A long-distance copying machine that can work over the telephone will soon be on the market, reports Electronics, McGraw-Hill publication. When a paper is fed into the new machine, its contents are electronically read and converted into a series of tones that are picked up by a regular telephone headset. The tones are transmitted to a receiving telephone and a machine that reproduces it on the other end of the line.

INSTANT FILING

Secretaries will no longer have to spend hours looking for a lost file if a new filing system catches on, reports Purchasing Week, McGraw-Hill publication. The system is said to be able to retrieve a file folder in less than five seconds even when there is as many as 100,000 folders to choose from. The machine also refiles the folder automatically.

Television in Review

By H. D. QUIGG

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—My grandpa was a man of soaring imagination—particularly at certain times of the evening—and it's fairly certain he would have believed it had he been told that some day his grandson would sit on land gazing into a little screen at a moving picture of live action, bounced off a satellite and taken from a huge ship at sea bearing down on another satellite just splashed down from space with two passengers.

This would not have confounded him a whit. However, if he had been told that the action alluded to was that of a living frogman, with flippers where his feet ought to be, emerging from the ocean, standing on a float beside the satellite, whipping out a pocket camera, and snapping a picture of the ship that was snapping the picture of him snapping, the old gentleman would have said fiddlesticks and go peddle your petunias.

Well, Sir-Re-Bob, as my grandfather was wont to say, if you don't believe it happened Thursday, why don't you just turn on your television set Saturday when they're going to do the same live act all over—but with Gemini 7 instead of Gemini 6—and maybe even see the same frogman.

You may hear the same bullhorn behind television announcer Bernard Eisemann on the flight deck, blaring orders to the USS Wasp's crew as the momentous task of plucking astronauts from the sea is at hand. You may hear the shot of the line gun that casts the lift line from the derrick out to the frogman at the capsule.

Reentry Suspense
You may even hear Walter Cronkite fulminating about a three-minute blackout of information on reentry (as he did Thursday "on behalf of the great American public"). He said his heart was getting too ancient to stand the strain of that kind of nonsense. So maybe there won't be a repetition. When Walter pings, it stings.

All in all, television should pat itself somewhere—probably on the news department—for its performance from the pad-balk of Gemini 6 Sunday, and the takeoff and cliffhanger rendezvous Wednesday, right through to right now. "Live via satellite" and "Live from USS Wasp" read the notices across the home screens as the pool feed to the networks showed the first-ever live pictures from mid-ocean of a satellite recovery—courtesy another satellite, the ever-hovering Early Bird. The performance, technical, pictorial, human, was—well, as David Brinkley said when it was all over: "That was splendid."

A picture worthy of special showing at any film festival was seen shortly before noon by millions—that thumbs-up gesture, grinning face, and handshake of Wally Schirra when his hatch was opened on the carrier deck by the man from McDonnell Schirra throughout, incidentally, has shown himself in pre-recorded interviews to be a most articulate, intelligent, informative extemporaneous speaker.

The aforementioned Cronkite lifted off a deserved tribute to Schirra when the live cast ended: "Certainly he's turned out as one of the most extraordinary test pilots of all time—This was right on the money all the time."

The watching public certainly got a better idea of life aboard a carrier Thursday in the excellent live shots of plane wings unfolding, helicopters prowling the gentle swells. Eisemann and Dallas Townsend, aboard the Wasp, did a good job in conveying the atmosphere—although they did smear the balm of the weather

JAMES H. AYRES Pampa Grad Is Awarded High Air Force Medal

Capt. James Ayres, instructor pilot at Reese Air Force Base, was awarded the distinguished flying cross for service in Viet Nam.

Ayers is a 1955 graduate of Pampa High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ayers of 923 Browning.

He was honored for March 8, 1965 action while commander of C-123 aircraft over Viet Nam.

"On that date," said his citation, "Ayers displayed outstanding airmanship and courage while flying a three-hour flare-drop mission in defense of a special forces camp which was under heavy attack by the Viet Cong."

"Although hampered by turbulent weather, mountainous terrain and heavy ground fire, Ayers kept Viet Cong forces illuminated throughout the night and played an important role in preventing the camp from being heavily overrun."

"His heroism, aerial skill and selfless devotion to duty were a credit to himself and the United States Air Force."

Ayers had previously received the Air Medal and 13 oak leaf clusters for Viet Nam duty.

More Snow Seen For Pampa, Area

Accumulations of snow up to two inches was forecast for Pampa tonight and temperatures were once again expected to plunge into the 20s.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Amarillo said the snow would begin tonight and end early tomorrow morning.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the mid-20s in the Panhandle to the mid-60s in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

A bright sun shone across most of the Panhandle and South Plains Thursday, melting away the first snowfall of the season and removing dangerous glaze from highways.

It stayed cold in that area, though, with the mercury reaching only 42 at Amarillo and Daltart, compared with a high of 66 at Corpus Christi and Presidio.

LBJ or Humphrey To Light Capitol Christmas Tree?

WASHINGTON — It is still a toss-up whether President Johnson or Vice President Humphrey will officiate at the annual national Christmas tree lighting ceremony tonight.

The Christmas Pageant-for-Peace Committee in charge of the event is still in the dark. Traditionally, the President lights the tree with a nationally televised address. The towering pine is set up on what is known as the President's Park directly opposite the White House grounds. The President, lights up the tree by pressing a button on a stand outside of his office, and broadcasts a message.

But this year, with the President apparently remaining at his Texas ranch the committee sent out invitations announcing that Vice President Humphrey would do the honors. Subsequently, Johnson decided to return to the White House for conferences with President Ayub Khan, Prime Minister Wilson and Chancellor Erhard.

Hurriedly, the committee inquired whether the President would light the tree. A White House aide was noncommittal.

"If the President decides to use the occasion to make a peace appeal," the aide said, "he will personally light the tree. Otherwise, Vice President Humphrey will."

"What do we do about Humphrey if the President does decide to appear?" the aide was asked.

"Humphrey can either get sick, or stand in the background," was the terse reply.

That will be nothing new for Humphrey. He has had months of practice at it.

Expensive Office Equipment Stolen

Approximately $775 worth of office equipment and clothing was missing today following a break-in in sometime last night of the Pan American Oil Company, northwest of Pampa.

Deputy Sheriff D. L. Day said an office calculator and typewriters, along with several pairs of books, oil field clothing and grease rags were taken in the burglary.

Entry to the building was gained by breaking into the front door.

Day said the break-in occurred sometime between 5 p.m. yesterday and 8:30 a.m. today.

Patman

(Continued from Page 1) already has led to increases in some interest rates, he was unable to prevent it.

He refused to reach an agreement with Congress, then he would favor a resolution similar to that proposed by Harvard economist J. Kenneth Galbraith. Under the Galbraith plan, Congress would insist on a "coordinated economic policy" and would affirm the President's "ultimate authority" over the reserve board.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a committee member, said he was not ready to strip the board of its independence but hopes that it had come away from this week's hearings in "a new frame of mind."

