

Pope Goes Directly Before Council Upon Return

ROME (UPI) — Pope Paul VI told the Ecumenical Council today his historic pilgrimage to the United Nations had increased the responsibility of the Roman Catholic Church to the cause of world peace.

The 68-year-old pontiff returned today from New York with words of praise for U.N. leaders "and all the people of the United States of America."

He was visibly tired but instead of resting he drove immediately to St. Peter's Basilica to report to the more than 2,000 council fathers who are debating the church's relationship to the modern world.

"In the name of Christ, we preached peace to them," the Pope said. "You know that this announcement implies great duties."

"The church has assumed a greater obligation to the cause of peace. It is certainly not our task to enter the field of politics and economics where civil peace is built, but we can and must help in its construction through moral support and working charity—also material charity."

The Pope's jetliner touched down at Rome's Fiumicino Airport at 12:07 p.m. (7:07 a.m. EDT) after a seven-hour, 38-minute flight from New York. The weather was warm and sunny.

"Things and actions are what they are, and the consequences of them will be what they will be; why then should we desire to be deceived?"
—Bishop Joseph Butler

Foreign Commentary

By WALTER LOGAN, United Press International.

Outlook from the foreign news cables:

NUCLEAR SLOWDOWN: Both Britain and the United States intend to go slow on earlier plans for nuclear sharing within NATO. Diplomats in London say there are second thoughts on the advisability of reviving shelved plans for the U.S. idea of a multi-nation NATO nuclear surface force and the British suggested Atlantic nuclear force. One reason is that revival would block an agreement with Russia against the spread of nuclear weapons. The other is a lack of agreement among the allies on the scope of such a force. It is likely to be decided at the annual NATO conference in December.

UP AND COMING: A bright future is predicted in Moscow for Mikhail Zimyanin, the ex-deputy foreign minister who recently captured the top political job as editor of Pravda, Russia's most important newspaper. Zimyanin, 51, who was ambassador to Czechoslovakia only six months ago, is "clearly on his way up" according to Western diplomats. They say he is "quick, intelligent and forthright, a man who carries weight in party circles." A less significant point—he is one of the few Pravda editors with previous newspaper experience. He was once a cub reporter in his native Byelorussia.

DARK FUTURE: American officials in Europe are expressing more and more anxiety about the future of the International tariff negotiations called the "Kennedy round."

France's boycott of the Common Market in Brussels has paralyzed the talks and Americans say it is becoming difficult to keep delegations from the 50-odd nations together in Geneva. The Americans are speaking of spring 1966 as the deadline; beyond this, they say, the tariff cuts needed to boost Western trade may never take place.

MORE WHEAT: Moscow experts predict more Soviet wheat purchases in the West. Best guess is the Kremlin will buy another million tons this year to supplement the millions it already has bought. Disastrous floods in the Danube region mean increased commitments to Eastern Europe.

BOHLEN LEAVE: American Ambassador to France Charles E. Bohlen is not expected to return to Paris until after the Dec. 5 election for a new French president. The embassy word is that his long leave just happens to fall that way. In the meantime the betting is 2 to 1 that President Charles de Gaulle will not drop out of the race. But word is that he will serve only a couple of the seven-year term if he is reelected.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT 6

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very peculiar day and evening—one in which the adoption of an attitude of philosophy and using your best judgment to solve problems adds you greatly, but if you get involved in an accidental or argumentative conditions, you can suffer much loss or have unfortunate estrangements. Be careful.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Forget going out for recreation and concentrate on getting business, property and personal affairs in better order. Being forceful could be very helpful. Show your wisdom instead.

TARUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Strive for true harmony at home and yet be sure to get all accomplished outside that you had planned. Get information from authorities that you need. Don't waste a moment.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Be very careful while driving or you get into a lot of unnecessary trouble. Monetary matters in mind can be very successful. Show intellect. Don't be forceful with others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Reaching personal goals is quite easy if you apply yourself, but take care you are not extravagant. Individuals in business can be annoying. Friends instead very gratifying.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Be interested in the welfare of others instead of trying to force them to your own will. Have practical and private talks with others. These will bring excellent results. You desire to do that needs the assistance or approval of pals is fine, but don't do any fancy acting. This could cause you loss of good friends. Get out socially instead of feeling sorry for yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Show loyalty for higher-ups and don't be false chattering. Individuals who have little else to do. Gain greater prestige in outside world. Forget the social—its boring tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Looking into new outlets is fine now, but be sure you do not risk big money in so doing. An error could be made on the job today inadvertently. Profit by same.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Carrying through with contracts, promises made at first before looking into anything new today. You want backing from others. This is fine, but see to it that you also give backing in some way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Having a talk with associates can bring out some very important points that need hashing over. Don't let them be pinned down to minute detail. Let the conversation flow naturally.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Support co-workers now instead of permitting partners to waste time talking over what is relatively unimportant. Improve state of health. See that clothing is spotless. Have fun later.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—A good day for contacting those you like and going off for some happy recreation that is wholesome and interesting. Find new hobbies. Be full of cheer and wit.

Prisoners Hit Guard And Escape

ANAHUAC, Tex. (UPI)—Two prisoners, one of them awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary at Huntsville, attacked a guard and escaped from the Chambers County jail at Anahuac early today.

Officers identified the two as Jose Ramirez, a 38-year-old San Antonio man, who was indicted by the Chambers County grand jury for car theft and was awaiting trial, and Joe Edward McCoy, 19, of Vidor, who was convicted of felony theft charges and was to be taken to the state prison.

The two picked their way out of their cell—officers said they were not sure how they did this—and hid in a corner of the jail complex until jailer Frank Lancon made his early-morning rounds.

They attacked Lancon, leaving him with a broken rib and severe bruises on his head, and fled on foot.

Officers said they believed the two had probably stolen a car shortly after their escape, and roadblocks were thrown up throughout Southeast Texas.

Eight Directors Named at Meet

Eight directors were elected to three year terms at the annual stockholders meeting of the Community Hotel Company of Pampa, this morning in the Coronado Inn.

Those selected from a slate of sixteen nominees were Hugh Burdette, Lynn Boyd, George B. Cree Jr., Fred J. Neslage, George Scott, F. E. Imel, Dr. Joe Donaldson and Kirk Duncan.

In other business hotel manager Jim O'Connor gave a financial report of the past year's business. He stated that the hotel's fixed indebtedness had been reduced by more than $26,000 during the fiscal year.

C. P. Buckler presided in the absence of Hugh Burdette, who is in the hospital ill.

Apple Core Removed From Man's Throat

A 76-year-old Pampa man was taken to Highland General Hospital late yesterday afternoon after he nearly strangled on an apple core.

The man, Chris Giger, 736 E. Denver, was released from the hospital after the core was removed from his throat.

The incident happened about 5:30 p.m. at Giger's home.

Brotherhood Guests Will Give Program

The Highland Baptist Brotherhood will host 15 guests arriving in Pampa by auto and airplane Thursday evening when Gene Parham, president of the Oak Street Baptist Brotherhood, Colorado City, will present the group of men in an interesting program.

Several of those who will speak were converted in services in the Mitchell County jail. Sheriff Lewis Claxton, who has been strongly influential upon his prisoners by a good Christian testimony, says the Oak Street Brotherhood has helped him in converting and reforming many hardened criminals.

Parham and Harley Stone recently had articles printed in the Home Missions Magazine concerning the work in the Mitchell County jail.

Stone, who experienced the testimonies of the Baptist men, said in his article, "I was privileged to observe the outstanding work of this group for three months within the local jail, where I temporarily resided."

He will be the principle speaker on the program.

George Lawley, president of the Highland Baptist Brotherhood urges all peace officers, men and teen-age boys to attend this meeting. Also, Pampa families are urged to hear this program beginning at 8 p.m., Oct. 7.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Testimony Heard In Damage Suit

Jurors in 31st District Court began hearing testimony today in the $100,000 damage suit filed against Thomas C. Braly, 16, of Pampa by Glen D. Gallaher.

The suit is in connection with an automobile accident Jan. 25 in which Mrs. Gallaher and her 11-year-old daughter were injured.

Hearing Set Today On Train Service

ROSWELL, N.M. (UPI)—A hearing will be held today over the planned discontinuance of Santa Fe Railroad passenger service between Clovis and Carlsbad in eastern New Mexico.

Representatives of communities between the two points will argue against discontinuance of the daily round-trip service by the railway.

The hearing will be conducted by the New Mexico Corporation Commission.

Indonesian

He had not been seen in public since a leftist group of rebels led by an officer of the palace guard tried to overthrow Sukarno in a coup on Thursday.

Rebel broadcasts at the time listed Subandrio as one of those backing the coup.

Fighting between pro-rebel and loyal troops continued today, according to broadcasts from Indonesia. A broadcast heard in Singapore said the rebels controlled several districts in Central Java and the Jakarta area and that loyal forces had been ordered to wipe them out.

The diplomatic corps, cabinet ministers, soldiers and others attended the services for the six generals who included Army Chief of Staff Gen. Yani.

A broadcast said the six generals and the lieutenant were promoted one rank by Sukarno before the ceremony.

Maj. Gen. Sardini, commander of the army's Diponegoro division, was quoted as saying he had ordered his troops to "liberate" rebel-held areas. The broadcast called on all Indonesians to help wipe out rebel resistance.

More than 200 Communist supporters were reported to have been arrested in a mass crackdown by religious and army groups in Jakarta, according to Radio Malaysia. It said more than 5,000 Indonesians attended a rally demanding that Sukarno ban Indonesia's 3 million member Communist Party.

