Thant Reaches Pakistan On Peace Seeking Flight

United Press International Secretary General Thant of the United Nations flew into the Pakistani capital of Rawalpindi today on the first leg of an urgent mission to pull India and Pakistan from the brink of all-out war.

Radio Pakistan said it believed Indian paratroopers landed Wednesday night near a dozen Pakistani cities, including Karachi and Rawalpindi.

U THANT
UN chief

The situation is very grave," Thant said at Rawalpindi's Chaklala Airport. He was greeted by Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto and Foreign Secretary Aziz Bhutto of Pakistan.

Bhutto said Thant was welcome but he told reporters it would take a "miraculous turn" of events to bring about a lasting settlement of the dispute over Kashmir, which dates back to 1947.

Thant arrived from Karachi, the biggest city in Pakistan, where demonstrators carrying banners reading "no cease fire" and "U.N. fiddles while Kashmir burns" met his plane. His flight from Tehran, Iran, was delayed 20 minutes by reports of Indian paratrooper landings in the suburbs of Karachi.

Both sides claimed to have inflicted heavy casualties. United Nations Secretary General Thant arrived in Rawalpindi, the interim Pakistan capital, on his peace mission and called the situation "very grave." The war was constantly growing in scope and he would make no predictions of success for his mission.

The three "fronts" along the frontier where each side was claiming victory: Sialkot: Sialkot is a major Pakistani military base six miles inside the border and 25 miles southwest of the Kashmir city of Jammu. India said its troops there were continuing their advance against heavy resistance, Pakistan said Indian artillery shelled a Sialkot hospital in what it called "yet another wanton destruction of human life."

Lahore: Lahore, a major city is 15 miles inside the Pakistan border and 90 miles south of Jammu. Indian troops ran into a massive Pakistani counterattack here which Pakistan said routed the Indians and sent them fleeing, their equipment left behind. Karachi reported fighting centered at the border town of Wagah, due east of Lahore, and said India bombed the Lahore airport.

Gadra: Gadra, a tiny border village five miles inside Pakistan and 560 miles southwest of Jammu, was overrun Wednesday by Indian troops aiming (See THANT, Page 3)

Local Banker Is Chairman Of UF Drive

Local banker Mack Hiatt Jr. has been named general drive chairman of the 1965 Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign, according to Norman C. Henry, president of the local fund.

Hiatt served as vice-chairman of last year's drive which was successful in reaching its $70,000 goal.

Named to serve with Hiatt were Joe E. Reid, Advance Gifts Division chairman; E. E. Shelhamer, Special Gifts Division chairman; and Jim Morris, chairman of the General Drive Division.

"One Gift Works Many Wonders" will be the theme of this year's drive, which will seek to raise $77,000 for twelve participating agencies. Last year only six agencies were included.

The new agencies added to the Fund this year are the United Community Fund, Medical Research Foundation of Texas, Texas Association for Mental Health, Warm Springs Foundation, National Travelers Aid Society and United Service Organization.

Carryover agencies include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Milk Fund, Welfare Index, Red Cross and Salvation Army.

Henry stated that more than thirty agencies had requested admission to the Pampa-Lefors United Fund but our budget simply was not large enough to accommodate them all. He said that they accepted only those organizations which would most benefit the people of Gray County.

Hiatt said that the advance gifts campaign will get underway later this month and the general drive will be kicked off early in October.

Rotary Club Hears Coach

Pampa High School's head football coach Eural Ramsey gave a preview of the '65 Harvesters at the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

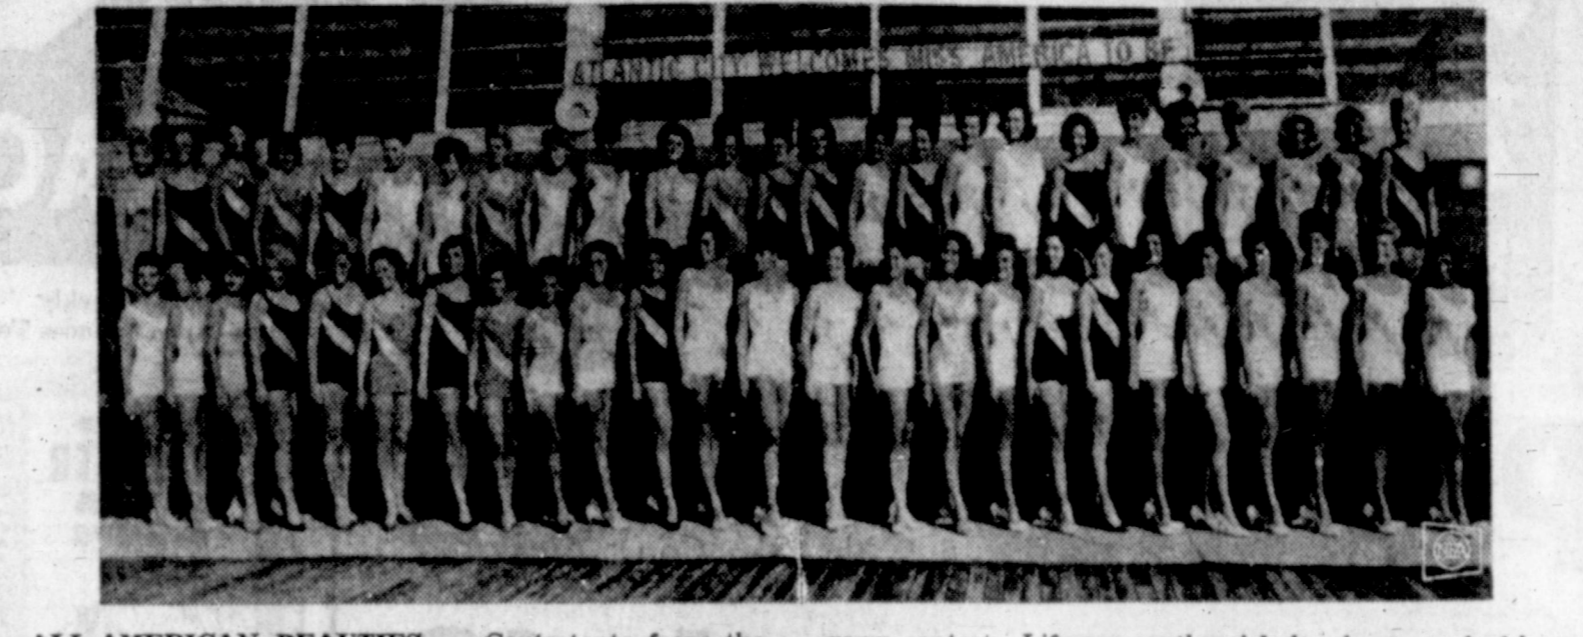

In outlining the team's prospects, he said the Harvesters will have good size, but not much speed. However, the halfbacks will be quick.

According to Ramsey, the teams in district 34A are predicted to finish as follows: (1) Lubbock Monterrey (2) Amarillo Tascosa (3) Amarillo High (4) Borger (5) Lubbock High (6) Amarillo Palo Duro (7) Pampa (8) Plainview (9) Amarillo Caprock.

Kenneth McWilliams has been named Junior Rotarian for the month of September. Kenneth is president of the student council at Pampa High School, a member of the national honor society and was a star performer on last year's Harvesters championship basketball team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McWilliams, 1318 Mary Ellen.

Terry Culley introduced the program. Follow the crowds to the Pampa Baptist Temple, Wayland A. Murray, pastor. (Adv.)

Texas Coast Braces For Betsy's Onslaught

ALL-AMERICAN BEAUTIES — Contestants from the 50 states line up on the Boardwalk at Atlantic City for the start of the 1965 Miss America Contest. Last night marked the first round of talent, swim suit and evening gown contests. Life among the girls has been sparked by two interesting coincidences: two of the girls are look-alikes and four contestants, including Miss Texas, appeared in identical dresses yesterday.

Evacuation Plans for 600 Ready

HOUSTON (UPI) — Texas coastal residents, for whom 1961's Hurricane Carla is still a painful memory, began today the early steps of hurricane precautions in case Betsy makes a call.

About 600 persons prepared to evacuate Sabine Pass in the extreme southern end of Jefferson County because of Hurricane Betsy's threat to the Texas-Louisiana coast.

BULLETIN Betsy was located by Air Force planes near latitude 26.2, longitude 86.6, or about 260 miles southeast of the mouth of the Mississippi River at 11 a.m. (C.S.T.) and was moving towards the west northwest about 18 miles an hour, a gain of a mile an hour during the night. She was expected to make a gradual turn to a more northwesterly course later today.

"One life is worth more than staying here and watching over the pass," said Civil Defense director Percy Toups.

He said some residents were afraid looters would come into the pass if everyone evacuates. Toups said a roadblock would be set up to prevent possible looters from entering Sabine Pass.

Residents in Jefferson and Chambers counties were advised to tie-down butane tanks and cut holes in the floors of their homes to keep the houses from floating off foundations.

Houston Civil Defense and the Harris County defense and disaster relief organization began to contact the people with whom they coordinate their work in a hurricane.

Michel Halbouty, director of Houston's Civil Defense directory, said services and assistance agencies are alerted that they may have to go to work soon.

In Galveston, the Civil Defense, Red Cross, Weather Bureau, and radio station personnel met to look over the situation and prepare for the network that carried information on storms and helps with rescue and precautions. Radio station KGBC planned to go from 18-hour to 24-hour programming until the storm threat is over or Betsy has moved through. Weather Bureau chief forecaster Irvin A. Volbrecht at Galveston gave the agencies detailed information on Betsy's movements and size.

At Texas City, Mayor Emmett Lowry said preparations are being made to close the gap still left in the incomplete Texas City seawall. The seawall is being built to add protection to the Texas City-La Marque areas.

The opening is to receive later a permanent flood gate. Red Cross disaster information director Harris Kemper Jr. of Galveston said preparations (See PLANS, Page 3)

Eight Days Remain in Contest...

