

Russian Author Is Nobel Winner

By LAN WESTERGREEN
STOCKHOLM (UPI)—The 1965 Nobel Prize for literature today was awarded to Soviet novelist Mikhail Sholokhov.

The 60-year-old Russian author is best known for his four-volume work "And Quiet Flows the Don," a novel about the Don Cossacks before and after the revolution.

Sholokhov is a close friend of former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The Swedish Academy of Letters, in announcing Sholokhov as the winner of the $56,400 prize, cited his great epic writing.

Sholokhov was listed as the favorite in advance speculation for the literature award with Miguel Ange Asturias of Guatemala, a novelist whose books reflect a strong anti-American tone.

A total of 89 candidates had been considered by the Academy.

Sholokhov stands unique among Soviet authors as a man equally popular with the Kremlin and Western literary critics. It was believed that he would leave his quiet home in the tiny Don River basin village of Veshenskaya and come here on Dec. 15 to accept his gold medal, Nobel diploma and $56,400 prize.

The academy said Sholokhov was awarded the prize because of "the artistic power and integrity with which in his epic of the Don he has given creative expression to a historic phase in the history of the Russian people."

Sholokhov won international fame with "And Quiet Flows the Don," published in 1929. His other works include "Virgin Soil Uplifted" in 1932 and "Harvest on the Don."

Only two Russian authors have previously been selected for a Nobel prize in the award's 64 year history. Boris Pasternak was named in 1958, but he declined the prize, apparently under pressure from the Kremlin. Pasternak's book, "Dr. Zhivago" was banned in the Soviet Union as anti-Communist. The 1933 prize was won by Ivan Bunin, a stateless ex-Russian living in Paris.

The literary prize was the second to be announced for 1965. The award for medicine, announced Thursday, went to three French scientists at the Pasteur Institute in Paris for discovering a new type of regulatory genes in the human body.

Noted Danish Engineer To Speak Here

Gen. Hans Christofferson, noted Danish engineer, will speak at a noon luncheon Friday, Oct. 29, to highlight a one-day waterflooding symposium to be held at the Coronado Inn.

The event, slated October 29 will be sponsored by the Panhandle Section of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME.

The day's activities will get underway with a welcome address by E. L. Green, Jr., vice president and general manager of the Western Region of the Cabot Corp., at 9 a.m. Friday.

W. W. Owens and D. L. Archer, of the Pan American Petroleum Corp., will begin the symposium with a discussion on "Waterflood Pressure - Pulsing for Fractured Reservoirs."

At 9:45 a.m., J. O. Scott and C. E. Forrester of the Cities Service Oil Company, will discuss "Performance of Domes Unit Carbonated Waterflood—First Stage."

J. H. Dunlap of the Skelly Oil Company will discuss "Skelly's Approach to Waterflood Physical Plant Design."

Following a discussion by W. H. Bunch and D. Y. Oakes on "Increased Areal Sweep Efficiency by Scheduled Changes of Injection," at 11:15 a.m., the noon luncheon will be held in the Terrace Room of the Coronado Inn.

The after business to begin at 2 p.m. will feature a discussion by A. W. Baumgartner of the Bradford Laboratories Division of Calgon Corp., on the subject "Texas Panhandle Injection Water Problems and Their Solution."

Ben H. Caudle of the University of Texas will discuss "Predicting the Performance of Injection Operations in Stratified or Pseudo-Stratified Formations."

The final two discussions will feature "Maximum Use of Well Profile Information" by R. D. Concanower and Billy P. Morris of the Western Co., and "Reinjection of Large Volumes of Produced Water in Secondary Operations," by B. P. Dixon and L. E. Newton of the Standard Oil Company of Texas.

Newspaperboys Honored Across Nation Tomorrow

Tomorrow is "National Newspaperboy Day" as a part of National Newspaper Week being observed October 10-16. In keeping with this observance of Newspaperboy Day in every community in the nation where newspapers are delivered, Texas Governor John Connally has issued the following proclamation:

"October 16, 1965, has been designated as 'National Newspaperboy Day' in tribute to the thousands of loyal, efficient American youths who serve the public early and late in the day delivering the newspapers upon which all of us depend.

The experience gained in serving customers on newspaper routes is beneficial to the boys of America who have the privilege of engaging in this work.

It was while serving in these honorable roles that thousands of our business, civic, professional and religious leaders received their first training in our American principles of free enterprise.

It is fitting that the citizens of Texas express their deep appreciation of the day-by-day service rendered by their friendly newspaper carrier salesmen and for the training these boys are receiving.

This newspaper is proud of this important adjunct to our publication staff... your carrier boy... and feel you share this pride in these of our community working so faithfully at this, their first business venture.

Figures Show Gray County Short On Doctors, Nurses

How well equipped Gray County is to take care of the medical and dental needs of its people is brought out in a new, nationwide study.

Locally, it shows, as is the case in nearly every other section of the country, there is a need for more doctors, nurses and other health workers.

Details on the number of people in various health fields, in the local area and in other communities, have just been made public by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Its findings are being submitted to Congress, where plans for a broad program to enlarge the nation's supply of health personnel are under consideration.

Of eight categories of workers covered in the survey, the four largest ones are physicians, dentists, nurses and pharmacists.

Gray County, it shows, has 25 physicians, 15 dentists, 82 nurses, of whom 61 are in active practice, and 26 pharmacists. The figures are by place of residence.

The total, 149 represents a rate of 46 per 10,000 population. By way of comparison, the supply of such personnel in similar counties, based on size and proximity to densely populated areas, averages 55 for each 10,000 people.

The overall supply throughout the Southern States amounts to 52 per 10,000. In the State of Texas it is 50.

Officials say this is well below current needs and still further below the expected needs of the near future, when Medicare goes into effect.

By 1975 we should have 230,000 practicing physicians in the nation, it is calculated, if we are to maintain our present ratio of 140 for every 100,000 persons. This would entail a vast increase in the rate at which we are now producing them.

The need for dentists, nurses, physical therapists, medical technologists and others is also great.

As for hospital facilities in Gray County there are 56 general hospital beds locally per 10,000 people, the report shows. This compares with 38 per 10,000 in the rest of the country.

Weak Cold Front Stalls in Panhandle

By United Press International
A weak Pacific cold front stalled in the Texas Panhandle today and sent a system of thundershowers rolling eastward across the state's northern half. It was partly cloudy and mild elsewhere.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a new cold front would move into the Panhandle by Saturday, bringing rain and perhaps the first cold snap of the autumn.

Showers dampened areas from the Red River southward to beyond Dallas and Fort Worth and into scattered parts of Northeast and East Texas.

It was almost springlike over much of Texas Thursday and the U.S. Weather Bureau issued a six-hour alert for turbulent weather.

The area for which the severe weather forecast was in effect was a 120-mile-wide corridor from San Angelo to 10 miles north of Hobart, Okla. No turbulence developed.

High temperatures Thursday ranged between 93 degrees at Laredo and 81 at Beaumont and Dalhart.

Overnight lows ranged from 43 at Dalhart to 77 at Galveston.

Rain doused a widespread portion of North Texas. Amounts ranged from .75 inch at Perrin Air Force Base to .01 at Childress. Mineral Wells received .16, Dallas 29, Sherman got .69 and 40 fell on Fort Worth.

Heavy downpours brought the threat of flash flooding to communities in central Missouri early today. Thundershowers continued to dump rain on Florida and tropical storm Elena, far out in the Atlantic, was becoming better organized.

Nearly 4 inches of rain hit Windsor, Mo., in the south Missouri Ozarks, where the weather bureau said flooding could occur. Two-inch rains were common over the entire area.

Miami, Fla., recorded 5.66 inches of rain Thursday and it continued to fall. The storm system was expected to continue through southern and central Florida during the day.

Thunderstorms dumped hail in the Kansas City area Thursday and nearly an inch of rain at Marquette, Mich.

The weather bureau said tropical storm Elena was located about 1,450 miles east of Miami and 600 miles southeast of Bermuda. Its highest winds were estimated at 50 miles an hour, but the storm appeared to be getting better organized.

Tropical storm Elena, slowed to a crawl by a high pressure system, was expected to become better organized today and (See WEATHER, Page 3)

Demonstrations Set On Viet Nam Policy

Protests Against Protests

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (UPI)—New Mexico State University students are donating blood for Viet Nam in protest of other student groups demonstrating against American involvement in Southeast Asia.

The program, involving every campus organization, began Wednesday when a medical team from William Beaumont Army Hospital, El Paso, had to turn away 40 of 70 donors, a school spokesman said.

Maj. Francis Cunnion, NMSU aerospace professor, said Thursday an estimated 60 students will donate blood in the next two weeks. The number will increase after that, he said.

Donating blood was the 'one way of reacting' the students had, Cunnion said. "The nucleus of the protest" began with university ROTC units but spread until "everyone" was involved, he added.

Cunnion said the turnout was a protest of "the Berkeley incident" and other actions by student groups protesting the presence of American soldiers in Viet Nam.

The action was begun in hopes students at other universities and colleges "would pick it up," Cunnion said. "I think it's going to work," he said.

Spokesmen for William Beaumont Hospital said Thursday a medical team would visit the campus next week "with sufficient supplies to take care of all who show up."

Pampa High School A Cappella Choir received national recognition today with the announcement it has been chosen to appear in concert at the national convention of the American Choral Directors Association next March in Kansas City, Mo. Shown here beginning preparations for the event, left to right, are Freddy Upshaw, Terry Trice, Jo Ann Craig, choir secretary, and Hugh Sanders, choir director.

Nationwide Protests Set for Weekend

By United Press International
Critics of U.S. policies in Viet Nam were ready today to mount what they hoped would be their most extensive protest against the war—a weekend series of demonstrations in more than 100 cities from coast to coast.

