MILITARY OFFENSIVE SLACKENS

First Hint of Possible Peace Moves By Hanoi Viewed in Washington

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — The recent reduction in Communist activity in South Viet Nam brought some hope here today the Hanoi government might be getting ready to cut back military operations as a prelude to possible peace talks.

Administration officials from President Johnson down declined to express an opinion, however.

Johnson told newsmen "the number of incidents has dropped off some." He would not say whether he thought there was "any connection between that and our peace moves—but that it is a fact."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, meanwhile, was due to return to the capital today from his trip to New Delhi for the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Humphrey was prepared to report to Johnson on a lengthy talk he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk had Thursday with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin. The vice president also met Thursday with Vice South Vietnamese officials. President Hussein Shafer of the United Arab Republic, who was said to have reported on talks with his government had had with the North Vietnamese in Hanoi, Rusk was joining rovingnist side since Johnson began Ambassador W. Averell Harriman to Saigon, where they are scheduled to meet with high South Vietnamese officials. Most Washington officials appeared reluctant, at least to ascribe any great significance to the reduction in the North Vietnamese in Hanoi, "incidents" from the Communist peace offensive about three weeks ago.

Viet Cong Executes Two Civilian Pilots

SAIGON (UPI) — The Viet Cong today executed the pilot and co-pilot of a privately operated U. S. transport plane after shooting it down and led a third crew member away with a rope around his neck, a company spokesman said. The guerrillas donned the flying suits of the men they had killed and tried to lure a U. S. Army rescue helicopter into a trap. However, the helicopter escaped when the Communists opened up with automatic weapons fire and hurled grenades, the spokesman said. The plane was shot down near the Mekong Delta town of Vi Thanh, 100 miles southwest of Saigon, while on a freight-hauling mission for Air America, a civilian-operated charter line under contract to the U. S. Operations Mission (USOM). An Air American spokesman said the pilot radioed he was wounded in the shoulder, leg and arm while flying at about 1,200 feet and crashed into a small canal. The co-pilot radioed to another C45 freight plane and it called for a U. S. rescue helicopter. The co-pilot was wounded by groundfire during the crash landing. A U. S. Army helicopter landed at the scene an hour or two after the first attempt was driven off and recovered the bodies of the pilot and co-pilot. Both had been shot in the face and their bodies mutilated, crewmen reported. Villagers living nearby said the third crewman, an air freight specialist, had been led away with a rope around his neck and his hands tied behind him.

WEATHER
PAMPA AND VICINITY—Fair and warmer today. Not so cold tonight. Considerable cloudiness and colder Saturday. Low tonight near 30, high Saturday in upper 30s. Outlook for Sunday: 20s. Winds westerly 10-20 miles per hour. Considerable cloudiness and colder.

SCHOLASTIC ESTATE

ST. LOUIS Mo. (UPI) — A classified advertisement Thursday offered the following description of a large estate for sale: "Fifty acres—10 bedrooms—five baths—servant quarters—2 kitchens—large parking facilities—large indoor recreational area with indoor heated swimming pool—lighted tennis courts and a baseball diamond."

The ad told interested buyers to telephone Leroy Amen. Mr. Amen is principal of Lindbergh High School—which fits—in most particular—the "large estate" offered for sale. He said he had no plans to sell the high school and blamed a prankster for the ad.

Widening Plans For Highway 60 Run into Snag

A new snag, in the form of a $20,000 storm sewer, may have arisen in progress toward widening U. S. Highway 60 to four lanes from Pampa to the Carson County line.

Previously, problems with right-of-way acquisition had stowed the project. The state has appropriated money for the widening of the highway and, it was thought, a contract could have been let this month for the work to be done this summer.

There are still some right-of-way problems, as indicated Thursday, but the storm sewer now looms larger in the mind of Gray County commissioners. State Highway Engineer G. K. Reading told the County Commissioners Court that the sewer is a necessity if the new road is to be soundly engineered. The catch is that the cost of the sewer would have to be borne by the county. As County Judge Bill Craig told Reading the 1966 county budget has already been approved and the tax rate set.

"We'll just have to find the money somewhere," Craig said. He and the commissioners indicated that they are in sympathy with the project and would approve it if they had the money. Until the $20,000 can be found, the court will have to hold up any resolutions concerning it. (See WIDENING Page 3)

Two Killed in Try To Kidnap L.K. Firestone

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Police bullets killed two men who plotted to kidnap rubber magnate and sportsman Leonard K. Firestone from his mansion here Thursday night for $2 to $8 million ransom.

Firestone, 58, part owner of the California Angels and the Los Angeles Rams and president of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. of California was hiding out with friends in San Francisco when the kidnap attempt was made shortly after dusk.

Blasted by three detectives armed with shotguns and pistols were William Calvin Bailey, 44, and George Henry Scalla Jr., 29. Police said both men had lengthy arrest records.

A policewoman posing as a maid, Barbara Ezzell, had been staked out in the Firestone home along with Lt. B. L. Cork, Sgt. Jack Egger and Det. Jack Mourning.

Scalla, wearing a hat pulled low over his face, and brandishing two revolvers, knocked on the door. Bailey, wearing a Halloween mask, apparently to hide his heavily scarred and easily identifiable face, was beside Scalla. Bailey sported a revolver in one hand and a bag in the other.

When one of the detectives opened the door, Bailey burst into the room and raised his Shotgun and pistol fire raked both suspects, cutting them down near the doorway before they had a chance to shoot at the officers.

"It all happened in a split second," said Lt. Cork. Bailey was dead at the scene. Scalla died shortly afterwards in the prison ward of Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Victim Uncertain
Police from Beverly Hills and Los Angeles had learned of the kidnap plot about three weeks before, but did not know the intended victim was Firestone until 10 days ago.

Capt. John Hankins of the Beverly Hills police declined to say exactly how Alice learned of the plot, but said the scheme apparently was intended to net millions of dollars.

"We don't know exactly how much they intended to seek," Hankins said, "but the figures $2 million and $8 million were on pieces of paper in one man's pockets."

"I can't praise the police too much," Firestone said afterwards. "They knew what they were doing and they did their job well."

Seven US Soldiers Missing Following Plane Collision

SAIGON (UPI) — Two U. S. Air Force planes, one a transport and the other a dive bomber, collided and crashed today while aiding South Korean troops fighting the Viet Cong 280 miles northeast of Saigon. The seven U. S. crewmen aboard were listed as missing.

U. S. and Australian troops involved in "Operation Crimp" 30 miles northwest of Saigon meanwhile seeded dozens of tunnels with nausea-producing gas crystals that will not dissipate for days.

The Allied task force hoped to lure Viet Cong troops hiding in the maze of tunnels into the open, then have U. S. planes bomb and strafe the area. In the first six days of the operation in the Communist-dominated Iron Triangle, only sporadic contact with the Viet Cong has been reported and only 138 Viet Cong known killed.

The two U. S. planes lost in the Central Highlands were a C123 transport and a Skyraider bomber.

Man Swallows Pills After Robbery Try

DALLIART, Tex. (UPI) — Charles Archie Floyd, 23, was recovering today from an overdose of nerve pills gulped down after he held up the Citizens State Bank of $2,500 armed with only a grocery sack.

Police said Floyd, a lifetime resident of Dallhart, a lifetime resident of "practically everybody in the bank" when he walked in and handed the Brown sack to teller Willie Lowe. He told her to fill it.

She tossed the money into the bag and Floyd walked unhurried out the door.

Police rushed to Floyd's mother's home and found him writing on a bed in pain from the overdose of pills. The missing cash lay on a chair. His mother told police her son took half a bottle of the pills.

RIO DISASTER — Rescue workers pull a woman from a collapsed house in Rio de Janeiro. Hundreds are feared dead in landslides that have destroyed slum sections perched on steep hillsides of the Brazilian city under incessant pelting of days of heavy rains.

Watershed Project Possibilities Outlined

Plans, problems and possibilities of the McClellan Creek Watershed project were probed Thursday afternoon at a joint meeting and information session in the Gray County courtroom. In addition to watershed landowners, other organizations represented at the meeting included Gray County Commissioners, the cities of Groom and McLean, state and federal soil conservation authorities, a wildlife services. Although Carson County commissioners were unable to attend the meeting, more than 50 others were present.

Billy Davis, chairman of the McClellan Watershed Association's steering committee, presided.

Davis introduced Phil Grazier, engineer in charge of the work plan staff, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, which began work in the McClellan area Monday.

Grazier explained that his team is beginning a survey that may take several months. The primary aim of the survey is flood control, he said, but there are several options open to those in the watershed.

In addition to flood control, the dams may be built to include irrigation, recreation, industrial storage, municipal water supply or fish and wildlife propagation.

In these cases, there would be additional cost. Grazier said that the basic flood control dam would be paid for 100 per cent from federal funds.

For additions to the dam for recreation, there would be a 50-50 shared cost program. The same holds true for irrigation, but a municipality would have to bear all the cost of raising the dam and land purchase.

In the case of recreation, the area would have to be open to the public to qualify for shared costs, Grazier said, but the watershed sponsors could charge a fee to cover maintenance and operation and to recoup the investment.

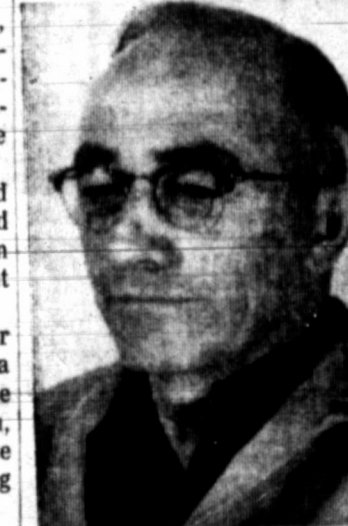

Grazier said that 11 damsites in the watershed are being investigated. The final plan might include more or less than that number.

Members of Grazier's survey team were introduced. These included John Ray, a native of Letors, who is in charge of a two-man team based at McLean.

Also introduced were Don Clark, geologist; Allen Caldwell, hydraulic engineer; Joe Camp, civil engineer; and Herbert McWharter, economist. Grazier said that these people justice of the peace, who indicated last week that he would not run for re-election.

Touchstone, 61, has lived in McLean for the past 10 years. He moved there from Rockledge near Alanreed.

He retired 18 months ago after 37 years with Humble Oil for whom he worked in Rockledge and McLean. He has not previously held public office.

Touchstone is a member of the McLean First Methodist Church and is district steward. He is active in McLean Masonic Lodge 889.

