Viet Cong Terrorists Take Heavy US Toll

Freed Soldiers Charged With Helping Cong

By DAVID S. BRUNICK
United Press International
NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — Two U.S. Army sergeants freed by the Communist Viet Cong last month and who later were critical of American involvement in Viet Nam have been charged with aiding the enemy, the U.S. military command disclosed today.

The two are Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W.Va., and Spec. 5 Claude McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn. They were freed Nov. 28 at the Cambodian border after two years in captivity.

A terse statement issued by military authorities on Okinawa said charges would be brought against the men for "preparing, furnishing and delivering to the Viet Cong certain documents, statements and writings inimical to the interest of the United States."

The statement indicated Smith and McClure were being held for alleged dealings with their Communist captors and not for statements attributed to them in a Nov. 30 news conference in Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

"Nothing to Gain"
They told the news conference "The United States has nothing to gain from the war in Viet Nam" and said they would join peace movements when they returned to America.

The Army refused to elaborate on the statement or say whether Smith and McClure are in confinement on Okinawa. It is known only that they were brought to Naha from Korat, Thailand, after leaving Cambodia, which does not maintain diplomatic relations with the United States.

The Australian embassy in Phnom Penh handled their return to U.S. Army officials.

The U.S. Army headquarters for the Ryukyu Islands said a two-week investigation was conducted into the conduct of the two sergeants which "warrants the preferring of charges in violation of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, Article 104" (aiding the enemy).

Possible Court-Martial
Charges were preferred Dec. 21 and further investigation is being conducted to determine whether they should be dismissed or Smith and McClure be brought to a court-martial, a spokesman said.

Smith and McClure were captured Nov. 4, 1963, when the Viet Cong overran the Hiep Hoa U.S. Special Forces Camp 27 miles northeast of Saigon.

They were the second and third Americans known to have come out of a Viet Cong prisoner of war camp. The first was Sgt. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex., who is now stationed in West Germany.

Both Smith and McClure have been provided with legal counsel, the Army said. The Viet Cong said at the time of their release they were being freed in honor of anti-Viet Nam demonstrations in the United States and they crossed the border the same day pacifists staged their "March on Washington."

Birds of A Feather Flew Together

About the only thing that wasn't included when someone invaded his yard Christmas night was the traditional "Partridge in a Pear Tree," according to what W. O. "Dub" Adkins reported to Gray County Sheriff's officers.

Adkins said that sometime during the night someone had taken from his yard:
Three Ringneck Pheasants.
Two Black Pheasant Hens.
One Black Pheasant Rooster.

A Pair of Golden Pheasant.
One Silver Pheasant Hen.
A Pair of Turkeys.
Three Young Turkeys.
One Franklin Rooster.
Two Gray Geese.
One Valley Quail.

Assorted King Pigeons and Fantails.
Adkins placed a value of about $125 on the birds.

HHH Sets Out On Major LBJ Diplomatic Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey embarks today on his first major, extended diplomatic mission abroad for President Johnson, with scheduled stops in four major Far East nations.

Humphrey leaves from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., for Manila, arriving Dec. 29 to attend the inauguration ceremonies of President-elect Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines.

His plane was scheduled to leave at 2 p.m. EST. After the Manila stop, Humphrey was to pay Johnson's respects to the chiefs of state in Formosa, Korea and Japan. The vice president was expected to return to Washington for the start of Congress Jan. 10.

In announcing Humphrey's trip, the White House last week emphasized that the vice president would not visit South Viet Nam and that such a stop-over had never been contemplated, discussed or intended.

However, as part of his mission, Humphrey was expected to re-emphasize American (See HHH, Page 3)

Truck Loaded With Soldiers Hits Mine

SAIGON (UPI) — A Viet Cong terrorist posing as a recruit exploded a bomb today in a barracks filled with Vietnamese Army trainees—causing heavy loss of life. A second bomb designed to kill rescue crews failed to go off.

A 2½-ton truck carrying troops of the U.S. Army's 1st Infantry Division later today struck a mine in Bing Duong Province about 30 miles north of Saigon. Details were sketchy but a U.S. military spokesman said "heavy" casualties were feared.

The barracks blast occurred at the headquarters of the government's 9th Infantry Division in Sadeo, about 70 miles southwest of Saigon in the Communist-dominated Mekong Delta.

Military security prevented the release of specific casualty figures among the undisclosed number of recruits caught in the explosion as they slept. There were no reports of casualties among U.S. Army advisers in a nearby compound at Sadeo.

A Christmas pause in the air war against Communist North Viet Nam continued today. There has been no reported activity over the North since Christmas Eve, when U.S. and South Vietnamese forces began observing the 30-hour Yuletide ceasefire.

U.S. spokesmen declined comment on the lull or when or whether attacks against the Hanoi regime would be renewed.

Both bombs planted in the Sadeo barracks were of the Claymore mine variety. The first exploded about 50 pounds of high explosive and the second was set to send thousands of lethal steel pellets ripping into survivors and rescuers assisting the wounded.

A Vietnamese government spokesman said the terrorist managed to flee before the bomb went off.

In the Central Highlands, a military tribunal at Pleiku today ordered four leaders of the bloody rebellion by Montagnard tribesmen executed by a firing squad in a public square.

The four were among 20 of the tribal mountaineers who went on trial for their role in the recent uprising against government troops which later spread to four provinces in central South Viet Nam. The others received long prison terms.

The Montagnards are trained and paid by U.S. Special Forces outfits and have often proved themselves in combat at outposts in the Highlands.

It's official now — Following midnight services on Christmas at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in Stonewall, Texas, Presidential daughter Luci Johnson poses with her fiance Pat Nugent and Rev. W. W. Schneider. The First Family had announced the engagement of the young couple with a late summer wedding in prospect.

Luci Will Wed in White House

IT'S OFFICIAL NOW — Following midnight services on Christmas at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in Stonewall, Texas, Presidential daughter Luci Johnson poses with her fiance Pat Nugent and Rev. W. W. Schneider. The First Family had announced the engagement of the young couple with a late summer wedding in prospect.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Luci Baines Johnson, the President's daughter, may be the star attraction in the fifteenth White House wedding, a spokesman indicated Monday.

"She will be married while she lives in the White House," said the first lady's press secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, "and I'm sure it will be a good wedding."

Newly engaged Luci, 18, and her fiance, Patrick J. Nugent, 22, headed back to the LBJ Ranch after spending part of the Christmas weekend with his parents in Waukegan, Ill.

An Air Force basic trainee, Nugent had to be back at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., today.

Nugent is a Roman Catholic and Luci is a convert to that faith. They would have to get special dispensation from Archbishop Patrick O'Boyle of the Washington Diocese to have their ceremony in the late summer take place in the White House instead of a church.

Romance was bursting out all (See LUCI, Page 3)

FIRE VICTIM — A Pampa news photographer happened to be on the scene in Amarillo Saturday night when fire destroyed a home there and took the lives of two children, one two years and one 4-months, and left another in serious condition. Shown is an Amarillo fireman applying a resuscitator and ambulance attendants preparing to make their run. The mother of the children, Vernice Henderson, 18, had left to go downtown when the fire broke out.

National Death Rate Sets Record

By United Press International
The traffic death toll for the three-day Christmas weekend edged today toward an all-time holiday high. With late reports still coming in, two long-standing records were shattered.

By late Sunday night, the traffic death count had pushed past the record 609 deaths for a three-day Christmas holiday. The total accidental deaths numbered more than the previous three-day record high of 782. Both records had been set during Christmas 1955.

As police continued to report holiday traffic deaths early today the toll reached the grim four-day record of 706 set during the "Black Christmas" weekend of 1956.

A United Press International count showed at least 706 persons had been killed between 6 p.m. local time Thursday and midnight Sunday.

The breakdown:
Traffic 706
Fires 54
Planes 5
Miscellaneous 51
Total 816

Texas led the nation with 51 traffic deaths reported during the holiday period, closely followed by California with 50. Ohio counted 45 traffic deaths, Louisiana 31, Illinois 30, Missouri 29 and Michigan 28.

Only Alaska, Hawaii, Montana and South Dakota had a clean record of no highway fatalities.