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Since President Johnson is human, it would not be surprising if a number of unpleasant thoughts ran through his mind during his talk with Pakistan President Ayub Khan.

There must also have been the temptation to pull the string on the Pakistani president and let him turn to Red China and the Soviet Union for the aid he so desperately needs.

There was, for example, the Ayub Khan speech of last July referring to the United States as "power drunk" and the clear implication that Pakistan's sympathies lay with Red China and the Viet Cong in Viet Nam.

In the file marked "Pakistan" there also would be a memo on the well-coordinated mobs that attacked the U.S. Embassy in Karachi and other U.S. installations in Lahore and Dacca after suspension of U.S. arms shipments to both India and Pakistan during their 30-day war in late summer.

Both the mobs and the unbridled attacks by Pakistan's government controlled press obviously had government approval.

Yet strangely perhaps, blame for deteriorating U.S.-Pakistan relations has fallen less upon Ayub, the tough British-trained general who took over leadership of Pakistan in 1958, than upon his cocky foreign minister, Suflikar Ali Bhutto, to whom his information chief, Altag Gauhar.

Both are pro-Peking and neither has lost a chance for a snide reference to the U.S. effort in Viet Nam.

But since statesmanship is not decided on the basis of either pin pricks, or emotions, other considerations would determine the case of Pakistan.

As Pakistan has feuded with India over Kashmir, she also has received from the United States some $3 billion in economic aid and another $1.5 billion in military aid.

Admittedly, she has used her economic aid well. At the end of her second five-year plan ending last June, national income was rising at an annual rate of 4.8 per cent and both agriculture and industry were moving comfortably ahead of population growth estimated at 3.2 per cent.

But then came the war with India which some estimates say cost her as much as $300 million.

Since the cutoff in American aid, Pakistan has been forced to pull in her belt three times. She has cut back third five-year development plans by $217 million, is in the process of raising $62 million new taxes and customs duties and drastically has cut back private investment opportunities. These she wants channeled into defense and basic industry.

Ayub not only wants U.S. aid, he also wants support for his demands for a plebiscite in Kashmir.

With Red China he has reached a border agreement on Kashmir on his side of the cease-fire line but in territory disputed by India. The guns he wants frankly would be aimed at India.

Whatever aid or support he receives, it seems clear, will have strings attached: a sincere effort to reach peace with India and an equally sincere appreciation of U.S. objectives.

Yule Mail Should Be Sent Out During Weekend

It is urgent that any remaining Christmas mail be sent out over this weekend, Postmaster Lynn Boyd stressed today.

In the last three weeks, the nation has witnessed more people mailing gifts, cards and letters than ever before.

The postmaster said that every piece of Christmas mail that can possibly be delivered will reach its destination on time.

However, at this time of the year, the strain on transportation facilities and the unpredictability of weather can mean unexpected delays.

Boyd suggested that mailers consider the use of air mail and special delivery, especially for out of town mail.

He noted that holiday schedules will be in effect on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 25 and 26.

Although Christmas falls on a Saturday and many business firms will be letting their employees off Friday, a sufficient number of postal workers will remain on duty to see that all Christmas mail entering the post office in time for delivery will reach its destination.

Only Special Delivery and perishable mail will be delivered on Christmas Day.

The Pampa postmaster thanked all his customers for their excellent cooperation so far.

"We noted that the use of ZIP Code has increased significantly over last year and that most people mailed early," Boyd said. "The local peak day was Friday Dec. 10. However, there still is an extremely heavy volume of mail to be delivered."

By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Thomson and McKinnon feels that the bullish approach toward the market at the present time is justified. The analyst believes that the bright outlook for the economy, record high employment figures, favorable steel prospects and rising machine orders support this point of view.

however, in view of uncertain low-priced issues, which sometimes indicates a temporary setback is in the offing.

Edwards A. Viner & Co. says the market's ability to bounce back after a rise in the discount rate illustrates the bull market's underlying strength and the present upward trend should remain intact for weeks to come.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone believes the market is in a position to surpass old highs, but, nevertheless, caution should be exercised in view of world misery, political and economic problems.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—

Hardly a day goes by that someone doesn't think up a new use for electronic computers.

It is logical to assume that eventually computers will be used to think up new uses for other computers. For all I know, they may be doing it already.

Anyway, the time when computers only performed in highly technical fields is long past. They are now well established in common everyday activities familiar to us all.

For instance, a large food service company, automatic retails of America, is preparing to use computers to plan menus for the dining halls it operates in schools, hospitals, industrial plants and similar institutions.

Look Into Future
A company representative who sent me a report on the program added a bit of speculation as to what it portends for the future.

"If today's computers are being readied to provide menus on an institutional level, perhaps tomorrow they will provide the menus in the average American home," he wrote.

Presumably, each member of the family would inscribe on a punch card his or her likes and dislikes as to meats, vegetables, casseroles, salads, etc.

When programmed into a computer, the data would be correlated with caloric, vitamin and mineral content and other dietary information. From this the machine would devise a balanced menu that everyone would relish.

"Average" Exchange
I suppose such a thing is theoretically possible, but if my home can be considered "average," it would work out something like this:

Operator: "Okay, Computer, what's for supper tonight?"
Computer: "Frog legs, pickled hearts of palm and hot tamales."
Operator: "That's what we had last night."
Computer: "Cheeseburgers, fried okra, artichokes and watermelon."

Pampa High School Campus News

By VIRGINIA DEWITT

The Tommy McDonald fund drive is well on its way at Pampa High. Almost everyone has been seized by the idea of doing something for Tommy.

Truteen Service League, newly organized girls club, is the group that launched the campaign to send Tommy to Warm Springs Rehabilitation Center in Gonzales, Tex. Last August Tommy, a junior at Pampa High, was injured in a car accident which rendered him paralyzed. He has regained partial use of his arms, and it is hoped that at the rehabilitation center he might make more progress, to the extent of walking again.

Truteens have raised over $1,000 so far. They have set the goal at $2,100 by Jan. 3, according to Charlie Gustin, president, and the school is determined that this goal will be reached.

A benefit dance to be given by the Essex, a high school dance group, is set for Friday. Several homecomings are helping raise the fund by selling cookies, candy and gum before school, during lunch, between classes, and just about anytime anyone will buy it.

At a recent meeting, the Junior Class voted to sell raffle tickets for a portable stereo donated by C&M Furniture and Television. Each Key Club member will contribute a penny for each pound he weighs, said Jerry Masterson, vice-president.

Many teachers are also helping with the drive. Mrs. Evelyn Pritchard, for example, is selling cookies and brownies.

Spanish Club ate Spanish food and broke pinatas Monday night at its annual banquet. Spanish classes elected Ann Monroe, junior, Spanish Club Queen for this year.

The Queen's attendants were Marsha Jewell, Linda Watson, juniors, and Patsy Holloway, Pam Martin, seniors.

