Nobel Award For Medicine Made

ONE-CAR ACCIDENT — This 1958 model convertible overturned, spewing its six occupants over highway 60 east of Pampa early this morning when the driver evidently lost control of the vehicle. All six were taken to the hospital where five remain. Cause of the accident has not been determined.

Overtured Convertible Injures Six Pampanans

A one-car turn-over six miles east of Pampa early today sent six Pampana teenagers to Highland General Hospital.

Five of the youths were hospitalized suffering from multiple injuries and a sixth youth was treated and released.

Admitted to the hospital were Thomas L. Hassler, 20, of Pampa, in fair condition with serious head injuries; Bobby Harris, about 17, of Pampa, in fair condition with head injuries; Philip Lang, 18, in fair condition with head injuries; Ronnie Shultz, 13, of 510 Cook, in satisfactory condition and Richard DeArmon, 17, in fair condition with chest injuries.

Joe A. Dull, 18, of Pampa was treated and released from the hospital for a minor cut on the head.

The accident occurred about 12:45 a.m. this morning on U.S. Highway 60.

Highway Patrolman Paul Geisler said the driver of the vehicle, Hassler, apparently lost control of the car and overturned several times. He stated the accident happened on a straight road and he has not determined as yet what caused loss of control.

The victims were brought to the hospital by the Carmichael-Whitely Ambulance Service.

Ambulance drivers said the victims were strewn over the roadway. Geisler said all six youths had been thrown from the car as it overturned. He said the 1958 model convertible was totally demolished.

Frenchmen Named For 'No Purpose' Find

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Three French scientists were awarded the 1965 Nobel Prize for medicine today for discovering a new type of gene which directs other genes in the human body.

The three scientists who will share the $56,400 award equally are Professors Francois Jacob, 45, Andre Lwoff, 63, and Jacques Monod, 55. All are of the Pasteur Institute in Paris.

Genes are the mysterious ultramicroscopic factors in the human germ cell which determines a person's characteristics. The new type of gene the three Frenchmen discovered was described as a "regulatory" type which directs other structural genes, much as a policeman directs traffic.

The discovery has no practical purpose so far but Professor Sven Gaard, spokesman for the Nobel Committee, predicted it would play a great role in future research by scientists studying the never-ending mystery of life and how it is transmitted.

The choice of the three winners was made by the vote of about 30 scientists on the staff of the Carolina Institute. The vote was unanimous.

The prize will be presented at a banquet here Dec. 10, 69th anniversary of the death of Alfred Nobel, founder of the awards.

The Caroline Institute said the three Frenchmen were given the prize for discovering "a new class of genes" in the human body.

Jacob, Lwoff and Monod are all with the Pasteur Institute in Paris. They will split the prize money equally.

Cuba 'Shuttle' Trips Hit By Bad Weather

Refugee Fleet Bottled Up For Second Bad Day

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — Forecasts of more stormy weather at sea promised to bottle up for a second day today the small boat shuttle of Cuban refugees to freedom.

The weather bureau predicted winds up to 25 miles an hour and rough seas in the 90-mile-wide Florida Straits between the Florida Keys and Cuba.

The Coast Guard reported it had no report of small boats leaving the embarkment port at Camarioca, Cuba, bound for this country since Tuesday night.

As many as five boats were reported waiting at Camarioca to head for Florida carrying refugees, but were hemmed in by the rough weather.

Wednesday, 92 refugees were brought to freedom plus the 15 exile crewmen who sailed to Cuba to get their relatives in four small boats.

The passengers from three of the small boats found the going rough on the trip to freedom (See FLEET, Page 3)

TYPICAL DANGEROUS RESCUE — Exile Arturo Gordillo, 81, and a friend returned to Key West, Fla., aboard a Coast Guard boat after sailing to Cuba in a 21-foot boat to bring out a dozen members of his family. Authorities have warned against such "wildcat" operations because of dangerous waters but refugees with families still in Cuba are anxious lest Castro back out on his "open door" promise.

45,224 MEN

Defense Department Steps Up Draft Call

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department today stepped up the draft call again, setting a quota of 45,224 men for the Army and Marine Corps in December.

The Selective Service call was more than 10,000 men higher than the 35,000-a-month rate originally set by President Johnson. It compared with a quota of 36,450 for November.

The Defense Department said the Army would get 40,200 of the December draftees, and that 5,024 would go into the Marine Corps.

Including enlistments, the Army expects to get 47,900 recruits during December. The Marines are shooting for 8,424.

The services are engaged in 540,000-man buildup for the Viet Nam crisis. The buildup will bring them to a total strength of slightly more than 3 million men.

Though the Navy is taking 4,000 draftees during November, the department said that service would rely on enlistments during December. The Air Force has not yet used the draft.

Breakfast To Kick Off Second Phase Of Pampa-Lefors UF Campaign

The second phase of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign kicks off tomorrow morning with a 7 o'clock breakfast meeting for workers in the special gifts division at the Coronado Inn.

Headed by E. E. Shelhamer, the special gifts group is composed of five teams consisting of five workers each. Team captains are Bill Newlin, Gordon Lyons, Don Lane, Jerry Sims and Aubrey Steele.

Shelhamer said the volunteers will receive instructions and prospect cards and will begin making calls immediately following the breakfast. First check-in meeting will be at 10 a.m. Monday in the United Fund office.

This year's drive quota is $77,000 for 12 different services as against only six agencies last year. The new services are Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, Texas Association for Mental Health, United Service Organization, Medical Research Foundation of Texas, National Travelers Aid, and United Community Fund.

Carryover agencies include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Milk Fund, Red Cross, Salvation Army, and Welfare Index.

The advance gifts division led by Joe Reid began its drive earlier this week.

The theme of the campaign is "One Gift Works Many Wonders".

'GOOD' RECOVERY — Mrs. Johnson hands a cup of consommé to the President, reported making good progress from his gall bladder operation. Doctors have ordered him to remain in Bethesda Naval Hospital at least another week and keep work load to a light schedule.

LBJ's Strength Comes Slower Than Hoped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is not regaining his strength after surgery as rapidly as had been expected but his over-all recovery is "coming along fine," White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers reported today.

The Chief Executive spent a somewhat restless night at Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is recovering from his gall bladder and kidney stone operation. As a result of having slept intermittently during the night, Johnson slept later than usual today, awakening about 9 a.m. EDT.

"His recovery is coming along fine," Moyers said, "but he is more tired and weaker than anyone thought after the operation."

Within hours after his operation last Friday, Friday, Johnson took a few steps and was more active than usual for a gall bladder surgery patient on Saturday and Sunday.

He was active to the point where one of his chief physicians, Dr. James C. Cain, Mayo Clinic internist, spoke of the unusual nature of Johnson's bounce-back.

By Monday, however, customary post-operative pain around the incision and discomfort from gas developed and have been present this week in diminishing degree but still noticeable.

"He is gaining his strength more slowly than anyone thought and thus proving, after all, to be a usual patient," Moyers said. (See LBJ, Page 3)

Six Additional Agencies to Benefit From UF Appeal

When Pampanans give to the Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign this year, their gift will be divided among 12 participating agencies.

This year, six agencies have been added to the annual appeal. They are the United Community Fund, United Service Organization, Medical Research Foundation of Texas, Texas Association for Mental Health, the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, and National Travelers Aid.

National Travelers Aid Travelers aid is an intercity social service for strangers in need of help. It is composed of the National Association, its affiliate and cooperating agencies, which together provide a chain of services. These include premissibility counseling on realistic plans for making a move, emergency assistance and casework service to help with underlying problems. NTAAs assist affiliates and others to strengthen their services; maintains standards of good quality service; helps in adapting services to changing needs and gives leadership to improve the conditions of life for non-residents. In 1964 about 1 million persons were served by 94 societies and USO operations.

Mental Health Association The Mental Health Association is a volunteer citizens group, for the sole purpose of assisting the mentally ill through prevention, improved treatment at the community level and in mental hospitals, and through promotion of positive mental health.

The Texas Association for Mental Health is a division of the national association and includes chapters throughout the state.

The American Medical Association considers mental health our most pressing health problem. The need for such a voluntary movement is supported by the following facts based on a report by the American Hospital Association: one of every two hospital beds in the country is occupied by a person who is mentally ill; one of every four Americans will at some time in his or her life suffer from mental illness; it is estimated that 50-70 per cent of the patient load under care of a family doctor suffers from illness of an emotional rather than physical nature and suicide is now stated to be the eighth cause of death in America.

Medical Research Foundation of Texas The MRFT provides modest grants, perhaps only a few hundred dollars, as "seed money" for young and yet-to-be established investigators in medical and dental research.

With these small grants, men and women in white at five medical and dental schools in Texas get "off the ground" research projects which may prove the answer to killer diseases.

MRFT "seed money" many times has been the catalyst for larger and continuing research grants from such groups as the National Institute of Health, American Cancer Society, American Heart Association and others.

One researcher who benefited from an early MRFT grant is Dr. Kazko Arai, instructor in biochemistry at the UT Medical Branch.

Dr. Arai, who received her PH.D. in biochemistry at Tulane University is now in her fourth year of research in leukemia.

Dr. Arai, a Japanese-Texan, began her investigation of biochemical alterations in mitochondria of pathologic leucocytes in the fall of 1960 with an MRFT grant of $707.

She and her research team found that certain differences exist between normal and pathologic mitochondria, the small "powerhouses" or energy-producing organs within a cell.

Dr. Arai's research is centered on finding out why such alterations exist. Further study has dealt with enzymes within the leucocytes to determine whether the enzymes may cause degradation of the powerhouses during isolation.

For her work in leukemia, supported initially by MRFT, Dr. Arai has received a subsequent grant from the Leukemia Society and the American Cancer Society.

Literature Prize Presentation Set For Tomorrow

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The Nobel Prize for literature, long and loudly criticized for going to winners best known for their obscurity, will be awarded tomorrow.

Soviet novelist Mikhail Solokhov ("Quiet Flows the Don") is rated the top contender for the 1965 literature award.

The prize in this field is worth $56,000.

Since its inception in 1901, the committee charged with bestowing this honor has passed over such famous men as Chekhov and Tolstoy for men little known outside their own ballroom.

America's John Steinbeck candidly expressed his surprise at being so honored and France's Jean Paul Sartre angrily declined to accept last year when notified of being the committee's choice.

(Continued From Page 1) until they were transferred to two Coast Guard cutters. One private vessel made it on its own with 25 refugees and five crewmen.

Since Fidel Castro announced Sept. 28 his policy of freeing Cubans who no longer want to live on his island, 195 refugees have come out of Cuba on small boats.

Those who arrived Wednesday reported hundreds of others waiting in Cuba to be removed, either by small boat or when arrangements are completed between the United States and Cuba for an organized mass exodus of the expected thousands waiting to leave their homeland.

The State Department reported Wednesday that the Castro government had accepted some, but not all of the U.S. proposals for setting up a refugee transfer. More negotiations will be necessary.

Absentee Voting Light On Amendments

By United Press International
Texans turned out poorly for the opening of absentee voting on 10 constitutional amendment proposals Wednesday.

The turnout was even less spirited than for the Sept. 19 special election on an amendment to enlarge the Texas Senate. The amendment failed in a record low vote.

Most controversial of the 10 proposals to be voted on Nov. 2 is an amendment to give all statewide office holders four-year terms starting next year. They now serve two years.

Other amendments up for ratification, all passed by the 59th Legislature, would extend the Veterans Land program, set up a college student loan fund, set aside a special property tax for college buildings, enable the state to take part in Medicare, create a judicial retirement system and a teacher retirement system, allow the legislature to set salaries for the lieutenant governor and House speaker and extend terms for House members from two to four years.

Texans Set For 'Elite' Guard Unit

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Citizens in Central Texas and the Gulf Coast will make up an elite "ready" National Guard brigade to be part of a 150,000-man national force poised for instant duty.

State Adjutant General Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop said brigade headquarters will be in San Antonio and Austin. Six units will be located in Austin overall, two of them shared with San Antonio and another with Lampasas.

Flag Sale Set For Saturday

The annual Flag Sale campaign, sponsored by the Pampa Key Club, will be held Saturday, according to Jerry Masterson, chairman of the flag sales committee.

The club will have available two types of flag kits. One for $5 for a house and another which mounts in the yard for $7.50.

Anyone desiring to purchase a flag should contact any member of the Pampa Key Club, or Masterson at MO 4-4954.

The Key Club also runs a flag rental for local businesses. Rental of a flag is $18 per year which includes placing the flag in front of businesses on 15 national holidays.

