

King Plans New Alabama Marches

By LEON DANIEL
SELMA, Ala. (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King, encouraged by the removal of the "Selma wall," said today he would extend the perimeter of his Negro voter registration campaign into four rural Alabama counties.

King, Monday, broke an impasse with city and county authorities by leading a massive march on the Dallas County courthouse to protest discrimination against prospective Negro voters and to commemorate the Rev. James J. Reeb, a Unitarian minister murdered on a Selma street during racial tension here a week ago.

King called the march, in which he was surrounded by religious leaders of all faiths, successful. He said that he personally will lead a "freedom" walk from Selma to Montgomery if a federal court, now hearing testimony in an injunction suit, rules the march legal.

Labor leader Walter Reuther and his wife, May, joined the demonstration. The United Auto Workers president said he was in Selma because "there is a struggle" and "America must close the gap between its noble professions and practical performances."

Selma Public Safety Commissioner Wilson Baker said he removed barricades at a point where Negroes had camped for the greater part of five days Monday morning because it was voter registration day.

The group that King led to the courthouse stretched out so long that when the civil rights leader stood on the courthouse steps the rear end of the column of marchers was at the "Selma wall," the barricade that had been lowered earlier in the day at Baker's order. While the march went off quietly in Selma, mounted deputies broke up a crowd of 300 demonstrators at Montgomery when they refused to let an ambulance pass on an emergency run.

UP A TREE — A youth with a swastika and the slogan "Stop Black Crime" painted on the back of his sweat-shirt, handcuffed himself to a tree in Lafayette Park in Washington during a massive civil rights rally.

NIKITA VOTES — Former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was unsmiling and haggard as he appeared in public for the first time since he was ousted as Premier in October, 1964. Khrushchev drove to a polling station in downtown Moscow to vote in municipal elections.

Red Chinese, Soviets Warn US, Viets Again

SAIGON (UPI) — North Viet Nam boasted today that U. S. air attacks against its territory would not prevent a Communist victory in South Viet Nam.

In a belligerent statement published in its official newspaper, the Hanoi regime charged that Monday's big raid deep into the heart of North Viet Nam was a new and "more serious act of war."

Promise of Equality To Be Kept, President Says

'Hot Money' Caused Downfall Of Leading San Francisco Bank

By JOHN PIERSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal banking officials believe that "hot money" helped bring down the $40 million San Francisco National Bank last January.

It's called "hot money" because of the high interest rates attached to it and because of its extremely volatile nature. In other words from a banker's viewpoint, it's here today and gone tomorrow.

A corporation might want to put the money to work while waiting to make its quarterly income tax payment. A labor union might want to earn some interest on its strike fund which it knows it won't be needing immediately.

Q. Why CDS instead of some other kind of investment?
A. CDS have two main advantages over other investments. First, they are for a fixed period of time. The holder knows exactly when he can get his money back. Second, CDS earn a higher rate of interest than other relatively safe, short-term investments.

Congress Poised For Swift Action on Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today swung the full weight of the federal government behind a drive to make good the promise of equality-unkept for a century — given the American Negro.

Congress was poised for swift action on the President's proposals. Senate leaders of both parties met with Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach to smooth out the final version of the voting rights legislation Johnson sought.

House Kills City Sales Tax Bill After Debate

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
AUSTIN (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith was to rule on two points of order in the state Senate today, with the governor's office and militant advocates of "equal rights" for women watching closely.

Hardman Fights Amendment
Sen. Dorsey Hardman of San Angelo protested Senate consideration of a women's rights constitutional amendment advocated by the Texas Business and Professional Women (B&PW) and sponsored by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan.

Bates of Edinburg to allow sale of liquor and pre-packaged mixed drinks in small bottles at food-serving places. A sizeable opposition is expected.

Council Okays Purchase of Water Rights

Pampa's city commission today authorized purchase of water rights on 480 acres of land adjacent to present water right holdings south of the city.

Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler was among those who voted "no" on the city sales tax bill.

It's a Big Day For Shamrock Wednesday

The Panhandle city of Shamrock will mark its 19th annual "Wearing of the Green" tomorrow when some 30,000 persons help residents observe St. Patrick's Day.

Beautiful young colleens from over the Panhandle will vie for the title of "Miss Irish Rose," including Linda Cox, 17-year-old Pampa High School senior.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 In a night club recently in Cap Hatien, an old port on Haiti's northern shore, one of Papa Duvalier's bogeymen cut loose with a vicious spray of bullets from a tommy gun.
 Killed was one Antoine Piquion, prominent citizen and one-time member of Haiti's Chamber of Deputies. The killer went unpunished.

His real target was the club's orchestra leader who was absent. The machine-gun burst simply was an expression of frustration.
 Paper Duvalier otherwise is known as Dr. Francois Duvalier, life-time president of Haiti. Since 1957 he has gained an unenviable reputation for being the worst tyrant in the Western Hemisphere.

Hand-Picked Guard
 The bogeyman was one of the hand-picked elite who guard the president at all times. In Haiti they are known as the ton ton macoute which in Creole means bogeyman.

The killing of Cap-Hatien's prominent citizen aroused resentment but was only too typical of life and the way it can come to a sudden end in today's Haiti which with the Dominican Republic shares the island of Hispaniola between Cuba and Puerto Rico.
 Early this year Haiti launched a drive to cut in on the tourist trade and invited American newsmen to attend special airport ceremonies alongside a landing strip for jets.

Guards Are Respected
 One of their early sights was that of President Duvalier surrounded by nearly a dozen of his ton ton macoutes carrying submachineguns and sidearms. The alacrity with which the crowd obeyed their orders testified to the respect in which they are held.

The president walked to the platform in a shuffle which seems to be the aftermath of a heart attack. He noted with pleasure the presence of representatives of the American Negro press. They, at least, he said, would report the truth. To this one Negro newsmen remarked in an undertone that he wouldn't dare because no one would believe it.

What the newsmen also saw some of the most abject poverty that can be seen in this hemisphere.
 Beggars snatched at their clothing. From an open market rose the smell of rotting vegetables. Shacks barely held together alongside open sewage ditches.

The Reds and the Nazis, Where Will it End?

By LEON DENNEN
NEW YORK (NEA) — The Worker, anemic mouthpiece of American Communists, has been urging its readers to protest against West Germany's decision to apply the statute of limitations to Nazi war crimes.

But it is not because they grieve for the millions of Hitler's innocent victims that the Reds are encouraging demonstrations against West Germany. Taking their cue from Moscow as usual, they merely seek to fish in muddy waters.

In the United States and elsewhere in the Free World the Communists' aim is to infiltrate legitimate groups which have the right and duty to protest against Bonn's unfortunate decision.

If the Reds were really concerned with the prosecution of Nazi criminals, the "American Worker" would have informed its readers that it is already 10 years since Moscow granted full pardons to Hitler's mass murderers.

As long ago as 1955 Russia's Supreme Soviet issued a decree which states (paragraph 3): "To liberate from all prisons all persons punished for serving in the German Army, Police or Special Detachments — regardless whether they completed the term to which they have been sentenced."

Paragraph 7 of the Supreme Soviet's decree, which refers to Soviet citizens who collaborated with Hitler "outside Russia," underscores that the pardon applies to all persons who served not only in the German army and Nazi police forces but also in "Special German Detachments."

What survivor of Nazi concentration camps does not remember with horror Hitler's commando killers known as "Special Detachments"? It was Hitler's elite that ordered the extermination of men, women and children. But it was the Special Detachments of sadistic and degenerate Germans, Russians and Ukrainians who pushed the victims into the gas chambers and mass graves.

These are the criminals who have been tried — and hundreds of them convicted — in West German courts. But it is already a decade since they have been pardoned in Russia.

They were never even tried in Soviet-dominated East Germany. The Russians have seized all Nazi party records in East Berlin in a clumsy effort to protect their faithful servants who have exchanged their Nazi membership cards for Red party cards.

Some 300 prominent ex-Nazis are known to hold top government posts in Communist East Germany. They include Premier Willi Stoph who is likely to succeed Walter Ulbricht as chief of the Red party.

It is the same Willi Stoph who wrote in a Nazi magazine in 1937 that he was "proud to have taken part in the Fuhrer's (Hitler's) birthday parade." According to Karl Heinrich Kappstein, West German's ambassador in the United States, it is the intention of Bonn's parliament to take measures, regardless of the 20-year statute of limitations, that will "close the last gap through which a Nazi criminal might slip."

But no such "democratic prejudices" trouble the Kremlin leaders and their German puppets.

