involved, that the bills are reasonable and that there is no good excuse for failure to act on them in the remaining three weeks or so of the session.

There has been talk that the appropriation bills might be left over for a special session, to be called immediately after adjournment of this one, but to date most persons have not taken it seriously. Graves and Redditt expressed opinion there is ample time to act on the approriation bills, which ordinarily are passed in the last few days of a session.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. McCarty have moved from the Humble camp near here to Houston, and are at the satin stripes in various bright shades. The maid-of-honor gets white starched chiffon with graduated lime green stripes. The maids' gowns are striped in bright pink, French blue, peach, yellow and so on.

Flowers for the bride and her attendants are chosen as carefully as gowns and accessories. The type of blossoms, colors and method of arrangement make or break the finished picture. And every bride should think of her procession and the group around the altar as a painting, with every detail perfect.

Another lovely wedding gown, also in the Leonora Ormsby collection, is of white mousseline de soie with low neckline, puff sleeves, voluminous skirt, tiny buttons down the front. It is trimmed at hemline and décolleté with 60 yards of hand-rolled ruffling. Maids' dresses in this group are in the pastel tones of matching material, with plain hemlines and ruffling around the necks. The bride carries a sheath of white butterfly orchids, the attendants small sheaths of spring blossoms in light colors.

Among the lovely sheath-like gowns, minus exaggerated fullness at hemlines, is a quaint, long-sleeved model with a front flounce which ends in a train. It comes in creamy satin and is worn with a hip-length veil.

HEEL CONTRAST
NEW YORK (AP)—Even heels are reflecting the 1937 tendency for color contrast. Cherry-red heels accent shoes of navy blue kid. They match a red purse carried with a navy blue coat. The latter is worn over a cherry-red print dress. Red hand-stitching accents the navy blue gloves worn with the outfit.

The first impression of the country—one that does not wear off—is that of magnificent confusion. It is difficult for the geologist to visualize the plan before the wreck destroyed it, and he is constantly having to suppose and to admit that there are gaps in his knowledge. The biologist can help him a little but the historian has less chance than either to assist in the restoration. The best he can do is to attempt a generalized picture of the place, much simplified, and with the full knowledge that there are exceptions to every statement he makes.

Dr. Webb says the Rio Grande and Southern Colorado are on the west side of the Rockies. The natural thing for the Rio Grande was to flow westward, but instead it turned southward and for 700 miles followed the western base of the mountain chain.

DR. WEBB STATES BIG BEND IS LIKE GREAT BRICK AND STONE CITY—WRECKED BY EARTHQUAKE

ALPINE, April 17 (AP)—The physiographic order of the Big Bend, says Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, consulting geologist of the national park service, "is somewhat like the order of a great city built of stone and brick—wrecked by an earthquake."

Dr. Webb, reviewing the background of the proposed Big Bend national park, says it was this wreck that made the river bend in such an unusual way.

"The Spaniards called it the Rio Bravo del Norte, but we call it the Rio Grande. We might call it the patient river of the south, for by its patience it did something no other western stream has done: It made its way eastward across, or through, the Rocky mountains. How many million years it took only the geologist can guess, and his time approximation is such that only an astronomer can comprehend. To understand the Big Bend one must keep in mind that the river came through the mountains."

Dr. Webb says order perhaps prevailed once in the Big Bend, "but some mighty force wrecked the place, shook it up, and set it afire. Evidence that all this happened exists on every hand, making of the land the finest example of earth-wreckage in Texas. The result is that the Big Bend is not only isolated from the outside world, but from within. Though the land has been known for centuries, and by the Texans long enough for men to have grown old there, it is doubtful if any one man—cattlemen, ranger, game warden, missionary or bandit—has seen it all, explored its canyons, climbed its mountains, found its caves and all its hidden vegas. If anyone has done this, the experience left him inarticulate, for no man has proclaimed publicly he has seen the whole country."

