Astronauts Get Go-Ahead Signal

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The Gemini 5 astronauts today got the go-ahead for another day in space that will give them the longest single manned flight on record. The "go" signal came at the end of their fourth full day aloft, along with word to conserve fuel.

Soviet Newspaper Calls Gemini 5 Spy in the Sky

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Defense Ministry newspaper Red Star indicated today it considers Gemini 5 a spy in the sky cutting through space over Viet Nam, Cuba and Communist China.

Red Star said the space capsule containing astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad would be flying over Cuba 11 times, over Viet Nam 16 times and over Communist China 40 times.

"The main purpose of Gemini 5," the newspaper said, "is to check the possibility of interception of artificial satellites and to conduct reconnaissance from the cosmos (space)."

It was another in a series of published Soviet attacks on the projected eight day U.S. flight. Red Star said Gemini 5 has powerful cameras "that make possible detailed pictures of cities, railways, ports, ships, etc."

The organ of the Soviet Ministry of Defense added that the cosmonauts are conducting visual reconnaissance.

"Suffice it to mention that out of 17 experiments envisaged by the program, six have been planned by the Defense Department and kept secret."

"American propaganda praises the scientific aim of Gemini, trying to play down the military nature. But these attempts are unsuccessful. The true aim of the program is obvious."

The Defense Department said previously that work on the Gemini program was administered by NASA.

However the entire responsibility for insuring the launching from earth has been placed on the Air Force and no less than four Air Force crews have to take part in the Gemini space flights," Red Star said.

chipper, but co-pilot Charles Conrad needed more sleep. Conrad was complaining that he had not had a good night's sleep. At 10 o'clock this morning the astronauts flew into their fifth day aloft.

Gemini control relayed to Cooper his wife's congratulations for surpassing the 119-hour endurance record held by Soviet astronaut Valerie Bykovskiy Tuesday night.

Gordon sent a "slow but warm, thank you, please thank them," Gemini control said.

Minor Problems Develop
Minor but irritating problems kept both men busy as they approached their fifth day—more than half way—in the eight-day flight.

Gemini control passed the word up to them that they were "go" for another day at least to the start of the 77th orbit.

The word came just before they entered the 61st orbit at 9:28 a.m. EDT over the Baja Peninsula of lower California.

Plans already were underway for a splashdown—barring unforeseen emergencies—at 9:51 a.m. EDT Sunday in the western Atlantic. The astronauts would fire retro-rockets to start their fiery re-entry into earth's atmosphere at 9:29 a.m.

"Your fuel usage is getting sort of close," Houston mission control warned Conrad during radio contact with their Gemini 5 in the 59th orbit. Otherwise, space center officials said, all was going well on the record-breaking flight.

At 8 a.m. CST today the space pilots were to complete their fourth day in space and enter the downhill phase of the flight.

The capsule entered the 60th orbit at 5:54 a.m. CST.

"We figure we need about 44 pounds (of fuel) to finish all of the experiments, and we have about 45 pounds," the flight controller said, "so be conservative on it, okay?"

Conrad agreed and asked a favor in return: that experiments be cut out of evening periods of their cosmic flight.

"We, for some reason, are having trouble sleeping," Conrad reported in a conversation with fellow astronaut Elliot M. See. "One guy bothers the other one when he's doing anything, is what it amounts to."

Despite sleep problems and minor difficulties ranging from computer inconsistencies to a reported "all systems go" for radar problem, mission control the full eight-day flight.

"They seem to be doing quite well," said fellow astronaut Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin. "They're in pretty good shape."

Cooper today owned the world's space endurance record but "we got no reaction from control warned Conrad during

Rioting Probe Is Underway

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A formal investigation of Negro rioting which cost 37 lives today took on a nationwide scale.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said an investigative commission, appointed by him and headed by John A. McCone, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), could develop findings and recommendations that might benefit all areas of the nation troubled by racial unrest in depressed income areas.

The governor said Tuesday he had instructed the eight members of the investigative commission to work on an objective basis to determine causes of the Negro rioting here and "consider whether there are any steps which private citizens may take, individually or jointly, to prevent a repetition of bloodshed."

Brown told the commission at a formative session: "The fate not only of Los Angeles but of other cities in California and the nation may well depend on your findings and your recommendations."

The governor and McCone said they agreed on a Dec. 1 "target date" for a report from the commission.

Brown and McCone stressed that the commission would try to avoid any political or racial judgments in its work.

The commission will not tolerate prejudice on the part of the commissioners or its staff," said McCone.

Election Turnout Less Than 1,000

Less than 1,000 Pampa voters turned out yesterday and approved all seven proposed changes in the Pampa city charter. Wards 1 and 2 soundly approved all seven changes while Wards 3 and 4 were against all seven. The majority of Pampa voters live in Wards 1 and 2.

Most of the amendments were approved by an almost 2-1 margin with the exception of No. 3.

This amendment, passed by a vote of 568 to 407, raised from $1 to $1.50 per $100 property valuation the amount of tax money that can be used for the city's general operating fund.

Proposition No. 1, which passed by a vote of 650 to 332, gave the commission authority to annex, in compliance with state laws, any area within two miles of the city limits. It also provided that land within a two mile limit of the city could impose restrictions on city limits prior to annexation to insure it meeting all city requirements.

Amendment No. 2, calling for the elimination of an unconstitutional segregation clause pertaining to public restrooms and other public establishments, passed 581 to 350.

Amendment No. 4, which designated city commissioners to be elected on a staggered term, passed 673 to 304.

Proposition No. 5 was approved 641 to 335. It called for the changing from weekly to twice monthly meeting times of the city commission.

Amendment No. 6, calling for city ordinances to be passed by two readings of the commission instead of three, passed by a vote of 614 to 365.

Amendment No. 7 which raised from $100 to $1,000 the limit of purchases which can be made without advertising for bids, passed 619 to 347. The amendment also provides the reduction from 14 to seven days the period required for advertising bids.

The vote total included approximately 20 absentee votes which had been cast. City officials called the election one of the "poorest" turnouts in election history.

There are approximately 6,000 eligible voters within the city. (See Page 3 for Election Box)

Everybody Can Vote For Favorite Employee

When you shop in Pampa in some particular store or business, do you want to go back again because of the friendly, courteous reception you received there?

How friendly are the stores? How helpful are the mercantile employees? Do you think the office personnel is friendly? Do you want to come back tomorrow and the next day?

Surely, favorable answers could be given in most cases concerning Pampa businesses on these questions. And the people who provide this favorable feeling toward Pampa and its citizens would be the sales and office and service people who meet the public.

To promote the friendly reputation of Pampa and at the same time recognize the people who promote this feeling, The Pampa Daily News is asking two questions of shoppers in this trade area:

(1) Who is Pampa's "friendliest most courteous" woman employee?

(2) Who is Pampa's "friendliest most courteous" man employee?

Everybody can participate in voting for their favorite. There are no obligations at all on the balloting.

The award voting ballot will appear daily in this newspaper. The woman employee and the man employee receiving the highest number of votes from now through September 17 will each receive a $50 cash award and a framed award.

Readers of The Pampa News can determine the winners. Everyone can and is urged to vote. The only rule is that you use the ballot that appears in The Pampa News. Vote your choice as often as you wish.

Store owners or managers are not eligible.

Voting ends September 17. Mark your choice on the ballot found on Page 3 of today's Pampa News. Bring or mail it to The Pampa News or deposit it in ballot boxes located in the lobbies of Citizens Bank & Trust Co., the First National Bank or the Chamber of Commerce office.

One hundred demonstrators protesting American policy in Viet Nam swarmed around Gen. Maxwell Taylor's limousine here Tuesday night, blocking the street and shouting insults at the former U.S. ambassador.

"Maxwell Taylor — guilty of murder," one of their signs said.

One of the sloppily dressed, shaggy-haired protesters threw himself across the hood of the big black car. The demonstrators vowed to "haunt" Taylor later today when he is scheduled to speak before the Commonwealth Club of California.

Five persons were arrested Tuesday night after about 50 chanting demonstrators followed Taylor into the lobby of the Fairmont Hotel, blocking the general's passage on several occasions.

Trapped for more than an hour in the plush Nob Hill hotel's executive offices, Taylor seemed unperturbed.

Taunted to defend U.S. policy in Southeast Asia, the former ambassador to South Viet Nam replied: "Our policy needs no defense."

Budget for School Year Is Fixed at $2.8 Million

A budget totaling $2,819,174 for the 1965-66 school year was unanimously approved last night at a special meeting of the Pampa Independent District School Board.

The budget shows an increase of $107,720 over school expenditures in the 1964-65 year.

Greatest increase in the budget was in teacher salaries. Raises recently were granted for both elementary and secondary school teachers as well as administrators and auxiliary personnel in the school system.

