FLOOD WATERS AGAIN MENACE GREAT CITIES

LONG-SILENT GOP TO OPEN DEMO ASSAULT

HAMILTON WILL MAKE FOUR SPEECHES OVER RADIO

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The decision of Republican Chairman John D. M. Hamilton to break his silence on political affairs...

Hamilton said he would deliver on Saturday night the first of four radio speeches in successive weeks.

"I have done a great deal of listening in the last six months," he said. "All over the country I find the old lines of political allegiance shifting and new lines forming."

"Political developments since the election have been rapid and important. It seems to me the time has come to look at the new political picture, to re-examine the old, and to discuss the position and attitude of the Republican party in the changed set-up."

Hamilton was one of the Republican leaders who counseled against any effort to make the President's court proposal a partisan issue.

Consequently the 16 Republican Senators and 88 Republican Representatives have made only occasional criticisms of the measure, although nearly all have indicated they would vote against it.

Republican legislators have been more outspoken on President Roosevelt's economy appeal than on almost any other subject this session.

They endorsed his demand last week for a reduction of government expenses, and some—notably Rep. Taber (R., N. Y.)—urged a flat 10 per cent cut in departmental appropriations.

On many bills the House Republicans have voted virtually as a unit. Republican headquarters here, reduced to a skeleton staff after the November election, were augmented recently by the employment of William R. Castle and William Hard as special assistants to Hamilton.

They and others have been conferring with Hamilton on raising funds and laying the groundwork for the 1938 state and congressional elections.

SQUARE DANCE WILL BE HELD THURSDAY NIGHT

Old timers will "trip the light fantastic" at the high school gymnasium on Thursday night when the Panhandle Centennial committee will stage another of its old time dances.

Dancing will begin at 7 o'clock and last until 11. Admission will be 40 cents per person. Music will be by Homer Ratcliff and stringed demons who played at previous dances.

The largest crowd ever to attend an old time dance in Pampa was present at the one held last month. Managers A. A. Tiemann, Mrs. E. A. Shackleton and Mrs. H. H. Felskell, are all ready to go and the dance still three days off. Hosts and hostesses will be named tomorrow.

Georgia Law Held Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The Supreme Court declared unconstitutional today an 1871 Georgia law prohibiting insurrection against the state, under which Angelo Herndon, Cincinnati negro communist organizer, was sentenced to an 18 to 29 years penitentiary term.

Justice Roberts delivered the 5 to 4 decision holding that the law "violates the guarantees of liberty embodied in the 14th amendment."

Justice Van Devanter delivered a dissenting opinion in which Justice McReynolds, Sutherland and Butler joined.

Justice Roberts asserted in concluding his opinion that: "The statute, as construed and applied, amounts merely to a dragnet which man emmesh anyone who agitates for a change of government if a jury can be persuaded that he ought to have foreseen that his words would have some effect on the future conduct of others."

Judgment Day For Harlem 'God' Arrives

"This trouble was my means of testing the faith of my followers. It was the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me," confided dapper little Major Divine, center, colored evangelist who thousands in New York's Harlem regard as God. Above he is seen about to answer for alleged transgression against man-made law. Flanked by detectives, he blandly submits to being booked in New York City on charges of abetting a felonious assault in which a man was stabbed. He was captured in the basement of the Millford, Conn., "heaven" to end an 8-state search.

200 Amarillo Musicians Sleep In Train 2 Nights

JUNIOR HIGH'S TOP RANKING PUPILS NAMED

Virginia Harrison will be valedictorian and Aubrey C. (Fooy) Green Jr. will be salutatorian of Junior high at the graduation services in May, Principal R. A. Selby announced this morning.

Their grades were the highest made in Junior high in the girls and boys divisions. Second place girl was Joycelyn Jackson, and Ellen Keough was third.

Second-ranking boy was Wayne Coffin, and Hugh Stennis was in third-place.

Mr. Selby also announced this morning the Junior high winners in the regional meet at Canyon Saturday. Vivian Cargile won first place in still life and charcoal. Dorothy John Davis was second in modeling.

Virginia Harrison received honorable mention in still life and color, and Charles Pierce won second in the junior declamation. The students were accompanied on a school bus by Miss Roy Riley, art teacher.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO SEE SCHOOL'S COMEDY

High school actors will present their winning one-act play "Cabages," for Knights of Columbus, their families and friends tomorrow evening at the new school auditorium. The play will start an evening of entertainment for the Knights of Columbus.

With their families and invited guests, they will be entertained with an informal party and supper at Holy Souls' parish annex after the play. They are inviting the public to see the play, which will be entered in the state school meet at Austin next month after winning the regional contest at Canyon Saturday. No admission charge will be made.

Negro Questioned In Shooting In 'Flats'

"It was an accident," Felix Ward, local negro, told Police Chief Art Hurst this morning when questioned regarding a shooting in "the flats" last night about 11 o'clock.

A McLean negro, known only by the name of "Bartender" was almost on the receiving end of the bullet which whistled past his head as the room miraculously emptied.

Local Band Directors Express Thanks To Pampans

More than 200 Amarillo high school students and their leaders solved the Pampa sleeping accommodations problem last week during the band contests by simply bringing their beds with them.

Jan Ignace Paderewski who lives and practices in a Pampa sleeper had nothing on the members of Amarillo bands. Friday morning over in Amarillo, the pupils, directors, and other citizens marched down to the Santa Fe station and filled five Pullmans and a baggage car for the incoming bands. Thus they rode to the band convention by special train.

When the special train arrived, it was shunted to a siding, and the engine puffed off and left it and did not return until late Saturday night when the special pulled out for Amarillo. The band members slept both nights in the train.

It was the first time in the history of railroad transportation, according to Santa Fe officials at Amarillo, that a train was used by a student group as a hotel. The Amarillo high school band director is Oscar Wise, and S. M. Bagwell is director of the Sam Houston Junior high school band.

Appreciation to Pampans for entertainment of the North Texas School Band and Orchestra association last week-end was expressed today by the local band directors who were in charge of the three-day meet.

The annual contests brought 1,350 student musicians from 38 school bands and orchestras to the city, with an accompanying crowd of teachers, parents, and friends. Many of the visitors were housed here two nights.

Mrs. John Hessey, chairman of the housing committee, thanked those who opened their homes to the visitors, and those who furnished courtesy cars. Members of Band Parents clubs and Parent-Teachers associations here were her chief assistants in making the visitors at home in Pampa.

Merchants of the city were thanked for providing various materials and, with the newspapers and radio station KPDN, of supplying publicity.

Appreciation was also extended to the Pampa chamber of commerce for the luncheon given Saturday for judges, school officials, band directors and their wives.

Directors of the six Pampa school bands formed the contest committee, with Winston Savage of the high school as general chairman. W. Postma of B. M. Baker was chairman of the all-state band program which climaxed the meet Saturday evening. A. C. Coy of Junior High had charge of arrangements for the marching events.

Eugene Seastrand of Woodrow Wilson school directed registration. E. R. Harmer of Horace Mann was program chairman, and C. H. Croson of Sam Houston publicity chairman.

Glen A. Truax, Shamrock band director, is president of the association. Gerald Walker of Borger vice-president and C. H. Leeds of McLean secretary-treasurer.

Members of Pampa High School band acted as pages, secretaries, and general assistants to the chairmen and judges.

100 KANSANS WILL STAY IN CITY 5 HOURS

Wichita's trade-strippers, 100 strong, will arrive in Pampa at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday night aboard a special train. The train will stop on a Santa Fe siding until 1 a. m. Thursday when it will leave for Clinton, Okla.

Elaborate plans to welcome the visitors from Kansas are being made by the chamber of commerce. M. P. Downs will head a committee to see that Pampans are at the station when the train arrives. H. P. Lusby and his committee will arrange to have a local band on hand.

