Governor Signs $3.65 Billion State Budget; Teacher Pay Hike Included

AUSTIN (UPI)— Gov. John Connally affixed his signature Wednesday to a $3.65 billion state budget, but cut $2.6 million of the tab approved by the 59th Legislature.

The smallest of the vetoed items was in marked contrast to almost $12 million cut from appropriations two years ago.

The governor signed the record 1966-67 spending bill and the $70 million compromise teacher pay bill in ceremonies at his office.

After signing the teachers' bill he pulled out a cigarette and said "I strongly recommend that we all fire up."

The raise will be paid for by an increase of three cents tax per package of cigarettes.

The items Connally vetoed included:

- $149,500 for staff members in the central office of the new department of mental health and retardation.
- $138,000 for a new water improvement system for Rusk State Hospital for the mentally ill.
- $200,000 for airport facilities to be built under the state aeronautics commission.
- $275,000 for the Agriculture Department's boll weevil program.
- $300,000 of a $800,000 appropriation for a new state museum at Washington-on-the-Brazos, the seat of Texas independence, near Brenham.
- $24,000 for a staff member for the Parks and Wildlife Department and $200,000 for that department's proposed "Dam B State Park."

- $5,000 for the Red River flood control and irrigation district.
- $30,000 for John E. Conner Museum at Texas A&I College at Kingsville.
- $39,200 for doctoral level instruction at East Texas State University at Commerce.
- $110,000 for forestry research at Stephen F. Austin State College.
- $1,158,941 for a new administration-general services building for Angelo State College at San Angelo, which will not join the state system until September.

US to Spare No Effort In Fight Against Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Announcement that the United States is sending 16,000 to 21,000 more troops into Viet Nam today pointed up American determination to spare no effort in its fight against the Reds.

The buildup of American forces from the present 14,000 to between 70,000 and 73,000 is aimed at meeting the Viet Cong's monsoon-season offensive, during which U.S. officials expect heavy fighting.

The possibility of further reinforcement was left open. An "airmobile" division of more than 15,000 men specially equipped and trained for anti-guerrilla operations is being organized at Ft. Benning, Ga., and could be deployed in two months if necessary.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced Wednesday that six Army and Marine battalions would go to the South east Asian fighting zone. He said they would boost combat troops there from 13,000 to 21,000.

There was speculation that these might include two Marine battalions from Okinawa to complete deployment in Viet Nam of the 3rd Marine Division, which already has seven battalions there.

Some of the new forces, which McNamara said "are now moving" will be held as reserves to be rushed to the aid of South Vietnamese units in danger of being overrun by the Communists.

McNamara told a news conference that the reinforcements were being dispatched in line with U.S. policy of doing what is necessary to convince Hanoi it cannot win a military victory, and "then to negotiate for the future peace and security" of South Viet Nam.

The defense chief said that the new American forces were needed because of the infiltration of at least eight new regular Communist battalions from North Viet Nam into the Central Highlands of the south.

He said U.S. intelligence estimated that full-time Viet Cong forces now totaled 65,000 men and these were being helped by 80,000 to 100,000 part-time guerrillas.

Barry Chairman Of New Society

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Barry M. Goldwater, his eye again on the senate, today formally launched a grassroots political education organization which he said would give "focus" to American conservatives without sparking a third party.

The 1964 GOP presidential nominee announced that he will serve as honorary chairman of the Free Society Association, with Denison Kitchel, his former campaign manager, as president and operating chief.

Kitchel told reporters the new group would not disavow splinter groups like the John Birch Society and there was a "strong possibility" it would draw members from such extremist organizations. Goldwater did not mention this issue in his formal statement.

Although the new group aimed its appeal at both Republicans and Democrats, Goldwater underscored its GOP character by announcing in advance he will run for the seat of Democrat Carl Hayden, 87-year-old dean of the Senate from Arizona.

He Should Have Known Better

Howard Lieber of Topeka, Kan., is employed as a right of way agent.

He came to Pampa on business and got a police traffic ticket for an alleged violation at Mary Ellen and Georgia Sts.

The right of way agent entered a nolo contendere plea and was fined $13.

The charge? Failure to yield right of way.

Speculation Has Shake-up Coming In Kremlin Ranks

MOSCOW (UPI)— Moscow's diplomatic colony is speculating again whether the Kremlin is planning a shift of its top rulers, including party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Anastas I. Mikoyan.

There is no reliable evidence to support persistent rumors from abroad that a reshuffle of the Soviet leadership is imminent, but the guessing game nevertheless revolves around the following possible decisions.

—Mikoyan will retire sometime this year and his place as chief of state will be taken by former President Brezhnev. W. A. Mikoyan will remain a member of the Communist party's all-powerful Presidium.

—Alexander Shelepin, vice premier and one of the Central Committee's 10 secretaries, is the most likely candidate to succeed Brezhnev as party chief.

—Kosygin will remain chairman of the Council of Ministers (premier).

There is no incontestable evidence to support the speculation of impending changes in the upper Kremlin hierarchy.

The collective leadership which succeeded fallen Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev appears to be working harmoniously.

No serious disagreement on basic policy has been reported. There is a clear division of authority between the party and government, headed respectively by Brezhnev and Kosygin. And no single member of the 12-man Presidium appears to be forming alliances and maneuvering for supreme power.

Powell's 'Sudden' Cold To Delay Right-to-Work Action

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Organized labor today was suffering the headache and discomforts of the common cold.

The smises involved belonged to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D - N. Y., but there was no question that labor and its allies in the House were feeling the pain.

A scheduled meeting Wednesday at which labor supporters hoped to speed action on legislation that would nullify "right-to-work" laws was called off when Powell's office announced he had suffered a cold or sinus attack.

The illness appeared to have come on suddenly. At a hearing earlier before the House Rules Committee Powell held forth in his best pulpit tones for half an hour and gave no indication he was not feeling well.

Last week Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, announced he would block progress of the bill approved by his committee to repeal section 14-B of the Taft - Hartley law. This provision permits states to ban the union shop.

Powell's plan was to hold up the repeal bill.

In a news conference statement, Goldwater reemphasized that he would "resist with all my strength" the formation of third parties.

"I am a Republican and I intend to remain one, and in that capacity to assist the party wherever that assistance is sought in consonance with my ability to do so," he said.

Countdown Halted On Launching of Titan

Russian MIGs Downed By American Guided Missiles

SAIGON (UPI)— Two U.S. Navy supersonic jets shot down two Communist MIGs over North Viet Nam today with deadly accurate guided missiles.

It was the third dogfight of the air war against North Viet Nam and produced the first confirmed kills for American aviators. One of the MIG pilots was seen parachuting but the other apparently went down with his plane.

The Communist fighter planes exploded in the air and crashed in flames only 40 miles south of Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

A U.S. military spokesman said the two F4B Phantom jets intercepted a flight of four MIG-17's at 10:26 a.m. heading toward other Navy planes on a bombing raid against the Yen Phu army barracks 115 miles south of Hanoi.

The American airmen fired heat-seeking Sidewinder and radar directed Sparrow missiles at the interceptors, hitting the second and third planes in the loose trail formation.

The first MIG caught fire and disintegrated in the air. The second was hit in a head-on pass and exploded.

The Phantom pilots observed one open parachute but no sign of the other Communist aviator. The two other MIGs escaped.

The spokesman said the MIGs bore yellow stripe markings outlined in Red. The craft were presumed to be North Vietnamese.

First reports on the dogfight were radioed to Saigon from the aircraft carrier Midway in the South China Sea.

U.S. military officials here could barely conceal their pleasure in announcing the results of the fight, taking the view that it settled the score for two U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief jets shot down by Communist MIGs on April 4.

On April 9, a Navy Phantom and its pilot were lost after a tangle with Communist Chinese jets near Hainan, a Chinese island in the Gulf of Tonkin off the North Vietnamese coast.

Trouble In Pressure System

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)— Trouble with a pressurization system halted the countdown at T minus 30 minutes today in the attempt to launch the Titan 3-C, world's most powerful rocket, on its maiden flight.

There was no indication how long the delay would last, but thunderheads were moving toward the Cape Kennedy area and an extended hold might force postponement of the launch.

The Titan 3-C, a triple-pronged booster designed to become the military work horse of the future, originally had been scheduled for a nationally televised launch at 9 a. m. CST. But first there was a hold early today to complete work delayed by weather Wednesday night, and then came the trouble with the launch.

A spokesman said the trouble was in the pressurization system of the steering mechanism in the rocket's third, or upper stage. It was necessary to roll the gnytry, which had been removed, back into place alongside the rocket to effect repairs.

The Air Force, which wants mostly clear skies for camera coverage of the first-of-a-kind launch, was prepared to wait as late as 3 or 4 p. m. CST if necessary. Weather conditions, however, were expected to worsen later in the day.

The Titan-3C is a unique blend of two rocket varieties. It uses two massive solid-fueled motors for a quick boost into the sky and a three-stage liquid fueled rocket strapped in the middle to reach orbit.

Its two 10-foot diameter solid motors were expected to give the booster an average thrust of 2.4 million pounds — 900,000 pounds greater than the mightiest rocket previously flown by the United States or Russia.

The solids were supposed to ignite simultaneously and drive the 700-ton vehicle 28 miles high in 115 seconds. Then, as the center rocket takes over, the burned-out solid casings were to be dropped into the sea.

For today's mission, the Titan-3C was programmed to shoot its useless lead payload into an orbit 115 miles high. Six hours later, on its fourth sweep over Hawaii, the payload was to be kicked away from the Titan's third stage into a separate orbit.

