

Oklahoma Schools Off NEA Blacklist

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's major teacher organization today removed Oklahoma's school system from its blacklist.

The National Education Association (NEA) acted only a few days after Oklahoma voters approved a record $28.7 million school financing plan. The NEA said this showed that Oklahomans "will not tolerate short-changing their children's education."

Sanctions were applied to Oklahoma last spring by the NEA because of what it said was low teacher pay scales and otherwise inadequate financing of the state school system.

The NEA described the sanctions as the "ultimate weapon" for improving school conditions. Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon vigorously protested the action as unwarranted and an interference in state affairs.

The sanctions were nationwide and included a virtual open invitation to Oklahoma teachers to look for jobs in other states. Help was offered to line up jobs and the NEA said today that many teachers did not leave. A spokesman did not say how many, however.

William G. Carr, executive secretary of the NEA, said in announcing removal of the sanctions that "all of the educational problems in Oklahoma have not been solved" but that the corrective actions taken so far represented "important decisions and adjustments."

The NEA followed the Oklahoma Education Association's (See OKLAHOMA, Page 3)

LBJ Orders Step-Up In Rights Enforcement

Department, Agency Reorganization Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today announced steps to "streamline and strengthen" federal enforcement and other activities in the civil rights field.

The President announced this would be accompanied by reorganization of various federal agencies and departments.

The reshuffling, based on recommendations by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, is aimed mainly at giving each department and agency complete responsibility for civil rights activities in its respective field.

Each officer and employee of the federal government who administers a federal program will bear the full responsibility for making certain that their programs are administered without discrimination and with full consideration of the objective of equal opportunity for all Americans," the White House said.

A major feature of the reorganization will be transfer from the Commerce Department to the Justice Department of the Community Relations Service which is assigned to conciliate civil rights disputes.

Johnson also appointed Wiley H. Branton, a veteran civil rights worker in Atlanta, as special assistant to Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to conduct a "full and vigorous and swift" program of voter registration for Negroes in the South.

Branton has been executive secretary of the President's Council on Equal Opportunity, which will be abolished under the new plan. The President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, which Humphrey now heads, also will be eliminated.

The functions of those groups and other civil rights activities now will be handled by:

- The Civil Service Commission, in "insuring that the federal government in its employment, promotion and other personnel policies does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed or color."

—The secretary of labor, who had been vice chairman of the Committee of Equal Employment Opportunities, now will have "total responsibility for reviewing discrimination complaints and assuring compliance by government contractors" who are required to hire workers without racial discrimination.

—The "Plans for Progress Program," under which the Equal Employment Opportunities Committee obtained non-discrimination pledges from government contractors, will be continued "on a private, voluntary basis."

Nazi Breaks Into Session Of House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A neatly dressed young man shouting "siegh heil!" disrupted a session of the House today.

He showered racist handbills from the gallery and hurled a Nazi flag into the chamber.

Doorkeepers and police hauled him away only after a struggle that lasted several minutes. House members watched spellbound from the floor.

The demonstrator, apparently a member of George Lincoln Rockwell's American Nazi Party, denounced legislation to restore self-government to the District of Columbia. He charged it was "no good" for white people.

During his tirade from the gallery, he loosed onto the House floor a barrage of printed leaflets purporting to be one-way boat tickets to Africa, each entitled "one nigger" to a free trip with "plenty of wine, marijuana, heroin and other refreshments."

The handbills carried a notation that they were "Copyrighted, 1965, by Lincoln Rockwell."

Fulbright Gets Voting Request

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright's unusual voting request underlined today Congress' desire for a new foreign aid program next year.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, received Senate consent Thursday night to vote "present" when the cut-back appropriations measure was approved 59-21.

For the Arkansas Democrat, it was the culmination of a year-long dissatisfaction with the administration's failure to support his efforts for an overhauled, long-range program.

Police said the intruder had prepared for his display by handcuffing his wrist to a metal handrail. When guards grabbed him, they could not immediately pull him loose. Finally, a half dozen attendants were engaged in the struggle.

Pakistanis Are Accused In Ceasefire Violations

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India accused Pakistan today of violating the United Nations ceasefire at several frontier points while pro-Pakistan guerrillas reported killing 83 Indian soldiers in a flareup of fighting in Kashmir.

The Indian accusation was the first report of violations since the cease-fire went into effect at 3:30 a.m. Indian time Thursday (6 pm. EDT Wednesday). An official government statement said the Pakistanis had entered India and dug trenches at a number of points.

Indian anger turned to Britain meanwhile for halting military shipments during the war with Pakistan. Deputy Prime Minister Jha Azad of the ruling Congress party asked India to withdraw from the British Commonwealth.

Both Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammad Ayub Khan received congratulations from Kashmir on the northern end of the border with West Pakistan to the Rajasthan (Sind desert) area far to the south.

It said Pakistani forces were seen digging trenches in the Jhangar area.

India reported that an investigating team of U.N. observers confirmed that Pakistani rangers attacked an Indian constabulary post at Asatur Thursday after the cease-fire became effective. Asatur is in the Rajasthan area about 52 miles northwest of Jaisalmer.

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said Thursday night India would honor the cease-fire but he warned that any attack by Pakistan would be met with "full determination and force."

Speaking to India's millions over All-India radio, Shastri said the cease-fire had not removed the threat of war on the subcontinent. He said India must be prepared for an attack by Communist China.

Pakistan itself was reported returning to normal with telegraph services and international airline services being restored.

The India statement said the Pakistani violations ranged from President Johnson and from Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kossygin on ending their three-week old war.

Both Shastri and Ayub Khan have warned that the crisis is not over.

The Indian defense ministry reported an easing of tension in the Sikkim-Tibet border area and said the Chinese Communists are thinning out from the Chola and Yakla passes while still occupying the north and south shoulders of Nathula pass. It said the Chinese had left Indian territory in the Dongchui La pass.

Pakistan reported today its troops were occupying 1,600 square miles of Pakistan. A military statement reported 830 Pakistanis killed in action and an estimated 7,000 Indians dead.

Disarm Offer Made

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has made a new disarmament proposal to the Russians which, if accepted, would be the world's first step toward reducing nuclear arsenals.

The proposal, in ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's speech to the United Nations Thursday, called for "demonstrated destruction" by the United States and Russia of a "substantial number" of their nuclear weapons.

The fissionable material inside the weapons, Goldberg said, would be transferred to "peaceful purposes."

U.N. sources said the proposal was one first considered by President Johnson last spring. The chief executive was said to have planned to unveil it at the U.N.'s 20th anniversary meeting in San Francisco in June, but changed his plans after word leaked out.

In one sense the proposal was the first by the United States calling for a specific step toward nuclear disarmament.

The standard Soviet answer to most of these interim proposals has been that they were NOT really disarmament; that they did NOT reach to the heart of the problem.

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Carol was hemmed in on all sides today by high pressures that squeezed out some of her punch. She remained stationary about 2,000 miles off the eastern seaboard.

The storm, its winds down to minimum hurricane force of 75 miles an hour, was estimated at 6 a.m. EDT, near latitude 35.0 north, longitude 43.0 west, or about 1,250 miles just north of due east of Bermuda and about the same place it lingered most of Thursday after first running into the high pressure in its northward course.

The weather bureau said the hurricane posed no threat to any land areas and was expected to remain "essentially stationary" without growing in size or intensity.

ACTOR CHARLES BOYER
... and only son

Police Probe Cause In Death of Boyer

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Did despair over a broken romance or a game of Russian roulette lead to the fatal shooting of Charles Boyer's 21-year-old son Michael?

Police said that one or the other apparently caused the actor's son to shoot himself to death Thursday in his fashionable Coldwater Canyon home. Boyer died soon after his fiancée told him their romance was over.

His 66-year-old father, grim and distraught, arrived here from Paris Thursday night to arrange for the funeral. He had been working on two films and had also been preparing a record album in which he and his son had an interest.

West Los Angeles detectives said the young Boyer's death was either a suicide or the "accidental" result of a game of Russian roulette.

Marilyn Campbell, 22, his fiancée, told police she had broken the engagement shortly before the shooting.

"He told me he was a loser, that he had always been a loser and that if he lost me he would kill himself," she said.

The girl was with Boyer in his den when the shooting occurred but had her back turned, officers said.

A house guest, John Kirsh, 22, also was in the hillside home when the shot was fired, but said he was in another room watching television.

The actor's son—an avid gun collector—had been employed as a dialogue coach for his father's defunct television series, "The Rogues," and recently became a promotion director for Valiant Records, owned by Four Star Productions, in which his father is a partner.

Winter Weather Holds Tomorrow

Pampa's wet wintry weather was to continue at least through tomorrow afternoon. The weatherman did promise, though, a temporary warm up late tomorrow.

During the past week, Pampa has measured approximately two inches of moisture, with 7 hundredths of that total coming late yesterday and this morning.

The mercury climbed to 70 degrees ahead of a fast moving cold front yesterday and dipped to a low of 45 this morning.

Most of Texas, however, enjoyed pleasant fall weather this morning and schoolboy football fans could look forward to good weather for tonight's games.

Skies in Northeast Texas were clear. Elsewhere they were cloudy to partly cloudy.

Rainfall during the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. was generally confined to the Panhandle and South Texas, where widely scattered showers and thunderstorms were predicted through Saturday.

Rainmaker Still Short of Goal as Deadline Nears

By THOMAS HOUGH
LAMESA, Tex. (UPI) — Don L. Brunton of Amarillo, who installed a rainmaking machine near this South Plains town last March, has only one more week to bring nine inches of rain to Dawson County.

If the rain comes, he collects $13,000—if it doesn't, his work will have been for nothing.

The torrents that fell higher in the South Plains during the weekend did not help him any. They cut off sharply at the Dawson County line and less than an inch fell during the weekend in that county.