A dance and reception will be given the visitors at the Country club with Clyde Fatheree and his committee as hosts. Frank Culbertson will head the transportation committee.

Tickets of admittance to the reception and dance at the clubhouse may be secured at chamber of commerce headquarters in the city hall or from M. P. Downs. No charge will be made but entry will be by ticket only. Business men are asked by the arrangements committee to be on hand at the train and also to attend the reception.

"Be at the station to greet our neighbors," Jim Collins, president of the Board of City Development, urges everyone.

The Wichitians will bring their famous band and quartet with them and will give a downtown concert.

OIL BIDS CONSIDERED

DALLAS, April 26 (AP)—Judge Claude McCallum today was considering eight bids for purchase of assets of the big Indiana Syndicate, an oil concern in receivership since September, 1931. The concern has 21 producing wells in Smith and Rusk counties. Among bids are one for $517,000 cash and another for $650,000 half cash and the remainder to be paid out of the profits.

Great Salt Lake Called Purest Pool in World

SALT LAKE CITY, April 26 (AP)—Great Salt Lake, so briny that even ocean bacteria die in its wash, is perhaps the purest swimming hole on earth.

Foreign bacteria simply can not survive the lake's bitter saltiness, agreed three former Utah Scientists reporting in the Journal of Bacteriology today.

Even the native germs, born and reared in the great inland sea, are "runs" of the microscopic world—and very few in number.

PAIR INJURED IN SHIP CRASH AT AMARILLO

CHRISTOPHER AND HIS PARTNER FIRST TO REACH VICTIMS

George Christopher, former Pampa, but now a resident of Amarillo, and his partner, C. H. Boyd, of the Amarillo Municipal airport, were the first men to reach G. Duane Roberts, 33, of Perryton, and John Wynard Mitchell 35, of Borger, after their monoplane crashed in a field near the Amarillo municipal airport yesterday afternoon.

Both men were critically injured. This morning attending physicians said the men were holding their own and that there was a chance of recovery.

Roberts, who was at the controls at the time of the crash, suffered a back injury, two broken legs and a crushed foot. Mitchell received a broken back and a deep gash behind one ear. The crash happened about 3:50 o'clock.

The plane had taken off from Elkhart about three miles from the crash point, and appeared to be turning back toward the takeoff point when it went out of control and crashed. The plane struck the ground at an angle crushing the wing and undercarriage and then turning over. The plane was driven back into the fuselage.

Christopher, at the controls of his ship and with Boyd as passenger, said he had just passed the monoplane a few minutes before the crash and had just circled as the falling plane struck the ground.

Landing as soon as possible, Boyd and Christopher ran to the demolished plane. The impact of the crash had thrown both men partly out of the plane. The filers removed the injured men, who were still conscious, and called an ambulance.

Officers Seek Fugitive And Trail Thefts

HOUSE BANS WHISKEY SALES IN DRY AREAS

FORT WORTH, April 26 (AP)—Officers searched a wide area today for Alfred (Sonny) Lamb, long-term convict and fugitive from the Tarrant county jail.

Sheriff A. B. Carter at Fort Worth said Lamb was believed to have perpetrated a number of thefts in his dash across North Texas.

Lamb, under 99- and 15-year sentences from King county and indicted for murder charges at Menard, escaped Saturday by picking the lock on his cell window. He had been left in jail at Fort Worth by Sheriff Dan Hardee and Constable Lee Hutson of Hutchinson county, who were taking him to Stinnett to face burglary charges.

Sheriff Carter attributed theft of two automobiles to Lamb, the first being that of Bob Heffer's at Azle, taken Saturday night and found yesterday near Jacksonville. Sheriff Carter said Lamb was identified as having been in that vicinity about 30 minutes before the car was taken.

Yesterday Clyde Vaught, a farmer living west of Olney, was robbed and shortly before a car was stolen at Olney. Vaught was working in the field. When he returned he was met by a man coming from the house and the man forced Vaught at the point of a gun to stand at a distance while he drove away in a car which Vaught described as a one stolen from Olney. The man took some clothing and a shotgun from the house. The description resembled Lamb.

Sheriff Carter said burglary of Harvey J. Boles' home near Fort Worth was attributed to Lamb when officers discovered the fugitive discarded clothing a half mile from the house. Clothing had been taken from the Boles place.

CLAIM DIAMONDS LOST IN NORMAN CAR CRASH

NORMAN, Okla., April 26 (AP)—Ivan Kennedy, Cleveland county sheriff, said today he doubted that Mrs. Vera Wilson, 48, of Dallas, Texas, killed six miles south of here yesterday in an auto crash, was wearing the expensive diamond ring and brooch relatives reported missing from the body.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jareau, Dallas, who arrived here after the accident, returned to Dallas to search for Mrs. Wilson's home for the jewelry, valued at several thousand dollars.

"I expect to hear that the jewels were found in her home," Kennedy said.

Mrs. Wilson died when a car in which she was riding with three other persons plunged off a highway on a curve. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. White and White Luna, all of Dallas, were brought to the American Legion hospital here. Their injuries were not serious.

Mrs. Wilson's body was brought to an undertaking establishment here, where it was reported two diamond rings and a diamond brooch were missing.

Deputy Sheriff Hamilton Stufflebean said he was told the jewels were valued at thousands of dollars, and Mrs. White reported she was positive Mrs. Wilson was wearing them when the party left Dallas.

RESIDENTS ARE VACATING CITY OF JOHNSTOWN

PITTSBURGH AGAIN IS MENACED BY MURKY TIDE

(By The Associated Press) Continuous rains swelled important rivers today and drove residents of lowlands from their homes in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia.

The Ohio climbed toward the 25-foot flood stage. Its tributaries, the Allegheny and Monongahela, which meet it at Pittsburgh, were at their highest since January.

Some railroad tracks were in danger and merchants in the business district feared for cellar stocks. The Potomac rose to six feet above flood stage. Merchants of the low-lying business section of Cumberland, Md., were taking cellar goods to upper floors. Water flooded in the downtown streets, but as not high enough to seriously impede traffic.

The rain sent the Conemaugh and Stony Creek rivers to 17 feet, inches and alarmed residents of Johnstown, Pa., scene of two disastrous floods in a half century, began vacating their homes. Water rolled into the low streets and was edging toward the downtown section.

The weather bureau estimated a river stage of 35 feet would be reached at Pittsburgh tomorrow. This would be only 11 feet under the stage of the St. Patrick's Day flood which cost Pennsylvania $200,000,000 in damage.

In West Virginia the Monongahela was rising at the rate of a foot an hour. Railroad tracks of Somerset county, Pennsylvania, were washed out. Several towns near Pittsburgh were expected to have their streets filled during the day if the rise continued.

Roads around Leesport, Md., were blocked by water, and one farmer was reported marooned on a flood-made island.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 26 (AP)—Flood waters from the Conemaugh and Stony Creek rivers surged into low-lying streets of Johnstown today, inundating business.

GARBO SUMMONED TO APPEAR IN LOAN SUIT

LOS ANGELES, April 26 (AP)—Greta Garbo, elusive Swedish star, was under subpoena today in a $10,500 recovery suit filed in connection with a loan she allegedly obtained in 1924.

A process server, after three weeks' pursuit, finally tossed the summons into her lap when her limousine stopped at a street signal, Attorney James P. McCarty disclosed.

The suit was brought by H. Fitzpatrick, assignee for David Shratler, former Berlin film producer, who claimed to have lent the actress $10,500 when she was obscure.

The defendant is identified as Greta Gustafson, Garbo's true name. Trial is tentatively set for May 3.

NEGOTIATIONS UNDERWAY IN TWO STRIKES

(By The Associated Press.) Peace negotiations were underway today to end labor disputes in two widely separated cities.