Pampa Firemen Make Trash Fire Run

Pampa firemen answered a call to 212 N. Ballard late yesterday when a trash container caught fire from an unknown cause.

The small blaze was quickly extinguished and damage was confined to the outside paint.

Meat Is Stolen From Deepfreeze

An undetermined amount of meat was reported stolen from a freezer yesterday located at the home of Eddie Gray, 2000 N. Christine.

Gray told police that someone broke into his garage sometime between 7:15 and 8:50 p.m. and stole several packages of meat from his deep freeze.

When they pulled back onto the roadway their vehicle was struck by a truck.

Injured in the car-truck collision were Nick Nemsger, 18, and Marvin Byron, 16, both of Spearman and Steve Helton, 16, of Briscoe. Nemsger was admitted to Parkview Hospital where attendants reported his condition as satisfactory.

Byron and Helton were transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo with serious injuries.

Aderholt was listed in good condition at the Wheeler hospital.

Charges are expected to be filed against the youth early today.

Shoplifters Caught In Local Grab

A shoplifting spree by three women yesterday covering six clothing stores and some $300 in loot came to an abrupt end yesterday when Pampa police arrested the trio about 2 p.m.

They were apprehended after an employee of Montgomery Wards Department Store witnessed the three shoplifting several items of clothing.

The employee didn't have to go far to find police. Patrolman Charles LeFever was waiting outside the store for the trio to return to their car.

An employee of Anthony's had telephoned police earlier and said the women had been there a few minutes earlier and he had suspected them of shoplifting.

Charged in Gray County Court yesterday were Lynette Parker, 23, of Cheyenne, Okla.; Betty Hallet, 23, of Canadian and Jean Powers, 21, of Shamrock. All three entered a plea of guilty and were fined $25 and court costs.

Police said the three would enter a clothing store and while one of them kept the clerk busy the other two would stuff items of clothing into their sack and leave without paying for them.

Pampa Woman Hurt in Wreck

A two-car collision shortly before 9 a.m. today slightly injured a 49-year-old Pampa housewife.

The accident occurred near the intersection of Rham and Nelson.

Investigating officers said a car driven by Elma Jenkins, 1309 Rham, struck a parked vehicle. Mrs. Jenkins was slightly injured and didn't require hospitalization.

Damage to her vehicle was estimated at $890.

Fine Assessed On Check Charge

Mrs. Don Summers of Miami was fined $5 and court costs yesterday in Gray County Court on a charge of swindling with worthless check.

She had pleaded guilty to giving Ideal Grocery a worthless check.

Award

(Continued From Page 1) in cell genetics, while Professor Lwoff is a microbiologist and Professor Monod is a chemist. Gaard, who made the announcement, said the splitting of the prize between three scientists working in different fields of medicine "is typical because no scientific branch can exist and develop today without aid from others."

Professor Jacob, at 45, is the youngest laureat. Lwoff is 63 and Monod 55.

The announcement said the French group discovered "a previously unknown class of genes whose function is to regulate the activity of other genes."

It said these "regulatory" genes send out chemical signals which are received by other regulatory genes. These in turn switch on or off the "structural" genes which direct the synthesis of enzymes and other proteins.

Professor Gaard said the Frenchmen's discovery "has no practical purpose so far." But he predicted it would play a great role in future research.

Red China Compared With Hitler

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today likened Red China's blueprint for Communist domination of the world to the brutal policy for conquest laid out by Adolf Hitler.

The Chinese Communist strategy was described recently in a lengthy statement by Defense Minister Lin Piao and a subsequent news conference by Foreign Minister Chen Yi.

It involves "the ruthless use of force" ending finally in "wars of annihilation," Rusk said in an address to the annual convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists.

He said the Peking plans were "as candid as Hitler's 'Mein Kampf.'"

In 1967, the boundary between Maryland and Pennsylvania was finally settled. It later became the "Mason-Dixon" line.

November Proration Set At 30

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Railroad Commission today ordered a drastic increase in the state crude oil allowable, setting the November proration factor at 30 per cent of the potential production.

The October allowable was based on 288 per cent. The new market demand factor is higher than that asked by 10 of the 13 companies making purchase nominations.

The November allowable was set at 2,976,361 barrels daily, an increase of 69,696 barrels over the current allowable.

The commission estimated the new factor will result in production of 2,595,651 (m) barrels daily, after allowing for normal under-production.

Rotary Club Sees Red Cross Film

"Symbol of Humanity", a Red Cross film was shown at the Pampa Rotary Club's regular meeting by Dick Strayer yesterday noon in the Coronado Inn.

The film pointed out that the Red Cross means many things to many people in many places.

Strayer, who is a field representative for the Red Cross in Amarillo, urged the members to give generously of their time and money to the local United Fund campaign, of which the Red Cross is a participating agency.

Bill Robertson introduced the program.

Lecture on 'Lamps' To Be Presented In Lovett Memorial Library Friday Evening

LAMP COLLECTOR AND LECTURER — L. Byron Echols of St. Louis, Mo., is shown with a small portion of his vast lamp collection which will be exhibited tomorrow evening in Lovett Memorial Library. Mr. Echols will give a lecture, "The History and Origin of Lamps From Ancient Through Modern Times" at 8 o'clock in the library under the sponsorship of Pampa Art Club.

L. Byron Echols of St. Louis, Mo., will give a lecture on "The History and Origin of Lamps From Ancient Through Modern Times" at 8 p.m. Friday in Lovett Memorial Library. Portions of Mr. Echols' vast collection of lamps will also be exhibited at the lecture which is sponsored by the Pampa Art Club.

Mr. Echols is the father of Robert B. Echols of 1716 Fir, in whose home he is visiting. The lecturer, a graduate of the University of Southern Illinois, has spoken throughout the United States on "Lamps." Mr. Echols' interest in lamps began over 40 years ago and he began his collection about 20 years ago. He is one of 151

Antique Lamp Collectors in the United States and at the present time is working on a book entitled "Lamps of Yesterday." The collector has from 300 to 400 examples of lamps including one dug up in the ruins of Carthage. Included in the collection are Early American Betty lamps and oil burning lamps from the Holy Land that, according to Mr. Echols, "must be like the ones used by the wise and foolish virgins in the Bible." The rarest and oldest lamp in Mr. Echols' collection is a pottery shell excavated on the island of Crete, dating back to 3,000 B.C. that burned olive oil. Another rare lamp in the collection is a Lens lamp, of which only six are known to exist.

'Manners' Discussed at First Session Of P-TA City Council Study Course

The first session of the P-TA City Council Study Course was held Thursday at Sam Houston Elementary School. Mrs. Z. L. Land, Study Course chairman for Sam Houston, introduced Mrs. Forrest Hills, City Council Study Course chairman, who gave the welcoming address. The title for this session was "Let's Expose Our Children to Good Manners."

A panel discussion was held on "The Importance of Good Manners." Mrs. William L. Ellis discussed "Manners for Younger Children." Mrs. H. V. Wilks discussed "Manners for Teenagers." Miss Glenda Hubbard spoke on "The Importance of Good Manners in Any Phase of Living in Order to be a Success." Mr. Jan Farley discussed "The Importance of Manners in the Student - Teacher and Student - Student Relationship." Mrs. Joe Di Cosmo talked on "The School Looks at Manners," and Mrs. R. A. Mack discussed "Manners in Daily Living."

Mrs. Peggy Fisher introduced Mrs. Jack O. Miller, Mrs. Forrest Hills, Mr. Joe Page and Mr. Sam Begert, who gave a humorous skit on "Bad Manners of Adults."

Mr. Warren Hasse spoke on "Manners of Adults at Sports Activities," pointing out the usual attitude of the adult to require good sportsmanship on the part of the players, but not to be concerned about the sportsmanship of the fans. Also included in Mr. Hasse's presentation was "The Sportsman's Creed" which follows:

THE PLAYER — He lives clean and plays hard. He plays for the love of the game; he wins without boasting, he loses without excuses, and he never quits; and he respects officials and accepts their decisions without question.

THE COACH — He inspires in his boys a love for the game and the desire to win; he teaches them that it is better to lose fairly than to win unfairly; he leads players and spectators to respect officials by setting them a good example, and he is the type of man he wants his boys to be.

THE OFFICIAL — He knows the rules; he is fair and firm in all decisions. He calls them as he sees them; he treats players and coaches courteously and demands the same treatment for himself, and he knows the game is for the boys and lets them have the spotlight.

THE SPECTATOR — He never boos a player or official; he appreciates a good play, no matter who makes it; he knows the school gets the blame or the praise for his conduct, and he recognizes the need for more sportsmen and fewer "sports."

Evening Opti-Mrs. Schedule Projects

Plans for two "Ways and Means" projects and the December social were discussed at the regular meeting of the Evening Opti - Mrs. Club held Tuesday evening in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank Building. Mrs. Art Ziebarth, president, presided.

Mrs. W. C. Epperson reported that the Club had served as hostesses for the Senior Citizens meeting on Thursday, Sept. 20. She was assisted by Mmes. James Scott, R. L. Parsley, Walter Hurst and Bill Leonard. The door prize was won by Mrs. Epperson. Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. Howard Adamson, Bill Leonard and William R. Brown.

VFW Auxiliary Honor Roll Met

VFW Auxiliary to Post 1657 met recently in VFW Hall with Mrs. Vernon Stuckey, president, presiding.

The meeting opened with the ritual and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag followed by prayer. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and honor roll requirements were met by making a donation to the National VFW Home and by ten per cent of the members paying dues.

A letter of thanks was read from the Red Cross expressing appreciation for 80 ditty bags for service men in Viet Nam made by the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Cordie McBride and Mrs. Hadda Moore were approved for membership and plans were made for a Halloween social to be held Oct. 19.

Mrs. Jack Boyd was elected chaplain, replacing Mrs. Cleo Goff who had resigned, and Mrs. May Muse was appointed color bearer.

Mrs. Anna Eckroat and Mrs. Tony Smith were reported ill. Members present were Mmes. Corene Bell, Jack Boyd, M. A. Muse, Carl Wright, Cora Yates, Mary Hudgel, Ray Jones, Jimmy Clifton, Dale Kreimeyer, Leslie Henderson, Emmett Gee, Bessie Dezern, R. D. Morris, Hulda Smith and Vernon Stuckey.

JACK FROST

Winter's coming, and soon. The long, dreary, winter afternoons can be brightened if the children have a place to expend their energy. Today's style leans to ceramic tile areas coming in for rugged wear and tear; children can't mar it no matter how hard the play. Fall is the perfect time to remodel that "spare room" into a winter playground for those husky youngsters.

Dear Abby.... Change Roommates Or Rooms But Not Ideas

DEAR ABBY: The sorority house I live in is built so the back of our house faces the back of a fraternity house, which gives the boys at the fraternity house a clear view of our back bedrooms. I heard that the boys over there have more binoculars than a field division in Vietnam. I have one of the back bedrooms. I keep my shades down all the time, but my roommate pulls them up whenever my back is turned. She says the room is "stuffy" and she likes fresh air. I remind her that the boys could get a free show and she says, "Oh, what's the difference?" How do I explain it to her?

MODEST: If your roommate doesn't know the difference, she ought to borrow a pair of binoculars and find out. If you can't change rooms, change roommates, but do not change your ideas.

DEAR ABBY: How should a son's wife introduce his parents to strangers? We have been introduced as "my in-laws." Isn't this a bit uncouth?

It seems to me that it would be more appropriate to be introduced as "Mother and Dad So and So."

"THE IN-LAWS" There is nothing "uncouth" about referring to one's in-laws as in-laws. It is true, "Mother and Dad So and So" does connote more warmth and affection, but unless it's sincere and spontaneous, let it go. She might just drop the "Mother and Dad" and use only the "So and So."

DEAR ABBY: Last August my husband and I were invited to a wedding, and we personally delivered the gift to the bride's home the day before the wedding. It seems the bride was too busy to send thank - you notes, so she combined them with their Christmas greetings. Their commercially - printed card read something like this: "Merry Christmas and thank you for the wedding gift." Since we were not on their Christmas card list, we didn't even receive one of these! I am shocked by this breach of etiquette. And espe-

Mrs. Mary Johnson Marks 93rd Birthday

WHEELER (Sp) — Mrs. Mary Annie Johnson was honored on her 93rd birthday on Sept. 12, at the American Legion Hall in Wheeler. The day was spent visiting and making pictures. Mrs. Johnson was born Sept. 10, 1872, in Marsgall County, Ala., and came to Texas at the age of 13. She and the late R. O. Johnson were married on Nov. 20, 1888, at Mount Vernon, Texas. To this union were born 12 children. Of this number ten survive. She also raised a niece, Mrs. David Hamilton of Snyder, Okla.

