WAR ON CRIME — Senator Grady Hazlewood makes a point in his talk "The Hot War On Crime," given Tuesday night at a Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet in First Methodist Church.

IN PAMPA TALK

'War on Crime' Urged By Grady Hazlewood

By RAY RODGERS JR.
Daily News Reporter
Making a vitriolic attack on the Texas Code of Criminal procedure and the U.S. Supreme Court, State Senator Grady Hazlewood, speaking in Pampa last night, called for a moral re-awakening to stop the increasing crime rate in our state.

Hazlewood was guest speaker at the Ladies' night meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

The senator began his talk by citing newspaper accounts of murders, rapes, and tortures over the state within the last few weeks.

He stated that the crime rate in Texas is increasing six times as fast as the population and he said, "We're doing every thing we can to aid and abet the criminal and condone his acts."

"The recently enacted code of criminal procedure and decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court makes it almost impossible to convict anyone but a person who has so little intelligence that he doesn't know what is being done to him," he said.

Hazlewood partially blamed the public itself for the increasing crime rate. He said that today's American reads about a torture-murder or where someone has raped an innocent five-year-old girl then mutilated her body, but it just doesn't seem to affect him.

"People today," he said, "read of these things and pass them off as if it were a fairy tale."

The senator emphasized the need for retaining capital punishment in the state, calling it a deterrent to these crimes.

He pointed out, however, that statistics show only one out of every 600 persons committing murder are electrocuted in Texas. He said last year there were only 19 persons in the entire United States who received death because of crimes.

"In view of the increasing crime rate, hindrance of law officers by the supreme court and criminal procedures, there are still some 'do-gooders' in the state wanting to do away with the electric chair."

He said it appears the public is attempting to do just about everything possible to help the criminal.

He said, "Our state prison system is turning away prisoners faster than the law can put them away."

"A convicted murderer receiving life imprisonment, can get out of the pen in 8 years and three months with good behavior," he said.

"We should, at the outset, invite the Chinese to participate in the disarmament talks at Geneva when those talks resume in January," he said.

Kennedy's recommendation was promptly endorsed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who voiced the hope that France also would participate.

"I think it's a good idea," Mansfield said. "China is a nuclear power. If we're going to have agreements, we'd better get all of them in. I'd hope France would join, too. France has indicated a lack of desire to attend meetings of this kind or to participate in the nuclear test ban agreement."

The brother of the late President outlined a series of "further steps" which he said might help fulfill the peace hopes voiced by Pope Paul VI last week at the United Nations.

"Prevention of nuclear spread is a matter of political action on a grand scale—an effort to turn the world community away from nuclear war, away from ultimate weapons as guarantors of security and prestige," Kennedy said.

Kennedy's prepared Senate speech was an extension of one delivered three months ago, then interpreted as critical of the Johnson administration. He said in June that prevention of nuclear spread should be a "central priority" of U.S. policy, and he indicated that it was not getting enough attention.

LBJ Continues To Show Progress From Operation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's doctors reported today that "his progress continues" in recovery from his gall bladder surgery of five days ago.

An 8 a.m. EDT report from Vice Adm. George Burkley, White House physician, at the Bethesda Naval Hospital, said: "The President was up this morning at 7:15. The doctors state that his progress continues."

Burkley said that Johnson's breakfast menu included oranges, toast, chipped beef and tea.

The President, tiring easily but recuperating as expected, has been looking forward to a more varied and tasty diet.

Satellites To Be Fired Successively

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States plans a one-two scientific assault on space Thursday by launching three satellites less than two hours apart from its East and West Coast rocket centers.

A sleek Thor-Agena booster at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., is scheduled to shoot an insect-like craft named "Ogo" toward orbit during a one-hour and seven-minute period starting at 9:07 a.m. EDT (6:07 a.m. PDT).

Then, at 11 a.m. EDT (10 a.m. EST), a triple-barrelled A-1 rocket carrying two satellites is set to blast toward space from Cape Kennedy.

The program is being jointly sponsored by Texas A&M University and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

County Judge Bill Craig said today he had been notified the meeting is to be held here and had sent a letter to county judges and officials in nearby counties inviting them to attend.

President Johnson got most of what he asked to fund the new programs, although the committee lopped off significant amounts for several of the most controversial plans. The committee claimed a net reduction of $149.5 million in the requests covered by the bill.

With a couple of major items still in dispute between House and Senate, the final money bill brought to more than $118 billion the total that will have been appropriated by the current session of Congress.

That total makes the first session of the 89th Congress the most expensive on record since the height of World War II. Last year Congress appropriated, all told, about $106 billion.

The lawmakers are able to claim to have cut President Johnson's money requests during the year by more than $2 billion. But while cutting his requests for current appropriations, they have added billions to his legislative authorization requests — the plans that govern spending in the future.

Sukarno May Be Red Affiliated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States "suspects" that President Sukarno was involved with the Indonesian Communist Party in the Sept. 30 coup attempt which was suppressed by the Army, high officials said today.

There is considerable evidence pointing in that direction, they declared, but it is not iron-clad and the U.S. government has not drawn any final conclusions.

It was understood that the U.S. Army, and possibly the Central Intelligence Agency, were somewhat more convinced of Sukarno's complicity in the abortive plot than were State Department officials.

There has been considerable speculation here since the uprising that Sukarno and the Communist Party (PKI) worked together in attempting the coup, led by obscure Lt. Col. Untung, commander of a battalion in Sukarno's bodyguard.

For several years, Sukarno has used the 3 million-member PKI and its leaders to offset the influence of the anti-Communist Indonesian Army led by Defense Minister Abdul Haris Nasution.

It was assumed here that Sukarno sought in this way to maintain a precarious political balance in which no element could rise to challenge his supremacy.

There also has been considerable speculation that Sukarno's pro-Peking foreign minister, Subandrio, was linked with the Communist plot.

The assumption is that Sukarno was seeking to counter the Army's anti-Communist position and solidify his hold on the government as he moved more closely toward the Communist camp.

UF Advance Gift Drive is Underway

The 1965-66 Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign to raise $77,000 was off and running this week as the advance gifts division, under the leadership of Joe E. Reid, began its solicitations.

Prospects in the advance gifts group are made up of businesses and individuals who are considered major contributors.

Reid said that he hoped that many of the donors would improve their contributions since the Fund's budget has been increased this year to support six additional agencies.

"One Gift Works Many Wonders" is the theme of this year's fund raising drive designed to serve twelve participating agencies including the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Milk Fund, Pampa Welfare Fund, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, Red Cross, Texas Assn. for Mental Health, United Service Organization, Salvation Army, Medical Research Foundation of Texas, National Travelers Aid and United Community Fund.

Assisting Reid are captains E. L. Green Jr., Art Dobbin, John W. Chisholm, Robert L. Lincecum, Joe M. Daniel and Boyd Taylor.

The division's first report will probably come in about ten days, Reid said.

African Bloodbath Warning Ignored

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—The white colonial government in Rhodesia today ignored warnings of an African blood-bath and went ahead with plans to break away from Britain.

Prime Minister Ian Smith called a cabinet meeting to discuss the timetable for a unilateral declaration of independence, a move designed to retain minority rule by the colony's 250,000 white settlers over 3.6 million restless blacks.

"The die is cast," Smith told cheering well-wishers Tuesday night when he returned to Salisbury from a week of fruitless talks in London with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson. Smith said it was an even bet that Rhodesia would have its independence by Christmas.