Brunton contracted with Rain, Inc., a group of Dawson County farmers and businessmen, to double the average rainfall over a five-month period.

He said he could do it with his "electrostatic precipitator"—a giant-sized modification of his electric weed killer that looks like a rocket.

Rain, Inc., said it does not look like Brunton will collect.

"He's about nine inches short," Bruner said.

The official rainfall count on Sept. 1 was a total of 10.19 inches of rain.

Dawson County was desperately in need of rain early this year. In 1963, the cotton crop produced 150,000 bales. Last year, with only 10 inches of rain, the county produced 95,000 bales. Almost all of Dawson County is dry land—it has little irrigation.

Spokesmen for Rain, Inc., said they were "willing to take the risk" of hiring Brunton, who has 133 patents on his rainmaker. The corporation spent $2,000 to cover the installation and operating costs of the rainmaking equipment.

The machine eats up $150-$240 a month in electricity.

County residents were enthusiastic when Brunton's machine was first installed.

"We had 32 (inches of rain) when it was installed," Bruner said. "Then in April we got 1.30 and in May we got 1.82. So you can see it looked encouraging."

By the end of June, the Amarillo rainmaker was credited with two inches of rain above the normal average. But then there was a very dry July, and during August, the rainfall was about normal.

"We still have the pledge for all of the $13,000," Bruner said, "but he (Brunton) will have to go some to get nine inches of rain by the last of the month."

"The estimate this year is for about 140,000 bales," said Bruner. "That's about average. With a little more rain and a late freeze, there is still a possibility of an increase in the amount of cotton we can grow in Dawson County."

'Sheepish' Parade Staged Before Chinese Embassy

NEW DELHI (UPI)—A festive crowd of 100,000 Indians paraded 800 sheep — some of them painted brilliant colors—before the Chinese Communist embassy today in a derisive protest against recent Chinese charges.

The Chinese, among other things, had accused the Indians of kidnaping 300 sheep from Tibet and taking them across the border into Sikkim, a charge denied by the maharaja of Sikkim.

This is a gift of the Chinese government which wants to plunge the world into a dreadful war only for a few sheep," big banners preceding the animals read. The shep were painted in bright blues, yellows, oranges and blacks.

The procession, starting from downtown Connaught Circle, twisted its way along various roads for several miles to the Chinese embassy. Office workers left their jobs to join the throng.

The embassy was heavily guarded by New Delhi police, and reserve police units waited nearby in case the crowds got out of hand. But it was the most jubilant crowd seen in New Delhi since start of the Indo-Pakistan war. They obviously believed China had backed down in its threats.

The baaing sheep, bewildered by their sudden prominence, ran helter skelter in a flock something like bulls running through the streets on festive occasions in Spain and Portugal. They caused road blocks and huge traffic jams as drivers and passengers halted their cars and jumped into the crowds to share the fun.

The youths, to come from voluntary enlistments, will train under the Army's six-month program, then be assigned to National Guard divisions and other civilian units scheduled to be expanded to wartime strength.

Originally, the additional manpower for high-priority civilian units was to be obtained from organizations abandoned under the merger plan.

Three National Guard divisions and six independent brigades are scheduled to get additional men and equipment. Officials said they would be selected within the next week or 10 days.

About 20,000 men are needed to fill out the combat units; supporting troops are also needed. Already the civilian reserves are getting more than 150,000 men a year from the Army plans to recruit thousands of youths to bring civilian military units to wartime strength for possible use in the Vietnamese conflict.

Officials disclosed the plans Thursday as an alternative to the Defense Department's proposed merger of the National Guard and Army Reserve, which was blocked by Congress.

India's Atomic Efforts Feared

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials expressed grave concern today over the possibility that India may enter the nuclear arms race.

Their fears were intensified by the disclosure Thursday that 86 members of India's Parliament had demanded that Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri immediately take steps to produce nuclear weapons.

The Johnson administration has intensified its previous admonitions to India NOT to take the fateful step of moving into production of nuclear weapons lest it touch off similar actions by a number of other nations.

In addition to the obvious military and political consequences, the United States would hate to see hungry, impoverished India devote its resources to the relatively sterile field of atomic weaponry.

It was recognized in Washington, however, that the war with Pakistan plus the intensified threat from Red China had strengthened the position of pro-nuclear elements in India. They have long insisted that the country should manufacture its own nuclear weapons in view of Peking's progress in this field.

So far, Shastri has resisted this pressure. If he gives in, it would constitute a definite setback to the efforts of the United States, Russia and Britain to get an international agreement against any further spread of nuclear weapons.

American scientists say India has the resources and scientific know-how to get into production of explosive nuclear devices within about 18 months.

Famed Actress Fights for Life

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Academy Award winner Dorothy Malone battled for her life today after a six-hour lung operation during which her heart stopped but was kept beating by a mechanical heart-lung device.

The 40-year-old blonde star of television's "Peyton Place" series was placed in the intensive care unit at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital at about 5:15 a.m. EDT after 10 hours and 15 minutes in the operating room.

Dear Abby... It's Not Necessary To Tell Mate Everything

DEAR ABBY: A woman and I were talking and something came up I'd like your opinion on. This woman and her husband seem to be a happily married couple. In the course of our conversation she said that her husband tells her everything. I didn't know her well enough to start an argument with her, so I changed the subject.

DEAR ABBY: This problem has undoubtedly come into the lives of other divorced couples, but I have never seen it in your column. I have been divorced for almost three years. I was separated from my wife for eight months before that. I went with my present wife for two years before we were married.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say a word to working mothers (I do not mean divorcees or widows), but those women who leave with the men every morning while their children get themselves off to school and then come home to an empty house.

Mother at home to guide us. She is now 57, still works every day and overtime on Saturday. I think if they offered her double on Christmas Day, she'd take it. If this changes the thinking of just one mother, who decided that now that her children are in school all day they don't "need" her so she can go to work, it will be worth a lot. Children need a mother who will listen to them. Not one who comes home with frayed nerves complaining about the people she has to listen to all day.

IN DALLAS Police Caught Napping

DALLAS (UPI)— Six Dallas policemen today faced investigation on charges they were found sleeping in a South Dallas cemetery in their squad cars. All were relieved of assignment pending the inquiry.

The officers represented about half the early morning detail assigned to that section of Dallas.

Reports at police headquarters—neither confirmed nor denied by officials—said the six were discovered early Thursday by two supervisors who slipped up on them in the Oakland Cemetery.

According to the reports the men had driven their squad cars into the cemetery and then closed the gates to keep from being discovered.

They were reported by a patrol division lieutenant, who made the discovery with a patrol sergeant. All were notified later Thursday not to report back to work pending a review.

Independent city councilman Joe G. Moody, a frequent critic of police department operational policies, said the "sleeping incident" came as no surprise to him.

Earlier this week Moody had implied low police salaries caused policemen to "moonlight" or work at a second job, and make up lost sleep while on duty. He cited to the city council an example of a two-man squad where one officer drove while the other slept.

Police Chief Jesse Curry confirmed reports the men had been relieved and ordered to appear in his office today.

Congo Premier Misses Death

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—An alleged attempt to assassinate Premier Mose Tshombe during a football match here Tuesday was foiled by soccer fans, a spokesman for the prime minister said today.

He held a news conference authorities were holding two Congolese men who had been cocking revolvers just as Tshombe's car was leaving the King Baudouin Stadium after a soccer match between the Congo and Liberia.

The two men, who both had admitted their intention of killing Tshombe, were apprehended by people in the crowd and turned over to the police, the spokesman said.

Foreign Commentary

By STEWART HENSLEY - United Press International. American officials believe that Red China's chances of getting into the United Nations have diminished sharply as a result of her recent words and deeds.

This should make it easier, at the U.N. General Assembly opening in New York Tuesday, for the United States to reverse the rising tide of support Peking has gained in the annual balloting on this issue in recent years.

Red China's threats against India, which raised the specter of a major Asian war, have cost her some support among those who previously urged she be given the seat held by Nationalist China.

Peking's scornful rejection of any role for the United Nations in seeking peace in Viet Nam also has had its effect.

This is particularly noticeable, according to U.S. officials, among some of the African nations formerly inclined to support Red China.

Critics U.N. Not that Peking cares, if you can go by what Premier Chou En-Lai says.

When he bluntly turned down early this month any United Nations role in the Viet Nam conflict, Chou also made it clear that the world organization would have to mend its ways before Peking would want to join.

By this he meant that it must cast off what Red China views as domination by "imperialist America," with the connivance of "Soviet revisionists."

The number of countries who believe that Red China can be reformed by permitting it to become a member of the club has shrunk somewhat. One notable defection from these ranks is India, which first proposed Peking's membership in 1950.

It was beaten back decisively at that time, and for the next 10 years the United States was able to get a vote each year to postpone consideration of the problem.

The high point for this U.S. resolution was in 1957, when it was approved 48 to 27. By 1960 the votes for the U.S. position were down to 42, while the opposition was able to muster 34.

In 1961 Russia proposed giving Peking the Chinese seat. This was beaten 48 to 37, with 19 abstentions. In 1962 the same resolution was defeated 56 to 42, with 12 abstentions.

By 1963, with Russia and China at sword's point in their bitter ideological feud, Albania had to go to bat for Peking. The pro-Peking faction came nearer to getting a bare majority and the United States' concern increased.

While the General Assembly so far has ruled that it would take a two-thirds majority to seat Peking instead of Formosa, it can always change this rule by a simple majority vote if it wishes.

There was no vote last year, since the assembly was handcuffed by the dispute over voting rights of delinquent debtor nations such as Russia and France.

This year Albania again is putting forward the resolution with Algeria, Burundi, Cambodia, Congo-Brazzaville, Cuba, Ghana, Guinea, Mali and Romania seconding the motion.