The budget calls for $1,760,000 in teacher salaries. This is contrasted with $1,502,000 for last year, an increase of $168,000 over 1964-65.

Elementary and secondary school principals' salaries are estimated at $102,630, an increase of $13,471 over the amount spent for the same item last year.

Board President Creel Grady said the teachers' salary increases would be offset by increased property valuations on the school tax roll.

The board voted last night to fix the school tax rate at 1.65 per $100 property valuation. This is the same as the rate currently in effect.

The Pampa schools, board members explained, now will operate in the black for the first time in several years.

The school district has been borrowing money to make up a deficit. The property valuation increase, school officials stated, now will permit repayment of loans and continued operation without borrowing.

The $165 tax rate, $1.29 for maintenance and operating expenses and 36 cents for bond and interest payments, is based on a property valuation of $101,263,065. This is an increase of $3,188,065 over last year's school district property valuation of $98,175,000.

The board estimates 1965-66 receipts as follows:

Maintenance fund taxes, $1,256,000; bond and interest taxes, $350,000; delinquent taxes, $36,000; State of Texas funds, $1,140,000; County available funds, $11,000; out of district tuition, $63,000; summer school tuition, $16,000 and miscellaneous, $10,000 for a total of $2,825,000 in estimated receipts, some $5,826 more than the estimated budget expenditures.

CHOLERA SPREADING
GENEVA (UPI) — The World Health Organization reported Monday that a cholera outbreak in Iran and Afghanistan has spread to neighboring districts of the Soviet Union.

Details of National Park Service recommendations for development of recreational facilities at Lake Meredith were released today by Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa.

Rogers stated he had received the plan which outlines spending of $1.1 million authorized in a bill introduced by the Pampa congressman and passed by both houses of Congress in 1963.

The plan, he stated, will be reviewed by the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, with special attention to be given by Rogers' Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation which has initial legislative jurisdiction over federal reclamation projects such as the one at the Canadian River.

Construction at the lake completed or underway on projects costing $790,000. This was the amount authorized several years ago for access roads, boat rams, and other projects to insure adequate access and accommodation of the public for fish and wildlife use of the reservoir. The $1.1 million total provided by Rogers' bill will provide supplemental facilities.

The National Park Service report presents in detail its plan for developing the eight designated shoreline recreation sites—Sanfor-Yake, Blue West, Fritch Fortress, Alibates, McBride, Plum Creek, Bugbee, and Blue East. Work under the fish and wildlife authorization has begun at the first six of these areas; the new plan provides for completing these developments as well as providing initial developments at Bugbee and Blue East, both of which are located on the north shore of the reservoir not far from Sanford Dam.

Meanwhile, in Washington and Santa Fe offices of the Park Service a prospectus is being prepared for mailing to prospective concessionaires who would make private enterprise investments in facilities at the reservoir. The bid invitations are expected to be ready to go out sometime this fall.

The suggested concessionaire program at Lake Meredith includes overnight accommodations; meal services; grocery or general store operations to provide camping, picnicking, fishing, boating, and sporting goods, souvenir or curio shops, transportation, boat rentals and sales; operation of mechanical boat - launching facilities; marina or dock operations; marine fueling stations; automobile and boat repair services; trailer park facilities — and, perhaps, a helicopter and small plane landing strip.

It is Park service policy not to suggest concessionaire developments inside recreation areas when similar accommodations,

Cattlemen Are Called 'About Only Outpost'

The cattle business is about the only part of agriculture that the government hasn't ruined, Bob Murphy, Nacogdoches lawyer, told nearly 300 persons in attendance at the annual banquet of the Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Association in Coronado Inn last night.

"You cattlemen are about the only outpost left," Murphy said, "and it's going to require much vigilance on your part to keep it that way."

Murphy kept the audience in laughter most of the evening with his humor, although the windup of his talk was on the serious side.

Mrs. Inez Carter, Pampa philanthropist with oil and ranch interests, was honored on her 78th birthday for her support of the association. Mrs. Carter was named association sweetheart and was presented with a bouquet of roses by E. O. Wedgeworth, association secretary.

Clyde Magee of McLean, association president gave opening remarks and introduced Jake Hess of McLean who acted as master of ceremonies.

Special guests at last night's banquet included Henry Elder, executive vice president and general secretary of the Texas Hereford Association; Roy Richardson, managing editor of the Hereford Journal, and Leon Freeze, field representative of the American Hereford Association, all of Fort Worth.

Entertainment was furnished by the Sweet Adelines, women's quartet from Liberal.

Lodge Is Installed As Ambassador

SAIGON (UPI)—Henry Cabot Lodge today was installed formally as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam — a diplomatic hotseat he occupied once before in troubled times.

The 63-year-old envoy presented his credentials to Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chairman of the ruling military committee, at a brief ceremony in Gia Long Palace.

The ceremony marked another chapter in Lodge's determined willingness to take on an uphill fight.

The handsome former U. S. senator and United Nations ambassador arrived here last Friday for his second tour of duty as Saigon envoy.

Lodge's first tour, a year in duration, began in the summer of 1963 at a time of unrest against the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Diem's government was overthrown and he was assassinated in November, 1963.

Lodge resigned in June, 1964, returning to the United States to work for the nomination of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton as the Republican presidential candidate.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor succeeded Lodge in the Saigon post but President Johnson reappointed Lodge last month when Taylor resigned after serving exactly one year.

Lodge is popular among most Vietnamese, many of whom credit him with playing a part in the downfall of the hated Diem regime, but faces monumental problems in fulfilling his stated aims of trying to install political, social and economic stability in South Viet Nam where war has been the way of life for a generation.

Georgia contains more than 40,000 farm ponds, ranging in size from one acre to more than 500 acres.

Zale's Manager Is Named Today

Dave Cameron, formerly of Jacksonville, Fla., has been named manager of Zale's Jewelers, 107 N. Cuyler, it was announced today by Leo Aureli, Zale supervisor.

Cameron has recently completed a year in Zale's management training program in Amarillo. He attended Jones College in Jacksonville, Fla., before joining Zale's he had extensive experience in retail jewelry sales.

Former manager, Coley Capo has been transferred to Zale's Beaumont store.

Cameron and his wife, Christine, reside at 1006 Glenwood North Apts.

Another of the recreation sites already familiar to thousands of Panhandle residents is Fritch Fort, also on the reservoir's south shore, a high peninsula providing a spectacular view of the lake and surrounding land.

Congressional action was completed in recent days on Rogers' bills to name the reservoir "Lake Meredith," in memory of the late A. A. Meredith, and to establish the Alibates Flint Quarries National Monument in conjunction with the Alibates recreation area.

Relief for night-backache lets you sleep again

Sometimes backache comes like a thief in the night, "steals" away your sleep, then robs you of energy all the next day. When the cause is overwork or just the daily strain of exertion or tension, that's the time to try Doan's Pills for speedy relief. Millions have found Doan's pain-relieving action often brings welcome relief from this nagging night-backache, headache or muscular pain in the night.

Then, too, unwise eating or drinking may be the cause of minor yet annoying bladder irritation. Doan's Pills often help to bring prompt relief in two ways: first, their soothing effect on bladder irritation. And, second, their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

PLAY SET

LONDON (UPI)—Ingrid Bergman will play in Turgenev's "A Month in the Country" with Sir Michael Redgrave and Emlyn Williams during a limited London season starting Sept. 23, it was announced Monday.

National Guard Seeks Recruits

The Pampa National Guard Unit has launched a recruiting drive to bring the unit to authorized strength by November.

The unit, Company B, second battalion, 142 infantry, has set a goal of 40 new members by November.

An open house of the National Guard Armory is scheduled Sept. 19. Special demonstrations will be presented by the rigle company and a tour of the facilities will be made.

Army regulations are being revised to permit a registrant who has received an induction order from Selective Service to enlist in the active Army, National Guard or army reserve.

Under current law, the Army or other services cannot enlist any man who has an induction order from his local draft board. The policy change is an effort to get more volunteers in the armed forces.

Anyone who is interested in joining the national guard should contact the National Guard Armory here.

Since the membership drive has been underway four new members have been recruited. They are Leslie Riley, Jerry Don Rex, Terry Bromlow and Don McCool.

WEATHER DAMAGE

ROME (UPI)—Damage estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars was reported in north Italy from heavy rains and high winds. The worst hit areas lay in a wide arc across north Italy from the Riviera to Trieste and along the Bay of Naples.

Missiles

(Continued From Page 1) no surprise. It reflected what had previously been announced as "costly" losses suffered last Wednesday and Thursday when American Marines wiped out a Viet Cong stronghold near Chu Lai. The operation was described as the biggest victory of the war for American troops.

