Snowfall Brings Accidents, Snarls Pampa Traffic

Year's First Storm Hits Top O' Texas

By RAY RODGERS

A rash of automobile accidents, traffic jams and two inches of snow was the scene in Pampa this morning as the first snowstorm of the season moved over the Panhandle. Official measurements at various points over the city this morning recorded approximately two inches.

While residents here were slipping and sliding to get to work and to school, things were almost at a standstill in the northern portions of the Panhandle, where up to five inches of snow was recorded at Dalhart.

At Guymon, in the Oklahoma Panhandle, 7 inches of snow was on the ground. Amarillo only had a trace of snow overnight. Temperatures plunged to a low of 17 at Dalhart and 24 at Amarillo.

Pampa's overnight low dipped to 18 degrees. The winter weather apparently found many Pampans not accustomed to hazardous driving as the police department was

Parade Postponed

Pampa's annual Santa Day Christmas parade was postponed until Tuesday at 4 p.m. All public schools which were scheduled to turn out at 3 p.m. for the parade, will not be dismissed until the regular time today. Supk. of Schools, Jack Edmondson, said the parade schedule for school dismissal will be observed Tuesday.

swamped for a time with minor auto accidents.

More of the same was in prospect for Pampa as the Weather Bureau forecast temperatures of 15 degrees tonight and snow accumulations of 4 to 6 inches. Between 8 and 8:30, some 10 separate automobile accidents were reported. Extra policemen were called in to help investigate the mishaps.

The wrecks tapered off following the morning rush and as of noon there had been only 11 accidents inside the city, none with injuries. Officers said of the 11, only two involved major damage and the others were only tender benders.

Traffic jams at hills, inclines and intersections over the city brought bumper to bumper pile-ups, sometimes for more than an hour.

The pileups were caused primarily because of the lack of sand and gravel on slick spots before the morning traffic rush.

At one traffic jam near Highland General Hospital, several cars were reported piled up for more than an hour due to icy conditions on a slight incline.

Other traffic tieups were reported on Duncan, Mary Ellen, Cook, near Sam Houston School and at most overpasses and underpasses.

Partisan Clash In Baker Probe Sparks Hearings

GOP Senator Accused by Demo Of Telling 'Unalterable Untruth'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate hearings into the Bobby Baker case resumed today with an angry partisan clash when the Democratic counsel accused GOP Sen. John Williams of telling "an unalterable untruth."

Enthusiasm High As UF Goal Near

The magic number today stood at $3,400 in the Pampa-Lefors United Fund drive to raise $70,000.

Enthusiasm was at its peak yesterday afternoon when a group of about 25 civic and business leaders met in behalf of the United Fund in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

With George Newberry, president of the local United Fund; Norman Henry, campaign chairman, and E. L. Green Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, leading the discussion, the group unanimously agreed that this year's campaign goal of $70,000 must be reached.

When the question arose as to how "Operation Over the Top" would be completed, Mrs. Inez Carter, longtime civic and cultural leader, said she would contribute $1,000 if the goal could be reached. The Cabot Corp., although already a large contributor to the United Fund, agreed to add $500 more if the $70,000 were attained.

Others spoke up, pledging amounts from $50 to $250, contingent on the drive going over the top. Within a few minutes a total of $6,200 had been pledged toward the completion of the campaign.

As of this morning a total of $60,369 in pledges and cash had been turned in at the United Fund office. Adding the special pledges of $6,200 leaves a balance of slightly less than $3,100 yet to be raised.

Another special meeting for those who are interested in increasing their contributions will be held tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

In the meantime, drive officials have again asked that all prospect cards be turned in as soon as possible.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R. Neb., heatedly complained the remarks by counsel Lennox P. McLendon were an "impertinence" such as "I've never witnessed before in my years in Congress."

But Democratic Sen. Claiborne Pell, R.I., defended McLendon against Curtis. "The man has a right to speak," Pell said. Then he added, "because he (Williams) is a senator, he's not a god."

The flareup came as the committee resumed its investigation into charges that former Senate aide Baker acted as middleman in a scheme to funnel $25,000 from a government stadium contract into the 1960 Democratic campaign and to various individuals.

Insurance man Don B. Reynolds testified Tuesday that he was the "bagman" in the alleged deal in which builder Matthew H. McCloskey overpaid for insurance coverage on the contract, and most of the excess went to the 1960 Democratic campaign fund and to several individuals.

Williams, of Delaware, was a prime mover in the Baker investigation and has been sitting in on the hearings. He triggered today's outburst when he said he had suggested to McLendon that the staff look into other McCloskey contracts, including construction of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) headquarters in suburban Virginia.

McLendon promptly denied that Williams had made any such suggestion to him or the committee staff. "That is absolutely and unalterably untrue," he said. "The 74-year-old counsel declared."

Curtis then jumped in to say he had never heard such disrespect from a Senate employe to a member. But Pell defended McLendon and McLendon declared he had a "perfect right" to speak when he felt an untruth had been said.

"He (Williams) ought to at least tell the truth," McLendon said.

Curtis suggested that McLendon withdraw as counsel, but (See PARTISAN, Page 3)

Bridegroom Gets Tip From Kids — 'Say No, Pop'

GRENOBLE, France (UPI) — "Do you take this woman to be your lawful wedded wife?" Deputy Mayor Pierre Grillet asked a prospective groom, Jean Gelant, 73, Wednesday.

There was a pause. Then Gelant's children, sitting behind him at the ceremony, whispered, "say no, Papa, say no."

"No," Gelant said. At the bride-to-be, Mrs. Renaud, 61, began arguing with the reluctant groom, the deputy mayor closed his register and ordered the whole wedding party to leave.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today underwent surgery to have a thickening of the skin removed from the back of his right hand. It was described by the White House as a small hyperkeratosis.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy said the operation was performed in the White House with local anesthetic. He said it would not interfere with the President's duties in the slightest.

This included a speech this morning at Georgetown University here. Reedy said he was informed by medical advisers that the thickening of the skin was caused by overexposure to the sun. He said there was no malignancy.

Reedy described the operation as a "very small thing." Johnson went ahead with the Georgetown appearance with a dressing on his hand.

A reporter asked Reedy if Johnson might be "laid up" at all by the operation. Reedy replied, "Not in the slightest." The President's right hand became calloused and nicked by enthusiastic hand shaking during the presidential campaign. Reedy was asked whether that might have caused—or contributed to—the ailment.

Reedy replied that he was advised that the thickening was caused by exposure to the sun. He said he understood that the thickening had "been forming for some time."

Reedy said the operation was performed by Capt. Gustave T. Anderson, chief of dermatology at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

He said Dr. Peter Horvath, professor of dermatology at Georgetown University, assisted.

The sit-ins were locked in the building by campus police Wednesday night after ignoring a direct order to "get out." Some slept on the floors, others talked in small groups or sang to soft guitar and banjo music. One group of co-eds played jacks on the floor.

Rocket-Firing Planes Mopping Up in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (UPI) — Rocket-firing government planes are pounding the bush around Stanleyville in mopping up operations against Congolese rebels, according to reports reaching here.

Canadian Charge d'Affaires Arthur Hicks, who returned from a visit to the former rebel stronghold Wednesday, said the rebels "seem to be weakening."

The planes are in the air all the time," he told reporters in Leopoldville. "There is firing all the time."

Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe left Paris for Leopoldville late Wednesday night following talks with President Charles de Gaulle of France. Reports said he received only vague promises of French technical aid.

In another development, military sources said a column of Congolese troops spearheaded by white mercenaries rescued 40 whites, some of them wounded from the town of Poko 350 miles northeast of Stanleyville.

The report raised to nearly 2,300 the total number of persons saved since the joint U.S.-Belgian air rescue mission last week.

But estimates of the number of whites still in the northeastern Congo run between 400 and 700.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Just north of the Sea of Galilee, springs bubble up to form the headwaters of the River Dan which in turn supplies more than half the volume of the Jordan River. The Jordan then dumps into the Sea of Galilee.

It is less than coincidence then that twice in less than three weeks Israeli and Syrian forces have clashed near these springs which are vital to Israel's ambitious plans to bring fresh water to the arid Negev and open up new areas for her expanding population.

Ostensibly the clashes involved a patrol road along a poorly defined stretch of Israeli-Syrian border. Israel claims the road is wholly within its territory. The Syrians charge it cuts as deep as 50 yards into Syrian territory.

Eleven Killed

In the first clash, on Nov. 13, four Israeli and seven Syrians were killed.

The Syrians charged that the Israelis deliberately provoked the attack to test the effectiveness of the new United Arab Command, a joint military program adopted by the Arab nations last January, and then used it as a further excuse for "aerial aggression."

The Israelis replied that they would never permit the Syrians to use their advantage of higher ground to shell Israeli villages with impunity.

The second clash came on Dec. 1 in the same area but halted without intervention by the United Nations truce organization and apparently without casualties on either side.

If it simply were a border clash, the easy solution would be the proposal put forward by commander, that the disputed area be surveyed by outside experts whose findings would not be open to partisan challenge.

Vow To Destroy Israel
It is not, however, that people.

The avowed purpose of the United Arab Command established in January is first the prevention of Israel's use of Galilee waters and second the extinction of Israel itself.

The Arabs have been threatening to cut off the headwaters of the Jordan and plans already are in the works to divert two of the Jordan's three sources. One of these, the Hasbani, rises in Lebanon and the other, the Banias, in Syria.

The third and most important is the Dan to whose headwaters the Israelis wish to establish clear ownership. Historically, the Israelis are supported by a 1923 agreement which placed them inside Palestine.

28,500 Civilians Will Lose Jobs in Cutback

WASHINGTON (UPI)—About 28,500 Defense Department civilians will lose their jobs because of the Pentagon's order closing 95 military bases.

The largest job reduction, however, in the big economy move will be borne by the military which will lose 34,900 positions.

The elimination or reduction in the number of domestic and foreign bases and jobs is expected to save $477 million a year, the Defense Department said Wednesday in making public figures on the number of jobs being eliminated.

The announcement also revealed that a halt on the hiring of blue collar workers and restrictions on employment of white collar positions have been in effect in the Defense Department since Nov. 20, the day after the base closing move was announced.

Civilians losing jobs and willing to move are to be offered new employment. In its normal payroll turnover, the Defense Department usually hires 135,000 civilians a year.

Deputy Assistant Defense Secretary Stephen Sulman told a news conference that undoubtedly some of those losing jobs will remain unemployed because they are unwilling to move, even at government expense.

He said this always has been the case in past base closings, but that job opportunities at other locations always have been offered to everyone.

Neither Sulman nor Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester, who also participated in the news conference, could say whether the elimination of military jobs would result in a reduction in military strength. The armed services now number just under 2.7 million men.

The Pentagon said an aggressive program to find new jobs for those losing employment already has begun, and that it includes sending experts to places affected.

Burglars Take Television, Cash

A $225 television set and $40 in change were reported missing today following a burglary of the Guys and Dolls Night Club, 824 S. Cuyler.

R. C. Hollis, owner, reported the break-in yesterday.

Police found the thief had entered the building by prying open the rear door.

Several vending machines inside were forced open and some $40 in change was taken.

An eight-inch portable battery-powered television set also was taken.

Hollis told police the burglary occurred sometime between 10 p.m. Monday and yesterday afternoon.

White House," he said, and called for a "decisive rebuff" against the "colonizers."

"This was piracy committed under the pretext of a rescue mission," Brezhnev continued.

Turning to Cuba, the Soviet leader charged that the U.S. economic blockade there, plus "provocations" and violations of Cuba's sovereignty "seriously poison not only the atmosphere in the Caribbean area but also the international climate as a whole."

It was believed to be Brezhnev's first personal comment on the situation in Viet Nam, the Congo and Cuba, although similar views have been printed often in the Soviet press.

The American sponsored Multi-lateral Nuclear Force (MLF) for the defense of western NATO, which would staff 25 NATO ships with mixed-manned crews from NATO nations, was criticized by Brezhnev as a device to put the West German finger on the nuclear "button."

"The Soviet Union, like the other peace-loving countries, comes out resolutely against a new dangerous concession to the appetites of the military circles of Western Germany, whom they wish to enlist in the preparations for nuclear war," he said.

The Soviet leader's fire was concentrated on the West, but he also took an indirect slap at Communist China, Russia's rival in the ideological struggle within the Communist camp.

Conceding the existence of "difficult problems" among the Communist nations, Brezhnev berated those who fail to "grasp the historical perspectives and hasten to make erroneous conclusions on this basis."

Brezhnev reaffirmed that the new Soviet leadership firmly adheres to the policy of peaceful coexistence.

In the Lubbock district there was snow on the roads in Swisher County and ice spots on the roads in the rest of the area.

Around Childress, driving was reported as particularly hazardous. In Donley County, there was ice on bridges and spots of ice over most all roads.

The Highway Department urged extra caution to be used in traveling in Wheeler, Collingsworth and Briscoe Counties due to icy spots on most bridges and highways.

The Highway Department reported roads were open over most of the Panhandle, but extremely hazardous.