Besides getting rings, sitting in a different section of the field house during assembly, taking college entrance tests and wearing suits and drapes in the pictures for the annual, seniors took another step in becoming a full-fledged senior.

Hats Rated Tops By Miss America

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — "Know thyself" may be the key to getting along with your friends and neighbors. But, according to Deborah Bryant, 19-year-old Miss America from Overland Park, Kan., it's also the first rule of fashion.

"If you don't know what's right for you, and just follow the mercurial whims of fashion, you become the slave rather than the master of your wardrobe," Debbie warns.

The new Miss America believes that when a new look is too far out, it should be avoided like the plague it can become. No one, she feels, should wear any item of clothing solely because it's a current fad.

"True chic is the thoughtout, total look," she said. "For example, never forget that a smart hat is the most important accent a girl can choose. Often she is seen only from the shoulders up — in conversation at a table. And a smart hat will prettily frame her face and give her a dressy look."

Deborah Bryant follows her own advice. She doesn't own any of the new short-skirted styles and would rather stay home than go out anywhere in blue jeans or pants. She insists on variety and femininity in her outfits.

She loves and wears hats with every costume — jockey visors, berets, helmets, snap-brim fedoras, tricornes and swept-back brims.

She likes A-line skirts and particularly favors three-piece ensembles for their wonderful adaptability to her very busy life.

This lovely, tawny, natural blonde, with blue eyes and a peaches-and-cream complexion is 5-foot-6 and weighs 118 pounds.

And, in spite of the ideal statistics, she firmly believes that her total look of chic and beauty is a result of her steadfast adherence to only wearing what she knows is right for her.

Members Present Allegro Program

Mrs. Bill Cooper spoke on the "Life and Philosophies of Mohandas K. Gandhi" and Mrs. Jack Reeve told of the life of Winston Churchill when presenting the program to Twentieth Century Allegro Study Club.

The group met recently in the home of Mrs. Will Graham at 1928 Grape with Mrs. R. A. Johnson serving as co-hostess.

Following a social hour the Club Litany was read and the roll called. Mrs. Curt Beck, president, conducted a brief business meeting.

Present were Mmes. Ted Alexander, Curt Beck, Bill Cooper, Bob Cory, Kay Fancher, Will Graham, D. W. Hayes, R. A. Johnson, Edward Keffer, Gene Lunsford, John McCausland, Jack Miller, J. R. Reeve, R. E. Reid, Charles Walsh and John Horn.

FOR SATURDAY DEC. 15
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when your long-range plans can be gained by using much subtlety in whatever arrangements with others may be necessary in order to make them an actual part of your everyday existence. Be sure you do refrain from any acid remarks that come to your lips and show caution where essential.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Getting bills appropriately paid without getting angry about them is what should be done now. Make friends, not enemies. Show that you are calm and collected with all.

TAUROS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — If you become more active in your field of endeavor you find that associates will cooperate more — otherwise you must lose them. Show that you have tact. Avoid arguing.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Don't make such a fuss about any duties you must perform, or higher-ups will resent your attitude. Let co-workers understand you are more than co-operative. Working on this free day can be very profitable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Complete Christmas shopping list and entertain in those you can tonight, but don't be extravagant. Gain understanding. Avoid playing hobbies, since you are not in a mood for this.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Out-door activities are also important and can be a fine means by which to avoid arguing at home. Don't be impulsive. Get problems behind you quickly so that you can start smiling again.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Use your own good judgment or you can easily have an accident, also speak in a kind, quiet way. Much care must be taken with reports. Check and re-check for best results.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Practical situations around you may seem hard, but you have good sense and can come to proper decisions now. Don't count on that person in business who is not feeling up to par now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Why go off by yourself and cry over some situation or other when it is wiser to go out and do something constructive. Be objective about your problems. Then forget them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Private anxiety can certainly get you confused, but you can avoid this by using more orthodox methods. Help one in need. Then you make this a most fine day, evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Avoid that financial wizard who wants to buy your property, etc., and accept help from a good associate. Charming social outlets are your best outlet in free time. Be happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18) — Try not to be forceful where outside activities are concerned or you get into trouble. Use tact. Get rid of whatever is hindering your progress. Then you get ahead wisely.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) — Find that good pal who will help you put your plans across instead of fretting. He or she may be the unsmiling kind, but is loyal. Personal life can also be ameliorated.

Dear Abby...
Plugging Cleanliness Is Better Than Peddling Dirt

DEAR ABBY: I have a cousin whose favorite topic of conversation is how "clean" she is. I have always assumed that everyone is reasonably "clean" — unless there is evidence to the contrary and, frankly, I never thought much about it. But this woman tells everyone she meets that she bathes twice a day, changes her bed linen twice a week, and she goes into boring detail about how she changes the shelf paper in her pantry every month and scrubs the walls and floors of her basement, etc. Is there something wrong with her? Or is it me?

CLEAN'S COUSIN
DEAR COUSIN: Better that your cousin plug cleanliness than peddle dirt. I'm for cleanliness, too, but when someone wears it like a crown, I wonder where the dirt is hidden.

DEAR ABBY: There are times when I get a little excited or nervous and talk louder than I should. But does this give my husband the right to scold me about it at the dinner table in front of guests? To top it off he said, "This isn't the first time I've called your attention to it, and I don't want to have to tell you again!"

Now, Abby, I am not a four-year-old, and I don't care to be embarrassed that way before guests. He is a man of means and he is generous, but he did not exactly rescue me from the poor farm, I am 65 and he is 72 and we have been married less than a year. He is my second husband (I was a widow) and I am his seventh wife. He was divorced by all of them and now I am beginning to see why. Am I making too much of this incident? Or should I leave him while I'm still young enough to find someone else?

THE CAPTAIN'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Judging from his record, your chances for reforming him are slim. Either learn to ignore such unkind remarks, or invite him to try for eight.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 23 years old and has been married twice. Her first marriage was to a good boy, but she cared nothing for him and they were soon divorced. Her second marriage was to an older man she'd known only six weeks. He was no good at all. In fact he wasn't even free to marry anyone. That lasted two months. Our daughter is living at home again. She works, but she pays no room or board. Ever

REV. O. E. WRIGHT
CHURCH OF GOD

UNTO US

Isaiah 9:6. For UNTO US a child is born, UNTO US a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called WONDERFUL, COUNSELOR, THE MIGHTY GOD, THE EVERLASTING FATHER, THE PRINCE OF PEACE.

UNTO MARY: He was to be the son of the HIGHEST, St. Luke 1:32. What a great honor was bestowed UPON this lowly handmaid that she should be the mother of one so GREAT so HIGH and HOLY, the blessed and only begotten son of God.