Twelve persons died when a San Francisco-bound Greyhound bus skidded off an icy interstate highway near Rogue River, Ore., early Christmas Eve. A two-car auto collision near Sublette, Kan., claimed seven lives Sunday and five persons were killed in a two-car mishap near Buffalo, Minn., Sunday.

The worst fire of the holiday took the lives of eight persons early Friday when a blaze swept an apartment house in Newark, N.J.

Pope Paul Makes Viet Peace Effort New Major Task

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI has made it his "major task" to bring peace to Viet Nam before the situation explodes into a world war, Vatican sources said today.

"The holy father is very disappointed that the Christmas cease fire was not extended," the sources said. "But he will continue to do everything possible in the cause of peace. It has become his major task and major worry."

The pontiff's preoccupation with the situation in Viet Nam marked his public speeches and private hours over the Christmas holiday.

There is no indication what his next step will be, although he is expected to make some public remarks on the situation within coming days. A number of people within the Vatican were surprised that he did not take the opportunity of his benediction Sunday to deplore the resumption of combat.

Although Pope Paul has closely followed the Viet Nam situation over a period of months—and has mentioned it many times during public speeches—he made a specific plea Dec. 9 for Christmas cease fire.

He called on the United States to accept Hanoi's offer of a cessation of shooting over Christmas. He said the war daily grows "graver and more bloody" and threatened to touch off "vaster war." He also expressed hope that a brief cease fire might lead to the conference table and negotiation towards peace.

The pontiff's plea, at least in the Vatican, is credited with helping President Johnson decide to agree to the cease fire.

A major portion of Pope Paul's annual Christmas message, given on Dec. 23, also was devoted to the cause of peace. He mentioned no specific peoples nor nations, but his remarks obviously were aimed at Viet Nam, the Communists and the Americans.

Hope's Viet Nam Troop Horrified As Plane Explodes

Aboard the USS Ticonderoga off Viet Nam (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope and his cast of hucious lovelies watched in horror today as a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk missed the recovery cable on the carrier deck, plunged into the darkened South China Sea and exploded in a ball of flame.

They saw the pilot eject from the plane and his parachute open. But for 30 suspense-filled minutes they were afraid that another American had been lost as the carrier and its two escort destroyers, the USS Turner Joy and the USS Swanson, scoured the black waters.

"It was frightening, it was frightening," said actress Joey Heatherton. She had screamed when the plane exploded with a blinding sheet of flame.

"I could see him coming, and then he pulled back and hit his engine and then there was this big sheet of flame. I knew something was going to happen. We were all stunned. This really brings the war home to you," she said.

A few minutes later, the cast cheered as the pilot, Lt (JG) William (Bill) Brocker of Newark, Ohio, was pulled from the water.

Miss Heatherton ran into his arms and planted a big kiss on his cheek.

Brocker grinned. "It was almost worth it," he said.

Hope and his cast had boarded the carrier late Sunday after performing for U.S. servicemen at Cam Ranh Bay.

Commies Accuse US of Violating Christmas Truce

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist North Viet Nam today accused the United States of only pretending to go through with a 30-hour Christmas ceasefire and charged "the aggressors never kept their promise."

The North Vietnamese also charged the U. S. and South Vietnamese commands with calling the truce as a "counter measure" to the Viet Cong proposal earlier for a 12-hour cessation of hostilities.

The official North Viet Nam news agency said in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo that "to whitewash their vile acts, the U. S. ordered their henchmen in Saigon to spread the news that several Viet Cong initiated actions took place at isolated posts and villages during the cease fire period."

It said the Viet Cong had ordered a 12-hour cease fire on Christmas Eve "to enable the Catholics in the ranks of the U. S. and mercenary troops to celebrate Christmas in safety."

Dear Abby...

No Brass Bands For Men of War, Please

DEAR ABBY: Though I've been an avid reader of your column for years, I never thought I'd be writing to you, but I couldn't resist answering your call for opinions of those in Viet Nam about what kind of homecoming they'd prefer. Right now I am in a San Francisco hospital recovering from injuries I suffered in Viet Nam. I don't feel like any kind of hero and I don't want to be treated as one when I go home. Like most of the guys in Viet Nam I had a job to do and I did my best. I was unlucky enough to be a Viet Cong target, but that does not make me a hero. The real heroes of this conflict are the medics, the evacuation pilots and the Red Cross. Anyone who wants to wave a banner, should wave it for them.

MIKE BURNS NO HERO
DEL MAR, CALIF.

DEAR ABBY: Yo, asked for opinions on the advisability of "Mom" decorating the house and most of the neighborhood in honor of her "boy" returning from combat duty.

As a combat veteran of World War II, may I say that there is no more nauseating reference to military personnel than the word "boy." As much as Moms resent it, there are no "boys" in the fighting service. They are all men, and should be referred to as such.

These men did not, nor are they fighting for "Mom's apple pie." They are fighting a dirty rotten war in a number of dirty rotten places for the same reason we fought and will fight again if called upon — to survive under a system of government in which we believe as against a system of government in which we do not believe. It's that simple!

So tell Mom not to embarrass her son with decorations and tinsel more appropriate to a little boy's birthday party. Their "boys" are gone, and those who are fortunate enough to return are men.

laid who has seen jungle combat will not appreciate a brass band on his return home.

As an afterthought, wouldn't it be nice if we could arrange to have our dirty-necked, bearded, draft-card-burning "little boys" serve their service time as latrine police? I'd rejoin the Marine Corps to help put those clowns through 12 weeks of boot camp.

F. E. M., CHICAGO

DEAR ABBY: Apropos your recent letters about soldiers coming home from Viet Nam: I was reminded of my own homecoming from the A.E.F. in France in 1919. My buddy and I were discharged at Camp Grant, Rockford, Illinois, and we arrived at the Chicago railroad station at about 3 p.m. We decided to get a couple of bottles of beer and some hamburgers to see if they still tasted the same. Then we went back to the R.R. station where I was to catch a train home. My buddy lived only 20 blocks from the Chicago depot. After a while, although I hated to say goodbye, I asked him what he was waiting for, and he said, "I know my folks are going to make a fuss over me when I get home, so I am waiting for it to get dark." And I'm sure he did. I never saw him again. God bless him. Yours truly,

W. J. SHEA,
BELLEVILLE, ILL.

DEAR ABBY: Just a line about "Homecoming Veterans." As a World War II veteran, I know that any welcome that comes from the heart is never out of place. On my "Big Day" I found a "Welcome home, Daddy" sign on the stairs leading to our apartment. It was placed there by my wife, six-year-old son and three-year-old daughter. That was New Year's Day, 1946.

Nearly twenty years later we are looking forward to our son's arrival home after a six-year absence. He, too, has been fighting a jungle war as a Lt. in the Congolese Army. As a volunteer against Communism he said in one letter that he was proud to be using his U.S. Army (101st Air Borne) training for such a worthwhile endeavor.

Now he's coming home, but there will be no bands, no signs and no demonstrations. You see, Abby, he was killed in action on April 8, 1965. We are waiting quietly until we can say, "Well done, son, welcome home." Thank you for listening.

Mother's Spitefulness

Seen Through Daughter

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: At an anniversary shower I recently attended there was an 8-year-old girl of a neighbor who walked up to me and asked me where I got all my "bulges" (I have put on some weight lately.) She then asked another guest to take out her dentures so she could see her "store-bought" teeth. Then she asked another woman why she was an old maid and had missed the boat. She paid no attention when her mother said, "That's enough now, Christie." I guess she's learned this freshness from the fresh kids on television.

ANSWER: No. You've seen ventriloquists work with their dummies, haven't you? They speak so sweetly, so respectfully, the ventriloquist's do. But their dummies say things like "I bet she bought her teeth at a mail order house." They're just as mean and fresh as the ventriloquists are nice and polite. But we aren't fooled into believing that the dummies are really saying these nasty things.

We know that the ventriloquist's skill is in making their blockheads appear to be saying what they themselves are saying. We know that the ventriloquist has actually written the dummy's lines and that he is responsible for the entire act of the piece. "That's enough now, Charley," adult and the fresh dummy child.

It is the mother of this poor little 8-year-old blockhead who insulted you and those other women. Somewhere there's a terrifying story about a nice ventriloquist who had so often used his dummy to express his own malvolence that the dummy became alive, revolted, and by making the ventriloquist say all the spiteful things he'd so wanted to say himself, killed him.