Within three years, the Air Force hopes to be using the Titan-3C to loft its proposed Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL)—a 25,000-pound trailer-sized craft designed to keep two men in orbit for up to 30 days.

Floods, Storms Strike Denver

DENVER (UPI)— Fed by tornado - spawning storms, the South Platte River today smashed through low-lying areas of Denver and its suburbs with a 20-foot flood crest that caused millions of dollars in damages.

Thousands fled their homes. Officials said casualties were amazingly low. A pilot was killed during a thunderstorm and the body of an apparent heart attack victim was found floating in a street. Five persons were known injured.

Power blackouts forced hospitals to resort to emergency generators for brief periods. Radio stations went off the air. Newspapers helped each other publish. About 800 of the 900 traffic lights in downtown Denver were out, causing massive traffic jams for office-bound workers.

Water rates and problems connected with Pampa's share of financing the Canadian River Dam will be among problems to be tackled by the Water Study Committee.

The city manager said organizational meetings of the other ten committees are scheduled for the near future. Some will be held at night and others during the daytime, he stated.

Spacemen, Families Greeted by Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Gemini astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White came to Washington today to receive honors from President Johnson and Congress.

The astronauts, who were given big welcomes by thousands in separate hometown appearances Wednesday, brought along their wives and children for the Washington tribute, including a motorcade from the white house to the Capitol.

They flew into Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland before boarding helicopters to the White House to receive exceptional service medals from Johnson.

After the Rose Garden ceremony came a parade along Pennsylvania Avenue to Capitol Hill. McDivitt and White were invited to lunch with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and a congressional reception was arranged by Speaker John W. McCormack.

The honors in the nation's capital capped a week of celebrations for the pair since they returned from their four-day 62-orbit space flight 10 days ago.

White was feted Wednesday in San Antonio, his home town, while McDivitt received a hero's welcome in Jackson, Mich.

Tonight the festivities shift to the State Department, where the two space fliers will narrate for diplomats the film—"White's 20-minute walk in space on the third orbit of their flight June 3.

The film was to be followed by a reception to present the astronauts to foreign ambassadors and their families.

Princess Beatrix to Wed Nazi

THE HAGUE (UPI)— World War II resistance fighters and Dutch newspapers today mounted a new protest against the romance between Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands and a former member of a Nazi elite regiment.

The subject of the controversy is Claus von Amsberg, 38, a suave, polished junior diplomat on the Africa desk of the West German Foreign Office in Bonn.

Official sources said Wednesday night the 27-year-old crown princess would announce her engagement to Von Amsberg before the end of the month. They said the most likely date will be June 26.

Von Amsberg was captured by American troops in Italy during the war. He was a member of the crack "Todeskopf" death's head tank regiment. Prior to army service, the royal suitor attended the aristocratic "Nestroy" boarding school for boys where membership in the Hitler youth was mandatory.

"I would regret it very much if the princess chose this candidate," declared Paul van Esch, secretary to the Board of Federation of former resistance fighters.

The newspaper, Het Virje Volk, organ of the labor party, second largest political group in the coalition government of Prime Minister Dr. Joseph M. L. T. Cals, said editorially: "Why must the princess be come engaged to a German who fought in the German army to make the reich of Hitler win?"

A German who served in Hitler's army as Von Amsberg did would be unacceptable to millions of Dutch citizens. The memories and scars of Holland's occupation by the Nazis are still bitter.

Influenza, the "flu," was described by Hippocrates in the 5th century B.C. But the first clear description is that of an epidemic in 1610. Children are the most susceptible to it. In 1918 the most destructive influenza epidemic in history occurred. It ranks with the Black Death in the toll it took. More than 20,000,000 persons died of it and at least 50 times as many were sick. It took 548,000 lives in the United States.

The water began receding during the morning and power was being restored.

The South Platte raged downstream to threaten Brighton, Fort Lupton, Greeley and Fort Morgan.

Temporary shelter in schools, hospitals and other buildings was set up by the Colorado chapter of the American Red Cross for the Littleton and Denver evacuees.

Gov. John A. Love said early today he would ask for federal aid for the disaster stricken areas. At midnight, he toured inundated areas of this urban city of nearly a million people with Colorado State Patrol Chief Gilbert Carrell.

Lakspur, Colo., south of Castle Rock, was isolated by flood waters. Its 150 residents holed up in a school building. They asked the governor's emergency headquarters to airlift food, water and blankets.

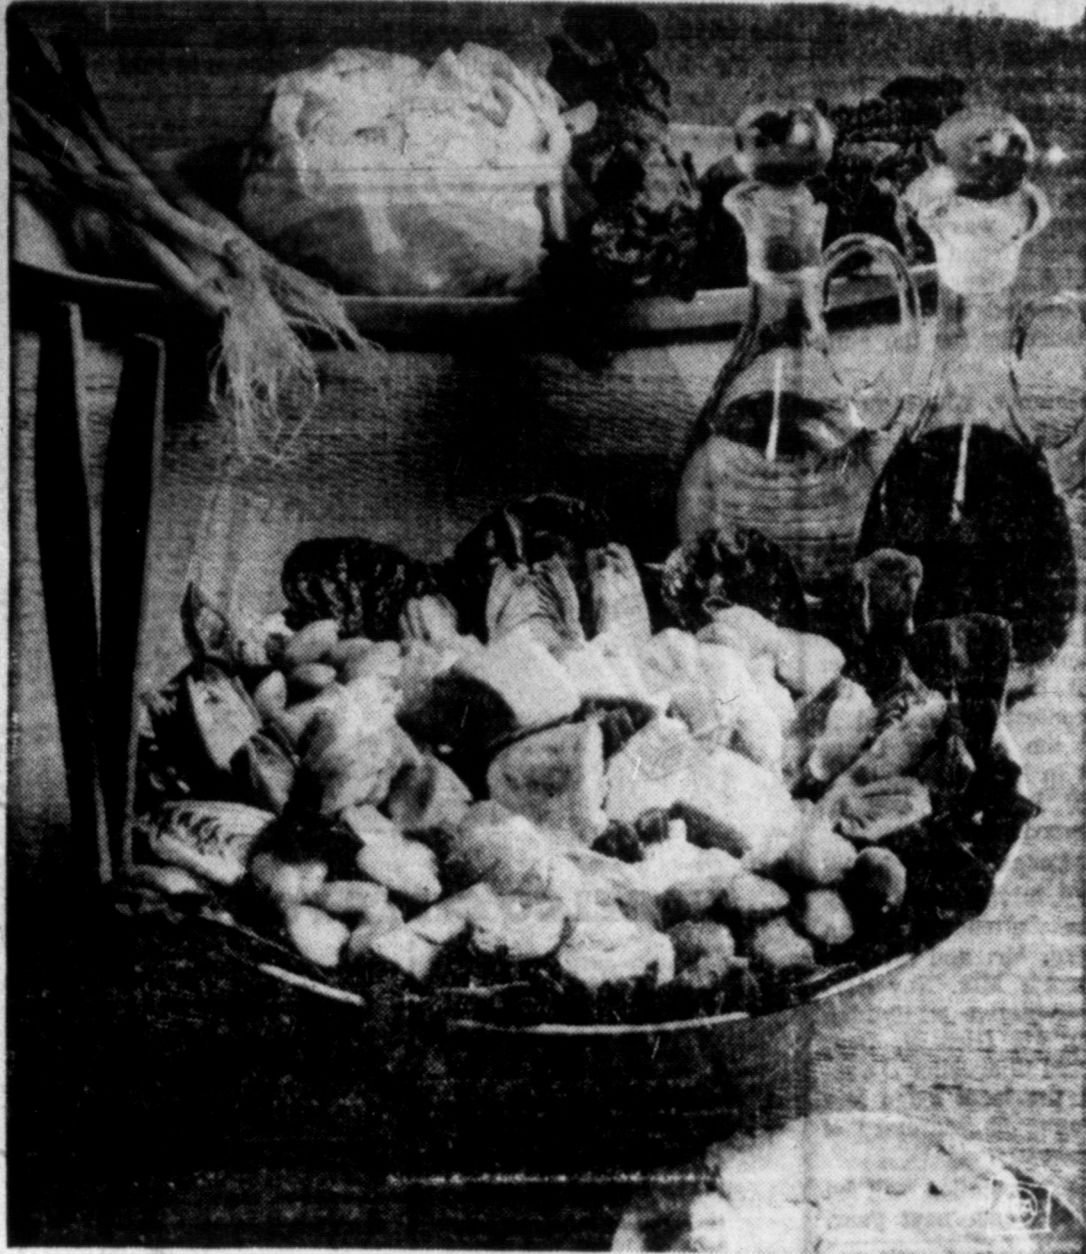

The Purgatoire River crashed over its banks at Trinidad, nearly 200 miles south of Denver near the New Mexico border. Residents there fled to the Las Animas County courthouse from low-lying homes.

Over 10 million yeast cells are found on each ripe grape at the time of harvest.

TUNA AND VEGETABLES spice tempting salad.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Here's a great warm weather tonic and a main course salad all in one. Heap your salad bowl with greenery. Use fresh raw spinach, crisp lettuce, green onions. Also frozen vegetables—green beans, lima beans or artichoke hearts cooked until just tender-crisp. Marinate in French dressing. Combine with greens. Finally add chunk-style tuna to make it a delightful meal in a bowl salad.

