Freezing Weather Due In South Texas As North Travels On

Relief from the season's sharpest cold wave was seen Saturday in the forecast of breaking skies and slowly rising temperatures for today and Monday.

The thermometer rose steadily Saturday afternoon to reach 21 degrees at 5 p. m., the highest it had been since Wednesday night.

Minimum for Saturday was 14 degrees, one above the season's low of 13 Friday at 10 a. m.

Big Spring and surrounding area was blanketed by a fine snow, less than an inch.

Home-made sleds made their appearance Saturday morning for the first time since snow last covered the ground on Thanksgiving day of 1934.

Very little damage was caused by the cold here, and the appearance of snow was regarded as beneficial in reducing the possibility of harm to small grain crops.

Foran suffered most from the cold snap when the gas main leading into that place went out near the town.

Communications, while never disrupted, were delayed here from out of town points.

Local lines from small exchanges in this area were reported out of order Saturday.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK by Joe Pickle

Nature has a peculiar way of forcing issues. Last week's bitter cold forced the relief situation to the public mind in the form of mounting, acute demands for immediate aid.

Senator Wilbourne Collier of Eastland said he would renege his proposal made at the last session to keep old age assistance on a basis of "need," but to give "equal and uniform" pensions to all placed on

Each of the two men was said to be about 25 years old. Before leaving the building, the only business structure in Swearingen, they tore the telephone from the wall.

MOTORS OFFICIALS BACK CRAFT UNIONS IN LABOR SQUABBLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The giant General Motors Corporation, which is beset by strikes, took sides today with American Federation of Labor craft unions in their campaign to crush John L. Lewis' Industrial Organization drive.

A few years ago people would have scoffed at a proposal to legislate against the radio reception. However, time changes a lot of things and now we find a growing demand for a city ordinance compelling the use of condensers on electrical appliances.

SNOWFALL LEAVES CHRISTMAS-CARD SCENES

Scenes of beauty, reminiscent of those appearing on Yuletide greeting cards, were snapped by The Herald photographer Saturday in the city park, a spot, untouched by traffic after Friday night's snowfall.

The top left view is of one of the park driveways, that at the top right of the rustic bridge. The snowfall resulted in some real winter fun, too.

Only Two Left In Race For Congress' Work Already Mapped

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Congress completed its first week today with a broad first month's legislative program already shaped.

The senate, ready to go to work, expected to begin committee consideration next week of the Roosevelt administration plan to prolong the life of the monetary and other emergency laws.

Slower to organize, the house planned to complete the task of forming its committees early next week, but leaders forecast it would be another week before any legislation would be ready for floor debate.

Though leaders plan to push four bills through by the end of the month, they say there is little likelihood of either house acting on any of them before the inauguration, January 20.

The four measures slated for consideration this month are: A deficiency appropriation bill carrying at least $790,000,000 for work relief and other agencies for the rest of this fiscal year.

An administration bill to extend until June 30, 1939, the president's power to devalue the dollar and use the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund to regulate foreign exchange.

Another administration measure to extend authority to issue Federal Reserve notes on the basis of government obligations.

A third extension bill, continuing the life of the reconstruction finance corporation, until June 30, 1939.

An effort to add $200,000,000 to the work relief fund for the balance of this fiscal year got under way today at a meeting of senators and representatives from six western states.

The union's statement given to the governor said, "you have already informed us that General Motors will not subscribe to such a guarantee," and expressed determination "to continue this struggle with all lawful means at our disposal until genuine and effective collective bargaining is accorded to the employes" of General Motors.

The report, made to Governor Alfred and the forty-first legislature, included a break down in consolidated receipts and expenditures for the year ended August 31.

The net fund balances of $95,148,226 was an increase of $2,299,054 over the balances as of August 31, 1935.

The increase, King said, was due to general fund expenditures in excess of receipts for the year and to larger fund accounts being more depleted than normally.

Maxine Fleming, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fleming of Wickert, was dismissed from the Big Spring hospital Friday after undergoing a mastoid operation.

T. E. Jordan has been confined to his home several days due to an attack of influenza.

With 267 women and 49 girls of Howard county participating in home demonstration club work in 1936, outstanding demonstrations were set up and cooperator achievements were comparable to their numbers.

DALLAS, Jan. 9 (AP)—Sleet and snow brought new worries to the city fathers here today.

Gen. Motors Prepared To Talk Terms

But Only When 'Sit-Down' Strikers Evacuate All Plants

CORPORATION HEAD ISSUES STATEMENT

Claims Further Effort Is Made Toward Ending Labor Dispute

DETROIT, Jan. 9 (AP)—William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors corporation, announced tonight that the corporation will "meet immediately" with representatives of the United Automobile Workers of America "upon evacuation of its plants by those employes engaged in sit-down strikes."

The company's position was outlined in a statement issued by Knudsen and which contained a letter he sent Friday to Gov. Frank Murphy, who had been seeking to compose the labor dispute between General Motors and the U.A.W.A.

To Bargain Collectively "General Motors corporation representatives," said the letter, "immediately upon evacuation of its plants by those employes engaged in sit-down strikes, will meet with representatives of the International Union, United Automobile Workers of America, for the purpose of bargaining collectively on such of the proposals contained in the letter from the International Union January 4."

Knudsen said the letter was given to the governor, at Murphy's suggestion, "in a further effort to make progress" in the attempts to settle the labor dispute.

The week-end shutdown found 62,842 General Motors employes idle in 15 cities because of strikes, parts shortages or lack of market for products of the plants employing them.

The United Automobile Workers listed their pre-negotiation demands as union recognition (whether as sole bargaining agency for General Motors employes was not specified); and a written guarantee that "if any strikers are withdrawn from plants they hold as corporation will not remove equipment or attempt to reopen the plants; They also demanded immediate cessation of anti-strike activity such as circulation of petitions, "organization of vigilantes," and "threatening or coercion of employes."

The union's statement given to the governor said, "you have already informed us that General Motors will not subscribe to such a guarantee," and expressed determination "to continue this struggle with all lawful means at our disposal until genuine and effective collective bargaining is accorded to the employes" of General Motors.

France and Britain announce no plan of action. Their navies, they say, are going to "maneuver."

Germany and Italy backed the Spanish insurgent fascists under General Francisco Franco. Both recognized him as the real government.

Russia favored the Madrid socialists and communists. Premier Leon Blum of France and his socialist and communist supporters felt likewise but professed neutrality for two reasons:

1—France was divided because there is something of the same fight on there politically.

2—If France openly sided Madrid, she knew Germany and Italy would act quickly and Europe's dreaded World War would be on.

More Than Principle There is something besides principle at stake.

France believes a fascist Spain and a Nazi Germany on her frontiers might bring fascist rule in France.

Germany believes Spain may go communist if Madrid wins and thus tend to spread communism in France.

Germany and Italy openly and officially declare their hatred of communism.

Soviet Russia, between Japan and Germany, two great military enemies east and west, hopes Spain will be socialist or communist thus limiting and perhaps weakening fascism in Europe.

Great Britain, a monarchy but a democracy, is between two fires but wishes above all to prevent a general war.

Demonstration Work Progresses

Women's And Girls' Club Activities Reviewed In Report Of Home Agent

With 267 women and 49 girls of Howard county participating in home demonstration club work in 1936, outstanding demonstrations were set up and cooperator achievements were comparable to their numbers.

Early spring and summer drouths handicapped yard and garden achievements to some degree, she pointed out, but even in those demonstrations reports from club members show a fine record of accomplishment.

The three major demonstrations carried by the women in Howard county for the year 1936 were wardrobe, home food supply and yard improvement. The goals set for the year were: First, provide adequate closet and drawer storage for the family clothing; second, use foundation patterns to make dress and slips for county clothing contests.

Forty-four new closets were built and 24 closets were remodeled or improved. Ninety-nine dresses and slips made by the foundation patterns were worn in the county clothing review and contest.

In addition to these accomplishments, 168 foundation patterns were made, 880 garments other than those worn in county contests were made or renovated by club members.

In the home food supply demonstration vegetable cookery was stressed. The following goals were set for cooperators: First, make a budget for our daily diet; second, prepare three strong flavored vegetables for scoring; third, file up in wardrobe demonstration wardrobe.

England Threatens Blockade Of Spain

Fleets Gathering In Reply To Challenge Of Germany

Nazi Menace To French Colonies And To Britain's Waterway To India Stirs Those Two Powers To Action

By JOHN EVANS Associated Press Chief of Foreign Service

Two great British and French fleets are spreading into long lines of warships to keep the world from mixing in Spain's civil war. They answer a German challenge.

More than a hundred warships steamed toward Spain as the world learned of French allegations that Germans were assembling opposite Britain's Gibraltar, fourteen miles across the narrow entrance to the Mediterranean.

France charged Germans were there by thousands, fortifying Ceuta and building barracks for others to come. Germans there might menace French colonies and cut off her great reserve of troops in the next war.

Britain saw the danger of a general war but saw particular danger to her "road to India" through the Mediterranean.

In Spain the war goes on. For nearly six months dead have crumpled there by thousands while Europe argues.

Steadily the war in Spain has widened until a dozen nations are involved. Almost quietly, tens of thousands of "volunteers" have joined in the fighting. There are French, Russians, British, Germans, Italians, Poles, Americans, Portuguese, Belgians and others on either side.

Even supplies from the United States are on the way to the war. The once gay Madrid is besieged. Bullets and bombs from the air have littered the streets with bodies. Several hundred thousand Spaniards, brother against brother, have died in the struggle over whether Spain shall be ruled by the "left" or the "right."

Fascism vs. Communism It is what is called the worldwide lineup between fascism and communism.

All 27 nations in the "non-intervention committee," in London, pledged "hands off."

Then they squabbled. They quarreled over aid someone else was charged with giving the side they didn't support. They disagreed over what constitutes neutrality.

France called for "neutrality" on the 12th day after the civil war and on a Friday.

Five months of "neutrality" brought only recognition that men and munitions from the outside were fanning the blaze in Spain.

While French and British war craft gather around Spain, Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany, the two fascist leaders, have before the world their answers on how to be neutral. Their Thursday notes to Britain are similar.

They would take out of Spain's fight all the foreign elements and patrol the borders to shut off supplies.

France and Britain announce no plan of action. Their navies, they say, are going to "maneuver."

Germany and Italy backed the Spanish insurgent fascists under General Francisco Franco. Both recognized him as the real government.

Russia favored the Madrid socialists and communists. Premier Leon Blum of France and his socialist and communist supporters felt likewise but professed neutrality for two reasons:

Nations Told To Ban Aid To War Factions

British Paper Asserts Cabinet Has Approved Dramatic Move

WOULD SEARCH ALL INCOMING VESSELS

Meeting Of Powers Reportedly Called To Hold Out 'One Last Chance'

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The British navy will blockade the entire Spanish coast unless Germany, Italy and Russia agree "at once" to halt the influx of men and arms to Spain, the Sunday Referee declared tonight.

The blockade was mapped by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and was approved by the cabinet today, the paper stated, after France already had agreed to the "startling decision."

The cabinet is prepared if necessary, the paper asserted, to search every ship going into Spain and to ignore German, Italian or Russian protests.

Eden will call a meeting of European powers within the next few days to give them a last chance to agree to an effective scheme for banning aid to Spain, the Referee said.

Hitler Sends Men And Cash To Aid Fascists

BERLIN, Jan. 9 (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, hoping for colonies and raw materials, has dispatched 15,000 to 25,000 volunteers to aid Spanish fascists and spent $150,000,000 on the civil war, private advisers said tonight.