Wilson, in a dramatic address to the British people Tuesday night, pleaded with Smith to think again before taking an action that could engulf wide areas of Africa in a disastrous race war.

"Many innocent people, men and women of all races, black and white, could lose their lives," Wilson warned. "It is a nightmare with which I have to live, that this could be enacted again—on British soil."

"A so-called independence, illegally taken, could start a chain reaction in Africa of which no one could see the end."

The British leader sent an urgent message to Smith asking him to accept a commonwealth mission in Salisbury to discuss terms of independence. Britain insists on eventual rule in Rhodesia by the majority blacks.

But Smith appeared to have his mind made up, despite Wilson's pleadings and almost universal opposition to his terms for independence from the nations of the world.

The United Nations General Assembly, in a near unanimous vote, Tuesday called on Britain to take all measures, including the use of force if necessary, to prevent a unilateral declaration.

Photographer Attacked by Two Ku Klux Klansmen

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (UPI)—Two black-shirted Ku Klux Klansmen, acquitted a year ago in the night rider slaying of a Negro educator, attacked a Negro photographer Tuesday when he took their picture.

The attack came shortly after 200 Negro youngsters boycotting an all-Negro school swarmed into the building and staged a noisy sit-in demonstration in the halls.

Earlier, in the day, a white youth jammed a camera into the face of a newsman, injuring him slightly, when the cameraman attempted to photograph Negroes trying to board school buses for whites.

Negroes planned to try again today to board the buses. A large force of state troopers has blocked their daily attempts to board the buses for more than two weeks.

Bitterness mounted in this troubled northeast Georgia town where Negroes are protesting, among other things, the busing of white students to schools in neighboring counties and the closing of the only white school here to avoid integration.

Howard Sims, 43, and Cecil Myers, 26, of Athens, Ga., were taken into custody in connection with the attack on Brig Cabe, 23, of Chicago, a photographer for a civil rights group.

Sims and Myers were acquitted last September at Danielville, Ga., in the shotgun slaying of Lemuel Penn of Washington, D.C.

Myers was charged with assault and released immediately under $100 bond.

Dallas Police Hunt Suspect in Death Of Kidnaped Child

DALLAS (UPI)—Police said today a Negro attacker running from the house of a victim may have stolen a car in which a baby girl had been left alone. The child was found dead in the abandoned vehicle 10 hours later.

An autopsy was being made on five-week-old Sonia Reed, although preliminary indications were that the child died of exposure.

The mother, Mrs. Ray Lee Reed, said she went inside a grocery for five minutes and returned to find the car and child gone. The keys were in the ignition.

Only moments before and a few blocks away another woman had been attacked by a Negro at her home. She called him from the house and chased him, but the man escaped on foot.

Conference Set For Emergency Disaster Plans

According to an announcement from C. O. Layne, state director for the Office of Defense and Disaster Relief in Austin, the meeting has been set for 6:30 to 10 p.m. on that date in the county courtroom of the Gray County Courthouse.

Layne stated in a letter to local officials the conference will cover basic community requirements for disaster planning and point out resources available from state and federal offices.

The program is being jointly sponsored by Texas A&M University and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

County Judge Bill Craig said today he had been notified the meeting is to be held here and had sent a letter to county judges and officials in nearby counties inviting them to attend.

A UNITED FUND AGENCY

Salvation Army Offers Spiritual Guidance

What does it cost? When a girl gets off to a wrong start in life? When a man drifts into heavy drinking and deserts his family? When a boy drops out of school, then finds he can't get a job?

When a neighbor takes a wrong turn in life, it may cost the public additional dollars in welfare services to feed and clothe a family which has no breadwinner, to provide care for a baby born out of wedlock. A boy may start as a school dropout and wind up a prison inmate or narcotics addict; his unproductive life behind bars costs an enormous sum in money and misery.

The Salvation Army, a member of the Pampa United Fund, claims no magic cure-all for all of the world's mistakes and miseries, but its program of spiritual guidance and wholesome activities for young people, old people, all people, does contribute to family and community stability; and thus helps keep down the cost of welfare and institutional services.

A typical week's activities of The Salvation Army at 613 Albert, includes: Sunday School, Junior Soldiers, Holiness Meeting, Corps Cadets, Open Air, Young People's Legion, Salvation Meeting, Boys' Club, Men's Fellowship Club, Ladies Home League, Teachers' Preparation Class, Mid-week Prayer Service, Songster Practice, Junior Guards, Timbrels and Girls Chorus, Senior Guards, Sunbeams, Rhythm Band and Young People's Singing Company.

There are no statistics on the subject, but it is a safe bet that not many young people (or oldsters) who have found interesting and purposeful activities at the Salvation Army, wind up in police courts, mental hospitals, or jails.

With banners waving and bands playing, The Salvation Army this year marks its Centennial — one hundred years of service to God and man.

It has grown from a small mission in East London to an international army of men and women, working in 69 countries and colonies, in 162 languages. In the United States, it now has 283,109 members, including over 5,000 officers who devote their entire lives to full-time service.

The Army strives to help all those in need, wherever they may be, regardless of race, religion, or nationality. In accordance with the vision of its founder, General William Booth, it believes that effective social work must be aimed at fostering self-respect, spiritual fortitude, emotional maturity and financial independence.

Among the earliest developments in The Salvation Army's spiritual and social welfare ministry, shelters for "fallen women" and those whom severe want threatened with degradation, aid to prisoners and ex-convicts, and employment services for both men and women.

A frightened young girl may come to the Salvation Army and pour out her story. She will be referred to one of the Army's 36 homes and hospitals for unwed mothers where she will receive medical care and be sheltered from criticism and curiosity. The girl's mistake is costly to her in shame and suffering, and will perhaps end her high school or college studies.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The builder of a $70 million, 3800-apartment development in the Coney Island section of Brooklyn was asked how he managed to have the project four months

A MOTHER AT 53

BRIDGENT, England (UPI) — Mrs. Phyllis Keeble, 53, has become a mother for the 11th time. Authorities announced she gave birth to a 9-pound boy

Rev. West, Wife Honored Tuesday With Luncheon

School board members and teachers of St. Matthews Episcopal Day School honored Rev. and Mrs. William E. West at a luncheon in St. Matthews Parish Hall yesterday.

The luncheon was a joint farewell party for the couple before their departure for Beaumont where Father West will become headmaster of All Saints Episcopal Day School and associate rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church. Ike Gives Views on World Affairs

EDITOR'S NOTE: Thursday is the 75th birthday of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. On the eve of this milestone in his life, Eisenhower gives his opinions on world affairs in an interview with UPI White House Reporter Merriman Smith.

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, on the eve of his 75th birthday, feels American society is threatened by so-called easy money, the temptation to "let Washington do it," and, for that matter, long hair-dos affected by so many young men. The long hair displayed in some younger male circles, he says, is really symptomatic of something much deeper — a diminution of self-respect, individually and nationally.

These and other opinions on current affairs were expressed by the five-star general and former chief executive in an interview with United Press International.

Thursday Eisenhower will celebrate one of his most active birthdays in recent years, marked by publication of his second post-White House book, "Waging Peace." This is a massive work of 741 pages covering his latter years in the White House, including his problems with Cuba, Hungary, Viet Nam and such world leaders as former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Actually publication date for Eisenhower was somewhat of an anti-climax. He has been talking about the book almost daily for several weeks, taping television shows, granting interviews and all the while, maintaining a speaking schedule away from his Pennsylvania home and working on still another book.

