Lady Luck Saves Soldiers From Terrorist Bombs

SAIGON (UP) — A string of lucky coincidences, including a pre-dawn card game, prevented a heavy loss of American lives today in two terrorist bombings at a U.S. military billet in the Central Highlands. One American was killed and 10 others injured in the explosion.

A five-man Communist suicide squad slipped past two guards at the compound in Dalat, 145 miles northeast of Saigon, and pacified a watchdog with slabs of raw meat. They placed hundreds of pounds of explosives next to two buildings where 30 U.S. servicemen were asleep.

REV. C. R. BRIDGES
HIGHLAND BAPTIST CHURCH

"JESUS, THE LIGHT"

"The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness, on them has light shined." (Isaiah 9:2)

"In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it." (John 1:4 & 5)

"I am the light of the world, he who follows Me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life." (John 8:12)

"I have come as a light into the world, that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness." (John 12:46)

One of the most interesting subjects of science is the study of light. Man is ever discovering new things about light. I was interested in the recent experiments of Frank Borman and James A. Lovell, Jr. as they circled the earth in the space craft, Gemini 7. They had some equipment which shot a beam of light in a direct path to some stations on the earth. This beam of light carried sound to the station toward which the machine would be aimed . . . transmission by light waves instead of sound waves.

However, man has never done anything that will compare with the "Light" that came from Heaven to be "the light of the world."

I. Jesus was an anticipated light.

1. God's chosen people and prophets were looking for an ideal king, not an idol. They gave him such names as "Wonderful," "Counselor," "The Mighty God," "The Everlasting Father," "Prince of Peace," and "Upon the Throne of David."

2. His birthplace would be the little town of Bethlehem. "But you, O Bethlehem, who are little to be among the clans of Judah, from you shall come forth for me one who is to be ruler in Israel." (Micah 5:2)

v. They anticipated it to be the work of God. "The zeal of the Lord of Hosts will perform this." (Isaiah 9:7)

II. Jesus was and still is the most powerful light. "The darkness has not overcome it."

1. He is the light of life. Not only was Jesus the light of Heaven, but He became the light of the earth. His own life demonstrates this truth. His birth, His childhood, His baptism, His temptation experiences, His preaching, His healing the sick, His praying, His trial, His crucifixion, His resurrection, His ascension and His mediation for all who call upon Him today.

2. The transformation of lives of men from Andrew to the latest convert of our day is a continuance testimony to the power of the "light." There is salvation in the "light."

1. When Jesus said, "I have come as light into the world, that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness;" He referred to a saving source of light. It is an unlimited source from God's perspective. However, from that of man, he must make connections through faith "in the true light of life." When he does, responsibilities to reflect and to carry that "light" to a world in darkness is his from that time forward.

2. Victories in life can come to a saved person day by day. "I am the light of the world; he who follows Me will not walk in darkness, but will have light of life."

The world owes its progress to the "light of the world." Everyone experiences to some degree or another the great blessings of the Christian faith. Yet, only those who are willing to come to His light experience the joy of personal salvation. And only they experience the joy of reflecting His light and bring the power of His light to mankind.

