Agreement Reached on Remapping

Holiday Deaths Set Record Pace

By United Press International
Traffic deaths ran 50 per cent higher than last year's record pace in the first full day of the Memorial holiday Saturday. Americans were dying on the highways at a rate of more than four an hour.

The 11:00 p.m., CST tally by United Press International showed at least 140 persons dead in traffic accidents since the start of the 78-hour Memorial weekend at 6 p.m., local time Friday.

The breakdown:
Traffic	140
Drownings	17
Planes	9
Miscellaneous	20
Total	186

California had 18 traffic deaths, Michigan listed 14, Missouri and Texas had 19 each, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Florida each reported 5. Despite the high death toll in the first hours of the holiday, National Safety Council experts found some hope. A statistician noted that the death rate in the final four hours of the first 24 hours in the holiday period was "about that of last year, or a little under." But the abnormally high toll in the first 18 hours kept the total well ahead of the 1964 pace.

The statistician also noted that in the 1960 three-day Memorial holiday, the highway death rate in the first 24 hours matched that of the current period. The final total for that weekend was 367, well below that of other recent Memorial holidays.

"It is still early in the holiday weekend. There is still plenty of time for the trend to reverse itself if every motorist exercises extra care and stays on the alert for the mistakes of other drivers," a safety council spokesman said.

Estimate Deaths
The council estimated in advance of the holiday that from 430 to 510 persons would die in traffic accidents during the Memorial weekend. In a similar non-holiday period this time of year, 390 persons could be expected to die in traffic accidents.

There was a special poignancy to this year's Memorial Day holiday, a time set aside for commemoration of Americans

MISS PAMPA — Caroline Marak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marak, 1212 E. Browning, was chosen Miss Pampa Saturday night at the Miss Pampa Pageant in the Coronado Center. Paula Sealey, left, was first runner-up and Ruth Ann Guthrie was second runner-up. Judges for the contest were Eddie Chatten, Amarillo; Dr. Richard Gilkey, Clarendon; Mrs. R. A. Mack, Peggy Jo Ormsen and Bill Treloggen, all of Pampa. By winning the local contest Miss Marak will represent Pampa in the Miss Lake Meredith contest and the Miss Texas contest. The Pageant was sponsored by the Pampa Jaycees.

Senate Discards Its 39-Member Proposal

AUSTIN (UPI) — A conference committee Saturday agreed on a congressional redistricting plan that angered Dallas legislators, left Houston just as it wanted, and led to mixed emotions in the San Antonio and Fort Worth delegate.

Both Houses were expected to act on the plan in the wee hours Sunday. With no opportunity to amend the bill, the only choice for either house was acceptance or rejection.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, the only one of the 10 conferees who refused to approve the compromise, vowed he would filibuster against it and if necessary ask a federal court to throw it out. The Dallas house delegation supported Parkhouse.

"They're throwing away our Democrats," said Rep. John Field of Dallas. "They're guar-

District Breakdown

Although the proposed congressional districts had not been formally unveiled late Saturday night, sources gave this description of its effect:

—Harris County would get three districts all its own, with the lines between them left exactly as they were in the bills passed by the House and Senate. District seven, without an incumbent, lies in the western half of the county. District eight, now represented by Albert Thomas, lies in the northeast part of the county. U.S. Rep. Bob Casey would be in district 22 in the southeast part of the county.

—Dallas County would get two districts of its own and share in two others. About 60,000 residents of the southeast part of the county would be put in U.S. Rep. Olin Teague's district. Northeast Dallas county would go in U.S. Rep. Graham Purcell's district stretching all the way to the base of the Texas Panhandle.

—Fort Worth would get a district of its own, and about 100,000 people in the southern part of the county would go in Teague's district.

—Bexar County would retain the doughnut configuration it had in the House bill with slight modifications designed to benefit Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, who is considered a likely candidate for the new district 23 in south Texas. The district would include the south, east and west sides of Bexar County and stretch to Webb County. Another possible candidate in the new district is Wayne Connally, the Governor's brother. The north part of Bexar County goes to U.S. Rep. O. C. Fisher's west Texas district, and a central district for U.S. Rep. Henry Gonzalez is preserved in the center of the county.

—The Lower Rio Grande Valley configuration is changed from both the House and Senate versions. U.S. Rep. Eligio de la Garza is given a compact district including Zavala, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Kenedy, Starr, Hidalgo, Willacy and Cameron Counties.

—Midland and Ector counties, west Texas Republican strongholds were split in the plan. Ector County (Odessa) is joined with Fisher's west Texas district. Midland joins the district of U.S. Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock.

—The incumbents pitted together would be Jack Brooks of Beaumont vs. Clark Thompson of Galveston and Ray Roberts of McKinney vs. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater.

The senate gave up on its expansion plan after an all-night filibuster Friday and Saturday. "We do not wish to run the OAS."

Tribute Paid Late President Kennedy

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson paid a birthday tribute Saturday to his slain predecessor, John F. Kennedy, and to Kennedy's dedication to the "worthy cause" of fighting mental retardation.

"We will never forget the leader we lost," Johnson said in a telegram to Rep. Earle Cabell, D-Tex., in connection with dedication of a bronze bust of Kennedy at the John F. Kennedy living center for exceptional children, in Dallas. The center is for the mentally retarded.

Johnson told Cabell that as the nation remembered Kennedy's 48th birthday, Saturday it was fitting to "pay this tribute to his memory and sponsor this worthy cause to which he was dedicated."

Cabell was mayor of Dallas when Lee Harvey Oswald shot the President and wounded Gov. John B. Connally, Nov. 22, 1963.

The President sent the telegram from his ranch, where he rested and kept in touch with wire with developments in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and other overseas areas.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy said Johnson "spent a couple of hours going through cables and other material from the State Department, Defense Department and other agencies to keep informed on the international situation."

The President also conferred by telephone with staff members and other officials in Washington and was calling Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara before the latter's departure Saturday night for a NATO defense ministers meeting in Paris.

Johnson arrived at his LBJ Ranch Thursday night for the Memorial Day weekend. He spoke at events Friday in Austin and Waco, Tex., but appeared to be devoting most of the remainder of the weekend to relaxation.

The battle against mental retardation was the topic of another presidential action, Johnson's acceptance of the resignation of Dr. Stafford L. Warren as his special assistant in this field.

Warren, who was appointed in December, 1962, by Kennedy, told Johnson that he is leaving as of June 30 "with the belief that the initiating phase of the program has been accomplished."

Reedy said Warren's functions would be transferred to the secretary of health, education and welfare, Anthony J. Celebrezze. (See KENNEDY, Page 3)

Red Troops Step Up Tempo of War in Viet

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist troops stepped up the tempo of the fighting in South Viet Nam Saturday, staging widespread attacks against American and Vietnamese forces. Hundreds of casualties were reported on both sides.

In fighting Saturday, one U.S. Army officer was killed and three American Army advisers were wounded. In the fighting Friday, three Americans were killed and 21 wounded. A fifth American was killed Friday in a highway accident.

Three of the American dead and 14 wounded were U. S. Marines guarding a jet airstrip under construction at Chu Lai, 330 miles north of Saigon. Five other Marines were wounded in action around the Da Nang Air Base Friday.

The American casualties Saturday occurred in the northernmost provinces of South Viet Nam. A U. S. Army officer accompanying Vietnamese troops into battle near Quang Tri was shot through the stomach. He was dead on arrival at Phu Bai Air Field near Hue.

In Quang Ngai Province, three American Army advisers were wounded when Viet Cong guerrillas bombed the Ba Gia outpost with mortar fire and then ambushed two companies of Vietnamese soldiers.

Two other American helicopter crewmen were wounded Friday by Communist groundfire over Bin Duong and Kien Hoa provinces.

One was an enlisted crew chief on a loudspeaker-equipped psychological warfare helicopter. The second was the officer-pilot of a machinegun-firing zhuIB supporting government ground operations.

In the north, U.S. Air Force jets streaked 130 miles into Communist North Viet Nam and pounded Red early warning radar installations at Hon Hieu island for the second consecutive day. The planes, dropping 12 bombs, destroyed an anti-aircraft battery, a radar tower and two buildings.

Other U.S. and South Vietnamese planes kept up round-the-clock air pressure, blasting bridges, port facilities, barracks, trucks, radar sites and gun emplacements in scattered areas of North Viet Nam.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, meanwhile, postponed his scheduled departure for Washington for the second consecutive day because of a political crisis in Saigon. Taylor had been due in Washington for a round of high-level talks beginning Monday, following a (See VIET, Page 3)

McDivitt, White Go Through Final Check

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (UPI) — A break in an underwater communications cable somewhere in the Caribbean could postpone the spectacular Gemini space shot scheduled for Thursday, it was learned Saturday.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The United States, bidding to end a four-year Soviet monopoly in manned space feats, Saturday put astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White through a final "make believe" orbital flight in preparation for man's most daring venture in the skies.

And looking ahead to the day of the greatest pageant of them all, another group of U.S. scientists Saturday sent a small "physics lab" satellite into a far-reaching orbit to study the deadly storms and winds of space that men must risk on journeys to the moon.

By midday, the 128-pound satellite known as MP — for interplanetary monitoring platform — was flying steadily on a path expected to take it halfway to the lunar surface.

But most attention was centered back on earth on the feverish, final preparations for the flight of Gemini-4.

Saturday was test day. The real thing, possibly next Thursday if the project can make up some lost time, will send rookies McDivitt and White on a four-day, 62-orbit flight packed with thrills and possibly a few chills.

The astronauts and their back-up crew ran through simulated missions, the success of which would "signal the start of final preparations for actual launch," officials said.

Still ahead are long hours of studying the flight plan, a document that has been so drastically rewritten in the past week that it now reads like a chapter in a Buck Rogers story.

During the flight, McDivitt and White will try at least twice to "rendevous," or move, within feet of the Titan-2 second stage rocket that put them in orbit.

Starting over Hawaii on the second orbit, White hopes to leap outside the Gemini-4 capsule and, with a double-barreled, hand held jet gun, propel himself toward the Titan-2 — close enough to take a spectacular series of pictures and possibly even to shove, or perhaps kick, the hovering satellite.

If successful the capsule-driving, space-swimming antics of America's two newest astronauts will match and likely surpass the best the Russians, for all their highly touted rocket (See McDIVITT, Page 3)

Pampa Swimming Pools Open Today for Summer Season

Pampa's two public swimming pools will open at 1 p.m. today for the summer season.

The pools have been repainted and reconditioned, city officials said.

Morgan Edwards will manage the Municipal pool for the ninth year and Jessie Austin returns for his third year as manager at Marcus Sanders pool. Prices at the Municipal pool will be 50 cents for adults and 35 cents for children under 12. At Marcus Sanders, prices will be 35 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Both pools will close at 6 p.m. daily for cleaning and re-open at 7 p.m. for night swimming.

Follow the crowds, to the Pampa Baptist Temple. (Adv.)

DIANA EDMINSTER

Pampa Senior Wins Special Honor Scholarship

McMurry College of Abilene, Texas, has awarded a $2,000 Special Honors Scholarship to Diana Edminster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Edminster, 2128 Aspon, a graduating senior of Pampa High School in Pampa.

Miss Edminster will enroll in McMurry in the fall semester of 1965 and will major in English. She was selected from a field of more than 100 applicants for the 20 Honors Scholarships awarded for 1965-66.

The scholarship is worth $500 per year to the student for four years. The student must maintain his eligibility throughout the normal eight semesters of his college career at McMurry. The scholarships are awarded each year in the fields of biology, chemistry, English, foreign languages, history, mathematics, and physics.

Those chosen rank among the very top in scholarship in the high schools from which they graduate.

The Pampa senior has been active in A Cappella choir, Tri Sci club and the national Honor Society.

Cloakroom Comment

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The sad thing about the weeks of debate, bitter feelings and pressure resulting from the proposal to increase the size of the Texas Senate is simply this: It may be all for naught.

The proposal involves a constitutional amendment, which means ratification by the Texas voter. The voter's general inclination to vote negatively is conceded by most legislators interested in the measure.

Given that negative approach, a second and more serious handicap for the amendment is simply that the vote will come on Sept. 7, a Tuesday, in a special election with no other issues for most counties.

Without going into political ramifications, a lot can be said in favor of enlarging the Senate from 31 to 39 members in this state of 10 million people.

"I'll introduce a constitutional amendment back in the forties—1945, I believe—to create a 40-member Senate and a 90-member House, said Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo.

"I've thought for a long time the Senate needed to be larger."

What happened to Hazlewood's amendment? "It never saw the light of day in a committee," he chuckled. "Now that it's a matter of survival, though, everybody's for a larger Senate."

The patchwork Texas Constitution has had a fantastic 158 amendments attached to it since its adoption in 1876. "But mighty few of those amendments were tacked on during non-election years," observed Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

The most recent example of off-year amendment defeat came in 1963. Virtually no one publicly opposed repealing the state poll tax. The big city press endorsed repeal. Gov. John Connally was for it. Democrats worked for it and Republicans said they were not against it.

But came election day, the voters turned it down, 303,000 to 237,000 in the lightest percentage turnout for a statewide election ever.

The 39-member constitutional amendment would make it rather easy for all 31 senators to stay in the Legislature. It would reduce the committee workload now shouldered by the senators.

But the election falls on the first Tuesday after Labor Day weekend, when the weather will be warm, school will be starting, vacations will be ending and Texans will be unlikely to feel stirred about anything political. And campaigning in the long, hot summer is not much fun.

That's the reasoning Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo and several other senators used during the debate last week. They stayed out of the argument, and Krueger announced, "I don't care what we do, I don't think it's going to pass anyway." History would seem to support his statement.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER
For SUNDAY, MAY 30

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A Memorial Day holiday when you can well indulge and think upon the sacrifices that others have made on behalf of their country. The aspects are not good for any forced actions and much trouble could result if you are in any way demanding. Attend services and love the Golden Rule to your best ability.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Expect a new driving idea in connection with others if needed if you want to keep out of trouble today. Get to church. Make your life with others more pleasant. Day 9.

TALIES (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Believing that you are able to purchase even that which money cannot buy is a fallacy. The very greatest of money matters are concerned. Give a helping hand with a pure heart.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Although you may be under some pressure, show consideration and kindness to all around. At first opportunity do whatever will improve your health. Get wardrobe in good order.

SCORPIO CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Although you may feel you have freedom, a quick look about you now. Are you thinking God for your lot in life. Lead a helping hand instead. Make valuable friends today.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Don't expect much time of leisure from your right now. You are very busy and not feeling well. Be patient. Await a better time for social pleasures which can be more enjoyable.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Await a better day if you want to get the back and support from higher-ups that you desire. Don't be impatient. They have their own problems to solve. Be patient.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — If others are better informed on any topic than you, listen to their ideas instead of trying to impose your own. Don't go off on your tangents. You can lose out on a good deal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — Try not to get out of some obligation. Can you give your trouble later with a partner. Be nice later not to criticize a good friend. Be helpful instead and build up confidence.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) — You have an urge to be very kind with those about you, but you would only get into hot water. Be more cautious, where bills, etc. are concerned. Plan to pay as you are able.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) — By following in such a way that others are inspired, you are a true leader of the light today. Be more concerned about maintaining good health. Put all in order about you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — You have to be a humanitarian today, store there are so many who look to you for assistance. Show your respect for the meaning of the day. Be appreciative of your fellow man.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Try not to spend too much for entertainment and concentrate upon helping others around you. Be cheerful and raise the morale of close ties. Have peace within your own heart.

