Pope Paul Arrives For Address At UN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pope Paul VI arrived in America as a pilgrim of peace today and told cheering crowds that he was delighted to be in "a country so free, so strong, so industrious, so full of wonders."

As he stepped from the big DC8 jetliner which brought him here from Rome, the smiling 68-year-old pontiff extended a warm paternal greeting to America's 45 million Roman Catholics.

"The first Pope to set foot upon your land blesses you with all his heart," he said.

The "Pilgrim Pope," who has traveled farther during the 27 months of his reign than all of his predecessors put together, landed at Kennedy Airport at 9:25 a.m. EDT after a 4,335-mile air voyage across the Atlantic.

Wearing a white cassock and a full-length red and white cape to ward off the cool breezes whipping through the airport, the slight, scholarly pontiff waved to the crowd of some 2,000 invited guests on the airport ramp, and then went down the official receiving line, smiling and shaking hands with United Nations Secretary General Thant, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The Pope warmly embraced his old friend and host, Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner knelt and kissed the Pope's ring.

It was a bright, sunny day but a little cool for October, with the thermometer in the mid-forties and fairly gusty winds.

During 14 hectic hours of American soil before returning to Rome late tonight, the Pope also will confer privately with President Johnson; offer a Mass for peace in Yankee Stadium; visit the Vatican Pavilion at the World's Fair; and receive the acclaim of an estimated 4 million persons lining the route of a 24-mile motorcade through the city.

The Pope came to America on a mission without precedent in the 2,000 year history of the church. It was a pilgrimage of

Pres. Sukarno Heard; Location Is Unknown

JAKARTA (UPI) — The powerful Indonesian Communist party was reported arming some of its three million members today, giving rise to fears of a guerrilla-type war against President Sukarno. Army troops loyal to Sukarno clamped a tight curfew on Jakarta.

"A major showdown between the army and the Communists is imminent," Radio Malaysia said in a broadcast heard in Singapore. The Malaysian radio, quoting reports from Jakarta, said there was fighting today in the Indonesian countryside.

"The army is said to be very angry over the brutal killing of several generals and determined for revenge," the Malaysian broadcast said. It reported that leaders of the Indonesian Communist party had gone underground.

There has been no official report on casualties since the revolt erupted last Thursday.

A Jakarta radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo reported the bodies of six generals were found in an area of the capital city of Indonesia after loyal forces "silenced" the counter-revolutionaries.

The broadcast identified the generals as Pandjaitan, Sutojo, Janix, Harjono, Parman and Sunrpto. It gave no other details.

Lt. Col. Untung, the pro-Communists' mastermind of last Thursday's anti-Sukarno rebellion, was reported by reliable sources to have fled Jakarta Saturday just hours after his attempt failed. Untung was said to be in central Java where pockets of his supporters were said to be assembling.

Sukarno went on the radio early today for a second time since the turmoil started to "remove uncertainties about his condition."

"I am well and safe and remain firmly in charge of the state and the leadership of the armed forces," Sukarno said. He said he had appointed Maj. Gen. Suharto "to restore security and order."

Troops and tanks patrolled the streets of a tense Jakarta and enforced a dusk to dawn curfew. Soldiers searched cars and passengers for the first time and issued a call to all civilians to turn in weapons.

Family Rite Planned for Texas Actor

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Private family funeral services were planned today for Zachary Scott, a merchant seaman and oilfield roughneck who rose to stardom as a dapper, smooth-talking movie actor.

The lanky, mustachioed Texan died Sunday at "Sweetbrush," his sprawling mansion, as the result of a brain tumor. The family services were planned at the ranch with burial to follow at Austin Memorial Park.

Scott, 51, was bedridden since last July. He lapsed into a coma Saturday and never regained consciousness.

"There was no pain, no suffering," said Fannin Hearon, Scott's brother-in-law.

The malignant tumor forced Scott to retire from the stage and films earlier this year. He had surgery in New York in July, then was moved to Sweetbrush when his condition failed to improve. Scott's second wife, actress Ruth Ford, was at Sweetbrush at the time of his death.

DEATH CAR — An Aspermont man died and a Muleshoe man was critically injured when their car slammed into a tree a mile east of Pampa on Highway 60 early Sunday morning. It took workmen with two winch trucks 45 minutes to pull the wreckage from the tree.

One Dead, One Hurt When Car Hits Tree

A 22-year-old man from Aspermont was killed and a Muleshoe resident critically injured early Sunday morning when their car slammed into a tree one mile east of Pampa on highway 60.

Killed in the wreck was Frank Tullis, a passenger in a car driven by Wayne Raney, 22. Raney was listed in serious condition today in Highland General Hospital suffering from multiple injuries.

It took workmen and two winch trucks almost 45 minutes to pry the twisted wreckage from the tree.

Highway patrolmen said Raney was traveling east when he apparently lost control of the car, skidded onto a shoulder and slammed into a tree about half-mile east of the rodeo grounds on the outskirts of Pampa.

Parts of the car and the tree were thrown as far as 50 feet from the point of impact.

A passerby discovered the wreckage approximately 45 minutes after the accident which occurred about 12:30 a.m.

The men were employed by a construction company near Canadian. Patrolmen said they were apparently driving back to Canadian when the accident occurred.

Tullis was born March 19, 1943 (See WRECK, Page 3)

Cong Guerrilla Attack Inflicts Heavy Losses

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist guerrillas today launched a mortar and small arms attack against a force of 1,000 Vietnamese troops on the strategic central highlands 300 miles northeast of Saigon. Government losses were reported heavy, a U.S. spokesman said.

Another battle erupted hundreds of miles to the south in the Mekong Delta where government rangers and infantrymen, supported by armored personnel carriers, engaged about 500 Viet Cong. The fighting was about 130 miles south of Saigon in Communist-dominated territory.

In another development, a Viet Cong terrorist failed today in an attempt to blow up an auto carrying four U.S. Air Force officers and their Vietnamese driver to Tan Son Nhut Airport in suburban Saigon. That incident followed a weekend of Communist directed bombings which killed or maimed scores of civilians.

An American pilot was killed today, not far from the war zone D when his A1E Skyraider plane crashed and he was unable to bail out.

The terrorist who tried to kill the four U.S. officers today tossed a fragmentation grenade at their auto. It landed in the street and failed to explode but the terrorist managed to escape in the street crowds.

Twelve Vietnamese were killed and 54 persons, including three Americans were wounded in Communist bomb and grenade attacks Saturday.

Four unexploded grenades were discovered Sunday in Saigon's waterfront area near a fertilizer factory and quarters area for its workers.

On the military front, an amphibious force of more than 1,000 U.S. Marines backed up by naval bombardment and rocket-firing jet planes wiped out a Viet Cong base near the South China Sea during the weekend.

President Johnson, Pope Confer in Historic Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Johnson and Pope Paul VI, each a man of peace with his own sort of power, meet today in a small hotel living room to explore possibilities of reducing the world climate of conflict.

The American Chief Executive and the first Roman Catholic pontiff in history to visit the United States were to talk for an hour or so in the early afternoon. Scene of their conference: The small (10 by 14 feet) sitting room of a presidential suite on the 35th floor of the Waldorf Astoria hotel.

As far as Johnson was concerned, there was no agenda save the overriding objective which he shares with the Pope — how best to travel the tortuous road to world peace. Their meeting was essentially private with only two interpreters, one from the Vatican and one from the State Department, and White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyer present.

The President and the pontiff planned to converse in English. The interpreters were to be used only if the two leaders experienced difficulty in communicating.

