Security Council Sets Deadline for Ceasefire

VIET NAM

Paratroops Hit 'Nest Of Hornets'

SAIGON (UPI)—American paratroopers today pursued a Viet Cong force which bloodied elements of the U.S. Army's 101st Airborne in heavy fighting during the weekend and then faded into the mountains of the central highlands.

Official U.S. military spokesmen described American losses as "moderate." Four American helicopters were shot down and newsmen on the scene reported "scores" of U.S. casualties.

The battle began Saturday morning. The guerrillas, believed to be regulars of the Viet Cong's 95th Regiment, pinned down units of the 101st Airborne for 24 hours, preventing reinforcements from arriving and the wounded from being airlifted out.

U.S.M. military authorities said today the operation, dubbed "Gibraltar," was continuing. It also involved artillerymen of the newly arrived U.S. First Cavalry Division (airmobile).

UPI newsfilm cameraman Ceferoio Balbacco reported from An Ninh, about 270 miles northeast of Saigon, that the four American helicopters were shot down by Viet Cong marksmen before they could unload their troops. He said letters and documents found on guerrilla bodies indicated they had come only recently from Communist North Viet Nam.

Negotiations Move Closer To Solution

NEW YORK (UPI)—Union and management reached a "basis for negotiations" early today on one of the key issues in the strike that led to a shutdown of seven of the city's eight major newspapers five days ago.

When talks adjourned at 1:20 a.m. EDT today, chief mediator Theodore W. Kheel said negotiators for the New York Times had submitted counter-proposals on the key pension issue to the American Newspaper Guild.

Kheel said the move by the Times presented both sides with a "basis for negotiations." The Guild struck the Times last Thursday. The New York City Publishers Association shutdown all but one of the city's other major papers under an association agreement calling for such action if a strike forces one member to cease publication.

Other major issues between the Times and the Guild deal with automation, a union shop and Guild jurisdiction.

Pensions were the only matter under consideration Sunday in intermittent talks over a 12-hour period.

"The day in toto has been a good day," Kheel said.

He said also that both sides had begun to show "a positive attitude" in the negotiations.

Thomas J. Murphy, chief Guild negotiator, echoed this sentiment by saying the Times' attitude was "not as negative as he thought it would be." Earlier, Murphy said the sessions were bogging down due to management's "reluctance to bargain."

C. Raymond Hulsart, chief negotiator for the Times, also reported "some progress" on the pension issue.

DEMAND CEASEFIRE — U.S. Ambassador to UN, Arthur J. Goldberg kept Security Council members on stand-by alert from 10:30 Sunday morning. Today, after weighing U Thant's peace proposal and late developments, the council voted a resolution demanding India and Pakistan to cease their warfare.

Missile Pickets Removed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Striking Boeing Co. missile mechanics today removed pickets from four of five space center entrances, clearing the way for a return to work by hundreds of moonport construction workers.

The Boeing members of the International Association of Machinists (AFL-CIO) were complying with a government order that directed all Boeing personnel to use one entrance and told the strikers to picket at that gate only.

About half of the 3,500-man building tradesmen at the cape refused to cross the picket lines last Thursday and Friday. The walkout crippled key construction projects at the huge Project Apollo men-to-the-moon base.

Nearly all Boeing's machinists were away from work but the company's Minuteman-2 missile testing work was proceeding with supervisory personnel. Other rocket projects were not seriously affected.

The strike was called Thursday when negotiations for a new contract fell through, largely because of a job security dispute. Bargaining talks were scheduled to resume today at Boeing headquarters in Seattle.

Carol Poses No Threat To U.S. ... Yet

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The third Atlantic tropical storm of the season traveled far at sea with 55 mile an hour winds today, posing no immediate threat to any land.

Weather forecasters said because the storm, called Carol, was so far east in the Atlantic, reports on its location were scarce. At midnight EDT forecasters estimated Carol was about 1,600 miles east of here or about 2,500 miles east-southwest of Miami and traveling west-northwest at 14 miles an hour.

It was estimated to be near latitude 17.0 north, longitude 41.5 west.

Carol was forecast to continue moving west northwest during the next 12 hours and then gradually swing more northwesterly. Weathermen expected the storm would increase in intensity.

Tornado Warning Line Centers in Pampa Area

A severe weather forecast warning of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms headed Pampa's general prospects for more rain and thunderstorms today and tomorrow.

Pampa was located about in the center of the warning forecast area.

Weekend Toll Is 'Tragic'

By United Press International
A five fatality wreck Sunday helped to send the Texas weekend violent death toll to tragic levels.

A United Press International survey for the period that began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday showed 34 names. Twenty-two of the deaths occurred in traffic. Homicides accounted for six lives, one boy drowned and six persons met violent death from miscellaneous causes.

The worst accident happened Sunday in Lampasas. Five persons were killed in a head-on collision. They were Sammy Ray Bagley, 18; Jerry Glen Ivy, 16, his mother, Mrs. Leora Ivy, Jimmy Wayne, 22, and Mrs. Carolyn Jeanette Stevens, 17. All were from Lampasas.

A Dallas man, 19-year-old Ronald Gene Cunningham, was killed Sunday in a motorcycle-car accident near Van Horne. He died a short time after being hospitalized at Pecos.

John Henry Mays, 79, of Spring, Tex., burned to death in his flaming home.

Seventeen-year-old Roque Palacios Mottu was fatally shot in Houston Sunday.

The weekend's only drowning took the life of 3-year-old Leroy Butler in the waters of Lake Arlington, near Arlington, Tex.

A two car accident Sunday killed Ray Meitzen Jr. of Cuero when he was thrown from his car.

Pakistan, India Face Sanctions

By DAVID J. OESTREICHER
United Press International

The United Nations Security Council today ordered India and Pakistan to stop fighting by 3 a.m. Wednesday. The UN ultimatum contained an implied warning for Communist China to stay out of the strife of the subcontinent.

But as the Security Council acted, Communist China reported an exchange of gunfire between Indian and Chinese troops along their disputed border. And India and Pakistan showed no signs of a letup of their war over Kashmir.

Communist China postponed its ultimatum to India Sunday and gave the Indians until Wednesday to dismantle Indian military outposts along their borders. The three-day ultimatum was to have run out Sunday afternoon.

China intensified its troop buildup within shooting distance of India's northern frontier and India warned it was prepared to meet any invasion "with grim determination."

The Security Council passed its cease-fire resolution early today after more than 14 hours of behind-the-scenes negotiations led by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, serving as council president.

