IN VIET NAM ACCIDENT

Paratroopers Die

SAIGON (UPI) — Six U.S. paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division were killed and three wounded when caught in an artillery barrage from their own lines, an American military spokesman disclosed today.

The accident happened Thursday in the Song Am valley 12 miles northwest of Qui Nhon and 280 miles north of Saigon. The spokesman said the paratroopers were members of a squad that inadvertently moved into the line of fire.

The victims were part of the airborne division's 327th Infantry Battalion.

U.S. Air Force A1E Skyraider planes today slashed out of the skies in dive bomb attacks on Viet Cong battalions in jungles 25 miles west-northwest of Saigon.

Details of the attacks were sketchy and a U.S. spokesman said only that they were still underway shortly before dark today. The area is on the fringe of the Communist dominated "Iron Triangle" sanctuary.

Earlier, B52 bombers from Guam struck a suspected guerrilla storage area in Tay Ninh Province, 45 miles north-west of Saigon.

It was the 55th raid of the war by the eight-jet Strategic Air Command (SAC) bombers. U.S. Navy planes from 7th Fleet carriers also carried out five rocket and bomb missions over Communist North Viet Nam today.

Security around U.S. installations in Viet Nam can never be improved to the point where they are immune from Communist sneak attacks, a U.S. military official said today.

"As far as we know at the moment, there are no loopholes in the security at the airfields," the official said, "but no matter how tight it is, the Viet Cong will always be able to set up a mortar or two and lob shells in."

The statement came as an investigation began into the Viet Cong suicide squad and mortar foray Thursday against two U.S. air bases in which the Reds destroyed or damaged 47 helicopters and planes.

It also was disclosed that Soviet-built surface-to-air (SAM) missiles positioned around the Communist North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi have downed their sixth American plane. The plane, a Navy aircraft, was lost within the past two days but military authorities declined to give the exact location or other details.

To date, 116 U.S. planes are known to have been shot down over North Viet Nam and 94 of the crewmen either killed or captured. U.S. Pacific Commander Adm. Ulysses S. Sharp has noted that the ratio of planes down to sorties flown in Viet Nam is greater than that of U.S. aircraft losses in World War II.

More than 300 combat sorties were flown by U.S. and Vietnamese planes Thursday in both North and South Viet Nam. The planes took to the air after the sneak Communist attacks on an annex of the Da Nang airbase and the Chu Lai airstrip.

The Russians tried, and succeeded to a degree, to "rendezvous" two human beings in separate capsules launched into orbit two years ago. The participants were Vostok 5 cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky and Vostok 6 cosmonette Valentina Tereshkova, who reportedly came within three miles of each other.

But Schirra Thursday dismissed the Soviet feat as a "passing acquaintance" in space. "It's sort of like missing the whole city of Houston."

The veteran spaceman, oldest of America's flying astronauts and bidding to make his second journey into orbit, indicated he would try to bring the Gemini ship to within 100 feet — and probably much less — of his buddies aboard Gemini 7.

The state would participate in the project when the city has provided costs of right of way, curb and gutter, and drainage.

Last night's meeting in the Palm Room at City Hall was called to ask property owners for right of way options in order to better determine costs of the proposed highway improvements.

Property owners were asked to study the proposals and told that options could be executed at any time at the city manager's office.

A similar meeting with property owners on SH 273 on S. Cuyler and S. Barnes streets was held Monday night.

Conner also stated that the police department will not tolerate any vandalism or property damage. He said anyone found defacing property will be charged.

Project Could Revise Space Record Books

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The three ingredients for man's most daring adventure into space are four eager astronauts, a White House okay and an idea once dismissed as "not logical."

The fiery unfolding of this spectacular could begin by Dec. 8.

And if its ambitious hopes are fulfilled, America's $1.35 billion Gemini program will present the nation with a twofold Christmas present: a complete revision of the world's space record books and an undisputed lead in manned exploration of the cosmos.

The lead roles will be played by U.S. astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell, who will ride the Gemini 7 spaceship into orbit on a planned 14-day, 209-orbit trip around earth; and by fellow spacemen Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford, who will "chase" them in orbit.

The result, hopefully, will be an historic "formation flight" of four astronauts, piloting two spaceships barely a few feet apart as they zip around Earth at speeds of five miles per second.

For hours on end, the four spacemen will converse, take pictures and fly around each other 185 miles above earth.

The daring plan, evidently an attempt by the United States to offset the effects of a six-cosmonaut space voyage the Soviet Union is believed to be planning, was revealed Thursday in a stunning announcement from the White House.

CROP Calling Set for Tonight

Volunteers from almost every Pampa church will go trick or treating tonight but for a different reason than most youngsters.

The volunteers will begin a house-to-house Halloween march at 5 p.m. to collect money for the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

The event is sponsored by the Pampa Ministerial Alliance and the Jaycees, which has recruited people from all Pampa churches. Wayne Pitner, local CROP chairman, pointed out that the CROP solicitation is in no way connected with UNICEF.

The donations will be turned over to the Church World Service for distribution to needy persons around the world.

Last year, some $900 was collected during the three hour march.

The CROP program is designed primarily to provide assistance, high protein foods, emergency supplies, agricultural tools, seed and other needy items, not otherwise available.

The contributions also provide for handling and distribution of government-donated foods of the Food for Peace program through the Share Our Substance appeal of the Church World Service. Since the U.S. commodity distribution program began in 1954, CROP has helped to send more than $64.4 million in government-donated foods through the SOS program.

Clear to partly cloudy weather with no important temperature changes was indicated through Saturday. The five-day forecast, out today, called for temperatures averaging up to 5 and 6 degrees above normal.

Parents of young trick and treaters can help insure their safety by making sure their child can see and be seen at night," Conner added. "Children should be instructed to remove their Halloween costume masks when crossing streets to avoid having their vision obstructed. If their costume is basically dark, a white scarf or handkerchief should be tied around an arm, or a white bag for their treat goodies should be given them to carry," the chief said.

Conner also stated that the police department will not tolerate any vandalism or property damage. He said anyone found defacing property will be charged.

TEXAS WEATHER

No Temp Changes Indicated

By United Press International
Generally fair weather graced Texas today, although a few clouds formed in western and southern sections. There was some early morning fog in patches over South Texas.

More mild afternoons and cool nights were forecast.

The mercury climbed to a high of 69 degrees yesterday and dipped to an overnight low of 44 early this morning in Pampa.

Overnight low readings ranged from 37 degrees at Daltart to 65 in downtown Corpus Christi. The U.S. Weather Bureau reported no rainfall in the state for the 24 hours ended at 6 a.m.

Property Owners Get Briefing on Highway Work

Approximately 30 property owners met with city officials and councilmen last night and heard an explanation of recommendations for the improvement of State Hwy. 152 and U.S. Hwy. 60 inside the city limits.

Persons at the session were owners of property on Alcock, E. and W. Brown and E. Frederic streets, all traversed by SH 152 and US 60.

Mayor Jim Nation and City Manager Jim White explained the proposed highway improvement projects and answered questions.

Improvements discussed were contained in recommendations of the mayor's Highway Study Committee, an 11-member citizens' group which conducted a three-month study and filed its report with the city commission several weeks ago.

The US 60 and SH 152 proposals would call for a 100-foot right of way with 84-foot pavement along the entire route.

The state would participate in the project when the city has provided costs of right of way, curb and gutter, and drainage.

TO FILL VIET NAM RANKS

Mental Standards Lowered for Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In another move to fill the ranks for Viet Nam, the Defense Department has lowered mental fitness standards to assure a uniform for most high school graduates who pass their physicals as draftees or volunteers.

The action, first since the Korean war, is designed to increase enlistments by 25,000 a year. And it could add 100,000 or more annually to the nation's draft potential.

Of the more than 100,000 men given pre-induction examinations each month, about 46 per cent currently are rejected—half for physical and half for mental reasons.

The new standards, announced Thursday, will go into effect Nov. 1 for draftees or those trying to enlist in the Army, Navy and Marines.

Currently, high school graduates must score above the lowest 30 per cent of those taking the Armed Forces Qualification Test to be accepted automatically for service. Those in the 10 to 30 per cent bracket can get in if they pass supplementary aptitude tests.