So many persons in Pampa do not understand the summer recreation program sponsored by the City of Pampa. This program begins June 14 at the same time our learn to swim program begins at the city pool.

Youngsters who have registered for the learn to swim program may attend the summer program on alternate two weeks. There is no charge for the summer recreation program and R. R. Culley is director. Pete Erwin is in charge of the boys recreation. Mrs. Doris Erwin (Pete's wife) will be in charge of the girls recreation. Mrs. Bert Neef is working with the Arts and Crafts.

W. C. Moore will have charge of the children at Carver School with Mrs. Honeycutt working with the Arts and Crafts at Carver. At the close of the Recreation program at Carver, learn to swim classes will be held at the Marcus Sanders Pool. Children in the summer recreation classes will have a free swim from 11 to 12 a.m., Monday through Friday.

There are still some places in the learn to swim classes in beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate and swimmer. Again we ask mothers to sign up for their children from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Red Cross office. The $1 fee is for the use of the city pool and the instruction will be free. Persons who would like to ride in this work should call the Red Cross office and give us your name.

The Friendship Class of the First Methodist Church sponsored a party at St. Ann's Home in Panhandle Tuesday. Home made cookies and punch were served as refreshments. Gray Ladies from the Red Cross who went were: Mrs. Frank Yealy, Mrs. John Hessey, Mrs. H. H. Butler, class members were: Mrs. C. S. Boston, president of the class, Mrs. Irvin Cole, Mrs. Bob McCoy and Grand-daughter Misti McCoy, Mrs. Helen Knox, Mrs. J. B. New, Mrs. M. L. Carter, and Mrs. Mary Weaver. Mrs. W. E. Jarvis, a member of the Class made an angel food cake for one of their members who is living in the home in Panhandle. This party is a monthly affair sponsored by the Red Cross or friends of the Red Cross.

According to reports received, over $50,000 has been given to chapters in Midwestern areas of which Texas is a part for flood and tornado victims. Nationally, $282,337 has been contributed to date for spring disasters throughout the country. The work of the Red Cross is just beginning after all of the emergency aid has been given by other agencies. Red Cross steps in with the rehabilitation program of putting families back in their homes, buying furniture, and clothing that has not been furnished.

Often the Red Cross makes small businesses a responsibility and these persons are put back into business again. Anyone who wishes to send money to these persons who have lost so much through floods should mail their contributions to the Red Cross and we will send them on to St. Louis, our headquarters.

Dates to remember: June 14-first session of learn to swim; June 28-second session of learn to swim; July 13-third session of learn to swim. Red Cross board meeting June 8 at the Coronado Inn at 7 a.m.; June 14-Care of the Sick and Injured Instructor Course at Stillwell, Oklahoma; June 2, Water Safety Instructor Course at Aquatic School, Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Memorial Day occurs on Sunday so the Red Cross office will observe this holiday on the following Monday. Persons having emergencies during the week-end should call MO 5-5206 and Mrs. Sam B. Cook, Services to Military families committee will help with the calls.

Girls who are 14 years old and in the 9th grade of school may apply for a place on the volunteer program. These girls will meet June 1 in the Red Cross office at 9:30 a.m. for orientation. The Volunteers work in Highland General Hospital on Saturdays and Sundays serving juice and coffee to the patients in the hospital.

Senator's Idea Falls on Deaf Ears

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A few years ago, Sen. Carl T. Curtis proposed that paintings be hung along the walls of the Senate subway so that passengers could view them as they rode by in the little electric cars.

Turning the tunnel into an underground art gallery would "enhance the utilitarian purpose of this corridor, and make it a delight for those who come to see our national capitol," the Nebraska Republican said.

Nothing ever came of the proposal, but it does serve as a sort of precedent for a suggestion I am about to make.

President Johnson, as you know, has asked Congress for legislation to provide better control of billboards along the federal highway system.

Outgrowth Of Conference

The request was an outgrowth of the White House conference on natural beauty, which seemed to feel that outdoor advertising is an eyesore which should be eliminated.

Borrowing from Curtis' idea of viewing paintings from a moving vehicle, I would like to offer an alternate plan that could be used in case Congress fails to enact the legislation.

The thing to do in that event is to make the billboards a part of the program aimed at attracting more foreign tourists to this country.

The U.S. Travel Service could institute a campaign to convince foreigners that the billboards actually are a part of a gigantic nationwide outdoor art exhibit.

A lot of foreigners can't read English and a number of modern artists use bits of advertising slogans in their paintings. So it should be fairly easy to pass the billboards off as works of art, at least "pop art."

Spread The Word

Foreign tourists returning to would spread the word about the attraction. I can hear them now:

"What did you like best about America? the majestic mountains, the majestic forests, the majestic rivers or the majestic plains?"

"I didn't notice any of those things. I was too busy looking at the majestic paintings."

"You spent all your vacation visiting art galleries?"

"I didn't have to. The whole country is just one big museum."

You look at the paintings while driving along in an automobile.

"Were there any particular artists who impressed you?"

"Yes. America has a very unusual artist named Esso who paints tigers. One named Howard Johnson paints buildings with orange roofs. But the work I admired the most was done by an artist named Motel."

"I did not realize America was such a cultural-minded country. I must go there on my next vacation."

Jerome, Arizona, is the newest "ghost town" in America since it's last mine closed in 1963.

Key Club to Aid In Employment For Youths Again

Youth Employment Service (YES) will be sponsored again this summer by the Pampa Key Club to assist high school boys and girls obtain summer jobs and part time work.

The project will be supervised by the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club.

The program is set up so that any boy or girl who wants employment may register with the Texas Employment Service, 823 W. Francis.

When an employer calls the commission and requests the YES program, he will be directed to the special phone and desk reserved for the group. The attendant will check the list and select a qualified student. The student then contacts the employer and they plan the work and agree on price or hourly wages.

George Snell, Key Club president, said placards will be distributed to merchants for display windows.

Ab Conway, Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club committee chairman, stated there were several hundred jobs given to students last summer through the Youth Employment Service program.

No job is too small, Conway says, and workers can be furnished for jobs such as fence painting and repairing, lawn mowing and care, hedge clipping, stock inventory, farm work, car washing and polishing and many others.

"We need to keep our youth busy during slack season," Conway said. "There are no delinquents among busy people and the earnings of students on these jobs also contribute a great deal to future educational needs and expenses."

Conway said anyone interested in the program should call him at MO 4-2522 or any of the following Bill Ragsdale, Texas Employment Commission MO 4-3385; George Snell, Key Club, MO 4-7465, or Dick Hendricks, Top O' Texas Kiwanis, MO 5-5315.

Tippy Reynolds Hurt in Explosion

A former Pampa cattleman, Tippy Reynolds, remained in serious condition in San Juan County hospital Saturday night suffering from burns received in an explosion Wednesday.

Reynolds received second degree burns over 60 per cent of his body in the explosion, which completely demolished a new store the former Pampan was opening.

Reynolds went to the store Wednesday morning for the opening and according to officials apparently lighted a cigarette causing leaking gas to explode.

Reynolds was blown through a window and landed 50 feet from the store.

DR. WAYNE COFFEY gets Tulsa pastorate

Former Pampan New Methodist Pastor in Tulsa

Dr. Wayne Coffey, a native of Pampa, has been appointed pastor of the 3,400-member First Methodist Church in Tulsa, Okla. A 1940 graduate of Pampa High School, Dr. Coffey received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Southwestern University, the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Duke University, and the Doctor of Divinity degree from Oklahoma City University.

He was associate pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo for one year following graduation and then moved to Oklahoma. Since 1960, he has been pastor of the 2,400-member Crown Heights Methodist Church in Oklahoma City, where the congregation has recently completed a $200,000 education and youth activities building.

Dr. Coffey is chairman of the Methodist Board of Ministerial Training in Oklahoma, and is dean of the Oklahoma Methodist Pastors' School. He and Mrs. Coffey, the former Miss Kathleen Wilder, of Jacksonville, Florida, and their three children, Pamela, Priscilla, and Scott, will move to Tulsa this week, and he will assume his pastoral duties there at once.

Dr. Coffey's mother, Mrs. T. H. Coffey, lives at 630 N. Sumner.

Obituaries

C. E. (Earl) Hawkins
Funeral services for C. E. (Earl) Hawkins of Seminole will be conducted at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home Amarillo.

Mr. Hawkins was employed by the Magnolia Oil Co., and had been a former resident of Pampa for many years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruth Hawkins of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Joyce Click of Amarillo; two sons, L. C. Hawkins of Midland and Joe Hawkins of Fort Worth, and several grandchildren.

Commission Slates Public Hearing on Street Fixing

A public hearing to determine the need for street improvements is scheduled at the city commission's regular meeting Tuesday morning in City Hall.

Commissioners also will be asked to adopt a resolution awarding paving contracts, receive bids for paving improvements on N. Zimmers St., and receive bids for the purchase of water meters.

Resolutions also are expected to be adopted accepting bids on farm land at the old airport site and at the location of the city's new sewage treatment plant.

A contract award for supplying the city with gasoline, oil and lubricants for one year also is scheduled.

The Senate then approved the motion 22-8.

Strong's move came after compromise efforts headed by Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and aides to Gov. John Connally to settle a city-rural dispute over redistricting failed.

A constitutional amendment to authorize enlarging the Senate from 31 to 39 has been approved by both houses and, unless it is recalled, will be voted on by the people Sept. 7.

There were reports that the Governor had agreed to call a special session if the amendment was ratified.

Remapping

A 31-member remapping already has been approved by both houses. Sens. George Parkhouse of Dallas led five of his fellow senators in a talkathon that began Friday afternoon and continued more than 12 hours until after daylight Saturday. They spoke against the Strong plan, and numerous other issues as well.

Friday, Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo began talking against another measure, the so-called "little Hoover commission" bill (HB 97). Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado tried at the outset of the meeting to adopt a conference committee report, but Hardeman jumped up and labeled the bill "the little vacuum cleaner bill."

The measure, introduced in the House by Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, would create a nine-member commission to investigate state agency spending. Hardeman and other senators have said it could produce an inquiry.

The "Little Hoover" word play apparently was a cover-up filibuster, however, to prevent the 39-member Senate issue from being renewed.

The Senate deadlock put a crimp in House Speaker Ben Barnes' plans to clear a congressional redistricting bill early Monday. Both remappings were ordered by a federal court.

Barnes said a 10-man conference committee drawing the 23 districts for congressmen would have a report Monday with the house conferees and three Senate members in agreement. The Senate holdouts were reported to be Parkhouse and Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba.

Pampa Cleanup Drive Extended

The city's cleanup campaign will continue for another week, according to R. B. Cooke, public works director.

Officials said the cleanup trucks had not yet covered all sections of the city.

"All trash will be hauled away," Cooke said, "and it looks like it will take the rest of this week to complete coverage of the city."

Unofficial reports placed the Communist death toll in a two-day string of clashes at 227 killed and 29 captured. At least 127 South Vietnamese troopers were reported killed, 11 wounded and 29 missing and feared captured.

The Communists attacked five government-protected bridges in Quang Nam and Quang Tin provinces in central Viet Nam, killing 57 government troops, wounding 39 and capturing an undisclosed number of others.

In Kontum Province, along the Laotian border, Communist forces ambushed a government convoy, killing 27, wounding 9 and apparently capturing 29 others.

Three Pampan Released on $500 Bond Each

Three Pampan men posted $500 bonds each today after being charged in Gray County court with illegal possession of a wild antelope carcass in a car.

George Earl Nixon, 609 Roberta, David Forrest Cason, 412 W. 17 and Bill Roy Warren, also of Pampa, were stopped by a Texas highway patrolman in Pampa after running a red light.

The patrolman saw the dead animal's body was in the back of the car and then notified a member of the State Wildlife Department.

The charge against the men was made by the State Parks and Wildlife Department.

Deaths

In a battle Saturday would have been the 48th birthday of a fallen leader of the nation, President John F. Kennedy.

President Johnson, spending the holiday on his ranch in Texas, sent a commemorative message to a Dallas center for retarded children named after the late President.

New Yorkers observed a moment of silence at noon in memory of the assassinated President. The President's brothers, both senators, took part in observances. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York helped dedicate a marble and bronze monument in Brooklyn.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts attended a memorial Mass at Hyannis Port, Mass.

There was cause for fresh mourning on the highways. Deaths came wholesale as an estimated 87 million cars hit the roads.

Six persons died in a head-on collision near Needles, Calif. Four Michigan State University students were killed in a fiery two-car smashup near the East Lansing, Mich. campus.

The worst holiday tragedy was in the air. A twin-engine private plane carrying a holiday party bound for a weekend of fishing in Mexico crashed near Corona Del Mar, Calif. All nine persons aboard were killed.

Police used maximum precautions in an attempt to hold down the traffic death toll. In Ohio, the highway patrol issued 820 traffic violation citations during the first six hours of the holiday.

who would appoint an assistant to carry them out.

Before coming through the written reports on international developments, Reedy said, Johnson received his routine intelligence briefing on Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and other areas.

Reedy referred newsmen to the State Department when asked whether a new government crisis in Viet Nam would affect plans for Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor to fly back to Washington for consultation next week.

It was announced in Saigon that Taylor's departure had been postponed for a second day but that he still hoped to arrive, as scheduled next week, for his Washington talks.

Johnson is expected to fly back to the capital on Monday. He is planning to deliver the commencement address Tuesday when his 17-year-old daughter, Luci, is graduated from the National Cathedral School for Girls.

power, have managed with their cosmonaut-carrying Vostok and Voskhod spaceships.

It also should give the United States, for the first time, a slight but clear-cut edge in the race to put men on the moon this decade.

To help get the astronauts back alive after their planned landing in the Atlantic Ocean, a vast recovery fleet Saturday began moving into place around the world.

Five of the 18 recovery vessels, the destroyers Robert A. Owens, Rich, Blandy and Furse and the oiler Chukawan, were steaming across the Atlantic to their posts. One other, the destroyer Hawkins, is scheduled to leave Newport R.I., Sunday.

The prime recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp, was to leave Monday for a station 400 miles southwest of Bermuda.

McDivitt and White will venture about 185 miles into space. The new IMP satellite, however, soared toward a planned altitude of about 130,000 miles after a successful blastoff aboard a Delta rocket that scored its 29th orbital success in 31 launchings.

IMP, carrying nine experiments, was to patrol deep space for solar storms that periodically send unseen winds of lethal radiation flooding through the solar system — winds that, undetected in time, could wipe out an astronaut trip to the moon.

Hopefully, IMP will provide scientists with information from which to develop a means of forecasting such space storms and winds, perhaps as much as 30 days in advance.

The satellite, third in a series of seven radiation monitors, became Explorer-28 after achieving orbit.

Engineers said it may take a day or so to plot IMP-3's precise path in space. The craft was expected to swoop back within 120 miles of earth every four days after zipping into "interplanetary space."

Winter Wheat Crop Running A Little Late

EDITOR'S NOTE — The accompanying crop report was prepared by the Agricultural Department of the Santa Fe Ry., Amarillo. The material is based upon reports received up to and including May 20.