GREEN SALAD BOWL WITH TUNA

  - 1 package (9 ounces) frozen French-style green beans
  - 1 package (9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts
  - 1 bottle (8 ounces) French dressing
  - 2 package (10 ounces) fresh spinach (about 6 cups, loosely packed)
  - 1 medium head Boston lettuce
  - 3 cans (6½ to 7 ounces each) chunk-style tuna, drained
  - 3 green onions or scallions, chopped, including tops
  - 3 ounces Roquefort or Blue cheese, crumbled
- Cook limas, green beans and artichokes according to package directions; drain, chill and marinate in dressing. Wash, drain and re-irrigate lettuce and spinach in plastic bags. At the request of the American Diabetes Association and a group of clinicians in the fields of nutrition and heart disease, the Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, has published a proposal that foods intended to regulate the intake of fats be accurately labeled to show the amounts and classes of fatty acids including polyunsaturates contained in them.

The proposed regulation would require that if a food is represented as being for special dietary use to regulate the intake of fatty acids, its label shall

Sunday Lamb Treat Easily Prepared

For the family Sunday gambol, how about an easy to carve leg of spring lamb? They would like it, especially when garnished with baby carrots and fresh mushrooms.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB WITH CARROTS AND MUSHROOMS

- (Makes 8 servings)
- 5 to 6 pound leg of lamb
  - 1 cup water
  - 1 medium onion, thinly sliced
  - ½ teaspoon salt
  - ¼ teaspoon pepper
  - ½ teaspoon basil leaves
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 1 pound large mushrooms
  - 1 tablespoon chopped chives
  - 1 can (1-pound) whole baby carrots, drained and liquid reserved, or lightly boiled fresh baby carrots
  - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 2 tablespoons flour

Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in 325 degree (slow) oven 2 hours; drain off fat. Combine water, onion, salt, pepper, basil and lemon juice in saucepan; bring to boil. Add mushrooms; cover and cook 15 minutes or until tender. Combine mushroom liquid with chives. Pour over lamb. Roast 30 minutes longer or until meat thermometer registers 175 degrees for medium doneness, basting occasionally. Blend carrot liquid with flour; add lamb drippings. Cook, stirring constantly until gravy boils 1 minute. Heat carrots and mushrooms in butter; arrange on platter with lamb. Serve with gravy and tart current jelly.

Recipes for Duck

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Roast duckling is de luxe eating to many people. They usually prefer it served with orange in some form, either orange juice or orange slices. Here are two easy and good recipes.

ROAST STUFFED DUCKLING

(3 to 4 servings)

- 1 (4 to 5-pound) duckling
- Salt
- 1 package herb seasoned stuffing
- 1½ cups finely chopped celery
- 2-3 cup diced orange sections
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- Orange slices

Clean and thoroughly dry duckling. Then rub with salt inside and out.

Prepare stuffing according to package directions. Add celery, orange sections, and rind to prepared stuffing mixture. Toss together lightly. Then stuff duck and secure opening with skewers. Prick bird well with a sharp fork. Place, breast side up, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Roast in moderate oven (325 degrees) 2 to 2½ hours. Garnish with orange slices.

ORANGE ROAST DUCK

(2 to 4 servings)

- 4 pound ready-to-cook duckling
- ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 fresh onion
- 4 whole cloves
- 1 cup fresh orange juice

To prepare duckling for roasting, wash and pat dry. Rub salt and pepper inside cavity and

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Week-end food shoppers generally will find good supplies of certain seasonal fruits and vegetables along with plenty of poultry and some meats.

At fresh produce counters plentiful vegetable choices include cabbage, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, radishes, squash, and tomatoes. Fruit bins will highlight bananas, lemons, rhubarb, strawberries, and watermelons.

At meat counters, certain cuts of beef will be in good supply, including ground beef and various cuts of roasts and steaks. Broiler-fryers are the top poultry buy. Other good main dish choices include plenty of canned pink salmon, frozen fish sticks and fish portions.

over surface. Place onion studded with cloves into cavity. Place duck on a rack in a roasting pan. Roast in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 2 hours, basting every 15 minutes with orange juice. Turn oven temperature up to hot (450 degrees) and bake 5 minutes longer or until skin is crisp. Remove onion from cavity and serve with orange cups filled with orange and grapefruit slices, if desired.

Freeman Calls for Approval Of Administration's Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman called for Senate approval of the administration's omnibus farm bill, including a new plan to switch 40 million acres from crops to other uses.

Freeman testified before the Senate Agriculture Committee which opened long-delayed public hearings on the administration bill.

Freeman said new farm legislation is needed because, despite progress in recent years, "farm income is disgracefully low." Existing support programs for cotton, wheat, and feed grains are scheduled to expire after the 1965 crop season.

The administration bill includes controversial proposals to extend and revise government support programs for feed grains, wheat, wool, and rice. While it does not include specific proposals for new cotton legislation, Freeman recommended that Congress add a cotton plan under which farm income would be propped primarily by direct government payments to growers.

The agriculture secretary also went on record in support of a dairy bill which was not included in the administration's omnibus measure. This bill would authorize the use of a new pricing system designed to discourage overproduction in milksheds regulated by federal milk marketing orders.

But Freeman said "the most basic and perhaps the most essential feature of the entire bill" is his cropland adjustment program for long term diversion of acreage from surplus crops.

Under the program, farmers would be offered a chance, from 1965 through 1972, to sign government contracts under which cropland would be taken out of production for periods ranging from five to 10 years.

Brown is Britain's Boss Next to Harold Wilson

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent
LONDON (NEA) — It takes guts to tell Khrushchev to go to hell when he is your guest at a banquet.

And it also takes guts to call the governor of the Bank of England "brother," as though he were a union shop steward.

George Brown, deputy prime minister in Britain's Labor government, has done both of these things, but they have not damaged his political career noticeably.

The clash with Khrushchev occurred in 1956 at a love feast which the British Labor party had arranged in his honor. At the end of the meal Brown suddenly produced a list of political prisoners being held behind the Iron Curtain and asked the Soviet premier to release them. Nikita hit the ceiling, and Brown hit the headlines. The beetlebrowed Labor leader has been front page news ever since.

George Brown, now 51 and graying at the temples, will need all the guts he can muster for his present job as Minister of Economic Affairs.

Britain's crisis is a double one. In the first place, the Labor government, with its four-vote majority, is unstable and could be brought down at any moment.

Second, the economy has failed to respond to the mixture of export incentives plus deflationary domestic measures which the Labor government has administered.

The average Briton has the feeling of living through a continuous cliff-hanger. He can almost sense the international bankers — "the gnomes of Zurich," as George Brown calls them — breathing down his neck.

The man who concentrates so much economic power in his hands was brought up in a two-room London tenement. "You don't grow up with delicate manners in such surroundings," says Brown.

At the age of eight he tramped the streets with his Irish truck driver father distributing Socialist leaflets. At 22 he was fired for union activity from his job as a fur salesman. "I can still price the mink off a woman's back," he boasts.

Brown then went to work for the Transport and General Workers' Union, which served as a springboard for his political career.

He first rose to prominence the 1939 Labor party conference when he denounced Sir Stafford Cripps' scheme to form a popular front. Six years later he was elected to Parliament.

The No. 2 Labor leader is a glutton for hard work. His day usually starts with a "working breakfast" during which an aide briefs him on the day's business. "I'm not much good at talking at that time in the morning," he says. "But I can listen."

He is a clean-desk man, an "action this day" Cabinet minister, which means that he often does not leave his office before 8 or 9 p.m. He seldom gets to bed before 1 or 2 a.m.

Part of Brown's unpopularity lies in the fact that, as Prime Minister Harold Wilson's hatchet man, it is his job to steer through the House of Commons such measures as the steel nationalization bill. But then Brown realizes that he is not running in a popularity contest.

"I'm not in politics to be liked," he says candidly. "I'm not here for my box office appeal. Politics is about issues, not personalities."

Jet Bombers Necessary in Viet

By RAY F. HERNDON
United Press International
ABOARD A B57 BOMBER OVER THE MEKONGDELTA, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A nameless grouping of thatched huts and a grove of coconut trees were targets today for a flight of nuclear capable American jet bombers.

Planes designed to carry weapons with destructive force far greater than the Hiroshima bomb attacked a trench beside a flooded rice paddy.

Ridiculous? Not to the men who fly the bombers, and certainly not to the ground troops they support.

"It's like using a sledge hammer to kill a mosquito," harp the critics of America's decision to use the twin-engine Canberra jet bombers.

From the navigator's seat, I watched that sledge hammer used today with the delicate tap-tap-tap of a skilled diamond cutter.

Won't Know Effect
Capt. Kenneth G. Blackwell of Grand Rapids, Mich., the bomber's pilot, will probably never know exactly what the effect of his bombing was. Moreover, he doesn't really care.

"If I had to think I was going to kill ten men, or three women, or maybe even a couple of kids every time I went in, I couldn't do my job," Blackwell said later over a cup of coffee in the officers' club of TanSon Nhut air base.

"I only think about hitting the target."

Today, Ken Blackwell hit the target, and closer than even his fellow pilots expected. One bombing pass brought enthusiastic congratulations from a fellow pilot who watched the bombs hit.

But were any innocent bystanders killed?

"Maybe," Blackwell said. "But on the other hand, think of the lives that might have been saved if the VC were in there."

Five Bombs Attack
Blackwell flew the trail ship in a five-bomber attack against the grove of coconut trees, where a Communist Viet Cong unit was reportedly entrenched.