The meeting was bare of the rich tapestry of color that marked the Vatican visits of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy in 1959 and 1963. There were, for example, only four chairs in the hotel sitting room. Apparently Moyers planned to stand. The mere presence of the Pope on the longest papal trip in history and a vast public welcome in America's largest city supplied a different type of drama.

Unless the two leaders decide otherwise after they have met, no communiques or joint statements were planned following a conference as shorn of formality as protocol permitted.

A public account of what happens between Johnson and the Pope will be supplied to some 1,800 reporters by Moyers and possibly a Vatican spokesman at the Waldorf's elegant Grand (See CONFER, Page 3)

Passenger Train Stop Is Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) today denied the Rock Island Railroad's request to discontinue a passenger train that runs from Kansas City, Mo., to Tucumcari, N.M.

The ICC said the train service was necessary to the public and ordered the railroad to continue the 613 mile run for at least another year. At that time the railroad may renew its request.

ON 17-YEAR-OLD BOY Georgia Klan Dragon Arrested for Assault

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — State troopers today arrested the grand dragon of the Georgia Ku Klux Klan after he twisted the arm of a Negro youth and hurled him against a state patrol car during a racial demonstration.

State troopers said Calvin Craig, the top Klan leader in the state, was charged with disorderly conduct or assault.

Two Negro youths, including the one Craig grabbed, also were arrested and charged with interfering with the operation of a public school.

Craig grabbed Frank Bates, 17, when 12 Negro students tried to barge through a line of 20 helmeted state troopers to board school buses for whites. The other Negro arrested was Alvin Harris, 17.

"We're going to have to get some more officers in here," Lt. H. B. Willis, commander of the troopers on duty here, said after the incident.

Craig twisted Bates' arm behind his back and threw him onto the hood of a patrol car. A trooper helped Craig hold Bates.

Several white persons nearby shouted "Kill him, kill him." Bates and a fellow demonstrator were arrested and brought to the Tallapoosa County jail.

Fire Prevention Week Under Way

Pampa's Fire Prevention Week opened on a good note Sunday and this morning as firemen reported no alarms during the past 48 hours.

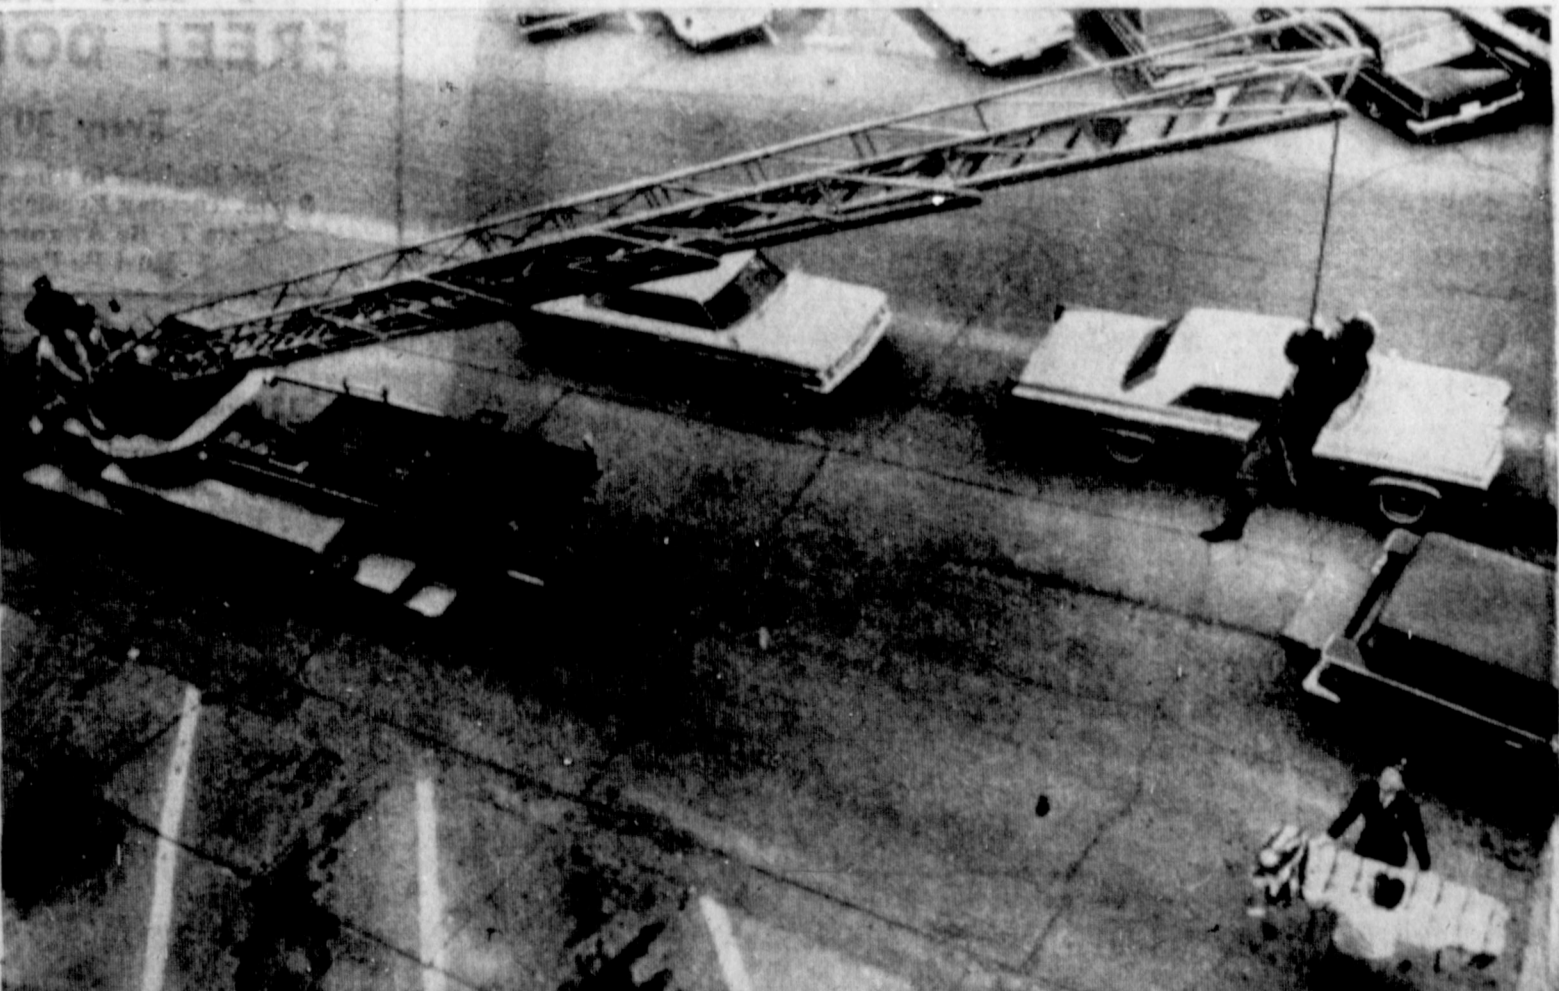

The Fire Prevention Week program will run through Saturday.

The event, sponsored by the fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce, will feature open house at all fire stations daily between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. through Saturday. Special open house ceremonies at the city's three fire stations are slated Wednesday with refreshments and tours of Pampa's fire-fighting equipment.

All schools have scheduled fire drill demonstrations throughout the week.

One activity on today's program was the "rescue" by firemen of a man from the roof of the Capri Theater.