After Nov. 1, physically fit high school graduates will be accepted if they score above the lowest 15 per cent. No aptitude tests would be required.

As at present, the new system would exclude entirely anyone scoring among the lowest 10 per cent. High school graduates scoring between 10 and 15 per cent would be required to pass the backup tests.

Draftees would be accepted immediately only if they scored 31 per cent or better. Passage of the supplementary tests would be required if they scored between 10 and 30 per cent.

United Fund Office Issues First Report

The Pampa - Lefors United Fund campaign total stood at $10,135 today, following the first official report from the United Fund office.

All three major divisions in the drive to raise $77,000 for twelve participating agencies are now in full operation. The advance gift division went into action three weeks ago, the special gifts division a week later, and the general gifts group got underway Tuesday.

The total raised was expected to rise following another workers check-in scheduled for this afternoon in the Citizens Bank & Trust Co.

General campaign chairman, Mack Hiatt Jr., urged the volunteers to contact their prospects and complete their calls as soon as possible. He also asked donors to be generous in their giving. The United Fund is actually twelve drives in one, so the one gift should be a fair share, not just a gift.

The twelve agencies supported (See REPORT, Page 3)

public card-burnings in the past few weeks. Two more who promised they would do so at a New York rally Thursday postponed the "solemn ceremony," when, they said, the meeting became too uproarious.

But university authorities on some campuses — and federal investigative agencies, too, — were well aware of an increasingly organized movement to encourage young Americans to use every stratagem available to stay out of the armed forces.

A United Press International survey indicated that a quite small percentage of students on a minority of campuses was actively engaged in the camaigns opposing the Vietnamese war. And only some of these dissidents approved of "beat the draft."

Since the "end the war" demonstrations which blossomed on campuses and in cities last month, students at many universities have given impressive testimony that the great majority of them backs their nation's policies and are willing, if called, to fight for them. They did so through demonstrations, manifestoes and blood donation campaigns.

There was also evidence that, after the fervor of the demonstrations died, the anti-war zealots sometimes had to contend with apathy. At UCLA, the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), a national "new left" group which has been in the forefront of the anti-war campaign, reserved a hall seating 350 for a scheduled two-hour program. Thirty persons showed up and left after 50 minutes.

Such factors did little to discourage the plans of such groups as SDS to put draft-fighting on a national, systematic, organized basis.

The success, or failure, of their efforts may be impossible to measure for months, if ever. To date, the anti-war groups have managed to create uproar and attract attention far out of proportion to their numbers. Yet, despite the marches and protest demonstrations, enlistments into the armed services have been reported rising in many parts of the country.

Unperturbed, SDS staff workers at the organization's headquarters in a South Side Chicago slum were busy today collecting ballots. They planned next week to announce whether SDS chapters around the country want the national office to push the anti-draft campaign. The results were believed to be a foredrawn conclusion.

The next step, SDS staff member Richard Rothstein said, will be to persuade draft-age youths in both high schools and colleges to file as conscientious objectors (CO's).

In anticipation, SDS this week was printing leaflets which it hopes to distribute at booths outside induction centers. They asked, "Do you object to fighting? You may be legally and morally right" and "We're the guys who have to do the fighting... but are we allowed to ask questions?"

SDS plans to stay strictly within the law, confining itself largely to explaining how a man can claim CO status. According to an expert in the field, an SDS-stripe objector may find this no easy matter. Arlo Tatum of Philadelphia is the head of an organization called the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors (CCCO) and the guiding spirit behind a publication called the "Handbook for Conscientious Objectors." CCCO has printed 43,000 copies of the 110-page, 50-cent handbook, and is planning a ninth printing.

Tatum, Quaker-trained and a self-styled "religious agnostic," has served two terms in federal prison as a result of his personal opposition to the draft. His book is aimed at both conscientious objectors and "non-cooperators."

'Beat the Draft' Cult Dwindles to Fragment Groups

By United Press International
Plans moved forward today among a scattering of fragmented groups to aid and encourage young Americans to "beat the draft."

Draft card burning—the most extreme form of protest against induction into the armed forces — was yet to find much popularity among the young activists protesting the United States' war in Viet Nam.

Card Burners
A charred draft card bears an unpleasant stigma of illegality and a threat of federal imprisonment. Only two young men, one in Iowa and the other in New York, have performed public card-burnings in the past few weeks. Two more who promised they would do so at a New York rally Thursday postponed the "solemn ceremony," when, they said, the meeting became too uproarious.

DEAR ABBY...

Tell the Truth and Less Happens

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl. A friend of mine from school asked me to keep a book for her overnight, so I took it home. (It was a popular book which a lot of people said was dirty.) I didn't have anything to do before supper, so I started to read a few pages. I heard my mother coming to call me for supper, so I threw the book under my mattress so she would not get the wrong idea.

After supper some kids came over and I forgot all about the book until bedtime. When I went to get it, it was gone. I'm sure my mother found it when she turned down my bed, because the next morning she said, "I am stopping your allowance because if you spend your money on trash, you don't need any."

Abby, I am afraid to ask my mother for the book. I know she will never believe how I happened to have it. Now I have to pay my girl friend for the book. (I told her I "lost" it.) What should I do now?

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas my husband gave me a diamond. We went to the jewelry store and picked the stone out together and had them put it in a setting. When my husband brought the ring home, I was so disappointed. Abby, I don't believe I got the same stone I picked out. I am just sick about it, but I let it go because I don't know what to do about it. How can a person protect himself against this sort of thing? The ring cost $1000. I think we were taken.

DISAPPOINTED DEAR DISAPPOINTED: In selecting a jeweler, one should use the same standards he uses in selecting a doctor, lawyer, or anyone who "sells" a service. A reputation for integrity is your best guide. If you doubt that you got the diamond you paid for, have it appraised elsewhere. And if you have been "taken," your next call should be the Better Business Bureau. Jewelers who would cheat in this manner do not stay in business long.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I are still in college and this is the third year the same problem has come up with my folks. The four of us go to all the football games in Clyde's car. Some games are out of town and we have to drive a couple of hundred miles. Not once has Clyde ever mentioned that my father should pay something toward the gas. When it comes to the tickets, my father gets them. Then he tells me afterwards how much Clyde owes him for his ticket and mine. I don't think it's right to ask Clyde for the money, so I pay it myself. My folks say it's nothing out of Clyde's pocket to let them ride along to the games as he's driving anyway. They are right, of course, but somehow it seems wrong, I'd like your opinion.

CLYDE'S GIRL DEAR GIRL: True, it's nothing extra out of Clyde's pocket to let your parents ride along, but it does cost Clyde something to operate his car, which provides the transportation to these games. I think your father should take his wallet out of mothballs and "treat" Clyde to tickets occasionally to show his appreciation for the rides.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CALL ME COLEEN": Stendhal said, "A wise woman never yields by appointment." I think Stendhal was extremely perceptive for a man.

The principle of de-glazing a pan to make a sauce also works when you don't want a sauce, just an easy way to clean pan. While the roaster or frying pan is still sizzling hot—and after the food is removed—pour cold water in the pan and watch the specks of food dissolve.

To clean a steam iron, first fill it with clear white distilled vinegar and steam for two minutes. Then let the iron stand overnight with the vinegar in the reservoir. Thoroughly rinse the iron with clean water.

Gray discoloration of fabrics is often caused by a build-up of detergent. It's sometimes possible to return the fabric to its original white by washing the clothes in warm or hot water and a cup of Calgon water conditioner. Don't add soap. The whole idea is to let the Calgon solution release soap film.

Sparkled with tradition, next week is sure to twinkle brightly on any Pampa High student's calendar. Thursday night Miss Flame will be announced from candidates elected by the student body this week. Although Miss Flame was elected this afternoon her identity will remain a secret until the special pep rally Thursday night.

The title Miss Flame is bestowed upon a girl who has good school spirit, supports the team and attends the football games without being required to. According to tradition, the girl with the most school spirit will lead the student body to the bonfire built by Vocational Industrial Club in which Sammie Sandie will be burned. Friday night Harvesters will meet their age old rivals, the Amarillo Sandies.

