Soviets Score Big Diplomatic Gain Over China

MOSCOW (UPI)—High level delegations from Communist North Viet Nam and North Korea arrived in Moscow Saturday night to attend the 23rd Soviet party Congress in what was considered a diplomat triumph for Russia in its feud with Communist China.

The Hanoi delegation was led by a right hand man of President Ho Chi Minh, First Secretary Le Duan of the North Vietnamese Communist party. He was expected to discuss stepped up Kremlin aid to the Communists in the Viet Nam war.

A few minutes later a delegation representing North Korea arrived in Moscow. It was led by President Chou Yong Keum, the Tass news agency said.

The two key Asian delegations traveled to Moscow for the congress starting Tuesday despite Red China's blunt announcement early in the week that it was boycotting the Soviet congress. The Peking action also severed the ties between the leading big Red parties.

Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin led the welcoming party at Moscow's Vnukovo Airport.

Both Russia and China have competed with each other for influence over the course of events in North Viet Nam and there have been indications recently that Moscow has been gaining more strength with the leaders in Hanoi.

Diplomatic sources said the Russians were expected to discuss with the North Vietnamese ways and means of coordinating and stepping up aid to North Viet Nam—including ground-to-air missiles, other military equipment and economic aid.

Other top Communist leaders such as Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka and East Germany's Walter Ulbricht were expected to arrive here Sunday and Monday along with the entire East European camp of Moscow's comrades.

State Crime Rate Up Nine Per Cent

AUSTIN (UPI)—Major crimes were up 9 per cent in Texas the past year, the director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reported Saturday.

There were 284,249 crimes in 1965—up more than 23,000 over the previous year. Col. Homer Garrison, DPS director, said a major crime was committed on the average of once every 1 1/2 minutes.

The biggest percentage increase came in aggravated assault cases, where a 17.1 per cent boost was noted.

There were almost three crimes committed in 1965 for every 100 persons, Garrison said.

College Coeds Don't Swallow AF Explanation

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—One of 87 college coeds who reported seeing mysterious flying objects in Michigan last week Saturday called an Air Force report that the objects were luminous gas a "mockery."

Barbara Kohn, 21, a Hillsdale College student here to visit an aunt, accused Dr. J. Allen Hynck of "not doing his research thoroughly before rendering his opinion."

Hynck, a Northwestern University astrophysicist sent by the Air Force to Hillsdale to investigate the reports, said Friday the objects were "probably swamp gas."

"These objects were not viewed over a swamp but over the college arboretum and the college baseball field," Miss Kohn said. "The arboretum is a carefully tended woods park with a few small ponds but has no rotting vegetable matter from which gas might have been produced."

Miss Kohn said that Hynck talked to only two coeds, neither one of which had reported seeing the objects when they were first sighted, and that he had made no visits to the dormitory rooms from which the objects were sighted.

Miss Kohn, whose parents live in New Castle, Pa., said she viewed them through binoculars and the outline of the objects were very precise. "I don't say I saw a visitor from outer space," she said. "I saw an object that moved through the air and that I could not identify."

Texas Attorney General to Speak At Teacher Parley

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr will be in Pampa next Thursday to address a dinner meeting of the Gray-Roberts Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association in the Pampa High School cafeteria.

The Texas attorney general speak in the school auditorium immediately following the dinner and local annual election of officers for the local teachers' group.

Floyd Sackett, assistant principal at Robert E. Lee Junior High, is current president of the Gray-Roberts unit.

Sackett said Saturday the public is invited to attend the speaking portion of the program which should get under way in the auditorium around 8 p.m. The dinner in the cafeteria is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Carr has served Texas both as a state official and as a county official from Lubbock County. Prior to his election to the House of Representatives, he served as an assistant district attorney in the 400-unit 72nd Judicial District and as a county attorney for Lubbock County.

He was elected to his first term as a member of the House of Representatives in 1951. He served five terms there and was elected Speaker of the House for his last two terms.

WAGGONER CARR to speak here

NURSES WORKSHOP — Studying some of the literature on diabetes are main speakers for the Texas Nurses Association Workshop, held yesterday in Coronado Inn. The workshop was attended by nurses from over the Panhandle area. Left to right are, Virginia Jarratt, of the TNA Board of Directors in Austin; Mrs. Martha Ann Bobbitt, director of Nursing Service at St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo; Mrs. Betty Ware, dietitian at North Plains Hospital, Borger, and Dr. W. E. Scott, Amarillo.

KICK OFF DINNER TONIGHT

Concert Membership Drive Due Tomorrow

George Blake, vice president and western division manager for Columbia Artists Management, Inc., New York City, will be the principal speaker at tonight's kick-off dinner for the 1966-67 open membership drive of the Pampa Community Concert Association.

Approximately 150 volunteer campaign workers and association officers will attend the dinner at 7:30 p.m. in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

The open membership drive will get under way tomorrow morning and workers will report to campaign headquarters in the Southwest Public Service Co. lobby, 315 N. Ballard. The headquarters office will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday. The phone number there is MO 5-5541. Persons wishing to obtain season memberships may call headquarters secretary Mrs. Kirk Duncan at that number.

Mrs. MacField McDaniel, concert association president, will introduce the speaker at tonight's kick-off dinner. Mrs. Mack Blatt, membership drive chairman, will instruct workers on campaign procedures.

Mrs. Blatt said Saturday that workers who have been taking renewal memberships during the past week are requested to turn in their renewals at tonight's dinner.

Dinner music will be furnished by Gary Stephens at the piano and the invocation will be given by Jim Dailey.

Mrs. Bruce Riehart is co-chairman with Mrs. Blatt in the handling of the general membership campaign.

Blake, tonight's dinner speaker, will be at the headquarters all week to assist campaign workers and will meet with the concert association board when the final two attractions for the 1966-67 concert season will be selected at the conclusion of the drive.

Two top attractions already have been contracted for next season. They are Ruth Page's International Ballet and Mantovani and His Orchestra.

Season memberships are available at $10 for adults and $5 for students.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong losses are estimated at 10,000 to 15,000 a month.

The impending monsoon season is influencing American manpower strategy. The heavy rains favor Communist guerrilla type warfare and will cause drains on U.S. troop strength until they end next September or October.

Clear, Mild Weather Due

Boating, fishing and just plain fun in the Sun is the word for Pampa and Panhandle residents today.

The Amarillo Weather Bureau forecast a day of fair to partly cloudy skies with temperatures in the mid-60s for the Panhandle.

Winds will be light for the area, only 8-18 miles per hour. A weak, early spring cold front ground to a halt Saturday in the western third of Texas without drastically lowering temperatures. Light rain and drizzle bathed coastal areas.

SEASON'S FINAL DINNER

Tarheel Chamber Manager To Address K and F Club

One of North Carolina's favorite sons, Charles L. McCullers of Dunn, where he is Chamber of Commerce manager, will address members of the Top O' Texas Knife & Fork Club Tuesday evening, April 5, in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. with the speech immediately following.

McCullers, who says he never has written a speech in all his life although he admits he tried once and gave it up as unsatisfactory, is said to be one of the best ad-libbers in the platform field.

He insists that what he talks about has come from his own experience. He has served with distinction on such state bodies as the State Recreation Commission of North Carolina, was a member of the Kerr Reservoir Development Commission of his native state, was on the Interstate Committee of Y. M. C. A.'s of the Carolinas, and on the public relations committee of Salvation Army of the Carolinas.

This was while he was the executive vice president and general manager of the Kinston Chamber of Commerce, a position he relinquished to go into the investment field before re-entering public service work in Dunn. McCullers has put almost 20 years in chamber of commerce work, having gone into it directly after his discharge from World War II in 1943.

Tens of Thousands Parade Waiving Red Viet Cong Banners

Tens of thousands of demonstrators marched through dense city streets amidst volleys of rotten eggs and a stream of catcalls Saturday parading their protest against America's war in Viet Nam.

Massed police guarded barricades in cities from New York to San Francisco to keep angry hecklers from breaking through and attacking the marchers of the second "International Days of Protest."

A Molotov cocktail was flung against the headquarters of a marching group before 30,000 persons swung out down New York's Fifth Avenue in the largest of the anti-war demonstrations across the nation.

Rotten eggs were lobbed from the New York crowd and 1,000 police braced themselves against riot barricades to keep back hecklers who shouted "traitors!" and "kill a commie for Christ!"

Once, several of a group of 700 spectators ducked under the barricades and traded blows with a marching group called "Afro-Americans Against the war in Viet Nam." The Negro marchers were carrying a Viet Cong flag.

Seventy-five policemen brought that outbreak under control. But they could not stop the hail of tomatoes and rotten eggs from spectators who lined the curbs five deep.

Chicago hecklers spat at the marchers and shouted "Chicken . . . Scum . . . Cowards . . . Commies . . . S.O.B.S." were heard from angry crowds at Oklahoma City and Boston. The Boston marchers were harassed by leather-jacketed motorcycleists who sent their machines zigzagging through the line of march.

Variety of Marchers The marchers ranged from be-medalled war veterans to bearded advocates of sexual freedom hoisting signs saying "Make love, not war." Smartly-dressed grandmothers marched side by side with beatniks and college professors were shoulder-to-shoulder with young members of "new left" organizations.

The marches were the climax of a carefully planned national campaign to demonstrate opposition to America's Southeast Asia policy. They were a sequel to the first "International Days of Protest" which sparked riots, violence and a counter-wave of patriotic fervor last October.

The coordinator of the marches said he had a message of blessing from the president of the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

A standing-room-only crowd of from 5,000 and 6,000 persons listened to anti-Viet Nam speeches for two and a half hours at the rally.

Yale University Assistant Professor Staughton Lynd, who made and unannounced trip to North Viet Nam, was loudly applauded when he said of the demonstrators, "These students are not Communists. Those who oppose this war cannot be dismissed as Communists. They are human beings expressing their opinions."

Outside of the jeers there was little response to the demonstrators, who walked from State and Wacker to the Chicago Coliseum—about two miles—for a mass rally.

ASTRONAUTS DESCRIBE VOYAGE

Pilots Feared Spaceship Would Break Apart

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott said Saturday they began their emergency dash home from space when they feared a, out-of-control jet might cause their Gemini 8 ship and an Agena satellite to break apart in orbit.

The pilots, facing newsmen for the first time since their March 16 voyage, told a fascinating story of a flight that ranged from the "greatest thrill" of a rocket blastoff to the problem seven hours later that forced them to take one "drastic step" after another.

Eventually, they came home safely from a close brush with death 185 miles deep in space—but after completing only one-seventh of an intended 71-hour journey.

Gemini 8, leaping from orbit to orbit in a 107,000-mile chase around earth, had accomplished an historic linkup with the Agena when a short circuit evidently locked the No. 8 thruster wide open and threw the ship into a violent bucking, rolling motion.

First, they said, they thought the trouble was in the 26-foot-long Agena locked to the nose of Gemini 8. They tried various controls, attempting to pinpoint the difficulty.

Still the rolling continued. "When it became obvious that this was not effective," said Armstrong, "we began to consider that some sort of spacecraft system was involved."

Furiously working at the controls, the astronauts alternately kept the ship steady and then felt it slipping again.

"We began to think we had the combination under control," said Armstrong. "Then the problem uncovered itself and the rates (turning and rolling) began to increase to the point where we felt the structural combination and integrity was in jeopardy."

The two ships were connected essentially at three points, and too much spinning could have snapped them apart.

bringing the craft under control enough to safely back away from the Agena "without any contact between the vehicles."

But trouble was far from over. Gemini 8, far from calming down, began spinning so fast it was turning once around every second.

At this point, said Armstrong, "it was quite evident there was indeed a problem in the spacecraft control system."

First, they thought it was a stuck hand controller. Only later did they discover the stuck thruster. They fired up a backup system to get better control.

In conference with ground stations, the decision was made (See SPACESHIP, Page 3)

ICC BLAST RAILS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has criticized the nation's railroads for poorly maintaining train airbrakes and safety devices.

The ICC Bureau of Railroad Safety said in a report Thursday the repair of "power breaks on equipment in service is a matter of grave concern."

It also said violations of the Safety Appliance Acts rose from 428 the previous year to 594 during the year ended June 30.

Red Cross is preparing for a major flood on the Red River in North Dakota. Scores of volunteers are working out of disaster headquarters set up in Grand Falls, assisted by 11 national Red Cross disaster workers. Melting snow from the great blizzard of several weeks ago, is sending the Red River up to dangerous crests and 164 families have been evacuated.

The Association of Chapters will meet at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in Perryton at the Ranch House Restaurant on Highway 83. Archie Williams administrator of the Regional Blood Center in Wichita, Kansas, will discuss the Red Cross Blood Program. Mrs. Mary Caruthers, regional director of Red Cross Youth, will discuss youth participation in Red Cross programs. This meeting is open to the public and anyone interested in Red Cross work is invited to attend the meeting. Dutch treat for noon!

Miss Pat Ray, Red Cross volunteer was chosen to represent the group at the press coffee at the Starlight Room, Thursday morning because she had over 75 hours given in Highland General Hospital serving juice and delivering the mail as a Volunteer. Congratulations, Pat, for a job well done! Mrs. Jack Foster is the sponsor for this group of girls.

Howard Graham, teacher-sponsor for Pampa High School with Kenneth Cowan attended a meeting of the youth planning board in Borger Saturday. Dates for the Youth Conference have been set for May 13, 14 and 15 at the Methodist Encampment at Cedar Glenn near Canyon.

Mrs. Jimmie Williams has been working in the Red Cross office as a volunteer. The Ditty bags have all been made and will be in the Red Cross office next week. The Red Cross bought the material and the bags were made for the servicemen in Viet Nam.

THE COMMON COLD CAN BE DANGEROUS

A cold may be just a passing nuisance to young adults. But, it can be a serious threat to infants, elderly people, or the chronically ill. Heart patients, or those with chronic lung diseases, who develop a fever of even one degree above normal should consult a physician immediately. For them a cold can pave the way to influenza, chronic bronchitis or pneumonia.

There is no known cure for the common cold. But, we do have many safe remedies to relieve the aches and discomforts till the cold goes away.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Easter Seal Sale Still Under Way

Paul D. Keim, Gray county's Easter Seal representative said Saturday that the 1966 Easter Seal Appeal is going well. Keim also serves as treasurer for the appeal.