"The first impression of the country—one that does not wear off—is that of magnificent confusion. It is difficult for the geologist to visualize the plan before the wreck destroyed it, and he is constantly having to suppose and to admit that there are gaps in his knowledge. The biologist can help him a little but the historian has less chance than either to assist in the restoration. The best he can do is to attempt a generalized picture of the place, much simplified, and with the full knowledge that there are exceptions to every statement he makes."

"To say the mountain merely 'cracked' open to let the river thru makes what happened obviously too simple. It explains that the river got through but does not explain the interior condition of the Big Bend country. The mountain not only 'cracked' open but a link more than 15 miles in width crashed to a lower level, making not a crack that would have been a canyon of magnificent proportions, but a fallen block."

"We do not know what set off the blast. Lava, pushed up the earth turned over the hills, tumbling them into new valleys. The country within the fallen block is a jumbled mass of marine and lake deposit, of volcanic products, and of desert weathering. In the debris have been found bones of dinosaur, giant turtles, huge oysters, and petrified trees, indicating that forests and extinct forms of animal life once abounded."

The Big Bend, Dr. Webb says, is the geologist's paradise and despair because he finds on the surface such a variety of formations he can hardly classify, much less explain how they came there.

TOM ROSE TO BE HOST AT YEARLY PARTY

An invitation buffet supper and jamboree party, honoring independent garagemen, fleet users and others engaged in the automobile business in this vicinity will be given by Tom Rose, at City Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday evening.

This party will mark the Third Annual "Get-To-Gether" of the many wholesale customers of Tom Rose, and a most interesting program has been arranged for the entertainment of guests. A buffet supper will start the evening's festivities, followed by a motion picture showing scenes of Yellowstone National Park and Glacier National Park. A brief talk will be made by Mr. Rose, and immediately following will be presented twelve acts of vaudeville, featuring Kathryn Duffy's Review, brought to Pampa especially for the evening. In the review are 15 girls from Miss Duffy's Studios, all accomplished singers and entertainers, five principals presenting novelty features, and a seven piece girls' orchestra. Acts featured in the review are the very latest, direct from Hollywood.

Mr. Rose, in commenting upon this Third Annual Jamboree party, said: "I have been looking forward to this opportunity of greeting my many old and new friends in the wholesale trade and the members of their organizations in a good old fashioned 'get-to-gether.' We have planned a party that will be remembered for a long time to come."

Representatives of the Ford Motor Company's Parts and Accessories department at Oklahoma City will also be present as guests of Mr. Rose assisting in making the affair a most outstanding event.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones NEA Service, Inc.

Chapter XXII

What fearful order Ciznik had issued to the Oriental, she could only guess—and she was never really to know. For at that moment there was a terrific detonation out over the water. The Chinese stopped in his tracks, turned questioning to Johnny Ciznik. The latter's face had drained of its color.

"Linal!" he roared. "Get above!"

Standing there, Martha felt the swing of the ship as it altered its course. Bells tinkled somewhere below, and slowly the throb of the engines increased, vibrating the floor plates beneath her feet. She stood motionless, too frightened to realize that in their hurried exit, Ciznik and Linal had left the cabin door swinging wide. As the ship turned, the door swung heavily, clanged against the wall. It was then that Martha realized the danger she was in.

The passage was empty, but above her she could hear men shouting against the wind. Expecting every moment to run headlong into an adversary, Martha walked hurriedly toward the door, perhaps to hide herself during the confusion. Then, as she passed one of the doors which stretched along the passageway, she heard her name called clearly. And it was Betty's voice!

Martha stopped as one stunned. Almost to answer, she answered softly. "Yes... it's Martha."

"You can turn the latch from the outside," Betty said.

In one sudden movement Martha was inside the stateroom; and so great was her joy at finding Betty that she almost let the door swing tight again. "Wait!" Betty said, clutching the knob. She turned the lock so that the door would not close flush with the wall. "If you'd been in here as long as I have you would not miss a chance like this, sister!"

Martha wanted to cry for joy at the familiar, jocular tone. But Betty turned to her she saw in the blond girl's eyes the unmistakable effects of days of fear and weariness. For a long moment they held to each other there in the dimly lighted little cabin, saying nothing.

