FLOOD WATERS BRING WOE TO ALABAMA AREA

ANOTHER RECORD COLD WAVE IS DUE TO HIT SOUTH

Owners of thermometers today agreed that last night was the coldest of the season.

Just how cold it was caused some debate. Two usually reliable authorities which take temperatures differed by one degree. One thermometer showed 4 degrees above zero. The other stood at 3 above just before dawn.

Sunup was clear, and warmer temperatures for the day followed. Absence of wind today made the temperature deceptive. Last night's chilling north wind caused curtailment of outdoor activities.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (AP)—The arctic lash of a double blast of zero chill winds hit today, making the flood waters swirled over the banks of snow-swollen streams in north Alabama and east Mississippi.

A 40-mile wind whirled suffering and destruction over the Great Lakes region, and another stream of frigid winds poured down the Rocky mountains and eastward.

Whirling a 24 to 40 degree temperature drop before it, this raw combine of winter piled up snowdrifts that blocked highways and railroads in the west, and coated roads with ice from the Rockies to the Atlantic.

Freezing weather struck the Gulf states early today, pulling temperatures as low as 4 degrees at Pampa, Tex.

The new cold wave, the weatherman said, was expected from the western mountains eastward except for Florida by tomorrow, and would last "indefinitely."

It brought new threats to an already acute coal shortage in a half dozen states, but promised to freeze up Alabama and Mississippi streams as well as flooding the countryside after heavy rains.

2 Missing In Wreck
The East enjoyed a brief respite from bitter cold, thanks to the warm weather that wafted from the south-west over the midwest yesterday, but zero was due today morning.

Chicago-New York train was stopped for 30 minutes at Syracuse, N. Y., by icy rails. The American falls at Niagara, frozen solid by zero weather, began to thaw.

Two trainmen were believed killed by a 123-foot wall, as the tracks sloped by rain, gave way near Maylene.

Milking Contest Is Suggested by Percy Gassaway

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—Rep. Percy L. Gassaway today challenged members of congress to a cow-milking contest.

"I'll meet them in any barn or any street corner or in any auditorium," he said, "and beat them!" Gassaway crossed his cowboyy-booted legs and whipped a picture from his vest pocket.

"How's that?" he asked pointing to a likeness of a cow. "That's the kind we've got down in Oklahoma, and can I milk them?"

The representative said he didn't think cow-milking was looked upon with the proper respect in the east. "I'd almost call it a lost art," he said. "The folks around here drink millions of gallons of milk and they never give a thought to how they get it. A contest like this would make them cow-milking conscious."

The Oklahoman said he can fill a two-and-a-half-gallon can in 10 minutes.

"Is that your record?" he was asked.

"Oh, no," he said. "I can do much better if I've got the proper co-operation from the cow. But you can't always count on that."

The representative said he milks with equal strength with either hand.

Townsend Club to Convene Tonight

The regular weekly session of the Pampa Townsend Old Age Pension club will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting, which will be held in the police courtroom at the city hall, is for all members and the public generally.

Classified Ads Prove Worth in Special Offer

The classified ads get results. Many Pampans who use the special ad offer in Sunday's NEWS are well aware of this fact. Some ads inserted for 3 days are being "killed," having done their selling. Persons who placed them are eager to stop the telephone and personal calls.

Every day similar results are being obtained by those who use the want-ads. Often a 30-cent ad will accomplish what otherwise might require far greater expense and loss of time.

There are few selling problems in which the classified ad page cannot be used effectively.

Million Dollar Texas Memorial Museum

This beautiful drawing, made by Architect John F. Staub, is his version of the magnificent Texas Memorial Museum as it will appear when completed. The million-dollar edifice will be located on the campus of the University of Texas at Austin and will house some of Texas' most precious relics and possessions. The imposing structure for which Congress has authorized $300,000,000, will be a part of the unit which will command the attention of visitors from throughout the nation during the University Centennial Exposition June 1 to December 1.

HERO IN SENIOR PLAY DOES NOT CARE FOR CASH

Proceeds Will Take Local Students To Caverns

An opportunity to see the moonlight-colored walls of Carlsbad cavern spurred members of the Pampa high school senior class to push ticket sales for "Dollars to Doughnuts," senior play which will be presented at the city auditorium Friday and Saturday nights.

Proceeds of the comedy will be used to defray expenses of the senior class to the Caverns this spring. Each student is required to sell enough tickets to pay his own expenses on the trip, or make up the difference out of his own pocket.

Ben Guill, dramatics teacher in the rehearsal stage for more than a month, and the cast is expected to give the usual finished performance which Mr. Guill has not failed to turn out yet.

The plot of the play deals with a wealthy American family, the Bolands. The first act opens with the Bolands receiving a telegram from their daughter Caroline who wires that she is bringing home a friend, a communist who doesn't like money, home with her for the week-end. The Bolands dismiss their servants and make amusing pretensions to be poverty-stricken when George arrives.

They then receive word from their other daughter Hortense who says that she is bringing home a friend for the week-end, and that the friend is supposed to pile on the "tricky stuff in great goods."

The cast features Philip Noland as Mr. Boland, Mary Douglas as Mrs. Boland, Mary Adams as Flossie Hill, J. C. McConnel as the Rev. Piggott, Tom Rose as George Hobbes, and others.

Kingsmill Pair Badly Burned in Highline Mishap

Bursts of sparks and fire flew from the boiler of Fred Fabanks and Cory Christopher at Kingsmill at 1:29 p. m. today when an iron pipe being raised for a radio aerial support fell over a Southwestern Public Service company highline.

The two men, badly burned and shocked, were brought to Pampa-Jarratt hospital in a Malone ambulance. Both have severe burns about their hands and feet, and each has lacerations along their sides. Christopher is in the more serious condition.

One of the men was holding the pipe at the base of a hole and the other was holding a wire attached to the top when the accident occurred. The shock threw them away from the metal.

The power line was idle for a few minutes at Pampa until the local reserve plant was put into operation. White Deer was without service a longer time while repairs were made.

The accident took place near the Arcade Inn at Kingsmill, at the rear of the place.

Morgan Attends; He Doesn't Want to Miss Party

BY PRESTON L. GROVER, Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—The senate munitions committee sought today to show that the allies overrode treasury objections and paid off American private bankers with part of the first money they borrowed direct from this government during the world war.

J. P. Morgan, head of the huge banking house, closely followed these efforts. He had supplied the committee by appearing for the reopening of the committee's inquiry despite word that his presence would not be necessary.

Chuckling that he "didn't want to miss the party," the financier took a front seat and puffed away at his inevitable pipe as testimony began.

It was brought out that allied nations owed American bankers and investors $2,262,000,000, most of which was loans negotiated largely by J. P. Morgan and company, at the time this country entered the world war.

"Wasn't it the understanding," asked Senator Vandenberg, "R. M. Mich," that the proceeds of the loans to the allies should not be used to fund existing obligations unless they found it absolutely necessary to meet war emergency?"

"Yes," said white-haired Russell Leffingwell, Morgan partner, who was an assistant to the secretary of the treasury during the war. "That was the general understanding."

He emphasized, however, that when the allies borrowed from the treasury the money "became theirs, not ours."

"Wasn't it the understanding," asked Senator Vandenberg, "R. M. Mich," that the proceeds of the loans to the allies should not be used to fund existing obligations unless they found it absolutely necessary to meet war emergency?"

"Yes," said Leffingwell, "and each time the same answer was given, that the treasury had no right to do but that it would be hard to prevent it."

Heiskell Leaves Car 3 Minutes; It's Still Gone

H. H. Heiskell went into the post-office at 8:30 o'clock this morning, got his mail, talked for two minutes to Roy Showers, and at 8:33 o'clock left the office and found his car gone. Although county and city officers started an immediate search for the car, and called nearby towns and cities, no trace of the missing vehicle had been found early this afternoon.

The car, a 1936 Ford coupe, bore license number A84-429. It was equipped with nearly new Seiberling tires and had just been serviced.

Mr. Heiskell glanced at the clock in the postoffice when he entered and looked again as he finished his talk with Mr. Showers. The thief must have been standing on the curb and watching Mr. Heiskell leave his car.

"It was the first time since I have had the car that I left the motor running and the key in the switch," Mr. Heiskell told officers. "The motor was still cold when I reached the postoffice and as I had to leave immediately for Moore county I thought I would let the motor warm while getting my mail."

EQUIPMENT FOR RADIO STATION ARRIVING HERE

Personnel Will Be Assembled About February 15

Equipment for the new Pampa broadcasting station is arriving daily.

In all sorts of boxes, some marked "fragile," some marked "glass"—some heavy, some light, large and small, the items of equipment are coming in from various manufacturers.

The transmitter is coming from RCA. It is a latest model, high fidelity machine, the seventh of the new type to be installed in the nation. RCA engineers say that within its range KPDM, the new station being assembled by the Pampa Daily NEWS, will be the best station in the southwest. Tuning will be unusually sharp and clear. There will be a minimum of spreading on the dial, hence interference with any other station will be absent.

The personnel of the station will be assembled about February 15, when intensive work in assembling the units will begin. It is still hoped the station can go on the air by March 1, although delay in clearing details of transmitter location, etc., through the Federal Communications commission has been unavoidable and will make overtime work necessary.

The station will start with a power of 100 watts and will broadcast on 1310 kilocycles.

Station permits are in keen demand now, and the air bands are so congested that it is difficult to launch a new broadcasting enterprise. The NEWS is one of the very few applicants given approval out of hundreds who sought permits.

BCD Committee Holds Meeting

An organization committee to set up the membership of the new city-wide group affiliated with the Board of City Development was to meet at 1:30 p. m. today.

B. C. D. members on the committee are J. S. Wynne, John Roby, Guy E. McTaggart, Charles Burton, and Fred Cullum. Others on the committee are R. B. Fisher, Clarence Kennedy, Bert Curry, and R. Earl O'Keefe, who will serve, with probably some others, until the new body is functioning.

The B. C. D. has appointed several of its members, whose names were not released, to begin studying applicants for the position of manager to succeed George Briggs, who will retire some time next month. No hasty choice will be made.

I Saw . . .

This astounding statement quoted from the New York Daily Mirror, "beginning as a baby, working ten hours a day until he is 91 years old, one long-lived man could count to six billion." This would be possible if one were to count 300 every minute, ten hours a day, 365 days a year, taking off only the extra day of each leap year.

SCOUT HONOR COURT DRAWS LARGE CROWD

MANY BOYS ADVANCED; 26 LOCAL TEACHERS PRESENT

On the worst night of the year as far as weather was concerned, the most successful court of honor in months was held last night in the county courtroom. Six troops participated, and a large crowd of parents, scouters, scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and friends of the scouts, including 26 teachers in the local schools, attended about 50 scouts were present, and 27 came up for advancement.

The court of honor was composed of L. J. McCollin, chairman; R. B. Fisher, Jim Dougherty, L. L. Sone, and C. A. Clark, secretary. Thirteen scouts were advanced to the second class rank, four to first class, three to star, and 26 merit badges were awarded. LeFors, Pampa, White Deer and Hoover troops were represented.

The meeting was opened with the candle lighting ceremony in which uniformed scouts repeated a Scout law as they lit the candles, one at a time. Sgt. R. B. Fisher led the crowd singing America. Invocation was said by Mr. Clark. Scout Doyle Auld repeated the Scout oath. All principals of Pampa schools were present, and made a few remarks. LeFors scouts led of their 1,900-mile trip through the South last summer.

