Study Group Organizes for Attack on Pampa's Water Problems

By DALLAS DeWEESE
Active citizen participation in city government moved into the budding stage last night as a 15-member committee met in City Hall and organized for an attempt to solve one of Pampa's major thorns-in-the-side.

The Water Study Committee is the first of the study groups to hold an organizational meeting. Meetings of the other ten are expected to follow in rapid succession.

The committee on water study that met last night probably has one of the most difficult problems of all. Its principal concern will be how to finance Pampa's share of the cost of the $85-million Canadian River Dam and aqueduct system.

Pampa is one of 11 cities in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority and, under the Federal Government, already is committed to pay approximately $6-million dollars — is paid out. This payment must be made each year whether Pampa uses a single gallon of the approximately 6.5 million gallons of water to which the city will be entitled every day. Pampa is already under contract and obligated to pay.

This yearly payment does not take into consideration a treatment plant which must be constructed before water can be taken for domestic consumption.

The estimated cost of Pampa's treatment plant ranges from $750,000 to one million dollars. There is a clause in the CRMWA contract which says "The Authority does not have the right to demand payment for the dam from funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Burglars Strike 18 City Service Stations

Vandals Hit 200 Autos

By RAY RODGERS JR.
A relatively quiet two months for Pampa police literally came apart at the seams last night when 18 service stations were struck by burglars and air was let out of tires on approximately 200 automobiles in the city.

Pampa police said they have no suspects in either case. The two incidents apparently were not related.

The burglars struck only soft drink machines sitting in front of the stations. Officers said a crow-bar or heavy steel object was used to pry open the door to the machines and gain entry to the money boxes.

No estimate of the amount of change stolen was made, but soft drink company officials said damage would probably outweigh the monetary loss.

Police said the series of thefts probably started after midnight and ended sometime early this morning.

Disaster Strikes Colorado

DENVER (UPI)—Rivers and creeks pounded all week by rain surged over their banks throughout Colorado's eastern plains today, stranding motorists, breaking up bridges and bursting some dams.

State officials called it the most costly disaster in Colorado history.

There were numerous reports, mostly unconfirmed because of communication breakdowns, that motorists were caught in the floods. The police department at Liberal, Kan., reported that a plea for help had been heard from a ham radio operator who said two children stranded with him near Lamar, Colo., had been swept away by flood waters.

Ham operators as far away as Fresno, Calif., heard the urgent plea from a man identified by police as Bill Piper, using the call letters KG1333. He said his car, equipped with a ham radio, was stranded south of Lamar and he had a carload of children with him. There was no telephone communication into the Lamar area.

Rescuers at Ellicott, Colo., found a truck "settled in a wash" and were trying to determine if someone was in it when it was caught up in the flooding.

Interstate 70 east of Denver was closed when a bridge over Middle Bijou Creek gave way. A car was on the bridge at the time, but its occupants — Joel Wood and Mrs. Maxine T. Adolf, both of Stratton, Colo. — were rescued by a helicopter.

Mrs. Adolf said a wall of water hit their car as they drove onto the bridge, staying in. They stayed inside, and the water rose to the windshield. Then a tree limb broke the glass and the water rushed in.

It was the third consecutive day of serious flooding in Colorado. A tornado swept through Fountain earlier Thursday, 25 miles from where previous twisters had set off 20-foot flood crests on the South Platte River Wednesday, causing the worst natural disaster in Denver history.

There was no flooding in the Denver area today as the waters of the surging Platte began to recede.

roared into life before a national television audience at 8:00 a.m. CST with a tremendous blast of bright yellow flame and white smoke.

Within one-third of a second, its two giant solid-fueled booster rockets had built up to a total of 2.4 million pounds of thrust—900,000 pounds greater than any other U.S. or Soviet Rocket.

The use of the 85-foot long solid rockets made the Titan-3C the first of a kind—and gives it the ability to loft large manned military space ships. The solids are strapped to the sides of a liquid-fueled Titan rocket in the center.

B52 Bombers Used In New Strike Against Communists in Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI)—Twenty-seven U.S. Air Force B52 bombers from Guam dumped tons of explosives today on a suspected Communist stronghold north of Saigon. But the first combat use of America's deadliest warplane apparently failed to inflict heavy casualties.

A U. S. military spokesman reported that only one Viet Cong body was found in the jungle area when government forces moved in after the massive attack.

Two B52s were lost in a collision over the Pacific Ocean en route to the target area and one crewman was known dead. Seven others were listed as missing in storm-tossed waters near the Philippines.

Two other Americans were killed today in ground fighting elsewhere in South Viet Nam and seven were wounded.

While the B52s attacked north of Saigon, other American planes pressed the air war against North Viet Nam. The biggest raid was a strike by 18 Air Force jets on the Son Le army barracks 125 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Returning pilots said three buildings were destroyed. Although the massive long distance attack by the B52s failed to achieve the hoped-for heavy casualties, it served notice the United States is prepared to use whatever means are necessary to stem the tide of Red aggression.

The attack raised the possibility that B52s may be used against North Viet Nam.

Congress Hopes For Tax Cut Bill Signing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional leaders hoped today that President Johnson would quickly sign the $4.7-billion excise tax cut bill so consumers could start getting the savings immediately.

The President assured his news conference Thursday that he would sign the measure, but he indicated it might take him a few days to act. He said the bill had to be checked by administration experts.

Excise levies on items ranging from furs to matches will go off the day after the bill is enacted. The Senate and House approved the measure by voice votes Thursday to complete congressional action.

the expected tax cut.

Long told the Senate he hoped that Johnson would sign the bill today, which would make some tax cuts effective Saturday, but he added: "That is up to the President."

The Chief Executive said he was "pleased" that Congress had completed action on the tax bill. He added: "After we get it, we will have it reviewed by the experts and the Budget and the Treasury, and any other agencies that could be concerned with it and collect their recommendations."

"After we get those recommendations and read them, we'll take action. I think it is safe to predict it will not be a veto."

The bill sent to the White House was a compromise between the House-voted $4.8 billion tax cut and a Senate-passed $4.7 billion measure. Johnson originally asked for a $4 billion slash.

Salinger, French Magazine Writer Married in Paris

Salinger smiled and even chuckled slightly during Arzel's marriage speech. The bride, Nicole Gillman, sat solemnly faced through the whole ceremony.

Salinger, who speaks excellent French, said, "Je l'accepte" (I take her) in a firm voice.

Big Crowd Turns Out For Ground-Breaking Ceremony

First earth was turned this forenoon for the Culberson Chevrolet $500,000 building project at Hobart and Gwendolen Sts.

More than 100 persons attended the ground-breaking ceremonies at 10 a.m. and saw Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culberson, Chamber of Commerce President E. L. Green, Mayor Jim Nation, Chevrolet Division Manager Leon Dorn from Oklahoma City, and Dick Stowers get behind six shovels and turn over the first shovelfuls of earth.

Aubrey Steele acted as master of ceremonies at the ground-breaking party.

Mayor Jim Nation and Chamber of Commerce President E. L. Green congratulated Culberson and Stowers and their associates on the confidence expressed in Pampa by the expansion program.

Cities grow and prosper as their businessmen grow and prosper. Mayor Nation said. "We want to commend you on the forward step," said Green. "It shows confidence in Pampa and the Chamber of Commerce pledges to keep working to the end that this confidence has not been misplaced."

Culberson told the assemblage the new expansion venture was to the raid. "We don't know yet whether they were in the area when the bombs struck," the spokesman added.

The planes flew all the way from Guam, 2,600 miles from the target area, and returned safely to the Pacific island. Two B52s were lost at sea after a collision near the Philippines during the incoming leg of the mission.

Launch Offensive

Far to the north of the jungle area attacked by the B52s, U.S. and South Vietnamese troops today launched a large-scale operation against guerrillas threatening the American air base at Da Nang.

An American military spokesman at Da Nang said a U. S. Army enlisted adviser was killed when a round of friendly artillery fell short of Communist positions along a river near the village of Le My eight miles northwest of the base.

The tempo of the air and ground war increased following President Johnson's flat rejection of any peace talks with the guerrilla leadership in South Vietnam. The President, in a Washington news conference Thursday, said North Viet Nam has shown it is opposed to any kind of negotiations now.

At the same time, however, the President welcomed a move by British Prime Minister Harold Wilson to form a peace-seeking mission from commonwealth nations in the hope of ending the war.

The giant B52s flew today's mission from the Strategic Air Command base on Guam, refueling in flight before reaching the target area 25 miles north of Saigon.

Thirty bombers took off, but two collided in the air just west of the Philippines and plunged into the sea. A third plane reached the target but a malfunction prevented it from dropping any bombs.

The B52 target was a section of jungle one mile wide and two miles long in the middle of a cultivated valley. An American military spokesman said a large Communist force was using the jungle cover to mass for surprise attacks on government outposts in the area.