Supporters of government policies prepared counter-demonstrations and a Senate subcommittee said the anti-Viet Nam movement is controlled by "Communists and extremist elements who are openly sympathetic to the Viet Cong."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said the planned demonstrations against U.S. policy were "terrible."

The National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Viet Nam, headquartered in Madison, Wis., said protest demonstrations would be staged today, Saturday and Sunday in more than 100 U.S. cities. Several protests were conducted Thursday, including a "haunt-in" against Gen. Maxwell B. Taylor, former U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam.

A fist fight broke out between a Rutgers University student and the parents of a U.S. Coast Guardsman in Viet Nam Thursday night outside the building where a cold war "teach-in" was being held on the Rutgers campus at New Brunswick, N.J. War veterans and members of the Knights of Columbus picketed the teach-in.

Major demonstrations were to be held at Berkeley, Calif., and New York City. A pro U.S. foreign policy group said it hopes to draw 1,500 college students to a "reverse teach-in" at Washington to hear Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., vice chairman of the Senate internal security subcommittee.

The subcommittee Thursday released a report on the movement against U.S. Viet Nam policies. Among its findings was that "control of the anti-Viet Nam movement has clearly passed from the hands of the moderate elements who may have controlled it, at one time, into the hands of the Communists and extremist elements who are openly sympathetic to the Viet Cong and openly hostile to the United States."

Dodd said this was "particularly true" of the demonstrations planned for this weekend.

The Texas Civil Liberties Union (TCLU) planned to file a suit today for an injunction to force the City Council to issue a parade permit to students protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), a group of University of Texas students who oppose the U.S. action in Southeast Asia, applied for the permit yesterday but were turned down.

Elizabeth M. Burba, executive director of the TCLU, said the suit was being filed by attorney Sam Houston Clinton Jr. on behalf of SDS.

"I absolutely loathe and disapprove the whole program," said Mayor Lester Palmer. He cast the tie-breaking vote of the city council to decide whether the parade permit would be issued.

The students promised to march anyway, restricting their parade to the sidewalks.

Rick Rubottom, a member of the protesters, told the council the SDS would abide by the ruling and stay off the streets.

"If we had intended to use civil disobedience we wouldn't have come here in the first place," he said.

National Protest
The students asked for the permit to parade in connection with an International Day of Protest observed by liberal groups across the country. Scott Pittman, an SDS member, told the council 76 cities will have parades.

"Seventy-six city councils have already shown they still believe in Democracy," he told (See Demonstrations, Page 3)

Conference On Credit Meets Here

Approximately 100 persons from over the northern half of Texas are expected to begin arriving in Pampa late today and tomorrow to attend a two-day regional credit conference slated Saturday and Sunday in the Coronado Inn.

Wynn Veale, manager of the Pampa Retail Credit office, said approximately 100 out of town persons are expected to attend and about 25 local delegates are expected to register.

Principal address at the conference will be given by B. Watkins, general manager of the Dunlap Stores of Lubbock. Watkins will address a general meeting at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Starlight Room on the subject, "Keeping Yourself Current."

Veale said the two-day agenda includes individual business sessions beginning Saturday morning and running until noon Sunday.

Sponsors of the Region I conference are the Associated Credit Bureaus of Texas, Consumer Credit Association of Texas and Lone Star Council of Credit Women.

The conference is to end following a banquet and election and installation of officers at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Pampa's A Cappella Choir Is Selected for Concert

Pampa High School's A Cappella Choir has been selected to present a concert at the National Convention of the American Choral Directors Association in Kansas City, Mo., March 16-17. It was announced today by Hugh Sanders, choir director.

"We feel this is one of the highest honors we can receive and we will work to present a worthy concert," Sanders said.

In July, Sanders received a letter requesting that he submit a recent tape to the selection committee of ACDA, an affiliate of the Music Educators National Conference of the United States. The selection was made from many high school choirs throughout the nation.

Selection was based on superior quality, and understanding and interpretive skill apparent in the performance of various style periods. The choir will present a concert and will be used for demonstration by a guest clinician.

The Pampa High School Choir has been described throughout Texas as a concert organization of astonishing polish and maturity. Its tone is rich and vibrant. Dr. Houston Bright, music composer, stated in recommendation of the choir.

Last year, the Pampa A Cappella Choir was chosen from 25 Texas high school choirs to present a concert at the Southwestern Music Educators National Conference in Oklahoma City.

Rogers Arrives For 5-Day Tour

Congressman Walter Rogers arrived in Amarillo last night for a five-day visit and speaking tour of the Panhandle.

The congressman's schedule included a stay in Amarillo today and Saturday morning before going to the Cotton Festival in Hedley Saturday afternoon.

He is expected to arrive in Pampa late tomorrow.

Monday Rogers will speak at the monthly membership luncheon of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in Coronado Inn.

Rogers has several appointments Monday and Tuesday and is due to depart for Washington at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday.

More Troubles Plague Titan Rocket Shot

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The Air Force ran into more delaying snags today in a second attempt to send its power-packed Titan-3C rocket into orbit with two satellites and a mission calling for a series of space hi-jinks.

The shot had been set for 10 a.m. EST (11 a.m. EDT), but the Air Force said there would be at least an hour's delay because a fuel drain line was accidentally disconnected causing some spillage near the super booster.

An attempt to launch the triple-barreled rocket was called off Thursday because of a driving rain that would have blocked necessary camera coverage. The weather today was about the same and remained a constant threat to the launch.

Once the two satellites are kicked into their own orbits, the Titan's "switch engine" third stage was programmed to perform a record string of stops and starts in space to prove it has the maneuverability for its future military payloads.

Moslems Burn Chinese-Run University

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—Five hundred anti-Communist Moslem demonstrators burned the Chinese-run Republica University Thursday after hand-to-hand fighting with students that injured 15 to 20 persons.

Police and soldiers followed the demonstrators into the university grounds. They arrested 40 students but none of the demonstrators.

The incident produced the first casualties in a series of anti-Red demonstrations resulting from an abortive coup to take over the government of President Sukarno. Pro-government groups blame the Communists and their Red Chinese associates for the attempted takeover.

Unofficial reports circulating in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, said that Indonesian Communist party leader D.N. Aidit was hiding in the Chinese Communist Embassy here.

There have been persistent reports that Aidit, with Communist Chinese connivance, was the mastermind of the abortive power grab which rocked Indonesia two weeks ago. He was last reported seen in public on Sept. 28.

In a broadcast heard here today, Radio Jakarta issued another appeal for calm on behalf of President Sukarno, indicating that the political and military situation remained uncertain and potentially dangerous.

Dallas Theater Center Opens With The 'Tempest'

By WILBORN HAMPTON
DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas Theater Center opened its 7th season last night with a stunning production of Shakespeare's "The Tempest," which, in the final analysis, fell somewhat short of expectations. Perhaps, the expectations had been too high, but director Paul Baker had digressed from the repertory tradition and brought in an actor of star status from New York and engaged designer Bjorn Winblad of Denmark for the sets and costumes. Too, Baker himself directed. All of this talent working on one of Shakespeare's greatest masterpieces excited the highest anticipation in years.

To be perfectly honest, the result of the production was probably very near what Baker set out to achieve, and it was mainly a matter of interpretation with which one disagrees. Shakespeare knew "The Tempest" would be the last play he was going to write and obviously wrote through the character of Prospero his emotions on finishing his life's work.

"The Tempest," taken straight and honest, to be sure, borders on sentimentality. But to pigeon-hole it as a comedy is a gross misappraisal of some of the finest poetry in the English language.

It is doubtful that Baker intended for all that was laughed at to be comedic. But the opening scene drew more amusement than the comic relief of Stephano and Trinculo.

Michael O'Sullivan, who arrived to play Prospero with an impressive list of credits, including a lavishly lauded Lear in San Francisco and other Shakespearean experience, was by far the best thing on stage. It seemed, however, he was playing to a direction in which he was uncomfortable. Perhaps, he had to be reigned to keep pace with those around him, but some of the magic of Prospero's line was not as eloquent as one has heard before.

For instance, O'Sullivan breezed through the long opening scene monologue which serves as exposition. Such lines as "my zenith doth depend upon a most auspicious star" fell barely audible.

And Ariel presented himself as an extremely virile apparition who could by no stretch of the imagination be called "gentle." Certainly he was no sprit "too delicate to act abhorred commands" of any sort. He seemed ready for a barroom brawl the moment he fell with a thud on stage.

And Caliban, despite a lot of ominous roaring offstage, could hardly be termed "fearsome." He reminded one more of the Cowardly Lion in "The Wizard of Oz." He played more a clown than a beast.

Panhellenic Group Plans Coffee and Installation

The annual Pampa Panhellenic coffee and installation of officers will be held in the Hospitality Room of Citizens Bank and Trust Company Saturday morning, Oct. 16, at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Glenn A. Newbold of Amarillo will be the installing officer and will speak afterwards to the group on the Spirit of Panhellenic. Mrs. Newbold, a very active civic leader in Amarillo, is a member of Delta Gamma sorority and is completing a two-year term as Province Alumnae Chairman which includes the entire state of Texas.

Mrs. Newbold has also been city recommendations chairman and president of the Amarillo alumnae association of Delta Gamma.

Other local activities for the speaker include the Young Women's Christian Association board, past president of the United Service Organization board, Junior League board, past Directress of St. Andrews Altar Guild, past president of the Amarillo Symphony Guild and is currently serving another term as board member of the latter.

Officers to be installed for the coming year in the local Panhellenic chapter are Mmes. J. R. Schuneman, president; Howard Wilmoth, vice president; Homer Johnson, secretary and Albert Wagner, treasurer.

