

Astronauts To Be Featured

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Astronaut Edward H. White II, who stepped out of his Gemini 4 capsule into space-walk history, and his command pilot, James A. McDivitt, will be featured at the Oct. 5-6 sixth annual conference here of UPI Editors and Publishers.

They will narrate a color movie, "The Walk in Space," made during their record-breaking June flight. Following the film, McDivitt and White will answer audience questions.

At the four working sessions during the two-day meeting, delegates will analyze coverage in four areas: world and domestic crisis, government, the courts, and the future.

The major speakers include Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Calvin Kittle, director of the Community Relations Service; Edward W. Kuhn, president of the American Bar Association, and Bill D. Moyers, press secretary to President Johnson.

Of special interest to ladies attending will be a tea at the Chevy Chase home of Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey. Mrs. Merriweather Post will invite the ladies to her estate, reminiscent of the French Renaissance and the Russian Czarist eras. Mrs. Perle Mesta, Washington's famous hostess and former ambassador to Luxembourg, will entertain at lunch at her penthouse apartment, which offers an exceptional view of the nation's capital.

The first working session will spotlight "Coverage in Crisis" and encompass such topics as Viet Nam, the Dominican situation, racial matters, and disasters. Panelists include C.A. (Pete) McKnight, editor of the Charlotte (N.C.) Observer; Ted Weegar, assistant managing editor of the Los Angeles Times; William H. Heath, executive editor of the Lawrence (Mass.) Eagle-Tribune, and Don Boyett, managing editor of the Amarillo Daily News and Globe Times.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Peter G. Wyckoff of Hayden, Stone Inc. says he believes the market will continue to rise and the Dow-Jones industrial average might top the 900 level in the near future, provided that no crisis is reached in the steel labor problem or Britain's economic situation.

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks & Co. says most technical considerations remain bullish despite the recent setback. The low volume points out the fact, he says, that the decline was not serious and the market will resume its upward trend in the near future.

Bache & Company says buying of selective stocks during periodic dips in the wise decision. The favorable outlook for the economy and better earnings reports for most companies continues to paint a favorable picture for the market future.

Abraham & Co. says there already are signs that the recent increase in buying interest will spread to other groups.

Edward F. Underwood of says he feels both the short Mitchum, Jones & Templeton end long-term trend of the market is on the upside. Despite the economic and psychological ramifications of the world monetary crisis, he says he believes there is a predominantly bullish atmosphere in the market which will permit selected stocks to score outstanding gains.

Legislation Will Nullify State Right-to-Work Laws

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today reaffirmed his determination to push for passage this year of legislation to nullify state right-to-work laws and to overhaul U. S. immigration laws.

At his news conference, the President also called for prompt action by the House on the House on the Senate-passed bill to give home rule to the District of Columbia. The Senate bill is tied up in a House committee.

On repeal of section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law, which permits states to ban the union shop, Johnson said he "certainly" still considered it a major legislative goal. The House has passed the bill, but some senators have threatened an adjournment-delaying filibuster against it.

Legislation that would wipe out the old "national origins" system of admitting immigrants to this country has not passed either house of Congress but Johnson said he wants it acted on before this session adjourns.

Full-Speed Ahead For Laboratories

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today ordered full-speed ahead with a $1.5 billion program to put five military manned orbiting laboratories in space starting in 1968.

The Defense Department immediately revealed that the Air Force would launch the two man laboratories not only from Cape Kennedy but also from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

This meant that for the first time the United States would send manned spacecraft into near-polar orbits which would cover the entire earth, including significantly the Soviet Union.

The President announced the space project at a news conference where he also disclosed that he was inviting Russia to send a representative to watch the launching of the Gemini 6 flight in October.

Johnson said the Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) "will bring us new knowledge about what man is able to do in space" and "will enable us to relate that ability to the defense of the nation."

A defense official said the first unmanned test launch, scheduled for 1968, will be from Cape Kennedy.

REDUCES CONTRIBUTION WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to reduce the U.S. contribution to the International Red Cross from $75,000 to $25,000 per year.

The committee decided Tuesday to go along with a House-passed bill that would make the U.S. contribution equal to that of the American Red Cross' contribution to the international organization.

Life in Saigon Presents Host of Problems to Sam

EDITOR'S NOTE: Freedom Newspapers Staff Writer Sam Stinson is in Viet Nam to report first hand on the war. Stinson is a 20-year veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps who served in WW II in battle in Guadalcanal, Saipan and Iwo Jima. His dispatches are sent by mail from Viet Nam.)

By SAM STINSON

SAIGON — When I first arrived here I was surprised to discover a minimum of difficulty getting through immigration and customs.

The word "newsman" seems to be magic. Once I mentioned the word, officials stopped searching me and waved me through to a waiting taxi.

But my troubles were only beginning. Getting a place to stay was a problem. Most hotels had no vacancies. I finally settled on one 10 blocks from town for 780 piastres (Viet Nam dollars) a day. That's a little more than $10 a day American, but the room is not as good as a $3 a day hotel in the States.

Curfew in Saigon starts at 11 p.m., but you must start looking for taxis by 10 p.m. since they get scarce and also start doubling prices after that hour. After 11 p.m. you are thrown in jail if you step outdoors. And anyway, if you are out after dark alone, you run the risk of getting cut down by a Cong. There is no way to distinguish between a good Viet and a bad Viet.