If I were you, I'd have as little as possible to do with this malicious mother-ventriloquist. I don't know where your head is to hold her child responsible for this "nice mother" and "fresh kid" act they put on together.

Do you know so little about enough about our grown-up but that an 8-year-old girl cares enough about our grown-up bulges, our dentures or marital status to note them or use them to publicly embarrass us?

Children just don't care enough about us to note such circumstances. But their parents can.

Quail Hunting Best in Years

Quail hunting in the Pampa area is the best in years, hunters are reporting.

Two longtime bird hunters, Ray Brewer, 1021 Huff, and Terry Buske of 1049 Prairie said that there's no difficulty in getting the bird limit this year. Last year's mild winter and spring allowed a bumper crop of quail for this season's hunters, the two said.

Cool and damp conditions during the season have helped in ferreting out the birds, they added. Bird dogs can work to perfection under these conditions.

Not in five or six years have they seen as many birds in the Panhandle fields, they said.

"In fact, the birds are so plentiful that it gets tiresome for the dog."

Time of day doesn't seem to make a difference — the birds are there in quantity morning and afternoon.

From all reports it's the kind of a quail year when even the poorest of marksmen can be assured of a freezer full of plump little birds.

50-50 Chance For Survival Given To Siamese Twins

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Siamese twin girls, born Christmas Day and separated by emergency surgery, today were given a 50-50 chance of survival by doctors.

A delicate surgical operation, performed one hour after birth, separated the twins, Sheila Norine and Lisa Marie Mantonya, who were joined at the bladders.

The girls' mother, Mrs. Robyn Mantonya, who celebrated her 20th birthday Sunday, was reported in good condition at a hospital 20 miles away. The girls were rushed to another hospital after birth for the surgery, conducted by a team of 17 surgeons, doctors, nurses and technicians.

The surgery left one of the girls with an incomplete intestinal tract and the doctors had to perform additional remedial surgery.

Vandals Damage Local Laundry

An estimated $18 damage was done at the Twenty Four Hour Laundry, 708 Frederic, by a bottle thrown through a window, according to police reports.

Mrs. B. F. Hess, 708 Frederic, told police that she discovered the damage early Sunday morning. She said that it had happened sometime after she had left the laundry at 10:30 the previous night.

It appeared that one bottle had been thrown through the glass and another thrown through the hole in the window. Glass was found in a number of washers.

policy in Viet Nam and U.S. objectives in the war and to reiterate U.S. willingness to seek an honorable peace in the conflict.

During a weekend radio interview, Humphrey said the United States was seeking peace despite Communist attempts to discredit the effort.

"Hanoi and Peking are suffering from an euphoria, that they feel they are going to win, no matter what," Humphrey said. "And they keep feeding this propaganda to their people and when we press for peace talks, it has a way of undermining their ... designs and desire of conquest."

over the Johnson ranch. Lynda Bird Johnson, 21, the President's older daughter, planned to fly to Evanston, Wyo., today to spend some of her holiday — through Thursday — with her boy friend, Brent Eastman, 25, a medical student she met last summer at Jackson Hole, Wyo. Eastman is a senior and president of the student body at the University of California's medical school at San Francisco.

There have been 14 weddings in the White House, the last in 1942, when President Roosevelt's aide Harry Hopkins married Louise Gill Macy.

Wichita Falls Searching For Former Resident

Paul Herman Robinson, 22, son of Pampa residents, reportedly escaped Sunday from custody of the Wichita County sheriff, Wichita Falls.

Robinson, who was being held on revoked probation, escaped through a restroom window at a Wichita Falls hospital where he had been taken for treatment of a cut finger.

At 11:30 a.m. Monday, the sheriff was still searching for Robinson, who was believed to still be in the Wichita Falls area.

The Gray County sheriff was notified to be on the lookout for Robinson should he attempt to visit his Pampa home.

Robinson was reportedly wearing handcuffs at the time he escaped.

Bitter Storms Has Midwest Shivering

By United Press International
A bitter rain and snow storm accompanied by winds of more than 70 miles per hour lashed the Pacific Northwest today. The nation's midsection shivered in the coldest weather of the season.

Gale warnings were posted along the northern Pacific coast and the Weather Bureau warned of winds of 55 to 72 mph. Up to a half-inch of rain fell in parts of the area.

Farther inland, heavy snow hit the northern Rockies, Burns, Ore., reported four inches of new snow and at least an inch of snow fell across eastern Washington.

Temperatures plunged to 22 below zero in Montana and subzero cold spread over sections of seven midwestern states. Cold weather continued in the East and Southeast, fell to freezing along the central Gulf Coast and dropped into the 30s in northern Florida.

The cold weather extended from central Texas to the Canadian border and across the Midwest.

Child Significantly Hurt in Wreck

Jamie Winborne, 8, was slightly injured Sunday morning when cars driven by his mother, Mrs. Shirley E. Winborne, 434 Hill, and Linda Gail Lumpkin, 2536 Mary Ellen, collided at Duncan and Pennsylvania.

An estimated $300 damage was caused to the Lumpkin car and $200 to the Winborne car. Jamie was bruised on the forehead. He returned home with his mother.

Health Warning Now on Cigarettes

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — The first packs of cigarettes bearing the new health warning appeared on the stands in this tobacco heartland today.

A check showed Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co., of Durham, had begun releasing packs of its L&M brand with the warning.

The warning states: "Caution: cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

License Tags Stolen

License tags were stolen from a pickup belonging to Joe L. Timms, 845 Wilks, while the truck was parked at the intersection of Texas highways 70 and 273 Sunday evening, Timms reported to city police.

wheel, turned a corner on its way to his boyhood home. When the Secret Servicemen heard the band and saw a young man holding a 30-30 hunting rifle beside his pickup truck, across the street from the Johnson homestead, they swarmed around the youth. He identified himself as Nicky Ammons, 18, of San Antonio, Tex., and said immediately that he had not fired his weapon.

They asked Ammons, who was going deer hunting, to keep his rifle unloaded and in the truck while Johnson was in the vicinity. This turned out to be about 20 minutes, and Johnson did not seem aware during that time of the episode.

mas Day mountain disaster in which a swinging aerial cable car burst open and spilled 23 vacationers onto rocks and snow beneath, killing six and injuring 12.

Authorities planned a full reconstruction of the accident — one of the worst in recent French mountaineering history. Swirling fog and clouds still blanketing 5,694-foot Puy de Sancy in the Monte Dore range of central France hampered detailed investigations. Officials said it might hold up the reconstruction.

All the victims were French — most of them teen-age members of an Orleans ski club.

Three of the injured at the Hotel Dieu Hospital here were reported today still in serious condition.

The 60-passenger cable car was about 120 feet from the top of the cone-shaped peak when the electric current went off, bringing the car to a violent halt.

Passengers and their stacked skis were flung against the front of the car, which burst open with an explosion that could be heard miles around and 23 persons were spilled on to the snow-covered mountain-side below.

Engineers said the car was built to carry 60 persons and was tested twice annually. They said the car itself weighed about 1,600 pounds and had been tested with loads of more than five tons. It was not carrying a full load of passengers at the time of the disaster.

By RAYMOND MEANS
United Press International
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Everybody said the Buffalo Bills' 1964 victory over the San Diego Chargers for the American Football League title was a "fluke," but they don't have much to say about this year's game.

The Bills just overpowered their rivals this time and left no doubt in anybody's mind.

Plunker Lance Alworth was missing last year, and fullback Keith Lincoln went out in the first quarter of the 20-7 Buffalo win. Well, Alworth was around Sunday and Lincoln, though slightly hobbled, played too, but San Diego scored even less.

Lou Saban's Bills shut them out, 23-0, as they captured their second straight AFL title. The San Diego loss was the fourth for Sid Gillman in five AFL title games.

Sunday the Bills didn't claw; they struck quickly for two touchdowns in the second quarter and then relied on defense and Pete Gogolak's three field goals in the second half for the championship. It was worth $5,189.92 for each Buffalo player, while the Chargers picked up $3,447.85 each.

Buffalo jammed up the Chargers running plays so effectively that all-time AFL rushing champ Paul Lowe netted just two yards rushing in the second half. In the first half he broke away for 61 yards, but most came on a 47-yard first quarter run.

