

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

New books on the shelves of the Lovett Memorial Library this week are:

No fiction
"The Great Frontier" — Walter P. Webb; the last major work of a great historian of Texas. The importance lies in the daring and the scope of its central idea, which amounts to a new theory of the Western World since 1492.

"My Autobiography" — Charles Chaplin; presented here is the outspoken memoir of a great artist, a rags to riches story that happened. His childhood, which was pure Dickens, to the free-wheeling days in Hollywood, to his quite contented existence now in Switzerland with his wife and 8 children.

Mystery
"A Kind Of Anger" — Eric Ambler; fascinating story of intrigue about an average news paperman whose assignment is to track down a girl. What appeared to be routine, is full of danger and suspense; it is also full of human revelation.

"Coffin Waiting" — Gwendoline Butler; for Inspector John Coffin, head of a Metropolitan police division south of the Thames, Roxanne, the Welfare Officer at the local biscuit factory in a sedgy district of London, proved to be a real problem.

"The Affair Of The Bumbling Briton" — Patrick O'Malley; what happens when England's foremost counter - espionage agent comes to the United States and disappears without a trace? The situation is made to order for America's unparalleled agents, Harrigan and Hoefler.

Fiction
"The Velvet Bubble" — Alice Winter; this novel presents a portrait of a girl who suffers under a compulsion she does not understand and becomes the victim of horror and pity.

"Nia's Book" — Eugene Burdick; a couple traveling in Paris during the fifties meets the girl who was responsible for the husband's safe escape during the 2nd World War. The three set out to explore the city and what begins in a gay group ends very differently.

"Doctor Samaritan" — Elizabeth Seifert; the hot temper of hospital resident Red Cahill had nearly caused a scandal before, and now, he had to prove to himself and to others that he was capable of running the department of neurosurgery.

"The Adventurers" — Jane Alken Hodge; As Napoleon's still - dangerous army retreats through Germany, a group of stragglers plunders the von Hugel country estate, leaving Miss Sonia von Hugel alone. She joins forces with her governess and a mysterious gentleman named Charles Vincent and the adventures of this trio take some unexpected turns.

"The Dirty Dozen" — E. M. Mathanson; twelve soldiers, convicted of murder by court martial, are offered a more honorable death and possibly a pardon if they train for a dangerous mission behind the lines in Europe before D-Day. It is the task of Captain Reisman to use the violent tendencies of these men for the job at hand.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
It has been suggested by Clyde Carruth, City Commissioner, that we devote some time to discussing ways to control bindweed in town. We feel this is a good suggestion.

City bindweed and bindweed in the country are pretty much like city kids and country kids. Any more you can't tell 'em apart. However, methods of controlling and eradicating the city bindweed are somewhat different from that found on a farm. Even though we have some excellent chemicals that will eradicate bindweed in small patches on farm land there are some definite handicaps to using them in town. First of these are the high cost. The most inexpensive one of the soil sterilant two chemicals will cost about $60. per acre for eradication. Second handicap is the fact they are a non selective chemical. They kill through soil sterilant affect. I applied too closely to trees or shrubs these plants will be killed. The ground will be devoid of all vegetative cover for at least two years.

TORDON — 27K - a new one of this family of soil sterilants is probably the most inexpensive. If you have bindweed in your alley or other locations and want to use this type chemical I would not apply it any closer than 20-25 feet from the outer branches of a tree or shrub.

4-D is an excellent inexpensive way to control (not complete eradication with any one spraying) bindweed in town.

It is marketed under numerous trade names such as "Weed-no-More," "Weed be Gone," "Job Weed," and a long list of others. Often people just call it weed poison or weed killer. Actually it is a growth regulating hormone.

Broadleaf plants are most susceptible to being killed when in a rapid state of growth. The weed or plant breathes in the chemical through the tiny stomata on the leaf surface. As a result the plant's roots actually rupt by having its growth habits completely upset.

Dr. Allen Wiese, Bushland Experiment Station, says the most successful kills on bindweed can be obtained about four days to a week after a ground soaking rain. Runners on the bindweed should be from 7 to 15 inches long. The bindweed should be in the bud to bloom stage. This usually occurs between June 1-15.

CAUTION — There are two types of 2, 4-D. One is called ester, the other amine. The ester type makes a gas and can be very injurious to many other susceptible plants.

I've seen many desirable plants severely injured and many cases killed in Pampa as a result of careless use of 2, 4-D. You can cause much damage to your neighbors plants by using the ester formulation. This is especially true if there is any breeze at all.

I would recommend using 2, 4-D amine type in town. It is a salt and will not make a gas. Even in this case if some of the fine mist from your spray falls on susceptible plants they will be injured. A shield can be devised very easily with one quarter-inch plywood when spraying close to susceptible plants.

Spray early morning when the wind is still. Use low pressure on your spray rig and big droplets. In other words, use a bigger orifice. Follow directions on container for mixing.

ANOTHER CAUTION — It is difficult to wash all the chemical out of a spray rig. I would use this sprayer for 2, 4-D only and paint it red. Leave your insecticides sprayer its original color to help in distinguishing them apart. A small can of paint can do this trick for you in a hurry.

Gray County
SCD News

By ARNEAL SCOTT
This year the Gray County Soil Conservation District had 5,000 acres of agricultural land damaged by wind erosion. Most of the damaging winds occurred during February. There were approximately 1,000 acres of wheat damaged. Due to adequate moisture after the "blow period" this wheat developed to where it will possibly make 10 to 15 bushels per acre.

Fine, medium and coarse textured soils need an average of 1,000 lbs of drilled crop residue and an average of 1,750 lbs of row crop residue for protection during critical wind and water erosion periods.

Johnny Johnson, Curtis Schaffer, Stan Friend and Elmer Balch do an excellent job of managing their crop residues. They use stubble mulch type equipment to maintain the crop stubble on top of their land. One of the most commonly used types of equipment is sweeps.

Bushland Experiment Station has proven with research that over a ten year period stubble mulch farming will adequately protect the land from wind and water erosion and in most cases will increase yields.

TRANSFERRED — Lucretia Inez Hubbard, Clerk-Typist for the Soil Conservation Service at Pampa Area Office for the past nine years, has been transferred to Amarillo with a promotion. Mrs. Hubbard sought the job in Amarillo because she has two daughters, Kay and Sue, working there. In her new assignment, she will provide overall clerical leadership in the absence of the Area Clerk. Most of her time will be devoted to processing Great Plains Conservation Program contracts and contract documents.

Farm and Market Trends

By United Press International
Closing prices were lower for fed cattle, but hogs sold up to new highs for recent years at midwest terminals this week.

At major livestock markets, slaughter steers and heifers were generally 25 cents to $1.25 lower, instances $1.50 lower on heifers at Chicago. Only St. Louis reported steady prices. Cows sold steady to 75 cents lower, while bulls brought mostly steady to 50 cents higher prices. Vealers were steady to $1.00, instances $2.00 higher, while feeders sold generally steady to 50 cents higher.

