Closed Mouth Klan May Face Jail Sentences

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It may take a while, but congressmen investigating the Ku Klux Klan are confident that uncooperative Klansmen eventually will wind up behind bars. "They're all going to jail," is the way one member of the

Astronaut Walk In Space Delayed Until Next Year

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The next "walk in space" by an American astronaut will be delayed until next year, according to U.S. space officials.

The U.S. space agency revealed Thursday it had killed a proposal to permit astronaut Thomas P. Stafford to take such a walk during the four-man "Spirit of 76" Gemini flights now set for December.

The honors, instead, will go apparently to astronaut David Scott, copilot of the Gemini 8 orbital voyage expected next February or March. Scott will stroll outside his capsule for at least one complete orbit around earth, space chiefs said.

Stafford is copilot of Gemini 6, the second of a pair of two-man spacehips the United States hopes to put in orbit in December.

Astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell first will take Gemini 7 aloft to begin a 14-day record excursion in space. Their blast-off date tentatively has been set for around Dec. 8.

Then, if all goes well, Walter M. Schirra and Stafford will fly Gemini 6 into orbit about eight days later to try to chase down Gemini 7 somewhere 185 miles above earth.

The proposal for Stafford to take a spacewalk from his ship to Gemini 7 the experts call it "extra-vehicular activity," or EVA — was made last week.

The suggestion gained strong backing from a number of astronauts. However, a lack of time and the problems of getting the necessary equipment ready in time apparently doomed the idea.

Aluminum Giant Increases Price

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Aluminum Company of America (ALCOA), the nation's largest aluminum producer, today announced price increases on primary ingot and fabricated products.

ALCOA said it would raise its prices from 24 1/2 to 25 cents per pound on primary aluminum ingot and one cent per pound on most of its fabricated products.

The increases are effective Monday. ALCOA's move followed the lead taken by other aluminum producers who announced similar price increases last week.

These announced increases over the weekend were followed quickly by a call from President Johnson for cabinet-level conferences regarding the disposition and possible sale of aluminum from huge tonnages in the government stockpiles.

Frustration Room

NEW MILFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Sure, you're feeling dull, tired, headache and out of sorts. But don't take it out on them.

Go to Mal Bryant's Candlewood Glass Co. here instead. Mal has the answer, in a "frustration room" he established where persons can unwind by smashing panes of glass to their heart's content. There's no charge.

New Record For Employment Set In September

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation moved a step closer to full employment in October — but not close enough, according to President Johnson.

The Labor Department announced Thursday that the unemployment rate fell to 4.3 per cent last month — the lowest it has been since August, 1957.

The President, in a statement issued from his Texas ranch, said that he was "very pleased" with the development but that "our goal remains full employment."

While economists agree that some unemployment is necessary to keep the economy from freezing up, they don't all see eye to eye about how much this is. The President's Council of Economic Advisors talks about 3 per cent unemployment as "full employment."

The council has also set a 4 per cent jobless rate as its "interim goal." Now, with the country approaching that figure, some people are worried that bottlenecks could occur in some industries and that this could drive up prices.

Johnson tipped his hat to this school of thought when he said the country must pursue "the private and public policies that will maintain non-inflationary prosperity."

Meantime, the man who keeps track of the unemployment figures, Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said he "wouldn't be satisfied" with 4 per cent.

Ross agreed that the lower the rate goes, the greater the danger of inflation and the more apparent it becomes that there are untrained people who are hard to employ. But compared to other industrial countries, the United States still has a "relatively loose" labor market, Ross said.

He said the country should "keep on going" to 4 per cent and below.

The October jobless rate of 4.3 per cent was only one-tenth of one per cent lower than September, a decline that Ross dismissed as "not terribly basic." But it was down nearly a full point from the October, 1964 rate of 5.2 per cent, a drop he called "very significant."

In London, Parliament had been scheduled to end today, with Queen Elizabeth II opening the new session next Tuesday. But British Prime Minister Harold Wilson postponed the closing until Monday, keeping the lawmakers technically active through the weekend.

Smith had no comment on the decree proclaiming a state of emergency.

Involved in Recent Raids on US Forces

SAIGON (UPI) — American military authorities said today five North Vietnamese regiments have been positively identified as operating in the Central Highlands of South Viet Nam.

At least one of the regiments, and possibly two, were involved in the week-long Communist attack on the American Special Forces camp at Plei Me.

A U.S. military spokesman identified the regular North Vietnamese units as the 18th, 95th and 101st regiments of the 325th division, and the 32nd and 250th regiments.

The spokesman said the 32nd and 250th regiments were sent into South Viet Nam by the North Vietnamese military command since mid-summer. Both are believed operating in the Western half of the Central Highlands area.

In military action today, Vietnamese Army units discovered a Viet Cong prison camp during a sweep of the Boi Loi Woods 35 miles northwest of Saigon. The suspected Communist stronghold was blasted three times this week by U.S. Air Force B52 bombers.

The Vietnamese infantrymen killed a Viet Cong guard, then released 10 prisoners. In other areas of the bombed woods, soldiers found two caches of ammunition, including machine-gun bullets, grenades, mines and mortar shells.

A report on operation "Black Ferret," a sweep near Chu Lai by American Marines and Vietnamese infantrymen, said two guerrillas were killed and 13 suspects arrested and the operation was continuing.

Elsewhere, military sources said there was little significant contact with enemy forces in the past 24 hours.

In the air war briefing officers said Air Force and Navy planes attacking North Viet Nam Thursday hit the Ron Naval Base and a highway bridge in Dien Bien Phu.

Other American planes hit targets in South Viet Nam. U.S. Navy ships bombarded a Viet Cong troops area and reconnaissance pilot's said several buildings were damaged. Extensive damage was reported to a Communist trench system from the navy shells.

