Holiday Traffic Deaths Near Record

Texas, California Crashes Take 28

By United Press International
The Christmas holiday traffic death rate climbed at a record pace Saturday. Safety officials pleaded with motorists to slow down and live.

Icy, snowy highways in the nation's Midlands contributed to the death rate. Cold-weather fires, many of them sparked by over-taxed furnaces, brought Christmas tragedy to some homes.

A United Press International count at 10:30 p.m. CST showed 368 persons dead in traffic since the holiday's start at 6 p.m. Wednesday. The over-all holiday accidental death toll was 458. The breakdown:

Death Toll:
Traffic	368
Fire	41

Freeze Bites Panhandle As Temperatures Dip

While freezing weather moved into the Panhandle last night, the weatherman said it wouldn't last long and that it will be a little warmer today.

Although it was expected to hit the mid-teens early this morning, the forecasters predicted today's high would be in the 50s.

Temperatures behind the front Saturday dropped as much as 30-35 degrees—lower than on Christmas day.

The cold front was expected to move out of Pampa and the Panhandle area during today and send the mercury down at points farther south in Texas.

A killer tornado struck Georgia and parts of the flood-stricken Far West got more rain Saturday. Fog delayed planes at New York. Sub-freezing cold pushed South and East from the Great Plains.

Warnings of possible tornadoes were posted for parts of 11 states—Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina—through early evening.

A twister danced along a 40-mile path through central Georgia early in the day killing two persons and injuring at least a dozen more. In Milledgeville, Ga., the tornado swooped along Main Street, smashing some buildings and unroofing others, and toppling ancient oak trees.

One man was killed when the twister demolished a farm house near Gray, Ga. The other died when a house trailer was destroyed at Gray. Damage also was reported at Macon and Hopewell.

A half inch or more of rain fell in parts of flood-ravaged Washington, Oregon and northern California. However, the weather was clearing in California and Oregon authorities said it appeared the worst was over.

New York's La Guardia Airmooring for landings and out-bound flights were delayed up to an hour by fog. Delays of up to an hour by fog. Delays of up to an hour by fog. Delays of up to an hour by fog.

California and Texas topped the traffic death tally with 98 fatalities each. There were 26 in Michigan, 23 in New York state, 21 in Pennsylvania, 19 in Ohio, and 18 in both Georgia and Illinois.

Nine states and the District of Columbia got through the first half of the three-day holiday without a highway death. The states were Alaska, Connecticut, Hawaii, Idaho, Maine, Montana, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Washington.

A spokesman for the National Safety Council said at midday, "this is the worst record for a Christmas holiday we've ever had. We can only hope that in the remaining weekend the drivers will heed our warnings against speed and drinking."

During the first half of the holiday an average of seven Americans were killed in traffic every hour. The safety council had warned in advance that there might be between 550 and 650 traffic deaths before the holiday's end at midnight Sunday. On a similar, non-holiday weekend in December, the council said, the average traffic toll would be 450.

The record for traffic deaths over a three-day Christmas weekend is 609, set in 1955. The worst Christmas holiday was the four-day "black Christmas" weekend of 1956, when 706 persons were killed in traffic.

Pueblo Sheriff Deputizes 24

PUEBLO, Colo. (UPI)—Pueblo County Sheriff Robert J. Horvat said 24 citizens and given them a list of suspected gangsters to arrest if threats against law officers are carried out.

Horvat, 37, said his life, the lives of his six deputies and the lives of all their families had been threatened repeatedly in the past few days by members of the Mafia.

Talks Asked By Buddhists

SAIGON (UPI)—Buddhist leaders blamed the government Saturday for a Christmas night attack on their headquarters. But they appeared willing to negotiate their differences with Premier Tran Van Huong.

The anti-government Buddhists said a gang of thugs armed with iron bars attacked the national Buddhist center on Christmas night. They said five broke into the compound and tried to start a fire with bottles of gasoline. They said one monk and two or three laymen were injured.

The attack was reported as U.S. and Vietnamese officials clamped unprecedented security measures on Saigon to prevent a recurrence of the Christmas Eve bomb attack on a U.S. Army billet. The attack killed two Americans and wounded 107 Americans and Vietnamese.

Thousands Visit Relatives Behind Communist Wall

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berliners crossed the Communist wall Saturday for holiday visits in numbers greater than Friday's record Christmas Day throng.

By mid-afternoon, 92,000 persons had entered the Soviet sector of the city. The total on Christmas Day was about 85,000—a record for the one-week period the wall has been open.

The West Berliners came on foot and by car, undeterred by a heavy snowfall that softened the harsh lines of the concrete and barbed wire barrier.

Saturday's total was larger than Friday's because many West Berliners spent Christmas at home with their immediate families and devoted Saturday to visiting their East Berlin relatives. Both days are holidays in Germany.

Under the pass agreement with the Communists, only West Berliners with relatives in East Berlin may cross through the wall. They are not permitted to stay over night. Currency and customs controls are kept at a minimum.

FBI, Police Probe $50,000 Mink Holdup

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation, Saturday conferred with Chicago police about the $50,000 mink and sable fur pieces valued at $14,796 were taken from a closet.

Mrs. Horan, widow of Albert J. Horan, former alderman and powerful figure in city politics, told police that seven mink and sable fur pieces valued at $14,796 were taken from a closet.

Pampa Stores Crowded As Shoppers Seek Bargains and Start Exchanging Yule Gifts

Pampa stores were crowded Saturday to enable employees to enjoy a long weekend holiday. Offices of many private businesses also were closed.

Many shoppers were looking for after-Christmas bargains. Others were in the stores exchanging gifts to correct sizes and preferred colors.

Several merchants said they were experiencing almost as much store traffic as during the last couple of days before Christmas.

Federal, state, county and city offices remained closed Saturday.

Driver Named By President To Head VA

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson dipped into career ranks of government service Saturday to select William J. Driver—an employee of the Veterans Administration since 1946—as its new administrator.

In naming Driver to succeed John S. Gleason, resigning to return to banking in Chicago, Johnson said he would "fully consider" all career officials in his talent hunt for qualified persons to fill top vacancies.

The President also announced his intention to designate John E. Horne to succeed Joseph McMurray as chairman of the federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Driver, Horne and Gleason flew from Washington to the President's LBJ Ranch Saturday to meet with Johnson. They were accompanied by John Macy, chairman of the Civil Service Commission and chief of Johnson's search for new government talent.

The Texas White House, in announcing Driver's VA appointment, made much of the fact that this marks "the first time this key post... has been filled by a career official."

Johnson also met at his ranch with four aides—Appointments Secretary Jack Valenti, and special assistants Bill D. Moyers, Richard N. Goodwin, and Horace Busby.

Acting Press Secretary Malcolm Kilduff earlier had announced that those four were coming for several days to consult with Johnson on "a backlog of staff problems" as well as "various personnel problems" affecting the White House as apart from other agencies.

Water Rate Study Is Set

Consideration of reduced summer water rates during June, July and August will be among top items on the agenda for the City Commission at its final meeting of 1964 Tuesday morning.

City Commissioner L. P. Fort has asked that the commission consider his request for a reduction in summer rates during the hot months when more water is needed to condition lawns and flowers.

Other matters slated for consideration will include final reading of a zoning ordinance for property recently annexed by the city and first reading of an ordinance providing for three 30-minute parking meters in front of the Pampa News Stand, 114 N. Russell St. Meters at that point now provide two-hour parking.

Bids will be opened for the purchase of three four-door sedans to be used as police patrol cars.

Authorization also will be asked for the reinvestment of $100,000 of city funds in U.S. Treasury bills.

Johnson To Stay Out Of Senate Whip Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has in effect told all three major contenders he will not take sides in the nip-and-tuck fight for the post of Senate Democratic whip, informed Senate sources reported today.

The spirited contest among Sens. Russell B. Long, La., A. S. Mike Monroney, Okla., and John O. Pastore, R-I., enters the home stretch next week with each hoping for a nod from the White House.

But none has been forthcoming so far. And Johnson, UPI was informed, has told at least one contender that he will make no move that might be interpreted as favoring any one of the candidates.

The 68 Democrats in the new Senate will decide the issue by secret ballot at a party caucus on Jan. 4, shortly before the new 89th Congress convenes. The whip's post, the second in the party's Senate command, was left vacant when Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., was elected vice president.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., is virtually assured of re-election to his party post as is 78-year-old Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., Senate president pro tempore.

The Republicans are expected to go through the motions of nominating Sen. George D. Aiken, Vt., their senior member, to oppose Hayden. But the top-heavy 69-32 Democratic majority guarantees Hayden's re-election. The post traditionally goes to the senior member of the majority party.

Some backers of one candidate or another in the spirited whip fight have tried to float rumors that the White House favors their man. But nothing has openly materialized to back up their claims.

The President is known to have refused an appointment on an unrelated matter to one of the aspirants until after Jan. 4, lest the White House visit be interpreted as support in the whip's race. At the same time, he gave assurances that all candidates would receive the same treatment.

EXCHANGING — Pampans turned out in force Saturday to exchange Christmas presents which were the wrong size, color, broken or duplicated. The downtown business area and the shopping center was almost as crowded as before Christmas in the shopping rush. Phone Inventor Bell's Daughter Is Dead at 86

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Elsie May Bell Grosvenor, daughter of the inventor of the telephone and the world-traveling wife of the chairman of the National Geographic Society, died Saturday. She was 86.

Mrs. Grosvenor's death was attributed to heart disease and old age. Members of her family were at her bedside at their home, Wild Acres, Bethesda, Md. Funeral arrangements were incomplete, a family spokesman said.

Death occurred shortly after 3 p.m. CST. Alexander Graham Bell was confounding Queen Victoria in London in 1878 with his amazing telephone. Elsie May was born on May 8 during the visit.

Before she married Gilbert Grosvenor in 1900, she knew her way around the world.

Her first trip across the Atlantic was as an infant with her parents. At seven, she was a shipwreck victim when a steamer carrying her family ran aground off Newfoundland.

As a student, she studied in France and Italy, visited England and Norway and was presented to the Empress of Japan in Tokyo when she was 20. But her travels began in earnest after she married Grosvenor, the son of a history professor.

Grosvenor became editor of the National Geographic magazine, the Journal of the National Geographic Society of which his versatile father-in-law was president.

By horse, mule, camel, elephant, canoe, steamer, train, plane and finally helicopter, the couple journeyed beyond the frontiers of geography.

Their names were coupled with the magazine's successful formula of translating drab textbook geography into exciting articles and photographs which now take 4.5 million readers around the world in their living rooms.

No point was too distant for the Grosvenors. They peered into the "suicide crater" of Japan's Mt. Fuji, slept on the staircase of Tai Shan, China's holy mountain and dined with a warring Berber pasha in (See BELL, Page 3)

Rescue, Search Started in Flood Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A massive rescue and search operation moved forward under partially clearing skies in the flood shattered Far West Saturday and a ground party found a Coast Guard helicopter that disappeared on a mercy mission Tuesday night.

The Coast Guard said all occupants of the turboprop copter were dead. The craft, carried three crewmen and was also believed to have picked up two women and an infant girl from a flooded northern California home on its last flight.

Discovery of the copter 20 miles north of Eureka came as the full force of federal agencies, local law enforcement officers and hundreds of volunteers pressed efforts to aid thousands stranded and left homeless in the Christmas week disaster.