Fire Prevention Week Demonstration

HOW IT'S DONE IN AN EMERGENCY — Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3-9, was kicked off this morning with a rescue demonstration staged in downtown Pampa. A man was placed on top of the Capri Theatre and the ladder truck from Central Fire Station was summoned to remove him. The truck pulled into position, the ladder was raised and a man went scampering up. A rope saddle was placed around the victim and he was raised over the side of the roof and down to the waiting stretcher below. The demonstration, taking less than five minutes to enact, was a good display of the power and speed the fire department employes in emergencies.

DEAR ABBY...

Cured Friend Shares a Happy Recovery

DEAR ABBY I don't know whether you'll remember me, but I met you while I was a patient at the Institute Of Living in Hartford, when Dr. Zeller took you on a tour of the facilities. I recall how kind you were to me, and the encouragement you gave me both verbally and in the letters you wrote to me afterwards. You made me feel that you really cared about what happened to me. That's why I'm writing to tell you I've been medically discharged.

There were some rough times, Abby, God only knows how rough they were, but I never "let go" because I knew that my parents, friends, doctors and people like you were pulling for me. It may sound corny, but when a person is in a situation like I was in, it's important to know that people care. Sometimes the patient may act disinterested or even hostile, but he is just testing to see if the other person likes him well enough to accept him as he is,

I don't mind if you print this, Abby, to let friends and relatives know how important they are to a patient's progress. There are still many prejudices against those who have been hospitalized for a mental or emotional illness. I want people who have only heard of mental illness to know that we are like everyone else; we aren't possessed of evil spirits. We are "ill," just as if we had a broken leg or appendicitis. And most important of all, we can be cured. I am now working and hope to go to New York and get my degree. Right now I am adjusting to being on the "outside." I know I am going to make it, Abby. Thank you for everything. And I sincerely mean it.

YOUR FRIEND
IN HARTFORD

DEAR FRIEND: And thank you for sharing your victory with me, and for permitting me to share it with others. You'll never know the number of people you've inspired and encouraged by your fine letter.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago I was in a tough spot financially and stood to lose everything I had. My lawyer advised me to put everything in my wife's name. This was only a legal technicality to protect us both. Of course, I followed my lawyer's advice. Now the emergency is over and I want to change everything back the way it was, but my wife doesn't want it changed. She has never worked a day in her life in my business (or anywhere else, for that matter), and I can't see where she is entitled to have all our assets in her name. Is there anything I can do about this?

INDEPENDENTLY BROKE
DEAR BROKE: Oddly enough, again you need the advice of a lawyer. And maybe a marriage counselor, too.

DEAR ABBY: Please put this in your column for all girls who are "waiting" for a married man. I waited four years. I was sure he would marry me if he could only get his wife to give him a divorce. I felt certain that if I went to her and explained everything I could get her to change her mind. Well, I called her on the phone and she very graciously invited me to her home to "talk things over."

I told her how much in love we were and begged her not to stand in our way any longer as I had waited four years. All the while, she sat there as cool as a cucumber. Then she asked me if I wanted the letters, birthday cards and valentines I had sent her husband at his place of business. She had them all tied together with a lovely pink bow.

I won't go into detail, but I am now living in another state. I am 33 years of age and much wiser. If a married man even so much as smiles at me, I will laugh right in his face. If I live to be 100, Abby, I will never

GENERAL TENDENCIES: — Not a day to make those changes that are so insistent for you have an urge to be unpredictable in your actions, which could easily irritate and trouble those upon whom you are most dependent and to whom you are usually the closest. Finish what you have started. You may be able to add a modern touch.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — It is better to work alone than to expect others to help you today, since they are not in the mood. Don't be too descriptive in expressing yourself. Choose words wisely.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Keep rooted to your most important work instead of trying to criticize others or have badinage with high-ups. Strive for good will. Show your loyalty to high-ups.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Be sure to complete any work at hand before going off to new places and into new outlets. Get confidential anxieties behind you. Don't fall down on any promises and you gain good will of all.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) — You have fine harmony with friends that can be disturbed if you follow what a greedy spirit wants you to do. Be alone for awhile and clear up your thinking. Then all is fine.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) — You can certainly widen your vistas now very clearly, but only make plans for the time being. Await a better day for action. Do not be forceful with associates or they become inimical.

VIRO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) — Work forget how cheap and small I felt while his wife was the perfect lady.

ing too fast so that you disturb a co-worker who labors more methodically than you would be had you been more accomplished.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Know what others want where recreation is concerned and go along with ideas amicably. Take care not to be extravagant. Stick to a safe middle path, also in business matters.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Do not become so interested in what is going on at home that you neglect work with partners who need your assistance. Much depends on the help of those in outside world.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — If you try to assist others while gaining your aims as well, you get their respect and gratitude. Data needs to be gathered. Don't get bored, since it is important. Be sure that you forget all about idealism, or you go wrong. Be more human, realistic. Show that you have wisdom as well as ability.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Although you feel rather nervous and imaginative, impatient, control yourself or you lose out on gains. Be poised, despite tensions. Be truly groupy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Instead of feeling imposed upon by others, dislodge, get busy and handle those entities ahead of you. Get a good system working. Rid yourself of petty annoyances.

William Edgar Deal Funeral services for William Edgar Deal, 67, of Albuquerque, N. M., father of Mrs. F. J. Vendrell of 1812 Dogwood, will be held at 9:15 a.m. tomorrow in Heights Memorial Mortuary, Albuquerque, N. M.

Mr. Deal moved to Albuquerque from Dallas last July. He was a member of the Dallas Masonic bodies. Mr. Deal was a retired major of the U.S. Army serving with Gen. Pershing on the Mexican border prior to World War I and serving with distinction in World Wars I and II.

Other than Mrs. Vendrell, survivors include his wife, Mrs. Kate Deal of Albuquerque, N.M.; one son, Dr. William Edgar Deal Jr. of Los Alamos, N.M., one brother, five sisters and eight grandchildren.

Cotton Harvest Lagging Behind ALTUS, Okla. — Only a little over 4,000 bales of the 1965 cotton crop have been classed to date by the Altus Classing Office of the USDA's Cotton Division.

Nearly half of the current season's total was handled during the past week, indicating that the volume of harvesting is beginning to build.

Middling Light Spotted is the most prevalent grade of cotton so far this season. Statistical averages prepared by the Consumer and Marketing Service on the cotton classed to date indicate that 38 per cent was called in the White Grades, 52 per cent was Light Spotted, and ten per cent Spotted.

Court Welcomes New Justice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court meets briefly today to welcome a new justice, Abe Fortas, and to open its 1965-66 term.

The 55-year-old Fortas, a Washington attorney, was appointed an associate justice by President Johnson last summer to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

U. S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall, successor to Archibald Cox as the government's chief representative before the court, also was to make his first appearance in his new role. But his formal welcome comes next Monday.

Ballroom turned press room for a day. This briefing was scheduled after Johnson escorts his visitor to the Pope's limousine at the 50th Street exit of the hotel.

Johnson intended to watch the holy father's 3:30 p.m. EDT speech to the United Nations by television, either rushing back to the White House by helicopter and jet transport in time to catch the broadcast or remaining at the Waldorf if times does not allow the trip to Washington.

As his plane flew into American airspace from Canada shortly after sunup, the Pope radioed a message to President Johnson offering his respect, esteem and prayers to the Chief Executive and all Americans.

"We pray that God may support and comfort you, your family and the beloved citizens of your great nation with his choices and blessings," Pope Paul said. He earlier had flashed similar messages of greeting to Maj. Gen. George P. Vanier, the governor general of Canada, and to the heads of state of the European countries his jet passed over.