The winning Bills outgained San Diego, 260-229, and held the brilliant Alworth to four catches.

Everyone Covered
"I would have thrown to Lance if I could have," Charger quarterback John Hadl said, "but they were double teaming him most of the day. I tried to get to the other receivers, but it just didn't work."

"We couldn't get going and they played like champs," Alworth said. "One guy was always knocking me off the line."

Buffalo's Saban praised his team's line play. "We whipped them in the trenches as we knew it had to be."

San Diego threatened to score first, but Herb Traveno's 35-yard field goal attempt was partially blocked early in the second period. After that the Chargers penetrated once to the Buffalo 25, but no further.

Finally Buffalo cracked the scoring column midway through the period as Kemp sent the Bills 60 yards in six plays. He used Ray Carlton for a couple of good gains in draws and then fired a 22-yard pass to tight end Paul Costa, who caught the ball falling out of bounds, which put the ball on the Charger 22.

Team Coordination
Three plays later Kemp fired an 18-yard pass right down the middle to Ernie Warlick for the touchdown. Costa and Warlick both were utilized as tight ends for better blocking.

Carlton picked up 63 yards to lead Buffalo rushers.

Minutes later Butch Byrd took a Hadl punt on his own 28 and getting two good blocks raced 74 yards down the sideline to score and make it 14-0. It was the longest punt return in AFL playoff history and the first one brought back for a score against San Diego this season.

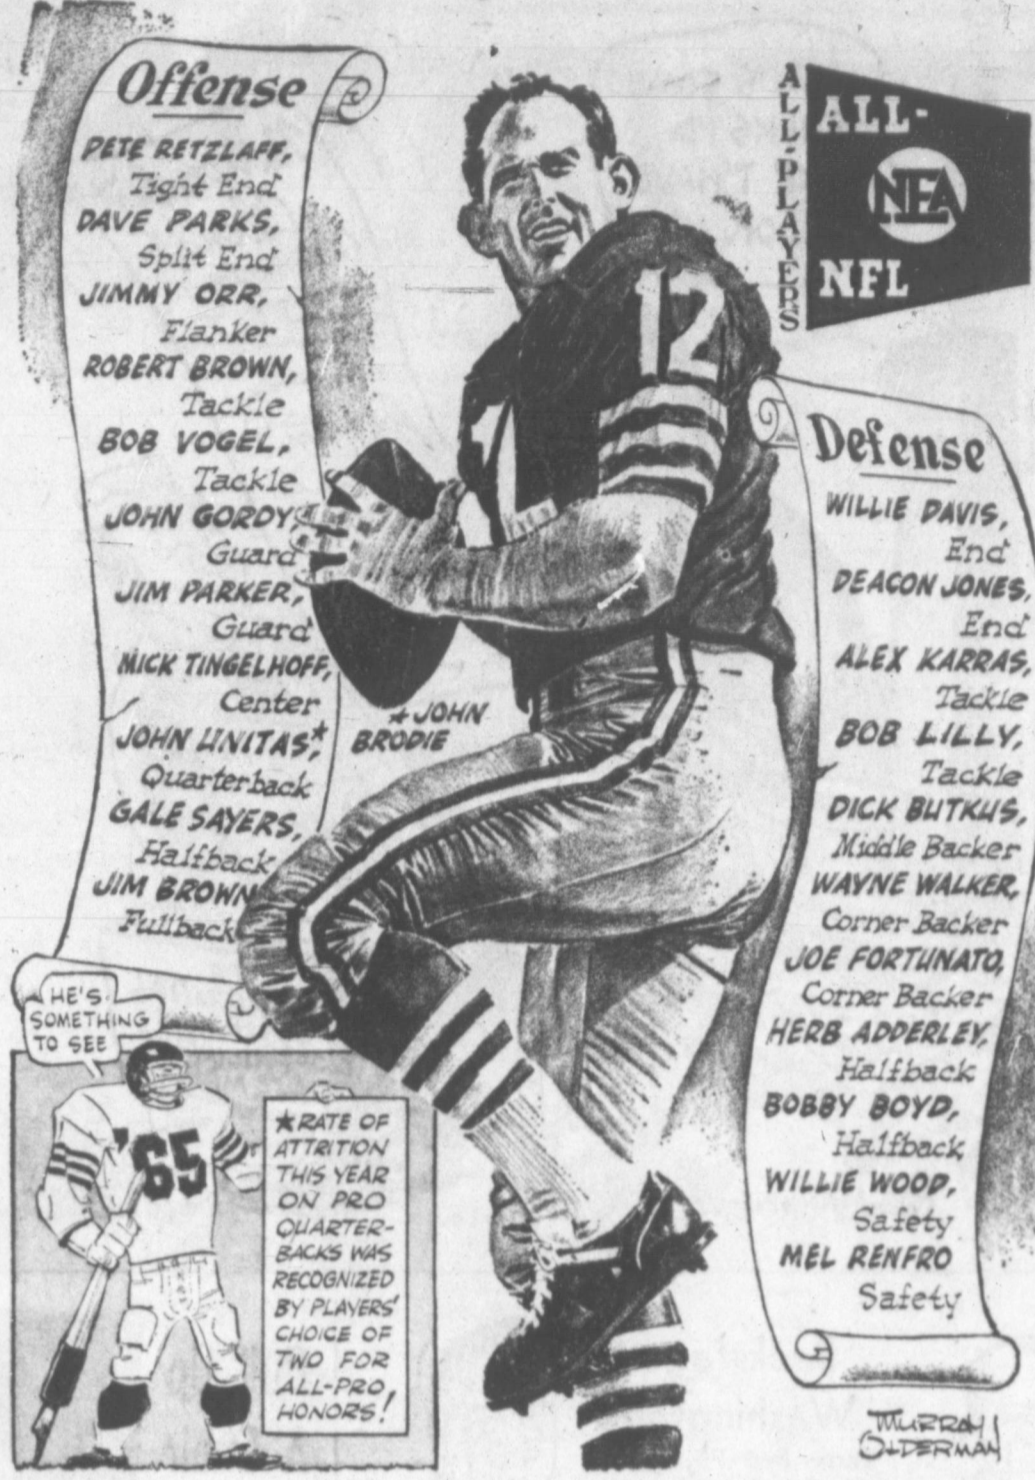

In the second half Gogolak kicked field goals of 11, 39 and 32 yards as Buffalo continued to dominate play.

In passing Kemp hit 8 of 19 for 155 yards, while Hadl threw for 11 completions in 23 attempts. He lost 45 trying to pass.

SONNY MOVING
DENVER (UPI) — Sonny Liston, the former world heavyweight champion, Friday put his home up for sale. He reportedly plans to move to Las Vegas.

The Longhorns cut down the host Tigers 80-7, then bowed in the finals 73-71 to Northwestern.

CONFERENCE ROUND-UP

Texas A&M, Arkansas Have The Only Respectable SWC Records

By United Press International
Texas A&M and Arkansas, teams which figured to scrap for the middle spots in the standings behind favored Texas Tech and Southern Methodist, carry the only respectable records into the final warmup week prior to Southwest Conference basketball play.

Both teams were idle last week, but will be in action in holiday tournaments during the coming week, as will Texas, Rice and Texas Christian. SMU, Baylor and Texas Tech skip tournament play, but will engage in at least one more warmup contest.

The Aggies have won five of their six starts and Arkansas four out of five (actually five out of six but the Hogs' victory over the Phillips Oilers is billed as an exhibition). Texas (4-3) is the only other team above the 50-50 mark after breaking even in its two games in the Memphis State Tournament last week.

Connecticut makes a two-game swing into the state, playing at Baylor Tuesday and at SMU Thursday nights; Texas Tech visits New Mexico State Tuesday night in its only outing and Baylor travels to San Antonio against Trinity Thursday night.

whipped an SMU team playing without ace Carroll Hooser 87-81; Kentucky overhauled a Texas Tech team which played without star Dub Malaise for 29 minutes 89-73, and TCU gained revenge for an earlier 138-14 defeat by Oklahoma City by upsetting the Chiefs 103-93.

The Aggies compete in the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City and will face Virginia Tech in their opening game Tuesday night.