Touchstone and his wife of 37 years, Ione, have two sons, Dick and David. Both sons are married and now live in Texas City. There are six grandsons.

Pampa Authorities Searching For 'Lightning Rod' Swindler

A probable swindle scheme is being traced in the Pampa area, according to Sheriff Rufe Jordan.

Jordan said the suspected fraud came to light this week when an elderly woman reportedly lost $525 to a "lightning rod salesman."

The woman, in her eighties, lives in a rural area near Pampa and is quite frightened of lightning, Jordan said.

The supposed salesman stopped at her house, asked to inspect her lightning rod installation and told her she needed a new transformer which he would install.

The salesman spent "seven or eight minutes" at the installation and then presented a bill for $525. He gave her a receipt and a guarantee and left.

When he attempted to cash the woman's check in a Pampa store, the clerk questioned it and contacted the woman who affirmed that she had written it and that it was all right to cash it. (See SWINDLER, Page 3)

How to Win 3 Purple Hearts

By TOM TIEDE

LAIKHE, Viet Nam (NEA) — The Purple Heart is an inch-and-a-half of ribbon and an engraved George Washington on a hunk of the bear-shaped metal, which is given to the soldier who spills his blood in battle.

Nearly 7,000 have been presented in this conflict, three of them to a single young man.

This is that man's incredible story.

Pfc. Orval Gene Adkins, a 23-year-old West Virginian, was along when elements of the 1st Infantry Division moved into a rubber plantation which everyone figured was under Viet Cong influence.

They figured right! Halfway in, the GIs were ambushed. Machine guns spat from either side of the troop trail. Snipers tied to the tops of the trees let loose with a shower of steel. When the victims tumbled for cover, they were stunned and murdered by booby traps and planted grenades.

Adkins, a radio-telephone operator, was slowed by some 50 pounds of equipment lashed cut down by fragments from to his back. He managed to dodge the enemy shot but was to an explosion. The upper portion of his left arm was torn open. Moments later he was evacuated. The soldier's wound proved not serious. He was cleaned, bandaged, given medication and the following morning sent to rest up in his own tent.

"Take it easy," the medics told him.

He would follow the advice, but the VC wouldn't.

Adkins said little to his companions in the platoon area but he sat with the others and listened. He kicked at the dirt and rubbed his hands. On one side of him was a sandbag bunker, on the other an oddly contrasting group of colorful lounge chairs.

The sun was bright. Adkins began to feel at ease. Then, almost lacking reality, a shot echoed from the edge of the nearby jungle. A sniper. The men dove behind the bags of sand, each reaching for

 UPI Foreign News Analyst

Between Lagos, capital of Nigeria, and Ibadan, capital of the country's western region, a thin strip of asphalt snakes its way for 90 miles through dense rain forest. Along the road violence is the rule and the machete the enforcer.

Death by violence, especially the lawless kind, seldom has dignity and neither death nor violence are particularly new among the emerging nations of black Africa.

But in Nigeria, the most populous country in Africa, it lends to a special melancholy. In its nearly six years of independence, all of them spent under the leadership of Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, Nigeria had gained a reputation as a haven of stability and Balewa as an African moderate.

Claims of Readiness
 In this atmosphere which scarcely could enhance the prestige of Nigeria nor bolster black Africa's claims of readiness for rule, delegations of 19 British Commonwealth nations met behind closed doors in a tight circle of security.

The object of the conference, attended by both Prime Ministers Harold Wilson of Britain and Lester Pearson of Canada: To seek new ways to hasten the downfall of the rebel all-white government of Rhodesia and turn rule over to the country's four million blacks.

If the irony of Premier Balewa's position was lost upon him, it was not among opposition politicians and student demonstrators. Politicians roundly condemned Balewa for calling a conference to settle Rhodesia's problems while "our own house is in flames."

Student placards read: "Put our house in order before Rhodesia."

Change Vote Fixed
 The round of murder, arson and rioting began as result of an election last October in the country's western region. Opposition forces, with evidence to show for it, charged the election was rigged and demanded new elections supervised by the army and federal police instead of politicians.

In the violence which has followed, western Nigerian police list 91 civilians dead and another 138 injured.

But residents of Ibadan, one of the largest black cities of Africa, claim the number of dead runs into the hundreds and that many went unreported out of fear of reprisals.

Rivalries within the four regions that comprise Nigeria—north, east, south and midwest—are tribal and religious as well as political.

Suspect by South
 Balewa, a northern Moslem, is suspect by the Christians of the south. His government is made up primarily by northerners.

Balewa has given strong support to western regional Premier Chief S. L. Akintola whose election has been challenged by the action group, a pre-election favorite.

Backing the action group were the governments of the eastern and midwest regions.

Among the tribes, the Yorubas of the west fear domination by the Ibos of the east. The Hausa and Fulani of the north have a common bond in the Moslem religion and a mutual fear of the more prosperous south.

Altogether it makes a brew which could lead to more violence and eventual break-up of Nigeria.

$250,000 Fire Destroys Odessa Apartment Units

ODESSA (UPI)—Fire spread through two units of a fashionable apartment complex in northeast Odessa early today, destroying 24 apartments valued at $250,000.

No serious injury or death was reported, although more than half Odessa's firemen were engaged in battling the blaze and approximately 200 persons got out of their apartments in the two burning units and six others of the complex. Aubrey Harris, 21, suffered burns on his hands during the evacuation. Two firemen were treated at the scene for minor injuries.

Seven pieces of firefighting equipment fought the blaze, responding to the alarm from four fire stations. An ambulance stood by.

Approximately 75 persons were in the burning units and all were rescued by the manager, Jim Manning, and other tenants.

Firemen suspected a cigarette may have started the fire. The fire spread from a top-floor apartment of the two-story complex and enveloped one unit. The draft created by the flames spread them to the other unit and it, too, was destroyed. A third was smoking from the heat. A nursing home across the street was out of danger.

Tenants in the burning units had little time to get any belongings out. They came out in their night clothes, some clutching bedding.

One woman was trapped in a second-floor apartment, but got out by dangling out a window and dropping to the ground, another tenant said.

McLean Still Seeking Doctor

HELP WANTED: Doctor, willing to relocate. Can offer established practice, office in new hospital, partnership with town's only other physician. Pleasant Panhandle Community. Contact Truitt Johnson, McLean.

Don't be surprised to see this ad in the classified section of the News any day now.

Classified ads are about the only thing that McLean hasn't tried in its search for a second doctor to serve the southern Gray County city, according to Truitt Johnson who heads the "doctor finding" committee.

In addition to contacting professional registries and hospitals for prospects, McLean has even gone so far as to raise a banner across the highway through town reading: "Help! Doctor Needed - New Hospital."

An arrow on the banner points to the new 24-bed McLean Hospital, a Gray County institution, which opened this past Feb. 24.

A fully equipped, modern institution, the hospital has empty office space waiting for a physician to hang his stethoscope. Offered is a partnership with Dr. Harold F. Fabian, the town's only doctor at present. An extension of a former clinic, the hospital is kept fairly busy with a normal patient load of from 10 to 12.

A gunner on an HU-1B helicopter, Bynum is stationed at Plei Loi air base, 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

Verdict Near In Farwell Murder Trial

FARWELL, Tex. (UPI)—The defense was expected to finish its testimony today in the trial of Bernardo Salcido, 26, of Muleshoe, Tex., charged with shooting to death his wife and mother-in-law last March 31.

Salcido was arrested a few hours later in Carlsbad, N.M., following a brief exchange of gunfire in which policeman Gary Kennedy was wounded in the shoulder. The bodies of Guadalupe Salcido, 21, and her mother, Mary Duran Murillo, 41, were found in Mrs. Duran Murillo's home near Farwell.

Cold and Clear Weather Due

There'll be considerable cloudiness in the Pampa area Saturday and Sunday, but the clouds might as well be dust clouds for all the moisture they'll bring, the weatherman said today. It will cool off over the weekend with the mercury rising only into the 40s Saturday and probably not so high Sunday. No precipitation is in sight. Other parts of the state were getting some relief from the moisture problem.

Light rain dampened Texas from the Rio Grande Valley to the Central Texas hill country today. Most of the state shivered in near freezing to sub-freezing cold and thousands of square miles of the Big Bend country lay under snow. Snow measuring up to eight inches fell in the Davis Mountains of the Big Bend Wednesday, although much of it melted in such places as Alpine and Fort Davis.

The astronomical observatory near Fort Davis reported more than eight inches, Fort Davis had more than six inches and Alpine had five inches. Rain followed the snow in parts of the Big Bend, hastening the melting of the snow. Temperatures were low over most of the state, ranging from the low 20s in the Panhandle to the mid 40s in the lower Rio Grande Valley and Gulf Coast.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the rain would end gradually from the west by Saturday morning. Most of the state was expected to warm up a bit Saturday, with the exception of the southeast section. The snow, first of the winter in the Big Bend, was welcomed by ranchers for the good it will do for pastureslands. It stayed relatively mild over most of the state Thursday with Brownsville recording 75 degrees, compared with Alpine's high of 46.

PHS Students In Midland For Speech Contest

The speech department of Pampa High School today sent a team to participate in the City Invitational speech tournament being held today and tomorrow.

A 21-member group was scheduled to make the trip. According to Mrs. Don Myers, head of the speech department, the team will be composed as follows:

Persuasive speakers — Linda Hubbard, Tommy Rose, Jeanie Bell and Carl Nicholl. Individual interpretation — (Prose): Larry Franklin, Betsy Goodwyn, Kathy Ball and J. I. Stroud. (Poetry): Cheri Akst, Richard Johnson, and Lyssa Bossay.

Extemporaneous or informative — Venita Turcotte, Gary Jarrard, Ann Monroe and Fred Barber. Boys' debate — David Harmon and Jan Farley. Girls debate (two teams) — Mary Hom and Jane Hlatt; Jeannie Prock and Gwen Brunson.

In its last competition the PHS speech department placed third at the Hub of the Plains speech tournament in Lubbock.

Pampa Girl Wins Grant at U of T

Avril Doucette, 1965 honor graduate and a top science student and award winner at Pampa High School, is one of ten students to receive a $100 grant to further her science project at the University of Texas.

Miss Doucette is the only freshman student among the ten recipients to be so honored by the University Student Association.

The Pampa girl has been working on a study of algae since she was a seventh-grade student at Robert E. Lee Junior High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Doucette, 2424 Mary Ellen.

