Kansas City Girl Is Abducted by Bandit

Youngster Taken in Robbery

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A 9-year-old girl, asleep at a motel operated by her grandparents, apparently was kidnaped by a gunman after a $200 robbery early today.

Red-haired Denise Clinton of nearby Independence, daughter of the service manager of an automobile agency, was believed seized by a bandit who rang the bell at the motel office shortly after 2 a.m.

He forced Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds, about 50, the child's grandmother, to open the cash register. After binding Mrs. Reynolds and her husband, Chelsea Reynolds, with adhesive tape he had brought with him, he left both on a bed in a rear room. When they freed themselves, Denise was missing.

The child had been sleeping on a divan in the living room, no more than 10 feet from the office where the robbery occurred. Police theorized that the bandit came across her on his way out and decided, on impulse, to take her.

If she screamed, her cries were not heard.

Hours later, no major clues had been uncovered, police said. They indicated they were consulting unofficially with the FBI.

Names of the girl's parents were withheld because police did not want their Independence address to become public knowledge. They went to the motel where Denise frequently visited, immediately after the kidnaping.

The family was described as "moderately prosperous."

Lt. Elza Hatfield of the police department's major case unit sent a helicopter into the air to aid in a search concentrated initially in a wooded area near the hotel. Roadblocks went up throughout the area and police began a concentrated patrol of side roads.

"There is nothing to conclude except that she has been kidnaped," Hatfield said.

The girl apparently did not cry out when she was taken, he said, adding that she was sleeping about 10 feet from the office.

Only one man, armed with a blue steel revolver, was seen, but police said others might be involved.

They broadcast a pickup order for a white man about 30 years old, 5 feet 10 inches to 6 feet tall and weighing about 130 pounds.

The girl was wearing a blue checked night gown but police said the clothing she wore Wednesday, dark blue shorts and a red and white blouse, were missing and possibly were taken by the kidnaper.

No one at the motel saw a car, according to first reports but the state highway patrol said a white automobile, possibly a 1962 Ford was sought in connection with the case.

Police said the kidnaper obtained about $200 in the holdup.

Search Intensified For Ex-Convicts After Six Hostages Are Released

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Law enforcement officers clamped a tight lid of secrecy today around the search for two desperate ex-convicts suspected of murder, bank robbery and the kidnaping of six persons in Oregon.

The hunt for the two desperadoes was concentrated near here when the six hostages were released unharmed late Wednesday night.

The hostages were questioned immediately by law enforcement officials and spirited away to a secret hiding place. The ex-convicts had threatened to return and kill all six if police were notified of their release before today.

Byron Wheeler, FBI supervisor in San Francisco, said the federal agency had filed kidnap-ing warrants for the arrest of the pair at Portland, Ore., and had been in contact with the kidnap victims.

But other than that the FBI responded with a terse, "no comment," and state county and city law enforcement agents referred all questions to the FBI.

The six persons released in nearby Woodland were identified as Mrs. Shirley Corbin, 33; her son, Clinton, 12, Mr. and Mrs. Uldis Riekstins, of Renton, Wash., and two persons believed to be the Riekstins' son and an unidentified adult.

Authorities said the suspects abducted Mrs. Corbin and her son early Wednesday in Springfield, Ore., and commandeered the Washington family's pickup truck in the mountains of central Oregon, where Mrs. Corbin's car became bogged down in the mud.

It was not immediately clear why the ex-convicts released the six hostages.

The suspects are Carl Cletus Bowles, 24, and Wilfred M. Gray, 30, both of whom were released recently from Oregon State Prison. Gray also has served time in New York institutions.

They are believed responsible for an eight-hour reign of terror in western Oregon Tuesday which included a $13,400 bank robbery, the shotgun-pistol slaying of a rookie deputy sheriff and the abduction of Mrs. Corbin and her son.

Romney Was Nixon Choice in '64 Race

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Michigan Gov. George Romney has denied a published report he was on the "edge of decision" about entering the 1964 Republican presidential nomination contest eventually won by Barry Goldwater.

But Romney, who already is considered a top contender for the 1968 nomination, also said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon urged him "on four separate occasions" to enter the race in an attempt to head off Goldwater's almost certain nomination.

Romney commented on a book by newsmen Theodore H. White, "The Making of the President — 1964," in which White said the Michigan governor was the leading candidate "for four or five hours" at the now-famous Cleveland governors' conference in June, 1964.

According to White, Romney pulled out of a coalition of liberal Republican governors formed to support his candidacy after aides told him two major Detroit newspapers would "beat his brains out" if he took the lead nationally and foresook his campaign for reelection to a second term as Michigan's governor.

"I never talked to anyone in Detroit," Romney said, "and I never put myself in a candidate position. I have made this quite clear."

"White wasn't even in Cleveland," Romney said, "and some of his statements in the book about my activities there are inaccurate. The fact is, Nixon did urge me to become the candidate and told me to say that he had done so."

"I said I would go out and fight for important political principles and for a good Republican platform, but would not become a candidate unless I were honestly drafted."

According to White's book, Republican Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and James A. Rhodes of Ohio tried to persuade Romney to spearhead a stop-Goldwater drive.

White said they settled on Romney after former President Dwight D. Eisenhower backed off from his support of a possible bid by Scranton. But Romney refused to break his commitment to Michigan voters not to get involved with national politics in 1964.

"There was no question at any time that I might break that promise," Romney said.

Europeans Fear U.S. Corporate Giants Moving In WASHINGTON (UPI) — A high administration official today sought to calm European fears that U.S. corporate giants are threatening to devour European industry.

Assistant Commerce Secretary Andrew F. Brimmer said that while "quite a few" European companies have been bought up with American money, by far the greater part of the dollars invested in Europe have gone to set up new companies or to expand firms already established well before World War II.

"On the whole, the U.S. share of total European industry is quite small and is not growing at a rate much out of line with over-all growth in Europe," Brimmer said. His remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery before the American Club of Paris and released in the French capital and in Washington.

Some Europeans, French President Charles de Gaulle among them, have expressed dismay over what they describe as the "expropriation" of European industry by U.S. money.

But Brimmer noted that Europeans have about $33 billion invested in the United States — some $6 billion more than Americans have invested in Europe.

He said that in 1963 European affiliates of U.S. companies accounted for only about 7.5 per cent of Europe's total investment in new plants and equipment. He admitted, however, that in some industries, the proportion is "much higher."

Brimmer said there are "many ways" in which U.S. investment in Europe contributes to a stronger European economy. He listed these benefits from direct U.S. investment on the continent:

—By building refineries and pipelines, U.S. oil companies have provided "a vital underpinning" for the postwar growth of European industry.

—U.S. manufacturing affiliates supply Europe with products that either would not be available there or would be expensive to import.

—U.S. firms operating in Europe provide a "rapid transmission" of industrial techniques that helps make European industry more competitive.

Battles Erupt In Viet Nam Zone D

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Army paratroopers killed more than 100 Communist guerrillas in War Zone D Wednesday but the decisive victory was offset today when the Viet Cong smashed a Vietnamese battalion in the same general area.

Four American military advisers were missing in today's action 37 miles northwest of Saigon and heavy losses were feared among the Vietnamese troops.

An American military spokesman said a lone straggler escaped from the battlefield and reported that the unit was ambushed shortly before noon.

There was no word on the fate of the four Americans accompanying the battalion.

The paratroop victory Wednesday was scored in the jungles of Zone D 30 miles north of Saigon.

Most of the guerrillas were killed in two pitched battles. In each, at least 150 Viet Cong resisted the paratroopers from entrenched positions in the heavily forested area.

The spokesman said American casualties were "substantially lighter" than those inflicted on the Communists. He refused, however, to give any precise figures, citing security reasons.

Unofficial reports said one paratrooper was killed and four others wounded in Zone D fighting Wednesday.

The American troops are part of a 4,500-force of U.S., Vietnamese and Australian soldiers who have been sweeping through Zone D on a search and destroy mission since Tuesday.

In other action during the past 24 hours, an American Marine was killed and a U.S. Air Force pilot was presumed captured after his jet fighter bomber was shot down over North Viet Nam. Six Americans were wounded in three separate incidents.

The Viet Cong attack on Kontum was the latest in a series on the highlands where the Communists seem determined for a monsoon season showdown with American and South Vietnamese troops.

The guerrillas lobbed about a dozen mortar shells into the Kontum garrison, then fell silent when the big Howitzers answered back with a heavy barrage.

The assault followed the usual guerrilla pattern of mortar "feelers" in advance of human (See VIET NAM, Page 3)

U.S. Jets Ready To Bomb Red Missile Bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Military sources indicate that the U.S. Air Force is prepared to knock out antiaircraft missile bases around the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi if they get a go ahead from the White House.

So far, the important government and industrial targets centered in Hanoi and the nearby port of Haiphong have been spared in the bombing attacks by U.S. planes, although strikes have been carried out as close as 40 miles from the capital.

