Canadian Liner Crashes in Tokyo Killing 71 Aboard

TOKYO (UPI) — A Canadian Pacific Airlines DC8 jetliner with 71 persons reported aboard struck a sea wall while landing in heavy fog tonight and disintegrated into a mass of flaming wreckage that spewed the dead and survivors along half a mile of the runway.

E. W. Ogden, Far Eastern regional sales manager of the airlines, said there were 62 passengers and 9 crewmen aboard the sleek swept-wing plane, which was making an intermediate stop at Tokyo's International Airport on a flight from Hong Kong to Vancouver.

There were only six known survivors, all badly burned, in the Takano Hospital. But heavy fog rolling in from the sea blanketed the area and caused great confusion. The airport was closed a few minutes after the crash occurred at 8:14 p.m.

Second Recent Disaster
The disaster occurred one month to the day — almost to the hour — of the crash of an All Nippon Airlines Boeing 727 jetliner in Tokyo Bay. That crash killed all 133 persons aboard, making it the worst accident in aviation history involving a single plane.

Tonight's crash was believed to be the worst in the history of the Canadian Pacific Airlines. In July last year 52 persons were killed when a DC6B exploded about 150 miles north of Vancouver.

Police Fear Death Toll Will Climb As Debris is Searched

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — An awesome series of tornadoes slashed across Mississippi and Alabama Thursday, leaving least 58 persons dead and 450 injured.

One twister hit a crowded shopping center in a Jackson residential area, killing at least a dozen persons. A family of six was wiped out when their home at Leesburg was blown apart.

Authorities feared the toll would go higher as rescue squads sifted through debris under emergency floodlights that gave the Candlestick Park shopping center in Southwest Jackson the appearance of wartime London.

Part of a weather system that also spawned deluges which sent hundreds of persons fleeing from flash floods in Alabama and Georgia, the tornadoes struck their most devastating blows in the Jackson area.

Roaring like an express train, a twister plowed into the Candlestick Park teeming with late afternoon shoppers and left a rubble of mangled bodies and twisted steel.

"I've been in Korea and the shopping center looked as if it had been hit by a bomb," said Kenneth Fairly, city editor of the Greenville (Miss.) Delta Democrat-Times. "There was only one building left that even looked like a building."

A little girl ran from one of the wrecked houses as Mayor Allen Thomson inspected the damage. "Where's my mommy and daddy?" she cried, and fainted at Thompson's feet.

Rescue workers uncovered six bodies in neighboring Flowood, and 20 more victims were reported at the Forkville-Leesburg-Walnut Grove area about 30 miles northeast of Jackson. A family of six was killed at Leesburg.

Swooping into Alabama, tornadoes bowled over trees and power lines and damaged buildings at Aliceville, Buhl, near Tuscaloosa and Gardendale near Birmingham. (One man was killed at Buhl.)

Squalls dumped six inches of rain at Warner Robins, Ga. (See ALABAMA, Page 3)

(EDITORS NOTE: Kenneth Fairly, city editor of the Greenville Delta Democrat Times, was in Jackson on an assignment when Thursday's tornado struck. Riding in a police car, he was among the first to reach the Candlestick Park shopping center. The following is his eyewitness account.)

Love's Labor Lost

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — A woman leaped from a car at Willie E. Wilson's service station Wednesday night, threw her arms around him and kissed him. It was love's labor lost.

The woman drove off and Wilson discovered his wallet missing. But Wilson told police it contained only personal papers, no money.

American Combat Fatalities in Viet Nam Total 2,335

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. combat fatalities in the Viet Nam war, as of Monday, totaled 2,335, exceeding those of the War of 1812, the Mexican War and the Spanish-American War.

The Defense Department reported Thursday that 130 American combat deaths were recorded during the week ended Monday.

Total U.S. battle fatalities were higher in five other major conflicts — the American Revolution, 4,435 deaths; the Civil War, 215,000; World War I, 53,402; World War II, 291,557; and Korea, 33,629.

Lesser totals are 2,260 in the War of 1812, 1,733 in the Mexican War and 385 in the Spanish-American War.

The latest report was the largest weekly toll since 224 Americans were killed during the week ending last Nov. 22, many of them in a clash with North Vietnamese regulars in the battle of the Ia Drang Valley.

Advisory Group Recommends Community Building Purchase

A recommendation to purchase a community building to be moved to land adjacent to Hollywood Park and Carver school was made yesterday afternoon by Pampa's School City, County, Cooperative Government Study Committee.

The building is located at Bowers City where it formerly served as a town center for that community.

40 Absentee Ballots Cast In Bond Issue

Absentee balloting in Pampa's Tuesday bond election ended at 5 p.m. today.

At noon, 40 absentee votes had been cast at the city secretary's office in City Hall.

This was five more than the 35-vote absentee total cast in the $950,000 sewer plant bond election in June of 1964.

The total vote in the 1964 election was 1,382 with 777 votes for the issue and 605 against. It carried by a 172-vote margin.

City Secretary Stanley Chittenden estimated today there are between 5,000 and 6,000 persons eligible to vote in next Tuesday's $2,900,000 bond election.

Voters will go to the polls to decide on five propositions including three for highway widening and drainage, one for city street improvements and one for a water filtration plant.

Proponents of the five bond issues were scheduled to fill speaking engagements and answer questions on the five propositions through Monday night.

L. P. Fort, a former city commissioner, said today he had paid the $15 rental on the Palm Room if City Hall where he will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday to debate anyone on the $750,000 water plant bond issue. Fort said if no one accepts his debate challenge he will be available to answer questions.

The five propositions have received the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce and several civic clubs.

Gray County Stock Ready for Judging

Pampa plays host to two stock shows in Recreation Park. First, judging for the Gray County Junior Livestock Show sponsored by the Pampa Lions Club for county 4-H and FFA members will get underway at 2 p.m. Saturday at Recreation Park.

J. E. Gunn, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee, said the show will feature about 75 pigs and calves.

The Lions Club offers three trophies in each division and a Grand Champion and Reserve Champion. Trans-Con Elevators will make an award for showmanship in presentation of pigs and Production Credit Association will make a showmanship award in presentation of calves.

Bryan Swan, Moore County Agent formerly of Wheeler, will judge the show. Lions Club Chairman Frank Grantham urged Pampa area residents to "come out and see this fine show."

Grantham said new facilities at the Recreation Park will make viewing the entries much better for spectators.

The Top O' Texas Stock Show, which includes the Junior Livestock judging and sale, FFA livestock judging contest and the Hereford Breeders judging and sale, gets under way Sunday and runs through Wednesday. This show, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, is an entirely different show than the Gray County show Saturday.

Sunday's activities get underway at 12 noon with the completion of weighing Junior Livestock at Recreation Park. At 1:30 p.m. fat steers will be fitted along with fat pigs.

Judging for the Top O' Texas stock show begins at 9 a.m. Monday. Swine will be judged at 9 a.m. and fat calves at 1:30 p.m. Monday's Stock Show activities will be highlighted with a junior exhibitors Barbeque Dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the sales arena. The public is invited to attend the dinner. Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office at $1.25 per

US Bombers Rip Railroad Lines in North Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Navy and Air Force planes bombed and strafed the vital railroad line linking Communist China and North Viet Nam for the first time since bombing of the north was resumed Feb. 1, a U. S. military spokesman disclosed today.

The attack by Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and Navy F4C Phantom jets ranged across the so-called "Hanoi-Haiphong line" in the Red River Valley heartland throughout much of Thursday and far into the night. Their bombs and rockets inflicted the heaviest damage on North Viet Nam since the end of the 37-day bombing lull.

In the south, U. S. 1st Infantry Division troops operating only yards from the Cambodian border captured enough food and supplies to equip 1,000 Communist troops for a month, an American spokesman said. The seizure occurred 10 miles southwest of Tay Ninh City about 50 miles northwest of Saigon.