Five days of storms and floods in the Far West have claimed at least 31 lives. Seventeen died in Oregon, 11 in California, two in Idaho and one in Nevada. The figure included only the three crewmen aboard the downed helicopter.

Meanwhile, the worst appeared over in Portland, Ore., a city of 400,000 when the crest of the Columbia River, swollen by additional water from the Willamette River, merged with the Pacific Ocean tidewater at Astoria.

Some farmland flooding from dike seepage along the Oregon and Washington shores downstream from Portland was reported but damage was light.

In Humboldt County California, one of the areas hardest hit by the floods, 33 helicopters, 20 of them from the aircraft carrier USS Bennington, defied fog and showers in rescue and airlift operations.

The sheriff's office reported widespread looting in communities washed out by the floods.

Calling for Surrender of Germany Was Mistake---like

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
Nearly 22 years after the event, General Ike now says that President Franklin D. Roosevelt made a bad mistake when at Casablanca in 1943 he called for Germany's unconditional surrender.

Eisenhower said Hitler used FDR's demand to sustain the German people's will to fight. The general figured that many American casualties were suffered because FDR's boo boo prolonged the war. Here is how it came about.

FDR and Prime Minister Winston Churchill conferred Jan. 11-24, 1943, in Casablanca. A top present was French Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, African high commissioner of the French Vichy government, and Gen. Charles de Gaulle of the Free French.

The inside story of that conference shows that FDR's demand for Germany's unconditional surrender was little more than a careless flamboyance of speech. FDR had overwhelmed Churchill's objections and on Jan. 24, 1943 set up a Casablanca press conference. The press conference was a chancy idea. Churchill was resentful of the whole idea.

De Gaulle was angry because some recognition was being given Vichy's Giraud. Giraud was insulted by De Gaulle's obvious contempt.

FDR was concerned lest the ill temper of all concerned mar the occasion.

Some months later in September, 1943, FDR was host to a hush-hush White House briefing for a selected group of news reporters. On the afternoon of Sept. 15, I was one of a group of 20 reporters at the White House. FDR chose to tell us about the press conference and his demand for unconditional surrender. My typed notes of that White House briefing, now 21 years past, quote FDR like this:

"Churchill and I went to that press conference cold. No agreement on who would say what. We had been busy the preceding half hour or so trying to get De Gaulle and Giraud together—to shake hands. Reporters waiting.

"Winston and I had had no conversation before the conference and when we went out there, the reporters were waiting. Churchill asked me to lead off. I was telling the reporters what we had accomplished at Casablanca when I thought of Gran, and Lee at Appomattox. Lee asked for terms and Grant replied 'unconditional surrender.' I told that story and put emphasis on the unconditional surrender (by the Germans.) Churchill accepted it right there."

The Look of Surprise, A Smile And A Laugh Made It Christmas

By RON CROSS
Twas the Christmas I'll always remember.

This was the one they always talk about, the one where your children have that first Christmas where they really know what's going on.

This was the one I'll never forget, the joy in their faces, the look of surprise, the smile, the laugh, the "thanks daddy," or "boy, mama, this is great."

And this is the way it should be for without children the world is dead. No joy, no laughter, no tears.

On Christmas morning you could see it all.

They weren't quite old enough to know why we really celebrate Christmas. They still think it's just a time for getting all the things they've been wanting all year.

In another year or two they'll know the real meaning of Christmas. The Birth of Christ.

The oldest, 16 months, got up early Christmas day to see if that fellow with the white beard and jolly laugh had really stopped to see him.

He had.

His eyes opened wider at the sight of the electric train, they twinkled when he saw the rocking horse and he made a fast grab for the toy broom. Now he can really help mama clean the house.

And what's in that sock hung on the door?

It's filled with candy and apples, but, he wonders, how he can eat it without getting it all over the house?

Won't they ever get up so we can open the rest of the presents?

Next there was that sweet laughter at the sight of the music box. Now he had his own portable radio.

Why is mama crying over her present from daddy? Me, I like toys, they can have the clothes.

And baby brother, he's laughing; he usually cries, could he know this is Christmas, too?

But the joy and happiness was just beginning, we hadn't been to grandmother's house yet.

The prayer, pumpkin pie, the turkey with all the trimmings, all a part of Christmas.

Then they were asleep, the smiles lingered on their faces.

This was the Christmas I'll never forget.

Johnson Females Rest At Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — The females in the first family rested at the LBJ Ranch Saturday with Christmas now in the past and exciting inaugural activities in the future.

Lady Bird Johnson, who has a slight cold, enjoyed the day with her daughters, Luci, 17 and Lynda, 20, before they head back for Washington this weekend.

Lynda was slated to leave Saturday to attend a debutante party. Luci planned to get back to the White House Sunday to bone up for final exams which she will take earlier than her classmates so she can enjoy the fun of inaugural week in mid-January.

Salvation Army Fund Totals Over $3,000

Envoy H. C. Seago of the Salvation Army reported Saturday that the Army's annual Christmas fund appeal brought cash contributions in excess of $3,000.

Response to this year's appeal was about $400 more than last year, Envoy Seago said.

The Salvation Army officer said the money came mostly from downtown Christmas Fund stations where more than two dozen Pampans took their turns ringing the Salvation Army bell and appealing for contributions from Christmas shoppers and passersby.

Envoy Seago said he wanted the Salvation Army's thanks to go out to these persons who contributed their time:

Homer Gibson, B. R. Nuckols, E. C. Sidwell, Sam Begert, H. S. Hullender, Mrs. Lester Mason, J. E. Gunn, Rufe Jordan, J. C. Roberts, Lou Troja and Darrel Haas.

Also Laymon Stovall, Dorothy Tooley, D. V. Biggers, Irvin Cole, L. T. Clatterbaugh, L. Barrett, Jim Morris, D. V. Jameson, Wynne Veale, Joe Tooley, A. A. Schuneman, Stormy Jordan, Gordon Lyons.

Girls from the Chamber of Commerce, Curt Beck, Earl McConnell, E. E. (Pinky) Shultz and Calvin Whately, 1964 advisory board chairman.

Thanks also went to the news and advertising media for contributions of space and time.

"We especially want to thank the people of Pampa," Envoy Seago said, "who supported the Salvation Army with cash donations."

"We have found that Pampans never let the Salvation Army down when there is a job that needs to be done."

Envoy Seago said the Salvation Army still was distributing some Christmas baskets, clothing and toys among needy Pampans today.

"We will have a full report of our Christmas activities within the next few days," he said.

Firecrackers Scare Christmas Carpenters

RIPLY, Miss. (UPI) — The "Christmas carpenters," a group of white Northern college students spending the holidays here to rebuild a burned Negro church, claimed Saturday they were fired on by a white man in a passing car.

Sheriff Wayne Mauney said he investigated the report and found that some "Christmas firecrackers" had been shot off in the area, but reported he could find no evidence bullets had been fired.

Mauney said, however, that "there are some mighty good people who are getting upset" by the presence of the 25 college students and three professors, all from Oberlin College in Ohio.

A civil rights spokesman said the shots were fired from a car that sped past the wood-frame home of Negro Amos Rogers. The spokesman said firecrackers also were hurled at the house but neither the shots nor fireworks caused any damage.

Obituaries

John H. Jones Funeral services are scheduled for 2 p.m. tomorrow in the First Christian Church of Pampa for John H. Jones, 82-year-old resident of Pampa, who died Friday in Beaumont.

Mr. Jones was a retired employee of the Lynn Boyd Lumber Co., and was a resident of Pampa for 38 years.

He was a member of the First Christian Church and IOOF Lodge of Pampa No. 934.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Herman Gantz of

Jazz Concert Ends In Riot

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A jazz concert broke up in a riot early Saturday at the Hollywood Palladium which is the usually sedate scene of the weekly Lawrence Welk television show.

The plush Sunset Boulevard night spot was severely damaged by flying objects hurled by disgruntled jazz fans who became a howling mob when a show they paid $5.00 a head to see was not completed.

The riot began shortly after midnight when it was announced from the stage that several of the star performers would not appear because of a dispute over money with the concert's promoters.

North Africa. Mrs. Grosvenor's articles on Alaska and Africa appeared in the magazine. Women were important to geography, she often said.

"I can hardly remember being in a place where there were not things that a woman, rather than a man, would notice about the lives and ways of people," she once said.

The Grosvenors found time to have six children — five of them daughters — and that was difficult because Mrs. Grosvenor, when not abroad, was equally busy at home.

On the day before President Woodrow Wilson's inauguration in 1913, she took her six children along to ride down Pennsylvania Avenue in a mammoth women's suffrage demonstration.

Mrs. Grosvenor led Washington's drive to pressure milk producers into purifying their product in 1916.

She was a member and an officer in many clubs and public organizations.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Grosvenor is survived by her son, Melville Bell Grosvenor, president and editor of the society and magazine; and five daughters: Mrs. Gertrude Hubbard Gayley, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Mabel Harlakenden Grosvenor, Mrs. Lillian Jones, and Mrs. Elsie Alexandra Myers, Washington; and Mrs. Gloria Victoria Ottedahl, Vienna.

Also surviving are 30 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

GAS TAX BITE

NEW YORK (UPI) — During 1964 gasoline taxes in the United States will be collected at the rate of $12.540 a minute, according to the American Petroleum Institute. The total of paid by motorists is expected to hit $6.6 billion.

to 25 minutes for incoming and outgoing flights were reported at Kennedy airport. Overseas flights were diverted to points as far away as Bermuda.

Up to 4 inches of new snow covered the upper Midwest from the Missouri River to Lake Michigan.

Police Activity at Minimum Over Holiday Period

Pampa police have enjoyed one of the quietest Christmas periods in recent years as far as criminal activity is concerned, Police Chief Jim Conner said Saturday.

Theft of four hubcaps from a car owned by Othal Hicks, 1109 Varnon Drive was the only criminal report during the past three days.

Conner also said that pre-Christmas criminal activity over the city was at a minimum.

"Usually we have a rash of petty thefts and burglaries before Christmas," said Conner. "However, this year it has been at a minimum," he said.

Mrs. Myrtle Fay Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Fay, 83, of Kansas City, Mo., were held Saturday in St. James Catholic Church in Kansas City.

Mrs. Fay's only survivors are a granddaughter, Mrs. Ralph Ludwig, 2314 Mary Ellen, and great-grandchildren, Mark and Virginia Ludwig.

Dockers Strike Talks Start Monday

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — A federal go-between trying to get shippers and longshoremen to work out their differences in the Gulf Coast dock contract crisis will return to Galveston late Monday for more talks with both sides.

A joint session is scheduled for Tuesday.

Docks in the west Gulf district, covering from west of New Orleans to Brownsville, Tex., were generally idle Saturday, but that was considered holiday quiet rather than a walkout. In Houston, a rail strike kept most freight movement down.

Monday, when shippers again request longshore work gangs to work ships in port, some indication will be available as to how much dock walkout has occurred because of longshore men's dissatisfaction with contract talks.

The day before Christmas, shippers at Galveston and Houston got only a fraction of the work gangs they requested. Night work was at a virtual standstill.

Longshoremen in the west Gulf Coast district are operating without a contract since the Taft-Hartley cooling-off period expired Dec. 20 and Assistant Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds entered the situation.

Thank You

Our sincere thanks to the many fine people who visited our store during our Once-A-Year Clearance.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent
Noland Chandler, field representative of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association met recently with a small group of Gray County farmers to acquaint them with the work of the GSPA.