Today's official report said 76 Americans were wounded in action last week. Nine others were listed as missing and presumably captured.

The 59 killed raised the total American combat fatalities since Jan. 1, 1961, to 620.

In reporting the Phantom loss, the military spokesman noted that no missiles previously had been reported as far south of Hanoi as Thanh Hoa. It thus appeared that the SAM was fired from mobile equipment which can be made operational within 24 hours.

The downed Phantom from the aircraft carrier Midway was flying support for other Navy jets on an armed reconnaissance mission when it was hit at 5:30 p.m., the spokesman said.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

AUSTIN, Tex. — As absentee voting gets under way for the September 7 election on the proposed constitutional amendment to increase size of the Texas Senate from 31 to 39 members, battle lines are drawn. State AFL-CIO is leading the opposition. It charges that the proposal is a "pig in a poke" offering no guides as to where the new districts will go. "Committee for Fair Representation," made up primarily of trade and industrial association representatives, contends that Texans would get "proper representation without jeopardizing the interests of sparsely-settled areas" by adding eight new members to the Senate.

They are Sens. Dorsey Harde-man of San Angelo, Culp Krueger of El Campo and Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi. Yet to be named are three members from the House of Representatives, three from the news media and two from the State Bar of Texas.

Panel resulted from controversy over deletion of a provision from the new Code of Criminal Procedure which would have severely restricted pre-trial news coverage. New code takes effect January 1.

Study committee was authorized to take a sharp look at existing coverage. In requested opinions, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that: —Texas Western College cannot use money appropriated by Legislature for tuition scholarships to aid students living in Juarez, Mexico.

Sections of a new act instituting jury wheel system in Young, Titus and Kerr counties are unconstitutional "local and special laws." —El Paso County commissioners have no authority to grant an easement across Ascarate Park for an underground gas pipeline.

—A city, after annexing an area including a county road, does not need permission of county to abandon and close such road or street. —APPOINTMENTS—Gov. John Connally has announced his first appointments in a series of several needed to get newly-designated agencies in gear. His choices for the Texas Commission for Indian Affairs are Dempsey Henley of Liberty, W. R. Beaumier, publisher of the Lufkin Daily News, and Ed Eaterling of Beaumont, former District Attorney of Jefferson County. As Mayor of Liberty, Henley worked with the Alabama-Coushatta Indians to help achieve their severance from the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools and self-government under guidance by the Commission. James B. Swann of Houston has been named to head new Texas Industrial Commission office of export expansion. Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont is interim chairman of a com-

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The ultimate in chic broadcasting will occur next month when ABC-TV's Monday-through-Friday "Nightlife" show originates for two weeks from poolside at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills.

These two weeks, starting Sept. 13, will mark the transfer of the late-night program, hosted by Les Crane, from New York to Hollywood, a nearby and underprivileged suburb of Beverly Hills.

After the two weeks at poolside are up, "Nightlife" will move permanently into a Hollywood video studio-theatre type location, there to continue its thus-far unsuccessful attempt to unseat NBC-TV's "Tonight" show with Johnny Carson.

It is counting on the easy availability of Hollywood star names to help do this.

For the self-exiled New York resident—be it a host or a television show—the Beverly-Wilshire is a splendid choice to ease the pains of westward hoing, for it offers many of the comforts of import to the flee-

Earthquakes Cause Deaths

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Six deaths were reported Tuesday as the result of five earthquakes that shook Mexican cities from the Pacific to the Gulf Coast Monday.

The quakes followed a series of three weeks of disastrous floods across central Mexico which claimed 27 lives, including five persons killed by an epidemic.

The Mexican Seismological Observatory said the center of the quakes was just off the Pacific Coast about 500 miles southeast of Mexico City. The nearest area to the epicenter was the state of Oaxaca, a jungle and mountainous region.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attacking landlords who are "getting rich at the expense of literally millions of helpless tenants," Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., introduced a bill Monday to put the light of publicity on owners of slum housing.

Dominick's bill would require publication of names of owners of all rental property before a community could receive federal housing grants or loans. "Slum housing is sapping the strength of this country," he said.

A and W Drive-In Is Purchased Here

Mr. and Mrs. John Haesle have purchased the A and W Root Beer Drive-in from Ed and Mary Wells. The Wells' operated the drive-in for six years before selling to the Haesles.

The Haesles and their four children came to Pampa from Wausau, Wis. The children range in ages from 3 to 16 years. Chelyne is a junior at Pampa Senior High, Johnny is in the ninth grade, Irene will be in elementary school, and David is 3.

Haesle has been in the food business in Wausau for 15 years and was active in civic affairs there. He was president of the West Side Businessmen's association and an active member of the Wausau Chamber of Commerce.

National Park Is Recommended

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., recommended today that the big thicket area of Southeast Texas be preserved as a wilderness area or possibly as a national park. The senator also inserted in the congressional record a description of the area located in parts of nine counties of Southeast Texas, by E. P. Hadson, originally published in the "Texas Parade" for August.

NEARS ONE BILLION
GENEVA (UPI)— The population of Communist China will rise to one billion by 1980 at the present birth and death rates, the First International Conference on Family Planning Programs was told Tuesday.

ASKS EARLY ACTION
WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson urged House Democratic leaders Tuesday to bring the District of Columbia home rule bill to a vote before Congress adjourns, probably by mid-September.

DeGaulle May Attempt To End Viet Nam War in Negotiations

LONDON (UPI)— French President Charles de Gaulle may personally attempt to negotiate an end to the Viet Nam war, according to diplomatic reports received here Tuesday.

The reports said De Gaulle is not likely to make his move for some time.

Information from diplomatic channels said the French leader is waiting for the right opportunity and the right moment. Speculation about a possible French peace bid has been sparked by the recent French approach to Communist China when De Gaulle's personal representative, Andre Malraux, met with the Peking leadership.

According to the diplomatic reports, "nothing happened" to encourage immediate hopes for any change of heart by Red China.

Nor did Peking give any indication that it is prepared to go to a conference with the United States to seek a peaceful Viet Nam settlement.

Just what De Gaulle could do in concrete terms to promote a Viet Nam peace conference remained at present unclear to diplomats here.

It's known stand on Southeast Asia aroused anger and suspicion in the United States, in as much as he opposed the U.S. intervention and favored American withdrawal, at least ultimately. De Gaulle favors the neutralization of Southeast Asia, including Viet Nam.

In any peace bid De Gaulle would therefore not be a spokesman for American interests. But this might stand him in good stead, by making him acceptable to the Communists as a possible umpire, the reports said.

De Gaulle does not like to fail, and the informants said he will therefore move very carefully to avoid a possible rebuff from the United States.

He may, they said, "throw out some peace ideas" at his news conference next month, as a trial balloon, to gauge the chances of possible intervention or meditation.

Flags Use Is Protested

NEW YORK (UPI)— The United States Flag Foundation Tuesday protested the use of the Stars and Stripes in the design of materials utilized for pillow cases, bed sheets, lamp shades and women's clothing, including girdles.

Lawrence Phelps Tower, president of the foundation, said Americans who misuse the flag for commercial purposes should be "ostracized" and fined wherever state or local laws permit. Tower specifically noted the trend toward the use of the flag as decor in "pop" art design.

"Today the flower of our manhood is living and dying in the steaming jungles of Viet Nam so that their world and ours may continue to be free," being fought under the red and Tower said. "This struggle is white striped banner of freedom. Yet at home we find this sacred emblem of the Stars and Stripes being desecrated."

Florida's three national forests (Apalachicola, Ocala and Osceola) contain more than one million acres.

Cause of Riots Sought by Group

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The breakdown of Negro family life is felt to be a major factor in the Los Angeles riots. Seeking to avoid other flare-ups of this type, investigators are looking closely at this aspect of life in America's teeming urban centers. This is the last of three dispatches assessing the California riots.)

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The No. 1 record on the juke box at the Westminster Center in the Watts district of Los Angeles is entitled: "I Can't Help Myself."

One block away from the church center is 103rd St. The street is a charred memorial to the passions and hatred of Negro rioters who put it to the torch.

The song title seemed to be a prophetic requiem.

Scores of leaders and ordinary people of Los Angeles, Negro and white, are seeking the basic cause and, hopefully, a cure for the Watts district riot which began Aug. 11 and left 37 dead, hundreds injured and more than 4,000 in jail. Property damage was in excess of $200 million.

High on the list of suspects is a factor common to most American cities: the breakdown of family life. Among the urban masses of Negroes, this factor becomes critical and is regarded as a major cause of violent explosions over seemingly trivial incidents.

In the Watts area, the breakdown showed up during the recent rioting as a problem spanning as many as three generations. Middle-aged Negroes, young parents and three-year-olds were seen looting and burning.