The five jet bombers were sent to "beat up the position" in preparation for a heli-borne assault.

If the bombers hadn't made the assault, and there was a regular unit of Viet Cong troops in the grove along that nameless delta canal, there was a strong likelihood that many government troops would have been killed or wounded, and perhaps a few helicopters shot down.

Just five minutes after the jets dropped the last of 33,000 pounds of bombs on the reported Viet Cong unit, a swarm of U.S. Army helicopters disgorged their troop loads in an open field nearby.

Composer Lights Up Over Admirers

By WILLIAM D. LAFFLER
NEW YORK (UPI) — Composer Cy Coleman feels mighty proud when admirers tell him they think "Hey, Look me Over" is a better song than "Seventy-six Trombones."

A comparison is inevitable because one or both of these lively tunes may be heard at football games, in parades and as theme music on television programs.

"I think 'Hey, Look me Over' is a little more personal than Seventy-six Trombones," Coleman said in a recent interview at the Russian Tea Room, which is a hangout for opera singers and the long-hair music crowd from next-door Carnegie Hall.

"Sen. Bayh used my son in his successful senatorial campaign in Indiana," Coleman said. "I think it helped him win because he was inviting voters to look him over."

Scores Broadway Show
Coleman wrote "Hey, Look me Over" and the rest of the musical score for Lucille Ball's successful Broadway show, "Wildcat," and it immediately caught on as a pop song. Jack Paar used it as the theme of his "Tonight" television show.

And Louisiana State University has adopted it as their official marching song," Coleman said, unaware that he was being interviewed by an alumnus of LSU, where stately oaks and broad magnolias shade inspiring halls.

But "Hey, Look me Over," a seemingly never-ending source of income for Coleman, is not the only hit song composed by Cy. He wrote many songs that moved to the top of the nation's charts of best sellers.

For instance, Cy wrote "Witchcraft," a song which Frank Sinatra elevated to the best seller list almost overnight.

Coleman not only is a prosperous composer but an equally successful performer and arranger. He has appeared as a pianist on radio shows on NBC and CBS and on television shows starring Kate Smith and Art Ford. In recent years he also has been in demand as a performer on many video programs, including a stint as a regular on the recent ABC-TV Les Crane Show.

Cy, a native of New York, has been in show business for a long time, which would indicate that he is getting ready to get his social security checks. Actually Cy is only 35 and looks 10 or 15 years younger.

The Lighter Side

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hans Holzer, a parapsychologist who bills himself as "the ghost hunter," paid a visit to the capital this week to track down some of the local spooks.

I don't know what the bag limit on spooks is, but Washington should provide good hunting. At any rate, there are an awful lot of closets here with built-in skeletons.

Political-type ghosts probably are especially plentiful this season. At the present time, one of the major parties is here more in spirit than in the flesh.

The main purpose of Holzer's visit was to determine whether a house currently belonging to Robert Gray, cabinet secretary during the Eisenhower administration, was haunted.

Affirmative Conclusion
His conclusion was affirmative, although he apparently was unable to convince Gray on that point.

Holzer said his findings were based on what was picked up by Sybil Leek, a famed English medium, who accompanied him to the house and was able to establish contact with the resident ghost.

He explained that Miss Leek, a plump, middle-aged woman who wears purple stockings, has a talent known in the trade as "dissociation of personality."

She goes into a trance, divorces herself from her own personality and turns her body over to any ghost that might be lurking around the premises.

On this occasion, according to Holzer, her ample corpus was occupied by the shade of Peter Ellis, a former courier for British intelligence.

Holzer said Ellis' ghost reported through Miss Leek that the house was used as a "spy drop" prior to World War II and that he was killed there when he stopped off to pick-up some papers.

Don't Let Cafes Scare You

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEW YORK—(NEA)—To give high school boys the "social security" that results in knowing how to conduct and enjoy themselves in restaurants, and how not to live in fear of waiters and captains, a New York restaurateur is conducting Saturday seminars in "The Art and Pleasure of Social Dining."

"Many teen-agers seem brash in public places, particularly in restaurants," says Stuart Levin, director of The Four Seasons restaurant. "We find that a great deal of that seeming brashness is because they're unsure of themselves in adult social life. In self-defense they set up their own standards of behavior that demand few rules, little instruction and few, if any, manners."

We watched one group of the well-dressed young men from four New York prep schools eat up the instruction. They visibly exuded assurance after they learned how to make reservations, what to order, how to tip, and above all, how to deal with waiters and captains without fear.

They were told by Levin not to be ashamed to call a restaurant to ask prices or if there's a cover or minimum charge, and to stop in and see the menu in advance.

Young restaurant goers should not be afraid to try an unfamiliar dish, or to ask the waiter to explain an item on the menu they don't understand, Levin adds.

How much to tip puzzled most of the boys. Levin advised: When your waiter brings your change, leave 15 per cent of the total food and beverage charge for him. But don't tip on taxes. If the captain has been helpful in ordering your dinner and seeing that it is well served, he gets 5 per cent. But hand it to him personally. If the headwaiter has made special arrangements for you, such as ordering a birthday cake or flowers, palm a dollar bill in his hand as you leave.

During the first part of the seminar, each student is given a menu and told to order what he thinks would make a balanced meal. The director then studies and criticizes their choices. "Most of them order too much, as though they feared eating was about to go out of style. Practically every one wanted asparagus Hollandaise. But with it, they ordered a creamy soup and a main dish with heavy sauce making the meal overly rich and without variety.

"Some did not know that Chef's Salad, Salade Nicoise and Avacado Shrimp Louis are main course dishes and not plain mixed salads," he said.

Next step in this extracurricular social education is luncheon served at a well appointed table. The director sits with his charges. The menu, not ordered by the students, begins with Coquille of Chilled Atlantic Seafood (lobster, crab and scallops) served with a choice of spiced mayonnaise, herb dressing or Four Seasons Cocktail Sauce. Then comes Roast Filet of Beef with Madeira Sauce, Roesti Potatoes, and salad of Boston lettuce and watercress with tarragon dressing.

As the pastry cart was rolled tableside, the cautioning glance of the director appeared to restrain the boys from giving the school cheer. Nutritionists will be pleased to learn that instead of coffee, most of the boys chose milk.

We asked one senior what he thought of the seminar. "Great. I was fascinated by the organization of a restaurant—from captain and chef right down to

Typhoon Dinah Kicking Up Fuss

MANILA (UPI) — The east coast of Luzon was struck by torrential rains and high winds today as typhoon Dinah's 150 mile an hour winds moved closer to shore.

The storm was located 135 miles from tobacco-rich Quezo Province.

"The worst is expected to come by tonight in extreme northern Luzon," a Manila weather bureau spokesman said. Typhoon warnings were up for the entire main island.

Governor Pens

Name to HemisFair

AUSTIN (UPI)— Gov. John Connally penned his approval today to a bill appropriating $4.5 million in state funds to HemisFair 1968, the world fair extravaganza planned for San Antonio.

The money was appropriated to the Texas Tourist Development Agency under a bill by Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio. The entire San Antonio House delegation co-sponsored the measure in the lower chamber.

Connally had endorsed an appropriation for the fair in his opening message to the 59th Legislature. The money was left out of the $3.65 billion appropriations bill, but Spears pushed through the "one-shot" money bill with Connally's help. The measure provides for the spending of $4.5 million in state money on an exhibition building and Texas exhibits. The building will revert to the state after the fair ends and will be used to house state agencies.

Anti-Proverty Bill Caught In House Group Slowdown Tactics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's $1.9 billion anti-poverty bill got caught in a slowdown today in the House. Only five of 15 Rules Committee members showed up to consider clearing it for a vote in the House and the meeting was cancelled.

Some of the bill's backers thought the slippage was deliberate. They said it could delay House action not only on the anti-poverty bill but also on the administration's top priority voting rights bill already passed by the Senate.

In any event, cancellation of today's hearing on the anti-poverty measure made it obvious the bill would not be ready for House action before the last week in June.

Missing rules members who were reachable by telephone after Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., called off the session for lack of a quorum denied there was any "boycott" of the meeting. They reported conflicting engagements and the press of other business as their reasons for not being present.

Re: Make It Accurate

(This is one of a series of memos from Bob Segal, editor of the Valley Freedom Newspapers in Texas to members of the news staff. Mr. Segal writes a column for the American Way Syndicate which is distributed to more than 100 newspapers. Because his comments deal with matters of concern to our readers, we are reprinting them. We believe they apply equally in all areas. Your comments are invited).

Dear Staff Members:

This is a newspaper with some pretty definite ideas about how things ought to be run. Or, more accurately, how they ought NOT to be run, since we more or less believe in letting people live their own lives without an excessive amount of direction.

I have never inquired into your political, religious or aesthetic beliefs, although I have always hoped that you had some sympathy for the things we stand for.

Be that as it may, the job of a reporter is to present facts of importance, interest and amusement regardless of his personal assessment of the motives, intelligence and ethics of the people he's writing about.

The editor depends upon the reporter as his eyes and his legs. Sitting at a desk, or tied to a telephone, he must necessarily pick the brains of his reporters, the men and women who saw at first hand and who talked, face-to-face, with the principals in the day's passing drama.

Armed with these facts, the editors must undertake, on their editorial pages, a rational appraisal and offer a reasonable conclusion. Admittedly, these conclusions are subjective, measured in terms of whatever ethical yardstick the newspaper has elected as its standard.