The resolution demanded that India and Pakistan issue orders for a cease-fire to take effect at 3 a.m. Wednesday followed by a withdrawal of all armed personnel to positions held before Aug. 5 when the Kashmir dispute flared into the shooting stage.

The council called on all states "to refrain from any action which might aggravate the situation in the area," a reference to the Communist Chinese threat.

U.N. Secretary General Thant, armed with two previous Security Council resolutions for a cease-fire, made a trip to both India and Pakistan earlier this month. But he failed to stop the fighting.

Diplomatic sources saw a great strengthening of language in the new U.S. cease-fire demand, although it made no mention of enforcement action if India and Pakistan do not comply with it.

The U.N. charter provides for sanctions in the event of a breach of the peace, including military action.

Dallasite Charged With Kidnapping

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Daniel Qualls, a Dallas ex-convict, was in jail today charged with kidnapping.

Two unidentified women told immigration officers at Hidalgo on the Mexican border that Qualls had broken into their home in Flour Bluff and forced them at gunpoint to drive to the border.

When he released them, they rushed to nearby immigration officers and told their story. The 26-year-old Qualls, who was released last June 9 from the penitentiary after serving a burglary sentence, was arrested before he could cross the border.

He was brought to Corpus Christi after his arrest.

AT ROOF OF THE WORLD

'Chinese Dragon Opens Its Jaws'

By JOHN A. BARTON

GANGTOK, Sikkim (UPI)—More than 400 Communist Chinese soldiers approached within 200 yards of Indian positions along the border Sunday as I stood on the "roof of the world" and watched.

"The Chinese dragon is opening its jaws and snapping its tail," said an Indian soldier. The confrontation occurred in strategic Natu Pass, 14,000 feet high in the Himalayas on the Sikkim-Tibetan frontier. Indian officials have given orders for soldiers not to fire unless the Chinese cross the international boundary.

I looked through field glasses to a Chinese hill position and saw a Chinese soldier looking directly back at me. By his side was someone who appeared to be operating a radio transmitter.

The general commanding Indian troops in the area said the Chinese were using the same tactics in four other passes, all situated along the eastern side of the Chumbi Pass, which is considered the likely avenue of any Chinese attack.

"It's a war of nerves," the general said.

Ten Chinese with rifles came to a point on the international border commemorating the 1958 visit of former Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

As I drove in jeeps along the hair-pin curves on roads overrun by heavy landslides it appeared from the hundreds of Sikkimese along the roadside that people are not yet unduly concerned by the Chinese threat.

Road workers, many of whom are Tibetan refugees, looked with curiosity at the foreigners going to the mile-high capital of Gangtok. They included women carrying huge stones poised to be slung from strips braced on their perspiring foreheads.

Good Fighting Weather
Leaving Siliguri, a thin exposed neck of West Bengal which connects oil-rich Assam by rail and communication with the main body of India, we drove along 72 miles of rain-soaked roads in 4½ hours.

The surrounding mountains—

EDITOR'S NOTE: (UPI)—Correspondent John A. Barton has arrived in Gangtok, capital of Sikkim, the tiny Indian protectorate which faces Communist China. Here is Barton's report on an Indian-Chinese confrontation high in the Himalayas.

on the other side of which Chinese troops have started climbing toward the Sikkim border—were shrouded in clouds as thick as whipped cream.

Towering Kanichenjunga Mountain, whose 28,128-foot snowcapped peak is believed by Sikkimese to be the dwelling place of their gods, was completely blotted from view by rain clouds.

But the monsoon's rains are ending and Indian military officials said good fighting weather is just beginning.

An Indian Army officer told me "the Chinese have a definite advantage climatically. We have more than 230 inches of rain annually. They get very little."

The weather for fighting is going to be perfect, according to the Indians, until mid-December when snows will block the roads and supplies will have to be parachuted.

Germans Re-elect Erhard

Bonn (UPI)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, flushed with his election victory, today won a free hand from party associates to organize his new government as he sees fit.

Leaders of his national and parliamentary Christian Democratic Union (CDU) took only two hours to decide to ask President Heinrich Lübke to agree that Erhard should carry on as chancellor when the new parliament meets Oct. 16.

The Christian Democratic leadership also proposed the creation of a commission to negotiate with Erhard about membership in the new cabinet. Erhard said he considered the results of Sunday's election a mandate to continue the government coalition of Christian Democrats and Free Democrats.

Final, official returns from Sunday's voting gave the Christian Democratic Union (CDU) 245 seats in the lower house of parliament (Bundestag) compared to 202 for the opposition Social Democrats and 49 for the Free Democrats, partners with the CDU in the coalition government.

Erhard, considered the architect of West Germany's "economic miracle," was denied the absolute majority he sought but the results were considered a striking vote of confidence in the former economics professor.

Texas Politics Back to State Of Normalcy

AUSTIN (UPI)—With a sense of normalcy restored in the Texas political scene by the decision of Gov. John Connally to seek a third term, politicians started making definite plans for the primaries and the general elections eight and 11 months away.

Connally told the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting Saturday in Amarillo that he considered it his public responsibility to run again.

Said one state official, "This means we will have a relative calm election next year. I sure am glad to see he definitely will run again."

Connally had hardly announced his decision when Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr announced he would seek the seat now held by Republican Sen. John Tower.

Marshall Field Dies; Funeral Services Set

CHICAGO (UPI)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Marshall Field, publisher and editor of the Chicago Daily News and Chicago Sun-Times. Field was found dead in bed at his home Saturday after taking an afternoon nap. He was 49.

Dr. James A. Campbell, president of Presbyterian-St. Luke's hospital and Field's personal physician, said death was caused by acute congestive heart failure complicated by viral interstitial myocarditis, an infection of the heart lining.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. CDT in the Fourth Presbyterian Church with burial in Graceland Cemetery.

Among the scores of persons sending condolences to the Field family was President Johnson, who said "Marshall Field was in the front ranks of those Americans whose lives have been spent keeping this nation informed."

Mims Thomason, president of United Press International, said "The death of Marshall Field is both a great shock and a great loss for American journalism. Throughout his publishing career, he displayed at all times his belief that there was no substitute for excellence and his great newspapers stand as a monument to this principle."

Paul Miller, president of the Associated Press and the Gannett Newspapers, said, "Mr. Field was an imaginative and resourceful editor and publisher who not only carried on great enterprises, but expanded them."

Field was the descendant of pioneer Chicago family. The Chicago department store bearing the Field name was founded by Field's great-grandfather. Field's father, Marshall Field III, made the name a powerful and respected one in newspaper publishing.