Many hours before the Pope's arrival, the first New Yorkers took their places along his route to assure themselves of at least a brief glimpse of him.

"I wouldn't miss it for the world," said Mrs. Leslie Colburn, 55, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., who rode 24 hours by bus to be here for the Pope's visit. She was among a group of about 40 persons, mostly college students, who stood all night in 46-degree weather outside St. Patrick's Cathedral in midtown Manhattan where the Pope was due to arrive about noon.

Rain, Reverse Temps Marked Texas Weather

A light rain fell over widely scattered portions of Texas today, and there was little indication it would clear.

The weather bureau said all of the state except for the extreme southwest part, near El Paso, would have intermittent rain through Tuesday.

Temperatures were mild, with the 47 recorded early today at Dalhart the minimum and 68 at Galveston and Houston the maximum.

The state could look for very little temperature change today under mostly cloudy skies, the weather bureau said.

Dalhart, day in and out usually the coolest spot in the state, was the warmest Sunday with its 74-degree reading. Brownsville, usually one of the hottest cities, was the coolest with its 59-degree maximum.

Pope

He came, in his own words, to stand before the statesmen of the world and call for peace in a voice that is unarmed but strengthened by a spirit of the Prince of Peace.

His 4,335-mile trip was the longest voyage ever undertaken by a Pope. It also marked the first visit by a reigning pontiff to the Western Hemisphere, where about half of the world's 550 million Catholics dwell.

His DC8 jetliner took off from Rome's Fiumicino Airport at 12:40 a.m. EDT and chased the sun westward to a scheduled 9:30 a.m. EDT arrival at Kennedy Airport here.

Police Commissioner Vincent Broderick pleaded with New Yorkers to stay home and watch the Pope on television. But in a city with a Catholic population larger than Rome's, his pleas availed little against the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to see the Holy Father in person and receive his blessing.

Before leaving Rome, the pontiff told a cheering crowd at Fiumicino Airport, including 50 Ecumenical Council bishops, that he would "trust to the providence of the Lord" to bring fruitful results from his "mission of peace and good will."

His purpose, he said, was simply to tell the world's assembled statesmen that mankind has suffered enough in this century from devastating wars, and now must have a respite.

At 8:30 p.m. EDT, he will celebrate Mass before a congregation of 90,000 persons in Yankee Stadium. A feature of the mass will be multi-lingual prayers for peace offered by laymen representing all six continents of the globe.

Rebs, Monterey Battle Friday

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

A Thursday night game and one Saturday night highlights action this week in the 3-4A conference.
Pampa hopes to get back on the winning track when the Harvesters travel to Amarillo to tackle Caprock in the Thursday night affair.
Saturday night Tascosa, 2-0 in league action and Monterey, 1-0, play in what might decide the 3-4A title.

Monterey scored an upset 7-0 victory over Amarillo Friday night and now the Sandies have an uphill climb.
Amarillo had been the pre-season choice to win the 1-0 crown and Monterey was voted a close second.
However a win by Tascosa would give the Rebels, a 34-14 winner over Pampa the inside track.

Wheeler Faces Stiff Test Against Follett

Wheeler, White Deer, Memphis, Groom and Follett all continued winning streaks Friday night but conference action looms this week in the 5-B league.

Three league games are on tap Friday night with Wheeler (4-0) playing host to Follett (3-0) Groom (3-0-1) hosting Booker (1-2) and Miami (2-1) at home against Darrouzett (2-0-1). Lefors plays the only non-league contest, playing host to Vega.

In 2-A action White Deer (4-0) hosts Claude, Panhandle plays at Canadian (0-4) and McLean (2-2) plays host to Gruver.

Both Wheeler and White Deer continued to display outstanding offensive and defensive talents and Groom again showed it must be considered a threat to Wheeler's title.

Groom rolled to victory No. 3 without a loss with a 28-16 victory over Clarendon.

Wheeler led only 8-0 at halftime but came back to slug McLean, 26-8. The Mustangs have now given up but one touchdown in their last three outings.

Follett also stayed unbeaten in 5-B with an 36-16 rout of Shattuck, Okla.

Lefors went down to its third straight loss 34-0 to Stratford.

In 2-A play White Deer made it four straight in '65 and 16 straight over a two season span by routing Panhandle, 45-6.

The Bucks have now given up but two touchdowns in four games and have scored an average of 38 points per contest.

Memphis kept pace with the Bucks and ran its record to 4-0 with an easy 53-0 victory over Silvertown.

Canadian, 0-4, was idle but hosts Panhandle Friday night.

THE GROUP—The Minnesota Twins had a number of stars throughout the 1965 baseball season and among those standouts were (from left top) catcher Earl Battey, pitcher Camilo Pascual, shortstop Zoilo Versalles. MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Pirates Have Best Year Since '60, Finish Third

The National League pennant chase was so exciting this year that the Pittsburgh Pirates managed to have their best season since the 1960 world championship without many people noticing it.

The Bucs finished the season in third place, seven games behind the pennant-winning Dodgers and one game ahead of fourth-place Cincinnati. Not bad for a team that trailed the New York Mets in the standings until May 26.

On Sept. 20 Pittsburgh battled into fourth place. On Saturday the Pirates tied the Reds for third place and Sunday they scored four runs in the eighth inning to defeat the Chicago Cubs 6-3, taking sole possession of third because the Reds lost 6-3 to the San Francisco Giants.

In other closing-day NL action, the Dodgers beat the Milwaukee Braves 3-0, the St. Louis Cardinals dropped the Houston Astros 5-2 and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Mets twice by 3-1 scores.

Willie Mays blasted his 52nd homer against the Reds to further solidify his niche as the leading home run hitter this season. The homer was also a San Francisco club record for Mays, who led both leagues in four-baggers. The go-ahead run came in when Deron Johnson made an error with the bases loaded in the seventh.

The Dodgers used six pitchers, tuning them up in case that the Pittsburgh Pirates, Don Drysdale and Sandy Kousser, but the second-liners gave only three hits to the Braves. John Kennedy scored the decisive run, scoring from second base on Ron Fairly's single. Tommy Davis batted for the first time since he broke his ankle May 1 and grounded out.

Bob Gibson won his 20th game of the season for the Cardinals, the 1964 world champions who finished seventh in the NL this season. The Cards scored three runs in the sixth to wrap up the victory.

Bill Sorrell's first major league home run gave the Phillies a 13-inning victory in the nightcap of the doubleheader against the Mets. Ray Culp beat the perennial tail-enders in the opener.

The end of a baseball season creates a contrast of feelings, and the difference in emotion is well exemplified by the cases of Whitey Ford and Joe Coleman Jr.

Ford, a star performer in the major leagues since 1950, came to the close of a rocky campaign Sunday when he struggled to an 11-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. The victory was Ford's 232nd for the New York Yankees, enabling him to break the all-time club record previously held by Red Ruffing.

Coleman, the son of former major league pitcher Joe Coleman, hurled the Washington Senators to a 3-2 decision over the Detroit Tigers. It was the second complete game success in as many major league starts for Coleman, who was the Senators' first choice in the free agent draft last June. In his debut on Aug. 28, Coleman turned back the Kansas City Athletics on four hits.

The American League champion Minnesota Twins got in their final licks before the start of the World Series by edging the California Angels 3-2 while in other season finales the Chicago White Sox tripped Kansas City 3-2 and the Baltimore Orioles nipped the Cleveland Indians 2-1.