"When the ruckus started, I listened at the door—and heard you walking down the hall," Betty said. "I'd know that walk anywhere in the world."

"Tell me," Martha pleaded. "Are you—all right?"

Betty nodded. "Sure, I'm all right. Handsome Mr. Ciznik has been a little unpleasant once or twice, but I've managed him so far. Have you met Mr. Ciznik, by any chance?"

Martha rushed angrily. "Just now." She took Betty's arm. "Come on, let's get out of here."

"Easy, Mart. There's not a chance. I tried it once—but this boat seems to have a knack of getting away from the revenue cutters."

"Is that what all the excitement is?"

Betty nodded. "You heard a revenue cutter firing a warning to stop. After a— She stopped suddenly as the stateroom plunged into darkness. "There go the lights! Ciznik will run without lights, and keep away from their searchlight beam if he can."

"How—how long have you been on the boat?"

"Maybe a week. It seems more like a year—and it may be longer than a week for all I know. They don't want to let go of me, and they don't quite know what to do with me."

"But how did you get up into the Northwest? They told me at the California border that Speddon had driven through alone."

Betty smiled ruefully. "Oh, no! Little Orphan Annie was lying in the closed rumble seat—and Mr. Speddon's gun was pointed down between the cushions of the front seat with one hand while he handed the dumb officer his license with the other. It seems like we drove 100 miles before he let me back into the front!"

"What made him take you in the first place?"

"It was because of a crazy remark I made. You remember we went back to the service station to ask the attendant if he'd seen Neal? Well, just to make conversation I said I wasn't surprised to have Neal disappear, because the whole job looked suspicious and I wouldn't be surprised if we were working for runrunners or dope smugglers. Out of a million insane remarks—and I can make 'em all—I had to say that! Speddon wouldn't believe I was joking. He told me I knew too much and that in three days I'd be talking to Ciznik. He tore out of town like mad—and never stopped except for gas and oil and sandwiches."

"You didn't send me any telegrams then?"

"No. That was Speddon. I think he'd have gone back after you, but he was afraid. So he thought if he could keep you happy until you got to Seattle he'd be all right. I did manage to slip you a note—did you get it?"

Martha nodded. "At Portland."

"I don't suppose you could read much of it. I just had half a minute to scrawl it out and slip it to a gas station attendant. I was trying to warn you about Ciznik and Speddon. But . . . Betty's voice grew suspiciously husky in the darkness. "I don't suppose anything could have kept you from walking into this anyhow."

"I've found you safe, that's all that matters."

"Safe . . ." Betty repeated the word queerly. "Have you any idea what will happen to us if that government boat should overtake this one?"

"But they'll be too busy to think about us."

"I wish I could believe it," Betty answered. "But when Ciznik recalls what I don't suppose anything could have kept you from walking into this anyhow."

They fell silent at the sudden sound of heavy footfalls in the passageway. They grew nearer, went on down past the door.

"That's Ciznik!" Betty whispered. "Betty! Tell the police to his stateroom to find me! We've got to make a break for it. Maybe if we can get up on deck we'll have a chance."

They plunged out into the dark corridor, feeling their way along the wall. At the end they heard Ciznik's swift curses as he realized that Linal had left the door open for Martha's escape.

"Hurry!" Betty breathed desperately. "He'll turn a flashlight down the hall."

Martha ran on, collided painfully with iron rail of Ciznik's wrist, she started up. When they reached the deck they realized the reason for Ciznik's sudden concern for them.

Adobe Walls Scouts

TROOP 18

That Boy Scout troop 18, Hopkins, will be reorganized and should be one of the best troops in the Adobe Walls area was the opinion of Scout Executive Fred Roberts, following a meeting with a dozen men of the community, two of them former Eagle Scouts, at the Scout hut at Hopkins Friday night.

