$1.7 Billion Asked To Fight War in Viet Nam

Yarborough Hits Connally Stand

EL PASO (UPI) — Gov. John B. Connally used his veto power to defeat and destroy the war on poverty in President Johnson's home state, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., has charged.

Connally denied it. Yarborough, in a speech before the Texas AFL-CIO state convention, lashed out at Connally's control of the federal Neighborhood Youth Corps program.

Additional Money To Aid in Call-Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson asked Congress today to put up an additional $1.7 billion to fight the war in Viet Nam.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said U.S. armed forces would be increased to almost 3 million by mid-1966. The Pentagon chief delivered a brief letter by Johnson to the Senate Armed Services Committee asking for the additional war money, then outlined for a military appropriations subcommittee how it would be spent.

U.S. Strength In Viet Reaches 82,000 Men

SAIGON (UPI)—Thirty giant B52 bombers from Guam rained 500 tons of bombs on a suspected Viet Cong concentration near the North Vietnamese border today. In Saigon a spokesman disclosed U.S. troop strength in Viet Nam had soared over the 82,000 mark.

Daley's Neighbors Pelt Demonstrators With Eggs

By United Press International

Civil rights demonstrators disbanded early today outside the home of Chicago mayor Richard J. Daley—where they were pelted with eggs and tomatoes by his angry neighbors.

In Americus, Ga., civil rights leaders warned white bystanders not to come too near a demonstration Tuesday night and made it clear they were ready for trouble.

At least one demonstrator and one policeman were hit by the missiles. Democratic aldermen joined police in urging the bystanders to return home. About 125 demonstrators marched last night on the streets of Chicago.

Earlier, Eddie James Lamar and Charlie Lee Hopkins, both 21-year-old Negroes, were indicted for murder in the night-riding slaying of Andrew Whatley, a 21-year-old white youth, last Wednesday night during a demonstration. They will be tried in November. In Allendale, S.C., a part-time civil rights consultant said he was "too tired" to know what he was doing when he bailed 16 civil rights demonstrators out of jail Tuesday in the name of the "U.S. government."

Objects Still Haunt Skies in Southwest

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Thousands of persons across the nation's Midlands and Southwest again Tuesday night reported seeing mysterious flashing, winking and sparking phenomena that sped and sometimes zig-zagged across the skies.

Something zipped overhead that was bright, yellowish and zigzagged slightly. It was replaced, he said, with a red light surrounded by three white lights. The red light was the brightest, he said.

House Expected To OK Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Education and Labor Committee is expected to approve a plan to raise the federal minimum wage for most workers from $1.25 to $1.75 and give farm workers minimum pay protection for the first time.

Nearly 61 million workers under minimum wages, 1.5 million more than Johnson asked.

Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., chairman of a labor subcommittee which approved the sweeping bill Tuesday, predicted its approval by an overwhelming 8-1 margin when it goes before the full committee next week.

Johnson also had not asked for an increase in the present $1.25 wage floor, which under the measure would be raised over a three-year period for workers now covered and over a six-year period for most of the newly-covered workers.

Mexican Villagers Go On Vampire Hunt

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (UPI)—The third vampire-killing expedition in the last four months left for the mountains Tuesday to carry on the war against Chihuahua's huge and troublesome bats.

The plague of the vampire bats has been molesting the mountain villages of southwestern Chihuahua, attacking both people and cattle. Some of the vampires have three-foot wingspans and fangs an inch long.

Senators Buckle Down on Hot Remap Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senators called a morning session today to buckle down to serious debate on an issue that could decide whether or not Congress winds up its business early this year.

Big Army Boost

Under McNamara's new personnel blueprint, the Army would get most of the new fighting men — 235,000. That step would include an additional division and three brigades plus other replacements needed to replace manpower rained away by the fighting in Viet Nam.

Outcome Not Disclosed

As in previous B52 raids the U.S. military did not announce whether it was successful. There still was no report on the effects of a raid on the Ho Chi Minh trail Monday by the B52s. The trail named after the North Vietnamese leader is the route by which supplies are smuggled through Laos into South Viet Nam.

Politicians Accused Of Strangling Labor

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press International
EL PASO (UPI)—President H. S. (Hank) Brown of the Texas AFL-CIO told the state labor union convention that "strangled labor in Texas is being strangled . . . by politicians and newspapers who lie to us."

Brown's address opened the 9th annual state meeting of the organization, being attended by 1,000 delegates.

He said politicians and newspapers are being aided by "standpatners in our ranks who are too blind to see the truth and too tired or too lazy to organize."

The dominant theme of the four-day convention is expected to be anti-John Connally campaign which Texas labor leaders have been building up in past months. Also to come before the meeting are resolutions on current political issues.

