Cost of operating a class D club is approximately $3,500, including salaries, road expenses, spring training and equipment.

STEERS AND MUSTANGS CLASH ON COURT TONIGHT

VISITORS DUE FOR DRUBBING

Sweetwater high school athletes, who felt the sting of defeat on the Longhorn gridiron on their last visit here, and defeated on their own basketball court last Monday night, will be out to adjust the books tonight when they go against Carmen Braddock's basketballers...

Steers will line up much the same as in past games, with Bigony and Smith at forwards, Burr in the pivot slot, and Poe and Madison in the back courts.

Golden Gloves Finals Set For Tonight

24 Survivors Of 2 Rounds To Be Reduced To Winner Each Division

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5 (AP)—Twenty-four survivors of 12 rounds of the Texas Golden Gloves tournament will be reduced to a winner in each of the eight weight divisions in semi-final and final events tonight.

The winners will be sent to the national tournament at Chicago. Eight survivors represented the Fort Worth district, Houston and Lubbock had five each, the University of Texas and Dallas had two each, and Wichita Falls and Brownwood one each.

Babe Ritchie, 229-pound football player from Lubbock high school, remained a favorite in the heavy-weight division after a third-round knockout of Lee Jackson of Amarillo.

Other results: Light heavyweight—Dewey Vaughn, Dallas, won decision over George Stoddard, Jacksonville; Jack Williams, North Texas Aggies, defeated Jimmy Vaughn, Dallas; Earl Crowe, University of Texas, scored technical knockout over George Caviness, Amarillo, in second.

Featherweight—Everett Baker, Fort Worth, stopped Buck Hayes, Amarillo, in first; Jesse Williamson, Houston, won decision over Lefty Hickey, Dallas.

Heavyweight—Julian Alzbrook, Abilene, scored technical knockout over Bill Barton, Corsicana, in third.

Lightweight—Ray Bumbers, Huntsville, won technical knock out over Moses Carona, Wichita Falls, in second; Laverne Guthrie, Lubbock, stopped Harry Flowers, Fort Worth, in first.

Middleweights—Carl Higler, Dallas, won decision over Lee Ross of University of Texas; T. W. Schrader, Fort Worth, defeated Waynell Cox, Texas Tech.

Welterweight—Joe Elder, Fort Worth, defeated R. V. Tison, Dallas; Thayer, North Texas Aggies, bested Ed Key, Corsicana.

No Major Football Rule Changes Are Expected

WACO, Feb. 5 (AP)—No major changes will come out of the football rules meeting this year, with the bulk of discussion apparently to be devoted to interpretation of present regulations, according to Morley Jennings, head football coach and athletic director at Baylor university, who leaves Tuesday for the annual gathering of the National Intercollegiate Rules Committee.

Jennings, who is the veteran of Southwest coaches with 11 consecutive years at Baylor, is official representative from the Southwest conference to the meeting to be held at Seaview golf club near Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 12, 13 and 14.

When questioned whether schools of this section were satisfied with present rules of the ever-growing gridiron sport, Jennings replied that the past season had given less ground for rules controversies than any season in the past decade.

Two Baseball Firsts Cited By Rochester

Introduction Of Curve Ball And Ensuing Row Upset Umpire

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—One bright August afternoon 80 years ago gangling Dick Willis strode out to the pitcher's box on a baseball diamond here and prepared to hurl his Lone Star nine to victory over the Live Oak team.

At a signal from Umpire John Stebbins, Willis faced the plate and began slowly to wind up. The crowd was tense, for these were the best teams in town and they were playing for the championship.

The first pitch twisted from Willis' right hand and shot toward the plate in the usual straight line. But as it neared the batter, the ball broke into a sweeping arc. The batter swung mightily on empty air and the bewildered catcher dove into the dust at his right.

More History Made That, according to Rochester historians, was the birth of baseball's first curve. But there is more to the story.

Dick Willis uncorked an assortment of benders, mowing down the Live Oak batters like ten-pins.

"Loud were the protests and most vociferously repeated," says the record, "till the fifth inning was reached, when the game was stopped and a decision on the fairness of such pitching was demanded."

However, Umpire Stebbins, a lawyer by vocation, couldn't supply the answer to this new problem.

Crowd Jams Field "As the players gathered around him, all talking at once, and around them a ring of their partisans, and around them a rapidly thickening mass of curious spectators," the historical record continues, "the crowd became a mob, the shouting and howling were deafening, and the umpire was bewildered, either not knowing how to decide, or not daring to decide at all."

"He looked about for the weakest place in the ring, broke through it, leaped the fence, and was taken into the carriage of a friend which immediately drove away."

And that, the historian boasts marked the first time in baseball an umpire was mobbed and chased from the park.

The game, of course, was never finished but for years after batters swung futilely at the slants of Richard Bradford Willis. He died many years ago, an almost unrecognized hero of the early days of our national pastime.

AFTER NO. 78 STEPHENVILLE, Feb. 5 (AP)—The John Tarleton College Flowboys will seek their seventy-second consecutive basketball victory against the Texas Military College Bulldogs tonight.

DEI. MAR, Calif., Feb. 5 (AP)—Lars, by $200 in movie gold, no-madec golf stars turned up today for the Bing Crosby pro-amateur tournament at Rancho Santa Fe near here tomorrow and Sunday.

Aldrich Due For Big Play In Football

Dutch Meyer, Frog Coach, Believes Ki Headed For All-America

DALLAS, Feb. 5 (AP)—Prediction: Ki Aldrich, strapping sophomore center, will be one of the two most-talked-about players in the Southwest conference football chase this fall. Alumni and friends of Texas Christian university are beating the brush with praise of the Temple boys' work.

Meyer, Horned Frog coach, goes so far as to say he believes Aldrich is headed for the all-America. Meyer, who coached the unforgettable Darrell Lester, twice an all-America center, should know.