Mrs. Johnson has 33 grandchildren, 65 great - grandchildren, and 25 great - great grandchildren. Out of the twelve children and grandchildren only one has been born on Mrs. Johnson's birthday and that is Mrs. Mary Hickox of California.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR FRIDAY, OCT. 15
GENEAL TENDENCIES: — One of your best days and evening for looking at everything in a very logical light and for expanding and extending your interests far beyond their present scope, as well as getting in touch with influential persons to get them to give you a hand.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Ideal day for getting out to the business people and — or others in the creative world to state your ambitions. You get quick cooperation, support. Show much ingenuity.

TARUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — You now have work, activity, opportunity released to you so that you can add much to your present income. Use objective approach. Don't waste a moment and accomplish a great deal.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — If you show charm with others, you get their good will and benefits flow. Expand in very different directions. Let others realize you are devoted and you get excellent results.

MOON CHILDREN (Jan. 22 to July 23) — Get rid of whatever you don't need but retain what is still good and valuable. Find the friends who can help you secretly. This association can show benefits far into the future.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Calling on good friends will reveal how and where you can be of help to you. Have happy reunions as well. Social functions can be truly delightful in the evening, in particular.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) — Do anything that can make you more popular and build you up with the public in general. Get into such vocations as will give you a chance to use special talents. GROW.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Getting into the world of activity and finding the ideas, outlets of your choice is quite easy now. Learning, studying, experimenting are all fine. Be more scientific.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 23) — Organizing, systematizing, property, assets, etc. Later, be sure to encourage loved one. A good friend needs a pat on the back, also.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — You have to speak up now with associates over any ideas, points that need clarification. Then get together at a fine dinner. Or go out to some place of amusement.

French-Type Strawberry Cheese Flan Is Dessert for Special Dinner Party

STRAWBERRY CHEESE FLAN sings of France. By GAYNOR MADDOX, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For a very special dinner party where a particularly handsome dessert is in order, serve this Strawberry Cheese Flan, a colorful French-type dessert. It is baked in a flan ring, the French version of the American pie plate. It is a straight-sided rim about 1-inch high without a bottom and it can be found in houseware sections throughout the country. But if you prefer, use a 10-inch pie plate.

STRAWBERRY CHEESE FLAN
(Serves 8 to 10)
Flan Ring

1½ cups unsifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
9 tablespoons sweet butter
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons water or lemon juice
2 tablespoons grated almonds

Filling
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
¼ cup powdered sugar
¼ cup sour cream
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Topping
1 package (1 pound) loose pack whole frozen strawberries

To make flan ring, sift together flour and salt. Beat butter, sugar and egg yolk until light. Work in flour, liquid and almonds. Shape into a ball. Wrap and chill one hour. Meanwhile, place a 10-inch flan ring on a cookie sheet. Roll out chilled pastry into a circle 1½ inches larger than flan ring. Fit pastry into ring and trim edges neatly with top edge of pan. Prick bottom well with fork. Bake in preheated hot oven (400 degrees) 20 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool.

For filling, let cheese soften in mixing bowl at room temperature. Blend in sugar, sour cream and lemon rind; then whip until light and fluffy. Spread evenly in bottom of pastry shell. Wrap with foil or plastic wrap and chill.

To serve, defrost strawberries and drain thoroughly. Arrange on cheese filling, covering surface completely and placing tips of berries upward. Heat jelly in saucepan, stirring until melted. Add liqueur, if used. Spoon mixture over fruit to coat each berry evenly. Serve immediately.

To clean silverware, excluding hollow handled pieces, place in a shining aluminum pan; sprinkle with mild soap flakes of granules and cover with boiling water. When water is cool, the silver is cleaned, ready to rinse and dry.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this weekend was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and released to United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Week-end shoppers generally will find good supplies of vegetables. There should be a good quantity of poultry, and production of meats is high in some areas.

A careful shopper, checking specials and promotions, can find some good buys.

For a good protein buy for your family, get chicken and turkeys. Roast beef and steaks continue to be generally good buys in most markets.

In the vegetable market, brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, radishes, squash, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes are in good supply.

A word to the wise: Good buys include apples, bananas, grapefruit, grapes, oranges, and melons. Many vegetables and fruits are having record harvests.

Nationally, fish sticks and canned tuna are plentiful.

No Need to Cool Food in Advance

Many women mistakenly insist on cooling food before putting it into the refrigerator-freezer, even though food keeps best when it is refrigerated promptly.

In the days of iceboxes, warm food in the icebox caused the ice to melt more quickly. Later, when electric refrigeration came onto the scene women still hesitated storing a hot turkey in the refrigerator, in the belief it would steam up the interior of the appliance and cause frost to form.

Today, with the advent of no-frost refrigerator-freezers, food specialists advise homemakers to refrigerate or freeze food, whether warm or cold, right away for maximum freshness and flavor. Storing warm food is practical because frost cannot form in either the refrigerator or freezer compartment of a fully no-frost unit.

Sausage Pasta

Spaghetti with sausage sauce is a company dish. Cook 2 pounds of pork sausage meat over low heat until browned. Drain off drippings. Add to the pan 2 medium onions, chopped, and 2 medium green peppers, chopped. Cook 5 minutes. Add 4 cans (8 ounces each) of tomato sauce. Add pepper to taste. Mix well. Cover and cook over low heat for 40 minutes. Makes enough for 1-pound of spaghetti, or 8 servings.

TASTING BEE — Mrs. Billy J. Kennedy, Mrs. Blanche Jordan and Mrs. Malcolm McClelland, left to right, are pictured tasting dishes to be served at a Tasting Bee tomorrow in St. Paul Methodist Church, 511 N. Hobart. The Tasting Bee, sponsored by the WSCS of the church, will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any WSCS member and may be purchased at the door. Recipes will be available for each dish served.

Roasting Hint: Cook It Slowly

The best results can be obtained where automatic temperature controls, such as those found in new electric ovens, maintain precise, even heat. Some models have temperature

For Sweet Tooth

Nutty candy balls are easy to make. Heat 3½ cups of puffed rice in a shallow pan in preheated 350-degree oven for 10 minutes. Pour into large greased bowl. Stir in ½ cup of salted peanuts. Combine ¼ cup of light corn syrup, 2 tablespoons of water and ¼ teaspoon of salt in small saucepan. Cover; bring to boil. Uncover; cook to soft ball stage, 236 degree F, on a candy thermometer. Stir in 1 tablespoon of butter. Pour over Saucy muffins make good breakfast fare. Mix grated cheese with canned apple sauce and use as a spread for toasted, buttered English muffins.

Make an easy dessert by cutting a thick slice of honeydew melon and filling its center with a favorite berry sherbet.

Foreign News
Commentary

By K. C. THALER
LONDON (UPI)—Communist China is reported to be masterminding a new campaign against Thailand in an apparent attempt to open another front in Southeast Asia.

Diplomats say Peking's campaign against Thailand is aimed at provoking a revolt there against the present government.

The move is part of China's "flexible strategy" in Southeast Asia, the reports said.

The growing American build up in Viet Nam and the Viet Cong failure to score a major victory during the recent monsoon season were understood to be causing anxiety both in Hanoi and Peking about the Communist prospects in that part of the world.

China is therefore looking for possible alternatives with stepped up subversion in Thailand as the immediate target.

Peking's toughening policy is also partly prompted by recent severe setbacks on other international fronts which threaten China once again with diplomatic isolation.

Peking was understood to be increasing assistance to the clandestine Thai Communist Party's campaign to win power in Thailand. The party is largely Peking oriented.

The reports said there are growing indications that Peking is trying to build up puppet regime as a "front" for the Communist Party which it hopes could help to undermine and overthrow the present pro-Western regime.

Peking's designs have been spotlighted by a meeting a few days ago between Mao Tze Tung and Pridi Phanomjong, a former Thai premier who has been living in exile in China for many years, the reports said.

There was speculation the move signalled Peking's intention to use him as a possible front man for a new major "liberation" campaign.

Peking has set up "liberation movements" in Thailand as part of its campaign of subversion. They are the "Independence Movement" and the "patriotic Front."

Liaison with the Thai Communist and liberation movements is maintained by Wu Hsiu Chuan who is the contact man between China's Communist Party and foreign parties.

Just how far and how fast Peking intends to go at present in its campaign of subversion of Thailand remains an open question. Peking apparently is "probing" presently, but some diplomats believed it is set for an all-out onslaught.

Peking's rulers were believed in a "truculent mood" at present and the recent diplomatic setbacks in other international theaters — Algeria, India, Indonesia — appear to be prompting China's leadership to look hurriedly for alternative fields of activity.

Business Highlights

By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—"Market fever" on the part of the public is playing a part in the current surge of stocks, some brokers feel. In a rousing 9.6 million share day Monday, the Dow-Jones Industrial Average soared 4.3 points to a new high.

WASHINGTON — A Supreme Court ruling Monday will compel Howard Hughes and Hughes Tool Co. to go through full hearings before the Civil Aeronautics Board in order to regain control of Trans World Airlines. The Supreme Court sustained a lower ruling to this effect.

ST. PAUL—Theodore Hamm Brewing Co., which was blocked early this year from merging with the Canadian Moison's Brewery interests, has agreed to sell all its stock to Heublein, Inc., of Hartford, Conn., diversified makers of liquors and food products. The owners rejected a cash offer of $92.7 million for the business from Rheingold, Inc., on the grounds that the Justice Department probably would block sale to another brewing company. Hamm said Heublein agreed to pay about the same as Rheingold offered but in preferred stock.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN. — Campaigns now are underway for and against the 10 proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on November 2.

However, little is being said on behalf of perhaps the most controversial of all the proposals — extending the terms of office of the governor and other statewide officials to four years. Gov. John Connally promised an all-out drive for it. Organized labor strongly opposes the term stretch-out.

A 46-member committee of leading citizens, headed by Dallas banker Ben H. Wooten, is pushing Amendment 1 to increase the state college property tax levy for college building purposes from five to 10 cents. Opposition to the tax increase is developing in San Antonio.

State Bar Association is battling for Amendment 8. It provides for automatic retirement of over-age judges and sets up a commission to recommend disciplinary action against misbehaving judges.

A variety of groups have kind words to say for Amendment 2 to increase the Veterans' Land Fund to $200,000,000 and revive the program of long-term, low-interest loans to veterans for farm-ranch land buying, but there is opposition here, too.

Other amendment proposals: Permitting Texas' participation in cooperative federal-state programs of assistance to and medical care for aged, needy and handicapped; clarifying investment authority for the board of trustees of the teacher retirement system; authorizing the Legislature to set up an $85,000,000 student loan fund; exempting certain hospitals from local property taxes; permitting the Legislature to raise salaries of Speaker of the House and Lieutenant Governor and to increase lawmakers' expense allowances from $12 to $20 a day; and lengthening terms of state representatives from two to four years.

Many observers have expressed concern that opposition to the four-year-terms amendments may spread over to other less controversial measures. A light voter turnout is forecast. ILLNESS STRIKES GOVERNOR — Flu confined Governor Connally to his bed all last week.

On advice of his doctor, he cancelled speeches in El Paso, Paris, Houston and Dallas. He's taking no chances on a relapse, since he is scheduled to leave the country for Japan and Vietnam on a State Department-sponsored tour for governors late this month.

TEXAS BUYS PLANE — State is buying, for $85,000 a used, 11-passenger twin-engine airplane for use of the governor and other state officials. Legislature this year appropriated $275,000 for purchase of the plane and allotted another $150,000 to maintain it. But Connally elected to save money and invest in a time-tested used model which has been completely reconditioned and equipped with latest safety and communications equipment.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court, reversing lower courts, threw out State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's cancellation of Houston tobacco wholesaler Mair J. Schepps' ("House of Tobacco, Inc.") state permit.

Court, in one of its 114 rulings opening day of its 1965-66 session, said Calvert's cancellation was unconstitutional because he held no hearing on case.

Harry M. Harrington Jr., Longview oilman, asked court to throw out as unconstitutional the law under which attorney general has brought more than 100 civil penalty suits against slant-well operators and won more than $1,600,000 in penalties for state. Harrington, with three others, was assessed $304,800 in penalties.

High court in other cases: —Agreed Shell Oil Company should be permitted to install its trademark on seven service stations leased from El Paso Natural Gas Products Company.

—Declined to review lower court dismissal of Lower Neches Valley Authority suit against City of Beaumont.

—Set a hearing December 1 in controversy over Hurricane Carla insurance claims.