The infantrymen are participating in Operation Hattiesburg, kicked off Tuesday in multi-battalion strength. The Americans said the Viet Cong abandoned the supply camp and fled rather than fight.

In the devastating attack on the north, the spokesman said two of the targets were in the Yen Be and Phu Tho areas northwest of Hanoi. Reconnaissance planes had noted a "considerable buildup" of supplies that previously were stored at Dien Bien Phu, bombed frequently in recent weeks.

FCC Seeking Monopoly Over Cable TV

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Thursday sought clear authority to regulate the community antenna television industry, including a ban preventing it from originating programs.

Construction of a proposed cable television system in Pampa is being temporarily held up, pending outcome of the Washington hearings on the FCC regulations proposal. The City Commission last summer granted a franchise to Calvin Fraser and Dale Greenhouse for installation of cable TV in Pampa.

The request came in the form of a bill introduced by Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., whose House Commerce Committee has announced its decision to hold hearings on the regulation question.

The bill also would declare that state and local governments could set additional rules for the 16,600 community antenna systems in the nation, as long as the local regulations did not conflict with FCC provisions.

The system the FCC seeks to regulate uses an antenna to pick up television signals and feeds them to subscribers through a cable for a fee.

Lately such systems have been moving closer to metropolitan areas where television broadcasts originate, touching off a feud between television broadcasters and the operators of the cable systems.

OVERLY ZEALOUS

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — Lionel Abernathy, 51, a carpenter, was charged with arson Thursday after he carried out the orders of fire officials to clean up his home and yard.

Abernathy sprinkled everything with gasoline and touched off a blaze which cleaned the yard, destroyed the house and threatened a nearby church and school convent.

Fate of Candace and Powers In Hands of All-Male Jury

KEY TO DECIDE — Mrs. Candace Mossler, left, joyfully hugs her attorney Marian Rosen, as the jury began pondering her fate in her Miami, Fla., trial. Mrs. Mossler and Melvin Lane Powers, her nephew and alleged lover are charged with the murder of her millionaire husband.

MIAMI (UPI) — In a little green room, 12 men sit around a brown formica-top table with a view overlooking a seedy downtown street pondering and arguing and trying to winnow the real from the phoney in what has been thrust at them for seven wearying weeks.

This is the Mossler murder trial jury. At 9:10 p.m. EST Thursday night, Circuit Judge George E. Schulz told them:

"In the jury room there can be no triumph except the ascertainment and declaration of truth."

On that the triumph rests the life or death — or prison, fine or freedom — for tired and sick Candy Mossler, 46 and still glamorous, and her dotting nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 29, tall and stoically handsome.

Judge Schulz charged the jury on the law and the indictment that accused Candy and Mel of first degree murder by "stabbing and cutting" to death Candy's ultra rich husband, Jacques, 69. He sent them off to deliberate at 9:14 p.m. Then at 11 p.m. he ordered them locked up for the night at a downtown hotel.

The judge's after-dinner charge lasted an hour and eight minutes. This following a closing address by defense attorney Percy Foreman that (See JURY) Page 3)

Here's a Soldier Who Believes In Guardian Angels

SAIGON (UPI) — You can't tell Lt. Ralph Southard of Red Oak, Okla. he doesn't have a guardian angel.

Southard, a paratrooper with A Company, 2nd Battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, was slightly wounded during the recent fighting in Binh Duong.

But he stayed behind to help evacuate other more seriously wounded.

During the fighting, he heard a thud in the dirt about 12 inches from his foot. It was a 60mm mortar round — a dud. Southard looked at the dud round, then glanced at the sky. said "Thank you, Lord," and walked on to help another American.

Nine Sign Up on First Day Of Free Voter Registration

Nine registrations have been received by County Assessor Jack Back's office under the new free-voter registration measure, Back announced today.

The free voter registration is now in its second day under a new court ruling. Back said so far he had seen no FBI agents present to check on Gray County voter registration.

No county-assessor-collector in the 43 counties being watched by the Justice Department reported visits by FBI agents Thursday.

The Justice Department said it was just complying with federal court directives. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., asked the department how many agents will be used, and where they will come from. The Justice Department said they would all be Texas agents and would check at counties (See VOTERS, Page 3)

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—As a $10-a-month plunger in the capital press investment club, I have a large part of my personal fortune tied up in the stock market.

Quite naturally, I found the recent market slump disturbing. I was scared stiff. It even changed my reading habits.

For years I hardly even glanced at newspaper financial pages, but a week or so ago I began turning to them the first thing every morning. They alarmed me more than ever.

The daily market reports usually included a paragraph or two in which unidentified analysts explained why prices went down. That was what made me lose my cool.

These analysts apparently can see things in the news that most of us overlook. Take, for example, President Johnson's recent statement appealing again to Hanoi to negotiate a settlement in Viet Nam.

When I read that on the front page, I felt good about it. But on the financial page it was mentioned as one of the reasons why the market had dropped that day.

As the Dow-Jones average continued to decline, various other contributing factors were cited by the analysts.

One day it was a statement by Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler denying reports that the administration planned to propose an income tax increase after the 1966 congressional elections.

Another day it was a statement by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways & Means Committee asserting that it would be "premature" to consider a tax increase at this time.

Looks Bright

I'm not suggesting these statements were occasions for dancing in the streets. But to most citizens, I think, tax increase declaimers are bright spots.

Yet, for reasons I am unable to fathom being unbecomingly effect on the stock market was depressing.

I then began to fear that something might happen to spread good tidings of great joy throughout the land. I figure that would cause the bottom to drop out of the market entirely.

Thursday, however, the market rallied again. I don't need an analyst to explain that. It was caused by the Russian spacecraft landing on the planet Venus.

Experts said the Soviet feat was conclusive evidence that the United States was behind in the space race. And this made the news gloomy enough to pep up the stock market.

The army being willing, the Central American Republic of Guatemala is about to make another try at Democratic constitutional government.

In more than 125 years of independence, Guatemala has known precious little of either.

In elections Sunday, the four million Guatemalans are scheduled to elect a president, a congress and local officials to replace a military regime that overthrew President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes in 1963.

The new president is to take office July 1. A new constitution will go into effect May 5. Shadowing the outcome is a campaign being waged by a handful of Communist-led terrorists and a widely held suspicion that the army either will see to it that its own favored candidate wins the election or will forcibly prevent any other from taking office.

Three candidates

Three men contest the top office.

Running with the unofficial support of the government is Col. Juan de Dios Aguilar, a rightist.

Farther to the right is another army man, Col. Miguel Angel Poinciano, a former chief of staff of the armed forces who resigned to enter politics.

To the left is Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro, a former dean of San Carlos University law school. Mendez Montenegro is the candidate of the Revolutionary party, which is as far left as the law allows in Guatemala.

He draws most of his support from agricultural and industrial workers and is regarded as a moderate despite the fact his party is heavily infiltrated by Communists.

There is some doubt that the army will permit him to take office, even if he wins.

He is a replacement for his

It does seem to be a fact that President Johnson stumbled over the U.S. Constitution when he undertook to interrupt commerce between the United States and newly independent Rhodesia in Africa.

There is not much if any constitutional or other authority for the President of the United States to undertake the regulation of foreign commerce.

Article I, Section 8 of the U.S. Constitution asserts in language both plain and vigorous that:

"The Congress shall have power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states, and with the Indian tribes."