Although a few early fields in south Texas were combined the first week of May, because of the cool or wet weather during much of the late winter and early spring, maturity of most of the 1965 winter wheat crop has been delayed, running from 5 to 10 days later than the 1964 crop, with earliest fields in the Dallas-Waco area maturing about May 20 and fields ready for harvest becoming general throughout southern Oklahoma, north Texas and in the Texas Rolling Plains early in June.

From south central Nebraska, through most of central Kansas and Oklahoma, into the Cross Timbers and Blacklands areas of Texas, prospects for the 1965 winter wheat crop are excellent. East of this area through northeast Kansas and northern Missouri severe damage from winter kill is showing up in poor stands and generally poor prospects. When considered with the continuing decline in the condition of the 1955 winter wheat crop in eastern Colorado, western Kansas, eastern New Mexico and in the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, where most of the production will come from irrigated acreage, and because of loss by winter kill in northeast Kansas, it will require favorable conditions through harvest for the five states to produce 420 million bushels.

While this total production is below earlier estimates, it will, if realized, be the fourth largest crop in the last ten years, exceeded only by the crops of 1958, 1960 and 1961. Where adequate moisture was received in May, much of the abandoned wheat acreage will likely be planted to sorghums as the Wheat and Feed Grain Programs of the USDA permit substitution of feed grains for wheat where farmers are participating in both programs.

In areas with adequate moisture or on farms under irrigation, most of the intended cotton and sorghum has been planted or will be planted as soon as soils warm to proper temperature.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Over fifty farmers have seen fit to purchase chemicals for the eradication of bindweed in small patches. Gordon Taylor, Superintendent of the Maintenance Division of the State Highway Department, picked up the homes of several farmers that signed statements saying they have treated or do not have bindweed in their fields that adjoin the highway. Gordon will see that any bindweed patches in the right-of-way that adjoin these farms will be treated. The County Commissioner's Court plan to spray the county airport for bindweed in the near future. A few years back the bindweed had the upper hand of the good stand of native grass that had been seeded. Through a very excellent control program the Court has carried out on the airfield, the bindweed has diminished to only a fraction of the former problem. It is believed only patch work will be necessary after this year. Not all of the airport will be sprayed this year. The grass is the best native grass I've seen. The 2-D chemical that has been used kills the bindweed but stimulates the grass. The few head of antelope that graze on this 640 acre tree range probably feel this is antelope heaven.

Several samples of specimens of worms have been sent to the Southwest Animal Health Center at Mission for identification by several Gray County Ranchers. We encourage all ranchers to continue to do this. Should an outbreak occur we can get a free sterile fly drop plus the spraying of cattle in infected herds. Early detection is the key to the success of the hot-spot treatment. We have free mailing carton at our office.

We have two very popular publications that you might want to pick up — one is entitled "Bat Fish Farming - B 1024" — the other "B 213 Improve Your Farm Fish Pond." Call or drop by the office and we will mail you these publications. George Ingram and Charlie Webb made application for fish last week. Write the Game and Fish Commission, Austin, Texas, if you would like to have free fish delivered. Fish are delivered to the County seat towns by a special truck in late August or September each year. Application cards are processed soon after August 1, each year and sent to the proper fish hatchery. Deliveries for this area come from the State Hatchery at Dundee, Texas.

Several people have called about certain plant troubles. One very common item that a great many people call about it is "Iron Chlorosis." Chlorosis is a condition in plants which results when chlorophyll (the green coloring matter in plants) fails to develop or is destroyed. In this area is caused by iron becoming unavailable after liberal or excessive watering. Soil test might show a high iron content but for some unknown reason it is unavailable. This condition seems to affect about all our lawns and other plants about the home. We saw some young bean plants that were severely affected last week. To correct this one can add either iron sulfate or iron chelate as a foliar application to the soil. Call our office and we will send you a leaflet "L-435 — Iron Chlorosis."

Water is being used on the High Plains of Texas in larger quantities than ever before. To give an understandable picture of the amount of water being used the so-called McDonald Well Field, southwest of the City of Amarillo, is used for an example. The Texas Board of Water Engineers published a study of this field in 1957. The following quotations are taken from the publication No. 5701: "Water is supplied to the City of Amarillo from seventy (70) wells tapping the Ogallala formation southwest of the City. The average discharge per well is about six hundred (600) gallons per minute and the maximum capacity of all wells is about sixty million (60,000,000) gallons per day.

In addition, water rights to several thousand acres of land in Carson and Hartley Counties have been purchased by the City of Amarillo. Development of the Carson County well field which is about twenty (20) miles northeast of Amarillo, was started in the summer of 1955.

"The well field closest to the City of Amarillo is the McDonald well field. The first five (5) wells were drilled by D. L. McDonald in 1929. In 1931, the City of Amarillo purchased the wells and the section of land in which they were drilled. The sixth well in the field was drilled in 1947 by H. H. Heiskell. (Heiskell is a resident of Pampa).

Since 1931 an estimated sixteen billion gallons of water have been withdrawn from the McDonald wells. These heavy withdrawals of water from the Ogallala formation have created a basin-shaped depression in the water table.

Beginning in 1955 the development of the Carson County well field moved ahead rapidly. This well field is located in the deepest and thickest water bearing area of Carson County. Since the opening up of the Carson County field in 1955 plans were gradually worked out to build a dam on the Canadian River between Amarillo and Borger to trap waters of the Canadian for use by a number of High Plains Cities. The cities of the High Plains and Panhandle area are continuing to look for other sources of water. The North Fork of the Red River in Gray County offers possibilities for the future. If our area is to continue to grow industrially, agriculturally and population wise then we must tap all available sources.

The City of Amarillo, several years ago, started a program of reclaiming part of the water the city was using. At the present time several of the larger industries located in the Amarillo area are using successfully large quantities of this reclaimed water.

In 1963 the Texas A&M "Water For Texas" Conference published the following: "Investigations to improve short and long term streamflow forecasting. Reservoirs are built to store water during periods of surplus for use during periods of deficiency. Artificial recharge of ground water aquifers is usually undertaken for the same purpose."

There are a large number of Playa Lakes in Gray and Carson Counties that fill up during our rainy years. Much of this water could be recharged into the underground water reservoir if a workable filter system can be found to filter out the sediment, or to discover a cheap flocculant that will settle the sediment out. Much work is being done on this at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station at Bushland.

Science has found synthetic substitutes for many of the things we use such as synthetic rubber. Texas Experiment Stations are trying to produce new plants that will use less water. It is universally agreed however, that there is no substitute for water.

Swift Official To Address Cattlefeeders

AMARILLO (Sp) — Thomas W. Glave, Manager of the Agricultural Research Division of Swift and Company, Chicago, will be guest speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Southwest T-Bone Association. The dinner-meeting, honoring packers and packer-buyers, will be held at the Coronado Inn here at 6:30 p.m., June 17.

Glave will address the club on "Grubs in Feedlot Cattle." A graduate of Oklahoma State University, Glave is a member of that school's Alumni Hall of Fame.

He is a member of the American Society of Animal Production, Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, the Agriculture-Business Relations Committee of the Illinois State Chamber, National Association of Marketing Officials, American Farm Economics Association and the Agricultural Committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

ALL-DAY TRAIL RIDE — Thirty members of Top O' Texas 4-H Riding Club traveled to the Wiley and Albert Reynolds ranches, 20 miles north of town, last Saturday for an all-day trail ride. Sponsors of the club accompanying the group were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Reeves, Bill Johnson and Mrs. J. T. Winters. Parents and families of the riders met the group at a picnic site located on Albert Reynolds' ranch for a picnic lunch. The club, which participates in area rodeo parades and grand entries, is now learning to do square dance routines on horseback.

By ARNEAL SCOTT
Bob Sherrod seeded a 40 acre field to improved grass on his farm northeast of McLean. This field was turned out as pasture approximately 30 years ago and was covered with trash grasses and yucca. It was plowed and leveled before seeding. Bob plans to establish a 10 acre field to improved grasses next year. A cross fence will be constructed so the grass can be managed until it is well established.

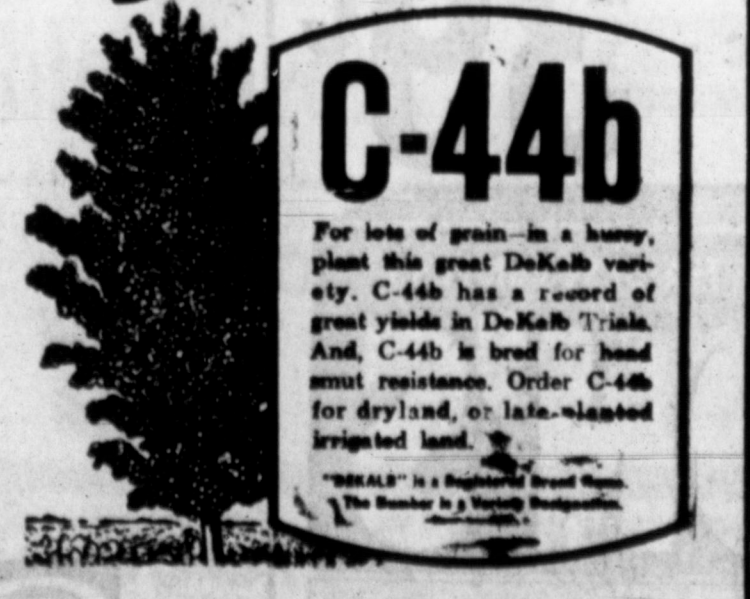

Elmer Balch has started leveling five acres on his farm southeast of Pampa. This land will be bordered and sprigged to bermudagrass. The purpose of the borders is to control the flow of irrigation water. Elmer established 21 acres of switchgrass and seven acres of bermudagrass during the past two years. He has an excellent stand of switchgrass which should produce a lot of forage this year with proper fertilization and irrigation. It will also be considered for seed production since the grass seed market is above average.

An erosion control dam was started for construction on the Roland Williams Ranch northeast of McLean. This dam will protect 30 acres of hay meadow and control several large gullies.

ONCE YOU USE LUCITE HOUSE PAINT YOU'LL NEVER GO BACK TO "HARD WORK" PAINTS AGAIN!

Once you see how "Lucite" flows on—how it dries in minutes—how it needs no special primer—how it saves you hours of work—how fast it is to clean up with soap and water after painting—how easy it covers wood, brick, stucco, masonry, cinder block, you'll never go back to oil base paints. And "Lucite" gives you more—more years of wear—than ordinary paints. Tests on actual houses proved it. If you use "Lucite" according to directions this year, it probably will be the last time you'll have to repaint this decade. Need we say more?

Matson Breaks USTFF Records

HOUSTON — Randy Matson, USTFF meet records in the Southern District Federation track meet here yesterday afternoon and last night.

Crampton In Lead By Two

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Australian Bruce Crampton, twice a winner on this year's PGA tour, fired four-under-par 67 Saturday to take a two-stroke lead into the final 18 holes of the "500 Festival" golf tourney.

Crampton, the fifth leading money winner on the tour with nearly $28,000 in official earnings, became the third leader in as many days when he rallied on the back nine, bagging three birdies in four holes for a 54 hole total of 208, five-under-par.

Tied for second place with three-under-par 210s were Lionel Hebert, Dan Sikes and Miller Barber. At 211 were former winner Dow Finsterwald, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Jackie Cupit.

Winner of the Bing Crosby and Colonial tourneys, the latter earlier this month, Crampton went out in 34 strokes and toured the back nine in 33. He had birdies on 12, 15 and 15, hitting 14 greens and using up only 27 putts.

His longest putt was a 15 footer for a birdie 3 on the second hole, but he took a bogey 6 on No. 3.

Matson put the shot 67 1/2" on the second of six throws in the shotput last night, breaking the stadium record of 61'1" and the meet record of 60'6", set by Matson himself at the Federation state meet in Houston in 1963.

Earlier yesterday, the Pampa Giant threw the discus 180'2", breaking the stadium record of 173'2" and the meet mark of 173'11".

Matson said after the meet "My knee was bothering me a little, but I lost 10 pounds studying for exams the last two weeks."

Matson added that "I haven't lifted weights but once since the Los Angeles meet."

Tigers 1, Tribe 0

DETROIT (UPI) — Dick McAuliffe doubled in a run in the bottom of the tenth inning Saturday to give the Detroit Tigers their second consecutive 1-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

McAuliffe's hit, following a double by George Thomas and an intentional walk to Jackie Moore, broke up a brilliant pitching duel between the Tigers' Mickey Lolich and Cleveland's Jack Kralick.

NEW POST

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Paul Bright, president of the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League, announced yesterday that he will assume the post of general manager of the club.

AT LONG LAST — The long-awaited meeting between two of the fastest sophomores in the Top O' Texas came off yesterday at the Pampa Jaycee Junior Champ meet, when Kenneth Steine of Canadian nipped Gary McCarrell of Pampa, Howard Sanders of Canadian third.

Twins Outslug Senators, Astros Sweep Cardinals

Rollins Leads Twins, 11-8

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rich Rollins drove in five runs with a home run, a single and a double Saturday to lead the second-place Minnesota Twins to a 11-8 victory over the Washington Senators in a free-swinging battle.

The two teams collected a total of 28 hits, four of them home runs and six others for extra bases.

Aspro Leads Astros, 4-3

HOUSTON (UPI) — Bob Aspromonte's bases-loaded single drove in the winning run Saturday and gave the Houston Astros a 4-3 victory and a sweep of the three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Card reliever Bob Purkey had loaded the bases with one away on two walks and a single before Aspromonte dropped his game-winning single.

Yankees Go Down Again

CHICAGO (UPI) — The first-place Chicago White Sox sent the tottering New York Yankees down to their 25th loss of the season Saturday and 10 games off the pace with a 6-3 victory.

White Sox relief ace Eddie Fisher was credited with his 11th "save" of the year after rescuing starter Tommy John in the seventh inning.

Giants 6, Reds 4

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Willie McCovey, coming through in the clutch for the second straight game, hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning Saturday to give the San Francisco Giants a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The blow came off southpaw Bill McCool and wiped out a home run with two aboard which Cincinnati starter Gerry Arrigo had hit as the Reds were taking a 4-0 lead.

Bucs 7, Mets 4

NEW YORK (UPI) — Roberto Clemente drove in two runs and scored three Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates came from behind twice to defeat the New York Mets, 7-4.

The victory was the eighth straight for the Pirates.

Bosox Washed

BOSTON (UPI) — The single game scheduled Saturday between the Boston Red Sox and the Kansas City Athletics was postponed because of rain.

No date was set for a make-up game.

Phils 4, Cubs 2

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A 510-foot home run by Richie Allen with one man on in the first inning carried the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday.

The blow came off southpaw Bill McCool and wiped out a home run with two aboard which Cincinnati starter Gerry Arrigo had hit as the Reds were taking a 4-0 lead.

Angels 3, Birds 1

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Los Angeles Angels, behind the clutch pitching of Fred Newman and Bob Lee, defeated the Baltimore Orioles Saturday night 3-1 handing Mill Pappas his first loss of the season.

Pappas had won five straight and had beaten Los Angeles five games in a row, four on shutouts, dating back to May, 1963.

Tascosa 1st, Pampa 4th in District 3-4A

After winning the District 3-4AAA All-Sports trophy for four consecutive years, the Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen were edged out for 1964-65 honors by the Tascosa Rebels.