There were official denials of German assistance to fascist Gen. Francisco Franco, and Berlin spokesmen declared no knowledge of reported military and commercial activity in Spanish Morocco.

But private German sources declared Hitler had advised Franco to hasten and capture Madrid by Jan. 15, and that his objectives in the war were return of World War lost colonies, mining concessions in Spain or its possessions, and economic aid from other European powers.

Warships Anchored Off The Moroccan Coast

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, Jan. 9 (AP)—French and German warships anchored tonight off Morocco, where reported Nazi troop concentrations roused Franco and Britain to fears for peace.

The Nazi pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee and a second German warship have reached Tangier, internationalized Moroccan port, telephoned advices to Casablanca said.

The French warships were the vanguard of the Atlantic fleet, ordered into Mediterranean maneuvers at a strategic moment. More were due here tomorrow.

Heavy Bombardment Of Madrid Underway

MADRID, Jan. 9 (AP)—Shells rained into Madrid tonight in the greatest bombardment since fascists began their siege late in October, as insurgent infantrymen tried to battle their way further into the city from the northwest.

The canonade seemed much closer to the center of the city than in the past week.

"Black-winged" fascist war planes zoomed over the city time after time.

Crowds of women shoppers, in their children, dashed for shelter in doorways and subways as the planes came into view, to escape the spray of shrapnel.

New Ad Appears Mattson Asks Proof That Son Alive

SEATTLE, Jan. 9 (AP)—The sixth of the "contact" advertisements published in behalf of Dr. W. W. Mattson to the kidnaper of his son, Charles, appeared tonight in the Seattle Times.

The classified advertisement read in part: "x x x in view of lapse of time also desire new proof my son is alive and well x x x."

The advertisement was identical with the fifth, which appeared two days ago, except another sentence had been added.

The advertisement read: "Mable—we are still waiting. All arrangements have been carried out in accordance with instructions contained in notes received. Be certain to give me information so that I may guard against impostors and hi-jackers, and be more specific in your instructions. In view of lapse of time also desire new proof my son is alive and well.—Ann."

Kidnap Case At Standstill

Dr. Mattson Waits At Home For Word From Boy's Abductor

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 9 (AP)—A 3-inch snow blanket apparently stalled operations tonight in the Charles Mattson kidnaping. Chances for immediate release of the 10-year-old boy seemingly lessened with continuation of the white storm.

Dr. W. W. Mattson, father of the missing boy, waited at his home for additional word from the kidnaper which would make payment of the $25,000 ransom possible.

Some undisclosed "hitch" in negotiations was believed to have prevented this payment at a scheduled time Thursday.

Federal bureau of investigation agents, though they were known to have snowshoes and other equipment suitable for heavy weather, remained in their offices, reverting to the policy of "non-interference" which they temporarily abandoned early yesterday.

Disinterested observers immediately predicted a delay in the climax of the kidnap case when the snow started falling shortly before dawn today.

They pointed out the weather would prevent any safe meeting between the kidnaper and an intermediary for the family, since either officers or "hi-jackers" bent on securing the ransom money would be able to follow the trail.

TWO GIRLS MISSING

Fear For Safety Of Pair Who Left Lubbock Home

LUBBOCK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Fear was expressed here today for the safety of two 16-year-old girls who ran away from home January 2 and were traced to Snyder and Fort Worth where the trail ended last Sunday.

The girls, Merle Blair and Joyce Florence, high school juniors, hitchhiked out of Lubbock lightly attired, with no baggage and only a little change in their pocketbooks.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Blair, of Lubbock, and Rev. and Mrs. Preston Florence, of Seminole, are particularly fearful of their daughters' well-being since the advent of lashing winter weather.

FEAR FOR FRUIT

Citrus Orchards Fired To Guard Against Freeze

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP)—Some 15,000 workers resumed firing of citrus orchard heaters tonight, guarding against further damage from a Southern California freeze which may cost crop growers generally several millions of dollars, unofficial estimates today indicated.

Most of the damage from last night's sub-freezing temperatures—the coldest in 15 years in this semi-tropical area—was confined to citrus fruits. Other crops, however, suffered extensively.

Song-And-Dance Spectacle Starring Ace Tapster, Eleanor Powell, At The Ritz

'Born To Dance' Billed For Sunday And Monday

Catchy songs, beautiful girls, elaborate spectacle, a plot brimming with laughs—topped by the sensational dancing of America's "queen of taps," Eleanor Powell—combine to make "Born To Dance," playing at the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday, one of the big attractions of the current film season.

Winning stardom in her first picture, "Broadway Melody of 1936," Miss Powell again demonstrates her generous and unusual endowment of charm and prowess that earned her the title of the world's champion feminine tap dancer.

In "Born To Dance" the star is given full opportunity to reveal her versatile talents, for she does everything from dancing up and down flights of stairs to leading a band with her toes. Her numbers, as well as those which include the chorus spectacle, are the creation of Dave Gould, who introduced the famed "Carolina."

Of importance also are the musical numbers written by that ace exponent of words and music, Cole Porter of "You're the Top" fame. Porter has contributed such songs as "Easy To Love," "I've Got You Under My Skin," "Swinging the Jinx Away," and "Hey, Babe, Hey."

The story of "Born To Dance" tells the amusing and heart-hearted tale of a small town girl who goes to the big city and falls in love with a navy man. She nearly loses him to a scheming chorus-girl, but all turns out happily in the end. Music and dancing, naturally, play an important part in the plot.

Supporting Miss Powell are James Stewart, who plays the romantic role opposite her; Virginia Bruce as the chorus girl; Una Merkel and Sid Silvers; Frances Langford, the radio songbird; Raymond Walburn, Alan Dinehart and Buddy Ebsen, the capable eccentric hooper.

Also to be seen are Juanita

CO-FEATURED IN LYRIC FILM

Shirley Ross and Robert Cummings, two of the newcomers to the screen, who have the leading romantic roles in "Hideaway Girl," at the Lyric for three days beginning Sunday. Also featured in a comedy role of the musical comedy is Martha Raye, she of the Joe-E-Brown-mouth, who sings and cuts all manner of capers.

Martha Raye, Shirley Ross In Lyric Film

New Players Appear Together, 'Hideaway Girl'

Two of filmdom's newest entertainers, Martha Raye and Shirley Ross, are together again in a musical picture of the type that has brought both a big following in the past few months. The picture is "Hideaway Girl," a musical mystery which comes to the Lyric theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

It was only a few months ago that Miss Raye was discovered in a Hollywood cafe and given a part in "Rhythm On the Range." She later was cast in "The Big Broadcast of 1937" and in "College Holiday." In "The Big Broadcast" she played with Shirley Ross, who had the leading feminine romantic role in the picture.

In "Hideaway Girl," both actresses have roles similar to those they played in "The Big Broadcast." Miss Raye as a singing-comedienne and Miss Ross as the romantic lead opposite Robert Cummings. She also sings.

"Hideaway Girl" is a mystery story as well as a gay and tuneful comedy. A jewel burglary is perpetrated during a marriage ceremony by a woman thief dressed as the bride. Miss Ross is discovered in the opening sequences of the picture fleeing in the car in which the burglar made her getaway. She takes refuge on Cummings' yacht, where she has to pose as his wife. In a fast-moving climax the real thief is discovered and the romance worked out amid a barrage of tunes and laughs.

Martha Raye has ample opportunity to show her gags and to sing with the type of "mugging" which has made her famous.

Others in the cast are Monroe Owsley, Louis DaFron and Ed Brophy.

THE TAP QUEEN PERFORMS

Eleanor Powell, the dancing sensation, in one of the numerous spectacle numbers in her newest starring vehicle, "Born To Dance," which plays at the Ritz Sunday and Monday, in one of the sequences of this film may be seen Geraldine Robertson of Lamesa who, as queen of the Texas Centennial, played a bit part while in Hollywood for a screen test.

'Church Of The Air' On KBST Again Today; New Musical Program At 12; Journalist, Military Band Offered

Station KBST inaugurates its Sunday schedule today with the broadcasting, by remote control, of services from the First Presbyterian church. This "church of the air" will have its third presentation today from 11 a. m. to 12 noon.

"Songs You Forgot to Remember" is a program that will be on the air for the first time today at 12 noon. It presents a member of the regular staff of KBST.

Howard Vincent O'Brien, prominent American journalist, and Robert Hood Bowers, with his famous military band, are being presented Sunday night in the first of a series of broadcasts over KBST.

O'Brien, famous radio commentator, will be heard each Sunday, Wednesday and Friday at 7:15 to 7:30, contributing a series of brief but highly interesting talks on the "Future of Youth," which are distinguished for their sympathetic presentation of the hopes and problems of the younger generation. His talks also cover a variety of subjects from politics to Parisian plumbing.

Sunday night O'Brien's subject will be "Zippers." The program also brings the music of Robert Hood Bowers' military band in a collaboration of National Broadcasting company artists. Bowers was, for five years, conductor for Victor Herbert, famous American composer, gaining much knowledge of composing and arranging in his association with that world-

Gas Is Worth More Than It Costs THE OPTIONAL RESIDENTIAL RATE

This rate was installed in 1933.

It is applicable only to one-family residences. Does not apply to rooming houses, boarding houses, apartment buildings, or any residences in which a business is operated.

It is an optional rate and is applied only upon the customer's request. To obtain it, the customer must sign a contract agreeing to use it for 12 months, but he can go off the rate any time during the 12 months by paying the difference between his statements as rendered under the contract and what they would have been on the regular rate. Obviously he can lose nothing under this kind of an agreement.

Under this rate gas is bought for as little as 20c per thousand cubic feet. An application of the rate to an average customer living in a 5 room house follows, showing the difference in his statements for August, a summer month and December, a winter month—

Month	Volume of Gas Used	Statement on Regular Rate	Statement on Optional Rate	Difference
August	3.0	$ 2.52	$3.30	X.78
December	15.2	$10.75	$7.04	-3.71

In the summer month his statement was $7.80 more than it would have been on the regular rate, but in the winter month it was $3.71 less. There are normally 5 months of the year during which this rate means a slight increase, and 7 months of the year during which it means a large decrease. This particular customer saved $18.61 in 1936 by being on this rate.

Sign a contract by Jan. 11th and pay your December statement on this rate, taking the saving.

GAINES TEST GETS SULPHUR WATER; OIL SHOWINGS IN YOAKUM COUNTY WILDCAT

15 Completions In Ward And Winkler For Daily Potential Of 23,655 Bbls.

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 9 — Encroachment of sulphur water shows in a Gaines county wildcat, the first showing of oil in a Yoakum county wildcat, the assurance of commercial production in a Ward county test four miles west of the O'Brien pool, and the completion of 15 wells in Ward and Winkler counties with an aggregate daily potential of 23,655 barrels were among the important West Texas oil developments of the last week.

The Gaines test, Stanolind No. 1 Morrow, was coring below 4,756 feet as the week ended after encountering the sulphur water shows at that point. Oil shows had been noted from 4,608 to 4,637 feet; from 4,537 to 4,840, and around 4,720, the check at that point showing 90 feet of oil to 500 of drilling water and 1.9.2 feet of fluid and mud. The test is 1,320 feet from the west and 1,700 feet from the south lines of section the fluid level couldn't be lowered under 70 feet off bottom. Showing only a small amount of gas, it was estimated by the operators to be good for at least 75 barrels daily on the pump. The test is 350 feet out of the northeast corner of section 54-F-G&M&B&A survey.