J. D. Skaggs, Elmer Balch, Robert Sailor, Artie Sailor and Paul Bowers were present.

The accomplishments of this organization is phenomenal. A group of farmers formed this organization in 1956 for the main purpose of seeking a more equitable position for milo with corn and other grains. All government feed grain programs were much more favorable to corn in level of price supports and other considerations. Unequitable tariffs and trade barriers by foreign nations against grain sorghums resulted in no markets for grain sorghum in foreign countries. Unequitable freight rates for grain sorghum restricted markets within the U. S.

In citing some of the accomplishments of the GSPA, Chandler pointed out that milo today had a much more favorable position with corn because many of the unequitable factors had been removed through the negotiations of officials of this organization.

However, one of the greatest accomplishments of this organization has been to develop markets both domestic and foreign. They have led the movement in getting commercial cattle feeding started in the Southern Plains. In 1956, there was little or no Milo shipped to foreign countries. Today over 102 bushel is exported annually. In 1956, there was a national production and use of about 204 million bushel. Today this figure has risen to 545 million bushel. In 1956 little or no milo was shipped to the California-Arizona cattle feeding markets. Today almost one-fourth of the entire nation's crop is shipped to these west coast feed lots.

The American Farm Bureau and partially all the other farm organizations have for many years advocated the development of foreign markets for all agricultural commodities. In our opinion, the GSPA has done the most outstanding job of selling their commodity in both the domestic and foreign markets of any of the Farm organizations.

The organization is supported through a voluntary elevator deduction of two pound of milo on each thousand pounds delivered by a producer.

There are only two herds of cattle that have not been scheduled for testing in the Pampa, Laketon, Grandview, Lefors Area. There are three small herds in the McLean vicinity that have not been tested. As soon as the last herd has been tested the County will gain a Modified certified brucellosis free status. In effect, this will permit the sale and movement of breeding stock without the expensive blood testing procedure presently required of counties not having a Brucellosis Free Status.

Gray County SCD News

By ROBERT R. BURNS

Grass seeding is one of the most significant conservation practices needed in Gray County. Old fields that are not economical to farm as cropland or old fields that have been infested by poor quality grasses have been successfully reseeded to high quality native grasses such as indiangrass, bluestem mixtures, switchgrass, and sideoats grama.

The main advantage of reseeding old fields is that a large quantity of high quality forage can be produced in a period of several years where as it might take 30 to 40 years or longer for mother nature to do the same job. Native grasses such as indian grass and bluestem mixtures produce more pounds of forage per acre and are higher in digestible nutrients than most of the grasses that frequently invade old fields. Grasses such as sand dropseed, silver bluestem, grassbur, and gummy lovegrass are low in production and palatability.

While these poorer grasses may give satisfactory results for a short period of the year, they do not produce satisfactorily over an entire grazing season. The better native grasses have proved to be more drought resistant and consistent producers in all seasons regardless of the rainfall. Harris King, J. D. Fish, Eben Warner, Truit Johnson, Sailor Brothers, and Cecil Seay are some of the Gray County ranchers and farmers that plan to do range seeding this spring.

Writers, Preachers Fail To Better Angel's Words

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
The first attempt to explain the meaning of Christmas was made by an angel of the Lord to a group of shepherds who were abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

The angel said:
"Fear not: For behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day... a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

Writers and preachers have been trying for 2,000 years to improve upon the herald angel's performance. They have not succeeded, and no one is ever likely to succeed for the angel got directly to the point of Christmas in remarkably few words.

Christmas is good news for ALL people. Not just for the shepherds, and not just for the people who lived in Palestine when Jesus Christ was born. "For unto YOU is born" that is the crux of the proclamation. And the "YOU" means you who are reading these words on Christmas, 1965, no less than the thunderstruck shepherds who first heard them on a hillside near Bethlehem. "For unto you is born THIS day..." The coming of Christ as Savior is not an event which happened once, long ago and far away. It is an eternally contemporary event.

This is what Phillips Brooks tried to emphasize in a Christmas carol that has been sung so often people have ceased really to hear the words:
"How silently, how silently,
"The wondrous gift is given!
"So God imparts to human hearts
"The blessings of His heaven.
"No ear may hear His coming,
"But in this world of sin,
"Where meek souls will receive Him, still
"The dear Christ enters in,
"Where children pure and happy
"Pray to the blessed child,
"Where misery cries out to Thee,
"Son of the mother mild,
"Where charity stands watching,
"And faith holds wide the door,
"The dark night wakes, the glory breaks,
"And Christmas comes once more."

Christmas is not a date. It is a discovery—the discovery that God loves you. This is nearly always a tremendously surprising discovery. No matter how often we may have heard or repeated the phrase, "God is love," most of us don't really believe it, deep down in our hearts, until we encounter Christ. The world we live in often seems indifferent or even hostile toward our hopes, so it is only natural to ask for some proof that God actually cares about us. Christ is the living proof that he does: That is the basic message of the Christian gospel.

But, how do you know it's true? The only way to find out is to test in your own life the claim that Christ is a "savior" who can free you from fear and hatred and self-pity and make it possible for you to live, as He put it, "more abundantly." After all, the shepherds had no way of knowing that the herald angel was leveling with them... until they saw for themselves.

But they were sufficiently excited by the extraordinary proclamation to take immediate steps to find out if it was fiction or fact.
"And they came with haste," St. Luke reports, "and found Mary and Joseph and the babe lying in a manger."

College Students Give Testimonies At Night Service

The worship service tonight at Central Baptist Church will feature Student Night at Christmas. Most of the service will be devoted to testimonies given by the college students who are home for the holidays. Cecil Biggers, Ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons, will bring the sermon of the evening.

The youth division will have a special program on December 3, to commemorate the passing of the old year. It will be a progressive Dinner and Watch Night Service combined.

Today's Service To Be Given by Rev. Ford Ellis

Today's service at the First Christian Church will be given by the Rev. Ford A. Ellis with special recognition given to the college students. The sermon topic will be, "A New Beginning." The scripture reading will be Revelation 21: 1-14.

The Choir will present "Gloria In Excelsis Deo." The Choir is directed by Miss Rosemary Lawlor accompanied by Mrs. John Gill at the organ.

The snack supper will be at 5:30 followed by the youth group meetings. The evening service will be at 7 p.m. with Max Presnell as speaker.

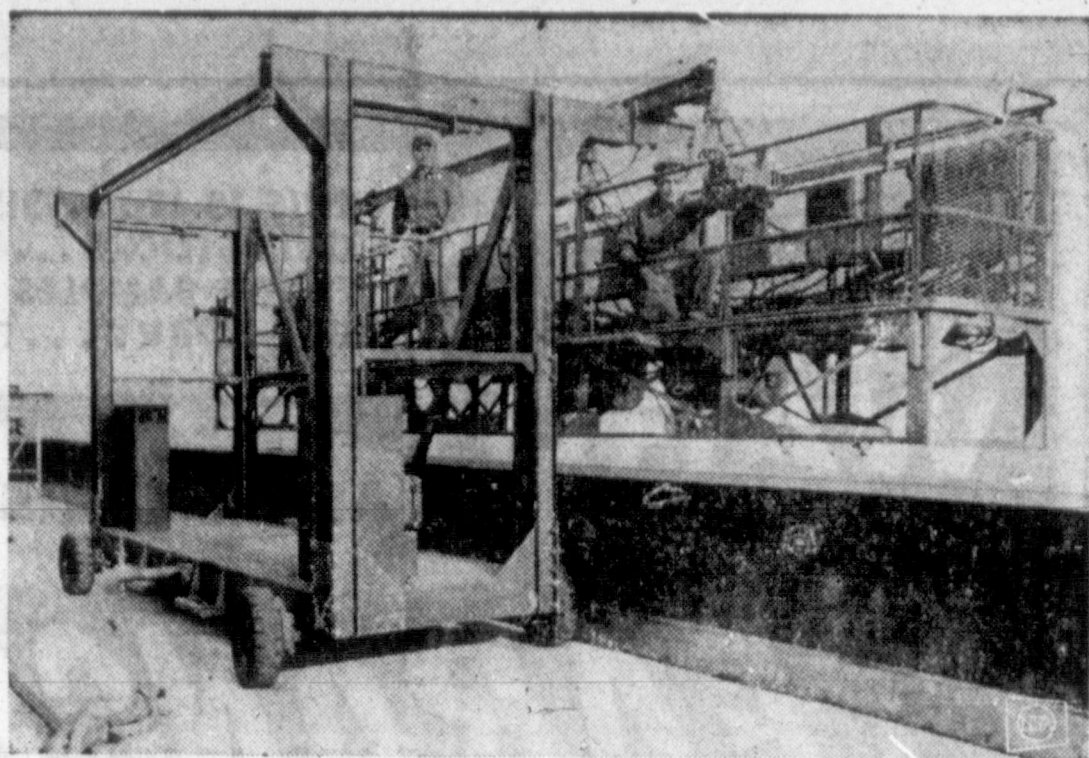

There will be a Candlelight Communion Service December 31 from 11:30 to 12 p.m., midnight begins twenty-four hour Prayer Vigil.

Dr. Carver Sets Sermon Topic for Sunday Services

Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church will be in the pulpit for the 11 o'clock morning worship today and will preach from the subject: "Great Searchings of Heart," with the text taken from Judges 5:16.

Sam Allen, interim minister of music, will present his son, Sam II, who will sing a tenor solo; and also sing in a trio composed of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Allen and Sam II. The trio will sing "In Times Like These." Miss Beryl Nash will be the guest organist and will play the offertory number, "Lullaby, You Little Tiny Child" by Gibbs.

An annual event directed by the college students, "Student Night at Christmas" will be presented tonight at the 5 o'clock evening worship. Participants will be Miss Beryl Nash, John Lynn Mitchell, Gordon Bayless, Charles Price, Barry Peterson, Mrs. Gwen Mitchell, Mark Craddock, Karen Moore, Cindy Erwin, Larry Hopp, Laymoine Clark, and Jim Scott.

IT'S EASIER FOR SPIDERS—You see these window washers hanging down on their mechanical webs washing the glass of these big modern buildings. This is the way the machinery works. In reality, the rig which runs down the sides of the buildings is part of a truck. The truck operates on its own roadway on the roof and the scaffolding, is like an elevator projecting from it. The truck is anchored at each position and the scaffolding descends, held by four stout wires. Truck pictured is on the roof of the new Erieview Plaza in Cleveland, Ohio. It boasts its own garage on the roof.

Miller Says He's Through

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. William E. Miller, the defeated Republican candidate for vice president, said today he will never run again for elective office.

The upstate New York congressman, who plans to return to his law practice, said he will serve the Republican party "in any capacity in which I am called upon, short of ever running for an elective office again."

Appearing as the guest on the radio interview "Report To The People," Miller said he will do all he can to broaden the base, unify, and strengthen the Republican party.

He said the chief weakness of the Republican party was that "we insist upon eating each other up."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Ford A. Ellis,
First Christian Church
"AND YOU WERE THERE"

"Let us now go even up to Bethlehem and see this which is come to pass, which the Lord has made known to us", said the shepherds to one another (and to all the world also.)