Newspapers like this one, which take strong and not always popular editorial positions, depend more than others on their reporters. The newspaper whose policy contents itself with favorable reviews of motherhood, expressions of general dissatisfaction with crime and concern with affairs in Cambodia can exist with different local reporting, since they do not habitually mix into local issues.

But the editor of a paper such as this one is acutely (and even profanely) embarrassed when he finds he has taken a strong editorial position based on incorrect, incomplete or erroneous information furnished him by his staff.

Since we do try to mix into everything of any importance in the community, we put special dependence on our reporters. They have to be good. And we think they are.

Like everyone else, we make mistakes. Our boo-boos are more nettlesome than those of the shoe merchants because when we make a bust, thousands of people read about it—and remember it.

All of this is to say of all the pages we publish — in April—only one each day belongs to us. That one is the editorial page. That's where we say what we think is important, the way we want to say it, and the place where the reader may have his say, too.

The rest of the paper—well, it belongs to us only in the strictly sense. Actually, it belongs to the reader. It's devoted to what he wants, or thinks he wants; or what we think he wants.

Really, we own a very small part of our newspaper. But the whole news-gathering operation is geared to our tendency to take a strong and unequivocal editorial stand. And that is why accuracy is an especial necessity among our reporters. I know you will keep this always in mind.

Cordially,
The Editor

Pampa to Host Women Flyers

Pampa will be the host tomorrow for the quarterly meeting of the recently organized Top O' Texas Chapter of the Ninety-Nines of America.

Approximately 17 women pilots from over the Panhandle are expected to arrive aboard five or six planes tomorrow morning at Perry-Lefors Airfield.

The women pilots are scheduled to be guests of the Pampa Kiwanis Club where the chapter president, Mrs. T. E. Mitchell, will deliver the main address.

According to Mrs. George Cree and Mrs. Joe L. McArthur members of the club from Pampa, the group will depart from the city immediately following the luncheon and a short business meeting.

The Ninety-Nines was organized 36 years ago with Amelia Earhart as the first national president.

The club derived its name from the number of persons who originally joined the club nationally.

Posters Ready To Advertise Annual T O' T Rodeo

Placards and posters advertising the annual Top O' Texas Rodeo have arrived in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and distribution is scheduled to begin within the next two weeks.

He asked that anyone who will be going out-of-town to drop by the Chamber and pick up several of the posters.

The 1965 rodeo will be held August 11 through 14.

Showers to Stay For Another Day

Temperatures in the 80s and nighttime thunderstorms were forecast for Pampa and the Panhandle tonight and Friday.

An early morning fog was moving slowly out of the city just after mid-morning today and Pampa had recorded a trace of moisture.

Rain, which has fallen in Pampa and the surrounding area has helped some and been a disadvantage to others.

Gray County wheat farmers still are unable to get into their fields and the area wheat outlook is getting worse each day.

Lake McClellan has benefited greatly from the moisture. The lake lacks only two feet running over the spillway. Moisture recorded at the lake within the past 10 days is over four inches.

The lake has risen 11 feet in the past 10 days.

WINDER, Ga. (UPI) — President Johnson, obviously saddened and saying little, flew into the rolling north Georgia hill country Wednesday to pay his last respects to a friend.

The President, tight-lipped and solemn, came to this textile town to attend the funeral of Judge Robert Russell of the Georgia court of appeals, described by Johnson as "a fine and able young man."

Interrupting a full schedule for his three-hour trip into Georgia, the President consoled Russell's relatives and friends following graveside ceremonies and visited the widow at her home.

In Our Time

AMONG THE UNSOLVED RIDDLES OF AGRICULTURE IS HOW PEACHES CAME TO AMERICA... THEY WERE BEING GROWN BY THE INDIANS IN LOUISIANA IN 1698 WHEN THE FIRST FRENCH SETTLERS ARRIVED... YET THEY WERE NOT NATIVE TO THIS PART OF THE WORLD.

CONFUCIUS (551-497 B.C.), WHO WROTE GLOWINGS OF PEACHES IN CHINA AROUND 2,500 YEARS AGO, WOULD NOT RECOGNIZE THE LARGE JUICY HYBRIDS BEING GROWN TODAY IN SOUTH CAROLINA, OUR BRISGEST PRODUCING STATE FOR FRESH USE.

PEACHES RIPEN QUICKLY, SO SHIPPING IS A PROBLEM. SOUTH CAROLINA'S "SUN-BLUSHED" PEACHES ARE DE-FUZZED WITH BRUSHES, THEN QUICKLY GIVEN A COLD BATH WHICH TEMPORARILY ARRESTS RIPENING SO THEY MAY BE SHIPPED WITHOUT SPOILING.

Use Lax Periods to Prepare for College

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
High school graduates who plan to start their college educations in the fall should prepare themselves for a somewhat different approach to learning. There are several ways in which the summer months can be used to assist these students in adjusting to college life.

In many cases, the greatest change will be the increased emphasis on the student's responsibility for his own education. College is voluntary, it can be assumed that the student wants to learn. The college will make every attempt to help a student who makes a sincere effort to succeed. They usually have little patience with a student who is lazy. The student is expected to fulfill his responsibilities without constant prodding by the instructors.

What can be done during the summer months? It is a good idea to become familiar with the campus and buildings. If possible, a visit and a talk with one of the advisors can be helpful. If the student will be living at the college, all arrangements should be completed as early as possible. The purchase of required materials and books may have to wait until the classes begin. However, if lists are provided beforehand it would be most helpful to do this in advance. Becoming familiar with the books for a course can be valuable. Many colleges provide a list of suggestions and directions for new students. Follow these carefully. They have been planned to help avoid problems. College work can be interesting and challenging. It provides an opportunity for a student to learn as much as his ability and desire permit. The benefits of a college education are mostly a result of the student's own efforts and desire to learn.

Family's Transfer Happiness up to Mom

By PATRICIA MC CORMACK
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — When Dad's promotion means a move to another city, it's up to mom to make the transfer painful or pleasant.

Sure, she can get weepy, thinking about pulling up roots and the resulting emotional confusion. But then the children will follow suit. Before long, Dad, expected to perform first-class in his new position, also will feel unsure of the worth of the move.

John Sloan Smith, president of Aero-Mayflower Transit Co. made those points in an interview, adding:

"Women are a strong factor in a move. If they look on the bright side, the move goes a lot easier for all concerned."

Smith, of Indianapolis, Ind., said the woman usually can help by learning all she can about the new community and then conveying this information to the children.

"Ask About Community"

"When you don't know all about the new community," Smith said, "ask the mover. Most are trained to give you information about schools, churches, clubs."

When the mover comes, by the way, women can help the most by letting him do his work.

"Don't help him," Smith said. "He's trained to do his work."

When planning the move, ask the mover a lot of questions. Tell him about an exceedingly precious piece of furniture or about a chair with a wobbly leg.

And, for the smoothest move, try to plan things so the move falls during the middle 10 days of the month.

When you get to your new home, these additional tips will help the children adjust:

- Start by showing them something special about their rooms. Perhaps there'll be a built-in bookshelf or cowboy wallpaper or a good view of an old apple tree from the window.
- Tell Of Fun —Point out the nearness of playgrounds, swimming pool, or a baseball field. Tell them how much fun they will have at these places.
- If there are children in neighboring yards, have your children get acquainted with them at once. Instead of saying "we'll sure miss our old friends," say "see how many new friends you're making."
- Visit the new school which the children will attend. Point out the features of it. Make it sound bigger and better than anything the children have known.
- Use the same positive approach when leaving the old neighborhood. "We'll have to ask Jimmy to visit us next summer" can go a long way toward making it easier for a child to leave his favorite playmate.
- "Give the children a little extra attention on moving day," Smith said. "Actually, the last breakfast in the old home can have a party air. Don't rush them through this meal."
- If parents also can interrupt the moving day rush of activities to give the children an extra hug, pat, or kiss, it also will help ease the emotional turmoil they experience.

Dear Abby....

Office Crew Needs A 'Chairman of the Bored'

DEAR ABBY: Six girls in our office go to coffee together twice a day. One girl (I'll call her Trudy) has been having trouble with her husband and for the past year every coffee break has been devoted to listening to Trudy run him down. She says he needs a psychiatrist, is involved with a married woman, etc. She asks us for advice, but never takes it. She continues to live with him and complains daily. At first we were all very sympathetic to Trudy, but our patience has run out and we would like to talk about something else for a change. How can we let her know without hurting her feelings that we are bored with her domestic affairs?

man who complained about his wife being too fat. He said this was the reason for many marriage break-ups. I want to set him straight. He's lucky he's never had to live with a woman who constantly lives and talks diets. And in order to keep herself thin she starves, and so does her poor husband. Women like her are always crabby and irritable. They cause more marriage break-ups than fat women. I know because I almost lost a good husband trying to diet myself into a size 12. I woke up just in time to save my marriage. Ten years ago I weighed 115. Now I'm—

"158" and HAPPY

DEAR ABBY: Get together and appoint the girl who is closest to Trudy as "Chairman of The Bored." She should tell Trudy privately that the other girls deserve a break with their coffee, and she should lay off the subject. Trudy should also be advised to take her problem to her clergyman or a marriage counselor if she seriously wants to resolve them. Some people don't really want to do anything about their problems. They just enjoy talking about them. Trudy could be one, so don't delay.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my father. He isn't mean to us kids or anything, but as soon as school is out for summer vacation he takes all us boys down to the barbershop and has our heads shaved. I am 13 years old now and I would like to have some hair over the summer. How old do you think a boy should be for his father to stop doing this?