Scouts advanced in scout advancements, and in attendance of parents and friends. Scouts advanced to 2nd class rank: Robert Wayne Stockton, Jacob Garman, Charles Hickman, herald Beckham, troop 14; Robert Huff, troop 15; Robert Duval, troop 20; James Archer, Ray Boyles, Jack Crout, Aubrey C. Green, Ed Terrell Bill Coons, troop 80; LaVaughn Curtis, troop 81.

Scouts advanced to first class rank: Billy Winchester, troop 14; Wilburn Fitzgerald, troop 19; Tom Archie Walker, troop 19; Doyle Auld, troop 80.

Scouts advanced to star rank: Elmer Lee Husband, Maynard Johnson, Paul Jenks, troop 19. Metal star badges were presented to these three officers at 11:15 a. m. and will sit behind the various desks in the city hall and the station until 12:15 p. m. The officers to be filled by Scouts.

McLean-Hedley Highway Job Is Near Completion

Grading and drainage structures on the short McLean-Hedley road stretch in Gray county will be completed within 8 working days, it was estimated today by H. A. Platt, assistant district supervisor of WPA projects.

Similar work on the Alanreed-LeFors road has proceeded within 12 miles of Alanreed. There has been much straightening and widening of the route. Mr. Platt praised the cooperation given by the county and by Commissioner M. M. Newman.

At McLean, work is underway on the athletic field and repairing of a ward school.

Locally, work is proceeding on the municipal bridge and race track projects when weather permits. The City is strongly urging starting of a gymnasium structure on fair-ground park site to give employment on bad days.

The list of men assigned to WPA work here is gradually increasing. Starting of PWA projects, the two ward school additions, may reduce the number somewhat.

I Heard . . .

A group of young ladies admiring Sam Sealing's flowing beard seem a member of the Pampa Road Runner baseball club last season, is anticipating his reporting to the House of David bearded ball team this spring and has started his crop of whiskers early. Tank Horton looked headed in the same way this morning but the Road Runner catcher said he just hadn't been able to scrape up the "two-bits" necessary for a shave.

That the Phillips basketball team, with 7 wins against 1 loss, will meet Alanreed in LeFors tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The team is seeking competition. Interested managers call Gibson at 9025, Pampa.

JOBLESS ARE BARRED FROM LOS ANGELES

Border Patrolled as State Charges City Tries to Take in Entire State.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4. (AP)—Police Chief James E. Davis' Foreign Legion" threw a barricade against the foot-loose unemployed around California's widely placarded "promised land" today despite the protests of state officials.

In Los Angeles patrolmen blocked every highway and railway entrance to the state from Oregon, Nevada and Arizona.

Chief Davis ordered taken into "technical custody" all persons who have "no definite purpose" for entering the state.

He called it "a determined endeavor to keep our unemployment and crime conditions to a minimum."

But state officials called it an attempt by Los Angeles to "take the whole state into its city limits."

"You can't stop the honest man who may have only a few dollars," protested State Senator Thomas Schoolland. He reminded the chief that the "All-Year club" invites outsiders to the state as a "promised land."

The unprecedented border patrol was devised by Davis and civic organizations.

"Hordes of indigents have flooded the state in the last year and Los Angeles has become the backwater in which the majority of them settled," the chief said.

"They not only increased the already perplexing problem of caring for the unemployed but were responsible for the surging of crime outbursts in the city and county."

Federal Agents "Not Interested" In Local Story

The U. S. department of justice has investigated the story, emanating from Pampa, that Isador Fleck may have spent some time after the Lindbergh kidnaping in Colorado, and that he "knew too much" about the case.

This investigation was begun about a year ago when THE NEWS first printed the story. The reply given by federal agents, and repeated last week, is "not interested."

Concerning the recent trip here by New York men who questioned Mrs. Roy Hallman, local former nurse, the department of justice told the Associated Press that "the officers" who went to Pampa were headed by a New York handwriting expert in no way officially connected with the Lindbergh case."

In the absence of official credence given to the story, the Associated Press declined to carry Saturday the claims made to the Amarillo newspaper.

Record Number Of Voters Here Pay Poll Taxes

The greatest voting army in Gray county history has been enfranchised.

Although writing of all poll tax receipts and checking of stubs has not been completed, it is evident that the poll taxes will reach 5,000 and the exemptions well over 750.

Usually the turnout in voting is around 4,800 to 5,000.

REP. TREADWAY IS QUESTIONED BY PLAINSMAN

TEXAN IS CHEERED AS HE TAKES PART OF CONSUMERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—A demand by Rep. Treadway (R., Mass.) for the impeachment of Secretary Wallace brought a reply in the house today from Rep. Jones (D., Texas) that Treadway was indulging in "carping criticism."

Treadway referred to Wallace's statement that the Supreme Court decision ordering the return of some $180,000,000 in impounded processing taxes was "the greatest legalized steal in history," and added that in his judgment any public official who makes such a statement "deserves impeachment."

Jones, chairman of the agriculture committee, said he was not attempting to justify all statements made by Wallace. The Texan added, amidst applause from democratic members, that "a man cannot be judged on one statement; he must be judged on his record."

Jones demanded a reply from Treadway as to whether the Massachusetts republican believes that those who had passed the processing tax on to the consumers should be allowed to keep the money.

There were cries of "answer, answer," from the democratic side. A later attempt by Rep. Snell (R., N. Y.) republican leader, to gain the floor was unsuccessful.

In his attack on Wallace, the second within a week, Treadway said the real point at issue before the opinion of the Supreme Court ordering a return of impounded processing taxes was "the greatest legalized steal in history," Treadway said.

"I referred last Wednesday to the insulting and untruthful remarks of Secretary Wallace. I said at the time and I repeat that in my judgment any public official who makes a statement like that deserves impeachment."

Jones said the speech of the Massachusetts republican "ignores the real point at issue before congress and the people."

"It is true some remarks were made by Secretary Wallace—pretty strong remarks—but sometimes the whole legal issue is not determined because it is not before the court," Jones said.

"I believe in the heart of every thinking man there is a belief that there is some money in the hands of certain people which doesn't belong to them. As democrats applauded, Jones added that several presidents have criticized the Supreme Court and have not been impeached."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—Speedily heeding President Roosevelt's request, the senate today adopted a brief bill repealing the Bankhead cotton control act, the February, with six Saturday pay-days, is certainly made to order for persons who are trying to clean up the last of those Christmas bills.

Democrats may have forgotten what was in their platform written in 1932, but they have a keen appreciation of what has happened since then.

You can give those republicans credit for one thing—they are learning to sing the same tune, the one written by the Liberty League.

Maybe he's mean, admits the West Foster group, but he declines to sell his vote to anyone who failed to pay the poll tax.

This is the month in which weather forecasts are apt to be more unreliable than ever—if possible.

Musing of the moment: There's no social security, unless Mrs. Oushaway's daughter, groans you have the wherewithal to maintain your credit at the smart shops. . . . Old Mother Nature is a bit ahead of Congress in farm relief right now. . . . When you have chilly sensations, write a columnist, it is wise to go to bed, but we can't go to bed every time the mercury drops 21 degrees in half an hour—nor can we control the sensations resulting therefrom.

Brevitorials

OPPORTUNITIES abound unseen Down at Plainview, a new industry is the growing of Chinese elm trees—a variety of exceptional adaptability in this section. Several carloads of the trees have been shipped to Iowa and other states. The elms are grown from the seed. Seed appear before the leaves and are ripe before the foliage comes out. They may be stripped from the limbs without injury to the tree. Stripping at Plainview includes most of the trees about the city.

Bob McCoy evidently has a hobby. He has purchased 11 head of buffalo from the Goodnight ranch and placed them on his ranch 2 miles east of Miami. The ranch fronts on the highway so that the animals may be seen by Centennial trippers. They are calves—9 heifers; and 2 bull.

We warn Bob that the animals will be dangerous when they grow up. Col. Chas. Goodnight gave two calves to West Texas Teachers college and wrote several letters about the vicious nature of the beasts. They bore out his predictions, when teased.

WORDS QUITE enthusiastically agrees with Rep. Maury Maverick of Texas that most of these cowboy singers are terrible. Maverick is insisting in Washington that "whoop-ee" is not "whuppy" that there is there and not "thar" that here is not "hyar." He says that a lot of singers are leaving the "not" out of "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie." He adds that Mexicans are better singers than most of the radio speakers being heard now.

All of this dutiful imitating of the folk lore of the west gets us nowhere; it gives a false impression of the west and stifles a legitimate and authentic expression of what folks in the cities are thinking.

Once more we may pity the poor candidates. Because they must appeal to the public, all sorts of advantages are taken by persons who have "rackets" to exploit. Much of the softening now being done is plain hijacking. Much of it is done under actual threats.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE NOT TOO MUCH

Three school children and a bus driver were killed in an accident in Oklahoma last week. Investigations pointed to poor judgment on the part of the driver.

As the Daily Oklahoman pointed out, the responsibility really was traceable to the school board involved. It is the duty of school trustees to know the kind of equipment that is used, to provide staunchly built and well maintained buses, to know that brakes are kept in repair and, especially, that the bus drivers are of sufficient experience and mental and physical ability. The Oklahoman made these suggestions:

1. Do not employ a bus driver who cannot pass rigid driving tests. Adapt the tests to the area in which he will drive and set the standards high enough to assure safety.

2. Do not permit children to use a bus that is not in perfect mechanical condition, capable of going when it should go and stopping when it should stop.

3. Do not allow bus drivers to hurry; make them know that nothing is more important than safe delivery of the children.

4. Employ drivers of sufficient mentality to judge the hazards of a road and authorize them to use their judgment even to the point of returning pupils to their homes without the day's schooling if the roads are in such condition as to be dangerous.

Joe Shelton, local superintendent of school buses, points out that these requirements are being met in the Pampa system. Physical examinations are compulsory at the beginning of each school term. Safety and safety methods are constantly being studied. Drivers have almost daily conferences on bus operation, repair, and the necessity of being constantly mindful that a minute's lapse could result in a tragedy.

When these precautions are taken, there is still danger if the public is careless. Local buses have been struck twice lately—harmlessly, it happened—by skidding cars. Passengers of buses stopped to take on or discharge passengers is dangerous and illegal. Heavy fines have been assessed here for violations.

Eternal vigilance is the price of safety for the children, and the maximum steps to assure that safety should be taken. Economy, speed, perfect attendance are secondary considerations.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (P)—The capital press correspondents missed a story right under their noses, so to speak. At least, they missed it for several hours.

For weeks they had observed the excavation for the new treasury vault against the south side of the statehouse and just below the press room on the second floor. They could lean out the windows and see all that was going on.

One night, however, a workman was caught in a cave-in and acetylene torches were used to cut him out. He was injured seriously. Some hours later a man on the street inquired if the workman had died and the press room got busy.

Then the word—or such part of it as is served by the press room—received the story.

Attorney General William McCraw has not announced for re-election but few doubt he will do so. He has no opponent as yet.

Nor has he said what he will do after serving a second term as attorney general, should he run again and be elected. Many think he might seek a turn in the governor's chair, thereby following the course of some other attorneys general.

Asked about his intentions, he grinned and cracked, "sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul of Houston thinks salaries now paid the governor and certain other officers are "a disgrace" and a constitutional amendment proposing increases to be voted on next summer ought to pass.

The governor's salary would be boosted from $4,000 to $12,000 and the attorney general's from $4,000 to $10,000. Compensation of the comptroller, treasurer, and land commissioner would be increased from $2,500 to $6,000, and that of the secretary of state from $2,000 to $6,000.