His capacity for work seems, if anything, to have increased in retirement. And physically, it agrees with him. He looks slimmer than when he left office in 1961. His stance is trim and erect, that of a man 30 years his junior.

And he still has that electric smile, a trademark for many years that evoked roaring cheers from New Deihl to New York. A UPI photographer, snapping pictures informally throughout this interview, cracked down on one particularly broad Eisenhower grin and said softly, "Man, he still has it."

Eisenhower "still has it" in many other ways. While he was never any great shakes as a professional politician, there are Republicans today who believe he still is the best the party has to offer when it comes to commanding public attention. "Like it or not," he was told, "you're still head of the Republican Party in the minds of millions of Americans."

He thought this was "unfortunate." While he likes to be consulted on the course of his party, he thinks that public attention should be focused on Republicans who are on their way up.

Eisenhower concedes readily that there seems to be a current shortage of GOP presidential timber for 1968, but he thinks the Republicans should and will get moving to encourage the emergence of young, talented and dedicated leaders.

"When we find one party becoming too dominant for too long, then the whole institution of government is damaged," he said.

"I like to think of the Republican Party as the common sense party," he added. This was his introduction for some rather strongly expressed feelings about those who in complacency and over-acceptance of the status quo, try to pretend that there are no real social problems in America; that since they, themselves are sitting pretty, they shy away from challenging real threats to their security.

"I think those people are stupid," he said almost glumly.

He is particularly distressed by those who for all their discontent, believe in letting Washington handle all problems with federal money, power, moral and social leadership. He thinks there is a greater need for leadership on the state, local and individual levels.

He believes federal subsidies have been overdone, particularly in agriculture where he would cut farm price supports sharply, to where price in the market place is a more determining factor than it is today. He was energetic in his discussion of so-called "easy money" and the threat it holds to the nation's economic structure.

The former president expressed the belief that with

Insurancemen Hear Head of Underwriters

John C. Boeye, president of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, called on local insurancemen to help protect the public from gimmick insurance policies being sold throughout the state.

Boeye was principal speaker at the Top O' Texas Life Underwriters Banquet held in the Coronado Inn last night.

Boeye said the gimmick policies are being sold in almost every town in the state and particularly to unsuspecting elderly persons.

Boeye also presented the association with the Louis I. Dublin special service award for their work with exceptional children.

bank credit expanding rapidly and prices, particularly wholesale prices, rising, the country was in a stage or state of inflation which could become quite serious, damage the dollar abroad and lead eventually to some form of domestic economic controls.

He said that with the long prosperity which the country

Police Step Up Crackdown on Traffic Violators

Police Chief Jim Conner cautioned motorists today that increased accidents and violations at the 800 block of east Francis has resulted in a crackdown on traffic laws at the corner.

The chief said that recently new speed limits have been placed at the hazardous curve and dividing lines remarked in an effort to relieve the dangerous traffic situation at the corner.

He said, though, the police department has received numerous complaints of speeding and traffic lane violation at the corner. He said in an effort to prevent a serious accident, police officers have been instructed to keep a close watch for traffic violators at the corner.

was enjoying, along with easy money, tremendous federal expenditures, increasing public dependence on Washington and the continued imbalance of foreign payments, the economy was coming into a period of trouble.

What to do about it? His feeling was that reversal of a trend is well nigh impossible, but with proper policies at the top, it could be arrested before the point of severe national difficulty.

And this brought him around again to the need for more vibrant leadership in the GOP with an eye to 1968 and 1972. He is reluctant to place his hand on the shoulder of a n y prospect at this point.

TOM ROSE MOTORS
121 NORTH BALLARD PAMPA, TEXAS

Dear Abby
By Abigail
Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently my husband and I went on a vacation and on our last night we found a well-kept motel. We rented a room and my husband told the motel clerk (who was also the owner) that we were very tired and hoped to get a good night's rest. We were assured we would.

At 5 a.m. we were practically thrown from our beds by terrific noises. We looked out the window and not ten feet away were bulldozers and heavy road equipment at work. My husband was angry, went to the motel owner and demanded half his money back as we had had only half a night's rest. The motel owner refused to listen to him and walked away. My husband then became so furious that he stuffed a bath towel down the toilet just to get even. I became angry with him and still am. Was my husband within his rights to do what he did, or am I...

TOO CRITICAL?

DEAR CRITICAL: If the motel owner knew that the road outside your window would be under construction at 5 a.m., he is a crook. If he didn't know, but refused to listen to your husband, he is only a fool. But speaking of immaturity-in-action, your husband takes the teething rings.

DEAR ABBY: Some of my women friends work in a large office. To celebrate their "anniversaries" with the company each year, the boss takes them out to lunch, but he takes them out only once a time. He says this is so he can get to know them better. The boss is a married man. Don't you think his wife has a legitimate complaint?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If she thinks she has, let her take it up with her husband. I doubt if a once-a-year luncheon justifies a complaint. On the other hand, once a year might be enough.

DEAR ABBY: I spent six weeks at summer camp and liked it a lot. One afternoon I was down by the lake watching the kids swim, but I did not go in myself because I was going to be in a skit that night and I did not want to get my hair wet. I had all my clothes on, and my wrist watch, too, when this one kid picked me up and threw me in the lake!

I took my watch to the repair shop and was told it would cost me $9 to get it fixed. Should I send the bill to the kid who threw me in?

THROWN IN

DEAR THROWN: If you think it will do some good, by all means, do. But a clown who'd throw a girl in the lake, clothes and all, isn't likely to pay it. Try his father.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TOO OLD TO BE USEFUL": Is that so? Michelangelo painted the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel (on his back, on a scaffold) when he was nearly 90. Paderewski played magnificent piano at 79. John Wesley preached daily at 88. Alfred Lord Tennyson published "Crossing the Bar" at 80. Booth Tarkington wrote 16 novels after 80. (He was almost totally blind.) Benjamin Franklin went to France to serve his country at 72, and wrote his autobiography when he was over 80. And don't forget Grandma Moses!

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An adverse day and evening in which most everyone is restless, discontented, and desirous of making unwise moves as well as criticizing others — and not kindly. Get out of this atmosphere by being with sunny personalities, reading good literature and thinking about happy, cheerful subjects.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — A day fraught with worry if you don't count your change, look where you're going, think before you speak, etc. Be ahead of the game. Show courtesy to others, put on the soft pedal.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Take care you do not invest unwisely because you may be a little strapped for ready cash at this time and gamble what little you have. Collect from those who are just stringing you along. Then have fun — inexpensively, too.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Letting off steam with those around you will only result in further misunderstanding. So tone down. Think and act in a practical fashion. Get shoddy more orderly. Appearance improved.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Getting nervous or feeling others are against you because you are not as successful as you want to be. Is not thinking positively. Get hold of yourself. Get busy — work.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 31) — Gentility is best with chums who are under pressure and have no time for your problems or worries right now. Be charming and help them instead. Then this becomes a good day.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — If high-erups are in irate mood, realize that the pressures are great upon him, or her.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Choose between accomplishing and having a bit of fun at big expense — then you keep calm, loyal. Obey all laws pertaining to you.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tessell Patrick Inc. says the end of the current intermediate advance is not yet in sight.

The firm says that with an excellent chance of continuing strength over the coming weeks, commitments appear justified.

Keuneth Ward of Hayden Stone Inc. says there is no denying the fact that a new bull market phase will be signalled by the new peak in the Dow-Jones industrial average.