Borwn said that three million people in Texas living in poverty are the victims of "the labor-hating, labor-baiting, Dixiecratic political machine that now runs this state as it has done since (Gov.) Allan Shivers."

"Right now, the titular head of the machine is John Connally, who says he is a Democrat except he opposes Medicare, fights repeal of 14-B, minimum wage extension, industrial safety and federal standards for unemployment compensation," Brown said.

The labor leader spoke in El Paso's Liberty Hall, and asked delegates to remember that it was the state Democratic convention in 1962 in the same city that wrote Connally's "retention of our right-to-work law" into the party platform.

Backstairs At The White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backstairs at the White House: When President Johnson visited former President Harry S. Truman at Independence, Mo., last week, there was sad amazement expressed in the large Washington contingent about Truman's appearance.

Expressions of concern came largely from those who have not seen the former Chief Executive in some time.

He is, after all, 81 years old and time is beginning to show in the old fighter. Truman's smile is as broad as ever and he seemed to be utterly delighted to be surrounded again by so many of his old friends from the halls of Congress.

Johnson organized the large assembly of representatives and senators, most of them Democrats, to honor Truman—and underscore the fact that it was under the Democrats in 1946 that the first comprehensive health plan was sent to Congress. The peg on which Johnson hung the sentimental occasion was his signing of the new health care and Social Security bill.

House Approves Sweeping Change In Immigration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Judiciary Committee today approved a sweeping reform of U.S. immigration law that includes repeal of the controversial national origins quota system.

The committee voted 26-4 for the bill which is a key part of the administration's legislative program.

Rep. Michael A. Feighan, D-Ohio, chairman of the subcommittee that wrote the bill after nearly three years of deadlock, said the measure approved today "is a bipartisan bill."

"I am confident this bill will pass the House on its merits," he said.

The immigration measure has not yet come up in the Senate.

Other congressional news: Voting Rights: The House moved toward final approval of a compromise voting rights bill aimed at guaranteeing Southern Negroes their rights at the polls. The Senate plans to take up the measure later this week. Passage there would send the legislation to the White House by weekend.

Consular: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved the long-delayed consular treaty with the Soviet Union. It would allow each country to establish consular offices in the other.

Banks: Former Colorado Gov. Stephen McNichols told the Senate Rackets subcommittee today that he was deliberately smeared in closed door testimony this year regarding failure of the Brighton, Colo., National Bank. McNichols strongly denied allegations that he was friendly with underworld characters.

Reform: Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska, told lawmakers studying congressional reforms they might consider governmental financial aid for candidates for election. He also told the joint committee on congressional organization it should consider tax credits or tax deductions for political gifts.

Labor: A House Labor subcommittee today approved legislation that would increase the federal minimum wage to $1.75 an hour and extend wage-hour law coverage to $1 million additional workers.

Reserves: The chairman of a House subcommittee considering the proposed merger of the Army Reserves and the National security" to go ahead with the plan now. Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., made the statement immediately after Deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus Vance bluntly told the panel just the opposite—that national security would suffer if Congress did not authorize the realignment.

Walks More Slowly
Truman seemed to have aged considerably in the past year. His eyesight, never good, seemed to have deteriorated noticeably.

He walks more slowly as a result of injuries suffered in a fall not too long ago. His speaking voice, however, remains firm and he still has a tart sense of humor.

He has not the slightest apparent thought of retiring to the pillows of boredom to await the onset of even older age. Truman talks instead of the hundreds of projects still to be initiated in connection with his beautiful library in Independence.

Wall Street Chatter
Analyst James Dines says he is willing to go on record as expecting a major bear market to become obvious not later than one year" from his June 14, 1965 sell signal.

Indicator Digest says the soundest approach at this point would be to forget the averages and concentrate on individual war beneficiaries that are now selling at "bargain" levels in terms of price-earnings.

Standard & Poor's says the immediate outlook for the stock market has been improved with relief from the fear of war-inspired economic controls. The firm says this justifies selective purchases on a trading basis but that it would not deplete reserves.

HOOVER COTTAGE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is expected to sign in the near future a bill that will make the two-room cottage in which the late President Herbert C. Hoover was born Aug. 10, 1874, a national memorial.

The Senate Tuesday approved legislation to make the restored cottage at West Branch, Iowa, a memorial along with Hoover's grave and that of his wife, both located at the same site.

The House had already approved the bill, which now goes to the White House for Johnson's signature. The cottage houses family souvenirs and furniture of the period in which Hoover was born.

Goldberg Appointment Arouses UAR

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI)—Arthur Goldberg's appointment as America's permanent United Nations delegate "involves contempt of the United Nations itself," the newspaper Al Akhbar said Tuesday.

"The choice of a Zionist for this post is like the choice of a debauched atheist to represent his country at a religious conference called to promote virtue or the choice of a thief with a police record to sit among judges at a meeting called to discuss the sovereignty of law," the newspaper said.