One observer said the saturation bombing turned the two-square-mile area into a river of smoke and fire. The mammoth 10 engine jets unleashed tons of 750 pound and 1,000-pound bombs in passes that began at 6:48 a.m. and ended 30 minutes later.

It was the first time that the B52, developed for the Strategic Air Command, has dropped bombs in anger since it was declared operational in 1957. Even during the Korean War, the United States did not resort to using strategic jet bombers.

The B52 is the biggest bomber in the American air arsenal. It is capable of delivering nuclear bombs on targets anywhere in the world. The plane has a bomb capacity of about 65,000 pounds and it was believed that all 27 B52s on today's mission were fully loaded.

Jane Hiatt Named AFS Student for School in Turkey

Jane Hiatt, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hiatt Jr., 2200 Dogwood, has been selected as Pampa's foreign exchange student to go abroad for the coming school year.

Miss Hiatt will attend school in Turkey, according to an announcement by Mrs. J. B. Veale, chairman of the Pampa unit of student program.

Notice of the appointment arrived here just ahead of Miss Hiatt's 17th birthday on Friday. AFS officials said the Pampa High School senior's attendance at the Turkish school will be sort of a reciprocal event.

The 1962-63 foreign exchange student in Pampa High School was Turan Soyomez, from Istanbul, Turkey.

Miss Hiatt spent Thursday in Amarillo obtaining a passport and making arrangements for her ship passage from New York.

AFS officials said she is expected to leave Amarillo Wednesday for New York and sail the following day for Turkey.

years later of Hobart, Mrs. Buckler and Brown succeeded in management of the White Deer Land Co.

Mr. Buckler related that at that time there wasn't even a barber shop in Pampa and an old boxcar was used for the depot.

presently will be working very closely together.

Some of these angles were gone into at last night's meeting. In fact the committee members heard only last night what city officials hoped they will be able to do.

Over 29 boats were on the lake within 30 minutes of the opening and many more came in during the day as Panhandle residents got off work.

Park Superintendent, Michael J. Becker, gave an estimate of 150 boats on the lake between 8:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. with 35 on the lake at one time.

The rangers took their new lake patrol boat for one of its first spins around the lake late in the afternoon.

Following the opening of the lake, directional signs were placed with parking and ramp rules on the route to the water's edge. Near the boatramp a list of lake and boating safety rules were posted.

Of the many reports received, police said probably many more persons didn't file complaints.

The air was let out of the tires apparently with the aid of a valve cover.

Service stations were swamped with calls wanting air bubbles this morning police said.

No damage was apparently caused by the mischief according to authorities, other than many people being late to work.

Dear Abby....

Home Is Not the Place for Neighbor's Battleground

DEAR ABBY: We have neighbors who are constantly getting into fights. You can hear them a block away. The trouble is that they happen to be friends of ours. Every time they have a fight (which is about three times a week) the wife comes over here to cry on my wife's shoulder. It's usually in the middle of our dinner. Then the husband comes over here and tries to get his wife to go home with him. Then they start up all over again. Abby, we have three small children and you can imagine what it looks like to them. Please tell us how to put a stop to all this.

J. AND R.
DEAR J. AND R.: If your wife wants to be a human walling wall for her neighbor, tell her to do it during the daytime — and preferably at the neighbor's house. Furthermore, if you permit your home to be used as a domestic battleground, you are foolish. Tell your neighbors that you enjoy their company when they're compatible, but please to bury the hatchet at home because they are giving your children a rather ugly perspective or married life.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office. Recently a young man bought a toupee. It made him. Then they start up all over very attractive. Yet the other men in the office kidded him about it until he doesn't wear it any more. What do you think of toupees for men, Abby?

JEKYLL ISLAND, GA.
DEAR J.J., GA.: I think a good toupee — properly fitted — can do wonders for a man's morale. Some men are bald and couldn't care less. But if a man feels that he needs hair, I say, buy a toupee and turn a deaf ear to all the kidding. (And do not listen to any hair-raising stories.)

DEAR ABBY: In your opinion is there any hell or hope for a liar? My son is married to one. She lies about anything and everything when the truth would do just as well. I've caught her in some big ones, but she makes up more lies to cover up. I have never made a scene about it. I pretend I believe her and changed the subject. I love my son very much and would like to love his wife, too, but it is impossible under the circumstances. I have heard that lying with some people is a disease. If so, is it hereditary? My daughter-in-law's mother has a reputation of telling some pretty tall tales, out I do believe my daughter-in-law has her beat. What makes people lie anyway?

FOR TRUTH
DEAR FOR TRUTH: Most people lie occasionally because they aren't big enough to tell the truth, or because they do not want to admit they don't know. The pathological liar lies compulsively for no apparent reason. Your daughter-in-law could be this type, in which case she needs professional help. Lying is not hereditary, but children tend to imitate their parents which accounts for successive generations of liars. I suggest you tell your son the truth about how you feel.

DEAR ABBY: Why was that reader "flabbergasted" to learn that maternity stretch pants are on the market? Just because a woman is in maternity clothes doesn't mean she can't wear the newest fashions and fabrics. "NINE-MONTH STRETCH"

POLLY'S POINTERS

Place Cookies Carefully For Best Baking Results

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — When placing drop cookies on the baking sheet, arrange them like the stars on the 50-star flag rather than in lines like the stars on the 48-star flag. You will get a few more cookies in the same space and best of all the outer edges of the cookies are not as likely to run into each other. Also works just as well for cut out round cookies. An inverted pizza pan makes a good extra cookie sheet.

—MRS. A. L. A.

DEAR POLLY — My husband's reclining chair had begun to show a lot of wear, so it was kept tucked away in a corner. He said it fit like an old shoe, so did not want to discard it. I could not find a slipcover to fit, so, out of desperation and shame, I took one of the baby's fitted knit crib sheets and put it on the chair. It fits perfectly, so I dyed the sheet to match the upholstery. Into the same dye went a piece of elastic which I tied around the bend of the chair to snugly hold the "slipcover" in place. This would also make a good summer cover for plastic covered recliners. Now my husband's chair is back in its accustomed place in the living room.

—JOAN

DEAR POLLY — As a bank teller, I find a flaw in Jackie's idea for taping her driver's license in her checkbook so it is at hand for identification when cashing checks. If the owner should lose the checkbook it might be found by a dishonest person who would have a perfect specimen signature to forge on the checks. A wise checkbook owner should see to it that there is no possible way for an unauthorized person to obtain a sample of his or her signature. Banks are fussy about cashing checks for strangers but some stores may not be so careful.

—MRS. R. J. K.

Thank you, Mrs. K., for calling this to our attention. You are so right.

—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When wrapping packages to mail, I use plain white freezer paper with the glazed side out. This makes a nice looking package and is water resistant when left in an outside mail box.

—MRS. L. H. G.

DEAR POLLY — Place rusty curtain or drapery hooks in a bowl with cloudy ammonia. Leave for half an hour and the hooks will look like new. If the hooks are hard to push through fabric just stick the points in and out of a bar of soap and they will go through the curtains easily.

—GLADYS

GIRLS — This is another time I am glad that I am a hoarder. I had an envelope of old curtain hooks and now I know I will continue to keep them and use them, too.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Colombia's 16th Century adobe and stone presidential palace in the heart of Bogota, a charming man with a greying, leonine head of hair is presiding over a national tragedy.

The man is President Guillermo Leon Valencia and the tragedy is the greater because it is so unnecessary.

Colombia is one of the most richly endowed nations of South America. It has lush agricultural lands, gold, platinum and emeralds. Vast areas remain still to be exploited. Once it was hoped that Colombia would provide the Alliance for Progress with its finest showcase.

Yet today the Colombian treasury is almost bare, its credit exhausted.

In Bogota, factories are closing down for lack of raw materials.

Colombian businessmen carry pistols or submachine guns with them in their automobiles as protecting against a terrifying wave of kidnapings. Families are being sent out of the country and are staying out.

Peso's Value Plunges
 Capital is fleeing the country and the value of the peso has dropped steadily.

The ruling Conservative and Liberal parties which traditionally pass the presidency back and fourth every four years are themselves hopelessly split by factions.

This in a country which only two years ago seemed to have one of the brightest futures in all Latin America.

To say that President Valencia "presides" over a national calamity is putting it too strongly.

Valencia is a courtly man, the son of one of Colombia's greatest poets. But he is a chief executive more interested in the charm of his companions than in the rigorous duties of government. Unpleasantness is a thing to be avoided.

When he took office in August, 1962, he had the parliamentary majority to pass any needed reform. The budget worked out in cooperation with the International Monetary Fund was balanced.

White Deer, on the birth of a boy at 11:30 a.m., weighing 6 lbs 7 ozs.

Within succeeding months, funds allocated to Colombia by the Alliance for Progress came to more than $600 million.

Wealthy Reap Benefits
 But tax loopholes continued to benefit the wealthy. An inflationary spiral touched off by devaluation of the peso coupled with a general wage increase for city workers, hit hardest the man most in need of help, the small coffee grower.

Instead of a balance the budget showed a deficit of more than $100 million.