The Watts district lies 10 miles south of downtown Los Angeles. Its ghetto conditions differ sharply from those in Harlem because it is a neighborhood of fairly neat homes, small but well-tended lawns and an outward appearance of respectability.

Inside the homes, say the welfare department and police, it is a different story: People crowded up four times as close as in the city as a whole, living in homes that are largely marginal or dilapidated.

Consider these statistics: About 12 out of every 100 adults in the area who are capable of working are unemployed, compared with 5 of 100 among the city's white people. Forty-five per cent of the Watts families have annual incomes of less than $4,000—the poverty level—and six out of 10 families receive some form of welfare relief.

The Watts district is largely a product of the heavy influx of Negroes during the past 10 years. Between 1950 and 1960, Los Angeles County's Negro population increased 78 per cent, most of it pouring into the trouble zone and most of it coming out of the South and East.

SCHEDULES HEARINGS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., announced Tuesday that hearings would start Wednesday on legislation to permit prompt construction of the Lyndon Baines Johnson Library at the University of Texas.

The proposed library would house the President's papers, which Johnson has offered to the people of the United States.

Peace Corps Bill Signed By Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson signed a one-year extension of the Peace Corps Tuesday and made an emotional speech about the difficulty of sending men into battle.

He said "your President cried" when he read the statements of an Army sergeant who escaped from the Communists. In a speech prior to the signing in the White House Rose Garden—and in another one afterwards in his office—the President contrasted the Peace Corps' efforts for the good of mankind with the warfare in Viet Nam.

Johnson said that he "very regretfully" decided several weeks ago to increase the number of U.S. soldiers and Marines in South Viet Nam.

"For the most awesome burden a president bears is the responsibility for making a decision that sends the pride of our young manhood our American boys, to foreign battlefields," Johnson said.

"No other course lay open to me, in the light of our long standing commitment to the people of South Viet Nam, yet the knowledge that some of our boys would not return rested very heavily on my heart and still does," the President said. Johnson said that although the Peace Corps bill he was signing also sent American boys abroad, it was "not for joining a conflict, but for continuing the work of peace throughout the world."

Sheppard Will Remain Free

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard asked the Supreme Court Tuesday to uphold a lower court ruling which quashed his conviction for wife murder and brought his release from the Ohio Penitentiary.

The formal filing of the petition means that Sheppard — given a life sentence after a sensational 1954 murder trial — will remain free at least until October when the high court convenes for a new session.

At issue were conflicting rulings by lower federal courts. On July 15, 1964, a federal district judge in Dayton ordered Sheppard's release from prison on grounds he had been denied his constitutional rights at his Cuyahoga County trial.

The 6th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed this finding but said the prominent Bay Village doctor could remain at liberty until the Supreme Court acts.

Sometime after the new term begins in October, the court will announce whether it is rejecting or accepting Sheppard's request for review of his case. If the court rejects the petition, the likelihood is that he would be sent back to prison.

If the case is accepted for review, the court would subsequently hear arguments and later hand down a written opinion deciding whether the Ohio man shall go free or return to the penitentiary.

Sheppard insisted at his trial that a "bushy haired" intruder had broken into his suburban Cleveland Lake Shore home and bludgeoned his wife, Marilyn, to death.

But in his appeals, Sheppard's attorneys have argued that emotional press coverage and bias prevented his getting a fair trial.

Tuesday's petition on his behalf again claimed that pre-trial publicity was such that no fair and impartial jury could have been impaneled at the trial.

It also challenged the actions of the trial judge and said the pattern of official conduct "time and time again fell below minimum standards of due process."

The petition charged "The jury was tainted, the judge was biased, the prosecutor was unfair, the evidence was unfair and the reviewing courts of Ohio dodged and strained to pull together the shreds of a shabby conviction."

Upon his release last July, Sheppard married a German girl who had begun corresponding with him while he was a prisoner. They are now living near Cleveland.

The Confederate prison at Andersonville, Ga., held 49,000 Union prisoners, of whom approximately 13,000 died.

Negroes Are Enrolling to Vote

Federal registrars are busy enrolling Negroes to vote in certain southern states. But as the right of adult Negroes to vote becomes established by federal authority, an explosive and peculiarly local dispute arises. It promises to maintain racial friction and to cause trouble all the way up the scale to disastrous riots.

The name of this local dispute is "police brutality." Alleged police brutality is pushing ahead of voting rights as a rouser of racial passions. The voting rights dispute is cooling. The complaint against police brutality, however, sounds loud and long both North and South.

In the North, an attempt to arrest a Negro is likely to invite mob action against the cop and the community. An attempt to make a traffic arrest triggered the Los Angeles riot. An off-duty cop and several disorderly Negroes brought on last year's riots in Harlem.

The cop on the beat is a local institution. He now is due for federal attention. Negro leaders are forcing two issues into the political arena. First they are demanding establishment of local civilian review boards over and above the police establishment of any given community. Such review boards hear complaints of police brutality and assess punishment against offending cops.

Police commissioners and police chiefs uniformly resist any such transfer to outsiders of their authority over their departments. Where the Negro vote is substantial, local politicians are likely to side with the cops. This happened in New York City, which is about to elect a mayor this year. The city's Negro and Puerto Rican voters have let the candidates know they must endorse review boards—or else.

A second issue of alleged brutality now being pressed by Negro leaders is the ouster of police officers who displease them. The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King demands the discharge of Los Angeles Police Chief William Parker. When California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty balked at firing Parker, King appealed to President Johnson. Brown and Yorty are Democrats. King told the President that a trouble in California was lack of good leadership.

King well understands the tactics of pressure politics. By the time the congressional election campaign gets going next year, King is likely to have many northern candidates on a spot which will compel them to endorse police review boards, or else. It is not likely to be enough that the candidates denounce police brutality. Negro leaders will be demanding action. The politicians, in turn, should demand absolute evidence.

It would be well if politicians could learn how much police brutality actually prevails and to correct any undesirable conditions and at the same time protect the police in general from harassment on unfounded charges.

A presidential election is coming up in 1968. We no doubt will hear a lot about police brutality in that campaign. It is likely that one or both major party candidates will come out four-square against police brutality and promise to end it on the local front.

OUR MAN IN VIET NAM

Impressions of Saigon

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Freedom Newspapers' Staff Writer Sam Stinson is in Viet Nam reporting his observations of the war with the communists. His dispatches are filed from various parts of the war-stricken country.)

By SAM STINSON
SAIGON — It seems that every correspondent who arrives here seems compelled to do a "first impression" piece on Saigon.

What he sees impresses him because it is different than that which he is used to seeing and experiencing. They tell me that after awhile, all this becomes old hat, and it is then difficult to distinguish between the usual and the unusual.

Anyway, at the expense of being naive, allow me to file my first impression also. Maybe after awhile I will get used to closing my window in taxi cabs to keep someone from throwing a grenade into my lap, but at least for now — it still seems novel.

Tonight, I sat six floors up in the terrace garden of the Rex Hotel in downtown Saigon and listened to music that made America seem just around the corner—while on the horizon—I watched flares go up and watched artillery flashes to the north. And to the south I could hear mortar fire.

While some VC (Viet Cong) were trying to force the bridge between here and Bien Hao, to the north, a lovely girl in a blood-red slinky, tight-fitting costume brought down the house by singing "Chino No Yoru."

To any American who wouldn't understand, "Chino No Yoru" or more commonly known as "China Nights," is the "Lilly Marlene" of the Orient. It is known to a million GI's who served in Japan at one time or another. It's a melancholy bridge between the east and the west that both sides come to in compassion but can never quite cross. Anyone who served in Korea will sing the same song with the words "She ain't got no yo-yo."

The girl who was singing was Vietnamese, but she sang in French, in English, in Japanese, and in Vietnamese equally well. I almost forgot, she also sang in Italian.

Her vivid red dress was Chinese with the split up the side—something that American girls should discover soon. Her raven black hair coiled down one side and fell to her waist. Her voice was husky and sounded like Jaye P. Morgan. . . . and she was indeed a woman.

But even being enraptured by this sultry voice you couldn't help notice the flood lights and the artillery flashes to the north. Someone up there a few miles away was dying. This is indeed a strange war.

The whole roof garden here was filled. Filled with a variety of types. Mostly Americans. Young lieutenants and captains from the Rangers and the Paratroopers. Older and more gray-haired staff officers. And the newsmen. You could always tell the newsmen. They were more sharp-eyed, more cynical, and anyway, they always carried their 35mm cameras draped around their necks. Never without them, even at night.

Over in one corner and along the wall were the real disillusioned ones . . . those who were playing the one-armed bandits. The quarter, dime and nickel machines that promised something . . . even if only a chance to beat or change fate. . . .

While the dull thudding of mortar fire to the south kept reminding you that this could not be real.