Personal intervention by President Roosevelt was expected to prevent a threatened walkout of 25,000 railway clerks and freight handlers of metropolitan New York. A fight between rival workers unions balked efforts of the national mediation board in Washington to effect a settlement. A 48-hour truce agreed upon by both groups, each wanting to represent the workers, will expire at noon today.

At Sacramento, Calif., Governor Frank Merriam was scheduled to meet with representatives of striking Stockton cannery workers and the newly-formed Cannery Workers Union in the hope of ending a 10-day-old strike, involving 1,300 men.

Dudley Sargent, union president, and J. Paul St. Sure, representing the canners, were to confer with the governor at a morning session.

The Richmond, Calif., assembly plant of the Ford Motor Co. was to resume operations today after being tied up by a snarl of sit-down strike which closed the plant Friday.

The strike, settled yesterday, involved charges of discrimination against members of the United Automobile Workers and refusal by the plant management to meet with employee-appointed shop stewards.

Following a conference with Ford officials, Ed Hall, U. A. W. vice president, announced:

"An understanding has been reached as to the relationship of the grievance committee to the management and has been accepted by both sides." Questions regarding union recognition went unanswered.

Whether 1,100 men would resume work on the Parker dam at Parker, Ariz., depended on orders from federal authorities at Washington.

"If there is strife between the Committee for Industrial Organization and non-union workers, it will follow receipt of the orders," Sheriff T. H. Newman said.

It is understood the C. I. O. is demanding a $1 a day wage increase and the right of workers to bargain collectively.

Shoe plants in strike-harassed Lewiston and Auburn, Me., resumed operations today. Sixty-four thousand workers of 19 factories went to their jobs through cordons of steel-helmeted national guardsmen while negotiations toward final settlement of the general strike progressed.

SANTA FE SHOWS GAIN IN OPERATING INCOME

The Santa Fe's net railway operating income for March was $1,531,433, according to a statement released yesterday by President Samuel T. Bledsoe. This is an increase of $50,095 over March of last year.

Gross for the system was $13,712,206, an increase over March, 1936, of $1,854,949, or 15.4 per cent. Operating expenses were $10,859,991, an increase of $1,202,000, or 9.9 per cent over March a year ago.

Of the increase in operating expenses, $520,158 was on account of additional train miles necessitated by increased business. The balance was made up of increases in miscellaneous items.

Railway tax accruals for the month increased $180,091, or 15.2 per cent. Accruals under the Railroad Retirement and Social Security Acts for the month were $364,480.

TEXAN TO TESTIFY

KILGORE, April 24 (AP)—George W. Holland, director of the conservation division of the interior, and J. W. Steele, chairman of the federal tender board here, were enroute to Washington today to appear before the House subcommittee which is studying the expiring Connally act. Steele is expected to testify as to the work of the federal board. Holland has toured a Texas oil belt in what he termed a routine survey.

Dog Falls Off Cliff Into Ocean; Is Rescued By Devoted Master

Death seemed certain for Snarky, a shaggy little dog, when he fell into the Pacific off a cliff near Santa Cruz, Calif. Then Snarky's master, Ross Newfarmer, and a friend sighted the little form, a mere dark dot in the surf, indicated by the arrow.

Halting passersby, Newfarmer had them hold a rope while he lowered himself 30 feet to where Snarky was in distress.

After risking death to haul Snarky from the surf, Newfarmer started the ascent, rope in one hand, dog in the other.

Rescuer and rescued were nearly exhausted when they reached the brink. There, another foot ahead, lay complete safety. A foot behind, disaster still threatened. But by this time many hands were ready to pull the two over the edge to level ground.

"It was worth it," was all Newfarmer could say after making sure Snarky had suffered no ill effects from the experience. As for Snarky, he merely let his expression tell how grateful he was to his master for deliverance from almost certain drowning.

NEW FEDERAL TAXES CONSIDERED 50-50 BET DESPITE ROOSEVELT'S REASSURANCES TO CONTRARY

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The federal taxes within the year, despite reassurances from the White House and Capitol Hill, still look like a 50-50 bet. The President of the United States has a delightful talent for diverging in his remarks as to the budget and the federal finances from time to time. His best friends have to agree with his worst enemies on that fact, although they point out that the picture, of course, also changes.

"I am convinced," Mr. Roosevelt has now said, "that the success of our whole program and the permanent security of our people demand that we adjust all expenditures within the limits of my budget estimates." On the other hand, there are these points:

ARMY OFFERS CHOICE OF BRANCHES, POSTS TO SERVICE RECRUITS

Vacancies in the army now exist for engineers, Ft. Logan Colo; medical department, Fitzsimons General hospital, Denver, Colo; infantry and field artillery, Fort Warren, Wyo. There are also a few quartermaster vacancies at all of these posts. Applicants accepted now will be given their choice of these assignments.

"Men enlisting now will find army life much different from the army they fathers and elder friends knew during the World War. They will enjoy better food, better quarters, made to measure uniforms, opportunities and privileges the old timer never imagined, even in his fondest dreams," recently stated R. A. Jackson, Sgt. DEM. RS.

After passing the required examinations at Amarillo applicants are forwarded to Denver at once, all expenses paid by the government. All interested are requested to call or write Sgt. R. A. Jackson, army recruiting station, postoffice building, Amarillo, Texas.

Reading Own History. If Roosevelt comes back next February to ask Congress for more relief money, he will only be repeating his own history. Some of the $1,500,000,000 asked for next fiscal year probably will have to be applied to WPA for the tail end of the current fiscal year. The U. S. Conference of Mayors a year ago estimated 1936-37 WPA costs at $2,340,000,000. Actually the costs are running somewhere over $2,500,000,000. This year it has been said a continuance of federal policy would require $2,200,000,000 for 1937-38. The difference of $700,000,000 between that and what Roosevelt asks for can only be solved by a drastic curtailment of the WPA program which no federal official has yet been willing to predict—or some new revenue. 9 COUNTRIES WILL EXHIBIT AT EXPOSITION

DALLAS, April 26.—Exhibit space of 26,700 square feet, or the size of half a city block, in the Pan American building at the Pan American Exposition, is going to be crowded to hold all the exhibits to be sent here by Central and South American republics. This is the report of two flying emissaries now at the half-way mark of an air tour to the neighbor nations made by letter to Director General Frank L. McNeny.

The first nine countries contacted with invitations and plans by Dr. Roscoe R. Hill of Washington and Charles H. Abbot of the Exposition staff have accepted the assignments of space ranging from 720 square feet, or three times the size of an average room, up to 2,650 square feet.

Mexico, in the largest space yet allotted, has a circular exhibit area just inside the Rotunda in las Americas, the entrance foyer of the huge building devoted to the neighbor nations.

Guatemala, with a marimba band announced as a feature of its national government exhibit, will occupy a 2,480-foot space at the opening end of a 373-foot-long exhibit hall.

Along this passageway will be ranked, on the left, exhibits of Nicaragua, Peru, Costa Rica and Ecuador; on the right, Cuba, Panama, Honduras, and El Salvador. These exhibits already are being assembled. Cuba's acceptance cannot come until the call of the envoys far down their schedule, their last air port-of-call in mid-April, but assembly of their exhibit is understood to be already started, according to reports to the Exposition director.

Dr. Hill and Mr. Abbot have passed Santiago, Chile and Buenos Aires, Argentina, and are returning through Atlantic coast nations. Spaces of 2,310 square feet are reserved for these two antipodean countries.

Because Colombia and Brazil are planning outdoor plantings—cacao trees from Colombia and a coffee grove from Brazil, open air spaces in the Pan American building patio are set aside for them. Open air spaces are held, too, for Uruguay and Venezuela.

The annual reports to Director General McNeny, spent from this southern-most point of the 15,000-mile airplane journey, which is taking an elapsed time of 56 days, brought details of extremely warm and friendly receptions given at the capitals of the Latin American republics.