Colombia drifted to its present state.

This year Valencia agreed to economic reforms suggested by the International Monetary Fund and the United States. They included new taxes and better methods of collection and a further devaluation of the peso but with adequate safeguards against new inflation.

A Colombian delegation came to the United States seeking help. But then Valencia changed his mind about the reforms and the delegation went home empty handed.

Now Valencia is struggling to remain in office until his term expires next year. The Communist, he says, are plotting to assassinate him. But his troubles with Colombia's handful of Communists seem less than those he has brought on himself.

The Cooks took Tommy on a temporary basis and eventually adopted him. They are now caring for two-month-old Sharon at the request of the Tennessee Welfare Department.

OBERDORFER RESIGNS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has accepted the resignation of Louis F. Oberdorfer as assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's tax division. Oberdorfer, 46, resigned Wednesday to return to private law practice. He is a native of Birmingham, Ala.

30-DAY FORECAST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Weather Bureau says that above normal rainfall during the next month will help "to some extent" to relieve drought conditions from New Jersey North through New England.

In its 30-day forecast for mid-June to mid-July, the bureau also predicted above normal rainfall for the western Great Plains and the eastern portion of the intermountain region.

Balmy temperatures were expected for the eastern quarter of the nation and the Southwest, the bureau said, while above normal readings in the eastern half of the Plains region and the Mississippi Valley.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — The stock market has been going down, summer reruns have started on television, smoking is hazardous, drinking leads to alcoholism and eating causes weight problems.

These are just a few of the things that are taking the enjoyment out of living. Even sex has developed depressing side effects.

For instance, Palisades Amusement Park in New Jersey reports that the skirt blowing machine in its "fun house" is no longer a prime attraction.

Most of the girls visiting the park now wear shorts, which are unilappable and render the machine's purpose null and void. Besides that, the shorts expose more than skirt blowing did anyway.

Thus another one of life's simple pleasures bites the dust.

Scientists Swinging
 More and more it appears that about the only way left to have a good time is to become a scientist. The scientific world is really swinging these days.

With astronomers, it's the "big bang" theory of the creation of the universe that is causing all of the excitement. With physicists, it's "antimatter."

As a member of the vast army of confused laymen, I have only a dim conception of what these terms mean, but they sound like loads of fun.

Recent observations of antimatter inspired speculation that somewhere out in the great unknown are "antiworlds" populated by "antipeople." That really turns me on.

In an antiworld, presumably, the antigirls wear skirts. Or at least antishirts. Which would make that a good place to open an amusement antipark.

Right in Keeping
 Anyway, it was right in keeping with the antimatter concept that Congress this week paid tribute to the Gemini-4 astronauts.