Daily Care Brings You Pretty Hands

FOR LOVELY HANDS -- Take a tip from professional manicurists and pamper your hands. Keeping them clean is essential. Yet there is a right and wrong way of keeping them smooth. After washing hands thoroughly, use nail brush, massage a small amount of a dewy hand cream well into the hands. Manicurists use a stroking motion from wrist to fingertips and a circular motion on the backs of the hands. This helps limber up hands as musicians know quite well. For nails, apply a base-top first to help make nail enamel chip-resistant. Apply after nail enamel, as a sealer. Base-top also may be used alone to protect the nails.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

Pampa Council of Garden Clubs met last week in the home of Mrs. Raymond Darsey for a regular business session. Council folders, which were prepared by Mrs. Kenneth Osborn, were given to each member. Mrs. Ed Parson announced the Council of Garden Clubs Flower Show will be held on Oct. 16 in Lovett Library.

Final plans were made for the picnic for all members of the garden clubs and plant societies and husbands to be held at 6:30 p.m., Sept. 23 in Central Park west.

Representatives from Pampa Garden Club, Rose Society, African Violet Society and the Mr. and Mrs. Garden Club were present. Attending were Mrs. Al Kouri, Holly Gray, Ira Carlton, W. L. Waggoner, Tom Patton, Dick Higginbotham, Aubrey Ruff, Parson, Osborn, Darsey and this columnist.

Last week the Flower Arranging Classes were taught by Mrs. Martin Stubbe in the art of using foliage only in decorating our home. This is a real challenge to women and can be most effective as was demonstrated by Mrs. Stubbe.

The Borger women have been very faithful in attending all these classes. Attending this session also were women from Miami, Midland, Abilene and Wichita, Kan. The final class will be held today with a very special person from Tokyo, Japan, teaching the group. Nagae Tsutsumi, an instructor in a flower arranging school in Tokyo.

There are not many more crepe myrtle and Althea planted in our area since they are hardy and so attractive at this time of year. The September issue of "Family Circle" has detailed information on the use of silica gel, a flower-drying agent for anyone who might be interested in trying this method of preserving flowers and foliage. According to the writer, Sylvia Davis, this information was compiled as a result of the long and enjoyable experience she has with drying flowers.

Another excellent little 15 cent magazine "Woman's Day," September issue, has an interesting article on gardening written by Roland A. Browne, a college English professor. He explains very clearly why he prefers fall planting to spring planting. Mr. Browne says "Fall planting, other than bulbs, may seem strange to many, accustomed to thinking of spring as the time for starting gardens, but the idea has sound logic behind it. A plant needs to have its roots well established at the beginning of the spring growing season if it is to do an effective job of making stems and leaves, producing flowers and setting seeds. When you set out some started plants of perennials, or a Forsythia bush, or perhaps a young fruit tree during the spring, the warm weather may arrive before a good root system has been developed but the plant's genes respond to the increasing heat and sunshine by initiating a burst of growth in the top of the plant. Since plants take in just about all of their water and all of their food through the roots, the plant must limp along through the summer half parched and half starved, and when winter finally comes, it is in poor condition. According to the moon signs August 25-27 is weed killing time; August 28-31 is seed planting time, and September 1-3 will be weed killing time.

Dear Abby... Undersized Youth Has Oversized Problem

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 19 and he has always been very small for his age. He wears a size 10 in boy's underwear, pajamas, shirts, socks and shoes, but he insists on buying his clothes in the men's departments because I have to cut everything down to fit him. I offered to do all his shopping to relieve him of the embarrassment of going into the boys' departments, but he refuses to wear anything I have bought from there.

I am sure his size is responsible for his erratic behavior. He's cost his father a fortune because of the scrapes we've had to buy him out of. What can be done?

DISTRACTED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Your problem began when you and your husband failed to teach your son how to live with the misfortune of being undersized. You should have sought professional help as soon as this problem became apparent. Children who must go through life with a physical handicap need to develop early the attitude of acceptance. They should be given every opportunity to develop a skill in something within the realm of their capabilities in order to feel "big" in achievement. Parents must work hard to instill in those children a sense of security and worthiness. Perhaps it is not too late to get professional help for your son. It's worth a try. I hope your letter will inspire other parents faced with a similar problem to act more promptly.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LARRY IN LONG ISLAND: If you are "putty in her hands" now, you can expect to be dirt under her feet after you're married.

Local TOPS Club
Has Monday Meeting
Eight members were in attendance at the Monday evening meeting of Lots Pounds Off TOPS Club, held in Central Baptist Church.

Mrs. Augusta Brown, leader, opened the meeting by leading those present in repeating the "Club Pledge." Mrs. Lessie Gist gave the roll call and treasurer's report. Mrs. Myrt Leich, weight recorder, reported a nine pound loss and a one pound gain, with Mrs. Lois Brooks receiving the weekly fruit basket.

Members present voted to send a jewelry tax to National TOPS Headquarters, which will go toward the building fund. Announcement was made that the next meeting would be a weigh-in meeting only.

One new member and two guests were welcomed by the group.

NEW COACH AT MIAMI

Warriors Look to '65

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
MIAMI (Sp.) — The Miami Warriors football fortunes almost have to take a turn for the better in 1965.
Miami has a new football coach, A. W. (Red) Hart who has every notion of improving upon the Warriors 1-9 showing of a year ago.
It goes without saying Miami finished last in the 5-B conference in '64.
Hart is no stranger to Panhandle area football, although he has spent the last six years coaching at Garden Grove, Calif.

The once red-haired, now turning gray coach of the Warriors has three starting backfield men returning to the fold and one returning letterman, Ed Harris, a 150-pound junior halfback who started part of the season for Miami.

At quarterback Hart has David Bowers, a 160-pound senior with two football letters, Ken Gill, the fullback, a 200-pounder and a junior with two letters, Harris and Deverly Murphy, a 155-pound junior tailback who lettered last year.

Hart will be able to count on Tilden Moore, at tight end, a

Jerry McChouston, 180-pound junior guard and Tilden Moore, 180-pound senior end. In the back row, at quarterback is David Bowers, a 160-pound senior; left half is Deverly Murphy, 155-pound junior, at fullback is Ken Gill, a 200-pounder and Tom Grantham, 140-pound senior.

ior center and 5'11, 165-pound senior Gary Lister at end along with Tom Grantham, a 140-pound senior at end and wingback.

Lettermen include Gary Guill, Curtis Holland, Doug Tennant, James Lunsford, Jackie Sirmons, Eddie Brines, Barry Chastain, Charles Coffee, all of whom are freshmen with the exception of Brines and Holland.

Hart agrees that he should have a pretty good first unit but points out that the Warriors will be lacking in depth.

"We might do pretty good if we can keep injuries from plaguing us," Hart said.

One thing you can be assured of, though, the Warriors will be out to lift a few scalps. (Next Groom)

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Leaders Beaten In NL Scramble

By United Press International
He's the New York Mets' second-string catcher, third-string outfielder and fourth-string third baseman.
He's been back and forth between Buffalo and New York so often he knows the route better than most New York Central Railroad conductors.
The most famous thing he ever did with a bat was strike out for the final out of Jim Bunning's perfect game.
But 203-hitting Johnny Stephenson has another quality that makes him a perfect, lovable Met: He never stops trying. And so he grabbed a bat out of the rack when Manager Wes Westrum called Tuesday night and strode up to the plate with three Mets on base, none out and the Los Angeles Dodgers in front 3-1.
Stephenson's blow was off earlier Met Bob Miller and came after the Mets filled the bases on Jim Lefebvre's error and singles by Ed Kranepool and Joe Christopher. Lou Johnson had paced the Dodgers to a 3-1 lead with a run-producing single in the sixth and a two-run double in the eighth.

One Out Shy
The Braves were just one putout away from a 2-1 victory when Tommy Harner hit a two-run homer off relief ace Billy O'Dell to give Cincinnati's Jim Maloney his 15th victory. Maloney, in his first start since pitching a no-hitter last week, yielded four hits and struck out five in eight innings. Ed Matthews hit his 29th homer for the Braves.

Don Cardwell pitched a five-hitter and Donn Clendenon had two doubles for the Pirates, who handed 14-game winner Bob Shaw his seventh loss for the Giants. Cardwell scored the tie-breaking run in the sixth when he singled and tallied on Bob Bailey's triple. Willie McCovey had two hits but Willie Mays went 0-for-3.

Relief pitcher Gary Wagner's wild throw trying for a putout at third base enabled Rusty Staub to score Houston's winning run. Don Nottebart pitched a four-hitter to win his fourth game against 11 losses and Jim Wynn hit his 17th homer for the Astros. Johnny Briggs had two hits for the Phillies.