Win or lose everybody will celebrate at the All-School Carnival Saturday night. Highlight of the Carnival will be the crowning of the Carnival King and Queen. Shari Anderson, junior, is in charge of stage decorations for the coronation which will follow the theme of "Harvest Moon." Senior girl trio, the Tri-Annes, composed of Suzy Benton, JoAnn Craig and Dianne Phillips will provide vocal music for the event.

World travel is just about the best educator for any student. Just ask Jane Hiatt, who spent last summer in Turkey, as an American Field Service student; or question Riina Lagus, AFS student attending Pampa High this year, about the knowledge she has acquired of American people since she departed from her native home in Sweden.

After interviewing each candidate thoroughly, the local AFS committee has selected Jeanie Prock, junior and John Elder, senior, as local finalists. Jeanie is applying for the summer program in which she would spend six to eight weeks in a foreign country next summer. John is applying for the year long program. If his application is accepted by the national committee in New York, he will spend next year living with a family and attending school in a different country.

Jeanie and John will now fill out applications for the New York office, complete health forms, write a theme about their families and their reasons for applying and last but not least sit back and wait for further word.

The first morning watch was held Wednesday. Mr. M. B. Smith, science teacher and former pastor of Hilland Baptist Church, was speaker. The inspirational program will be given each Wednesday morning at 8:15 in the auditorium.

Student Council intends to have pastors of different churches, teachers and students as speakers. David Harmon is school chaplain.

A delegation of ten Pampa city officials headed by Mayor Jim Nation and City Manager Jim White will leave Pampa tomorrow for the three-day 53rd annual conference of the Texas Municipal League in San Antonio Sunday through Tuesday.

Mayors, city managers, councilmen and other city officials will make up some 2,500 delegates expected to attend from all parts of Texas.

In addition to the mayor and city manager, the Pampa delegation attending the conference will include City Atty. Bob Gordon, Tax Collector Aubrey Jones, City Secretary Stanley Chittenden, Fire Chief Ernest Winborne, Police Chief Jim Connor, Public Works Director R. B. Cooke and City Commissioners Clyde Carruth and Roy Kay.

Specific subjects on the 1965 conference program include, in part: federal - city relations (in an address called connecting the terminals of democratic government); the Texas House of Representatives in 1965 — and 1967; evolving relations of state and cities; water development and stream pollution; city - county cooperative planning; regional planning; legislation affecting cities and how it is influenced; utilities and industrial development; effects of the new Code of Criminal Procedure on law enforcement; civil rights and municipal administration; debt management; urban renewal; impact of computers on city government.

If absentee voting serves as any indication, there should be a light voter turnout for the Nov. 2 constitutional amendment balloting.

The Gray County Clerk's office had received only 10 absentee votes as of noon today with the deadline at 5 p.m. today.

Gray County seemed to be following the trend of voters over the state.

A check by United Press International showed light to very light turnout in absentee balloting over the state.

Gov. John Connally has ordered that all state office workers be given half the day off Tuesday and urged employers throughout the state to give their employees time off so they can vote on 10 constitutional amendments.

One of the amendments would give Connally a four-year term.

"Public apathy is Democracy's greatest enemy," Connally said. "Proposed amendments deserve more than superficial treatment by the voters."

Connally said only 11 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls Sep. 7 when an amendment to enlarge the state Senate was soundly defeated.

"It would be a public disgrace," Connally said, "for the light vote in the last election to be repeated on Nov. 2."

"I appeal to all other public and private employers to also make arrangements for their employees to be given time off to vote during regular working hours."

Connally said approval of amendment No. 4—giving him and seven other state officials four-year terms—would be "a step toward more modern and effective government which has already been taken by 39 other states."

First Baptist Ministers Return from Meeting

Dr. Douglas Carver, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pampa, will return from the Baptist General Convention of Texas which met in Houston the past week, and will be in the pulpit for the eleven o'clock worship service, Sam Allen, minister of Music, will present the Church Choir in singing "Seek Ye the Lord" by Roberts with Jim Johnson and Sam Allen II, as soloists. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Chanson" by Grotan for the offertory.

First Presbyterian Sings Services

"Re-Forming the Church" is the Reformation Day Sermon at First Presbyterian. The sermon will deal with the positive claims of the Gospel-delineating what we as Christians must be for, rather than dwelling on those things which Christians are against. Ruling Elder William Dixon will assist with the worship at both the 8:30 and 11:00 a.m. services.

Pledges and Stewardship Commitment plans for 1955 will be received following the second service. Callers will be assigned visits to those families who have not responded. The session will meet on Wednesday evening to receive members.

worship. He will continue his series of sermons on "The Beatitudes." The Chapel Choir will occupy the choir loft and will sing special music. Miss Lane has chosen "Allegretto" by Overholt for the organ offertory.

The church emphasizes will be turned to the stewardship program. The Annual Church-Wide Dinner will be held Wednesday, Nov. 3, when the 1966 budget will be presented for adoption. The principal speaker will be C. J. Humphrey from Amarillo. Sheriff Rufe Jordan will be a featured tenor soloist with other special music which will be announced later. The church will furnish the meat, bread and drinks, and the members attending will be asked to bring salads, vegetables, and desserts. The meal will be served at 6 p.m.

Baptist Women Observe Day of Prayer Nov. 1

The women of the Southern Baptist Churches of Pampa will unite on Monday, Nov. 1, at 10 a.m. in the 1st Baptist Church to observe the Baptist Women Day of Prayer.

Baptist Women of the world will be observing this day. The theme of "Pray - That He Will Send" will be used this year. All women are invited and urged to attend. Nursery will be provided.

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1965

58TH YEAR

FINDING THE WAY

No Loss Is 'Light'

Contrasting ideas cried out from the daily paper. One was the news release from the Defense Department, indicating that in Viet Nam there had been a battle and the American losses were light. The other was a local story, headed with two pictures and bringing the news that two men from our area had died.

We know what the tacticians mean when they talk of "light losses." They state that our side lost fewer than might have been lost; or fewer than enemy. But, to the families of those two men, what is a "light loss"?

When we speak of "limited warfare," what does this mean to the man who is caught in the battle?

It is easy to excuse these semantic problems. Yet it is just this tendency to accept such words and ideas, that indicates a kind of erosion in our thinking and in our spiritual integrity.

Why take a stand against communism unless we defend each man's paramount worth in our thinking at home and in our public statements? Why propose to stand against these military aggressors unless we are willing to accept the principle that the individual is redeemable? To tolerate even the words which depersonalize the human being is to illustrate our dilemma.

Don Cameron Allen has stated, "Composite man, cross-section man, organization man, status seeking man are not here. It is still one of the merits of the humanities that they see man with all his virtues and weaknesses, including his first, middle and last names." That's a modern statement of the insistence of Jesus that even the fall of sparrow is known.

Harrah Methodist Church Services

Rev. R. H. Meixner has chosen as his sermon topic for Sunday, "Examining Ourselves." The evening topic will be, "The Parable of the Water Jars." The United Church Women of Pampa will observe World Community Day in our church Nov. 5th at 9:30 a.m.

The Jr. Choir will meet at the church Sat. evening Oct. 30 to start practicing on Christmas music.

Lamar, First Christian Become One Church

Another step forward has been made in the life of the Lamar and First Christian Churches, Last Sunday, at a membership meeting of the Lamar Christian Church it was decided that the Lamar Church would become an annex to the First Christian Church of Pampa, effective November 1, 1965, and all members of the Lamar Church will automatically become members of the First Christian Church. However, the Worship Service and the Church School activities will be continued in the usual manner, with one exception, the Worship Service at the Annex (Lamar) will precede the Church School. Rev. Duke will be minister of both fellowships. He will conduct the Worship Service at the Annex beginning at 9:30 a.m. Church School at the Annex will begin at 10:45 a.m. following the Worship Service. All services and activities at the First Christian Church will remain on present schedule.

It is believed that this arrangement will be beneficial in many ways. Those who are unable to climb the steps into the First Church will have the privilege of attending the Worship Service at the Lamar Church. Also, those who would like to attend early service, for some particular reason, may do so at the Annex.