Panhellenic is a national organization composed of all women who belong to nationally recognized Greek letter social sororities on college campuses. This voluntary organization promotes the importance of fraternities and sororities whose goals are developing leadership, encouraging loyalty, providing training, emphasizing scholarship and promoting high standards.

All national college sorority women are invited to attend the coffee and installation. Approximately 100 members comprise the local Panhellenic group.

Lawyer Fired in Court

TYLER, Tex. (UPI) — Byron Eugene Young, 32, got angry and fired his lawyer in court Thursday during a hearing in an attempt to get Young released from jail.

Young is charged with stealing a $22,000 airplane in Tyler and a car in Oklahoma.

District Judge R. P. Power appointed another lawyer for Young then postponed the habeas corpus hearing until next Thursday.

The hearing said Young is being held illegally for Oklahoma authorities.

Young was arrested in Tyler on an Oklahoma fugitive warrant for car theft. After several days he was freed when Attorney Kenneth King arranged $5,000 bond on the Oklahoma charge.

Shortly after he got out of jail Sept. 6, Young was charged with stealing the airplane.

Administration Forces Seek Votes To Push Sugar Measure Through

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration backers sought today to round up enough votes to push President Johnson's proposal for sugar legislation through a sharply divided Senate committee.

The administration proposal ran into unexpectedly heavy fire Thursday when the Senate Finance Committee opened hearings. Senate leaders hoped the committee could complete hearings and begin drafting its version of the bill today.

The bill is one of the last pieces of "must" legislation standing in the way of congressional adjournment. It would continue government control of all sugar marketing in the United States through a system of quotas for domestic and foreign producers.

Both the administration proposal and a measure approved by the House earlier this week would establish annual quotas through 1971. There is considerable opposition to both measures.

Housing: Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., promised to attempt to rescue President Johnson's plan to provide rent subsidies for some needy families. The program was denied pilot funds by the House, but Sparkman said he would try to get approval for funds in the Senate.

MAY CUT POSTS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is considering abandoning a few of its military installations in France as a matter of "cost reduction and efficiency," according to the State Department.

It said Thursday no significant changes were contemplated "at the present time," however. A spokesman also stressed that "no political significance should be drawn from any of these possibly contemplated actions."

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said it was part of continued examination of U.S. military base needs both at home and abroad.

House-Senate compromise of Johnson's higher education bill comes to the floor Monday.

Beef: Undaunted by the approach of adjournment, Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., introduced legislation to create a national commission to promote exports of beef. The commission would be composed of five presidential appointees and would serve as a central overseer for programs to promote beef exports.

Soviets Pass Anniversary of Khrushchev Fall

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviets today ignored the first anniversary of Nikita S. Khrushchev's fall from power. The man who ruled Russia for more than a decade was in seclusion at his country home, disgraced and relegated to the status of an "unperson."

Soviet newspapers made no mention of the upheaval a year ago that deposed Khrushchev and replaced him with two-headed leadership — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Khrushchev held both posts under the old regime. In the 12 months since Khrushchev's demise, the makeup of the Soviet government and party has remained stable, a situation which the Chinese Communists have called "Khrushchevism without Khrushchev."

None of the members of the all-important party presidium has been purged, although promotions have been given to three young Communist leaders — Kyril Mazurov, Alexander Shelepin and Dmitri Polyansky. The editorship of Russia's two most important newspapers — Izvestia and Pravda — has changed hands twice during the past year.

In domestic policies, the most spectacular change by Kosygin and Brezhnev has been the placing of Russian industry on the profit system, a move apparently designed to speed the growth rate.

Suspended Terms Given Train 'Robbers'

SHERMAN, Tex. (UPI) — Fourteen men were sentenced to five years in prison Thursday and given probated terms for their part in stealing more than $200,000 in merchandise from box cars of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas (Katy) Railroad.

Grayson County Atty. Dean Martin recommended the suspended sentences after the railroad men admitted the thefts. Most presented character witnesses and said they had never been in trouble before.

Three others remain to be tried, but so far Sheriff Woody Blanton has been unable to locate them.

Martin said all should get the same penalty. "I feel it would be far better for all to receive a five-year probated sentence and be under supervision of a probation officer than for perhaps two or three to be convicted and the rest go free."

Convicted were V. C. Cates, John Cowherd, Cleo Browder, High Grady Sr., Alvin Hunt, Clark Johnson, Lowell King, Johnny Neff, Levi Nelson, Othel Neal, Charlie Pritchard, Harold Shoemaker and Robert Shoemaker.

The $200,000 in merchandise was taken from boxcars over an 18-month period. Most of the loot was recovered, but it was often weeks or months before the goods' absence was noticed.

World Painting Auction Record Is Broken

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world auction record for modern paintings was broken Thursday night in a $3,365,600 sale at which a secretive American collector paid an unparalleled $800,000 for one of Cezanne's impressionist landscapes.

The auction of 55 canvases at the Parke-Bernet Galleries not only topped the previous most expensive sale of works painted since 1870—a $2.3 million sale in London in 1963—but it also set new auction records for four French artists, Cezanne, Manet, Guillaumin and Duchamp.

A price of $616,000 for a Cezanne had stood as the auction record for a modern painting since a London sale in 1958. American prosperity and the increasing scarcity of prime impressionist works made it inevitable that the masterful painting sold Thursday night. "Houses at Estaque," would bring even more.

Nuckols To Head Gray County Bee

B. R. Nuckols, Gray County school superintendent, has been named 1966 Spelling Bee director for Gray County.

Some time before April 9, the Gray County Bee will be held, and the champion will go to Amarillo on April 23 for the annual regional elimination for the National Spelling Bee.

Last year, Mike Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Haynes of McLean was the Gray County champion and placed 5th in the regional Bee. He was an 8th grader in McLean Junior High School.

The Amarillo Globe-News, which has sponsored the High Plains area Bee since 1949, also has a unique secondary contest — the Junior Spelling Bee, open only to contestants from the 6th and lower grades. The National Bee is open to all students, 16 years of age and under, through the 8th grade.

The Gray County Junior Champion for 1965 was Laurie Dingman, daughter of Mrs. Joan Dingman of Pampa. She was a 6th grader in Travis School.

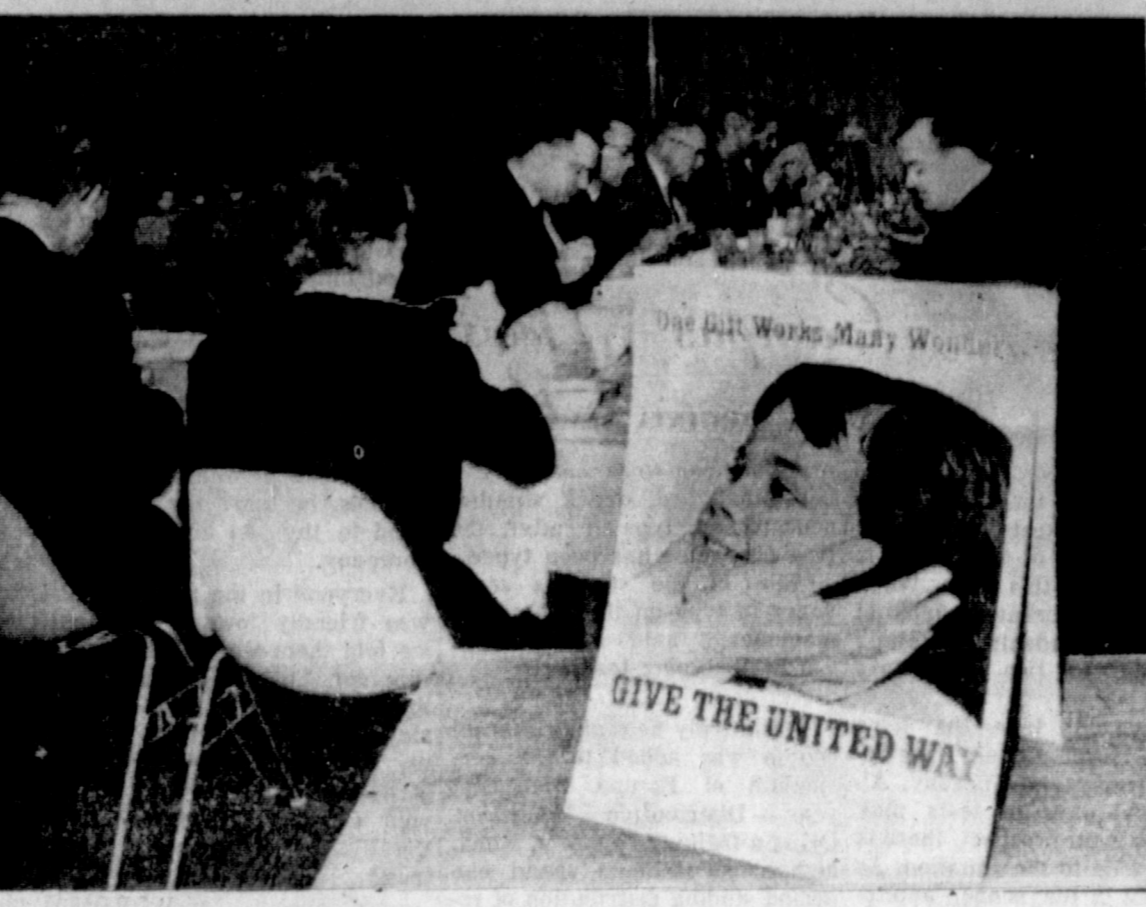

First place winner in the regional Bee will go to Washington during the first week in June, 1966, to participate in the National Spelling Bee.

Each County champion receives an engraved plaque and a gold pen. Each County Junior champion is given a trophy and a silver pin during the intermission at the Regional Bee (but there is no regional contest between the juniors; they are merely guests for the annual Spelling Bee luncheon held in the Amarillo Club).