Slaughter steers and heifers worked lower for the first time in seven weeks in sympathy with the sharp decline in the dressed beef trade. The average cost of steers last week at the seven major markets was $26.88, however it is expected to decline this week for only the second time in the last 16 weeks.

Demand for average choice and prime steers was noticeably narrow at several markets, although other grades had a fairly good action. However, buyers were more cautious during the period than in recent weeks.

Twelve market receipts of around 196,000 cattle were about 18 per cent above last week, but around 10 per cent less than the corresponding week a year ago.

In the wholesale carlot dressed beef trade, choice steer and heifer beef was 1 to 2 1/2 cents a pound lower, while good grade sold steady to 1 cent off. Cow beef was steady to 1/2 cent a pound lower.

At Chicago, prime 1,150.375 lb. Steers brought $29.25 to $30.50, while high choice and prime cleared from $28.00 to $30.25.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS
The legislative session just ended in Austin probably did more than all previous legislatures in passing positive legislation to remedy the over-all water situation in Texas.

One bill of particular importance was Senate Bill 144, which permits the issuance of one-hundred million dollars in water development bonds already authorized by a constitutional amendment passed in 1957. It was under this amendment that the Greenbelt Water Authority was able to secure a loan to build the dam on the Salt Fork of the Red River. The dam will impound water for Clarendon and a number of other cities along U.S. Highway 287 going southeast from Clarendon. The big inch aqueduct is already being laid from the dam to the cities in the Green Belt Authority.

The legislature also approved a constitutional amendment to be voted on by the voters later this year. This amendment would authorize the issuance of another two-hundred million dollars in water development bonds. If the voters approve the proposed amendment it will double the size of the water development fund. All loans from this fund will be paid back by the borrowing authority. The proposed amendment also permits a breakthrough in the original purposes for which water development money may be used. The amendment would allow the loan to be used in construction of water treatment plants, pipelines and diversion canals.

The amendment protects the existing water rights of West Texas. This would also prevent West Texas from being written off for further expansion in the expansion of industry, agriculture and agri-business.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled this week in New Orleans that High Plains irrigation farmers can claim a depletion allowance in paying income tax. This ruling upheld an earlier ruling in U.S. District Court by Judge Dooley. The case had been brought by Marvin Shurbet, a Petersburg farmer.

The home medicine cabinet provides a great source of relief for many ailments, but it can, if unwisely maintained, cause no small amount of grief.

Unfortunately some cabinets hold poisonous articles within the reach of small, curious hands. Then, too, there is always the likelihood that an adult will carelessly or accidentally pick up a wrong bottle and we have the makings of an unfortunate accident.

If there are youngsters in the household, be careful where you store drugs, candy-coated aspirin and household poisons. As for the adults, make it a practice to read labels carefully when seeking relief in the medicine cabinet.

It is a good idea, also, to make it a practice to trade where prescriptions are a specialty. For all of your medical needs, depend on RICHARD DRUG, 111 North Cuyler Street Phone MO 5-5747.

Priest Makes Plea for Modification On the Rule of Clerical Celibacy

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International
From a Roman Catholic priest this week came a strong plea for the Vatican Council to modify the rule of clerical celibacy.

Writing in the National Catholic Reporter under the pseudonym "sacerdos occidentalis," the priest acknowledged that remaining unmarried frees a man to "give of himself more fully" to the service of the church.

But he said that celibacy also results in a "high percentage" of "twisted and neurotic lives." Some priests find the burden so difficult to bear that they become self-centered, lonely, embittered men, incapable of "a mature and genuine love of people."

He quoted the late Pope John XXIII as saying that celibacy is "a sort of martyrdom" for some young priests. He also pointed out that the no-mariage-for-priests rule is not a dogma of the church and is not imposed in the scriptures but is a disciplinary rule adopted by Pope Sixtus in 386 A.D.

This means that the rule is subject to modification by the Vatican Council. But to date, there has been no indication that the council plans to take up the celibacy issue at its final session, which begins in September.

"Sacerdos occidentalis" said the one hope of council action is, for concerned priests and laymen to "make their desires known to their bishops."

"They must plead with the fathers of the council not to sweep the whole issue of celibacy under the rug, but concretely acknowledge the basic human right of the individual priest to marry."

Church World Service has issued an urgent appeal for Protestant church women in the United States to contribute cotton yard goods, sewing needles and thread for women refugees of the war in Viet Nam.

The interdenominational overseas relief agency said sewing materials are needed, rather than used clothing because Vietnamese are so much smaller in stature than Americans that they can rarely use U.S.-made garments.

Donors are asked to make up gift parcels, consisting of 3.5 yards of white cotton cloth; 3.5 yards of black cotton cloth; 4.5 yards of printed cotton cloth; suitable thread and needles. The parcels should be plainly marked "For Vietnamese Refugees" and mailed to the nearest Church World Service processing center. The centers are located at New Windsor, Md.; St. Louis, Mo.; Napanee, Ind.; and Modesto, Calif.

England's Presbyterian churches made a survey recently to determine whether women make good elders. (An elder in Presbyterian terminology is a layman who shares with the ordained clergy in the pastoral oversight of the congregation.)

The survey revealed that women elders usually take their work more seriously than men; that they get to know people more intimately; and that they usually respond more rapidly to the needs of those who are sick, bereaved or in other difficulties.

On the other hand, women elders were faulted for being "prone to gossip" and "easily shocked," some ministers also complained that they tended to "shake the calm of the discussion" in session meetings.

After 22 years of negotiations, the two biggest Protestant churches in Canada have agreed on the basic essentials of a merger plan.

The merger would bring together the Anglican Church of Canada and the United Church of Canada in a new 6 million member body which probably would be called simply "The Church of Canada."

The plan worked out by negotiating committees must next be approved by the national conventions of the two denominations. That will take until the fall of 1966.

Success of the Canadian merger would doubtless have a stimulating effect on the unity talks among six major U.S. Protestant denominations which have been underway since 1962.

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Mrs. Charles Steed was being held today for the fatal shooting of her 33-year-old husband. He was shot as he entered their home. Police said Mrs. Steed tried to shoot him a second time but the gun jammed as he crawled under a bed.

Texas State Capitol Sidelights

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — With the close of another session of the Legislature, permanent state capitol inhabitants turned happily to one of their favorite indoor pastimes — speculating on the next elections.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr so far leads most lists of likely Democratic candidates to oppose GOP Sen. John Tower next year, although Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth would like to be his party's choice for the race.

Carr, in the past, has denied any real interest in going to the Senate. He has concentrated his plans on a race for governor after John Connally vacates the office. However, he declines to close the door on a Washington career at this stage.

He cannot afford to, with odds favoring Connally's remaining in office for another term — and another term could be for more years, if the constitutional amendment passes to double the elective span of statewide officials.

If Carr runs for the SENATE apparently there will be a big field battling to succeed him in the attorney general's office. At least a half dozen state senators reportedly have their eyes on the job. Of the lot, Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio has been busiest so far.