As Easter Seal representative, Keim is the person to contact to request assistance or services from the Texas Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Last year the Society aided 14,395 Texans in the form of treatments, services, equipment loans and related aids.

The Society is carrying out a program to reach every disabled person in the state who needs assistance. This program is to insure that every crippled child and adult has an equal opportunity at a normal way of life. Keim urged that any disabled person needing the assistance of the Texas Easter Society for Crippled Children and Adults contact him at the First National Bank here. There is no charge for these services, he added.

He also urged that those who have not yet responded to the 1966 Easter Seal Appeal send their donations as soon as possible to: Easter Seals, The First National Bank, Pampa.

40 FHA Members To Observe National Week

Forty members of the Pampa Future Homemakers of America join their half million sisters today in observing National Future Homemakers of America Week, March 27 through April 2.

During the week, FHA chapters throughout the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands plan a different activity each day striving to emphasize the goals of the organization.

Today the 40 Pampa girls will attend church as a group. Monday will be color and tag day. Each member will wear FHA colors of red and white to school and will wear name tags identifying them as FHA members.

Tuesday the group will hostess a tea at 4 p.m. in Pampa High School Homemaker living room for Junior High School Homemaker girls.

Wednesday is smile day. The girls will be especially conscious of smiling and speaking to everyone seen.

On Thursday, Miss Particular Day, the girls will wear tags saying "I'm particular about whom I talk to," and girls are not supposed to talk to boys on that day. Each girl will begin the day with an equal number of ribbons and each time she has a conversation with a boy she must give him a ribbon. The girl ending the day with the most ribbons will be named Miss Particular.

A Secret Sister Coker Party will top Friday's activities. The party will be held after school. Secret Sisters will be chosen Monday. The girls will place a small gift in their secret sisters locker each day.

Saturday will feature a progressive brunch at various members homes.

The Pampa group is sponsored by Mrs. Kenneth Baker and Miss Sandra Wright, both homemaker teachers at Pampa High School.

Cindy Hearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spence Hearn is president of the group.

McLean FFA Banquet Attracts 100 Residents

MCLEAN (Spl) — A hundred guests attended the FFA banquet at the Methodist Church in McLean recently.

Folk music was presented by George Green and guest speaker was the Reverend H. F. Dunn of the Methodist Church. Rev. Dunn spoke on morals of teenagers today.

Dunn said that the morals a teenager keeps today will make him either a better person or a worse person when he enters adult life.

Rogers Reiterates Opposition To US Softening in China

WASHINGTON (Spl) — Congressman Walter Rogers Saturday reiterated his opposition to any "softening" of U. S. policy toward Red China. "I am unalterably opposed to opening trade with Red China, to giving diplomatic recognition to the Red Chinese regime, and to admitting Red China to membership in the United Nations," Congressman Rogers said.

The Congressman said recent letters from constituents "show strongly that citizens in the Texas Panhandle are vigorously opposed to any softening of U.S. policy toward Communist China." The Congressman said he found no support among constituents for the so-called "two-China" policy by which Communist regime in Peking would be recognized in addition to the Chinese Nationalist regime on Formosa.

In his newsletter to constituents reaching the 18th District early last week, Congressman Rogers warned that a campaign appeared to be developing to promote the forging of commercial ties between the United States and Red China.

"A number of suggestions both for the recognition of Red China and — or open trade with Red China seem to come from sources that would profit measurably by such a policy on the part of our government," Congressman Rogers said. "It is my feeling that these sources are much more interested in material profit than in a proper solution to the China problem."

On this week's schedule of activities for Congressman Rogers are meetings with members of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives and members of the Texas State Association of Letter Carriers, both of which will be represented by members from the Panhandle.

Several bills originating in Congressman Rogers' Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation will probably be debated before the Congress during the week. One of these is a bill providing stepped-up programs of water resources research.

On the committee agenda for Congressman Rogers this week is consideration by the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of a bill to encourage training of technicians in health and medical fields. The other committee of which the Congressman is a ranking member, the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, also has scheduled sessions.

Ordination Held For Pampa Man

Ordination services for Danny Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Phillips, 2129 Coffee, were held last week at Ridgeway Baptist Church in Ridgeway.

Phillips is a 1958 graduate of Pampa High School and is now attending East Texas State University.

District Missionary Harper officiated and Rev. Bruce Cushman of Fort Worth gave the sermon.

Phillips was born and reared in Pampa but is now a resident of Commerce. On his way back to Commerce after the ceremony he was involved in an auto accident at Loop 315 of Interstate 30 near Greenville.

"That's a very impressive way to begin my new work," he said after the accident. No one was seriously injured in the accident.

MARY REEVE ... teacher nominee

Pampa Instructor Nominated For Teacher of Year

Mary Reeve, a first and second grade teacher in the Pampa school system for 31 years, was recently nominated to receive the "Excellence in Teaching Award" and nominated to become Teacher of the Month from Texas for the "Instructor Magazine."

The magazine is a professional publication for elementary teachers with nation-wide distribution. A teacher from Texas will be featured during the 1966-67 school year.

Miss Reeve was nominated by 100 per cent of the faculty of Horace Mann Elementary School in Pampa where she is an outstanding teacher. In order to be eligible for this award, the candidate must be an excellent teacher.

Miss Reeve's dedication to the children and profession as well as her outstanding preparation and experience in education and speech correction were some of the qualifications upon which the nomination was based.

Her nomination was accompanied by five seconding letters, which was the maximum set by the magazine. A scrapbook containing pictures of her family and activities as well as information about her. Much of this information was obtained from her biography written by her father. The biography is entitled, "The Prairie Is Her Homeland."

Miss Reeve, a native of Friona, is a 1928 graduate of Friona High School and received her bachelor's degree from West Texas State College. She was an elementary education major. She also holds a master's degree from Colorado State College.

The Pampa teacher-taught at Olton and Phillips before transferring to Pampa.

Mrs. Reeve is the daughter of Glenn E. Reeve Sr. and the late Hadley Reeve.

Price Says War Major Concern To Graduates

STINNETT (Spl) — Speaking at the Stinnett High School Junior-Senior Banquet here Saturday night, Bob Price, candidate for U. S. Congressman in the 18th Congressional District, said: "The war in Viet Nam is of major concern to the graduates of today."

In giving his views of how we should carry out the Viet Nam war, Price said, "We should warn military target areas, mostly supply centers, that total destruction will soon be inevitable. We should urge the population in these military target areas to evacuate to designated tropical sanctuaries. We should then destroy every military target and blockade the coastline, thus halting the flow of munitions and weapons to the enemy."

"The end would come quickly and long before Red China could intervene. Red China entered the Korean war only when it knew that the Yalu River and Manchuria would be sanctuaries." Price, who was a Korean war saber jet fighter pilot, said Red China is poorly prepared for a major war and Chiang Kai-Shek's invasion threat is a deterrent.

Price asked the questions: "Why should we fight a war of attrition on enemy terms in tropical jungles?" "Why trade American youth for Asiatic borders?"

"Making full utilization of our naval power and air force capabilities, with military assistance, is the only prompt, humane way to end the war," he said.

"These sound recommendations and methods," Price stated, "proved themselves against Japan during World War II when two million Japanese troops stood ready to defend their shores against landings. Our bombing and blockade forced the tough Japanese military leaders and troops to lay down their arms. General McArthur then moved into Japan with 1,100 men."

Army Still Preparing For College Drafting

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Army still hopes to avoid drafting college students, but it's going ahead with preparations for such a move just in case.

A Selective Service spokesman has put it succinctly: "We are preparing for the worst and hoping for the best."

Selective Service announced Thursday the latest step in those preparations. It issued guidelines to be used by local draft boards when they consider a student's class standing and deferment test score in determining deferment eligibility.

But students who lose their 2S deferments because of low class standing and below-passing deferment test scores may still have a chance to continue their schooling as long as the present draft situation lasts.

The Army's buildup for the Viet Nam war is about two-thirds complete, and monthly draft calls continue to drop.

The April call of 21,700 men was the lowest since last September. An upsurge in enlistments continues and may even increase now that Congress has approved educational and other benefits for GI's serving during the cold war.

The Selective Service System has estimated a student in good standing will probably continue to enjoy deferment if draft calls remain below 30,000 a month.

But despite this Selective Service still wants test scores it can keep on file for the future in case manpower needs change.

Social Security Office to Remain Open Until 9 p.m.

The Pampa Social Security Office will remain open to the public until 9:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday, March 28, 29, 30, and 31, Virgil Holloway announced today. This is to give everyone over 65 years of age a chance to sign up for medicare before the deadline of March 31.

Those persons who are not yet 65 do not sign up until 3 months before their 65th birthday, but everyone who was 65 before January, 1966 must sign up by March 31, 1966, if they want the doctor bill insurance, he said.

Holloway said, "Anyone who is not able to come into the office before March 31, should call the office so an application can be sent to you by mail or have someone stop by to pick up an application for you."

There are between 300 to 400 people in the seven-county area served by the Pampa Office who

Income Tax Questions, Answers

Editor's Note — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I'm a salesman and get paid on a commission. Am I entitled to pay sick pay exclusion and if so how do I figure it?

A—You are entitled to the sick pay exclusion if you are an employee and receive sick pay under the same conditions as those on a salary basis. These conditions are explained on page 7 of the 1040 instructions. Q—Have there been any changes in the tax law since I filed last year's return?

A—The major change for most taxpayers is the lower tax rate on 1965 income resulting from the second stage of the 1964 tax cut. The law now allows a pay exclusion for servicemen in Viet Nam, which is explained in the 1040 instructions. Last year's excise tax reduction has little, if any, effect on individual filing requirements.

Q—Our 19 year old son isn't married and lives at home with us, but he earns over $600 a year. Can we claim his exemption since we give him room and board?

A—If he is a full-time student and you furnish over half his support you are eligible to claim his exemption. Check the 1040 instructions for details.

Q—I lost my wallet with over $100 while Christmas shopping. Is that a deductible loss?

A—If the wallet was stolen and not lost or mislaid then you may be able to deduct a portion of your loss. On casualty and theft losses only amounts over $100 may be deducted.

Q—I received $6,500 as compensation for injuries received in an auto accident last year. Is that taxable?

A—No, it is not. You do not have to report as taxable income the amount of any damages received by either suit or agreement as compensation for personal injuries or sickness.

Q—I have to pay my former wife $50 a week. Half of that goes for the support of our daughter. Can I deduct the $50?

A—The portion of the payment designated in the divorce decree as alimony may be deducted. When you itemize deductions you may not deduct that portion of your payment that is designated as child support. In your case this would be $25 a week. Your wife should report the $25 weekly alimony as income.

The $25 child support payment is not deductible by you or taxable to your wife. However, if this amount provided more than half your child's support for the year then you are entitled to claim a $600 exemption for her if she meets all the requirements of a claimed dependent. These requirements are listed on page 4 of the 1040 instructions.

Q—I just filed my return. How long do I have to keep my tax records?

A—The length of time varies depending on the type of record. As a general rule, records on itemized expenses should be kept at least three years from the date the return was due while others should be kept longer.

A—Is the filing requirement different for self-employed people? Do they have to file when they earn less than $600?

A—Filing requirements are the same except that those who are self-employed must file a tax return when net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more.

Once known as the Dark Continent, Africa today might better be called the Troubled Continent. Upheaval, actual or potential, is a fact of political life for most African states. Within less than a year, eight regimes have been ousted or shaken up. Military men seized power in Algeria, the Congo (Leopoldville), Nigeria, Upper Volta, Dahomey, Central African Republic and, most recently, Ghana. In Uganda, Premier Dr. Milton Obote assumed virtual dictatorial powers, allegedly to head off a threatened coup; and Rhodesia, with its defiant white minority government, continues to trouble Africa and the world.

5 'No Sewage' Rule at CR Dam Poses Problems for Rangers

The National Park Service which supervises the recreational aspects of Lake Meredith and its surrounding park areas will be faced with the giant task of enforcing the "no sewage" regulations recently proposed by the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

The authority, at its last meeting in Plainview, set up proposed regulations which state that no sewage of any kind, treated or untreated, large or small quantities, can be fed into the lake from any source.

As pointed out recently by Jim Thomas, outdoor editor of the Amarillo News, the Authority's plan would mean that all the public toilet areas around the lake must either be periodically emptied or have their wastes pumped back up the hill to the sewage treatment plant at Fritch.

In commenting further on the "no sewage" in Lake Meredith proposals, Thomas stated:

"It also means that sewage, garbage trash etc., will not be allowed to enter the lake from boats, boaters or visitors. Houseboats and cruisers with toilets on board will be inspected at the boat ramps and sealed by National Park Service Rangers."

"Some boaters might say a 'no-sewage' edict by the CRMWA is unrealistic in view of the small amounts of human waste and garbage involved and the large volume of the new lake now one-fourth million acre-feet). But these same boaters are not aware of the magnitude of the problem because of the vast numbers of boaters and shore-bound visitors who will use the lake.

"Expectations of four million lake users by 1970 should make boaters aware of the size of the problem of just keeping the lake clean. The lake has been in use less than a year but there already are tons of broken beer sandy beach areas around the lake where boaters go ashore to picnic and camp but where the Park Service cannot get its trucks to clean up.

"The cans will rust, the trash and garbage will decompose in time and the bottles will sink into the mud as the lake continues to rise.

"But eventually, the visitor load will outstrip the Park Service's ability to clean up the mess unless there is strict enforcement to stop litter-bugging and sewage dumping.

"And there is legal precedent to back up the Service. The CRMWA proposed regulations will become official state law when finally passed and approved by the authority. The recently passed Texas Water Safety Act prohibits the dumping of any sewage in any Texas water less than a mile from shore unless it is either chemically or heat-treated beforehand. The National Park Service has a similar regulation for lakes it administers.

"If the state's lack of enthusiasm for enforcing its water pollution laws is any indication, the National Park Service can rest assured that it will carry the brunt of enforcing the 'no-sewage' regulations for Lake Meredith.

"Remember, you have to drink the stuff."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) —The fearful trip is done.

After braving the polluted waters of the Potomac River, the Santa Maria, a replica of Christopher Columbus' flagship, has safely landed at its permanent berth here.

