Santa Fe Freight Slides into River

None Hurt When Cars Hit Water

BOISE CITY, Okla. (UPI)—Texas work crews labored today to clear the wreckage of 23 boxcars from the flood-swollen Beaver River and its banks. The cars slid off the tracks Sunday and into the water.

The derailment occurred after rains all day Sunday caused flash floods along a bridge 18 miles southwest of Boise City in far-western Cimarron County.

Santa Fe Dispatcher Bob Bock said the 66-car freight train began crossing a water-weak bridge and hit unaligned tracks at the far side. One of the four diesel units jumped the track and took the boxcars with it.

"We were lucky, though. No body was hurt," Bock said. He declined to estimate the amount of damage.

The usually dry Beaver River was filled by the rains and hampered track-clearing operations. Railroad officials were hopeful they could have the tracks back in operation later today.

Emergency crews were sent in from Amarillo, Tex., 125 miles south.

Former Baylor Football Star Dead in Crash

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Bob Jones, former Baylor quarterback and assistant coach, and another University of Tennessee coaching aide, Bill Majors, were killed today and a third coach critically hurt in a car-train collision in suburban Knoxville.

Jones, who graduated from Baylor in 1957, was a native of Hearne, Tex., and went to Baylor in 1953 in the same freshman crop with ill-starred Doyle Traylor.

Traylor became plagued by broken legs and other injuries and Jones stepped in to team with receiver Del Shofner to propel Baylor to an 8-2 season his senior year and a 13-7 upset victory over Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl.

After graduation, Jones coached on the staffs at Baylor and the Air Force Academy, but then quit coaching to go into banking and law. He joined coach Doug Dickey's Tennessee staff late last summer.

Majors was a star of the 1961 Tennessee team. Officials said both he and Jones were dead on arrival at a hospital.

Council To Get Highway Report

Members of Pampa's Highway Improvement Advisory Committee finalized their report today and will file recommendations with the City Commission tomorrow.

Fred Thompson, committee chairman, said the committee wound up its work at a breakfast session this morning in Coronado Inn.

Thompson will appear before the commission in a called meeting at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, submit the recommendations and ask that the committee be dissolved.

The committee is one of 11 study groups named last June by Mayor Jim Nation to assist the city commission in seeking solutions to some of Pampa's major problems.

The Highway group and the Water Study Committee both have completed studies. The Water committee reported several weeks ago.

'I Intend To Run' --Walter Rogers

From all indications, the 18th District Congressional race next year will see a rematch between Democratic incumbent Walter Rogers and Republican Bob Price.

Congressman Rogers indicated today that he will be a candidate for re-election and Republican spokesmen have stated that Price intends to oppose him again next year.

"I haven't given it a lot of thought," Rogers said, "but as far as I'm concerned at this time, 'I will run again.'"

Price, who could not be contacted this morning, has not officially committed himself either way, but members of the Republican party express belief that he will run again.

Price, a political newcomer polled approximately 42,787 votes against Rogers' 53,250 in last year's election.

The race last year was one of the toughest and closest in Rogers' 14-year political history as a five-day visit. He plans to return to Washington tomorrow afternoon.

The congressman's schedule included a noon address before the October membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Coronado Inn.

Rogers spoke on what part the federal government would play in a proposed vocational trade school in Pampa and also touched on the international situation and several national subjects.

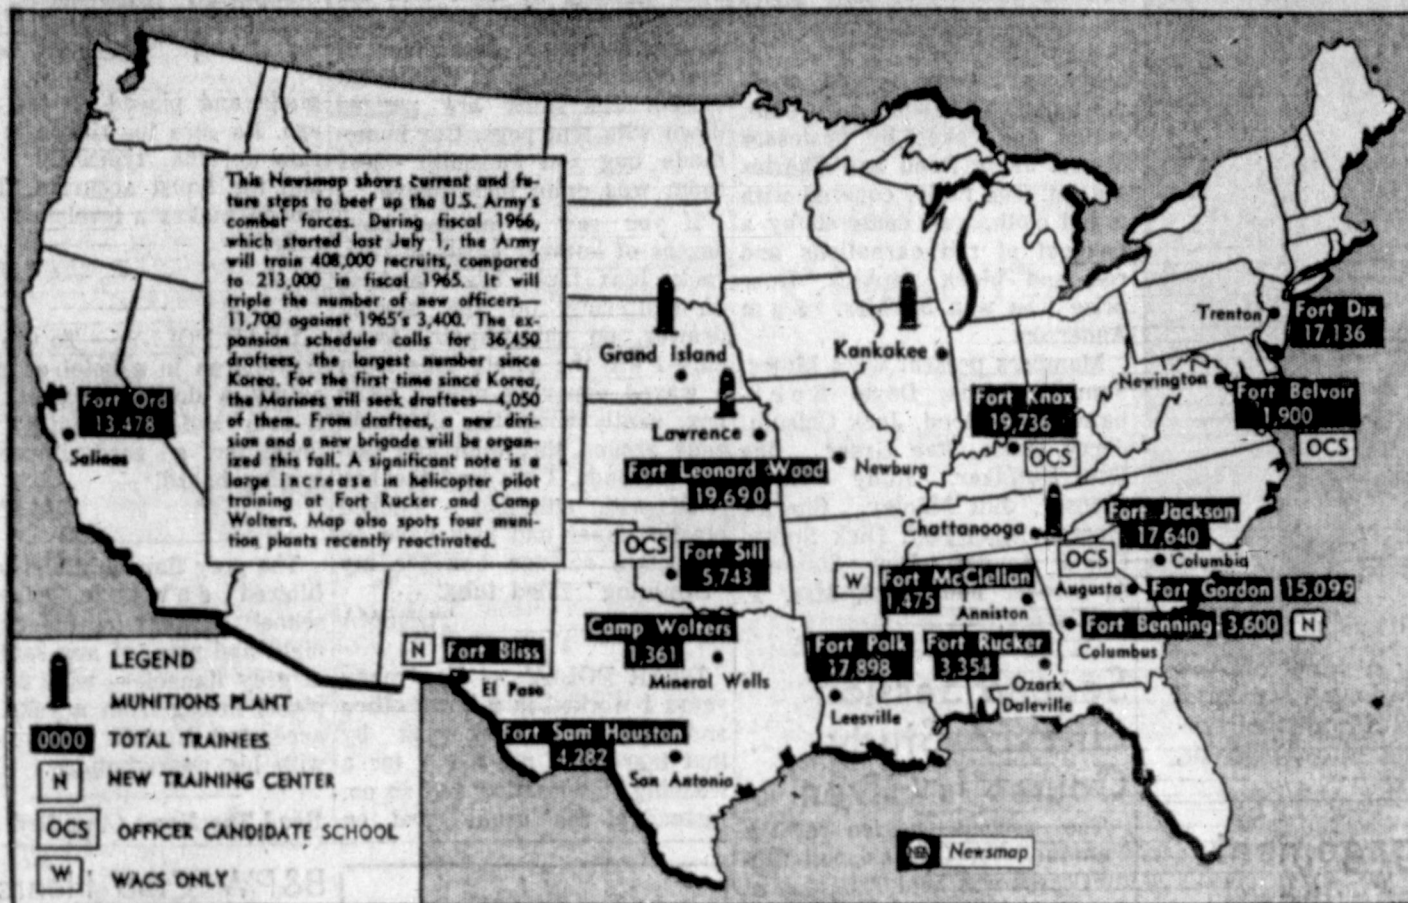

Speaking on the closing session of the 89th Congress, Rogers said he felt repeal of the excise tax and measures relating to conservation protecting our natural resources were two of the most important pieces of legislation to come from the session.

He further stated that measures relating to health such as assistance to hospitals, research and nursing facilities were pieces of legislation that affected nearly everyone of us and were equally important.

U.S. Navy Pilots Strike Soviet-Built Missile Sites

SAIGON, (UPI)—U.S. Navy pilots who destroyed a third Soviet-built missile site in Communist North Viet Nam today today of spotting five or six of the Nike-type rockets, including one "snaking around the ground" out of control amid smoke and flame.