Passing through: How many miles of newspaper type have gone into stories of D. X. Bible (the initials sound G-mannish) since his coup at Texas university? Oh, well, why should we be an exception? Here's the most unusual play he ever saw, as related by Weldon Hart of the Austin statesman: In the 1932 Nebraska-Minnesota game the Cornhuskers were leading 6-0. Minnesota's right end grabbed a pass. Just as he attempted to lateral to Jack Manders, now the Chicago Bears' full-back, he was nailed around the waist, his arms pinned to his side.

And that, says Bible, "is one of the reasons a great many of these (pointing to his bald spot) are numbered among the missing."

The sight of Marvin Westenberg charging head-first into Leo Dan Boone Savage and promptly bouncing off the granite-like hilly-billy's waistline, prompts the same editor to suggest Savage as center for Bible's fall edition of the Longhorns.

Felix R. McKnight, the dandy of this column, is a member of the hip-boot brigade in Arkansas. He's on an emergency flood duty.

Poly High of Fort Worth almost turned in the perfect basketball game this week, beating Vocational High 55 to 4.

Gordon Young, former state money changer from Dallas, has made a big bet—only one bet, says only one gave him a genuine thrill (hew!).

Jackie Griffin, wife of Dickie Griffin who is in New York for an eye operation, is taking her place as busy lining up boxing matches.

Bobby Wilson, former S. M. U. all-American, is working in the oil fields. Abe Miller, former wheel horse hurler of the San Antonio Missions, will manage the Palestine Pals of the East Texas league this season.

SEASIDE, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP)—Two Floridians, Arthur Boland of Lakeland and Charles Harris of Palm Beach, implied today they felt like "innocent bystanders" in the sweep of Don Budge and Bryan Grant toward their third meeting of the season in the Surf Club invitational tennis final.

Grant defeated the No. 1 ranked red-head from Oakland, Calif., in tournaments at Tampa and Coral Gables.

Harris, who drew Atlanta's mighty mite as his semi-final opponent, said: "I'll be lucky to win four games."

Hendrix, who has defeated Frankie Parker and others this winter and meets Budge today said little in words, much in expression: "I don't know how it will turn out."

Garden Panned As Battle Looms

CHICAGO, Feb. 5 (AP)—A world heavyweight championship match between titleholder James J. Braddock and challenger Joe Louis with prospects of a $1,000,000 gate, went into the site stage today.

Contracts for the 15-round bout, to be held June 15, will be signed next Monday afternoon by Louis and Braddock, said Joseph Triner, chairman of the state athletic commission. The big problem now to be solved is the location of the battle scene—huge Soldier Field on the Lake Michigan shore or the White Sox ball park.

The bout, to be promoted jointly by the Illinois Sporting club and Mike Jacobs, who holds exclusive rights to Louis' services, originally was set for Soldier Field, scene of the $2,500,000 Dempsey-Tunney battle. But Lou Comiskey, White Sox president, gained prompt consideration through an insistent and attractive offer.

Lionel Levy, New York architect and veteran fight layout builder, said Comiskey park could be arranged to seat 75,000 fans, with a maximum gate of $1,100,000, at a $2 to $25 price range. Soldier Field can be arranged for 130,000 seats, but the rental there may be as high as 15 per cent of the gate.

It was known Soldier Field is the preferred site. City officials were expected to offer a considerable concession in rental to secure the bout for the Jakesfront stadium inasmuch as the battle would be the principal attraction on Chicago's Centennial celebration program.

Announcement Braddock and Louis would sign Monday came after a meeting yesterday, attended by Jacobs and Julian Black, co-manager of the Brown Bomber. Contracts call for the appearance of both principals in Illinois by May 1.

Triner said "It's up to Joe Gould (Braddock's manager) to get out of it anyway he can" in commenting on the Madison Square Garden contract which calls for a championship bout June 3 in New York between Braddock and Max Schmeling, German battler.

Tubbs Takes Over At Iowa

Soft-Spoken Southerner Is Successor To Ossie Solem

IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 5 (AP)—Iowa's football fortunes, at a low ebb last season, were entrusted today to a soft-spoken southerner named Irl Tubbs.

The athletic board's search for a successor to Ossie Solem as head grid mentor of the Hawkeyes ended yesterday when Tubbs' appointment was announced. Solem resigned to become head coach at Syracuse university.

Tubbs, Miami (Fla.) university coach for the past two years, said he will have Pat Boland as his assistant. Boland, former Minnesota all-American tackle who aided Tubbs at Miami, will serve as first assistant.

BERG, HEMPHILL RENEW RIVALRY IN MIAMI FEET

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP)—Renewal of rivalry between Patty Berg of Minneapolis and Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, S. C., was slated for this afternoon in the Miami Biltmore women's golf tournament, if these favorites survive tough quarter finals tests in the morning.

Patty tackled Jane Cothran of Greenville, S. C., while Miss Hemphill who defeated the Minneapolis girl last week, faced Dorothy Traug of San Francisco.

On the other side of the bracket Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., met Mrs. Leon Solomon of Memphis, and Marion Miley, the long driver from Lexington, Ky., played Grace Amory of Palm Beach.

Babe Would Like Rating Of Amateur Athletics Get Ace Parker

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5 (AP)—Babe Didrikson complained today she was weary of watching other girls play golf. "I want to play too," she said, explaining her professional status keeps her out of almost all tournament action except against men.

"I'm going back to amateur golf. That is, if the United States Golf Association will let me. My application for reinstatement as an amateur will be mailed soon to the U.S.G.A."

"I like this sort of thing, and am just beginning to realize I've missed something."

"I'm through with this all-around woman-athlete business, for it takes too much out of you. I'm putting on weight since I gave up strenuous training. Those sports are all right for a while—but I'll stick to golf."

Only 22 now—23 in June—Miss Didrikson feels she has plenty of years left for the amateur game. She has been a pro two years.

YALE AGAINST SUBSIDIZATION OF ATHLETES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 5 (AP)—Dr. James Rowland Angell, president of Yale, spoke today against subsidization of athletes with the statement no Yale student could expect recognition of any kind "merely because he is an athlete."