Resident Pleads Guilty to Charges

W. D. Diffie, 419½ W. Francis, entered a guilty plea on a charge of aggravated assault and was fined $25 and costs Thursday in County Court.

One of those docketed for the Gray County jury, Joe Dale Cook, 711 E. Kingsmill, changed his plea to guilty on a driving while intoxicated charge. He was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and was placed on six months probation.

Swindler

(Continued From Page 1) cash it. On both the receipt and the check, the salesman gave Lubbock addresses, both of which proved non-existent, the sheriff said.

A check with the Missouri firm the man claimed he represented showed that they had no knowledge of him. He had altered one of their guarantee forms. He gave one name on the guarantee and initiated the receipt with a different set of initials.

As for the transformer the man had installed, Jordan said it was a canister about the size of a large food can. The leads from the canister were taped to the outside of the lightning rod wires. It was not connected into the system, Jordan said.

To possibly apprehend the man and to prevent any further occurrence of this type, Jordan asks that anyone else in the area who has been approached in this manner contact him at his office in the county court house.

Widening

(Continued From Page 1) cerning the sewer, the commissioners said. The storm sewer, approximately a half-mile long, would carry run-off water along a route from a small lake near the southwest city limits of Pampa and would connect with the Pampa storm sewer system at the city limits.

"We'd have a flooded roadway and a lot of unhappy homeowners out that way, if we don't put in the storm sewer," Reading said. He explained that he would have brought the matter before the commissioners earlier, but that the need for the storm sewer was overlooked in the original planning of the highway.

As for right-of-way for the highway, which the county must obtain before the state will go ahead with the project, both sides seemed to feel that satisfactory progress was being made.

Since the state probably will not let a contract until the county can provide assurance of the storm sewer, right-of-way acquisition time is extended somewhat.

This time may be well used, Craig indicated, because he is experiencing some difficulty in locating heirs to estates lying on the proposed highway route. It is necessary for these people to personally sign the papers granting the right-of-way.

In another highway right-of-way matter, the commissioners passed a resolution granting the state highway department the right to bargain for the county with the U. S. Forestry Department for land needed to extend FM-2477 to Lake McClellan.

Also the commissioners dedicated 3.3 miles of the Lake McClellan access road to the state. Electroplating gold or silver was patented in 1840.

By CARROLL RUGHTER

FOR SATURDAY, JAN. 15
GENERAL TENDENCIES: So long as you do not force issues with friends or where your personal wishes are concerned, this can be a fine Saturday. Quietly uncover all kinds of situations which could otherwise be to your disadvantage—were you to continue unaware of the true situations now existing. Be cagey.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Foregoing recreations and keeping busy getting all responsibilities in back of you is what you need today. Follow your intuition where an emotional tie is concerned. Come to a better understanding of some kind, and be with friends who understand you. Much occurs that can be a stepping stone to success for you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Instead of running off to new places because you feel you are swamped with work, get it done early and it is behind you quickly. Co-operate with fellow workers. Also, who need your assistance. Make this a productive Saturday.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Forget about what individuals demand of you and get out and have a very happy day and evening. Be very creative in your hobbies. Make sure that you pick your companions with discretion.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 22) — Doing whatever kin desires is very important now so do not permit demands of others to get you upset. You can start big uptrend in fundamental matters. However, make sure you keep perfect equilibrium.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) — If you talk over with experts how to get routine work operating more efficiently, you get fine results. Use your talents intelligently. Get the information required so that you have greater program.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Taking inventory is fine today and then get the help of those who are impressed with your good business sense. You can make additions to your present holdings. Come to fast but accurate decisions.

Pampa High School Campus News

By VIRGINIA DEWITT

Next week students face an ordeal that occurs only twice in each school year. Semester tests have arrived, bringing with them all the confusion and anxiety that can be created by any human mind. The average Pampa High student will take four semester tests, thereby facing at least four states of chaos. No matter how many tests the student will be taking, he will agree that the semester test schedule is different.

Tuesday and Wednesday two tests are scheduled and two class recitations. Thursday morning the final two tests will be given. Students will then be dismissed until Monday.

While most students will enjoy a leisure holiday, members of Red Cross Youth Council will spend Friday contacting downtown merchants for the March of Dimes, according to Glenna Brown, president. Howard Graham, history teacher, is club sponsor.

"One of the most important goals of this drive is to increase the pride of each student in his school," said James Hulett, Student Council sponsor.

After winning the right to compete for all-state honors, six regional winners will try out for All-State Band Jan. 22. Those who will compete are Harriet Henderson, Sara Hahn, Sally McKnight, Judy Mercer, Prudence Skelly and Andy Wilks.

First alternates are Marieka Lang, Steve Spidell and Terry Madeira. In the All-State Choir try outs last week, Jennie Prock was chosen first alternate.

Dear Abby.... Teenage 'Granny' Has a Short Fuse

DEAR ABBY: Today I wore a granny dress to school. After lunch I was called to the principal's office. He had the audacity to complain about my dress. We have a dress code at our school and it doesn't say anything about long dresses but, in either case, the principal does not go by the dress code anyway. He makes all the decisions when there is a question. The thing that burns me up is you don't get yelled at for wearing short, tight, skirts, or even the boys for not wearing socks, but I get yelled at for wearing a granny dress because it's too long! Tomorrow I will wear a real short, tight skirt and not one word will be said. Please print this and tell me what to do. I won't take this from him!

"GRANNY": My, what a short fuse you have! Don't provoke a revolution, but do suggest that the code be revised to include the granny dress. Whatever else may be said about it, it is certainly the most modest fad that has come along for teenage girls in a long time. And don't blame the principal for making the decisions when there is a question. He is the highest authority at your school, and the privilege is his.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law rarely buys a gift for anyone. She just takes the gifts people have given her, has them rewrapped and gives them to others. This has been going on for years, and everyone in the family knows this. I once had some lovely tea towels out, and one of my guests remarked, "Where did you get them?" I gave some to your mother-in-law five years ago and have never seen any like them. One of her sisters gave her a beautiful nightgown, and the next year she turned around and gave it to another sister for her birthday! I gave my mother-in-law some stationery and dusting powder for Christmas last year, and this year she gave it to my daughter! I now hesitate to put out anything she's given me (like a candy dish or ash tray) because I'm sure someone gave it to her and if I'm asked where I got it, what do I say?

AT A LOSS DEAR AT: The problem is hers, not yours. If anyone asks you where anything came from, tell them the truth. It is no reflection on you that your mother-in-law goes gift shopping in her own drawers.

DEAR ABBY: I have naturally curly hair that kinks and curls and frizzes when it's wet or damp or humid. I was told that if I gave myself a reverse permanent, it would straighten my hair out. Please don't tell me to go to a hairdresser because I have heard that they use a very strong solution that makes your hair break off. Thank you.

KINKY DEAR KINKY: I would certainly not advise you to give yourself a "reverse" permanent in hopes of straightening your hair. Put your head in the hands of a top-notch hairdresser.

CONFIDENTIAL To S. J. IN ATLANTIC CITY: I would say if your man keeps you cool in the summer and warm in the winter, stocks a plentiful cupboard, comes home sober right after work without having folded, spindled or mutilated his paycheck, you've got a prince. Take good care of him.

Completely Feminine and Pretty Trend In Spring Fashions Goes Almost Unnoticed

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Midst all the hoopla over the above-knee-skirts, another trend for spring goes almost unnoticed. It's there, in the amazing number of dresses for day, late day and evening—which are completely feminine and pretty in fabric, color and silhouette.

The trend shows in the revival of the white touches on dark dresses, the collar, cuffs, yokes and the flattering trims, more impressionistic than op art.

It shows in silhouettes like the soft smock, or the almost always flattering skimmer leading the daytime parade. It shows in the way a dress is draped and seamed to give it flow over the body.

It shows in fabric and fabric treatments, the soft four-ply crepes, the chiffons, organzas, marquisettes and every other gauzy texture for evening, often done in two and three layers.

It shows also in swirling skirts on many of the short formal—as in one design by Karen Stark for manufacturer Harvey Bern. This was done in beige chiffon, with long cuffed sleeves, jewel buttons and enough yardage in the skirt to make it look like one of those dance dresses from a Ginger Rogers-Fred Astaire movie musical.

Berin is one of the New York Couture Group of designers-manufacturers, who with auxiliary members—this week are holding the 46th "National Press-Week" for visiting press, radio and television representatives.

Fernando Bosc, the designer for Paul Parnes, likes the touch of white lingerie "frosting" on soft, late day dresses. Oval collars of white silk organza finish off the low, rounded necklines of dark silks.

Many of the dresses in the collection of designer-manufacturer Hannah Troy feature back interest—back fullness, back panels, backs bared.

Some of the prettiest dresses from New York manufacturers were produced by designer Roxane for Samuel Winston. She liked tunics and tunic effects above box pleats, fan pleats, or tiers.

Manners Make Friends

Neatness goes a long way in today's business world.

what your periodical aims are and do after them, but avoid family tie who is supposed about something that does not concern you. Find unique ways of reaching your goals. Be clever, awake.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Find a far better system to fit yourself of certain situations that keep you from advancing. Then do something kind for those who are in trouble. Your intuition will tell you what to do, how to gain happiness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Some good friend will give you wonderful ideas for recreation that are very edifying, but you have to forget the material for awhile. This is not a day for finances, anyway. Be social.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Avoid personal aims today and concentrate on the civic or business aims you need. Get out to group meetings where they can be found. Powerful individuals should be contacted, also their ideas are superior to yours now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Bring with new people at new odds, interests in fine right now, so forget the usual routine and get out early. An out-of-town letter clears the picture for you. Be very active—happy.

Progress Seen in Reuniting Church

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
In a world where men are struggling with so many seemingly insoluble problems, it is heartening to note that real progress is being achieved in a task that once appeared hopeless.

The task is reuniting the church.
Coming up Jan. 18-25 is "a week of prayer for Christian unity." Millions of Protestants and Catholics will participate in joint prayer services, Bible study, discussions and other activities in which they'll get to know one another not as "those people" but as fellow Christians.

When this annual week of prayer was initiated 20 years ago, it was widely regarded as a far-fetched idea. Why should Catholics and Protestants pray for unity when they couldn't even deal civilly with one another?

Lutheran Seminar Starts Next Week
CHICAGO (UPI)—A Lutheran Rural and Smaller Church Stewardship Seminar will be held here Jan. 18-20, bringing together about 50 executives, pastors and laymen from four Lutheran church bodies. They will discuss problems associated with stewardship education and programs in rural-oriented congregations and smaller churches.