Cmdr. Harry B. Southworth, 37, of Mexico, N.Y., was flight leader for the five planes from the carrier USS Independence which knocked out the portable surface-to-air (SAM) missile installation Sunday 32 miles northeast of Hanoi, the Red Capital, with 400 and 1,000-pound bombs.

"One of them had cooked off—something like a balloon with the air rushing out—and it was snaking around the ground," said the upstate New York flier. "It was kind of comical, really."

With Friends Like This -- Who Needs Enemies!!

VUNG TAU, Viet Nam (UPI) — U.S. Army warrant officer Edward Smith of New Orleans, La., tells an amusing tale about his fellow Army aviators during a recent military operation north of Saigon.

Army helicopters were sent to Tay Ninh Province to withdraw a unit of friendly troops. The helicopter landing zone was supposed to be secure and no Viet Cong ground-fire was expected.

Suddenly, an excited voice shouted over the radio: "Lead, this is nine five. Drawing enemy fire from the right."

"Negative, negative," came the reply from the flight leader. "Those are friendly troops down there."

"Affirmative," acknowledged the pilot who reported the enemy fire. "Drawing friendly fire from the right."

Six Miners Found Dead, One Alive but Dies Later

CLARKSBURG, W.Va. (UPI) — Six miners trapped deep underground when fires broke out in a soft coal mine near here late Saturday night were found dead today. A seventh man was brought out alive last night but died a few minutes later.

"I don't believe it, I don't believe it, I have to stay here and see for myself," cried the wife of Clell Leedy, 53, when rescue workers brought word they had found the last four bodies—those of Leedy and three miners huddled together in an area behind one of the fire areas. The miners had died of suffocation.

It was a heartbreaking end to a 30-hour rescue effort. It came only a short time after rescuers found signs which spurred hopes the last four might be alive.

The four bodies were found about five hours after rescue workers recovered the bodies of the two other men.

The seven men were trapped at about midnight (EDT) Saturday when fires broke out in four separate passages of the Clinchfield Coal Co.'s Mars No. 2 mine.

The fires were triggered by short circuit caused when an electrical cable was cut by a "continuous miner," a large machine which digs out coal and moves it into cars on a

$1-MILLION MORE PAYROLL

Oklahoma's 45th Upgraded to 'Ready'

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — The upgrading of Oklahoma's 45th Infantry Division into a "ready" unit means an additional $1 million in federal payrolls and as many as 20 new fulltime jobs for Oklahoma.

That was the report from Brig. Gen. Jasper N. Baker of Wilburton, commanding general of the 45th, Sunday at a meeting of the general staff and key commanders of the division. Some 45 per cent of the Oklahoma division will be integrated into the new Selective Reserve Force, the official designation for the so-called "hot brigade."

Baker said a total of 3,926 men in 77 communities will be involved.

Under the setup announced by the pentagon two weeks ago the units will receive 72 drills annually instead of the present 48 and will have priority status for emergency call-up.

State Adjutant General Lawrence E. Weber, who attended the meeting—said the 45th annual payroll—for fulltime employees and for drill pay—will be $3.8 million, including $1 million for summer camp. There are now 380 persons on the fulltime payroll.

Weber said the payroll will jump 20 to 25 per cent after the new program takes effect Nov. 1. Most of the funds will go for the drill time increase, he said, but an additional 15 to 20 fulltime workers will also be needed.

Baker said the "hot brigade" term used to identify the new unit is a misnomer because 45 per cent of the division will be affected by the change. The selected units will be scattered over the state.

Baker said the division hopes to complete details of the program this week. Weber will return to Washington Oct. 26 to tell the National Guard Bureau which Thunderbird units have been designated for the selected force. An announcement will be made in Oklahoma a short time later.

LBJ Is Deeply Concerned Over Policy Protests

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is deeply concerned about demonstrations against U.S. policy in Viet Nam because they might be misinterpreted by American adversaries as reflecting the nation's mood, the White House said today.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said the President had conferred by telephone with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach about his investigation into possible Communist involvement in the demonstrations.

Moyers said he was sure that Johnson wanted Katzenbach

Trio Grabs Patrolman's Car, Guns

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (UPI)—Three Negroes stopped for a traffic violation overpowered a highway patrolman Sunday night, stole his guns and escaped in his patrol car. Two of the men later surrendered.

Officers found the stolen car today in an Ennis cemetery, but the third man was still missing. He was armed with a .357 Magnum pistol and a .30-30 rifle.

The man was last seen Sunday night driving the patrol car on State Highway 34 near Ennis.

All three of the Negroes were from Ennis. The missing man was believed to be in his 20s. The other two were 21 and 24 years old.

State trooper Floyd South stopped the trio south of Waxahachie on U.S. Highway 287 for a traffic violation. They grabbed him, disarmed him and sped away in his patrol car.

Two of the suspects surrendered to Ennis police.

South was not injured. He said he had to walk a quarter of a mile to a farmhouse for help.

Miller was scheduled to be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner at Nashua, N.H., later today.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington that Miller was the first person charged with violating a law passed by Congress last Aug. 30 to make destruction of draft

Dear Abby....

Pros and Cons About Cats and Small Babies

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "Loves Cats" is so ridiculous that anyone who is that ignorant shouldn't be allowed to raise cats, let alone children.

Fifty years ago I heard that story about cats sucking the breath out of babies, but I did not think it was still being circulated. Honestly, some people will believe anything! It is true, a cat will seek a warm place, so if a cat jumps up into a baby's carriage, or crib, and snuggles up close to the baby, it is only to keep warm.

Cats love children, and would never intentionally harm them, unless provoked.

I have been active in animal welfare work for many years, and although I have heard this old wives' tale many times, I have never known anyone who was actually a witness to such a thing. They always heard it from their grandmother's cousin's neighbor lady's housekeeper.

baby, but that first performance was enough for us. We kept our eye on the baby until he was well able to protect himself in case Mozik pulled any funny stuff.

ABBY FAN: CHICAGO

DEAR ABBY: No one will ever tell me that the story of a cat's taking a baby's breath is an old wives' tale, because this is what happened to me:

We lived in a second-story apartment and a neighbor downstairs had a big 16-pound black cat. Our baby was about three months old at the time. My husband and I were in the kitchen, and the baby was in her buggy in the living room. I thought I heard some rather strange noises coming from the living room, so my husband and I went in to take a look. Well, it seems that cat got into our place somehow, and there he was with his mouth on the baby's and his big black paws pawing away on her chest and throat. The baby was struggling to get her breath and her little face was beet red. My husband grabbed the cat and I grabbed the baby. I am sure if we hadn't gotten there in time our baby would have been dead. This is a true story and you may use my name.

MRS. NELLIE M. BROWN
LANCASTER, OHIO

DEAR ABBY: I can tell you a personal incident that may help your readers decide whether cats really do harm babies or not. When I was a boy of about ten I can still remember seeing my baby sister, who was about three months old at the time, lying on the center of my mother's big bed. It was a hot summer day and my mother and I were out on the front porch.

My mother suddenly decided to go in and check on the baby, and I tagged along after her. There was our big old cat standing on my baby sister's chest with his mouth inside the baby's as far as he could get it in. My mother grabbed the cat by the back of its neck and threw it on the floor. Then she picked up the baby and breathed her own breath into the baby's mouth until she returned to normal. I shall never forget this. I saw it with my own eyes. Needless to say, my mother got rid of the cat and no one in our family has ever kept a cat around since.

T. E. C. (Sgt.)
LAUGHLIN AFB, DEL RIO, TEXAS

DEAR ABBY: Your warning to the expectant mother not to leave her newborn baby unprotected from her cats was good, as far as it went. But it didn't go far enough.

Abby, you should have told her that the expression, "jealous as a cat," is more than just an expression. It's the truth. Cats are the most jealous, possessive creatures on earth. We know.

We had no children for the first five years of our married lives, but we did raise a Siamese cat from a kitten. For five years, "Mozik" was our "baby." Then we had a real baby, and I'll never forget the day we brought our baby home from the hospital. You should have seen Mozik. He was positively wild! He arched his back, hissed, spat, bared his teeth and shot out his claws. This went on for days every time one of us went near the baby. Finally, we did get Mozik to make friends with the

Cooking on the Go May Be Best After All

Newspaper-Enterprise Assn.