The odds are, as U.S. officials see it, that the attempt can be beaten back more easily than at any time since 1957. For this, they say, Red China receives the credit or the blame, according to how you look at it.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton says that a temporary pause in the advance of the market would give it a chance to regroup its forces for an assault on record highs. There has been no real reaction in the market since mid-August and a drop to the 910 level of the Dow-Jones industrial average probably would not "violate" the three month advance.

There are many indications, he says, that the list will give ground grudgingly since it is in a very strong technical position and the volume contracts on lower days and swells on favorable sessions.

Jay F. Gershtoff of Philips, Appel & Walden believes the short-term goal of the Dow-Jones industrial average seems to be around the 960-975 level and that the rise will be led by a broadening of interest in the market, especially in the steel group.

Bache & Company believes the market probably has enough momentum now to carry it over the old highs and that the market's refusal to take more than a short pause underscores this.

Thomson & McKinnon says the current market strength most likely comes from increased investor confidence and a rise in speculation. The company says latter would seem to indicate that the market will probably halt its advance for some consolidation as the Dow-Jones industrial average approaches record levels.

"Now that the sanctions have been removed, it is hoped that educational gains achieved this summer will continue to gain momentum and that all forces in Oklahoma will now unite to elevate the quality of Oklahoma education."

Carr said Oklahoma citizens, by their 2-1 approval of the constitutional amendment in a referendum last week, had "shown concern about their schools and willingness to support them.

"We hope that the school districts throughout Oklahoma will soon take advantage of this legislation," he added.

He said the NEA would pay no special attention to Oklahoma now that the sanctions have been revoked. But he said the association watches educational developments in all states and will be "very much interested" in the Oklahoma situation.

PARENTAL INFLUENCE NEW YORK (UPI) — Parents aren't out of the picture when it comes to what a teenage boy will spend on clothes.

A survey of more than 700 high school leaders by the Boys' Apparel & Accessories Manufacturers Association and Scholastic Magazines show that 44 per cent said both parents helped decide the top price they would spend for clothing. The survey also showed that when it comes to choosing style, 73 per cent of those interviewed said that choice was theirs alone.

Recruiting

(Continued From Page 1) six-month program. Men signing up for the program, which keeps them out of the draft, are released by the Army at the end of six months. But then they must join a civilian unit.

Officials said they anticipated no difficulty in recruiting the additional men, because enlistments have been soaring with the recent increase in the draft to more than 36,000 men a month.

The program has some attractions for the potential draftee, since even the highest priority civilian unit may not be called to active duty at the present time.

The three National Guard divisions will be brought to a strength of about 15,000 men. They are expected to be selected from the Guard's four top infantry divisions—the 26th in Massachusetts, 28th in Pennsylvania, 30th in North Carolina and the 42nd in New York. They now have about 10,000 men each.

The brigades will be increased to about 3,500 men each. The Guard's top brigades are the 29th in Hawaii, 67th in Nebraska, 69th in Kansas, 92nd in Puerto Rico, 258th in Arizona, and infantry units with the 30th Armored Division in Tennessee and the 50th Armored Division in New Jersey.

Man Injured As Car Overtakes

A 24-year-old Oklahoma man was listed in serious condition today in Northwest Tlxas Hospital in Amarillo following a one-car turnover last night near Canadian.

Hospital attendants said the victim, W. L. Kite, is suffering from a broken back and other internal injuries.

He was transferred to the Amarillo hospital last night after emergency treatment at a Canadian hospital.

According to investigating highway patrolmen, Kite lost control of his 1957 model automobile when he was attempting to negotiate a curve and overturned twice. His car was demolished.

The accident occurred about 9 p.m., 4 miles north of Canadian on U.S. 60.

Dead Pilot's Wife Sued for Mishap

A lawsuit asking "far in excess of $1,000" was filed in Pampa's 31st District Court today in connection with a plane crash Jan. 21 which took the life of three Pampa residents.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Don (Diane) Davis against Mrs. Jewell D. Lewis of Pampa.

The air crash, two miles west of Pampa, took the life of Don Davis, Wesley Lewis and Henry Collier.

Actor Charged With Drunkenness

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor Lee Marvin faced arraignment today on a drunkenness charge which resulted from his arrest after a traffic accident.

Marvin, 41, was taken into custody by California Highway Patrol officers who arrived on the scene after his car struck a motorcycle ridden by Robert Hathaway, 27, Los Angeles. Hathaway suffered a possible broken leg.

Marvin was technically booked on being "drunk in public view" and was released within two hours on $22 bail. Sheriff's officers said they would seek a complaint charging drunk driving.

A paragraph in the story of U. S. Senator John Tower's speech in yesterday's Pampa News should have read:

"The senator enforced his position by citing the fact that only 22 per cent of agriculture is involved in price or production controls and that percentage is the LEAST prosperous area of agriculture today."

REV. J. D. LOTT
CALVARY ASSEMBLY OF GOD

A VICTORIOUS LIFE

"But they that wait upon the Lord, shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary and they shall walk and not faint." Isaiah 40:31

Anyone can be a failure. Only certain people become a great success during their natural life. There are some who have found the secret to a successful, victorious Christian life, whereas others have failed. How may we accomplish this challenge?

I. THEY THAT WAIT:

The greatest secret of all is to wait for the guidance of the Lord so that our strength may be renewed with power from on high. Let us pray, wait, and follow the commands of God.

II. THEY SHALL MOUNT UP AS EAGLES:

The power of God within our life should be utilized to carry us above the complex conditions of this world, so that we may become more than conquerors. From this day forward may we mount up and soar higher and higher toward a greater spiritual life.