The subject of the CIA building was the first public mention of any other contract in the wide-ranging inquiry into the outside business activities of Baker.

It added to a welter of new evidence that has been placed before the committee, much of it linked to the secret testimony of Reynolds last Tuesday before the public hearings. It involved the mysterious role of a German beauty, alleged payoffs from the TFX airplane defense contract and former White House aide Walter Jenkins.

Curtis asked Baker if German beauty Mrs. Ellen Rometsch, whose name has cropped up repeatedly in the case, had ever told him she was an employee of the Communist East German government.

Baker refused to answer that question just as he refused to answer others Curtis posed. These concerned whether Baker had used his influence in the controversial TFX fighter plane contract award, and whether former White House aide Walter Jenkins had helped arrange an out-of-court settlement of a lawsuit against him.

In fact, Baker invoked constitutional protections 45 times in declining to answer, or produce records, about any of his wide-ranging activities. It was the second time the former Senate Democratic secretary had refused to testify before the committee.

Baker's refusal posed a dilemma for the committee. Investigators now are faced with two completely different explanations for a $36,000 payment to Reynolds. The money has figured prominently in the committee's inquiry into the tangled insurance arrangements for construction of the $17 million, District of Columbia Stadium.

The two explanations went like this:

— Philadelphia builder Matthew H. McCloskey, longtime Democratic party fund-raiser and former U.S. ambassador to Ireland, told the committee Wednesday his company mistakenly made duplicate payments for liability insurance coverage on the stadium job.

McCloskey and several executives of his firm said a "goof" resulted in the double payment to a Philadelphia insurance firm and to Reynolds. He said he was taking steps to recover the money paid Reynolds and he denied that the payment was part of any kickback deal to funnel money to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

Kerr said recently that demands of the movement leaders were incompatible with orderly operation of the university.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said in Los Angeles Wednesday night that he had called upon Alameda County law enforcement officers to arrest students "who may be in violation of the law."

He also directed the California Highway Patrol to "lend all necessary assistance."

However, the governor said his orders were to be carried out "peacefully and quietly and as a demonstration that the rule of law must be honored in California."

The sit-in began shortly after noon Wednesday, following a rally in the main plaza facing Sproul Hall. Mario Savio, 21, leader of the rebel students and a philosophy major, denounced Kerr as a "factory manager" and called on sympathizers to "lay our bodies on the gears and bring this machine to a halt."

The demands of the sit-ins amounted to total capitulation on the part of the school. The university would have to agree not to discipline students in any way for activities on the campus. The present demonstration was touched off when Savio was called on the carpet last week.

Sit-in leaders attempted to maintain control of the group in Sproul Hall. Students wearing armbands, patrolled the halls, keeping a walking pace open. They attempted to set up study areas and even announced that classes would be conducted by some sympathizing instructors.

Before police closed the doors Wednesday night, students carried in armloads of bread and peanut butter, milk, and blankets.

Residents Injured In Auto Collision

Two Pampa residents received slight head cuts late last night when two cars collided at the intersection of Brown and Cuyler.

Driver of one vehicle, William Miller, 31, of 832 E. Campbell, received a slight head cut and bruise.

The driver of the other car, 24-year-old Billy C. Pitman, received a slight cut on the nose. The wreck happened about 10:30 p.m.

Investigating officer A. J. Dickens estimated approximately $250 damage to both cars.

Neither driver required hospitalization.

No Decision Yet By CIA Director

NEW YORK (UPI)—Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone Wednesday night said no decision has been made on whether he will continue to head the agency.

McCone commented: "Every four years there is speculation on the future of the members of the President's official family. But a great deal of it seldom goes beyond speculation."

Thefts From Auto Reported to Police

Theft of a $30 battery from a pickup was reported to Pampa police yesterday afternoon.

F. I. Green an employee of Tex Evans Motor Co., said the new battery was stolen either Sunday or Monday night.

In another theft reported to police, Coleman Alexander, 1817 Coffee, told police today that four hubcaps were stolen last night from his 1962 model Chevrolet.

Alexander said the auto was parked at his house when the theft occurred.

Preacher's Son Convicted in Florida Slaying

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—A white preacher's son was convicted of manslaughter Wednesday in the slaying of a Negro woman during a period of racial tension last March.

An all-white 12-man circuit court jury returned the verdict after an hour's deliberation following a three-day trial.

James Rich, 29, was given until Dec. 14 to file a motion for a new trial. He will be sentenced at that time if the motion is denied.

Rich had been charged with first-degree murder in the shooting of Mrs. Johnnie Mae Chappell, 35.

JAGGER ON TV

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actor Dean Jagger, 61, was on an indefinite medical leave of absence Wednesday from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios and his role as principal in the "Mr. Novak" television series.

Jagger was stricken last week with a recurrent ulcer ailment and physicians advised him to take a rest, a studio spokesman said yesterday.

Mass Inoculations Started at A&M

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Mass inoculations of Texas A&M University's 8,300 students with penicillin started yesterday because a freshman's two-day illness was diagnosed as meningitis.

Donald Edward Godbey Jr., 18, the freshman entered the campus hospital Monday complaining of a cold. He was isolated for tests which resulted yesterday in the meningitis diagnosis.

An Air Force medical team flew Godbey Tuesday to Lackland Air Force Base Hospital in San Antonio. He is the son of Air Force Lt. Col. and Mrs. D. E. Godbey, who are on Okinawa.

The youth's condition was serious when he left College Station Tuesday but Lackland Hospital authorities reported it "much improved" today.

The student body was being inoculated in the hospital at the rate of about 150 students an hour. President Earl Rudder urged all students to take injections.

Dr. Charles R. Lyons, director of the student health service, said it takes 7-10 days to determine with a specific type of meningitis is contagious. The type suffered by Godbey has not been determined.

Petitions Protest Tech's Name Change

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Some students and ex-students of Texas Tech said this week they are sending petitions to Gov. John Connally to protest the move to change the school's name from Texas Technological College to Texas Technological University.

They want it called Texas State University.

James Richardson, a graduate student and the publicity chairman of the joint name change committee, said the petitions had some 5,000.

Strange Actions Occur

For five weeks in 1958 the Hermann family lived in confusion and terror. A figure suddenly flew through the air toward a television set, a bottle of ink sailed out of one room, through the door of another and spilled on the rug. A plaster statue of the Virgin Mary, 16 inches high, leaped from one dresser to another. A bottle of shampoo walked across a bathroom shelf.

There were 67 of these incidents between Feb. 3 and March 10 when they ceased. Visitors to the house frequently found Mrs. Hermann and her two young children, James and Lucille, in tears. Hermann did what any sensible man would do. He called the police.

Detective Joseph Tozzi responded, thoroughly questioned all members of the family and examined the house for hidden wires and other devices of trickery. But when things started sailing through the air while he was in the house, Tozzi realized he was up against something not covered in the manual of police procedure. That was when Pratt moved in.

Not a Hoax

The question, of course, was whether this was a case of psychokinesis — mind over matter. Was one of the four persons in the house using his mind, consciously or unconsciously, to cause confusion and destruction? Or had the detective been bamboozled because he didn't know what to look for and where?

Pratt started out by eliminating 50 of the 67 incidents on the grounds that they could have been done by trickery. He does not contend they were done that way because he could find no firm supporting evidence. But he wanted to narrow the field down to the 17 cases that could not be explained. The flight of the statue of the Virgin Mary was one of them.

The first clue was that nothing unusual ever happened when the house was empty. If you believe in mind over matter, that supports your hypothesis that some member of the Hermann family possessed unexplained powers. The boy James was the member of the family that interested the investigators because he was most often present in the house when things began moving and flying.

James was examined and cross-examined by his father, the police and Pratt. Once the boy burst into tears and his

Mind Over Matter Explored

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of five dispatches on extra-sensory perception by the UPI's national reporter. It deals with the question: Is there such a thing as mind over matter?)

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press International

Psychokinesis is a scientific term relating to the question of whether there is such a thing as mind over matter. One test is whether you can roll dice and make the numbers come up the way you desire.

Steady now, you gamblers. So far the answer is neither yes nor no. Experiments in the parapsychology laboratory at Duke University have shown that certain people can make the dice behave better than would be expected by the laws of chance. But Duke has no intention of expanding its curriculum to include the theory and practice of rolling seven consecutive sevens or, if your point is four, making it the hard way with two deuces.

So far as dice are concerned, the facts are inconclusive. But there was nothing inconclusive about the strange events which occurred in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hermann at Seaford, Long Island, N.Y. It provided an excellent chance to study the theories of psychokinesis, and J. Galther Pratt, who made on-the-spot investigations in behalf of the Duke laboratory, reported in detail on it in his study called "Parapsychology."

For five weeks in 1958 the Hermann family lived in confusion and terror. A figure suddenly flew through the air toward a television set, a bottle of ink sailed out of one room, through the door of another and spilled on the rug. A plaster statue of the Virgin Mary, 16 inches high, leaped from one dresser to another. A bottle of shampoo walked across a bathroom shelf.

There were 67 of these incidents between Feb. 3 and March 10 when they ceased. Visitors to the house frequently found Mrs. Hermann and her two young children, James and Lucille, in tears. Hermann did what any sensible man would do. He called the police.

Detective Joseph Tozzi responded, thoroughly questioned all members of the family and examined the house for hidden wires and other devices of trickery. But when things started sailing through the air while he was in the house, Tozzi realized he was up against something not covered in the manual of police procedure. That was when Pratt moved in.

Not a Hoax

The question, of course, was whether this was a case of psychokinesis — mind over matter. Was one of the four persons in the house using his mind, consciously or unconsciously, to cause confusion and destruction? Or had the detective been bamboozled because he didn't know what to look for and where?

Pratt started out by eliminating 50 of the 67 incidents on the grounds that they could have been done by trickery. He does not contend they were done that way because he could find no firm supporting evidence. But he wanted to narrow the field down to the 17 cases that could not be explained. The flight of the statue of the Virgin Mary was one of them.

The first clue was that nothing unusual ever happened when the house was empty. If you believe in mind over matter, that supports your hypothesis that some member of the Hermann family possessed unexplained powers. The boy James was the member of the family that interested the investigators because he was most often present in the house when things began moving and flying.

James was examined and cross-examined by his father, the police and Pratt. Once the boy burst into tears and his mother complained that the father was being too hard on him. Another possibility that was carefully examined was that all members of the family were collaborating in a hoax and giving false testimony about the puzzling incidents. Pratt dismissed that for the excellent reason that five incidents occurred while either he or his assistant from Duke was in the house. This was his conclusion: "No clues have been found to indicate either simple or skilled trickery, and some of the events which took place in the Hermann home cannot be explained, even assuming that the necessary skills and motives for trickery existed. But, as far as can be determined, there were no motives for a family hoax and no evidence that James possessed the skills to carry out some of the complex occurrences."

Many Similar Cases

So where does that leave us? Obviously, with the clear implication that there is enough evidence of mind over matter to justify scientists to push ahead with their studies. The Hermann case was not the first such one reported and investigated nor will it be the last. About 500 such cases have been recorded and there is only one thin thread that binds many of them together. There is a tendency for such incidents to occur where some person is at threshold of adolescence — in the case of the Hermanns, it was James.

So we have a puzzle without a solution, a riddle without an answer. Explorers to the moon know where they are going and can see where they will land. No telescope affords us even one small glimpse into the mysteries of the mind.

(Tomorrow... man who pioneered.)

Raspberry Cream Angel Pie Makes A Rich and Beautiful Dessert Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If calories don't worry you and you long for a really rich and beautiful "fancy" dessert, then here is your dish.

Then take a brisk walk to burn up some of those delicious calories.

RASPBERRY CREAM ANGEL PIE
(6 to 8 servings)

1 package (10 ounces) frozen red raspberries
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks, beaten
3 tablespoons cognac or kirsch brandy or non-alcoholic brandy flavoring
1 cup heavy cream
Few drops red food coloring
(optional)
1 baked 9 - inch meringue

shell, cooled

Thaw raspberries as directed on package. Force raspberries through a fine sieve; discard seeds. Soften gelatin in cold water.

Combine 1/2 cup cream, the sugar, and salt in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat until mixture becomes foamy. Blend a small amount of cream mixture into egg yolks, stirring rapidly. Then return mixture to saucepan, stirring constantly. Cook over low heat 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Blend in raspberries and cognac. Chill until mixture begins to thicken.

Whip 1 cup cream; fold into the raspberry mixture. Add red food coloring. Spoon mixture into the Meringue Shell. Chill until firm — about 3 hours.