Lubbock's Boy Debaters Take Regional Finals

CANYON, April 26.—Lubbock Senior High school's boys' debate team won first place in the regional interscholastic league held Saturday.

J. W. Gamble and Wilson Dickson, representing Lubbock in the boys' division, conquered Chillicothe in the preliminaries and Amarillo in the finals to win first honors. Shirley Buss and Lucile Hyatt for the Lubbock girls won over Burger in the preliminaries but were defeated by Amarillo in the finals.

To Go To Austin. Lubbock's debate teams were coached by J. W. Reid. They will participate in the final state meet at Austin May 6 and 7, Reid said. He is social science instructor at the high school. W. C. Estes Jr. was third in the extemporaneous speaking contests. Lubbock also was represented in the shorthand and Spanish competition.

BOOK FLYING EDWARD TAKEN FROM MARKET

LONDON, April 26 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor won from his Austrian place of self-exile today a fight to have a British book about him taken out of circulation.

The publishers of "Coronation Commentary," it was disclosed, not only took the fast-selling volume from English bookshops but wrote the Duke a note of apology.

That was upon the demand of the former monarch's attorney, who threatened legal action unless amends were made by today.

The action by the publishers came just on the eve of tomorrow's expiration of the six months' "probation period" necessary to make the divorce of Wallis Warfield Simpson final under English law.

Six months ago tomorrow, in the ancient town of Ipswich, the American fiancée of the Duke of Windsor obtained a preliminary divorce decree from Ernest Aldrich Simpson, and started the momentous events which were climaxed by Edward's abdication in December.

Her attorneys, within the next two weeks, will take the necessary legal steps to make the decree final. Then Mrs. Simpson will be completely free to marry the Duke—probably in June, after the coronation fanfare for King George VI has died down.

As for the book, "Coronation Commentary," it was learned today that Edward read passages of it at St. Wolfgang, Austria, only recently. He was angered, for some of the phrases accused him of "muddling, fuddling and meddling" while he was on the throne. Geoffrey Denning wrote the book.

Immediately Edward instructed his London solicitor, A. G. Allen, to take vigorous action. Allen issued a 48-hour ultimatum to the publishers, William Heinemann, Ltd., threatening an injunction by today unless the book were withdrawn and an apology issued.

Today the Duke's legal representatives and the publishers were conferring prior to issuing a formal statement. The publishers at first said merely: "The book is out of print."

While Edward and Mrs. Simpson presumably made their wedding plans, George VI, the brother who succeeded Edward on the throne, celebrated his fourteenth anniversary with Queen Elizabeth.

Legal authorities explained today that it will be unnecessary for Mrs. Simpson to appear personally when her application for a final decree is made.

The attorney general has announced that the king's proctor, has found no reason to intervene in the case.

WE THE PEOPLE

There is a good deal to be said for the Iowa farmer who heaved a dead skunk into the state capitol at Des Moines to show his disapproval of a law recently passed created a closed season for these pungent little animals.

Not that people ought to go around tossing dead skunks into legislative chambers. Not that a closed season on skunks may not be a very good thing indeed.

The citizens of a democracy must have a number of qualities in order to make their democracy work as it ought to, and one of the greatest of these is a spirit of irascible independence.

Consider the case of this angry Iowan, for example. He raises pheasants, and the skunk is a natural enemy of the pheasant.

Your silly Senate passed a bill yesterday putting a closed season on skunks in my county. Last night a skunk got at my coops and killed eight pheasants and three chickens.

Shakespeare once mentioned, as one of the crosses suffering man has to bear, "the insolence of office." We Americans know all about that, for somehow we do seem to have a way of breeding officeholders who are insolent beyond Shakespeare's most pessimistic dreams.

The Iowa farmer, with his dead skunk and his uncutured language, had the right idea. Such things may disturb orderly souls, but they are healthy signs.

For that sort of thing is the final and invulnerable defense against misgovernment and dictatorship. A nation which can toss skunks at its legislators may have its faults, but it is in no danger of losing its liberties.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—If reiteration lends authority to any statement, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes even now may have realized his most fondly held ambition.

He may feel with assurance, that he has carved a place for his name in American annals beside that of John Marshall. And that, for the seven years of his chief justiceship, has been the star to which his wagon was hitched if observant bystanders have read him aright.

At 75, then, Mr. Hughes stands on the pinnacle of his dreams. In his ears the plaudits of his countrymen, liberals and conservatives alike, still thunder at his attainment of that three-quarter-century mark.

Accept that estimate of Mr. Hughes' most intimate thoughts—and it is an estimate very widely accepted—and what follows? As night follows day, it would follow that the chief justice could conclude his long public career at the end of this term of court and step off the bench.

None can read the Hughes opinion in the steel case of the Wagner act group and not sense the feeling of its author that it was destined to make history. It is hailed by labor as a great charter of liberty for workers, a companion piece for labor of the bill of individual rights written into the constitution at its adoption.

Does Mr. Hughes see all that in the new constitutional construction he has promulgated? He embodied anew in that opinion, as a "duty" of the court, a rule of construction to save, not to destroy, policy making legislation.

Read it that way, and word that the chief justice was to step out would come as a dramatic gesture symbolizing the completion of his life work. There would be few churlish tongues to begrudge him fame.

TEX'S TOPICS

The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York has just finished a spring tour out into the provinces, and from all accounts it did very well by itself indeed, according to reports filtering through to Pampa from the East.

The only point still at issue is the question how long it will take the cities which have just had their fling at grand opera to get back to normal. For when all the fine talk about great music, culture, high art, and all the rest has been said, the sad fact remains that grand opera is ideally designed to give its best American patron a terrible beating.

Consider what the Americano is up against when he decides to take in a bit of opera. First of all, he is under a strong moral compulsion to dress up to the hilt. He is subtly made to feel that if he does not appear in full evening regalia he is a moral leper and a lost soul; and while the American is a noble and a sturdy creature, there is something about a clawhammer coat and a boiled shirt that puts the iron deep into his soul.

So, all dressed up and muttering in his beard about it, he sallies forth. He pays eight or ten dollars, hard cash, for two tickets, and finds himself seated in row Q, up in the balcony, a good brassie shot from the stage. Disposing himself as comfortably as he can, he meekly awaits developments.

The proceedings are veiled in a foreign tongue, so that never at any moment does he have more than the foggiest notion of what is going on. He gets moments of noble music, to be sure; but he also gets many, many moments of acute and miserable boredom.

We remember our first opera. It was II Trovatore. That was the time our companion was an Italian friend, taken along to keep us posted on what the score was. It, too, was a stuffed shirt affair.

Add this all together, and Mr. Average American is not likely to feel that he is missing much by living without grand opera. And if he consoles himself by sneaking off to a movie to see Jean Harlow, who can blame him? Grand opera will never take root in this country until it alights from its high horse.

Saturday night we heard talk of plans for a local Gridiron Banquet at which prominent Pampans will be put on the griddle and baked to a frazzle. Here's hoping the idea doesn't fall through. It has wonderful possibilities. In fact, we'd like now to put in a bid to assist in writing some of the sketches.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY The City council approved the purchase of an American-LaFrance fire truck, a 750-gallon pumper. Cost of the truck was $12,000.

A paving job was ready to be started on North Cuyler, beginning at Francis, and Indian Jim, who held a record of 64.64 bricks laid down in 7 hours, 48 minutes, was to be the hero of the occasion, a front-page boxed story in the News announced.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Workmen were pouring concrete for the overhead bridge on South Barnes. Bids were to be asked soon for the construction of the North Fort Worth & Denver station, which was to be built in Tenacre addition.

Sheriff Lon Blanscet was to outline plans for Pampa's First Annual Frontier Days celebration, scheduled for May 26, 27, 28, at a joint meeting of Junior Chamber of Commerce and BCD members, and committee chairmen.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Be advised by Signore Silvani—well, make it just Charlie of the Ritz—people aren't worrying very much any more.