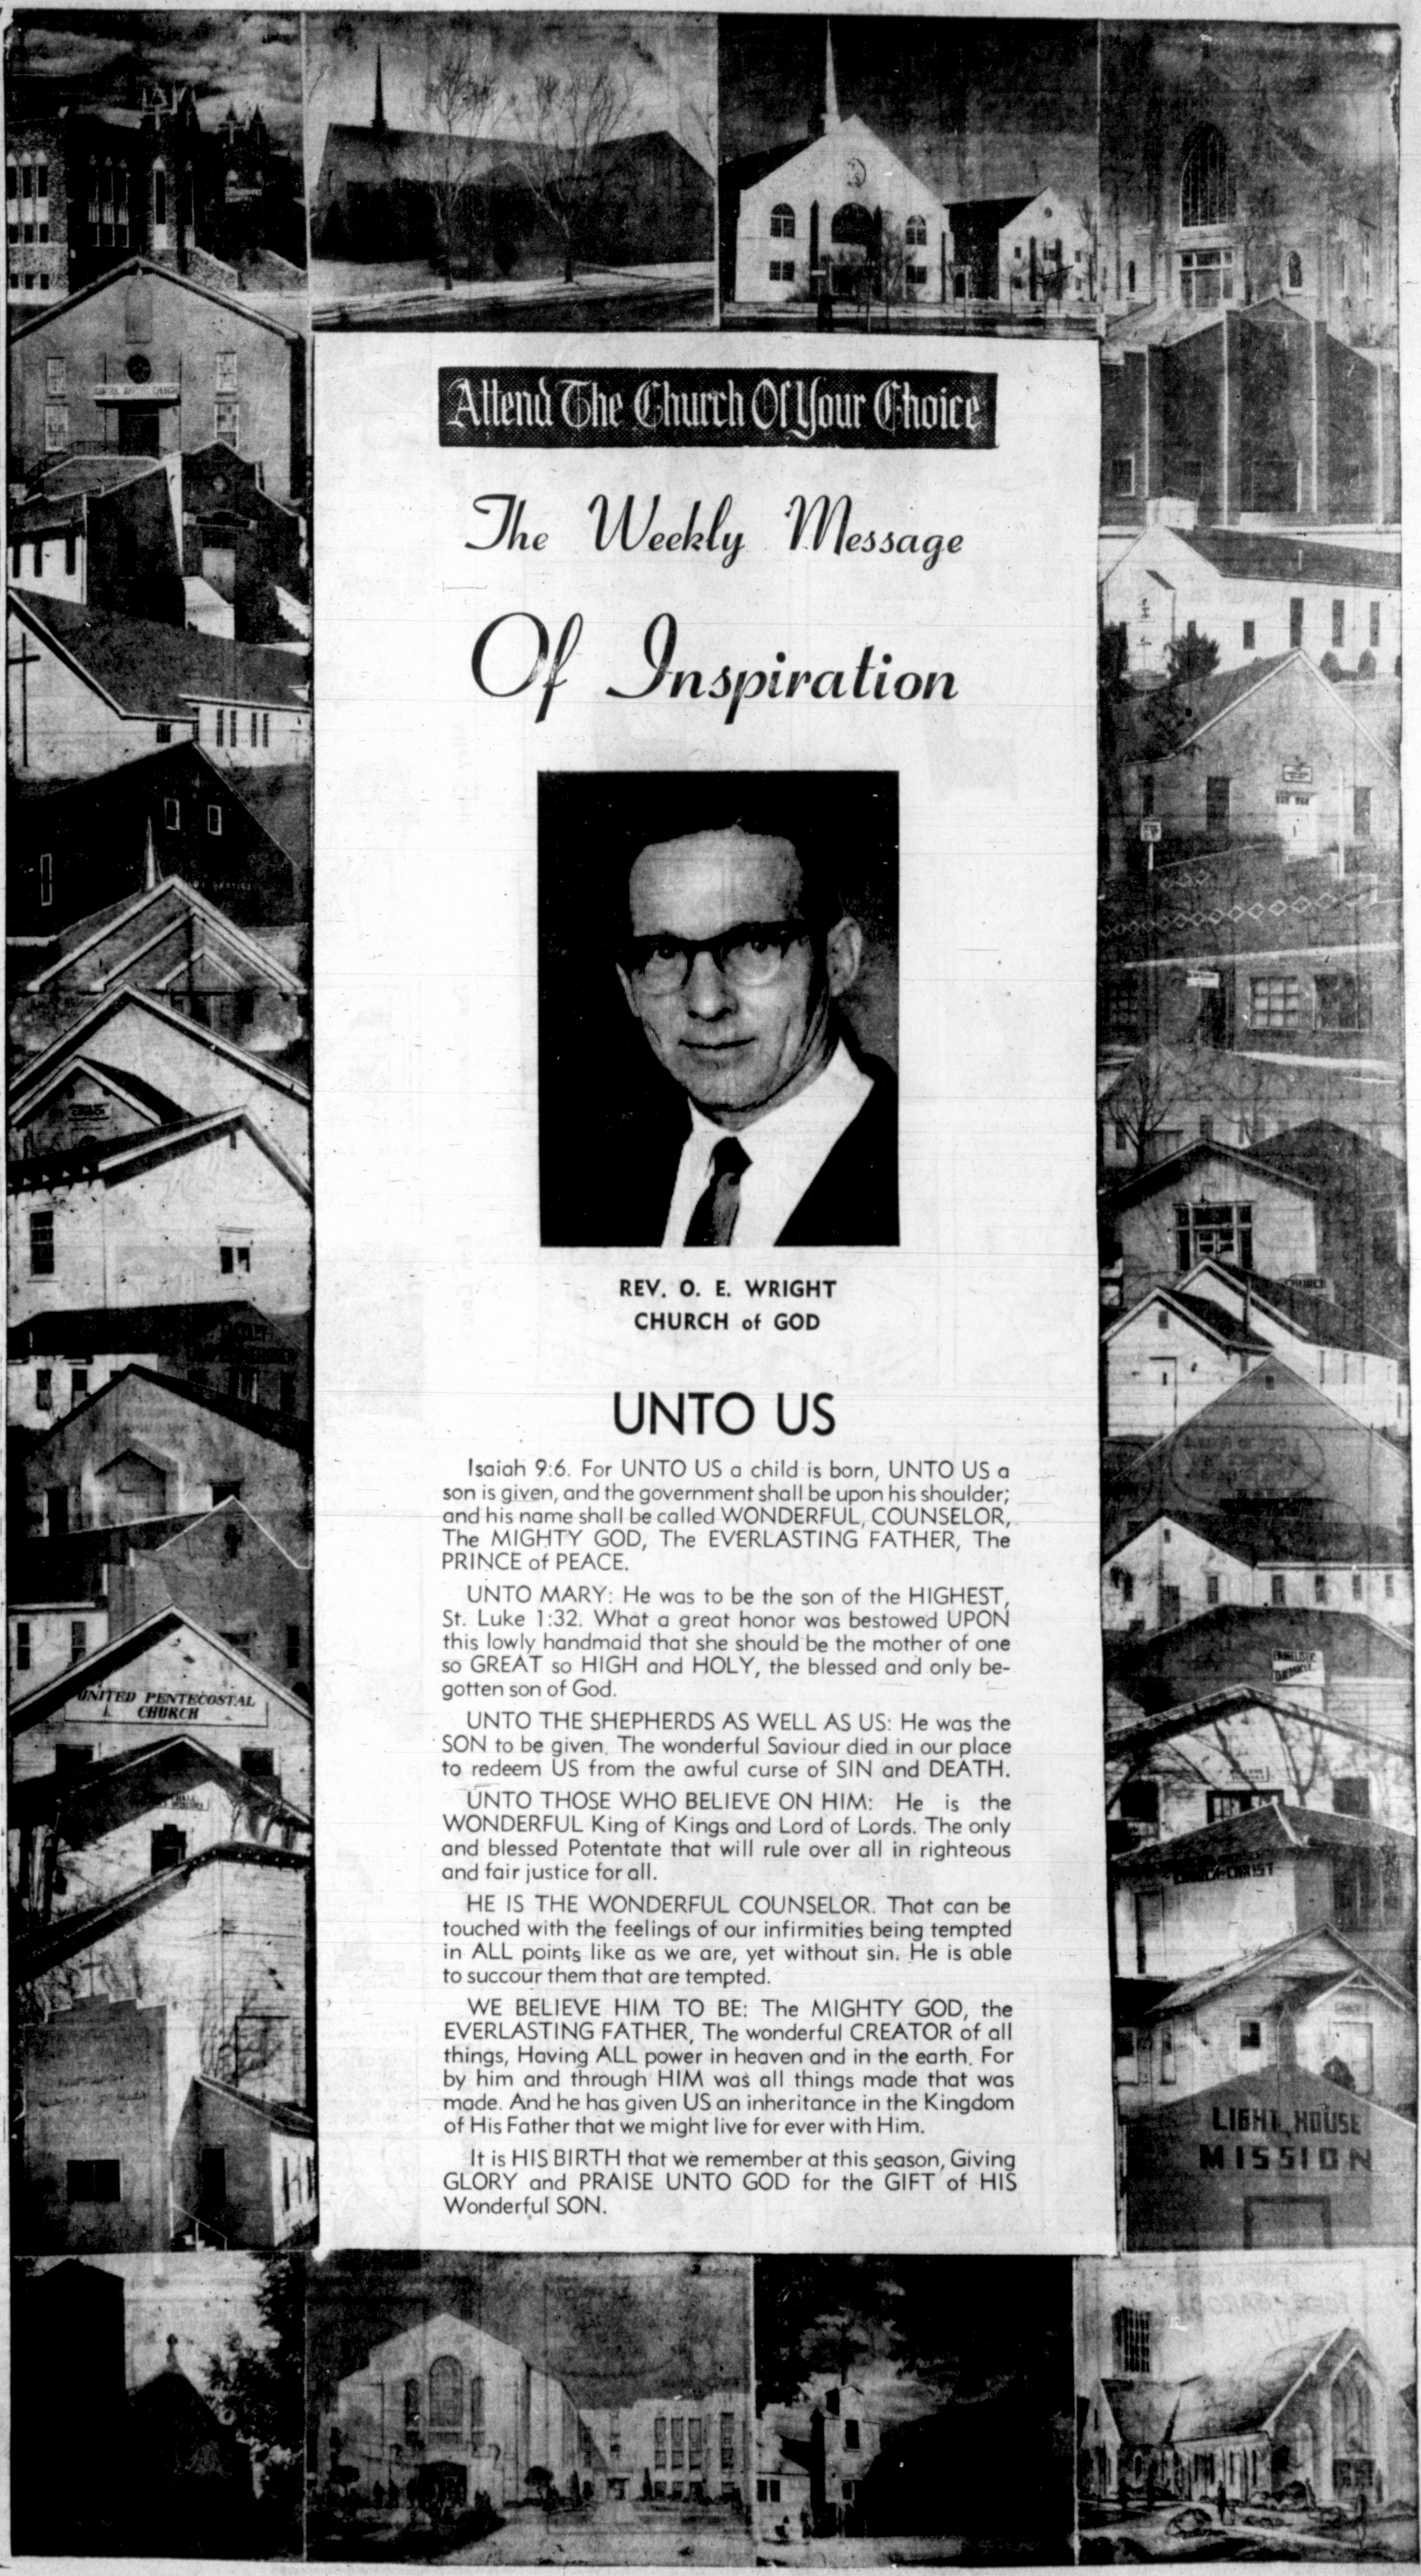

UNTO THE SHEPHERDS AS WELL AS US: He was the SON to be given. The wonderful Saviour died in our place to redeem US from the awful curse of SIN and DEATH.

UNTO THOSE WHO BELIEVE ON HIM: He is the WONDERFUL King of Kings and Lord of Lords. The only and blessed Potentate that will rule over all in righteous and fair justice for all.

HE IS THE WONDERFUL COUNSELOR. That can be touched with the feelings of our infirmities being tempted in ALL points like as we are, yet without sin. He is able to succour them that are tempted.

WE BELIEVE HIM TO BE: The MIGHTY GOD, the EVERLASTING FATHER, The wonderful CREATOR of all things, Having ALL power in heaven and in the earth. For by him and through HIM was all things made that was made. And he has given US an inheritance in the Kingdom of His Father that we might live for ever with Him.

It is HIS BIRTH that we remember at this season, Giving GLORY and PRAISE UNTO GOD for the GIFT of HIS Wonderful SON.

Bucks Tackle Indians For State Grid Title

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
WICHITA FALLS (Sp)—White Deer tries to put all their eggs in one basket Saturday night when they do battle with Willis Point in the class A state championship football playoffs. Game time is 8 p.m.

For the Bucks and the home folk at White Deer it will be the end of a long, tough season that saw 14 straight foes fall before the fast charging offense and gang tackling defense that is a tradition at White Deer. Coach Colie Huffman saw his junior dominated squad mature early and win their 10 regular season games knocking off Boys Ranch, 27-0; Groom, 7-0; Sanford-Fritch, 47-0; Panhandle, 45-6; Claude, 41-6; then go into conference action and downed McLean, 48-0; Clarendon, 40-14; Wellington 4-0; Canadian, 46-0 and Memphis, 41-8.

White Deer has been behind. Against Coahoma, they trailed twice but came gamely back and then held off a rally. Last week Keller led 12.7 at one point and trailed only 14-12 going into the fourth period but the Bucks kept hitting and took advantage of mistakes to win in a walk. In Willis Points favor Saturday night will be experience and a weight advantage in the line of nearly 26 pounds. White Deer averages only 162.3 pounds per man in the line compared to 188.4 for the Tigers. In the backfield it's a different story with the Bucks averaging 160.1 pounds per man and Willis Point, 159.2.

