IN RHODESIAN DISPUTE

British Governor General Opposes Rebel Premier

By MICHAEL KEATS

United Press International

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — Sir Humphrey Gibbs, governor-general of Rhodesia and chief representative of the British crown, defied rebel Premier Ian Smith Saturday and disregarded orders that he quit his job.

Nations throughout the world intensified pressure on Smith's white supremacist government to rescind its declaration of independence from Britain. African members of the United Nations called for an armed blockade of the country.

Mobs in Leopoldville and the Tanzanian capitol of Dar es Salaam staged riotous demonstrations protesting the action of Smith's government, a move designed to maintain control by the white minority over Rhodesia's black majority.

Gibbs' stand pitted him in a direct contest of will and power with Smith, whose government takes the position that Gibbs was shorn of authority when Rhodesia severed its ties with Britain.

The British government takes the position that Smith's action was illegal. Gibbs Thursday issued a futile order in the name of the British crown dismissing Smith and his government.

Smith, however, maintains firm de facto control with virtually unanimous approval of the nation's 2,170,000 whites. He went to his farm 110 miles outside Salisbury for the weekend.

Staying with Gibbs at government house as his guest is Rhodesian Chief Justice Sir Hugh Beadle, a key negotiator in last-minute efforts to head off the independence declaration.

Beadle issued a statement Saturday saying that judges of the high court "will continue to perform their duties in accordance with law."

He gave no clarification of this, but most interpreted it as meaning that judges would continue interpreting laws and events in the light of the current constitution.

Last Count Shows 90 Lost in Holocaust

By CHARLES S. ADDINGER

NASSAU, Bahama (UPI) — An ocean cruise ship loaded with 550 persons bound for a gay weekend in Nassau flamed into a nightmarish inferno and sank in the Atlantic Saturday with the apparent loss of 90 lives.

Panic-stricken passengers poured out of the flaming vessel like ants, leaping over the side in pajamas and evening clothes.

Most of those aboard the ill-starred ship, the 5,000-ton SS Yarmouth Castle, were Americans.

Nearly 12 hours after the ship hissed to the bottom in 400 fathoms of water 120 miles east of Miami, Fla., the coast guard reported that a double check of rescue vessels turned up only 460 persons — leaving 90 missing and presumed lost.

"No sightings of survivors or bodies since daybreak," was the grim report of the Coast Guard commander on the scene.

"Only debris, life boats, oars and rafts."

A jolt to many hopes came at mid-afternoon when the freighter Floridian, one of the boats at the scene, reported it had picked up no survivors.

There were earlier reports that the Floridian might have as many as 30 persons aboard.

The Coast Guard said the Bahama Star, another cruise ship, reported picking up 240 passengers and 140 crewmen, and the Finnish vessel Finnulp said it took aboard 92 persons for the total of 472. The only other ship at the scene besides the Bahama Star, the Finnulp and the Floridian, was the vessel Caribe. Like the Floridian, it said it had picked up no survivors.

The Bahama Star docked at Nassau about 3 p.m. EST. Its skipper, Carl Brown, said the captain of the Yarmouth Castle, Byron Voutsinas, was blackened from head to foot from long hours of helping his passengers from the burning ship.

The Yarmouth Castle caught fire about 1 a.m. and burned to the waterline before sinking to the bottom at 6:03 a.m. EST. Brown said Voutsinas knew where the fire started, but the Yarmouth skipper refused comment as he came ashore.

Many of the survivors who streamed from the Bahama Star still were dressed in pajamas and nightgowns.

At least 15 were taken to hospitals. Thirteen persons who were badly burned had previously been airlifted ashore by helicopter — bringing the number of injured to at least 27.

One man inched his way down the gangplank with a white towel wrapped around his eyes.

"Don't let me fall, don't let me fall," he pleaded in a quiet voice.

Wives and husbands who got separated were crying out for each other, Mrs. Betty Barkin said.

Laitin said Burkley found there still was "some sensitivity" along the scar from the

Oct. 8 surgery, but no "thickening" of the scar tissue.

In the doctor's opinion, Laitin said, "his convalescence is coming along well."

"Sometimes he gets a twinge when he turns the wrong way," Laitin said. "And he still has a little trouble getting up and sitting down."

Burkley is satisfied with Johnson's weight — "under 200" — Laitin reported.

Burkley's medical report was relayed to reporters at the Texas White House by Assistant Press Secretary Joseph Laitin.

McNamara Wants Army Reserve Units Dissolved

By DARELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced Saturday that despite congressional protests he has again ordered the immediate dissolution of 751 organized Army civilian reserve units containing 55,000 men.

A Defense Department announcement said the Pentagon chief and his principal advisers had "carefully considered" a resolution of the Senate Armed Services Committee which sought to preserve the six Army reserve divisions containing most of the units to be disbanded.

"They decided that the immediate inactivation of these units, which are not required by contingency war plans, is essential," the announcement said.

The step will leave the Army reserves without any organizations of division size. It will accomplish one of the major purposes of McNamara's proposed merger of the reserves and the National Guard, which Congress refused to approve.

A separate Pentagon statement said McNamara had approved "trial application" of a total package ship construction purchasing procedure for vessels now on the drawing boards, designed to carry helicopters and to handle cargo at record speed. It will be known as the "FDL" for "fast deployment logistics ship."

Rear Adm. William A. Brockett, chief of the Bureau of Ships, and Rear Adm. Charles A. Curze, his deputy, requested retirement in protest against this procedure.

Instead of bidding on the construction of the ship only, shipyards will be asked to submit proposals including performance guarantees covering "an appropriate portion of the total life cycle" of the vessel. This will be similar to the plan under which the huge C5A jet transport plane is being purchased.

Coin Switch To Net Government $322,640 From Gray Residents

By means of a bit of abracadabra, Uncle Sam is about to extract some $322,640 from the pockets of Gray County residents. And they won't even feel it.

Nothing up the sleeves. It's just a coin trick, trading new coins for old.

Very soon, now, the Treasury Department will be flooding the country with new - style coins containing little or no silver.

Instead of dimes and quarters with a 90 percent silver content, as at present, they will be made of an alloy of copper and nickel.

The amount of silver in the half-dollar coins will be reduced from 90 percent to 40 percent. No change is being made in the $1 pieces.

In Gray County, on the basis of average distribution, there are approximately 37 dimes, 20 quarters and 6 half-dollars in circulation per local resident. Their total face value is $11.70.

From the standpoint of metallic content, the $3.70 in dimes are actually worth $3.46, the $5 of quarters are worth $4.68 and the $3 of 50-cent pieces, $2.81, according to the Mint. The total is $10.95.

The quantity of coins of these denominations belonging to the Gray County population as a whole represents a current metallic value of $386,540.

Not all of them are jingling about, at any one time, in people's purses and pockets. Some are in the cash registers of stores, some are in local banks and some are stashed away in sugar bowls at home.

Under the new setup, the metallic content in the coins will drop from $10.95 per person to a mere $1.81.

For all the coins in use in Gray County, the new value, after the replacement becomes complete, will amount to $63,900, or $322,640 less than at present.

The difference, called "seigniorage," is a windfall for the Government.

During the first year of production alone, the Treasury Department stands to make a profit estimated at close to $500 million.

If the Government has its way, the money would be called "miscellaneous receipts" and would be used to cut the deficit in the budget.

Some Congressmen don't like that idea, however. They have a variety of other suggestions for its use.

Students Riot Over Rhodesian Policy

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (UPI) — Hundreds of students stormed the British Embassy Saturday to protest Rhodesian independence and then surged through the city shouting "we want war."

The rioters burned the British flag and attacked the office of the British High Commissioner. Police had to use tear gas to disperse the mobs.

The rioters were protesting Britain's failure to prevent Rhodesia's white government from seizing independence and continuing its minority rule over the nation's blacks.

This was the second black African capital to be wracked by rioting Saturday protesting the unilateral declaration of independence by Rhodesia.

In Leopoldville, capital of the Cong., threatening mobs gathered at the British, Portuguese, Ethiopian and Ghanaian embassies. Shouting "guns are the only solution," the demonstrators attempted to tear down the British coat of arms. No injuries were reported in the rioting.

Other countries joined in condemning the Rhodesian action. West Germany announced it does not recognize the government of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith; Zambia announced it would impose restrictions on financial relations and trade with Rhodesia, and Moscow called on all Africans to give "a deserved rebuff to the rampant adventurists" in Rhodesia.

Job Corps Youths Wreak Havoc In Destructive Downtown Melee

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UPI) — Eleven youths from a federal Job Corps center were jailed Saturday in the wake of a destructive downtown melee in which corpsmen battled police, smashed windows and looted shops.

An official from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) said the youths were "exhilarated" by a speech by Sargent Shriver, OEO director, in dedication ceremonies at the nearby Fort Custer Job Corps Center only a few hours before the rampage began.

Civilian volunteers joined about 100 policemen in fighting the wild group which surged seven blocks. Witnesses said the youths battled police with bottles and tried to stab one officer. One policeman was knocked down, trampled and hospitalized with chest injuries. Two other officers suffered minor injuries. The melee erupted Friday (See JOB CORPS, Page 3)

Progress Slows In UF Campaign

Progress slowed this week in the Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign as the total raised is still less than fifty per cent of the $77,000 goal.

Through this morning only $34,804.24 has been collected in the drive to support twelve participating agencies.

Drive spokesmen said, however, that several usually large donors in the advance gifts divisions have not as yet turned in their contributions. The total should swell appreciably by the end of next week, they added.

Volunteer workers are again asked to turn in the contributions as they are collected to the United Fund office.

Coast Guard Pilot Views Ship's Death

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lt. Alan Dahms, 26, of Willow Grove, Pa., was the pilot of one of the first Coast Guard planes that reached the scene of the burning vessel Yarmouth Castle early Saturday. In the following dispatch he tells in his own words what it was like watching the 370 foot vessel plunge to the bottom in flames.

"The first thing we saw as we headed for the rescue scene was a pinpoint of red-orange light that was different from the other lights here and there in the area. It turned out to be the fire on the Yarmouth Castle.

"We were still 40 miles away at about 1,000 feet when we saw clearly that it was a ship on fire, and it became more apparent every second we got closer.

"The flames were shooting 150 feet into the air, and I mean from one end of the vessel to the other. She was burning from stem to stern.

"The column of smoke rose 4,000 feet into the air, I estimate.

"We made one pass flying at about 300 feet off the water and 500 feet from the ship. The heat was so intense that we could feel it right through the windows of the cockpit, not enough so that you wouldn't want to stay there very long.

"You could see flames through the anchor chain hole all the way back to the aftermost portholes. Looking just a little away from the ship, you had the idea that all the electricity was burning inside her.

"It was white hot. I attribute that to the metal being heated up.

"No, we didn't see anybody (See PILOT, Page 3)

TURKEY TURNOUT — Yesterday at 3 p.m. at the corner of Kingsmill and Cuyler streets, downtown Pampa merchants let loose 15 of the festive birds and Pampans turned out by the hundreds to try to catch one for their Thanksgiving board. Next Saturday, 15 more gobblers will be given away. For this "catch" helium-filled balloons will be released; Fifteen of them bearing tickets entitling the bearer to a free turkey. Here is photographic proof that people will come out in great numbers just to be given the "bird."

Meteorite Finds In Texas Said To Be Increasing

HOUSTON (SpI) — Meteorite finds in Texas are increasing, according to Dr. Elbert King of the Manned Spacecraft Center here.

King, an expert in the composition and origin of extraterrestrial objects who works in the Geology and Geochemistry Section at MSC, said that he has received four meteorites from various areas in Texas during the current year. All the specimens were either donated or loaned to MSC for analysis.

"Normally, four or five new meteorites are the total find for the world in one year," King said.

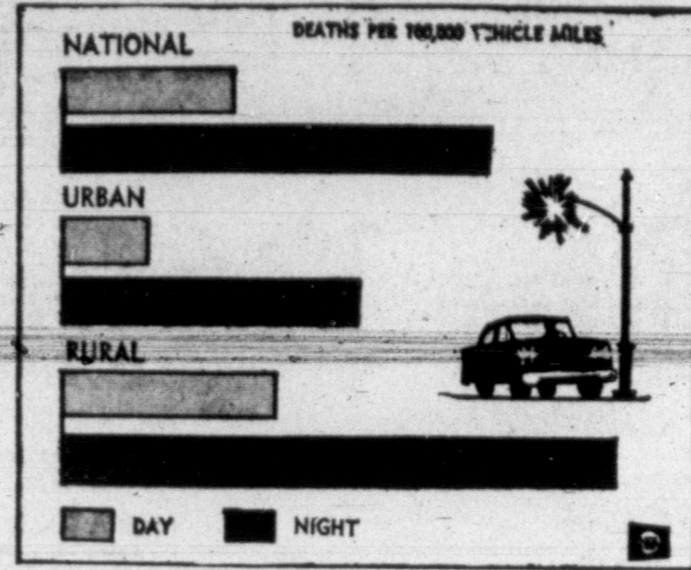

The largest meteorite was a 30-pound stony variety from Collingsworth County, Texas. Two meteorites of three and four pounds were found near Conroe by a lady who observed the fall in 1955. The fourth meteorite was a seven-pound iron specimen found near Del Rio and received about a month ago through the efforts of Dr. George Edwards of the Shell Research Company.

Although meteorites are comparatively rare, they are valuable mainly for scientific information they contain rather than any monetary worth. If meteorites can be examined soon after they fall, much can be learned about cosmic radiation in space.

MSC geologists are also interested in the space rocks as a key to determining the composition of lunar rocks and possibly the evolution of the solar system. Meteorites are accepted here for examination in cooperation with the U. S. National Museum. All meteorites donated here will eventually go to the National Museum.

King said that most meteorites are discovered because they are heavier than rocks of a comparable size and have an unusual shape due to entry heating. Meteorites are also commonly found in areas which are free from other rocks. Anyone who suspects he has discovered a meteorite should first send only a small sample of the rock for analysis. If the sample is meteoritic, the entire specimen can then be sent.

the examination requirements and instructions for filing applications may be obtained at the Mobeetie post office. Application forms must be filed with U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. 20415, and must be received or postmarked not later than the closing date.

NIGHT DRIVING DANGERS—Auto fatality figures for 1964 prove again that night driving is far more dangerous than day driving. Chart above uses deaths per 100,000 vehicle miles for comparison. The dangers are less apparent in the actual numbers of deaths—53 per cent at night and 47 per cent daytime for the nation.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The word "image," which started out as a synonym for "likeness," has in recent years taken on another meaning.

As the term generally is used today, it doesn't necessarily mean what you are like, but what people think you are like. This change was largely brought about by public relations consultants, who make their living creating new images for persons, places and things.

They have made the whole world image-conscious. Some public figures now change images almost as often as they change underwear. It's getting so even their images have images.

Image-makers also are active in advertising. Often, a product's image is more important than what's inside the can.

Considering their vested interest in this field, I was somewhat surprised to learn that one public relations firm has undertaken a campaign to stamp out images.

Boldly asserting that "image" has become "one of the most over-used, abused and misused words in our current vernacular," it is sponsoring a contest to find a substitute.

A case of Scotch is being offered as a prize for the person who comes up with the best term conveying the meaning now associated with image. "My faith in the sincerity of the campaign was shaken a bit by the fact that one of this firm's clients is a certain brand of Scotch. It could be that the whole thing is aimed primarily at improving the client's image."

Women Support Red Purge

JAKARTA (UPI) — A thousand women marched on government offices Saturday in a show of support for the current purge of Communists. The army disclosed its troopers had found bodies of 18 more persons massacred by the Communists and buried in two common graves.

The women, brightly clad in sarongs and marching to a spirited drum corps, presented a resolution to officials of the national Front announcing suspension of the Communist Party (PKI) women's auxiliary, Mrs. Hürstiat Subandrio, by Gerwani, and calling for wife of Indonesia's left-leaning final dissolution of the group.

HOT FURNACE — A Pampa fireman pours water into a furnace at the Ennis Penland residence, 404 Hughes, Saturday. A fire started in the furnace and burned part of a wall. The house also sustained heavy smoke damage.

on the ship. Anybody that got off did so before we got there. "Anybody that was on that ship when we got there was beyond getting off. "When she went down the flames were shooting just as high as when we first saw her. She settled to a point in the water where her port rail was just under, then she filled very rapidly, rolled over and sank. "The flames dropped from 150 feet to zero in 10 to 15 seconds. The fire was out very quickly, and then there was just this great pall of smoke lifting from the spot where the flame had been. "It rose until it was out of sight. "The only things in the water were drums and pieces of debris vomited up by the ship when it went down. "We didn't spot any bodies—no we didn't see any sharks either, just little flying fish, because the visibility was very clear."

Pistol Taken From Parked Automobile

Claude E. Bradley, 1817 Christine, reported to Pampa police Saturday a pistol had been stolen from the glove compartment of his parked car.

Bradley said the theft occurred sometime Friday night at a local drive-in.

The pistol was a Llama automatic 380.