Accusing the United States of continually flouting the United Nations, the newspaper added "each American bomb dropped on Viet Nam carries with it in addition to barbaric inhuman destruction, an explosion in the body of the United Nations."

"American aggression in the Dominican Republic, in the Congo, Cuba and all future imperialist acts of aggression on American contempt of the charter and existence of the United Nations and a return to jungle law and the logic of force in international diplomacy."

RAISE THE TIDE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress is considering plans to set up a national council that would put expatriation of ocean's depths on a level comparable with that of the space program.

A House merchant marine subcommittee Tuesday began hearings on measures that would set up a high level oceanography panel to coordinate and intensify research activities that are now being carried on by 12 federal agencies.

Permian Basin Decision Due By FPC Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Power Commission (FPC) Thursday will issue its long-awaited Permian Basin decision, a far-reaching ruling on natural gas prices which could affect the gas heating and cooking bills of 36 million American families.

The decision would apply directly only to the great Permian Basin gas-producing area of west Texas and southeastern New Mexico. But it could establish a precedent for 21 other producing areas supplying an

At issue is whether the commission will free about 4,100 smaller producers from federal regulation while about 100 big producers, which dominate the market, would be subject to strict federal control.

U.S. Coast Guard Observes 175th Anniversary of Their Service Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—From the war-torn shores of South Viet Nam to the stormy patch of the North Atlantic known as "Ocean Station Charlie," the men of the U.S. Coast Guard pause today to note the 175th anniversary of their service.

It was on Aug. 4, 1790, at Newburyport, Mass., that the nation's oldest fighting sea service was born. Christened the "Revenue Marine" by its founder, Treasury Secretary Alexander Hamilton, it later became the "Revenue Service" and then the Coast Guard.

Hamilton's original goal in creating the Coast Guard was to stop the smuggling that drained away tax revenues the new nation so desperately needed. Congress voted him a fleet of 10 small, fast cutters to do the job.

But since then the Coast Guard's duties have gone far beyond the mere prevention of smuggling. It has dealt death to the nation's enemies on the one hand, battled the elements to save lives on the other.

The Coast Guard's 32,000 officers and enlisted men — not many more than are on the New York City police force — perform a host of duties and services, most of them unglamorous but essential.

"Ocean Station Charlie," for example, is one of a number of lonely vigils maintained by the service in the Atlantic, keeping watch for icebergs drifting down from the arctic seas, assisting vessels in trouble, providing valuable weather information to passing planes.

The Coast Guard is officially a branch of the U.S. armed services, but it operates under the Treasury Department except when transferred to the Navy by presidential order. Thus 17

Coast Guard patrol boats are cruising the coast of South Viet Nam, watching for Communist infiltrators and arms shipments.

The Coast Guard's motto is "Semper Paratus" — Always Prepared — and it is enforced down to the newest recruit. Because its units are usually small and widely separated, the service often puts heavy responsibility on relatively few ranking men, leaving them to carry out their jobs with little direct supervision. This practice apparently works, for the Coast Guard has the lowest court martial rate of any of the services.

In 1776, a committee of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson suggested the United States adopt "E Pluribus Unum" as the motto for its Great Seal.

Lawmaker Sounds Off on Bad Fish In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "If there's anything I know in the world," said Rep. Stanley R. Tupper, R-Maine, "it's fish."

Tupper, a former Maine sea and shore fisheries commissioner from Boothbay Harbor, was sounding off about the stale salmon, tasteless trout, shoddy shad, pasty perch, leathery lobster and clamless chowder he claims he's been served in Washington restaurants.

"Nearly all of the restaurants in this city, and in many other cities, do not know how to prepare it (seafood)," he complained. "Go to Scandinavia or Maine or Cape Cod and you will find chefs who know how to prepare seafood."

"But not here."

Tupper, who staged "Suppers with Tupper" during one of his congressional campaigns, said, "I've taken very important guests to Washington restaurants and ordered seafood and have just been embarrassed."

Once, while dining in a plush capitol Tupper found that his fish tasted like kerosene and called over a waitress to complain.

"She looked aghast so I told her to smell it," he said.

"Why, so it does," she said.

Tupper's concern about the status of seafood cookery in Washington has an important bearing on his state's economy. He claims that the decline of the nation's fishing industry won't be reversed until the American public can be sold on eating more fish.

"Fish can be delicious when properly prepared," he said.

"Fish in Washington is not only tasteless, it doesn't resemble fish. Chefs take it and throw it into deep fat and toss this unappetizing slab onto a dish. It's a scandal."

He suggested that seafood specialists from the Maine Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries would be happy to show Washington's "high-priced chefs" how to prepare tasty seafood dishes.