The hypocrisy of the Worker and the American Reds is obvious. Their aim is to help Russia's policy against West Germany, an ally of the United States and a member of NATO.

But why is it that so many "liberal" intellectuals who castigate the West Germans for their ill-fated statute of limitations never protest against Moscow's decade-long pardon for Nazi war criminals? They seem to resort to a double standard, even a double vision, in judging Russia's favorite Nazis.

SO SAYS THE WORKER: This twice-weekly mouthpiece of the American Communist party bleats about West Germany's "soft" treatment of Nazi war criminals without mentioning Soviet leniency.

Soviets Launch Three Satellites Piggy-Back Style

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union launched three unmanned satellites piggy-back fashion aboard the same rocket, the Tas news agency announced.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said the satellites were part of a series designed to prepare for future manned space flights.

Today's triple-header put into orbit Cosmos series numbers 61, 62, and 63. No. 60 was launched only three days ago.

The frequency of the launches gave rise to speculation that a manned space shot may be in the planning stage.

Business Highlights

By United Press International
NEW YORK — The American Bankers Association is objecting to a new uniform ceiling imposed by the Treasury of 2.4 per cent of loans as a bad debt reserve in the tax accounting of commercial banks. The ABA said it will take the fight for a higher reserve ratio to Congress.

DENVER — An atomic power station, costing $45 million, has been proposed by the Public Service Co. of Colorado. The commission says the plant will be built by General Dynamics Corp. and that federal aid will be sought for the project.

Ivory balls have not been used in official championship billiard competition since 1929 because their extreme elasticity produced an unpredictable bounce.

Mexico from Texas in the first nine months of 1963 showed an increase of 123,930 over the same period in 1962.

Pesticides Regulation Bill Having Tough Time

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — A bill to regulate commercial applicators of pesticides is having a hard time in a House committee. This is an indication that it probably will be changed considerably before it is reported for floor action.

It's author, Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler, tried unsuccessfully to get it referred to a different subcommittee from the one headed by Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville House agriculture committee, however, did vote to instruct Rapp to report the bill to the full committee.

Rapp said the bill is one of the most important issues to come up before the Legislature this session, on par with redistricting, taxes and other state-wide issues. "This bill doesn't affect only commercial aerial applicators," Rapp said. "It affects a lot of people."

Required by the bill would be licensing of owners and operators of equipment used to apply pesticides. Licensing would require passing an examination to demonstrate familiarity with application of pesticides and payment of an annual fee. Operator's fee would be $10; owner registration, $25; and $25 for each piece of equipment.

Operators would have to show minimum financial responsibility of $15,000, by insurance, bond or deposit, for each piece of equipment.

Proponents of the bill say farmers need protection because modern pesticide equipment can, if misused, damage large land areas, including adjacent property.

Rapp contends the bill needs to be studied carefully because of the transient nature of some of the persons who work on pesticide equipment would require that the operator spend a lot of money on additional license fees and bonds.

HEALTH LEGISLATION — Sweeping new concepts for treatment of tuberculosis, mental illness and mental retardation are about to be written into Texas law.

Bills overhauling the entire state organization for dealing with these vast problems soon may be sent to Gov. John Connally for signature.

House passed 142-0 an amended version of legislation already approved by the Senate to set the eradication program in motion.

A separate bill to establish a new Texas Department of Mental Health and Retardation cleared the House 139-1 and was sent to the Senate.

The tuberculosis control measure by Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen would shift all tuberculosis programs from the Board for Hospitals and Special Schools to the Texas Department of Health.

A bill by Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston also would take from the Board all mental hospitals and special schools for the retarded, moving them to the new department.

Both emphasize community-centered attacks on the problems at hand.

Experts maintain that careful, long-term follow-up care and contract care of patients close to home can virtually eliminate tuberculosis. Proposed $22,300,000, six-year program will begin in the San Antonio-Central-South Central Texas area and counties along the border from El Paso to Brownsville.

Community care centers to treat mental patients close to cities they live in rather than big hospitals far away are heavily relied on for major progress in the mental health field.

HORSES BOOKED — Odds are long against the horse-racing betting advocates this session, but they will provide one of the Legislature's most colorful shows.

On March 29 the House State Affairs Committee will hear a bill to legalize parimutuel betting on supervised tracks. Bill is backed by the Texas Racing Association. It was introduced by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine has introduced a constitutional amendment which would outlaw parimutuel (in a pool) betting and all other forms of gambling in the state.

BUDGET — CONFEREES TAKE OVER — Whether Texans will face substantial new taxation to finance expanding state services rests largely with 10 top lawmakers.

Budget writing was checked to a joint conference committee of senators and representatives after the Senate, without discussion, passed a $3,630,000,000 appropriations measure. It called for $617,000,000 in general revenue spending.

Senate version is $13,000,000 above the House-passed bill in general funds earmarked for the 1966-67 biennium. Both houses left money "on the table."

Senate bill is $14,000,000 below anticipated income; House bill $25,000,000 below. But there are plenty of claims for the leftover.

Amount of the school teacher pay raise approved after the general budget finally is adopted is the real key to the magnitude of a tax bill. But recommendations of the conferees — likely to be approved by both

The seven dollar misunderstanding

The misunderstanding has to do with Chrysler names and prices. Let's clear it up together.

This year, a full-sized Chrysler Newport 2-Door Hardtop is priced less than $7 a month more than the most popular smaller cars.

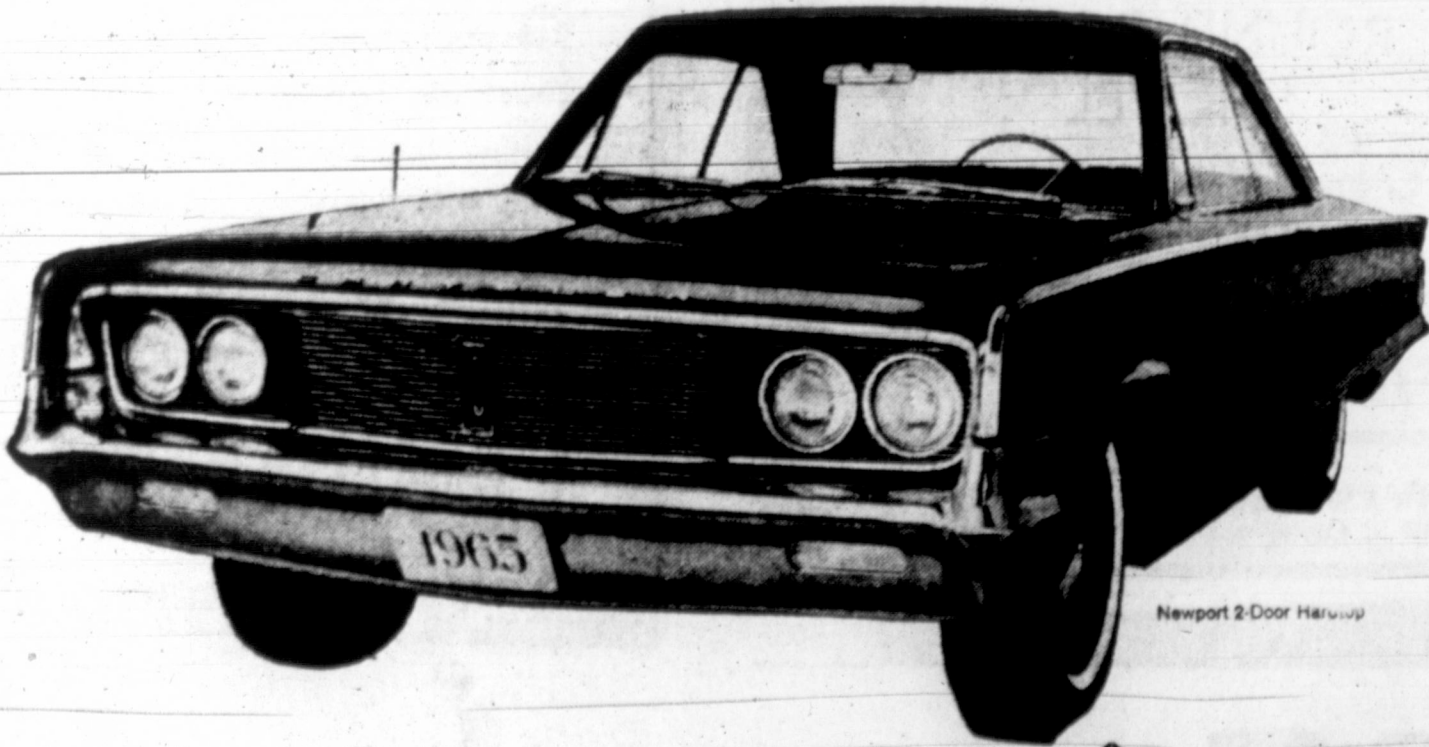

And, when you compare a Chrysler with cars that are even smaller than Ford and Chevrolet, you're really in for a surprise. Their names are the only thing big about them.