Experience wise the Tigers are loaded and its no wonder they too are 14-0 and the winners of district 18-A. Seven starters returned and seven other lettermen with from one to three football letters. In regular season play the Tigers rolled over Wilmer Hutchins, 43-0; Vam, 20-0; Bishop Lynch, 33-13; Henton, 28-0; Grand Saline, 27-13; then took league victories from Quitman, 17-0; Brownsboro, 35-0; Rains, 35-6; Malokoff, 62-6 and Edgewood, 55-0; in playoff games the Tigers ripped Jefferson, 44-0; Hallizelle, 21-0 and Rogers, 30-0 and last week 'downed Three Rivers, 20-14.

If you've been counting this adds up to 470 offensive points, an average of 33.8 per game and only 52 points given up, an average of 3.9 per contest. White Deer has scored 477 points, an average of 34.1 per game and given up 76, an average of 5.6 for the 14 contests. Coach Ken Davis is in his second year and won district honors last year then lost in bi-district, 14-7. He thought he didn't have much to look forward to this season after losing six offensive and defensive starters. But he still had Don Dodson, 205 pound senior at left end, Dodson is a senior and two year letterman; at left guard, he doesn't use a left tackle, running the unbalanced line, is Steve Stedham, 165 pound senior with three letters who started last year. Davis also has Wayne Langford at center, a starter from last year with two letters and a 165 pound senior; at right guard is Jerry Barnett, 200 lb. senior, with one letter who started last year and at right tackle is Benny Mapes, 215 lb. senior with two letters who also was a starter last season. Quarterbacking is left to Phil Hart, 140 pound senior and at fullback is Vernon Marlar, 181 pound junior. The two halfbacks are all-area scoring leader Randy Elliott, 150 pound junior and Gary Smith, 170 pound junior. Elliott scored 152 points and Marlar 120 for the Bucks this year. Smith has nine touchdowns to his credit.

LEE EIGHTH, PAMPA EIGHTH, SEVENTH WIN

Briscoe Boys, Darrouzett Girls Advance in Meet

Pampa Junior High teams wrapped up pre-Christmas basketball play Thursday night and will not see action again until after the holidays. The same is true for area teams, most of whom were playing in tournaments. Besides the Miami tournament, which will end Saturday night, White Deer plays at Claude and Groom travels to Lefors for a pair. When school resumes Pampa ninth plays Dumas at Dumas

Jan. 6, the eighth plays also and Pampa seventh doesn't play until the next day when they host Borger Houston. Lee resumes action Jan. 6 by hosting White Deer eighth and ninth graders and Jan. 7 Lee seventh plays at Phillips. Lee Eighth and Pampa seventh and eighth grade basketball teams ended pre-holiday cage play Thursday with victories.

Betty Bettingfield hit 21 and Lou Williams 18 to pace Panhandle. Hedley, trailing 27-18 at the half, was led by Nita Bailey

Pampa Hosts Dons Tonight

Pampa hosts Palo Duro starting at 8 o'clock tonight in a district 3-4A game. The Pampa Shockers and the Dons B team open action at 6:30 p.m. The Harvesters will be shooting for their second straight victory and the Dons will be looking for their first win in this their fourth league game. Pampa stands 8-2 for the season and 1-1 in league play while the Dons are 5-3 for the season and 0-3 in conference action. Pampa belted Borger, 73-46 Tuesday for their first league win after being dumped by Lubbock, 48-35 last week. The Dons have height and are capable of beating a n-body in the league. Harold Mason, 6'5 center leads his team in scoring with a 12.7 conference average and Bailey Thompson, 5'7 guard is next with an even 12.0 average. Patrick McKean, 6'2 and David May, 6'2 hold down the forward positions and Roy Burkhart at an even six foot holds down the other guard spot. Coach Terry Culley will probably go with David Cain at center, Mike Wise and Kenneth McWilliams at forwards and Steve Williams and David Frasier at the guard spots.

In boys action Higgins and McLean played at 12:50 p.m. and Darrouzett and Panhandle had an 8:30 p.m. contest, both losers bracket games. In semifinal games tonight Briscoe and Hedley meet at 7:10 p.m. and Miami and Allison play a 9:50 p.m. game. In boys action yesterday Briscoe continued their winning ways and remained the tournament favorite with a hard fought 72-68 victory over Darrouzett. Darrouzett was led by James Perkins with 20, Darrell Duke with 21, Randy Phillips with 13 and Lewis Pratt with 12. Allison bulged to a 29-13 halftime lead and downed McLean, 57-39. Everett Childress paced Allison with 27 and Gary Hall hit 17. McLean was led by Drew Fuller with 12 points. ## Bruins Underdogs Again

EDITORS: This is the second in a series of 12 dispatches sizing up the college football bowl teams.

By ALEX KAHN
UPI Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—UCLA has never won a Rose Bowl game, Coach Tommy Prothro has never fielded a winner in the New Year's Day classic and from the looks of things the losing streak will continue when the Bruins meet Michigan State Jan. 1.

By all realistic yardsticks, the Spartans deserve to be favored by three touchdowns. But UCLA was picked to finish no better than seventh in the Pacific Eight Conference and ended up as the champion. Perhaps more than any other single factor in UCLA's success this year has been the performance of sophomore quarterback Gary Beban who has been named by Prothro as the finest first year man he ever coached at the position. And Prothro had two outstanding quarterbacks at Oregon State in Heisman award winner

Terry Baker and Paul Brothers. The other UCLA star back has been Mel Farr who developed into an outstanding runner able to break away for frequent touchdown jaunts of up to 50 yards, averaging 7.01 yards on 112 carries. UCLA ended its season with seven wins, two losses and a tie. And one of the losses was 13-3 defeat by the same Michigan State team it meets New Year's day. That loss took place in the season's opener which was also the first game for Beban—as a varsity performer.

Although the Bruin's performance drew praise, UCLA did not assume serious consideration as a major football power this year until after its 24-14 upset victory over Syracuse in the third game. And the fired up Bruins outplayed a powerful Missouri team but were held to a 14-14 tie. The only other UCLA loss was in its anti-climactic losing game against Tennessee in which Prothro and his players voiced the opinion they were "jobbed" by poor and one-sided officiating.

Houston Stops Aggies Streak

By United Press International
It was generally a poor night Thursday for Southwest Conference teams but the Arkansas Razorbacks did what few college teams accomplished — beat the Phillips 66ers. The Razorback's 75-64 victory was the first loss of the year for the semi-pro team from Bartlesville, Okla. that is composed of former college players. Houston's Cougars, led by sharpshooting Don Kruse and Joe Hamood, whipped Texas A & M, 90-85 to win the Bluebonnet Bowl Classic for the second consecutive year. Louisiana State's Tigers came in second in the tourney with an 85-80 victory over Rice. Ricky Sugg and John Talkington paced the smaller Razorbacks with 20 and 19 points respectively and Tony Cerkvenik and Ray Carey each had 13 for Phillips.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Bill Of Rights Week

A great many individuals and institutions have been giving lip service to the Bill of Rights in the week just ending. The first ten amendments to the Constitution were ratified Dec. 15, 1791. The Bill of Rights, it should be pointed out, are not a grant of rights by government to the people, but are a statement of prohibitions against the government.