The Constitution does authorize the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties with foreign nations. By treaty, the President often is authorized to negotiate commerce arrangements with foreign powers. No such treaty seems to apply precisely to the situation in Rhodesia which was a British colony until some months ago when the Rhodesian government proclaimed its independence.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, last month reminded the House of Representatives of a law which would appear to forbid the President to boycott Rhodesian trade. Gross recalled that last summer the Congress amended the 1949 Export Control Act. Among the amendments was the following provision:

"The Congress further declares that it is the policy of the United States (A) to oppose restrictive trade practices or boycotts fostered or imposed by foreign countries against other countries friendly to the United States and (B) to encourage and request domestic concerns . . . to refuse to take any action . . . which has the effect of furthering or supporting the restrictive trade practices or boycotts fostered or imposed by any foreign country against another country friendly to the United States."

LBJ's instant support of the British boycott against Rhodesia is in contrast to the British refusal to support the U.S. boycott of trade with Communist Cuba and with North Viet Nam. The British government does support the American war in Southeast Asia but the support is tendered in words whereas support in substantial deeds is withheld.

It is quite possible, of course, that global considerations dictate U.S. support of the British boycott against Rhodesia but that would not automatically make it constitutional. There is another situation in which the administration should inquire for the facts of the case.

A recent news dispatch from Salisbury, Rhodesia, reported that the British were fudging on their own boycott. A British waiver of boycott restrictions was said to have enabled British concerns to import scarce chrome ore from Rhodesia after American firms had begun to boycott the Rhodesian ore. Chrome is scarce. Alternate supplies for the United States are in Turkey and the Soviet Union. But Turkey was reported to be unable to step up production to meet U.S. needs before August of next year.

brother, Mario, who was found shot to death last November. His family declares he was murdered but the official verdict was suicide. In the 1958 elections, Mario ran third in a four-man presidential race.

Has Triple Stake

In the Guatemalan elections, the United States has a triple stake. U.S. influence is said to have played an important role in preventing a military coup last December aimed at cancelling this month's voting.

The United States recognized the current regime and extended aid on a promise of free elections by 1965.

The U.S. has suggested to the government that it invite impartial observers to witness the election, ensuring that it is fair and free. This suggestion the government has ignored.

Back of this is a U.S. fear that a combination of terrorism and mounting unrest among the three-quarters of the Guatemalan population living at subsistence level could turn the country into a cauldron of violence in the manner of the Dominican Republic.

And finally the United States would like to reverse its record in Guatemala which has been among its most unsuccessful in Latin America.

Morse Will Fight Education Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Wayne Morse, D-Ore., of the Senate education subcommittee said Wednesday he plans to fight President Johnson's proposed cutbacks in federal education programs.

The senator was backed by several members of the subcommittee, indicating there would be an all-out effort to scuttle the plans.

Among those who expressed opposition to some or all of the cutbacks were Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., the panel's ranking GOP member, and Sens. Winston Prouty, R-Vt., Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Morse accused Johnson of "letting down the school children of America" and said the planned reductions were a "stab in the back of educators of this country."

Other congressional news: Elections: Sen. Margaret Chase Smith called for election of presidents by direct popular vote and their nomination by primary elections instead of the present national conventions. She spoke at hearing on President Johnson's proposed constitutional amendment to modify the electoral college system for presidential elections.

Bank: The Senate approved and sent to the White House legislation approving $200 million to the new Asian Development Bank. The contribution is to consist of $100 million in cash for loans to underdeveloped countries and $100 million pledged to back bonds should they be necessary.

Fair, Warm, Windy Weekend Forecast

It snowed in the Pampa area Thursday as predicted, but only for a moment and now skies are clear. Forecasters predict fair and a little warmer through Saturday. Sunday will continue the trend with fair skies and warmer temperatures. Tonight's low is expected to dip to the middle teens with a high Saturday a little warmer — in the middle 40's. Winds are from the northwest at from 10 to 20 m.p.h.

Light snow also whitened other parts of the Texas Panhandle today with the arrival of a cold front that calmed winds of up to 75 miles an hour and some of the worst dust storms since the "dust bowl" days of the 1930's.

The dust filled the skies from the Panhandle to the Louisiana border and, in many places, extended as high as 15,000 feet. The dust closed airports, forced motorists to turn on their lights at mid-day and was blamed for two traffic deaths.

Amarillo airport had some delays because of poor visibility but no cancelled flights.

Numberous other airports reported flights delayed because of the winds and dust.

Trans-Texas Airways had a flight held up two hours in Brownwood en route to San Angelo.

Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock suspended all flights because of the dust.

For Lubbock, it was 13 consecutive hours of dust-filled skies and the equivalent of three full days of dust since March 1.

Speech Cancelled
The dust forced cancellation of a speech by Gov. John Connally before the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. R. M. Hampton Lone Candidate For School Post

Dr. R. M. Hampton, seeking re-election to the Pampa school board, will be the only candidate to have his name on the ballot at the Saturday, April 2, school election.

Hampton, up for a third three-year term, was the only candidate to offer his name before the filing deadline at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

Only possible opposition to Hampton on election day would have to come from write-in candidates.

Absentee voting in the school election will start on March 14 and run through March 29.

Tornado Watch
The U. S. Weather Bureau issued a tornado watch for a small part of Texas and sections of Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee that ended at 8 p. m.

The snow that fell in the Panhandle was just enough to cover the ground in the Amarillo area and it was even lighter at Dalhart, Perryton, Borger and other points.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the dust and the winds that blew it would die down as the cold front moved southeastward.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the mid 'teens at Dalhart to the low 60s at along the gulf coast.

The judge told the jury that the "premeditated design" necessary for a first degree murder conviction — which would mean the chair unless the jury recommended mercy — "may exist for only a few moments, and still be premeditated."

slammed down the accelerator. Moulder worked the siren. We headed southwest.

During the brief six-mile ride, the police radio told the story. From the squad car on the scene: "Get the rescue unit, get somebody down here to help these people."

Then a few seconds later, as the men at the shopping center realized the full impact of disaster, the officer, a bit frantic now, "send all available ambulances and emergency units to Candlestick Park."

Then the captain: "Headquarters, get the power people and gas people down here. We've got gas escaping and hot wires all over the place."
Black skillfully pushed the car through heavy traffic which would soon build into a massive traffic jam.
He braked on the parking lot of what had been one of Jackson's newest and most attractive suburban shopping centers.
Now it was rubble.
Automobiles were twisted and tossed across the broad parking expanse as if they were toys. The old brick facing across the eight-store center, the bright neon lights, the massive steel girders were smashed and mangled beyond recognition.

Bill Frawley, Alice Pierce Die Suddenly in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—William Frawley and Alice Pierce, two of the entertainment world's top comics, died within hours of each other Thursday.

Miss Pierce, 47, the rubber-faced comedienne who played the role of the nose neighbor, Gladys Kravitz in the television series "Bewitched" died of cancer at her home early Thursday morning.

At 13 hours later, in the afternoon, Frawley, the gravelly-voiced cynic with the nimble wit in the "I Love Lucy" and "My Three Sons" series, suffered a fatal heart attack on Hollywood Boulevard.

Police said Frawley, 73, had just left a movie theater near the famed corner of Hollywood and Vine and was waiting for a friend when he was stricken. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Hollywood receiving hospital.

Far East Designs in Ski Togs

FASHIONS WITH ORIENTAL INFLUENCE -- A silk-printed swirl of color covers the parka (left) with ski glory in the Japanese manner. It has drawing hood and a belt with a hint of a Far East bowing to the back. It reverses to a solid color. Fringe frames the self-hood on the bright red shag sweater (right). These designs were shown at the Japan Ski Fair in New York City.

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Mt. Zao, a ski resort three hours from Tokyo, is considered one of the most beautiful skiing spots in the world. So it isn't surprising that Japan, long famous in our ready-to-wear market, successfully adopts fashions to the ski slopes.

A collection of these interesting fashions was presented for the first time in the United States at the Japan Ski Fair in New York City.

