Texas Death Count of 35 Set for Labor Day Period

The long Labor Day weekend—the last holiday of the summer—begins today with the prediction that up to 600 persons may die on the nation's highways.

Police braced for the expected traffic crush of 87 million cars and for possible rioting at resorts from Maine to Oregon.

Maine officials even canceled their traffic patrol would be short 50 men detached to head off potential violence at state resorts.

The National Safety Council said from 500 to 600 persons would die in the 78-hour holiday from 6 p.m. local time today to midnight Monday. The worst Labor Day death toll was 561 set in 1963. Last year 535 died.

Week of Questioning by Doctors And Scientists Begins for Space Champs

SPACE CENTER, Houston, (UPI)—Space champions L. Gordon Cooper and Charles (Pete) Conrad, their reunions with their families limited to a hug and a steak, today began a week of intensive questioning by doctors and scientists.

Cooper and Conrad got home Thursday for the first time since their 3.3-million-mile space flight and said, "it's good to be back."

The Gemini 5 astronauts stepped from a jet plane at Ellington Air Force Base and their wives, daughters and sons rushed up for embraces.

U.S. Marine Forces Upped in Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI)—Another 1,400 U. S. Marines equipped with helicopters began landing in Viet Nam today, swelling U. S. troop strength toward the 100,000 mark. In Saigon military spokesmen disclosed the last B32 raid cost the Viet Cong dearly in lives and equipment.

"I must say it is certainly good to be back home," Cooper said with a slight Oklahoma drawl. "It's good to be back and see all the homefolks."

"It's just great to be home again," said Conrad.

A Vietnamese unit which swept into the area pounded by the Guam-based eight-engine jet bombers in the 17th raid on Zone D-30 miles north of Saigon Thursday found no troops but reported they uncovered 80 Viet Cong bodies. They said other dead and wounded were carried away.

They held off comments about their eight-day orbital flight that was almost cut short by fuel and excess water problems. They will tell about it in a Sept. 9 news conference.

Ohio Mother Confesses In Child's Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—A suburban mother, who originally blamed her retarded son for the pistol death of a neighbor boy, was held in jail today on a murder charge. She said she fired the gun accidentally when she dropped a handful of laundry.

Shaker Heights Police Chief Carl Longstreet said Mrs. Marjann Colby, 40, admitted she held the gun that killed John Cremer Young Jr., 8, the son of a socially prominent family, in her home Aug. 24. She insisted the shooting was an accident.

The chief said Mrs. Colby signed a statement Thursday refuting an earlier one in which she had contended her retarded son, Dane, 9, accidentally killed the Young boy and she hid the body in an effort to protect him.

Gaylor To Step Down Sept. 30

O. K. Gaylor, a veteran of the U.S. postal service for 43 years, today announced his optional retirement as Pampa postmaster.

Gaylor's retirement will become effective Sept. 30.

When he steps out of office at month's end, Postmaster Gaylor will end a career in the postal service that began with his grandfather, W. B. Meadows, who was postmaster at Ayres, Ky. Gaylor's father, M. F. Gaylor, was postmaster at Slick, Okla., where the Pampa postmaster first entered mail service as a clerk in April of 1922.

Gaylor marked 39 years of employment in the Pampa post office last month. He went from Slick, Okla., to Panhandle as a clerk in June of 1926. Three months later he was transferred to Pampa as assistant postmaster, a post in which he served until March 17, 1955, when he was appointed postmaster here by President Eisenhower.

No successor has yet been selected for the Pampa postmastership.

Candidates for postmaster jobs usually are recommended by senators and congressmen. Final appointment will come from President Johnson after Senate confirmation of an appointee.

When asked today why he was submitting his voluntary retirement, Gaylor said:

"I'm way behind in my fishing."

Postmaster Gaylor's only time out from the local postoffice was for duty as a postal officer with the U.S. Army. He came out of the Army in 1946 with the rank of Major after 44 months of service. During his army service he was awarded the Commendation Ribbon.

The postmaster would not talk about his future plans except to say he was looking forward to a vacation.

"One thing I do know," Gaylor said, "I am not going into inactive retirement."

Official Business Halts Locally For Labor Day

City, county, state and federal offices in Pampa and Gray County will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

There will be no regular mail deliveries on the holiday. Postmaster O. K. Gaylor said, but the post office will be open for box patrols. Postal windows will be closed, he stated. Outgoing mail will be dispatched and only special delivery service will be maintained.

City Hall and Courthouse offices will be closed with the exception of the sheriff and police departments.

Pampans Bank Blood Reserve For Leukemia

Pampa's blood bank in Dallas will now have some 214 pints of blood available for victims of leukemia from Gray and Roberts County.

The drive by the Pampa Jaycees to establish a blood bank in Dallas for victims of the dreaded disease ended about mid-afternoon yesterday.

The blood was taken by the Wadley Bloodmobile from Dallas Wednesday and Thursday.

Some 354 persons reported to the collection center to donate blood, but 140 were disqualified for medical reasons, leaving 214 persons to donate the blood.

If computed at the price charged a leukemia victim in Dallas the blood fund in Dallas is worth approximately $8,560.

The Jaycees had originally gathered 500 pledge cards, but 146 of these failed to appear at the collection center.

Tom Jeter, chairman of the drive, said, "The medical disqualification rate was higher than normal due to the hayfever season being in full swing in Pampa resulting in many people taking medicine to combat the hayfever, thus preventing them from being acceptable donors."

Jeter also stated, "We had certainly hoped for more than 214 pints to be collected considering the population of Pampa and surrounding area, however, we are very proud that a sufficient amount was collected to accomplish our aim—the establishment of a blood fund to aid the unfortunate leukemia victims of our area."

The 20th Century Cottillion Club had 10 of its members sign donor cards as a memorial to David Morrison, a young Pampa resident, who died of leukemia this year.

Tiber Flood Dangers Add to Italy's Woes

By RUFUS S. GOODWIN
United Press International
ROME (UPI)—The historic Tiber River, swollen by torrential rains, threatened today to burst its banks and flood central Rome.

Officials said the muddy, debris-filled river had reached a height of 42 feet, 8 inches—only 3 feet, 3 inches below the "overflow level." They said it was rising at a rate of 1.18 inches an hour. Unless storms that have battered Italy stop there is "very real danger" of it going over the banks in the center of Rome, officials said.

Torrential rains have battered the Italian peninsula from the Austrian border to Sicily, leaving a trail of death and destruction. Road and railway communications between north and south Italy have been smashed and more than half of Rome was without water.

So far there are 40 dead, with another 24 persons missing.

The Tiber, which cuts directly through the heart of Rome, has not flooded the city since shortly after World War II. It is normally contained without trouble by high walls.

Rescue workers continued to search for bodies in flooded areas throughout Italy. Officials said the final death toll could be "much higher" than known figures. Millions of dollars in damage has been caused and more than 25,000 square miles of land have been flooded so far.

The Air Force meteorological bureau predicted another 48 hours of violent thunderstorms and warned that the entire southern part of the country was in for heavy rains.

The downpours resulted in a mudslide at one of Rome's main aqueducts, breaking down a steel door and contaminating half the capital city's water supply. Officials warned it would take several days to repair the damage and decontaminate the drinking water.

Thousands of persons were reported homeless throughout the country, ranging from the industrial north through the heel of the Italian boot and into Sicily.

Floodwaters raged through the Sicilian town of Trapani early today, drowning 10 persons. Trapani has a population of 77,000.

In northern Italy, tributaries of the Po River spilled over their banks and menaced dozens of little villages in the area. Latisana, a town of 9,000 on the banks of the Tagliamento River, was ordered evacuated.

The disaster plunged road, rail and communications systems into chaos in dozens of areas from north to south. The government authorized an initial outlay of $320 million to aid victims of the floods.

Flood Waters Hit Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE (UPI)—An estimated $10,000 damage was done to Bernalillo County roads late Thursday by a sudden, heavy thunderstorm which flooded portions of Albuquerque.

Muddy water swept through private homes in the north valley section of the city, closing roads temporarily. Flash flooding hit the northwest area of town for a little less than an hour.

Floodwaters hit the road leading to a Dominican retreat house in southwest Albuquerque cutting off a 15-foot drop-off across the road. A grocery store owner in the same section of town sandbagged his door to keep out the water.

Bureau of Reclamation crews were busy keeping debris from clogging road culverts and a power failure blamed on lightning hit the northwest area of town for a little less than an hour.

County Commission Chairman Vincent Brunacini and other officials toured the south valley section of Albuquerque and put a $10,000 price tag on damage done to roads by the floodwaters. City officials said no estimate was immediately available.

Albuquerque led the state in recorded moisture, the weather bureau reported, with an unofficial 43 of an inch. Unofficial reports ranged up to .63 of an inch in the Northeast Heights of the city.

Clovis received .23 of an inch. Roswell and Santa Fe had .02 each and Grants had .01. Alamogordo received a trace.

Temperatures in the state ranged from 93 degrees at Tucuman Thursday to 45, overnight at Raton.

More thunderstorm activity was forecast for later today in some forty to sixty per cent of the state, the weatherman said.

Betsy Threatens Missile Tracking Stations

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Betsy, boasting peak winds of 150 miles an hour, meandered treacherously on an uncertain path in the Atlantic today threatening a string of U. S. missile tracking stations in the Bahamas.

Weathermen said Betsy's course is uncertain but there are indications that the center will begin a north-northwesterly course late Saturday and all interests in the Bahamas and the southeastern United States should beware.

At 9 a.m. EDT, Betsy was about 440 miles slightly south of due east from Miami and 120 miles northeast of the Bahama island of San Salvador near 25.1 north and 71.1 west. It was expected to pass a short distance north of the Baco Islands early Saturday.

Betsy was churning through the ocean at 10 miles an hour. The Air Force ordered its 300-man missile tracking station at Grand Bahama Island and its 150-man tracking station at Eleuthera Cay placed on maximum hurricane alert today, but gave the "all clear" to the Grand Turk Island station.

The Cape Kennedy spaceport was on a preliminary hurricane alert, but officials were expected to put the sprawling missile complex on a more severe alert later today.

Reports from San Salvador indicated the island was getting rains and northwesterly winds up to 25 miles an hour early today. The barometric reading there was 29.75 inches and falling.

The highest temperature reported to the U. S. Weather Bureau Thursday, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 104 at Blythe and Imperial, both in California. The lowest temperature reported this morning was 37 at Greenville, Maine.

Almost an inch and a half of rain fell in six hours this morning at Presidio, Tex., often the hottest spot in the nation. Close to half an inch fell in Alpine, and a trace was recorded at Houston and Van Horn.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said another cool front could move into the state early next week, bringing some showers and thundershowers to all except extreme South Texas. But temperatures were expected to be about normal, with little or no rain, through Labor Day.

Labor Day Weather Is Seen Good

By United Press International
Scattered thundershowers were expected in the upper Texas Panhandle, South Central and Southeast Texas today but for most parts of the state, a fair and warm Labor Day weekend was in prospect.

A cool front that entered through the Panhandle several days ago drifted off into the Gulf of Mexico Thursday after dropping light rain in the coastal areas. Light showers developed along the Red River Valley Thursday night, but either dissipated or moved into Oklahoma.

Temperatures slightly higher than the past few days were anticipated throughout the state, but especially in North Central and Northeastern Texas. Early temperatures ranged from 62 at Texarkana to 82 at Cotulla.

Pampa had a high temperature yesterday of 88 degrees and an overnight low of 63 degrees. Most of the state was dry and mild Thursday but San Antonio got .12 of an inch of rain, and Houston and Victoria got about .10 of an inch each.

Laredo was the state's hottest city Thursday with a 96 degree reading. It was 84 at El Paso, the state's lowest maximum.

LBJ's Top Economic Advisor Joins Halted Steel Parley

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today assigned his top economic adviser to join in the stalemated emergency steel talks.

He named Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, to serve as a statistical referee in the negotiations which are now in their fifth day.

Ackley would rule on any cost figures on management and labor proposals which have been in sharp dispute.

The White House remained cautiously hopeful that a settlement between representatives of steel industry and the United Steelworkers Union would be reached prior to a strike deadline next Wednesday.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said shortly after 11 a.m. EDT that the negotiators had reached the discussion stage on "the last major, remaining economic differences between them."

Johnson asked for another situation report about 2 p.m. EDT. In the meantime, he was holding in abeyance his hoped-for Labor Day weekend visit to his Texas ranch.

The negotiators who didn't adjourn Thursday night's session until nearly 1 a.m. EDT today resumed their talks at 8 a.m. EDT. The President asked for and received a situation report shortly before 11 a.m. from Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz and Commerce Secretary John T. Connor, who have been representing him in the discussions. Moyers said the negotiators were "working hard" in pricing certain proposals made by both sides and attempting to reconcile differences in those proposals.

Johnson asked Ackley to assist Wirtz and Connor in pricing the same proposals from a government viewpoint and as they affected the over-all package under consideration.

The President expected another continuous negotiation session today and planned for the second consecutive day to send in lunch for the management and labor negotiators.

Johnson has exerted steady pressure on both sides to agree on a contract and avert the threat of a crippling strike before the Labor Day weekend starts tonight.

Pakistani Planes Hit Indian Kashmir With Stepped Up Air Battles Raging

By DAN GURAL
United Press International

Indian and Pakistani jet fighters clashed today over Kashmir in a series of dogfights that spilled across the border regions of both India and Pakistan. The Pakistanis claimed a series of victories.

The Indian Radio reported planes bombed a village mosque in the Kashmir town of Jooria, 40 miles from Jammu, and killed 50 Moslems worshipping there.

The injection of a religious issue threatened to spread the fighting between predominantly Hindu Indians and predominantly Moslem Pakistanis. There were fears East Pakistan—across the Indian sub-continent from West Pakistan—might become involved.

A Pakistani spokesman in Lahore said the Pakistan air force using American made F86 Sabrejets and F104 Starfires had shot down a total of eight Indian planes in three days of aerial battles. India claimed its first kills of Pakistani fighter aircraft.

India said two Pakistani planes were shot down today, one in a dogfight and the other by ground fire.

India reported the Pakistanis were using American made planes which Pakistan specifically promised never to use against India—only against Communist aggression.

The Indians were using British made Gnats, twin-engine swept-wing jets made by the Hawker-Siddeley plant, and (See PAKISTAN, Page 3)

Teenage Jury To Be Set Up Here for Student Citations

Details and arrangements for establishing a teenage jury to work in conjunction with Pampa's Corporation Court have been started as result of an organizational meeting held Tuesday.

Pat Ludeman, who brought the idea back to Pampa from the Attorney General's Youth Conference in Austin, said all persons who attended the meeting were favorable to establishing such a jury in Pampa.

She said the proposed teenage jury would be made up of volunteer students at Pampa High School. The jury would be in session bi-monthly on Saturday mornings.

A student receiving a police citation would have the opportunity of either going before the teenage jury or appearing before City Judge John Warner. "If the student chooses to appear before the teenage jury,"

Miss Ludeman said, "the jury will hear both sides of the case and then either find him guilty or not guilty and recommend a penalty."

She emphasized that the teenage jury can only recommend and cannot actually assess a fine or penalty.

The student would have the choice of either accepting the penalty recommended by the teenage jury or a fine assessed by Warner.

The soft drink machine, located on the outside of the station, was found pried open and about $1 in change had been taken.

The station is located at 2101 N. Hobart.

By United Press International Battle equipped National Guardsmen and state troopers maintained order in two racially tense Southern towns today while Negroes made plans to resume demonstrations in Chicago.

Guardsmen rolled into Natchez, Miss., Thursday and Negroes backed down on a threat to march, Negro leaders had said they would take to the streets if their desegregation demands were not met by Natchez officials. The demands were turned down after the soldiers arrived with fixed bayonets.

Negro leader Charles Evers, despite jeers of "Uncle Tom" from young Negroes, called off the march and urged, instead, that Negroes boycott white merchants and stay away from downtown Natchez.

At Plymouth, N.C., another racial hotspot, state troopers set up checkpoints and roadblocks around the town to keep down crowds. A number of weapons was confiscated from whites at roadblocks.

Business Highlights

By United Press International WASHINGTON: Higher costs of meat, auto insurance and home ownership were cited by the government as main factors in the rise of consumer prices to a record high in July. The government's index was 110.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average. The previous high was 110.1 per cent in June.

KENOSHA, Wis.: Local 72 of the United Auto Workers matched the longest walkout in American Motors Co.'s history. The strike entered its eighth day while federal mediators worked continuously to settle the walkout which has idled 11,000 men at American Motors' assembly plants here. Production of 1966 Ramblers has been halted.

WASHINGTON: A revised unemployment-compensation system is the subject of one of the bills Congress will take up next year. It may affect business taxes because it more than likely would mean higher payroll taxes for most employers.

Finding the Way

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.
One Night of Glory
When I was a boy, August or early September was the time of the night-blooming cereus. It was an enormous cactus bristling with flat, rubbery leaves and housed in a lard can. By no possible standard could the plant be regarded as beautiful. At our home it spent the winter in an entrance hall as a kind of foil to one of those large, medieval coat racks — the kind with a mirror framed with various metal hooks. At its side the night-blooming cereus looked all right.

In the spring it lived in the back yard under the cherry tree. From time to time mother would report on the buds. They were insignificant little nodules on the large, flat leaves but they indicated the promise of a flower. As the weeks passed, the buds became long spikes with bulbous ends which rapidly swelled in size. Finally, the night arrived when my mother had decided that the night-blooming cereus was going to bloom. Dutifully we would load it on our coaster wagon, pull it out front, run an extension cord out

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — John C. Hammerslough, editor and publisher of the Hammer Report, says he believes the market will move sideways with more stocks declining than advancing. Hammerslough suggests maintenance of adequate cash reserves to take advantage of buying opportunities at lower levels combined with commitments in stocks with solid earnings uprends.

Vanden Broeck, Lieber & Co., says it anticipates a sustained rebuilding of confidence in the equities markets and some broadening into quality issues which will benefit from the basic strength in the economy.

Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says a new test of the market is not at hand and until it is resolved, it would seem prudent to maintain some buying reserves.

Spear & Staff Inc. says it believes Dow-Jones industrial average is going to test its May 14 closing high of 939.62 before the end of the year. The firm says the market will bear close watching during this period for signs of funds unloading of cyclical issues, a development which may well portend a primary downtrend next year.

LUTHERANS STRESS FAMILY UNITY

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Efforts to strengthen family unity through worship at home are included in curriculum aids now being produced for congregations of The American Lutheran Church. New materials have been designed to assist fathers, mothers and children in daily worship in their homes. Harold Beigum, family life director of the ALC's Board of Parish Education, said: "An extremely small percentage of church-related families include moments of religious awareness in their daily conversation. Even table grace and bedtime prayers, if they are practiced at all have become meaningless habits."

New Pastor At Calvary Assembly

Rev. J. D. Lott has accepted the pastoral duties at Calvary Assembly of God Church here in Pampa. Rev. Lott, his wife, and daughter Kim, have moved from south Texas where they were engaged in evangelistic work. They have written and composed numerous gospel songs that have been published with Melody Publications in Springfield, Missouri. They like Pampa and the friendly atmosphere here. Their new residence is 1225 Darby.

160 Tee Off in ToT Spectacular Saturday

Daily News Staff Photos

Top Amateurs Here For Golf Tournament

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

Arnold Palmer won't be here, neither will Gary Player, Tony Lema or any of the really big names in the golfing world.

But when entrants in the 28th annual Top O' Texas Golf Tournament tee off Saturday Panhandle area folk have the chance to see some of the finest amateur golfers in the nation.

Some 160 amateur golfers will try to better par for 72-holes, from Saturday through Monday over the tough 35-36-71 Pampa Country Club layout.

Defending champion Bobby Greenwood on hand to defend his 1964 title, won with a 276 over the sprawling 6,010 yard layout. When practice rounds got underway today Club Pro, Hart Warren welcomed the likes of John Paul Cain, the ex-Texas Amateur champion from Houston and third place winner here last year and runner-up in 1962; John Farguhar, the 1963 champion and runner-up last year to Greenwood.

Also expected back is Jim Chew, medalist last year with a 66. Chew, from Kansas has won four tournaments already this year.

Seemingly the man to watch in this year's struggle is George Boutell of Tucson, Ariz., who won the Trans-Miss. tournament, the Eastern Tourney and was runner up in the Western.

Entrants in the championship flight will play 72-holes of medal play while contestants in the 10 other flights play match play until the final round when the final four players switch to medal play.

Greenwood will have no easy time of it in the championship flight with Rick Massengale, the Texas-Oklahoma Jr. champ, Hal Underwood, West Texas men's champ; Jim Bullard, Arkansas City, Kans. golfer; Marty Fleckman, NCAA cham from Houston; Jerry Smith, NCAA Junior College champ, 1961 ToT winner Jack Williams of Plainview, Matt Tabor, Nebraska Amateur champ and Jim Colbert, Kansas

Scouting The Pros

DALLAS (NEA) — RECEIVERS — A full comeback by Buddy Dial or quick development by Bobby Hayes (fastest human) is essential. Frank Clarke is versatile deep threat as split end, Pettis Norman has won tight end post, with support from Lee Folkins. Won't miss Tommy McDonald if Buddy stays healthy. Hayes' hands are question mark for his future. RATING — good.

OFFENSIVE LINE — Achilles heel of Cowboys. Slow recovery by Tony Liscio from knee surgery big blow. Could be saved by surprise showing of Army returnee Don Talbert or bright rookie Ralph Neely. Jim Boeke's a serviceable vet. Juggled middle, too, after knee surgery on Malcolm Walker. It's Dave Manders at center, Jake Krupp, Mike Connelly at guards. RATING — poor.

QUARTERBACKS — Big money to rookies Craig Morton, Jerry Rhome doesn't affect Don Meredith's status. He's No. 1 and will have to carry club. Finally showing signs of maturity. Still has to prove he can make t hbig play in clutch. RATING — Fair-to-good.

RUNNING BACKS — Search for Don Perkins' running mate now turns to Perry Lee Dunn from last year's defense. Would be better yet if big fullback showed up so Perkins could be used at halfback, where he would not be subjected to heavy pounding. If things go sur, they can always turn to perennial hopefuls Amos Marsh, Jim stiger. RATING — fair.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

See-Saw Race Has Bums Back in NL First Place

By United Press International

Surprise is the secret to the Dodgers success. While Pittsburgh's Bob Veale was concentrating on striking out the Dodgers' leading hitter, Mouty Wills, four times Thursday night he overlooked a 239 hitter named Jim Lefebvre, and as a result the Dodgers' almost non-descript band of performers is back in first place in the National League.

Lefebvre, a 22-year-old former Dodger balboy, drove in four runs with three hits to pace Los Angeles to a 7-1 victory over the Pirates while Milwaukee was upending Cincinnati 4-3 in 11 innings, pushing the Dodgers back into a one-game lead over San Francisco and the Reds.

The Giants whacked Philadelphia 5-2 in the second game of a doubleheader after losing the opener to the Phillies 4-3. Chicago toppled St. Louis 5-3 and Houston edged New York 4-3 in other NL games.

Sisler Gamble Fails
Cincinnati Manager Dick Sisler gambled with his second line pitching against the Braves and lost as the Braves snapped a 3-3 tie in the 11th on a single by Eddie Mathews—the only hit off reliever Ted Davidson in four innings—a bunt, an error by Davidson and Mike De La Hoz' sacrifice fly. The loss knocked the Reds out of their one percentage point lead in the NL race. Winner Hank Fischer worked 10 innings allowing six hits including Frank Robinson's seventh inning homer that tied the score.

Juan Marichal received a boozing from Philadelphia fans and a rapping from the Phillies, who collected seven hits, including Bobby Wine's two-run homer and a run-scoring single by winning pitcher Chris Short.

Claude Raymond's brilliant ninth-inning relief work enabled Larry Dierker, Houston's 18-year-old bonus baby, to win his seventh game. Rusty Staub homered and singled to drive in two Astro runs and scored a third. The Mets rallied for two in the ninth on Joe Christopher's two-run single.

Ernie Banks crooked his 400th career homer with two on in the third inning off loser Curt Simmons. The blow helped the cubs' Bob Hendley, just recalled from the minors, to win his second game of the season. Lou Brock hit his 14th home run for the Cardinals.

The Chicago White Sox are doing the only thing left for them in the American League race—winning and hoping. The "best" happened Thursday when the Minnesota Twins squandered a game and a half of their lead by leaving 16 runners stranded in a 5-4 loss to the Detroit Tigers while the White Sox beat the Baltimore Orioles 5-3 and 9-3.

J. C. Martin's two-out double sent two runs over the plate in the first game for the White Sox and Robinson and Pete Ward, who broke out of a one-for-34 slump with a homer, double, single and three runs batted in, starred in the nightcap.

The Twins, playing like the pennant already was clinched, squandered opportunity after opportunity in their loss to the Tigers.

The Buffalo Bills are ready to start the 1965 season next week where they left off — on top.

The Bills, led by the 101-yard kickoff return of Charley Warner, trounced the New York Jets 31-10 in an American Football League exhibition game Thursday night.

Warner took a New York kickoff return after a Jet's field goal late in the second period and zig-zagged through the defense to tally the first Buffalo touchdown.

After that defensive end Tom Day blocked a New York punt by Curly Johnson on the two yard line and gave the Bills a 17-3 halftime lead.

Jack Kemp, a nine-year veteran, tossed a 15-yard TD pass to Glenn Bass and a 21-yard pass to Charlie Ferguson for a 31-3 lead.

Joe Namath, the Jets' $400,000 bonus star, tossed a 25-yard scoring pass to Don Maynard in the final period for the only New York touchdown of the game.

The rest of the AFL will clash Friday night as the Boston Patriots travel to Kansas City to take on the Chiefs, the Oakland Raiders meet the Denver Broncos at Sacramento, Calif., and the Houston Oilers play the San Diego Chargers at Little Rock, Ark.

The passing arms of quarterbacks Don Trull and George Blanda combined with the running ability of Ode Burrell will have to be contended with by the powerful Chargers' defensive line in the Houston-San Diego clash. And the Raiders will have to stop the powerful running of Cookie Gilchrist, of the Broncos if Oakland hopes to defeat Houston.

The Dallas Cowboys, fresh from a 21-12 upset victory over the Green Bay Packers last weekend will take on the undefeated Minnesota Vikings at Birmingham, Ala., and the St. Louis Cardinals tangle with the Chicago Bears in Friday night's National Football League action.

In the first game of the fourth annual Cleveland doubleheader Saturday night, the Detroit Lions clash with the New York Giants. Green Bay will meet the host Cleveland Browns in the nightcap.

The Giants, who obtained Detroit's second-string quarterback Earl Morrall during the week, will test the talents of the veteran signal-caller against his former teammates.

The Cleveland Indians downed the Kansas City Athletics 10-6, the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Angels 8-1 and the Washington Senators topped the Boston Red Sox 5-4 in their AL games.

Leon Wagner's three-run homer, a double by Rocky Colavito and Fred Whitfield's two-run single were the big blows for the Indians. Don McMahon, who pitched 3 1-3 innings of shutout relief, was credited with his third win while Don Mossi suffered his sixth setback.

Mickey Mantle drove in four runs with his 18th homer and a single for the Yankees as Whitey Ford captured his 14th victory against nine losses with a four-hitter. Tom Tresh had two hits and Hector Lopez a two-run single in the midst of a 13-hit Yankee attack.

Bob Chance delivered a pinch two-run single in his first appearance since being recalled from the minors to give the Senators their victory over the Red Sox.

New Booster Club to Back Harvesters

Everybody is trying to ehlp out the Pampa Harvester grid team this year. Pampa businessmen and local civic clubs and just plain 'Joe Fan'.

Thursday night the Pampa Mens Council of Clubs agreed to sell tickets to the Harvesters home games, starting first in their own clubs, which would come close to assuring virtually sellout to every game.

The Harvesters play their first home contest Sept. 17, against Wichita Falls Rider, starting at 7:30 p. m.

Tickets for this contest are already on sale by civic club members.

For Pampa's opener Sept. 10 at Perryton, buses have been chartered to take fans to the game.

This is all due to the Pampa Jaycees.

The Jaycees are in the process of organizing a booster club, complete with vest, to remind citizens on the day of the games that Pampa is playing.

Two rallies have been scheduled, one Sept. 8 at Coronado Center, starting at 8 p. m. The rally will last until 10 p. m.

The other rally has been changed from Sept. 15 to Sept. 17 in downtown Pampa in the afternoon. Traffic will be blocked off in a section of the downtown area.

At the center the players and their coaches will be introduced from 8-9 p. m. and from 9-10 p. m. a dance for teenagers will be held.

Dr. Joe Donaldson will be master of ceremonies at both events and the Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes will chaperon both rallies.

Purpose of the ticket selling campaign, booster club and rallies is to build interest back up in football and give the team and coaches all the support possible.

Re: Don't Use My Name

(This is one of a series of memos from the editor of Valley Freedom Newspapers to members of the news staff. Because they deal with matters of concern to our readers, it occurred to us you might be interested in reading over the editor's shoulder, so to speak. Your comments, as always, are invited.)

Dear Staff Members:

It is a small, weepy voice at the other end of the line:

"If you put this divorce in the paper," it says, "I'll lose my school-teaching job."

Your mind races back through the years and you wonder how many times you've heard that sad story in one of its infinite variations.

If you have a good breakfast, if the world is bright and cheerful, if the garden is coming up well, if there's going to be pot roast for dinner — and if you have a lot of time — you explain, patiently, that (1) the one-line notice in the court proceedings will not electrify the community nor even the school board and (2) if good teachers are, indeed, in such short supply as the superintendent tells his board, then there must be no earthly reason for the board to fire a teacher simply because he or she has terminated a marriage.

But every day is not sunny and there isn't pot roast for dinner every night. And you, like others, wake up with a headache, a bunch of bills to pay, trouble with the IRS — whatever. And when the voice on the phone adds:

"If I get fired, it's your fault."

That does it. And you say:

"Lady, let's get one thing straight. YOU filed the divorce case — we didn't. One of YOU broke up your marriage. We didn't. YOU made the decision to get a divorce here, now and according to the laws of this state. All we did was put one line in the paper. Don't for the love of Heaven, wish off the blame on us."

More poignant is the parent who begs to keep his son's or daughter's name out of the paper in a court case. (Sometimes the entreaty becomes a threat and by the language and action of the parent you can pretty much guess why and how the kid got into trouble.)

But, again — who is the culprit? Maybe the youngster. Maybe the parent. Maybe a defective set of genes, a great-great-grandmother. Maybe environment. Maybe heredity. These are for the "social scientists" to debate. Whoever is to blame, it is NOT the newspaper, which simply records the facts.

Juvenile judges are coming with increasing number to the conclusion that publicity may be a deterrent to juvenile law-breaking. Anyway, within the dictates of the law, the courts have the authority to restrict certain hearings as juvenile matters.

If the proceedings are public, it is our job to note them. We are not out to sensationalize them — although in the case of, say a teenager who dispatches his family with an axe you can't ignore it.

The thing is, we are simply the relater of news. We did not do the murder, file the divorce, race the car through the school zone. The job of bringing this information before the public might at times be a melancholy business. But I should say that the hump cannot be properly placed on our already breaking backs.

Cordially,

The Editor

Cotton Subsidy An Example

When the federal government upsets the normal, natural pattern of supply and demand it results in catastrophe for every facet of the program with the exception of the establishment of another "successful" government bureau. This has been the experience of the federal farm programs of controls, subsidies and support.

The "success" of the program is designated by the size of the Department of Agriculture that operates the subsidy programs; currently there is one government employee to every 32 farms in the nation who disburse or pay in excess of $6 billion of tax funds per year.

Subsidized cotton is a good example to point out what happens when government steps into the picture in an attempt to establish artificial farm prosperity.

Back in the 1920s the nation's farmers found that through the use of advanced scientific knowledge and through the use of mechanization, it was possible for fewer farmers to produce greater amounts on less land. In fact they could increase production at a greater rate than the growth of demand.

The price of cotton has been maintained at an artificially high level by the government since the farm subsidy program began. This has forced the American manufacturer to buy at a high price. This high price created a market for foreign produced cotton grown and marketed at a much lower price.

Since there was no market for the high priced subsidized cotton, the federal government had to store it. The tax monies used to pay the subsidies were not regained, neither were the funds used to pay for the storage.

In an attempt to "correct" their error in planning, the federal government placed a new subsidy program into effect; that of supporting the merchant exporting cotton. The exporter sold domestic cotton at the competitive foreign market price, the federal government then made up his loss from tax funds. It did move the farm subsidized, tax paid storage, cost, now price supported cotton from the local warehouses into the foreign markets but local cotton users who were manufacturing for the U. S. market, were forced still to pay the high subsidized price.

The result, foreign manufacturers found they could buy U. S. cotton at the new low price; manufacture clothing and ship products, then ship them back to the United States and undersell the local U. S. manufacturers.

To correct this, the federal government decided to "correct" the error by adding still another subsidy; this time subsidizing the local cotton products manufacturer to make up the losses from imported foreign competition.

This total three-point subsidy program made cotton — any variety or quality — highly profitable to the grower. Since the government "had to buy" his product, the grower led the quality slip to the point that the manufacturer could no longer use it. The completed product was too poor a quality to satisfy the customer. In order to keep up his sales, the manufacturer turned to other fibers to produce a product that had saleability, synthetics came into being. Now, there is little market for U. S. grown cotton, which is still being stored, by the government at the taxpayer's expense, but not being sold. The taxpayer is the loser, the only persons who are profiting are the employees who are receiving tax-paid salaries in the U. S. Department of Agriculture who oversee a worthless, expensive, non-productive program.

This story of cotton can be duplicated in every case history of government intervention into the normal processes of private enterprise controlled through the healthy practice of supply and demand of private competition.

No Bread Tax—Just a Tax

The idea that consumers should pay directly a portion of the cost of a subsidy was just too much for the politicians in Congress.

The administration in the person of Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman wants to increase the subsidy to wheat farmers from $2 to $2.50 a bushel. The added 50 cents was to be paid by the millers, who would pass it on to the bakers, who had no one except the consumers to whom they could pass on the higher prices. It would mean a cent or two more for each loaf of bread, it was estimated.

"But that would be a bread tax," cried those do-gooders who seem to have some idea that they can continue the handouts of taxpayers' money without increasing prices.

So they came up with a "compromise." Instead of having the miller pay the 50-cent-a-bushel subsidy to the farmer, the payment will be made out of the federal Treasury.

And just who do they think will be paying for it?

The tax will be invisible, instead of visible. And it will come out of the pockets of every man, woman and child, and out of the pockets of the unborn generations if the wonderful wizards of Washington continue to spend more than they take in.

It sort-a sounds like the fellow who wanted to live off the interest on his indebtedness.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I suppose I want complete consensus, I'll have to give you a handout, too!"

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE
It is generally believed that a "non-profit" agency can sell its products for less — because it has eliminated one of the costs of operating a business.

It is true that profit is a cost. It is a price paid to an entire entrepreneur for correctly calculating the market for the service involved. Or it may be the price paid to an investor for allowing his capital to be utilized. In any case, it is the price paid for a service rendered. To avoid paying that price means going without the service.

The entrepreneur who initiates the enterprise is calculating that there is sufficient desire for what he has to offer to make the venture a success. To calculate correctly requires experience, knowledge, insight, and a willingness to find out what people want. The entrepreneur expects to be paid for these talents. If the company he establishes is "profit-seeking", he may pay himself in salary and/or profits.

If he establishes a "non-profit" agency, he will have to make his own salary large enough to pay for his efforts. Either way, the price of correct calculation must be paid or the business will be completely out of tune with the market and will fail.

Suppose it is a government enterprise. Will proper calculation be any less necessary? If such calculation has been undertaken, someone will have to be paid for it. If it has not, there is no justification to undertake the enterprise — for there is no knowledge that anyone wants it.

A profit-seeking company will generally divert part of its profits to new equipment and reserves to enlarge upon its ability to satisfy its customers. A non-profit agency must do the same thing if it is to grow.

If a company really were "non-profit", it would have no leadership, no capital, no organization, no forethought, no reserves, and no growth.

So when a company advertises that it has "eliminated the middle-man's profit", ask its representative "Who is now performing the middleman's functions of warehousing, etc., and how do you pay for them?" The cost will still have to be paid. By changing the arrangement slightly, only the label has been changed — but the cost is still there.

And when a government agency claims it can do things less expensively because there is no profit involved, it is only attempting to mislead you. Government agencies require all the services that private companies do; but government agencies pay more, in the long run, and are less sensitive to consumer demand.

An open, unashamed "profit seeking" company is your best source of whatever you want. For to make a profit, that company will have to please you. Everyone in the company knows it, and there will be no attempt to mislead you.

Wit and Whimsy

Little eight-year-old Tommy came home from school and asked his mother if he could have an advance on his allowance. When his mother inquired as to what he needed it for, he said:

"Little Tommy — Our teacher is being transferred and all the kids want to give her a little momentum."

The service station business is one of the most competitive in the country. There are, for example, more than three times as many competitive service stations in the U.S. as there are drug stores.

Matter of Fact

A clipper ship launched in 1852. Sovereign of the Seas, once covered 411 nautical miles in one day, although it registered 2,421 tons. Another ship by the same builder, Donald McKay, established the record for a single day — 436 miles — a record that was not surpassed even by a steamship for many years.

High Salaries and Living Costs Eat Up Anti-Poverty Funds

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Those teams of staff investigators Representative Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the Labor Committee, says he is sending around the country for "on-the-spot inspections of the anti-poverty program" don't have to go far to strike pay dirt.

They can find plenty of it right in the junketeering lawmaker's own bailiwick.

Most of a $230,000 federal grant to set in motion an anti-poverty plan in Harlem was eaten up in high salaries and high expense accounts.

Livingston Wingate, one-time Powell assistant, led the juicy salary list with $17,500. And more than $2,000 went for rooms, meals, refreshments, flowers and other comforts at a week-end planning session at a plush mountain resort — many miles from Harlem.

As pieced together by Senator John Williams, R-Del., "one-man investigating committee" whose jarring exposes include triggering the sensational Bob by Baker probe, details of the costly launching of the HARYOU project are as follows:

Harlem Youth Opportunities Unlimited, Inc. (HARYOU), was largely initiated by R. P. Powell for the avowed purpose of combatting unemployment, juvenile delinquency, improving housing, education, etc. A number of officials and consultants are hired — from lists approved by Powell.

Heading the group was Wingate, his former assistant.

Other healthy anti-poverty stipends were: Project director $14,000; program coordinator $13,000; special assistant $12,500; two trainee supervisors $8,500 each; office manager $7,500; receptionist — typist $4,500; two stenographers at $4,160 and $3,640.

After getting a $230,000 organizing grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity, headed by Sargent Shriver, the HARYOU authorities got busy mapping out a number of programs to be financed by a $1.4 million OEO allocation.

LIVING IT UP — In the course of their heavy skullwork, they decided it could be greatly facilitated if pursued during a week-end in the cool, quiet and luxurious accommodations of the plush mountain resort at Suffern, N.Y.

Cost to taxpayers of that two-day junket was $2,166.26. Among the expense items uncovered by Senator Williams was $12.85 for rental of a tuxedo for Kenneth Marshall, HARYOU program director. Also $63.20 for flowers for an "open house."

Clearing House

FORT TURNS TO HUMOR

Editor: Come Jan. 1, 1966, I aim to make me a big set of resolutions. It is surely possible for me to become a "go along" man. To quit swimming against the tide. Now, I meet what I think is a total stranger. I hold out my hand and say "I am L. P. Fort." The "stranger" will often snicker politely and say, "yes I have heard of you."

I am afraid to ask what he has heard. See the guilty conscience that you can breed by peeping-behind too many curtains, so to speak?

First, this thing of television advertising, I intend to start taking at face value. The chewing gum song for example, why should I worry if two fiddlers are up high on a platform, fiddling away in white summer shirts, while a boy below is dressed in what appears to be a winter sweater. The lower elevations ought to be warmer.

Also, this medicine deal — A man comes home and at a cheery greeting from his wife, he explodes on her. A grocery clerk asks for a few bags, his partner bawls him out. A man scolds his little child for riding into the flower bed on a tricycle.

Each and every one of them finds relief and good humor from a bottle of pills. These self-same pills, all come from the same table, returned to their usual place by the same hand, among the same other fixtures all in the same timing.

Now, my worry is — do all these people live in the same house, and all use the same table to keep the medicine on? If so, such powerful stuff ought to be kept on a table high enough to be out of the reach of small children. From the position of the hand returning the pills to the table, it is slightly over kneeling.

The kicker of them all, Mr. Editor, you might have solved for me. Recently I noted you had attended a meeting of the Barons of the Cow-raisers at Coronado Inn. Now such an aggregation, should have known ALL the answers to any question concerning the cattle from which their living comes.

Why didn't I know about it so I could have asked you to pose this question? How much iron is there, really, in a pound of calves liver? Like the medicine that has twice as much of?

many agricultural workers, and produces less than half the grain crop of the U.S. . . . Brazil's former President Janio Quadros, who fled the country several years ago after a nationwide uprising, says he is returning shortly — assuming he is admitted . . . inside word in London financial circles is that Red China has bought around 125 tons of gold this year totaling $150 million. Published reports early last month were that Peking had bought 60 tons of gold ($74 million) on the London market. But financial insiders say the actual amount was twice that.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

A Success Formula: Doing What Others Dislike To Do

By SAM CAMPBELL Business Editor

A sure way to succeed, so goes an adage, is to undertake something that other people do not like to do.

Maria Nailen, who lives out in Garden Grove, Calif., applies that principle in this way: she designs and manufactures what appears to be standard clothing for persons who, for physical reasons, can't wear standard clothing.

Pinless Diapers She makes pinless diapers for babies whose mother have arthritic fingers. She makes underclothing for elders who have difficulty in continence.

She make hospital sheet covers that can be changed with very little movement of the patient.

She even has invented a set of terms so that adult users can order undergarments in a store in the presence of customers without embarrassment. Her trade name is Pie-Dee.

Mrs. Nailen, formerly Maria Centro, was born in Brooklyn and was graduated from the School of Industrial Arts for Designing. For a time, after going to California, she worked with such feminine regalia as wigs. But then through a series of happenstances, she got a call to design the special clothing.

A Gift "It's a gift," she says, "I can see closures that no one else can."

Designs pop in her head and out her fingers literally by the dozens.

But Maria doesn't design for what she thinks. Instead, she creates for the needs she sees. She works directly with children.

Clothing to Maria is not a garment. Rather it is something for some particular person. She speaks of Jeannie and Tonia and dozens of others. They are her friends. They are her co-workers. They show her what is needed.

It is very difficult to describe Maria's designs. The outer clothing is stylish. The inner clothing is ingenious, discreet and practical.

Indeed, it is difficult to describe Maria. To her, the profit motive and the desire to be helpful are one and the same. Each is the means by which the other is accomplished. Among real business people this quality is not as rare as some may suppose.

But Maria brings an extraordinary sensitivity to the wants and needs of her customers. To lower the price, she designs with an eye to mass-production. To fit the market, she designs specifically for the individual.

Sales veterans often see the marketplace as well-charted and reluctant. Unquestionably, Mrs. Nailen has discovered and is pioneering a receptive area in it. To the casual observer, some of her innovations — the pinless diaper, the self-closing dresses, and the child undergarments — seem better even for general use than standard apparel.

Masked Gunmen Whip Man

OLD WESTBURY, N.Y. (UPI)—Three masked gunmen invaded the mansion of socially prominent Howard Phipps early Wednesday, pistol whipped Phipps in his bedroom and forced his wife to hand over more than $40,000 in gems.

A butler, a maid and a chauffeur slept through the robbery in the $100,000 mansion on the Phipps estate. Police said the robbery occurred between 3 and 4 a.m. They said the gunmen climbed in through an unlocked library window on the first floor of the mansion in this Long Island community. They apparently knew their way around because they moved quickly to Phipps second floor bedroom, police said.

They kicked in the door and smashed Phipps in the face with a pistol while blinding him with powerful flashlights. He was later treated for injuries of the right cheekbone and right eye.

Phipps, who is hard of hearing, said at first he could not understand what the intruders wanted of him.

At this point his wife, Harriet, awakened in her adjoining bedroom by the commotion, began to telephone police. But one of the gunmen rushed in and ripped the phone cord from the wall.

The gunmen took $100 from Mrs. Phipps' wallet, $100 from her husband's wallet and then forced the shaken woman to open the bedroom safe, from which they took $49,550 in pearls, jade and diamond jewelry and $500 cash.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—For those who keep hearing a persistent rumor to the effect that the new network television season will get underway Sept. 13, this is to confirm that it is true and that nothing can be done about it any more. Herewith, then, a final advance scorecard, easily disposable, of the new entertainment series that await the sportsmanlike American public:

Mondays: "Jesse James" (ABC), the title of which is reasonably explanatory. "Man Called Shenandoah" (ABC), the title of which is not. It is about an amnesiac (Robert Horton) who seeks his identity in a western setting. "The Steve Lawrence Show" (CBS) is a show which stars Steve Lawrence. "The John Forsythe Show" (NBC) is a show which stars John Forsythe. "Run For Your Life" (NBC), which concerns a fellow with a terminal illness who is trying to enjoy the time remaining to him.

Tuesdays: "F Troop" (ABC), a comedy western about a cavairy group. "My mother, the Car" (NBC), about a deceased mama (Ann Sothern) who returns to her married son as the voice of an old auto. "Please Don't Eat The Daisies" (NBC), the well-known suburban domestic comedy.

Wednesdays: "Gidget" (ABC) about a teen-age "surf bunny". "The Big Valley" (ABC), which stars Barbara Stanwyck. "Amos Burke—Secret Agent" (ABC); the rich cop is now a rich secret agent. "Lost in Space" (CBS), science-fiction about colonists to another planet. "Green Acres" (CBS), with Eddie Albert and Eva Gabor as a city couple who move to the country. "I Spy" (NBC), about two secret agents (Robert Culp and Bill Cosby) who roam the world pretending to be a tennis player and his trainer-companion.

Thursdays: "O.K. Crackerby" (ABC), with Burl Ives as a rich, uncouth fellow who hires a young man to teach his children how to be couth. "The Long, Hot Summer" (ABC), in which Edmond O'Brien and Ruth Roman star in a southern soap opera that is reported to be somewhat lusty. "The Thursday night movie" (CBS), which will offer stars of the silver screen. "Laredo" (NBC), a western about the Texas Rangers. "Mona McCluskey" (NBC), with Juliet Prowse as a movie star married to an Air Force sergeant. "The Dean Martin Show" (NBC), a variety hour.

Fridays: "Tammy" (ABC), about a teen-age backwards girl who works for a wealthy plantation owner. "Honey West" (ABC), with Anne Francis as a private eye. "The Wild, Wild West" (CBS), a combination western-spy series. "Hogan's Heroes" (CBS), comedy set in a German prisoner-of-war camp in World War II.