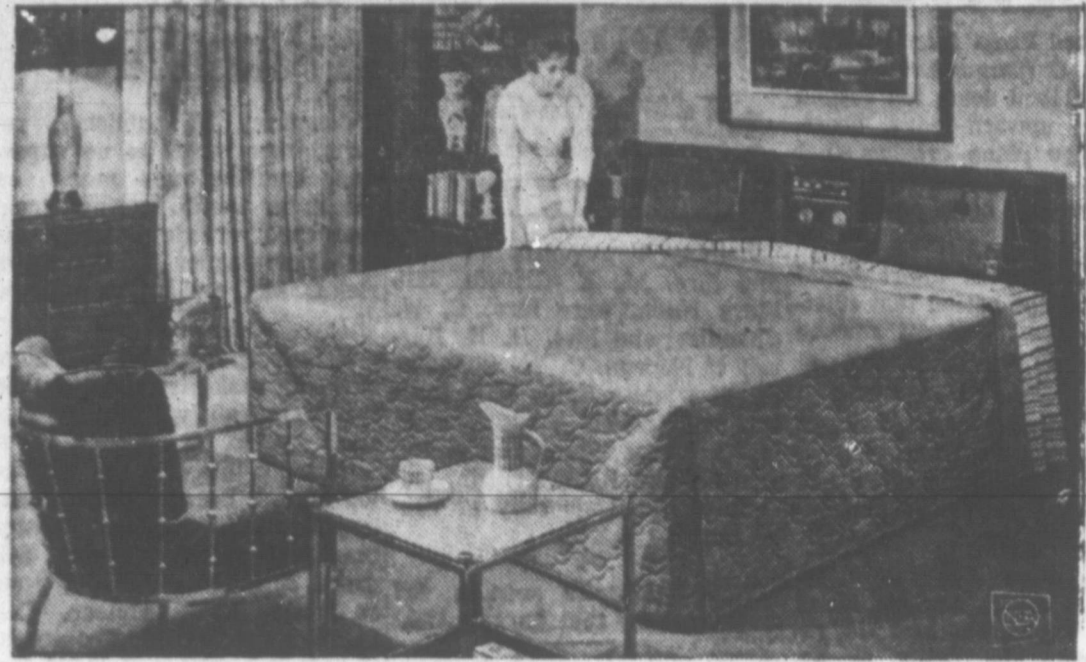

Larger Beds Offer More Comfort

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
One of the stiffest challenges a home furnishings salesman faces is selling new bedding to the conservative homemaker who still has the suite she bought as a bride.

I am guilty along with a lot of my contemporaries of expecting mattresses to last forever. I will admit that it is possible that poor sleep can be traced not to anxiety or tension but to a lumpy, saggy mattress five years too old. Efforts to shore up the sag with plywood boards under the mattress or to soften the lumps with quilted covers don't come to grips with the basic problem.

The standard bedroom suite with bed, night tables and dresser is perfectly adequate for many of us and will probably "last a lifetime." But do we want it? Every time our family moves a few more scratches appear on the dresser. The new bedroom doesn't quite suit the old furniture either in space or arrangement. In the autumn, special promotions, including the sales on mattresses, tempt us to think seriously of change. I don't know whether this will be the year I scrap the old but I have some ideas of what replacements might be.

The big push is to upgrade us to the "king-sized" bed. It is worth noting that although the king-sized bed is 6 feet 6 inches wide, it takes up less floor space than twin beds. In fact, the old concept of twin

CONTAINS COMFORTS — Updating a bedroom means night tables and twin beds are eliminated in favor of the comforts of a living room easy chair, including armrests on the folding back rests. Broad king-sized mattress is of latex foam for easier bed making. Bookcase-cabinet holds books, stores purses, hats and so on. Both bookcase and low triple dresser are banded in chrome. beds with matching night tables just doesn't jibe with the space available in many modern homes.

King-sized mattresses include those made of latex foam which offers the advantage (in anything of this size) of being lightweight and flexible to lift when making a bed.

As romantic and handsome as the reproductions of the tall, four-postered canopied bed are, I have to hand it to the new modern headboards for taking a realistic appraisal of space in average bedrooms and the not-uncommon pleasure of reading in bed.

A sleek headboard will hold all kinds of comfort in space-conserving style. One of the most advanced of these (designed by Drexel for the Viewpoint 70 collection) holds in king-size comfort two backrests with built-in armrest, high-intensity reading lamps, a control panel for electrical gadgets (electric blankets) and space for a clock radio or books. The headboard is upholstered in vinyl.

I would like to think we will never move again, but this is probably wishful dreaming. All our shifting about has underscored the need for adaptable storage pieces. This is the direction of some of the modern collections: Long, low dressers could be hall pieces. Bookcase-cabinets have storage drawers, which would fit them for bedroom duty if needed.

Dar Abby...