Say, Friend... only eight more days remain in which to cast ballots for Pampa's "Friendliest, Most Courteous" man and woman employees.

The ballots are sticking up with scores of women and men already nominated for the "Friendliest, Most Courteous" honors. It appears several close races are in the making, with winners to be in doubt to the very end of the voting period, Sept. 17.

Better be sure your favorite man and woman employees are receiving the number of votes to which they are entitled. Clip the ballot appearing in today's Pampa News and vote your convictions. Vote as many times as you like. Cast your ballots at The News, The First National Bank, Citizens Bank & Trust or the Chamber of Commerce.

The man and woman employees receiving the greatest number of votes each will receive a $50 cash award and a framed certificate.

Every person nominated will be presented cards in the Pampa Courtesy Club. Following is the latest list of nominees and their places of employment: Velma Addison, Gunn Bros. Stamps; (See NOMINEES, Page 8)

FOR MISS AMERICA Beauties Enter Second Round

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The opening night hurdle cleared, 50 contestants in the 1965 Miss America Pageant head tonight into the second of three rounds of talent, swim suit and evening gown competition.

Talent honors in Wednesday night's first round went to 18-year-old Eileen Mary Smith, the vivacious, auburn-tressed Miss Indiana from Indianapolis. She sang a medley of songs from "Sound of Music" made popular by her idol, Julie Andrews, who she resembles both in appearance and voice.

A curvaceous southern belle from "Ole Miss," Patricia Alice Puckett, 20, of Columbus, Miss., packed her 35-23-35 figure into a stunning white elastic one-piece to win opening night round in the swim suit competition.

One-third of the 1966 hopefuls for the golden chair of reigning Miss America Vonda Van Dyke of Arizona participated in evening gown competition Wednesday night. The evening gown winners are never publicly announced. Personality winners also are kept secret to heighten the mystery around the identity of the new ideal American girl until she is crowned about midnight Saturday (EDT) before a nationwide television audience.

Each of the 50 girls competes in one of the three categories each night. Semifinals and finals are held Saturday.

Miss West Virginia, Lois Gay Ratcliff, was unable to wear her scheduled gown, an emerald green faille, because, she said, it was altered "much too tight" in the top. Instead, she wore the blue, beaded gown she had worn in the competition-opening procession around the ramp extending from the huge stage in Convention Hall, where about 6,000 gathered Wednesday night to view the young lovelies.

LAKE RECREATION AREA Temporary Concessionaire To Be Given on Bid Basis

The United States Department of Interior announced today that it will award a contract on a bid basis for temporary concessionaire at Lake Meredith's Blue West Recreation Area.

The government said the bid will be only temporary and will not exceed longer than Dec. 31, 1966.

The announcement states that "it is the desire of the National Park Service to issue a single contract for both operation of a mobile gasoline unit and mobile canteen unit. If no acceptable offer is received from one party for the two items, then two contracts for the best offers will be issued."

Persons interested in bidding for the contract should contact the Superintendent, Sanford Recreation Area, Sanford, Texas.

School Board Will Explore Federal Help for Projects

Pampa School Board members soon will learn how the local district could receive federal funds for school projects under Titles II and III of the recently enacted Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The board today granted the request of Dr. Emmitt Smith of West Texas State University for an audience at 9:30 a.m. Thursday Sept. 23.

Supt. Jack Edmondson said WTSU has been named to set up informational meetings with school boards throughout the Texas Panhandle.

classroom for art classes.

Homer Johnson, spokesman for the group, said he thought the art class of some 15 or 20 members should not be charged a $3 nightly minimum fee for use of the classroom.

He said a charge of $5 for janitor service was not objectionable, but he thought principle was involved in charging taxpayers for use of the classroom for adult education.

Board members said they could not agree at this time that the board policy adopted in 1964 should be changed.

LBJ Creates New Office

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson chose today as the birthday of the new department of Housing and Urban Development. But he kept the country guessing who would be its first secretary.

The leading contender was Negro Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA).

Johnson scheduled a White House ceremony to sign the legislation creating a cabinet-level post dedicated to solving the mounting and critical problems facing America's cities.

The new agency becomes the 11th department in the federal government. The last one to be established was Health, Education and Welfare, which came into existence in 1953.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development claims about 14,000 employees who supervise federal programs totaling about $4.3 billion a year.

HOSPITAL ALMOST A VILLAGE — Dr. Schweitzer's first operation was in a chicken coop and it saved human life. In time Lambarene became a complex of medical facilities and living quarters for relatives who set up housekeeping on the hospital grounds while waiting for a patient to recover. They brought household belongings and, in many cases, their animals.

REFUSED TO MODERNIZE Schweitzer's Famous Hospital Faces Danger of Being Razed

LAMBARENE, Gabon (UPI) — The jungle hospital Dr. Albert Schweitzer built for his "African children" was more like a native village. Pigs and chickens roosted and roosted in its compound. He refused to modernize it.

More than 1,000 Africans, tears streaking the dust on their black cheeks, wept Sunday as the simple wooden coffin containing "Le Grand Docteur" was lowered into its grave. He died Saturday at the age of 90.

Today, the hospital is in danger of being razed. It must abandon the methods Schweitzer steadfastly refused to change and move forward in pace with modern Africa or die with the great humanitarian who founded it more than 52 years ago.

Not too long ago, a Gabonese government official threatened: "Once the old man dies we will bulldoze that hospital into the ground."

Observers predicted, however, that Schweitzer's daughter, Rhend Eckert, now chairman of the Schweitzer Hospital Foundation, and Dr. Walter Munz, his successor, will make improvements the old man resisted.

Just across the Ogooue River, stands a modern medical center stocked with the latest scientific equipment. Up to now, only a trickle of patients has used the sanitary, electric-light, strictly-run facilities compared to the flood that preferred the mission of the old doctor with its grime, gloom and heat.

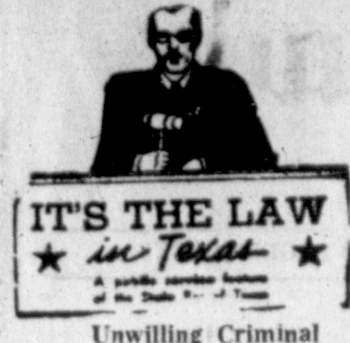

Modern Africa, although thankful for the jungle pioneer, firmly believes he was out of step on two counts.

First, he believed that Africans were children. He once said that he could never carry on an adult conversation with an adult African.

Second, and probably more important in his eyes, was his philosophy of ehurfucht vor dem leben (reverence for life). He summarized it once by saying: "A man is ethical only when life, as such, is sacred to him, that of plants and animals as that of his fellow man, and when he devotes himself helpfully to all life that is need of help."

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
Unwilling Criminal

As you pause at a red traffic light, a stranger leaps into the back seat of your car, presses a gun against your head and snarls: "Get going!"

If you do get going, are you—aside from your other troubles—guilty of a traffic violation for going through a red light?

Obviously not. Although you went through the physical motions of breaking the law, you had no real choice in the matter. You were a toy of circumstance, acting under harsh and overwhelming coercion.

When is coercion an excuse for what would otherwise be a crime?

First, the law will consider how intense was the pressure to which you were subjected. It must be severe.

For example, a man who took part in a holdup was excused because he acted under a direct threat of being shot by his companion. But a man who delivered bootleg whiskey was not excused merely because he was afraid of losing his job.

Second, besides the intensity of the pressure, the law will consider how serious was the misconduct you were ordered to commit. Running a red light is not so horrendous a deed that the law cannot afford to overlook it.

But suppose you had been ordered not only to go through the red light but also to run down a luckless pedestrian who happened to be in the path of your car.

That would be a different story. In theory, a few states do accept coercion as an excuse even for homicide. But in fact, such an excuse is rarely accepted in court. At the very least, the law would expect you to take every reasonable chance to avoid the killing of an innocent person.

Astrological Forecast
By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 10
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's full moon brings much stimulated activity that can result in great deal being accomplished by you if you look straight at the problems facing you and do not get taken away from them by some other appealing but nevertheless distracting task. Bring more of the artistic, cultured, into your life.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Thinking what you can do to accomplish during the Fall is a wise idea today. Make your plans confidentially. Get in touch with experts and much of interest can be discussed.

TAUROS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Social gatherings are your best avenue of advancement now, so get out with the right groups at the right places. Be sociable, outgoing, too. Others will then extend friendships.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — You would do very well to gain the favor of bigwigs today as they will do more for the future with their assistance. You can be far more prosperous. Let situations develop normally. Then act.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 23) — You need to get out of that rut and into more lucrative waters that brighten your horizons. Sit down and write to out-of-towners. Penize air mail well and get ahead.

at Hyderabad, 135 miles to the west, and Karachi, 90 miles further to the southwest. Pakistan said the Indians captured two police border stations and that a counterattack was being prepared.

Both sides reported extensive air raids by the other's air force and Karachi seethed with reports Indian paratroopers had landed during the night in a dozen different Pakistani cities. Thant's flight from Tehran was delayed 20 minutes by the reports.

In Rawalpindi, a military spokesman said the Pakistani army knocked out 25 Indian tanks in sharp fighting in the Sialkot sector northeast of Lahore, the objective of India's first invasion last Monday. Five Indian field guns and a number of prisoners were captured, he said.

"The Pakistani army has completely stabilized its position and made tactical gains," the spokesman said. He reported Indian troops "severely mauled" during a sharp encounter on the Lahore front.

The Indian radio said two Pakistani nationals were arrested on espionage charges at Siliguri, a major rail center in west Bengal.

Forecast Calls For Showers For Panhandle

Indications pointed to a rainy weekend in the Panhandle as the Weather Bureau forecast increased shower activity this weekend.

Good showers dampened parts of the Western Panhandle and the El Paso vicinity early today. Skies were mostly fair elsewhere.

The Weather Bureau maintained a Hurricane Watch from the Texas-Louisiana border to Matagorda Bay near Corpus Christi and said hurricane warnings might be issued today along the coast.