LA Gov. Preston Smith, who makes no secret of the fact he wants to run for governor, most likely will run for re-election in 1966.

Congressional races are shaping up on the assumption the new reapportionment bill will stand up. If it does, Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin or Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity likely will take on Congressman John Dowdy of Athens in District 2.

New District 23 in South Texas (from southern Bexar County to the Mexico border) has drawn interest from State Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales, Rep. Glen Kothmann of San Antonio and Rep. Wayne Connally of Floresville, brother of the governor.

High sources regard Merrill Connally, Floresville rancher and campaign manager for Governor Connally, his older brother, as another "distinct possibility" in the District 23 field of candidates. But there is no chance of the Connally brothers opposing each other.

SESSION LAUDED — In an unusual closing address to the 59th Legislature, Governor Connally lauded it as "the most productive of any in this century."

Governor specifically cited work in the areas of education, public health, finance, water development and congressional and legislative redistricting. He recalled that last January the 59th was faced with "a greater and more varied assortment of problems than any legislature in modern times," and educated predictions were that lawmakers could not solve all of them without one or more special sessions.

Connally disagreed with critics who insist the redistricting bills will be knocked out by federal courts. He thinks the bills will meet the courts' test.

The session closed out calmly, in contrast to most of those of the past. After congressional redistricting was disposed of two days before the quitting deadline, there wasn't much left to wrangle about.

CONSTITUTION CHANGES? — Twenty-five proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution were recommended by the 59th Legislature. Amendments will be voted on in three different elections during 1965 and 1966.

First election is September 7 on the proposal to increase size of the state senate from 31 to 39 members.

Ten amendments will be voted on November 2. They would: —Extend to four years terms of governor and other statewide elected officials now limited to two-year terms; —Increase state representatives' terms from two to four years; —Permit full state participation in federal medicare programs; —Authorize the Legislature to set salaries of the lieutenant governor and speaker; —Set up an $85,000,000 student loan fund; —Require district and appellate court judges to retire at 75 and set up a system for removal for misconduct; —Expand the investment authority of the public school retirement system; —Increase the state property tax from 42 to 47 cents and allocate the extra five cents to college buildings; —Exempt from the property tax locally a hospital which spends as much as $1,500,000 a year on care of indigents.

Fourteen amendments on the 1966 general election ballot would: —Add $200,000,000 more to the water development fund and permit use for conveyance and associated facilities such as canals or pipelines; —Expand court of criminal appeals from three to five members; —Repeal the poll tax; —Allow the state to hold private funds until receipt of federal matching grants for private groups to use in rehabilitation services; —Abolish residence requirements for servicemen to vote;

—Set swearing-in day for state representatives on first day of a legislative session; —Provide state aid to survivors of firemen and law enforcement officers killed on duty; —Set up a retirement system for state employees and officials; —Remove Arlington State College from the permanent university building fund; —Permit farm land to be assessed only at its agricultural value (despite proximity to big city real estate developments); —Extend terms of conservation and reclamation district directors from two to six years; —Provide that school district boundaries can be changed without invalidating tax bond issues.

LEGISLATIVE REFORMS URGED — House Speaker Ben Barnes believes power of legislative conference committees (which wrote at least two dozen of the bills passed in the last week of the Legislature's session) should be reduced, Rank and file lawmakers also should have more to say about how state money is spent, Barnes says.

"There were riders in the last appropriations bill I didn't know were there myself," Barnes admitted. "If you take the rider provision away from conference committees, that would accomplish a lot. The public suffers more from riders than from dollars and cents changes in conference committee."

Barnes made the comments while refuting the criticisms by U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and John Tower of the Legislature's efforts at congressional reapportionment.

BOUNDARY BEING DRAWN —Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has taken on the job of establishing the boundary line between Garrant and Parker counties, at request of both county commissioner courts.

Parks Named As Principal at Woodrow Wilson

Robert R. Parks, assistant principal at Robert E. Lee Junior High School since 1962, has been appointed principal of Woodrow Wilson elementary school.

He will succeed Floyd Smith who recently resigned to take a post with El Paso public schools. Parks, a graduate of North Texas State College in 1955, came to Pampa that year as a history teacher at Robert E. Lee. Parks will assume his new duties this summer in planning Woodrow Wilson activities for the opening of school in September.

A successor to Parks at Robert E. Lee probably will be named at the July meeting of the school board, according to Jack Edmondson, school superintendent.

Outdoor Theatre To Open in PD Canyon

A new kind of outdoor theatre, lying in Palo Duro Canyon at the base of a 600-foot bluff, will open in the Texas Panhandle Thursday night. The opening will draw visitors to the magnificently colored canyon and will lead them through experiences of residents and visitors to the same spot during the past 40,000 years.

The theatre is the Pioneer Amphitheatre located in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park at the head of the 126-mile canyon.

The bluff of the canyon and the bowl of the theatre make an echo chamber, so that patrons seem to be inside of the sounds they hear. The acoustics are said to be so perfect that a penny dropped anywhere on the stage may be heard in any seat and a production in this place is a new kind of sound experience for listeners.

The first summerlong production will be a show in life and light and sound, "Thundering Sounds of the West." Starting with the surf in the days when the vast Panhandle Prairie was at sea, continuing through the ages of swamp and veid and landslide to its present form.

The unique theatre in a canyon was built by the people of the Panhandle with the cooperation of the State of Texas. They formed and worked through an organization called the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and thousands of Plains residents helped in many ways to help forward its development.

In planning the theatre, the board of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, was guided and advised by the distinguished playwright, Paul Green, whose magnificent documentaries of American faith have moved so many who have seen "The Lost Colony," "The Common Glory," "The Stephen Foster Story" and other landmark shows he has written, and whose new great drama girded with music and pageantry, "The Cross and the Sword," is opening in St. Augustine, Fla. this month.

The pioneer amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon was designed to accommodate the kind of tremendous spectacle Mr. Green writes and he is preparing a script which will be presented as soon as the accommodations in the theatre for a large cast have been finished.

Meanwhile, the first production will be the sound and light show, opening this summer with a few live accents done with actors and an introductory set of scenes with people and motion as well.

"Thundering Sounds of the West" will run throughout the summer, opening next Thursday and closing September 6, Labor Day. It will not show on Tuesdays. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and seats for groups may be reserved at Box 268, Canyon, Texas. Showtime each night is 8:15 p.m.

THE FEUD between the CAA and the AAU is growing ridiculous proportions. It has been on for many years and no closer to a solution now than at the beginning, nor does any solution seem to be in sight, although not in favor of government control of any sport, it seems from this corner that the only possible way the war can ever be stopped, before it cripples the track and field sports. Not only Randy Matson, but many other standout athletes are being punished by one or the other.

The problem is that the athlete MUST belong to one or the other group, he has no choice. He is in college, he automatically comes under the NCAA or the NATA. When he finishes college, either he joins the AAU or doesn't run. So... no one has any choice except the powers that be, and they seem willing to cut the throat of every track athlete in the country as well as the pride and prestige of the country itself.