A women's magazine recently offered its readers "fast food ideas for the cook on the go." That includes most cooks today. For it is rare today to find a woman who can claim she stands over a hot stove all day — as women used to do. It's much more likely that today's housewife does her cooking by snatching a few minutes here and a few minutes there than that she devotes hours to getting a meal ready for the table.

While the meat from the freezer is thawing, the housewife-cook is probably chauffeuring the children. While the prepared-mix cake is baking, she is probably on the telephone calling a list of names for some organization or other.

And she does most of her meal planning while she walks up and down the aisles of her favorite supermarket. It's really cooking a go-go for most women today, whether they are full time homemakers or working wives. Both seem to find their days too crowded with activities to allow long stretches of time in the kitchen.

But it's probably just as well. For since they can't claim to have been standing over a hot stove all day, they can't be too upset when a husband calls to say he will be at least an hour late for dinner. Or when John POLLY'S POINTERS!

Write a Gift Ribbon For Fellow Workers
By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR POLLY — We made a screened-in, portable outdoor room using 72-inch-wide nylon net. We added a striped canvas roof and sewed rope along the sides of the canvas to hold it in shape. The net was sewed to the edges of the roof. We put a pole in the middle and used four hooks to hold the corners of the net and canvas. We have four extra poles to use when we want to take this room on our camping trips. It is a 10-by-20-foot area with a lapped-over opening at each side for doors. I put bean bag weights on the bottom of both sides of the door openings to hold them closed. The sides are pegged down with tent pegs. Our homemade bug and mosquito - less room was quite inexpensive.

If you sew a lot and have dozens of leftover cards of rick-rack, bias tape, braid and so on cluttering up the sewing drawer, do not despair. As a cure I use the empty tube from a waxed paper or plastic wrap box, neatly wrap the odds and ends around this tube and fasten the ends. I covered the box itself with adhesive-backed plastic paper and now have an attractive storage box for my "trimming" filled tube. — THELMA

DEAR POLLY — For many years I worked in a large office and scarcely a week went by that there was not a gift for a wedding, resignation and so on. Instead of the usual card on which everyone signed his name, we used to get three or four yards of heavy satin ribbon (usually white) and typed all the names on the ribbon in alphabetical order. They were placed toward the end of the ribbon so as to be left as a streamer when the bow was made and placed on the package. Be sure the ribbon is right side up, the typewriter clean and the typist accurate. This ribbon makes a lovely keepsake. — LUCILE

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Gossiping and active is all right, but you have to be sure you are not causing everyone. Keep your purse clipped and speak very quietly. Otherwise, much loss can occur for you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 23) — You have the erroneous idea that by spending extravagantly you get what you want. Instead, listen to what an experienced advisor has to suggest. Then you get ahead much better.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) — You find other people are observing you and you want to go to bed. Therefore, don't be forceful, but let a smile and a kind word do the trick. Advancement then comes easily.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Although you may be feeling ahead of you, labor along at a steady pace. You find that all cases up nicely. Later, be sure to assist those who look to you for help. Be kindly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Avoid those individuals who are too dynamic and want you to do whatever is not to your liking or best judgment. Be tactful. Say little, but be firm, courteous.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — Safeguard your reputation now, since higher-ups are in a mood to take their ire out on you. Be sure that your bills are paid on time. Have a better credit rating.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) — The best way to get conditions about you improved is to give them full attention, not to go off on new tangents. Make good impression on higher-up. Show you are steady.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) — Precision in all that you do is eminently important now. Observe your own and other's bigwigs. Show you comprehend why main has acted rather strangely of late. Be kindly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Do all in your power to make peace with associates or there could be severance of connections you would regret later. Be courteous, do a little buffering, if necessary.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — By doing more than your share of work at your job, disgruntled co-workers get a breathing spell and then all is fine. Control your desire to complain. Then you win out.

Drive-In Theater Hit By Thieves

Thieves entered the Top-O Texas drive-in theater over the weekend, taking money from a vending machine and cash drawer.

Pampa Police said entry to the concession stand was made by prying open a door. Eighty-five cents in change was left in the vending machine.

FBI

Miller was attending a Roman Catholic retreat during the weekend. FBI agents arrested him at 6:30 a.m. CST on a street in Hooksett.

The draft-card burning by Miller was a highlight of a three-day protest by college students and others opposing U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

As Miller set fire to the draft card with a cigarette lighter, counter-demonstrators gathered nearby shouted, "traitors, traitors."

Miller said that he had taken the action "because I don't believe in conscription."

"I'm a Catholic pacifist," the neatly dressed man told the rally. He then removed the card from his wallet and declared: "I hope this will be an effective political act."

World's Fair Closes On Sour Note

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 1964-1965 New York World's Fair closed early today with a Fair closed early today with an attendance explosion, a wave of vandalism and an admission of financial failure.

Formal closing ceremonies for the billion dollar extravaganza were minimal — flag lowering at sunset, a fireworks display and the booming of an old Swedish cannon.

Fair president Robert Moses announced that the fair had only $10 million instead of the $30 million originally promised to devote to demolition and creation of a permanent park.

The fair wound up with a two-year total attendance of 51,607,037, more than 10 million above the 1958 Brussels fair. Moses had counted on 70 million.

Many of the pavilions were hit by vandals, and some closed several hours early because of thefts and disorders among youngsters tired of standing in the long lines.

NATIONAL CHAIRMAN—Walter F. Carey is national chairman for the 1965 observance of National Bible Week, Oct. 18-24. Mr. Carey, of Birmingham, Mich., is a prominent trucking industry executive.

"Each of us today can in complete confidence turn to the Bible's message of faith and understanding. In all history it is the 'one book' that sums up the hopes and aspirations of man. Evidence of the timeless wisdom and inspiration of the Scriptures is the fact that we can turn to its pages for guidance, solace, and strength, even in these days of world uncertainty."

(Continued From Page 1) hot units will go to summer camp with the rest of the 45th but we would like them to," said Baker. "We want to keep the division together."

Upon mobilization the 45th "hot units" are expected to become part of Minnesota's 47th division. But their reserve training will continue to be administered by the 45th.

The only difference between the Selected Force and the rest of the division, according to Baker, is that the "hot units" will receive extra training for quick mobilization for emergencies. The rest of the division could be called up later.

Weber said the Thunderbirds will begin a campaign to acquaint employers of guardsmen of the necessity of the added drills. "We don't want to lose a single soldier because of stepped-up drills," Weber said.

He said men who cannot attend the extra drills will be transferred to "a nearby non-hot unit."

(Continued From Page 1) cold front swept into Littlefield. A thunderstorm whipped the town with 67-mile-an-hour winds that ripped off roofs and downed power lines. Hail was measured nearly two inches deep. No major damage was reported.

Hereford got more than two inches of rain. Spur and Snyder had 1.75, Midland 1.20, Crosbyton 1.30, Plainview 1.25, Andrews and Hale Center 1 inch and Lubbock had .81 along with a brief but heavy hailstorm.

Showers fell early today in parts of North Central Texas, along a line from Austin to Brownwood and over parts of the Eastern Panhandle.

High temperatures Sunday ranged from 91 degrees at Laredo to 66 at Dalhart after the arrival of the cold air mass.

Santa Fe, N.M. residents this morning woke up to about 10 inches of snow left behind by a storm which brought much needed moisture to all areas of the state.

The heavy snow sent tree limbs crashing down on power lines, disrupting power in all areas of the city for several hours. State Police said elk hunters were streaming through town late Sunday as warnings of heavy mountain snows sent them scurrying for home.

Snowfall accumulations also were reported at Los Alamos, three inches; Red River, one inch; Sandia Crest, eight inches; Fenton Lake, six inches, and varying depths at other northern reporting points. Scattered flurries continued this morning.

The storm brought substantial rainfall to the northeastern corner of the state and parts of the Rio Grande Valley. Clayton was soaked by a three and one-half inch cloudburst Sunday, and State 18 north and south of the city was closed by deep water.

