Around And About The Sports Circuit

By Tom Beasley DOWN AT the University of Texas today they're hailing a new coach—Dana X. Bible. A few interesting notes on Bible, gathered from here and there: Since shifting from Texas A. & M. to Nebraska ten years ago, Dana has become recognized as one of the best coaches in the country. Much of that reputation he already had when he left A. & M. His Nebraska teams have been constant winners of the Big Six title. NOW WE go back to his first three years of coaching at A. & M., to a truly remarkable span of victory, that ranks up to or ahead of anything the all-time record show:

- 1917 A&M 66, Austin College 0. A&M 98, Daniel University 0. A&M 20, Southwestern U. 0. A&M 27, LSU 0. A&M 35, Tulane 0. A&M 7, Baylor 0. A&M 7, Texas 0. A&M 10, Rice 0. A&M 270, Opponents 0.

THE SEASON of 1918 is omitted because Bible was away at war. The three-year point total is 837 to 7. In the first two years, Bible's teams were undefeated and rolled up 545 points to none for the enemy in 16 games. For 26 straight games, he was undefeated and not scored on.

CHOCK SMITH and LeRoy Wood, who were not stated for the trip to Barnhart because of scholastic difficulties, were NOT falling in their grades, they tell us. It was simply because they had not taken their examinations. Sorry, boys.

BIBLE TO BUILD TEXAS GRID MACHINE

DANA GETS TEN YEAR CONTRACT

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Dana X. Bible, abdicating monarch of Big Six football, faced a new challenge today—rebuilding the crumbled gridiron glory of the University of Texas. A 10-year contract with the veteran mentor, whose Nebraska teams have been almost perennial champions, was approved by the Longhorn board of regents after a 2-day conference. His salary, though unannounced, unofficially was said to be $15,000—$7,000 more than the university president gets. Bible boarded a train to return to Lincoln after declaring he would present his formal resignation to University of Nebraska officials—probably Saturday—before signing a Texas contract. He said he expected to return shortly to organize his staff and prepare for spring training. The genial mentor, whose Cornhusker teams won six Big Six conference titles in eight years, will return to familiar territory. From 1917 to 1924 inclusive, except for 1918 when he was overseas with the U. S. air corps, Bible coached at Texas A. and M. college. The Aggies annexed five Southwest conference championships under him. Grid football of the state university, arch-rivals of Texas A. & M., thus can expect a change of mid-fare with Bible's combined short punt, single and double wing-back formations, featuring a deceptive power rather than overhead attack, replacing the modified Notre Dame system of Jack Chevigny, who retired at the close of the season. The Longhorns finished in the conference cellar the past two years. Bible refused to name his assistants although rumors persisted Blair Cherry, coach of the Amarillo state high school champions, and Ted Twomey, line coach under Chevigny, might be.

Dean To Play With Augusta Of S Atlantic

Jack (Dopey) Dean, who went up from the Big Spring sandlots a couple of years ago to spend a short time with the St. Louis Browns in spring training, the San Antonio Missions of the Texas League and several East Texas League teams, winding up last season by playing with three teams in the South Atlantic League, leaves Sunday for Augusta, Ga., where he finished the season. Dean was in training last season at Macon, played for a while at Durham, N. C., DeLand, Fla., and then went to Augusta, Ga., Class B. Augusta, to be operated this season by the New York Yankees, will have a new manager, according to word received by Dean. "Dopey" pitched about twenty-five games in the South Atlantic last season. HOWS THIS FOR ROUND OF GOLF

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 22 (AP)—Joe Zeimans, assistant professional at the Miami Beach country club, amazed his opponents—and himself—by using only six strokes for the first three holes of the tough La Gorce golf course. In a friendly match yesterday Zeimans sunk an eight-foot putt for a birdie three on the first hole, a 185-yard mauler for an eagle three on the par four second and then scored the 175-yard third. Then he slowed up a little, to come in with a mere 30, five under par.

'Daffy' Dean Is Signed By Branch Rickey

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT DALLAS, Jan. 22 (AP)—One-half of the Dean brothers act was in the fold today and Branch Rickey was talking a 1937 National League pennant for his St. Louis Cardinals. The dynamic vice-president and general manager of the Redbird system took just three minutes of Paul (Daffy) Dean's time yesterday to get his name on a contract. He admitted, however, there was no time limit on the signing of Brother Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, in the throes of his annual holdout act. Paul, reinstated yesterday after voluntarily retiring from baseball during the 1936 season because of a lame throwing arm, blew into Rickey's hotel suite ready to negotiate. He admitted he was in a hurry to hotfoot back to the hospital and see his 48-hour-old son, Paul Jerome Dean, nine months, one ounce of prospective pitcher. Rickey was stumped on the "Dizzy" Dean case. "Three weeks ago Dizzy wanted $100,000. Ten days later he had lowered his demand to $50,000. I'm going to wait 20 more days and maybe he'll be down in our range. You sports writers tell me all I know about Dizzy. He's not really a bad actor." Unless there is a decided change in the remainder of the National League club rosters, the Cardinals will walk in with the flag, Rickey said. "After the 1936 season I predicted we would win the pennant in 1937. We did—and I haven't made a forecast since. This year I feel our pitching is stronger and the team has more speed. Unless the rest of the clubs have strengthened in a way I don't know about, we should win." Rickey said the pitching staff was the strongest in Cardinal history. He named the Deans, Winford, Lon Warneke, and Jess Haines as his mainstays and then brushed off his best adjectives on several rookies.

HORNSBY TURNS 3 BIG DEALS

By SID FEDER NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers apparently have seen in the papers that their ace pitcher, Van Mungo, insists on a pay increase this year. At any rate, the club announced today the big right hander's 1937 contract will call for a salary higher than he received a year ago. Whether the terms have been boosted to meet the $1,500 or $2,500 increase Mungo was reported seeking is not known. The Dodgers said "many players received increases" in the club's contracts, mailed out today and Mungo was one of them. The temperamental fireballer was supposed to have received $12,500 in 1936. If you don't think Trader Hornsby came out on top in that three for three deal with the Indians, the record books may change your mind. Hornsby gets Joe Vosmik, who has shown plenty of class in his seven years in the big time. And the records show he has a poor season every third year, which may explain that 1936 performance. Also, he was head and shoulders over Joe Solters in fielding. In Billy Knickerbocker, Hornsby gets a 25-year-old shortstop, compared to the aging Lynn Lary at 31. And if the Rajah can't take Billy in hand and improve his defensive work, then he's been slipping lately. Tagging the bases: Ole Fox Clark Griffith is plenty busy over pitcher Buck Newsum's request to be traded by the Senators. . . . Griff says he'll hang onto Buck now. . . . But a top-flight catcher, like the Browns' Rolfe Hemsley or the Indians' Frankie Pylak, may make him change his mind. . . . Texas Christian university's pass catching end, Lou Meyer, may wind up at second base in organized baseball.

ANOTHER FOOTBALL MIRACLE

By EDDIE BRITT NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Dana Zenophon Bible has worked a lot of football miracles in his day, but never one equal to this week's triumph in Texas. He told the University of Texas regents he wouldn't consider coaching their football team for less than five years. They offered him a 10-year contract, and then he made them wait for an answer. As a diplomat he makes Anthony Eden post signs all around his office: "Sure, don't trot." "The team look like Stranger Lewis. As a worker, he's hard to touch. He that wins is the team with the finish." "He's always pointing these out to his men." This recent move suggests a new sign for coaches: "Never accept a five year contract if you can get one for 10." And shrewd moves: Billy Jurgen, Cubs' shortstop, lives in Brooklyn. . . . Billy decided recently to buy a house over there. . . . Only trouble was he couldn't very well commute between Brooklyn and Chicago in the summer. . . . So he went to "Bolly" Grimes, the new Brooklyn manager, and made him an offer to rent the house in summer. "Bolly" who naturally isn't very sure of setting down for good in Brooklyn, accepted. . . . Newest sport around here is mouse fancying. . . . Great stuff, too. . . . Addicts have organized the American Mouse Fanciers Association, with the Rev. Reginald W. Farrier as head man. . . . Leo Diegel says his friendship with the Duke of Windsor was responsible for the English letting the golf press use the front door. . . . He says he walked up to the front door at St. Andrews and was stopped. . . . Then says Leo, he protested violently, and so did the Prince. . . . Finally he was allowed to go in. . . . The English press took up the incident and it did much to break down the discrimination.