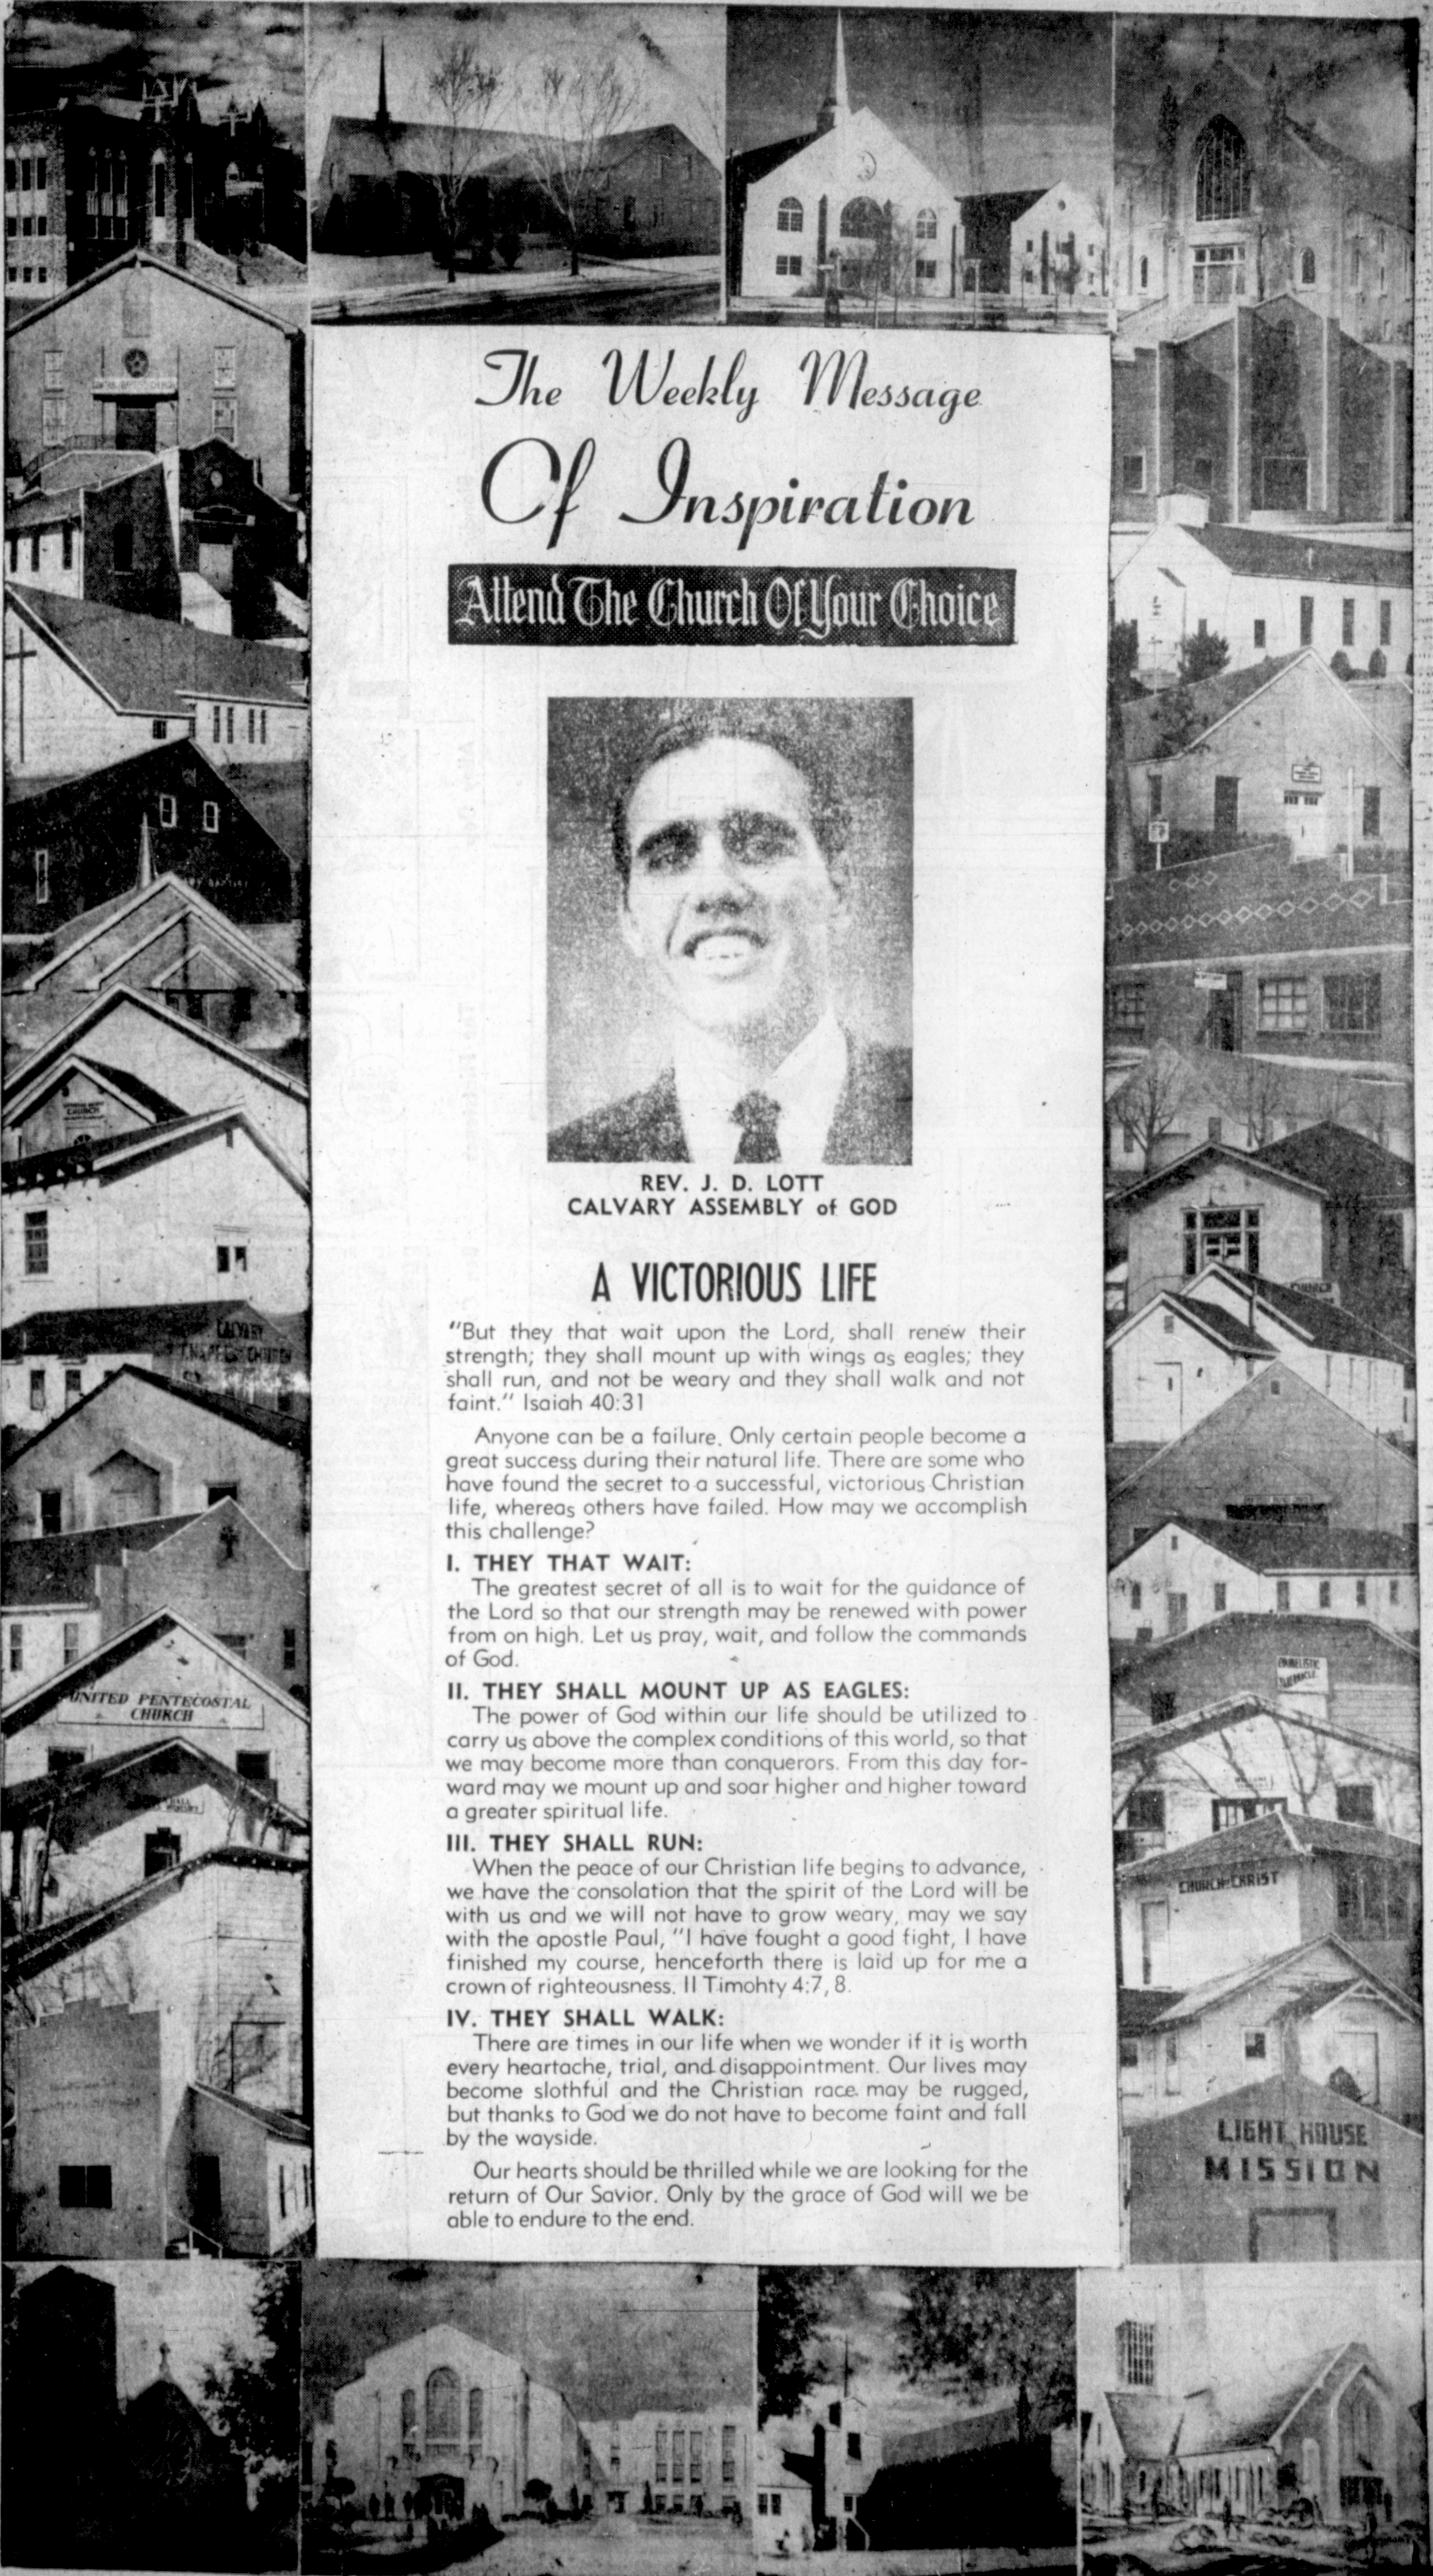

III. THEY SHALL RUN:

When the peace of our Christian life begins to advance, we have the consolation that the spirit of the Lord will be with us and we will not have to grow weary, may I say with the apostle Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness. II Timothy 4:7, 8.

IV. THEY SHALL WALK:

There are times in our life when we wonder if it is worth every heartache, trial, and disappointment. Our lives may become slothful and the Christian race may be rugged, but thanks to God we do not have to become faint and fall by the wayside.

Our hearts should be thrilled while we are looking for the return of Our Savior. Only by the grace of God will we be able to endure to the end.

Harvesters, Palo Duro Open League Play Tonight

By RON CROSS News Sports Editor

AMARILLO (Spl.) — Pampa and Palo Duro square off in a conference battle at 7:30 p.m. here today in Dick Bivins stadium.

Pampa will be trying for its first win over the Dons since the two schools started playing each other in 1956.

Since that time the Dons have won all nine contests.

The Harvesters chances for winning have been reduced somewhat with the probable loss of starting fullback Ted Heiskell.

suffering from a bruised knee. The 200-pound junior leads the Harvesters in total rushing yardage with 120 yards on 34 carries.

Harvester coach Eural Ramsey said Thursday that Heiskell's status as a starter was still doubtful.

Ramsey did say however, that the fullback looked somewhat better Thursday.

Jim Moore, a 158 pound senior will be installed in the fullback

slot should Heiskell have to ride the bench.

Two changes on the offensive unit were announced by Ramsey with James Matney, the Harvesters punter winning a spot at the right end position over senior Billy Stokes.

Matney will team with Jack Williamson and L. D. Rowden as the ony juniors in the Pampa starting lineup.

Doc Cornutt, a starter last week at center lost his job to Jerry Wright, a 198-pound senior.

Coach John Reddell's Dons, like Pampa, have dropped both non-league contests but still have the makings of a fine football team.

The Dons have five two year lettermen back and 13 returning lettermen in all.

From end to end the Dons average 180 pounds per man and in the backfield the average weight of Palo Duro is 165 pounds per man.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Crucial Weekend Near For National, AL Teams

By United Press International
This is the weekend when the National League race could become chaotic and the American League race should become history.

Almost any combination of events is possible in the National League with the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds only 3 1/2 games apart with 10 days to go. Best bet is another heart-stopper like in 1964 when a triple tie was possible on the final day of the season.