Spear & Staff Inc. says that with threats of tight money effectively neutralized by President Johnson, institutions waiting for a nearby reaction in the market may decide that patience is no virtue and wade right in to buy now.

HOSPITAL COSTS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Payroll boosts and the cost of new medical techniques and equipment are pushing up the expense of hospitalization, says the Health Insurance Institute.

The Institute said the average expense per patient day in non-federal, short-term general and other special hospitals in the United States in 1962 was $18.35. By the end of 1962, this had risen to $36.83. According to American Hospital Association figures, the Institute said, this average expense went up to $39.33 last year and appears to be rising this year.

Foreign Commentary

By K.C. THALER
LONDON (UPI)—Latest rumblings in Indonesia have set off diplomatic hopes for an eventual shift in the power balance in Asia that might relieve the United States ultimately from its heavy commitments in the area.

Diplomats say that in the long run the only hope for a stable balance of power in Asia is for the 700 million people of Japan, India and Indonesia to form a counterweight to the mass of 600 or 700 million of Red China.

The idea is no longer as fantastic as it might have appeared only a few months ago, they say. Japan already has grasped the problem. India which pursued an unrealistic policy of neutralism for years past began to "switch" after Red China had launched her aggression in 1962. The Communist Chinese hostilities against India during the recent Indo-Pakistani Kashmir conflict have pushed New Delhi still Indonesia with her 100 million people has on the other hand followed a firm pro-Peking course.

All indications until lately pointed to a Peking-Jakarta axis, designed to dominate Asia, with no comparable counterweight in sight.

Indonesia's policy of confrontation with Malaysia appeared moreover to be forcing her with every day more deeply into the Chinese camp.

Jakarta followed Red China in refuting the United Nations and generally has been giving

WHOLESALE TRADE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three states accounted for more than one-third (36 per cent) of the $358 billion total sales for the wholesale trade in the United States in 1963, the Census Bureau reports in its 1963 census of business.

New York had $66 billion (18 per cent), California $35 billion (10 per cent) and Illinois $29 billion (8 per cent).

willy-nilly Peking all the support it wanted for its ambitious Afro-Asian designs.

What made things worse was the existence of a powerful Communist Party in Indonesia which is strongly Peking-orientated and which to all appearances has been taking its orders from Red China.

Peking, over-confident of its influence appears to have played an important role in pushing for Communist take-over in Jakarta "to make sure" of its ally. The move has misfired, at least so far.

The situation in Indonesia is still obscure and is likely to remain so for some time to come.

But the power struggle which has been set off by the recent coup has for the first time conjured up the prospect of drastic changes. It may have long term effect on the policy of Indonesia and on her future alignments and thereby on the power balance in Asia altogether.

The change is not expected to come about quickly, but what appeared almost impossible only a few weeks ago now is considered at least a possibility. The more optimistic among the diplomats considers it a probability.

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. LeSabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Plainsmen Big, Strong, You Name It They Got It

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

Scouting report on Monterey: They are big, they are fast, they hit, they block, they win. This sums up what the Pampa Harvesters will be facing Friday night when the Monterey Plainsmen come to town for a 7:30 p.m. conference game.

Monterey is 4-1 for the season and 2-0 in league play, and in the driver's seat to win it all. The Plainsmen have three games at home and only two on the road. The Plainsmen will average about 186 pounds per man from end to end and 165 pounds per man in the backfield. Pampa is bigger, linewise, smaller backfield wise. But, unlike the Harvesters, the Plainsmen have speed both in the line and backfield. They are also very experienced.

Eight starters return from the 1964 team that held off the Harvesters in the fourth quarter for a 20-18 win. Monterey has 18 lettermen and possess a lot of depth.

The Plainsmen run from the formation, basically, although they run wing back Bill Hunter as a flanker and use only three players lined up in the line.

To find out why the Plainsmen are riding atop the 3-4A standings you just have to look at the league statistics.

In team-total offense the Plainsmen have 571 yards for an average of 285 per game and on defense have limited opponents to 206 per contest.

They have the second leading passer in the league in quarterback Randy Bowlin, who has hit 16 of 24 attempts for 246 yards and three touchdowns. Bowlin is also one of the league's top rushers with 129 yards on 29 carries for a 4.4 per game average. Teammates Tim Horn and Mack Buffington have 45 and 3.9 averages, respectively. Bowlin is first in total offense with 375 total yards for an average of 187.5 per game.

Hunter is the top pass receiver with eight catches for 138 yards and two touchdowns.

The Harvesters hope to get an offense that has been stuck in molasses the past three games into high gear with the return of fullback Ted Heiskell.

The big senior has been pronounced completely healed by doctors. Heiskell had torn ligaments and missed most of three games.

Coach Eural Ramsey said he felt the Harvester defense had been improving game by game and felt the offense would be greatly improved with the return of Heiskell.

AFTER THE BALL...—There are times when a football can be awfully elusive as demonstrated clockwise from upper left by Art Graham (84) of the Boston Patriots and Johnny Robinson (42) of Kansas City; Bob Long (80) of the Green Bay Packers; Nick Eddy (47) of Notre Dame; and Tom Hodges (10) of the University of Virginia.

Shockers, Junior High Teams to Play Thursday

The Pampa Shockers, sporting a 9-2 defensive record, host Plainview at 4 p.m. Thursday.

The Shockers, who have limited six foes to 56 points and have scored 128 for an average of 21.2 per game, will be shooting for their fifth straight victory.

The Shockers stand, 5-1 for the season, having dominated Perryton, Canadian B. Lubbock Coronado, Lubbock High and Amarillo. The lone loss was to Borger's Bullpups, 22-8.

Pampa's two Junior Highs have games scheduled Thursday and Friday with seventh grade teams from both schools playing Friday.

Thursday Lee ninth (0-4) plays at Dumas, Lee eighth (2-1) hosts Dumas in a 4 p.m. game.

Pampa Junior High ninth (3-1) plays a 7 p.m. game at Borger-Houston and the eighth grade (0-3) hosts Houston in a 4 p.m. contest.

Friday Lee seventh (1-3) plays at Borger in a 4 p.m. battle and Pampa seventh (2-2) hosts Perryton at 4 p.m.

Broyles Shuffles Lineup For Tilt With Longhorns

By United Press International

Texas coach Darrell Royal isn't planning to bench all-American guard-linebacker Tommy Nobis for the showdown Saturday with the University of Arkansas, but he must figure that's what it will take to stay up with Razorback coach Frank Broyles' tactics.

Broyles shuffled his starting lineup around for the Southwest Conference football collision with the Longhorns the conference's second leading rusher, Bobby Burnett with 328 yards, was dropped to No. 2 tailback behind Jim Lindsey, just returning from the injured list.

Royal said he put in some new wrinkles for the Arkansas contest that had some of the Longhorns still confused. The Texas mentor said he was "real upset" with the workout.

Sophomore sensation—Linus Baer, injured in the Oklahoma game last week, was ruled definitely out of the Arkansas match, as was linebacker David Jeffries. There was no scrimmaging in the drill.

Texas A&M Coach Gene Stallings pronounced his squad in top physical shape Tuesday for the game with Texas Christian University Saturday, but warned that TCU would probably give the Aggies a rough time.

"TCU isn't quite as large as usual but they have some good running backs," Stallings said, citing tailback Steve Landon and fullback Kenny Post. He also praised end Sonny Campbell. "You can't judge them on their win-loss record because they've played two of the three top teams in the country."