Both fellowships will operate as one having only one Official Board, one set of functional committees, one treasury, and one purpose. In this way we hope to become a better Spiritual Witness to our Community.

Rev. Duke has chosen as his Sermon Topic for Sunday, "As a Man Thinketh," Proverbs 23:17. King James Version. Our choir has selected as their Anthem "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name." Arrangement by Arthur Ward with guest pianist, Jerry Whitten. They will be under the direction of Miss Rosemary Lawlor and accompanied by Mrs. John Gill, organist.

Church Must Listen to the World Voice

DALLAS (UPI)—The church is going to have to stop talking so much and listen more to what the world outside is saying, an Episcopal clergy leader said Monday.

Bishop Stephen F. Bayne Jr., director of the Episcopal Council's Overseas Department, spoke to a Lay-Clergy dinner honoring "The Clergyman of the Year" — Rev. Richard C. Allen, rector of St. James' Church in Texas.

Bishop Bayne also urged that the church learn to receive things from others.

"We need things from other churches and other cultures," he said.

Guest Welcomed At Foursquare

The local Foursquare Church, pastored by Rev. Bobby Cooksey, will have as the guest speaker on Oct. 31, the Rev. J. Craig Bigg, Supervisor of the South Central District of Foursquare Churches, from Dallas, Texas.

The Rev. Bigg will be presenting the organization's latest sound, color 16mm film, "Victory at Midnight." This film presents some of the most recent and thrilling events happening on Foursquare Mission stations in the Orient, Australia and New Guinea. Miraculous works are being done in recent months on these fields.

All friends and neighbors are most welcome to attend this service presenting this new film, and hear late news of the Mission field presented by Supervisor Bigg.

The church is located at 712 Lefors St. and the service will be held at 11 a.m., announces Rev. Bobby Cooksey, pastor.

Crusade Set For Spearman

Approximately 500 Spearman, Gruver and Waka area residents will have a part in the Christ For All Crusade which opens in the Spearman High School Auditorium Nov. 10, at 7:30 p.m.

This Christian Crusade is being conducted in association with the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association.

Evangelist for the 12 day Crusade will be Roy W. Gustafson, an associate Evangelist of the Billy Graham Association.

Music for the 12 evangelistic meetings will be under the rectorion of Wesley Boyd of Oklahoma City. His wife will be the pianist.

The Rev. Billy Clarke of Austin will be the organizer for the Crusade. Clarke is pastor of the Harris Memorial Baptist Church in Austin. He was organizer for the Baptist World Alliance when it met in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in 1963.

Over 200 persons have joined the Crusade Choir to sing for the 12 services. The people are from the churches of Spearman, Gruver, Waka and there have been inquiries from persons even farther away wanting to join this choir.

The two Sunday services will be held at 3 p.m. so they will not interfere with regular church services.

THE UNITED WAY

This is the season for United Funds all across the country. In our own city we are currently engaged in an effort to secure enough money through voluntary gifts to enable us as a community to care for the needs of persons, to assist character building agencies and to be prepared in case of a disaster.

I believe in THE UNITED WAY for two main reasons

First, THE UNITED WAY helps us make sure that no one is forgotten. The sick little girl wasting away with a mysterious illness, the aging person who fears that life has passed him by, the troubled teen-ager striking out blindly against society, families in trouble — all of them are benefited by my gift THE UNITED WAY. None is left out or forgotten.

Second, THE UNITED WAY gets full mileage out of my dollar. By putting many appeals together in one United campaign fund-raising costs are cut down. The truth is that a United campaign costs less than half of what most independent drives would cost. Furthermore, a United campaign makes the best use of the valuable time and effort of the men and women who work as volunteers.

I believe it to be not only a privilege, but my duty as a Christian and as a good citizen to help others through the United Fund. My Master taught me to love God with all my heart, soul, mind and strength. I show him my love by worshipping on the Sabbath.

My Master also instructed me to love my neighbor as myself, and one of the best ways I can do that is to support the United Fund. Don't you agree?

Harvesters Try Westerners

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

Pampa will try to break up another passing attack and snap a four game losing streak, starting at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Lubbock.

The Harvesters, cellar prone in the 3-A conference, have been ridden to defeat by Caprock, Tascosa, Monterey and Plainview in their last four outings.

Lubbock has been able to break even in four conference outings, downing Borger, 29-7, and Caprock, 18-15, losing to Palo Duro 31-0 and Tascosa, 14-0.

Pampa started off conference action by whipping Palo Duro 20-13 then lost to Caprock, 7-0, Tascosa, 34-14; Monterey, 40-12 and Plainview 20-7.

The Westerners did the week off last week and probably did nothing but brush up on their passing which has been the Harvesters downfall this season.

In their four conference games the Harvesters have given up 729 yards in the air and six touchdowns.

Lubbock has passed for 536 yards and two touchdowns and has two good passers in quarterbacks Rusty Underwood and Rob Lane.

Underwood has tossed for 480 yards and one touchdown, completing 27 of 50 tosses and Lane has thrown five times and completed three for 56 yards.

Underwood's favorite target is one of two returning Lubbock starters, Don Burrell, a 165 pound end.

Burrell has gathered in 12 passes for 276 yards, fifth in the 3-A conference.

The Westerners running game is spearheaded by another 1964 starter Roy Farmer. The 155 pounder has rushed for 266 yards, an average of 5.2 per carry.

The Harvesters will try to counter - attack with their big fullback Ted Heiskell and halfback Joey Roden and the quarterbacking of Roy Harper. Both Roden and Heiskell are listed high in the 3-A rushing chart with Heiskell carrying 45 times for 131 yards, an average of an even four yards per carry.

Roden has broken loose for 152 yards on 50 carries for an average of 3.1 yard per carry. Harper, who hasn't done much passing in the past two games has scored three times and booted two conversions for 20 points, more than any other Harvester has scored.

Harper has connected on 12 of 33 passes for 186 yards and one touchdown.

It's almost a certainty L. D. Rowden will see action for Pampa Saturday night. The halfback saw action for only four plays last week but carried for 23 yards and Pampa's lone touchdown.

Cochair Ramsey has been running his team hard all week and admits the Harvesters just weren't 'up' for their tussel with Plainview last week.