In Manila, the Indonesian Embassy issued a statement today saying that Sukarno, 64, is in good health and in "full control" of the Indonesian government.

The statement said Sukarno would preside at a cabinet meeting in the presidential palace in Jakarta Wednesday.

Trade School Is Discussed By Leaders

The possibility of establishing a Vocational Trade School in Pampa was discussed at a joint meeting of directors of the Pampa Industrial Foundation and members of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee yesterday noon in the Coronado Inn.

E. G. Travis, assistant district director of the Texas Employment Commission in Amarillo, explained how such a school could be set up under the Manpower Development Training Act. Under such a plan, he said, the Texas Education Agency arranges for the training through a city or county school system.

The speaker stated that the Texas Employment Commission must certify the need for specific skills and the agency would also recruit applicants for the school.

Travis added that he was not trying to sell the program, but merely familiarizing the group with the possibilities.

The need for a trade school was emphasized recently, when it was announced that the Cabot Corporation has been unable to fill 75 vacancies for welders and machinists. It was brought out, too, that Cabot will need an additional 75 persons in these categories by the first of the year. Other business people in the community have expressed a like need for trained personnel.

Foundation President Frank Culberson suggested the group meet at least once a week to assure a continuing industrial program.

Hazlewood Will Address Jaycees

State Senator Grady Hazlewood or Canyon will be the speaker Oct. 12 at a meeting of the Pampa Jaycees.

Hazlewood will speak at 7 p.m. at the monthly ladies' night meeting of the club.

His topic was not announced, but is expected to deal with current legislation before the Texas senate.

The Army said the hunger strike was to avoid being sent to Viet Nam with the 1st Cavalry Division, which departed Aug. 18. As soon as the division left, Belton started eating again.

He asked to be tried at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, instead of at Ft. Benning.

Altman said the war in Viet Nam was instigated at the behest of "private interests in the United States." He said U.S. involvement violates the U.S. Constitution, various treaties and "the law of nations."

Altman said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge should have been called to explain at the court martial why this country is fighting in Viet Nam.

"This is an attempt to put before the court political matters beyond the scope of an Army court martial at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.," Capt. Archibald M. S. McColl of the prosecution said.

Pampans To Get Service Awards At SWPC Dinner

Five Pampa employes of the Southwestern Public Service Co. will be among 86 from the company's Panhandle Division who will be honored tonight at the 17th annual service awards dinner in Amarillo.

Curtis C. Griffin will lead the Pampa group, receiving a jeweled emblem for 35 years service from A. R. Watson, president and general manager of the utility.

Thirty-five years is the second longest period of service to be honored this year. Only four men with 40 years exceed Griffin's service. One of them, Lex Ray of Amarillo, will be the senior honoree at tonight's dinner.

The other four Pampans to receive awards are in the 5-year group, the first period of service honored. They are Robert T. Henderson, Ferrell Baird, Gerald J. Ely and Larry K. Anderson.

Dr. A. B. Martin, president of Amarillo College, will be the speaker at tonight's banquet, and Cliff Milnar, Southwestern's Panhandle Division manager, will be master of ceremonies.

Throughout Southwestern Public Service Company's 45,000 square mile service area, 292 employes with a combined service of 3,775 years will be honored at service award dinners this year.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bache & Company says a temporary pause may be at hand but that the underpinnings of the market remain strong.

News that businessmen are buying tools at a brisk rate adds to trader optimism and the economic outlook remains favorable. Thus, investors should expect some profit-taking and at the same time be alert for investment opportunities during the rest period.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW United Press International. HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

The programs: Telephone wiretapping of private conversations and illegal "bugging" are the subjects of an hour NBC-TV documentary entitled "The Big Ear" Oct. 31. "ABC Scope" takes a half-hour look next Saturday at the problems posed in America by private ownership of 50 million guns. . . . Another one-hour documentary, "The Great Love Affair," a light-hearted pictorial essay on the automobile in contemporary America, airs on CBS-TV Oct. 12. NBC-TV's "Today" show offers science-fiction writer Ray Bradbury and French singer Charles Aznavour as guests Tuesday, with cartoonist Jules Feiffer turning up Wednesday and Bernard Hollowood, editor of the British magazine "Punch," next Friday.

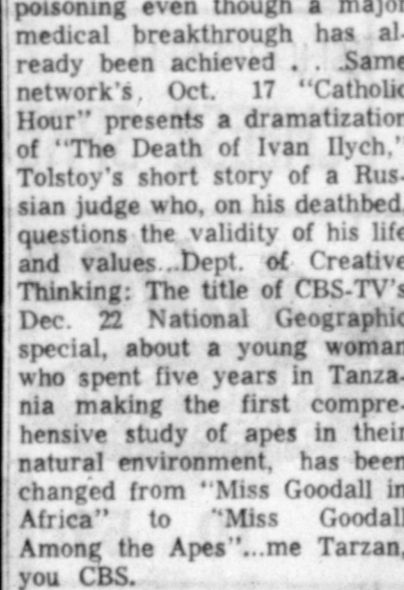

Three network television series with man-on-the-run themes — "The Fugitive" (ABC), "Run For Your Life" (NBC) and "A Man Called Shenandoah" (ABC)—seem to be meeting with early popular success this season. On the other hand, CBS-TV's "Slaterry's People," about a state legislator, is reported a very iffy proposition to get through the season. Same network's Ed Sullivan Show has Peter Sellers as a guest Sunday. A major ABC-TV special about the eastern United States (with Robert Preston as host) and a major CBS-TV audience-involvement broadcast, "The National Citizenship Test," will run into each other head-on Nov. 9 for 10-11 p.m., EST, another example of regrettable planning.

Wynn and Family. NBC-TV's "Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus" special, with Ed Wynn as host — accompanied by his three granddaughters — is set for Nov. 18. CBS-TV's "Perry Mason" stars Noah Beery as an eccentric millionaire accused of murder Oct. 24. Weekly "Variety" puts the situation of NBC-TV's "Bell Telephone Hour" beautifully: "For sheer stimulation, the Manhattan phone director has more to offer than one of these Bell musicals. Even more to the sorry point is the show's consistent knack for distilling bland mash from exotic talent" . . . Or, as I suggested a while ago, the chief problem with the "Telephone Hour" may be that no one has told its principals yet that the show has transferred from radio to television.

Some of the team that produced NBC-TV's "The Louvre" will offer a very different kind of documentary Nov. 28—a one-hour story about the failure to save many victims of uremic poisoning even though a major medical breakthrough has already been achieved. . . . Same network's Oct. 17 "Catholic Hour" presents a dramatization of "The Death of Ivan Ilych," Tolstoy's short story of a Russian judge who, on his deathbed, questions the validity of his life and values. Dept. of Creative Thinking: The title of CBS-TV's Dec. 22 National Geographic special, about a young woman who spent five years in Tanzania making the first comprehensive study of apes in their natural environment, has been changed from "Miss Goodall in Africa" to "Miss Goodall Among the Apes" . . . me Tarzan, you CBS.

Approved Anti-Poverty Projects Mean $1-Million

AUSTIN (UPI) — Approval of seven anti-poverty projects by Gov. John Connally Friday is expected to bring some $1 million to workers in the communities involved.

The largest project was a $278,870 federal grant to San Antonio, for a Neighborhood Youth Corps project to employ 532 school youths.

A federal grant of $198,493 was given to Denton to pay 252 persons to serve as foster grandparents to 328 mentally retarded children in the Denton State School. A similar project in San Antonio will use $98,135 in federal funds to hire 55 persons to act as foster grandparents to 350 children who must be hospitalized over a period of time.

Other approved projects were:

Starr County — A $209,230 federal grant to employ 240 out-of-school youths in a six-month program.

Zapata County — A $113,650 of 115 out-of-school youths from project, involving employment of 115 out-of-school youths from low-income families at $1.25 per hour.

Dallas — A $21,515 grant to the Community Action Committee of Dallas for a six-month program to attack causes of poverty in the city.

Kingsville — A $6,855 grant to the Kleberg County Community Action Committee to develop a "broad-based attack" on causes of poverty in the area.

FRONT SEAT DRIVERS
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—It is now possible for every man, woman and child in the United States to ride in the front seat of a car — simultaneously, according to the American Automobile Association (AAA).

The AAA says there are now 2.6 persons for each passenger car registered in the United States — and estimates the ratio will drop to 1.9 persons for each auto by 1975.

Miss Dwight was a 1964 graduate of Pampa High School and was the recipient of the American Business Women's Association's 1964 scholarship.

P-TA Sponsored Study Courses To Begin Thursday

P-TA City Council Study Course will begin Thursday with the first session to be held at Sam Houston Elementary School Auditorium from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Forrest Hills, Council Study Course chairman, has announced that the title of the first session will be "Let's Expose Our Children to Good Manners".

The first 55 minutes of this session will be a panel discussion on the importance of "Good Manners." Mrs. R. A. Mack, Woman of the Year, Mrs. J. L. Colville, home economics teacher at Pampa High School, Mrs. William L. Ellis, Mrs. Martin Ludeman and two students from the Pampa High School speech department will make up the panel. Following the coffee break Mrs. Forrest Hills, Mrs. Jack O. Miller, Joe Page, Lamar principal, and Sam Begert, Horace Mann principal will present a skit on manners. Warren Hasse, owner of a local radio station, will speak to the group on "Manners of Adults at Sports Activities."