The ski-ables range from broad-cades to polyesters and everything is weather-finished for authenticity in action. Underneath are turtle-necks of the right weight knit for action. And there is a bright red, great shag of a sweater with its own attached fringed hood. Worn on a clear day it could be seen forever.

If the snow decides to fall as you reach the summit, there's a handy self-pak of parka that hooks to your belt to be whipped out for fast protection.

When silk is used in ski jackets it is printed with delicate swirls of color.

To keep the ears from frost-bite there is a snappy collection of headgear. Helmet shapes, kerchiefs, tams and the traditional headbands are included. There are knit surprises, too, in cuffs and collars attached to parkas.

Stretch ski pants in sleek-fitting accommodation to girth-watching are in ample supply. Some boast professional striping with a hint of Olympic feeling.

All told it's a pretty and practical group of ski togs.

FOR SATURDAY, MARCH 5
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds a need present to get everything about you in A-1 condition, so get busy and clear up carefully, after which you can adopt a more comprehensive attitude so that you can bring to yourself far more of the good things of life than have been yours ere this. Get busy and amuse and entertain others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Better ask what is expected of you today by others if you are not certain, then carry through wisely. Be sure to handle that personal matter well before going out for recreation. Closed congenial only.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Kin and friends may not agree and get you quite upset, if you permit, so be sure to plan your time and activities and minimize conflict. Pacify angry associates, too. Keep busy at whatever is fundamental.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Get alone in better order in mind, and do what you can later to have some fascinating associate. Put mutual plan in operation. Your boss or pal needs to have a memo your time, also.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Single recognition of one's own mind makes you sure to first take care of that important business that awaits your attention. Be more precise, too. Only takes a little time to plan well.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Situations at home require your early attention ere you venture forth on that fascinating erec-tual tour. Get rid of those clouds that have been hovering over you. Sociability will bring fine benefits now.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Early morning shopping is wise and then you have free time to be with one you love or admire. Get your letters written, too. A time for reflection. Be sure to be set aside in the evening so that future runs more smoothly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Financial affairs that are vital should be handled early so that you have time later to be out socially at group meetings. Follow it, then have a good time later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Going after personal aims during a.m. is best, since after noon civic and other outside matters require your attention. Be happy to assist those who need help. Get results you want to be sure of.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Forget that secret worry in a.m. and seek greener pastures. Honeymoon is sure to attend to that social seaweed work first. Study well into new outlets so that you are confident of every detail connected therewith.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — A pal could keep you from handling certain important work, if you permit, but once it is done, go ahead and have a good time. Evening brings certain vital matters that need handling. Avoid the social at that time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Handling that civic affair wisely is best before you get in touch with that fascinating person for hours of pleasure at pursuits you both enjoy. Avoid arguments with anyone. This is especially true in a.m.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Operation of any new outlet is best started in the morning so that you have time later for favorite hobbies. You can be very impressive with one from a foreign country, or vice versa. Be loyal to friends in p.m.

Judge Warner Presents Program On 'Traffic Safety' to Civic Culture Club

The Civic Culture Club met recently in the home of Mrs. W. J. Morris. The pledges to the U. S. and Texas flags were given. Mrs. George Neef, president, conducted the business meeting. Attention was called to the District Convention in Hereford March 24 and 25.

Mrs. Frank Grantham introduced the speaker, Judge John Warner, judge of Pampa Corporation Court, who spoke on "Traffic Safety."

"They Call me the Theme Judge," Judge Warner said and gave some startling figures that one and a half million people had been killed in car accidents since cars came into use, more than have been killed in wars, and that every three seconds a car accident occurs.

He stated that seven out of ten of the accidents involved teenagers, yet teenagers were really the best drivers. He advised all ages to study the "Handbook on Driving," and to use seat belts.

The speaker continued by explaining the workings of the Corporation Court, discussing fines, probations, and the requirement of writing one thousand word themes on "Traffic Safety," stating that education is the key to learning.

Concluding, he stated that officers could make mistakes and that citizens should stand for their rights, that if we sleep on our rights, we may wake up to find that we have NO rights.

Members present were Mmes. George Neef, W. J. Morris, Frank Grantham, A. D. Hills, Irvin Cole, A. C. Houchin, Carl Axelson, Katie Vincent, Roland Dauer, Emmett Gee, Chester Williams, J. W. Duke, H. W. Waters and Floyd Pennington.

Dear Abby.... Problem Is Where's He Taking His Baths?

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago Wilbur started taking his baths somewhere else. I told him I wanted him to take his baths at home, but it didn't do any good. I finally got a legal separation and we lived apart for nearly three months. Then Wilbur came begging back, saying he was lonesome for me and the kids. We have seven. I put my pride aside and took him back because he promised he would take his baths at home. Well, he did, for about a month, then he started taking them somewhere else again. Am I wrong for wanting Wilbur to take his baths at home? How should I handle this?

WILBUR'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: What's your complaint? Where, exactly has your bathing beauty been bathing? If Wilbur's giving the YMCA his business, skip it. But if he has been splashing around with some mermaid, you give him the business. And if you can prove it, he'll be up to his neck in hot water!

DEAR ABBY: A very close friend asked me to marry him as he was in trouble and this was the only solution for him. I was assured by him and his attorney that this would be strictly a legal proceeding and a divorce would be arranged after one year, I agreed. Now, I find myself wondering what I will do if the man with whom I am going asks me to marry him before I am free to marry again? There never has been anything between this friend and myself, nor could there ever be. Do you think my fiancé would ever understand, and believe that I married this friend as a favor and nothing more?

IN NAME ONLY
DEAR IN NAME: Tell your "very close" friend to find himself another puppet bride, you've got permanent plans for the real thing.

DEAR ABBY: When a couple is engaged, should the man have to still go on "courting" the girl, or should both partners try to do their best to show they care for one another? My fiancé and I live 200 miles apart. I am in college, on limited funds, and she is a well paid secretary. It would help me a lot if she would phone me once in a while. In addition, when I do phone, it's hard for her to realize that she should keep the calls down to less than half an hour.

I once said it would be nice if she called me once in a while, and she said it wasn't "proper" for girls to call men. I think after a couple has been engaged for almost a year, things should be different, don't you?

ENGAGED
DEAR ENGAGED: Yes, And although this may seem like a "small" problem, it may carry with it an important message. Your fiancé appears to be inconsiderate, self-centered, and inflexible. Can you take 50 years of that?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOST MY HEAD" IN BERKELEY: Use your other head and ask him to marry you.

All Is Not Well For Protestants' Education Magazine Reports

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
"All is not well with the educational ministry of the Protestant churches," says Christianity Today Magazine.

With a few notable exceptions, Protestant churches are relying mainly on the Sunday school to give their children a working knowledge of the Bible and some grasp of Christian doctrine.

Raines of Indianapolis put it, "a half hour or so of instruction 25 or 30 times a year will not adequately educate a young person in anything."

At a recent conference of 2,000 Christian educators at Louisville, Ky., Dr. J. Blaine Fisher of the National Council of Churches said that the best hope for overcoming Biblical illiteracy among Protestant young people is to break out of the Sunday morning pattern and begin to schedule religion classes on weekdays afternoons and Saturdays. This is what Catholics and Jews have been doing for years.

Witnesses Will Discuss Verses

At 8:30 Friday evening the Service Meeting of Jehovah's Witnesses will center around the Scripture at First Corinthians 7:23. The theme of the meeting, taken from this scripture, is "Holding Fast as Slaves of Our Repurchaser." There will be five parts on the meeting beginning with a discussion of the text of the day found at Revelation 5:11 and a discussion of the article in the Mar. 1 WATCHTOWER, "Holding Fast as Slaves of Our Repurchaser." The next twelve minutes will be spent in a question and answer discussion of the topic "But, How Can I help?" which encourages personal assistance to be rendered by Christians of all religions. There will be a twenty-minute talk on settling personal difficulties and some concluding comments.