Interest shown by the men attending the meeting, and by Boy Scouts who, when the troop was active a year ago, traveled distances as much as 10 miles to attend troop meetings, was gratifying to Scout Executive Roberts, who has been asked to meet again this week with the Hopkins group to consider the troop's re-organization.

Troop re-organization is expected to be one of the topics on the program of the regular monthly meeting of area board. The board will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the city commissioners room.

Troop 80 will be in charge of the program of the Court of Honor to be held Monday night, April 26, in the high school auditorium. Four Scouts, all members of troop 80, will be advised of their Scout rank. They are Doyle Auda, Keaton Rhoades, Aubrey Green, and Roy Voyles.

In preparation for the Court, boards of review must complete their work by Monday night, and cards must be submitted Tuesday.

TROOP 21

Troop 21 had their regular meeting Thursday night, April 15, opened by bringing in the troop colors and saluting. Gilbert Morris was his tenderfoot badge, Raymond Hollingshead and Billy R. Price went before the board of review for second class rank.

Members present were as follows: Alvin Blankenburg, John Blankenburg, Bill Cunningham, Lawrence Flaherty, Raymond Hollingshead, John C. Karlin, Gilbert Morris, Russell Pickering, Billy R. Price, Alvin Reeves, Jack Sargent, R. T. Seeds, Bill Taylor, Scoutmaster T. G. Sturgeon, Assistant Scoutmaster Paul F. Blankenburg. Three troop committeemen were present, Mr. Parker, Mr. McClelland, John I. Bradley.

The boys got a pair of official Boy Scout pants from Jack Green, Slim Brandenburg, both of troop 19, LeFors.

The troop colors were retired by saluting, and the meeting closed. Visitors present were Jack Green, Slim Brandenburg, both of troop 19, LeFors.

KING WILL LOOK IN ON SERVANTS' PARTY.

LONDON (AP)—Servants of the king are invited to a party at Buckingham palace on coronation day to drink to their majesties' health.

Before changing from their state robes, after returning from Westminster Abbey, the king and queen have promised to talk down to the servants' wing and mingle with their guests.

There will be a celebration at Sandringham House, Norfolk, a few days later.

HAT VARIETY

NEW YORK (AP)—Here's a spring bonnet which can be worn with two frocks. It's a wide-brimmed bakou. When a cluster of dull orange cornflowers with brown centers is fastened to the front of the crown, the hat goes with a palesey print in green, brown and orange. A large pink rose may be substituted for the cornflowers—to transform the hat so that it may be worn with a rose afternoon dress. The stem of the rose is long enough to wind around the crown.

PAN AMERICAN EXPOSITION TO OPEN AT DALLAS ON JUNE 12

DALLAS, April 17.—With the opening of the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition here on June 12 for a run of 20 weeks the southwest becomes the playground of the Americas.

Revolving around the Pan American Casino, a huge air-conditioned theater where the stars of stage, screen and radio will be presented with an international revue eclipsing any other venture in the history of the American theater, the entertainment plan of the exposition, under the direction of George Marshall, Washington empresario, provides amusement of every type to suit the individual whims and fancies of each visitor.

Rudy Vallee, Ted Fio-Rito, Phil Harris, and Veloz and Yolanda, America's foremost dance team, have already been booked to appear at the Casino. Settings for the show will be created by Joe Mielziner, New York scene designer.

In the Symphony Shell, an open air theater seating more than 4,000 persons, light and comic operas, concerts and a symphony season will be presented from time to time.

The Villa Panamerica, or Pan American Village, by day will afford the visitor a chance to go abroad—at home where he can see the colorful events that go into daily life below the Rio Grande. By night in the bull ring gay fiestas, featuring celebrated entertainers from the capitals of the nations to the south, will vie strongly for entertainment seekers.

On the largest stage in the world a panorama drama presenting more than five centuries of conquest and advancement in the New World. "The Cavalcade of the Americas" will pass in review. Employing more than 300 actors, this spectacle will be one of the outstanding events of the exposition. An idea of the scale of the production can be gained by visualizing a stage large enough to accommodate a volcano and an entire Aztec city.