15th Completion

Completion of Gulf No. 14 Daugherty in Winkler county for a 24-hour flow of 1,172 barrels through seven-inch casing, with 1,070,000 cubic feet of gas, brought the Ward-Winkler completions for the week to 15 and the combined daily production to 23,655 barrels. No. 14 Daugherty is in the Sayre pool, and is 330 feet from the south and 2,310 feet from the west lines of section 43-26-pal survey.

Winkler, which led locations with seven for the week, had nine completions, good for a daily potential of 12,100 barrels, while Ward, also with seven locations, brought in six producers, good for 11,555 barrels daily.

Largest producer of the week was Gulf No. 9 Estes in the Hathaway pool in southern Ward county. It flowed 1,278.38 barrels in six hours through tubing and casing and was given a 24-hour potential of 5,114 barrels a day. It showed 7,515,000 cubic feet of gas after being shot with 270 quarts from 2,461-2,600 feet. No. 9 Estes is 330 feet from the southwest and 995 feet from the northwest lines of section 48-34-H&T&C survey. It was bottomed at 2,600.

In the same pool, Eastland No. 3 Hathaway was assigned a potential of 3,532.96 barrels a day after being shot with 380 quarts with total depth 2,644 feet and a pay top of 2,470 feet.

200 Barrels Hourly

Winkler's best new well this week was Atlantic No. 6-A Leck in the Henderson field. It flowed 200 barrels hourly at 3,070 feet. No. 6-A Leck is 830 feet from the south and 890 feet from the west lines of section 34-74-pal survey. It was bottomed at 3,070 feet.

The closely watched Terry county wildcat, W. L. Pickens No. 1 Lewright, 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 1-C37-pal, was drilling ahead below 4,005 feet at the last of the week in sand and anhydrite.

After a brief drill stem test earlier had shown 45 feet of mud but no oil or gas or bottom hole water, Wm. Hannigan and others' No. 1 Logsdan, Andrews county wildcat, 14 miles northwest of the Deep Rock area and 17 miles west of the Means pool, was coring ahead below 4,654 at the week-end.

In the southern part of Andrews county, Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Emma Cowden, a prospective two-mile extension of the North Cowden pool in Ector county, swabbed 33 barrels of new oil in seven hours with the fluid level staying at 1,200 feet. Location is 273 feet from the east line and 511 feet from the east line of section 12-44-2n-T&P survey.

Couple Lives In Cave

BELLAIRE, O. (UP) — Sheriff's officers arrested a man and woman found living in a cave beneath huge rocks at a secluded spot near here. The couple had lived in the cave for six months, under primitive conditions.

NEW POOLS INDICATED FOR AREA

Showing of two wildcat tests during 1936 indicated two new oil pools for this area. The first was the Ray Albaugh No. 1 John Robinson, 16 miles northwest of Lamesa in Dawson county in section 46-M, ELARDIER survey. The second, about 18 miles south of Big Spring, was the B. A. Duffy and Floyd C. Dodson No. 1 J. G. Carter estate north central Glasscock county discovery well in section 8-33-S, T&P Survey. Neither of the two wells has been fully developed yet and neither appears to be a heavy producer, but both indicate additional developments in surrounding areas. Existing pools in Howard, Glasscock, Mitchell and Scurry counties are shown on the map.

Glasscock Co. Test Plugged At 2,778 Feet

Fleetborn No. 1 Coulson Hits Sulphur Water; To Test East Of Here

Sub-freezing temperatures halted drilling operations in this area as the week ended, but not before an outpost Glasscock county test drilled into sulphur water and was ordered plugged.

Fleetborn No. 1 Coulson, in the southeast quarter of section 19-33-F, T&P, drilled into sulphur water at 2,680 and drew orders to plug at 2,778 feet. Seven-inch casing had been run to 2,717 feet. Previously, the test encountered salt water at 2,590-2,605 feet but lowered 8 1/4-inch casing to shut off the flow. The test was located two miles southwest of the discovery Duffy and Dodson No. 1 J. G. Carter in section 8-33-S, T&P, Glasscock county.

Two miles to the northwest, the only other outpost test in the north central Glasscock area, the Mid-Continent No. 1 Black Arrow in the northeast quarter of section 13-34-S, T&P, was drilling at 1,100 feet in redbeds.

Test Near Big Spring

According to reports received here, the Dick Graham No. 1 Great West wildcat, located on an 80-acre tract in the northwest corner of section 48-32-1n, T&P, four miles east of Big Spring, will be spudded during the next week. The wildcat is to be taken to pay, sulphur water or 3,500 feet. Several years ago a test was drilled a few miles to the northeast without shows.

Garza county's most active well, the Gartz No. 3 Post estate in section 6-5, K. Aycock survey, was drilling past 2,900 feet in lime after setting eight-inch casing at 2,423 feet. The Graham and Hunter No. 1 Post estate in the same section and block was preparing to spud after skidding 40 feet west from its hole where a string of casing was lost at 2,800 feet.

In the East Howard pool, Ambassador Oil No. 1 Reel, section 45-29-1n, T&P, was drilling at 2,250 feet while the Ambassador Oil No. 3 Reel, section 48-30-1n, T&P, which before had lost two holes was at 910 feet in redbeds.

Location Changed

The Ennisbrook No. 11 Texas Land and Mortgage Co. section 4-30-1s, T&P, was past 1,500 feet and its No. 13 Texas Land and Mortgage Co. was drilling around 1,500 feet. Ennisbrook has 12 wells and locations on the section at the present time.

After skidding 50 feet west from its original location in section 21-24-2s, T&P, Glasscock county, the Moore Bros. No. 2 McDowell (unit test) was drilling at 790 feet. The test is out-cut from the World pool on the McDowell ranch where westward production in the Howard Glasscock field is found.

Plymouth Oil Corp. indicated a new test on its Klob lease in the Howard Glasscock area this week and Bruce and Johnson staked location for their third test in section 88-29, W&N.W.

70,000 Helped By Distribution Of Food And Cloth

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 9—Over 150,000 food and clothing were piled to a monthly average of 7,549 destitute Texas families through the WPA commodity distribution project, it was announced Saturday by R. L. Montgomery, state director of the project.

Now sponsored as a WPA project by the Texas Relief commission, the distribution of surplus commodities has been effected through various governmental agencies dependent upon the distribution agency for food and clothing during the year just closed is smallest in the three and one-half year history of the organization. Montgomery pointed out. In 1936 there were 312,340 families receiving necessities from the government, in 1934 there were 222,000 families on the list, and 132,000 families were benefited in 1933.

Working with a staff of 783 persons, 744 of whom were formerly relief rolls, Montgomery has supervised the distribution of more than 45 million pounds of food and more than five million garments, a household articles this year. The value of these commodities is estimated at $9,344,006. Expense of distribution was $440,517, less than 5 percent of the value of the commodities disbursed. Ninety-six percent of the expenditure was salaries, Montgomery said.

Mrs. C. C. Thompson of Dallas who has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ellis will be in today for Albuquerque, N. M., in a visit before returning to her home. She is a sister of Mr. Ellis.

$64,000 Lease Sale Closed In Jones Co.

Lewis Production Co. Acquires Holdings In Sayles Extension

ABILENE, Jan. 9—Lease sale of 320 acres in the south extension area of the Sayles field, eight miles north of here in Jones county, in reputedly the largest cash transaction for oil land ever to be made in the Abilene area overshadowed all other developments this week.

Although not disclosed, the deal was understood to involve $64,000 paid by the Lewis Production company of Pittsburgh, Pa., and others for the lease—$200 per acre—on the Henry Sayles, Jr. ranch. Pits have been dug and operators are moving in materials for the Lewis No. 1 Sayles. Besides Lewis, others interested in the purchase are Montour Production company, also of Pittsburgh, and the Selby Oil & Gas company of Tulsa, Okla.

First Test

The first test by the lessors will be 1,940 feet south of the Condor Petroleum company No. 1-B Sayles, estimated to be the largest producer.

ducer for the now two-mile long producing area, which last month extended the field three-quarters mile to the south. Proration gauge on the Condor extension will be taken next week when a mile of weided line is laid to the field storage.

The Lewis No. 1 Sayles is located 1,540 feet from the west and 240 feet from the north line of the center 320-acre tract in section 6, block 20, T&P survey. Five other wells will be drilled along the north lease line of the tract.

Condon Petroleum company, developer of the field, has drilled 17 producers—no dry holes. The company owns a block of 2,400 acres, 1,280 of which are on the Sayles ranch. The acreage sold had not been previously leased.

The field has a daily potential of 3,428 barrels for the 16 tested producers.

Three Tested

Completion of tests on three producers—the discovery well for a new Jones pool—and abandonment of three wildcat tests—were other developments.

The pool opener, Merry Brothers & Perini and Forest Development corporation No. 2 J. H. White, three quarters mile west of the Sandy Ridge field in eastern Jones pumped 65 barrels on a 24-hour test from a hitherto unproductive pay for this area at 2,326-35 1-2 feet, after acidization with 2,000 gallons. Operators have not announced location for the next test. The well is in the northwest quarter of section 5, block 15, T&P survey, eight miles east of Anson.

Largest completion of the week was the Sinclair-Prairie No. 2-B Bertha King, in the north extension of the Hawley field, which flowed 562 barrels on a 13 1/2 hour gauge from line at 2,214 to 2,225 feet which had been treated with 2,000 gallons of acid. Previously the well had failed to flow. It is in the northeast corner of section 7, Manuel Bueno survey No. 197; a south offset to the Ungren & Frasier No. 1-D Dorsey which responded in like manner to acidization in the Lower Hope pay.

Completion Near

Ungren & Frasier No. 9-C Dorsey, in the south part of the Hawley field, flowed 242 barrels on a 24-hour gauge from Upper Hope sand drilled from 2,143 to 2,180 feet. It is in subdivision 5, Bueno 197.

Another Upper Hope sand completion was looming for the N. H. Martin & Son No. 6-A Dorsey at 2,218 feet, atop the Lower Hope sand. It is a south offset to a 5,000-barrel test.

Three outposts to the Gular area, new Jones pool, failed to find production in the producing sand for the pool, and one was plugged.

Test Abandoned

Brown Eagle Oil company of Abilene No. 1 W. A. Minter estate, quarter-mile east of production was the abandonment. It found a hole full of water at 2,159-65 feet and stopped drilling at 2,175 feet in hard lime. Regular sand for the

Mustangs Make Conference Cage Debut By Trouncing Texas Garden City To Hold 4th Annual Basketball Meet

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—The day of rugged individualism in American amateur golf is over. For competitive and financial reasons, the annual meeting of the United States Golf association today tossed out the all-match play form of combat which for the past three years has turned the amateur title tournament into a golfing donnybrook...

Day Of Rugged Individualism In American Amateur Golf Is Over

Effective with this year's championship, to be played over the links of the Alderwood Country club at Portland, Ore. August 23-25, survivors of the customary sectional qualifying round will engage in a two-day 36-hole medal test. The low 64 scorers will swing into match play, with all matches up to the semi-finals at 18 holes. The semi-finals and final will be at 36 holes.

The system is an innovation in the sense that, while returning to the old pattern, the championship quota has been increased from 22 to 64. Thus, there'll still be a chance for the longhorns of the links to stampede the favorites especially in the four 18-hole rounds to be played on the third and fourth days.

Members of the winning teams will be awarded miniature gold basketballs while the best sport and the most valuable players will also be honored.

Teams in the boys' division sent invitations were: Rankin, Big Lake, Barnhart, Christoval, Veribest, Water Valley, Lakeview, Sterling City, Foran, Westbrook, Coahoma, Garner, Courtney, Stanton, Stokes, Indian Creek, Ackerly, Elbow and Moore, while girls' aggregations tendered invitations were Big Lake, Rankin, Barnhart, Lakeview, Foran, Coahoma, Elbow, Knott, Moore, Courtney, Lomax and Stanton.