Bethlehem means 'the house of bread'. The Eternal Spirit here becomes involved with needy humanity and humanity becomes involved with Him. This little town has become the symbol of the world, the sphere where man dwells, labors and 'works out his own salvation'. On this mortal coil the Eternal Spirit comes to make the heart of man His habitat. Here at the manger-cradle came the workmen from the fields and the wise from their halls or learning. The shepherds came, saw, and returned to their labors 'praising and glorifying God for the things which they had heard and seen'. The wise men came, 'worshipped, opened their treasures and presented unto Him gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh'. Here the world came 'and you were there'.

Where else could a man catch so clear a glimpse of the Kingdom, as in the fresh, pure innocent eyes of a babe? Heaven in the form of a babe is being transferred to earth. How hard is the heart of a man who is not softened by the innocence of a babe? It is a humbling experience.

Jesus said, "Except you become as little children you shall not enter the Kingdom of Heaven". Something has happened to the living soul. Through the ages man's inner being has been locked with-in a prison, more secure than an iron cage. In the words of Paul, "Who shall deliver me from the bonds of this death?" Thank God, Jesus Christ, Man hears the 'good news' of the incarnation, death, and resurrection of Christ, the message committed to the Church. Man is aroused, alerted, and moved by the Spirit of the Christmas Babe. The living Soul is born again to a lively hope.

The Kingdom begins on earth at the manger cradle, creates new creatures, sweeps on to the 'ends of the earth' and ushers in that day when the wolf and lamb shall dwell together and a little child shall lead them.

Kemp, Cookie Lead Bills to AFL Title

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Buffalo's ball hawking Billis, bruisers on both offense and defense, smashed their way to the American Football League championship in fog-shrouded War Memorial Stadium Saturday by coming from behind to whip the defending champion San Diego Chargers 20-7 on two short scoring plunges and a pair of field goals by Pete Gogolak.

Momentarily stunned by a quick Charger touchdown in the third minute of play, the Bills rallied behind the passing of quarterback Jack Kemp and the running of 251-pound Cookie Gilchrist to bring Buffalo its five year history of the AFL before a crowd of 40,242.

Wray Carlton, Cookie's 225-pound running mate, scored one touchdown from the four, Kemp sneaked for another from less than one yard out and Gogolak, a Hungarian-born soccer style kicking specialist booted field goals of 12 and 17 yards.

Tobin Rote, a 36-year-old quarterback playing his 15th and final season, rocked the Bills with an 80 yard march in four plays from the opening kickoff, hitting Dave Kocurek with a 26-yard scoring pass at the end of the drive.

Rugged Defense

But Buffalo's tremendous defense, featuring linebacker Mike Stratton, who made three interceptions and once tackled charger ace Keith Lincoln so hard it broke one of Lincoln's ribs, put severe pressure on both Rote and his successor, John Hadl, the rest of the way. Hadl also was injured with only seconds remaining and Rote finished up.

Charley Warner and Butch Byrd halted Charger drives with interceptions and the Bills later wrested the ball from San Diego on the five yard line in their last stand with five minutes left.

Gilchrist, who was placed on the waiver list in mid-November and reinstated to the team only after a locker room apology to his mates for sulking Lincoln up the middle for 38 about not being given more chances to run the ball, got 16 shots Saturday and rushed 122 yards.

Kemp hit 10 of 20 passes for 198 yards, setting up one field goal and both touchdowns.

Blitzkrieg

The Chargers stunned Buffalo with an 80 yard, four play opening kickoff but the Bills chipped away with two field goals by Gogolak and Carlton's four yard touchdown run for a 13-7 halftime lead.

Starting on his 20 after Gogolak's opening kickoff sailed into the end zone, Rote sent Lincoln up the middle for 38 yards, then five more on the

THINGS GREAT FOR KEMP

Charger Dressing Room Sad, Bills Whoop It Up After Win

By MARTIN GLEASON

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—“This is even better than last week. These were the two greatest weeks of my life.”

The man talking was the red-haired fire brand of the Buffalo Bills, quarterback Jack Kemp. The 29-year-old Kemp, who makes his home in San Diego and once led the Chargers to two Western Division titles, sat grinning happily on a table in the Buffalo dressing room.

The 6-foot, 200-pound scrambler had just finished a day's work that gave Buffalo its first professional football championship in history, a 20-7 victory over the defending American League champion San Diego Chargers in mist-shrouded War Memorial Stadium.

Only six days earlier, Kemp passed and ran the Bills into the title game with a 24-14 Eastern Division clincher over the Patriots in Boston.

Spit end Glenn Bass, who caught a key 51-yard pass from Kemp in the fourth period to set up Buffalo's insurance touchdown scored by Kemp, came over and hugged his quarterback. Kemp kissed Bass and said “I thought you had a touchdown.”

Bass replied, “I did, too, but I won't argue about it.”

Bass was tackled on the one-yard line, setting up Kemp's score.

The Bills were elated, though more subdued than when they defeated Boston last Sunday. A few engaged in the usual horse play. Most, however, were too begrimed and tired to do anything but sit and drink in their new-found fame.

Stratton A Hero

Linebacker Mike Stratton, a defensive terror as the Bills beat the Chargers for the third time this season, was mobbed by well-wishers. It was Stratton who decked San Diego's Keith Lincoln the first quarter, sending the rugged fullback to the dressing room with a broken rib.

Colts Running, Passing Attack Favored Over Browns

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The Baltimore Colts, sparked by the wizardry of quarterback Johnny Unitas, and the Cleveland Browns, headlining the amazing Jimmy Brown, collide Sunday in the 32nd National Football League championship game, the richest in history.

The Colts easily captured the Western Division title with a record of 12-2 that included 11 consecutive victories. The Browns had to struggle all the way, but won their first Eastern Conference crown since 1957 with a mark of 10-3-1.

As a result, the Colts are favored by one touchdown in the first title meeting of the two teams.

The contest will be seen by a sellout crowd of more than 83,000 persons at Cleveland Municipal Stadium and by a national television audience. (CBS-TV 12:35 P.M. CST).

The Cleveland weather bureau forecast snow flurries and a low of 20 for Saturday night, but the outlook for Sunday afternoon was mostly cloudy with a high of 28 degrees.

The field, which has been covered since the end of the regular season, is expected to be in good condition. Heating equipment has been used to dry it out and the tarpaulin will be on until game time.

Baltimore Coach Don Shula said his team is ready for the possibility of rain or cold weather. “We've had this type of weather during two weeks of practice,” he added.

Shula said the Colts' decision to fly here Friday night, one day ahead of schedule, was prompted by the possibility of snow or fog Saturday that might have hampered the team's arrival.

Shula also said that all of his players were in good condition except linebacker Rip Hawkins. But he added Hawkins might see action if needed.

The Colts held a team meeting Saturday afternoon at the stadium, then inspected the field.

Parker Only Invalld

Cleveland coach Blanton Collier declared all of his players are in good shape except defensive tackle Jim Parker, who has been hampered by a knee injury virtually all season.

The Browns went through a loosening up drill Saturday afternoon, then returned to their homes for a few hours before reporting to a downtown hotel to spend the night.

The Colts suffered a 34-24 loss to the Minnesota Vikings in their opener, but then roared back as Unitas enjoyed one of his best seasons. After the loss, Unitas led the Colts to 11 consecutive victories.

Yankees Crack Rebels, 10-6

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Yankee all-stars, led by Penn State's Gary Wydman, turned Rebel mistakes on a muddy field into Northern points Saturday for a 10-6 victory in the 27th annual Blue-Gray football classic.

But the Northerners had to hold off a late Rebel counter attack to preserve the victory in a game that began in a driving thunderstorm and ended in sunshine.

Quarterback Wydman uncorked the clincher in the 3rd quarter with a 30 yard pass to Boston College end Bill Cronin the end zone. Minnesota fullback Mike Reid kicked the point to give the North a 10-0 lead.

Reid kicked a 27-yard field-goal in the first quarter when the Yanks drove 40 yards, but stalled on the 10-

The South finally generated an attack in the fourth period, marching from the Yankee 47. The score was on a six-yard pass from Virginia Tech quarterback Bob Schweickert to Texas A&M end John Brotherton. Schweickert attempted to run the extra point but was tackled by Missouri's Gus Otto on the two.

Before the late surge, the Southerners could do little against a determined Northern defense led by Iowa State's John Van Sicklen and aided by two fumbles. The Rebels, in their only first half threat, marched from the Blue 32 to the three in the second quarter but lost possession on a fumble.

The first Yankee drive started on a fumble recovered by Missouri end Bud Abell on the 50. With Colorado's Bill Symons ripping out yardage on the ground and Wydman added a key pass to Purdue's Jim Morel for 7 yards, the Yanks marched to the 10. Two Wydman passes missed and Reid came in to kick his field goal.

The North squad had another opportunity in the closing minutes of the first half, moving from their own 38 to the Rebel

9. With two seconds to go, Reid tried another field goal. It was wide to the right.

The North touchdown, which took only two plays, was set up by a fumbled punt on the five. Gray quarterback Danny Thomas of Southern Methodist fumbled the first snap but recovered and on the next play tossed a strike to Cronin. He reached over the heads of two Rebel defenders to pull it in.

Wirtz Still Has Heart of Gold

NEW YORK (UPI)—This is a story that should have been told during the World Series.

It is being told now because any time really is the right time to disclose an unselfish deed and because the man behind that deed, former major leaguer Vic Wirtz, would never divulge it even if he lived to be 100.

Most people remember the 39-year-old ex-outfielder first baseman as a left-handed, long-ball hitter who spent 20 seasons in the American League with the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Browns, Baltimore Orioles, Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox and Minnesota Twins.

They may also recall he was the victim of one of Willie Mays' most fantastic catches during the 1954 World Series and that he suddenly was stricken with polio a year later.

As a ballplayer, Wirtz was always known as a guy with a heart as soft as marshmallow.

He hasn't changed a lick even though he's a businessman now with his own beer and wine distributorship in Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Wirtz went into heavy debt 10 years ago when, while still playing ball, he started the venture with three modest delivery trucks, a franchise and a barrelful of hope.

He worked tirelessly building the business to where he now has 16 trucks and employs 25 men.

Vic suddenly hit on an idea to stimulate sales last summer. He would conduct a contest among his drivers. Those who showed the biggest percentage of increase in sales over the year would be his personal guests on an all-expenses paid round-trip to the World Series and the World's Fair.

Georgia Stops Anderson, Tech In Sun Bowl Defensive Battle

By FRED MAST

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—A 37-yard swing pass from Georgia quarterback Preston Riddlehuber to halfback Fred Barber set up the only score Saturday in the 30th annual Sun Bowl football game and enabled the Bulldogs to whip Texas Tech 7-0.

Midway in the second period, Riddlehuber surprised the Red Raiders with the short toss to Barber. The ball traveled only two yards in the air, but Barber toted it down to the Raider five before linebacker C. C. Willis could catch up and make the tackle.

The pass was one of only five that Riddlehuber threw all day. Two plays later, Bulldog fullback Fred Landkewicz crashed into the end zone.

Tech, which had one of the swiftest backfields in the Southwest Conference this season, moved the Red Raiders deep into Georgia territory. The Red Raiders gave up the ball the first time at Georgia's 18-yard line on downs and lost it the second time when tackle Vance Evans intercepted a Wilson pass on the 11.

Twice in the same period, Georgia lost the ball in Tech territory.

Georgia unsuccessfully drove 79 yards in the first period. But began a 68 yard drive at the start of the second quarter which resulted in the touchdown.

Oilers Hire Former Head Coach Lou Rymkus Saturday

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Houston Oilers' new head coach, Hugh (Bones) Taylor, announced Saturday he has hired former head coach Lou Rymkus to be offensive line coach for the American Football League team.