The only official comment from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara about the possibility of attacks on the sites came several weeks ago when he said, without elaboration, that U.S. forces have means of dealing with the bases if necessary.

Attention was refocused on the missile site Tuesday when the State Department said construction had started on two more, bringing the total to four.

So far no missiles have been erected on the bases, but this could be either because of delays in delivering the weapons or because launching crews still are being trained.

The view at the Pentagon is that at the present stage the bases could be knocked out either by low-level bombing from jet fighter bombers, or by high-level strikes from the far-ranging B42s which have now struck three times in South Viet Nam from their distant base on Guam.

President Johnson is believed to be extremely reluctant to permit bombing in the Hanoi area, because it would be regarded as another escalation of the war and might injure the chances of negotiations to end the conflict.

The final decision may rest on whether the administration is forced to conclude that there is no possibility of negotiations involving the Hanoi regime.

Teachers Get Pay Adjustment

By DALLAS DEWEES — The Pampa school board today adjusted salaries of approximately 200 classroom teachers to meet salary increases granted in the $102 million teachers' pay bill recently approved by the 59th Texas Legislature.

After lengthy discussion, the board approved new salary base minimums set by the state and voted to retain the local school district's $600 figure above state requirements for teachers with a bachelor's degree and the $675 above for teachers with a master's degree.

Immediately following the classroom teachers' pay approval, the board adjourned and went into "executive session" to discuss salary adjustments for administrative personnel.

Newsmen were barred from the meeting.

The teacher salary increase bill was signed into law recently by Gov. John Connally and becomes effective in September.

The pay increases will add $10 a month to the base salary on the bachelor's degree and $19 a month to the base pay on the master's degree.

All increments for teaching experience are increased immediately from $108 a year to $117, with a maximum of 12 years on the bachelor degree and 18 years on the master degree.

The new salary ranges in the minimum schedule are: bachelor's degree, $4,104 in the first year to $5,508 in the 12th year of experience; master's degree, $4,410 for the first year to $6,516 in the 18th year. These are minimum base figures. As applied to Pampa, $600 is added to the state's minimum for each year on the bachelor's degree and an additional $675 on the master's degree.

The teacher pay increase in the Pampa school district will amount to around $160,000 annually with the state and local district splitting it 50-50.

The state also provides $25 per teacher for supplementary salary raises. The local district will match this $25 and it is designed to supplement salaries of teachers with shorter experience who are at the low end of the new state salary schedule.

This supplementary provision operates on an 80-20 state-local matching formula.

In other business the board set 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, Aug. 24, as date and time for the annual budget hearing. The hearing will be held in the regular meeting place in Pampa Junior High School.

Bids also were asked to supply school cafeterias with milk during the 1965-66 school year. The bids will be opened at the Aug. 12 meeting of the board.

Lion Trainer Clyde Beatty Fighting Battle With Cancer

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) — Clyde Beatty, America's most famous animal trainer, today was fighting what appeared to be a losing fight against cancer.

Beatty, 62, was reported in "poor" condition in Memorial Community Hospital. His wife, Jane, said he was in critical condition when he entered the hospital Tuesday night.

Attendants reported Beatty was suffering from pulmonary embolism, but Mrs. Beatty said it was cancer.

"He is fighting against a fatal enemy," she told newsmen, "with a courage he showed throughout his life."

A resident of this coastal city 60 miles north of Los Angeles, Beatty underwent stomach surgery last year. He resumed his career last April on Long Island, but had a hemorrhage and returned home.

Several years ago, Beatty estimated that he had been hospitalized about 60 times for injuries caused by cats he said could be trained but never tamed.

Many times he escaped death narrowly, particularly in 1952, when two animals attacked him.

In 1952 Beatty almost lost his leg when Nero, his most trusted lion, turned on him.

Besides training animals, Beatty also once owned his own circus and starred in several movies, starting in 1933 with "The Big Cage."

SILLY SEASON BRINGS STRANGE THINGS Even Pineapples Are Being Made Square

By H. D. QUIGG — The moon, if it sticks to its timetable, will be full on Tuesday, and it's smack on the brink of the annual cosmic rendezvous between full moon and silly season. This brings forth strange things.

Here below, we're already warming up for the long hot summer.

Even pineapples are going square. Word has just arrived — probably traveling by broomstick — that in Australia officials have reported that the Alston Tropical Research Station is developing a square pineapple.

"It is intended for canning," the announcement said, "developed to produce a more canned fruit, less wasteful in the canner."

Presumably, also, although the announcement did not say so, the square shape will be a boon to pineapple pickers working on hillsides: It would keep the fallen product on the premises.

This improvement on nature, while noteworthy, cannot match in noble context the endeavor of the late Samuel Untermyer of New York in the 1930's — the wedding of alcoholic beverages with growing melons by the grafting of wine, whisky, and brandy bottles onto the green but ripening fruit while it was still on the vine.

This project never got off the ground — and out of the jug — onto the stands, but for a couple of summers it was a much-watched research project. And one worthy of resumed study by some dedicated humanitarian.

The strange — things season also is upon sex goddess Sophia Loren. At her Italian bigamy trial, a group of Italian mothers has made a statement to the court that "this Sophia Loren is not a heroine and not even a great actress, but just another woman." Just another woman. Strange things are happening.

And then, in Chicago, a phantom voice turns up on the police radios on the North Side. "No tickets are being issued," it advised. Then it explained: "No pay raise, no tickets...and thank you." Some motorists were inclined to reply, "and thank YOU."

The phantom's advice was coincident with the reported stoppage of traffic-ticket-writing by some policemen in protest against the legislature's failure to vote them a raise. But no man could say — or, at least, did say — whence came the phantom voice.

Finally, in New York Friday — three days before full moon an eighth candidate is scheduled to announce for mayor. There have been five Democrats, one Republican, and one conservative — but all men.

The newest is a pretty, hazel-eyed, brown-haired lady, age 36, smart, and of ideal political stature — 34-20-34.

Her name is Mrs. Peggy Hoening, she's in favor of square dancing at the national dance, her campaign headquarters will be open from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. in the Art Foods Delicatessen in Greenwich Village — but all this fades when put beside a prime plank in her platform:

"Women's dresses should be lowered — down to two inches above the ankle."

"My husband thinks I have very pretty legs," she said. "He doesn't mind your covering them?" "He wants them all to himself," she campaigned.

IT'S THE LAW

ACT OF GOD

Ask an atheist what is an act of God and he will say: "Nothing."

Ask a fundamentalist and he may well say: "Everything."

But in law, the phrase "act of God" had nothing to do with religion. The law sits in judgment only on the acts of man. Calling an event an act of God is merely the law's way of saying it is not an act of man.

This distinction can be important indeed.

Suppose, for example, that a bolt of lightning strikes a tree in your back yard, toppling it onto the neighbor's garage. Obviously you did not hurl that lightning bolt. Nor could you have prevented the harm it inflicted.

Having played no role in the event, you are not legally liable for the damage. "Act of God" is a good defense.

But suppose the tree fell not only because of the lightning but also because it was badly rotted. Although you had known for some time that it might fall, you had neglected to take any precautions.

Surely, if God caused the lightning in the first case, He caused it in the second case as well. But now your own negligence played a key role in the outcome. Therefore, "act of God" is not a good defense. You could be held liable.

When should a lapse of nature be foreseen and guarded against? There is no easy answer. Thus, precautions fair to expect in a tornado belt might be unfair to expect in an area where tornadoes are unknown. A careful person makes due allowance, under all the circumstances, for the nature of the nature will kick up a fuss.

Most act of God cases involve weather. But not all. In one instance, a farmer sued his neighbor for crop damage caused by water leaking from a drainage canal. The neighbor replied: "My canal did leak, but only because of holes dug by gophers. Since I didn't catch those gophers to dig, I am not to blame. This should be considered an act of God."

But the court held that, even if the digging could be called an act of God, gopher damage was common enough to have been foreseen and prevented. The court might well have reminded the defendant of Milton's admonition in "Paradise Lost."

"The worm that winnows seeds, / Lays his fat head to the fallow, / And his long nose to the furrow, / And he will labour all the year, / To feed the farmer's sheep: / And he will bleed himself for them, / To have them fed with worms."

"The worm that winnows seeds, / Lays his fat head to the fallow, / And his long nose to the furrow, / And he will labour all the year, / To feed the farmer's sheep: / And he will bleed himself for them, / To have them fed with worms."

Bell Company Names New Wire Chief

W. C. Sluder, building and supplies supervisor for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Lubbock has been named supervising wire chief for the company in Pampa. Sluder will succeed Jack Luce who has been transferred to Ft. Worth.

Sluder has been with the telephone company since 1947 when he started as a lineman. He was later promoted to construction foreman at Ft. Worth. He was named plant foreman for the company in Big Spring in 1954 and promoted to wire chief there in 1956. He was promoted to quality results supervisor in the company's division headquarters office in Lubbock three years later and named building and supplies supervisor there in 1960.