Ships of all descriptions hurried into Beaumont, Port Arthur and other havens.

Kennedy Tooley, information officer for the Texas Office of Defense and Disaster Relief said his office was "ready for anything."

But he said no mobilization of men or equipment has been ordered.

The Weather Bureau's agricultural service office at Weslaco, Tex., in the lower Rio Grande valley warned farmers to take precautions for crops.

Growers were urged to "immediately harvest remaining fields of cotton, be prepared to open drain ditches and consider other precautionary measures."

Houston in Danger Of Losing Busses

LAREDO (UPI) — Houston's sleek, new, dreamliner buses' future today could be measured only in terms of 60 days.

Federal Judge Ben Connally put the Houston Rapid Transit lines into temporary receivership Wednesday to keep a Baltimore firm from repossessing it because the operator of the line fell behind in his payments.

Connally appointed Houston Chamber of Commerce president Gail Whitcomb as receiver and directed him to appear in 60 days at Connally's court in Laredo with a report on his findings.

Lawyers for the city of Houston appeared before Connally Wednesday in Laredo, asking for a six-month receivership so an operator who could take the lines over from present operator Bernard Calkins and make the payments.

Joyce Cox, lawyer for the Commercial Credit Industrial Corp. of Baltimore, suggested a 60-day receivership instead and Connally agreed.

Thomas Fletcher, an attorney for Houston, said the city was interested only in keeping the buses running.

The Houston City Council scheduled a hearing today on a request by Calkins to raise bus fares to allow him to meet expenses for the new buses. The hearing was originally planned for Wednesday but was postponed a day.

DEASON SWORN IN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Willard Deason, a Texas broadcaster who once was President Johnson's college roommate, was sworn in Wednesday as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Deason, 60, took the oath of office from another Texan, Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, and succeeded ICC Commissioner Everett Hutchins on, also of Texas, who resigned last March.

DOLLY IN SAIGON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — It'll be "Hello Dolly" for U. S. troops in South Viet Nam, The White House said Wednesday that the musical, now in Tokyo, will open in Saigon next month.

SURPRISE!
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's 17-year-old daughter Luci threw a White House surprise party yesterday for Mrs. Zehv Wright, the family's cook for 23 years.

Your Child And School
By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
NEW YORK (UPI) — At the beginning of the school year, parents will generally find their child most enthusiastic and in an excellent frame of mind for learning. It is particularly advisable to take advantage of these attitudes.

Very often the child's enthusiasm will result in plans, promises and hopes which are quite unrealistic. It would be wise for parents to become involved in these plans in such a way as to provide some type of guidance. Naturally, the child should not be discouraged in any way. He might be asked some questions which will help him adjust his ideas to realistic goals.

The most important aspect of helping a child who has over-enthusiastic plans is to avoid disappointment. If the child finds he is not being successful, he may become completely discouraged and actually "give up." Therefore, the plans should be of such a design that he will see some success along the way but will continue to have additional goals to achieve.

This means that plans should probably include steps which lead to a final goal. The child who has had serious difficulties with his marks should not aim to receive "A's" in all subjects during the first marking period. It would be far more realistic to look for "C's" at the beginning to "B's" and a few "A's."

The parent plays an important role in that he can help maintain the child's enthusiasm and feeling of progress. This can be done by praising the child for improvement. Also, it is particularly helpful for a child's feeling of confidence to know that his parents are standing with him in his efforts towards success.

AGAINST REDISTRICTING PLAN Court Hearing Continues

HOUSTON (UPI) — Lawyers for Texas Republicans challenging Texas' congressional redistricting plan return to a three-judge federal court today to explain why they feel the plan is "a mass of gerrymander- ing."

The trial was before U. S. Circuit Judge John Brown and U. S. Dist. Judges James Noel and Joe Ingraham.

Chief attorneys for the plaintiffs from Dallas, Fort Worth, Midland, Odessa, Beaumont, San Antonio and Richardson are Duncan Boeckman and Pat Holloway, both of Dallas.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and two assistants, Hawthorne Phillips and Harold Kennedy, represent the defendants.

Evidence Ready
Boeckman and Holloway were expected to spend most of their time today introducing a great deal of material into evidence.

Arguments by both sides may follow.

The trial is a reopening of a suit filed in 1963.

Originally, Republicans in the suit had a partial victory in that the special three-judge federal court agreed the old districts were unconstitutional. The court delayed the effective date of its ruling, however, long enough to allow the legislature to have a try at drawing new districts.

Raps Legislature
The new suit filed July 21 contends the court itself should draw new districts because the 59th Texas Legislature did it so poorly.

PILOT IN VIET NAM

Clovis Woman Sees Husband On TV Network Documentary

CLOVIS, N.M. (UPI) — A television documentary about the war in Viet Nam Monday night showed the wife of a Cannon Air Force Base pilot the role her husband is playing in Southeast Asia.

"I never actually realized just what he was doing until I saw," Mrs. Raynell Barry said. Mrs. Barry's husband, Maj. Robert Barry, 36, went to Viet Nam in June along with other members of the 481st Tactical Squadron headquartered at Cannon, located near Clovis.

The documentary, "A Day in the Viet Nam War," followed Maj. Barry and fellow pilot Maj. Robert Finley, also of Cannon, through a normal day.

Mrs. Barry, mother of twin 11-year-old girls, Donna and Diane, saw her husband briefing a group of pilots, walk out on a runway and climb into his jet fighter.

"He looked tired," Mrs. Barry noted.

The documentary, which was shown on Columbia Broad-ing System also had film of Maj. Barry strafing suspected Viet Cong hideouts.

When the show was over, Mrs. Barry, who hails from Lexington, Va., said she had a "real good idea of what he's up against."

Barry received his wings in 1953 at Bryant, Tex. The following two years the Virginia Military Institute graduate flew F86 Thunderjets over Korea. He was transferred to Cannon AFB after his stint in Korea.

WRONG YARD
SIDNEY, N. Y. (UPI) — William J. Fuller landed in the wrong back yard when giving an exhibition parachute jump for a crowd at a nearby little league baseball game.

Fuller, 34, of Coatsville, Pa., landed in the yard of police captain N. G. Lecakes. He was arrested for violating a state law prohibiting sport parachuting, pleaded guilty and was fined $25.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Television's Emmy awards, unable to command public attention, persist in demanding it, so there is nothing to do but report that they will be broadcast again on Sunday over NBC-TV.

The entire procedure reminds one of Mr. Billy Rose's remark about a certain gentleman that failure had gone to his head.

The awards will be broadcast on the eve of the new season, which is something like having dessert before the main course; in short, the so-called best will precede the mundane. Furthermore, it is utterly absurd to delay the prize-giving until so late in the year; it is difficult enough for a viewer to remember what he saw on television three days ago, let alone well over a year ago.

The new philosophy of the Television Academy is to award only excellence (don't look too closely at the nominations); and the fact that it is a new philosophy gives you an idea of Emmy worth. My standard for awards is more simple: Prejudice. Therefore, on this basis alone, I present to you my awards for the last season, starting Sept. 1, 1964, and ending this past Sept. 1:

Best entertainment program, all categories: Barbra Streisand special (CBS).

Best drama program: "The Hollow Crown" (Royal Shakespeare Company, CBS).

Best musical and/or variety program: Barbra Streisand special. Runners-up: Danny Thomas' "Wonderful World of Burlesque" (NBC). Red Skelton-Marcel Marceau Pantomime Hour (CBS). "The Fantasticks"

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Margaret Mead, the noted anthropologist, is currently making a study of "the present and future role of the small town in our society."

She wants to find out if it is true that "the small town is no longer what it once was and belongs to the past."

As part of the project, Dr. Mead has invited people who might be interested in the subject to answer a series of questions concerning their attitude toward small towns:

"What are the advantages of small-town living? What are the disadvantages? If you once lived in a small town but moved away, what made you decide to leave?" And so on.

Being a small town boy myself, I am delighted to participate in the survey:

"Dear Dr. Mead: "What you should do is pay a visit to my old hometown in Texas. Within a few short blocks, you would pass the homes of my Aunt Elma, Aunt Pearl, Aunt Olga, Aunt Eunice, Aunt Opal and Aunt Vera.

"Investigation would disclose that the dear ladies have one thing in common. All of them are widows.

"From a male standpoint, this is probably the main disadvantage of living in small towns. It is rough on uncles.

"Those of my uncles who moved to the city are still in pretty good shape. But of those who stayed at home, only one now survives. And he recently felt a ladder.

"Apparently there is something about small town living that affects uncles adversely. If you can use your anthropological training to isolate the trouble, you will be performing a valuable service.

"Unless something is done to make uncles less hazardous, the future of small towns in our society is very bleak. Before long, they won't have any men left.

"As soon as a chap starts acquiring nieces and nephews, he will head for the big city where uncles stand a better chance of seeing the next sunrise.

"The last time I visited my hometown I asked one of my aunts how she accounted for the fact that small town aunts generally outlive their husbands.

"She said if probably was because small town uncles usually marry women who are younger than they are.

"It may be, then, that the only safe thing to do is marry an old maid who is an only child.

NOT KNOWING POLICY

Marine Officer Uses Tear Gas

SAIGON (UPI) — A Marine battalion commander, apparently unaware of strict policy to the contrary, used tear gas today to drive women and suspected Viet Cong from caves and tunnels during an operation near Qui Nhon, a military spokesman said.

The spokesman said the Viet Cong were using the women as shields.

The tear gas was effective, the spokesman said, and the women and suspected Viet Cong emerged with nothing more serious than tear-filled eyes.

He emphasized that it was tear gas only, and not a combination to produce nausea.

The spokesman said the battalion commander used the tear gas on his own initiative and that permission would not have been granted had a request been made to the American Military Assistance Command in Saigon.

He said an investigation was under way to determine why the Marine commander was not aware of Saigon and Washington policy.