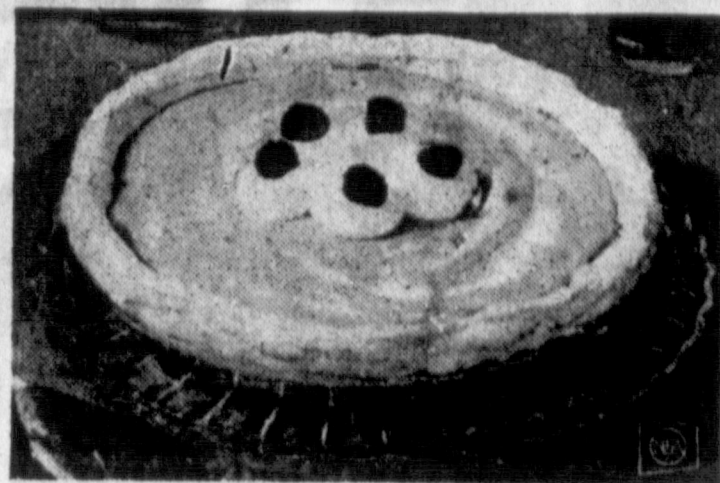

MERINGUE SHELLS
3 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup sugar

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add cream of tartar and beat until stiff. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition until sugar is blended. Continue beating until meringue will form stiff peaks.

Cheesecake Glamorous When Baked in Peanut Butter Crust

RASPBERRY CREAM angel pie is a special October dessert.

Cheesecake was never more glamorous than when baked in a peanut butter crust. That gold mine of nutrition, crunchy crust with plenty of peanut butter flavor makes a delightful companion for the smooth cheese filling. It's the kind of dessert that gives the

There are 11 ounce decorated tumblers. Screw top jars come in convenient sizes too. For the larger household, there is an economical 3 pound size. The peanut butter is packed in a reusable refrigerator jar.

This peanut butter cheesecake belongs to the variety of baked cheesecakes. The peanut butter and crumb mixture line the pan. Then comes the filling, a smooth mixture of cream cheese, lemon, mace, and eggs. After the cake comes from the oven it is cooled and sour cream spread over the top. An additional 10 minutes baking sets the topping. This do-ahead dessert should be chilled before serving.

PEANUT BUTTER CHEESECAKE
Yield: 9 inch cake

CRUST:
1/4 cup peanut butter
1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/4 cup chopped peanuts
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

FILLING:
2 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1/4 teaspoon ground mace
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 eggs

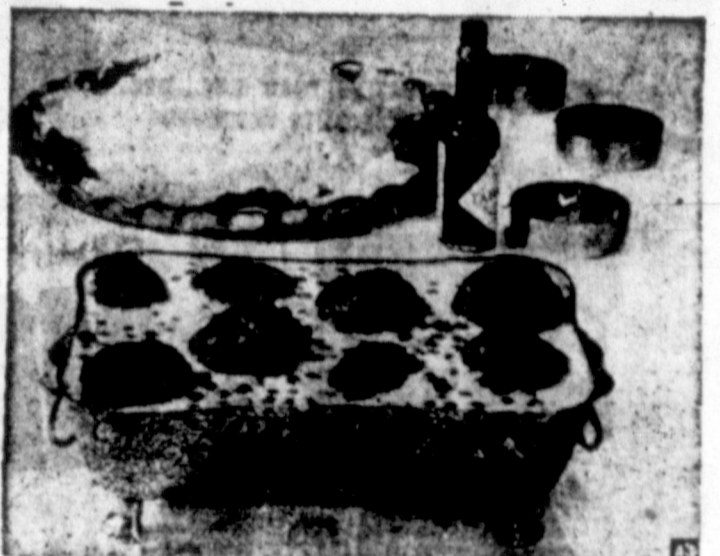

TOPPING:
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine peanut butter, cracker crumbs, peanuts, brown sugar, and melted butter. Line the bottom and sides of a 9 by 1 1/2 inch cake pan with removable bottom with the crumb mixture.

Beat the cream cheese until it is smooth. Gradually add the 1/2 cup granulated sugar. Blend in the lemon rind, mace, and lemon juice. Add the eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Pour cheese mixture into crumb-lined pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 10-35 minutes.

Remove cake from oven. Cool. Combine sour cream, 1 tablespoon granulated sugar, and vanilla. Spread cream mixture over top of cake. Return to a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 10 minutes. Chill in refrigerator before serving.

Spicy Meat Ball and Green Pea Curry Brings Indian Flavor to Dining Table

Subtle is the word for the best Indian curries, such as this one in which American-made tabasco liquid red pepper seasoning mingles with old-world spices in a beef and green pea combination.

Ground chuck, beef, spiced with ginger, cinnamon and tabasco, is shaped into balls, sautéed with onion and garlic, and simmered in milk seasoned with curry powder. A package of thawed frozen green peas is added during the last few minutes of cooking. A platter of hot cooked rice and small mounds of chutney accompany this luscious curry.

MEAT BALL AND GREEN PEA CURRY

1 egg
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
1/2 teaspoon tabasco, divided
1 pound ground chuck
1 small onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas, thawed

Beat egg in mixing bowl. Stir in ginger, cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and 1/2 teaspoon of the tabasco. Add meat and mix thoroughly. Shape into

Seasonal Bake

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louisiana yams are in plentiful supply now. For a tasty treat, try making apple butter stuffed yams. Here's how:

Bake 4 medium yams in 350 degree (moderate) oven 1 hour, or until tender. Cut yams in half lengthwise; scoop out and reserve shells. Mash yams; mix in 1/3 cup apple butter and 1/2 cup chopped walnuts. Fill shells with mixture. Place in greased shallow baking dish and bake for 20 minutes. Serves four.

Plan Ahead With Beef Pot Roast

When a beef pot roast is on the Sunday menu, buy one a pound or two heavier than needed with a second meal in mind. For yesterday's pot roast becomes today's memorable menu when made into a delectable main dish such as Beef and Noodles Parmesan. The smooth creamy gravy of this meaty dish owes its success to double-rich evaporated milk, so handy and so thrifty to use.

BEEF AND NOODLES PARMESAN

1/2 cup butter
2 medium onions, sliced
1 cup sliced celery
About 3 cups cut-up cooked beef pot roast
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup boiling water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons flour
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese

1 can (14 1/2 oz.) evaporated milk (1 2-3 cups)
8-oz. pkg. medium noodles, cooked

Melt butter in large skillet. Add onions and celery; cook over medium heat until onions are transparent, stirring occasionally. Add meat; continue to cook slowly until meat is thoroughly heated. Remove from heat. Add salt, pepper, water in which bouillon cube has been dissolved. Gradually sprinkle in flour, stirring to blend smoothly. Stir in parmesan cheese and evaporated milk.

Quick and Easy Cheese Sandwich

For last minute lunches and suppers, you'll welcome this quick and easy cheese sandwich flavored with wine.

The wine ingredient adds a complementary nutlike flavor to the zesty cheese sauce which tops toasted English muffins.

Use the wine left in the bottle to flavor soups and dessert sauces. And to add an elegant touch to any dinner, serve small glasses of sherry beforehand.

BUSY NIGHT SUPPER
(Makes 6 servings)

1 pound process Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup Sherry Wine
1/4 cup evaporated milk
Worcestershire sauce
Dry mustard
6 crisp bacon slices
6 English muffins, split in half and toasted
Melt cheese over hot water in

Bicycle Safety Tips Given

If you give your youngster a bicycle this Christmas — or if he has one already — don't send him off for a ride with a wave and a vague "be careful."

Chances are a bicycle is a youngster's first experience as a part of the traffic. Discuss the finer points of bike-riding safety with him — or her — and see that he practices them.

Make sure your youngster rides a sturdy, well-equipped bike, and teach him how to take care of it.

Pass these admonitions on to him on having safe fun on a bike:

Know and obey traffic laws. Traffic lights and signs are for bike riders, too.

Ride with the traffic. A good bike-rider always rides on the right hand edge of the road.

Give the proper traffic signals before stopping or turning, then take hold of the handle bars again.

Ride single file. If your friend has a bike and you ride together, ride one in front of the other, with plenty of space between.

When traffic is heavy at a corner get off your bike and push it across, following the crosswalks.

Light up at night. Do all your riding in the daytime if you can. If you must be out at night, be sure you have your white light in front and your red reflector and tail light on the rear, just as automobiles do. Wear clothing that is light colored or that shines in the dark so you can be seen easily.

Use a carrier or basket for books and packages. If you have no basket or carrier, tie your books and packages to the frame.

Ride one to a bike — unless you have a special bicycle — built for two.

One of the most dangerous things a bike rider can do is "hitch a ride" by a moving truck or car. You could be easily be thrown down — perhaps

Oklahoma Lawmaker Hopes To Reverse Base Closing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., gave Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert new information on Davis field at Muskogee, Okla., Tuesday and asked that a decision to close the base be reconsidered.

Edmondson, who cut short a European vacation to work on keeping the base open, said Zuckert promised to reconsider, but gave little hope that the base could be maintained very long in its present form beyond the announced 1967 closing date. Edmondson, along with representatives of Sens. Mike Monroney and Fred R. Harris, presented Zuckert with data showing that the base strength is "substantially greater than last spring" when the survey was made which led to the closure. The Oklahoma delegation also told Zuckert the base facility has undergone considerable improvement, with three new buildings completed in the past 90 days. These new buildings were not considered by the survey team, Edmondson said.

Truck Driver Faces Demands In Reconciliation LOS ANGELES (UPI) — If Albert Zabala, a 31-year-old truck driver wants to return to his Pico Rivera, Calif., home to live with his wife, Adelaide, 27, and their children, Lonny, 6 and Mona, 5, he'll have to obey 15 rules set by his wife, including: —Stop drinking. —Give her his paycheck. —Return home immediately after work without stopping anywhere. —Avoid seeing his sister or telephoning her. —Stop doing favors for people. —Agree to do whatever his wife asks of him. —Never lend anyone money. —Tell no lies. —Not brag. —Have his hair cut during the day rather than after work.

The written rules were given to Zabala Wednesday by his wife in an appearance in divorce court before Superior Court Commissioner Betty Jo Sheldon. "All this I demand of you and more," said Mrs. Zabala. "If it is not agreeable to you, forget everything."

Zabala, who has been living in nearby Montebello since the couple separated, declined to state whether he would abide by his wife's conditions for a reconciliation. Mrs. Zabala was awarded $20 weekly child support, but the commissioner passed over her alimony request. Zabala claimed he earns only $100-150 weekly and has to pay heads recently — including one $120, monthly on the family whose hairpiece was fitted from home. He also said he was in outside while she sat in a bus.

WIG SNATCHERS NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The world of fashion has created a new type of criminal—the wig snatcher. New Orleans police said at least six women have had their $100-150 wigs snatched off their heads recently — including one $120, monthly on the family whose hairpiece was fitted from home. He also said he was in outside while she sat in a bus.

City Faces Suit In Boy's Death

PARIS, Tex. (UPI) — The city of Paris is being sued for $156,416 because a 12-year-old boy died in a tar pit at the edge of the city dump last February. The victim was Billy Wayne Miller, whose dog was also found dead in the pit. The suit was filed by Linnie Ole Burkett, in charge of the boy's estate.

Briton Offers Trial On Services to Texan

FORT WORTH (UPI)—A Briton who will retire from the Army next year and is thinking about becoming a Texan offered himself as a butler for two weeks so he can afford to look before he leaps. The Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce released the following letter from A. E. Hopkinson of 74 Alexandra Road, Farmouth, Hampshire, England:

"I am due to retire from the British Army next year after 12 years' service. I am considering settling in Texas and would like to visit your state before finally making up my mind. I have two weeks at Christmas in which to do so, but the return fare of about $450 is rather a lot for me to spend on such a short visit. "I therefore wish to offer my services as butler from 19 December to 2 January to any of your members who might be interested in exchange for a contribution toward my fare. "I have had considerable experience in the correct serving of food and drink, in laying tables and in cleaning silver and shoes. I have also seen at first hand the work of some of the best butlers in England. "It had occurred to me that one of your members might feel that there could be no better present for the wife who has everything than a butler from England. "I have applied for an immigrant visa to work in the United States and the visa section of your embassy in London tells me that there is no reason which this should not be approved before Christmas. "...May I stress, finally, that this is a serious proposition and that I can really promise hard work and good service."

Rotarians Hear Amarillo Banker

A. F. Rhea Raines of Amarillo outlined the various types of trusts that are available to individuals and families at a meeting of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday noon in Colorado Inn. The speaker, who is a vice president and assistant trust officer of the American National Bank, said that trusts are set up for the "preservation of property." The proper kind of trust can save an individual or his heirs unnecessary problems as well as money. In Rotary business, a former member, Charles Powell, was reinstated into the club. Powell recently returned to Pampa as superintendent of Cities Service Oil Co.'s local plant. November Junior Rotarian Sam Williams introduced Charles Snuggs as the Junior Rotarian for December. Charles is a member of the student council as well as the honor society at Pampa High School.

CLEAN THIEF LONDON (UPI)—A 46-year-old clerk was fined $14 because she couldn't keep clean honest. Miss Fredith Stovell said she was spending $4 a week on cleaning materials since a childhood incident left her with an uncontrollable urge to keep clean. This taxed her resources and led her to steal.

US Gemini Man Facing Troubles

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—America's Gemini man-in-space program is running into more and more troubles, and the federal space agency is getting less and less anxious to talk about them.

The latest problems, of a somewhat serious nature, threaten next week's plans to launch an unmanned model of the two-seater Gemini capsule on a searing flight across the Atlantic Ocean from Cape Kennedy.