Sports Slants

By TOM PAPROCKI (Associated Press Sports Writer) Clark Griffith, the silver-haired owner of the Washington Nationals, has several weighty problems on his mind. The weightiest, without a doubt, is Catcher Frank Hogan, sometimes called "Shanty," though "Shanty" no longer describes the gigantic backstopper. "Big Barn" would be more like it. Last fall, after Hogan had gone to Washington's rescue late in the season after Cliff Bolton had "bolted," Griff let the huge catcher know that there was no complaint on his work at the plate and behind it. But the little or perhaps one should say big question of Hogan's weight was something else again. Griff made it plain that he did not care to have a 265-pounder hanging around Washington. Now, if Hogan was really serious about holding down a job in the big leagues, he should be willing to melt off a few pounds—about 40. To be exact. In other words, Griff promised Hogan that his job would be writing for him in the spring provided he showed up for training scaling no more than 225. Griffith was not unreasonable. He was willing to co-operate with the catcher to the extent of sending him to Hot Springs, Ark., for a couple of weeks before the team assembled. Hogan agreed to "play ball" with Griffith.

Old-Timers Of Baseball Were Rowdy

CLEVELAND, Jan. 22 (AP)—What did the old-timers of baseball have that present-day players don't have? "Umphreys," Tris Speaker, named to baseball's hall of fame this week in a poll of major league writers, said today. "Fellows like Cobb and Hornsby and myself were called colorful because we'd put on a show," said the former outfielder. His likeminded will appear with other baseball greats in a memorial at Cooperstown, N. Y., where the national pastime originated 98 years ago. "I could come racing in from center field, purple with rage, push the umpire in the chest and tell him what I thought of him." "When I was through a fellow like Tom Connolly, Jack Sheridan or Billy Evans would say, 'Okay, Tris. That's your story. You know mine—and I'm running this game. Get out there and play ball.'" "Players today are afraid to open their mouths, especially since the major leagues decided to enforce the rule that fines must be paid by the players and not by their clubs. I don't say the umpires shouldn't run the game, but they certainly ran it in my time—but they also kept the customers liked a show. You don't help baseball by putting a star player out of the game."

Shouted, Raved At Ump; Speaker, Cobb, Hornsby Colorful Players

Colorful players of the past, including Tris Speaker, Babe Ruth, and others, were known for their rowdy behavior on the field. They would shout, rave at umpires, and even push them around. This was considered a part of the game at the time. However, modern baseball has become much more professional and disciplined. Players are now expected to control their emotions and follow the rules. The umpires also have become more authoritative and are less likely to be intimidated by the players. This change in the game has made it more exciting for fans, but it has also made it less colorful and more predictable.

Card Boss Stumped On 'Dizzy' Case; Talkative Dean Asks $100,000

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT DALLAS, Jan. 22 (AP)—One-half of the Dean brothers act was in the fold today and Branch Rickey was talking a 1937 National League pennant for his St. Louis Cardinals. Pro Golfers In Another Gold Scramble

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Over the long, flat municipal golf course here professional and amateur links stars opened an onslaught on par today in the first round of the 72-hole $3,000 Sacramento Open tournament. The divot digging brigade, 125 strong and numbering most of the outstanding players in the country, faced chilly weather, blustery winds and a stiff par 72 test in the latest scramble for gold and glory on the winter tournament schedule. First prize money is $750. Expected to set the pace were Harry Cooper of Chicago, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open; Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who headed the parade in last week's Oakland Open; Ralph Guidahl of Chicago, second high money winner of the winter season; Henry Beard of Hershey, Pa., John Revolta of Evanston, Ill. The second round will be played tomorrow with the 36-hole final Sunday. The sixty low scoring professionals and the ten low amateurs of the first 36 holes will qualify for the two final rounds.

Coaches Hail Bible's Return To Southwest

DALLAS, Jan. 22 (AP)—Southwest conference coaches joined today in hailing the return of Coach Dana X. Bible to the loop as adding new prestige to the conference but offering stiffer competition for the other members. Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist said Bible "stands for everything fine in the game." "His acceptance of the Texas job is a compliment to the conference," Bell added. "I'm glad he's back but his teams probably will make it tough for the rest of us." Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer of Texas Christian said: "I think the conference is very fortunate to get Bible back, though he may be a little rough on us in the matter of wins and losses." Coach Jimmy Kitts at Rice said he was "extremely pleased." "It is one of the best things that could happen to the conference," he said.

Lifetime Ban On Odessa Horseman

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22 (AP)—The case of the alleged "ringer" horse, Excote, alias "Blue Foot," neared an end today following action of the Riverside Park, Kansas City, stewards in barring from the turf Paul Harvey, former owner of the filly. President Stewart E. K. Thornton of Riverside, wintering here, advised the Los Angeles Turf club of the lifetime ban placed on Harvey, Odessa, Tex. horseman. Harvey, in an affidavit signed last week in Texas, admitted changing the name of the mare from Excote to "Blue Foot," the switch taking place at the Riverside track last year. Karl Heesley, prominent Kansas horse owner, claimed the filly under the name of "Blue Foot." He brought her to Santa Anita park but never entered her in a race. A mysterious long distance call from Texas led to an investigation by Heesley and the disclosure that the real Blue Foot was on a farm at Midland, Tex., and the filly in his stable was really Excote.

First Basketball Coach Seldom Played the Game

By WHITNEY MARTIN LAWRENCE, Kas., Jan. 22 (AP)—The young instructor, a soccer ball in hand, addressed the group of lightly-clad youngsters whose gaze wandered questioningly toward two peach baskets, one nailed to the balcony railing at each end of the gymnasium. "The idea," he said, "is for one side to get the ball in a basket without running with the ball, striking it with the fist, or holding, tripping, pushing or shouldering an opponent. Let's see, there are 18 here. That will make nine on a side." That scene, enacted at the Springfield, Mass., Y.M.C.A. college back in 1891, marked the origin of basketball. The originator, now sturdy, erect, 75-year-old Dr. James A. Naismith of the University of Kansas physical education department, expressed keen interest today in plans for the re-enactment in Madison Square Garden, New York, January 27, of that first game. "I recall very clearly the boys' reaction when they entered the gymnasium that day and saw the baskets," chuckled Dr. Naismith. They said: "Oh, oh, just another game," but full of vigor and vitality, they welcomed any change from the 1-2-3-4 routine of dumb-bells and Indian clubs. "Yes, that first game was a pretty wild affair, but the boys soon caught on." Oddly enough, Dr. Naismith never played the game, except a few times on faculty teams.

