

Two U.S. War Prisoners Released by Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI)—The Communist Viet Cong radio said Saturday two U.S. Army war prisoners captured two years ago were released Saturday in honor of anti-Viet Nam demonstrations in the United States.

The broadcast identified the two as Sgt. George E. Smith and SP4 Claude E. McClure and said they were captured Nov. 24, 1963 at the Special Forces camp at Hiep Hoa, southwest of Saigon.

American military records show that Smith, of Chester, W.Va., and McClure, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were captured when the Communists overran Hiep Hoa. Authorities added that they had no indication the two soldiers actually had been freed.

The announcement was broadcast as thousands of peace pickets marched in front of the White House in Washington protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

The rebels' clandestine

"Liberation Radio" announced this afternoon that the Viet Cong "have decided to release" the two men. Later it broadcast the text of an open letter saying they were "just released."

The radio did not say when or where they were freed.

The open letter was addressed to "The Viet Nam Day Committee coordinating the nationwide movement for the end of the U.S. war in Viet Nam."

It said in part:

"Expressing the certainty that there are many people who will struggle against the U.S. government policy," and "in response to the Nov. 27 American movement, and to mark both the fifth anniversary of the Liberation Front and Christmas, the Liberation Front has ordered the release of two U.S. soldiers."

The letter was addressed to the families of the two prisoners, as well as to the American Viet Nam Day Committee. It closed with "wishes for a successful American struggle against the U.S. government."

The broadcast said McClure and Smith had "proven that they have repented of their crimes," which the radio characterized as "minor."

The two Special Forces soldiers are the only prisoners left in Viet Cong hands of the four who were captured at Hiep Hoa.

One of them, Sgt. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex., got away from the Viet Cong last August, the first American ever to escape from the Viet Cong.

The fourth prisoner was "executed" on Sept. 26 in revenge for the firing squad deaths of Communist agitators, according to a Liberation radio broadcast at that time. He was Sgt. Kenneth M. Rorback of Chester, W.Va.

The Communists have released American prisoners in the past. The last was a civilian, Donald Dawson of Costa Mesa, Calif., who fell into their hands in April while searching for his missing pilot brother. Dawson was freed in August.

No American military prisoners have been freed by the Viet Cong since December of 1962.

Twenty-three American servicemen were in Viet Cong hands as of Nov. 1, according to figures kept by the U.S. military headquarters here.

TO FIGHT TB

Christmas Seal Drive To Kick Off Tuesday

Gray County's annual Christmas Seal and Bond sale will get under way Tuesday, it was announced Saturday by Bob Clements, drive chairman.

Bert Nuckols, treasurer of the Gray County Tuberculosis Association, said he plans to mail seals to some 2,500 or 3,000 homes throughout the county Tuesday morning.

Jack Back, Christmas Seal bond chairman, said approximately 250 bonds will be mailed at the same time to business establishments.

According to Mrs. L. K. Davis, association president, the Gray County campaign will run until Christmas.

Mrs. Bertha Johnson is executive secretary of the association and Mrs. Tex DeWeese, publicity chairman. Drive Chairman Clements urged county residents who receive seals and bonds to return contributions soon as possible rather than to delay sending them until Christmas.

Money derived from the seal sale is used for rehabilitation of TB victims and treatment of chronic respiratory diseases.

The Gray County TB association is made up of private citizens who have voluntarily banded together to fight TB and other respiratory diseases.

Astronaut Scott Carpenter is national honorary chairman of the 1965 Christmas Seal campaign.

Stolen Vatican Treasures Found by Gardener in Field

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Police said Saturday a sharp-eyed gardener led them to a field where he found three of the four treasures stolen Friday from the Vatican Library. The find included two manuscripts considered priceless.

Pope Paul VI was informed of the discovery immediately, police said, but a public announcement was delayed in hopes the thieves would come back to claim their loot.

The manuscripts of 14th century humanist Francesco Petrarca and 16th century poet Torquato Tasso were wrapped in a package and undamaged. A replica of the crown of St. Stephen, less valuable, was slightly bent and some of the small stones in the crown had been pried out.

Still missing was the fourth item stolen—a crystal box containing the bloodstained pages of an address Ecuadorian President Garcia Moreno was holding when he was assassinated in 1875.

The manuscripts were found Friday and the crown early Saturday morning. Authorities said the word was flashed immediately to the pontiff and he was kept informed of (See VATICAN, Page 3)

Trustees to Honor Brown Memory

Trustees of the M. K. Brown Foundation will honor the memory of M. K. Brown and commemorate the publication of "My Diary" by Cornelia Adair on November 30th at 2:30 p.m. in the new museum in the White Deer Lands Building, Travis Lively will review the book at the party. The book, published by the University of Texas Press, includes an introduction by the late M. K. Brown, noted pioneer of the Panhandle, a long-time friend of Mrs. Adair. The public is invited to attend.

The diary is an account of a two-month trip Mrs. Adair and her husband made into the western United States in 1874 through buffalo. It is an amusing account by a woman who felt it worthwhile to record her experiences because "the world is changing so quickly... No doubt the children will do their journeys by air, and do many, many things that I have not been able to do; but they can never see the prairies of America in their wild uncivilized state, or hunt buffalo over them, nor can they pow-wow with the Red Indians in a camp on the (See TRUSTEES, Page 3)

TREASURER WILL ASK—WHY?

Official Skipped In Salary Hikes

County Treasurer Ola Gregory said Saturday she plans to go before the County Commissioners Court when it meets Wednesday to ask why the county treasurer was the only major elected county official not included in the now "much talked about" Sept. 15 salary increases.

The salary increase vote, unanimous by all four county commissioners, was taken at a special meeting on that date.

Minutes of the special meeting more than two months ago, kept by County Judge Bill Craig, were not filed in the county clerk's office until Nov. 17.

The Pampa News did not learn of the salary increase action of the commissioners court until last Wednesday.

Miss Gregory, a county employee since 1929 and county treasurer for nearly 20 years, said Saturday it came as a distinct surprise to her when she discovered just recently that the county treasurer was the only elected official who did not receive a raise.

The district clerk, county clerk, county tax assessor-collector, county attorney, and county sheriff each received $50 monthly raises.

Miss Gregory said her office falls in the same category and the same salary range. The county treasurer's salary is $708 monthly.

The others, she stated, have had their salaries increased by $50 a month, but her salary remains at $708.

"I am not complaining about increases granted to anyone else or asking one for myself," Miss Gregory said. "I just want to know why I was the only one to be denied an increase."

At the same time the $50 raises were voted, the commissioners also voted themselves a salary boost of approximately 28 percent and an increase of approximately 22 percent for the county judge.

This amounted to a $134 hike monthly for the commissioners and $191 monthly for the judge.

Miss Gregory said she felt she has a legitimate question to ask at the next regular meeting of the commissioners court, scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday in the county courtroom of Gray County Court House.

Congress May Get Too 'Nice'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress should install information computers, trim presidential powers, alter the Supreme Court and start "thwarting, hampering and opposing" the executive in exercising its check-and-balance power.

These were some of the proposals for revitalizing Congress contained in three studies sponsored and published Saturday by the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research. Nine other reports are to follow.

Dr. Lewis A. Dexter, a visiting lecturer in sociology at the University of Maryland, said there was a "real danger of Congress becoming too 'nice' as an institution in this era of 'consensus' government."

He observed that the last five presidents were men of "considerable prudence" and then added: "But suppose, which is by no means impossible—a couple of fire-eating chief executive men with the worst features—of Andrew Jackson; suppose, for that matter, a president who treated Mexico and India as Lyndon Johnson treated the Dominican Republic; or suppose just stupid and unimaginative presidents, then many of those who now deplore check-and-balance would thank God for the Congress."

Check-and-balance in government, said Dexter, now should mean "one branch thwarting, hampering, interfering with, criticizing and opposing the activities of the other so as to counteract the unwisdom of the 'wise.'"

Dr. Kenneth Janda, assistant professor of political science at Northwestern University, said (See CONGRESS, Page 3)

Demonstrators Chant 'No More War...'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—More than 15,000 demonstrators some of them beatniks, many of them well-dressed adults picketed the White House and marched in the nation's capital Saturday to protest the U.S. role in the Viet Nam war.

"No more war... no more war" they chanted as they swarmed from the White House to rally in the shadow of the sunwashed Washington Monument.

Present in the crowd were the bearded youths wearing dungarees and accompanied by lank-haired girls. But the large majority of the demonstrators were neatly attired adults who kept the demonstration an orderly one.

There was only one threatening moment of serious violence. Police and demonstrators quickly broke up a scuffle between a handful of counter-demonstrators and a group of marchers carrying flags of the Communist Viet Cong. There were a few individual arrests as blows were struck on other occasions but on the whole both sides confined themselves to taunting each other.

Reds Approve Protest

Quick approval of the massive protest came from Communist North Viet Nam and Red China. Radio Hanoi announced it was releasing two U.S. Army prisoners in honor of the demonstration. And in Peking, the Communist Party newspaper Peoples Daily said protests would sweep America and "reduce the U.S. Imperialist system to ashes."

The main aim of the demonstrators was a demand that U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam be halted.

A delegation of marchers headed by 81-year-old Socialist Norman Thomas met with Chester Cooper, a White House aide to presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy. They came away dissatisfied.

"The administration really wanted to negotiate in Viet Nam," Thomas quoted Cooper as saying. "But he said in the meantime, the war has to go on—bombings as well."

A gray drizzle gave way to sunshine and 64-degree temperatures as the first of the protesters began picketing the White House this morning.

Eventually, the picket line was so long that many marchers were unable to pass in front of the executive mansion before the march began. It stretched nearly six blocks long.

A heavy guard of city and U.S. Park Police kept an eye on the anti-war picketers and also (See PICKETS, Page 3)

13 Die in Crash Of Charter Plane

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—A charter airliner enroute to a football game slammed into a snow-covered hillside and burst into flames Saturday, killing all 13 persons aboard.

It was the second airline tragedy in the Salt Lake area in the past 16 days.

A United Air Lines 727 jetliner crashed while landing at Salt Lake Municipal Airport on Veterans Day. Forty three persons died, but 48 survived.

The charter plane, a DC 3 with a passenger capacity of 28, smashed into the sparsely populated area 20 miles south of here a few minutes after takeoff from Salt Lake Airport. The twin-engine plane flipped over and slid into a gully against another ridge.

The passengers included five prominent physicians, an attorney and two businessmen, all of Salt Lake City. The plane had crew of three, plus two employees of the airlines.

SHAPARD CONVICTED IN OKLAHOMA CITY

17-Year-Old Free on $10,000 Bond in Rape Case

EL RENO, Okla. (UPI)—John William Shapard, 17, convicted of taking part in the gang rape of a 15-year-old former Texas girl, remained free on $10,000 bond Saturday while his attorneys prepared to ask for a new trial.

Shapard, son of a prominent Oklahoma City attorney sat motionless as an all-male jury announced its verdict late Friday after one hour and 47 minutes deliberation. The jury recommended five years in prison.

Shapard's father, Dave Shap-ard, a leader of prohibitionist forces in the 1950s, once called the attack "a boyish prank." The girl's aunt told police Shapard tried to talk her out of prosecuting, saying that "boys will be boys."

The youth, who could have received a maximum sentence of 15 years, will be sentenced at 3 p.m. Friday, Dec. 10. He was the first of six 17-year-old Oklahoma City area boys to be tried on second degree rape charges stemming from the July 7 mass rape.

Bill Berry said he would file a motion within a week or 10 days asking for a new trial. If the motion is denied as is expected, he said he will file notice of appeal.

Oklahoma Co. Atty. Curtis Harris said he expects the second of the six youths to go on trial in January.

Harris said the next to be tried probably will be Larry Wyatt Smith, 17. Others who possibly could be tried include James David Fellers Jr., son of a past president of the Oklahoma Bar Association; Paul Hampton Brogan, and twins Richard and Michael Stanley.

The defense has indicated an appeal might be based on grounds the six defendants did not receive a valid preliminary hearing because the defense was not permitted to examine all witnesses at the hearing. Berry also is expected to hit hard at the state's decision not to put on any medical testimony. Harris said it wasn't needed.

The state, in its closing arguments, contended the former

San Antonio, Tex., girl had been "ravaged by beasts" and that no evidence was introduced disputing the fact the girl was raped and that she fought as hard as she could against her attackers.

Harris said the defense tried to prove that "a little 15-year-old girl raped six boys."

Berry said the girl had been "caught up in a web of deception," and indicated she had made up the charges because she had been caught coming home late.

Two-Gun Youth To Be Treated as Adult

VOLCANO ERUPTS
TOKYO (UPI)—Mt. Mihara Volcano on Oshima Island erupted Friday, sending a column of smoke and ashes into the sky. No injuries were reported. Officials at the Oshima weather observatory station said volcanic tremors were occurring about every 90 minutes. Other tremors were reported in Mt. Aso, an active volcano on Central Kyushu, Japan's southernmost island.

Washington Finds New Game Ideal

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—There is a new game on the market called "Panic!" It goes something like this:

The main equipment is a set of "panic cards," a matching set of "solution cards" and a "panic box" with six buttons. Each player draws a "panic card" that puts him in some sort of desperate situation. The object is to find the right "solution card" before hitting the "panic button."

Ways To Play

For example, one "panic card" shows a bather who has lost his swim suit. The solution card shows an empty barrel floating to shore.

For obvious reasons, a game like this is particularly well suited to Washington. In fact, some friends of mine have worked out a variation especially designed for the Capital.

They drew up special sets of panic cards and solution cards that could be used by certain players in the White House, Congress and other high places.

A game of "Washington Panic!" would proceed along these lines:

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman draws a panic card reporting that Billie Sol Estes is back in the grain storage business.

His solution card is a letter of resignation.

Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., draws a panic card announcing that Francis X. Morrissey is forming a "Teddy Kennedy for President" Committee.

It For Tat

His solution card announces that Francis X. Morrissey is forming a "Bobby Kennedy for President" Committee.

Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowden draw panic cards reporting that President Johnson plans to give a Texas-style barbecue in their honor.

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Thomas (Tommy) Robinson, 16, who shot up a National Airlines DC8 jetliner in an attempt to divert it to Cuba, is expected to be treated as an adult by federal prosecutors.

Robinson, whose mother said the worst thing Tommy ever did before the jetliner incident was "spit watermelon seeds on a man when he was 4 years old," was held on $50,000 bond in the Orleans Parish prison. He ate Thanksgiving dinner behind bars Thursday.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Jack Ciolino said the case will probably go to the grand jury next week. The federal government will try to indict Robinson on charges of piracy, carrying a gun aboard an airplane and interfering with the crew.

The government has indicated if he is indicted, it will seek a sanity hearing for Robinson.

Edward T. Haake, 45, of Houston, disarmed the youth after he fired two pistols into the floor of the New Orleans to Melbourne, Fla. airliner Nov. 17.

The boy told police he wanted to go to Havana to help fight against the regime of Fidel Castro and help America "wake up" to the menace of Castroism.

No one was hurt, although the youth pointed the pistol at Christopher (Chris) Kraft, Gemini mission director of the federal space agency, and tried to cock the weapon. It did not fire.

The youth was to have graduated from Brownsville, Tex. high school this spring as a junior. His parents, who said he was "extremely patriotic," theorized he might have cracked from the strain of so much studying.

Authorities of Orleans Parish Prison said no visitors were allowed Thursday.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey draws a panic card that puts him on the front pages one day when President Johnson's name isn't mentioned.

He hits the panic button.

President Johnson draws a panic card reporting that Bobby Baker has written a book dedicated to him.

My friends haven't been able to devise a solution card for that yet, but I am confident that Johnson could think of something.

Not only has the civil service examiner ruled that suffering frostbite while working indoors is difficult, he has also struck blow for the rights of individuals," the senator said.

ROUGH REVIEWS

LONDON (UPI)—The British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) announced Friday that film it made on the probable effects of nuclear war in Britain is "too horrifying" to be shown on television. The BBC said the film, "The War Game," will be shown to a private audience only, "including those people who helped to make it."

In 1890, the first Army-Navy football game was played, the Middies winning, 24-0.

POLITICAL ROLES — The number of entertainers getting into the political act is growing. Movie and television actor Ronald Reagan, top left, is still unannounced but leading contender for next year's Republican nomination for California governor. Long time movie actor George Murphy, top right, also a Republican, already has made the political grade with election last year to the U.S. Senate from California. Television personality Steve Allen, bottom left, is on the trail of a U.S. House of Representatives seat as a Democrat from Los Angeles district, although his candidacy is running into legal difficulties. Actor Gary Merrill, bottom right, also a Democrat, will seek a seat in the Maine House of Representatives next year.

Robbery Charges On Bank Robbers Filed

LUBBOCK (UPI) — State charges of robbery by firearms and federal charges of bank robbery, were filed Saturday against three men accused of attempting to hold up the First State Bank at Idalou. Bond was set at $100,000 for each man.

Charged were Rudy Clarence Garcia, 29, Epifanio Bela, 21, and Juan E. Ysasaga, 37. Bond was set on the state charges and the men were held in Lubbock County jail until they could raise it.

It all started Friday when a church worker, Mrs. D. R. Rackley and her son, Joe, were abducted at Idalou some 15 miles northeast of Lubbock and tied and gagged. They were put in the car trunk.

They were later freed to find that three men were holding three hostages in the bank. An alarm was tripped by a teller while the bandits tried to get a bag filled up with money.