Every car compared below is a 2-door hardtop. They all have V-8 engines, automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, radio and heater. There is only one meaningful difference: Chrysler is the only big one.

So why not see your Chrysler dealer today? Move up to Chrysler... it's easy!

Make	Wheelbase	Overall Length	V-8 Engine Cubic Inch Displacement	Base Monthly Payments	Difference Per Month
CHRYSLER NEWPORT	124"	218.2"	383	$65.67	—
FORD GALAXIE 500	119	210.0	289	$6.94	$5.73
CHEVROLET IMPALA	119	213.1	283	$6.94	6.73
OLDS F-85 CUTLASS	115	204.3	330	$9.26	6.41
BUICK SPECIAL SKYLARK	115	203.4	300	$8.85	7.02

BASIS OF COMPARISON—All models are 2-door hardtops equipped with V-8 engine, automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, radio and heater. Monthly payments have been computed on manufacturers' suggested retail price, one-third down and 36 monthly payments. Not included are the extras you pay for on practically any new car: whitewall tires, deluxe wheel covers, destination charges, state and local taxes, interest, insurance and licensing fees.

COMMON SCENE — In Sout Viet Nam, near Saigon, government troops have been putting the pressure on suspected Viet Cong rebels. This man was taken from his home for questioning about rebel activities in the Saigon area.

Pampan on US Savings and Loan Committee

Aubrey L. Steele, executive vice president and secretary of Security Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been appointed to the United States Savings and Loan League's 1965 Committee on Internal Operations. The appointment was announced today by John W. Stadler of Washington, D. C., president of the U. S. League, which is the national trade organization for the savings and loan business and represents more than 5,100 savings associations.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Analyst James Dines says the technical perfection and soundness of this bull market is now being impaired and it will be imperative to determine the extent of the damage in the coming weeks and months and if the threat will subside. Dines advises traders and investors to shun extreme opinions absolutely until the market's current uncertainty is resolved. The Alexander Hamilton Institute advises the continued holding of good quality stocks but says carefully selected purchases during periods of weakness still appear warranted. Harris, Upham & Co. says it appears as if there is nothing else to wait for except a movement up through the 908 level in the Dow-Jones industrial average or a move down through the 880 level. A breakthrough at either level probably would indicate the market's next movement, the firm says. Bach & Co. says the investment community will soon be able to "chew on first quarter earnings reports which should prove extremely favorable." Read the News Classified Ads

Financial Gossip

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Interest in the use of nuclear energy to produce the electricity needed by a growing nation is growing more rapidly than might have seemed possible even 10 years ago, electrical industry sources say.

The first national power survey, issued by the Federal Power Commission, said domestic consumption of electricity will grow by 2 1/3 times by 1980 — only 15 years from now. And it said that nuclear fuel should show the greatest increase, although the demands for other types of fuel—coal and oil—also could more than double.

Among the more recent nuclear projects to be announced, at least in the planning stage, is the proposal of the Public Service Co. of Colorado to build a 330,000-kilowatt high temperature gas-cooled nuclear power station in a site yet to be announced in the Rocky Mountain region. It would be a "first" for that area; Robert T. Person, PSCC president, said the plant would be scheduled for operation late in 1971.

This plant would be an advanced version of a high temperature gas-cooled reactor system developed by General Dynamics' General Atomic Division. It is expected to be around $45 million, said a week-end announcement, and the Atomic Energy Commission is being asked to seek congressional authorization for the project.

Although this is no insignificant sum, it is interesting to note that the national power survey said one of the attractions of nuclear power in the future was its "great promise" for lowered costs, dependent upon progress in technology. Particularly may this be true in areas well removed from coal and gas fields.

But even where coal and oil supplies are available, the very size of the anticipated demand for electrical power will have its effects in calling for increased use of nuclear energy.

Kerr to Stay As President Of California U.

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — University of California President Clark Kerr and Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson of the Berkeley campus said the task of substituting peace and order for six emotion-packed months of turmoil.

The two men, who suddenly announced their resignations last Tuesday, reconsidered their actions Saturday during a six-hour closed-door meeting of the Board of Regents.

Kerr and Meyerson said their resignations had been withdrawn "without conditions," indicating both were satisfied they had the backing and full support of the students, faculty and regents of the strife-torn university.

The action climaxed a six-month period of disorder on the Berkeley campus, including dozens of "free speech" demonstrations, the arrests of 782 persons during a December sit-in, and the jailing of nine persons for using a four-letter obscenity in public on the campus.

The developments Saturday came as a startling victory for Kerr, who during the recent months of turmoil had been accused of vacillation and indecision at various times by students, faculty, and some of the regents.

Television In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — There is nothing like a dame, at least there's nothing like Dame Flora Robson in this country.

Dame Flora is the much honored matron of the British theater and a jolly good fellow along with it. She is precisely the kind of woman on which nations build empires.

Miss Robson is here to co-star in "Seven Women," portraying a missionary in pre-World War II China. In costume and make-up she looks so much the part you want to ask her to take a stroll on the Great Wall.

The actress was named a Dame of the British Empire (DBE) in 1960, making her the most recent performer to enter the ranks. Previously, in 1952, she had been made a commander of the British Empire, a slightly less prestigious honor.

"There aren't many dames among actresses," she explained.

"I think among living actresses today there is only Dame Judith Anderson, Dame Edith Evans, Dame Sybil Thorndyke and Dame Peggy Ashcroft. And myself, of course."

"There are many, many other dames, but not from the theater."

Dame Flora, who has not appeared in a Hollywood movie since coming here for "Saratoga Trunk" with Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman in 1945, said DBE's are selected by the Queen and that she was moved to tears when it was announced she had been made a Dame.

"I wept because my parents were dead," she said. "They would have loved seeing their daughter receive such a high honor."

Dear Abby... Sideline Coaching Dad Harms Teamwork

DEAR ABBY: I play basketball for our high school and so far we've had a very good season. My problem is my father. He never misses a game. He used to play basketball himself, and I guess he was pretty good. My father says the coach does not know what he is doing. So my father tells me to do one thing and my coach tells me to do another. I know I should do what my coach tells me to do, but you don't know my father. Nobody can tell him anything. Who should I listen to? Don't print my name or my father will kill me for sure.

DEAR "X": Listen to your father, but do what your coach wants you to do. Tell your father that it's teamwork that counts in basketball, and since all the other boys take their instructions from the coach you must, too, or you'll be letting the team down.

DEAR ABBY: I know it's perfectly all right to remind children to keep their feet off the furniture, but how about adults who should know better? I have one friend in particular who puts her feet up on my polished coffee table. She even sits with one foot tucked underneath her like a teen-aged girl, and she soils my sofa cushions with her dirty shoes. My husband says I should let it go as it's not nice to correct guests, especially this one because she has a very sensitive nature. She just burns me up. I still think I should tell her. Who's right?

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
DEAR HIGH: High blood pressure (yours) is more serious than a sensitive nature (hers), and I think you should tell her—in a gentle way, of course.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a secretary who sits and thinks up gifts for all the employees to give the boss? His birthday is coming up soon and she wants all of us to pitch in and buy him 100 pairs of stretch socks so she can hang them all upon a clothesline in his office and surprise him! No one objects to the cost, it's the stupid idea that annoys us. I say if she wants to give the boss socks for his birthday, she should go ahead and do it. But why involve the rest of us? We would like your opinion of this.

ONE OF MANY
DEAR ONE: If you disapprove of the choice of gift, ask the secretary who dreamed up the idea to count you out. Socks are a rather intimate gift for employees to give their employer and I don't blame you for not wanting to put your foot in it.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Likes Uniforms" that she shouldn't feel bad. The same thing happened to me. I accepted an engagement ring from a young lieutenant in the Air Force. Then he came back to visit me in his civies, and I couldn't stand him. I soon realized that it was his uniform that got me, so I gave him his ring back.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is adverse for any sort of argument or discussion with others, for it could lead to intermittent difficulties for some time to come. Also avoid any sort of chances on the highway, or you can have real trouble. However, the evening becomes a fine time to put your practical plans in motion—the later the better.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Taking any chances in the performance of your labors could lead to rather disastrous results during any AM hours, but PM all goes smoothly. Improve health. Avoid quarrels.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Taking time out for amusement during the day would not be wise, but much fun is possible tonight. Carry through with assignments religiously. Do not pick a quarrel with your loved one.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Counting your blessings is right and just. Carry through by planning even greater abundance for the future. Get small tasks caught up with. Invite friends in for the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—If you have a nice talk with a blunt-spoken friend who thinks a great deal of you, this will lead to self-improvement. Get regular work completed in jig time. Out to see the people you like tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Take care in the spending of funds today and investment of size in real estate. Tonight you are able to think more clearly. Don't let your bills worry you. Set up a fine budget in PM.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—If you are planning to be firm with anyone, don't do it during the day, but await the evening when you have cooled off a bit.