Intoned this premiere maitre d'hotel: People used to come into dining rooms with their evenings ruined before it started. They were in too big a hurry.

Charles shrugged and smiled widely. "Well, they're learning how to eat and drink. If they want to go to the theater, they order less food and eat it sensibly. They're learning to drink wine. I mean all types of people, not just those who have had training in the manner of pleasant living. And they're enjoying what they eat, too."

"That's about the young folk, Charles says, "There was a time when they'd come in and get awfully drunk. Now lots of them order only a sherry before dinner. They're becoming more dignified."

"This man who has been head waiter for 18 years, who has served the great and near great here and in Europe, has one bit of advice which he says can be applied not only to dining but to almost everything else.

"It's 'take your time,' and if you don't have much time, 'eat less.' Another factor in the increase of what he called 'the art of learning to dine and wine well' was the passing of prohibition.

"More people eat out now, more people give parties at various places other than homes, than they used to. That's because they don't have to be furtive about their drinking."

"There's more wine consumed now, he says, because people are taking advantage of their leisure tours to engage in quiet instead of robust drinking.

"And more older people are dancing for 18 years, who has served the great and near great here and in Europe, has one bit of advice which he says can be applied not only to dining but to almost everything else.

Time was when park sleepers were hauled into the courts by the dozens, but the cops don't bother with them much any more. Not that it was ever against the law to sleep on park benches in New York—it isn't. But they think it undignified for a man to clutter up a park bench after 7 a. m. When you slumber al fresco in this town you're supposed to get up with the sparrows.

They're making a picture of Manhattan night life now called "52nd Street." That's the local Rue de Something-or-other where most of the night clubs are congregated.

People You Know

The following paragraphs appeared recently in Olin E. Hinkle's column in the Lexington (Ky.) Herald:

Skippy, hitherto called "The Family Pup" in this column, departed this life about 3:30 p. m. Saturday—another victim of automobile traffic. Death, apparently was instantaneous. He was 3 years and two months old, a Boston terrier.

Skippy was known to thousands in several states, for he had been a column "character" almost since birth. He adorned Christmas cards and had his picture in the papers several times. Many thought him an imaginary character, but he was 15 pounds of energy, affection, bark, and canine courage.

He preferred to fight with Chow, but his favorite pastime was chasing bicycles, a sport in which he refused to be discouraged. He had many "fans" who wrote him letters and sent presents. When he was lost on suspicion of kidnapping it was a neighborhood crisis. He showed up wearing pink toe-nails—a sissy pup with an apologetic look as if admitting the fact.

Skippy lived through numerous accidents and a siege of strychnine poisoning. A modern creature, he departed this dog's life in a modern way—as a canine statistic in the figures on traffic accidents. It's hard to imagine his wily form stilled, but when we reached him he was very, very dead.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Games may come and games may go in Hollywood, but the indoor sport that has lasted nearly a year is film-casting for "Gone With the Wind."

Joining in we'll string along with Miriam Hopkins for that vivid Scarlett O'Hara role. Of all the reigning film actresses suggested for the part, Miriam hits me as the girl most suited in every respect.

I seem to have a lot of company in that choice, for the fans—who have taken a hand in casting on this film more than on any other in years—have shown a decided preference for an O'Hara-Hopkins merger.

Looking back over the Hopkins screen accomplishments to date, you can see why the fans see her as Scarlett. Perhaps the principal reason for a Hopkins prejudice is what Miriam did with "Becky Sharp." More than one critic has suggested that Scarlett has in her something of the famous Becky, while Melanie, gentle soul, at times fairly cries her kinship to Amelia Sedley of the "Thackerays" novel.

Convincing Actress I thought Miss Hopkins' Becky most creditable, and she has given, in that and other films, abundant proofs of her claims as an actress.

In "Becky Sharp" our Scarlett nominee ran the well-known gamut. As first, coy vixen, dominant female, dejected victim of misfortune, she was equally convincing. I thought, Miss Hopkins can be hard and ruthless (as in "Beck Sharp" and "Barbary Coast") and she can be utterly feminine and soft (as in "All of Me," portions of "Barbary Coast," and those sections of "The Smiling Lieutenant" in which she was not engrossed in comedy). Scarlett must be all of these and more—and I think Miriam can give the more.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

MAGIC AND MEDICINE.

Modern science has taught us to expect nothing to happen without efficient cause. This has spared us the nightmare of innumerable superstitions which troubled our forefathers. However, the lessons of modern science are not easy to grasp.

Consider the dictum "nothing happens without efficient cause." What is efficient cause? In the purely mechanical world, the meaning of efficient cause is not difficult to visualize and grasp. To move a body calls for the expenditure of a certain amount of force. That's simple. But, when we turn from the inanimate subjects to living beings, the meaning of efficient cause becomes difficult to understand.

A person receives a letter containing disturbing news, his blood pressure goes up, he turns pale, his pupils dilate, the rhythm of his respiratory and digestive systems is disturbed, and so on. May we then say the letter, or its bad news, was the efficient cause of all these changes? Hardly. Another person, more stoical in temper, may receive such bad news and remain unmoved. Still another will go out and get drunk.

An infinitesimal amount of a drug administered to a sick person (endorphin substances or vitamins) will serve to bring him back to health. A minute quantity of hydrocyanic poison or botulinus toxin will promptly kill a healthy man. These are efficient causes, but not in the same sense that efficient causes are witnessed operating in the simpler world of inanimate matter.

All of which is pertinent to many phases of the practice of medicine, notably to psychotherapy. It is true, nothing happens without efficient cause, but the so-called cause, at least in the realm of living things, seldom bears a direct (mechanistic) relation to, or is the equivalent of, the effects produced. That is how we can account for or rationalize the almost miraculous gestures of seemingly trivial gestures which we witness daily. For instance, the immediate improvement witnessed in the patient who has been assured by his physician that he hasn't heart disease, a gastric ulcer, cancer, or any of the other serious conditions that he fears.

As for Rhett Butler, it looks like Clark Gable no matter what anyone can say or do about it. That is a sort of "by popular demand" vote.

And Melanie there's nobody who could play Melanie like Helen Hays, unless Selznick turns up a surprise stunt like casting his scarcely tried discovery, little Margaret Tallichet. I think Margaret, on a short time ago was tapping typewriter keys in a studio office, looks the part. But whether she can act—we'd have to see.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to matters pertaining to the State and its people. An evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Are most Texas cities operating under the city manager form of government? A. No, only about forty, the others having the aldermanic or city council forms of government.

Q. How many and what main groups of Indians were in Texas when the white men came into the country? A. There were five main groups in the Province of Texas, the Caranacas and related tribes, strong in physique, lowest in intelligence and morals, cannibals, living on the coast; the Apaches, in the southwest, fierce, nomadic warriors and robbers, around Goliad and Bexar; the Tonkawas and related tribes, raiders, but amenable to civilization, along the upper Trinity and Brazos; the Comanches, a powerful confederation of subtribes, superior in intelligence to most, but irresponsible; the Tejas or Tainias, more friendly, village dwellers, of the wooded sections of east and north Texas.

Q. When did Gov. Richard Coke become a United States Senator and what had been his previous official record? A. Richard Coke resigned the office of governor of Texas in December, 1876, to become Senator. He came to Texas from Virginia in October, 1850, and located at Waco. He was appointed district judge in 1865 and in 1866 was elected associate justice of the supreme court; became governor, Jan. 15, 1874, and on the adoption of the Texas constitution of 1876, changing the term of office from four to two years, was re-elected.

Q. Who was the first chaplain of the House of Representatives of the Republic of Texas? A. Rev. Littleton Fowler, a Methodist minister, who had been sent to Texas as a missionary in 1837 by the Mississippi Methodist Conference.