This should be the weekend of decision in the American League, however, where the Minnesota Twins have only to achieve a magic number of

"three" to wrap up their first pennant. The Twins could clinch as early as tonight and will be sorely disappointed if they haven't popped the champagne by Sunday night.

The San Francisco and Los Angeles have the N.L. pennant stage to themselves tonight with the Giants opening a three-game series with the Milwaukee Braves and the Dodgers starting a three-game set against the St. Louis Cardinals while the Reds are idle. Both the Giants and Dodgers play all their remaining 10 games at home and the Reds play all their remaining nine games on the road.

The Giants have scheduled

Ron Herbel (11-7) to pitch against the Braves' Tony Clossinger (22-10) tonight and the Dodgers have Claude Osteen (15-14) going against the Cardinals' Bob Gibson (18-11).

The Giants and Dodgers face three common opponents—the Braves, Cardinals and Reds—in their final 10 games and have identical 25-19 composite records against them so far this season.

The Reds have a composite 22-23 season mark against the three teams they will play in their last nine games. They're 11-5 over the Houston Astros but 6-9 against the Dodgers and 5-9 against the Giants.

The Twins will become AL champs tonight if they beat the Washington Senators and the Baltimore Orioles lose a doubleheader to the California Angels. The Chicago White Sox will be eliminated as soon as they lose a game or the Twins win a game.

Only four games were played in the majors Thursday—the Philadelphia Phillies beating the Chicago Cubs 11-5 and 7-4 in the N.L. and the Cleveland Indians defeating the New York Yankees 2-1 and the Kansas City Athletics nipping the Senators 8-7 in the A.L.

Jim Bunning struck out nine batters to raise his season total to 247 and top Grover Cleveland Alexander's 50-year old club record of 241 in the first game.

In the second game, Chris Short pitched a seven-hitter for his 18th victory—most by a Phillies' lefthander since 1916. Johnny Callison had five hits, including his 31st homer, during the doubleheader while Ron Santo and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs.

FIRING LINE — Pampa's three quarterbacks will be on the firing line tonight when the Harvesters tangle with Palo Duro in a conference game at Dick Bivins Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Roy Harper (12), Larry Daniels (14) and Smisson Goodlett (10) are the Pampa field generals.

ANDERSON AGAINST NOBIS

Texas Two Touchdown Favorite

By United Press International
An all-American halfback on one side and an all-American guard on the other are attracting a near-capacity crowd to Austin for first Southwest Conference league action between Texas and Texas Tech Saturday.

Ticket officials at the University of Texas said Thursday there are a few tickets left, but they aren't expected to last long.

Both teams went through their first games unmarked. Texas demolished Tulane 31-0 and Texas Tech polished off Kansas 26-7.

The odds-makers rate Texas a 12-point choice for the game, figuring the defense which rugged guard Tommy Nobis heads is enough to cope with the Red Raider offensive attack spearheaded by halfback Donny Anderson.

The Longhorns worked on their kicking game Thursday in a short one-hour drill before ending their preparations for Tech. Coach Darrell Royal said all his players will be ready for action except for indured halfback Linus Baer and end Ed Small.

Defending SWC champion, Arkansas, a 12-point choice to make Tulsa its 14th straight victim, went through a no-contact drill Thursday and coach Frank Broyles praised his squad for its steady improvement.

Tulsa's line averages 249 pounds, and the Hurricanes have the nation's top pass receiver in end Howard Twilley. Tulsa took a quick 14-0 lead against the Razorbacks last year before Arkansas roared back for a 31-22 win.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian are 7-point underdogs against Illinois and Florida State respectively, and Baylor is rated only a 3-point edge over Washington.

Rice is expected to bow by 14 points to Louisiana State, the same margin Georgia Tech is rated over Texas A&M.

The Rice Owls took advantage of cool weather Thursday to run through recognition drills against LSU plays, and coach Jess Neely said the squad was in good shape for the Bengals.

MIAMI (Spl.) — The Miami Warriors ran roughshod over Spearman's B team, here last night, cruising to a 32-6 victory.

The Warriors built up a 16-0 first period lead and had Spearman shutout until the third quarter.

David Bowers scored from 11 yards out for Miami's first touchdown after the Warriors had recovered the first of four fumbles on their own 30-yard line.

Bowers then passed to end Deverl Murphy for the conversion to make it 8-0.

Miami scored the next time, they got the ball, driving 60 yards with Murphy going in from the one. Bowers ran over the conversion to make it 16-0.

The Warriors upped their lead to 24-0 at halftime when Bowers tossed a 43-yard pass to end Gary Lister, Tom Grantham ran over the conversion as the half ended.

Spearman held Miami scoreless in the third period and scored their only touchdown, with Steve Jordan going over from the four to cap a 70-yard drive.

But Miami came right back in the final period to add their final marker with Bowers again passing to Lister, this time the play covered 44 yards. Grantham again ran over the conversion to make it 32-6.

Miami now stands 2-1 for the season and the Warriors had the game, 32-6.

Other major games, Arkansas tries for its 14th straight victory over Tulsa, Nebraska pits its title hopes against the undermanned Air Force Academy, Texas tackles Texas Tech, Southern Cal meets Wisconsin, Syracuse faces Miami (Fla.), Florida takes on Mississippi State and Alabama tries to prove last weekend was just a fluke when it plays Tulane.

In last week's 48-6 victory over California, the Irish proved they had a firm foundation to challenge for the national championship by rushing for 381 yards. Wolski and Eddy, Notre Dame's top ground gainers when the Irish compiled a 9.1 mark last year and came within one minute of a perfect slate and the national title, were joined this year by hard-hitting fullback Conjar, who was named Notre Dame's most improved back during spring training.

Shockers Nudge Coronado; Junior High Teams Win One

A 15-yard field goal on a fourth down gave the Pampa Shockers an 11-8 victory over Lubbock Coronado Thursday.

Stanley Mathis booted the 15-yard through the uprights with 49 seconds left to play — to give the Shockers their second win in three outings this year.

Pampa had jumped ahead 8-0 in the first quarter, scoring the first time they got the ball.

Gary Hiatt, Shocker quarterback, completed a 60-yard drive by rambling the last seven yards for the score. Steve Summers ran over the conversion to give Pampa the lead.

The Pampa defense bottled up Coronado so well in the first half the Lubbock school never got beyond the Shocker 40-yard line.

But with 1:29 left in the third period a 40-yard pass play scored Lubbock's only touchdown and the conversion run was good to knot the score at 8-11.

After holding the Lubbock school on a fourth and goal at the four in the last period the Shockers drove to their own three where they were held until Mathis kicked his winning points.

The Shockers play Amarillo B at Amarillo next Thursday.

In Junior High action, last night Lee eighth grade downed Phillips, 28-6; Lee ninth plays the Shocker reserves at 10 a.m. Saturday and the Lee seventh had their game with Perryton canceled.

Calvin West and Denny Johnson scored two touchdowns apiece to pace the eighth grade to their win.

West went 10 yards for the first Pampa score and Scott King ran the conversion for an 8-0 Pampa lead.

Johnson made it 14-0 when he rambled 65-yards. The run for the points after failed and Pampa led 14-0 at halftime.

West scored his second touchdown in the third quarter, going four yards to cap a 50-yard Pampa drive. Mike Haskell ran the conversion and it was 22-0.

Johnson scooted 40-yards the next time Pampa got the ball for the final score of 28-6.

Pampa Junior High ninth grade fell to Shamrock B, 24-14. Shamrock scored first but Pampa bounced back to make it 8-6 when quarterback Phil Long, capped an 80-yard drive by going over from the three.

The run try for the conversion failed and Pampa trailed 8-6 after the first period.

Shamrock upped their lead to 16-6 at halftime and maintained it after three quarters.

Pampa moved to 16-14 in the fourth quarter when halfback Jack Newsome went 70 yards for a score and Hal Keyser ran over the conversion.

But Shamrock put the game on ice when they came right back to score.

Pampa's seventh graders lost a heartbreaker, 8-0 to Lefors.

The Pampa team had contained Lefors in their own end of the field throughout the game but the Pirates scored with 10 seconds left when a half back went 50 yards down the sidelines.

Pampa had scored once but had the play called back on a penalty.

BRUISING BACKS — Two big fullbacks will see action for Bowling Green Saturday when West Texas State plays host to the Falcons at 8:30 p.m. Above coach Bob Gibson goes over some plays with fullbacks Tom Luettke, a 240 pound sophomore and Stu Williams, 240-pound junior.

Harvesters, Palo Duro Open League Play Tonight

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
AMARILLO (Sp.) — Pampa and Palo Duro square off in a conference battle at 7:30 p.m. here today in Dick Bivins stadium.

Pampa will be trying for its first win over the Dons since the two schools started playing each other in 1956.

Since that time the Dons have won all nine contests.

The Harvesters chances for winning have been reduced somewhat with the probable loss of starting fullback Ted Heiskell.

suffering from a bruised knee. The 200-pound junior leads the Harvesters in total rushing yardage with 120 yards on 34 carries.

Harvester coach Eural Ramsey said Thursday that Heiskell's status as a starter was still doubtful.

Ramsey did say however, that the fullback looked somewhat better Thursday.

Jim Moore, a 158-pound senior will be installed in the fullback

slot should Heiskell have to ride the bench.

Two changes on the offensive unit were announced by Ramsey with James Matney, the Harvesters punter winning a spot at the right end position over senior Billy Stokes.

Matney will team with Jack Williamson and L. D. Rowden as the only juniors in the Pampa starting lineup.

Doc Cornutt, a starter last week at center lost his job to Jerry Wright, a 198-pound senior.

Coach John Reddell's Dons, like Pampa, have dropped both non-league contests but still have the makings of a fine football team.

The Dons have five two-year lettermen back and 13 returning lettermen in all.