Space agency reluctance to discuss the many afflictions of its $1.1 billion baby generated an alternating current of secrecy Tuesday over reports that a critical test, leading up to the firing had run into a delay of at least one day.

The test involves a ground try-out of both the Titan-2 booster and the Gemini space capsule — an "important milestone," as one agency spokesman put it.

At first, the agency's Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston decided bad news was no news. Charles Mathews, manager of the accident-prone Gemini program, issued a statement through the public affairs office:

"He doesn't want to get into a position of giving day-by-day, hour-by-hour reports on what is happening. We will be glad to tell the results of the different tests."

Due to the Gemini project's predictable unpredictability, it was uncertain whether the results would be available in 1964 or 1965.

About three hours later, the space agency had a change of heart. "The simulated flight (originally set for today) is now on for Thursday or Friday," said an official announcement.

The delay in the test was attributed to the agency's contention that "it took a little longer to get ready than we had thought."

Business Highlights

By United Press International
NEW YORK — The growing opinion in banking circles Wednesday was that the higher interest rate charged on loans to big business customers will gradually spread through the nation's commercial bank system.

The First National Bank of Boston Tuesday followed the lead of an Atlanta and Los Angeles bank in boosting its "prime rate" effective immediately. Most major New York banks remained tightlipped over whether they planned similar moves.

WASHINGTON—The Civil Aeronautics Board, by the same 3 to 2 vote as a year ago, again ordered Northeast Airlines removed from the lucrative New York-Miami run. The move, if upheld by a Boston appeals court, would relegate Northeast to the status of a local New England carrier. The appeals court last May directed the CAB to reconsider the case.

WASHINGTON—New factory orders in October declined 1 per cent from September, the Commerce Department reported. The impact of the General Motors strike was nearly offset by a rise in orders from other segments of the economy. Revised figures showed that durable goods orders dropped only 2 per cent, instead of 5 per cent.

NEW YORK—Studebaker Corp., which no longer produces cars in the United States, said it has been negotiating to distribute Japanese Toyota cars through U.S. dealers. No agreement has yet been hammered out. Japan recently began importing passenger cars into this country.

SELLING SLOWER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 26-volume set containing the testimony in the Warren Commission's investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination is not a runaway best-seller like the commission's one-volume summary report.

The Government Printing Office reported this weekend that 360 of the $76 sets had been sold by the end of the week. Thus far, the GPO has sold 126,713 copies of the report, about 55,000 of them over the counter at its bookstore here, the rest by mail.

Steelworkers to Present Demands

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers union (USW) today makes known the demands it will level on the nation's "big 11" basic steel producers in contract negotiations set tentatively to open here Dec. 15.

Reported high on the light of demands was a substantial wage increase. The 1.2 million members of the giant union have forgone a general pay hike the last three years in favor of other benefits. Best estimates were that the USW — third largest labor organization in the nation — would shoot this time for a general wage boost of at least 15 cents an hour. The monetary aspect would be part of an overall "package" the union will seek.

USW President David J. McDonald said he was hopeful of negotiating new labor agreements peacefully.

In a flurry of union activity Wednesday, the union's 33-member executive board drafted a statement of demands, which later in the day was presented for approval by the 170-member Wage Policy Committee.

The Wage Policy body, which has final authority in all union contract matters, was to meet again today at 10 a.m. EDT. It was expected the policy makers would place their stamp of approval on the various demands and then make them public.

Sandwiched between the two major meetings Wednesday was a news conference called by McDonald.

"I hope we will be able to negotiate new labor agreements," he said. He noted that "with the exception of extended vacations, the whole blessed agreement is wide open . . . there will be a lot of long discussions — dialogue, I believe, is the word."

6,000 Jam Palace At Reception for Mexico President

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Some 6,000 persons jammed the state National Palace Wednesday night as Mexico's new president, Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, held a glittering post-inauguration reception.

Diplomats from scores of countries, special guests from abroad, and a representative cross-section of Mexican politicians, industrialists and agrarian leaders attended the event.

After shaking hands with several hundred of those who had arrived early in the receiving line, Diaz Ordaz, accompanied by his wife, walked through the halls of the palace, to shake more hands and exchange pleasantries with other guests.

He was inaugurated as 70th president of Mexico since Mexico won its independence from Spain in 1821. Tuesday in a simple ceremony at the Palace of Fine Arts.

After Diaz Ordaz finished greeting his guests, a lavish buffet was served, featuring Mexican wines.

The palace was decorated with flags and flowers of Mexico's national colors—red, white and green.

Newspaperman Named in Dallas

DALLAS (UPI) — Joe M. Dealey, president of the Dallas Morning News, has been elected president of the Dallas Citizens Council for 1965.

The council board elected Dealey Tuesday. He succeeds John Stemmons.

The Dallas Citizens Council is an organization of top executives of the city's businesses and industries. The council's efforts are devoted to improving the city and solving its problems.

Dealey has been president of the News since 1960.

FBI Academy Grads Asked to Back Hoover

DALLAS (UPI) — Texas law enforcement officers who graduate from the FBI's police training academy were asked Wednesday to "sign up and be counted" now that FBI director J. Edgar Hoover has come under fire.

The request came in a letter from Forrest Keene, police chief in the Dallas suburb of University Park, to Jack Tomlin, assistant chief of police in Odessa and president of the Texas chapter of FBI academy graduates.

Keene, a former president of the group, said it "is the duty of the members of the Texas chapter of academy associates to stand up and be counted" now that Hoover has come under fire.

There have been several suggestions that Hoover, already working toward a mandatory retirement age of 70 by 1967, should be retired.

Keene sent copies of his letter to Beaumont Police Chief J. Bauer, vice-president of the national academy graduates group, Vincent B. Huribut of Wes. Harrier's Central as president, and the Dallas office of the FBI.

Nuclear Sub Passes Missile Firing Test

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The nuclear submarine USS George Eastman passed its first missile firing test Wednesday by shooting a Polaris A-3 missile from its launch tubes to an over-100-mile target area.

The Jackson launched the advanced missile at 11:30 a.m. EST while cruising about 37 miles east of Cape Kennedy. It was the first of two missile firing tests scheduled for the vessel.

Happy Schools Selected for Demonstrations

WASHINGTON (SpI) — Happy Public Schools are among 11 in Texas to be selected to serve as demonstration centers for the President's Council on Physical Fitness. The centers invite visits from school board members, school administrators, teachers, P-TA leaders and others who want to see an outstanding physical fitness program in operation.

The demonstration center schools were selected for the council by the State Department of Education. All of them provide outstanding physical activity programs, plus extensive health and testing services.

Five Arrested in Theft Ring Case

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI) — Mexican police swooped down on five men Wednesday, an American and four Mexicans, to finish the cleanup of an international car theft ring.

Police said the ring stole some 40 cars in the United States and sold them in Mexico.

Police raided a home in Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Tex., and seized materials used to print phony documents, including car ownership papers and U.S. birth certificates. Most of the stolen cars were still in Mexico, awaiting identification by their owners.

SPY IN SKY

ANTIOCH, Calif. (UPI) — An Antioch man and his son swooped down from the sky to save their dog from two would-be dog-nappers.

Jerry Graham and his son, Chris, 13, were flying over the Antioch Airport when they spotted two men driving away with their German short-hair, Big Red. They landed and took chase in the family car, cornering the thieves four miles away.

Dave Beck Looks Forward to Freedom

SEATTLE (UPI) — Millionaire Dave Beck, once an example of the American rags-to-riches hero, looked forward today to Dec. 11 when he will become a free man again.

That's the day he will leave McNeil Island federal prison in Puget Sound after serving half of a five-year term for helping prepare a false information return for a union agency. He is also serving a five-year state sentence for pocketing $1,900 from the sale of a union automobile and will be paroled from that term at the same time.

Beck entered prison June 20, 1962. Twice the parole board denied his petitions for parole. Tuesday, the board announced it had granted the latest request.

Beck probably will begin work on his business interests in the Seattle area.

Criticism Due on New U.S. Stamp
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postmaster General John A. Gronouski unveiled a new abstract design for a postage stamp Wednesday—then braced himself for an expected storm of criticism.

The abstract design, the first ever used on a stamp, reproduces the work of artist Stuart Davis. It is a mixture of often glaring reds, blacks and blues. The colors overlap at several places to create an effect which pulsates like the jazz music of which he (Davis) was so fond, Gronouski said.

"I will say at the onset that I expect this abstract design to be controversial," Gronouski said.

This Resident Alien Anything But Sinister

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The term "resident alien" was a sinister ring to it, evoking images of saboteurs and subversives. But when it is applied to Hermione Baddeley it becomes preposterous.

Hermione is indeed a resident alien. She is also a pink-faced, middle-aged British subject who is taking an apartment in Hollywood to star in movies.

In the past year she distinguished herself in "Mary Poppins" and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." She'd have made more pictures if she had not run afoul of the labor laws dealing with work permit or the lack of them.

"Dreadful, really," she said in well-bred English-type English. "There was such a fuss about work permits that I missed out on roles in 'The Disorderly Orderly' and 'Zorba'." To avoid any more confusion I registered as a resident alien — whatever that is.

Court Refuses New Hearing on Loan Shark Law

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Supreme Court Wednesday refused a new hearing for state officials seeking to have reinstated a part of the 1963 "loan shark act" which was ruled unconstitutional.

The high court overruled without comment a motion for rehearing on an application for writ of error by Francis A. Miskell, state regulatory loan commissioner, in a suit brought by several large national loan firms.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals last July ruled unconstitutional that part of the loan act which requires companies to be at least 51 per cent Texas-owned and prevents establishment of new branch offices by firms not operating in the state on Jan. 8, 1963.

The Supreme Court upheld the ruling, agreeing with civil appeals Associate Justice John C. Phillips who said there was no justification for "statutory discrimination between Texas corporations whose Texas citizens own 51 per cent or more of the stock and Texas corporations whose stock is not so held."

Silver Shortage Hits Serious Proportions

By TOM NOLAN
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Everybody knows there's a coin shortage in the United States. What may come as a surprise is that the whole world is beginning to hurt for silver. These facts are two ends of one problem that is reaching crisis proportions.

Groping in the shadow of this black cloud whose silver lining is no consolation is the U. S. Treasury Department. The Treasury Department's dilemma can be stated simply: To ease the coin shortage, caused by a number of things — more vending machines, more odd-cent sales taxes, more collectors, hoarders and speculators — the department has been forced to swamp the nation with coins. But if today's production rate is maintained, the treasury's entire supply of silver — 1.35 billion ounces — would be wiped out in less than four years.

This in turn would undoubtedly cause the price of silver to rise above the standard $1.29-an-ounce price maintained by the Treasury Department. Thus speculators could find it profitable to melt down dimes, quarters and halves to sell the silver content.

In this event, coin speculation would skyrocket and the department would be facing a further coin shortage. Well, why not simply mine more silver? The trouble here is that most of the silver now mined in the United States occurs together with deposits of such base metals as lead, zinc and copper. All but four of the active silver mines in the country produce more base metal paydirt than silver.

Thus a small increase in silver production would amount to a mammoth increase in lead, zinc and copper production, the markets for which are already saturated. The same situation exists in all other silver-producing countries.

Another seriously considered solution is the total elimination of silver from coins. The Treasury Department is now midway through a one-year study of all U. S. coins, the most comprehensive review of U. S. coinage in history.

The study will not be completed until next April or May, but the odds are overwhelming that one of its proposals will be legislation to reduce or ultimately eliminate silver from U. S. coins.

Suggested substitutes for silver are almost limitless: aluminum, stainless steel, columbium, zirconium and plastic, to mention a few.

"We're not eliminating anything right now," says one Treasury Department official. But this in turn would raise another problem, for the nation's fast-growing vending machine industry is vitally concerned with any change in coin content. Since most of the country's 4.5 million vending machines "reject" mechanisms are based on the electrical conductivity of the coin (silver has an extremely high electrical resistivity), a change from silver could play havoc.

Estimated sales through U. S. vending machines in 1964 will be $3.5 billion — about 2 per cent of the total retail sales in the nation.

In order to prevent current vending machines from becoming obsolete, any substitute for silver in coins must have approximately the same high electrical resistivity, and that's the rub: no other common metal even approaches silver in this regard.

"It would have to be an alloy," says a leading metalurgist, "and I'd start with either stainless steel or pure nickel. But whatever the final decision may be, it's going to take a lot of laboratory work."

But even a complete elimination of silver from coins would not begin to solve the country's increasing need for the metal. U. S. industrial consumption of silver has averaged 106 million ounces a year since 1959.

During this same period U. S. mines produced only 33.8 million ounces a year, while imports of silver averaged 39 million ounces a year.

Thus, the average U. S. silver deficit over the last five years is 33 million ounces a year.

Relatively new industrial uses for silver include silver-infiltrated tungsten for rocket nozzles able to withstand the high temperatures of solid rocket fuels and silver alloys able to resist heat and pressures generated at supersonic speeds.

All is not gloom, however. Science, which is heavily responsible for the world's growing appetite for silver, may find an answer.