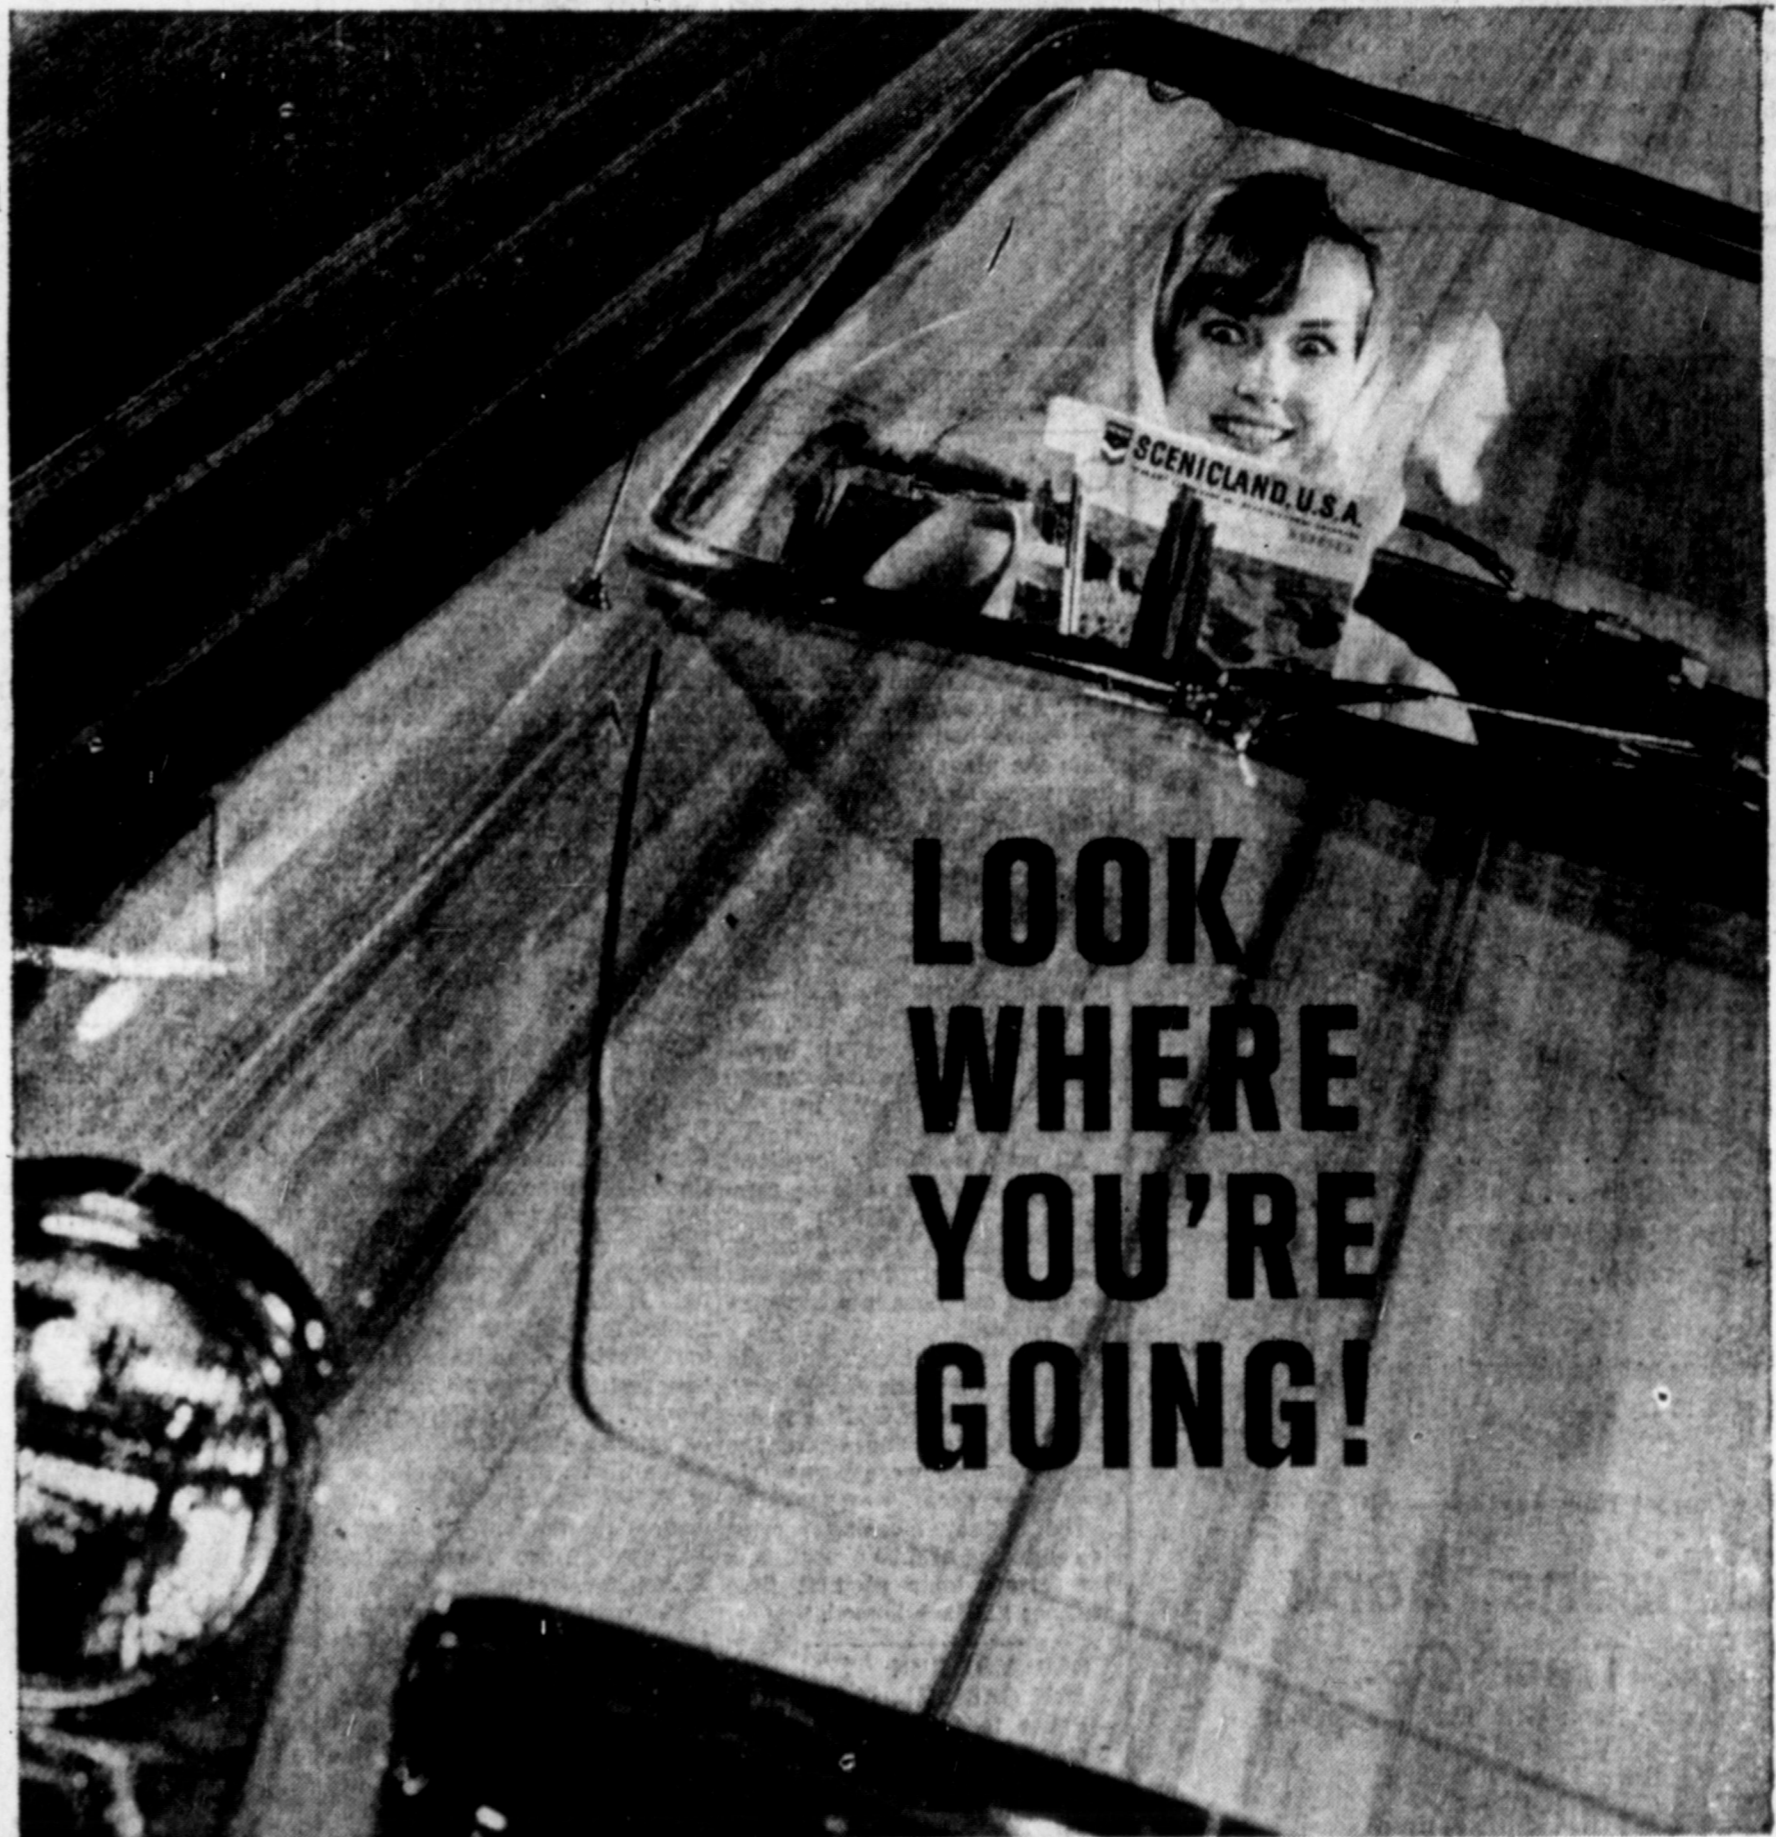

In contrast to the previous space explorers, who were honored at joint sessions of Congress, these two appeared before an antisection.

The House of Representatives was formally and officially in recess at the time, but only a nuclear physicist would have known the difference.

Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., the antispeaker, rapped his antigavel, antidoorkeeper "Fishbait" Miller made the customary announcements, and so forth.

The whole thing went so well that I hope Congress will consider holding more antisections in the future. It would help compensate for the decline of skirt blowing.

Jewish Philosopher Buber is Recognized

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press International

Martin Buber, the greatest Jewish philosopher of modern time, died in Jerusalem this week at the age of 87.

His memory will be cherished by Christians as well as Jews.

His impersonality Buber meant entering into authentic communication with another person, treating him as a "thou" rather than an "it."

The crisis of contemporary man, he said, is summed up in his habit of thinking in terms of "I-it" rather than "I-thou."

Such lonely individualism must lead to misery, Buber said. Man realizes his potential as a human being only in relationship with others.

Depersonalization also robs man of any meaningful relationship with God, Buber said.

For God is not an abstract, impersonal First Cause, not an "it" to be explained and analyzed in theological systems.

Although Buber was a mystic who attacked prime importance to direct experience of God, he did not believe in withdrawing from the world.

It is not in isolated piety, but in everyday human relationships with other persons, that we come to know God as "thou."

Former Pampan Guest Speaker At First Baptist

Rev. Jimmie Wilson will be the guest speaker for the First Baptist Church, Sunday.

Rev. Wilson is from El Paso where he has been the pastor of the Skyline Baptist Church.

He grew up in Pampa, and all his friends are invited to come and hear him.

Sam Allen, minister of music, will direct the church choir in singing "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled" by Mueller.

Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Cantilene" by Faulkes for the offertory.

Rev. J.R. Manning, assistant pastor, will be in the pulpit for the 6:00 o'clock evening worship, and will begin a series of sermons on "The Seven Churches of Revelation."

The Chapel Choir will sing a hymn anthem and the organ offertory will be "The Vesper Bell" by Smith.

Vacation Bible School will continue next week, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday mornings at 9:00 o'clock.

Parent's Night will be Wednesday at 7:00.

COVERED DISH SUPPER — Methodist church members from the Pampa District met in Pampa Tuesday for a business meeting.

Central Baptist Bible School to Start Monday

Vacation Bible School for children three to 12 years of age will begin Monday at 8:30 a. m. at Central Baptist Church.

The school will meet each day, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 till 11:30 a. m.

The children will engage in Bible study, mission study, character study, creative activity, worship and other varied activities throughout each day.

The subject of Pastor T. O. Upshaw's message at the morning worship service Sunday is "The Call of Abraham" from scripture found in Genesis 12:1-8.

The Sunday School will meet at 9:45 studying "Consecrated Unto God" from the scripture in 1 Kings 8:19, 14.

At the evening hour of worship the church will administer the ordinance of baptism to those who are candidates for baptism.

Pastor Upshaw will preach on the subject "The Man He Might Have Been" based on the scripture found in Matthew 26:2-25.

The wicked die, just as do the righteous. The funeral oration will not save them; it will do no good to try to "preach them through."

Death ends all opportunity. It is that point beyond which there is no repentance. "They were forgotten in the city where they had so done."

All men are finally forgotten, although they strive to be remembered. Wickedness is eventually forgotten by all except God.

These wicked had "come and gone from the place of the holy." They had been in God's temple; they had seen and heard the truth, yet they were buried in their wickedness.

The Sunday Evening service is conducted at 6:00 o'clock, and the sermon topic at that time will be: "I Have Sinned."

GRAB AND RUN SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (UPI) — Police today sought two gunmen who grabbed $200 and ran from a local store, the Grab and Run Emporium, the other night.

Caskey Lists Sunday Sermon

Sunday at the 10:30 a. m. period of worship, Mary Ellen and Harvester Streets Church of Christ, Guy Caskey, will speak on a passage found in Ecclesiastes: "And I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done: this is also vanity." Eccl. 8:10.

The wicked die, just as do the righteous. The funeral oration will not save them; it will do no good to try to "preach them through."

Death ends all opportunity. It is that point beyond which there is no repentance. "They were forgotten in the city where they had so done."

All men are finally forgotten, although they strive to be remembered. Wickedness is eventually forgotten by all except God.

These wicked had "come and gone from the place of the holy." They had been in God's temple; they had seen and heard the truth, yet they were buried in their wickedness.

The Sunday Evening service is conducted at 6:00 o'clock, and the sermon topic at that time will be: "I Have Sinned."

OLD PATHS

Jeremiah 6:16—"Thus saith the Lord, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein."

This message addressed to a people so long ago is a message that we need to hear today. People of God have walked in these paths with peace. Where will you walk?

I. Personal Salvation—"There is no other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved." Acts 4:12—Do you know the Lord Jesus Christ in this way?