DUKES SWAMP AMERADA OILERS

HOBBES, N. M., Jan. 22—"Mileaway" Baker's Big Spring Dukes gave the New Mexico "natives" a flash of cage trickery here Thursday night by swamping the Amerada Oilers, 51-15, before a small crowd that braved a cold snap to see the West Texans in action. The Oilers never had a chance. They took a 4-0 lead at the beginning of the battle but once Tommy Tuttle, Jack Smith and company started firing, there remained little doubt as to the outcome. The Dukes had a 16-4 advantage at quarter time and boosted that to 25-16 at the end of the second period. Cotton Clover, Amerada manager, used ten men in an attempt to stop the Texans but any defense the Hobbs five tried to throw up proved ineffective. Tuttle took high scoring honors with a total of ten field goals while all the Dukes had a hand in the parade. Smith trailed with 16 points. A shining light on the offense said defense was Jake Morgan who took the place of the ailing Horace Wallin. "Smiles" retired after playing a half and Jake came in to sink three field goals and a free toss. Box score: BIG SPRING—fg ft pf tp Hutto, f 10 0 0 20 J. Name Successor To Tucker On Tuesday

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission will meet at Fort Worth next Tuesday to select a successor to Will J. Tucker, secretary of the commission. It was announced today by Chairman J. L. Showers from his office in Vernon. The game commission, meeting at San Antonio early this week, asked the resignation of Tucker today, Showers said. Tucker has declined to comment on the move, pending formal notification. Another chance. It is likely to be his last opportunity, for in the major leagues, as elsewhere, nobody loves a fat man.

come members of his staff. Others, however, thought he would bring part of his Nebraska staff with him and reorganize the Texas set-up completely.

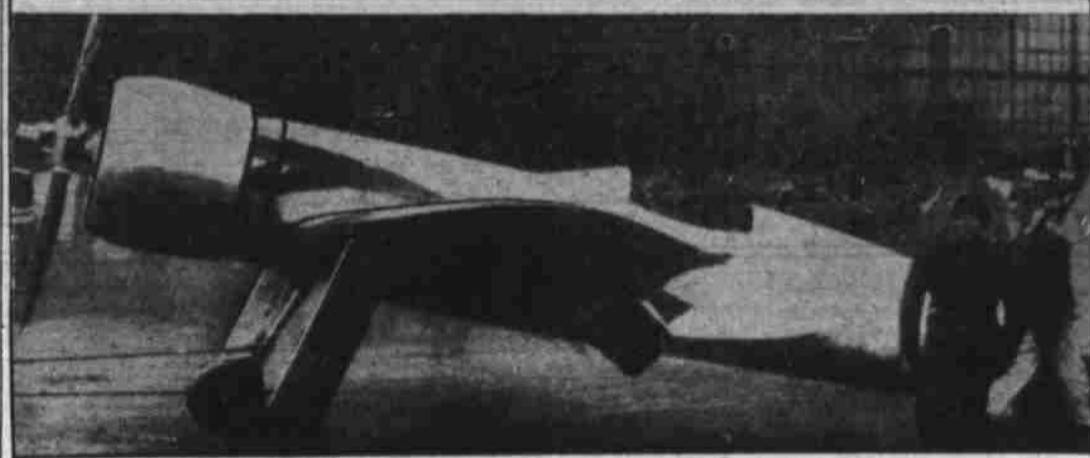

Employment of Bible caused rejoicing among the student-body and alumni of the university. President H. Y. Benedict of the university, who had stated he opposed paying coaches salaries in excess of administrators and professors, approved Bible, saying "assuredly I shall give him my fullest cooperation."

Bible commented as follows: "We have had a fine conference. We have had a fine conference, which all groups are in accord are most satisfactory." He said he would request a meeting with Chancellor Burnett at the athletic board of the Nebraska school Saturday.

Delay in agreement between Bible and regents was attributed to Bible's unusually high salary and long-term contract demands. It was believed the regents finally met his terms, although some thought there was a compromise. All details remained cloistered in strictest secrecy. A definite salary figure probably will be announced after Bible resigns formally at Nebraska.

Bible's contacts with eastern and mid-eastern grid powers gave rise to speculation whether efforts might be made to fill the open date of December 4 on the

Questions That Some Folks Ask

About Cardui Benefit For Mal-Nutrition
Thousands of women testify Cardui has helped them to overcome mal-nutrition and to ease many of the functional pains of menstruation.

"What is meant by 'helping' to overcome malnutrition?"
Cardui contains extracts of two plants which are classed among the "biters" in medicine because they are known to increase the flow of digestive juices—to improve digestion—so there is a craving for sufficient food for the body's needs, and by their action more energy (or strength) is obtained from the food eaten. The food, of course, brings the additional strength, but Cardui serves as the means to this end by its good influence on the digestive system.

Baseball And Football Are Leading Sports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—In America the national sport is baseball; the world over it's football. The game is played in almost every nation. Countries may have other sports peculiar to their own section, but virtually all have soccer.

Soccer is played in the United States, too, but has been edged into the background by American football. The American style game is played in only a few other nations and hasn't the popular general appeal of soccer.

Some nations have college, club and county teams and many also have professional soccer clubs. There are regional and national championships in the various countries. Italy won the soccer championship in the 1936 Olympic games.

In most other countries, the admission price to such games is much smaller than is charged to American college contests. The attendance ranges from 10,000 to 20,000 for major county games to 100,000 and more for national and international championship competitions.

Sammy Byrd Paces Baseball Tourney

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 22 (AP)—There was much talk of "popping a fly into the cup" and "slapping a home run down the fairway" today while the professional baseball boys swung into the second 15 holes of the national baseball players golf tournament.

Sammy Byrd won first day honors. He scored 70, one-under par for a one-stroke lead over Garland Braxton, Milwaukee pitcher. Byrd formerly was with the New York Yankees and now is with Rochester, N. Y.

Trade Helped By Weather

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Diversity of demand occasioned by the vagaries of weather in various sections of the country enabled retail trade to make a better showing this week, Dun & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review of business.

Wide sweeps of temperature spread needs through the entire range of offerings, the agency said, with special promotions bolstering volume in areas where mild weather prevailed.

"Reorders to freshen current inventories and preparations for early spring merchandising events extended the expansion of buying in wholesale markets," the review said.

"Although industries unaffected by labor tangles advanced their operating rates, the steady flow of new business resulted in slow backlog reductions in some divisions."

Retail sales for the country as a whole were estimated at from 2 to 5 per cent ahead of the preceding week and 10 to 15 per cent ahead of the same week in 1936. Percentage increases in the major geographical regions were: New England 15 to 20; middle west to 10 to 16; eastern 10 to 15; northwest 8 to 12; south 10 to 14; southwest 15 to 25; and Pacific Coast 8 to 12.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE
Room 1, Settles Hotel
"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, January 24.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations" (Psalms 100:5).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou art great, and doest wondrous things; thou art God alone. Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth." (Psalms 86:10,11).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Material sense never helps mortals to understand Spirit, God. Through spiritual sense only, man comprehends and loves Deity. The various contradictions of the Science of Mind by the material senses do not change the unseen Truth, which remains forever intact." (page 481).

AMARILLO PASTOR TO SPEAK AT CHURCH PROGRAM TUESDAY

The First Christian church will celebrate its third "All-Church Night" banquet next Tuesday night in the church dining rooms at 7 o'clock. The speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian church in Amarillo, and one of the most popular preachers in the whole brotherhood of the Christian church, according to Rev. G. C. Schurman who has known him intimately since they were students together in Drake university.
The program will be strictly a church membership and invitation affair. All members of the church will bring their dinners with enough food for themselves and invited guests. They are urged to bring a little extra all around as the church has invited some guests from every church in the district to hear Dr. Snodgrass.

NO ARMISTICE

Parties After Funds, Will Continue Campaigning

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Plans of the major parties to raise continuous campaign funds indicated today there would be no political armistice as at the start of the first Roosevelt administration.
Officials of both the democratic and republican national committees looked first to elimination of the deficits—about $500,000 and $900,000 respectively—and then to generous sums to keep the party viewpoints constantly before the voters.