Geologists believe that improved exploration techniques and tools may soon make it possible to locate more concealed deposits of silver oxide veins — pure silver "bonanzas" such as the long-exhausted Comstock Lode in Nevada and Idaho's Silver City.

Tshombe Given Hazy Promises By De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI) — Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe ended his three-day visit to France Wednesday with hazy promises of technical aid and moral support from President Charles de Gaulle.

Tshombe threatened to close the Congo's frontiers to neighboring countries if they allow the buildup of "liberation armies" to aid the Communist-backed Congolese rebels.

Tshombe plans to go to New York next week to defend the American-Belgian airborne rescue operations before the United Nations Security Council. Communist and African nations have denounced the rescue of white hostages as "foreign intervention."

Neither French nor Congolese officials would specify the extent to which France was willing to aid the strife-torn African republic. But reliable reports said French investments would be increased, and teachers, administrators, doctors, communications experts and others may be sent there.

AMA Liberalizes Birth Control Approach

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The American Medical Association (AMA) liberalized its approach to birth control and planned a new attack on the Johnson administration medicare program in the windup of its winter conference Wednesday.

Dr. James Z. Appel of Lancaster, Pa., chosen president-elect of the AMA, said there will be a meeting in Chicago Dec. 13 of the board of trustees with representatives from each state medical society, to solidify the medicare attack.

Appel said that despite the new congressional strength won by President Johnson Nov. 3, "I don't think the AMA is being unrealistic" in keeping up its battle against medical care for the aged under Social Security.

"If we do our job—make the people understand what is at stake — I believe we can win new support for the Kerr-Mills law."

Kerr-Mills is the existing federal-state medical assistance program. The 228-member House of Delegates, top policy unit of the AMA, approved the change in the AMA's approach to birth control in adopting a report of a committee which made a study of the subject. The report made four basic policy points, the first being that "an intelligent recognition of the problems that relate to human reproduction, including the need for population control, is more than a matter of responsible parenthood; it is a matter of responsible medical practice."

Physicians were called on to accept a major responsibility in matters related to human reproduction as they affect the total population and the individual family.

Appel will take over as president of the huge doctors' group next June, replacing Dr. Donovan F. Ward of Dubuque, Iowa.

Volunteers Sought For Job Corps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — R. Sargent Shriver, head of the administration's War on Poverty, Wednesday opened a nationwide drive to enroll volunteers for the Job Corps.

Shriver extended an invitation to the nation's youth between 16 and 21 to "step up to the Job Corps."

"Opportunity cards" indicating a youth's interest in the Job Corps will be placed in post offices and local branches of 33 nationwide organizations aiding in the recruiting program. A would-be volunteer also can get details from the Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington.

'Scurfers' Pose Big Problem for Police

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—From southern California, the wellhead of the teen-age subculture, came surfing as a national fad. But Baton Rouge is a long way from Laguna Beach, and for city police here that creates a strange problem:

What to do with the scurfers? Scurfers are related to surfers in that they are daring young men who get their kicks by riding the wild boards.

But the surfers ride curling ocean waves, very few of which are to be found around inland Baton Rouge.

Finding no thundering waves on the Mississippi, the scurfers turned to dry land.

They mount roller skates on a narrow 18-inch plank, balance on it, and careen down some handy paved slope.

Unfortunately, the handiest paved slopes in Baton Rouge are the broad parking lots in front of the state capitol building.

They have become established as scurfing grounds and some 1,200 scurfers and spectators turned out Sunday.

But there's the would-be scurfer, a dryland "ho-dad" (inexpert surfer). He careens down the capitol parking lot slopes and "wipes out" into the carefully landscaped grounds.

Bennett, capitol building superintendent, is none too happy with this turn of affairs and wants to see the scurfers pack up their boards and find another spot.

They've scurfed into, over, and through grass, shrubs, bulbs and plants, doing $2,500 worth of damage, said Bennett.

City officials and police have decided to look around for some other spot for the scurfers. Acting Police Chief E.O. Bauer met with other officials Wednesday, and they planned to meet again today.

In the meantime, Bauer says he'll continue to assign police to re-route traffic for the benefit of the scurfers.

"We furnish protection for all sorts of games," he said. "And if furnishing protection to scurfers at the present will keep somebody from being killed, then we'll do it."

"It's good clean fun, except for bruises and a few fractures."

Palm beetles burrow into young palms and stunt or kill them.

LITTER BIT OF FUN—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Thomas of Melvin Village, N.H., and Annette Olsen, 6, of Larchmont, N.Y., pose as America's "first family" of litterbugs. They look meaningfully at a waste receptacle in New York. The "family" in costumes designed by Mrs. Thomas, draped with 1,000 pieces of litter, was in New York for the 11th annual meeting of Keep America Beautiful.

Broccoli leaves are good cooked as greens. Clouds may be plentiful even when rain is scarce.

The Lighter Side

Cure Suggested for 'Monobathroomosis'

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Not so long ago I filed a report on "monobathroomosis" which springs from having only one bathroom in a single family dwelling.

Noting the growth of bathrooms as a status symbol in this country, I suggested that if we failed to achieve President Johnson's dream of a "Great Society," we at least would have a society that was well tubbed.

I also pointed out that increased emphasis on bathroom multiplicity was being accompanied by a rising interest in bathroom decor, including jeweled faucets and high-style fixtures.

Frankly, that report was based more on my own impressions than on hard and cold facts. But now I find my observations confirmed by no less an authority than the Supply House Times, which is described as the "Prestige Magazine" of the plumbing industry.

The Times says that "the biggest news for the trade this year is the boom in decorated plumbing fixtures and ornate fittings." It credits this trend with helping the industry begin to emerge from the financial doldrums.

Previously, the magazine says, manufacturers "offered too many products of the same general type and size that performed the same function."

Maybe so, but I rather doubt that goldplating a few knobs and handles, or changing the shape of tubs and basins, is going to solve the industry's main problem, which is longevity.

As the Times points out, the average bathtub in the United States is 34 years old. Assuming that the tub owners can be persuaded to remodel their bathrooms, what's to keep them from waiting another 34 years before the next changeover?

It seems to me that the way to start the bathroom plumbing industry really booming is to develop disposable fixtures. Such an innovation is not as unrealistic as some people might think.

Disposable Tub
I read recently that hospitals are switching more and more to disposable equipment. They are finding it cheaper to replace certain items after initial use than to prepare them for re-use.

Among the 50 or more disposable items presently available are hypodermic needles, syringes, uniforms, surgical gloves, transfusion tubes and bedpans. If the hospital supply industry can develop a disposable papier mache bedpan that costs but 4 cents, why can't the bathroom plumbing industry provide us with disposable tubs, basins and other accoutrements?

After taking a bath, for instance, we would pull the plug and the water would run down the drain, followed by the tub.

With disposal fixtures, we could redecorate the bathroom after every shower. And "monobathroomosis" would disappear overnight.

Two Found Guilty in Spying

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — An American engineer and a Russian national were found guilty late Wednesday night of spying for the Soviet Union.

The two men — electronics engineer John Butenko, 39, of Orange, N.J., and Igor Ivanov, 34, an employee of the Soviet trade agency Amtorg — face a possible death penalty.

They were convicted of passing top secret plans for the Strategic Air Command's (SAC) world-wide alert system to Russian agents.

U.S. District Court Judge Anthony T. Augelli, who presided in the case and who will determine their fate, did not immediately set a date for sentencing. A jury of eight women and four men found Butenko guilty on three counts of espionage, and Ivanov on two counts after about 10 hours of deliberation.

Ivanov was continued on $100,000 bail which was paid previously by the Soviet government. Butenko went back to Hudson County jail where he has been held without bail since his arrest on Oct. 29, 1963.

The defendants were charged with turning over secrets on SAC's communications system for missiles and bombers to three members of the Russian U.N. delegation. The diplomats were deported to Russia last year.

'65 Chevelle A brand-new idea last year, it's even newer now. Fresh styling, V8's available with up to 350 hp. A softer ride. But it's still an easy-to-handle size. After all, that's one of the things that make a Chevelle a Chevelle.

'65 Chevy II Looks less than ever like a thrifty car but keeps on saving like one. Clean new styling, fresh new interiors, V8's available with up to 300 hp! Here's the liveliest, handsomest thing that's ever happened to thrift.

'65 Corvair It's a new kind of Corvair. It's longer and wider. It's racier, roomier, flatter riding. With quicker steering, surer stopping and more power available—up to 140 hp in Monza and 500's, up to 180 hp in the new Corsas.

More to see, more to try in the cars more people buy. Order a new Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette now at your dealer's

Harvesters, B's In Tourney Play

The Pampa Harvesters and the Pampa Shockers separate today, the Harvesters going to their second straight appearance at the Plainview Invitational Basketball Tournament, and the Shockers going back to defend their title in the Fourth Annual Phillips Jaycee Tourney.

The 16-team Plainview Tournament, one of the biggest in West Texas, was to start at 12 noon Thursday when Big Spring meets Farwell, and closes the first round late tonight when Andrews tangles with McAdoo beginning at 10:30.

Second game of the afternoon Thursday had Pampa meeting Adrian at 1:30, followed by Borger - Muleshoe, Midland Lee - Phillips, Dimmitt - Brownfield, Plainview - Littlefield, San Angelo - Levelland and then the first night's finale.

The winner of the Pampa-Adrian game meets the winner of the Big Spring - Farwell game at 6 p.m. Friday, the losers clash at noon Friday.

Consolation finals begin at 6 p.m. Saturday, third-place competition at 7:30, and the championship game at 9.

Plainview has to be rated the tournament favorite, opined Pampa coach Terry Culley, San Angelo and Midland Lee the top threats and Phillips the dark horse, although naturally the Pampans hope to upset everybody's applecart.

District 3 - AAAA champion Plainview, returning all-state 69" Ronnie "Duck" Peret, is a natural favorite on their final berth last year in their own tourney. Their closest call this season came against San Angelo, which lost to the Bulldogs in overtime.

Midland Lea sports a "big boy," reports Culley, a 6 - 7, 220 - pounder, who is expected to give Peret a battle for the boards. Phillips has to be considered on the basis of their recent game with Muleshoe.

where the Blackhawks won by a 107-38 margin.

Big Spring also has a tree-topper, said Culley, a 6-9 color-ace, but is not impressive otherwise as they lost to Lubbock badly.

McAdoo, two-time state Class B champion, graduated most of their all-stars, and their one returning regular is sidelined with a bad leg.

Culley reports little knowledge of first-round foe Adrian. They are a Class B school and, as a McAdoo, play basketball all year round.

The eight-team tourney starts off with Hereford against Sanford-Fritch at 4 p.m. today, followed by Pampa vs. Tulla at 5:30. Canyon vs. Phillips at 7 and Borger vs. Dumas at 8:30.

The two 4-A and two 3-A schools, Pampa, Borger, Dumas and host Phillips would have to be considered the strongest teams due to size and depth, although the other schools are an unknown quantity and could surprise.

The winner of the Pampa-Tulla game plays the Borger-Dumas winner at 8:30 Friday night, the losers clash earlier at 5:30. Consolation finals will be held at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, third place at 7 and finals at 8:30.

Top candidates for a starting berth with the Shockers for the tourney are Billy Turner, Roy Harper, Schnoz Foster, Morris Johnson, Larry Stephens, Steve Williams, Teddy McIlvain, Squirrel Heller, Big James Matney, David Martindale, Robert Karr and Rowdy Rowden. Other candidates are Wendell Harper, Smisson Goodlett, Myron Porter, Sherman Mitchell, Doc Cornutt, Willie Johnson, Johnny Kuhn, Mike Pursley, Tommy Capps, John Braley, Lee Hollis.

Midland Lea sports a "big boy," reports Culley, a 6 - 7, 220 - pounder, who is expected to give Peret a battle for the boards. Phillips has to be considered on the basis of their recent game with Muleshoe.

Larry Elkins Signs Pact With Houston

By PETE DOWD
UPI Sports Writer

The Houston Oilers accomplished one of the primary objectives of their 1964 draft campaign Wednesday by signing end Larry Elkins to a contract and rejoining one of college football's most potent duets in the pro ranks.

Elkins, who was the Oilers' No. 1 draft choice in the American Football League's player draft last Saturday, and Houston quarterback Don Trull comprised a devastating pass-catch combination when teammates at Baylor.

Trull was drafted by the Oilers last year and has served his rookie season with Houston as the back-up signal-caller for veteran George Blanda.

But when Trull and Elkins are reunited once again next season in Oiler uniforms, Coach Sammy Baugh is hoping for a gusher of passing yardage.

Packers Lost Out
The 6-foot-118-pound Elkins, who set a bevy of Southwest Conference records while at Baylor, was also the first round draft pick of the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League.

The day wasn't a complete loss for the Packers either. Green Bay signed quarterback Jim Van Gorden to a 1965 contract. Van Gorden, the nation's small college total offense leader from Eau Claire State, was overlooked in the draft by both leagues and was signed as a free agent.