The Rebels, winning three of the six championships, compiled 44 points to 43 1/2 for Monterey. This is the second time for Tascosa to win the All-Sports trophy, which is donated by Vance Hall Sporting Goods of Amarillo. The Rebs previously won the 1960-61 crown.

The first trophy was presented after the 1956-57 season. It and the 1957-58 award went to Amarillo High. Borger won in 1958-59, Tascosa the next year and Monterey four straight times before this season.

Monterey would have retained the trophy this year had it defeated Lubbock High in the final football game of the campaign. The Westerners won, however, forcing Monterey to take 5 1/2 points in the grid sport while champion Tascosa was getting nine for first place.

The Plainsmen were not quite able to overhaul the Rebels after that. Scoring is on the basis of nine points for first place, eight for second, seven for third, etc.

Records Shattered in 3rd Junior Champ Track Meet

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

The third annual Jaycee Junior Champ track meet in Pampa was filled with flying feet and broken records yesterday as runners, hurdlers and field events competitors from Pampa, Skellytown, White Deer, Lefors, Panhandle, Wheeler, Canadian and Mobeetie made it the biggest and probably the best event of its kind.

Highlights of the senior division were the sprint battles between friendly enemies Roy Armstrong of White Deer and Keith Yarnold of Canadian; a record-smashing broad jump competition and some all-out hurdlers.

Yarnold and Armstrong finished in a dead heat in the 100-yard dash, running a remarkable, considering it was a non-cinder track, time of 10.3. Davy McDaniel, Pampa's ace sprinter of 1964, who sat out this past season, finished third in 10.5.

Yarnold won the flip for the ribbon and then proceeded to upset district 2-A regional competitor Armstrong in the 220 in a time of 24.1.

Rival teammates Bones Bullard and Randy Johnston ran a dead heat in the high hurdles, in 14.8, with Bullard winning the toss. Johnston then nipped Bullard and Randy Elliott of White Deer in the lows in 20.2.

Elliott won easily in the pole vault, Bennie Eckles of Canadian took the broad jump and shot put, getting surprising shot competition from 16-year-old Vernon Marlar of WD, who arrived too late for his intermediate division.

Probably the best race of the day was a sprint relay between a senior division team of Yarnold, Armstrong, Elliott and Eddie Kiebrink of WD, against a Canadian sophomore squad of Harold Thrasher, Howard Sanders, Butch Nicholson and Kenneth Steine, the seniors winning in 47.5, to the soph's 48.0.

PHS record-holder Little Butch Crossland was pushed to 22'1 1/2" to win the broad jump over Tommy Smith of Wheeler, second in state in Class B, regional contender Armstrong and Canadian record-holder Yarnold.

Mark Westbrook found only one competitor willing to run against him in the 880, Canadian sophomore Harold Haines, who pushed him to a 2:03.6 Westy, running to qualify for the mile, jogged around the track with a group of friends in the ridiculous time of 5:54.6.

Heralding the intermediate boys was the running of Steine and Gary McCarrell of Pampa. The Cat soph nipped McCarrell in the 100, 10.3 to 10.4, with Howard Sanders third in 10.5. Steine also won the 220, McCarrell romped home easily in the 440.

Otto Wheeler of WD won the high hurdles, but was upset by Johnny Walker of Canadian in the lows. Doc Cornutt tossed the shot 49'8" to win his event again.

A trio of Lefors freshmen and a Pampa buddy dominated the prep boys as Tony Pittman won the 100 and 220, Allen Stone placed second and third in those events, Ken Ferguson won the shot put, and the trio joined Marvin Finney in a winning relay.

Panhandle, a last-minute entry, brought a crew of girls that dominated the intermediate division, led by Janie Beddingfield. Janie upset two-time city champ Connie Parish in the 100, 220 and broad jump, placed second in the high jump and ran on the winning relay team.

The senior girls were completely dominated by the Young twins of White Deer-Skellytown, as Marolyn won the 100, 220, and 440 and placed second to sister Carolyn in the broad jump and baseball throw, Carolyn adding the shot put win as well.

A Skellytown crew ran all over the prep girls as Linda Stevenson, Peggy Cornelison and La Donna Russell split the first three places in almost every event.

First and second places in prep, intermediate and senior events qualified for the Jaycee state meet at College Station July 8-10, winning seniors at state will qualify for Jaycee nationals.

A number of the competing youngsters will run in summer meets for the Pampa Track Club, Skellytown and Lefors track teams. Marolyn and Carolyn Young and Connie Parish of the PTC, joined with Doc Bates' Skellytown girls, will run in a TAAF meet at Lubbock June 11, with Lefors, 1964 girls champ of the meet, entering to defend their title.

RESULTS
Senior Boys
100-yard dash: Keith Yarnold and Roy Armstrong (dead heat), Yarnold won toss for ribbon, Davy McDaniel, 10.2.
220-yard dash: Yarnold, Armstrong, 24.1.
440: Mark Westbrook, Harold Haines, 2:03.6.
1 Mile: Westbrook, John Low, Tommy New, 5:54.6.
High Hurdles: Weston Bullard and Randy Johnston, (dead heat), Bullard won toss, 14.8.
Low Hurdles: Johnston, Bullard, Randy Elliott, 20.2.
440 relay: Yarnold, Armstrong, Elliott, Eddie Kiebrink, 47.5. Harold Thrasher, Howard Sanders, Kenneth Steine, 48.0. (See 'Junior Champ', Page 9)

Colts Host Silverton In Opener Tomorrow

It will be the All-Western Junior College Conference battery of pitcher Jerry Glover and catcher Larry "Shotgun" Gregory tomorrow at Optimist Park when the Pampa Colts take the field at 2:30 to open their first season in the Irrigation League against Silverton.

Making up the probable starting team for the Colts for the opener will be Bobby Price of OU at first base, and also for relief pitching duties, Merle Terrell returning at second base, PHS graduate Phil Massie at shortstop and veteran Claude Middleton at third. The outfield will have Lonnie Leter, a newcomer from Plainview, John Perry or Ricky Goodwin and Dale Lewis or Ronnie Oler.

General manager Tom Glover and field manager Jess Middleton said that the Colts would continue shorthanded until the return of several expected regulars from college, including Mike Stewart of TCU, Kenny Hebert of Houston, Dean Redding of AC, Terry Shreiner of Midland, brother of former Colt great Carl Shreiner and Ricky Stewart and Larry Stoud.

The Colts will be meeting Silverton for the first time since the 1963 NBC Tournament.

JERRY GLOVER

The following Sunday, Pampa is at Friona, hosting Berger in next Sunday. The Irrigation League will play all of their games on Sunday, although the Colts will play a number of non-league games against former foes such as Liberal, Kansas, during the week.

Softball Loop Opens Tuesday

The Pampa Industrial Softball League, Pampa's oldest organized independent league, will kick-off its season starting Tuesday with a League Tournament. Teams entered in the league this year are Pampa News, Cabot, Weathered Humble, Sundowners, Jaycees and Panhandle Packing.

Back to defend its league crown of last year is Weathered Humble but they will have strong competition from the Sundowners and Pampa News. The Sundowners showed they were contenders last week in the Perryton tournament when they placed second to Rosel of Liberal, Kansas. Weathered Humble finished third in the tournament. Pampa News is paced by the Bandits baseball team of Chico Ramirez, several of whom were standout high school performers.

The league will play a triple round robin following the opening tournament. League games will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights. The league will culminate with their annual Top O' Texas Softball Tournament on August 2-4 when out-of-town teams are also invited to enter. The public is invited to attend the games which will be played at Lions Park.

Sunday night at 7 p.m. is the time you should be at Garden Lanes bowling in the best ball doubles sweep or watching the fun. Pick a partner and enjoy yourself this Sunday evening.

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

TODAY'S ANTICIPATED column material did not come in in time, and this scribe was going to go to press without a Sidelines, until Ron Cross, the frustrated athlete who runs the news department, insisted we should have some comment about the recent heavyweight fight. Since both of us have slightly differing opinions on the fracas, and since I cannot trust him to write a column by himself after last week's plug for my pet hate, horse racing, we agreed to split the column up.

THE OL' Swami's personal view on the "fight" is that it was NOT a fix or a dump, just a case of a misguided timekeeper.

If it had been a fixed fight, the script would obviously call for Liston to win, setting up a natural and moneymaking third bout.

It is possible that someone got to the timekeeper, but it would have taken a genius to know that the timekeeper would have the decisive role in the matter... if you get the timekeeper, you would have to get the referee and other officials also, and it was obvious that referee Jersey Joe Walcott and the timekeeper were not in agreement at all.

However, since the famous "long count" of the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney bout has been engraved in our minds, the fact that Dempsey knocked Tunney down and failed to go to a neutral corner, with the count being delayed until he did so, it would appear to me that Liston was not legally knocked out. Films show very clearly that after the knockdown, Clay ran out and stood over Liston. In such case, the timekeeper should have held up the count until Clay went to a neutral corner, in my opinion, and thus Liston and Clay should have gone on fighting as Walcott wanted.

In any case, this sets up a perfect script for wrestling, adapted for the emergency for boxing... the perfect villain, Cassius Muhammed Clay, hated by everyone in the world except a few misguided followers of the Koran, against the perfect hero, clean-cut, clean-living, mild-mannered Floyd Patterson.

Only trouble is, the hero can not win in an honest fight. Floyd never was really good enough to have stood up against Liston, let alone Clay, Ingemar Johansson proved that his jaw was by no means cement. Now, with several years of age and idleness, he cannot have the speed to keep up with old Muhammed Ali. If they fight, Clay by a knockout.

AND NOW, the comments of the ol' redhead:

Very seldom do the Swami and I agree but on one point, that being the second Liston-Clay Fight? was not fixed.

It seems apparent that poor old Sonny, who has a record longer than any hair on my head, has been had.

A couple of days ago a gentleman in London and another in Japan made the statements that Liston was felled by a karate blow.

For some reason we haven't been able to laugh this off.

For one thing we wouldn't put it past any member of the Black Muslims to go to any lengths to get exactly what they want.

Another, Cassius Clay just might be smart enough to make this sort of tricky work, although he's too dumb to get into the Army, or is he?

One of the Powers that be here at the Daily News says without a doubt the fiasco was fixed.

Wouldn't it be awfully hard to fix a heavyweight championship match. Think of the people that would have to be involved.

The more people you have involved the more chance you have for a leak.

And look at it this way... Even for a million dollars would it be worth it to you to go through what Liston is having to go through in the way of abuse, name-calling, etc. and what about the effect this little deal will have on his children?

Even a confessed criminal like Liston does care for his family.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

Many of the ponds in the top part of Texas are so filled with aquatic vegetation, commonly called moss, that they are practically unfit for fishing in the summertime. When the vegetation covers the surface of a pond, it is next to impossible to use artificial lures and almost as difficult to minnow fish.

The reason the vegetation grows so abundantly is that the waters are clear and very unfertile. Clear water doesn't produce as many pounds of fish per surface acre as does a murky pond, providing, however that the murkiness is caused by a high content of plankton, small microscopic and semi-microscopic plant and animal life, instead of suspended parts of clay and other earthen particles.

The reason so-called moss will not grow in four feet or more of murky water is very simple. It's the same reason that most grass and weeds will not thrive under the shade of a large, spreading tree. Ever note how well Bermuda grass will grow under a wash-tub? It will not for long, and neither will obnoxious aquatic plants grow in properly fertilized waters.

Two yards of chicken manure per surface acre will usually cause a clear pond to turn to a dark, brownish green. The proper amounts of commercial fertilizers will do equally as well. 16-20-0 is usually recommended for the Panhandle. For complete information, write the Parks and Wildlife Department, Austin, Texas, and ask for Bulletin No. 21, "Utilizing Stock Tanks and Farm Ponds for Fish."

This bulletin not only mentions the control of submerged aquatic plants, but has much other valuable information concerning fish pond management for more fish per pond. Some of the remedies mentioned in the pamphlet might not be suitable to Panhandle ponds. There are so many angles in raising the maximum amount of fish per acre that it would be next to impossible to put all the suggestions that would apply to each individual pond in writing. Contact your District Game Warden. He will work with you, assist and give suggestions. My guess would be that the fish ponds in the Panhandle probably produce about ten per cent of their potential.

Farmers know that in order to get maximum yields of milk and wheat they must fertilize. They also know that proper amount of seeding at the right time of the year is necessary. Producing a bumper crop of fish is far more complicated than wheat farming. Through the years County Agents and Soil Conservation Service technicians have performed meritorious tasks in working with farmers. The result has been more bushels of grain per acre.

I wouldn't go so far as to say that the increased production in fish pond management could compare with modern techniques in agriculture. I'll go the comparison several steps better in that the annual amount of fish produced in an average pond could be stepped up at least a hundred per cent, and possibly more, by employing correct technical procedure.

Most of the above has been presented as a challenge to fish pond managers, or, at least, owners of fish ponds. All Game Wardens have been trained in the fundamentals of the art of growing fish. Call upon them and they will assist you. If the others work like I do, then they might be confronted with some problems difficult to solve on the spot. That's simple. I contact authorities, and we know how to enlist their aid. A Game Warden isn't an authority except usually in game and fish law enforcement; however, he has access to the best in the field.

Bowling

By GIL BURGUND

Times certainly change. Not too many years ago, bowling centers almost shut down for summer months, and now summer leagues are almost as numerous as winter leagues. We can't go far without mentioning Jim Clifton and his all state event championship, and Gerald Vaughn winning doubles in their class. Bill Abernathy way up there in the Zale's Diamond Classic. First in Class "B" singles.

Pampa did real well both in the Big Texas State and in the Great South West. Guess we bowlers are going to have to get a big sign like Randy's.

Dennis Huntley said laying bricks was good for a bowling arm, and darned if he didn't prove it with a 247, 586 series in the Classic League. Please, don't anyone ask how the rest of us fared — you wouldn't believe it. It was that old "Summer Slump" we talk about. Not so for all the kids who were out to take a few lessons in the free course in bowling — 30 or 40 of them I guess. Boy, this is lots of fun. It's a heck of a lot better than pulling weeds out of a lawn.

Rosa Lee Hendricks had to prove her hot series in winning all the pot games the other morning. She bowled a 216 in league Thursday night (wonder who she was bowling against?)

The poor girls are an example of Rags to Riches — they had both Hi Game and Hi Series and even Hi Individual Game.

Oran Skinner says it is awfully quiet around here, and at his place (Nancy had a slight throat operation and can't talk. Ever try the sign language, Nancy?)

Danny Riddle had an infected finger amputated last week, and he says "I'm just glad it was not my bowling hand."

By the way, kids — Don't give up hope — I'll have those trophies by next year at least.

Ray's Electric Summer League Gals didn't sit still for anyone the other night, they were really bowling. It just takes the rest of us a little longer to get started.

Was Dominican Intervention Rash?

EDITOR'S NOTE: American intervention in the Dominican Republic, for better or worse, marked a turning point in western Hemisphere affairs. Material for the following dispatch was gathered by a UPI reporting team made up of Martin McReynolds, Roy McGhee and Leon Daniel in Santo Domingo and Stewart Hensley and Donald H. May in Washington.

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Just a month ago today President Johnson sent U.S. troops into the Dominican Republic, causing diplomatic seismographs to tremble wildly throughout the world.