In addition to these outstanding amusement centers, the innumerable shows and attractions on the half-mile long midway make the Pan American exposition one of the greatest centers of entertainment this summer not only in the southwest but in the entire country.

LONDON (AP)—Admirals on horseback will be seen in King George VI's coronation procession.

This anomaly has roused criticism in the royal navy on the grounds that mounted admirals will look ridiculous.

The Sea Lords of the Admiralty never have participated in coronations and only are doing so on this occasion because members of the air council have arranged to.

Defenders of the sea lords say there is no break with tradition in admirals riding horseback. They point out that the king's naval aides habitually ride when they accompany his majesty at functions of state.

Successful seeding of perennial pasture grasses requires the preparation of a fine, firm seedbed.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

REDUCING.

Soviet planes, French cash and English encouragement have definitely defeated the Italian troops and German tanks, according to London contacts.

Anticipating an early end of the Spanish civil war, British speculators view the outlook for commodities and commodity securities as obscure. These interests feel it is now needless for consumers and manufacturers to hold large amounts of raw material in storage. Reduction of such inventory positions is anticipated.

POSSIBLE.

Long-pull security interests are cautious towards automobile shares. This because of Henry Ford's attitude towards the C. I. O. Having no responsibility to outside stockholders he is not concerned with profits. That is why he can afford to increase his pay scale.

Of major importance, too, is the belief that he will announce either the maintenance of current price schedules for the balance of this year or a slight price reduction. Such a step would prevent other manufacturers increasing prices to offset higher raw material and labor costs.

BUYING.

Farm equipment manufacturers expect 1937 will be a banner sales year. The volume is expected to exceed that of 1929. This because farmers' income is larger, equipment on hand is below par, and planting this year will be greater than it has been for the past five years.

Based on this confidential trade knowledge there has been portfolio buying of Deere, Oliver Farm Equipment, International Harvester and Case Trashing.

DOUBT.

Fifteen of the largest New York city banks liquidated $394,873,000 of government securities during the first three months of this year. It followed the dumping of $219,233,000 during the last three-month period of 1936. Bankers say disposal of these holdings was to conform with the Federal Reserve Board order to increase reserve requirements.

Sentiment in investment circles is that government bond prices will continue off until the close of this month if the Federal Reserve doesn't rescind its order scheduled to take effect May 1. Those close to the board doubt whether Reserve officials will bend to the views of bond dealers.

SWITCHING.

Because of recent precarious price levels and low yields in the high-grade bond market institutional investors were driven into common shares. But with prices sharply lower and yields more attractive there's new interest evident on the part of these buyers. The decline also reduces the possibility of large principal losses. Investment houses report that two good-sized insurance companies are now switching from common stock holdings into the better grade of bond issues.

HIDES.

Hide trade insiders report that indications call for continued imports. The statistical position of the industry is expected to be aggravated late this month after the government auctions the last of 200,000 of the drought relief hides acquired in 1934.

EASY.

Despite the strikes which have already occurred in the rayon yarn field further labor trouble is a certainty. The CIO is active in the industry because of the latter's vulnerable position.

Rayon consumption is running ahead of production. Mills are booked to capacity. Margins of profits are high. That's why the CIO feels the rayon mills are the easiest to tackle before trying the cotton and woolen mills.

REPORTS ARE THAT:

First quarter food company financial reports will be unimpressive—they'll be good when compared with last year but not so good as expected. . . . United States Rubber

OPERATOR OF MINE ADMITS LAW VIOLATION

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The manager of one of the largest coal companies in Harlan county, Ky., informed Senate investigators today he had been violating the National Labor Relations act ever since its passage.

The official, Pearl Bassham of the Harlan-Willins Coal Co., testifying before the LaFollette civil liberties committee, added, however, that he intended now to abandon that practice as a result of the Supreme Court's recent decisions upholding the act.

Ever since the company started operation, he said, it had required its employees to pledge themselves not to join any union or attempt to bargain collectively.

The Wagner act guarantees to workers the right of collective bargaining.