State Police said all roads in the Santa Fe area were open but warned of slick spots for 10 miles in all directions.

Football fans sat out a heavy shower at the New Mexico-Utah football game in Albuquerque, and the wet football worked into UNM's hands for the victory. By the time the rain diminished Sunday, the city had received about three-quarters an inch of rain.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the main force of the eastward-moving storm has left the state. Cool temperatures moved in behind it.

Early-morning temperatures were in the 30s in the north, and 30s and 40s elsewhere. The overnight state low of 28 was reported at Santa Fe and Las Vegas. Albuquerque's low at 5 a.m., was 33.

Mexico Unofficially Is Little Olympics Champs

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The Little Olympics are over and the experts from each nation can now evaluate their findings to discover if the altitude of this city hurt their athletes.

Mexico unofficially won the week-long games staged expressly to dispel fears that deaths might be expected in the 1963 Olympics.

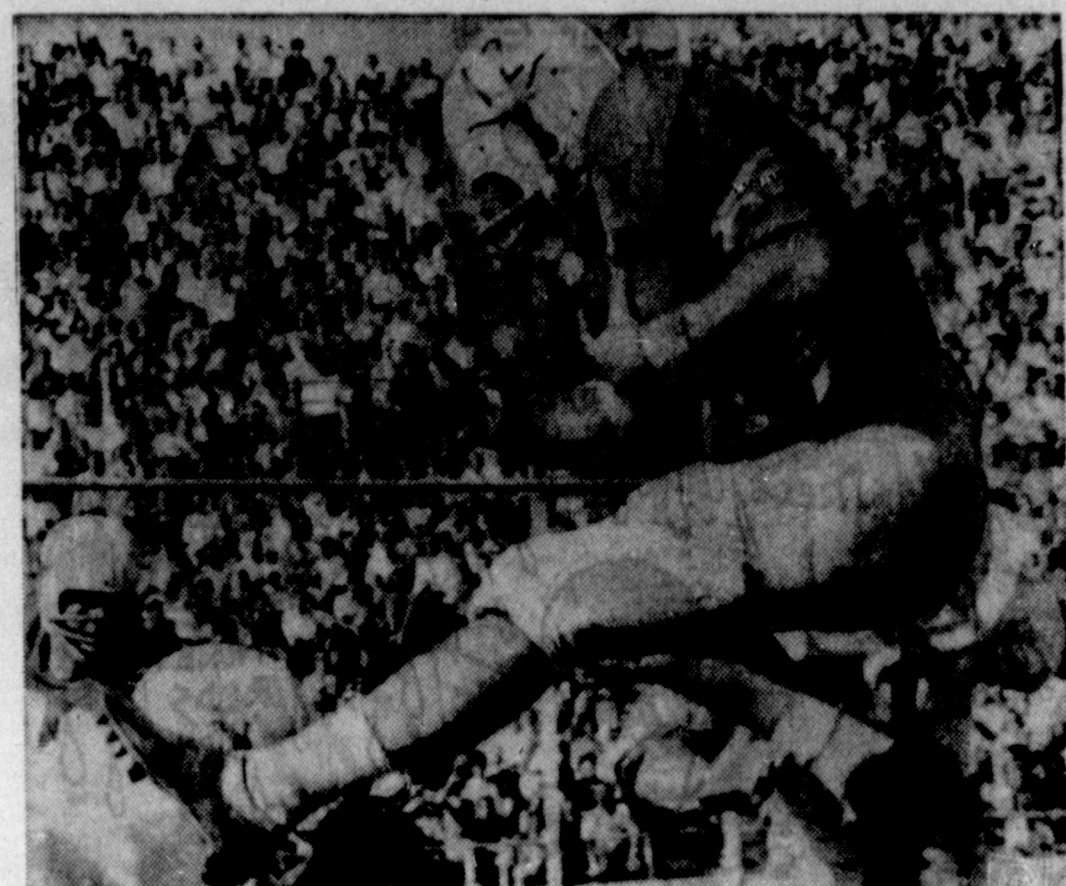

Unofficially and arbitrarily counting gold medals as three points, silver medals as two and bronze medals as one, Mexico piled up 68 points (8 gold, 13 silver and 18 bronze). Italy had 57 (8, 13 and 7), the United States wound up with 56 (5, 15 and 11), Russia scored 48 (13, 3 and 3) and France garnered 39 (6, 5 and 11). Twenty-one nations sent more than 200 athletes to compete in men's and women's events.

The pool wall an eyelash ahead of Italy's Pietro Boscaini-Charlton was tabbed the best male swimmer at the meet.

Mexico City lies in a valley 7,349 feet above sea level, more than a third of a mile higher than Denver and 1,042 feet higher than St. Moritz, the Swiss Alp resort.

Several critics said the oxygen-thin air would slow down, injure or even-kill athletes during the 1968 Olympiad. Mexico held the Little Olympics hoping to silence the critics.

The showcase event was to have been the 5,000-meter race billed as a showdown between Ron Clarke of Australia, the world record holder, and U.S. Marine Lt. Billy Mills of Coffeyville, Kan., who beat Clarke in the 10,000 meters at the 1964 Olympics.

RUNNER UP — Marvin Kristnik is literally up in the air against Arkansas Saturday. But Marvelous Marv came out second best to the Razorbacks as they handed the previously unbeaten Longhorns a 27-24 defeat.

PACKERS STILL UNDEFEATED

Bears Maul Minnesota, 45-37

By United Press International

It's not hard to figure out how the Green Bay Packers keep winning—they have their own lucky Starr.

This Starr has the first name of Bart and it is largely through his efforts that the Packers are resting comfortably on top of the National Football League's Western Conference with a 5-0 record. The former Alabama quarterback came through for the second consecutive week Sunday, passing for three touchdowns and running for another in leading the Packers to a 31-21 comeback victory over the Detroit Lions.

Quarterbacks played a major part in most of Sunday's other NFL action as New York upended Philadelphia 35-27, Cleveland edged Dallas 23-17, Chicago tripped Minnesota 45-37, San Francisco walloped Los Angeles 45-21, St. Louis clipped Pittsburgh 29-7 and Baltimore trounced Washington 35-7.

Starr, whose passing and running paced the Packers to victory over San Francisco in their previous game, brought Green Bay back from a 21-3 halftime deficit with third-quarter touchdown tosses to Carroll Dale, Bob Long and Tom Moore. He then scored the Packers' final touchdown in the final period on a four-yard scamper after two consecutive 15-yard penalties against Detroit had moved the ball near the goal line. Milt Plum moved the team more than 200 yards—needed on scoring passes with the team more than 200 yards during the first half and connected on scoring passes with Ron Kramer and Terry Barr.

Earl Morrall, a former Lion, enjoyed his finest afternoon of the campaign, hurling four touchdown passes to lead the Giants to their second straight victory over the Eagles. Morrall hit seven of his first 11 passes, including tosses to Aaron Thomas, Joe Morrison, Homer Jones and Bobby Crespiro. King Hill turned in a solid performance for Philadelphia with 23 completions in 41 attempts for 311 yards, but four interceptions by Giant defenders led to his downfall.

Jamison Medal

Cathy Jamison of Portland, Ore., won the gold medal that put the United States ahead of Russia. She covered the 400-meter medley in five minutes, 51.8 seconds, the fastest any woman has swum that event in Mexico. Presumably the altitude did not hurt her.

Miss Jamison overtook Veronika Holletz in the third lap and won by one-fourth a pool length over Danielle Dorleans of France, who was named the top female swimmer in the meet. Miss Holletz finished third, and Sharon Finneman, who swam on the record-breaking women's 400-meter relay team, was fourth.

The women's 400-meter relay squad won the fifth gold medal for the United States, covering the distance in 4:32.1, a Mexican record. The other three members were Patience Sherman of Upper Montclair, N.J., Toni Hewitt of Newport Beach, Calif., and Lynn Allsup of Bloomington, Ill.