The repercussion spread far beyond the sun-baked Caribbean island where a bloody struggle for control between rival factions threatened American lives and prompted Johnson's intervention.

With an uneasy truce in the civil war apparently in hand, the seismographs are now steady. But the analysis of what caused the crisis and how it will affect the future goes on.

History likely will have to provide some of the answers raised by the 30 dramatic days in Santo Domingo, including the degree of Communist influence in the original uprising. But this much already is clear:

The President's tough and decisive action—action he would take again if circumstances were the same—brought him both praise and condemnation. Some saw him as a "trigger happy" throwback to Teddy Roosevelt and his big stick. Others called him a prudent man who acted swiftly and reasonably in a dangerous situation.

Intervention put a sudden chill on Soviet-American relations, which previously had seemed to be looking up as Moscow's troubles with Communist China mounted. Still unanswered is whether this chill will be reflected in tougher Soviet policy in such trouble spots as Viet Nam and Berlin.

The Dominican affair shattered a number of cherished illusions and some comfortable assumptions about the ability of the Organization of American States (OAS) to cope with such crises. It raised the possibility that the United States may have to "go in alone" on other crucial fronts.

It imposed new strains on U.S. relations with some of its Latin American neighbors. It also widened the breach between this country and France, already apprehensive over the direction of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

U.S. officials are going to have to deal with these consequences of the Dominican intervention, good or bad, for months and perhaps even years to come. Currently they are trying to disengage and turn the job of peacekeeping and political conciliation over to its Latin American allies.

This will not be easy. The Hemispheric lethargy which forced Johnson to act on his own is likely to make it necessary for the United States to occupy a role front and center in the situation.

Looking ahead, this country hopes the Dominican crisis will convince the OAS that it must reorganize its machinery to deal swiftly with Communist-infiltrated rebellions. They believe continuation of the traditional Latin policy of non-intervention would mean a drift of the OAS into oblivion as an intellectual debating society.

Top administration sources, after the first touch-and-go days of the Dominican operation, have sought to discount the idea that intervention signaled any major policy change. They call it a special case resulting from the Dominican Republic's history of instability, its lack of democratic traditions and its proximity to Communist Cuba.

They acknowledge that U. S.

reaction was swifter and more decisive because of the haunting recollection of Fidel Castro's takeover in Cuba and the belated realization of its communist structure.

But diplomats see a broader aspect to Johnson's flat declaration that United States would "not tolerate another Communist government in the Western Hemisphere." The President made that statement May 2 when he publicly labeled the Dominican uprising as Communist controlled.

The following day he underscored his position, which since has been labeled the "Johnson doctrine." He asserted that "we don't propose to sit here in our rocking chair with our hands folded and let the Communists set up any government in the Western Hemisphere."

On the face of it at least, Johnson's statements seem to commit the United States to intervention in similar cases whether the OAS approves or not. And this in turn strikes at the heart of the cherished Latin doctrine prohibiting "intervention in internal affairs."

The United States considers this an obsolete doctrine. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and others argue that civil wars no longer can be considered a strictly internal matter now that the Communists have developed their technique of infiltrating and capturing indigenous revolts.

Latin America, U.S. officials assert, must realize this constitutes "aggression" the same as an assault across national boundaries and must set up machinery to cope with it. The future of the OAS may depend on whether its member states each beset with its own political difficulties and pressures, is willing to go that far.

Meantime, the public dialogue continues over the degree to which the Communists infiltrated the Dominican Rebellion.

The President said categorically on May 2 that control of the revolt had been seized by a "band of Communists conspirators." But on May 26, Secretary Rusk was saying only that "there was a possibility that extremist elements would attempt — were attempting to capitalize on the anarchy and disorder to seize control."

Indications that the administration may have felt its case needed bolstering were seen this week in the President's decision to dispatch a crack team of FBI investigators to Santo Domingo to help document Communist participation in the uprising.

Some diplomats felt the United States made a mistake when in early May it made public the names of 53 Communists allegedly involved in the revolt. If turned out that some weren't even here.

UPI correspondent Martin McReynolds reported from Santo Domingo that one of the Communists said to be in the rebellion, Dato Pagan Perdomo, had been arrested several weeks before the uprising and was in the national penitentiary during the fighting.

McReynolds also quoted a rebel spokesman as saying that at least 10 of the Communists on the State Department lists, which came from the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), were in Cuba or some other country during the rebellion.

Pro-American diplomats here acknowledged that the United States might not be correct in its contention that Red takeover had been threatened. But they felt this had not been proved.

Most diplomats here acknowledged that the United States proved the need for its original rescue mission. But many foreigners—and some Americans—felt it had not yet justified its large-scale military intervention for political purposes.

The problems of working out a political compromise, once a truce was achieved, proved to be as knotty as those of peace-making.

The U.S. candidate to head a provisional government pending elections to restore constitutional government was Antonio Guzman Silvestre. A wealthy landowner who never-the-less is considered a liberal, he was agriculture minister in the cabinet of President Juan Bosch, the leftist who held power for seven months in 1963.

Ironically, Guzman was accepted by Col. Francisco Canam Cano Deo, the rebel leader whose movement had been branded "red" by the State Department only to be rejected by the U.S.-created junta led by Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras.

Imbert charged that any deal with the rebels would "open the door to Communist domination of the Dominican Republic and the Western Hemisphere." Then in effect he asked U.S. officials: "How can you ask me to make a deal now with the group you denounced as Communist-dominated only a few weeks ago?"

The American reply was that the United States feels there is no current imminent danger of a communist takeover in the Dominican Republic. The list of 53 alleged Communists has not been mentioned recently by the U.S. Embassy in Santo Domingo.

Many rebels concede there are Communists in the movement but contend they are not running things.

"Let's take the figure of 53," said one spokesman. "We figure that about 10 of those names are people who are out of the country, in Cuba or somewhere. That leaves 43. About 10 more probably have been killed. That leaves 33. Then let's figure that only one tenth of the actual Communists are involved, so we multiply by 10 and get 330. What if there are 330 Communists here? What are they running?"

Presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy finally returned to Washington two days ago after 10 days of arm-twisting and negotiation and dumped the political problem into the lap of Rusk and the OAS. U.S. officials believed the OAS, backed by U.S. dollars and pressure, had a good chance of getting a compromise—either on Guzman or some other moderate leader.

Proof that medical practice wasn't unknown to the ancients are the following laws, quoting in part the regulations concerning fees, created by Hammurabi, a Babylonian ruler of about 1925 B.C.:

"If the doctor shall treat a gentleman and shall open an abscess with a bronze knife and a bronze knife and shall preserve the eye of the patient, he shall receive ten shekels of silver."

If the doctor shall open an abscess with a bronze knife and shall kill the patient or shall destroy the sight of the eye, his hands shall be cut off."

Both Rogers Subcommittees To Meet; Action Due on Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Sp)—Four days of meetings are scheduled this week by House subcommittees of which Congressman Walter Rogers is chairman. In addition, the agenda of legislative matters to come before the full House of Representatives includes the "Excise Tax Reduction Bill of 1965," the measure whose cumulative effects will bring an estimated $4.8 billion reduction in the tax burden borne by U.S. citizens.

On Tuesday, Congressman Rogers' Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation will continue its meetings on the water desalinization program. On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Congressman Rogers will preside as the Subcommittee on Communications and Power continues hearings into the role of community antenna television systems.

"The House will return a heavy majority in favor of reducing retailers' and manufacturers' excise taxes," Congressman Rogers said. "Passage by the House will conclude a campaign of many years' duration by a number of us who sought to eliminate the burdens created by excises first enacted in World War II."

The excise tax reduction bill is expected to reach the floor of the House on Wednesday. On Tuesday, the House will take action on the fiscal year 1966 appropriations for the Department of State, Justice, and Commerce and the Government's judicial branches.

The Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation, of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, is continuing its meetings on the objectives of U.S. policy in developing improved means for removing salt and minerals from sea water and brackish inland water.

"Making progress in this field is a vital part of our overall conservation effort," Congressman Rogers said.

The hearings into community antenna television systems began last week as Federal Communications Commission Chairman E. William Henry testified before the Subcommittee on Communications and Power. Congressman Rogers said the purpose of the hearings is to determine the proper relationship in the public interest among television broadcasters and operators of CATV systems. The latter gather TV broadcast signals and relay them by cable to homes of subscribers.

Negro Youths Hear Minister

Rev. L. C. Browning of Temple brought his Youth Crime Prevention League to Pampa Friday with a talk to colored youths from the city at the Progressive Baptist church.

Rev. Browning tours the state of Texas, lecturing to colored youths on crime prevention.

Rev. J. R. Manning, assistant pastor of the Pampa First Baptist church, spoke to the youths and told them to forget those things which are behind and to press forward to a bright future.

The youths were divided into groups for study of crime prevention, morality and hygiene.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The Center will offer another class in judo beginning June 15 at 7:30 p.m. This course is for anyone age 6-60 who is interested in an instructional course in judo. Mr. A. E. Brewer will conduct the course and will be assisted by Curtis King. Mr. Brewer is a black belt winner and has conducted several courses in judo for the Center. Persons interested in taking the course may do so by joining the Center or if already a member merely to enroll in the course. Enrollment will be going on from 9-12 1-5 or 7-10. Center memberships are very economical for the activities you get to participate in. Family memberships are $20 a year or $12 for six months while individual memberships are $8 and $5 respectively. Come by and enroll now for the judo course which will last through the summer.

The Center has a few of the swim classes for beginners and polywogs open for enrollment. The polywog class which meets from 9-10 a.m. has eight vacancies while the beginners course which meets from 11-12 a.m. has five vacancies. These classes will meet May 31-June 11, Monday through Fridays for the 10 meeting dates. You may enroll now by coming by the Center.

Twirling lessons are still available for summer months starting June 7-July 2. This will be for four weeks meeting on Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays from 1:30 to 2:30 each of those days. A Center membership is required for the lessons. Barbara Zimmerman will conduct the classes.

Classes still available in the Red Cross Swim program which will meet at the Center are as follows:

June 14-25, 9-10 a.m.—Adv. Beg. and Inter.; 10-11 a.m. Adv. Beg. and Swimmer; 6-7 p.m.—Adult Beginners.

June 26-July 1 9-10 a.m.—Adv. Beg. and Inter.; 10-11 a.m.—Adv. Big. and Swimmer.

July 12-23 9-10 a.m.—Inter and Adv. Beg. 10-11 a.m.—Adv. Beg. and Swimmer; 11-12 a.m.—Polywog.

Aug. 9-20 9-11 a.m.—Jr. and Sr. Life Saving.

Enrollment for these classes is $1 to everyone whether Center member or not. You may come by the Center anytime to register. No phone calls accepted.

The Center summer schedule started Saturday and will run on this time table. Monday through Fridays 9-12 a.m.; 1-5 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. Saturdays 9-12 and 1-6 while we will be closed Sundays. All ages swim will be from 1-4:30 and 7-9:30. The gym and recreation hall will be open all the time. The Dolphin swim team will work out from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10-11 a.m. Saturdays.

The Spring volleyball season ended this past week with the end of season tournaments for both men and women. On Monday the men's tournament was held and the results are as follows. The scores were misplaced and only the winners will be announced. Stompers won over the Lewis Spikers and Skelly Oilers took Montgomery Wards in the quarterfinals; in semi-final play Dairy Queen won over the Stompers while Skelly Oilers upset Cabot then in the finals Dairy Queen took the Skelly Oilers for championship honors while second play went to Skelly.

In the women's tournament held on Thursday night in quarter final action Pampa Independents took Kirby Vacuum 15-1 and 15-1, NMC took Top O' Texas Conoco 15-5 and 15-8; One Hour Martinizing won over Chez Nell's 15-2 and 15-0 while Amarillo Catalina took Hughes Beauty Salon 15-3 and 15-2. In semi-final play NMC upset Pampa Independents 13-11 and 15-4 while One Hour lost a heart breaker 12-14, 15-4 and 9-15 to the Catalina.

In the finals the Catalinas won championship honors over runner-up NMC 13-11, 5-15 and 13-10.

Viet Nam was formerly part of French Indo-China.

CABBAGE PROBLEM

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet canneries have 200 million cans of tasteless cabbage and don't know what to do with them. Pravda said. The Communist party newspaper said the situation was "catastrophic" because the canneries produced their quota of nearly a billion cans but the flavor of many "was meant for a zinc-lined stomach."

A TO X IN TV

More than 90 chemicals from acetic acid to xenon go into the manufacture of television equipment.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

WITH THE closing of the school term, many Pampa teachers have made interesting plans for improving themselves with either advance study or travel. Claudia Everly is off for a two-month tour of Southern Europe with the major portion of the time to be spent in Greece. Heard that Mrs. Jim (Hazel) Poole and Mrs. Perry (Marjorie) Gaut are making a European tour together. Miss Inez Clubb has another European route mapped which allows her something like only thirty minutes at the London, England, airport. Bob Parks and wife Margaret are planning to be in school somewhere in the Los Angeles, Calif., area. Howard and Betty Tom Graham will be in College Park, Md., while Mrs. Graham attends the University of Maryland studying on a mathematics scholarship. Mr. Graham thinks his time can be spent to better advantage touring the governmental and historic spots of the area since he can then give eyewitness accounts next year to his American History classes. Sure there are many other teachers planning educational and interesting summer vacations and would appreciate any information readers know along this line.

JAMES BYARS, son of Ross and Norma Byars, gave an abo recital Friday afternoon in the Juilliard School of Music Recital Hall in New York City. The recital included works by Bach, Vivaldi, Britten, Hindemith and Mozart. Young Byars, a graduate of Pampa High School, studied at Juilliard with Melvin Kaplan. He will receive his Master's degree this year. A large group of women was seen luncheon Monday at the Pampa Club in Coronado Inn. Among them were Mrs. Paul (Myrtle) Carmichael, Mrs. Crawford (Chris) Atkinson, Mrs. Lynn (Edwina) Boyd, Mrs. A. A. (Becky) Schuneman, Mrs. M. C. (Dorothy) Overton and Mrs. B. (Roberto) Baldrige. Mrs. Frank (Carrie) Stallings went to Lubbock last Sunday to visit relatives and remain for the opening session of the Methodist Annual Conference. Mrs. Stallings is a member of the Methodist Conference Board of Missions. Mrs. Luther (Edwyna) Kirk and Mrs. Kermit (Josephine) Lawson, members of the Conference Board of Social Concerns, attended pre-conference meetings in Lubbock Monday. Friends of Mrs. Mae Boone are sorry to hear that she fell in her home recently and is under the weather. Doesn't seem right not to find her working in her yard and hope she'll soon be busy with her flowers.

RICHARD NEWBERRY, son of George and Jessie Newberry, will graduate from University of Texas School of Dentistry in Houston tomorrow. Following state board examinations, young Newberry will be home for a two-week visit with his parents before reporting to Maxwell Air Force Base at Montgomery, Ala., July 11 with the rank of captain. A 1959 graduate of Pampa High School, he will be stationed at Maxwell for the next two years. Joel and Ouida Middleton and children, Joel III and Maria, are spending a week at the Cabot Ranch west of Trinidad, Colo. Seen luncheon at Pampa Country Club last Friday before the duplicate bridge games were Charles and Jean Duenkel, Mrs. Jess (Ethel) Clay, Mrs. R. A. (Valma) Baker and Mrs. Jim (Larue) Nation. Danny Riddle, son of Buck and Elaine Riddle, underwent surgery Friday morning in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo, for amputation of a finger. He was bitten by a rattlesnake four weeks ago.