The bandits tied up two tellers and the bank president and held three women tellers as hostages. They tried to bargain with officers and after many tense minutes struck a deal. They would get a getaway car and 10 minutes head start in exchange for the hostages.

Police said they would wait until dark. The Rev. Eceiza Alexander, a Catholic priest, made an unsuccessful attempt to make the men give up. He said two of them wanted to give up, but the third didn't want to quit.

About sundown, Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank yelled into the bank, "you going to shoot it out here or leave?" "Hell, no. If I was going to shoot I would start right here," a bandit replied.

Finally the bandits panicked and made a dash for the car parked behind the bank, got in and drove off. A half block down the road the car smashed into an automobile parked along the road. The police arrested them. The third bandit surrendered meekly in the bank.

Oil Company Warehouse Hit By Fire Saturday

Organizers of the "March on Washington for Peace in Viet Nam", were fairly successful in keeping the demonstration within their plans. They had opposed the red, yellow and blue banners of the Viet Cong.

But Chairman Walter Teague, 29, of the Committee to Aid the Viet Cong Front in South Viet Nam, led a handful of supporters carrying five large Viet Cong flags in the line of march.

In the scuffle which took place on historic Pennsylvania Avenue near the Treasury Building, Teague's group had three of the flags wrested from their grasp but succeeded in recovering them without incident later.

The local association's funds — contributions from the people of Gray County — are only a small part of the amount spent yearly to fight TB and RD, according to Chairman Clements.

"In addition to the work done locally, a small portion of our money goes to the state and national TB associations to encourage medical research and education," Clements said.

Eighty-one per cent of the money collected locally stays in Gray County. Nineteen per cent goes to the state and out of that six per cent goes to the National Tuberculosis Association.

All work of TB associations — local, state and national — is financed by the Christmas Seal contributions.

Each year, Christmas Seals are mailed to people living in every community. Ninety-four per cent of the money contributed is spent in the state that raises it.

Gardener Agostino Scocetti, working on the grounds of a villa belonging to Mrs. Elvira Emanuelides, noticed a car and van driving repeatedly around the area Friday. Police said he walked over to an adjacent field and found a package containing the manuscripts.

A Vatican source had described them as worth "whatever sum an unscrupulous collector may be willing to pay."

Scocetti took the two manuscripts — a 72-page velvet bound volume by Petrarch and a 152-page volume by Tasso — to his employer who called police.

Police rushed to the villa and later found the replica of the St. Stephen crown stuffed in a metal can covered with a cardboard box. The Vatican said it had no great intrinsic value. A copy of the crown of the first Christian king of Hungary, it had been presented to Pope Pius X by Hungarian Catholics.

Pampa Climate Nearly Ideal All Year-Round

A climatological summary published by the U.S. Weather Bureau covering the years 1934 until 1964 in Pampa reveals a fairly ideal year-round climate.

The coldest temperature ever recorded in Pampa was in January of 1962 when the mercury dipped to 12 degrees below zero. The warmest it has ever been was in June of 1937 when the temperature rose to 109 degrees.

The average year-round daytime temperature in Pampa is 70.6 with the average overnight low 44.3 degrees. This results in an average temperature in Pampa of 57.5 degrees.

Rainfall occurs most frequently as the result of thunderstorms with monthly and annual amounts extremely variable. Thunderstorm activity reaches its peak in late Spring and early summer, and 58 per cent of the average precipitation falls during the four-month period of May through August. No-rain periods of two to three week periods are fairly common, the summary reveals.

The probability of receiving 15 inches or more of rain in any given year is between 80 and 90 per cent. The probability of receiving 25 inches or more in a given year is between 20 and 30 per cent.

The annual snowfall in Pampa is 11.5 inches, but the seasonal totals have varied from only a trace in 1950 to 30.5 inches in 1931.

January is the coldest month with a daily minimum temperature of 22 degrees.

The sun shines 70.75 per cent of the time with the relative humidity averaging 70.75 per cent.

The average length of the growing season is 200 days. The average date of the last spring freeze is April 15. The average date of the first fall freeze is October 27.

NEGROES PICKETED

ATLANTA (UPI) —Negroes picketed a barber shop owned and staffed by Negroes Saturday to protest the shop's policy of serving only whites.

The demonstrators sat in all the chairs and on the shoe shine stand in the shop Herndon's, in the heart of the downtown section and refused to leave until they were served.

RUSTY SLOGAN

NIJMEGEN, Holland (UPI) —Karel Roest, whose name in Dutch means rust, was burned up when an oil company came out with a new slogan saying "rust is foolish."

To sooth his feelings, the company promised to service his car free of charge.

Washington Finds New Game Ideal

United-Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is a new game on the market called "Panic!" It goes something like this:

The main equipment is a set of "panic cards," a matching set of "solution cards" and a "panic box" with six buttons. Each player draws a "panic card" that puts him in some sort of desperate situation. The object is to find the right "solution card" before hitting the "panic button."

Ways To Play
For example, one "panic card" shows a bather who has lost his swim suit. The solution card shows an empty barrel floating to shore.

For obvious reasons, a game like this is particularly well suited to Washington. In fact, some friends of mine have worked out a variation especially designed for the Capital. They drew up special sets of panic cards and solution cards that could be used by certain players in the White House, Congress and other high places. A game of "Washington Panic!" would proceed along these lines:

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman draws a panic card reporting that Billie Sol Estes is back in the grain storage business.

His solution card is a letter of resignation.

Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., draws a panic card announcing that Francis X. Morrissey is forming a "Teddy Kennedy for President" Committee.

Tit For Tat
His solution card announces that Francis X. Morrissey is forming a "Bobby Kennedy for President" Committee.

Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowden draw panic cards reporting that President Johnson plans to give a Texas-style barbecue in their honor.

Two-Gun Youth To Be Treated as Adult

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Thomas (Tommy) Robinson, 16, who shot up a National Airlines DC8 jetliner in an attempt to divert it to Cuba, is expected to be treated as an adult by federal prosecutors.

Robinson, whose mother said the worst thing Tommy ever did before the jetliner incident was "spit watermelon seeds on a man when he was 4 years old," was held on $50,000 bond in the Orleans Parish prison. He ate Thanksgiving dinner behind bars Thursday.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Jack Ciolino said the case will probably go to the grand jury next week. The federal government will try to indict Robinson on charges of piracy, carrying a gun aboard an airplane and interfering with the crew.

The government has indicated if he is indicted, it will seek a sanity hearing for Robinson.

Edward T. Haake, 45, of Houston, disarmed the youth after he fired two pistols into the floor of the New Orleans to Melbourne, Fla. airliner Nov. 17.

The boy told police he wanted to go to Havana to help fight against the regime of Fidel Castro and help America "wake up" to the menace of Castroism.

No one was hurt, although the youth pointed the pistol at Christopher (Chris) Kraft, Gemini mission director of the federal space agency, and tried to cock the weapon. It did not fire.

The youth was to have graduated from Brownsville, Tex. high school this spring as a junior. His parents, who said he was "extremely patriotic," theorized he might have cracked from the strain of so much studying.

Authorities of Orleans Parish Prison said no visitors were allowed Thursday.

POLITICAL ROLES — The number of entertainers getting into the political act is growing. Movie and television actor Ronald Reagan, top left, is still unannounced but leading contender for next year's Republican nomination for California governor. Long time movie actor George Murphy, top right, also a Republican, already has made the political grade with election last year to the U.S. Senate from California. Television personality Steve Allen, bottom left, is on the trail of a U.S. House of Representatives seat as a Democrat from Los Angeles district, although his candidacy is running into legal difficulties. Robbery Charges On Bank Robbers Filed

LUBBOCK (UPI) — State charges of robbery by firearms and federal charges of bank robbery, were filed Saturday against three men accused of attempting to hold up the First State Bank at Idalou. Bond was set at $100,000 for each man.

Charged were Rudy Clarence Garcia, 29, Epifanio Bela, 21, and Juan E. Yaasaga, 37. Bond was set on the state charges and the men were held in Lubbock County jail until they could raise it.

It all started Friday when a church worker, Mrs. D. R. Rackley and her son, Joe, were abducted at Idalou some 15 miles northeast of Lubbock and tied and gagged. They were put in the car trunk.

They were later freed to find that three men were holding three hostages in the bank. An alarm was tripped by a teller while the bandits tried to get a bag filled up with money.

The bandits tied up two tellers and the bank president and held three women tellers as hostages. They tried to bargain with officers and after a n a y tense minutes struck a deal. They would get a getaway car and 10 minutes head start in exchange for the hostages.

Police said they would wait until dark. The Rev. Eceiza Alexander, a Catholic priest, made an unsuccessful attempt to make the men give up. He said two of them wanted to give up, but the third didn't want to quit.

About sundown, Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank yelled into the bank, "you going to shoot it out here or leave?" "Hell, no. If I was going to shoot I would start right here," a bandit replied.

Finally the bandits panicked and made a dash for the car parked behind the bank, got in and drove off. A half block down the road the car smashed into an automobile parked along the road. The police arrested them. The third bandit surrendered meekly in th bank.

Oil Company Warehouse Hit By Fire Saturday

Organizers of the "March on Washington for Peace in Viet Nam", were fairly successful in keeping the demonstration within their plans. They had opposed the red, yellow and blue banners of the Viet Cong. But Chairman Walter Teague, 29, of the Committee to Aid the Viet Cong Front in South Viet Nam, led a handful of supporters carrying five large Viet Cong flags in the line of march.

In the scuffle which took place on historic Pennsylvania Avenue near the Treasury Building, Teague's group had three of the flags wrested from their grasp but succeeded in recovering them without incident later.

The local association's funds — contributions from the people of Gray County — are only a small part of the amount spent yearly to fight TB and RD, according to Chairman Clements.

"In addition to the work done locally, a small portion of our money goes to the state and national TB associations to encourage medical research and education," Clements said.

Eighty-one per cent of the money collected locally stays in Gray County. Nineteen per cent goes to the state and out of that six per cent goes to the National Tuberculosis Association.

All work of TB associations — local, state and national — is financed by the Christmas Seal contributions. Each year, Christmas Seals are mailed to people living in every community. Ninety-four per cent of the money contributed is spent in the state that raises it.

Gardener Agostino Scocetti, working on the grounds of a villa belonging to Mrs. Elvira Emanuelides, noticed a car and van driving repeatedly around the area Friday. Police said he walked over to an adjacent field and found a package containing the manuscripts.

A Vatican source had described them as worth "whatever sum an unscrupulous collector may be willing to pay."

Scocetti took the two manuscripts — a 72-page velvet bound volume by Petrarch and a 152-page volume by Tasso — to his employer who called police.

Police rushed to the villa and later found the replica of the St. Stephen crown stuffed in a metal can covered with a cardboard box. The Vatican said it had no great intrinsic value. A copy of the crown of the first Christian king of Hungary, it had been presented to Pope Pius X by Hungarian Catholics.

Pampa Climate Nearly Ideal All Year-Round

A climatological summary published by the U.S. Weather Bureau covering the years 1934 until 1964 in Pampa reveals a fairly ideal year-round climate.

The coldest temperature ever recorded in Pampa was in January of 1962 when the mercury dipped to 12 degrees below zero. The warmest it has ever been was in June of 1937 when the temperature rose to 109 degrees.

The average year-round daytime temperature in Pampa is 70.6 with the average overnight low 44.3 degrees. This results in an average temperature in Pampa of 57.5 degrees.

Rainfall occurs most frequently as the result of thunderstorms with monthly and annual amounts extremely variable. Thundershower activity reaches its peak in late Spring and early summer, and 58 per cent of the average precipitation falls during the four-month period of May through August. No-rain periods of two to three week periods are fairly common, the summary reveals.

The probability of receiving 15 inches or more of rain in any given year is between 80 and 90 per cent. The probability of receiving 25 inches or more in a given year is between 20 and 30 per cent.

The annual snowfall in Pampa is 11.5 inches, but the seasonal totals have varied from only a trace in 1950 to 30.5 inches in 1931.

January is the coldest month with a daily minimum temperature of 22 degrees.

The sun shines 70-75 per cent of the time with the relative humidity averaging 70-75 per cent.

The average length of the growing season is 200 days. The average date of the last spring freeze is April 15. The average date of the first fall freeze is October 27.

Highlights of the Week

United Press International American soldiers huddled in dense swamps and contemplated the forbidding jungles of Viet Nam while they ate their C-rations.

It was Nov. 25—Thanksgiving Day—and the vagaries of war had chosen them to be the unfortunate few unable to partake of the traditional American Thanksgiving meal.

The vast majority of soldiers fighting in Viet Nam feasted on roast turkey, cranberry sauce and the other delicacies enjoyed by most Americans at home.

In a gigantic "turkey lift" American helicopters carried tons of dressed birds and all the trimmings to front line troops. Parachute drops took care of other units inaccessible by more conventional means.

In makeshift chapels and open air rites soldiers gave thanks for many things including the precious gift of life in the presence of so much death. Their thoughts and prayers were echoed by millions of Americans worshipping in the United States.

The day, generally festive in peacetime, was rendered more somber by the casualty reports of last week's savage fighting in South Viet Nam.

Any doubts of the United States' deep involvement in that tragic country's struggle were dispelled by the grim statistics.

Military authorities announced that 540 men were killed and 470 wounded, the highest weekly American losses of the war.

Around the world: Saigon: Fighting continued in South Viet Nam especially in the Ia Drang Valley near Cambodia but at a pace much diminished from last week's fierce battles. Giant B52's and American naval units bombed the countryside where Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were said to be concentrated.

Leopoldville The Congo: In sudden and bloodless coup Gen. Joseph D. Mobutu deposed Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu and installed himself as president.

Washington: Led by President Johnson the nation mourned the late President John F. Kennedy who died two years ago at the hands of an assassin in Dallas Tex.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE—This column of questions and answers provided by the Pampana office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—A friend of mine is still liable for his Federal taxes even though he went bankrupt. Why does he still owe for taxes and not for anything else?

A—No. Generally, interest income from bonds purchased by a parent with his own funds for minor children is taxable to the parent. This would apply in the case you cite where the child is made co-owner of the bonds. Savings bonds interest should be reported for the year in which the bonds are cashed, unless you choose to report the interest as it accrues each year.

Q—Can I still claim my kids as exemptions for withholding purposes even though I am divorced and my wife got custody?

A—You may claim them as exemptions for withholding purposes only if they will qualify as your dependents. Generally, this means that you must provide more than one-half their total support for the year.

Q—I've been told that you can save on estate taxes by using the marital deduction. How does this work?

A—The law provides that the total value of the taxable estate may be reduced by that portion of the estate that has been left, generally by will, to the surviving spouse. However, this total reduction is limited to one-half of the adjusted gross estate (the total estate less certain expenses).

Q—I regularly purchase U.S. Savings Bonds for my daughter to pay for her college education. If these bonds are registered in her name, does she have to file tax returns reporting the accrued interest each year even though it is her only income and is less than $600?

A—Yes it will. Marital status is determined as of the last day of the tax year.

PRESIDENT'S PLANS JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson will fly to Houston Sunday to attend the closing meeting in evangelist Billy Graham's crusade, the Texas White House said Friday.

Johnson plans to return to his ranch after the services in the Houston Astrodome.

New Orleans Residents Are Truly Thankful

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Neighbors of Carolyn Park subdivision ate turkey on the lawn, danced in the street and thanked God that Hurricane Betsy was no worse than it was.

Two and a half months ago, water surged to rooftops in the area of St. Bernard Parish (County), adjoining New Orleans. Lawns are still browned from salt water blown in by Betsy's winds.

Tables were set up Thursday in front yards of a two-lock stretch of Llama Drive and residents sat down beside piles of debris—the remains of household furnishings and fragments of the homes.

The Rev. George A. Landry of St. Robert Bellarmine Church offered a Thanksgiving prayer. Then a three-piece combo struck up music for dancing.

Several neighbors who have not yet been able to move back into their damaged homes returned for the feast anyway. Anthony Cucchero explained why residents of the battered neighborhood were thankful. "Only our material things were lost," he said.

VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONS CROWNED — The fall volleyball season came to an end Monday night with play-offs in both leagues. In the women's league Cock O Walk Drive Inn de-throned the Independents in three straight games 15-7, 15-8 and 15-4. Both teams had tied for first place during the season with 9-1 records but there was no doubt as to who was the champion in the play-offs. In the men's division the Skelly Oilers were crowned champions with an 8-2 mark while in the play-offs Monday night the Dairy Queen and Senior Citizens broke their second place tie with Dairy Queen winning 13-15, 15-9, 15-8 and 15-8. The next volleyball season will be in March, 1966.

BASKETBALL SEASON STARTS — The men's basketball season will get under way Monday night with two games on tap. There will be two leagues this year, novice and open, with each team playing 12 games in a triple round robin. Teams entered in the novice league are Jaycees, Vaughn Oil, Webco Construction, Celanese and First National Bank. The open league of more experienced and younger players is composed of Richard Drug, Utility Oil, Cock O Walk, Borger and Beaver Express.

The two games Monday night are First National vs Jaycees at 7 p.m. and Vaughn Oil vs Webco at 8:30 p.m. On Thursday night Beaver Express will op-

The Family Lawyer

Theft: A Tax Deduction
During divorce proceedings, a court awarded part of the family's money to the wife. Her husband, outraged, reacted very much like the proverbial pugilist who cries: "I wuz robbed!"