From end to end the Dons average 180 pounds per man and in the backfield the average weight of Palo Duro is 165 pounds per man.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Crucial Weekend Near For National, AL Teams

By United Press International
This is the weekend when the National League race could become chaotic and the American League race should become history.

Almost any combination of events is possible in the National League with the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds only 3½ games apart with 10 days to go. Best bet is another heart-stopper like in 1964 when a triple tie was possible on the final day of the season.

This should be the weekend of decision in the American League, however, where the Minnesota Twins have only to achieve a magic number of

"three" to wrap up their first pennant. The Twins could clinch as early as tonight and will be sorely disappointed if they haven't popped the champagne by Sunday night.

The San Francisco and Los Angeles have the N.L. pennant stage to themselves tonight with the Giants opening a three-game series with the Milwaukee Braves and the Dodgers starting a three-game set against the St. Louis Cardinals while the Reds are idle. Both the Giants and Dodgers play all their remaining 10 games at home and the Reds play all their remaining nine games on the road.

The Giants have scheduled

Ron Herbel (11-7) to pitch against the Braves' Tony Cline (22-10) tonight and the Dodgers have Claude Osteen (15-14) going against the Cardinals' Bob Gibson (18-11).

The Giants and Dodgers face three common opponents—the Braves, Cardinals and Reds—in their final 10 games and have identical 25-19 composite records against them so far this season.

The Reds have a composite 22-23 season mark against the three teams they will play in their last nine games. They're 11-5 over the Houston Astros but 6-9 against the Dodgers and 5-9 against the Giants.

The Twins will become AL champs tonight if they beat the Washington Senators and the Baltimore Orioles lose a doubleheader to the California Angels. The Chicago White Sox will be eliminated as soon as they lose a game or the Twins win a game.

Only four games were played in the majors Thursday—the Philadelphia Phillies beating the Chicago Cubs 11-5 and 7-4 in the N.L. and the Cleveland Indians defeating the New York Yankees 2-1 and the Kansas City Athletics nipping the Senators 3-7 in the A.L.

Jim Bunning struck out nine batters to raise his season total to 247 and top Grover Cleveland Alexander's 50-year old club record of 241 in the first game.

In the second game, Chris Short pitched a seven-hitter for his 18th victory—most by a Phillies' lefthander since 1916.

Johnny Callison had five hits, including his 31st homer, during the doubleheader while Ron Santo and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs.

Miami Rambles To Second Win, 32-6

MIAMI (Sp.) — The Miami Warriors ran roughshod over Spearman's B team, here last night, cruising to a 32-6 victory.

The Warriors built up a 16-0 first period lead and had Spearman's B team shutout until the third quarter.

David Bowers scored from 11 yards out for Miami's first touchdown after the Warriors had recovered the first of four fumbles on their own 30-yard line.

Bowers then passed to end Deverl Murphy for the conversion to make it 8-0.

Miami scored the next time they got the ball, driving 60 yards with Murphy going in from the one. Bowers ran over the conversion to make it 16-0.

The Warriors upped their lead to 24-0 at halftime when Bowers tossed a 43-yard pass to end Gary Lister. Tom Grantham ran over the conversion as the half ended.

Spearman held Miami scoreless in the third period and scored their only touchdown, with Steve Jordan going over from the four to cap a 70-yard drive.

Irish Favored To Stop Purdue

By United Press International
Notre Dame may find out Saturday against Purdue if its new team of horses can carry the Fighting Irish to the national championship they barely missed last year.

Halfbacks Bill Woiski and Nick Eddy and fullback Larry Conjar, who carry Notre Dame's title hopes each time they plunge into the line, may find a tough test awaiting them when they travel to Purdue, which has its own Big Ten title hopes.

In other major games, Arkansas tries for its 14th straight victory over Tulsa, Nebraska pits its title hopes against the undermanned Air Force Academy, Texas tackles Texas Tech, Southern Cal meets Wisconsin, Syracuse faces Miami (Fla.), Florida, takes on Mississippi State and Alabama tries to prove last weekend was just a fluke when it plays Tulane.

In last week's 48-6 victory over California, the Irish proved they had a firm foundation to challenge for the national championship by rushing for 381 yards. Woiski and Eddy, Notre Dame's top ground gainers when the Irish compiled a 9-1 mark last year and came within one minute of a perfect slate and the national title, were joined this year by hard-hitting fullback Conjar, who was named Notre Dame's most improved back during spring training.

Shockers Nudge Coronado; Junior High Teams Win One

A 15-yard field goal on a fourth down gave the Pampa Shockers an 11-8 victory over Lubbock Coronado Thursday.

Stanley Mathis booted the 15-yarder through the uprights with 49 seconds left to play to give the Shockers their second win in three outings this year.

Pampa had jumped ahead 8-0 in the first quarter, scoring the first time they got the ball.

Gary Hiatt, Shocker quarterback, completed a 60-yard drive by rambling the last seven yards for the score. Steve Summers ran over the conversion to give Pampa the lead.

The Pampa defense bottled up Coronado so well in the first half the Lubbock school never got beyond the Shocker 40-yard line.

But with 1:29 left in the third period a 40-yard pass play scored Lubbock's only touchdown and the conversion run was good to knot the score at 8-all.

After holding the Lubbock school on a fourth and goal at the four in the last period the Shockers drove to their own three where they were held until Mathis kicked his winning points.

The Shockers play Amarillo B at Amarillo next Thursday.

In Junior High action last night Lee eighth grade downed Phillips, 28-6; Lee ninth plays the Shocker reserves at 10 a.m. Saturday and the Lee seventh had their game with Perryton canceled.

Calvin West and Denny Johnson scored two touchdowns apiece to pace the eighth grade to their win.

West went 10 yards for the first Pampa score and Scott

King ran the conversion for an 8-0 Pampa lead.

Johnson made it 14-0 when he rambled 65 yards. The run for the points after failed and Pampa led 14-0 at halftime.

West scored his second touchdown in the third quarter, going four yards to cap a 50-yard Pampa drive. Mike Haskell ran the conversion and it was 22-0.

Johnson scooted 40 yards the next time Pampa got the ball for the final score of 28-6.

Pampa Junior High ninth grade fell to Shamrock B, 24-14. Shamrock scored first but Pampa bounced back to make it 8-6 when quarterback Phil Long, capped an 80-yard drive by going over from the three.

The run try for the conversion failed and Pampa trailed 8-6 after the first period.

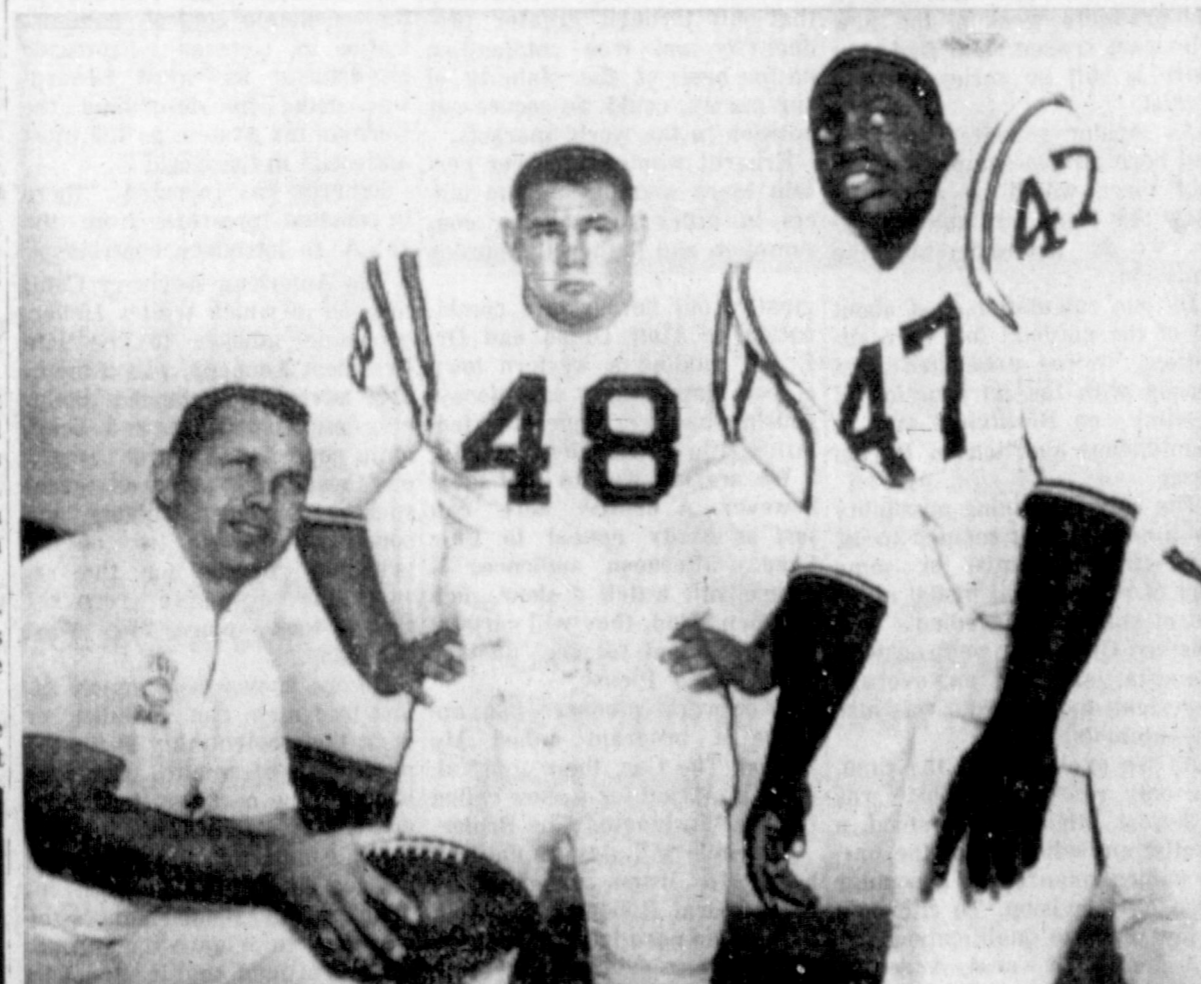

Shamrock upped their lead to 16-6 at halftime and maintained it after three quarters.