Church of God Slates Revival

The Rev. Lenzy Evans, Church of God State Evangelist, will be the speaker for the revival meeting beginning Monday night Mar. 7 through the 13, at the Church of God, corner of Gwendolyn and Summer Streets.

Choir and special singing will be under the direction of Shelby J. Ruff, chairman of the music committee. Services will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m.

Schoendienst Family Honored
ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Manager Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis baseball Cardinals, his wife, Mary, and their four children were honored by the Holy Name Parish Youth Council of St. Louis.

A church statement said the Schoendienst family was chosen because "from a position of prominence in the St. Louis community and in the national sports scene, they have manifested those qualities of Christian family life that strongly reflect the example of the Holy Family in 20th century America."

In 1962, the House defeated a bill which would have increased its permanent membership from 435 to 438.

Nigerian Refugees Given CWS Food

Two thousand self-exiled Nigerian refugees returning from Danomey, where they had fled during violence in the Western Region of Nigeria prior to the fall of the Balewa government, have been supplied with food provided through Church World Service.

Responding to an appeal by the Nigerian Red Cross, Church World Service rushed 10,368 lbs. of dried milk and 7,500 lbs. of bulgar wheat to the Nigerian border village of Idiroko for distribution as the first returning refugees started passing through a center established by the government. In the absence of other facilities, CWS rented commercial trucks to speed the food to this destination.

In addition to providing these supplies, Church World Service has made available, through the Christian Council of Nigeria, funds for local purchase of additional food for the refugees.

CWS staff members made a further distribution of food from Idiroko to various entry points along the Nigerian-Dahomey border through which returning refugees passed. Their Federal government had appealed to them to return. This urgently needed assistance in Nigeria, and aid given in other areas of the world, is made possible by One Great Hour of Sharing, (to be observed the week of March 13-20). Share Our Substance, and similar appeals of the churches.

Man's Equality To Be Study Topic

The absolute equality of all men in the sight of God is the theme of this week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Man," to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday. Bible references include Paul's interpretation of this fundamental spiritual premise: "For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. . . There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus" (Galatians).

Faith Lights Chinese Way

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D., Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
My Chinese friend was telling me of his first trip across America. Arriving in San Francisco he had purchased an ancient automobile and begun his trek to Washington, D.C. Ill at east with American customs, American language and American roads, he approached the journey with anxiety. With few incidents to disturb, the family made out well until they came close to Denver. Threading their way through the mountains, darkness overtook them. It was then that their lighting system failed.

"At first, I was panicked," said Mr. Hung. "It was dark and I felt so alone." Then he took another look at his situation. He noted that he could see a few feet by the dim headlights. If he moved a few feet, he could see another few feet. "And so," he said with a ready smile, "We came to Denver, two feet by two feet."

His experience is constantly repeated. There are moments when one can make the long-range decisions. The direction of education, the health of a marriage, the decision concerning a profession, the determination to allow God's will to give us some patience—these are the lighted highways. You see a long way.

There are the other short-range decisions. In many instances it a matter of seeing through day by day.

In living through a family crisis it may be necessary to decide just for this week and then be ready to reassess the situation.

In many community tensions patient leaders must fight for the time to consider and the room to maneuver.

In the gloom there is little light and there's the tendency to panic. That's the moment to act on the little light before you. Doubts can be thickening gloom and "in the dark night of the soul," there may seem no guidance for the road ahead.

"That word is a light unto my pathway" may seem to be an antiquated assurance now outmoded. The story of humanity's movement from cave to city is studded with the stories of those who marched ahead, two feet by two feet. They had doubts, they operated by the light of the faith that held them.

This must have been the confidence of Abraham Lincoln as he stood before the nation to state, "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

That was the goal, and it was marching out in the two feet of light that inched ahead of him at the moment. It's one thing to be surrounded by the darkness of many doubts; it's another thing to walk in the light we do have!

Elderly Enrolled In Medicare Plan

Many elderly people who are unable to leave their homes are being enrolled in the Medicare program, according to Virgil Holloway, Social Security Officer-in-charge in Pampa.

"In fact," says Holloway, "We are encouraging them to write or telephone our office. We can supply them with the necessary application forms to complete and return to us by mail. If necessary, one of our representatives will call at the home."

"Quite a few people who have elderly parents are visiting our office to obtain Medicare information and enrollment forms. Those who cannot see us during the day are encouraged to do so Thursday evenings when our office is open until 8:30 p.m."

Legal guardians of people over 65 are also urged to get in touch with the social security office at 400 W. Kingsmill Pampa, so that enrollment forms may be completed.

Rev. Duke Will Honor Scouts

Rev. J. W. Duke will be in our pulpit for the Morning Worship this Sunday. In honor of the beginning of Girl Scout Week, Rev. Duke will recognize those we have in our church who are active in the Girl Scouting Program. He has chosen as his sermon topic, "Between the Generations" Ephesians 6:1-4. Our choir, under the direction of Miss Rosemary Lawlor and accompanied by Mrs. John Gill, will present the Anthem.

The remainder of the church will remain the same with the exception of the continuation of the classes being conducted by Rev. Duke, for Boy Scouts who are interested in working on their God and Country Awards. These classes will begin at 5 p.m. in the pastor's study. Snack Supper will be 5:30. Youth Groups 6 p.m. and Evening Worship at 7 p.m.

Power of God Sermon Topic

Worship services at the First Presbyterian Church are at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday the Pastor, Donald S. Hauck, will use the First Chapter of Mark, verses 1-20, as the scripture basis for a sermon entitled "Cleansing Power of God."

At the 11 worship hour the Sanctuary Choir, under the direction of Mrs. George B. D. and accompanied by Mrs. Fidelity Yoder, will sing "Oh Jesus We Adore Thee," the hymn of the month for March.

The Senior High young people will meet at the church at 1 p.m. Sunday afternoon and go to Amarillo to attend a Youth Evening at Westminster Presbyterian Church. The subject of discussion will be "A Teen-Ager Views The New Morality."

Week of Prayer Is Being Observed

"As My Father Hath Sent Me . . . SO SEND I YOU" was the theme of the Week of Prayer for Home Missions, observed by the women of Central Baptist WMS this week.

The program for each day was as follows: We Look at America; We Pray for America; We Pray for Our Witness; We Give Thee but Thine Own, and We Go to Be Witnesses of Thine. Each circle met in a member's home Monday through Wednesday for their program and prayer. Wednesday night a special program was presented to the church. The week was climaxed on Thursday with the program in Fellowship Hall, followed by a luncheon.

REVIVAL CENTER CHURCH

Hebrews 11:1 Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Faith is a creative force. Heb. 11:3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

Faith is present for healing. Matt. 8:14,15 And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

Faith is calm. Matt. 8:26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

Faith trusts. Prov. 3:5 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.

Faith possesses. Matt. 11:12 And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

Mark 11:24 Therefore I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

Faith only believes Gods Word. Matt. 8:13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

Hebrews 11:6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. II Corinthians 4:13,14 We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak; knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

Faith is Divine Revelation. Matt. 16:16,17 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Valiant Effort Gaining

"We are turning the corner in our fight against the cardiovascular diseases."

This good news comes from noted heart specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White, who was able to go on record with the statement recently for the first time in his 55-year medical career. Speaking as the 1966 Heart Fund campaign got under way, Dr. White cited these declines in the cardiovascular death rate since 1950:

Down 12 per cent among infants under 5 years of age; down 38 per cent for persons between 5 and 24; down 10 per cent among those aged 25 through 44; down 24 per cent among women from 45 to 64; and down 7 per cent among men between 45 and 64.