SUE ANN THOMPSON, daughter of Chester and Marguerite Thompson, was the picture of the radiant bride-to-be yesterday morning when the announcement of her wedding on August 21 to Arnold Phillips was made at a lovely coffee given by her mother in the Thompson home. Pampa Evening Opt-Mrs. who attended the Optimist North Plains State Convention in Lubbock last weekend were Mrs. Clifford (Mildred) Hill, Mrs. Lindy (Dorris) Houck and Mrs. Bill (Laverne) Stephens. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Bender of Panhandle will give highlights of their recent trip to the eastern states to members of the Canadian River Gem and Mineral Club when the group meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Gold Room of Panhandle Bank and Trust in Borger. Rockhounds of the area should be interested in hearing the Benders speak, and are invited to attend the meeting. Elmer D. and Patty Wilson and daughters, Kim and Kay, are leaving Amarillo by jet tomorrow to spend a week touring Disneyland, Marineland and movie sets in Hollywood, Calif. The Wilsons plan to return home next Sunday.

HEARD ALBERT and Marge Reynolds are quite thrilled and proud of their son John for receiving the fall semester piano recital award from the Department of Music at West Texas State University, Canyon. Others receiving awards in this department from Pampa were Richard Rath, son of George and Alpha Rath, saxophone; Mrs. Gary (Jerylyn Carter) Laramore, daughter of Gerald and Lorene Carter of Amarillo, former Pampans, spring piano recital; and Mrs. Ronald (Jean Holman) Gray, daughter of Chester and Irene Holman, voice. Gary Laramore, son of Blake and Billie Laramore, was named assistant drum major for the WTSU Buffalo Band next term. Many Pampans will remember Gary as drum major for Pampa Junior High and Pampa High School Bands. These students speak well for the Pampa High School Music department.

MARY SHARON Spencer, daughter of Kenrieth and Adele Spencer of Borger, sophomore at the University of Oklahoma, has been selected as "Sooner Yearbook Beauty" by movie actor George Peppard, star of "The Carpetbaggers." Mary Sharon is the granddaughter of Mrs. Enid Cole and the niece of Buck and Elaine Riddle, all of Pampa. Her father grew up in Pampa. Earlier this year she was chosen "Honorary Cadet Colonel" by the ROTC unit at the university and was presented at the annual military ball. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority. Mr. and Mrs. Jearl W. Nichols of Arlington, former Pampans, visited last week in the home of Mr. Nichols' mother, Mrs. H. H. Nichols. They attended graduation exercises for their son and grandson, Jerry Nichols at West Texas State University last Sunday evening when he received a Bachelor of Music Education Degree. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dixon of Independence, Kan., also former Pampans and Jerry's maternal grandparents, were present for his graduation. The Dixons accompanied their daughter and son-in-law to Arlington where they will attend graduation exercises for another grandson, Larry Nichols, who will graduate from Sam Houston High School in Arlington next Wednesday. Larry plans to attend Arlington State College in the fall and major in art.

MEMORIAL DAY TRIBUTE — Mrs. Tony Smith, right, out-going president of the Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 1657, is shown raising the flag at Fairview Cemetery in commemoration of Memorial Day while Mrs. J. M. Turner, left, president of American Legion Auxiliary Unit 334, looks on. Also shown in the picture is a large wreath, presented by the Legion Auxiliary, VFW Auxiliary and Ladies Auxiliary to World War I Veterans Post 1952, and a Poppy Field Monument. According to Ed Foran, Fairview Cemetery caretaker, Memorial Day ceremonies began in Pampa 34 years ago when he and members of the local American Legion post held the first ceremony in Fairview Cemetery. Local members of the American Legion and Auxiliary, VFW and Auxiliary and WWI Veterans and Auxiliary took part in today's commemoration. The inscription on the Poppy Field Monument reads, "In grateful tribute to the living and the dead who through their valiant efforts and bitter sacrifice have made America great, is this shrine dedicated. May God grant that the liberty of mankind, which only brave souls win, and only vigilance can guard, shall live on with greater virility to perpetuate itself for all ages to come."

DAWSON - LILLIS — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dawson of Lubbock, former Pampans, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol Lynn, to Michael Dan Lillis, son of Dan F. Lillis of Midland. The wedding will be solemnized at 7 p.m., June 5 in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Lubbock. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. Fern Dawson, 1909 Williston.

QUIBLE - HUMPHREY — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Susan Bea Quible to Joe Clark Humphrey is being announced by her parents; Mr. and Mrs. George M. Quible of 1918 N. Russell. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Joe C. Humphrey of Abilene. Vows will be exchanged in First Methodist Church Aug. 7.

PETERS-GREGG — August 7 is the wedding date set for Miss Betty Lou Peters and Alvin Roy Gregg, according to an engagement announcement made by William A. Peters of White Deer, father of the bride-elect. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gregg of Guthrie, Okla. The wedding ceremony will be officiated in White Deer Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Jeannie Cox Marks Eleventh Birthday At 'Country Fair'

Jeannie Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Cox Jr., 705 N. Wells, celebrated her eleventh birthday with a "Country Fair" backyard party.

The fence was decorated with murals of farm animals. As barefoot guests in hillbilly costumes arrived they had their name printed on a balloon which was tied to the "merry-go-round." The backyard picnic table was covered with a gunny sack cloth. The centerpiece was a miniature scarecrow with chickens, candy corn and 11 candy-stick candles.

Guests were seated on the ground on gunny sacks. A jar of jelly beans was won by Miss Vickie Cobb, who guessed the nearest number. An old-timey spelling bee was won by Miss Cindy Hicks. A pancake race and three-legged gunny sack races were enjoyed.

Serve yourself "chow" was "pigs-n-blankets," chuck wagon beans, "mountain dew" and sugared doughnuts. Favors were paper red brick farm silos filled with gum and candy.

Hillbillies at the "Country Fair" were Debra Brumfield, Elaine and Phyllis Clark, Vickie Cobb, Lou Ann Fulcher, Cynthia Hatfield, Cindy Hicks, Karen and Sherry Killough, Kathy Ledbetter, Jeannine Maness, Darla Robertson, Carol Rose, Virginia Schaeffer and Juanita Smith.

Engagement of Miss Sue Ann Thompson And Arnold Dee Phillips Is Announced

Miss Sue Ann Thompson Engaged

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Sue Ann Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Blaine Thompson, 1228 Christine, to Mr. Arnold Dee Phillips was announced at a coffee given by the bride-elect's mother in her home Saturday morning.

Mr. Phillips is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Revell Poston, 1818 Evergreen, with whom he has made his home. The wedding has been set for August 21 at First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Thompson greeted guests during the calling hours with her daughter, Sue Ann, and Mrs. Poston, aunt of Mr. Phillips, in the receiving line. The bride-elect was dressed in a suit of apricot tones and all other members of the house-party wore white to carry out her chosen color scheme.

The announcement table and buffet were decorated with silver epergnes, arranged with tropicana roses, champagne carnations and white marguerite daisies. The names of the couple and the date of their approaching marriage were indicated on streamers of champagne satin flowing from the table arrangement.

The bride-to-be wore a corsage of tropicana roses, complimenting her chosen color of apricot.

The mothers' corsages were of tropicana roses and champagne carnations. Houseparty members wore corsages of champagne carnations.

Serving coffee were Miss Joanne Lawson, high school classmate, and Mrs. J. R. Schuneman. Miss Deann Drew, also a former high school classmate and college roommate, presided at the guest register. Others in the houseparty were Miss Nelda Ray, college roommate of Slaton, and Mrs. Kermit B. Lawson.

Approximately 50 friends attended the announcement party. Both Miss Thompson and Mr. Phillips are graduates of Pampa High School and are now students at Texas Technological College, Lubbock. The bride-elect was a member of the National Honor Society in high school and is majoring in elementary education. Mr. Phillips is a member of the Delta Sigma Pi social fraternity. His major is marketing.

Salad Luncheon and Officer Installation Ends Year for First Methodist WSCS

Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church concluded the conference year with a salad luncheon at 12 o'clock Wednesday in Fellowship Hall of the church.

The president, Mrs. W. H. Nichols, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Elmer Radcliff gave the devotional, "Our Responsibility Toward Promoting the Kingdom of God."

The conference treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Thompson, gave the complete financial report for 1964-65 and presented a new budget for the coming year that was accepted by acclamation.

Mrs. J. E. Thompson, representing the nominating committee, presented youth memberships to Miss Juanita Colville and Miss Diana Edminister and announced that the scholarship for this year was awarded to Miss Jane Moore. Mrs. W. S. Exley, Mrs. Charles Brauchle and Mrs. Duane Barte were presented life memberships into the WSCS.

Yearly secretary reports and reports from circle chairmen were presented. Members were urged by Mrs. C. B. Lutes to purchase auxiliary memberships from the Methodist Mission Home at San Antonio. Mrs. David McGahey gave the accomplishments of the year and new plans for the work of the Woman's Division.

New members were welcomed and introduced by Mrs. Nichols. Concluding the meeting was the installation of officers for the coming year with Mrs. Eben Warner Jr. serving as installing officer. Installed were Mrs. David McGahey, president; Mrs. J. E. Thompson, vice president; Mrs. W. C. Puryear, secretary; Mrs. Bill Baten, treasurer; Mrs. Thelma Bray, Christian social relations; Mrs. Joe Weaver, program materials; Mrs. W. R. Campbell, local church activities; Mrs. Elmer Radcliff, missionary education; Mrs. Melvin Stephens, spiritual life; Mrs. H. P. Dosier Sr. and Mrs. Duggan Smith, membership cultivation; Mrs. Robert Echols, campus ministry; Mrs. Irene Osborne, supply work; Mrs. Charles Duenkel Jr., publicity; and Mrs. Eben Warner Jr., J. E. Kirchner and Weldon Carter, nominating committee.

Those present repeated the "Lords Prayer" in unison to close the meeting.

Contest Concluded By Pound Pirates

The contest between the Tops and Queens teams of Pampa Pound Pirates ended recently with the Queens losing by five points and serving the Tops a low calorie salad supper.

A 57 pound loss with a seven pound gain was reported.

Mrs. Barbara Fleming was the winner of the weekly fruit basket for having lost eight pounds the preceding week.

On May 3, Mrs. Vera Fisher and Mrs. Eula Brown were declared "Monthly Queens" for having lost 16½ pounds each the preceding month. There was a three-way tie for the weekly fruit basket between Mrs. Lou Ann Lowe, Mrs. Elsie Green and Mrs. Nancy McDaniels. Mrs. Lowe was awarded the fruit. There was a 24 pound loss and a 12 pound gain for the club at weigh-in.

May 10 a better record was reported for weight losers with a 49 pound loss and a small one and one-half pound gain. A three way tie for the weekly fruit basket was held between Mrs. Augusta Brown, Mrs. Eula Brown and Mrs. Georgia Gallimore. Mrs. Gallimore was presented the fruit.

Interested ladies were invited to visit the club at 7 p.m. at the old Lutheran Building.

Vacuum bottles and picnic containers develop a stale odor when closed and not used. To eliminate it, wash the containers in hot soapy water, then rinse with a solution of soda and warm water. Rinse in clear hot water. Let bottles air dry before closing.

Preserve colorful fall leaves by dipping them in paraffin which gives a waxy look, or in glycerine, which gives a soft, translucent effect. Leaves also can be preserved with a drying agent such as borax or silicel gel.

Mrs. Royce Joe Harnsberger ... nee Miss Carol Jean Cooke

Elms Memorial Chapel in Littlefield was the scene for the 8 o'clock wedding ceremony yesterday evening of Miss Carol Jean Cooke of Littlefield and Royce Joe Harnsberger of 1917 N. Christy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Cooke of Littlefield are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harnsberger of 1917 N. Christy are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. B. H. Kendrick solemnized the double-ring vows amid a setting of candelabra and floral arrangements.

Miss Betty Ransom of Claude, organist, provided traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Clifford Ozmun of Plainview, vocalist, as she sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in an ivory peau de soie gown designed with a florentine neckline, notched elbow-length sleeves and an Empire silhouette extending into an A-line skirt with a detachable chapel-length train. Beaded re-embroidered alencon lace embellished the bodice of the gown. Her shoulder-length veil of ivory silk illusion fell from a silk rose coil. She carried a white Bible topped with stephanotis centered with a white cattleya orchid.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Charles Powell of Littlefield, matron of honor, and Miss Opal Bogard of McCamey, maid of honor. Dressed identically in two-piece dresses fashioned of American beauty textured silk featuring sleeveless bodices with jewel necklines and scalloped waists, the bridal attendants wore headpieces of silk illusion held by a silk American beauty rose and carried a single long-stemmed pink rose.

Serving his brother as best man was Carl Harnsberger while groomsmen were Robert H. Cooke of Lubbock, bride's brother. Seating the wedding guests was Jon Stevens of Snyder, bride's cousin, usher.

Lighting the cathedral tapers were Mrs. Hal Upchurch of Lubbock and Jon Stevens.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cooke was attired in a two-piece suit fashioned of powder blue silk accented by matching accessories. Mrs. Harnsberger chose a two-piece suit designed of rose nubby crepe complemented by white accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Scene of the reception, held immediately following the ceremony, was the church parlor. Miss Betty Ransom provided background piano music throughout the receiving hours. Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Beth Milton of Groom and Mrs. Lyman McDonald of Guyton, Okla., served the wedding cake, while Mrs. Travis Spencer of Littlefield attended the guest registrar. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. T. W. Mackey of Littlefield and Mrs. Bryan Lester of Lubbock.

The new Mrs. Harnsberger donned a two-piece suit of cranberry pique with floral jacket and black patent accessories for a wedding trip to Estes Park.

Mrs. Ethridge Is B&PW Club Prexy

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening in the City Club Room for its regular monthly social and installation of new officers.

The out-going president, Mrs. Ruby Crocker, called the meeting to order and asked the group to repeat the Lord's Prayer, after which Mrs. Faye Eaton read the correspondence. Mrs. Hattie Harmon informed the club that the B&PW road signs had been erected on the highways and made a motion to send a card of thanks to the person responsible for the placement of these signs.

Mrs. Mattie Crowson presented an impressive installation, using a spring flower theme, explaining that the flower given to each officer represented the duties of her office. New officers being installed were: president, Mrs. Maxine Ethridge; vice president, Mrs. Virginia McDonald; recording secretary, Mrs. Faye Eaton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mabel Ford; and treasurer, Mrs. Elsie Gee. Each committee chairman was also given a flower which represented

Mrs. Maxine Ethridge

... duties of her chairmanship.

The out-going president, Mrs. Ruby Crocker, presented the president's pin to the newly elected president, Mrs. Maxine Ethridge, who in turn presented the past president's pin to Mrs.

Crocker. On behalf of the club, Mrs. Virginia McDonald presented Mrs. Crocker with a cut glass cruet.

The club room was decorated with a white trellis entwined with green grape vine and clusters of pink and purple grapes. Large bouquets of pink and red roses and spring garden flowers were arranged attractively on small end tables throughout the club room. Pink wisteria trees with colored birds, and bird nests perched on the limbs, were placed at either end of the trellis making a colorful garden setting.