Rebekah Lodge Slates Banquet

Mrs. Eunice Maddox, noble grand, presided over the recent meeting of Pampa Rebekah Lodge 355 when the group met in IOOF Hall. Mrs. Alice Chitwood served as vice grand.

The group made final plans for the up-coming officer's banquet honoring IOOF and Rebekah officers. Announcement was made of the initiation ceremony to be held at 7:30 p.m. March 25 with Mrs. Hazell Lockhart serving as team captain.

Mrs. Ruth Lawley, Theta Rho Girls' advisor, announced that Theta Rho Girls, working to help pay expenses to attend the state meeting, are available to do baby sitting, car washing and other types of work. Mrs. Lawley also announced that Mrs. Marjorie Holick, district counselor, would make an official visit to the next meeting of Pampa Theta Rho Girls' Club.

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Nice rain Thursday but it did cut down on the attendance at Senior Center. Makes one feel that spring has arrived although the proverbial robin has not arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. William Sims and sons and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sims, went to Calcord, Okla., Sunday to attend the funeral of Miss Linda Sims. Miss Sims is a sister of William Sims and a sister-in-law of Mr. Henderson.

Uncle Billy Frost was host to Mrs. Jess Hatcher and Mrs. C. G. Gillespie Sunday with lunch at Johnson's Cafe and an afternoon at the Convalescent Home. Uncle Billy was quoted as saying he is only two years old now. Guess he is dropping the 100 years that went before. We miss Uncle Billy's friendly handshake at the Center, but he likes to take his afternoon nap at home these days.

Mrs. Myrtle Smith is still in Worley Hospital, and reported better; Mr. Heaston is still in Worley and underwent surgery Thursday morning. Mrs. Birdie McKinney has been released from Highland General Hospital and Mr. Solomon is still a patient in Highland General Hospital.

Mrs. Gladys Higgins was back with us this week, after spending the past three weeks with her mother, Mrs. Nettie Dodd at Clinton, Okla. Mrs. Dodd had a bad fall on her 77th birthday and broke a hip. Mrs. A. D. Hills attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. M. Thompson at First Presbyterian Church in Borger Thursday. Mrs. Thompson was a past president of the District VFW Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moseley spent last weekend in Cyril, Okla. with their son, D. E. Moseley and family. While there the son took them up on Mt. Scott to see the Holy City where the Easter service is held annually. They also went to Lawton, Okla., to visit Mrs. Moseley's brother, F. C. Prueff and Mr. Moseley's sister and husband, Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Perrins at Ada, Okla.

Little Miss Carla Chisum, granddaughter of Mrs. George Benham, visited the Center this week. Mrs. Mary Rogers, who came regularly before her stroke in the winter left with her daughter Saturday to make her home in Liberal, Kan.

Mrs. Joe B. Williams spent the weekend with her brother, W. E. McMillan and wife in Perryton. Miss Lucy Herlacher visited her sister, Mrs. T. G. Fields in Groom last weekend. Leslie Littleton of New Mexico and brother, Mr. Garrison of Pampa, called on Mrs. Mollie Hethcock and sons, Emmet and J. D., Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Turner of Clovis, N.M., were guests of Mrs. P. G. Turner Tuesday.

Members of Calico Capers Have Dance

Calico Capers Square Dance Club held a regular dance March 5 in Pampa Youth and Community Center. Guest caller for the month, D. J. (Tex) Hencering of Amarillo, delighted the dancers with both old favorites and up-coming new dances. Put rings and watches in your pocket instead of laying them on wash basin when you wash your hands.

Manners Make Friends

How to chill a friendship: Constantly tell someone he doesn't know what he is talking about.

During intermission J. E. McGann reminded members that the annual spring square dance lessons should be organized in the near future and asked club members to contact any couples interested in taking the lessons. McGann also extended an invitation to all square dancers to attend the Marshal Flippo dance. Mr. and Mrs. Hencering, a large number of members of the Dandy Dancers Club of Amarillo and one "square" from Perryton attended the dance as guests.

Dear Friends:
If you, like so many of us, were unable to go south for the winter -- why worry -- you still found plenty of cold-weather comfort right at your finger tips.

You just place your order for the temperature you like by setting the thermostat on your dependable gas furnace. This simple step puts in motion a chain reaction that assures the proper amount of heat in your home all winter long -- no matter what the weather.

Your order and thousands like it, is relayed to your local gas company and, in turn, to Cities Service Gas Company which supplies economical natural gas to more than 400 communities in a five-state area.

As the temperature outside goes down, nature's own fuel is drawn from producing wells -- and from storage -- and transported through 7,000 miles of pipelines to the cities and industries in our service area. Thus your heating needs are filled -- with pride and pleasure -- by 1200 Cities Service Gas Company employees.

To keep pace with the ever-increasing demand for natural gas, Cities Service must spend millions of dollars every year to connect new reserves, provide more pipeline capacity, and add compression horsepower to push the gas to its destination. We must plan ahead and be prepared.

Yes, you have been able to spend a comfortable winter at home because a pipeline full of clean, efficient and economical natural gas is always at your finger tips. Cities Service Gas Company planned it that way.

Sincerely,
K.E. Crenshaw

Violet Society Plans April Guest Day Tea

Pampa African Violet Society met recently in the home of Mrs. Evan Jones, 1129 N. Starkweather, to make plans for the Society's Guest Day Tea to be held April 13 in the home of Mrs. R. F. Dirksen.

Refreshments were served from a table appointed with a St. Patrick's Day motif. Mrs. C. E. Boswell attended the meeting as a guest. Members present were Mmes. J. E. Carlson, R. F. Dirksen, Dan Glaxner, Lee Moore, Marion Roberts and Norman Walberg.

DRESS WELL ON LITTLE
It doesn't necessarily take a lot of money to be well dressed. Any girl with good taste and fashion know-how can be well turned out on a comparatively modest budget. Planning is the key.

Since a bathing suit shows off the figure more than any other sportswear item, it is a big fashion mistake to buy one without first trying it on in front of a full-length mirror.

SCARF ILLUSIONS
Scarves dress up and change the appearance of any simple dress. One way to add variety is to wind the scarf through the strands of a necklace.

Wildcats, Redmen Into NIT Semis

NEW YORK (UPI) — Villanova and St. John's advanced to the semifinals of the National Invitation basketball tournament today with Wildcat Coach Jack Kraft sounding a new note of optimism and Redman Coach Joe Lapchick singing his old song of pessimism.

Villanova, first-seeded in the 28th annual NIT and 11th-ranked nationally, rallied to defeat hot-shooting Manhattan 73-71 Monday night while St. John's, the sentimental favorite, downed second-seeded New Mexico 61-54. St. John's and Villanova go on to Thursday's semifinals against the winners of tonight's games between Army and Western Kentucky and Detroit and New York University.

"We were a little rusty and maybe a little confident after a nine-day layoff," said Kraft after Villanova's triumph. "But this was the first time this season we won a game after trailing by seven points in the second half and I think we'll be back on the beam Thursday."

Always a Pessimist

"I'm a pessimist to the end," said Lapchick, reviewing St. John's win. "I'm always critical of our faults and over-worried about the other fellows' good points. I've always been that way and I'm still that way."

Both Villanova and St. John's had to overcome sizeable leads. Villanova trailed by seven points with nine minutes left and St. John's trailed until Bob McIntyre's field goal put it Villanova, rocked back on its heels by the eye-popping shooting of Manhattan's bombardiers, ahead 47-46 with 7:33 to go. led by Larry Lembo's 31 points, took the lead on Bill Melchionni's field goal with 2:28 left and went ahead 72-70 when Melchionni followed with a free throw at 1:35.

Manhattan, one of the best shooting teams in the country, tied the score at 38-38 on a spectacular 25-point one-hander by Matty Link as the buzzer ended the first half and stayed in the lead until its shooting went cold with about six minutes to go.