W. Forbes Morgan, democratic treasurer, set a $10,500,000 goal for contributions before the 1940 presidential election under his "systemized control" plan accepted by the committee yesterday.
Chairman Joe Hamilton and other republicans were expected soon to complete their financing plans.

FD-Runciman Talk Seen As Forerunner To Trade Treaty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Proposals of Anglo-American commercial understanding expressed hope today the visit of a British cabinet officer to the White House might speed conversations looking to a reciprocal trade agreement.
Authoritative sources believed Walter Runciman's meeting with President Roosevelt tomorrow will provide opportunity for a general discussion on trade relations.
Officials of both nations were silent, however, on whether a treaty to promote commerce between the two countries would be discussed.
Runciman called his Washington visit "purely social," the president stressed their long personal friendship, and the state department, as if to emphasize the unofficial nature of the call, arranged for formal reception.

Two Of New-Born Quadruplets Die After Ambulance Dash To Hospital

MONTREAL, Jan. 22—(Canadian Press)—Two of the Rondeau quadruplets, rushed to St. Justine hospital in a 40-mile dash over icy roads during which their ambulance crashed into a snow plow, died today.

Hospital attendants announced the dead babies were Joseph Archille Alfred and Marie Lise, third and fourth in the order of birth.
The two boys and two girls were born yesterday to Mrs. Arcade Rondeau, 40-year-old farmwife of St. Thomas, Que.

Fearful the infants, weighing little more than two pounds each, could not live unless placed in incubators, physicians ordered them brought here before dawn.

All reached the hospital alive and apparently unharmed in the accident, doctors said.
At the end of his mercy dash, the ambulance driver was carried from his seat on a stretcher. He, the doctor, and one of two nurses accompanying the quadruplets were injured in the crash.

Best Recipe For Doughnuts Taken From Long List Of Favored Ones

By MARTHA LOGAN

Recently we carried out a doughnut test in the Martha Logan kitchen. You can imagine how that is done. We looked up most of the standard recipes for doughnuts. After eliminating recipes that were almost identical, we had some half dozen left. We tried all of these. It was really very interesting because we had a regular tasting conference. As a result of this we decided upon one recipe. Here it is:

- Doughnuts
2 tablespoons shortening,
1 cup milk,
3 eggs,
1 cup sugar,
3 tablespoons baking powder,
1 teaspoon salt,
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind,
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon,
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg,
4-4 1/2 cups flour.

Cream the sugar and shortening together. Add unbeaten eggs and beat all together until quite creamy. Add lemon rind. Add the liquid and dry ingredients alternately. Roll out to 1-4 inch thickness and cut with doughnut cutter. Place in ice box and allow to "ripen" one hour. Fry in deep fat at 370 degrees F. for three minutes or until nicely browned. To obtain a smooth surface on the doughnut the following method is best:

Place doughnuts in basket and place basket in kettle of lard at right temperature. Do not turn the doughnuts when they come to the top of the fat, but allow them to fry that way until the edges are quite brown. Turn with two skewers and allow to cook on other side until well browned. Remove and drain on brown paper. Sugar when cool.

You know, the reason why most of us do not make fritters, croquettes, and doughnuts more often is because we do not have the right equipment. A heavy kettle basket to fit in it, is not very expensive and if you don't have to fuss around trying to find a suitable kettle, you will probably feel more like giving the family doughnuts and French fries more often. Then there is the question of a fat. One must have not only a good fat but enough fat. If we do not, doughnuts and croquettes will have uneven shapes. Also, we cannot keep the fat at the correct temperature to fry the food satisfactorily.

We have found that a 4-pound pail of lard is just right. It's economical to purchase lard in this manner. Then, too, after the fat is clarified and strained you have a container in which to keep it until you are ready to use it again.
Did your mother use lard for deep frying? If she did, then you will be like many of the rest of us. We like the flavor of foods fried in lard. Perhaps it's because the fresh warm doughnuts our grandmothers and mothers used to give us on cold winter days had been fried in lard that we like its flavor.

Here are some facts that even you experienced doughnut makers may not have discovered:
If the dough is too stiff, the doughnuts may crack and they will be small and uneven. On the other hand, if the dough is too soft, the doughnuts will absorb too much fat and the shapes will be irregular.

Too much leavening agent will make the doughnuts porous and they will absorb a great deal of fat. If the dough is too warm, or if it has too much sugar or too much fat in it, these things will also make the doughnuts absorb fat.

Too much leavening agent will often cause the doughnuts to crack.

Did you know that if you mix the doughnuts too much you will have "tough ones" as a result? So handle them as little as possible.

Of course the length of time of frying is important. The time should be as short as possible at the temperature used. A long frying period increases the fat absorption.

You will find that doughnuts are easier to work with if you chill the dough for about an hour. Longer chilling makes the dough too cold and it will reduce the temperature of the fat too much when the doughnuts are dropped into it.

By the way, remember always to keep the temperature of the fat

HER CHEERY GREETINGS BRING $500

For 18 years Mrs. Maudine Collins (above), Kansas City waitress, smiled a cheery good morning daily to James K. Morris, a patron in the restaurant where she worked. After Morris' death his will revealed he had left his entire estate—$500 and some jewelry—to her because of her daily smile. (Associated Press Photo)

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT IN AND FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS, AS, WACO DIVISION NO. 236—IN EQUITY J. M. HUBBERT VS.

TEMPLE TRUST COMPANY NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned has filed his application with the Clerk of the United States District Court in and for the Western District of Texas, Waco Division, for an order authorizing him to sell and convey to H. W. Smith and wife, Ella Smith, all of Lot Ten (10) in Block Five (5) of Highland Park Addition to the city of Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, together with all improvements thereon situated, and as nearly constant as possible. Do not drop the doughnuts too soon after the addition of fresh fat. If you sugar them before they are cold, the sugar will become soaked. And if you put them away, or pack them in the doughnut jar before they are cold, the crust will be soggy and greasy.

Today, or perhaps tomorrow, arm yourself with a pail of lard, a frying kettle and basket, or some metal skewers, and this new recipe and surprise the family with a big fat bowl heaped high with plump brown doughnuts.

Fowltrymen say hens can not maintain a high egg production during winter months unless they are properly managed.

Crocheted Tyrolean Vestee

By PEGGY ROBERTS
Pattern No. 603

The present fashion of wool vestees is one of the best ideas that's been hit upon lately. First, you can follow the Tyrolean style so attractively. Second, it's so convenient to have a little jacket to slip on, in the house, or to wear out under your suit or coat. And when it's as good looking as this one, you'll be eager to make it a regular part of your costume. Third, when spring and summer come, you'll still appreciate a little wool vestee to wear over light dresses. Finally, you'll be surprised at the simplicity of the stitches used in this smart, exclusive pattern. The rows are all even, with single and double crochet alternating; in one row, the single crochet comes over the double of the previous row, and vice versa. The pattern gives you stitch-by-stitch instructions for each of five individual sizes, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20; so, you will need no expert to help you. The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with diagrams to aid you; also what crochet hook and what material you will need. To obtain this pattern, send for No. 603 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Many Attend Program At ME Church