The U.S. men's 800-meter relay team of Dana Curtis of Houston, Steve Krause of Seattle, Frank Bates of La Cresenta, Calif., and Greg Charlton of Los Angeles took a silver medal in the event won by Japan. A photo-finish gave second place to Charlton, who touched

Winless Pats Hold Chargers To Tie on Late Field Goals

By United Press International

What do you give the team that has everything?

Boston presented San Diego with a tie and the Chargers can't exchange it at a friendly department store.

The unbeaten Chargers sidled into Beantown Sunday leading the American Football League in total offense, total defense, passing offense and passing defense. In addition, they had scored more points than any other team and permitted the fewest.

Obviously a mismatch with the winless Patriots—or so it seemed.

The only thing Sid Gillman's squad lacked was someone to block field goals, and it cost them.

Gino Cappelletti, the league scoring champ, booted second half three-pointers from the 21 and 22 yard lines to earn the Pats a 13-13 standoff with the Western Division leaders.

Elsewhere in the AFL Buffalo crushed Kansas City 23-7 and Denver upended Houston 28-17. Saturday night, New York and Oakland played to a 24-24 tie.

The tie was San Diego's second of the year, having earlier played to a draw with Kansas City. It left the Chargers with a 4-2 mark and comfortable advantage over Oakland and KC, tied for second place in the West with identical 3-2-1 records.

San Diego built a 13-7 lead on two field goals by Herb Travenio and an 84-yard pass play from John Hadl to Lance Alworth before Cappelletti's toe evened the count.

The statistical side gave San Diego a huge edge. The Chargers out first-downed the Pats 15-7 and outgained them on the ground 161 yards to 37.

The visitors had a last chance to win in the final two minutes. Travenio lined up for a 41-yard field goal attempt, but the snap from center was fumbled and the Chargers never got the ball again.

Defensive back John Griffin scored a pair of second half touchdowns to lead Denver past the Oilers. The 25-year-old, third-year pro went 10 yards with a blocked punt to give the Broncos the lead and then iced the game in the last minute when he picked off a George Blanda pass and returned it 44 yards to the end zone.

The Broncos electrified the home fans in the first half when John McCormick and Bob Scallitto combined on a 90-yard scoring play for Denver's first points. Fullback Cookie Gilchrist scored the other Bronco touchdown.

Smith, Rodgers Share Selections

One of the ladies, bless 'em, has let the menfolk now they know a little about football too.

Kay Donn Smith guessed 18 games right and had only four misses to tie Ray Rodgers Jr. for first place in the Daily News Staff Selections. Three of the 25 games ended in ties.

Mrs. Smith missed only Clemson's upset of Duke, as did all other staff selectors. Wisconsin's clobbering of Northwestern, SMU's triumph over Rice and TCU's victory over Texas A&M.

Rodgers, pulling into a first place season tie missed the Texas-Arkansas thriller, Duke, Michigan States rout of Ohio State and the Texas A&M loss.

Advertising Manager John Dellacrocce, who went deer hunting in Colorado after making his selections, finished second, on a game back.

Four staffers tied for third, including Chico Ramirez, who is tied with Rodgers for the season lead, both standing 66-72.

In somewhat of a surprise, Sports Editor Ron Cross and Business Manager Bill Power, finished dead last with 12-10 records.

Pinpoint passing by Frank Ryan, a solid defense and three field goals by Lou Groza enabled the Browns to upend the Cowboys. Ryan connected on a 29-yard touchdown pass to Walt Roberts and passed the Browns into position for two of Groza's field goals. The Cleveland defense also forced the Cowboys to punt 10 of the 14 times they had the ball.

Don Meredith, however, managed to throw two touchdown passes in a losing cause.

Rookie halfback Gale Sayers provided the fireworks as Chicago upset Minnesota. The former Kansas All-America scored four touchdowns in the second half, including two in the final two minutes to bring the Bears back from an apparent defeat. Minnesota led 37-31 when Sayers ran the kickoff back 96 yards to put Chicago in the lead. Then, after Dick Butkus intercepted a pass deep in Viking territory, Sayers sprinted over from the 10 to set up the contest.

The 49ers "Big Three" of John Brodie, John David Crow and rookie Ken Willard combined forces in the victory over Los Angeles. Brodie connected on three scoring passes while Crow and Willard each scored two touchdowns. San Francisco gave the Rams a tid in the opening quarter when Brodie fumbled in the end zone and rookie tackle Frank Molden fell on it for a Ram score, but then the 49ers went to work and opened a 28-7 halftime edge.

LA COSTA, Calif. (UPI)—Blonde Ruth Jessen lanked a $2,000 four-foot birdie putt Sunday on the final hole of the 72-hole $50,000 Haig and Haig Scotch Mixed Golf Tournament to win $7,200 for herself and her partner, Gardner Dickinson.

Dickinson set up the winning birdie with a classy 105-yard approach shot and he grabbed Miss Jessen around the shoulders and kissed her on the cheek in a rare emotional display after she sank the putt to give them a one-stroke victory over Ray Floyd, St. Andrews, Ill., and Carol Mann, Towson, Md.

The Dickinson-Jessen team never led this unique tournament until they holed out on the 72nd green. They had rounds of 73-69-71-68—seven under par on the 72 La Costa Country Club Course.

Dickinson, 38, who plays out of Lost Tree Village, Fla., and Miss Jessen, 28, each won $3,600—a total of $2,000 more than Floyd and Miss Mann who took home $2,600 apiece.

Dickinson-Jessen were in a tie for 10th place after the first round and going into the final 18 were three strokes behind two teams sharing the lead—Pete Brown, Los Angeles, and Beth Stone, Muskogee, Okla., and Rex Baxter, Houston, Tex., and Shirley Englehorn, Dallas, Tex.

Brown-Stone and Baxter-Englehorn finished in a tie for third, each golfer picking up $2,000.

Brown-Stone, first round leaders, carded 65-75-70-73—283, and

Giardello Would Rather Fight Than Practice

NEW YORK (UPI)—Middleweight champion Joey Giardello makes no bones about the fact that he would rather fight than train.

Giardello, who always avoided training as much as possible, wound up his practice sessions Sunday for his title fight Thursday against Nigerian Dick Tiger at Madison Square Garden.

The champion, who once left training camp and skipped out of town shortly before a title shot, is making his first appearance in New York in more than nine years against the man who lost the crown to Giardello in December 1963 and has been promised a much-delayed return but ever since.

Giardello, who has defended the title only once, against Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, said he reached the peak of condition more than a week ago and even had to lay off practice for a few days so he wouldn't be overtrained.

However, the 35-year-old fighter, who began his climb to the title 17 years ago in New York, seems to have found success despite his lack of effort.

Jessen-Dickinson Hole 18th for H-H Tourney

Baxter-Englehorn had 69-68-73-73—283 for 72 holes.

All alone in fifth place at 186 was the team of Jay Herbert, Tubac Valley, Ariz., and Marilyn Smith, Runaway Bay, Jamaica, with 71-75-68-73. This was good for $1,600 apiece.

Next money of $1,450 each went to the team of Miller Barber of San Antonio, Texas, and Judy Torluemke, North Key Largo, Fla., who had 73-73-71-72—289—one over par.

In this unique tournament—played for the first time on the west coast—each member of the twosome team hit a tee shot. The better ball was selected for further play and then the golfers took alternate shots until they holed out.

Most of the golfers—men and women—said they enjoyed the type of play. Victor Dickinson and Miss Jessen said there is an added strain because of the team play, however.

Said Miss Jessen: "You feel a responsibility to your partner. Here Gardner was hitting these good shots all day and I didn't want to let him down. On that last putt I was really jittery."

Miss Jessen uses an unusually wide putting stance but she said she hasn't been putting well lately. "I hadn't holed out anything good all day until that last one," she said.

They had five birdies and one bogey in their final 35-33—68.

For the birds, Dickinson holed an eight-footer on the second, she sank a tap-in on the third, he rammed down a 12-footer on the 11th, and he holed a five-footer on 16.

WORST OVER FOR HOGS? Battle Looms For No. 1 Spot

By United Press International

The Arkansas Razorbacks, who defeated Texas 27-24 last weekend, can afford the luxury of a grim smile knowing that the worst is probably over, but most of the nation's other top teams can only shudder at what awaits them this Saturday.