Heed Your Head And Seek Professional Aid

DEAR ABBY: Recently I have become a stranger to myself. I wake up every morning hoping I won't have to see anyone. I was always such a friendly person. I can't understand it. People try to call on me and invite me places, but I usually turn them down with some excuse. If I do make myself accept, for my husband's sake, I become very nervous and just wish I could get away from them. Abby, I am 26 years old, have a wonderful husband and two adorable children. I have no reason to run away from people and nothing to be afraid of. Do you think I am heading for a nervous breakdown? I suggested going to a psychiatrist, but my husband is against it. He says it's all in my head. Please give me some advice fast.

NERVOUS AND AFRAID
DEAR NERVOUS: Ask your family doctor to recommend a psychiatrist and to tell your husband why he did so. The psychiatrist may be able to tell you if it's "all in your head."

DEAR ABBY: When our Sunday school class holds its class meetings at a member's house, there are always a few members who bring their knitting or handwork. This irks me no end. At the last meeting, the person in charge of devotions had to wait until one of the class members finished her stitches. Do you think this is right, and what should be done about it in the future?

IRKED
DEAR IRKED: Handwork is out of place at a meeting where serious business is being conducted. The worst offenders are insensitive to "needing," so take a vote and let the majority rule.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I cannot agree on something that I think should be settled soon. Our daughter is nearly 17. She is pretty, a good student, has a steady beau and she listens to reason. My wife says that hand-holding, hugging and kissing, and all signs of affection between young people should NOT be done at home, where others might walk in at any moment. This came up when we had another couple in for a bridge. The four of us were playing in the living room and my daughter and her boy friend were in the kitchen. My wife went into the kitchen to get something and she caught them kissing. She was terribly upset. I say I'd rather have them at home doing this than somewhere else. My wife says they have plenty of opportunity to show affection elsewhere, and if one of our friends had walked in on them instead of her, she would never have been able to face them. She lectured our daughter for an hour the next day and cut her dating down to one night a week instead of two. What do you think?

DAD
DEAR DAD: I think your wife is wrong. Normal and innocent displays of affection between a boy and a girl are natural and harmless. Tell your wife to get off your daughter's back or she might feel that she has to ask her boy friend to rent a motel room in order to give her a goodnight kiss.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIVING IN FEAR" IN SAN MATEO: Of all the reasons for continuing to live with a cruel and abusive husband, worrying about what people will say if you leave him is the worst.

FOR SUNDAY, JAN. 1
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although you will doubtless want to stay in bed and rest, the morning is fine for getting new ideas that can make your life more successful. The afternoon and evening find you in a position to make some excellent plans for the future where your finances are concerned. In any event, a very happy New Year to everyone.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — A fine time for doing more or less what you wish, but don't neglect to look into ordinary affairs later in the day. Social bubbling is better in the morning than tonight. Join them get serious.
Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Early morning planning, relaxing is fine but not on the hour of the moon tonight. Be willing to give a helping hand where it is needed during day. Evening happiness is almost a sure thing.
Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Listening to those who have much valuable advice for you is best during a.m., but it comes to best conclusions in p.m. Get your work done well and quickly later. Some anxiety tonight is advisable.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Forgetful fun during a.m. and concentrating on business at hand is wisest, but tonight you can be on the go. Get that credit improved without fail during day. Friends have fine ideas on the matter.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Go off on a different tack in a.m. in your thinking. New inspiration, ideas, etc. Follow through on it wisely and eagerly.
VIRGO (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22) — Co-operating with associates during a.m. is wise and then you can plan for the future and have all in order as you see.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Although dimethyl sulfoxide (DMSO) has not been approved for use as a drug, it has been widely used to relieve the aches, pains, sinusitis, arthritis, sprains and many other acute inflammatory conditions.

It is not so effective against chronic inflammations. This commercial solvent is being purchased in paint stores and in other places by persons bent on self-treatment—a dangerous short cut at best.

Promising as this compound may be as a drug, the reason it has not yet been approved for this purpose by the Food and Drug Administration is that the proper concentration and dosage have not been determined. Furthermore, we do not know what serious, delayed side effects may result from its use.