CENTENNIAL SONG BOOK

In the homes, in the schools, in public gatherings of all kinds, Texans are singing the best known typical songs of Texas—songs of the range, songs of the Texas home, patriotic songs—songs every Texan should know and delight in singing. Twenty-eight of the best songs sung in Texas have been carefully selected by competent musicians, set to music, and published in a 36 page, 6 by 9, booklet on heavy coated paper with covers in colors.

The booklet with our mailed postpaid for $2.00. Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK.

A person of some experience in dealing with various business firms declares that it does not pay to talk your plans over or even mention the nature of your business to a secretary or associate of the main office. See the head man or else talk to nobody. He told me about an interview he once had with the office helper when trying to put over an important deal with a certain firm. He said, "I sold him nothing, not because the man I wanted to see did not care for my product, but because the assistant was so dogmatically sure that his boss did not want my stuff."

Office helpers may feel that they are helping their superior in business by protecting him from the sales talk of many would-be interviewers by side-tracking them from a personal contact. However, it should also be remembered by such conscientious assistants that their acts may hinder more than help.

READING And Writing

By BRUCE CANTON

"The Gaudy Empire," by Alfred Neumann (Knopf; $2.75), is a meaty, detailed, and eminently satisfying novel about one of the queerest dictatorships that long-suffering Europe ever saw—that of Napoleon III, who ruled France under the second empire from the early 1850's until Bismarck and the Prussians jarred his throne to pieces in 1870.

The whole business looks stogy and unreal from this distance. This hand-me-down Napoleon was not in the modern dictator's tradition. He neither glared nor orated; his eyes did not pop out nor did his lower jaw jut forward truculently. Instead he was quiet (too quiet), soft-spoken; a conniver and a fixer instead of a driver.

He conspired his way to the throne and he conspired in the art of government thereafter, fooling the sainted Eugenie, his wife, a long succession of mistresses, and all of his cabinet forever after. And at last he conspired himself and his country into such a mess that the French, who had never even taken him seriously enough to revolt against him—quietly slid him off their collective back.

Mr. Neumann paints his picture of this man and this time on an all-inclusive scale. Nothing left out. Napoleon is there, and Bismarck, and Cavour, and Garibaldi, and the youthful Clemenceau, and the odd mixture of pamphleteers boulevardiers, ladies' men, and bearded chancellors who made up the Paris of that day.

The whole era is a bit hard to understand now. It was unsledded, bloodless, pervasive with the scent of fakery. "The Gaudy Empire" gets it all and makes a solid, colorful, and sardonic story.

SCOUT NEWS

Troop 22 met Tuesday night, April 20, 1937. The meeting was opened by Duane Turcote with the Scout Oath.

During the business session J. M. Dougherty and F. E. Hicks made instructional talks. The troop decided not to convene on their next regular meeting night but to postpone it one day and have a get-together meeting with their parents and families. At that time the charter will be presented by Council officials. A light lunch will be served.

Later in the evening a recreation period was had. Then the Scout benediction was said and the meeting adjourned.

The following Scouts were present: Blaine Toad, Billy Stokstall, Frank Daugherty, Bob Hogan, Farrington Lewis, uane Turcotte, H. J. Johnson, Billy Forman, Harold Scrimshire, Pod Colvin, J. B. Hicks, Julian Hicks, Geo. Converse, and Leonard Hollis.

PAMPA NEWS NAME TO BE ANNOUNCED FRIDAY NIGHT AT HUBER GAME

SAMMY HALE'S CLUB BEATEN IN 15-3 ROUT

SAM SCALING AND AL SUMMERS STAR AT PLATE

Pampa's baseball team, which will be named Friday night when the Huber Blackfaces of Borger come here for the official opening of the season, won a 15 to 3 slugfest from Manager Sammy Hale's Phillips crew yesterday afternoon at Road Runner park.

The Halmen, without a home since their part grandstand in Amarillo burned down last fall, failed to impress Pampa fans. The Pampa batters jumped on Lefty Wilson and chased him to the showers in the third. Luke Coburn didn't have much luck either and had to give way to Eddie Phillips after three singles and two doubles in three innings.

Harvey Hutton was master of the Pampa situation until relieved by Stewart in the seventh inning. The big right-hander allowed only two runs and six hits while on the mound. Stewart was nipped for only three singles, one a home run over the right field fence by Preston Littrell.

The big bats of Sam Scaling and Al Summers boomed yesterday. Scaling bagged three singles and a double on six trips to the plate. Summers fattened his batting average with three singles and two walks on six times at bat.

Carl Beason opened his play at the shortstop with two putouts and three assists, one of them starting a fast double hitting. McLarry moved over to third, picked off three nice grounders. McNabb was the busy man in the outfield with three putouts, one of them a sensational catch in the ninth when he raced under the scoreboard to take Hale's fly ball over his shoulder.

A split finger forced Floyd Lisle from the game in the sixth. Eddie Sain finished behind the plate.

Littrell with a home run and a single and Parker with two singles, led the Phillips attack. McLarry, in center, looked like a promising ball player. A. Thomas, playing left field, made three putouts in the seventh but while trying to get the first man in the eighth fell and hit his head on the hard ground. He remained in the game but fell chasing a ball later in the inning and had to be carried from the field. Manager Brickell of Pampa allowed Phillips to send Zeke Thomas, who had previously been a pinch-hitter, into left field.

Pampa banged out its every player on the team getting at least one safe block. Phillips garnered nine hits.

Everyone's wondering what name will appear on the new Pampa uniforms Friday night. That information will be released Friday night at Road Runner park and not before.

Toledo Mud Hens Beat Louisville

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP)—Every ball club has its day, and the Toledo Mud Hens, who finished in the American Association cellar last season, were in the first division today with a .500 percentage rating.

They handed the Louisville Colonels a 11 to 0 lacing Sunday for their fourth victory.

Minnesota continued to serve notice of its pennant ambitions by winning a third straight tilt, defeating the league leading Milwaukee Brewers 8 to 5.

BETTY JAMESON LEADS FIELD IN QUEST OF STATE CROWN

TEXARKANA, April 25 (AP)—Paced by pretty Betty Jameson, 17-year-old defending champion, a bulk field of Texas' finest women golfers started after the state championship today over the Texarkana Country club course where par is a nose-thumbing 73.

High wind which plagued practice round players yesterday died during the night and a six-day chase in perfect summery weather was in prospect.

Weather, however, appeared to be the only token of friendship Nature could offer. Stately pine trees dot the course and make miserable fill but the most accurate of fairway artists.

Added to that, the treacherous 6,900-yard test allowed a minimum of roll and strong-armed golfers who depended upon it were out of luck.

Miss Jameson and a woman who was given the greatest chance to head off her quest of a second straight title, Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth, former champion and last year a Curtis cup team member, had their games in hand.

Mrs. Goldthwaite turned in the most brilliant pre-tournament round, fashioning a 78, and only five over men's par, while other entrants saw their scores soar into the 90's.

Miss Jameson, however, appeared also to have the 36-37-73 trial on the run. She fired an 82 and worked to eliminate a "slight hook with my short irons," which was upsetting her score.

"I'm pretty much on my game, however," she added.

Mrs. Goldthwaite protested her 78 was "just lucky," but hinted broadly with "My game has been pretty fair and I hope to do well."

Betty, San Antonio high school student, had slightly the better advantage because of her familiarity with the course. She has played it often in the past week.

Given a chance to set the favorites back was another 17-year old miss—Jo Henson of Paris. In one of her first major tournaments, observers watched her game enroute to a possible insight into her golfing future.

The tournament was strengthened by admission of municipal players into competition. Included in the field today were Mrs. John Parnell, state title queen, and Mrs. E. W. Wirth, both of Dallas, and Mrs. J. Lee Wilson and Mrs. E. R. Hury of San Antonio.