The Yale head asserted in his next to the last annual report—he retires in June—that he is "obliged to believe" the practices of recruiting high school athletes for college teams and of paying college players for their services "are extremely common and extremely pernicious."

START PRACTICE FEB. 5 COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 5—The Texas Aggies will start spring football practice Tuesday, Feb. 6; that is, they'll start it if the weather will let them. Sixty or seventy aspirants will report for the initial workouts, Coach Homer Norton said, including a residue of thirteen of the twenty 1936 lettermen.

Coach Norton and his aides have mapped out a program of grid work to last from Feb. 9 through March 10 to utilize the full thirty-day period allowed under Southwest conference rules. If the sun doesn't break through the clouds any more than it has been doing and it has smiled on Texas Aggie-land only one full day in more than a month, the practice dates may be changed, however.

Lou Leaves His Contract Gehrig Not Good Money Talker So Leaves Contract With Colonel By SCOTTY RESTON NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—Lou Gehrig may be the successor to Babe Ruth in July but in February he's just another first baseman. When Lou tried to talk Col. Jake Ruppert out of more money and failed, he got up to leave and left his contract on the colonel's desk. "Don't forget your contract, Lou," reminded Ruppert. "I think I'll leave it here," replied "Legs." And there it is, in the colonel's upper left hand drawer. Jack Dempsey's place in Miami Beach is doing all right. Incidentally, he doesn't actually "own" those places. He's just the front. Bump Hadley, first and only Yankee regular to sign so far, has worked up a new winter business. During the baseball season, he takes movies of the stars and the big games. In the off-season, he runs around the country telling baseball stories and showing the pictures. He gives a lot of free talks, but he gets anywhere from $25 to $200 most places, and makes winter expenses out of it. Soon as a guy joins the Brooklyn Dodgers, things happen to him. Ralph Birkofer writes his Cincinnati home was in the flood and he's been cooking his meals in a can on the front lawn. If he thinks that's tough, wait'll he reports. Magnolia Cops Rough Game From Coahoma COAHOMA, Feb. 5—In one of the roughest games of the season, the Magnolia Oilers of Forsan slipped into the second round of the Coahoma invitation basketball tournament here Thursday night by defeating Coahoma, 20-8. The Bulldogs, paced by Tommy Hutto, led at halftime, 7-6, but the Forsanites opened up a few minutes after the third period got underway and took a safe lead. Robert Lee and Ackerly did not appear and have been rechecked for tonight.

Local Forerunners Of Parent-Teacher Work Discussed By Mrs. Barnett At South Ward

First names and duties of the school club of parents, local forerunners of the Parent-Teacher Association of today, were given in an interesting talk by Mrs. W. C. Barnett before members of the South Ward P.T.A. as a part of the Founder's Day program Thursday afternoon.

Primary organization of this sort was the Mother's Club and later, Home and School Club. In listing duties she emphasized the necessity of oneness of purpose, not to work for personal glory but to strive toward aiding the welfare of children.

During the business session the group made plans to donate $5 to the Red Cross for benefit of flood sufferers and heard a report from the radio committee on the purchasing of two radios for the school.

The secretary read a message to the members from the national president, Mrs. G. A. Barnett.

Mrs. E. Lowe's room was winner in the room attendance contest.

Those attending were Mrs. G. W. Chown, Mrs. J. V. Morton, Mrs. R. O. Davidson, Mrs. J. D. Lones, Mrs. James Little, Mrs. W. W. Davis, Mrs. W. L. Meier, Mrs. D. D. Douglas, Mrs. A. T. Smith, Mrs. C. Reading And Writing

By John Selby

Edward Lockspeiser is one Englishman who can take his intellect abroad without keeping it in his trunk. It is his curious distinction to have written one of the best, likewise most honest, books on Claude-Achille Debussy to be had at the moment.

Just why he is sympathetic to Debussy one could not say. Debussy is the most un-English of all French composers, with the possible exception of Satie. Debussy does constantly in his music, what we are led to believe Englishmen rarely do—Debussy sits and thinks and stirs small tones around in a pot. He remade music to suit himself, with no particular system, unless you want to call manipulations of the chords of the ninth, eleventh and thirteenth a system. Plus the so-called "whole-tone scale."

Debussy, too, had a very indirect appreciation of melody, and musical form was something to discard. As Mr. Lockspeiser shows in his "Debussy," this grew definitely out of the composer's character. He was a sensualist, and he was quite undisciplined either mentally or physically. According to his sister, he was an introvert even at eight, spending whole days sitting on a chair thinking. He was fond of tiny ornaments, and collected bright butterflies, which he arranged in zigzags on the walls of his room. The zigzags are indicative.

It was this boy who grew into a rather unhappy and not very successful student at the Conservatory, who finally won a Prix de Rome, and spent unhappy years at the Villa Medici. It was Debussy, also, who wrote almost nothing of value up to the age of 30, and devoted ten years to his masterpiece, "Pelleas et Melisande." And it also is Debussy who made orchestras do things no other composer ever made them do.

Mr. Lockspeiser has been handicapped by a number of things. One is the curious lack of information about Debussy as a man. Another is the fact that the composer heaved to no line excepting that of guidance by instinct, and even in that respect there are curious patches of vagueness. Debussy was not always sure even of his feelings. But perhaps the chief obstacle is the fact that Debussy is not a really great composer; this handicap is insurmountable, but the others have been corrected by industry, and by an objective approach which leaves out the matter of justification. The critical section is, it must be admitted, excellent, if occasionally a little biased. "Debussy," by Edward Lockspeiser (Dutton).

Miss Farnsworth Gives Talk On Spreads And Color Theme At Meet

Attractiveness of the bedroom, suitable bedspreads and their construction were the featured points in the talks by Miss Lora Farnsworth, agent, at the Coahoma Home Demonstration club business session recently in the home of Miss Julia Boyce with Mrs. W. R. Fugler as hostess.