All thinking men ought to be for the amendment," Woodul said, "regardless of the fact similar amendments were defeated in the past. People don't object to paying good salaries if they get something for them."

Nathan Neely Fleming, North Carolina legislature member from Rowan county, was killed in the Battle of the Wilderness during the Civil war.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Several things happened backstage after the mass attack in the Senate on Chairman Gerald Nye and the munitions committee.

Whereas it had appeared almost certain that the investigation would be stopped in its tracks, four days later the committee was confident that it could obtain an additional appropriation and conclude the inquiry in an orderly manner. These developments were responsible for that:

1. The mail, both to members and enemies of the committee, indicated a strong public reaction against suppression of the munitions investigation.

2. The force of arguments by Nye and Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri began to sink in on many senators who at first had been swayed by attacks on the two after Nye said Woodrow Wilson had "falsified."

3. Reports arrived that German-Americans in the Midwest, Scandinavian-Americans in the Northwest, and Irish-Americans in the Northeast were becoming incensed at what they considered an attempt to throttle war evidence at the behest of Gorgan & Co., and the British government. These reports scared certain important administrationites.

4. Senators were told that they would be monkeying with dynamite if they voted against the investigation and that certain committee members might stir up a national scandal by airing suppressed evidence on the Senate floor.

5. Senator Homer Bone, a committee member, who had been absent in Washington state, returned and poured large quantities of oil on troubled waters, both inside and outside the committee.

6. The committee met and decided to soft-pedal on sensations and personal comment, to adopt a conciliatory attitude unless it appeared a real fight was necessary, to ask for only $7500 more, and to complete the investigation within 10 days, instead of about 15, as scheduled.

7. The committee unanimously agreed to suppress one item on its agenda which would have made big headlines, but was considered of no importance to the committee's objectives—strong neutrality legislation, regulation of the munitions industry, and a war profits act.

The suppressed evidence could have been used in propaganda against the administration, but even Republican members were not anxious to do so. It involved the alleged indiscretion of a certain prominent young man, whose influence was expected to figure in an airplane deal, but didn't.

It was contained in a deposition by Anthony Fokker of aviation fame, which now probably will never see light of day.

The committee left itself free, however, to: Conclude the Morgan investigation to show how the Treasury is alleged to have "bailed out" private bankers after America entered the war.

Reveal further disposal of American munitions "secrets" to foreign powers.

Disclose names and the extent to which American oil and steel companies have shipped war materials to Italy.

Prove whatever connection it could between the Navy League and Army Ordnance Association and munitions makers, militaristic propaganda, politicians, and the army and navy.

HARVESTER CAGERS TO SEEK REVENGE ON TURKEY COURT TOMORROW NIGHT

PAMPANS WILL PLAY IN SOUTH PLAINS TOWNS

AMARILLO SCHEDULED TO GIVE TOUGHER OPPOSITION

Harvester basketballers will attempt to avenge their only defeat of the season tomorrow night at Turkey where they will face Coach Al Dunca's "Terrible" Turks a second time this season.

The Pampa youths should be in a fine mood to play the Turks. They have not lost a game since Turkey invaded Pampa several weeks ago, and they have not wanted to win any game as much as they want to beat Turkey. For weeks they have been planning a devastating revenge. The Turks have suffered the loss of one game since they played here. They were literally annihilated by Quail and the Matador tournament, but it is believed that that defeat might have been due to the fact that the Turks played three games that day and were not in top physical condition as they will be tomorrow night.

Coach Oduis Mitchell and the harvesters will leave tomorrow noon on their annual road trip. They will establish hotel headquarters at Plainview, and journey to and from that city each evening to the game. Thursday night the team will play at Lubbock, Friday night at Plainview, and Saturday night at Amarillo.

The Sandies are now likely to furnish the most strenuous opposition for the Harvesters. After six defeats, the Amarillo youths were able to come a long way from behind and trounce Berger 30 to 20 Saturday night. Previously, the Bulldogs had whipped the Sandies 24 to 7. The Sandies have shown more improvement than any team in this district, the Saturday night score indicates. The Harvesters routed the Amarillos here 24 to 8, but expect trouble at Amarillo Saturday night.

The Pampans are now leading the Panhandle League with six wins and no defeats. They will need to beat Lubbock to clinch the league championship the second time in a row.

The district tournament will be held in Pampa next week-end.

Kelton to Play in Wheeler Meet

WHEELER, Feb. 4.—Kelton's two basketball teams will come to Wheeler tonight in an effort to keep the Mustangs from getting within one step of the county championship and the Wheeler girls from at least tying Mobeetie for the same honors. Wheeler has only Kelton and Lela to handle for the title. The Wheeler girls are now tied with Mobeetie.

A third game will be staged in the gym tonight when the Shamrock Independents meet the Wheeler Independents. Wheeler won from Magic City in a torrid battle last week and will be ready for the high stepping Shamrock quintet. Members of the local team, managed by Bob Clark, are Flynn, Perin, Puckett, Green, Miller, Weeks, and Clark.

FIRST DOWN - AND THEN SOME

BY HARRY GRAYSON

CHICAGO—If there is the slightest concern about raising the $350,000 necessary to defray the expenses of the Olympic team this summer, you'd never suspect it by chatting with Brundage, the Golden Man of the American amateur athletics.

"We really have only to raise $170,000," asserts Brundage, on the eve of his departure for the Winter Games at Garmisch-Partenkirchen. "This amount will be far over-subscribed."

Regardless of how you feel about America taking part in the Berlin frolics, August 1-16, you must admire Brundage. Avery was a star all-around athlete for 20 years, after breaking in in the Orange and Blue of the University of Illinois. Quickly growing into a tremendous figure in the constructional field, Brundage never lost interest in the scantily clad.

It was quite natural for an executive of his ability and energy for sports to become president of the Amateur Athletic Union and to again take command when agitation against this country sending a team abroad threatened to wreck the parent body he had fought so long to make secure.

Brundage says that the Olympic fund will be raised something like this:

Subscription	$170,000
Colleges	600,000
Basketball	50,000
Tennis	40,000
Boxing	20,000
Swimming	10,000

Total $350,000
"You will be amazed to know how the real backers of the Games have come to the cause since the split in New York," explains Brundage.

"We didn't need so much in 1932, when the Games were held in Los Angeles, but more than $200,000 was contributed toward the American production. I expect that figure to be exceeded this trip."
"You can't beat the spirit of amateur athletics, particularly when it is applied to the Olympic Games."
"We have 500 committees working throughout the land. It follows that our hastily formed organization is clumsy and unwieldy, but we rather prefer it that way. We always have prevailed. We much prefer to have 1,000 persons contribute $1 each than to have one person contribute $1,000."

Harvard, Notre Dame, and numerous other institutions contribute $1,000 to Olympic funds. There are to be student body tag days at scores of schools. All National Collegiate A. A. and Western conference track and field proceeds go to Olympic sports, will lend a tremendous hand with eight teams participating in a 3-day final tournament at Madison Square Garden, April 3, 4, 5, or 6. From these clubs will be selected the 14-man Olympic team.
"The cost of conducting this campaign is negligible," explains Brundage. "The only outlay is for clerical work."
"What those opposing American participation forget is that members of the German Olympic team, like all other competitors, are to be guests of the International Olympic committee."

Avery Brundage and the American Olympic committee is one reason why the show always goes on.

Lubbock Boxer Defends Title

HOUSTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—Jimmy Elder, a little fighting machine from Texas Tech, stole the spotlight here last night as he started defense of his Texas amateur lightweight boxing championship.
The Lubbock boxer, who topped his division here last year, showed a marked improvement as he scored a two round technical knockout over J. Setelin of Houston.

While Elder topped the entries in ringmanship, punching ability and boxing skill, Arthur Dorrell, Port Arthur, and August Arellano, Houston, gave the best scrap of the evening.
Dorrell piled up a big lead in the first round and despite the Mexican's brilliant comeback he was unable to overcome the first round handicap.

Correll was one of six Port Arthur boxers to survive the opening round. The three Villanex brothers—Claude, Clyde and Clarence—and Frank Pierron and Pete Girolamo rounded out the sixsome.

Basketball Over The Panhandle

MEMPHIS, Feb. 4.—Memphis' straggling basketball quintet divided a twin bill Thursday night in the high school gymnasium, defeating Giles and dropping a decision to Quail; and they dropped another contest Friday night at the local gym to the Salisbury "All-Stars."
Score of the Quail game was 24 to 12. Garvis Davis, guard, was high-point man for the Cyclone with seven points. He did not play the first half because of illness and went in as the third quarter opened. Brislin, forward, was high scorer for the affray, getting 11 for Quail. Memphis defeated Giles 28 to 11

COMEBACKS IN BASEBALL DUE THIS SEASON

MOSES, CAMPBELL AND KLEIN MAY BE IN SPOTLIGHT

BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.
NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—Among other things, the right field patrol offers an excellent chance for several of the wounded or missing to make come-backs along the major league baseball front this spring.

Outstanding in this respect are Wally Moses of the Athletics, Bruce Campbell of the Cleveland Indians and Chuck Klein of the Chicago Cubs.

Moses, freshman sensation among American league outfielders, last season, and Campbell, obtained by the Tribe from St. Louis, both were hitting at a .325 clip when forced out of action. Moses broke an arm in mid-season and Campbell was taken dangerously ill with meningitis. Full recovery for both will mean regular jobs again.

Klein, one-time batting king who became a $12,000 bench-warmer last year after falling off to .293 at bat, hopes to pick up where he left off in the world series. An accident to Fred Lindstrom gave Chuck a chance to show a burst of old-time power. The subsequent release of Lindstrom indicates the Cubs will start off with Klein at his old stand, right field, and Frank Demaree shifting to center.

Except for standbys such as Paul Waner of the Pirates, John Moore of the Phillies, Mel Ott of the Giants and Pete Fox of the world champion Tigers, there's a scramble for right field jobs.

The St. Louis Cardinals figure to solve the problem by shifting Pepper Martin back to the wide open spaces, replacing Jack Rothrock, who has been released to the minors. The Yankees still are troubled with the situation created by the one and only Babe Ruth. Young George Selkirk did a fair job of replacement last season but Roy Johnson, part Indian from Oklahoma, shuttled to the big town from Boston by way of Washington, will get first call this season.

Taking their cue from the Cardinals, the Red Sox may experiment with the speedy Bill Werber, a third baseman, in right field. Mel Almada and Dusty Cooke also will be available for the tryouts at Saratoga.
Otherwise, in the American league, the starting right fielders likely will include Vernon (George) Washington for the White Sox, Ed Coleman for the Browns, and Jonathan Stone for Washington's Senators.
Brooklyn has a rare assortment from which to pick, including Ralph Brubaker, Stan Borland, who dangled the assignment last season; Randy Moore, from Boston and Oscar Eckhardt, king of the minor league batsmen from San Francisco's Missions.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—The Cards want Curt Davis . . . but not at the $125,000 price the Phillies have set for their star right hander. Prexy Gerry Nugent should remember that Tom Yawkey operates only in the American league. . . . Wonder what's that "important announcement" Col. Jake Ruppert is issuing at 3 p. m.? Has he bought somebody? . . . That would be news. When the Cannel comes all the way down town from the brewery to personally supervise a press notice you can bet greenbacks are involved. . . . This Willis Hudlin shoots a 69 just like nothing had happened, doesn't he?