The land around Saigon is flat, and from the airplane it appeared as a patchwork of crazy-quilt designs of rice paddies in many shades of green. And everywhere you look is this winding snake-like river. I tried to trace it to see if it was one river or many, but I could not. It was a muddy, dirty brown waterway with many boats on it.

Saigon itself is a beautiful city — built on the French idea of parks, circles and tree-lined avenues. Most of the buildings are French Colonial and resemble those in New Orleans.

Many have the wrought-iron lattice grills and balconies. But all this charm is overshadowed by something else which is the very first thing you notice — every hotel and public building is shuttered behind iron gates, sandbags, concrete-filled barrels and barbed-wire enclosures. At every hotel where Americans stay is an armed sentry with a shotgun.

No one enters without proving his identity. My retired Marine Corps ID card came in handy one evening. I was allowed to go into several places where I could not have gone without it. Even after you get past the sentry outside you are met inside by a desk clerk with a sidearm.

Truckloads of Vietnamese soldiers continuously roam up and down the streets with their rifles at the ready. Apparently there is some sort of schedule or patrol for these trucks, because they do not seem to be going anywhere in particular, just slowly driving around.

You see not only Americans but others in identifiable uniforms. Nobody smiles. Each person just seems constantly to shift his eyes about as if looking for something out of the ordinary.

Most of the bars downtown with American names are filled with Americans in civilian clothing. Many are outdoor-type sidewalk restaurants. Even here, the customers just sit quietly and watch the street. Very little talk going on. It's wierd.

All hotels catering to Americans have a sign which says "For Collective Security Reasons — No Girls Allowed In Rooms." This should make a lot of American wives of servicemen happy, but maybe that's why these poor GI's are so forlorn looking. I had the concierge here explain that the Viet Cong send girls to gather information. He said in many cases the girl will not only steal papers and official documents but will also stab her lover while he sleeps. The whole thing has sort of a black-widow aura about it.

The "collective security" angle is an interesting thought. I wonder what is meant by collective. I also find it interesting that here in Saigon, the world's two oldest professions are being joined into one game. War and prostitution — shades of Jericho.

Power Shortages Threaten Soviet Economy

By K.C. THALER
United Press International
LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet economy, which is in the throes of a new grave agricultural crisis, is suffering also from serious power shortages which threaten Moscow's ambitious industrial plans.

Reports from Moscow reveal shortcomings in Russia's power-generation program. One of the country's electricity chiefs has called for economies in the use of both coal and electricity throughout the European industrial parts of the Soviet Union.

Planning appears to have gone wrong on more than one score, and frantic soul-searching among the technocrats in Russia and in East European satellites for modifications or alternatives has shattered the myth that Communist planning has given the Soviet Union and its allies immunity from economic problems.

Gone also is the battle cry of years past that Russia was well on her way to catch up and would soon overtake the American, economy and its achievements.

There have been amazing admissions of failure from among leading communists recently, both in Russia and in some East European countries.

The profit motive, which had always been rejected by Communist planners as the chief deadly sin of the Western world, has been creeping discreetly through the backdoor into the Communist countries. Slowly, the idea of stimulating economic progress through the medium of "incentives" is being accepted among the means to remedy the faults and shortcomings which are plaguing Communist economies of late on an ever increasing scale.

Prompted by new agricultural troubles, the suggestion has been made in Moscow that the vast state farms should be broken up into smaller units.

The fact that such a "reactionary" idea has been raised reflects the creeping doubts about the efficiency of traditional Communist economic strategy.

Now it has emerged that the fuel and power sector of the Soviet economy has failed to reach its target for the seven-year plan which ends this year.

Making Iced Coffee Is Easy

COOLING ICED COFFEE is a perfect hot weather drink.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Almost everyone enjoys a tall, tinkling glass of iced coffee. It's one of the most popular summertime refreshers. And it's virtually free of those worrisome calories.

We asked brewing experts at the Pan-American Coffee Bureau how to make the best possible iced coffee. Here is their answer, as simple as falling off a cake of ice.

There are two excellent methods of making iced coffee. The first takes a very minimum of advance preparation. At breakfast time, brew a little extra coffee, then pour the cooled coffee into a refrigerator ice tray and freeze it into coffee ice cubes. Turn the controls up for quickfreezing. Whenever you plan to serve, simply brew a potful of regular hot coffee and pour it over the coffee cubes. The melting ice adds more flavor rather than diluting the coffee.

If you want only one glass of iced coffee for yourself, quickly, you can make it the instant coffee way. Place in a glass about twice as much coffee as you would normally use for a cup. Add a little cold water and stir until the coffee powder dissolves. Then, fill up the glass with ice cubes, add more cold water and stir.

Unless you're a sweet-tooth, your iced coffee preparations can stop right there. For you

Keep Cool Sunday

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Keep cool. And that goes for Sunday, too. More and more homemakers are realizing that massive Sunday dinners are not necessary. With much less work and fewer hours in the hot kitchen, dinners far better geared to modern living can be prepared partly in advance (in the cool of the morning, for example).

A lot of hot dishes are not necessary for a balanced and pleasant meal. Chicken Aspic fits deliciously into the "Keep Cool on Sunday" theme. It is protein-rich with poultry and ham. It can be made in advance and refrigerated until dinner time.