To put it another way, if the 1950 death rate for heart and blood vessel diseases had persisted to 1963 (the last year for which there are complete statistics), 40,000 more Americans would have died that year than actually did, including 11,000 in the critical 45-to-64 male age group.

These dramatic benefits were made possible in huge measure by the many millions of dollars that have been contributed to the American Heart Association by people in their local communities.

Dr. White emphasized, however, that heart and blood vessel diseases are still the nation's leading killers, causing close to one million deaths a year. This is more than all other causes of death combined.

He also pointed out that the 7 per cent improvement among men aged 45 to 64 is not as encouraging as it appears to be. This is an AVERAGE decline, reflecting reductions in deaths from stroke, hypertension and other cardiovascular diseases.

The death rate from heart attacks alone has actually gone up by 5 per cent among men in this group.

"Here is our greatest challenge today," said Dr. White. "We must not rest on our laurels while we are losing hundreds of thousands of men in their prime and of our youngsters soon after birth."

We are turning the corner in the battle against heart disease, but it is a wide corner and this is certainly no time to start applying the brakes or to cut off the fuel.

'Assent To Youth'

It used to be that storming and wailing and demanding one's way was referred to as a "tantrum" and ascribed to children. No longer. Today the children are bigger; likewise, the demands. And news reports show that "assent to youth" is being "revolutionized" into "assent to youth."

Unfair Competition

President Robert P. Gerholz of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has something worthwhile to say about federal intervention in the affairs of our communities.

As he sees it, community development is basically a competition for a greater share of national growth and prosperity, and federal help for local problems tends to make the contest unfair. So, in his words, "If the laggards in a golf tournament were allowed a few extra strokes to help them catch the leaders, what kind of a competition would that be? And how long would anybody keep trying to win?"

Jush 'Nother Round

Three-point-two remains the administration's magic number for keeping inflation at bay.

According to the President's Council of Economic Advisers, 3.2 per cent represents, with a little juggling, the nation's annual increase in productivity. This wage and price boosts are permissible and noninflationary only if they do not exceed this this contest. Cities need plenty of inducements if they are to put forth their best efforts, and free competition is the best spur."

One of the worst aspects of federal aid of this type, aside from the money costs, is that it encourages local people and local organizations and institutions to sit on their hands and wait for the Great White Father in Washington to do the needed jobs. Initiative, imagination and responsibility are undermined and in many instances destroyed. And so the trend toward a monolithic government, which decides everything and does everything is accelerated at a tragic cost in human freedom.

limit — a formula that has been more honored in the breach than in the observance. As someone has pointed out, 3.2 per cent is also the alcoholic content of nonintoxicating beer. It is interesting to observe that it is becoming as difficult for the country to maintain a sober stance on 3.2 economics as it is for many people to keep from getting high on 3.2 booze.

Frank Markey

We hear a lot about Michelangelo these days because his masterpiece, "The Pieta," was one of the big hits of the New York World's Fair and the current film, "The Agony and The Ecstasy" is biographical of his life and career. Most folks will be surprised to learn that his full name was Michelangelo Buonarroti. He executed "The Pieta" that was exhibited in New York when he was only 26 years old, but when he was 80 he commenced work on two other "Pieta" groups. Today, one is in the cathedral at Florence, Italy, and the other, which was unfinished when he died at 90 in 1564, is in the Saneverino Palace at Rome. Incidentally, he worked as a sculptor in Carrara marble, considered the world's finest. Those quarries are inexhaustible and have furnished marble to the world for the last 2,000 years. Today more than 1,000 persons are employed there. Unfortunately, there's no Michelangelo to fashion it into such masterpieces as the original genius did.

Today's smile: A youngster, shopping with his mother in a supermarket, picked up a package and dropped it in the shopping cart. His mother scolded him, saying: "Put that back on the shelf. It's something you have to cook."

Chauncey Depew is generally credited with having been a brilliant lawyer and statesman, but he once made a decision that he regretted for the rest of his life. He had an opportunity to buy a one-sixth interest in Alexander Graham Bell's telephone patent for $10,000, but he didn't buy it on the advice of a friend. Bell's patent proved to be the most profitable ever issued.

Thoughts while shaving: A travel agent tells us that more and more "experienced" travelers are now booking passage on freighters when they take an ocean trip. He says it's cheaper, the quarters and food are excellent, and they don't mind the delay of the slower ship. The youngest inventor to receive a patent in this country was Robert W. Patch, a six-year-old youngster who invented a toy truck back in 1962. We never heard of him inventing anything else afterward. . . . But we never heard of George Barham of Ipswich, England, either. Yet, George achieved a measure of fame back in 1962 when he ate 48 raw eggs in 108 seconds. We'll bet George has been cackling about it ever since. . . . And Roger McEwan of Essex, England, also escaped our notice, but when he was a 15-year-old boy back in 1959, he ate 30 regular-size bags of potato chips in 59 minutes without taking a drink. After Roger's feat he probably became the youngest tippler at the local pub.

Shopping on New York's Madison Avenue we saw just the thing for those who suffer from the cold of winter, electric socks and mittens. They're operated by batteries. What next? . . . The Roswell (N. M.) DAILY RECORD reported in a story: "Perhaps it is well that occasionally justice is immediate. It serves as a detergent to other warped minds." And there's nothing like a detergent for a warped mind.

The Almanac

Today is Friday, March 4, the 63rd day of 1966 with 302 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Jupiter and Mercury.

The university of Notre Dame football Coach Knute Rockne was born on this day in 1888.

On this day in history:

In 1801, Thomas Jefferson, the third President of the U.S. was the first Chief Executive to be inaugurated in Washington. In 1917, Jeannette Rankin, a Republican from Montana, took her seat in the House of Representatives as the first woman member of Congress.

In 1942, the famed Stage Door Canteen opened its doors in New York City for men in the armed forces.

Lie Detector

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "We have set aside $39 billion to send a man to the moon. Why not build more schools and hire more teachers to educate our children and prepare to meet this push-button world? Why not use some of this money to build canals branching off our rivers, with flood gates that can be opened to lower the rivers, when they are about to flood over the land and destroy homes and farms? Why not use some of this money to build detention camps and place all communists there, if they are citizens of this country, as we did the Japanese? If they are not citizens, why not send them back to Russia?"

ANSWER: Apparently the questioner is not particularly worried about loss of freedom, or he would not suggest an alternate plan of governmental intervention.

It is as wrong to take a taxpayer's money against his will and spend it for schools and flood projects as mentioned as it is to spend it in trying to land a man on the moon. And the treatment of the Japanese during World War II was not justified under any circumstances.

Why not advocate a return to individual freedom? Under freedom, the individual who wants to explore the moon or other parts of space can spend his own money and can join with others to finance it, if that is what he wants. Others could spend their own money and time developing schools, or flood-control projects.

But please, let's don't start throwing people in concentration camps because they don't agree with us. Let's show the communists that freedom is the best way.

A thought for the day — American statesman John Calhoun said: "protection and patriotism are reciprocal."

The game of bridge, a name applied to each of the three card games, bridge whist, auction bridge and contract bridge, derives from the game of whist. Bridge whist has been obsolete since 1910. Surveys have indicated there are about 5,000,000 auction bridge players in the United States today. Auction bridge once had 15,000,000 players in the United States before it became secondary to contract bridge in the 1930s.

Sales As 'Surplus' of Material Urgently Needed in Viet Nam Pinpointed by Gruening's Subcommittee

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — One urgent military shortage in Viet Nam is being unexpectedly met — thanks to a sharp-eyed Senate investigating committee.

Directly as a result of the probing of the Subcommittee on Foreign Aid Expenditures, headed by Senator Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, U. S. fighting forces in Viet Nam are getting much-needed portable gas engine generators quite a while before it appeared they would.