Plane Lands Safely Despite Engine Fire

MCALLEN, Tex. (UPI)—A Trans-Texas Convair with 15 passengers aboard landed safely Sunday night despite an engine fire while in flight.

Pilot H. E. McBride feathered the burning engine of the two-engine craft and put out the fire while still flying.

The flight originated in Dallas and had stops at Austin, San Antonio, and Laredo. McBride said the fire started when the plane was about 20 minutes out of McAllen.

The McAllen fire department was standing by when the plane made an emergency landing.

Dear Abby....

Nudity and Obscenity
Are Not Synonymous

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter in your column from "Interested," who was upset because the daughter of a friend of hers posed for an artist in the nude. In the first place it's none of her business what someone else's daughter is doing, and if she was any kind of a "friend" she wouldn't be so anxious to get her friend's daughter arrested for indecent exposure. The human body has been the object of many great and beautiful works of art for many centuries. The only "indecent" thing about the situation she described is the cheap gossip circulated by people with little understanding of art and beauty. Tell "Interested" that the only thing which has been exposed is her own ignorance. Sign this—
ART LOVER

DEAR ABBY: When a woman wrote to say that her friend's daughter was posing for an artist who specialized in pretty girls with very little, or nothing, on, you said the girl had a right to make a bare living. That's the trouble with this world. Everybody is making a big joke of modesty and decency. Why didn't you uphold virtue and strike a blow against nudity and obscenity, which are the same thing?

AGAINST OBSCENITY
DEAR AGAINST: Nudity and obscenity are not necessarily synonymous. The nude body, in the flesh or in an art form, when portrayed in the interest of artistic expression or realism, can hardly be called obscene. To believe otherwise would be to class Michelangelo's superb sculpture "David," which stands as naked as a radish in Florence, Italy, with girls haws and French postcards. One who does that is obscene with his eyes shut.

DEAR ABBY: It seems to me that we up here in Canada have the right idea about what to do when a man gets a girl in trouble. He either marries her or goes to jail. I know of a case where a woman had tuberculosis and her husband got the servant girl in a family way. After the wife died the man was forced to marry the girl. They lived happily together and raised a very nice family. This way of handling the situation is a lot easier on the taxpayer.

CANADIAN
DEAR CANADIAN: I am not qualified to practice law in the States, much less in Canada. But this is the first time I have ever heard of a man being "forced" to marry a woman. If you are mistaken, I am certain to hear from many Canadian lawyers. And I'll bet I do.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CAN'T DECIDE" IN CAMDEN, N. J.: No one has said it better than Lt. General Lewis B. Hershey, and I quote, "If you know what you want to be, then go on to college. If not, go into the service. You'll find guys rich and poor, smart and stupid, decent and not so decent. And that's what life is all about anyway."

Charges Are Made In Jewelry Thefts

Charges of receiving and concealing stolen articles were filed against a 21-year-old Pampa man in connection with a series of break-ins at DeJon's Jewelry, 100 S. Cuyler.

Released under a $1,500 bond on the charges was Philip Lang of 106 S. Sumner.

Pampa police stated that two youths, ages 15 and 11, had admitted breaking into the jewelry store on three different occasions, taking an undetermined number of watches and rings.

Police said the boys had made arrangements with Lang for him to dispose of the stolen merchandise.

The two youths were caught entering the building by the owner, Johnny Carter.

Police said they have recovered 31 rings and several watches stolen by the two youths and sold to them by Lang.

Police Chief Jim Conner said they also expected to recover several more watches pending further questioning of the three involved.

Report Lists Interesting Statistics

More males are involved in traffic accidents than females and Monday and Tuesday between 4 and 6 p.m. is the safest time to be on Pampa city streets.

These figures were revealed today in the monthly traffic report to the National Safety Council by the Pampa Police Department.

The report showed there were 53 traffic accidents on city streets during August which resulted in nine persons injured.

So far this year, there have been 350 accidents with 87 persons injured in Pampa. This compares with 410 accidents and 92 persons injured for the same period last year.

The report showed during August there were 63 male drivers involved in accidents and only 32 females. Also it revealed that most accidents occurred on Monday and Tuesday and between 4 and 6 p.m.

The three biggest contributors to these accidents were failure to yield right of way, following too close and speeding.

The 53 accidents in August accounted for $13,370 in property damage.

Fire Damages Been Residence

Moderate damage was inflicted to the roof of a house occupied by Don Been as the result of a fire shortly before noon Sunday.

Firemen said the blaze was caused by an un-vented hot water heater and was first discovered in the roof.

The house was being rented by Been and was owned by Charles Dykes.

No estimate of the amount of damage was made.

3-4A Teams Enter Conference Action Friday

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
With the exception of Lubbock Monterey, district 3-4A teams enter conference action this week with no less than five terms showing no defeats through two weeks of non-league battles.

The Sandies, picked to battle Monterey and Tascosa for the 3-4A championship, downed Wichita Falls, 21-0 for a 2-0 reading. Lubbock has the same record with a 7-6 decision over Odessa. Plainview is 2-0 with a 12-0 blanking of Littlefield. Monterey opened its season with a 7-6 nod over Odessa Permian and Caprock is 1-0-1 after downing El Paso, 7-0.

In other action last week, Borger, who made a surprise showing in its opener a week ago was nosed out by strong Dumas, 7-0, Saturday night. Tascosa got back on the winning track with a 21-6 victory over Midland Lee and Palo Duro lost its second straight, 15-6 to Midland. Pampa lost its second straight also, a 20-6 decision to Wichita Falls Rider.

But the pre-conference showings are over and Friday and Saturday nights the teams get down to business. Palo Duro hosts Pampa, Borger hosts Caprock, Tascosa plays at Lubbock, all on Friday night and Saturday Amarillo hosts Plainview and Monterey plays a non-league game at Midland.

Caprock, who tied another El Paso team last week, 0-0, threw up another airtight defense Saturday night and limited El Paso Coronado to only one first down.

The Longhorns scored in the second quarter on a 52-yard drive with halfback Garre Reed scoring from the one on a fourth and goal. A blocked Berger punt and great defensive play by Dumas earned the Demons a win against the Bulldogs.

AREA FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Bucks, Wheeler Set Area Pace

White Deer and Wheeler continue to set the early pace among area football teams with clean slates.

The Bucks (who didn't have an open date after all) completely outlasted Sanford-Fritch, 47-0 for their third straight victory of 1965.

The Bucks will take Friday night of this week before meeting Panhandle, Oct. 1, at Panhandle.