Arkansas plays in the Sun Carnival Classic at El Paso and bumps into powerful Iowa in the first round Wednesday night.

TCU plays Idaho in the opening game Tuesday night of the New Mexico Invitational at Albuquerque and Texas faces host Seattle in the first round of the Seattle Tournament Wednesday.

Rice, which has yet to win in seven starts, competes in the Jonesboro, Ark., Classic Wednesday and Thursday.

The week saw TCU's Gary Turner climb to within a tenth of a point of the idle Hooser in the individual scoring race. His 26 points against OCU boosted his average to 23 points per game to Hooser's 23.1.

A&M's John Beasley at 27.2 and Rice's Doug McKendrick at 26.9 held to the 1-2 spots.

Pampa Puts 3-1 Record on Line Against Plainview

Pampa, 3-1 in conference play, plays host to Plainview Tuesday in a league encounter that will see the Harvesters shooting for their fourth straight win.

Previously this year, the Harvesters won six straight before being dropped by Lubbock in the league opener.

Since then Pampa has taken the measure of Palo Duro, Borger and Caprock and stand 10-2 for the season.

Plainview is 5-1 for the year and 1-3 in 3-4A conference action. Tuesday Tascosa downed the Bulldogs, 58-43.

Plainview in conference play is averaging 49.3 points per game and has a 61.0 defensive mark. For the season the Bulldogs are averaging 62.8 points per contest and have given up 61 points even.

Pampa has a 66.1 season average on offense and 46.0 defensive mark. In league action the Harvesters are 52.2 and 42.3 respectively.

Michigan Set For Week Of Hard Training

Editors: This is the 10th of 12 dispatches sizing up college football bowl teams.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Michigan State's national championship football team, after a week of fun and play, now gets down to the serious business of preparing to meet UCLA in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

"Unless we can go out and defeat UCLA it will add quite a blemish to what would be one of the great teams in history," Daugherty said.

"The one thing that is uppermost in their minds (the players) is that they have a chance to play our finest game of the year in the Rose Bowl," he said.

"There have been times when the defense was outstanding and times when the offense has been real good, but we haven't put together our best ball game yet," Daugherty said.

Michigan State, in bulldozing its way to the national championship and Big Ten title with 10 straight victories, including a 15-3 opening season triumph over UCLA, plans to practice once a day this week.

"We will be the only team ever not to hold practices twice a day. We'll only practice once a day. We figure that what we can't do in 1 1/2 or 2 hours we can't ever do," Daugherty said.

This week's practice session also will be the final test for star fullback Bob Apic's bruised left knee.

Offensive Mainstay
The sophomore from Hawaii pulled up lame Nov. 13 against Indiana. He was one of the mainstays on the Spartan offense, scoring nine touchdowns during the season, including the lone touchdown against UCLA in the opening game.

Daugherty has advised his team to be wary of UCLA. The Uclans posted a record of seven wins, two losses and a tie.

"UCLA is an entirely different team than the one we played in the first game of the year, but on the other hand, so are we. Gary Beban is the finest quarterback we have faced all year. This UCLA team has a balanced attack," Daugherty declared.

Packers Trip Colts 13-10 In Sudden Death Playoff

By ED SAINSBURY
UPI Sports Writer
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Place kicking specialist Don Chandler, once frustrated in a pro football overtime, wiped out every unpleasant memory and scored personal revenge with one spectacular boot Sunday.

It was a 25-yard field goal, after 13 minutes and 29 seconds of tension-packed overtime football, and it gave the Green Bay Packers a 13-10 triumph over the Baltimore Colts for the National Football League's Western Division championship. Equally important, the decision advanced the Packers into the league title game next Sunday against the Eastern Division Cleveland Browns on the same field where the Packers came from behind and wiped out a 10-point Colts' lead to revive 50,484 chilled and shaken hometown fans.

Chandler was the deciding factor in this too, since he kicked a 22-yard field goal with only one minute and 58 seconds to play to tie the score and sent the game into its sudden death overtime.

It resulted in the longest game ever in pro football, only the second overtime in league history. Chandler was involved in the other too—in 1958 when the same Colts defeated Chandler's New York Giants 17-14 for the NFL crown after 8 minutes 15 seconds of overtime in Yankee Stadium.

"I prefer not to think about that game," Chandler said. "Chandler's kicks were almost the only bright spot of the day for the Packers' inept, stumbling and fumbling before the crippled Colts in the 32 degree temperature."

Playing without quarterback Bart Starr, Green Bay had its chances to wrap up the win long before the regulation 60 minutes had passed and couldn't cash in.

The determined Colts, with a desperation choice at quarterback, Tom Matte, let no opportunities go by. On the first play from scrimmage, Starr passed to Bill Anderson, who fumbled.

Don Shinnick picked up the loose ball and scampered 25 yards for a touchdown. Lou Michaels converted, and in the second period he kicked a 15-yard field goal to give the Colts a 10-0 lead, after their only genuine march of the day.

Matte was the key cog in this march. A college quarterback, he hadn't played the position for five years until last week when injuries to Johnny Unitas and Gary Cuozzo forced the Colts to put him on the spot with the responsibility.

Running Threat
He had the same assignment against the Packers, and his running bugged the Green Bay defense. He ran 17 times for 57 yards and twice he ran delayed plays himself inside the Colts' 10-yard line, succeeding each time to get out of trouble.

The Packers took their share of the injuries too. Starr suffered bruised ribs on the first scrimmage play and was in the game thereafter only to hold the ball on Chandler's placekicks.

This put the load on substitute signal caller Zeke Bratkowski, and the Packers could have no regrets. Bratkowski completed 22 of 39 passes for 243 yards, and he was most dangerous on key third down plays. On the march toward Chandler's game-winning field goal, he twice hit for 18 yards, to Bill Anderson and Carroll Dale, and a 33-yard toss to Dale earlier carried to the Colts' one to set up Paul Hornung's plunge for Green Bay's only touchdown.

Green Bay and Baltimore tied for the Western Division lead at 10-3-1 at the end of the regular season, and the Packers triumph for the title came in the ninth playoff in league history, and the fifth in the Western Division.

It was Green Bay's third win this year over Baltimore, and it may have been costly. Starr was a doubtful participant for next Sunday's title clash and, so was Hornung, reporting bruised ribs, a sore wrist and a twisted knee.

Top Ten Teams Can Regain Lost Prestige

By JEFF MEYERS
UPI Sports Writer
After losing eight of 14 encounters last week, the top 10 college basketball teams have a chance to regain their tarnished prestige this week as holiday tournaments swing into high gear.

Three of the top five quintets were whipped last week with only No. 1 ranked Duke and third-ranked Vanderbilt escaping unscathed. The Blue Devils won an overtime contest against fifth-ranked Michigan, which also was beaten by Butler.

To round out the top 10, in order, Providence lost to Houston; Wichita fell to Southern Illinois; Marquette, Brigham Young whipped Wyoming. Kentucky belted Texas Tech and Iowa was idle.

The Quaker City classic in Philadelphia gives St. Joe's and Minnesota an opportunity to repair their images while Brigham Young, another entrant, can boost its prestige with a tourney crown. The Hawks face Niagara in a first round contest.

Another Chance
The Far West Classic in Portland may enable Michigan to bounce out of its current two-game losing streak. The Wolverines oppose Arizona State in a first round encounter and are favored to capture the crown after getting by the dangerous Sun Devils.

UCLA, picked No. 1 in the UPI pre-season poll but currently suffering a 4-3 season, hosts the Los Angeles Classic. The Bruins find themselves in tough company with a pair of unbeaten, Vandy and Syracuse, which play each other Tuesday. The Bruins tangle with Louisiana State in an opening-round game.

Providence clashes with NYU in the first round of the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York. The tournament boasts four of the nation's top 10 scorers among the eight teams entered.

The Blue Devils aren't in a holiday tourney this season but nevertheless will play two games this week. Duke, conqueror of UCLA (twice) and Michigan, faces Notre Dame Friday and Wake Forest Saturday.

Wichita has a chance to rebound from a pair of defeats, when the Shockers take on Xavier in the opening round of the All-College tourney in Oklahoma City, while Kentucky clashes with the Fighting Irish in a non-tournament game Wednesday. In the Sun Bowl classic at El Paso, Tex., Iowa meets Arkansas in an opening day game.