Refreshments of green mint punch and cheese and pinwheel sandwiches were served from a table covered with a pink net cloth over pink linen, centered with a large centerpiece of red roses and white mock orange blossoms flanked by pink candles.

Guests attending were the club's "Girl of the Month" for May, Miss Pat Sims and her mother, Mrs. Howard Sims, and Mrs. Louise Martin. Thirty-four members were present.

Dear Abby.... Chromeless Dome Doesn't Mean Powerless Motor

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 49, but I am far from "old," if you know what I mean. A very prominent, well-to-do professional man (he is a widower) has asked to marry me. I've been a widow for six years. Melvin is very affectionate and full of fun, and he seems young at heart, but you never know. Please don't think I am silly, but a friend of mine, who was widowed twice and stung three times with older men, told me that men who lose their hair early in life do not have much "drive" romantically. (I hope you get what I am trying to put across.) I've known Melvin practically all my life. (His wife and I were good friends.) Melvin started to go bald in his late 20's and this worries me. I don't know what to believe. Is there any truth in what my friend says? Sign me . . .

and how much they love me! It is like rubbing salt in the wound. One son hasn't been in my home for three years, but every Mother's Day he sends an extravagant gift. I hope you'll find space in your column to let young daughters-in-law know that all their husbands' mothers want from them is to love their sons and to take good care of their families. And if they showed a little respect for an aging mother-in-law who might not be around too many more years, they wouldn't regret it. Thank you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FIGHTING MAD" AT OBERLIN: "Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise."

Abraham Lincoln

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of five. Last week my ever-lovin' husband went downtown all by himself and traded in a perfectly good two-year-old, five passenger sedan for a little two-seater sports car. What would you say he had in mind?

MAD

DEAR MAD: Himself.

DEAR ABBY: It is "always nice to be remembered with a gift on Mother's Day — even an inexpensive one, because it's the thought behind it that counts. When a gift is bought in the line of duty, it is meaningless. My sons married and live a short distance from me. I have never been a butting-in mother-in-law, but my sons' wives never cared much for me. I've never gone to their homes without an invitation, and those invitations were very rare. But the wives' families were always in and out, I wasn't missed. My sons slowly turned away from me. On Mother's Day I always get expensive gifts with beautiful cards with verses saying what a wonderful mother I am

Lois Baggerman, Robert Gable Say Vows

(Kenneth Butler Photo)

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Gobel . . . nee Lois Baggerman

Double-ring vows uniting Lois Baggerman of 1205 Farley St., and Robert T. Gabel of 420 Ballard, were performed at 6 p.m. May 22, in First Christian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wright of 1205 Farley St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Pearl Gabel of Liberal, Kan.

Rev. J. W. Duke officiated the exchange of vows before an altar appointed with baskets of pink gladioli and candelabra bearing white tapers.

Mrs. John Gill, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. For her wedding the bride chose a street-length gown fashioned of white lace over taffeta, featuring a rounded neckline that dipped low in the back, lace petal collar, short, scalloped sleeves and sheath skirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil of illusion secured by a seed pearl were the Misses Linda Ladd and Betty Baggerman.

For traveling to Colorado Springs, Colo., on a wedding trip, the bride changed into a pink linen sheath dress featuring a lace neckline and long sleeves. She wore the pink rosebud corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Gabel is a graduate of Pampa High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Lamar, Colo., High School, is presently employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Al Kelly, Mr. Roy Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barringer, all of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McDaniel and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wright and Mr. A. B. Coyle, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ambler and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Ellsworth and family of Spearman, and Mrs. Alice Payne and children of Liberal, Kan.

MEMOS FROM YOUR STYLIST

by Jackie and Edna

Tinted or bleached hair has an attraction all its own, but it calls for special care and attention to avoid dryness and to properly protect its color.

If dry brittle, hair of this type responds kindly to washing with a mild, nonstripping shampoo or more of the shampoos specifically designed for a specific hair coloring. Warm water should be used for tinted hair, somewhat cooler water for bleached or toned-hair. Care should be taken not to turn a dryer up to hot and towel-drying should be a gentle process.

Also keep in mind that the finest attention your hair can enjoy awaits you at our salon. # The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

THOUGHT FOR MEMORIAL DAY:

To Honor Those Who Died

Men who are willing to pour out their blood on a battlefield must have a very substantial reason for doing so.

They must have a conviction that is worth more to them than life itself.

This conviction commonly is called patriotism, or love of country.

What is love of country that men are willing to give up enjoyment of country in exchange for it?

We acknowledge that to some love of country is no more than a waving flag and a martial band.

We concede that to some love of country is no more than an emotional attachment to a well-defined segment of geography, to a language that is understood, to kinship.

Yet we submit that patriotism so based—despite the selfless quality in it—is not sufficient to the present day.

Our times call for a patriotism in depth. Modern events and trends demand a rational piercing of materialistic attachments. We must get behind the outward, the merely visible, and find the invisible basis of patriotic conviction. We must examine the cause of devotion to country.

Making that examination, we find that at the outset America attracted devotion from men of all nations because, it was the geographical embodiment of a set of ideals. Those ideals dealt with the nature of man and his destiny in creation. The core of those ideals is that man is free by right—free to pursue his own happiness, free to direct his own life and property, free to spend his own money or to save it, free to fail, free to succeed. The prevailing thought was that freedom leads to harmony among men, to the good life, to the constructive society.

So, on this Memorial Day of 1965 we salute the men who sacrificed everything for those ideals. The total aim of The News is, has been, and will be to make clear exactly what this freedom is that inspired men so they laid down their lives voluntarily. We know of no better way to honor them than to live for and work for those ideals that they died for.

SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

AMONG THINGS we didn't know until now is the fact that Southwestern Bell Telephone's Pampa office is getting an average of a half dozen calls a month wanting to know when phonevision is coming to Pampa. Phonevision is that telephone contraption where your girl friend has to be careful if you call her when she's in the tub. You appear on the caller's phonevision screen the minute you take down the receiver. To answer the questions, phonevision is at least ten years away from local installation. Only three cities in the U.S. have it now. They are New York City, Washington and Chicago. It's being installed in Los Angeles. George Newberry, local Southwestern Bell manager, says the talk is that phonevision should be ready for the general public by 1975. At that time, they figure, the cost to a subscriber probably will be only about $4 above the monthly phone rate. Right now the cost of phonevision is sky-high and strictly in the luxury class. In the three cities in which it is installed it can be used only on a long distance basis. For instance, a lady customer in Washington could call a store in Chicago, look at dresses and make a selection from her phonevision screen.

The Texas Employment Commission's local office is doing a good job trying to get summer work for Pampa teenagers. Incidentally, we know a 6-foot, 195-pound red-head who is among the summer job-seekers and he is willing to do anything from driving a garbage truck to assisting a bank president. Let us know if you need a good hired hand.

IF YOU are a cigarette smoker, better quit or get ready for a 5-cent per pack hike in price. Governor John Connally's $79 million tax package to finance the school teachers' pay raise scoots the Texas tax on cigarettes from 8 to 11 cents a package. Although the tax increase is only 3 cents, general opinion is that vending machines will charge a nickel more. Incidentally, you may have heard that voices are being raised in Congress for passage of a law requiring a "might-be-dangerous-to-health" notice on all cigarette packages. It would seem that anyone capable of reading a warning notice on a cigarette pack would also have sense enough to be aware of the alleged hazard it proclaims. If he could be influenced by such warning notice, he probably wouldn't have bought the cigarettes in the first place. And why stop there? Why not put warning labels on skate boards? ... or late hours ... or pointed instruments ... or whiskey bottles ... or blunt instruments ... or bathtubs ... or banana peels ... or wet feet. When you come to think about it seriously, the chances of reaching 65 don't look so good.

THE LOCAL medical society, according to one of its members, recently discussed a feature story that appeared in The Pampa News having to do with open-heart surgery. Apparently some of the good doctors didn't cotton to it. One of them described it as a "Ben Casey script." He says doctors' names should not be mentioned in connection with a story of that kind until it is definitely established that the operation was a success. One suspects the hippocratic oath is involved here somewhere and poor old Dr. Hippocrates probably flipped in his Grecian tomb. It is weighty problems like this that cause an editor sleepless nights.

THOSE CAPS and gowns used at high school commencement exercises get a real workout during the months of May and June. The 379 toppers and cloaks used for Pampa's Class of 1965 last Monday night had to be checked in immediately so they could be packed and shipped early next day to California where they were used Thursday night at Claremont High School.

Editor: Do you think it is possible to have a place where kids can skate on their skate boards? I got mine in California about two weeks before anyone had heard of them. In 1964 they were very popular and this year a magazine says they are going to be more popular than ever. Maybe the parking lot in front of the old Safeway store would be a good place. What do you think about some place for skate boards? Lynn Hart, age 10 1323 Mary Ellen.

Robert Kennedy Surprisingly Making Political Address At Lucey Testimonial in Milwaukee; White House Interested

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—White House insiders are evincing keenest interest in a political foray Senator Robert Kennedy has agreed to make into the Middle West. The ambitious younger brother of the late President is slated to address a $50-a-plate fundraising "testimonial" dinner for Lieutenant Governor Patrick Lucey in Milwaukee, Wis. To electioneering-conscious Democratic politicians, special significance is being attached to this appearance for the following reasons: — The still-to-be-ballyhooped Wisconsin sortie is a distinct departure from Kennedy's policy outside of New York State — of declining speaking invitations except an occasional one in behalf of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library. This month his only out-of-state address was at the dedication of the John Kennedy Special Services Center at Fort Bragg, N. C. Next month all of Kennedy's scheduled talks are at commencement exercises in his home state. — Wisconsin played a fateful role in his brother's hectic 1960 pre-convention campaign. He carried the state against the powerful opposition of then-Senator Hubert Humphrey, generally credited as being the favorite because of hailing from adjoining Minnesota. Lucey, in the forefront of that primary battle for Kennedy and close to both "Bobby" and his brother, Senator "Ted" Kennedy, Mass., has strong gubernatorial ambitions. He hasn't announced yet, but it's no secret he proposes to seek next year's Democratic gubernatorial nomination. — Similarly, it's also no secret that National Committeeman David Carley, Madison, is thinking along the same line. He is a close ally of Senator Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and has potent ties in the White House and National Committee. As attorney general, "Bobby" made no bones about dishing out Justice Department patronage to Wisconsin supporters of his late brother. Although Nelson was then governor, "Bobby" heeded the recommendations of then State Chairman Lucey. But it's very different now. Recently President Johnson appointed a Nelson choice for federal judge after the Senate refused to approve a Lucey-Kennedy selection. Thus, "Bobby's" going out of his way to boost Lucey's gubernatorial aspirations is causing much conjecture in Democratic circles. Big question being raised is whether "Bobby" is more interested in helping himself or Lucey! It's highly unlikely the President will personally take a hand in the Wisconsin gubernatorial scramble. But there are more ways than one to skin a cat — and he knows most of them. The White House is well aware "Bobby" has burning presidential hopes.

emphatically denying any connection with the publication, Senator Kennedy admits knowing about the widely-selling magazine-size booklet titled "Bobby Kennedy, Next President of the United States." Profusely illustrated, the 68-page, 50-cent publication claims to reveal the "inside story of how Bobby Kennedy will succeed President Johnson." Interspersed among the scores of action and other pictures are laudatory articles — "I Hate to be Second," says Bobby; "An Identity of Purpose and of Mannerisms (with his late brother)"; "What the Stars Say About Bobby's Presidential Hopes"; "So Much Needs to be Done"; "JFK Lit a Torch that Spread Across the World. We Must Keep that Torch Glowing." Since the start of this session of Congress, the two Kennedy brothers have openly challenged the President on six issues. Their latest fight was trying to write an anti-poll tax provision in the voting rights bill while narrowly licked, "Bobby" did succeed in putting over an amendment easing the literacy bars for foreign language voters.

FLASHES — Congressional and other callers are privately commenting about the President's increasing weight. Lawmakers who see him regularly are saying he is becoming markedly paunchy. After one White House affair last week, they noted the President appeared tired and his clothes rumpled. Said one legislator, "His trousers looked as if he had slept in them." Both President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey will speak at a June 24 congressional fundraising dinner in the capital. The $100-a-plate event, being billed as the biggest of its kind ever held, was shifted from June 3 to June 24 so the President could address a similar gathering in Chicago on the former date. Although the President is noted for his extensive use of the telephone, he somehow did not call Senator Margaret Chase Smith, R-Me., to thank her when she publicly applauded his prompt dispatch of U.S. troops to thwart a Communist grab in the Dominican Republic. Instead, she got a letter of appreciation from White House assistant Lawrence O'Brien — with whom Senator Smith is on distant terms. All members of Congress have received a 500-page book showing exactly how much money the Johnson Administration is pumping into their districts and states for poverty program projects this summer. The list totals $57.3 million in grants. Texas gets the largest number — 127 programs in 114 communities totaling $3.5 million. Another equally large compilation is due from the anti-poverty agency in several weeks. Senators blinked when South Carolina's rookie Donald Rus-

Ode to The Flag NEW YORK (NEA) — Hats off! Along the street there comes A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums, A flash of color beneath the sky. Hats off! The flag is passing by! So begins Henry Holcomb Bennett's poem, "The Flag Goes By."

We spent weeks and weeks in grade 5 B memorizing that poem, and consequently have no way of knowing whether it was any good or not. All we know is that it always comes to mind on Memorial Day, Flag Day and July 4.

And as this is the season of those dates, we feel it only right to recite some of Mr. Bennett's ode to the flag. After all, there are very few things that make a people into a nation — some history, a few documents, a bit of verse, a flag.

But we must confess that we were long past grade 5 B when we discovered that this country went into the Revolutionary War carrying not only a modified British Union flag but also a dozen other banners with strange devices such as snakes and trees.

Blue and crimson and white it shines. Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines. Hats off! The colors before us fly; But more than the flag is passing by.

To solve the confusion of all those flags, Congress passed a Flag Resolution on June 14, 1777. In 1779, John Paul Jones' little navy won a decisive victory over the British — under two distinctly different flags. Three years later, a sheet showing the flags of the world published in Paris pictured the U.S. flag with 12 white stars and one fleur-de-lis on the blue field.

In fact, long after the Civil War (depending on the seamstress) stars were white or gold, from five to eight-pointed, and arranged in rows, in acircle, in numerals or in designs. Sign of a nation, great and strong To ward her people from sell, D. joined with Senator Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., in lauding the appointment of James Doyle, Madison, as a federal district judge. Russell explained he has known Doyle since he was law clerk of then-Supreme Court Justice James Byrnes, later secretary of state in the Truman Cabinet and governor of South Carolina.

Representative Silvio Conte, R-Mass., was seated at a table with several big Democratic campaign contributors at a recent White House dinner. After they had exchanged notes on how much they had donated, one asked Conte how much he had given. He replied with a chuckle, "Nothing, I'm a Republican."

Question Box

Question: — "Why do so many people believe in the power of eminent domain? What is the answer needed to convince them that in the long run it is not beneficial to mankind?"

Answer: Probably the reason so many people believe in the "right" of eminent domain is that it is a hangover from beliefs in the divine right of kings, the divine right of governments, or the divine right of the majority. These old beliefs are hard for most people to shed. They cling to what they have heard for years. They do not like to have their beliefs questioned. They are well satisfied with their understanding of the center of the universe. It was the same for centuries in the belief that the earth was the center of the universe. Those who questioned this belief or opposed it were persecuted and some even burned at the stake.