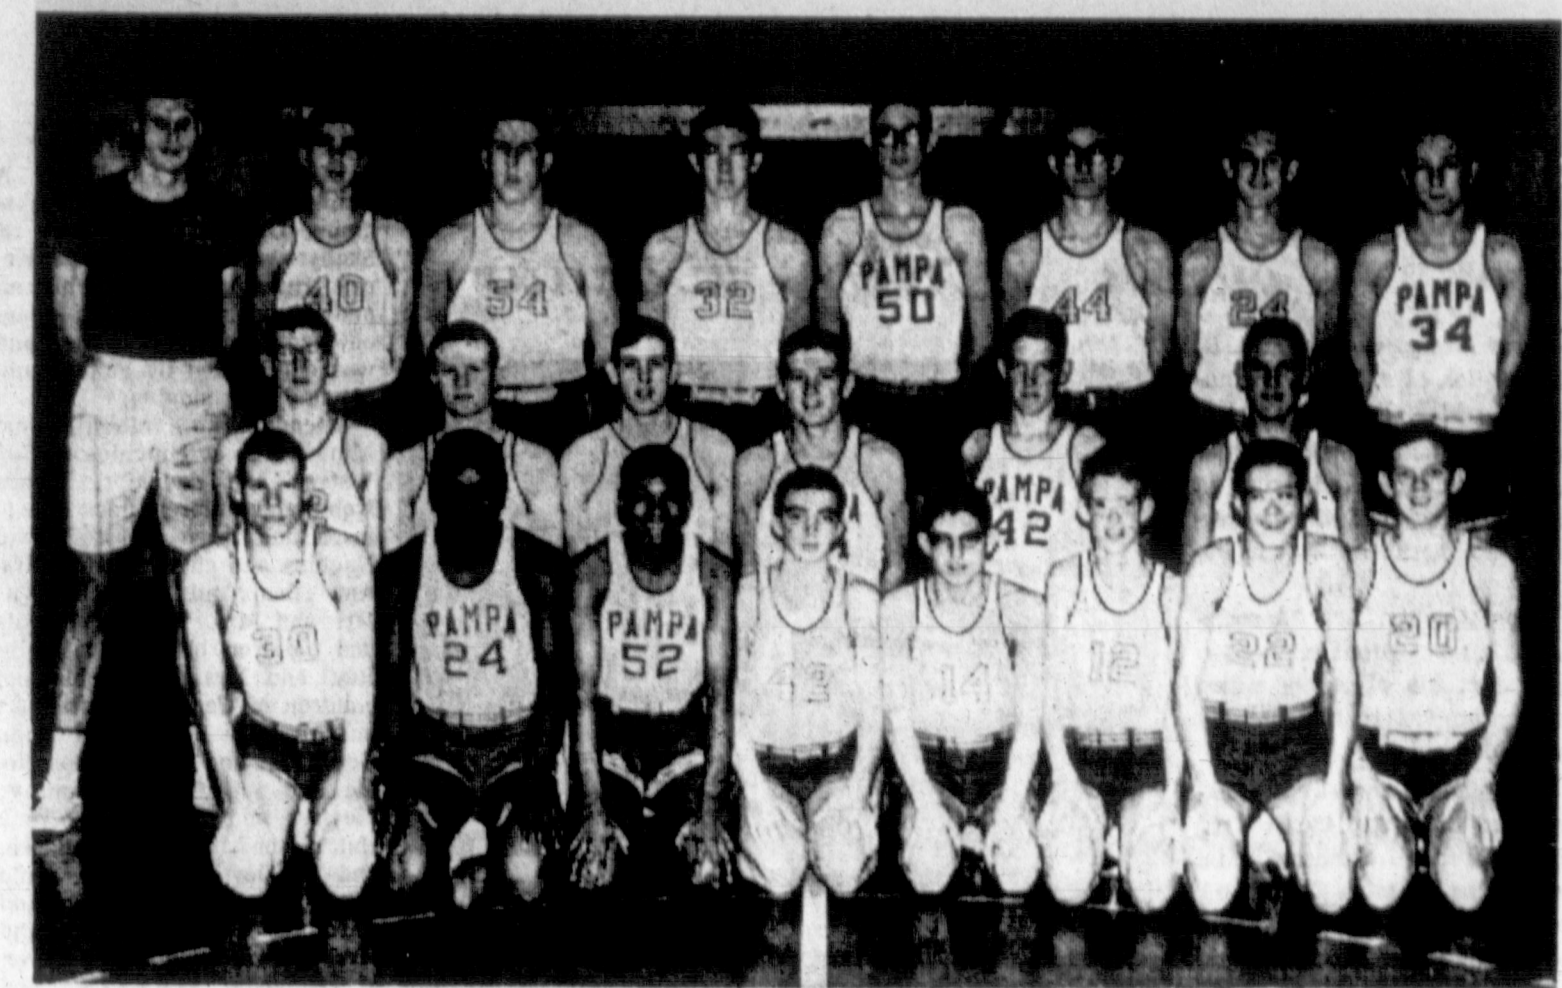

The Cleveland Browns of the NFL added a potential asset to their defensive line by signing defensive tackle Jim Garcia of Purdue. The 6-foot-2, 240-pound lineman, who was the Browns' No. 1 draft choice, is considered one of the top defensive prospects to come out of the Big Ten Conference this season. He was also drafted by Denver in the AFL.

Broncos Sign Two
The Broncos may have lost out on Garcia, but, on the plus side, they announced the signings of Georgia Tech defensive back Gerry Bussell and Terry Methner, a guard from Albion College in Michigan. Bussell was the Broncos' ninth draft pick, while Methner was their 20th.

Oregon quarterback Bob Berry signed with the Minnesota Vikings "despite a more lucrative offer from the Denver Broncos in the AFL."

The New York Giants have linebacker Jim Carroll under their wing. The 6-foot-4, 235-pound captain of the Notre Dame eleven, who was the Giants' No. 12 draft choice, joined the fold Wednesday.

The Oakland Raiders signed Bob Svlhus, much to the chagrin of the Dallas Cowboys. The 6-foot-4, 240-pound offensive tackle from the University of Southern California was drafted third by the Raiders in the AFL and fourth by the Cowboys in the NFL.

Michigan Pick For Rose Bowl

NEW YORK (UPI)—In three previous Rose Bowl appearances Michigan has outscored its opponents 112-6 and, although odds-makers may not have taken this into great consideration, they nevertheless established the Wolverines as 11 point favorites to beat Oregon State on New Year's Day.

In other major bowl games, the nation's No. 1 team, Alabama, was picked by 6 over last year's national champion Texas in the Orange Bowl. Louisiana State is favored by 6 over Syracuse in the Sugar Bowl and Arkansas, No. 2 team in the nation, is rated 6 points over Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl.

Oklahoma travels to sunny Florida for the Gator Bowl and the odds-makers favor local Florida State by 3. In the Sun Bowl Georgia is 5 over Texas Tech and Mississippi is picked by 13 over Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl despite the presence of Jerry Rhome.

In the only major college games left on the regular schedule, LSU is a 6 point favorite over Florida and Ole Miss is 11 over rival Mississippi State.

On the pro scene this week-end, in the NFL, Cleveland is 3 over St. Louis, San Francisco is 3 over Los Angeles, Philadelphia is 4 over Dallas, Minnesota is 7 over New York, Green Bay is 7 over Chicago, Washington is 8 over Pittsburgh and Baltimore is a 9-point favorite over Detroit.

Raiders Romp On McMurry

LUBBOCK (UPI) — Texas Tech, favored to take the Southwest Conference basketball crown this year, raced past McMurry 114-70 Wednesday night in a high scoring season opener for the Raiders. Only once has a Tech team ever scored more points in one game.

Eight Raiders hit in double figures. Tech led 58-32 at the half.

Coach Gene Gibson cleared the Tech bench, giving all his men a workout. At one point the Raiders led by 44 points. Norman Reuther sparked the Tech scoring with 20 points, while Harold Denney and Doug Mailase chipped in 18 and 16 for Tech.

Preston Vice scored 19 for McMurry.

Tech's high score record was set in 1956, when the Raiders ran up 117 points in a game.

SUGAR RAY WITHDRAWS
PARIS (UPI) — A swollen right hand and a touch of the flu forced former middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson to withdraw from his Dec. 14 bout against Luis Folloo of Spain.

Robinson, who injured his hand in his Rome fight against Fabio Bettini, said he "would need both hands against a fighter like Folloo," who is the eighth-ranked middleweight contender.

Buckeyes Pick Up In Old Style

By United Press International
Lucas graduated but Ohio State found Gary Bradds and now that the 6-foot-9 Bradds is also gone Coach Fred Taylor has come up with a promising array of sophomore talent to help the Buckeyes pick up where they left off last season.

Big Ten rivals hoped the loss of Bradds and three other starters would seriously reduce the Buckeyes' effectiveness, but there was little sign of that Wednesday night when they opened their campaign with a convincing 86-54 triumph over South Dakota.

Leading the parade of impressive sophomores unveiled by Taylor was six-foot guard Al Peters, who led all scorers with 19 points. South Dakota was never able to mount a serious threat against the well-balanced Buckeye attack. Ohio State led 44-26 at the half after hitting 25 per cent from the field.

Kansas State Wins
In other leading games Wednesday night, defending Big Eight champion Kansas State got its season off to a good start by defeating highly regarded Creighton 96-82. St. Bonaventure got by a stubborn Quincy College 78-64 and Tennessee rolled over Richmond 97-66.

Creighton enjoyed a 44-43 halftime advantage but the Wildcats' sticky zone defense and a torrid shooting display allowed them to ring up 40 points to the Bluejays' 11 after 15 minutes of the second half. Jeff Simons of Kansas State, last year's squad, scored 16 of his game high 22 points in the first half.

St. Bonaventure held a 31-29 margin at halftime but quickly opened the gap after intermission. Art Wood led the Bonnies in scoring with 19, but high honors went to Quincy's Akmon Evans with 20 points.

Tennessee had no trouble with Richmond as the Vols poured on the coal whenever the Spiders closed the gap.

Score Easily
Junior college transfer Austin (Red) Robbins and guard Johnny Moates led the Vol scoring parade with 18 apiece. Six Volunteers were in double figures as Tennessee scored almost at will in the last 13 minutes of the game.

Neil Brayton sank a desperation 40-footer with five seconds to go to give Maryland a hard-fought 72-71 victory over Penn State. Down by 10 with 10 minutes to play, the predominantly sophomore Terrapins, led by Jay McMillen's 26 points, rallied to win.

Florida beat VMI 68-50 in its season opener as guards Tom Baxley and Brooks Henderson scored 17 each. In Philadelphia's Palestra, Stan Pawlak and Jeff Neuman combined for 51 points to give Penn a 100-75 triumph over Rutgers.

LA Offers Howard For Swap

HOUSTON (UPI) — Suddenly everyone was after Frank Howard today with the Milwaukee Braves, New York Mets and Houston Astros among those standing on line outside the Los Angeles Dodgers' door for the massive one-time $108,000 bonus baby.

The Braves would give up second baseman Frank Bolling and catcher Ed Bailey to land the 28-year-old slugger.

The Astros would part with third baseman Bob Aspromonte, pitcher Ken Johnson and an outfielder to get him.

And although the Mets would not say whom they would give, Casey Stengel made it plain he'd like to have Howard.

"You betcha' life I'd like to have him for our club," Casey snapped.

Southpaw Alvin Jackson, sought by the Philadelphia Phillies among others, was one of the players the Mets offered the Dodgers for Howard but the two men who did the talking, Buzzy Bava and George Weiss, parted without getting anywhere.

Meanwhile, the two major leagues were to vote separately today on the free agent draft which received unanimous approval Wednesday from the minor leagues.

The unanimity trend seems to have pervaded the majors camp, too, and even the vehement opposition of the Dodgers has melted to such an extent that Buzzy Bava reversed his previous stands and said his club would vote for it.

The draft, by which the major league teams would lump all college, high school and sandlot prospects into a pot and make their selections in reverse order of their finish in the standings, would become baseball law immediately if the majors approve it in their joint session Friday or Saturday.

AAU Planning Track Meets

HOUSTON (UPI)—The AAU has come up with a plan to keep U.S. athletes in better shape for the Olympic Games.

The group announced Wednesday it has approved an idea for a triple track meet between the United States and teams from Poland and Germany.

"The old habit of letting down after the Olympics and then coming up frantically in the last year is not a good way of keeping the U.S. on top," executive director Don Hull said.

Hull explained that the Poland-Germany-U.S. meet would help keep American athletes ready for the Olympic Games. Only the details remain to be worked out, he said.

In other business, the AAU decided that the "peace meeting" in Chicago Dec. 16 with the U.S. Track and Field Federation might not be such a good idea after all.

Hull said each group appears to want the talks to be on its own terms.

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

ONCE MORE this department is a little unhappy with United Press International. This time it's the results of the All-American poll that got me down. Neither Carl McAdams of Oklahoma or Donnie Anderson of Stinnett made the team, although both of them had made every other All-American team released to date. Possibly it was the fact that both were juniors, maybe likely it was the obvious fact that there are far more voters in the East and Midwest than there are in the Southwest. Even scribe I talked to in this part of the country, had, like me, voted for both Big Mac and Donnie for first team. Guess we'll have to be like the old Brooklyn Dodger fans... wait til next year! I still think Mac was the best linebacker in the country.