Texas Farmers Work County SCD News On Last of Harvest

Gray County Gets Bigger Milo Base

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent

Wheat pasture is developing rather slowly over most of the Panhandle. This has been the main reason for the sharp decline in the stocker market in this area for the past month. Wheat sown at the end of September can't be more than average. Large acreages of wheat will not be grazed unless weather conditions change drastically. A hard freeze over a two week period would curtail most all wheat pasturing. This would put the local stocker market into another tailspin.

Rex McAnelley says it takes about 18 months to see the full effect of applying feed lot manure to farm land. The first crop after the manure has been applied does not show up in yield increase nearly as much as crops thereafter. The reason, of course, is the organic matter must decay as in a compost. Mordy farms has some of the best irrigated wheat pasture I have ever seen. Manure was applied about 18 months ago.

One of the nice things about the new lettuce cigarettes is the fact you have no disposal problem with the butts. Carry a small jar of thousand island dressing and eat the butts. Definition of an old timer: One who remembers when girls who had nothing to wear stayed at home.

We are having numerous calls about the new farm program. Evelyn Mason, Office Manager A. S. C. and in charge of administering the various government programs, tells me she has not had anything other than a brief outline. The general thinking is the sign-up period for both '66 wheat and feed grains will be held at the same time in early part of next year. It appears information will soon be coming forth on the long range cropland reclamation program (SP-11) Bank. As I understand it there is a possibility a farmer could sign up starting this year-1965. Contracts can run from 5-10 years. One Russian boss said to another, "But when the whole world is Communist, where will we buy our wheat?"

John Haggard, who just returned from Hot Springs, Arkansas, said his irrigated wheat pasture was doing just fine. A nice thing about irrigation is the fact you can get your wheat up early. Mr. Haggard was irrigating his wheat when the last rain fell. The pump broke down about the time it rained. Mother Nature cooperated with him and finished irrigating the rest with its sprinkler system.

W. B. Jackson plans to have an irrigation project going by Spring of 1966.

The Gray County 4-H Awards program was held at Pammel Hall, Saturday night, November 1st. It was good to see so many businessmen and women attending to present various national, sponsored awards. Felix Ryals, Manager Panhandle Underground Water District, was speaker. Edith Lois Wilson, District Home Demonstration Agent, Amarillo presented the Gray Gold Star Award to the 4-H club girl - Miss Phyllis Atwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Atwood, Pampa. W. W. Grisham, District Agent, Amarillo presented the Boys 4-H Gold Star Award to Jim Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Reeves, Pampa.

If you have not been an early morning listener to KPDN at 6:30 a.m. week days, we invite you to tune in this Farm and Home program.

Conservation District News

By FELIX W. RYALS
District Manager

In a recent interview on the problem of water shortage, water use, and water supply, General William Cassidy of the U.S. Army Engineers, gave some forthright answers. He didn't pull any punches in regard to the U.S. having new sources of water not now being tapped. He stated there are not any new sources that we don't already know about. He further stated that here are ground water sources on the Eastern Seaboard that are not being fully utilized. He also indicated that the Western states are over-developing their ground water sources. This would include the Panhandle and High Plains Area of Texas.

General Cassidy termed the development of ground water on the high plains as mining water. He explained this as taking water out faster than it is being replaced by nature.

To understand the full meaning of mining water we might compare it with the mining of ore or of oil and gas. We know that when the mineral has all been removed, that the mine operations or oil and gas operations in that area must then shut down. This is exactly what will take place when the ground water on the High Plains has been depleted. Irrigation farming and agriculture related business and industry will end. However, the solution to the mining of water, if we can solve the problem of recharge from surface water and stream water.

The United States Internal Revenue has now acknowledged that water is a mineral and is being mined or depleted. The water depletion case of Marvin Shurbet, in which he sued for federal income tax credit, has now been decided in his favor by the U. S. Appeals Court in New Orleans. The Internal Revenue Service declined to appeal to the Supreme Court before the deadline for appealing in October. This means that irrigation farmers of the Southern High Plains will be able to claim credit for water depletion. Efforts are being made by officials of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District to ascertain if this area of the Ogallala formation is actually included in the court decision.

The tax angle of the court decision has been discussed with officials of the High Plains Water Conservation District at Lubbock, who helped Mr. Shurbet in taking his case to the Federal Courts. Their interpretation is that the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District is included in the court decision. The Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District also assisted financially in taking the Shurbet case to the Federal Court, with the understanding that our area would be included in whatever decision was rendered, since our soil and water conditions are very similar as to rate of recharge. The High Plains Water Conservation District at Lubbock is working on a formula that may be used as a guide by irrigation farmers if approved by the Internal Revenue Service. As soon as something is worked out, the information will be made available to irrigation farmers of this area by the Panhandle Water Conservation District.

Irrigation well drilling seems to be picking up again in Gray and Carson Counties. A permit was issued to W. B. Jackson, during the past week, for an eight inch irrigation well in Section 208, Block M.2, B&F Survey, in Gray County, east of Pampa and north of U.S. 60. A permit was also issued to Robert Kuehler for an eight inch irrigation well, one mile west of Groom and approximately one-fourth mile north of U.S. 66 in Section 91, Block B-3, H&GN Survey, Carson Co. The Texas Railroad Commission continues to head off further pollution from unlined salt water pits used by the oil and United Press International makes the production approximately 7,500 pounds an acre. High Production He said that in Sherman County alone, 5.1 million bushels of grain sorghum were produced for an average of 82 bushels in 1965. 1.9 million bushels were produced off 31,000 acres. Damp weather of the past several days kept the soybean harvest from moving ahead. Castor beans were to wait until after the first killing frost. Wheat planting in the High Plains was complete and farmers had good prospects in the Panhandle.

Some cotton farmers were already using chemical defoliant to get ready for mechanical stripping. The forecast is for a 2.21 million-bale cotton harvest in West Texas this year, the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains cotton growers said. That would come close to the record of 2.34 million bales produced by the area in 1961.

Harvest About Complete By today, the grain sorghum harvest was more than 95 percent complete. Grain piled up outside elevators to get to market, but railroad cars were short to transport it, because of the wheat harvest just over. High Plains sorghum is believed heading for a 133-million-bushel crop this year, worth more than $100 million. Grain sorghum and the wheat pasture from that harvest will be used to fatten cattle now being turned out to the pastures.

Farmers said irrigation has given them a spectacular boost in grain sorghum production this year. Bill Nelson, executive vice president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, said dryland sorghum averages 2,000 to 3,500 pounds an acre in a good year and irrigation gas producers. The Commission last week issued a "no unlined salt water pit" for all of Lipscomb County. The deadline for eliminating the unlined pits is May 1, 1966. Railroad Commission member Byron Tunnell recently stated that the Commission's field staff has been spending approximately 50 percent of its time on pollution matters.

Deadline Told For Hoblitzelle Rural Life Awards

Regional deadline is December 1, 1965 for nominations for the coveted Hoblitzelle Awards for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life for 1966.

Nominations should be submitted by that date to any member of the State Regional Committee. A. L. Black of Friona said today. Black is chairman of the six-man committee spearheading the 50-county Area I search for two Texas farmers who will receive the $5,000 cash awards.

The awards for outstanding service to rural life improvement in the state will be presented to a junior farmer who is 25 years of age or younger and to a senior farmer who has passed his 36th birthday. The honors will be conferred upon them during Texas Research Foundation's Annual Field Day and Awards Dinner at Renner on Wednesday, May 18, 1966.

Raymond Barrett, Sailor Brothers and Ray Welch plan to install underground irrigation pipeline. Underground pipeline cuts down on evaporation and seepage caused by open ditches. Another pond was staked for John Haynes on his ranch north of McLean. Cecil Seaney has completed some cross fencing on the Stubbs place north of Alameda. H. T. Dickens at White Deer has reseeded his waterways to western wheat grass.

Aaron and Raymond Sullivan plan to establish a dead litter cover on rangeland in poor condition and reseed it to desirable native grasses. They also plan to construct a cross fence, diversion terrace and install a windmill and water storage facility. This farm is located east of McLean and is operated by Word Lowe.

There are several thousand acres of abandoned cropland in Gray county that need to be established to desirable grasses. Up to 80 percent cost share assistance is available for establishing this land to desirable grasses.

"I have never seen a dollar invested anywhere in this nation in water conservation, in multiple-use projects, that in a period of even a decade didn't prove that it was a good investment, and would pay very high returns on what we had spent for it. So, this is not the last conservation project that we will approve. It is not the last legislation in this field." - Remarks of President Lyndon B. Johnson upon signing legislation authorizing the Auburn-Folsom South Project, California.

Members of the Area I committee are Black of Route 1, Friona; Clyde Gordon, Jr., Citizens National Bank, Lubbock; L. Duane Bartee, 210 Fraser Building, Pampa; Billy C. Gunter, Federal Building, Lubbock; Walter Labay, P. O. Box 768 Plainview; and Truman Hayes, Route 5, Brownfield, Texas.

Recipients of the 1964 awards for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life were Albert Roach of Deport, Lamar County farmer-stockman, and Bill Sherman, a Lockney farmer, Floyd County, the senior and junior winners, respectively.

Barley remains in the 1966 Feed Grain Program and gives Gray County farmers a bigger base for planting milo and a point of substitution with wheat, according to Rudis Tate, representative of the North Plains Grain Sorghum Producers Association. Tate also said that cross-compliance between wheat and feed grains would not be put into effect. He said that under terms of the new Farm Bill that at the "discretion of the Secretary" USDA could have omitted barley from the program and also called for cross-compliance between wheat and feed grain programs. North Plains farmers, working through the Grain Sorghum

Producers Association developed and presented information to legislative and administrative farm leaders as to the damaging effects such changes could have on sorghum growers' income and appealed for leaving barley in the program and not implementing cross-compliance.

Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of GSPA advised Tate and other County Association officers that the Association had been notified of the USDA decision to leave barley in and not require cross-compliance.

Sunken Chlorine Barge Lifted

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—A barge carrying six hundred tons of liquid chlorine that lay for two months on the bottom of the Mississippi River, giving the jitters to Baton Rouge's 150,000 residents, was floated 20 miles downstream to a chemical plant Saturday.

There, workmen of the Wyandott Chemical Co. will remove the chlorine from four tanks. The barge which went to the river's bottom during Hurricane Betsy will be overhauled and put back into service.

A giant, waterborne crane lifted the sunken barge and chlorine tanks to the surface Friday in an hour and 48 minutes.

In 1777, the Articles of Confederation were adopted by the Continental Congress.

Students Warned Infectious Fungus On Vacant Lot

WOODLAWN, Md. (UPI) — County health officials have ordered students at two suburban Baltimore schools to stay away from a vacant lot infected with potentially deadly fungus.

The Baltimore County Health Department said a soil sampling of a lot near the Woodlawn Junior High school and the Woodmoor Elementary School showed the presence of histoplasmosis. The fungus is believed caused by a startling roost on the vacant property.

Health Officer Dr. Richard J. Potter said most persons get infected by the fungus without ever showing symptoms or only minor temporary symptoms. But in a few cases the symptoms are more severe and death is possible, though such fatalities are "extremely rare."

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council document on marriage has been revised to emphasize the duty of Catholic couples to follow church teachings on family planning, council sources said Saturday.

The revised marriage document is part of the council document on the church in the modern world which goes before the assembly for a series of 31 votes next week.

The new statement on birth control forcefully warned that "the sons of the church are not to enter into ways of conjugal love which have been reprobated by the teaching of the church."

In contrast to the previous version, which left the question more open, it expressly declares that Catholics "are to follow only those ways of conjugal love which have not been forbidden by the magisterium of the church."

The text on marriage states that decisions on family planning should be made in the light of "human and Christian responsibility and right conscience."

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Heavy snow struck the middle and southern part of Sweden Saturday, stranding thousands of motorists and disrupting utility service.

Mickael McKenney Jones and

Irish Pound North Carolina

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Fourth-ranked Notre Dame stumbled and fumbled for three quarters today before dashing Nick Eddy woke up the Irish long enough to score a 17-0 victory over North Carolina.

Notre Dame went into the game looking as if it expected a pushover warmup to next week's big game with Michigan State. Instead of an easy victory, the Irish had to cram all their points into 10 minutes of the fourth quarter to pull it out. Eddy, playing left halfback instead of his usual post at the right side, broke the Tarheels open with a 66-yard scoring spring with less than eight minutes to play. And after Irish line-backer Mike McGill intercepted a pass in North Carolina terrain, Eddy scored again on a three-yard sweep to wrap up the decision.

Ken Ivan accounted for the other Irish points, two on conversion kicks and the other three on a 38-yard field goal on the third play of the last period. The kick put Notre Dame's first points on the board and marked Ivan's sixth field goal of the season, a Notre Dame record.

Notre Dame controlled the ball throughout, but three fumbles and the tough Tarheel defense held the Irish scoreless until the fourth quarter. Eddy was the culprit on two of the fumbles. One cost the Irish the ball on the Carolina 35 and another on the Carolina 47.

Quarterback Bill Zloch lost the ball once after the Irish had advanced to the Tarheel 4.

Another Notre Dame try bogged on the Carolina 6 when the Tarheel defense stopped Zloch an inch short of a first down on a fourth down keeper.

North Carolina got into Notre Dame country only once in the first half, reaching the Irish 25 before Tom Lampman fumbled and Notre Dame recovered.

In the second half the Tarheels crossed into Irish territory twice, their best advance going to the 27 before Danny Talbot missed a 43-yard field goal try.

Today's win was the seventh of the season against one loss for Notre Dame. It was North Carolina's fifth loss in nine games, their 12th loss in 13 games against Notre Dame, and the first time they have been shut out in 26 games.

Notre Dame 0 0 0 17-17

Nebraska Holds Back Oklahoma St., 21-17

Cowboys Put Score In NU

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI) — Second-ranked Nebraska, facing a stunning upset, pushed over a touchdown with 38 seconds left to edge inspired Oklahoma State, 21-17, Saturday and immediately accepted an Orange Bowl bid.

The Cornhuskers, whose probable opponent in the New Year's night classic will be Alabama, clinched at least a tie for their third straight Big Eight Conference championship.

But it was a hard-fought, pulsating victory and Nebraska defenders had to halt a last ditch Oklahoma State drive on the 5-yard line to preserve it.

Oklahoma State, winner of only one game this season, put on a magnificent swarming defensive show and appeared to have scored one of the season's biggest upsets when quarterback Glenn Baxter rammed over from the 3-yard line to put the Cowboys ahead 17-14 with 5:19 to go.

But unruffled Nebraska, now 9-0, roared back with a 75-yard march in the closing minutes.

Fullback Pete Patman sped over from the 2-yard line for the deciding touchdown with 38 seconds showing on the clock.

Oklahoma State, delighting 31,500 partisan Homecoming fans, was not finished. The Cowboys with fullback Walt Garrison doing the damage, put on one last drive to pull it out. Garrison broke loose for an 18-yard run but was pulled down by Nick Czap on the 5-yard line as the game ended.

It was a see-saw battle all the way and the outcome was always in doubt. Oklahoma State, a three-touchdown underdog, scored first after recovering a fumble by quarterback Fred Duda on the Nebraska 9. Three plays later Larry Elliott banged over right guard for the touchdown with 2:03 left in the first quarter.

Nebraska tied it up shortly before halftime, going 58 yards in 10 plays, with Janky Ron Kirkland scoring from the two.

The Cornhuskers then went ahead just after the second half began after Elliott fumbled the kickoff on his own 22. Kirkland again scored from the two and it was 14-7.

Oklahoma State narrowed the margin to 14-10 in the fourth quarter on a 45-yard field goal by Charles Durkee. Minutes later, after a drive bogged down on the 14, Durkee came in for another field goal attempt, but Nebraska was off-sides and the Cowboys got a first down on the 8, setting the stage for Baxter's go-ahead touchdown.

Arkansas Rips SMU, 24-3

DALLAS (UPI) — Arkansas coach Frank Broyles found himself on the horns of a three-pronged dilemma back in September trying to settle on Jon Brittenum, Ronny South or Harry Jones to guide the destinies of his Cotton Bowl champion Razorbacks.

South was the best passer, Jones was the best runner and Brittenum was a 1964 "red-shirt" holdout who had shown signs he could do a bit of both as the occasion demanded when he exhibited bursts of brilliance as a 1963 sophomore.

Broyles waited until the week before the season started and put the finger on Brittenum, who promptly guided the Hogs to eight consecutive victories that ran the Razorbacks' streak to 20 in a row, longest in the nation.

Brittenum was at his versatile best Saturday when he ran and pitched Arkansas to a 24-3 showdown victory over upstart challenger Southern Methodist for victory No. 21. It also enabled the Razorbacks to clinch a tie for their fifth Southwest Conference championship in seven years.

The 6-2, 182-pounder from Brinkley, Ark., hit eight of 17 passes for 119 yards and one touchdown and gained 47 important yards in 14 carries while scoring another touchdown and helping set up a third and a 27-yard field goal by South.

The 24-3 victory set the stage for a showdown at Fayetteville next Saturday with Texas Tech for a Cotton Bowl host role and the difference between a share of the crown or the "whole hog" for the Hogs. Tech beat Baylor Saturday for an 8-1 season record and 5-1 for league play.

Brittenum scored once from a yard out, threw a line drive 25-yarder to Jones for another touchdown and touched off Arkansas' final 67-yard scoring surge with a 14-yard helter-skelter run.