Johnny Little, formerly of Daniel Baker, was chosen as the boys' official, while G. Hannaford, Lomax, was selected to referee the girls' matches.

Drawing for the meeting will be held January 22. There will be no admission for the games, the tournament being staged by the P-T A and the Garden City school board.

'LIGHT HORSE' COOPER AND TWO 'DARK HORSE' ENTRIES IN CLOSE FINISH AT 36 HOLES

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 9 (AP)—"Light Horse Harry" Cooper and two "dark horse" entries, Jules Huot of Canada and Art Bell of Pasadena, rode out of the shadows of the Griffith Park golf course in a dead heat late today to take the lead at the 36-hole stage of the $8,000 Los Angeles Open.

Cooper posted a 70 with his first round 69 for a 36-hole card of 139. Huot, former Canadian pro champion of Quebec, smacked five strokes off the par-71 course for 66, putting it with a first round 73 for another 139.

Bell, young Crown City pro, thrilled a gallery of several thousands and with a 67 to go with his 72. One stroke back were two more "dark horses," Zell Eaton of Oklahoma City, with 73-67-140, and Al Krueger, baseball player-pro golfer from Beloit, Wis., with 70-70-140.

Grouped in the 142's were three of the greatest money players in the country, Horton Smith of Chicago, with an even par 71-71-142, Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., with 72-70-142, and Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis, with a 70-72-142.

Not Counted Out Tied with them were Gray Madison of Phoenix and Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and one-stroke back were five more pros who refuse to be counted out of the battle which ends with the 18-hole final Monday.

The 143 listed Jimmy Hines, Garden City, Long Island, who won the meet last year, long driving Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee, Pa., Paul Runyan, the iron master from White Plains, N. Y., Willie Goggin of San Bruno, Calif., and Al Zimmerman, young Portland, Ore., pro.

36-Hole scores included: Jack Grout, Fort Worth, 75-70-154. Joe Ezar, Waco, Tex., 76-75-154.

Grant Makes Budge Look Like Novice

'Bitsy' Wins Annual Miami Biltmore Tennis Tournament

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 9 (AP)—Bryant M. (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta made the country's top-ranking tennis player, Donald Budge, look like a novice today as he trimmed him 6-2, 7-5, 6-0, to win the Miami Biltmore tennis tournament.

The freckle-faced redhead from Oakland, Calif., a heavy hitter, couldn't get a ball past his little opponent. Budge, whose usually severe serve was gone completely, won his own service only four times.

Budge double-faulted twice in the first game of the second set. They won each other's services to 2-1 and Bitsy took the next two games on deep, well-placed drives.

Budge came up to a 4-4 lead, however, principally on the strength of his net play and Grant settled down to a dogged fight. The Californian was behind 15-40 in the tenth game on his own serve, but captured four straight points. The next two games, fought from the baselines, were Grant's on his steadiness.

Members of the winning teams will be awarded miniature gold basketballs while the best sport and the most valuable players will also be honored.

Teams in the boys' division sent invitations were: Rankin, Big Lake, Barnhart, Christoval, Veribest, Water Valley, Lakeview, Sterling City, Foran, Westbrook, Coahoma, Garner, Courtney, Stanton, Stokes, Indian Creek, Ackerly, Elbow and Moore, while girls' aggregations tendered invitations were Big Lake, Rankin, Barnhart, Lakeview, Foran, Coahoma, Elbow, Knott, Moore, Courtney, Lomax and Stanton.

Johnny Little, formerly of Daniel Baker, was chosen as the boys' official, while G. Hannaford, Lomax, was selected to referee the girls' matches.

Drawing for the meeting will be held January 22. There will be no admission for the games, the tournament being staged by the P-T A and the Garden City school board.

CHANGING MADE BY RULE COMMITTEE

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Handling the ball forward in the backfield to an eligible forward pass receiver, was made legal under the national federation of high school athletic associations football code today at the annual meeting of the rules committee.

Heretofore, the ball had to be handed to another player either laterally or backward.

The committee also adopted a change in its rule governing fouls involving disqualification. When a disqualification foul, such as slugging, is committed a penalty of 15 yards will be assessed in addition to removal of the offender from the game.

Another alteration provides that the penalty for a forward pass thrown from beyond the line of scrimmage shall be five yards and loss of the down.

COAHOMA TO STAGE TOURNEY

COAHOMA, Jan. 9—The Coahoma invitational basketball tournament, with fights for both boys and girls, will open next Friday afternoon at 1 p. m. with a total of 16 teams entered.

The Big Spring Devils have been established as favorites in the boys' division but any one of the seven other teams can give trouble. Elbow, Courtney, Garner, Klondike, Ira, Ackerly and Coahoma have entered teams in the boys' division while aggregations from Courtney, Elbow, Garner, Garden City, Coahoma, Klondike, Ira and Ackerly have filed entries for the girls' meeting.

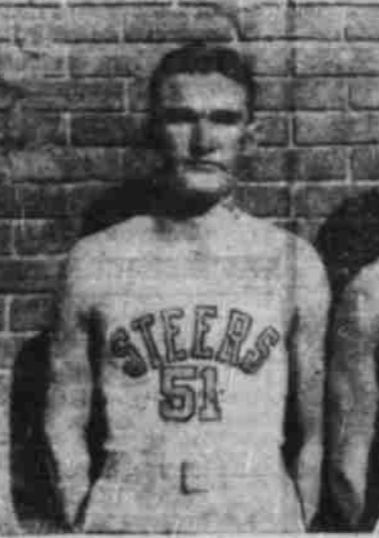

Awards for the winners and the runnerup in both divisions will be given.

The Tigers were awarded the trophy for the past season under the ratings of Deke Houglate, Los Angeles grid statistician.

DUKES HAVE BIG EDGE IN CAGE LEAGUE

Bakermen Have Chalked Up Big Scores In Winning Loop Games

By HANK HART As play in the El-County basketball circuit swings into its sixth week, the Big Spring Dukes, leading the pack with five victories, appear to be far and away the best team in the loop and, if they continue to set the pace, need only four more games to make themselves eligible for the TAAF meeting to be held later in the year in San Antonio.

Only in the opening game were the Bakermen pushed. Berl Cameron's Spudders forced the locals to rally in the closing minutes of play to cop a 22-19 victory, but since then the Dukes have been invincible.

Four times they have scored 50 points or more. They defeated the Spudders by 21 points their last time out.

They set some sort of a record against the M-W Westerners in their third start by swamping Justin Holmes and his men, 76-18, in the local gym.

The Dukes are scheduled to play Hyman Tuesday and will probably arrange to play off the postponed game with Cleo Wilson's Continentals sometime next week.

The Westerners, who have come up with three victories in six starts, have a pair of games this week. They open Monday night against the powerful Spudders in Foran and meet the Pipeliners Wednesday night in the local gym.

Holmes' squad received a weakening blow last week when it was learned that Vernon Wadley had left the squad, but the outlook was not entirely dark. Jack Holmes, forward, donned red and white suit in the Wednesday night game against the high school cagers and Cecil Reed, the club's offensive ace, may rejoin the troop this week.

All managers have reshuffled their lineups considerably since the opening of the season. The Spudders came up with several good deals, gaining Phil Smith, a former Duke guard, and "Buckley" Hare, one-time high school forward.

Baker will probably send his hoopers out against the Hobbs Oilers within the next two weeks and may play one of the Abilene college teams soon. The Hobbs quintet is headed by Cotton Clover.

TECH SWEEPS 2 GAME SERIES

ABILENE, Jan. 9 (AP)—Coach Bugs Morris juggled his Abilene Christian college lineup tonight, and for 25 minutes the Wildcats gave Texas Tech a good ball game. The Matadors led only 20 to 17 five minutes after the second half began, but Garrett and Case, forwards, and Snodgrass, guard, went on a scoring streak for 11 straight points, Tech winning 43 to 26 for a sweep of the two-game series.

Garrett led the winners with 13 points, but all of Tech's 10 men except Wiginton scored a point or more. Stone, Hudson and Parker of the Wildcats each tallied five.

DON LASH WINS INVITATION RUN

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Don Lash won the 3,000 meter invitation run as the Columbus Council of the Knights of Columbus opened the indoor track and field season in the 106th infantry armory tonight.

Sprinting away from Joe McCluskey and six other rivals, Lash ran the distance in the fast time of 8:32.4.

BOYCOTT OF FIGHT PICKS UP MOMENTUM

JEWISH WAR VETERANS SEEK TO STOP BRADDOCK-SCHMELING BATTLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—The boycott of the James J. Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight championship fight picked up momentum today.

The Jewish war veterans of the United States, 200,000 strong, threw their support to the non-secretariat Anti-Nazi League, the A.P. of L. and various Catholic and protestant organizations seeking to stop the fight from being held in this country.

Hay H. Schaffer, commander-in-chief of the veterans, announced here he is notifying the 150 posts throughout the country to withhold support from the fight.

The boycott was launched by the Anti-Nazi League as part of its program to oppose German goods, shipping and services.

Some of the country's biggest names are members of the league. Samuel Untermyer, New York lawyer, is president. James W. Gerard, war time ambassador to Germany and Mayor LaGuardia are among the vice presidents and J. David Stern, publisher of the Philadelphia Record and New York Post, is treasurer.

Although Madison Square Garden and the 20th Century Sporting Club, joint promoters of the fight, continued to withhold comment, belief was general along Broadway that the battle is doomed.

GRID MEETING IS POSTPONED

ABILENE, Jan. 9 (AP)—The meeting scheduled this afternoon of the O.H. Bell district in Texas Interscholastic League football, at which time the 1937 membership was to be arranged and the schedule mapped, was postponed until next Saturday.

Application for Stephenville for a place in the district was scheduled to be taken up.

HOGS OVERCOME BAYLOR BEARS

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 9 (AP)—The Arkansas Razorback cagers overcame their "previous nervousness" as they won an easy 42 to 24 victory over the Baylor Bears tonight.

The Porkers staidied after being defeated last night by the Bruins and flashed a superior attack.

Baylor was unable to get close enough to the basket due to a superb defense by Coach Glen Rose's quintet.

TEXAS TECH TO PLAY CREIGHTON

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 9 (AP)—An eight-game schedule for the 1937 Creighton university football team was announced tonight.

The schedule includes: November 25, Texas Tech at Lubbock, Texas.

REGENTS FAIL TO TAKE ACTION ON GRID COACH

AUSTIN, Jan. 9 (AP)—The University of Texas board of regents today took no action on the football coaching situation.

Lack of recommendation by the athletic council to replace Jack Chevigny, for three years head mentor and recently appointed chief attorney in the state tax department, was given as the reason for inaction.

JD NORTON OUTSCORES TEXAS '5'

DALLAS, Jan. 9 (AP)—Spurred by the sensational shooting of J. D. Norton, flashy sophomore forward, the Southern Methodist University Mustangs made their 1937 Southwest conference basketball debut tonight by trouncing the University of Texas Longhorns, 27 to 18.

Norton alone outscored the entire Longhorn team, paring the meek eight times with tosses from the field and twice from the free throw line for 18 points.

At the halftime intermission, the red and blue, which had trailed most of the first half, boasted a 14 to 10 margin.

The victory enabled Coach Jim St. Clair's Methodists to start in a three-way tie with Rice, and Texas Christian for the conference leadership. This, the second defeat in two nights for Jack Gray's orange and white, gave their title hopes a severe setback.