Taylor also announced Joe Spencer, currently Oilers defensive line mentor, will remain on the staff.

Rymkus' appointment means the Oilers have three head coaches or former head coaches on their staff—Taylor as head coach, Rymkus as offensive line coach and immediate past mentor Sammy Baugh as backfield coach.

Baugh resigned last week, effective with the final gun of the Oilers' last game Sunday. He was rehired by Taylor when the Oilers announced Taylor's appointment as head coach.

Rymkus was the Oilers' first head coach, during the team's drive to an AFL championship in 1960.

Both Rymkus and Taylor played with Baugh during Taylor's quarterbacking days with the Washington Redskins with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

Spencer, 40, has been on the Houston staff since 1961.

Bowling

Too much Xmas, too much turkey, and too little league bowling to find a great lot to write about but those who did bowl, did some good bowling. Lots of kids from college, and Uncle Sam's forces, Jim Weatherly, Johnny Pierce, John Osborne, Mike Trimble, Larry Dunn, Mike Dittmore, Dwight Mackie just to name a few. Yes, the bowling season is half over, and everyone seems anxious to get off to a fresh start for the New Year. I look for some real good bowling coming up.

Cage Picture Looking Up For Mobeetie Roundballers

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor
MOBEETIE—Although they have almost the identical personnel as last year, the Mobeetie Hornets are playing it a lot tougher this season. Everyone's patsy with a 2-18 record last year, the Hornets have won their share of games so far, and figure to place higher up the ladder than last season. Coach Cecil Reynolds graduated only Big Ray Corcoran from last year's unit, and features four six-footers in his starting five. Billy Whitten, a burly 6-1, is the leading scorer, and shares the rebounding honors with 6-2 Jim Johnston, vastly improved over last season. Third big man is 6-1, Joe Fred Mixon, who at 225, is "rough on the boards." A pair of tall backcourt men, die Ray Hodges and 5-10 Gerald Gudel, Hodges, a shifty ballhandler, figures to be the top scorer when he recovers from a football knee. Gudel, recovering from an operation, figures to be the playmaker and ballhawk. Eddie Vowell, 5-11, also sees plenty of action. Reserves are mostly youngsters and "little guys," but Little Joe Kelley, Jerry Rector, Jimmy Barton, Jimmy Newman, Wayne Striling and Weldon Reed all figure in Reynolds' plans. The Hornets, who finished fourth in district last year, have a tall gal at each post, but drop sharply off in height after that, with no one apparently showing promise of replacing high-scoring Mary Helen Gudel. Jimmy Rowell, 5-10 post forward has been the leading scorer, backed by driving Judy Bailey, 5-6. Kathy Hudson, 5-7 freshman is the ballhandler, with lettergal Linda Dickey and Sue Bailey also up front.

Fillies Show Fast Offense

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor
WHEELER—The Wheeler Mustangettes were counted out of the district 2-B cage race when the talented and tall Fillinim twins graduated, but the pretty Fillies have shown an even more varied and potent offense which has rattled the nets to the tune of four steady scorers up front, plus new height in the back. Post forward lettergal Sherry Barnes, returning starters Donna Sue Ford and Lynda Batey and longshot lettergal Beverly Clark have all canned the buckets regularly. Sherry averaging 16.5, Donna 14.2, Beverly 10.1 and Lynda 9.0 in four games. Rounding out the forwards is Nancy Moore. Judy Tucker and Sue Ann Richerson are veteran guards, flanked by Rhonda Stevens, Liz Hubble, Sandra Brown and Helena Ford, but Wheeler's big hope as Mozelle Fillingim's replacement is Connie Richardson, 5-11½. A lovely freshman, Connie shows promise of being one of the really good big ones, and the Mustangettes hope that promise isn't too long in the future.

Students Stopped From More Rioting

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI) — African students who burned the U. S. Information Service library in Cairo on Thanksgiving Day planned to return and kill American and Belgian diplomat informed African sources said Saturday.

The sources said United Arab Republic authorities heard of the plan and sent word to the students they would be deported if they attempted to demonstrate again. They said U.A.R. police arrested 20 knife-carrying Congolese students and deported them.

The library was burned in protest against the U.S. and Belgian paratroop operation which rescued 2,000 white hostages from the Congolese rebels. African sources said at the time Chinese Communist diplomats gave the students kerosene-soaked rags.

Over 260,000,000 gallons of water are used daily in the U.S. for home and industrial purposes.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

New swim classes will be offered starting Jan. 4, in the form of polywogs and intermediates. The polywog classes will meet at 4:00 p.m. and the intermediates will meet at 5 p.m. Classes run for 10 meetings. Polywogs are pre-schoolers from 4 - 6 years of age not in school. Center members will be enrolled free of charge while non-members will pay an instructional fee of $3. Enrollment is now going on.

On January 4 at 7:00 p.m. a new and exciting class will meet at the Center. A fencing class has made arrangements to use the Center on Monday nights. This will be unique, for fencing has not been offered in the Pampa area. The fencing instructor will be Joe Pafford who is employed by Cabot Corporation. He is interested in others joining the class and he can be reached at MO 4-2581 or at 2511 Charles. Each fencing member will be a member of the Center.

Membership rates are very reasonable and are as follows: Individual memberships are $5 for six months and $8 per year while family memberships are $12 and $20 respectively. A Sustaining membership is a donation of $25 or more usually contributed by business, clubs or other individuals. For further information concerning memberships and privileges, call the Center at MO 5-2012 or 5-2622. We are still trying to get enough people to enroll for a tumbling class which will be taught by Al Slaughter of Pampa. Adults, young people or anyone interested is invited to take this class. At least 12 must enroll and we have eight persons now. The only qualification is that you be a Center member.

An activity which a lot of people do not know much about is also offered at the Center. This is trampolining. Trampolining for all ages is scheduled on Saturdays and Sundays from 2-5 p.m. Persons who are interested in trampolining should come at those hours for use of the trampoline.

On Base Orders Given U.S. Airmen

MANILA (UPI) — More than 10,000 American airmen were ordered to spend this weekend at their Clark Field base in a move to forestall possible trouble resulting from a mass anti-American rally Sunday.

A 36-hour restriction was clamped down over the air base at noon Saturday to head off any possible incidents stemming from the "ugly American" rally scheduled in neighboring Angeles City.

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's a basis in fact for the name of the Educator Biscuit Company, according to Glen E. Speidel, president of the Lowell, Mass., firm.

The business was founded in 1885 by a Boston dentist named Johnson who wanted to improve the chewing habits of New England children and created the first "educational" cracker, Speidel said.

MOSCOW (UPI) — King Hassan II of Morocco will make a state visit to the Soviet Union late in May, it was announced Saturday.

Picture Review of 1964 Shows Variety in Pampa

MR. PAMPA 1964 — Keith Boyd Sutterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sutterfield, 608 W. Francis, is shown with his mother, top center photo, a few hours after being named Pampa's First Baby of 1964. He was born at 2:20 a.m. Jan. 1, 1964. He'll be one year old next Friday.

BIG SNOW — Top left is a scraper clearing out the main streets of Pampa after a record blizzard in February. Seventeen inches of snow fell in Pampa.

INDUSTRIAL FOUNDATION — Fred Neslage waves checks totaling $35,000 at a banquet April 14 that put the Pampa Industrial Foundation over the $200,000 goal, top right photo. The checks being waved are from Cabot Corporation and M. K. Brown, former civic leader, who died in an auto accident later in the year.

'DEAD' IN SADDLE — Pampa's annual

Top O' Texas rodeo parade was held Aug. 26 and kicked off professional rodeo competition. The ride down Cuyler, bottom left photo, proved to be too smooth in the saddle and in grandfather's arms for 17-month-old Mark Goudy, Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Goudy of Pampa fell asleep in the arms of Buri Kelly of Pampa midway during the parade.

TRIAL FIGURES — Three persons faced charges of "distributing circulars by placing on vehicles", following their arrest Oct. 25. They are shown, bottom right photo, on Oct. 26 as they leave the Corporation Court room where their jury trial was set for Nov. 10. The accused from left are Mrs. Willie Stark of Amarillo, Mrs. O. L. Chewing of Pampa and Willie Stark of Amarillo. Charges were dropped after the judge ruled the litter law unconstitutional.

RANDY MATSON — Welcome home ceremonies were held for Pampa's Olympic Silver Medal Winner Oct. 28, right center photo, at the intersection of Cuyler and Foster. Matson was presented a key to the city. He is with his father as he signs autographs and lets local youths examine the silver medal.

Passing Show Sunday

HAPPY CHILDREN'S voices still fill the air, but Christmas is over and the holiday rush will come to an end on New Year's eve. One of the gayest parties of the year included children of Pampa's Country set as Carol and James Gallemore, Tom and Alison Snow and Susanne and Don Lane hosted some 130 children at the club last Tuesday evening for a Christmas program, fried chicken buffet and a visit from St. Nick. Miss Judy Neslage read Christmas stories to the children and Alison, accompanied by Mary Beth (Mrs. David) Fatheree, led the group in singing Christmas carols. As the children sang "Up On the House Top," the jolly gentleman made his appearance and distributed gifts. Seen at the party were Jim and Lyle Baldridge with Peyton and Meredy, along with the B. Baldridges, the grandparents... Joe and Bobbie Reed with Lisa, Joey and Taylor... Betty (Mrs. Jim) Brown with son Bruce... Bill and Greta Arrington with Bucky and Melanie... Pat O'Conner with Erin and Patrick... Bill and Grace Gething with Mark and Grant and, of course, Randy, Jenny and Becca Snow, Rickey and Susan Lane and Janie and Leslie Gallemore, children of the hosts and hostesses.

CHRISTMAS CAN be fun for teachers as well as students. Heard about the Robert E. Lee faculty breakfast and gift exchange. Jack Nichols proved to be the pet. His gift was a "pattable" furry worm... Bob Parks received a clown conical a quart of milk which was most appropriate following Bob's recent attack of ulcers... Mrs. Pat Eads found a miniature doll bikini at her place with a note saying, "wearable following extreme dieting"... Peggy Daniel was the recipient of matching mitt bookmarks and hair clip... James Smith, the shop teacher, was astounded with his "useless hammer"... And speaking of school, nothing could be more fitting as a close than the Christmas concert presented Tuesday afternoon by the combined 7th, 8th and 9th grade Robert E. Lee choirs... The J. M. Fitzgeralds had reason to be happy this Christmas with son Lt. Dan Fitzgerald bringing bride, Louise, to visit with the family, and daughter and husband, Macie and Jack Moser bringing Laura to see her grandparents. Dan and Louise live in Valparaiso, Fla., and Macie's family in Atlanta, Ga... John Teed and lovely wife Abby flew in Wednesday morning from Houston to spend the holidays with John's parents, the Arthur Teeds. John is a lawyer in Houston... Was a treat to see Martha Lou and Mary Ann Kelley home for the holidays. They are the daughters of the Dr. Frank Kellys... Pampa High School Red Cross presented a number of Christmas readings and skits to St. Ann's Home for Children in Panhandle Tuesday afternoon. A visit from Santa highlighted the afternoon. Students making the trip were Carolyn Tucker, Billy Hayes, Jeannie Hall, Beth Falkenstein, John Curry, Rita Scholl, Donna Seagriff, Letitia Ruthledge, Cheryl Reeves, Wanda Brewer, Fannie Beetzley and Kenneth Carson... Spending the holidays in Pueblo and Colorado Springs are the Tom Bralys and handsome sons Matt, John, and Tom Jr.