"One may center the bedroom color scheme around the bedspread," said Miss Farnsworth, who also spoke of the appropriateness of sampler and applique spreads for Colonial bedrooms, and candlewick, monks cloth and light weight fabrics were mentioned as being best suited for rooms with painted or metal beds. For young girls' rooms she suggested covers of silk, organza or printed percales and for boy's beds or occasional couches, or day beds, the sturdier fabrics and darker colors.

In displaying several patterns for candlewick work, she gave as most practical the "all-over" pattern. Three yards and eight inches of 11-4 medium weight material is ample for the two and one-half inch hem with metered corners that is necessary for the perfect candlewick spread. She suggested that work be started in the center for convenience in handling.

During the business discussion the group practiced the club theme song, "Dreaming," for the first time. Mrs. Alvin Lay presided and heard the resignation of Mrs. J. M. Watson as parliamentarian. She appointed Mrs. A. D. Shives as her successor. Mrs. W. J. Jackson gave an interesting report on the feather comfort demonstration held last week. Announcement was made of the next meeting to be held February 17 at the home of Mrs. G. W. Yochem at which time Education Day will be observed. Each member has been asked to take the five cents contribution.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Fugler and Miss Boyce served refreshments to Mrs. Alvin Lay, Mrs. C. S. Coffman, Mrs. G. W. Yochem, Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel, Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. Austin Coffman, Mrs. V. H. Wyatt, Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Mrs. A. D. Shives, Mrs. W. J. Jackson, Mrs. J. M. Watson and Miss Farnsworth.

Chalk Students Present Program On Holidays Occuring This Month

Chalk school students presented a play, "Honest Abe," early this week as an observance of Lincoln's birthday with interspersions of musical numbers and novelty acts by students of the various classes. Cast of the play included Robert Odum, Jr., Lewis Morelan, Earl Smith, Carroll Meredith, R. L. Neely, Coldeil Ragsdale, Dan Oglesby, all of whom are pupils of T. J. Turner. Mrs. C. E. Givens Is Complimented On Anniversary

Seven Aces Club members complimented one of their group, Mrs. C. E. Givens, on her birthday anniversary at the home of Mrs. J. F. Jennings Thursday afternoon when they met for bridge games. The Valentine motif was prettily used in the refreshment plate, prize wrapping and bridge accessories. Individual cakes on the refreshment plate held a lighted candle suggestive of the anniversary celebration and the honoree was presented a gift from the club. Valentines were favors.

Bridge prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. C. Berry, Mrs. L. N. Millon and Mrs. Ed Allen, the latter of whom was the only guest. Present were Mrs. Arthur Sican, Mrs. F. A. Chance, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Millon, Mrs. Raymond Noah, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Givens and Mrs. Jennings. Mrs. Millon will be the next hostess.

Committee Is Appointed For GIA Entertainment

Mrs. R. L. Rogers, president of the Grand International Auxiliary, Thursday appointed a committee to arrange for the social to be held on February 15, as the group met for a short business meeting in the W. O. W. hall.

She named Mrs. Sam Barbee, Mrs. W. G. Mims and Mrs. D. S. Orr to perfect plans for the entertainment.

Mrs. Joseph T. Hayden Is Triangle Club Guest

Mrs. Joseph T. Hayden was a guest of the Triangle Bridge club when members met at the Settles hotel recently for games with Mrs. E. W. Lomax as hostess. Heart shaped boxes of candy were presented as prize awards to Mrs. Emil Fahrenkamp and Mrs. Monroe Johnson who scored highest of the group.

Others playing were Mrs. James Little, Mrs. James Davis, Mrs. W. H. Hardy, Mrs. Hayden, Mrs. Lomax, and Miss Jena Jordan.

Spring Straws Are Tops In Hat Offerings

Multi-Color Trims Found On Striking Broad Brimmed Models

PARIS (AP)—Early Paris straws show which way the wind blows in forecasting spring chic in hats.

Mexican sombreros, baku sailors, pallason toques and wide-brimmed models all appear on the hat horizon.

The sombreros—designed for wear at southern resorts—have crowns which rise to peaks and brims that roll dashingly out and up. Although paper panama is a general favorite, panama and felt combinations are also popular.

Roses, hyacinths and poppies blossom on baku sailors and pallason toques. Feather pompons and ostrich tips cuddle up close to velvet and grosgrain ribbon chapeaux.

Veils Are Longer. Veils are longer and fuller. They cover the chin and are often nearly shoulder-length in front. They are stiffly starched, however, in order to keep their distance from milady's face.

A black baku sailor has a veil bordered with chenille dots in black and yellow. The color accent is repeated in a band of yellow felt like a ribbon around the crown.

Side-back trimmings get the emphasis in the early straws. Rose Valois shows. Small pink flowers bunch over and under the brim at the side-back of a black straw sailor. Vivid green grosgrain ribbon bands the crown, contrasting strikingly with the pink petals.

Black hats trimmed in several colors are opening the season on a gay note. Blue hyacinths and red roses arch in a rainbow over the top of a tiny turban of black pallason straw. Royal blue grosgrain trims the back.

Harlequin shades are seen in triangles of grosgrain ribbon dovetailed to band a turban of fancy black straw. Bright feathers mix with the best of trimmings. A red ostrich tip is paired with a blue one. Both stand on guard near the back of a narrow-brimmed hat of blue and white straw.

Feather Pompons Colored feather pompons line up vertically on a black picot straw hat which has one of the few high crowns seen. In fact crowns seem to be suffering a decided inflation, going down by the minute. Poppies and wheat front a new

Mrs. L. I. Stewart Entertains For 1st Baptist SS Class

A short business meeting preceded the social hour held by members of the Homemakers Sunday school class of the First Baptist church Thursday afternoon when the women met in the home of Mrs. L. L. Stewart.

Appointment of Mrs. J. C. Ryan, Mrs. Henry Jenkins and Mrs. Roy Lay to serve on the nominating committee constituted the business meeting. Afterwards the guests were entertained with games, contests and piano numbers played by Mrs. B. C. Ammans. Group Three of the class was in charge of the social.