We do know that repeated painting of the skin with this compound causes a loss of water and fat from the skin with a resulting dryness and flaking. One death from allergy to this chemical has been reported. There is every reason to hope that safe methods of using DMSO will be determined and that it will be released as a valuable remedy. But meanwhile, self-experimentation must be strongly discouraged.

Q — I have a lot of gas in my stomach. My doctor says I am an air swallower. How does a normal swallow differ from air swallowing and how do I stop the latter?

A — Air swallowing occurs whenever you try to belch. The harder you try the more air you swallow and the greater the desire to make yourself belch. Let your belch come unaided and the amount of air in your stomach will cease to be a problem. Another source of air swallowing is the hiccup, but this is rarely a daily occurrence.

Q — Because of excessive gas in my digestive tract, my doctor put me on a bland diet, but now I am losing weight which I cannot afford to do. How can I get rid of this gas and eat a normal diet?

A — To get rid of the gas, avoid all starchy vegetables (potatoes, rice, corn, beans and peas) and take no laxatives. A bland diet is one with a minimum of roughage. You will gain weight on such a diet if you take in more calories than you expend as energy.

To do all that tedious work in the a.m. so that later you can make your contacts in the outside world and state your aims. Take health treatments. Confer with partners in p.m. if fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Plan your recreations for the day very early so that all will go fine for you, and then be sure to make those resolutions that you can really keep. Get more done than is necessary. Be devoted to friends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Be sure to concentrate on getting your house in good order in a.m. and then off to fun and frolic with your best friends. Creative talents are fine to exercise now. Make plans for the future wisely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — You are thinking most clearly this morning and most important affairs should be settled then. This is particularly true in home conditions. Find the information you need. Celebrate tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Your monetary matters need some straightening out in a.m. then you can be with persons you like for amusement. Don't be extravagant. Be with those with whom you can plan the future more wisely.

School And You

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If there's any term that makes me turn faintly green, it's that old saw "motivation." I realize, however, that it's convenient gobbledeygook for expressing a multitude of educational sins. If a child hates school, refuses to study, or is flunking math, it is easy for parents to say that he isn't properly "motivated."

The implication, of course, is that the teacher isn't doing right by our Johnny. If she only knew how to motivate him, he might turn into the class valedictorian. For a long time, I've had a sneaking suspicion that motivation is in the child, however, not in the method of teaching. It's something the child has rather than something the teacher does.

Now comes Dr. Jack Frymier, professor of education at Ohio State University, a specialist in the field of motivation and a man after my own heart. Dr. Frymier contends that Johnny's degree of motivation, or desire to learn, depends on how he sees himself, how he sees other people, how he views authority, and what his life experiences have been. For better or worse, he can be changed very little except over long periods of time.

Johnny's teacher cannot motivate him on a day-to-day basis by the way she presents material or ha dies the class, as his parents may believe. Perhaps in eight or nine months, though, she can put a few chinks in his armor by helping him to see himself in a better light and act accordingly.

Children who are highly motivated, says Dr. Frymier, feel self-confident and secure. They have a healthy awareness of time, with no undue emphasis on the past, present or future. Unmotivated students, on the other hand, are usually preoccupied with the past or present, or afraid of the future.

In my opinion, it seems obvious that a great deal of his built-in motivation stems directly from the home. Teachers would be defeatists if they did not try to make up for what is lacking in a child's background. But they can't do a great deal without the help and co-operation of the parents.

Parents who teach their children to value learning and send them to school happy are real motivators. Given even an average teacher, such children tend to work to the limit of their capacities. They are the ones who become standouts, not dropouts.

Please send your school problems to Susan Light in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Pampa High School Campus News

By VIRGINIA DEWITT

Christmas is over, and Mommy and Daddy have almost put together all the 5,000 pieces of the miniature missile launching base that Baby Johnny received from thoughtful Aunt Sue and Uncle Harry. Most of the decorations are stored away and wrapping paper and Christmas bows are no longer found in every corner of every room in the house.