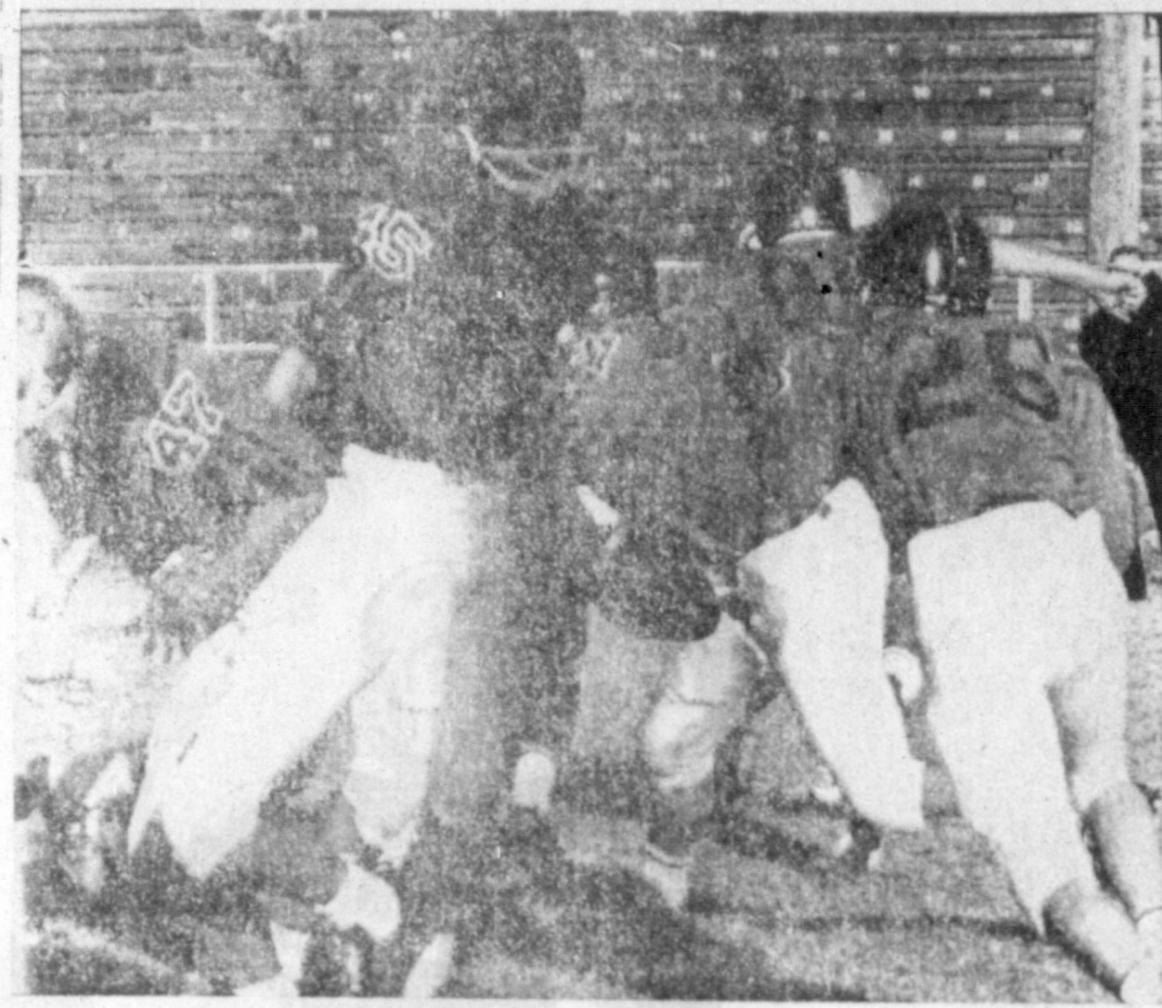

"We won't have that problem tomorrow," Ramsey said Friday. Lubbock leads the series 23-11-21.

HOW YOU DO IT — Shocker quarterback Mike Brown, (45) stands tall and hands off to Wendall Watson (26), a play good for 11 yards and a first down in the Shockers, 29-6 triumph over Caprock Thursday afternoon. (See story, picture, page 9.)

Law Named Comeback Player

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vernon Law, the Pittsburgh Pirate right hander whose major league career was threatened by injuries on several occasions, today was named the national league comeback player of 1965 by United Press International's Board of Baseball Experts.

Law, 35, registered a 17-9 record last season for the third-place Bucs after winning a total of 16 games in the two previous campaigns combined. Perhaps more significant was the 16-year veteran's earned run average of 2.16, fourth best among the senior circuit's regular moundsmen. His 1964 E.R.A. was a not too impressive 3.61.

The Boise, Idaho resident was a one-sided choice of the 23 sportswriters who comprise the UPI board. Law collected 13 votes while first baseman Willie McCovey of San Francisco and Milwaukee third sacker Eddie Mathews tied for the runnerup spot with three mentions each.

Others Named — Los Angeles third baseman Jim Gilliam was picked on two ballots and Cincinnati first baseman Gordon Coleman, Milwaukee outfielder Felipe Alou and Chicago Cub first baseman Ernie Banks received one vote apiece.

"That's wonderful," Law said, "but I won't put myself on the back. I've always said there's no 'I' in team and I believe it takes a collective effort for an individual to receive any honor."

An ordained elder of the Mormon Church, Law analyzed the 1965 season as a year of personal streaks. "You remember how badly our team started this year," he recalled. "Well, I lost my first five decisions and didn't win my first game until May 21. Then I won eight in a row, then lost four straight and then won my last nine decisions."

Misses 20 Mark — Vernon didn't pitch after Sept. 13 because of a strained elbow or else he would have had a clear shot at reaching the 20-victory circle as he did in 1960 when he won the Cy Young Award.

"I'd say my biggest asset last season was a good defense," Law went on. "We were strong down the middle with Maz (Bill Mazeroski) at second, (Gene) Alley at shortstop and (Bill) Virdon in center. If you don't have speed at those positions you're hurting."

After his 20 win 1960 season the 6-foot-3-inch hurler suffered a torn rotator muscle in his right shoulder and chalked up only three triumphs. In 1962 he was plagued by a knee injury and a sore arm but still managed to win 10 games. In 1963 he was placed on the voluntarily retired list and spent part of the season with the Pirates' Kinston farm team working himself back into shape.

Law plans to spend the winter working in a local bank and putting around the house. In about a month he'll test his ailing arm but feels confident that the doctors' assurance that time was the best healer for his latest problem will be borne out.

Fight Results

By United Press International PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Johnny Knight, 145, Philadelphia stopped Jerry Brewer, 142, Baltimore 7.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jerry Quarry, 190½, Paramount, Calif., knocked out Al (Tiger) Carter, 187½, Phoenix (6).

GOOD GAINER — The Shocker's David Schaub (47) has just gained 11 yards but is about to be tackled by Caprock's Billy Ammons (41). Pampa's Ronnie Sanders (87) is trying to help Schaub in the Shocker's 29-6 victory Thursday. (See story, other picture page 9.)

MISSOURI MAY BE ROUGH

Nebraska, Michigan St. Meet Old Foes Saturday

CANYON — Both West Texas State and Memphis State, which battle in Memorial Stadium in Memphis Saturday night, are prominent in statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau including last week's games.

The rival quarterbacks, Billy Fletcher of Memphis and Hank Washington of West Texas, appear in two categories in the report. Fletcher is 11th in total offense with 1,066 yards while Washington ranks 19th with 878 yards. The Buffaloes have played one more game.

Washington's passing ranks him eighth on 73 completions in 156 attempts (a school record) for 874 yards and six touchdowns. Fletcher, who also does the place kicking for the Tigers, holds 12th place in scoring with 45 points on four TD's, 12 conversion kicks and three field goals.

The Tigers are averaging 362.2 yards per game in total offense which places them seventh. The Buffs only team rankings are on defense where they've allowed just 71.5 yards per game rushing, good for seventh spot, and a mere seven points per game which makes them seventh among the major schools in defense against scoring.

Three other Buffaloes rank among the national leaders in their specialties. End Roy Armentrout has averaged 41 yards on 20 punts for 20th spot in that category. The two defensive safeties, Steve Haterius and Rick Barrett appear in the "defensive" individual leaders. Haterius has regained ninth place in punt returns with 260 yards on 21 runbacks. Barrett holds seventh position in pass interceptions with five for 40 yards and one TD.

Statistically at least, the two teams have played vastly different football this season. Memphis State's 362.2 yards per game contest in total offense is just slightly better than their opponents' 350.2. The Buffaloes on the other hand, have held the opposition to 221.2 yards per game in total offense, but have gained only 233.8 themselves.

Both teams have been fairly rough on opposing passers. The Tigers have picked off 12 of 148 enemy aeriels while West Texas State has grabbed the same number of 169 throws.

Another interesting tidbit which was discovered in a perusal of the statistical reports of the two schools is that Memphis State's most productive quarter in five games has been the first period in which they've scored 47 of their 119 points this season. Conversely, the Buffs are unscored upon in the first period in six contests and have had only 10 points scored on them in the last half. Memphis State has been touched for nearly half its points (49 of 100) in the second period while the Buffs have scored 48 in the same period. Memphis State has also done well in the second half with 55 of its 119 points being scored in the last 30 minutes.

The game may provide an interesting answer to the frequently asked question, "Which is better, a good offense or a good defense if you can't have both?"

By United Press International Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney makes a habit of winning, but even he admits that the second-ranked Cornhuskers might have a tough time extending their perfect record on Saturday against the eighth-rated Missouri Tigers.

Since Devaney took over at Nebraska three years ago, the Huskers have lost only six games and won the Big Eight Conference title twice. However, suddenly his success is beginning to bother him. Nebraska defeated the Tigers the past two seasons after losing to them in the first year of Devaney's reign, and now he is worried that Missouri might want to even the record.

"They'll be fired up; there's no doubt about it," says Devaney. "I only hope they're not as eager to get revenge as Notre Dame was last week against Southern California."