A nursery for pre-school children will be provided during the study course. Mrs. Z. L. Land is Study Course chairman for Sam Houston and Mrs. D. W. Fisher is chairman for Horace Mann, which will share host duties. Each P-TA member who attends four or more sessions will receive a Study Course Certificate.

Quick-N-Easy
NEW YORK (UPI) — If you feel an urge to update the living room, and without drastic or permanent redecorating, consider stretch slipcovers, home economists suggest.

These combine the fit of custom covers with the immediate availability of ready-made. They are safely washable in warm soap or detergent suds, and are moderate in price — especially in relation to time saved and negligible upkeep costs. Wrinkles disappear when the covers are stretched over the furniture, so no ironing is ever needed.

If you want to look far ahead in fashion, one forecast or spring is for the fuller toed shoe. The National Shoe Retailers Association (NSRA) says the "crescent" is only a memory as toes gently mold to natural shaping. The newest entries are fully rounded or beautifully blunted, particularly for flats and little heels ... with diminishing broadness as heel level rises."

Even with modern pest control methods, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports a loss of $10 billion annually in crops and livestock due to insects, diseases, nematodes and weeds.

Gem and Mineral Club To Meet This Evening
Canadian River Gem and Mineral Club will meet this evening at 7:30 in the Gold Room of the Panhandle Bank and Trust Company in Borger.

Mrs. Eugene Olds of Pampa will show slides taken this past summer of a rock hunting vacation in Utah, Wyoming and the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Plans will be discussed for the fifth annual Rock Show to be held Oct. 16, 17 in Bunnavista Cafeteria, Borger.

Dear Abby...

Never Argue With Man Who Loves to Shoot

DEAR ABBY: Melvin and I have been married for three years and this is the first time we have ever had a really violent argument. Well, Melvin loves to shoot, so last year he went deer hunting with three other guys. They drove 600 miles and were gone a week. I stayed home with the baby. This year Melvin says he wants to go again. I told him if he went, I would take a vacation with a girl friend of mine who is single. He didn't like that, so now he's sulking like a little boy. Is this fair? If he wants to hunt deer he can hunt 30 miles from here and get home the same night. And besides, neither Melvin nor I like venison, so what's the point?

MELVIN'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: No man ever went deer hunting because he liked venison. It's the change of routine and the fun of being with the "other guys" he enjoys. What's good for the deer isn't always good for the doe. So for my dough, let him go hunting. P.S. And I'd never argue with a man who loves to shoot.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young mother with two children, ages 3 and 4. They repeat everything they hear, whether they understand what it means or not. We live in a respectable neighborhood except for this one couple who fight a lot and use very vulgar language. Our children play outside and can hear this couple shouting at each other. Some of the words they use are just terrible. Abby, My husband spent three years in the Navy, and it takes a lot to shock him, but when the three-year-old asked him what a certain gutter word meant this morning, he almost fainted. How do we answer these questions?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: For every vulgar word, there is a more refined way of expressing it. Don't get flustered, and don't put off the explanation. Answer the children in the most nonchalant and truthful way you know how. (It doesn't matter whether they understand or not.) P.S. And you might tell this couple to pipe down because your children are getting postgraduate courses in "life" before entering kindergarten.

DEAR ABBY: Apropos of the use of the title "Doctor" for those who have earned a doctor's degree in fields other than medicine: I have an "R.P.D." — Doctor of Political Science and, to be perfectly candid, I enjoy being addressed as "Doctor." It sets me just a bit above the crowd and having earned this distinction, feel I am entitled to it. He who assumes that everyone with a doctor's title is a physician is an ignoramus. If I am mistaken for a medical doctor, which happens frequently, it's all right with me.

CALL ME DOCTOR
DEAR DOCTOR: It's all right with me, too, Doctor. But if you happen to be in a crowded restaurant and someone yells, "Is there a doctor in the house," you'd better head for the nearest exit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BEST MAN" IN FORT WORTH: Do not give the bride away or there might not be a wedding.

Work Train Wreck Kills 1 Africans

Enraged Survivors Kill, Wound Two White Railroadmen

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—Rescue workers toiled through the night to free survivors from the twisted wreckage of a derailed work train in which at least 81 Africans were killed and 130 injured. Enraged survivors killed one white railroadman and wounded another in confusion of rescue operations.

The derailment was described as the worst railroad disaster in South African history. Three cars of the packed train left the rails at 6 p.m. Monday but the accident went unreported for more than three hours.

The slain white man, a signman identified as W. Hartley, 20, was hacked to death when he tried to help the injured, railway officials said. His assistant was attacked by a near berserk mob and hospitalized with broken ribs and other serious injuries.

The three cars jumped the rails as the Natal North Coast line train was en route from Durban to the African township of Kwa Mashu with more than 500 workers aboard.

Authorities said an infuriated mob of 500 Africans rushed to the scene but was dispersed by police reinforcements aided by police dogs.

The three coaches were dragged on their sides for a distance of 350 yards. Victims who fell under the wheels were strewn up and down the tracks.

J. P. Ugo, general manager of South African Railways, said a full inquiry would be made.

Officials were unable to determine the cause of the derailment. The engineer said only he heard a "terrible noise" and then a bump before he stopped the train. The conductor said there was a terrific crunching noise and then the vans (cars) overturned.

Atheist May Appear At Hearing

AUSTIN (UPI)—Madalyn Murray, an atheist whose lawsuit resulted in the Supreme Court's decision to ban prayers in public schools, may appear at her extradition hearing Wednesday.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin said Mrs. Murray wants to attend the hearing.

"She is free on bond in San Antonio and there is nothing to stop her," he said.

The hearing is to decide whether Gov. John B. Connally will order Mrs. Murray back to Maryland for trial on a charge of assaulting a Baltimore police sergeant. She also faces a one-year contempt sentence in Maryland.

A habeas corpus hearing is set for Friday in San Antonio. Attorneys for Mrs. Murray, 46, may ask the courts to allow her to stay in Texas if Connally orders her returned to Maryland. Such a request could keep her out of Maryland for at least another six months—until the court ruled on the request.

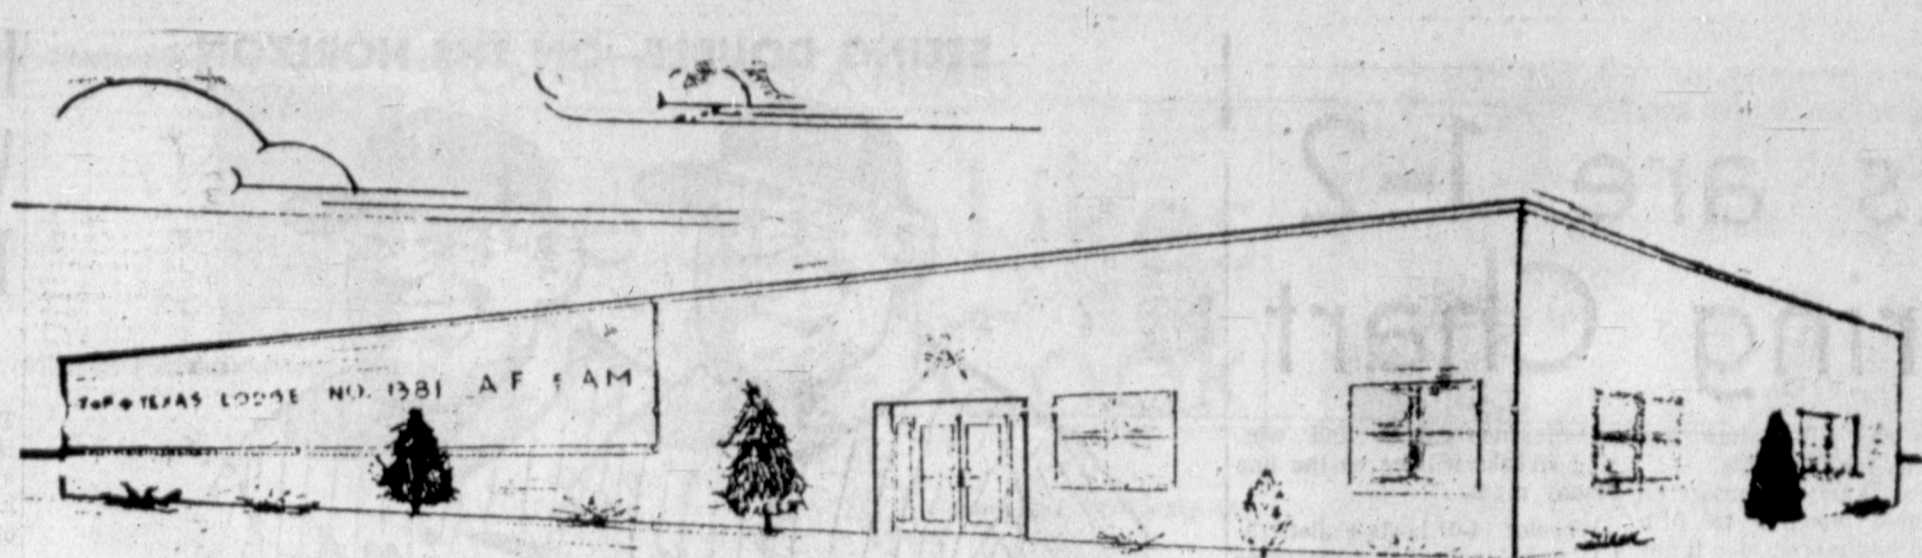

Mrs. Murray is accused of assaulting a police sergeant who went to her home in Baltimore to investigate a complaint she helped get the daughter of a Jewish family to leave her religion and her parents.