Jim Washington had 19 points, Melchionni had 16 and George Leftwich had 13 for Villanova, which scored its 22nd victory in 26 games. It was Manhattan's ninth loss in 22 games.

McIntyre Scores 36

Ken McIntyre scored 20 points and Bob McIntyre 16 for St. John's which has won the NIT three times under Lapchick. New Mexico swept both backboards with tremendous jumping power in the first half, and had a 26-22 lead at the intermission.

R. McIntyre's field goal gave the Redmen a 47-46 lead with 7:33 to go and then they went on an 8-2 burst that carried St. John's into a 55-48 lead with 4:40 remaining. The Lobos never came closer than five points after that.

Mc Daniels scored 16 points, Ben Monroe had 12 and Dick Ellis tallied 11 to lead New Mexico, which would have had a 10 or 12-point half-time lead except for a 7-for-35 average from the floor during the first 20 minutes.

Champions Dominate Girls All-State

AUSTIN (UPI) — State champions Victoria, Edna, Lubbock Roosevelt and Trent dominated the 1965 girls' basketball all-tournament teams announced Tuesday.

In the championship playoffs Saturday Victoria won the AAA crown 63-46 over Westaco-Edna downed Friona 60-57 in AA, Roosevelt took A by a 77-71 margin over Jourdanon, and Trent won the B title by downing Round Top-Carmine 69-65.

The all tournament teams: CLASS AAA—Faye Shumbers and Marsha Porter of Victoria, Donna Lou Ratcliff and Paula Johnson of Jasper, Shirley Barnett of Tulia and Debby Callaway of Westaco.

CLASS AA — Jeanne Brown and Cathy Dial of Edna, Annette Jennings and Glenda McClelland of Friona, Jo Ann Sparks of West and Patsy Tyler of Rockdale.

CLASS A — Dee Gregory and Aline Woolley of Roosevelt, Carolyn Dornak and Joyce Bowen of Jourdanon, Sharon Jeter of Baird and Cindy Smith of West Sabine.

CLASS B — Diane Lewis, Barbara McAninch, Kaye McWilliams and Sue Dickerson of Trent, Marilyn Aschenbeck and Candy Doerr of Round Top-Carmine, Kathy Horn of Weatherford Brock and Lesley Ann Maxey of Bowie Goldberg.

An extra forward and guard were named in B since there were two more teams in the playoff than there were in the other three conferences.

This was the first year for AAA to play for state champion in girls' basketball. Seven players in other conferences were repeat all-tourney selections. McClelland was on the AA team in 1963.

Dornak, Jeter and Bowen are repeaters in A, and Lewis, McAninch and McWilliams in B.

YCC Basketball

Cock O' Walk played inspired basketball last night as they handily defeated their first league defeat of the season, 70-59. The Druggists, who had previously been beaten only by the Pampa Newsboys in a non-loop game, trailed all the way against the inspired shooting and ballhandling of "traitor" Gene Brown, who canned 21 points. Gene Williams had 15 in defeat.

The First National Bank jumped to a 16-5 quarter lead and held it all the way in a 63-52 win over Hi-Land Pharmacy, as the moist floor became a ski-slide in the final frame.

Cousin George Smith unlimbered his aging bones for a 14-point output. Gerald "Little" Sikes had 22 for the losers.

A benefit doubleheader for the YCC will be put on Thursday night at Harvester Fieldhouse, when the Pampa Newsboys, made up chiefly of former Harvester players, meet their old coaches, "Culley's Cool Cats," featuring Terry Culley, Gary Griffin and Tex Nolan. A preliminary game at 7:30 will pit the Pampa Mistakes—made-up of local newspapermen, against "Birdog's Bruisers," a team of football coaches led by athletic director Birdog Trice, head coach Skinhead Ramsey and assistant principal Diddy Legs Cooper.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for students.

Cokes in TKO

DALLAS (UPI) — Welterweight boxer Marshall Wells failed to answer the bell for the 12th and final round Monday night and Curtis Cokes, trying a comeback, won by a technical knockout.

Cokes, of Dallas, had pounded a one-inch cut through the lower lip of Wells late in the 11th round. Neither fighter heard the bell ending that round and the wound may have come in the 10 seconds or so they fought after it rang.

About 700 fans at the Sportatorium made so much noise that the bell could not be heard by the referee either.

Major League Roundup

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Bo Belinsky, who promised to mend his unorthodox ways this year, has taken the first step on the road to rehabilitation with the Philadelphia Phillies—much to the chagrin of the rest of the National League.

Belinsky, the southpaw swinger who was the toast of the town in Los Angeles but slightly indigestible to the Angels' management, has sworn to concentrate more to baseball than on his extra-curricular activities and set out to prove his good intentions Monday against the New York Mets.

The "new" Belinsky, whose only resemblance to the foot-loose and fancy-free funster is his tremendous pitching potential, twirled three scoreless innings against the Mets and surrendered only one hit in gaining credit for Philadelphia's 1-0 Grapefruit League victory, its first of the season.

Good Effect

Belinsky's performance, during which he was touched for a single by Ed Kranepool, apparently had a salutary effect on the Phillies, who scored their first run of the spring season and completed their first game.

Johnny Callison doubled home Johnny Briggs, who had walked in the first inning off Carlton Willey for Philadelphia's initial offensive of the year. The Phils had lost two previous games by shutouts, both of which were shortened by inclement weather.

Another transient southpaw, Claude Osteen of the Los Angeles Dodgers, rang up three goose eggs in his competitive debut against the Houston Astros. Osteen blanked the Stros over the first three innings and the Dodgers went on to sweep a 4-1 decision with four unearned runs. Willie Davis and namesake Tommy Davis supplied the key hits for Los Angeles.

Conigliaro Homers

Tony Conigliaro, the rookie sensation of the Boston Red Sox in 1964, slammed a three-run homer and drove in five runs to lead the Sox to a 9-4 rout of the Angels. Conigliaro narrowly missed a grand slam homer in the sixth but came through in the eighth with two men on base.

Lenny Green, bidding for a position in the Boston outfield, also hit a solo circuit, and Chuck Schilling delivered two run-scoring singles to pace the 11-hit Red Sox attack.

The Milwaukee Braves, whose power has made them the dark horse team of the National League race, flexed their muscles against the Baltimore Orioles and emerged with a 4-2 victory when Mack Jones clouted a two-run homer with two out in the ninth inning. Eddie Mathews had slammed another two-run shot earlier in the game to account for the Braves' four runs.

Lucky Seventh

The Pittsburgh Pirates teed off on the Chicago White Sox for 14 runs in the seventh inning and crushed the Chisox 17-4. Eddie Fisher, who pitched to nine batters without retiring anyone, and Bill Fischer were the victims of the Pittsburgh assault. Donn Clendenon highlighted the outburst with a three-run homer and Bob Bailey and Gene Alley also hit round-trippers.

Major League Roundup

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees streaked to their fourth consecutive victory with a 4-3 triumph over the Minnesota Twins as ex-Met Duke Carmel scored the winning run on a sacrifice fly by rookie Horace Clarke. Homers by Frank Robinson and Tony Perez featured an extra base barrage by the Cincinnati Reds which leveled the St. Louis Cardinals 8-6. The Cleveland Indians knocked off the Chicago Cubs in 11 innings 5-3 on singles by Billy Moran and rookie pitcher Daryl Farnsworth and a double by Tony Martinez. And San Francisco Giant righthander Juan Marichal suffered a muscle tear and will be restricted in his training "for three or four days."

IOOF Bowlers To Nationals

DALLAS — The Pampa IOOF bowling team will represent the Southwestern region in the national tournament in St. Louis April 18, after racking up all the hardware at the regional tourney in Dallas last weekend.

The team of Johnny Carson, Homer McNeil, R. K. Parsley, Jerry Coley, Carl Baer and Wilbur Wagner won team high honors with a 2980. Carson won all events with 1851 and had high game with 234. Parsley finished fourth in singles.

Plainview Mitters Cop National GG Openers On First 5 In Class AA

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Three Texas boxers won two fights apiece Monday night in the National Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions to give Texas an early team lead.

Fred Garcia, Eddie Gonzales of Plainview and Ray Garay, all representing Ft. Worth where they won their state titles, easily advanced through the first and second rounds. Another Texan, Jesse Avalos, won his first match in the 126-pound division but lost his second encounter of the evening.

Fort Worth accumulated seven points during Monday night's action (one point for each win). Kansas City and Los Angeles rested in second place with six points.

Garcia, fighting in the 112-pound division, had the easiest time of it. He floored Gary Smith of Louisville, Ky. in the first round of his first match and then knocked out Jimmy Wilson of Wichita, Kan. in the second round—of his second match.