—Rejected effort of Corpus Christi lawyer to get two other attorneys disbarred.

RECORD LEASE SALE REPORTED — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said addition of $6,800,000 from last state oil and gas lease sale of 1965 brought the year's total to a record $85,000,000.

Sale covering 131,660 acres of land located throughout the state averaged over $52 per acre on bonus payments. High bids were made by Phillips Petroleum Company which paid $293,760 for each of two Gulf of Mexico tracts in Brazoria County.

All leases, except four river and bayou tracts, were awarded by the School Land Board for five-year terms and a one-sixth royalty on production. River and bayou tracts were leased for two years.

New income boosted permanent public school fund to over $652,000,000.

COTTON PACT SIGNED — Threat of a Texas embargo on Mexican cotton was ended last week with the signing of a new agreement by U.S., Mexico and Texas regulating planting on both sides of the border.

Agreement, reached in two-day conference at Brownsville and Matamoros, set planting dates of February 1 - March 31; stalk destruction deadline at August 31; and plow-up by September 15. Experimental late planting would be permitted only at agricultural experiment stations in Matamoros and Rio Grande Valley Areas.

AG RULES — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled a Commissioners Court may not lease a county hospital if the lease allows the lessee to encumber the land, buildings and equipment. The court may not create debts in any manner other than time warrants or bonds duly voted upon by the property holders of the county.

In other rulings, Carr said: —Commissioner of Indian Affairs may execute long-term leases with federal agency for public housing on tribal land —but only with approval of a majority of Indians on Alabama Coushatta Reservation.

—Reserve for bad debts and reserve for bond depletion for First Lockhart National Bank are not taxable to bank, but should be taken into consideration in determining value of bank stock for ad valorem tax purposes.

—Tabloid "National Informer" and "National Tattler" publications meet test of "weekly newspapers."

—Parks and Wildlife Department is authorized to participate in Land and Water Conservation Fund Act and receive federal grants-in-aid.

MODERN STATE PARKS — Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has released a full color film, available to clubs and various other groups, depicting the step-by-step conversion of areas into public recreation parks.

Film shows how state funds have been put to use in modernizing state parks all across Texas.

DRAFT TALK — Young men who married before August 27 may be called for physical-mental examinations by some Texas draft boards in November. This, to help fill the Texas quota of more than 6,000 men.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said the decision was made because some local draft boards may not have enough men otherwise.

Order doesn't pertain to married men with children.

Draft - age men are warned by Selective Service that it's a criminal offense to mutilate draft cards and subjects draft, to five years imprisonment, a fine up to $10,000, or both. Destroying a card can speed up induction, warning said.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — House Speaker Ben Barnes named Rep. Steve Burgess of Nacogdoches to South Central Interstate Forest Fire Protection Compact Advisory Committee.

He designated Reps. Nell Caldwell of Angleton, L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi and Renal B. Rosson of Snyder as delegates to conference on workmen's compensation and rehabilitation in Oklahoma City this week.

Barnes appointed Reps. W. T. Dungan of McKinney, John Ray Harrison of Pasadena, Alonzo W. Jamison Jr. of Denton, Georg. H. Richards of Huntsville, and Vernon J. Stewart of Wichita Falls to the House Interim Committee on Juvenile Crime.

State Securities Commissioner William M. King announced addition of J. Alan St. John to his staff as securities analyst. Other additions announced by King: attorneys Dain Whitworth, J. E. DeVilbiss and Hugh Wright; and securities analyst Lewis Keith.

TEXTBOOK PROTEST — A total of 324 textbooks are being studied by the State Textbook Committee for possible adoption in Texas public schools, but five are being protested.

All of the books protested deal with economics, and all of the publishing houses involved have filed answers to the protesters, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gabler of Longview.

MENTAL RETARDATION — First Governor's Conference of Mental Retardation, climaxing a two-year statewide study of the problem, will be held March 17-19 in Austin.

Conference will be charged with the task of providing recommendations on how to provide a better life for the mentally retarded.

Twelve task forces developing a tentative state plan to combat the problem have slated October 16-17 meeting in Austin.

Evicted SAINT SULPICE, Switzerland (UPI) — Police escorted a Dutch-born American citizen out of his home and said they were deporting him because he refused to lower his villa 14 inches to comply with new building codes.
The police waited several hours until hundreds of sympathetic villagers shouting anti-police slogans dispersed from around the house. Henry Fentener, a 44-year-old naturalized American who has lived here several years, denied he had broken any law. He said plans for his villa were approved a year before the new building regulations came into force.

PREPARING FOR ROCK SHOW — Canadian River Gem and Mineral Club president, Bill Bumpers, of 2227 Williston, is shown slabbing a petrified log that he found on a recent rock hunting trip to Utah. Several rocks cut by this 24-inch saw with diamond cutting edge will be displayed by Bumpers at the Fifth Annual Rock Show to be held in the Cafeteria in Bunvista in Borger on Saturday and Sunday.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Time For A Careful Review

According to some accounts, Congress has done so much work this year there will be little to do next. This is not going to be the case. While some history-making bills were enacted in this First Session of the 89th Congress, next year's Second Session seems certain to bring another long list of proposals. Some of these future actions already have been forged in Congressional committee hearings, deliberations and decisions, the essential preliminaries to consideration by the full House and Senate. Congress is expected to adjourn within a few days, but committee activity will continue at an abbreviated pace as legislation is shaped for consideration in 1966.

Controversy of the most heated kind has marked much of the legislation enacted in the two years of the 88th Congress and in this first year of the 89th. Every citizen of the country is affected in direct ways by new programs in taxation, defense and foreign affairs, education, housing, public health and welfare, agriculture, transportation, and a number of others. In 1966, Congress must give careful review to these programs to determine whether they are producing the results promised by those who advocated their adoption. Whether the process is to be called "revision," "reform," or "reorganization," Congress must seek improvements through amendments.

I hope Congress will have the courage to terminate programs that cannot be made effective. The opportunity to do so will come as the House and Senate act on appropriations for Executive Branch departments and agencies and the activities they conduct. For example, I have for years sought to end the inefficient and ineffective foreign aid program by working and voting against the appropriations bills as well as the bills authorizing foreign aid activities. It's this simple: No foreign aid appropriation, no foreign aid program. And those who would downgrade the Constitutional roll of Congress should bear firmly in mind that Congress holds the Federal government's purse strings.

The year 1966 could be the year in which Congress exercises what is too often a neglected responsibility, that for conducting what is called "oversight of administration" or "legislative oversight." These terms simply mean that Congress, having authorized and funded a government activity, has a responsibility to see that it functions as Congress intended. Thus, Congress "oversees" program administration by conducting reviews and investigations. In a second sense, Congress checks for "oversights"—things it failed to take into account—in the original legis-

Lake Meredith Concessions Okay

Temporary marine gasoline and oil concession and food facilities will be placed in operation at Lake Meredith Blue West Recreational Area Oct. 17, Supt. M. J. Becker reported today. The concession will be similar in size and scope as to the one presently in operation at Sandford-Yake Area.

Dietz and Sons of Borger have been granted a temporary concession permit for the operation of mobile facilities at Blue West Resort, effective Oct. 17. The concession will remain in operation on Sundays only, until about Dec. 1 and will reopen in the Spring.

Blue West is located on the West side of Blue Creek. To reach Blue West the best route from Borger and Eastern points would be by way of Highway 15 to Stinnett, and 11 miles west of Stinnett turn south at the Sneed Camp turnoff. It is an additional 13 miles to the junction of the Blue West Resort County road.

Fishing, boating and picnic supplies will be available at Blue West.

lation authorizing a program or activity. Major Congressional investigations are often held in the exercise of this vital function. An example of one such highly publicized probe was the television quiz show investigation conducted by the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee's subcommittee on legislative oversight, of which I was then a member.

The purpose of the hearing was not only to expose the deception practiced against the public through rigged TV quiz shows but also to formulate new legislation giving the Federal Communications Commission and the courts authority to deal with such abuses in the future. I have often pointed out that Congress sometimes enacts major legislation without providing sufficiently detailed guidelines to insure that Congressional intent is carried out. Measures too broadly outlined become distorted in the hands of bureaucrats who administer them. When administrators are given the ability to fill in details of loosely drawn legislation they are, in effect, legislating. Congress not only has abrogated its responsibilities, it has also permitted further erosion of the Constitutional principle that the Federal government is to consist of three separate and distinct branches. A year in which exercising the "legislative oversight" function is paramount could be as productive, in its way, as this year has been. By concentrating on this area of its responsibilities, Congress could regain its proper role in supervising Government operations.

Recent visitors included Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Whitney of Amarillo with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Whitney of Norfolk, Virginia; and Mr. S. B. Whittenburg, Mr. Thomas H. Thompson, and Mr. Don Boyett, all of Amarillo.

MUST DO WELL
WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., predicts the "death knell of the two party system" if his party does not do well in next year's elections. Interviewed on UPI Audio's Washington report, Ford said a bad showing by the GOP next year would also mean that the 1968 Republican presidential nomination "won't be sought after by a great many people." The GOP leader said that the party's most important task was to recover from its disastrous defeat in 1964, when the Johnson landslide caused heavy Republican losses in Congress, state legislatures and governors' mansions.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ten U.S. governors will visit Japan Oct. 20 for the third annual exchange program with governors of Japanese prefectures. Following their talks in Japan, a State Department spokesman said Wednesday, they will visit South Viet Nam Nov. 5-8 at the invitation of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Imagine that you tuned in your favorite football team on television and you suddenly noticed that the field had been shortened from 100 to 80 yards for the game. The reason, you learn, is that the home team has a boy who can throw a pass 70 yards, and wants to increase its scoring opportunities.

The whole notion of such moves is idiotic, you say. It wouldn't be allowed. The idea is that two teams should always meet on the same size playing field so that a true test of strength can be determined. The television watcher knows that this is indeed the case—in football. But the viewer of the first six games of baseball's World Series on NBC-TV can only conclude that the sport's tolerance of different size playing fields has made the championship showdown a sort of mockery. After Wednesday's sixth game, the Los Angeles Dodgers and Minnesota Twins had each won three contests—and, by coincidence, each team had triumphed three times at home. Thus, to the televiewer who is baseball fan first and a team fan second, only this had been proved. The Dodgers are the champions of the world in their park. And the Twins are the champions of the world in their park.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — On the day the glue pot overflowed, there was one sweet mess in the candy kitchen. But that is not why Peter Paul fired Fannie May.

The glue pot accident—if it was an accident—only started the chain of events that led to her dismissal.

The dismissal, in turn, led to an unfair labor practices case that is, so unusual, such a switch from the normal pattern, it fairly takes your breath away.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), which investigated the case, never did determine who opened the valve under the glue pump, thus causing the pot to overflow.

It is clear, however, that two or three gallons of glue spilled onto the floor and ruined a big stack of wrapping paper.

Unusual Happening
This happened last November at the Dallas, Tex., plant of Peter Paul, Inc., a candy company. Under normal circumstances, it probably would not have wound up in an NLRB hearing.

But, as NLRB examiner George L. Powell pointed out in a recent report on the case, a union organizing campaign was in progress at the time and "tempers were on edge."

According to Powell, the plant manager called in for questioning an employee named

Fannie May Ray. Any similarity between her name and that of another candy company is purely coincidental.

Although it was Fannie May who turned on the glue pump that fateful November morning, she denied responsibility for the spillage. The manager said he wasn't accusing her of anything, but instructed her not to turn on the glue pump any more.

Fannie May, apparently ruffled, produced a $5 bill and threw it on the manager's desk, saying, "I'm gonna pay for the glue." The manager said that wasn't necessary and tried to hand it back. She refused to accept it.

Back And Forth
The manager dropped the bill in Fannie May's lap. She threw it back on the desk. He laid it in her lap again. She returned it to the desk.

"The $5 bill passed back and forth several more times," Powell reported. At some point, one side fumbled and it fell to the floor. But Fannie May stood firm.

In the next couple of days, other efforts were made to return the money. Finally she was told that if she didn't take it back she would be fired. She didn't and she was.

Fannie May argued that she was fired for union activity, but Powell upheld Peter Paul's contention that she was insubordinate.

Streisand Sues
NEW YORK (UPI)—Barbra Streisand, star of the smash musical "Funny Girl," filed a $2.5 million suit Monday against the National Broadcasting Co. and Trans World Airlines, charging they used her name in advertisements without permission.

"These parasitical commercial activities have already caused me great personal anguish and have injured my status so painstakingly and purposefully developed," Miss Streisand said in her suit. The court ordered a hearing on the suit Wednesday. Until then, the firms were enjoined from using the advertisements.