Pope Submits Admission To Triple Murder

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — A legal battle to decide whether accused triple slayer Duane Earl Pope will have to face the death penalty for his alleged crimes resumes in federal court today.

At issue is whether U.S. District Court Judge Robert E. Van Pelt would accept Pope's "judicial admission," a document filed Thursday by his attorneys.

In it, Pope admitted shooting in the back four employees of the isolated Big Springs, Neb., Farmers State Bank on June 4. About $1,500 was taken in the robbery. Three bank employees died; a fourth is paralyzed from the waist down.

Princess Margaret Begins Tour of US

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Princess Margaret wishing to "meet many people from all walks of life," set out today to see San Francisco.

The Princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, arrived Thursday night after a long and tiring 13-hour flight from London.

But showing that unique combination of graceful enthusiasm and regal reserve, the princess remained unflustered by the battery of cameramen and newsmen who greeted her at a press club reception.

"I have longed to come to this country for ages," she told the assembled newsmen and dignitaries, with a sparkle-eyed smile. "And I am so thrilled it has now become a reality."

Today the Princess and Lord Snowdon have arranged for plenty of time to themselves after official engagements. A barrage of rumors have preceded the fun-loving couple to the effect that they will want a

Prosecutor To Recommend Life Term for Ruby

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby, condemned to death for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President Kennedy, should be kept alive, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said Thursday. He said he was willing to recommend the death sentence be commuted to life.

If he got a commutation, Ruby would be eligible for parole with 15 years' prison time credit, Wade said.

Ruby shot and killed Oswald as millions watched on national television Nov. 24, 1963. He was convicted of murder March 14, 1964 and sentenced to death. He has been in the Dallas County jail since while his case was on appeal.

Wade said if Ruby were an exemplary convict, he could get 15 years' credit in eight or nine years actually spent in prison.

Live Grenade Removed From Soldier's Back

SAIGON (UPI) — The man with the bomb in his back got out of his hospital bed today and walked gingerly across the room to a sandbag bunker. Two American surgeons and an English anesthiologist held their breath.

The man was a walking booby trap. He could explode at any moment with a blast powerful enough to blow him to bits and anyone nearby.

Once inside the sandbag bunker, the man gingerly climbed onto an operating table. The entrance was closed up and the most unusual operation of the war began.

Shot From Behind

The story began last Thursday when Nguyen Van Chin, a 52-year-old Vietnamese farmer from Long An Province, walked out of his house. Someone came up behind him and said "put your hands up."

Chin heard a loud noise and then felt something strike him on the right side of his body. It was a grenade about the size of an egg fired from an M-79 launcher, a weapon that resembles a sawed-off shotgun.

Chin was rushed to Saigon's Cho Ray Hospital. Doctors noticed a hole in his back and a lump there. X-rays revealed that the grenade was imbedded in his back, and that the device was live, capable of exploding at any second.

Chin was placed in a shack on the hospital grounds segregated from the rest of the patients. The grenade had entered the right side of his body, then slipped around the skin to the small of his back.

Tyler Lawmaker Announces for Attorney General

AUSTIN (UPI) — Galloway Calhoun Jr. of Tyler, a state senator and former assistant attorney general, was in the running today for attorney general in next year's elections.

Calhoun announced his candidacy Thursday, joining state Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Secretary of State Crawford Martin of Hillsboro in the race.

The incumbent, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, has announced he will run for John Tower's U.S. Senate job.

Calhoun, a native of Tyler and a senator since 1960, said he thinks revision of the new code of criminal procedure will be one of the jobs the attorney general will have to study. He said he opposed the new code in the Senate but thinks it will be a workable code with a few changes.

He said his active campaign will start in January for the May primary election.

Calhoun said he has had a "responsible and conservative record" in the Senate and long work in law that qualify him for the job as attorney general.

DeGaulle Odds-on Favorite To Sweep French Elections

PARIS (UPI) — The French presidential race officially opened today and Charles de Gaulle was the odds-on favorite to succeed himself for another seven-year term. The election will be held a month from today.

De Gaulle's aides let it be known that he has no intention of carrying out an American-type campaign against previously announced candidates.

In keeping with his character, De Gaulle, 74, will campaign "on the very loftiest level."

Aides explained that this meant that De Gaulle is not likely to do any active campaigning at all, aside from one or two radio, television broadcasts to the nation. There will be no "whistle-stop" tours.

De Gaulle will leave it to the other candidates to do the verbal brawling while he remains aloof and Olympian above the political free-for-all.

He hopes thus to create the image of a man-not-running-for a political party, but as a candidate of the entire nation.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
As the ravages of a kidney ailment became more apparent in the puffy face and limping gait of Indonesia's life-time President Sukarno, a frequently asked question was "after Sukarno, what?"

Just over a month since the abortive Sept. 30 attempt by Indonesia's Communist PKI party and its leftist sympathizers to seize power, the question is asked with even more frequency.

For whatever else has emerged from the violence and confusion of the last 30 days has come the clear proof that Sukarno, as he has since the days of the rebellion against Dutch colonial rule, remains the pivotal political figure in Indonesia.

Even though Indonesia seems teetering on the edge of violent civil war, the description still is valid.

For, although the right-wing 400,000 man army pursues its drive to eliminate the Communists as a political force in defiance of Sukarno's orders, it has no political-base of its own and it knows it needs Sukarno as a symbol to hold together the 3,000 islands that make up the Indonesian republic.

As for the Communists, even though currently in retreat, they know it is upon Sukarno they must depend if they are to make a political comeback.

About the ill-fated coup, there remains contradictions and at least one major mystery. Even though the army is holding under arrest or has executed scores of minor Communist functionaries, not one major Communist leader has been arrested.

One small mystery is the current whereabouts of party leader D. N. Aidit.