But, the festive mood of a holiday is still floating in the air, and in a few hours people across the nation will join in welcoming the new year. 1966 holds a lot in store for everyone and the agenda at Pampa High School is full.

Perhaps the most influential event in an entire high school year is the annual Career Clinic to be held Feb. 16. Students are given the opportunity to attend two sessions conducted by experts in a variety of fields.

At the beginning of school, students filled out information blanks, checking the two sessions they wished to attend. The blanks were tabulated by the counselor, Mrs. Ruby Capps, and her assistant, Mrs. Pete Erwin. The information was given to Mrs. Marion Jameson, who is co-ordinator of the Career Clinic. Mrs. Jameson made arrangements for experts to conduct the roundtables.

Lewis R. Timberlake will be keynote speaker at the Career Clinic. Timberlake is senior vice-president and director of agencies with the Western Republic Life Insurance Company in Austin.

Future Nurses Club will begin the new year by taking a field trip to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Jan. 21.

"We will tour the hospital's different departments and floors to observe the professional medical people at work," said Lynn Symonds, president.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Young Mothers Told How to Secure Napkin By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I have a practical use for old sheets. They make ideal basement or garage curtains and can even be made into pretty ones for the kitchen. I tint mine to go with any color scheme. Sunshine yellow ones made my gloomy basement a cheerful place to work. I also think my sheets last longer if I hang them on the line by the selvage so as to save the hems from wearing. —MRS. W. J.

DEAR POLLY — I am the mother of a little papoose who was a big surprise that came along just as soon as my youngest was settled in school and I thought the time had come to do all those things I had never seemed to be able to do. I am having the time of my life and I think I am getting to be a better mother. I want to share some of the ideas I have come up with that make caring for baby more fun and easier, too.

I keep his diapers in a picnic basket that is the same size as a diaper folded to fit. When I wash-diapers I take the basket to the line, fold the diapers as they come off the line and put them right into this basket which is kept under his bed. Not only is drawer space saved but motion and time are saved by not having to open and close a drawer every time a change is indicated.

When baby has sensitive skin and sleeps on his tummy, I put baby powder on the bed where his knees are to help prevent sheet burn when he begins kicking and moving around to let me know he is awake.

When baby is too young to sit in a stroller you can put the infant seat in the stroller with the back in a semireclining position and no padding is needed to keep him from shifting around. When baby is restless and you are busy it is easy to wheel him around to each room as you work. He is usually happy just to see you and have you talk to him. A folded diaper should be put between him and the plastic pad in the seat to provide air circulation.

Also when sewing, place the buttons on transparent tape and sew through both tape and buttons. This assures sewing them on in a perfect straight line. —MRS. E. S.

FOCUS ON EVENTFUL 1965

ESCALATION IN U.S. MANPOWER—and casualties—marked the fierce jungle war in South Viet Nam. Ground forces grappled with an elusive Red army specializing in hit-and-run tactics, terrorism and ambushes. U. S. air strikes wrecked enemy bridges, rail lines, vital supply depots. At home, draft quotas were greatly increased as Defense Secretary McNamara foresaw the prospect of a long, bitter war. Top photo is by Tom Tiede, special NEA correspondent in Viet Nam.

CASCADE OF POWER FAILURES threw 30 million people in an 80,000-square-mile area of the Northeast into darkness and confusion. Public services, transportation systems halted; standby generators came into play to power iron lungs, police radios and to perform no-delay operations.