Ford got off to a shaky start, allowing the Red Sox four runs over the first three innings. But he settled down after that, helped greatly by an 18-hit Yankee attack. Pedro Ramos pitched the final two innings for Ford, who boosted his season record to 16-13.

Harmon Killebrew blasted a two-run homer in the first inning and the Twins added the decisive marker in the third, Minnesota, warming up for the Series, used five pitchers when Jim Perry gaining credit for his 12th victory. Minnesota finished with 102 wins for the year and a seven-game margin over the runnerup White Sox.

Brown's Brown Is In Top Form Again

By United Press International
Jimmy Brown spotted Don Hutson 105 touchdowns and Lenny Moore eight, but the bruising fullback has "rushed" past both.

Brown was eight years old when Hutson, the Green Bay Packers' great left end, set the National Football League career touchdown mark of 105 in 1944. The Cleveland star didn't enter the NFL until 1957, one year after Moore, who scored eight TDs his rookie season for Baltimore.

Both Brown and Moore had been steamrolling toward Hutson's record with Brown catching him last season and Moore falling just seven touchdowns short. Brown, the greatest rusher in league history, scored 89 of his TD's on the ground up until this season and Moore tallied 51 running while Hutson registered only three rushing.

Brown, who hadn't scored previously this season, shattered the record by bulging over for three touchdowns Sunday to lead the Browns to a crucial 35-17 triumph over Philadelphia while Moore picked up his second and third TD's of the campaign to pace Baltimore to a 27-24 squeaker over San Francisco.

Elsewhere, Detroit whipped Washington 14-10, Green Bay decisioned Chicago 23-14, Minnesota edged Los Angeles 38-35 and New York throttled Pittsburgh 23-13. The Eastern Division frontrunning Dallas Cowboys will play the Cardinals at St. Louis Monday night.

Brown added 133 yards to his season rushing total and now leads the league with 308. The 230-pound former Syracuse all-America, who now holds 11 NFL records, scored two touchdowns in the last seven minutes of the fourth quarter to give the Browns the victory, their second in three starts.

A recovery of a fumbled punt on the Philadelphia 10 yard line set up Brown's second TD with 6:36 left, and an intercepted pass enabled Brown to score in the waning minutes of the game. Brown tallied the record-breaking 106th TD of his career by bulging over from the four in the second period and Lou Groza set an NFL mark by playing his 177th game.

Moore scored both his touchdowns in the first half when Baltimore jumped to a 24-7 advantage. The ex-Penn State halfback slithered in from three yards out and took a one-yard Johnny Unitas pass for another TD. Unitas, off target last week against Green Bay, hit on 18 of 30 attempts versus the Forty Niners.

Bills Certain To Win AFL Title

By United Press International
The Buffalo Bills are almost certain to run away with the American Football League's eastern division, which has about as much balance as Humpty Dumpty.

The Bills are fortunate to be playing in a division which contains the two worst teams in the league—New York and Boston. Since there are only four teams in each division, the Bills have only Houston to contend with, Buffalo is 4-0, Houston is 2-2 and New York and Boston are both 0-4.

The Bills are hurting though. Elbert Dubenion, their flashy flankerback, won't be playing for the rest of the season because of a torn knee ligament. Buffalo missed him badly in Sunday's 17-12 conquest of the Oakland Raiders.

In other action, San Diego knocked off Houston 31-14, Denver edged New York 16-13 and Kansas City topped Boston 27-17.

Oakland battled the defending league champion Bills evenly for most of the game. The Bills jumped to a 10-0 lead in the first half on a 20-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak and a one-yard touchdown plunge by Billy Joe, but the Raiders came back to tie it before the half ended.

Raider quarterback Tom Flores found Alan Miller, his fullback, with a five-yard scoring pass and Gene Mingo boot-ed a 33-yard field goal to knot the score by intermission.

In the third quarter Bills quarterback Jack Kemp hit tight end Ernie Warlick with a three-yard TD toss to wrap it up. The Raiders scored two points by knocking Kemp out of his own end zone, but the Buffalo defense stiffened and Oakland could not move the ball after the third quarter safety.

Four Tie In Staff Selections

Four Pampa News staff members tied in the weekly football selections for last week as upsets again hit the college ranks.

Sports Editor Ron Cross, News reporter Ray Rodgers, General Manager Bill Power and makeup man Chico Ramirez, had 17 correct guesses and seven incorrect picks. One game ended in a tie.

Cross and Rodgers have now taken over the season lead with 30-18 marks while Ramirez is second with a 29-19 record.

Shockers Visit Lubbock Thursday

The Pampa Shockers seek their third straight victory Thursday at Lubbock against the Westerners B in a league game.

The Shockers crumbled Amarillo Sandies B last week. In Junior High action this week Lee Ninth grade plays at Austin; Lee eighth host Austin eighth and Lee seventh plays a Friday game when they host Dumas.

Pampa Jr. High ninth hosts Dumas Thursday and the eighth journeys to Dumas and Pampa seventh hosts Houston.

Quarterbacks To Meet Tuesday

The Pampa quarterback club will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the High School cafeteria.
A game film of the Pampa-Tascosa game will be shown along with comments from coach Eural Ramsey. Ramsey will also discuss Thursday night's foe, Caprock.

VENTURI DOUBTFUL
LONDON (UPI)—Ken Venturi may not play in the Ryder Cup golf match against Britain beginning Thursday at Royal Birkdale.

"My wrists are stiff and sore, but I can still hit a golf ball," Venturi said Sunday. The 33-year-old golfer underwent an operation recently to restore proper circulation in his hands.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Murphy On 14(b) Repeal

If George Murphy is a song-and-dance man as some of his detractors contended last year when he was running for office, the United States Senate could use a few more singer and dancers of his stripe.

Murphy, who spent many years in the entertainment field and served many years as a director of the Screen Actors Guild, a branch of the AFL-CIO. He also was president of that union. He calls himself "a firm believer in the principles of collective bargaining." He says he opposed the right-to-work law in California.

Yet Murphy, the junior senator from California, is opposed to the proposal that section 14(b) be eliminated from the Taft-Hartley Law. Section 14(b) is the part which permits states to enact legislation prohibiting compulsory membership in unions as a condition of getting or keeping a job.

Basis of his contention is that the federal government should not deprive states of their powers to decide for themselves on such matters. Said Sen. Murphy: "I am particularly sensitive to the fact that lately we see constant evidence of attempted change in our so-successful federal system wherein rights and privileges which were historically reserved to the states are being continually eroded and destroyed to be replaced by executive decree or federal order from Washington. I believe that this is a dangerous procedure and that this invasion of the rights of the states as well as the rights of the citizens should be stopped wherever possible. The Supreme Court has ruled that the reservation of the powers of the states under Section 14 (b) is constitutional and, in my humble opinion, it is a continued safeguard for one of the basic principles of our free society which has worked extremely well for many years."

He pointed out that 19 states have either constitutional or legislative prohibitions against compulsory membership, and that this invasion of the rights of the states as well as the rights of the citizens should be stopped wherever possible. The Supreme Court has ruled that the reservation of the powers of the states under Section 14 (b) is constitutional and, in my humble opinion, it is a continued safeguard for one of the basic principles of our free society which has worked extremely well for many years."

Oasis in Desert Gobbledygook

One of the less bloody catastrophes that we are warned awaits modern man is the prospect of being drowned in a flood of printed matter — the so-called "information explosion" — being created by accelerating science and technology.

Other prophets fear a drier doom — that we will all soon starve to death intellectually in the semantic desert of government and academic "officialdom."