II. Bible Study—"Forever, O Lord, Thy Word is settled in Heaven." Psalms 119:89 "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away." Matthew 24:35.

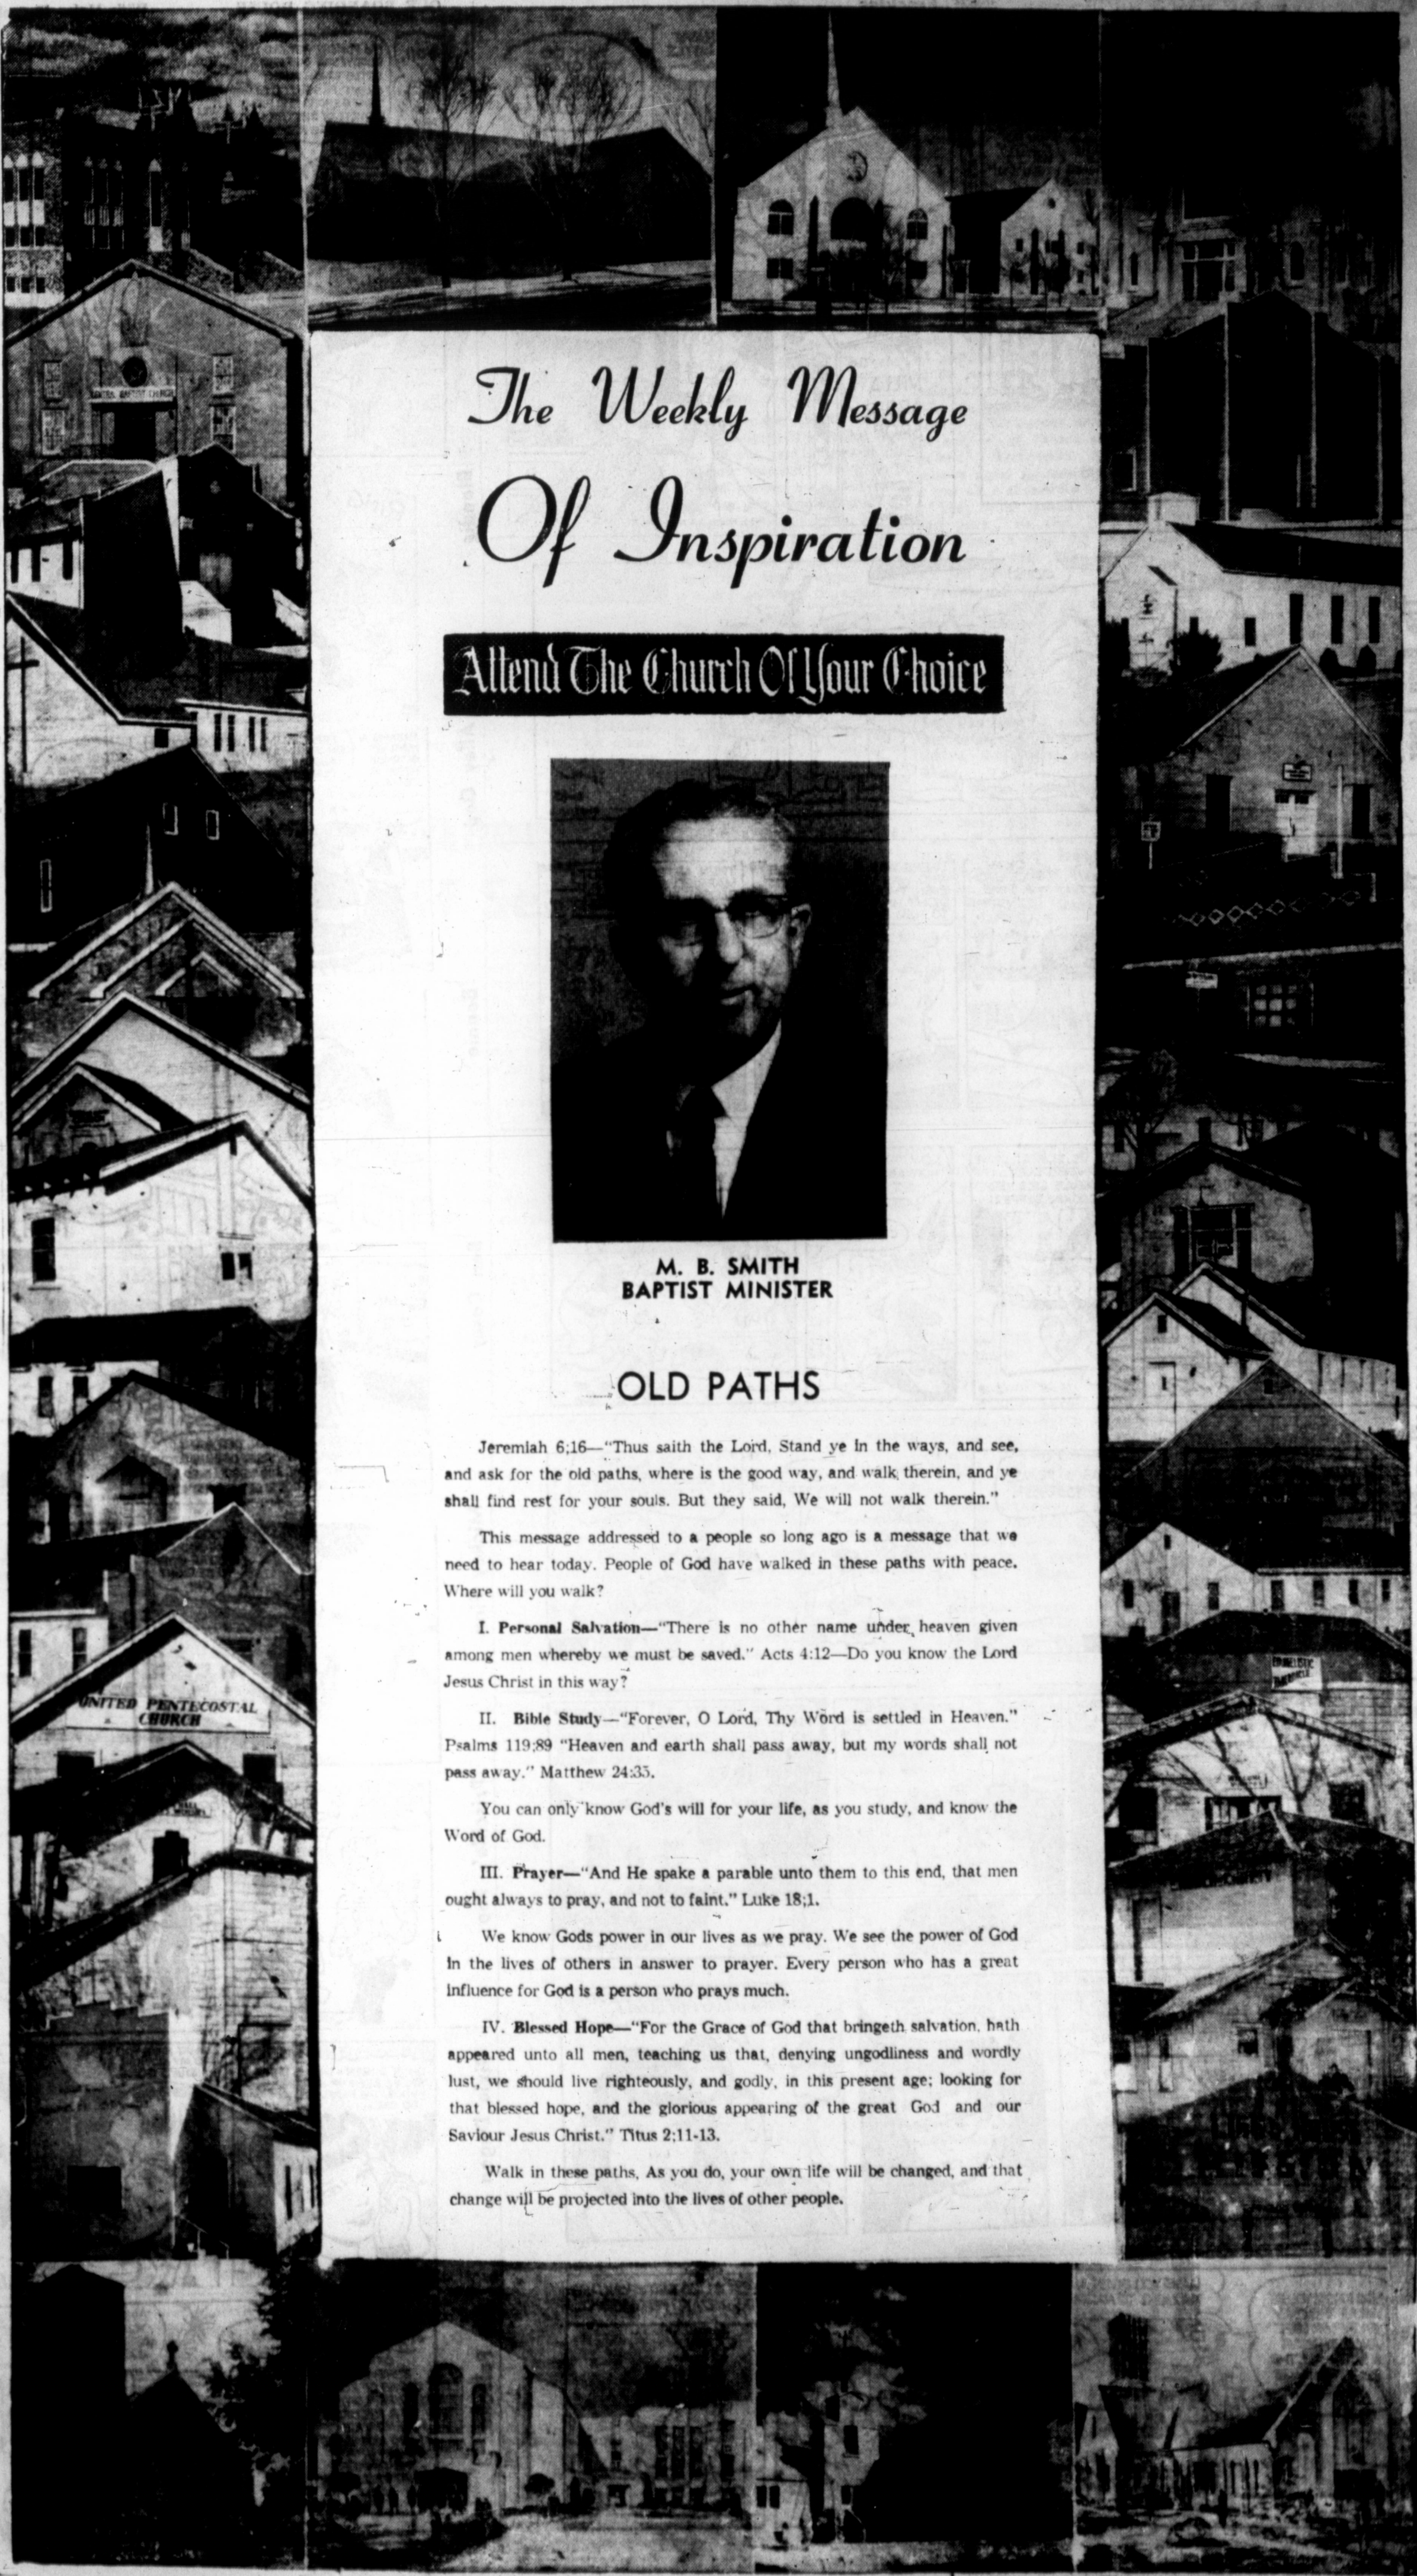

You can only know God's will for your life, as you study, and know the Word of God.

III. Prayer—"And He spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint." Luke 18:1.

We know God's power in our lives as we pray. We see the power of God in the lives of others in answer to prayer. Every person who has a great influence for God is a person who prays much.

IV. Blessed Hope—"For the Grace of God that bringeth salvation, hath appeared unto all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lust, we should live righteously, and godly, in this present age; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ." Titus 2:11-13.

Walk in these paths, As you do, your own life will be changed, and that change will be projected into the lives of other people.

Aussie Kel Nagle Holds 1-Stroke Lead in Open

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Will Jack Nicklaus make the cut? Will Australian Kel Nagle go on to become the first foreign golfer to win the title in nearly half a century? Those were the two key questions today as they teed up for the second round of the U.S. Open championship.

"If it comes up strong and I have to go to bigger guns, I just don't know," said the 44-year-old Australian, who has won many tournaments in numerous countries, but never in the United States.

One Stroke Lead

Nagle held a one stroke lead going into the second round over the 7,191-yard Bellevere course which proved so tough Thursday that only three golfers in the field of 150 were able to crack par, with Nicklaus soaring to an eight over par 78.

Nagle tamed the rugged course with a two under par 68, which put him a stroke in front of amateur Deane Beman and Mason Rudolph, a touring pro. But those three were the only ones to break par on the Bellevere course despite the ideal weather conditions which prevailed for the first round.

There were a total of 79 golfers in the starting field of 110 who had scores of 80 or over and there were 44 golfers ahead of Nicklaus, the 4 to 1 pre-tourney favorite.

Only the 50 lows and ties will qualify for the final two rounds of play Saturday and Sunday.

"I'll shoot a 65 or 66 and make the cut," Nicklaus predicted. "I know what's wrong with my game—I'm getting my wrist in the wrong position. It just happens. The face of the club is shut and the ball goes left."

So after his first round, he went to the practice tee until he was satisfied that he had corrected his fault.

JOIN THE CLUB — Pampa's Steve Molberg does just that, as he shakes the hand of Houston scout Dutch Dietrich after signing a bonus contract yesterday. The big lefthander was a three-year starter for both the Harvesters and the Rebels and a two-time all-district 3-4A selection. Molberg will be assigned to the Astros' Bradenton team.

Siebert Allergic, Dusts Off Sins

By United Press International
Sonny Siebert is allergic to dust, so naturally he wants to raise as little as possible. Siebert, who ranks as the biggest surprise of Manager Birdie Tebbetts' fast-developing young Cleveland pitching staff, dusted off the Washington Senators 5-0 Thursday night, striking out 15 batters and yielding only three hits.

The Senators barely stirred the dirt at home plate while the 28-year-old righthander retired 19 straight batters in one stretch to record his seventh victory in 10 decisions. The Baltimore Orioles won their seventh straight, edging the New York Yankees 2-1 in 16 innings. Minnesota downed Chicago 3-1 and Detroit clipped Boston 6-5, in the only American League games scheduled.