TCU coach Abe Martin said he may use a Junior college transfer behind Landon at tailback against the Aggies. Paul Fry, not even listed on the roster, worked at the position and impressed Martin. Fry transferred from Wharton Junior College.

It really was a necessary thing, however, if Lindsey had moved into the No. 1 wingback spot which he had at the opening of the season. Broyles would have to move Harry Jones to No. 2 wingback. Jones subbed for Lindsey after his injury and in four games has 366 yards rushing, tops in the league.

Frank Displeased

But Broyles isn't at all pleased with the Porkers' progress in their preparation for the big one.

"We've just had the worst practice of the year," Broyles said Tuesday. "It looked like the sixth day of September when they had had six days of two-a-days and didn't have anything left to practice with."

Arkansas and Texas gridirers worked in secret again Tuesday.

as he knew there had been no decision on the question of whether to keep a baseball man in the job or to name an outsider.

"I honestly don't think the owners have crystallized their feeling on whether they want a man who has been in baseball as the new commissioner or a man outside the game," MacPhail said.

The fact that there is a hard core of American League club owners, led by John Fetzer of the Detroit tigers, insisting that a non-baseball man be chosen for the job, led to a campaign by National League club owners to elect MacPhail to the post.

There are other American League club owners plugging for their league president, Joe Cronin, for the job. Cronin appeared a sure bet for the post when Frick's retirement plans originally were revealed but he reportedly lost favor over the way he supervised the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System and the attempts of owner Charles Finley to move his Athletics from Kansas City to another city.

GRANT VS. OSTEEN

Twins Try to Square Series Today

(UPI) — Jim (Mudcat) Grant, nursing a slight cold and the waning World Series hopes of the Minnesota Twins, faced southpaw Claude Osteen in the sixth game today knowing the Los Angeles Dodgers could wrap it all up by nightfall.

Grant, the Twins' right-handed 21-game winner, was going with only two days rest and the oddsmakers were going with the invading Dodgers who are off-the-board favorites to win their fourth world championship since 1955.

"We're in good shape and we're optimistic about our chances," said Dodger Manager

Walt Alton, who saw his club lose the first two series games here and then snap back to take the next three in Los Angeles.

"They talk a lot about momentum and if there such a thing, it'll be working for us," he added.

Capacity Crowd Expected

A capacity crowd of 48,700 was expected to watch the 30-year-old Grant square off against the 26-year-old Osteen in an effort to even the series for the Twins, the prediction was for sunny weather, with only a few clouds and the temperature in the high 50s.

Neither Grant, who won the opening series contest for the Twins and lost the fourth one, nor Minnesota Manager Sam Mele were conceding the Dodgers a thing.

"We've been in big games before this season," said Grant. "The only difference about today's game is we can't afford to lose. My arm is all right although I do have a cold and have been taking some medication for it. That shouldn't bother my pitching, though."

Mele gave the Twins what he called "a pep talk" behind closed doors after Tuesday's workout and came out of the meeting convinced they could bounce back now that they've returned to their own Metropolitan Stadium front lawn.

"We showed we can beat the Dodgers here and I think we can do it again," said Mele. "We're a long way from being beaten yet."

In the frail-looking but fast-balling Osteen, the Twins will be up against a shrewd little lefty whom they have never been able to beg.

He won five in a row over the Twins without a loss to them while he was with the Washington Senators, before the Dodgers obtained him in a seven-player deal last November, and made it six straight by limiting them to five hits in a 4-0 triumph in the third game of the series.

Up to now, Osteen's performance has been the turning point of the series between these two rivals since the Twins had gotten a quick two-game to nothing jump before he stopped them at Dodger Stadium.

Stopped Streak

Osteen had a 15-15 record with the Dodgers this season and his latest victory over the Twins occurred after they had beaten Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax on successive days. Since then, however, both Drysdale and Koufax have scored victories over the American League champions.

Both clubs participated in light workouts Tuesday, the Twins loosening up here and the Dodgers in Los Angeles before boarding their own private airplane that brought them to Minnesota early Tuesday evening.

The only casualty on either club is Jim Lefebvre, the Dodgers' rookie switch-hitting second baseman who bruised his right heel crossing home plate in the fourth inning of the third game.

Lefebvre took batting practice Tuesday and reported his heel slightly improved by Alton said Dick Tracewski would be back at second base for today's game.

FUTURE IN DOUBT

MOSCOW (UPI) — Valery Brumel's athletic future was still in doubt following an operation to correct a fractured shin bone, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Russian doctors were still unable to say whether the world high jump king will ever be able to compete again. Brumel fractured his shin bone when he crashed on a motorcycle last week.

Birds' McPhail May Be New Commissioner

(UPI)—Lee MacPhail, who has been running the Baltimore Orioles, probably will be running major league baseball as its new commissioner before the start of the 1966 season.

The majority of the 20 American and National League club owners, faced with the problem of replacing the retiring Ford Frick, have settled on MacPhail as their choice. The United Press International learned.

He will be offered a five-year contract at $100,000 a year and be given powers that no baseball commissioner has had since the days of Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

"I like the work I'm doing here," MacPhail told the UPI in a telephone conversation from his Baltimore home, "but let's face it, my life is baseball and if the game calls on me for the job, I'd accept it. I'd be greatly honored. No one in baseball could turn the job down."

"I have not sought the job and have no personal ambitions along that line. But baseball is my business and if they want me to be commissioner, I will."

MacPhail insisted that so far as he knew there had been no decision on the question of whether to keep a baseball man in the job or to name an outsider.

"I honestly don't think the owners have crystallized their feeling on whether they want a man who has been in baseball as the new commissioner or a man outside the game," MacPhail said.

The fact that there is a hard core of American League club owners, led by John Fetzer of the Detroit tigers, insisting that a non-baseball man be chosen for the job, led to a campaign by National League club owners to elect MacPhail to the post.

There are other American League club owners plugging for their league president, Joe Cronin, for the job. Cronin appeared a sure bet for the post when Frick's retirement plans originally were revealed but he reportedly lost favor over the way he supervised the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System and the attempts of owner Charles Finley to move his Athletics from Kansas City to another city.

Vanpool Continues To Lead Area Scoring

Area scoring leader Bobby Vanpool of Wheeler scored only two points last Friday, but they were two of the most important of his career.

Vanpool ran over his two-point conversion after Wheeler's only touchdown against Follett, to give the Mustangs an 8-6 conference victory and continue their 18 game winning streak.

Meanwhile White Deer's Randy Elliott scored three times against Claude to pull into second place only four points behind Vanpool.

Vanpool has eight touchdowns and two conversions for 32 points and Elliott has eight touchdowns for 48 points.

The Mustangs Tom Smith fell to third place, despite scoring Wheeler's only touchdown. Smith has six touchdowns and five conversions for 46 points.

Groom's Larry Lamberson continued to make steady progress up the scoring ladder, scoring twice in Groom's rout of Booker.

Lamberson tied White Deer's Vernon Marlar and now has six touchdowns and three conversions for 42 points. Marlar has seven touchdowns for his 42 points.

Gary Lister of Miami, McLean's Steve Fuller and White Deer's J. Smith all have 24 points.

Still hanging tough in the scoring and actually climbing a couple of notches was the Buck's Johnny Mooney. The sure-footed youngster has hit 19 of 25 extra point tries for 19 total points.

Hayes Make Cowboys Look Good, Feel Good

By BLACKIE SHERROD
DALLAS (NEA) — The Dallas Cowboys look at Bob Hayes and feel like a guy whose blind date turned out to be Sophia Loren, with her own car and credit card.