Represented at the meeting will be the Lutheran Church in America, The American Lutheran Church, the Synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches (Slovak Church) and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Last month Pope Paul VI participated in a joint worship service with Protestant leaders who attended the Vatican Ecumenical Council as observers. No Pope had done such a thing since the Reformation.

Reverend J. W. Duke, First Christian Church, has chosen as his Sermon Topic for Sunday, "Duty, Honor, and Privilege" I Peter 3:10-15. The choir under the Direction of Miss Rosemary Lawlor and accompanied by Mrs. John Gill have chosen to do "Let This Mind Be In You" by Carl Mueller.

Named to Presbyterian Mission Board Staff
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rev. Robert R. Crothers, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Topeka, Kan., has been named associate general secretary of the United Presbyterian Board of National Missions, effective Feb. 1, 1966.

Largest Archdioceses
NEW YORK (UPI)—The three largest Roman Catholic archdioceses in the world are Mexico City, Sao Paulo, Brazil, and Chicago, according to the Catholic Digest.

theological discussions were started on a continuing basis, between Catholics and Episcopalians, Catholics and Lutherans, Catholics and Presbyterians, Catholics and Orthodox.

Within the Protestant fold, six major denominations made so much progress in their "consultation on church unity" that they instructed a drafting committee to present a formal merger plan for consideration at a meeting in Dallas in April. Less dramatic but possibly even more important in the long run were ecumenical encounters on the local level. In hundreds of U.S. communities, Protestants and Catholics worked together on civic projects, cooperated in a common fight against racial injustice and poverty, or simply sat down together to talk over their differences.

Met In Homes
One of the most successful experiments in bringing the ecumenical movement down to the grass roots was carried out in Worcester, Mass., where more than 100 small groups of Catholics and Protestants, numbering 12 to 15 persons each, met in the living rooms of private homes to discover from frank and friendly conversation not only where they differ but also what they have in common as Christians.

The "Worcester plan" worked so well that a major effort will be made during the coming year to extend it to other communities across the country. The National Council of Churches (Protestant) and the Fraternity of Christian Doctrine (Catholic) have jointly published a 256-page paperback book entitled "Living Room Dialogues" to serve as a guide for such groups.

No Reunion Yet
None of this means that the millennium has arrived. Organic reunion in one great church still looks like a distant goal. Pope Paul acknowledged this in his talk to the Protestant observers last month.

"A great stretch of the road remains ahead of us," he said. But, the Pope added, one thing at least has already happened:

"We have begun to love one another." That may turn out to be the greatest accomplishment of the 20th century, not excluding the splitting of the atom and the conquest of space.

This Sunday's Lesson ... And You

By REV. NORRIS ONSTEAD, Phillips' First Baptist Church
Lesson Text: Leviticus 19:12; I Chronicles 29:10-19; Psalm 29; Isaiah 40:21-31; 55:8-9; Acts 17:22-31; Romans 11:33-36; Revelation 4:6-11.
Subject: "God is Holy"
Emphasis: "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come." Revelation 4:8.
LESSON BACKGROUND:
In this series of lessons on the theme, "What Christian Believe," we come to four lessons on WHO IS GOD: "God is Holy," "God is Father," "God is Redeemer," and "God is Living Spirit." Today's lesson is about the fact that God is HOLY. The above Scriptures give voice and evidence of this statement. He is God. Therefore, if He is God, He is holy God!
TODAY'S LESSON FOR YOU:
Although most of us have a vague understanding about the holiness of God, we find that it is not possible to define that holiness. We know that He is God and we are but man. He is holy and we are sinful. He is all powerful and we are weak.

'Make a Wish' First Baptist Sermon Topic
Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in the pulpit for the eleven o'clock morning worship and will preach from the topic, "Make a Wish" with a text taken from I Chronicles 1:7.

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—Missions of the Pentecostal Church are giving Catholic missionaries in Latin America great help in keeping the people from turning to communism, a Protestant leader told the annual pastoral meeting of Maryknoll in Santiago.

Presidents Accept
NEW YORK (UPI)—President Johnson and the nation's two living former presidents, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, have accepted invitations to serve as Honorary Chairman and Co-Chairmen of the observance of the American Bible Society's 150th Anniversary in 1966.

CAPTAIN SCHNEIDER... Evangelist

Salvation Army Revival Planned For Coming Week

The Salvation Army will hold an eight-day revival in Pampa starting this evening under the leadership of Capt. William Schneider, Texas Divisional Evangelist.

Other highlights include a Kiddle's Crusade at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow; a special Junior Legion Meeting at 11 a.m. Sunday and a special Y.P.L. meeting at 6:30 that evening; men's Wednesday; combined Guard night, Tuesday; women's night, and Sunbeam meeting Thursday with Mrs. Schneider as guest; family night next Friday with supper at 6 and service at 7; and another special youth night next Saturday.

In addition to the special events, there will be services each night at the Salvation Army, 613 E. Albert.

Captain Schneider, whose wife, the former Barbara Banks, will accompany him, was ordained by the Union Gospel Church in 1939. He conducted revival campaigns for 15 years before becoming an officer in the Salvation Army. In 1945-46 he directed the "Gospel Fellowship Program," a weekly radio broadcast.

Commissioned from the Salvation Army School for Officers Training in 1956, Captain Schneider has conducted meetings for the Salvation Army in the Southern and Central territories.

The captain is a native of Austin, and has held officer posts in Victoria and Berger as well as in Columbus, Brunswick and Atlanta, Ga.

Before becoming Texas Divisional Evangelist in 1964, the captain was divisional evangelist for the Arkansas-Louisiana Division from 1959.

Wall Street In Review
By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis says it continues to believe that the fundamental strength implicit in the increasing percentage of institutional interest is still not being given adequate recognition.

Thus, the firm says, there would appear no reason for undue concern, as yet, over the increasing interest in low-priced speculative shares. The firm also says there is no indication yet of anything similar to the 1960-61 and early 1962 market; that was "clearly speculative excess. This is not."

Bache & Co. says it still has some reservations over the longer term view and believes caution must not be disregarded.

Tessell, Patricik & Ostrau Inc. says that with the bulls once again in full command, the coming weeks could offer traders an opportunity for good gains with a minimum amount of risk.

C. A. Stoermer To Visit Pampa Witnesses

It was announced this week that Jehovah's Witnesses were making plans for the visit of Mr. C. A. Stoermer, a traveling representative of the world headquarters of the Witnesses at New York.

Stoermer will arrive in Pampa Tuesday afternoon, and after speaking to the local ministers, he will attend the Theocratic Ministry School and Service Meeting which will for this week only be held Tuesday evening starting at 7 p.m.

Each day of his six day visit, Stoermer will share in door-to-door ministry with members of the local congregation.

Also, while he is here, Stoermer will conduct two special meetings.

The first of these meetings is at 8 p.m. next Saturday when Stoermer will discuss new Bible truths mentioned in the latest issues of the "Watchtower" and "Awake" magazines. At this same meeting Stoermer will discuss in depth some Bible topics he will announce after his arrival.

The second of these meetings will take place next Sunday at 3 p.m. when Stoermer will give an hour talk entitled "What to Do to Gain Lasting Life in Happiness."

Both of these meetings will be held at Kingdom Hall, 944-S. Dwight St. The public is invited.

Christian Science Lesson-Sermon Is Based on 'Life'

"Life," one of the key terms through which Christian Scientists seek a deeper understanding of the nature of God, is the subject of this week's Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches.

Other key synonyms for God to be taken up in succeeding weeks are: Truth, Love, Spirit, Soul, Mind.

"Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith," states the denomination's textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal."

The Golden Text is from I John and reads: "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son."

$50,000 Appropriated For Viet Nam Relief

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lutheran World Relief, overseas material aid agency, has appropriated $50,000 for aid to refugees and other needy persons in South Viet Nam, according to the National Lutheran Council News Bureau.

Distribution of food, clothing and other relief supplies is being undertaken through parishes of the 35,000-member Evangelical Church of Viet Nam and under the direction of the Menonite Central Committee, one of the principal voluntary agencies at work in the war-torn Southeast Asian country.

Outdoor Cathedral

RINDGE, N. H. (UPI)—Since the Cathedral of the Pines was established 20 years ago, more than 5 million persons representing every country in the world have visited this open air place of worship. Forty-nine different faiths have held services.

SPACE AGE SNOOPER

MANILA (UPI)—A six-inch wooden ball with a radioactive "heart" solved the problem of thousands of residents of a nearby town plagued with a water shortage for the last three years. The ball traveled about 11.2 miles inside an eight-inch water pipeline and pinpointed to engineers an obstruction in the water supply for Binan Town.

JAPANESE OFFICES

TOKYO (UPI)—The Japanese Foreign Office plans to establish new diplomatic offices in seven countries this year, it was announced today. The move includes embassies in Bulgaria and Guatemala, consulate generals in Kaohsiung, Formosa; Nakhodka, the Soviet Union; and Perth, Australia; a consulate in Edmonton, Alta., Canada and an overseas office in Karachi.

Lutheran Seminar Starts Next Week

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Lutheran Rural and Smaller Church Stewardship Seminar will be held here Jan. 18-20, bringing together about 50 executives, pastors and laymen from four Lutheran church bodies. They will discuss problems associated with stewardship education and programs in rural-oriented congregations and smaller churches.

Represented at the meeting will be the Lutheran Church in America, The American Lutheran Church, the Synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches (Slovak Church) and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Last month Pope Paul VI participated in a joint worship service with Protestant leaders who attended the Vatican Ecumenical Council as observers. No Pope had done such a thing since the Reformation.

A few days later, at simultaneous ceremonies in Rome and Istanbul, the Pope and the ecumenical Patriarch of the Orthodox communion rescinded the exchange of excommunications which separated the eastern half of the church from the western half in the great schism of 1054 A. D.

"THE GREAT CITIES—
THE CHALLENGE OF THE CENTURIES."
(SCRIPTURE. JONAH. 1:2; 3:3.)