The little vessel, which was displayed at the recent New York World's Fair, will now go on exhibit in the place named for the man who discovered America.

I am referring, of course, to the District of Ericsson. Many tales have been told of the hardships endured by Columbus and his crew on their voyage to the new world. I believe them all.

I was aboard the reconstructed Santa Maria for the last 10 miles of its voyage here and it was misery all the way.

Good Idea

Owners of the ship thought it would be a good idea to take a boatload of newspapermen down the river to meet the vessel and ride her into port. In theory, it was a good idea.

Unfortunately, however, a rainstorm blew up and washed out plans to serve cocktails and lunch on deck. So there we were, huddled together in the hold, without even a noggin of rum or a hardtack canape to sustain us.

"Turn back! Turn back!" we shouted to the tugboat captain who was towing the ship. But he, eyes fixed on the distant horizon, said, "Sail on!"

It was a lucky thing for Columbus that he made his voyage in 1492. He thereby missed being exposed to the awful jokes that greeted members of the Santa Maria's present crew.

Poses For Pictures

When we first sighted the ship, the crew, dressed in 15th century Spanish costumes, climbed up the rigging to pose for photographers. Columbus was represented by a bearded figure in a cloak and plumed hat.

"Look!" someone yelled. "There's batman!"

Everyone then began shouting words of welcome to the make-believe explorer. Example: "So that's what a Viking looks like!"

Despite the derisive comments, however, we were all impressed by the Santa Maria itself. After all, as someone said, "It's the original Chris Craft."

In 1902, one of the earliest "advice to the lovelorn" columns appeared.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) —Indicator Digest Inc. says a new rash of speculative buying probably will be in force this week.

The firm says it is not excited about the prospect of a speculative binge since fast runups usually are followed by profit-taking. The firm says it would like to see the present upswing get out of the technical category and into something broader and more solid.

Carubbi Named Youth Conference Adult Chairman

A. J. Carubbi, Pampa attorney, has been appointed coordinator and adult chairman in Gray County for the statewide Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime.

The announcement was made Saturday from Austin by Sonny Davis, executive director for the organization.

Carubbi said a date has not been set but plans will go into action immediately for a leadership conference of graduating seniors in Gray County within the next month. This would include members of the May graduating classes in Pampa, Lefors and McLean high schools.

Carubbi also stated he would seek permission to include high school seniors from neighboring counties that do not have a coordinator.

Canadian Band Members First

CANADIAN (Sp) — Four Canadian High School band members won first division (superior) ratings on instrumental solos at the annual Region 1 Solo and Ensemble contests at the West Texas State University campus in Canyon Saturday.

Nearly 2000 young musicians from all over northwest Texas participated in the day-long contests.

Winning "firsts" were Janie Jackson and Laurie Ezzell, French Horns; Cathy Bucher, Flute and Jan Nolan, Bass Clarinet. Cathy Bucher and Laurie Ezzell are eighth graders. Jan Nolan is a poshomore and Janie Jackson is a senior.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The Center will offer new swim lessons for Beginners and Intermediates starting Monday. Beginners will meet from 4-5 p.m. while Intermediates will meet from 5-6 p.m. Classes will meet Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays through April 13. Mrs. Carolyn Estes, Center Water Safety Instructor, will conduct the courses.

Enrollment in these and any other swim lessons given by the Center is free to Center members but a $3 instructional fee for non-members will be charged. Center members may come by or phone in their enrollments while non-members must come by to enroll.

Another session of swimming will be offered April 18-May 4. This will be in the form of Advanced Beginners at 4-5 p.m. and the polywogs from 5-6 p.m. Polywogs are youngsters from age 4-6 not in school and who are 33 inches to the chin. These classes are open for enrollment now.

Homerooms, church groups, girl and boy scouts are reminded of the only day the Center is available for reserving for parties or activities. This day is any Tuesday through May 24. You may reserve the pool, recreation hall and gym on any Tuesday. The Center has setup a rate for the number of people who will use the reservation, so call and this information will be given you. You must reserve in advance by some adult so you will be assured of the facilities for your group. Many homerooms have already made their reservations so hurry now.

The Center is still sponsoring the Teen-Age Dances on Friday nights in the big gym from 8-11 p.m. Each dance has been a good dance with some 300 turning out for the last dance. The dance is well chaperoned and an off-duty policeman is on duty. We would encourage all you young people to come out each and every Friday night through the year.

With all these activities going on the Center would encourage everyone to take advantage of the memberships available. Center memberships are very economical and entitle you to free swim lessons, full access to the Center for individual game activities, year around swimming, trampolining, pool, ping pong, TV, shuffleboard, horseshoes and tumbling just to name a few. Family memberships which include all members of the immediate family are only $20 per year or $12 for six months. Individual memberships are $8 per year and $5 for six months. Individual memberships are available for persons 8 years of age or older.

The girl scouts of the Panhandle are reminded of the availability of the Center pool on Saturday mornings from 9-10 a.m. You need only call your main Red Cross Office in Pampa and that reservation will be made. Charge for the pool is only 35 cents for those under 12 yrs. of age and others 50 cents.

The Boy Scouts may use the pool on Monday nights from 7-8:30 p.m. To make their reservations they should also call the Pampa Office. More than one troop may use the pool on any of these times. The Center is interested that all scouts may use the pool to pass their merit badges.

The first week of volleyball found most favorites winning in both men and women's leagues. Results in the women's league found United Van Lines over First National Bank 15-2 and 15-5; La Bonita Beauty Salon over Hopkins 15-3 and 15-1 while Yellow Cab. Co. took Malcolm-Hinkle 15-9 and 15-2.

In the Mixed League Pool's Spikers won over the Pampa News 15-7 and 15-9 while Brownings Heating and Air Conditioning bumped Sharp's Motorcycle Sales 15-3 and 15-3.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Ever since the beginning of the cold war, an important weapon in Western hands has been the ban on sale of strategic items to Communist nations.

Almost from the start it has been a controversial weapon, frequently rendered meaningless by arguments among the Western allies over what constitutes a "strategic" item and by an overwhelming desire for trade which dims in memory the reason for the ban in the first place.

And within this same frame of reference it is difficult to understand why if certain items made of steel are classed as "strategic," a whole steel mill is not.

Such is the situation as it exists in the decision of a group of West European nations led by West Germany to finance construction of a $150 million steel mill for Red China.

It is the biggest deal ever made between the West and Red China.

Two separate agreements presumably control sale of goods classed as strategic to Red nations.

One is called C.O.C.O.M. which is composed of the 15 members of NATO minus Iceland and with the addition of Japan. It is controlled by a consultative co-ordinating committee with headquarters in Paris.

The second deals with Red China, operated by a committee under the initials C.H.I.N.C.O.M., and is the result of action taken by the United Nations General Assembly in May, 1951, during the Korean War.

Originally, the list of embargoed items numbered more than 1,400. The list, as it deals with the Soviet Union and the East European Communist nations, now has been pared down to a few hundred.

Besides embargoed items, it also has been agreed that credits extended to Communist nations will not exceed five years in length.

But it never has been very workable.

In the men's league the results found the Misfits over the Kiwanis 15-5 and 15-5; Furr's Super Mkt. over Dairy Queen 15-12, 8-15 and 15-10 while James Feed Store took Skelly Diamonds 15-4 and 17-15.

The Week in Review

By H. J. HELLER
United Press International

No one so far has ever detected even the trace of a halo over the dour countenance of either Premier Kosygin or President Brezhnev of the Soviet Union.

But in this post Einsteinian era the truculent tovariches appear to be, relatively speaking, angels of peace compared with their bellicose cousins, the Red Chinese.

And so it was with thinly disguised jubilation that Western capitals this week noted what appeared to signal an imminent formal split between the world's Communist giants.

The latest verbal blitz in the 10-year Sino-Soviet feud came on Wednesday when the Chinese Communists rejected a Soviet invitation to attend the Communist party congress in Moscow March 29.

The cold shoulder turned to the Kremlin was clothed in vituperation exceeding any previous exchange between the not so jolly Red giants.

The Chinese Communists, reeling from a series of setbacks in their relations with other states on both sides of the Iron Curtain, larded their open message to the Soviet Union with the most stinging adjectives in the Communist jargon.

The Chinese accused the Russians of working "hand in hand with the United States in a whole series of dirty deals inside and outside the United Nations."

"In close coordination with the counter-revolutionary global strategy of U.S. imperialism," the message continued,

"you are now actively trying to build a ring of encirclement around socialist China."

The last paragraph of the letter with the perverse implications of the Communist dialectic appeared to be an invitation to an open split.

"Once the Soviet Union meets with imperialist aggression and puts resolute resistance," it said, "China definitely will stand side by side with the Soviet Union and fight against the common enemy."

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS

By Joe Tooley and Tom Beard

If it is any small consolation, some tests indicate that migraine headaches are linked to superior intelligence.

Headaches originate from a number of causes such as fatigue, overeating, head injuries, and eye strain, but the two major types are the migraine or tension-induced varieties.

Migraine sufferers are often hard-driven personalities, who usually do well in the fields in which they exert themselves, and as indicated by tests, two in three will have a migraine family history.

Pampan Finishes Basic Training

Seaman Recruit John H. Williams, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of Pampa, Tex., has completed seven weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian to sailor, he was taught and supervised by experienced Navy petty officers. He learned the basic skills of seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other basic subjects.

Upon completion of his recruit training, he was assigned to a school, shore station or ship, according to the results of his Navy classification tests, his own desires, and the needs of the Navy.

Crowd Jeers Protesters

BOSTON (UPI)—An egg-throwing crowd of 1,000 Saturday hooted and hollered the arrival of an equal number of marchers who hiked from Cambridge to protest American policy in Viet Nam.

As pacifists filed into Arlington Street Church for a protest meeting, they were pelted with eggs and beer cans hurled by sidewalk spectators. Some two dozen eggs were tossed, many of them staining the doorway of the church.

Three youths were arrested, two for actually throwing eggs and another who was holding an empty egg carton.

Eggs spattered the uniform of Police Capt. Daniel Monahan of the traffic division as he stepped in to break up the demonstration.

Hastings Gets US Army Post

Army PFC Ronald D. Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrie L. Hastings, 704 Magnolia, was assigned March 11 to Battery D of the 56th Artillery's 5th Battalion, a Hercules missile unit at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

This unit, part of the nationwide U. S. Army Air Defense Command, provides air defense in the Greater Kansas City area.

Hastings, a launchers helper, entered the army in March, 1965 and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Pampa High School.

NAZI DOCTOR SENTENCED

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Supreme Court has sentenced Horst Fischer, a doctor at the Auschwitz concentration camp, to death.

Fischer was found guilty of selecting 70,000 inmates, including women and children, for extermination in gas chambers at Auschwitz when he was camp doctor from November, 1942, until January, 1945.

Prock Member Of Double Eagle

Quartermaster Third Class Larry L. Prock, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Prock of 2319 Mary Ellen St., Pampa, participated in Operation "Double Eagle", the largest amphibious landing ever made in Vietnam, while serving with this command.

The assault landing of a large U.S. Marine force near Thach Tru, 30 miles south of Chu Lai, began when a 13-ship Naval Task Force steamed into the objective area in the predawn hours of Jan. 28.

Eight waves of assault troops were landed on the beaches, while warships patrolled offshore to provide naval gunfire support. The Marines were virtually unopposed, and received only light small arms fire.

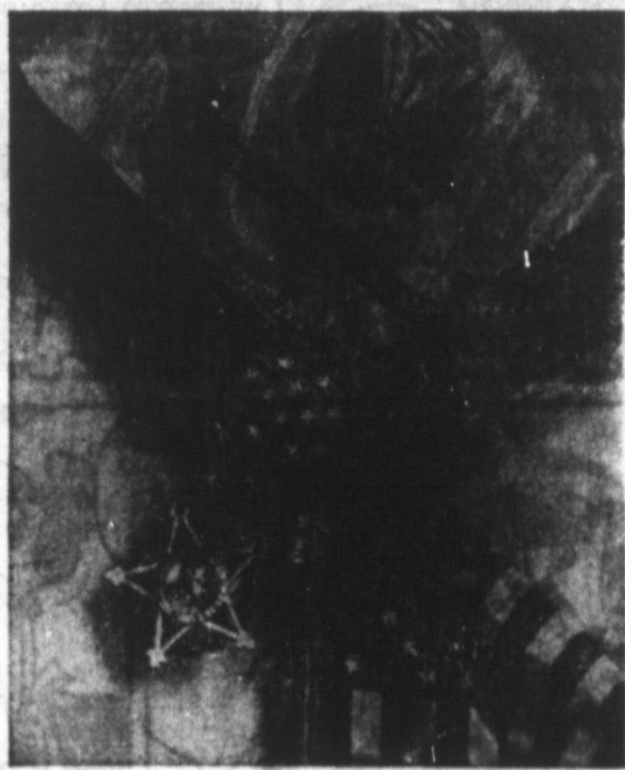

Late in the afternoon of Jan. 29, more Marines were landed by helicopter four miles inland from the beachhead. These forces, also unopposed, reported seeing about 200 enemy fleeing the area on foot, changing from green regular forces uniforms to the black pajama-like garb of the Viet Cong.

The card game of canasta, a variation of rummy, originated in Latin America.

ARMED CHINOOK—A CH-47A CHINOOK helicopter armed with machine guns, rockets and grenade launcher is ready for field testing by the 10th Aviation Group at Fort Benning, Ga. The M5 grenade subsystem, installed under the fuselage forward of the cockpit, delivers a 40mm grenade at the rate of 200 rounds per minute. Mounted over the forward landing gear are 2.75 inch rocket pods and 20mm machine guns M24A1; two M60, 7.62mm machine guns protrude from apertures on both sides of the fuselage. The twin turbine helicopter, produced by Boeing Company's Vertol Division, has a cruising range of more than 150 miles at a speed of 150 knots. The unarmed CHINOOK can carry 33 combat-equipped troops or 24 litter patients.

The Medal of Honor Symbol of Courage

MEDAL OF HONOR—He who possesses the Medal of Honor is the holder of the highest military award for bravery that can be given to any individual in the United States of America.

This symbol of bronze, wreathed in green enamel and held by a white-starred ribbon of blue silk, bestows upon the man who has it a great privilege—that of sharing in the company of the few heroes who have been honored by the award of the same Medal he wears.