It was strictly a longshot gamble when the Dallas club chose the famed sprinter on the seventh round of the 1963 draft. Hayes still had a year of college eligibility and some gold medals to collect in the Tokyo Olympics.

Besides, the junkyards are littered with track stars who fail to crash pro football rosters. Mostly, they tend to flee to the sidelines, trying to outrun the opposition, and are reluctant to plant a foot and cut back into the heavy traffic where a runner is apt to be struck by a locomotive or two. "Turning the corner" is the phraseology.

Also, when Hayes reported to the College All-Star camp last summer, the reports were dismal. He was swift, all right, but his fingers seemed freshly starched. Passes ricocheted off his hands with distressing frequency.

"Hayes has 9.1 feet and 15.2 hands," said one All-Star coach. But when the 190-pound whippet reported to the Cowboys, he started an improvement program that made him the most electric rookie in the National Football League.

Cowboy coach Tom Landry stationed him at flanker, planning to use Hayes only in spot situations, behind All-NFL Frank Clarke. But Hayes labored long at the intricate pro receiver patterns.

"Coach, I can't get past that linebacker," Bob once complained. "He grabs me every time I try to go past him."

"That's the way it is in this game," said assistant Red Hickey. "They'll all try to hold you. You gotta dodge him, get around him some way."

"I can't do it," said Hayes. "You do it or I'll send you home," barked Hickey.

"I'll do it," said Hayes. Hayes conquered that maneuver and many more, and his hands lost their stiffness. During the exhibition season, he turned at least one sensational play each game. In one, he would skitter back 35 yards with a kickoff. In another, he would lay a terrific block while fellow safetyman Mel Renfro returned a punt. In still another, Hayes would shift his famed gears and run under a long pass that would have been an overthrow for any other mortal.

In the regular season, Hayes has been the biggest offensive noise for the Cowboys. No longer is he considered a spot player, a reserve behind Clarke. In fact, Landry revamped his entire offense so that he is able to get Hayes, Clarke and Buddy Dial on the field at the same time.

In the Giant opener, Hayes sped 37 yards with a pass, setting up a touchdown. On a second pass, he made a quick jag, switched on his 9.1 afterburner and screamed 45 yards between amazed Giant defenders.

Against Washington the next week, he faked veteran cornerback John Sample, took a Don Meredith pass and whipped 45 yards for a touchdown, simply outrunning two Redskins with good pursuit angles.

Nest time he touched the ball, Hayes took a handoff and reversed around right end, outrunning three blockers, then cutting back through them and a batch of defenders on an 11-yard touchdown run.

"He had those blockers to clear the way if he'd just waited," said Landry, "but he was in a hurry."

As for his taste for contact, Cowboy assistant Eral Allen tells this story with a shaking voice.

"Gary Porterfield, our kickoff man who breaks the wedge of blockers, was hurt. I was looking around the sidelines for somebody to take his place. And it's one of the toughest jobs in this business."

"I'll do it! I'll do it!" yelled Hayes, racing on the field.

"I caught him just in time," said Allen, mopping his brow. "Can you imagine what people would have done to me if Hayes got hurt on that assignment?"

WARM UP
LONDON (UPI) Alan Rudkin, 120½ British Empire bantamweight champion, warmed up for his world bantamweight title bout by pouncing out a fifth round technical knockout over France's Michel Lamora, 122, last night.

Rudkin is scheduled to meet Fighting Hadara in Tokyo Nov. 20 for the world bantamweight title.

SWIMMING CHAMP DIES
SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (UPI) — Burial services were held Monday for former swimming star Helen Wainwright Spelling, who died Friday at her home in Hampton Bays, N.Y., at the age of 60.

Mrs. Spelling, who represented the United States in the 1920 and 1924 Olympics, had been world record holder of the 50 yard, 220 yard, 440 yard and 880 yard freestyles. She was also national diving champion in 1923-24-25.

started, Hickey said, "You can pick him right now for rookie of the year and you won't be embarrassed."

Cowboy general manager Tex Schramm, looking happily at the "blind date," says, "Hayes has given the club such a lift the team really feels like it has a shot at the title."

In his first regular season game, Hayes was voted a sports-writers' award for the outstanding play of the game, that 45-yard pass reception. The next week he was voted the game ball by his teammates, a rare feat for a rookie.

"What do you intend to do, alternate these awards each week?" asked a kiddier.

"No," said Hayes in all seriousness. "I wanta win 'em all."

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

GOP Elite and Birchers

The John Birch Society must be more effective than it appeared. The recent attacks by members of the Republican power elite, echoing the frightened cries of the Americans for Democratic Action, Communist Party members and assorted other collectivists, are growing in intensity.

Just how Sen. Thurston B. Morton, who is leading the present attack on those nasty old Birchers proposes to write them out of the party is difficult to see. As long as Morton has been in politics he should know a political party can no more control the thinking of the people in the party than it can win elections without votes.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who's been around a long time, showed more political savvy than the Kentuckian when he said the Birch Society "is not a part of the Republican Party. . . it never was and I don't suppose it pretends to be."

Morton, et al. have some sort of idea that the Birch Society is an arm of the Republican Party, even though there are reported to be Democrat Birchers also.

As far as "infiltration" of the Republican Party is concerned, State Sen. John Schmitz has pointed out that most of the members who are Republicans are members of the party "who infiltrated the John Birch Society."

What Morton and others are doing is to show the people who call themselves conservatives that they are not welcome in the Republican party. They are demonstrating that the power elite of the party are satisfied with the "me-too" program they have followed for many years and are not about to embark on a program of real opposition to the growth of big government which is eliminating individual self-responsibility and individual self-respect.

Actually, we think the attacks by the Mortons and others against the people they choose to call "extremists," are all to the good. The more attacks are launched, the more people will come to realize that political action is not the solution to human problems, that electing "good" men to office will do no good as long as the people are convinced that Big-Brother government can solve all their problems.

If the John Birch Society has accomplished anything, it has done it through an educational program. It has gotten a lot of individuals to start studying what their government politicians have been doing to them rather than for them.

Some of these people are beginning to question whether political programs are a solution. They are beginning to think for the first time. And the politicians cannot stand anything so revolutionary as to have thinking people, or they will be out of their jobs.

May the day come that individuals again realize that only through their own self-improvement, and not through improving politicians, can they start to build a better world.

Newspapers Lights of Liberty

Editor and Publisher Year Book reports that as of Sept. 30, 1964, the 1,763 daily newspapers in the United States had a combined circulation of 60,412,266. This is the highest circulation in history and a 2.5 per cent increase over 1963.

Sunday papers numbered 561 with a circulation of 48,383,076. This is also a gain over 1963, up by 11 papers and a million and a half circulation.

All of which information is apropos of observing that the current week through Saturday is National Newspaper Week.

These figures add up to a lot of newspapers. There can never be too many of them in a free land, however, for the quality of freedom depends in great measure on the news reporting, news analysis and news editorializing performed by an unfettered and competitive press.

The figures add up to a lot of readers, too, especially when we add some 8,000 weeklies with a circulation of more than 24 million. The circulation numbers overlap, of course; they include people who subscribe to more than one paper.

On the other hand, they do not include millions of others who are not counted in the paid circulation but who see and read and are otherwise exposed to newspapers.

It is safe to say that the individual in America today who does not read at least some part of some newspaper regularly is a pretty rare bird indeed.