THIS IS the last week for the Experts, and it's cellar-fighting time. Ray the Chalkster Howard has clinched first place as he sneakedly picked only six different from Otis the Hat Holladay, who is seven games behind him. The big battle however, will be to see who buys the steak dinners, as Brownie Smith and myself are tied on the bottom and Eural Ramsey is only one game ahead. The three of us have agreed, however, that the loser will not buy Ray a steak until he pays off for last year!

WE HAVE a nick-naming poll coming up. Seems several of the Shockers objected to "Big Matt" Matney and suggested more appropriate tags, such as "Gunner" Matney, or "Mat the Rat." James agreed to submit his nicknaming to arbitration, as did Lewis "Mighty Mouse" Meers last season. Anyone wishing to suggest an appropriate nickname for Matt should drop their contributions off or mail same to Yours Truly. The contest will run for two weeks, with the name getting the most votes being his new tag (if printable).

ANYHOW, for what it's worth, and after last week's horrible showing, I ain't worth much: TASCOSA 28, YSLETA 0...
By comparative score with Pampa, the Rebels should coast.
GARLAND 34, PASCHAL 17...

Lefors Starting Anew In B-Ball

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

LEFORS — The Lefors Pirates are starting the 1964-65 basketball season off with almost everything new... from coach to players.

last year's tall and talented squad that tied for second in district 2-A. Moving down a notch to Class B however, the Bucs are figured to make a strong threat with good overall height, although they have no outstanding "big man."

Best all-around player for the Pirates in their opening games has proven to be Dave "Ace" Roberts, a 6-0 senior and the lone returning starter. A good man on the boards last year, and the team's top shooter this season, Roberts can, and does, play anywhere, taking center, forward, and even setting up plays as a guard.

Two tall backcourt boys figured to see the bulk of the play-making action are both lettermen, 5-11 Larry Pruett and 5-10 Bill the Bruiser Nichols.

Up from the B team and out for the remaining berths are three good-sized seniors, 6-1 1/2 Dickie Archer, 6-0 Danny Robbins and 6-0 Danny Hill, with Robbins having led the Buc backboard men so far.

Dickie Sims, a 5-8 junior could round into a playmaker, opined Golphenee, as could 5-3 junior Billy McBee and Dennis Keith. Another ballhandler who will be eligible at midterm is Woody Dale Truist, 5-8.

"I can't tell much because I don't know the teams we have to play, but these kids seem to want to go, and that's the important thing," said Golphenee. Although the Pirates are still seeking their first win in nearly three years, Golphenee vowed flatly "we're gonna beat some people this year."

"We've never had height in our girls before and that's what hurt them. They had some good girls out there, but the tallest was usually 5-4 or 5-5 and you can't beat people that way. This year we have a good tall forward and plenty of experience and we'll get our share of wins. We beat Groom in a scrimmage and we figure to take some on the regular schedule. We'll have to do it despite injuries though, we're sure getting hurt fast."

The tall forward is Vickie Stone, 5-7, a transfer student, who scored 29 points and managed the boards well in her first game.

Two returning starters are 5-5 Kathy Gatlin and 5-2 Frances Clarke, a double-figure scorer. A very promising freshman forward is 5-3 Terry Bryant.

Charley Gustin, 5-2 and Judy Barnes, 5-4 are a pair of returning guards. Bennie White, 5-5, takes the other guard spot. Shirley Vincent, slated for starting guard, has a knee injury and will be out for several weeks.

Arlington State Opens Tough Hoop Schedule

ARLINGTON—Arlington State College opened its 1964-65 basketball campaign Tuesday night and the Rebels promptly dove into the deep end of the schedule.

Baylor at Waco was the first of three Southwest Conference opponents jammed into a six-day span for Coach Tom Tinker's Rebel squad. Other road games with SWC foes are Saturday against Texas A&M and Monday, Dec. 7, against TCU.

Sandwiched into that rugged three-game set is a home game against Texas Wesleyan Thursday night.

ASC and Baylor bumped heads in the opener last season and Coach Bill Menefee's Bears snared a 96-74 decision. Indeed, the Rebs have yet to win in two meetings with Baylor.

Tinker, opening his 22nd season at Arlington State, calls that the "shudder" part of the Rebel schedule. "We could have our best team ever and the record might not reflect it because of the schedule," he says.

Three lettermen, a squadman and a junior college transfer opened against Baylor. Lettermen are 6-3 David Duke of Fort Worth Haltom, 5-11 Norris Weir of LaPorte and 6-3 1/2 John

National Rodeo In Third Round

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Montana cowboy Ronnie Rossen, former bull riding champion of the world, tonight tries for first place money for the third consecutive night at the $87,000 national finals rodeo.

Rossen, defying superstition by wearing a bright red vest, took top money in bull riding Wednesday night in the finals' second round with a 62-point performance. Rossen, the 1961 world titleholder from Croesus, Mont., also won two first-rounds.

Bob Wagner, Auburn, Wash., current leader in the standings for the 1964 title, tied for second Wednesday night with Delbert Hataway, of Roby, Tex. Both had 60 scores.

Only the top 15 money winners on the 1964 rodeo circuit in each event were eligible to compete in the eight go-rounds of the finals, which end Sunday.

For some of the estimated 4,800 spectators the most exciting moment came when a saddle bronc named Jim Beam tried to join them in the stands, bending in a few feet of the metal barrier around the sports arena floor in the process.

Jim Mihalek of Broomfield, Colo., runnerup for the 1964 bareback riding world championship, tied for first in that category with Jackie Wright of Dayville, Ore. Jim Houston Omaha, Neb., already assured of this year's title, finished fourth.

In calf roping, Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio, Tex., dispatched his "dogie" in 13.3 seconds for the best time of the evening. Sonny Worrell of Altoona, Kan., was second with a 14.1 clocking.

Four Boxers To Fame Hall

NEW YORK (UPI)—James J. Braddock, the Cinderella man of boxing who rebounded from the depths of the depression and ring obscurity to the heavyweight crown by beating Max Baer, has been voted into boxing's Hall of Fame along with four other old-timers.

Named with Braddock Wednesday were boxing stylist and ex-lightweight king Lou Ambers, light-heavyweight George Carpentier, welterweight Ted (Kid) Lewis and lightweight Sam (the Ring) Knuckle brawler and only boxer ever to have received the Medal of Honor.

The voting, conducted by The Ring magazine, was on a world-wide basis with sports editors, boxing writers and television and radio sports commentators participating. A candidate needed 75 per cent of the total ballots cast to be elected.

Texas Tech Is Favored In Southwest Cage Race

(EDITORS: This is the seventh of a series of dispatches sizing up college basketball prospects in various sections of the country.)

The Southwest
By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — Texas Tech and Texas Western, a pair of emigrants from the defunct border conference, loom as the standouts of the forthcoming basketball campaign in the Southwest.

Tech, with four returning starters from a 16-7 season a year ago, shapes up as the favorite to win the championship of the Southwest Conference where the Red Raiders were a pressing runner-up to champion Texas A&M last season.

And, Texas Western, also with four starters back from a team that posted a 25-3 season — including an NCAA playoff victory over the Texas Aggies, figures to be head and shoulders above any of the area's independent colleges.

Texas A&M appears to be Texas Tech's major threat in the conference race with the University of Texas and Southern Methodist only a step or two further back and potentially capable of developing front-running tendencies.

The University of Houston, with its triple post offense, pressing defense and passing attack, will be the only other independent with much chance of wading through to possible post-season tournament play.

Baylor, Arkansas and Texas Christian figure to be a bit stronger than last year to make a better-balanced race, but Rice lost its entire starting five and will be looking up from the cellar.

Coach Glen Haskins lost his fine big man, Jim (Bad News) Barnes, at Texas Western, but returns Orsten Artis, Charlie Banks, Andy Stoglin, Harry Flournoy and Bob Dohler, who came into his own in the NCAA regionals at Wichita.

This group gives Haskins the major ingredients for another winning season—height, speed, depth and experience. And, he expects great things from sophomore Teddy Barnes and red-shirted Nevil Shed, who will add to the height factor at 6-8.

Glover Out
Coach Gene Gibson at Tech admits, grudgingly of course, that he has the "hosses" to dethrone Texas A&M, but wonders how much better his chances would have been if spectacular freshman Bob Glover had not stumbled over a grade hurdle.

In 6-8 Harold Denney, 6-6 Norman Reuther, 6-5 Glen Hallum and 5-11 John (Dub) Malaise, Tech has four double-figure scorers back with Denney and the peppery Malaise earning all-conference honors with 17.5 and 15.6-point scoring averages. Two other lettermen are on hand, but sophomore Bob Measles probably will be the newcomer on the starting five.

Texas A&M might be written off by some because of the departure of high-scoring Benny Lenox, but Coach Shelby Metcalf has eight lettermen, headed by 6-9 center John Beasley, 6-7 Tim Timmerman, 6-6 Bill Gasway and 6-0 Paul Timmons in addition to a pair of fiery transfers in 6-6 Sonny Pethkender and little Eddie Dominguez.

Veteran Coach Harold Bradley at Texas returns three starters—center John Paul Fultz and forward Larry Franks, who averaged 14.6 and 13.9 points a year ago, and guard Tommy Nelms plus alternate starter Jimmy Clark from a 15-9 record. Sophomore Gammon and Minton White plus transfers Mickey White and Mike Wade provide much promise.

Seven lettermen are available to Coach Doc Hayes at SMU; but his sophomore crop that includes Bob Begart, Bob Jones and Charles Beasley, looks so good the veterans may ride the bench at a sacrifice of height and experience to get speed and hooting. SMU, with Carroll Hooser, Bill Ward and John Ramsay looming as the best of the lettermen, may start slowly as Hayes indoctrinates his youngsters, but figures to come strong by the time the title race starts.

Integrationist Writes Coach
Man to have coached both the Blue and Grey squads.

He said "I took the job knowing that the game had been segregated in the past, but I thought that with the recent civil rights legislation that this year it may be integrated.

"To me it was a football game and I didn't even think about the segregation aspect until this letter arrived. I would like to see the game integrated, and I'm sure it will be in the next few years.

"I think I've been quite fair to the Negroes on my teams, and perhaps my taking this coaching job will give me a chance to help with the integration of athletics in the South."

KC Chiefs, City Fight

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Troubles over Kansas City's municipal stadium were on the brink of legal proceedings again today.

Instead of the Kansas City Athletics, its Kansas City Chiefs and Jackson County officials at odds over license fees.

The Chiefs paid $50 for each home game last year, but this season the courts upped the license fees to $150 per home game.

Chiefs executive Jack Steadman contended the professional football club of the American Football League should retain the same fee because of a loss in attendance. During 1963 the Chiefs drew an average of 22,000 per game. However, attendance slipped to 19,000 during the 1964 season.

Shea Offered As Commish
NEW YORK (UPI)—William S. Shea, the Manhattan attorney who was largely responsible for the return of National League baseball to New York, today was nominated for commissioner of baseball by the nation's largest newspaper.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all the products, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself; no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Why Have FEPC?

The recent ruling that Motorola, Inc., in Chicago must pay $1,000 to a Negro job applicant who failed an employment examination shows something of the illogic of the do-gooders in government.

The Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission has ruled Motorola is guilty of discrimination, but it does not say how, where or when the purported discrimination took place, or what the company did which was wrongful.

A hearing examiner for the state commission ruled that a company test for ability was discriminatory. He ordered the firm to discontinue using the test of ability and to hire the job applicant, Leon Myart.

But the company overruled the hearing officer and said the fairness of the test was outside the purview of the commission. Instead, it ordered Motorola to pay Myart $1,000 for the claimed discrimination against him and the "embarrassment" he is said to have suffered.

Said the Chicago Tribune: "If the ability test was not discriminatory, as the reversal of the examiner's findings indicates, how was Myart injured and why was the company penalized? It is impossible to make any sense of this ruling and it is inconceivable that the circuit court will uphold it on appeal. The main issue in this case from the beginning has been the fairness of the ability test."

Just Who Is Kidding Whom?

The Great American Housewife no longer has the gumption to do her grocery shopping without the help of Uncle Sam. Nor is her husband smart enough, without a Federal mentor at his elbow, to understand how much interest he pays on a loan.

Or so the Administration would have it appear from its tearful concern for the consumer as reflected in the so-called "Truth-in-Packaging" and "Truth-in-Lending" bills which will again be urged on Congress to protect us against deception in our competitive free-enterprise marketplace. It is therefore about time to suggest that the most unblinking offender in misleading the general public is the Administration itself. The biggest "package" the Administration attempts to sell each year is the Federal budget. This consists of a mess of figures supposedly covering the anticipated cost of Government - and as everyone knows, "figures don't lie." But in recent years, budget-makers have perfected a bookkeeping sleight-of-hand that gives the appearance of frugality while still promising everything to everybody.