Note to young umpires: By all means try to get in to the International league. . . . Already this winter, the Ints have sold two umpires—Tiny Parker and Cal Hubbard—to the majors. . . . and may peddle off Van Grafflin before the week is over.
Carl Snavely "strongly intimates" to the Raleigh Times this corner was wrong in saying he was refraining from signing that new five year contract at North Carolina until Southern conference acts on that Graham anti-subsidization plan. . . . But you'll note he doesn't deny it. Meantimes, the contract continues to repose in the old pigeon hole.

in the second game. Davis, Memphis, nabbed scoring honors, by tallying nine; and he was closely followed by Crowder of the locals, who counted for eight. Hanson was high for Giles with seven.
The Salisbury "All-Stars" featured a fast breaking offense and a sharpshooting forward last night to swamped the Black and Gold forces 48 to 29. Neely of Salisbury lacked one point getting as many as the entire Memphis team. Childers was top scorer for the Cyclone, counting for 14. The game was closely contested the first half; the score at the first quarter was nine up.

Coach Defines 'Fast Break' in Basketball

BY CRAIG RUBY, Basketball Coach, University of Illinois.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Feb. 3. (AP)—In basketball coaching my basic idea is to strive to use the system of offense and defense best adapted to the ability of the best five players on the squad.

At present, because Illinois happened to have more speed than has been the case in a number of years, we are swinging more to a fast break. Since we have two good offensive rebound retrievers, we are willing to take more long shots than would have been wise in former years.

Defines 'Fast Break'. Many people think the fast break is a gallop down the floor. In reality the fast break is an effort to get one man loose, or two men on one, or three men on two. When there is an equal number of defensive men guarding the offense, it is always a slow break, even if the attacking team does go down the floor with speed.

When teams have slow material, they use a more definitely organized slow-break offense. We use the slow-break when we are forced into it but then our organization cannot be as good because we are continually looking for a chance to fast break.

FIVE NAMES ARE CHOSEN FOR BASEBALL'S HALL OF FAME

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—The names of Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Hans Wagner, Christy Mathewson, and Walter Johnson will be perpetuated in baseball's hall of fame, but fans will have to wait another year to learn who their five mates of the modern era will be.
The initial list of stars of the span from 1900 to the present was to have included ten names. There were four of fans, but fans will have to wait another year to learn who their five mates of the modern era will be.

BOSTON COLLEGE'S FOOTBALL PENDULUM MAY SWING HIGH

NEWTON, Mass., Feb. 4. (AP)—Boston college's football pendulum may be ready to swing high again with Gil Dobie generating the force. Since announcement that "Gloomy Gil" had transferred from Cornell to Boston College, the Eagles' hopes have soared high as under the late Major Frank Cavanaugh, whose teams were great ones a decade and a half ago. Impressive Eaglets—rated last fall as one of the most promising freshman teams seen here in years—are coming along to help boost B. C. hopes.

JUNIOR HIGH CAGE TEAM TO ENTER WHEELER TOURNAMENT

McLEAN WILL PLAY LEFORS THIS EVENING

BERGER'S GIBSON CAGE TEAM DEFEATS PROFS

LeFors and McLean basketball teams will meet in conference battles tonight at the high school gymnasium. Both the McLean Tigers and Tigerettes have strange holds on the conference titles and wins tonight would almost assure them the right to play in the district tournaments. LeFors will be scrapping to break into the win column.

Alanned will invade LeFors for another conference game on Friday night. The Longhorns have a strong team and are also banging for the conference lead. After the boys' game, the faculty teams of the two schools will meet.
The Pirate Profs showed up much better last night than in a previous game although they lost a 45 to 38 battle to the Gibson Pipers last night in LeFors. With Bill Bronson whamming the boards for 18 points and Francis Smith lacking 11 to tie the score, the faculty teams of the two schools will meet.

Gibson swamped the Pirate Profs in a game played at Berger last Thursday night.

Bell Assistant Must Be Able to Coach Track, Too

Dallas, Feb. 4. (AP)—Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist university says about all he knows about an assistant to succeed Victor Hurt is that he will have to be able to coach two sports.

Hurt, Bell's right-hand man last year and the S. M. U. track coach has accepted the position of head coach at the University of Tulsa.

"It will be difficult to replace Vic," Bell said, "not only because of his all-around football ability but because he was track coach. Our staff is small and economic necessity probably will prevent our enlarging it. That means the man we recommend must be able to coach more than one sport."

Bell said he didn't know who the new assistant would be but he hoped the selection could be made quickly.

NEW BASEBALL TRADE RUMORS FLOAT ABOUT

NATIONAL LEAGUE TO OPEN MEETING TODAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—Rumors of numerous trades flew through the air as the bigwigs of the National baseball league assembled for their annual meeting today.

The 1936 schedule was to be released but the chief interest was in what players, if any, were swapped around. "Bobby" was sold, when the traders took stock of each other's ivory.

Prominent among the rumors was that the St. Louis Cardinals would trade Parmelee, Orsatti and cash to the Phillies for Curt Davis, but Gerry Nugent, if any, were swapped around. "Bobby" was sold, when the traders took stock of each other's ivory.

Any school wishing to enter a team should get in touch, before Wednesday, with Bob Clark, Wheeler or high school coach. Arrangements are being made to allow teams close to Wheeler to play Friday, with teams coming from a long distance playing on Saturday.

Pitchers Hold Golfing Honors Down in Florida

SARASOTA, Feb. 4. (AP)—Pitchers, paced by Wesley Perrell of the Boston Red Sox, held most of the golfing honors in the professional leagues today.

Four of the first five finishers in the Florida baseball players tournament were hurlers, with Manager Mickey Cochrane of Detroit, a catcher, the only renowned slugger to place high.

Covering the 72 holes of medal play in 312, Perrell had a four-stroke advantage over a trio tied for second. The runners-up were Cochrane, Willis Hudlin, Cleveland pitcher, and Garland Braxton, hurler for the Milwaukee Brewers.

Jack Russell, Washington mound artist, was in fifth position at 317. A trophy donated by Powell Crosby, Cincinnati owner, will remain with Perrell until the tournament next year. It must be won three times for permanent possession.

While Babe Ruth, who signed up as an "unemployed" player, was a long way from the top, he had the laugh on Jerome H. Dean, the Cardinal ace whose only ambition was to outscore the erstwhile suitor of swat.

The Babe shot 330. "Old Diz" came through with 344—and a lot of experience.

MISSION STUDY MONDAY HAS INTERESTING VARIATIONS

COMMITTEES APPOINTED TO AD LEADERS

NAMES ARE ADDED TO METHODIST WMS ROLLS

Lessons on Latin-America were followed by social hours in circle meetings of First Methodist society yesterday afternoon. New members and guests were present in each group.

Circle one met with Mrs. C. Boozie with Mrs. Barrens as a new member and Mrs. D. Love as a visitor. Mrs. H. B. Carlson, new circle leader, was in charge of the opening devotional and business session.

Mrs. W. Purviance was assisted by Mrs. B. A. Hunt and Mrs. O. L. Boyington in presenting the lesson. She named Meses. H. W. Kiser, C. R. Nelson, and Carrington as a historical committee to aid in preparation of the study series.

Roll call was answered with current events by 17 members. After the refreshment course, the closing prayer was by Mrs. Ethel McEwen.

Mrs. Carl Boston was hostess to circle two and Mrs. W. C. House conducted the lesson in round-table fashion. Sixteen members were present and one guest, Mrs. T. K. Manley of LeFors.

Mrs. Raeburn Thompson and Mrs. Lee Harrah were appointed on the historical committee. Mrs. W. R. France and Mrs. Joe Shelton on the press-radio committee. Mrs. H. O. Roberts and Mrs. Lewis Robinson on the drama committee. All these groups will assist in planning and presenting lessons.

Round-table discussion directed by Mrs. J. E. Kirchman was used by circle three in its study. Mrs. Paul Cunningham was hostess, and Mrs. Tom Weaver presented the devotional topic and presided for business.

Two new members and a guest, Mrs. C. M. Carmichael, were present with 15 members for the lesson and a delicious refreshment course. Mrs. A. L. Patrick was named chairman of a historical committee and Mrs. Paul Jensen of a radio-press committee.

Mrs. Walton was welcomed as a member of circle four. Meses. Guin Killingsworth, V. L. Boyles, and Vernon Moore as guests, by the 19 members meeting in Mrs. Ralph Chisum's home. Mrs. Carlton Nance was co-hostess.

Members expressed their pleasure at Mrs. B. B. Fisher's accepting the post of study leader for this year. Mrs. Fisher was assisted by Mrs. N. F. Maddux in reviewing the lesson after a devotional conducted by Mrs. A. W. Babione.

Current events answered roll call. The closing prayer was by Mrs. M. E. DeTar, and a social period was enjoyed afterward.

I FEEL FINE

Mothers read this:

A CONSTIPATED child is so easily straightened out, it's a pity more mothers don't know the remedy. A liquid laxative is the answer. Mothers, the answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured in its dose and is exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help.

This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult. Doctors use liquid laxatives. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. And today, there are fully a million families that will have no other kind in the house.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, now so widely known that you can get it all ready for use at any drugstore.

MARY FACES A QUIETER LIFE AS WIDOWHOOD LIFTS DUTIES

BY MELVIN E. COLEMAN, Associated Press Staff Writer.
The quiet, conservative family life which she and King George struggled to maintain amid the pomp and circumstance of a royal court, is a promise of the future for Queen Mary.

Finally there is her church. She is a devout communicant of the Church of England, but prefers "low" services to "high church" ritual.

The year of mourning—nine months of it—"full"—decreed by her son, Edward VIII, naturally reduces to the minimum of necessity the public appearances of the bereaved royal family, but once that time is over, the new king, his brothers and their families probably will be plunged into a strenuous round of social and official affairs.

Court Affairs In Past.
Not so their "queen mother." In her new status she will no longer be required to attend courts and stand while long lines of debutantes and matrons advance before her, curtsy and retire.

Visits from officials and royalty of other nations, openings of parliament, troopings of the colors and all the other official "occasions" at which the queen was expected to be at the side of a reigning sovereign, will no longer require her presence.

She went through many years of this, determined to be a real queen to her people and a genuine help-mate to her husband. How she succeeded has been testified by British records and contemporary historians.

Quiet Hobbies Pursued.
Henceforth she will be virtually free to pursue her own quiet hobbies. Needlework and the collection of antiques, and especially fans, have been her chief avocations. She could seldom resist the temptation to look into every antique shop with which she came.

Also she has been a confirmed shopper. Her purchase of long "woolies" for King George a few years back was recorded around the world. Her ability to drive a bargain was known, and sometimes dreaded, by shopkeepers and clerks.

Always she insisted upon "buying British." Imported stuffs and articles had little appeal to her either as an Englishwoman or as the thirty-year-old widow of a king.

Also she likes to read. Her memory is stored with the results of this habit. Management of her household was trained into her girlhood. Her parents, the Duke and Duchess of Teck, were far from wealthy and frequently were hard put to maintain their social position. "May" therefore helped her mother, not only in planning the family expenditures, but also by undertaking some duties

WORKER SENDS LETTER FROM POST IN CHINA

BAPTIST WMU MEETS FOR BUSINESS, LESSON

A letter from Mrs. Anna Sallee, missionary in China, was an interesting highlight on the program of First Baptist Missionary union yesterday afternoon. All circles met at the church.

Mrs. T. F. Morton, who was in charge of the mission study program from Royal Service magazine, read the letter. She was assisted by Mrs. H. L. Watt, Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, and Mrs. R. W. Tucker in presenting the lesson topics on the cooperative program of Baptist women.