AMA Advises On Medicare

CHICAGO (UPI)—The American Medical Association (AMA) has turned back proposals for an organized boycott of the federal Medicare program but advised physicians they would refuse to cooperate with the program individually.

Meeting in an extraordinary special session for only the seventh time in AMA history, the house of delegates voted against having the group's 66,000 members act "in concert" against Medicare.

"We have sustained a Dunkirk, not a Waterloo," said Dr. Clifford O. Rouse, chairman of the house of delegates and an opponent of the program.

NEW MASONIC HOME — Reproduced here is an architect's drawing of the new lodge building being constructed by Top O' Texas Masonic Lodge 1381 on Kentucky St., west of the Pampa Convalescent Home. FAST RESPONSE ESSENTIAL

Rights Official Fears Northern Attitudes

(Picture Coverage Planned) WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal civil rights official said today he was gravely concerned about whether white residents of Northern cities could respond fast enough to the changes in race relations required by the nation's commitment to equality.

Calvin Kytte, acting director of the U.S. Community Relations Service, made the statement in a speech prepared for the opening session of the annual conference of United Press International Editors and Publishers.

"The need is to get the Negro out of the ghetto. The bigger need is to get rid of the ghetto," Kytte said.

He said Americans have shown an almost unbelievable ability to change their attitudes on civil rights issues in recent years. But he added:

"If I take a good, hard look in particular at white urban Northerners and contemplate their reactions as the race problem closes in on them personally; if I consider the nature and urgency of the changes we are yet to make — looking ahead, I can become gravely concerned about our ability to change fast enough." The conference, which had a record-high advance registration of more than 350 persons, was opened with welcoming remarks by Mims Thomason, UPI president.

H. Roger Tatarian, vice president and editor of UPI, was chairman of the first panel discussion of "coverage in crisis." Secretary of State Dean Rusk was scheduled to address the UPI conference this afternoon.

Mexco's Tourist Rate Up Again

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The number of tourists coming to Mexico increases at a rate of from 18 to 20 per cent a year, Tourism Department Chief Augustin Salvat told the sales executives club Monday.

Speaking at the organization's monthly luncheon, the tourism chief called for service improvements, more restaurants, hotels, communications, courtesy and hospitality for Mexico's visitors.

This, he said, would be ample recommendation for other tourists who come into contact with the visitors when they return home.

Troopers Block School Bus Attempt Again

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — State troopers again blocked Negro students who tried to board white school buses today in this troubled town where the Ku Klux Klan has threatened to go into action.

Twenty-eight Negro youngsters who tried to board the buses were out-manuevered by the troopers who ringed the students immediately.

The moment the Negroes gathered to walk to the buses, 15 troopers encircled them preventing the Negroes from moving toward the buses.

The Negroes dispersed when the buses pulled out to take white pupils to schools in neighboring counties. The demonstrators said they would go later to Tallapoosa County's white school to hold a "read-in" on the school lawn.

Ku Klux Klan grand dragon Calvin Craig of Atlanta, already under charges for twisting the arm of a 17-year-old Negro, Monday night threatened to turn the Klan loose in this North Georgia town.

Pumpkin-Ensilage Carotin Used For Skin Treatment

KENILWORTH, N.J., Oct. 4 (UPI) — Carotin, obtained from ensilaged pumpkins, given by mouth and applied locally, has been used successfully in the treatment of most of 68 cases of eczemas and other skin diseases by two Russian medical researchers, according to the first issue of Abstracta Dermatologica.

(Carotin is the general term for carotenes, the red and orange pigments found in carrots and other vegetables. They are called provitamins because they may be converted into Vitamin A in the body.)

The new journal, designed to provide bimonthly abstracts from the world's medical literature of special interest to dermatologists, is prepared and published by Excerpta Medica Foundation, The Hague, under a grant from Reed & Carnrick, Kenilworth pharmaceutical manufacturer.

Abstracta Dermatologica will be made available to American dermatologists as a professional service by Reed & Carnrick. The first issue contains abstracts from 10 countries, including Russia and Hungary.

The carotin from ensilaged pumpkins used in the Russian study is a homogeneous mass containing 25 to 35 milligrams of crystalline carotin per milliliter. It was given internally in a dose of 20 to 40 drops twice daily and rubbed on the skin in ointment form.

The abstract notes: "Apparent cures or considerable improvement was observed in 16 of 19 patients with eczema (including infant eczema), in 24 of 33 patients with microbial eczema, in 4 patients with seborrheic eczema, and in 6 of 7 patients with various manifestations of hyperkeratosis of the skin."

The researchers are M. A. Karagezyan and A. A. Borisova. They are affiliated with the Medical Institute of Krasnodar and published their findings in Vestnik Dermatologii i Venerologii.

TRUCKS COLLIDE

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Two military trucks collided Monday night, killing two soldiers. Police said one of the trucks burst into flames. The accident occurred between the towns of Slagelse and Naestved on the last day of a military maneuver.

Eidinnoff shot attorney Ted Address to death in 1959, at the El Paso International Airport. He charged Address showed nude pictures of Dr. and Mrs. Eidinnoff.

'Non-Suit' Granted In Sanity Bid

TYLER (UPI)—Smith County Judge R. S. Burress Monday granted a defense request for a non-suit in a hearing to determine the mental condition of Dr. Harold Eidinnoff, 56, who has been committed to a state mental hospital the past six years.

Eidinnoff has been trying to get a sanity hearing because he claims he is now sane and should be freed. The hearing was scheduled Monday but the prosecution succeeded in getting Burress to rule the hearing would determine only whether Eidinnoff were "mentally ill" instead of "sane" or "insane."

Defense attorneys lost a motion that the issues be confined to the sanity angle, then requested the non-suit—which means the El Paso doctor must start all over in his bid for a sanity hearing. Under the law, insanity and mental illness are not synonymous. A person could be mentally ill from extreme age but would not be necessarily insane.

son's bill to nullify state "right to work" laws.

Republican opponents of the bill, led by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, III, began what Dirksen called "attenuated discussion" Monday.

And starting today, said Dirksen, there would be quorum calls, which would force supporters of the bill to produce at least half the Senate while opponents must produce only a "talking team"—a basic filibuster maneuver.

The bill would repeal section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, thus voiding laws which forbid the union shop in 19 states.

Dirksen talked for 3 hours and 13 minutes Monday. Then Sen. Milward L. Simpson, R-Wyo., did a short stint against it before an early 4:27 p.m. recess.

Other congressional news: TRANSPORTATION: Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., was scheduled to introduce legislation to find new methods of public intra-urban transportation. He said his bill was intended "to help meet the transportation needs, not of the mid-60s, but the mid-70s and 80s." The measure is identical to one introduced in the house by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis.

Farwell Man Dead In Car-Truck Crash

CLOVIS, N.M. (UPI)—Calvin E. Blaine, 40, of Farwell, Tex., was killed early Monday in an automobile-truck collision on N.M. 18 at an intersection just west of Clovis.

State Police said the auto in which Blaine was riding may have been pulled out from a side road into the path of a northbound truck driven by Richard Goar, 67, of Clovis.

Hospitalized at Clovis with minor injuries were Goar and Marie Goforth, 31, of Texico, N.M., who was riding with Blaine.

Wheeler Backs are 1-2 On Area Scoring Chart

The same school is represented but the player's name is different as Wheeler again has the area's scoring leader, in fact the high-flying Mustangs have the top two scoring leaders in the Panhandle.

Bobby Vanpool, second last week, came up with three touchdowns for the Mustangs Friday night for a total of eight and one conversion and a total of 50 points.

From teammate Tom Smith, 36 points and Elliott has five touchdowns for 30 points. Groom's Larry Lamberson moved three notches to fifth place and has scored four times and has three conversions for 30 points.

Probably the player deserving the most credit for being able to stay in the top 19 is White Deer's Johnny Mooney who has not scored a touchdown. But Mooney has 12 points, all on one-point conversions.

SOUTHALL ON SIDELINES

Baylor Hurting; Horns Have 4 on Injured List

By United Press International
Baylor coach John Bridgers had to use two hands Monday to count the starters out for the Bears' Southwest Conference football opener with Arkansas Saturday.

"We're not daisies. Texas Tech is going to find that out." Like most of the other conference teams, Arkansas had a light drill Monday. The Razorbacks familiarized themselves with Baylor's pro-style offense and defense in a no-contact drill in sweat clothes.

Coach Frank Broyles praised fullback Bobby Nix for his blocking in the TCU game and said he would have Nix carrying the ball later on. Things are just going too well now to warrant a change.

Conference games and winning streaks will be on the line Friday night. Wheeler (4-0) hosts Follett (3-1-1) in a league game the same as Groom (3-0-1) who hosts Booker (1-2) and Miami (2-1) plays a league game at their homecoming affair against Dazourett (2-0-1).

And for the first time in more than a year, Baylor will take the field with its magnificent field general, Terry Southall, looking on from the sidelines, with a broken ankle. He is the SWC's leading passer—now out for the season because of a jarring tackle he was given in the Florida State game.

Also out next Saturday, but due back for starting action probably for the Texas A&M game Oct. 23—the Bears are idle the week after the Arkansas tilt—is end Harlan Lane, with a severely strained ankle. He is the conference's leading pass receiver.

Texas Tech, still breathing deeply from the scare it got from Texas A&M Saturday before winning 20-16, loosened up Monday but did little hard work in preparation for TCU. The varsity worked out in sweat pants under the lights.