Norton was more than an offensive hero. He was the ball handling star of the night and, when dropping into the back court in the locals' five-man defense, he turned in one of the best guarding jobs of the night.

Few shots were the Austin lads able to obtain from close range while the Ponies worked the ball into good shooting ground with comparative ease, but for the fact that their aim, especially that of Captain Bill Blanton, was slightly off, the margin of victory would have been much wider.

Blanton caged only one field goal and time after time his tries rimmed the hoop and rolled out.

AGGIES SMASH LOBOES STATE COLLEGE, N. M., Jan. 9

NEW MEXICO Aggies, led by "Hooky" Apodaca, smashed down a closing spurt by University of New Mexico and beat the Lobos, 39-23, tonight to sweep their weekend Border Conference basketball series. The Aggies won last night, 31-23.

Off to an early 2-3 lead, the Farmers held the margin until three minutes from the end, when New Mexico knotted the score at 32-32, after trailing, 20-11 at the half.

WRESTLER DIES

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Jan. 9 (AP)—The body of Martin "Farmer" Burns—the 170-pounder who wrestled his way to the world's championship—lay in state at a mortuary here today.

Friends and fans, sorrowed by his death last night at the age of 75, filed by the pier of the man they came to know as the "dean of American wrestlers."

PAUL WANTS ON ACTIVE LIST

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9 (AP)—Paul Dean's arm must have rounded into shape, at least to his own satisfaction, because the St. Louis Cardinal pitcher has applied for reinstatement on the active player list.

The younger of the Dean brothers was forced into voluntary retirement late last season when a sore arm kept him from doing more than "lob" the ball across the plate. He has been spending the winter on his farm near Dallas, Texas.

Leon Trotzky Now In Mexico

Breaks Long Silence To Voice Denunciation Of 'Moscow Frameup'

TAMPICO, Mexico, Jan. 9 (AP)—Leon Trotzky came to Mexico today to the haven that European nations had refused him.

The tanker Ruth brought the one-time co-leader of Soviet Russia to Tampico from Norway, where he had been living in exile until Mexico invited him to come here and Norway expelled him.

He looked well. His gray hair was trimmed neatly and his hair was bushy.

The 57-year-old Russian broke the silence of his last four months' internment in Norway—where police closely guarded his villa—to denounce what he called the "Moscow frameup."

He referred to the execution of 36 men in Moscow—including Gregory Zinovieff and Leon Karmenoff, Trotzky followers—convicted of plotting to overthrow the administration.

Trotzky declared he would soon publish an article which would describe, among other things, the methods used to extort the so-called voluntary confessions at the trial.

Mrs. Trotzky sat quietly beside her husband as he read his prepared statement.

He pledged himself to "complete and absolute non-intervention in Mexican politics and abstention, no less absolute, from acts that could harm the amicable relations of Mexico with any other country."

His future plans, Trotzky said, were indefinite, but he hoped to complete a biography of Nikolai Lenin. He will go to Mexico City immediately.

STATE DEPT. WARNS AGAINST WARFARE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—A warning that a new European war would be an "adventure in suicide" issued today from the United States state department.

R. Walton Moore, acting secretary of state, indirectly served the warning on Europe in a statement to the press.

Notwithstanding reports of growing tension in the Mediterranean, he expressed optimism that statesmen would settle all international controversies arising out of the Spanish civil war.

Local Woman Succumbs To Brief Illness

Pneumonia Attack Fatal To Mrs. Dave Mims, Former Teacher

Pneumonia which struck with stunning swiftness Saturday claimed Mrs. Blanche Ray Mims, former teacher in the Big Spring schools and wife of Dave Forrest "Blondie" Mims, long-time employe of the Texas & Pacific railway here. Mrs. Mims succumbed at 8:35 in a local hospital, where she was taken Friday night. She had been stricken with pneumonia only two days earlier.

Her husband, who has been under treatment at the T&P hospital in Marshall, arrived here Friday night, ill and unable to attend the funeral are Mrs. Mims' father, R. W. Ray of Troop; and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Edge of Dallas. The father has been in a critical condition for several months, and Mrs. Edge is suffering from pneumonia.

Other Survivors

Besides her husband, Mrs. Mims is survived by a daughter, Frances, 7; and a step-son, Dave Forrest Mims, Jr. Her mother, of Troop, also survives, along with other brothers and sisters: Wade Ray of Troop and Forrest Ray of Bayou Rouge, La.; Mrs. John McRay of Troop and Miss Orene Ray of San Antonio. Miss Nan Ray of Troop is an aunt.

Mrs. Mims, a graduate of Baylor college in 1912, taught at West college in Rusk and was superintendent of schools at Grapeland before coming to this section some 20 years ago. She was principal at Center Point for a year, and also taught at Coahoma, where she played a major part in obtaining affiliation credits for that school. She later taught for four years in the Big Spring schools. She was married to Mr. Mims here in 1922. The family residence is on the Gall road, two miles north of Big Spring.

Funeral Plans Incomplete

Mrs. Mims in 1924 was one of Howard county's delegates to the state democratic convention, and earlier she had served in that capacity from Bell county.

Funeral arrangements, under direction of the Eberley Funeral home, are incomplete, but services will be held either Monday or Tuesday with Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church, in charge. Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Engineers, of which Mims is a member, will serve as pallbearers. Mrs. Mims was a member of the union auxiliaries.

The husband was in the employ of the T&P for nearly 30 years, being retired after an accident in which he lost the sight of an eye nearly two years ago.

Crop Control Idea Debated

Conflicting Views Heard At Meeting Of Agricultural Workers

TEMPLE, Jan. 9 (AP)—Conflicting views over production control echoed from the meeting of the Texas Agricultural Workers association today.

H. G. Lucas, Brownwood, president of the Texas Agricultural association, and John E. Owens, Dallas, championed production control as vital to solution of the farmers' problems, while Car Fritchle, managing director of the Chemurgic Council, Dearborn, Mich., denounced crop control and advocated a program based on industrial use of surplus farm products.

"If we are going to have parity in the farm income we must have control production and distribution of farm crops the same as industry," Lucas said, naming as other essential crop insurance for protection against poor crop years and restoration of farm ownership.

Owens said agriculture must face its problems through politics, economics and farm financing, declaring that farmers need to present a united front to attain legislative ends, economic legislation to keep control of their business and money to operate their farms.

Fritchle said his program in 20 years would increase the value of the south's farm products a billion dollars annually. Such a program built around increased use of industrial alcohol, construction of starch plants and development of the southern paper mill industry would provide capital investment of 750 million dollars, utilize 23 million acre, and directly or indirectly provide employment for two million men, he said.

The association, winding up its annual meeting, selected Houston for the 1938 convention city to be held in January.

Mansions Irl Carmel, Cal. (UP)—Carmel, America's leading literary and art colony, just doesn't want to grow up. With more than $236,000 worth of new houses constructed the past year, an association is being formed to ask the city council to prevent the construction of any house that cost more than $5,000. It is argued they destroy the picturesque beauty of the village.

Italy Boosts Fund For War

15 Percent Increase In Military Budget Approved By Cabinet

ROME, Jan. 9 (AP)—An increase of 15 per cent in military appropriations was approved today by the cabinet which adopted a budget creating a deficit of about $168,000,000.

Italy's military expenditure for the fiscal year beginning next July was set at 5,523,000,000 lire—more than $228,000,000—an increase of more than 700,000,000 lire over the current year's figure, fixed while the Italo-Ethiopian war was at its height.

The air force, on which Premier Mussolini places great reliance, was given the major share of the increase, amounting to nearly 30 per cent.

The whole budget totaled 22,768,574,158 lire—about $1,260,000,000. Receipts were estimated at 20,096,956,415 lire—about $1,082,000,000.

The total for military expenses was more than one-fifth of the whole budget.

Reward Is Offered In Blanton Case

AUSTIN, Jan. 9 (AP)—Governor Alfred posted today a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for the slaying or disappearance of Luther and John Blanton, San Perita's farmers.

The Blantons had not been seen since Nov. 18, when they left on a hunting trip in the vicinity of the former King ranch in the lonely brush country near the Mexican border.

The $1,000 reward was in addition to one of $500 previously offered for information leading to recovery of the bodies or the whereabouts of the hunters if they still were living.

The governor acted after obtaining a detailed report from Ranger Captain Bill McMurrey on the long search for the missing men. Neither Alfred nor the ranger captain would discuss the report.

"I don't think we could have had a more capable man on this investigation than Captain McMurrey," Alfred said. "He had been on the job practically every hour of the night and day since he first was assigned to the case. He is going to stay on the job."

MOVIES, AIRPLANES INSPIRATIONS FOR 1937 FROCK DESIGNS

INFLUENCE FROM PARIS
As modern as the New Year is this advance spring silk print inspired by the Paris Exposition of 1937. Its design, in green and beige tones, depicts the Eiffel Tower and exposition buildings. The bag and belt worn with the short sleeved frock are of green suede.

FROM THE SKY
A pattern of multi-colored airplanes covers this dark blue hosiery frock. The blouse is red, the fasciated hat dark blue. The print designs are by Schiaparelli and all the dresses made by American designers.

FORMALITY—ON SILK
The black and white bow ties the modern Beau Brummel wears at night furnish the pattern for a deep gray silk crepe frock. White leather makes the bows which accent the belt and high neckline of the bodice. The same leather makes the bag. The hat is white straw.

Reading And Writing

By John Selby

At the moment this is written some Spaniard is dying. Most writers on the present Spanish situation allow this comparatively simple fact to obscure their vision of the whole struggle, or allow their panomiaric vision to obscure their realization of this fact. John Langdon-Davies does not. He has balance.

His "Behind the Spanish Barri-cades" is the best book on the Spanish civil war I have seen, just because of this balance. No one can read the book and not understand that Mr. Langdon-Davies believes it a crying shame that the remaining non-fascist countries allow the Spanish loyalists to suffer under Franco's attack. But this man writes just as coolly as if he had no passionate underlying beliefs at all.

He describes what he has seen in the civil war. He provides quite enough background, and he does this out of 15 years' experience with the land, not as the result of a week end spent out of range of the guns. He has even been under fire, and other of his explorations and researches have been in ticklish territory. One can't read the book without emerging from it with an understandable picture—enough, you may think, for any visit. She plans to stay at the Crawford Hotel.

And to put it skimpily and fast too simply, a victory by Franco means another Germany, even more weak. Plus the end of England's route to India. This is Mr. Langdon-Davies' story, and he sticks to it.

By ADELAIDE KERR

NEW YORK, (UP)—New Year prints—modern as 1937—are out in new designs by all the "propa" of modern life from cinemas to subways.

They are advance news in spring fashions, are stamped on a wide variety of "luscious" silks and are ready to wear under midseason coats to brighten wardrobes that have begun to sag under the winter strain. They come in vivid colors on dark backgrounds.

Some of the smartest, designed by Schiaparelli, are colorful geometric patterns of the Paris subway, the bridges which cross the Seine in the French capital or lengths of film covered with the signatures of motion picture stars.

The Paris Exposition of 1937 inspires another pattern which is splashed with designs of the Eiffel Tower and exposition buildings, while a second is patterned with colorful airplanes and a third with the black and white bow ties the modern Beau Brummel wears at night. Designs of mushrooms, vegetables and strawberries make other bright prints for advance spring wear.

Gay Patterns and Hues
The new silk prints generally show gay patterns and vivid colors. They are splashed with a number of hues and are printed on a wide variety of weaves, such as twills, toiles, mousselines, chiffons, taffetas, and crepes.