Third-ranked Arkansas jumped off to a 20-0 lead in the second quarter, but then had to come from behind late in the fourth period after Texas went ahead 24-20.

As gloom was settling over the 42,000 partisan fans at Fayetteville, Ark., quarterback Jon Brittenum came into direct the Razorbacks on an 80-yard scoring drive, with only 92 seconds left, Brittenum plunged one yard to give Arkansas the longest unbeaten streak in the country, 17 consecutive victories.

Jubilant Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles announced with his accustomed calmness, "I think the team has qualified to be rated No. 1."

However, Nebraska made a strong bid to keep the top spot for at least another week by mauling Kansas State 41-0, and Michigan State put on a performance that might earn a promotion from the No. 4 ranking by crushing Ohio State 32-7.

In other games, Georgia (5) lost to Florida State 16-3; Purdue, tied for sixth with Southern California, edged Michigan 17-15; Memphis State routed heavily favored and ninth-ranked Mississippi State 33-13 and Florida, ranked 10th beat North Carolina State 28-6.

The Trojans from Southern California, who defeated Stanford 14-0 on a pair of fourth-period touchdowns, and Notre Dame, which was idle, are pitted against each other this week in a nationally televised grudge match.

The eighth-rated Fighting Irish appeared destined to win the national championship last season before having their perfect record ruined in the last minute of play by a Southern California touchdown pass. Mike Garrett, who rushed for more than 200 yards in the Trojans' victory over Stanford, carries Southern Cal's hopes to Notre Dame against the Irish running trio of halfbacks Bill Wolk and Nick Eddy and fullback Larry Conjar.

Michigan State also meets one of its toughest opponents in Purdue, which defeated Notre Dame earlier this season. Michigan State relied on fleet-footed Clinton Jones' pair of touchdown dashes for its victory over Ohio State while Purdue's Bob Griese passed for two touchdowns and kicked a 35-yard field goal in the last minute to edge Michigan. Michigan State is the only Big Ten team with a perfect record, but Purdue's record is marred only by a tie.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

IRS Propagandizes Students

The Internal Revenue Service has come out again with its "Teaching Taxes," described as "general - student's handbook." High schools are being asked to get their orders in now.

The printed booklet is designed "to help you learn how to prepare and file individual income tax returns. In addition, the handbook gives you some understanding of your responsibilities and rights in tax matters."

As is to be expected this student handbook is filled with material to persuade the student that the federal government "protects" the people. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes is quoted as having said, "I like to pay taxes. With them I buy civilization."

We are told that federal taxes pay for the military services, flights of astronauts, and:

"They help insure that our foods and drugs meet the high standards we have set for them. They finance research products that find the cause of man's diseases and continue to improve our agricultural products. They finance our relations with other countries, through the Peace Corps and Agency for International Development we are able to help many parts of the world. In addition, they help provide in-parks, wildlife refuges, and conservation areas. And also, they provide assistance for older people, people out of work, and those who cannot afford medical care. The list is much longer, but these examples illustrate what we get for our tax money."

Aside from the fact that most of the above named "benefits" are not provided for in the Constitution, one wonders where most of the above could be considered protection. In fact the government is doing everything except protecting life and property. It is depriving workers of their honestly earned property to give to those it considers are "in need."

Even in the field of setting standards of drugs and financing research into disease, the bureaucrats are setting themselves up as gods to tell people what they may and may not use for their own health. They use the bureaucratic collective judgement of what is good to deprive individuals of their own natural right to choose for themselves.

While the federal government claims to be helping agriculture, it is responsible for much of the problems of agriculture. It claims to be working to end unemployment and poverty, yet it creates unemployment and poverty by minimum wage laws and laws giving the union the right to keep men from learning a trade without the union consent. It claims to be protecting from war, yet government causes wars by tariff and immigration restrictions.

There is talk in some government circles about the "Madison Avenue approach" by businessmen who may take advantage of the poor, dumb, gullible people by making elaborate representations of their products. There are even such agencies as state consumer councils and federal consumer advisory councils, each designed to protect the consumer from "predatory business." But there is no protection from predatory government, which propagandizes the people at their own expense.

Reds Reveal Their True Nature

The Communists have injected a new element of horror into the war in South Viet Nam—the execution of captured American soldiers in reprisal for the execution of Viet Cong saboteurs or agitators by the South Vietnamese.

However much Americans may disapprove of the severity of South Vietnamese law, which decrees the death penalty for merely voicing opposition to the government, there can be no justification for this wanton disregard—the second since July—for the human rights of prisoners of war under long-accepted international law.

More than anything that has gone before, it brings home the true nature of the enemy Americans are facing in that beleaguered land.

If the Communists hope to demoralize American soldiers by this tactic, they are as mistaken as the Nazis who practiced reprisal murder against civilian populations in World War II. The unfortunate men who died would be the first to plead for no slackening in the fighting that at last seems to be going against the guerrillas.

If the Communists hope to divide the American public, they are doing the one thing that will steel and unite all Americans behind their government.

They are fools as well as murderers.

If Farmers Are Example...

President Johnson's program of "something for everyone" has established a new "service" at tax payer's expense.

Johnson signed a bill known as the State Technical Services Act, which provides a five-year program of matching grants to states to make available to industry scientific and technical information.

Mr. LBJ says this legislation

"will do for American businessmen what the great agricultural extension service has done for the American farmer."

Although the extension service can hardly take the blame for all of the farm mess, we hope the businessmen will take note of what federal intervention has done to the farmers, and will steer as far away from the great new Great Society program for businessmen.

Map Devices To Hunt Out Guerrillas

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — The biggest military problem in Viet Nam is knowing where the Viet Cong are.

Because of this lack of knowledge, Vietnamese army units are regularly ambushed, and a d lightly protected hamlets overrun by the Reds.

Major hunter - killer offensives push through big pincer movements which end up closing the trap on empty Viet Cong bases.

Many Viet Cong are guerrillas by night and farmers by day. After a fight, the guerrillas fade away into nearby hamlets. When U.S. or Vietnamese military men move into a hamlet, they can't tell the guerrillas from the ordinary citizens.

At the Pentagon work is being pushed on scientific solutions to this crucial problem of detecting the Viet Cong—whether he's hidden in forests, in camouflaged tunnels or bunkers or hiding among peaceful villagers.

So important is this problem that more than 100 studies are being made within the military services.

A handful of these super detection devices are so promising that money is being poured in and work pushed under forced draft. Hopefully, if everything goes well, one or two of these will be tried out in Viet Nam within six to nine months. Which of the detection devices will prove out isn't certain. But here are some ideas now being studied in the Pentagon to track down or identify V.C.s.

—An invisible chemical that could be sprayed at night from the air on known Viet Cong bases and assembly areas. Following the spraying, teams of military men would move into neighboring hamlets. They would inspect the citizenry with special equipment, detect those men "marked" by the invisible chemicals.

—Air or ground - borne instruments that could detect camouflaged tunnels holding men, rice or military equipment. Some research projects are exploring the possibility of pinpointing tunnels by the difference in temperature just above the tunnel. Others are looking into the practicality of detecting the escaping vapor from the breath of men in a tunnel.

—Experiments in Thailand and Puerto Rico have aimed at determining if infrared equipment carried in airplanes could detect the heat from small lighted or recently doused charcoal or wood campfires.

—Other scientists are working on the thought that perhaps a Viet Cong battalion lying in wait to ambush a Vietnamese army column will have enough metal in its rifles, bayonets, machine guns, mortars and recoilless rifles to cause enough of an anomaly in the earth's magnetic field to be detected from an airplane or helicopter.

—Still other teams are experimenting with odors. They hope to find some way to detect the presence of gunpowder from a distance.

Television cameras which turn out usable pictures in poor light already seem practical.

—Experiments are going on with airborne radar which some research men say offers the promise of being able to detect men and equipment through foliage in the forest areas favored by the Viet Cong.

If scientific ingenuity can solve some of these key problems of guerrilla warfare, U.S. and Vietnamese forces can put the Viet Cong on the military defensive.