In that spirit, he solemnly claimed a deduction for "theft" on his next income tax return. But the government took a dim view of his claim. And, after a court hearing, the judge ruled this was not exactly the kind of theft that the tax law had in mind.

Generally speaking, you do have a right to deduct for loss-by-theft of your personal property, above a $100 minimum. Unless you are covered by insurance, you may subtract the amount of the loss from your gross income.

But the government will insist on a reasonable showing that you really did suffer a theft. Mere unexplained disappearance is not enough.

For instance:
In one case, a man's wallet vanished from his pocket at some unknown point during a walk downtown and a ride in an elevator. The court found "only the suspicion of a theft" — not enough to justify a tax deduction.

In another case, a valuable bird dog, released for exercise, simply disappeared. The court, observing that the dog might as probably be lost as stolen, denied tax relief to the owner.

On the other hand, you do not need overwhelming, iron-clad proof to establish a claim. The circumstances of your loss may be convincing enough, even though no thief is ever caught.

For example:
A traveller was advised, at an airport stopover, that it was safe to leave his camera in the plane. But upon his return he found the camera gone. Theft was held sufficiently likely, in these circumstances, to support his claim for a tax deduction.

A woman kept a diamond pin in a locked drawer, but with the key accessible to her maid. When she returned home after a few days' absence, the pin was missing. So were some clothes, so were some linens, and so was the maid. Held: good enough evidence of theft.

PROTEST WAR
PARIS (UPI) — The wife of novelist ("From Here to Eternity") James Jones handed a petition to the U. S. Embassy calling for an end to the Viet Nam war.

The petition, signed by 225 Americans in Paris, demanded a stop to U.S. bombing in Viet Nam, a cease-fire under international control and a lasting, negotiated peace.

In 1834 water was first piped into the White House from a spring.

Foreign Commentary

UPI Foreign News Analyst
It is just over five months ago that South Viet Nam's ruling military junta took power with the dashing Air Vice Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky (pronounced "kee") in the role of premier.

It was the fourth government change to take place in 1965 and only one in a succession of upheavals which have been the mark of South Vietnamese political instability since the downfall of President Ngo Dinh Diem in November, 1963.

More than passing interest, therefore, may be accorded Saigon reports of a meeting of Saigon and Dalat University students who demanded a return to civilian government.

South Vietnamese students, perhaps because they can present a degree of organization in a nobly disorganized country, have exercised an inordinate influence on the failure of South Vietnamese governments.

Direct Personal Attack
It may be especially noteworthy that the students of Saigon and Dalat specifically criticized Marshal Ky for failures of South Vietnamese reforms. Ky, a colorful figure within the South Vietnamese military, heretofore has been free of personal attack.

In South Viet Nam's current state of war and in consideration of the forces which naturally divide the country, it is doubtful if any but a military regime could rule it now.

At the outset, the National Directorate, formal name of the junta of which Ky is a part, announced that Viet Cong terrorists, corrupt officials, speculators and black marketers would be executed without trial and lesser offenders sent to forced labor camps.

Inflation Continues
Although members of the directorate have made an effort and are conceded to be honest, the black market continues to thrive and inflation is driving the cost of living higher and higher.

This probably would be the excuse for any attempted coup in the future.

However, there are other factors, one being a question of personal leadership.

The swaggering Ky has built a remarkable spirit within the South Vietnamese air force which he still commands. His men were delighted, for instance, on one occasion when an American instructor was checking him out in one of the hot jet fighter bombers that fly over Viet Nam.

Takes Over Controls
"I can't fly it from the back seat," Ky curtly announced, thereupon taking over the controls and, while Americans held their breath, landing it himself.

But such feats do not establish a popular following among a people.

In South Viet Nam, the southerners of the Delta distrust the Catholic Northerners around the ancient capital

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate commerce subcommittee held a hearing this week on the growing use of recorded telephone messages.

Almost every city now has them by the dozens and in many cases they perform a public service.

You can dial certain numbers for weather reports, wholesale egg prices, bird watching conditions, and various other useful tidbits of information.

You also can "dial-a-prayer" for inspiration, "dial-a-dietician" for health hints and otherwise improve your self physically, spiritually and mentally.

What chiefly concerns the subcommittee is the use of telephonic recordings for political purposes. There have been complaints that some groups are sponsoring "dial-a-smear" messages.

What chiefly concerns me, however, was something that E. William Henry, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, said in his testimony.

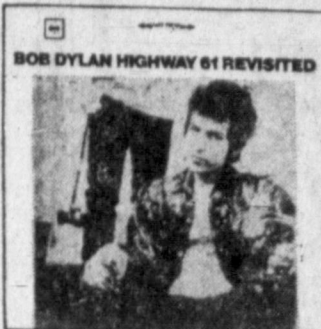

He reported that recording devices are now "approaching full automation, and may initiate calls automatically without waiting to be triggered by a curious caller."

In other words, you won't have to dial them; they'll dial you. The machine will call you up and deliver a message whether you want to hear it or not.

China Troops Take Indians

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Communist Chinese troops kidnaped three Indian soldiers from inside India's northeast frontier, dragged them across the border into Tibet and murdered them, a government spokesman charged today.

He said the Indian soldiers were on a routine patrol near Dom La Pass in the Siam division of the agency when they were surprised by Chinese troops, hustled over the border and killed.

The spokesman denied a New China News Agency (NCNA) report of the incident which said the Indians violated Chinese territory and opened fire on civilians. They were shot down by Chinese guards.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent
Every housewife in Pampa should have seen the demonstration given by Sunset Cason, sales manager, Panhandle Packing, Bill Tigert, salesman, Panhandle Packing and Paul Crouch, owner, at the recent meeting of the Panhandle T-Bone Club.

This team of meat experts dissected one-half of the carcass from an 820 pound steer on foot. Purpose of the demonstration was to show the percentage of the various cuts of meat. To start with the carcass weighed 492 pounds, or dressed 60 percent of what the animal weighed on foot. In other words, the hide, head, feet, offal and other inedible portion of the animal weighed 328 pounds. This portion has a very low by-product value to the Packers.

When these very skilled meat men had finished cutting the meat into the various retail cuts, they weighed each of the different cuts separately. There were 67.5 pounds of waste fat that was trimmed. This represented 14 percent of the carcass. There was 46 pounds of bone or 9.4 percent. There was only 27 pounds of T-Bones from the 820 pound steer or a little over 5 percent of the carcass. Sirloin steaks weighed 39.5 lbs. and made up a fraction over eight percent. There were 33 pounds of Club steaks or close to 7 percent. There was 111.5 pounds of roast or 22.8 percent of the carcass. There was a little over 115 pounds of hamburger or 23 percent. No wonder that my freezer always has hamburger, but the steaks are gone. Meat men say there is always about 3.5 percent you lose without being able to account for it. When you deduct for the trimmed fat, the bone and weight loss created by saws and knives you have only about 375 pounds of edible meat.

This might help explain why some cuts of meat are higher than others. We thought you would be interested in these figures. If you would like to have a copy of a brief leaflet we have entitled "From Steer to Steak," call our office, MO 4-2671. It gives a similar run down on this.

Wheat pasture cattle are still pouring into the County. As farmers get their Maize and other sorghum crops harvested cattle are being released daily to graze stalk fields and wheat pasture. I don't believe the rust is making quite as much progress as it did earlier.

Our Beef Cattle Sub-committee planned several result demonstrations earlier to be performed by different cattlemen. One such demonstration will be conducted on the Fred Vandenburg ranch. Sixty-five head of 30 pounds Number One, Okie steers will be wormed with a new worming compound called Thi-Benzole. Sixty-five like steer calves will not be wormed but identified. Weight will be caught on the wormed steers separately from the control group. Results will be published next spring or at the end of this demonstration.

Agriculture Development Tour Planned

ABILENE — Some 150 or more West Texas farmers, ranchers, and businessmen will visit South Texas, the Gulf Coast, and lower Rio Grande Valley area February 20-25 as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce holds a special agricultural development tour into those areas.

W. H. (Bill) Lance of Perryton, chairman of the WTCC Agriculture Committee, officially announced the tour. The tour is being set up to give the West Texans a good look at both the industrial and agricultural picture from Houston into the Valley, with a special look at ranching operations on the King Ranch and the Armstrong Ranch between Kingsville and Brownsville. Travel will be by rail, with Santa Fe Railway making arrangements for the West Texas Chamber, Lance said. Pullmans will originate at Amarillo, Lubbock and Fort Worth.

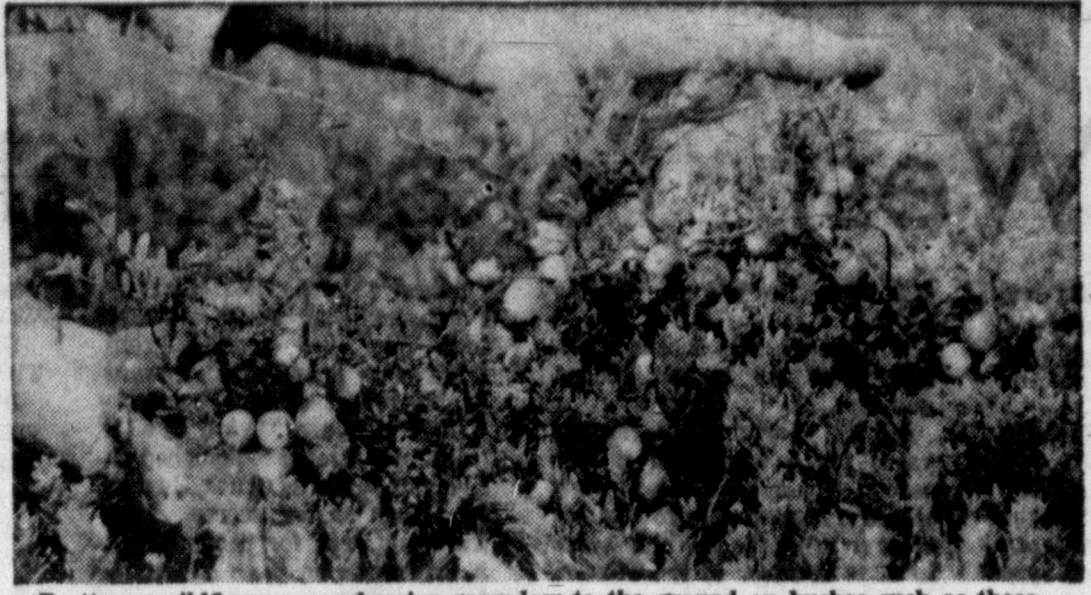

Business Highlights

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — Machine tool orders in October gained 8 per cent over September and were up 31 per cent from a year earlier, the Industry Trade Association said. The association said new orders were so heavy that big defense demand for machine tools could cause quiet a jam.

WASHINGTON — Companies in the space craft industry have been invited to submit design proposals for satellites to relay broadcasts directly into FM radio receivers in homes.

WASHINGTON — The federal government's crackdown on prices appears to be working in the flour industry too. Within 24 hours after the Johnson administration announced it would sell wheat from the stockpile, major milling companies rolled back the price of flour by 10 cents a hundredweight.

DETROIT — Despite a strike at General Motors' Fisher Body plant at Flint, auto output this week will be up 18 per cent from a year ago. An estimated 177,500 cars, output will be below last week's 215,000 because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Pretty as wildflowers, cranberries grow low to the ground on bushes such as these.

Cranberries Outwit Drought

Those bright little holiday cranberries have been affected by the water shortage along with most other things. Farmers in the northeastern states have had a traditional method of protecting the growing crop when the temperature drops below 29 or 30 degrees on spring or fall nights. Ample water is needed for growing the crop at all times. So on cold nights, water—being warmer—was allowed to flood the bogs. With increased water demands for human needs and the nagging drought conditions, the cultivation of cranberries had to change. With assistance from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the Federal Department of Agriculture, the producers are switching over to the use of sprinklers. Water is conserved during irrigation, and the spray provides the warm blanket which can be pulled over the bushes to escape frost early and in the season.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS District Manager
There is going to be something done about the water situation in the State of Texas and the rest of the nation. The machinery for getting something done is already in existence. This machinery is moving on both the national and state level. The tenth annual Water for Texas Conference, sponsored by Texas A & M University, was held on Monday and Tuesday, November 22 and 23. Over 159 Texas and National Water Authorities attended the two day conference.

Roland R. Renne, Director of the Water Resources Research Office of the Department of the Interior, in speaking to the noon luncheon meeting of the Conference on Monday, outlined the steps being taken by the Department of the Interior in regard to the ultimate solution of the water problem. Expanding and speeding up research efforts and water works programs are the main tools being used at the present time to reduce or solve the Nation's Water problem. Renne emphasized that there are no absolute water shortages except in arid areas.

"Our lack of planning and concern over waste and mismanagement and our lack of adequate scientific and technical knowledge are the major causes of our current water crisis," he said. Renne pointed out that water problem — solving steps taken recently by the federal government include the cooperative federal-state research and training program in water resources. The program he referred to was the Water Resources Research Act, and is based on the successful agricultural experiment station approach—established by Congress in 1887

Export Meeting Set in Houston

The first in a series of agricultural oriented export conferences has been scheduled for December 9 at the Rice Hotel in Houston. It was announced today by Ray B. Brimble, chairman of the South Texas Regional Export Expansion Council.

The one-day seminar session will include addresses by key persons in the agricultural field and will be primarily concerned with advising those in attendance how to increase exports of agricultural products from South Texas.

Brimble said provisions are being made to accommodate several hundred persons. Those invited to attend include, agriculturists, stock yard men, cattle men, cotton merchants, rice merchants, terminal operators and farmers in general. The exporting of cotton, beef cattle and grains will be emphasized during the day-long sessions.

Brimble said a $10 registration fee has been set.

Wheeler County Honors 4-Hers For Achievement

Eighteen 4-H students received Achievement Awards at the annual Wheeler County Achievement Banquet, November 20, at the Wheeler High School Cafeteria.

The main speaker for the evening was Carl Hudson, incoming District 4-H Council Chairman from Carson County. Carl gave an inspiration talk on "What 4-H Can Do for the Individual." Carl said, "before you can reap the fruit in 4-H you must strive hard when you are a young member, keep records, and remain in 4-H. Then when you are older, you can reap the fruit of your accomplishments by winning trips, scholarships, etc."

Meritorious Service Awards, for outstanding work for 4-H students were presented to Mrs. Dorman, Wheeler County Sheriff, and Clois Hanner, Commissioner Pct. 3.

Honorary 4-H Membership Awards were given to the Wheeler County Commissioners Court and the Home Demonstration Council.

The entire event was presented by the Junior Leaders, Judy Finsterwald and Fred Goad acted as Master of Ceremonies. Other junior leaders had various parts of the program. The most outstanding 4-H Awards, the Gold Star Awards were presented to Fred Goad of Wheeler, and Helen Puryear of Briscoe. Achievement Awards were given to individuals who completed projects and submitted by the Honorable Grainger McIlhany. Those receiving awards were: achievement, Brenda McCasland; agricultural, Richard Hefley and Kevin Hefley; beef awards, Mike Bryant, Champ Davis, Richard Meadows and Doug Rives; clothing,

Sloan Passes Help Tide Tumble Auburn, 30-3

BIRMINGHAM, (UPI)—Steve Sloan threw three touchdown passes and his Alabama teammates intercepted seven aeriels to humiliate Auburn, 30-3. Saturday for the Crimson Tide's second straight Southeastern Conference title.

runs by Leslie Kelley and Steve Bowman to since Sloan's attack. The win brought Alabama's record to 8-1-1 and set the stage for the New Year's night clash with Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Dave Ray kicked a 27-yard field goal in the second period after Alabama recovered an Auburn fumble, one of two lost by the mistake-plagued Tigers.

HUSTLING HARVESTERS — Kenneth McWilliams, left, Gary Crossland, center, and Mike Wise paced Pampa to an 85-60 triumph over Denton Saturday night. Pampa now stands 2-1 for the season and travels to Dumas Tuesday night to play the Demons in a non conference affair.

McWilliams Hits 34, Paces Harvester Win

DENTON (Spl.) — Pampa came on the strongest, where they were the weakest Friday night, to storm past Denton, 85-60, here Saturday night.

Friday night the Bronchos handed the Harvesters their first loss in two outings, 71-64. See story page 10.

But Denton wasn't through yet and after Pampa led by nine, 33-24 midway through the second period the Bronchos Bill Austin hit two field goals and Ron Higgins, high point for the home team with 15 points hit two straight from the field to cut the Pampa margin to 37-34.

Dolphins Pick Grabowski In First Round of Draft

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Miami Dolphins, the newest entry in the American Football League, went to offensive might by choosing Illinois fullback Jim Grabowski and Kentucky quarterback Rick Norton as their top picks Saturday as the junior circuit conducted its annual player draft.

However, most of the other clubs concentrated on linemen and linebackers in the first two rounds, which took 7½ hours to complete.

AFL teams signed two of their early first-round choices, the New York Jets inking tackle Bill Yearby of Michigan and the Kansas City Chiefs satisfying defensive end Aaron Brown of Minnesota.

two choices since as a new club it is far behind the other teams in talent. After the Dolphins selected Grabowski and Norton, the other teams took players in the inverse order of their standing as of Thanksgiving Day.

Frogs Explode for 10-7 Victory

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Texas Christian, choked off to a 14-yard offense for three periods, erupted with an 87-yard scoring drive and a 40-yard field goal Saturday to subdue penalty-ridden Southern Methodist 10-7.