Within the government, not one major official has lost his job, although the army is openly suspicious of First Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister Subandrio, principal architect of Sukarno's close ties with Red China and long regarded as a possible successor to Sukarno.

On the political front, Sukarno closes himself with the Red Chinese ambassador and exchanges promises of enduring friendship.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — An editor of the magazine "Christianity Today" forwards an article in that publication which deals harshly with the new network television season.

In his letter, the editor notes that the article "represents a new venture for us. As a journal written for ministers and professors, we have tended to be aloof from the livelier arts... our magazine circulates 240,000, and the number includes the largest interdenominational audience of Protestant ministers in the U.S."

The article was written by Edmund P. Clowney, whom the editor explains is acting president of Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. The crux of Clowney's piece is this:

"To the Christian church the greatest threat of television is not its incitement to violence or lust but its banality... a recent study of TV audience attitudes showed that most people feel guilty about the time they waste. The editor (of the study) asks, 'why these calvinistic hesitations about television, in contrast with the self-satisfaction associated with reading?'"

Concerning television - watching, Clowney writes: "Never were so many joined in one cult at one time; never did the common act of so many mean so little. Americans do not really work together, live together, or pray together; they only escape together. The tube is still one-way. TV scans live audiences in the thousands at its sports spectacles, but it cannot zoom in on the Loners and Adams families in the millions who sit and watch at home."

The new television season, writes Clowney, includes "technical triumphs, skilled performances, talented people, but it does not look at life — it looks away. The 'big' new programs do not answer the big questions; they scarcely dare ask them. The religious figure appears only as the fanatic seeking vengeance of 'Jesse James,' or the confused preacher whose pacifism is a hazard on the frontier. The most meaningful questions of the new season, overplayed though they are, may be found in 'run for your life.' A man whose months are numbered sees life differently. The threat of death is 'a hand erasing all life's equations and writing new ones.'"

The new programs, adds Clowney, present little hope of a change in formula or pace: "Turn on the action, as the ads demand, and you have tuned in on formula one... escape equal's six times the square of violence. The action shows may be spiced with sex, but violence carries the wallop. The scene is indifferent: War, the West, espionage, the underworld — any battleground will do, except, of course, one that would involve the viewers too directly: Viet Nam and race riots must be avoided."

Mouse Responsible For $150 Fire

MOBEETIE (Sp) — A fire believed started by a night marauding mouse caused about $150 damage to clothing at the J. B. McLean home, five miles northwest of here, last night.

McLean said the charred body of a mouse was found beneath a pair of overalls. The mouse is believed to have chewed on matches in one of the overall pockets.

McLean said he and his wife were awakened by smoke about 12:30 a.m. and discovered the fire in a room next to the kitchen.

McLean ran outside to connect a garden hose, Mrs. McLean threw a bucket of water that stopped spread of the flames until McLean could douse them with the hose.

He told the French people that the election would give voters the chance "to prove your regard for and your confidence in myself."

De Gaulle painted a grim picture of what could happen to France if he is not re-elected — a return to political squabbling, confusion and chaos "even more disastrous than what France knew in former times."

Headline writers for Paris newspapers had a field day in reporting De Gaulle's decision.

"De Gaulle: Me or nothingness" read the headline in Combat, a morning newspaper. Humanite, the Communist newspaper, headlined: "De Gaulle: The best, that's me."

Le Figaro was more conservative. It headlined its report: "De Gaulle: Tell me 'yes' Dec. 5."

A light fog blanketed Pampa between 8 and 10:30 a.m. today cutting visibility to two-tenths of a mile in some sections of the city.

The weatherman said Pampa residents could expect more of the same Saturday with highs predicted in the mid-60s and the low tonight in the mid-40s.

Pampa's high Thursday was 61 and the overnight low dipped to 39 degrees and a light frost was recorded in the Panhandle area.

Rainy highways were blamed for at least 11 deaths.

The rains sent creeks surging out of their banks in parts of South Texas and Hallettsville in Lavaca County recorded just short of eight inches of rain.

It was foggy, rainy and heavily cloudy over all of the state except the Panhandle and the extreme southwest end.

The Lavaca River and Rocky Creek spilled into pastureslands south of Hallettsville.

"Quite a few cattle were caught napping," Police Dispatcher Victor Fishback said. "Some ranchers have lost a good many."

Five persons died in a smash-up near Hempstead. Other weather-blamed fatalities were recorded in Dallas, Houston and Vidor on the Gulf Coast.

Six inches of rain soaked Freeport over a six-hour period. Pumps were brought in to drain standing water.

A cloudburst-like 6.25 inches sent water surging through the streets of Bay City. Many streets along with Interstate Highway 35 were closed for hours.

College Station had 4.16 inches.

The steady rain contributed to nearly 100 automobile smash-ups in Dallas, including a series of them that involved 32 cars on the city's North Central Expressway.

Ruby

want a commutation. They have the case in the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and are holding out for a maximum five-year sentence for murder without malice.

Wade said Thursday at a news conference that there were several reasons he has changed his mind about wanting Ruby electrocuted.

"One reason is that we have plenty else (cases) to work on," Wade said. "Another reason is that we have spent $75,000-$100,000 on the case already and Jack Ruby is not worth that much more."

"Not all the questions about the assassination have been answered. Some people are still asking about it and I think it better to have him available."

Finally, although he is sane, there is no question that Ruby has some neurotic tendencies that can be treated in the penitentiary.

Wade said he did not mean he doubted that Oswald, acting alone, killed President Kennedy, or that Ruby was acting alone.

He said he meant, rather, that people would ask questions about the case, whether there was any basis for them or not, and it would be a good thing if Ruby were alive to answer them.

But Wade said the defense's holding out for five years was "ridiculous."