This unusual backstage episode is a graphic illustration of the lack of coordination and intercommunication so prevalent in the vast federal bureaucracy. All too often one agency or official doesn't know what another has or is doing.

Ironically, this particular affair occurred in the hallways of Defense Secretary McNamara's widely fanfared for his efficiency and all-knowing mastery.

The unpublicized details are as follows: Senator Gruening's subcommittee was directed by the Government Operations Committee, of which it's a part, to conduct a worldwide investigation of the disposal of so-called surplus military property.

These Defense Department disposal operations run from $6 to $8 billion a year. This surplus property includes every category of military equipment, from pots and pans to tanks and field guns. Some of it is sold, a good deal given away, and the rest scrapped.

In poring over the immense stores of property listed as surplus by the military services, the probers found an estimated $1 million worth of portable gas engine generators of various sizes up to 30 kilowatts.

They were being offered for sale as used equipment at cut-rate prices.

RARE HAPPY ENDING — At the very same time, the Defense Department, to meet a pressing need for such generators in Viet Nam, was furiously placing high-priority orders for new ones — which could not be obtained for weeks or months.

Learning of this, Gruening immediately called McNamara's attention to the large stock of generators his own department had declared surplus and was trying to get rid of at bargain prices.

McNamara didn't have to be told twice. He acted fast and forcefully.

Sale of the surplus gas engines was halted, and they were ordered rushed to Viet Nam.

While these are filling an urgent need, many more are in demand there. The Senate investigators are scanning the huge stores of surplus military equipment abroad to determine whether more portable gas engines are lying around unused.

comings in the management of surplus property programs."

That's what he reported in a preliminary summary to the Senate Administration Committee, headed by Senator Everett Jordan, D-N.C. On the basis of these findings, the Senate voted Gruening another $50,000 to continue and expand his investigation to include the Far East.

In Gruening's unpublished report, he makes a number of blunt charges, as follows: "Much useful military equipment is being sold, scrapped or otherwise disposed of needlessly; maximum returns are not being obtained on property sales; severe restrictions imposed by foreign governments overseas; the problems of identifying, acquiring and effectively utilizing certain military excesses are becoming increasingly acute and are not being aggressively attacked by the Defense Department; and other government agencies acquiring excess property from the military overseas may not have any real need for such property and are not properly utilizing it."

The report also warns that these problems are likely to intensify as a result of conditions arising from the Viet Nam war.

"Management of excess property and disposal of surpluses overseas," says the report, "are likely to encounter increasing difficulties in 1966 as the attention of the military services, the principal agencies involved in generating excesses and disposing surplus and equipment abroad, is devoted in larger measure to their primary combat-mission roles. In addition much of the material furnished our allies under the military assistance program will become obsolete and surplus to their needs and returned to United States custody for disposal."

MORE INVESTIGATIONS — The Gruening subcommittee is also conducting probes of two other areas:

The surplus property donation program voted by Congress in 1949. Under this law, property that cost the government $3.5 billion has been given away to public health, educational and civil defense organizations. In addition, realty holdings costing more than $300 million have been given to health and educational institutions.

Interest on U.S.-owned foreign currency—so-called counterpart funds. According to the most recent official figures, June 1965, the U.S. owns more than $2,832 billion in such currencies in 83 countries.

A study made by the Government Accounting Office disclosed that in Taiwan several million dollars were lost to the U.S. because counterpart funds there had been "kept" in non-interest-bearing accounts.

A preliminary inquiry by Gruening's committee indicated similar conditions exist in other countries. An unpublished committee summary reported:

MEN AGAINST THE STATE

As the federal government assumes greater powers, many individuals look longingly back on the "good old days" — forty years ago, sixty years ago or even 100 years ago. It is generally assumed that there was no governmental interference with one's economic life in those days; and anyone fortunate to live in that time could bask in his freedom.

Not surprisingly, history proves this dream to be erroneous. And an intensely-interesting history of nineteenth-century America calls attention to the conflicts between individuals and government during that period.

The book is entitled "Men Against The State". It is a heavily-footnoted documentary of the efforts of key libertarians of the last century to do something about the powers of the state. The author is James J. Martin, historian — a man whose sympathy for the heroes is evident, but who keeps the required historical objectivity throughout. The book tells of such unheard individuals as Josiah Warren, Lysander Spooner, Benjamin Tucker and others. They all had one thing in common: they believed the state to be an inefficient and unjust method of obtaining one's economic goals.

For example, Josiah Warren believed that "Once erected, a government always tended to encroach upon what it did not control, due to its control over the interpretation of the language which delegated the powers it first obtained." The solution? " . . . never shall man know liberty until each and every individual is acknowledged to be his only legitimate sovereign of the or her person, time and property, each living and acting at his own cost. . . . The only ground upon which man can know liberty is that of disconnection, disunion, individuality."

And what about the services for which individuals usually depend upon governments? "It was assumed that community services would be supplied in a superior manner by individuals who contracted to furnish them when called for by those who wanted and paid for such conveniences."

Did you know that it is against the federal laws for an individual to carry first-class mail? This law was put on the books in response to a now-forgotten individual named Lysander Spooner who organized the American Letter Mail Co. He provided better and faster service than the government and at a lower price. The competition from Spooner was so keen, the government did the only thing it could do to protect its inefficient position — outlaw all competition.

These stories of men who spoke out against tyranny are an exciting part of our own heritage of understanding. These men practiced what they preached — they defined liberty in a non-ambiguous way and then practiced it.

The astute reader may find parts of the specific private enterprise alternatives they offer to be economically-unworkable; but their objections to control by the state are logically irrefutable.

This book was originally published at $6.75 by Adrian Allen Associates, but is now out-of-print. We call attention to it only because it is worth finding. A second-hand book dealer or a book finder service may be able to secure a copy for you.

WORLD'S FAIR INSTALLMENT III

Moses issued a statement that H L H Products had decided to pull out of the Fair. Inasmuch as this was not true and we had, in fact, been evicted, I called a press conference in a suite I borrowed from a friend at the Waldorf-Astoria Towers.

I was told it had the largest attendance of any press conference ever announced by a private citizen, but I knew I was not the attraction. The reporters wanted to hear grievances against Moses. In their frame of mind bad news for Moses was good news for them — and their readers. Some of the reporters stayed for more than two hours, apparently wanting me to say I was going to sue the Fair.

Their questions became so repetitious that I repeatedly tried to change the subject and, unsuccessfully, I finally said jokingly, "Let's talk about something else, about how rich I am supposed to be or something," a subject which I thought nineteenth of them knew I deplored. This statement, made in jest, has been repeatedly quoted and attributed to me as my usual display of vanity by some who, as far as I can tell, dislike my stand regarding communism. I told them I would answer questions about the 27 1/2 per cent oil depletion allowance. When they did not question me on this, I volunteered my views on the subject and regretted to find they had little knowledge or interest in the subject.

It is rumored that payment on the World's Fair bonds will be settled at about 20 cents on the dollar to bondholders. Unfortunately the mismanagement of the New York World's Fair will impair the chances for successful Fairs contemplated for Long Beach, California, Houston, and other cities.

Long Haul Ends Happily for SMU

United Press International Southern Methodist's Mustangs, their seventh Southwest Conference crown wrapped up with help from Texas A&M prepared today for the next challenge, a match with the Big 8 titlist at Lubbock next weekend.