A gold finished star of bronze is suspended from a bar bearing the inscription "Valor" and is surmounted by an eagle grasping laurel leaves in one claw and arrows in the other. In the center of the star is the head of Minerva, the ancient Roman Goddess, surrounded by the inscription "United States of America."

Pampa Marine Is Promoted

Marine Lance Corporal Wendell D. Ridgway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ridgway of 824 Beryl, Pampa, was promoted to his present rank while serving in the Da Nang sector of Vietnam with the 3rd Marines, an infantry regiment of the 3rd Marine Division.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

The regiment is deployed around the vital Da Nang airfield, and participates in day and night patrols, ambushes and operations against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—If a Gemini spaceship went out of control while an astronaut was outside on a "space walk" the problem "could be a serious one," Gemini 8 command pilot Neil Armstrong said Saturday.

But, he added, the difficulty might very well have been detected long before it reached the critical stage.

Armstrong's craft tumbled violently out of control because of a stuck thruster March 16, forcing him and copilot David

Scott to an emergency landing after only 10 hours 42 minutes of a planned three-day flight.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

Fiction:
 "The Burning Sky" — James Hall Roberts; modern-day adventure set in the burning wastes of the Growler Mountains near Tucson. A strange mixture of people constitutes an expedition into the desert in search of an anthropologist who had been lost during his efforts to find a tribe of Indians lost in time and legend.
 "Here We Go, Round the Mulberry Bush" — Hunter Davies; a humorous study of the agonies and joys of the struggle from youth to manhood.
 "Wyke Regis" — John Leonard; a highly charged contemporary story of men caught in a clash of emotional and ideological cross-purposes, such as the Senate investigation of a radio station for Communist infiltration; and the disintegration of the system of values of an Old New England family.
 "The Soldier and the Sage" — Richard G. Hubler; story told by Rufus Tencius, a Roman tribune, who watched with divided feelings as his friend Akiba helped Simeon Bar Cocheba, the fierce "son of a star" lead a revolt against Rome that almost brought the empire of Hadrian to its knees.
 "Mornings at Seven" — Eric Malpass; the author has invented one of the most earnest and engaging small boys in modern literature, and the various reactions to the small, bright-eyed, early-morning cupbearer are but the opening guns in a family story that lays total siege to the reader's heart and funny-bone.
 "The Duke of War" — Walter O'Meara; a new interpretation of the historical and legendary accounts that relate to the vivid yet shadowy figure of King Arthur; and the single great battle he, the Duke of War, plans to force the Saxons to wage.
 "The Valley of the Dolls" — Jacqueline Susann; dolls are the little red, green, yellow and striped tranquilizers and pep pills that have become a way of life (and death) for so many of our famous entertainers.
 "The Spencer Problem" — Edmund Nash; underlying the problems and inter-relationships of the characters is the true Spencer Problem — the difficulty to communicate and express love. Set in modern San Francisco, the book concerns the Spencer family and their relation to society, art, and human nature.
 "Rogue Ship" — A. E. van Vogt; the beginning of a dramatic and fascinating interspace voyage, where the greatest hazards are not the forces of an unknown scientific world, but man himself.

Non-fiction:
 "Introduction to Archaeology" — Shirley Gorenstein; explains the art of detection in solving mysteries of past cultures and more sophisticated approaches used today.
 "Toward a Theory of Instruction" — Jerome S. Bruner; how children learn and how they can best be helped to learn.
 "Audel's Machinists and Tool Makers Handy Book".
 "The American Voter" — Angus Campbell; this book is based from a program of research on the American electorate that extends back to 1948.
 "Why and How to Prepare an Effective Job Resume" — Juvenal L. Angel; primary purpose of this book is to help the job seeker in all the steps from writing his resume to that final decisive interview.

American Legion Threatens Pickets If Bout Televised

FORT WORTH (UPI) — The American Legion threatened to picket Will Rogers Coliseum Tuesday night if the Cassius Clay-George Chuvalo fight is televised. Shortly after the legion announcement the local sponsors of the event withdrew.

The co-owners of the ticket agency notified Main Bout, Inc., of New York, they were cancelling their sponsorship. The legion picket had been threatened because of "partisan remarks attributed to Clay."

ANTI-YANKEE MOBS
BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Police used tear gas and nightsticks to disperse Communist mobs staging anti-American demonstrations in central Buenos Aires. There was no report of casualties.

Demonstrators carrying cards with such slogans as "Yankee Go Home" swarmed through the streets outside the San Martin Theater, where a meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council opens today, and the information office of the Organization of American States.

In 1927, the first land vehicle to exceed the speed of 200 miles per hour—an automobile—reached that milestone at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Pampa Thinclads Third in Perryton Track Meet

PERRYTON (Sp) — Pampa tracksters had to settle for third place Saturday in Perryton's Invitational Track and Field Meet. The Harvesters could garner only one first place, that by Gary Crossland in the broad jump, with a leap of 21 feet, four and one-half inches. The Pampa thinclads did garner three second place medals, in the 440-yard relay, the high hurdles and the shot putt. Caprock won the meet with a team total of 120 points. Borger was second with 107 and the Harvesters third at just over 80 points. Borger won the 440-relay in the time of 43.6 with Pampa just a second behind. Ted Bird placed second in the high hurdles behind Canyon's Ron Macitee who ran the event in 15.8. Bird finished fifth in the low hurdles and had a fourth in the high jump. Doc Cornutt got the Harvesters' other second place with a heave of 51-2 in the shot. Jim David of Dumas won with a toss of 53-11. McCampbell took a fourth in the 100-yard dash and a fifth in the 220 dash for Pampa with Danny Stokes fifth in the 100. Stokes also finished sixth in broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, four inches. Gary McCarroll got a third for the Harvesters in the 440 dash. Rick Neely of Borger was the winner with a time of 50.3. Pampa's mile relay team finished fourth behind winner Borger. The Borger team ran the event in 3:28.2. Ted Heiskell finished fourth in the discus with a throw of 138-3. Bailey of Caprock was the winner with a toss of 150 feet, three inches. L. D. Rowden tied for fifth in the high jump, going 5'8. The same as Bird, but Bird had fewer misses. Terry Troxel was fourth in the pole vault with a leap of 10 feet, six inches.

Sanders Holds 2-Shot Lead In Jacksonville

ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Dashing Doug Sanders, clad in crimson from sweater to shoes, surged into a two-stroke third round lead in the $82,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Saturday with a 14 under par 202. Sanders, starting the round three strokes behind Gay Brewer, fired a six under par 66 over the 6,906 yard Selva Marina course. Knotted at 204 were first round leader Tommy Bolt with a 68 Saturday and Brewer with a 71. U.S. Open champion Gary Player of South Africa was next, alone with a 68-207, nine under par. Tied at 208 were defending champion Bert Weaver, who had a 66, and PGA champ Dave Marr with a 67. The choppy-swinging Sanders, whose 9-year-old son followed him around the course, had six birdies and no bogeys on the record-tying 65 Friday. Sanders was still complaining about a sore throat and chest pains that have bothered him for several days. "How do I go about making reservations at the morgue for a couple of days?" he asked after one coughing spell. It was the second straight day the good looking fashion plate had toured the 18 holes with just 27 putts; and he commented "That's a good number to get hung up on."

Hammons' No-Hitter Rips Nazareth Baseballers

Molberg Clouts Two, Drives In 7 Runs

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

Bud Hammons pitched a five-inning no-hitter and Gary Molberg slammed two homers, good for seven runs batted-in as Pampa tumbled Nazareth, 15-0 Saturday to snap a three-game losing streak.

Hammons, in winning his first game in four starts was nearly perfect as he made but one mistake, in the third inning, when he walked a batter. The big right-hander struck out seven, including the side in the first and last innings. The only threat to Hammons came in the fourth when the visitor's Gene Brockman sent a stinking liner between left and center fields. But left-fielder Roy Harper made a shoe string catch of the ball to save things for Hammons. Pampa pushed across six runs in the third on five hits and one Nazareth miscue. Price opened with a double. Hammons walked, with Price advancing to third on a steal. Alvin Achord sent a fly ball to deep center to score Price. Jones walked and Molberg unloaded over the right-center field wall for his first homerun of the day. Corky Dodd followed with a triple and scored when Harper followed with a triple. After Moore fouled out, Sanders doubled to score Harper. The Harvesters really put things on ice in the fourth with nine runs coming across. Hammons singled to lead off the inning and went to third on Achord's double. Jones followed with a double to score Hammons and Achord and Molberg hom-

THROWING HARD — Pampa's Bud Hammons throws hard in his no-hitter Saturday over Nazareth, 15-0. Only one man reached base against Hammons, that one on a walk.

Matson Wins Shot, Discus Events

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press International
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI) — Abilene Christian College's great distance runners beat out the great Randy Matson and Texas A&M Saturday night to win the fourth annual Corpus Christi Relays. It was the third time in the four-year history of the relays here that ACC ran away with top honors. Texas A&M wound up in second place Saturday night with 54½ points to 66 for ACC. Running in a steady rain which held the crowd down to a few hundred, ACC's Charles Christmas from Tennessee set a new meet record in the mile run with a time of 4:08.1. This bettered his own record set last year by 2.1 seconds. Wayne Badgley of New Zealand set another record for this meet in the three-mile run by taking that event for ACC with a time of 14:26.4. Ken Sunderland of Texas held the old record of 14:44.8, but he could only manage a fifth-place win Saturday night. A&M's Matson, as usual, ray away with the discus and shot put but neither was good for an impressive mark. He hurled the discus 176 feet, 11½ inches and the shot 62 feet, 8 inches. The only other double winner was Texas A&M's Gilbert Smith, who ran the 100-yard dash in 9.8 second and took the 220-yard dash with a time of 21.4 seconds. Abilene Christian shone in the long distance races, taking first, second, fourth and fifth in the mile run and coming home with first, second and fourth in the three-mile event. Rice University took third place by winning the mile relay, the last event of the meet, in 3:15.2. The University of Texas finished fourth, Baylor fifth and Southern Methodist sixth and last. This latest team victory for Abilene Christian gave them three out of four wins over their Southwest Conference rivals in this contest. ACC failed to finish first only in 1964. The six entrants managed only four Corpus Christi Relays records among them. In addition to the mile and three-mile records, Gilbert Smith of A&M set a new local record in the 220-yard dash with a time of 21.4, and Ricky Smith of Baylor bettered the old local record in the broad jump with a distance of 23-1½. Lewis, who will be used on punt and kickoff returns and as a defensive cornerback, played with Ottawa of the Canadian Football League for the past two seasons.

Mantle, Pascual Better

By United Press International
 The jury is still out on the fate of baseball's two celebrated ailing right shoulders. Both Mantle and Pascual, veterans of 15 and 12 years in the big leagues, are attempting to come back this spring from the serious shoulder operations. If Friday's exhibition games make any indications they may return to the Yankee lineup just 58 days after his operation this winter at the Mayo Clinic, when Pascual pitches five Pinch-hitting for Jake Gibbs, he struck out on four pitches enough to make the Twins dream of their second straight American League pennant. That's what happened Friday when the Yankees topped the Phils 7-6 at Clearwater, Fla., on a 10th inning homer by Roger Repoz and the Twins whipped their cousins, the Boston Red Sox, 9-0 in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Mantle made his first appearance in the Yankee lineup just five days after his operation this winter at the Mayo Clinic, when Pascual pitches five Pinch-hitting for Jake Gibbs, he struck out on four pitches against the Phils' Harold Knowles but his appearance in the lineup two weeks ahead of schedule boosted the Yankee hopes he'll see a lot of action this summer.

On Target
 Pascual made his fourth appearance of the spring and he turned in his most effective performance by blanking the Red Sox on one hit—a double by Tony Conigliaro—as he boosted his record to 2-1 this spring.

Fred Valentine hit a two-run homer and Frank Howard a three-run homer in the third inning as the Washington Senators won their second game of the spring, a 7-6 triumph over Pittsburgh.

The Detroit Tigers lost their second straight after winning seven straight, a 7-5 setback at the hand of Cincinnati. Leo Cardenas hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning to win the game for the Reds.

The St. Louis Cardinals won their fifth straight victory by pushing across a pair of runs in the ninth inning to edge Kansas City, 2-1.

San Francisco rallied with six runs in the eighth inning, including a three-run homer by reserve outfielder Cap Peterson, to top the Cleveland Indians, 10-8.

ALL THE WAY — Gary Molberg gets a handshake from coach Bobby Stephens Saturday after he had just unloaded his second homerun of the afternoon to help Pampa down Nazareth, 15-0.

Angels Whip Cubs
 Jorge Rubio and Bob Lee teamed up to pitch a six-hitter giving California a 6-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Mack Jones scored from third when Eddie Kasko bobbled a grounder by Dennis Menke to allow the Atlanta Braves top Houston, 4-3.

The Los Angeles Dodgers broke through for four runs in the ninth inning against Don Larsen to top the Baltimore Orioles, 8-4.

The Chicago White Sox and New York Mets, leading the American and National Leagues in the spring with 13-2 and 8-4 records respectively, were idle.

Casey Stengel began his managerial career in 1925 with Worcester of the Eastern League.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

The Board of Directors of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District met on Wednesday of the past week in a special called meeting to chart the course of the District in regard to compiling and making available the necessary information that will be needed by irrigation farmers in applying for a refund on the depletion of the water beneath their respective farms.

Lockwood Grigg, Attorney for the Internal Revenue Service from the Lubbock Office, along with eighteen farmers from Gray and Carson counties also met with the officials of the District in the afternoon long meeting. It is hoped that the necessary guidelines will be finished before the April 15 deadline for filing for a refund on water depletion for the year 1962.

An example of how this depletion works is given as follows: "The refund results solely from a recalculation of tax due to the allowable cost depletion deduction for ground water used in our business of irrigation farming in accordance with Revenue Ruling 1965-296 and Rev. Proc. 1966-11.

Taxable income per return	$13,674.00
Less: Cost depletion deduction	1,674.00
Corrected taxable income	12,000.00
Corrected tax	2,720.00
Tax paid	3,222.00
Refund requested	502.00

Two problems are constantly confronting the Water Conservation districts. One is that of pollution. Until last year most of the pollution we were concerned with was that pollution being done by the oil and gas producers. Most people do not realize or understand that the formation from which gas and oil is pumped is also a salty one. The real good oil and gas wells produce very little salt water. The weaker ones produce large quantities of salt water along with the oil and gas. The oil or gas is separated from the salt water after reaching the surface. The oil and gas producer now has a real problem in disposing of the unwanted salt water.