In the school contests, each winner receives a fountain pen, inscribed "School Champion" and a blue and gold ribbon likewise imprinted. Each school junior winner receives a red and gold ribbon trophy. Each student who entered the Bee receives a ribbon trophy also.

Gray County has had a regional champion in Pat Ludeman of Pampa, who won the 1961 Bee.

DELIVERS PROTEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Spanish ambassador protested to the State Department Thursday about the bombing of a Spanish ship at San Juan, Puerto Rico.
The Marquis de Merry del Val protested against the placing of the bomb aboard the vessel Sunday by members of the Insurreccional Movement for Revolutionary Recovery, a Cuban exile group.
A spokesman for the Cubans, Orlando Bosch, said the bombing was the first shot in a "war" on Spanish and British ships trading with Cuba.

UNITED FUND BREAKFAST — The second phase of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign was kicked off this morning with a breakfast meeting for workers in the special gifts division. The group is pictured here at breakfast along with a drive poster with the theme of the campaign "One Gift Works Many Wonders."

Pampans Attend Vocation School At Okmulgee

OKMULGEE, Okla. — Fourteen from Pampa are among the largest number of students ever to attend Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee; according to Wayne W. Miller, director.

They are among the 2,294 students enrolled in vocational and technical studies for the fall trimester, which began Aug. 30.

Most departments showed an enrollment increase of from 17 to more than 25 percent. Those showing the greatest gain are culinary arts, commerce and building construction.

Although showing a net gain of 19.7 percent, automotive is the largest department with a total enrollment of 527, more than 100 over the same period last year. Diesel mechanics, with a new student enrollment of 200, shows a 21.4 percent increase with a total enrollment of 387.

Pampans enrolled in one of the more than 30 vocational and technical courses at Tech and their course of study are: Bobby Adams, engineering aide; Donna Cole, secretarial; Gary Cole, drafting; Alford Cross general business; John Hazle, auto mechanics; Gerry Ingram, diesel farm machinery; James McDaniel, dry cleaning; Donald Maul, auto mechanics; Ronald Maul, auto mechanics; William Maul, auto mechanics; Bob Ouseley, baking; Wayne Pursley, industrial electronics; Keven Romines, diesel mechanics; Tod Watkins, auto mechanics.

Youth's Bond Set At $10,000 in Gageby Robbery

David Lee Swab, 17, of Mason, Mich., accused of the attempted robbery of the general store in Gageby, was placed under $10,000 bond yesterday in Wheeler following the filing of formal charges.

Swab allegedly purchased gas at the store in Gageby Wednesday night and followed the storekeeper, G. L. Anderholt, to the cash register, pulled a .22 pistol and demanded the money.

When Anderholt refused to hand over the money, the youth allegedly shot twice, striking him in the chest one time.

The youth was captured almost two hours after the robbery on Highway 66 near Conway.

Gageby, one of the two smallest towns in Texas, has a population of 2.

Mayor Palmer.
Miss Elizabeth Barba, executive director of the Texas Civil Liberties Union, said she was "ashamed of being a citizen of Austin" in light of the council's refusal to grant a permit.

A group of Young Republicans from the University spoke against issuance of the permit. They said they were for the Johnson Administration position in Viet Nam.

Cites Industry
Larry Amerine, student attorney general at the school, said the protest would harm the city's bid for an Atomic Energy Commission installation.

"The Atomic Energy Commission would not want to bring the atom smasher here if it thought this ready-made set of beatniks might be sitting on its doorstep," Amerine said.

Mrs. Emma Long and Travis LaRue were the two council members voting for issuance of the parade permit. They said the council had no right to consider international policy.

"This council has every right to pass on ideas, actions and anything that might incite feelings," Mayor Palmer said. Councilmen Ben White and Louis Shanks voted against issuing the permit.

Obituaries

(Daniel A. Skibinski)
Funeral arrangements for Daniel A. Skibinski, 41, of Pampa, who died enroute to Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, yesterday evening, are incomplete with Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors.

Rosary will be read at 7:30 p.m. today and 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Sacred Heart Catholic Church of White Deer.

Mr. Skibinski was born Feb. 23, 1924, in White Deer, moving to Pampa recently from there. He served overseas with the U. S. Army during World War II. Mr. Skibinski was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church of White Deer.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skibinski of White Deer, and six sisters: Mrs. Laddie Kotara and Mrs. Buisz Urbanczyk, both of White Deer; Mrs. R. L. Wyatt of Pampa; Mrs. Dorothy Johnson of Amarillo; Mrs. Irene Kalka of Houston and Mrs. M. J. Whitechurch of Belfair, Wash.

gain intensity in the tropical Atlantic.

Forecasters said Elena, fifth tropical twister of the waning season, would not be a threat to any land area for the next day or two.

The storm was near latitude 25.6 north, longitude 58.1 west, or about 1,400 miles east of Miami and 600 miles southeast of Bermuda this morning.

Elena was packing top winds of 50 miles an hour in squalls and was drifting toward the north-northwest at six miles an hour.

Forecaster Raymond Kraft said a high pressure system moving across the Atlantic Ocean would probably block Elena's northward movement and force the storm to take a more westerly course.

Accident Rate Up in Pampa

Pampa's monthly accident rate took a sharp increase during September according to figures prepared for the National Safety Council by the Pampa Police Department.

In September, the police department investigated 38 accidents within the city limits which accounted for some 24 persons injured.

This figure compares with a total of 57 accidents and only 12 persons injured for September one year ago.

As of September 30 this year, there have been 398 accidents in Pampa accounting for some 11 persons injured.

The comparable period last year accounted for 467 accidents, 104 injuries and one person killed.

The figures also reveal that persons under the age of 20 were involved in the majority of the accidents while male drivers had almost twice as many accidents as did females.

Speeding and failure to yield right of way were the major contributors to the accidents, respectively.

Total property damage as a result of the 38 accidents in September totaled $12,109.

Pampa High School Campus News

By VIRGINIA DEWITT

One match down and five to go in the battle of the student versus six weeks tests. Yesterday marked the end of the first six weeks tests of this year. While most students breathe sighs of relief, some students at Pampa High are facing two more days of tests.

Juniors will take the Iowa Tests of Educational Development Monday and Tuesday. Although five days of tests may present a grim prospect, there is a bright side to the situation. As juniors sit in the school auditorium waiting for the next part of the exam to begin, they can imagine the plights of sophomores and seniors who are attending classes.

Pampa High may get another crack at Wichita Falls Rider's Raiders. However, the contest will not be of an athletic nature. Red Cross Youth, composed of delegates from each high school homeroom, is challenging Rider in the fund raising drive that is scheduled for next month.

"The purpose of the challenge is to encourage participation in the fund drive and see which school can raise the most money for Red Cross," said Glenna Brown, president. Other officers are John Curry, vice-president and Barbara Holt, secretary. Mr. Howard Graham, American History teacher, is sponsor.

At the end of this year one member will be named Red Cross Youth Worker. The winner will be selected on a point system. Along with the title the winner will also receive a $10 gift certificate.

Returning the typewriter carriage is an important movement for any Typing I student who is trying to improve his speed. The student who has already mastered the technique of mechanically returning the carriage is in for quite a surprise if he should find himself typing on one of the six new IBM selective typewriters that the commercial department purchased this year.

The new machines have no moving carriages. All the keys are located on a small ball. A word of safety — don't burn brush or trash in or around woodlands until the adjoining landowners have been notified. Place a large tray near the board to hold small items after ironing. Then carry these to drawers and shelves on one trip.

Club and is a benefit concert to assist with their work with handicapped children. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Fagan, Mrs. Yoder or Tracy Cary and can also be purchased at the door. The public is invited to attend.

machines can store one of two keys that are struck simultaneously and type it after the first character has been typed.

"Most of the students seem eager to type on these amazing machines," said Mr. Melvin Cardwell, typing teacher.

A relatively new and different course was added to the curriculum of Pampa High last year — Distributive Education. DE is a training course in which high school students spend one period studying distribution of retail and wholesale goods. In the afternoon students put classroom ideas to practical use by working in various Pampa businesses. Besides getting paid for their work, they are graded by their employers on the degree of efficiency with which they perform their duties.

Students of DE formed a local chapter of the national club called Distributive Education Club of America or DECA. Jim Connor will serve as president of the club this year. Linda Vickery is vice-president and Carolyn Nail is secretary. Mr. Elbert Albritton, former industrial arts teacher, teaches DE and sponsors DECA.

Don Harris, circulation manager of the school paper the Little Harvester, received a letter from the Newspaper Fund of the Wall Street Journal in Princeton, N. J. informing him that a feature he wrote had been selected to appear in the Newspaper Fund's newsletter, "These Struck Off Fancy."

The article entitled "Students' Opinions on Viet Nam Indicate Support of U. S. Policy" appeared in the Sept. 24 issue of the Little Harvester. The newsletter is distributed to over 3,000 high schools across the nation.

DEAR ABBY...

When It's Legal It's Also Moral

DEAR ABBY: My bachelor cousin came to town and I invited him to stay with me and my 14-year-old son. I am a widow, 48, and this cousin is at least 65. He is retired, financially comfortable and good company. He pays his share, which helps me a lot as I have no income except what I work for. Besides, he takes me places, is good to my son and I like his company.

Everyone in the neighborhood was friendly toward him until we told them we planned to get married. This is no torrid romance. Abby, it's just a marriage of convenience for both of us. A neighbor told me that it is against the law to marry your cousin, and according to the Bible, it's incest. Is this true?

DEAR WORRIED: Don't worry about what your neighbor said. Consult a lawyer about the legalities. (Laws pertaining to marriage between cousins differ from state to state.) If it's legal, it's moral.