Nineveh was one of the most renowned cities of the ancient world. It was founded by Asshur about the year 2325 B.C. (Genesis 10:11), and was a part of the great realm of Nimrod. It was situated upon the eastern bank of the Tigris River, opposite the city of Mosul, perhaps on the very site of the present-day Nunia, where is located a great ruins and also the so-called tomb of Jonah (see Micah 5:6). How long it was the capital city of the Assyrian Empire is not definitely known at this time, but perhaps for several hundred years. But it existed no doubt for more than fifteen hundred years before it became the capital city of Assyria. Nineveh was also a very great of three days' journey" (Jonah 3:3). That is to say, if one journeyed in a straight line across the city, as did prophet Jonah, it required three days' time to pass from one side of the city to the other. This means that the city, including its parks and fields, stretched out for many miles. It may have embraced Calah and Resen at that time. The immense size of the city, moreover, was also emphasized by the number of people (and cattle) within it. The Lord Jehovah, for example, speaks of the 120,000 persons there who "cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle." But if there were 120,000 children under three years of age in Nineveh at that time, then there must have been between 750,000 and 1,200,000 total inhabitants in the city, besides great herds of cattle.

What is of special significance to us, however, is the fact that Nineveh as the capital city of the Assyrian Empire, swayed, if it did not control, the destiny of many nations in the days of Jeroboam II (825-784 B.C.) when Jonah was commanded to go and preach against its great wickedness. As an intelligent and patriotic Jew, Jonah was keenly aware also that if God spared the great wicked Gentile city, it would come, someday, against Jerusalem and crush the city as one would crush an eggshell in one's hand.

History, moreover, substantiates this great fear which Jonah felt. For, in one or two generations, Nineveh forgot how she had humbled herself before the warning of the Hebrew prophet, and was again peuning deep in all sorts of sin. About 630 B.C., for example, the prophet Nahum warned Nineveh that the anger of Jehovah was flaming against her. Again and again the prophet denounced the sins of this great city (Nahum 1:14; 3:12-17). But Nineveh by this time had grown still greater as a world power, and replied to God's warning by reaching out her hand to grasp and crush Jerusalem! Sennacherib, for example, carried a mighty army into Palestine in 701 B.C. to crush Jerusalem. But when 185,000 of his soldiers perished in one night through a special judgement of God, he withdrew to Nineveh where, as was predicted by Zephaniah (chapter 2:13) he met other terrible judgements of God, being assassinated by two of his sons and succeeded by a third son. The city of Nineveh, however, remained a great death threat hanging over the life and destiny of Israel until 606 B.C., when it was taken and destroyed by Nabopolassar of Babylon and Cyaxares, king of the Medes. It is fitting, therefore, that we should pause and seek to understand the meaning of the great cities—those of ancient times and those of our own times.

I. THE PREEMINENT PLACE OF THE GREAT CITIES

1. Civilizations have arisen, flourished, and fallen with the great cities—Nineveh, Babylon, Jerusalem, Alexandria, Rome, Athens, Ephesus, Damascus, Tyre and Sidon, Sodom and Gomorrah.
2. The fate of the greatest nations also has from the beginning been bound up with the great cities.
3. Religion likewise has had its greatest foes and found its most wonderful friends in the great cities of the world.
4. The spread of Christianity, in the beginning and its progress today, was and is and will continue to be bound up with the great cities.

So that, as go the great cities of our day, so will go the fate of our nation and our civilization—and to a very large degree the progress of God's kingdom.