But he said the tear gas was standard issue to the Marines for use in such situations as riot control.

Ham Loaf Is Good for Company Dinner

HAM LOAF can make any meal a special treat.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Now is the time to begin your collection of unusual recipes for fall entertaining. The best ones are those based on familiar recipes but with a new slant or special ingredients added. Why not start today with the ham loaf made deluxe in taste but not difficult in preparation?
HAM LOAF DE LUXE
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ pound ground pork

1½ pounds ground cooked ham
½ cup bread cubes
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon dry mustard
3 pineapple slices, cut in half
½ cup sour cream
Thoroughly mix one-third cup soup, meat, bread, onion, eggs, and mustard. Shape into loaf. Press pineapple deeply into meat. Place in shallow baking pan; bake at 350 degrees for 1½ hours. In saucepan, blend remaining soup and sour cream; heat; stir now and then. Serve over loaf. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Quick Bread Treat

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Here's a delightful homemade quick hot bread to add pleasure to breakfast. It is made with a pancake mix and strawberry preserves.

When drizzled with a thin confectioners' sugar frosting, these rolls make a delicately sweet dessert.

STRAWBERRY - FILLED ROLLS

(Makes 15 rolls)
2½ cups pancake mix
1-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon mace
1-3 cup shortening, soft
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Strawberry Preserves
Combine pancake mix, sugar and mace in medium-sized bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk and vanilla, stirring lightly only until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; knead gently a few seconds. Roll out to form a 9x15-inch rectangle. Cut into 3-inch squares. Place on ungreased cookie sheet.

Place 1 teaspoon preserves in center of each square. Fold two opposite corners of each square into center; pinch edges together to seal. Bake in preheated hot oven (400 degrees) about 10 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet. Serve hot. If desired, drizzle with thin confectioners' sugar frosting.

Kosher Corned Beef Identified

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q — How is kosher corned beef different from the other kind in the market and how can I be sure I'm getting it?

A — Kosher corned beef is made only from the brisket of beef. It bears the U.S. Department of Agriculture inspection seal and also is tagged with a plumba or metal seal that is put through the meat. This tag bears the name of the manufacturer and the name of the rabbi who supervised the processing and certifies that it is kosher. It is cured in a brine solution of salt, spices and water for as long as 21 or 22 days.

Q — My doctor says I should eat more foods with iron in them. What ones are the best sources of iron?

A — Your best bet is to stick to a relatively high-protein diet, using meats of all kinds. The best sources of iron besides meats are egg yolk, liver, dried fruits, leafy green vegetables and enriched whole-grain cereals.

Meals A-Go-Go

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sandwich fillings that travel well without refrigeration are those which lack mayonnaise. The American Institute of Baking suggests substituting piccalilli and mustard for mayonnaise in egg salad, and apple sauce for mayonnaise in salmon salad made with flaked, canned salmon and chopped celery.

Cream cheese mixed with dried beef also is suggested, and sliced nuts and melted butter or margarine with apple butter. If you want lettuce with moist fillings, wrap the lettuce separately until meal time.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Weekend shoppers will find abundant supplies of seasonal fruits and vegetables with plentiful quantities of poultry and selected meats at their food centers.

Good supplies of meats are on hand. In the beef section, meats are in good supply. In the pork section, chops, roasts, and hams are plentiful. Broiler-fryers and turkeys continue to be in abundant supply and at good prices.

A wide selection of fruits and vegetables continues this week. Green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, eggplant, lettuce, radishes, and spinach are in ample supply. Also plentiful are squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, and watercress in some areas.

At the fish counters, shoppers should find good supplies of fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna.

Yam flakes can be made into a fancy vegetable dish by adding spices, chopped prunes or apricots after reconstituting the yams as label directs.

Seafaring Recipe for Chicken

CHICKEN REMBRANDT paints a perfect picture for any occasion.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
High life on the high seas—that's Chicken Rembrandt. Aboard the luxurious liner Queen Elizabeth, homeward bound from Europe, the ship's chef gave his recipe — in his mysterious Cunard chef's measurements. But later we had them translated.
CUNARD'S SUPREME OF

CHICKEN REMBRANDT
3 whole chicken breasts
1½ cups finely diced green peppers
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sliced scallions
½ pound mushrooms, sliced
¼ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt, divided
1 teaspoon pepper, divided
½ cup water
2 cups heavy cream

¼ cup dry sherry
1½ teaspoons paprika
¼ pound cooked ham, diced
2 hard-cooked egg yolks, chopped
6 slices toast
Have chicken breasts halved and boned at market. Remove skin. Cook green peppers in butter or margarine until tender, but firm; remove from pan. Cook scallions and mushrooms

Food Page

58TH YEAR THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1965 7

in butter remaining in pan about 3 minutes; remove. Combine flour, 1 teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Dust chicken breasts with flour mixture; brown lightly in same pan, adding another tablespoon of butter if necessary. Add water; cover; cook over low heat, turning once, about 35 minutes, or until chicken is done. Remove from pan; keep warm. Return scallions and mushrooms to pan; stir in cream, sherry, paprika, remaining salt and remaining pepper. Stir constantly until sauce thickens.

Stir in half the green pepper, half the ham and some of the egg yolk. Arrange chicken breasts on toast; spoon sauce over and around chicken. Garnish with remaining green pepper, ham and egg yolk.

WORK UNDERWAY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Workmen have begun clearing the ground at the grave of President John F. Kennedy for construction of a $14 million permanent monument.

The clearing work got under way last month. Once it is completed, construction of a terminal wall, an elliptical overlook and a circular walkway 210 feet in diameter will begin.

The grave in Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac from Washington has been visited by about 10 million persons so far. Visitors will continue to be allowed at the site throughout the 14-month construction period, had no birthday.

TO RAISE TAXES

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union, angry over a state tax levied on Russian newsmen in New York, announced Tuesday it will raise the taxes of all American correspondents in Moscow.

The increase will be retroactive to Sept. 1, Soviet officials told the U.S. Embassy. The amount of the new tax and the exact form it will take were not known.

Most American correspondents here are already in the top Soviet income tax bracket and pay the maximum 13.5 per cent.

Numerous Navajos

The 30,000 Navajo Indians living in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah today outnumber their ancestors, who were found by the Spaniards who explored the region four centuries ago.

Chicago Archdiocese Offers $3-Million Damage Payment

CHICAGO (UPI)—One crisp sunny afternoon seven years ago, classes at the Roman Catholic Our Lady of the Angels School were about to let out for the day when a nun smelled smoke on the second floor.

Within minutes a roaring fire with suffocating black smoke swept the school. Trapped children died from the intense heat, in leaps from windows or from asphyxiation at their tiny desks.

The final death toll was 92 children and three nuns. It spurred a rash of damage suit claims against the church.

Wednesday, after a complicated legal arrangement, the Catholic archdiocese offered to pay $3 million to the families of the children who died and for 76 others who were seriously injured.

Archbishop John Patrick Cody said the money would have to be borrowed from banks, but parishes would not be asked to contribute.

Although claims from the fire totaling $9 million have been filed against the archdiocese, the church's offer is intended to cover even those 30 families who said they wanted no settlement.

All the medical bills of the injured have already been paid, either by Catholic charities or a special Our Lady of Angels fund of $500,000.

Three specially appointed judges, therefore, will have to consider the pain, suffering and disability of the injured children in apportioning the money. Fifteen children are still being treated for fire injuries, according to church attorney Cornelius J. Harrington.

The amount of the death settlement offered was undisclosed but Illinois law limits the figure to a maximum of $30,000. Harrington said in each case the sum was identical.

"We feel these are very good offers and that they will be accepted," he added.

Help arrived, and seven officers eventually disconnected the alarm. At this point Leonard Palmer arrived and apologized. He parked illegally, he said, while giving a lecture at a police exhibit on auto alarm systems similar to the one installed in his car.

ALARMING SITUATION LONDON (UPI)—A siren wailed, a horn blasted repeatedly and lights flashed on and off as a baffled policeman opened the door of an illegally parked car he was about to impound.

Help arrived, and seven officers eventually disconnected the alarm. At this point Leonard Palmer arrived and apologized. He parked illegally, he said, while giving a lecture at a police exhibit on auto alarm systems similar to the one installed in his car.

FULL FAMILY KIRKBY, England (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Brooks, wife of a truck driver, gave birth to twins Wednesday. That makes 12 children born to the couple in the past eight years.

"This may or may not be a record," a spokesman of the British Medical Association said "but Mrs. Brooks is certainly one woman in many millions."

COOL CUSTOMER DENVER (UPI)—Jim Wade sat quietly at a corner table and ate his steak while firemen rushed through the restaurant to combat a kitchen grease fire.

"I couldn't help the firemen," he explained. "And I didn't want to let the lunch go to waste."

Foreign News Commentary

By ALBERTO SCHAZIN United Press International LIMA, Peru (UPI)—Communists broadcasts from Moscow and Cuba can be heard nightly in Peru, telling of the "victorious" rebellion by guerrillas in the Peruvian jungles and mountains.

The broadcasts are made in the Quechua Indian language as well as in Spanish. They glorify the guerrilla cause of liberation, incite others to join the movement.

In reality, however, the guerrilla terrorism in Peru's backlands has all but ended in defeat.

There have been no major clashes between the guerrillas and government forces since Aug. 12.

Insurgents Split The combined action of the army, air force and state police apparently has split the insurgent forces into two groups. Military spokesmen said one of the groups is in the Jutunhuasi Mountain area 240 miles east of Lima, the other near Satipo on the edge of the Amazon jungle 300 miles to the east.

The military has estimated total guerrilla strength at about 200 men, armed with submachineguns, rifles and homemade hand grenades.

Nevertheless, a state of siege that was imposed last July 4 continues in effect. And army and police patrols remain in the sparsely settled areas where the guerrilla terrorism began June 7.