"We would be agreeable to nothing less than life imprisonment," Wade said. "From a legal standpoint, if the defense would file a petition for commutation, the prosecution could join in it."

Grenade

nade today in a daring volunteer operation.

Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys, protected by sandbags and shatterproof glass, calmly cut around the grenade, pulled it out with forceps and dropped it into a tank filled with sand.

Standing Close
The small egg-shaped grenade was designed not to explode until it had traveled 36 feet. It failed to detonate when it hit the victim in the back from 24 feet away.

But no one knew what would happen when Humphreys began to probe for the grenade, working behind sandbags in case it exploded.

The "human bomb" limped unaided to the specially-prepared operating room at Cho Ray Hospital where he was segregated from other patients.

Humphreys gingerly loosened the 40-MM grenade from the surrounding flesh, and pulled it from the man's back with long forceps about the size of ice tongs.

The doctor then dropped the grenade into a steel tank filled with sand alongside the operating table. A heavy lid was clamped on the tank.

The entire tense procedure, from the time the wounded man got out of bed until the last stitch was in place, took 13 minutes.

In 1942, 400,000 allied soldiers invaded North Africa.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

REV. DONALD HAUK
First Presbyterian Church.

For a long, long time now — a little over 1900 years to be exact — the compelling fact of the Christian Faith has been a fact of faith — faith that the Lord Jesus Christ is still a living dynamic force working through the weaknesses of mortal men — bringing his saving power and demanding Lordship to bear upon a world in need.

The church was born into the world to attest to God's great love, shown for all time at the cross — and God's great victorious power shows for all time at the resurrection. The disciples knew about all these great positive facts of faith and this is what they proclaimed — letting the chips fall where they would in a hostile world: "One Lord; one Faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of us all." is a positive statement unifying His mystical body — the church, a unity which has never been an easy thing, because, being mortal, we have all been given to demanding our own way — interpreting the faith as we know it — often-times dwelling on our differences when we should proclaim to God's glory — our oneness.

Battles between Christians of different persuasions are akin to attacking another battalion in your own army because they prefer tanks when you're committed to air craft — or because they hail from Oklahoma and your loyalty is to Texas. You may feel that your way is superior, but the enemy is the same, and the commander-in-chief is the same, and the only result worth considering is the outcome of the war — and this God will decide.

Jesus was asked — "What are the Great Commandments of the Law?" You shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, and secondly thy neighbor as thyself.

Our common law is: Love for God and for each other — the weapons of our warfare are the same — peace and good will toward others, tempered by the demanding truth of the gospel — Our King is Christ! our enemy — sin in every form; our goal — a world won for Christ.

Pampa High School Campus News

By VIRGINIA DEWITT

The halls of Pampa High are claiming various school clubs' unique booths that will become prime sources of expenditures at the school carnival tomorrow night in the cafeteria.

Headed by Cindy Hearn, president, Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Miss Edith Kral, homemaking teacher, will have a cake walk, an idea based on musical chairs with a cake as the prize.

French Club is sponsoring a night club called "Chez". Larry Franklin, publicity chairman of the club, maintains that details of the booth will remain secret until 6:30 tomorrow night when the carnival begins. Miss Mary McFarland is club sponsor.

Future Nurses Club is also stimulating interest through mystery. Posters that urge everyone to meet their friends at the "Ladder" and be entertained by the Climbers have everyone guessing. Lynn Symonds is president, and Mrs. W. M. Ledbetter, science teacher, is school sponsor.

There are always several concession booths at the carnival. Two clubs sponsoring concession booths this year are Tri-Hi-Y and Distributive Education Club of America.

Tri-Hi-Y will have a cafeteria line with everything from sandwiches to donuts, according to Viva Kay Bailey, president. Johnny Bearden of DECA has spent much of his time lining up a cotton candy machine while Keith Christie is responsible for making sure that the club has enough Cokes to quench the thirst of its customers. Jim Connor, DECA president, is overseeing the project.

Spanish Club will sell hand made cascarones that can be purchased readily and easily broken over a friend's head—all adding to the festive mood.

Students and faculty work long and hard to insure the carnival's success. It is not at all unusual for a student to work hours on several different booths. This is the major source of revenue for most school clubs, and the profits gained will probably dictate club activity for the rest of the year.

Tomorrow night's activities will be climaxed by the coronation of Carnival King and Queen. Students will vote when they enter the carnival.

Candidates elected earlier this week are Jennifer Cunningham, Mary Jane Rose, Johnny Carlos and Jim Cornutt, sophomores. Junior candidates are Ann Monroe, Linda Watson, Doc Cornutt and Larry Stephens. Dorothy Davis, Leslie Watkins, Doug Altom and Kenneth McWilliams are senior candidates.

Tonight the Harvesters meet their traditional rivals, the Amarillo Sandies. Last year the Sandies broke a four year winning streak by defeating Pampa 14-0. But the Harvesters are determined not to let the same thing happen again this year.

Sammie Sandie, a dummy of an Amarillo football player, was burned last night at a special pep rally. With torch in hand Miss Flame, whose identity remained secret until last night, led the student body to the bonfire. Candidates for the title were Jennifer Cunningham, Jane Hiatt, Frances Holt, Linda Hubbard, Anna Johnson and Venita Turcotte.

Each month various local civic clubs invite high school students to be their guests for that month. Civic club guests for November are Jane Hiatt, Lions Club Sweetheart; Charlye Gustin, Altrusa Career Girl; Virginia DeWitt, Business and Professional Women's Club Girl of the Month, and David Cain Jr. Rotarian.

The Party Sofa, Sit on It Where You Will

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Sooner or later, mothers, etiquette experts and home furnishings designers are going to have to have a meeting of minds.