His 47 yards net rushing are deceptive of their real worth. He proved so great at scrambling that often he gave up the impulse to run for big yardage on the option plays to stop and throw telling passing strikes because the SMU defense had blitzed itself out of position.

It seemed fitting that Broyles found a place on his all-victory squad for all three of his problem children.

South took over at quarterback late in the game and directed the Razorbacks well. He also kicked three extra points — his 34th, 35th and 36th of the season in 38 tries for a new school record. And Jones came in just in time to make a great diving, rolling catch of Brittenum's scoring toss in the second quarter when the outcome still seemed in doubt.

SMU, which had built up a tremendous following with a tie with mighty Purdue and a blasting of once-haughty Texas enroute to a 4-2-1 season record going into this game, started out well before 67,000 fans.

The Mustangs took the ball on its first series of downs and marched nearly the length of the field strictly on the ground against the league's staunchest rushing defense. It had to settle for a 33-yard field goal by Dennis Partee, but it proved it could move the ball and hope still ran high.

The Methodists started another march only to have a penalty ruin it. And that was it for the day.

Brittenum, South, Jones and a bruiser named Bobby Burnett, who gained 119 yards rushing, took command.

Duke Sails By Wake Forest

DURHAM, N. C. (UPI) — Duke's Blue Devils, riding the passing arm of quarterback Todd Orvald and charging of halfback Sonny Odom and fullback Jay Calabrese, broke out of a four-game losing streak to defeat Wake Forest 40-7 Saturday.

The Blue Devils hadn't been able to win since star quarterback Scotty Glacken, was injured four games ago. Orvald took over, and the scrappy stand-in made his entire team look good Saturday.

Duke waited until the first quarter was over before it began to move — but once they did move, they were unstoppable.

Contributing mightily to the offensive play was the Duke defensive play, which dived Wake runners all day and held them to but seven first downs in the contest.

No. 1 Michigan State Rambles by Hoosiers

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Quarterback Steve Juday threw three touchdown passes as No. 1 ranked Michigan State won its first undisputed Big 10 football championship and a Rose Bowl berth by rallying to whip Indiana 27-13.

The victory closed out the first unbeaten Big 10 campaign in Michigan State history and assured the Spartans of sole possession of top spot in the conference for the first time.

It was the ninth victory for the undefeated Spartans, seven of them in Big 10, and eliminated any doubt that MSU will play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. Only the formality of a vote next weekend by conference athletic directors remains.

But MSU's spectacular year was nearly ruined by the lowly Hoosiers who played their finest game of the year.

Indiana, behind the passing duo of quarterback Frank Stavroff and end Bill Malinchak led 13-10 going into the final period and appeared ready to pull the upset of the year.

But the tide turned on a broken fourth period play that Juday and end Gene Washington improvised into a 43-yard score. The play began as a run by Juday. The little quarterback spotted Washington 10 yards down the middle and lobbed the ball to him.

Washington, the Big 10 hurdles champion, turned to his left and outraced three Hoosiers to the end zone for the go-ahead touchdown.

Juday hit Washington on all three of his touchdown passes. The touchdown passes and Washington's three TD receptions were both MSU single-game records and gave Juday eight for the season.

Juday hit Washington with a 27-yard touchdown pass in the second period that combined with barefoot Dick Kenney's field goal to give the Spartans a 10-0 lead.

But Stavroff and Malinchak hooked up on a 10-yard scoring pass with 46 seconds left in the half. Then the same combination featured a 77-yard Indiana drive that was climaxed when Stavroff sneaked over from the one to put the Hoosiers ahead.

MSU rebounded to score on the second Juday to Washington pass which was followed by Kenney's second 27-yard field goal and a clinching Juday to Washington scoring pass in the final moments.

Iowa State Hands K-State 38-6 Loss

AMES, Iowa (UPI) — Quarterback Tim Van Galder put on a record passing and running display Saturday to lead Iowa State to a 38-6 Big Eight victory over Kansas State.

Van Galder completed 21 of 44 passes for 293 yards as he directed the cyclones to their biggest conference victory in three years. Van Galder also ran for 51 additional yards.

His total yardage of 344 broke the old Iowa State mark of 320 set by Dave Hoppmann against Detroit in 1960. The 293 yards gained passing broke the Cyclone record of 281 by Bill Weeks against Oklahoma in 1950.

Van Galder, a 173-pound junior, broke the one-game total offense and passing yardage records on the final play of the game when he completed a pass to tailback Leslie Webster for 26 yards.

None of Van Galder's passes went for touchdowns, although he ran for a score in the closing second of the first half when he scampered around right end for three yards, giving Iowa State a 24-0 halftime margin.

The Cyclones were in control of the game throughout, rolling up 28 first downs to 9 for the Wildcats. The Cyclones had total yardage of 523 to only 160 for K-State.

Tech Runs By Baylor, 34-22

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — Quarterback Tom Wilson ignited a bogged-down Texas Tech attack Saturday to repel an upset bid by the Baylor Bears, 34-22, and set the stage for a showdown with Arkansas next week for a berth in the Cotton Bowl.

Wilson connected for three touchdown passes to push the 11th-ranked Red Raiders to their seventh consecutive victory and keep them within range of a share of the Southwest Conference crown with Arkansas.

Wilson was off the mark in the first period and a determined Baylor line turned back the Raider running game.

Baylor was picking its holes through the Tech defense, however, and halfback Billy Hayes climaxed a 58-yard drive early in the first quarter with a fiery plunge to send the Bears into a 6-0 lead.

Three plays after the ensuing kickoff, the Bears again got good field position with an intercepted Wilson pass and Bob Purvis booted a 47-yard field goal, the second-longest in Baylor history, to hike the margin to 9-0.

With an overflow crowd of 45,619 looking on, Wilson connected with Terry Scarborough on an 18-yard scoring strike in the opening minutes of the second quarter. Later in the stanza, fullback Kenny Baker squirmed over from the five to put the Red Raiders ahead to stay.

Tech carried the 14-9 margin into the dressing room after missing on a 47-yard field goal try with two seconds left in the first half.

Anderson put the game out of reach almost personally in the third quarter, catching a 43-yard scoring pass from Wilson and then plunging two yards for another score. That ran the tally to 27-9.

The Bears put on an offensive show late in the contest, but it was far from enough. Bear quarterback tallied on a two-yard keeper and then hit end Harlan Lane on a 20-yard touchdown strike in the fourth period.

LSU Tigers Blitz Miss. State, 37-20

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Joe Labruzzo and Jim Dousay paced a relentless LSU ground attack Saturday night with a pair of touchdowns each to lead the Tigers past Mississippi State 37-20.

LSU, rebounding from a two-game losing streak, returned to the explosive power-packed form it displayed in early season victories.

Labruzzo turned in the longest run from scrimmage of the night, 46 yards, for one of his touchdowns.

Pat Screen hit Dave McCormick on a tackle-eligible play for 13 yards and a touchdown and Doug Moreau added a 42-yard field goal for the Tigers' scoring.

attention on Ashby Cook's passing. Cook hit Don Saget with a 13-yard scoring pass and Mississippi State trailed 20-14.

But Labruzzo put it out of each two minutes later on his 46-yard scoring dash.

Tommy Garrison added the final Mississippi State touchdown on an 11-yard run at the end of an 80-yard drive in the fourth quarter. Much of the distance came on Cook's passing.

The loss was the fifth in a row for Mississippi State, which, like LSU, had been ranked in the top 10 earlier this season.

Mississippi State was held to two first downs in the first half and 17 yards rushing by LSU's swarming defenders, forcing them to take to the air after intermission.

Mike Robichaux, Mike Vincent, and Bill Bass were top hands in LSU's gang-tackling defense. Typical of LSU's command on the ground was the 66-yard 15-play scoring drive in the second quarter.

Lamar Tech Upsets West Texas State, 21-14

By LOU SPRY
BEAUMONT (SpI) — West Texas State players set three individual season records last night but the Buffaloes dropped a 21-14 decision to Lamar Tech before 10,400 fans in Beaumont's Cardinal Stadium.

Roy Armentrout set two records and Don (Precher) Dennis, one. Armentrout caught six passes for 91 yards and a touchdown bringing his season's yardage total to 476, bettering the mark set by Bill Cross in 1950.

Primm passed for 141 yards and ran for 35 more, including a 12-yard keeper on a fourth down situation in the Cardinal's winning drive.

He took Lamar Tech 51 and 55 yards for touchdowns and guided them 75 yards following Armentrout's record setting punt. But the drive died with a missed field goal attempt.

Primm accounted for all but 15 of Tech's winning 55-yard drive.

The crucial play was a 12-yard run by Primm on fourth and two at the Buffalo 37. His seven yard pass to John Fuller put the Cardinals in the lead for good.

Bowl-Conscious Missouri Rides Brilliance of Lane To 30-0 Win Over OU

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Bowl-conscious Missouri rode the brilliance of quarterback Gary Lane to a 30-0 Big Eight rout over Oklahoma Saturday, the Tigers' first home victory over the Sooners since 1945. Lane tied a school record by scoring three touchdowns and passed for a fourth in bolstering the eighth-ranked Tigers' hopes to land a Sugar Bowl berth. Two-time all-league selection and twice big eight total offense champion, Lane ran for 68 yards and passed for another 79, leaving him just 17 yards shy of becoming the eighth player in league history to reach a career total of 3,000 yards. It was the first time since 1942 the Sooners have been shutout four times in a single season. Oklahoma's deepest penetration was to the Missouri 12 late in the game before linebacker

Rich Bernsen's pass interception killed the threat. Missouri failed to score on its initial possession after driving 54 yards to the Oklahoma 5. But the ambitious Tigers tallied the next three times they had the ball to coast into a 17-0 halftime lead. Johnny Roland's 53-yard punt return to the Sooner 34 set up the first touchdown. The Tigers ground out the yardage in eight plays with Lane sweeping left end for the final three yards. The Tigers scored again 1:38 later following Gary Grossnickle's fumble recovery at the Oklahoma 47. On the first play, Lane rifled a 30-yard pass to Monroe Phelps at the 9, and three plays later Lane passed a 3-yard scoring strike to Jim Waller with 14 seconds gone in the second quarter. Missouri marched 65 yards to the Oklahoma 12 with four minutes left in the half but was forced to settle for Bill Bates'

29-yard field goal. Tackle Bruce Van Dyke's recovery of an Oklahoma fumble at the Sooner 41 set up the Tigers' third touchdown early in the third quarter. The Tigers again churned out the yardage in eight plays with Lane dashing up the middle from four yards out for the score. Missouri got its final score late in the third quarter on a 30-yard drive following an Oklahoma punt from the two. Lane got the score after Charlie Brown dashed 24 yards to the four. attack clicked for 295 yards. Missouri a crumpling ground compared to 83 for Oklahoma. Ol Miss Nips Unbeaten Vols

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Mississippi, battling the clock in a bruising 72-yard fourth-quarter drive that included 17 plays, beat Tennessee 14-13 Saturday to knock the Volunteers from the ranks of the unbeaten. Mike Dennis rammed across from the one-yard line for the Rebel touchdown that tied the score and Jimmy Keyes' second extra point boot of the day proved the deciding margin. The victory was the seventh straight for Mississippi in its rivalry with the Vols. It was an especially tough defeat for Tennessee, whose star quarterback Charlie Fulton suffered a sprained ankle on the first play of the game. Mississippi shocked the Vols, a crowd of 40,181 and a regional television audience by rallying behind a sophomore quarterback—Joe Graves—who came in early in the game when regular quarterback Jimmy Heidle had trouble moving the ball. It was an exciting battle of sophomore quarterbacks. Graves dueling Tennessee's Dewey Warren, and Warren came out second best, although at one point he had the Vols ahead 13-7. Tennessee, with four wins and two ties coming into the game, had been a slight favorite. The Vols were in the thick of the SEC battle and several bowl scouts were watching them today.

ONE REASON The University of Nebraska has a top-ranking football team this season is a surplus of quarterbacks. Head coach Bob Devaney, center, has his pick between Fred Duda, left, who was the starter until he broke his leg in 1964, and Bob Churchill, right. Churchill, a junior, took over for Duda, who has rejoined the "ready" list.

Froggies Tumble Longhorns, 25-10

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Bruce Alford's four field goals and an inspired defense led Texas Christian to a 25-10 upset victory over Texas Saturday, insuring the once-mighty Longhorns their worst season in a decade. Alford's kicking performance broke a Southwest Conference record for most field goals in one contest. The junior place kicker booted three pointers of 19, 27, 41 and 31 yards. The 41-yarder was the longest of his career. The loss was the fourth of the year for Texas, which at one point this season was near the top in national standings. Both TCU touchdowns and two of the field goals came off miscues by the Longhorns' once machine-like offense. With Texas leading 10-9 near the end of the third period, back Linus Baer fumbled and John Richards fell on it for the Horned Frogs on the Texas 37. TCU needed only five plays to drive over with David Smith scoring on a three-yard pass from halfback Steve Landon. The Frogs surged in the lead and never lost it. Texas fumbled again early in the fourth period and that one resulted in Alford's final field goal. The Longhorns, trying desperately to recover, saw TCU's Cubby Hudler intercept a Marvin Kristynik pass on the Texas 16, and two plays later fullback Kenneth Post went over standing up from the 10. David Conway made good a 44-yard field goal in the first five minutes of the game for Texas, then the Longhorns drove 63 yards in five plays at the top of the third quarter for their 10 points. Fullback Tommy Stockton played his best game of the year, gaining 139 yards in 24 carries and scoring the Horns' only touchdown on a one-yard plunge. But in the end, it was the alert TCU defense that made the big difference, plus occasional pinpoint passing by their quarterback, Kent Nix. He completed 10 of 24 pass attempts for 142 yards. Aggies, Chuck Latourette had scampered for an opening touchdown from two yards out and then took a pitchout 50 yards for a score in the third quarter. The Rice squad scored on its first drive after taking the Aggie kickoff, marching 84 yards for the touchdown. McKaughan brought the Aggies 67 yards in 10 plays on the first A&M scoring drive. Rice had four costly fumbles en route to the loss; its fourth in conference play. The win put the Aggies at 1-5 in league play. Rice double-teamed Aggie end Ken McLean, who went into the game the leading pass receiver in the Southwest Conference. The Aggies could manage only one first down to 12 for the Owls in the first half, with only the booming punts of Phil Seagoin keeping the Aggies in field position. With only three minutes left, McKaughan hit the streaking Poss with a 19-yard strike. Glenn Lindsey added the winning extra point. The Aggies had to come from behind twice, evening the contest at 7-7 early in the second half on a 32-yard McKaughan to Jim Stabler scoring heave. Rice appeared to have the game iced against the slower

Rickey Taken To Hospital

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Branch Rickey, former baseball czar, collapsed Saturday night while making his acceptance speech into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame. Rickey spoke at a Missouri sports hall of fame banquet at the Daniel Boone Hotel. He was taken by ambulance to the Boone County Hospital. Rickey was speaking about spiritual courage when he suddenly collapsed. "I don't believe I'm going to be able to speak any longer," he said and slumped by the podium. Rickey had been hospitalized in St. Louis for more than a week. He was released for Saturday to attend the Missouri-Oklahoma football game and accept the award. He was to return to the hospital later Saturday night. Rickey had been general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals. While with the Brooklyn Dodgers, he broke the color line in baseball by bringing up Jackie Robinson as the first Negro in major league baseball. BLUEBONNET TEN HOUSTON (UPI)—Ten teams are being considered for the Bluebonnet Bowl game Dec. 18 at Rice Stadium, which was announced Friday. They are Texas, Texas Tech, Missouri, Nebraska, Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, Tulsa and Georgia Tech.

Southern Cal. Rolls, 28-0

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Southern California's halfback Mike Garrett scored three touchdowns and ran his yardage for the season past the 1,000 yard mark Saturday while leading the Trojans to an easy 28-0 intersectional victory over Pittsburgh. By rushing for 156 yards, Heisman Award candidate Garrett became the fourth man in Pacific Eight conference history to surpass 1,000 yards for a season. The Pitt Panthers were unable to stop the shifty Garrett, although keying their defenses on him. Garrett scored on short runs in each of the first three periods and was taken out before the fourth quarter USC score. The first time the fifth-ranked Trojans got the ball in the opening period, they marched 78 yards. Garrett went over the 1,000-yard mark on the drive by compiling 56 yards on 10 carries, including the final yard for the TD.

Illinois Smashes Wisconsin, 51-0

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Illinois smashed Wisconsin 51-0 Saturday behind the record-setting running of Jim Grabowski, who broke both Big 10 and school standards. Grabowski broke one Big 10 record and tied another and broke two Illinois' school records. He is the first player in the conference to gain 1,000 or more yards in two consecutive seasons after rolling up 1,004 last year and holding 1,071 this season. His 38 carries tied the old conference mark set by Ernie Parks of Ohio State in 1943. The two school records are the most carried in a season—219, and 38 in one game.