DEAR ABBY: In answer to the writer who signed herself "Disgusted" because her daughter-in-law's baby still had a bottle at 13 months: She must be more concerned about appearance than what the child actually needs. It seems to be "in" to have your child more "grown up" than someone else's. Many children give up the bottle at 9 months or younger. But some need it when they're 18 months and older. Most will give it up of their own accord.

I am the mother of four and each was different. In other countries babies often nurse until they're two years old and suffer no ill effects. Children suck because they need to. Take the bottle away too soon and they'll find something else to suck—thumbs, toys, blankets. Tell "Disgusted" to let the baby be a baby. It'll grow up soon enough.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the

Summer Make-up Tips

TRICKS FOR SUMMER — Warm, humid days and more time in the sun call for summer-keyed cosmetics. Skin color and texture change through exposure to the sun. Select colors in the pink, peach and coral range to complement a tan. Eye make-up also calls for extra attention. Avoid black and brown eye shadow and remove excess blue or turquoise shadow by lightly rolling a cotton swab across the eyelid.

By ALICIA HART, Beauty Editor
Nespaper Enterprise Assn.
Summery days have done it again! They've sneaked up and caught most women with their closets empty of sports-wear and their dressing tables covered with out-of-season cosmetics. Start your swing into summer by tossing out stale cosmetics. Many foundations lose their freshness. Their shades and the tone of pressed powders formulated for wintry white complexions can be jarring. Toss out or put aside winter shades of lipstick, too.

The more sun you get the more you need fresh cosmetics to keep pace with your tan. Start with a new foundation—possibly a creamy peach-toned make-up base. Tanning tends to dry the skin so remember to apply additional moisturizers during the day and at night.

Select soft blue or turquoise eye shadow instead of brown or gray. Eliminate "bleeding" of color by applying powdered eye shadow with a cotton swab. Roll a fresh swab lightly across the lid to remove excess. Emphasize this with smoke gray eye liner on the curve of the upper lid but omit liner from the lower lid. A liner can melt into the tiny laugh-wrinkles beneath the eyes on extremely hot days. However, you can use mascara even on the warmest days. Apply two coats of charcoal mas-care on the top lashes to give a feathery thickness. After the first coat of color, dust a little powder into the lashes with a cotton swab and apply the second coat of mascara.

For additional neatness hold cotton swab beneath the bottom lashes and brush on charcoal mascara.
Fortunately, you can highlight your tan more than in previous seasons with the blush tones. Brush on a peachy powdered rouge. Lipsticks are fun to mix and match, one shade on top of another, during summer but look for those flattering pinks and tangerines that go well with your changing skin tone and summer fashion colors.

CLEAN SWEEP
New designs in appliances are permitting more flexibility in kitchen design. Wall-hung refrigerators, for example, not only place frequently needed food and drink items within easy reach but also avoid the interruptions in counter work space caused by free-standing refrigerators. Unbroken counters surfaced with waterproof and scorch proof ceramic tile are among the most important facilities in one of the most important rooms in the home.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 18
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very depressive influence is in effect today, and tonight that requires that you carefully double check whatever arises. Avoid the many difficulties that could follow a lack of awareness that there is an ominous shadow of anxiety unless it is understood.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — One you consider a friend may be in dire trouble but does not want to divulge reason. Be on your guard, or you could get seriously involved. Avoid troublesome social affairs in p.m.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Better keep steadily at work or some unguarded word with others could injure your good name at this time. Be sure that your credit is good. Avoid crowds as much as possible.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — You are anxious to go out with some glamorous new individual just encountered, but first remember that all is not gold that glitters. Beware of angling. Read missives carefully.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 23) — Try not to follow that persistent hunch or you could get into a very serious trouble. Use logic and judgment instead. Be precise in carrying through with promises made.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Avoid doing anything that will cause strife between you and associates or you lose much that you have worked hard for. They are under tension. Don't expect them to assume your obligations.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
As an individual, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is a man who exudes confidence. His portly figure is relaxed. The puffs he takes on his pipe, unhurried. But it is with somewhat less confidence that Britain's friends and neighbors have been watching Wilson's efforts to cope with his country's greatest single problem, the question of finances.

As it has for years, Britain still is spending more than it is taking in. International financiers put the problem into more formidable phraseology, calling it "balance of payments."

Correcting it is the more difficult because it runs contrary to human nature.

It is a problem faced to a lesser degree by the United States.

Troubled By Outflow
Under Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and now Johnson, the United States has worried about the outflow of gold. It led the United States to institute a "buy American" policy which required in so far as possible that foreign recipients of U. S. aid spend it on the purchase of American products. It led to government appeals to American tourists to spend their tourist dollars in their own country and to American industry to put a damper on investments abroad.

To all this the average U.S. citizen paid little attention, continuing to live it up and spend his dollars wherever he pleased.

So it is with Britain. It imposed a tax surcharge to discourage imports and from labor and management it obtained a pledge that wage increases would be held in line with production. This was figured at roughly 3.5 per cent a year.

Plan Doesn't Work
It hasn't worked. In the first five months of this year British wages already were up six per cent, and Britain's 250,000 miners are demanding a wage increase of 12 per cent. To cut down spending at home the government has bumped taxes on gasoline and tobacco and raised bank interest rates.

But British workers are doing well and, despite the barriers, are spending as merrily as ever.

Gains in reducing the difference between exports and imports in the early months of 1965 were reversed sharply in April.

Meanwhile, the government has about used up its borrowing power and there are fears for the stability of the British pound which, with the dollar, is one of the two basic currencies used in international finance.

British analysts link Wilson's economic difficulties with his political troubles. In parliament he has a majority of only three. And within his own party there are vast differences, making him subject to embarrassment at almost any time.

Authored Bugle Call
Taps, the plaintive bugle call which is familiar feature of memorial day observances, was composed by Gen. Daniel Butterfield, commander of a brigade in the Army of the Potomac, during a lull in the fighting in the War Between the States. Butterfield wrote the haunting notes as his men were camping on the old Berkeley Plantation overlooking the James River in tidewater Virginia.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The most exciting news of next television season is a program which "will originate in supermarkets around the country and feature contestants racing against the clock to scoop up valuable merchandise."

According to ABC TV, which says it is preparing this program for its daytime schedule, the title of the entry is "Supermarket Sweepstakes," and the highlight is described as follows:

"As the climax of each day's show, the three runners sprint up and down aisles to collect as many items as possible."

Now there are some moralists who will claim that this show will merely exploit the natural greed that accompanies all of us wherever we go. I disagree. I say no. I say it is a great and thrilling idea for a show, because what television needs desperately is realism, and I predict that there will be more realism in one program of "Supermarket Sweepstakes" than in the whole prime time schedule put together.

As everyone knows, if we all see how we really are, we will improve. Furthermore, the supermarket is a significant cultural setting of our times, just as the hotel was for Theodore Dreiser. A supermarket setting will help people get involved realistically in our times. I am very involved with my supermarket and wouldn't know what to do without it. My life revolves around it half the day.

BUS STATION REMODELED
Cross Country Luxury Buses Now Available

Remodeling of the Pampa bus station and increased service was announced today by John M. Heket of Amarillo, president of Continental Trailways.

Coast-to-coast service from New York to Los Angeles now is available both east and west from Pampa. The schedule includes two 5-star luxury westbound buses and one luxury bus eastbound daily.

The luxury buses seat 32 passengers and provide hostess and food service, Heket said. All buses are air-conditioned. Seats are reserved on the luxury buses which leave here westbound at 12:30 noon and 11:10 p.m. and eastbound at 2:05 a.m. daily.

Other coast-to-coast buses leave Pampa westbound at 5 a.m., 10:20 a.m., 5:30 p.m. and 2:30 a.m. The other eastbound buses depart from Pampa at 7:45 a.m., 6:10 p.m., 9:25 p.m., and 1:40 a.m.

The schedule changes give Pampans access to five coast-to-coast buses eastbound and six buses westbound every day. Continental Trailways also operates two additional local Pampa to Amarillo buses leaving here daily at 1:30 p. m. and 8:05 p. m.

All remodeling of the bus station at 115 S. Russell is expected to be completed by Saturday, Heket stated.

Mary Eggleston has been manager of the local terminal station for the past 12 years.

Heket said buses leaving Pampa will handle COD and express packages to points anywhere in the nation.

"We believe Pampans will enjoy the increased service and the remodeled bus station facilities," Heket said.

DOGGY DEFENSE

BONHAM, Tex. (UPI)—Postman Charles Thompson has solved the problem of how to keep dogs from biting him.

Every day a small dog at one house along Thompsons route would take a nip at his trousers. Then one day the letter carrier let another friendly dog—a bit larger one—make the round with him.

The big dog laid down the law to the unfriendly canine.

FLOUR PRODUCTION

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

THIS SCRIBE has received one of the most scathing letters received in a long time. However, true to our policy of printing any signed letter that is not libelous or slanderous (although this one does not fall too far short) we hereby reprint the following screed:

Dear Mr. Cohane:
In regard to your column of June 15, I have a few ideas which would help your popularity rating with me.

First of all, I'm not a newspaper editor, writer, or what-have-you, so I am not familiar with the points a columnist, such as you should contain, but as a Pampa High School graduate I am sincerely interested in each and every activity the school promotes.

Since I am interested in these activities but also a busy wife and mother I can not attend these functions, only rely on the Pampa Daily News for information concerning them.

What this boils down to is the fact that I want to hear and read about the News not about you. Let me make up my own mind about the situations involved — just report the true facts.