Pinch-hitter Tito Francona singled with the bases filled in the 10th inning to give the Cardinals their victory. Curt Flood had four hits and Lou Brock and Bill White three each for the Cardinals while five players had two hits each for the Cubs.

The Houston Astros shaded the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 and the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Chicago Cubs 7-6 in other National League games.

A 5-foot, 11-inch native of Hattiesburg, Miss., Stephenson hit only 158 for the Mets but had a 298 mark for Buffalo last season. Tuesday night's game-winning hit as a pinch-hitter was his third of the season, however, Johnny having delivered game-winning pinches against the Phillies twice.

The blow prevented the Dodgers from gaining a full game on the second place Milwaukee Braves, who lost to the Cincinnati Reds 3-2, and the third place San Francisco Giants, who bowed to the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2. The Braves trail the Dodgers by a half game and the Giants trail by 1 1/2.

The Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 and the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Chicago Cubs 7-6 in other National League games.

Randy Throws Today In World Competition

BUDAPEST (UPI) — World record-holder Randy Matson of Hungary was second in gold medals with eight, while next Pampa put his All-American form on exhibit in the shot put today when the track and field segment of the World University Games got underway.

Matson, a student at Texas A&M who holds a pending world mark of 70 feet, 7 inches for the shot, was an outstanding favorite to win his specialty on the sixth day of the games.

The United States, having cleaned up in the swimming pool, set its sights on further gold bonanzas on the athletic field, always an American stronghold.

The small U. S. swimming contingent, numbering only 12, collected nine gold medals in the swimming and diving competition which closed Tuesday to boost the American team into a commanding lead in the unofficial medal standings after five days.

The U.S. swimmers won three gold medals Tuesday as Mike Wall of Stanford University captured the 1500-meter freestyle, Rick Gilbert of Bloomington, Ind., took the highboard diving and the 400-meter medley relay team touched home first.

In addition, Fred Hetzel of Davidson and Bill Bradley of Princeton led the Yanks' to their fourth straight victory in basketball with a 49-60 decision over Romania. Hetzel scored 18 points and Bradley added 10 as the U.S. squad overcame an early deficit to remain unbeaten.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Tresh Continues To Play Like a Yankee

By United Press International
Just like an economy car, Tom Tresh gets maximum mileage out of his long distance drives.
Tresh, one of the few Yankees who has performed like one this season, has hit six home runs in the past month and five of them have accounted directly for the winning run. The other was hit in a 6-5 New York triumph and was the margin of victory.
Such efficiency is typical of the year the New York outfielder is having. He leads the Yankees in home runs (20), runs scored (71), doubles (26), triples (6) and is tied with Mickey Mantle for the club batting lead at .269.
Tresh belted a two-run homer with two out in the eighth inning Tuesday night to carry the Yankees to a 2-1 triumph over the American League-leading Minnesota Twins.
Completing the AL action, Chicago topped Baltimore 6-5.

Los Angeles routed Cleveland 7-1, Detroit beat Kansas City 8-2, and Boston whipped Washington 9-4 in the first game before losing 8-5.
Jim Perry was coasting along with a six-hit shutout with two away in the eighth when Mantle singled. Tresh then unloaded his 20th round-tripper to saddle Perry with his fifth loss against eight wins.
Mel Stottlemyre gained his 16th triumph in 23 decisions, yielding Minnesota only five hits. He was in trouble in the ninth when he walked lead-off batter Jimmy Hall and Earl Battey reached first on a bunt but New York pulled a double-play to rescue the Yankee righthander.
The only Minnesota run came in the sixth when Sandy Valdespino, tripled and scored on Tony Oliva's single. The loss reduced the Twins' margin over second-place Chicago to 6½ games.
George Brunet allowed five hits and fanned seven and the Los Angeles Angels ended their scoreless streak against Luis Tiant at 15 1/3 innings by routing the Cleveland hurler for five runs in the sixth inning. Jose Cardenal tripled home two runs for the Angels and Willie Smith hit a two-run homer.
Reliever Tommy John struck out Brooks Robinson with runners on second and third in the ninth inning to preserve a one-run Chicago triumph. The Orioles had scored four times in the inning on four singles, a walk and two wild pitches against starter Bruce Howard and Eddie Fisher. Bill Skowarn and John Romano each drove in two runs for the Sox. Dave McNally (7-6) was the victim and Howard (7-6) gained the victory.
Norm Cash drove in three runs with a single and his 18th homer and Dennis McLain scattered eight hits and fanned five en route to his 12th triumph against five losses for the Tigers. Detroit's Jerry Lumpe had three singles.

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

It's time once again to prognosticate on the coming football season and decide just who will win the Southwest Conference.

And everyone knows sports writers are never wrong. Just to give you an idea of how right we fellers usually are, how many of us picked the Yankees and Cardinals to win their respective pennant races?
Right, okay now.

What Happened to Pokes?

For all you Arkansas fans don't expect a repeat of 1964. Defense will be the spoiler.
The Razorbacks lost eight of 11 defensive starters and you just don't find those kind of guys in one year. Offensively the Pokes will be better than ever with the biggest offensive line they've ever had.
But they can be scored on.
According to the brochure the Texas Longhorns will have the emphasis on youth in 1965.
Texas lost 37 lettermen from their last two great clubs. Only seven seniors return, with 13 juniors and 40 sophomores.
The Steers will have a good first team with the capable Marvin Kristynik returning at quarterback, tailback Phil Harris and guard Frank Bedrick.
The Longhorns main weakness is depth. Everywhere. One thing Texas does have going for it is tradition.
The Rice Owls have been picked for a second division finish by the 'Experts.'
But, in 25 years the Owls have finished in the second division only six times. You have a lot of fun trying to figure out one of Jess Neely's teams.
The Owls do have major replacement problems, 15 of 'em to be exact. Last year they were 4-5-1. Need we say more.

Frogs are Eager

The 1965 TCU Horned Frogs are folks who will try to make things happen. Whether they will or not is something else again.
The Frogs have youth and are inexperienced but show determination and willingness to learn.
Coach Abe Martin says, "With proper leadership and hard work, we could surprise a lot of folks."
TCU returns but 19 of 38 lettermen that won four of six games in 1964. Five are defensive starters, the rest return to the offense.
The Baylor Bear will hit the ground passing and you can't blame them.
The Bears have Terry Southall and backup man Mike Marshall. For a backup backup man the Bears can count on Oklahoma Kenny Stockdale, a great passer in high school who was red-shirted last year.
Defense will again be a problem for the Bears. They can score but so can opponents.
The only thing wrong with the outlook at Texas A&M is the fact the Aggies don't have Randy Matson on their football team.
Aggie coach Gene Stallings observed, "We have improved some from start to finish but we still have a long way to go."
The Aggies are young, light and slow.
The Red Raiders from Texas Tech show continued improvement. The Raiders will run from the modified I formation with more split end plays than last year.
The Raiders are laden with 12 seniors, 12 juniors and 20 sophomores. They return 25 of 41 lettermen, six on both defense and offense, plus two 1963 lettermen.
Southern Methodist University will have a long row to hoe, but might become the surprise of the league, that is if Texas Tech isn't.
The Mustangs return 17 lettermen, most of their starting backfield and some good defensive regulars.
The SWC should finish something like this:
1. Texas; 2. Arkansas; 3. Texas Tech; 4. Baylor; 5. SMU; 6. TCU; 7. Rice; 8. Texas A&M.
Next: The area teams.

By United Press International
The Ivy League, longing for the prestige accorded the major football conferences, suffered a couple of ego-damaging blows Tuesday.
Cosmo Iacavazzi, captain of last season's undefeated Princeton Tigers, was cut from the New York Jets and Ab Lawrence, captain of the 1964 Yale Bulldogs, runners-up in the Ivy League, was dropped by the New York Giants.
Iacavazzi, considered too small for running back at 5-foot-11, 200 pounds, had picked up 56 yards in three exhibition games for the American Football League Jets, who cut their roster to 45. The dismissal of Lawrence, a defensive tackle, helped reduce the Giants' roster to 50.

Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi said his charges "haven't played as well as scores might indicate," referring to the Packers 44-7 victory over the Giants and 31-14 triumph over the Chicago Bears in pre-season games. Lombardi drilled the Packers on timing in an effort to prepare for their Saturday night exhibition game against the Dallas Cowboys.
All-pro linebacker Myron Potlits will quit football after this season because of persistent injuries, according to reports from the Pittsburgh camp. The Steelers' 220-pound veteran suffered a fractured and separated shoulder against New York last week. It was his third major injury in three campaigns.