CONTROVERSIAL APPOINTMENT—Francis X. Morrissey and his wife enjoy a 'light moment' at Washington hearings on his appointment by President Johnson as a federal court judge in Boston. The appointment is criticized by the American Bar Assn. and some congressmen as a reward for services to the Kennedy family. Morrissey is supported by Massachusetts political powers Sen. Edward Kennedy, in background, and House Speaker John McCormack.

Who Owns a Letter?
Interesting letters may give birth to interesting notions. Such as:

"I'd better not throw away this letter from Fred. He might become famous some day, and then the letter could be worth a lot of money as a collector's item."

Suppose Fred really does become famous and his letter valuable. Would it belong to you, because it was sent to you? Or would it belong to Fred, because he created it?

The law's deft solution is to divide the ownership of a letter into two separate rights — the right of possession and the right of publication. The recipient has the right of possession of the paper and ink. He may keep the letter as a memento, sell it to a collector, or even toss it onto a bonfire if he pleases.

But the right of publication — to make copies and exploit it as a literary work — still belongs to the original writer.

This division of rights was illustrated in a famous lawsuit involving some personal letters written by Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science. After Mrs. Eddy's death, her executor tried to prevent the auctioning of these letters.

The court ruled that the sale itself could not be prevented, because Mrs. Eddy had given away the right of possession when she first mailed the letters. But the court did forbid reprinting of the letters in advertisements of the auction, because Mrs. Eddy had never given away the right of publication.

Of course, circumstances alter cases. For example, if you write a letter-to-the-editor, you are obviously giving the editor not only the right of possession but the right of publication as well.

Also, publication of a letter without the writer's consent may be justified by the necessities of law enforcement. Thus, when a woman was charged with adultery, incriminating letters she had written were held admissible in court even though she tried to keep them out.

NOW! A WHOLE NEW SERIES OF ULTRA-LUXURIOUS CHEVROLETS

'66 CAPRICE BY CHEVROLET

Caprice Custom Coupe—with exclusive formal roof line that comes on no other Chevrolet.

Caprice Custom Sedan—with superb new body by Fisher elegance inside and out.

Caprice Custom Wagon—with fine new look of hard-wood paneling on sides and tailgate.

A new choice of superbly crafted Chevrolets above and beyond anything else in the line. If this is your year to move up, you just can't move up to much more car than this.

Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.

Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find the richness of thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels.

They're custom cars in every sense. In the Custom Coupe, you can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats. In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagon, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.

Each model, with its own specially tailored suspension refinements, rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version. Some 200 custom features are also available, including front-seat headrests, AM-FM stereo and a Tilt-telescopic steering wheel.

The price of it all? Somewhat more, naturally, than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less—surprisingly less, as your dealer will happily confirm—than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with CHEVROLET in every detail.

See the new '66 Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvair & Corvette at your Chevrolet dealer's

Walter Rogers Reports:

Time For A Careful Review

According to some accounts, Congress has done so much work this year there will be little to do next. This is not going to be the case. While some history-making bills were enacted in this First Session of the 89th Congress, next year's Second Session seems certain to bring another long list of proposals. Some of these future actions already have been forged in Congressional committee hearings, deliberations and decisions, the essential preliminaries to consideration by the full House and Senate. Congress is expected to adjourn within a few days, but committee activity will continue at an abbreviated pace as legislation is shaped for consideration in 1966.

Controversy of the most heated kind has marked much of the legislation enacted in the two years of the 88th Congress and in this first year of the 89th. Every citizen of the country is affected in direct ways by new programs in taxation, defense and foreign affairs, education, housing, public health and welfare, agriculture, transportation, and a number of others. In 1966, Congress must give careful review to these programs to determine whether they are producing the results promised by those who advocated their adoption. Whether the process is to be called "revision," "reform," or "reorganization," Congress must seek improvements through amendments.

I hope Congress will have the courage to terminate programs that cannot be made effective. The opportunity to do so will come as the House and Senate act on appropriations for Executive Branch departments and agencies and the activities they conduct. For example, I have for years sought to end the inefficient and ineffective foreign aid program by working aid voting against the appropriations bills as well as the bills authorizing foreign aid activities. It's this simple: No foreign aid appropriation, no foreign aid program. And those who would downgrade the Constitutional roll of Congress should bear firmly in mind that Congress holds the Federal government's purse strings.

The year 1966 could be the year in which Congress exercises what is too often a neglected responsibility, that for conducting what is called "oversight of administration" or "legislative oversight." These terms simply mean that Congress, having authorized and funded a government activity, has a responsibility to see that it functions as Congress intended. Thus, Congress "oversees" program administration by conducting reviews and investigations. In a second sense, Congress checks for "oversights"—things it failed to take into account—in the original legis-

Lake Meredith Concessions Okay

Temporary marine gasoline and oil concession and food facilities will be placed in operation at Lake Meredith Blue West Recreational Area Oct. 17, Supt. M. J. Becker reported today. The concession will be similar in size and scope as to the one presently in operation at Sandford-Yake Area.

Dietz and Sons of Borger have been granted a temporary concession permit for the operation of mobile facilities at Blue West Resort, effective Oct. 17. The concession will remain in operation on Sundays only, until about Dec 1 and will reopen in the Spring.

Blue West is located on the West side of Blue Creek. To reach Blue West the best route from Borger and Eastern points would be by way of Highway 15 to Stinnett, and 11 miles west of Stinnett turn south at the Sneed Camp turnout. It is an additional 13 miles to the junction of the Blue West Resort County road.

Fishing, boating and picnic supplies will be available at Blue West.

lation authorizing a program of activity. Major Congressional investigations are often held in the exercise of this vital function. An example of one such highly publicized probe was the television quiz show investigation conducted by the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee's subcommittee on legislative oversight, of which I was then a member.

The purpose of the hearing was not only to expose the deception practiced against the public through rigged TV quiz shows but also to formulate new legislation giving the Federal Communications Commission and the courts authority to deal with such abuses in the future. I have often pointed out that Congress sometimes enacts major legislation without providing sufficiently detailed guidelines to insure that Congressional intent is carried out. Measures too broadly outlined become distorted in the hands of bureaucrats who administer them. When administrators are given the ability to fill in details of loosely drawn legislation they are, in effect, legislating. Congress not only has abrogated its responsibilities, it has also permitted further erosion of the Constitutional principle and the Federal government

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Imagine that you tuned in your favorite football team on television and you suddenly noticed that the field had been shortened from 100 to 80 yards for the game. The reason, you learn, is that the home team has a boy who can throw a pass 70 yards, and wants to increase its scoring opportunities.

Imagine that the following weekend you tuned in your team on television again, and this time you noticed that the field had been lengthened to 120 yards. The reason, you learn this time, is that the home team feels it is outstanding on defense, and believes its best chances are to make it difficult for the opponent to score.

The whole notion of such moves is idiotic, you say. It wouldn't be allowed. The idea is that two teams should always meet on the same size playing field so that a true test of strength can be determined. The television watcher knows that this is indeed the case—in football. But the viewer of the first six games of baseball's World Series on NBC-TV can only conclude that the sport's tolerance of different size playing fields has made the championship showdown a sort of mockery.

After Wednesday's sixth game, the Los Angeles Dodgers and Minnesota Twins had each won three contests—and, by coincidence, each team had triumphed three times at home. Thus, to the televisioner who is baseball fan first and a team fan second, only this had been proved:

The Dodgers are the champions of the world in their park. And the Twins are the champions of the world in their park.

But the court did forbid reprinting of the letters in advertisements of the auction, because Mrs. Eddy had never given away the right of publication.

Of course, circumstances alter cases. For example, if you write a letter-to-the-editor, you are obviously giving the editor not only the right of possession but the right of publication as well.

Also, publication of a letter without the writer's consent may be justified by the necessities of law enforcement. Thus, when a woman was charged with adultery, incriminating letters she had written were held admissible in court even though she tried to keep them out.

NOW! A WHOLE NEW SERIES OF ULTRA-LUXURIOUS CHEVROLETS

'66 CAPRICE BY CHEVROLET

Caprice Custom Coupe—with exclusive formal roof line that comes on no other Chevrolet.

Caprice Custom Sedan—with superb new body by Fisher elegance inside and out.

Caprice Custom Wagon—with fine new look of hand-wood paneling on sides and tailgate.

A new choice of superbly crafted Chevrolets above and beyond anything else in the line. If this is your year to move up, you just can't move up to much more car than this.

Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.

Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find the richness of thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels.

They're custom cars in every sense. In the Custom Coupe, you can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats. In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagons, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.

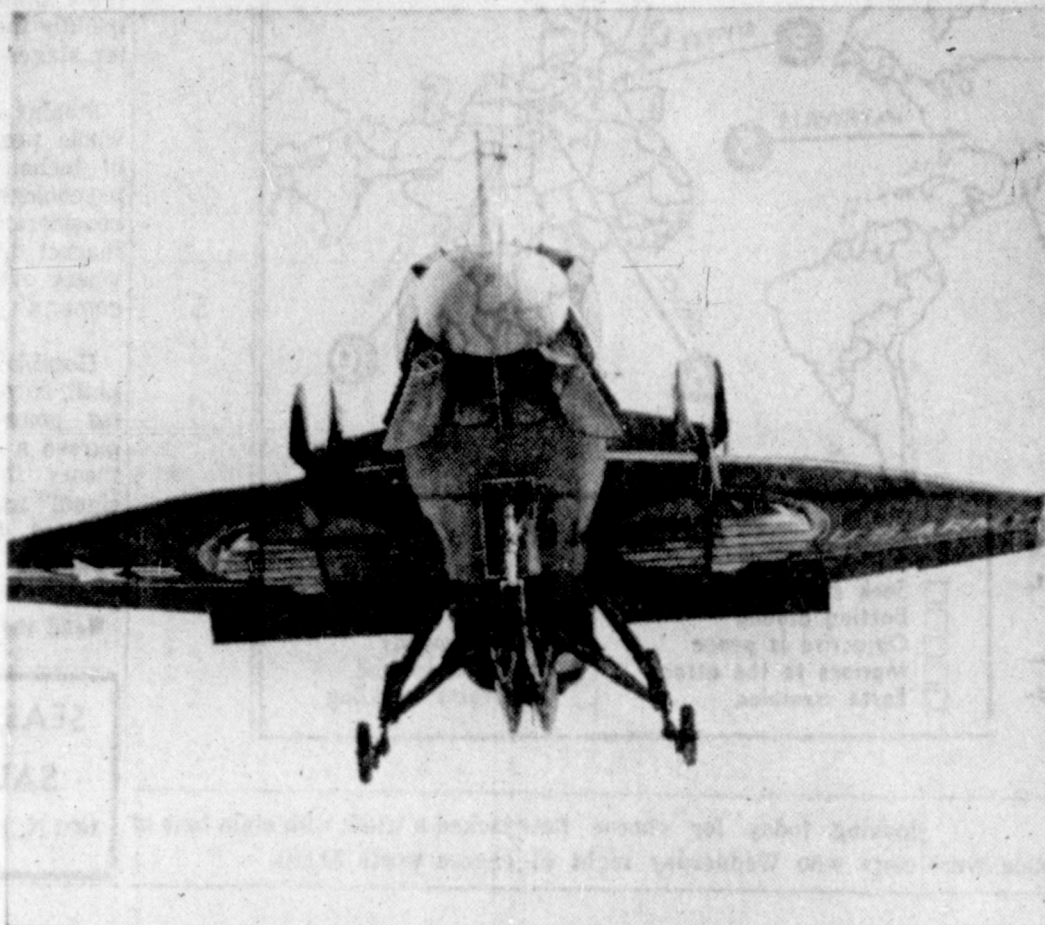

Each model, with its own specially tailored suspension refinements, rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version. Some 200 custom features are also available, including front-seat headrests, AM-FM stereo and a Tilt-telescopic steering wheel.

The price of it all? Somewhat more, naturally, than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less—surprisingly less, as your dealer will happily confirm—than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with in every detail.

See the new '66 Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvair & Corvette at your Chevrolet dealer's

"THOUSANDS" WAITING — A small boat docks at Key West, Fla., with another 17 refugees from Cuba. One of the passengers reported 'thousands' were waiting on beaches begging to be taken to the United States.

Florida's Work Laws Guide For Other States

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
 In the process of educating the public on compulsory unionism and why it is suspect, the Senate filibuster invites citizens to consider the civil right of association — to join or not to join. This is, after all, the year of civil rights.

Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., told the Senate how misbehavior of union labor skates persuaded Florida voters to amend the state's constitution with a provision forbidding compulsory unionism. Florida was the first state to endorse right-to-work by rejecting compulsory unionism. Smathers told the Senate how that came about.

"There is an interesting and instructive history behind Florida's right-to-work law," he said, "a history that began in 1941, as the nation was preparing reluctantly for war. In Florida, defense industries seemed to sprout overnight. Supplying qualified labor to keep them running became a major problem.

"A few unscrupulous union leaders approached defense contractors with the offer to procure the needed workmen in exchange for closed shop contracts that recognized the union both as bargaining agent and labor recruiting agent. When these arrangements were concluded, prospective employees discovered that they had to approach the union rather than the company to apply for a job. If they were not members of the union they were allowed to work on permits until their applications were processed.

"A major scandal grew out of these arrangements. A worker paid $30 for a three-week permit. Frequently at the end of the three weeks he still was not a member of the union and was forced to purchase another three-week permit. Often this money simply was pocketed by the business agent who collected it. Men fleeced in this manner had no recourse through the machinery of the union. If they complained, their permit was not renewed and they were out of a job.

"Some employes sought relief through the courts of Florida. They were informed that there was nothing that could be done for them under existing law. Closed shop contracts were legal and no man had the right to work in a unionized business unless he, too, were a member of the union." That was Smathers' story of compulsory unionism in Florida.

Florida amended its constitution in 1944 to guarantee every citizen the right to join a union or to refuse to join. The vote was 147,860 to 122,770. In 1949 and again in 1951 efforts were made to repeal this right-to-work amendment. Both failed.

It is fitting that the Senate's filibuster rule is being invoked to delay or to prevent repeal of that part of existing labor law that forbids compulsory unionism. This is Senate Rule 22 which permits a minority of U.S. senators to filibuster against the will of the majority. In the complex machinery of the federal government, Rule 22 provides the best and surest political protection of the weak against the strong.

The U.S. law forbidding compulsory unionism has the same purpose, to protect the weak—the individual—against the strong. The strong union can bulldoze the individual's civil right of free association. Free association is part of the foundation of a free society. Free association means the civil right to join or not to join.

DAMAGES APPROVED
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House approved, 312 to 50, and returned to the Senate an amended bill to pay $22 million in damages to citizens of the Ryukyus Islands. The bill would authorize payments to claimants for damages suffered at the hands of U.S. Armed Services in the Ryukyus during the seven years after World War II ended and before the Japanese peace treaty was signed.

Force Choice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An expert on Southeast Asia said the increased U.S. military involvement in Viet Nam is forcing the Communists to choose between a major war or "de-escalation" to smaller guerrilla tactics.

Dr. Lucian W. Pye, whose views are said to be highly regarded by the White House, added that in either case the Communists would suffer a serious setback.

RON CROSS

Don't bet your socks that the Pampa-Monterey conference tilt Friday night will be a runaway for the Plainsmen.

The Harvester's are not that bad a football team. They've proved it.

Getting Experience

Against Palo Duro Pampa came back in the final half to display a fine football team and against Caprock last week made but one mistake and it cost them a ball game.

This comes under the heading "Getting Experience." And that the Harvesters need.

Also it can't be pointed out enough how slow, as a team they are. Coach Eural Ramsey always points this out first, but no one seems to want to listen.

Ramsey said at the start of the season the Harvesters would be inexperienced, slow but that if they improved a little every game near the middle of the season they might surprise someone.

They've already surprised Palo Duro and had the offense been a bit better or just say had they had a strong Ted Heiskell the outcome of the Caprock game MIGHT have been different.

Against Caprock the defense appeared to have improved a little, although Caprock is by no means the best offensive team in the league.

Ten times the Horns have been inside the opponents 10-yard line and have failed to score.

The Harvester offense could be better, a lot better.

Scoring Low

Pampa has scored two touchdowns or more in but two games, against Tascosa and Palo Duro, three being the most.

Penalties have hurt, interceptions have hurt, fumbles have hurt, but what has hurt most has been a missed blocking assignment, a runner going to the wrong hole, not seeing a pass receiver open not mixing the plays up to keep the defense honest.

All this comes with experience, something the Harvesters are still getting.

In the last couple of games more and more juniors are playing more and more.

Pampa is scoring at a 9.3 per game clip and giving up 20.1 points per game.

Now comes the case of the Ted Heiskell who will return to the Harvester lineup in full color Friday night, completely healed from a torn ligament, doctors say.

The 200-pound junior has appeared in, but three games, carrying 40 times for 163 yards for an average of 4.07 yards per carry.

Heiskell is no superman but he is the type ball carrier who will pick up yardage for you nine out of ten times.

His return to workouts has given the Harvester a lot more pep in workouts this week.

If Pampa plays four full quarters against the Plainsmen, an upset is far from impossible.

But don't bet your socks on that either.

Royal Worried About Injury to Guard Nobis

By United Press International
An anxious Darrell Royal wondered about the seriousness of a knee injury of all-American linebacker and guard Tommy Nobis today as the pressure built for the Texas Longhorns in their preparations for the Arkansas Razorbacks.

The two teams, rated No. 2 and 3 in the nation respectively, meet Saturday in Fayetteville, Ark., and there is a possibility the stalwart of the Longhorn unit—one of the best in the nation—will miss the action.

Nobis' knee was injured Tuesday during a no-contact drill. A freshman bumped into him.

The talented senior returned to action quickly, but by Wednesday the seriousness of the bruise came to light. The knee began to swell, and Nobis sat out the Wednesday drill, his first absence from practice in four years with Texas. Blood was drained from his knee to relieve pressure.

The mainstay of the Longhorn backfield, Phil Harris, who missed the Oklahoma game with an injured leg, took part in the Wednesday practice but still walked and ran with a limp.

On the other side of the picture, Arkansas coach Frank Broyles watched his Razorbacks breeze through an 80-minute drill and praised them for their enthusiasm.

"There was more zip in the workout today," Broyles said Wednesday. "I believe they were more relaxed than they were yesterday. Yesterday, they were worried."

Broyles has put in a lot of tense moments in getting ready for the Texas contest, but he said Wednesday he isn't losing any sleep over it.

"I lose sleep when I think the team is not ready," he said. "I think the team will be ready this week."

Texas Tech coach J. T. King, who would stand to gain most by an Arkansas win over Texas—besides the Razorbacks, that is—worked his Red Raiders Wednesday for Oklahoma State, assured his 2-1 league record will not be further blemished this week.

Injuries have taken their toll of Tech first teamers mostly in the guard and tackle ranks. To make up for the lack of depth, King is departing slightly from the two- platoon system to send five Raiders into two-way action from now on out.

To Tech opponents, that's bad news, in at least one respect. One of the players seeing double action is halfback Donny Anderson, who's been creating enough havoc just hitting the field half the game. The versatile Raider will be at defensive halfback and will return punts.

King lauded the blocking in Wednesday's workout, the last full-contact drill before Tech meets the Oklahoma State Cowboys Saturday.

Martin Pleased

At Texas Christian, the Horned Frogs went through a 90-minute practice session Wednesday that pleased coach Abe Martin. End Doyle Johnson, who injured a leg against Texas Tech last week, was pronounced ready to go against Texas A&M after he worked out Wednesday.

A crowd of between 35,000 and 40,000 is expected to witness the Saturday night game, in which the Frogs are narrow favorites.

Rice coach Jess Neely, looking to the Owl's Saturday encounter with Southern Methodist said end John Huff was the only one on the doubtful list against the Mustangs.

World Boxing Association Meets to Decide on Clay

HOUSTON (UPI)—The World Boxing Association (WBA) executive board gathered today to decide whether heavyweight Cassius Clay is back in their good graces.

The board was to open an annual three-day meeting in the Hotel America.

Clay, previously stripped of his title by the WBA, will meet Floyd Patterson in a heavyweight bout. The WBA, which has recognized Ernie Terrell as heavyweight champion, was to decide whether to recognize the Clay-Patterson fight as a world title match.

The new WBA president, Jim Diskin, lives in Las Vegas where the fight is scheduled. The board also planned to hear from Lou Viscusi of Lutz, Fla., manager of highly ranked

Bowlin Leading 3-4A in Passing

Monterey will have a lot going for them Friday night when they invade the Harvester's home and his name is Randy Bowlin.

The 150-pound quarterback of the Plainsmen is the best passer, statistic-wise, in the conference, connecting on 16 of 24 attempts for three touchdowns and 246 yards.

Bowlin is one of the league's top rushers with 129 yards on 29 carries for an average of 4.4 per game.

In the total offense department Bowlin has gained 375 total yards in two league games for an average of 187.5 per game.

Something else the Plainsmen have going for them is wing back Bill Hunter, a 165-pound bundle of speed.

Hunter is the league's top pass receiver with eight catches for 138 yards and two touchdowns.

Hunter suffered a hip pointer in the Tascosa game last week and is a doubtful starter against the Harvesters Friday night.

The Harvesters have something to crow about, too.

Quarterback Roy Harper has connected on 11 of 29 pass attempts for 137 yards and leads in punting with three kicks going 141 yards for an average of 47 yards per kick.

James Matney has 13 punts for 414 yards, an average of 31.8 per kick.

Joey Roden is one of the top rushers in the league with 110 yards on 30 carries for an even 3 yards per carry.

In the total offense department Harper has 81 yards rushing and 137 passing for 218 total yards an average of 72.7 per game.

Ted Bird has caught four passes for 60 yards and Harper is one of the league's top scorers with three touchdowns and two conversions for 22 points.

STRETCH RUN—Jockey Thomas Walsh is getting quite a ride as Bon Nouvel clears a jump at Aqueduct in rather classic form. Could be an equine record for the long jump.

EVERYBODY STARTS EVEN TODAY

LA, Twins in Showdown

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (UPI)—Southpaw Jim Kaat will try to pitch the Minnesota Twins to their first World Series championship today, weather permitting, but the favored Los Angeles Dodgers were stumped whether to go with Sandy Koufax or Don Drysdale for the blue-clip seventh game finale.

Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers said he might not decide on which pitcher to start until a few minutes before game time of 1 P.M. (CST).

"I might have both of them warm up before I decide which one to start," said Alston, indicating he would rather pitch Koufax against the Twins because "they don't do so well against left-handed pitching."

Either way, the oddsmakers have installed the Dodgers as favorites. If Drysdale pitches, Los Angeles is favored at 13-10 and if it's Koufax on the mound the odds are 3-2 for the Dodgers.

Weather is Factor
Alston said the weather could be a big factor in his choice.

"If it rains like the weather man says it might and the game is postponed, then I'd probably go with Koufax on Friday."

The forecast called for showers starting during the night and continuing through Thursday, well into the evening.

While a rain postponement would be welcome to the Dodgers in order to give Koufax three full days of rest, the Twins want no part of a delay.

They figure they have the Dodgers where they want them.

"I was sure we would get back on the beam when we got back to our own park," said Manager Sam Mele. "And we did. Now Kaat will wrap it up for us."

The Twins won the first two games of the series here and then lost the next three in Los Angeles. So when they won Wednesday's game, 5-1, behind the superlative pitching of Jim (Mudcat) Grant, it meant that each club has been victorious at home while unable to win in the other team's park.

"I don't go for this home park advantage business," Alston said. "The park has nothing to do with it. We just haven't played well here, but we'll snap out of it today."

"Don't forget the Twins have a mighty fine team and they are tough to beat anytime, anywhere."

Alston disclosed that Drysdale hurt his hand in Sunday's game at Los Angeles when his bat broke in his hands while at bat.

"He said it was numb from the eighth inning on and that it hurt him the next day," Alston added, "but he says it's all right now."

Drysdale said that he wasn't worried about his hand.

"If the skipper wants me, I'll be ready," he said, Koufax said he was ready, too.

Kaat, an 18-game winner during the regular season, beat Koufax and the Dodgers, 5-1, in the second game here and lost the fifth game to Koufax and the Dodgers, 7-0.

Drysdale lost his start here as did Koufax, losing to Grant in the opening game, 8-2. But Drysdale won the fourth game, 7-2.

During the regular season Koufax won 26 games enroute to a major league strikeout record while Drysdale won 23.

Mele said that if the Dodgers started Koufax he would go with his right-handed hitting power, meaning that Bob Alton, one of the heroes of Minnesota's 5-1 triumph Wednesday,

Razorbacks Choice Of UPI Grid Writer

By MILTON RICHMAN
MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (UPI)—Pickin' the weekend winners:

Everyone in football has his own idea what to do in those ticklish, fourth-and-two situations.

Arkansas over Texas—Now they'll find out who's boss.