If Missouri does beat the Cornhuskers, it will more than even the record, however. The high-flying Huskers, who appear to have everything, are soaring along with a six-game winning streak and aspirations for a national title.

Behind the running of Frank Solich, Nebraska is the nation's top rushing team with 269 yards per game on the ground. The passing of Fred Duda has complemented the running game to make Nebraska the top team in total offense, rolling for 415 yards per game. Moreover, the Cornhuskers also are among the top 10 teams in total defense, yielding only 182 yards per game.

However, Missouri is rated second in the country in rushing offense with 250 yards per game against opponents rated tougher than those faced by Nebraska. Charlie Brown leads the Tigers' offense with nearly 100 yards per game on the ground. Missouri, which won four games against only one loss and one tie, also has a stingy defense, led by defensive back Johnny Roland. Top-ranked Michigan State and third-rated Arkansas, a pair of other undefeated teams trying for the national title, also might keep one eye on Columbia, Mo., as they face underdog opponents. The first-place Spartans put their Rose Bowl hopes on the line against Northwestern, and the Razorbacks are heavily favored against Texas A&M.

Bucks, Rockets, Wellington Tigers Play Important Conference Contest Tonight

By A Staff Writer
They go for broke at Groom White Deer tonight with conference championships the line of both schools. White Deer plays host to one of the toughest defensive teams in the Panhandle in Wellington. The teams are undefeated with Bucks having breezed through seven opponents and Wellington six and tying another.

In 2-A conference action both White Deer and Wellington stand 2-0 and Wheeler is 3-0 in 5-B while Groom is 2-0. White Deer's defensive record is impressive but Wellington's is even more so. The Bucks have given up 28 points for a 3.8 per game defensive average. But the Skyrockets have been scored on but once, by Shamrock and sport a fancy 9 de-blanked five or their six foes. White Deer has scored a total of 255 points for a 36.3 per game average while Wellington has managed only 199 for a 28.3 per game mark. Big and strong and fast is the Skyrockets defensive key with Johnny Maxwell, a 215 pound defensive end; Larry Pippens, a 225 pound defensive end; Steve Trapp, a 173 tackle and Gary Killin, another tackle, weighing in at 177 pounds, heading up the line. The Bucks have some of the better runners and linemen in the state. Randy Elliott is the area's second leading scorer with 12 touchdowns and one conversion for 74 points, Vernon Marlar has run for nine touchdowns for 54 points and J. Smith has seven touchdowns for 42 points. And when it comes to kicking you have to look no further than the Buck's Johnny Mooney. Mooney has booted home 26 of 31 conversion attempts for the Bucks this year.

Wheeler and Groom are pretty evenly matched, although the Mustangs appear a bit better on paper with such offensive standouts as Bobby Vanpool, the area's scoring leader with 82 points and Tom Smith third among area scorers with 62 points. The Mustangs have been scoring at a 32.1 per game clip and Groom at a 24.0 per game mark. On Defense the Mustangs have given up but 44 points per game and Groom, 64. Wheeler has got a field goal threat in tackle Donny Dorman who has booted one this year plus five extra points. Most of Groom's scoring has come from halfback Larry Lamberson who has tallied eight times and run three conversions for 54 points. The Tigers also have Jerry Roberts and Joe Britten a good passreceiver combination. Four other important conference games are on tap tonight. In 5-B Lefors seeks its second straight victory by playing at Booker and Follet tries to stay in the race by playing at Darrouzett. In 2-A Canadian is still looking for their first victory and play host to Memphis and McLean tries to break a 3-game losing streak by hosting Clarendon.

Hoople Predicts Missouri Win

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
The First Flanker Back Egad, friends, I have a couple of big surprises for you this week. We have it on no less an authority than Hannibal Wottaburp, our regular correspondent from the "Show Me" state, Dan Devine's Missouri lads are ready for their premier performance of the year. Possessors of a 4-1-1 record, the Tigers — hak - kaff — are primed to put the quietus on the rambunctious Nebraska Cornhuskers. The Hoople System foresees a Missouri victory by a 21-10 margin. Our second surprise of the day is almost as startling. Ole Miss, suffering through a mediocre season with three victories and a like number of defeats, will shock Southeastern Conference followers by edging powerful Louisiana

State. I forecast a 15-13 triumph for the Rebels — kaf-kaff! These predictions may amaze some of you, but dear readers, that's what's in the cards — har-rumph! Now go on with the forecast. BREAK TWO GAME LOSING STREAK

Shockers Rip Caprock, 29-6

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
The Pampa Shockers rode the passing arm and running of quarterback Mike Brown and David Schaub to a 29-6 victory over Caprock B Thursday afternoon. Brown connected on six of 13 tries for 155 yards and two touchdowns, one an 80-yarder to halfback Dwight Rogers and Schaub carried nine times for 73 yards to pace the Shocker attack. The win pushed Pampa's record to 6-3 and broke a two-game Shocker losing streak. The Shockers also shook off injuries to four players and never seemed to miss them. Schaub started the Shockers off running the first time they got the ball. The young halfback rambled 55 yards for a touchdown with 6:31 left in the quarter. Herschell Mosier booted his first of three extra points to make it 7-0. A stout Shocker defense held Caprock in two possessions before the offense could get rolling again. The Shockers traveled 48 yards in three plays with Brown throwing 32-yards to halfback Dickie Henley and the youngster ran about 15 yards on his own for the score. Mosier kicked again and the Shockers led 14-0 with 1:45 left in the first period. A pass interception, the second of two, this one in the second quarter set up the Shockers third touchdown.

Henley pulled in an errant Caprock pass and returned the ball 23 yards to the Shocker 11. It took Pampa only five plays to score with Henley again going in from the one. Brown passed to Wendall Watson for the conversion and with 8:22 left in the half the Shockers were far out in front at 22-0. Neither team scored until the third quarter when the Shockers added their fourth and last touchdown of the game. Pampa's Eddie South recovered a Caprock fumble on the Pampa 25-yard line to set it up. Two plays later, after a loss of five yards on the first play, Brown hit Dwight Rogers on the 45 and the youngsters rambled the final 55 yards for the score. The run try for the extra point failed but the Shockers were home free with 1:29 left in the third period at 29-0. Caprock's lone score came with 4:29 left in the game when they moved 65-yards in five plays with quarterback Duane Osborn going in from the one. In Junior High football action Pampa ninth fought Borger Austin to a 6-6 tie. Both teams scored in the first quarter with Charley Price rambling 50 yards for Pampa's lone touchdown. The Reapers threatened twice more, with time running out in the first half and the ball on the one yard line. In the third quarter the Reapers went to the Austin 20 and fumbled the ball away. The Pampa eighth fell victim to Austin, thanks to intercepted passes. Austin turned two interceptions into touchdowns and went on to a 22-0 victory. Lee ninth took it on the chin, falling, 53-0 to Perryton. The Ranger juniors are unbeaten for the season. They led 31-0 at halftime. Lee eighth also fell victim to Perryton's unbeaten eighth, 34-8. Scotty King ran Lee's only touchdown, going 15 yards in a 65 yard drive. Lee seventh and Pampa seventh played an afternoon game today at Harvester stadium for the city championship. Lee and Pampa ninth grades play Wednesday and Lee and Pampa eighth play Thursday, all games in Harvester stadium.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Voluntary Organizations

Some years ago, in an analysis of human organizations which can solve human problems, we pointed out that there are two broad sectors in which men can join their energies for the accomplishment of major objectives. One of these can be classed as government in the formal political sense. The other sector can be broadly identified as any kind of human organization, lacking powers of general coercion which can attract unification on the basis of gain. Examples of this type of organization are: the family, the business, the fraternity, club or social group. Recently, attempts have been made to reclassify this division so that three sectors emerge. The reclassification is instructive.

Here it is said that the business organization, operated for profit, must stand alone. Thus, according to this view, there are three major sectors of human endeavor: the government (political agency); the business; and the "people's sector."

We have heard so much about the "public sector" and the "private sector," which division comes from Kenneth Galbraith and his "Affluent Society," that this reclassification may find useful employment. In point of fact the "public sector" and the "private sector" as Galbraith sets them up, contain no particular merit. The private sector is considered to be composed of those activities and procedures which are related to individual desires and behaviors; the public sector to those areas which involve more than a single person.