MIGHTY BIG BUG — Looking like a giant bug running wild in a horror movie, the first model of PATA (pneumatic all terrain amphibian), a rubber-tracked vehicle with a 1½-ton capacity cargo hold, is being tested by the Army. Inflated air cells in the treads permit travel over tundra, mud or open water. It's produced by the Michigan Division of Ling-Temco-Vought.

Top O' Texans Call on New Pampa Businesses

Members of the Top O' Texans Club called on 16 new businesses and new managers in Pampa this morning as part of their public relations program for the Chamber of Commerce.

Wearing their newly acquired uniforms, the Top O' Texans split up in groups of three's and four's in making their welcoming visits.

Club president Floyd Watson said that members were enthusiastically received and that a series of similar visits to new business firms is planned for the future.

British Emissary Flies to Hanoi

LONDON (UPI) — A special British emissary arrived in Hanoi today to sound out Viet Nam peace prospects with the Communist regime, government sources said.

The emissary was identified as Harold Davies, 61, a junior minister in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government. He is expected to meet leaders of the Communist government and to report back by the weekend their latest reaction to possible moves toward ending the war.

Davies is a member of the Labor party's left wing and is said to have many contacts in both the Far East and the Soviet Union. He was a member of a parliamentary delegation which visited North Viet Nam in 1957.

Diplomatic officials here were skeptical of the chances of success of the secret mission despite the fact it was initiated by the Hanoi government a few days ago.

The move was seen as an indication of Wilson's determination not to give up his plans for a commonwealth peace mission on the Viet Nam crisis. Hanoi, Peking and Moscow have rejected such a proposal. Last week Davies was approached by two Communist North Vietnamese journalists with a suggestion that he should visit Hanoi. The journalists are accredited in London.

However, the Communist journalists said the request for a visit to Hanoi had come from Davies who approached them. He was subsequently granted a visa. They denied he had been invited by the Hanoi government and characterized his trip as a "personal visit."

He left London earlier this week, en route to Laos and Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital. Details were kept secret until today.

It was reported that members of the commonwealth peace mission were consulted and they agreed to the project. The development set off considerable speculation as to Hanoi's intentions. It was noted that North Viet Nam, which clearly bypassed the commonwealth peace mission, sought out a left wing member of the Labor government.

It is this faction in Wilson's party that has been applying pressure for a negotiated peace in Viet Nam. Some of its more extreme followers are demanding that Britain abandon support of the American policy in Southeast Asia and recognize the North Vietnamese government.

However, British career diplomats all along have shown greater skepticism over peace prospects at present, than Wilson's political entourage.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

This has been a particularly eventful year for education. The importance of education has been recognized by all levels of government and the people.

The first comprehensive federal legislation concerning education has been passed by Congress. It will have a growing effect upon the nation's schools during the next few years. Some of the most dramatic effects will probably be in the areas of pre-school education, rehabilitation of drop-outs, and improvement of programs for the disadvantaged. In addition, there will surely be a general upgrading of the total educational offering throughout the country.

It will be the responsibility of the states and local boards of education to make the best possible use of the available federal funds. This is a tremendous challenge which must be met with creativity and an all-out effort.

Parents have an important role to play. Their support of school programs is essential if a successful outcome is to be achieved. Local school boards will need community cooperation as well as financial assistance in order to participate in the predicted improvements of educational offerings.

A well organized approach is a must if the programs are going to be effective and truly meet the needs of the various communities. Haphazard programs without good planning will be like tossing a glass of water on a forest fire.

PTA's, citizens committees, interested groups, and individuals should be involved in developing effective plans. In many situations there will be a need for cooperative action on the part of local governments, social agencies, service organizations, business, and other groups.

What can parents specifically do? They can ask questions and show interest. This can be accomplished by attending school board meetings, making suggestions, and finding out what is being planned. The same things might be done with other organizations. An expression of interest, support and participation is always healthy in relation to school and governmental action.

In 1834 water was first piped into the White House from a spring.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Since the European Common Market became a working reality on Jan. 1, 1958, it has become for its six member nations a way of life and for the rest of the world an economic force of tremendous power.

Its members, France, West German, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, compose a mass market of 180 million people.

And as it strove to reduce internal tariff barriers to zero on both industry and agriculture it provided the impetus to give Western Europe an unheard-of prosperity.

Even though the Common Market also provided common tariff barriers against outside competition, the prosperity of the six also contributed to world prosperity. U. S. exports to the six last year amounted to $4.5 billion.

The Common Market itself was the outgrowth of another common market established in 1951.

This was the European coal and steel community, the brainchild of the French Foreign minister, Maurice Schuman.

Former Industrial Complex

With the same membership as the present Common Market, it was part of Schuman's thinking that a tightly knit industrial complex based on coal and steel would make it impossible for France and Germany ever again to go to war against each other.

Its success led to the treaty of Rome in 1957 with an even greater goal. It proposed not only the economic integration of Western Europe but political unity as well. It came into being in 1958.

It established a commission in Brussels for day-to-day direction of market operations, a council of ministers to establish policy and a largely powerless parliament of Europe headquartered at Strasbourg.

Successful economic and political unity haven't even gotten off the ground.

For this, his five partners blame a French President, Charles de Gaulle.

And in the current crisis threatening the market's continued existence De Gaulle finds his own weapons turned against him.

Stopped British Entry

Pursuing his own ends, De Gaulle vetoed British membership in the Common Market on the grounds that Britain was not yet ready to surrender sovereignty in the interests of a united Europe.

Today his partners demand that concrete steps toward political unity be undertaken at once. But here De Gaulle reverses his argument and declares that Europe, and particularly France, is not ready to surrender sovereignty.

This is the core of the crisis. An interim agreement on the financing of Common Market farm programs ran out on June 30.

France's partners propose that approximately $2.3 billion collected in customs duties annually be placed in a common fund and be distributed under direction of the commission in Brussels to pay various farm subsidies.

Even Barbecue Bunglers Win With Grilled Hamburgers and Franks

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Charcoal-grilled hamburgers and franks are as American as baseball. They all flourish in the good old summertime.

Give the summer chef some ground beef or good quality frankfurters, turn him outdoors and tell him a few facts of life about starting the fire.

Before using the barbecue grill, most experts suggest that a permanent layer of gravel 3/4 to 1-inch deep be put in the bottom of the fire bowl. This permits the fire to breathe. The gravel should be removed, washed and dried after four to six barbecues.

Build up 25-40 briquets or an equivalent amount of loose charcoal into a pyramid shape. Pour 1/2 cup of starter fluid (any fluid sold specifically for same) over the charcoal. Let stand 2 to 3 minutes. Throw a lighted match on the charcoal. The fire should be ready in about 30 minutes by this method.

At our house, we claim to grill the most juicy, tender and flavorful hamburgers in the outdoor world. We use only lean top round or top sirloin. The meat is ground only once. This prevents "packing". We allow 1/2 pound of beef for each hamburger and none of our friends ever seems to object. In fact, quite the opposite. Shape into 1-inch thick cakes, handling meat as lightly and quickly as possible. Season only on outside when shaped, sprinkling with garlic or onion salt and freshly ground black pepper. Grill quickly until charred lightly on outside and pink on inside.

Here's another grilled hamburger recipe, different from ours, from the Home Economics Department of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

GRILLED HAMBURGERS

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Combine meat and seasonings. Mix well. Shape into 4 to 6 patties. Allow charcoal to burn until a fine gray ash appears. Place the patties on the grill about 3 inches from the grill about 3 inches from the coals. When one side is browned, turn and finish cooking on the other side. One-inch thick patties require about 10 to 12 minutes total cooking time. Serve with chopped chives and cheese topping, chili sauce and finely chopped celery, barbecue or other favorite topping.

Besides the usual catsup and mustard, try sweet-sour sauce.

SWEET-SOUR SAUCE FOR FRANKFURTERS

1 cup water
1 beef bouillon cube
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Surprise the Bride-Elect With a Shower

BAVARIAN CREAM DESSERT — Bavarian cream dessert with fresh fruit makes an elegant centerpiece for a bridal shower.

2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon chopped dill pickle
1-3 cup vinegar
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
Heat 1/2 cup water to boiling, add bouillon cube and stir until dissolved. Mix cornstarch and remaining 1/2 cup water. Combine all ingredients. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Chill. Serve sauce over frankfurters. Yield: 1 1/4 cups.

Baked beans go well with grilled hamburgers and hot dogs. For a very special "gather around the fire, boys" party, try this recipe which won a top prize at a Kasser Foll All-Male Cookout Championship in Hawaii. It has an Aloha taste which means "come back for more."

Egg Cookery May Clue Personality

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q—Is it true that the way a man wants his eggs cooked tells something about his character?

A—As to eggs and personality, recently the Department of Agriculture, with tongue in cheek, quoted an unidentified character analyst as claiming that there may be some clue to personality in the way a man wants his eggs cooked.