The United States is "approaching a state of crisis in written communication," says one man.

The man is Lawrence R. Klein, who ought to know. He works in Washington, where he edits the Monthly Labor Review for the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. A lone voice crying in the wilderness of grammatical gobbledygook, Klein's crusade is not necessarily against polysyllabic words or long sentences but against obscurity. He simply believes that government documents and profession journals should be understandable.

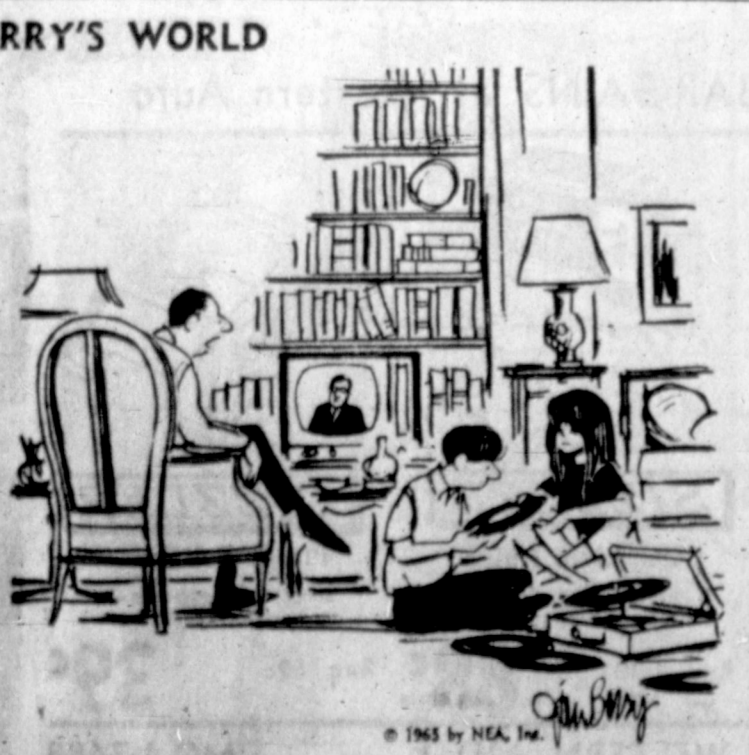

A few of the reasons he cites for the scarcity of clarity in government and scholarly writings are: —Fear of commitment, of saying what you really mean. —Showing off specialized knowledge. —Laziness — not taking the time to organize, rewrite and polish. —Klein quotes the title of one report submitted to him: "Per Cent of Total Family Personal Income Held by Fourth Highest Fifth of the Families and the Highest Fifth of the Top Five Per Cent of the Families."

"What is that supposed to mean?" he asks. Don't look at us simple taxpayers, Mr. Klein.

This period of Kremlin indecision gives the United States an opportunity for decisive action in Asia, Latin America and Africa to strengthen the free nations on these continents against Soviet subversion.

A lecturer on optics, in explaining the mechanism of the organ of vision, remarked: "Lecturer — Let any man gaze closely into his wife's eye, and he will see himself looking so exceedingly small that — The lecturer's voice was drowned by the shouts of laughter and applause which greeted his scientific remark."

By the way, what do folks who don't call a spade a spade call it?

"Would you kids stop playing that 'Eye of Destruction' — You tryin' to watch the news!"

Kremlin Rift Weakening The Soviets

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — An explosion may be in the making within the Kremlin.

In the past six months, half of the top 35 men who run the Soviet government and Communist party have been promoted, demoted or "rusticated" (banished to country jobs in which they can't exert much influence).

This is a tough under-the-counter personal power struggle. One of these days it will erupt in a series of dramatic purges.

As of now, Leonid Brezhnev, party first secretary, is gaining. Chief rival Nikolai Podgorny is fading. But the odds could change dramatically in the months ahead. Some hot "younger" men are rising fast.

This is also a fight over fundamental national policies. The same men are allies in one battle and opponents in another. The lines are not yet drawn.

The Kremlin fights are important to us. They will determine how militarily aggressive the Soviet Union will be in the years just ahead — and therefore the prospects for peace or war.

The outcome can affect Vietnam, Soviet - U.S. relations, the future of the nuclear arms race and the balance of power in Africa and Asia.

The Kremlin men are divided in these basic problems:

1. Centralization versus decentralization in the management of industry and agriculture.

2. This issue is both political and economic. It is in part a fight for power between the top government managers, largely in Moscow, and the party men, most of whom are outside Moscow.

3. A complete break with Red China versus continued attempts to hold what can be kept of the former alliance.

4. The Kremlin men are also arguing over how far to go in setting up some sort of a limited profit system on the farm and in industry.

5. The Kremlin struggle on these issues thus far is teetering along. The indecisiveness and the resulting delays are hurting the Soviet Union in important areas.

The wishy-washiness hampers the Soviet arms build-up and the correction of major industrial weaknesses. It holds Russia back in its worldwide fight with Red China for control of the extreme left underground groups in Africa, Latin America and Asia.

This period of Kremlin indecision gives the United States an opportunity for decisive action in Asia, Latin America and Africa to strengthen the free nations on these continents against Soviet subversion.

A lecturer on optics, in explaining the mechanism of the organ of vision, remarked: "Lecturer — Let any man gaze closely into his wife's eye, and he will see himself looking so exceedingly small that — The lecturer's voice was drowned by the shouts of laughter and applause which greeted his scientific remark."

By the way, what do folks who don't call a spade a spade call it?

This period of Kremlin indecision gives the United States an opportunity for decisive action in Asia, Latin America and Africa to strengthen the free nations on these continents against Soviet subversion.

A lecturer on optics, in explaining the mechanism of the organ of vision, remarked: "Lecturer — Let any man gaze closely into his wife's eye, and he will see himself looking so exceedingly small that — The lecturer's voice was drowned by the shouts of laughter and applause which greeted his scientific remark."

President to Remove Restrictions on Farmers As Step in New World-wide War on Hunger

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — American framers will occupy center stage in the 1966 production of President Lyndon Johnson's Great Society.

Administration task forces are now polishing plans for a dramatic War on Hunger—both here and abroad — to complement the War on Poverty.

The President's agriculture advisers feel the time has come to lift the lid from U.S. farm production, to give farmers a green light to grow as much as they can.

Under their proposals, taxpayers' dollars no longer would be used to keep farm land out of production while there is starvation in areas of the world. Instead, comparable funds —roughly $2 billion a year — would be used to buy U.S. grown farm goods for resale, barter and donation. These government funds also would be channeled into grants and loans to enable foreign nations to build new ports, storage, transportation and distribution centers and systems.

A new Peace Corps of farm experts would be created along with an enlarged rural technical assistance program under the multi-billion dollar foreign aid program to spur overseas food production.

Undernourished Americans would receive first priority under the President's War on Hunger program. The Food Stamp program, now under way on a modest scale in a few major cities, will be greatly expanded and encouraged.

The school lunch program will be enlarged and spread to every school district in the nation.

THE AUTHORS — Spearheading this major turning point in U.S. farm policy are two Minnesotans — Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman.

Humphrey has been urging for more than a year that a blue ribbon presidential commission be established to push bold new ideas for American farming and food distribution overseas. He now has his commission.

President Johnson will announce the membership of a 25-member Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber after he signs the omnibus farm bill. Dr. Sherwood Berg, dean of the Institute of Agriculture at the University of Minnesota, will be named commission chairman.

The new group's first order of business will be to drum up consensus support for the War on Hunger both on the farm and in Congress.