RUMORS OF PARTIES and more parties have flooded the air. So many that time hasn't been found to get complete facts on all of them... Heard echoes of the address made by Rev. Harry Vanderpool on "Lining Up Your Ducks" to the Cleaners Association annual Christmas banquet in Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church... Dorothy (Mrs. Arthur) Teed and Elizabeth (Mrs. George) Scott shared hostess duties with others for a tea honoring Sarah Gordon... Becky and Al Schuneman hosted the annual First National Bank Christmas dinner, gift exchange and dance at the Coronado Inn... An open house for Mildred and Harold Schmitzer was held in the City Manager's offices Wednesday afternoon with city employees and members of Mildred's study clubs as special guests. Both Mildred and Harold will be missed when they leave early in the new year to make their home in Denison... The sleet storm with cars sticking in the driveway didn't chill the warmth of the open house in the Fred Neslage home given for friends of Ramona and Henry Gruben, Bob and Margaret Parks, Sheila Chisum and Judy Neslage.

SAW THE EVER pleasant Virgie (Mrs. Bill) Matejowsky busily engaged in duties of Highland General Hospital Auxiliary at the hospital Tuesday morning. Other members of HGH Auxiliary on duty helping make the holidays brighter for hospital staff members and patients were Adriene (Mrs. Jack) Foster, Millie (Mrs. Norman) Buhrow, Anna (Mrs. Harold) Weidler, Lilly (Mrs. B. R.) Nuckols, Jean (Mrs. Foster) White and Elizabeth (Mrs. George) Scott... Jim and Gretchen Osborn hosted a Christmas bridge party for friends last week. Some of the couples greeted at the door by Gretchen in an attractive floor-length black dress were Jake and Patsy Webb, Jim and Barbara Alexander, Richard and Betty Cooke and Jimmy and Georgia Hayes... Gretchen and Ruth (Mrs. Dugan) Smith also hosted a Christmas coffee in Gretchen's home, which was beautifully decorated in gold and white... The Chester Thompsons with Tommy and Sue Anne, home from Tech, spent Christmas with Marguerite's father and brothers and sisters in Muskogee, Okla. Marguerite's father came home following surgery which kept him hospitalized in Dallas since Nov. 9... Bill and Barbara Treloggen and son, Joe, have returned from a skiing excursion in Nederland, Colo., where they were joined by Barbara's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Balch and Sally from Chanute, Kan... Oma and V. J. Draw spent Christmas day with their son and family, the Jackson Dews in Lubbock, then took daughter DeAnn and granddaughter to El Paso for the Sun Bowl festivities... The Joe Middletons are spending the Christmas vacation with his parents in Alexandria, La., and her parents in Bunkie, La... the Paul E. Perilous are spending the holidays with their families in Jeannerette and Franklin, La... Spending the holidays with the Bernard Johnsons are son Bernard B. and son Tommy and wife and daughter Sharon and Vicki, all of Dallas.

JAN AND PRICE Dosier Jr. moved last week to their new home at 6303 Gainsborough in Amarillo. This is another couple who will be missed. Cheryl will finish out the school semester here before joining her parents but all had fun celebrating Christmas in their new home with Price III, home from the University of Texas, and Alice and Price Dosier Sr. of Pampa... Pampa will also miss Doris and Joe Sears who spent Christmas in Hereford before moving permanently to Montana... Something quite different in outdoor decorations in the huge plywood Christmas greeting on the porch, at Alice and Holly Gray's home on Williston... Stacy, Dixie and Christie Douglas are excited about baby brother, Malcolm, born last Sunday. Dad Malcolm Douglas's mother, Mrs. Nadine Douglas, had arrived from Dallas for the holidays and mom Beverly's parents from Fort Worth arrived Wednesday to spend the holidays and enjoy the new grandson... Elaine and Bill Ledbetter took Elaine's mother home to Lawton, Okla., to spend Christmas with a brother. Elaine's mother has been visiting in the Ledbetter home... Staff members at Highland General Hospital held their annual Christmas party last week with each department decorating its section of the hospital. The kitchen department won the prize for the best decorations with a Christmas tree made of cans. Rita Schall, PHS speech student, narrated "The Littlest Angel" for the group while Kenneth Baxter did the lighting for the silhouettes in the story. Arthur Teed, HGH board member, gave the welcome address and J. R. Soarkman, also a board member, presented service pins to staff members.

Wedding Vows in Candlelight Ceremony

Mrs. Weylon Holtman
nee Loretta Barnes

Miss Loretta Barnes and Weylon Holtman pledged wedding vows at 8 p.m. Nov. 24 in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Holtman, 1304 Terrace St.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rae Barnes of Amarillo.

Guy Caskey, minister of Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ, performed the ceremony amid a setting of floor baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white tapers.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by the bridegroom's father, the bride was gowned in a floor-length gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline and long tapering sleeves which came to petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt of alternating lace and nylon tulle panels was overlaid with chantilly lace. The bride's fingertip veil of illusion trimmed with chantilly lace, was secured by a tiara of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a bouquet of white feathered mums centered with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Benny Sparks, bridegroom's sister, attended the bride as matron of honor, wearing a street-length dress of blue taffeta and a corsage of blue carnations.

Benny Sparks, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as bestman.

Lighting the tapers was Lynn Holtman, brother of the bridegroom.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Holtman chose an off-white embossed sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the Holtman home immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with white gladioli arranged in a crystal bowl flanked by white crystal candleholders holding white tapers. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and crystal punch bowl appointed the table.

The Doctor Says:

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is allergic rhinitis? What could cause it? My doctor says I have it but he didn't give me anything for it.

A—Allergic rhinitis is closely related to hay fever but is less likely to be seasonal. It may be caused by the inhalation of house dust, certain types of face powder, molds, and animal dander including that of birds. A doctor specially trained in allergic diseases might be able to track down the specific cause in your case and desensitize you or help you to avoid the offender. Meanwhile for temporary relief have your doctor give you one of the antihistaminic drugs.

Q—I have been taking Rauwolfid and Equanilate for some time. My doctor says I will have to take them for the rest of my life. What are they for?

A—Alseroxylon (Rauwolfid) is a tranquilizer derived from Rauwolfia serpentina, and Equanilate is a combination of a tranquilizer and one of the nitrates given for angina pectoris. Since angina and coronary heart disease can be controlled but cannot be cured, prolonged treatment is required.

Q—About a year ago I had a hemorrhage from my mouth. My doctor said the blood was from varicose veins in my esophagus. He did an operation that he called a "portal shunt." What is this and will my varicose veins bleed any more?

A—In persons with cirrhosis of the liver there is some obstruction of the portal vein which carries blood to the liver. Damming back of blood in this vein results, among other things, in a varicose condition of the esophagus. These vessels may be easily ruptured and may bleed profusely. A shunting of the portal blood around the liver is accomplished by transplanting the vein. Since blood is able to reach the liver through the vessels this does no harm and the results are usually good. After such a shunt it is most unlikely that you will have any more bleeding from the esophagus. The next step is to determine and treat the cause of the cirrhosis.

Q—I have been taking Pentritol twice a day. Is it habit-forming? What is it for?

A—Pentaerythritol tetranitrate (Pentritol) is given for angina pectoris. It is not habit-forming. Persons who have glaucoma should not take this or any other of the nitrates given for angina.

Favorite idea for a young fashionable in the three to six age set: Long-sleeved cotton dress checked in dark red and white with a large scalloped bertha of white pique and a big red bow at the neck.

Double-Ring Wedding Vows Repeated by Loretta Baird, Marvin Kelly Robinson

Rev. T. O. Upshaw solemnized double-ring vows uniting Miss Loretta Baird and Marvin Kelly Robinson at 7 p.m. Dec. 19 in Central Baptist Church.

Vows were repeated before an altar appointed with baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Baird, 613 Lowry, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Fred Betchan, 324 N. Sumner, and Jack Robinson, 1045 Neel Rd.

Mrs. Hugh Sanders, organist, presented traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Hugh Sanders as he sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

BRIDE

The bride, gowned in a chapel-length gown of white peau de soie, was given in marriage by her father. The gown, designed with fitted bodice with a sabrina neckline and long petal point sleeves, featured a bouffant skirt which ended in a chapel train. Lace appliques and seed pearls trimmed the gown. The bride wore a waist-length tulle veil secured by a crown of tulle petals and pearls and carried a white Bible topped with white roses.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Joretta Baird, twin sister of the bride of Shawnee, Okla., attended as maid of honor and Miss Cherri Stackhouse attended as bridesmaid. The Misses Baird and Stackhouse were attired in blue peau de soie gowns designed with fitted bodices, matching rosethaped coils with tulle veils, matching shoes and white gloves and carried cascade bouquets of white mums.

Robert Smith of Perryton served the bridegroom as best man and Larry Cox of Amarillo served as groomsman. Seating the wedding guests were ushers Ray Dee White of Canyon and Jimmy Flynt of Abilene. Flower girl was Sabra Dawn Underwood and ring bearer was Timothy Epps, both cousins of the bride.

RECEPTION

Fellowship Hall of Central Baptist Church was the scene for the reception following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a white floral arrangement flanked by white tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, and crystal punch service, appointed the serving table. Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Mary Nell Green of Kansas City, Mo., and serving the wedding cake was Mrs. Don Burke. Miss Green also attended the guest register.

The bride, a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Okla., and Frank Phillips Junior College, Borger. The bridegroom, a graduate of Pampa High School, holds the rank of AMERICAN in the U. S. Navy. He is stationed at the U. S. Naval Station, Jacksonville, Fla., where the couple will make their home.

Fur is still as pretty and as practical as ever. In coat, jacket or parka, it is warm and wearable and looks good on all types of collegians particularly. New ski furs include a silver hair seal swaggar coat, 3/4 length and belted. This can be worn with a matching hat and pants of any kind.

POLLY'S POINTERS

By POLLY CRAMER

Questions and Answers Aid Various Homemakers

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — Is there anything that can be applied to crayon color on cotton material so that it will not wash out or fade when laundered?
When my boys' pants wear out at the knees I cut them off and hem them with one inch hems. They make wonderful Bermuda shorts.
MRS. M. J. L.

GIRLS — The next letter probably is the answer to Mrs. M. J. L.'s question. — POLLY
DEAR POLLY — A few drops of bleach that were carelessly dropped on a new dark cotton dress took nearly all the color out. Wax crayons, matching the color, were rubbed in well. The waxed spots were placed between layers of paper and pressed with a hot iron which fixed and blended the color. Now after several washings a nice dress is still in good shape.
— LULU

DEAR POLLY — I wondered what on earth we would do with the countless shells my small son brought home from our Florida vacation. Part of them went into a science project for my teen-age son, part of them line my garden walk but the most unusual idea came from my daughter who uses a large conch shell for a letter holder.
— L. T.

GIRLS — It is amazing how many things can be made with shells. Last Christmas a young friend of mine made three of the loveliest small Christmas trees I have ever seen. She glued small shells of all shapes and sizes all over styrofoam tree forms and then sprayed trees, bases, shells and all with gold paint. Even small broken shells were used to fill odd spots and show different shapes. Shells can also be used to cover plain wood mirror and picture frames for a stylish and pretty effect.
— POLLY

DEAR POLLY — As an added precaution against the loss of precious film always put one of your name and address stickers on each exposed roll over the seal. This will identify your film should it ever become separated from the envelope.
I use an empty soapfluke box instead of a wastebasket in my laundry room. When the next box is empty, my disposable wastebasket goes into the trash, eliminating the steps of emptying and replacing a regular basket.