Memphis continued its winning ways in 2-A with a 18-6 decision over Hooker, Okla. Memphis, expected to battle the Bucks for the district championship have now won two in a row.

Wellington, another challenger, after an opening game tie, bumped Shamrock, 36-6, Friday night for victory No. 1.

Clarendon won its second of three games, this one over Panhandle for a 21-0 reading and the White Deer-Panhandle outcome will be closely watched by Clarendon.

McLean, 1-1, took the week off but comes back against a tough foe Friday night in Lefors. The game will be played at McLean.

In district 5-B Wheeler decided its second Oklahoma team, Erick, 35-0, and left no doubts it is the team to beat in the conference.

The Mustangs will take on winless Canadian Friday night at Wheeler. The Wildcats fumbled away a 27-0 decision to Sunday Friday night.

Follett, a contender, stayed aside the Mustangs with a 12-0 victory over Keys, Follett stands 2-0 in non-league action also.

Groom stayed out of the losers bracket by tying Claude, 0-0. Groom shoots for victory No. 2 Friday night when they journey to Panhandle.

Miami and Lefors both took it on the chin Friday night. The Warriors of coach Red Hart couldn't muster an offense or defense and fell 26-0 to Vega. Friday the Warriors try for their second win in three outings when they host Spearman B.

Lefors lost its season opener Friday night to Happy, 35-6. The Pirates shoot for the victory column Friday at McLean.

Extra Club Cost
Dickson Tourney
TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The 65th annual National Amateur Golf Tournament is over, and young Bob Murphy Jr. is the new champion. But the "specter of the 15th club" will lurk in the background for months to come.

Murphy won the title at Southern Hills Country Club Saturday with 92 hole total of 291. It was a Cinderella story for the 22-year-old University of Florida senior from Nichols, Fla., who turned to golf only four years ago when an injury ruined a blossoming baseball career.

He captured the big prize the first time he tried for it and became the first newcomer in 54 years to accomplish the feat. Bob Dickson of OSU was a penalized four strokes for having an extra club and finished second.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Former National Basketball Association scoring champion Bob Pettit joined the coaching staff of the St. Louis Hawks.

THE CONQUERING HERO—Ron Swoboda is the newest sensation in New York, with his slugging stealing most of the headlines for the Mets. The 20-year-old rookie is on the way to breaking the club's home run records. He is greeted, right, by Ed Kranepool (7).

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Giants, Twins Near Pennants

By United Press International
The Achilles heel of the pennant-hungry San Francisco Giants this season has been their bungling footwork on the basepaths.

Aside from 34-year-old Willie Mays, there isn't a Nijinsky in the bunch. That's why manager Herman Franks almost swallowed his cigar Sunday when Hal Lanier streaked home from first base on a bunt to score the winning run for the Giants.

"I was as surprised as anybody in the park when Lanier dashed for the plate," Franks said.

The Giants won the game 4-2 and virtually eliminated Milwaukee from the pennant race. Los Angeles remained in second place 3 1/2 games behind by blanking St. Louis 5-0, but Cincinnati still led.

cinnati fell 4 1/2 off the pace by splitting a doubleheader with Houston, losing to the Astros 8-6 in the opener before taking the nightcap 4-3.

Mays clubbed his 49th home run in the first inning and the Giants' Jim Ray Hart slapped his 22nd to give San Francisco an early 2-0 lead. The Braves rallied on a homer by Torre and back-to-back doubles by Hank Aaron and Torre in the sixth to tie the score.

Claude Osteen scattered seven singles and Jim Lefebvre and Wes Parker stroked home runs to saddle Bob Gibson, trying for his 19th victory, with his 11th defeat. Los Angeles was held hitless by Gibson until the sixth when Willie Davis singled, stole second, went to third on another single and scored on a wild pitch. Ron Perranoski worked the final inning for the Dodgers.

Tommy Harper broke a 3-3 deadlock in the nightcap with his 18th roundtripper off loser Jack Lamabe. Bill McCool blanked the Astros for the last two innings to save the victory for Joe Nuxhall, who was making his first start since Aug. 26 when he was sidelined with a sore elbow.

Bob Veale hurled a one-hitter and struck out 12 and Roberto Clemente singled to score Bob Bailey with the winning run for the Pirates in the 10th. Veale set a club record with a total of 261 strikeouts this year. The only hit off Veale was a sixth-inning single by Tony Taylor. Veale walked five men. Jack Baldschun, in relief of Chris Short, was the loser.

Cleon Jones drove in three runs as the Mets built up a 6-0 lead against loser Bob Hendley of the Cubs. Two of the tallies came on bases-loaded walks. Ernie Banks singled with the bases loaded to account for two of the Chicago runs.

The Twins struck another important blow for themselves Sunday when they downed the Washington Senators 8-1. That topped another digit off the magic number although the White Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians 7-5 and the Orioles were rained out of a doubleheader in California.

The New York Yankees blanked the Detroit Tigers 3-0 and the Boston Red Sox shaded the Athletics 3-2 in other A. L. games.

Rookie Rich Beck scattered nine hits to win his second game for the Yankees, who tagged Dave Wickersham with his 14th defeat. Roger Repoz doubled home one run and pinch-hitter Ray Barker doubled in a pair as the Yankees scored all their runs in the eighth inning. Bobby Murcer and Archie Moore had two hits each for New York.

Bill Monbouquette pitched an eight-hitter to win his ninth game for the Red Sox. Jim Gosger hit an inside-the-park homer and Felix Mantilla a two-run single to account for the Red Sox' runs. Wayne Causey and Jim Landis had two hits each for the Athletics.

PRO FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Houston, Baltimore Sparked To Victories by Quarterbacks

By United Press International
Houston's George Blanda, the oldest quarterback in the American Football League, believes he still can recapture some of his fading glory and lead the Oilers to another Eastern Division title.

Shrugging off the fans' boos when he was introduced, the 37-year-old Blanda passed for three touchdowns and kicked a field goal and four extra points to lead Houston to a 31-10 victory over the Boston Patriots Sunday.

However, the Buffalo Bills, defending AFL champions, also kept pace with Houston in the Eastern Division race by defeating the Denver Broncos 30-15.

In the only other AFL game Sunday, the San Diego Chargers moved into sole possession of first place in the Western Division with a 17-6 victory over the Oakland Raiders.

The Kansas City chiefs ruined New York's home opener on Saturday by defeating the Jets 14-10 in the only other AFL action over the weekend.

Other quarterbacks may lead the league in education, but Johnny Unitas goes to the head of the class when the pressure is on.