THE RECENT baseball draft seems only to have touched Jimmy Carter, former Tascosa pitcher-infielder now at Trinity University, out of all former district 3-AAAA players. Extremely surprising, inasmuch as large numbers of no scouts were watching district games last spring, and several scouts said "most definitely they were going to bid in on Steve Molberg and Chinky Garrison."

Noticed where the first high school draftee out of Texas was Charlie Vaughn of Brownsville. This scribe saw Charlie Vaughn a number of games last summer in Lejon baseball, and in my professional opinion as a scout and former coach, I couldn't wear Garrison's glove.

Bowling

By GIL BURGUND
 A thing to see this week was Dwight Mackie setting a 210 average, using a two fingered ball. The entire top of his middle finger was a big blister, so, jokingly, I said to try bowling with just one finger, which he did. Results — a beautiful easy delivery, that gave strike after strike.

Lots of good bowling this week. John Snuggs, Ralph Chisum, Bill Smith, Johnnie Carson all right at the 600 mark. Maybe it's the weather, but if it is, how come I'm bowling so lousy?

By the way, last week it was Wyiene Patrick and Pat Patrick who bowled the 278 — not yours truly. More Best Ball Doubles coming up.

Ronnie Havens was right there with a 243-603, and guess who came up with the ladies' hi game and series of the week at Garden Lanes. No one but Minnie Cable with a 204-523, and just out of the hospital.

I know Geraldine Rodgers, with a 129-48 is plenty happy too. Charles MacDonald enjoyed his 215 a lot better than the 119 on his last game. What gives with this team? 159, then a 98, 151, then a 99, a 93 then a 157, and those were all on one team and in one game.

Bill Harden, Gale Harden and Hoyt LaRue stairstepped 415-419-423. Lanny Lewis tried for a triplicate 162, 172, 162. Also Max Barnhill 177, 153, 153 and Billie Davis had a nice 211-548. Katherine Glover also came close 113, 93, 113, and I'll bet Florence Mounce hadn't planned to follow her 176 game with a big fat 87, but in bowling you just don't plan.

The Junior Bantams had a Field Day this week, little Bruce Murchison had a 183 and a 468 series, while Frankie LaRue posted a 129, 314. The Junior doubles blossomed into a 14 Team League this week with Billie Davis 211, 543 hi and Janet Morgan's 176.436 showing the boys and girls how it is done.

We have had some of the wildest team names this season. Swerves and Curves, Poor Girls, Glamour Girls, Hulle Gullies, Frankensteiners, Barracudas and Clowns, just to mention a few.

Penn's Lounge didn't wait for anyone the other nite — took hi game, hi series, hi team game and hi team Series. Well, there is always a next time for the rest of us to show off.

Ladies classes are helping the new bowlers, too, to improve their scoring.

Fisher a 'Life Saver' for Chisox

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
 UPI Sports Writer
 The glamor boys of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff can thank Eddie Fisher for "saving" their reputation.

This spring Al Lopez tabbed his 1965 mound crew the best he's had in 18 years of managing, but without Fisher it would be strictly second rate.

The 28-year-old knuckleballer has figured directly in almost 60 per cent of the White Sox victories this season with a major league-leading total of 13 saves and six victories.

Fisher did not allow an earned run in seven innings of relief work Friday night in the White Sox 5-2, 5-4 (10 innings) doubleheader sweep of the Washington Senators, picking up another "save" in the opener and a victory in the nightcap.

Fisher's double duty enabled the second-place White Sox to keep pace with the Minnesota Twins, the American League leaders, who won a pair of extra-inning games from Detroit, 5-4 in 10 innings and 5-4 in 12.

Completing the AL action, New York trimmed Los Angeles 6-4, Kansas City surprised Cleveland 5-2, and Baltimore nipped Boston 5-4.

In the National League, the pace-setting Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the New York Mets 2-1, Milwaukee battered St. Louis 8-2, Pittsburgh tripped San Francisco 5-3 and Philadelphia edged Houston 6-5 in 10 innings.

Fisher's 30 appearances in the AL and his 1.53 earned run average is the lowest on the much-ballyhooed White Sox pitching staff. He hurried four innings of three-hit ball in the opener to save Juan Pizarro's first win of the season and came right back in the nightcap with three frames of two-hit work after Lopez had used four other relievers.

Homers in 10th
 Don Buford accounted for the second game triumph for Chicago with a 10th inning home run and Danny Cater drove in the decisive run in the opener with a tape-measure blast in the fifth inning. Pizarro, who has been plagued with arm trouble, went five innings, his longest stint this year.

Jimmy Hall drove in the winning runs in both games for the Twins and both times reliever Terry Fox was saddled with the loss.

Drysdale Turns Hero After All

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
 UPI Sports Writer
 Manager Walter Alston took Don Drysdale aside Friday night and warned him: "Don't be a hero."

Drysdale followed Alston's instructions and wound up a hero anyway, beating the New York Mets 2-1 on four hits and slaming the game winning home run in the eighth inning.

Like a number of other National Leaguers, the towering Los Angeles Dodger righthander just can't help himself when it comes to the Mets, whom he has beaten 16 times in 17 decisions.

Drysdale fell while delivering a pitch in the first inning and lay writing on the ground in intense pain.

"My knee just gave out on me," Drysdale explained. "When I went out to twist, I didn't know what it was. I was scared."

Teammates Frightened
 So were his Los Angeles teammates and Alston.

"I was afraid he'd twisted his knee and would keep pitching and then come up with a sore arm," Alston said. "I told him 'don't be a hero.' If it hurts you let me know and we'll get someone else in there."

"I gave it kinda of a kick," Drysdale said, referring to his dinals. Rico Carty homered in the second for the Braves off loser Ray Washburn (4-4). The Braves successfully employed pinch hitters Mike De La Hoz and Ty Cline, who singled in along with Gene Oliver. Denny Lemaster pitched the first six innings to get the victory. Phil Niekro finished up for the Braves, allowing only two hits.

Inside Homer
 Johnny Callison hit an inside the park home run with two out in the 10th inning to provide the Phillies with their triumph over Houston. Callison's drive bounced off the centerfield scoreboard and bounded away from Houston outfielders. Callison, who was sidelined recently with a pulled leg muscle, managed to beat the relay throw to the plate. Reliever Gary Wagner was the winner and Jim Owens took the loss. Wes Covington also homered for the Phils as did Houston starting pitcher Dave Giusti.

Six AFL Team Uniforms Are Going Down Television Tube

By TOM TIEDE
NEW YORK (NEA) — NBC Television has informed a half-dozen American Football League teams that their best is just not good enough — at least as far as the wardrobe men are concerned anyway.

Seems some of the clubs' costumes cause titters on the tubes.

The network discovered the problem recently when they dressed page boys in AFL pads and paraphernalia and ran them through a scraggly scrimmage to test the various shades and hues for future colorcasting.