That means the Twins will do nothing in the way of changing their infield in an attempt to thwart the base-running speed of their World Series opponents.

4 Bears Out
Four other Bear starters will miss the Arkansas game because of less serious injuries, suffered also in the Florida State game.

Quarles is a 240-pound tackle and the heaviest man on the Pampa squad while Harper, the Pampa field general, is 165-pounds of scrambling quarterback. Quarles has been probably the Harvester's most dependable offensive lineman and has come back strong this year after laying out of football his junior year.

That means the Twins will do nothing in the way of changing their infield in an attempt to thwart the base-running speed of their World Series opponents.

The only decent thing to do would be to declare Baylor a disaster area.

University of Texas coach Darrell Royal said Monday he had four players on the doubtful list for the Longhorns match with the Oklahoma Sooners Saturday. One of the quartet is All-America Tommy Nobis, who injured a knee in the 27-12 win over Indiana. The others are tailback Phil Harris, wingback Les Derrick and guard John Elliott.

Quarles lettered in his sophomore season. Harper is the 3-4-A scoring leader with three touchdowns and a two-point conversion. He is also Pampa's second leading round gainer only to Joey Roden.

That means the Twins will do nothing in the way of changing their infield in an attempt to thwart the base-running speed of their World Series opponents.

Royal said he was displeased with the way the Longhorns looked en route to the win and especially was worried about the defense.

Speculation immediately began as to who would replace Sisler as manager of the Reds. Most mentioned was Don Heffner, a coach with the San Francisco Giants and one-time manager of the Reds' San Diego farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Horns Defense Will Prove Real Test for Pampa

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
When Pampa meets Caprock Thursday night in Amarillo the Harvesters will hope to extend a winning streak of their own instead of trying to break one of somebody else's.

Pampa and the Longhorns will be meeting for the third time in the history of the two schools and thus far Pampa has won both previous meetings.

Pampa won 14-7 in 1963 and 30-25 last year. Based on play in 1965 Caprock would have to be considered the favorite.

The Longhorns have the first winning record in the school's history, 2-1-1 and probably the best defense that coach John McGuire has ever had.

Last year the Horns were 3-7 and held three district foes to single touchdown victories.

The Longhorns return more lettermen, 17, than any team in the district. Two of them are two-year lettermen.

They have one of the district's top ground gainers in fullback Tom Maxwell, a 175-pound senior with two years of football beneath his belt.

Maxwell churned for 122 yards on 24 carries against Borger, beaten 14-6 by the Horns.

Pampa has the district's top scorer in quarterback Roy Harper, who has three touchdowns and one conversion for 29 points.

Pampa will go into the game with a 1-3 season record and 1-1 district mark while Caprock is 1-1 also in league play.

Twins to Play It Honest And Not Water Down Infield

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (UPI)—The Minnesota Twins are going to play it honest in the World Series opening Wednesday.

The Los Angeles Dodgers. This will be something new to Los Angeles' "gang of thieves." Because of their unexcelled base-running heroics, the Dodgers have had to put up with a lot of obstructions.

Some clubs water the infield heavily, put a base of sand on the basepaths or slant the base-lines so that bunted balls roll foul instead of staying in fair territory when they play the Dodgers.

"That's the way the boss wants it," Dick Ericson the Twins' head groundskeeper, disclosed. "So that's the way it's going to be."

The boss is Sam Mele, the manager of the American League champions.

There will be no gimmicks like that in Metropolitan Stadium (the home of the Twins), Ericson promised.

That means the Twins will do nothing in the way of changing their infield in an attempt to thwart the base-running speed of their World Series opponents.

Sisler Says No To Front Office Job

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Dick Sisler, member of a prominent baseball family who was fired after his first full season of managing the Cincinnati Reds, indicated today he would rather pilot another team than remain in the front office here.

Griffith Stops Briton in Eighth

LONDON (UPI)—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith, taking charge in the fourth round, battered Harry Scott so badly Monday night that the Briton did not come out for the eighth round of their scheduled 10-round non-title bout.

Speculation immediately began as to who would replace Sisler as manager of the Reds. Most mentioned was Don Heffner, a coach with the San Francisco Giants and one-time manager of the Reds' San Diego farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Griffith, who went into the ring at 154 pounds and weathered a heavy Scott attack in the early rounds, was awarded a technical knockout in the seventh.

Sisler had just finished piloting the Reds to a disappointing fourth place finish after keeping them in contention for the National League pennant right up to the last week of the season.

The 27-year-old champion from the Virgin Islands used relentless punches to the body and speed to wear down his opponent, who weighed 160 pounds.

De Witt offered Sisler another job in the Reds' organization, but Sisler said later he certainly would accept another major league managerial post if one was offered him.

Rambling With Red
RON CROSS

Memo to Pampa Harvesters:
Yessir, fellows there are four quarters to every football game, you've got to play all four of 'em.
Actually the game with Tascosa wasn't as bad as the score might indicate. But for four plays Pampa could have a 2-2 season and 2-0 conference mark.

To Many If's

Pampa's defense looked better Friday night than it has all year, striking out four plays, a pass interception, a fumble, a 82 yard pass and an 82 yard run.

The Harvesters again won the 'second half' 14-6. The defense stiffened time and time again to quell Tascosa threats or to keep them from threatening.

There were two bright spots in the Harvesters loss to the Rebels.

One was the running of sophomore David chaub, who was brought up from the B team when fullback Ted Heiskell was hurt.

Schaub carried seven times for 42 yards for a six yards per carry average, the best among Pampa rushers for the night.

And the continued scrambling of quarterback Roy Harper, who does not cease to amaze this writer.

Harper will scare you to death, especially on fourth down when he is supposed to pass and hasn't done it yet.

But he always seems to find running room and time and time again picks up valuable yardage.

And too he plays it smart down near the goal line by taking the ball in himself instead of taking a chance on a fumble by handing off.

Take nothing away from this senior who improves every game and is quite a passer when he has time to throw.

Horns on Defense

In the two games played by Pampa and Caprock the Harvesters, Thursday night foe, Pampa has won both games, but the Horns may change all that this week.

Pampa won the first in '63, 14-7 and last year downed the Longhorns, 30-25.

The Longhorns got off to a great start this year and came up with a rock-ribbed defensive unit.

The Horns are 2-1-1 for the season and 1-1 in league play, having lost last week to Lubbock.

The Horns had given up but one touchdown before the Lubbock affair last Friday night. They return 17 lettersmen, two of their players having two football letters.

We stand corrected by Amarillo Sports Editor Putt Powell.

Powell let us know that the Sandies series with Pampa stands 12-8, but just over the past 20 years.

The two old foes actually started playing in 1921. Anybody remember the score of the first game?

The Sandies sneaked one out, 47-0.

Amarillo has won 29, lost 11 and three of the games have ended in ties. The ties were 9-9 and 3-3, both in 1922 and 14-14 in 1959.

The biggest margin of victory for Amarillo was the first game played and the closest Amarillo win was, 2-0 in 1930.

Pampa won 28-0 in '60 and 15-14 in '61 and 7-6 in '62. The longest Sandie win string was from 1932 to 1940 and Pampa won five-in-a row from 1949 through 1953.

CHARLEY HAS A HEART

He Sure Likes To Eat, Cook

By TOM TIEDE
NEW YORK (NEA) — A 11 baseball was shocked early this season when Charlie Dresen had a heart attack. Who would have figured the old boy had a heart, anyway?

The word was he was all stomach from the waist to the neck.

It is close to the truth to say that the Detroit Tiger manager, 46 years a part of the game, cannot get along without baseball or food. And if they ever found a way to barbecue a ball, he would never leave the park at all.

Next to managing he likes to eat. Or is it the other way around? He is the game's gourmet. Sauerbraten sends him. He holds the major league record for crunching crab fingers. If he loses a ball game that's one thing, but don't anybody ever loose up his lobster fra diavolo.

Anyway if the old ticker gives him any bother again, he may just cut the thing out himself and fry it in wine.

Says he: "I lost about 15 pounds in the hospital and still haven't put it back on. So's I got an excuse now. Skinny people can get sick, you know."

"Boy, the places I know. One thing about baseball, you get to travel around to the towns where the food's wonderful. It's one reason I like the major leagues. It's the steak circuit. The minors are for hamburger eaters."

"Let's see, now, there's Jimmy the Greek's place in Manhattan. You go into the kitchen and pick out what you like. I used to take Alex Kampouris when he played third base for me (Cincinnati) and we never left the kitchen all night."

"In Houston it's the San Jacinto Inn, great for oysters on the stick. Baltimore has Obrychi's Crab House or Brooks Robinson's place. Chicago is like New York; there are a lot of good spots — Agostino's, Red Star, Stockyard Inn. Then in Minneapolis. . ."

Dresen's Directory of Delectable Dinners, of course, is not confined to restaurants. He rates his own oven at over 300 and treats — if that's the word — his hall club to aftergame feasts that would curl Betty Crocker's recipe book.

And fussy Aunt Jemima is more tolerant of mice in her cupboards. Once Dresen conceived a mess of chili and sent it down to Detroit's private stadium restaurant where the new men eat. Writers had their choice between the regular chef's pot roast and Charlie's chili.

"Which ya want?" asked the chap behind the counter.

"Pot roast, please," said a visitor.

"Okay, but gimme your name."

"My name?"

"Year. Mr. Dresen wants the name of anyone who's passing up his chili."