In other AFL squad cuts, the San Diego Chargers placed Don Rogers and Hank Schmidt on waivers; the Kansas City Chiefs trimmed Robert Bonds, Mike Cox and Preacher Pilot, the Houston Oilers cut Bill Jones and Henry Holligan and put Larry Elkins on the injured list, and the Oakland Raiders cut quarterback Lee Grosscup as well as Doug Brown, Dobie Craig, Howard Payne, Gordon Kelley, Bill Minor and Dave Morgan.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Misguided Liberals Aid Communists

AN ATTEMPT IS being made in some circles to paint the United States as the villain and color in the Communist invaders as the good guys in Viet Nam.

In Washington most Republicans and Democrats have supported President Johnson's policy in Southeast Asia along with the majority of the population.

Much of the protest seems to come from a shrill and articulate minority of college professors and students, spurred on by "hard left" leaders. They suggest that the intellectual elite of this country is opposed to the American cause in Viet Nam. How can a sensible dialogue be carried on with students who openly threaten to resist the obligation of military service with such slogans as "I won't fight even if drafted?"

These same students are deferred from the draft while other young men are risking their lives in Viet Nam. Perhaps Voltaire was right when he said: "Youth is better it to act than to judge."

Those misty-eyed peace merchants are fired with idealism. But they forget that understanding is a two-way street.

They are shocked by the killing of Asians, but only mildly moved by the rising toll of American casualties.

There was no praise from the firebrands for the President's proposal for unconditional discussions and there were no demonstrations in protest of the Hanoi-Peking rejection of this proposal.

THIS NEGATIVISM has caused a marked split in the intellectual camp in this country. Where is our national unity in time of crisis? Our foreign policy may have erred or hesitated, but must we drift aimlessly in some kind of existential quandary?

The sincere but misguided liberals who allow themselves to be hoodwinked by the verbal gymnastics of leftist propaganda are unknowingly contributing to the Communist cause — not as card-carrying members, but in spirit.

Communism spends much time and energy winning converts to its causes who are blinded to reality — and danger.

The Right of Parents

A group of parents in Jackson Heights, Long Island, who object to having their children sent in buses to distant schools, have organized the Jackson Heights Day School and have employed well-trained competent teachers. The cost is $26 per month per pupil (a little more than one-third of the cost of the city schools).

The Board of Education has ruled the private school inadequate and is attempting to force the children back into the buses. At stake is the right of parents to give their children the kind of education they choose. The issue will be fought out in the courts.

At the same time the Kognin Institute which formerly enjoyed approval of the Board of Education, and in which some of the children just mentioned are enrolled, has also been declared inadequate.

Few issues are more important than the right of parents to determine the kind of education their children shall receive. The American people would be well-advised not to surrender that right. If they do it won't be long until such rights as they have left will hardly matter. Whatever power controls the mind of youth will soon control the people.

Coming Tomorrow

Man's search for a continuing supply of oil is one of the more thrilling suspense stories of our lifetime. It continues and there are many more suspenseful developments yet to come.

At present, Libya, in North Africa, is the fastest growing oil producer. Exports average 1.2 million barrels a day. Attention now is centering on the North Sea and this may be the next great discovery area. Undersea areas offer geologists a promising new hunting ground.

Twelve offshore platforms are going up in the North Sea. The Cook Inlet of Alaska, the Gulf of Mexico, the California and Australian shelves are thicketed for further attention.

Value of Dissenters

Here's an item you might want to show the boss if you've been rubbing edges with him lately.

According to Prof. Paul Pigge's of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, no company is complete without its quota of non-conformists and dissenters and generally unreasonable people.

"A reasonable man rocks no boats," he says. "He is content to go along with things as they exist. But the unreasonable man is a dissatisfied worker who will come up with new ideas."

But don't expect it to have too much effect on the boss. How do you think he got where he is today? By being reasonable?

We Never Learned How NEW YORK (NEA) — We mentioned here some time ago that we have never had a mistress, and so could not say one way or the other that we really want one.

The whole thing, however, is an academic question, there is absolutely no percentage that we can see in being the head of two households. Especially as the second one is not even deductible.

And as to making temporary arrangements — well, the plain fact is that we have never learned the knack of romance on short notice.

That is probably a terrible admission for a newspaperman to make in public. If we measure popular opinion correctly, a press pass allows the bearer to cross all barricades — of every sort — regardless of where they have been erected.

But the truth of the matter is that we never learned how to pick up a girl. In fact, as we recall, our bachelorhood was almost wholly a desert of proper introductions — and nothing has happened since then to improve our skill.

Why this gap exists in our education we cannot explain. Certainly the flesh is willing. But for some reason the spirit is weak. And all we can say in our defense is that we do the best we can under the circumstances.

That is how we came to linger over our coffee in a small, hot, East Side restaurant last Friday night, where the air conditioner had been turned off hours before to comply with the city's emergency restriction for saving water.

Across the room, eating her dinner alone, was a very attractive young brunette.

Well, fairly attractive. And not exactly young. Somewhere between 27 and 37, we would guess. But most assuredly alone and reading a copy of the "New Yorker" magazine while she ate.

Under ordinary circumstances, we would not have paid much attention to her. In New York's little East Side restaurants, girls eating alone are a dime-a-dozen — or, if you are talking romance on short notice, a nickel-a-half-dozen.

Whether they are really available we cannot say. A woman alone in a restaurant in February could very easily be an author in town for book revisions, a junior executive after a hard day at the office, a television staffer just coming to work, somebody's wife, somebody's mistress. Anybody.

But in August, New York is a summer funeral. The city is hot and dirty and brutal. Everybody who can is gone by Friday afternoon. Even if it means doing unpleasant things, or accepting invitations to unpleasant places, or kicking in $1,000 to share a beach house season with unpleasant people.

Anybody who stays in town in the summer, it seems to us, would be desperate enough to put up with anything.

This summer, the city is also parched and worried. Signs everywhere say "Save Water Now." Decorative fountains have been turned off. Restaurants serve water only on request. And each morning's news reports that those measures will not suffice.

Anybody who stays in town during the weekends this summer knows how little personal destiny counts compared to nature's will.

To our way of thinking, a single girl who has not managed a weekend invitation this summer — or even a Friday night date — must be pretty lonely to come out to dinner like that. Or pretty scared. But, in either case, courageous.

What somebody with a knack for this sort of situation would have done about it, we cannot imagine. As we said, we do not have that knack. And actually, we do not know anybody who does.

For our part, we summoned the waiter and paid our bill. Then we pressed a quarter into his hand, telling him to take a flask of cold water to the lady's table — with our compliments.

He was just crossing the room with a pitcher and a glass when we closed the door on that place, and headed for home with the hollow feeling that we had narrowly escaped a fearful accident.

Turnabout

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 806: "It is often maintained that voting is a privilege rather than a right. Yet the Declaration of Independence says: 'That when any form of government becomes destructive of these ends (of liberty), it is the right of the people to alter it or abolish it.' Therefore, since the Declaration is one of your tenets of freedom, is not this stand on voting inconsistent?"

Answer: We do not believe insistence that voting is a privilege is at all inconsistent with the Declaration said nothing about voting. The Declaration was a statement of the reasons for the colonies or states to sever their connection with the Mother country.

The Declaration said all men "are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights." It listed certain rights, but said nothing of a "right to vote." The subsequent statement is: "That to secure (protect) these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

The statement did not say that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the majority or from the consent of a ruler or legislative body. Only the individual can give his consent.

The quotation about the "right of the people to alter or abolish" their government is reinforced in a subsequent statement declaring "it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government." The Congress of that day was not speaking of voting, it was telling why the representatives of the colonies had severed their allegiance to the English monarchy and why they had been fighting for more than a year.

The original Constitution and the Bill of Rights did not mention a "right to vote." As far as we can determine, the first time such a "right" was mentioned was in the 14th Amendment.

However, a mere statement does not change the principle that rights are natural or God-given and that privileges are something which one individual or a group can give to someone, and which can be revoked by granting power.

More Than $25 Million of Foreign Aid Spent in Research and Analysis

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — More than $25 million in foreign aid funds has been spent for scores of so-called research and analysis projects ranging from "Diffusion of Innovations in Rural Societies" to "The Interaction of Social Values and Political Responsibility."

Cost of these studies runs from $5,405 to Haverford College, Pa., for "Effect of Foreign Aid on U.S. Balance on Payments," to $2,463,275 to the University of Wisconsin for "Research and Training in Land Tenure and Reform in Latin America."

Most of these foreign aid-financed research dispensations went to U.S. universities with a few to private institutions and a few business concerns.

These are the latest disclosures by Representative Vernon Thomson, R., Wis., member of the Foreign Affairs Committee who has determinedly crusaded against waste, extravagance, bungling, mismanagement and other costly failings in the administration of the multi-billion dollar foreign aid program.

His jolting new expose comes as Congress is preparing to approve the compromise $3.36 billion foreign aid authorization bill agreed on by the House-Senate conferees under strenuous White House pressure.