Secretary Freeman already has started setting the stage. Firmly back in the administration's inner circle after a few uneasy months caused by a congressional flareup over his controversial "bread tax" proposal, Freeman now is sounding the administration's preliminary clarion call for the upcoming war.

"The Great Society cannot know its full bloom in a nation surrounded by countries where hunger and disease and ignorance diminish mankind in body and spirit... Expanding the area of food abundance is a positive, key part of creating the era of peace," Freeman declares.

President Johnson apparently was sold on the idea of a War on Hunger because it fits into his announced plans to extend his Great Society overseas.

The President has promised a massive U.S. effort to assist in public works projects in underdeveloped nations, like transforming the Makong River basin in Southeast Asia into an administration study aimed at funneling U.S. aid into international education programs.

WAGING THE WAR — The War on Hunger strategy involves more than stepped-up U.S. food production, according to the administration's blueprint. Increased production in this country would supplement a developing foreign production.

Envisioned is a massive technical aid program aimed at increasing foreign farm yields per acre. Better seeds, fertilizers, pesticides, machinery, irrigation, planting and cultivation techniques make increased yields possible throughout the underdeveloped world, the President's agriculture advisers stress.

A little-noticed draft of the War on Hunger plan has already been put before Congress. It will be the model for the administration's proposal next year.

Sponsored by Senator George McGovern, D.S.D., former Food for Peace Director, and Representative John Mackie, D-Mich., the prototype plan suggests allocating roughly $2.5 billion a year over the next decade to a "War against Want."

This allocation of federal funds, say the legislators, is less than we currently spend to hold land out of production and to store surplus crops.

Senator McGovern says full farm production would mean money plowed back into business and consumer spending. "Farmers would need millions of tons of fertilizer, more machinery, gasoline, oil and other supplies. Employment on farms and in factories would increase."

BEHIND THE CHANGE — According to administration sources, there are two major factors behind the decision to wage the War on Hunger:

World food production is fast falling behind world population growth.

U.S. farm surpluses are practically exhausted.

Few people are aware of the status of farm surplus stocks. Government acreage controls, increased exports and other programs have lowered enormous food stocks to levels currently hardly above those needed for an emergency reserve.

Wheat stocks, for example, have dropped from 1.4 billion bushels in 1960 to under 740 million bushels today. If 600 million bushels of wheat are set aside

The Nation's Press

GOVERNMENT BY DEFICIT (Oklahoma Live Stock News)

This is the time of year for reports on the federal government's excess of outgo over intake, as the tallies at the end of the fiscal year are announced. The overall deficit is being estimated as in excess of $3.5 billion. This amount at least can be added (the treasury says it's twice that) to our accumulation of national debt of more than $300 billion. This growing burden also is ceremonialized each summer when Congress pushes the debt limit a bit higher. Congress seems no more worried about the billions required to service the debt than about the billions it votes to give away.

The read-'em-and-weep report of federal finances does nothing to cool the long, hot summer. As politicians, however, our leaders must touch up the public "images" they seek to maintain. President Johnson, that White House light-bill savor, has recently called in his department heads and fiscal officers to say that he intends to fight the war in Vietnam and pay for all the new and "necessary" programs, but not a penny more. Bravo, except it is a matter of opinion which federal programs adopted and proposed are really essential to the nation's wellbeing.

With shrewd insight and some irony, Mr. Johnson also remarked that when it came to proposing new programs, he found little want of imagination. He must be commended for adding this advice to his top officials: "I would urge you to be equally ingenious in looking for areas of savings and examining alternative least-cost ways to achieve your agencies' objectives."

as a strategic reserve — One year's domestic requirement — the surplus would last consumers less than six months.

Here is the Agriculture Department's current inventory of government-held farm commodities together with proposed reserve levels and record all-time holdings:

Wheat (bushels): Suggested Reserve Level (millions), 600.0; Peak level and date (millions), 1,400.0 (1954); Current Inventory Level (millions) 736.9.

Feed Grains (tons): Suggested Reserve Level (millions) 45.0; Peak level and date (millions), 84.5 (1959); Current Inventory Level (millions) 50.4.

All Cotton (bales): Suggested Reserve Level (millions) 6.0; Peak level and date (millions) 14.2 (1956); Current Inventory Level (millions) 12.0.

Non-Fat dry Milk (lbs.): Suggested Reserve Level (millions) 500.0; Peak level and date (millions) 744.2 (1962); Current Inventory Level (millions) 282.6.

Cheese (lbs.): Suggested Reserve Level (millions) 380.0; Peak Level and date (millions) 463.6 (1954); Current Inventory Level (millions) 2.1.

Soybeans: Suggested Reserve Level (millions) 200.0; Peak level and date (millions) 134.2 (1959); Current Inventory Level (millions) 5.9.

Surplus stocks of dried milk are shrinking to such levels that overseas donation programs run by CARE, Church World Service, Catholic Relief Service, and Lutheran World Relief have been sharply curtailed.

Between the Bookends

What Was Left Out of the Constitution?

In looking for the seeds of today's American "Welfare state", many historians have been prompted to search the founding of the American nation for causes.

In this vein, a new booklet has recently been published that points to some of the imperfections in the original Constitution — defects that have grown to great problems today. Entitled "George Mason, Architect of Constitutional Liberty," this 38-page booklet sums up the life and views of one of the lesser-known founding fathers.

George Mason, along with Patrick Henry, was one of the more so-called "radical" element within the colonialists. Many were satisfied merely to establish an American government — similar in all respects to the British government, and just as all-encompassing. Mason, however, was one of the very few who recognized that tyranny was tyranny, no matter what the name of the government.

As author R. Carter Pittman describes him, "He pointed his finger unerringly at the very subjects of bitter controversy in the 1780s, and stated their cure. He saw beyond the hour to the ages."

New Age
It was because of the prodding of men like George Mason that the American society became freer than that of the British Empire. Were it not for his kind among the founding fathers, the great American experiment in freedom would have been supplanted by an Americanized version of the old-world tyrannies.

Mason refused to support the Constitution when it was submitted for ratification. His most important objection was the provision that, in effect, "legalized" slavery for at least 20 years. He also objected strongly because there was no Declaration of Rights that were beyond government's reach.

Even submission of the Bill of Rights did not placate him. For he was capable of spotting defects that would grow to great problems. For example, he wanted strict limits on the judiciary's jurisdiction (something seen more readily today) and he wanted a two-thirds majority requirement for any legislation dealing with commerce. One can see today the great mass of regulations and welfare state legislation that would be non-existent if Mason had gained his way.

Foundation
Mason's authorship of The Virginia Declaration of Rights laid a foundation that was expanded upon in both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. The changes made away from his thinking have been to our disadvantage. In the Virginia Declaration, for instance, Mason asserted "That no part of a man's property can be taken from him, or applied to public uses, without his own consent, or that of his legal representatives..." That phrase has been perverted to read "nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation." Since the "just compensation" is determined by the government, that is confiscating the property, a multitude of sins has been ushered in under the label "eminent domain."

An inquiry into the background of George Mason throws a great deal of light on the mistakes that need to be corrected if a true and durable freedom shall ever prevail.

(The booklet is published by Education Information, Inc., Box 748, Omaha, Nebraska; 60 cents.)

These things are being said largely for public consumption. They are good, as far as they go, but they do not reflect the whole reality. The President and his financial advisors know well enough, even if they do not say so how their huge spending programs are going to be paid for in the face of tax cuts that were supposed to be so beneficial in fueling the boom. The deficit will be covered, as it has been for a quarter of a century, by inflating the nation's money and taking purchasing power from the citizens. Those fiscal wizards are only foolish who think this a painless way of exploiting sources of revenue.