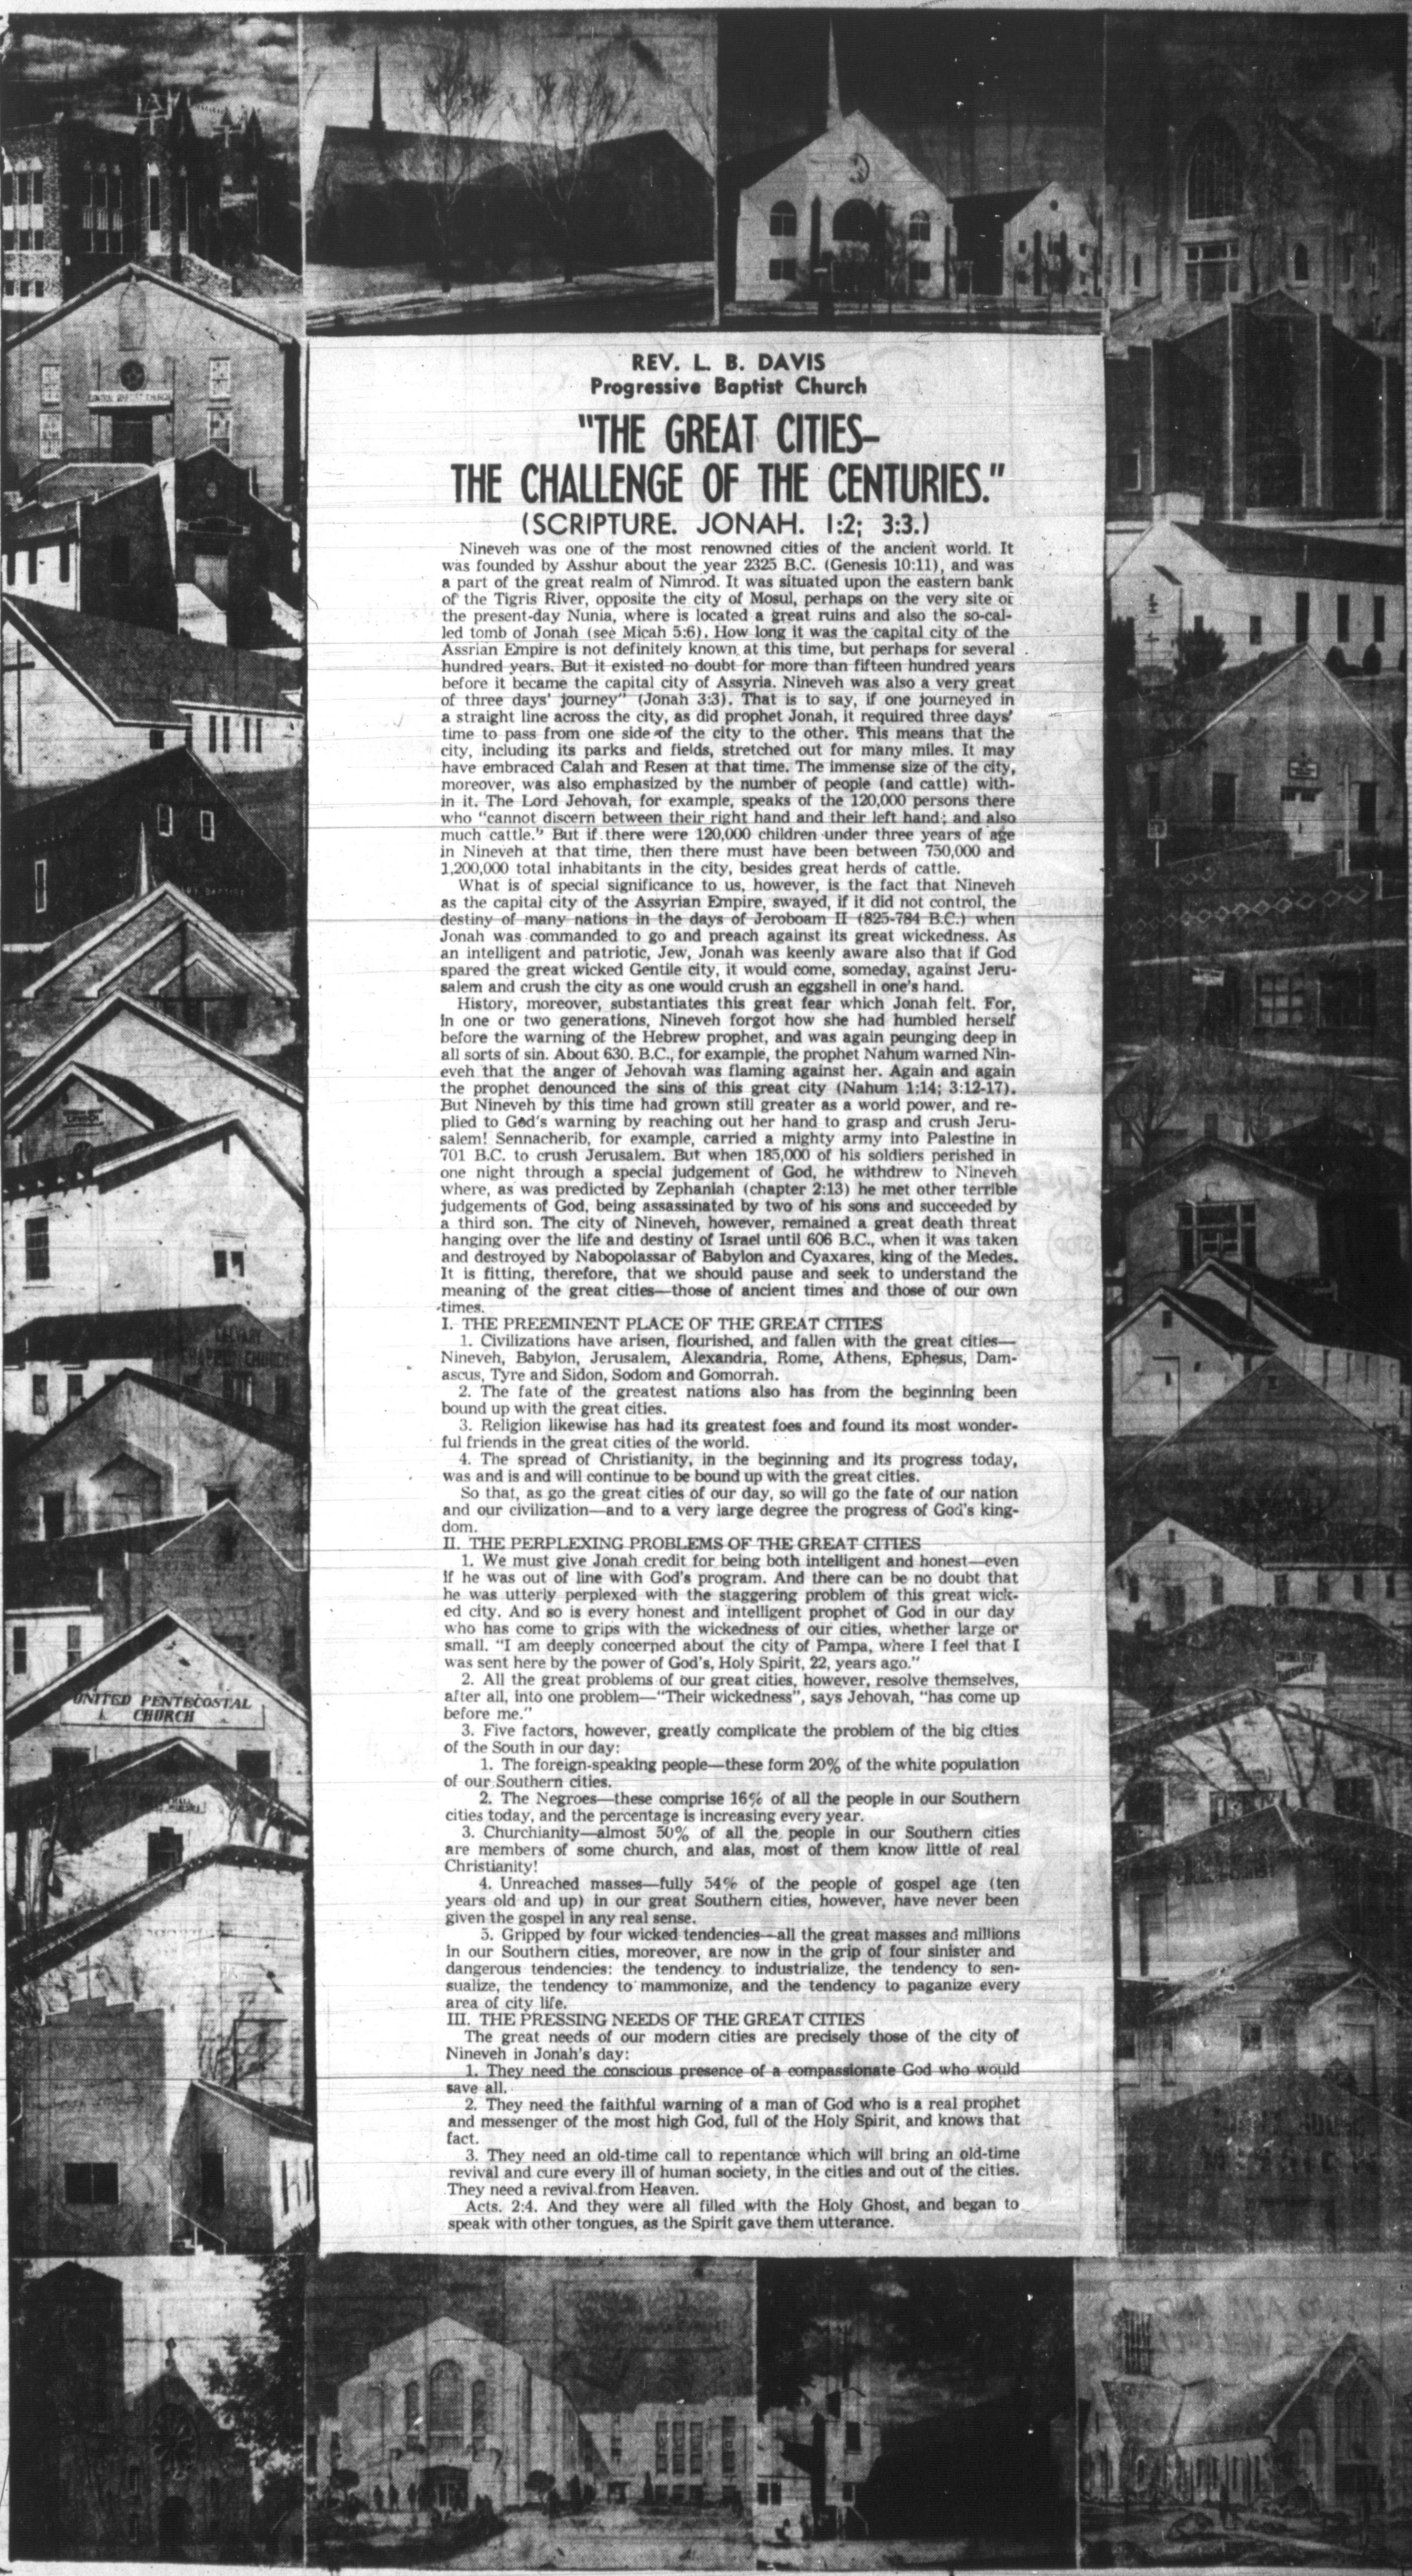

II. THE PERPLEXING PROBLEMS OF THE GREAT CITIES

1. We must give Jonah credit for being both intelligent and honest—even if he was out of line with God's program. And there can be no doubt that he was utterly perplexed with the staggering problem of this great wicked city. And so is every honest and intelligent prophet of God in our day who has come to grips with the wickedness of our cities, whether large or small. "I am deeply concerned about the city of Pampa, where I feel that I was sent here by the power of God's Holy Spirit, 22 years ago."
2. All the great problems of our great cities, however, resolve themselves, after all, into one problem—"Their wickedness," says Jehovah, "has come up before me."
3. Five factors, however, greatly complicate the problem of the big cities of the South in our day:
 1. The foreign-speaking people—these form 20% of the white population of our Southern cities.
 2. The Negroes—these comprise 16% of all the people in our Southern cities today, and the percentage is increasing every year.
 3. Churchianity—almost 50% of all the people in our Southern cities are members of some church, and alas, most of them know little of real Christianity!
 4. Unreached masses—fully 54% of the people of gospel age (ten years old and up) in our great Southern cities, however, have never been given the gospel in any real sense.
 5. Grippled by four wicked tendencies—all the great masses and millions in our Southern cities, moreover, are now in the grip of four sinister and dangerous tendencies: the tendency to industrialize, the tendency to sensualize, the tendency to mammonize, and the tendency to paganize every area of city life.

III. THE PRESSING NEEDS OF THE GREAT CITIES

The great needs of our modern cities are precisely those of the city of Nineveh in Jonah's day:

1. They need the conscious presence of a compassionate God who would save all.
 2. They need the faithful warning of a man of God who is a real prophet and messenger of the most high God, full of the Holy Spirit, and knows that fact.
 3. They need an old-time call to repentance which will bring an old-time revival and cure every ill of human society, in the cities and out of the cities. They need a revival from Heaven.
- Acts. 2:4. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

Harvesters Seek 15th Victory; Host Phillips

By Ron Cross
News Sports Editor

Pampa turns its attention to non-conference basketball action Saturday when they host tall, talented Phillips, starting at 8 p.m.

The Harvesters, 14-4 for the campaign, know they have their work cut out for them, having beaten the Blackhaws earlier in the season by only four points, 48-44 in the finals of the Top O' Texas basketball tournament.

Since then Phillips has won three straight contests and own a 15-4 record and are scoring an average of 61.7 points per contest.

Phillips center Mike Kimmins, a 6'8" ringmaster of offense paces the Blackhawk scoring with an 18.3 average. Pampa, however, held Kimmins to but six points, including two field goals.

But Charles Hampton and David Bailey, who totaled 16 and 10 points respectively against Pampa in the first meeting are right behind Kimmins with 12.4 and 11.2 averages respectively.

In the first meeting of the two teams the Blackhaws shot only 30 per cent from the field connecting on 17 of 55 while Pampa didn't fare much better poking through 16 of 48 for 33 per cent.

But the Blackhaws fouled 19 times to Pampa's 12 and the Harvesters collected 16 points from the charity stripe, Phillips 10 and that made the difference.

Since the Phillips game Pampa hasn't fared too well, winning but one of three contests, the one win coming Tuesday against Tascosa.

For the season Pampa is averaging just over 60 points per contest with a defensive mark of 44.2.

The Harvesters sure-shot, 6'5" center David Cain is averaging 12.5 points per contest and 6'3" Kenneth McWilliams, who played for about three minutes against Tascosa has a 13.1 per game mark.

McWilliams is expected to see only limited action Saturday night, trying to give his back more time to heal before Pampa plunges into second half competition in district 3-4A.

Against Tascosa coach Terry Cuddy started a couple of speedsters, 5'11" Doug Altom and 5'9" Gary Crossland at Guards and the pair harassed the Rebels to no end.

Its anybody's guess who will be at forwards with Mike Wise, Steve Williams or David Frasier the likely choices.

Cain is a sure start at center.

Race is Tight In Missouri Valley

By United Press International

Half the coaches in the Missouri Valley Conference are first-year men, but they've aged quite a bit since the season began.

The eight-team MVC, with the highest coaching "fatality" rate in the nation last season, is noted for stunning intra-conference upsets and is so unpredictable that no championship team in the past 10 years has finished its conference schedule unbeaten.

Joe Stowell, the first-year coach of the fifth-ranked Bradley Braves, got a taste of the MVC's inconsistency Thursday night by losing 75-66 to Drake. The victory was the first in MVC play for the Bulldogs, who handed Bradley its only conference loss in four starts.

Other MVC first-year coaches who have aged in conference play are Cincinnati's Tay Baker (1-1 in league action), North Texas State's Dan Spika (0-2) and Wichita State's Gary Thompson (1-1).

Sixth-ranked Brigham Young was bounced from the Western Athletic Conference lead by the New Mexico Lobos, who shaded the Cougars 81-78.

Top-ranked Duke continued its dominance over Atlantic Coast Conference foes by belting Maryland 76-61. The Blue Devils couldn't find the range early in the first half when the Terps twice held four-point leads.

In another MVC encounter, Tulsa grabbed the league lead by shading North Texas State 62-60, and Detroit took advantage of 31 Notre Dame fouls to whip the Fighting Irish 97-84.

Elsewhere, Boston College nipped Northeastern 70-63, Utah edged Wyoming 93-91 in overtime, Houston walloped Centenary 108-84 and Denver outlasted Utah State 79-72.

HE'S DOWN BUT NOT OUT

Golf Career Not Over For Great Byron Nelson

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
DALLAS (UPI)—The pain comes with sharp suddenness on the down swing. And it has taken off the links one of golf's all-time greats.

But don't count Byron Nelson out. The good Lord Willin' and if the calcium spurs grow he'll be back—maybe in time for the Masters.

Nelson, 53, one of golf's all-time greats, discovered in September he couldn't swing a club.

"When I got into the hitting area, the pain just cut me in two," he said.

Doctors told Nelson, who owns a ranch in Roanoke, Tex., near Fort Worth, that he had calcium deposit spurs on his spine up between the shoulders. The spurs were pinching nerves, the doctors said, and when the spurs finally fuse together he will be able to play again.

Nelson scoffed at reports that he may have played for the last time.

"These reports were greatly exaggerated," Nelson said. "I'm sorry they misunderstood.