When the Constitution was adopted a number of the delegates to the Constitutional Convention were not satisfied. And many in the states said they would not approve the Constitution without assurance that a statement of the rights of individuals would be adopted. Some of the state resolutions ratifying the constitution specified that approval was subject to an understanding that such a bill of rights would be submitted by the first Congress to the state legislatures for approval.

The New York ratifying convention listed its members' expectations, and said: "Under these impressions and declaring that the rights aforesaid cannot be abridged or violated, and that the Explanations aforesaid are consistent with the said Constitution. And in confidence that the amendments which shall have been proposed to the said Constitution will receive an early and mature consideration: We the said Delegates, in the Name and in the behalf of the People of the State of New York Do by these presents Assent to and Ratify the said Constitution."

Now, 174 years after adoption of the Bill of Rights, there are some people who stress the Bill of Rights as a protection of the rights of individuals, even minorities. But when they speak of freedom of speech, the press and religion, (First Amendment), they sometimes advocate restrictions of speech, the press and other communications methods, and on religious practices which they may not approve.

There are attempts to infringe the right of individuals to protect themselves with firearms, despite the second amendment; the Fourth Amendment protection against unreasonable searches and seizures is violated by the enforcers of employment practices acts and income tax enforcers; the Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination is twisted by those who claim it protects individuals in jobs, and the portions denying the power to take property without "due process" and without "just compensation" are violated regularly.

The Sixth Amendment, guaranteeing an individual a jury trial where the crime was committed is under attack, and the protection of an individual's right to have an attorney in a criminal case has now been twisted to say the state must provide him a lawyer at taxpayer expense.

The Eighth Amendment guarantee against excessive bail and fines likewise is distorted.

And the Ninth and Tenth Amendments denying the politicians the power to expand their authority over the individuals and the states are forgotten by all but a few.

We are reprinting the bill of Rights below, in the hope that all persons will re-read the 10 important amendments and see how far America has strayed from them in 174 years.

AMENDMENT I.
Restriction on Powers of Congress - Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

AMENDMENT II.
Right to Bear Arms - A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

AMENDMENT III.
Billeting of Soldiers - No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

AMENDMENT IV.
Seizures, Searches and Warrants - The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized.

AMENDMENT V.
Criminal Proceedings, Condemnation of Property - No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself; nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

AMENDMENT VI.
Mode of Trial in Criminal Proceedings - In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

AMENDMENT VII.
Trial By Jury - In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved; and no fact tried by jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of common law.

AMENDMENT VIII.
Involuntary Servitude - Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted.

AMENDMENT IX.
Certain Rights Not Denied to the People - The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

AMENDMENT X.
State Rights - The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States, respectively, or to the people.

Cost-Effectiveness System - from the Computer - Guiding Shriner in Anti-Poverty Program; Fervently Opposed

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON - Director Sargent Shriver is "McNamaraizing" the $1.5 billion anti-poverty program.

Techniques, procedures, computers and even personnel used by the controversial Defense Secretary to measure costs against the effectiveness of different weapons systems - such as missiles vs. bombers - are being resorted to by Shriver to evaluate the desirability of various anti-poverty projects.

As a consequence of this new backstage policy, projects rated likely to pay off bigger in the future are getting priority consideration and more funds than those offering immediate but smaller returns. For example, Head Start education and health projects for pre-school children are accorded more consideration and money than training unemployed adults. Similarly, Job Corps projects for teenagers in costly residential camps have priority over less expensive non-residential Neighborhood Youth Corps measures.

To direct this cost-effectiveness system, Shriver brought in one of McNamara's top experts - Leon Gilgoff, former assistant budget director of the Air Force.

Gilgoff has set up a new agency in Shriver's far-flung organization. It is known as the Information Center Division, and already has a staff of 90 assembled from both the Pentagon and private industry. Two large computers have been installed and others in the Defense Department are available if needed.

To quickly apply cost-effectiveness to the anti-poverty program, Gilgoff has formulated certain basic "guidelines," which he explains as follows:

"The federal government has spent tens of millions of dollars on public works projects, but a few poor people benefited directly or indirectly. Mainly, it's the middle class, particularly those in the construction trades, who get income from public works projects. It is also the middle class that gets the most use from them, whether a new dam or city building.

"We are now recommending that less emphasis be placed in the federal budget on public works, and more on anti-poverty projects."

Gilgoff also pointed out that as a result of a sample survey of national resources and expenditures, "We found very little money, both federal and private, is being spent on pre-school programs compared to funds for helping school dropouts. Our computers told us that pre-school programs would be cheaper in the long run.

"That led to the birth of Head Start. That's how it all began."

STORMY POLICY - Director Shriver's resort to Secretary McNamara's computerized cost-effectiveness methods in administering the anti-poverty program has aroused furious opposition.

Representative Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., highly vocal chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, which has jurisdiction over this program, is irately accusing Shriver of misusing the $1.5 billion voted him by Congress. Powell is threatening legislation to force Shriver to concentrate on adult training rather than projects for children.

"Adult jobs, not pre-school training, is the most urgent need to fight poverty," thunders Powell. "People need work, and that's the primary reason for this program. That's what it should be concentrating on."

Vigorously supporting Powell's viewpoint are big city mayors, state officials and welfare authorities gravely concerned over possible new Watts-type riots as a result of a combination of unemployment, destitution, racial factors and despair. They contend these problems are urgent and immediate and must be coped with promptly and comprehensively.

"It's all right to talk about cost-effectiveness studies proving that greater benefits can be derived from long-range programs that will do the most good for young people," declared one welfare official. "But the jobless adult cannot be disregarded. That's where the dynamite is, and that's where we must devote our greatest efforts and resources. That's what I thought the anti-poverty program was for."

CASING THE U.S. - As Gilgoff envisions the overall function of his newly-established Information Center Division, it is to "compile a complete social profile of the country."

When completed and recorded on computer tape, this profile will constitute the most comprehensive county-by-county analysis of the U.S. ever made. Its value to government agencies, private business and politicians will be "inestimable," enthuses one administrationite.

"Practically at a moment's notice," he claims, "it will be possible to find out the problems in any particular county or congressional district, what's being done about them and what should be initiated."

"I see the day," he predicts, "when a member of Congress can flick on a television set in his office and in a few minutes, from a central computer in Washington, get all the information - economic, social, political - he needs to know about his state or district, or any state or district."

"No longer will we be guessing about what's happening in the country. Thanks to the computer age, we will have detailed and comprehensive information at our fingertips."

It is Gilgoff's hope to complete the first part of this unique profile by spring. This portion will be a complete compilation of federal activities in every country. Within a year, accord-

Articles for this column are preferred to be 250 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be typed.

Editor: Continuing comment on the editorial, "Ammunition for the Left": The third of the three aims of the Ecumenical Council is a dialogue with all men of good will. By 'dialogue' the Catholic Church does not mean a discussion of doctrinal change, a compromise of truth and principle.