On the football field Unitas rates Phi Beta Kappa honors. Regarded as the NFL's smartest signal-caller, he lived up to his reputation Sunday by rallying the Colts, 1964's Western Division champs, to a 35-16 victory in the season opener for both clubs. The game, billed as a battle between pocket-passer Unitas and scrambling Fran Tarkenton, turned into a one-man show as Johnny U stole the spotlight.

Frank Ryan tossed a pair of touchdowns passes as the Browns dumped Washington 17-7 while the Cardinals' Charley Johnson, although piling up 325 yards in the air, saw Philadelphia pull out a 34-27 thriller against St. Louis.

In other NFL openers, Green Bay whipped Pittsburgh 41-9, Detroit whitewashed Los Angeles 20-0. San Francisco drubbed Chicago 32-24 and Dallas humbled New York 31-2.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Presidential Pressure

While Presidents in the past have attempted to bulldoze Congress into doing as the White House wanted, there never has been a time in our country's history when pressure such as Lyndon B. Johnson is now exerting has been directed at members of Congress.

The worst case of presidential arm-twisting came recently when Mr. Johnson determined to ram through the U. S. House of Representatives a petition for a vote on home rule in the District of Columbia. The White House is determined to get home rule this year, because the Rev. Martin Luther King has demanded that it be achieved or he will lead another March on Washington when Rev. King demands, the White House hastens to obey. Hence the fierce pressures exerted on Congressmen.

It was strictly roughstuff. Political observers report that the White House used all the power available—that is to say, promises of federal projects in congressional districts or threats of withholding federal spending. Lawrence O'Brien, who is Mr. Johnson's new Postmaster General, was reported to have set up a command post in the Capitol to direct his army of legislative liaison workers. These are the people who put the thumb screws on congressmen who don't want to bow to White House dictation.

This display of presidential pressure against another branch of the U. S. Government is interesting to consider in the light of Mr. Johnson's recent veto of the military construction bill. The President vetoed the bill because he said it trespassed on the principle of separation of powers between the legislative and executive branches of the government. The bill would have required that the Executive Branch confer with the Congress before closing certain defense bases.

Well, Mr. Johnson is furiously jealous of the rights of the Executive branch, but he is prepared to trespass on the rights of the Legislative branch whenever he wants anything accomplished. If the rubber stamp works at slow speed, he immediately sends a task force to Capitol Hill to speed up the workings of the Congress. Mr. Johnson also has been twisting the arms of Congressmen in connection with his demand to repeal section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which section provides for state right to work laws. The Majority Leader of the Senate recently declared that he thought that the Senate might adjourn early, but the words were hardly out of his mouth before Mr. Johnson said in effect "no such thing." He is adamant that the Senate stay in session until 14(b) is repealed and he has paid his debt to the union bosses.

With dozens of new federal programs which involve billions of dollars in tax funds, Mr. Johnson has a mighty array of political instruments with which to coerce Congress. There are, for example, about nine different programs for unemployed youths. This means that the President can pump millions of dollars into a congressional district or he can cut off a district without a cent. It already is established that the White House will play politics with the defense effort, giving contracts to areas that are politically cooperative. In the 1964 presidential election, the Johnson forces made it plain that those areas that play ball in politics would get plenty of defense work orders.

Another area where presidential pressure has been seen lately was in the steel strike. Truly, the country is glad that there will be no strike at this time. It would have been a terrible blow to the nation's economy. But it is tragic that in this supposedly free nation industrial disputes should receive ultimate settlement through the presidential will. If the President has the power virtually to impose a settlement between labor and industry in one situation, he has the power to impose settlements all the time.

It is a bad thing for so much power to be vested in one office and one man. The law should be written in such a manner that the free enterprise system is not at the mercy of union monopolies. If monopoly unionism did not exist, then the White House would not be in the business of determining wage scales in industry.

Certainly, thoughtful citizens should be deeply concerned over the ever-increasing power of the Presidency, and the continually tougher manner in which it is employed against the Congress—the representatives of the people and the states.

Always Do Your Best

Here's an encouraging word for those who don't like to work hard. (There are some like that, they say.)

A career specialist says that go-getters who knock themselves out so the boss will promote them actually may be going nowhere.

For one thing, they may do the job at hand so well they become indispensable and can't be spared for a better job.

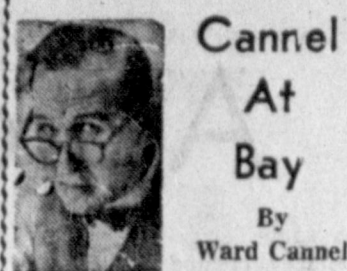

For another thing, it's possible for an eager beaver to be a whiz at what he's doing now and still not have what it takes to handle something higher up. The expert who pointed out these things wasn't suggesting that aspiring young men goof off. But he did advise Young Men On the Way Up to train a subordinate who would be able to take over if the Y. M. ON T.W.U. did get the nod.

Here's another word of advice to all young men—and young ladies, too:

A host of successful business executives have found that a pretty good way to get ahead is to do your level best at whatever you're doing—and part of your job is to train an understudy—and let nature take its course. It seems to work out amazingly well.

BERRY'S WORLD

Cannel At Bay By Ward Cannel

The Man Who Found Out NEW YORK (NEA) — The material published below will speak for itself.

It was submitted by a reader named Robert L. Kushner who says he wrote it that way because he admires the works of George Ade.

We are printing it because we like what it has to say. That it is in the style of George Ade's fables is of no real concern to us. To our way of thinking, when it comes to fables nobody can compete with what Joseph Aeschylus has been writing lately. (The Fable of The Man Who Found Out)

Once upon a time there was a man who was Not Much at parties.

He never had a Position on any Question, or a Contribution to make in any Heated Discussion. He just didn't have an Opinion. He was willing to defend at the Drop of a Hat.

Whenever he went to a party — and Everybody was talking about what Steps the President Should Take, or the Whole Trouble With People Today—well, he would shift from foot to foot and stare Moodily into his Drink.

The Plain Fact was, he didn't have any Small Talk. And he didn't have any Big Talk either. By and by Everybody began to think of him as a Real Drag. And it got so that whenever he went to a party he would sit in a chair in the corner and stare Moodily into his Drink while Everybody chattered gaily around him.

At one Such Occasion, while Everybody was chattering gaily and he was staring Moodily, a Terrific Idea came to him. "I will become an Authority in some Field or other. Then I will be able to Carry On a party conversation and Deliver Remarks that Everybody will want to hear."