Pampa moved to 16-14 in the fourth quarter when halfback Jack Newsome went 70 yards for a score and Hal Keyser ran over the conversion.

But Shamrock put the game on ice when they came right back to score.

Pampa's seventh graders lost a heartbreaker, 8-0 to Lefors. The Pampa team had contained Lefors in their own end of the field throughout the game but the Pirates scored with 10 seconds left when a half back went 50 yards down the sidelines.

Pampa had scored once but had the play called back on a penalty.

BRUISING BACKS — Two big fullbacks will see action for Bowling Green Saturday when West Texas State plays host to the Falcons at 8:30 p.m. Above coach Bob Gibson goes over some plays with fullbacks Tom Luettker, a 240-pound sophomore and Stu Williams, 240-pound junior.

The Fancies of History

Who controls the present controls the past. Who controls the past controls the future. Thus did George Orwell define the functions of the history re-writing "Department of Truth" in his fanciful world of "1984". We were reminded of this some 19 years ahead of the Orwell schedule when we learned that White House press secretary Bill Moyers has called a film presently being produced by USIA "an exciting chapter in the history of this country."

Curious Indeed

Twelve years seems like a mighty long time to spend in self-exile from one's native country and family just to satisfy a curiosity. Yet, that is the reason turncoat-defector William C. White gave to reporters in Hong Kong for having refused repatriation to the US from a prisoner-of-war camp at the time of the Korean Armistice (1953) and choosing, instead, to live in Communist China. Now it appears that his curiosity has been satisfied and he wants to come back to the United States, bringing a Chinese wife and two children with him.

Another example of how "civil rights" advocates do not respect the civil rights of ordinary individuals comes from Prentiss, Miss. The Prentiss Headlight gives the following account: "The long arm of federal dictators in Washington reached down to the proud, peaceful little city of Prentiss, Mississippi, Tuesday and took four units of the Magnolia Motel, the only motel in the area to serve transients and roomers, piled the furniture in the court yard, and with hammer (and maybe the sickle) began to tear out the partitions, take off the locks and put on new ones, and move in office equipment from a large van to set up quarters for federal voter registrars to register the Negroes in Jefferson Davis County. This came despite the fact that the Circuit Clerk whose duty is to register voters

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

The new Supreme Court "Justice," Abe Fortas, has had no previous judicial experience, which qualifies him well for the present Supreme Court. He did go to law school. Let us be thankful that Walter Jenkins (sexual deviate who was Johnson's "strong right arm" for 20 years) did not go to law school. In 1948 Fortas convinced a former member of the Ku Klux Klan, Justice Hugo Black, to seize a "technicality" to certify Lyndon Johnson, penniless Texan, as Senator in place of Coke Stevenson. Fortas has been Johnson's accomplice ever since. Johnson now owns the air in Austin, Texas, the Supreme Court, the Congress and a $14 million estate. Who said this isn't still "The Land of Opportunity?"

No other President has ever appointed his personal attorney to the Supreme Court. Fortas knows practically all of Johnson's secrets, including how he became a multi-millionaire on governmental salaries.

Fortas' first governmental assignment was with the legal division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Among his buddies there were Alger Hiss and Lee Pressman, later General Counsel of the CIO, who has since admitted he was once a Communist. Pressman testified in Congress that a number of members of the two communist cells in the Department of Agriculture at that time were very friendly with Fortas.

Fortas helped Alger Hiss and Harry Dexter White, communist agents, to draft the United Nations Charter.

An outspoken critic of government loyalty-security programs in the late 40's and early 50's, Fortas plugged for war against Germany before Roosevelt arranged Pearl Harbor (so we could join our communist friends in making the world safe for democracy). But although 31 years old and with no children, he got out in less than two months. Twenty-nine days of this was spent undergoing tests and examinations in a New York training camp where it was decided he had an "arrested case of ocular tuberculosis." It has evidently been arrested ever since. He swabbed no decks but immediately returned to work for Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes and at 55, after poring over countless law books during the ensuing years, his eyesight is so arrested that he doesn't even wear glasses. Thus his "service" career also is similar to that of Lyndon Johnson. Neither could find a uniform to fit them for very long.

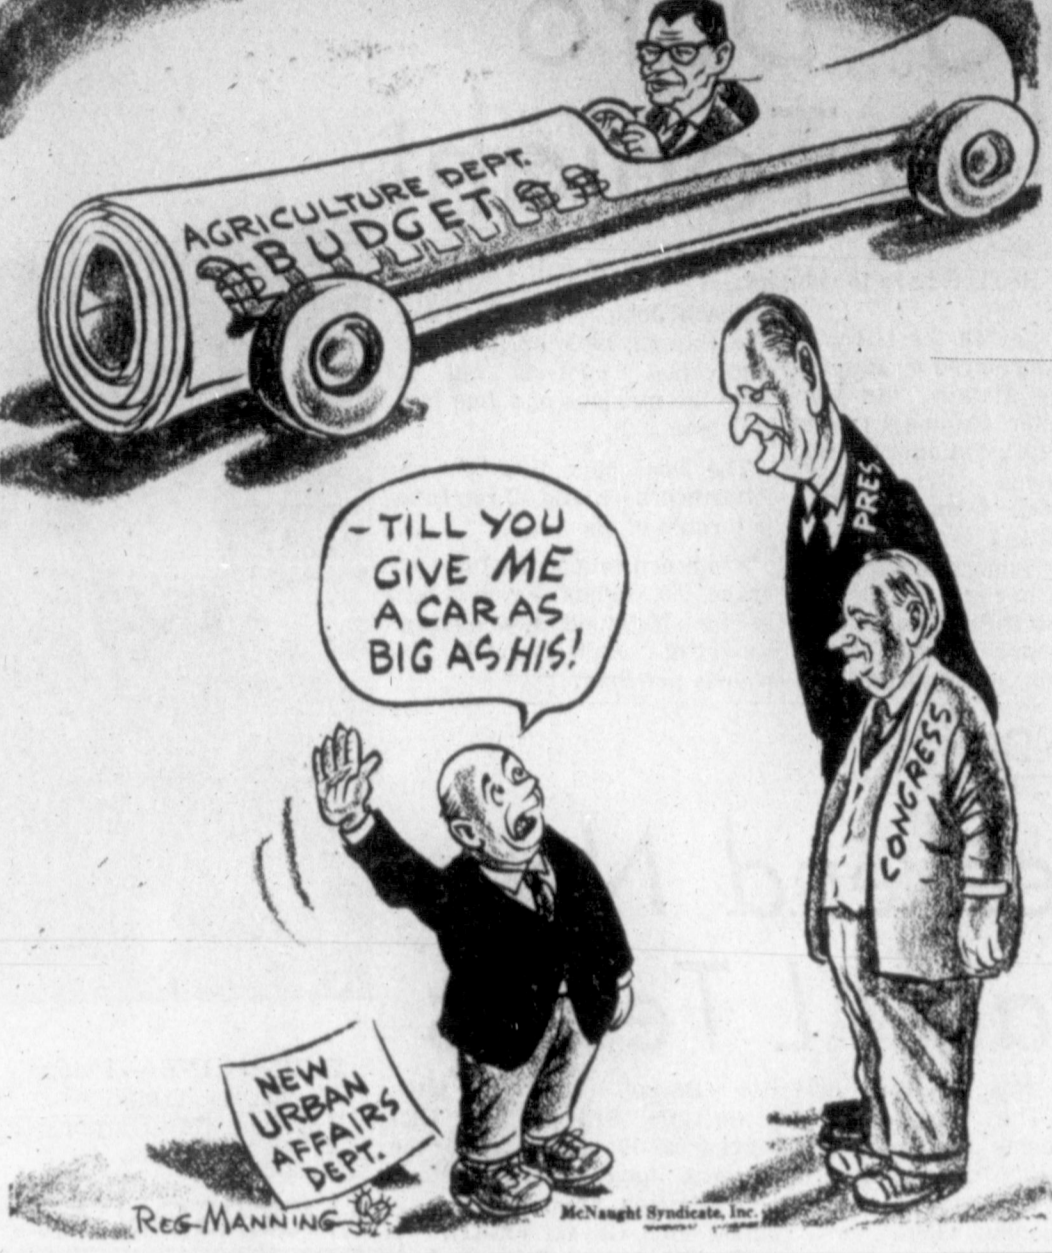

Career Girl Mr. Fortas' wife is a senior member of her husband's law firm and specializes in tax cases. She says, "I have been in law all my life, and I don't expect to give it up now. Why should I?" You shouldn't, dear. Lyndon's friend, Billie Sol, might have to carry his case to the Supreme Court some day and would like to have you around. But you might have to quit your cigar smoking. Billie Sol doesn't approve of girls smoking and drinking.

Abe Fortas reportedly was instrumental in talking Johnson into selecting labor lawyer and sometime Supreme Court Justice Goldberg to head the American delegation at the world's foremost fifth column, the United Nations. It has not yet been made clear who collectivist Goldberg will represent in the UN nor why he agreed to this one-step-backward "promotion" from the Supreme Court. It has been suggested that the bait might be the 1968 Vice-Presidential post in the Johnson Dictatorship. Whatever the bait, the American people are the fish.

Between the Bookends

A CLASSIC TEXTBOOK ON FREEDOM With ideological battles raging everywhere, and the word "freedom" used to justify every conceivable position, the modern student of liberty may be hard-pressed to find a useful textbook on freedom.