Mrs. Pete Fuglaar and Mrs. Ammans assisted Mrs. Stewart in serving refreshments to Mrs. R. C. Hatch, Mrs. Carl McDonald, Mrs. R. Millon, Mrs. W. F. Fries, Mrs. F. G. Sholte, Mrs. L. C. Taylor, Mrs. Henry Jenkins, Mrs. F. K. Owens, Mrs. Roy Lay, Mrs. J. C. Ryan and Mrs. J. C. Smith.

ORGAN RECITAL

chapeau of white bengale. The brim rolls up tightly at the sides, while the crown is low.

Large hats make early spring debuts in dark colors. One of these comes in ardoise or slate-blue picot and has a low crown and wide brim bent into new angles. A simple band and floppy soft bow of slate-blue velvet ribbon are used as trimming.

POOR COMPLEXIONS OFTEN TRACED TO CONSTIPATION

An unattractive, sallow skin and dull, lifeless eyes often mean that common constipation has clogged up your system. You feel wretched and listless, may have headaches. This condition is usually the result of meals low in "bulk." Restore this "bulk" with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently exercises and cleanses the system. Isn't this cereal way better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN for a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or fruits, or in recipes. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Three times daily in severe cases. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Question About CARDUI

HOW IT HELPS WOMEN "Who takes Cardui?" Women who are run-down, weakened, nervous from not getting sufficient strength from the food they eat—Thousands and thousands have found that Cardui increased their appetite, improved their digestion, thereby promoting better nourishment and the consequent strengthening of the whole system.

And women who have suffered from functional pains of menstruation have found that, by taking Cardui just before and during the periods, this purely vegetable sedative and antispasmodic seemed to have them much discomfort. This action of Cardui is highly esteemed because the relief credited to it comes in an entirely beneficial way. Cardui is purely vegetable; nothing in it to be afraid of—adv.

Eight Hours Labor, 13 Handlings On Loaf Of Bread Selling Under 10 Cts.

PROPRIETOR

Albert S. Darby, proprietor and operator of the local bakery which bears his name—establishment which recently has moved into a new plant.

Bread—often referred to as the "staff of life"—comes to you at less than 10 cents for 16 ounces with the record of 13 handlings, seven ingredients and eight hours of labor behind it.

At Darby's bakery flour, sifted four times, milk, arcada, malt, sugar, salt, and yeast go into every loaf of bread. These ingredients are mixed into what is known as a sponge, a comparatively small amount of dough containing these ingredients in ratio to the amount for the final baking.

After the sponge has been completed, the mixing of the total supply of ingredients of a particular baking is accomplished. The dough is then placed in a kneading machine, is cut and weighed and put in baking pans.

Into the oven go about 300 loaves at a time. As soon as the bread is done, it is carted away to the slicer and wrapper which turns out the loaf as you buy it at the rate of about 1,500 an hour.

The bread is then boxed and taken to the inside leading station where three trucks are loaded with it. They carry the bread to your grocer who offers it to you every day, fresh from the baker, at less than 10 cents.

Public Invited To Inspect New Plant Of Darby's Bakery; Open House Saturday

VIEWS OF DARBY BAKERY'S NEW HOME

Two photographic views of the new plant of Darby's Bakery, located at 510 Main street, and which will be opened for public inspection from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Friday. The top view is of the exterior of the new plant. Below is a glimpse into the baking part of the new structure. The building, representing expansion of the Darby firm, has 5,000 feet of floor space.

Building Is Completed At 6th And Main

Structure Marks New Step In Expansion Of Local Enterprise

"Open house" hours, during which the public is invited to inspect the firm's new plant at 510 Main street, have been announced for Saturday by Darby's Bakery. Everyone is requested to call at any time from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Saturday to view the building and equipment, see the bakery in operation and witness a free picture show that depicts baking processes. Refreshments will be served.

Representing a wide step in expansion of the Big Spring firm, the new building was occupied by the Darby organization in December, but "formal opening" was deferred until all improvements were complete. Providing adequate room for a modern-day efficient baking plant, the building covers 5,000 square feet of floor space, with roomy display and sales quarters and large baking plant. The structure is fireproof.

New Equipment
During the last year the bakery, owned and operated by Albert S. Darby, has added about $3,000 worth of new equipment and has increased the working force to care for increased business. A staff of 15 is now employed.

The bakery is kept in continuous operation day and night, with some product always going into the oven as another is coming out. The oven, with a capacity of 320 loaves, is kept at even baking temperature at all times.

To serve Big Spring, the organization maintains three trucks. One runs to Stanton and Coahoma daily. Then returns here to assist in local deliveries. Trucks are loaded inside the building to keep the bread as nearly as possible like it was when it left the oven.

Although the bakery has a substantial trade in the surrounding area, Darby stresses his city business. He emphasizes this point to his organization—bake and sell the bread in Big Spring.

Pastries Popular
Although bread is the basis of the business, the Darby bakery turns out all sorts of pastries and has built up a large trade in such products. Special orders are given attention. Since changing loca-

MACHINE SLICES, WRAPS LOAVES AT 1,500 PER HOUR

Darby's bakery has the "very latest" machine for slicing and wrapping your bread just as it comes from the oven. This elongated machine, geared to process 1,500 an hour, is capable of turning out a capacity of 1,800 loaves every 60 minutes. The loaves are placed on a conveyor belt which routes them through saw blades which cut every loaf in the same number of pieces. They are then funneled into the wrapper where wax paper is cut, wrapped around and sealed over the loaf. And the loaves come sliding out on the receiving board as fast as you can count them, ready to be delivered to your grocer or kitchen.

Rescued From Mine After 8 Days

Seemed Like A Month To Man Who Wandered Along Underground Passageways

FLEMINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 5 (AP)—Robert Johnson, lost for eight days in debris-filled passageways of an abandoned mine, was carried to safety today, alive, well and puffing happily on a cigarette.