For a long period, the oil and gas producers merely dug a big open pit and piped the salt water to these unlined pits. In 1960, it was proved that these open unlined earthen pits permitted the salt water to percolate down to the fresh water — of allala-formation. Tests have shown that one barrel of salt water pollutes 250 barrels of fresh water. The Texas Railroad Commission ruled that unlined salt water pits must be eliminated in certain counties. Hearings have been held periodically by the Railroad Commission eliminating unlined salt water pits in other counties. Most of the oil and gas producers have complied with this order to eliminate the unlined salt water pits.

In recent months, the High Plains County of Deaf Smith and the City of Hereford have found themselves in the ugly glare of unfavorable publicity because of pollution from feed lot and vegetable processing plant pollution. No city, county, business, or person desires to become the focus of unfavorable publicity because of pollution of the water or air. Sometimes it takes this sort of publicity to galvanize citizens into a wholesome action.

The Hereford area situation was called to the attention of the Texas Water Pollution Control Board and the State Health Department in recent weeks a number of worthwhile meetings have been held between the Water Pollution Control Board and the County and City Authorities at Hereford. As a result, the Water Pollution Control Board has decided to use the Hereford area as a model for developing a statewide policy governing the disposal of waste by feedlot and packing shed operators.

Fact of the Matter

The carp, which is a member of the minnow family, is a native of eastern Asia, and was introduced into Europe and America from there. They often live as long as 47 years and sometimes grow to more than 50 pounds. Because they are so prolific (one female may lay up to 2 million eggs) they are often raised for food in Asia.

THIRST FOR VICTORY — Irish steeplechaser Arkle, with Pat Traffic up, clears the last hedge en route to his reward—a ration of stout.

Cattle Producers' Outlook Is Good

COLLEGE STATION — All signs point to a favorable outlook for beef producers during 1966.

John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, says cattle feeders want animals in the feed lots this year. Cow-calf operators are rebuilding their herds and a growing population with more money to spend wants meat on the table. It all leads to a rosy outlook for cattlemen.

A slight decline, 607,000 head, in the number of cattle on the nation's farms and ranches on January 1, 1966 was noted from a year earlier, he said. The number of animals was smaller in relationship to the population years, he noted.

McHaney said fed cattle prices in the spring will average about the same or slightly higher than in April, May and June of 1965, and remain strong for the entire first half of the year. Strength in the fed cattle market will be reflected in the feeder market, he said. Too, producers are likely to save additional heifers for their breeding herds and thus keep them out of feedlots, adding further strength to the feeder market.

Cow slaughter last year, the economist said, was 25 percent higher than in 1964, but he expects it to drop below this level in 1966. Cow prices should continue strong throughout this year.

McHaney sums up the situation this way. Cattle numbers are down slightly on January 1 as compared with a year ago. There is a growing consumer preference for beef. Population and consumer incomes will continue to rise in 1966. Grazing conditions in the nation are generally good. Cow-calf operators will likely begin to build up their herds and the smaller supply of red meats, especially pork in 1965, is likely to continue through the first half of 1966.

Oak Poisoning Fatal for Cows

COLLEGE STATION — It may be fatal to allow livestock to eat the multitude of buds and young tender leaves popping out on oak trees this spring.

According to Dr. J. W. Dollahite, of Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine, March and April mark the beginning of the danger period for oak poisoning.

Livestock losses from oak poisoning in Texas have been estimated at $10 million annually, he said.

The young leaves, shoots and buds on oak trees are rich in tannic acid compounds—which, when eaten in large quantities, are thought to cause poisoning of cows, sheep, goats and horses.

The modern breakfast habit of drinking coffee began in Arabia and Ethiopia.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

On March 14th a cattle worming result demonstration test was completed on the Fred Vandenberg Ranch that showed the value of worming certain classes of cattle was highly questionable.

On December 9, 1965, fifty-eight head of good and choice stocker steer calves weighing an average of 328 pounds were wormed with a relatively new worming compound. A similar group weighed an average of 318 pounds and were given an identifying mark but were not drenched with the worming compound.

Each group was reweighed on March 14th. The wormed group had gained one hundred and fifty pounds while the non-wormed group gained one hundred sixty-three pounds.

Based on these results one could conclude that it does not pay to worm this class of cattle. The cattle originated in the Fort Worth area and were run on wheat.

There is strong evidence from other experimental results that it does pay to worm cattle originating farther east. At Moody Farms feed lot strong evidence supports the fact it does pay to worm cattle coming from Louisiana and Eastward.

The thirteen pounds extra gain by the non-wormed group could have been from chance. Also there were about 15 calves in the non-wormed group that were shrunk out at time of weighing due to sickness. After the cattle got back on their feet they probably had a tendency to regain some of their weight loss, thus causing a 13 pound increase in gain over the wormed group.

We hope to run other tests on cattle having their origin from farther east.

We would be quick to point out that Experiment Station personnel would have been more scientific in the manner in which they would carry out such a test. A worm count should have been taken at the beginning of the test. This was not done.

We do believe the results are significant. Further testing of cattle having their origin from the Fort Worth area and elsewhere is planned.

Several people are seeding lawns with bermuda grass at the present time. We believe you are making a mistake to seed bermuda this early. A good time to seed bermuda grass is about cotton planting time because it is a warm season grass.

Spring Planting Progressing Well Across Lone Star State

AUSTIN (UPI) — The planting of spring crops picked up over Texas, with cotton farmers in South Texas reporting halfway completion in the spring chore this past week.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture said cotton planting shifted to a fast pace as soils dried and soil temperatures warmed.

The Rio Grande Valley crop was half planted by last Friday and the crop was 52 percent planted in the Coastal Bend. The totals compared with the Underground Water District at White Deer last Wednesday for the purpose of working out guide lines farmers could use in water depletion rates. A representative of the Internal Revenue Service and Felix Ryals, manager, assisted in establishing these guide lines. The meeting was of prime importance to land owners in this area if they have purchased or inherited land having irrigation potential within recent years.

89 per cent completed in the Valley at this time last year and 77 per cent in the Coastal Bend.

Corn planting jumped to 29 per cent completion, topping last year's pace when it was 25 per cent over at this time. Sorghum planting is about 16 per cent complete, and rice seeding is underway in the upper coast counties with only a small acreage planted.

In the western portion of the state, dryland small grains continued to suffer from lack of moisture, USDA said. Mild, open weather in the Rio Grande valley was good for vegetable growth and ideal for harvest of winter vegetables. Shipment of carrots and cabbage were heavy with quality improved.

Lettuce, broccoli, beets, green onions and greens were moving in light to moderate volume.

Potatoes and onions are being planted on the High Plains. Tomatoes made satisfactory progress in East Texas in cold frames with few early fields set out.

Citrus harvest was active in the Valley although shipments

ERRATIC STEEL—While over-all industrial production has maintained a steady rate of growth over the past four years, the record of steel, basis of the nation's industrial economy, has been a series of ups and downs. Total industrial production is based on Federal Reserve Board statistics while the American Iron and Steel Institute supplies steel figures.

Lynda Bird Spending Weekend With Actor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson was spending her third straight weekend Saturday with Hollywood actor George Hamilton at the L.B.J. Ranch in Texas.

The White House confirmed that Hamilton and President Johnson's older daughter were at the ranch, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Deather. Deather, an old family friend, works for the Johnson radio-television station in Austin, KTBC.

On Sunday, Lynda and Hamilton will be guest of Texas Gov. and Mrs. John Connally for lunch at the governor's mansion.

Hamilton, 26, has been dating Lynda steadily since last November. They have missed very few weekends together.

Lynda was Hamilton's guest in Hollywood last weekend when she celebrated her 22nd birthday and met the movie colony's leading film celebrities. Rumors have recurred that Hamilton has proposed marriage to Lynda, but her answer is that she is "not engaged—yet."

Lynda received a jeweled brooch from him and stayed at "Pickfair," the once-famous home of Douglas Fairbanks Sr., where Hamilton lives with his mother and brothers.

Lynda, a senior at the University of Texas, will be joined by her mother this week in their home state. Lynda will plant a tree in the Johnson City, Tex., courthouse square on Thursday. The previous day Mrs. Johnson will be caught up in a round of university alumnae activities in Austin.

With the Johnson's 18-year-old daughter Luci planning to marry Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., on August 6, the big question now is whether Lynda and Hamilton also are headed for the altar. The betting is that they will become engaged.

Meningitis Claims Victim

SPEARMAN, Tex. (UPI)—The death of a 20-month-old child was blamed Saturday on spinal meningitis. Ronald Dale Hollis died Monday in a hospital, only three hours after his parents took him for medical treatment, thinking he had only a bad cold.

NEW EATING PLACE

AMAILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Hundreds of airmen at Amarillo Air Force Base will have to eat at a field kitchen for a while in a hangar at the base. The emergency facilities were set up when the base got overcrowded with trainees sent to Amarillo earlier this year during a meningitis outbreak at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio.

Rhodesia Claims Victory Over Britain

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—Prime Minister Ian Smith claimed victory Saturday night for his independent Rhodesia policy and warned Britain it must negotiate with him before it is too late.

His statement, issued here only five days before the British general elections, was apparently timed to have the maximum psychological effect on the election.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson has consistently refused to negotiate with Smith. The Conservatives have been campaigning on a platform that includes immediate negotiations with the Rhodesian regime.

Smith said unless Britain was prepared to negotiate with his government soon, it would be too late.

"The only remaining hope of preserving for posterity a place for the Union Jack on the African continent will have been lost," he said.

Independent Rhodesia, he said, was improving his position and becoming stronger by the day.

"We must now plan more definitely Rhodesia's political and constitutional future," he said.

The 1965 constitution which his government adopted when it declared its independence from Britain last Nov. 11 was the same as the 1961 document "with one important omission," he said.

"We always said it was our intention to go into ways and means of providing the necessary safeguard for the entrenched clauses which automatically fell away when we became independent."

Included in these is the guarantee of ultimate political rights for black Africans.

Repeating that Rhodesia had always kept the door open for renewed talks with Britain, he said, "But for more than four months we have waited in vain. Now we must get on with the work ourselves."

North and South Dakota, divided into two states in 1887, were admitted to the Union on the same day in 1889.

Antique Show and Sale Will Benefit Opportunity Plan

The Pampa Daily News

SUNDAY, MARCH 27, 1966

TWENTIETH CENTURY Cotillion Club's Fourth Annual Antique Show and Sale is scheduled for April 1, 2 and 3 in Starlight Room of Coronado Inn. Hours for the event will be 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on April 1 and 2, and 1 to 6 p.m. on April 3.

PROCEEDS from the show and sale will go to the club's project, Opportunity Plan, Inc., at West Texas State University.

ELEVEN DEALERS from several states will have display booths at the sale with many of the antiques being offered for sale. A special attraction at the show will be the gun collection displayed by F. J. Carothers of 821 E. Frederic. Also on display will be antiques belonging to residents of Pampa.

WINDOW DISPLAYS in a number of the windows of local merchants have been arranged by Cotillion members in commemoration of the upcoming show and sale.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORAMSON

A LETTER WAS received by the News last week expressing appreciation for the ever busy Mrs. Frank (Libby) Shotwell, executive secretary of the Gray County Chapter of the American Red Cross. The letter in full follows: "Would you please express to the people of Pampa what a wonderful job Mrs. Libby Shotwell is doing for our boys in the service through the Red Cross. I have two boys (our only two) in service, both fortunate enough to be stationed in Texas. Last week my husband's mother passed away and within two hours our boys had the word and were preparing to start home. PFC Arnold E. Baten of Ft. Hood and Sgt. Jerry Don Baten of Ft. Bliss say words are so inadequate to express how wonderful she, and all the service personnel, were in being so considerate and helpful. Words cannot describe how grateful we are. Thank you. (Signed) Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baten, 940 E. Francis, Pampa." Know many local parents of boys serving in the armed forces join the Batens in their appreciation of Mrs. Shotwell. . . Mrs. Doyle (Irene) Osborne was off to New Orleans, La., early last week to visit her daughter. She was accompanied by Mrs. Clarence (Thelma) Lutes and Mrs. W. R. (Jenkie) Campbell who took the opportunity to vacation since springtime is so beautiful in that area.

LAST WEEKEND'S perfect spring weather all of a sudden caused fruit trees, forsythia and early spring flowers to burst into bloom, only to be in for a great shock Tuesday and Wednesday nights when sub-freezing temperatures probably nipped all the "budding" fruits. . . Wonder how the mass of yellow daffodils in the Lynn Boyd yard came through, as well as the lovely hyacinths at Mrs. Mel (Vera) Davis', and the beds of jonquils and hyacinths in the yards of Mrs. D. E. (Margaret) Holt and J. G. and Ruth Morrison. . . Mrs. Wm. F. (Lillian) Jordan and Mrs. Verl (Carmel) Hagaman were off for Austin to attend the State Tuberculosis meeting Wed. From the clothes that were packed it would seem they plan also to take time out for relaxing. . . Mrs. Jeff (Burton) Bearden was seen working in her yard last Sunday afternoon in the most colorful yard outfit and quite an unusual hat. . . And speaking of yard outfits, if anyone is interested in yard and fishing attire they should contact members of El Progreso Study Club. Heard there were some fair get-ups on the various members when they had a "Before and After Sports Party" last week. . . Fred and Dorothy Neslage plan to be gone almost a month. Mr. Neslage has some business meetings and conventions to attend during that time. . . Understand that Mrs. Bob (Alleith) Curry will be leaving this week for California. All this gadding about sort of gives one the wanderlust feeling.