Mrs. Dan Chandler, Dallas, former champion and finalist last year, was missing on advice of her physicians.

Other gallery favorites were Kay Pearson and Mrs. Ike Handy, Houston; Mrs. Jedd Roe, Mrs. Walter Negley and Mrs. Jack Lapham, five times state champion, of San Antonio; Mrs. R. E. Winger, Fort Worth; Mrs. Helen Warren, Miss Marie Levi, Miss Betty Edwards and Mrs. Syd Hurl, Dallas, and Mrs. R. E. Armstrong, El Paso.

DON LASH HAS JUST STARTED SAYS COACH

PHILADELPHIA, April 26 (AP)—He is the National A. A. U. cross-country champion. He holds the world record in the mile. He has a share in the new world record of 17:16.1 for the four mile relay. He has to his credit victory at a mile over two such veteran campaigners as Luigi Beccali of Italy and Gene Venzke of the New York A. C.

He ran the mile in 4:13.8, 4:17.2 and 4:24.3 in two days at the Penn relay carnival at Franklin field last Friday and Saturday. Yet in the estimation of E. C. (Billy) Hayes, coach of the Indiana University track team, Don Lash, the young man in question, has just started to run.

"Don ought to be really good in another two years," said bespectacled Billy. "As long as I've been coaching him he's always been pretty much a heavy-footed runner. Perhaps you've noticed that."

The implication was denied, but Coach Hayes rolled right on.

"We're beginning to break him of that now. He ran very well in this meet and by 1939, should be running much better. What his final distance will be then? I really couldn't say. He's tried almost all, and he's improving in each one."

fanned six and issued only one pass.

Kansas City rallied with three runs in the ninth to nose out St. Paul, 4 to 3.

AMATEURS AND PROS ARE ALL SQUARE AGAIN

GOLFERS PLAY TO TIE IN MATCH AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, April 26 (AP)—The state's star amateurs and crack professionals were all square today in the matter of golf and it will take another year at least to settle the argument of which really should be drawing the money.

They placed the fifth annual Texas cup matches here yesterday and both sides led 9 1-2 points. In four previous matches, each side had won twice.

The pros were beaten seven matches to five and halven another in singles play but came back to take four out of six doubles matches and thereby created the deadlock.

Results of the matches, giving amateur players first were: Reynolds Smith, Dallas, defeated Jack Burke, Houston, 2-1.

Harry Todd, Dallas, defeated Levi Lynch, Dallas, 5-4.

Don Schumacher, Dallas, lost to George Aulbach, Dallas, 2-1.

Speer Goldman, Dallas, defeated Dick Grout, Fort Worth, 1-1.

Jimmy McGonagill, Dallas, and Henry Ransom, Bryan, tied.

Jack Munger, Dallas, defeated Sam Schneider, Corpus Christi, 2-1.

O'Hara Watts, Dallas, lost to Francis McGonagill, Dallas, 3-2.

David Davis, Tyler, defeated Henry Penick, Austin, 5-4.

Hack Willford, San Antonio, defeated Larry Nabholz, Dallas, 3-1.

Bill Coffey, Fort Worth, lost to Tony Butler, Harlingen, 5-4.

W. L. Massie, Fort Worth, lost to Willie McGuire, Sr., Houston 3-2.

Lee Ramsel, Fort Worth, defeated Graham Ross, Dallas, 5-3.

Morris Norton, Wichita Falls, lost to Claude Whalen, Fort Worth, 1 up.

Smith and Goldman lost to Burke and Wattle and Munger lost to Aulbach and Nabholz, 3-2.

Coffey and Davis lost to Penick and Rowland, 3-2.

Murderer's Row a second-place league tie with Detroit's Tigers, who found Vernon Kennedy's strikeout ball too tough and went down before the White Sox 11-7 for their first setback. These results left Connie Mack's Athletics at the top of the heap with three wins in four starts, since the A's were rained out at Washington.

Brooklyn and the Phillies put on their customary queer assortment of baseball doings, with the Daffy Dodgers finishing in front 10-6 in one of the day's two 11-inning games, after being on the short end of a 6-1 count as late as the sixth frame. In the other overtime tilt, the Cleveland Indians also came from behind to nose out the St. Louis Browns 5-4 in the eleventh.

Responsible for the Brooklyn win were homers by Buddy Hassett and Heinie Manush.

Longhorns Remove Bears As Aggies Menace Title Hopes

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas Longhorns clung tenaciously to the top rung of the Southwest conference baseball ladder today as the drive entered the home stretch.

The Longhorns practically removed the dangerous Baylor Bears from the race last week by nosing out the Bruins 1-0 in eleven innings, but a new threat arose as the Texas Aggies took three games to go into second place, only a game behind the Steers.

The Aggies beat Southern Methodist 1-2 and swept two games from Texas Christian 10-4 and 14-7. The standing now has Texas with seven wins and one loss, the Aggies with six victories and two defeats and Baylor in third place with four wins and three losses.

This week's schedule has Southern Methodist playing Baylor at Waco Tuesday and Wednesday, Texas against Rice at Houston Friday and Baylor in third place with four wins and three losses.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER INVESTMENT TRUST ACTIVITIES DIVERSIFY. Every now and then through the five hours of New York Stock Exchange trading activity the ticker tape records transactions in volumes of 1,000 or even 5,000 share lots.

that while one or two purchase another may be liquidating all its holdings of that issue. In other words, the buying and selling opinions of investment trust managers vary as do those of the average man—except that the trusts maintain well-paid statistical staffs to guide them.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

Big traders aren't active in only one issue at a time. When they do buy let's say the steels or oils they purchase in volume through the group. Have they the money to do so currently? The answer is that they have not.

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—For the first time in many months Gov. James V. Hargis recently went to bed on account of illness. His ailment was a combination of hay fever, sore throat, and infection of an ear. The hay fever, incidentally, was not the variety caused by trying cedar pollen, the governor said.

Liquor Administrator Bert Ford is plain spoken. In appearance as solid as a brick building, he is not afraid to cross swords with Critics. In a hearing before a House committee on a bill which would abolish the existing liquor administration, a representative said some establishments in Dallas were selling hard liquor by the drink and otherwise not complying with the law.

In all five it was found that the petroleum shares were most favored on the buying side. The metals were next in volume. But the issues varied.

In the oil group three were large sellers of Continental Oil while one was a buyer. One sold Phillips Petroleum while another bought. Two took positions in Texas Corporation while one sold. Of all the oil holdings no one issue is favored for first place.

In the rail group two sold practically all their holdings while a third was a heavy buyer; the fourth was a nominal seller while the fifth held its position unchanged. For example, two investment trusts sold large blocks of Pennsylvania Railroad while another was a buyer. Two sold Southern Pacific and one bought. One took into its portfolio large blocks of Great Northern while two dumped their holdings.

In the copper group four of these trusts were large sellers of Kennecott while another sold its holdings up to 20,000 shares. Two sold Anaconda whereas one bought. All five made new small commitments in Howe Sound and Cerro Pasco. Two dumped their complete holdings of International Nickel while one added it to its portfolio.

In the steel section of the trading list one made Youngstown Sheet & Tube its sole representative of the group while three others sold. Two liquidated part of their Inland Steel shares with none buying.

In the automobile group the changes were slight. One bought General Motors while two liquidated a small part of their holdings. Two offered rather freely the shares of Borg-Warner. In the merchandising section one sold the mail-order stocks while three increased positions.

The largest new commitment in the miscellaneous metal group was made by one trust in the shares of Climax-Molybdenum. Gold shares were not added but were sold rather generously. One added National Supply to its list while another disposed of all its holdings.

To sum up: Investment trust shifting account for the bulk of the stock market's trading activity. Few trusts maintain positions in large numbers of issues for a period of years for income purposes. It's only because of these trading movements that investment trusts can report the excellent profits that they do.