McMurry Chanters Open First Engagement Of Ten Day Tour Here

Despite inclement weather a large crowd attended the program presented by the McMurry College Chanters when they appeared at the First Methodist church Thursday evening for the opening engagement of a 10-day tour into West Texas and New Mexico. Thirty-two singers composed the group that sang under the direction of Gypsy Ted Sullivan Wylie, dean of McMurry fine arts. Soloists of the group are Anna Frances Kilpatrick, Abilene; Joyce Aray, Abilene; Josephine Palmer, Lorraine; Doris Miller, Coleman; Buena Vista Wulfsen, Colorado; Olivia Eastus, Abilene, soprano; Virginia McRae, Alamo, N. M., alto; Frank Cockrell, Avoca, and Weldon Morton, Abilene, tenors; Bob Butler, Farwell, and Cloy Lyles, Floydada, baritone. Special arrangements in the music were given by girls and boys quartets, girls sextet and octet, and the boys septet. Program numbers included: "The Gypsy Life" from Bohemian Girl (Balfe), "Lullaby" (Brahms), "Calm As the Night" (Bohm), "The Flower Fair" (Marsh), "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" (Spiritual), "In the Time of Roses" (Reichardt), "The Merry Life" (Italian Folk Song), "Mazurka," "When Day Fades" (Parks), "Song of Jolly Rogers" (Candlish), "Villia" from "The Merry Widow" (Lehar), "Two Little Love Bees" from "The Spring Maid" (Herbert), "Allah's Holiday" (Friml), "Italian Street Song" from "Naughty Marietta" (Herbert). The singers are making the tour by college bus with C. C. (Sing) Carter as student driver. Besides Mrs. Wylie they are accompanied by Rev. Lance Webb, pastor of the newly organized McMurry Methodist church. Mrs. Ida Smith has returned from a beauticians' show in El Paso.

Reading And Writing

By John Selby

You'd never guess who just has perpetrated a novel—or perhaps you would. It's Queen Marie of Roumania, the heroine of that spectacular American tour. The novel is precisely what you'd expect, whether she wrote it herself or had "help." It's a sweetly sentimental little thing about a wail brought up by the Jewish proprietor of a "curiosity shop" in a Roumanian town. Rachel is lovely, and old Baruch fears the word for her sake. So he keeps her for the most part in a certain room, the most remarkable decorative feature of which is a row of masks. Rachel falls in love with one of the masks, having nothing better to do. Then she leaves the shop for the world, and Roumania for Turkey. And she meets a face like that of the mask she loves, and tragedy follows. Should all this not be for you, Elizabeth Cambridge you may remember from her "Hostages to Fortune," which was her first novel and a good one. She has published two others since, neither comparable with the first. In "The Two Doctors" she approaches her beginning level—it is a quietly written story of the doings in a little English village when a young doctor took up practice there, directly under the nose of the physician who had for decades administered medicine and advice to his constituency. Most of the events are little events, but the total is more impressive than it often is in English novels of this familiar type. Some of our better mystery story

Night Beauty Ritual Faithfully Followed Results In Good Looks

A BEAUTY PREPARES FOR SLEEP

This modern beauty has finished her night beauty routine, leaving her skin smooth and soft. Ready for sleep, she wears one of the new Empire night dresses of sheer pink, pre-shrunk rayon crepe trimmed with lace. Soap (chosen for its quality and not for its perfume) and carefully rinsed off, or with a good cleansing cream that liquefies when it touches the skin. Most women prefer to remove the cream with paper cleansing tissues, which can be discarded immediately. Next comes a nourishing cream, spread over face and neck in a smooth coat and allowed to remain during the bath. Three things are important to that bath: (1) The right warm, even temperature that is neither too hot nor cold. (2) A good suds, soft facecloth and stiff brush. (3) Time to relax and doze a bit. The scrubbing process, once begun, should be quickly done and the rubdown given with a warm towel. Then, with a light, feathery touch, massage the cream into face and neck with a rotating movement. Finish with a dash of cold water and dry the face thoroughly. (No cold cream left on at night to horrify husbands and ruin pillow slaps.) Brush eyebrows and lashes smooth with a little oil, unbind the hair and brush it into its natural waves for the night.

Mrs. A. E. Pistole Holds Open House For Friends On Anniversary Of Wedding Date

In celebration of the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pistole, Mrs. Pistole held open house for a number of friends at her home, 1611 Runnels street, on Thursday afternoon. Guests were received informally by the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Blaha into the reception rooms that were attractively decorated with potted plants, carnations and other seasonal flowers. Callers included Mrs. E. O. Ellington, Mrs. J. B. Young, Mrs. V. Van Gieson, Mrs. R. E. Blas, Mrs. M. H. Bennett, Mrs. J. Y. Robb, Mrs. Robert Parks, Mrs. Harry Hurt, Mrs. Will Miner of Abilene, Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Mrs. Dave Watt, Mrs. R. L. Beale, Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Mrs. Shine Phillips, Mrs. John Hodges, Mrs. W. W. Inkman and Mrs. Georgia Oldham. Installation Of Radios In East Ward School Is Discussed At Meeting. East Ward Parent-Teacher Association Thursday discussed the possibility of buying radios for the school, planned donations and a social meeting and heard a clever New Year's program. The discussion was presided over by Mrs. James T. Brooks, president, and this group will install radios provided the necessary funds can be raised. Means of raising funds also were spoken of. Having donated cups to the school, members will take a plate to the next session to aid in convenience when entertainments are held. The Founder's Day program has been scheduled for the February meeting and will be held in the evening as a social affair at which fathers and friends will be guests. Under direction of Miss Sarah McClenden, pupils of her room gave a New Year's program, in which the seasons, the months, weeks, days, hours, minutes and seconds were represented by pupils each of whom gave a representative song. Miss McClenden's room won in the contest with 19 mothers present.

Church Class Entertained At Copelands

Baptist T. E. L. Class Has Business, Social Meeting Of Month

Plans for doing special work among members of the class who are ill were made at the business and social meeting of the T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist Church when they met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Copeland with Mrs. H. H. Squires as co-hostess. Mrs. L. L. Gulley, president, presided and Mrs. J. P. Dodge gave the devotional. Reports were heard from standing committees and on special charity work. As a courtesy to those members who are bedridden or ill at the present, the class plans a special surprise box. The program consisted of musical numbers and readings. Mrs. Travis Reed and Mrs. F. J. Gibson gave vocal numbers while Mrs. K. S. Beckett, teacher, read the recent address of Dr. Holland on "Moral and Spiritual Breaks for the Speed Age." Afterwards Mrs. R. C. Hatch gave a travel talk and Mrs. J. P. Dodge read "The Value of a Smile." Present were Mrs. K. S. Beckett, Mrs. Travis Reed, Mrs. L. L. Gulley, Mrs. L. M. Gary, Mrs. L. Grau, Mrs. J. R. Copeland, Mrs. H. C. Petty, Mrs. H. H. Squires, Mrs. G. E. McGuire, Mrs. J. R. Lones, Mrs. J. F. Gibson, Mrs. L. Lavne, Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Mrs. E. V. Hart, Mrs. Tom Cantrell, Mrs. R. C. Hatch, Mrs. F. J. Squires, Mrs. J. C. Douglas, Mrs. J. A. Boykin, Mrs. D. J. Dooley, Miss Louisa Squires and Miss Johnnie Lones.

MEETING POSTPONED

Meeting of the Epistol Sigma Alpha Sorority scheduled for this evening has been postponed until 8 o'clock next Friday evening at the home of Miss Roberta Gay, according to an announcement made early today.

Coahoma Club Fills Year Book At Meet

Members of the Coahoma Home Demonstration club meeting in the home of Mrs. E. A. Brown Wednesday afternoon filled in their yearbooks and heard reports from the council meeting and the program committee. This group also welcomed two new members. Mrs. G. W. Graham presided in the absence of Mrs. Alvin Lay and each member responded to roll call by giving a new year's resolution. Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel reported on the meeting of the council and urged members to attend sessions when possible. The program committee, composed of Mrs. A. D. Shive, Mrs. C. S. Coffman and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, stated the program plans were incomplete. Mrs. W. J. Fugler and Mrs. J. E. Adams were received as new members and Mrs. C. O. Clinton and Mrs. H. E. Gilmore were visitors of the afternoon. Mrs. Fugler will be hostess to the group at their next meeting when Miss Lora Farnsworth will give a discussion and display on bedspreads. Attending were Mrs. C. S. Coffman, Mrs. W. J. Fugler, Mrs. G. W. Graham, Mrs. W. J. Jackson, Mrs. O. B. O'Daniel, Mrs. A. D. Shive, Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Mrs. E. Gilmore, Mrs. C. O. Clinton, Mrs. R. L. Toehem, Mrs. J. E. Adams, and Mrs. V. H. Wyatt.