In an effort to put an end to foreign aid spending on such studies, Thomson has drafted an amendment barring that, as follows:

"None of the funds appropriated or made available under this Act for carrying out the Foreign Assistance Act . . . may be used to make payments with respect to any contract to which the United States is a party which provides for research into the administrative organization or operation, or personnel practices, of the Agency for International Development."

This amendment will be offered by Thomson when the foreign aid appropriation bill is considered by the House in the next several weeks. He has been assured of bipartisan support in his economy drive.

THE PLUM LIST — Representative Thomson has demanded of the Agency for International Development (AID), which administers the multibillion dollar foreign aid program, detailed explanations of these expensive and esoteric studies.

He is baffled why large sums of money voted by Congress for foreign aid should be spent for probing the "Impact of Electric Power on Rural Development," "Development Planning" and numerous other subjects with no apparent relation to foreign aid.

"We have spent hundreds of millions of dollars in the past 30 years on rural electrification," points out Thomson, "so I would think we know a great deal about that. I can't understand why foreign aid funds should be spent for research in

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Protection Always Falls Back on the Individual

By SAM CAMPBELL
Business Editor

The recent Battle of Watts out in California was fought by both sides with two eyes on the violence, and a third "eye" on the 1966 elections.

The political effect of domestic strife was in the minds of riot fomenters as they broke windows, set fires, and sniped at black and white.

The physical strategy of the riot fomenters — probably whites were in the number — was quite simple. It was to create disorder in enough places over a wide — enough area in order to spread thin the amount of police power that could be brought to bear at any one point.

Counter Strategy

The counter strategy of the police and fire departments was (1) to avoid over-dispersal of their strength, and (2) to contain the damage as closely as possible to the area of origin.

The political strategy of the fomenters was to take advantage of the street violence in order to gain access to the general news media. By this means they were able to obtain an audience as they accused law-enforcement officers of outrages both in judgment and in deed. Commit an atrocity, in other words, and blame it on someone else.

The political strategy of the police, on the other hand, was to avoid incidents that might fuel the opposition's propaganda machine.

How Successful?

How successful were these several strategies?

First, the provocateurs were successful in creating the widespread disorder. They did spread the police power so thin that looting and incendiarism went unchecked as television cameras recorded the events.

For their part, the police avoided over dispersal. Throughout the disorder, they maintained a battle effectiveness. Of course, property owners paid a price in tens of millions — not to mention lives.

Third, the fomenters did gain access to the news media. Hooliganism in the street was matched by hooliganism on the air waves as television interviewers accorded young mobsters the deference usually reserved for military heroes.

Police Discipline

Fourth, on the whole police successfully avoided carnage. Their restraint is a testimony to remarkable discipline under the most trying of conditions. But this success likewise was bought at a cost.

The battlefield situation called for a drastic clearing of the streets and an expeditious termination of looting wherever it should be spotted. However, the potential political aftermath acted as a shield for brigandage of the most obvious sort. One looter was seen to run from a store with an outboard motor across his back.

What is the lesson of Watts? First, the fomenters learned that, although they could not disperse the well-disciplined police force, they could tie it down. This knowledge gives them opportunity to run rampant through neighborhoods other than their own.

Second, the police openly acknowledged they could not protect lives and property. Thus every resident inside the battle area was thrown upon his own resources. Of course, the same lesson applies outside the battle area.

The grand meaning of Watts is this: a political mechanism — such as the existing bureaucracy — is helpless to protect life or property for the simple reasons that its decisions are necessarily political and not necessarily correct.

Thus the duty to protect one's own ultimately falls on the individual himself. The individual must decide whether he will defend himself or remain defenseless. Self defense is everybody's business.

BY H. L. HUNT

A FREEDOM TO BE SAVED Throughout history controlled newspapers have played an important role as organs of revolutionary propaganda. One newspaper, ISKRA, founded by Lenin and the Russian Social Democratic Party in Leipzig, Germany, in 1900 achieved its purpose.

In America individual initiative, the profit motive and the freedom concept was responsible for the development of newspapers in the U.S.

The U.S. with a population of 190 million has one daily paper for each approximately 97,000 persons. As late as 1959 Cuba had 58 dailies. A dictatorship spells the death of newspapers.

Czechoslovakia, a population 15,586,000 has 692,800 persons per daily paper, roughly 7 times as many persons per paper as in the U.S. Bulgaria, population 7,943,000, has 11 dailies, 8 times as many persons per paper as the U.S. Rumania has 13 daily papers, population 18,581,000, 15 times as many per paper as the U.S. Russia, population 223,122,000 approximately, has about 47 daily papers, roughly 49 times as many per paper as the U.S. Red China has 8 daily papers, a population of some 700 million, 868 times as many persons per paper as the U.S.

A daily newspaper with 200,000 circulation furnishes employment for about 800 persons. If the number of papers in the U.S. is decimated to the above ratio in dictatorship countries, a vast number of people in the U.S. must choose a different means livelihood.

In dictatorships there are no party primaries, no elections, no congressional debates and advertising is unnecessary as people can buy only what a dictatorship will permit.

The press is beginning to realize that foremost among the freedoms patriots are trying to save is freedom of the press.

PLANS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is planning a news conference Wednesday, according to White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers.

Moyers said Monday the session will be open for live coverage by radio and television, but that its exact time had not been determined. The President's last formal news conference was July 28.

SPECIAL WEEK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Monday signed a congressional resolution to designate Aug. 31 to Sept. 6 as American Legion Baseball Week, quipping that Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, who was present at the signing ceremony, to pass a proposal aimed at circumventing a Supreme Court ruling on state legislative apportionment by attaching it to the resolution.

"Actually," Dirksen shot back, "the game was called on account of darkness."

Foreign News
Commentary

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
Outlook from the foreign news cables:

New Formula:
The U.S. Marines in Viet Nam have found a new formula for victory and experts in Saigon believe many more big American operations will be coming up. The Marines killed nearly 600 guerrillas in an air, ground and sea attack involving thousands of leathernecks. The victory seems to prove that massive conventional campaigns can kill Viet Cong as effectively as the small commando-type operations advocated by guerrilla warfare theorists. U.S. Army units eager for such a lop-sided victory are expected to adopt the same tactics.

Wheat Shortage:
Russia's agricultural crisis is assuming ever increasing proportions and the Soviets have purchased wheat from Canada, Argentina and France. The Kremlin has studiously avoided the U.S. wheat market thus far but may have to turn to it if the harvest, as expected, is as bad as the crisis year of 1963.

New Alphan Job:
French officials in Paris say it is almost certain ambassador to Washington Herve Alphan will be named secretary general of the Quai d'Orsay (foreign office) to succeed Eric de Carbone who died recently. However, the appointment may not be announced for some time. Charles Lucet, political director of the Quai d'Orsay, is considered a leading contender for Alphan's Washington job.

Student Unrest:
President Park Chung Hee of South Korea apparently is headed for more trouble — student protests against ratification of the treaty restoring Japanese-Korean relations. Colleges and universities are reopening after what is sometimes called a "political vacation" and the students seem more determined than ever to fight for nullification of the treaty. Their aim is dissolution of the present National Assembly and new elections.

Negotiations Seen Possible

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union (USW) could be persuaded to sign for a 15-cent hourly increase, Steel Magazine said today, even though the USW is asking 17 cents per hour.

Management and labor in the steel negotiations may not be as far apart on money as they seem to be, steel said. Manufacturers are only committed to an 11.5 cent hourly accrual until Aug. 31, Steel said, but pointed out it is nearly impossible for them to settle for less.

Steel is optimistically predicting a settlement without a strike, saying neither side wants one. According to the metal-working weekly, labor has no rank-and-file support for a work stoppage and companies fear a strike would hurt them competitively.

In addition, such external factors as the fighting in Viet Nam would make the union and the industry look bad in case of a strike. In addition, President Johnson fears a strike could lead to an economic downturn.

Steel predicts an imminent buyers' market, but the magazine also anticipates increased prices.

If no strike occurs the strike hedge stockpiles will immediately become surplus inventories. If a strike is called—but lasts less than a month—strike hedge inventories will be reduced only slightly.

Thus, Steel said, buyers can increase pressure for improved quality, delivery and service but, according to Steel, a new labor contract will increase production costs and Steel said, "It's reasonable to expect price increases on domestic material."

CONDOLENCE NOTE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has sent a telegram of condolence to Mrs. Philip Daniels of Keene, N. H., the mother of the Episcopal seminarian shot to death near Hayneville, Ala., in a civil rights incident.

The President expressed grief over the death of the theological student, Jonathan M. Daniels, 27, and said "we labor toward the day when the cause of brotherhood may prevail, and the violence that sometimes scars the face of America may be ended."