I was of the opinion that a reporter wrote a true unbiased story, and let the readers decide for themselves, but not you. You use your column to tell on people who say mean words to you, or don't agree with your side which appears to be the only side of the situation. You appear to be very intelligent but you ridiculed a very informative and much needed letter last fall from Sara Hahn that I shall never forget. She wrote an extremely correct letter about the Band and their well-earned nickname but you tore it to pieces with your overly sensitive ridicule. Also I cringe everytime I read you slang such as "Kinda" and "sorta." Really Mr. Cohane, is Pampa such a one-horse town that we can't or wouldn't appreciate correct English?

In closing, may I suggest that either you change the title of your column to "All the People who are Mean to Me," or "Feelings Hurt" or something appropriate or either write about the sporting sidelines — which in my personal opinion concerns sports and only that. Please do not mix the two for my benefit, others maybe, but not me. Go ahead and help the youngsters and any other cause you believe in but just remember that criticism is here to stay so please, please, don't use the newspaper to cry in your beer, as the saying goes.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Christina Patton

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Patton, the only thing I would like to say is that it should be obvious that "Sporting Sidelines" is an editorial column, NOT a news report. This column is printed strictly for airing opinions about sports, mine and anyone else's who cares to write as you did, not for reporting the news, which the rest of the sports pages are reserved for. As you say, you are not familiar with the points a columnist should contain... a columnist is solely for opinions or features.

Tascosa Tops Groom, 7-2

GROOM — Tascosa's Sheriffs clipped Groom 7-2 Tuesday night in a South Division 18th District American Legion Baseball game.

Led by Joe Dempsey, Port Wood and George Hopper with doubles; Tascosa hit safely eight times.

The Sheriffs stand 2-1 while Groom is 2-3.

TASCOSA
GROOM
Sheriffs: Hogan, Al Grice (2) and Port Wood, Wes Burkhalter (1); Terry Connel and Joe Thomas, Keith Black (4), W. Shelby Hogan.
2B: Joe Dempsey, Port Wood and George Hopper, Tascosa.

as can be ascertained by reading any other sports columnist. (And if you think MY column cries, you should read Putt-Putt Powell some time).

I do feel that as a reporter, in the sports news columns, my stories are true, factual and unbiased, and no one has ever previously accused me of writing an untrue and biased news story. As far as using my column to "tell on people," it is very possibly true, but this is my sole means of getting my point of view over. If my side is the ONLY side, how is it that this column is on to folks like you who think my side is the wrong side?

As far as my ridiculing the very informative letter by Miss Hahn, let me point out first of all that her letter... and yours... did their share of ridiculing not only me, but a lot of things that I hold just as sacred as you consider the band. Furthermore, I sincerely felt that her statement that the Band practices harder than the football team was not only untrue, but ridiculous.

As far as my language, Mrs. Patton, I am very sorry that you do not appreciate the way I speak or write, but I feel it is rather impolite to criticize anyone's grammar... otherwise I would point out that with the exception of your letter, which was very well written, almost every critical letter I get is usually very close to illiteracy. However, most columnists (except the New York Times, possibly) write in the vernacular, and as long as the stories I write are correct in every grammatical detail, I feel that I can use a little "poetic license" in my personal musings.

In closing, I repeat that "Sporting Sidelines" means exactly that... "sidelines" — not news. You tell me to realize that criticism exists, and to accept it... that is precisely what this column is for... to criticize, to opine, and to comment on criticism I receive. Your letter is entirely correct as far as sports news is concerned, and this paper will continue to write the sports news accurately and truthfully... but the privilege of this column to be a columnist will remain... and your personal opinion is slightly incorrect in this instance, although undoubtedly true in most others. Opinions, mine and everyone else's, in columns, editorials, letters to the editor, etc., are just as much an integral part of a newspaper as the facts... which is why we have commentators as well as reporters. Sometimes the facts do need interpretation... my interpretations may be incorrect... but (to add a bit of sports slang you probably won't appreciate) I call 'em the way I see 'em.

Jav Dunbar 2nd In Golf

Al Lopez Named Boss

BOSTON (UPI) — Chicago White Sox Manager Al Lopez, owner of an 0-4 All-Star managerial record, today was named manager of the 1965 American League All-Star team for the July 13 game at Minnesota against the National League stars.

American League President Joe Cronin announced his selection of Lopez as substitute for Yogi Berra, manager of the 1964 pennant-winning New York Yankees who now is a New York Met coach.

Cronin said he "hoped" Lopez could break both his own personal losing streak and the National League domination of the mid-season classic that has seen American League win only one of the last eight All-Star games.

Dodger Formula-- Wing, Zing, Sting

By United Press International
Ask for the Los Angeles Dodgers' winning formula and the answer is a wing, a zing and a sting.

The wing stands for overpowering pitching, the zing for blinding speed on the bases and the sting for a base hit at the right time. It's not as glamorous as hitting home runs but it may be even more frustrating to National League rivals trying to overtake the front-runners.

Sandy Koufax supplied the wing, Maury Wills the zing and Jim Gilliam the sting Wednesday night when the Dodgers scored a 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants and increased their NL lead to three and a half games.

Koufax turned in a six-hitter, struck out eight and had little trouble with the Giants except in the seventh inning when Willie Mays' triple and Jim Hart's single produced their run. The fireballing lefthander raised his season record to 10-3 and his league-leading strikeout total to 135.

Wills and Gilliam produced the Dodger runs off Bob Shaw — Wills with a spectacular display of his base stealing ability and Gilliam with his "old pro" clutch hits.

In the fifth inning, Wills beat out a drag bunt to first base and then stole second after a dozen fruitless pickoff throws.

Phil's Beat Braves
The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Milwaukee Braves 6-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the St. Louis Cardinals 10-9, the Cincinnati Reds drubbed the New York Mets 8-4 and the 13 inning victory over the Chicago Cubs in other NL games.

Astros Sign Steve Molberg

Steve Molberg, Pampa's all-district first baseman, signed a bonus contract this morning with the Houston Astros.

Molberg was signed by Astro scout Dutch Dietrich for an undisclosed bonus, which Molberg revealed would take care of his college education and "a little over."

Molberg had previously accepted a baseball scholarship from the University of Texas, but reported that this would probably cause him to change his plans and attend West Texas State.

Molberg was to leave Sunday morning and fly to Cocoa, Fla., home of the Astros' instructional camp, and then to be assigned to Bradenton, Fla., in the Rookie League, for the balance of the season.

Completing the AL action, Baltimore whipped New York 5-1, Detroit outslugged Boston 9-4 and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 7-1 and 5-4.

Tiant, who won 10 games for the Indians last season after being called up from Portland in July, strained a muscle in his forearm in the first squad game of spring training this year and was sidelined for almost a month.

He started slowly this season but has come on in recent weeks to hurl five complete game victories including the one - hitter and a two - hit performance. He now owns a 6-3 won - lost record.

Hesitation Tiant Waltzes to Win

By United Press International
Luis Tiant has his own version of the Hesitation Waltz and it's becoming more popular in Cleveland than the frug.

The 24-year-old Cleveland Indians' righthander does his gyrations on the mound and his specialty is what he calls a "hesitation pitch."

Despite opponents' complaints, American League umpires and President Joe Cronin have ruled that the pitch — thrown with a slight delay in the motion of the throwing arm — is legal.

Employing the hesitation motion and his myriad of other pitching deliveries, Tiant allowed the Washington Senators only one hit while hurling the Indians to a 5-0 victory Wednesday night. The victory was the fourth straight for Cleveland and moved the Indians within 3½ games of league - leading Minnesota. The Twins were beaten by Chicago 3-1.

Wagner Provides Punch
Leon Wagner provided Cleveland's offense with a three-run homer off Ortega in the fourth and a run-scoring single in the eighth.

Growing Dissent Against 'Jack Nicklaus Open' Tag

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — They're calling it "the Nicklaus Open" today as the field of 150 tee off in the first round of the 65th annual U.S. Open golf championship.

Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio strong boy, was nearly everyone's favorite because the 7,191-yard Bellerive course appears custom built for his game and the odds on him were expected to drop to 4 to 1 before he tees off at 12:59 p.m. CDT in quest of his second open.

While the other pros did not quarrel with those who made Nicklaus the betting favorite, there were plenty of supporters for Julius Boros, Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema, Gary Player, Gene Littler, Billy Casper and PGA champion Bobby Nichols.

Boros, a two-time winner of the title, confided to friends he "had that old feeling" and for public consumption he said, "the course doesn't frighten me."

Anybody's Course
"Maybe you ought to figure it's a Nicklaus course, but I don't feel that way," the 45-year-old Boros said, adding that "like most tournaments I figure there are about 20 of us in this field who can win."

Player felt the same way. "Distance isn't everything," Player pointed out. "I've been playing real well and I like the course."

Bob Charles, the lefthanded ace from New Zealand, who will play with Nicklaus today but who practiced with Player, said the little South African never has played better.

"He's definitely my choice to win," added the slender Charles.

Lema has been close to perfection in his last two tournaments and no golfer in the field could be any sharper. He won the Buick Open two weeks ago and then on Sunday finished second, a stroke from victory, in the Cleveland Open.

Hopes For Continuance
"When you play like that, back to back," Lema observed, "You haven't any complaints, I'm just hoping I can keep it up, at least for another week."

Palmer and Casper, however, were moaning about their game — Palmer despite shooting a three under par 67 in his final tuesday round.