Presbyterians Set Wednesday Evening For Church Social

All Church Night at the Presbyterian church has been set for Wednesday evening between the hours of 7:30 and 9 o'clock when Dr. and Mrs. D. F. McConnell will greet church members, their families and friends. At the tea table members of the social committee of the auxiliary will preside with the young women of the league. All members who have united with the church during this pastorate will be special guests.

EYES TIRED AT 3

STILL FRESH AT 5

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE Lighting!

Every woman who uses her eyes a great deal for reading, sewing or typing, has experienced the tired, drawn feeling that comes after doing tedious eye work. Now Science says that much of this strain is due to improper lighting which throws unnecessary work on the eyes and makes wrinkles in the forehead.

Perhaps this is the cause of much of the fatigue, headaches and other troubles that result from reading or typing. But whether these discomforts are to be endured and eyesight endangered by constant strain depends almost entirely on the lighting.

PENNY WISE SAYS:

To be sure that the lighting in your home or at work is adequate for easy and comfortable seeing, call our office and a trained man will make a careful check with a light meter, without charge or obligation.

The I. E. S. Tri-lite Lamp

Place an I. E. S. Better Sight Lamp by your favorite chair or reading lounge and see for yourself how much easier it is to read... how much longer you can read without tiring your eyes. Buy this lamp at our store, your favorite department store, or at other stores which sell I. E. S. lamps.

Look for the I. E. S. tag on the lamps you buy. This is assurance of getting Good Light for Better Seeing.

PAYING COUNTY OFFICERS

Widespread condemnation of the county officers' salary system now in operation in Texas under recent constitutional amendment is being heard in all quarters of the state.

Large counties seem to be faring better under the new system than are the smaller counties. This could be due to the fact that in the larger counties there has been a reduction in the extravagant sums formerly paid to many office holders who under the fee system were given compensation all out of proportion to the service rendered.

One of the major reasons for dissatisfaction with the present plan for compensating county officers is that the state has failed to carry its proportionate share of the salary burden, as it is obligated by law to do.

This is not to suggest that the salary plan amendment is not sound in basis. It should not be abandoned until it has had a fair test. The law may contain inadequate provisions for financing the payment of salaries out of county funds.

The fee system was given adequate test and was discarded. It appears possible that a more satisfactory substitute plan could be devised and given a similar test.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—The talk in a late hour coffee shop, after taking in flora and fauna, finally got around to Ward Morehouse, Broadway columnist, playwright, also considered something of an authority on the Civil War.

"Where is Ward?" I inquired of Mark Barron, his one-time collaborator and former room mate. "I haven't seen him around lately."

"Well," drawled Mark, "after his defeat by a revolving door, he hasn't been feeling so good."

"What do you mean, defeat?" "Ward attacked that revolving door in Twenty-One the other night and it turned around and knocked hell out of him."

Then there is the sad plight of Gilbert Miller, who only has four shows running on Broadway. He and the managers of his four companies—"Victoria Regina," "Tovarich," "Promise," "The Country Wife"—have all been a little crazy recently, and Bernard Simon tells why:

"It's the complications of making out payrolls for the numerous persons in his employ," explains Professor Simon. "These were largely due to the fact that the first of the year did not coincide with the first of the week, and since deductions for the Social Security Board had to begin Jan. 1, plus deductions from the salaries of British players for the special assessments of the Federal Department of Internal Revenue, all manner of special calculations had to be made."

"For example, in the case of 'Regina,' which played five performances during the last week of the old year, and only three during the first week of 1937, each salary had to be divided so that one percent could be deducted from three-eighths, and the total amount could be paid on five-eighths of the week's salary."

"Similar monkey business had to be estimated in so far as total annual incomes should be estimated for British players acting for Mr. Miller in this country, so that they could pay their American income taxes by annual periods. "Probably something of this same arithmetical madness went on in the offices of every organization in making out weekly payrolls at the turn of the year, but because these things are always a little more complicated in the theater, due to things being figured out on a per performance basis, the Miller business managers were literally inundated in pieces of paper full of figures."

See, this explanation is evidence enough that only the blindest of ambitions can persuade a man to become a Broadway producer. You might make a success of it, and then look what happens! You go crazy trying to figure out who gets what, and why!

BEHIND THE NEWS

Roosevelt outlines his social philosophy. Inaugural speech seen as final chapter. Stronger federal government indicated. Social justice held basic principle.

Pass Key WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—Most of the politicians around President Roosevelt marked his inaugural office as another very good round-up speech. They privately called it a "rehash," saw nothing new in it of significance.

His literary cronies and social intimates knew different. The carefully chosen language did not pass above their heads. To them, it was the fourth and final chapter of Mr. Roosevelt's social philosophy, exposed more completely than ever before, the pass key to the next four years.

Their personal tip to all students of Roosevelt and government was to piece together his four speeches made in the last 15 days: his message to congress; his budget; his government reorganization program, and his inaugural. To those who do so, no surprises will come in the next four years.

In one brief sentence, their conception of the now complete Roosevelt working theory is this:

Create a permanent federal government, at least as big as it is now, but stronger, with increasing executive power to administer social justice; a seven billion dollar program, and his inaugural. To those who do so, no surprises will come in the next four years.

Note—You will get far more out of Mr. Roosevelt's speeches than out of the conflicting interpretations always handed out by his associates. His speeches maintain a consistency which is lost to public view in the fog of sideline interpretations from friends trying to pull him one way or another.

Revelations

The administration was inwardly perturbed about congressional consideration of the bill extending the president's devaluation power and the stabilization fund. The plan by which it was rushed through congress in three hours was carefully cooked up in advance. Inside orders were issued for the democrats to keep quiet and avoid debate. There was no doubt about the bill passing, but the administration wanted a little attention paid to it as possible.

Even so, two of the deepest secrets of government leaked out. One was that the two billion dollar fund shows a profit to date of probably several million dollars. This, however, is not enough to cover what it costs the treasury in interest to keep the two billions from debt retirement. The second secret disclosed was that only one-tenth of the fund has been set aside for use and only part of this $200,000,000 has actually been used.

The biggest hidden significance of the bill, however, lay in the length of the time extension—2 1/2 years. It means the administration expects no currency stabilization this year, probably not next year.

Observation

Mr. Roosevelt's graciousness was the main subject of behind-the-hand comment among those sitting near him at the inaugural ceremonies. The wet parade fell short of a new mark for political spectacles, but no one would have realized it, looking at the president. He gave the impression that he was the greatest scene he had ever seen. He stood, while other officials sat down. He waved his hand directly to all friends; bowed deeply to them; his hat was always doffed and swept lower to passing dignitaries and semi-dignitaries. (Vice President Garner lifted his hat once at the start and let that stand for the afternoon.)

Phrases

Since the president's inaugural, it is no longer "the new deal," but "the new order." Other presidential phrases which congressmen were quick to take up for future use were: "moralistic pay," "social justice" (borrowed from Father Coughlin); "era of good feeling"; wiping out the line between "the practical and the ideal"; helping "those who have little."