Since the heart attack, Dresen admits he's slowed down some. He nibbles at food half the week. "so I can feast up the other." Chili is too hot for his Pacemaker, so he concentrates on lighter things "like linguina and lobster sauce."

But diets as such depress him. Better cakes and ale for the moment, he figures, than crackers and fruit juice forever.

ADD FERRARO
NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Yankees Monday added third baseman Mike Ferraro to next season's roster and sent outfielder Arturo Lopez and catcher Doc Edwards to Toledo of the International League.

A $12,000 PRODUCT

Change Made at Pitt

By SANDY PADWE
PITTSBURGH (NEA) — Any business who couldn't give away a $12,000 product would consider himself in trouble.

Which brings us to the case at the University of Pittsburgh and director of athletics Frank Carver and football coach John Miceliolen.

There was a time — not long ago — when the University of Pittsburgh, along with Notre Dame and Southern California, symbolized the big time in intercollegiate football.

This was Jock Sutherland's school where the best football players in Western Pennsylvania (and its environs) made the single wing a frightening thing.

This was the school that played the three 0-0 ties with Fordham in the late 1930s, games considered by many as all-time greats.

And it was the school that produced All-Americans like Marshall Goldberg, Joe Schmidt and Mike Ditka.

It also was the school that year after year refused to shrink from the toughest schedules in the country.

But now as the 1965 season approaches, there is a great change under way at the University of Pittsburgh.

The change — for the university's image — is definitely a good one. But for football and the type schedule Pitt plays, it means trouble.

The problem revolves around the incoming freshman class. Only 16 football scholarships — valued at $12,000 each over a three-year period — were accepted. But the university had 25 to give.

"I'm not too worried now," Carver said. But if it becomes a trend in the next few years... then I'll really be worried.

"I wish I knew the trouble. Then I could do something about it. Maybe it's the university's financial troubles (the school is deep in debt and its chancellor resigned due to the financial furor), maybe we just did a poor job recruiting this year, or maybe it's because we haven't been winning as much lately."

Carver, a man of slight build with a warm smile and personality, always has been more than candid in his discussions of Pitt's athletic policies and college policies in general.

About recruiting he once said: "There should be a more intelligent way to get athletes, but I don't know what it would be."

One factor Carver hasn't mentioned is that many of Pitt's current recruiting problems are directly connected with higher academic standards and tougher entrance requirements.

"Yes," Carver said, "we're in an academic class now with Tulane and Vanderbilt. And our schedules in the future will refect it. We've got games with Tulane coming up and we've talked with Stanford.

"The whole thing to remember in this discussion is the financial spread between private institutions and state institutions. In a private school like Pitt, or Tulane you lose money on individual students when you look at the overall cost of running the university.

"But in the state schools that's not so. There is always state money.

"This is forcing the private schools to reassess many things and in the case of athletics at Pitt it means that more private schools may be on our future schedules."

The change should be of interest to the Pitt alumni who may get a little less in football, but a lot more in the classroom.

"I wish I knew the trouble. Then I could do something about it. Maybe it's the university's financial troubles (the school is deep in debt and its chancellor resigned due to the financial furor), maybe we just did a poor job recruiting this year, or maybe it's because we haven't been winning as much lately."

Carver, a man of slight build with a warm smile and personality, always has been more than candid in his discussions of Pitt's athletic policies and college policies in general.

About recruiting he once said: "There should be a more intelligent way to get athletes, but I don't know what it would be."

One factor Carver hasn't mentioned is that many of Pitt's current recruiting problems are directly connected with higher academic standards and tougher entrance requirements.

"Yes," Carver said, "we're in an academic class now with Tulane and Vanderbilt. And our schedules in the future will refect it. We've got games with Tulane coming up and we've talked with Stanford.

"The whole thing to remember in this discussion is the financial spread between private institutions and state institutions. In a private school like Pitt, or Tulane you lose money on individual students when you look at the overall cost of running the university.

"But in the state schools that's not so. There is always state money.

"This is forcing the private schools to reassess many things and in the case of athletics at Pitt it means that more private schools may be on our future schedules."

The change should be of interest to the Pitt alumni who may get a little less in football, but a lot more in the classroom.

"I'm not too worried now," Carver said. But if it becomes a trend in the next few years... then I'll really be worried.

"I wish I knew the trouble. Then I could do

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Our Own Worst Enemy

On occasion, we have been known to observe that, when it comes to opposing socialism and standing four-square for freedom and the market place, private enterprise is, at times, its own worst enemy. We have also been known to occasionally oppose political government and what it is doing to all of us. On this occasion, however, we are going to take a particular private enterprise to task while at the same time, applauding a governmental proposal. How's that for a switch?

News Item from Denver reported: "The Colorado Contractors Association Inc., has sent to Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor its protest against any plan to close the Bureau of Public Roads Region 9 office in Denver."

"Our objection is based on the belief that the proposed economy of operation will never be realized, Pierre DuBois, managing director of the association, said in a letter to Connor. "We were told that approximately 40 administrative personnel will be affected. The federal aid inspectors, the Colorado division office and some of the Region 9 construction staff for direct BPR work will probably remain in Denver."

"If these facts are basically correct, the proposed closing of BPR Region 9 office, in our opinion, create more problems for contractors, the highway departments and other BPR offices than any savings will justify. In this case we feel the savings will be very small if at all."

There, in a nutshell, you have a glaring example of why and how socialism continues to grow and expand in this nation. We are all against socialism and the further spread of governmental power as long as it is someone else being "benefited." But, when it comes to a case of our own "ox being gored," that is entirely another matter. "We are all for reducing the size and power of government but begin the reducing operation somewhere else." And government grows and grows!

Here, in the case at hand, in one of those rare instances where government officials are apparently trying to economize and save the taxpayers money, we have opposing the proposal, not another governmental agency, which would be understandable, but a private enterprise organization acting against its own long-range best interest.

The excuse given for such a stand? "... that the proposed economy of operation will never be realized" and that "... the savings will be very small, if any at all." How do we know what can be accomplished until we do it at least try?

Certainly, the closing down of a tax eating governmental office "will create problems." And if this nation is going to retain any semblance of freedom, it is about time that we began individually accepting some of those problems instead of turning them over to government to solve.

This time, we are on the government's side!

Travel Now, See Later

Well, the 1966 automobiles are hitting the highways (and anything else that gets in their way) and it is obvious that the big break-through in modern motoring has practically been achieved.

It is now possible to drive almost anywhere without seeing anything or doing anything but sit perfectly still and try to keep awake.

You can now enjoy television in the rear seat of your car and thus avoid the boredom of looking out the window at the scenery.

You can, of course, have air conditioning and escape contamination from what used to be known as fresh air.

You can have power steering, power brakes, power windows, power antenna, power trunk opening. And side mirrors which can be adjusted from inside the car, thus saving the exertion of stretching out the arm—a hardship once borne by hardy pioneers.

You have stereo radio with A.M. and FM, and you can tune in by merely pushing a button. You can also have a stereo tape recorder.

All this lovely sound can, depending on which school of thought you accept, help keep you awake or help put you to sleep.

There is also cruise control, which saves the physical labor of keeping your foot on the accelerator and the mental strain of thinking about speed limits.

You can have an electric eye which automatically equips you with inborn courtesy by dimming your headlights when another car approaches. (So far, though, the stupid thing can't tell the difference between a headlight and a neon beer sign.)

You can have venetian blinds to shut out the sun and a rear window defogger to let it in. You can have tires which never go flat, and there is hope they may devise similar protection for your pocketbook.

If affluence which enables you to have these simple creature comforts has also added to your waistline, a tilt steering wheel is available. And if you have acquired such conveniences without sufficient prosperity to absorb them, beautiful, convenient terms can be arranged.

You can, in short, now go from coast to coast and hardly realize you have left home. Providing, of course, that along with all these accessories you have acquired enough judgment to drive sensibly.

This, alas, is something the driver must still manage himself.

Tough, eh?

Bear Market in Horses

The employment situation is good any way you look at it. One way to look at it is by means of the idiot tube in the living room.

This summer, unemployment lines — as far as horses were concerned — dropped to negligible numbers, reports the American Humane Association. In June alone, nearly 1,000 horses appeared in front of television cameras shooting a crop of oats — new and old — for the upcoming season.

The AHA is in a position to know because one of its representatives is present at every filming involving animals to make sure the creatures, whether they are horses, dogs or ocelots (there's one of those in a new series) receive proper treatment and handling.

This year, in fact, marks the 25th anniversary of this supervisory service, which began with an agreement with motion picture producers and was later extended to include the television industry.

So next time you see a red-skin and his mount go down before the guns of the U.S. Cavalry, don't worry about the horse. He's all right.

Wit and Whimsy

The hostess of a large party, rather proud of her voice, sang "Cary Me Back to Old Virginia" in high and throaty tones. She was touched to notice that a distinguished white-haired man bowed his head and wept quietly as the last notes floated over the room.

As soon as she could, she went over to him and said, "Hostess — Pardon me, but are you a Virginian?"

Elderly Man — No, madam, I am only a musician!

Right To Work: A Moral Issue

Perhaps the most interesting aspect of the union - Johnson administration campaign to repeal section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits state right to work laws, is the quiet way in which advocates of repeal have worked. In the case of Medicare and the Civil Rights Act, the Johnson administration sought to gain every inch of newspaper coverage and minute of television exposure. But this has not been the case with repeal of 14(b). On the contrary, the White House and the union bosses have endeavored to get their objective in Congress with the least possible public attention.