Charles Beasley came up with 20 points in the second half and hit a total of 28 in pushing SMU to a 99-89 victory over Texas Tech at Dallas. It gave Coach E. O. (Doc) Hayes his second SWC title in a row and his event won or shared, the most of any coach in the league. In losing, Tech broke the Southwest Conference record for total points scored in a single season, 1,242, which the Raiders set last year. The new mark is 1,251. Hayes was jubilant. "I told the kids after TCU beat us that we were to the wall and had to fight our way out or give up," he said. "These were the kinda kids to do it. "I don't have any superlatives in my vocabulary to describe these kids. Simply Terrific." It was the Mustangs' 10th consecutive victory and was accomplished despite trailing 47-46 at the half and blowing two first half leads. Bob Begert hit 20 for SMU. Denny Holman 16 and Carroll

Hooser 12. Dub Malaise wound up with 28 for Tech. The Aggies, who started out looking like the SWC title was just a season away, made it a sure thing for the Ponies by losing to the Arkansas Razorbacks 4-71 at Fayetteville. Aggies Miss A&M lost the ball numerous times on turnovers and missed rebounds. Arkansas had a 43-33 halftime lead and pulled away steadily in the second half. Toward the end, the Hogs slowed it down nearly to a stall. Big John Beasley got 44 points for A&M before fouling out. He got a standing ovation from the partisan Hog crowd. John Talkington led Arkansas with 29. Baylor broke four school records in whipping Texas 88-71 at Waco to end the season for both clubs. Gets 40 Darrell Hardy sank 40 points for the Bears and brought his season total to 496 points and conference output to 311 points, all Baylor school records. He also hit 18 free throws, another record. He also grabbed 25 rebounds. Mike Gammon led Longhorn scoring with 16. Texas Christian surged from behind in the last 10 minutes to close the SWC season with a 93-86 victory over Rice. The Owls led 54-49 at the half. Doug McKendrick closed his Rice career with 26 points.

AFTER SEVEN YEARS AT WD

Huffman Quits To Take Job at Shamrock

WHITE DEER (Spl.) — One of the most successful and best loved coaches in White Deer football history called it quits here Thursday. Shamrock school superintendent J. C. McClesky announced Thursday night the school had hired Colie Huffman as the school's new head football coach. Huffman had coached at White Deer the past seven years and last football season guided them to the state class A state finals, where they lost to Wills Point, 14-0. The 43-year-old Huffman, a graduate of Texas Western college, succeeds Earl Simpson, who quit recently to go into private business. Huffman will assume his new duties June 1. No contract terms were disclosed. In White Deer Friday morning Huffman said he, of course, hated to leave the school but felt the Shamrock position offered a "challenge and opportunity."

COLIE HUFFMAN resigns

In seven years with the Bucks Huffman has compiled a 56-29-1 record, his best season in 1965 and his worst in 1963 when the Bucks finished 3-7. Huffman coached at Friona before coming to White Deer. Huffman will also serve as athletic director for the school that finished 2-8 in football last year. "I really don't know much about the boys who will return next year," Huffman said and added that at present he planned to keep the assistant coaches already at the school. White Deer school superintendent Dorman Thomas said the school board met Thursday night and accepted Huffman's resignation "with regret." Thomas said that as far as hiring a new coach at White Deer, "the field is wide open and we are taking applications." School principal David Grayson said, "We hate to lose Colie. He is one of the finest men to work with I've ever known, not only as a coach but as a classroom teacher and man."

ICE IS BROKEN

Brooks Agrees To Sign Pact

By United Press International The ice has thawed and it looks like Brooks Robinson and General Manager Harry Dalton of the Baltimore Orioles are about to get into the swim of things. Robinson, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1964, and Dalton hadn't spoken for three days until the latter ended the freeze Thursday with a telephone call. The result was a Saturday meeting at which the All-Star third baseman is likely to sign for about $55,000.

Channing Plays In Meet Today

AUSTIN (UPI) — Clear Creek's powerful Wildcats will meet San Antonio Marshall Saturday in the finals of the Class AAA schoolboy basketball tournament. Kilgore and Andrews meet today for third place. The wildcats got up a 21-point lead until the last few minutes when Kilgore rallied. Clear Creek saved it with a stall, 66-54. Marshall edged Andrews mustangs 53-52 on 6-6 Wayne Doyal's 22 points, 14 in the last half. Crane's Golden Cranes whipped Rockport 67-42 to earn a match against Lake Worth in the Class AA finals Saturday. Rockport meets Rockdale today for third place in AA. Lake Worth gained the finals by using a fast break in the second half the clutch shooting of Mike Wakin in the 60-46 triumph over Rockdale. Woodsboro, the pre-tourney Class A favorite, was upset by Honey Grove, 50-46. Gruber took a come-from-behind 61-57 victory over Fairfield. Snook overpowered Bronte 55-40 to extend to 76 games its win streak in Class B play. Snook takes on Alba-Golden and Deweyville meets Channing in the Class B semifinals today.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Madison Square Garden's velvet-lined ring should crack under the weight of at least three pretenders to Cassius Clay's crown tonight when the old arena stages an all-heavyweight boxing show. Heading the lineup of combatants for the six-bout program are three undefeated youngsters—Jerry Quarry, a 20-year-old Irishman from Los Angeles, Joe Frazier, the 1964 Olympic heavyweight champion from Philadelphia, and James J. Woody, the only native New Yorker on the card. Quarry, who has posted 15 victories (nine on kayoes) and one draw in 16 pro fights, makes his Garden debut against tall Tony Alongi of Paterson, N.J., in the featured 10-rounder. Frazier, a 24-year-old father of three with five knockouts in five pro starts, meets rubber-faced Dick Wiperman of Buffalo, N.Y., and Woody, also 24, and unbeaten in nine bouts, engages Lee Carr of St. Petersburg, Fla., in a pair of scheduled eight-rounders. The Quarry-Alongi and Wiperman-Frazier bouts were being quoted at 6-5, pick 'em, by oddsmakers. Woody was a 7-5 favorite over Carr. Three four-round heavyweight bouts will round out the

Sanders Heads Field In Second Round of Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI) — That salty breeze that blows in from Pensacola Bay apparently invigorates Doug Sanders. Whatever the reason, there's no doubt Sanders has found the Pensacola Open to his liking. The defending champion, shooting in an unprecedented third title here, held a two-stroke lead going into today's second round. The 32-year-old Sanders, who hails from Cedartown, Ga., and Ojai, Calif., assaulted the Pensacola Country Club course at a near record pace Thursday—and needed that sort of performance to gain the lead. Sanders toured the first round with a nine-under-par 63 but still wound up only two strokes ahead of Gay Brewer, the Texas who beat him in a playoff last fall at Seattle. Par took a real beating Thursday. The short course (6,380 yards) and almost ideal playing conditions enabled 57 of the 44 starters to beat par 72 and six others equal it. Bruce Devlin, the Australian who now plays out of Hilton Head, S.C., had a 66 and Dick Crawford, George Knudson and Ken Towns all had 67s. There were a half-dozen pros bunched at 68, but the one who attracted the most attention in this group was veteran Julius Boros, who celebrated his 46th birthday. Tournament officials held a party for Boros, complete with birthday cake, when he came off the course.

Also in the 68 group was Homero Blancas, the Texan who shot a 65 in Wednesday's pro-am. With Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and a host of other name golfers passing up Pensacola and its $65,000 purse, Sanders started as the favorite and top attraction and did nothing to dim this image. His 63 was only one stroke off the course record set seven years ago and his back-nine 29 has been equaled this year on the PGA tour only by Palmer who also has the 18-hole mark of 62.

on my last car! How? Through my State Farm Mutual agent. He helped me get financing through a local cooperating bank. And that low-cost bank financing really saves you money! Then I insured the car with State Farm too, and enjoyed the extra value of their insurance. Guess a lot of car owners save like this through State Farm. Say... why don't you call your State Farm agent? Harry V. Gordon Your Top Of Top As Agent For 18 Years 1185 W. Alcock MO 4-3961 STATE FARM Mutual Insurance Company