Bassham agreed with Committee Chairman LaFollette (Pro., Wis.) that the "yellow dog contracts" were a violation of the Labor Relations act.

Bassham said his lawyer, Daniel Boone-Smith—who is also commonwealth attorney for the county—had never called it to his attention. Bassham testified he paid about 20 per cent of his payroll in "company scrip," redeemable at face value only at "company stores" and a few other shops.

His wife owns a quarter-interest in such a store, he added, and receives annual dividends of 1701 per cent on her investment.

Earlier the Senate investigators received evidence that Sheriff Theodore Middleton of Harlan county had made a similar profit from his investment in a "company store."

The committee also received evidence that the high sheriff of the county had appointed a long list of law enforcement officers with criminal records.

Liquid lime sulphur, mixed in a ratio of 12½ ounces to a gallon of water, may be used as a dormant spray to prevent mildew and black spots on rose plants.

MILITANT IRON GUARD COWED IN COUP PLANS

BUCHAREST, April 17 (AP)--Premier George Taulescu's firm precautions against a possible Nazi coup tonight seemingly had cowed the militant Iron Guard, secret Rumanian fascist society, in what- ever scheme it might have had for gaining power.

The Iron Guardists, who have been banned as such, would like to have Rumania run by a dictatorship like Germany's. Their leader is General Zeki Cantacuzino, who after the ban formed a new party, which he says is legal, with himself as the president. It is called "All for the Fatherland."

This group, some thought, sought to take advantage--for its own purposes--of King Carol's order banishing his brother, Nicholas. Nicholas was banished because he would not give up his commoner wife. The Guardists said their new party was not given a part in the crown council which decreed Nicholas' banishment, although Rumanian law provides all recognized parties shall have a voice in the council.

Eighty-four per cent of the hog slaughter in Denmark is in cooperative packing plants.

Lovett Came To Panhandle With Buffalo Hunting Crew

By LULA MAE FARLEY

Sixty years ago this spring a buffalo hunting outfit came to Mobeetle. One of its members was Henry Lovett, a youth of 18 years. The buffalo was already extinct in the Panhandle; so the outfit disbanded, and its members had to shift for themselves.

Young Lovett got a job cutting cordwood for the company who had the contract to supply Ft. Elliott. The wood was cut on Washita and Red Deer Creek. Lovett was a good woodcutter in spite of his youth; so a burly woodsman chose him for his partner.

"I was very glad to get the job," Lovett said in an interview last week. "When one is stranded in a strange country, work of any kind looks good. I made pretty fair money for that day and time. I got $1.25 a cord, and could cut two cords a day. The wood was young."

In the fall Lovett went down on the Brazos river at Coleman City to hunt buffalo. By spring all the bison were gone and Lovett went back to his home in Parker county. In the spring of '79 he returned to Mobeetle and got a job with the contractors who were furnishing hay to Ft. Elliott. During that summer Lovett quit his hay mowing to take a job as guide to the tax assessor, who rode over a large part of the eastern Panhandle locating the scattered settlers. Often outlying ranches were discovered where the county officials had no idea anyone lived. That fall Lovett returned to Parker county.

Worked on Ranches
Lovett again came back to the Panhandle in the spring of '81. This time he worked on the OX ranch ten miles south of Childress. Later he worked on the JA ranch under Col. Charles Goodnight. In 1882 he came over to a ranch at White Deer and worked there until the spring of '84. Then he worked on the Long O ranch at the head of Salt Fork. That fall he went back to Parker county. In September 1885 Lovett married Fannie Long. In 1886 they came out to make their home in the Panhandle. They filed on the south half of Block B2 in Gray county, about 12 miles from where Pampa was later located. They filed on one-half section and paid $2 an acre with 5 per cent interest for forty years. Lovett built their house back in a bank with a boxing front and with cottonwood posts.

"It was the best house we ever lived in. Being dug back in the bank, it was warm in winter and cool in summer. It was a pretty place, too. We lived there 11 years."

On the wall of the living room of their present home is a large tinted picture of their first home in the Panhandle.