But the unrest caused by the backlands fighting, plus a few terrorist bomb attacks in Lima itself, has neither endangered the moderate leftist government of President Fernando Belaunde Terry nor hampered Peru's blossoming economy.

Reds Arrested "The terrorism began with a guerrilla attack on a lead mine, where explosives were stolen. Later four farms homes were attacked and robbed of food, then a police patrol was ambushed, all the activity occurred in the Jutunhuasi area east of Lima.

On June 12, Belaunde sent in army troops to clean out the guerrillas. The troops received support from the air force, which bombed areas where the guerrillas were thought to be concentrated.

In eight direct clashes, government troops and police patrols have killed 40 guerrillas and lost 19 of their own—a kill ratio of 2-to-1.

After two bombs exploded in Lima and a group of terrorists robbed a bank and gambling agency of $24,000, Belaunde ordered all known or suspected Communists in the capital arrested.

Police rounded up 200, detained 150. Among those detained were student leaders, teachers, attorneys and an ex-communicated Catholic priest as well as laborers.

The arrests brought an end to the terrorist attacks in Lima. The guerrillas have been identified as members of the leftist revolutionary movement, a Trotskyite group led by attorney Luis de la Puente Uceda. The attorney has been wanted by police for two years for the murder of a political rival, who was shot in the presence of hundreds of witnesses in a churchyard in Trujillo.

Foreign Aid Bill Goes to Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $3.28 billion appropriations bill for the foreign aid program headed for the Senate today carrying a ban on U.S. assistance to nations shipping strategic goods to Communist North Viet Nam.

The House Wednesday night approved the money bill on a 239-143 vote after shouting down Republican efforts to deny further U.S. aid to India and Pakistan.

Texas' we-member congressional delegation had a one-vote majority supporting the $3.28 billion foreign aid appropriations bill. It passed the House, 239-143.

Voting in favor of the measure were Reps. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, Jack Brooks of Beaumont, Earle Cabell of Dallas, Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio, George Mahon of Lubbock, Wright Patman of Texas, J. J. (Jake) Pickle of Austin, Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, Clark Thompson of Galveston, Jim Wright of Fort Worth and John Young of Corpus Christi.

Opposing it were Reps. Omar Burleson of Anson, Bob Casey of Houston, John Dowdy of Athens, O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, Joe Pool of Dallas, Ray Roberts of McKinney, Walter Rogers of Pampa, Olin Teague of College Station and Richard White of El Paso.

Reps. W. R. Poage of Waco, and Albert Thomas of Houston did not vote. Rep. Eligio (Kika) de la Garza of Mission was paired against the bill.

As approved by the House, the measure provides all but $75 million President Johnson asked for another year of foreign aid. The total included $2.1 billion for economic aid and $1.1 billion for military aid to a score of foreign nations.

Shortly after the House acted, President Johnson said the speedy action "reflects a welcome and a healthy understanding between the executive and legislative branches on this important program at a critical moment in history." He praised their work in a White House statement.

It was the President's supporters who won approval of the amendment—which would cut off U.S. aid to countries shipping goods to Hanoi. The amendment, approved by voice vote, would also deny aid to nations shipping non-strategic items to North Viet Nam unless the President made a finding that such withholding would be contrary to U.S. interests.

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich., said 45 per cent of all Hanoi imports are carried in free world ships. He did not name the countries involved in the trade that are recipients of U.S. aid.

Local Bar Hit By Burglars Approximately $42 worth of beer and $6 in cash was reported missing yesterday following a burglary of Ott's 88 Bar, 824 S. Hobart.

Police said the thieves broke into the building sometime late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning by breaking through a rear door.

The cash was taken from a cigarette vending machine.

Willie Leaves Police Force Carson Willis, a member of the Pampa Police Department for about three weeks, submitted his resignation to Police Chief Jim Conner today.

Willie said in his letter of resignation that he was returning to the farming business with his father.

Conner said the department is now two men short.

A large group of senior citizens were present last Thursday to help mark Senior Citizens' Center's ninth anniversary. Those present not only enjoyed an afternoon playing games but also enjoyed a brief program at which Mrs. Chandler read a poem she had written about the first house built in Pampa.

Honored at the anniversary party were nine charter members present and those having birthdays in September. The charter members present, who received a white rose, were Mmes. Iva Ward, Lillian Brunelle, H. M. Norris, Elma Bailey, Katie Vincent, Nettie Cornelson, Barbara Roop, Mollie Hethcock and Stella Wagner. September birthday honorees attending were Mmes. R. H. Dilley, Ora Lee Williams, Josephine Wright, Lida Ramsey, Libby Trimble and Mr. Lewis Henderson. The eldest woman and man present were also recognized. They were H. C. Wilkie, 92, and Mrs. Mary Johnston, 89. Mrs. Johnston presented several numbers on the French harp for the group while Fred Cullum "tripped the light fantastic" in the aisles.

Guests welcomed at Thursday's meeting were Mrs. Jess Cunningham, A. B. Reser, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lawrence, Mrs. T. F. Smalley and Mrs. George Walsted.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dilly and Center members now residing in Canadian's Edward Abraham Memorial home, attended Thursday's meeting. The group was driven to Pampa by Eugene Thompson, administrator of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Evans visited last week in Sentinel, Okla., and Oklahoma City, Okla. The couple visited in the homes of Mr. Evans' brothers, Otis and Ase Evans.

Re: No Strength In Numbers

(This is one of a series of memos from the editor of Valley Freedom Newspapers to members of the news staff. Because they deal with matters of concern to our readers, it occurred to us you might be interested in reading over the editor's shoulder, so to speak. Your comments, as always, are invited.)

Dear Staff Members:

And then there is the one about the one-newspaper town. The monopoly, if you will.

Horrors, say the "social scientists." Whatever is the world coming to? How can you expect to get both sides of the story in a one-newspaper town?

"Another newspaper," when there isn't another newspaper, is the answer to just about everything.

Why aren't there more newspapers, then? Strangely enough, because people don't really want them. If there were market enough for more papers, you couldn't keep them out. There isn't any license required; no permit; no ticket from the government. All you need is the yen and a bankroll, and surely these are easy enough to acquire these days.

Why, then, all these one-newspaper towns? Because advertisers don't want a number of ineffective newspapers splitting up the readership of an area and increasing advertising costs. Because readers themselves don't want newspapers which are operating on margins so thin they cannot provide good coverage for the reader and modern tools for their employes.

And because of another thing. Because the unions have pushed the costs of operating newspapers so high, literally hundreds of them have gone out of business, some of them in our largest cities.

- Chicago has only two newspapers.
- Los Angeles has two.
- Dallas, two.

The larger the city, the fewer newspapers per capita.

The obligation of any newspaper, large or small, competitive or otherwise, is to print the truth as it can ascertain the truth; encourage its own enlightenment. An honest paper will do that, competitive or not; a dishonest one won't, no matter how many others are in the field.

But, as a matter of fact, no newspaper has a monopoly. Here in the Valley, at least 10 daily papers are circulated every day. They represent just about every shade of opinion and brand of news coverage. Twenty radio stations, two TV stations, a couple of FM stations, local magazines, weekly newspapers—all of these vie for advertising, for news audiences. Who, of whatever stripe and persuasion, can fail to find his heart's own darling in the potpourri?

Who would be first among the fans of this "other paper?" We'd wager they'd include those who had run out of credit with the existing paper. The king-makers in search of a house organ. The political adventurers. The publicity hounds. The ones with fanatical devotion of bizarre "causes". The one who always hankered to run a newspaper. The ones who will never like anybody or anything anyway. The reformers, the kooks.

They always flock to "another" anything—until they ruin it.

Cordially,
The Editor

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Everybody feels sorry for the poor service man who gets a "Dear John" letter. How about the fellows who bring it on themselves by not letting a girl know where she stands? I agree with some of the boys who don't want to get married while they are still in service, but how many of them keep putting it off even when they come home, saying first they want a car, a place to live, money in the bank and a lot of other things? A girl will be an old woman before he marries her with all the things he wants to get first.

I am the mother of a girl who is sitting home, moping around because her "boy friend" is overseas. If he had just let her announce their engagement before he left, I would say she had something to "wait" for. Before he left he "hinted" marriage, but that doesn't mean anything. She writes him every night and she's lucky if she hears from him once in two weeks. It would not surprise me if he brought home a foreign wife.

MOTHER'S MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: If your daughter wants to wait — that's her privilege. Don't belittle her loyalty. Mother, in some cases, it's all a service man has to come home to.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are having a dispute, and we've decided to ask you to settle it for us. My parents are coming to visit us soon and I say a good host and hostess give their guests the best sleeping quarters, even if it means giving up their own bed. My husband says that a host never gives up his own bed no matter what.

HAVING WORDS: DEAR HAVING: Your husband is wrong. It depends entirely on the guest. In this case, out of respect for age (and one's parents), the guests should rite the Number One accommodations.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law complains because my son goes fishing and plays golf every chance he gets. If I were not her mother-in-law, I would say: "If you made the environment more pleasant, your husband would not want to leave the house so much. When he comes home from work tired, he doesn't want to hear complaints about the kids; he doesn't want to see dirty dishes, unmade beds, toys strewn all over, soiled diapers stacked in the bathroom; he doesn't want to see you untidy with a 'pity me' expression on your face; he does not want to be asked to do an errand as soon as he sets foot in the house; nor does he want to be asked what he wants for supper — he'd like to smell something appetizing cooking; he'd like for the kids to be in bed early so you and he can have some time alone. Then they'd be up earlier in the morning and so would you, and you'd get more done." Abby, would I be too hard on her by saying those things? Of course, these words will remain unspoken.

MOTHER-IN-LAW: DEAR MOTHER-IN-LAW: Good advice for those who need it — and many do. Yes, let these words remain unspoken. But if your daughter-in-law reads my column, they may not go unread.