CHICKEN ASPIC REGENCY
1 broiler-fryer chicken
3 cups water
1 medium onion, sliced
2 celery tops
2 bay leaves
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
2 chicken bouillon cubes

Place chicken in deep kettle. Add water and remaining ingredients; cover with a tight fitting lid. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 40 minutes, or until tender. Remove chicken; strain stock. Refrigerate chicken and stock at once. When chicken is cool remove skin and slice meat from breast, remove remaining meat from bones. Skim fat from stock; add water to make 4 cups. Yields chicken and stock for 8 aspics.

CHICKEN ASPIC MOLDS
8 stuffed olive slices
8 slices cooked ham
2 cans (4 1/2 ounces each) liver pate
3 cups cooked chicken
3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
4 cups (x) clarified chicken broth

Center 1 olive slice in bottom of eight 1-cup molds. Cover with 8 pieces of ham, cut to fit molds. Cover ham with 8 liver paties. Top each with chicken pieces. Sprinkle gelatin on chicken broth in saucepan to soften. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Cool. Pour into molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Yields 8 servings.

(x) To clarify chicken broth, bring to a boil in saucepan with 2 egg whites and crushed egg shells. Strain through a sieve lined with several layers of cheesecloth.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Weekend shoppers will generally find abundant supplies of seasonal fruits and vegetables with plentiful quantities of poultry and selected meats at their food shopping centers.

Roasts and steaks should be popular choices this weekend. Broiler-fryers and turkeys continue to be plentiful and reasonably priced in the meats-poultry section.

In the vegetable area, harvests give abundant quantities of green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, cucumbers, and eggplant. Onions, potatoes, squash, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes continue to be in top supply.

Increased volume in bananas, cantaloupes, grapes, and nectarines will be reflected in better prices for consumers. Lemons, peaches, plums, and watermelons are in good supply.

Nationally, fish sticks and portions, canned tuna, and chum salmon are good shopping buys.

Add a festive touch to your cookout. Serve chilled watermelon wedges for dessert.

Season's Here to Enjoy Nectarines

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The season for luscious nectarines will last only a few more weeks. So make the most of that delicious time.

FRESH NECTARINE ORANGE SAUCE
(Makes 1 1/2 cups)

1 cup (3/4 to 1) crushed nectarines
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch

Combine nectarines and sugar in a saucepan. Bring to boiling point. Simmer 5 minutes. Blend orange juice with cornstarch until smooth and add to cooked mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened, 2 to 3 minutes.

FRESH NECTARINE AND BLUEBERRY SALAD

12 fresh nectarines
Shredded head lettuce
cup fresh blueberries
Fruit Salad Cream

Wash and halve fresh nectarines. Remove pits and place 4 halves on each of 6 beds of shredded lettuce. Fill nectarine centers with fresh blueberries. Serve with Fruit Salad Cream.

To cut food costs, compare the costs and buy foods in the form or the size package that give the most servings for the money.

Appointments to U.N. Are Made by President

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Wednesday announced three United Nations appointments in a major reshuffling of the U.S. team working under Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

The new appointees will replace the team that served under the late Adlai E. Stevenson during his tenure as U.N. ambassador.

The President told his news conference that Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., would give up his seat in Congress to become U.S. representative to the U.N. Economic and Social Council, a post once held by his mother, the late Eleanor Roosevelt.

Other changes announced by the President were:

- Charles W. Yost, 58, a career diplomat, to be Goldberg's principal deputy. He replaces Francis T. P. Pflimpton.
- James M. Nabrit, 64, president of Howard University, to be U.S. representative on the U.N. Security Council, a post until now held by Yost. Nabrit, former dean of the Howard Law School, will remain president of the university and take a year's leave of absence for the U.N. job.
- Mrs. Eugenie Anderson, former ambassador to Denmark and former minister to Bulgaria, to be U.S. representative to the U.N. Trusteeship Council. The job has been held by Mrs. Marietta Tree, a close associate of Stevenson who was with him when he died in London this summer.
- Johnson also announced these other appointments along with the new U.N. appointees:
  - Hobart Taylor Jr., associate special counsel to the President, as a member of the board of directors of the Export-Import Bank.
  - Clifford L. Alexander, a member of the White House staff, to replace Taylor as presidential counsel.
  - Eugene P. Foley, small business administrator, as assistant secretary of commerce to head the Office of Economic Development.
  - David G. Bress, former Georgetown University law professor, as U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia.

Television in Review

United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—I hope you don't mind today if I write about someone who won't appear in a weekly series on television this season. I am talking about George Burns, and the reason I bring him up is that the mere mention of his name, and the memories it conjures up, are enough to give one a lift I have just gone through the network summaries for the season ahead, and I need a lift.

Any season in which neither Burns nor his old and dear friend, Jack Benny, appear in a weekly series is not entirely welcome. Benny's series ended last season, and Burns' latest, "Wendy and Me," with Connie Stevens, was dropped. Benny will have some NBC-TV special in the year ahead, and Burns will take part in a February special with Carol Channing.

The reason I like to write about Burns is that it gives me a chance to re-read some of his old routines with the late Gracie Allen.

Some of these routines were published by Eddie Cantor in the regular column he used to write for the Diners' Club magazine. Here is a sample:

Gracie: Not only can I make up riddles, George, I can also tell what you're thinking about. I'm a mind reader.

George: Listen, Gracie, is there anything that fazes you?

Gracie: I don't think so. Now, think of something.

George: All right, I'm thinking.

Gracie: Is it green?

George: Does it hang from the ceiling and whistle?

Gracie: Does it run along the floor and sing?

George: Listen!

Gracie: Does it climb up buildings and swim?

George: Just a minute, I thought you said you could read my mind.