Why is this the situation? It would seem that the answer is that both Mr. Johnson and the union bosses, to whom he is paying a political debt by supporting repeal, knew that they don't have a popular cause. Indeed they must realize that the more the American people learn about repeal of 14(b) the more they will be opposed to such action.

Certainly, repeal is in no sense whatsoever the result of any groundswell of public opinion. Even those Americans who are members of labor unions at this time are not demanding repeal. The only people who want repeal are the political managers of the union movement in the United States. They are insistent upon repeal because they want to have total control over the nation's working force. Moreover, they realize that their own position of domination is endangered by the existence of right to work laws in nineteen states. They know that these laws are an example to working people elsewhere in the nation of the freedom they could enjoy — if their states had such laws.

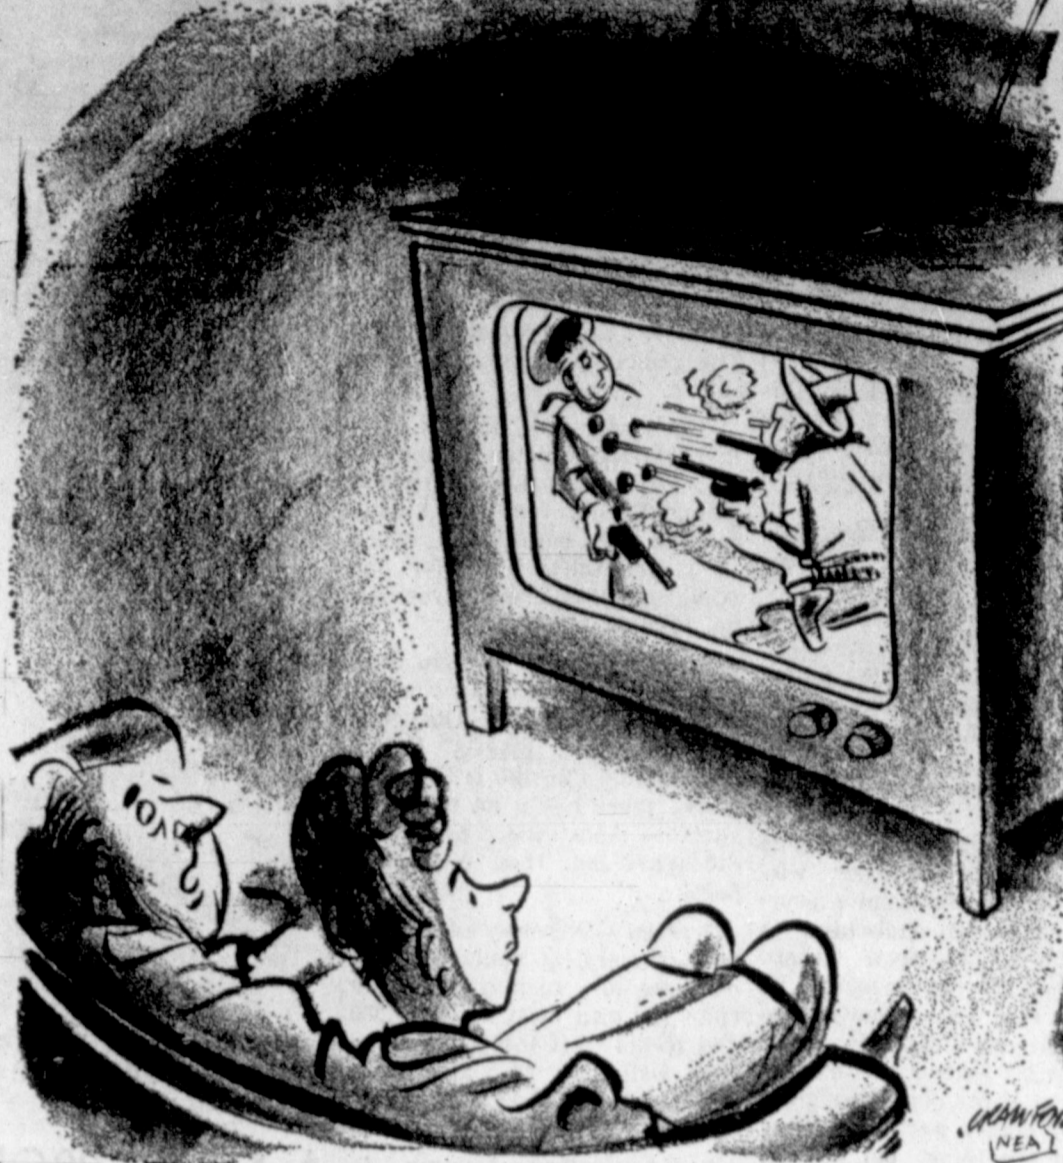

It is a fact that unfreedom always is menaced by freedom, wherever it exists. Unquestionably, millions of Americans in states that lack right to work laws would like to have the freedom of choice exemplified by the 19 states with such laws. And the union bosses know that these living examples of freedom of choice may stir working people in other states to take legislative action to obtain right to work laws. This is an old, old story in human relations and government. It is why autocracy feels itself menaced by a republican style of government. It is why dictators everywhere dislike parliamentary government.

The union bosses who are crying out for invalidation of state right to work laws are prompted by their deep concern for the future of Big Unionism. They are aware of the declining interest in unionism in this country, as the working force gains in prosperity and the middle class becomes bigger each year. They want to move right now to tighten their control over working people, and to incorporate in their political machines these working people who have exercised their right to work without paying tribute to a union organization. They see in repeal of section 14(b) an easy way of strengthening their grip, but they are scared that the American people will become indignant at this new power grab inherent in the repeal effort.

Earlier in the year, it seemed as though this power grab would be accomplished — almost in the dark. But a number of courageous senators have turned a bright light on the attempted rustling of people's rights by the Johnson administration. They have determined to talk over the issues in the American people clearly understand what is involved in repeal of 14(b) and bring pressure against the politicians who favor scrapping a citizen's right to work.

There are many things before the public, and people do not always immediately grasp what is at stake in a particular piece of legislation. This is often the task of responsible national legislators to dig into a bill and to expose latent political evils. In the effort to repeal 14(b) members of Congress who have a conscience about the rights of their fellow countrymen, can find cause for moral outrage. The unions want to strip away important rights cherished by millions of American working men and women. The unions must be denied this objective, or the cause of liberty in the United States will have suffered a severe setback. The right to work must be extended to other Americans, not eliminated.

American Policy Paving Way for Red Takeover in Santo Domingo, U.S. Officers Warn

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — U.S. military authorities in Santo Domingo are bitterly complaining that American policy, unless drastically changed, will pave the way for an eventual Communist take over in the Dominican Republic.

In private discussions with visiting U.S. businessmen and confidential messages to members of Congress, these military officers are warning that only the Communist-infested rebels are gaining from the backstage efforts of U.S. officials to remove the Dominican Armed Forces from a power of influence on that strife-torn island. They urge that immediate pressure be brought on President Johnson to abandon this controversial policy before the U.S. supported provisional government of Dr. Hector Garcia-Goody carries out plans to force present Dominican military leaders from their positions of power.

These U.S. military officers, including a general, are desperately seeking to block the removal of Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, the strong anti-Communist head of the Dominican Armed Forces.

Their emergency reports reveal that President Garcia-Goody is under extreme pressure from rebel supporters of ex-President Juan Bosch and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, presidential troubleshooter, to replace the Dominican military leader.

The methods being used by Ambassador Bunker and other U.S. officials to try to oust Commodore Caminero are described as "very similar to those employed against General Elias Wessily Wessily before he was forcefully exiled." It is charged that, as in General Wessily's case, an unsuccessful attempt was made by U.S. undercover agents to bribe Commodore Caminero.

The complaining U.S. military officers argue that it is nothing less than suicidal for our officials to use diplomatic, economic and military pressure to oust these Dominican military leaders while permitting several hundred Communists, trained in guerrilla warfare in Cuba, to remain unmolested on the island.

ANOTHER CUBA — Under the tight policy limitations the White House has placed on U.S. military forces assigned to the Organization of American States, no U.S. effort can be made to expel or even check on the whereabouts of these deadly armed Red terrorists, U.S. forces are barred from entering the rebel-held zone in Santo Domingo.

According to the complaining U.S. military officers, a number of these "professional" Communist guerrillas are on the rebel payroll, which is entirely financed by U.S. economic aid. These Castro-trained agents are in one instance using U.S. funds to train an army of guerrillas and saboteurs from students in the OAS-protected sanctuary.

"There has never been a situation quite like this in all history," one U.S. officer told a Washington exporter. "The military and economic might of the U.S. is being used to protect and finance Communists preparing to take over a country. This is the policy that Congress should be debating and not the belated question of whether President Johnson was right in intervening. From what I have read in the papers here, the congressional debate appears to be serving as a smoke screen to keep the American people from finding out what is really going on here right now."

SUPPORTING EVIDENCE — Representative H. R. Gross, one of the legislators in contact with these military sources, reports that a high-ranking State Department official has privately confirmed that U.S. economic aid is being used to pay rebel forces in the Dominican Republic.

The Iowa Republican also reveals that a defector from the rebel forces of Col. Francisco A. Caamano has voluntarily given U.S. intelligence authorities details of his training in Communist Cuba for subversion and guerrilla warfare and of his role in the revolt.

The defector is Francisco Antonio Lendor-Sanabia, 27-year-old former Dominican student, who joined the Movimiento Popular Dominicano (Marxist-Leninist party) during a trip to Cuba in 1963.