Whenever any newspaper, large or small, goes out of business or is shut down by a strike, it is as if a light were turned off in the community it served.

No other communications medium fills so many and so from want ads to advice columns, from society notes to vital statistics, from comics to sermons.

But all of these are secondary to a newspaper's reason for existence — of being a NEWS-SPAPER. Yet in this day of almost instantaneous electronic dissemination of major news events, even his category has undergone fundamental change.

People look to their newspaper not just for headlines or spot news but the news behind the news. They want background, explanation, analysis to help them relate today's complex news to yesterday's and to enable them to understand tomorrow's news when it happens.

They want not only dispassionate reporting; they want opinion on all sides of every issue—opinion that is grounded in accuracy and informed with integrity and courage.

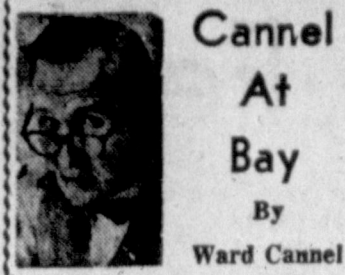

A newspaper is a light in its community and in its country. That is why totalitarian governments, which prosper in human darkness, must gag them. That is why freedom of the press was the first right to be catalogued in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

America has many such lights.

Who Wants to Compete With Automated TV News?

NEW YORK (NEA) — A couple of days before the New York newspaper strike began, an assistant editor we know got a phone call from a television producer who wanted permission to bring a camera crew to the city room and "film the death of a metropolitan daily."

"Vermin!" our friend growled in reporting the conversation. "I don't mind the competition covering the strike. After all, it is a big story. But these television people want it to look like the plague."

Needless to say, he did not give his consent to the request. And under the circumstances it is very hard to blame him, although we do not agree with his diagnosis of the situation.

We simply do not see how newspapers and television can be considered competing mediums. To our way of thinking, there is absolutely no sense in even wanting to compete with an 11-minute show that can begin summarizing the day's events by saying:

"Thousands buried alive under molten lava in the Philippines. More on this and other stories after this word from the Guarantee Trust Company . . ."

In fact, what amazes us is that the request to "film the death of a metropolitan daily" was made at all. We cannot imagine how a television newsman could benefit from exaggerating the crisis in the city room. Not if he understands the reasons for the strike by the Newspaper Guild.

At issue basically is that newspaper jobs are threatened by the rising cost of people and the increasing capabilities of computers and other automation devices.

Just how a computer is going to cover a Philippine volcano eruption or a battle in Viet Nam, or even a Memorial Day parade — well, we have seen enough computers to know better than to ask obvious questions.

But whatever a computer may be able to do in the future, it is certainly capable of taking on the job of television news-casting this evening.

As a matter of fact, if we see this situation clearly, most television news shows are practically automated now. All that remains is to feed the components into an electronic brain and attach it to an alarm clock for punctual broadcasting.

It does not seem to matter which news program we tune in, or at what hour. The same fellow is always on the screen. We do not know his name, and cannot really describe him as he seems to have a nonconformist voice and an interchangeable head.

All we can say for sure is that he recites the same words each time, altering their order a bit depending on the news events he hurries through.

Well, it certainly seems to us that if he recited these different words into a computerized television camera once, they could be stored on video tape and recalled by a key-punch operator as need to give the news.

Aside from the names of places and people, such as Washington and President Johnson, we estimate that the television newscaster vocabulary is about 200 words.

We do not have room to put them all down here. But you can see from a partial list that it would take less than an hour to computerize them all — dispensing with the television newscaster once and for all without sacrificing any of the information the televisioner now receives:

Unique Cure for Bank Robbing

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Those secret talks between Secretary of State Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko are taking a very strange twist.

Instead of using these private meetings to negotiate an end to Soviet arms shipments to Communist North Viet Nam, Secretary Rusk appears to be spending most of his time encouraging Russia to increase her influence in Asian affairs.

According to a confidential State Department report on these conversations, Secretary Rusk is exploring the possibility of Russia's joining the U.S. in proposing a nuclear umbrella for India as a deterrent to a Chinese Communist invasion.

Gromyko, without accepting or rejecting the offer, is countering with a proposal that the U.S. and Russia concentrate on arranging a world-wide non-proliferation nuclear treaty, containing a pledge from both to protect all signers.

Secretary Rusk also is encouraging Gromyko to have Soviet leaders use their influence with Hanoi to agree to a ceasefire in Viet Nam as a prelude to negotiations for a political settlement with the U.S. and South Viet Nam.

Significantly, Secretary Rusk is refusing a Joint Chiefs of Staff request to use the talks to put pressure on Russia to halt its growing arms shipment to North Viet Nam.

He is talking about discussing the arms issue with Gromyko on the grounds it is not U.S. policy to force the Soviet Union to stop these weapon deliveries despite the use of these arms to kill Americans. The President's military advisers sought Rusk's help because of the alarming number of U.S. pilots being shot down by these Russian-made anti-aircraft guns and missiles.

DECISION DELAYED—They are suggesting that the State Department make the demand for a Soviet arms cutoff as the major U.S. condition for improving relations with the Soviet Union.

Secretary Rusk, who privately favors bolstering Russia's influence in Asia as a check on Communist China, wants no part of the military's proposal.

As reported in an earlier column, the Joint Chiefs of Staff are pressing for a naval blockade of North Viet Nam to cut off the flow of Soviet military shipments. Their latest warning is that losses of U.S. pilots will increase sharply if the North Vietnamese are allowed to continue their build-up of air defenses with additional Soviet anti-aircraft guns.

No final decision on the proposed naval blockade is expected until after President Johnson fully recovers from his surgery. Before entering the hospital, he asked his National Security Council to review the Joint Chiefs of Staff plan.

TEST OF STRENGTH — Supporters of legislation repealing section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law are bringing up their biggest weapons to try to break the Senate filibuster of Republicans and Southern Democrats against the bill.

Senator Pat McNamara, D-Mich., is threatening to block the $1.9 billion rivers and harbors flood control bill unless the Senate is permitted to vote on the administration's attempt to repeal the so-called "right to work" law.

In a surprise backstage maneuver to put direct pressure on opponents of the 14-B repealer, McNamara is refusing to permit a meeting of conferees to iron out differences between the Senate and House — passed public works bills.

"There will be no public works bill this year if the Senate isn't permitted to vote on 14-B at this session," Senator McNamara warned Senate Democratic and Republican leaders. "I'm going to hold up the Senate — House conference until they call off that filibuster. I'll pack my bags and go home before I will consent to a meeting."

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Those secret talks between Secretary of State Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko are taking a very strange twist.

Instead of using these private meetings to negotiate an end to Soviet arms shipments to Communist North Viet Nam, Secretary Rusk appears to be spending most of his time encouraging Russia to increase her influence in Asian affairs.

According to a confidential State Department report on these conversations, Secretary Rusk is exploring the possibility of Russia's joining the U.S. in proposing a nuclear umbrella for India as a deterrent to a Chinese Communist invasion.

Gromyko, without accepting or rejecting the offer, is countering with a proposal that the U.S. and Russia concentrate on arranging a world-wide non-proliferation nuclear treaty, containing a pledge from both to protect all signers.

Secretary Rusk also is encouraging Gromyko to have Soviet leaders use their influence with Hanoi to agree to a ceasefire in Viet Nam as a prelude to negotiations for a political settlement with the U.S. and South Viet Nam.

Significantly, Secretary Rusk is refusing a Joint Chiefs of Staff request to use the talks to put pressure on Russia to halt its growing arms shipment to North Viet Nam.