DAVID AND MARY Beth Fatheree's lives have been made happier than usual by the arrival of their new son, David Mann. Mrs. Ed (Nancy) Watts and Mrs. Buster (Helen) Carter helped the couple welcome the newcomer by giving a shower in Mrs. Fatheree's honor recently in the Watts home. Those attending to welcome David Mann included Mrs. Tom (Mickey) Thatcher and Mrs. Miles (Joan) Childers, both of Amarillo, and Mrs. Joan Osborne, Mrs. Warren (Francie) Fatheree, Mrs. Bill (Grace) Gething, Mrs. John Lee (Anita) Bell, Mrs. Jim (Ann) Campbell, Mrs. Joe (Bobby) Reid, Mrs. Bob (Marty) Price, Mrs. Gene (Donna) Sidwell, Mrs. Jim (Marsha) Hobbs, Mrs. Malcolm (Beverly) Douglass, Mrs. Don (Susanne) Lane, Mrs. Tom (Allison) Snow, Mrs. Jim (Lysle) Baldridge, Mrs. Harbord (Jeannene) Cox, Mrs. Joe (Joy) Cree, Mrs. Elmer (Patty) Wilson, Mrs. Buzz (Jewel) Tarpley, Mrs. Don (Fran) Morrison, Mrs. Hobart (Ann) Fatheree, and Mrs. Carl (Pat) Kennedy. . . Overheard Mrs. Howard (Claudia) Greenlee and Mrs. Don (Susanne) Lane making big plans for the children's Easter parties at the Pampa Country Club. Perhaps the Easter Bunnies will let more information about what is to take place reach our ears before the appointed time. . . Mrs. V. J. (Oma) Drew packed her bags Friday and took off for Lubbock where she will stay until after the April 8 wedding of her daughter, DeAnne. The wedding is to take place in the Lubbock Methodist Church of which Rev. Rodney Williams is pastor. A number of Pampans will remember Rev. Williams when he was associate pastor at the local First Methodist Church while Miss Drew attended Pampa High School.

RONALD BRAY, Danny Turner and Terrie Watson, freshman at Texas Technological College, were honored recently by the Convocation Committee of the college at its Annual All-College Recognition Service. The three Pampa students were honored for having attained the highest scholastic distinction a freshman can attain. Only about two and one-fourth percent of the freshman class attain the honor each year. Bray, son of Mrs. Thelma Bray, and Turner, son of the Paul Turners, were given the opportunity of being initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, scholastic honor society for men at Texas Tech. Miss Watson, daughter of the Wendell Watsons, received the opportunity of being initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honor society for women at the college. . . Springtime also means college vacation time, but it seems that no two colleges agree on just when that time will be. Heard San Williams, son of Dr. Ed and Sandy Williams, has been home for a week's vacation already, while sister, Mary Ellen Williams, will arrive home on April Fool's Day for hers. Carol Chase flew home from Stamford a week ago last Saturday and mom and dad, Dorothy and J. L. Chase, are driving her back to school, combining the trip with a spring vacation. . . Science teachers of Pampa schools will be quite busy seeing that student exhibits get to the Regional Science Fair in Amarillo next weekend. Those who attended the local fair are expecting great things from Pampa students participating. . . Art students of Mrs. Gene (Willetta) Olds from Robert E. Lee Junior High School and Mrs. Floyd (Janice) Sackett from Pampa High School received a number of awards in the Regional Scholastic Arts Awards Exhibition held recently at White and Kirk in Amarillo. Lee students, their entries and awards include Barry George, sculpture; Larry Taylor, crafts; Johnny Stokes, Hanev Robertson and Billy Robins, jewelry, gold key awards; Charlet Coups and Robert Poole, jewelry, certificates; Pampa High School students and their entries receiving gold keys were Cathy Hopkins, pencil drawing and costume design; Melvin Branch, pencil drawing; Sheri Anderson, costume design and water color; and Paul Saliness, ink drawing. PHS students who were awarded certificates include Cathy Hopkins, sculpture; Mary Davis, Carolyn McClure, Peggy Ragsdale and Sylvia Graham, pencil drawings; Carolyn McClure, pastels; George Scott, Thera Blakeslee and Betha Lee Stubbs, sculpture; John Vallster and Donna James, block prints; Virginia Wiens, graphic design; Betty Supina, costume design; Bruce Herring, mixed media, and Paul Saliness, ink drawing. Entries receiving gold keys have been sent to New York City to be entered in the International Scholastic Awards Exhibit.

Guests Entertained at Friendship Tea

The American Business Women's Association held its Hand of Friendship Tea Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock in the Hospitality Room of Citizens Bank. The tea is designed to acquaint more women in Business with the advantages of membership in ABWA. Mrs. Velma Sutton, president, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Eugene Franklin, tea chairman, gave a brief outline of the advantages of membership which include attending monthly dinner meetings, participating in National and State Conventions, covered by accident insurance, receiving nine issues yearly of the National Magazine, and raising funds for a local scholarship.

Miss Barbara Dwight, recipient of the Pampa Charter Chapter 1964 ABWA Scholarship, told of her experience and the advantage it had been to her in studying and preparing for a career as laboratory technician. Miss Maxine Nabors reviewed the qualifications for becoming a member in the chapter.

The table was decorated with a tall centerpiece of yellow gladioli and pussy willow. The color of black and gold was carried throughout the table decorations.

Fashion Showing Is Viewed by El Progreso Club

El Progreso Club met in the home of Mrs. Kermit Lawson Tuesday for an informal luncheon with Mrs. Richard Bray, Mrs. Leon Patterson and Mrs. Perry Moore as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Verl Hagaman presided at the business meeting at which time Mrs. Lawson was appointed as delegate to the District Meeting of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Hereford.

Mrs. Gus Rogers presented a fashion showing of spring and summer fashions.

Final Plans Set For African Violet Show

Final plans for the African Violet Show and Guest Tea, to be held April 12 in the home of Mrs. Holly Gray were made at the recent meeting of Pampa African Violet Society.

The Society met in the home of Mrs. Evan Jones with 11 members present.

Mrs. Dan Glaxner, president, presided.

"Window Care of African Violets" was the program topic presented by Mrs. W. Lee Moore.

Concluding the program was a talk on "Blessed Humidity", presented by Mrs. V. N. Osborn, and the "Helpful Hint on Violet Culture", given by Mrs. Gray.

Twentieth Century Club members Enjoy 'Tasting Tea,' Talk by Mrs. Sanford

Twentieth Century Club enjoyed a "Tasting Tea" Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lorene Locke. Mrs. Tom Rose reminded those present that Community Concert memberships were to be renewed.

Mrs. Fred Neslage, leader for the day, presented Mrs. Bob Sanford, who has taught the culinary arts in public schools and has always kept in touch with the new trends.

Mrs. Sanford began by saying "We used to consider can-opener cooks" as people to be frowned on. Now this is almost a tribute. In the grocery stores now days one can find as many as 7,000 products from which to choose. Most easy to use products are also quite nutritious. They are frozen or dehydrated at the right time to insure freshness and even the fresh produce, that may have been stored for several days, is not on a par. Many times these convenient packages are less expensive for the house wife than making something from scratch. They most certainly are less time consuming. One can do in an hour and a half what it used to take five hours to do.

The speaker reported that it now takes 37 hours of work to pay for a months supply of food (See TWENTIETH, Page 19)

Burleson-Cash Vows Read in Friona

MCLEAN (Spl) — In a formal ceremony solemnized recently, Miss Sondra Kay Burleson became the bride of Roy Don Cash. The double-ring vows were read at First Baptist Church in Friona by Rev. Bill Burton.

Tall baskets of white stock and gladioli backed by woodwardia palms formed the wedding scene.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Burleson Jr. of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cash of McLean.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a three-piece white wool suit with white lizard shoes and bag. Her hat, a white chiffon petal like crown, held a brief veil. She carried a lace covered Bible topped with a bouquet of white orchids tied with satin love knots.

Gwen Dillon of El Paso was maid of honor. Best man was Gary John McLaurin of Cantilero.

Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Roy V. Miller Sr., who also accompanied Mrs. William Beane as she sang "Wither Thou Goest."

A brunch in the Burleson home followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Cash, a graduate of Friona High School, is a senior at Texas Technological University. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta Sorority and recently ended her reign as "Miss Lubbock 1965." She was a "Tech Beauty" and is a former maize queen.

Mr. Cash is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and a member of American Institute of Industrial Engineers. He is a graduate of McLean High School

Lives of Franklin and Jane Pierce Are Discussed for TC Culture Members

The Twentieth Century Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ross Buzzard with Mrs. R. E. Dobbin as co-hostess.

The meeting was opened with the reading of the Club Collect. Mrs. E. L. Henderson, vice president, presided during the business meeting in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Norman Buhrow was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer introduced Mrs. J. L. Chase who spoke on the lives of Franklin and Jane Pierce. She presented a very interesting story of their lives. Summing up the life of Franklin she stated, "There was a winning, irresistible magnetism in the presence of this man. His voice, his look, his gestures, his gait, the spiritual sphere of him were delightful. His rise to the highest office in our nation was due quite as much to his power or quality in him as to any intellectual or even executive ability that he may have possessed. He was a good conscientious, patriotic strong man, and gentle and tender as a woman. He had the old fashioned ways, the courtesy, and the personal dignity which are not often seen. His physical frame was immensely powerful and athletic, but life used him hard and he was far from considerate of himself and he died at 68 when he might under more favorable conditions, have rounded out his century."

"Jane Pierce was a delicately beautiful woman as a cameo-small and slender, large dark eyes under gracefully curving brows. She was shy, retiring, frail and tubercular and well bred in the straightest sect of New England theocracy. She was often oppressed by ill health and melancholy, hating politics and public life, and sorely troubled by her husband's social weaknesses."

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Skellytown P-TA met recently in the school cafeteria.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Leroy Snodgrass. Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer.

Following the business session, those present adjourned to the school gymnasium where they enjoyed a program presented by "Doc" Bates, teacher.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Couple

Mrs. Jerome R. Warner ... nee Miss Linda Barker

Floral arrangements of roses and candelabra bearing white tapers formed the background of the wedding scene yesterday afternoon for Miss Linda Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Barker of 2001 Hamilton, and Jerome R. Warner, son of Mrs. Everett Alleman of Burlington, Colo. and the late Albert J. Warner.

Guy Caskey, minister of Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ, solemnized the doubling vows at 4 o'clock in Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel, Canyon.

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen of Canyon, organist, provided traditional wedding selections and accompanied the vocalist Mrs. Van S.

Allm of Amarillo, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white peau de soie. The dress, designed with elbow-length sleeves and fitted bodice, featured a Sabrina neckline of re-embroidered alencon lace and bellshaped skirt with re-embroidered alencon lace applied down the front. Deep pleats in the back of the floor-length gown, topped with a large bow, terminated into a chapel train. A caplet of alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls secured the bride's, fingertip-length veil of silk illusion. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift from the bridegroom, as something new; her grandmother's wedding band as something old; and carried a lace handkerchief as something borrowed. Her bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid was carried on a white Bible, a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. Carl Kisinger, of Red Springs.

Miss Wanda Hubbard of Bula attended as maid of honor, and Misses Linda Belmont and Suzanne Paden served as bridesmaids. All three bridal attendants were attired in identical floor-length gowns of dusty rose silk taffeta. The dresses were fashioned with scooped necklines, fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts. Matching taffeta and net rose coils with face veils and lace gloves completed their ensembles. Each attendant carried a small bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Misses Kathy Kisinger, Red Springs, and Frances Bayers, Gilliland, cousins of the bride served as candlelighters and registered guests. Their street-length dresses were identical to the bridal attendants and were complemented by rose corsages.

Tommie Ray of Rotan served as best man. David Thomas and John Hatchel of Canyon were groomsmen. Ushers seating the guests were Charles Barker, brother of the bride, and Bill Kisinger of Red Springs, cousin of the bride.

A reception in honor of the couple was held in the Church of Christ Bible Chair following the ceremony. Miss Diane Drake of Dumas served the three-tiered wedding cake while Miss Karen O'Brian of Friona, presided at the punch service. Dusty rose net, caught up in swags by small taffeta roses, covered the white satin table cloth at the bride's

The bridegroom is a 1961 graduate of Bethune High School, Bethune, Colo. He served three years in the U. S. Army and is presently a senior government major at West Texas State University.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended to the bride included a bridal shower given March 1 in the home of Mrs. H. W. Waters, 1445 Russell. Hostesses included Mmes. Waters, Norman Briden, Hugh Layne, Walter D. Davis, Houston Branch, Elmer Darnell, Martin Stubbe and El-

PHS Career Clinic Evaluated at Altrusa Club of Pampa Meet

An evaluation of the recently held Pampa High School Career Clinic was led by Doug Altom, PHS senior, at the recent meeting of Altrusa Club of Pampa. Other speakers were Johnny Carlos, sophomore; Linda Watson and Robert Karr, juniors, and Jane Hiatt, senior.

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, president, conducted the meeting which was opened by the repeating of the Altrusa Blessing in unison. Mrs. Thelma Bray led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Standing reports were heard and officers for the coming year were elected.

Miss Andrea Buzzard, Altrusa Girl for February, Miss Linda Lampkin, Altrusa Girl for March and Mrs. Neva Weeks were welcomed as guests.

Thirty-six members attended the meeting held in Coronado Inn.

'Thread of Sex Runs Through Entire Lifespan of Woman' Lady Author Says

Woman To Woman
By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—This woman with a big badge stuck to her jacket walked down a street in Chicago this day.

"Boy, I'll bet she could tell us a thing or two," this man said to his male companion, as the pair stared at the badge. This woman, Grace Naismith, reddened and tore the sticker from her clothing. The letters on it said—"American Society for the Study of Sterility."

Without the identifying credential, Miss Naismith couldn't get into society meetings. Over 30 years the Associate Editor of "The Reader's Digest" has attended sterility, fertility, pediatric, geriatric, surgical, psychological and medical meetings by the dozen.

Her objective: New knowledge about what goes on outside, inside and between humans. In one particular area, sex and marital relations, Miss Naismith saw the need for a book for women.

Her book—"Private and Personal" (McKay)—doesn't give advice a la marriage manuals, bysteps sensationalizing a la erotica, and can be read by men who feel the need to peek over the transom.

With facts from leading authorities and studies, Miss Naismith takes the reader up and down the rungs of the ladder leading to an informed understanding of a woman's sexuality.

"What I report is frank without being offensive," Miss Naismith said in an interview. "I want every woman to know what I have learned."

"If they really understand their sexuality, there would be more stability in marriage and more happiness. Many lives could be saved."