Big bore rifle shooters use .30 caliber and .308 rifles for summer league matches at the outdoor range. Any pistol or rifle can be fired on the outdoor range from 50 to 600 yards. Hunters find the outdoor range useful for sighting their rifles prior to the opening of the hunting season.

Another section of the club is the Black Powder shooters. These shooters use mostly flint lock, percussion and some center fire type rifles and pistols.

The collectors of the club will hold meetings on the second Thursday of each month and will frequently hold gun shows. The pistol shooters are now engaged in a center fire match which runs for eight weeks. The guns used in this match must be over .32 center fire pistols. Three targets are shot, which are: slow fire, time fire, and rapid fire. There is a possible 100 points on each target and a total possible of 300.

All members are given a key that will open the indoor range and the target house and phone at the outdoor range. The club has just purchased a chronograph, which is useful in loading, as it measures the speed of a bullet fired from a gun.

Anyone wishing to find out more about the club is welcome to come to the indoor range any Monday night. Gun owners are urged to come and use their guns. Anyone interested, but not owning a gun is welcome to come and use a members gun. Spectators are also welcome.

The indoor range is located on the north side of the Rodeo grounds in the old Cafeteria building.

The scores of Monday night, March 14, are as follows: Rufus Holmes 127, Ralph Day 165, Fred Brown 280, Rodger Mabra 179, Ron Ernst 225, Jack Mitchell 226, Carl Laflin 52, Herman Topper 215, Cam Murchison 125, and Kenneth Williams 244.

500 Expected At All-Sports

A crowd of between 500 and 550 is expected tonight at Harvester Fieldhouse for the second annual PHS All-Sports Banquet beginning at 7 p.m.

A final committee meeting yesterday reported that 400 tickets had been sold by Monday morning, with more than 100 more expected to be sold at the door.

Guest speaker will be Berl Hoffman, Texas Tech freshman football coach and head baseball coach, who is rounding out a busy season on the banquet circuit, having spoken at Stratford's banquet last night.

Harbord Cox will be the master of ceremonies, who will kick off the dinner by introducing athletic director Weldon Trice, who will in turn introduce the head coaches and their assistants. The coaches, in turn, will introduce their players.

Special entertainment will follow by the Swing Kings band, after which the football and basketball Queens will be announced.

Coaches Terry Culley and Otto Holladay will then present the Harvester Harvester basketball and Fighting Heart football awards.

Malcolm Douglas will present the Outstanding Competitor awards in baseball, track, golf, tennis and volleyball.

Jeff Cobane, sports editor of the Pampa Daily News, will present all-district football and basketball certificates, and honor the all-district baseball players of last year, who have already received their certificates.

Highlight of the evening will be Hoffman's speech.

Duckett, Tipton 3rd Team

By United Press International

West Sabine's Jack Sweeney and Appertown's David Praeger, second team choices a year ago, moved up a notch to head up the 1965 Class A all-state high school basketball team announced Tuesday by the Texas Sports-Writers Association.

However, Wylie's Mike Hale wound up as the top vote-getter on the "short" mythical team that didn't list a player taller than 6 feet, 3 inches. Hale polled 82 points in the state wide balloting.

Sweeney an all-tournament selection after his West Sabine team won the Class A championship with a 51-48 victory over Woodburn, was the runner-up to Hale in the voting. Terry Treatwell of Eastland and Randy Brant of White Oak were the others named in the first runner team.

The second team had a pair of 6-4 players in Albert Campbell of Edgewood and Richard Preston of Eldorado, a 6-4 1/2 guard in Rocky Cain of Springlake, 6-3, Sonny Cammeton of Wills Point and 5-10 Eugene (Rocky) Keene of Crosby.

The third team was made up of the only juniors to break into the senior-dominated squad in Sam Tipton of Geower and Joe Kilgore of Barbers Hill, and seniors Ralph Dampien of Whitesboro, Joe Townsend of Eastrop and Larry Duckett of Panhandle.

Harvesterettes Win

PERRYTON — The Pampa Harvesterettes won their second straight match over Perryton yesterday, downing the hostesses 15-4, 15-6. The reserves also played, downing their opponents 15-3, 26-24.

Pampa will play in the Perryton Volleyball Tournament April 27, with Liberal, Kans., and Wheeler also entered.

Mr. Sam's Fantastic Marble Palace Has Everything

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The woman lost at the sub-basement level has plenty of bewildered company as senior lawmakers and their staffs begin slowly filling the massive structure.

"Are you lost?"

"Yes," she replied. "This building gives me a fit."

She was deep in the subterranean layers of Washington's newest colossus, the white marble Rayburn building. About to become the official home of 169 U.S. congressmen, it's the costliest and perhaps the most controversial government edifice in the capital's history.

On my own thorough going tour of the building I lost my bearings several times. Once, strolling down a corridor, I encountered a man standing outside an office door. I barely glanced at him but he asked: "Trying to get out?" It was the obvious question.

With only a few dozen congressmen moved in, the halls today offer long, empty vistas. When bells ring to summon lawmakers to the House chamber, they have the lonesome sound of a telephone jangling in an empty apartment.

Plodding these passageways, I had the eerie feeling that if I opened some door along the way, it might suddenly close behind me and leave me stranded in a lush underground apartment of the sort favored by James Bond's enemies.

In the weeks ahead, of course, much of this unfamiliarity and loneliness will pass. Human chatter will be steady, rather than isolated, as now, in widely separated oases of life. Policemen won't have to walk the corridors with little hand charts telling who is where. Signs may appear.

Most of the offices presently occupied are along the building's northern side, commanding a superb view of the Capitol dome. It is a view, indeed, seldom enjoyed except in Washington offices depicted by Hollywood.

Seniority dictated who got these choice spots, so this section already has been dubbed "Old Men's Row." It might as easily be called "Southern-er's Row." Safe southern seats and seniority go together, and the name plates along the north corridors give you congressmen from Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, the Carolinas.

Despite mutterings about inadequate design, the three-room congressional suites seem sensibly arranged, built to high standard, decorated with good taste. Cabinets and file drawers are recessed in the walls. A tiny kitchen and two bathrooms are among the side features.

I found Rep. Herbert Bonner, North Carolina Democrat, a bit dazzled in his new setting, but totally convinced that a present-day congressman's immense workload justifies the luxuriant spaciousness.

A lawmaker for 24 years and an aide to a congressman for 15 years before that, Bonner could provide a little perspective: "Back in 1925 we didn't have much to do. We got eight to ten letters a day. If a prominent visitor came to town, we'd close up the office and go sightseeing. Now if it's quiet we get 50 to 75 letters a day. If things are stirred up we get hundreds.

"It's the only job I know where the longer a man stays in it the more he has to do."

Perhaps few would quarrel with the lawmakers' need for great new working space. But some visitors to the Rayburn building may echo the businessman who, after seeing the Supreme Court building and several other imposing government structures, asked:

"Do we have to have all this

MARBLE?"

If the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas were still alive, he would answer "yes." He oversaw nearly every significant detail of the building's design, including many of the changes which helped run the cost to an estimated $125 million (the new Senate office building finished in 1959 cost $23.5 million).

"Edifice Rex," as it is sometimes called, has 50 acres under roof. Aside from congressmen's offices, there are nine major committee rooms plus ample space for subcommittee offices.

Nasser Butts in at Another Spot-Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI) — The United Arab Republic is training and equipping Eritrean exiles for guerrilla warfare against the Ethiopian government, according to informed sources here.

These sources believe that U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser's goal is to split Eritrea from Ethiopia and, through a puppet government, eliminate a vital United States Army communications station in Asmara, the capital of Eritrea.

The guerrilla training is reported to be going on at Iraqi military bases under the direction of Egyptian officers stationed there, but the number of men involved is unknown.

Sources believe that Nasser's plan is to send the guerrillas to the Sudan and from there have them infiltrate across the border into Eritrea. The new Sudan government formed last November has been giving open support to the so-called Eritrean Liberation Movement despite frequent protests by the Ethiopian government.

Diplomatic sources here say the Liberation Movement which operates from Khartoum is financed by Nasser.

Eritrea, formerly independent, became an Italian colony at the turn of the century but after World War II joined Ethiopia under a federation scheme.

U. S. Base

The American installation at Asmara, known as Kagnew Station, is a major link to the United States' worldwide communications system and also is involved in space tracking operations. There are 3,000 Americans including dependents, at the station.