The very next day, he went to the Library and took out some Books on Different Subjects. He did not find any of them particularly Diverting. But as he told himself:

"An Authority is not supposed to be Diverting. On the Contrary, he is supposed to Stick to the Point and at Last Define the Problem if not Settle it Once and For All."

Looked at that way, the assignment was less difficult. In almost No Time he had learned such things as the difference between PITCH & YAW, PROTON & NEUTRON, ID & LIBIDO.

He also learned such things as the Surface Temperature of the Planets; the Gross National Product; and the distance between Home Plate and the Center Field Ceiling in Houston.

He also learned such things as the annual import of Oil; the hourly Population Increase; and the year in which Contemporary Art began.

By now, he realized with a Start, he was more than an Authority. He had become Completely Informed.

One night, soon after, he was invited to a party. And on arriving, at the Festivities, he found that for the First Time in his Life he had Confidence in himself. Moreover, he was delighted to see that Everybody was discussing the very Topics on which he was Informed.

Then he noticed a Curious Thing. The people who were Holding Forth and defending their Opinions at the Drop of a Hat seemed to be Badly in A-rears in their facts. He was Absolutely Flabbergasted at their Ignorance.

They did not really know what a Light Year was or where Ali-gators were and. They did not know the difference between Scabiosa and Prickly Heat. If an Atomic Bomb were to fall at that moment, it occurred to him that he would be the only Person There to know What Hit Him.

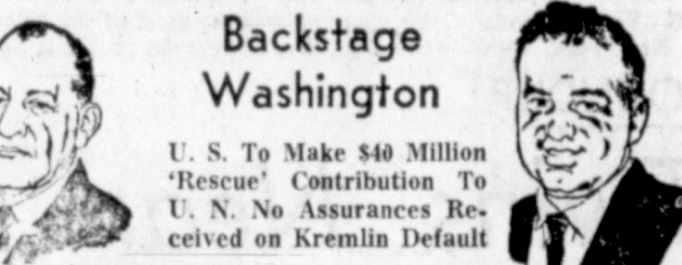

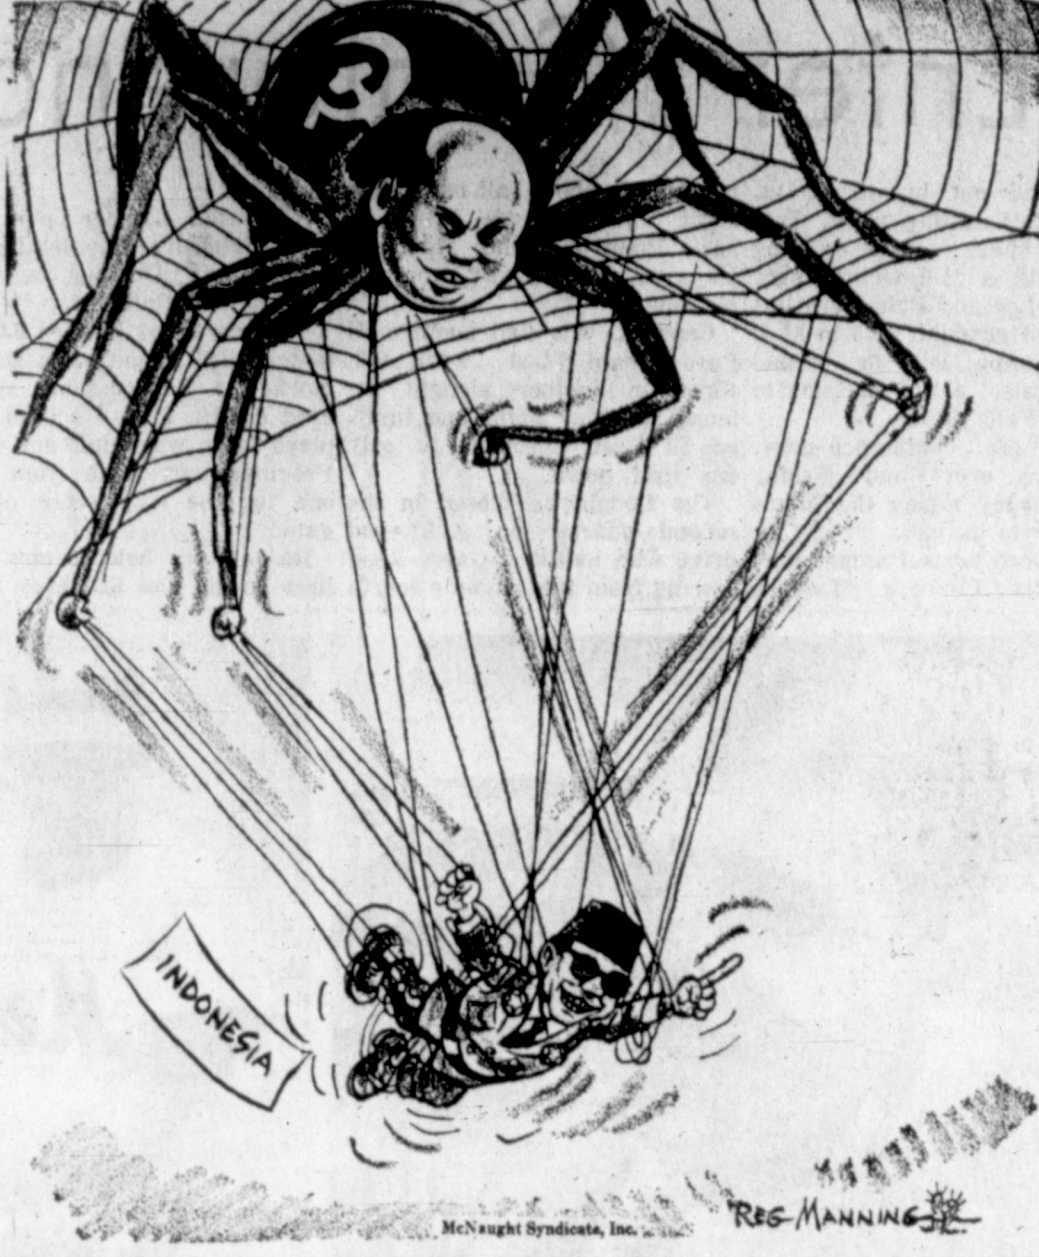

He did not take an Active Part in these discussions, but only put in his Two Cents where it was needed to Set the Record Straight.

But presently he realized that Nobody Else was talking anymore. They were all looking at him in Awe and Astonishment. No matter where he Turned or what Overtures he made, the people fell back silently and waited for him to Say Something.

After an hour or So of that Treatment, he finally found a chair in the corner where he spent the rest of the evening sitting quietly and staring Moodily into his Drink.