Tupper has no complaints about the fish he gets at home. His wife, a Maine girl, does all the cooking there.

One Killed As Lightning Hits Crane at Cape

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Lightning hit a crane working on a Saturn-5 moon rocket launch pad Tuesday killing one man and injuring five others.

The dead man was identified as A. Trieb, 33, of Mitchell, S.D. One construction worker was hospitalized and four others were treated and released at a base medical center.

A spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers, overseer of the vast space construction underway here, said the men were pouring concrete on the 60-foot level of the launch complex when the lightning struck.

The lightning traveled down the crane's cables to a bucket containing wet concrete. The workers were standing near the concrete and were burned and knocked down by the flash.

13th Space Vehicle Put Into Successful Orbit by Soviet Union

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet scientists orbited their 13th space vehicle in a summer burst of cosmic activity.

Western observers said the latest unmanned satellite, Cosmos-77, appeared to be part of a program aimed at a new manned space spectacular — possibly history's first link-up in space.

Other observers have speculated the Russians may send up a pair of two-man spaceships, with a passenger in one leaving his ship in orbit to become a passenger in the other.

The Soviet News agency Tass said Cosmos-77 was aimed at gathering data used to prepare equipment for manned flights. It said the satellite's equipment was functioning normally and ground control was processing information being received.

In the past two months, Russia has put up 10 Cosmos satellites. It also has sent a rocket slamming into the moon, has put its "Zond-3" space station into a giant orbit around the sun, and has launched "Proton-1" a mammoth 12.2 ton satellite believed to be the world's heaviest working space station.

Despite the signs for a new space spectacular, informed Soviet sources have discounted reports that such a project is imminent.

They said a manned spectacular probably will come sometime this year, but not until later in the year.

Dogs On the Prowl Keep People in St. Louis From Getting Mail

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—People on Martha Street haven't seen a mailman in over a week, because of man's best friend.

Dogs on the prowl — some owned, some stray — have caused residents of the 16-family neighborhood to go many blocks out of their way to pick up mail. Home delivery has been suspended. Eugene F. Housman, postal superintendent of delivery, said mailmen would stay away "until we're advised that the dog menace is removed."

No one has been bitten, but Housman said no one had to be. "Regulations," Housman said "say carriers are not required to deliver mail where dogs interfere with normal delivery. It's as simple as that."

Housman said residents were sent letters of warning before Chinese Republic China was established as a republic in 1912 when the Manchu dynasty was overthrown by Chinese nationalists led by Dr. Sun Yat-sen.

delivery was suspended, and "when we got the second report that five dogs were out there, we suspended service."

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less.

Bargains by The Gallon

Americans would be paying $2.2 billion more per year for gasoline, if motor fuel had risen along with the Consumer Price Index during the past 10 years.

There are other obvious benefits from the present oil conservation policies. In a nation that uses eleven million barrels of oil a day, not one barrel of demand goes unfulfilled.

Nothing in this world is ever perfect including, we are sure, the conservation practices of oil companies. But if the price of gasoline is any criterion of these practices, then oilmen are doing a pretty good job.

Good to Be Right, Right?

Accuracy. It's a strong candidate for the most underrated attribute in human nature. A person can be honest, industrious, intelligent, charming, ingenious and many other things highly regarded in personality tests and job appraisals.

If a timetable contains a booboo, the traveler has a legitimate gripe and possibly a major foulup. And if the airplane pilot isn't accurate, fasten your seat belt!

Most of us want to be all things a good citizen should be. We should not forget accuracy. And if this by any chance contains a misstatement or a typographical error, see how cleverly we have made our point!

Now We Have Renticare

Sen Harry F Byrd, a Virginia Democrat who has the old fashioned idea that people and government should not spend more than they have.

Recently, just before the Senate passed the Administration's housing bill, including subsidies for renters he had the following comments:

"The Senate last week passed the $7.5 billion Medicare bill. Now it is confronted with an $8 Renticare program.

Which is more socialistic is debatable. But together they will lead to the development of speed fulmination of the welfare state.

Along for the Ride

WASHINGTON — The Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee is sitting on a confidential report charging Defense Secretary McNamara with cost-parking economy policies that have left the Army with shocking equipment and ammunition shortages.

Between the Bookends

The railroad industry today is in severe financial straits. Many companies have been placed in receivership; others have been steadily losing money; and even the most successful are having to overcome artificial barriers not faced by some other businesses.

THE AMERICAN WAY cartoon by RANDY ROSEMAN. A man asks 'HOW DOES YOU ASK A THING LIKE THAT?' and a woman replies 'I DON'T KNOW, BUT I SEE YOU'RE ASKING THE QUESTION.' A speech bubble says 'I WANT TO SHARE YOUR PROFITS'. At the bottom, it says 'One-Way Street'.