"I'd given up all hope," said the 36-year-old rural mail carrier to rescue workers who found him nearly two miles from the mine entrance early today.

Johnson, who carried coal from the mine in his spare time for sale to neighbors, was found huddled behind a heap of jagged chunks of slate.

Three of the scores of volunteers who had searched the mine day and night since Johnson disappeared January 27, heard his feeble cries for help while exploring a narrow tunnel.

His first words were to assure himself if he hadn't merely imagined a light had cut through the dark.

C. P. Pride, assistant safety director for the state department of mines quoted him: "I told myself 'Bob, please don't lose that light.' He didn't."

As the rescue party came closer he called to Mike Stanko, Jr., Edward Whitehair, and William Westfall, all his friends and neighbors: "Take your time, I'll guide you by your light."

They cautiously approached the heap of slate, reached through a hole and gripped Johnson's hand—assurance he was safe.

Then word went to the surface, sped through this little community of about 400 population in northern West Virginia.

Pride and eight others gathered stretchers and blankets. They hurried into the mine, waded and swam through a deep pool of water covering nearly an acre where originally many believed Johnson drowned while trying to open clogged drains.

Pride told of administering first aid, and declared: "Johnson's physical condition was excellent considering the long exposure. He had been drinking sulphur water and his lips were badly parched. He thought he had been in the mine for a month."

Johnson was carried a quarter of a mile down a snow-covered path to a waiting ambulance. There he was joined by his wife—among his first questions was "How's my wife"—and hurried to a hospital 15 miles away in Clarksville, the nearest large city.

Rescue workers theorized Johnson swam across the water, dropped his lamp, and unable to find his way in the dark, began days of wandering through the dark passageways.

Federal officials found that many persons making applications for old age pensions do not know or remember their mothers' maiden names.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

Room 1, Settles Hotel "Spirit" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, Feb. 7.

The Golden Text is: "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (II Corinthians 3:18).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off? ... Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 23: 23, 24).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The three great virtues of Spirit, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience, Spirit possessing all power, filling all space, constituting all Science, contradict forever the belief that matter can be actual. These eternal verities reveal primordial existence as the radiant reality of God's creation, in which all that He has made is pronounced by His wisdom good" (page 109-110).

Art Collection Valued At $5,000,000 Given University By Latcher Stark

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (UP)—H. J. Latcher Stark of Orange, chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas, today presented to the state and the university a collection of fine art objects gathered by his mother, Mrs. Miriam M. Stark, and valued at $5,000,000.

In the formal presentation to Governor Allred, Stark said the gift was made on condition it be properly housed, and estimated $400,000 was needed for that purpose. Lieut. Gov. Walter F. Woodul and Robert W. Calvert, speaker of the house of representatives, attended the ceremony.

Stark said a state fine arts museum was greatly needed and suggested the old library building on the university campus be converted into one. The collection of Mrs. Stark, who died last year, is reputedly one of the finest of its type in the country. It includes paintings, lace, costumes, period furniture, china, rare glass vases, rugs, statuary, books and manuscripts.

Fred Lee Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Coleman, has gone to Kerrville, where he has entered Schreiner Institute. He was accompanied there by his parents last week.

Miss Lenore Reddoch, who has been visiting on the E. I. Koon ranch near Coleman for the past four weeks, has returned to her home here.

A woman never stands when a man is introduced — unless he's very old or very distinguished. Most young women stand when they're being introduced to older women. Ordinarily, however, women do not stand if they're at all near the same age and social status. Young men always stand.

On Shaking Hands Handshaking is much more common between men and women today than it once was. In days gone by a woman rarely shook hands with a man. Now she frequently proffers her hand—since it's really her place to offer to shake hands. The proper thing to say after an introduction has been made is, "How do you do." It is perfectly correct to say, "How do you do, Mrs. Topnotch," however. In fact, repeating the name often helps it to stick in your memory.

Except in unusual cases it's a good idea to camouflage as much as possible the fact that one person is being introduced to another. A younger person is presented to an older. A man is presented to

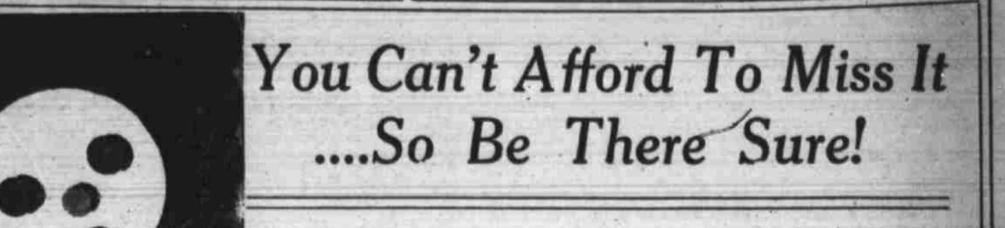

to a woman—unless he's extremely important. And, if there is a marked difference, a less distinguished person is presented to the more distinguished one.

Form Of Introduction On a formal occasion you may say, "Mrs. Topnotch, may I introduce (or very formally present) Mrs. Overhill?" You'll find, however, that most people will fall into conversation more easily if you say simply, "Mrs. Topnotch, Mrs. Overhill." (The first name, strictly speaking, is that of the person to whom the introduction is being made).

Joe E. Brown At The Ritz

Famed Comedian Appears Friday Saturday In New Laugh Hit

Joe E. Brown, one of Hollywood's ace laughmakers, comes to the Ritz Friday and Saturday in his newest comedy hit, "Polo Joe." Joe has been almost everything in the sport world—prize fighter, racer, circus clown, high jumper, bike rider, hooper, acrobat — and now he comes as a synthetic polo player. Again he portrays the meek soul who tries to cover his fright at his own limitations by insisting that they don't exist. He finds it necessary to pretend great prowess at polo, though he has never been on a horse, and gets fits of sneezing whenever he gets near one.