Backstage Washington U. S. To Make $40 Million 'Rescue' Contribution To U. N. No Assurances Received on Kremlin Default

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is capping his back-down on insisting Russia pay the $63.234 million it owes the United Nations by making a $40 million "rescue" contribution to the nearly - insolvent international organization.

This backstage decision will be announced after Congress has enacted the $3 billion - plus foreign aid budget - expected by the end of this month.

The contemplated $40 million UN "rescue" contribution will come from foreign aid contingency funds, and be made in two payments. The first will be around $25 million.

Whether this latest U. S. move will induce the Soviet to settle its large debt apparently is conjectural.

Administration insiders indicate the President and his State Department advisers determined on the "rescue" contribution with no assurance the Kremlin will do anything about its long-standing default.

Efforts are underway to get a $10 million "token" contribution from Moscow. But beyond evincing willingness to discuss the matter, the Reds have been noncommittal.

France, with $17.752 million in arrears, has been equally equivocal.

The $63.234 million owed by Russia is almost one-half the $132.121 million in back assessments due the UN from 71 member countries.

Secretary General U Thant has stated that $60 million, at the rate of $10 million a month, is urgently needed to finance the UN and its related organizations in the next six months.

This housekeeping minimum could be met with the $40 million U.S. "rescue" contribution, the $10 million sought from the Soviet, and payments from other defaulters.

In addition to the $40 million contribution, the U.S. will shortly make a final $17.4 million payment on its share of the $200 million UN bond issue launched at the initiative of the late President Kennedy. The U. S. agreed to take $100 million of these bonds on a matching basis.

So far, other UN members have purchased $93.6 million. The U. S. has bought $76.2 million, and the forthcoming $17.4 million payment will match the remaining amount.

The bonds run from 25 years, with 3 per cent interest. CEASE - FIRE PRESSURE LEVER - The $145.55 million item for contributions to international organizations in the multi-billion dollar foreign aid budget may prove a potent persuader in bringing about a truce in the India - Pakistan conflict.

Of this big fund, $43.1 million (second largest expenditure) is earmarked for the Indus Basin Development Fund, administered as the day is long.

SIGNIFICANT POSTPONEMENT — According to inside word going the rounds in Soviet satellite capitals, the 23rd Congress of the Russian Communist Party will not meet next month as scheduled. These usually well - informed sources are saying the session will be postponed until "next spring".

They also indicate a meeting of the 170-man Central Committee, policymaking body of the Congress, which confirmed the ouster of former Premier Khrushchev, is being delayed to some indefinite date. . . Communist-ruled Cuba now has 30 guerrilla training camps in full operation. According to intelligence, these training centers have turned out some 8,000 Latin American guerrillas who have returned to their own countries to engage in subversion, sabotage and other violence.

CLAMPING DOWN THE LID — The White House and State Department are strenuously trying to avert a congressional investigation of the mystery-shrouded exiling of General Wessin y Wessin, militant anti-Communist Dominican leader.

Secretary Rusk personally telephoned the chairmen of the Senate and House foreign affairs committees and told them the President wants no probe.

"The President feels this matter should be closed," Rusk told Representative Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., head of the Foreign Affairs Committee. "The President hints there has been too much publicity already. Public or private hearings could upset the Dominican situation. It's extremely precarious, and the utmost restraint must be observed."

The administration threw its weight against a congressional inquiry when word leaked out that a bipartisan group was discussing looking into reports that Wessin had been forced to leave at gun - point.

The group included Representatives Edward Derwinski, R-Ill., Armistead Selden, D-Ala., and William Murphy, D-Ill., members of the Foreign Affairs Committee. In urging an investigation, Derwinski stressed that he didn't want to make his demand a party issue, but warned the Republicans would be forced to do so if blocked by the Administration.

"According to information I have received," Derwinski said, "efforts were first made to bribe General Wessin to leave. When that wouldn't work, he was forced to leave at gun-point. As I see it, that amounts to doing the work of the Communists. If that's going to be our policy, then the American people ought to know it."

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE

Recently, I came across a letter to the editor in a Canadian newspaper. The subject was unionism and the writer was protesting an editorial.

In his letter he said: "You talk about feather bedding as a prime example of the labor organization's attempts to control the individual's right to work. I ask you, who has the softer nest, the worker or the boss?"

Here the writer has inadvertently struck at the key issue in all wage arguments. For all demands for higher wages that rest upon government force or government-backed union force ultimately come down to the idea that the "boss" has a soft job and money to burn.

In other words, the boss has profits he ought to be willing to split up with the workers.

But stop and ponder this a moment. If the boss really has it so soft, if it's true the boss makes exorbitant profits, if there really is extra money in the till that the boss can withhold from the workers — then why don't the workers become business men and enjoy this "soft nest" themselves?

The fact that they don't is a refutable proof that the profits are not too low. For if the worker would really be off going into business for himself, he'd do so.

It's said, "But it requires capital to go into business." So it does. And the "boss" had to get without a lot of things as a wage earner in order to save his capital. If the worker isn't willing to do likewise, it simply means he's not willing to earn the reward that the boss has earned.

There is nothing wrong with being either a boss or a wage earner. But neither should complain about the other. The wage earner, by not becoming a boss, is agreeing to the status quo. And the boss, by not giving up his business, is agreeing to present conditions also.

Only when the coercive power of government enters the picture does anyone have a legitimate gripe.

This same picture can be seen in the recent Los Angeles riots — when Negro leaders attempted to justify some of the rioting with remarks like "Everyone knows the businessmen in the area were exploiting the Negroes." How can a man be exploited? With thousands of stores in Los Angeles, can we really assume that Negroes were forced to do business with "exploiters"?

Anyone in the Watts area who thought prices were too high at any store stood to make a large profit by going into business for himself and underselling those who were charging too much.

One last point concerning the riots: Some businessmen in the riot area are complaining because their insurance policies are being cancelled. They are protesting to the state to do something about the situation.

Don't they understand? If an insurance company — which makes its profits by writing as many secure policies as possible — refuses to accept the business, then there must be a good reason. What good reason? It isn't safe to do business in the area!

Running to the state will only complicate things. The state has shown it is powerless to protect the citizens in the area. The businessmen should be smart enough to get out of the area before their losses become even worse.