Georgia Tech Jumps Over Virginia, 42-19

ATLANTA (UPI)—Sophomore quarterback Kim King broke four Georgia Tech records Saturday to lead the Yellow Jackets to a 42-19 victory over Virginia. After the game the Tech players voted to accept a bid to the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 31. The bowl bid, which was given to Tech at the end of the game, still must be approved by the school's executive committee. King had to share the spotlight for Tech with Craig Baynham, whose pass receiving tied a Tech record, and Lenny Snow, whose booming runs balanced the Tech attack. Snow, Baynham and Giles Smith each scored two touchdowns. Baynham scored on passes from King for 39 and 10 yards, while Snow scored on runs of one and 10 yards and Smith went over five yards out and three yards. Bunky Henry booted six extra points. Quarterback Bob Davis scored two Cavalier touchdowns on runs of 28 and 10 yards. Fullback Carroll Jarvis scored on a six-yard draw. Georgia Tech players voted Saturday to accept a bid to the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., on New Year's eve after scoring a 42-19 victory over Virginia. The bid was offered by the Gator Bowl selection committee. It still must be approved by the executive committee of Georgia Tech. The Tech team was visited after Saturday's game by Ash Verlander, chairman of the selection committee, and George Olsen, executive vice-president and general manager of the Gator Bowl. Tech announced the "players ally accepted a bid to the Gator Bowl against an opponent unknown." Tech has six wins and two defeats with one game left. TENNIS SPLIT ROME (UPI)—Denmark and Italy split singles matches Friday night in the opening day of the King of Sweden's Cup quarter-finals tennis eliminations. Denmark's Jan Leschly downed Italy's Gaetano Di Maso 6-3, 6-3 and Giordano Maioli of Italy upended Carl Edward Hedelund 6-8, 6-2, 6-4.

Vikings to Test Powerful Colts Today

GALE FORCE—The offense of the Chicago Bears perked up once rookie halfback Gale Sayers was inserted into the lineup as a long distance touchdown threat.

By United Press International
The Minnesota Vikings will be carrying the ball for the rest of the Western Conference when they tackle the bruising Baltimore Colts in Sunday's key National Football League game. And as is the case with most unselfish deeds, the Vikings themselves stand to profit most if they upend the division leaders. A Minnesota victory could turn the western race into a five-team scramble over the final five weeks of the season while a Baltimore success might prove the decisive spur for the Colts second-straight divisional championship. Baltimore, which whipped the Vikings 35-16 in the first game between the two teams, is favored by 2½ points in the clash at Minnesota. Entering this vital weekend of play, Baltimore has a 7-1 record, Green Bay is 6-2, Minnesota and Detroit are tied at 5-3 and Chicago is 4-4. The Packers, who have scored only 17 points in dropping their last two games, are strong 13-point favorites over the Los Angeles Rams at Milwaukee; Detroit is picked by 4½ points on its home field over the San Francisco Forty Niners and the Bears are rated 7 over the St. Louis Cardinals at Chicago. Eastern Ratings In the Eastern Conference, the defending champion Browns are 12½ over the New York Giants at Cleveland, the Dallas Cowboys are 7 over the visiting Pittsburgh Steelers and the Washington Redskins are 2 over the Eagles at Philadelphia. Baltimore quarterback Johnny Unitas, who injured his back last week, is a questionable starter against the Vikings. His workouts were limited during the week and a Colt spokesman said, "We may not know until Sunday if he can play." The Packers may be in for another tough afternoon if quarterback Bart Starr can't snap out of a bad slump. He was thrown 11 times for 109 yards against Detroit last week and had minus yardage passing for the second time in three weeks. Detroit, getting more work out of quarterback George Izo, has won two in a row and is in excellent position to make a run for the top with three straight home games on tap. However, the Forty Niners have the league's top-scoring offense and thus represent an awesome threat. Quarterback John Brodie, who was out last week, remains a question mark for San Francisco with a shoulder separation. His replacement is George Mira. The Bears, who won four straight before falling to Baltimore last week, resume an old rivalry against the Cards, who once played in the windy city. The Bears lead in the series, 40-2-2.

Groom Sews Up 5-B League Title

GROOM (Sp) — Follett and Wheeler were put aside in the 5-B conference race Friday night when Groom sewed up the crown with a 32-14 decision over Follett.

The Tigers didn't do it easily, having plenty of trouble running their season record to 8-0-1 and league mark to 3-0.

Groom has one game remaining, the same as Wheeler, 4-1 in league play, but the Tiger hold the lone victory over the Mustangs in two years and the right to represent the district.

The loss shoved Follett's league mark to 3-2 and their season record to 7-2-1.

Follett tried to do it on the ground and couldn't and Groom mixed passing with a well-balanced running game.

The Tigers scored first when Larry Lamberson scooted 25 yards in the first period and then ran across the conversion for a 8-0 first period lead.

Follett came back to trail only 8-6 at halftime when Terry Mole went in from the eight to cap a 65 yard drive late in the second period.

The Panthers took a short-lived third period lead when Hutchinson returned the second half kickoff 90-yards. Mole then dived in for the conversion for a 14-8 Follett lead.

But Groom got their dander up and moved in for the kill when Terry Cornett and Jerry Roberts got together for a 70-yard pass play. Lamberson ran in the conversion to make it 16-14.

Jerry Littlefield scored minutes later when Cornutt passed 30 yards for a touchdown. Lamberson again ran the conversion to make it 24-14.

In the fourth quarter Littlefield put the icing on the cake by scampering 39-yards to paydirt.

Cornett passed to Roberts for the conversion and the final 32-14 score.

Pirates Score Late to Smother Warriors, 29-20

MIAMI (Sp) — Lefors, contained tightly by Miami for three quarters, broke loose for 21 fourth quarter points and a 29-20 victory over Miami.

The win was the second in five conference outings for the Pirates and the Warriors are still winless in five league games. For the season Lefors is 2-7 while Miami is 2-6.

Miami won everything but the ball game piling up 19-15 first downs; 251-192 in yards rushing; 50-9 in yards passing.

But Gary Smith's two fourth period markers told the story as the Pirates took advantage of a fumble, bad punt and put together a long drive for the victory.

The Warriors scored in the second period to take the lead when they drove 79 yards with Deverl Murphy going over from the three. Gary Lister ran the conversion for an 8-0 halftime lead.

Lefors made it 8-6 in the third period when they recovered a Miami fumble on the Warrior 20. Four plays later Bill McBee scooted 17-yards to score.

Rambling With Red

By RON CROSS

If you took a poll among baseball players you'd find it's great to be connected with the national pastime.

If you took another poll, among those retired from the great sport, you'd find it's even better to have the playing days behind you and be settled down and leading the good life.

Such is the case for at least nine Pampans, all former members of the Pampa Oilers, two with sons now excelling in sports.

None of the nine is from Pampa, but all chose to live here after their retirement from baseball.

It's A Good Town

All were asked why they decided Pampa was the town to live in, since all were from other parts of the states.

Maurice (Lefty) Cox, who played here from '33 through '37 and now works for Cabot, said it was just Pampa and the friendly folk who make up this city.

"I had a job here and had always liked the people and the town, so I just decided this was where I wanted to live."

Lefty, a native of Hot Springs, Ark., played first base for the Oilers and the 'lefty' comes from the fact he is left handed.

Earl Davis, now a radio announcer, was reared in Lakeview and played for Pampa in 1947. He played all over the old Texas League but came back to Pampa to settle down.

"My folks moved here so I came back and liked it, the people here are the friendliest anywhere," Davis said. Foster White, a native Kansan, now employer by Celanese, was a pitcher on the Oilers from 1945-48 and was with the 1948 pennant winners.

He first signed with the Oilers and spent time in the Florida State League and retired after the '48 season. "Really I think I just liked the people. The fact Pampa was really such a friendly town, sold me," Foster said.

"The people here love their baseball and love their baseball players," he said.

Another former Oiler is Frank Kempa, now a beer distributor and native of Bartlesville, Okla. a town known for its baseball players.

Kempa also managed the Amarillo Gold Sox and played for Pampa in 1956, the same year he retired.

"I had a good job here, married a Pampa girl, (the former Beverly Russell) and liked the climate," are the reasons Kempa gave for settling here.

Ozzie Engle, who signed with the Cincinnati Reds, played for the Oilers in 1949-50 and is a native of Meeker, Okla.

Oz, as he is known by his friends, played with Kilgore the year that former pro team won a pennant and playoff in 1948.

Engle married a Pampa girl also (the former Erleen Mathis) and decided this was the town for him.

"Pampa was always a great city for ball players. The people here always had a good word for you," Engle said.

Like Father, Like Son

Max Molberg, a pitcher for the Oilers in 1952-53, is from Fredericksburg, Texas, and has a son following in his footsteps.

His son, Max Jr., went first to West Texas State and since has signed a professional contract with the Houston Astros.

"Pampa is a good town and I had always worked with oil companies, so I decided to stay here," Max gave his reason for staying.

Max played the game for nine years and in his first year won 19 games for an eighth place team.

Another former Oiler with a son giving athletics a try, this one football, is Lloyd Summers, from Alvo, Texas, now in the oil business.

Lloyd's son, Steve, plays quarterback for the Pampa Shockers and seemed destined to have a chance at that position next year for the Harvesters.

But, Steve was injured about a month ago, for the second time in as many years and his football future is doubtful. At least his mother thinks so.

When asked if her son would play next year, Mrs. Summers replied, "I don't think so."

Lloyd chipped in, "I think we'll leave that up to Steve."

One of the most remembered Oilers is Joe Fortin, now in the automobile business and one of youth's best friends.

After dropping out of baseball in 1954 he helped organize the Pampa Optimist club, then played in 1955-56.

Joe played for several teams but ended his career here and decided to remain in Pampa.

Fortin is a native of Detroit, Mich. and married a Pampa girl (the former Vernell Bynum).

"The folks in Pampa are real good people and made it a pleasure to play ball here," Joe said.

Joe was the Oiler slugger, hit four home runs in one game and hit .402 in 1950.

Another of the better known Oilers, who has also made his mark among leaders in the city, is Newt Secrest, now an insurance salesman.

Newt, from Hope, Ark., has been on just about every work committee the Pampa Optimist club has had and helped greatly in the building of Optimist club ball parks in Pampa.

To Wind It Up

Secrest was the Oiler catcher playing here in '49, then went to the Southeast League in '50 and to Borger in '51 before returning here in '52 and staying through the 1957 season, the last for the Oilers.

Newt had the distinction of catching two no-hitters in one year, while playing in the Kitty League.

"I stayed here because you couldn't walk down the street without meeting a friend," Secrest said.

"Pampa is just THE town."

The baseball coach of the Pampa Harvesters is aptly fitted for the job.

He is Deck Woldt, also a former Oiler player and manager.

Deck was the Oiler infielder who led the league in hitting for two years and was working on his teaching degree at the same time.

After retirement, he went to work in the Pampa school system and has made his notch among 3-4A coaches.

Deck came back to Pampa after a hitch with the old Oklahoma City Indians, now the Oklahoma City 89ers.

"I married a Pampa girl and didn't want to leave. I had a chance to coach and teach in Pampa and decided that was best," Woldt said.

Bucks Take District Title; Rip Cyclones

White Deer Fullbacks Carry 41-8 Victory

WHITE DEER (Sp) — Fast moving White Deer made it a clean sweep of their regular 1965 football schedule Friday night by outclassing Memphis, 41-8.

The Bucks two fullbacks, Vernon Marlar and his understudy, Ronnie Sargent, made the Bucks the district 2-A champs, clear-cut, with a 5-0 league record and 10-0 season mark.

Marlar ran three touchdowns and Sargent added two others and the area's scoring leader, lightning fast Randy Elliott, calmly outran the Cyclones 78-yards with a punt return to push White Deer into a state playoff spot next week with Gruver.

The game will be played at White Deer, probably on Friday night.

Coach Collie Huffman's speedsters ran up a 21-0 first period lead, stretched it to 35-0 at halftime and let juniors, sophomores and freshmen take over for the final two periods.

The game was not without its breaks and the Bucks made the most of three Memphis lapses to score.

The Cyclones fumbled the opening kickoff for their first mistake and four plays later Marlar bowled over three players and scampered seven yards to paydirt.

Johnny Mooney, the sure-footed right foot of the Bucks, hit the first of three conversions and with 10:30 still left in the period White Deer was on its way at 7-0.

Memphis made mistake No. 1 about five minutes later when they punted and didn't cover Elliott quickly enough.

The 150-pound halfback picked up the ball and raced 78 yards for the marker, his 116th point of the season and 19th touchdown. Mooney split the up-rights and the Bucks led 14-0 with 4:57 left in the opening period.

This was all Elliott could claim for the night with the Cyclones holding him to only nine yards rushing in five carries.

But the Bucks still weren't through as they recovered a Memphis fumble on the Cyclones 26 yard line.

It took Marlar one carry, again brushing aside would-be tacklers, to score. Mooney booted and it was 21-0 with 2:47 still left in period No. 1.

The two teams exchanged fumbles in the second period with Mooney recovering for the Bucks on the Cyclones 17.

Marlar closed out his scoring for the night by scoring on the first play from the 17. Mooney missed his conversion try but the Bucks led now, 27-0 with 7:42 left in the half.

Another mistake cost the Cyclones, who by this time were wondering what they were doing here.

Mike Pounds attempted to kick on fourth down only to see the ball sail over his head and across the goal line.

He barely beat three Bucks to it but the Bucks had a safety and a safe lead of 29-0 with 6:40 left in the opening half.

Memphis free kicked to the Bucks and Sargent came in to run at the fullback slot.

He picked up 17 yards and scored four plays later from 16 yards out. With 4:59 left in the half it was 35-0 and that's the way the half ended.

The Bucks were able to score only once more, with reserves playing the entire second half.

They drove 63-yards in six plays with Sargent again being the big gun, gaining 59 yards in four carries and going the last 43 for the touchdown. This came with an even four minutes left in the third period and a 41-0 lead.

Sargent's yardage in this drive gave him 93 for the night on seven carries for a 13.2 per carry average while Marlar had 85 yards on seven carries.

Memphis managed a score against the Bucks freshmen team with Mike Nabors scoring on a pass from Tony Pounds that went for 15 yards.

Mike Liner ran across the conversion to make it 41-8 with 4:49 left in the contest.

The win gives the Bucks the distinction of going through two straight seasons without having lost a conference game. Their only loss last season was to Stratford in a bi-district game.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
H. M. Nicholls, fondly called "Nick," was in the Chapter office this past week. Nick lives in Panhandle and is chapter chairman of Carson county also is head of the Civil Defense in that county.

The meeting in Perryton was a wonderful success. Fourteen ladies were capped as Red Cross Volunteers and will wear the blue dresses. They will work in the new home for the aged in Perryton, Senior Village.

Imagine how surprised Mrs. Shotwell was when she went into the home to find one of her Gray Ladies, Mrs. Vern Pendergrass, working in the office. She thought that she should be in uniform again and working with the other girls. Mrs. Pendergrass sent her best wishes to Mr. A. D. McNamara and to the other Gray Ladies in Pampa.

The service in Perryton was in memory of the late Maude Cox who served as executive secretary for Ochiltree county 25 years. Mrs. Shotwell spoke to the group on volunteer service for Red Cross. Margaret Riley, executive secretary for Ochiltree county, poured tea for the group at a beautifully decorated tea table. Sixty guests and friends attended the meeting.

Mrs. Laura Converse is back home she and her husband have been working in Odessa for several months. As soon as she came back to Pampa, we put her to work. Laura is an instructor for first aid and for nursing service.

She stayed in the Red Cross office Tuesday while Mrs. Shotwell attended the meeting in Perryton.

Red Cross volunteers are the heart of our organization. City Hall was closed for Veterans Day, November 11th, but our executive secretary was on the job taking messages at home throughout the day. All Red Cross officers are on call 24 hours of each day and work at home on Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Sam B. Cook has been Mrs. Shotwell's aide in taking messages while she is out of town for the past 12 years. Her phone is listed in the book in the event Mrs. Shotwell cannot be reached.

Charity Ball Will Provide Hearing Tests for Children

The Pampa Daily News

PEGGY JO ORMSON
Women's Editor

ESTABLISHING A program to provide hearing tests for pre-school children in Pampa, is the top project of the Pampa Junior Service League. The League's annual Charity Ball next Saturday evening in the Pampa Country Club is the method used to raise money for the program.

BUDDY STEPHENS, head of Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center, will conduct the tests in First Presbyterian Church April 26, 27 and 28, 1966. Children entering school for the first time in 1966 will be tested with full cooperation of the Pampa public school system.

IN ADDITION to the testing program, the Junior Service League will use a portion of the funds derived from the operation of its Golden Eagle consignment store to provide schooling at the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center for a Pampa child who has a 70 per cent hearing loss.

THE CENTER TRAINS children with speech and hearing problems from infancy through grade school. Out-of-town children attending the school live in foster homes during the week and go home with their parents on weekends.

GUESTS AT the Charity Ball will dance to the music of Johnny Long and his orchestra amid a Mexican village plaza setting in the Country Club ballroom. Highlighting the decor will be a ceiling-high tree covered with leaves and brilliant paper flowers. Encircling the base of the tree will be a rustic wooden bench.