It means an outpouring to, and sharing with, others the "living, intact, and full apostolic teaching" about God, the eternal truths, the principles of natural ethics, human nature, the laws of Christian life and morals, all of which are unchangeable.

In an August, 1965 broadcast the Vatican Radio explained: "There are things that cannot change because they are by their very nature unchangeable. Fashions, tastes, points of view, the social framework of human activity - all may change, but principles cannot."

The "positive agglornamento" to his time-table, all-countries will be similarly "profiled" to include local, state and private activities and programs.

COUNTER - ATTACK - Secretary of State Rusk went out of his way, at the White House conference on international cooperation, to give the Central Intelligence Agency a warmly laudatory pat on the back.

This public commendation is significant because of sniping by certain administrationites at CIA Director William Raborn.

These sources, some in the State Department, have been planting critical stories with newsmen. There has been a flurry of these pot-shots recently. This undercover sniping made itself evident at the White House conference in an anonymous written question to Rusk, following his luncheon address.

He was asked, "What can be done when the CIA seems to be making policy, completely removed from the public and even from government control?"

"In the first place," replied Rusk, "the CIA does not make policy and is not engaged in activities unknown to the policy offices of the government. There is at the present time, in certain countries, an organized effort, through forgeries, through lies, to implicate us in situations in which we are not at all implicated."

"This is a difficult problem, but I would emphasize to you that CIA is not engaged in activities not known to the senior policy officers of the U.S. government. You must also bear in mind, that beneath the level of public discussion, there is a tough struggle going on in the back alleys all over the world. It is a very tough struggle, it's unpleasant and no one likes it.

"But that is not a field which can be left entirely to the other side. So once in a while some disagreeable things happen, and I can tell you that there is a good deal of gallantry and high degree of competence in those who have to help us deal with that part of the struggle for freedom, as in other parts of the struggle for freedom."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "Can any man-made law that injures any person in the world, in the long run, improve the well being of mankind on this earth?"

ANSWER: At first thought, it might seem that some laws injure someone, but if they injure anyone they violate natural law. God's law, or universal truth. Anything that violates natural or eternal law cannot benefit mankind as a whole. As Bastiat said, the gain of one is the gain of all and the loss of one is the loss of all. So any law that injures anyone in the world injures everyone.

The reason is that it retards production by interfering with the division of labor. Tariffs and immigration restrictions are a good example of interfering with the natural division of labor, most of us would perish in a short time.

Most of our trouble comes from manmade laws that injure someone. Manmade laws which injure anyone are a form of political government, and political government which gives one man an advantage over another retards production, destroys and weakens the responsibility of the individual and makes some people lose their self-respect and individual responsibility.

It might be that some people will think that capital punishment injures some person. But it is not the capital punishment that injures him, it is the act which deprived that person of his inalienable right to life. Man is not endowed with life, he is endowed with the right to take moral action to try to preserve his life. If he doesn't take moral action but tries to live by the sweat of other people's brows or by taking another person's life, he is not being injured when he is made to repay what he has stolen or loses his life because he has sacrificed the life of another person by murder.

If anyone can think of any law (manmade law) that injures anyone which is beneficial to mankind, we would be glad to hear from you about it.

does not confuse the essential with what is non-essential, and it encourages dialogue even with atheists because "God be not very far from any one of us." (Acts 17:27).

WHY SPEND MONEY ON A DEAD ENGINE, BUY A RIVERSIDE

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International

On the same day if not in the same breath, an ill-matched pair of politicians complained against LBJ's division of money an effort between war and welfare.

One was Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the controversial Negro congressman from Harlem. The other was Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, a Horatio Alger type who is a model on whom most good mamas would pattern their little boys.

Powell wears no man's collar and makes his own rules. When he feels the need to belt LBJ or to crack down on "Great Society" operation, Powell proceeds to do so. He has plenty of political muscle with which to defend himself, even against Johnson.

With Humphrey it is different. The vice president wears the LBJ brand and the "Great Society" collar. He's on the leash of good behavior pending the time when Johnson picks a successor. Humphrey spoke in Washington last week before the Action Council for Better Cities. The occasion was a two-day symposium on "the urban environment."

The vice president told the group the biggest, toughest battle today was not in Viet Nam but in the cities to improve the lot of the urban underprivileged. The two million unemployed and unemployable city youths must get training and jobs, Humphrey said, else city after city will explode in riots with violence spreading like the plague. Humphrey listed what he regarded as the unmet urban needs and suggested:

"Maybe we should attach a defense-tag to some under-financed civilian programs. In fact, I think we could, because that way we would get something done."

Last week Humphrey seemed to be drawing an unfavorable comparison between federal spending for defense and for "Great Society" programs in the cities. This allocation is made by President Johnson who has been known to resent adverse criticism, regardless of source. The way not to keep friends and not to influence people in the White House is to complain against LBJ's way of running the country.

Humphrey, of course, is under other pressures from the left wing of the Democratic party, such as organized labor and Americans for Democratic Action. The lefties would vastly boost domestic spending, especially in behalf of the cities.

Powell had his say at a news conference. He seemed to scorn the performance of the "Great Society's" antipoverty program but said its spending program should be trebled.

"If we can spend billions of dollars," said Powell, "to save a quasi-democracy in Viet Nam, we must spend more to preserve democracy at home."

Powell has under way a House Education and Labor Committee investigation of the antipoverty program. He is committee chairman.

"I want to know," Powell said, "just where the administration stands on poverty."

Powell and Humphrey together represent a great deal of pressure group political power. Their complaints of niggardly relief spending come at a time when the next fiscal year budget is being put in final form. If the lefties of consequence rallied generally to the Powell-Humphrey summons, LBJ might have some new problems.

NEW SALES AID — GIRLS
A gasoline company in Britain has found a new sales aid — girls. The company is using girls clad in bikinis to man the gas pumps, reports National Petroleum News, McGraw-Hill publication. For nasty weather, the company plans to use transparent coats.

By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — William R. White of Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes feels that the market has proved its underlying strength in the face of the rise in discount rates, the threat of speculative excesses in low-priced issues and fear of poor technical behavior. The analyst thinks that if a correction period is to materialize, it will take a significant disturbance to shake the confidence of traders.

Thomson & McKinnon says that the decreasing tax loss selling, favorable economic prospects and the trend toward inflation will probably favor equities over the short term and most likely the intermediate term.

Goodbody & Co. feels that any chance of a significant setback seems to be fading with the year. The company thinks that institutional buying will pull up quality issues which have been depressed and that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average could very well surpass its record level by the end of the year.

NOW HERE'S A PEN
There is now a pen that will write on anything — without ink, without ballpoint and without replacement parts. The pen, says Product Engineering, McGraw-Hill publication, is an ultrasonic unit, and its primary aim was to provide a no-maintenance recording system for remote weather and space stations. Now, it is believed that a down-to-earth executive model can be produced.