"Many additives in our food now keep it fresher longer; enrich and improve it in bulk, color and texture. There is concern about labeling and new efforts are being made to correct misleading pictures and sizes of food stuffs."

Mrs. Sanford had each member present the dish brought, describe it and tell what quick method was used in preparing it.

Mrs. Fred Neslage brought brownies mixed in five minutes; Mrs. David McGahey showed an orange bread beginning with a mix; Mrs. H. R. Thompson had cheese balls made with few ingredients; Mrs. Frank Culbertson brought Vichyssoise, made with dry soup mix; Mrs. Bill Roots made an angel food cake from a mix; Mrs. Robert Lyle showed oatmeal and raisin cookies that were ready to pop in the oven, even sliced; Mrs. V. J. Jamieson also brought cookies to slice and pop in the oven; Mrs. Wayne Pitmer presented a strawberry pie made from jello, chilled strawberries and bananas; Mrs. Bob Andis had several varieties of Metrecal, a meal in itself; Mrs. Dick Stowers showed a desert pudding made from Whip & Chill with pumpkin added; Mrs. David Tucker had a creme de menthe desert with peppermint flavoring and Dream Whip topping; Mrs. Jack Foster had a new receipt from Pillsbury, a snack bread made with onion soup; Mrs. Jack Stroup had bread cubes rolled in cheese and baked; Mrs. Bob Sanford had green beans marinated in a spiced dressing; Mrs. Joe Gordon presented hors-d'oeuvres made of cream cheese and thinly sliced bologna; Mrs. Lorene Locke gave her special creamy fudge, made from a mix in five minutes, and Mrs. Harry Vanderpool had German Black Rye bread fingers spread with Jalapeno cheese.

Pre-sexual education, she calls it. It means knowing how to help even your three-year-old daughter from having guilty feelings about sex. Tell her the wrong thing and you park a dark cloud over her—one that will hover over her even during married life.

Producing the book was a bruising experience on at least one occasion. Miss Naismith one rainy night placed her manuscript atop her car while she searched for the keys. A nasty wind huffed and puffed, sending pages, under other cars in the lot, snagging them on bushes and floating them on puddles.

Miss Naismith isn't the age for it, but she got down on all fours to retrieve precious sheets from the underside of autos.

Climbing over rocks and rills, she gathered other soggy pages. Reaching for the last page, she tore her stockings on a rose thorn bush.

Baker Teachers Are Honored at Banquet Upsilon Chapter Elects Officers

TEACHERS' BANQUET—Carl Jones, B. M. Baker Elementary School principal, is receiving a name tag from Mrs. H. L. Engle of the recently held Teachers' Appreciation Banquet. Mrs. Engle is president of Baker P-TA, which hosted the banquet.

B. M. Baker Elementary School teachers and their guests were honored at the Annual Teachers' Appreciation Banquet March 18. The event, held in the school cafeteria, was hosted by Baker P-TA Executive Board.

Mrs. S. A. Downs, decorations chairman, carried out a "Holland" theme by decorating the room with a large background scene of a windmill, animals and flowers. Table centerpieces were wooden shoes and tulip shaped menu cards and nut cups further carried out the theme.

Dressed as Dutch girls, hostesses included Mmes. H. L. Engle, Charles Ingram, Troy Bennett, S. R. Cogdell, D. B. Mahaney, J. T. Lambright and W. J. Cook.

Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank and Trust.

The Ritual of Jewels ceremony was read by Mrs. Robert Shelton, president for Mrs. D. L. Hinkle and Mrs. Tommy Richardson. Mrs. Clois Lyon, vice-president, and Mrs. Jack Stafford assisted with the ceremony.

Mrs. Robert Shelton, president, presided over the business meeting. Upsilon members voted to purchase a senior ring for a deserving girl or boy.

The officers elected were president, Mrs. Richard Cooke; vice-president, Mrs. Shirley Sanders; recording secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Freeman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Willson; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Stafford; extension officer, Mrs. Don Carpenter; representative to City Council, Mrs. James Schaffer; and alternate representative to City Council, Mrs. Clois Lyon.

Hostesses for the evening, composed of the social committee were Mmes. Shirley Sanders, chairman, James Schaffer, Charles Reeves, Johnny Costner, Jack Stafford and Clois Lyon.

Most cheeses taste best at room temperature so count on taking them from the refrigerator about an hour before serving.

'The Agony and the Ecstasy' Reviewed By Mrs. Holloway for TC Forum Club

Members of Twentieth Century Forum were entertained Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Sweeney. After reading the Club Collect, Mrs. Sweeney, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Homer Johnson, Federation Chairman, announced the State Convention of Federated Women's Clubs would be held in Lubbock in early May.

Mrs. Harold Barrett and Mrs. J. R. Holloway presented a most enjoyable and interesting review of "The Agony and the Ecstasy," a biographical novel of Michelangelo by Irving Stone.

"Florence in the year 1475 was the intellectual and artistic center of the flowering Italian Renaissance. Into this gem-like city-state, ruled by the patron of arts and letters, Lorenzo de Medici, was born one of the greatest geniuses the world has produced — Michelangelo Buonarroti, sculptor, painter, poet, architect, and engineer. Few artists have matched the grandeur of his conceptions, or the power of his creations. To know his life is to know the history of Italy's glory.

"The Agony and the Ecstasy" begins when Michelangelo, against his family's ambitions, became apprenticed at the age of thirteen to the painter Ghirlandajo. Shortly after he moved into the fabulous palace of the Medici as Lorenzo's protégé. There, as an intimate of the circle of humanist scholars, and future popes, he studied the classics, carved his first sculptures and fell in love with Lorenzo's frail daughter, Contessina, a love that endured for a lifetime.

"However, his greatest passion, overriding his spiritual love for Contessina, his carnal love for the dark-haired Clarissa, or the mature love for Vittoria Colonna, was his lifelong, titanic struggle to release the forms and beauty imprisoned in pure white marble.

"He fought with cardinals, princes, and popes for his precious commissions, made lifelong friends and lifelong enemies, and became known for his frightening "terribilita". He spent four years lying on his back above the floor of the Sistine Chapel in Rome painting the ceiling for Pope Julius II to earn the right to carve marble.

"No body of work was ever created against a more formidable array of prejudice, jealousy, greed, and blind hostility. But Michelangelo was 'God's own child'. His personal life became a struggle as forceful a tale of conflict and dedication as his staggering creativity; for he was a universal man, robust in his appetites as well as in his humor, achieving the transition from the terror of the dark ages into the glorious modern era of the Golden Renaissance.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a real chance now to show you are simultaneously skillful in detecting what others have in their mind and in showing you can help them to a logical and clever solution of whatever problem faces them. Take time out to show you are a person who is aware of what is going on in the world about you. State current conditions.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — You can definitely understand what should be done with regard to public matters and anything connected with writing or figuring. Being worldly wise can make an impression on others. Be knowledgeable.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — You will start an upturn in all of your personal and business affairs. Take initiative and are very important to your career. Find information confidentially that is helpful. Be wary.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — It would be wise to have a confidential talk with those who can do much to open doors of business opportunity and increase your faith in human nature. Assist others as well. Be kind, generous.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Certainly a day for expanding, but whether it be in social or business matters, be sure your appearance is just right. Use that fine smile more often. Others will gravitate toward you happily.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Entertain others who have been so good to you, whether at home or preferably at some charming restaurant, night club or have fun yourself, too. Be charming, affable. Show that you have a delightful personality.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — Carrying through with whatever will make you successful will prove the future to be quite wonderful for you. Listen to what things have to suggest. Profitableness and procrastination are sisters — avoid both.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — New friends you have made are now willing to assist you with any plans that you have in mind and are very important to your career. Find information confidentially that is helpful. Be wary.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — Good day to go over all of your obligations and plan to pay your bills that are overdue. Collect your money, etc. Be sure to do graciously what male desires of you. This brings more harmony in the days ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Contacting allies and discussing what you plan to do in the future is wise now on this free day. You need more cooperation, but you first have to be the one to express this. Take it easy in p.m.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Living the Golden Rule is very important since others will follow your lead. Get your daily chores planned in such a way that they will be easier and can be done more efficiently. Don't try to force matters. Avoid being belligerent with anyone.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — After standing aside for some time, be sure to join congenials in some mutually enjoyable pleasure, recreation. Stop worrying. Use that wonderful talent that can also bring delight to others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Be much more considerably interested in his right now than you have been in the recent past. Be more amenable to suggestions they make. Plan now for a greater success in the very near future.

FOR MONDAY, MARCH 28

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A true Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde day and evening when at one moment all seems to go along beautifully and you can be expansive in your ideas and activities and at the next you seem confronted by the sorts of irritating and annoying difficulties. Take it in stride and remain flexible.

Mary Francis Garcia Becomes Bride Of Dwayne Ray Gresham in Canadian

CANADIAN (SpI) — Miss Mary Francis Garcia of Canadian became the bride of Dwayne Ray Gresham of Amarillo recently in Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The doubling ceremony was read by the pastor, Father Antonio Catalina.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Garcia of Waynoka, Okla. and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Garcia of Canadian. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gresham of Hereford.

Mrs. E. R. Clloyd, organist, played traditional wedding selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white brocade suit and matching pillbox hat. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Fidel Lopez of White Deer served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a blue suit, blue pillbox hat, and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Johnny Wayne Brownlow of Hereford was best man. R. T. Smith of Canadian and William Smith of Amarillo were ushers.

The bride's grandparents gave a reception in the Parish Hall immediately following the ceremony. The serving table, covered with a white embroidered cloth over blue, was appointed with a three-tiered wedding cake iced in white and decorated with white swans and blue roses.

Colorful
NEW YORK (UPI) — The clothes you choose to wear reflect your personality, say fashion authorities.

If you wear bright pinks, reds and sunny yellows, you tend to be cheerful and outgoing. More somber colors suggest that you are probably serious and conservative in outlook.

Following a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N. M., the newlyweds are at home at 318 Kingman, Canadian.

21 Civic Culture Club Members Presented Program on 'Changed Face of Dixie'

The Civic Culture Club met Tuesday with Mrs. K. A. Sorenson as hostess. The president, Mrs. George Neef, had charge of the business meeting at which Mrs. A. D. Hillis was elected alternate delegate to the District Convention in Hereford.

Mrs. Neef introduced the program on "Conservation." Mrs. W. J. Morris had as her subject "The Changed Face of Dixie." "Soil conservation has changed the face of our nation in the past 25 years. No where is this more apparent than in the south. Twenty-five years ago farming in the south wasn't the pines, pastures and ponds that it is today. Generally speaking, it was cotton, cotton and more cotton, with a little corn. Pastures were more like exercising lots for a few scrub cows and trees. They still hadn't come into their own," Mrs. Morris began.

"One of the biggest changes that has taken place is the planting of grass. Possibly more than anything else, grass has changed the face of Dixie. The south is cattle country now instead of the land of cotton.

"A quarter of a century ago it was common occurrence for a farmer to inquire as to the best method of killing grass. That's when cotton was the principal crop. The change to grass can be summed up in one word 'profit'. In the words of a North Carolina farmer, 'Whether you are running beef cattle, operating a dairy, or growing cash crops, grass will make your operation more profitable.'"

"It takes water as well as grass to grow livestock. Along with pastures, farmers have built thousands of farm ponds as a part of their livestock programs. As a result the South is fast becoming a land of lakes. The primary purpose is to provide water for livestock, but most of the ponds are stocked with bass and bluegills and provide food as well as the fun of catching the fish.

"A relatively new program widely heralded by Southern farmers as presenting new opportunities for accomplishing soil and water conservation and economic improvement is the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act, known as the Watershed Program. It consists of three phases. (1) Land treatment to reduce runoff and control erosion and silting of stream channels. (2) Construction of small flood detention dams to hold back flood water during heavy rains, and (3) Channel improvement work to permit water to move out freely through stream channels.

"Practically everyone benefits from the small watershed program — those whose lands are protected from erosion, floods or standing water; business interest in nearby communities; and people who need water for industrial use, recreation, hunting and fishing.

"In every southern state women have taken an active lead in stimulating more interest in soil and water conservation. General Federation of Women's Clubs and other women's organizations have prepared and distributed folders, made soil and water conservation the subject of discussion at their meetings, gone on field trips, sponsored conservation essay, art poster and speech contest and helped in many other ways to stimulate more interest in conservation."

This is as it should be because club women, with the natural interest in community, state and national affairs, are ideally suited to help further this program in which we all have a common stake. It is the responsibility of all of us to safeguard our remaining land and keep it permanently productive."

Dear Abby... Is There a Different Doctor in the House?

DEAR ABBY: For the past five months I have been taking shots and pills for my nerves. During my last visit to the doctor he said, "My treatments do not seem to be helping you. I think I know what you need. You need to let yourself go!" Then he suggested I seek romance outside my marriage and he added, "—And I could make myself available." Abby, I was so stumped I nearly fainted. He is a very handsome, middle-aged family man and one of the most highly respected doctors in town. I don't want to cause him any trouble. If I suddenly changed doctors, my husband would get suspicious because I had so much confidence in this doctor. And if my husband ever found out what the doctor said to me, he'd go looking for him with a club.

Is there any way I can continue seeing this doctor and keep him in line?

WITHHOLD MY NAME DEAR WITHHOLD: If the doctor told you that his treatments didn't seem to be helping you, what more valid reason do you need for changing doctors? If you were genuinely insulted by the doctor's unprofessional behavior, you'd have walked out, quit him at once, and reported him to the county medical society. I advise you to quit him. If you don't, then face it, you are unconsciously (?) fascinated by him and wish to continue the relationship, knowing full well what to expect.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three daughters, ages 11, 13, and 15. These girls are driving me crazy! There is never a peaceful minute in this house. They are always fighting. When they were small they were constantly at each other's throats, but I thought they would get along better when they got older. Well, they've gotten worse, not better. We have done everything to teach them love and respect for each other, but we've failed. My husband still insists they will "out-grow" this hatred they seem to have for one another. Will they? If so, when?

GOING CRAZY DEAR GOING: Be patient. Girls between 11 and 15 are generally stubborn, selfish and moody. They will become more reasonable and considerate of each other when they mature. Unfortunately by that time, they will be ready to leave home. Sorry, mother, but why should it be any different at your house?