A SPECIAL feature of the Ball will be gaily decorated booths offering for sale a variety of paper, papier mache and enamel gifts made by Mrs. Wiley Reynolds and Mrs. Vernon Watkins, assisted by members of the League. The gift items include mirrors, picture frames, wig stands, paper flowers and Mexican pinatas. Another booth will offer delicious German Christmas cookies made by Mrs. John Horn.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

PAMPA WOMEN are fashion conscious and will be interested in knowing some of the "Fashion Flashes" heard by local ladies in the "big cities." Mrs. Sam (Glenda) Anderson was told by a manager of the ladies department in a leading Oklahoma City store that next year's hemline lengths would be 20 inches below the waist for women 25 years and over and 17 inches for those under 25. Mrs. Jerry (Dale) Davis heard the same hemline lengths in a leading Amarillo store. Mrs. R. A. (Georgia) Mack learned that shoe styles would be completely different next year with ankle straps making a return to the fashion scene while on a recent trip to Dallas. But with hemlines being that short who is going to look at women's shoes? Notes on the Pampa fashion scene: Jerry Grayson donned a brilliant red-suit and white felt hat to lunch with Elsa Plant who wore a two-piece winter white dress and matching hat. Mrs. Tom (Harlene) Rose was seen in a knit suit of gold and charcoal gray tweed coat, lapped in charcoal gray with matching gray dress. Mrs. Dick (Faye) Walker arrived at Coronado Inn in a red knit suit with white blouse and accents, and black accessories. A strikingly large, red velvet hat drew attention to Mrs. Rex (Koell) McKay's gray and red plaid wool dress while Mrs. Jim (Ann) Campbell was seen Sunday in a most unusual large, black sheared beaver hat. She wore a wine wool suit. Mrs. Harold (Daphne) Baer selected a royal blue suit with touches of kelley green and a matching fez-type hat. Mrs. Raymond (Icie) Harrah wore the newest fall-color combination in a wool suit of gray, trimmed with beige and topped with a small blending feather hat.

FRIENDS OF MRS. Paul (Mary) Keim were sorry to hear of the severe acid burns received by Mrs. Keim in a school laboratory accident recently. However Mrs. Keim is such a wonderful person that she could think of others during her hospitalization. She instigated and arranged for a small boy burn victim to take part in the "trick-or-treating" on Halloween night by going from room to room in the hospital wing in a wheel chair and found treats at each stop. Mrs. Bill (Bonnie) Chambless, Mrs. Walt (Betty) Bailey and Mrs. Ray (Marcella) Hudson went to Amarillo recently to hear Nelson Bennett speak on "This Changing World of Art" in the Dord Fitz Gallery. Bennett told of his career as a trapeze artist and great clown and of the 67 years since he, at five years of age, began modeling for some of the world's foremost painters and sculptors. G. E. and Opal White, administrators of Pampa Nursing Home, were among the 500 nursing home representatives who attended the recent Texas Nursing Home Association Annual Convention in Houston. The Texas Nursing Home Association is a professional association serving proprietary and non-profit nursing, convalescent and custodial care homes in Texas. Members of District 23, Texas Nurses Association, are giving a reception for Miss Katherine Peirce in Sands-Motel in Borger at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow. Miss Peirce, a graduate of Wilkes Barre General Hospital School of Nursing, attended San Antonio College and Incarnate Word in San Antonio, retired from the Army Nurse Corps this year. She is the assistant director of the Texas Nurses Association. An invitation to meet and hear this distinguished state officer is extended to all nurses in the area.

MRS. DON (Marion) George received first prize in the adult division of the wood sculpture section at the Texas State Fair in Dallas with her three-figure carving of "The Matadors." Mrs. George's carving of St. Andrew received the award of merit at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. Harold Comer, Gray County March of Dimes campaign chairman, Mrs. R. A. (Georgia) Mack and daughter Mary Ann attended a March of Dimes leader's training course recently in Dallas. Representatives from Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas were present for the course in helping fight birth defects. Before returning, the group enjoyed a foliage tour in Oklahoma where they saw the shumate and oak trees beautifully arrayed in autumn colors. Among Pampanos attending the Irish Rose Bridge Tournament in Shamrock were Mrs. R. A. (Velma) Baker, Barbara Zigler, Mrs. Jess (Ethel) Clay and Greeley and Janet Warner. Linda Meech recently was the houseguest of Joanne Larson at the Kappa Delta House at the University of Oklahoma where they attended the Oklahoma-Iowa football game. Dorothy and Ben Hamilton have returned from a trip to Beaumont and Houston. Recent guests in the home of Rev. Harry and Barbara Vanderpool were both their parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Thorp and Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Vanderpool, all of Dallas. Seems the particular reason for the visit was the birthday celebration of twin grandsons, Phil and Pat Vanderpool. Mrs. R. W. (Ada) Lane enjoyed a visit from her sister, Mrs. T. R. (Louise) Hickman of Dallas this past week.

SINCE "STEPPING on the toes" of motorists driving through school zones in a recent column, a number of local teachers think that something should be said concerning the students assuming their part of the responsibility and respecting the rights of motorists. Many students, they say, walk right down the streets and dare cars to move them, dart in and out through moving cars and do other hazardous things that are unnecessary. It is reported that at noontime the carelessness of students leaving Robert E. Lee Junior High is especially noticeable as they leave school and walk along Perryton Parkway. It is the responsibility of motorists of course, to take precautions necessary to keep from injuring these students, but the students, many of whom are old enough to operate an automobile, certainly should be wise enough to abide by the rules of common courtesy, too. Seen dining together last Sunday at Coronado Inn were Mrs. Clyde (Laura) Fatheree and son David and wife, Mary Beth, and Gene Fatheree and son Richard, who was home for the weekend from the University of Oklahoma. Another family group seen was Roy and Jimmie Bourland and daughter and son-in-law, Sahra and Jim Leverich, and grandson, Rick Leverich. Mrs. Ed (Nancy) Watt entertained her Thursday morning bridge club in the Watt home and the group lunched at Pampa Country Club. Mrs. George (Catherine) Snell, Mrs. Russell (Zenobia) Holloway, Mrs. Ed (Sandy) Williams, Mrs. Tom (Harlene) Rose, Mrs. Clinton (Donna Jo) Evans, Mrs. Kirk (Jean) Duncan and Mrs. Homer (Mary) Johnson enjoyed a morning of bridge in the home of Mrs. Johnny (Fern) Hines. Richard Rath, son of George and Alpha Rath and senior at West Texas State University, plays oboe and English horn in Amarillo Symphony, is a member of WTSU concert band, saxophone in the college dance band and is president of Phi Mu Alpha Symphonica fraternity. With all these activities Rath has found time to organize a combo of college students and the group will be available to play for dances in the Pampa area.

Miss Moran Weds Eldon W. McCraw

In a double-ring ceremony at Grace Baptist Church of Florey, Miss Iris Carlene Moran became the bride of Eldon Wayne McCraw at 8 o'clock the evening of Oct. 29.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Moran of Florey, former Skellytown residents, and Mrs. Mary Krebbs of Sherman.

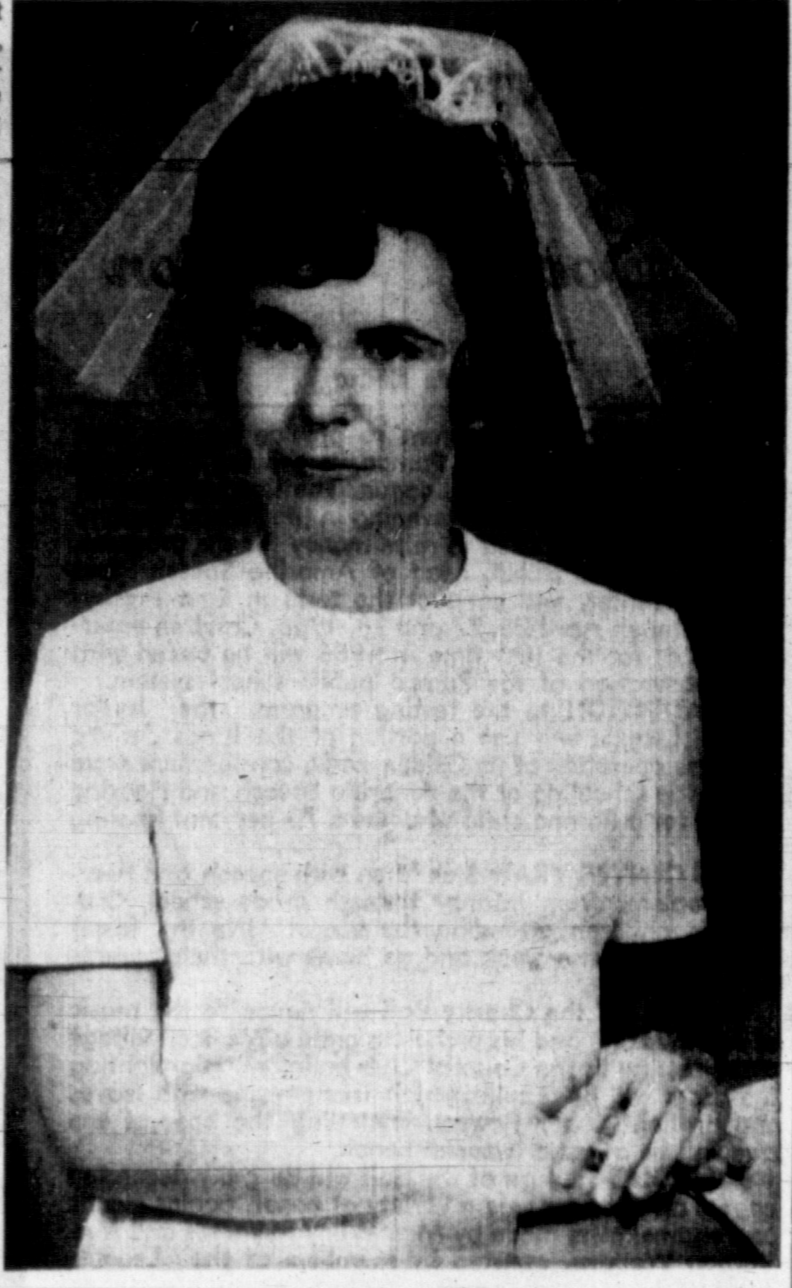

The rites were read by the church pastor, Rev. Boyce D. Brannan with the father of the bride giving her in marriage. A large basket of white mums decorated the altar.

Miss Moran chose a wedding dress of heavy cotton lace overlaid with white linen, with matching shoes and carried a bouquet of white roses with bridal satin cascades atop a white Bible. Her short, circular veil was attached to an iridescent and pearl-embroidered tiara.

Miss Carol Ann Butler attended as maid of honor wearing a two-piece dress made of mauve pink wool with matching shoes. Her halo band of matching pink held a short circular veil. She carried a crescent arrangement of matching pink carnations and roses.

Butch Grant was best man. The bride and her parents have lived at Florey for seven years. She graduated from White Deer High School and is employed with G. F. Wacker Store.

The bridegroom attended Sherman High School and has lived here for three years. He is employed with Piggly Wiggly. Only the immediate family and close friends attended the wedding, including the bride's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs.

Mrs. Eldon Wayne McCraw ... nee Miss Iris Carlene Moran

James C. Carrell, Jane and Sue, all of Sunray. The bride's mother was attending in a dress of turquoise wool with a red rose corsage and black accessories.

Mrs. McDaniel Presents Program At TC Forum Club's Guest Day Coffee

Pampa Club was the scene for Twentieth Century Forum's annual Guest Day Coffee. Sharing hostess duties were Mrs. Holt Barber and Mrs. William Spidell assisted by Mrs. Hugh Barton and Mrs. R. J. Lockett. Guests were welcomed by Mrs. John Sweeney, club president. Mrs. J. R. Holloway introduced the speaker, Mrs. M. McDaniel. Mrs. McDaniel presented the program on the noted Spanish artist Francisco Jose de Goya y Lucientes. She stated that he was the youngest of Spain's "old masters" — the other two being Valesquez and El Greco.

"Goya was born in Aragon in 1746 and according to popular belief, his life was as tempestuous as that of a hero of any picturesque historical romance. Much has been repeated of his armours and escapades and of his bullfighting, a vivid mixture of fact and fancy. But probably the outstanding event in his life was the incurable deafness which affected the artist in mid-life and shut him up in a world of silence. From this solitary world he saw things as they had not been seen before; and in his work he predicted how others must see them in time to come," Mrs. McDaniel began.

"Goya dealt unflinchingly with such matters as despair and death, violence and anarchy, suffering and fear. These are commonplace topics in our daily press and in the literature of our times. But no earlier artist had set them forth so pungently or so unreservedly as did Goya. But he also dealt just as forthrightly and perceptively with play and sport, with strength, beauty — especially of women, and bravery. And he was a superb portraitist.

"Since Goya's death 125 years ago a large number of his paintings have found their way to private and public collections in America. But while his work is so well represented in this country, almost a hundred of Goya's canvases, including many of the most celebrated ones, remain in Spain's Prado Museum."

Members present were Mmes. Harold Barrett, Holt Barber, Hugh Barton, J. R. Holloway, R. W. Harmon, R. J. Lockett, John Sweeney, Frank Stolla, William Ellis, E. J. Dunigan, Arthur Teed, William Spidell, F. J. Vendrell, Homer Johnson and M. McDaniel. Guests attending were Mmes. E. S. F. Branlard, Jeff Bearden, Wayne Blewett, B. D. Kessel, Johnny Hines, Clinton Evans, Boyd Taylor, Ed Keifer, Ralph Ludwig, Julian Key, V. G. Johnston, Russell Nees, W. R. McKinney, Charles Brauchle, S. J. 16 THE PAMPA DAILY SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1965 58TH YEAR

To Submit Wedding And Engagement Announcements

Submitting your engagement and wedding stories to the newspaper for publication is a relatively simple procedure.

There is no cost for publication. However, it is necessary that the bride-elect observe department deadlines. Monday at 12 noon is the deadline for the following Sunday's newspaper.

Wedding and engagement forms are available at the Society Desk and can be picked up during regular office hours. Information concerning wedding plans is not submitted over the telephone.

Pampa engagement stories with pictures should be submitted six weeks prior to the date of the wedding. Pictures should be studio portraits, 2x3 black and white glossy prints with plain backgrounds. Pictures should be clear and sharp for best reproduction.

Engagement stories without pictures must be submitted in sufficient time to allow publication at least four weeks ahead of the wedding date.

Local wedding stories and pictures must be turned in BEFORE the wedding is solemnized. The Women's Department asks to have the wedding story and picture by Monday at 12 noon before the wedding takes place. Pictures should be studio portraits, 5x7 or 8x10 black and white glossy of the BRIDE ALONE with a plain background.

Area wedding and engagement stories (originating in a city other than Pampa) have the same deadlines and picture requirements. Most area towns (See SUBMIT, Page 17)

Dear Abby... Snoring Snorts From Tired, Sleepless Mates

DEAR ABBY: Apropos snoring mates. Mine snores so loud, it's separate rooms for us. When we travel, we request separate hotel rooms. Separate floors is better, adjoining rooms isn't far enough away from him. It hasn't interfered with our love life, either. A woman who does not get her sleep makes a poor mate. She's cranky, irritable and has no energy. Nuts to what people say, I need my sleep.
MILWAUKEE MRS.

DEAR ABBY: If you come up with a remedy for snoring let me know. I've tried everything. The plastic ear plugs almost punctured my eardrums, and the beeswax ear plugs fell out of my ears and stuck in my hair. My doctor gave me sleeping pills but I'm afraid I'll become addicted. Believe it or not, my husband is a policeman and he is afraid to sleep alone. If I slip out and sleep on the couch, he comes looking for me. This hero is 56 years old.
BROOKLYN

DEAR ABBY: When our family decreased and there was a spare room available, I took it over because my husband's snoring disturbed my sleep. It was like closing the door on an intimacy of 31 years. Well, Abby, after five years of sleeping apart, my advice to a young bride is, "Don't under any circumstances, take a room by yourself. Stuff your ears, put a pillow over your head, take a sleeping pill, but don't leave his bed. And don't let him leave yours."
Take it from a 58-year-old woman. Something dies when a man and his wife quit sleeping together. I can't explain it. It's not sex, either. It's something more important. And you'll never get it back. I know. I've tried.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has snored off and on for 33 years and I wouldn't think of trying to cure him. You see, Albert snores only when he has a guilty conscience. After having been kept awake most of the night because he's snored up a storm, I cross-examine him. And sure enough—he's been up to something. Either women or gambling. He's almost 60 now and he's cut down on his snoring. I presume he has less to feel guilty about. I'm sure he still gambles, however.
OLIVIA

DEAR ABBY: If my husband only snored in his sleep, I'd be happy. He thrashes around, kicks, hollers, grinds his teeth and swings his fists. I was always black and blue and a nervous wreck from lack of sleep. I went to a doctor and he prescribed tranquilizers for my husband. He refused to take them, so I take them, and it helps a lot.