The Lovett herd was begun with 13 head of cattle and gradually built up. The cattle ran on the open ranges. Lovett had about 50 or 60 acres in cultivation where he raised such feed as kafir, cane and corn. The only fence on his land was around his field. Wire was very scarce in the new country. Part of the wire was given to him. It was tangled and had been taken from around lakes which were fenced to keep cattle from bogging down.

Lovett usually made good crops as the season was better than it is now. There was wind occasionally but no sand as very little of the land had been plowed.

Hideout Recalled
Neighbors were very few and far between. Henry Thut was their closest neighbor, and he lived three miles away. Smith and Gregg had the Z Bar ranch 7 miles away. Twelve miles on McClelland Creek were the Watsons, Charlie Shelton, George Owens, and the Parks. Mobeetle was the closest town. It was 25 miles away and the Lovetts went there only occasionally.

"When I first came out in '77 there was no Mobeetle. There was Hideout further down on the creek. There were no private homes. The few people living there lived in the back of their business houses. I believe Mrs. O'Loughlin was the only woman living there then. There was a hotel, saloons, etc. The houses were made of pickets and adobe. New Locke, now of Miami, is the only person now living that I can think of who was living there then."

I knew Temple Houston when he first came there."

Some years after Lovett established a home in Gray county, he built a home in Pampa. It was built where his present home is now and was one of the first houses built in Pampa. The original house has been added to from time to time. Lovett built it so he would have a place to stay when he came to Pampa on business he came which had 150 legal voter at the time. Lovett built it so he would have a place to stay when he came to Pampa on business he came which had 150 legal voter at the time.

The railroad came through in February, 1888. Tom Lane was the first section manager, Lovett stated.

"I helped organize Gray county. It was the only county organized which had 150 legal voters at the time of organization. It was organized out of debt and kept out for 10 years. I was elected as commissioner of my precinct. We received no salary, but did get $3 a day during court. I was allowed $30 a year for overseeing the road work. I was commissioner for three terms. I spent $72 of my own money above what I got from the county on the work. It was certainly a 'thank you' job. The other office that I held was when at one time I was tax assessor for Gray, Roberts, and Hutchinson counties which were attached to Roberts county for judicial purposes.

Ten years ago Lovett retired as rancher and moved to Pampa permanently. He leased his seven section ranch, and spends his time looking after his numerous business affairs. Although he is one of the longest time residents of the Panhandle, he does not live in the past but rather lives actively in the present.

Student Sit-Down Ends in Paddling
INDIANOLA, Okla., April 17 (AP)—High school students in this little southeastern Oklahoma town were back in their classes today after a threatened sit-down strike ended in paddlings for 40 boys.

Another form of punishment was to be given about 30 girls who participated with the boys in a parade in support of J. W. Meeks, school principal, whom the board failed to re-elect for next year. The students had announced a sit-down strike would be called after the parade.

T. J. McKnight, school superintendent, persuaded the students to return to classes, then called the boys one by one into his office, for an old-fashioned paddling.

In Iowa, from 1925 to 1934, flax gave higher acre returns than wheat, barley or oats.

MOVIE STARS' CUPID STILL GOING STRONG

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 17 (AP)—Cupid has taken a bad beating recently in Hollywood, but is still ahead in points.

Several marriages and romances went to pieces but the situation is not alarming, however.

A spring survey today into the realm of tender emotions showed that the John Barrymore-Elaine Barrie affair tops the entries on the debit side of the ledger.

The big bust-up occurred last New Year's eve when, after a short period of married life, Miss Barrie and her elderly husband quarreled at a night club.

She filed suit for divorce. There were rumors of reconciliation. Elaine said John was trying to win her back, but that she would have none of it. Barrymore hasn't talked.

As the matter stands today, there will be no reunion, Elaine declares.

For the second time within a year, Adrienne Ames obtained a divorce decree from Bruce Cabot recently. After their reconciliation attempt after the first decree was a flop.