If you do not like sticky streaks on your walls, it really helps to teach your little ones to fold their hands, prayer fashion, after eating their meals as they make their way from the kitchen or dining room to the bathroom. This easy habit keeps any little hands from dragging along the walls.

Invisible Work of Writing Also Applies to Student
By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My boy, 13, stalls on his homework until the very last minute. He delays getting down to his book reports and term papers until they are due. Then everybody has to get into an uproar with him because he must have quiet and stay up long past his bedtime to finish them. Over and over I have tried to make him see that it's the way he postpones them that is the problem and that if he would get right down to them when they are assigned...

cause you of laziness and disorderly work methods. Your child is not procrastinating when he delays his book reports and term papers. Like any other writer, he is working invisibly. If he hadn't so worked, he would never have produced any book reports or term papers.
How long does it take you to write a letter of condolence to a friend who has lost a family member to death?
About 20 minutes.
How long does it take you to prepare the letter?
Years. To produce that 20 minutes of words on paper, you had first to assemble your own responses to death. To make that letter meaningful to your friend you had to relive your own experiences of grief.

ANSWER: How long do you think it took me to write this column? Twenty minutes. How long do you think it took me to prepare it?
Years. Yes, years of experience, of thought, of talk with other writers on the writer's problem: Invisible work. It's the problem of writers, whether you're a writer of a term paper, a newspaper column or a poem that you do your real work when you're sleeping, eating, playing football, attending a theater, mowing the lawn or ordering groceries.
It is your problem because the people around you who see you doing these unlitary things assume that you're "stalling." Because they don't see you at a table or desk putting words down on paper, they ac-

When did you work on this letter? When you sat down at your desk and reached for our notepaper? No, ma'am. You worked on it as you peeled apples for pie, as you vacuumed the hall, took a bath, rode on a bus and otherwise seemed to be going about your ordinary business.
That's how children if they are going to write good book reports and term papers, write them. The real work is invisible and done as they go about their ordinary business.

Barbara Sue Johnston, Jerry C. Wilson Are Married in Candlelight Ceremony

Double-ring rites performed in a candlelight ceremony at 8 o'clock the evening of Dec. 19, united in marriage Miss Barbara Sue Johnston and Jerry C. Wilson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Johnston of Kansas City, Kan., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wilson, 1221 Williston.

Rev. Cecil C. Burns solemnized the ceremony in Lubbock Calvary Church of the Nazarene amid a setting of sprays of foliage and candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. Carl Benningfield, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Belvair E. Needles Jr., cellist as she presented "Sonata for Cello No. Six, First Movement" by Vivaldi; Paul Benningfield, hornist, as he sang Bach's "Du bist mein Meer"; Robert Ashby and Mrs. Needles, cellists, as they presented "Sonata for Two Cello and Piano" by Handel and Paul Benningfield as he sang "Still Wie De Nacht" by Bohm in a recital preceding the wedding ceremony.

Miss Kara Anderson, organist, presented Purcell's "Trumpet Air" for the professional and Mendelssohn's traditional recessional and accompanied, Paul Benningfield as he sang "O Perfect Love" by Barnby as the couple knelt following the exchange of vows.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embossed satin featuring a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline, fitted elbow-length sleeves and three small bows down the back. The shaped floor-length skirt was designed with two panels flowing down the back to the floor. A satin bow coif topped with a satin rose and trimmed with seed pearls secured the bride's ballerina length veil of tulle. She carried a white Bible topped with white roses for the bridal bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Beverly Ann Johnston and Miss Helen Kay Wilson, Miss Jane Roberts, Mrs. Gene Harris and Mrs. Belvair E. Needles Jr. attended as bridesmaids. All the bridal attendants were dressed in floor-length gowns of green dull luster satin with three-quarter length sleeves and soft pleated slim skirts and carried cascade bouquets of white gadiol.

Serving the bridegroom as Mrs. Jerry C. Wilson, nee Barbara Sue Johnston, best man was Hugh H. Wilson Jr. and ushers were Jerry D. Wilson, Larry Stokes, Dale Pletcher and Lynn Show.

Lighting the cathedral tapers were Miss Roberta Lou Johnston and Miss Dottie Kay Johnston. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnston was attired in a two-piece suit fashioned of beige lace accented by matching linen shoes and bag and beige pillbox hat. Mrs. Wilson chose a two-piece blue lace ensemble complemented with matching shoes and bag and white beaded shell hat. Corsages for both mothers were of carnations.

RECEPTION

For the reception held in the Church Parlor immediately following the ceremony, the bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and appointed with sterling silver service and candelabra. Presiding at

Dear Abby.... Education Is Answer to Women's Aching Feet

DEAR ABBY: I recently came across a picture in the paper of three women as they stood in the receiving line at a tea honoring Lady Bird Johnson. They were Mrs. Frank Lausche and Mrs. Stephen Young (the wives of Ohio's Senators) and Mrs. Anthony Celebrezze, the wife of our Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare. They were all beautifully dressed and bedecked with orchids. Both Mrs. Lausche and Mrs. Young were standing in their stocking feet! Now if this doesn't convince the shoe industry that their shoes are killing our feet, I don't know what it will take. I would appreciate your opinion.

RUTH-CHASE

DEAR RUTH: Amen! The Senators' wives should have urged Mrs. Celebrezze to get the message to her husband in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Stylish, but uncomfortable shoes, are certainly affecting our health and welfare. And the answer could be "education."

DEAR ABBY: I would like a few opinions on a problem I've been having. I was going with a man of 60. I am 47. I was very fond of him and he led me to believe that the feeling was mutual. Three weeks ago he asked me to move into his house and live common law with him until we found out if we were compatible. He says at our age there is nothing wrong with it. If we were teen-agers, it would be different. Of course, I flatly refused. He said if all I wanted out of him was an escort, I could count him out. I enjoy his company. Should I go out with him again if he asks me? He has money and could get plenty of other women.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: I say let one of the other women have him. She can also have the pleasure of moving in (to find out if they are compatible) and perhaps wind up being a housekeeper with sleep-in privileges. Respectable couples (at any age) still get married before they live together.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I have a right to be resentful. Apparently my husband's mother doesn't know I'm alive. She writes letters to him and they all begin, "My dear son, Bertam." She never mentions my name, but she does inquire about our children. Her letters are always 10 or 12 pages long. If she would send a small "regards" to me in her letters it would mean a lot to me. I never did anything to hurt her. I am a good wife to her son, and a good mother to her grandchildren. She lives a long way from here and we don't see her very often, but she remembers the children with girls, and my husband, too. I wonder if she knows her son's wife is living? I asked my husband once, and he said, "Mother is a little peculiar." Should I write and introduce myself to her?

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: No. Perhaps your husband was being kind. By "peculiar" he might have been trying to tell you that his mother's mental horizon is pretty narrow. Don't demand that you husband account for his mother's actions. He's probably as uneasy about his mother's attitude as you are — and equally helpless.

DEAR ABBY: My father was very sick last winter and he was told that he wouldn't live through the night. He called me to his bedside and asked me to promise him in front of my mother that I would marry "M". I am 18 and "M" is 30. I never loved "M" but my father wanted me to marry him because he was half-partners with another fellow in a luncheonette. My father got well and now he says if I don't marry "M" like I promised, God will punish me. Can you help me, Abby?

AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID: I am sure your father meant well, but he had no right to ask for such a promise. Even though you promised to marry "M", you made the promise under unnatural and unusual pressure. Be true to yourself and fear no punishment.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

4-H Club Enjoys Christmas Meeting

A clothing subject matter group from Top O' Texas 4-H Club met Saturday morning in the home of Cynthia Hogsett, 2356 Aspen Drive.

Miss Hogsett gave a demonstration on the proper way to hem the sleeves and bottom edge of a blouse. For the sleeve hem she showed how to blind stitch it so that the stitches would not be noticeable from either the front or back sides.

Miss Hogsett then gave the girls pointers on the care of their clothing, such as brushing coats and sweaters and airing them before hanging them in the closet; shoes should be cleaned with saddle soap and polished regularly; clothes should be mended before they are washed. These things will help a girl be better groomed.

The girls played games and exchanged Christmas gifts. Refreshments of angel food cake and punch were served by Mignon Nickel.

Present were Judy Cox, Susan Hunt, Jackie Nickel, Mignon Nickel, junior leader Cynthia Hogsett, and the adult leader, Mrs. Derrel Hogsett.

Jungle Darkest Before Dawn

What goes on in South Vietnam remains a guessing game for anxious Americans. But the crash of a mysterious "flying box-car" 50 miles from the North Vietnam border adds some interesting new pieces to the East Asian jigsaw puzzle.

It will be recalled that Ambassador Taylor left Washington as quietly as he had arrived for consultations with the President. While the former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff fended off newsmen's questions about his orders, he did indicate some change in tactics, but no material increase in US forces in South Vietnam.

Having told in a previous interview that victory over the Viet Cong was very much in doubt, and that air attacks on Communist military targets in North Vietnam would help, it was Washington scuttlebutt that the Ambassador would return to Saigon with the President's blessing on strating the enemy "sanctuary" or step aside for still another ambassador.

So, while the speculation was still revolving around the Ambassador's warning of another Korea, and Secretary Rusk's denision of a "miracle in the north," a C-123 crashed 50 miles from the border of Ho Chi Minh's Red domain.

Announcement came two days later from the Pentagon which gave the names of the Americans killed and little more. Still later in Saigon, an official spokesman told the newsmen that a C-123 had crashed shortly after take-off from our northernmost base and that all on board were killed. The plane was not identified nor its mission disclosed. From other sources considered reliable, reporters learned that six Vietnamese crewmen and 30 Vietnamese experts in guerilla warfare perished along with Major Woodrow W. Vaden, an instruction pilot of Clarksville, Tenn., and Sgt. Domenick Sansone of Wolcott, Conn. Vietnamese pilots were flying the plane and the 30 commandos were wearing parachutes for a night drop.

Then, in Clarksville, Mrs. Vaden told reporters that her husband had told her secret clearance and was not working in uniform. And if anyone suspects that General (now Ambassador) Taylor won his Battle of Washington, perhaps he should also credit the late General MacArthur - summarily fired because he wanted to bring the Korean War to the same enemy across the Yalu with a posthumous victory.

His estranged wife now got into the act and pointed out that the lucky winner was four years - or $7,420 - behind in his monthly payments for support of her and their four children. He surely was now able to pay, she reasoned. So she brought charges of nonsupport. He paid up in court - plus $1,000 bond to insure future payments.

But now a gleam of light broke through the clouds. The businessman decided he would like to kick back the $10,000 fee and the expenses he had charged his old buddy for the business trip to Ireland to get the prize money.

This break reduced the winner's losses to a mere $39,795 - not counting lawyer's fees and future payments to his wife.

A man naturally develops a philosophy in a situation like this, especially when he hasn't been working steadily and has time to think. This lucky winner sums it up this way:

"I never dreamed a $3 ticket could bring so much aggravation. Please write your own moral."

He - I've wanted to ask you a question for weeks. She - And I've had the answer ready for months.