Also included in the 30 big tournaments played this week are the Hurricane Classic at Miami, the Motor City Classic at Detroit, the Big Eight at Kansas City, the WCAC at San Francisco and the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Inflation, the Sneak Thief

Inflation may be—as it often is described—the biggest sneak thief of all time. But if we can stand the pain of looking, we can observe the thief in action, subtle as he may be. It is easier to look the other way; to ignore the unpleasant facts; to presume that since "George" started it, he will, before leading us all over the precipice into the abyss of both moral and financial bankruptcy, somehow manage to stem the flood.

The evidence of inflation is all about us. We may think of it as residing in Washington and Sacramento, as indeed it does, and these places may be the fountainheads. But we contribute here just as surely. The costs of government increases and not merely because the costs of providing existing services are up, although these, of course, account for most of it. Somewhere, sometime the mad rush to spend, to deny ourselves nothing that borrowed money can buy, will come face to face with economic reality. As private individuals we cannot forever borrow at a rate twice that of increasing income—as we did last year. In a single year—last year—government and private debt combined increased $187 billion, or 76 per cent.

Other affluent societies in times have perished when they have ignored the natural laws of economics, and we are no more protected than they. But we have been deluded into thinking that we are.

A Philanthropist Speaks His Mind

The opinions of a rich man are not necessarily better than those of other men, but anyone who has given $8 million dollars to the advancement of medical science in the past five years has certainly bought the privilege of having his views listened to.

On the occasion of his latest donation — $1 million to Mount Sinai Postgraduate School of Medicine in New York — William Black, chairman of the board of a restaurant chain, blasted the government and certain others. "It makes me sick," he said, "to see millions being given for such nonsense as ballet by the Ford Foundation, the federal government and wealthy social climbers, when this money is so desperately needed to alleviate human suffering."

We appear to be on the threshold of many dramatic breakthroughs he said. It is his firm belief that if we poured enough money into medical research in the next few years, we could conquer most of our dreaded diseases.

In argument, something about man not living by bread alone could be murmured. Moreover, it is not altogether certain that the conquest of cancer, heart disease and all the other ills that beset mankind is pending only for lack of funds.

But Mr. Black puts his money where his heart is — a heck of a lot of money. To that there can be no effective reply other than sincere thanks in the name of an untold number of human beings who now and in the future will owe their lives and health to his philanthropy.

JA Teaches Economics

The JA (Junior Achievement) Newsletter for December, 1965, carried the following paragraph: "Large profits are awful and there should be limits placed upon the size of profits a company should make." This statement, made by her political science professor, disturbed graduate Achiever Louise Crawford. The freshman accounting major said, "Naive me just didn't believe such extreme socialists lived around us. I knew he was wrong. . . ."

The business experience young people are getting in organizing, owning and operating their own businesses apparently is paying off. This program is worth the effort if it can awaken the young people to the economic facts of life.

Formula for Raising Children

The world can learn a lesson from Braulio Fierros. The following was a dispatch from Phoenix, Ariz., the other day: From Braulio Fierros, a retired sign painter who has provided for his 19 children without benefit of charity or welfare aid, came this advice today: "Give kids love, make them feel wanted and don't let your wife work." Fierros, 65, was one of 12 children and went to work to help support them after his father's death forced him to leave school after the third grade.

None of his children ever was in trouble with the law, Fierros said. His grandchildren number 56, and he has six great-grandchildren.

That Old Thing?

ASCAP, the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, has compiled a list of song hits between the years 1892 and 1964. Some combination of the word "moon" appears in 43 of these titles.

It is interesting to note that the last great moon song was published in 1961, the year Yuri Gagarin became the first human to travel in space and President Kennedy proclaimed a landing on the moon to be a national goal.

For song writers and lovers, apparently, "twas only distance that lent enchantment to the moon. Now it's just a rocky, barren orb and a future spaceship depot.

Negro-White Links Pose New Issues

By BRUCE BLOSSAT Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The projected springtime White House Conference on Civil Rights is seen by some observers on the racial front as providing a chance for sorely needed improvement in dangerously edgy white - Negro relationships.

The McCone report on the Watts riots in Los Angeles underlines the explosive peril churning near the surface among alienated lower class urban Negroes.

Further evidence comes continuously from the harsh utterances of frustrated militant Negro leaders, who have stepped up their hammer blows on the white community as if trying to find a voice suitable to the people of Watts.

For all their effort, they seem largely unacceptable to the Negroes of Watts and similar big city ghettos.

Comedian Dick Gregor, no quiet moderate, is contemptuously dismissed by ghetto residents as among those Negroes "you whites try to choose for us as the leaders you think we ought to have."

Notwithstanding an expected spring avalanche of proposals affecting Negro prospects in jobs, housing, schooling, physical security and courtroom justice, the springtime White House parley may find the frayed links between whites and Negroes an imperative piece of business.

One Civil Rights observer suggests that, as a major move toward a new accommodation, conference authorities should invite top spokesmen for such "white establishment" organizations as the National Association of Manufacturers, the American Bar Association, the American Legion, a variety of other civic and professional groups.

Says this observer: "These groups ought to be drawn into this, to be encouraged to see that the Negro problem is just as much theirs as it is a matter for the government or civil rights organizations."

The underlying notion is that the whole of white America is actually involved but that the necessary important initiatives can come only from the "power elements" which thus far have too often stood aloof from the struggle.

This same observer contends further that a collision between these elements and the stubborn realities of the Negro problem may persuade them that the social and economic costs of not solving it could ultimately prove a disastrous burden for the whole country.

A bluntly presented tally of the mounting tax load ascribable to Negro distress in America particularly in the flourishing cities, might stun "power structure businessmen" who think of the problem as being somebody else's. They have a vital stake in real solutions.

At the same time, it is being argued here that Negroes for their part also need to exhibit a new spirit.

The substance of the most strident Negro responses today seems to be that white America has victimized the Negro for at least a century and that, therefore, virtually the entire burden of correcting this condition must fall upon the white community.

White sympathizers with Negro aspirations, even as they realize they are increasingly suspect in today's strained situation, nevertheless insist that Negroes also must change in attitude and conduct if any kind of workable harmony is ever to be achieved in America.

The argument of one psychological specialist here is that the long history of warped white-Negro relationships has inevitably damaged both sides and that both in consequence must engage heavily in the repair process. White action alone, it is contended, will not give the Negro the place in society he seeks.

Sympathizers understand that this approach demands of Negroes a mature acceptance of criticism, a hard self-appraisal, and a new compassion for white Americans that cannot come easily to revolutionary spirits stirring after long decades of distress.

A thought for the day: in the New Testament according to St. Matthew: "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

Three Red Factions at Castro's Tricontinental Conference To Blast at U.S. — and Each Other — In January

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — There will be much furious haranguing and fulminating against U.S. "imperialism" at the Tricontinental Conference in Havana in January. Fidel Castro is staging in Havana January 3-10, but the really significant casting will be that which takes place, out of sight among feuding Communist delegations.

Red delegations from more than 100 Latin American, African and Asian countries are slated to be on hand; some "official," others as "observers." A number of these rival groups are fiercely at odds among themselves. For example:

Leaders of three ultra-left Dominican factions quietly slipped out of the country ostensibly to go to Europe. Actually, they went to Prague to enplane for Cuba. One group is pro-Soviet, another aligned with Red China, the third avowing allegiance to Castro.

For months these rival elements have been violently railing against each other. In a recent blast the Peiping faction assailed the Moscow adherents as "modern revisionists . . . against genuine anti-imperialist and popular movements."

Only U.S. group known to be planning to attend is the pro-Castro Puerto Rican Independence Movement (MPIPR), which is sending several delegates.

Fidel's brother Defense Minister Raul Castro and his wife Vilma have been working since September organizing the conference. Significantly, they spent weeks in Moscow during which Vilma made a broadcast that sounded the propaganda keynote of the Havana meeting.

"If little Cuba, located only 90 miles from North American imperialism," she declaimed, "is able to carry out its revolution, then all peoples everywhere can do so."

WHERE AND WHO STARTED IT — Fidel Castro is claiming he originated the idea of the Tricontinental Conference to strikingly demonstrate the success and worldwide impact of his revolution.