TRANQUILIZED

DEAR ABBY: You haven't heard snoring until you've heard my little wife snore. She denied it so I had a tape recording made. We sometimes play it for laughs. She sleeps with her mouth open, so when the racket gets too bad I just reach over and pinch her nose shut and she quits.
MARVIN

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't resist your survey on snoring mates. My husband is a U. S. Congressman, and his snoring is so bad that when he campaigns no one will sleep with him. Once when we were vacationing we stopped at a motel. The manager called us at 2 a.m. asking if he could move us to a cabin away from the others because he had so many complaints from the people around us. He's putting on weight, and the heavier he gets, the louder he snores.
USED TO IT

DEAR ABBY: Sure my husband snores, but I am happy to say that separate bedrooms never entered my mind. In my opinion that's the quickest way to a marital break-up. I just accept it as I do any other disturbance, such as noisy neighbors, barking dogs, traffic noise. You can put up with anything if you want to.

Twentieth Century Guests Entertained At Fall Tea in Lovett Memorial Library

Friends who met at the Twentieth Century Club Guest Day Tea had a most delightful time. As one entered the Lovett Memorial Library assembly room, the atmosphere was warm and cheery. The hostesses, Mrs. Frank Culbertson, Mrs. Robert Lyle, and Mrs. Joe Gordon had covered the table with an orange cloth, and the floral centerpiece was a horn of plenty spilling over with yellow chrysanthemums. Varieties of sandwiches and petits fours were served along with the spiced tea and coffee.

After refreshments the group of 55 listened as Mrs. Jack Stroup introduced Mrs. Clifford Everhart, who told all about Graphology, the science of interpreting handwriting. The speaker began by drawing samples of different "t's" and telling the audience what character trait was obvious by the way the "t's" were made. Peristalsis, domination, being stubborn, over sensitivity, independence, enthusiasm, initiative and analytical thinking were among those mentioned. Mrs. Everhart said "The placing of the crossing line tells where the writer's goal in life is, whether it is too high, practical or no faith in what one is doing. A person who writes heavy is usually a biased person. A person making an 'm' with pointed humps has a quick mind. A slow writer is not necessarily slow of mind. It can mean a creative mind. One who writes small has a great power of concentration. "There are eight basic steps in studying handwriting," Mrs. Everhart continued. "In studying a persons handwriting one divides the space into three parts. The top of the letters tells of a persons religion, the middle space denotes thinking habits, and the lower space indicates materialistic attitudes."

Mrs. Everhart said a real service is rendered by graphologist in forgery and questioned documents cases. After answering many questions she took samples of handwriting from people present and analyzed them for the group.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

For SUNDAY, NOV. 14

GENERAL TENDENCIES: — Thinking in generous terms of others and really living the Golden Rule instead of merely mouthing the words of the good will and active assistance of all with whom you have any sort of contact. Be charming and agreeable on the surface even though you may have some reservations within your own mind.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — A cheery word and a smiling exterior can certainly rid the atmosphere around you of depression. Get into the mood of positive pleasures. Be kind to yourself.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Don't be forceful with kin in trying to have them do your bidding, but show gentle ingenuity instead. Avoid arguments. Use more orthodox methods with everyone if you want to get ahead faster.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Carry through with any spiritual or other study you have planned today and listen carefully to what others who have wisdom are saying. Drive carefully, walk slowly. Avoid making petty comments.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Try not to spend a great deal for no good reason at all except to put up a false front, or there is trouble. Be kind to others. Give only where it is truly necessary, also.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Let others see your finest qualities instead of being forceful in order to attain personal goals. Be social. Know your own strengths and weaknesses, and lose prestige.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Quietly and you find that they are very loyal to you, help you in time of need, and give you a share of their own.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — You have to use charm in contacting good friends now and avoid getting temperamental. Use diplomacy in any social affairs. Keep both purse and mouth zipped to a goodly extent.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Concentrating on getting greater prestige with higher-ups is best outlet for today. The very kind, low-keyed, reserves, too. Plan a better way to get things done in the future, too.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — If you think along more spiritual and scientific lines, you know better how to operate in the days to come. Talk less. Gain more prestige with new friends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Getting obligations out of the way is best now instead of trying to put across new ideas for expansion. Listen to what mate has to say. Study then, instead of being critical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — There is pressure being brought to bear on partners, so don't think they are trying to break up with you. Understand their motives. Be kind buy little gifts.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Don't give too much attention to small duties, but get them out of the way quickly. Get your wardrobe, health improved, too. Put your home in better order — forget buddies for now.

For MONDAY, NOV. 15

GENERAL TENDENCIES: — Only by making a special point to charm those with whom you come in contact will you be able to carry on your daily duties now without some sort of a problem arising. Both they and you are apt to be resentful that conditions do not seem to work out as you anticipated. Smile.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Although you want to get out to new types of recreation, be sure first to get important promises kept with higher-ups. Be more efficient in your work. Use to do. Show you are on the beam.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Now you have a better understanding what others desire from you at home and should carry thru, not renege. It may be a bit of a sacrifice. Show that you have control, boss.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Although you are bored with regular work, etc., carry through valiantly, even tho you want to get out for fun. Show that you are a born inventor. Make your routine more light, efficient.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Try to delight those persons whose affairs nicely straightened out. You have a great understanding of financial and property matters. Use it wisely.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Your kin wants you to more or less give up some plan you have in mind, but actually it needs a little revision. Then they will back you. Meet obstacles as a challenge you like.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Don't expect a great deal from others at this time, but see what you can do for them instead. Study more if you want to get into new outlets. Become very proficient in your new work.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — It is better to listen to what higher-ups have to say instead of interjecting yourself, right now. Avoid taking risks of any kind. Big trouble could ensue from such a course.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — You must carry through with your share of any work before going off on some fun party etc. Some message that seems gratifying.

Duane Bartee Talks on 'Conservation' For Members of Varietas Study Club

Duane Bartee, district area conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service under the Department of Agriculture, was guest speaker at the meeting of Varietas Study Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. R. Spearman, 1707 Mary Ellen with Mrs. J. R. Kirchman, president presiding.

During the business meeting, the club voted to continue its annual gift box to the Wichita Falls Hospital, with members bringing their gifts to the Nov. 23 meeting. Mrs. Joe Z. Weaver, project chairman, outlined the gift plan.

Mrs. J. R. Spearman, program chairman for the day, spoke briefly on conservation of natural resources and then introduced Mr. Bartee, whose work covers 11 counties of this area. His talk was concerned with all types of conservation, and he accompanied his lecture with slides illustrating good use and waste of soil, water, plant life, wild life, recreation, and beautification. He urged his audience to become concerned, since women control more land than do men, since urban areas are affected along with rural sections, and since lost resources require between 100 and 1,000 years to be replaced by nature. He gave a short history of types of conservation from ancient times to the present dwelling on present-day practices. He stressed that top soil must be retained and flooding must be controlled, in order to prevent erosion, dust, and damage to crops, grasslands, and homes. He discussed floodwater retarding projects, grass waterways, terracing, cover crops, farm ponds, soil treatment by nitrogen, and the clearing of mesquite land—all of which conserve resources. Each of his topics was emphasized by color slides. He closed by inviting club members to submit suggestions for land beautification to his office at any time. After the lecture, he held a question-and-answer period.

The hostess served assorted cakes, cookies, nuts, tea, and coffee, with the club president presiding at the table. Six guests, Mrs. C. S. Boston, Mrs. John R. Spearman, and her four children, John R. Jr., Melinda, Mary Margaret, and Jay, were present. Club members present were Mmes. H. H. Butler, F. A. Cary, Ellis Cheney, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Dosier, S. C. Evans, Lee Harrah, John Kelly, J. E. Kirchman, R. W. Lane, C. L. McKinney, Otis Nace, Luther Pierson, J. R. Spearman, Sherman White and Joe Z. Weaver.

There's No Dearth of Gifts for Her

GIFTS FOR HER — If she likes perfume, she will enjoy a fragrance that, once used, is claimed to last all day (top left). Fun for any coed is the Op Sock 2 in black and white with matching Op Cap (top right). Made of stretch nylon, one size fits all. An ideal gift for the young individualist is a charm bracelet or necklace and pendant

By HELEN HENNESSY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — The canny people who do their Christmas shopping early and at a leisurely pace evoke a sigh of envy from the rest of us.

But last-minute shoppers can make their chore easier by investing in a pad, pencil and the daily local paper with news of what's in the stores. Good organization is half the battle. Now sit in an easy chair and plan your list.

First, for the gals to be gifted, from teen-aged Sue to octogenarian aunt Kate, you can't go wrong when you select toiletries.

Perfume is good for any age and a new one on the market promises all-day fragrance from just one application.

There are multicolored-lipsticks and eye-shadows to give the new, popular tone-on-tone effect. And girls who exchange gifts might give some thought to the fact that this is a big year for false eyelashes. They even come in mink for evening wear.

Still on the beauty wagon, there are electric manicuring sets and transistorized nail files for the woman who likes a touch of luxury on her dressing table.

Costume jewelry has come into its own and can be given and worn with a flair. Favorites are bracelets and necklaces of ancient coins and replicas of old stamps. For the coed there are kill-pins, all traditionally brushed and feathered. And for the frequent diner-out you'll find fancy monocles on neck chains. These make menu reading a cinch even in the dimmest-lit restaurants.

Textured stockings or knee socks will be a hit with the young set and their older sisters will delight in sheer evening hose with just a small touch of embroidered, applied or jeweled design.

A small, precious fur is a gift often chosen by a husband for his wife. But the wise man will let her select her own. If chicanery can prevent her from guessing that she's choosing her own Christmas gift, so much the better. If not, it's wiser to forego the surprise element. At least the man who signs the check will be sure that she gets what she wants for such a large expenditure.

These suggestions hopefully will stimulate jotting down on that gift ideas for the feminine contingent. But a word of caution on those false eyelashes.

Better let the gals buy them for their women friends. A guy shopping for his girl should steer clear of them. This kind of gift would be an admission that he knows she hasn't been batting her own and he might have to get another date for New Year's Eve.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Toweling Augments Apron, Saves Clothing
By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — Some women prefer wearing aprons without bibs but they do not want grease from frying bacon or other foods spattered on the fronts of their clothes. I take two sheets of paper toweling still fastened together and tuck one end in the neck of my dress and the other under the apron band. When the frying is finished, remove the paper towels and have a clean dress front. Use the towels to wipe off the stove.

—DOROTHY
GRLS — This is for me as I have a definite aversion by aprons with bibs. —POLLY
DEAR POLLY — Never throw away those little twists that come around bakery goods. When I want to hang a drip-dry garment outdoors but am afraid the dress hanger might blow off the line, I use one of those twists to fasten the hanger hook to the line.

MRS. A. R.
DEAR POLLY — Those little paperback books are wonderful as they allow us all to enjoy so many good books. Where to keep them is a problem. I find that a large shoe box, with the top put on the bottom of the box for reinforcement, will hold a dozen or more in file order.

Men's Pants Are Going Feminine

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Don't be surprised if hubby buys a pair of polka-dotted leisure slacks within the next season or two. A man who has the say-so in production of five to six million slacks a year feels it in his bones that men's pants are going the way of women's fashions.

They're going to become more gaudy, including polka dots. And, says E. G. Rosenblatt, president and chairman of Master Trousers Corp., the men are going to accessorize their polka-dotted and otherwise decorated pants by lug-ging carry-alls that can only seem like a lady's handbag.

One reason: As the pants take on more feminine airs, they're likely to lose some of that stashing room in pockets. Call the polka-dotted pants measles pants or the spotted look or what you will, but they're almost certain to put in an appearance. And, soon after, a disappearance.

That is, after a season or two of making it to fashion's front ranks Rosenblatt said this is because the designers of men's leisure pants are taking a page from women's fashions.

"The trend is forced obsolescence," he said.

The means dots or checker-board plaids will be in one season and just as swiftly out the next season.

Rosenblatt is the third generation of his family to make a living by turning fabrics into men's trousers.

"The biggest thing to happen to men's pants in all that time is baked pants," he said. When pants are baked, the crease stays in.

"This development of a permanent crease," he said, "will be hard to surpass."

Bethany SS Class Has Breakfast Meet

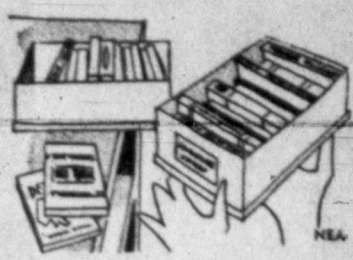

Members of Bethany Class of First Baptist enjoyed a breakfast meeting recently in the country home of Mrs. E. F. Vanderburg. Mr. Vanderburg gave the invocation preceding the meal.

Miss Edna King presented the devotional, "Nice People or New People," a review of a sermon by C. S. Lewis, famous orator.

Following the devotional Mrs. Rachel Hutto, president, conducted a business session and Mrs. R. T. Clemens, class teacher, gave the benediction.

Guests welcomed were Mmes. G. L. Wilson, Claude Wilson, Joy Rice, Sue Smiley and Messrs. Jess. Reeves and Vanderburg.

Members present were Mmes. R. T. Clemens, Rachel Hutto, Myrtle McDaniel, Jessie McKinney, L. H. Greene, T. V. Lane, A. B. Reser, Cora Patterson, Pearl Gamage, Lela Phelps, Jess Reeves, P. G. Turner, Lizzie Henry, Clara Vandover, Mabel Winter, O. T. Egerton, E. F. Vanderburg and Miss Edna King.

The boxes can be covered with paper or painted. When put in a bookcase, labels could be typed and pasted on the ends of the boxes. I keep one in the kitchen for cookbooks, one in the bedroom for nighttime reading. They are easy to carry or store.

—RUTH
DEAR POLLY — I would be so grateful if one of the girls (or a man) could tell me what to do about squeaking hardwood floors in a 25-year-old house that is in good condition otherwise.

—MARTHA
DEAR POLLY — To make a simple homemade holder for men's hats, attach three 1 1/2-inch-long empty thread spools to a 26-inch-wide closet door, using long screws placed about 1 1/2 inches apart. (Polly's note: Place the first screw in the center of the door and then measure out from it, at either side, for the other two.) Attach a wire, aluminum or copper preferred, to the outer end of the spools and loop down about eight inches between the spools. I stained my spools to match the wood to the door. Hats fit into these wire "scallops" that are much like men's hat hangers sold in stores.

For her wedding the bride was attired in a street-length dress of light blue chiffon featuring a scooped neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and lace jacket. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Austin Cantrell attended as matron of honor wearing a blue knit suit and white carnation corsage. Austin Cantrell served as best man to the bridegroom.

Disco Dancers Wearing Moire

GLASS DISCO DANCING — Moire sets the pace for holiday dancing fashions. Black moire discotheque dress (left) is for those who will step lively throughout the season. A velvet shoestring bow ties together layers of lace at shoulders and hem. Skimmer with mailman's pouch (right) has above-the-knee hem and white trim. These designs are by Daphne, a division of Puritan Fashions.

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — What is black and white and worn all over? Snappy little moire skimmers with high hemlines, low waistlines, sleeves snipped off at the shoulders. They're perfect for festive get-togethers, nights at the theater and striking a pose under the mistletoe. Moire, a fabric with a fasci-inating history, appears, on today's fashion scene for the holidays looking as elegant as it did at court 200 years ago.

The word derives from the English "mohair." In the 17th century these silky goat hairs were watered and used as cloak linings for English gentlemen. The watering process eventually was applied to ribbed or corded silks that were passed between engraved rollers. These cylinders pressed a design on the cloth which reflected light in a "watered" pattern. It was called moire.

In the 19th century, American ladies of fashion wore long trailing moire skirts under velvet bodices. Later it became popular for dressy coats because of its adaptability to temperate climates and a variety of occasions.

Today moire fits perfectly with the pace of the jet age. Its vibrant texture and crisp shape take the frug and the shake in stride. Wrinkle-resistant, it's amazingly packable, too.

A new line of black and white moire evening dresses (by Daphne) flatters every complexion and figure type. Many have a touch of white at the neckline to add luster to the lively faces above. Nothing touches the waistline, yet moire follows the figure in motion. Above-the-knee hemlines accent beautiful dancing legs and the designs are so simple they would seem like daytime dresses if it were not for the elegant fabric. Shoes to wear with the new

Mrs. Cowart Hosts Skelly Cub Meeting SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Skelly Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Mary Cowart, in Skelly Schater Camp east of Skellytown. Mrs. Ben Wesner assisted the hostess.

A Thanksgiving theme was carried out in decorations. During the business meeting the club's Christmas party was planned for Dec. 7 in the home of Mrs. Elmer Nichols. Each member and guest is to bring a gift for exchange.

Mrs. Bill Truitt was elected as the club's secretary and treasurer, due to the vacancy left by Mrs. Bill Lewellyn who moved to Eunice, N.M. skimmers are news, too. Low, flat silk and patent slippers with instep bows replace the wobbly court pumps and high button shoes wore with more in other times.

It's a long way from the days of the minuet. But moire makes the shift with elegance.

Hostesses for the event were Mmes. Oran Simpson, C. L. Crafton, W. E. Reger, Rex Taylor, W. A. Baten, Goldie Bennett, Maxine Bennett and Clyde Dorman.

The honoree received a corsage fashioned of kitchen utensils and dish cloths. House party members wore white carnation corsages.

The serving table, covered with a floor-length blue net cloth over satin, was centered with an open Bible with blue flowers placed across the pages, flanked by crystal holders bearing blue tapers. Mrs. Crafton and Mrs. Reger presided at the crystal punch bowl and Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Goldie Bennett served the cake. Miniature blue and white umbrellas were used as plate favors. Guests were registered by Mrs. C. Pearson, honoree's cousin.