In a signed statement given U.S. intelligence authorities, according to Gross, Lendor-Sanabia reports:

"I was one of 31 Dominicans who left Dominican Republic for Cuba on July 20, 1963. We arrived in Havana via Panama and Mexico on July 26.

"We immediately began to be trained in guerrilla warfare. This included a very extensive course in armaments, to disarm and arm 500 pound bombs and handle hand grenades; the failures and triumphs of guerrilla operations based on experiences of the Cuban revolution; the points of view of certain personalities in the U.S. State Department and the Dominican government."

POPE PAUL — The Central Intelligence Agency has given President Johnson a glowing estimate of Pope Paul VI as a force for good in the world.

It states, "Pope Paul's visit to the Holy Land and the reception accorded him by leaders and people of other churches has further spurred the ecumenical movement and contributed to the growing feeling that progress without radical change is possible not only in Europe but within all of Christendom."

The intelligence report concludes that, "Pope Paul has helped give the Roman Catholic Church a new image, one of liberalism and progressivism and thus reduced the appeal of the prophets of revolution."

WARD CANNEL

In Search of an Artifact

NEW YORK (NEA) — A friend of ours who works for a newspaper in Caracas phoned several weeks ago to say that he was in New York to cover the opening of the United Nations, and would be in touch as soon as he got settled.

But what with one little war and another, we never did get to see him until lunch the other afternoon.

It was, he explained, his last day in New York before going back to Caracas and he wondered if we could suggest any items he might be able to take home as gifts for friends and relatives.

"Gift items?" we repeated, trying to recall the things we usually bring home from foreign assignments. "You mean something like perfume or brandy?"

"Exactly so," he said. "Only it might not be wise to bring perfume or brandy. Everybody knows I went to New York. It would just start trouble if they thought I went to Paris, too."

"Well," we said helpfully, "what about wallets and change purses and so on? Not very romantic, perhaps, but useful."

"I don't know," he said. "Isn't a wallet the sort of thing one is supposed to bring back from Italy or Argentina?"

We had to admit that he had a point there. He also scored one point each against our suggestions of whisky, cameras, transistor radios and linen handkerchiefs.

If world travel teaches you any one thing, it is what you are supposed to bring back. So, under the circumstances, we decided not to suggest silver, lace, pewter, glass, ivory, tweeds, crystal, teak, cigars, furs, mahogany, watches, brocades, cutlery, cashmere or chocolate.

"Listen," we said, "how about getting some tie pins and earrings and letting it go at that?"

"No," he said. "I may never get back up here again. I really think I should bring back something that is unquestionably typical of the United States."

Deep down, of course, we knew he was going to say that. But even with a head start, the only native artifact we could think of was a tractor. And after several minutes of further thought, the only other native artifact we could think of was another tractor.

Question Box

QUESTION: "Since Freedom Newspapers contend that their convictions led them to believe in a universal single standard of right, does it follow if the laws of nature are used as a guide or moral principle, that there is also a universal single standard of wrong or crime?"

ANSWER: Of course, a single standard of right is based on natural law, or the laws of God, rather than civil laws or laws made by man. Laws made by man (civil laws) frequently are full of discrepancies and are out of harmony with the single standard of right. That also applies to a single standard of crime.

It is our belief that if there is a universal single standard of right, there must also be a universal single standard of wrong or crime.

To be concrete, our single standard of right is where every person respects the property of every other person, and his most important property is his life and all he produces or gets on a voluntary basis.

On the other hand, a universal single standard of crime, according to natural law or God's law, is not respecting the rights of every other individual to the use of their property in the way that will give them the most satisfaction as long as they respect the equal rights of every other individual. In other words, it could be reduced to the single standard that no one has a right to steal the property of others, which includes their lives and derivatives.

If anyone can point out an exception to this conclusion, we would appreciate having it pointed out. We are always glad when somebody helps us straighten out our convictions if they are in error. The columns are open.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

THE PEACE TRAP

A group of ministers, with a few laymen, calling themselves the Clergymen's Emergency Committee of Viet Nam, uses a full page advertisement in the New York Times to plead for a conference... to reconcile the interests of the National Liberation Front and the government of South Viet Nam and arrange reunification of South and North Viet Nam as they may determine, with adequate international guarantees against outside military or political interference.

These well-meaning clergymen are asking for the impossible. The National Liberation Front and the government of South Viet Nam can no more be reconciled than acid with alkali. The National Liberation Front is not seeking peace with South Viet Nam; it is seeking conquest and it will not be deflected from that purpose as long as it thinks there is hope of success. The Liberation Front will not agree to the independence of South Viet Nam. Its purpose is to communicate that country and reunite it with North Viet Nam. All the talk in the world around all the conference tables that might be set up will not change this basic determination on the part of the Communists. They simply will not be reconciled to accept freedom and Capitalism. If convinced that they cannot win the war in South Viet Nam, they would join in setting up some sort of so-called neutral regime. The purpose of that action, however, would be merely to bide their time until they felt strong enough to renew their efforts to communicate and annex South Viet Nam.

Their ideologists have told us over and over that when you gets rough they will use conferences, agreements and treaties as an alternative means of gaining their ends. They will take one step backward to prepare for two steps forward. These clergymen propose to set up some sort of international paper guarantee, and then to remove all "outside military or political intervention." After quiet was restored, the foreign forces gone and the people had largely forgotten the war in Viet Nam, infiltration from the north would be reactivated and the process of communizing South Viet Nam renewed. In the light of history, why do intelligent men doubt this fact?

Communism will not change. Its purpose is conquest, the death of freedom, free government and Capitalism. It seeks its goal by military or non-military means, whichever appears to be the most effective at the time. We have seen this demonstrated in many ways during the past thirty years. The West has lost heavily because it has assumed the the Communists were honest in seeking solutions to international problems. That is not true. They are not seeking solutions to problems. They are seeking conquest and the destruction of Western ideology. The more we dally and temporize with them, the more our strength is dissipated while theirs is being enhanced. There is only one possible end to that course of action — the end of freedom and the complete triumph of totalitarian ideology.

What they were, we do not know. As things turned out, we got held up in traffic and arrived at the airport just in time to see him walking out to the plane.

He was carrying two of the biggest shopping bags we had ever seen. And while it was impossible to say for sure what was in them, for a minute there we would have sworn they were filled with rolls of toilet tissue. In color. Of course.

And with that, we went back to the office and he got off to buy a few trinkets to take back as gifts.

Welch Says 'Country One Big Insane Asylum Today'

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, said Monday night that the civil rights movement and various government programs were indicative of this nation's "insanity." "Not only is the country one vast insane asylum today, but they are letting the worst inmates run the place," Welch told a group of about 500 persons.

Helps Solve 3 Biggest FALSE TEETH Worries and Problems

A little FASTEETH sprinkled on your dentures does all this: (1) Holds false teeth more firmly in place; (2) Lets you bite up to 25% harder without discomfort; (3) Lets you eat up to 25% harder without discomfort. FASTEETH Powder is alkaline (non-acid). Won't stain. No gummy, sticky, pasty taste or feeling! Avoid embarrassment. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

United States' "insanity" the civil rights movement, foreign aid, pornography and such government programs as urban renewal. He described the Korean and Viet Nam conflicts as "sham," play-acting wars where both sides are directed by the same influences. "The civil rights movement, Welch said, "has been planned . . . promoted and controlled by the Communists for Communist purposes." He said however, that 95 per cent of all persons supporting the movement do so for idealistic reasons. "If 20 per cent of the American people realize that the civil rights movement is part of the communist conspiracy, it would collapse in three months," Welch said.

Accident Funeral Delayed By Accident

TEXARKANA, Tex. (UPI) — The hearse carrying the body of a 63-year-old gunshot victim to Macedonia Cemetery Monday never got there. Burial was postponed after a truck jack-knifed into the funeral procession, killing two mourners. Six other persons were injured in the accident and another wreck caused by the first accident on Texas Highway 59 about six miles south of Texarkana. Plans to bury Wallace Gullidge, who died Friday in an accidental shooting, were postponed. The first accident resulted when a motorist stopped in the opposite lane of traffic upon seeing the funeral procession. Highway patrolman Paul Boone said a truck driver jammed on the brakes to avoid that car and his big tractor trailer jackknifed into the third and fourth cars behind the hearse. Marsha Lynn Otwell, 16, granddaughter of Gullidge, was killed instantly. Her uncle, Clint Otwell, 31, driver of the third car, also was killed. Then a gasoline truck slowed for the wreckage and Mrs. Martha Cox of Tyler, was injured when her car rammed the back of the truck. Seriously hurt in the first accident were the truck driver, Billie Jeff Robbins of Hoxie, Ark., and Mrs. Lucy Milke of Texarkana, supervisor of schools for Miller County. Also injured were Mrs. Anita Otwell, wife of the dead driver, Mrs. Otto Triplett, 39, and Mrs. Bessie Fraser, 41, all of Texarkana. The highway patrolman said about 15 vehicles were in the slow-moving funeral procession. It had left from services for

Progress Made Against Ugliness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, reporting on the federal attack on nationwide ugliness, says "concrete progress" is being made to improve and preserve the beauty of America. Johnson made the remarks Sunday in a statement accompanying a report on administration beautification efforts in cities and suburbs, highways and countryside and streams. In his statement, the President noted his concern for the fate of the nation's natural beauties in his State of the Union message and repeated it at the White House conference on natural beauty and "in other messages, in speeches and in great detail in much of my correspondence." Read The News Classified Ads