There are strong reasons to believe the Kremlin actually initiated the affair and used Castro as a front. Purpose of the Soviet was two-fold: To stage a far-flung anti-Viet Nam propaganda attack against the U.S. in its own front yard; to display Moscow's dominance over Peiping among Communist parties, particularly in Latin America.

Red China is participating in this assembly to bolster its supporters in the Western Hemisphere, and to get in what licks it can in the strident ideological feuding with Russia.

al days of secret deliberations it was announced an invitation of Fidel Castro had been accepted to convene a Tricontinental Conference in Havana in January.

This initial affair took place with the blessing of President Gamal Nasser, with whom the State Department is concluding another $150 million "sale" — for his currency — of surplus grain and other foods. Under the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, the UAR dictator has obtained more than $500 million of these commodities.

Two Cuban Communists, Joaquin Mas and Giraldo Mazola, played prominent roles at the Cairo session. A resolution they sponsored was adopted as the formal call for the Havana conference, as follows:

"We must fight against imperialism, colonialism, neo-colonialism and for complete national liberation. We must fight for the right of peoples for self-determination, for consolidation of independence and national sovereignty of three continents. We must fight against exterior aggression and to intensify the struggle of the peoples of the three continents against imperialism and neo-colonialism headed by Yankee imperialism."

Havana, Moscow, Peiping, Jakarta, Cairo and other Communist and pro-Communist capitals will broadcast the Havana proceedings denouncing the U.S. on numerous scores, especially Viet Nam.

BUDDING DIPLOMAT — Jack Valenti, close assistant to President Johnson, has been offered the ambassadorship to Italy.

The one-time Texas public relations man, whose recent effusive laudation of the President ("I sleep better at night because I know he is in the White House") has been widely derided, is being urged to take the Rome post by Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, chief Administration adviser on the Soviet bloc.

A poker-playing crony of Valenti, Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow, is stressing the "advantages and prestige" of such a high diplomatic assignment.

When Johnson was vice president, he recommended Valenti for the Italian appointment. At that time Valenti was prepared to accept it. But for some unexplained reason he was passed over by President Kennedy.

Why he is being pressed to take it now is raising conjectures among politicians.

One story is that certain administration insiders want to get him out of the White House. While still close to the President, Valenti is no longer as influential as he used to be in the inner councils.

An architect told us recently that in the year 2000 all "new" homes will be demountable and will be assembled by interlocking room units, each room having its own thermo-electric heating, cooling and lighting systems in the walls. Homes in that era, which is less than 40 years hence, can easily be moved from one location to another, just as we move furniture today. He also predicted there will be no need for power lawnmowers since the homes will be landscaped by lawns of grasses that "stop growing at a predetermined height." And we think some of today's modernistic architecture is "far out!"

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

CONCERNING COLUMNS I spent two months in South America during 1956. I concluded that fine as were the Spanish descendants heading up governments, none would probably endure.

In 1957 I spent 5 months in the Middle East and some time in Europe where I had previously visited in 1954. I decided Uruguay and Switzerland were only tolerated by aggressor nations because they were militarily unimportant and a convenience as intermediaries.

I conceived the idea of preparing a sample constitution and plan for administration to placate or satisfy local elite and permit people to govern themselves instead of willingly accepting a dictator. I felt incorporating the constitution in a book might stimulate freedom-planning groups abroad to encourage emerging nations to self-government.

Along these lines I wrote my first book, ALPACA, deciding to lighten such a heavy subject as constitutions with romance. ALPACA apparently had merit for it was read, understood and attacked by U. S. Leftists. Except for writers of pink persuasion, book reviewers spent little time attempting to understand ALPACA's intricacies.

I wrote "Why Not Speak" in 1964, as a listener, not an orator; and later "Fabians Fight Freedom" which included my Peace League Plan of 1944.

November 30, 1964, I started writing a 5-times-a-week 250-word column for dailies and a 380-word column for weeklies, most of which were presented under the caption, HUNT FOR TRUTH. My earliest daily columns have been incorporated in a 256-page book entitled HUNT FOR TRUTH, now available through LIFE LINE, Washington, D. C. It may become a test of the merit of my columns and decide my future as a budding columnist.

The Nation's Press

FULBRIGHT SCHOLARSHIP (Cedar Rapids Gazette)

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, en route to a conference in New Zealand, canceled a news conference just before leaving Australia. And we don't wonder. Australians quite understandably are in uproar as a result of the senator's encounter with Australian reporters when he revealed ignorance of the fact that some 2,000 Australians are in Viet Nam doing some of the same things Americans are doing there.

That was an informational gap that could be forgiven in an ordinary American tourist; for the role of Australians in the Viet Nam war has not had much emphasis in this country. But it is hard to excuse ignorance in this area on the part of the chairman of the United States Senate foreign relations committee. The least that could have been expected was that he would be briefed on the subject before taking off on a trip that was to include a visit to Australia.

Probably there is no way the senator can restore himself to favor in the eyes of offended Australians, and he probably was wise not to try. What may be more important, he also has some prestige to restore in the eyes of his countrymen at home. Fulbright has been highly critical of the administration's policy in Viet Nam, and free with advice on how things should be handled differently. If this criticism and advice are based on no better knowledge of what he is talking about than he disclosed in Australia he'd do well to skip further press conferences anywhere until he has time to do a little homework.

Breshnev Is Soviet Boss In Reshuffle

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Kremlin reshuffle puts Leonid Brezhnev more firmly in the saddle and weakens his rivals. It also weakens the position of some Soviet leaders who have favored better over guns.

The following points are made by piecing together the private views of some top Kremlinologists:

1. Brezhnev has kicked his chief rival upstairs. (Nikolai V. Podgorny was "promoted" to the presidency of the Soviet Union, a post that is largely ceremonial and out of the mainstream of politics and party work. Podgorny lost his supervisory power over the party apparatus.)

2. Brezhnev stripped another key rival of his independent powers over the party workers and brought him closely under Brezhnev's own close supervision. (Alexander N. Shelepin, 47, who has been coming up fast, was removed as deputy premier and as head of the Powerful Committee for Party and State Control. His work in the party secretariat will keep him where Brezhnev can oversee and control his every move.)

3. Brezhnev now has his own man in as operating or executive head of the party apparatus — I. V. Kapitonov.

4. Brezhnev also now has his own man — V. V. Shcherbitsky — reinstated as party chief in the Ukraine and as a candidate member of the ruling Presidium. This Ukraine post has been a powerful stepping-stone. It was the route to power taken by Khrushchev, Brezhnev and Podgorny.

5. Brezhnev patently has personally shunted Premier Alexei N. Kosygin aside in the Kremlin power ladder.

Brezhnev announced the promotions and demotions. Kosygin was silent. By this predominance, Brezhnev indicated he has checked (at least temporarily) the growing power of the technicians who have made their way up the government ladder by administrative ability.

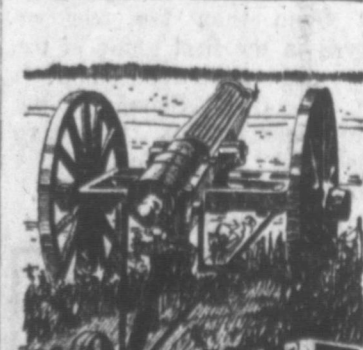

The government technical-administrators have been making a silent bid for more influence, as have government and industrial technicians and managers all down the line. (Individual factory and company managers have been especially insistent on wider authority.)

BREZHNEV APPARENTLY has now sharply reasserted the dominance of the party.

It is not yet clear what these power shifts will mean to the United States. The men rising in power are doctrinaire party men. They are weak in their knowledge of foreign affairs and therefore somewhat unpredictable.

Their decisions are expected to be filled with compromises. But it's clear that Brezhnev is not going to downgrade the Russian military. He and his aides apparently have decided there is no hope of reconciliation with Red China so long as Mao Tse-tung heads the Peking government. There are signs Brezhnev's men will continue to try to make a comeback in Asia — through North Viet Nam, Indonesia and India — which will keep U.S. - Soviet relations on edge.