I don't expect it to be too long (before the spurs grow together). It may be a matter of several months or so."

Nelson said he had to turn down an invitation to play in the Crosby Tournament in California, but hoped to be ready for the Masters in Georgia this spring.

He said the condition did not keep him from his normal activities on the ranch.

"It only hurts when I play golf," he said. "I can bend forward in any other way."

Nelson, known for his extremely accurate woods and irons, reached his heyday in 1945 when he set an all-time record by winning 11 consecutive tournaments.

To Lord Byron, the thought of not playing in such beloved tournaments as the Masters does not set well.

"My wife says I should be thankful it (the back trouble) didn't happen 20 years ago," Nelson said. "I guess she's right, but I'll be back. Just as soon as those little spurs grow together."

That famous, upright, compact swing should be functioning again—soon.

Reds O'Toole Expects Cut For '66 Season

By United Press International

Jim O'Toole, whose 3-10 record may have cost the Cincinnati Reds the 1965 National League pennant, expects to pay the penalty in 1966.

"I won't complain if I'm asked to take a salary cut," said O'Toole Thursday while admitting he was one of the Reds' biggest disappointments last season. "I halfway expect the Reds to start off our salary negotiations by asking me to take a full 25 per cent cut."

Never less than a 16-game winner from 1961 through 1964, O'Toole scored his only three victories of the 1965 season over the last-place New York Mets and was one of the big culprits in the Reds' fourth place finish. He said Thursday his arm has been examined and pronounced in excellent shape by the club physician and that he sees "no reason why I shouldn't come back strong."

The Philadelphia Phillies, Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees, meanwhile, reached agreement with key players.

Jim Bunning, who won 19 games and struck out a club record 286 batters, and Richie Allen, who batted .302 with 21 homers and 85 runs batted in during the 1965 season, signed with the Phillies.

Outfielder Leon Wagner, who drove in 79 runs, hit 28 homers and batted .294, and Catcher Joe Azcue reached agreements with the Indians. Wagner's 1966 salary is believed to be around $40,000.

Whitey Ford, whose 212 victories make him the biggest winner in the club's history, signed a pact estimated at $60,000 with the Yankees.

Catcher Jesse Gonder and Pitcher Pete Mikkelsen, acquired during winter deals, signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Catcher Ron Brand, a 234-hitter in 117 games, became the fourth Houston Astro to sign for 1966, while the Minnesota Twins got into the act with the announcement that they have signed outfielder Bob Allison and pitcher Dick Stigman.

Cage Action Light For Texas Teams

By United Press International

Houston University wore down Centenary early in the game and ran away with it, 108-84, Thursday night, a light night for Texas basketball teams.

Tulsa nipped off a late North Texas State rally and beat the Texans 62-60, taking the lead in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Hardin-Simmons rallied in the second half to beat McMurry 66-57, the Phillips 66ers made use of their bench strength to defeat Pan American 65-58, and Houston Baptist came from behind to whip Southwestern 71-57.

Houston's Cougars had good scoring balance against Centenary, putting five men in double figures in the scoring. Joe Hamood, a guard, led with 26 points. However, Tom Kerwin of Centenary was tops for both teams with 34 points.

Houston Rallies

Centenary got the lead in the early stages, but its starting unit tired and Houston came on strong. The Cougars pulled to a halftime advantage of 52-37. In the second half, Houston built that to 30 points at one place, and were not threatened. Centenary whittled away at the lead only partially when Houston's 6-9 center, Evin Hayes, fouled out after scoring 20 points.

Houston is 8-4 for the season.

Kosterman Named VP of Oilers

HOUSTON (UPI)—Don Kosterman, considered a top-notch hunter for football talent, is the new vice president and general manager of the Houston Oilers League.

His relative authority in the club and that of coach Hugh (Bones) Taylor will still have to be worked out in detail.

The Oilers named Kosterman to the job Thursday. He was previously director of player personnel for the Kansas City Chiefs, but resigned last week in a hassle over a reported franchise move to the West Coast.

Oilers owner K. S. (Bud) Adams said Kosterman has "a wealth of football knowledge."

The new general manager did "a job unsurpassed" in scouting talent for the Kansas City club, Adams said.

Ford's No Born Loser

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some guys are born losers.

You know the type. They walk up to the mutual window with every intention of purchasing a ticket on the number five horse but somehow the clerk misunderstands and punches out number four.

Rather than stand there and argue about it, and maybe because he just had a sudden hunch, our hero always takes the number four ticket. Sure enough, number five wins breezing.

This particular misfortune never has befallen Whitey Ford, who isn't what you'd call a race track habitué, anyway.

But even in his business, which happens to be baseball, Ford rarely makes the wrong move. Ralph Houk was talking about it Thursday after signing the 37-year-old left-hander to a $60,000 contract.

"I don't think he can ever be a loser," said the Yankee general manager, glancing over toward a nearby table where

Blocker, Aaron Take Lead in San Diego Open

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Newcomer Chris Blocker and Tom Aaron, a pro who has won a lot of money but never a tournament, shared the lead today going into the second round of the 72-hole, $40,000 San Diego Open—second event in the annual PGA tour.

Aaron, an early first-round finisher Thursday, looked like he had a lock on the lead until Blocker came in with the last three and tanked a 50-foot approach shot on the 18th green for a birdie.

Both Aaron and Blocker turned in cards of 33-32—65—six under par for the Stardust Country Club course.

Aaron, 28, of Gainesville, Ga., was No. 16 last year on the PGA money list with $44,829 in official winnings. Since turning pro in 1964, Blocker has won only $3,818.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Ghastly Burden on Man's Back

President Johnson has asked Congress for $6 billion to prosecute the war in Viet Nam. Added to the $1.7 billion voted last August and $700 million in May, when the escalator started rolling, this would bring the total of offerings on the altar of Mars in less than one year's time to $10 billion. Thirteen billion dollars could go a long way toward completely rebuilding all of Viet Nam. It could put $300 — a veritable fortune — in the hands of every single citizen, both in the north and in the south. The real cost of war, of course, is not measurable in dollars, and even these are only crude approximations. The figures given here do not reflect inter-war expenditures on arms or such continuing postwar expenses as pensions and medical care for veterans. And who can assess the value of a peasant's miserable belongings consumed in napalm or the potential financial worth of a dead soldier? The real cost of war is expressed in human suffering and the degradation of the human spirit, and the depths of these cannot be plumbed by any fiscal report. This is one thing that does not change. The technical cost of killing a man goes higher and higher, but the price of his soul is just as immeasurable as it was when Cain rose up against Abel, his brother, and slew him.

Some Food For Thought

Some thoughts to ruminate on, courtesy of the Topeka (Kansas) Free Lance: Do you really know what the "Great Society" is? It's simple, son. The "Great Society" is the kind of government the Russian people have been starving to death under for the past 40 years. When you start from scratch like the Russians did, you just keep scratching. When you start from capitalism you get to enjoy eating the goose that laid those golden eggs. The "liberals" like to say it this way: "Now that we've acquired the tools of production." This is certain professors and preachers, the bureaucrats, the second rate artists, the politicians: "now that we've acquired the tools of production." Not a one of them ever created a tool or ran a business, but they are jolly well ready to step in and take over the shop now that it is established and toiled — yes siree-dad. "Now we will put our great intelligence to work using the wealth those wonderful tools are making and we will have a society that rewards everyone. Just let's pass those laws to give us control so all that wealth can be put to proper use." The way this story ends is somewhere along about now all those capitalistic citizens who provided the ideas, and the capital, and the know-how and the management and that old business savvy — all those people finally get tired of being robbed of what they produce and they quit. Then the machinery and the trading marts and the business offices all begin to run out of gas and no matter how many laws the socialists pass promulgating the economic machine to keep running in high gear, it just won't do it. For a long time no one wants to admit it, but finally, when it is too late, even the socialists sort of realize it wasn't the machinery after all — it was the entrepreneurs who built and ran the machinery. And a very few even see beyond that to the kernel of truth, that it was the climate of freedom, the right to own the wealth produced, which fueled the whole enterprise. What is the "Great Society," son? It's an enterprise killer, that's all. Or you might say it another way — it's a royal feast on roast goose and don't ask what we're going to feast on after the goose is all gone. Are people really that stupid, paw? Shut up, son, and pass me a drumstick.

Steel Price and Inflation

The gyrations of the politicians over increases of certain prices would be amusing if they were not terrifying. Every person who has been shopping lately knows there is inflation which has resulted in higher prices. The bleeding hearts in Washington and among the various labor unions who have been pushing for higher wages and increases in minimum wage laws recognize that prices are up so they are pushing for higher pay for the workers. But when a business or industry announces a price increase because of higher costs, the politicians go into something of a tizzy. Aluminum and copper firms were forced to cut back on announced price rises when the big Man in Washington threatened to turn loose some of the nation's so-called strategic stock piles. When steel firms then announced they planned to raise prices on structural steel by $5 a ton, the Johnson administration denounced it as inflationary. Mr. Johnson then decided that

Swimming Pool Recreational Facilities Are One Community's Approach to Anti-Poverty

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A rural Minnesota community is literally "getting right into the swim" of the anti-poverty program. City officials of Eagle Bend, Minn., are seeking $38,055 from the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the $1.5 billion anti-poverty program, to build a swimming pool. They also want a tennis court, winter ice skating rink, horse shoe pits, picnic area, and a parking lot for their cars while using these poverty-assuaging facilities. This is just one of numerous remarkable reports being recounted by returned members of Congress. Another is about a small town that won a baseball championship by using Neighborhood Youth Corps funds to hire college athletes. The legislators are relating these instances of astonishing anti-poverty spending while discussing impending Johnson administration demands for more billions for the intensifying Viet Nam conflict and the various health, education and urban development programs voted last year. Authoritative word is being put out by House and Senate Democratic leaders that President Johnson will seek more billions for these Great Society projects. He is being quoted as saying: "I don't propose to fight a war in Viet Nam and allow a revolution to develop here at home." In the minds of the lawmakers there also is no doubt that this year's crucial congressional and state elections are playing a decisive role in the President's immense budget requests. Such tremendous spending is certain to have direct impact on the campaign. According to insiders no economizing is contemplated in the new anti-poverty budget. INTERESTING CASE HISTORY — The Eagle Bend anti-poverty swimming pool project, now awaiting formal OEO approval, is the outgrowth of a combined effort by three adjoining Minnesota counties — Todd, Morrison and Crow Wing. Last July OEO allocated $17,970 to the Tri-County Community Action Council, Inc., Brainerd, Minn., to employ a director to formulate a concerted anti-poverty program for the three counties. In December the Tri-County Council got another $16,146 to continue this planning. The council selected Todd County as the pilot area, and a principal community of the county. The committee, headed by School Superintendent Dalton Roelofs, decided on a recreation center as the first anti-poverty project. Explaining the reason for this, Roelofs told the OEO: "Recreational facilities are a very much needed asset in this community. . . Eagle Bend lies 20 miles from any bodies of water suitable for swimming. . . For the first time, it appears