AN EMPTY TITLE (The Freeman)

The same liberal construction which is required for the protection of life and liberty, in all particulars in which life and liberty are of any value, should be applied to the protection of private property. If the legislature of a State, under pretense of providing for the public good, or for any other reason, can determine, against the consent of the owner, the uses to which private property shall be devoted, or the prices which the owner shall receive for its uses, it can deprive him of the property as completely as by a special act for its confiscation or destruction. If, for instance, the owner is prohibited from using his building for the purposes for which it was designed, it is of little consequence that he is permitted to retain the title and possession.

Foreign Vessels Used on U.S. Military Cargo to Viet Nam; Merchant Marine Crisis, Committee Hears

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — American troops fighting in Viet Nam are relying on foreign merchants to deliver an increasing share of their daily war needs.

Eleven foreign - owned and foreign - manned merchant ships are currently hauling U.S. military cargoes to Viet Nam from the U.S.

Three are Liberian vessels. The other eight fly the flags of Britain, Israel, Panama, West Germany, Finland, Norway, Denmark and the Netherlands.

Their number is expected to increase as the U.S. buildup in Viet Nam escalates from 150,000 to 200,000 troops by early 1966.

According to information gathered by the House Merchant Marine Committee, the U.S. simply does not have enough operational merchant ships to supply these troops and at the same time maintain its commercial trade commitments around the globe.

So critical is the shipping situation, committee findings show, that the U.S. could not mount a second-front seafight should another world crisis explode.

Resort to the mothball fleet is only a partial remedy. Many reserve vessels pressed into the Viet Nam lifeline have proved unseaworthy, even after expensive repairs.

The first "Victory" ship removed from mothballs for Viet Nam service — the "Iraq Victory" — had to be discarded because her hull plates buckled.

Boiler tubes failed pressure tests on 50 per cent of the reactivated Victory ships. Gears and turbines are undependable. Ships are put to sea only by cannibalizing parts from others in the reserve fleet.

"We are in an armed conflict in Viet Nam without an adequate merchant marine fleet... (and) the reliability of our national defense reserve fleet is open to serious question," angrily charges Congressman William S. Mailliard of California, ranking Republican on the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee.

Behind Mailliard's concern are these unreported facts: —One hundred cargo ships, including the 11 foreign - flag vessels, are currently under charter to the Defense Department and related agencies to ferry government goods to Viet Nam.

—Fifty additional ships have been broken out of the Maritime Administration's reserve mothball fleet.

—Ten reserve ships, on loan to private users, have been recalled by the Pentagon for the Viet Nam run.

—Six troop transport ships, operated by the Military Sea Transportation Service, have been diverted from Atlantic to Pacific service. Two have been returned to their Atlantic runs, but three others have been pulled out of the mothball fleet to fill the breach.

—One hospital ship, the "Respose," is being reactivated.

Average age of the U.S. merchant mothball fleet is 20 to 25 years. Average cost to put these vessels back into service is $250,000 per cargo ship. Troopship reactivation costs run higher — over $1.6 million per vessel.

Reported shortages of drydock space and skilled shipyard workers are delaying some reactivation work. Contracts for the three troopships, for example, were awarded August 26 on a 60-day completion basis, but the Navy says it can't be sure the ships will be finished on time.

Troopship "USNS Gen. Nelson M. Walker" is being reactivated in the Bethlehem Steel Company's Baltimore shipyard, and the "USNS Gen. William Wiegand" and the "USNS Gen. John Pope" are being readied, respectively, at the Todd Shipyard facilities in San Pedro and Alameda, Calif.

POLICY SCRUTINY — Administration officials are under increasing fire from Congress to explain their failure to provide an adequate U.S. merchant seafleet capacity.

The Senate Preparedness Investigating subcommittee, headed by Senator John Stennis, D-Miss., has launched an extensive study of the entire subject.

The investigation is directed, said Stennis, at the ability of the military transport forces to supply and support the current activities and operations in Southeast Asia as well as meet other overseas commitments and contingencies.

Maurice G. Burnside, legislative aide to Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, is telling startled legislators that foreign merchant men are being used on the Viet Nam supply line to insure against a crippling strike by U.S. maritime unions.

He argues that the unions could tie up the entire Viet Nam seafleet if U.S. ships were the only vessels involved.

In response, the National Maritime Union is seeking a federal court order requiring Secretary McNamara to ship all U.S. military cargoes to Viet Nam in American flag ships, in accord with a little - observed 1904 law. Union president Joseph Curran charged in a complaint filed in District of Columbia court that use of foreign flag ships has delayed delivery of supplies to U.S. troops.

In one case 3,000 tons of Viet Nam - bound cargo shuttled around Long Beach, Calif., docks for two weeks as, first, a Mexican ship refused to sail with it into a war zone and, second, a Greek ship, with Communists in the crew, refused to go to South Viet Nam.

AID TO NORTH VIET NAM —Greek sailors, apparently, have no reservations against sailing to North Viet Nam. Since January 16 Greek ships have called at North Vietnamese ports.

The 'Go Home' Mood

Having been driven like steers on the LBJ Ranch, the members of Congress are in a restless, somewhat hostile mood and are ready to head for home. If Mr. Johnson is as politically shrewd as he generally is considered to be, he won't attempt to drive the Congress any further this session.

Even Democratic stalwarts are beginning to express resentment about the pressure from the White House, and sarcastic remarks are being made by these loyalists about how nice it would be to have a day when it would be possible to vote one's own way without getting orders from 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

The resistance to the White House pressure for repeal of the right-to-work provision of the Taft-Hartley Act is symptomatic of the growing hostility to presidential dictation. When the issue came up in the House of Representatives, the White House used enough muscle to get repeal approved. But the fairly close 221-203 vote showed that it was not an issue in which Mr. Johnson had an easy majority. In view of strong resistance in the Senate, the House might vote differently today if it had a chance to do so.

Throughout the campaign for repeal, administration leaders have realized that the smart action was to say as little as possible about the alleged "merits" of their proposition. They know that they don't have a real case to present; that they simply are endeavoring to pay a presidential political debt to the union bosses who gave Mr. Johnson their all in the 1964 election. To be sure, they talk of "standardizing" labor practices in all 50 states. But this is a hollow argument, for the proposed standardization would result in reducing the amount of liberty available to working people in this country. Standardization would eliminate an important right left to the states — and very few rights are left these days.

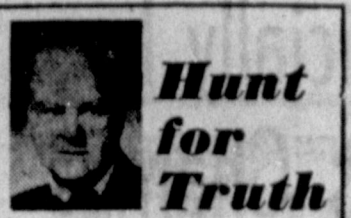

The issue is whether a state should have the right to pass a law forbidding a contractual dealing trade practiced by merchantmen from those nations supplying the 11 ships under contracts to the Defense Department and related U.S. agencies.

Figures compiled by Congressman Charles Chamberlain of Michigan, a high - ranking Republican member of the House Armed Services Committee, reveal that our ally, Great Britain, which has contributed one vessel to the current U.S. Viet Nam seafleet, sent 177 ships to North Viet Nam during 1964.

Only Israel of our current seafleet allies has not sent ships to ports of Communist North Viet Nam.

Congressman Chamberlain has uncovered the following tabulations of Free World shipping to North Viet Nam for the period January through August 1965: British, 49 ships; Greek, 16; Norwegian, 13; Lebanese, 4; Netherlands, 3; Japanese, 2; Maltese, 1. Total to date 88.

PERSUADING PEOPLE TO THINK

Sound thinking is one of the most productive and constructive things a man can do. It is alone one of the hardest. Thinking itself seems easy enough. Most of us feel that we are doing it a great deal of the time. In fact, most of us, when we come up against a difficult problem or an idea of any kind which makes us feel uncomfortable, tend to shy away from it. We prefer taking the easy way, of accepting what someone else has thought on this point, or refusing to think it meaningfully ourselves, rather than the hard way of facing the issue on our own.