Six of eight league uniforms failed to pass the technicolor

Explained Chet Simmons, NBC director of sports: "The general colors of the outfits were O.K. but the thing that gave us trouble were the white shiny satin materials; some had it in the numerals and others in the pants. It caused what we call a 'flare' on the picture set. It's sort of a spangling effect. "We can compensate for it electronically but then we sacrifice the quality of the picture, so..."

So, the teams got the word. "We informed them of the problem and sent along tapes to illustrate it. And we asked them to see if they could do something about it. We can't, of course, tell them what to buy—that's not our function. But we did suggest they talk it over with their uniform manufacturers."

Result, of course, was a unanimous "Yessir!" NBC's contract with the AFL crews is a five-year, $42,000,000 package . . . and nobody wants to kill Santa Claus.

However, compliance won't be immediate. The New York Jets' Weeb Ewbank says, "Our uniforms had already been ordered by the time we were informed of the color difficulties and by then it was too late to change." In Boston, the Pa-triot's Mike Holovak has a similar problem, and if Holovak can not do anything about his equipment, nobody can — he's part owner of a sporting goods store and, in effect, buys his gear from himself.

"The curious thing about this whole thing," says Holovak, "is that this white satin material is the finest uniform we have. You can't get better stuff. So, as I see it, we'll have to settle for inferior and less attractive uniforms."

In other words, to look better you'll have to look worse?

"That's about it," chuckles the Boston bossman. "But, of course, we'll do it. If they're going to show us on color television, we want to look as good as everybody else even if we can't play the same."

This particular episode, of course, may not be the end of the story. Television's influence on football is more real than go, more real than real. Simmons admits he "would like to get all teams to wear soft pastel colors such as pink and powder blues." And, after that, what? Make-up men to accent muscles? Wigs for the Y.A. Tittles? Greasepaint at game time?

Next thing you know Alfred Hitchcock will be league commissioner.

Jaycee District Golf Meet Set for June 22

Continuing their preparation for a powerful area contingent in the state Jaycee sports spectacular, the Pampa Jaycees announced that the district golf meet will be held at the Pampa Country Club June 22, with the regional meet following two days later at the PCC.

The district meet, for boys in this area, will be divided into two divisions, and will be open to any boy who will not have reached his 19th birthday by Aug. 15 of this year.

The open division will be for boys who have won or placed in the top four in any previous competition, including Jaycee, high school, junior high, country club, etc. The novice division will be for boys who have never placed a tournament or competition.

The top two boys in each division will be eligible for the regional meet June 24, in which boys from the Pampa area will clash with youngsters from other Jaycee teams. The top two survivors in each division from the regional meet will represent the Top O' Texas in the state meet at Bryan Aug. 8-10.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the PCC and the Pampa Youth and Community Center. Out-of-town entries, can call PCC golf pro Hart Warren. All entries must be in by June 21. The match will start at 8:30 a. m. the following day.

Last year's open winner, PHS golfer Skip Warren, will be too old to defend his title. Richard Ellis, PHS' leading golfer this year and a high finisher last year, will be the probable favorite.

Texas Outdoors

By JAMES DAVIS
UPI Outdoors Writer

That cute, innocent fawn of today may soon grow up into a dangerous killer.

"Even with all the educational effort extended to caution against taking wild deer from its natural environment, an astounding number of inquiries are now being received for permission to keep wild deer," said J. B. Phillips, coordinator of law enforcement for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"The real tragedy is that possessor and possessed, although temporarily enchanted, soon tire of the unnatural companionship," he said. When this happens the confused and frustrated deer is liable to attack his "owner" or other persons.

Keeping a deer without a permit is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $50-$200. But Phillips said that the breaking of this law has now reached widespread proportions.

One problem for state game wardens is proving that a particular deer is actually being held in captivity. Some deer become reasonably tame by everyday contact and feeding, but are not actually confined. In most cases this would now be considered possession and thus would not be punishable under the law.

Taking deer—usually fawns—from their wild environment and raising them as pets is clearly a violation of the law.

"Deer may be taken from the wild only for scientific or zoological purposes, and we can issue permits for their possession only on those grounds," said Phillips. He said the permits were issued only to governmental and non-profit organizations.

Phillips said his department receives reports of "tamed" deer attacking humans almost every year.

Ghana President Losing Trust of His Neighbors

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana has won the distrust of all of his neighbors and of a large segment of the new nations of Africa.
He also has managed to bankrupt Ghana which, when it became the first British African colony to achieve independence in 1947, had $560 million in the bank, the highest literacy rate in black Africa and the natural resources to assure a bright future.
By the deportation or imprisonment route he also eliminated his opposition, and this week carried logic to its natural conclusion.

Since his own Convention People's party CCP was the only one permitted to enter candidates for the 196 seats of parliament, the Ghanaian Electoral Commission cancelled general elections altogether on the reasonable assumption that the candidates already had been elected.
Burbled the government-owned Ghanaian Times the next day:
"Yesterday was indeed a glorious day in Ghana's history. It marked the unalloyed confidence the people have in the national party and its leader Osagyefo the Redeemer Doctor Kwame Nkrumah."
The editor knew upon which side his bread was buttered. No such display of confidence was forthcoming from Nkrumah's neighbors nor from the nations from which he had sought huge emergency loans to meet a deficit estimated at more than $500 million.

One after the other, the United States, Japan, Britain, West Germany and half a dozen others refused Ghana requests for loans said to total more than $3 billion.
The United States already had loaned Ghana $37 million toward construction of the Volta River Dam, her principal development project, plus a loan of $110 million to two United States corporations that are building an aluminum smelter associated with the dam. The U.S. also was providing $1 million per year in technical assistance to Ghanaian agriculture.
In Ghana itself foreign firms were closing branches and laying off workers.
Taxes were going up but a ban on wage increases left some doubt as to where the money would come from.
Black market currency operations were thriving.
Nkrumah had invested $1.5 billion in 47 state corporations, of which all but three were deeply in the red.
Making money were the hotel corporation, a nail factory and the railroad and harbor system.
Scheduled to be closed was the country's only soap factory.
In the House of Parliament bar there was a shortage of beer.
For consumer shortages Nkrumah blames profiteering and inefficient officials and in the end he promises that Ghana will know abundance.
But for Nkrumah, Ghana has been not an end but a beginning.
He has visualized himself as a leader of African unity. An assassination attempt against the president of Nigeria has been laid at his door. He has coveted the territory of neigh-

There is no mainspring in this timepiece. Accutron time is kept by vibrations of a tiny tuning fork which divides a second into 360 parts. Your present watch divides a second into only five parts. Ex-Commissioner Says Lake Not Utopia for Pampa Water Users

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article was submitted to The News for publication by L. P. Fort, former Ward 4 city commissioner, who said he has given a great amount of study to problems connected with Pampa's affiliation with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. Fort also is a member of the recently appointed Water Study Committee, one of 11 groups named by Mayor Jim Nation to assist the city commission in reaching solutions to some of Pampa's major problems.