Since all persons are constantly involved with other persons besides themselves, the Galbraith division reduces the "private sector" to infinitesimal size and enlarges the "public sector" out of all proportions. It is into this sector, according to Galbraith and others that the government must intrude for the "general good."

Frankly, we like our own divisions of human organization better. But the reclassification is useful, if only to emphasize that there is a broad area of non-government concern, outside of business, yet beyond the scope of government.

What is particularly noteworthy is that various organizations, not excluding the NAM (National Association of Manufacturers), the church, the private school, and various voluntary groups, are already in existence and are engaged in solving problems which Galbraith and his ilk would put into the hands of government.

BERRY'S WORLD

SDS Seen Possible Red Link

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The "Students for a Democratic Society" organization is attracting attention by reportedly urging young men to evade the draft.

This society is best known for sponsoring the largest single demonstration to date protesting U.S. action in Viet Nam — The April 17 "Student March on Washington." An estimated 15,000 individuals participated in this demonstration, including Communist party members from throughout the nation. The Communist party ordered its local offices to get maximum participation in the march.

In conjunction with the march, an "Easter Vigil" was held at the LBJ Ranch in Johnson City, Tex. About 45 took part.

Going back to Feb. 20, the society cosponsored demonstrations in Chicago and at the White House protesting the war in Viet Nam. On March 5, the society cosponsored an anti-Viet Nam war demonstration in front of the Armed Services Recruiting Station in Philadelphia.

On April 4, the group announced plans to picket a lecture to be delivered by special presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy. About 50 pickets showed up.

The Students for a Democratic Society announced plans for a massive civil disobedience campaign to take place May 3 through May 8 in 65 cities. This was to include sit-ins, lie-ins across major thoroughfares and marches with or without permits. This campaign fizzled.

The group hasn't limited its activities to Viet Nam.

A letter dated Nov. 10, 1964, on stationery of the society, stated that "this is the time" to abolish the "HUAC" (House Committee on Un-American Activities) and urged the copies of a pamphlet be circulated on campuses and among friends to urge congressmen to vote against the HUAC.

The Dec. 5, 1964, issue of the Harvard Crimson, undergraduate daily newspaper, contained an article which said the Students for a Democratic Society urged students to attend hearings scheduled soon in Boston. They were asked to call attention to the need for repeal of the McCarran Act (the Internal Security Act of 1950, which requires Communists to register).

The society claims about 2,000 members in 45 chapters. It is a youth offshoot of the League of Industrial Democracy, successor to the Inter-Collegiate Socialist Society. The ICSS was organized in 1905 to mobilize college professors, students and graduates to teach socialism and collective ownership. A Students for a Democratic Society bulletin says it will "promote educated participation in movements of civil rights, civil liberties and peace."

Significantly indicative of what is in the wind are the following: —Attorney General Katzenbach has conferred several times with President Johnson on the proposed Klan crackdown.

—Similar discussions have been held with key officials of the Justice Department, Internal Revenue Service, other federal agencies, and certain state authorities.

—Grand jury proceedings are a certainty on a number of charges, foremost among them tax evasion, misappropriation of funds, embezzlement.

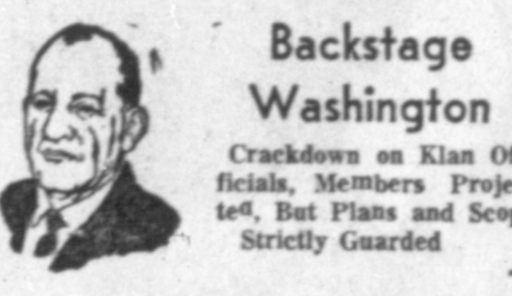

—Also in the works is legislation that will be vigorously pressed in the session of Congress that convenes January 10. This has already been discussed with members of the Un-American Activities Committee.

BACKSTAGE DRAMA—Right up to the moment that Joseph DuBois (treasurer) of the Goldsboro, N. C., Klavern, took the witness stand and renounced his KKK membership, the World War II Marine combat veteran was under furious Klan pressure to keep him silent.

They had learned he intended to give the committee his klavern's financial records, and were bent on stopping that. Only DuBois' steely determination thwarted them.

The 40-year-old used car dealer conferred with committee investigators three days before his dramatic testimony. He expressed willingness to turn over his klavern's financial records, but was reluctant to talk about the Klan, its members and activities.

FRANK MARKEY

WASHINGTON — The federal government is preparing to move directly and forcefully against the Ku Klux Klan. While the nature and scope of this crackdown are closely guarded, as contemplated it will be extensive and exceptional. Extraordinary measures are to be invoked against the hooded order.

They will be along several lines, aimed at both officials and rank-and-file Klansmen. Initial action will center in the South; may be expanded later.

The headline disclosures of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are an important part of the Johnson administration's anti-Klan plans. The investigation is serving the dual purpose of focusing a critical searchlight on the Klan, and setting the stage for the federal drive to smash the organization.

Much of the evidence being exposed by the House Committee is from Justice Department sources. The FBI thoroughly infiltrated the Klan, and has voluminous information on every aspect of its operations. Every "surprise" witness who has testified has been provided by the FBI.

Significantly indicative of what is in the wind are the following: —Attorney General Katzenbach has conferred several times with President Johnson on the proposed Klan crackdown.

BACKSTAGE DRAMA—Right up to the moment that Joseph DuBois (treasurer) of the Goldsboro, N. C., Klavern, took the witness stand and renounced his KKK membership, the World War II Marine combat veteran was under furious Klan pressure to keep him silent.

They had learned he intended to give the committee his klavern's financial records, and were bent on stopping that. Only DuBois' steely determination thwarted them.

The 40-year-old used car dealer conferred with committee investigators three days before his dramatic testimony. He expressed willingness to turn over his klavern's financial records, but was reluctant to talk about the Klan, its members and activities.

DuBois made no bones he feared revenge against him, his wife and three children. Certain plans were discussed, and a time set for him to testify. That very night the Klan turned the heat on DuBois. He was "talked to" by individuals and groups. Some pleaded, others bluntly threatened. One high Klansman told DuBois: "You can't trust this committee. It isn't a free agent. It's a stooge of the White House. Johnson is running this investigation. He's calling the shots. They tell you you'll be protected. That's hogwash. If you do not take the Fifth Amendment, they will trick you into making damaging admissions that will be used against you later. They will charge you with perjury. We know positively that the Johnson administration is out to destroy the Klan."

When DuBois shrugged off the perjury warning, he was told, "You may not think they will pull that on you, but remember it takes $5,000 to get out of jail on a perjury charge. Where will you get that kind of money?"

DuBois refused to be dissuaded or intimidated. The morning he was due to testify, he was on hand in the committee room.

Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton and North Carolina Grand Dragon James Jones, both of whom had invoked constitutional rights scores of times in refusing to answer questions, again tackled DuBois.

"If you talk," said Jones, "you will be violating your Klan oath."

"I don't intend to violate any oath," retorted DuBois. "I am quitting the Klan."

"You'll regret what you're doing," Shelton said. "You'd better give it some more thought."

"I have," replied DuBois, "and my mind is made up. I'm going to testify."

POVERTY PLEADER—While Imperial Wizard Shelton adamantly balked at talking on the witness stand, the House probers have a record of one interesting conversation with him.

It took place at a private session prior to the public hearing. Shelton was no more communicative than later, but he based his silence on different grounds — poverty.

"I'm just a poor country boy," the Imperial Wizard told the investigators. "I can't afford a lawyer. Can't the committee furnish one?"

It was explained the Committee couldn't do that. However, the Washington Bar Association would be contacted, told of Shelton's "dire plight," and the services of an experienced and reputable attorney sought for him.

"I don't want charity," said the Klan leader. "I may be poor, but I'm not asking for a hand-out."

When Shelton and his large entourage came to Washington for the public hearings, they registered at a Capitol Hill hotel, whose room rates are $14 a day for singles and $18 for

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS How to Protect Your Own From Grip of Bureaucrats

By SAM CAMPBELL
Business Editor

There seems to be a great movement afoot to back up the sending of boys to Viet Nam. I do not know whether the enthusiasm for this movement derives from the mothers and fathers of the boys, or from the boys themselves, or from some third influence that has nothing of its own to sacrifice.