And if you don't think they're going to get worse, please note that millions of dollars of state and federal funds are flowing into the area. When this runs out or seems to be "unjustly" inadequate, it'll be time for another (and bigger) riot.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Socialism in Bolivia Work, self - reliance, and a willingness to take responsibility for ourselves, rather than to seek to steal from others, is the way to real prosperity. In the foreign field, a good example regarding the failure of Socialism is afforded by our experience in Bolivia. During the past twenty years, we have sunk nearly $200,000,000 in that country. Although failure was obvious by 1961, nevertheless, President Kennedy announced that the United States would assist Bolivia in a long range development program. In closing his letter to President Victor Paz Estenssoro, President Kennedy declared "This great revolution has blazed a path for others to follow."

Evidently our government intended to set up a sort of model regime in Bolivia that would be an example of what could and should be done in other Latin American countries. A Kennedy representative announced in a speech in the Bolivian capital that, "Bolivia is destined to a social and economic future of incomparable brilliance."

Actually, the National Revolutionary Movement of Bolivia had been conducting a reign of assassination, torture, thievery, and terror. Under Secretary of State, Sumner Wells, described Bolivia as "an immense concentration camp." The ideology of the so-called National Revolutionary Movement was Marxian. The regime had used a strongly repressive tactics, such as exiling Bolivians, establishing a secret police, arresting and jailing the opposition, rigging elections, and intimidating newsmen.

In a recent National Review article, William S. Stokes said that in 1959 the National Revolutionary Movement had nationalized 70 per cent of the means of production, and expropriated a large part of the arable land.

Moreover, the Bolivian government seized the tin mines and boasted that they would make enough money to pay for the agrarian reforms, electrification of the country, the construction program, the construction of light and heavy industry, petroleum development, the building of schools, hospitals, and the development of water, air, and land transportation communication.

Following government seizure of the mines, production declined 59 percent during the decade of the fifties, followed by further decline in the sixties. Thousands of idle men are being kept on the payrolls and the tin mines continue to show heavy losses.

Uncle Sam's insistence on the socialization of Latin American and other undeveloped countries is no less than a tragedy for most of them. It destroys what was formally a viable economy and ushers in all the wastefulness and graft which accompanies any attempt to operate a Socialist regime. Latin American citizens send their own funds abroad faster than we can send in our aid money. We are making a bad situation infinitely worse. The free market, with encouragement for every man to do his best, is the way to success both in our country and abroad.

UNITY FOR FREEDOM

At the present moment the cause of individual liberty, constructive patriotism and sound moral value in America has reached an unusually low ebb.

History is full of the ebb and flow of great causes; the one thing we can be sure of is that movement and change will continue. We will not remain where we are. We may go up or down, or in a different direction, but we will not stand still.

If the cause of liberty, right and country is to move forward again, if the tide is to turn in freedom's favor in our time, we must attain a fundamental unity in support of it. This is especially difficult for friends of freedom precisely because they are proud to be distinct and self-reliant, independent individuals, often uncomfortable working in harness with others. In this, as well as every other respect they are the exact opposite of collectivists.

For that reason, it will continue to be necessary for a great variety of groups and individuals to undertake initiatives for freedom. But we must have at least some unity that minimal unity must include a great reluctance on the part of a ny advocate of freedom to criticize any other unless he is convinced that the object of his criticism is doing much more harm than good.

This is just as true in the field of ideas as anywhere else. Many different ideas join together to form the freedom stream. For practical purposes, our concern should be with their end result rather than their source, so long as the end result is to swell the freedom tide.

By Dick West
United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ear-lier this month, Rep. Lester L. Wolf, D-N.Y., held a series of informal hearings on the econ-omic effect of trading stamps.

He wanted to determine whether the practice of giving stamps to retail customers was contributing to the rise of food and drug prices.

There was some dispute about that, but the hearings did rather conclusively show that the stamps appeal strongly to women. Which was not exactly a big surprise.

Wall Street Chatter

New York (UPI)—Bradbury speculative selloff and still be K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson feels that it would not be surprising to see a short term reaction to the recent up-ward surge since some traders believe the rally might be com-ing to an end. On the other hand, he says, possibility of a speculative "blowoff" could extend for several sessions and bring the Dow-Jones Industrial Average back around the 900 level.

The analyst believes the possi-bility of such a setback is an excellent time for traders who did not get on the bandwagon to make commitments. The market, he says, still has en-ough strength to absorb any

HELP CALL
HAVANT, England (UPI)—Police rushed to a house here Sunday when a citizen reported someone had screamed "help." The officers found a party in progress. On the phonograph the Beatles' new hit song was being loudly aired.

More Roads To Meredith Being Studied

Additional access to Lake Me-ridith is now in the planning stage as National Park Service landscape architects from the West Coast study the lakeshore for suitable road and boat ramp locations.

Mike Becker, lake superinten-dent for the National Park Ser-vice, says more access to the new lake is badly needed to meet the expected surge of boaters next spring. The land-scape architect is to submit a report on suitable locations for additional access and ramps to Becker.

The city of Fritch, on the south side of the lake, as offer-ed to construct and pave a new road from the city limits of Fritch to the water's edge of the lake.

The road would be built to National Park Service speci-fications and would have a paved boat launching ramp where it meets the lake. It would be oper-ative to the general public.

Other access points under con-sideration include the Cedar Creed Canyon area on the south side of the lake and west of the already open Sanford-Yake Rec-reation Area. The Bugbee Rec-reation Area on the north side of the lake and west of the dam is also under consideration for a new road, boat ramp and pos-sible marina.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the aston-ishing ability to shrink hemor-roids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing sub-stance (Bio-Dynex®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 129. At all drug counters.

If there is no difference in gasolines...
still
Why are Keotane sales increasing at a rate 3 times faster than all other gasolines combined?

Even if things aren't this busy at the Skelly Station nearest you, we hope you get the message: Car owners have recently been switching to Skelly Keotane Gasoline faster than to all other gasolines combined.

In fact, in 1964—and so far in 1965—sales of Skelly Keotane Gasoline increased at a rate 3 times faster than the gasoline industry as a whole.

Why are so many car owners making the Big Switch to Keotane? We think it's because people who have tried Keotane, and compared it with other gasolines, can tell a difference.

Will it pay you to switch to Skelly Keotane Gasoline? Can you, too, get more power...or more mileage...or both? There's only one way to find out. Try 3 tankfuls of Skelly Keotane Gasoline in your car, in your kind of driving. Since Skelly Keotane costs no more than other major brand premium gasolines with-out Keotane, you can't lose. And if you do get more mileage...or more power...or smoother per-formance...you can be miles and money ahead.

Drive in at your nearest Skelly station soon and make the Big Switch to Keotane.

Try 3 tankfuls of Skelly Keotane Gasoline —and find out for yourself!