In the business meeting Mrs. Calvin Whately and Mrs. Floyd Yeager were elected leaders of the Sunbeam band, younger children of the church, and Mrs. D. H. Coffey was named chairman of circle three to replace Mrs. R. E. Gatlin, resigned.

The attendance banner went to circle six. Present for the meeting were Meses. A. A. Neel, H. T. Cox, Charles Boyd, W. R. Hallmark, Coffey, Joe Foster, Yeager, G. C. Durham, Ishmael Hill, John R. Beacom, T. W. Jamison, C. L. McKinney, N. B. Ellis, L. H. Green.

Plaits lend chic to this simple Little Yoke Dress

By ELLEN WORTH

Here's a cunning and practical little dress for young daughter.

It has a brief yoke. It cuts in one with the short puffed sleeves, adorable style for chubby arms. Practical, too, is the pretty cape-like sleeve, as in small view. The plaits are handled with delightful effect to afford necessary fullness to the skirt.

It's as smart as can be as pictured in navy linen-like cotton. The yoke and the plaits insets are plain white.

This dress can be all in one material with contrast for the collar, as a printed cotton with plain white.

Style No. 1659 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 yard of 39-inch material with 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch contrasting and 1 yard of lace.

Our new Spring Fashion Book will enable you to have smart clothes for less money. It's just full of new ideas.

Price of BOOK 10-cents. Price of PATTERN 15 cents, (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

SNOWFALL IN MIDDLE WEST HEAVY AGAIN

BELOW-ZERO WEATHER FREEZES MUCH OF NATION

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (AP)—Renewed heavy snowfalls blew into the great central plain states today on the wings of high winds to glut the entire section. Widespread suffering was aggravated.

Slowly rising temperatures, which yesterday afforded a brief breathing spell, reversed their trend today and many states reported the arrival of a new cold wave.

Springlike rains swelled dozens of streams to flood level in northern Alabama and scores fled from their homes. A rescue expedition started for Coaldale, a rural community, where it was feared 30 to 35 persons were trapped by the swiftly rising Little Warrior river.

Heavy rains also were reported in Mississippi. In that state trains were reported running far behind schedule due to tracks being inundated. In the Meridian section more than seven inches of rain fell within the past 24 hours.

The greater part of the nation was paralyzed in an icy embrace with snow and sleet storms making travel hazardous. Trains were blocked or seriously delayed, motor traffic was at a standstill in places, boats were locked in frozen rivers and marooned islanders on the Atlantic coast continued to ration dwindling food supplies as sleet storms prevented the landing of airplanes with replenishments.

Deaths continued to mount with two additional victims reported from Minnesota, four from Illinois, and one from Indiana.

Washington, D. C., entered its thirteenth consecutive day of sub-freezing weather today to smash a 41-year-old record. A sleet storm endangered motorist and pedestrian. Maryland was glazed with ice. Many motor trucks were abandoned when they were unable to negotiate icy hills.

The Potomac river remained frozen and Washington-Norfolk steamers postponed sailings. Several thousand residents of Tangier and Smith Islands in Chesapeake bay and Nantucket Island off Cape Cod, Mass., remained cut off from the mainland by ice barriers.

At Baltimore, Md., 125 Tangier Islanders awaited the end of the sleet storm to return to their homes by plane. The state police said they would attempt to fly motorcycles and radio equipment to the island.

The weather was forecast for most of the Rocky Mountain region, but the mercury stood at 5 below zero in Denver, 7 in Scotts Bluff, Neb., and 6 at Billings, Mont.

A hard driving wind toppled temperatures to below freezing from the Granddand to eastern Texas, where a 50-mile wind threatened damage to oil field equipment. A dust storm swept the Oklahoma Panhandle, with sleet in other sections of the state.

2,000 Quit in General Strike

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 4. (AP)—Union men estimated by their leaders to total 2,000 answered a general strike call issued by the Pekin Trades and Labor assembly and did not report for work at 8 a. m. today.

The general strike was called to aid union employes at the American Distilling company who have been picketing the plant in an effort to prevent resumption of work after a two-week shutdown.

Peace officers reported that pickets gathered about the plant this morning and turned back a hundred employes who sought to enter. In a similar maneuver yesterday, automobiles and buses escorted by Sheriff Ralph Goar ran a barrage of bricks and stones.

Party Committee Will Meet After Treble Clef Club

The annual guest night program of Treble Clef club, scheduled for February 14, will be planned by the committee on arrangements following the club's monthly business meeting tomorrow. All members of the club are asked to attend the business session at 4 o'clock.

Committee members, who are especially urged to be present, are Mrs. Alex Schneider, chairman, Meses. H. O. Roberts, Bert Whaley, J. M. Hush, Sam Irwin, Ralph Dunbar, and Jack Horner.

Arms Committee Resumes Hearing On Cause of War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—A $1,000,000 American loan to Great Britain in world war days was the subject of inquiry today as the senate munitions committee resumed hearings with two former treasury assistants as witnesses.

Committee members sought evidence to back a contention that the United States government lent the money to support purchasing power of British money in America, and then surrendered collateral by which the sum might have been repaid.

The two former treasury assistants, now prominent New York bankers, were summoned with Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan and company as the committee renewed its study of American financial dealings with the allies from the spring of 1917 until after this country entered the war in April.

The two are Russell Leffingwell, now a Morgan partner, and Albert Rathbone, a vice-president of General Hanover Bank and Trust company.

J. P. Morgan was not asked to the reopening of the hearing, which suspended two weeks ago in a blaze of controversy arising from the statement of Chairman Nye (R., N. D.) that President Wilson had "falsified" on a point of world war history.

A total of 850 foreigners, including 10 Americans, visited Germany in 1935 to study German railways.

Does Bladder Weakness WAKE YOU UP?

Make this 25c test. Remove the cause. Use buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., to flush out excess acids and impurities which cause irritation that results in restless nights, burning, scanty flow, frequent desire, or backache. Ask for little green tablets called Buksels, the bladder lax. They work on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. In four days if not pleased any druggist will return your 25c. CAMPAGNING IN ELECTION OF FAVORITES GAINING HEADWAY; CLASSES TO VOTE THURSDAY

Student Nominations For Four Places Number 68

Campaigning for nominees for places as school favorites has been well under way since last Wednesday, when each of the three classes nominated candidates for places in the favorites section of the high school annual.

Intra-class elections will be held Thursday to narrow the field down to one candidate for each place in each class. The voting Thursday will be on a democratic basis, each student being entitled to a vote in his class.

Voting after Thursday will be based on students' selections for all-school favorites, and balloting will be on a penny-a-vote basis. Money raised from the voting will be used to help finance the annual. Voting in the final election will continue until noon February 21.

Favorites to be chosen are the beautiful girl, the most handsome boy, the most popular girl, and the most popular boy. Winners will be given full-page photographs in the yearbook.

Senior nominees for the most beautiful girl are Mary Price, Velda Richards, Emily Burge, Evelyn Becknell, Marjorie Davis, and Pauline Gregory.

Bob Drake, Joseph Hodge, Bob Mann, Tom Rose Jr., Scott Mullins, and Holt Hamlett were nominated by the seniors in the most handsome boy election.

Flora Deen Finley, Louise Roseberry, Lillian Rice, DeAnn Heiskell, and Marjorie Skaggs were senior nominees for the most popular girl.

In the most popular boy nominations, the seniors chose Mickey Ledrick, Jim Arndt, Wolford Bivins, J. R. Green, Howard Feltner, James Herring, George Lane, and J. G. McConnell.

Members of the junior class chose the following nominees: Most beautiful girl: Christine Warran, Margaret Haston, Eldra Stark, Ethel Wilder, and Virginia Inman.

Most handsome boy: Raymond Johnson, Roy Showers, Albert Ayer and Glen Dull.

Most popular girl: Theda Cox, Betty Blythe, and Jackie Bragg.

Most popular boy: Red Fanning, Moose Hartman, Richard Kilgore, Robert Kilgore, and Billy Morrow.

Sophomore nominees are: Most popular boy: Grover Fester, Carl Watts, George Cline, J. W. Graham, and Jimmie Hamill.

Most popular girl: Martha Price, Wanda Lee Dunlap, Barbara Johnson, Leona Hurst, Dorothea Roseberry, and Ruby Herring.

Most beautiful girl: Martha Price, Betty Elkins, Kathryn Barrett, Muriel Horn, Helen Arndt, Peggy Stephens, Jeannette Cole, and Mary Elizabeth Seeds.

Most handsome boy: Charles Pittman, Melvin Watkins, Jimmie Hamill, Carl Watts, James Lybrand, J. W. Graham, Calvin Dittmore, and Ernest Stedman.

Glee Club Work Instituted Here Draws 120 Girls

About 120 girls have enrolled for glee club work, Miss Helen Martin director, said yesterday.

The local club is said to have one of the largest memberships in such an organization in this part of the state. Daily work is being done by the girls under the direction of Miss Martin, who is music teacher in the junior high school, and Miss Angela Strnad and Mrs. E. L. Norman, high school sponsors of the organization.

Songs are being sung in two parts now. Later, they will be sung in three parts. The girls will sing at assembly each Wednesday. Two out-of-town trips will be made by the group this semester.

Uniforms for members of the organization will consist of gold satin blouses which will be worn with pep squad skirts.

Choosing School Favorites

For whom are you going to vote in the coming election of school favorites? When the time comes to make your decision, the qualifications of the students nominated should be considered instead of personal friendship. And under no circumstances should a vote be given to a person merely as a joke.

In the class elections it should be kept in mind that if the ones who win are to have any chance in the all-school election they must be candidates who have been chosen after due exercise of honest thought on the part of their classmates.

Once his class has chosen its candidates, the student should help in every way to elect them. If he is unable to give much monetary support he can at least do his bit through his influence on his friends. Such an enterprise as this, if it is to be worth while and successful, deserves the best support of every student.—B. H.

Gorillas Victors Over Gym Team; Score Is 15 to 16

A basketball team made up of members of the physical education classes gave the Gorillas some real competition in a curtain-raising game Saturday evening prior to the Harvesters' game with the Plainview Bulldogs.

The final score was 16 to 15 in favor of the Gorillas. Billy Morrow, diminutive Gorilla guard saved the game in the last minute of play by sinking a long shot.

Morrow snuck his only field goal of the game after McGahey, forward for the gym team, had apparently put the game in the bag for his team by breaking the tie when each team had 14 points.

Morrow and Dull were guards for the Gorillas, while Enloe and McKay were forwards and Enloe was at center. McDaniel and Kilgore were substitutes for the Gorillas.

The gym team had Boyington and Harris at guard positions, Heard at center, and McGahey and Harvey as forwards.

SENIORS URGED TO CHECK OUT TICKETS EARLY

Class Members May Earn Money for Carlsbad Trip

In spite of widespread interest in the senior play, "Dollars to Doughnuts" to be given Friday and Saturday nights in the city auditorium, the sale of tickets by members of the class is not progressing as rapidly as it should.

It is stressed that seniors should be more energetic in pushing the sale of tickets since the sale is the means provided by which each senior may earn most of his share of expenses on the trip to Carlsbad Cavern later in the semester.

It is estimated that each student can pay his share of the cost of transportation and lodging on the annual trip by the sale of $5.50 worth of tickets. Students who sell some tickets but do not get those who sell more than the needed amount may transfer credit they do not need to a classmate they wish to help.

All money received from the sale of tickets, with the exception of ten cents on each reserved seat ticket, will go to pay the expenses of the Carlsbad trip. Money derived from the sale of reserved seats will be used to pay the royalty on the play and the rental on the auditorium.