The new budget, which the President will present to Congress in January will be, we are told, a "bare bones" model. And since this has a slightly familiar ring, we can expect to find the "savings" in:

The hearing examiner found that it was unfair to "culturally deprived and disadvantaged groups." At hearings before the full commission the company presented overwhelming evidence that the test was non-discriminatory. "By this time the case had attracted national attention and had become an issue in the debate in Congress over the fair employment section of the Civil Rights bill. An amendment to the bill was adopted providing that it is not an unlawful employment practice for an employer to give ability tests, provided that they have no discriminatory intent other than to disclose job suitability. "The Illinois commission thus found itself with no possible excuse to find that the Motorola test was discriminatory or illegal. But instead of facing the issue squarely, the commission ruled that the fairness of the test was outside the purview of the commission. "On what, then did the commission base its ruling that Motorola had been unfair to the job applicant and must pay him $1,000? And if an allegedly discriminatory practice is outside the commission's purview, how can the commission ever decide what is discriminatory? Why have a commission?" It seems to us the Tribune has asked an important question: "Why Have a (Fair Employment Practices) Commission?"

"Not for them Royalty," Mr. Rosey said. "Them kings and queens and jacks do everything with heredity. The kid was born a Has-Been. I seen where he was selling his autograph for 35 cents each a couple years ago. You think any 14-year-old kid in this country could pull that off? No, on this side you got to work for years to be a Has-Been. And it is getting so tough, there is hardly anybody making it anymore."

"That's ridiculous," we said. "Don't you watch television? They've got a million Has-Beens on every night. And live, too. Mary Astor, Buster Keaton, Foy Bainter, Edgar Bergen. Why, two weeks ago Maurice Evans

"You've hit the finger right on the nail," Mr. Rosey said. "It's a whole career to be obscure nowadays. Like being a Former Novelist or an Ex-President. Look at this here Garbo. A national day of mourning when her dress-maker's husband dies. And this here Sonny Tufts - a house old word, a national punchline, a celebrity just for joining the passing parade."

"Well," we said, "there are still plenty of Has-Beens who are out of the limelight." "Name three," he snapped. "Pola Negri," we snapped back. "Jean Peters. Basil Rathbone."

"Wrong," he said. "This here Negri is in a new movie about herself. Jean Peters is married to Howard Hughes. And I saw Basil Rathbone in person on Central Park West the other day. So you might as well throw your notebooks out. It is practically impossible to make it as a Has-Been. In fact, I only know one who did. George Metesky."

"George Metesky," we repeated slowly, the name having a familiar ring. "Now, who is he again?" "Exactly," Mr. Rosey said. "But who else can you say that about?"

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

The Big Boom In Has-Beens NEW YORK (NEA) - We were delighted to see young Prince Charles' notebook in print at long last, and especially happy on reading one of his observations in particular:

"Only when all adults exercise their voting privileges can one say that democracy has been fully realized in a country."

Not only have we said the same thing, but in our years as a reporter we have filled many notebooks with equally brilliant quotes from the great and near-great people of the times.

And as Prince Charles' notebook has fetched $28,000 for the publication rights, we felt quite certain that we had a gold mine stashed away in four cardboard cartons in the cellar.

So we took our idea and hurried over to see Max Rosey. To our way of thinking, nobody knows how to market a great idea better than Mr. Rosey.

Among his other enterprises, he is the originator of the Jay Gould Award which is bestowed each year on the corporation having lost most money for its stockholders. And while the award is never actually presented to anybody, the idea is a rather big money-maker nonetheless.

"Publish your old notebooks?" Mr. Rosey asked in dismay. "That is the most previous idea I ever heard."

"Previous?" we echoed, trying to rearrange the letters in a more meaningful way. "Certainly previous," he said. "A person does not publish their remittances of the past until he is a Has-Been."

"Nonsense," we said. "Prince Charles is only 16 years old. That's a little young to be a Has-Been."

"Not for them Royalty," Mr. Rosey said. "Them kings and queens and jacks do everything with heredity. The kid was born a Has-Been. I seen where he was selling his autograph for 35 cents each a couple years ago. You think any 14-year-old kid in this country could pull that off? The disease silicosis often occurs in men long-exposed in such different jobs as mining, sandblasting, some foundry operations, granite cutting and certain pottery operations. It is caused by the deposition of harmful amounts of fine silica in the lung, producing an inflammatory reaction.

Ambassador to Portugal Fights To Avoid More 'Congos' in Africa

WASHINGTON - Ambassador George Anderson is desperately trying to head off a series of new Congos in Africa.

With the zeal of a missionary, the one-time Chief of Naval Operations now holding the top U. S. diplomatic post in Lisbon, is frankly warning that unless basic U. S. policies toward Portugal, Algeria and Portuguese Angola are changed, the chaos in Congo will seem a small bonfire compared to the giant prairie fire that will sweep Africa.

In sizzling cables to the State Department and in punch-packed private briefings for visiting congressmen, Ambassador Anderson is urging an end to covert U. S. aid to the Angolan rebels using the Congo as an illegal base for guerrilla attacks against Portuguese territory.

Ambassador Anderson, who shook the Pentagon with his forthright stand against Defense Secretary McNamara in the TFX plane controversy, is questioning the very heart of President Johnson's African policy.

He is seeking a review of U. S. policies forbidding the sale of military equipment to Portugal and requiring our diplomats at the United Nations to remain neutral or oppose Portugal on questions of "self-determination and independence" for its strife-ridden African territories.

Unless these policies are changed immediately, Anderson sees nothing but disaster ahead for the U. S. in Africa, and a loss of strategic naval air bases in the Azores.

OPENING FOR DE GAULLE - The agreement on the Azores ran out the end of 1962, and Portugal is refusing to renew it due to the deep split over policy in Africa.

U. S. - Portuguese relations are so severely strained, according to Anderson, that Portuguese authorities are dropping hints of seeking new tenants, possibly the French, for the Azores.

As advance warning, the Portuguese have quietly broken off negotiations for a new base agreement, reserving the right to ask U. S. evacuation on 24-hour notice.

Here's What The FBI Can And Can't Do

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some of the criticisms leveled at J. Edgar Hoover's Federal Bureau of Investigation in recent weeks indicate there is much misinformation on what the FBI is and what it is permitted by law to do.

FIRST - The FBI is not a national police. By law, it cannot go into a state, county, city or town and take over from local officials. It must work through and with local officials, though it may conduct independent investigations of federal violations.

SECOND - By law, the FBI has no power to protect anyone - whether the president of the United States, other government officials, civil rights workers or persons being illegally deprived of the right to vote.

Protection comes under the Secret Service, the federal marshals, the state and local police. If the local police do not provide adequate protection for a man or woman, or if the local police or sheriffs are inefficient or corrupt, there is nothing the FBI can legally do about it.

THIRD - The FBI does not decide who in the government is a security risk and who isn't. Some officials are fond of saying "I have an FBI clearance." These officials are mistaken. No one except an FBI man has an FBI clearance.

By law, the FBI cannot say this man or that should not be hired because of his past - because he is a potential spy, because he drinks too much, because he may have loyalty to a foreign government, because he talks too much, because whatever knowledge he picks up may be for sale, because he may be a homosexual or because he may have a weakness for women or horses.

The FBI is allowed only to report the facts, statements and other evidence its agents pick up from interviewing people and looking up records and such.

The FBI is not allowed to make evaluations of this evidence or reach conclusions as to whether the man or woman investigated is or is not a security risk.

One exception: The FBI does decide on the suitability of all FBI personnel.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Municipal Bond Peddlers See Errors in Others' Acts

By SAM CAMPBELL

The Investment Bankers Association of America is up in arms over a trend in the Southern States toward the sale of tax-exempt bonds by government entities to finance plants for private industries.

The association put out an "Open Letter to American Business" detailing the errors of this practice.

Some of these details are highly technical, but one statement just about sums it up. The letter stated: "Growth of this practice means an increasing amount of industrial facilities owned by government. How can you or we support the doctrine of private enterprise if we tolerate or participate in this activity?"

The letter went on to point out that "when a company enters into a long-term lease with a governmental entity, it is taking a dangerous step. The company so 'favored' must inevitably become more involved in distracting municipal problems, and the close relationship will undoubtedly result in political pressures to meddle in the company's affairs."

What is happening over the country, you see, is that taxes are becoming so oppressive that some localities believe they can attract job making industries by creating tax loopholes. If the government owns the factory, then the property is off the tax rolls.

In a sense, the investment bankers are on good grounds when they object to the practice, because the crossing of interests tends to enlarge the Bureau's domain at the expense of the private sector.

Yet, even so, the investment bankers are hardly in a position to cast a stone. For the fact is, the investment bankers have done and are doing more than anyone else to encourage and peddle municipal bonds for one purpose or another.

They peddle bonds for Bureau-run schools, for Bureau-run sewerage, for Bureau-run water supplies etc.

How can it be wrong to tax-exempt a factory building if it is not wrong to tax-exempt the pipes that hook onto that building? Or to put it another way, how can the investment bankers claim it is right to bond for one purpose, but not the other? Schooling, sewerage, and water are all services that can be provided privately without taxes. Trying to provide them by means of taxation is what raises taxes to the point that industry must search for tax loopholes at the expense of its independence.

If the cause of the trouble (oppressive taxation) is cleaned up, does it not follow that the bad results of taxation also will disappear?

One of our favorite pastimes is watching steel workers erect a new skyscraper. They are as sure-footed and nimble as a squirrel hopping around on the steel girders at great heights. The element of danger in such a hazardous job has fascination for many like ourselves, who wouldn't lean out of a second-story window. It came as a great surprise to learn from a survey by the American Iron and Steel Institute that most steel workers are safer on the job than at home, where most of them are accident prone.

Today's smile: A poor husband opened a letter and turned pale. His suspicious wife, eyeing him, said: "Let me see that letter. I could tell by the handwriting it's from a woman."

"It's all yours, dear," said the henpecked one. "It's just the bill for those hats you bought last week."

No doubt Junior would like a Ford Mustang for Christmas and if he's only a youngster, that should be easy because Ford is now putting out an exact replica for the nation's youngest drivers. . . . The 1962 Mariner II missile flight, which surveyed the planet Venus, traveled 180 million miles and took three and one-half months to reach its destination. This year's missile flight to Mars is expected to travel 350 million miles and will take about nine months. . . . If you think your dentist bill is too high, just remember it costs about $30,000 to educate the average dentist these days.

Thoughts while shaving: One of our favorite college songs is the "Washington and Lee Swing," which reminds us that that college was founded way back in 1749. One of its first benefactors was George Washington, who attained eminence much later. And much, much later General Robert E. Lee served as President, but we never heard that the institution was named after either of them. . . . Sometime when you feel you're overworked, read a biography of Benjamin Franklin and you'll realize what a dull life you really lead. Ben was not only a revolutionist, but also a printer, author, inventor, diplomat, politician, and a great lover. One of his sidelines was publishing "Poor Richard's Almanack," which was big seller for 25 years. . . . Few people realize that along with inventing the airplane, Orville Wright also pioneered the design of present-day automobiles. He made them streamlined to reduce air resistance and increase speed, and also suggested wrap-around windshields, fender-housed headlights, two windshield wipers on every car, and moved the rear seat forward so it would not be directly over the wheels, thus giving a more comfortable ride. . . . Veterans health programs are going to be with us for a long time. The VA plans to spend at least $1.5 billion in the next 15 years, on hospitals. All of which proves the cost of war continues through peace. . . . Uncle Sam's latest example of brotherhood is to share weather information with the Soviets. We know a few weather forecasters we'd like to send to Moscow, but after a few of their goofy forecasts we'd send them to Siberia. . . . The Albuquerque (N. M.) JOURNAL headlined a story: "Books Are Open. Even If Closed." Just the way any high school student studies.

Country Editor speaking: "Some wise man once observed that all success is relative. The more success you have, the more relatives."

The Nation's Press

FINE WORDS, MR. PRESIDENT (N.Y. Daily News)

"I do not," said President Johnson in Washington, in his first public speech since he triumphantly won a full term in the White House, "consider the election a mandate to embark on any reckless, dangerous, novel or unique course."

Those are fine words, and like many other Americans we love 'em. But can the President make good on those fine words when the gimme - gimme, handout, giveaway, deficit-finance and inflation - is - wonderful mobs really go to work on the new Congress and on the White House early next year?

That will be the first big test. We hope LBJ passes it and all similar later tests - but we are not betting on it.

Wit and Whimsy

GOOD WILL - Here's to the fellow who smiles When life rolls along like a song. And here's to the chap who can smile When everything goes dead wrong.

He who has health; has hope, and he who has hope, has everything.

A fortune awaits the person who will design a church without any front pews.

whether to grant a security clearance or not. That is, the decision is made at the White House, the State Department, the Department of Defense, or wherever.

FOURTH - The FBI doesn't normally investigate the backgrounds of Senate or congressional staff employees. Any such investigations are normally made by the Senate or House Committees concerned. (There are certain committees which can ask the FBI for assistance.) The FBI's director, and a succession of presidents and congressmen, have taken part in keeping the FBI's functions strictly limited. The fear has been that if the FBI or any similar federal agency were given police - decision powers, it could be the first step toward creating a possible police state.