The victory, a stunner in the face of the manhandling SMU gave the Frogs for 44 minutes, gave TCU a tie with Texas Tech for second place in the Southwest Conference race with a 5-2 record and a 6-4 season that earned an invitation to the Sun Bowl.

The TCU players met shortly after the game to vote on whether to accept the bid to meet Texas Western in the Dec. 31 Bowl at El Paso.

Sophomore Steve Landon crashed through from three yards out for TCU's tying touchdown behind the blocking of tackle Adron Sitra, guard Russell Stout and end Joe Ball, who throughout the 87-yard surge, opened gaping holes in the hitherto impregnable SMU defense.

The Frogs then turned a captured SMU fumble into another scoring drive, moving from their own 25 down to the SMU two before a penalty pushed them back to the 25 and forced Bruce Alford to go for the winning field goal.

SMU, paced by quarterback Mac White, ripped and rolled with ease through the TCU defenses most of the afternoon. But aside from its 52-yard second-quarter scoring drive, rapped by Larry Jernigan's three-yard smash, something always cropped up to foil the bid.

SMU's usually reliable Dennis Partee misfired on field goal attempts from the 30 and 27 yards and saw another one fizzle on a bad snap from center.

Just prior to the launching of the TCU scoring drive, SMU drove to a first down on the TCU 18 and White fired a strike to John Roderick in the end zone but the speedster came down on the end zone boundary line, and it was ruled an incomplete pass.

The disaster really struck and before it was over SMU faced a fourth down and 65-yard situation back on their own 28-yard line. The Mustangs drew one five-yard penalty for delay of the game, lost eight yards on two running plays and twice in succession were penalized 20 yards each time before running a play.

The initial five yards was for extra delay and the 15-yard extra punitive action came when a referee called personal fouls against SMU for foul language.

Mustang Jim Hagle kicked with a tremendous 60-yard punt, but then TCU caught fire and roared to victory.

Before it was over TCU had piled up 101 yards rushing and 72 passing—far short of SMU's 256 and 100, but just enough in the clutch.

BUT WHERE WILL HE GO?

Longhorns' Nobis Choice of Falcons

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tommy Nobis, a ram-busting Texas linebacker who is expected to corral a six-figure bonus for signing, was the first choice of the fledgling Atlanta Falcons Saturday when the National Football League conducted its annual player draft.

Nobis, a 21-year-old, 6-2, 230-pounder, is the first linebacker to be made a No. 1 selection since Philadelphia took Chuck Bednarik in 1949. Nobis, a two-way lineman, made the United Press International All-America team as a junior guard last year.

Just as was the case in the rival American League's draft, held simultaneously a few streets away, the emphasis by NFL clubs was on linemen and linebackers. There wasn't a quarterback chosen among the first 13 picks.

Continue Through Sunday
After the draft had been underway for eight hours, the first round still had not been completed. The NFL was to continue through the night and Sunday until it had gone through 20 rounds.

Following the selection of Nobis, who was also picked by Houston of the AFL, the Los Angeles Rams took tackle Tom Mack of Michigan. The Rams announced the signing of the 6-3, 228-pounder shortly after.

Other early draftees signed by National League clubs were end Randy Beisler of Indiana by the Philadelphia Eagles and tackle Jerry Shay of Purdue by the Minnesota Vikings.

The Green Bay Packers had two selections on the first round as the result of an agreement with the Detroit Lions. Green Bay chose Illinois fullback Jim Grabowski in Detroit's place and took Minnesota tackle Gale Gillingham in its own turn.

Grabowski was the No. 1 choice in the AFL draft. He was selected by Miami, a new franchise.

Redskins Pick Gogolak
Other first-round selections in the NFL were: Pittsburgh — Dick Lettridge, West Virginia fullback; Dallas — John Niland, Iowa guard; Washington — Charley Gogolak, Princeton place-kicking specialist; St. Louis — Carl McAdams, Oklahoma linebacker; New York — Francis Peay, Missouri tackle; San Francisco — Stan Hindman, Mississippi guard; Chicago — George Rice, Louisiana State tackle; Cleveland — Milt Morin, Massachusetts end.

Nobis, called by Texas Coach Darrell Royal the best two-way lineman he's ever had, made 20 or more tackles in five different games this year. As a star coveted by teams in both leagues, he seems certain of receiving an offer in excess of $100,000.

The signing of Shay by the Vikings gave the NFL its first victory in its annual war with the American League for the top college prospects. Shay had been a first-round selection of Denver in the AFL.

Shay, a 6-2, 230-pounder from Gary, Ind., said he was talked to by Minnesota officials only 25 minutes before Saturday's selections and he immediately came to terms.

Asked why he chose the NFL, Shay said he had many good friends in the senior pro circuit. He added that he had always been a Bears fan and "would have liked to have played for them if things had worked differently."

Gogolak, chosen by Washington, is the younger brother of AFL star Pete Gogolak, the kicking specialist with Buffalo. Like his brother, Charley boots the ball soccer-style off the side of his foot. The Hungarian-born Ivy Leaguer kicked 33 extra points and 16 of 23 field goal attempts this season to lead all major college kickers in scoring with 81 points.

Five of Gogolak's field goals came in one game against Cornell to set an NCAA record.

Grabowski was one of the leading fullbacks in college ball and broke 11 Illinois records previously held by the immortal Red Grange.

He carried the ball 252 times this year for 1,258 yards and seven touchdowns.

Rebels Smash M-State, 21-0

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — The Mississippi Rebels marched 94 yards for one touchdown and scored two more on a pass interception and a fumble Saturday to blank arch-rival Mississippi State, 21-0, and accept a Liberty Bowl bid.

Ole Miss, sparked by an alert defense, took command early in the game when defensive halfback Billy Clay intercepted a pass and raced 50 yards for a touchdown.

Moments later, the Rebels marched 94 yards in 17 plays with senior quarterback Jimmy Heidel plunging over from the one. The final touchdown came in the closing minutes after State halfback Marcus Rhoden fumbled a punt and Ole Miss guard Tommy Lucas recovered on the six yard line. Senior tailback Mike Dennis rapped over from the one.

Specialist Jimmy Keyes kicked all three extra points for the Rebels.

Immediately after the game ended, Mississippi Athletic Director C. M. (Tad) Smith announced the Rebels had accepted an invitation to meet Auburn in the Liberty Bowl game at Memphis Dec. 18. This makes nine straight years that Ole Miss has played in a post season bowl game.

Florida Scores Late to Rip F-State, 30-17

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Florida scored two touchdowns in the final two minutes Saturday to beat Florida State in a 30-17 thriller and sweeten the Gators' forthcoming Sugar Bowl trip.

The spine — tingling wind-up saw Florida State go ahead 17-16 with two minutes, 10 seconds remaining in what appeared to be an upset win for the Seminoles.

But the Gators' record-breaking passing combination of quarterback Steve Spurrier and end Charles Casey teamed on a 25-yard touchdown pass with 1 minute, 12 seconds left to put Florida ahead 23-17 and halfback Allen Trammell ran back an intercepted pass 46 yards for another touchdown with just seconds remaining.

Casey caught seven passes to raise his season total to 58 and break the Southeastern Conference record of 52 set by Barney Poole of Mississippi in 1947.

Spurrier, who threw three touchdown passes, completed 18 passes for a season total of 147 to break Babe Parilli's SEC record of 136 set in 1951 at Kentucky.

The surprise ending overshadowed two fine touchdown pass receptions by Florida halfback Jack Harper in the second period and FSU quarterback Ed Pritchett's 31-yard toss to end Max Wettstein in the third period.

Pritchett completed 18 of 34 for 193 yards for the loser.

The victory was doubly sweet for the Gators who were upset by Miami last week before accepting a Sugar Bowl bid, and were out to avenge last year's setback at the hands of the Seminoles.

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

Let's gaze into the crystal ball a while this Sunday morning or afternoon and try to forecast just what might be in store for Pampa football fortunes in the year 1966.

A quick look tells us things do not look bad at all with 11 starters and part-time starters due back to help a very disappointed Eural Ramsey.

Ramsey vows that things will not be as bad in '66 as they were this year, saying too, they couldn't have been much worse.

He just may be right for the Harvesters should be pretty well set in the backfield with the quarterback spot the only undecided place.

Too, the Harvesters return two veteran ends in 150-pound David Martindale and 175-pounder James Matney, with Matney sure to do Pampa's punting.

Where could they find a better center than 205-pound Doc Cornutt, who, near the end of the season starred on both offense and defense.

One guard and one tackle spot should be pretty well set also with 173-pound Jack Williamson ready at guard and 183-pound Billy Scribner selected for a return match at tackle.

In the backfield the Harvester's will have sometimes smooth-running and sometimes butter-fingered Ted Heiskell ready to lead everybody in rushing at fullback.

L. D. Rowden, 176 and Gary McCarrell, who both had to carry the load the last five games, return to their halfback chores in 1966.

At the present Smisson Goddlett, a 155 pound by 5'10" junior, looks set for quarterback duties for Pampa, although he didn't see as much action as the rest of the fellas, darn that Roy Harper.

Heiskell and Fumbles

If you'd like to prognosticate a bit further and try to fill in the vacant guard and tackle spot, try Terry Troxel, a mighty-mite at 156 pounds at guard and Glen Lewis, 178 pound junior at tackle.

Cornutt and Williamson must already be considered good all-district material, both coming along nicely for coach Ramsey, and both just as tough as nails, something you have to be in district 3-4A.

McCarrell carried the ball 30 times for Pampa and gained 118 yards for a 3.7 per carry average. He also led all Harvesters in kickoff returns with an average of just over 16 yards.

Add an inch to his height and 10 pounds to his frame and you have the makings of a fine halfback. But, please don't let him lose any speed, we can't afford it.

Rowden was probably the Harvesters most consistent ground gainer in their last five contests. He carried 37 times for 147 yards, an average of 4.3, just under the 4.5 mark of Heiskell.

Rowden scored more touchdowns than anyone except Harper, both having three. Heiskell had two.

Heiskell, if he can get rid of the fumbleitis, could become the best fullback in district 3-4A and probably the best in Pampa's history. He has all the makings, size, fair speed, he's a bulldozer and he can think.

Add these 11 with Jan Farley, 170 pound fullback, Bruce Ginn, 130 pound halfback, Larry Keyser, 150 pound end, Sherman Mitchell, 160 pound halfback and David Smith, 167 pound guard and a slew of quick-thinking, fast moving Shockers and 1966 could be THE year for Pampa's Harvesters.

What kind of man are you?

Denton Bumps Harvesters

(Another Story Page 8)

DENTON (Sp1) — Pampa played it cool from the charity line Friday night and allowed Denton to much charity as the Bronchos made off with a 71-64 victory over the Harvesters.

The loss ended a Pampa winning streak of one, and gave Denton a 2-0 record, but it did not come easy.

Pampa led by as much as six points in the third quarter and by three once in the final period and held a 63-62 margin with just over a minute to go in the contest.

But Denton's Tim White hit his first basket of the night for a 64-63 lead which the Bronchos never relinquished.

Turner hit a free shot for Pampa with 57 seconds to go to bring the Harvesters within two at 66-64 but baskets by Steve Neil and Dan Laney put the game out of reach.

Pampa, which made only 14 of 39 shots from the free throw line, had three chances to pull close and maybe even tie in the dying seconds but the free throw continued to sneer at them and the ball couldn't find the basket.

Gary Crossland, David Cain and Kenneth McWilliams all hit in double figures for Pampa and Crossland almost pulled it out several times, but David

Cain, Mike Wise, David Frasier and Steve Williams went to the bench with five fouls in the third and fourth quarters.

McWilliams hit 10 points, Cain 20 and Crossland 12 to pace the Harvesters, who again were hot from the floor, hitting 25 of 48 attempts for a 52.1 per cent, getting only one field goal in the final period.

Bill Austin, the Bronchos center led all scorers with 22 points and Ronnie Higgins added 12 and Wally Cockran 14 to pace Denton.

Denton jumped to a quick 5-0 lead only to see Pampa come storming back and take their first lead at 9-8 on a layup by Cain.

Cain scored 10 first period points to pace the Harvesters to an 18-16 first quarter lead.

In the second period Wise, McWilliams and Crossland pulled the Harvesters out of spot after spot but the Bronchos forged to a 39-38 halftime lead.

Denton led by the one point after three periods at 56-55, although the lead changed hands five times.

In the final period Pampa took a quick 57-56 lead, stretched it to 59-56 but goals by Chocran and Austin put the Bronchos into a 60-59 lead and the lead changed back and forth four times before White hit his basket to ice it.

Vols Blitz Vanderbilt, 21-3

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Bowling Tennessee, avenge-memorial 1964 with a vengeance, staged two long drives and capitalized on a fumble to blitz Vanderbilt Saturday 21-3.

Vol fullback Stan Mitchell, in his last home game, exploded through the Vandy line with the game less than a minute old and raced 62 yards for the first of his two touchdowns.

The Vols have given up only 58 points in nine games.

Tennessee won a bid to play in the Dec. 18 Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston against Tulsa following their 19-3 win over Kentucky at Lexington last week.

It was the first win for Tennessee's sophomore coach Doug Dickey over traditional cross state rival Vanderbilt. It was Tennessee's 31st win in the series which began in 1892.

Tennessee, which lost by one point to Mississippi, has a 6-12 record going into next week's game with Rose Bowl-bound UCLA.

Late in the second period, Vol defensive end Paul Mauff captured a Vanderbilt fumble on the Commodore's 22-yard line and four plays later Mitchell plunged in from the one for his second score.

It was exactly one year ago that Vanderbilt held Tennessee scoreless while the offense punched across a game-winning touchdown.

This year the Vols found wide holes in the vaunted Commodore defense as they raced 227 yards in the first half. This was Tennessee's fourth 1965 game in which they have held opponents to less than a touchdown.

The Vols have given up only 58 points in nine games.

Kansas To Rule
Big 8, Midlands

By BILL OSTHOFF
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) —
What the State of Kansas suffered through in major college football this season, a slim four victories in 29 games, it will more than make up for in basketball.

For the past two years
basketball's top prize in the Midlands has belonged to the Sunflower State. It should stay there.

Two years ago it was Big Eight champion Kansas State that advanced to the NCAA semi-finals. Last year it was Wichita State of the Missouri Valley. This rich basketball tradition points toward Kansas this season.

Jayhawks Favored
The Jayhawks are odds-on favorites in the Big Eight where Colorado, Kansas State and Iowa State loom as chief threats.

Talented sophomores at Louisville and Wichita State and a veteran Bradley team, where four players return who averaged in double figures a year ago, make it a wide-open three-team race in the valley.

Oklahoma State's ball-control cowboys beat out Kansas a year ago in the Big Eight. But Coach Hank Iba's chances of repeating a 20-7 season were staggered when graduation claimed four three-year starters and baseball lured away his top returning letterman in Freddie Moulder.

Six Veterans Return
Coach Ted Owens' Kansans return the six players who logged the most time in a 17-8 season. They represent a whopping 92.5 per cent of the scoring punch and more than 80 per cent rebound strength.

The workhorse is big Walt Wesley, a 6-foot-11 All-America candidate. The Jayhawks' most gifted pivot since fabled Wilt Chamberlain, Wesley scored at a 23.5 clip, hit 50 per cent from the field and set league records with 377 points and 150 field goals last year.

The Jayhawks face a rugged non-conference road and their clash with defending NCAA champion UCLA Dec. 17 at Los Angeles will be indicative of their national prominence.

All-conference choices Chuck
Gardner (16.4) and Pat Frink
(15.0) are among seven returning lettermen at Colorado.
Kansas State slumped to 12-13 year ago, the worst in Coach Tex Winter's 13-year career, but the Wildcats promise to be formidable this season.

K-State A Contender
Sophomore Nick Pino, a strapping 7-foot-1, 270-pounder, will blend talents with veterans Sammy Robinson, Ron Paradis and 6-foot-7 Roy Smith to push K-State back into a contender role.

Iowa State and Oklahoma both return eight lettermen and the Cyclones have the league's best 1-2 scoring punch back in Bob Ziegler (19.3) and Al Koch (17.9). Nebraska returns five lettered Cornhuskers, including a pair of fine guards in Fred Hare and Grant Simmons, and Oklahoma State must rebuild around letterman Skip Iba.

The outlook is bleak at Missouri, where only guards
Charlie Rudd and Ronnie Coleman are back from a third place club.

Wichita State finished 21-9 last season after losing All-America Dave Stallworth's eligibility at mid-term. The Shockers return five lettermen, including standout Kelly Pete (17.3), and two rookie prizes, 6-foot-2 Warren Armstrong and 6-foot-5 Ron Washington.

White Deer Stalls Kangaroos, 15-6

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

AMARILLO (Spl) —Kress played White Deer tough for over three quarters Friday night but the Bucks had it when it counted and squeezed by the Kangaroos, 15-6 behind the running of Vernon Marlar, Gary Smith and Randy Elliott.

Kress threatened throughout the first period but the Buck defense tightened on each occasion to thwart every attempt.

Three times the Kangaroos drove inside the Buck 50 once going to the 22 but a fumble killed the drive and another time Elliott burst through the line to set a Kangaroo runner for an eight yard loss.

It was Elliott who put the Bucks in front 7-0 at halftime, scoring from three yards out in the second period after White Deer had recovered a Kress fumble at the Bucks own 21.