Betty Compson, star of the silent screen, won a divorce from Irving Weinberg, theatrical agent, on testimony that he was cruel and went about with other women.

Outwardly, there were no hearts badly broken when Arline Judge got a Reno divorce from Wesley Ruggles, film director. Almost before the ink was dry on the decree, the petite producer was honeymooning with Dan Topping, sportsman.

But getting Cupid down for the count here is something else again. He rallied to score the following:

The marriage of Luise Rainer, Viennese actress, to Clifford Odets, scenarist.

Mary Astor, of diary fame, eloped to Yuma with Manuel Martinez del Campo, Mexican insurance salesman.

Myrna Loy married Arthur Hornblow, producer, and Gene Talbot took as his wife, Marguerite Ethel Cramer of New York society.

A notable reconciliation occurred between Mr. and Mrs. Stan Laurel after the dazed comedian enmeshed himself in marital difficulties.

There is no accurate measuring-stick for Hollywood romances in determining their depth and durability, yet these have reached the stage of definite engagements.

Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond are to be married in June. Janice Jarret has renounced her film career for Melvin Purvis, ex-department of justice agent and a wedding late this month.

The marriage day of Pickford and Charles (Buddy) Rogers is unset.

And many others, mentioned in print, but apt to be radically revised comedies.

The Lupe Velez-Johnny Weissmuller marriage is in a niche by itself. The idea the public is supposed to get is that they are happiest when fighting.

NO FATALITIES AT 'BUSIEST' INTERSECTION.

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—At the traffic intersection which Los Angeles claims is the busiest in the world there hasn't been a fatal accident in seven and a half years.

Robert L. Burns, president of the city council, estimates that 200,000-300,000 automobiles and 10,000,000 people have passed the intersection of Wilshire boulevard and Western avenue in that period, without a fatality.

SALVATION ARMY MINISTERS TO BODILY AND EVANGELICAL NEEDS

(The following article is one of a series written by Capt. Herman Lambrecht of the local Salvation Army post explaining that organization, its aims, methods and activities. This article deals with social service work.)

By Capt. HERMAN LAMBRECHT

The charitable and humanitarian work was started with a very definite purpose but without a definite program. It has developed in many different directions in response to human needs that have been discovered, and has not been restricted or limited by any preconceived or arbitrary plan. This explains its extraordinary variety and scope.

Social service had no part in the plan as at first conceived by the Founder. The original purpose was exclusively evangelical. The Salvationists were to take the Gospel to those who would not seek it in the churches. They were to invade the highways and byways and preach salvation, through Christian Grace, to the spiritually blind and the poor in heart. That was to be their one and only mission.

But it was not easy to talk spiritual salvation to people who were dazed and bewildered by acute physical need. That such people responded to the preaching with manifest eagerness made the task all the more perplexing. Their ears were attuned to the "voice crying in the wilderness"; but—what were they to do about it? The man without a job, emaciated through privation or dissipation; the girl facing motherhood out of wedlock, dismayed and alone; aged men and women without homes in which to spend their declining years; the youth, realizing the futility of indulgence, but puzzled as to which way to turn; the criminal, brooding in his cell; the widow, with her children vainly waging a losing battle against poverty and disease; the wayward, the degenerate, the irresponsible, the weak of will—all of these saw the light of hope in the message that was brought to them, but it seemed far off, intangible, beyond their reach. It was clear that in addition to the Gospel they needed material assistance and patient guidance from people who could understand their troubles.

It was in response to such need that the Army entered the realm of social service. Today, every corps, Religious exhortation, however, is not forced upon the beneficiaries, and no person is expected to change his religion if he already has one. His religion is expected to change him.

"The Salvation Army has carved out a place for itself in welfare work may justly be called unique. They have proven their value and have won for themselves public esteem."—Most Rev. John A. Duffy, Roman Catholic Bishop of Syracuse, N. Y.

"The care of the poor, the weak, the sick, and the afflicted was just as much the concern of the Salvation Army in times of prosperity as it is today in times of business depression."—Hon. Alfred E. Smith.