DEAR ABBY: I have received a proposal of marriage from a man 50 years of age. (I am 41.) He has had a very good education and is a successful businessman, but his table manners are atrocious! Abby, he doesn't even know how to hold a fork properly.

Is it possible to teach a man his age how to eat? I doubt if I could sit across the table from him for the rest of my life and overlook it. So how do I tell him? I do not want to lose him. DELICATE PROBLEM. DEAR DELICATE: Yes, it's possible to teach a man his age how to eat. But don't attempt to overhaul his entire method of eating all at once. One "suggestion" at a time is sufficient. And let him know that you are "ashamed" of him, but because you love him.

DEAR ABBY: When I met Obert he was a fighter pilot in the Air Force. He told me he would "soon" be out and we would settle down and establish a home. We have been married for ten years now, have four children and have moved 16 times. Obert is gone on missions over 60 per cent of the time. He comes home long enough to move us to some dirty, old, falling-down house, then takes off again to "save his country," and I am left with yelling kids and the unpacking to do. Every time I get a house cleaned up, painted and papered, it's time to move again.

I want a permanent home, Abby. And a husband to help me raise our children. This moving is especially hard on the children as two of them are physically handicapped and it's not easy for them to adjust to changes. Would I be justified in leaving an otherwise good man because I despise this way of living?

PART-TIME WIFE. DEAR WIFE: No, but talk it over. Since Obert did lead you to believe that he did not intend to spend his life in the Air Force, he owes you some assurance that his future will be charted out with this in mind.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CONSTANT WORRIER IN ROCK ISLAND: Worry has never solved anything. Take care of your character and your reputation will take care of itself.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

Piano Ensemble Concert To Be Presented Sunday

The Amarillo Piano Ensemble, consisting of 20 pianists under the direction of Mrs. Virgean Estes Latson, will present a concert next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Stephen F. Austin Junior High Auditorium in Amarillo.

The entire group will perform the "Coronation March" by Meerbeyver, two modern numbers, "Jazz Pizzicato" by Anderson and "Zeguener Waltz" by Coward, closing the program with the well-known "Tannhauser March," which will also be augmented with an organ and trumpets.

Also included in the program will be "Blithe Bells," using four pianos and organ, several Spanish and Russian numbers performed by four players, a trumpet trio, and "Two Cuban" dances played by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wheeler, who gave an entire two-piano concert last spring.

Mrs. Latson has directed the group in concerts which have been presented in the Municipal Auditorium and also at the Musical Arts Conservatory during recent years. Two local musicians, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder and Mrs. Lois Fagan, have participated in some of these previous performances.

This concert is being co-sponsored by the Amarillo Kiwanis

Your Child And School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Some parents have legitimate complaints against the schools while others raise issues which have no basis in fact. In either case, the important issue is the effect of the parents attitudes and actions upon their children.

A student should respect his teachers, the school and the value of education. This respect is necessary for his success both as a student and as a member of society. He must learn to adjust to many different kinds of situations, some of which he may not particularly like.

Parents should therefore support the school and its staff rather than express any dissatisfaction in front of their children. If the child has complaints, parents should make every effort to help the child understand why the problem is occurring as well as how he should solve it. A further investigation of the facts may be in order. If so, the parents should arrange a meeting with the teacher, principal or other involved individuals.

Complaints by parents can be placed in three categories. Disagreements with system wide policies such as budget, construction programs and salaries do not directly involve students. These matters should be brought before the school board.

A second category of complaints concerns policies which have a more direct effect upon students. These are such items as transportation, curriculum, textbooks, entrance age requirements and other similar areas which are required by the board or administrative regulations. Problems related to this category should be discussed with the administration and the board.

GOP Marks Ike's 75th

By United Press International
In cities and towns from coast to coast Thursday night, Republicans joined to wish former President Dwight D. Eisenhower a happy 75th birthday, blast the Democrats and, incidentally, raise some needed cash.

Colored Leader Sees Court Order As Most Sweeping 'Mix' Victory

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. predicted Thursday that a federal court order issued in Augusta will make racially tense Taliaferro County "the most integrated county in Georgia, or even the South."
A three-judge federal panel gave Crawfordville Negroes a victory in their efforts to halt the busing of white students to out-of-town schools. The court also ordered the Negroes to stop trying to board the buses open to halt demonstrations outside Murden (Negro) High School.
The court refused to issue a sweeping order calling for the end of all demonstrations. Besides the school situation, Negroes may have been protesting against economic reprisals and job losses because of civil rights activity.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., speaking at Cleveland, set the theme for the string of $100-a-plate dinners — and unveiled what appeared to be a new GOP counterattack—when he charged it was the Democrats "who let extremism play a major role" in their party.

Morton, who recently urged that the GOP rid itself of John Birch Society infiltrators, charged that the Democratic National Committee gave $10,000 to a research group he said "practices Birchism of the left."

Names Organization
He identified the organization as Group Research, Inc., and labeled it a "blacklist factory." He said it advertised itself as "private, nonprofit organization of professional research people who maintain a vigilant watch over the activities of extremists of all shades who threaten American democracy."

But, said Morton, Group Research "issues a blacklist of some 2,000 names... (costing) $50 a copy—and the Democratic National Committee circulates the thing."

Some of the names on this "addepated blacklist" are Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., John L. McClellan, D-Ark., former Rep. Brooks Hays, D-Ark., and even the late Herbert Hoover and Estes Kefauver, Morton said.

Matches Birchers
"I say this is an exercise in extremism that matches Birch pronouncements outrage by outrage," Morton added.

Aside from the attack, the main thrust of the GOP assault on the Democrats was along lines laid down by Eisenhower himself in a 15-minute film prepared for showing at the dinners.

In a conversation with motion picture star James Stewart, Eisenhower said, "The laws a nation lives by have to be hammered out by debate, by thoughtful discussion and by give and take. They cannot be bulldozed through just by political power. In legislation, it is not how many laws you pass, it is how many good laws you pass."

Foreign Commentary

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International
President Johnson, within the next few months, probably will have to make some critical new decisions regarding the Viet Nam war.

This time, unlike previous occasions, the necessity to review the situation will arise from American successes rather than Communist gains.

The United States now has more than 140,000 military personnel in South Viet Nam. The number is expected to rise to almost 190,000 by Christmas. American air attacks on Red North Viet Nam continue.

The steadily increasing application of U.S. military power has reversed the tide of nine months ago and made it clear American forces are not going to be driven off the Southeast Asian mainland. Unfortunately, it also may have led to some extravagant expectations.

Two Views
The question the President appears to face around the first of the year is whether to continue the escalation or level off American military operations while revitalized South Vietnamese forces try to clean up the Communist guerrillas, which U.S. fighters have dispersed but not subdued.

A variety of pressures undoubtedly will be exerted on the President in an effort to influence his future course.

Some influential voices in Congress and elsewhere probably will argue that the United States should take advantage of the military momentum it has achieved to deliver even more decisive blows against Hanoi in an effort to win total victory in Viet Nam.

Others at the opposite end of the spectrum undoubtedly will contend that Washington, having reversed the earlier course of events and put the Reds on the defensive, should pause and intensify its efforts for peace talks.

Urge Peace Moves
Neutralists abroad, and even some of the Allies, are again urging suspension of U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam on the grounds this might induce the Communists to talk peace. The President's top advisers are inclined to neither extreme. They see no point in suspending air attacks and intensifying peace offers in the absence of any indication that the Communists are interested.

At the same time they recognize the perils of a massive escalation of the war effort which might bring Red China into the conflict and eventually involve a million or more U.S. troops in an inconclusive land war.

Administration officials acknowledge the Viet Nam war is but part of a broad struggle between Red China and the United States over whether independent or neutral nations in that area are to be permitted to exist untroubled by their neighbors.

However, they believe this can best be established by the primary American goal—to help South Viet Nam subdue the Communist forces still controlling more than half the country, and to guarantee South Viet Nam's territorial integrity and sovereignty against the Reds to the north.

Middle Course
This is the difficult middle course. Officials realize that eventually it will cost Johnson the support of "hard line" elements who are hoping he will carry the war north for a showdown with China. It also will intensify criticism for the "soft line" adherents who would like to grasp at any possibility for peace talks even on terms detrimental to the West.

Indications are that Johnson will go very slow in any escalation of military operations beyond the first of the year. U.S. officials have been gratified by the morale boost in South Vietnamese forces following Washington's demonstration of its determination to stay in the fight at all costs. They believe that these forces, operating behind the protection of American power, eventually will achieve their goal.

It will be a long struggle but the cost in American lives will be far less than would occur if a more adventurous policy were adopted.

IN TEXAS TOURISM

Governor Sees Future Prosperity

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)— Gov. John Connally said today a growing interest in tourism in Texas is leading toward prosperity in the future for the state.

The governor addressed a statewide "governor's tourism development conference" sponsored by his office and the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

He said a growing interest among Texans "in their tourist industry is one of our most gratifying trends." The conference, he said, was called to assure coordination of those interests.

"We are all aware that a state-financed program to enhance our tourist program cannot of itself be a complete success. The essential ingredient to any successful program to tap the almost limitless tourist potential in our state is local programs designed to attract tourists to our communities and keep them there as long as possible," he added.

Last year tourism accounted for $680 million spent in Texas, space-related industries as "the state's most lucrative sources of future income."

He said tourism ranks with Read The News Classified Ads

SENDS LETTER
WASHINGTON (UPI)— Mrs. John F. Kennedy sent "a very sweet letter" to President Johnson saying how gratified she was with his recovery from gall bladder surgery, it was reported Thursday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Johnson, said Mrs. Kennedy wrote Johnson she was happy with the progress he was making and was "so pleased he looked so well in the newspaper pictures." The former First Lady also sent her love to Mrs. Johnson and her two daughters.

National Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
If President Johnson has in truth run out of bright new ideas for the next session of the 89th Congress, your correspondent has an idea LBJ can have for free. It is this:

Send to the next session of the Congress a message seeking an expansion of the powers of the comptroller general of the United States. The new power would be to establish a running audit of the initial and ultimate costs of all projects authorized by Congress.

If Congress authorized a 10-or-20-year project requiring $100 million the first year, the comptroller general would run up a cost estimate of the annual expenditure throughout the life of the program. More often than not, these programs have an ascending cost record, up the second year from the first, up the third year from the second and so on.

It would be a safe bet that fewer than half the members of Congress could come up with a remotely responsive answer to a question such as this:

"So far in this session of Congress, how much has been appropriated for spending this year? Next year? Thereafter?"

A running audit of congressional spending underway and projected would inform congressmen as well as mere citizens. The enormity of the spending figure might persuade some of the public's servants in Washington to go easier on the public's pocketbook.

The office of the comptroller general could do the job because the comptroller general is unbosomed. The office was created as an agency of Congress to post-audit spending by the executive departments. The comptroller general is in office for 15 years. He knows he will not be renominated and that so long as he is honest not even the President can reach him. The comptroller general wears no man's collar. He calls 'em as he sees 'em. The people of the United States need such an official acting for them.

It is not likely that any President of Congress would welcome the comptroller general as a watchdog over their political maneuvers to win elections on the basis of a redistribution of wealth by means of various federal subsidies to individuals, to families, to communities, and to states.

But the activities of such a public defender would tend to illuminate some of the dark corners of public ignorance. The running audit of spending might cause the voters to peer behind the political promises to discover how much political promises cost and who pays.

The truth is that the people of the United States are no better than junkies. They are hooked on the narcotic of federal funds. The pushers are the politicians. In 20 boom-time years since the end of World War II, the government of the richest nation in the world steadily has gone into debt. Revenue is way up. Up also are the demands of sturdy American citizens for more and better free lunch goodies and up go the promises of the politicians to meet those demands. The Treasury has been able so far to borrow enough money to make the political promises come true and to keep the politicians in office.

GOOD REASONS
WHY TOMORROW IS

NATIONAL NEWSPAPERBOY DAY

One of them is the lad who delivers your newspaper.

Today we pay tribute to him and to all of the other youngsters who, by the prompt delivery of newspapers, help make us the best informed people on earth. We're especially grateful to these young businessmen who deliver our newspapers, bringing you factual news, pictures, and interesting features of the world's free press.

The next time he calls, give your Newspaperboy a word of encouragement for the job he is doing. Then take a second look at him. You'll probably be able to spot that "something extra" that sets him apart from most youngsters his age.

This often results from the specialized training and experience which youngsters receive under the direction of men interested in and trained to work with boys.

A newspaper route is the one part-time work experience that is different. There is no other way in which a youngster can so quickly develop the self-confidence which comes from being a successful Junior Independent Merchant. Here he becomes a young business executive, applying many of the lessons learned in school to everyday situations encountered in newspaper route management. Here he also learns how service, courtesy, salesmanship, and collections mean increased profits.

Many of yesterday's newspaperboys are today's leaders in this community and throughout the nation. That will be equally true in the future.

"Steps To Spiritual Maturity"

One of the most heart breaking things that could happen to parents would be to bring a child into the world and then the child fail to grow and mature. This is tragic. How tragic it is to the family of God when a person is born into the family of God through faith in Christ and then fails to grow and mature. This can be prevented by these steps to Spiritual Maturity.

FAITH: This is a complete trust that brings about salvation for without it we cannot please God. However it does not end there but one continues to exercise that trust day by day.

VIRTUE: This is Christian goodness. The practice of living in such a manner that no one could doubt your faith. It is moral strength and courage.

KNOWLEDGE: The growing Christian strives always to know and understand more of God's Word and God's will.

TEMPERANCE: Moderation in the use of the good things of this world. An inordinate desire after worldly things is inconsistent with an earnest desire to be like Christ.