Gracie: Well, George, how can I read your mind when you keep asking all those silly questions?

The Channel Swim: Frank Sinatra, whose recent concert tour was a tremendous success, will star in a one-hour musical review of his 25-year singing career on NBC-TV Nov. 24.

District Manager Says Inquire About Retiring

"Inquire before you retire." That's the advice given by Hal Geldon, social security district manager in Amarillo, to persons who plan to retire soon.

"We always try to make sure that a person's first retirement check arrives promptly," Geldon said, "but it really helps if we can talk with him before he actually retires. Suppose, for example, John Smith expects to retire in November. If he files his claim in September, there will be plenty of time to process the application so that the postman can drop Smith's check in his box by December.

Geldon added that some evidence of the previous year's earnings is generally needed. A wage earner can use his Form W-2. Withholding Tax Statement, while a self-employed person can supply a copy of his income tax return for the previous year.

A birth certificate is best for proving aperson's age, but the Social Security administration may also accept census record, insurance policy, naturalization paper, passport, or even the old family Bible.

"The Social Security Administration relies on high speed wire transmission, electronic computers, and highly trained people to insure prompt delivery of benefits," Geldon said, "but a pre-retirement visit to the social security office located at 1006 Adams Street in Amarillo or with the Field Representative who visits the Pampa area is the best assurance of having that first check arrive right on time."

The Composite family is the largest and most highly developed family of flowering plants.

Paris Offers Young, Slim Silhouette

ST. LAURENT, DIOR, CARDIN — Litex-Nattier tweed of wool and Antron in gray and white is used in St. Laurent suit (left). Jacket is short, shoulders broader and padded. Skirt is gathered for front fullness. Partridge feather jacket (center) by Marc Bohan for Dior is in a Malhia tweed of orlon and mohair in gray. Dress, skirt and jacket are in matching tweed. The costume is from one of Bohan's most important groups for fall, the borrel jacket worn over a two-piece suit. Mosaic patterns inspired the group of beaded dresses created by Pierre Cardin. Simple shift (right) is in shocking pink paillettes dotted with black sequins.

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK (NEA) — Two surprises emerged from the Paris fashion collections for fall 1965 — both good. First, the look of "old lady" elegance, for years the hallmark of Paris couture, has been given the heave-ho. Everything shown had a young, more fitted silhouette. And second, with the world gone mad for short-skirt skirts, there was no thigh baring at any of the major couture houses. Hemlines hovered at the knee, sometimes even a touch below.

The strapless gown, long or short, makes a comeback this time around and beading and sequins twinkle all over the lot. When necklines plunge, the plunge is toward the back. —Greys, beige tones, black and white shared color honors with brilliant tones. St. Laurent's blocks of bold color done in jersey move like mobiles. —Summed up, the influence of the Paris designers on our wardrobes for fall and winter will be revealed in soft, young-looking clothes and hemlines that are once again on speaking terms with sanity.

—Waistlines remain pretty much where nature placed them and even in the tailored fashions femininity prevailed. Suit jackets were fitted and short and all skirts had width at the bottom. —The chemise is still with us, but with a bit more shaping. And if you're very young in age or at heart, St. Laurent's trap-eze dresses should delight you. They might have been designed for babies — bib and all.

—Lean daytime coats had wider sleeves than in past seasons and there were feathers galore for both late day and evening at Dior. Fur trim was big, too, at neck, sleeves and hemline.

Dear Abby... It All Depends On Your Intentions, Lady

DEAR ABBY: There is a bachelor (more appropriately, a recent widower) who is enjoying a burst of popularity as the "extra man" on the guest list of many hostesses in our town. Since the number of extra woman outnumber the men, when he is invited to a dinner party, the hostess usually has a partner in mind for him.

This man accepts willingly, and then adds, "Do you mind if I bring my own lady?" of course, no proper hostess will say she minds, even if she does. Invariably his "lady" is much younger than the other ladies present, and she doesn't fit in very well. How can this situation be tactfully handled?

ONE HOSTESS
DEAR ONE: Are you inviting this man because he is your friend and you want to entertain him? If so, let him bring whom he will. But if you want only a "male" to fill out your table, or hope to "mate" him with one of your unattached female friends, level with him and see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend's mother is really too much! She's only 32 years old, but she looks 20. She has a fabulous figure and long red hair and she had to get married. You know the type. She's divorced and loves to run around with young kids. I think it's swell for a mother to be young and all that, but this one should act her age. She goes around the house in stretch pants, short shorts or a Bikini. (Anything to show off her figure.) Once when I was there with a bunch of kids she yelled, "Close your eyes, I'm coming through," and she walked through the room with only her bra and panties on! Everybody almost died. I don't know what she's trying to prove. I am not jealous of her, I am only disgusted. What is your opinion of a mother like this?

GREEN EYES
DEAR GREEN: Her conduct would hardly qualify her for "Mother Of The Year," but if you find her disgusting, don't go to her home and you won't have to put up with her.

DEAR ABBY: I am probably old enough to be your mother, but I am seeking advice on a problem that is almost too silly for words. On our block is a woman known as "The Visitor." She stops at your house with a bunch of flowers from her garden, or some "goodies" she has baked. Anything just to get into your house. Once she's in, your day is shot. She stays until your husband comes home for supper. The only way I have been able to get rid of her is to tell her that I have an appointment (doctor, dentist, a meeting). Then I have to get all dressed up and actually drive off in my car.