As Joe Bolton, he returns to his home town and the welcoming arms of his rich and gushing Aunt Minnie—after years in China. Aunt Minnie's mansion is in the midst of a swanky polo-playing colony—and Joe at once falls head over heels in love with pretty Mary Hill-ton, who thinks no man can be a hero unless he plays polo.

As Anthony

To get out of his difficulty Joe pretends that he is a wot at it—and so is forced to join the club. He is in terror at what lies ahead and his valet gets the brilliant idea of hiring a bang of bruisers to kidnap him before the game. His rival for Mary's hand overhears Joe's scheme, and informs Mary's father.

So he is compelled to play in the big game—and what happens is good for plenty of laughs.

The supporting cast includes Carol Hughes, Richard "Buckets" Gallagher, Joseph King, Gordon Elliott, Fay Holden, George E. Stone, Olive Tell, David Newell, Milton Kibbee, Frank Orth, John Kelly and Charles Foy. The screen play is by Peter Milne and Hugh Cummings.

First-Graders Window Shop ALAMOSA, Colo. (UP) — The older people of the city couldn't refrain from remarking, "And that's the life of a first-grader now," upon seeing the first grade youngsters of the local school making the rounds "window shopping" as a part of their regular class instruction.

Famed Novel Now Adapted For Film Fare

'Anthony Adverse,' With Fredric March, To Be At Ritz

The much-publicized Warner Bros. production of "Anthony Adverse," filmed from Hervey Allen's immense novel which boasts of readers numbering into the millions, comes to the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday, with a Saturday midnight preview. Fredric March has the stellar role and Olivia de Havilland plays opposite him in the feminine lead.

In its panoramic story sweep through five countries and three continents, the magnitude of its 121 sets, the picturesqueness of its backgrounds, the gigantic scale on which it was produced and the vast number of talented players in its cast, "Anthony Adverse" is hailed as one of the most pretentious of Hollywood's film offerings.

The novel, which took Hervey Allen four years to write, was finally whipped into its finished screen form after more than two years of arduous labor on the part of nearly 3,000 technicians, in addition to more than 2,500 players who portray the many characters seen in the film.

In dynamic action, intense drama, glamorous romance and thrilling adventure, the story is considered extraordinary screen material. And Warner Bros. are said to have caught all the vividness, the fire and color of the original and to have transmitted it to the film.

The cast is a tremendous one in size, there being 98 speaking parts, with 2,500 bit players and extras appearing. Besides March and Miss de Havilland, some of the more important players include Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains, Anita Louise, Louis Hayward, Gale Sondergaard, Steffi Duna, Billy Mauch, Donald Woods, Akim Tamiroff, Ralph Morgan, Henry O'Neil, Pedro de Cordoba, George E. Stone and Luis Al-

COWBOY SONGS AND SWING TUNES LISTED ON COSDEN PROGRAM

A wide variety of musical entertainment embracing cowboy songs, swing tunes, ballads and South Sea Island melodies will fill the air on the Cosden Traffic Cop half hour radio show through WBAP at 7:30 this Saturday evening. The program will open with Ted singing in "Lana From Palestine." The "Humming Birds" will harmonize in "Harvest Moon" and "You Dropped Me Like a Red Hot Penny," while Lee will join the "Humming Birds" in singing "On a Typical Tropical Night." Frisay will do the vocal in "Moonlight and Shadows," a number particularly adapted to Frisay's crooning style. These songs wrangling Cosden Brancha Rogers will yodel in "Home On the Range" and "Fading Cowgirl." The Higher Octaves will play "Levelled Love" and another of their own special arrangements, "De Lowly." The Traffic Cop and his Little Pal again go adventuring in another "Safety" skit.

STARTING SUNDAY "THE DEVIL IS A SISSY"

High Prices Offered For City's Bonds

Delinquent Tax Collection To Be Pushed To Protect Credit

Completing a series of informational discussions before the service clubs of Big Spring, City Manager E. V. Spence today presented statistical data to the American Business club on the city's financial position and said that best evidence of its standing could be found in offers of 113 for city of Big Spring bonds.

To the end of protecting credit of the city, delinquent tax collections will be pushed, he said. Those who will amortize their obligations over a period of time will be given that opportunity, but those who ignore demands for payment will be sued, he promised.

Lake Project

Cheered by the recommendation of the committee on water conservation that the Big Spring lake project be earmarked for funds, Spence expressed the belief that the lake project would at last be realized. Because of this he saw all the more need for protecting the good credit of the city for a bond issue of $25,000 will be necessary to handle the construction work.

As for water rates, the 40 cent rate was 1,000 gallons not only pays for the water, the manager asserted, but also cares for the entire operation of the municipal government, exclusive of paying the bonded indebtedness. This is done for two reasons, he disclosed, namely to control consumption of water and to reach 60 per cent of the people who otherwise would contribute nothing to the support of the city administration.

Speaking of paving, he said that surfacing of 18th street would be pushed as a flood water control measure. This work would divert the flow of water from 18th street south to Goliad and around south of the city instead of through the downtown section as it comes now, he said.

Debt Scaled

The manager also showed how the city's debt had been scaled down since 1931 and at the same time a reduction of taxes and valuations accomplished. Valuation of buildings in the city is now done on the unit basis, which is the classifying of property into types of construction and then multiplying by square feet in a given building.

Roy Reeder discussed plans for the club sponsored dance, proceeds from which will be turned over to the club park fund and to the Red Cross flood relief fund. Darold Wilson, field executive for the Buffalo Trail area, said that the charter for the club sponsored Boy Scout troop will be received soon and suggested a joint meeting of the two units.

Visitors for the day were E. V. Spence, Jim Albright, Fort Worth; Darold Wilson, Joe Pickle, and H. O. Martin. Hugh Duncan was elected vice-president of the club, succeeding Cleo "Pete" Sellers.

Note Pick-Up In Business

More Activity Results As Threat Of Flood Is Lessened

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—Lessening of more aggravated flood threats brought recovery to most divisions of trade this week, Dun & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review.