By L. P. FORT
In the following I shall not express any personal opinion as to the matter of Pampa's Water supply from the Canadian River lake.

First, the lake is not the Utopia that some of our people believe. Let us see how we came to have it. On November 23, 1961, the taxpayers voted to enter a contract with the Canadian River Authority.

Now, taking 1961 as an average year—4,500 poll tax-holding citizens. Of this number, 2,496 persons voted. 90 of these people voted against the project, leaving 2,406 who voted for it. Also this would leave roughly 2,000 who had no opinion, or did not vote. Remember these figures.

Often in the past I had asked, "What kind of water will the lake produce?" and the answer has been "It's good water, in fact in some ways better than our local well water." One month and a half ago I went to the lake and took a sample, about 200 feet from the large aqueduct, where the water will come out. This sample was given to H. H. Heiskell, who took it to Amarillo for an analysis. The water sample was taken to Jack C. Wyatt, Ph.D. chemist and taxologist. I believe he is the chemist for the city of Amarillo. Mr. Wyatt was paid the regular commercial rate and I think he does not know at this time where the sample came from. Mr. Wyatt made the following statement without knowing the plans for filtering—"I could not recommend this water to be of good quality for domestic use. However it would be suitable for cattle, irrigation, and so forth."

Another question that I had asked often was, "How much does it cost to filter the water?" Mr. Cotton (of the engineering firm of Forrest and Cotton in Dallas who made the study for Pampa) was asked the question, and I remember he looked around and said that "someone had said six cents per thousand."

I took the analysis and picked out a name from the Municipal magazine, and wrote them a letter. They advertise as being water filter plant contractors and water engineers. These people did not charge for the ten-day study they gave the matter of filtering, so I do not feel that I should mention their name. I have the letter to show upon request.

I quote 3 paragraphs of this letter; some of the letter is not pertinent. Quote — "The total cost of demineralizing this water including interest, principal, and operating cost, down to a total solids content of 500 parts per million will be about $0.20 to $0.22 per 1,000 gallons. Further — quote — "The total initial cost of the plant will be $2,000,000 based on the amount of principal in 25 years at an interest rate of 5 percent. Further — quote — "We have received the chemical analysis of the water you are considering using as a source of supply. We note that it is highly mineralized and has a total solids content of about 1,650 parts per million, which includes high concentrations of calcium, magnesium, chlorides, and sulfates. As you possible know, the maximum total solids content that the Texas State Health Dept. or U.S. Public Health Service will approve is 500 parts per million." End of quote. Opinions are what I was not going to express, so let us suppose from the foregoing that we do have to pay 20 cents per thousand gallons for filtering water as some cities are now paying. Let us figure 20 cents per thousand for 5,000,000 gallons of water per day — that would be:

$1,000 per day
For thirty days—$30,000.
For one year—$360,000.
This $360,000 plus the $204,000 that we START paying the Government will amount to $564,000 per year for the Canadian river water, or slightly more than the water department averages taking in now, GROSS.

We need money to transfer to the General Fund to run the city, as much as two to three hundred thousand dollars per year to pay existing bonds, and Water Department operating expense for the present wells, valves, meters, salaries, pipe, and so on.

Now when you get ready to hatchet down the City Commission, or the men appointed to try to solve the problem, just go back to those magic numbers and try to remember if YOU voted for or against this project. Or did you bother to vote at all?

ent water charges? To get down to where we live, you are beintomyhome 0- asking what will the water rate be into my home? Again, if the experts are right, the river water will have to cost the City about 35 to 40 cents per thousand gallons at your water tap. On top of this cost to you will have to be added enough to show a profit, for the City to pay all that has been paid in the past—plus a great deal more.

Sunday Passing Show

VINCE JOHNSON, son of Raymond and Ethel Johnson, sophomore at West Texas State University, Canyon, left Amarillo by plane Thursday for New York where he will captain WTSU's panel when the university is represented on General Electric's College Bowl TV program at 4:30 p.m. today. The show is telecast live nationally by NBC and may be viewed locally on KGNC-TV. Johnson is majoring in music and minoring in English. Two WTSU students from Amarillo, Anthony Narkin and Catherine Brannon, and one from McAllen, Don Hensley, will join with Johnson on the team which will be competing against a team from St. Francis College, Brooklyn, N.Y. Good wishes go with the team. The school of the winning team, selected by answering the most questions on general subjects, will receive a $1,500 scholarship, and the winning team will return in September to compete against another school. Johnson is spending the summer months in Pampa with his parents and working for Cabot as a lab assistant. Another Cabot summer employe who adds much to the Pampa scene and is greatly appreciated by Pampa Little Theater members is Paulette Hinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hinton of White Deer. Mrs. Margaret Arthur and son Bob returned from a weekend trip to Austin where they visited another son, John, who is attending summer school at the University of Texas as a senior. David Johnston, son of the R. M. Johnstons of Odessa, former Pampans, has been awarded a scholarship to attend summer band school at McMurry College, Abilene. The young cornet player is the grandson of Orban and Minnie Epperson.

HAWAII SEEMS to lure area residents. Lucky Pampans visiting the enchanted isles are Mrs. Julian (Katy) Key and daughters, Linda and Cindy. The three Keys, who plan to be gone several weeks, were accompanied to Hawaii by Barbara and Beth Falkenstein, daughters of Dr. R. D. Falkenstein. Miss Betty Tatum, daughter of John and Imogene Tatum, former teacher at William B. Travis Elementary School, is spending the summer in Hawaii attending school. Mrs. William (Elaine) Ledbetter is spending the summer furthering her education in Berkeley, Calif. Mrs. Clifford Coleman, librarian at the Skellytown Library is conducting a Summer Reading Club for area children with story hour sessions each Tuesday morning in the IOOF Hall. Children in the third grade or older will study the "Civil War" in the summer sessions and pre-schoolers and first and second graders will follow a "Circus Fun Club" theme. Mrs. Coleman invites all interested readers to join the summer reading activities. Pampa Garden Club enthusiasts will be interested in "A Treasured Treasure House," placement and horticulture show to be presented Tuesday in the Amarillo home of Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Barnett at 3811 Fleetwood St., sponsored by the Amarillo Garden Club. A special attraction of the show, held in conjunction with the National Convention of Men's Garden Clubs of America, being held in Amarillo, will be a Junior Gardeners' conservation display. Interested persons are invited to view the displays from 3 to 6 p.m. and tickets may be secured by contacting Mrs. John R. Armstrong, 2411 Ong St., Amarillo, or may be purchased at the Barnett home the day of the show.