The Mature Parent
Don't Judge Daughter's Uncertainty Too Quickly
By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: We are worried over our daughter's relationship to a man she's been going with. She has been crying on several occasions when we telephoned her. Last month she came home for a weekend in a very nervous state and told us it was all over. But two nights ago when her father put in a call to her, this man answered. We know it was him from the excitable way she spoke. She is only 23 and we are afraid she is headed for trouble by seeing this man again.

ANSWER: Not necessarily. Maybe what she's headed for isn't trouble but a final and firm decision against this unsatisfactory attachment.

The young don't always trust their distrust of people they believe themselves in love with. Hurt by the person, angered by his evasiveness or neglect, they will try to end the relationship. But almost at once, inner argument for resuming it begins. Their memories of the person's attractions begin to attack their awareness of his hurtfulness, finding excuses for it, arguing for reconciliation with him. Between the memories of his attractions and their fear of loneliness, their awareness of his irresponsibility subsides and they resume the relationship.

Noting this uncertainty, we think, "How weak is this child of mine! Maybe she needs psychotherapy! Maybe she's one of those awful things — a masochist — a creature who actually enjoys being kicked in the teeth."

But quite often the child isn't weak at all and has resumed the relationship, not out of masochistic pleasure, but out of uncertainty of judgment. She has resumed the relationship not because she lacks self-protective strength but because she's got it. Needing more evidence of the seductive person's irresponsible character to make her final judgment on it, she's gone about getting it in the only way possible to her — seeing him again, dating him again, checking on what she really knows again.

Since this world of ours compels our inexperienced children to come up with final decisions on the goodness or badness of a sexual relationship, they're bound to experience conflict in making those decisions. Experienced judges of human character know that a person who has hurt us is probably going to continue to hurt us. People of 23 are not experienced judges of human character. But we can be too quick with fear for them.

Foods have less flavor when they are cold which is something to keep in mind when serving canned fruits. The fruit will seem more flavorful if the can is opened and the fruit is allowed to come to room temperature.

Lives of Thomas and Martha Jefferson Discussed at TC Culture Luncheon

The Twentieth Century Culture Club held its fall luncheon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer with Mmes. Otto Specht, J. L. Chase and A. L. Wagner as co-hostesses. The theme for the year, "Parade of Presidents," was carried out in the table centerpieces and decorations.

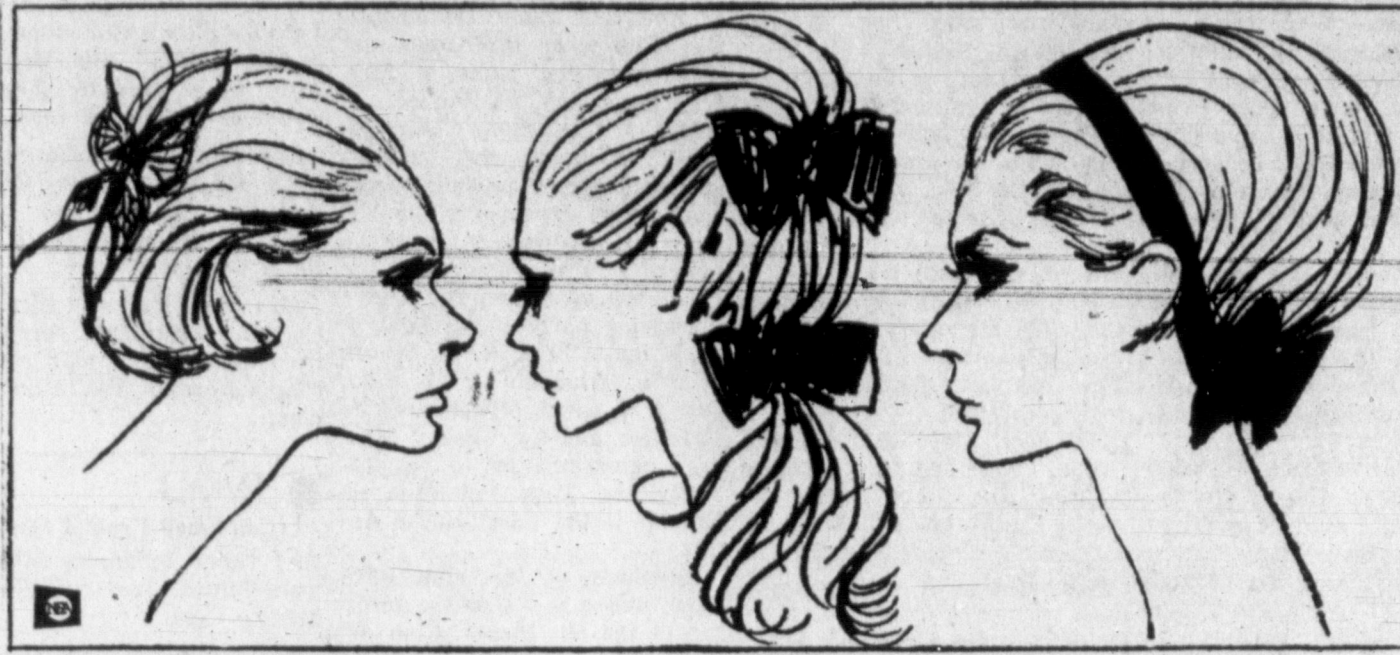

Following the luncheon a business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Doyle Osborne.

Mrs. J. R. Donaldson presented an informative and interesting program on the lives of Thomas and Martha Jefferson. "More than any other man, Thomas Jefferson has formed and molded the American mind and spirit," Mrs. Donaldson stated. "Jefferson was not merely a theorist, but a very practical man. He held that all men are created equal and did more than any man of his time to bring about equality among men in America. He is best remembered as a great President and the author of the Declaration of Independence. He won fame also as a statesman, diplomat, and political philosopher, and as the founder of the Democratic party."

"In addition, he was the foremost American architect of his time. He was well known as a scientific farmer, and cultivated the finest gardens of his time. His many inventions included the dumb-waiter, and the swivel chair. He was responsible for the convenient decimal system of coinage which allows men to keep accounts in dollars and cents. He collected the finest private library on the American continent — a library which became the nucleus of the Library of Congress. Along with all these things, he somehow found time to draft a "Manual of Parliamentary Practice," which is still used, to translate the plays of Aeschylus and Sophocles, to compile his own Bible, and to prepare vocabularies of the Indian Languages. He also played the violin and took part in Chamber-Music concerts."

"A distinguished American historian says of him, 'More fully than any other figure, Jefferson embodied qualities characteristic of the American of his day and the American that was to be'."

New Variations on Alice' Theme

INSPIRED HAIR STYLES — Hair style inspirations come from unexpected sources. Little did a minister in 1862 realize his story-telling to three small girls would have an impact on hairdos a century later. Sketched here are three interpretations of Alice in Wonderland hair designs by John Bernard for his Coiffure Salons patrons in New York City. These result from sketches made by Lewis Carroll (the Rev. Charles L. Dodgson) for his handwritten book, the original "Alice's Adventures Under Ground." Facsimile editions (published by University Microfilms, Inc.) this year commemorate the 100th anniversary of Carroll's expanded "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," published in England in 1865. Those who favor shoulder-length hair (center) may brush the hair back to give height to the crown. Shorter hair calls for the interpretations at the left and right. Again note the hair is swept back from the face—a great relief to parents with Beatle-haired offspring running around the house.

Ruth Millett Housekeepers May Join Men in Space Soon

Women who want to be astronauts may get a chance to join the men on space flights even sooner than they think. My reason for thinking so is that, according to Pete Conrad and Gordon Cooper, one of the biggest problems during their 3,309,000 mile journey through space was the chore of housekeeping. Their cramped little cabin they said, was literally afloat with food wrappers, cameras, lenses and the scientific gear aboard.

Said Cooper: "If you didn't keep things stowed properly, you discovered you were practically getting crowded out. It was vitally necessary, each and every day, to have a housekeeping session. This was what took one of our sleep periods each day."

What have men always done about keeping things orderly where they live and where they work? Why, they've found a woman for the job, of course.

They get a wife to take care of the house, a secretary to look after the office, nurses to take over routine chores in hospitals and doctors' offices, file clerks to keep important papers in order, and so on.

So if housekeeping in space is a chore that astronauts dislike and that interferes with their proper rest, the logical solution (to the male mind) is bound to be to look to women to take over the job. It's a natural.

And there's another good reason why in the near future space flights are likely to include a woman.

Cooper also said that it was just too quiet in space. Well, having a woman aboard would certainly take care of that complaint.

So don't give up hope, all you women who have been protesting because America hasn't sent a woman into space. Things are looking brighter now that Conrad and Cooper have reported that two of the things that bothered them on their long flight were the problem of housekeeping and the problem of silence. Nobody is as well qualified to set those two matters right as is a woman.

It's the heat, not the pressure, that gives good ironing results, say home economists.

Fido's Yuletide

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The day of the dowdy dog has passed. During the past few years, the canines have literally been putting on the dog by having their owners become almost as fashion-conscious about their pet's appearance as they are about their own.

But don't be carried away by the spirit of the season, says Bob Bartos, manager of Friskies Research Kennels. Choose Fido's gift thoughtfully.

If a new opossum, leopard or Persian coat is a bit expensive, the same idea is available in fake fur.

Even gifts that are more practical, such as collars, leads, toys and grooming aids, come in a wide variety. But be sure you know the proper collar size before you buy.

Good grooming essentials are available for every need. These days it's easier to buy a gift for Fido than for aunt Mathilda.

Mission Auxiliary Organized by Area Women in Amarillo

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor

Mrs. Bee Hogan has announced the organization of a Woman's Auxiliary at Faith City Mission, 419 E. 5th, Amarillo. Purpose of the Auxiliary is to promote the various interests of the Mission from the woman's viewpoint: clothing, office prayer, public relations and building improvements.

The Auxiliary was formed because of a conviction that hundreds of women in this area would be interested in assisting in the work of the Mission if they were informed as to the operation and projects of Faith City Mission.

Elected as officers at the first meeting were Mrs. B. M. Daniels, chairman; Mrs. Jerry Little, co-chairman; Mrs. Henry S. Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Jimmy Davis, Skellytown area supervisor, and Mrs. W. W. Evans, Panhandle area supervisor. Group leaders are Mrs. C. C. Barnes, clothing director; Mrs. Richard Hardin, interior beautification, and Mrs. Ruth Hurst, public relations.

The Auxiliary will conduct its work on a regular basis, but will hold meetings quarterly with the next meeting scheduled for the first Thursday in January. All area women who are interested in learning more about the Auxiliary are invited to call or write Faith City Mission or any of the officers, for answers to questions.

Knees Are News This Season

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The leggy look, long admired by those from other countries as an enviable American characteristic, is getting added play are news.

Fashion designers, in some instances, almost let their measuring sticks run away with their better judgment.

Few women have pretty knees. So, if you plan to wear the short, short dresses and skirts, get your knees in shape to show.

Whatever your age, fat knees are out. Here's how to trim them (the exercise also is good for automobile-pampered legs):

Extend hands in front, squat on heels and then slowly stand up on your toes. Start with just a few — 5 to 10 — and gradually increase the number. To trim ankles, keep heels flat. As your count gets higher, your fat knees should get trimmer.

Once your knees are in shape, you may want to get on the youthful fad wagon and apply a touch of rouge to your knees. First, smooth away roughened grubby patches with a soap and brush massage during your nightly bath. Smooth on petroleum jelly in a circular motion to further speed your knee beauty. Once they are smooth, apply a cream rouge to make your knees blush as they peek out from beneath that high hemline.

FASHION NEWS — Bouncy hems go up and up and the first thing leg watchers see these days are knees. Smooth away unflattering roughness during the daily shower or bath. Use a soft brush and scrub the knees well. Further smooth away problems with a pumice. After patting knees dry, massage in petroleum jelly (top left) to speed up softening process. During the holiday party-time, apply rouge to knees (bottom left). A daring innovation of the 60's? No, the model (right) may snap her fingers over the latest beat but her rouged knees were 1920s inspired.

AIR JELLIES EASY TO USE

Cosmetic firms continue progress in developing aids for home hair care. Especially important are the easy-to-use jellies for setting the hair. These no longer are messy and smelly. They may be used with bleached or tinted hair, too, because they don't contain lacquer or alcohol.

GLOWING LIPS — Frosty shimmer under the mistletoe calls for make-up to highlight any complexion. This may be a pinky beige, silvery yellow or a more striking holly bright tone.

Abraham-Caldwell Rites Solemnized

Miss Susan Lea Abraham became the bride of Rodney E. Caldwell at 4 p.m. Nov. 6 in First Baptist Church Parlor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abraham of Dallas and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Caldwell Jr. of 2108 N. Dwight. Rev. E. Douglas Carver performed the single-ring ceremony. Arrangements of white gladioli appointed the wedding scene. Mrs. Carver provided appropriate nuptial selections at the piano.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a street-length dress of white wool and carried a bouquet of red and white roses. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl tiara.

Attired in a pale pink silk dress, Miss Valery Lynn Olsen attended as maid of honor. She wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mr. Caldwell served his son as best man.

Following the exchange of vows a reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mrs. Helen Smith and Mrs. Eunice Hinkle presided at the serving table.

The couple will make their home in Dallas where both are employed by Southern Union Gas Company, following a wedding trip to Quartz Mountain Lodge near Altus, Okla.

La Cultura Club Hears Red Cross Secretary Speak

"Women in Business" was the topic discussed by Mrs. Libby Shotwell when she spoke to members of La Cultura Club Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Jimmie Hayes. Mrs. Shotwell, executive secretary of the American Red Cross, was introduced by Mrs. Douglas Leudecke.

"There has been a great increase in recent years of women going into business," began Mrs. Shotwell. "Beginning in 1940 with WW II many women went into business to replace vacancies left by men who entered the armed services."

"Because of the prospective increase of women going to work within the next few years there are several things an individual must consider when going to work. Know what you are fitted for and be determined that nothing will stand in your way. Do not let the pay you will receive be the deciding factor for the work you choose. Study the compensations that satisfaction in helping others and meeting new people can give. You should love your work."

Mrs. Shotwell then discussed opening a personal business, and concluded by saying "Learn your own job first and investigate it thoroughly before going into it. Study your business from trade magazines."

The Doctor Says:

By WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
There is an old belief that persons who have an excess of gas in the digestive tract and belch a lot have gall bladder disease, especially if they are fair (female), fat and 40. This is just another old wives' tale. Even when such a person is found to have gallstones the dyspeptic symptoms are, more often than not, due to something else—a faulty diet, an irritable colon, a peptic ulcer or appendicitis. Many persons have had their gall bladders removed and found to their dismay that the old symptoms were still present.

Chronic inflammation of the gall bladder (cholecystitis) may cause a mild distress in the pit of the stomach or, if gallstones are present, an agonizing pain in the region of the gall bladder extending to the right shoulder blade. There may also be a low fever and intermittent bouts of mild jaundice. X rays made after taking an opaque dye which would normally accumulate in it cannot enter it.

Because the characteristics of gall bladder disease are not clear-cut and other conditions have to be considered, the diagnosis is not easy and should be made in a hospital. Since the treatment of this disease is rarely an emergency, the wise doctor will make every effort to get the obese victim to lose weight. This improves the patient's chances of successfully withstanding the operation and makes it easier for the surgeon to work in a small area of the abdomen.

Medical treatment of gall bladder disease is not advisable

School and You

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LIGHT: My problem concerns changing schools. My 6-year-old daughter and I are Cubans, and my second husband is American. We live in Miami where Rita attends school with many children whose backgrounds are similar to hers.

My husband has accepted a position in a midwestern town near the city where his parents live. We'll stay with my in-laws for a month, then move on to a permanent home near his work.

This will mean two changes in schools for Rita.
How can I help her adjust? She speaks both English and Spanish, with emphasis on Spanish. She's pretty and sweet, but very dark-skinned compared to most American children. I'm afraid the other children will tease her because she's different. —Worried Mother ANSWER: First, let's tackle the problems that arise in any move from one school to another. Schools so often provide inadequate transfer records, it would be helpful if Rita's teacher would give you a summary of work covered and books read. You should have the name of the primer or reader your daughter is using when she leaves and the page she's on. It's important, too, to know the arithmetic program her present school is using and how far the class has gone.

Bring along workbooks, papers, report card and any other information that will help the new teacher help your daughter. Testing and health records will undoubtedly be sent by the school.

Take your daughter to school the first day and arrange an early conference with her teacher. Most teachers have ways of making new children feel at home and helping them get acquainted with their classmates.

As for your extra problems, make every effort to skip the in-law interlude. With two moves, your daughter could easily fail first grade.

Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

PAMPA'S 13-year-old Judy Tarrant got a call from England and talked with the Beatles. . . Here we are, nearly 39 a la Jack Benny, still waiting in vain after 39 years for a call from the Dolly Sisters. . . How do these modern teenagers do it? . . . Oh, well—we once had a call from FDR (Fred D Rice in Ohio). . . Once went swimming with Johnny Weismueller and fell out of a speed boat piloted on Lake Erie by Guy Lombardo. . . Was quarantined along with Jeff Davis, King of the Hoboes, during a smallpox scare. . . Was rescued from under a billiard table when a tornado caved in the top two floors of a three-story building. . . And came in fourth in a flap-jack eating contest with 39 pancakes downed at one sitting. . . Bet Judy won't be able to equal that when she's 39. . . Then there was the time we were questioned but later cleared and released—in one of the most notorious of Ohio's murder cases. . . And the time we were pointed out as a suspected counterfeiter as we sat ringside at a prize fight where 10,000 persons were in attendance. . . It was a case of mistaken identity and everybody concerned apologized, although a lawyer tried to convince us later we had a splendid case for damages based on "embarrassment in a public place". . . Which all goes to prove to you under the heading of circumstantial evidence and mistaken identity. . . This taught us never to jump to conclusions just because a situation looks bad.

A REPORT has come in that somebody tried to poison the City Hall Cat during the week just ended. . . How reliable the report is, there is no way of being certain. . . Poisoning a feline as smart as the city hall pussy-cat is not an easy matter. . . It would be like trying to feed matza balls to a small-mouth bass. . . Besides that he has been around long enough to know who his friends are and just who would like to do him in. . . This cat is not about to pick up what looks like a tasty morsel, invitingly dropped in a city hall stairwell. . . He won't even lap milk from a saucer. . . It has to be delivered in a sealed carton before he'll even consider touching it. . . A real smart cookie, this kitty. . . And this brings up a question. . . Why should anyone want to eliminate the City Hall Cat? . . . Does he know too much? . . . Has he threatened to unveil some deep, dark secret he's been keeping under wraps? . . . Will the would-be kat killer finally catch up with him? . . . Nine lives are at stake here. . . Tune in at this time next week for another episode of "Who's Trying to Feed the City Hall Kitty?"

THIS FINAL observation comes from reading the women's page editor's report on shrinking skirt lengths in today's "Passing Show" column. . . Those — uh — garments that are the latest fad among teenage girls are definitely misnamed. . . "Grannies," they're called. . . But if they would stop to think about it, they would realize that grandma would never have been caught dead in a thing like that. . . The grandmothers of today's teen-agers were, in fact, members of the "flaming youth" generation of the 1920s, when ultra-short skirts, which modern girls think they invented, were really the "bee's knees." (Translation "In," "Crazy," "The greatest.") . . . Grandma a flapper? . . . It gives one sober pause.

Cleaning Up for Posterity

By D. R. SEGAL
Editor, Brownsville Herald
Recording history is a corrupt trade. The historian is under strong moral compulsion to write down what a national hero ought to have said under the circumstances, whether he did or not.

What would it profit the human race to find out that what Francis I said to his mama was not really "Madame, all is lost save honor" but "Cut out, Mom, we blew the bit!"

No, on balance the historian must be forgiven certain literary transgressions. It can be argued with considerable authority that no good is accomplished by low-rating national heroes and legendary figures by quoting all their bad grammar and disappointing literary lapses.

And so, I suspect, we must forgive the wire association reporter who recorded what Our Leader "bellowed" at Lady Bug and Stewie Udall recently when they made such a racket they woke him up.

The story, as reported by the UPI, is that Mr. Johnson was sleeping in the afternoon after a restless postoperative night. Then, right outside his window on the lawn of Bethesda Naval Hospital appeared Lady B. and Stewie U. to plant this tree in honor of Our Leaders rapid recovery.

It does not seem to me that planting a tree should be the cause of excessive clamor, but these two amateur planters made enough racket to wake up the patient who — quoting the report — threw open the window and shouted:

"You all get that tree planted so I can go back to sleep!"

It is my earnest opinion that the reporter — or his rewrite man — for reasons of delicacy or postal laws did a little editing. Those who know Our Leader are willing to wager a sou or two that what he really hollered fairly burned the leaves off that ill omelet tree, possibly damaging its root system, too.

Our Leader is not an indecisive man, say what you will about him. He does not speak with posterity always in mind. The free flow of conversation from this man is not the stuff they carve on marble and stick around in places where kids can read it.

This is not to criticize a fellow Texan, but rather to protest that this bowdlerizing of his shouted instructions to his True Love and her fellow Girl Guide give rather the wrong impression of the whole scene.

I suggest a suitable plaque be erected at the site of this historic tree dedicated to the speedy recovery of a de-gall bladdered President. Some thing like:

"Noise is made by fools like thee, But only I can make a tree!" —LBJ

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

It's Up To You

The sickness in the soul of America has been planted there. All the criminal communist conspiracy has to do is to completely undermine the morality of our youth and in one generation we will fall like over-ripe fruit into their hands. There is a massive breakdown of morality in our country as evidenced by tremendous increases in crime (mostly by the young); by a sharp increase in illegitimate births; by rampant promiscuity on the newsstands, movies and T-V; by a growing contempt for law and order, encouraged by certain politicians who would do anything to get elected.

The Leftists, "Liberals", collectivists say we should read between the lines of our Constitution, our Bible, our marriage vows. These materialists say that there are no absolutes, no black and white, everything is gray; that there is no right and wrong; that whatever is socially acceptable is all right. They claim that sin is old-fashioned, non-existent, imaginary.

Morality . . . Without morality freedom cannot survive; without freedom morality cannot survive. As Will Rogers said: "What a this country needs is more clean minds and dirty fingernails." The Pledge of Allegiance says: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." The "Liberals" are now working toward removing the words "under God." If "under God" does not belong there, then neither does "indivisible."

Religion and patriotism have been omitted from most school curriculums. College classrooms are now seedbeds for sowing agnosticism, atheism, collectivism, nihilism (belief in nothing). Even many preachers are promoting free love and Communism. A group of preachers and church leaders in California recently staged a demonstration for homosexuals. The clergymen dressed as women so the limber-wristed "does" would feel at home. If your preacher preaches such a "new moral code," what you need is not new values but a new preacher. The "Modernists" and collectivists claim Christianity has failed. It hasn't been tried.

Our leaders can't cleanse the country; the leaders themselves are unclean. Who is going to investigate the investigators? We, the people. That is the only way our country can be saved from the godless criminal conspiracy called Communism. For our leaders who lack morality lack courage. Courage and morality are blood brothers. Without courage and morality we can't win. People who have religion have courage and morality.

People who have religion, live religion. Many of the hypocrites who never miss church on Sunday are "going along" with the criminal take-over of our country by socialists, Communists, atheists, degenerates, and slobs. These are businessmen who worship the church on Sunday and the dollar the other six days — people who won't listen to the truth, since it is impossible to know the truth and not be held responsible; people who ask, "What can I do?" and are afraid they'll tell them: people who say we've all ready lost and who lack the integrity and the courage to identify with what appears to be the losing side. These people come in all economic, educational, religious and racial circles. I don't hate them. I don't hate roaches, but I've never seen an attractive one.

What can you do? "Pray as if it were all up to God and work as if it were all up to you."

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS It is sometimes suggested that if bureaucrats had spent more time trying to earn a living in the business world, they would realize the futility and destructiveness of their regulations. While that may be wishful thinking, it is undoubtedly true that if people, in general, better understood what a businessman must do to succeed, they would put more confidence in private enterprise and less in the government.

This is demonstrated, in the career, among others, of A. P. Giannini, founder of the Bank of America. An excellent biography of the banking leader is "A. P. Giannini" by Paul Rink (published by Encyclopaedia Britannica Press, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Ill.; $2.95). Rink's account of the revolutionary banker makes clear that Giannini realized that people only pay for what they want; and he built the bank on the principle that he had to help people in order to get their business.

Although the author appears to be determined to prove that Giannini was a "good guy", that his actions were motivated by altruism, he doesn't have to. For the results speak for themselves. Giannini helped people. He made it possible for them to do things that couldn't have been accomplished without him. For this, they paid him. They rewarded him with more business than any bank has received in the history of the world. The Bank of America is the biggest, the richest, the most of everything. And if Giannini's motivation had been sheer greed, what difference would it make? He would still have had to help people in order to accumulate his empire. As Rink points out, Giannini pioneered branch banking, aggressive advertising, small loans, and catering to small depositors. Every one of these innovations was a benefit to his customers and potential customers. So every one

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank Markey

When Robert F. Bradford was Governor of Massachusetts in the late 1940's he received a letter from a high school student seeking advice on aspiring to a political career. He wrote the youngster: "To live long in politics you must possess the hide of a rhinoceros, the memory of an elephant, and the patience of a beaver; you will need the heart of a lion and the stomach of an ostrich; it helps to have the humour and uniqueness of the crow; but all these things will not avail unless you also have some of the ornery cussedness of the army mule." Good advice, then and now.

Today's smile: A young sports reporter, about to write a story about a high school football game, asked his boss: "What will I say about those peroxide blondes who made such a fuss every time the home team scored?" The sports editor replied: "Just say the bleachers went wild."

If you want to be truly IN this Christmas season you'll wrap your gifts in cans. Those bourgeois tin cans that once contained such common things as tomatoes and pork and beans have been taken over by Santa Claus to pack uncommon contents like hosiery, pipes, greeting cards, candles, or even can openers. The new glamour cans have six-color labels with whacky Xmas designs. Already 33 of the nation's swankiest department stores, like Nieman Marcus and B. Altman, plan to can shoppers' nifty-gifts for a small extra charge. That's okay with us so long as they don't can Santa Claus too.

Thoughts while shaving: "We will bet you never heard of Andok, Cazar, Flexon, Kutwell, Mikrovon or Zerice. Few people did. They are the brand names of lubricating oils and greases, solvents, waxes, rust preventatives and other protective coatings vital to American industry. And they are only a part of the 1500 products of one of the nation's oil companies. . . It's surprising to learn that only 48 of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence were born in this country. Three of the remainder were Irish, two Scottish, two English and one from Wales. . . According to the American Medical Association Journal individuals are not really "cured" of smoking until they have laid off for at least two years. And those who started young have a harder time quitting the habit. . . A New England nut packing firm was just a little shook up when a research group engaged to study growth potentials of the business reported that a man who munches peanuts, and a gal who likes cashews are not likely to make a go of marriage if they decide to wed. . . Although the French Foreign Legion is not as colorful as in the days of "Beau Geste" you can find equal adventure by joining the Spanish counterpart for service in the African provinces. The pay amounts to $18 a month and there's no GI insurance or USO shows. . . Passing a pharmacy in mid-Manhattan we noticed

RED DIAPER BABIES

(Chicago Tribune)
We hadn't heard of the National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Viet Nam until we learned of its plans for protest demonstrations in Chicago and 100 other cities.

But if anybody cares to study the faces of leading demonstrators, he will probably find that in large part they are the same faces that have been taking part, under different banners, in racial demonstrations, campus free speech rallies, and assorted other sit-ins, teach-ins, talks, and what have you.

It may seem odd that the same young men and women should be moved by such varying complaints, and that when one coordinating committee, stages a protest rally it attracts members of divers other coordinating committees, the communist DuBois clubs, and so on. But it is no coincidence. A remarkable number of the leaders of these groups are alike in one way: they are the sons and daughters of past and present leaders of the Communist party.

Testimony before Congress has shown, for example, that behind the scenes leader of the Berkeley talk-ins was the daughter of Herbert Aptheker, official theoretician for the American Communists. A founder of the west coast DuBois clubs, named for a Negro Communist, is a son of Vincent Hallinan, Marxist lawyer. Two founders of the DuBois clubs at the University of Wisconsin were Eugene Dennis Jr., whose late father was head of the Communist party, and Michael Eisenscher, whose father was chairman of the Communist party of Wisconsin. A large number of other names could be added to the list of what Dr. Stefan Possony, director of international political studies at the Hoover institution of Stanford University, calls "red diaper babies."

Getting back to the latest coordinating committee, we note that the chief planner for its Viet Nam peace demonstrations is another young man from the University of Wisconsin, Frank Emspak, of Yonkers, N.Y.

It should hardly be surprising to find that when the late Julius Emspak of Yonkers, the notorious communist labor leader of the 1930s and '40s, died in 1962, he left a son named Frank.

The "red diaper babies" have been taught from infancy that anything which creates dissension in the bourgeois ranks also furthers the cause of communism. How could they serve the cause better than by being ready to start a new coordinating committee and lead a new protest march whenever the opportunity arises, no matter what the subject? Their fathers should be happy that so many of them occupy so many of the strategic spots. In fact, if it not for them, we wonder whether there would be any demonstrations and protest marches at all.

The Almanac

Today is Sunday, Nov. 14, the 318th day of 1963 with 47 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

In 1765, Robert Fulton, the inventor of the first commercially successful steamboat, was born.

But as we always say, one man's Mede is another man's Persian.

In our day, if you got an F in Self-Control, you promised to do better next time — and very often did.

Obviously many students manage to slip between all these reefs. And, having achieved, led, scored high and been popular with friends, parents and teachers, fly up to college on their pure white dosiers.

As to whether life in the academy is worth all the constant and unerring effort — well, that is another matter. We wouldn't be a bit surprised if these kids got to college and started to demonstrate in favor of some nutsy-fruity idea like peace and tranquility.

Now, we have been told that all this is different today. The schools no longer press students to greater Initiative and Co-operation, but work instead with such wonderful concepts as Under-Achievement.

Our inclination, however, is that the ailment continues as it always did despite the new words. The perplexities of youth are as immutable as the laws of the Medes and the Persians.

The Carthusians are an order of monks who lead hermit's lives. Carthusians live in a small house or "cell" with a small garden outside. Here they study, work, pray, sleep and eat. Their food is delivered to them. They wear a hair shirt and practice total abstinence from flesh food. On Fridays and other fast days, they take only bread and water.

World Use Increase Predicted

NEW YORK - Free world consumption of petroleum products should increase about 7 percent in 1965 and rise approximately 6 percent a year through 1970, J. Howard Ramin, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Texaco Inc., predicted today.

This means that the free world, which consumed 25 million barrels a day last year, will use up some 35 million barrels a day in 1970. Mr. Ramin reported that the New York Society of Security Analysts. He forecast a rise in domestic petroleum demand of 4 percent for 1965 and of approximately 3 percent yearly during the next five years.

Texaco, with earnings a drop operations at all-time highs this year, is "in good position to continue to participate fully in that growth," the Texaco Chief Executive Officer said.

AICE To Conduct Seminar On 'Transport Phenomena'

The Texas Panhandle Section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers will sponsor a seminar on "An Introduction to Transport Phenomena" to be held on Saturday, Nov. 20, at Pammel Hall of Celanese Corporation's plant at Pampa. Transport phenomena are very important in the field of chemical engineering and have developed from the need to provide a basic description and analysis of the rate process operations. The transport phenomena concept will be developed from the fundamental concepts of heat, mass and momentum balances, and the transfer rate laws. Applications of transport phenomena to familiar chemical engineering problems will be presented.

The seminar will be conducted by Dr. John B. West and Dr. John H. Erbar of the School of Chemical Engineering, Oklahoma State University. Both Dr. West and Dr. Erbar are members of AICE as well as other professional societies.

Dr. West, who joined the staff of the Oklahoma State University in 1954, has taught graduate courses in nuclear engineering, heat transfer and mass transfer. He is currently conducting research in the fields of diffu-

ADDINGTON'S WALL-TO-WALL $100,000.00 SELL-OUT

We don't often have a sale, but we are having one now! I have been in business for 52 years, and Bobby has been in it for all his life. We have sent thousands of people hunting and fishing. We have sold you, the good people of the Panhandle, lots of Western Clothing, Boots, etc. for a good number of years. And we sure do appreciate the business, too. We want to thank each and everyone of you for this patronage, and for helping us to have the fine store that we do have.

Now we want to cut our stock down at least $100,000.00. We want to be able to get out and do some of the hunting and fishing that we have missed. It has been 13 years since either one of us has had a vacation. We will continue the store, just like it is, in a smaller way. Then our business won't be so hard or confusing on either of us.

We can do this with your help in this sale. All of the prices on these items are at wholesale or below. We invite you, our friends and customers, to help us at the same time you are helping yourselves by saving lots of money.

We have cut prices on everything in the store, except Browning Guns, to cost and below. Space will not permit listing everything we carry. In fact most of you know the tremendous stock we do have.

At these prices you should stock up for at least a year's supply. Come in as soon as you can... Choose your size in your favorite colors.

But, please... there will be no refunds or exchanges, and no gift wrapping during this sale.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR PATRONAGE
Frank and Bob Addington

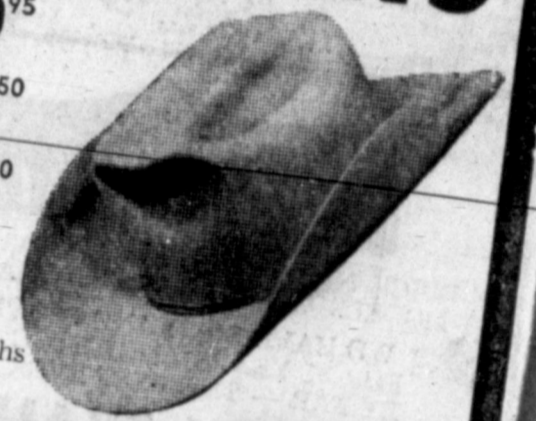

P.S. - This Sale Will Benefit You As Well As Us