Richard Jordan Gatling, inventor of the Gatling gun, the forerunner of the modern rapid-firing machine gun, also perfected a practical screw propeller for steamboats, only to find that a patent had been granted to Joseph Ericsson for a similar invention a few months earlier. In addition to the rapid-firing gun (350 shots per minute) Gatling invented a hemp-breaking machine and a steam plow.

Foreign Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
 United Press International
PARIS (UPI)—Gaullist officials are talking a lot about a "new look" in French policy at the beginning of President Charles de Gaulle's second term.

But any "new look" seems likely to be more of an optical illusion.

With national parliamentary elections in the offing less than 18 months from now, De Gaulle will have to give at least an impression of paying more attention to the things that appeal directly and personally to the average French voter—housing, wages, living costs, highways, social security, pensions, hospitals and schools.

Failure to keep a close eye on these could result in a massacre at the polls of the ruling Gaullist Union for the New Republic (UNR), leaving

De Gaulle in the unenviable position of a president faced by a hostile parliament.

No Foreign Change
 But in the foreign-policy field the supposed "new look" is likely to be practically invisible.

In fact, aside from unregenerate Gaullist propagandists, French officials say there will be really no change at all.

De Gaulle's attention is expected to be focused on three main foreign policy fields—French "independence," Europe and the Viet Nam war.

"Independence" Gaullist officials mean elbow room to operate without interference from other countries—specifically the United States.

In the French "independence" sector De Gaulle is expected in the first three months of 1966 to spell out in detail his demands for top to bottom revision of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) command structure, so as to end by 1969 what he regards as the objectionable peacetime "subordination" of French forces in NATO to an American supreme commander.

De Gaulle does not expect listing of these demands to touch off an immediate crisis. He hopes rather they will be the signal for starting negotiations—not under the gun, though always with his 1969 deadline in sight.

He already has warned that if his claims are not accepted by 1969 he will pull France out of NATO.

In the "European" policy sector De Gaulle hopes early in 1966 to see an end of the Common Market crisis which was triggered off by his own boycott of the European Economic Community since June 30.

As a starter, he has agreed to France attending a meeting of Common Market foreign ministers in Luxembourg Jan. 17-18. De Gaulle also emphasizes that he still favors European political unity—though on his own terms.

Favors Loose Federation
 Those would rule out anything like a "united states of Europe" in the foreseeable future—a project he regards as utopian and impractical. Instead, he favors a loose federation of fully sovereign states, whose heads of government and state would confer from time to time, but without any supranational government or parliament.

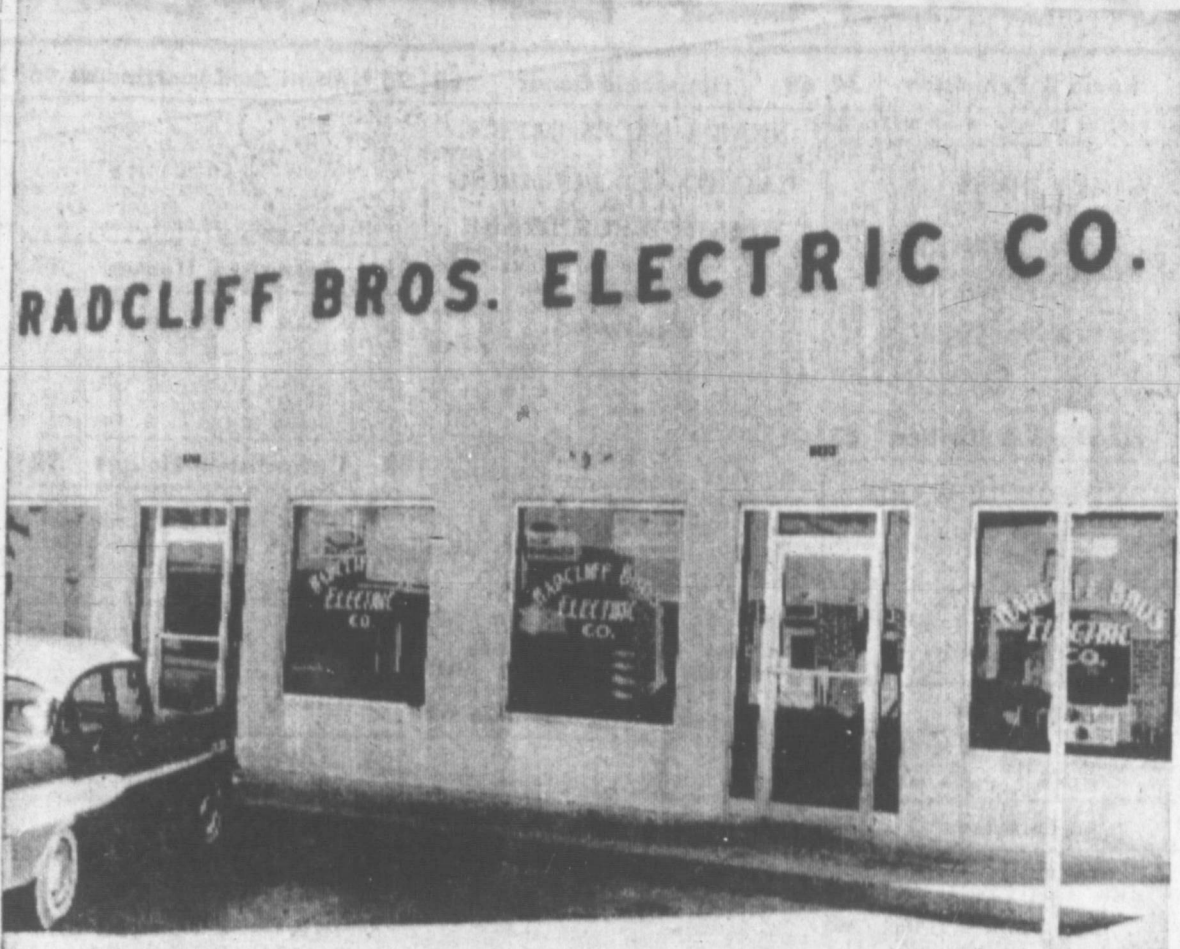

The Viet Nam conflict, which De Gaulle labeled "that absurd war" in a campaign speech, is one of his heaviest preoccupations. He is said to feel there is constant danger it could escalate into a nuclear third world war.

Officials say De Gaulle believes that, as the only Western leader with relations with Washington, Peking and Hanoi, he can make an important contribution some day to a negotiated settlement, which he always has considered the only possible end to the conflict.

But French officials say he concedes there is no possibility of getting peace talks underway at the moment. All he can do, they say, is to watch from the wings and grasp a chance to intervene in a peacemaking role if ever it offers itself. It is a role he would relish.

IT'S THE LAW

When Guest Sues Host
 "One of these days," mused a well-meaning home owner, "I have got to tighten up that loose railing on the back porch."

But for months he kept postponing the needed repairs. One day a woman visitor leaned on the railing, broke through, and plunged to the ground—nine feet below.

In due course the woman sued her host for damages, and won the case. The judgment came to $5,000.

Claims of this kind, by guest against host, are arising with growing frequency. They illustrate the fact that, although your home is your castle, you must maintain the premises with due regard for the safety of your visitors.

How great is your responsibility? Clearly you are not liable for an accident if the premises are kept in proper condition. Thus, a guest who tripped on a carpeted stairway failed to collect damages, since there was nothing defective in either the carpeting or the steps.

Even if there is a defect, it must be substantial in order to support a damage claim.

For example:
 A three-year-old visitor, stumbling on a driveway, bruised his cheek on a little mound of cement. Strictly speaking, the mound—about the size of a saucer—did not belong there. But a court held it was too trivial a defect to pin any blame on the home owner.

Good news for telephone users: Telephone excise tax reduction goes into effect January 1 for Texas customers

Effective January 1, 1966, the Federal Excise Tax on telephone service will be reduced from 10 to 3 per cent. Following the initial drop, the tax will be lowered 1 per cent each year until it is eliminated in 1969.

Telephone users will receive the full cash benefit from this tax reduction. The tax, which is levied directly on those who use telephone service, has been included on monthly telephone bills, and each month your tax payment has been sent on to the federal government. In effect, the telephone company has been a collection agency.

When the excise tax is eliminated in 1969, telephone users in Texas will save more than $50 million annually. This will mean more than $4 million a month added to Texans' spendable income.