As a frazzled mother trying to instill a bit of elementary etiquette into a gangling 13-year-old son, I told him sternly he must not sit on the arm of the sofa and that collapsing across the back of it in a comic manner was considered gauche. Yelping delightedly, as he is apt to do when he thinks he has me cornered, he read aloud from a press release on my desk:

The newest and most elegant idea in home furnishings these days is the party sofa. . . with low arms and back fully upholstered so people can sit on them. "Gee, mom, don't you know anything?"

Well, the new party sofas are a far cry from the rickety family sofa the young have been assaulting but perhaps we must revise our dictates not to sit on arms unless they appear designed for the purpose. And the "party" sofas, descendants of the super-overstuffed glamor of the 1930s do make clear their purpose in their design.

One of the first of the modern

PARTY HUB — The party sofa is designed to be the hub of any party. Guests can sit all around it, on the back and arms and seat. The plush deep cushioning in latex foam rubber insures comfort and the design puts the sofa into the room away from walls so traffic circulates around it.

glamor sofas was designed by Edward Wormley. About 100 inches long, the arms and back form a broad, low three-sided enclosure above the deep seat. Deeply cushioned in soft latex foam in a biscuit pattern, the sofa offers comfortable seating anywhere one lights. This concept of seating makes the sofa a free-standing piece and it is probably best positioned in a room where traffic can circulate around it.

Such a hunk of sofa needs space and it can serve as a handsome, practical divider between a living and a dining area. With this expanse of couch showing, upholstery materials must be carefully considered. Plush fabrics such as velvets and chenilles are favored, although in one setting at an interior design show, a large sectional sofa was slipcovered in a screen-printed linen but the print was a flat, stylized one. Speaking of fabrics, another motherly dictate has had to be revised. With the new vinyl upholstery fabrics, it is difficult to ban snacking in the lounge chair on the grounds that any spillover will stain the fabric. Vinyl upholstery does wipe clean as any child will be glad to point out. Even buttered popcorn is no threat.

Dear Abby... Parents Were Taken For a Pony Ride

DEAR ABBY: My husband's parents shipped our children a pony. The children have been begging us for a horse for a long time, but we didn't get them one because neither my husband nor I have the time or energy to take care of it. The children said they would, but they are much too young, and it became apparent that they wouldn't care for it after it was here two weeks. This pony came as a complete surprise to all of us. We weren't even prepared for it if the grandparents had asked our permission first, we'd never have allowed them to send it. Keeping that pony is out, so our question is, do we need their permission to sell it? Who gets the money?

meant for each other before it was too late. Dolly just called me and told me that when she tried to give Vic back the diamond ring he acted like a real gentleman. He didn't fall apart or blame me or anything. But he said that since Dolly had picked the ring out herself, she should ask me to give him what he paid down on it, take over the rest of the payments, and Dolly could keep the ring. Dolly says she thinks it's a good idea. I can't see anything wrong with it, either. I told this to a buddy of mine and he said I must be nuts. Tell me, Abby, what's wrong with that deal?

I. M. SERIOUS
DEAR I. M.: Look, friend, if you're happy, Dolly's happy and Vic is happy, what your buddy says doesn't cut any ice with me.

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: The grandparents didn't ask your permission to ship it, and you don't need their permission to sell it. The money from the sale of the pony should go to your children since it was a gift to them.

DEAR ABBY: When I met Dolly, she was wearing Vic's engagement ring. I plead guilty to stealing another man's girl, but it was just one of those things. I'm glad we found out we were

Pampa Hosts Amarillo In Annual League Game

Rice Shoots For Upset Victory Over Razorbacks

By United Press International
The Arkansas Razorbacks, fat on victories but skinny on some fronts because of injuries, concluded their week's football workouts Thursday and hoped for all hands to keep their health for Saturday's game with Rice.

Southwest Conference leading Arkansas is so thin at defensive secondary that only four men are listed on the first and second units. Martine Bercher is safety, backed up by Harry Jones. Jackie Brasuell is left half and Bercher backs him up there. Coach Frank Broyles will have Tommy Trantham at right half and Brasuell backing him, and Paul Conner will be swing man if need be.

The Razorbacks worked 80 minutes Thursday in sweat clothes. Wingback Jim Lindsey turned his ankle, but shook off the problem later. Five backs on the team are out with injuries, three of them on the defense.

Rice moved to an intramural field for its workout Thursday so it could keep its soggy field from getting worse. The Owls polished their passing game. Three big names in the Rice lineup were still doubtful—Jimmy Henderson, Bert Barron and Craig Christopher.

Texas, in a three-game losing string, got a morale serenade Thursday from the Longhorn Band, which marched onto the field in the middle of the football team's workout.

Coaches had the Longhorns working on kicking in all its aspects, especially on kickoff and punt return and coverage. The Longhorns' Saturday opponents, Baylor, counted two men definitely out of action for the game—guard Benny Britt and end Raymond Deutrich, both with sprained ankles.

Coach John Bridgers reflected on the rains over Austin, site of the game, and said rains generally hurt the team that runs wide but, contrary to a widely held impression are not such a disaster for a passing team. He said pass receivers know their pattern and can get there in the mud while defenders have to change direction and get faked out.

Southern Methodist, working in the rain, polished up new material. Coach Hayden Fry said if it rains at Texas A&M Saturday, SMU's wide-open attack might be slowed.

A&M took its squad indoors to smooth off the edges of its attack. The SMU game is expected to be sloppy and muddy—and more rain is forecast.

Texas Tech, which faces New Mexico State Saturday, worked two hours Thursday on light drills in shoulder pads and headgear. Coach J. T. King warned of State's strong pass defense, which has intercepted 23 passes.

INCOMPLETE PASS — Lee quarterback Phil Long is back to pass and let this one fly just a little too far out of the reach of his receiver in Lee's, 20-12 loss to Pampa Junior High Thursday afternoon.