DEAR ABBY: As a fellow newspaper gal (just a reporter)

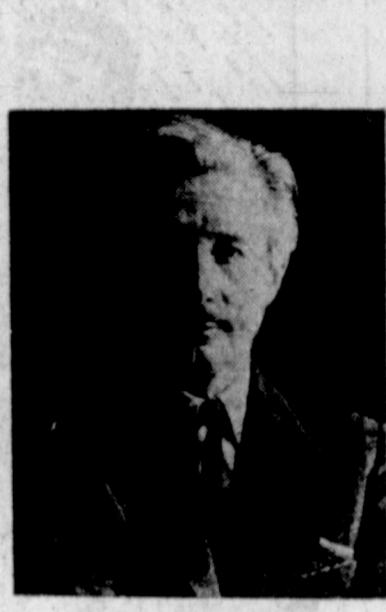

I want to say thanks for the plug you gave A.A. It is wonderful to know that you recognize the difference between people who can fake a few drinks and stop and those who can't. It's discouraging to have people look at you as though you have two heads when they learn that you are a member of Alcoholics Anonymous. People like you help to remove that misconception. Thanks, too, for pointing out that A.A. has no payroll. The only "pay" we get is the privilege of relieving a lot of human suffering. But if it weren't for somebody helping us, we wouldn't be able to help anyone else. Most A.A. members do more in the course of a year for nothing than a lot of people

Harvesters End Drills for Opener

Coach Eural Ramsey sent his squad through a light workout today, the end of drills in preparation for Friday's opener against Perryton.

NOTRE DAME TOO

Word Is Out On Michigan

By ED SAINSBURY
CHICAGO (UPI) — The word is out to watch Michigan in Midwest football this year, but it would be wise to keep an eye on Iowa, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Purdue, too.

Hogs Unsure Of Quarterback

By United Press International
Southwest Conference sports writers had been watching quiz shows. So had Arkansas football coach Frank Broyles, and as head of the Arkansas Razorbacks he hedged when they asked him would the real quarterback come forth.

"When I know, you'll know," he told them.

Wednesday he looked at Ronny South, Jon Britten and Harry Jones in the last of two-day workouts for the Porkers and made his choice. Britten stood up.

"Tough Choice"

"It was a real tough choice to make. All three have lots of ability," Broyles said of the trio who have the dubious honor of trying to replace Fred Marshall, who piloted the Razorbacks to an undefeated season and a Cotton Bowl victory last year.

Broyles said he chose Britten on the basis of recent go-go showings. South will back up Britten, with Jones moving to one of the other backfield slots.

The seven other conference schools scrimmaged Wednesday, with the happiest news coming from Austin, where Marvin Kristynik reported for the first time in a week and led the Texas Longhorns Orange regulars to a 32-0 victory over the White reserves.

The only serious injury of the day was in Waco, where Baylor coach John Bridgers said senior end Ramsey Muniz would be out for the season because of a knee injury. Doctors will operate today.

Back in Action
Southern Methodist coach Hayden Fry put senior back Mike Tabor into action Wednesday for the first time since he broke an ankle last May on a skateboard and got pleasant results. Tabor got off an 16-yard gain in his only carry.

McLemore Signs
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — McCoy McLemore, a 6-foot-7 former Drake star who was San Francisco's top rookie last season, signed his 1965-66 contract with the Warriors Wednesday.

Wednesday night a crowd of fans showed the Harvesters there would be a lot of home folk rooting for 'em against the Rangers.

"Practice time sure did end quick," said Ramsey, adding, "Now we'll just have to wait and see what we can do."

If we can improve every game we might just do all right," the coach said.

At Perryton the Rangers also went through a brief workout and coach Ray Hopkins was pleased with the way his squad had looked through some three weeks of practice.

"Injuries have slowed us down some but we hope to make a good showing," Hopkins said.

The Rangers did lose their starting right halfback, Al Ruprecht because of a leg injury. Doctors advised the 152-pound junior speedster to stay out of football for at least a year.

Starting Ranger quarterback Chris Byerley was slowed early because of a severe ankle burn but is back in full swing.

Luckily the Harvesters have not been bitten hard by the injury bug.

Ramsey named a tentative starting lineup today which includes Teddy Bird and Billy Stokes at the end positions; Woody Leonard and Billy Quarles at tackles; Don Patterson and Larry Eckroat at guards; Jerry Wright at center; Roy Harper at quarterback; Lewis Meers and L. D. Rowden at halfbacks and Ted Heiskell at fullback.

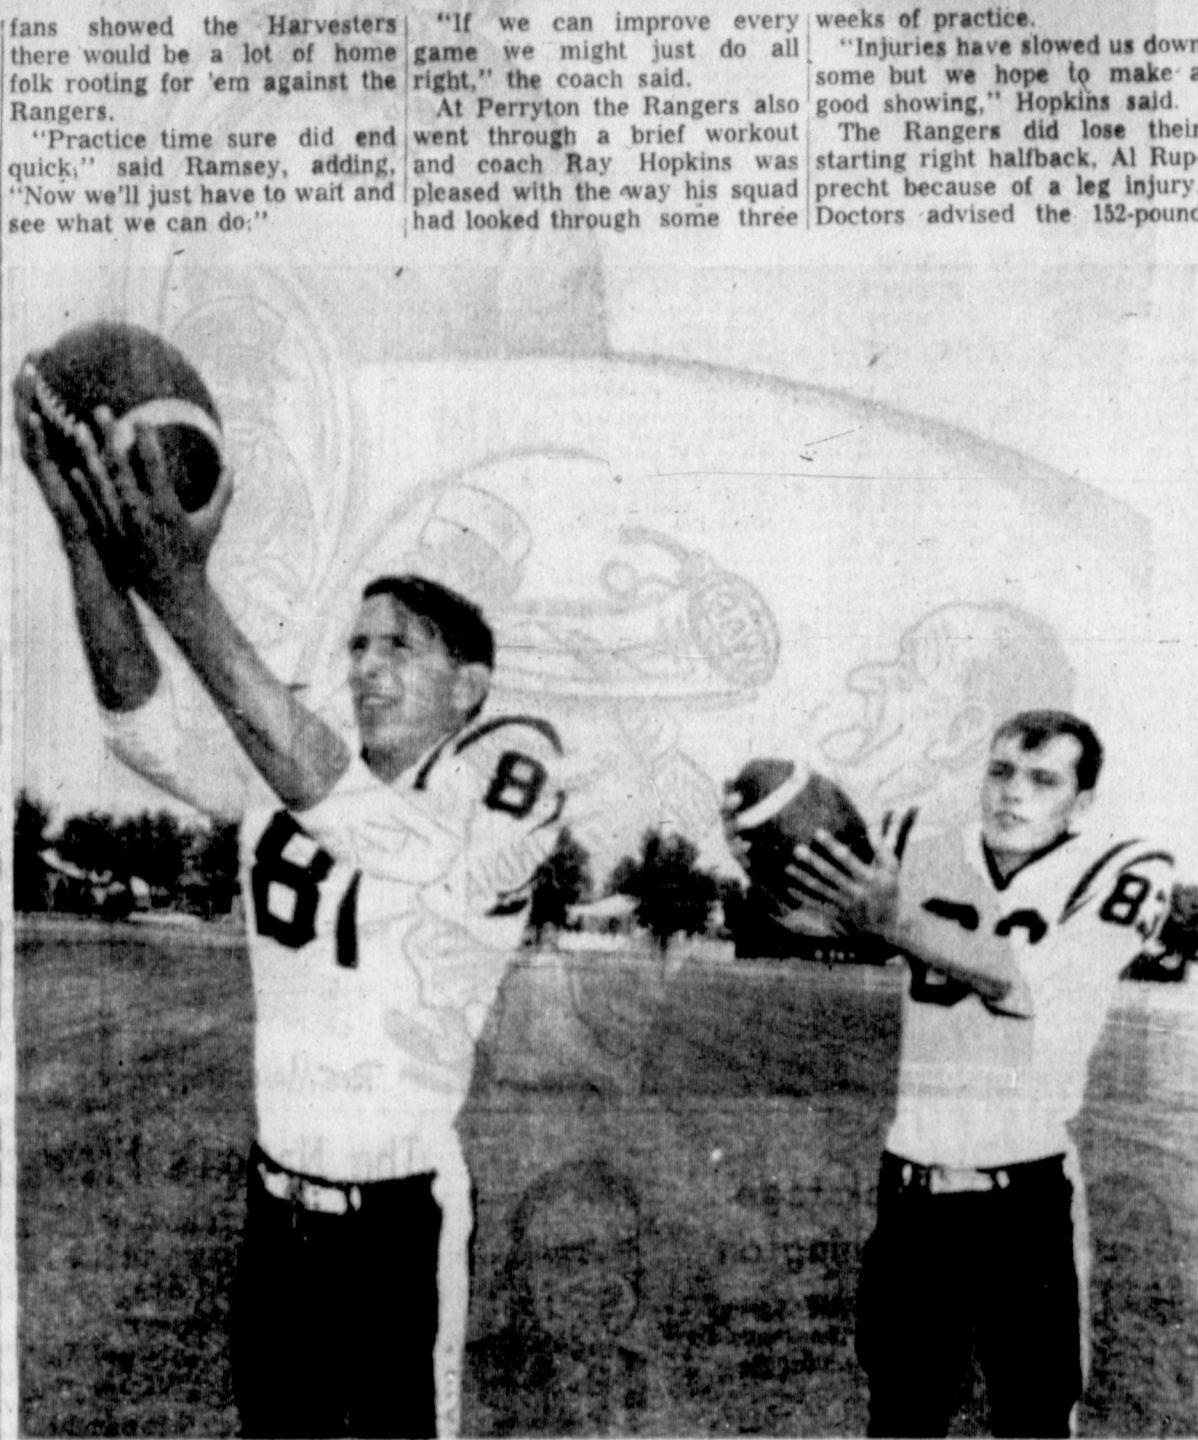

Ramsey will have four changes on the defensive unit with Glen Lewis at defensive end for Quarles; Jimmie Moore at defensive cornerback for Meers, Johnny Lofton at a line-backer spot for Heiskell and James Matney at middle line-backer for Rowden.