"Retail distribution resumed its advance," the agency said, "with a strong rebound evident in districts where waters had receded.

"The volume of wholesale orders was expanded by requests for rush shipments of staples and by commitments farther into the spring season.

"The start of rebuilding and replacement programs spread benefits to a number of industries, many now holding heavier backlogs than at the beginning of the year."

Clear weather and a drop in temperature resulted in many key cities recording larger sales by a 10 to 8 per cent than in the week preceding, the review stated, enabling distribution for the country as a whole to register an improvement ranging from 10 to 15 per cent over the same week in 1936.

FARMER CHARGED AFTER WIFE SLAIN

BRADY, Feb. 5 (AP)—A murder charge was on file today against Fred Parker, 26-year-old McCullough farmer, in the death of his wife, May Betty Parker, 42, former Fort Worth school teacher, Jan. 22.

Mrs. Parker died of a skull fracture. Officers were told at that time a horse kicked her and she died without regaining consciousness. Tuesday but Justice W. B. Douglas had announced no result of an autopsy.

Arrested Wednesday, Parker was held in an unannounced jail. The Parkers lived in the Milburn community, 25 miles southeast of here. They had been married about 10 months.

SUSPECT IS SOUGHT IN DOUBLE SLAYING

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 5 (AP)—Officers sought today the former occupant of a San Antonio house for questioning in the slaying of Quirino Ramos, 65, and his sister, Eusebia Ramos, about 70, whose bodies were found in their home yesterday.

In the neighborhood police found blood-stained clothing and a blood-smear rod. Neighbors said the man who had lived in the house

MOTHER AND CHILD LOSE LIVES IN FIRE

JOINERVILLE, Feb. 5 (AP)—A six-year-old girl's effort to rescue her doll from a burning house was blamed today for the death of the child and her mother, Mrs. Marion Smith, 27.

Mrs. Smith died yesterday of burns suffered in an attempt to save her daughter, Billy Joe. Both were ill when explosion of a can of kerosene started the fire. Mrs. Smith carried Billy Joe to safety but the child darted back into the house for her doll and her mother followed.

BUILDING PERMITS REACH A HIGH MARK

Building permits for February have already exceeded the total for January and have more than tripled the February total for 1936.

Three permits for new residences during this week have brought the total permits to 37,050 to noon Friday. This compares with 36,278 for all of January and little more than 32,000 for February a year ago.

The permits for new residences gave the city its largest single week for residential building in more than two years.

LABORATORY FIRE

Very little damage occurred to the laboratory of Dr. W. B. Herdy when fire broke out there at noon. The blaze was extinguished before firemen had time to arrive.

tlement for incumbent judges.

"Indeed, those who have reached the retirement age, but desire to continue their judicial work, would be able to do so under less physical and mental strain and would be able to play a useful part in relieving the growing congestion in the business of our courts.

"Among them are men of eminence and great ability whose services the government would be loath to lose. If, on the other hand, any judge eligible for retirement should feel that his court would suffer because of an increase in its membership, he may retire or resign under already existing provisions of law if he wishes to do so.

"In this connection let me say the pending proposal to extend to the justices of the supreme court the same retirement privileges now available to other federal judges, has my entire approval."

Near the close of his message, Mr. Roosevelt said it dealt with four "present needs."

"First," he said, "to eliminate congestion of calendars and to make the judiciary as a whole less static by the constant and systematic addition of new blood to its personnel; second, to make the judiciary more elastic by providing for temporary transfers of circuit and district judges to those places where the federal courts are most in arrears; third, to furnish the supreme court practical assistance in supervising the conduct of business in the lower courts; fourth, to eliminate inequality, uncertainty and delay now existing in the determination of constitutional questions involving federal statutes."

Goodman Boy Death Victim

Funeral Service For Son Of Moore Residents Set Saturday

Brief illness resulted in the death, Friday morning, of Hugh Leslie Goodman, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie A. Goodman, well known residents of the Moore community. The child succumbed at the home, seven miles northwest of Big Spring, about 9 a. m. He became ill Monday, suffering from appendicitis attack and influenza complications developed.

The boy was born in Howard county. His parents have resided in the county many years, the father being a former railroad man. He has farmed for several years.

Besides the parents, a grandmother, Mrs. E. L. Goodman of Moore survives, and there are four brothers and nine sisters: O. A. Jr., J. R., Frank and Buddie Goodman, all of Moore; Mrs. O. C. Robbins of Big Spring, and Mrs. Ollie May Matthews, and Lillian Iola, Wanda, Gladys, Claudine Doris Fern and Glenda Sue, all of Moore. Roy Goodman of Moore is an uncle.

The funeral service will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the Tabernacle at Fourth and Benton streets, with Rev. Horace C. Goodman officiating. Burial will be made in New Mt. Olive cemetery, under direction of Eberley Funeral home. The body will be at the Goodman home from this evening until time of the rites.

NELSON OFFERS BILL FOR STATE ASYLUM

AUSTIN, Feb. 5—Establishment of a state asylum for the insane in West Texas was proposed in the legislature this week by Sen. G. H. Nelson of Lubbock. The bill provides for the establishment of an institution somewhere in West Texas west of 100th meridian, and calls for erection of buildings at a cost of $517,000, to house approximately 250 patients.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Big Spring Hospital

Lorena Waltrip, 810 Johnson street, has been admitted to the hospital for treatment of influenza.

Diekie, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tucker of this city, was in the hospital for treatment.

J. R. Benson, employe of Coaden Oil corporation refinery, is in the hospital for treatment.

Herbert Lees, who sustained a fractured left leg in an automobile wreck Sunday evening, was doing nicely Friday, after the member was set this morning.

W. A. York, seriously ill of pneumonia, was about the same Friday afternoon.

CORPORATION TAX INCREASE FAVORED

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—A bill to boost the corporation franchise tax about 700 per cent came back to the house of representatives today with a 11 to 7 favorable report from the revenue and taxation committee.

The bill, by Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur, would increase the levy to five per cent of net income or