My husband says I am a ninny to go to all this bother. But, Abby, I can't hurt this lady's feelings, as some others have, by telling her I haven't time for her. But how on earth do I get rid of her? She's not a bad soul and she is very sensitive.

SOFT-HEARTED
DEAR SOFT: Your neighbor is selfishness. Quit going through the motions of keeping an appointment you don't have and tell The Visitor (as gently as possible) that you don't have as much free time to visit as she.

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. G. IN CHARLOTTE: It isn't enough for a gardener to love flowers. He must also hate weeds.

The Doctor Says:

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
I hear the expression "nervous exhaustion" frequently but I find very little about it in print. Medical textbooks are strangely silent about this common ailment, probably because it is hard to define. Let it be understood at once that fatigue doesn't change our capacity to accomplish our purpose. It does, however, decrease it temporarily.

If we learn to take a brief period of complete relaxation when fatigue overtakes us we can eliminate much of its frustration and terror. Fatigue actually helps us to live within our limits and conserve our strength.

Sometimes we wear ourselves out trying to do a job too quickly. It takes less out of one, for example, to lift a 50-pound weight once to the same height. Furthermore doing a given amount of work in quiet surroundings is less fatiguing than doing the same amount of work where it is very noisy.

When a person is faced with chronic exhaustion it is important to rule out such causes as a chronic low grade infection, anemia and a thyroid or adrenal deficiency before calling the condition nervous exhaustion or, to use an older term, nervous breakdown. One of the chief causes of true nervous exhaustion is worry — often a fear that one will not quite come up to what is expected of him.

A person with such a fear is likely to be unwilling or unable to admit even to himself that this is the basis for his trouble. As a result he pounces on some symptom of a more tangible nature such as a backache, indigestion or irregular heart action as a cause of his ailment and seeks relief for that. If the exhaustion has an emotional basis in fear and anxiety, however, treatment of these secondary symptoms is doomed to failure. The first step must be a straightforward facing of the facts followed by a relaxing of the mind as well as the body — what a famous doctor has called the cultivation of equanimity. In some persons nervous fatigue is actually caused by insufficient physical exercise. If you suffer from insomnia, one of the chief symptoms of nervous exhaustion run around the block 3 times before tumbling into bed then make yourself as limp as a wet rag. The chances are you will go to sleep at once.

The drugs prescribed for insomnia and chronic fatigue are a poor cure at best and not nearly so important as re-education in tranquil living. By the same token a vacation, although it may give you a temporary respite, will do no good in the long run if you return to the same worries and frustrations that tired you out in the first place.

FOR FRIDAY, AUG. 27
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now are able to gain much headway by a very detailed course of action in which those with whom you have usual contact need to be persuaded to go along with a course that is very exact and particular. It may not please them but your good sense tells you it is good for everyone in any way concerned. Be meticulous.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Any work before you can be gotten out expeditiously and with a minimum of effort in A.M., especially. This could be at home or in business. Give attention to the important things first.

TAUROS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Put your finest talents to work early and get much accomplished so that you later have time to go out for fun. Your firm friends will gladly join you. Get in touch with them on time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — If you are specific in stating your aims to kin, they soon give you the support and cooperation you desire. Don't leave them guessing. Invite guests in after all is in appropriate order.

MONA CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — If you stop delaying and get right down to the work that is facing you, you soon have it behind you efficiently. Contact persons you admire. Make far greater gains than heretofore.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — A day for carefully going over your financial position and pressing affairs and doing quickly what will improve, solve them. You think big and can get big now. Be clever.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Stating your aims to the right persons is very wise at this time since they give fine ideas, backing. Be sure your health is good first. Then get very busy!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Busy preparing yourself now for the fine deals and openings about to occur for you is intelligent thing to do. A little revision is necessary in exercising talents. Have more modern outlook.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — Look to that fussy friend of yours for the ideas that will assist you in most personal matters and advance. Get about socially. Let others know your devotion later. Be happy in home.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21) —

Sailed Supper Held By DMF Auxiliary

Mrs. Charles Tate and Mrs. Ernie Messiah served on luncheon at the recently held sailed supper enjoyed by DMF Auxiliary of Cities Service Gas Company. The event was held in Cities Service Recreation Hall, west of the city.

Following the meal, a brief business session was conducted by Mrs. Leon Brown. Door prizes were received by Mrs. Homer Kessinger.

Miss Deborah Martin, granddaughter of Mrs. Clyde Martin, and Miss Cynthia Carnes were welcomed as guests.

Find various ways to get into the influential persons who will understand your ideas. Get their support. Strive for greater respect from the public in general.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Your affairs can be arranged in some new way now that will help you to get ahead very much faster. Look to a new friend for ideas. Follow through on them without hesitation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — You have to use more vision if you are to plan better ways of dealing with all others now. Be an inspiration to partners. Your abundance can increase appreciably later.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You have to get into long conversations with associates today if you are to understand their ideas and aims correctly. Keep promises inviolate. Be clever.

RONNIE MILLS ... new coach

This Could Be Year of Tigers In 5-B District

By RON CROSS
 News Sports Editor

GROOM (Sol.) — The Groom Tigers have been picked as the team most likely to unseat Wheeler as the District 5-B champions.

"Unbelievable," said new head coach Ron Mills. "That's great," echoed his players.

Mills, like most coaches, does not like to be put in the hot spot, and he has every reason to not want to be.

"Last year," said the young coach, "we were beaten by scores of 64-0, 46-0, 36-18 and others just as bad."