Each student may check out $1.20 in tickets at a time and may obtain more when he turns in money for his first allotment.

Mr. Gordon has charge of ticket sales by students whose names begin with letters from A through L. Miss McFarlin checks out tickets to students whose names start with other letters.

Tennis Matches Planned to Give Teams Practice

Eight girls reported at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon to determine how many students will take part in tennis this year.

Those reporting were Wilma Dee Abernathy, Phyllis Cotten, Anna Ford, Grace Barham, Ruby Hayes, Sarah Pafford, Marjorie Saums, and Nettie Fulton. There are others who are expected to report for practice soon.

According to Miss Kathleen Milam, local teams will play matches with other schools as soon as the players have had more practice. Because of bad weather and lack of courts practice has been delayed. All practice periods will be held after school hours.

Other Classes Offer Trigonometry and Salesmanship

Salesmanship, Texas history, and trigonometry, three new additions to the Pampa high school curriculum this semester, are attracting many students.

"To acquaint the student with the elements of salesmanship," is the aim of Frank Manroe, who is teaching the class in salesmanship. The first part of the course will deal with the fundamentals of the subject. Later work will deal with the product and the actual selling. Problems that arise in sales work will be given special attention.

This, the Texas Centennial year, is a particularly appropriate time to introduce Texas history in Pampa high school. Many students have had a beginner's course in Texas history in grade school, but this course offers advanced study of the subject. Three classes have been formed. The classes, made up of juniors and seniors, will work for one-half unit of affiliation.

W. N. Anderson has charge of the trigonometry class. This is a course in practical geometry especially aimed to prepare the student for college engineering courses. The class will go on several field trips for practice in surveying. Nearly 30 students have enrolled in the class, which comes at the third hour.

DID YOU KNOW

That Hampton Stennis has been elected vice-president of the Panhandle High School Press association for the coming year?

That a prominent high school teacher has a new heart-throb?

That Mildred Cole, who has been out of school because of illness, has returned to school?

That seniors are learning about the early stages of our language?

That the band will have more suits and instruments next fall?

"If Winter Comes"

Icy, cutting wind, carrying dry little snowflakes, flurried around the building, sometimes sneaking through the windows and past the radiators which labored to dispel the chill of the room.

Students were bored with subject matter and with the dreary world outside. The gloomy sky seen through the windows had cast its spell over them.

One thing in the room defied the cold gray day and strove to brighten the room. A charming little white flower on the desk of the teacher held its head high and lent the sweetest scent imaginable to the schoolroom atmosphere.

As the teacher's desk, sat a boy who had not shown interest in the poem being read. He was intent upon something else—so intent that he did not hear the question directed at him.

As the teacher looked at him questioning, he leaned a little further toward the flower and inhaled deeply.

LOCAL QUINTET TO MEET FOES ON ROAD TRIP

Harvesters to Clash With Four Rival Cage Squads

Leaving Pampa tomorrow on a road trip from which they will return Saturday night, the Harvesters will encounter Turkey, Plainview, Lubbock, and Amarillo this week.

Feature game of the trip will be the contest tomorrow night with the Turkey cagers, since the Harvesters will be seeking revenge for the 23 to 20 defeat they suffered recently when the Turks mated the Harvesters' record of consecutive victories on the occasion of their appearance on the local floor.

The Turks have lost only one game this season. This loss was to Quannah in the radiator tournament, the scoring being 28 to 14. With both teams obsessed with the idea of victory, the going should be fast and furious during the full 48 minutes.

The Plainview Bulldogs will be the local opponents Thursday evening. The Bulldogs came here Saturday and went home with the Harvesters holding a 29 to 18 victory over them. The Bulldogs held the lead in the first half, but the Harvesters forged ahead in the third quarter and continued to lead until the final whistle.

On Friday evening the Lubbock Westerners will make a desperate effort to redeem themselves for the licking they took from the Harvesters here last week. The score in that encounter was 39 to 28.

Final game of the trip will take place in Amarillo Saturday evening with the Sandies trying to ease memory of the 24 to 9 victory won by the Harvesters two weeks ago. All indications are that the Harvesters should win easily over the Amarillo team, but three games during three days of travel, along with the time allowed for improvement in the Amarillo quintet, make it likely that the game will be a close one. Many local fans are expected to witness the game in Amarillo Saturday night. It will start at 8 o'clock.

At present the Harvesters are leading the league, with the Borger Bulldogs ranking second, and the Lubbock Westerners third.

'DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS' WILL BE PRESENTED BY SENIORS ON FRIDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS

First-Aid Drills Are Given Girls In Gym Classes

Work in girls' physical education classes this year includes many things not commonly taught in high schools as part of the physical education program. For example, stress is being placed on skills which girls may use to advantage in taking care of injured persons.

The health educational program for the first third of this semester will be based on first-aid work. This includes not only bandaging, but also measures to take in case of accidents, fire, drowning, cuts, burns, shock, and fainting.

Miss Kathleen Milam, who took a first-aid course at Baylor university, and who is an examiner in the Red Cross Life Saving Corps, will give examinations to the students at end of the term. Certificates will be given to those qualified through the local Red Cross.

SCHOOL PAPER RANKS SECOND IN ITS CLASS

Press Group Elects Hampton Stennis Vice-President

The local Harvester was judged the second-best newspaper in the classification in the Panhandle High School Press association which held its meeting in Panhandle Saturday. It was out-ranked by the Canyon Eagle's Tale.

Carl Camp's news story on plans for the new high school auditorium won second place in the news writing contest.

Hampton Stennis, of Pampa, was elected vice-president of the organization, which will meet in Amarillo next year. Mary Collins, Canyon, was chosen as president, and Herbert Foster, Amarillo, was elected secretary-treasurer. Faculty adviser for the association will be Mrs. J. N. Browning, of the Amarillo Sandstorm.

Borger was Amarillo's only rival in bidding for the trophy convention. The trophy was awarded to the best newspaper was awarded to the Western World of Lubbock, which was elected to membership in the association Saturday. The trophy was supplied by the Pampa Daily News. The Canyon News trophy for the best newspaper was also won by the Western World. The Amarillo Sandstorm won the Amarillo Globe-News trophy for the best news story.

Dave Warren, editor of the Panhandle Herald, was first speaker at the convention. He emphasized the importance of accuracy in news writing, saying: "You cannot have a paper that has the respect of your school unless you do accurate writing. Although the eye and the ear are most valuable in gathering news, the material you report must be upon exclusively. Do not hesitate to ask for repetition of information when in doubt."

Vestal Lott, Amarillo Associated Press correspondent, explained the history and operation of his organization at luncheon at which the high school journalists were guests.

Tickets to Three-Act Comedy Are Now On Sale

'Dollars to Doughnuts' Will Be Presented by Seniors on Friday and Saturday Nights

There is a great need for student directors among the casts trying out in the one-act play contest for the right to present the play "Dust" in the Interscholastic League contest.

Ben Guill urged yesterday that all students interested in such work see him immediately.

Because of the local character of the play there is unusual interest on the part of the students, and the number trying out for roles is unusually large.

The Senior Play

"You want a ticket to the senior play?" That's what all the seniors say. "The best we've produced in years. One moment you'll laugh, the next it's tears."

"Wait until you see the cast—it's grand! With Mickey Ledrick it's sure to demand a house that's packed full to the brim. 'Cause everyone always comes to see him."

"And Mary Adams, who played last year, she'll draw a crowd, never fear. A very practical daughter is Flora Deen. Who's quite a contrast to extravagant Pauline."

"Philip and Mary are father and mother— They have a time with the family 'bother.' Don Foster and Tom Rose already have their fame; And J. G. McConnell has quite a name."

"After all, we think you'll all agree The senior play is worth while to see; Buy your ticket and take this tip— It'll help the seniors make the Carlsbad trip."

TALKS TO HI-Y

The Rev. John Mullen talked to a group of 27 members of the HI-Y club on "character building," when the group met Monday night at the high school building. Following the meeting, the group adjourned to the gymnasium to practice basketball for intramural meet to be held soon.

'ROUND AND 'ROUND

Boys who are members of the skating party band went on an ice skating party three miles east of Pampa Saturday morning. Afterward Winston Savage served doughnuts and coffee to the group at his home.

Montana carloadings for the first nine months of 1935 showed a 34.2 per cent increase, exclusive of shipments from Fort Peck dam, big government project in the northern part of the state.

Twenty-five local F. F. A. members, accompanied by J. L. Lester and A. E. Frazier, sponsors, will attend a district F. F. A. meeting at Memphis Saturday. The meeting will be a joint one with district home economics girls.

Memphis school committees, the chamber of commerce, church workers, and newspaper men are combining their efforts to make Saturday's meeting successful. A band concert, a pageant, and a program in which the Pampa boys will take part are planned for the day.

A barbecue will feature the noon hour. Demonstrations on soil conservation projects will take place in the afternoon. The United States Soil Service representatives from Amarillo will cooperate in making these demonstrations successful.

They can be quickly turned into instruments of destruction. They can change what a few seconds before was a live, eager human being into quivering flesh, spattered blood, and broken bones. This is not a fantastic picture. It is grim reality.

When next you drive a car, remember that you are responsible for the lives of others, and remember too that while there may seem to be no danger at the moment you cannot know for sure. If danger always gave warning, there would be few accidents. Don't let yourself be the cause of an accident you will regret the rest of your life.—F. M.

Many articles have been written about the dangers we incur as drivers of automobiles or as pedestrians. These articles are usually passed over lightly by students, yet they are very frequently the ones who should think seriously on the matter. Too many students would rather be indiscreet than be delayed.

More than 36,000 people were killed as the result of automobile accidents last year. Most of these deaths were the result of careless driving, and in many cases high school students were drivers.

The proper thing to do is to think before—not afterward. The careless, incompetent driver may realize just before the crash that he has been rash, but it is too late. Most of us know how we should drive. The thing we need to do is to obey the dictates of our common sense instead of being impulsively rash.

A car going 65 miles an hour hurtles over the road at 100 feet per second. Imagine then the terrible scene that follows when a small child or a stumbling old man starts across the road in ignorance of the danger rushing upon them. Your answer, after the accident, must be that you could not stop in time. Naturally, you couldn't.

The STRANGE CASE of JULIA CRAIG

by Nard Jones
Copyright NEA 1936

CHAPTER I

HER arms pressing two bundles close against her slender waist, and one small capable hand searching hurriedly for the key in her bag, Julia Craig stood before the door of the little apartment which she shared with Amy Sanders.

When at last she was successful in managing both the key and the two bulky bundles and had entered the apartment without mishap, Amy looked at her from the security of the room's one davenport. As dark as Julia was blond, Amy had reached home a few moments before, slipped into her red negligee and settled herself comfortably with a magazine.

Julia glared in mock anger. "Didn't you hear me trying to get in?"

"Sure," said Amy cheerfully. "But I knew you had a key."

"You knew it was my day to bring groceries, too," said Julia from the kitchen where she was disposing of the bundles on the diminutive tile drainboard. "And you knew I'd be loaded down like a truck horse."

Through the open doorway, Amy surveyed Julia's figure enviously. "You're a long way from being a truck horse, darling. Why don't you wear that black dress all the time? You're certainly a swell dish in it."

Julia returned to the room. Taking her smart little hat carefully by its front brim she lifted it from her blond head and tossed it on the table.

Amy gazed at her critically. "Bad day at the office, Julia?"

"No worse than most, I suppose," Julia said.