Kress quarterback Larry Fields kept the Bucks ill at ease all night with his pin point passing, connecting on seven of 13 attempts for 72 yards.

In the third period with the Bucks leading only 7-0, the Kangaroos drove from their own 20, following an attempted Johnny Mooney field goal from the 31, to the White Deer 13 where Fields faked a pass and scampered in for the touchdown.

The Kangaroos elected to try for the two - pointer and a pass fell incomplete for a 7-6 White Deer lead with 56 seconds remaining in the third period.

The Bucks, who don't like to be scored on, got their dander up and marched 71 yards in seven plays with halfback Smith gliding around right end for 41 yards and the touchdown, his second of the night, the first one being called back.

The Bucks were lucky to get this one, fumbling on the first play and Otto Wheeler-jumping and quarterback Phil Hart, who did his usual masterful job, tossed to end Bill Anderson for the two pointer. With 9:31 left in the game the Bucks had their 12th in a row tucked away at 15-6.

Kress made a bid, driving from their own 15 to the Buck 15 where three straight passes fell incomplete. It was during this drive that Fields was his best, hitting four of six passes for 67 yards. A 15 yard penalty put the Kangaroos back from the White Deer seven to the 21 and the Kangaroos could never recover. The Bucks drove to the Kress 33 and had to punt.

Fields passed but had it intercepted, the Bucks fumbled and Kress took possession again.
But another pass fell into the hands of a White Deer defender and the Bucks had it iced.
White Deer played its usual devastating ground game gunning for 270 yards on the floor and passing from only nine.

Kress did find a few holes in the Buck defense and ground out 164 yards.
Scoring:

kick)

CHILDRESS (Spl) — Groom and Bronte battle in the class
B regional finals next week as both won first round bi-district games Friday night.

Groom tallied three times in the second half to down Rochester, 22-6 Friday night and Bronte outgunned Chillicothe, 25-6.

In the opening half the Tigers could move no closer than the Steer 40 yard line and Rochester had but one penetration, that coming just before halftime when they marched to the Groom 14.

Groom's Larry Lamberson and Jerry Littlefield combined to make it a bad Friday for Rochester.

Littlefield recovered the first of two fumbles in the third period on the Rochester nine with 5:30 left in the period.

Five plays later Lamberson gunned in from the three on a fourth down play. A pass try for the conversion failed and with 4:05 left it was 6-0.

Littlefield pounced on another Rochester fumble three plays later, this one on the Steers 28.
Lamberson carried five straight times to the Steer five.
Cornett sneaked to the three but red flags were flying.

With a fourth and goal at the 11 Cornett passed to end-tackle
J. B. Parker in the end zone and Lamberson ran in the conversion to make it 14-0 with 56 seconds left in the third period.
Rochester wasn't dead and proved it by moving 69 yards in 13 plays with quarterback Tommy Holmes passing five yards to halfback Steve Le-Fevre for the score. His brother Olsen was stopped short on the conversion try and Groom led 14-6 with 6:19 left in the game.

An on-sides kick backfired and the Tigers took over on the Rochester 49.

Seven plays later Lamberson went in from the five after carrying three straight times and Parker catching a 20-yard pass to put the game on ice.

Lamberson ran over the conversion and with 3:23 left it was 22-6 Groom.

Dr. Newman Stresses Freedom's Value

"There needs to be a new emphasis on the value of our freedom," Dr. Guy D. Newman told some 100 persons at the Monday evening banquet of Pampa Altrusa Club.

Dr. Newman, president of Howard Payne College at Brownwood, spoke on the "Douglas MacArthur Academy of Freedom" now under construction on the college campus.

Some 300 students from the continental United States and foreign countries are now taking courses in the Academy which offers a new orientation to help modern day youth understand the freedoms of the world. Students must have reached their junior year in college and must have maintained a B average before they can enter the Academy. The average must also be maintained throughout the completion of their last two years of college work.

After eight years of planning, study and research under Dr. Newman's leadership, the Academy was finally begun. Col. Russell O. Fudge, brilliant educator and lecturer in the fields of political science and foreign affairs and administrator of the U. S. Army War College in Carlisle Barracks, Wilkes Barre, Pa., spent two years at Howard Payne setting up the program. Of the Academy Col. Fudge says, "After visiting colleges and universities over the world, the Douglas MacArthur Academy of Freedom offers the finest program of its kind in the world."

The basic philosophy surrounding the Academy program is to make freedom meaningful and real to those who follow its course of study. Successful graduates are assured top flight positions in diplomatic service and governmental and educational fields.

The Academy, the only one of its kind in the U.S., is the only educational institution to which Gen. MacArthur lent his name. When interviewed by Dr. Newman, requesting the use of his name, the General said, "We must have a program of this kind in higher education to preserve our standard of freedom." When asked how he thought freedom could be preserved

... banquet speaker.

Gen. MacArthur stated "Under any circumstance, the Communist mind cannot be trusted. It is not too late to preserve our freedom if the youth of our time, dedicated to freedom, can learn the destructive power of the Communists. The crux of a world revolution is not military, not economical, not political. It is psychological, ideological and spiritual. If the U.S. and Americans survive and continue to be the bastion of human liberty we must have a recrudescence of spiritual and moral life, a return to becoming followers of God and human dignity." Mrs. Frank Shotwell, president of Altrusa Club of Pampa, welcomed guests. Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. Newman, E. O. Wedgworth, manager of Pampa Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Wedgworth, and Dr. and Mrs. E. Douglas Carver. Dr. Carver gave the invocation and benediction.

Mrs. Irl Smith, vice president, introduced the speaker, and Mrs. Malcolm McDaniel, accompanied by Mrs. Fidelity Yoder, sang "America" preceding Dr. Newman's address.

TC Forum Presented Program on Art And Architecture of the Roman Empire

Members of Twentieth Century Forum were recently entertained in the home of Mrs. Calvin Jones. Mrs. John Sweeney opened the meeting with the reading of the Club Collect. After a business session, Mrs. Joe Franklin and Mrs. R. W. Waddell presented a most interesting program entitled, "The Early Roman Empire — Art and Architecture."

Mrs. Franklin began by saying, "To understand the art and architecture of a country one needs to know a little of the country's history." The Roman Empire grew from a collection of prehistoric villages to a world wide empire. The continuity from which arose the idea of Rome the Eternal may well teach us a lesson today in a time when world agreement is so necessary and so hard to realize. Rome recalls the one period when it was almost realized, a period which Gibbon considered the happiest in human history. How did this achievement come to pass, despite the brutalities of war, conquest and exploitation? Rome put no pressure on the conquered people of the Empire to conform, destroyed no cultural traditions and suppressed no difference of language. Instead she imposed the way of peace and built up the institutional framework which all men took for granted as they went about their daily concerns. She allowed her subjects to participate in her government and to satisfy their ambitions within her system. She won them by prestige so gained.

In the Fifth Century B. C. Rome was a small city - state like Athens but the Romans had a much greater talent for government and politics than the Greeks. Their state grew more powerful as time went on until it stretched all the way from England to Egypt and from Spain to Southern Russia. Although the Romans had conquered the Greeks as early as the Second Century B. C., they had a great respect for Greek art so that many of their own painters as well as sculptors and architects were influenced by the Greeks; so much so that the Romans are responsible through their own work for keeping the Greek style of painting alive so that it could be handed on to the artists of the Christian Era. Because of the Roman background of a belief in solid, sturdy, useful and not ornate frivolous things, their art was very uncomplicated. The first of the Roman paintings were done in Fresco, which means that the artist worked with water colors on freshly applied, moist plaster. The Romans were particularly good at this as we know from the many murals that have been dug up among the ruins of their towns. Mosaic art was an ancient method of making designs out of small cubes of colored material set into plaster that was developed to such technical perfection by the Romans that they could use it to copy paintings.

While the Greek worked at his art whether painting or sculpting with the idea of doing his subject to perfection, the Roman took a more realistic approach. In other words, if the Greek subject or model was ugly, he created it as beautiful while the Roman artist tried to make the object appear as it actually was. The Romans continued what the Greeks had begun in starting dimension and scale in their art, getting away from what the Egyptians had begun in their flat surface, no particular scale relation painting.

Mrs. Franklin concluded by saying the Roman subjects as a result were not as graceful as the Greek, but because they developed the use of their paints in shading, their subjects were more realistic.

Mrs. Waddell presented the history of Roman architecture. Architecturally, the Romans were avid borrowers. They took over the columns of Greece and the arch of the Etruscans. Their primary interests were not to match these adopted forms, but rather to out do other civilizations with great feats of engineering.

While Roman art was realistic, Roman architecture was often designed to reflect the power of the Empire. They were tremendous and boastful builders. The Romans built monuments wherever they went so the distant peoples of the world could enjoy the same pleasures and bow before the same Imperial standards as those at home in Rome. Therefore, Roman architecture is found wherever Roman government extended. Mrs. Waddell's two double-ring wedding vows Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Fellowship Baptist Church.

Couple United in Candlelight Ceremony

Mrs. Arnold James Barton Jr.,
... nee Miss Paula Rae Mullins

Miss Paula Rae Mullins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mullins of 1221 E. Francis, and Arnold James Barton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bowers of 704 E. Kingsmill, pledged double-ring wedding vows Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Fellowship Baptist Church.

Rev. Earl Maddux solemnized the ceremony before an altar appointed with two baskets of white gladioli flanked by seven-branched candelabra entwined with lemon leaves bearing cathedral tapers.

Miss Mary Thornton, organist, provided a program of appropriate nuptial selections and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Barton as they sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I avowal," the bride was attired in a chapel - length gown fashioned of white lace and tulle. The fitted bodice of the chosen lace featured a scalloped scooped neckline and long fitted sleeves terminating in petal points. The bouffant skirt was fashioned of illusion tiers edged with scalloped lace. A solid panel of the chosen lace enhanced the skirt back. The bride's waist-length veil of imported illusion fell from a seed pearl encrusted tiara. She carried a white Bible topped by a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white roses tied with white satin streamers. The bride carried out the tradition of "something old, new, borrowed and blue."

As the bride approached the altar she presented her mother with a long-stemmed white rose and presented the mother of the bridegroom with the same token following the exchange of vows.

Dressed identically in formal-length blue satin gowns, matching coils and elbow - length gloves, bridal attendants were Miss Wilma Jean Tyler, maid of honor, and Miss Linda Moore of Hollis, Okla., and Miss Freda Ann McNally of Borger, both cousins of the bride, bridesmaids. They each carried a long-stemmed white rose.

Donnie Barton served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Rodney Fulton and David Fulton of Hollis, Okla., the bride's cousins, while ushers were Kenneth Johnson and Jimmy Johnson, also cousins of the bride.

Miss Lee Ann Fulton of Hollis, Okla., bride's cousin, attired as the bridal attendants, and Tracy Worley, bridegroom's cousin, lit the tapers.

Serving as flower girls were Miss Lana Blocker and Miss Tammy Lowe; dressed identically to the other female attendants.

Miss Dana Preston and Tommy Blocker, bridegroom's nephew, dressed in miniature to the bride and bridegroom, attended as ringbearers and carried the rings on white satin pillows.

Fellowship Hall of Fellowship Baptist Church was the scene of the reception held following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a floor-length white net cloth over blue satin, was centered with a white satin Bible opened to Eph. 5:22, flanked by crystal candelabra bearing blue tapers. A white three - tiered wedding cake, trimmed with white roses and topped by a miniature bridal couple, and crystal punch service appointed the table. Proceeding at the punch bowl were Mrs. W. A. Taben and Mrs. Goldie Bennett while Miss Karen Tyler and Miss Helen Betchem served the wedding cake. Miss Sally Sue McNally attended the guest register.

Prior to departing on a wedding trip to Amarillo the new Mrs. Barton changed into a three-piece blue knit suit accented by black patent accessories. She lifted the white rose corsage from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home at Pampa Kingsmill Camp, west of Pampa.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and Pampa College of Beauty Culture and Hairdressing. Mr. Barton is employed by Greyco Machine Shop.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore of Hollis, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Budd Sullivan and M. and Mrs. Karol Danford and family of Amarillo, and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Annie Mullins of Lubbock.

Members of the wedding party were honored at a rehearsal dinner by the parents of the bridegroom the evening preceding, the exchange of vows. The event was held in the Bowers home at 704 E. Kingsmill.

Hennig-Thomason Vows Exchanged

CANADIAN (Spl) — Mrs. Betty Hennig was united in marriage to Don Thomason on Nov. 19.

Wedding vows were exchanged in First Street Baptist Chapel at five p.m.

Rev. Carroll Gilliland officiated. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland served as attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Thomason will make their home in Canadian.

Parrish-Ludeman Vows Read in Dallas

Mrs. Michael Martin Ludeman
... nee Miss Priscilla Ann Parrish

Wynwood Hills Church of Christ at Dallas was the scene for the Friday evening wedding ceremony uniting Miss Priscilla Ann Parrish and Michael Martin Ludeman, both students at Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Z. Parrish of Dallas and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. Ludeman of 806 N. Frost.

Minister Wyatt Sawyer read the double - ring vows at 7:30 o'clock. The Church A Capella Choir sang "Always" and "The Wedding Prayer" preceding the ceremony.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal - length gown fashioned of white velvet featuring a fitted bodice with a high rise waistline, scooped neckline and long tapering sleeves. The bodice front and Guests were greeted in the Church Parlor at the reception held following the exchange of vows. The bride's table, covered with a floor-length white satin cloth, was centered with an arrangement of red roses. Miss Cheryl Pemberton of Temple and Miss Melinda Dean of Athens presided at the punch bowl and Miss Marsha Nelms of Dallas and Miss Patsy Parrish of Irving served the wedding cake. Guests were registered by Miss Betty Parrish of Irving.

Prior to departing on a wedding trip the new Mrs. Ludeman donned a rose velvet dress with A-line styling trimmed with white lace. White lizard accessories and the white orchid corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet completed her costume. Upon their return the couple will make their home at 1505 26th St., Lubbock.

Mrs. Ludeman is a junior at Texas Technological College, Lubbock. Mr. Ludeman, a graduate student at Texas Technological College, received a BS in math in January of 1965.

Newlyweds Make Home in Canadian

CANADIAN (Spl) — Miss Lynda Stout of Amarillo, became the bride of Hemphill County Sheriff Jim Cloyd the evening of Nov. 19 in a double-ring ceremony performed at Pampa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Cagle of Tulsa. Mr. Cloyd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cloyd of Canadian.

The bride chose a silk suit of pale pink and wore a white corsage. She has been employed at the Air Terminal in Amarillo.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Sessions and Mr. and Mrs. Max Morgan, all of Canadian.

Credit Manual Is Studied by Club

The Pampa Credit Women's Club met in Citizens Bank Hospitality Room recently.

President, Mrs. Ruby Crocker, was in charge of the business meeting. Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Laverne Bayless, treasurer, Mrs. Mary Ellen Elliott and the Council of Clubs reporter, Mrs. Virginia McDonald.

At test, covering the Credit Manual, was given to each member present who had studied the book this past year.

Those present were Mmes. Ruby Crocker, Charlene Rich, Ruth McQueary, Elizabeth Lewis, Mary Ellen Elliott, Lydia Gilchrist, Marion George, Virginia McDonald, Lillie Walton, Edna Day, Vena Cain and Laverne Bayless.

The next meeting will be a Christmas breakfast in the Cibola Room at Coronado Inn, Dec. 12, at 8 a.m.

The meeting closed with the reading of the Club Creed.

DARK SHADES FLATTER

Although shoes for fall and winter come in many beautiful colors, don't wear them if your feet are big. There's no need to draw attention to this fault for there are also many handsome shoe styles in dark shades and black.

Rho Eta Pledges Are Presented 'Ritual of Jewels'

Ritual of Jewels was presented to the pledges of the Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday evening in Citizens Bank Hospitality Room. Pledges were presented by Mmes. Rae Greer and Don Stafford, into a candlelit circle formed by members. Pledges stood before a candlelit table, centered by a bouquet of yellow roses. Ritual of Jewel was presented by president Mrs. Jerry Davis, assisted by Mrs. Doyle Beckham. Pledges received their Beta Sigma pins and were presented a long-stemmed yellow rose by Mrs. Beckham. Pledge training will begin Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Don Stafford.

Business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Davis. Reports were given by Ways and Means chairman, Mrs. Jack Chisum and Mrs. Alan Self, advertising for the "Red Stocking Revue." The annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 14, with members and pledges exchanging gifts.

Program, "The Art of Dress" was given by Mmes. Doyle Beckham and Eddie Duenkel. Each displayed posters and commented on fashions, color and style.

Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. Rae Greer, Allan Self and Jack Chisum. The table was centered by a turkey made of an assortment of flowers. Cake, coffee and cokes were served. Door prize was won by Mrs. James Lee.

Pledges receiving the Ritual of Jewel were Mmes. Warren Chisum, H. G. Camberra, Paul Geiser, Gidford Kerksieck, James Lee, Joe Neely, Peggy Ormsom, Robert Scott and Charlie Snider.

Dear Abby.... Husband Suffers From Malnutrition of Ego

DEAR ABBY: What can I do with a husband who takes me often to a lovely restaurant, then hardly speaks to me the whole time. He is so busy trying to impress the cocktail waitress, waiters, and even strangers at nearby tables. He considers himself a gourmet and bon vivant (which he is not) and he tries so hard to appear important to those who serve us. You should hear him show off his high school French from 30 years ago! How can I let him know how foolish his actions are? To say nothing of his thoughtlessness in keeping busy people from their work, and annoying strangers who couldn't care less. I am too chagrined to sign my name. Just sign me...