"It takes time to overcome losses like that. The wounds have to heal in the boys' minds," he said.

But Mills could be just the fellow to heal those wounds. He's well-liked and respected by his players and the townspeople.

Mills was assistant coach at White Deer last season, where the Bucks were district champs. He plans to do a lot of throwing.

"We have a good passer in Cornett (quarterback Terry, a senior with four football letters) and Roberts (end Jerry, a 195-pound senior) to catch the ball. He's a good receiver," Mills stated.

Mills will run a pro type offense calling for a lot of passing and some good blocking in the line.

Strong points of the 1965 edition of the Tigers is in their speed, passing and experience in the back field.

Mills returns all four starters from a 1964 Tiger team that posted a 3-7 record.

Besides Cornett back are fullback Lynn King, a 215-pound junior who started as a tackle last year, Larry Lamberson, a 173-pound senior and halfback Jerry Littlefield, the smallest man in the backfield at 135-pounds.

Mills figures his weak points are his depth and inexperienced line.

"I think our season will depend on how fast our line improves and how many injuries we have," the coach summarized.

Mills has but two veteran line-men back in Roberts and Keith Fields, a 185-pound sophomore who started at tackle last year.

Six other lettermen are back, including Kerry Jones, an end; Steve Boyce, a 200-pound tackle; guard Carl Hudson, a 165-pound senior; Kyle Black, a 125-pound halfback; Jimmy Britten, a junior halfback and Alton Vaughn, a 130-pound senior halfback.

McCool Keeps Cincy Going

By United Press International

The National League race gets hotter and hotter but the Cincinnati Reds are keeping cool with aptly-named Billy McCool.

A 21-year old sophomore southpaw who chews bubble gum like a little leaguer, McCool is turning out to be quite a man coming out of the bullpen for the Reds in their drive to within 1 1/2 games of the NL lead.

McCool, who has appeared in 49 games so far this year, came through in magnificent style for the second straight game Wednesday night when the Reds scored a 7-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

It was the second straight game in which he was called upon to preserve a ninth-inning lead — and for the second straight game he retired the side on strikeouts.

McCool's heroics — following a three-run ninth-inning homer by Tony Perez — made the Reds the only Wednesday night winner among the four chief contenders. The first-place Los Angeles Dodgers were beaten 7-5 by the last-place New York Mets, the third-place San Francisco Giants played a rain-interrupted 3-3 tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates and the fifth-place Philadelphia Phillies lost 7-6 to the Houston Astros.

The Chicago Cubs whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3 in the other NL game while in the American League Minnesota defeated New York 5-4, Baltimore shaded Chicago 2-1, Kansas City blanked Detroit 5-0, Boston drubbed Washington 8-3 and Cleveland defeated Los Angeles 6-3 and 8-2.

McCool, the NL's rookie of the year in 1964, has only a 7-7 won-lost record but he has saved the last three Cincinnati victories. In his last four appearances he has faced 15 batters and struck out eight.

Hank Aaron singled, stole second and scored on Ed Mathews' single to produce a 1-4 tie in the eighth inning but the Reds stormed back in the top of the ninth. Deron Johnson's single and a walk to Johnny Edwards put two runners on with two out and then Perez, batting for Gordie Coleman, hit his decisive three-run homer off Billy O'Dell.

Sammy Ellis received credit for his 17th victory against seven losses while Dan Osinski was the losing pitcher.

Ex-Cardinal left-hander Gordon Richardson pitched four-hit, one-run ball for 6 2/3 innings to win his second game

Randy Aws 'Em in World Games

BUDAPEST (UPI) — Sprinter George Anderson of Baton Rouge, La., and tennis star Allen Fox of Los Angeles were expected to swell the United States gold medal supply today on the seventh day of the World University Games.

Randy Matson averted the large crowd at New Stadium Wednesday by tossing the shotput 66 feet, 7 1/2 inches to beat Russia's Nikolai Karashev by over five feet. The 6-foot-6 1/2 native of Pampa, Tex., who holds the pending world mark of 70-7 1/2 uncracked his winning throw on his fifth attempt and received an ovation from the spectators.

The Americans have collected a high of 11 gold medals along with six silver and five bronze. Hungary trails the U.S. by one gold medal and Russia leads in overall points with 27.

Anderson was one of eight finalists in the 100-meter dash, which became a toss-up when defending champion Enrique Figueroa of Cuba withdrew because of a strained thigh muscle. Anderson's biggest threat was Harry Jerome of Canada, who tied him at 10.3 seconds in a preliminary heat.

Fox was favored to beat Tomas Lejus of Russia on the strength of the Californian's Wimbledon play, where he reached the quarterfinals.

There were five other gold medals for the taking today, including the women's 80-meter hurdles and 100-meter dash, the men's javelin, the mixed doubles in tennis and the epee sword competition.

Fox and Donald Bell, the only American tennis stars competing in the games, annexed the men's doubles crown by defeating the Russian tandem of Lejus and Sergi Likhatchev 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Olympic 5,000 meter champion Bob Schul of West Milton, Ohio, barely qualified in his specialty. Schul came in sixth in his heat with a time of 14:25.0 while the race was won by Japan's Keisuke Sawaki, who clocked a record 14:07.0. Schul is recovering from a pulled Achilles tendon and did not look fit.

Prince Osborne Take Honors in 'Beat The Champ' Rolloffs

Horace Prince of Pampa and Dot Osborne of White Deer have taken top honors in the first week of rolloffs in AMF's "Beat The Champ" tournament at Harvester Bowl.