The starting Harvester eleven will be made up of eight seniors and two juniors. Only Rowden and Heiskell are not seniors.

On the defensive side Lewis and Matney are juniors while Moore and Lofton are both seniors.

In the line the Harvesters will have quite a weight advantage on the Rangers, averaging 186 pounds per man while the Green and Gold backfield averages to 174 pounds per man.

Quarles 240-pounds represent the biggest Harvester in the line and Stokes 141 pounds the lightest. Heiskell is the heaviest back and Meers at 163 the lightest.

RECEIVING END — On the receiving end of passes this year will be Teddy Bird, 81, 159-pound senior end and James Matney, 170-pound junior end. Matney will also play defensive line backer.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Willie is Just Wonderful

By United Press International
The Willie Mays Agency, Inc., may be a little late opening for business this fall.

You guessed it. The boss plans to be at the World Series — and not in a box seat.

Wondrous Willie belted his 44th and 45th home runs Wednesday and chased five runs across the plate pacing the San Francisco Giants to a 12-3 romp over the Houston Astros and boosting the Giants' National League lead to 1 1/2 game over Los Angeles and Cincinnati.

The Reds deadlocked the idle Dodgers for second place in the wild pennant scramble by thumping New York 11-2. Philadelphia dropped Milwaukee two games off the pace by trimming the Braves 6-2 and Pittsburgh tripped St. Louis 2-1.

ND Needs QB
Notre Dame must find a quarterback and Coach Ara Parseghian despairs at the prospect, but he has done well in the past with such "rookie" signal callers as Dick Thornton, Tom Myers and John Hurarte, and the luck of the Irish might bring about another classy production.

Parseghian has excellent backs in Niek Eddy, Bill Wolski, Larry Conjar and sophomore Paul May plus tremendous strength up front in veterans Don Gmitter, Phil Sheridan, Alan Page, Tom Regner, Kevin Hardy, Dick Arrington, Jim Lynch and Pete Duranko.

Minnesota also received some help from the Detroit Tigers, who halted the surging Baltimore Orioles' eight-game winning streak with a 5-0 white washing in the second game of a doubleheader after the Orioles had taken the opener 2-0. Boston clipped Cleveland 5-3 in 10 innings and California outlasted Kansas City 5-3 in 13 innings.

Detroit's Dave Wickersham hurled a three-hitter and Don Wert slapped a three run homer to halt Baltimore's streak. The Orioles captured the opener on Bob Johnson's two-run homer in the ninth inning that broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Steve Barber of the Orioles and Hank Aguirre. Barber (13-9) allowed five hits and Aguirre (13-10) yielded only four.

A 10th inning home run by Tony Horton with Tony Conjar on base carried the Red Sox to victory. Dick Radatz won in relief of Dennis Bennett although Radatz allowed two of the three Cleveland runs, on Fred Whitfield's 20th home run in the eighth.

Campy Campaneris played all nine positions for the A's including pitcher where he gave up the tying run on a couple of hits and two walks. The Angels scored the winning run in the 13th when losing pitcher John O'Donoghue threw late to sec-

Clay Agrees To Meet Patterson

CHESTER, Pa. (UPI) — Cassius Clay, the heavyweight champion of the world, will defend his title against Floyd Patterson, who has not yet agreed to terms, in late November at Las Vegas or Houston's domed stadium, a spokesman for Intercontinental Promotions said Wednesday.

The spokesman said that the bout was practically all set. He said the only thing holding up a final announcement was former champion Patterson's agreeing to terms.

Intercontinental planned to stage the World Boxing Association heavyweight title fight on the same card, with WBA champion Ernie Terrell meeting Canadian George Chuvalo. But those plans fell through when it was learned that Chuvalo had signed to fight Terrell in Toronto in late October or early November.

Blind Golfers Tee Off Today

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Fifteen of North America's top blind golfers open play today in the United States Blind Golf Tournament.

The 1963 title went to Claude Pattemore of Toronto, considered defending champion because the tournament was not held last year.

Joe Lazaro of Waltham, Mass., 1962 champion, also was in the field.

A local favorite was Charlie Boswell of Birmingham, Ala., president of the National Association of Blind Golfers.

He has taken the national title 13 times and the international crown seven times.

The tournament is at Montgomery Country Club, a par-72 course which measures 6,320 but plays, say some, "like 6,300."

Keane Signs New Yankee Pact; Houk Sights Injuries

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — They didn't exactly pop open the champagne for Johnny Keane.

Nor did they tell him he'd better make a much stronger showing next year or else, but Johnny Keane is a perceptive individual and there are times when you don't have to write everything out for him.

Wednesday was one of those times.

Oh, the Yankees were completely big league about it. Vice President and General Manager Ralph Houk said it wasn't Keane's fault the club has had so many injuries and was wobbling aimlessly along in sixth place.

They even gave Keane the same $50,000 next year that they're paying him this year, but no one had the nerve to ask Houk what the Yankees would do about Keane if they don't move up, way up, next season.

Keane, being the sensitive type of man he is, knows the answer to that one and it's the same one that follows three strikes — he's out.

To his credit, Keane never used the Yankees' crippling injuries as any kind of alibi Wednesday.

"I blame myself for some of it," he said later, referring to the Yankees' worst season in 49 years. "I just don't know what more I could have done that I didn't do."

Keane never tried to deny that the Yankee players have had a let-down feeling for some time now.

A Negro's Views of Riots

How one Negro feels about the recent Los Angeles riots by some members of his race was told in a letter published in the Junction City, Kan., Daily Union recently.

Because we think this is far more representative of the thinking of the many fine Negro people we know than of some others who choose to excuse the irresponsible behavior of a minority of the people, we are reprinting the letter of Julius Walker, a soldier stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., the letter follows:

I am a Negro soldier stationed at Fort Riley and in reading your newspaper account of the disgraceful acts in Los Angeles, California, I'd like to say on behalf of all the good Negroes in Los Angeles and the rest of the world:

SHAME ON MY PEOPLE
Negroes of Los Angeles—Take inventory of yourselves and what you are doing to the black man's fight for true citizenship. Has the horrible nights of 12, 13, 14 and 15th of August 1965, helped our people in Selma, Ala., Montgomery, Ala., Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia and other areas where a true prejudice exists?

On the above mentioned days you became a helping hand to the KKK, the principles of Governor Wallace and Chief Bull Whip.

The act of the arresting officer that sparked this crime wave could have been done wrong but did Resistol Hats Store have anything to do with it? Did Aleen-A Underwear or Allen's Stores do the injustice? Why the looting, the burning and destruction of your own neighbors' property? If the act of the officer was an injustice, then the neighbors should have gone through due process of law to be corrected. This officer was doing a job as he seen it to be done. Right or wrong he was performing his duties. You, the people of that neighborhood should have helped him if necessary. This tells the thinking person on both sides of the fence that young hoodlums are having a field day at a price that the Black man should not have to pay, but he will.

Are the real citizens of Los Angeles going to permit a selfish few to destroy what millions of people are trying to build. In building there is always setbacks, but not so costly as our act during this period. I say our act, and I personally am not in or near California, but I will pay and so will many other Negroes pay for what you did and what you do. Both black and white who are trying to establish good will among the races by setting examples have been hampered to no end by this foolish, selfish, disregard for law and order.

California, Los Angeles in particular, has always been envied by other communities for their lack of racial problems. Yes there is de facto segregation in California, discrimination and every other type of racial friction, but it is at a minimum, and the law is with the persons which is right regardless to race. The law is with you if you are right.

In reading a newspaper recently an elder citizen stated that the young Negroes are not going to take anything. Well, to him I say the young people are taking what you and I should have—a right to work at a fair wage, to become educated properly, to be accepted in any and all neighborhoods regardless to our race. The right to say our prayers at night and go to sleep without fear of waking up with a cross burning in our front yard or our churches burning. Yes, this is just a few things our young people are taking from us.

Mister you are condoning these actions and—or making excuses when you should be condemning the breaking of the law. You say that we as Negroes have suffered too much and too long, with this I wholeheartedly agree, but during the times of these hardships we had few avenues open to us to fight them. Thank God today we have many—other than mob violence. This is the hooded way of doing things and they (KKK) are still jumping for joy saying I told you so, that's what you get for giving the Nigger equal rights when he ain't ready for it. Old timers can hear their cries. These young people and some old seem to feel that because our forefathers suffered that the world owes us a living—yes it does, but we owe the world the right to earn this living and Mister you don't and can't take away other people's rights trying to obtain your rights or you will have another 12, 13, 14 and 15th of August 1965. I say: Citizens stick by the law, back the law and when the law is wrong—change the law by ballot and not bullets.

Mister Editor: I write this in hopes of your printing the true feeling of a soldier who is always aware that in order for my children not to suffer the same conditions of my lifetime I try to live a good example as a good soldier and a good citizen. Thank you for your time and consideration.
Yours truly,
JULIUS WALKER

To the Stars Through Difficulty

Early in the space age, the technicians and scientists fooling around with rockets on a remote sandbar in Florida, then known as Cape Canaveral, rediscovered an ancient law of human endeavor which they dubbed Murphy's Law:

If anything can go wrong, it will.
The truth of the law was given its most dismal proof when the first Vanguard rocket ingloriously blew up on the pad way back in December 1957.

The law was operating when John Glenn made this country's first manned orbital flight, when a faulty signal indicating something was wrong with his Mercury capsule's heat shield gave a lot of people the scare of their lives.

And the law was in force all through the just-completed Gemini V saga, from a balky fuel cell at the beginning to the jamming of some small rocket thrusters near the end, and everything else between.

Fortunately, Murphy's Law has a corollary: Things will go wrong—unless men do their damndest to see that they don't.

Troubles can't be eliminated entirely, but they can be kept to a minimum and they can be overcome. That's what makes the Gemini venture a major space triumph—not that a new endurance record was set but that the flight went its full course (all but one orbit) and achieved its major objectives in spite of unforeseen problems that developed.