Such sources as these are, of course, wage earners and fixed-income persons who never were able to take effective measures to defend themselves soon enough. The government may think to give labor a hand with its "guidelines" increases. But only a few will prosper from inflation, and the prime victims will be the majority of our citizens whose incomes are relatively fixed. The chief profiteer from this highway robbery scheme is the perpetrator: the federal government itself. No body presumes that its purchasing power will be reduced just because it spends more than it takes in. It won't. But yours and mine will be decreased.

The tax cut that the nation was supposed to enjoy was itself an inflationary device. It's not possible to borrow, or create, what it requires. Deficit spending, in reality, cannot prevail without huge amounts of borrowing from banks, a process that increases the money supply through the medium of the Federal Reserve system. Just how much "bank money" will be injected into the nation's money stream is hard to say, but the way Congress is acting some economists see it as $15 billion or more annually with in a few years.

As our money supply is increased, inflation will inch ahead. Prices invariably rise with the money supply, and wages can hardly ever keep pace. Moreover, the increase in prices will bring lower purchasing power to the people who need it most. The government, in fact, can spend nothing that it does not take from its citizens, either through taxes, confiscation, debasing the currency, or bank borrowing. The sad result is the same: the people have to pay by relinquishing their purchasing power. This is the curse of inflation.

The immorality of a government that promises to do more for its people, and yet carries on this way, is obvious.

Gray County Families Live in High Bracket

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. — How well are Gray County residents making out, financially, compared with people in other areas?

What proportions of the local population are in the middle and upper income brackets?

Most local families are doing better than they did a year ago and much better than five years ago. As a result, more of them are now in the "over $4,000" income brackets and fewer in the lower brackets than is the case in most sections of the United States.

The findings are contained in a copyrighted study released by Sales Management. It details, for every area of the country, how its income is distributed and what share of it goes to each segment of the population.

The purpose is to give a better picture of the financial makeup of a community than is afforded by "average income" figures alone.

The breakdowns reveal whether high average income in a particular locality results from a concentration of wealth at the extreme end of the income scale or whether it represents a more uniform distribution among the population as a whole.

The report shows, for Gray County, a high level of income and a better-than-average distribution.

On the basis of figures for last year, 71.1 percent of local households have $4,000 or more in cash available to them out of their incomes after payment of their taxes.

It is a higher proportion than elsewhere throughout the United States, where only 63.0 percent of the households are in the plus-$4,000 brackets. The ratio in Texas is 55.8 percent.

As to other groupings in the report, 15.9 percent of the local families are listed as having $7,000 to $10,000 after taxes, 39.2 percent in the $4,000 to $7,000 category and 14.0 percent in the $2,500 to $4,000 class.

Nationally, the figures portray a population that is growing more affluent year by year. Despite the good times, however, the Social Security Administration reports that only minor gains have been made in improving the lot of people in poverty circumstances. It finds that there are still 34.1 million persons in that group, only 1.2 million fewer than a year ago.

Rubber Stamp Shop Offers Units For Business and Personal Use

For quality rubber stamps at reasonable prices call or see B. J. Richardson's Stamp Shop at 520 N. Faulkner, MO 5-4140. All work is fully guaranteed. If you are not satisfied in any way Richardson will gladly remake the stamp or refund your money.

For photographs, cartoon characters, monograms, signatures, or whatever you desire on a stamp Richardson is the man to see.

He also carries a stock of dry or inked stamp pads. The ink comes in colors, black, red, blue, green, and purple. He stocks a complete line of extra ink plus indelible ink for cloth marking kits. If you prefer you can mix several inks in a dry pad for a new color, coming up with almost any color you desire.

If you want plastic or aluminum signs, dating and numbering machines, seals and embosers, desk castor rack, or wall rack for stamps, or other marking devices he handles all of these items.

ing or new stamps see or call Richardson's Stamp Shop. He will gladly give free delivery service, or you may pick them up yourself. He is open from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Richardson is listed in the yellow pages under rubber stamps.

Kerr-McGee Adds Phosphate

OKLAHOMA CITY — Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., will construct a phosphate mining and processing facility in central Florida at an approximate cost of $9 million, it was announced today by D. A. McGee, president.

The installation will consist of a dragline for mining and a washing plant, flotation plant and product dryer. When completed, the facility will have a capacity of 1.5 million tons of product annually.

Construction of this facility in the central Florida phosphate district, near Brewster, is another step by Kerr-McGee to enlarge its role in the plant food industry. A $30 million potash mine and mill near Hobbs, New Mexico, in which the company owns a 50 per cent interest, is scheduled to go on stream this fall. The company has formed a marketing organization and currently operates 72 fertilizer plants in 27 states east of the Rocky Mountains.

As the initial phase of development of the phosphate facility, Kerr-McGee has ordered a $2.25 million dragline from the Bucyrus-Erie Company. The huge machine will have a boom length of 225 feet and a bucket capacity of 40 cubic yards. The dragline will be used to strip away the overburden, which varies from 10 to 50 feet in depth, and then to remove the phosphate ore.

According to M. F. Bolton, vice president, plant food manufacturing division, the facility is expected to be completed in October, 1966, with deliveries of phosphate rock to Kerr-McGee plants and to customers beginning in December, 1966. W. R. Fort, manager of plant food production, is in charge of construction on the project.

OPPOSITION BACKFIRE:

The opposition struggle against the South Korean government's treaty with Japan appears to be backfiring. It had hoped to smash President Park Chung Hee's government but now the opposition Min-jong (popular) party has developed a three-way split and few observers in Seoul believe it can field a candidate strong enough to beat Park in the 1967 elections.

Beam Co. Announces Import Acquisitions

James B. Beam Import Corp. of New York City, today announced it had acquired exclusive U. S. distribution rights for Riccadonna Vermouth and sparkling wines.

The Riccadonna firm is one of the oldest family owned wineries in Italy for Riccadonna Vermouth is one of the largest selling brands in Italy.

Jerry Block, vice president, stated that in addition to the Riccadonna products, Beam Import also acquired exclusive U. S. distribution rights to Miguel Torres Spanish wines, Stewart's of Dundee Scotch, Rittergluck German wines and Jean Beavin Golden Rose French wines.

ism and the class struggle. Large communist parties have developed in France and Italy, but they are not controlling.

When Marx and Engels shouted for the attention of the industrial masses their call for revolution was ultimately heard, instead, by the backward, peasant society of non-industrial Russia and later of a similar but less advanced peasant society in China.

There is a something-for-nothing, get-rich-quick appeal that turns some emerging nations toward communism. Wherever there is too little food, too much disease and not enough shelter, there communism is likely to thrive. Communism is abetted by ignorance. It thrives best on the repressions of a police state.

The whole idea of communism is, in the catch phrase, that the workers have nothing to lose but their chains. This is utter baloney and the workers know it as such. In the modern industrial state, the worker has

Kewanee Adds $8-Million In Properties

BRYN MAWR, PA. — Kewanee Oil Company, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, this year has acquired over-$8,000,000 worth of properties to date, according to a statement made today by J. A. Carlson, senior vice president.

Twenty-four transactions involving oil and gas leases were made during that period, indicating a continuing emphasis on Kewanee's property acquisition program.

In addition to a significant increase in reserves of oil and gas, valuable prospective non-producing leases and non-producing minerals were also acquired. In several instances the leases purchased are adjacent to other Kewanee projects and will be operated simultaneously with present holdings.