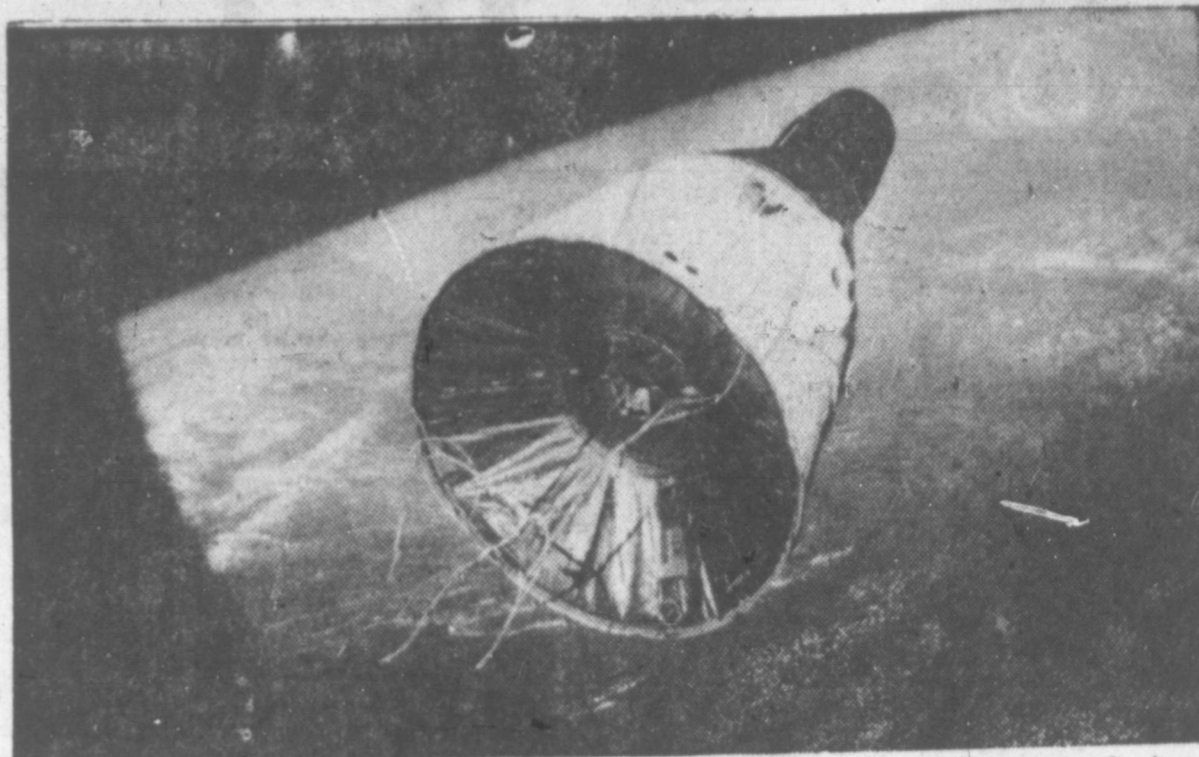

GREAT AND SMALL paid homage to the towering contributions Sir Winston Churchill, 90, made to the world. He was accorded a state funeral rivaling a king's.

"WE SHALL OVERCOME" spurred the 54-mile Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights march by a horde of Alabama Negroes and whites led by Dr. Martin Luther King.

POPE PAUL VI made a historic, one-day peace pilgrimage to the United States. He addressed the United Nations, conferred with President Johnson, celebrated an unprecedented, outdoor Papal Mass for Peace in jam-packed Yankee Stadium and visited the Vatican exhibit at the World's Fair.

RENDEZVOUS IN THE SUBURBS OF INFINITY—Gemini-6 and Gemini-7 wrote bold new chapters into the book of U. S. space accomplishments when they maneuvered within 10 feet of each other in an unprecedented space meeting. With earth as a background, Gemini-6 pilots trained their cameras on Gemini-7 (above), whose crew splashed down safely in the Atlantic after a two-weeks journey on which they gave America most of the major manned space flight records. No less amazing was astronaut Edward White's 20-minute "stroll" in space outside his capsule on a Gemini-4 flight (below).

TORNADOES—37 of them and the worst since 1925—swirled across Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, killing 250 persons. The village of Pittsfield, Ohio, (above) was wiped out. Midwest floods added destruction and desolation.

MEDICARE, War on Poverty, voting rights—milestones for the "Great Society" envisioned by President Johnson, only slightly slowed up by removal of his gall bladder.

AN UPRISING AGAINST the Dominican Republic's rulers led to intervention by American troops (above), to evacuate Americans endangered by fighting in Santo Domingo. When Reds infiltrated the rebels' effort, President Johnson poured in 20,000 Yanks "to prevent another Communist state in this hemisphere." They preserved peace of sorts as a solution was sought to the leadership dilemma.