REAPERS RUN BY REBELS

Shockers Trip Tascosa

The Pampa Shockers came from way behind Thursday afternoon to trip Tascosa, 27-20.

In Pampa, the Pampa Reapers built up a 14-0 first quarter lead and went on to defeat Lee, 20-12.

The Shockers Dickie Henley intercepted three Tascosa passes, returned one for a touchdown and scored twice more to lead the Pampa victory.

Tascosa built up a 20-6 half-time lead only to see the Shockers knot the score at 20-20 after three periods.

Henley made it 20-6 at half-time when he went 35 yards to score. The youngster put the Shockers within six points when he scored from five yards out in the third period to cap a 65 yard drive.

David Schaub tied the score when he went over from the — to cap a 65 yard drive. Mike Brown went over for the conversion.

Henley scored the winning touchdown with four minutes to play when he intercepted his third pass of the day and raced 65 yards to paydirt.

Place kicker Hershaj Moiser put the icing on the cake when he booted home the conversion.

Hal Keyser scored twice for the Reapers getting their first touchdown from 15 yards out. Dan Carlton scored the conversion.

Phil Long made it 14-0 when he scampered 45 yards, still in the first period.

Lee cut the margin to 14-6 in the second period when Gary Parrish, went in from four yards out to cap a 55-yard drive.

Keyser made it 22-6 in the third period when he scooted 40 yards. Nolan Welborn ran over the conversion.

Joe Daniel wrapped up the scoring when he made a touchdown on a seven yard pass from Daryl Subblett.

Lee finishes the season with a 1-7-1 record and the Reapers wind things up with a 4-3-1 record.

TOUCH AND GO — A Pampa Reaper footballer, dark jersey, is brought down by a Lee Rebel ninth grader following a seven yard gain. The Reapers won the contest 20-12 Thursday afternoon.

Harvesters To Try For Upset Victory

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

The Sandie has been burned and Miss Flame has been crowned and tonight the Pampa Harvesters will try to snuff out Amarillo's flame when the two clubs meet in a 3-4A conference test; at 7:30 p.m. in Harvester Stadium.

The Sandies, as usual, are the favorites, bringing with them a glossy 3-1-1 conference record and 5-1-1 season reading.

Monterey, the conference leader, has been the only successful team against the Sandies. The Plainsmen downed Amarillo at Amarillo and two weeks ago Tascosa managed a tie with the feared ones.

The Sandies have one of the better ground games in the league and one of the most feared defensive units to come to town in a long time.

The Sandies are second only to Monterey in total defense in 3-4A with an average of 173.8 yards per game.

On the ground, the Sandies have marched for 1137 yards, second to Palo Duro's 1217 yards.

The Pampa defense, listed last in 3-4A, will face some powerful running in the likes of Mark Tiffany, Richard Bechtol and Mike Brewer.

Tiffany and Brewer are the top Sandie ground gainers with Tiffany picking up 410 yards on 72 carries and Brewer 417 yards in 60 tries.

Bechtol has thrown the football 56 times, completed 19 for 201 yards and two touchdowns. Tiffany has scored five times, Brewer three times and half-back Ricky Belcher three times.

Harvester runners will face hard core Sandie line made up of seven defensive returnees in line backer Ricky Warren, a 160-pound linebacker; Thomas Moss, 210 pound guard; Mike Marr, 185 pound defensive end and 185-pound tackle, Kenneth Anderson.

Ramsey said Roy Harper would be at the quarterback helm for Pampa and Ted Heiskell at fullback with Joey Roden at one halfback and either Lewis Meers or junior L. D. Rowden at the back spot.

Chisox Hunting For New Baseball Chief

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox began a widespread search today for a successor to Al Lopez, who quit his $65,000 a year job as manager Thursday after winning one pennant and finishing second five times in nine years directing the club.

There was no indication from either club owner Arthur C. Ailyn or Executive Vice President Ed General Manager Ed Shoreman might be considered for the job.

However the names of Mayo Smith, a scout for the New York Yankees; Charlie Metro, on the Sox staff, and Bob Kennedy, former Chicago Cub head coach, were among the early suggestions.

"We have about 20 men under consideration," Short said, "and we'll consider that many or more. We would like to make our selection before the major - minor league meetings begin Nov. 29, but we don't have to. This is not a hurried job."

Lopez, 57, told Short and Ailyn Wednesday that he would not return to complete his contract with the White Sox as manager, which ran through 1966. But he accepted the Sox' offer of a salaried job as vice president to serve as "consultant in the art of selection and acquisition of players."

"I've been thinking about this for a number of years," Lopez said. "I'm not quitting for health reasons, I wanted to stay more with my family."

Lopez' nine seasons as a manager of the Sox made him the senior field director in terms of consecutive years with the same club of any American League skipper. Only Walt Alston of the World Champion

Los Angeles Dodgers, who has been at the helm for 12 seasons, has been around the majors longer.

Lopez' tenure spanned three Sox front offices — those of Charles. Comiskey II, Bill Veeck and Ailyn.

Acceptance of a post with the Sox front office presumably would remove Lopez from eligibility to manage another major league team and he said that at this time "I don't have any plans to return to managing."

"I didn't know I was going to stay in baseball," Lopez said. "That was my big problem. I didn't know what I was going to do with my time. Short asked me if I'd like to be vice president, and I said I would like it."

In his new task, Lopez will do "anything that Eddie thinks I can do," he said, and "spend as much time as Eddie thinks I should." However, he will make his headquarters in his Tampa, Fla., home.

Geiberger Keeps Hawaiian Lead

HONOLULU (UPI) — Skinny shotmaker Al Geiberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., battled the Pacific tradewinds and grainy greens today to preserve his early lead in the $60,300 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

Geiberger, tenth on the pro circuit money making parade this year, covered the tricky Waialae Country Club Course Thursday in a four-under par 68 and preserved his nickname of "the human one iron."