Huge floral patterns appear in the prints for evening wear, which generally favor black or white grounds. The engraving technique is also making itself felt in evening silks which come with colored pen-line patterns.

Petal Plaids
Prints for day wear show geometric floral patterns such as leaf or petal plaids and checks. Prints suggesting tweeds or plaids and others patterned with Paisley and Cashmere shawl designs are likewise smart. The coronation influence is reflected in crown, scroll and feather patterns, while the vogue for color manifests itself again in silks splashed with ballet dancers, athletes and Chinese figures.

Solid color silks are also important in advance spring showings.

Last July a legally elected Spanish government which contained not even one socialist, communist or anarcho-syndacalist, was set upon by a minority group consisting of a part of the military, the landlords and the church hierarchy, aided by Italy, Germany and Portugal. The military, Mr. Langdon-Davies explains, sported 800 generals and constituted a Pratorian Guard afraid of losing its job. The landlords objected to liberal reforms far less sweeping than many we have had in America. The church was largely concerned (although not exclusively) with the government's demand for secular education.

And to put it skimpily and fast too simply, a victory by Franco means another Germany, even more weak. Plus the end of England's route to India. This is Mr. Langdon-Davies' story, and he sticks to it.

Milady Looks To Makeup As Big Pick-Up

NEW YORK, (UP)—Good grooming is the first requisite of both beauty and chic.

As the "sagging season" approaches, when both wardrobes and faces have a tendency to droop after a winter's gaiety, the smartest women are concentrating on careful grooming to banish that wilted look, and any signs of neglect that spell doom to good grooming.

Makeup gets first consideration, since it can ruin both beauty and chic if carelessly applied. Lipstick can betray the taste and skill of its wearer sooner than any other makeup feature. It should first be chosen to harmonize with the complexion and clothes, then applied in a smooth even coat, virtually wiped off, applied again and this time smoothed with a paper tissue.

Makeup In Morning
The rest of the makeup should be applied in the morning over a good powder base that will "hold" and should only be "touched up" during the day. Nothing is more destructive to the illusion of good grooming in public and the resultant dribbles of powder on clothes.

Hair brushed smoothly—especially around the ears and the back of the neck—is also a primary requisite to a well groomed appearance.

Hands are much in the public eye and therefore need constant attention. Three things should be watched-for—chapped skin, chipped nail enamel and rips in gloves—and all should be "repaired" as quickly as possible.

Feet should be as well groomed as hands. Shoes should be well polished or brushed and run down heels never tolerated. Another important item in foot chic is stockings, whose seams must be kept always straight.

Consider Perfume
A touch of the right perfume can do much in creating an effect of good grooming. Some of the smartest Parisians like to spray it in their hair, and then into the inner bands of their hats as a final touch. Others use an atomizer to spray the perfume into the under folds of their skirt hems, and the inside of collars.

Sachets, if skillfully used, give a gentle perfume which is very alluring. They take more time and attention than any other type of perfume but many smart women who use them declare they are worth the trouble.

Films To Be Shown As Feature Of John Deere Celebration Wednesday

Filming of "The Blacksmith's Gift," an epic of American agriculture, will be one of the features of an all-day open house to be held by J. V. Morton, local John Deere dealer, at 408 Runnels street Wednesday.

The picture was produced in Hollywood with a cast of well-known actors, including Monte Blue and Fuzzy Knight. Other players are Arthur Aylesworth, Olin Harlan, Anne Hovey, John Marlowe and Claire McDowell.

The story is a stirring episode in the early settlement of the Mississippi valley, telling of the grave problem confronting the early settlers and how that problem was solved by John Deere, the young Vermont blacksmith who made possible a new era of progress in American agriculture.

Three other pictures will be shown, Morton announces, including "From One Anvil," a sequel to "The Blacksmith's Gift," a short news reel showing new developments in agriculture equipment and "Her Husband's Choice," a sequel to "Sheppard and Son."

which was shown last year. The program will include other features, including talks and demonstrations of an educational nature, and Morton is inviting all farmers in this area to attend. Morton extended a special invitation to farm boys.

The open house is in celebration of a Centennial year celebration of the John Deere company. It was in 1837 that John Deere made his first steel plow.

Stanton P. O. Receipts Up

Business Gains For 1936 Reported By Merchants Of That Town

STANTON, Jan. 9.—Increase of approximately 10 per cent in receipts of the Stanton postoffice for 1936 over 1935 is reported by Postmaster Morgan Hall. Money orders showed an even greater gain, estimated at 15 or 20 per cent. Total of boxes rented in the office now is greater than since 1929.

The volume of mail for 1936 was heavier, Sam Stamps, carrier on the rural route, reported the largest Christmas season mail during his 15 years with the Stanton office.

Office equipment was improved recently with the addition of a canceling machine with a capacity of about 200 letters a minute.

The postoffice is not alone in recording an increase in business. A series of interviews with 16 business men and women of the town showed that several firms had had an increase of 10 or 15 per cent in business during the year. A general spirit of satisfaction with business during 1936 and a feeling of optimism toward 1937 was observed. In a few cases business was reported about the same as for 1935, and lower relief financing brought some decreases in purchasing power of less privileged classes, some business men reported.

A number of new businesses were established during the year, representing the women's wear, grocery, barber, restaurant, blacksmith, and general merchandise lines.

Psychologists say many young men and women take up professions unsuited to their abilities because they have not fully explored their aptitudes.

WORLD'S FAIR ON WHEELS TO BE HERE

Word of the selection of Big Spring as one of the cities in the southwest in which the General Motors corporation "World's Fair on Wheels" will be displayed, has been received by the local chamber of commerce.

The "World's Fair on Wheels" includes a personnel of 70 people, and has equipment sufficient to handle crowds as large as 15,000 per day. Purpose in launching the enterprise, a representative of General Motors wrote, is for the corporation to present its part in industry's effort to create "a greater appreciation of the things that are being done in research and industry for the betterment of people."

Buying power of the farmer's net income was the highest in December of any period in 17 years, according to the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics.

STATE HOLDS DEEDS FOR COAST HIGHWAY

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 9 (AP)—D. K. Martin, whose term as state highway commissioner expires soon, said today the Hug-the-Coast highway through South Texas ranch country had not been completed because "it was less important than other highway projects." He denied that owners of the King and Kennedy ranches, through which the route from Corpus Christi to Brownsville would run, have blocked completion of the project. Martin said the commission holds deeds to right-of-way through the ranches and has held them for two years. He claimed the commission was free to proceed with completion of the highway "whenever it is deemed advisable."

Redistricting Chances Slim This Session

May Be After 1940 Census Before Legislature Acts, Observer Writes

By RAYMOND BROOKS (Herald Austin Correspondent) AUSTIN, Jan. 9.—Legislative redistricting has official favor for the new session, but probably will fail, since rural lawmakers are firmly in the saddle and have shown both their power and their jealousy of the big-city gains at their expense.

Gov. Allred recently pointed out that the state ought to be redistricted for legislative districts. Several bills were fought through after the 1930 census. A new congressional district bill was passed to give the state its three additional congressmen. But the constitutional limit of 150 house members already has been reached, and the clamor now is to give more members to the big cities and to readjust the other counties to conform.

Rural members pushed through the amendment, adopted in November, to cut down the rate at which the big and growing cities would become entitled to additional representatives. The voters approved the amendment by a substantial majority.

This amendment said that when a big-city county gets seven house members, population shall thereafter count only one-half as much in justifying additional members.

Houston and Harris county now have five members. The county probably would rate seven under its present population. At the same time, one member represents 13 counties in the 85th district: Coke Stevenson represents 10 counties, Max Boyer ten and Doyle Settle, nine.

Texas is now six years overdue on the redistricting on the 1930 census. Even with the reassurance of the constitutional limit, which would not change any district yet, it is a likely guess that it will wait over until after the 1940 census, then only to find the disparity increased.

Rural members have shown an intense fear that the big-city group may dominate the house. This is shown so clearly that in almost every instance, it is a small-town man who is victor in a speakership race. The city members largely have evened up the score by commanding many of the really powerful committee chairmanships.

LOCAL GOVERNMENTS AND RELIEF

Digging behind the array of vast figures that are confusing to the average citizen, one finds emphasized again in President Roosevelt's budget message to congress the old problem of relief financing.

The president reiterated his position that private business must do more to provide jobs for those now on relief rolls, asserting that otherwise the question of a balanced budget must remain an open one.

It is a large order for private business to fill. Business, as well as government, hasn't had any too easy sailing for the past six or seven years; and in recent months, as economic conditions improved, business and industry have done a pretty good job of re-employing workers.

There is another angle to the relief problem that must be considered. That is the return to local governments and private organizations the responsibility of the care of charity cases.

But the depression, according to almost every index, is lifting; times are nearly normal and people are paying taxes. After four years of letting Uncle Sam do it, cities and counties over the nation might as well begin facing the music.

It is not unreasonable for cities and counties to ask that federal projects now underway be completed; but the policy of continued appeal to the federal treasury to carry the entire relief load must be halted if any semblance of a balanced budget is ever realized.

Solving of the relief problem calls for cooperation between local and federal governments as well as between business and government.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Even a successful newsstand proprietress has her troubles these days.

I am thinking of the lady who wears a beret and operates that stand at Madison avenue and 42nd street, where thousands of New Yorkers grab their favorite papers before ducking into nearby subway stations.

Not long ago her picture was published in Life magazine because there appeared on her stand a sign that declared: "Sorry! No Life Today!"

"You're famous," I hailed her next day, pausing for a copy of a racing sheet.

"Bah!" she snorted. "First the King, then me. With you newspaper guys around, nobody's privacy is safe!"

Among the major fakers on the Times Square circuit are several young girls whose naive manner and innocent appearances cause one to speculate on how they ever got so far from home without suitable chaperons.

But that's a laugh to those who have met with their tearful tales a couple of times. They park their eyes on sympathetic looking souls (male or female) and burst into sobs at a moment when the sucker is just about abreast. Naturally tears on a pretty face get prompt action.

Is there trouble? Can you be of service? It seems that she has misplaced her pocketbook, or lost it in a department store, and is afraid to go home without the dollar change which is due her father. Why should this seem so catastrophic? Well, her old man will probably beat her.

Well, what's a dollar, you argue (unless you are normally sane or have a heart of stone). Nothing much—except in this case it is enough to reveal you as a prime sap. So she takes your dollar, rounds the corner, and before her thanks have left your ears she has another sucker on the ropes.

Eves-droppers in this town (there are plenty of them) are frequently confused by visiting sailors unless they themselves are of a nautical turn of mind. This is always manifest when the fleet is in or when any undue maritime activity occurs in the vicinity of the harbor.

The gobs can't seem to forget their sea-talk, and they employ such terms as "starboard," "lee," "lower away," "hurricane deck," and others which seldom mean much to the common vocabulary.

That's why you never see "overheard" items of the bo'sun variety in the gossip columns.

Quite incidentally, writers of fiction tell me sailor talk is impossible to fake and almost impossible for any writer to master without first having lessons from someone who knows what it is all about. Even then, every word used is checked and rechecked before manuscripts are delivered to a publisher.

Ask Tokayo Payne what her real name is and she'll carefully tell you—Tokayo Payne.

BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

New cabinet post to be created. Department to combine WPA and FWA. Hopkins may get appointment. Co-op idea to be discarded.

Consolidation No. 1. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—Those two gentlemen seen walking into the White House frequently during the last three weeks disguised as the Smith brothers were well known government officials.