1965 SPORTS CHAMPS

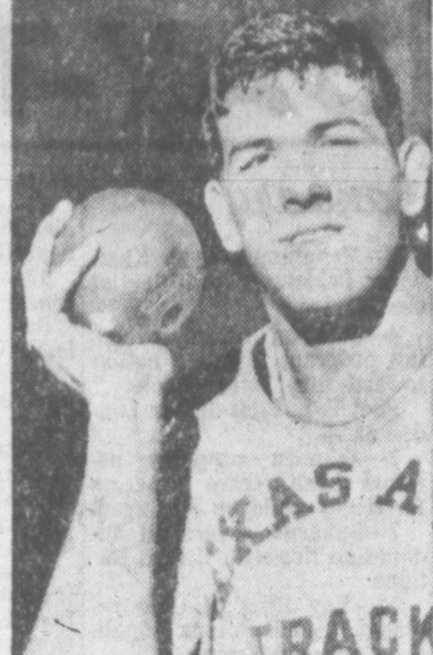

SANDY KOUFAX Dodger left-hander, became the first man in major league history to pitch four no-hitters. His two victories after a defeat carried Los Angeles to a 4-3 triumph over the dazzled Minnesota Twins in a seesaw 1965 World Series.

GRAND OLD MAN of baseball, Casey Stengel, handed in his N.Y. Mets' uniform. The 75-year-old champ retired to California after a fall in which he broke his hip.

SAND SCORCHER Craig Breedlove toolled his jet-powered "Spirit of America" over Bonneville's salt flats at an amazing 600.06 miles an hour to become the fastest human on land. The near-the-speed-of-sound record came only a few days after Art Arfons of Akron had cracked Breedlove's earlier mark with a run of 576.66 m.p.h. in his "Green Monster" racer.

SHOT PUT record toppler was Randy Matson, 20, of Texas A&M, a 240-pounder who was the first man to heave the weight beyond 70 feet.

CASSIUS (All Something-or-other) Clay still reigns as heavyweight champ after disposing of perennial contenders Liston and Patterson.