Only eight pros broke par on the course, which stretches 7,000 yards along the Pacific Ocean near Diamond Head on Oahu.

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

A Nation of 'Gimmies'

In the beginning, it was the close of what passes in Washington for a long hard day. Senator Kefauver kicked off his gaiters, swung his weary feet to the poopedeck of his $10,000 gold inlaid desk, strengthened his branch water and glared sternly at his interviewer. "Son," he grumbled, "the bell has rung. What I say between now and bedtime is of the record. I'm too tired to think and too old to take a chance. You want to know what's wrong with this country. I might ask what makes you think anything is wrong with this country? You will mumble something about Viet Nam, the national debt and racial question, right?"

"Those are matters of concern," my young friend, but they are only symptoms. They are only symptoms." The old man closed his eyes and was silent for a long moment.

"The Democratic Party," he began again, "has been good to me over the years but here, tonight, I am not so sure the party has been good for the United States."

"What's wrong with this country?" I was sitting on the platform at Madison Square Garden in 1936 when Franklin D. Roosevelt made the biggest speech of his campaign for reelection.

"He told a packed and cheering Garden that the malefactors of great wealth had met their match in him and were now going to meet their master. It scared hell out of me, son, because he suddenly divided our country into the haves and have-nots."

"You can divide a nation East and West, North and South and even black and white and get along tolerably well. But when you divide it between the rich and the poor, you've got another kind of government. The poor can always outvote the rest, a fact of life so practical politicians are compelled to take into consideration.

"The poor in our case," continued Senator Kefauver, "are not the truly impoverished. We don't have a significant number of them. I'm talking about the poor in spirit, that vast hungry majority who have, since 1936, been led to believe that all good things come from their rich Uncle Sam."

"For one short minute in our history the nation faltered and Franklin Roosevelt came along with the idea that it was the duty of government to support the people. He told it as an emergency program but you will recognize, son, that emergencies beget emergencies. We have been on an emergency course for 30-odd years."

"He opened Pandora's box. We are now a nation of 'gimmies' looking for handouts, special legislation and government guaranteed security from the cradle to the grave. We've lost our national vitality. We are living too high on tomorrow's hog."

"Don't quote me, son, because I will deny it. I am a life-long Democrat but I feel more and more that I am a member of the National Bankruptcy Party."

"When our Constitution was born, old Ben Franklin said we had a good thing if we could keep it. When it was 150 years old Franklin Roosevelt said happily that it was 'the most marvelously elastic compilation of rules of government ever written.'"

"I guess what's wrong, son, is that the elastic has finally snapped."

Servant Can Be Dismissed

If political government is our servant as claimed, then it would seem to follow that, the individual employer could dismiss at will that part of the institution of government which is supposed to be serving him.

Any other conception of an employer-servant relationship just doesn't make any sense. But if our government is not, after all, really a servant—just what is it, then?

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Friday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1965 with 56 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1733, German born publisher John Peter Zenger, started publication of his newspaper, the New York Weekly Journal. In 1929, the House of Commons approved the resumption of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia.

In 1955, Austria formally opened the reconstructed Vienna State Opera House and celebrated her liberation from 17 years of foreign occupation. In prison, I am not free.

A thought for the day — American President Franklin Roosevelt said: "The truth is found when men are free to pursue it."

More Trouble for Anti-Poverty Program — 3 Washington Attorneys Sue on Free Legal Services

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The trouble-racked anti-poverty program is being assailed on a new grievance — right in the national capital itself.

Three Negro attorneys have filed suit against the local anti-poverty agency (United Planning Organization) charging its neighborhood free-legal-service centers are driving them out of business.

Six of these anti-poverty-financed legal centers already are contemplated. Manned by three to five full-time attorneys, the centers extend a wide range of legal help — from simple advice to representation in trials and appeals.

In their suit, the three Negro lawyers contend this activity violates the anti-trust laws and ethical canons of the legal profession.

The attorneys are Bruce Harrison, James Myrick and Jerry Luck. "We are taking on the power structure of Washington," says Harrison. "We know it's going to be a difficult fight, but we are prepared to press our case all the way to the Supreme Court. We feel basic principles are being flouted, and they must be upheld."

High-powered legal talent already is arrayed against them. Thurman Arnold, one-time head of the Anti-Trust Division, former federal judge and law partner of recently-appointed Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, is opposing this suit in behalf of the Legal Aid Society. While not supported by federal funds, the L.A.S. provides free legal service for indigents.

MORE TO COME — Harrison and his two colleagues are convinced their suit is the forerunner of others throughout the country.

This belief is based on anti-poverty plans to set up neighborhood free-legal-aid centers in every sizable city, particularly those with slum sections. Already such federally-financed centers are operating in Buffalo, St. Louis and Los Angeles.

Anti-poverty authorities have grandiose aims in this field. They are talking of setting up a separate legal aid division, similar to the Job Corps and Neighborhood Youth Corps, and financing it with a $20 million budget for the remaining eight months of the current-fiscal year.

The new division already has been brought in — Clinton Bamberger, Baltimore attorney. Guidelines for the projected nationwide network of legal service centers are in process of drafting. The centers are to be readily accessible to the poor — in the vicinity of low-cost housing developments, business centers, courthouses and jails. Each will be manned by full-time lawyers, prepared to handle cases ranging from landlord-tenant disputes — domestic relations, juvenile delinquency, welfare problems, abuse and neglect, etc.

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

A QUESTION OF STRATEGY Always unresolved in the realm of military strategy is the question of whether a strategy should be devised around the armed forces available, or whether the forces should be designed to suit desired strategy.

This argument is no more resolved than the age-old question, "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" Up to now, those concerned with national defense have taken one side or the other of this question; but the present Pentagon regime ignores it altogether.