If he is artistic, nervous and passionate, scrambled eggs are for him. Turned-over eggs are for the versatile, magnetic and dominant. The happy, healthy and wise select sunny-side-up eggs. Shirred eggs appeal to the fastidious, romantic and sensitive. And omelets please the sturdy, reliable and conservative according to the unidentified analyst. If hard cooked eggs are his forte, our analyst holds, then he is a persistent, dynamic and sincere soul. Soft-cooked eggs are more to his liking if he is gentle, patient and kind. Medium-cooked eggs indicate a calm, cool and collected composure. The speedy, peppy and intelligent prefer poached eggs.

Incidentally, the Department of Agriculture reminds us that eggs are abundant now and exceptionally reasonable.

Q—Can you give me some easy way to tell what foods are low in calories? I'm trying to lose weight but I hate calorie counting.

A—Here's a rule of thumb that will help. Just remember that foods LOW in calories are usually thin, dilute, clear, fresh, watery or crisp. And foods HIGH in calories are usually thick, oily, greasy-crisp, smooth, gooey, sweet or sticky, compact or concentrated, alcoholic.

Tempting Chicken

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Fried chicken is everybody's favorite. It is a swinging dish, particularly in summer when it turns up in picnic baskets, aboard boats, on company buffets and at porch suppers. Hot or cold, it's always popular.

Broiler fryers are featured on the Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for July, along with milk and dairy products and fresh seasonal vegetables. Remember, fried chicken should always be crisp and golden on the outside, succulent inside.

PERFECT FRIED CHICKEN (makes 4 servings)

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
1/2 to 3/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Oil

Combine flour and seasonings. Rinse chicken in cold running water, but do not dry; immediately roll pieces in seasoned flour. Let dry on rack 20 minutes before frying. Heat shortening or salad-oil 1/2-inch deep in skillet. Place chicken, skin side down, in skillet. Put larger, to decorate the top. Refrigerate several hours until firm.

Spoon into patty shells and garnish with fruit and cherries. Makes 6 servings.

NEW STYLES IN SPREADS

Where there's bread, there's bound to be spread. Canned meat spreads are a big favorite with young homemakers. Latest recipe combines canned meat spread with cream cheese, dill and a dash of sour cream. A recipe with zing appeal.

HAMS WHAT AM QUICK

Canned ham is high on the sales list of canned meats, says the National Canners Association. American canned hams come packed whole, halved and quartered, and small or baby hams are grand pantry shelf specials for summer meals.

QUICK-AS-A-WINK SHORTCAKE

Canned apple sauce over toasted spice cake slices, topped with instant whipped cream topping makes a different and delicious dessert.

meatier pieces in first; add liver last few minutes of cooking time. Cook uncovered 15 to 20 minutes on each side, turning only once. Drain well on absorbent paper.

Use 1/2 cup flour for chicken quarters, 3/4 cup for pieces.

 BONN (UPI) — West Germany has contributed $296,000 toward construction of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library in Boston, it was announced.

BORNEO FIGURES
 LONDON (UPI) — Six British servicemen were killed and 15 wounded in battle or through accident during the first six months of this year in Malaysian Borneo, Defense Secretary Denis Healey reported today. Healey, in a written reply to a query in the House of Commons, added that five servicemen are missing and believed dead.

Ellis CHILE GOOD! BETTER! BEST!

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Well, there on the screen were Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, cutting up with gags and physical comedy, and there in the audience was the viewer, suddenly admitting to a twinge of nostalgia.

It wasn't the show so much — Wednesday night's old one-hour CBS-TV rerun of a Lucy cruise to the Caribbean — but rather an awareness of the natural circumstances that have brought changes to so many who were involved in the program.

Even the setting conspired to make the viewer wistful — and to make the production seem a fantasy of years long past. The setting was Cuba — Havana — gay, full of life, music, dancing, romance. One expected George Raft to come in from a side stage entrance doing the tango with a lovely debutante who had run away from home to be with him.

Well, anyway, there were Lucy and Desi — costars of the most popular show in television history — and this was one of their "Comedy Hour" specials, and now of course they have gone their separate ways, each having remarried, and Desi no longer a part of their Desilu company.

Their son is now old enough so that he plays in a rock 'n' roll group, along with Dean Martin's boy. And each year it seems to be a toss-up as to whether Lucy will return with her series, and there are some who feel she would quit if Desilu had more shows on the air, but back she comes, still immensely popular, and deservedly so — a great comedienne she is. And as for Desi, who is very well off, there were reports that he wouldn't mind getting involved in television again, but only as a producer, not a performer.

Well, there also Wednesday night was Vivian Vance, and

Its Open Season on Barry

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
It is open season again on Barry Goldwater. Just like old times!

The pundits find that the soft-boiled Republicans in the slipstream of the party leadership are ganging up on Goldwater now as they did in 1960.

But this open season on Goldwater is with a difference. This time he is not accused of disturbing local, national or global peace with nuclear or verbal bombs. Now he is accused of disturbing the peace of the Republican party. More particularly, Goldwater disturbs the slipstream party leadership which has been operating the GOP for 35 years as the 1960 Republican presidential nominee was just about the biggest bust of all.

But, in this 1965 Republican political mess, one fact stands out like a movie starlet in church. It is that more than 26 million Americans voted for Goldwater for president. It also is a fact that Goldwater was the worst beaten nominee in electoral votes (52) since Alf M. Landon (8) lost in 1936 to FDR.

Led To Calamity
 It is a fact, also, that Goldwater led the Republican party to calamity in congressional and gubernatorial elections. But there remains the fact of Goldwater's popular vote: 28,448,960. That is better than Adlai E. Stevenson could do in his second time out against President Eisenhower. In his first (1952) go at Ike, Stevenson got 27,314,992 popular and 89 electoral votes. After two spectacular presidential flops, Stevenson remained the acknowledged and revered leader of a very considerable number of American citizens.

The John Birch Society and the Ku Klux Klan need not be draped around Goldwater's neck to demonstrate that he is a political leader for whom some millions of citizens may be assumed to nourish a real affection. This is true despite the lamentations of the Republican slipstream leaders who over the years have been slipping into the Democratic mainstream. Goldwater objects to that slippage.

Chills Some Republicans
 In these circumstances, Goldwater has accepted honorary chairmanship of the Free Association Society (FAS) which needs donations toward its objective. Goldwater defines the objective as an effort to prevent a conservative mass bolt from the Republican party. It is the thought of donations to FAS that chills the slipstream Republican leadership. These leaders know that a great many well-heeled citizens would donate to Goldwater's FAS in preference to the Republican National Committee if the choice had to be made.

So the $2 million or so that FAS will need each year to preach the conservative gospel could come right off the top of the Republican bankroll. This serves to afflict the soft-boiled Republican leaders with non-stop hiccupps and a tendency to waken at night screaming into the dark. The softboiled and the pundits can accommodate themselves to Republicans who deny their party and go leaping off with left wingers to whom the name of the party is a dirt word. Such a one is Rep.

ANDERSON HOSPITALIZED
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., was in Bethesda Naval Hospital today where he was admitted for a "partial numbness" of his right leg.

Anderson's office said that the senator experienced discomfort over the weekend. Physicians recommended that he be hospitalized so that tests could be performed.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

AUSTIN—Water remains very much in the spotlight over the state.

As June ended, cattle were in better than average condition, says the US Department of Agriculture. Pastures and ranges continued to furnish good grazing and rising cattle prices have resulted.

On the High Plains heavy showers boosted range prospects, but grass growth was slowing in many areas because of high temperatures which sapped soil moisture.

In the Trans-Pecos ranges some farmers and ranchers were forced to begin supplemental feeding.

Some farmers have been combating the rain problem by irrigating their crops. A joint study by the USDA, the Texas Water Commission and the State Soil Conservation Board indicates that irrigation in Texas rose significantly from 1938 to 1964. Amount of water used increased nearly one third, to 12,500 acre feet or an average of 18 inches per irrigated acre.

Amount of irrigated land increased by about 15 per cent during the six-year period. Much of the gain occurred in the High Plains—in the upper parts of the Canadian, Colorado, Brazos and Red River Basins—but some of it also was in the basins of the Rio Grande and Nueces Rivers.

By next September studies to show how much water will be available in 2020 from Texas reservoirs and ground water strata already in use will be complete.

Then will come the job of finding additional sources to match yields to needs. This will involve searching for new surface water supplies as well as desalinization of poor underground water.

When in-basin sources are checked out against the needs of each river basin, the planners expect to find some of the heavy rainfall regions will have more water than they will need, even to 2020, while others will not have enough.

Then, the question will be: where to take the surplus? $100,000,000 SURPLUS—State government will begin the new fiscal biennium with a surplus of nearly $100,000,000. But it will wind up with a balance of only $4,200,000, according to estimates of the Governor's budget office.

In a recap of legislative spending, Gov. John Connally's staff tallied all appropriations at $3,700,000,000, of which $622,900,000 will come from general revenue. (Votes by the governor of $2,600,000 from the spending bills are deducted.)

Figures put state cost of the average $553 teacher pay raise at $70,500,000 for the two-year period beginning September 1.