DEAR ABBY: I am so ashamed of my father, I could die. He has been married seven times, and divorced six! All of his ex-wives are living and I have so many half-sisters and brothers. I have lost count. I went to a priest and confessed that I had been lying about my father, and telling people who didn't know better that my father was dead. The priest said he didn't blame me for lying, but I shouldn't lie any more about it. Now I keep having these horrible nightmares in which I see my father in a coffin with the lid nailed down, and him trying to get out. Please help me.

'O Ye Jigs and Juleps' Reviewed For TC Members by Mrs. Harry Vanderpool

Mrs. Harry Vanderpool gave a delightful review of "O Ye Jigs and Juleps" for members of Twentieth Century Club at its meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. R. H. Sanford, 1016 Charles.

Mrs. J. W. Gordon, leader of the program, introduced Mrs. Vanderpool. "O Ye Jigs and Juleps" is a collection of humorous essays written in 1904 by Virginia Cary Hudson, a spry ten, for a very understanding teacher in her Episcopal boarding school. Discovered in an attic trunk, these essays are even more entertaining today because of their distinct, early American flavor. In them, Virginia expresses her naive concepts of school, the sacraments, church etiquette, everlasting life, spring, the library, personal appearance, strolling and the religions of China. At least, she begins with these topics; childlike, she soon wanders merrily off to examine her friends, her parents, herself and life in general.

BRIDE'S DAD GETS BREAK

NEW YORK (UPI) — The hotel calls it the "marry now, pay later" plan. And says Ralph Hitz Jr., general manager of the Sheraton-Atlantic, it is an industry first.

The plan enables the bride's father to pay for the reception on the installment plan. Hitz computed the cost as low as 65 cents per person per month (for 24 months) for a reception which includes a champagne toast, a seven-course steak dinner, "live" music for dancing, a photographer to shoot a 24-picture album, a private hide-away bridal suit — complete with a chilled bottle of champagne. To boot, the bride gets to keep the silver knife used to cut the cake.

Mrs. Hungerford Feted at Shower

Kappa Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International recently honored Mrs. Irvin Hungerford with a baby shower in the home of Mrs. R. O. Johnson, 800 N. Dwight.

A short business session was conducted by Mrs. Charles Beard. The Chapter voted to send a package to Viet Nam for Christmas. Food was brought for a Thanksgiving basket which was given to a deserving family.

The remainder of the evening was spent working on the Chapter Scrapbook.

Mrs. William Allen won the door prize.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. R. O. Johnson and Mrs. Dale Haynes.

Those present were Mrs. M. E. Joe Achord, William Allen, Charles Beard, James Frazier, Leland Greer, Dale Haynes, Irvin Hungerford, R. O. Johnson, Philip McCarley, Bob Miller, Joe D. Miller, Billy Stephens, Joe Taylor and Robert Yost.

DEAR ABBY: Like about 98 per cent of those who snore, I snore only when I am sleeping on my back. When we were first married, I was awakened by a very hard kick in the leg, and my wife yelling, "Get off your back!" I honestly do not remember this, but my wife claims I shouted, "Get off mine," and with that I kicked her so hard she flew out of bed and landed on the floor. I think I must have quit snoring because we've been married for 33 years and she hasn't complained since.

John Horn Speaks At Northern Zone District One Meet

Northern Zone of District One Garden Clubs met recently in Coronado Inn with Pampa Garden Club serving as hostess.

Mrs. Harry Vanderpool opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Melvin Stephens gave the welcoming address with Mrs. S. D. Nelson of Tullia giving the response.

Mrs. W. C. Rhodes of Amarillo, director of the Northern Zone, conducted the business session at which Mrs. O. F. Hill, District One governor, gave a report on district news.

Preceding a noon luncheon, Ruel Dixon of Taylor-Evans Farm Store in Amarillo, gave helpful hints on how to have a prettier lawn and presented an informative and humorous film on "Lady Bugs and Aphids." A question and answer period followed.

Those presented were entertained by the "Climbers," a musical group of teenage girls, during the luncheon.

John Horn of Cabot Corporation was the afternoon speaker using as his topic "Carbon Black — Its Uses and Applications." Mr. Horn brought out many facts unknown to those attending. The speaker said "Ninety-five percent of carbon black goes into rubber products. One-fourth of the nation's carbon black is produced in the Panhandle. Carbon is used in products such as inks, dyes, black plastic and mascara."

Mr. Horn concluded his program with a film on "Synthetic Rubber Which Utilizes Carbon."

Following the resolutions, meeting was adjourned. Some 55 persons attended the meeting.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Family Traditions Used In Making Decorations

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — Last year as we decorated our home for Christmas, my husband suggested that some of our "traditions" might give ideas to others. I have a collection of small toys that have a special meaning for our two grandsons so I hang these from different lengths of red ribbon, attach them to a bunch of greens, add a big red bow and have our front door "greeter." Those grandsons are now young men who look forward to that arrangement every year.

Over the mantel, I hang a picture made by assembling, in sequence, the boys' pictures taken when they visited Santa Claus during their growing-up years. Notations are made as to their reactions at the time. One of the boys tried to convince himself that his friends were wrong when they said there was no Santa Claus so his fingers were crossed while he was with Santa and I wrote on the frame which I regilded. It hangs from a red cord with a bunch of greens at its peak.

Greens are laid on the mantel shelf with brass candlesticks, holding bayberry candles, at each end. They are tied with red ribbon and greenery and in the center is the Advent calendar which has been used throughout the Advent season. On Christmas Eve this is replaced by the family greeting card signed by the grandsons and their parents. These are never thrown away but are put in a scrapbook which is fast becoming a family treasure.

We have one of those big old-fashioned family Bibles which is brought out at Christmas time, opened to the Christmas story as told by Luke and this is placed on the coffee table with another candle and some greens. Christmas has a very dear and special meaning to us as a family. — ELSIE

Elegance in the Bath

GIVES ELEGANCE — Elegance is supplied to this master bath with solid lumber paneling of creamy western hemlock and an upholstered bench set under infra red lamps. Shower and water closet are in separate compartments, twin lavatories in vanity counter of adjoining dressing room.

This year, decorating attention will be focused on the bathroom where a small revolution is taking place.

In recent times, bathrooms have gone all the way from the strictly utilitarian to gaudy showrooms imitative of a Roman bath. The current trend is toward restrained elegance. Beauty is there and available to everyone who's remodeling or redecorating a bath.

Materials are 90 per cent of the story. Some materials are new — handsome and wonderful vinyl covered wallpapers. Some materials are old — wood paneling and cabinetwork. Some are holdovers from years past because of their inherent good looks and wearability — plastic laminates and ceramic tile. But most important, all function for ordinary family needs and all add a sparkle of glamour without gimmick.

Walls, windows and accessories will see the biggest change in this year's decorating pattern. Solid lumber paneling, that mark of distinction in formal rooms, has invaded the bath. With panel boards sealed on both sides and clear, satin finish plastic lacquer applied to the face, lumber paneling has proved entirely practical for bathroom use. Additionally, it has been the one material that has swung the decorating pendulum from cold practicality to warm, eye-pleasing comfort. Many woods will work well for bathroom use. Western red cedar is one that lends itself readily to bathroom walls because of its built-in moisture resistance. Finely grained western hemlock is another, and its subtle champagne coloring is especially appreciated when decorating features brilliant color tones.

Knotty ponderosa pine has transferred from the party room to the bath where, with a black-brown stain or wipe-off paint treatment, it changes character from homey to exotic. Douglas fir is another interesting possibility, particularly for those who would repeat its natural sunshine colors of orange and gold in other materials, accenting them with lime, larkspur and purest white.

The woods mentioned are all straight-grained and combine well with textured and finely patterned vinyl wallpapers which may be used on other wall areas of the bath. And the delicate texture of lumber paneling is a warm complement to the slick surfaces of tiled tub enclosure, laminated plastic countertops and vinyl flooring.

Other decorating ideas that will be featured more this year include use of washbowls painted with fruit and flower motifs, handsome picture frames applied to mirrors to eliminate the sterile looking chrome strip, shuttered windows which admit light while insuring privacy, built-in upholstered banquettes where a person can stretch out under infrared or ultraviolet lamps.

The double lavatory, in the master bath, is giving way, however. In its place is the more sensible arrangement of one in the bath and one in the dressing room, built into either a vanity or shaving stand.

Festival of Trees' Slated in Amarillo

The Amarillo Council of Garden Clubs is again presenting a Christmas tree show, "A Festival of Trees" on Dec. 4 and Dec. 5 from 1 to 5 p.m. The show will be held at Amarillo Hardware Wholesale Showrooms at 501 Grant in Amarillo. This show is a repeat of the show done in 1964 that was photographed and covered by "Family Circle Magazine," results and pictures of which appear in the current edition of "Christmas Helps," their annual Christmas edition.

Featured in the show this year will be 12 elegant trees designed and constructed by members of the Council of Garden Clubs. They will range in size from five to eight feet and each will be staged in hearthside atmospheric room settings by Wayland Rogers, interior decorator.

The public attending the show will be invited to purchase these trees by sealed bids. At the close of the show the bids will be opened and the trees awarded to the highest bidders and placed in their home or business. Admission to the show is $1 and all the proceeds including the sale of the trees will be presented to the Amarillo Garden Center Building Fund.

Striped denim is perfect as an ironing board cover. Stripes will line up the edges of jackets, skirt pleats, curtains.

Timely Beauty Hints

Start now to prepare your beauty for the important holidays, and you'll attract more admiration than the topmost star on the Christmas tree, says beauty authority, Max Factor.

First, get your skin in the most dazzling, healthy condition. Don't let a night pass without thoroughly cleansing your face and neck and treating them to the flattering moisture of Cup of Youth. If your skin is elegantly smooth and glowing, your beauty problems are half solved.

Practice applying new shades of eye shadow. Along with a soft new tint or two, of Shadow Play, which you easily apply with a slinky, minky brush, include a Hi-Fi Creme Eye Shadow Stick in gold and one in silver to pick up the gleam of jewels and glittering costumes.

Begin now to plan your coiffure. There is just time enough left to get the perfect cut, and to decide upon the complete styling. So your fingernails will be big and luxurious for the big events, keep them well-coated and protected with Nail Satin.

SPRAY HAIR COLOR

Home hair coloring gets easier each season. A new easy-to-use entry is a pre-foamed aerosol hair coloring. Just shampoo your hair and rinse. While damp, foam on the color. Semipermanent, it lasts through several shampoos.

Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Abernathy Give 'Mental Health' Program to Study Club

Varietas Study Club met with Mrs. Sherman White at 610 N. Frost Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Kirckman, president, opened the meeting with the reading of a patriotic article, "My Country 'Tis of Thee." Following the business meeting, plans were made for the Christmas dinner party, scheduled for Dec. 14.

The program for the afternoon was entitled "Mental Health" and was presented by two speakers. Mrs. Joe Z. Weaver talked first, using "Good Mental Hygiene" as her subject. To show the need of coordinating physical and mental health, she told her audience that 1,100,000 Americans spend $1,853,000,000 on psychiatry and hospitalization for mental illness annually. Since mankind lives for purposes outside himself, based on his need of security and love, she said, his failure to achieve his purposes may result in either flight or attack. Backed by researched authorities, she suggested that good mental attitudes can be achieved by the acceptance of reality, by a balance of stresses and supports, by using time and talent well — and by not allowing oneself to park on handicaps, fears, failures, nor even successes. Patience and persistence, combined with a mature application of the Golden Rule, will be of great benefit.

Mrs. W. E. Abernathy then spoke on "Spiritual Ties," basing her talk on several religious books. She stated that mental and spiritual health are inseparable since both are based in the subconscious mind. She discussed the curative powers of religion and the necessity of training religious leaders. As bases for good spiritual health, she listed happiness, humility, service, forgiveness and a recognition of the presence of God. Mrs. Weaver closed the program by reading a test of good mental health.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, F. A. Cary, Ellis Cheney, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Dosier, S. C. Evans, Lee Harrah, John Kelly, J. E. Kirckman, Luther Kirk, R. W. Lane, C. L. McKinney, Otis Nace, Luther Pierson, J. R. Spearman, W. A. Wagoner, Sherman White and Joe Z. Weaver.

Light Your Eyes With Enchantment

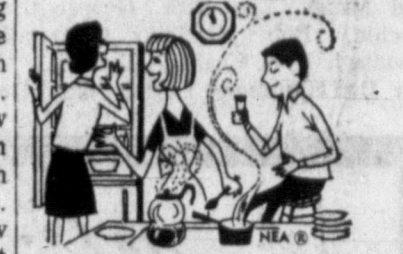

Some of the greatest beauties of history and of our time were not born with naturally beautiful eyes, the kind of eyes that poets write about. Because the eyes are the most expressive feature that we possess, these beauties, and even the not-so-beautiful, have learned to play-up their eyes to create a special kind of enchantment.

Frances Denney, noted beauty authority, has created an exquisite collection of eye make-up preparations to help every woman have "Enchanting Eyes". Eyes that look alive and sparkle can be yours with just a touch of iridescence. Special applicator over the new Cake Eye Shadow. It comes in heavenly pastel shades with just a touch of iridescence. The vibrant colors of the new Cake Eye Liner complement the Shadow. Sweep Creme Eyelash Make-up over the lashes to make them appear longer and fuller. And, for that special occasion, apply "Silver-Tip" to the ends of the lashes for a shimmering effect. Brush-On Eyebrow Make-up gives a natural line to the eyebrows and completes the collection.

A sprinkling of Para moth crystals or nuggets will keep carpet beetles from attacking and damaging upholstered furniture, the Chemical Specialties Manufacturers' Association reports.

Lives of Presidents Discussed

The Twentieth Century Culture Club met at the home of Mrs. A. L. Wagner Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. L. J. Zachry as co-hostess.

A business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Doyle Osborne. The project committee suggested that the club make donations to the Papago Indians.

Mrs. E. E. Shelhammer made a short talk on the lives of James and Dolly Madison, and then introduced Mrs. Rufe Jordan who spoke on James and Eliza Monroe.

"Lacking the qualities of imagination unpretentious in appearance, far from brilliant in speech, yet Monroe attained distinction," Mrs. Jordan stated. "The longer grew his term of public service the wider became the circle of his admirers."

"Monroe was far less intellectual than either Jefferson or Madison, but he surpassed them both as an administrator. Monroe was never a brilliant man, but he grew with responsibility and his years in the presidency exhibited sound judgment and a genuine statesmanship."

"Mrs. Monroe was a serene and aristocratic woman, too well bred to be visibly moved by anything. She had spirit and courage and was tremendously proud of her husband's achievements. She was well fitted for the position of first lady. Her years of entertaining and being entertained abroad had supplemented the social graces in which she had been trained as a girl. Her first big task was to refurbish the White House. When it was thrown open to the public on New Year's Day, 1818, the hundreds of guests gasped with admiration at its splendor."

"Eliza was proud of her husband's achievements as chief executive. She was proud of his honesty and fairness, but it was a happy day for Eliza and James Monroe when they left the White House and went to live at their plantation home, Oak Hill. In 1830 Eliza Monroe died and on July 4th of the following year James Monroe passed away."

Pack Up and Glow

NEW YORK — For a weekend at her beau's school, a girl should pack a wardrobe to make him puff with pride.

Start with a coat of fabulous fur, suggests the November "Seventeen" — Perhaps a natural gray fox, worked horizontally. As a traveling companion, consider a T-shirt that grew into a perfect dress for sitting, running and catching trains. For game watching, score an extra point in a honey checked A-line skirt.

Saturday night, check and double check, with a long dress and matching coat in black and white checks. Both might have velvet touches. On Sunday, a fluid costume in a pretty color or such as blue looks right from chapel time on. One of the newest looks is a bow-tied cutaway jacket over a sleeveless, whirpleated dress.

Crepe Was Made to Sleep In

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The big fashion story in sleepwear for yule gifts can be summed up in three words — sheer, crepey and elegant.

Crepe set is a semisheer fabric that recalls the famed lingerie crepe of the '30s is the big favorite today. And its use makes sleepwear look as though it could go out to a party.

One-shoulder gowns are dramatic in both short and long lengths. Flowing softly in sari or Grecian style, they take their sophistication from their very lack of usual lingerie trim. A soft shoulder bow, an edging of tiny brilliants — these mark the evening gown look in sleepwear.

The marvelous drapability of this new fabric lends itself equally well to the long gown and coat. It has insured the toga look, with a capelike sweep to the peignoir. And it has helped revive the pajama of the '30s, with its wide legs and sleeveless coat.

Many of these sleepwear styles are in vivid new prints — geometric designs in turquoise on white, brilliant florals, abstracts in combinations like blue, green and violet, or art prints in black and white.

Crepe's virtue is that its pebbled surface is built right into the nylon tricot and you can't launder away the crepe surface. In addition this textured fabric makes these gowns and pajamas feel cool and comfortable.

Best of all, they will wash, drip dry and be ready to wear again without ironing — a pretty, yet practical, gift.

Try dipping batter from bowl to muffin tin with a one-fourth cup measure. It holds just enough batter for muffins or cupcakes to fill the muffin tin two-thirds full.