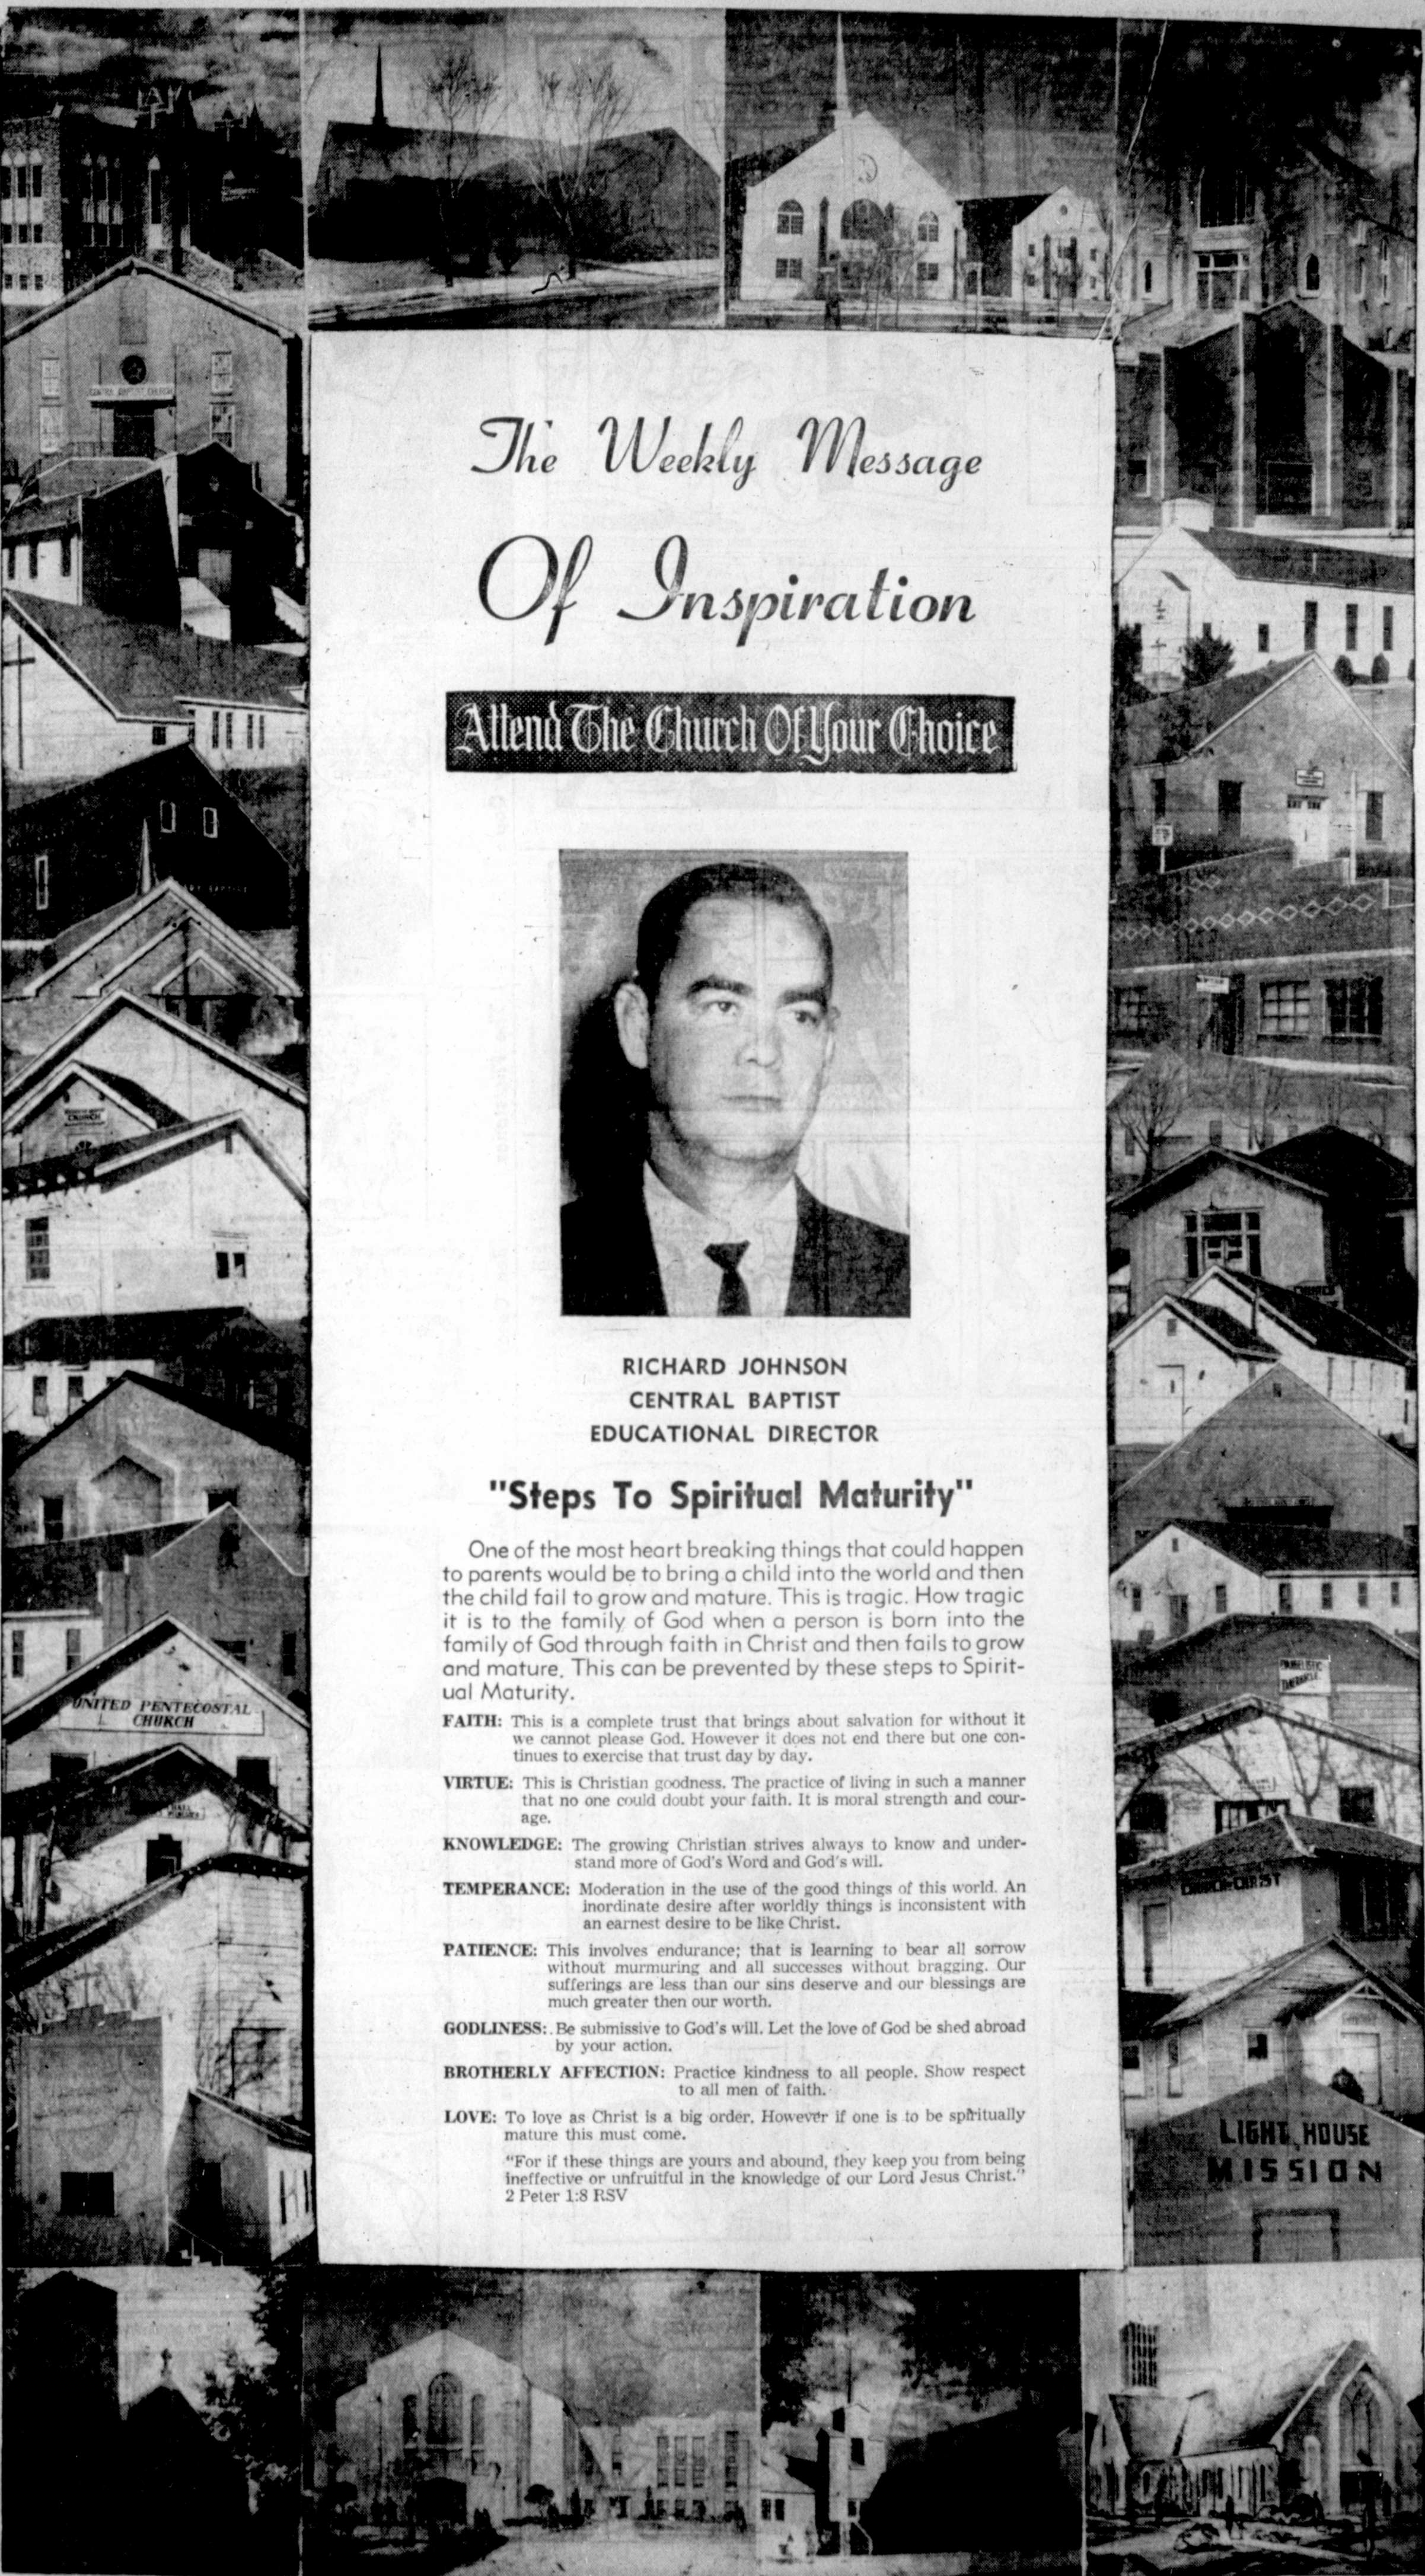

PATIENCE: This involves endurance; that is learning to bear all sorrow without murmuring and all successes without bragging. Our sufferings are less than our sins deserve and our blessings are much greater than our worth.

GODLINESS: Be submissive to God's will. Let the love of God be shed abroad by your action.

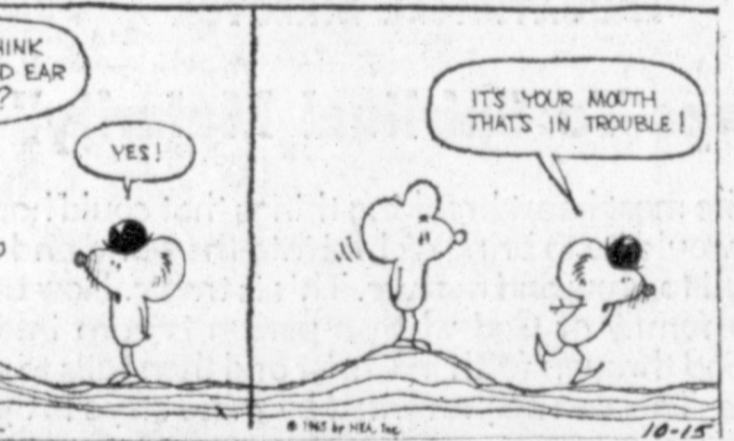

BROTHERLY AFFECTION: Practice kindness to all people. Show respect to all men of faith.

LOVE: To love as Christ is a big order. However if one is to be spiritually mature this must come.

"For if these things are yours and abound, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Pampa Tries Plainsmen

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
Pampa will try to undo nine years worth of damage and knock the props from under the 3-4A league leaders when they host Monterey's Plainsmen in a 7:30 p.m. affair at Harvester Stadium tonight.
The Plainsmen can be beaten.

That was proven by Midland who has been the only one of four teams to be successful against Monterey this year.
Monterey is 3-1 for the season and 2-0 in conference action, having triumphed over Amarillo and Tascosa, considered to be the Plainsmen's chief threats for the league title.

But Pampa hasn't rolled over and played dead for anyone yet. They haven't beaten the Plainsmen in the nine games the two teams have played, but neither have they had a team with the possibilities of the '65 squad.
The Harvesters are only 1-4 for the year and 1-2 in conference play. Pampa downed Palo Duro and then lost to Tascosa and Caprock in league action.

Monterey has the league's top passer in quarterback Randy Bowlin.
The 150-pound senior has connected on 16 of 24 pass attempts for 246 yards and two touchdowns. He has averaged 127.5 total yards per game.
Monterey may be hurting a bit with their top pass receiver out of action.

Shockers Beaten By Plainview B

Thursday wasn't a good day for Pampa football teams. Five city teams played and four tasted defeat.

The Pampa Shockers, winners of four straight contests fell to Plainview B, 36-15 after losing starting quarterback Steve Summers with a broken arm.
The Shockers, now 5-2, trailed only 14-8 at halftime and took a brief, 15-14 lead early in the third period.
But the Plainsmen scored once in the third period and then twice more in the final period for their victory.

But the Shockers scored quickly in the third period after recovering a Plainview fumble on the visitors 35-yard line.

Six plays later David Schaub bulled over from the one and Stan Mathis booted the extra point to give the Shockers their last lead of the afternoon.
Plainview came storming back to score on a long pass play, then tallied twice more in the final period to wrap it up.
The Shockers journey to Lubbock next Thursday to meet the Monterey B.

Heiskell will start at his familiar fullback spot tonight and the Harvesters hopes for an upset are riding high.
Pampa is bigger, but slower

Dodgers King of Baseball World

MINNEAPOLIS - St. Paul (UPI)—It's the Los Angeles Dodgers again on top of the baseball world thanks to a lot of great pitchers and a lot of light-hitting, fast-running guys who never knew when they were licked.
One of those pitchers, dandy Sandy Koufax, made it a glorious Thursday when he blanked the Minnesota Twins on three hits to shut them out 2-0 and give the Dodgers their third world championship in the last six years.