Defense Secretary McNamara has proceeded in opposite directions with his strategy and his military establishment. Defense Department budget proposals have called for missiles to replace bomber and fighter aircraft. But the strategy has been directed toward small wars in which missiles are prohibited, and aircraft are our only means of gaining and maintaining advantage and superiority over an enemy.

Three years ago the Secretary stopped production of the supersonic B-58 bomber after only a few had been built. Phase-out from his congressional colleagues and others. This year, despite Morse's almost daily denunciation of the President's course in Viet Nam, the latter wired the chairman of the party a long and laudatory message. Following are the highlights:

"I'm glad to know that the good people of Oregon are celebrating the birthday of their illustrious senior senator and my good friend, Wayne Morse. It is most fitting that you have chosen to hold this tribute in a public school. There is no greater champion of education in our land than your distinguished senator."

"A long-time tireless worker in behalf of equal educational opportunities for all, Wayne Morse masterfully guided the elementary and secondary educational act through the U.S. Senate without amendment, and ensured the passage of the higher education act... I join in extending warmest best wishes to him for his happiness on this day and in the years ahead."

One who did not send a greeting was Representative Edith Green, D-Ore., also active in the deliberations on the history-making educational measure.

Mrs. Green was asked to either come to the Beaverton, Ore., party or to send a message. She not only did neither, but returned the two $5 tickets for the celebration.

Since the disclosure last week that Senator Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., has decided not to seek re-election, reports have credited Mrs. Green as considering seeking the Democratic nomination next year. But whether she will remains to be seen. Whoever the Democratic candidate is, he faces an extremely uncertain uphill battle against Republican Governor Mark Hatfield, who intends to seek this seat.

The Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

Editor, The Pampa News: According to news reports, on Tuesday, Oct. 12, our American troops staged their biggest operation against the Communist forces since the undeclared war began. The operation was a pincers movement north of Saigon. But when the troops arrived at their destination, it was found that the elusive enemy had stolen away and escaped the trap, leaving behind only a rear guard of snipers. Upon questioning the captured guerrillas, it was revealed that the Viet Cong had known in advance of the allied operation, and consequently had pulled out the day before.

Now, my question is: HOW did they know? In what way were they able to acquire this vital information ahead of time? The answer is easy if you stop to realize that the war in Viet Nam is a UNITED NATIONS WAR: Our "elite rulers" would prefer your ignorance of this fact, and they might even go so far as to deny it completely (would they lie to us?), in spite of the President's statement in a press conference that the war in Viet Nam is under the SEATO treaty. Ever since this slip-of-the-tongue, there has been dead silence on this subject. There might have even been a few "pink" faces in Washington, had you been watching at the time. But no matter what anyone tells you, just remember that our boys are fighting under SEATO, and SEATO is a United Nations Regional Agency, and a SEATO war is a United Nations war. Period!

Under the U. N. Charter and under the SEATO treaty, it is clearly stated that the Under Secretary for Political and Security Council Affairs of the United Nations should at ALL times be informed of ALL activities contemplated or undertaken by American and allied forces. Now with this in mind, let's look at who is HEAD of this Agency — Mr. Vladimir Suslov, a RUSSIAN! Do you begin to get the picture? No wonder our troops found the enemy had disappeared the day before the pincers movement. No wonder our boys die, helplessly in a hell-hole s.w.a.m.p half way across the world, fighting under the command of a Russian (our Communist enemy), Comrade Suslov. I'm a gine! But it happened before. Remember Korea? It happened also in Cuba and the Bay of Pigs. Yes, Cuba, too, was a United Nations mess.

I'm sick of it. How about you? There is only one way to escape national destruction, God willing, and that is to face up to the situation like men and women worthy of our forefathers. The American people must realize that their real danger comes from the ENEMY WITHIN, whose headquarters is the Tower of Babel, the United Nations. Until we can eliminate this satanic conspiracy from our shores, and withdraw our membership and financial support therein, our boys will continue to die in Viet Nam and all over the world needlessly and without victory.

In order to more clearly understand the tragedies looming ahead, I recommend sending for the Mary Davison Open Letter No. 53, Council for Statehood, P. O. Box 1524, West Palm Beach, Florida. Get on her mailing list, and do what you can for America. Faith of our B-47s is scheduled to be completed within the current fiscal year, after which we will have only about 600 B-52s on alert, some nearing 10 years of age.

We had some 1500 bombers when the present Secretary came into office. His plans call for reducing this number to 150 which is no real force, by 1970. 1970 is fast approaching, and the U. S. is involved in a war Administration experts say may last several years. B-52s are being used for our heavy strike force in Vietnam, but most are programmed for the scrap pile, possibly before the Vietnam war can be brought to a conclusion.

The U. S. has built a missile force designed for total, global conflict, but we have disavowed such a war in our strategic doctrine. Pentagon experts prefer to confront Communism with conventional weapons in every "war of liberation" the Communists start anywhere on the globe. Asia's teeming millions are fodder for the Communist war machine. Airpower is our only means of superiority over such numbers.

First Reporter Killed In Viet Nam Conflict

SAIGON (UPI) — Dickie Chapelle, a tiny, dynamic woman who looked more like a school teacher than a war correspondent, was killed today when she stepped on a Communist land mine while covering U.S. Marines in action near Chu Lai.

The 47-year-old reporter-photographer was covering her eighth war. She wore a paratrooper badge on her combat fatigues to symbolize the dozens of parachute drops she had made.

The Wisconsin-born news-woman was mortally wounded six miles southwest of Chu Lai where she was with Marines searching out Communist guerrillas on a mission dubbed "Black Ferret."

Miss Chapelle was on assignment for the National Observer to write a series of articles on the war. She also worked for the RKO General Broadcasting