DEAR ABBY: What does a woman do when her husband has been out of the service for 20 years and still talks about his navy experiences? I was a good listener in the beginning, but after 20 years I am all worn out. Do all men who were in the service relive their service days with every breath they take? Now, Abby, don't advise me to suggest that he re-enlist. He's too old. Besides, even if they would take him, I don't think I could stand to listen to any new navy episodes.

DEAR EAR-WHIPPER: You would be glad your husband has had service-days experiences he can talk about. It's those quiet ones who just sit back and smile whose wives have something to complain about.

'Passport to Hospitality, Entertaining' Program Heard by Varietas Members

The meeting of the Varietas Study Club was opened with the reading of the Club Collect Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. S. C. Evans with Mrs. H. Price Dosier acting as co-hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Kirchman, president, presided over the business session at which she announced several coming events of importance to the club.

Mrs. Dosier announced the subject of the program, "Passport to Hospitality and Entertaining," to be given by Mrs. W. L. Campbell and Mrs. Evans.

Mrs. Campbell opened her subject "Entertaining for Youth and Age," by saying, "Each age has interests that are peculiar to it. At every age the individual derives satisfaction from activities related to his interests. Conversely, activities that are unrelated to these interests are boring and produce dissatisfaction. Because an opportunity of satisfaction that exists it is of practical importance not only to give outlets related to these interests but also develop interests in activities that are necessary in the life of the individual. Parties are exciting experiences for children; they enjoy the anticipation of the party; they like to dress up in their best clothes; they derive pleasure from the games and food, which are generally different from what they are accustomed. During late childhood parties prove less appealing. The most serious objection is that there is too much adult supervision and interference. They like to play unsupervised, and resent being told what to do and how to do it. Contrary to popular belief the crowd-age adolescents are not interested in formal parties. An attempt by an adult to make the party formal is sure to make it flop. A party for small children very quickly becomes a roughhouse unless an adult plans activities to keep the group constantly occupied. But the adolescent wants to plan his own activities. Refreshments are an important part of a party. Young people are contemptuous of dainty foods that seem so appropriate to adults. They prefer their favorite foods in very large quantities. Ordinarily they enjoy taking part in preparing the food, especially if they are permitted the run of the kitchen or to cook outdoors. However, they feel very abused if they are expected to clean up the dishes afterward or replace furniture that has been pushed out of place for dancing.

"My observation is that tastes in parties for both youth and age are basically the same, tempered somewhat with the passing of time," Mrs. Campbell concluded.

FELS-MEYERS — Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Fels of Amana, Iowa, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sally, to Craig F. Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meyers of 415 N. Somerville. Miss Fels, a graduate of Coe College with a BM degree, will receive her MA Degree in Christian Education in May. Mr. Meyers, a graduate of Pampa High School and Trinity University in San Antonio, will receive his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from McCormick Theological Seminary in May. The couple plans a June wedding.

Speaking on "Modern Table Settings and Their Care" Mrs. Evans said, "Living today is casual for many families, but this need not mean 'careless'. A knowledge of table appointments and etiquette contributes to the art of living. Wherever the family eats the table can always be attractive though inexpensively set with loving rather than lavish care. An attractively set table has balance, harmony and distinction. If colors in your dishes are pleasing, you may plan your cloth or mats to accent your china. Bright colored mats can be used as a spark of color with neutral-colored china. A gay colorful china will look better with more neutrally colored mats. Colored glassware is popular but it may create a spotted effect when placed for everyone at the table. In planning your coordinates of silver china, and glass you might find it easier if you classify them according to the amount and kind of decoration. Design and patterns in the same mood go best together. Formal, such as highly decorated silver, china, and glass, implies dignity and gaiety and less pretension. Avoid mixing bold and dainty. If the silver design is delicate so should the design in china and glass be delicate. Avoid too much pattern. You create confusion when you place very decorative china on a patterned cloth with highly decorated silver and a large bowl of flowers. "Constant use is a basic factor in the care of silver. When it is handled, washed, and dried daily, it does not collect tarnish. Handle it carefully to minimize scratching. Fine china should be carefully handled.

BEATY-LAWRENCE — Miss Larue Beaty will become the bride of Frank Lawrence on April 9, according to an announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Beaty of 328 Sunset Dr., parents of the bride-elect. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Ruff of 1316 E. Francis.

Mrs. Foster Is La Cultura Club Guest Speaker

Mrs. Jack Foster talked to members of La Cultura Club on "Interior Decoration." Mrs. Foster stated that "Interior decoration is the expression of a primal instinct in men to show and create beauty in his home. "There are two out standing goals in decoration. They are beauty and liveableness. To achieve beauty your house must have established laws and principles. The components of beauty are line, form, texture, light and color. These must all be combined to achieve the personality of the owner.

"Interior design is organizing space and equipment for pleasant living," continued Mrs. Foster. "There are four types of decoration, formal, informal, modernism and naturalness. Choose which suits your needs and personality then start with the furnishings."

Mrs. Foster then gave all the types and styles of furnitures and the decorative accents to be used with the furniture. She stated that "One man's trash is another man's treasure. You should select accessories that are beautiful, meaningful to you and that contribute to the home.

"Decoration exists to strengthen the structure and make the whole more beautiful," concluded Mrs. Foster.

Wash as soon as possible after use with mild soap or detergent in warm water, using dish mop, cloth or sponge.

"Follow the same general procedure as is used in care of dinnerware when washing glassware. Fine polishing with tissue paper will make glass shine."

Mrs. Evans displayed several table settings, one with her lovely Lenox china, sterling flatware and antique cutglass goblets for a formal setting; an informal setting, using stainless steel flatware with her everyday china; a most attractive setting with vaseline glass plate and goblet combined with dirlyte flatware. She also displayed several attractive patio settings.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served to the 18 members present.

OES Chapter 65 To Fete Officials

Rue Hestond ... to be honored

Pampa Chapter 65, OES, will honor Mrs. Robbie Yates of Stratford, associate grand conductress, and other Grand Officers of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star, this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in the Hospitality Room of Citizen's Bank and Trust Co.

Rue Hestond, a past patron and present worthy patron of Pampa Chapter 65, is a member of the Masonic Heritage Committee of the Grand Chapter of Texas and will be among those honored.

Jackie Nickel Is Lefors HD Club Guest Speaker

LEFORS — Lefors Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Duckworth. The roll call was answered by each member giving the name of a Gray County 4-H Club leader.

A timely program for the season was presented by Miss Jackie Nickel, Lefors 4-H Chapter president, on different trees, plants, and shrubs. Miss Nickel mentioned several varieties common to this area which included evergreen trees, eastern poplar, common honey locust, and the thornless marian honey locust. Some shrubs also mentioned were evergreen varieties, lilac, and lobelia; vines included Virginia creeper, English ivy and lemon bottle brush.

The speaker said most trees and other plants that grow here will grow larger in other places south of this area due to the more favorable climate and less wind. Some are so much larger they are difficult to recognize as the same plant. She stated that her favorite tree is the Sycamore.

Hawaii Discussed at Cotillion Meet

Twentieth Century Cotillion Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Roysse at 2110 N. Banks.

The president, Mrs. Weldon Adair, held the business meeting at which final plans for the Annual antique Show were made. Mrs. Lee Fraser, chairman, announced that ticket sales were very good.

Mrs. Ralph McKinney presented slides of her recent trip to Hawaii. She began her program with her description of the 49th state, Hawaii. "Massive mountains and deep-driven canyons, sun-kissed beaches and waving coconut palms, Polynesian Paradise of song and laughter, of flower necklaces and soft voiced hula maidens. In short: Hawaii USA," the speaker stated.

"The people of the islands are American citizens and speak English but are very different from fellow countryman on the Mainland. They are leading a very relaxed life.

"Farming is the chief industry and most of the land is divided into large ranches and plantations. Sugar cane is the largest crop grown on the island with pineapples the second largest crop. The tourist industry is the third largest business." With this explanation Mrs. McKinney took the group on a pictorial tour of the islands of Aahu, Maui, Hawaii and Kauai.

Members attending were Mmes. W. B. Adair, Thelma Bray, James Brown, J. W. Campbell, Buddy Cockrell, Harbord Cox, Lee Franser, Howard Greenlee, Marvin Jones Ralph McKinney, Don Morrison, Kenneth Roysse, Tom Snow, Doug Mills Jr., Bill Atkinson and John Killern.

SUFFICIENCY

"...All that I have is thine" Luke 15:31

The saintly father of a ne'er-do-well son had invested his profits wisely and had become very wealthy. The son, expelled from college, had fallen into the depths of sin and degradation, but had turned to Christ to become converted. He longed to see his old father but hesitated in his feeling of shame. Finally he did go, and his father happily welcomed him. The son just asked that he could have new clothes in order to hunt a job. The proud old father replied, "Why, son, don't look at it that way! All I have belongs to you now!"

All during His ministry on earth Christ impressed his hearers that He wanted them to have everything He had. He wanted them to have the more abundant life and its joys. He wanted them to take His healing when afflicted, and His love when distraught and sorrowful. It almost staggers the imagination when we reflect upon His unlimited resources which are ours as we release our faith in Him and in His assurances. His eye is not only on the sparrows, but upon each of us.

God does not want you to be afflicted, fearful, sorrowful or in financial straits. All that He has is yours. Reach up to Him through faith, and He will supply your every need.

Television in Review

United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — What Beethoven above Haydn simply his greater dignity a man," wrote H. L. Mencken, adding: "It is almost a literal fact that there is not a trace of cheapness in the whole body of his (Beethoven's) music. He is never sweet and romantic; he never sheds conventional tears; he never strikes orthodox attitudes."

In short, old Ludwig is a very bad subject for one of those standard television documentaries that warms the cockles of a viewer's heart, dishonestly if necessary, and makes him remember to buy the sponsor's pimple-remover on the next trip to the supermarket.

What a pleasure it is today, therefore, to be able to report that Wednesday night's one-hour ABC-TV documentary "Beethoven: Ordeal and Triumph" took the maximum step and avoided this orthodox approach.

It was not a revolutionary documentary, for the producers—John Secundari and Helen Je Rogers—are not revolutionists at heart, but are of that more secure class of creators that takes generally accepted forms and simply uses them better than anyone else.

The step that they, and director Otto Lang, took, however, was consistent with the superb Mencken assessment of Beethoven: They virtually wrote off the standard practice of relying mainly on names, dates, places. They emphasized not his family, not his possessions or the other trivialities of this life—but, rather, himself, his essence, what he stood for: Indomitability.

It is easy to rely on a mass of detail, difficult to try to evoke in film and words the essence of a man. Possibly the total expert on Beethoven could not hope to be satisfied with an hour assessment of so great a genius, yet we must deal realistically in terms of video. In these terms, the layman must have been deeply stirred and even exhilarated by this successful evoking of this essence, which, in the hour, pivoted around the growing deafness that threatened the career of the young Beethoven, and finally claimed him, but not his talent.

The essence of the composer is, of course, in his music, and the eloquence that this music adds to a script that is exceptional to begin with is immeasurable.

In Beethoven's case, the essence, as the camera repeatedly and remarkably noted, is also in his face. Have you ever looked at that face carefully? In so doing, have you ever been able to look easily away from that incredible dignity, so massive that it seems to be of mountainous dimensions?

Underprivileged Child Rates High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Texas leads the nation in the number of "disadvantaged" children, according to the U. S. Office of Education.

The House Appropriations Committee today made public figures showing that Lone Star state had 306,234 children in families with incomes of less than $2,000 and in families receiving more than $2,000 a year from the aid to dependent children program.

Harold Howe II, commissioner of education, supplied the committee with a table giving the ranking of states in the number of children from poor families. He was testifying on the teacher corps program.

Other states, their number of poor children, and their ranking include:

Arkansas 148,158, ranked 16th; Kansas 45,712, ranked 29th; Louisiana 201,282, ranked 12th; New Mexico 41,869, ranked 32nd; and Oklahoma 95,947, ranked 21st.

Pampa Students Elected Officers Of West Texas State Fraternity

Three Pampa students were recently elected officers of Kappa Kappa Psi, national honor fraternity for bandmen, for next year at West Texas State University.

They are Gary Laramore, Dean Hearn, and James Nidiffer.

Laramore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Laramore, 1824 N. Banks, was elected vice-president. He is a sophomore majoring in music education.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Spence Hearn, 600 N. Somerville, Hearn was elected alumni secretary.

Hollywood Report

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The pumpkin was a Mustang and a sleek jetliner. Prince Charming was actor George Hamilton. Cinderella was Lynda Bird Johnson. And the bell that ended their fairy tale weekend in Hollywood was a school bell, not a clock striking midnight.

There was no indication whether Prince Charming slipped champagne from Cinderella's slipper at either of the two parties he gave in her honor Friday and Saturday night at "Grey Hall," the 39-room mansion he shares with his family.

But there was little doubt that her friends at the University of Texas in Austin will be swarming around the President's daughter for the next few days to hear about her adventures in movieland.

The storybook weekend ended Sunday night when Hamilton and Miss Johnson, both in their 20s, spent 10 minutes in his sporty convertible saying goodbye at International Airport before she flew back to Austin.

It had begun at the same place last Thursday, when Hamilton met her and whisked her in a Rolls-Royce to his Beverly Hills mansion—once owned by silent film star Douglas Fairbanks Sr.—to meet his family and friends in the society and movie worlds.

In between, Lynda went nightclubbing at the Coconut Grove, toured MGM studios to see how movies are made, and capped off a gala Friday night party at Hamilton's home with a visit to a private discotheque called "The Daisy."

Not a head in the sophisticated crowd turned as Lynda and Hamilton entered. But shortly after midnight a cake with one candle was brought to her table and everyone sang "Happy Birthday Lynda."

For Lynda's 22nd birthday Saturday night, Hamilton arranged an informal dinner for 12 at his home. The guests included singer Eddie Fisher and comedian Red Buttons.

Lynda's presents include a check for an undisclosed sum from her parents as well as gag gifts from family and friends. Among the latter were an oversized pair of dark glasses "for going Hollywood" and a huge pen "to sign autographs for her fans."

White House aides indicated they were pleased at the "happiness" Lynda showed in pictures taken with Hamilton during the weekend.

The Hollywood weekend was the second consecutive one the pair had been together. The previous weekend they were at the LBJ ranch in Texas.