Siebert's 15 whiffs set an AL high for this season for a nine-inning game and sent a gleeful Tebbetts in orbit over his staff, which includes 22-year-old Sam McDowell (7-3 with 116 strikeouts) and 24-year-old Luis Tiant (6-3).

"They're young and still learning," crowed Tebbetts, "but they're beginning to show results. And that Siebert throws awfully hard." Tebbetts is also tickled over his bullpen of Don McMahon, rookie Floyd (Tex) Weaver and Gary Bell.

"My pitches are kind of sneaky," Siebert exclaimed, "and I was fooling the batters. I've been faster, but I don't think my control has been any better."

The Indians routed Bennie Daniels in the first inning with a two-run single and Rocky Colavito and rookie catcher Duke Sims also contributing run-scoring singles.

The Baltimore Orioles won their seventh straight when pinchhitter Bob Johnson tallied Russ Snyder with a bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 16th inning off loser Hal Reniff. The Yankees hit into four rally-killing double plays in the overtime session and committed two crucial misplays in the 16th to lose their fourth straight and drop 11 games out of first. Jim Kaat held the White Sox to four hits and received home run support from Don Mincher and Zoilo Versalles.

Buster Carter Close In WTGT

ABILENE, — Ed Smith of Coleman shot a seven-under-par 64 Thursday to take the first round lead in the Men's West Texas Golf tournament.

Buster Carter of Pampa was a stroke behind while Jerry Smith of Andrews had a 66 and Dick Grant of Abilene a 67. Rives McBee of Midland was next with 69.

Bob French of Odessa, twice a former champion, had a 70. The tournament is being held over the Abilene Country Club course. There are 118 entries. It ends Sunday.

Dodgers' Forgotten Man Makes Giants Remember

By United Press International
It's going to be a long time before the San Francisco Giants forget the "forgotten man" of the Los Angeles Dodgers pitching staff.

It's easy to be overlooked on a staff that features fireball kings Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale not to mention clutch ace Johnny Podres, of course, and it's particularly true when you have a 5-4 won-lost record for a team that's leading the league.

But Manager Walter Alton of the Dodgers is a patient man and he has kept Osteen in the rotation "because I know he is a good pitcher and I will work his way into winning form."

Well, the tall left-hander acquired from the Washington Senators in a controversial deal that sent slugger Frank Howard packing, rewarded Alston's confidence Thursday night with a one-hitter that gave the Dodgers a 3-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants. The victory enabled the Dodgers to retain their 1/2-game National League lead over the Milwaukee Braves, who topped the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2.

Pirates Whip Cards
The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1 and the Chicago Cubs shaded the Houston Astros 6-5 in 11 innings in other NL action.

Rookie catcher Johnny Hiatt singled in the second inning for the only hit off Osteen and the former Washington hurler seemed upset by the fact that it was off a slider.

"The slider usually is my best pitch," he said, "but in this game it was my worst. Anytime I walk five batters, it's not good."

Johnny Roseboro singled home two runs in the first inning — following a single by Maury Wills and a walk to Jim Gilliam — and the Dodgers added their other run in the third on Roseboro's single, two walks and a passed ball by Hiatt. Osteen was aided by excellent defensive plays by Wills, Jim LeFebvre, Ron Fairly and Wally Moon.