Alston would not admit that Drysdale swayed him in his decision to go with Koufax, but repeated exactly what Drysdale pointed out — that Drysdale can warm up quickly, while it takes Koufax longer.

It turned out to be the right decision and Alston has been noted for making the right moves all season long.

Dodgers are just a lucky team.
But Manager Sam Mele and the rest of his players would have none of that — although a lot of National Leaguers wondered like Versailles did, how the Dodgers ever came on top in their league.

But he was far from being the only Dodger hero of another of their typical come-from-behind triumphs. In the final game there was a journeyman outfielder, Lou Johnson, who hit a home run for the Dodgers' first tally and there was 37-year-old Jim Gilliam, who kept the Twins from scoring.
Johnson started the season in the minors — his 12th — and was about ready to give up the game when the Dodgers called him up because their hitting star, Tommy Davis, broke his ankle shortly after the season started. It was only one of many injuries which plagued the Dodgers, and eventually they ran so short of players they were forced to put Gilliam back on the active list after he started the season as a coach.
There was another Dodger hero Thursday, too. But he was in a place he seldom is seen — the bullpen.
Big Don Drysdale, who might have been the seventh game starter instead of Koufax, himself suggested to Manager Walter Alston that although it was his turn to start, the club might be better off with Koufax starting and Drysdale in the bullpen.

The dejected Twins, who figured they had the Dodgers on the run because they were playing in their home park, gave Koufax and the Dodgers respected credit.
"They make crazy plays they don't even know they're making," said Twins' shortstop Zoilo Versailles, who was a victim of two of those "crazy plays."
"I don't know how the hell they won the National League pennant. I can name you a bunch of teams in the American League who are twice as tough as the Dodgers. The

They have," sighed Mele, "damned good pitching."
Gilliam had a lot to do with Versailles' thinking. He stopped a hard hit ground ball down the third base line that looked like a sure double with Twins on first and second. But Gilliam speared it, fell backwards, then regained his feet in time to step on third and force a runner.
Named to the team along with Koufax and Mays were pitcher Don Drysdale and shortstop Maury Wills of the Dodgers, catcher Joe Torre and outfielder Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, first baseman Willie McCovey of the Giants, second baseman Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds, third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles and outfielder Tony Oliva of the American League champion Minnesota Twins.
The All-Star team was selected by a UPI board of baseball experts comprised of one writer representing each team in the majors and four UPI sports writers.
The National League placed eight players on the 10-man team and NL players received 179 of the 240 votes — or 74.6 per cent of the ballots. World Series performances were not considered by the writers.
Drysdale, Wills and Aaron had the most spirited competition before they made the team.
Drysdale, who had a 23-12 record for the Dodgers, received eight votes — two more than 21-game winner Jim Grant of the Twins and three more than 22-game winner Juan Marichal of the Giants. Wills beat out Twin shortstop Zoilo Versailles, 13-9, in the balloting for shortstop and Aaron just did edge out NL batting champion Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11 votes to 10.
Tore outpolled Earl Battey of the Twins, 15-7; McCovey and Rose were runaway winners with 14 and 20 votes, respectively, and Robinson outpolled Deron Johnson of the Cincinnati Reds, 14-6.

Mays, Koufax Lead UPI Major League All-Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — World Series hero Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers and homer-hitting center fielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants were unanimously selected today to United Press International's 1965 major league All-Star team.

Larry Katara put the eight graders ahead by going in from the one. Donnie Willis passed to Jerry Brumfield for the conversion to make it 8-0.

All U.S. Final Looms in World Match Golf Play

WENTWORTH, England (UPI)—The prospect of an all-American final loomed today as Arnold Palmer and Tony Lema went out to do battle at the Piccadilly world match play golf championships semifinals in opposite halves of the draw.

Neither team scored in the third period but Pampa came back with two fourth period touchdowns.
Brumfield put Pampa ahead 14-12 when he scooted 50-yards on a pass play from Willis that covered 70-yards.
The Pampa team put the game on ice when Katara scored from 12 yards out.
Both the Lee ninth and eighth grades fell to Dumas.
Lee ninth remained winless, losing its fifth game, 18-0 to Dumas and Lee eighth evened its season record at 2-2 after dropping a 24-0 decision to Dumas.
Both Junior High seventh grade teams had afternoon games, Lee Seventh played at Borger and Pampa seventh played host to Perryton.

Palmer, last year's winner of the 5,000 pounds ($40,000) first prize, had to await the outcome of a sudden death playoff between Ireland's Christy O'Connor and British Open champion Peter Thomson of Australia before his opponent became known.
Lema, the Carling world champion and Buick Open winner, faced off against South African Gary Player, the reigning U.S. open and Canada Cup winner.

On Thursday's form Palmer was heavily favored to make it into Saturday's 36-hole final but it was a tossup on the outcome of the Lema-Player clash.
Palmer mastered the 6,997-yard, par-74, "Burma Road" west course Thursday with a display of controlled hitting in mid-afternoon and drew away from veteran Australian Kel Nagle to score a 3 and 2 victory.
Lema was a 5 and 4 winner over Britain's Peter Alliss who, like his opponent, ran up five victories in the Ryder Cup at Birkdale last week, while Player won with a similar score from another Briton, Neil Coles.

Steers, Razorbacks Ready for SWC Tilt

By United Press International
Tommy Nobis worked out in a sweat suit Thursday for the Texas Longhorns in last-minute drills for the Saturday conflict with Arkansas before a nationwide television audience.

Jones and two others for the scoring leadership with 30 points will start at tailback. That's Bobby Burnett.
Rega-dless of who sees action first, Broyles has left little doubt he'll have all three toting the ball against Texas.

Longhorns said Nobis probably would play against the Razorbacks. The all-American guard injured a knee earlier in the week and there was some doubt he would suit up for the Porker tilt.
The only Texas players definitely out are tailback Linus Baer and linebacker David Jefferson. Back Phil Harris, who did not see action in the 19-0 victory over Oklahoma, will be ready also.
The Longhorns were to leave at noon today by plane. They went through a 90-minute drill Thursday, concentrating on offensive timing.
Lindsey Gets nod
Arkansas coach Frank Broyles, trying to settle on a lineup that will work best against the Longhorns, benched the league's top rusher and put regular wingback Jim Lindsey into a starting role in front of Harry Jones.
The second-leading rusher in the conference and tied with

The Rice Owls worked on timing and recognition drills Thursday, and coach Jess Neely said end John Huff was still a doubtful starter against the Mustangs. The Owls, through with contact work for the week, worked out in shorts.
Southern Methodist worked briefly on fundamentals but had no contact Thursday. Coach Hayden Fry said all his players are in good condition and ready for the Rice tilt.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It is very possible that television has made Sandy Koufax the nation's top sports star currently active.

The extraordinary left-handed pitcher, who led the Los Angeles Dodgers to victory Thursday in the World Series, now has made indelible appearances twice in the last three seasons in video's most-watched sports event.

In 1963, in the games broadcast by NBC-TV, he personally dismantled, overpowered and humiliated the New York Yankee machine that had dominated baseball. If past figures are any indication, his shutout triumph over the Minnesota Twins Thursday may have drawn a video-audience of 50 to 60 million persons. And if memory serves me, he has averaged less than one earned run per game in the two series.

It takes more than statistics, however, to make a star—and this fact stirs up the imagination to think of what a fabulous national impact someone like Babe Ruth would have had on television, even to non-baseball fans.

In short, as in all things—and especially on television—it is the image. And there is no way that anyone could improve on the Koufax image. He is the kind of fellow that mothers would like to have as a son, that girls would like to go steady with and then marry, and that men would enjoy for a daily round of golf, a quiet drink or a discussion of current events. Although he lives near Hollywood, he leads a quiet and discreet life.

If he seems too good to be true, on television and off—handsome, intelligent, manly and modest—he apparently is just that. I don't think there is much question that he keeps this image in mind, but in an age of instant communication—when a big mouth in a baseball game can be seen in all its glory from coast to coast on television—who can blame him for preferring the other route?

The Channel Swim: Lt. Gen. Lewis Hershey, the Selective Service director, is a guest on NBC-TV's "Today" program Wednesday... Next Friday, Ethel Merman discusses her recent trip to Russia on the same show... cartoonist Rube Goldberg displays some of his new sculpture on "Today" Monday.

Noted French Author Hurt In Accident

DIJON, France (UPI) — Author Simone de Beauvoir was injured in an automobile accident early Thursday near here, and was admitted to hospital at nearby Joigny.

Miss de Beauvoir long time companion of existentialist author Jean-Paul Sartre, suffered cuts and bruises, but X-rays showed no serious injuries, a hospital spokesman said.

She was kept in the hospital for rest, however. Police sources said Miss de Beauvoir was driving the car herself when it failed to negotiate a curve on the outskirts of Joigny, crossed onto the other side of the road and hit an oncoming truck, which dragged it for more than 30 feet.

Deaconesses Asked

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan of Atlanta, Ga., has called on the Ecumenical Council to bring women as deaconesses into the church, it was learned Thursday.

The Archbishop warned the council, "We must not continue to perpetuate the secondary place accorded to women in the church of the 20th Century." He handed the intervention in writing to the council Secretariat and the American bishops panel of experts released the text Thursday.

"We must not continue to be latecomers in the social, political and economic development that has today reached climactic conditions," Archbishop Hallinan said in asking that new provisions for women in the church be written into the council's document on the modern world.

In proposing that women be made deaconesses to read Scripture in church and perform some of the Sacraments, the archbishop complained that "the church has been slow to offer to women in the selection of their vocation, any choice but that of mother or nun."