Total new revenue provided by the 59th Legislature will come to $82,500,000, according to revised figures. Biggest portion of this comes from the three-cents-a-pack increase in the cigarette tax.

HOSPITAL TRANSITION UNDER WAY—Texas' vast system for treating the mentally ill, mentally retarded and victims of tuberculosis is entering a vital transition period.

On September 1, realignment and reorientation of these facilities and services, as enacted by the 59th Legislature, will go into effect.

Separation of the tuberculosis hospital treatment program from the mental health and retardation services and consolidating it with the State Health Department, which now handles case finding and follow-up work.

Abolishing the existing hospital board—general policy-making agency for mental and tuberculosis hospitals and special schools for the retarded—and creating a new Department of Mental Health and Retardation. A new, nine-member board will replace the present Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Sweeping new concepts of care, spelled out in recommendations of statewide study committees named by Governor Connally, are expected of the reorganization.

AUTO INSURANCE HIKES—Auto liability insurance rates will vary widely in the 26 rating areas in the state.

However, some coverages will go down in cost, by as much as 17 per cent. These policies are for insurance against losses not connected with accidents—such as fire and theft.

State Board of Insurance says it has carefully reviewed the loss data forming the basis of the rate changes and finds that the new rates will be "adequate and reasonable as required by law."

In another area of insurance,

Texas companies have had more than $15,000,000 worth of claims from hail and storm damage. By this time last year $2,000,000 had been paid in such claims. Biggest blow came from the Wichita Falls storm of May 27.

BOUNDARY COMMITTEE NAMED—Governor Connally has named a seven-member committee to negotiate with Louisiana in an effort to settle a long-standing dispute as to the Sabine River boundary between the two states.

Connally appointed his executive assistant Larry Temple, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin, Sen. Jack Strong of Longview, Rep. David Crews of Conroe and Rep. Charles Wilson of Lufkin. Recommendations as to location of the boundary line will be submitted to the state legislatures and the Congress of the U.S. for ratification.

Sabine. Texas maintains that the center line of the river is the correct line. Ownership of the area south of the mouth of the Sabine also is in dispute.

Valuable oil and gas are at stake.

TOURIST ATTRACTIONS PRAISED—University of Texas Bureau of Business Research credits tourist attractions with helping to keep the level of Texas' economy above last year's during the first five months of 1965.

However, business activity dipped 4.4 per cent in May. January-May average index for 1965 was nearly 20 percentage points above the average for the same months in 1964.

Bureau says there is "every indication" this will be a good year for the travel industry in Texas.

HOSPITAL FUNDS SHORT—State Board of Health has 65 applications for federal Hill-Burton hospital aid funds totalling $38,000,000 but expects an allotment of only about $14,000,000.

Hill-Burton funds assist communities in building and equipping non-profit hospitals and related health facilities.

Allocations of the 1966 funds are expected in August. Many applicants will not receive Hill-Burton money during the coming fiscal year, warns Dr. James E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner.

SCHOOL CHECKS TO BE MADE—Texas Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar served notice on local school officials that the Texas Education Agency will check complaints resulting from the Civil Rights Act. Periodic reviews also will be made by TEA to ascertain whether or not districts receiving federal aid are abiding by non-discrimination rules.

in a hearing before Edgar, appealable to the State Board of Education and the courts.

SHORT SNORTS—State Banking denied applications of Denison Bank and Trust Company and American State Bank of Pasadena. An application by the Frontier State Bank of Eagle Pass has been filed.

Third Court of Civil Appeals has held an oil company may redrill and straighten slanted wells in the East Texas field. House Speaker Ben Barnes named five Dallas representatives to survey cost of modernizing State Fair of Texas facilities in Dallas.

Parks and Wildlife Commission will meet on July 16 to review local hearings in 149 counties now under the game and fish regulatory responsibility program. Special meeting will be held later to set rules for 34 counties and areas added to the regulatory program by the 59th Legislature.

Governor Connally has announced approval of application of the Wintergarden Tri-County Committee, Inc. for a $9,445 community action program to combat poverty in Maverick, Dimmit and Zavala counties. Only 10 of the state's parks will benefit from a capital improvements budget of $1,900,000 provided by the General Appropriations bill.

LONGEST JOURNEY—Air Force Maj. Frank Borman, left, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell will orbit the earth for 14 days early next year. The flight, Gemini 7, will be the longest yet made or scheduled and may include a "walk in space" following up Astronaut Edward White's feat during last month's Gemini 4.

French Building Plans Blasted

By GEORGE SIBERA
PARIS (UPI)—The French government has stirred criticism with plans to build eight satellite cities around Paris, doubling the capital's size.

The plan, called "Paris in the Year 2,000," is based on the belief the city and its suburbs, now with a population of nine million, will have at least 14 million persons 35 years from now. Immediate advance planning is necessary, the experts believe.

Calling the plan a stroke of genius, the Gaullist daily La Nation this week exulted at the prospect of seeing the Boulevard Saint Michel, in the heart of Paris' Latin Quarter, linked with new channel resorts by a superhighway cutting across the Normandy countryside.

Some Against
But many Parisians, mayors of suburban communities and farmers who would be dispossessed of their fields, frown at the idea of living in such a megapolis.

Officials are not overly upset by the protests. The government has abandoned as unworkable past ideas for arresting the growth of Paris by decentralizing to provincial towns part of the capital's huge industrial establishment and some administrative and cultural offices.

France's population explosion will give the country close to 100 million inhabitants around the year 2,000, officials estimate. The new blueprint was drafted by Pierre Delouvrier, director of the planning office for the Paris region. It calls for the building of eight "new towns," each housing about 500,000 persons, spread out in a broad half circle around Paris.

Two new towns would be located in the Marne River Valley in the direction of Meaux, east of Paris. Two others would be set in the Seine River Valley, one near Mantes, west of Paris, while four satellite towns would be built on plateaus in the southern and south western region.

Not To The North
Because future super jetliners are expected to generate unbearable noise, no expansion is planned in the north, where work is due to start soon on a new 7,500 acre jetport.

The government said the new towns will not be an assemblage of concrete pillboxes and giant dormitories like some recent housing projects around Paris.

The towns are to be self-contained units where the population would find jobs, culture, relaxation and other amenities on the spot without the need to spend hours on congested roads and in public transport systems.

The emphasis would be on beauty with broad stretches of woods, lawns, parks and artificial lakes surrounding the new urban centers. All the new towns would be linked between themselves and with Paris by a network of super-highways and an underground-expressway.

The project is still to be debated by parliament. Speaking at a meeting of 21 mayors of the Versailles region west of Paris who unanimously denounced the blueprint, former minister Edouard Bonnefoué called the scheme "a threat of gigantism... creating disorder on an atomic scale."

Bonnefoué said 100,000 acres of first class arable land would be lost.

In a petition to the government, the mayors called the new towns "a nonsense creating insuperable difficulties—an inconsiderate measure—creating an economic and social upheaval." The mayors said the government does not have the money for the huge investments needed.

'Pushers' Keep Selling, 'Weedheads' Still Puffing

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Last week they caught three. Another got away but had to abandon his car and two female companions to keep his freedom.

Yet the "pushers" keep selling and the "weedheads" keep puffing.

Marijuana control is a full-time occupation along the Texas border, and along the Lower Rio Grande Valley border it's causing concern and leading, perhaps, toward a new civic combativeness against the illegal weed.

In McAllen, 50 miles away, State Department of Public Safety narcotics agents working closely with U. S. Customs officials issued arrest warrants last week against seven valley men to climax a months-long undercover investigation.

One in Prison
So far they've only served the warrants on two of the men, two brothers—ages 18 and 21—from Pharr. Another of the seven is already in prison for burglary, the DPS men discovered. Four more are out of the state, migrant workers who follow the crops.

Daily, still, more marijuana is bought and sold along the border—bought in the Mexican cities of Matamoros, Reynosa, Piedras Negras, Acuna and Juarez, sold in Brownsville, McAllen, Eagle Pass, Del Rio, El Paso and in the other communities stretching near Mexico. Most of the big-city supplies in Texas pass through these gates.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Homer Lopez of Brownsville last week brought together civic leaders from Brownsville and Matamoros to form a citizens committee seeking to control marijuana traffic in the sister cities.

Large Delegation
The mayor of Brownsville, Tom Gonzalez, headed his city's 16-member delegation to the meeting. The six-man Matamoros group was led by Gen. Elpidio G. Velasquez, head of the Mexican Army garrison there.

Lopez preached control on both sides of the Rio Grande. "Our angle here is the selling, but their problem there is the planting as well as the smuggling. The more traffic we have here, the more demand there." They meet again about Aug. 1 and Lopez says he hopes to include representatives from neighboring Hidalgo County. Later he hopes the program—centered around anti-marijuana education—will extend up and down the Texas border, through Laredo and on to El Paso, which is out of his district.

DPS narcotics agent Richard Harlan of McAllen says there has been a steady, though not an alarming, rise in marijuana flow in the Lower Rio Grande Valley where he works.