Prince led the field of men bowlers — with a three-game series of 671, while Mrs. Osborne led the ladies with a 635 series.

Each of the six winners during this first week of rolloffs in AMF's "Beat The Champ" tournament have now qualified to compete in the final house elimination on September 6.

Mitchell rolled a 666 series, and Mrs. Greer rolled a 590 series. In third place among the men bowlers was Johnnie Reynolds of Pampa with a 658 three-game series. Placing third among the ladies was Vivian Garrison of Pampa. Mrs. Garrison had a three-game series of 583.

Each of the six winners during this first week of rolloffs in AMF's "Beat The Champ" tournament have now qualified to compete in the final house elimination on September 6.

The game, between the Baseball Immortals and Texas All-Stars, will start an hour before the regular Houston Astros-Chicago Cubs game.

Appling, one of baseball's most durable shortstops, will play with the Baseball Immortals. He set a major league record for shortstops by playing in 2,218 games and won the Re: Is It Alms Or Ego?

(This is one of a series of memos from the editor of Valley Freedom Newspapers to members of the news staff. Because they deal with matters of concern to our readers, it occurred to us you might be interested in reading over the editor's shoulder, so to speak. Your comments, as always, are invited.)

Dear Staff Members:

I think we sometimes have the infuriating habit of losing the thread of reason in the cloth of good fellowship. Which is rather a stuffy way of saying we don't show good sense.

I have in mind the matter of publicizing what is loosely construed to be acts of charity, self-denial and personal sacrifice for some one or another "good cause."

What isn't quite clear is: Who is giving what to whom?

Let us take a far-fetched example, so absolutely unbelievable it could only happen in real life.

A certain fellow offers to make a charitable contribution provided the recipients arrange with the paper to get his name and picture published.

Now, if we decline the opportunity, we have as much as stolen this gift from the Good Cause. But, upon closer examination, if we agree to this flummery, we—and not the fellow who gets the notoriety—are the ones performing the act of charity. The publicized donor is getting his money's worth in "free advertising" or publicity, whichever you choose to call it. His business, his profession or his ego is receiving the publicity he so heartily covets. We have, in effect, paid him.

Obviously, the charity is ours, not his.

Perhaps it would appear I am being extraordinarily fussy about the matter, but I really have the welfare of this worthy citizen at heart.

You may recall the writings of an early practitioner of our trade of reporting—Levi Matthew, the customs collector turned reporter. It was Matthew who quoted Jesus:

"Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them; otherwise ye had no reward of your Father, which is in Heaven."

How absolutely rotten if we were to be accomplices to the violation of this enjoiner and, by our complicity, straiten the gate to Heaven for some honorable fellow, possibly to the extent of keeping him out altogether.

Some gifts are news, either by reason of their size, their concept, their singularity or the circumstances surrounding them. I presume that if we, in the course of our business, and unsolicited, put these acts before the eyes of men it will not be admissible in evidence at the philanthropist's final judgment. But I should rather suspect that those alms-givings which we publicize under some dress on the part of the donar might properly be used against the accused.

I suppose we shall have to make this nice distinction when these things come along: Is it alms or publicity the fellow has in mind?

In this exacting task I wish you well. ☞

Taking a look at the area football teams.
After making the rounds of the area football teams you get the idea the two best from 1964 are going to be the best in 1965 with some thunder being heard at Groom.
In 1964 the folks at White Deer and Wheeler did all the bragging and it looks like they will be able to enjoy the 1965 football season almost as much as they did '64.

Bucks Solid Again

Collie Huffman starts his seventh season at White Deer and welcomes back 16 lettermen from a team that posted a 9-2 mark in 1964 and won conference 2-A.

The Bucks will be solid across their line with six starters back and a letterman to hold down the other position.

The backfield will be light with only two exceptions, Vernon Marlar, a 181-pound junior and Gary Smith, a 170-pound junior.

Two senior backs are available in Phil Hart a 140-pound speedster and Rondel Alexander a 135-pound scabback. Otto Wheeler will man one end position at 136 pounds. The junior has speed and determination.

Also back to help anchor a bruising line are, 210-pound tackle John Mooney, a defensive starter from last year; 240-pound Danny Love; 175-pound senior center Don Williams, 185-pound senior tackle Charles Smith, 204-pound tackle Larry Bates, and a host of lettermen.

McLean, who finished second in 2-A last year and wound up 5-5 for the season will, according to coach Fred Hedgecock, "be inexperienced and pretty small."

Hedgecock can find only four starters back from his '64 Tigers, the heaviest of which is 175-pound senior tackle, Dwight Hathaway and 165-pound junior fullback Raymond Baker.

The other two starters are Doyle McCurley, a 150-pound end and Steve Fuller a 150-pound sophomore halfback.

Hedgecock lost 11 players by graduation. "We are having a hard time finding replacements for them," Hedgecock said.

Wildcats Tamed?

At Canadian coach Dwain Currie has looked and looked and can find only four starters and a total of nine letter-out for his '65 squad.

Most folks in the 2-A conference have the Wildcats picked for a second division finish, including Currie, who sights lightness as the major problem and lack of depth running a close second.

The heaviest fellow to be found on the Wildcat roster is 200-pound senior guard, Rocky Lucas, followed by 176-pound junior tackle, Howard Sanders.