"I'm just not doing anything right," Palmer complained, but there was evidence he was getting back in the groove after long hours on the practice tee and green.

Then there's that old Palmer formula of charging himself up for the big ones and his 67 indicated he was ready.

"My short game is better, thank God," he said.

"I guess you haven't been bearing so much about Arnie, but don't make the mistake of selling him short," Nicklaus warned.

Casper, the 1959 Open king who got off to a good start on the winter tour and then fell off sharply, said, "I just don't have the feel. I'm not even putting well."

Casper is regarded as good as they come on the greens and here there will be a premium on putting on the big, contoured carpets.

DROP OUT?

Very unlikely. The successful newspaperboy is at opposite poles from the quitter by the very fact of having a newspaper route.

His experience shows him that the rewards for the goof-off are slim; that there's no room for the quitter and that the laurels of life go to the person able to meet challenges. He's found that initiative pays big dividends and there is no substitute for learning to deal with people.

Guided by men who are trained to work with boys he develops responsible attitudes, and for the first time, money becomes more than a hand-out. Nothing can replace the satisfaction of purchasing with money he's earned on his own.

You would be surprised to know how many of today's leaders built their success stories on a newspaperboy foundation.

PTC Seeks 3rd Straight Meet

After sweeping the honors in the Lubbock Junior Champ track meet last weekend, the Pampa Track Club goes after the first leg of a Texas Amateur Athletic Federation state title this Saturday at Andrews.

The first of four TAAF meets leading to the regional meet in Lubbock on July 24 and the state meet in Denton July 30-31, the Andrews affair will prove a tough nut to crack.

Meet director Max Goldsmith, Andrews High head coach, will again field a tough team representing the host city, while the always-strong Odessa and Brownfield Track Clubs will be there as well with the Abilene TC also a probable entrant.

A men-only meet, the TAAF age limit is different from the previous PTC meets in that 16-18 year-olds will all be in the senior class.

Again the PTC is figured to be extremely strong in the field events, but has received big help in a state champion from Phillips and a pair of state contenders from Stinnett who will give them distance strength.

Freddie Banes, two time state 880 champ from Phillips, will run for the PTC, but may be over the age limit and have to run in the open class. Also returning for the PTC in the open class will be little Curtis Campbell, the Frank Phillips JC and ex-White Deer High speedster.

Banes' chief competition this past season, Fred Cooper of Stinnett, and running mate Jim Wells, a standout 440 and relay man, will run in the senior class.

Little Butch Crossland, gunning for his third straight meet title and the elusive 23-foot mark, will head a rugged field of PTC broadjumpers, backed by Roy Armstrong, Randy Elliott, Vernon Marlair, Otto Wheeler and Butch Bowen.

Teddy Bird, Waylon "Bones" Bullard and Wheeler will figure to place in the high jump, with the trio also rated very strong in the 120-yard high hurdles. The three and Randy Elliott will be a tremendous threat in the 100-yard low hurdles as well. Elliott will be seeking his third straight meet pole vault title, and having obtained a new pole, the standard breaker is figured to go well over 12 feet.

Marlar, Bates and Bowen, who finished one-two-three in the shot put at Lubbock, will be strengthened by the addition of White Deer's Charles Smith, who will also back Bowen, who won the discus honors last weekend.

The meet will be heavy on relays, with sprint, sprint medley and mile handoffs. Armstrong, Crossland, Elliott and Wheeler will be out to lower last week's 44.3, while Smith, Marlar, Wells and Cooper are figured for the sprint medley. Cooper, Wells, Banes and Armstrong are the probable mile relay squad.

Armstrong will enter the 100-yard dash and Banes and Cooper the 880.

Field events will start at 1:30 p.m., track prelims at 2, with finals starting at 7 p.m. and finishing with the mile relay at 9:30.

Funds to send the club to the meet are being donated by civic organizations in Pampa and Stinnett, as well as contributions from local track fans, including John Lee Bell, Bill Power and Tom Snow.

Skellytown and Lefors are also expected to send boys to compete in the middle, junior and intermediate divisions. Doc Bates' Skellytown crew will be headed by John Fessler, who won the intermediate high jump last weekend, and pole vaulter Ricky Allen. Speedsters Robert Thomas and Jerry Dunn will be leading Lefors.

Cougars Golf Choice

HOUSTON (UPI) — Every time one of Houston University golf coach Dave Williams' teams wins the NCAA championship, the player grab his hat and ceremonially burn it.

Sonics Edge All-Stars, 1-0

AMARILLO — The Amarillo Sonics defeated the Irrigation League All-Stars Wednesday night in a preliminary game prior to the Sonics-Tulsa contest 1-0.

Sonics' outfielder Aaron Pointer and shortstop Leon McFadden collided while chasing a foul ball and Pointer was unable to play in the Tulsa game because of a charley horse.

Don Porter hurled a two-hitter for the Sonics in the four-inning contest.

Joe Venhaus, Nazareth, and Vernon Welch, Borger had the only hits for the All-Stars.

Gene Gerber, Nazareth, relieved Bob Price, Pampa, in the last inning and held the Sonics' bats in check.

The line came when Leo Posada was safe on an error by All-Star third baseman Jimmy Jennings, Umlinger, Leon McFadden walked, J. C. Hartman was safe on a bunt single to load the bases and then Price walked Bob Frati to force across Posada.

Williams bids fair to be hatless again when the cards are totaled up in the collegiate championship starting today at Holton Hills Country Club in Knoxville, Tenn.

Since Williams became Houston golf coach in 1952, his Cougar teams have taken seven NCAA golf titles and 100 team championships.

Constant Winner

Williams does not tolerate defeat to well. His teams took the NCAA title in 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, and 1960. In the 1961 tournament, one of the Houston players discovered an extra club in his golf bag, and the penalty and sketchy play sent the Cougars down to 11th place.

A little bit afterward, some body walked into Williams' office in Houston and found the coach running busily through his desk, cleaning it out, throwing away papers, tidying up shelves.

"What are you doing?" the visitor asked.

"I'm cleaning this out and getting down to work," the man whose team had dropped its first NCAA tourney in six years said. "I'm tired of losing."

Regain Title

The Cougars got back the title in 1962, lost it by one stroke in 1963, and won it again in 1964.

Tulsans Hit Back At Sonics

By United Press International

The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs and the Tulsa Oilers continued their hot race in the Texas League's Eastern Division Wednesday night, with the Spurs winning both ends of a double header and Tulsa winning a single game.

The Spurs whipped Austin twice, both times by a 3-2 count and the Oilers edged Amarillo 6-5. Albuquerque increased its lead in the Western Division to two and a half games by defeating second place El Paso 5-1.

Dallas-Fort Worth came from behind in both games against Austin. The Spurs fell behind in the first game when George Kopaz hit a home run for the Braves, but the Spurs came right back with two of their own in the fifth. The second contest ran into extra innings when Dallas-Fort Worth scored a pair of runs in the bottom of the seventh to tie things up. The Spurs won it in the eighth with a single run.

The Oilers, with their backs to the wall, scored three runs in the top of the ninth to come from behind and defeat the Sonics.

Amarillo got all its runs in the fifth, with the big blow being Dave Adlesh's two run homer.

The Dodgers let the Sun Kings get a run in front before going to work on hurler Pat Rogan. Cleo James got solo home run in the fourth and the Dodgers scored at least once in the next three innings. Dodger starter Dale Williams set El Paso down with only four hits, but was taken out of the contest in the seventh.

Samuell Crushes Eagles

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Samuel Spartans of Dallas and the Waxahachie Indians were state schoolboy baseball champions today, both winning their crowns in a convincing manner Wednesday night.

The Spartans cracked a championship game record, whipping Brownsville 14-0 in the Class AAAA title game, and Waxahachie jumped out in front quick to smash Alvin 6-3 for the Class AAA crown.

Samuell picked up eight runs in the sixth inning to go ahead by 14 runs and end the game. A state schoolboy rule states that a game is over if one team leads the other by 10 runs or more.

The previous high score for a championship game was Abilene's 13-0 win over Dallas Highland Park in 1956.

Hill Hits Record

In the process Wednesday night, Spartan second baseman Glenn Hill set a record by becoming the first player to ever pick up four hits in one game. It did not seem to make any difference how many runs Samuell got, hurler Robbie Ellis put down Brownsville with only one hit, a bloop double in the first inning. Troy Barbosa, who started for Brownsville, lost his first game of the year after 12 straight wins.

Alvin decided to go with Nolan Ryan for the second straight night in its title game with Waxahachie, but it was too much for the youngster.

Ryan Foldis

Ryan was wild in the first inning and a series of walks combined with a triple by Harvey Huffstetler brought in three runs for Waxahachie. The Indians were never in trouble after that.

Ryan had pitched a shutout Tuesday night against Snyder. Randy Moseley picked up the win for the Indians, although he was hit hard in the later innings. Alvin got two of its three runs in the final frame.

Errors hurt both sides. Alvin made five errors and the Indians bobbled the ball six times.

In the consolation games, El Paso Austin edged Galena Park 4-3 in Class AAAA and South San Antonio scored a 6-2 win over Snyder in Class AAA.

KRAMER DOUBTFUL

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)—Veteran guard Jerry Kramer of the Green Bay Packers may never play football again, his Coach Vince Lombardi announced yesterday.

Kramer, who has had a large number of injuries in his career, faces a hernia operation soon and Lombardi believes that it might mark the end of the football career for his star guard since Kramer's stomach wall is already weak from previous operations.