It is well to realize that to follow the moves of an investment trust organization one doesn't follow the best of opinions. Doing as trusts do in market trading doesn't mean that the buying and selling is of the best kind. This is confirmed by the fact

BALANCED BUDGET BY 1939 IS PREDICTED

SHREVEPORT, La., April 26 (AP)—Rep. Sam Rayburn, of Texas and Democratic floor leader in the lower house of Congress, predicted a balanced government budget by 1938—"a certainty by 1939"—in an address here today.

Speaking at a conference of the Red River Valley Improvement Association in Washington-Yorsee hotel, Rayburn denounced the efforts of inflationists, commended the founding of the valley association and promised every "effort within my power" to promote the purposes and objectives of the association.

Stating that although government officials at Washington are faced with "the proposition for need of money," he cited the fact that revenue incomes are lower than treasury incomes.

"But it is our hope," Rayburn said, "that we will have a balanced budget by 1938, certainly by 1939." America is on the eve of a great era of prosperity, he said, and "nothing worse could happen at this time than another inflation period such as occurred in 1929."

Rayburn, who said he had managed to get a brief leave-of-absence from his duties at Washington in order to attend the Red River Valley conference, urged the conservation of natural resources of the country for the benefit of future generations.

TEACHERS ASK STATE POST BE APPOINTIVE

GALVESTON, April 26 (AP)—The southeast division of the Texas State Teachers' association closed its general session here Saturday by adopting a new constitution, selecting new officials, and going on record against a proposal to make the state superintendent of education post appointive.

Floyd G. Betts, Wharton, was elected president. Z. A. Williamson, South Park, was elected vice-president, and Miss Clara McBride Orange, Miss Wesa Weddington, Bryan; G. T. McBride, Bolin; Dr. J. L. Clark, Huntsville, and Miss Mattie Schultz, of Richmond, were named on the executive board.

Resolutions were passed calling for speedy final passage of the teachers' retirement law; endorsing the Harrison-Black-Fletcher bill for federal aid to education in states; urging state legislators to consider a change in school financing plans to raise revenues, and urging state apportionment for school districts for next year be increased to less than $20 by the state board of education.

Supreme Court attaches are puzzled over what to do with certain portraits of living and dead judges of Texas' higher courts. Judge Ocie Speer of Austin, a former member of the Supreme Court Commission of Appeals, has started a fund with which to purchase portraits of all Supreme and Civil Appeals Court Justices since those tribunals were formed.

It is understood a contract has been let to apainter for 200 portraits and a number have been delivered. The walls of the Supreme Court chamber, which is small, are nearly filled, with portraits now. If a question ever should arise as to the right of young Sam Houston Allied to all the privileges of American citizenship the answer can be found on file in the state health department.

A certified birth certificate giving all the necessary data on Sam Houston was presented to Gov. Allred by Dr. W. A. Davis, state registrar of vital statistics. Sam Houston was born March 17.

If ever needed, the certificate will be the means of proving parentage, right to inheritance, legal identity, and tracing ancestry. It may also prove the right to enter school, obtain a driver's license, vote, marry, and apply for passports.

HER OWN living room was a fitting background for Sybil Hendry. It was as she was smart, sophisticated. Modern furniture stood out strikingly against dull, off-white walls, skillfully brightened by concealed ceiling lights. The floor was completely covered by a warm, chaireuse velvet carpeting, with luxurious small Chinese rugs, in the same tones as the furniture, scattered in carefully correct fashion. The draperies were in old-blue velvet, their edges caught back in the same studied carelessness to show a lining of chaireuse satin.

Mirrors were used artistically-as table tops, as frames for the two large Chinese prints, and as panels down the entire length of the wall for ceiling to floor, to catch the reflection of windows opposite. One piece of furniture in old ivory and gold held priceless lamps of Chinese porcelain and expensive smoking accessories.

The only striking note of color in the room was a huge vase of deep red roses, kept fresh through the thoughtfulness of Uncle John, which stood on a table in front of an enormous triple window.

Uncle John did not like Sybil's living room. He often intimated jokingly that its absolute perfection made him feel uncomfortable. One day he told her the room would learn that he'd been raised in the degradation of a mining camp and it would freeze him to death for boiling it.

Shortly before one o'clock Sybil heard Philip turn in at the driveway. She went to the window, watched him put the car in the garage and heard him slam the doors violently. Evidently his day in jail had not left him in a very bright frame of mind. She hurried to the front door to let him in. She wished she had asked Jennings to prepare some sort of a supper. In all probability Philip had not eaten all day. However, she could fix up something for him.

"Hello, Philip," she greeted him flatteringly.

He looked up scowling, and did not return her greeting. Sybil closed the door behind him.

"I'm terribly sorry..." she began. Philip's scowl deepened. "You should be," he said scornfully. "That was a fine trick you let the old man pull."

"I didn't know a thing about it until this evening, Philip. Why didn't you call me instead of Uncle John?"

"I didn't call anybody. Those silly cops went through my pockets, I suppose, and found my card. Then the opportunity of talking to the great John Hendry was too much for them to pass up. I don't know what he'd tell me, but today they wouldn't let me make another call."

Sybil helped him out of his coat. "Did you have anything to eat?" she asked solicitously.

"Eat? Don't be silly. Why would I want to eat that tripe they hand out?"

"Come on, then. I'll find you something to eat." She led the way toward the kitchen.

"I need a drink first," he grumbled. "All right." She opened cupboard doors, brought out a few dishes. "Where does Jennings keep the Scotch?" she asked.

"First shelf, at the right," Philip offered.

Sybil took it down, poured out a generous portion, then went to the refrigerator for ice cubes. "Here's almost a whole chicken," she observed, "and a bottle of milk. Want me to make coffee, Philip?"

"No, I'll take the milk. Got any tomato juice?"

"Half a jar of it, all nicely chilled." Gradually, as the drink took effect, his spirits rose. He attacked the chicken eagerly, forgetting for the while that he bore a grudge. Soon he was telling Sybil about his day in jail-about the flat-footed guard who walked up and down the corridor lecturing them-about the three others who shared his cell-the rougher the penitent bandier, and the dignified gentleman from Boston.

"Honest, Syb," he said affably, waving a cold chicken drumstick. "You'd have died laughing at that old duck. Never touched a drop of liquor in his life, so he said. Just had an attack of vertigo last night. He'd met a few business acquaintances in the Village and they offered

AFRAID to Love

Chapter V It was almost midnight when Sybil returned to her own home. She had left her uncle in a particularly jovial frame of mind and she felt certain that he would relent in the matter of Philip. She decided to wait an hour or so, in case her brother did get home that night. It would not do for him to believe that she had let him down, because she meant to have him do something for her.

As a matter of fact, she rarely failed him. Philip was extravagant, impetuous and utterly irresponsible, yet he had a certain reckless charm which compelled her admiration. It might have been that she understood his faults because the same desires smoldered within her. If she were better able to control them that he was, it was because she viewed the world's tolerance with more calculation.

There was Uncle John, for one thing. Despite the trust fund which her father had left them, Uncle John was still an economic necessity, and his principles must be appeased. That task Sybil took unto herself and she handled it well.

Jennings, the butler, looked into the living room.

"I put your car in the garage, Miss Sybil," he announced sedately. "Will there be anything else?"

"No, Jennings, nothing more." She picked up a magazine and settled herself on the divan. "By the way, did my brother call while I was out?"

"No, Miss Sybil. There were no calls."

"Thank you. Don't bother with the lights. I'm staying up a while."

"Very well, Miss Sybil." He withdrew quietly, leaving an oppressive stillness about the room.

Sybil turned the pages of the magazine listlessly and listened to the hail clock tick off the seconds. The House seemed chilly, she thought.