By Frank J. Markey

Given a little time Congress gets around to everything. This year it provided enough money in the budget to clean the dome in the main reading room of the Library of Congress. It will be the first time it's been done since President McKinley opened the place back in 1897. . . . During World War II it was big news when the U. S. bombers knocked out the bridges on the Rhine. Well, a lot of water has flowed down that famous river since and most of the bridges have been replaced. There were only 20 of them, but because of Uncle Sam's generosity and German acumen there will be twice as many by 1975.

Today's smile: We liked the one about the guy who went into a jewelry store and was greeted by a cute salesgirl. He looked at several rings, finally selected one, and asked the price. "Five hundred dollars," said the cute salesgirl. "Would you take anything off for cash?" he inquired. "Listen, wise guy," said the cute one, "This is a jewelry store, not a strip tease joint."

Among the first exports from Colonial America to Europe were walnuts, which the colonists found growing in great abundance. Since they were carried on English merchant ships they came to be known as "English" walnuts. . . . Dr. Robert Hutton, one of the nation's foremost marine biologists, tells us an oyster may cast as many as 50 million eggs a year. That's really being prolific!

Thoughts while shaving: Something that would delight any child is a new combination phonograph and slide projector. Consists of a 4-speed record player and slide film projector in a single compact case. Picture-sound programs, prepared especially for this so-called toy, include cartoons, classics, fairy tales, history, etc. Makes us wish we were young again. . . . We learned recently Scotland Yard was originally planned as an opera house when it was built in 1890, but funds ran out and it was turned over to the London police department. . . . Which reminds us the East German Communists show their lack of taste and intelligence by banning the mystery stories of Edgar Wallace, who wrote so many thrillers about Scotland Yard and its environs. Wallace was one of the most prolific detective story writers of all time. During his last years in Hollywood it was said that he could dictate a 100,000-word mystery story in a single day. He'd edit it the next day and send it to the printer a few days later. Wallace is said to have written upwards of 500 detective stories, most of them about the famous Yard. . . . And speaking of publishing reminds us, too, that 98 million tons of paper were used throughout the world last year. . . . A government bulletin estimates Americans ate 30 million pounds of turkey on Thanksgiving Day. And those who didn't like turkey feasted on pheasant, duck, goose, quail, venison, rabbit - and in some of the western states on moose, elk, and bear. Guess everyone was well fed. The Detroit (Mich.) NEWS reported (before the strike): "Casius Clay came in now, quietly, with a few friends and a police escort and stood in a far corner, dressed in a tuxedo and pleaded short." Sonny Liston says Casius may need a few friends and a police escort when he meets him.

Widespread Infiltration of Legitimate Businesses By Underworld: Gambling, Loan Sharking Pay Costs

FRANK ALLEN

WASHINGTON - Underworld infiltration of legitimate business now is so widespread that hundreds of large and small enterprises throughout the country are either owned or controlled by vice elements.

In this increasingly sinister trend, racketeers are turning to banks and loan institutions. Definitely known instances of this are the following:

-A bank in a prosperous Detroit suburb is in the grip of members of the Detroit Cosa Nostra. Henchmen of Joe Zerilli, a leader of the notorious mob, readily obtain loans from this bank with little or no security.

-A Virginia bank was systematically looted by two hoodlum gangs operating through an apparently respectable front.

-Using that device, a St. Louis racketeer is strongly suspected of dominating a bank in that area.

-Owning major interests in the First National Service & Discount Corp., New York City were leading Mafia members, among them Michael Genovese, younger brother of the notorious Vito Genovese, as testified to the N.Y. State loan shark probe.

In addition to moving into banking and lending, there is mounting hoodlum infiltration, chiefly through fronts of other profitable business fields - real estate, auto agencies, building supplies, hotels and motels, trucking, clothing factories, food processors, dairies and dairy products, undertaking establishments, restaurants, and night clubs.

One of the best known Manhattan night spots is deemed racket-controlled. Local authorities so far have not been able to prove that, but they are fully convinced of it.

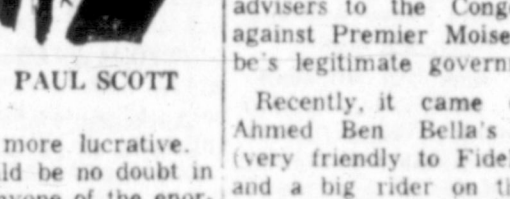

Hoodlums have long had their tentacles on garbage and waste removal, laundries and linen services, vending machine enterprises, race tracks, resorts, entertainment agencies and entertainers, beverage concerns, both alcoholic and non-alcoholic.

The extent of hoodlum infiltration of legitimate business is difficult to ascertain.

There is no doubt of its magnitude and steady growth. But concrete - statistics are difficult to detail because much of this activity is carried on through fronts of various kinds.

The Nation's Press

ARMING THE CONGO REBELS (N.Y. Daily News)

PAUL SCOTT

Red China has been known for some time to have been smuggling arms and military advisers to the Congo rebels against Premier Moise Tshombe's legitimate government.

Recently, it came out that Ahmed Ben Bella's Algeria (very friendly to Fidel Castro, and a big rider on the U. S. gravy train) is similarly helping the Congo rebels and missionary and nun-killers. Same as to Kwame Nkrumah's Ghana and G. A. Nasser's United Arab Republic (Egypt) - both friendlier to Moscow than to us.

Soviet Russia itself, according to Communist news sources in Cairo, is now joining this mob of helpers of the Congo rebels.

It all reminds you of the way Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia poured men and war materials into Spain, during its 1936-39 civil war - though on one doubts that either Moscow or Peking will give the Congo rebels nuclear weapons to play with.

One thing, though, no sane human can doubt, namely that Communists are consistent and persistent troublemakers, with whom decent persons cannot safely do business.

The high interest rate has the effect of keeping the borrower perpetually in debt and making it most difficult for him ever to become solvent. Such situations usually are resolved with the "shylock" taking a sizable interest in the company, or complete control, with the owner retained as a front to conduct the business which has been taken away from him.

Small night clubs in New York are among the more popular targets of underworld loan sharks. Many have fallen to hoodlum control through "foreclosure" by "shylocks."

CRACKING DOWN - The FBI has as thoroughly infiltrated the underworld as it has the communist party. This is graphically demonstrated by the following impressive results: Through February of this year, FBI investigations led to 110 convictions under the three laws enacted by Congress aimed at interstate gambling and racketeering. In addition, the FBI has furnished other law enforcement agencies - city, county, state and federal - more than 13,000 items of criminal information a month. Also, the Internal Revenue Service, acting on FBI information, smashed a $1 million bookmaking ring with the arrest and conviction of 15 . . . A Cosa Nostra ("milly") is headed by a boss, . . . is selected by a "commission." The boss names all other officers, including an under boss, a neutral adviser, and captains. Members are referred to as "soldiers," "button men" or "good fellows."

Mrs. - James, I'm convinced I heard that man on the street corner insult me as we went by.

Mr. (looking back nervously) - Well, you can't expect me to have the courage of your convictions.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Advice to a Thief: Legal Theft Easier Than Illegal

By SAM CAMPBELL
The jails are filled with stupid thieves. The smart ones are outside. The obvious solution to overcrowded jails is some kind of school where the dumb thieves can smarten up enough to stay out of the clutches of the lawmen.

The biggest mistake that jail-type thieves make is to steal illegally. Fellows, there is a better way. You won't have to change your basic character to follow it. But you must understand that modern theft will require a greater finesse in modus operandi, a modern technique.

Be Respectable

For instance, picking a man's pocket is likely to get you clobbered. And, you run the additional risk of not getting all the victim's money. He may have wealth stashed away in the form of investments or property. Last but not least, picking pockets illegally is a needless sacrifice of prestige.

Learn to be a respectable thief. Live the easy way. That's what you can learn at the theft school.

Okay, here is lesson No. 1. Instead of running FROM the law, why not run the law? By that I mean why not join some official agency, like a planning commission, or school board? Better yet get on the payroll at any City Hall.

Soft Spot

Don't get me wrong, dumb thief, I'm not saying EVERYBODY on planning commissions, school boards, or in City Halls are crooks. Nope, I'm just saying that's a good place for a thief to be.

Take the building department. In that job, if you are so minded, you can put the squeeze on. All you have to do is to become an expert on the building code. Learn how to stick that gun in the builder's ribs when he's up to his arms in interest payments. Man, he will pay off like a second trust deed. Wise up, boy, don't use a gun, use the law.

Join the De-Gooders

If you've got the time to spare, be a do-gooder on the side. Join a planning commission. You'll find out where the action is there. You can learn more about somebody else's private business there in a shorter time than if you opened their mail. Your opinion will become valuable. Your favor will be sought.

On a school board, dumb thief, the details are very sly. But the principle is easy enough. School boards spend a lot of money. They make a lot of buying decisions, in other words. One hand washes another, as the saying goes. You help the other fellow who's selling to the schools, and - if you have something to sell - he will help you. He will understand the game.

Picking pockets is penny ante. Better to get the victim turn pockets inside out eagerly. When he's shaken them clean, make him put his property on the block because he can't pay the taxes on it.

Don't take just part of it, dumb thief, take it all. Leave the poor idiot just enough so that he'll keep on working - for you. Be a legal eagle, not a jailbird. Learn to feather your nest.

WASHINGTON:

Soviet Arms Budget Cut Is 'Phony'

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) - The just-announced Soviet "arms spending cut" is a snare and a delusion.

A few days ago, Soviet Premier Aleksei Kosygin announced he was "reducing" the Soviet military budget by 500 million rubles ($550 million at the Soviet exchange rate) for 1965.

Kosygin said that he "expected" U. S. military spending reductions in return. He claimed he was making these "cuts" to ease tensions and promote world peace.

Careful analysis by U. S. budget experts shows:

- In one part of the new Brezhnev-Kosygin budget, there is, it's true, a military cut of 500 million rubles. In normal Russian practice this is expected to end up in around a 400 million ruble ($440 million) reduction in spending.

- In another part of the same budget, however, there's a research and development increase of 400 million rubles ($400 million). Historically, such budget increases have been spent in full.

This increase and this decrease roughly cancel out. For the research and development budget is where most of the advanced work on intercontinental missiles, antimissile-missile defenses and other advanced military studies are funded.

A year ago Nikita Khrushchev made almost identical military shifts. He cut the "military" budget by 600 million rubles, (which turned out to be a 430 million ruble cut in spending). He increased the research and development budget by 500 million rubles, which apparently was spent in full.

At the time, these shifts reportedly made key Russian military leaders angry with Khrushchev. They wanted both big armies and larger research.

This is, in actuality, apparently a cutback in spending for large standing armies and conventional forces and an increase in work on developing nuclear systems ad other advanced concepts.

This shift, as noted above, is in line with the trend Khrushchev started several years back after analyzing U. S. military plans.

Otherwise, say the analysts, this '65 Brezhnev - Kosygin budget is a "Santa Claus budget" with something in it for everyone (on paper). It's the same sort of a budget that was formulated immediately after the death of Stalin, when the new rulers wanted to keep every body happy.

There's the promise of more housing for city dwellers, of increased production of fertilizer for farmers, of a greater emphasis on consumer goods for everybody. There's a provision for widespread wage increases and a program for giving factory managers more say in how they run their plants.

In this budget speech, Kosygin predicted for 1965 the greatest rise of Soviet national income in history.

American analysts don't expect these promises to be kept in full.