Many Americans today seem to be rejecting the hard way of sound and constructive thought in favor of the easy, but fatal way of accepting authority or avoiding the real issue. If continued, this trend can only result in the loss of all our liberties, for a free nation must have a thinking citizenry if it is to have any chance for survival. There are always would - be tyrants waiting in the wings to take advantage of the non-thinking.

A clever man can present any new program for public action, like any new product, in attractive colors I can make it look good. In the case of a new product on the market, the consuming public will soon discover by personal experience whether or not it is good. In the case of public program, it can be evaluated accurately only by a process of sound thinking. — People who care can, with a will find a way.

agreement that requires a working man or woman to join a union. At the present time, the states have that right. Nineteen states have decided to take advantage of this liberty by enacting right-to-work laws. Repeal would strip this right away from the states — a right that all the states not only should have but should exercise for the benefit of their citizens.

The unions are afraid of extensive publicity concerning this issue. They are afraid because they are reluctant for the public to see that, under repeal, a worker would have the poor choice of joining a union or joining the ranks of the unemployed. Repeal thus would have the effect of taking jobs away from citizens who have a conscientious objection to union membership.

It is not surprising that many Americans have such a conscientious objection. Today's unions aren't simply associations of working people for betterment of wages. They are full - fledged political parties that are active partisans in electoral struggles. In most parts of the country, the unions are an important political arm of the national Democratic Party. Understandably, workers not of this persuasion deeply resent compulsory membership and compulsory dues-paying to an organization that embodies the very opposite of their own personal political convictions.

The union bosses have been quiet in this battle because they don't want to answer the charge that they want to force membership in what are in effect political parties. In this connection, perhaps what the country needs is an honest labeling law for union organizations. If there was honest labeling, the AFL-CIO would be labeled as a political party. Its "educational" drives would be frankly described as political campaigning. But honest labeling would strip the unions of their tax-exempt status in "educational" fund - raising. Yet it is absurd for the American people to continue to accept the rigamarole whereby unions are officially regarded as non-partisan.

Aside from being very important in its own right, the effort to prevent repeal of Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act is serving to mobilize independence in a Congress that has been a rubber stamp. The 14(b) fight is helping some Congressmen regain their spirit of independence, which has been buried under an avalanche of presidential edicts. If Mr. Johnson does any more pushing and shoving this session, he will only produce trouble for himself in the future.

A thought for the day: Thomas Aquinas said: "Three things are necessary for the salvation of man: To know what he ought to believe, to know what he ought to desire, and to know what he ought to do."

Pull Up A Chair

Never scoff at science fiction. Scientists at Massachusetts Institute of Technology have the problem of devising a robot that could do useful work in environments hostile to man. They've decided that a computer that could play Ping-Pong would be just the thing. They theorized that the speedy changes of pace, serves and reflexes needed in the table tennis game would test its efficiency in other fields. Now they are building one that they will pit against a human opponent. It will view the serves through a TV camera eye and will meet them with a paddle held by a metal arm. That beats anything in Bucky Rogers.

Today's smile: A motorcycle cop flagged a speeding motorist to the curb and asked to see her license. After searching through her handbag, the sweet young thing said: "I'm sorry, officer, but I don't happen to have it with me. I can assure you it's just like any other driving license."

LBJ's RECOVERY SPURS RALLY

Stock Market Indicators Hit New Highs This Week

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market indicators hit new peaks and promptly went into a consolidation this week. Trading continued active.

A boiling rally on Monday boosted the widely watched Dow-Jones industrial average through its old peak to a new record of 942.65 with a gain of 4.33. The rally, apparently touched off by President Johnson's successful recovery from a gall bladder operation, was even more pronounced in the list where gains of around 2 were fairly common.

Dow-Jones industrials advanced only 2.36 on the week to 940.68. Rails jumped 4.06 to 232.95. Dow-Jones replaced the Erie-Lackawanna, Chicago Rock Island and Baltimore & Ohio components of the rail average with Denver Rio Grande, Western Pacific and Seaboard Air Line railroads. The switch was made because all three roads are presently involved in various stages of merger negotiations. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index advanced 0.53 to 91.38.

Volume 44,643,369 shares from 32,939,664 shares a week before and 25,666,990 shares in the same week last year. Of the 1,544 issues traded, 839 advanced, 287 to new 1965 highs, while 52 declined, only 5 to new lows.

New Security Act Offers New Benefits

Some persons who had not worked long enough to qualify for social security payments will now be eligible under the recently amended Social Security Act, according to Hal Geldon, district manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

The new provision makes it possible for older workers to qualify with as little as 3 "quarters of coverage"; the previous minimum was 6 such quarters. In commercial employment a quarter of coverage is a calendar quarter in which a worker was paid wages of at least $50; quarters are credited for farm work, and for the self-employed, on a different basis.

The following table shows the groups that new provision Man who reached Quarters affects:

Irregular Cotton Futures Marked New York Exchange

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cotton futures were irregular in lackluster trading on the New York Cotton Exchange this past week.

The No. 1 contract finished unchanged to up 25 points lower for the week. The No. 2 contract was suspended until further notice, the exchange announced.

The absence of fresh trading incentives kept dealers on the sidelines. There was some commission house participation on both sides of the market but in a small way. The Agriculture Department announced a national marketing quota, a national acreage allotment and a marketing quota referendum date for the 1966 upland cotton crop in accordance with the new farm bill now awaiting the chief executive's signature.

The marketing quota was set at 15,267,000 bales as a result of converting the 16-million acre national allotment on the basis of the 1961-64 coverage yield of 58 pounds per acre.

Schools Hit By Boycott

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Pupils stayed away from Milwaukee public schools today in a boycott called to protest alleged segregation practices.

The Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC), sponsors of the boycott, announced that "freedom schools" had been set up in at least 30 sites.

The boycott caused dissension among some Catholic leaders. A group of priests and nuns had said they would help out in the "freedom schools." But a chancery order instructed the clergy to have nothing to do with the boycott because it was illegal.

New Duraclean Dealership Is Opened in Pampa

C. K. McQueary a resident of Pampa for 10 years has announced the opening of a new Duraclean dealership at 704 Dean Dr.

McQueary is a member of "Duraclean Dealers of America," an international chain of "in the home" rug and upholstery cleaning and mothproofing dealerships. Businesses similar to his are established in the United States, Alaska, Canada, Japan, Hawaii and many other countries throughout the world. Since 1930, the Duraclean chain of dealerships has developed into the world's largest organization of cooperative dealers specializing in the cleaning and preservation of home furnishings. Their services are nationally advertised, and recommended by America's leading furniture and department stores.

McQueary pointed out that since Duraclean is not a wet soaking or scrubbing process, it is no longer necessary to tear up the house and send things out to be cleaned.

He stated that by Duracleaning, home furnishings can be used again the same day and that years of service are added to them.

US Foreign Policy Critics Plan March on Washington

By United Press International Critics of U.S. foreign policy, encouraged by weekend demonstrations which drew thousands of persons into the streets of American cities to protest the war in Viet Nam, looked ahead today to a march on Washington.

In Chicago Sunday night at an anti-war meeting. Meanwhile, there were indications of a possible investigation into the operation of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), one of the participants in the demonstrations. The group has started a campaign to encourage servicemen and draft eligible men to become conscientious objectors and avoid military service.

A nationwide "call to mobilize the conscience of America" by marching on the capital was issued in a handbill circulated

The date for the proposed march on Washington was Nov. 27, the day after the conclusion of a scheduled four-day convention of the National Coordinating Committee to end the war in Viet Nam, which directed the weekend protests.

Federal Workers Pay Hike Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Civil Service Committee planned today to vote formal approval to legislation providing a one-year, 3.5 percent pay boost for government workers.

The pay bill—acceptable to the Johnson administration—was also expected to be passed by the Senate Tuesday or Wednesday with final congressional approval to follow quickly.

House and Senate leaders were shooting for congressional adjournment by the weekend. The Senate bill was estimated to cost $64.1 million in higher wages and fringe benefits, retroactive to Oct. 1. This was a heavy cut from the two-year, $1.5 billion pay bill voted by the House.

The Senate pay raise, however, was still considerably higher than President Johnson's original request for a one-year, three per cent increase with a price tag of $410 million.