"There's a pretty good bunch of weedheads" (marijuana smokers here), said Harlan.

"In almost any city in the valley you've got street pushers and users," added U. S. Customs agent Leslie Bobo of McAllen. Both men say their area is mainly a circuit for marijuana. "Heroin and the other drugs seem to flow mostly through Nuevo Laredo and Juarez," said Bobo.

In Matamoros and Reynosa, a pound of marijuana costs about $20 on the blackmarket. Get it across the bridge and its value jumps to $40 or $50, depending on the supply available. "They work on a law of supply and demand," said Bobo.

A pound of high-quality marijuana will make 800 to 1,000 marijuana cigarettes which sell for 25 to 50 cents in the valley, much higher as one travels north, he said.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says railroad stocks are now doing better than the rest of the list and this is probably the most bullish sign for the market and could suggest a meaningful summer rally may yet take place.

Monte J. Gordon of Bache & Co. says that in the weeks ahead he expects the market will continue to seek a base from which it can consolidate. Gordon says that the market may show particular sensitivity to news from abroad during this period.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute says it regards the protection of capital more important than seeking speculative profits under present uncertain and volatile conditions.

Food Shopping Guide
The following guide to the nation's food buys for the week-end was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

NEW YORK (UPI)—John C. Hammerslough, editor and publisher of the Hammer Report, says he believes the recent upward stock market correction will continue over the intermediate term but that the long-term outlook is neutral at best.

Hammerslough says he does not believe it is time to establish long-term short positions but does advise substantial cash positions.

Texas Per Capita Income As A Percentage of National Average

Under Texas so-called "right to work" law, the incomes of Texas people have fallen way behind the rest of the nation. Because most Texans have not had the right to bargain effectively for better wages, we have always been behind other states but things have actually gotten much worse since 1947 when the so-called right to work law was passed. Texas is one of the few states to have enacted this unfortunate and harmful law.

Thanks to the leadership of our Texas President, Lyndon B. Johnson, we now have a chance to put the family wage-earners of Texas back on an even basis with people throughout the nation. President Johnson has asked Congress to approve new labor legislation repealing the section of the Taft-Hartley law that has done so much to lower the average incomes of millions of Texans. This section is called 14-B. Let President Johnson know that Texans stand behind him in his program to help the wage earners of Texas. Write your Congressman today and ask him to support the President by voting to repeal section 14-B of Taft-Hartley. You'll be helping the economy of Texas and helping your children to grow up in a state with greater opportunity for all in the years ahead.

Dear Abby.... Rules Are Rules, But Some Are Unjust

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old girl who was married with my parents' consent during my junior year in high school. (It wasn't a "have to" case, either.) I found out last February that I was expecting a baby in August. When I told my principal about it, I was not allowed to take part in the graduation exercises with my class because I wouldn't have had my baby then and it would have looked "bad." My doctor said my health is fine and he saw no reason why I could not graduate with my class. I earned the right to wear a cap and gown, but my principal had my diploma mailed to me. I checked and there is no "law" about this. It was all up to the principal. Do you think this was fair?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: No. In view of the fact that you are a respectably married woman, and chose to complete your high school education with your class, you should have been permitted to participate in the graduation exercises.

DEAR ABBY: A relative of mine has been sending me carbon copies of letters she sends to about five other people. The letters all begin with a general greeting like, "Howdy, stranger," or "Hi, all!" When I write to her I write personal letters containing news that I think would interest her. But in return I get these "form letters," full of references to people I don't even know. It's more like a newsletter or a diary. She has no children so she can't use that as an excuse for her carbon copies. She always closes with, "Why doesn't anybody write to me?" Apparently the others on her mailing list are about as fed up with her carbon copies as I am. Should I tell her off or let it go? I'm holding off writing to her until I hear from you.

FED UP

DEAR FED: Sit down and write this relative a letter telling her exactly what you think of her carbon copy "newsletters." Then tear it up. The momentary satisfaction derived from "telling her off" would probably not be worth the regrets you'd have later. If her letters bore and irritate you, discard them unread. And don't bother to answer.

DEAR ABBY: We have always enjoyed a good reputation in town and now we are worried about what people will think and say. Our 26-year-old son, a college graduate, is now employed by a large firm. He has a bright future. He met and fell in love with a girl from another state, and he brought her home last weekend for us to meet her as they plan to marry. She is 23, a pretty little thing, and so quiet and polite. We all fell in love with her.

Last evening our son told us there was "something" he wanted us to know. It seems the girl has a 4-year-old illegitimate son. She made a mistake when she was younger and decided to keep the baby and raise it herself. With the help of her mother, she finished college, worked, and managed to do this. When she and my son marry, he wants to adopt the boy, and they will live in this town. My husband was horrified. I was shocked, but being a woman, I am more understanding. What should we tell people when she comes here with her child?

AFFRAID TO TALK

DEAR AFFRAID: You owe the townspeople no explanations. They'll probably assume that the child is hers from a previous marriage. Let them assume it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO APPALLED IN APPLETON: Don't blame the children. It's practically impossible for youngsters to learn good manners when they rarely see any.

RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n. I saw a cartoon recently in which the bride, with her hair done up on rollers for the wedding, was explaining to the surprised-looking groom that she wanted to look nice for the reception.

That's really only a slight exaggeration of the way many girls and women today regard hair rollers.

That teen-ager riding along in an open sports car with a young man has her hair on rollers so she will be sure to look nice on her evening date with the same young man.

That housewife pushing a supermarket cart isn't worrying about how she looks with her hair twisted around a bristling batch of curlers. She is content in the knowledge that her hair will look fine later on when she goes out to an afternoon tea.

That tourist having lunch at a roadside cafe with a scarf inadequately concealing a head lumpy with rollers isn't concerned with the poor impression she is making. She is thinking about a later impression—when she walks into a night club, looking her best.

That is the real reason why so many girls and women today aren't embarrassed to be seen in public in hair rollers. They do not care how they look now just so that they look perfectly groomed later on. The fact that they may be seen by just as many persons when they are looking their worst in hair curlers as they will be later on looking their best doesn't seem to enter their roller-covered heads.

It never occurs to them—apparently—that others seeing them wearing curlers in public probably wonder silently: "Where could she be going later that could possibly be important enough for her to let herself be seen looking like this right now?"

Earl Eustace Feted At Retirement Party

LEFORS (Spl) — Earl Eustace of McLean was honored with a retirement party Tuesday evening in the Lefors Civic Center. Mr. Eustace had been employed by Phillips Petroleum Company for 32 years.

The serving table was centered with a large bouquet of red carnations and the Phillips emblem. The cake carried the Phillips emblem and "Earl Eustace—32 years."

A set of luggage was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Eustace from the group.

Following recognition of guests, J. D. Taylor of Lefors and Donald Cunningham of McLean entertained with guitar music.

Lee Stange Leads Cleveland Closer

By United Press International
The season was two months old before Birdie Tebbetts got around to giving Lee Stange his first starting assignment, and the Cleveland manager has been kicking himself ever since. Stange, a 28-year-old right-hander, had been used sparingly as a long relief man for the Indians this year until Jack Kralick was injured and Tebbetts needed a starter to replace him.

Stange got the call on June 13 and pitched a complete game triumph. His performance earned him a spot in Tebbetts' starting rotation and in six starts he has won four, hurled three complete games and one shutout, and lowered his earned run average to 2.17.

The 5-foot-10 inch Stange pitched 10 innings Wednesday night, allowing the Chicago White Sox only five hits and striking out seven in the nightcap of the Indians' doubleheader sweep. Cleveland won by identical scores of 4-2, the second game going 11 innings.

Close Gap
The double triumph moved the second-place Indians within 1 1/2 games of Minnesota, which belted Boston 4-2. In other American-League games, New York edged Detroit 4-3, Baltimore blanked Kansas City 1-0 and Washington defeated Los Angeles 3-1.

Stange, a 200-plus bowler who was about ready to turn to ten pin strikes to earn a living, was brilliant in the clutch. The White Sox loaded the bases with none out in the last of the ninth with the score tied 1-1. Stange fanned Moose Skowron and induced pinchhitter Smokey Burgess to ground into a double play.

Win Nightcap
The Indians won the nightcap on singles by Larry Brown, Rocky Colavito and Fred Whitfield plus an error in the 11th, scoring three runs off loser Hoyt Wilhelm. Jack Spring and Don McMahon pitched the 11th inning to preserve the victory for Stange (2-1).

Chuck Hinton, Max Alvis and Luis Tiant each drove in a run as the Indians bunched four of their eight hits for all four runs in the third inning of the first game. Reliever Gary Bell was the winner and Gary Peters, winless since June 10, was the loser.

The Twins took advantage of four Boston outfield errors to defeat the Red Sox. Jim Kaat lasted only 2 1/3 innings but won his seventh against as many losses with hitless relief help from Johnny Klippstein and Al Worthington. Bernie Allen drove in three Minnesota runs with a single and sacrifice fly and Tony Oliva and Earl Battey each collected three safeties for the Twins. Jim Lonborg (3-9) was the loser.