Phrases which many a congressman scratched out to forget included "Happy Valley" (to denote the future America); "the moral climate of America"; and "we are fashioning an instrument of unimaginable power."

Fame

Missing from the inaugural was the world renowned surgeon, Harvey Cushing. His daughter is Son Jimmy Roosevelt's wife. He received an invitation, but was recovering from the flu and decided not to come.

The story is being told that someone asked him if he intended to go, and the famous physician replied: "What's the use. If I go, all anyone will say is that Jimmy Roosevelt's father-in-law also attended."

The reason the usual applause was missing over the radio during Mr. Roosevelt's inaugural was not because the speech was uninteresting, but it was just impossible to hold an umbrella and applaud at the same time. Try it!

MARY UNDECIDED AS TO WEDDING PLANS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22 (AP)—Mary Pickford expressed uncertainty today over plans for her marriage to Charles (Buddy) Rogers, which friends had said would take place in England late in March. "Both Buddy and I want to be married on our own soil," Miss Pickford declared. "Despite all this talk we have not set a definite time nor are we at all positive the ceremony will be performed in London. Our original plan to be married either in New York or Hollywood, in all probability will be carried out."

Wings For Sally

by BAILEY WOLFE

Chapter 25
McDONALD'S TRIAL OPENS
 The morning of the trial Philip had a moment as she was leaving his office with some copy to type. It was the first time he had spoken more than the necessary words to transact the business of the office, the first time since the night she had gone to Hillcrest.

"I shall be at the court house during almost all of the trial," said Philip. "If any news comes in that will be important in the case, I have asked that the message be given to you, and I should like to have you get in touch with me as quickly as possible."

"Of course," said Sally. She still stood where she was, her face slightly averted from him, her hands nervously clutching the papers. A terrible depression had seized her and would not let her go. Philip had spoken to her coldly, their comradeship was at an end. For days, now, he had been saying to her as plainly as words and manner could say that he wanted nothing more to do with her except in connection with office routine. Tears of helpless misery came into Sally's eyes. First she had been deprived of love, now she had lost the only friendship she really valued.

"Sally, what's the matter?" Philip had crossed to her side and she had not noticed, so absorbed was she in her own grief. She looked up at him startled, without thinking to hide the tears.

"Nothing," she said miserably, ashamed of her inability to control her emotion or to explain it away.

"If it's anything I can help about, won't you tell me?" asked Philip. In the old tender, solicitous voice. Once Sally would have responded to the voice, but now it seemed to mock the friendship they had shared. She felt that Philip's coldness had made her build up between them such a wall of injured pride that he could get nowhere near her. Sally suddenly hated him for being the cause of her tears, and hated herself for not being stronger.

"I'm quite all right," she said coldly. "Is there anything further?"

"No, that's all," said Philip tonelessly.

Sally worked in the outer office all day, impatient that she could not get to the trial, and listening eagerly to the scraps of news that came into the office.

"McDonald hasn't got a chance," said the sports editor. "They've got him where the hair's short."

"He's framed, that's what," retorted Lola Hopkins angrily. "If you knew McDonald like I do, you'd know he wouldn't hurt a flea if he could help it."

A Visit To The Jail
 The argument raged in the office while McDonald stood trial with his liberty, perhaps his life, at stake. Sally concealed one bit of knowledge that she knew would never emerge to damage McDonald. She had recognized McDonald in the driveway of the Morris house, but no one knew she had. True, Giles Benton knew he had been there. Sally sat up with a jerk. Giles Benton knew that, but neither her father nor McDonald knew! They would be unprepared for Giles' accusation!

At lunch time Sally sought out her father. He was surrounded by clerks and reporters, but Sally managed to get him to come with her for a bite to eat. Across the table, she told him her story of the night McDonald had fled from the car lights.

"We'll run down and see McDonald right now," said her father. "You come with me, Sally. This may be important."

Sally shrank close to her father as they entered the ill-smelling hallway of the county jail. A fat man with a large iron ring full of jangling keys brought McDonald to them and left at Mr. Warren's request. McDonald looked pale and a broad lock of his hair had turned white in the weeks since his imprisonment. When Sally told him of having recognized him, or thinking she did, McDonald listened gravely until she was through.

"What about it, Mac?" asked Mr. Warren, watching him closely.

"You did recognize me, Miss Warren," said McDonald simply. "I never thought you did at the time, nor Mr. Benton neither, since it was never brought up against me."

"Tell us why you went to the Morris house at midnight," demanded Mr. Warren crisply.

"I reckon it'll sound like a crazy reason to you," said McDonald. "Reckon it was crazy, and it'll help to put a rope around my neck, but so help me, God, it's the truth."

"What is the truth?" persisted Mr. Warren.

"You recollect, Miss Warren, the night my wife was took so bad off

"I'll be gone by then," Sally promised. "I'm sure it will be all right if I go in and knock. I won't tell Mr. Morris I saw you at all."

"Just as you say, Miss Warren," (Copyright, 1936, Bailey Wolfe)

Sally begs Mr. Morris in his den and does a little cavewedding tomorrow.

Mrs. Will D. Minter of Abilene, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hurt for several days, will return to her home Saturday. She will be joined here by her brother, Elbert Hall, who has been on a trip to points west of Big Spring.

Resolution Prepared Calling Seamen In East Back To Work

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Striking seamen of New York opened the way today for termination of the East and Gulf coast maritime walkout.

Strikers in all affected eastern and Gulf ports and the maritime unions of the West coast were asked to ratify a resolution adopted by 2,200 seamen last night calling the ship workers back to their posts.

Final action on the proposal, strikers leaders said, possibly would come at a meeting Sunday night when ratification reports will be compiled. The question of approval or disapproval of continuance of the West coast walkout also will be discussed.

The resolution said the action was taken "in order to maintain our present gains and to gain additional strength, as well as to prosecute our case with all possible

Govt. Intervention Asked On West Coast

Resolution Prepared Calling Seamen In East Back To Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—On the heels of an announcement by government conciliators that further federal action was necessary to settle the 85-day maritime strike, San Francisco Bay area city and county officials were called to meet here today to formulate demands for government intervention.

While the deadlock continued on the Pacific coast, a group of striking cranna in New York approved a resolution to terminate in Atlantic and Gulf ports a walkout which started in sympathy with the West coast workers.

Offshore shipowners here scheduled a conference with the stevedores this morning to talk over an alternative peace offer by the longshoremen involving wages and

Nazis Hear Hitler Is Soon To Start Colony Expansion

Resolution Prepared Calling Seamen In East Back To Work

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—Persistent yet officially denied rumors amid the ranks of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's black-uniformed "Schutz staffel" today had it that Germany's colonial dream would be partly realized Jan. 30.

That is the day Dr. Fischer will address the Reichstag, commemorating four years of Nazi power in Germany, and members of the bodyguard heard the Reich was about to lease part of Portuguese Angola for 99 years.

(Angola, containing 476,712 square miles covers a section of Africa twice as large as Germany itself and has many precious raw materials which are either scarce or non-existent in Germany. These include gold, silver, copper, manganese, cotton and rubber.)

Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, attacked Czechoslovakia as the Soviet Union's military outpost in central Europe.

GAS RATES TRIMMED FOR TOWNS SERVED BY WEST TEXAS CO

Resolution Prepared Calling Seamen In East Back To Work

AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—The railroad commission issued an order yesterday reducing gas rates in 6 towns served by the West Texas Gas company.

The order was under an agreement with the company and the reduction will apply to January bills. It was the second voluntary reduction by the system in two years.

The new rate is $1.25 per month for the first 2,000 cubic feet, the minimum bill, compared to the present rate of $1.35.