They have been getting under the executive desk for extra secret conferences with the chief. It is said they have been told that, if any leak developed, they could make their money somewhere else thereafter and not get it from Mr. Morgenthau.

Note—Probably nothing fatal will happen to Hopkins and Ickes because of the disclosure. The public welfare consolidation is only one of the subjects discussed at the sub-staff meetings. What President Roosevelt apparently desired to prevent by his administration is a repetition of the situation which developed last year.

Co-ops. Mr. Roosevelt's long lost co-operative mission to Europe will come to life shortly. A report will be made public concerning its investigation last summer into the operation of European co-ops, particularly those in Sweden and England.

Conversion. Many things have happened on the inside here concerning the co-operative issue since Mr. Roosevelt became interested in it shortly before the democratic national convention. The official inspiration for the move was originally furnished by Agriculture Secretary Wallace.

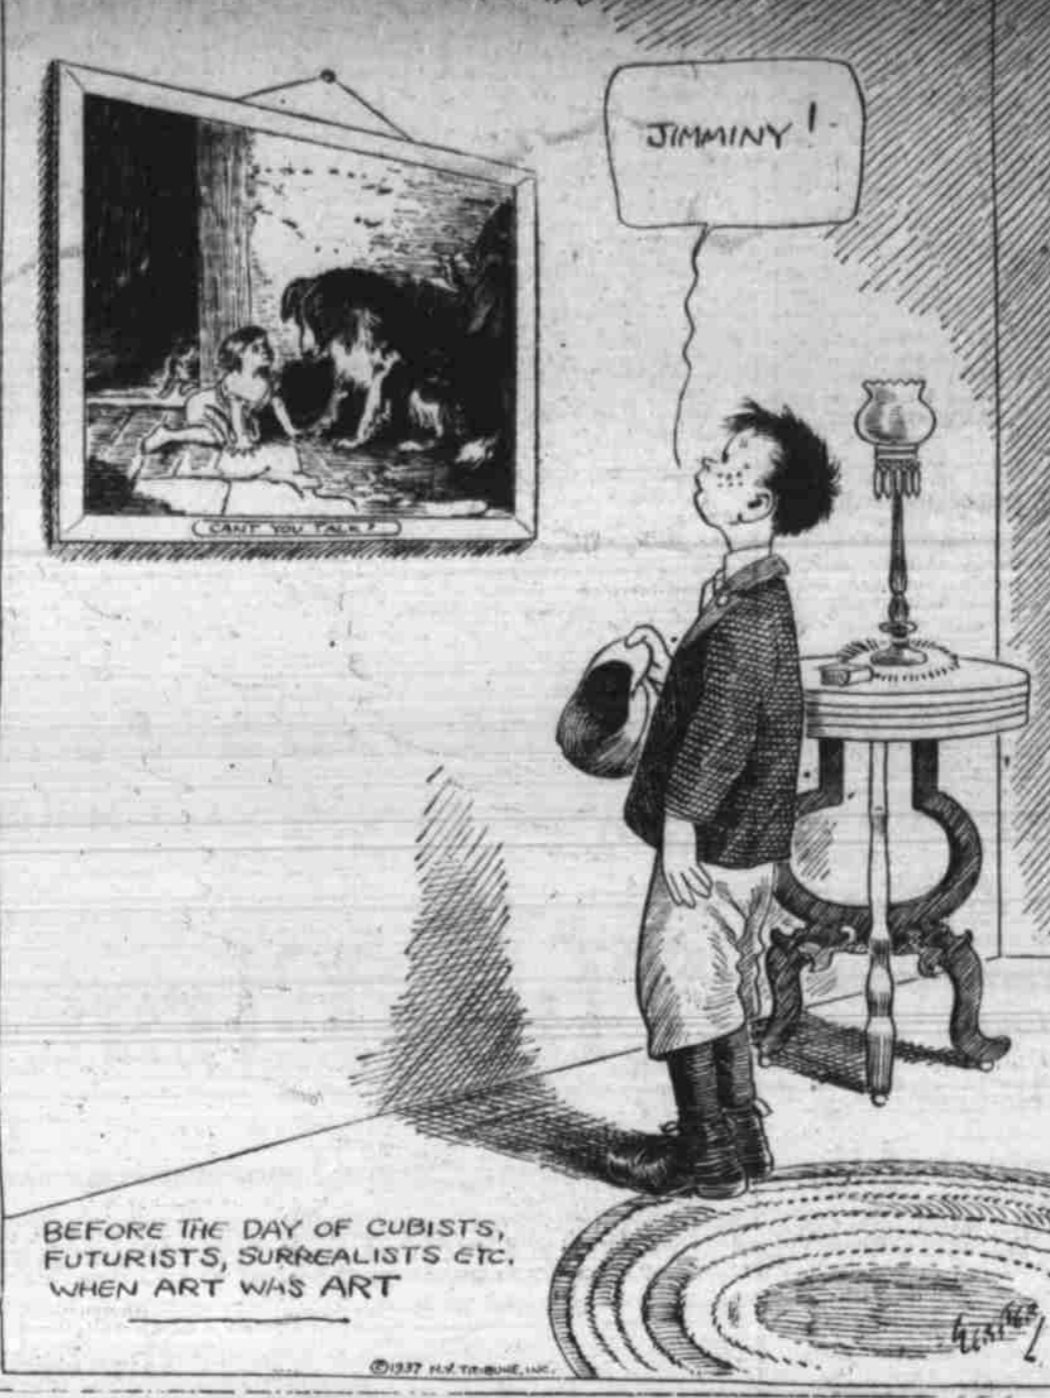

Art. The new dealers managed to hide it, but they were deeply hurt when ex-Secretary of the Treasury Mellon gave all those 50 or 60 million dollars of art as a public charity.

Message. Mr. Roosevelt's annual message was delivered to the wrong address. He read it to congress, but intended it for the supreme court, a block away. Despite the error, court reports indicate it has reached the proper addressee and is being seriously considered.

Welfare clients were issued 1,247 cases of beef, 3330 pounds of flour, 4,965 pounds of flour, 848 pounds of dried peaches, and 1,468 pounds of peas, according to the report.

Wings for Sally

by BAILEY WOLFE

Chapter 27
"LITTLE BLUE ROOM"
 Another surprise was in store for Sally. She reached home to find Mrs. Morris in the living room, talking earnestly with Mrs. Warren. Mrs. Warren called to Sally to come in and join them.

"How do you do, my dear?" greeted Mrs. Morris. "You're looking a little thin, but very pretty."

Mrs. Morris was a plump, somewhat dowdy little woman, on whom expensive clothes never looked either trim or fashionable. She suffered a great deal from what she called "nerves" and spent much of her time at fashionable resorts.

"Mrs. Morris has come on an errand that concerns you, Sally," said Mrs. Warren. "She wants you to come and spend a month with Mary."

Sally looked from one to the other in amazement. "With Mary?" she echoed.

"I know that sounds a little strange," said Mrs. Morris. "But it's Mary's idea. You see, I'm going away. Young Joe is taking me to a little place on the Canadian lakes that I find very helpful when my nerves are in dreadful shape. Mary absolutely refuses to go with us. The naughty girl pretends she's concerned about her father and won't leave home. Of course I don't want her putting about that big house alone, what with all the threats we've been receiving lately, so I suggested I'd get an elderly cousin of ours to stay with her. Mary refused to have anything to do with that suggestion. She wants you to move into the house for a month instead."

"What do you say to that, Sally?" asked Mrs. Warren.

"But I have my job—I can't give that up," protested Sally.

"No, of course not. But you'd be able to spend a good deal of time with Mary. She simply wants someone in the house."

"Are you sure Mary really wants me?" asked Sally slowly.

"She's coming by later to talk to you about it," said Mrs. Morris.

"She does want you, indeed," said Mrs. Warren.

"I'll have to think about it and talk to Mary," said Sally.

"What do you think, Mother?"

"I think it would be splendid for both of you two," said Mrs. Warren. "You need to go out more, Sally, and Mary will see to that."

"We should consider it such a favor," said Mrs. Morris, patting Sally's hand with her own plump, ringed one.

Sally left them and went upstairs to her own room. She was frankly puzzled. Of course she and Mary had been friends for years, and since Philip Page's coming they had been together often, but Mary's choice of her to stay in the Morris house for company still puzzled Sally. Apparently Mary's refusal to go away for the best months of August was easily explained by her desire to stay near Philip. Suddenly Sally saw that Mary's reason for wanting her must involve Philip, too. She expected to see and hear more of Philip by having Sally in the house.

The moment the thought occurred to her, Sally dismissed it from her mind. However true it seemed, she had no right to judge Mary's motives. Later, when Mary came to her room, Sally was glad she had banished the thought.

"I think I'm getting nerves, like mother," Mary confessed, as she perched on the edge of Sally's bed. "At night I wake up and imagine I hear people prowling about the lawn and porch. Once I was so sure there was someone on my balcony I went out there to see."

"Gee," scolded Sally. "You need to go away instead of your mother."

"No, I want to stay. But I want someone with me. You will come won't you, Sally? I've planned it all. I've even had Mattie get the little blue room next to mine ready for you."

"Of course I'll come," said Sally. Like Cinderella.

Thus it was that Sally found herself established in the Morris mansion. This "little blue room" turned out to be twice the size of Sally's own bedroom. It got its name from the color of the deep turquoise rug that covered the floor, and the draperies that framed the tall windows. The furnishings were of wicker, massive pieces that shone with the polish that age gives to fine wood. Sally liked the rich deep colors and the dark tones of the walnut better than the ivory and gold glitter of Mary's room.

Sally was amused at the sight of her small wardrobe, which the maid had carefully hung in the clothes closet. At least two-thirds of the closet was still vacant after all Sally's possessions had been established.

As she brushed her hair and put on the most festive of her voice dresses, Sally thought, "I am not Sally Warren any more. I have a maid to press my clothes, and I am driven to the office in state. I shall live in luxury a little while, and then one day I shall pack up and go back, like Cinderella, to my fireside. But by that time I shall be quite spoiled."

Dinner at the Morris house, Sally was to discover, was always a formal meal, with a manservant skillfully attending. Instead of her father, sitting at the head of the table, and telling bits of news from the office or the newspaper, there was Mr. Morris, who ate his dinner almost wholly in silence, and allowed Sally and Mary to do most of the talking.

Sally stared at Mr. Morris a good deal those first few days. He was a man of more than average height, and somewhat heavily built. His voice was deep, and even in the simplest matters had a commanding note. He had heavy, iron-gray hair, and bushy brows. His eyes, dark like Mary's, were small but very piercing.

Sally wondered if Mr. Morris knew that she worked for his enemy, Philip Page. She rather thought he did not know. He would not be very curious about any of Mary's friends.

Smooth Mr. Benton Arrives

On the third day of her stay with Mary Morris, another guest arrived. Sally was introduced to him at dinner, when he sat opposite her. He was a Mr. Giles Benton, and had come down, so Mary informed Sally, to act as efficiency expert for Mr. Morris.

Afterwards, on the terrace, Mr. Benton made himself very agreeable to Sally and Mary, but for some reason which she could not explain to herself, Sally did not like him. She was glad when a servant came to tell her she was wanted on the telephone.

Philip Page's voice came to her over the wire. "I've got to go out of town on business. I'll be gone at least 24 hours, and there's something I want you to look into for me."

"I'll be glad to," said Sally, pleased and proud that he relied on her.

"McDonald's in trouble. Go down tomorrow after you're through at the office and talk to them. Give me a full report when I get back."

Sally went back to the terrace to find Mr. Morris gone, and Mary talking with Giles Benton.