FEMININE SLEEPWEAR — Handsome sleep and lounge-wear is a welcome gift at Christmas. Tapered trousers-of-pajama ensemble (left) by Tenson Kickernick are topped by a blouson that is gently sashed at the waist. Co-ordinated coat is embroidered with acanthus leaves. Sheer cover coat and hood (right) has the mystic look of the Far East when worn over a crepe, transparent gown. This is styled by Blanche Lingerie. Enka Crepe set nylon is used in these designs. The nebbing in this crepe tricot is built into the yarn and will not be removed by frequent sudsing.

The Mature Parent Columnist Strives To Share, Not Advise

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Sometimes you give the best advice of anyone writing in your field. But sometimes it's so far out it's crazy. That stuff you said about taking time to hold a small child firmly to teach him obedience is about as impractical as you can get. Have you ever had a houseful of kids to take care of, had to run the home, shop, cook and clean? If you have, you ought to know how non-sensical that advice is.

ANSWER: This is not a column of advice, that thing which the dictionary defines as "expression of opinion on action to take in some situation."

It is a column that seeks to share with you a moral structure of which the action I suggest is merely a consequence. If you can't share the moral structure, you can't use the action, either. They just don't belong to you.

The action involved in holding a small, defiant child firmly until he gets the point of our "no" is a consequence of my moral conviction that discipline of one's child is more important than one's housekeeping. If the action seems "crazy" to you, so must my conviction. Neither one belongs to you.

In the same way, you can't use my recommendation to wait for a lying child to tell the truth if you believe that your prime responsibility is getting confession out of him. Your moral conviction will compel you to punish him until he delivers the confession.

Mine is different from yours. It permits me to wait because my moral conviction sees my prime responsibility as persuading him to assume responsibility for himself.

Again in the same way, if you are afraid of human passion, you can't use the action I suggest toward children's tantrums — the conveyance of concern toward these explosions of intolerable frustration. You'll have to act toward tantrums as the "experts" tell you to — "ignore" them.

I can't "ignore" them. My moral views won't let me. They compel me to regard serene detachment from other people's suffering as outrageous. So I should not only be unable to manage this "ignoring" disinterest in a child's tantrum but am delighted that I can't, believing as I do that our disconnection from each other's feelings causes most of the woe in this world.

If I thought myself to be your "advice" giver, I'd quit writing this column. I don't respect "advice" givers. They give nothing. They just tell us what to do without sharing one bit of their thought, their feeling and moral conclusions with us. It saddens me to be told I give it, trying as hard as I do to share

Top O' Texas 4-H Club Has General Meeting, Hears Reports of Committees

The Top O' Texas 4-H Club met recently in the Court House Annex with the president, Phyllis Atwood, presiding. The 4-H pledge was led by Judy Cox. The secretary, Cathy Wilkie, read the minutes and called the roll.

The subject matter reports were given as follows: Money management unit 3 was given by Winona Chisum who said that the twelve members had completed this unit. Marcella Brooks reported that junior leader Winona Chisum was teaching money management unit I to four girls. Cathy Wilkie said that she and Phyllis Atwood are teaching Unit II foods each week at the Southwestern Public Service kitchen. Cynthia Hogsett said she is teaching unit II foods to four girls; and Winona Chisum said she is teaching four girls unit I foods.

Doug Laramore reported that the junior and senior members of the plant identification groups had taken a field trip to Bruce's Nursery at Alanreed. Terry Arnold told about the Automotive I course being taught at Cole's Automotive. The highlight of the last meeting was a ride in an antique car. Guy Turner stated that the Horse Club had elected new officers; and had seen movies of the parades they were in last summer and of the trail ride. The County Council report was given by Phyllis Atwood.

New members welcomed into the club were: Regina Atwood, Rahna Tackett, Randy Taylor, Ann Waldrop, and Barbara Burns, and Karen McGahen.

In recognition of the five new members she enrolled in 4-H Club work during National 4-H Club Week, Vanessa Chisum was presented the Ambassador Award from the Texas Extension Service. Presentation was made by Cynthia Hogsett. Phyllis Atwood presented the club with a certificate of merit from the Texas Extension Service for work completed this past year.

Members enrolled in Unit II Foods have been meeting in the home of Marcella Brooks twice a month. Cynthia Hogsett is the junior leader for this group. She has given demonstrations on batter rolls, canning and freezing, and salads. The girls have each canned tomatoes, baked batter yeast rolls, and prepared a fruit salad. Part of each lesson is information on nutritional value of the foods prepared. Each girl keeps a daily record of the foods prepared at home. Members in this group are Vanessa Chisum, Karen McGahen, Cara Thomas and Marcella Brooks.

Certificates of completion in Unit I Foods were given by adult leader, Mrs. Frank Thomas, to Vanessa Chisum, Cara Thomas, and Marcella Brooks. Certificates of completion for Unit 3 Money Management were given to Cynthia Hogsett, Winona Chisum, Vickie Moore, Judy Cox, and Suzan Hunt, by their adult leader, Mrs. Derrel Hogsett.

During the recreation period Guy Turner led the "Bubble Balance" game; and Judy Cox led "Pass the Lifesaver."

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by Judy Cox, Vanessa Chisum and Brenda Winters.

Present were Teddy Joe Atwood, Rahna Tackett, Ronda Brookshire, Randy Taylor, Brenda Winters, Regina Atwood, Frankie Mitchell, Laura Mitchell, Christie Whaley, Cara Thomas, Karen McGahen, Marcella Brooks, Vickie Moore, Alan Tidwell, Bill Skaggs, Judy Cox, Winona Chisum, Terry Arnold, Guy Turner, Doug Laramore, Barbara Burns, Vanessa Chisum, Cynthia Hogsett, Cathy Wilkie, and Phyllis Atwood, five visitors and seven adult leaders.

FOR SUNDAY, NOV. 28
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a good chance this Sunday to do things that will bring you improved health and well-being in many ways — and especially if you will get in tune with modern means by which to handle whatever is idealistic and imaginative in your life. Study newspaper, etc. to find out what is really happening now. Be alert.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Kind friends have good news that are similar to your own, so have a happy time. Talk over civic affairs with a new friend. This individual is very well-informed, dedicated.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Do whatever will now bring you the plaudits of family and friends, outsiders. Be exemplary in your conduct, just with all, kind, inspire others to better living in all ways.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — No better day than this to write to those out-of-town for information, etc. — you may need to study into new outlets. Confer with those who are wise, spiritual, too.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — If you follow your intuition where it leads, you will be inspired to greater learning, success. Be more understanding of male. Work together toward same aims.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be sure you know what associates desire in matters that are of very high principle. Show that you have a remarkable character. Go along with their ideas — plan for better things ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — Show the better part of your nature to others and make more friends, get ahead faster that way. Get duties performed. Then take it easy and restore lagging energy.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — Find a more intelligent way of spending your free time and have real enjoyment. Get into that hobby for which you have had little time. Expand with associates.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — Be sure to keep promises made to-line and keep focused on truth. You can add to present security by going after your most personal goals. Use right psychology.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Ideal day to study how you can better yourself and have a far greater abundance in the future. Meet with interesting people. Go to sermons that are enlightening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You are desirous of having more than you now do, so be sure to elevate your consciousness to greater things. Fine in, Aquarius will help. Communicate with them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Go after your personal goals and plan how to commercialize on your particular talents. Be a true humanitarian. Do whatever you possibly can for others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Forget those old-fashioned systems and make more of the modern trends and conditions now in effect. Be sensitive. Take care not to make mistakes, since others are waiting for just such an opportunity.

FOR MONDAY, NOV. 29
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much confusion can be effect. Be sure of long-time desire or obligations are concerned. But you can accomplish a great deal this first day of the week if you make a

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 A reader writes that her husband retired about a year ago and that since then he sleeps 13 to 14 hours a day. Although at the moment he is in robust health, he spends most of his waking hours eating and watching television. Her concern is that he is not getting enough exercise and that there has been no lessening of her own work load.

This woman has touched on a problem of growing importance. A man should not merely retire from something — he should retire to something, something of value to his community. This requires prior planning but in every community there is a need for many skills and services that could occupy the time and interest of men in every walk of life.

In some instances this may take the form of part-time paid employment and in others it may be voluntary service to a religious, civic or charitable organization.

I cannot predict how long this woman's husband will keep his robust health but I do know that many men who have been used to working have cracked up mentally and physically after a few months of purposeless living.

In preparation for retirement it is wise to develop habits of study. Anyone can build up an interest in some aspect of the fascinating world in which we live. With no pressure to keep up with a class, a man can proceed at his own pace and develop inner resources that will enrich his years of retirement.

Neglect of all forms of exercise will bring my reader's husband muscular flabbiness, an increased risk of obesity and heart disease and mental stagnation. Incidentally, he could make a good beginning by being helpful around the house and making things easier for his wife. Happiness, like charity, should begin at home and

First Aid Items for Pretty Feet

BEAUTY PROTECTION — Gift shopping plays havoc with a woman's feet. Protect heels from becoming rough and red with flesh-colored first aid tape (above). It's one of many items from the medicine cabinet to use for better grooming. Also when shopping, slip into a department store ladies' lounge and refresh feet (inset) with a lightly scented foot spray from a purse-size aerosol container.

 With those extra dollars earmarked for Christmas gifts instead of beauty aids, the wise homemaker can raid the medicine cabinet for beauty's sake.

The most reliable cache of aids to comfort a woman during the hurried days to come is the medicine cabinet. Use such items as cotton and first aid tape, witch hazel or peroxide to keep you wellgroomed from top to toe.

Your ready supply of cotton, for example, is a handy help in removing make-up and patting on witch hazel as a refreshing astringent. When the noise becomes too much, you can even stuff it in your ears to sub for earplugs and take a revitalizing snooze.

First aid tape, too, has more uses than protecting Junior's skinned knees and elbows. Use it as a beautifying tactic for your feet.

Partially soak cotton in a body lotion and tape the patch to callus-prone areas and wear to bed at night to help soften roughened areas. You may also want to apply a bandage to the inside back of your shoes to prevent the heel from rubbing. This also serves to cut down on stocking runs if there is a break or rough spot in the shoe leather. However, take care that your protective "heel bandage" doesn't wrinkle and rub blisters on your feet.

If you have a problem with oily hair, try this helpful home remedy between frequent shampoos: Wrap a piece of gauze around your hair brush and brush those traditional hundred strokes. Use clean gauze each time to help absorb excess oil. medicine cabinet turns up end— With the imagination of most less beauty uses for the staples homemakers, the raid on the inside.

Annual WCTU Bazaar Is Scheduled In Canadian Next Friday and Saturday

CANADIAN (Sp)—Mrs. John Jones, president of the WCTU, has announced that the 59th annual WCTU Bazaar will be held Dec. 3-4 in the WCTU Building which houses the library.

The first bazaar was held in 1906 and has been held each year with the exception of 1918 during the flu epidemic.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. A. V. McQuiddy are among the few people still here who attended the first bazaar. Mrs. Jones was in charge of a candy booth that year and Mrs. McQuiddy had a fancy work booth. Among the small girls who attended that year were Mrs. Frank McMordie and Mrs. Bem Beard.

At this year's bazaar, a turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be served both days at noon and evening. The price is the same as always, $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

There will be three bazaar booths. Mrs. E. S. F. Brainard and Mrs. Frank McMordie Sr., will be in charge of the fancy work booth. The Woman's Club, Mrs. Hugh Wilson, president, will have charge of the Apron Booth. The PEO Sisterhood, Mrs. Arthur Webb, president, will have the Library Booth, which is a booth of miscellaneous articles including food.

Mrs. Brainard and Mrs. McMordie will solicit the business section for donations of cash and merchandise for the bazaar. Other solicitors, not yet named, will solicit the residences.

Mrs. Wayne Cleveland will be in charge of the dining room both days. Mrs. F. D. Teas will collect for the meals. Mrs. W. F. Slaten will be in charge of the kitchen on Friday and Miss Daisy Childers will have charge on Saturday.

Mrs. Jones will be assisted this year by Mrs. Ike Simpson.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

HERE WE are — only 23 news is anything but laugh shopping days away from material that it is good to read Christmas and still feeling the something that will make us effects of Thanksgiving. . . .

Sanja Day comes up next week and the mad yule shopping rush is on full blast. . . . Without losing sight of the real meaning of Christmas, the holiday period would be bereft of a lot of its special effects if there were no hurrying and scurrying and things went on just as usual. . . . It's the helter-skelter of running here and there, the crowded stores, the Christmas packages and all the accompanying fuss and stew that set Christmas holidays aside from any other time of year. . . .

IT IS NICE to meet up with people possessed of a fine sense of humor. . . . If you read her letter in Thursday's Clearing House on the editorial page, you will know that Mrs. Flois Hite, 1009 Varnon Dr., is one of those persons. . . .

Federal Aid and Control

By ROSALIE M. GORDON Editor, America's Future With something akin to locking the barn door after the horse is stolen, school administrators all over the country at long last are becoming very concerned about federal aid to education bringing in its wake federal control of our state and local school systems. . . .

These belated fears are certainly well-founded. There was the shocking instance of the federal Commissioner of Education withholding 30 million dollars from the Chicago public schools on the most flimsy grounds. . . .

Then there is the fact that the federal Office of Education is withholding funds from at least 19 southern school districts in an effort to force them to comply with federal regulations on integration. . . .

The Shopper's Guide To Great Yule Books

NEW YORK (NEA) — As everybody knows, open season on the Christmas Shopper begins at one minute past midnight on Thanksgiving Day, and stays that way for a full month. . . .

Whether that is really true in practice we cannot say. But as a public service, and with an eye to making the stores easier to shop in on Christmas Eve, we have researched and prepared several articles on unusual presents to give.

Today's article covers gifts from the book department. To our way of thinking, there is nothing more unusual or different than a new book. . . .

My Five Years With JFK, by Giacamo Geppeto. A heartwarming and intimate portrait of the late president as seen by the man who repaired his brother's shoes. . . .

The Oedible Complex. The favorite dishes of famous psychiatrists. More than 1,000 recipes, including Freud's Egg Cream Trauma. . . .

The Kokonut Covered Karamel Kremer Karayitid, by Tom Thum. A brilliant and searing analysis of today's society as revealed through 95 profiles of the runners-up in the Pillsbury Bake-Off. . . .

My Five Years With BBDO, by Charley X. A complete record of every ad appearing in newspapers, magazines and on television and billboards since 1960, with a concise history of how each was devised. . . .

Night Without Light, by the editors of Life. A pictorial history of the night of Nov. 9, 1965, when the electric power failed in the northeast. . . .

So's Your Old Man, 1,344 pages. A collection of the sometimes hilarious, sometimes heart-breaking, but always incisive remarks made by the children of dentists in Essex County, N. J. . . .

I, Judah Gribetz. A searing and powerful story of a brilliant advertising man and the woman who loathes him. . . .

Bar Mitzvah in Rome. An Israeli secret agent summoned to the Ecumenical Council is kidnapped by two podiatrists when his plane lands. . . .