The Romans had an appropriate motto for this long before Murphy:

"Ad astra per ardua." To the stars through difficulties.
The stars are that much nearer, thanks to Gemini V, the men who conceived and built her, the men who flew her and the men who watched over her from the ground, through all the difficulties.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "Is the general belief true that universal literacy is an absolute good?"

ANSWER: That question is a very important question because most people believe it is true. It is especially interesting because having everyone able to read does not necessarily improve the well being of mankind. It depends upon the purpose for which they read. If they read to excite their emotions, and escape life rather than to better understand the laws of the universe, it cannot be an absolute good. And judging from the fact that most people think that most people can read, we should judge the fruits of this universal "literacy."

We know of no one who has discussed the subject more carefully and more thoroughly than Albert J. Nock in his "Theory of Education in the United States," and his "Memoirs of a Superfluous Man," published by Harper and Brothers.

In the latter book, Nock had this observation to make about the difference between reading and literacy.

He said: "Reading implies a use of the reflective faculty, and very few have that faculty developed much beyond the anthropoid stage, let alone possessing it at a stage of development which makes reading practicable."

He continued, "As I said, the fact that few literate persons can read is easily determinable by experiment. What first put me on track of it was a remark by one of my old professors. He said that there were people so incompetent, so given to reading with their eyes and their emotions instead of with their brains, that they would accuse the Psalmist of atheism because he had written, 'the fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.' The remark stuck by me, and I remember wondering at the time whether the trouble might be that such people hardly had the brains to read with. It seemed possible. At nearly the same time I came across the observation of Bishop Butler, who was for a few years a contemporary of Mr. Jefferson. . . the observation that most people were handier at passing things through their minds than they were at thinking about them; and therefore, considering the kind of thing they read, very little of their time was more idly spent than the time spent in reading. Again I wondered whether this could mainly be accounted for on the grounds of sheer inability to do otherwise. The curiosity excited by these two frequent observations has caused me to keep a weather eye out on the reading-habits of my fellow-beings ever since, and they have testified with monotonous regularity to the fact that while the ability to read must presuppose literacy, literacy is no guarantee whatever of the ability to read, nor even would it suggest that ability to an ordinarily observant mind. One might suppose that so simple and easily demonstrable a fact as this would long ago have attracted attention and caused comment; but it seems not to have done so."

"The ex-president of one of our colleges tells me that for a dozen years he carried on experiments in the value of literacy, using freshmen as his guinea pigs: that is to say, he experimented on persons who are not only literate, but who had gone so far as to pass their entrance examinations. Selecting a paragraph of very simple but non-sensational prose, he asked his students, taking them one by one, to read it carefully; then to read it aloud to him; then to write down the gist of it in their own words. Hardly any one could do it; hardly any one was able to bring anything like an adequate power of reflective thought to bear upon the substance of a simple paragraph. In other words, they could not read."

Nock goes on at great length to show how Gresham's law applies to literature just as it applies to money—That the whole course of literature has been changed by more universal literacy.

And if we judge by the condition that people are in today, morally, spiritually, and intellectually—with crime increasing and wars all over the world in which the United States is participating—we have strong evidence that universal literacy is not an absolute good.

Washington—The foreign aid agency, which has poured more than $100 billion into foreign countries in the past 20 years, is now spending hundreds of thousands of dollars trying to find out what it's doing, how and why.

Private research firms have been retained to study and report on the agency's far-flung organizational structure, myriad functions of its army and executives and lesser officials, and various other details of its vast bureaucratic empire.

Representative Vernon Thomson, R-Wis., member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, who has been digging into these remarkable backstage research projects, has uncovered two new ones.

Both awarded to Booz, Allen & Hamilton, Inc., they are a $54,050 "Management Survey of AID" Organizational and Administrative Arrangements," and a $70,945 study of AID's "Management Reporting System." The first has been completed, the other is still in progress.

Thomson's latest disclosure is of particular moment as the House today begins consideration of President Johnson's multi-billion dollar foreign aid budget. Originally, he asked for $3.38 billion, but this has been cut to $3.258 billion.

Bipartisan foes of large-scale foreign aid spending will try to slash this further. In this, they will have the active support of Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of the foreign aid budget, who has long fought to whittle such budgets to the bone.

In the forefront of this fight Rep. Thomson will lay before the House a comprehensive account of AID's considerable expenditures for research projects which he caustically characterizes as "unwarranted waste and boondoggling."

As a graphic illustration of that he will cite a $281,000 project given the American Institute of Research, Washington, D. C., that produced the following baffling gem:

"Feasible means for measuring the degree to which a prospective incumbent possesses some of the requisite characteristics may not be currently available to AID. However, the inability to measure the characteristics within the constraints that now bind the agency should not be confused with the issue of whether or not a characteristic is essential to do a job effectively. If the characteristic is needed, and AID chooses and places a candidate lacking it in the appropriate degree, the aspects of the job in which the characteristic is required cannot be performed effectively."

MORE OF SAME—From the recently uncovered $54,050 "Management Survey of Organizational and Administrative Arrangements," Thomson, former Governor of Wisconsin, will submit to the House more exam-les of such scintillating findings. He will also point out that they reveal numerous serious AID shortcomings, flaws and defects. Illustrative are the following:

"The central personnel office has not been as effective as desirable in assuming a strong leadership role because of internal staffing and structural problems. . . Frequent changes in agency leadership, revisions of organizational structure and operating philosophy, and emphasis upon immediate operation needs have all been impediments to the development of a well balanced and comprehensive personnel program suited to AID's needs."

"AID has not fully exercised its broad discretionary powers in coping with the situation of unnecessary or marginal employees. Until recently, there was no tradition in AID of the tough exercise of evaluative judgment as a basis for personnel actions."

"It has often been said that AID has an inadequate memory. Evaluation reports on projects in process or completed are scarce, and what has been done tends to go into the files and disappear. Moreover, files become incomplete and their contents lost over the years. . . . AID has not yet developed a systematic process to appraise the consequences and results of its program operation and to exploit the rich accumulated experience of the agency."

"There is at the present time no organization unit in AID specifically vested with the responsibility for establishing and maintaining a comprehensive management reporting system consciously oriented to the Administrator's need."

"There needs to be a clearer designation of unified responsibility for coordinated overall program policy and program review below the level of the Administrator. . . . One of the principal consequences of this lack of a strong unifying influence at staff levels is that the several staff units in their separate and discreet workings do not make a significant impact as a coordinating force on the regions."

"The primary structural need of the agency is to clarify and strengthen overall program leadership responsibilities. . . . The Administrator requires further assurance that all essential elements of the agency's program process are receiving balanced and adequate attention."

"A very voluminous document intended to be AID's version of the Federal Procurement Regulations, was drafted and circulated. Its volume alone was enough to discourage the busy recipient from reading, let alone studying, it and preparing thoughtful comments."

"AID structure is overly segmented in staff and functional offices. Unified impact, in terms of a sustained and coordinated contribution to program and implementation processes, is lack-

Foreign Aid Agency Spending Thousands To Survey its Purpose

The Nation's Press

Cutting 'Big Brother' Government Down To Size (Glendale, Calif., Freedom Press)

Rep. Jack Edwards of Alabama protested a Labor Department ruling that Clarence Robinson, a 53-year-old redcap at Mobile's Municipal Airport, had to pay $1.25-an-hour minimum wage to two "associates" and $1,104.70 in back wages because they handled the baggage of passengers who crossed state lines.

Robinson, who says he makes only about $30 a week himself, figured the $1.25-an-hour payments would cost him about $126 a week—or $96 more than he makes. Besides, he said, he hadn't hired the other two redcaps—they just showed up from time to time to pick up extra money and weren't interested in either the minimum wage ordered by the Department or in the "back pay" allegedly owed them.

But the department's Wage and Hour Division nevertheless ordered Robinson to pay up or else—until Congressman Edwards got into the act.

"This is a victory for common sense over the ridiculous entanglements of an oppressive Washington bureaucracy," Edwards said. Robinson put it this way: "All I want to do is keep taking care of folk's luggage."

Some units have higher status than is warranted, while some functions are not adequately recognized. The structure tends to place an extraordinary burden of coordination on top leadership with respect to line and staff relationships."

FRUITFUL APPEAL—Representative Passman, at the final meeting of the Appropriations Committee that voted the $3.285 billion foreign aid budget, made an impassioned 35-minute plea for a steeper cut.

He proposed a slash to $3 billion, pointing out that more than $7.5 billion for various foreign assistance purposes has already been voted by Congress this year at the President's behest. Although Passman listed these immense expenditures in detail, his arguments fell on deaf ears.

Dolefully he told his colleagues, "I feel like a rooster who fooled around with the chickens next door and got his wings clipped. When he forgot and tried to fly over the fence, his neck was caught in the pickets and he near choked to death."

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

MEASURING FEDERAL SPENDING
The federal government does not have and never will have one cent of its own money to spend. All it spends must come out of the property of the American taxpayer.

That is the basic reason why federal spending is never constructive unless for a purpose which no man or group of men outside the government could possibly achieve. In the process of collection, bureaucratic juggling and spending of the tax money, some of its value is always lost. Often a substantial part is lost. Sometimes all of it is wasted.

This loss is a destructive process, which is why government spending when compared to private spending is not constructive.

It is vital that our people be educated not only in the source of what many still think of as "free federal money," but in the real cost of federally financed programs. When the cost is measured in billions of dollars, it means little or nothing to the ordinary American.

But he can visualize the taxes that are taken out of his own pocket, and out of the earnings of all his family, to provide the money for federal spending. He can easily imagine what he would have done with that money if he had been allowed to keep it.

Those who stand for fiscal responsibility should make a point of stating the cost of federal programs in accordance with the fact that a billion dollars spent by the federal government approximately equals $25 paid in taxes each year by the average American family.