"Do you have to go to the office?" demanded Mary eagerly. "I'll take you if you do."

"No, not tonight. Just an errand I have to do tomorrow," said Sally. She knew Mary wanted to know if her message was from Philip, but Sally determined to be secret with Philip's affairs.

"Miss Warren works for Philip Page," said Mary to Giles Benton.

"For Mr. Page, eh?" said Giles. He rubbed a hand over his smooth hair, and Sally saw the gleam of a ring on his finger. "I was about to ask you, Miss Warren, if you wouldn't show me something of the town tomorrow."

"If I have time," said Sally. "I'll be glad to."

Whw, Sally wondered afterwards,

as she got ready for bed, did he want her to show him the town when Mary was the logical one to do it? Mary had not offered. Perhaps she had deliberately shunted the duty to Sally.

"Perhaps that's one of my duties as a companion," Sally said to herself. She stood looking out of her window at the long shadows of a clump of cedars. While she watched, Mr. Morris and Giles Benton emerged from the shadows and paced up and down the moon-lit stretch of lawn. They were in earnest conversation. Sally could hear the murmur of their voices and see their animated gestures. Once Giles turned and stared up at her window. Sally drew back. It was only idle staring. He could not have known it was her window, the two men had been talking about her.

She wondered, as she got into bed and pulled the cool linen sheet about her, if she, too, were getting "nerves" after only a few days in the gloomy Morris mansion.

American Girl Leading Communist Activities In China Made Trouble For U. S. Authorities In War Days

(An insight into the early life of Agnes Smedley, reported in Chinese dispatches as being a power in the communist movement in northwest China, is given in the following story.)

By ROGER D. GREENE

June 11, 1918, a federal grand jury in San Francisco indicted her on a charge of attempting to defraud President Woodrow Wilson through representing herself as a member of an accredited mission to the United States from the nationalist party in India.

Her story through the early formative years was depicted in her autobiographical novel "Daughter of Earth," published in 1929—the chronicle of a girl who was born in an unknown village in Oklahoma and who grew up on a bleak and poverty-ridden farm in Missouri, moved to the far west in a covered wagon, and drifted through the raw western mining camps and lumber-jack towns of the roughneck era.

She eventually came to New York to join the "Bohemian Colony" then flourishing in Greenwich village. Those were the jittery spy-scare days, and age-yellowed newspaper accounts of the case relate that Miss Smedley's "crime" was alleged responsibility for the publication of an alleged "German-inspired" book entitled "The Isolation of Japan in World Politics."

Now in her early thirties, the one-time American farm girl who may become a virtual "white empress" over yellow-skinned millions was twice indicted by federal grand juries.

On March 27, 1918, she was indicted in New York for violation of the war-time espionage act, held on $10,000 bail, and languished in Tombs prison three months before the case was dropped for lack of evidence.

Those were the jittery spy-scare days, and age-yellowed newspaper to reach as far south as the Rio Grande.

Light snow filtered steadily down in a vast area extending from New Mexico almost to the Louisiana state line but snowfall had ceased in the Panhandle and temperatures there were slightly higher.

Amarillo's low was six above zero while the northern plains were several degrees warmer than the sub-zero levels of Friday, when the worst of the northerly blast held that region in its grip.

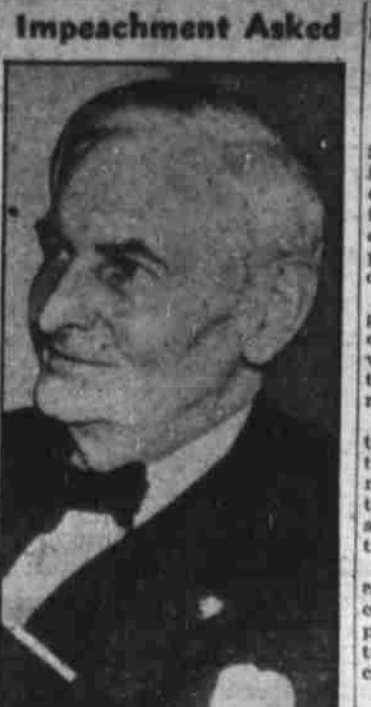

Sub-freezing temperatures still persisted all through North Texas, however, ranging from 11 above zero at Olney, 13 at Wichita Falls and Abilene and 18 at Fort Worth, to 17 at Sherman and 26 at Palestine.

The mercury didn't quite reach freezing along the Gulf coast Saturday morning but the weatherman warned it would likely sink below that mark Saturday night in South Texas. The lower Rio Grande valley expected temperatures somewhere between 32 and 36.

At Laredo the temperature went down to 33 from a maximum of 70 Friday and an even greater decline was threatened Saturday night when the cold wave digs deeper into that region.

The mercury hovered just above freezing at Texarkana and chilling rain drenched the Texas-Louisiana boundary region. Precipitation at Texarkana was 2.03 inches and more cold was forecast.

Motor traffic, plane schedules and even rail lines were disrupted by the continued cold over North Texas. Communications and power lines had their services interrupted by ice forming on wires and snapping them.

Impeachment Asked

Impeachment of Circuit Judge Edward D. Black (above), was asked by the United Automobile Workers Union which charged the judge was a stockholder in General Motors Corporation when he issued an injunction against strikers in the corporation's Fisher Body plants at Flint, Mich. The petition charged his stock holdings made the injunction illegal. (Associated Press Photo)

END OF MARITIME STRIKE BELIEVED NOW TO BE IN SIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Some of the striking maritime unions moved tonight toward voting on peace proposals completed on the making and a federal conciliator reported "settlement psychology" was enveloping the 72-day tieup.

The end of the costly labor struggle appeared in sight for at least one group—the coastwise ships, which carry about 16 per cent of the western ports' waterborne commerce.

Tentative agreements between the schooner operators and five of the seven striking unions were ready either for formal votes of the workers or "feeler votes" on some phases of the respective settlement proposals.

Two of the unions had tentative agreements with the offshore operators, who handle the other 90 per cent of the coast's maritime trade. Four other unions were considering employer offers.

chines, to eliminate the interference they reason, is by law. And we predict they eventually will get it.

Here are two of the most important discoveries of the week: Earl Grover Cleveland Phillips is none other than Shine Phillips; the radio poetry and musical interlude by Doug Doan over KBST each day finds its popularity chiefly among men, and not the tender sex.

Indications are that there will be a wave of residential building during 1937. The First Federal Savings and Loan association made two loans for $4,800 last week and has $5,000 more in the process of being closed. A house on Main street is being razed with the likelihood an apartment house will be erected on the site. Extreme scarcity of houses and apartments together with growing rent costs are combining to force many into building before long.

Figures released by the district

WPA office here last week showed that Howard county has received a total of $180,884 from WPA and the county and city varied projects. This is about 90 per cent of the total expended in all 13 counties of the district. WPA put up $113,369 of the amount and the city, county and city school district $67,515. To show for this there are 11 miles of paved lateral road, a pretty school ground, paved streets, improved parks, and other benefits.

Crank letters are common things to public officials. Most of them are given to airing personal arches or furthering personal desires. A little while ago the mayor and city commission received a misuse, hinting the writer had discovered a way to control the weather. He made high claims for his discovery, offering warm weather for the winter and cool, bracing breezes for the summer. "This being a city question will some day become a political one," he wrote, "and candidates for office will run for or against the weather." Not a bad idea. We would at least understand the issue.

ten new tested vegetable recipes. 150 dishes of food products were prepared by the women and scored by the agent. After studying a balanced diet thirty-five women made and followed daily meal plans. Twenty-nine cooperators collected all their scraps, a total of 1,521 quarts of vegetables, fruits, meats, pickles, jelly and jam were reported conserved by the club members.

The club women know the value and convenience of a well-filled and well-balanced pantry in the home and many of them are growing a surplus of foods which they can produce and are trading these for foods which they cannot grow or produce at home, said Miss Farnsworth. Some are trading butter, cream and eggs for seafoods, fruits and other foods which have to come from the markets. After foods have been provided the women are not content with their demonstrations until the pantry is well organized to add attractiveness and convenience.

In yard improvement the women were to grow twenty shrubs from cuttings; second, level the yard. Twenty-one lawns were sodded, 212 nursery plants, 149 native shrubs, 286 trees, 125 roses and 666 shrubs from cuttings put out this year survived the drought. There were also 22 walks and driveways constructed.

Girls major demonstrations for the year were clothing and poultry. In clothing they were to: 1, make a towel, dress and slip; 2, provide closet space and drawer space for individual wardrobe. Of the 49 girls all completed their towels and slips, and 40 completed their dresses. Ten girls completed their storage goal by building new closets and 15 remodeled their closet and drawer space. In poultry demonstrations, seven demonstrators raised 339 chickens and the 42 cooperators raised 498 chickens.

In December one women's club and two girls' clubs were organized, making a total of 14 women's clubs and six girls' clubs to begin the 1937 year's work. The women's clubs will carry bedroom improvement and wardrobe as their major demonstrations. The girls will carry clothing and poultry.

MONEY SOUGHT FOR HYDRO-ELECTRIC JOB

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Representative John D. Dempsey, of Santa Fe, asked Budget Director Daniel W. Bell today to approve expenditure of $500,000 to start work on a proposed $2,500,000 hydro-electric power project at Elephant Butte dam in New Mexico.

Reclamation bureau revolving funds, Dempsey said, were suggested as a most likely source of construction money. Bell informed him, however, the depleted bureau funds would have to be replenished by reclamation farmers' repayments during the year before funds would be available for the power program.

MANY INDICTED IN KANSAS VOTE FRAUD

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9 (AP)—A federal grand jury claimed conspiracy indictments today on 96 persons, mostly election officials, in a drive to purge the city of the notorious November vote frauds.

The indictments were labeled "just a start" by United States Attorney Maurice M. Milligan.

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves admonished the grand jury three weeks ago to "reach for all, even if you find them in authority."

The Kansas City political picture has been dominated for years by the democratic organization of T. J. Pendergast—one of the most powerful political groups in an American city.

Pendergast himself, commented during the inquiry: "I was ill during the registration and voting periods," explaining he had little opportunity to see any activity.

At last, a cold cream of Salon quality—worthy of your fragile skin. Cleanses, softens. For young skins and for busy people.

Annual report from County Agent O. P. Griffin and County Home Demonstration Agent Lora Farnsworth shows an encouraging trend in the farming program of Howard county. Farmers are actually becoming interested in a three-way conservation program involving conservation of moisture, soil and feed. Possibilities of steps toward improving the quality and staple of cotton grown in the county loomed to brighten the picture. Women and girls are increasing the output of home grown foods and are helping cut down on cash expenditures. Boys and men, as well as women, are finding supplemental sources of income from beef, swine, and best of all, poultry. The best thing about the program is that it is balanced and at the same time moves to protect and improve the source of wealth—the land.

Report from the Big Spring school district tax office to the effect that $41,775 or 86 per cent of its current roll has been collected serves to focus attention on the fact that this is the tax paying month. There are few better ways of showing patriotism than paying taxes. Good taxpayers might do well to prevail on their friends to pay their taxes also, for every year those who remit pay more because many do not pay.

TWO KILLED, FIVE INJURED IN CRASH

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 9 (AP)—Two persons were killed and five injured, some perhaps critically, in a collision between a passenger bus and an automobile on the Pacific highway five miles north of here late today.

The dead were occupants of the automobile which was reported to have collided with the bus broadside when the car skidded in snow as the driver attempted to turn back into the right-hand lane after partially turning out to pass a truck.

The dead included Merle Long, Salem service station operator. Names of the other victims were not immediately available.