There are very few works better suited for the purpose, however, than the century-old essays of scientist Herbert Spencer. A contemporary reissue of these essays is available as "The Man Versus The State" (published by Caxton Printers, Caldwell, Idaho; $3.50).

His first essay, for example, is "The Modern Torism" — pointing out how the word "liberal" has been confiscated by those anti-liberal thinkers who would build up the power of the state. In "The Coming Slavery," he demonstrates how the smallest, best-intentioned use of the state to solve a social problem inevitably leads to eventual slavery.

Folk Hero Dentist Needed To Fill Big Gap on Fall TV NEW YORK (NEA) — It is very discouraging to have to mention this matter once again. But we have just sat through the premiere week of the new television season, and find that there is still no series about a dentist.

As regular readers know, we had been almost completely certain there would be a dentist show this year. And quite frankly, we do not understand the omission. By our calculation, just about all of the national folk hero situations were exhausted last season with the introduction of a witch on Bewitched and a spontaneous abortion on Peyton Place.

As we explained at the time, the only reasonable choice was a dentist. Rightly understood, a dentist embodies all of the basic values required of a popular hero on television. To cite only a few of these qualifications: A dentist is neat. A dentist uses equipment. A dentist is in business for himself. A dentist is immunized and wears white for honesty. A dentist has a female assistant. She wears white for purity. She can be called Rosemary for remembrance.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Decision Without Objective Is Like Shooting at Ghost

By SAM CAMPBELL, Business Editor Did you ever know a person who can't seem to make up his mind? Do you have a key employee who stalls' everytime you ask a direct question? Do you catch management people passing onto subordinates problems that they ought to tackle themselves?

Well, you haven't exactly uncovered a phenomenon. Just to be quite frank, at times I have found myself in that kind of pickle. Many times, I have found myself making decisions for no other reason than a decision must be made. "Decision-Making" At other times, I have made decisions simply because I was tired of indecisiveness, or because I did not wish to appear indecisive, or because I yearned to appear bolder than I really am.

About 10 days ago, however, I sat in on a series of lectures by E. L. Shaner, management consultant. The topic was "Decision-Making." I implied previously that I would report to you on what Mr. Shaner had to say. I purposely delayed the report so that I could give it to you so dispassionately, in the coldness of the dawn, so to speak.

The message that he pounded home was that you've got to have a goal in order to make an intelligent decision. The purpose of a decision, by the Shaner theory, is not to make a decision. It is not to

Wit and Whimsy

Be true to your teeth or they will be false to you. The ladies, God bless them, May nothing distress them. Politics — A matter of passing the buck or passing the doe. The sweet little old lady, dressed in lavender and lace, who obviously had just placed the first bet of her life, was at the race track window collecting. Her horse had won, and paid 18 to 1. As the clerk at the window handed her the winnings she said severely, Sweet Little Old Lady — I hope this will be a lesson to you young man!

Manager — I suppose at the efficiency expert's wedding you didn't do anything so wasteful as throwing rice. Assistant — Oh, yes we did; but as a concession to his teaching we had the rice done up in cotton bags, each missile weighing two pounds.

on the economy. The allied economists "at first refused to listen to this tax reform." The head of the economic control administration in Germany expressed his distaste for what Erhard was doing by describing the German tax system as the most antisocial in the world.

The American Advisory Commission of which Walter Heller, economic adviser to the late President Kennedy, was a member, advised unbalanced budgets, deficit spending, and economic controls. Erhard resisted these and achieved great success. Balanced budgets and sound money were two of the principle reasons for the remarkable economic recovery that took place in West Germany.

No one knows how much effort free men can mobilize or what their potentiality is for the production of wealth. Someone has said the best way to discover who is capable of achievement is to permit all to try, each in accordance with his own inclinations and ideals. That is the only way to achieve the full potentials of men, and it cannot be done under any system of controlled economy. It can be tested only in a free economy, and experience shows that it is infinitely more productive than any other system. The enormous outpouring of wealth that took place in America after the Revolution is proof of this statement. The German experience is additional proof.

When the allied controls were removed and the White-Morgen-thau policy of reducing Germany to the status of a cow pasture was abandoned, the West German people were permitted to attempt national regeneration in the political realm. The result was little short of a miracle.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Rebirth of the West German Economy Ludwig Erhard became minister of economic affairs of the Bonn Government in Germany in the Spring of 1948. He has testified that he had a difficult time with the British and American economists in the military government. He says, "It was strictly laid down by the British and American control authorities that permission had to be obtained before any definite price changes could be made. The allies never seem to have thought it possible that someone would have the idea not to alter price controls, but simply to remove them."

The allied economists were continually demanding more controls, while Erhard wanted to abolish controls. Erhard put currency stability in the forefront of his objectives, but the allied economists preferred full employment to the stability of the currency, apparently not realizing that a stable currency is a powerful aid to full employment. All forces except Erhard and William Rowpke, his adviser, joined for a general attack on the market economy, forgetting that only through greater productivity and free competition on the basis of the stability of our money, could we secure our position in the world markets.

Erhard wanted to lower certain taxes and discontinue others in order to step up consumption and lighten the burden generally, our hero was a combination of Matt Dillon and Dr. Lyons, ridding a western town of both lawlessness and decay-causing bacteria under the tentative title of Hopalong Cavay. We are not wed to that idea, however. A dentist hero can just as easily appeal to the Sunday afternoon audience. If people will watch a show such as Open Mind, they will certainly stay tuned to see another called Open Pleasure.

If network planners can approve a program called My Mother The Car, there must also be a market for a show called George Washington The Bridge. If people will stay up until all hours to listen to somebody named Oral Roberts... well, there is no need to fill this space with further evidence in support of our argument.

The fact of the matter is the season has opened without a program about a dentist and we would like to know the reason for it.

As we said, it is very discouraging to go over this ground again. But we feel it is absolutely necessary to persist. Right reason is on our side. So is the law of averages. So is the law of mediocrity.

Sooner or later a television season will have to open with a heartwarming series about a dentist — with or without amnesia. And when it comes, just remember that you saw it here first.

'Hounddog' Missile Impacts Successfully

WHITE SANDS, N.M. (UPI)—An Air Force "Hounddog" missile, launched from a B52 jet bomber near Ft. Wingate, N. M., impacted successfully late Wednesday at the White Sands Missile Range in South Central New Mexico.

Officials said the firing, the second successful test in the current Hounddog series, was to determine the missile's high-altitude flight capability. The first firing was Sept. 17.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International.
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Just about every time television tries to get dignified for its annual Emmy awards, the result is something like that of a circus fat lady trying to walk a tightrope.

The latest case, tracing back to NBC-TV's Emmy show of days ago, is the most hilarious. I had thought that most reasonable people had long ago equated the yearly Emmy popularity thing with the importance of those toothpaste contests. But there has been serious soul-searching over the show and the awards structure, and there have been anguished cries, and the smell of sour grapes is in the air, mostly, I am sorry to say, here in my favorite town, Hollywood, which got murdered by New York in the prize system.

There are now wailings here and they will possibly be effective—that Emmy should go back to the old "best category entry" arrangement, which of course guarantees plenty of soothed egos, just like in the quiz shows — something for nothing, win or lose—quality or no, fan magazine style. It is not too surprising that one celebrity firm here has been suspected of over the years of helping to create awards (by no means the Emmy) to present to its clients.

It is a slight irony that the day after the Emmy show, the new entertainment season started, and it is generally conceded to be perhaps television's worst year—but come 1966, and awards time, there will be the same wailing that, after all, there should be some prizes for the new entries simply because they were put on.

Well, now, wailing is not conducive to logic. There seems to be a failure here, and among some video people in the east as well, to separate the Emmy show — which was indeed a bomb—from the new structure based on supposed excellence rather than "best category entry."

If the Emmy awards are ever to be regarded seriously, they must follow this year's structure direction—in fact, go well beyond it, by frankly separating the news prizes from the general aura of the show business contest, and allowing public affairs winners to be chosen completely independently of the current setup.

There is no doubt, though, that the Television Academy must decide which it considers more important—the awards or the show. If it gives priority to the awards, it must continue on its present path. If it feels it must present a fan magazine-quality show, and soothe egos, then that is also a perfectly fair choice—but it means, of course that under no conditions can the awards be taken seriously.

There are some here who feel that favorite public performers should automatically gather rewards simply because they appear on a regular basis, no matter how routinely. It strikes me that a fellow who is earning $5,000 or $10,000 a week for unexceptional, or even routinely good work, is being amply rewarded.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International.
WASHINGTON (UPI)—When I complained a few days ago that I was having trouble adjusting to my new adjustable razor, I readily conceded that the fault was entirely my own.

There was nothing wrong with the razor; it was simply my old inability to make decisions.

The razor had a dial with nine settings (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9), each of which provided a different blade angle. I couldn't make up my mind which of them I liked best.

I enjoyed the speed and comfort of stainless steel blades, but the responsibility of choosing the right blade angle for my skin and beard was too much for me.

I have since learned that the problem stemmed largely from the fact that the razor I bought did not provide any instructions or guidelines for finding the proper setting.

There was no clue as to whether the user should start at the top of the dial and work down, or start at the bottom and work up.

Not knowing what to expect, or even what I was looking for, I started in the middle and fluctuated.

I might have gone on vacillating like that indefinitely had not the "beep-beep" sent me one of its adjustables and urged that I give it a try. A spokesman said even someone as wishy-washy as myself should have no trouble coming to terms with it.

Fortunately, its razor came with a little folder that offered a number of helpful hints.

It suggested settings of 1, 2 or 3 for light beards, 4, 5 or 6 for average beards and 7, 8 or 9 for heavy beards. That narrowed the field considerably.

Dallas Firm Gets Multi-Million Bid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $5 million contract to provide engineering support services to the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico has been awarded to a Dallas firm.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it gave the contract to Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc. The contract is for one year, with provisions for two additional one-year renewals.