Louisiana State over Kentucky—No place for a faint heart.

Michigan State over Ohio State—Judy makes it five in a row for the Spartans.

Penn State over Syracuse—Orange looked worse than the Twins in Los Angeles.

Navy over Pittsburgh—Mid-dies keep coming.

Harvard over Cornell—should be close, though.

Princeton over Colgate—Red Raiders have fine defense, but how do they stop Gogolak?

Also: Yale over Columbia, Army over Rutgers, Holy Cross over Boston University, Dartmouth over Brown, Penn over Bucknell, Buffalo over Richmond, Maine over Connecticut, Villanova over Delaware, Temple over Lafayette, Vermont over New Hampshire, Massachusetts over Rhode Island and Gettysburg over Lehigh.

Illinois over Indiana—Like Mele says, it's great to be in your own home park.

Nebraska over Kansas State—by as big a margin as the law allows.

Purdue over Michigan—Too Griesse for the Wolves to handle.

Minnesota over Iowa—Gophers suddenly have found their running game.

Also: Wisconsin over Northwestern, Missouri over UCLA, Miami (O) over Marshall, Xavier over Ohio U., Southern Illinois over Drake, Bowling Green over Toledo, John Carroll over Western Reserve, Butler over Evansville, Wichita over New Mexico State, Kent State over Western Michigan, Youngstown over Augustana and South Dakota State over South Dakota.

Tennessee over Alabama—This is the World Series as far as the Vols are concerned.

Auburn over Georgia Tech—Have you seen that boy Bryan yet?

Georgia over Florida State—Bulldogs best in Dixie.

Florida over North Carolina State—Gators have too many teeth for the Wolfpack.

Also: Duke over Clemson, West Virginia over Virginia, North Carolina over Maryland, Miami (Fla.) over Houston, Mississippi over Tulane, Mississippi State over Memphis State, Wake Forest over South Carolina, Vanderbilt over Virginia Tech, William and Mary over Davidson, Cincinnati over George Washington and Citadel over Arkansas State.

Oklahoma over Kansas—Sooners bounce back from Texas beating.

SMU over Rice—Off Mustangs' showing against Purdue.

TCU over Texas A&M—Touch and go.

Watch Out for Falcon Footballers Next Year

By SANDY PADWE
AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (NEA) — Winning being the only criterion for coach-of-the-year honors, Ben Martin will not receive much attention when the 1965 football season ends.

Next year, though, when this eager Air Force team of his really matures, he will become the nation's resident genius for intercollegiate football.

Such is the system, and it is unfortunate that more people won't appreciate the job Ben Martin is doing this year with a team, a school and a group of youngsters who have been deeply scarred by scandal.

His is a team that was almost stripped of experienced players when news of the cribbing scandal broke during the last academic year.

It left nine lettermen (none with two years experience), some junior varsity players and a batch of very willing sophomores up from the freshman team.

The schedule, as always, was difficult, with Wyoming, the best team in the Rocky Mountain area, the opening game, followed by Nebraska, preseason choice as one of the nation's five best teams.

Wyoming, as expected, beat the Falcons, 31-14, but Nebraska had a tough time before winning, 27-17.

"During the Wyoming game and the first 15 minutes of the Nebraska game (The Huskers scored three times in the first period), we really matured and grew up as a team," Martin said. "I just can't express how proud I am of our players. It looks as if we'll really be a good football team before long."

This is Martin's eighth year at the academy, having begun in sensational fashion with the 1958 Falcon team that went unbeaten and then played a scoreless tie with TCU in the Cotton Bowl.

"The situation this year is a lot different from my first season," Martin said. "Then we had boys with three years experience and they did a job. This year, the primary problem is inexperience."

"But these are bright kids and naturally what has happened is in the back of their minds. It's not something we talk about much here, but they want very much to erase the stigma."

The scandal, as Martin said, is not the best topic for discussion during the cocktail hour on this beautiful campus at the base of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains.

Doc Blanchard, the former football great at West Point and now an Air Force officer stationed at the Academy, seemed to sum up the feelings about the scandal:

"It was just an unfortunate thing which we'd rather forget, but we can't forget it when every time you pick up a paper or magazine you read about it."

A cribbing scandal at a U.S. military academy — or any academic institution — is not an easy thing to forget, however, but as Ben Martin said, his young team is trying to erase the stigma.

"They've made a good start."

League Games On Tap Friday

Wheeler, with the area's top scoring leader and an 18-game winning streak at stake, and White Deer, with the second leading scorer, the area's best offensive and defensive team and a perfect record, play important conference games Friday night.

Wheeler (5-0) takes on another unbeaten in Darrouzett (4-0-1), a 14-8 winner over Miami last week in a conference game.

The Mustangs opened conference action with a narrow, 8-6 decision over Follett (3-1-1).

Wheeler, scoring at a 28.4 per game clip has one of the best one-two punches in the Panhandle in scoring leader Bobby Vanpool who has run eight touchdowns and two extra points for 52 total points.

The third leading area scorer is Tom Smith, who has rambled for six touchdowns and five conversions for the Mustangs and 46 points.

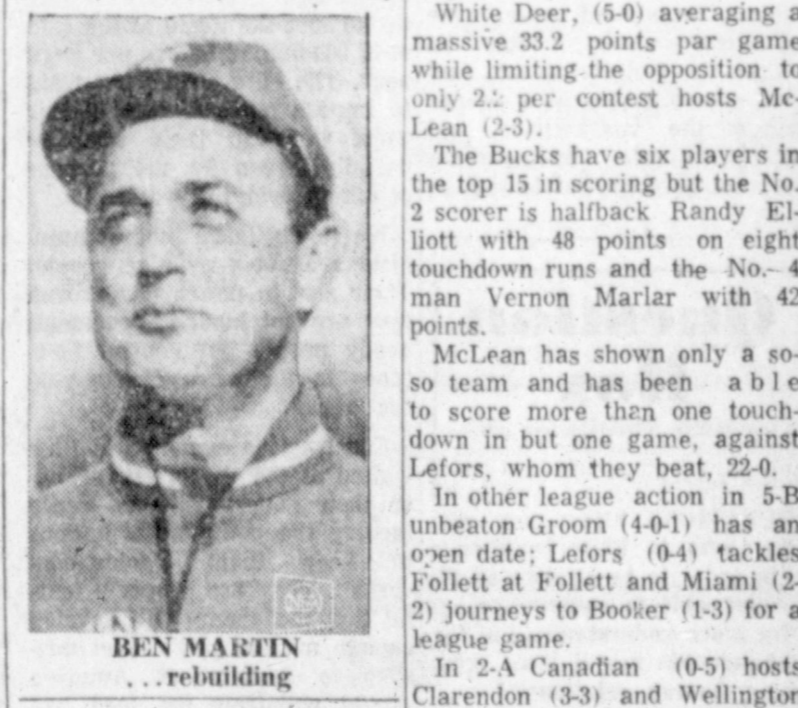

White Deer, (5-0) averaging a massive 33.2 points per game while limiting the opposition to only 2.2 per contest hosts McLean (2-3).

The Bucks have six players in the top 15 in scoring but the No. 2 scorer is halfback Randy Elliott with 48 points on eight touchdowns runs and the No. 4 man Vernon Marlar with 42 points.

McLean has shown only a so-so team and has been able to score more than one touchdown in but one game, against Lefors, whom they beat, 22-0.

In other league action in 5-B unbeaten Groom (4-0-1) has an open date; Lefors (0-4) tackles Follett at Follett and Miami (2-2) journeys to Booker (1-3) for a league game.

In 2-A Canadian (0-5) hosts Clarendon (3-3) and Wellington (4-0) plays at Memphis (4-1), all conference games.

Bowling

By GIL BURGUND
Fellows please remember that meeting this afternoon at 3 p.m. at Jacksons Cafeteria. This is for the benefit of all the men of the Pampa Bowling Association. Mr. MacDonald of the A.B.C. will be there and he knows all the rules and will answer any of your questions.

John Petersen will probably ask him for a patch for picking the four six split. I'm sorry John the 7-10 yes the 4-6 no.

The 5-7-10 was left standing twice in one nite this week and usually you see that split once or twice in a season. It's called the Sour Apple and I guess once in a while it is picked up.

Splits are killers to some games just ask John Snuggs, after a nice 248 game he had another one in the making and had a split in both the ninth and tenth frames. Oh well a 606 is not too bad.

Mary Jones almost hit the triple with a 128-127-128 and that's about the closest we had.

Rosa Lee Hendricks bowling with a cast on her foot started with a 93 and then came through with a 144.

Inez Snider said she had better luck bowling this week than she had at the Drag Races last Sunday. She had her first 200 in a long time. Paulette Gilbert showed us some nice bowling in the Calenese Ladies league by rolling a 548 with a 190 high game.

Lois Hutcherson did a good job of breaking the 200 barrier too. For the first 200 she has ever rolled she hit a nice 220.

Wilma Tyler got so shook up with her 190 that she barely managed a 100 the next game.

Just noticed a team name (Western Sand and Gravel) is there any other kind? And say you should have seen the looks of disbelief when I picked the 3 pin out of the 1-3-6. Yes it was on the first nite I picked up a ball since my visit to the hospital.

Well the winter season is really about to start but you would not believe it with such nice weather. Other signs are, more pot games, more things of interest for the bowlers, bigger scores and a reviving of bowling interest.

There are certainly a lot of new faces this year and a lot of new people in town so lets expect a good year for bowling and everybody will have a good time.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Inflation — Political Coward's Tax

Pose the question "What is inflation?" and ninety-nine out of a hundred people so questioned (a conservative estimate) will reply "Inflation is rising prices." And they will be wrong. They will have confused cause and effect. Questioned further — and here you begin to gain an insight into the brand of "economics" being taught in our Keynesian dominated "educational" institutions — the same people will reveal an inherent distrust of capitalism in general and the businessman in particular. Inflation, to them, means in some vague and half conceived manner, a plot on the part of businessmen to gouge them. They fail completely to understand that creative competition, the life and breath of capitalism and the free enterprise "system," is the best protection ever conceived against being "gouged" via the pricing route.

What, then, is inflation? If it is not rising prices, how is it to be pinned down and identified? Surely there is some connection between it and the escalating grocery bill? The connection is there all right; also the plot. But the connection is not that imagined; and the plotter is not the corner grocer who is, himself, caught in the inflation squeeze.

Inflation is political manipulation of the money supply. It is the political coward's tax. If we can but begin to understand this one single political dodge, we will have gone a long way toward understanding how government is increasingly robbing us of our substance and regimenting every facet of our lives.

Inflation is the politician's answer to the taxpayer's resistance to further taxation. There is a limit to overt (open) taxation, and every politician, with his eye on the next elections, knows it full well. Somewhere along the line, and the astute politician never knows exactly where, the taxpayer will balk. Balking, he will either withhold his vote or cast it in favor of the politician who APPEARS to be on his side. And this is where the inflation TAX comes in.

The government can engage in inflation in several ways. In their outcome they all add up to the same thing: Reduction in the purchasing power of the dollars you have at any given time; including, we might add, those invested in savings, insurance policies and pension plans.

In olden days, when money was all in metallic coins, governments resorted to "coin clipping." The government either called in the coins or waited until the coins reached the government-controlled banks, then with the coins in possession, the government clipped off a portion of each coin. The clipped coins were returned to general circulation and the "clippings" were melted down and minted into new coins. With these, the government defrayed the cost of living in the style to which it had become accustomed. Thus, the new coins minted from the clippings were also put into circulation. There was now "more money chasing the same amount of goods." Prices went up! John Doe, with his weekly wage of X number of dollars or francs, could now buy less of those goods than before. The corner grocer was caught in the same predicament. And here, in simple and easily understood terms, is the connection between rising prices and inflation. But the culprit, other than being the much put upon businessman, is actually the government itself. The government, masquerading as the citizens' "protector," had found a way of taxing, or robbing, him without the citizen knowing what was going on. But coin clipping was cumbersome and had obvious limitations. And besides, the citizens, seeing what was happening to their money, began to get suspicious; we are told, too, that some even began a little "clipping" on their own.

Governments today, our own specifically, have worked out a more sophisticated way of doing things. Coin clipping, today, is known as "deficit financing." The name has changed. But not the effect.

The government, finding that its grandiose plans require more funds than it dare tax the taxpayers openly, resorts to legal counterfeiting. That is another way of saying stealing. Control of the banking system is required if the plan is to succeed because the Federal Reserve system. Here is how "deficit financing" works:

Let us say the government "needs" $10 billion dollars. The government types on a piece of paper the words: "I owe you $10 billion dollars." This piece of paper is given to the bank. The bank using the piece of paper as collateral, credits the government's account with $10 billion dollars. The government checks for that amount.