He is talking about discussing the arms issue with Gromyko on the grounds it is not U.S. policy to force the Soviet Union to stop these weapon deliveries despite the use of these arms to kill Americans. The President's military advisers sought Rusk's help because of the alarming number of U.S. pilots being shot down by these Russian-made anti-aircraft guns and missiles.

DECISION DELAYED—They are suggesting that the State Department make the demand for a Soviet arms cutoff as the major U.S. condition for improving relations with the Soviet Union.

Secretary Rusk, who privately favors bolstering Russia's influence in Asia as a check on Communist China, wants no part of the military's proposal.

As reported in an earlier column, the Joint Chiefs of Staff are pressing for a naval blockade of North Viet Nam to cut off the flow of Soviet military shipments. Their latest warning is that losses of U.S. pilots will increase sharply if the North Vietnamese are allowed to continue their build-up of air defenses with additional Soviet anti-aircraft guns.

No final decision on the proposed naval blockade is expected until after President Johnson fully recovers from his surgery. Before entering the hospital, he asked his National Security Council to review the Joint Chiefs of Staff plan.

Question Box

QUESTION: "What, in your opinion, are the two most important things which have caused the economically 'advanced' nations to become more prosperous than the 'under-developed' nations? (a) Freedom or free enterprise, or, (b) Tools? That question was asked in a recent survey, and I would like your opinion."

ANSWER: The question is confusing, since it asks for the "two most important" things and offers two choices. However, we must presume that the questioner meant for the surveyed parties to make a choice between freedom or free enterprise and tools.

Frankly we cannot see any choice at all between the two. As long as man has struggled to improve his own condition in life, he has developed tools, possibly starting with the stone ax. Even the collectivists recognize the need for tools and contend that tools (property) should be distributed more equitably so that all may benefit.

The reason the more "advanced" nations have prospered more than others is that there has been more freedom than in those "less developed" countries. By freedom we adopt Andrew Galambos' statement that it is a condition where each individual has complete control of his own property, including his life and its non-procreative derivatives, and has zero control over the life and property of others. As far as we know this condition has never existed in any nation. However, there has been less interference with men's lives and property in the economically "advanced" nations in times past.

With more freedom, men have been able to develop and accumulate better tools which have improved the welfare of all individuals. The incentive to improve one's own welfare — and thus the welfare of others — was present when the individual was able to keep and use more of his own production.

Those who would take more of the producers' earnings to give to the "have nots" do not understand that wealth must be used to benefit the one who produced it. And when an individual is free to use his honestly acquired property to develop new and better tools for his own benefit, he is benefiting all others; besides giving others the incentive to improve their own conditions.

HUNT FOR TRUTH AND TODAY
As our continent becomes more completely tamed and civilized, we Americans ought to make a point of reminding ourselves occasionally that not so long ago, historically speaking, all of it was a vast and unknown wilderness.

The American wilderness was conquered by the pioneers, rightly famed in song and story. But before it could be conquered it had to be explored. This was the task of the "pathfinders," from Daniel Boone to Jim Bridger, in the Appalachians, in the Western Plains and mountains and then on the tangled, verdant Pacific slope.

These were men who dared to strike out into the unknown to make it known, to find roads through and lead the way for the traders and miners and settlers who would come after them. They had no one to depend on but themselves. The incompetent failed. The rugged, persevering individual succeeded. Our tamed continent of today is their legacy.

Now there are no great unknown lands left on earth. The kind of exploration that opened up North America can never be repeated. But the spirit of those explorers need not die, for there are still unknowns of different kinds all around us, waiting to be explored.

With these unknowns, as with the primeval American wilderness, there is no safe and easy and comfortable way of exploring. Government bureaus and large institutions cannot do it. Only the hardy, daring, self-reliant individual can be a true pathfinder. Without him, progress stops and the nation stagnates. That is the most vital reason why liberty, individualism and the opportunity for personal achievement must be preserved.

FOR THE GIRLS
(Wichita Eagle)
We're sorry to keep bugging the teen-agers, but there's some new advice we think they should hear. And it's not from just anybody, either. It's from Alan Rafkin, a Hollywood film producer.

"Wash your face and comb your hair," Rafkin entreats the youngsters. He's been looking for wholesome looking young girls for movie parts, and he can't find any. "You have to wash the makeup off their faces to see how they look," he laments, and goes on to say that with their beehive hair-dos and accentuated eye makeup they are "ridiculously behind the times."

To which we can add only a fervent amen.

WIT AND WHIMSY
The rising generation may be rising but it's mighty hard to get it out of bed.

After middle age a man realizes why it is better that some of his prayers went unanswered.

As a rule when a man is generous to a fault, it's his own fault he's generous to.

Sign in the Pentagon, as reported by Leonard Lewin in his new Treasury of American Political Humor (Dell): "If the boss calls, get his name."

Public speaking is like drinking. A few men can do it in moderation, but many don't know when to stop.

To remain serene, walk while others run and whisper while others shout.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—To be perfectly honest, it is genuinely thrilling to consider the adjustability of television automobile salesmen throughout the year.

For example, this is the season of the new cars, and the modest admissions that this year's autos are better than the ones they told you were best last year—are doing their job straightforwardly.

Yet, just a few months from now, some of these hard-working fellows will come out on your local television station and confess that they guessed wrong numerically, and are overstocked, and that you will be able to get quite a deal.

It may occur to you at the time that you wouldn't in a million years want to do business with a fellow who is so inept at his trade. It may also occur to you that you could have saved some doughby waiting until he made his annual error.

But while you are wondering about these things, and mentally kicking yourself, he will be adjusting once more. By the time next summer rolls around, he will be on television telling you that you can get a new car for maybe $400 or $500 less than what you would pay now.

All of these thoughts, such as they are, were prompted by Tuesday night's CBS-TV special, "The Great Love Affair," described as "a light-hearted pictorial essay on the automobile in contemporary America... exploring the pervasiveness of the automobile in American life."

To be perfectly honest again, I really don't want to be "where the action is." I don't like most of the people there. Maybe that's why I frankly don't care much about cars. Being an extremist, my philosophy is simple: Volkswagen or Bentley.

THE BIG CAR—Reduction of chrome and attention to lighting detail is evidenced in this Cadillac Calais Hardtop Sedan. Moldings around the headlamps are finished in body color paint and the popular and practical Cadillac cornering light is fitted into the front fender, adding to the long appearance of the 1966 model. The parking lamps are an integral part of the grille.

PHS Speech Group Gives Duet Acting

Students from Pampa High School directed by Mrs. Virginia Myers provided demonstrations in duet acting for the Texas Speech Association meeting in Lubbock's Pioneer Hotel last weekend.

More than 350 members of the association convened for the three-day meeting. The membership is composed largely of teachers of speech and theatre on both college and secondary school levels.

Theme of the convention "Life Begins at Forty" provided the opportunity for the association to honor more than 20 past presidents. Dr. Harold Weis, head of the Department of Speech at Southern Methodist University and a past president of the association, addressed the convention's presidential dinner.

The 40th convention program featured 15 different meetings in the areas of speech, theatre, radio, television, and oral interpretation.

PILOT KILLED
TOKYO (UPI)—A 24-year-old Japanese lieutenant was killed Tuesday when an F86 jet fighter of the Japanese self-defense air force crashed during a training flight over Kyushu, Japan's southernmost island. It was the 14th crash of the Japanese self-defense air force this year.