MRS. F. B. GREGG of Leesburg, Fla., the former Juanita Osborn of Pampa, daughter of V. N. and Gladys Osborn and sister of Mrs. Thelma Bray, has received a private pilot's license after taking final tests at Orlando, Fla., Municipal Airport. Mrs. Gregg and her husband, who is also a pilot, own a four-place Bonanza and enjoy flying both for pleasure and business. A construction company owned by Gregg has been one of the prime contractors in the construction of dams and waterways which will eventually link central Florida with the Atlantic Ocean. Completion of the $9 million project is scheduled for late July or early August. Pat Lude-man, daughter of Martin and Marjorie Lude-man, flew to Austin yesterday where she will serve as a counselor at Girls' State. Miss Lude-man was chosen by Girls' State administrators as a staff member and editor of the Girls' State paper after attending as a delegate last year. Trina Frost, granddaughter of the A. N. Rogers, this year's Girls' State delegate, will leave Amarillo Tuesday evening by chartered bus to join girls from over Texas attending the Austin meeting. An interesting bit of information concerning Girls' State and the way one person feels about the importance of the work done there, is that Mrs. Frances Goff, business administrator of a Houston Hospital, spends her two-week vacation each summer serving as head of Girls' State.

PAMPA HAS been fortunate, what with all the storm warnings and severe storms in the Top O' Texas area recently. Hermon and Vera Whatley were having dinner in the Silver Grill in Amarillo Tuesday evening when an unusual hail storm struck. The sky became dark as night and hail fell for about 15 minutes with no rainfall. Mr. Whatley said he had watched Panhandle weather for many years but this was the first time he had ever seen a completely 'dry' hail storm. Mrs. H. S. (Margaret) Ayres was seen in a local grocery store one day last week feeling quite proud due to the fact she was accompanied by her nine-month-old grandson, Mike Wolbrecht. Mike was visiting in the home of his grandparents along with his mother, Mrs. William (Janice) Wolbrecht of Houston. Know the Ayres enjoyed having their family together again since son, Hoyt, student at LSU in New Orleans, La., and Tom, student at the University of Houston, are home for the summer. J. M. and Bit Fitzgerald are enjoying the visit of their son, Lt. Dan Fitzgerald and wife, Louise, who are enroute from Florida to Honolulu where Lt. Fitzgerald will be stationed at Wheeler Air Base. Making the visit complete for the Fitzgeralds was the presence of their first grandchild, two-month-old Dannie. A. B. and Sally Carruth were seen at church last Sunday with their son Brent of Lubbock. Also in the family group were Brent's sister, Mrs. Jerry Grayson, and his three-year-old nephew, Scott Grayson. The group was joined later by Miss Elsa Plants for lunch at Coronado Inn. Ed and Ethel Dunigan and sons, Terry and Denny, home from Notre Dame University, were seen having lunch Sunday with Dunigan's brother and wife, James B. and Sally Dunigan of Abilene.

FANNIE AND GEORGE Cree Jr. were seen at church Sunday with happy smiles brought about by having Mrs. Cree's parents, the M. S. Theffords of Dallas, and their three sons, George III, Rick and Hal, attending the services with them. The Crees had returned from Kerrville, where young George graduated May 24, from Schreiner Institute High School with honorable mention and Rick and Hal finished the tenth grade at the Institute. Accompanying the Crees to Kerrville were Lyssa Rossow, daughter of Jimmy and Rosalia Rossow and Patti Meador, daughter of Jay and Elizabeth Meador. Wesley Green, son of Virginia and F. L. Green Jr., also graduated from Schreiner Institute High School and plans to room with George III when the two young men enter junior college there next fall.

Begert-Leib Vows Read in Allison

CANADIAN (Spl) - Miss Linda Sue Begert of Amarillo became the bride of Dean Lieb of Stinnett on June 3. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Begert of Allison, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lieb of Stinnett. The ceremony was performed in the Methodist Church of Allison. The pastor, Rev. Frank Matthews of Kerton, read the double-ring vows before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, white mums, jade palms and blue streamers. Mrs. Lee Kiker, pianist, provided traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. John Welch as she sang the "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a semi-formal wedding gown of white satin, fashioned with a flared skirt and inverted pleat with a bow at the front waist line. She wore a white satin pill box hat with a veil of illusion and carried a white Bible topped with a lily of the valley and gardenias. Mrs. Edwin Begert served her sister-in-law as matron of honor. She wore an aqua suit of silk shantung with white accessories and carried a nosegay of white carnations. Billy Lieb of Gruver served his uncle as best man. Ushers were Edwin Begert of Amarillo, brother of the bride, and Hiram Begert of Allison, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The young couple left immediately on a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico. For traveling the bride chose an aqua knit suit with black accessories. They will make their home in Stinnett.