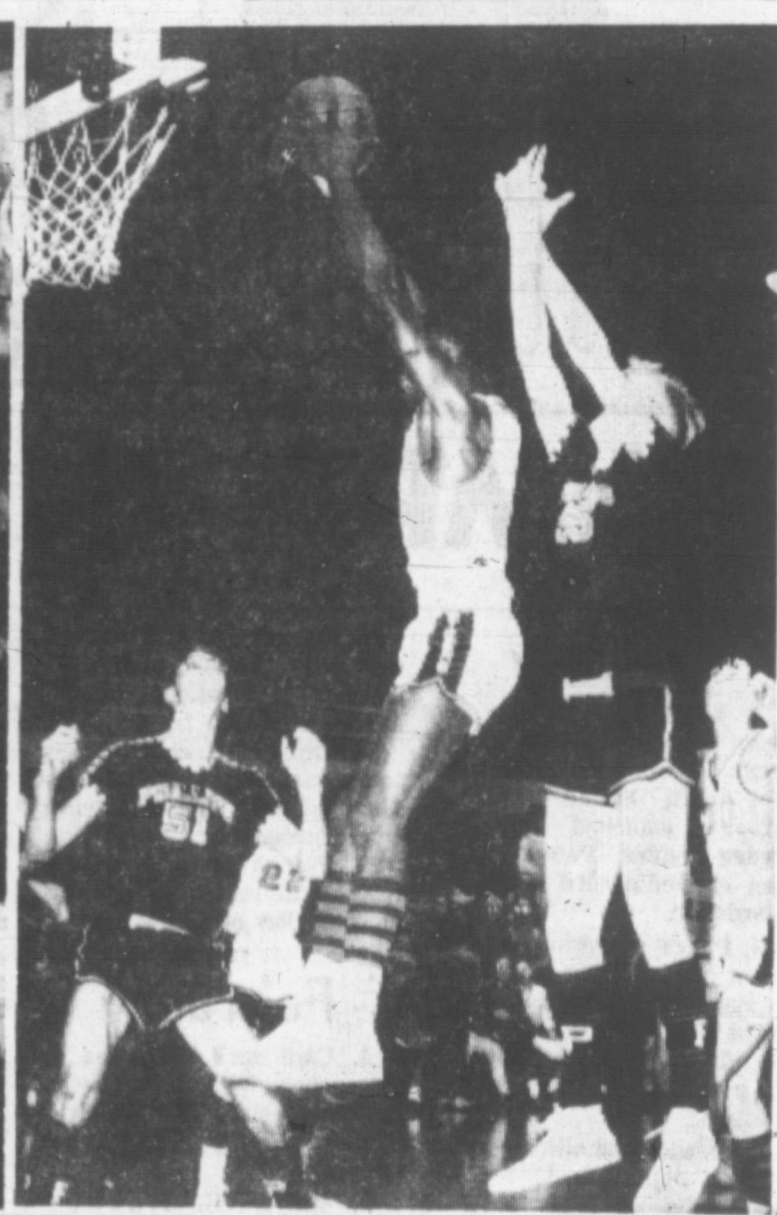

THE REDHEAD SHOTS — Pampa's Steve Williams (25) pushes in a layup in the Harvester's 54-32 decision of Dumas Thursday night in the 10th annual Top O' Texas basketball tournament. The Demons Tim Galloway (12) tried in vain to block the shot.

OFF THE BOARDS — Phillips center Jim Carroll (55), a 6'5 junior, goes high to pull down a rebound in his team's 42-39 conquest of Big Spring Thursday night in the annual Top O' Texas basketball tournament. Around Carroll are the Steers Robert Jones (22), Simon Terrazas (40) and Robert Jackson (44). No. 51 is Phillips Charles Hampton.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT — Big Spring forward Simon Terrazas (40) fell to the floor to grab a loose ball Thursday night in his team's 42-39 loss to Phillips. Terrazas was second in team scoring with eight points. Phillips players are 6'7 1/2 Mike Kimmins and Charles Hampton (51).

ABOUT TO SHOOT — Big Spring forward Robert Jackson (with ball) is about to turn loose of the ball and score two points for the Steers in their 42-39 loss to Phillips.

Blackhawks Dump Big Spring, 42-39

By A Staff Writer

Phillips had to stage a fourth quarter rally and barely pulled it off to earn the right to meet Pampa in the finals of the 10th annual Top O' Texas basketball tournament tonight.

The Blackhawks went through a freezing third period that saw them blow a five point lead and trail by five, 33-28 when the quarter closed.

But towering Mike Kimmins, who led both clubs in scoring with 18 points, pumped in four straight goals to bring the Blackhawks a 42-39 victory over Big Spring.

The Steers couldn't find the range in the final period, scoring only six points after Phillips three point third period Waterloo.

In the third quarter the Blackhawks gunned 0-14 from the floor and finished with 15 of 49 for the night for 30 per cent. Big Spring hit 16 of 47 for 34 per cent.

Phillips led 11-10 after the first period on the shooting of Johnson and Charles Hampton and increased it to 25-22, at halftime after leading by five two times in the second period.

But the northern blew in for Phillips in the third quarter in what looked like a game of tag with the Steers winning the scoring battle, 11-3.

But the Blackhawks' upped their record to 12-3 when Kimmins hit three straight jumpers from 20 feet after Mike Griffin gave the Steers their biggest lead of the night at 35-28 shortly after the final period began.

Kimmins tied the score at 38-33 with 2:15 left then Griffin, who paced the Steers with 11 points, hit a charity toss to make it 39-38.

Put Kimmins came right back with another jumper and with 1:15 left to play the Blackhawks had the lead for good at 40-39 when Dean Smith put the game on layup with 45 seconds to go.

Big Spring, 9-7 meets Dumas in tonight's opener at 7 p.m. with the championship contest to follow at 9 p.m.