CAPITOL EYE:

LBJ Going All Out to Keep Great Society on the Move

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Johnson is bending all his accounting ingenuity, which is considerable, toward assuring the country it can have both guns and a large amount of butter in the next 18 months. He made it known in his state of the union message that he does not intend to allow the Vietnamese war to force the dry-docking of Great Society programs barely launched in 1965. To permit war spending to have such an impact would be, in the view of one of his most trusted associates, to grant to the Republicans after-the-fact victories over his programs which they did not earn with their votes in Congress last year. The President himself is known to regard any proposals for massive curtailment of Great Society undertakings as a threat to necessary national progress in education, health and scientific research, the uplift of the poor. At the same time, faced with the uncertain size of the Vietnamese war, Johnson is said to feel he must postpone or cancel the spending of every dollar not required for adequate flotation of the Great Society in 1966-67. With this objective, he is known to be engaged right down to the budget message wire in just about the fanciest bookkeeping footwork in his long career of intense familiarity with the federal budget. Some programs, such as those involved in housing and other construction, will be delayed. Others will find their proposed new outlays thinned down, with a stretch-out of planned escalation. The "war on poverty," for example, probably will not be figured for next year at more than the $1.5 billion appropriated for the current fiscal year. The request was for more than double the present total, and poverty fighters' expectations ran high until recently. Some top administration men are not unhappy at this enforced stretch-out, believing that the 1964-65 "poverty war" performance indicates larger sums would prove indigestible and possibly lead the program into far more confusion and controversy than it has already suffered. Sharp pruning is planned in funds for the distressed areas of Appalachia, but an overbalancing offset is the anticipated additional outlay of some $400 million by the Defense Department in Appalachian states. The President is said to consider this a perfect illustration of the way his Great Society goals can be pursued uninterruptedly by bringing off ingenious shifts in the budget pattern. Another such projected shift involves a severe cutback in a long established program federal aid to schools in so-called "impacted" districts where U. S. installations have produced overcrowding. This reduction, which in the end may run nearly to $400 million, will be balanced by going ahead full blast with the planned escalation under last year's broad aid-to-education programs. The education package, plus research endeavors in health and general science, represent Great Society efforts the President is said to wish to keep intact on their rising expenditure course. To curtail them in their planned orbit, administration of knowledge, experience and training the country is expected to need as its population zooms and its economy soars steadily. The President's economists have reportedly told him an anticipated climb this year in the U.S. gross national product to a record $720 billion or more should allow his deft budgetary footwork to pay off without either unbearable deficit or the political millstone of new taxes. For the moment, he is said to be cheerfully taking their word.

The Nation's Press

PREPARE TO ABANDON SHIP (N. W. Daily News) The United Nations General Assembly, rushing to adjourn in time for Christmas, saw a sinister motion rammed onto its records by a lot of Afro-Asian and Red member nations. Sinister, we mean, for the United States. Mail, a new African country, moved that the Assembly adopt an anti-colonialism resolution by a simple majority. Colonialism is a highly important subject. Art. 18 of the UN Charter requires decisions on important matters to be by 2-3 majority votes in the Assembly, not simple majorities. Yet the Mali motion was adopted by a simple majority of 59-45 with four abstentions, after which the Assembly passed the anti-colonialism resolution 74-6 with 27 abstentions. U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg before the Mali motion was adopted, warned that adoption by a simple majority would violate Art. 18. Afterward, U.S. spokesmen said this country considers the action "null and void." This incident seems to foreshadow a stronger Afro-Asian-Red drive next year than ever before to Jimmy Red China into the UN, scream though the U.S.A. may. If Red China gets in, then our only consistent and we think our only safe course will be to get out of the UN and invite the UN out of the U. S. And, to change figures of speech, a lot of us had better begin making preliminary preparations right now to abandon this particular ship.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Overpowering Fatigue Is Exhaustion Symptom Q—What is the difference between physical, mental and nervous exhaustion? What are their symptoms? What is the best way to prevent them? A—By physical exhaustion we usually mean that due to prolonged physical exertion as in a long-distance run. Mental exhaustion implies staying too long on a task that requires great concentration, as in cramming for an exam. Nervous exhaustion is that due to a series of frustrations or to insufficient rest. It may occur after several nights of late hours or interrupted sleep or after working under tension for a period of weeks or months. The chief symptom of all three is an overpowering fatigue but it is often surprising how quickly a person who is physically or mentally exhausted can be revived with a short nap, a cup of coffee, or a change to a different set of interests. The victim of nervous exhaustion is much harder to revive. He is usually irritable and suffers a decrease in general efficiency. The best prevention for all three is to get your rest well before the point of exhaustion is reached or to change your type of activity for a few minutes of every hour. Q—What causes glaucoma? At what age does it usually start? What is the normal pressure in an eyeball? If eye drops are used to arrest it will the victim have to use the drops indefinitely? A—Glaucoma or increased pressure within the eyeball is caused by a blocking of the flow of fluids inside the eyeball — probably associated with hardening of the arteries. It is rare in persons under 50. Normally the pressure in the eyeballs is between 15 and 25 millimeters of mercury. Drugs to narrow the pupils are beneficial but, for lasting relief, you should have a part of your iris removed. Since glaucoma is the chief cause of blindness in persons past middle age it should not be taken lightly. Q—What causes rectal fissure? The ointment my doctor gave me doesn't help. What would you recommend? A—An anal crack or fissure may be caused by the passage of a hard stool of great thickness. Until the fissure is completely healed you should keep the stools soft by eating large amounts of vegetable and fruit or taking Metamucil. After each stool, clean with a soft tissue moistened with warm water. Follow this with a soothing ointment — cold cream or petrolatum jelly. If the condition becomes chronic you should have the fissure removed surgically. community. These men all agree it is a pleasant and rewarding experience to work as a group and will continue to do so in the future on other projects which will improve or draw business to the community."

Wit and Whimsy

Six-year-old Mary awoke about two in the morning. Mary — Tell me a story, Mamma. Mother—Hush, Darling, daddy will be in soon and tell us both one. Mary—Is your husband a bookworm? Jean—No, just an ordinary one. Two Southern conductors on vacation in Florida were talking to a local guide about doing some night fishing. To get to the best fishing spot, the guide told them, they would have to travel about two miles through the swamp, and in doing so they might run across an alligator or two. One Conductor — From what I hear, Alligators won't bother you if you carry a lantern. Guide — Yep, but a lot depends on how fast you carry it!

ANTARCTIC ACTIVITY—Winter is getting underway in earnest for Americans at home, but in Antarctica summer is just coming in and U.S. scientific teams in south polar regions are again busy with research programs. Scene above is the wind-swept Ross Ice Shelf. Glaciologists patrol the snowy wide-open spaces in motor toboggans to study ice movement and snow accumulation, part of an effort to determine whether Antarctica's vast ice cap is increasing or decreasing in size.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES: 9 Take Medical Cost Deduction

By RAY DE CRANE, NEA Special Writer
 The wisdom of preserving receipts and canceled checks is quickly realized at income tax filing time. Nowhere is this more prudent than in preserving throughout the year all medical expense records.

The person who has all the supporting proof never hesitates to make a proper medical deduction. Those lacking the proof frequently have to overlook this tax-saving opportunity.

Medical expenses are deductible on your tax return to the extent they exceed 3 per cent of income. For the $8,500 total income taxpayer this would mean complete deduction of his medical expenses beyond $255.

Before starting out on your medical deduction, separate first the expenditures for medicines and drugs from your other medical expenses. The drugs are includible in your tabulation beyond one per cent of income. For the $8,500 taxpayer, for example, this would mean the cost of drugs beyond $85.

Your medical expenses include the cost of hospital and health insurance, fees paid to doctors, dentists, optometrist, chiropractor, psychiatrist, Christian Science practitioner, hospital, mental institution, nurses, cost of laboratory tests, X rays, physical therapy treatments, eyeglasses, dentures, hearing aids and batteries, rental of wheel chair or crutches and ambulance hire. Include also the transportation costs in obtaining medical care.

That could be taxi or bus fare or an allowance for the use of your own car. IRS regulations permit the use of a five cents per mile allowance for the use of your own car for medical purposes. You can also include parking charges.

You can consider only those medical expenses for yourself, your spouse and your dependents.

From this medical expense tabulation of our $8,500 taxpayer you have a ready guide for your own return:

Prescribed drugs	$115.00
Less 1 per cent of total income	85.00
Excess	30.00
Hospital insurance	218.00
Bradley Hill, M.D.	85.00
Leslie Slaman, DDS	115.00
Transportation (300 mi. at 65)	15.00
Eyeglasses (Dr. Arthur Madden)	35.00
Total Medical Exp.	$498.00
Less 3 per cent of Total Income	255.00
Deductible	$243.00

If you were the chief support of one of your parents who was 65 or over you could claim the full amount of medical payments made in his behalf without reference to the 1 per cent or 3 per cent rules even though he had $600 or more income. Your separate statement attached to your return should show a separation of the medical payments for your family and your parents if you and your spouse are both under 65.

TAX TIP: — Consider this plan for your medical records. Place an envelope labeled "Medical Expense" in your file cabinet. Each time you pay a bill put your receipt in it or put the canceled check for such payments in at the end of each month. At the end of the year your records will all be assembled for you.

SHARP CONTINUES
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has approved a two-year extension of Adm. Ulysses S. Grant Sharp's tour as commander in chief for the Pacific.

The Thursday action extended the 59-year-old Sharp's term in the post to June 30, 1968. He took it June 30, 1964.

HOLD RED TALKS
 MOSCOW (UPI) — Kremlin leader Leonid Brezhnev opened talks with Mongolian officials in the Mongolian capital of Ulan Bator Thursday, the official Soviet news agency said.

Tass said the Soviet Union would sign a new treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance with Mongolia, which long has been closely aligned with Moscow.