Other new schedules were: Next 48,000 cubic feet 80 cents per 1,000; next 50,000, 30 cents per 1,000; next 40,000, 25 cents per 1,000; and all over 50,000, 2 cents.

NEW OIL COMPANY

Will Distribute in The Mediterranean Area

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Jan. 22 (AP)—Formation of a subsidiary company of the California Texas Oil Co., Ltd., for the sale and distribution of gasoline and oil fuels in the Mediterranean basin and Red Sea area, was announced here today.

The new company, incorporated under Egyptian law, has a capital of $100,000, divided into 5,000 shares of which the California Texas Oil Co. holds 4,300.

Chairman of the board will be Henry D. Collier, of San Francisco, a vice-president of Standard Oil Co., of California.

It sat in one spot for almost ten minutes, the wheels spinning. At the postoffice cars would slide out of position as drivers tried to park on the sharp incline. Not one was able to get out by himself until the sheet was beginning to thaw. Several times cars had to be pushed in order to get them righted.

A wrecker did a land office business in that vicinity. Nearby a truck glided into a small passenger car, damaging it badly.

Elsewhere cars were bumping together, broad side, bumpers against bumpers, fender, against bumper.

Red traffic lights were run frequently because drivers well knew that if they applied the brakes they might take down a traffic light post, even as one motorist did now down a lamp post.

A man at the First National Bank corner arched his back, reversed the order and stepped with a thud on the sidewalk. Picking himself up, he threw his arms out as he went down a second time. He then tried to get up on his all fours, but once more the sidewalk came up with a jar. He crawled several feet to a dry spot against the wall before getting up.

And falls like this were multiplied.

city officials to a compromise with the river. They ordered storm sewers opened, easing the pressure.

Hamilton County, Ohio, had more than 10,000 homeless and Cincinnati, located in that county, faced estimated property damage of $1,000,000. Flood waters blocked firemen while fire destroyed a Baltimore and Ohio railroad warehouse. Elsewhere in the nation's flood centers the property loss was uncalculated.

Power Cut Off

The spreading waters cut off many cities from light and power sources and food supplies. Stricken communities called for serum and vaccine to forestall typhoid and small-pox inroads. Five members of one family at Dayton, Ky., were quarantined with scarlet fever.

At Aurora, Ind., flood waters disabled waterworks machinery, leaving only 200,000 gallons, or a three days supply, available in an un-touched tank. Three Indiana towns—Troy, Tell City and Cannelton—were without electricity. So were Mawesville, Hardinsburg, Cleverport, Lewisport and Irvington in Kentucky. Troy and Tell City had no water supplies.

The Red Cross called for more relief equipment in Indiana and special trains rushed supplies to stricken areas.

Favors Permanent Neutrality Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) of the senate foreign relations committee proposed a permanent neutrality law today which would give the president discretionary authority to impose a "cash and carry" policy with regard to American exports.

The proposal would make permanent the present neutrality law, which expires May 1. It would expand the president's authority to restrict exports of goods other than munitions.

It would outlaw transportation by American ships of commodities forbidden by the president to a belligerent nation or to a neutral country for trans-shipment to a belligerent. The only way warring nations could get such American products would be to come for them in their own ships and pay cash.

Pittman did not claim administration support for his plan.

Labor 'Spying' Activity Told

Witness Says Organization Cooperated With Govt. Departments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—A representative of the National Metal Trades association, which operates a labor espionage service, told a senate committee today his organization had co-operated with "the army intelligence, navy intelligence and justice department" in keeping open plants doing government work.

The testimony of L. A. Stringham, the association's eastern representative, followed introduction by Chairman La Follette (Pro-Wis) of the committee, investigating civil liberties violations, of a letter from the witness, L. A. Stringham, to H. D. Sayre, association commissioner.

Chairman La Follette (Pro-Wis) of the senate committee studying civil liberties violations put in evidence the affidavit by Carl Eckhardt, New York machinist. He said the association sent him into the Pratt-Whitney Aircraft company plant at East Hartford, Conn., to check on labor conditions.

He was hired at the association's New York office last August, the affidavit said by a man who "represented himself as Captain Holman, an officer of the United States government."

La Follette read a letter from W. C. Wright, secretary of the association's St. Louis branch, to National Secretary H. S. Flynn Chicago, reporting union activity in the Sunbeam Electric company plant at Evanville, Ill.

The letter said three employees were "particularly active and pernicious."

"The company would like to get rid of these three men," it continued, "and if you can suggest any way that they can accomplish this without laying themselves liable to a charge before the regional labor board, they would appreciate it very much."

CITES EMERGENCY REQUIREMENTS ON OIL FIELD TRUCKERS

DALLAS, Jan. 22 (AP)—Truck operators asked interstate commerce commission Examiner R. W. Snow today to consider unusual conditions in the petroleum areas in setting any working hour regulations for drivers.

O. H. McAllister, Big Spring, said oil field truck drivers were sometimes on duty as long as 48 hours at a time during fires and other emergencies.

He said operators could not hire additional men for these emergencies because oil men would not work with inexperienced drivers under such dangerous circumstances.

McAllister said oil field truck men would be satisfied with a 90-hour working week for driver with a 14-hour maximum day if regulations provided for emergencies.

LAWYERS CONVICTED IN MAIL FRAUD CASE

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 22 (AP)—A federal court jury convicted today two Milwaukee lawyers and a New Orleans resident of mail fraud. They were accused of swindling sufferers of eye diseases in operations which the government contended netted a nationwide ring $20,000,000 in 20 years.

The defendants were Frank Mackett, Jr., and William Haney of Milwaukee, and Samuel Birnstet of New Orleans.

Mackett's counsel asked for a retrial. Judge F. A. Geiger instructed him to file his motion within two days.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN BOILER EXPLOSION

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Jan. 22 (AP)—A boiler explosion killed four members of a wildcat oil drilling team northwest of Hutchinson in Rice county just before midnight last night.

The dead were identified as Jack Stone and C. S. Lemon, Sterling, Kas.; Ralph Creely, Lusk, Wyo. and J. G. Calama, Lyons, Kas.

Five other members of the crew were unhurt in the explosion which was heard for miles around.

The four victims and the five who escaped were all employees of the Roxana Drilling company.

Those who escaped injury were standing on the rig floor 50 feet from the boilers and were protected by the engine house and rig. Fragments of the bodies were found as far as 600 feet away.

Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined. The well is known as the No. 1 Bailey.

WAR ON PERVERTS DEMOS MAP A PLAN TO RAISE FUNDS

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Law and order fashioned new weapons today to rid Chicago of degenerates who prey on women and children. Determined to reduce sex crimes here, State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney established a special department to deal solely with cases of criminal attack.

Chief Justice John J. Sonstebly of the municipal court announced he would set up a special court to expedite the prosecution of such cases. Commissioner James P. Allman promised the fullest cooperation of the police department.

The first step to curb the activities of degenerates was the completion of a complete file of all known sexual perverts in Cook county.

He reported a deficit of almost $50,000 on the last campaign, despite total receipts and borrowing of $2,887,000.

Submitted by W. Forbes Morgan, treasurer, the plan will provide for paid money collectors in each of the states, responsible to national headquarters. All contributions would be centralized and funds sent from here back to the states for local campaigns.

Chairman James A. Farley will appoint a committee to work out details with Morgan.

The treasurer estimated $1,000,000 could be raised this year, $2,000,000 in 1938, $2,500,000 in 1939 and $3,000,000 for the 1940 presidential contest.

He reported a deficit of almost $50,000 on the last campaign, despite total receipts and borrowing of $2,887,000.

BENEFIT PAYMENTS

More benefit payments poured $6,043.50 into the hands of 58 Howard county farmers today. Receipts of the checks brought the total to $3 and the total amount to $131,139.17.