"Well," Amy sighed, "at least it's exciting to work for lawyers. You should try to sell the latest models to these old hens for eight hours a day."

"I'd think it would be interesting, Amy. You get a chance to see in the flesh some of these women I can see only through their pictures in the society section."

Amy snorted. "Personally, I'd rather look at them in pictures. I waited on Mrs. Hamilton Uzzon today. Every hair of her?"

"Of course," Julia said. "She had a tea for the Garden Club last week."

"Yeah," said Amy irreverently. "Listen—the Uzzon bill hasn't been paid at our shop for a year and a half. Mrs. Hamilton Uzzon couldn't buy an extra button in our place unless she paid cash, and all the girls have instructions to that effect. Mrs. Uzzon knows it, too—but she comes into the shop with her friends and tries on dresses by the hour. Then when it's all over she says, 'Really, I think your gowns are getting awfully nondescript.'"

Julia laughed. "I think that's delightful!"

"Well, if you had to listen to it you wouldn't have such a nice sense of humor," Amy mentioned. "And we all have to be nice to her because her husband may pay the bill any minute—and because she has influence."

"That's the whole story," said Julia reflectively. "You have to be nice to her, because she has influence."

At her roommate's cynical tone, Amy's dark eyes widened. She tossed the magazine to the foot of the davenport and brought her slippers to the floor. "What's got into you, Julia? You've been moping for weeks now. You used to be the life of the party when we'd have the gang in. Last time they were here you wouldn't even sing a song for us. And everybody knows you can make a song sound all right, even when the tune isn't so good and the words are absolutely senseless."

"What do you mean, 'everybody' knows it?" inquired Julia, getting up restlessly. "Maybe the gang, as you call them, knows it, but nobody else does."

"What do you care about that?"

Julia turned suddenly, her eyes gleaming. "I care a lot, Amy. I'm sick and tired of working for Woodford and Brooks."

"It's a good job, Julia. You get a lot more money than I do. A lot more than most girls working downtown."

"What if I do? Where does it get me?" Julia paced to the window and looked out. Then she said, slowly: "I'm 20, Amy."

"I'm 25," Amy said, "and I'm still having a lot of fun."

Julia turned. "Maybe you are," she said cruelly, "but it's not the kind of fun I want, Amy. I don't want to be George Woodford's secretary until I'm old. I'll—I'll be like Miss Jamieson down at the office. She's been there for 22 years."

"Maybe she likes it," said Amy. "Every girl isn't as ambitious as you are, Julia."

"Aren't they?" argued Julia. "I'm not so sure. I think they are—until life gets them down."

Amy Sanders stared at the carpet a moment. Then: "Julia... you said Peter Kemp wanted to marry you. Why don't you take him up?"

"Because I don't want to," said Julia quickly.

"Because you don't love him?" asked Amy quietly.

"I haven't thought about love, Amy. But I've thought about some things that are a darned sight more important. Peter Kemp doesn't get any more money at Woodford and Brooks than I do. They use him to brief their cases—then Mr. Woodford or Mr. Brooks goes into court and makes the brilliant showing. I don't want to marry a man like that, Amy."

Amy didn't reply at once. She reached for a cigarette from the pack on the little table. When she had lighted it and blown a pillar of smoke toward the ceiling, she said, "Well... I didn't mean you'd have to take Peter. But in a job like yours you have a chance to meet a lot of likely men."

"Oh, yes," said Julia. "We have a chance to meet men. But—" she faced her roommate squarely. "Amy, the average girl working in an office is stuck any way you look at it. We work for wages that most men wouldn't think of accepting; and we do plenty of work, too. Lots of times we correct the mistakes of men who get three and four times the salary we get. And you talk about the chances for meeting marriageable men, Amy, the men we meet are of two kinds, usually. The kind that want to marry us, but who can't improve our status. And the kind who offer something less than marriage—and expect us to like it!"

Amy looked at her roommate curiously. "All right," she said. "You don't like the way things are. What are you going to do about it?"

CHAPTER II

Julia said, without hesitation, "You know me well enough to know that if I didn't have some ideas for changing things I wouldn't be kicking." She took a long breath, then went on, "Amy, I'm going to try to do something with my voice. I don't mean anything fancy. But I know I have a knack for singing these modern songs."

Amy's tone was comically astonished. "You—you don't mean one of these female crooners?"

"Call it whatever you like," said Julia. "That's my plan."

"I guess I'll have to get a radio," Amy said, aloud as if to herself. "I saw a perfect honey yesterday for $5 down."

"I'm not kidding, Amy. But I don't mean radio singing. I know perfectly well that I haven't the best voice in the world, and that maybe I'll have to use my face and figure, too." She laughed. "Assuming I have them. You're always telling me I have."

"You know perfectly well you have. Did you ever look at a man's face when you were singing one of these modern torch songs?"

Julia took a cigarette of her own, tapped its end against the table, then put it down without touching it to her lips. "I'm going to try to get a job singing, Amy. It's my only chance to be something and to meet the right men. I won't work at Woodford and Brooks' until I'm old—until I get panicky and marry the first man who comes along!"

Amy started toward the kitchen. "Well, let's forget it now and see what we can make of the groceries you brought home."

Julia started to put on a kitchen apron over her black dress, but she had hardly tied the knot at her waist when the telephone rang. It was Peter Kemp. "I'm sorry, but I haven't had the chance to call you before this. I worked late at the office. Hope you haven't started dinner yet, because I'd like to take you out."

Julia was hesitating at the telephone when Amy Sanders came in from the kitchen. "Tell him you'll go to dinner with him," she advised quickly. "Royal Nesbitt is coming to take me out after dinner, and I'd have to hurry through it, anyhow."

"All right," said Julia into the mouthpiece. "I'd like to come, Peter."

When she replaced the instrument in its cradle she was facing Amy's amused smile. "I'm not weakening," she told Amy. "I happen to know that Peter has a friend who leads an orchestra. Maybe he can get me a chance to sing."

"Okay, darling. Go change your clothes while I have a cup of coffee to strengthen myself against Royal Nesbitt."

Julia Craig left the telephone and walked toward Amy. "You've been giving me some advice, Amy. What about this Royal Nesbitt?"

"What do you mean?"

"I mean... he has money, and everybody in town knows he's not very serious-minded. Why is he giving you a run?"

"Why not?" asked Amy. "He likes me, and I think he's a lot of fun."

Julia's glance met that of Amy Sanders, met it squarely. "You'll watch your step, won't you?"

Amy grinned. "I always do, Julia. There's something funny about a dizzy blond giving advice to a brunet. But I get your point, all right."

"I may be blond," said Julia. "But I'm not dizzy... yet."

"You're telling me?" asked Amy, and went to see to the percolator while Julia went into the dressing room which was also the hiding place for the fold-down bed. In that confined space, under a rather feeble electric light, she changed her clothes and prepared herself for Peter Kemp's call.

Amy said, "All right. You don't like the way things are. What are you going to do about it?"

He rang the bell promptly a half hour late. He was a well set-up young man, neatly dressed and alert—and his eyes showed plainly that he worshiped Julia Craig.

"Sorry to creep up on you like this," he said when she let him in. "But I was working late at the office, and it suddenly occurred to me that I ought to stay downtown and have dinner with you—if you'd let me."

"I'm glad you thought of it tonight," Julia said, laughing. "Amy's all in a stir to get out for a date—so I don't think she'd be much company at dinner."

Amy emerged from the dressing room, hooking a flowered print dress. "Hullo, Peter. I warn you about Miss Craig tonight. This is one of her moody days."

Peter and Julia exchanged glances which told Amy that Peter Kemp was all too familiar with Julia's "moody days."

"Is that right?" he said lightly. "I'm afraid I'm in for it, then."

"I'm afraid you are," said Amy and disappeared into the dressing room again. "However," she called out, "I hope you have a good time."

When Peter and Julia were outside in the hall, he said, "Amy didn't really seem very hopeful that we would have a good time. What's wrong, Julia? Got the blues again?"

Julia nodded. "I'm afraid so, Peter. But they're not so bad this time. At last I've decided to do something about them."

He pressed the button for the automatic elevator, and said quietly: "I don't suppose that means you'll marry me?"

"N-no, Peter. I—" Julia hesitated. "I'll tell you all about it at dinner."

They ate in a little restaurant near the apartment, for it developed that Peter had to complete his work at the office. It was on the big public utilities case that Julia had mentioned to Amy, and Peter had to prepare a brief for a phase of it. When the coffee came, Peter offered his cigarettes and said, "All right, Julia. Let's have it."

"I want to quit Woodford and Brooks, Peter."

"Yes? What then?"

Julia looked at him. "I—I've decided to try to sing, Peter."

"You've decided to try?" exclaimed Kemp. "Say, right now you're better than nine-tenths of these dames who get paid for it in the night clubs!"

"You really think so?"

"I know it, Julia."

"Then will you give me a note of introduction to your friend, Henri Lamp, who leads the band at the Green Club."

The directness of her question surprised Peter. "Why—"

"Will you, Peter?"

"Why, of course, if you're really serious. But I don't see—"

"My mind's made up, Peter. And you can help me, if you will. You've known Lamb a long time."

"I'd do anything in the world for you, Julia. You know that. I'll—I'll write the note tonight and give it to you tomorrow morning at the office."

(To Be Continued)

Peter pushed the button for the elevator. He said quietly, "I don't suppose that means you'll marry me?"

COURT SPLIT ON THE ISSUE, CAPITAL HEARS

SUTHERLAND, STONE BELIEVED WRITING OPINIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—The Supreme Court today in announcing a decision on the Tennessee Valley act produced speculation today that a lively controversy has been raging within the tribunal.

Even if the guess was correct, the question of which one was writing the majority opinion still remained unanswered. Sutherland usually lines up with the "conservatives" and Stone with the "liberals."

During arguments weeks ago, Justices Sutherland, McReynolds, Butler, and Van Devanter asked a number of questions which—if taken at their face value—indicated they were against the government's experiment to produce a "yardstick" for measuring the "proper" cost of electricity to consumers.

The belief that the court was split was based on the fact that 47 days have elapsed since the case was argued. This is considerably longer than was required to decide other new deal litigation this term.

Arguments continued today in the case of the Sugar Institute, Inc., with government attorneys contending the organization of refiners should be dissolved as in restraint of competition.

Tomorrow arguments will be presented on a government motion to dismiss an attack brought by Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia against the Bankhead cotton control act.

Unless some motion is made to the contrary, the court will proceed with the case notwithstanding President Roosevelt's request to congress yesterday to repeal the legislation.

Amarilloan Is Shot to Death

AMARILLO, Feb. 4. (AP)—Indian Joe Taylor, a federal and Oklahoma convict, was shot to death last night at his small road house near here.

Clovis Ray Howard, 17, Taylor's former step-son, surrendered to officers. He said Taylor had threatened his mother's life.

Officers said Taylor, 46, had served sentence for murder in Oklahoma and one for prohibition violation in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

COLUMN

frankly stated or plainly implied. Much of it is nothing less than fraud. Often organizations, church groups, and fraternal organizations unwittingly allow their names to be used in a shameless manner in extracting money with poor sportsmanship and tact, from office-seekers. Centennial rackets are becoming "as thick as fleas."

WE DON'T KNOW how many persons in this territory must pay income taxes this year, but we do know that a great many must file returns. For this reason, this column will carry a series of paragraphs on the law.

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 16, 1936. WHERE? Collectors of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions on forms 1040A and 1040.