By nature I too am an enthusiastic person. As a serviceman in World War II, I think I volunteered for almost everything that came my way except the opportunity to join the infantry. Yet, the circumstances of the Viet Nam engagement causes me to ask some questions.

A Few Questions
First question: If the Soviet Union and the United States become embroiled in armed warfare against one another, who will be the winner?

Answer: Red China.
Second Question: When Red China and the United States start shooting at one another, who will be the winner?

Answer: The Soviet Union.
Third Question: If the United States Government cuts off wheat supplies to Red China and the rest of the Communist bloc so that the peasants there are constrained by hunger to go back to farming, who will be the winner?

Answer: Mothers and fathers of Americans; America's sons, too; young wives and wives-to-be.

Evidence Plain
Certainly I believe in the defense of the country, by bloodshed when and if required. I don't chime in at all with the better - dead - than - red poltroons who disgrace American campuses with their self-serving exhibitions. But the evidence is very plain, and well-published that this war in Viet Nam is made possible by the food surplus that is produced in the United States and exported abroad.

American mother, I am unable to understand. Did you not suffer to bring your son into the world? Did you not nurse him and hold him, see him grow to manhood? Now, how can you surrender him so easily to the grinding Bureaucracy as pawn of international planners?

If your son is not yet of military age, if you suppose that you escape by a fluke of timing, Dr. Billy Graham reminds us that this war will be fought by boys who now are 10 years old.

What You Can Do
"What can I do?" you ask. First, recognize the Bureaucracy for what it is — an enemy who does not hesitate to tear your dearest from your arms. He does it with a smile, a pat on the head, and a commendation for your brave sacrifice — a commendation for the fact that you're too fearful to struggle for what is your own.

Second, search for better principles of government. There is a right way. There is a means to be free. Join in the mighty educational thrust for freedom. The greatest danger to freedom is failure to understand what freedom is not knowing when freedom is violated.

those days some people were only getting that much a week. . . . One of the nation's biggest oil companies has come up with an idea for getting "good" secretaries. The firm sponsors a special secretarial school scholarship program for high school graduates in the metropolitan New York area. Part of the 36-week course is spent working in the company's offices. Of the first group of graduates, 22 out of 24 girls liked the firm so well, they accepted permanent jobs there. . . . One of the reasons, astronomers tell us, why a photograph of a star doesn't look exactly as it does to the naked eye when gazing at it in the heavens is because the camera merely picks up the light emitted by the star many, many years ago. . . . Although it's becoming increasingly difficult to get physicians to make house calls, that is likely to be the standard practice for veterinarians in the future. We heard of a Kentucky vet who has set up a complete lab in his station wagon that includes an operating table, surgical tools, and even a refrigerator for vaccines. . . . The Las Cruces (N.M.) CITIZEN reported in a story: "He is a native of Oklahoma, married and decently moved to Las Cruces." That was a nice thing for him to do.

Country Editor speaking: "Politics is like football; the winner gets the posts."

Third, insist to kin, neighbor, friend and even to the ruling regime that — before another American soldier is sent abroad — American foodstuffs destined for enemy mouths be kept at home.

This is the business - like program for protecting your own.

Note: On July 15, 1965, United Press International reported that Red China imported 615 million bushels of Free World wheat in the 1961 - 64 period. On July 16, 1965, UPI estimated Red China will have imported 175 million bushels of Free World wheat in fiscal 1964 - 65.

In an official study, made in February, 1962, Standard Research Institute concluded, "The United States, unilaterally (if it chose to exercise its power in this (food) sector), might easily alter the political system of scores of countries."

BY H. L. HUNT

Hunt for Truth

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE
Elections are in the news from some of our allies among the Western nations. West Germany has just voted to retain its present government in power and Canada will soon have a national election. In this period when the American political scene, in a non-election year, is as quiet as it is ever likely to get, we have a chance to take a careful objective look at what an election really means.

In nations governed under a parliamentary system, such as the countries of Western Europe and Canada, citizens are encouraged to vote for the party rather than the man. The majority party in parliament, or a coalition of parties large enough to form a majority, controls all the machinery of government and maintains its control by an almost always automatic vote of all its members in the parliament.

In our country, the constitution provides for a system of checks and balances among different branches of our federal government, rather than a unified, one-party regime. But today our citizens are being urged to vote not so much on the basis of the qualifications of individual candidates, as on the extent a candidate or office-holder will automatically support the administration in Washington, whichever party it may represent.

When a party or an administration makes a blanket endorsement of itself the only test in any election, the voice of the people in any meaningful sense is no longer heard. The people can only choose between different power blocs. If we are to have true representative government, we should support each individual candidate whom we believe would best represent us.

Wit and Whimsy
An American traveling in Europe engaged a courier. Arriving at an inn in Italy, the man asked his servant to enter his name in accordance with the police regulations of that country. Some time after the man asked the servant if he had complied with his orders.

Servant — Yes, sir.
Master — How did you write my name?

Servant — Well, sir, I can't pronounce it, but I copied it from your portmanteau, sir.

Master — Why, my name is not there. Bring me the book. The register was brought, and instead of the plain American name of two syllables, the following entry was revealed: "Monsieur Warranted Solid Leather."

Trusted Lieutenant — Some of your constituents are disagreeing with you.

Senator Blank — Well, keep tab on them, when enough disagree with me to constitute a reliable majority, I'm going to turn around and agree with them.

The difference between the sexes is that a man always wants to be a woman's first love — and a woman always wants to be a man's last romance.

Betsy Losses Over $600-Million

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Insured property losses due to Hurricane Betsy are expected to exceed $600 million, the American Insurance Association said today.

The association said insurance adjusters have settled more than 95,000 claims so far but another 220,000 are yet to be adjusted.

Insurance men in Louisiana are handling more than $1 million in claims daily, the association said.

TOUGH 'CLASSROOM'

Benny Makes An 'A'

CHICAGO (UPI)—To his former teacher, Bernard Masny mailed a theme that rated an "A."

So the teacher, Mrs. Marjorie Mooney, read to her class Wednesday the words of Bernard Masny.

Bernard, Mrs. Mooney told the class, had been a student in that very room at Fenger High School. He was not of high academic achievement, Mrs. Mooney said, and had trouble especially with composition.

Mrs. Mooney told the class she helped Bernard with his theme assignments. This encouraged him to stay in school and to be graduated with his class in June, 1964.

Now Mrs. Mooney read from a letter Bernard wrote to her. It was written in Viet Nam, for shortly after leaving high school Bernard became a marine.

"A person may curse out his country," Bernard wrote, "but if he were here, he would kiss the soil of the United States."

"People never know how good they have it until they go to war," Bernard wrote.

HEATED MEETING LONDON (UPI)—Nine executives of a soap firm, clad in towels, held a sales meeting Thursday in a steam bath.

Negroes Oppose Marchers

LINCOLNTON, Ga. (UPI)—Desegregation campaign in this northeast Georgia town pitted Negro against Negro today in confrontation unprecedented in the civil rights movement.

The unusual situation occurred when 46 Negro men, largely pulpwood mill workers, Thursday prevented about 30 Negroes from staging a march protesting segregation in schools and public facilities.

Forming a barricade across a dusty road, the Negro men, through their spokesman, Sylvester Glaze, said, "The marches change nothing."

"We're satisfied with things as they are," Glaze told the march leaders, Willie Bolden, the Rev. Charley Brown and Edward Bedford, all of Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). "We didn't have nothing when we was born and we never will."

There have been instances in the civil rights movement where local Negroes did not support or voiced some criticism of demonstrations, but the confrontation marked the first time that Negroes actually had barred marches.

In 1917, British Foreign Secretary Arthur Balfour proposed a Jewish homeland in Palestine.

Use Pesticides Safely FOLLOW THE LABEL

REMEMBER—Aiding the effort to protect soil, water and the people who handle pesticides, the United States Department of Agriculture is circulating this new advisory symbol. Aim is to make it as universal as fire safety warnings.