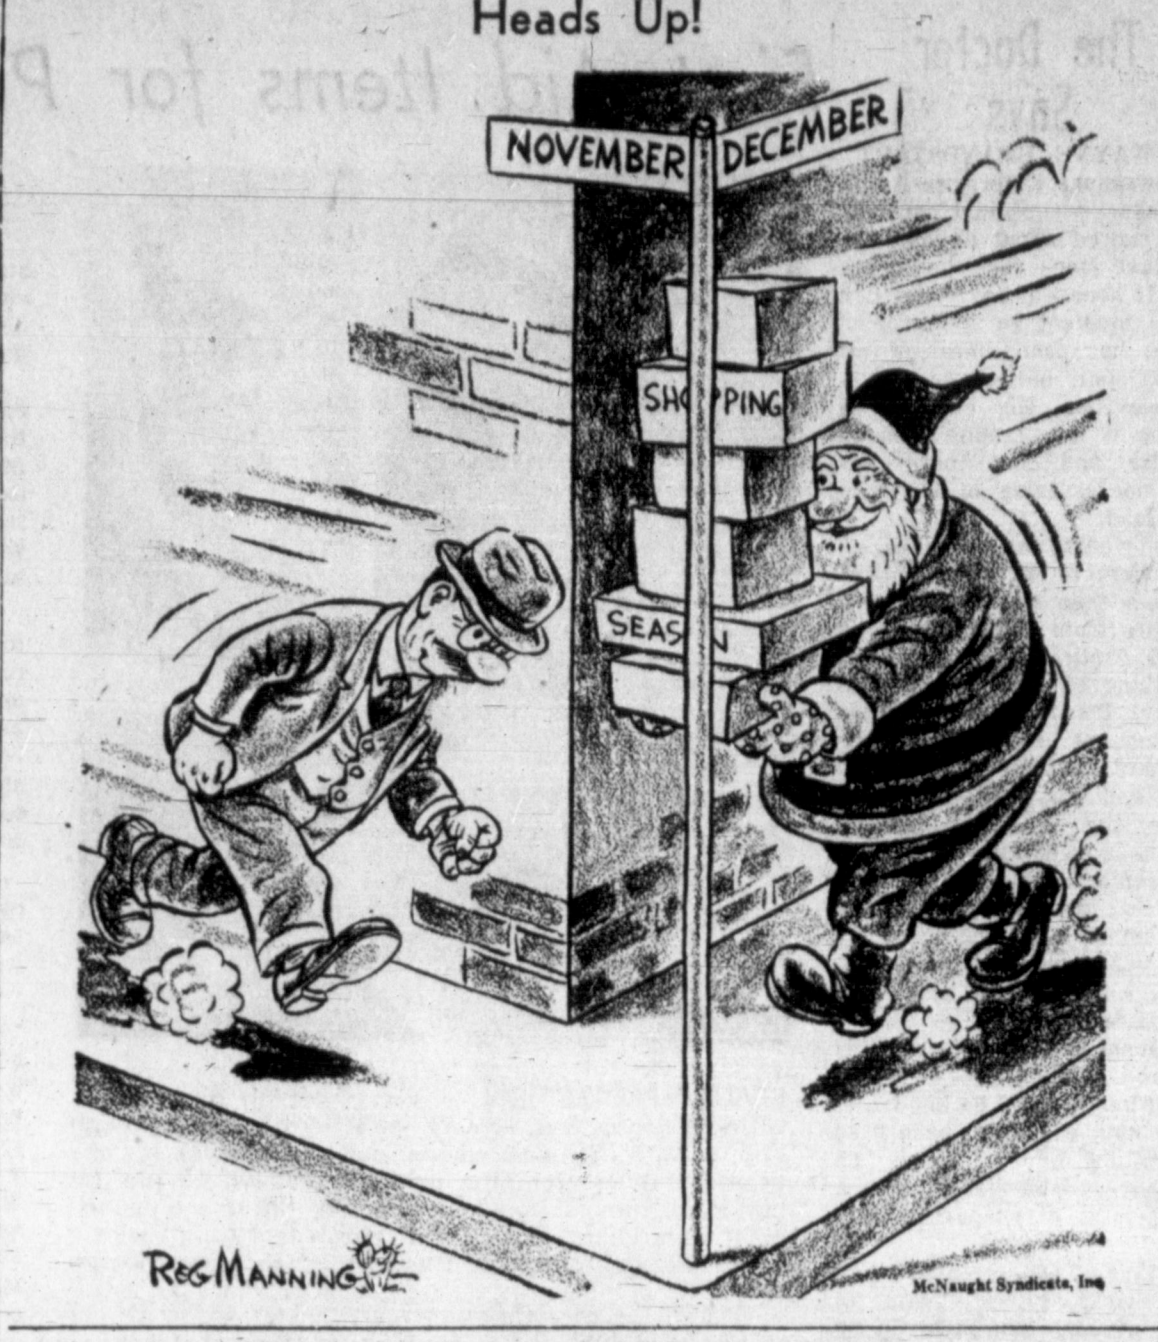

My Six Years in the YMCA. An anonymous, thinly veiled true story of espionage in the nation's capital told by a former secret agent. . . .

The Yellow Rolls of Texas. A successful, but unhappy, advertising man decides to quit the rat race and become a wealthy oil man. . . .

AND FOR THE YOUNGER READERS Parking Lot Night. Four youngsters coming home from the Sixth Grade Prom decide to sober up in a deserted parking lot before driving home. . . .

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS

You may wish to write your senator and representatives in Washington and Austin. Here are their addresses: (FEDERAL) Rep. Walter Rogers, House Office Bldg., Washington 20, D. C. . . .

REG MANNING

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The State Department is trying to put over a face-saving plan to end its long-pending case against security officer Otto Otepka. . . .

He offered to debate Carl Oglesby, president of Students for a Democratic Society, anywhere and at anytime. . . .

Houston, a 24-year-old senior law student at Indiana University, is rated as one of the ablest collegiate debaters in the country. . . .

MARRIED TO ONE — During Princess Margaret's three-day visit to Washington, she met a group of senators' wives and they discussed the trials and tribulations of "being constantly in the public eye." . . .

The royal visitor said she accepts this as part of her normal existence, and from long experience has developed "some little dodges and devices to ease the strains." . . .

A thought for the day: American writer Henry David Thoreau said, "How many a man has dated a new era in his life from the reading of a book." . . .

PAUL SCOTT

State Department authorities claim that Otepka can be compelled to retire by the stratagem of abolishing his position in a contemplated reorganization of the security office. . . .

NO TAKERS — Leaders of Young Americans for Freedom, which advocates a tougher U.S. policy in Viet Nam, are having trouble finding opponents to debate. . . .

In preparing for a series of campus "Viet Nam Debate-ins" on Pearl Harbor Day, December 7, YAF chairman Tom Charles Huston reports that none of the anti-Viet-Nam leaders will accept his organization's challenge. . . .

Highlights of this drive will take place January 7-9, 1966, in a series of rallies in major U.S. and foreign cities, including free Asian countries. . . .

Behind Otepka's insistence on public hearings are several other important factors — his strong desire to air the State Department's laxity in security, which he was blocked from investigating, and the use against him of wiretapping and other illegal practices. . . .

The veteran security officer's difficulties with his superiors began when he proposed they cooperate with the Senate probers, who were then digging into reports of a breakdown of security in the U. S. embassies in Warsaw and other capitals. . . .

Otepka has succeeded in staying on the department's payroll at $19,000 despite numerous attempts to dismiss or force him out. He has been shifted to an unimportant position, and denied access to security and other files. . . .

Several hearings have been called on his case, but postponed at the request of both sides. No new date has been set since a scheduled October hearing was cancelled. . . .

Nonstudents Run Campus 'Flare-ups'

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — The curious thing about the new extreme-left "student" movements is that they're apparently run to a great extent by nonstudents or by "perpetual" students. . . .

Some of these "students" stay at universities for years after dropping out or graduating. They don't teach and they do not take courses. . . .

Others stay on and on as undergraduates. They take one course or two — enough to stay in school, but not enough to occupy their full time. . . .

Several of the present and past leaders of the Students for a Democratic Society serve as typical examples: Carl P. Oglesby, president of the SDS, graduated from Michigan University in 1962 and since that time has been neither student nor teacher. . . .

He then went off-and-on to Texas University, one semester in 1962, one in 1963. Sherro was placed on scholastic probation at Texas in February, 1963, and was dropped for scholastic reasons for the February - June, 1964, semester. . . .

Eight hundred forty-seven grave security risks in "our" State Department have been identified, including pro-C communists, alcoholics, sex degenerates, homosexuals and people suspected of being communist spies. . . .

Freedom Can't Be Sliced; Either You Have It or Not

By SAM CAMPBELL Business Editor In this country we put a lot of stock in freedom of speech. We seem to suppose that, though the rest of our body be in chains, we are free as long as we yet can waggle our tongues. . . .

There is some faint logic in this notion. Certainly we are not free unless we are free to speak. But to say we are free just because we are free to speak is to overstate the case. . . .

Let us consider the atmosphere in which the city council passes ordinances. The councilmen claim to be representatives of the people. . . .

So the theoretical remedy is form without substance. The offended citizen has suffered a loss of full rights to use of his property. . . .

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON Diagnosing the Sickness In America, the reading of the Bible in public schools has been declared illegal. . . .

But what if the offended citizen desires to erect a glue factory on a residential lot? That is the single question that seems to justify all the ordinances of our era. . . .

A wiser age replied, "Nevertheless, let him speak. If the injury comes to pass, the laws of slander and of libel will redress the wrong." . . .

Freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom to worship are sanctimonious myths. There is only one freedom; that is when you have complete choice in how you manage your affairs in so far as you injure no other person. . . .

regularly used by the State Department. A "Call girl" or "bedroom politician" ring reportedly operates continuously within the atheistic, amoral United Nations. . . .

Lyndon Johnson's protegee Bobby Baker bragged that he had ten members of the Senate in the palm of his hand (compromised). Baker knew every intimate detail of the Senate, its people, their weaknesses, who was sleeping with whom, who was out drunk, who could be bribed and for what price. . . .

Some people will resent family things like this in a family newspaper; but we must face it, because morality demands it and survival requires it. . . .

TAINT EXACTLY HOLLYWOOD—Scudding clouds, a bone-chilling wind off Lake Erie—a far cry from California's sun and warmth—that's the way the cookie crumbled when Municipal Stadium in Cleveland, Ohio, was chosen as the locale for part of a new film, "The Fortune Cookie." Jack Lemmon, Judi West, a newcomer, and Walter Matthau are costarred, along with the Browns' pro football team, which has a part of the action. Lemmon: A Go Guy

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
CLEVELAND, Ohio (NEA) — Cleveland isn't a usual stop for world travelers, but still it's an other city and every city has its special qualities. Jack Lemmon, relaxing in his room after a hard day of shooting, was talking about how he enjoyed going places he hadn't been before. "I love to travel," Jack said. "But it's hard because I'm Jack Lemmon. And people recognize me. It's generally better in Europe but in Vienna, of all places, I was mobbed — hundreds of people clamoring for my autograph.

"I've often thought of using a disguise, but I haven't tried one so far. Of course, I really don't mind it — if people ever stop recognizing me, I'm in deep trouble." Jack leaned back on the coffee table and lit a cigar.

"It's funny," he said; "I've been popular for quite a while now but never, thank God, have I had the kind of popularity like some people. You know, the people who have their clothes torn off. My fans seem to be more restrained somehow. "And I never got much fan mail, either. That's been a disappointment to my mother. She handles my fan mail. It gives her something to do — she can't there."

Felicia is his wife, Felicia Farr. Denise is Felicia's daughter by a previous marriage. And "Willie or Elvira or whoever's in there" is the child Jack and Felicia will have in January. "From the way things look now," Jack said, "it may be twins. There are twins on both sides of the family. But the doctor says it's too soon to say for sure."

Jack was in Cleveland shooting "The Fortune Cookie," Billy Wilder's new comedy. He's working with Walter Matthau and Judi West in this one. "I find locations are generally tough," Jack said. "Working conditions are more difficult than at home — the weather is not as good. And there's not much to do — I ordinarily go right home after work, watch a little television and go to bed."

And that is precisely what he did, after an final session with or Elvira or whoever's in his new binoculars.

'Rest Assured' Cast Will Have Several New Players

Theater-goers who enjoy a delightful evening of comedy are urged to purchase their tickets for "Rest Assured," the current production of Pampa Little Theater. Tickets are on sale at Richard Drug for the December 3 and 4 production, which will be presented in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium.

Several new faces will make their appearance in the play by Donald Payton. Portraying the role of Phillip Morlock, the tycoon, is Ron Graves, who gives an outstanding performance in a demanding part. Anna Lois Carpenter is his long-suffering wife who has taken his browbeating and neglect for many years, and she will delight the audience with her sensitive portrayal of this role.

The two daughters, played by Carmen Butler and Shell Brown, also show the effects of their father's neglect. Jessica offers many of the high comedy spots of the production as she expounds her theories on the art of female wrestling.

Mildred, the maid, affords Carolyn Smoot many opportunities for hilarious dialogue, and she makes the most of it. Joe Lanconi, played by Richard Klotz, is a serious young man who wants only to wed Mary. Richard plays his role sincerely and is very believable. Luigi Lanconi, the Italian father, who comes back from the beyond to "talka for Joe," is portrayed by Val Reames, who does a remarkable interpretation. He will charm the audience.

Red Cross News

By LAURA CONVERSE
First Aid & Home Nursing
Instructor

Ray Fisher, FAL, has just completed a junior first aid class taught to Boy Scout Troop No. 21. The following boys completed the course: Jimmie Hampton, Larry Knutson, Alfred Parker, John Lewis, Mike Price, Timothy Russey, Brent Smith, Eddie Ademson, Richard Lewis and Larry Lambright.

Mr. Fisher stated that each of the boys was most cooperative and the most interested group he has taught in a long time. When these boys are in the 9th grade or are 14 years old, they can take their standard first aid and receive their cards.

Mr. Fisher would like to hold a class in standard first aid for Scout leaders who are in a supervisory capacity or who will be taking boys on camping trips this summer. Those who are interested, should call the Red Cross office and register for the course. Tentative date is set for after the first of the year.

High School Red Cross youth have completed their Enrollment and Fund Drive for the school with $500 completed for the year 1965-66. Glenna Brown, president; John Curry, vice president and Barbara Holt, secretary - treasurer are the officers for this year with Mr. Howard Graham, teacher-sponsor.

There are 46 home rooms in the school and each room competed against each other for enrollment. Mrs. Joe Fisher's home room was the winner with $51.60. The council will present a certificate of recognition to the winning room.

Travis elementary school has completed their enrollment with Carol Macky, teacher - sponsor, reporting $36 from their enrollment.

A letter has been received at the Red Cross office from Mary Caruthers, Regional Director of Red Cross youth, confirming shipment of the school chests which were mailed from Pampa in May, 1965. The chests, prepared by the Pampa High School, were sent to aid children affected by recent volcanic disasters in the Philippine Islands.

Cadet Troop No. 14 of the Girl Scouts, with Mrs. E. A. McLennan as leader, are making

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

New books at Lovett Memorial Library this week are:

Fiction:
"The Mule on the Minaret" — Alec Waugh; a tale of wartime passion, intrigue and espionage based on an old Arabian proverb.

"Yankee Doodle Dandy" — Noel Gerson; a biographical novel of John Hancock.

"The Mandelbaum Gate" — Muriel Spark; a suspense-filled story of high adventures in which the lives of rab and Jew, Catholic pilgrim and British diplomat become entangled.

"Lost Empires" — J. B. Priestley; the hectic world of vaudeville so soon to wither under the competition of motion pictures, is recreated in this.

"The File on Devlin" — Catherine Gaskin; a new novel of suspense, love and counter-espionage.

Science Fiction:
"Beyond Tomorrow" — Damon Knight.

"The Hothouse World" — Fred MacIsaac.

"The Forgotten Planet" — George Smith.

"The Corridors of Time" — Poul Anderson.

ing hand puppets for the Highland General Hospital; for the American Red Cross. The entire troop is participating in this project. "Thanks" to this fine group.

"Quiet Battle", a half-hour, 16mm. color and sound motion picture about the U.S. foreign assistance program, is available to Red Cross Chapters and other organization on a loan basis. Presented by the Agency for International Development, the film was produced in Greece, Pakistan and Taiwan. It portrays American aid at work helping developing nations to achieve better lives for their people. Inquiries should be made at the Red Cross Office.

In 1782, preliminary peace articles ending the Revolutionary War were signed in Paris.

"The Hour of the Phoenix" — Henry Richards.

Non-Fiction Biographies:
"A Gift of Laughter" — Allen Sherman; a merry case history in the American success syndrome told by the creator of such song favorites as "Hello, Paddy".

"Give Joy to my Youth" — Teresa Gallagher; a memoir of Dr. Tom Dooley.

"John F. Kennedy and the Young People of America" — Bill Adler; a compilation of letters from young people expressing their great sense of loss of his passing, and offering their simple tribute of love for him.

"Waging Peace" — Dwight D. Eisenhower; the story of his second administration, told by the 34th President of the U. S.

"Kennedy" Theodore Sorenson; begins with his first impressions of the youthful Senator-elect in whose office he was seeking employment — and ends with his assessment of the Kennedy legacy.

"Before You Buy a House" — Robert Marshall, editor of "Changing Times" magazine.

"Men against the Mountains" — Alison J. Smith.

"A Witch's Guide to Gardening" — Dorothy Jacob.

"How To Speak With Confidence" — Ralph N. Schmidt.

"Lighter-Than-Air Flight" — Lt. Col. C. V. Glines, USAF.

"Family Camper's Cookbook" — Bill Riviere.

"Rawhide Texas" — Wayne Gard.

"The Gifts They Bring" — Pearl S. Buck; our debt to the mentally retarded.

"100 Questions Answered About Child Psychology" — Jeanne L. Rivoire.

"How To Finance A Growing Business" — Royce Diener.

"100 Gets You Started" — Richard Silverman; market secrets for the small investor.

100-Nation Conference Set for Havana

LONDON (UPI) — A three-continent, 100-nation conference will open in Havana Jan. 3 to align Afro-Asian-Latin American strategy against worldwide "imperialism and colonialism in all its forms," official sources said today.

A preparatory committee in Prague which has been planning the meeting for some time gave the green light to the conference Thursday. It will be held in Havana from Jan. 3 to 10, the sources said.

The conference, which has strong Russian support and is to include also Communist China, may prove a substitute for the Afro-Asian conference which was to have taken place in Algiers earlier this month. The Algiers meeting was put off indefinitely because of Red Chinese opposition.

Peking apparently has been unable to block the Havana meeting where it may find itself in a delicate position of near isolation — unless it prefers to back out at the last minute.

The conference plans to draw up "a common program of action," although no details of its ultimate aims have so far emerged.

But among the plans which have become known is the idea of a joint program for stepped-up struggle against "imperialism and colonialism in all their forms."

Another issue to be considered is a pledge of solidarity to North Viet Nam.

Further problems are to include disarmament, economic cooperation among the emerging nations in the three continents and the fight against racial discrimination.

Some 100 nations from Africa, Asia and Latin America are expected to participate.

Teenagers Held In Diner Robbery

DALLAS (UPI) — Two South Texas teenagers were arrested Thursday night in connection with the $55 robbery of an all-night diner.

A waitress told police two youths entered the diner, grabbed a knife and told her to give them money from the cash register. No charges have yet been filed on the youths, one from Houston and the other from Vidor, Tex.

AID DRINKERS

HELSENKI (UPI) — Finnish hangover clinics will continue operation next year, the Alcoholics Clinic Foundation announced Saturday.

The hangover clinics are open in the morning and administer vitamin B injections, orange juice and other scientifically proved hangover cures for a nominal fee.