It would seem that the best answer to refute the "right" of eminent domain, that is the power of eminent domain — as it isn't a right — is that it denies the right of private property. It leaves the impression that we get our property and the right to maintain it from the state rather than from nature, providence, or the Creator.

It is, in short, attempting to serve two masters — the state and the laws of the universe. When people attempt to serve two masters the result, sooner or later, is catastrophe. Of course, the power of eminent domain was not exercised in the past to the extent it is today.

One of the hardest things to get people to see is how roads could be built without the power of eminent domain. The railroads — used to take options on land before they had the power of eminent domain, and if they couldn't build the road as planned because of someone holding them up for a fantastic price, they went back to those who had given options and were interested and explained to them that perhaps they could have an influence on the one who was holding out or they would reduce their price so the builder could afford to be held up. They would point out that the railroads or the roads added to the value of property and benefited everyone.

The man who objected to the building of the road would eventually be so ostracized that he probably would move away and sell to another person who would permit the road or railroad to go through, or sooner or later he would die and the heirs might see the fallacy of their father's mistake.

When we in the United States follow the power of eminent domain, it is hard for us to protect property of U.S. citizens in foreign countries. We are not setting a good example to the rest of the world, and the best way to help the rest of the world is for our government and our people to set an example of respecting private property and having all exchanges and creative energy on a voluntary basis.

The sooner we believe that no one or group should ever initiate force, but get what he or she obtains on a voluntary basis where both parties in the exchange make a profit, the better off we will be.

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Sunday, May 30, the 150th day of 1965 with 215 to follow. This is Memorial Day. The moon is new. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Mars. American actress and author Cornelia Otis Skinner was born on this day in 1901.

On this day in history: In 1431, Joan of Arc, the Maid of Orleans was burned at the stake in Rouen, France, at the age of 19.

In 1863 an unfounded report that the Brooklyn Bridge was about to collapse resulted in an outbreak of panic and 12 persons were trampled to death.

In 1942, Britain's Royal Air Force made its first "thousand bomber" raid on the German target of Cologne.

In 1964, A. J. Foyt won the Indianapolis-500 road race. Drivers Eddie Sachs and Dave MacDonald were killed in a crackup on the second lap.

A thought for the day: Poet Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote: "A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere. Before him, I may think aloud."

Wit and Whimsy

The young journalist was sent to get a personal interview with the wealthy old Scotch merchant. His paper desired a human interest story on how he had accumulated his riches.

Old Man — Woel, it's a long story. And while I'm telling it we may as well save the candle. (Wherewith he blew it out.) Reporter — Never mind about the story, I understand.

Charles Lamb, the famous English essayist, stammered slightly when excited. A fond mother irritated him one day by dangling her infant in front of his face and gushing: Fond Mother: Oh, Mr. Lamb, do tell me how do you like babies.

Mr. Lamb — I like 'em b-b-boiled, ma'm. B-boiled!

Men say of women what pleases them; women do with men what pleases them.

Contentment is a mental condition that consists of not knowing any better.

foreign wrong: Pride and glory and honor — all Live in the colors to stand or fall.

By 1794, Congress overruled objections by ship owners that a new flag would be too costly, and rewrote the Flag Resolution — calling for 15 stars and 15 stripes. But the flag over the Navy yard had nine stripes. The Customs office flag had 13 stripes, vertical. And most other flags around town had 15.

And so it went, until in 1912 a presidential order finally described the flag once and for all — proportion, star points, arrangement.

Hats off! Along the street there comes A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums. And loyal hearts are beating high: Hats off! The flag is passing by!

As for Betsy Ross and her flag, we have not been able to find anything out one way or the other. But the history books say that America was still using the British Union flag when she was supposed to have stitched up the first Stars and Stripes. And as for the flag today, we have it on the authority of several flag makers that at least four out of 10 flags displayed show only 48 stars.

WASHINGTON:

Reds Using Youth Clubs To Agitate

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs or their members have been exceedingly active on the fringes of many of the protests, demonstrations and marches objecting to U. S. actions in Viet Nam.

Du Bois Clubs participated in the April 17 March on Washington. Their members have been identified in teach-ins and demonstrations at points as scattered as Chicago, Los Angeles, Madison and New York. They have been active in helping circulate petitions in which young men pledge not to serve in the U. S. Army in Viet Nam.

Du Bois Club members jumped in the fringes of the University of California riots to do what they could to stir things up, make things rougher and keep the fight going — though they were not in control.

Members joined in the Alabama civil rights march. Again they were on the fringes to stir up what trouble they could.

In most cases, as noted above, they have not been the prime movers or leaders. They've moved in — always in the background — in attempts to mold the movements in the direction they wanted and to prevent (if they could) moderates from having their way. In some cases they have succeeded; in others they have failed.

The organization is now believed to have 35 clubs on college campuses with a combined membership of over 1,000.

It is appropriate therefore, to look into the history of this curious group.

In October 1963, Gus Hall, secretary general of the U. S. Communist Party, proposed setting up a new national Marxist youth organization.

Within a month, delegates were summoned to a conference in Chicago, where they were joined by Hall and Mortimer Daniel Rubin, then U. S. Communist Party National Youth director.

Those delegates adopted Hall's proposal to compile a list of "initiators" who would meet in December and issue a call for a national founding convention. The "initiators" met as scheduled in Chicago December 28 and 29, 1963. They decided to hold the founding convention in June 1964.

San Francisco was selected for the national co-ordinating office of the "initiators." Three regional co-ordinators were named, all Communist Party members.

In March, 1964, the call for the founding convention was circulated. It described the new group as a "socialist youth organization," said the central concerns would be peace, peaceful coexistence, democracy, freedom and disarmament. The call was signed by 21 youths, many of whom were members of the U. S. Communist Party.

The national convention attracted almost 500 young people. A considerable number traveled at Communist Party expense.

San Francisco was chosen as national headquarters for the organization, which adopted the name W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs of America. (The late Dr. William E. B. Du Bois was a crusader for civil rights and supporter of Communist fronts. He joined the U. S. Communist Party at the age of 93). Five regions were set up: East, South, Midwest, Southwest and West.

The convention chose Philip Chapin Davis, formerly of Albany, Ga., as national Du Bois president and Carl Bloice as national director of publications.

Davis attended a U. S. Communist Party recruiting class in October, 1962. Bloice is on People's World, a West Coast Communist newspaper. He is a member of the San Francisco County Committee, Northern California District of the U. S. Communist Party.

WHO, ME? A couple went to call on their new neighbors. As they entered the door, a grimy little boy playing in the yard rushed in with them. He turned somersaults in the floor, meddled into everything available, and even went uncorrected when he broke a vase and spilled water over the carpet.

Curbing her anger the hostess asked: "How old is your little boy?" "Our little boy?" they gasped. "We thought — he was yours!"

We sometimes bend over backward when the Communists and atheists provoke us to wrath, thinking it is "somebody else's" duty to put them in their places, when that "somebody else" is wondering the same about us. If we had all been patriotic enough we would have made a concerted protest against atheist Madalyn Murray when she incited the Supreme Court to take Bible reading and prayer out of our schools, and tried to have our national motto, "In God We Trust," removed from our coins. Instead, we did nothing until the damage was done.

American tourists tell us that every 100 miles throughout Russia, there are road signs showing their motto, and a serene, studious woman reading a big, black book, one hand on the book, the other on a child at her side. The book has taken the place of the Bible. It was written by Karl Marx or Lenin. These road signs thrust themselves in the faces of travelers advertising to the world that Russia's religion is Communism.

We want someone to do something to save our country. It is so stupid that they don't. We would do it ourselves if we could just get started.

Cigarette Gave England Great New Singer

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — It's a good thing for both Tommy Steele and audiences in England and America that he once made an uncontrollable urge to smoke a cigarette.

Because he was caught smoking while on fire watch on the S. Mauretania, he was sacked.

While waiting to be rehired, he did what any 19-year-old would do in London. He went to a local coffee house where he played his guitar and sang in exchange for "coffee and tin spaghetti."

Five days later, he was discovered. Shortly after that he made a record called "Rock With the Cave Men," a spoof of rock 'n' roll songs. The recording was taken seriously and within two weeks was a best seller.

That was nine years ago. It has taken Tommy that long to cross the Atlantic because he was too busy being a huge success in England. Up to a month ago you could mention his name to Americans and only if you described him as "English rock 'n' roll star" could you get a glimmer of recognition.

Then he literally burst on the Broadway scene as the star of "Half a Sixpence," a beguiling musical, and his name — at least in New York — isn't unknown anymore.

He's a slight, ash blond with blue eyes and more teeth per square inch of face than any actor on Broadway. He sings, dances, plays a rousing banjo, is a totally believable and feeling actor. With one exception, he is in every musical number in the show. When the musical is over, he stands stage center, perspiration dripping off his face and acknowledges the audience's cheers and foot stamping with a grin so big it threatens to break

"They don't do that in London," Tommy said. "So it was a surprise when they began here. But it was a pleasant one."

Tommy Steele was born in Bermondsey, the dock area of London, 28 years ago. Traces of cockney accent are still noticeable in his speech. His father is "a bookmaker of sorts — he goes to the track" (it's legal in England) and his mother a former factory worker. Tommy is the oldest of a family of three sons and a daughter. "I'm four years older than Colin who is three years older than Roy who is five years older than Sandra."

When he was 15, he left school and joined the merchant marine. He was a helmsman on the Queen of Bermuda, and eventually a gym instructor on the Mauretania.

"It was the best life in the world. The food was excellent, we had the best passengers and happy crews."

On the ship, he learned how to pay the guitar.

After his rock 'n' roll record came out, Tommy became a teen-age idol. He stayed one until 1960, then made a big decision.

"I wanted to exist a bit longer in show business and I wanted to learn my trade. So I cut myself away. I stopped recording and I stopped performing."

Six months later, Tommy was back at his trade an adult performer. "It took me about a year and a half to convince adults to come see if I had changed."

Now a member of Old Vic, where he performed Tony Lumpkin in "She Stoops to Conquer," and a veteran of Royal Command Performances, Tommy is solidly established. On stage he is all bounce and exuberance. But in person, he is soft-spoken and sure of what is good for his career.

"I don't mind making films, providing the script is correct. I have made several in England, all bad."

Tommy's manager, Larry Parnes, interrupted to say that was not true. "He made six films, three good and three excellent."

There is no end to Tommy's talent, since he also writes short stories. "When I get home of a night, some pangs of inspiration hit me," he smiled.

For the next several months, Tommy will be writing from New York. He has a 10-month contract with the play and he and his wife, former dancer Anne Donoughue, have settled down in one of the city's better hotels.

Ask Tommy what he wants out of life, and he doesn't hesitate a second in his answer. "Health and happiness. I have both. I would like to keep them."

Real French Tang In 'Made in Paris'

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — As it must to all motorcyclists, a ticket came to Ann-Margaret. This was her first serious brush with the law.

"I could have cried," Ann said.

She got it for crossing a double white line. And she says she thinks if she hadn't been an actress, she might have gotten off with a warning.

"But he was one of those cops," she says, "who likes to give tickets to stars."

I was talking to her in her dressing room at MGM, where she has begun work on "Made in Paris." And I was struck, as I always am when I'm with her, by the incongruity of it all. Here she was, the picture of femininity surrounded by pink furniture and yellow roses and pictures of Roger Smith, talking about something as masculine as motorcycles.

(Incidentally, I wonder if when she marries Roger Smith she'll call herself Ann-Smith?)

"I'm getting a new motorcycle," she said. "Black-and-silver."

And then the femininity returned — "I'll have to get a black-and-silver costume to match."

Dick Crenna is one of Ann's three leading men in "Made in Paris." The others are Louis Jourdan and Chad Everett. Crenna's last movie was "John Goldfarb," star of screen and law courts.

"You know," Dick said, "there may be a lawsuit over

Five Candidates Seen as Successor To Cardinal Meyer

By LOUIS CASSELS
WASHINGTON (UPI)—There are five leading candidates for a cardinal's red hat, and leadership of the largest Catholic archdiocese in the United States, archdiocese in the United States, sources said Friday.

One will be selected to succeed the late Albert Cardinal Meyer as the archbishop of Chicago, the leader of 1,800,000 Catholics and 3,000 priests. A new archbishop is virtually assured of prompt elevation to the College of Cardinals.

The see has been vacant since Cardinal Meyer died of cancer on April 9.

Pope Paul VI is expected to name the new archbishop within the coming month, and possibly as early as next Wednesday. Appointments to the hierarchy customarily are announced on Wednesdays.

It is always possible that the Pope will choose a dark horse who has not figured in speculation. The best-informed Catholic circles believe that the choice will fall upon one of these men:

List Of Candidates

—The Most Rev. Leo Binz, 64, archbishop of St. Paul.

—The Most Rev. Ernest Primeau, 55, bishop of Manchester, N. H.

—The Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, 48, president of Notre Dame University.

—The Most Rev. John J. Wright, 55, bishop of Pittsburgh.

—The Most Rev. Charles H. Helmsing, 47, bishop of Kansas City.

Archbishop Binz is regarded as the most conservative of the five prospects. For that reason, he would be likely to find favor with the apostolic delegate to the United States, Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, whose recommendation may carry some weight with Pope Paul.

Also in favor of Archbishop Binz is the fact that he served for seven years as an aide to Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, former apostolic delegate to the United States who is now Vatican secretary of state.

Other Factors

Militating against the Binz candidacy are his age, and the long-standing tradition of appointing relatively liberal prelates to the Chicago post. (By custom, New York is America's "conservative" see, Chicago the "liberal" see.)

Bishop Primeau is an urbane and articulate prelate who attracted the attention of European church leaders with several excellent speeches at the sessions of the Vatican council. He is considered a leader of the progressive wing of the U.S. hierarchy. He has the additional advantages of having served 20 years in Rome and being a close personal friend of Pope Paul. He is a native of Chicago and extremely popular with its clergy.

Father Hesburgh — only one of the five prospects who is not already a member of the Episcopate — is one of the leading Catholic intellectuals in the United States, and long has been considered in line for one of the major sees. He is well known to the Pope, and represents the Vatican on the international atomic energy agency. Some observers believe that if he is passed over for the Chicago post, it may mean that the Pope is saving him to become archbishop of Los Angeles when 79-year-old James Francis Cardinal McIntyre dies.

Progressive Bishop
Bishop Wright is a widely respected member of the progressive wing, who has served with distinction on the key theological commission of the Vatican council. He also has proved himself an able administrator in the Pittsburgh diocese — which will be no small consideration in choosing a man to run the vast network of Catholic parishes, schools and hospitals in Chicago. There is some speculation however, that he may be held in reserve as a logical successor to ailing, 70-year-old Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston. Bishop Wright is a native of Boston and formerly was its auxiliary bishop.

Bishop Helmsing, a protégé of Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, is probably the most liberal of the five prospects. He has acquired national reputation during his three years as bishop of Kansas City for his vigorous programs of liturgical reform and for giving the laity a more responsible role in church life. He also has provided ecclesiastical shelter to the National Catholic Reporter, a sprightly weekly newspaper of decided liberal bent.