Thus, it would appear that $10 billion dollars of new money has been created out of thin air. But that is not the case. Those $10 billion dollars of new money introduced into the economy by the government, having no value of their own, take on value by reducing the purchasing power of the money in the hands and accounts of the citizens in the same way that clipped coins were reduced in value by the governments of old. What the government has really done in this thoroughly dishonest and devious way is steal the results of YOUR productive energy.

The tax gun, used openly, by the politicians and the bureaucracy to rob the citizenry has nothing to commend it. But the sneak thief who robs without the victim's knowledge is the most despicable of men.

American Way Is Still Big Lure

Despite President Charles de Gaulle's declaration of independence from the United States and his attempts to bolster the national pride of his countrymen, and despite a fairly booming prosperity in France, the word "American" apparently still has a magical ring about it to the French.

An advertisement for a correspondence school that appeared in a recent issue of Paris Match magazine was decorated with skyscrapers and the Statue of Liberty. Against this background was a drawing of a young, briefcase-carrying businessman walking from his car to his pleasant suburban home as his well-dressed family rushed to greet him.

Large type proclaimed: "Succeed in the American Way." The text went on to say that "Americans, the race of realists who love money and comfort" have been the first to profit from the methods of professional instruction by mail, particularly in preparation for magnificent careers in commerce where one can most quickly win the greatest that life has to offer.

This is flattering. It is also a little sobering.

The fact that to foreigners we are a "race of realists" who worship the dollar sign and that the "American way" is a get-rich-quick method that can be packaged as an advertising gimmick indicates a sad failure on somebody's part either to understand or to explain just what our experiment in life, liberty and pursuit of happiness is supposed to be all about.

Atomic energy, once regarded the ultimate in destruction, is now a boon to mankind and proves its usefulness in a thousand ways. The latest use of nuclear radiation is a new process to harden wood. Such species as pine, oak, maple, birch, fir and poplar are impregnated with a liquid chemical which is hardened into the wood by irradiation with a nuclear reactor. The result is a harder, stronger, more abrasive and water resistant product. And color possibilities are endless since dyes can be incorporated in the chemical used.

Today's smile: A psychiatrist listened patiently to a patient's many complaints and finally started to ask questions: "What do you do for social life?" The patient said that he sat around the house most of the time. The psychiatrist asked: "Don't you like girls?" The patient admitted he did, but when the head shrinker asked why he didn't go out with them the poor guy said: "My wife won't let me."

Watching us spray some roses a physician friend cautioned us against smoking while handling pesticides. He pointed out that many are inflammable and, besides, you could carry the poison to your mouth while handling a cigar or cigarette. Illness must be a big business in this country because a survey shows that 1 out of 60 of those gainfully employed work in hospitals. Webster's Dictionary classifies "bees" as insects, but for legal purposes they are classified as livestock in Wyoming. Back East we might say we have a hive of bees, but in Cheyenne they probably call them a herd.

Thoughts while shaving: An Ohio football fan asks us the biggest score in college football. Our research discloses that back in 1900 in a game between two Pennsylvania colleges, Dickinson beat Haverford 227 to 0. It would appear that Haverford didn't have a very good team that year. . . . We'll bet you didn't know that seven out of eight auto accidents occur close to home. And 80 per cent of all accidents happen under ideal driving conditions, on straight roads in clear weather. More than 40 per cent of all accidents are the rear-end collision type. And cuts and bruises are the most common injuries, followed closely by neck or back whiplash type of injuries. So, tighten your safety belts every time you get into a car. . . . Politics is the only science that hasn't changed. It still relies on getting the votes. In ancient Athens it was reputed that Themistocles could call 20,000 of his constituents by name, and that's how he got himself elected and reelected. Any fool will tell you that getting reelected is what really counts. . . . Memory Lane: Remember when every October meant the Broadway debut of new musical shows by the Gershwins, Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern, Sigmund Romberg, Rodgers and Hart, De Sylva, Brown & Henderson? Their tunes would keep the nation dancing and singing for another year and are still remembered. The efforts of today's songsmiths are forgotten tomorrow.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Do Showmanship, Serious Merchandising Really Mix?

By SAM CAMPBELL Business Editor

With the real estate picture a bit grim yet and with the ups and downs that the great space bonodoggie brings to any economy, you find the local merchants competing a little harder to entice the Great American Consumer into his place of business.

Some stores are going for gimmicks — giveaways, contests, parking — lot shows, etc. The question is whether this commercial showmanship has any sound economic basis. You may wonder, for instance, whether the fanfare frosting does not add to the cost of your purchase. Or if you are in business you may wonder whether the hoopla is a legitimate method of enticing customers.

Take the newspaper business, for instance. We put a lot of stuff in the paper that really is not news — recipes, comic strips, advice to the ailing, advice to the lovelorn and ex-lovelorn, etc. Why do we do that? Well, we do it to sell papers. Our market calls for a degree of entertainment along with information. Over a period of the last 60 years, we have learned that we must combine the two in order to prosper.

Individually, newspaper editors might differ between themselves on the amount of comics that a newspaper ought to carry. Some might say a half page, others a quarter page. But the reader calls the final shot. He requires a full page. And he gets it.

Well, the same person who buys a newspaper also buys shoes, or bread, or automobiles. He seems to desire a little nonsense along with his very rational purchase. As goes the old verse:

"A little nonsense now and then 'Is relished by the best of men.'"

That showmanship is a part of merchandising is evidenced by the results, and has been through the centuries. In the old days when merchants were mainly peddlers and the marketplace was a seasonal event, the business of trading was conducted in an atmosphere of carnival, of fair, and of theater.

The reason for all of this is not difficult to perceive. When you get to thinking about it, to get at the matter, just ask yourself why any person ever makes a purchase. Why does he desire to trade some valuable that he has, either object or money or service, for something that he does not yet possess? Is it not that he expects the new acquisition either to diminish pain or to increase his pleasure?

He expects, in other words, to obtain an increase in happiness. Well, then, if the buyer not only acquires that which he expects to give him pleasure, but also obtains pleasure by the very act of purchasing — in other words if the transaction is conducted in an atmosphere of gaiety, friendliness or charm — then the value of his purchase has increased for him.

And literally so. Ever afterward the object that he acquired will be consciously or unconsciously associated with the conditions under which he bought it. Entertainment, fanfare, showmanship is a proper part of the marketplace, and the legitimate businessman need not be reluctant to engage in it.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "How can one judge who to have confidence in, in order to be stimulated in, to being able to continue to acquire more understanding of the unchangeable moral laws governing human relations?"

ANSWER: That is a most important question and there are several things that might be said about it.

First, it seems that one should have little confidence in a man who will not attempt to answer questions about his moral convictions without evasion or contradiction. If he will not do that, there is not much chance of his being able to stimulate another person to want to learn.

Another test is whether a man wants his ideas or convictions challenged, publicly or privately. If he has made his convictions known publicly, he should certainly be willing to have them challenged publicly so that if he has advocated anything that would be harmful to his fellow man, he could have that error pointed out to those who were misinformed. Very few people, however, are willing to have their convictions challenged publicly. One advantage of a local

COMMUNIST CUPBOARD GETS BARE

Communism was the form of government some of the time in Sparta about 2,000 B.C. From earliest history until a few years ago, Communism has been a society unable to provide adequate food for its people. At Jamestown the Cavaliers practiced collectivism. During their second winter, "the starving time", 83 per cent of the colonists starved and died. About 12 years later communism proved unworkable for the pilgrims, and it became apparent that they could enjoy religious freedom more in a society based on the profit motive. Thus collectivism ceased.

Communism has been able to feed its people only since the United States began rushing food to communist countries to ward off their impending famines. Khrushchev did not buy grain from us fast enough to stay in power. If left to depend upon its production of food, communism would starve into oblivion.

Many believe communism domination is increasing throughout the world at the rate of 85,000 human beings per work hour. The elite should not want to impose more than a 40-hour work week in their workers' paradise, even for the purpose of taking over the world.

We slowly learn that Communists are not very nice people. Their rise to power has proven they are not kind, improvident, needy people but control fortunes in their crusade to rule the world.

Constructive elements in the United States should prevail upon their government to cease feeding the communist nations to keep them "going concerns". They are properly fearful that the enemy will develop enough nuclear power and missiles to destroy us. America should withdraw the feed bag from these enemies who promise to bury us.

THE MENU READER'S GUIDE

NEW YORK (NEA) — One of the things we have never understood is why a person's youth is called his salad days. There is really nothing quite so prudent as a salad, nor so obvious. And to name the first course of life after that dish seems to us a rather poor choice.

Most of the people we know did not reach their salad days until they were past 35 and under orders from the doctor to lose at least 20 pounds. True enough, youth must be served. But not on a bed of lettuce. Looking back now, if we had to find a place on the bill of fare for the heedless days of green inexperience, we would probably call it our Hollandaise.

There are a number of other examples we could cite to illustrate the misunderstanding that can follow when you describe real life with menuphemisms — such as calling money for the common garden terms of lettuce, kale, spinach and cabbage.

Not only does it lead to dishonesty and high cholesterol, but it also seems to put a terrible strain on the creative people who make up restaurant menus.

That is the only explanation we can find for the devilish hard time we have been having of late in ordering something to eat. There may be some other reason. But whatever it is, we seem to understand less and less of what is printed on the bill of fare.

This is not a question of the foreign language barrier. On the contrary, now that we have entered our ensalada days, we actually prefer to order pot-au-feu rather than boiled chicken in soup. Basically, we can manage a menu printed in any language except English.

The other day, for example, we came upon an item called "Chicken Gazzara." And as it was printed between something called a "Barbra Special" and a "Sophia Blueplate," we assumed that the reference was to an actor called Ben Gazzara.

But that is as far as the resemblance went. The dish itself looked just like any other boiled chicken in soup. Now, we have no objection to naming menu items after theater people. There is a long and honorable tradition of doing so — Peach Melba, say, or Oysters Rockefeller.

But when they name a sandwich the "Heart of Young Show Business on Rye Toast," we must confess to a serious case of the jitters.

In that regard, we also have considerable trouble with creative menus which employ their own vocabulary. This problem comes up more and more often nowadays.

In the course of last weekend, we had to ask for translations of: Hopple Popple (which turned out to be an omelet); a Poppalooze (an ice cream cone); Super-Duper Big Boy (a cheeseburger); Yum-Yum Big Treat (a super-duper cheeseburger); Awful-Awful (a super-duper, yum-yum, poppalooza of an ice cream sundae).

It is impossible to remember what these names mean anymore than one can remember what goes into a "Sophia Blueplate." But we have found that if you have the time, the waiter will be delighted to stand at your table and translate.

It is not the inconvenience that bothers us in all of this creativity. Rather, it is the paralyzing helplessness that comes when you pick up the menu and know that you are not competent to order without professional help.

To our way of thinking, it aggravates an already unfair contest in the restaurant. The other evening we called a waiter over to our table and asked what the menu meant by the item "Grapefruit Supreme." "That's a half of a grapefruit," he said. "Only that?" we said. "A half of a grapefruit?" "Yes," he said, moving off. "Then why is it called 'Grapefruit Supreme?'" we asked. "I'm sorry," he called back. "This is not my table."

Zeb — How is it that you are so well informed when all you do is sit around the square all day whittling?
Zek — Oh, I just heard it here and there and was too lazy to forget it.
There are men designed by nature to be husbands — of men, they are the tamest.

Wit and Whimsy

The reason a dog has so many friends is that his tail wags instead of his tongue.

They were rather late in starting for the station and his wife said, "Husband (sarcastically) — Yeh! And what particular hold would you like me to use — the head-lock, scissors, or half-nelson?"

If they ever get to photographing suits, X-Ray-proof garments will be in great demand.

Mr. Homebody — I see you keep copies of all the letters you write to your wife. Do you do it to avoid repeating yourself?

Mr. Faraway — No. To avoid contradicting myself.

John — Why did they provide the Capitol with a rotunda?
James — It's a good place for statesmen who like to run around in circles.

And speaking of judges there was the one who asked the jury:
Judge — What possible excuse can you give for acquitting that murderer?

Jury Foreman — Insanity, your honor.
Judge — What! Not all twelve of you!!!!

Buying on the installment plan makes the months shorter and the years longer.

Husband — Why do you feed every tramp who comes along? They never do any work for you.
Wife — No, but it is quite a satisfaction to me to see a man eat a meal without finding fault with the cooking.