Seven lettermen-starters return to the line with starters back being, Gary Harrell, 156-pound senior center, tackle Sandy Fiel, a 150-pounder who has started two years, guard Lucas and defensive center, Charles Ortega, a 156-pound sophomore.

In the backfield Currie will have help from lettermen, Mike Cullender, a 159-pound fullback and Butch Nicholson, a 149-pound junior halfback.

Clarendon is seen as White Deers' chief competitor boasting a big, strong and veteran ball club, while Wellington, and Memphis are expected to battle it out with Canadian and McLean for the also-ran spots.

Something to live up to may just give the Bucks the edge they need.

Darkhorse in 5-B

The 5-B race this year should be an interesting one with Groom picked as the favorite by the coaches, just nudging out Wheelers 1964 Regional champs.

Wheeler coach J. T. Hill was hard hit by graduation, having lost 10 starters and two other lettermen from a team that posted a perfect 12-0 record.

The 1964 Mustangs gave up but one touchdown in

Pappas Bowls Down White Sox

For relaxation Milt Pappas enjoys bowling and the Chicago White Sox.

Bowling is a hobby for the 26-year-old Baltimore righthander and the White Sox are supposed to be work but Pappas has been mowing them down like 10 pins ever since he won his first American League game in 1958.

Pappas has beaten Chicago 17 times in his career, losing only four decisions and this season he has whipped his favorite pasties three times and registered both his shutouts against them.

The White Sox were particularly welcomed sights to Pappas Wednesday night, because he had labored more than a month without a victory. And Chicago, eager to please their old tormentor, bothered Pappasonly four hits and donated an unearned run for the winning tally in Baltimore's 2-1 triumph.

Minnesota increased its AL lead to 7½ games by edging New York 5-4, Cleveland swept two games from Los Angeles 6-3 and 8-2, Kansas City blanked Detroit 5-0, and Boston out-slugged Washington 8-3.

The triumph for Pappas was his 11th against six defeats and his first victory since July 21. The Orioles scored the decisive run in the third inning. Luis Aparicio opened with a single and scored when centerfielder Ken Berry fumbled John Powell's single. The other Baltimore tally came in the first on singles by Paul Blair and Powell and a sacrifice fly by Brooks old tormentor, bothered Pappas-Robinson.

Gary Peters allowed just five hits in eight innings of work for the White Sox but took his 11th loss compared to eight victories. The lone Chicago run came in the first when Don Buford led off with a triple and raced home on Floyd Robinson's infield pop-up to second baseman Bob Johnson.

Al Worthington struck out Hector Lopez and Ray Barker to end the game and preserve Minnesota rookie Jim Merritt's fourth win in five decisions. Merritt had allowed only two hits until the ninth when Elston Howard's two-run homer kayoed him. The Twins had broken a 2-2 tie in the seventh on a two-run triple by Rich Rollins and a double by Earl Battey.

Knuckle ball pitcher Bob Tief-enauer pitched two hitless innings of relief in each game for the Indians to preserve victories for Steve Hargan (1-2) in the first game and Ralph Terry (11-4) in the nightcap. Fred Whitfield and Duke Sims homered in the opener for Cleveland and Leon Wagner connected in the nightcap, driving in three Indian tallies. Jack Sanford (1-1) and Fred Newman (11-12) were the losers.

Jim (Catfish) Hunter, a $75,000 Kansas City bonus baby, pitched his first shutout, allowing Detroit six hits to win his fifth decision against four losses. Ken Harrelson singled home two runs and John Blanchard homered for the A's. Joe Sparna (10-6) was the loser.

Showers Threaten to Dampen Classic

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The $100,000 American Golf Classic began today at the difficult Firestone Country Club course with a field of 113 pros and amateurs bidding for the fifth championship of the series.

The weather forecast was for scattered showers and thunder-showers.

Last year's winner, veteran Ken Venturi, is unable to play in the tournament as he is recovering from surgery to correct numbness in his hands. He has been off the tour since mid-June with Reynaud's disease, a vascular disorder.

Among the 105 pros entered in the tourney and aiming at the $20,000 first prize money are Tony Lema, winner of last weekend's Carling tournament, Ohio's own Jack Nicklaus, Bruce Devlin, and past classic winners Jay Herbert (1961); Arnold Palmer (1962) and Johnny Pott (1963).

Conspicuous by their absence are top moneymen Gary Player, who is home in South Africa, and Billy Casper.

The par 35-35-70 Firestone Course, nicknamed the monster because of its aversion to permitting the pros to play better than par golf, has been made a little easier this year and host pro Alex Red thinks the 7,165 yard course should be one stroke easier per round.

district play.

Three full-time and one part time starter return in '65 plus nine other lettermen.

The Mustangs will be considerably lighter than they were a year ago and this could make the difference.

Groom is described as a rough, tough ball club with a lot of meat.

Ronnie Mills Tigers loom as the best in the league with experience, size, and will to win.

Miami has a new coach and determination, enough that should make them better than 1964 when they were 1-9.

Coach Red Hart returns three starters and 12 lettermen. Depth and no more than average size are the Warriors chief disabilities.

Lefors has been overlooked by most everyone but Jack York's Pirates may be surprise of the league.

Nine starters, from both offense and defense return from last year. York also counts 12 lettermen.

Billy McBee, a three-year, 125-pound halfback returns as does 185-pound guard Keith Jernigan and Marvin Finney a 160-pound fullback.

York's Pirates may be the surprise of the league. Injuries and the Pirates might surprise a few folk.