Blanks A's
Johnny Miller blanked the A's on four hits for 1-3 innings and Stu Miller blanked them on a single safety the rest of the way. Johnny Miller also figured in the only run of the contest, cracking a single in the sixth inning after a double by Dick Brown. Jackie Brandt scored Brown from third base with a single off loser John O'Donoghue (4-11).

Howie Kopitz took over for starter Frank Kreutzer, who was removed in the first inning after straining a muscle in his elbow, and blanked the Angels on four hits for 6-2-3 innings. Don Lock homered for the Senators off loser Ken McBride and Dick Nen singled home another tally.

Al Downing walked three straight batters after a single to Al Kalina to force in a run in the fourth and gave up a two-run homer to Dick McAuliffe in the ninth, but managed to win his eighth for the Yankees in 16 decisions. Clete Boyer drove in three runs with a homer, double and single. Hank Aguirre (9-4) was the loser.

Mauch Ignores Cards In Filling Out Roster

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The world champion St. Louis Cardinals will have a restful but embarrassing All-Star break.

Gene Mauch, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies and pilot of the National League All-Star team, completely ignored the Cardinals Wednesday in filling out his squad except for pitchers for the All-Star game next Tuesday in Minnesota.

The Cardinals, who had three starters in last year's game, failed to place a single player on the first team or reserve squad. League rules require that every team be represented on the team and the Cards' Bob Gibson probably will be named to the squad Friday when Mauch announces his pitching staff.

But St. Louis and ninth place Houston were the only teams which did not place a single fielder on the squad.

Mauch did not follow the usual practice of naming the runners-up in the balloting of the players, coaches and managers. He selected seven repeaters and two newcomers to the class.

Nutmeg State Bans Boxing

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Connecticut's Gov. John N. Dempsey, who hopes that federal control of boxing comes quickly, Wednesday signed a bill that bans the sport in the state.

The bill, which prohibits only professional boxing, will have little or no effect in the state since there have been no major bouts held here for years. It has no effect on collegiate, scholastic or other amateur fights.

The Connecticut action dramatized a rising tide of sentiment around the country for the need for the federal government to step in and appoint a boxing czar to supervise the sport.

Defending Champ Lema Leads Opening Round

SOUTHPORT, England (UPI) — Tony Lema today shot a one-under par 72 for an aggregate 140 that gave him the lead among early second-round finishers in the British Open golf championship.

Two-time winner Arnold Palmer moved to within one stroke of Lema with a 71 and a two-round total of 141.

Lema, the champagne man from San Leandro, Calif., who "can look at a course in two days and tell you where all the trouble spots are," fired a blistering five-under-par 68 to shatter the Royal Birkdale course record Wednesday with the help of only two practice rounds.

Trailing him at 68 was Ireland's veteran Christy O'Connor with Arnold Palmer deadlocked for third place with Irish Amateur champion Joe Carr at 70. Palmer, like the heavily favored Jack Nicklaus, who shot a 73, and the majority of competitors here, arrived a week early to size up the course.

Champagne Tony, however, flew in Monday after participating in the Western Open and had only two days to prepare for the rugged tournament. He followed the same procedure last year in winning the prestigious Open at St. Andrews when he left himself little more than a day to familiarize himself with that hallowed course.

Despite his record round which included seven one-putts, greens and a like number of birdies, however, Lema was linked by what he termed the "blasted cameras" on the course.

"There's no place for them on any course," he said. "I heard four distinct clicks as I addressed that first putt on the 18th. I'll take a divot from somebody's head soon unless they're stopped—but not here."

Most of the golfers encountered gusty winds at this resort town on the Irish Sea which sent scores soaring. A total of only 11 of the 130 entrants was able to break par 73 on the 7,037-yard links.

Federal Marshal Up For Boxing Commish

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If Congress decides to set up a federal boxing commission, a likely candidate for membership is Chief Federal Marshal James J. P. McShane, a veteran of the bloody integration riots at the University of Mississippi in 1962.

McShane, named to his post by the late President John F. Kennedy, directed federal marshals sent to protect Negro James Meredith at Ole Miss. A former boxer, he was once a New York City police lieutenant and is a crew of former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

McShane was asked about the job by a reporter as hearings continued today before the House Commerce Committee on a proposal to set up the commission. He said he already had a job but "could consider" a commissioner's post if it was offered him.

During Wednesday's hearings, Gus D'Amato, ex-manager of former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, gave limited support to the proposal sponsored by commerce committee Chairman Oren E. Harris, D-Ark.

Between comments on the recent Clay-Liston heavyweight championship bout — the match which sparked new demands for regulation of boxing — D'Amato said that members of such a commission would need a practical knowledge of boxing. He said the sport cannot be run by amateurs.

102 Teams Tee Off at Odessa

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI) — A field of 102 teams tee off today in the 17th annual Odessa program golf tournament.

One of the classiest lists of professional golfers will team with their amateur partners in an attempt to wrest the title away from defending champions Don Massengale and John Farquhar.

The tourney will be played over the 6,800 yard-par 72 Odessa Country Club course, with the professionals going for the big shares of $20,000 in prize money.

The huge field will be sliced to 40 low teams and ties after the first 36 holes.

Many PGA tour regulars were on hand for today's opening round including Gay Brewer, Don Fairfield, Joe Campbell, Ray Floyd, Don January and rookie Homero Blancas.

All-time great Byron Nelson was also among the field.

Those teams which do not make the 36-hole cutoff will be eligible for a special 34-hole scotch foursome which will start Saturday.

Sherriffs Shut Out Groom, 6-0

GROOM — Tascosa pulled into a three-way tie for the South Division 18th District America Legion lead Tuesday night with a 6-0 win over Groom.

The Sherriffs stand 2-2 with Amarillo High and Hereford.

Interestingly enough, the three pitchers used for both teams struck out five batters each.

Groom is tied for last with Nazareth at 2-8.

Ex-Mile Great Jaycee State Guest Speaker

COLLEGE STATION — Glenn Cunningham, who became the world's fastest miller after a boyhood accident raised doubts he would ever walk again, will speak at the Texas Jaycee Sports Spectacular at Texas A&M University Friday night.

His address will be a feature at a dinner meeting of 1,500 teenage athletes here for state finals in junior golf, tennis and track.

Entrants for the July 8, 9 and 10 events include regional champions from Pampa. They will compete with finalists in their age bracket from 100 Texas cities for individual and team honors. Senior winners and runners-up will earn a trip to the national Junior Chamber of Commerce meet in Houston this summer.

Sponsored by the Bryan-College Station Jaycees, the Sports Spectacular will be staged on A&M's 5,200-acre campus. Participants will be housed in cadet dormitories and fed in a university dining hall.

Cunningham, who holds a Ph.D. from New York University, set a number of track records in the 1930s which still stand. He was the first man to cover the mile in 4:04.4, a feat unequalled for a decade.

Short Hurls 5th Whitewash Job

By United Press International
Chris Short, the tallest left-handed stamp collector in Philadelphia, suddenly has discovered a new hobby — pitching shutouts.

And the 6-foot, 4-inch Short has tackled his new interest with vigor, so much so that the elongated hurler already has collected five of the rare issue this year and appears ready to challenge the major league mark for southpaws set by Sandy Koufax two years ago.

The Phillie ace, who hurled four whitewashes all of last season when he won 17 games and a total of only seven in six previous National League campaigns, notched his fifth blank job Wednesday night with a three-hit 1-0 effort over Pittsburgh and raised his personal winning streak to six games in the process.

With approximately half the season remaining, Short needs six more shutouts to equal the 11 established by Koufax in 1963, and, at his present pace, must be given an excellent chance. The 27-year-old lefty has fired blanks in two of his last three starts and allowed only three runs in the last 25 innings.

Allows Three Singles
Short, now 10-4, allowed the Pirates only three singles and got unexpected help from two sources — his battery mate Clay Darymple and Buc first baseman Donn Clendenon.

Darymple socked a solo home run off Bob Friend leading off the eighth — only his second of the season — and Clendenon destroyed his chances for at least a triple in the second inning when he failed to touch first after a tremendous drive to the deep centerfield corner and had to return.

The Philadelphia triumph coupled with the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 conquest of the Dodgers, moved the Phillies to within three games of first place. The Quaker City club now has won nine of its last 12 starts.

Snap Win Streak
San Francisco stopped the St. Louis Cardinals' seven-game winning streak with a 4-2 victory in 13 innings, the Milwaukee Braves battered the Houston Astros 5-2 and the Chicago Cubs clouted the New York Mets 8-3 in other games.

Koufax, who had completed seven consecutive starts prior to the game, was rapped for five runs and nine hits by the Reds before being yanked in the fifth, but Cincinnati needed a ninth-inning home run by Leo Cadenas off reliever Bob Miller to pull out the victory. Frank Robinson (18th) and Deron Johnson (15th) also homered for the Reds, who climbed into first place by two percentage points over Los Angeles.