Mrs. Moore Gives Program to Society

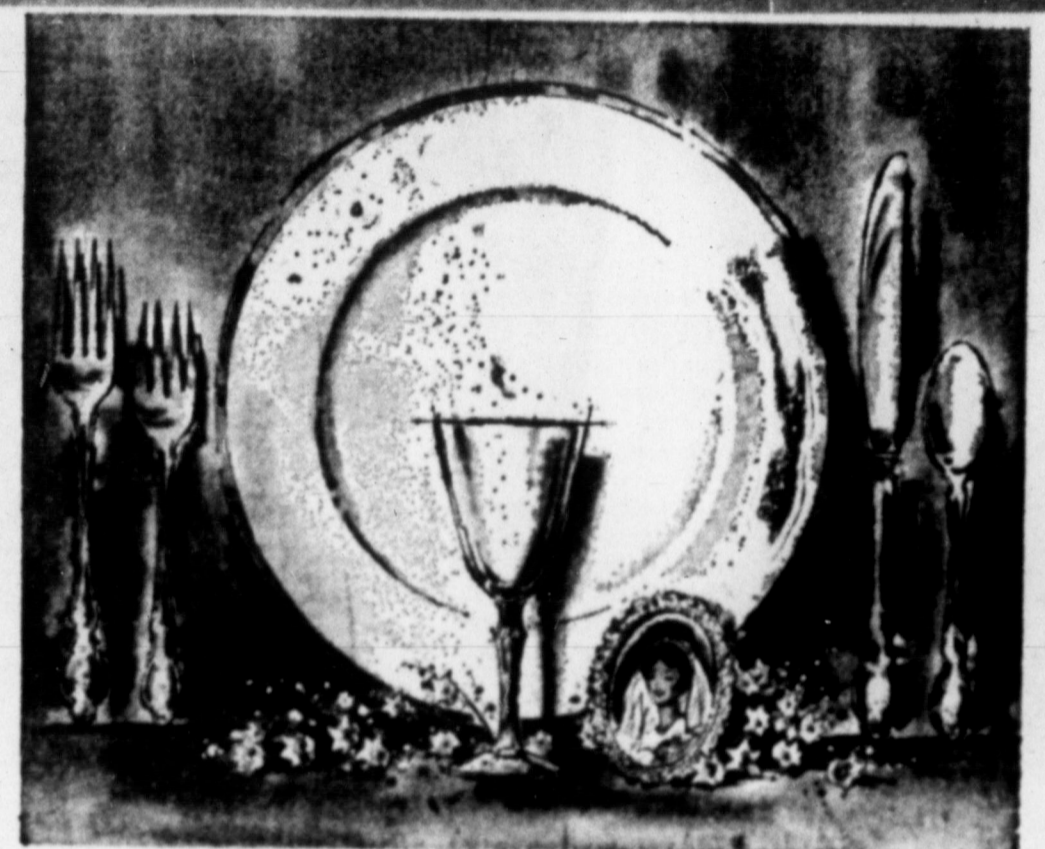

Mrs. Dan Glaxner, president, presided over the Wednesday evening meeting of Pampa African Violet Society when the group met in the home of Mrs. Charles Glisson, south of the city. Mrs. R. F. Dirkson read the Club Collect and the roll call was answered by the seven members present. Plans were discussed for the Society members to attend Pampa Council of Garden Club's picnic supper to be held Sept. 10 in Central Park. Following the business meeting, Mrs. W. Lee Moore, introduced by Mrs. Dirkson, program chairman, presented a program on "Do's and Don'ts for African Violets," followed by a discussion of the points brought out by Mrs. Moore. During the social hour those present enjoyed viewing colored pictures taken at the Society's

FATHERS DAY IS SUNDAY JUNE 20th

Dear Abby.... Guiding Children's Lives Is Greatest Responsibility

DEAR ABBY: A currently successful woman author seems to be harping on the theory that in order for a woman to be "fulfilled," even though she is a wife and mother, she needs a profession or a job outside her home. You are a "pro," Abby. How do you feel about that?

STAY-AT-HOME MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I am one "pro" who is "con" on that theory. Motherhood (at least until the children are in school all day) is a full-time job. And if it is done properly it more than "fulfills" a woman. There is no greater responsibility than guiding a life. And no greater reward than the knowledge that you have done it well.

DEAR ABBY: My skin crawled when I read that letter from "Heartbroken Mother," pleading with all mothers to keep electric extension cords "unplugged" when not in use because of the tragic accident her child had when she put a "live" cord in her mouth. I want you and that mother to know that that letter has helped at least one thoughtless mother. I used to keep an extension cord for my vacuum cleaner plugged in to the wall behind my couch. That way I didn't have to pull out the couch each time I vacuumed. My ten-month-old daughter has just started to crawl, and when I think of how easy it would have been for her to get hold of that cord and put it in her mouth, my blood runs cold. I immediately disconnected that cord and it is now hanging in the broom closet. My thanks to you, Abby, for printing that letter. I lost one son to a congenital heart defect last year, and would hate to lose the only child I have left to electrocution because of my carelessness.

Sincerely,
MRS. H. MRS. H. June 13th is Children's Day:

A PARENT'S PRAYER
Oh, heavenly Father, make me a better parent. Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interrupting them or contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. Forbid that I should ever laugh at their mistakes, or resort to shame or ridicule when they displease me. May I never punish them for my own selfish satisfaction or to show my power.

Let me not tempt my child to lie or steal. And guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. And when I am out of sorts, help me, Oh Lord, to hold my tongue.

May I ever be mindful that my children are children and I should not expect of them the judgment of adults.

Let me not rob them of the opportunity to wait on themselves and to make decision.

Bless me with the bigness to grant them all their reasonable requests, and the courage to deny them privileges I know will do them harm.

Make me fair and just and kind. And fit me, Oh Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children. Amen.

Skellytown First Baptist Church Is Scene of Crawford-Williams Wedding

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Miss Colleen Rae Crawford became the bride of Frank A. Williams in double-ring vows said at 7:30 p.m. June 5 in a candle-light ceremony performed in Skellytown First Baptist Church.

Rev. Bill Penland officiated for the exchange of vows, which were repeated amid a setting of two large baskets of white gladioli, white bows and greenery entwining the white wrought iron base of the white cathedral tapers and a kneeling bench of white wrought iron.

Miss Crawford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crawford of Skellytown. Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Williams of White Deer.

Miss Karen Mathews, organist, provided traditional wedding music and served as accompanist for Billy Gann as he sang "I Love You Truly," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

Given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I avowal," the bride was attired in a white lace gown over white taffeta with a molded bodice. The decollete neckline was edged with scallops of lace and the long fitted sleeves extended to petal points over the hands. Tiny self-covered buttons fastened the back of the gown. The controlled bouffant bell-shaped skirt with tiers of lace, embellished with white sequins, swept to a chapel-length train. Her veil of white silk illusion fell in a double pouf to below the shoulders from a crown of jeweled alencon lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and ivy, centered with a purple throated white cattleya orchid.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

Miss Linda Sue Crawford, attended her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Nannetta Harmon, Miss Sammy Jo Denny, Mrs. Carroll D. Russell and Mrs. Larry Forestal of Austin, sister of the bride. The attendants were dressed identically in street-length gowns of heavenly blue bridal satin with fitted bodices, jewel necklines, set in sleeves, softly pleated bell shaped skirts, and self fabric cummerbund with a bow in the back.

Bows with matching tulle head pieces, matching shoes and white gloves, completed their costumes. They carried cascade bouquets of white feathered carnations with blue centers.

Sherry Koetting attended as flower girl, dressed as the bridesmaid and wearing a wristlet of white feathered carnations. She carried a colonial basket of rose petals.

Donald Lane Williams served his brother as best man. Serving as groomsmen were Larry Forestal of Austin, brother-in-law of the bride, Carroll D. Russell, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Don Brisco of Phillips and Edd Koetting of Borger. Ushers were Bill Gann, of White Deer and Neal Rogers of Shamrock.

Candlelighters were Mary Huval, cousin of the bride, and Mun Davis.

Ring-bearers were Mark Huval, cousin of the bride, and Billy Bob Terry of White Deer.

Joye Collins and Richard D. Parkham Are United in Candlelight Church Rites

Seven-branched candelabra bearing white tapers, flanking jade palms and basket arrangements of white gladioli appointed the wedding scene for Miss Joye Lee Collins and Richard Dean Parkham at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Rev. Harry Vanderpool solemnized the double ring vows in First Methodist Church Chapel. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Collins of 1033 S. Dwight are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Preston Parkham of Concord, Colo., are the parents of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a chapel-length gown of beau de soie featuring a fitted bodice with scooped neckline edged with lace appliques, and long tapering sleeves which ended in petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt swept to a chapel train which was embellished with lace appliques. A back bow and lace appliques accented the skirt.

The bride's veil of imported English illusion was secured by a beau de soie rose coil trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses atop a Rainbow Bible.

Mrs. Jackie Collins served her sister-in-law as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Debbie Feagan and Mrs. E. W. Lancaster attended as bridesmatron. Each was attired in a floor-length sheath gown of candlelight yellow beau de soie. Matching face veils and bouquets of yellow glamelias completed their costumes.

Serving as best man was Jackie Collins, bride's brother, while Adel Myers and Kenneth Smith served as groomsmen and ushers.

Jerry Whitten, organist, presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss
