U.S. Gemini Space Shot Postponed

Families Pray While Awaiting Blastoff

SEABROOK, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Charles (Pete) Conrad got her four sons up early today, passed up her usual morning bicycle ride and after breakfast went to church to pray for her astronaut husband.

Conrad and his Gemini partner I. Gordon Cooper were the crew for the nation's first eight-day space mission. Cooper's family was in Florida.

Jane Conrad and another astronaut's wife, Marilyn Lovell, attended services after 8 a.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in nearby Laporte, Tex. Mrs. Conrad wore a white dress with gold buttons, white shoes with black trim, and a black straw hat.

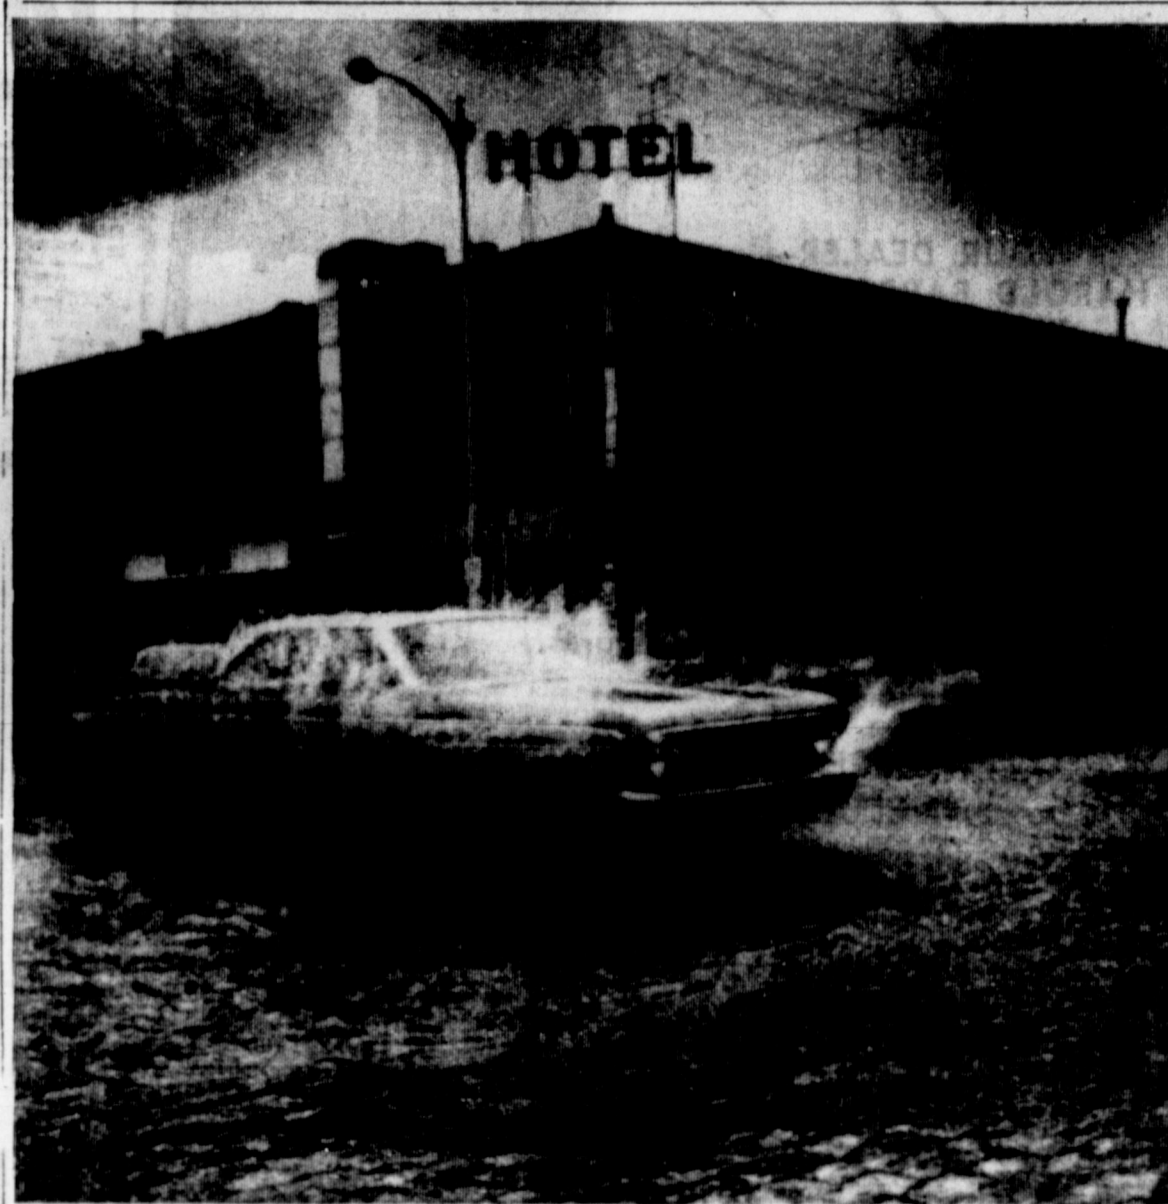

"Good morning," she greeted reporters. "I'm sorry to rush but I want to get to church and back in time for blastoff. I am not thrilled about the hold but I am thrilled about this flight." Usually, Mrs. Conrad rides a bike in the morning with friends in the "broken spoke bicycle brigade," a group of housewives. Members set up a table with coffee and doughnuts across from the Conrad home this morning.

Mrs. Jack Kinzler, Mrs. Robert Benware, Mrs. Robert West-

erheid, and Mrs. Stewart Ayton served coffee to newsmen. All are Mrs. Conrad's neighbors. She asked them to help make things easier for the press during the long wait.

The day's first problem for them was a thousand miles from their home, where a delay of the mission of Conrad and L. Gordon Cooper held up America's longest space flight.

A BIG SPLASH — A Pampa motorist splashes over a rain-filled Pampa street Wednesday afternoon after showers brought moisture ranging from .50 of an inch to 1.25, had city streets almost gutter full.

Ike Invites Top Republicans to Gettysburg Picnic

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Well-heeled Republicans were invited to a picnic on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's farm estate today to discuss how to fatten the party's coffers for the 1966 state and congressional election campaigns.

About 250 persons were expected for the meeting, including individuals who have contributed $1,000 or more to the GOP treasury this year. Republican congressional leaders and members of the National Finance Committee.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton were among those on the guest list. The finance committee members made the 80-mile trip to Gettysburg for the lunch and tent meeting on Eisenhower's farm following a morning session in Washington with their new chairman, retired Army Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss described the sessions as the first major move in a financial campaign "to strengthen our Republican party position both in Congress and in the state Houses throughout the nation in 1966."

The Republican National Committee has been functioning under what it calls a "bare bones" budget of $17 million for this year. That is the normal budget for a year with no national election.

Plans are being made, however, to begin operating under a beefed up budget this fall to put the national party organization in fighting trim for the 1968 campaign.

City Charter Amendment Election Slated Tuesday

With the deadline for absentee balloting falling at 5 p.m. tomorrow, only 15 votes had been cast up until noon today in next Tuesday's charter amendment election.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. There will be four voting places, one in each of the city's four wards.

Ward 1 voters will cast their ballots at City Hall, Ward 2 voters at the fire station on E. 17th St., Ward 3 at Ward's Cabinet Shop on N. Starkweather and Ward 4 at the fire station on S. Barnes St.

Decisions will be made on seven proposed amendments. They are:

Annexation

1. Shall Sec. 3 of Article I of the existing charter of the City of Pampa be repealed and the following be passed and substituted therefor: "The City Commission shall have the power by ordinance to fix the boundary limits of the City of Pampa; and to provide for the alteration and extension of said boundary limits and the annexation of additional territory lying adjacent to said City with the limits as provided by applicable state law. Also, the limits of the said corporation may be hereafter extended by adding additional territory to the same whenever the majority of the qualified electors of said territory shall indicate a desire to be included within the limits of said corporation in the manner provided in Article 374 Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, 1925."

Segregation

2. Shall Sec. 7 of Article III of the existing charter of the City of Pampa be repealed. (This section would do away with any segregation.)

Tax Money Adjustment

3. Shall the first paragraph of Sec. 1 of Article V be amended by repealing the words "One Dollar ($1.00)" and providing and substituting therefore the following, "One Dollar Fifty Cents ($1.50)" (This would raise from $1 to $1.50 per $100 property valuation the amount of tax money that can be used for the city's general operating fund.)

Terms of Councilmen

4. Shall Sec. 2 of Article VII be amended to read: "The mayor and each commissioner shall serve a term of two years, except the commissioners for Wards 2 and 4 beginning in April of 1967 and ending in April of 1968 as hereinafter mentioned and until his successor is elected and qualified unless sooner removed from office as herein provided and the mayor and commissioners for Wards 1 and 3 shall be elected in April of 1967 and each odd numbered year thereafter for a term of two years and commissioners for Wards 2 and 4 shall be elected in April of 1967 for a term of one year and thereafter they shall be elected in April of each even numbered year serving for a two-year term."

Council Meetings

5. Shall Sec. 12 of Article VII be amended by repealing the words "once a week" in the first sentence thereof and in lieu thereof, adopt "twice each week" (See CHARTER, Page 3)

Voting Examiners On Way to Deep South

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Federal voting examiners were on their way into five more Deep South counties today, under orders to put Negroes on the rolls in compliance with the voting rights act of 1965.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach issued orders for the new examiners Wednesday night, bringing to 14 the number of counties that have been picked for examiners under the 13-day-old law.

The new counties are Perry and Wilcox in Alabama, Ouachita in Louisiana, and Jefferson Davis and Jones in Mississippi. The Civil Service Commission said the examiners would open offices by Friday.

Katzenbach said that despite enactment of the voting rights law, the five counties "have continued to discriminate and have given no substantial indication that they will comply with it."

He said each of the counties "has a long history of discrimination against Negro voting applicants" and had been named in voting suits filed by the Justice Department.

It was said that in each of the counties named the number of voting age Negroes registered ranged from 20 per cent down, while the percentage of voting age whites ranged up to more than 100 per cent. Registration over 100 per cent is blamed on faulty bookkeeping rather than fraud.

The new counties were the second group into which examiners have been ordered. They cover the same three states in which the first group of nine counties are located. Examiners sent into the original nine counties last week have registered 15,000 voters so far.

Katzenbach has authority under the voting rights legislation to pick any county covered by the law for examiners where there is evidence of non-compliance. He said he believed it to be his "responsibility" to add the five counties to the list.

He said the examiners would be withdrawn promptly "when local officials demonstrate their willingness to deal fairly with Negro as well as white applicants."

LBJ Divides Time on Viet, Space Launch

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson planned to divide his time today between the nation's latest venture into space and its overseas commitments on earth.

Johnson was expected to watch on television the scheduled launch of the Gemini 5 spacecraft carrying astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Charles (Pete) Conrad on a planned eight-day orbital mission.

Following the launch, the President planned to keep close touch throughout the day with the latest developments in the flight and the two astronauts' attempt to rendezvous the Gemini with a small spacecraft they were to carry aloft with them.

Johnson's schedule called for a lunch at the State Department with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his assistant secretaries.

No agenda was announced for the working lunch, but one of the major topics for discussion was expected to be the continuing U. S. effort in the war with Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

More Rain Due In Pampa, Area

Late afternoon and evening thundershowers were forecast for Pampa and vicinity today and tomorrow after a torrential downpour Wednesday.

Pampa recorded its second rain of the month Wednesday evening as amounts from .50 to 1.25 inches were measured.

Some .85 inches were recorded in downtown Pampa while rain gauges on the north side of town measured .50 and on the South side up to 1.25 inches.

Lighting was blamed on two fires in Pampa yesterday afternoon and evening.

At 3:30 p. m., approximately one-half an acre of grass was burned on the Wilks estate northeast of Pampa.

Lighting struck a house owned by L. R. Miller, 1700 Russell, about 7:17 p. m. causing minor damage.

The two calls were the only ones answered by Pampa firemen yesterday.

In many towns in the Panhandle, drenching rains sent streets running curflew. More scattered showers were in prospect for the Panhandle.

Dalhart got the heaviest rain—slightly over three inches in a bit less than three hours.

Scores of motorists were stranded when curb-deep water drowned out their car engines and low parts of town were flooded.

"It drained off pretty quickly," a police spokesman said in Dalhart. "It will be wonderful for the milo crops and we can use all we can get."

Clayton, N.M. also had a good rain as did Dumas, Tex., Stratford, Sunray and Spearman.

Light showers fell along the Gulf Coast and in parts of the West Texas Wednesday. Midland got .39 of an inch and Victoria had .02.

Kermit had 103 degrees and Presidio and Laredo both 102 Wednesday. It was 101 at Wichita Falls and in the upper 90s through much of South Texas. Alpine's high was 87.

Thunderstorms, Other Problems Cause Scrub

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A radio and weather problem aboard the Gemini 5 space capsule today forced postponement of the launching of astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles Pete Conrad on an eight-day endurance flight. The unhappy astronauts were brought out of the capsule under dark and rainy skies.

The postponement — just 10 minutes before scheduled liftoff — was heartbreaking for the astronauts and the crews that had worked for months to fire the capsule on its Titan rocket without a hitch.

The earliest the flight could be resumed was Saturday.

Technicians overcame difficulties in loading new electrical fuel power cells that caused a 3-hour and 18-minute "hold" in the early morning countdown. Cooper and Conrad were allowed to spend the extra time sleeping.

From then on, the countdown moved rapidly and entered its final stages under a brilliant sky.

The countdown was stopped at 11:10 a.m.

As the countdown approached the two-hour mark before liftoff, all was "going smoothly," Gemini control said.

The eight-day length of the flight is the same as the time required for flights to the moon and back. If they carry off their 19½-hour mission without suffering any bad effects physically, the 38-year-old Cooper and the 35-year-old Conrad may prove that man is capable of making the long lunar journey.

Fueling of the 109-foot tall Titan rocket went on during the night and engineers pronounced the two-stage machine in excellent condition for the leap into space. Weather forecasts were favorable.

The astronauts were scheduled to awake at 3:30 a.m. CST, undergo a final medical examination, eat breakfast, go through an hour-long suiting-up, and finally enter the Gemini space capsule at 6:20 a.m. CST, 100 minutes before take-off time.

While displaying endurance was their primary goal, the United States astronauts also faced a long and interesting schedule of experiments in space. Among them were:

—Releasing a small satellite in space and then using radar to maneuver within 20 feet of it, a vital maneuver that must be learned for future "linkups" of satellites.

—Attempts to determine exactly how well the astronauts circling 100 or more miles above the earth can see fairly small objects on earth. Cooper sparked their experiment himself when he reported after his first 22-orbit flight on May 15-16, 1963, that he could see railroad tracks, houses and boats.

—Attempts by the pilots to see, and possibly photograph, other rocket launchings on earth. Several such shots were planned during the eight days, including a Minuteman missile firing Friday and a satellite launch on Wednesday.

—An effort to establish radio communication between the orbiting spaceship and another astronaut, M. Scott Carpenter, while Carpenter is in a Navy sea lab submerged in the Pacific Ocean.

Marines Score Victory Over Viet Cong Force

SAIGON (UPI) — American Marines reported today they had killed 550 Viet Cong in their biggest and hardest fought battle of the Vietnamese war.

On the move with rifles, grenades and flame-throwing tanks, the Leathernecks mopped up the remnants of an estimated 2,000-man Communist force who gave the Marines their toughest fight since Korea.

The Viet Cong were caught in a land, air and sea squeeze on a peninsula stronghold 12 miles south of the U.S. airfield at Chu Lai, 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

Marine casualties were described as "light," but a spokesman said they were the heaviest of any American action of the war.

An American military spokesman said the Marines expected to complete most of their cleaning up operations tonight.

Lt. Gen. Victor M. Krulac, commander of all Marine forces in the Pacific, described the battle as a "fine victory for the first time."

But in another battle in the lion force of Viet Cong overran the district capital of Dak Sut and an American special forces camp in Kontum Province. The town's garrison and camp was one of the last barriers in the region to Communist infiltration from southern Laos.

Three other smaller actions were reported close to Saigon (See MARINES, Page 3)

SNIPERS STILL AT WORK, BUT

Trouble Dwindles in Riot-Torn Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Riot-torn Los Angeles moved rapidly toward recovery today despite a cross-fire of recriminations over the causes of the nation's worst Negro uprising of the century.

City and state authorities poured food and money into the shaken Watts district where 300 police and National Guardsmen smashed an unprecedented rampage that left 35

In another section of the riot area, a report of a sniper proved unfounded.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Mayor Samuel Yorty, meanwhile, disagreed over what caused the rioting which left 35 persons dead, nearly 900 injured and nearly $200 million in property damage. Their dispute was rapidly becoming a public feud.

Dr. Martin Luther King, both cheered and jeered by Negroes in a tour of the riot area Wednesday, sharply criticized Police Chief William H. Parker for inflaming tensions in the riot area. He also met with Brown for 90 minutes.

After the meeting, the govern-nor said "absolutely not" when asked if he would try to have Parker ousted from his job.

"I don't believe he has the slightest bit of prejudice in him," Brown said of Parker. "His zeal for law enforcement could be misinterpreted as prejudice."

Other controversy flared over an unexpected cut-off of federal anti-poverty funds which drew Sargent Shriver, director of the office of Economic Opportunity, into the tense situation.

The five days of civic disorder were sparked Aug. 11 when two white highway patrolmen arrested a drunken driving suspect, Negroes claimed the suspect was mistreated — another in a long line of alleged cases of police brutality against Negroes.

Mayor Yorty said such charges were part of an international Communist "big lie" technique to discredit law enforcement officers.

Brown said that communism might have had a "minor role" but added "we kid ourselves if we blame this on communism alone."

Yorty, who has suggested that he is the only Democrat in the state who can challenge Brown in the party's gubernatorial primary next year, charged Wednesday that the governor had mistakenly started to remove the guardsmen summoned last Friday to help police.

his entire battalion into the complex and stayed. His first order was to befriend the villagers. His men protected the villagers, fed them, gave them medical aid and showed them Americans were there to help them - not suppress them, as the Cong terrorists had said.

At first, doctors and medical corpsmen went door-to-door, making "sick call." They doctor the sick, they fed the hungry and made friends.

Within two weeks, the villagers started coming to the battalion aid station for treatment. The sick call list rose to 100 a day. At present, the sick bay treats nearly 200 villagers daily.

Two Vietnamese girls have volunteered and have been trained as "nurses." An English-speaking native has volunteered to be interpreter.

Today the villagers in Le My complex trust the Americans.

Any movement of Cong troops in the area is immediately reported to the Americans. Booby traps laid by the villagers who point them out to their American friends.

No Viet Cong is welcome in Le My complex. He will not find help or sympathizers there.

Meanwhile the villagers with round worms, skin infections, malaria, open sores, scarlet fever, pneumonia and eye infections are being restored to good health. The village children are not hungry anymore. And the Viet Cong do not come in at night to terrorize and tax the people.

"We can do this with all the villages if we are given the chance," says Col. Clement. "and it's the only way we are going to win."

"Right now," the colonel said, "we have to sit on these hills around the air base and wait until the Viet Cong decides to make contact with us. And he doesn't want to run into a sizeable Marine force. He knows better."

Charges Pending After Party

Pampa police said today that charges may be filed pending an investigation of a "party" today at the home of Richard Dismuke, 17, 1300 Browning.

Police were called to the residence early this morning following a complaint from a neighbor.

Police said they found intoxicating beverages and took into custody two girls, 14 and 15, and one boy age 17.

They said two other teenage boys had left prior to police arrival.

Reading of Ordinances

6. Shall Sec. 15 of Article VII have included therein the following sentence: "It shall be only necessary that an ordinance not an emergency measure be voted on and passed by the city commission two times to make the same effective except those that are required by specific state law to be voted on more than twice, and the city commission may by unanimous vote of those present waive the full reading of any ordinance proposed to be passed, provided each commissioner and the mayor have been provided with a complete and full copy of said ordinance prior to its being introduced for first passage."

City Purchases

7. Shall Sec. 29 of Article VII have the money limit raised from $100 to $1,000 for city purchases without public advertising for bids." (Under the present system purchases of more than $100 must be advertised for bids.) This amendment also would, in most instances, change the public advertising requirement for purchases over $1,000 to seven days.

with defenders suffering heavy casualties at Ninh Hoa, nine miles from the capital.

At dawn U.S. Army aviators braved withering Viet Cong ground fire in a daring helicopter rescue of eight American survivors who fought their way out of Dak Sut before the town and their camp fell to the attacking Viet Cong.

UPI correspondent Joseph L. Galloway, aboard one of the rescue helicopters, said the eight survivors made their way to the crest of a grassy hill about one mile from the blazing camp, and signalled the searching helicopters with a shaving mirror.

The fate of other Americans possibly stationed at the camp and perhaps 350 South Vietnamese defenders was not known.

An undisclosed number of rescue aircraft were hit but none were reported downed.

The rescued survivors were taken to the headquarters of the Special Forces in Pleiku. The senior American adviser there, Col. Theodore Mataxis, 48, of Seattle, Wash., disclosed the Communist forces had brought in truck-towed quad- ruple mounted 50-caliber anti-aircraft machine guns to discourage any thoughts of retaking Dak Sut by helicopter assault.

The Viet Cong opened their attack on Dak Sut with a mortar barrage. Earlier reports from the area indicated savage foxhole-to-foxhole fighting before radio contact was lost.

Space Boss Awaits First U.S. Gemini Launching

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Big Jim Webb looked as pleased as a small boy about to get a new bicycle.

He smiled, and the look he flashed at me said more plainly than words, "I'm going to have fun."

A moment before, he had remarked wistfully, "You know, I have never seen but one rocket go off." He sounded as though, for the first time, he found this faintly surprising.

Then came the gay anticipatory smile.

"I sort of wanted to see this one."

This was James E. Webb speaking, the muscular, blue-eyed six-footer who heads the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

For 4½ years, since Feb. 14,

1961, he has been bossing a $35 billion 10-year program to make his country first in space.

Eight Astronaut Launchings

In that period NASA has launched hundreds of rockets. They have performed many tasks, from investigating earth's upper atmosphere to photographing Mars. Eight of them hurled human beings — America's "splendid astronauts," as Webb once described them — into the strange and dangerous new world of space.

Six months and a week after he took office, James Webb flew to Florida to see his first rocket shot. The rocket was a veteran Redstone which on July 21, 1961, flipped Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom 115 miles into the sky and 254 miles down range in this country's second manned pace hope.

Since then, like millions of others, Jim Webb has had to content himself with viewing space shots on television. This 58-year-old son of Tally Ho, N.C., has been just "too busy mindin' the store" to join the bird watchers who converge on Cape Kennedy when another rocket is about to go up.

But this week — well, he had to be in the general vicinity anyway, since he and a group of management specialists are touring NASA's billion-dollar centers in the south to see how things march.

Critical Milestone

So, when astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Charles (Pete) Conrad almost took off Thursday on their scheduled eight-day Gemini 5 Space flight, their boss was in the stands rooting for them.

The rocket he will see go off this time will be a Titan 2, nearly seven times as powerful as Grissom's 1961 Redstone, and the flight will be a truly critical milestone in America's drive to land men on the moon in this decade.

"I sort of wanted to see this one," Webb said. Why, particularly, this one?

I spent several hours getting the answer to that question and to several others, some of which I hadn't asked.

Webb said he wanted especially to see the Cooper-Conrad launch because he considers Gemini-5 to be in many respects the most crucial of the U.S. manned space flight program to date.

It certainly is the most ambitious. As he capsuled it, Gemini-5 for a number of reasons is "a major forward thrust" in the drive to the moon.

The key to success in any great new technological venture, he was saying, is testing, testing, testing.

This is what NASA has been doing in the two-man Gemini space flight program as it tools up for the three-man Apollo moon program and its offshoots. The first Gemini flights were to prove the craft — to see if it really works, is safe, is "a good, sweet machine to fly in."

Now comes Gemini-5, "right in the middle" of the complex program aimed at putting men

READY TO GO — The Gemini-5 space capsule (dark tip) which will carry astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad on an eight-day orbital flight sits atop its 90-foot launch vehicle, a modified Titan II missile. The launch weight—340,000 pounds, including the capsule—will be lifted into space by a 430,000-pound thrust.

Business Highlights

By United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Industrial outlook rose sharply in July and even in those industries where seasonal cutbacks were made they were less severe than usual. The Federal Reserve Board says the output index reached 143.6 per cent of the 1957-59 average, up from 142.4 per cent in June.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Raw sugar prices in New York fell to the lowest level in 24 years for supplies from Caribbean ports, dropping 10 cents to $1.75 a hundredweight. September sugar futures also fell to a 24-year low.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. said it will build a multimillion dollar aluminum extrusion and fabricating plant at Kokomo, Ind.

NEW YORK (UPI) — American Can Co. announced it has developed a successful tinless steel can for beer and soft drinks that ultimately may be extended to general food packaging.

WASHINGTON — Work on the project supersonic air transport plane will be continued under contracts totaling about $220 million awarded to Boeing and Lockheed for development of the plane and General Electric and Pratt & Whitney for further work on the engines.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — We read the network press releases:

—From "The Beverly Hillbillies": "If Donna Douglas sometimes wonders whether she's really Donna Douglas or Elly May Clampett, it's no surprise."

No, probably not.
—From CBS - TV: "There's one big disadvantage in playing practical jokes," says Art Linkletter. "People like to see if I can take it as well as dish it out."

And some people don't care at all.
From "Password": "For other people 'Password' is sheer entertainment. For Allen Ludden, moderator of the word association game... it's a way of life."

You're sure you want that printed?
—Release we never finished reading: "Donna Reed is working for ABC news in Texas. Not Donna Reed, the actress, but..."

—From NBC TV: "Producer Ted Yates, during research for his special, 'America The Beautiful', found that Columbus wasn't the only explorer who made a fortunate mistake. The city of Boston was actually founded because of an error. The early 17th century settlers believed that the Charles River was a great inland water route. Soon they found out that it was not, but they stayed anyway. In 1636 John Harvard made it official."

So THAT'S what happened! dig, the show that started it all, rocks on with another first by introducing singer J. P. Mooney to televiewers... in his national TV debut Mooney sings "Don't Cry No More," "Bo Diddley" and the P. J. Proby song, "Can Your Monkey Do The Dog?"

PROMPT ACTION
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department favors "prompt action" to ratify the consular treaty with Russia, but says it is up to the Senate Democratic leadership to decide when to vote on the proposed agreement.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Wednesday "parliamentary prudence" would determine when the leadership should place the treaty before the Senate for debate and action. The pact has been approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

There have been published reports that the administration was willing to let the treaty wait until next year because it feared that it could not now win the two-thirds majority needed for approval.

Marina Has More Trouble as New Husband Jailed

DALLAS (UPI) — Kenneth Jess Porter, jailed on the complaint of his wife, the widow of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, was released on bond today. He charged she just wanted some publicity.

His wife, the former Marina Oswald, said he slapped her and tried to kill himself.

Porter was released from Dallas County Jail about midnight in $1,500 peace bond. Mrs. Porter complained her husband was a possible threat to the lives of her and her children.

The couple was married only 2½ months ago.

"We got into an argument," she said, "He slapped me in the face and tried to get me to put the children outside so that he could be alone with the gun he carried."

Marina told Justice of the Peace W. E. (Bill) Richburg Wednesday that Porter, an electronics technician, had been drinking and had a gun. She

EXTEND PROTECTION

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate passed and sent to the House Wednesday a bill to extend Secret Service protection to Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children for two more years.

Under a bill passed shortly after President Kennedy's assassination, Mrs. Kennedy and the children received protection until this Dec. 11. But legislation passed Wednesday would extend this protection to Dec. 11, 1967.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman also would get continued protection unless they declined

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has called on John W. Gardner, his new secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), to chart the course for new Great Society attacks on disease, ignorance, poverty and bigotry.

Gardner was sworn in Wednesday in the White House rose-garden by Secretary of State Dean Rusk after hearing Johnson proclaim his entry into the cabinet as "a new beginning" for the HEW department.

Former Presidents now receive Secret Service protection for six months after leaving office.

Lord Snowdon Refused Pictures On Palace Roof

LONDON (UPI) — Authorities in London's Westminster district refused Wednesday to let the Earl of Snowdon, Queen Elizabeth's brother-in-law, take pictures of Buckingham Palace from the roof of Borough Hall.

"We protect the royal family by not allowing anyone on the roof," said Margaret Quaise, the borough - hall receptionist who turned down Snowdon's request.

"As Lord Snowdon said he was representing the Sunday Times, this was the only answer I could give."

VOA ESTIMATE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Voice of America (VOA) estimates that perhaps a half billion persons around the world may listen to its broadcasts of today's Gemini 5 space flight.

The U. S. Information Agency (USIA) said Wednesday that 300 million persons listened to VOA broadcasts during astronaut John Glenn's orbital mission on Feb. 20, 1962. The USIA says since then transmission facilities have been improved. It had no world total on listeners to the Gemini 4 flight last June.

Breakfast Is a Brunch When Special Foods Comprise Menu

When is breakfast not a breakfast? When it's brunch, of course. And what a perfect time to serve extra special foods, like high-rising souffles, hot spiced fruits, and lots of lean, milk bacon.

Bacon is a favorite among all ages, and especially so if it's bacon with the sweet smoke taste. To be assured that every slice is tender, lean, and lusciously brown sugar cured, select the package bearing the two most trusted words in meat.

A handy trick for easy separation of the bacon slices is a rubber spatula. When the bacon is cold, the spatula slides quickly and easily between the slices, the bacon are a high-rising cheese or egg souffle and a large compote of hot spiced fruits. A souffle always draws attention due to its high and light appearance. Preparations appear difficult, but actually it's quite easy. For the high out-of-waxed paper or aluminum foil around the dish. Sprinkle bread crumbs over the greased surface of the dish and collar to aid the souffle in climbing straight up. A souffle normally takes an hour or more to bake, so prepare it first.

While the souffle is in the oven, prepare the sauce for the fruit compote. Apricot nectar, lime juice, and ground ginger combine to create a tangy fruit sauce for brunch. Just before the souffle emerges from the oven, add the fresh fruit to the sauce and heat through. For year around use, drained, canned, or frozen fruits may be substituted for the fresh.

HOT FRUIT COMPOTE
Yield: 6 servings
3 fresh peaches, sliced
3 fresh nectarines, sliced
2 bananas, sliced diagonally
Green grapes
Juice of 1 lime
1/4 to 1-3 cup dark brown sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
12 ounce can apricot nectar
Combine fresh fruit and cover with lime juice. Combine brown sugar, cornstarch, and ginger in saucepan. Stir in apricot nectar and cook until thickened. Add fresh fruit and heat through. Serve for brunch with strips of bacon and an egg or cheese souffle.

Dinner Treat For Month of August

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
With eggs plentiful and hot weather appetites needing a bit of coaxing why don't you try Eggs Benedict as a main course dish for an August dinner?

This is an easy dish to prepare. Split and toast English muffins. Butter lightly and spread with thin slice of boiled Canadian bacon or ham. Place a poached egg on top. Spoon Hollandaise sauce over, then run under broiler briefly. Sometimes we sprinkle a little grated Parmesan cheese over the top just before putting under the broiler.

EGGS BENEDICT
(serves 4)
8 poached eggs
4 English muffins, split, toasted and buttered
8 slices Canadian bacon, broiled
1 Recipe Hollandaise Sauce
To poach eggs, bring water in shallow pan or skillet to the boiling point—water should be about two inches deep. Reduce heat to hold temperature at simmering. Break each egg into a sauce dish and slip egg into water, holding dish to the water's surface. Cook 3 to 5 minutes, depending on the firmness of egg desired. Remove eggs with a slotted pancake turner or spoon and drain on paper towel, if desired.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE
2 egg yolks
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Dash of cayenne
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Beat yolks until very thick; add salt, paprika and cayenne. Slowly pour in half the butter or margarine, beating constantly. When very thick, beat in the lemon juice and remaining butter or margarine. Just before serving, cook over simmering water for 3 to 4 minutes, stirring constantly.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the week-end was prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Week-end shoppers generally will find abundant supplies of seasonal fruits and vegetables along with good amounts of poultry and certain meats at their food shopping centers.

A large assortment of ground, roast, and stewing beef is available to most markets. Ham, chops, smoked picnics, and spareribs are plentiful in the pork section. Look for good buys in lamb roasts. Broilers and fryers continue with turkeys to be popular.

In the vegetable bins, green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, cucumbers, eggplant, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, squash, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes are in good supply.

Shoppers will be able to choose from a large and varied horn of plenty in the fruit sections, bananas, cantaloupes, grapes, lemons, peaches, pears, plums, and watermelons are good buys in fruits.

Nationally, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna are plentiful.

Not All Problem Children Need Help of Psychologist

By DAVID NYDICK

When does a child need psychological help? This seems to be an area which parents find difficult to understand. A psychologist or psychiatrist is most qualified to help determine the need for psychological help.

In order to avoid confusion you should know that a psychiatrist is a medical doctor who is trained and specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of mental disorders. In many cases the psychologist will work closely with a medical doctor or psychiatrist. Your choice should be based upon your child's special needs and the availability of such specialists in your community. Your family physician or the school psychologist is the best person to recommend a qualified individual.

The parent is the key person who must usually take the first step in the identification of their child's psychological problem. It is similar to the method for deciding the need for a physician. If someone has aches and pains or feels ill, they go to a doctor and allow him to decide what is wrong. If a parent feels there is a problem with his child's adjustment, learning progress, social relations, or emotional health, he should allow a specialist to decide what is wrong.

There are many kinds of problems as well as many types of treatment. A thorough examination which combines tests, observations, and a study of the child's background is usually required before a diagnosis can be made. After the diagnosis, a program of treatment and advice for the child, the parents and the school can be planned.

Some children will need treatment several times per week for an extended period of time. Others may need only a few sessions in order to plan programs and provide guidance for them and their parents.

A checkup will probably be required at a later date to review progress and make some further plans. Each case is different and must be treated differently. The program of correction is built upon all the circumstances of the particular case.

Parents should understand that the need for psychological help must be properly treated in the same way they treat cases of poor vision or other physical defects and diseases. It is far better to identify and treat problems at an early age than to wait until they become more serious and difficult to cure.

Today's laugh: Bob: "That's a strange looking dog you've got hat kind is he?" Bill: "He's ag there. What kind is he?" Bill: "He's a genuine police dog." Bob: "He sure doesn't look like one to me." Bill: "Of course not. He's in the Secret Service."

Guests of Mrs. Verda Adair last week were a granddaughter and family, Mrs. and Mrs. Darrell Burgess of Oklahoma City, Okla., and another granddaughter and family from Fort Worth.

Visitors in the home of Jay Evans last week were a grandson, James Evans, and family, who were enroute from the east coast to the west coast. Evans is serving with the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Julia Souza and son, John Sing, former Pampanos now residing in Visalia, Calif., were visitors at Senior Citizens' Center last week, the guests of Mrs. Jes Hatcher. While here they are also visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Camp and family at Borger; a niece Mrs. Ray Hollis at Skelkytown. They plan to visit friends and relatives in Amarillo, Oklahoma City and Skiatook, Okla., Harrison, Ark., and Mansfield and Springfield, Mo., before returning to California.

Mr. Mitchell of Ardmore, Okla., is visiting in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Bradley, and was a visitor at the Center Thursday. He recently attended the birthday celebration of Ardmore and has not missed that city's birthday celebration since he was 12 years old, when he first attended the event.

This columnist had the pleasure of attending the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Frasier Sunday afternoon which was given in the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. C. Epperson at 1900 N. Nelson. The couple's 17 grandchildren were all present for the event and all of their children and in-laws were present with the exception of one son-in-law. The open house was hosted by the Frasier's children. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Norris marked their 65th wedding anniversary recently, quietly at home.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Hobbs have returned from Ardmore, Okla., where they helped celebrate Mrs. Hobbs' father, G.M. Sullivan's, 93rd birthday. Mr. Sullivan is a frequent visitor at the Center.

Mrs. E. B. Smith is a patient in Worley Hospital and was missed at last week's Senior Citizens' Center. Pampa Jaycee-Ettes served as hostesses this week. Serving refreshments of cake and coffee were Mmes. A. J. Carubbi Jr., John Warner, Jerry Cansler and Win Cates.

Door prizes were received by Mrs. Verda Adair and Mr. Wilson. Altruists present were Mmes. Marie Fitzgerald, chairman, Jay Flanagan, Lena Pearl Hobbs and Louise Sewell.

Gray Ladies providing transportation were Mmes. Augusta Yealy, Naomi Gill and A. D. Hills.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and white were carried out in decorations and refreshments service.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: When my husband, our 12-year-old son and I were traveling abroad this summer, we saw a crudely scribbled message on a wall which said, "Yankee, Go Home!" Our son loves his country, Abby, and he took it very hard. How do you explain this to a 12-year-old?

A CONNECTICUT YANKEE
DEAR YANKEE: Tell you a boy that the person cannot speak for an entire nation. I recently saw a "crudely scribbled message" on a building in Saigon. It said, "Yankee, Go Home — And Take Me With You."

DEAR ABBY: Help! I have been divorced for 12 years and have a 15-year-old daughter. I work with a very nosy woman who has tried for ages to pump me for the juicy details of my divorce. So far I haven't told her a thing. Well, last week, this busybody made it her business to go to the town where she thought my ex-husband lived, and she looked him up in the phone book. I don't know if she found him or not, but don't you think she had a lot of rotten nerve?

My ex and I didn't part on very friendly terms, and he hates me as much as I hate him, so I'm sure he wouldn't have anything good to say about me.

How can I stop this woman from trying to dig up my past? I'd get a different job, but I am uneducated and unskilled and it's not easy. Thank you.

FED UP
DEAR FED UP: You can't stop her from trying to dig up your past. You can, however, avoid having whatever she may "dig up" thrown in your face by having nothing to do with her. A person with her nerve is not easy to shake, so keep looking for another job.

DEAR ABBY: "Bugged" could have been my husband. He complained that his wife called him all the time asking him to stop on the way home and pick up a loaf of bread, or to swing around at the cleaners and bring home the cleaning, or stop at the shoe repair shop and pick up her shoes.

I used to do that when we were first married and was my guy ever bugged! It did cure him of a few bad habits, however, they were (1) Not leaving enough gas in my car (after he had driven it) for me to get to a filling station.

(2) Not leaving me enough cash to buy all the items I needed at the grocery or drug store.

(3) Not telling me we were going out that evening in time for me to pick up the cleaning and to get my shoes from the repair shop.

Very truly yours,

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Real Power of America's Women

There can be little doubt that women command an impressive power in American life. Women own 53.6 per cent of all common stock shares, hold one-third of the paid jobs, own nearly 50 per cent of the real estate, are beneficiaries of more than half the life insurance policies as well as owning billions of dollars worth of policies of their own, and account for 80 to 90 per cent of the nation's consumer spending. On top of it all, they are responsible for 50 per cent of the vote. To one representative of the sex, however, it is a grievous error to measure women in terms of economics. In the opinion of Mary G. Roebling, chairman of the board of the Trenton (N. J.) Trust Company, this curious emphasis upon economics in explaining the power and influence of women is one of the basic reasons for much of the world's problems today. Says Mrs. Roebling, the first woman ever to serve as chairman of the board and president of a major commercial bank: "By transferring the emphasis of the role of woman from her natural one to an economic one, not only is the woman displaced but a vacuum is left in all those critical areas of moral persuasion for justice and good and, of critical importance, the molding of the next generation. It is not by accident, she says, that women in Russia are expected to work and place their children in day nurseries from infancy. By separating child from mother, the sole influence upon it is its Communist teachers. Moreover, says Mrs. Roebling, American women do not seek and have never sought to use the influence their economic power gives them. Women do not regard themselves as a separate species. They do not vote as women. There is no "his" and "hers" ballot box. The true power of the American woman is not her economic strength, not the billions of dollars nor the stocks and bonds and properties she owns. It is a spiritual force — far greater than an economic force, and it is a force for good which is shaping mankind in each generation into better individuals."

Inching Toward the Metric System

Give some people an inch and they'll take 2.54 centimeters, or even 25.4 millimeters. A lot of people would like to anyway, if only the United States would get in step with the 90 per cent of the world that uses the metric system of weights and measures. Among those who think it is time we discarded our inherited and awkward English measurements (which can hardly be dignified as a system), which were originally based on the length of some king's forearm or the distance somebody's ox could plow without getting winded, is Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif. For years he has introduced bills in Congress to authorize a study by the National Bureau of Standards of just what would be involved in converting to the metric system, which he calls "the unique and universal language of science and technology." As chairman of the House Science and Astronautics Committee, Miller the other day began hearings on the matter. What gave the metric forces new hope was the announcement by the British government earlier this year that Britain will gradually convert to the metric system over the next decade. This will leave the United States as the only major country still using nonmetric units. The economic facts of modern life are what caused the tradition-bound British to decide on the move. If they would join the European Common Market and expand their exports, their weights and measures must mesh with those of the metric countries. The same facts of life apply to the United States. But with or without government action we are slowly easing toward the metric system. Indeed, the process began when our currency system was established in the 18th century. Six National Aeronautics and Space Administration centers have converted to the metric system entirely. The pharmaceutical industry has adopted it and it is used extensively in other industries. Estimates of a complete change-over range from hundreds of millions to several billions of dollars, depending upon how fast the change-over is attempted—and, it might be added, how much longer it is delayed.

Servicemen Beware

Things never get so bad that somebody doesn't spot a way to make a profit out of it. A handful of mail-order insurance companies are flooding recently inducted servicemen with applications for policies, reports William R. Morris, superintendent of insurance for the state of Ohio. Their premiums are high and there is great doubt that these companies have sufficient reserves to cover a rash of claims. The business has increased in pace with the growing war in Viet Nam, and has been spurred by the announcement by some life insurance firms that they are writing "war clauses" into their policies, exempting them from paying a claim if the policy holder is killed in military action. One Navy recruit says he received 10 application forms in three weeks from the same company. Another company even phones up its policies to resemble GI forms. Servicemen and their families are being cautioned to take a long, hard look at such mail-order forms and to check on the people sending them out before signing on the dotted line.

FAINT PROSPECTS—Aware their chances are becoming dimmer by the day with adjournment nearing, Freedom Democratic Party leaders are launching this week what is privately described as a "Massive all-out pressure drive."

Its immediate purpose is to go over the heads of the subcommittee and bring the unseating issue direct to the floor of the House. This would be done by a petition to discharge the subcommittee from further consideration of the matter. This exceptional parliamentary procedure requires 218 signatures — a majority of the full House. MFDP strategists think they have fair hopes of doing this on the basis that their unseating motion at the start of the session in January got 149 votes.

Swimming was rated highly in the days of Greece and Rome and was practiced widely and stressed especially in the training of warriors. But it fell into almost complete disuse throughout Europe in the Middle Ages when the belief became general that outdoor bathing helped to spread the epidemics that so often swept the European continent.

Messenger From Olympus

Backstage Washington Gov't Printing Bill for MFDP's Fight to Unseat 5 Miss. Congressmen—$60,000; Strategy Outlined

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party's bitter-end-fight to unseat the state's five congressmen is costing the government more than $60,000 for printing 80 copies of a four-volume report. That's the undisclosed bill for publishing a huge mass of material submitted by MFDP to prove its contention that the five congressmen (four Democrats, one Republican) are holding office illegally because Mississippi Negroes in 1964 were generally denied the right to vote. Three of the volumes are 1,090 pages, one 30 pages. The large volume consists of hundreds of affidavits, depositions, statements, etc., collected by a large staff of MFDP lawyers. Of the 80 copies 60 are for the House Elections subcommittee considering this controversy; two for each of the challenged congressmen and MFDP contestants. Neither House Clerk Ralph Roberts, who finally ordered the printing after months of deliberation, nor subcommittee authorities would divulge the cost. All refused to discuss this exceptional expenditure of public funds. But from other official sources it was ascertained that publishing such congressional reports cost taxpayers $19.92 a page. Thus the 80 sets cost $60,357.60. All officials involved were equally unresponsive to requests to examine the costly report. This was denied on the ground that the subcommittee's consideration of the MFDP challenge had not yet been formally "opened." No date has been set for that. Several of the five committee members did indicate it would not be before the end of this month. Determination of that is entirely up to the subcommittee. Chairman is Robert Ashmore, D-S.C., who is vigorously against the MFDP's ouster demand. So are the other four members. If and when the subcommittee does finally act, it is virtually certain to vote unanimously against unseating the five Mississippians. FAIN PROSPECTS—Aware their chances are becoming dimmer by the day with adjournment nearing, Freedom Democratic Party leaders are launching this week what is privately described as a "Massive all-out pressure drive." Its immediate purpose is to go over the heads of the subcommittee and bring the unseating issue direct to the floor of the House. This would be done by a petition to discharge the subcommittee from further consideration of the matter. This exceptional parliamentary procedure requires 218 signatures — a majority of the full House. The American Way By HARRY BROWNE "Why talk about fire prevention when your house is burning down?" This is the standard argument advanced to discourage concerned individuals from studying the nature and desirability of absolute freedom. After all, why be "idealistic" when the Communists are about to overrun the nation? What we need now is action, not abstract education. So goes the argument. Superficially, it carries a great deal of weight. It does seem a waste of time to study ideas of freedom that are millions of miles from the realm of possibility — at the same time that the communists and socialists are upon us. And yet, the single most important reason why communism has not been repelled is that those who profess to be its enemies do not understand the nature of freedom. The ultimate example is the support for the war in Vietnam ("to stem the Communist tide") — when the rulers in South Vietnam decree death for economic crimes, profiteering, and rumor-spreading — just as the Communists do. This is fighting for freedom? A folder recently released by a prominent anti-communist organization lists 34 "what we are for's." Twelve of these (over one-third) involve increasing the size of government! For example: "dealing efficiently with any American guilty of treasonable act in peace or in war. He is a traitor." Doesn't the writer of that pamphlet know he could be promoting his own death warrant — for who defines treason? Obviously, the very government whose policies he's criticizing. He also asks for investigations into everybody (won't he be next?) and for outlawing the Communist Party. An additional 7 "what we are for's" fight undesirable programs by justifying other governmental programs that are either dangerous or certainly wasteful. For example: "We are for State Aid to Education, which should eliminate any need for federal aid to education." And as an alternative to the UN, he suggests "forming a council of Free Nations." At its inception, the UN was considered a "council of Free Nations." Doesn't the writer understand the very nature of collectivist organizations — or can there be good ones and bad ones? Seven more statements are too vague to mean anything; three support the status quo; and the organization whose motto is "Freedom Is Everybody's Business" lists only 7 out of 34 aims that would decrease the nationwide program of letters, wires, phone calls, public demonstrations, delegations, press stories, radio and TV broadcasts, and every other possible means to bring the challenge to public attention. It's now or never, and no effort must be spared to force our challenge to a showdown. Of the 149 congressmen who voted against the five Mississippians in January, 24 were Republicans. They consisted largely of Representative John Lindsay, N.Y., candidate for Mayor, and other members of the so-called "Wednesday Club" — GOP liberals of which he is the mainspring. "Our job is to launch a na-

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Differences Between a Tax Collector and a Holdup Man

By SAM CAMPBELL Business Editor

Throughout history, the tax collector has been somewhat less than popular. In a pictorial version of Robin Hood, Walt Disney characterizes the noted outlaw not as a "robber of the rich and a giver to the poor," but as a patriot who was defending the peasantry against the unjust taxes of the usurper monarch King John. The noted Bible scholar Dr. C. H. Wright comments in his "Biblical Encyclopedia" that publicans (that is, tax collectors) were the most odious members of the Jewish community, and were regarded as traitors to their race. What Jesus Said Jesus Christ himself paid the temple tax after protest, and he instructed the disciples (Matthew 18:17) that a trespassing Christian who fails to heed correction by the church should therefore be regarded "as a pagan and a TAX COLLECTOR."

ed out of $100 is that one event is rare, the other annual

VIETNAM CHALLENGE

In a real crisis, Americans close ranks. Our policy in Vietnam has been attacked from many different standpoints, both in the past and present. Some would always have had us withdraw and lead that unhappy land at the mercy of Red conquerors. The informed have deplored our ruthless destruction of the stable and capable government of President Diem, thereby undermining the confidence of patriotic Vietnamese in their government and themselves. How many wonder how far our present policies will carry us. Some fear a prompt "escalation" into a general Asiatic war or even a nuclear war. Others fear that we will not do enough to the enemy behind the fighting front to aid our troops who are dying under his attacks in South Vietnam. A moment of crisis is a time to take counsel of and evaluate our fears. We cannot be sure in advance of the results of all our actions, or guarantee anyone against adverse results. We can be sure that retreat and surrender will only bring more, and greater disasters in their wake. We cannot afford to be driven out of Vietnam. We must stand there and fight. Foreign policy may be a game for diplomats, but this is a challenge to our courage and our will. No amount of clever diplomacy will ever help a nation and a people which has lost its face and courage. We must hold what we have in Vietnam and damage the enemy ten times as much as he damages us, until he is convinced that America will never break under pressure.

The question is, how is a tax collector different from a robber? Let us be open minded. If there is a significant difference between the two occupations, then my column was unfair when it compared one with the other. On the other hand if the difference is not significant, Columnist Nolan — and a great many others — are bound either to admit the similarity or else confess their reluctance to follow the rational process.

I perceive these differences between the occupations of the tax collector and the holdup man. First, one knows he is doing wrong, the other believes he is doing right. Second, one is operating by brute force, the other is operating by procedure or legal force. Third, one carries his gun in his hand; the other relies ultimately on a gun that is carried by official colleagues. Fourth, the financial gain to the robber is direct whereas the financial gain to the tax collector is indirect.

The similarities of the two occupations are these: both take property without the consent of the owner; the final effect in either case is to deprive the earner of his reward and thereby to discourage the producer from producing.

Now let us summarize the differences and similarities and see what we come up with. First, the two occupations are the same in end result; second, both employ a weapon; third, both extract a financial gain from the victim. Those are the respects in which the two are identical. The grand difference is the states of mind of the two operatives and the fact that taxation, being procedural in some degree, is somewhat less disruptive of social order.

From the viewpoint of the victim, the difference between being taxed out of $100 and hijacked out of $100 is that one event is rare, the other annual.

size of government.

In California, in 1962, alarmed anti-communists attacked communist and socialist infiltration in the government school system by supporting avidly a "conservative" candidate for State Supt. of Schools. Surprisingly, they won! What happened? Upon election, the new official spoke out for a bigger school budget! No one had bothered to ask him how he felt about freedom — and to define what it meant to him.

Unfortunately, few people learned from this lesson. But one very important person did. The state chairman of one of the organizations working for the candidate realized her mistake. So she took time out from fighting burning houses and took up the freedom education she had long neglected. Today, Mrs. Patricia Gilbert owns her own private school and is doing something about promoting freedom.

Now she understands the essential nature of freedom; she understands what is freedom and what isn't, she's no longer lured into supporting anti-freedom proposals. She is truly effective; for she no longer believes the government will save us from communism.

Is understanding freedom important in time of crisis? It's the only thing that can save us in time of crisis!

TANGLEFOOT, ANYBODY?

Yesterday I had occasion to want to buy some "Tanglefoot." First I went to a drugstore, and if you don't find it there it may not exist. I asked the lady, do you have any tanglefoot? She looked at my feet, (a task not difficult for anyone with any vision.) She said: I think so, and began to rummage among some cans on a shelf. Is it a foot powder? She said: No it's flypaper, I told her. Well, she allowed that she already had some very nice kites, would I want one. No, I explained, we CATCH flies with it. Oh, she said very relieved, our baseball department, catcher's mitt's and gloves. No, I says, you catch flying flies, the little insects. She shook her head hopelessly.

Now, I know where I can buy an International automobile made in the year of 1913. I think, an antique table over here thru the courtesy of the Mayflower, and so on. But tanglefoot—No.

I called a feed store—a youthful voice answered and I sensed defeat. I asked if he stocked Tanglefoot. No, he says, is it a kind of a dance record? No, I said weakly feeling very old, it catches flies.

Next, to a small grocery store — No says the lady I wish I had some, there are some flies in this store and you can't hunt em down with a swatter, and we can't properly spray the whole store. Her answer was like pouring cold water down the throat of a man dying of thirst.

Her answer brought me back to the place where I felt not so ancient. And that day when you used a peach tree limb to shoo the flies from the dinner while guests ate, seemed a little less remote.

By the way, does ANYONE know where I can buy some Tanglefoot.

Two golf tournaments are scheduled for Pampa, the first beginning this Sunday at the nine-hole Celanese course.

The Third Annual Pamcel tournament will be played Sunday at Celanese with defending champion Max Hickey slated to defend his title.

Sept. 4-5-6 the Top O' Texas tournament will get underway at Pampa Country Club with some of the best golfers in the country slated to battle it out.

Match, Medal Play

The Pamcel tournament will get underway at 7 a.m. Sunday with Saturday being designated practice day for all entrants.

Golfers in the championship flight will play 27 holes of medal play while all other flights, A through D will play nine holes of match and nine holes of medal.

The championship flight winner will receive a trophy while other flight winners will be awarded an automatic shag-bag and four dozen golf balls.

Second place winners will get a Spaulding golf bag. Along with Hickey, the 1963 champion, Jerry Keel of Borger, will also be back. Other golfers entered are, Jim Haren and John Grooters, both of Borger; Grover Haskell and Buster Carter of Pampa; Skip Martz of Amarillo and T. D. Andress of Abilene.

The entry fee for the invitational tourney is $6.

Watch Eichleberger

The entry list of the Top O' Texas extravaganza reads like a who's who in college golf.

Just to name a few, Randy Petri, Texas Amateur champ from Houston; John Paul Cain, the ex-amateur champ from Houston; Randy Geiselman, who is the No. 1 man at Texas U. and the SWC champion; the 1964 Trans-Miss. champion, Hank Hopkins; Marty Fleckman, the NCAA Champion; Jeff Voss, who beat Fleckman in the Trans-Miss.; Kansas amateur champ, Jim Colbert, Nebraska amateur champ, Matt Tabor; several Colorado U. golfers and Oklahoma State golfers, including Dave Eichleberger, who is a member of the Americas Cup team.

Also in the field is Rick Massengale, Texas-Oklahoma Jr. champ from Jacksboro; Jim Chew who has four wins in Kansas tourneys this year; Rives McBee who has five Texas tourney wins this year; defending champion, Bobby Greenwood from Cookville, Tenn. and old pro John Farquhar, an ex-ToT champ from Amarillo.

It would appear from this list of names that it could be anybody's tournament, with Eichleberger, who's been playing great golf this summer, Fleckman, who must always be considered a contender, Greenwood and Massengale, having the inside track.

No Prediction

Keep in mind this is no prediction, for in a golf tournament anything can happen.

A practice round has been scheduled for the golfers, Sept. 3.

There will be 18 holes of medal play each day in each of the 10 flights, 1 through 10.

Losers in the first round of the championship flight will be put into the President's flight the second day of the tournament.

Players will be put into flights by attested handicaps from their home pros.

While we're at it, all area coaches who haven't sent in their schedules and rosters need to do this as soon as possible.

The Daily News will start an area football roundup as soon as the needed information is made available.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Koufax Fails, Dillard Doesn't, Braves Lead NL

37 games, survived one of the rarest calls in baseball before winning their game. It came in the eighth inning when Aaron walloped a ball to the pavilion roof for an apparent home run which would have snapped a 3-3 tie. The great Milwaukee hitter was called out by umpire Chris Pelekoudas, however, because he was out of the batter's box when he hit the ball.

Undaunted by the turn of events, the Braves won the game in the ninth when defensive outfielder Don Dillard, who had made only one hit in eight previous trips to the plate this season, belted a two-run homer.

That was all Tony Cloninger needed as he shut out the Cardinals in the ninth to score his 18th victory against eight losses. The sturdy right-hander struck out nine and walked two while pitching a six-hitter.

Mack Jones also homered for the Braves.

Koufax appeared to have his 22nd victory of the season firmly in hand when Willie Davis' two-run seventh-inning homer gave the Dodgers a 3-1 lead. But Sandy walked the first two batters he faced in the eighth and the Phillies converted the walks into the tying runs when Richie Allen and Stuart singled off reliever Ron Perrano.

The Phillies broke through for the winning runs in the 12th when Bobby Wine walked and went to third on Cookie Rojas' one-out single. Wine was caught in a rundown play on Johnny Callison's grounder for the second out but then Wills fumbled Allen's potential third-out grounder filling the bases. Stuart's three-run double followed off Howie Reed.

Robinson bounced into a triple play on his first plate appearance Wednesday night, yet before the night was over he had gained three points on AL batting leader Carl Yastrzemski and stood only one point from the top.

The last Baltimore player to win the league batting crown was Keeler, the diminutive stylist who batted .379 in 1908. The Orioles' franchise was transferred to New York in 1903 and Baltimore did not return to the league until 1954 when the Browns were shifted from St. Louis.

"I don't think of myself as a batting champion," Robinson has said, "but it sure would be nice to win it."

What Robby means of course is that it would be nice to win the pennant, but in lieu of that the batting title would be a nice addition to his growing list of personal achievements.

The All-Star third baseman recovered from the triple killing in the first inning to slap two singles in four at bats, score one run, drive in the winning tally and raise his average to .327 as Baltimore upended Boston 3-2. Yastrzemski dropped to .328 with one hit in four trips.

The streaking Chicago White Sox scored their sixth consecutive victory, an 8-2 rout of the Washington Senators, the Angels whipped the Yankees in a

Golfers Tee Off in Carling World Tourney

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI) — The glitter of professional golf's biggest jackpot shone through a misty dawn today for early starters in the $200,000 Carling world championship.

The first of 106 American campaigners and 48 foreign stars began teeing off at 7 a.m. at remote Pleasant Valley Country Club, each dreaming of the $35,000 first prize that will go to the low man after 72 holes of medal competition.

A flurry of last minute scratches and a few delayed arrivals did nothing to lessen the tension as 151 professionals and three amateurs began shooting at the huge greens for which this 6,713 yard par 71 course is noted.

Power hitter Jack Nicklaus was among the last to arrive and had time for only a few practice holes for this tournament which will be staged in England next year and in Canada in 1967.

But galleries of several hundred, part of a final practice day attendance of more than 10,000, were content with a glimpse of Nicklaus and to follow for a few holes the Arnold Palmer-Ben Hogan twosome.

The weather bureau said Wednesday's threatening skies and scattered thundershowers during the night would be a thing of the past by mid-morning at the latest and predicted sunny, if humid, weather for at least the first two days of the tournament.

Only a handful of the top domestic and foreign pros were expected to miss golf's richest event.

Dave Marr, winner of the $25,000 PGA tournament, a father of a baby boy a few hours later last Sunday, was rated with Nicklaus, defending Carlings champion Bobby Nichols, Gary Player of South Africa and Billy Casper among the top favorites.

Senate Committee Turns To Newsmen in Track Fued

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate committee turned to newsmen today for an unemotional appraisal of the dispute between the nation's two leading amateur athletic organizations.

The committee is seeking to find a solution to the long-standing and bitter feud between the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

In three days of testimony to date, the committee has heard highly partisan sports figures give sharply conflicting views on which organization is responsible for the conflict.

The witnesses to date have all been personally involved in the issue," a committee staff member said. "We expect the newsmen to be more detached while still being well-informed on the controversy."

Witnesses to be called today are sports writers Paul Zimmerman of the Los Angeles Times, Harry Missildine of the Spokesman-Review in Spokane, and Harvester Football Workout Times Listed.

Harvester football coach Ed Ramsey announced today that workouts for all Harvester and Shocker football players will begin officially at 8:20 a.m. Monday. Afternoon practices will be from 4:30 till 6 p.m.

Ramsey said that only 50 youngsters had checked out shoes, a very disappointing showing. The coach said some boys were on vacation and that any youngster who needs shoes should call the coaches office, MO 4-4722.

Watch it Kids, No Cannons Allowed at Harvester Games

District 3-AAAA representatives voted unanimously Wednesday to adopt the Texas Inter-scholastic League recommendation that cannons, mortars or noise-making fireworks be banned from conference football stadiums.

De Walker, athletic director of Amarillo public schools, said excessive noise and the danger involving cannons were the main reasons for approving the measure.

As an example, Walker cited the Tascosa - Garland state AAAA semifinal game last season at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. Some Garland students were injured while standing in front of the cannon when it was fired at the game's end.

It was also announced at the meeting that Coronado, a first-year Lubbock high school, will compete in the district baseball program. Coronado is competing only on the "B team" level during its first season in football and basketball.

Other action included the scheduling of 1966 spring sports which included:
(1) The district track meet on April 16 at Lubbock.
(2) The district tennis meet on April 15-16 in Lubbock.
(3) The dates of five 18-hole golf matches to be held at each district city — March 12 at Lubbock; March 19 at Plainview; March 26 at Borger; April 8 at Pampa and April 16 at Amarillo.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Robinson Bounces Back for Orioles

Nobody can accuse Brooks Robinson of "hitting 'em where they ain't," but the American League's most valuable player of 1964 is bidding to join old-time Oriole Wee Willie Keeler in a very select circle.

Robinson bounced into a triple play on his first plate appearance Wednesday night, yet before the night was over he had gained three points on AL batting leader Carl Yastrzemski and stood only one point from the top.

The last Baltimore player to win the league batting crown was Keeler, the diminutive stylist who batted .379 in 1908. The Orioles' franchise was transferred to New York in 1903 and Baltimore did not return to the league until 1954 when the Browns were shifted from St. Louis.

U.S. Tennis Team Reeling From 3 Defeats

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) — The once-proud United States Davis Cup team, reeling from three straight knockout blows to its tennis prestige, today faced the uninspiring task of trying to avert a shutout in its inter-zone semifinal series against Spain.

By virtue of its two victories in the opening singles matches on Tuesday and a hard-earned triumph in the doubles match Wednesday, the Spaniards clinched today's final two singles matches meaninglessly — except in terms of pride.

"I am going to try to win the singles against (Juan) Gisbert," said Frank Froehling of Miami, Fla., who was scheduled to meet the No. 2 Spanish player in the opening match. "But the team has lost interest because we have lost our chance to win. However, I will still give it everything I've got."

Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., America's top-ranked player, opposed Spanish ace Manuel Santana in the concluding match of the series.

Russia, A Ravaged Nation That Worries About Its Neighbors

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia, ravaged by invaders from Genghis Khan to Hitler, is a nation that worries about its neighbors.

This is the reason behind the new Soviet leadership's series of invitations to leaders of neighboring countries. The trip here by Turkish Premier Suat Hayri Urguplu ends the visits, and leaves the Soviet Union on speaking terms with all its neighbors—except the biggest, toughest one: Communist China.

East European Communist chiefs, the shah of Iran, the king of Afghanistan, Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan — all have visited here since ex-Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev fell last October. If this exercise in hospitality has changed no alliances, it at least has given the Soviet leaders reason to sleep well at night.

Completes Circle
Urguplu's visit brings Soviet-Turkish relations full circle since the days when Lenin and Kemal Ataturk ruled the two nations.

After World War I, the Western Allies set up a "cordon sanitaire" of Balkan states to contain the newly-victorious Bolsheviks. More hostility loomed in the Far East, where Japan had humiliated Russia in 1905 in the Russo-Japanese war.

Lenin, casting about for friends, decided to write off centuries of Soviet-Turkish animosity and approach Ataturk, also in the Western doghouse. The result was a 20-year friendship and non-aggression pact.

The Russians were the first to give young Turkey economic and technical aid.

But after the deaths of Lenin and Ataturk, relations sagged. The pact lapsed in 1945. Stalin's price for renewal was that Turkey give him two Turkish provinces, and allow the Soviet Union to install defenses on the Bosphorus. Turkey rejected both.

Would Revive Pact
Hostility increased when Turkey joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). But after Stalin's death, the Kremlin said it would like to normalize relations with Turkey. Little was done until this year, when the Soviet and Turkish foreign ministers exchanged visits.

A few days after Urguplu's visit was announced, Alexei Kosygin received Turkish editor Metin Tokar and, in his first interview as premier, said Moscow wants to revive the friendship pact. There also was talk of Soviet economic and technical aid to Turkey.

The Turks are expected to be wary of any immediate pact, particularly one that could compromise their standing in NATO. Because of this, Western diplomats here are not worried about Urguplu's visit.

They consider his trip one of good will. If it improves the international climate, they said, all the better.

Keq Containers Have Brewers Union Over Barrel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Those shiny silver, keg-like containers of beer you've been taking home and putting into the refrigerator have put the brewers union over a barrel.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) decided today the "tapper" containers used by the Falstaff Brewing Corp. of St. Louis, are actually more like a bottle than a barrel.

And as a result they will be filled by Bottlers Local 187 of the Brewery Workers Union instead of the Brewers and Maltsters Local 6 of the Teamsters.

Falstaff called the NLRB into the case when the brewers and maltsters threatened last year not to pump beer to the machines which fill the "tappers" unless Falstaff assigned the filling work to them instead of the bottlers.

The Teamsters have always handled draft beer and barrel-like receptacles, the brewers local contended.

After a thorough investigation by one of its agents, the NLRB reported:

1. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has ruled that the "tapper" was to be treated as a bottle, and not a barrel, for federal tax purposes.

2. The filling of a "tapper" is automatic, like a bottle and not, like a barrel, subject to the judgment of the operator.

3. A "tapper" contains only 288 ounces of beer.

4. "We attach no significant weight to the fact that the "tapper" container is similar in appearance to a barrel."

5. "On the basis of the record as a whole, we conclude that bottlers represented by Bottlers are entitled to the disputed work..."

VON BRAUN VISITS
PARIS (UPI)—U.S. rocket expert Dr. Werner Von Braun arrived here from Libon Wednesday with his wife and children for a two-day stay before going to an International Astronautics Conference in Greece.

In a brief airport press conference, he said "a lot of hard work is needed on the Apollo project to keep President John F. Kennedy's promise that an American would land on the moon by 1970."

But he added it appeared at this time as if the project could succeed during 1969. The Von Brauns were in Portugal four days.

ANNIVERSARY TRIBUTE
JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—Thousands of Indonesians paraded past President Sukarno's palace Wednesday in a post-anniversary tribute to the country's leader.

Indonesia celebrated the 20th anniversary of its existence as an independent nation Tuesday. Sukarno proclaimed a militant Asian axis against Western "imperialism."

The parade Wednesday included soldiers, members of political group and "volunteers to crush Malaysia."