Haller Homers
Tom Haller blasted a two-out, two-run homer off starter and loser Bob Gibson in the 13th to salvage the Giants' triumph. Haller, who scored San Francisco's first run in the fourth, provided Japanese reliever Masanori Murakami with his second victory in three decisions. The winner held the Cards hitless over the final 1 2/3 innings.

Rico Carty, recovering from a series of injuries, lashed out three hits including his fifth home run, drove in two runs and scored a pair to lead the Braves attack. Hank Aaron also contributed a homer, his 15th, and Ken Johnson, with relief help from Billy O'Dell, defeated his former teammates for his seventh victory.

Larry Jackson raised his lifetime record over the Mets to 11-0 as .174 hitter Chris Krug drove in four runs with a pair of singles. Jackson also batted in two and Billy Williams added three hits, including his 12th circuit of the season, to the 11-hit Chicago attack.

Ranking Net Stars Upset

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Dennis Halston and Nancy Richey, the nation's top ranked amateur tennis players, scored easy victories Wednesday in their opening rounds of the Western Open tournament, but upset claims two other rated stars.

Halston, Bakerfield, Calif., and Miss Richey, Dallas, both played their first matches of the rain-hampered meet, which entered its fourth day today. Halston overpowered Lipton Giles, Covington, La., 6-0, 6-1, and Les Sack, Clarksdale, Miss., 6-3, 6-4. Miss Richey had too much for Milwaukee's Janet Smith, 6-0, 6-0.

Unseeded Billy Harrison, Richmond, Va., shocked third seeded Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., 6-1, 6-0, after Froehling had taken a second round decision over Ted Ballinger, Madison, Wis., 6-0, 6-3.

John Pickens, a Junior Davis Cupper from Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Rice Institute, tripped fourth-seeded Ron Holmberg of Dallas in Holmberg's second round 7-5, 6-4.

Miss Richey was scheduled to face Becky Vest, Cincinnati, today. Halston will play the winner of the match between 11th seeded Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and Bill Higgins. McManus and Higgins were interrupted by darkness Wednesday.

Report on Gold Crisis

The Gold Crisis is the topic of a recent report of the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee, which demonstrates again the necessity for the United States to balance its budget or face fiscal ruin. The report says: "Foreigners, holding $29 billion in short-term credits, anxiously seek some sign of restraint in U.S. spending. They seek in vain: the long range problem of our foreign payments deficits and domestic deficits is unresolved. "We have drifted into a dangerous ground war in Asia. Already it has cost $3 billion and more than 400 American lives. It could develop into a major conflict. Some $3 billion is also being spent annually by and for our overseas forces elsewhere. The foreign aid fund carryover into fiscal '66 will be $6 billion and the requested foreign aid appropriation for fiscal '66 totals $7.5 billion. "On the home front it was necessary to increase the debt limit of a new high of $328 billion. The U.S. debt now exceeds the debt of all other countries of the world by an estimated $40 billion! The federal budget has been balanced only 6 times during the past 35 years. Contemplated spending programs for fiscal '66 and '67, mostly tailored for political aims, will result in additional huge deficits. Meantime, the Congress has approved a $4.3 billion reduction in excise taxes. "In the minds of foreigners, holding $29 billion short-term credits receivable in gold, our deficit spending creates increased mistrust of the dollar. This, in turn, implies them to buy our gold. To date, foreign buyers have reduced our gold reserve from $24.7 billion to $14.3 billion. But not all of the $14.3 billion remaining gold reserve can be sold. The law requires a 25 percent gold reserve to protect U.S. paper money issues; this totals $8.6 billion in gold. This and other prior foreign claims total $11 billion. Consequently, $3.3 billion in free gold remains available to foreign purchase. "Dr. Franz Pick, distinguished international economist, takes a far dimmer view of our gold crisis. He places U.S. total ultimate gold commitments at $5.448 billion and the legal requirement of gold cover for U.S. currency at $8.378 billion. The total UNAVAILABLE gold therefore is $14.023 billion. The gold reserve today stands at $14.292 billion. Consequently, the net amount of gold available for foreign purchase as of this date could be only $269 million. There is but one solution to this gold crisis. The dollar must be defended by balanced budgets at home and abroad.

Sneaky Stuff Really Bugs Us

The United States is spending $1,600,000 to debug its embassies in 15 foreign capitals — the biggest insecticide project since war was declared on the potato bug and the boll weevil. But Operation Cadbug (and don't bet it couldn't be called that) isn't aimed at insects but at hidden microphones. For secret recording devices have been discovered cunningly concealed behind the walls of our embassies in Moscow and Warsaw. And our intelligence units dourly suspect they were not placed there by boyish pranksters as sort of a candid camera fun game to liven up embassy receptions. Well, you can imagine how these sneaky shenanigans shook up our boys who are too busy being diplomats to tune in regularly to James Bond or Alfred Hitchcock. So Uncle Sam is going to rip

Education and Dignity

Those who may be wondering if student yearning for academic independence and citizen rights cannot be satisfied without noise, fury and violence would do well to visit a college campus in Kentucky. Berea College is unique in several ways — its 1,600 students — 90 percent of whom come from 230 mountain counties of eight Southern states—pay no tuition fee. —they pay less than $500 for room, board and incidental fees for the entire school year. —Every student—male or female—MUST work at least 10 hours a week. This is in conformity with the college's belief that "In America and Berea College it is honorable to work, it is honorable to study, and above all it is honorable to do both." —The motto of this Southern college that "God Hath Made of One Blood All Nations of Man" is practiced as well as spoken. "at Berea I am accepted as an individual" and have an equal chance to develop my capacities. —Students are taught and become superbly adept at such

Amendments to Foreign Aid Bill Losing Out at Senate House Conference

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—In the drum-tight secrecy of the Senate-House conference committee, powerful White House pressure is taking a heavy toll of the far-reaching amendments the Senate wrote into the multi-billion dollar foreign aid authorization bill. The conferees will resume their deliberations this week. In the mean while, insistent White House pressure has scored the following: —Cut to $100 million the $200 million slash voted by the Senate, in an amendment by Wayne Morse, D-Ore. The House had approved a $3.37 billion appropriation — only $12.7 million less than the President originally sought. Under the unannounced backstage compromise, he will get $3.27 billion. —Eliminated another Morse amendment creating a 16-member commission to study the entire foreign aid program and submit an alternative by 1967, with aid to be limited to 50 nations. President Johnson strongly opposed this and licked an attempt in the House to put it through. He has won again by getting Morse's amendment killed behind the closed doors of the conference committee. —Tossed out the amendment of Senator Fred Harris, D-Okla., which in effect would have barred aid to Egypt and Indonesia on the ground they are aggressors. The administration strenuously opposed this, and succeeded in defeating a similar proposal in the House. It has won again in the secrecy of the conference committee. Still undecided is another major amendment by Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. This would put the huge multi-billion dollar foreign aid program on a two-year basis, with $3.24 billion for each year. The $3.37 billion House bill is for one year. The White House has no objection to Fulbright's two-year plan. But Senator Morse and other opponents of large-scale foreign aid spending are vehemently against that. For this reason, they are supporting the House's one-year authorization. Outcome of this backstage deadlock is conjectural. But on the basis of the behind-the-scenes record so far, the House version probably will be approved.

HOT SESSIONS—Stormy clashes have punctuated the secret deliberations of the two conference groups. In one, Representative Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, vigorously contended that large-scale foreign aid has widespread popular support. "Businessmen are for it," he shouted, "labor is for it; educators are for it; professional people are for it; just about everybody is for it." "Everybody except the great mass of American taxpayers," retorted Senator Morse coldly. "I tell you the American peo-

MACARTHUR'S RETURN HOME

General Douglas MacArthur's name was placed on the Republican Presidential Primary Ballot in Wisconsin in 1944. He made no campaign. Joe McCarthy ruefully confessed to me his machine supported Harold Stassen, who won. Early in 1948 Congress invited MacArthur to come from the Orient to visit the United States. He was not accepting and I cabled, urging him to act upon the invitation. My efforts were fruitless. He felt duty required his presence in the Far East. After he was fired, when his homecoming plane reached San Francisco, the welcome was a tumultuous. He was invited to many cities where he was received with devotion and affection. His appearance before a joint session of Congress when he delivered his "Old Soldiers Just Fade Away" Address which will live forever. Polls confirmed his popularity with the electorate. In addition to his military victories he had displayed unsurpassed statesmanship in rehabilitating Japan. I thought General MacArthur, as President, could save the free world and made about two trips per month to New York trying to get him to accept if offered the Republican nomination. At the 1952 Republican convention in Chicago I organized a MacArthur Committee of about 30 headquartered in the Conrad Hilton Hotel. The committee included members of Congress and unselfish citizens who, in addition to their campaigning, insisted on sharing in the expense. The gracious Mrs. MacArthur was highly important in his public appearances. He did not bring her to Chicago when he came to keynote the convention,