Stagle Is Big Hit
Joe Torre's two-run single with the bases filled was the big blow of a three-run eighth-inning rally that enabled the Braves to overtake the Phillies and pin Ray Culp with his third loss. Torre and Hank Aaron each had two hits in the sixth. Brave attack which brought relief pitcher Billy O'Dell in fifth victory.

Vern Law scored his sixth straight victory with a seventh-inning homer behind a 10-hit attack that included Willie Stargell's 15th homer of the season and two hits by Stargell, Donn Clendenon, Jerry Lynch and Andre Rodgers. Bob Gibson suffered his sixth straight loss after winning his first eight decisions.

Billy Williams' 11th-inning single chased home Doug Clemens, who had doubled to open the inning. Ernie Broglio received credit for his first win while Jim Owens suffered his fourth loss.

Cliff Ann Open Pick

ROCKTON, Ill. (UPI) — Defending champion Clifford Ann Creed faced 32 top touring pros and seven amateurs today during the first round of the $9,500 Cosmopolitan Women's Open.

Her stiffest competition on the basis of Thursday's pro-amateur scores figured to be Judy Kimball, Jo Ann Prentice and leading money-winner Kathy Whitworth.

Miss Kimball fired a three-under-par 61 over the 5,735-yard Macktown golf course Thursday, while Miss Prentice and Miss Whitworth each had 70s. Two under par.

The women will play 54 holes in all, winding up the tournament Sunday.

Air Training Wins In Track

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Bill Harrison came from behind on the final leg of the mile relay Thursday night to bring home a win for the Air Training Command, and give his team a narrow victory over Air Defense Command in the World-Wide Air Force Track and Field Meet.

ATC had led during the entire two-day meet until the next to last event, Air Defense went ahead in that event, 62-59, but saw its short-lived lead wiped out by Harrison.

Harrison ran the last leg in 48.7 on an injured ankle. ATC finished with 69 points while Air Defense registered 64. Pacific Air Forces was third with 43 and Air Forces Europe finished fourth with 31 points.

Ed Riley of Air Forces Europe helped his team point total with a double win in the 440-yard hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles.

Three new records were set during the second evening's activities.

One record was set by Harry McCalla of United Commands who ran a 4:10.6 mile. Dave Servis of Air Forces Europe set a record in the pole vault and Pat Traynor of Air Training Command set a new mark in the 3,000-meter steeplechase. After the meet, officials selected a six-man team to represent the Air Force in the AAU track meet next month in San Francisco.

Sonics Smash Tulsa

By United Press International
The Austin Braves and the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs played themselves into the Texas League record book Thursday night, but it took them 25 innings to do it.

The Braves edged the Spurs 2-1 in the 25th inning contest which broke the record for the longest game ever played in the league. League history dates back to 1888.

In other games last night, Amarillo defeated Tulsa 11-2 and Albuquerque took a twin bill from El Paso 3-2 and 8-5.

The Spur-Brave contest took more than five hours to play, but was short of the Texas League mark of the longest game by time. The game was one inning longer, however, than the longest game by innings, a 1960 contest between San Antonio and the Rio Grande Valley.

The contest was also one inning short of the longest major league game, a 26-inning affair between the old Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves.

The Braves scored their winning run in the top of the 25th on a double, a sacrifice and a sacrifice fly. The Spurs lost their best chance for victory in the 20th, when a runner was out at home, trying to score from second on a single. The Sonics got way out in front of Tulsa early and coasted home with the win. Home runs by Leo Posada and J. W. Partier scored five of the Sonics' first six runs. A big five-run inning in the seventh iced things away.

The Dodgers were extended until the eighth inning in the first game of their double-header before coming up with the winning run. Dick Sutton tossed a dandy three-hitter through seven, but was taken out for a pinch-hitter.

In the second game, Albuquerque wasted no time, picking on two Sun King hurlers for seven runs in the first inning. The rest was a breeze, although El Paso kicked up some dust in the middle innings, picking up three runs in the fourth.

NFL Discusses Atlanta Birth

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Football League, seeking new areas in which to expand, will hold a meeting here Monday to discuss the possibility of Atlanta, Ga., as a new site.

Officials of several Atlanta business groups will meet with a committee of club owners for the scheduled 1:30 p.m. EDT session.

While there is no indication that any agreement will be made at the meeting, there are at least three groups from Atlanta seeking to gain an NFL franchise.

William G. Reynolds of Richmond, Va., an executive vice-president of the Reynolds Metal Co., Georgia sportsman Lindsey Hopkins, and insurance executive Rankin M. Smith are interested in obtaining a franchise.

Henry Wants Cassius Clay

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (UPI)—British and Empire heavyweight champion Henry Cooper figured today that Cassius Clay was the man he would next like to fight, but "I guess I'll have to wait and see what happens in the next few months."

Cooper, although disappointed at times because of frequent mistiming, demolished challenger Johnny Prescott with a TKO after the 10th round Thursday night in his sixth defense of the British and Empire titles.

"There's not much left for me now... nothing worthwhile that I'm depending a crack at Cassius," Cooper said after his victory.

But he agreed that Floyd Patterson and Canadian George Chuvalo rated priority for Clay's world title.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Profits Prevent Poverty

We repeatedly run across evidence that our young people in schools are not being taught the facts concerning the operation of our business community. Most teachers and professors apparently have bought the socialist panaceas, and call for larger and larger intervention in the market by the government.

One of the major areas of our concern relates to profits. The young people today not only do not know that profits are necessary, they seem to believe that profits are immoral and anyone who makes profits is some kind of villain.

Let's take a look at some figures. In 1961 the gross profits of all U. S. corporations came to $46 billion. You can almost hear the dismay expressed by our juniors. What a lot of money in the hands of private people! They'd think nothing of it if the government had ten times that sum. After all, the government is supposed to be looking after all of us.

Forty-six billion. All that money going to make the rich richer and the poor poorer? The children don't know it but that was the contention of Karl Marx and one of the very reasons why we are so close in our practices of Communist Russia.

Well, more than $22 billion of it went into the hands of the government. That's right. Taxed in 1961 gobbled up that many dollars just from our big corporations. Suppose the corporations had made no profits. Where would government have gotten the money?

And don't come forward to suggest that the government could have printed it. If government can print money that is good, why should they be so preoccupied today? Why not just have the government turn on the presses for an extra day or so and give each of us a million dollars? If the government can print money that will do the job, that would certainly be a way of making this nation rich.

As a matter of fact, if government can provide the money without taxation, why not have them begin now? We'd all appreciate it. And most of the opposition to government could be eliminated on the spot.

You know and we know that government can't do it. Instead of making us rich, it would impoverish us. And that has been proved again and again by various governments which have

Libertarian Education
It has long been held by courts of law and by men who have given a great deal of thought to the subject of morals, that moral conduct is related in some way to knowledge and motive.

Thus, in most courts, it has usually been held that the mental incompetence of a person who performs a criminal action removes the moral question in that particular case. A person who commits a crime not knowing that it is a crime when he commits it, is certainly in a different moral framework of reference than the person who commits the same act but does know that the act is criminal.

CINCINNATI (NEA) — In politics, actor Ronald Reagan is the man The Speech built.

Already it has helped make him a virtually certain Republican candidate for the California governorship next year and has given him the 1965 crown as champion GOP dinner speaker.

When he offered his spring model of The Speech to some 1,100 conservative Cincinnati and Hamilton County Republicans as part of a statewide salute to new national chairman Ray Bliss, Reagan was re-enacting a part he now has played dozens of times.

His 1,100 listeners here gladly paid $100 each for a plate of rough-textured steak with a small mound of peas, even though they had heard the show before.

That, indeed, was the whole point. They wanted to hear again a performance many said flatly was the one really bright moment of an otherwise bleak 1964 presidential campaign. For them, Reagan's smoothly orchestrated commentary is just about the sweetest Republican music they have ever heard.

Among his listeners in Cincinnati were many who had heard all three Cincinnati-area telecasts of his celebrated October version of The Speech. These reactions were common: "I liked it more each time. . . . If he had done that all through the campaign, Barry Goldwater would have been a shoo-in. . . . He offered Goldwater's views in a way that makes people believe in them. . . . He said what Goldwater should have said, but did not. . . . He told the truth."

There can be no question, of his latest outing here, that what Reagan offers his partisan audiences is a kind of minor masterpiece in the political leagues. Few politicians in recent decades have troubled to tool their staple platform products so finely.

At base, the Reagan speech is a 40 minute machine gun assault against the federal bureaucracy and the Democrats he holds accountable for its swollen size. With speed reminiscent of the late John Kennedy's outpourings in his 1960 television debates with Richard Nixon, the 54-year-old Reagan pumps out his bullets against the federal target.

Listeners hear topics flash by almost as fast as details: Taxes, Social Security, farm allotments, the gold balance, poverty fighters' salaries, Viet Nam.