It represents a major source of revenue for the Ethiopian government, both in annual rental fees and in money spent by the Americans stationed there. Kagnew is one of two American military installations in Africa, the other being Wheelus Field in Libya, an Air Force training base.

Nasser, who opposed foreign military bases anywhere in Africa or the Arab world except his own in Yemen, has never mentioned Kagnew publicly. But in a speech a year ago he called for removal of American and British bases from Libya.

American officials then privately warned him that if he continued his campaign against Wheelus Field he would endanger American surplus food shipments that are badly needed by Egypt. Nasser has not mentioned the base since.

Ethiopian government sources profess no concern over the possibility of Egyptian-trained guerrillas infiltrating Eritrea from the Sudan.

"We have a long border with the Sudan, and if they want to cause trouble for us we can give them plenty of trouble in their South," said one official. "But we look on this as a temporary problem that will pass when the present caretaker government in the Sudan leaves office this spring."

Morse, one of the Senate's most outspoken critics of foreign aid, said he took the step to set the stage for a clear-cut test in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — as to just in what form aid should follow.

Speaker Sam Rayburn was still alive, answer "yes." He over every significant building's design, any of the changes run the cost to an 25 million (the new building finished in 3.5 million).

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule, and the Declaration of Independence.

Who's Alarmed Over Crime?

President Johnson has launched a war on crime. He'll never win it unless he gets a lot more help from the public than law enforcement is getting now. Crime is increasing in the United States five times faster than the population. It is increasing not only in the cities but in the suburbs and rural areas as well. Women—and men—are afraid to stroll in the parks or to walk or ride home from work at night for fear not only of being robbed but also brutally and senselessly beaten and even murdered. Wolfpacks of teen-age punks roam the streets, robbing, raping and perpetrating acts of savage violence just for "kicks." (Where are their parents?) National magazines carry ads for a device by which cheaters can defraud the telephone companies of long distance toll fees. College students are being openly solicited to buy a gadget that makes cheating in exams so easy it's almost boring. All this is happening with a strange and frightening absence

Ah, For That Uncertain Feeling
NEW YORK (NEA) — We remarked here the other day on our worry over the television show Bewitched, and the way it proves each week that being supernatural is infinitely better than being a person. As we noted, a witch is always certain of the way things will turn out, whereas a person never knows what the next moment will bring.

In that contest, it is harder than usual to make out a good case for humanity's self-respect. (And it does not help our argument any that the program right after Bewitched is Peyton Place.)

Nevertheless, we have pursued this problem with a great deal of thought, and may finally have arrived at a way to put sorcery down — or at least to improve the cause of humanity. Not that we have anything against witches. Quite the contrary. When you write a newspaper column, you are very grateful for anybody who will read it, regardless of their persuasion.

It is just that the defense of witchcraft is not the province of the newspaper, and in fact has absolutely nothing in common with humanity.

Properly understood, sorcery belongs to the current religions such as biochemistry and the College Entrance Examination Board. And that is where it should stay. If people could be certain of precisely how things were going to turn out, we are sort of sure the human race would have disappeared long ago.

A Faulty Keystone?

"Counseling" is one of the main features of the War on Poverty, and all over the land counselors are being hired in droves for the first offensive. The Federal Government seldom risks its reputation as a big spender by testing an idea on a small scale before embarking on it on a vast one. All we have had was hope that the millions to be spent on counseling would work. But we did hope, because no sensitive person can fail to be stirred by the knowledge of the ignorance and poverty that exist to some degree all over the country. Now that hope is somewhat clouded by doubt, as the Russell Sage Foundation prepares to release the results of a six-year study on the counseling of potentially delinquent girls. The study shows that girls identified as potentially delinquent and given counseling on an individual basis turned out no better than those so identified and deprived of counseling. There was no difference in the number who graduated from high school or in their grades. No effect on their truancy could be noted. The same proportion of both groups became pregnant out of wedlock. Those who conducted the study do not despair. They only feel that with the present knowledge of how to counsel not much can be hoped for — not that we can't learn how to counsel more effectively. The point is that the Government is going full steam ahead before the necessary knowledge is available. Not only that, but such cities as Columbus, Ohio, complain that those hired to counsel youngsters to stay in school are paid far more than those who will have to teach them if they do stay in school. Washington seems to think we taxpayers have plenty of money for such untried experiments on a grand scale.

Noisy Reading For Thieves.

Two American dentists are rushing to Egypt to fill a cavity. An anthropologist is rushing with them, because the hole is not in anybody's tooth but in our knowledge of human history. The dentists are from the University of Michigan, the anthropologist from the University of Pennsylvania. They plan to take X-rays and measurements of the facial bones and teeth of long-dead Nubians, a people who appeared in Egypt about 2000 B.C. The urgency is because the Nile River, backing up behind the Aswan Dam, is beginning to flood the ancient burial grounds of the Nubians and the Egyptian government has directed that all borrowed Nubians be put back before the waters reach the graves. The scientists later plan to make the same studies with modern Nubians to discover what dental changes 40 centuries may have wrought in the human phiz.

Providing Arms, and Supplies to Anti-Red Guerrillas in North Viet Nam Weighed in White House Discussions

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is being privately challenged to carry out in the rugged mountains of North Viet Nam his pledge "to defend freedom all over the world." Tough tribesmen in the western and northern regions of North Viet Nam who have successfully fought off Communist control have appealed to the U.S. for arms and supplies to wage their own guerrilla warfare in the North. Secret offers from these tribal leaders to launch "behind-the-lines" attacks against Hanoi's military forces and installations have reached U.S. authorities through refugees escaping from North Viet Nam in recent months. These strongly anti-Communist refugees, many of them Catholic, report that Moi, Meo, Muong and Nung Lose tribesmen are ready to strike at their would-be conquerors if given the arms and supplies necessary for sustained guerrilla operations. Since Ho Chi Minh took over Hanoi, the independent tribesmen have courageously repulsed all attempts by the Communist regime to integrate their nearly half million people into the Red police state. While holding their own, the tribesmen have lacked the arms to extend their fight beyond their mountain strongholds. Word of U.S. air strikes in North Viet Nam and the successes of their U.S.-led and equipped Meo blood-brothers in South Viet Nam has given the mountain tribesmen their first hope in years that outside help may be available for their unpublicized fight against the Communists. According to the refugees arriving in Saigon, the northern tribesmen have a religious-like belief that they can turn the tide in the Viet Nam war if supported by a steady airlift of weapons and food.

A SECOND FRONT — The unrest there is growing unrest in the rural areas of North Viet Nam, including the densely populated Red River Valley in the mountainous regions where the tribesmen hold control and have their strongest forces. With the help of a small number of U.S. and Vietnamese special forces, and weapons, food and a U.S. pledge of political freedom, the tribesmen contend they can light the spark to touch off a major uprising in North Viet Nam that could eventually topple the Red-ruled Hanoi regime. This bold plan, discussed by President Johnson and his foreign policy advisers at their Camp David meeting last week, has the backing of a small group of officials within the Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Department, Congress, and among the special U.S. forces in South Viet Nam. It is opposed by Secretary Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, the President's chief foreign policy adviser, who are strongly against any open or covert U.S.

military action that might overthrow the Communist regime in North Viet Nam. Although Bundy and Rusk are aware that the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam are supplied and dominated by the Hanoi government, they are supporting only "controlled" air attacks against the North Vietnamese on the ground it is U.S. policy to force an end to the fighting rather than oust the Communist regime. FREEDOM'S BEST HOPE — Supporters for aiding the tribesmen argue that the surest way to save South Viet Nam is to topple the Ho Chi Minh regime since he and his followers will never compromise their goal of taking over all of Viet Nam. They point out there are no signs from Hanoi that the administration's "controlled" bombing policy is effective, and that if the U.S. doesn't help the tribesmen now there may never be another opportunity. In weighing the impact of such aid on the overall cold war, they argue the President's pledge "to defend freedom all over the world" would take on real significance for all people seeking to be free if the Hanoi government was overthrown by U.S.-supported pressure from within and without. According to this group of military-intelligence experts, Moscow and Peking-backed dictators like Nasser, Ben Bella and Sukarno would think twice before trying to extend the "socialist camp" to their neighbors. They view the unexpected tribesmen's offer of help as a "secret weapon" the U.S. cannot afford to refuse. In the long run, contend these experts, failure to give these people help could be as tragic, although not as dramatic, as the West's Hungarian freedom fighters. President Johnson has made no decision on this explosive plan, leaving the door ajar for further information and suggestions from his advisers while following developments in Viet Nam.