WHAT? Four percent normal tax on the amount of net income in excess of the personal exemption credit for dependents, earned income credit, dividends of domestic corporations subject to taxation, and interest on obligations of the United States and obligations of instrumentalities of the United States.

Surtax on surtax net income in excess of $4,000.

Income-tax don'ts: DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembly of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

JONES

Kerr-Smith tobacco control act and the potato control act. The house has yet to act. The action was taken without a dissenting vote and with barely two dozen senators on the floor.

Chairman Smith (D. S. C.) of the senate agriculture committee explained that his bill proposed to repeal the trio of measures upset by the Supreme Court's invalidation of AAA and it went through in less than a minute after it was presented on the floor.

The senate committee also ordered the drafting of a bill to carry out President Roosevelt's recommendation for "prompt repeal" of the Bankhead cotton, Kerr-Smith tobacco, and potato control acts in view of the invalidation of the AAA program by the Supreme Court.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—The stock market selected its buying spots with care today and neglected several of the recent favorites.

Merchandising, farm implement, oil, rubber and specialty issues were in demand for gains of fractions to 2 or more points. The motors sagged, along with the mines.

The close was fully firm. Transfers approximated 3,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (AP)—Wheat ruled a little higher most of the time today, influenced somewhat by reports of generally unfavorable conditions for winter crops in foreign countries.

Serious complaints regarding crops were received especially from France where rains have been persistent. Some fears were expressed that considerable Illinois wheat had been damaged by sudden cold after thaws.

What closed firm, 1/2 off to 1/2, up compared with yesterday's finish. May 99 1/2, corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 60 1/2, oats exactly unchanged, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to an equal gain.

Father of First Pampa-Born Boy Taken by Death

The ranks of the Pampa pioneers were thinned again last night with the passing of Sam A. Case, 79, who died at 11:45 o'clock at the home of his only daughter, Mrs. A. A. Tiemann. He had been in failing health for some time. He was the father of the first boy, H. L. Case, born in Pampa.

Mr. Case had been a resident of Pampa for 48 years, coming here from Kansas soon after the railroad. He was section foreman for the Santa Fe railroad for 20 years after moving to Pampa. Before taking up railroading, Mr. Case received a degree in medicine. He was born in Iowa but moved to Kansas with his parents at an early age.

After leaving the Santa Fe in 1908, Mr. Case was with the Pampa Grain company. Later he joined his son-in-law, A. A. Tiemann, in the Great West Mill and Elevator company and was active until recently. He was a life-long member of the Christian church.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Tiemann, two sons, A. T. Case Pampa, and H. L. Case, Rush, Colo., a brother, C. B. Case, Harlingen, N. J., and two granddaughters, Madge and Billy Jean Tiemann.

The body lies at the G. C. Malone Funeral home. Funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of his son from Colorado. At noon today the son had not been located, weather conditions making it impossible for a message to reach him before this afternoon.

LARGE CROWD

Scouts from LeFors. All were completely uniformed. Merit badges were presented as follows:

Baldwin Strubling, metal work, Harold Thompson, bookbinding, Joe Gargle, bookbinding, troop 14; Leon Daugherty, music, reading, scholarship, troop 22; Tom Archie Walker, cooking, pigeon raising, swimming, Elmer Lee Husband, athletics, first aid, personal health, plumbing, public health, Paul Jenks, cooking, Ber Cheek, automobile, mechanical drawing, woodwork, swimming, Maynard Johnson, carpentry, mechanical drawing, woodwork, all of troop 19. LeFors; Richard Pearson carpentry, music, handicraft, woodwork, troop 81.

Under the new statement of policy adopted by the executive board and council, Jan. 13, badges were presented to all Scouts who were advanced without charge.

CHARGED WITH MURDER
LUFKIN, Feb. 4. (AP)—A murder charge was filed today against Joe Mann in connection with the fatal stabbing of Martin Dies Davis, 26. A knife blade penetrated Davis' brain in a fight three weeks ago at a highway resort and he died yesterday. Mann had been charged with assault with intent to murder but the new charge was filed after Davis died. Examining trial was set for this afternoon.

Here's Who's Who

And here you see both the characters so cleverly rolled into one by the makeup in which Helen Hayes is portrayed in the picture on 4. She is garbed for the Broadway stage hit, "Victoria Regina." The character she portrays is, of course, Queen Victoria, who ruled England from 1837 to 1901.

WEATHER

Ala. The two trains were caught in the whirling debris and buried. The Warrior river at Tuscaloosa rose 40 feet in 24 hours, with a crest of 65 feet predicted, against a flood stage of 45 feet.

To the misery of those driven from their homes in Alabama was added another cold wave, as the mercury was steadily falling, with a low of four to 12 degrees predicted tomorrow.

Fears felt for the safety of the residents of Collinsville, Ala., abated this morning as water that ranged from two to six feet deep in the streets began subsiding.

Apprehension still was felt for the safety of nearly two score persons at Coaldale, near here, where the Little Warrior river, rising with irresistible rapidity, trapped them.

Rainfall Is Heavy
Relief crews were seeking means of removing these persons, families of PWA workers living in five double houses, to safety as the river continued to rise.

A seven inch rain at Meridian, Miss., flooded lower suburbs, and trains were running hours late. The crash of a bridge wrecked a gas main, cutting off the city's gas supply.

Swirling water carried away a bridge at Meridian, halting traffic over the Gulf, Mobile and Northern railway, and two trains were marooned near Hickory, Miss., where railroad officials said water over the right of way was "waist deep."

Hundreds of residents in lower portions of Birmingham were trapped in their homes last night as a four inch rain washed away the city's record 11-inch snowfall, and Village creek swirled out of its banks.

HEARING SET
AUSTIN, Feb. 4. (AP)—The railroad commission today called its monthly statewide oil and gas production hearing for Feb. 18.

Mrs. W. A. Hall and son left Pampa-Jarratt hospital for their home yesterday afternoon.

BOY SCOUTS

Friday include mayor, 2 city commissioners, tax assessor-collector, building inspector, water officer, health officer, fire chief, police chief, police judge, city attorney and so forth.

Thus will the Scouts open Scout week. On Saturday at 5:35 p. m. all scouts in this immediate community will gather in the city hall auditorium to hear President Roosevelt address the scouts on the anniversary of the founding of Scouting.

The huge scout assembly which is expected to be attended by more than 300 boys will be in the nature of a roundup.

At troop meetings this week, scoutmasters will instruct members of the troop to do a civic good turn for the sponsors of the troops. Each boy will be instructed to place himself at the service of one of the sponsors for an hour. For instance, each Scout in a church-sponsored troop will be assigned to a member of the governing body of the church, deacons or stewards, and the boy will present himself to that official for orders. The Scouts sponsored by the Lions and Rotary troops will wait upon members of those two civic clubs.

Also, in celebrating Scout week, the various troops of this community will place exhibits in local shop windows. Each will attend church in a body Sunday. Ministers of the city will preach sermons, either Sunday morning or Sunday evening.

These plans were made last night at a meeting of local scoutmasters in the city hall. Other ways of observing Scout anniversary week will be announced later.

Speakers declared that for the good of the nation strikes and threats of strikes in Monterey must be stopped or they would spread all over the country.

Already one big factory, employing 1,600 men, was shut down because of labor trouble and situations tending toward walk-outs were threatened at other plants.

COURT RECORD

Scheduled suits having been continued, the jury panel for this week in 31st district court has been discharged.

Mrs. Frank Spelman underwent a major operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday afternoon. Her condition this morning was favorable.

'Down With the Communists' Is Heard in Mexico

LAREDO, Feb. 4. (AP)—Conservative Monterey citizens today planned a mass demonstration to combat what they regarded as a communist attempt to take control of this Mexican industrial city by fomenting strikes.

"Down with the communists" was the slogan adopted by business men and labor leaders for a parade tomorrow of all elements opposed to radical actions, advices reaching the border said.

Purpose of the demonstration is "to convince the minority of workers who have sided with communist agitators that the majority is against this action."

Monterrey factories arranged to release their employees in order that they may take part in the parade. Conservatives expected between 25,000 and 30,000 to parade.

At an emergency meeting of conservative labor leaders and business men last night it was stressed that the demonstration would be constitutional in every respect and in line with policies of the Mexican government.

Speakers declared that for the good of the nation strikes and threats of strikes in Monterey must be stopped or they would spread all over the country.

Already one big factory, employing 1,600 men, was shut down because of labor trouble and situations tending toward walk-outs were threatened at other plants.

State Supervisor Of School Music Coming to County

Miss Nell Parmley, state supervisor of public school music, will come to Pampa and Gray county February 11 and 12, she has informed W. B. Weathered, county superintendent.

A special program will be arranged for her.

Miss Parmley is stressing Centennial music this year. Locally, a Centennial singing festival for all school children in the county, to be held at Harvester park, is taking form.

Miss Parmley will be heard Friday at 11:30 a. m. over the Texas Quality network, singing Centennial songs with Freddie Martin.

Maj. Littlefield's 'Boy' Dies at 105

AUSTIN, Feb. 4. (AP)—"Uncle Nathan" Stokes, 105, faithful slave-born servant of the Major George W. Littlefield family, today lay beside the bodies of his masters in Oakwood cemetery.

As a lad, Nathan became known as "Major Littlefield's boy." He accompanied his master to war when the major served in Terry's Rangers. He rescued his wounded master from a Mississippi battlefield.

Mrs. A. L. Lard is undergoing treatment at Pampa-Jarratt hospital.

FREE EDUCATIONAL MOVIES BEING SHOWN HERE TODAY

Educational safety pictures sponsored through free shows by Culbertson-Small Chevrolet company were being viewed by many Pampans today.

City Resident Dies Suddenly

Alfred Dennis Cotten, 68, resident of Pampa for four years, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home, 917 E. Campbell street. He had been with the State Highway department here.

Surviving are his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Cora Bell, Mrs. Lorene Harper, and Mrs. Willie Blackman, all of Pampa; four sons, J. H. Cotten, Longview, Alfred and Gussie Cotten, both of Pampa, and Lee Cotten, Bell, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Annie Ring, Addington, Okla.; two brothers, Richard Cotten, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Bennett Cotten, Rising Star, and a nephew, Alvin Cox, Pampa.

This morning at 9:30 o'clock, high school students went to La Nora theater to see industrial movies in sound. At noon the Jaycees were scheduled to see a program of a similar nature.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, the public is invited to attend a free sound movie in the city auditorium. Thrilling pictures will be used to illustrate safety on the highways, and dangers involved. Industrial scenes will be of an educational nature. One film will show an auto race up Pike's peak.

Local Chevrolet salesmen enjoyed a chicken-bean dinner at the Eagle Buffet last night. Winners in a sales contest ate the chicken. Max Meadows, district sales manager, made a short address.

The Pampa agency reported its best January business, with the exception of 1929.

Man's Friends Glad He Hold Them About BLACK-DRAUGHT

Writing from Texarkana, Texas, Mr. W. T. Bentley of that city says: "I have been using Black-Draught for fully forty years. I keep a supply on hand. I first knew of Black-Draught when I was a boy, clerking in a store. I saw people buying it and thought it must be good. I took it for constipation and biliousness. I would have a bad taste in my mouth and headache. I knew I needed a laxative—something to cleanse the system. I would hunt up the Black-Draught and take a dose. I would be relieved in a few hours. In Black-Draught, I have found a simple remedy—one that does not have any after-effects. I do not know of anything better to take for a dull, tired, listless feeling. I have recommended Black-Draught to many friends and neighbors. I know they have been glad that I did, for they have said so." (Adv.)