He tells warmly receptive Republicans the Social Security system is $300 billion in the hole, that government activities competing with business have rung up $81 billion in losses, that a corporation each year must fill out 2,700 different federal forms, that businessmen spend 35 percent of their time in such paper work.

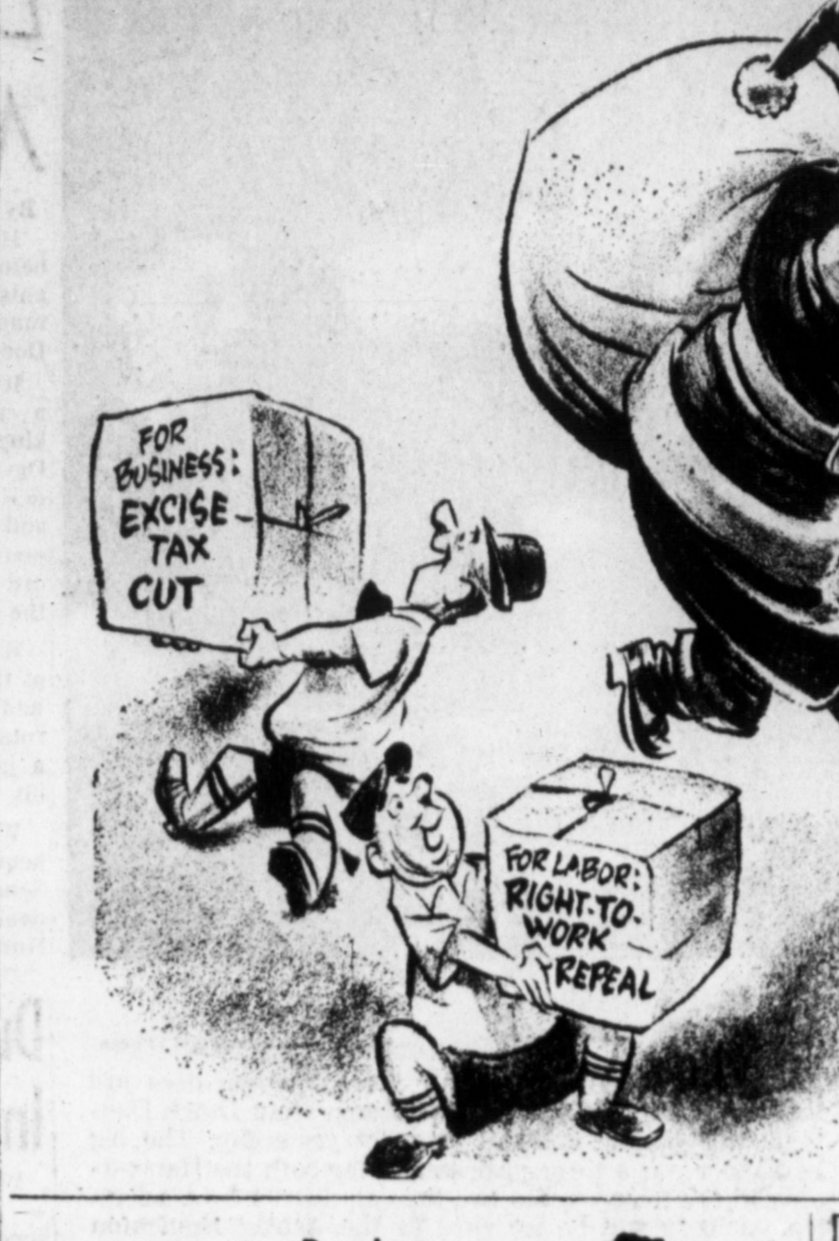

Few of his listeners are nagged by doubts. They watch with approving zest as every well-aimed bullet is fired.

They love the gunfire and the air of authority with which he attacks. They revel in the relish with which he leaps, with a sort of small-town-boy innocence, to the barricades. He knows how to puncture, legitimately, the pompousness and absurdities of a huge bureaucracy.

"A taxpayer?" Reagan asks. "That's someone who works for the government who doesn't have to take a civil service exam."

The status quo? "That's Latin," he says. "For the mess we're in." The President? "He has to leave the White House lights on now. How else can he read those Republican campaign speeches and know what to do next in Viet Nam?"

Strong Ouster Move Aimed at 5 Congressmen From Mississippi — to Heat Civil Rights Pressures

WASHINGTON — A well-organized, carefully planned, amply financed nationwide drive is now in full swing to force a rollcall vote in the House to unseat Mississippi's five congressmen — four Democrats, one Republican.

Significantly indicative of the tactics and nature of this movement is the participation of Representative John Lindsay, liberal Republican candidate for mayor of New York, in what is being characterized as a "giant outdoor rally" of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party in Brooklyn this Sunday.

Chief promoter of this meeting is the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), militantly in the forefront of the civil rights fustilading.

Express purpose is to exert direct political pressure on two leading Brooklyn representatives — Emanuel Celler, D-veteran chairman of the Judiciary Committee, and John Rooney, D-head of a major Appropriations subcommittee.

Last January at the opening of Congress both voted against the Freedom Party's demand that the five Mississippi Congressmen be denied their seats.

Other congressmen are slated to be subjected to similar "heat-applying" affairs.

Among the cities on SNCC's list are Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles. In all of these areas, Democrats and Republicans voted to accept the Mississippi lawmakers' certificates of election and to seat them.

If a majority of these votes can be won, they would go a long way to reversing that ballot.

As of now, the prospects of doing that are not promising. Numerous difficult obstacles stand in the way — starting with the House Elections subcommittee considering the ouster letter. Not only is Chairman Robert Ashmore, D-S.C., against it, but so are the other four members. They are virtually certain to file a unanimous adverse report.

Hunt for Truth

POLITICS AND THE PRINTED WORD

All communications media and stars of the entertainment field should be on the side of and helpful to patriots. Among the freedoms that patriots are trying to save come first and foremost the freedom of the press. Included in the liberties they promote is freedom from censorship.

Everything that patriots are for and are trying to save are highly prized and needed by those in the newsgathering, communications and entertainment fields.

Some super-patriots and others so regarded may appear to have their faults because of extreme diligence. But communications should forgive them as fast as possible. The very worst they do is not likely to be as inconvenient to the publicity vendors as the mildest form of dictatorship to which statism inevitably leads.

Without vigorous campaigning, elections and re-elections, there would be far less for newspapers to print and radio and TV to talk about, and a good source for mimicry and spoofing would be lost to clever entertainers.

Magazines which can charge $40,000-plus per page for advertising space would look longingly for advertisers in an economy which said of the few products available, "Take this or else."

It would be best if those who are doing so well in the profit motive system could understand that they would lose the "profit motive" should communism or even statism be permitted to take over. Businessmen could fare as well and longer if they would take time out to wonder if liberty is endangered in the present trend.

Critics of the profit motive system and personal enterprise should yield to some happy medium for whatever their weaknesses, these philosophies may have been partly responsible for making the USA the greatest of all nations. HLH are representing the five embattled congressmen.

Vigorously supporting the Freedom Party and SNCC in the ouster drive are the Congress for Racial Equality, headed by James Farmer; Americans for Democratic Action, of which Vice President Humphrey is a leading member; the American Civil Liberties Union, and a number of religious organizations and labor unions.

The Washington office of the Freedom Party has four full-time employees, headed by Mike Thelwell. Numerous local and other volunteers help in the work.

Of the 149 congressmen who voted against the five Mississippians in January, 24 were Republicans. They consisted largely of Representative Lindsay and other members of the so-called "Wednesday Club," GOP liberals of which he is the main-spring.

Neither the Republicans nor Democrats have discussed the ouster move in the caucuses. Both are taking a wait-and-see attitude.

Financial Gossip

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—In that fiercely competitive container field, glassmakers say they are doing better than holding their own.

The Glass Container Manufacturers Institute estimates that shipments for the first six months this year will be 4.1 per cent above the comparable period of 1964, and that the trend will hold for the full year. It believes shipments since January 1 and through the current month will be 13.7 billion units.

Among the new items which the GCMI has developed in cooperation with member companies is a neckless, one-way beer bottle. The developers claim it keeps up to 50 per cent more of its original strength after going through a filling line that did its predecessors, which lacked some of the engineering research that has gone into the new containers.

Richard L. Cheney, executive director of the institute, said recently that the unbreakable bottle is not beyond imagination; scientists at work in the industry already are producing bottles and jars which are lighter and stronger than those of 25 or even 15 years ago.

The GCMI puts usage of glass bottles and jars by the average family in the United States at 1,500 a year, but probably not one housewife in a thousand has noticed the changes which have been taking place in the containers.

On the average, said Cheney, bottles and jars have lost about a third of their weight in the past generation, yet they are stronger than ever before.

HANDS ONLY
BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Berkeley public school teachers may spank grade school pupils but, according to new rules, they mustn't lay a hand on high schoolers.

The school board rules cautioned the teachers against using a ruler or paddle. Only the bare hand may be used and teachers must "administer it promptly" if the wayward pupils do not "respond to reason."