Another Dictator — President Sukarno is beginning to act like a real dictator. Under his orders, natives trying to flee to New Guinea from Indonesian rule are being publicly executed by his firing squads. According to information sent the United Nations by the Australian government, hungry villagers from West Irian, Indonesian-held western half of New Guinea, who try to escape to Australian territory are shot when captured. Wagra Kenu, a native member of Australian New Guinea's House of Assembly, has obtained several eye-witness accounts of such public executions by firing squads. Since Indonesia has withdrawn from the UN, it is doubtful the international organization will act on the Australian protest.

WASHINGTON:

What Is 'Better Living' Without the Old Friends?

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — A little-advertised study financed by the National Institute of Mental Health concludes: "When a working class community is wiped out by a redevelopment project, many of the people who lived there grieve as deeply as they would over the death of a husband or wife."
"The general sense of loss persists in some cases for at least two years, threatens the emotional health and social functioning of those afflicted and brings an increase in mental illness."
These findings result from interviews in depth with 500 families who used to live in Boston's West End, a "slum area" whose apartments and small businesses were razed to make room for redevelopment. Close to half the women interviewed and more than a third of the men reported periods of sadness or depression continuing for at least six months. A fourth of the women said they were still sad or depressed two years after the move: "I felt like my heart was taken out of me."
"I had a nervous breakdown."
"I lost all the friends I knew."
"I always felt I had to go home to the West End, and even now I feel like crying when I pass by."
The research men found: "Proponents of urban renewal projects sometimes reason the uprooted people would benefit from slum clearance and forced relocation — in that it would give them 'an opportunity for advancement' (integration into the urban middle-class way of life)."
"For the majority of the families investigated, this assumption has not been borne out by the present study or by similar studies elsewhere."
"Unlike most residents of middle-class communities, most West Enders... enjoyed group life."
"A family's living included not only the family's apartment, but also the apartment house hallways and the street. Relatives often lived nearby, frequently in the same building. Friends were all around and people were forever dropping in."
West End residents, said the study, "placed the highest value not on success as measured by income or occupation but on sociability and friendliness."
"The residents of an area like Boston's West End... look on it not as a slum... but as home." It meets the physical, social and cultural needs "better in most cases than any of the communities to which relocation projects force them to move."
These investigators conclude that slum clearance men must learn that:
— The general standard of housing in an area may not be as important as the human neighborliness in determining whether a community is a desirable place to live.
— When they destroy "slum" buildings they may be destroying a very important, helpful and warm social system as well.
The research men suggest that instead of tearing down slums, it might be better (in some cases anyway) to rehabilitate them in such a way that the present residents can afford to continue living there.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey
John Banvard doesn't rank with the old masters, but he has the distinction of having executed the largest painting in world history. It was a condensation of 1200 miles of panorama of the Mississippi River done in oils on three consecutive miles of canvas. It took him years to accomplish his gigantic masterpiece and when it was finished he rolled it on immense drums, which were erected vertically, and displayed it to audiences at two-hour showings. His exhibitions, which were travel talks accompanying the unrolling of the painting, failed when first presented in 1845. But he "clicked" in Boston the next year, and it was the "thing" to see in his hometown, New York City. Banvard made a fortune here and abroad from his art, but no one ever thought him much of an artist.

Today's smile: A judge in a busy municipal court handled as many as 25 cases a day and never failed to render a decision on each. One day a reporter asked him how he did it, and the jurist said: "I just listen to the plaintiff. That's all." The reporter wondered why the judge never heard the defendant's side. The judge replied: "When I first became a judge I used to do that, but it confused me." We always thought Sir Winston Churchill personified the character John Bull, who depicted the British Empire as Uncle Sam characterizes this country. The real John Bull was created in 1912 by the Scottish humorist, Dr. John Arbuthnot, who represented him as a bluff, kind-hearted, bull-headed Englishman. That would fit the late Sir Winston.

The Nation's Press

WEAKNESS BRINGS DISASTER (Christian Economics)
A good example of the disaster which always follows appeasement may be seen in Southeast Asia. Three years ago, Thailand, the Philippines and Pakistan had all offered troops for a multilateral intervention to stop the advance of communism in Laos and South Viet Nam. This was strongly opposed by Averill Harriman, Adlai Stevenson and Dean Rusk, who were afraid it might trigger Chinese Communist intervention. Some in our State Department were willing to take the risk but arguments for negotiation and appeasement prevailed. Now the situation is infinitely worse. Pakistan has lost confidence in the ability and the willingness of our country successfully to resist communism and defend freedom. It is doubtful if Thailand and the Philippine Islands would join us today even if we were willing to make a bigger effort. Now we alone — with possible help of Chiang Kai-shek — must launch a full scale campaign to defend freedom in Viet Nam or negotiate some sort of settlement which will be equivalent to turning the country over to the Communists. No war was ever won on a purely defensive basis. As long as the enemy has sanctuary to the north and to the west, he cannot be permanently defeated. Weakness is always followed by disaster. It is far more likely to result in full scale war than an aggressive defense of freedom based on justice and strength.

Please Don't Lean on Pisa's Leaning Tower

By TOM A. CULLEN
PISA, Italy (NEA) — An American, alarmed by the news that the leaning Tower of Pisa may collapse at any moment, wants to erect a bronze Statue of Liberty alongside it. The tower, he suggests, could then lean on Miss Liberty's shoulder.

This is only one of the 300 entries received so far in the international competition for the best scheme to save Pisa's wedding-cake tower. The contest seems to have aroused the screwballs of every nation.

A British engineer wants to lift the tower on hydraulic jacks while the foundation is strengthened. Such a project was under consideration to save Egypt's Abu Simbel temples from the floodwaters of the Aswan Dam, he claims.

A Spaniard wants to slide a gyroscope underneath the Tower of Pisa, hoping the structure would then automatically right itself. But an Italian contractor thinks that the tower should be dismantled, stone by stone, and re-erected on a new foundation — still leaning, of course. Not all the suggestions which the competition has attracted are crackpot. American, Russian, British and Czech engineers have submitted serious proposals calling for the hardening of the soil around the tower, rather than touching the tower itself.

It is expected that a project of this kind will be ultimately adopted by the Italian government, which is sponsoring the competition.

The 179-foot tower has been leaning ever since it was built nearly 900 years ago because it was erected on soggy soil. It is now 14 feet out of plumb and the rate of inclination increases by more than one millimeter each year.

If the rate of inclination were constant, the tower might stand for another 100 years. But as the tower leans, its center of gravity moves toward the low side, and this causes the tilting to increase more and more rapidly.

According to a panel of six geologists who recently inspected the tower's foundations, the tower is in danger of toppling over at any minute now. The slightest earth tremor, or even a moderate gale would be enough to send it crashing down, they claim.

Moreover, there will be no advance warning — no telltale cracks or fissures in its walls — when the many-tiered tower goes, the geologists say.

Faced with this emergency, the Italian government last May appointed a 17-man committee of experts to look into the problem of saving the tower.

The simplest way to bolster the tower would be to shore it up on the low side, or to anchor it firmly to the ground by means of steel cables fixed about two-thirds of the way up.

But this would destroy the tower's artistic merit, it is argued — and, incidentally, its tourist appeal, which is estimated to be worth $5.6 million a year to the town of Pisa alone.

Bonanno Pisano, the Florentine architect who designed the Tower in 1173, may have been a whiz at the drawing board, but he was no engineer.

In the first place, the soil on which he built was treacherous mixture of sand and wet clay. Secondly, he built on a foundation which was hardly bigger than the diameter of the tower, and which reached only a few feet below ground.

Most serious projects for saving the tower call for hardening the ground around the tower. Soil Solidifiers, Inc. of Minneapolis has submitted a plan along these lines, and its president, J. W. Alexander, visited Rome in mid-December to explain it.

Two Russian engineers have proposed a technique of soil hardening which consists of inserting pipes to a depth of 130 feet and passing an electric current through them.

A Czech engineer suggests freezing the soil at a temperature of 30 degrees Centigrade. Very few of the contestants suggest straightening the Tower of Pisa, itself. "A perpendicular Tower of Pisa?" exclaims an official of the Italian Tourist Office. "Such an idea is unthinkable. It would be like Venus de Milo with arms."

UPI, Wire Guild Agree on Contract

NEW YORK (UPI) — United Press International and the wire service unit of the American Newspaper Guild reached agreement early today on a new two-year contract.

The new contract provides wage scales for all classifications of newsmen, photographers and reporters comparable to those in the Guild's recent agreement with the Associated Press. It is subject to ratification by the union membership.

The old contract expired at midnight Monday night. At the request of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, both sides agreed to keep the talks going beyond the expiration date.
